Navyman Thomas went to Army school to learn operation of gun, just like those on Army's giant Sheridan tanks. The 74-foot vessel "flies" on three wing-like foils at speeds in excess of 50 knots.

SEC Related Stock Fraud Suits Bloom

By The Associated Press

Defendants in the current U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission stock fraud suit were named Wednesday in two suits filed at Houston and Dallas by stockholders in some of the defendant companies.

A class action suit was filed by two Sharpstown State Bank stockholders at Houston against Houston land developer-banker Frank W. Sharp, the Sharpstown bank and its present and former officers and directors.

Robert S. Munroe, a stockholder in Master Control Inc. (MCI) filed suit in Dallas against Ling & Co. stock brokers, National Bankers Life Insurance Co. (NBL), Dallas Bank & Trust, City Bank & Trust, NBL Employees Retirement Plan, Nashwood Corp. and Oak Forest Investment Co.

NOT NAMED

The two Dallas banks and Ling & Co. are not named in the SEC suit but the others are. The SEC suit charges the defendants with stock manipulations. The two Dallas banks agreed to a permanent injunction to stop violating securities laws and they were dropped as defendants in the SEC case.

The Houston suit was filed by Thomas M. Roosth and Gene Swinney who ask judgments for themselves and 250 other Sharpstown bank shareholders. Roosth seeks $5,000 in damages and Swinney asks $7,500, money, they say, they spent to purchase bank stock.

The bank closed its doors Jan. 25 when depositors made a run on $15 million in a week after learning of the SEC suit against the bank.

Depositors are now being paid off by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The Houston suit says bank stockholders are due several millions of dollars in damages. Munroe's suit filed before U.S. Dist. Judge Joe E. Estes asks relief for all MCI stockholders of record Oct. 6, 1969. Munroe said he bought 1,100 shares of MCI stock from Ling & Co. between November, 1969, and November, 1970.

HIGH PRICE

The SEC suit says MCI, a computer service firm serving NBL mainly, was "spun off" with shares distributed to NBL share-owners of record July 31, 1969.

The SEC said this made MCI a public-held company and that MCI stock was manipulated through the Ling firm in advancing the alleged stock deal.

Munroe claims the stock was manipulated in order to give each share an "artificially high price."

He seeks no specific amount of money in the suit but asks the court to help him recover losses resulting from the stock buys. He said the stock was worth less than 25 cents a share but he paid a "much higher price."

While the lawsuits were being filed Wednesday, depositors at the Sharpstown bank lined up for a second day to get their money from the FDIC.

The government insurance agency said the more than $50 million to be paid to over 27,000 depositors is the largest sum yet paid by the FDIC. The FDIC insures depositors for losses up to $20,000 in each account.

The FDIC said Wednesday that they will not pay about $17 million, an amount totalling sums above $20,000 in each account.

John Slocum, chief of the FDIC's liquidation division, said depositors would have to collect from the bank.

Slocum said depositors would be paid their deposits above $20,000 at a rate of 90 cents on the dollar after the bank has turned its assets into cash.

He said the bank's inventory of assets included $17.8 million in cash and easily recovered assets, and $40.9 million in outstanding loans and discounts. Real property such as the bank building, lands held, furnishing, etc. was said to be $22.9 million.

Blind Pianist

NEW YORK (AP) — The Louis Braille Foundation for Blind Musicians has announced a competition for blind piano students, with entries limited to youngsters in the third or fourth year of high school and "legally" blind.

Those selected from tape recordings sent in to the Foundation will participate in finals to be held in New York in May, 1971.

First prize will be $500 and second prize $300, with every student chosen for the performance here to receive a Piano Proficiency Award of $100.

Applications can be obtained from the Louis Braille Foundation's office at 112 E. 19 St., New York, N.Y. 10003.

Some Kids Can't Add Or Subtract

NILES, Ill. (AP) — Despite the new math or the old math, some kids still can't add or subtract.

"This has been the big problem we've faced in mathematics for many years," said Dr. Lola J. May, professor of mathematics at Northwestern University and math consultant to the Winnetka, Ill., public schools.

"We have always felt that by the end of second grade a child should have mastered his number facts — that is, he should be able to add all of the combinations and subtract all of the combinations of numbers up to 20. But understanding the concept and being able to do the job just aren't the same.

Dr. May maintains that nothing replaces "good old drill" individual instruction.

GARDENING HINTS—2

Evergreen Shrubs Grow Well Here

Editor's Note: This is the second of three articles on gardening hints compiled by the gardening committee of the Price Pencil Task Force for distribution to newcomers to this area.

SHRUBS — Shrubs are usually planted early in the spring. Planting directions for varieties can be obtained when the shrub is purchased.

Some of the more popular evergreens are:

Photinia — grows as large as a tree, has shiny, six-to-eight-inch leaves somewhat like holly, insignificant flowers and does better in a rich soil with a little shade.

Abelia — likes sun, several varieties, a spreading bush, most have a pink blossom.

Euonymus and Japonica — several types, all do well here; consult nurseryman for individual directions.

Holly — there are several which respond to being planted with peat moss and some cottonseed meal added with fertilizer.

Nandina — a very good shrub, open, produces red berries.

Pyracantha — different varieties have red or orange berries, a rampant, thorny grower but can be obtained in a dwarf species; espaliers well on walls and fences

Honeysuckle — one of the most dependable, it comes in vines, shrubs or smaller varieties for planters, with fragrant blooms or berries.

Pittisporum — lovely waxy-leaved shrub, likes a little acid and peat moss.

Other favorites in this area include the shapely cherry laurel and ligustrum, which is a fast grower.

Some of the more popular deciduous shrubs include:

Buddleia — does well in dry soil, has gray-green leaves and spikes of bloomlike lilac.

Crape myrtle — there are so many colors of crinkled blooms it is up to the individual, do better in rich soil and some shade, some in town in excess of 20 feet high.

Forsythia — all varieties do well here, should be pruned and fertilized after spring bloom.

Mock Orange (Syringa) — may need iron occasionally.

Snowball (Viburnum) do well with additional organic fertilizer.

Other varieties which do well here are hibiscus, rose of Sharon and Althea, many varieties can be trained as trees.

Commend Four TEC Employees

AUSTIN (AP) — The U.S. labor department has commended four employees of the Texas Employment Commission for improving the processing of payments to trainees in the work incentive and manpower and development training programs.

TEC Chairman Harold Dudley presented certificates of commendation to W. Harrell Townsend, Candelario P. Garcia, Eddie D. McHargue and John F. Lally.

They adapted manual payment requests to an automated process, thus reducing costs and time lapse, and increasing accuracy. The process has been adopted by other states which have such payments to make in volume.

Rep. Heatley's Son Lands DA Position

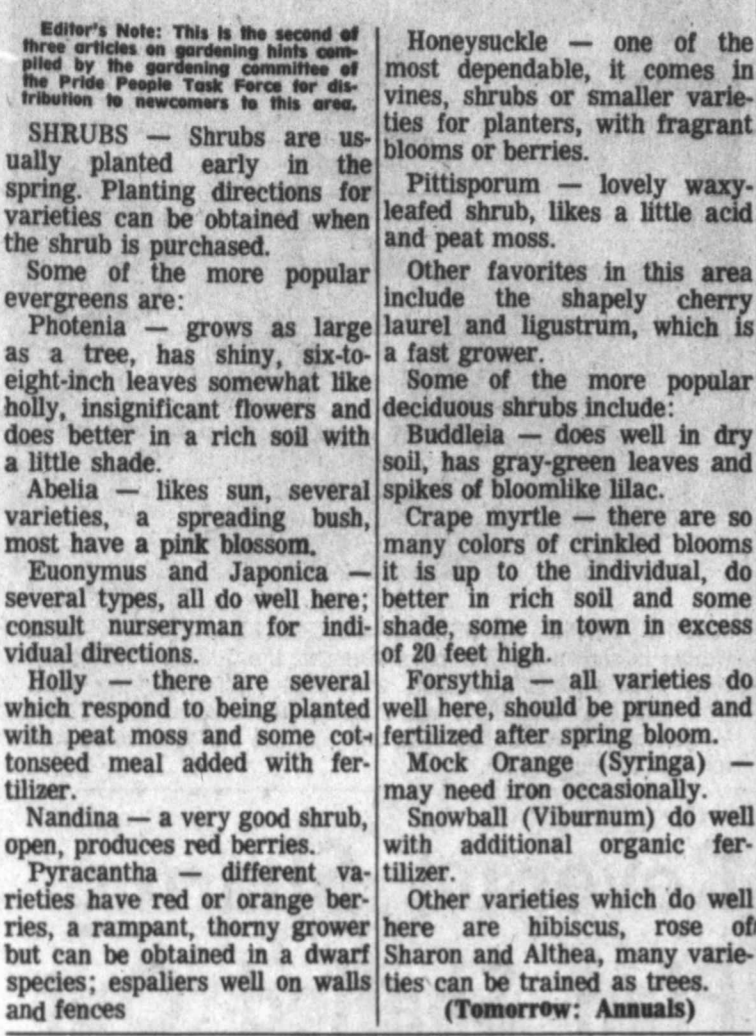

AUSTIN (AP)—The son of Rep. W. S. Heatley, Paducah, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, was named district attorney in Baylor County by Gov. Preston Smith.

Smith appointed William H. Heatley, 26, to succeed Clyde Whiteside, Seymour, who was named to the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. Whiteside succeeds Jack Ross, Austin, whose term had expired. Smith said, Ross had been a member of the board since he was appointed by former Gov. Allan Shivers in 1953.

Drug Addiction Transfer Rule

AUSTIN (AP) — A county probate court cannot transfer a convict from prison to a state mental hospital for treatment of drug addiction, the Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday.

The ruling came in the case of a young woman, Patricia Berney, who was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary last year for two narcotics offenses.

Miss Berney was jailed, pending her appeal of the drug conviction.

Her mother, Mrs. Martha Berney, asked the Dallas County Probate Court to commit Patricia to a state mental hospital for treatment of drug addiction under a 1969 law requiring hospitalization of addicts.

Lower courts held the probate court had no power to do this because Patricia had been sentenced to prison.

Writing for the unanimous supreme court, Associate Justice Joe Greenhill said the court reviewed the case because it was concerned that a convicted addict out on bail might go untreated for many months while awaiting the outcome of an appeal. Greenhill noted that once in prison, an addict could receive treatment.

Ag Report Available On South Plains Area

LUBBOCK — A concise report on results of field demonstrations and research on cotton, grain sorghum and soybeans on the South Plains is now available to area producers.

Titled "Field Crop Demonstration and Research Summary," the report contains information of demonstration and research results conducted during the last three to four years, says Dr. Robert B. Metzger, area agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, author of the publication.

The data was compiled from crop demonstrations conducted by the 20 county agricultural agents in Extension District 2, which includes Howard County, as well as from research conducted by personnel at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock.

COTTON TESTED

The performance of 22 cotton varieties is summarized in the report, Metzger said. Data on each variety include yield, staple, length, fiber strength and micronaire. The comparative performance of these old and new varieties should serve as a guideline in variety selection, adds the agronomist.

With regard to fertilizer response on irrigated cotton, 80 pounds of nitrogen per acre produced a two-bale yield on both sandy and clay loam soils where phosphorus and potassium were adequately supplied.

Eighty pounds of phosphate per acre gave excellent response where soil tests indicated a low level of phosphorus. Cotton on Amarillo loam soil in Lubbock County showed no yield response nor was a significant soil PH change evident.

Dryland cotton also gave excellent response to both nitrogen and phosphorus where the two nutrients were at a low level. A yield average of 492 pounds of lint per acre was obtained with 40-40-0.

SORGHUM DATA

Turning to grain sorghum, the agronomist explains that under favorable conditions of moisture and high fertility, later maturity hybrids normally produce the highest yields. Under limited irrigation or dryland production, medium or medium late maturing hybrids often produce higher yields since they require less water.

Rangelands Fire Hazard

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — An agriculture expert says the state's rangelands are a fire hazard because of extremely dry weather.

"The need for moisture is statewide," John E. Hutchinson, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said Wednesday.

"Native pastures and ranges are very dry, fire is a hazard and the quantity and quality of forage is low," he said.

Hutchinson said the moisture problem is critical in the Plains area, and the driest weather in 50 years in North Central Texas has reduced range grazing to a minimum.

He said ranchers in some areas are hauling water.

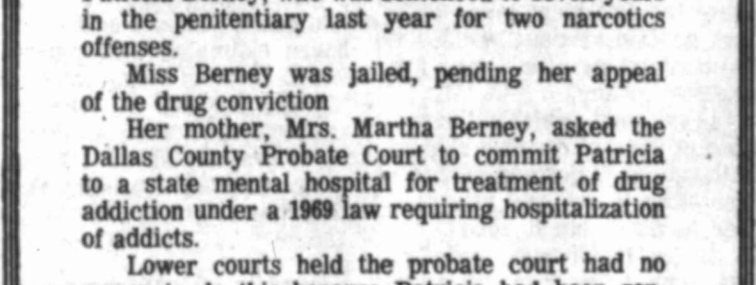

Although range conditions are poor, livestock is bearing up well, Hutchinson said.

Convicted Of Murder

FORT WORTH (AP) — Jurors deliberated punishment today for Alton L. Witherspoon, 37, of Livingston convicted of murder with malice in the slaying of Gordon Travis, 47, last August.

Prosecutors sought the death penalty.

Witherspoon was convicted Wednesday of fatally shooting Travis during a robbery in his home.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I need advice from anyone who can give it to me. My son is 17. When he was 16, a married woman with two children started chasing after him. She still does. He was always home nights until that terrible woman came into the picture. Now he lies to us and says he is staying overnight with a buddy, but it turns out that he is with this woman. She is over 21 and is on probation, so you know what kind of person she is. My son will listen to no one since he became so infatuated with this woman. The law protects her, believe it or not. The police and even a New York judge have told night we called on them for the first time and brought along a housewarming gift. We sat down, had a drink and talked, but they never offered to show us through their home. Neither did we ask them to show it to us. The next day we heard that the wife was very upset because we didn't ask them to show us the house. Please settle this, Abby. Who is supposed to do what? Should we have asked them to show us their house? Or should they have offered to take us through their new home? FLORIDANS DEAR FLORIDANS: Since the purpose of your call was to "warm" their new home, it would seem only reasonable that they would offer to show you through. But since they didn't, you would not have been out of order to have said, "And now, will you give us a 50-cent tour?" DEAR FRIEND: Yes. Only a good friend would care enough to tell her that her eye can be corrected. Perhaps she doesn't know. Or perhaps she isn't aware of how disfiguring and conspicuous it is. If you tell her in the spirit of friendly loving kindness she should be grateful, not hurt. What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope. For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl with a very touchy problem. My best friend has a weak muscle in her eye which makes her cross-eyed. I hear that this can be corrected by an operation, but I just can't bring myself to mention it to her. Even us there is nothing we can do about it. Does this make any sense to you? If he were your son, what would you do? HEARTSICK MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: The police should know the law. And so should a judge, but since your son is a minor and this woman is on probation, it doesn't make sense to me that there isn't anything you can do. If he were my son, I would hire a good attorney and pay him for what he knows.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother and his wife just moved into their new home. It is a very beautiful home and they are very proud of it. The other though I am her best friend I am afraid it would hurt her feelings. When she is not with me, so many people ask me why she doesn't get her eye fixed for otherwise she would be so pretty. I usually say, "I don't know why," and walk away. What else can I do? Guys notice it right away, and I am sure that's the reason she has very few dates. She is a lovely girl with a nice personality. Is there some way I can help her without hurting her feelings? A FRIEND DEAR FRIEND: Yes. Only a good friend would care enough to tell her that her eye can be corrected. Perhaps she doesn't know. Or perhaps she isn't aware of how disfiguring and conspicuous it is. If you tell her in the spirit of friendly loving kindness she should be grateful, not hurt.

Or perhaps she isn't aware of how disfiguring and conspicuous it is. If you tell her in the spirit of friendly loving kindness she should be grateful, not hurt.

DEAR ABBY: I need advice from anyone who can give it to me. My son is 17. When he was 16, a married woman with two children started chasing after him. She still does. He was always home nights until that terrible woman came into the picture. Now he lies to us and says he is staying overnight with a buddy, but it turns out that he is with this woman. She is over 21 and is on probation, so you know what kind of person she is. My son will listen to no one since he became so infatuated with this woman. The law protects her, believe it or not. The police and even a New York judge have told us there is nothing we can do about it. Does this make any sense to you? If he were your son, what would you do? HEARTSICK MOTHER DEAR MOTHER: The police should know the law. And so should a judge, but since your son is a minor and this woman is on probation, it doesn't make sense to me that there isn't anything you can do. If he were my son, I would hire a good attorney and pay him for what he knows.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's brother and his wife just moved into their new home. It is a very beautiful home and they are very proud of it. The other though I am her best friend I am afraid it would hurt her feelings. When she is not with me, so many people ask me why she doesn't get her eye fixed for otherwise she would be so pretty. I usually say, "I don't know why," and walk away. What else can I do? Guys notice it right away, and I am sure that's the reason she has very few dates. She is a lovely girl with a nice personality. Is there some way I can help her without hurting her feelings? A FRIEND DEAR FRIEND: Yes. Only a good friend would care enough to tell her that her eye can be corrected. Perhaps she doesn't know. Or perhaps she isn't aware of how disfiguring and conspicuous it is. If you tell her in the spirit of friendly loving kindness she should be grateful, not hurt.

Effects Of Cobalt
Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Any information pertaining to cobalt 60 and its effects would be appreciated. What can one expect with its treatment?—N.N.

Cobalt 60 — metallic cobalt which has been made radioactive — is considerably misunderstood by people, probably because, for whatever reason, there hasn't been much effort to explain what it is. Like many other isotopes (radioactive elements), cobalt 60 gives off gamma rays. Gamma rays are the same type of rays given off by an X-ray tube. The difference is that such isotopes give off the rays automatically and continuously, while an X-ray tube gives them off only when the electricity is turned on.

Therefore, X-rays are controlled by turning a switch. Cobalt (or cesium or other such isotope) rays are controlled by enclosing them in a strong, lead-containing box, and the rays are emitted and aimed by opening a sort of "window" in the box. But the rays are the same. X-ray pictures can be taken with cobalt rays — except that it is cheaper and more convenient to take X-ray plates with relatively low-power X-ray tubes. They produce better detail.

Cobalt and the more powerful X-ray tubes are used for intense X-ray treatments, and the effects are the same.

Whereas either very brief or low power gamma ray (X-ray) exposures have no detectable effects on a person, long exposures do.

By "brief," I mean the fraction of a second needed to take an X-ray picture, or the few seconds needed to treat certain skin conditions or other conditions on the surface of the body.

Deep, intense exposures are a different matter, the most common use being exposure for a matter of minutes, and several times, to destroy a cancer somewhere inside the body.

Such relatively long exposures actually destroy cells — and they destroy cancerous or abnormal cells more rapidly than they do normal tissues. Therefore the aim is to give enough exposure to destroy a cancer while doing comparatively less damage — but still some — to the normal cells through which the rays have to travel.

Thus, for example, a cancer close to the surface may at times be treated with the rays, and the patient experiences no side effects at all.

Yet with another cancer, the exposure may have to be longer and stronger to penetrate deeply enough and in sufficient strength, and then normal cells are damaged to some extent.

Surface X-ray changes can occur and, since rays penetrate, a comparable "burn" or destruction of tissue can occur inside, and this destroyed tissue has to be gradually eliminated by the body.

In certain cases, especially involving cancer, especially heavy exposures are absolutely necessary, and the malaise is a price that has to be paid for it. Whether they are X-rays or cobalt rays, they are the same, and act in the same way.

Crampton Seeking Repeat Victory

HONOLULU (AP) — As the defending champion, Bruce Crampton said, he may have a little bit going for him in the Hawaiian Open Golf Tournament. "For one thing," the Australian veteran said, "you know you can win. You've done it before. "But there really isn't that much difference in a tournament where you're the defender," he said before the start of today's first round in the $200,000 event.

DEFENSIVE STANDOUT — Freshman Jim Kreier, 6-4 product of El Paso High School, has been clocking a lot of playing time with the H.C.J.C. Jayhawks this season. Kreier is especially noted for his ability to harass enemy ball handlers. He'll be in action here Friday night, when the Hawks tangle with Frank Phillips College in a 7:30 p.m. Western Conference game.

LaSalle Tails Off But Wins Over Loyola

By The Associated Press
If there is any criticism of the LaSalle Explorers and Ken Durrett, it would have to be for their erratic play. With any consistency, the Explorers would have shut out Loyola of New Orleans and Durrett would have scored 500 points. After all, the Explorers ran up an 18-0 lead Wednesday night and Durrett scored 10 of those points in 48 seconds, but they couldn't keep up the pace. Still, no one was complaining as the Explorers settled for a 74-53 victory and Durrett finished with 29 points in an impressive performance for the 10th-ranked Explorers, the only team in the Associated Press Top Ten to see action. Duquesne No. 14 was the only team in the Second Ten to play and the Ducks beat San Francisco 90-77 for their 10th in a row.

ST. JO WINNER
After LaSalle's victory, St. Joseph's trounced Bowling Green 86-71 in the second game of the doubleheader at Philadelphia. In other top games, Louisville, St. Bonaventure and Fordham continued their campaigns to regain the Top Twenty. Louisville ran past Tulsa 98-85, the Bonnies routed Xavier, Ohio, 104-77 and Fordham overcame Army 65-60. Elsewhere, Rich Yunkus scored 37 points as Georgia Tech beat Georgia 90-77, Syracuse nipped Penn State 68-64, Boston College trimmed Rhode Island 86-80, Florida State bombed Wisconsin 98-61, Tulane downed Louisiana State 93-88, North Carolina State tripped Maryland 71-41, Canisius slipped by Detroit 65-64 and Creighton overcame Southern Illinois 90-71. West Virginia beat Pitt, its arch rival, 95-91 with the game being cinched by a head of lettuce. Pitt was ahead 92-91 with 14 seconds left when a foul was called against the Panthers because an overzealous Pitt fan threw a head of lettuce on the court. Will Robinson converted on a one-and-one situation to put the Mountaineers ahead.

Blacks Resign Purple Squad
FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — New Texas Christian football coach Jim Pittman, admitting "I've never faced anything quite like this," announced Wednesday that four black players, all starters, had quit because of the lack of "social activity" at the Southwest Conference school. Pittman said he was told by Larry Dibbles, Raymond Rhodes, Hodges Mitchell and Ervin Garnett—all sophomores—that they are going to Florida State where "there are regular social activities such as fraternity activities and parties." Dibbles is a defensive tackle from Dallas who was being considered for pre-season All-America honors by one national magazine.

Booster Club Breakfasts Set Every Other Friday
By J. W. DICKENS
GBC Co-Captain
In the future the Quarterback Club sports breakfasts will be held every other week. The next one is scheduled for February 12. As at the last breakfast, honored guests will be the participants in all current sports. The turnout at the breakfast last Friday was good, but we are looking forward to seeing more of the athletes as well as many more parents and fans at the next one. Rebounding in the last half proved the downfall of the Steers Tuesday night, but they gave Midland High a good scare before it was all over. More fans are going with the team out of town — and this in itself speaks well for the team.

Lombardi, 6 Players Will Join Shrine

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Coach Vince Lombardi and six players — Jim Brown, Y.A. Tittle, Norm Van Brocklin, Andy Robustelli, Frank "Bruiser" Kinard and Bill Hewitt — were named today to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. The seven inductees, whose selection swells the Hall of Fame ranks to 70, will be honored at enshrinement ceremonies in Canton on July 31. Lombardi, who died of cancer last Sept. 3, gained lasting acclaim for leading the Green Bay Packers out of the National Football League depths and into a dominance during the last decade. His Green Bay club won five NFL titles and the first two Super Bowl games. The onetime member of Fordham's Seven Blocks of Granite moved on to Washington as coach, general manager and part owner in 1969. He guided the Redskins to their first winning season in 14 years before he was stricken with cancer. Brown, elected to the Hall in his first year of eligibility, led NFL ball-carriers in eight of his nine seasons with the Cleveland Browns, establishing an all-time career record of 12,312 rushing yards. He was named all-league fullback seven times. Tittle, who played 17 pro seasons and ranks second only to Johnny Unitas on the all-time passing list, was the NFL's most valuable player in 1961 and tied for the honor in 1963 while quarterbacking the New York Giants. Van Brocklin, masterful quarterback for Los Angeles and Philadelphia during his 12-year NFL career, paced the Eagles to the 1958 championship. He coached the Minnesota Vikings for six years and has been the Atlanta Falcons' skipper since 1968. Robustelli, from little Arnold College, was a hard-rock defensive end for 14 NFL seasons with the Rams and Giants. The seven-time all-league selection shares the all-time career mark of 22 opponents' fumble recoveries. Kinard earned all-NFL honors in his 1938 rookie year with the old Brooklyn Dodgers and, in subsequent NFL seasons and two more in the All-America Conference, established himself as one of the most durable and talented of all pro tackles. Hewitt joined the Chicago Bears in 1932, and was a stand-out all-around end for the next decade. He played without a helmet until 1939, when the league ordered him to don one. He died in 1947 from injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

The brothers Bidwell of St. Louis professed shock when Missouri's Dan Devine decided to give pro football a try and signed on to direct the war games for Green Bay in the NFL. Devine, no doubt, favored stability over the sometimes unpredictable dealings of the St. Louis front office. Charley Winner upgraded the Cardinal effort the past season and wound up in the street for his trouble. Green Bay has had problems adjusting to the post-Lombardi life but doesn't make life unbearable for a coach who communicates. Phil Bengston, the last helmetsman for the Packers, apparently didn't come across too well with the people who pay the freight in Green Bay. Devine was quoted recently as saying that Green Bay was the "last mountain to climb," meaning the job will be his final challenge in football. He could have stayed at Missouri until the St. Louis archway crystallized but the itch to swim among the piranhas in pro football would have always been there. Green Bay's buffs set about to herald a return to good times early last season by circulating a bumper sticker reading "The Pack Is Back" after their Hessians-for-hire won a few games early but their enthusiasm waned when the team's momentum began to flag. Perhaps Devine can supply the bellows that will rekindle the fire from the ashes of Green Bay's frustration. An army of fans across the world are pulling for Dan, mainly because Green Bay is the last small community trying to co-exist in a brutal dollar war. They may make a lot of cheese in the area but pro football is what keeps Green Bay's name in the papers. Without it, the only way most of us would ever hear about the place would be when it tied Bemji, Minn., for record low temperatures.

A committee consisting of Don Loyd, Frank Phillips College; Dave Neely, Clarendon; Dick Estergard, NMMI; John Iverson, Southwest Christian; and James Burroughs, McLennan Community College, will meet with Buddy Travis, president of South Plains College ten days prior to the Region V Basketball tournament here to rate and select the field for the three-day event. The team rated first will meet the eight-ranked club. The No. 2 quint will oppose the seventh-rated team and etc.

As many as five Western Conference clubs could get tournament invitations. H.C.J.C. automatically wins a spot because it will be the host school. Amarillo, South Plains, Clarendon and New Mexico JC are other league teams which will, no doubt, rate serious consideration. Incidentally, James Kile, Amarillo; LaVon Boyette, Dallas; Walter Knapp, Roswell; and Delnor Poy, Big Spring, will shoulder officiating duties in the tournament, which will again be co-sponsored by the American Business Club and H.C.J.C. The tournament will be conducted in the high school gymnasium March 4-5-6. Jim Carlen, the Texas Tech mentor, strongly endorsed the move made by the Odessa school board to invite Dick Winder in as coach of the OHS Bronchos. Winder once worked under John Ralston, who guided Stanford to a Rose Bowl victory last Jan. 1. Both Odessa and Midland will likely put the ball in the air more than half the time they're on offense next fall. What a game of volley ball they're apt to play when they meet each other.

UTEP Ace Had Many Chances At Schooling

EL PASO — When Dick Gibbs came out of Burlington (Iowa) Junior College he was one of the most sought after basketball players in America. Over 100 major colleges and universities were soliciting his services. Kansas flew him in for a visitation in a Lear jet, and he was also interested in Iowa. But The University of Texas at El Paso? No way. Then Burlington Head Coach Ed Sparling joined Don Haskins as assistant, and Dick, along with Chuck Brakes and Greg Davis, came to El Paso. "Coach Sparling didn't pressure us into attending UTEP," said Gibbs, "but after a visitation I decided to attend." Why? "Three reasons. First there was El Paso. When I came out here I had been told El Paso was in the desert... so I had in mind an image of the Sahara. I was pleasantly surprised. I liked the climate, the people... everything about it." "Second, there was Coach Sparling. He had helped straighten me out after a hellish freshman year, and I had deep respect for the man." "Finally, there was the combination of Coach Haskins and UTEP. I knew I would learn from this man and the school had a fine program." "So," he was asked, "you really like everything about the Southwest?" "Nope, not quite," Gibbs answered. "I'm still making the transition to Mexican food. I've progressed to the point of putting chili in scrambled eggs, but I don't believe I'll ever make it all the way to jalapeno peppers." Such is the personality of Dick Gibbs, the Miners' leading scorer and rebounder. At present he leads the squad in eight statistical areas and is the only player presently scoring and rebounding in double figures in either category. A further insight reveals his tastes in music run to "soul." At Burlington all the basketball players roomed together in a house, and I don't have to tell you that Brakes, Davis and the gang like their soul music. After two years they had me converted."

Other information about Dick: —He was born and raised in Ames, Iowa, one of six children. He recalls between the eighth and ninth grades he grew from a "fat" 5-7 to a "skinny" 6-2. —He has been scouted as a prospect for both pro basketball and football. He hasn't played football since the ninth grade. He admits he wants to give pro basketball a try, and in the long run wants to "coach and teach." —His nickname is "Gibber," and no, he has yet to hear someone say, "Let's win one for the Gibber."

Sands To Oppose Klondike Feb. 9
DAWSON — Sands' girls remained in a tie for first place in District 8-B basketball standings by defeating Dawson, 52-42, here Tuesday night. The Mustangs are 11-1 in conference and boast an overall mark of 21-5. Coach Bobby Cochran will send his team up against the co-leader, Klondike, in Ackerly Tuesday night.

Gabriel Operation Is Successful
SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Los Angeles Rams' quarterback Roman Gabriel is recovering today from an operation he didn't expect — on his throwing arm. Gabriel and tight end Billy Truax had surgery Wednesday to remove torn knee cartilage. Dr. Danny Levinthal also investigated the big quarterback's complaint of pain in his right elbow.

The bidding:
East South West North
Pass Pass 1 0 2 4
Pass 2 NT Pass 3 NT
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠

North and South were lulled into a false sense of confidence today by an overabundance of protection in the opponent's bid suit, they failed to recognize that this might be too much of a good thing, and the result on the deal was a loss that easily could have been averted.

After two passes, West chose to open the bidding in third position with one diamond. This proved to be a fortunate decision for him, for if he had selected the more substantial heart suit for his initial call, the opposition would have been alerted at once to their weak spot.

North overcalled with two clubs in preference to making a takeout double, due to his lack of preparedness for a heart response. When the bidding reverted to South, he chose to make his move in no trump since a nine trick contract appeared to offer the best prospect for a game. His hand was evenly distributed and he had a stopper in diamonds, West's announced suit.

It is North's next bid that serves as the subject for our discussion. Altho he has the high card assets and the trick taking potential to seek a game, his extreme shortness in hearts should serve as a warning to probe for the safest contract. Partner's two no trump response promised protection in the adverse suit, but it does not necessarily show stoppers in all suits. If he has little or nothing in hearts, then it will prove more discreet to play a club contract.

In order to obtain an answer to his problem, North should make a cue bid of three diamonds, which is forcing for one round. If South has any strength in hearts, he will now either re-bid three no trump, or else he will bid hearts in which case North can safely return to no trump.

In the actual case, when South hears his partner bid diamonds he should be alerted to the duplication of strength in that suit, and the probable weakness in hearts. It will therefore be appropriate for him to now raise North to four clubs, and the latter may carry on to game in that suit. The success of this endeavor hinges merely on finessing the opening bidder for the queen of spades.

$1.8 Million Fleece Case

DALLAS (AP) — Three men were held in jail today on $10,000 bond each in connection with an alleged $1.8 million swindle involving two Dallas banks.

They were named as William Elton Stegin, 39, of DeSoto, John Nelson Rowe III and Mike Graves Brownlee, both of Dallas.

Each was charged in Justice of Peace W. E. Richburg's court on several counts of theft over $50. An examining trial was set for Friday.

Stegin was arrested Sunday at a motel. The other two were arrested at the Big State Coin Co. Monday.

Wynwood State Bank and the Bank of Services and Trusts were believed the losers in the alleged swindle.

Sheriff Clarence Jones said the scheme involved borrowing money from one bank and then borrowing from a second bank to pay off the first loan. The process is repeated and the loan money increases.

The sheriff said Stegin is a former employe of the Duncanville State Bank. He also said seven other banks may have been included in the scheme, which would take bank examiners some time to investigate.

Industrial Suburb Returns To One-Room School House

DEER PARK, Tex. (AP) — The Deer Park School District in this wealthy, industrial Houston suburb has returned to the one-room school house.

But it's not a small rural operation. The $1.5 million Deer Park Elementary School, which opened in the fall of 1969 with a capacity of 1,000 pupils, has one large central room for daily classes in all grades, kindergarten through fifth.

Pupils at the school have a spot in the huge room where they report in each day, but they change locations and teachers with the mobility foreign to the one-desk, one-teacher arrangement in other elementary schools.

Classes are separated only by

As soon as they master a certain phase, they are moved to a more advanced group in another area of the room.

A child adept at arithmetic may be studying with third-year math pupils, yet returning to the second-year groups for reading and spelling.

Children are promoted with their homeroom class every year, but if they haven't acquired the desired skills, they do classwork with younger pupils the next year.

The 33 teachers, with an average age of 27, are divided into three teams, according to the ages of the children they teach.

Kindergarten teacher Sue

Miles, 30, shares duties with two other teachers. "For instance, I like to teach the large groups. Another woman is better at keeping accurate records, so we divide the class responsibilities accordingly," she said.

A third-grade teacher, Dorothy Tapp, 25, says, "The greatest advantage to the system is that we can see other people's own age and we aren't stuck in the classroom with the same children all day."

TOPS AWARD — In a recent ceremony here, Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, wing commander, presented Capt. Wesley E. Mink the Aid Training Command to Promote Safety (TOPS) Award for Operations. Capt. Blacks Not Using Political Muscle

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — More than 100 groups still labor quietly in voter registration drives across the South—trying to reach an estimated 1.6 million blacks who remain unregistered despite the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

"Substantial progress has been made but there is much left to be done," said John Lewis, director of the nonpartisan Voter Education Project, Inc., one of the largest groups active in voter registration work.

RESISTANCE
"You don't hear as much about voter registration now that the era of the big protest march is gone," he said. "But the job of registering blacks still involves hundreds of people. And there's still resistance to our work but of a more subtle shading."

The project's annual report says more than two million blacks have been registered in the 11 Southern states since passage of the Voting Rights Act. The report said 3.36 million blacks are on the books, out of 5 million voting-age Negroes. The white registration is about 17 million out of 20 million in the voting-age group, the report said.

"As the report indicates," Lewis said in an interview, "the pool of unregistered black voters represents a great deal of as yet unexercised political muscle in the South. I would not be at all surprised to see the first black congressmen come from the region during the next five to 10 years."

VIOLENCE
The report, compiled from census tables and tabulations of county registration figures, said Texas has the highest percentage of registered Negro voters, 54.7. The lowest percentage, 55.4, is in North Carolina.

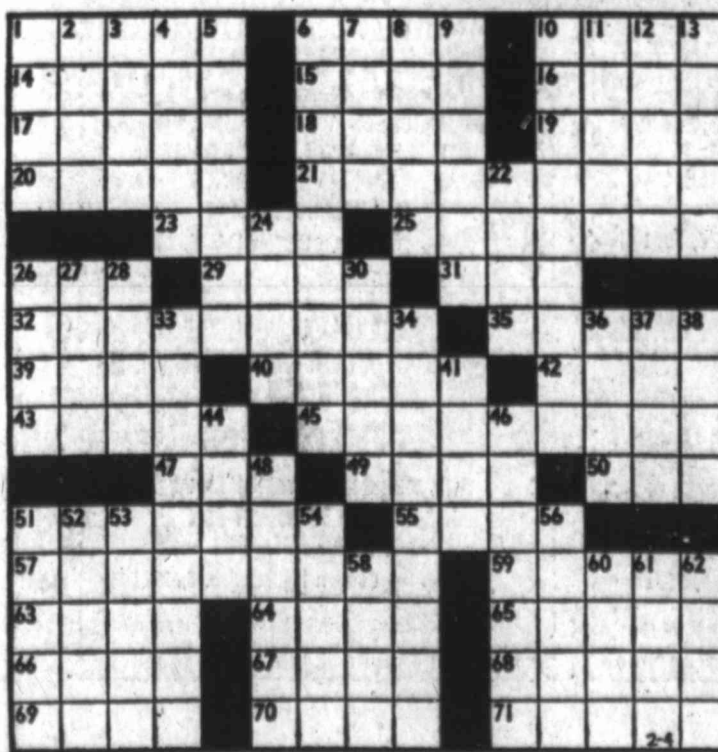

The percentages nationwide are 84.5 per cent for whites and 66.9 per cent for blacks. "People working in this area today don't find the violence that threatened us until late stage of the Voting Rights Act, 1966," said Lewis, 31. "There has been a realization that that sort of thing is not effective."

Four Of Five Gls Not True 'Volunteers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army analysts estimate four of five young men who joined the service last year enlisted to avoid the draft and were not true volunteers.

This indicates how far the Army still must travel to come in sight of the all-volunteer force President Nixon hopes to achieve by mid-1973.

Manpower specialists feel the 1970 experience, the first full year under the random draft system, gave them a reliable idea of the extent men truly volunteered or were avoiding the draft in order to choose a branch of service and a specialty.

For purposes of the study, Army analysts calculated any young man who drew lottery number 240 or higher last year was certain of escaping the draft.

It was found that 64,000 men in this draft-involvement group enlisted in the Army in 1970—about 21 per cent of the 296,000 men who entered that service. Another 73,000 volunteers were classified as draft-motivated and 159,000 men were draftees.

In testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, Pentagon manpower chief Roger Kelley seemed to give a somewhat more bullish estimate of true volunteers than the Army study showed.

Kelley indicated about half of the enlisted volunteers are true volunteers.

But he was omitting from his calculation the large bloc of draftees, and he was talking about all services, not just the Army.

Nixon, in working to reduce the armed forces by one million men below the Vietnam war peak of 3.5 million, places considerable importance on maintaining the strength of the reserves to back up the smaller regular military establishment.

The Army study and Kelley's testimony agree generally that somewhere around 70 per cent of the new entrants into the National Guard and reserve are prodded by the spectre of the draft.

The administration has developed an elaborate program aimed at making military service, including guard and reserve enlistment, more attractive.

Auto Insurance Firms Get Fresh Chance To Grip

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas automobile insurance companies protesting the Dec. 30 rates set by the state insurance board will get another chance to present their arguments against the new rates.

Board Chairman Ned Price said a date for the rehearing asked by the companies would be announced later.

The board has already set a Feb. 23 rehearing date for auto insurance buyers who are unhappy with the board granting a statewide boost of 14 per cent, effective last Jan. 1.

Insurance companies asked for an average 27.7 per cent increase.

The Texas Automobile Insurance Service office said Tuesday that the allowance of a potential underwriting profit of 2.6 per cent, after taxes, plus investment earnings from all sources, would not produce a fair rate of return.

Snow, Travel Warnings Out In 20-State Area

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet, freezing drizzle, rain and fog plagued almost the entire nation from the Rockies to the Eastern Seaboard today.

The widespread bad weather was associated generally with what the National Weather Service termed a potentially dangerous storm in the southern Rockies.

Snow or travel warnings were issued for a 20-state area from the central Plains through the Midwest to the central and southern Appalachians.

An area of heavy-snow warnings included parts of Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa and Nebraska.

Freezing drizzle glazed a wide area from the Midwest to the southern Appalachians. An inch of sleet iced Greensboro, N.C., during the night, and to this was added freezing rain.

Icy roads in parts of the Midwest were shrouded by fog, posing an additional hazard for motorists.

Rain soaked scattered sections south of the ice and sleet belt. Thundershowers cracked along the Gulf Coast.

A shield of rain also moved into the Pacific Northwest, but most other areas of the Far West were clear and dry.

Zero cold clung to northern New England although temperatures in most of the rest of the Northeast moderated considerably.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from -28 at Millinocket, Maine, to 72 at Key West and Miami, Fla.

Lt. Gov. Barnes' Power Slapped In CCSL Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reasons that the Texas legislature ranks 38th among other states.

Legislatures (CCSL) says the broad power of Texas' lieutenant governor is one of the major commented that some of Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes' power be transferred to the Senate president pro tempore, or assistant president officer, to end what the study called "a hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing."

The CCSL study results announced in Washington ranked the legislatures on the basis of how well their operations reflected minimum standards of due process and effectiveness.

Of the five major criteria used to evaluate the legislatures, Texas ranked 17th as being representative in reflecting the diversity of the state's population, 36th for accountability to the people, 43rd in using available information, and 45th for the legislature's ability to control its own activities.

California was ranked first over-all by CCSL. Other top rated legislatures, in order, were New York, Illinois, Florida, Wisconsin, Iowa, Hawaii, Michigan, Nebraska and Minnesota.

Among Texas' neighboring states, Louisiana ranked 33rd, Oklahoma 14th and New Mexico 11th.

The study lauded several recent legislative changes in Texas including Speaker Gus Mutscher's appointment of a committee of 100 to study House operation and procedure, the pre-session orientation program, and "the relatively generous interim expense allowances for both senators and representatives."

Interim expense allowances for senators was $1,700 a month and $875 for House members.

The CCSL recommended that Texas legislators get an annual salary of $15,000.

It also suggested changing the constitutional restriction against unlimited annual sessions and requiring formal reports by interim committees.

The CCSL also recommended that the 72 Senate and House standing committees be reduced to 15 in each house with parallel jurisdiction.

"One of the major weaknesses," said the CCSL study, "was the broad legislative powers of the lieutenant governor. By constitutional authority, he is designated as president of the Senate, casts tie-breaking votes and acts as Senate leader with power to appoint committee chairmen and assign bills."

These powers, the CCSL said should be transferred to the president protem of the Senate by constitutional amendment because "present powers of the lieutenant governor are a hindrance to the Senate developing leadership of its own choosing."

The CCSL is headquartered in Kansas City, Mo. It was founded in 1965 and is funded by several major foundations, the report said.

Exposition Planning Meet Is Scheduled

An organizational meeting for the annual Boy Scout Exposition has been set for 7:30 p.m. Feb. 11 in Room 232, VA Hospital.

Aubrey Bryans, chairman of the Exposition which is slated for March 13, urged all leaders of Cub packs, Scout troops and Explorer packs to attend the organization meeting.

For one thing, booths will be assigned at the meeting, and tickets will be issued.

Bryans noted an important change this year. Only the units which enter a booth in the Exposition will be permitted to sell tickets for the show.

He also urged unit leaders to be prepared to give the theme of their booths, if at all possible.

The show, which demonstrates Scouting skills of all kinds, will be held in the Highland Mall between the hours of 2 p.m.-6 p.m. on Saturday, March 13.

Additional information concerning the Exposition and the organizational meeting can be had by telephoning Bryans at 7-2511, extension 2280.

Warmth Conveyed Through Home, Friendly Manner

By BARBARA LORD
"My chosen profession is that of homemaker, wife and mother," said Mrs. Ray Anderson, and the statement pretty well sums up her primary interests.
The Anderson home on the corner of Dogwood and Aspen is adorned with objects that give it a cozy effect, inviting people to sit down and chat awhile. The many house plants add a feeling of warmth, carried through with Mrs. Anderson's friendly and pleasant manner.

The ornaments in her home include many items which have belonged to members of her family for as long as 60 years, including a small wooden jewelry box, a set of coffee mugs and a set of willow ware dishes. She also has a rocking chair which her mother used when she was a child, and a picture that her husband gave to his mother when he was a child.

"I don't collect any one particular type of item," Mrs. Anderson said, "But I'm an awful holder-oner. I never throw anything away. We are comfortable here. My family is fairly easy to please and I've always enjoyed homemaking, cooking and doing things for them."
Her large recipe file and the comfortably decorated home are evidence of her sincerity.

"We eat simple meals," said Mrs. Anderson. "We've always been a 'meats and sweets' family, and since our son has been in college, we've cut out most of the sweets. Neither my husband nor I need them."
The Andersons don't like fancy meals, eating mainly basics, but prepared with her added touches that the family likes so well. They seldom eat casseroles, preferring instead to have separate meat, potato and vegetable dishes. The only foreign food they like is Mexican.

Mrs. Anderson is from a family of good cooks, and most of her recipes are from relatives. She seldom uses a cookbook or measures anything, except in her dessert dishes.
"Our entertaining is pretty limited," Mrs. Anderson said. "I host women's club meetings occasionally, but other than that we don't do much."
"QUIET THINGS"
"We are quiet people and we enjoy quiet things. When we do entertain, it's usually in the summer time when we have friends over for a backyard meal. We like to cook outside, and my husband does most of it. We prefer small groups of close friends."
Mrs. Anderson spends most of her spare time reading or crocheting, and is presently working on a "Granny Afghan" in an assortment of bright colors.
"I love to read and there are never enough hours in the day for it," said Mrs. Anderson. "I like books on faith, and books that give the reader a good message for life."
The Andersons celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary next month. They met and were married when he returned from World War II in 1946.

A small chair in bright red velvet, for example, may make a great difference in the right spot in your bedroom or living room.
For contrast use warm colors (violet, red, orange, yellow) in a cool room, and cool colors (yellow-green, green, green-blue and blue) in a warm room.

The treasured good taste of mince meat and the convenience of refrigerated prepared crescent rolls, when combined make fine fruit-filled quick breads. MINCE MEAT TWIN LOAVES (Makes two, 8x3 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch loaves)
1 (9-oz.) pkg condensed mince meat
1/2 cup orange juice
1/4 cup chopped walnuts
2 (7-oz.) pkgs. butter crescent flaky rolls
3/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 to 2 1/2 tbsps. orange juice
Glaze cherries, optional
In small sauce pan, break mince meat into small pieces; add 1/4 cup orange juice. Place over medium heat; stir until lumps are thoroughly broken.
Boil briskly one minute. Add chopped walnuts; set aside.
Open one package of crescent rolls according to package directions. Unroll into a horizontal rectangle. Separate along the perforated lines into 3 rectangular sections. Form a vertical rectangle by taking each section and lining it up with the other sections along the wider sides. Pinch edges together. Repeat with second package of rolls. Spread half of mince meat mixture evenly on each rectangle; roll up from the narrow side.
Place each roll in a small 8x3 1/2 x 2 1/2-inch loaf pan. Bake in slow (300 degrees) oven about 1 hour or until crust is golden. Combine confectioners' sugar and enough orange juice for desired spreading consistency. Drizzle over tops of each loaf until warm. If desired, garnish with glaze cherries. Serve warm.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Sunday night supper; add drained, canned red kidney beans to a savory cheese sauce and serve over steamed rice. A combination salad — lettuce, tomatoes, green pepper and olives — tastes fine with the bean rarebit.
If you are broiling 1 1/2 pounds fish fillets, you'll need about one-fourth cup of melted butter for brushing the fish.
A pound of dried currants equals about three cups.
Diced cooked bacon may be added to standard muffin batter.
Grenadine syrup will give cooked fresh or canned pear halves a rosy hue. Use the pears for a fruit salad, a compote or other dessert.
If you want that oven-fried chicken to have a crisp exterior, bake it in a hot (400 degrees) oven.
If you like garlic, cut tiny slashes in any cut of meat you are roasting and insert a sliver of garlic in each slash.

For a good sauce to serve with boiled beef, add horseradish to a savory white sauce. Make the sauce with half milk, half beef bouillon.
To make colored sugar for Thanksgiving and Christmas sweets, add a drop or two of food coloring to a jar and then pour in half a cup of granulated sugar. Cover the jar securely and shake vigorously to color the sugar.
To give a rolled shoulder of lamb extra zest, before roasting insert small slivers of garlic in the meat. You can do this by making tiny cuts in the lamb, using a small sharp knife, and then adding the garlic.
When you are buying a rack of lamb rib chops to roast, you may want to ask the meatman to cut off the back bone; this makes carving easy.
For an epicurean touch, mix apricot preserves with brandy and use as a filling for a butter-sponge cake. Cover the cake with butter-cream frosting or whipped cream; sprinkle with toasted slivered almonds.

GARDEN SLAW
1/2 cup knife-shredded (fine) green cabbage, loosely packed
1/2 cup finely grated carrots, loosely packed
1/4 cup finely chopped celery
2 tbsps. finely chopped green pepper
3/4 cup finely chopped pared cucumber
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tbsps. mayonnaise
1 tsp. finely grated onion, pulp and juice
1 1/2 tbsps. sweet pickle relish
Thoroughly mix together all the ingredients. Makes 2 servings.

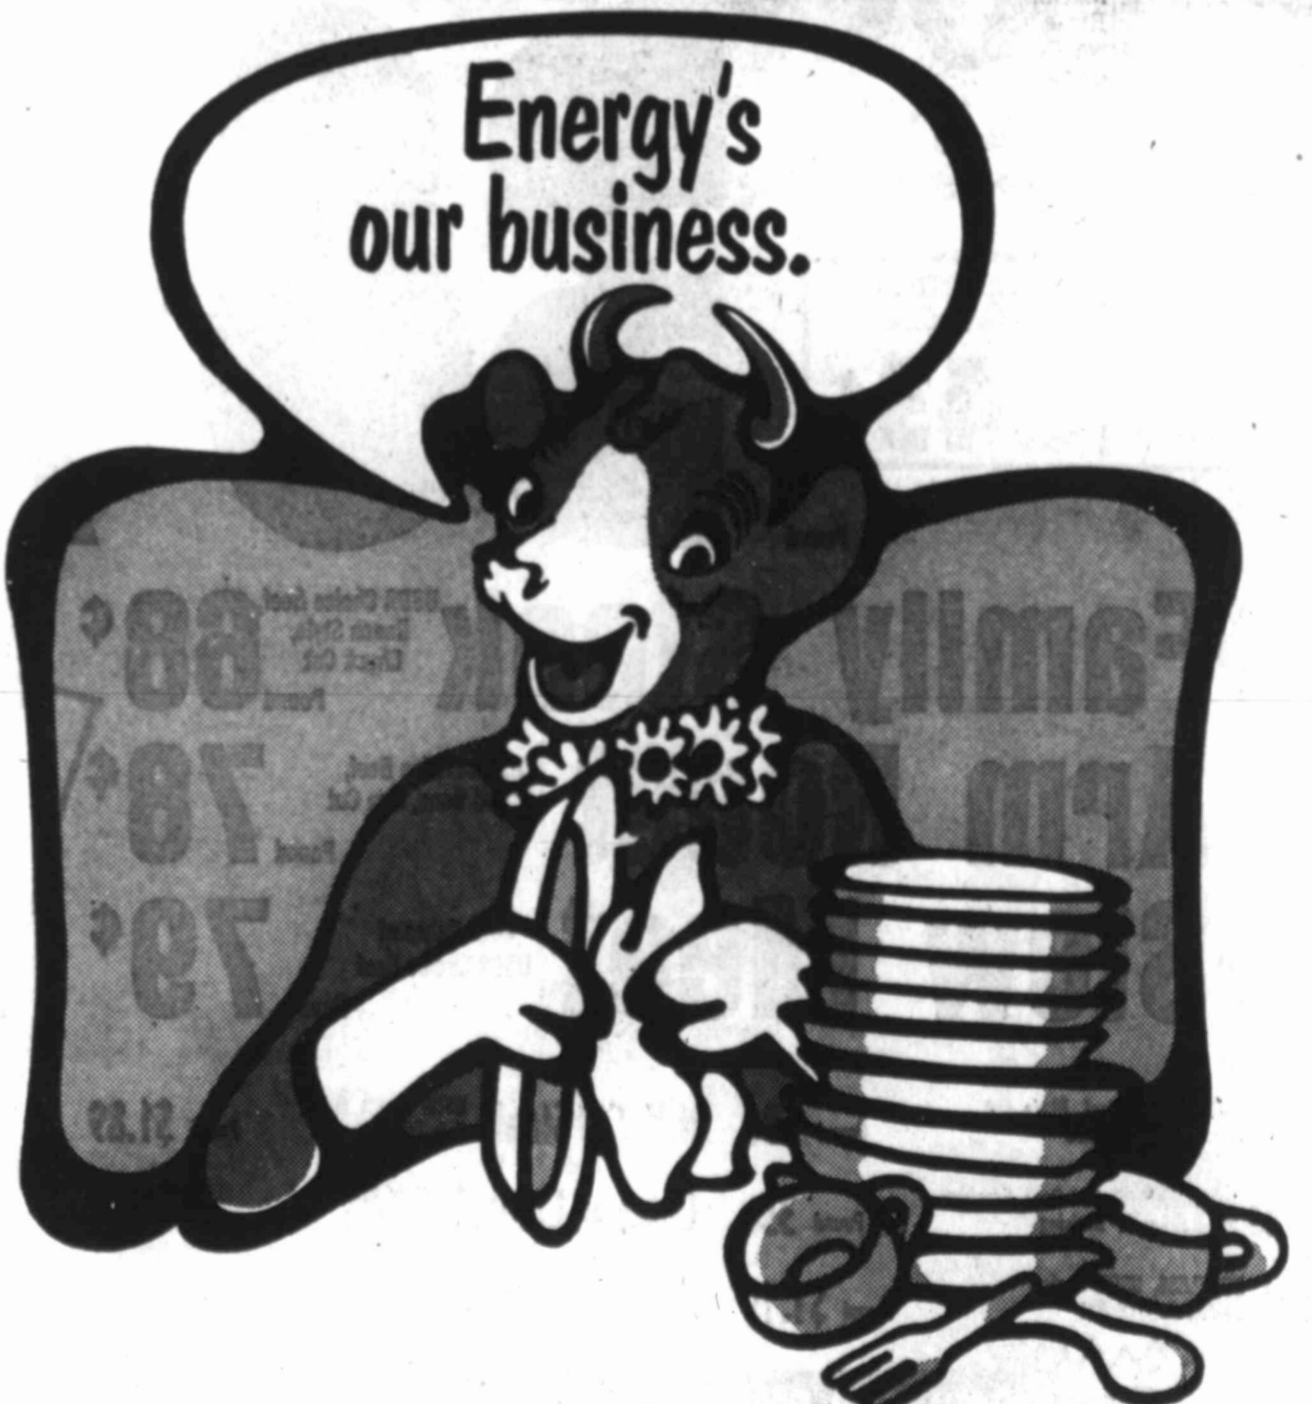

UT STUDENT
The Anderson's son, Steven, is a junior pre-law student at the University of Texas. Mrs. Anderson says their dog, Dolly Jean, is like a member of the family. Dolly is a 12-year-old Pit English, which the Andersons have had since she was three months old.
Mrs. Anderson is busy with many activities besides her family and her home. She is secretary and reporter for the Elbow Home Demonstration Club, the Women's Society of Christian Service, and the Lalla Baird Circle, Wesley United Methodist Church. She also teaches the Dorcas Sunday school class, and is leader of the Inch Pinchers Club.
"I just like to live," said Mrs. Anderson. "I enjoy people, nature, and friends dropping in for coffee. My house is always open for friends and neighbors whenever they want to visit."

'BOSS OF THE YEAR'
Jess Slaughter, Mrs. Herman Taylor

'Boss Of Year' Given Trophy

Jess Slaughter, Justice of the Peace, was named "boss of the year" Tuesday by the Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, at its boss' night banquet at Holiday Inn.

R. E. Hickson, last year's winner, read the nominating letter written by Mrs. Herman Taylor, Slaughter's secretary. Slaughter was presented a trophy.

"Although his job involves enforcement of the law," Mrs. Taylor wrote, "his fairness is to all alike; young and old, rich and poor, black and white. He always gives a friendly handshake to everyone. My boss is a friend to humanity. He does not live in a house by the side of the road and let the rest of the world go by."

Slaughter has worked in Howard County law enforcement for about 30 years, serving 16 years as sheriff before being elected Justice of the Peace in 1958.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, retired pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, gave the program on revolutions taking place in the world.

"Today we have the machine revolution, the black vs. the whites, the liberals vs. the conservatives, and the recent female revolution. The world is in a state of confusion."

"People don't know where they're going and probably won't know when they get there. We need to think about what we can do, and try to instill some good out of all of this confusion. We need a reason for living and must set goals to accomplish."

Mrs. Kyle Cauble presided, and the history of the chapter was given by Mrs. Lambert Misk.

The ABWA was founded in June, 1949, by H. A. Bufton Jr., Mrs. Misk said. "Today, it has 926 active chapters and over 52,000 members. The Scenic Chapter was formed in March, 1960."

In other business, Miss Vicki Findley was given an ABWA scholarship to Howard County Junior College, and Mrs. Geraldine Dietz gave a vocational talk about her work at the Big Spring High School business office.

Alcoholism Blamed On 'Inability To Cope'

"If there is a 'why' in life, then we can endure the 'how,'" said Shelby Parnell, alcoholism counselor at Big Spring State Hospital, when he was guest speaker Tuesday for the 1955 Hyperion Club. The women met in the home of Mrs. Robert F. Penner, 2610 Carol, where the speaker was introduced by Mrs. L. K. Gladden.

"People's inability to cope with their problems often leads to alcoholism or drug addiction," said Parnell. "The key to a healthy attitude toward life is to be able to accept who you are and what your limitations might be."

"Pill addiction often arises through an innocent diet pill or tranquilizer. People start taking the pills, and when they no longer have need of them, they find they have developed an unbreakable habit."

Parnell emphasized that he is an alcoholic, although he has not had a drink for many years. Since becoming a counselor at Big Spring State Hospital, Parnell has worked with hundreds of alcoholics; some he could help and others he could not.

"But it has all been a wonderful experience," he said, "because I like people — even those with problems."

Mrs. Walter Wheat presided and appointed a nominating committee comprised of Mrs. Walter Ross, chairman; Mrs. Hank McDaniel and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting. It was announced that Mrs. Albert Smith will serve as Hyperion Council treasurer for the next two years.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Smith and Mrs. W. C. Fryer. The next meeting is 1:30 p.m., March 2 in the home of Mrs. R. F. Dorsey, 507 Washington Blvd.

Patriotism Stressed In Program

Lois Dunlap was guest speaker for the 1941 Study Club of Coahoma Monday, in the home of Mrs. Don McKinney. His talk on patriotism stressed individual and group involvement, and he said that people should support local and national governments.

Dunlap, who works for the First State Bank of Abilene, was in full costume to portray "Uncle Sam". He has presented his program to groups of all ages.

The study club will sponsor an adult education seminar on drugs, open to the public. The first meeting will be Feb. 16, 7:30 p.m. in the Coahoma city hall, and will feature a panel discussion. A film about drug use will be shown Feb. 23, 7:30 p.m., also at the city hall. Parents are urged to attend.

Mrs. Dwayne Clawson presided at the Monday meeting, and Mrs. Bill Read introduced Dunlap. The next meeting is March 1, 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Wendell Shive.

Mrs. A. N. Rutherford presided, and prayers were given by Mrs. Bob Anderson and Mrs. Earl Taylor. Serving on the altar committee for February are Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Jack Powell, Mrs. Margaret Kane and Mrs. Leland King.

The society will assist the Church Women United in sponsoring birthday parties for residents of local nursing homes in March. Mrs. Ward is committee chairman for the parties, and serving with her are Mrs. Kane, Mrs. James Finfinger, Mrs. Steve Carri, Mrs. Lynn Simpson and Mrs. Edward Holland.

Mrs. Fred Hyer was hostess, and the attendance prize went to Mrs. Bob Anderson. The next meeting is March 8, 7:30 p.m., in the church hall.

Eulogy Said For Mrs. M. Morgan

A eulogy and resolution in memory of Mrs. Mollie Morgan was presented by Mrs. Annie Mellinger, Mrs. Robert Boodle and Mrs. Roscoe Cone Tuesday evening at a meeting of the BPO Does. Mrs. Morgan, who died in January, had been a charter member of the lodge and the oldest active Doe in the lodge. The local group will send a framed picture of Mrs. Morgan, along with a scrapbook folder, to the grand lodge.

Mrs. Morgan's daughter, Mrs. Kay Williams, presided, announcing that the Texas West meeting will be held March 13-14 in Amarillo, and the national meeting will be held June 25-26 in Omaha, Neb. The 50th anniversary of the lodge will be celebrated at the grand lodge meeting.

Guest speaker was Leon Miller of the Veterans Administration Hospital. He presented a certificate to Mrs. Alma George for her years of volunteer work at the hospital.

A LOVELIER YOU A Firm Bosomline Requires Exercise

By MARY SUE MILLER

It's amazing how the feminine figure manages to be straight as a stripping one year and all gentle curves the next. And simply to fit the fashion image of the time!

This spring clothes are extraordinarily fluid. On that body there is a float to fashion like a waterfall in a shifting breeze. Picture the idea or you won't get it. For sure a better view will materialize if you imagine the intake of an everskinner sweater and a chiffon dress blown close by an updraft.

Topside problems come into focus, or you are not looking through my lens. The new formula for the priority bosomline is high, rounded and very firm. This is it:

1. Stand erect with feet together. Reach for ceiling with right hand, for floor with left hand. Keeping elbows straight, swing right arm down to full extension, then back as far as possible.
2. At the same time, swing left arm up and back, high up and far back. Reverse arm swing and, without stopping, continue for 10 to 20 counts. It's a semaphore action.
3. Sit cross-legged on floor and place palms of hands against inner sides of knees. Push down with hands and up with knees — forcefully. Continue for two minutes, working to feel increased pull in chest muscles.

It works. Keep at it!

TRIMMERS AND SLIMMERS

Let me help you with the problem of a too-fleshy arm, chest or upper back by sending you my leaflet, Trimmers And Slimmers. It contains a set of coordinated spot reducing exercises — easy to do, quick to get results. Just write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Solons Find Writing This Bill Not Easy

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate State Affairs Committee voted 10-6 Wednesday to take up to three more weeks to work out a bill governing the conduct of legislators.

The measure was sent to a subcommittee, which also will look at other similar proposals in an attempt to write one bill to bring back to the full committee.

Asked who would be on the subcommittee, Sen. W. T. Moore, committee chairman, said, "I'm looking for five volunteers, and I'm not going to be one of them."

Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall, sponsor of the main proposal, said "I'm not carrying this bill as the moral leader of the Senate... but in answer to the demand by the people of Texas to clear the atmosphere..."

Hall's bill would require legislators and other state employees to file sworn statements disclosing their business interests, as well as financial reports and copies of their federal income tax reports.

There are numerous other provisions, such as enforcement of the constitutional rule that a legislator may not vote on any measure in which he has a personal or private interest.

A legislator could be removed from office if he failed to comply with the bill's provisions and also fined $10,000 and sentenced to 10 years in prison.

"We shouldn't act in haste to try to prove we didn't do anything wrong," Moore said.

Hall said the bill was "not aimed at anybody." He said it was almost the same measure he introduced in 1969.

"This is something the legislature is going to have to live with," Hall said.

Gems Job Gains 75 Years In Pen

HOUSTON (AP)—James L. Mayes Jr., 29, has been sentenced to 75 years in prison after being convicted of a jewelry store robbery that resulted in him and three policemen being injured.

Mayes was sentenced Wednesday. He has yet to be tried on three charges of assault on murder police officers.

He is accused of shooting one of the lawmen and injuring more when his car slammed head-on into their patrol car. Mayes was wounded in the chest during his capture.

He and Gene Peavy, 25, were convicted of robbing the Mathis Jewelry store here last March. Peavy was sentenced to seven years in prison last summer.

License Not Required For Each Mobile Home

Individual mobile home owners will not be required to purchase licenses or have their homes inspected annually as was stated in an article in The Herald Wednesday.

The article concerning changes in the mobile home ordinance approved Tuesday by the Planning and Zoning Commission should have read:

"The commission approved the requirement of licenses for individual mobile home park owners. The license will be renewed once a year for each mobile home park."

Chafin said that time of compliance to the ordinance for the mobile home park owners varies with the sections of the ordinance.

Where a health hazard or fire hazard is concerned or the community could be unfavorably affected compliance may be required immediately, Chafin said. Other compliance requirements may vary according to the effect on health and well-being.

Existing mobile home parks will not be required to comply with some of the more minor changes which do not affect health or is not a fire hazard.

A new sign has been added to German roads: "Caution Skiers." The sign includes the silhouette of a skier and is meant for mountain roads that cut through ski slopes.

director, said routine electrical inspections of mobile home hookups may be made at random, but there will be no licensing of individual homes and no annual health inspections.

Applicability of the ordinance was not fully explained in the article Wednesday.

'Dull And Drab' Ires City Dads At Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR (AP) — City fathers are up in arms over a national television program depicting Port Arthur—hometown of the late rock singer Janis Joplin—as "dull and drab."

"I feel there could be the same criticism of any city in the country," Sam Aquilina, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said of a segment on the NBC television network

"First Tuesday" program. This Gulf Coast city, where Miss Joplin grew up, was the subject of a feature on the program Tuesday night.

"We who live here cannot agree with this portrayal," Aquilina said.

The program quoted Miss Joplin as saying her hometown was "dull and drab."

Aquilina said he received over 100 telephone complaints Wednesday about the program. He urged residents to file formal protests with the network.

Art Spencer, manager of the chamber, said he also received numerous complaints and called the segment "one-sided." Miss Joplin died in Los Angeles last year of a drug overdose.

Unemployment Highest In Canada Since 1960

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's economy is going through a rough time, too. Unemployment, at the highest level since 1960, is expected to go higher before predicted improvement in the spring. Growth in national production is the lowest rate in a decade. Many economic analysts say 1971 will find a continued lack of confidence both on the part of potential investors and on the part of consumers.

1 OUT OF 12
 With 1 out of 12 jobless in some areas, unemployment has replaced inflation as the country's No. 1 economic problem. It also has become the hottest political issue facing Pierre Elliott Trudeau's government. Although the next election is not expected before 1972, the prime minister's opponents are making the most of the situation. The jump in unemployment tends to overshadow some positive factors in the economy. One is a slowdown in inflation. In December the cost of living index rose only 1 1/2 per cent over the figure for the same month in 1969. That was the lowest 12-month rate of change since 1964. "Inflation no longer exists in Canada," Trudeau said, asserting his government's fight on it was unequalled in the Western world.

Canada has gone through more or less the same business cycles as the United States. Its interest rates began going up earlier and went higher, but Canada like the United States is now easing credit. How does Canada compare with the United States on the key questions of inflation and unemployment? The consumer price index in the United States showed a rise during 1970 of 5 1/2 per cent in comparison with Canada's 1 1/2 per cent rise. On unemployment, the U.S. figure for December, 1970, was 6 per cent against a national figure of 6.6 in Canada.

Will Shoot Laser Beam To The Moon

FORT DAVIS, Tex. (AP) — Scientists at the McDonald observatory will shoot a laser beam at a reflector placed on the moon Friday by Apollo 14 astronauts.

But the Russians and French will get the first chance to bounce signals off the reflector. It will be the third reflector placed on the moon, the second by the United States.

The first reflector was placed in the Sea of Tranquility by Apollo 11 astronauts in July, 1969.

The reflector has been "acquired" several hundred times by a laser beam transmitted through the observatory's 107-inch mirror.

The Apollo 14 reflector is referred to as a "corner reflector." It will be placed in the rocky Fra Mauro region of the moon.

It will be the third place on the moon—the second was a French-designed reflector carried by a Soviet lunar vehicle last November—and will complete a triangle that will provide a more accurate basis for measuring the moon's rotation by differential ranging.

"When the corner is first deployed, the moon will not have risen at McDonald so we will be unable to range immediately," said Dr. Eric Silverberg, project scientist. "The Soviets and the French will have first crack at receiving signals from this reflector."

"We will begin ranging at McDonald—weather permitting—at about 5 p.m. We will continue to range on a full-time basis for as long as five days until we have detected the Apollo reflector," he said.

From the data received through the experiments with the reflectors scientists can study such things as polar motion of the Earth, continental drift, the length of a day and information on gravity and relativity.

Bumpers Bill Pushed Along

AUSTIN (AP)—American motorists could save $1 billion a year in car repairs if their bumpers could absorb the impact of collisions up to five miles per hour, says Rep. Tom Niland of El Paso.

Niland spoke Wednesday night before the House State Affairs Committee in support of bills introduced by him that would require such bumpers by 1973 on cars sold to the state and by 1975 on cars sold in Texas.

He said one auto insurance company has offered a 20 per cent cut in premium to owners of cars with such bumpers.

John Flaherty of General Motors told the committee a study of 13,000 collision claims showed that only 35 per cent of frontal collisions would have been affected by the better bumpers and only 14 per cent of the rear collisions would have been affected.

Flaherty recommended that the rear bumper standard be set at 2 1/2 miles an hour.

Barnes Brings Back Messages Of Hope

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes has brought back two messages of hope from Washington for tax-conscious legislators.

Barnes told a news conference Wednesday he had suggested a one-year state budget to Gov. Preston Smith to take advantage of the federal government's apparent plans to pay a much larger share of state welfare costs.

He also said federal officials seemed to go along with a Texas plan which would provide more federal matching funds for the state welfare program.

Barnes said "You know of Gov. Smith's past opposition to a one-year bill, but the circumstances are different now." Smith vetoed a one-year bill, but the circumstances are different now," Smith vetoed a one-year spending bill in 1969.

Barnes quoted Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the U. S. House Committee on Ways and Means, as saying that the decision of the Democratic leadership in Congress to pay more of the welfare costs could be "an immediate political reality."

The Republican administration already has recommended cutting each state's total welfare costs in 1972 by 10 per cent from 1971, but Mills wants to "decrease it substantially more than that," Barnes said.

CELEBRATES FREEDOM — Ronald Parker, a former paratrooper, celebrated Wednesday his release from a British prison after a 375-day hunger strike. His year-long fast ended Monday when the Northhampton Assize Court cleared him of a robbery he swore he didn't commit.

Barnes said a one-year appropriations bill still would require some $350 million to $375 million in new taxes, but the tax bill should be lower in the second year.

Budget writers have estimated it would take about $800 million in new money to write a two-year spending bill in 1971.

Barnes also said John Vene-man, an under secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, had been "responsive" to a Texas proposal which could cut the state's welfare costs even more.

The plan would allow Texas to count money spent for welfare by counties, cities and local hospital districts in calculating the amount of federal matching money the state could receive on a two-to-one matching basis.

As an example, Barnes said the seven largest charity hospitals spent $40 million in local tax funds in one year for medical care for persons who were needy but not on welfare.

In the future, this tax money would be channeled to the state, which would then receive $80 million from the federal government. The state then would return the $40 million plus 25 per cent of the federal money, or an additional $20 million.
