

El Paso Demos Want Baum To Quit Post

DALLAS (AP) — Steps to dig further into circumstances surrounding stock deals and bank loans which already were under federal court fire appeared to be gaining momentum at the state level today.

As this developed, the Sharpstown State Bank at Houston—closed as a direct result of the same furor over government allegations of fraud—went into receivership and preparations were made to pay off depositors.

'BOMB' BAUM
On still another front, the Democrats' El Paso County executive committee called for the party's state chairman, Dr. Elmer Baum, to resign his post. A formal resolution said he should not be reappointed to the State Banking Board and unnamed other officials, said to have profited like Baum is some of the questioned stock transactions, also should step down.

These events were among the repercussions from a lawsuit, filed Jan. 18, in which the Securities & Exchange Commission alleges fraud and stock manipulation in trading in shares of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas. The suit names 10 other business firms and 15 individuals as defendants, and a $12 million damage suit by NBL stockholders is directed against the same group.

Without objection, state senators in Austin approved a resolution by Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian to establish their general investigating committee four months earlier than usual. Its first job will be to investigate the State Banking Department, which watches over state-chartered banks.

Indicating the Senate Committee would be looking other directions as well, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said, "I urge any public spirited citizen who has any knowledge whatsoever about any irregularity in this state agency or any other to please come bring those facts to the attention of the committee or to my attention."

DIG IT OUT
State Sen. Ike Harris, Dallas Republican, requested the probe after it was disclosed the state fired three unidentified bank examiners for accepting personal loans from an officer of the Sharpstown State Bank.

Harris said it was important for the Senate to obtain all the facts before it decides whether to confirm Gov. Preston Smith's interim appointment of Baum as a member of the three-man banking board. Baum and Smith have acknowledged splitting a $125,000 profit on NBL stock in 1969.

One of the Republicans among the 150 members of the Texas House, Rep. Maurice Angly of Austin, introduced late Wednesday a resolution calling for a nine-member House committee to inquire into affairs of the closed Sharpstown bank.

1.6 Million Workers Get Pay Raise Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 1.6 million workers who are making the minimum wage will receive a hike in their salary Monday.

The Labor Department announced Wednesday the minimum wage will increase from $1.45 to $1.60 per hour Monday when the last step in the 1966 federal minimum wage hike goes into effect.

The increase chiefly affects workers in smaller retail or service establishments, laundries and dry cleaners, hotels, motels, restaurants, schools, non-federal hospitals and nursing homes.

Other workers among the total of about 46 million covered by the federal minimum wage previously reached the $1.60 figure. The latest increase affects those workers brought under coverage of the Fair Labor Standards Act for the first time by amendments enacted in 1966.

The minimum wage for agriculture workers on large farms will remain at $1.30 per hour.

Connally Vows Shifts In Economic Policies

Nixon's 'Planned Recession' Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Texas Gov. John B. Connally assured senators today there will be vital changes in the economic policies of the Nixon administration and declared that, as secretary of the Treasury, he would participate in these vigorously.

Connally, a one-time protege of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, met a generally friendly reception at a hearing before the Finance Committee on his nomination by President Nixon to take the Treasury post.

DISMAL FAILURE

Some Democratic members, however, asserted that the President's economic policies had been a dismal failure and wanted to know if Connally was being brought in as a Democrat to save the administration's face.

Connally insisted he could not agree at all that the original

Nixon policy had been for a planned recession as Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., termed it.

But he agreed that new policies were needed and said they already were under way.

Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, brought up what he called "two unpleasant questions" which he said the nominee should be asked about.

They concerned the extent of Connally's involvement in a Texas stock fraud case involving many of his political friends and in a dispute over proposed construction of a domed stadium in Buffalo, N.Y.

BACK IN TEXAS

In both instances, the former governor said he knew little about the matters and had only minimal involvement. Other committee members did not press the questions.

Most members of the panel, which must pass on the nomination before it goes to the Senate floor, say they know little about the Texas controversy.

Others doubted Wednesday Connally would be implicated by Security and Exchange Commission charges of stock fraud filed against a number of Texas companies and individuals, including Waggoner Carr who was state attorney general when Connally was governor.

The Catholic organization allegedly victimized in the case was represented for a decade by Connally's law firm.

SOLID SIGN

One solid sign the matter won't delay Connally's confirmation: Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., apparently has dropped an investigation of the former Navy secretary. Proxmire, who is not a committee member, planned to submit several questions for Connally but, aides said, does not expect to object to the nomination.

Sen. Wallace Bennett of Utah, ranking Republican on Finance, said he will question Connally about the stock case if no one else does.

Connally would be Nixon's first Democratic cabinet member, replacing David Kennedy as Treasury secretary.

PREPARING SOME FLACK FOR THE FLICKERS — Mrs. Phillip A. Williams of Raleigh, N.C., demonstrates the method she uses for putting up a little flack for the pesky flickers which have attacked the cedar siding on her home. Mrs. Williams says she loves birds and even raised one injured blue jay into a household pet, but she doesn't want the flickers to destroy her house. She has brought down about eight flickers with her shotgun, and her husband claims about four or five kills.

Preacher Claims He Still Holds Pastorate At Laredo

AUSTIN (AP) — A Methodist minister says officials did not follow proper procedures in dismissing him from his church in Laredo and that under the denomination's law he is still pastor there.

In a letter to his presiding bishop, the Rev. Wil Schaefer asserted: "I have not been treated with due respect as a person nor as a minister of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. My rights have been violated."

OTHER WOMAN

The Rev. Mr. Schaefer, 35, was relieved earlier this month as pastor of Laredo's First United Methodist Church because church officials said he refused to give up his relationship with a San Antonio woman.

Visiting here briefly Wednesday, Schaefer said he tried to see Bishop O. Eugene Slater in San Antonio but had to send him a letter instead because the bishop was out of town.

Schaefer asserted in the letter that the "proceedings for dismissing me from my pulpit are in error at eight different points."

Until these are corrected, he said, "I am still officially the pastor . . . with the right to preach in the pulpit."

Schaefer said he had no plans to try preaching at the church but still plans to hold public meetings on Sunday afternoons at Laredo as he has done recently.

WE SEE

Schaefer is married and has two children. His wife has gone to California with them to visit her mother but Schaefer says she will return eventually to be with him and the San Antonio woman, Judy Nash, 27.

Mrs. Nash, who says she is a clairvoyant, was recently divorced.

In his letter, Schaefer said Bishop Slater stated he would "see that I was given the right to be heard at every point."

However, he said, his "disciplinary right to be heard" before an official church committee was not honored.

Church officials were unavailable for comment on this and other claims. A church trial on Schaefer's case is set for Feb. 11. He said this may be rescheduled in view of the developments.

NO NOTICE

The minister, who wears bell bottom jeans and drives a red sports car, said he discussed his relationship concerning Mrs. Nash with Bishop Slater and another church official about two weeks ago.

He said the bishop informed him then that he was relieved as pastor and asked him to give up his ordination, which he refused to do.

A few hours later, he said, the church committee was called into session.

Storm Blamed For Five Deaths, 50 Injuries

By The Associated Press

Snow, wind and bitter cold numbed the Northeast today and left a 7,000-square-mile section of Upstate New York shut off from the outside.

The storm was blamed for five deaths and more than 50 injuries as it charged across the northern Midwest Tuesday and into New England Wednesday.

An intense wave of Arctic cold, riding winds of 50 to 80 miles an hour, stung the Deep South with its second hard freeze in little more than a week.

ZERO COLD

Zero cold extended from the Dakotas through New England. Readings in the low 20s ranged south as far as central Georgia.

All roads in 11 counties of central and western New York were closed to all but emergency traffic as highway crews attempted to clear snow accumulations of a foot or more. Winds of 60 to 80 miles an hour scooped the snow into huge drifts.

Blizzard warnings remained in effect for the region east of Lake Ontario.

Near-blizzard conditions persisted in western Pennsylvania. One of the storm-related deaths was a Conneautville woman who was found in her automobile, buried to the roof near her home.

The storm claimed one other life in Pennsylvania, two in Michigan and one in Indiana.

Wind gusts up to 75 miles an hour and blowing snow brought a reduction of the normal 70-mile-an-hour speed limit on the Ohio Turnpike to 40 m.p.h. Wednesday.

SCHOOLS CLOSED

Up to 2,000 travelers were stranded in motels and hotels across northern Ohio.

Schools were closed in many communities from Ohio to Vermont, and business slowed to a minimum in many others.

Snows ranging up to two feet deep and winds of 25 to 40 miles an hour, forced most schools in northern and central Vermont to close.

Travel warnings remained in effect overnight from northeastern Ohio through New Hampshire. Gale warnings flew on all the Great Lakes and along the Eastern Seaboard from Maine to North Carolina.

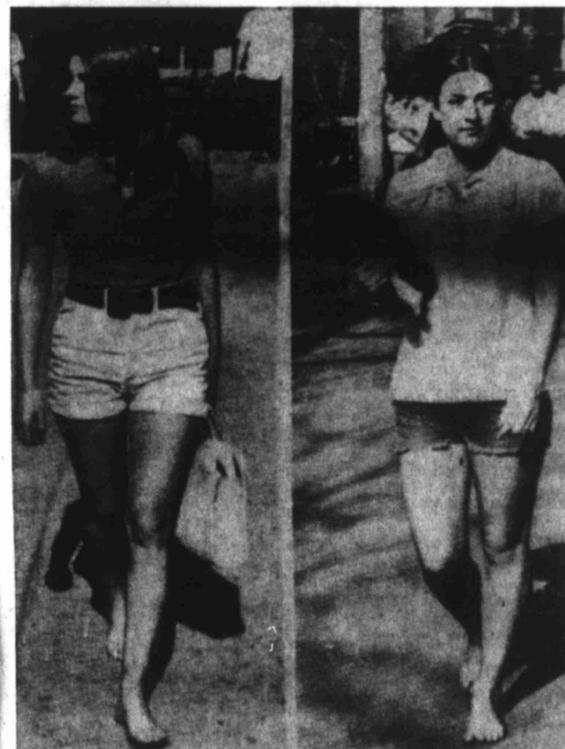

In contrast to the bitter winter weather in much of the eastern half of the nation, record late-January heat in Southern California brought thousands to the beaches. The temperature soared to 86 in downtown Los Angeles to give the city its warmest Jan. 27 since 1938.

An end to weeklong rains in the Pacific Northwest and an influx of cooler weather eased for the time being the threat of severe flooding in some western Washington areas.

Army Engineers warned, however, that a crest on the Chehalis River could cause serious flooding in the coastal city of Aberdeen if it met an expected high tide of 10.6 feet today.

The river, like many in the region, had been filled by runoff from seasonal rains and unusually heavy snow melting in the Cascades.

City Sales Tax Deductions Computed On IRS Table

The Internal Revenue Service district offices in Texas have prepared a table to be used by residents of Texas in determining deduction for 1970 IRS returns on optional state and city sales taxes.

Persons who itemize deductions may use this table to determine the general sales tax to be entered on Schedule A, Form 1040, according to Joe Gordon, with the Big Spring IRS office.

The table should be used only by residents of Texas cities (such as Big Spring) which had a one-cent sales tax in addition to the 3 1/4-cent state sales tax. If the taxpayer is able to establish that he paid an amount larger than that shown, he is entitled to deduct the larger amount. The sales tax paid on the purchase of an automobile may be added to the table amount.

If income is more than $19,999, but less than $100,000, compute deduction as follows:

AMOUNTS SHOWN INCLUDE BOTH STATE AND CITY SALES TAX

| *Income | Family Size (Persons) | | | |
|---------------------|-----------------------|-------|------|--------|
| | 1 & 2 | 3 & 4 | 5 | Over 5 |
| Under $3,000 | $35 | $44 | $47 | $47 |
| $3,000 - $3,999 | 46 | 56 | 60 | 60 |
| $4,000 - $4,999 | 55 | 67 | 72 | 72 |
| $5,000 - $5,999 | 64 | 77 | 84 | 84 |
| $6,000 - $6,999 | 73 | 88 | 95 | 95 |
| $7,000 - $7,999 | 82 | 97 | 106 | 106 |
| $8,000 - $8,999 | 92 | 106 | 116 | 116 |
| $9,000 - $9,999 | 99 | 115 | 126 | 127 |
| $10,000 - $10,999 | 107 | 123 | 135 | 137 |
| $11,000 - $11,999 | 115 | 131 | 144 | 146 |
| $12,000 - $12,999 | 123 | 139 | 153 | 156 |
| $13,000 - $13,999 | 131 | 146 | 162 | 165 |
| $14,000 - $14,999 | 139 | 154 | 171 | 174 |
| $15,000 - $15,999 | 146 | 162 | 180 | 183 |
| $16,000 - $16,999 | 154 | 170 | 188 | 192 |
| $17,000 - $17,999 | 161 | 177 | 196 | 201 |
| $18,000 - $18,999 | 167 | 185 | 204 | 211 |
| $19,000 - $19,999 | 174 | 190 | 212 | 218 |

*Income as shown on Form 1040, line 18, plus amounts from other sources such as Social Security, veterans benefits, etc.

NOTE: This table was prepared by the IRS District Offices in Texas for your convenience in computing your state and city sales tax deduction. The amount added to the State of Texas sales tax deduction has been rounded to the nearest whole dollar.

Postal Strike 'Not So Funny Any Longer'

LONDON (AP) — The British postal strike went into its ninth day today and, as one newspaper put it, "it's not so funny any longer."

Last week the absence of mail meant chiefly a welcome absence of bills for most Britons. "I've never woken up to so many problem-free mornings," said one suburbanite. "For me, this can go on forever."

But as the postal workers continue their strike for higher pay and the Post Office shows no sign of giving ground, the problems are beginning to loom.

Mail order companies are thinking of laying off employees. Small businesses are threatened with bankruptcy. Greeting card manufacturers and sellers are feeling the pinch. Newspapers already in bad shape are losing even more. The operators of football pools are worried. Automatic telephone equipment, which services 95 per cent of the system, is dangerously overloaded.

The Post Office announced Wednesday that it had lost nearly $10 million in revenue. The Daily Telegraph warned that "continuance of the strike can only ... endanger uneconomic postal services" and lead to widespread layoffs of persons whose jobs are becoming superfluous.

Ex-Guatemalan President Dies

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Jacobo Arbenz Guzman, the leftist Guatemalan president deposed by rightists with U.S. backing in 1954, was found dead in his bathtub Wednesday. He was 57.

Mexican officials said Arbenz had drowned. There was speculation that he had suffered a heart attack while preparing to take a bath and had fallen into the tub.

Arbenz, the son of a Swiss immigrant and a Guatemalan mother, began his rise to power as a young army colonel in the junta that overthrew dictator Jorge Ubico. He became President Juan Jose Arevalo's defense minister, the springboard for his election to the presidency in 1950.

The U.S. government grew increasingly opposed to Arbenz as he nationalized vast holdings of the United Fruit Co., imported 2,000 tons of arms from Communist Poland and gave known Communists a place in his administration. When a rightist Guatemalan colonel, Carlos Castillo Armas, led an invasion from Honduras in 1954, the United States supplied the arms, and Arbenz was overthrown.

The ex-president went into exile in Mexico and later lived in Europe, Cuba and Uruguay. He returned to Mexico six years ago.

Castillo Armas was assassinated in Guatemala in 1967.

Relics Scarce

DARTMOUTH, Canada (AP) — Dartmouth's Heritage Museum is attempting to uncover a part of the city's lost heritage — the MicMac Indians. Museum director G. S. Gosley says artifacts and materials related to the MicMac tribes which formed an important part of Dartmouth's heritage are scarce. He said, "We recently revised our MicMac display after acquiring several arrow heads and articles of clothing, but it is still very small. We are looking for anything connected with the nomadic tribes which made their homes all over the province."

Bill Increasing College Tuition Clears Big Hurdle

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill boosting state college tuition for non-resident students from $200 to $700 a semester won House Appropriations Committee approval Wednesday and awaits floor debate.

The sponsor, Austin Rep. Harold Davis, said he expected the House would take it up for action probably next week.

Davis said figures supplied by the legislative budget board show instructional costs at state colleges and universities is $1,400 a year.

"My proposal is that we break even," he said, adding that the University of Texas has the third lowest non-resident tuition in the nation.

He said there are more than 19,000 non-residents in the state's tax-supported four year colleges and estimated his bill would raise $15 million a year in revenue.

"If they stay here," interjected Rep. Raul Longoria, Edinburg.

Davis replied he had already allowed in his estimate for non-resident students who would leave Texas because of the tuition increase.

Foreign students and children of military personnel stationed in Texas would not be hurt by the bill, Davis assured the committees.

Davis said Sen. Charles Herring of Austin would sponsor the measure in the Senate if the House passes it. He said he had not spoken to UT Regents Chairman Frank Erwin about the bill.

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston postal clerks completed information on a survey of the city's postal employees, it was learned Wednesday.

Walter B. Bird, Houston postal chief, said the survey was the first since 1966 and 1967.

He was transferred to Houston as a file clerk in 1966 and had access to the survey.

"I feel now it is important for the Army to know about these people at a news conference," Bird said.

Information was forwarded to Ft. Army intelligence division.

He did not have access to the files he contributed to the survey, he said.

He attended a news conference where he was supposed to be interviewed, but he was not present.

Postman Says He Spied On Two Houston Solons

HOUSTON (AP) — A bearded Houston postal carrier says he compiled information about several civilians, including State Sen. Barbara Jordan and State Rep. Curtis Graves, while he was a military spy four years ago.

Walter B. Birdwell, 28, said Wednesday he was an Army intelligence agent and did his spying in Austin and San Antonio during 1966 and 1977.

He was transferred later to Houston as a file clerk and still had access to classified files, he said.

"I feel now it is very dangerous for the Army to have been spying on these people," he said at a news conference. "The Army doesn't have any business collecting this information."

Birdwell gave these details: Information which he and fellow agents compiled was forwarded to Ft. Holabird, Md. Army intelligence routinely exchanged information with the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Houston police intelligence division.

He did not have access to orders and does not know if the files he contributed to and kept caused any adverse effects on persons he spied on.

He attended meetings where he was supposed to note what was said, what was written on placards, who spoke and who was present.

Other Houston area civilians on whom intelligence agents have files include James Hipard, a University of Houston law professor; Ben Levy, a Houston lawyer; Fred Brode, formerly American Civil Liberties Union chairman of the Houston Committee to End the War; Leroy Moses, a Negro businessman and chairman of the model city citizens advisory committee; Will Gray, a Houston lawyer, and Danny Schacht, a Houston anti-war protestor.

None of those he named was immediately available for comment.

Birdwell's wife is an outspoken member of the Mexican-American Youth Organization.

He did not make his role in military spying known earlier, he said, because he was under indictment in a September disturbance at a Houston school board meeting. The charges were dismissed Monday and MAYO members paid the school for damage.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Three of ♥
South did a skillful job of concealing his intentions from his opponent West, and the latter failed to capitalize on the opportunity he had to defeat the four spade contract.

West opened the three of hearts and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer was confronted with the possibility of losing two tricks each in diamonds and clubs. If West held one of the missing high clubs, only one club trick need be surrendered. Similarly, South might reduce his diamond losers if both the king and queen were located on his right in the East hand.

The one remaining prospect—in the event that all else failed to come off—was to execute an end play against East. However, he would require a bit of cooperation from the enemy, and in order not to tip his mitt South resolved to launch his campaign at once.

Accordingly at trick two, South led a small diamond from dummy and covered East's nine with the jack. West was in with the queen, and had he chosen at this point to shift to a club, declarer's plans would have come to naught for, after cashing one club trick, East can sit back and wait to score one more in each minor suit—to defeat the contract.

West was not aware that emergency measures were in order and, being reluctant to break the club suit on his own initiative, he attempted instead to cash the queen of hearts.

South ruffed in his hand and proceeded to take full charge of the situation. The ace, king and queen of spades completed the drawing of trump and then the ace of diamonds and a diamond continuation threw East in with the king. Since a heart lead would provide the declarer with a ruff and discard, East could do no better than cash the ace of clubs and concede.

Observe that, if South tries to draw trumps before he makes his diamond play, it will provide East with an opportunity to discard the ten of clubs—a clear-cut command to his partner to make the fatal club shift when he gets in.

Crack In The Dike

Congressional reformers can claim a partial victory over the antiquated seniority system. Both parties in the House have provided machinery to halt automatic promotion to power by seniority alone.

In the future, selection of committee chairmen and ranking committee members will be subject to approval by party caucuses. Survival at the polls for many years will no longer be the only basis for choosing chairmen.

Although there are no rules providing for it, the seniority system has been a rigid custom in the House and Senate for many years. Members with safe seats, re-elected term after term, automatically rose to immense power, whether they merited it or not.

The changes provide a means to oust autocratic, unpopular or incompetent chairmen or ranking committee members.

This does not mean the seniority system is dead. Most chairmen, for the foreseeable future at least, probably will be senior members. But they do not have a lock on the job as before.

The real test of the reforms will come when some members challenge a chairman in a party caucus. If they can make a case, win the votes and elect a new man, then the rigid tradition will be broken.

Risky Assumptions

You can't fault the governor in wanting to get by without having to levy new taxes, but his program seems to be based on several eventualities.

One of them is the assumption or hope that the federal government will take over welfare financing after 10 months. Another is that the legislature would approve $400 in bonds to finance teacher pay increases. Still another is that colleges can finance buildings out of revenue bonds to be supported by tuition charges.

The welfare suggestion is hazardous and may entail an emergency session if Congress (as well it may) decides not to assume the total welfare burden. The second is deficit financing; heretofore bonds have been used only for capital purposes — this one is purely operational. The college building proposal just might work out fine.

So that probably leaves some taxes to be raised; some sources estimate $750 million. Where will it come from? Sales tax? Raising it to 4 cents probably would produce no more than $105 million. Apparently there will be a lot of happy hunting on every other tax front.

That Confounded Lock!

Around The Rim

Jean Fannin

Remember the good old days when you could leave your doors unlocked. I wish they were back.

THERE IS JUST something about a lock that I can't handle. When I was in school I always forgot combinations and lost keys to my lockers.

I also tended to lose house keys and car keys. I still, however, am one step ahead of the woman I read about the other day. She got out of her car and started in the house, only to find she had left her keys in her purse in the car. She went back to the car and discovered she had locked her purse in the car. That I have never done. But I won't say that I won't do it.

I USED TO LAUGH at the movies in which the man went outside to pick up the morning paper and got locked outside the house. The same scene has been written into innumerable television programs and movies. I don't laugh any more.

Not long ago I went out to start my car to let it run for a while before I left for work. Then I found out the door had slammed behind me. Fuzzy pink house shoes and a pink quilted robe are just not the items of apparel one goes to work in.

Luckily my roommate had the day off and responded to the panic button on the doorbell. Although I had to think a few minutes before I could make up my mind whether to go to work in my housecoat or wake my roommate up.

THIS HAPPENED a month or two ago and I had almost forgotten it, unfortunately.

Then the other day I got home from work, slipped off my shoes and remembered I had left something in the car. Not bothering to grab a coat I ran out to the car. Barefooted and cold, I got back to the door. It was locked tight.

MY ROOMMATE wasn't home, and I didn't know when she would be home. I sat in the car to think about it for awhile. Then I made the chilly walk to the landlady's for a key. I did get quite a funny look when I asked if they had an extra key. Since I was without a coat and in my stockinged feet, I know they worried about me.

Anyway, near as I can figure, the only solution is to put a key on a chain and wear it around my neck from now on, and keep my head on. Hopefully, I wouldn't get locked out—or would I?

Teddy's Votes

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The toughest thing Teddy Kennedy faces for the next two years is trying to figure out who voted for him and who didn't when he was defeated for Senate whip. The final count in a secret ballot was 31 votes for Byrd and 24 votes for Kennedy. Yet when reporters took a poll after the caucus, 26 senators said they had voted for Teddy. It's obvious that out of the 26, two senators were whistling Dixie.

The big question that will haunt Kennedy is who were the two senators who said they voted for him but didn't? While Teddy sits during the long Senate debates, his eyes will be searching, ever searching, trying to find a Judas on the Senate floor.

IN THE CLOAK room, the Senate dining room and even the washroom he will never know if the senator who hands him a towel had given him the Byrd.

When crucial votes come up on the floor and a colleague says, "Teddy, I voted for you for whip," how will Kennedy know he isn't talking to a Sen. Benedict Arnold?

One solution would be to make all 26 senators who said they had voted for Kennedy take a saliva test.

BUT THE SENATE is a club and the first rule is never to question another club member's word. If Teddy asked the 26 to swear they had written his name on the ballot, he would be questioning their integrity and that's one thing no senator wants to be questioned on.

Another solution would be for Kennedy to have a supper at his house for the 26 senators and wait to see which two senators kiss him on the cheek.

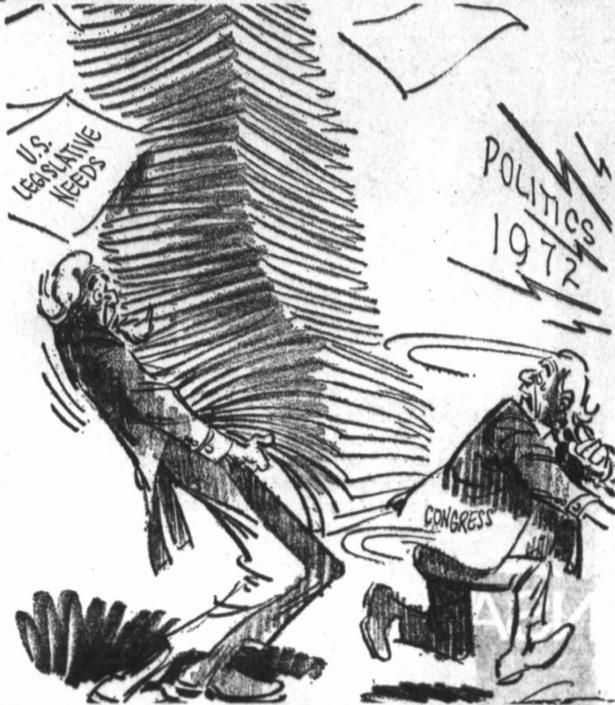

A THIRD SOLUTION would be for Kennedy to offer amnesty to the two who secretly voted for Byrd, while professing to vote for him. He could announce that if they stepped forward and revealed themselves, he would forgive them, and take both of them along with him on his next trip to Paris.

Friends of Kennedy have tried to console him by telling him that the gap in how senators voted and how they said they voted, was really Sen. Byrd's problem. If Byrd got 31 votes and only 29 senators own up to having voted for him, two senators are playing both sides of the street. And how can you be a Senate whip if you can't get an honest count from your own party?

THE WORST PART of Kennedy's defeat, after knowing that he was betrayed, is that everyone has said that this hurts his chances for being a presidential candidate in 1972. Since Teddy has vowed time and time again that he is not a candidate, it's impossible for him to deny that his loss has hurt his chances.

All he can say is "Since I am not a candidate for President, my chances for getting the nomination have not been affected by Sen. Byrd's victory."

'Recycle' Proposal

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The word "recycle" has barely made many dictionaries, so recent is its coinage, but no dictionary of the future will be able to ignore it. Neither will most industries or consumers.

Simply stated, recycling means the reprocessing of used materials and waste into something saleable or, at least, to some extent, reusable. The concept isn't entirely new, but the scale of its possible uses could be revolutionary.

Revolutionary in the sense that it quite likely will mean the beginning of the end for the throwaway society, a life style that condoned the belief that a perfectly good product could be thrown away after one use, without adverse consequences.

Now, with a good deal of the environment polluted, industry and society know that they can not forever take natural resources from the earth and re-deposit them the unnatural products of man.

Instead, it is becoming generally understood, society will have to reprocess its old materials into new ones, constantly keeping them in use rather than permitting them to accumulate anywhere as waste.

Among the motivations: —The environment is being polluted. Aluminum and steel cans, glass bottles, tires, industrial bulks of various materials, papers, oils are befouling the earth, sky and water.

Many conventional disposal methods, at best, substitute one form of pollution for another. Old tires can be burned out at the expense of clean air. Household garbage can be hidden from sight, but often at the expense of clean water.

The nation is threatened, sometime far in the future if not soon, with a depletion of some raw materials. Total depletion, once foreseen as imminent, may still be far off. But under present methods, some feel, it might be inevitable.

The conscience of good business, which orders that expenses be kept down and that profit-making opportunities be seized, has become distressed by waste. It is now seeking to convert the problem into an opportunity, albeit prodded by the law.

An imaginative proposal was presented recently in the form of plans for a plant whose raw materials would be nothing but garbage and whose product would be almost nothing but reusable materials and energy.

The Aluminum Association, its own self interest dictating that it become involved, turned over the plans to the new National Center for Solid Waste Disposal, a nonprofit corporation created in Washington recently by industries whose products contribute to the problem.

This plant would take garbage and run it through various processes to recover materials that now are thrown away. Aluminum waste would come out as aluminum granules which the operator could then sell back to the industry.

Glass bottles would emerge as a special kind of gravel, steel would be sifted out and re-shaped as raw material, paper would be reworked into pellets for new paper, plastics and vegetable wastes would be processed into fuels.

Ideally, the only product of the plant would be clean water, and valuable materials and energy that a municipality could use itself or sell. The facility could, for example, also serve as a power plant.

But the demonstration plant must be built first, and nobody so far has come up with a plan for that. Engineering drawings have been made but the blueprints haven't been inked. The association estimates it would take two years and $15.8 million to bring the idea to reality.

Bird Counters

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — It is mildly unfortunate that those journalistic advocates of a far-out approach to our national problems found no space in their anti-materialistic essays for comment on a recently completed project of the National Audubon Society.

Had they done so, I suspect that even the alleged adults who demand Abbie Hoffman for President would have discovered that Americans — usually pictured as manufacturing hangers-on or quarreling with shopkeepers — have a gentler side.

REFERENCE IS to the annual bird census, and I confess at the outset that the mere thought of engaging in such a venture is enough to cause me to order another flagon of hot buttered rum and turn up the thermostat. Happily, the county is not wholly populated with such craven sit-by-the-fires.

THE FINAL figures are not yet in; one of the nicest things about the Audubon Society is that its pace is unhurried — it seems delightfully understaffed in high-salaried flacks. But it is estimated that more than 10,000 brave volunteers tramped fields and forests, counting and classifying our bird life to find out where various species of birds are spending the winter. They counted an estimated more than 15 million feathered friends belonging to about 500 species, as they trudged through snow, waded swamps, climbed mountains and scrambled through brush.

THEY ALSO, I am sure, collected the greatest collection of head colds west of the Siberian steppes. This impresses me. I am also warmed by the knowledge that a vast majority of the bird counters were grownups, not members of our great idealistic college set. Those counters who went out as families undoubtedly included children who had been subjected at the diaper stage to a system of loving discipline which put gentle stress on values outside the realm of the television.

THE ARGUMENT could be made that I lack the credentials for moralizing. Not at all. It seems to me that a salute to the men comes close to the ultimate tribute.

And, I can never be with those bird counters except in spirit. The prospect of spending "a minimum of seven hours in the field" and covering "a circular area 15 miles in diameter" in the dead of winter strikes terror to my rheumatism.

I HAVE SEEN some of those Eastern swamplands and frigid mid-western prairies from trains and airplanes. Neither is suitable for a human being unless he is under a house.

These good people deserve medals, international recognition, and all the hot meals they can get. And as my contribution, I promise that the next time I see a bird — from indoors, of course — I will count it.

Longer Life

LONDON (AP) — Life expectancy in Britain has increased to about 69 and 75 years for men and women respectively compared to 45 and 52 years at the beginning of the century, a government report said.

Less At Home

LONDON (AP) — Only about one in seven births now take place at home in Britain, less than half the proportion in 1961, a government survey showed.

My Answer

Billy Graham

My father died some time ago, and my mother told my younger sisters and brothers that "daddy went to heaven." My father was not a professing Christian, and the Bible says, "He that hath not the Son hath not life." What I want to ask is: what do you tell young children when you are not sure their departed parent is saved?

D.P. I'm sure your mother meant no harm, and she probably prayed that her departed husband was saved. But, when one is not sure about the relationship of a departed loved one to the Lord, it would be better to tell the children "he is in God's hands," or, "your father is in the hands of a just and merciful God."

Your question points up the importance of parents making sure of their salvation. A child can have no greater heritage than a Christian father and mother, and nothing is more tragic than for a parent to live and die without a personal relationship with Christ.

Most fathers provide material things for their children, but too many make no provision for their spiritual needs.

David Livingstone, one of the great missionaries of all time was born of poor parents, but they were rich in spiritual resources. When they died they had nothing in the way of an estate to leave to their children. But they left a spiritual estate which was incalculable. Their children carved on their gravestone: "To show the resting place of Neil Livingstone and Agnes Hunter, his wife, and to express their thankfulness to God, of their children, for poor and pious parents."

A Devotion For Today...

I will sing with the spirit, and I will sing with the understanding also. (I Corinthians 14:15)

PRAYER: O loving Father, we thank You for friends who have drawn us near to You. We ask that we may show love and joy to any who may be worried or sad. Through Jesus Christ, our Lord, Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Who Commands?

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some day there may be a test of whether the President of the United States is really the commander-in-chief of the armed forces. Up to now, however, despite all the protests in Congress about the use of American forces in Cambodia recently, no attempt has been made to resolve the dispute.

VARIOUS MEMBERS have complained that there has been a violation of the amendment to an appropriation bill, adopted by Congress in December, barring funds for the maintenance of American ground combat troops or U.S. advisers in Cambodia. The administration, defending its employment of air power in support of operations in Cambodia, contends that the criticism is merely an irrelevant question of "semantics." Within the last couple of days the South Vietnamese forces, which were being aided by American planes, completed their mission of opening Cambodia's main highway to the sea, and withdrew.

SO WITH this work finished, the incident becomes more or less academic. But the point involved is an important one because it may arise again. There are members of Congress who feel that they have a right to restrict the use of American servicemen in the Vietnam war and that the measure which has been passed in any action which amounts to "intervention" in Cambodia, however small the expedition may be.

THE VIEWPOINT of the Department of Defense and the State Department is that the United States is engaged in a war even though it is in the process of withdrawing troops from Indochina. An essential task is to protect all the men of the armed services while this is being done. The administration has announced that no American combat forces will be committed but that air support will be given in the event that it becomes necessary to attack "sanctuaries" in Cambodia or any other area adjacent to South Vietnam.

FROM A military standpoint, the commander-in-chief is justified in taking any steps to protect the American troops in South Vietnam against further casualties. It would be difficult for a committee of Congress to prove that there is any intent deliberately to draw the United States into an expanded war. For all the missions which are being undertaken are in every sense protective and do not involve big combat operations.

VARIOUS MEMBERS of Congress, however, seem to take every opportunity to accuse the administration of violating its word not to engage in a larger war. When our military commanders saw an opportunity to disrupt the enemy's buildup of strength in Cambodia in its effort to re-establish bases which could be used at any moment for an attack on American forces, the idea was naturally accepted as an excellent piece of strategy and one that offers greater safety to American troops. Yet inside the United States it was publicized as a violation of the policy of confining the war to Vietnam.

WHAT SEEMS to be lacking in Congress is an understanding of military maneuvers and of the necessities that arise in protecting an army of more than 335,000 from outside attack as well as the advantages of bombing bases where men and munitions are concentrated by the enemy.

More Crime

LONDON (AP) — The number of indictable offenses, per thousand population, more than doubled in Britain between 1951 and 1968, an official report shows.

Convictions for drug offenses rose from about 4,500 in 1967 to 7,000 in 1969.

Owner Occupied

LONDON (AP) — Forty-nine per cent of houses in England and Wales were owner-occupied in 1969 compared to only 29 per cent in 1950, a government report showed.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Once upon a time in a country called America a pretty little girl from England earned fame and a wheelbarrow full of cash by exclaiming, "Sock it to me!"—and then letting people throw buckets of water in her face.

Millions of television fans thought the whole unlikely procedure was rib-cracking funny.

The girl was Judy Carne, and the video show—which she left last year—was "Laugh-In."

Well, time has marched on—and so has Judy. She has launched an exciting new phase of her career by becoming a star on the nation's supper club circuit. She is presently appearing at the Plaza Hotel's Persian Room.

When I called on Miss Carne recently she was clad in a long slinky green robe and resting on a bed large enough to provide a courtship space for two dromedaries and a brace of pigeons.

"It's my back that's bothering me," she said cheerfully. "It's just tension. When I get overtired, I have to take muscle relaxants and sit on a heating pad. Everybody has his weak spot—or breaks out in a rash or something."

Judy made it clear she was no disappointed fugitive from television.

"I'm grateful for the sock-it-to-me tag, but I'd like to drop it pretty soon," she said. "I feel there's more to me than that."

There is indeed. Judy, the 31-year-old daughter of a British grocer, has been a professional performer since she was 6. She is an adept and agile singer, dancer, comedienne and actress, experienced in the theater, screen and television.

Carr Says He Looks Forward To Trial With Confidence

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, a defendant in the federal stock fraud suit, says he's looking forward to the trial of the case.

He accused the Securities and Exchange Commission of using a "scattershot approach" in its charges of stock manipulations. Altogether there are 27 individuals and firms named as defendants in the case.

"When it gets to court, they'll have to prove who did what," Carr said. "Up to now, they've alleged everybody has done everything."

"One of these days they're going to have to prove the charges, and that's the day I'm looking forward to."

any wrong doing, Carr said he was confident of the trial's outcome "so far as I'm concerned."

A hearing on the federal court suit has been set for Feb. 8 in Dallas.

Carr, 52, a state Democratic office holder for 20 years before he left politics, said in an interview that he was "amazed that my name was mentioned" in the civil suit.

Has he considered a counter-suit? "Yes, but it's difficult to file suits against people acting in federal agencies," he replied.

A longtime law and order advocate, Carr was chairman of Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher's "Committee of 100," which only recently recommended a strong legislative ethics bill.

He also has been named to the board of regents of Texas Tech, his alma mater, an appointment which has not been confirmed. He says he has no plans to resign as some critics have demanded.

Carr began his political career as a county attorney at Lubbock in the late 1940s. He served five terms in the Texas Legislature, including four years as speaker of the House.

He ran unsuccessfully for U.S. senator against Republican John Tower in 1966 and has been a businessman and lawyer since.

As House speaker in 1957, Carr pushed an investigation into claims that a legislator had agreed to accept a bribe in return for withdrawing a bill against the practice of naturopathy.

The legislator later was convicted and served a prison term. Naturopathy is a healing art that uses "natural elements" and massage but no drugs or surgery.

Depositions taken in the SEC case show Carr's business interests included RIC International Industries, Inc., where he was vice president until forced to resign.

Carr says he was "forced out" it when Joseph Novotny, heading Frank W. Sharp's Sharpstown Realty Co. in Houston, took over RIC.

Sharp and Novotny are among other defendants in the SEC suit.

Sharp's interests acted in a "high-handed, antagonistic" manner when they foreclosed on RIC, Carr said in a deposition, adding that he had "dreamed of RIC being mine, part of my estate. I had worked hard for

Chamber Of Commerce Banquet Tickets Selling

Approximately 400 tickets have been sold for the Chamber of Commerce banquet Feb. 1, in the Big Spring High School cafeteria.

Chamber Manager Tom Eastland explained a total of 600 tickets would be sold on a "first come, first served basis."

Highlighting the banquet will be the address '2nd Congress—The Nation and You' of Sen. John J. Tower. A general citizen's reception will be held for Sen. Tower in the First Federal Savings and Loan Building from 5 to 6 p.m. with a press conference scheduled for 6 p.m.

Representatives also will meet with Sen. Tower to express their appreciation for his work to keep Goodfellow Air Force Base open.

Other activities in the banquet will be the presentation of awards and recognition of officers and directors. R. H.

Weaver, attorney and former Howard County judge, will be master of ceremonies.

Dinner music will be provided by the BSHS Stage Band under the direction of Kyle Ellison. Tickets for the banquet may be purchased from Ambassador Club members and in the Chamber of Commerce offices. Persons may also call the Chamber offices and reserve tickets to be held at the door.

Ausmus Honored As Educator

Paul D. Ausmus, HCJC biology instructor, has been named to appear in the 1970 edition of Outstanding Educators of America in recognition of contributions to the advancement of education in the biological sciences.

Ausmus, a native of Big Spring, has taught biology at HCJC for the past seven years. He received his bachelor of arts degree from St. Mary's University in San Antonio and his master of science degree from Abilene Christian College. He has attended the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, University of Oklahoma, and Texas A&M University for study in biology above the masters degree.

He also has served as chairman of the biology section of the Texas Junior College Teachers' Association and appeared on a panel of biologists at the manned spacecraft center in Houston in 1968. He is also a member of the Texas Academy of Science and the Texas Teachers Association. He resides with his wife, Alene, and two daughters, Stefanie and Lisa, at 2300 Morrison.

Two Bust Quotas In YMCA Drive

Two men were named to the allstar team Wednesday at the first report meeting of the participating campaign workers for the YMCA.

Frank Hardesty and Tito Arenchiba, both player-coaches in the East Conference, went over their $200 quotas in the first two days of the campaign.

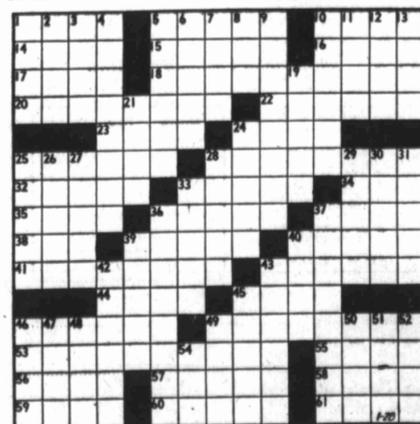

Charles B. E. L., basketball commissioner for the campaign, reported that 25 workers have reported in so far with $4,770 on the $13,500 goal.

In the sustaining campaign, according to Jimmy Taylor, chairman, $1,625 has been collected toward the goal of $10,000.

Keydets Lose 21st In Row By 78-67 Tab

Shed a tear for the Keydets of Virginia Military Institute in Lexington, Va. They haven't won a game this season in college basketball. George Washington handed the Keydets their 21st straight defeat 78-67 Wednesday night behind the 30-point performance of Walt Szerbiak.

Baseball, Cage Game Don't Mix, Say Reds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Against the club's wishes, Tolan, Johnny Bench, Pete Rose, Jimmy Stewart, Lee May and Jim Maloney agreed to play a 19-game baseball barnstorming tour this winter.

"I think clubs should have the say if players are to play baseball in their contracts. We cannot do that now because of the last negotiations with the players," Howsam said.

"That's one of Marvin Miller's beauties. I'm sure he won't replace Tolan for us," Anderson said of the players' legal counsel who engineered the move that basketball was permitted in current contracts.

QUARTERBACK CORNER Breakfast Is Set Friday Morning

Another Quarterback Club breakfast will be served Friday morning, starting at 7:15 a.m. at Wesley United Methodist Church.

And had all the excitement and atmosphere that a fan could ask for. In district play, the Steers have won three and lost four, and that is pretty good for a team that the others predicted would win nothing.

Anderson, who led the Reds into the World Series in his first year at the helm, said he would use Hal McRae in left, Pete Rose in center and Bernie Carbo in right if the National League season began today.

Houston Acquires Santa Clara QB

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Jim Plunkett, the 1970 Heisman Trophy winner from Stanford, was selected by the Boston Patriots today as the No. 1 pick in the National Football League's college draft.

The Patriots landed Plunkett, holder of the all-time major college records for passing and total offense yardage, after spurning numerous offers to swap the top choice in a package deal for established players.

fourth, broke the quarterback string with the selection of swift J. D. Hill, a wide receiver from Arizona State.

The Jets then tapped running back John Riggins, a 6-foot-2, 225-pounder from Kansas. Riggins broke Gale Sayers' career rushing mark at Kansas with a three-year total of 2,706 yards.

At that point, Rozelle announced a second trade, whereby the Green Bay Packers sent quarterback Don Horn to the Denver Broncos in return for defensive end Alden Roche.

of Santa Clara, loomed as the likely 1-2-3 picks in the draft, with Boston, New Orleans, and Houston on the receiving end in that order.

The Buffalo Bills, picking up second, selected quarterback Archie Manning of Mississippi, as expected.

The Houston Oilers picked a third quarterback, Santa Clara's Dan Pastorini.

By drafting Plunkett, who holds the all-time major college records for passing yardage and total offense, Boston would have to take on another six-figure salary. Kapp has two years remaining on a three-year contract at about $130,000 per year.

Big Spring-born Bob Bass became one of the few coaches in collegiate history to bail out of a coaching job in mid-season when he called it a day at Texas Tech recently to rejoin the pros.

Tech had expected to lose the diminutive Bass in time and was grooming Gerald Myers to replace him. Bass' decision to rejoin the mercenaries came sooner than later, however, and must have jolted the Texas Tech athletic family.

Most of the 26 NFL clubs, who drafted in reverse order of their won-lost percentages last season with the exception of the Super Bowl finalists, were looking for the best talent available, regardless of position, in the early going. But at least half of them were in the market for quarterbacks.

Only in recent times has the Dallas Cowboys' Tom Landry been operating at anything but a deficit in the bookkeeping of wins and defeats.

In his 11 years there, Tom has guided his team to 78 wins, compared to 70 defeats and six ties. The Cowboys under Tom didn't progress past the break-even point until 1966.

With Philadelphia, Atlanta, Denver, and, possibly, Green Bay among quarterback-shoppers with high first-round choices, it was conceivable that Dickey, Hart, Scott Hunter of Alabama and All-American Joe Theismann of Notre Dame all could be tapped early.

Greenville's Mike Thomas recently was named to Coach & Athlete All-America "Top 11" football team for 1970.

The same way failed to rally enough support to be included on the State AAAA all-star team.

The First Church of God Intramural Basketball League will begin play in the Midway school gym at 7 o'clock this evening.

Clint Humphreys, who made inquiries about the Big Spring coaching job a few years ago, quit recently as head coach at Houston Spring Branch to become head coach at Longview. He was at Spring Branch only one season.

He had offers dangled before him by school boards at Irving and Lufkin and turned them down.

The senior league will play following the junior boys, with the first game pitting the Its against the Bucks and the second game will find the Mustangs and the Rascals finishing the evening of play.

It was Patterson who gave Sonny a shot at the heavyweight boxing crown and it came at a time the rest of the boxing world was running from Liston.

Sonny's prison record gave the fight mob reason enough to keep him in the deep freeze. A more likely cause, however, was the heavy hands he laid on the opposition.

Floyd bent to help the struggling Liston and twice was knocked side-saddle by his trouble. As a result, Sonny earned $3 million in just four title appearances and was able to live out his life in style.

The record losing streak for small colleges is 46 by Olivet.

Sixth-ranked Jacksonville was the only team in The Associated Press Top Twenty to see action. The Dolphins crushed Florida State 83-65. Big 7-foot-2 Artis Gilmore scored only 15 points, but dominated the board along with his teammate, 7-foot-7 Pembroke Burrows.

South Plains Is Winner, 70-66

LEVELAND — South Plains College remained atop the standings in the Western JC Conference by edging New Mexico Junior College, 70-66, here Tuesday night.

Jacklin Not Discouraged Over Showing On Circuit

SAN DIEGO (AP) — He's had a relatively slow start, but Tony Jacklin is far from discouraged or disappointed.

"It really isn't all that bad," the handsome young Englishman said today before teeing off in the first round of the $150,000 Andy Williams-San Diego Open golf tournament.

"It takes a little time to get adjusted, of course, and I was pretty tired from all the travel last year," he said, and ticked off some of his late-season stops: Argentina, Europe, Australia.

Jacklin, son of a truck driver, became the first Englishman in 50 years to win the U.S. Open when he scored by seven strokes at Chaska, Minn., last season.

And now is the time for those who complain that too much stress is placed on football to come forward. Everyone loves, some sport — so come help boost your favorite one.

For those who prefer the feminine look, the volleyball team goes into action this week against Colorado City.

Steer Linksters Await San Angelo Tournament

Big Spring is one of 26 teams entered in the San Angelo Central High School Invitational Golf tournament, which starts Friday and continues through Saturday.

Titles will be determined on two levels of competition. Of the field, 21 are entered as AAAA schools, the other five in Class AAA.

Two courses will be used during the 36-hole event. The schoolboys will tour the San Angelo Country Club Friday, then move over to Riverside Saturday.

Teams will be made up of five players, plus a spare. Two-man low ball champions will be determined, as well as team listers.

5-4A Exes Shine Despite Defeat

AMARILLO — Two former 5-AAAA stars, Richard Little and Randy Prince, scored 60 points between them in a losing effort as Amarillo College ripped the Texas Tech freshmen, 117-92, here Wednesday night.

Also on hand are such standouts as Frank Beard, Dave Hill, Doug Sanders, Larry Hinton and Bruce Crampton. The major absentees were Arnold Palmer and Lee Trevino.

Clay Is Never Off Stage, He Tells Press

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Madison Square Garden has sold every ticket for the Muhammad Ali-Joe Frazier heavy-weight spectacular—from $150 ringside to $20 back row seats—but the sales pitch goes on.

"Snap it quick, while I'm all flexed up," barked Ali. "People'll see this pretty body and I've sold 10 more seats for the closed-circuit TV."

The ex-Cassius Clay posed willingly for the national magazine's photographer. He'll pose almost as quickly for a kid with a Brownie.

"You see me on the Flip Wilson Show?" he asked. "Did you see Flip play?" that girl, Geraldine? Heck, ole Geraldine could whup Joe Frazier."

All laughed at his own funny. The bout with Frazier is scheduled for March 8 in the 19,500-seat New York sports palace. Joe and Ali have already seen the checks for their $2.5 million apiece guarantee.

"The more TV seats we sell, the more we'll get," beamed Ali. "Everybody is gonna wanna see the fight of all time. Some gonna come see me beat Frazier. Some coming to see me lose. The second half gonna be disappointed."

Although it'll cost some boxing fans a week's pay to see the big fight, Ali gives them a cheaper show daily at rickety old Fifth Street Gym in lower Miami Beach.

"Let's see the Ali Shuffle," demanded one of the dozen 100-cent onlookers.

All looked at him with a straight face. "That will cost you at least $19 more than you paid," he said.

The somber-faced Ali that prepared for his comeback two months ago against Jerry Quarry has been replaced. A big hunk of the old wise-cracking, poem-writing, loud-mouthing man is back.

"No, I don't shoot off my mouth like I used to," claims the unbeaten, but ousted, heavy-weight king. "That was all for show—it got people to come see me fight, whether they wanted me to win or lose."

Winder, who is 29, is a graduate of Moffitt High School in Greg, Colo., and was an All-American at Mesa JC in Grand Junction, Colo. He went on to Utah State where he took his degree in 1964.

He served as an assistant at Roswell Goddard High School and was named head coach at Roswell High in 1968. His 1970 team won eight of ten starts, losing to Hobbs in the state championship finals.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring-born Bob Bass became one of the few coaches in collegiate history to bail out of a coaching job in mid-season when he called it a day at Texas Tech recently to rejoin the pros.

Tech had expected to lose the diminutive Bass in time and was grooming Gerald Myers to replace him. Bass' decision to rejoin the mercenaries came sooner than later, however, and must have jolted the Texas Tech athletic family.

Basketball buffs forget and forgive a lot easier than do football fans. All Myers has to do to make the Tech rosters consist Bass' name to oblivion is to guide his team to a few wins.

If the Kermit school board didn't hire the best man for the job when they piped Greg Sherwood aboard as football coach and athletic director, they certainly hired one of the biggest.

Sherwood stands 6-3 and bends the scales to 280 pounds. Very few members of the dissenting jury are going to personally argue with him.

Only in recent times has the Dallas Cowboys' Tom Landry been operating at anything but a deficit in the bookkeeping of wins and defeats.

Most of the 26 NFL clubs, who drafted in reverse order of their won-lost percentages last season with the exception of the Super Bowl finalists, were looking for the best talent available, regardless of position, in the early going. But at least half of them were in the market for quarterbacks.

With Philadelphia, Atlanta, Denver, and, possibly, Green Bay among quarterback-shoppers with high first-round choices, it was conceivable that Dickey, Hart, Scott Hunter of Alabama and All-American Joe Theismann of Notre Dame all could be tapped early.

Baltimore's world champs and Dallas' Super Bowl losers also were angling for quarterback insurance and each made a pitch for the No. 1 pick.

The First Church of God Intramural Basketball League will begin play in the Midway school gym at 7 o'clock this evening.

The girls teams will play the first game followed by the junior boys games. The Cardinals will play the Mavericks in the first game and the Short-horns will tangle with the Mustangs in the second game.

Over-all, his record as a head coach is 19-11. At Utah State, Winder played under John Ralston.

Means had served as head coach here since 1966. Last year, his team wound up with an 0-9-1 record.

Winder said he planned to have his team throw the football. He uses a pro-type defense, he added.

McCarroll was a linebacker at New Mexico State University while Osborn was a tackle at Eastern New Mexico.

Ike Dollar Minus Silver

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The first $1 coin to be minted since before World War II depicts Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower on one side and the American eagle on the other. Unlike its predecessor, it will contain no silver.

The design for the new $1 coin, first to be struck since 1935, was unveiled at the U.S. Mint by its designer, Frank Gasparro, and Mary T. Brooks, director of the mint.

In what engravers call a trial strike, a large orange coin press exerted 130 tons of pressure on a blank silver disc, producing a stern silhouette of the late president and general of the Army. Gasparro, whose inspiration was a glimpse he caught of Ike during a "V-E" victory parade in 1945, said he wanted the likeness to be "heroic."

The coin is to contain 40 per cent silver when it is distributed in proof and uncirculated editions after July 1, but in the 200 million coins scheduled for general circulation the silver will be replaced by the cupronickel alloy used in the 25-cent coin.

All previous $1 coins, including the Eisenhower Dollar's immediate predecessor, the Liberty Dollar, contained either silver or gold in varying amounts.

Rolls 4.2 Million Miles With Nary An Accident

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some people are scared of trucks—but no one should fear those driven by Shorty Smith of Waco, Tex., Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., told a congressional breakfast crowd Wednesday.

The 61 year old Smith has driven a diesel tractor and semi trailer truck 4.2 million miles over the years—with nary an accident.

Poage presided at a breakfast given by the American Trucking Associations, Inc., in honor of Smith, their truck driver of the year.

"I've never been hit by a truck but some people are afraid of them," quipped Poage. "I don't think they'd be as scared if they actually knew some of the drivers."

Smith, (whose formal name is W. T. Smith), said he'll keep driving as long as he's healthy enough to climb into the cab. "My intentions are not to quit at all—that's the kind of life I like," he said. "He drives five nights a week and is home every day. The bacon and eggs breakfast was served at a time that would normally be his dinner hour."

For 24 years he's driven the stretch between Waco and Brownwood. "We used to call it the goat run but they've fixed it and it's all right now."

When he's not driving, Smith hunts and fishes. He says his specialty is nabbing rattlesnakes.

Other Texans at the breakfast besides Poage included Sen.

John G. Tower, a Republican, and Democratic Reps. Henry B. Gonzalez, Olin Teague, O. C. Fisher, Jim Wright and J. J. Pickle.

New Bills In Texas Legislature

AUSTIN (AP) — Life insurance companies seeking state charters would have to have $500,000 in capital and $500,000 in surplus under a House bill filed Wednesday.

Now only $100,000 in capital and $100,000 in surplus are required, said Rep. Red Braun of Houston, the bill's sponsor. "Our requirements for chartering new life insurance companies are dangerously low and far out of line with those of other states," Braun said.

Braun also filed a bill which would give local governments power to sue corporations polluting the environment even if the pollution source is not located within their territorial jurisdiction.

Other bills filed Wednesday would:

—Make the offer to sell a narcotic or dangerous drug a felony and the offer to buy a narcotic or dangerous drug a misdemeanor.

—Allow state-supported senior colleges to issue revenue bonds for institutions under its jurisdiction, such as medical, dental and biomedical schools.

—Create a fully state-supported coeducation institution of higher learning to be known as the University of South Texas, located in Corpus Christi. The college would be for students on the junior, senior and graduate level.

—Allow a buyer to rescind a retail installment contract within 72 hours if the contract is initiated in the buyer's home or rescind it if a copy is not delivered to him before the arrival of the goods on contracts not signed in the buyer's home.

—Regulate practices used in the collection of debts and providing penalties for the use of threats of coercion, harassment or abuse, or fraudulent representation.

—Amend the Texas Non-Profit Corporation Act in regard to certain private foundations to prohibit certain self dealing, excessive business holdings, describe authorized investments and prohibit certain expenditures.

Labelled Stupid

ST. CATHARINES, Canada (AP) — Two of the recommendations of the royal commission on the status of women were labelled respectively "stupid" and "crazy" recently by the woman chiefly responsible for the establishment of the commission. Laura Sabia of St. Catharines called "stupid" the recommendation that mothers be paid $500 a year for each of their children under 16. And she described as "crazy" the suggestion that a married man's tax deduction for his dependent wife be reduced from the present $1,000 to $600.

Rainbows Gain Five Members

Five new members of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, Assembly 60, were initiated Tuesday at the Masonic Temple. They are Tammy Newsom, Billie Wonderly, Sidney Crow, Cynthia D'Angelo and Donna Brashears. Sharon Andrews, worthy advisor, presided.

Gayle Webb, worthy associate advisor, announced that new officers will be installed Saturday, 7:30 p.m. at the temple. Susan Smith reported that about 10,000 pairs of hosiery were collected for use at Big Spring State Hospital in arts and crafts projects.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Louise Hamilton, Tina Teague, Jodi Grant, LaNelle Knowles and Temple McDaniel.

Gives Advice On Nutrition, Buying

Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent, was guest speaker for the Coahoma 4-H Club Tuesday in the Coahoma Junior High School library.

In her two-part program, Mrs. Crawford illustrated procedure and considerations for buying a school dress. She also told about the nutrition requirements of plant life.

Glenda Addy, Patricia Fryar and Dennis Mays reported on an entomology project they recently completed, and demonstrated how to catch, mount and label bugs.

Darla Harrington reported that $63.40 was collected at the March of Dimes roadblock on Saturday. Assisting in the collection were Janet Gilmore, Laurie Broughton, Patsy Furlong, Lisa Furlong and Kim Wall.

Phyllis Wynn presided. Prayers were led by Miss Harrington, Terry Beistle and Mays. Mays also gave the thought for the day, and pledges were led by Miss Broughton and Cindy Fryar. Guests were Connie Howell and Ben Shafer.

Women's Group Studies Psalms

Miss Helen Ewing introduced the Bible study on the book of Psalms Tuesday to the Martha Foster Circle, Wesley United Methodist Church, in her home at 709 E. 15th. The devotion was given by Mrs. Oliver Cofer Sr., and Mrs. John Waddell was a guest. There will be a general meeting of the church women at 9:30 a.m., Feb. 2, at the church.

B&PW Shown Wig Fashions

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Don Carey demonstrated uses of various types of wigs Tuesday, for members of the Business and Professional Women's Club at Coker's Restaurant.

Mrs. Carey served as the model while Carey styled hairdos for day and evening wear for women of all ages. The Careys own La Contessa Beauty Salon.

The tables were decorated with colorful hat boxes and mannequins displaying assorted wigs. Guests were Mrs. Don Williams and Mrs. Charlene Key.

Mrs. J. B. Apple presided, and the collect was read by Mrs. Garland Morrison. The next meeting is Feb. 9, 7:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce.

Slides Taken At 4-H Congress Viewed By Club

Slides taken at the 1970 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Ill., were narrated by two of those who attended, Johnny Peugh and Larry Shaw at the Knott 4-H Club meeting Monday evening at the Knott Community Center.

Shaw presided, and Martin Nichols led the pledge and motto. Inspirational thoughts on love were given by Patty Peugh. New members welcomed were David Long, David Hall and Lina June Kenemer.

Plans were announced for the 4-H Food Show March 27 at the First United Methodist Church fellowship hall in Big Spring.

Also, reports were heard from members who assisted with the March of Dimes. Approximately $30 was collected in the Knott-Ackerly area, and some girl members worked on the MOD roadblock in Big Spring. Announcement was made of the upcoming Walkathon which will also benefit the MOD.

Refreshments were served to 35.

Club Schedules Valentine's Tea

The Ever Ready Civic Art Club announced Wednesday, in the home of Mrs. Erastus Dawson, 311 NE. 10th, that it will have a Valentine Tea Feb. 14, in the home of Mrs. Leroy Perry, 811 N. Gregg. Calling hours are 3 to 6 p.m.

The executive board planning meeting will be Feb. 25, 2 p.m. at the Odessa Community Center. In other business, it was announced that the club purchased a piano for the Lakeview YMCA.

Mrs. Rosetta Brown presided, and Mrs. Bobbie Williams led the invocation. The next meeting is Feb. 10, 8 p.m., in the home of Mrs. Louisiana Jones, 400 N. Scurry. A style and talent show will be discussed.

Rebekahs Honor Lodge Founder

The life of Thomas Wilder, founder of Odd Fellows, was reviewed by Mrs. C. D. Herring Tuesday evening as his birthday was observed by Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 294. Afterward, Mrs. J. E. Brown and Mrs. Carl Mangum sang "Faith of Our Fathers."

Mrs. T. W. Neal, noble grand, presided, introducing a guest, Mrs. Geneva Newman of San Angelo Rebekah Lodge 76. Mrs. A. G. Hall, deputy, conducted lodge instruction and presented a certificate of perfection to Mrs. J. R. Petty. Almost 70 visits were reported. A chili supper was tentatively set for Feb. 20.

Lions Planning Ladies Night

The Sand Springs Lions Auxiliary announced Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Johnny Zitterkopf, that the Lion's Club is having a "ladies night," Monday, 7 p.m. at the Spanish Inn. Mrs. Gerald Barbee was cohostess. The next meeting is Feb. 23, 9:30 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Roland Bell.

Gardeners Urged To Attract More Birds

"It has been estimated that people could not live nine years if there were no birds," said Mrs. Jesse Crane Tuesday as she spoke to the Rosebud Garden Club on "How to Attract Birds."

"There are 480 species of birds in Texas," continued Mrs. Crane. "Many rare species nest in Big Bend National Park, and the Gulf Coast area has the finest water fowl concentration on the continent. These are valuable tourist attractions." The speaker suggested limiting the use of insecticides since birds are helpful to mankind by eating millions of weeds and insects.

"One good thing about our sparrows is that they eat lice from plants," she remarked. "Mocking birds like fruit — especially the overripe apricots in the top of trees that are too high for us to pick."

She said most birds, except the hummingbird, are leery of bright colors and prefer birdhouses painted in pastel or earthy colors.

"When you install a hummingbird house, attach a bright artificial flower," she said.

In conclusion, Mrs. Crane said that birds like to eat table scraps, oats and corn bread made from left-over cooking grease. Also, she suggested planting a berry shrub to attract the birds.

The club met in the home of Mrs. Paul Malone with Mrs. Charles Tuttle presiding as new officers were elected. They are Mrs. Crane, president; Mrs. Ralph Mahoney, vice president; Mrs. Tommy Hart, secretary and reporter; Mrs. L. B. Mauldin, treasurer; and Mrs. Tuttle, parliamentarian.

It was reported that a Golden Rain Tree was purchased by the club and will be planted at Big Spring State Hospital. Mrs. Clyde Thomas volunteered to donate a book on gardening to Howard County Library on behalf of the club, and the club will provide a youth membership for the YMCA.

The Feb. 23 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. R. C. Alexander.

High Tallies At Bridge

Six tables were in play for the duplicate group tournament held Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club with first place going to Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington.

Other winners were Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. R. H. Weaver, second; and Mrs. Harold Parks and Mrs. Travis Reed, third. The three-way tie for fourth involved Mrs. Hayes Stripling and Mrs. Don Newsom, Mrs. Fred Kasch and Mrs. Truman Jones, and Mrs. Ayra McGann and Mrs. Ward Hall.

The Friday group tournament will be held tomorrow at the club.

Homemakers Hold Lunch Meeting

The First Christian Church Homemakers Class had a covered dish luncheon Wednesday in the church fellowship hall. Hostesses were Mrs. H. W. Smith and Mrs. George Hall.

Mrs. C. G. Barnett presided, and the Rev. John Beard gave the invocation. Mrs. Florence Kay Hallam gave the devotion. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of mums.

Guests included Mrs. Nina Carter and Mrs. Lil Williams. The next meeting is Feb. 24, 1 p.m. in the fellowship hall.

Area Residents Take Trips, Have Guests

KNOTT (SC) — The Dudley Colemans, Ackerly, have returned from Albuquerque, N.M., where they participated in trap shooting and visited the Hank Copeys. A guest of the Colemans has been their daughter, Mrs. Charlie King, Lamesa.

The Durwood Blagrove family traveled to Amarillo last week to visit Edgar Waldrop, a patient in the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Mrs. J. H. Thames of Clyde was a weekend guest of her son and daughter-in-law, the Billy Gaskins.

Mrs. Jerry Merrick, Ackerly, was honored with a birthday party hosted by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Askins, her husband and her daughter, LeAnn, in the Askins home at Big Spring. The honoree's grandfather, Clyde Jones, attended from Snyder.

The Hilton Witt family, Ackerly, has returned from visiting his mother, Mrs. Lajoce Witt, San Angelo.

Sunday guests of the Jesse Allens were her sister and brother-in-law, the Glenn Landons, Amarillo.

The Porter Motleys returned Saturday from Midland where they visited their niece, Mrs. Charlene King, who has been released from the hospital. They also visited Mrs. Motley's relatives, Mrs. Eva Crawley and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Seals.

The Fred Parkers spent the weekend in Hobbs, N.M., where they visited their son, Richard Parker, and family.

Mrs. Dan Brasher and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Eudy, in Dallas over the weekend.

A family reunion was held on the weekend at the home of the Louis Harrells. Joining the Harrell children and their families were Mrs. Harrell's brother and wife, the Andy Hogues, Abilene.

A LOVELIER YOU Herb Shampoo Gives Soft, Clean Hair

By MARY SUE MILLER
Cosmetics formulated with herbs have had a successful renaissance in recent seasons. People are realizing that with all the wonders of manmade foods, drugs and beauty treatments, there is still room for the natural herb of folklore.

With this idea in mind, the research chemists of a famous European laboratory produced a shampoo using nine herbs with a history of value to the treatment of the hair and scalp. Purely as a matter of record, here's what they are and how they are reputed to work:

Clover Blossom, Birch, Veronica and Equisetum (horsetail) are four that pull together both to ease scalp irritations and prevent them. Coltsfoot, or wild ginger, keeps the scalp's pores open for increased cleanliness. Then there's Rosemary, effective as a dandruff preventative. For shine and texture, there's Nettle and Yarrow. Lastly, Camomile brings a hypo-allergenic influence to bear.

wash. What it promises is a clean, soft, naturally gorgeous head of hair.

LOVELIER HAIR
Overcome your hair problems! Send for my booklet, "How To Have Lovelier Hair." Advice includes: corrective care of dry, abused, oily and hard-to-manage hair; expert coloring methods and treatment of tinted hair; hairstyle formulas; tips on perfection cutting, permanents, straightening and grooming. MRS. BILL TUNE

Combining Vocations Works To Advantage

By BARBARA LORD
In addition to being a wife, mother, grandmother and homemaker, Mrs. Bill Tune is a self-employed beautician. The combination of vocations keeps her busy and happy.

Born in Iraan, Mrs. Tune has lived in West Texas all of her life except for six years in Long Beach, Calif. Her husband is also a native Texan, born in O'Donnell and moving to Big Spring in 1946, at about the same time Mrs. Tune returned here from California. They were married in 1947.

"I could cook very little when I first got married," Mrs. Tune said. "I think the only thing I could make was spaghetti. Now, of course, I know what my family likes, and I've been making these things for so long they almost fall together by themselves. I hardly ever use a cookbook anymore."

"It's really hard to write down a recipe because I don't measure much of anything except for my baked goods. I really enjoy cooking, but I'm not a fancy gourmet chef. We are really a meat and potatoes family, and eat mostly plain foods."

The Tunes do enjoy a few foreign dishes occasionally. She fixes Mexican food quite often, and lasagna and a few other Italian dishes, but other than that they stick mainly to American meals.

BEAUTY NOOK
Mrs. Tune owns and operates the "Beauty Nook" in an added wing of the Tune home. She works by appointment only on Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays.

"I enjoy working," Mrs. Tune said, "and with the salon right at home I can choose my own hours and not get tied down with it."
Besides her work, Mrs. Tune is an accomplished seamstress and makes most of her own and her daughter's clothes. She also enjoys needlework and refinishing or antiquing items for her home.

"I couldn't really call needlework or antiquing hobbies," Mrs. Tune said. "I enjoy them, but only in spurts. I have to do things in small dosages or I get tired of it. I'll complete one item and may not start another one for several months."

SUBURBAN HOME

The Tune home on Andrews Lane is tastefully decorated and displays the personal touches of a woman who takes pride in her home. Mrs. Tune says she doesn't really collect any particular type of furniture or item, but simply buys what she likes or what she thinks will look good in her home.

The Tunes have lived in Big Spring since they were married, and in their present home for four years.

"I love Big Spring and there's no place else I'd want to live," she said. "Now that we have moved out of the city, I don't spend as much time drinking coffee with neighbors, and at first it was hard to get used to. But now I just sit and have my coffee while I read, watch television or do my work. I really enjoy living out here."

Mrs. Tune is a member of the Choir Boosters and of the Opti-Mrs. Club. Their son, Tommy, is a junior at Big Spring High School. They also have a married daughter, Mrs. Larry Harp, a senior at San Angelo College, who recently began student teaching in Big Spring. Mrs. Tune also spends many afternoons babysitting with their grandson, Larry Don Harp, while his mother attends school.

Tune is the owner of Tune Insurance Agency at 804 E. 4th, and the Ace Wrecking Company on Snyder Highway. He is also a former Howard County commissioner.

Coffee Cake Is Moist, Fruity

When the occasion arises for serving an elegant coffee cake, here is an idea to remember. This cake is the home-baked variety. It is easily assembled and the secret of its moist goodness is the spicy fruit flavor of ready-to-use mince meat.

Convenient ready-to-use mince meat adds its classic good taste instantly for it is ready to spoon from the jar into the batter. Choose from old-fashioned plain mince meat or rum and brandy flavored.

Elegant Mince Meat Coffee Cake has a baked-on walnut streusel topping which is sprinkled over the batter before baking. The cake keeps well. It can be made in advance and warmed slightly before serving. It is equally tasty when served cold.

Here is the recipe as developed in the Borden Kitchen:

Make This Pink Mold

Blending wine, the essence of grapes, with fresh cranberries is something that just happens naturally in the blender. This delicious Cranberry Pink Mold is a new idea that will brighten holiday menus.

CRANBERRY PINK MOLD

3 cups fresh cranberries
1 large orange, cut in eighths
1 1/4 cups sugar
1/2 cup cold water
2 envelopes unflavored gelatine
1/2 cup boiling water
3/4 cup ice water
1/2 cup pink wine

Put one cup cranberries into blender container, cover and process at CHOP (Hi) and OFF several times to coarsely chop cranberries. If necessary, brush berries from sides of container into center and repeat chopping procedure. Empty into a mixing bowl and repeat with remaining cranberries.

Put orange into blender container, cover and process at CHOP (Hi) until finely chopped. Add to cranberries. Add sugar and mix well. Let stand at room temperature about two hours, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, soften gelatine in cold water, add boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Add ice water and wine, mixing well. Chill until of egg-white consistency. Add to cranberry mixture, mixing well. Pour into 4-cup mold and chill until firm, about 3 hours. Serves 8.

Accent Desserts

Bavarian creams, custards or gelatin desserts unmolded onto platters need a bit of decoration to have them fully appreciated. There is no better or simpler way of accomplishing this than with a wreath made of canned cling peach slices. The cheery peaches accent the dessert to perfection, in looks and taste.

CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS
By Ted Hatfield
SOME BASIC RULES CONCERNING CARPET

In buying floor coverings, remember that the better qualities cost less over the years. Ask yourself, "How much will it cost per year rather than per square yard?"

Should you buy wall-to-wall or room-size rugs? There are advantages to each, and the answer depends on the size of your room and your personal preference.

Wall-to-wall is extremely popular because it makes a room look larger, less cluttered and is easy to vacuum. However, many people prefer room-size rugs because there's no installation cost, and they don't cover all of a beautiful floor.

Room-size rugs are cut from 9, 12 and 15-foot width broadloom and may be had in any length to fit almost any room. They should be cut to fit approximately within 6 inches from the walls.

Area rugs are more popular than ever for their dramatic effect. They may be had in any size and shape to suit your particular needs. Of course, they should only be used when you have a very lovely hard surface flooring underneath which you want to show. Area rugs should always be cut large enough not to look skimpy.

We invite you to see our big selection of colors and textures in all types of carpet. There is no cost or obligation. We'll be happy to show you samples.

Ask about our new Steam carpet cleaning.

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup crumbled blue cheese
1 cup small dry pumpernickel bread cubes
2 tbsps. shortening
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) brown gravy with onions
2 cups sliced fresh mushrooms (about 1/2 pound)

Cut steak into 4 pieces, each about 6 by 4 inches. Pound with meat hammer. In a saucepan melt butter and cheese; toss with bread cubes. Place about 1/4 of the stuffing near center of each piece of meat. Roll up; tuck in ends; fasten with toothpicks or skewers.

In skillet, brown rollups in shortening; pour off fat. Stir in gravy. Cover; cook over low heat 1 hour. Add mushrooms; cook 15 minutes more. Stir now and then. Makes 4 servings.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

From Mrs. B. Tune

SPICED WASSEL TEA

1 qt. cider or apple juice
1 cup orange juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1 pint cranberry juice
2 cups sugar
3 sticks cinnamon
1 tsp. whole allspice
1 tsp. whole cloves

Place all of the juices in the bottom of a 10-cup coffee pot. Place remaining ingredients in the basket, and percolate about 15 minutes.

PECAN PIES

6 eggs
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups light syrup
2 tbsps. melted butter
1 tsp. vanilla
1 cup pecans, chopped

LEMON BUTTER POUND CAKE

3 sticks butter
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
3 cups flour
1 cup milk
1 tsp. baking powder
1 1/2 tsp. lemon extract

Cream the sugar and butter. Add and blend one egg at a time. Add remaining ingredients and mix. Pour into a bundt pan or a tube pan, and bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

ICING FOR LEMON BUTTER POUND CAKE

1 cup sugar
1 stick butter
1/2 cup milk
1 1/2 tsp. lemon extract (optional)

GREEN BEAN CASSEROLE

1 cup cut green beans
1 can cut asparagus
1 can cream of mushroom soup

6 slices crisp fried bacon (crumbled)

1 small onion
Grated cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Place asparagus in bottom of casserole. Add a layer of bacon, onion and cheese, and then a layer of green beans. Top with the remaining bacon, onion and cheese. Pour soup over the top and cover. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to one hour.

BAKED CHICKEN WITH RICE

1 cup uncooked rice
1 frying chicken, cut up
1 can cream of chicken soup
1 pkg. dehydrated onion soup
2 cans water
Salt and pepper to taste.

Place rice in a buttered, long baking dish. Salt and pepper the chicken and place on top of rice. Add chicken soup. Sprinkle onion soup over top and add water. Cover with foil, and bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes. Remove foil and reduce heat to 300 degrees. Bake another 1 1/2 hours.

ANGEL BISCUITS

5 cups flour
3 tbsps. baking powder
1 tsp. baking soda
2 tbsps. salt
1-1/2 cup sugar
1-1/2 cup corn oil
2 1/2 cups buttermilk
1 pkg. yeast

Combine all dry ingredients, except yeast. Warm the buttermilk and add the yeast to it. Add this mixture and the corn oil to the dry ingredients, and mix well. Cover bowl tightly and store in refrigerator overnight. Drop onto greased baking pan with a tablespoon, and bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes or until golden brown. The dough may be kept in the refrigerator for several days, using small portions as needed.

ELEGANT IS THE WORD FOR MINCEMEAT COFFEE CAKE
a popular sweet during any season

ELEGANT-MINCE COFFEE CAKE

(Makes one 9-inch tube cake)
2 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1/2 tsp. salt
2 1/2 tbsps. baking powder
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup Danish flavor margarine, softened
3 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla extract
1 1-3 cups (1/2 of 28-oz. jar) ready-to-use mince meat
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

TOPPING

2 tbsps. Danish flavor

margarine, softened
1-3 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 tbsps. all-purpose flour
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Sift together flour, salt and baking powder. In large-size electric mixer bowl, cream sugar and margarine until light and fluffy. Beat in eggs until well-blended, at medium speed. Blend in vanilla. At low speed, add flour gradually, beating after each addition just until blended. Fold in mince meat and 1/2 cup walnuts. Turn batter into greased and floured 9-inch tube pan; spread evenly.

Topping: In small-size bowl, combine margarine, brown sugar, flour and cinnamon until crumbly; add walnuts. Sprinkle over batter. Bake in moderate (350 degree) oven 60 to 65 minutes, or until cake springs back when lightly touched. Cool 10 minutes. Remove from pan.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

When you are cooking in a saucepan on top of the range, make sure that the handle does not protrude. Safety habit!

Before you start baking cake, cookies or breads, it's a good idea to prepare the pans that will be needed for baking them.

Fried potatoes, broiled tomatoes or sauteed bananas are delicious served with eggs and bacon or ham at brunch-time.

To vary buttered cooked rice, stir in grated Parmesan or Romano cheese and strips of canned pimiento. Good served with veal.

Those sandwiches of cooked ham and Swiss cheese will taste extra good if you dip them in an egg-and-milk mixture and fry them in butter. Use a tablespoon of milk to beat into each egg.

For a quick dessert, fold together thick sweetened apple-sauce and beaten white of egg; serve with a sauce made from packaged instant vanilla pudding.

Some good cooks follow package directions when they are cooking buckwheat groats with this exception: they add a pinch of monosodium glutamate.

For summertime use you can team cooked frozen Brussels sprouts with canned whole water-packed chestnuts. Butter, salt and pepper are the only seasonings needed.

On The Carpet

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in the carpet business. We do beautiful work and our prices are right. When so-called "friends" show us carpet they have installed in their homes, which they bought somewhere else, and they ask us what we think of it, what should we say? (They even have the nerve to tell us how much they paid for it.)

Nine times out of 10 it is a poor job of installation, and they paid too much. I always tell them the truth. My husband says that I should never knock the competition, regardless, otherwise it will sound like sour grapes. These same people never even let us give them an estimate!

The problem is that when I feed the baby and my husband has some of his friends here he asks me to go into another room. I don't see why. There is nothing bad or sexy about a mother nursing her child. He says he doesn't like for me to feed the baby that way in front of his friends and I am hurt. Do you see anything wrong with it? Please settle this as I think he is wrong and he thinks I am.

DEAR ABBY: A while back you had a letter from a woman who made her husband shave his chest. She must be screwy. And any man who would let his wife talk him into it must be screwy, too.

I have a very hairy chest which I wouldn't shave for any amount of money. I sleep in pajama bottoms and my wife says she'd rather feel my hairy chest against her cheek than the collar of a mink coat.

DEAR ABBY: Our first baby is 7 weeks old, and I am breast-feeding her. A lot of young mothers wouldn't want to be bothered with breast-feeding, but I don't mind because I think it's healthier for the baby. My husband doesn't appreciate it at all, in fact, I think he'd rather I put the baby on the bottle. He has as much as said so.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 63700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Dino To Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Dean Martin will star in "Something Big," it was recently announced. The film is a Western, casting Martin as the leader of a band of renegades in the frontier West whose dreams of the one big haul are complicated by the women in his life and a vigilant colonel in the U.S. Cavalry. The role is the first motion picture appearance for Martin since the 1968 production of "Airport."

Catching A Cold

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: One of your recent columns raised the question of whether getting your feet wet or being chilled or sitting in drafts will give you a cold. I read what you said about colds being from viruses, but in the long years I've lived, I've learned that galoshes and a scarf do some good, no matter what you say about viruses. Okay, stick to your galoshes and scarf. I have nothing against them. Getting chilled (and getting wet can be a part of that) in all probability has a bearing on one's resistance to infection. So can being too tired or not getting adequate nutrition.

When your resistance is lowered, there's more chance of picking up a germ, if one happens to be around. Being chilled doesn't cause a cold, but it may make you more vulnerable than usual. One classic example that has been repeated countless times is the experience of new army recruits. They arrive at camp bringing with them a variety of cold germs — whatever happens to be "popular" where they came from. In a few days, just about everybody has a cold. But once they swapped cold germs around, and acquired some immunity (by having the colds), the trouble is over. You can soak those troops, chill 'em, exhaust them. But you can't give them any colds until some new variety of cold virus arrives. Same thing has been true in the Antarctic, with groups of scientists isolated for considerable time. They get colds at first; then they don't get any more even in 60-below blizzards. But when a ship or plane arrives with mail and supplies, an unbanned passenger is a fresh crop of cold germs. Without cold germs, you can't catch cold. I freely admit, however, that drafts and chilling can do other mischief, bothering some people much more than they bother others. Stiff neck, occasionally allergic reactions, and sometimes a rare disease that causes some thickening of the blood from exposure to even mild chilling — those are samples of things that can at times happen. Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any danger in eating gelatin desserts every day? My family has a "thing" about these sweet fruit desserts which makes it easy for me. However, I question the wisdom of this. Otherwise they eat a balanced diet, and other sweets are rare. — B.R. No harm in it — and it's fine that these desserts are enough to satisfy their sweet tooth. Better for them than the heavy, rich, pastry-type desserts. Troubled with varicose veins? To make sure you are doing all you can to relieve the problem, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald requesting the booklet, "How To Deal With Varicose Veins," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling. Stock Deals Spark Barbs

By The Associated Press

Texas newspapers that have commented editorially on the statewide stock fraud allegations generally agree that the Texas legislature needs more than a new code of ethics.

The Dallas Morning News reflected what seemed a general view in an editorial Wednesday headed "Ethics Code, Plus," when it observed:

"There seems to be a bull market on ethics bills in the Texas Legislature... But the new drive for governmental reform should go beyond quick passage of a single bill, for the state government needs more than a hurried symbolic gesture in favor of ethics."

Advocate said further disclosures had him "talking out of both sides of his mouth."

"Whether or not any laws actually have been violated in these various profit-taking ventures and whether or not any criminal prosecution is liable to result, disclosures of this kind can hardly be reassuring to the taxpayers of Texas in their state government," the editorial continued.

NOW IS THE TIME

"More particularly, if Gov. (Preston) Smith has anything he wants to disclose by way of reassurance to the people of Texas, right now is the time for such full and frank discussion. The people are waiting."

The Tyler Courier-Times-Telegraph, in an editorial headed "The Austin Nightmare," sourly suggested that "the State of Texas probably set a new record for bigness last week."

IN LOVE

The Dallas Times Herald came out with a cartoon showing a state legislator making up to an elderly belle, representing Kerrville Rep. Jim Nugent's off-rejected ethics bill, with the words: "Pardon me, miss—but I've just fallen in love with you because you're suddenly so fashionable."

An editorial alongside suggested that Nugent's proposed legislation isn't really strong enough because it does not include "the all-important provision" for full financial disclosure.

"A weak code of ethics bill, requiring lip service only, would be worse than no bill at all," the editorial said. "It would only provide a subterfuge for those lawmakers who might choose to engage in questionable practices."

The Austin American-Statesman said Sunday the private citizen's immediate concern, which should influence his decisions at the next state election, "is with the conduct of state officials willing to collect a fast buck through the assistance of high-pressure operators seeking favors."

SPECIAL FAVORS

"Is it ethical for an administrator, the governor, to participate in an investment partnership with a person selected through his influence to the Democratic Party's highest political position and to appoint that investment partner to the State Banking Board that has the power to grant or refuse bank charters?" the newspaper asked.

"Just what specifically are the state duties of the speaker of the House... that require four or five high-power executive assistants who, by their admission participate in the quick profits made possible by a loan from a bank controlled by a financier seeking special legislation and special favor?"

"Just what are the state duties of the lieutenant-governor with an office administration that now requires the largest and most expensive staff in history?"

"If the expenses of the lieutenant-governor's office and the speaker's office are so great they cannot be covered with authorized funds, then from what source do these private funds come and in what amounts and when?"

GRASS ROOTS

The American Statesman ended by advising individual legislators "to attune their ears to the grass roots sentiment in the districts that elected them" and act accordingly.

For the Fort Worth Star-Telegram the question involved "the integrity of the legislative process and of the officialdom that directs it."

"The inescapable feeling is that something has gone badly awry in Austin," said the Star-Telegram editorial. "The voluminous but fragmentary accounts have left the people confused, distressed and distrustful. By whatever official action is necessary, the whole thing should be brought out into the open. For its own good, the legislature should see that it is. Nothing else will clear away the suspicions or cause them to settle where they should. It is the painful but necessary next step."

'PAT PATTERNS'

The San Antonio Evening News saw the state leadership as tarnished and public confidence inevitably shaken by the stock deals.

"Sworn statements taken by Securities and Exchange Commission investigators show too many profitable coincidences to be ignored, even in the face of numerous pleas of ignorance and innocence," the newspaper commented. "The patterns were too pat to escape close scrutiny. That the plan failed to get special legislation approval is pretty well beside the point so far as the proper discharge of public trust is concerned."

A Victoria Advocate editorial was headed: "How's that again, Governor?"

After remarking that "the governor started off by attempting airily to wave off the whole thing as a mere detail of everyday business operations which was beneath his notice," "the Ad-

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The day and evening are fine for you to think out a course of action that has to do with literary or contractual obligations that are of importance to you. But don't get involved in interesting entertainment or amusement activities, since they could take away from the beneficial results otherwise possible.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Plan to do the work necessary to get your world aims rolling nicely and forget that unworthy emotional outlet. Try to make fellow workers understand better what you have in mind. Then you can accomplish a great deal.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Slight your recreational efforts along more creative lines if you want to make this a delightful day, a.m. A new friend has good ideas for advancement. Listen carefully and follow.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) This is an ideal day to rid yourself of responsibilities. Not a good day for entertaining at home; even coffee time could bring about some argument best avoided.

MOON CHILDREN (Jun. 22 to July 21) Ideal time to show associates your true feelings; much mutual benefit will come from this. Wait until business is well handled before you go out for recreation together. Spend wisely.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do those things that add to present abundance and gain the cooperation of fellow allies. Show more practicality in own affairs as well as in advice you give to others. Make a greater success of yourself.

AUGUST (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Discussing that plan you have with an associate will bring fine results now. Don't waste so much time worrying about appearance. Do something constructive about it. Talk turkey with the right people.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 22) This is the right day to handle that financial affair very wisely that you have been procrastinating about. Let your work talk for you instead of your personality. Show spunk.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Ideal day to sit down with good pals and discuss ideas that can be mutually helpful. Come to a fine understanding. Get wheels rolling on whatever is of a constructive nature and be happy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Bigwigs look to you for assistance in business affairs, so be sure to give it to the best of your ability. Postpone anything of a romantic nature until the morrow. Concentrate on your work.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Show a higher-up that you can work various responsibilities to gain the results that are desired. Out to serve social effort in the p.m. where you can make an excellent impression on a prominent person. Dress well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Sitting down and thrashing things out with an associate early will result in greater achievement in the future. Don't discuss that big plan you have as yet, though. See that blizzard later when oil is complete.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Go ahead with that idea that will help you get into the good graces of a friend who is serious and has much experience in your line of endeavor. You can rely on friends now for help if you stick right to business of hand. Retire early.

'Bricktop' Comes Home

NEW YORK (AP) — "Bricktop," a legendary expatriate of the Roaring 20s whose Paris nightclub was a favorite hangout for homesick Americans, has surfaced in New York, the city she left 47 years ago.

Ada Smith Du Conge, better known by her nickname but with her red hair now tinged with gray, was in town Wednesday to make a contribution to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mrs. Du Conge, 76, who now lives in Rome, handed over her $500 check to Roy Wilkins, executive director of the organization, and praised the NAACP for "going overboard to help Negro Americans without being militant."

Closer Look At Smith's Spend Now, Pay Later Plan

By The Associated Press

Texasans paying taxes after 1973 should take a second look at proposals to finance state operations the next two years by bond issues and deficit spending.

The second look will show that approval of the proposals by this legislature and the voters would affect Texas' pocketbooks long after current legislation goes home.

A number of legislators at once endorsed Gov. Preston Smith's spend now and pay later plan because it carried the wonderfully attractive title of "no new taxes." If senators and representatives running for reelection in 1972 could just say they did not vote new taxes on the people it would be a tremendous campaign help, they believe.

LOVE IDEA

Lobbyists love the idea. Without having to fight new tax levels on their special interests, they can devote full time to being nice to the legislators — including advice on get-rich-quick stock schemes.

Let's take a closer look at the proposed new state bond issues:

Smith told the legislature the state could get an easy $450 million to finance current school spending by issuing "public free school bonds" that would be retired by future oil and gas income from state-owned school land. This would take two changes in the Constitution which would have to be approved first by the legislature and then presented to the voters.

ON THE BALLOT

What legislators were not told and what will not appear on the ballot if the issue reaches the voters is that the $450 million in bonds may eventually cost taxpayers $810 million, by estimates of the governor's financial advisors.

Reporters were told, in the presence of the governor, that servicing the bonds — paying the interest and such — at current rates might make $100 million in bonds cost $170 million or $180 million to repay over a 25-year period. However, the governor's staff hopes the bonds could be paid off in a much shorter time, possibly 15 years, and the cost would be less than $450 million.

Higher interest rates or difficulty in selling the bonds also could vitally affect the cost.

Questions also may arise over the dependability of oil and gas income to pay off the bonds.

A University of Texas source quotes oil experts as saying the university's income from oil and gas leases and bonuses will turn downward within three years.

"The public school lands are right next to ours, I don't see how they could not be affected also," the source said.

NEW BUILDINGS

Another bond issue proposed to the legislature would provide $71 million for new buildings and equipment for three new universities, two new medical schools, and a new dental school.

AMERICANIZATION — Natalie Makarova, the Soviet ballerina who defected in September, talks with an admirer and holds a soft drink, a symbol of her conversion to American-style living. Miss Makarova premiered in the American Ballet Theater production of "Giselle" in New York. The title role was the first since her defection.

Nixon 'Coming On Like Gangbusters'

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Coming on like gangbusters" is a trite phrase, but it fits President Nixon's current efforts to sell Congress and the voters on his 1971 "power to the people" program.

Not everyone in this town where Democrats control Congress is buying the Nixon blue print for shunting 16 billion taxpayer dollars to the states — to do with generally as they wish — and to cut the 12 Cabinet departments down to eight.

But Nixon is trying. He really is.

Some Democrats suggest the President doesn't really expect to get what he seeks but, rather, is trying to build a campaign issue for 1972.

Nixon press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler says his boss is "not looking for an issue but for bipartisan action."

IN TROUBLE

Toward this end, Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew plan to tour the country in the months ahead to drum up popular support.

While it already is apparent the administration's revenue-sharing plan, his No. 1 program, is in deep trouble in Congress, Nixon these days seems positively jaunty.

The President apparently is counting on governors and mayors of financially hard-pressed states and cities to create for him a "people's lobby."

The hope is apparently that citizens in many states may lock arms behind the Nixon program as offering the best hope of avoiding higher state taxes.

By all accounts, Nixon consulted least with the Democrats who control Congress before springing his $16 billion surprise in Friday's State of the Union address.

'SELLING JOB'

Since then, however, he has invited just about everyone who counts in the congressional leadership and on concerned committees to visit him and hear the administration's arguments for his plan.

But the "selling job" really began with the news media.

Starting at 9:30 Friday morning, almost 12 hours before most members of Congress were clued in, selected reporters and columnists showed up at the White House to hear the administration's sales pitch.

From a news stand point, perhaps the most productive of the "backrounders" was arranged by Agnew's office. Eight selected reporters attended and not only were briefed on the State of the Union address but were given a much-sought-after administration secret — the size of the federal budget for the fiscal year that begins July 1.

The spending figure: A record $229.2 billion. The on-paper deficit: Somewhere between $10 billion and $11 billion.

Six Indicted In Arson Case

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A sixth defendant in a federal grand jury indictment for arson-conspiracy has been arrested in Wichita Falls, U. S. Atty. Dale Long disclosed Wednesday.

Long said federal attorneys will ask that he be held in $10,000 bond.

The other defendants are Lincoln Montgomery Ashford, held on $30,000 bond, and Jerry Lee Williams, Jessie H. Hampton, Andrew Lee Mitchell and Mary Ann Mitchell are free on bond.

The six were indicted for conspiring to burn the administration building and school buses belonging to the Tyler Independent School District and the YMCA building.

Ex-Whiz Kid Plugs Lower Vote Age Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Scholarly-looking Terry Shand of San Antonio was no stranger to pressure. And it was a good thing because the stern-faced inquisitor was Sen. Wayne Connally, brother of the ex-governor.

They faced each other Wednesday night in a Senate committee hearing over a proposal to lower the voting age in Texas from 21 to 18.

Shand, a member of the Young Democrats Club of Trinity University, won his point when Connally was able to muster only one other vote in opposing a proposal by Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio to change the voting limitation in the Texas Constitution.

Moore of Bryan joining Connally.

Bernal introduced Shand, a bespectacled redhead, as a young man who, when he was 8, won the $64,000 question on television with his knowledge of the former baseball star Babe Ruth.

Shand said as best he could determine the 21-year age limit for voting could be traced back hundreds of years when 21 was the age for knighthood in medieval times.

He claimed that if 18-year-olds can vote for the President of the United States, they should be able to vote in other elections. He insisted that younger people would not vote the same way as a group but "would tend to reflect their parents' views."

WON $64,000

The vote to send the measure to the floor for full Senate debate was 9-2, with Sen. W. T.

It's The Talk Of Phone World

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of telephones in the world has increased 90 per cent to 255 million in the last decade, according to the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

The United States ranks first with 115.2 million telephones, or about 45 per cent of the total, followed by Japan with 23.1 million and the United Kingdom with 13.9 million, AT&T says.

Solons Move To Improve Image After Stock Slaps

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas senators, trying to build a better legislative image, quickly gave committee approval today for a Texas Commission on Legislative Ethics and Standards.

"This independent commission is needed so people can't say we've whitewashed anything," said Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth, one of the measure's authors.

REP. CURTIS GRAVES

responsibilities under the law," Barnes said.

Several other governmental agencies, both state and federal, are already at work probing matters that led to the closing of the Sharpstown State Bank, Houston.

Gov. Preston Smith, Speaker Gus Mutscher and several legislators have acknowledged they purchased stock in 1969 of the National Bankers Life Insurance Co., which is now in conservatorship, with loans from Sharpstown.

Barnes said the Senate committee should avoid any interference with the existing investigators "or any grand jury considerations."

Barnes also appealed to the public to report to the committees any "irregularities" in any state agencies.

Rep. Maurice Angly, Austin, one of the 10 Republicans in the 150-member House, introduced late Wednesday a resolution calling for a nine-member House investigation on Sharpstown State Bank. Angly claimed the entire House should select the committee rather than Mutscher because the speaker says he speculated with stock purchased on Sharpstown state loans.

Graves turned down the chance saying he wanted to wait for a "groundswell" of public opinion. He claimed about 40 representatives favored his resolution.

The House got its first bill for floor debate when the appropriations committee approved a $48.4 million emergency spending bill that includes funds to avert a cut in public welfare payments. Rep. W.S. Heatly, Paducah, committee chairman, said he would push for a House vote on the emergency bill next week.

The emergency measure—which would require a four-fifths vote of the Senate and the House to be effective in time—also would suspend Texas' pay-as-you-go provision in the state constitution.

This means the $48.4 million would not be put back in the treasury until the legislature finally agrees on new taxes to finance the state's next two year fiscal period beginning Sept. 1 of this year.

Public Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney has warned that welfare payments to families with dependent children would be cut after June 1 without the emergency funds.

GET-RICH-QUICK

"An independent group would prevent head hunts and witch hunts," said the other author, Sen. Chet Brooks of Houston, in reference to the widespread federal and state investigations into get-rich-quick stock deals involving a number of state officials and legislators.

The commission, which also would make recommendations on salaries for legislators, would have three members appointed by the chief justice, three by the presiding judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals and three by the chairman of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission.

The "Kennard-Brooks legislative reform amendment," which would require a change in the state constitution, is the first to be considered of about a half a dozen proposals pending in the Senate and House.

Twenty-eight of the 31 senators rushed to sign the document as co-sponsors.

The Senate made another first move Wednesday when approved without a dissenting vote a resolution creating a Senate general investigating committee, four months earlier than usual.

AT WORK

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said he would name the five members of the committee before Monday.

"I shall ask it to conduct an inquiry into the State Banking Department to determine if present laws, procedures and financing are adequate for protection of the public and if the department has met all of its

Hashish Called
Choice Of Young

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bureau of Customs Commissioner Myles J. Ambrose says hashish now "is the drug of considerable choice of young people."

Ambrose made the statement Wednesday in disclosing the bureau seized 3,819 pounds of hashish in 1970, a 137 per cent increase over 1969.

He said the bureau kept no figures on smuggled-in hashish before 1967 because the amount was so small.

Seizures of other drugs also increased, he said, listing more than 100,000 pounds of marijuana seized in 1970, compared with 57,000 pounds in 1969.
