Flying Lessons Just The Thing
Big Spring Aircraft Offers Charter Trips

For something out of the ordinary, flying lessons from Big Spring Aircraft, Inc. are just the thing to set one apart from the ordinary.
A great way to start flying is with Big Spring Aircraft's special introductory flight lesson for only $5. You'll fly in a modern Piper Cherokee with a government-rated instructor—and you get to take the controls and get your first feeling of real flight.
Should that convince you that flying is for you, then there is a special $88 Flying Start Course that continues instruction with four flight lessons, ground instruction and your own pilot's log book.
Big Spring Aircraft is a modern Piper Flite Center using the ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Building permits issued in Albuquerque during 1970 totaled $104,278,327, according to Robert Biddle, building division superintendent.

The total surpassed the previous record year, 1969, by more than $30 million.
The 1970 total included $61 million in new housing construction, said Biddle.
"It all exceeded my wildest expectations," Biddle said of the new dollar mark.

English Speaking
DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — More than half of the policemen in West Germany's most populous state of North Rhine-Westphalia have some knowledge of English, a study showed. Of the 31,000 policemen in the state, 4,120 said they speak French and 350 had some knowledge of Russian.

standardized Piper method of flight instruction.
Several local businessmen and ranchers have learned to fly to facilitate business transactions. They can set their own schedules without depending on commercial airlines.
Learning to fly can also open the door to numerous related job opportunities such as flying commercial planes, flight instructor or charter service.
Big Spring Aircraft uses the Piper Cherokee for training. Its extra power, better cruising speed and five hour fuel capacity makes it the ideal trainer. The low wing design makes the center of gravity lower, giving more stability on takeoff and landing.
A fast, convenient air charter service is also offered by Big Spring Aircraft. In the time it might take you to drive to one out-of-town destination, BSA's charter service can fly you to two or three in a comfortable reliable Piper Cherokee Six.
Continually updating their equipment, Big Spring Aircraft recently acquired the twin-engine Aerocommander 500 A executive-type aircraft. Now in the process of training pilots to fly the craft, BSA plans to start charter service with the plane in the future.
Whether interested in learning to fly or in need of a quick, efficient method of transportation, Big Spring Aircraft, located at the Howard County Airport, phone 263-8444, is the place to go.

Marines Of 3rd Division Ready For Landing In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines of the 3rd Division have returned to the Vietnam war for the first time in more than a year, poised for combat should the North Vietnamese charge across the Demilitarized Zone in retaliation for the South Vietnamese campaign in Laos.

A helicopter carrier and other ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet brought a 1,500-man landing team with tanks and artillery from the division headquarters on Okinawa to the coast below the DMZ.

ABOARD SHIP

The Marines remained aboard the ships, ready for a landing to reinforce U.S. and South Vietnamese troops should the Communists launch an offensive with elements of three North Vietnamese divisions believed to be within striking distance of the DMZ.

Nine thousand U.S. troops that normally operate along the DMZ were moved west to the Laotian border last week to act as a blocking force for the 10,000 South Vietnamese troops that have crossed into Laos in a campaign to cut the Ho Chi Minh trail. Another 3,000 to 5,000 South Vietnamese troops were shifted to the east this week, to protect the eastern border of the DMZ.

BUFFER ZONE

The 3rd Marine Division once patrolled the rugged mountainous jungle below the buffer zone. It was withdrawn from Vietnam in November, 1969.

In the Laotian operation, South Vietnamese headquarters announced that its forces had captured six Russian trucks used by the North Vietnamese, 14 82mm mortars and four 122mm rocket launchers.

South Vietnamese troops who Wednesday occupied the town of Sepone, 25 miles inside the Laotian panhandle, reported they blew up two large ammunition dumps on their drive to the town. There was no announcement of the amount of ammunition in the dumps.

The allied commands said Sepone was a major supply center and transshipment point on the enemy supply network from North Vietnam down to Cambodia and South Vietnam.

GROUND FIGHTING

The drive into Laos was in its fourth day, but still no major ground fighting was reported. South Vietnamese headquarters said its total losses were 20 killed and 60 wounded compared with 60 enemy killed, while field reports put U.S. losses at 13 killed, two missing and 47 wounded.

READY FOR COMBAT — A helicopter carrier and other ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet brought a 1,500-Marine landing team from Okinawa to the South Vietnamese coast below the demilitarized zone. Marines remained aboard the ships, ready for a possible charge across the DMZ by the North Vietnamese.

North Vietnamese tracked vehicles, apparently armored personnel carriers and light amphibious tanks, the pilots reported. Two of the vehicles were wrecked by the helicopters' rockets, the reports said.

A South Vietnamese helicopter carrying four foreign news photographers and seven other persons was shot down Wednesday over the Ho Chi Minh trail, and all 11 men were missing and presumed dead.

They included three of the best known combat photographers of the war: Henri Huet, 43, of The Associated Press; Larry Burrows, 44, of Life magazine; and Kent Potter, 24, of United Press International.

Others aboard were Keisaburo Shimamoto of Tokyo, a Japanese photographer on assignment for Newsweek; a Vietnamese army photographer; two senior Vietnamese officers and the four crewmen.

SHOT DOWN — A second South Vietnamese helicopter was shot down at the same time, and its four crew-men were killed. It was not known if it was carrying any passengers. The U.S. Command reported that 24 American servicemen were killed in action last week, the lowest weekly total in nearly two months. Another 19 Americans died of nonhostile causes, and 367 were wounded in action, the command said.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 34 government troops killed in action last week, while the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands claimed 1,770 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed.

In Cambodia, more than 300 miles south of the Laotian theater of operation, South Vietnamese forces fought at half a dozen points along Highways 1 and 7, which lead into South Vietnam from Phnom Penh and the rubber plantation town of Suong.

South Vietnamese losses in the six fights were 21 killed and 67 wounded, including seven marines killed and 19 wounded in the ambush.

Communist forces also fired four rockets into the outskirts of Phnom Penh early today after an attack on a Cambodian navy headquarters on the Mekong River near the capital. A Cambodian military spokesman said the attack was driven off after an all-night battle, and neither the attack nor the shelling caused casualties or damage.

Cool Front Will Grow

By The Associated Press

Southerly winds and cloudiness developed over Texas today, providing relief from chilly conditions earlier in the week.

Showers formed along the Gulf Coast as warm breezes flowed toward South Texas.

Forecasters said a cold front would grow from a low pressure trough over the Panhandle and western regions of the state, reaching coastal sections by Friday.

The cold air mass was expected to clear skies in its wake while triggering showers in the eastern half of the state.

Temperatures near dawn today were mostly in the 40s and 50s.

Most of Texas basked in sunshine Thursday afternoon. The top readings ranged from 71 degrees at Wink, Childress and Corpus Christi down to 57 at Galveston.

National Forests Hit With 15,000 Big Fires

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Forest Service says the country's national forests were hit with 15,000 fires that burned 555,831 acres in 1970.

A report by Edward P. Cliff, chief of the Forest Service said also seven firefighters lost their lives and damage to natural resources reached untold millions of dollars.

Cliff's annual report showed acreage burned was the highest since 1934 when a total of 706,500 acres were destroyed while the number of separate fires was the most since 1961 when 15,160 were recorded.

Two Pacific coast states, Washington and California, suffered most from fires in national forests. In the two states 5,700 fires burned over 426,000 acres, the worst total in their history.

In late August and September, lightning and drought combined to set off fires in the Okanogan and Wenatchee National Forests of northern Washington that

Census Shows 'Hot' Trend Toward Racial Separation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Census profile shows the socially explosive trend toward racial separation accelerated in the nation's largest urban areas during the last decade, with no letup evident for the future.

The dramatic increase toward increasingly white-dominated suburbs ringing black inner cities was noted in figures released Wednesday concerning the nation's 67 largest metropolitan areas.

Four central cities wound up the 1960s with populations more than half black—Washington, D.C., with 71.1 per cent Negro, Atlanta with 51.3 per cent, Newark, N.J., with 54.2 per cent, and Gary, Ind., with 52.8 per cent.

BLACKS RULE — The 1960 Census counted only one city, Washington, D.C., where blacks outnumbered whites.

"Increases in the black populations of the central cities proved to be both large and widespread, thus changing the racial mixture substantially," the report said.

The report showed 54.1 million whites, an increase of 12.4 million over 1960, now live in the suburbs of the 67 urban areas.

Negroes in the suburbs numbered 2.5 million, an increase of only 762,000 over 10 years ago for a gain of three-tenths of one per cent.

At the same time, the number of blacks in the core cities climbed 3.4 million to a total of 12.5 million. The white population of the central cities dropped by 2.5 million to 39.8 million.

The continued growth of the urban areas along racial lines was cited two years ago by the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence as a dangerous social trend.

"The poverty and social isolation of minority groups in central cities is the single most serious problem of the American City today," the report said.

In 1968, the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders said the flight of more affluent whites to the suburbs create a fourfold dilemma for the core cities.

But, it said, each tax dollar buys less because of increasing costs, causing citizen unrest.

Ford Failed To Report $11,500 In Donations

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford failed to report $11,500 in campaign contributions last fall from stock brokers, an oilman, bankers, doctors and a union group.

Instead, the checks given to Ford were detoured through Republican headquarters here while roughly the same amount — $12,233 — was being fed back to Ford's district to pay off post-election debts.

TWO-STEP DANCE

Through this two-step procedure, names of the special interest groups were not listed on Ford's sworn campaign report to Congress, although the money flowed through his hands.

The Corrupt Practices Act requires full public disclosure of all campaign contributions received with a candidate's knowledge or consent.

In an interview, Ford defended his procedures in handling campaign checks as being "within the law."

The Michigan congressman said he signed the checks over to the GOP because he had reached his state's legal limit on the money his own campaign committee could handle. He said he had no knowledge of the GOP giving back more than $12,000 to other Ford committees.

OIL 'GIFT'

Not listed on Ford's report to the House were:

— a $5,000 check from the Securities Industry Campaign Committee. The $5,000 donation to Ford was the largest single contribution made by the Wall Street stock brokers' fund.

— a $2,000 check from the Bankers Political Action Committee, whose money was refused by nearly half the intended recipients in a controversy over a pending bill on bank regulation.

— a $3,000 check from John M. Shaheen, head of a New York City oil firm with refineries in Canada, California and Arkansas.

— a $1,000 check from the political arm of the Boilermakers-Blacksmiths union with national headquarters in Kansas City, Kan.

DOCTORS HELP

— a $500 check from the Michigan Doctors Political Action Committee.

Unlike most candidates, Ford acted as treasurer of his main campaign group the "Ford for Congress Committee," and therefore was bound by the Corrupt Practices Act to file a complete report of its money dealings.

In the 45-year history of the Corrupt Practices Act, the Justice Department has never brought a court case against a congressman for campaign wrongdoing.

The $11,500 in Ford campaign contributions was turned over to the Republican Congressional Committee in a 10-day period just before and after the Nov. 3 election.

A second group, the Republican National Finance Advisory Committee, which is run by the same man at GOP headquarters, sent four checks totaling $6,760 to two other Grand Rapids committees, "Latvians for Ford" and "Veterans for Ford" last Nov. 4 and Nov. 20.

It also paid a $3,967 bill to Insight Inc., in Grand Rapids, which handled Ford's campaign advertising. And the congressional fund paid a $1,775 printing bill in Grand Rapids. Ford said he personally signed over the checks that his "Ford for Congress Committee" rerouted to the GOP.

REACHED LIMIT

"After we reached the $10,500 limit (set by Michigan law), I would endorse checks over to the congressional committee. After that, I had no knowledge of how the Latvians got their money," Ford said.

He said in past years the GOP had used the excess checks he signed over to it to help out other Republican House candidates in campaign trouble.

Ford's statement to the House listed only the first $10,500 given to the "Ford for Congress Committee."

In the interview, Ford readily acknowledged handling the additional checks. But he said he kept no account of the total number or amount.

Ford, 57, has served more than two decades in Congress and has been Republican leader since 1965. He defeated his Democratic opponent, Mrs. Jean McKee, 88,000 votes to 55,000 last fall.

TOTAL SPENDING

The records filed in the courthouse by his own campaign committee, plus Veterans for Ford, Latvians for Ford and the Greek-American Committee for Ford show a total spending of just under $40,000 when the bills

$350,000 Fire At Wolfe City

WOLFE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Flames all but destroyed a Texas Tag and Specialty Co. building Wednesday, and a company spokesman said the loss would amount to at least $350,000.

Wind blew the fire in the opposite direction and saved three other structures, one still being erected.

A company employe discovered the blaze about 1 p.m. while the 30 workers who normally would have been in the plant were away for lunch. The roof started collapsing within an hour.

The one-story building contained presses and raw and finished material.

Residents Say They Would Staff Polls

Mrs. O. R. Crow, who resides in the Gay Hill district, said Thursday that volunteers are available for operating a voting box in the school trustee election there April 3.

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District established only one box — at the high school — Tuesday in calling the election. During the discussion, trustees said the vote total in the box would not justify the expense.

"I have four volunteers — Mrs. S. C. Rhoton Jr., Lloyd Underwood, O. R. Crow and me — who will hold the election for free, if the district is so hard up. I can get a dozen more if necessary. There are a lot of elderly people and farmers here who don't feel like making a trip all the way to town just to vote. If they had a box nearer home they would take part, just as everybody should. The district took our money. I hope they will let us have a voting box."

College Student Teaches Locally

Katherine Dendy, Big Spring, is among the 80 seniors at Hardin-Simmons University who are student teaching in Abilene and area schools during the spring semester. She is instructing in math at Big Spring High.

Other area student teachers are Aurora Cardona, Lamesa, second grade at Fannin Elementary, Abilene; Elizabeth Cochran, Lamesa, Spanish at Abilene High; Erick Conrad, Colorado City, biology at Abilene High; Carlene Hammack, Colorado City, history at Abilene High.

Connally Hails Nixon's Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his first speech as Treasury Secretary, John Connally said Wednesday night that President Nixon's revenue-sharing plan for state is superior to other proposals.

The former Texas governor spoke to a closed meeting of the Business Council. Excerpts of his speech were made public by the Treasury Department.

"Federal tax credits would provide no immediate help and would create an awkward federal-state problem," he said of another suggestion. "Thirteen states have no income tax and a federal tax credit probably would require state legislative action for full implementation."

Status Of Women Bill Steams Up Skepticism

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate State Affairs Committee has approved a bill that would create a 9-member Texas Commission on the Status of Women.

The bill was unanimously approved Wednesday. Sen. H.J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock voted for the bill despite his skepticism over plans for a two-man staff for the commission.

"I'll buy every woman in this room the finest meal in the finest town in Texas if in five years it doesn't have 25 employees," Blanchard said.

"I certainly hope if you stay in the Senate you won't vote for the appropriation (to pay for that many employees)," said Mrs. Margaret Brand Smith of Dallas, chairman of the governor's Commission on the Status of Women.

"You'll find the secretary needs a helper and he needs a mailboy and he needs an assistant," Blanchard said. Several women leaders spoke in favor of the bill, which is sponsored by Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas.

Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston, the only woman in the Senate, said: "We'd like to have some say on how we're going to be helped."

Mrs. Louise B. Raggio of Dallas, secretary of the Governor's Commission on the Status of Women, said there are many women with special qualifications and training who would like to volunteer their services but they need a "focusing agency to know what the needs are."

Mrs. Geraldine Eidson of Fort Worth, president of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, said such a commission "will encourage more women to become effective in their community."

Regulatory Agencies Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Presidential Advisory Council on Executive Organization said today powerful federal regulatory agencies "are not sufficiently accountable for their actions" and proposed stripping some of their autonomy.

The council recommended single administrators run agencies that now use multimember commissions to regulate among other things, transportation, power, stocks and bonds and consumer protection.

WATCHDOGS

President Nixon released his council's report without comment, but said he wanted the council to study reaction to it.

Following evaluation of the reaction, Nixon said: "I will recommend to the Congress . . . those reforms that appear desirable and in the public interest."

The council headed by Roy L. Ash, president of Litton Industries, excluded communications regulation and antitrust enforcement from single-administrator rule. Watchdogs in these areas would be multimember bodies, but changed from their present system.

The reorganization plan would put the regulatory agencies on a level similar to Cabinet posts. The president would appoint, and the Senate confirm, the administrators.

To ease the decision-making burden of proposed single administrators, the council recommended that in many cases initial decisions of agency examiners become final with the administrator reviewing only on appeal. Appeals from final agency decisions would be heard by a proposed administrative court.

CASE-BY-CASE

The council recommended also that much of the case-by-case adjudication now conducted by the multimember commissions be eliminated.

The report said the various agencies, set up on a largely autonomous basis over the past century, are often out of step with the times and " . . . not sufficiently accountable for their actions to either the Congress or the President because of the degree of their independence and remoteness in practice from those constitutional branches of government."

"Regulatory activities, therefore, are not adequately supported," the council added, "and are not effectively coordinated with national policy goals."

The agencies, beginning with the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1887, were set up on a

Paperwork Pains

MONTREAL (AP) — Nicole Beland-Marchak, a Montreal nursing supervisor, says nurses sympathize with patients who feel they are treated as nothing more than numbers, and they want to abandon their administrative roles for the traditional position of caring for people.

The golden age of nursing was the Florence Nightingale era, she says, and nurses are tired of being relegated "to paperwork."

License Tag Notice Must Stay Intact

"Do not separate or detach any parts of this notice," say the large letters on the reverse side of the automobile three-part registration notices mailed to owners.

So what do the owners do? Pull the forms apart, naturally. Usually they keep one part of the form and send the rest. But Texas Highway Department officials stress that the entire form must be mailed in or brought to the county tax office or substation. A stick down strip showing the new license number will be attached to all sections of the form and the tax office will separate the form, returning the license receipt to the owner.

Motor vehicle owners still can obtain their 1971 license plates by mail if they send in the entire three-part form, their registration fee and $1 for handling to their county tax officer during February. That allows the month of March for the application to be processed and the license plates returned before the April 1 deadline for displaying the new plates.

During the month of March, it will be necessary for owners to apply in person at the county tax office or substation for 1971 license plates.

In either case, owners will save themselves time and trouble by using the new computerized application. You won't need your title certificate or last year's registration receipt.

But, remember, leave the three parts of the registration application intact.

Falling Bastion

LONDON (AP) — Another male bastion may fall to the fair sex. Scotland Yard hopes to recruit two women police constables to handle Labrador dogs sniffing out drugs.

Chill Sweeps Deep South

By The Associated Press
A freezing chill clung to much of the Deep South today, but warm winds pushed a mid-winter thaw into a large part of the midcontinent.

Despite some moderation in other sections of the Southeast, parts of southern Florida were colder before daybreak than the central Rockies. A 46 at Miami compared with 49 at Denver. Tallahassee had 21 shortly after midnight.

AWARD WINNING CHANGES — Residents and businessmen of Leavenworth, Wash., a town of 1,600 in the Cascade Mountains, secured their own financing and voluntarily remodeled downtown buildings on a Bavarian Alpine theme. The bottom scene shows the town's main street in 1953 after what one resident called "a decade of decay." The same scene today recently won national recognition from the U.S. Department of Transportation for showing the compatibility of highways and the environment.

Beer Cans Hint New Texas Brag

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas may be the biggest consumer of beer per capita in the United States—if their trash tells the story, says a pollution research group.

According to a national survey recently conducted among housewives, it was indicated that the homemakers of this state dispose of more beer cans per capita than any other state.

The survey was made by Scientific Pollution Control Corp. The survey was to graph a chart of the nation's major waste items as a guide to governments and industry in working out the most efficient disposal methods.

Theodore Kaish, president of SPC, noted, for example, that "...while collection of waste per week is now less frequent than in previous years, at the same time, consumer consumption of goods of all types is increasing." He adds that it "necessitates the greatest amount of organization in handling waste both at its source and for collection."

Texas residents dispose of 104 million cans of beer per year or, based on adult population figure —15 cans each adult per year.

Other survey findings:

Discarded washing machines lead all household bulk waste.

Discarded containers of cosmetics including metal and plastics outrank containers of medicines and vitamins.

Families of higher income, $10,000 per year and over, accumulate less waste than lower income families.

Married couples without children accumulate more trash than families with children.

There is a striking correlation in the frequency of disposal of hairspray cans and champagne bottles.

'Pudgy' Tires Measure Rolls To Senate

AUSTIN (AP) — A bill that would require car tires to have at least 1-16th of an inch of tread to pass the annual vehicle inspection has been approved by the Senate jurisprudence committee.

The committee gave unanimous approval to the bill and sent it to the Senate floor for debate.

Also included in the bill, sponsored by Sen. O. H. "Ike" Harris of Dallas, are inspections of directional signals and windshields and reinspections of vehicles or trailers after they have been damaged.

Joe White, Department of Public Safety technician, showed a film in which a car with good tires took 160 feet to stop on wet pavement at 40 miles an hour, whereas a car with slick tires took 225 feet.

"Tires have been a leading factor in vehicle defects for a number of years," White said.

Sen. William Moore of Bryan said the way to reduce automobile insurance rates was through the Harris bill.

The committee also approved a bill by Sen. Murray Watson of Waco that would allow a man accused of a felony to waive the right to a grand jury indictment in non-capital cases.

Watson said accused persons sometimes are unable to make bond and have to stay in jail up to six months waiting for the next grand jury to convene.

A subcommittee approved and sent to the full committee a bill by Sen. Mike McKool of Dallas that would make common law marriages between underage persons voidable.

McKool said an attorney general's opinion on the family code passed by the 1969 Legislature held that boys between 16 and 19 and girls between 14 and 18 could file with county clerks a declaration of marriage without their parents' consent.

Oil Well Fire Costs $30 Million

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Shell Oil Co. said today that an 11-week-old fire at its platform 10 miles off the Louisiana coast has cost the company nearly $30 million.

A company spokesman said the cost of killing the wells set ablaze by the Dec. 1 explosion was about $210,000 daily with no prospects of bringing the fire under control until mid-March.

The loss to the platform alone was estimated at $15 million.

The platform, long since melted to the level of the Gulf of Mexico, had connections with 22 oil and gas wells. Ten caught fire and the others apparently were shut off by automatic safety valves.

Mobil rigs have drilled relief wells to kill off five wells.

By the time the other five are brought under control Shell expects to spend another $5 million.

Houston's Toll Road Idea Nixed

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston City Council unanimously rejected Mayor Louie Welch's resolution authorizing construction of a toll road through the city's east end.

The Texas Highway Department said two weeks ago it would be more than 10 years before a freeway could be constructed in the area. The toll road could be built in about four years, Welch said, and could be paid for and become a freeway in that time, Welch said last week.

Councilman Frank Mancuso, who represents the area, said he has had thousands of letters against the project and not one for it.

'Gold' Falls From Pecan Trees On Texas Pen Farm

SUGAR LAND, Tex. (AP) — Texas convicts pick up thousands of dollars for the state treasury each year when the pecans start to fall.

"It's like picking up gold," says Tom M. Drew, marketing agent for the Texas Department of Corrections.

The "gold" falls from hundreds of thousands of pecan trees on farm acreage that makes up the Texas prison farm system.

The pecan trees aren't cultivated. They grow in abundance along dark bottom land and are left to themselves until it's time to harvest the pecans.

Some years the inmates gather up to 200,000 pounds of pecans, Drew says. Other years the crop is not so good.

"This was a short season," he says, "with only about 80,000 pounds of pecans."

The small size pecans are favored by the pecan food industry because of their high oil content and flavorful meat.

Makers of candy, cookies, cakes and ice cream submit sealed bids for the pecans.

Ten thousand pounds of pecans were kept for the prison system this season and the rest

He Refuses To Set Bond

HOUSTON (AP) — A marathon hearing closed its 19th day when Dist. Judge Dan E. Walton refused to set bond for Auerlino Silva, charged with murder in the beating death of a real estate saleswoman.

The hearing opened Jan. 4, as Silva's attorneys attempted to get bond set or the 20-year-old house painter indicted in the Nov. 17 beating death of Mrs. June Grove Gleason, 36.

During the hearing Judge Walton also ruled that a statement Silva gave sheriff's officers about the crime would be admitted into evidence. Silva had claimed he had not given the statement voluntarily but had done so after officers allegedly said they would beat him unless he confessed to the crime.

A trial date for Silva has not been set.

Horse(y) Claim

HOUSTON (AP) — L. B. Harris of Houston said he wants the city of Houston to reimburse him for his horse.

He filed a claim seeking $500, charging that a city surveying crew knocked down a fence and that the horse ran free and was killed by a car.

The city council denied the claim on the advice of the city legal department.

He Feels 'At Ease' With Her

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Mrs. George C. Wallace, the vivacious, dark-eyed brunette who is Alabama's new first lady, says the governor wooed her with "that old-time kind of courting."

"It was last spring when he first started courting," said Cornelia Wallace, 32, who married the 51-year-old Wallace, widower and the father of four, two weeks before his inauguration Jan. 18.

"He came to the house with his children but we didn't go out much. Frankly, neither of us wanted to be exposed to all the publicity."

"His children were promoting us. He was very depressed after Lurleen's death and they were worried about him," she said. "They had a lot to do with us getting married."

Mrs. Wallace, smartly clad in a grey wool dress and high black boots, spoke warmly in an interview of the governor's first wife, Lurleen, who died May 8, 1968, after a two-year bout with cancer.

Lurleen succeeded Wallace as governor when his first term expired in January, 1967, and became the first woman in Alabama and the third in the nation to head a state government.

"George felt comfortable with me," said the new first lady. "We've always known each other."

IN TUNE — Mrs. George Wallace, who says her husband feels "comfortable" with her, plays her guitar at the Governor's Mansion in Montgomery, Ala. The new first lady of Alabama sings and plays country and western music. She has written several folk ballads. Mrs. Wallace now confines her music to family relaxation.

Arts-Crafts Sessions Will Precede Exhibit

Two special meetings on arts and crafts, to prepare for the May exhibit, have been scheduled by the Airport Home Demonstration Club. The first will be held at 1:30 p.m., Feb. 12 in the home of Mrs. B. A. Bunn, and the second will be held in March. The announcement was made at last week's meeting in the agent's office with Mrs. Bill Gaskins as hostess and Mrs. Roy Spivey giving the devotion. Mrs. Gaskins gave the council delegate's report.

The program, "Just in Case You Think You're Normal," was given by the HD agent, Mrs. Delaine Crawford. She presented a speech by Dr. Murray Banks outlining what makes a well-adjusted person. He suggested making the most of what one has, having new and interesting goals, living each day as though it were the last, not being a perfectionist, knowing how to live with yourself and having the ability to laugh at life. He concluded by saying that a well-adjusted person has an "educated heart."

Mrs. Gaskins demonstrated the making of two kinds of flowers; the first made of bread slices and white glue shaped like small roses. The second arrangement was roses made of three-inch squares of satin and corduroy.

FSA Hears Advice On Civil Service

Bill Brooks, chief of personnel at the Veterans Administration Hospital, detailed what civil service offers for secretaries when he was guest speaker Tuesday evening for the Future Secretaries Association. The meeting was held at Howard County Junior College with Charlotte Brown presiding.

Dr. Smith Gives Talk On 'Vision'

"Vision involves a lot more than seeing 20-20," said Dr. Harold Smith Tuesday evening as he explained the seeing process to the Gay Hill Parent-Teacher Association.

The guest speaker's talk was followed by a playlet, "Room for All," by Mrs. George Archer's fifth and sixth grade classes. They also won the room.

Mrs. Jack Brown, district vice president, announced that the PTA spring conference will be held March 29 at Sacred Heart Youth Center, Big Spring. Registration will begin at 9 a.m.

Elected to the nominating committee were Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Mrs. S. C. Rhoton Jr. and Mrs. F. C. June. Another committee, appointed to choose a Life Membership recipient, is comprised of Mrs. Hollis Puckett, Mrs. Jack Buchanan and Mrs. Archer. George Archer issued an invitation for people to visit Head Start at any time. Prayer was led by Mrs. Archer. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Dois Ray, Mrs. R. L. Guevara and Mrs. Dell McGuire.

The next meeting will be held at 2 p.m., March 5, in observance of Texas Public School Week.

Relates Origin Of Valentine's Day

The origin of Valentine's Day was related by Mrs. Marion Mangum Tuesday evening at a meeting of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 in the IOOF Hall.

The program was dedicated to the lodge mother, Mrs. Gene Crenshaw, and the lodge sweetheart, Leroy Unger.

In observance of the anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday, a brief biography was presented by Mrs. Mary Brown. Mrs. T. V. Neal, noble grand, presented and Mrs. Earl Wilson presented a grand lodge certificate for a perfect semi-annual report. The presentation was by Mrs. A. G. Hall, lodge deputy. Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the valentine motif.

CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS

By Ted Hatfield

Every successful business is based upon public confidence and good will. These things cannot be bought. They must be earned.

The public knows that certain stores are recognized as "reputable" and others are not.

And what is the secret ingredient of this important thing which every store wants — a good reputation? It is many things. It is reflected in everything the owner and his employees do in their business dealings and even in their civic and social activities.

It is the way the phone is answered. It is created by the type of advertising a firm does; by the service given to customers; by the manner complaints are handled; by the courteous and helpful attention given to customers by everyone from the sales people to the delivery men; by those little things "above and beyond the call of duty" which every customer remembers — and every good business man tries to do.

And, of course, it is the big things — good merchandise, fair prices, and integrity. You just can't beat this combination.

Production Gain Despite Cutback

Despite a sharp cutback in mining and industrial deliveries, The Colorado River Municipal Water District still showed a slight gain in production during January.

Cities took 722,562,000 gallons, a gain of 58.27 per cent for the month. A good part of this was represented in the 224,964,000 gallons going to Midland, which was not a customer a year ago. Mining and industrial users accounted for 183,569,741 gallons, down 60.70 per cent from January, 1970.

Odesa used 272,400,000 gallons, up 11.21 per cent; Big Spring 167,104,000, up 4.88; Snyder 56,209,000; Stanton 1,835,000, down 5.52; and Midland 224,964,000.

Of the 183,569,000 gallons going to the oil companies and industries, about 138 million, or roughly 75 per cent, was in low quality of non-potable water. An example of this was in the 88 million gallons produced from salt water wells for SACROC.

Prisoner Suffered 'Too Many Bruises To Count'

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A medical examiner has testified that a 24-year-old prisoner suffered 16 multiple fractures of the ribs before he died two years ago in the Bexar County jail at San Antonio.

Bexar County Medical Examiner Ruben Santos testified Wednesday at the murder trial of Alfred Garza Jr. Garza and six others are charged in the Aug. 9, 1969, death of Michael B. Perkins in a jail cell.

Santos said an autopsy also revealed Perkins had "too many bruises to count," massive hemorrhaging of the chest, punctures of both lungs and cuts to the liver and intestines.

Judge H. A. Garcia overruled a defense request and allowed that pictures taken of Perkins' body before the autopsy could be presented in court.

15 million from the diversion of highly mineralized water from the river above Colorado City.

Total production for the month, reported Paschall Odom, assistant general manager, was 906,131,741 gallons, an increase of 1.38 per cent over January a year ago.

drawn in two rounds ending up in the dummy and the queen of hearts was trumped out. Having completed his stripping operations, he now exited with the ten of diamonds. If the defenders thought that he was out of diamonds, they might be persuaded to make a favorable return.

West carefully followed to declarer's diamond play with the three, permitting his partner to win the trick with the queen. East had been watching the spots closely and observing that his partner had led the five originally. He was quick to note that the four of diamonds was missing. Mentally assigning that card to the declarer, East exited with the deuce of diamonds. South was obliged to play the clubs himself and, eventually, he had to concede a trick in the suit.

The defender's alertness is certainly to be commended, but it is our opinion that declarer's approach was distinctly naive, inasmuch as he had a true endplay for his contract. After winning the diamond lead, he should draw trump immediately and then finesse the queen of hearts.

When the finesse works, he can discard a diamond from his hand on the ace of hearts. The last heart is ruffed and, when South exits with ten of diamonds, he will now force the opponents to either open up the club suit or else give him a ruff-and-suff. By the simple device of playing for split club honors, he can avoid losing a trick in the suit, and his slam will come home.

'NO DEFENDANT IS DISMISSED FROM THIS CASE' SEC Injunction Bid Against Carr Nixed

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Securities and Exchange Commission lawyers aimed their big guns at Aug. 30 today after U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes refused Wednesday to put former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr under a preliminary injunction.

The SEC's civil action against Carr, Michael Ling, John Osorio and others ended with the judge declaring, however, that Carr and the 24 other defendants were not released from the suit.

consented to take permanent injunctions. These included Joseph Novotny, Dallas Bank & Trust Co. and City Bank & Trust Co. of Dallas.

Of Carr, Judge Hughes said, "The evidence does not establish that he was a knowing member of any conspiracy."

She did, however, enjoin on one count Ling, founder of now defunct Ling & Co., a Dallas stock brokerage firm, and Osorio, absent former president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. and Carr's one-time law partner.

3. Enjoined Osorio, Nashwood, South Atlantic Co., FLAP, Inc., and Hoover from employing any manipulative devices in any transaction which would operate as a fraud or deceit upon purchasers under the Securities Act.

4. Enjoined Michael F. Ling from violating provisions of the Securities Act prohibiting the sale of unregistered National Bankers Life, Master Control and Olympic Life Insurance Co. stock.

conclusive evidence" that Carr had sold unregistered stock or "intended to be a co-conspirator in a scheme to manipulate the various stocks involved."

But he was, she observed, "intimately involved in a financial empire linked to defendant Frank W. Sharp through loans and through a specific individual."

She pointed out that Carr with Osorio, owned 51 per cent of the defendant South Atlantic Corp., he was "a control person" in City Bank and Trust of Dallas, one of the financial institutions providing capital to other defendants, and through the South Atlantic he owned an interest in the Dallas Bank and Trust, which provided capital for some of the defendants.

"Carr testified that at the request of Osorio he spoke with several members of the Texas Legislature about banking legislation sought by defendants," Judge Hughes went on. "Carr has denied any detailed knowledge of the operations of the various companies involved, despite his considerable financial interest therein, and has specifically denied any knowledge of a conspiracy or intent to participate in one. The evidence does not establish that he was a knowing member of any conspiracy."

CONSPIRACY?

"No defendant is dismissed from this case which will be heard on its merits for a permanent injunction Aug. 30," the judge ruled.

Three defendants of the 28 originally charged by the SEC on Jan. 18 with violation of securities regulations and attempting to influence state legislator

SPECIFIC RULINGS

The specific rulings included:

1. Enjoined Osorio, the Nashwood Corp., FLAP, Inc., H.E. McCain and David Hoover from violating sections of the Securities Act regarding the sale of unregistered National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.
2. Enjoined South Atlantic Co. from violating the same provisions by selling unregistered

NO EVIDENCE

5. The injunction petition was denied with reference to the employment of manipulative devices on the part of McCain under the Securities Act.

6. Injunction was denied with reference to the employment of manipulative devices on the part of Michael Ling.

7. Injunction was denied as to Waggoner Carr.

The judge held there was "no

JUST THE FACTS

Carr denied in his testimony that he had detailed knowledge about operations of the various companies concerned.

"I said with confidence at the beginning I always felt that, if I could get the facts known, that the decision would be favorable as it is at this time," the former state official said.

In her findings at the end of the three-day hearing, Judge Hughes found there had been violations of the Securities Act by Osorio, Nashwood Corp., FLAP, Inc., H. E. McCain, David Hoover, and the South Atlantic

'A CONTROL PERSON'

"With reference to Waggoner Carr," Judge Hughes said, "though there is no conclusive evidence which shows that he sold unregistered stock or intended to be a co-conspirator in a scheme to manipulate the various stocks involved, he was intimately involved in a financial empire lined to defendant Sharp, through loans and through specific individuals."

Press Meeting Set Feb. 19-20

ALPINE — More than 100 newsmen, editors and publishers are expected to attend the 22nd annual Mid-Winter meeting of the West Texas Press Association Feb. 19-20 at Sul Ross State University.

Featured speaker will be Justice Truman Roberts, judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, speaking on "People, Law and Courts."

The association is made up of approximately 110 daily, weekly and semi-weekly newspapers in the western half of the state — from Fort Worth to El Paso and from Fredericksburg to the Panhandle, according to Bob Craig of Hamlin, WTPA secretary-treasurer.

Registration 4-6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 19, will be held in the Highland Motor Inn, while most of the business and program sessions will be conducted in the SRSU Little Theatre of the Fine Arts Building.

Program sessions begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 20.

Marine Art Display Due

An exhibition of Marine combat art will be on display all next week in the Howard County Free Library.

There are 46 paintings in the collection, part of a two-year national tour of Marine art selected from over 900 paintings, sculptures, photographs selected for exhibits.

The show here is under the auspices of the Friends of the Library and Col. Harold L. Davis, USMC (res.).

While some of the art is of combat situations, much of it reflects the locale and people as well as the Marines.

Those who have works on exhibition all spent tours of active duty in the field. Some of the civilians took short tours and some extended over months, and Marine regulars did this as part of their duty.

The display will arrive here Saturday for posting and will be shown to the public starting Monday and continuing through Friday (Feb. 19).

First Aid Meet Set Saturday

Twenty-six first aid teams from 11 Scout troops have registered for the Lone Star district first aid meet here Saturday.

Teams from units in Howard, Sterling and Glascock counties are set for the judging which will be held from 2 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the Goliad Junior High gym.

The public is invited to witness the meet, and Cub Scouts and their leaders along with non-participating Scouts, leaders and parents are especially urged to witness the teams in action.

There will be four problems for each team. These will be taken from the following list: leg and arm fractures, open wound with bleeding, snake or insect bite, body burns, shock and fainting, sprains and transportation (physical).

Scouts will be expected to administer to the injured as outlined in the first aid merit badge pamphlet and the Scout handbook. Teams will be in competition with a Scout standard and not with other teams. Ribbons will be awarded to all teams on their level of achievement.

Paul Soidan will be in charge of the meet, assisted by Frosty Robison, vice chairman. Capt. John Millhollon will be in charge of the 30 team judges, and S. Sgt. Marc. O. Luttrell will be the chief recorder.

Astronauts About Ready For Flight To Houston

ABOARD USS NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Apollo 14's moon astronauts today fly off this recovery carrier to Samoa and transfer to a plane for a flight to Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center.

Alan B. Shepard Jr., Edgar D. Mitchell and Stuart A. Roosa depart the ship when the New Orleans steams within helicopter range of Pago Pago, American Samoa.

The astronauts have been quarantined in a trailer-like isolation van aboard the ship since they were plucked from the South Pacific Tuesday after a bull's-eye landing that climaxed man's third moon-landing mission.

SPECIAL MASKS

For the helicopter transfer they wore special biological masks to prevent them exhaling germs.

At Pago Pago they move into another quarantine van aboard a C141 jet transport for a trip

Houston, arriving about 1 a.m. Friday.

They will be quarantined in the Lunar Receiving Laboratory until Feb. 26 with 12 other persons including engineers, medical technicians and cooks.

Apollo 14's isolation might be the last for astronauts returning from the moon. It was ordered for this mission, just as it was for Apollos 11 and 12, because the astronauts visited a new type of lunar terrain. Some scientists believe that the ancient Fra Mauro highlands where Shepard and Mitchell explored could possibly harbor organisms that don't live in the relatively flat plains where earlier astronauts landed.

LAST ONE

"We certainly hope this will be the last one," said Dr. Robert Gilruth, Center medical director. "We have found no evidence of any living organisms whatsoever in both Apollo 11 and 12 and we learned from the Russians that they also found nothing in their Luna 16."

Riding in the quarantine van with the astronauts are Dr. William Carpenter, a space agency flight surgeon, and R. H. Culbertson, an engineer.

Carpenter is conducting extensive medical exams on the spacemen. He reported preliminary results show them in excellent health.

NO WEIGHT LOSS

Shepard and Mitchell, who made two moonwalks totaling more than nine hours, returned to earth with no appreciable weight loss. But Roosa, who orbited the moon alone while the other two were exploring below, lost eight to 10 pounds, the doctor reported.

Roosa, who completed the nine-day journey without a scratch, was cut slightly when he bumped his head against one of the low ceilings in the van. The Apollo 14 command ship Kitty Hawk was placed next to

Environmental Package Sent To Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has sent Congress wide-ranging proposals designed to purify the nation's waters and reduce the din created by the nation's technology.

The package of environmental bills includes a plea for $6 billion for a three year program to construct water treatment facilities, and authority for the federal government to muffle the silence-shattering shrieks, snarls and rumblings of construction and transportation equipment.

Some congressmen criticized Nixon's previous request for spending $1 billion this year on municipal waste treatment facilities as too little.

Nixon's proposals submitted to Congress Wednesday call for $2 billion to be spent annually over the next three years on waste treatment facilities, with greater flexibility to distribute the money where it is most needed.

A companion measure would create the Environmental Financing Authority to help cities raise matching funds by selling federal bonds to underwrite local bond issues.

In addition, the federal government would be given expanded authority to strengthen existing federal-state water quality standards applicable to include virtually all U.S. waters instead of being confined to interstate waters. Citizens could bring suit to force compliance.

Nixon also proposed banning waste dumping in the oceans, coastal waters and Great Lakes without a federal permit. And the Environmental Protection Agency would be given authority to prohibit all dumping of such toxic substances as mercury into the nation's waters.

Another funding measure would triple federal aid to state and regional water pollution control programs.

Nixon also requested authority to set noise standards on construction and transportation equipment and gasoline-powered machinery. The sole expectation would be aircraft which are already regulated.

Nixon proposed toughening pesticide controls by permitting the federal government to spill out in detail their uses, and to ban the sale or seize any pesticide used in violation of federal regulations.

On matters relating to the land, the President proposed state or federal certification for construction and location of power plants and transmission lines, with location plans requiring five years advance notice.

Funds from the sale of surplus lands should be diverted from the Land and Water Conservation Fund, Nixon said, and used to buy recreation lands in or near cities.

Another pair of measures would permit local governments receiving historic federal lands to maintain them with money-making activities on the property, and increase federal insurance for rehabilitation of historic residences.

HOW WE MAKE EXTRA SURE SAFEWAY BRAND FOODS ARE ALWAYS SOLD FRESH

(Dates on packages? We've used them for years!)

Many of our perishable foods (such as meats, eggs, dairy and bakery products) sell so fast at Safeway they are on and off our shelves in a matter of hours. This rapid turnover, plus modern packaging and refrigeration, are big reasons why freshness is assured when you shop Safeway. But Safeway takes no chances. All perishable foods which Safeway manufactures or processes also carry a date which our store people use to make absolutely certain that only fresh foods are sold at Safeway. Here, for example, is how the date looks on a carton of Safeway Brand milk:

This date, which appears on the "gable" at the top of the milk carton, tells our employees that any package which carries a date of "1-15" is not to be sold after January 15. We do this to make certain that the Safeway milk you buy will remain fresh and wholesome up to a week or more with proper home refrigeration.

Youngsters Warned Of Kite Pitfalls

Young kite flyers are urged to follow a few simple rules for their own safety, according to Don Womack, company manager for Texas Electric Service Co.

He also warned them of the danger of flying kites in the vicinity of electric power lines.

"If your kite should get caught in electric wires, call Texas Electric's Service Center at 267-6383, and someone will be sent to get it down for you," Womack said.

TESCO recommended the following safety rules for kite flying: Always use dry string, never wire or anything metallic; always use wood and paper in your kite, not wire or metal; always fly your kite on days when there is no rain; always avoid busy streets and highways while flying your kite.

Don't pull on the string or climb a power pole to loosen a snagged line; always fly your kite far from electric or power lines; always fly your kite away from TV and radio aerials.

"Posters containing these safety rules have been distributed by the company to all schools," Womack said, "so youngsters will get more fun out of flying kites and at the same time keep from getting hurt or losing their kites."

Director Says Local Rehab Center Compares Favorably

As it nears its 10th anniversary, the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center rates as one of the finest in a city of comparable size and as one of the best in this region, according to its director, Jim Thompson.

Thompson spoke to the Downtown Lions Club at its Wednesday noon meeting in the Settles. The operation, dependent in a large measure upon public support, is a far cry from its situation not so many years ago.

Thompson came here as physiotherapist and only staff member of the center 10 years ago when a wave of public support resulted in construction of a building north of the YMCA. But the plant had been raised on a fill area and, after heavy rains, began to settle and crack dangerously. It had to be abandoned and the center moved into an old house and functioned in cramped quarters.

For the past five years, however, it has expanded in the home provided by the Dora Roberts Foundation. It is, said Thompson, one of the best physical set-ups in the region, but it is in need of an addition which will cost $100,000. Only a third of this amount is now in sight.

The center, he explained, serves patients only on referral from physicians or approved agencies, in these fields: Physiotherapy (heat, water, ultrasonics, massage, prescribed exercises); speech therapy (diagnostic, and corrective procedures); audiology; learning disabilities; orthopedic clinics (for diagnostic and prescribed treatment, braces, etc.); and vocational rehabilitation.

Some cases are referred here from centers in much larger areas.

"We are not just boasting when we say that frequently people go to centers in larger cities and get the same evaluations we gave, plus a recommendation to come back home for treatment," said Thompson. Last year the center gave 205 individuals 13,726 treatments. It has a physiotherapist (hopes to get two others), speech therapist, audiologist, team for learning disabilities, and vocational rehabilitation counselor. The medical advisors organize quarterly orthopedic clinics, and volunteers provide extraordinary service of all types, he said. The budget is over $80,000, of which only $10,500 comes from the United Fund. Fees for those who can pay and insurance help in support, but some $30,000 plus must come from public support. Many clubs and groups help, including the Easter Seal chapter which has been one of the mainstays of support, he added.

Pablo Picasso Gives Up 'Guitar'

NEW YORK (AP) — Pablo Picasso has given to the Museum of Modern Art a sculpture called "Guitar," from his closely hoarded classic Cubist period collection.

The sculpture was made in 1912. A museum spokesman said Wednesday it was the only piece from the collection Picasso had ever parted with except for one small construction sold years ago to his British biographer, Roland Penrose.

"Guitar" was put together out of sheet metal and wire.

'Scandalous John' Dies

STAMFORD, Tex. (AP) — "Scandalous John" Selmon, who didn't stop working as a cowboy until he was 84 years old, is dead.

Formally named John Calvin Selmon, he began his range career with the 225,000-acre Swenson (SMS) Ranch as a teen-ager, later becoming a foreman, and was one of the most widely respected cattlemen in West Texas.

Death came Monday night to Selmon at the age of 87, three years after his retirement as foreman of the ranch's Flat Top division. He stepped down only after being injured while training a bronc.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church in Stamford.

Bill Would Force Officials To Disclose How They Voted

AUSTIN (AP) — Public officials no longer could hide how they voted behind closed doors if a bill by Rep. Dave Allred of Wichita Falls becomes law. Allred told a House committee Wednesday night the public has a right to know what motions are made at such meetings and how their elected representatives vote on them. Allred said his bill amending the open meetings law was needed to clarify some questions that have arisen.

REAL ESTATE REASON
Meetings of governmental bodies may be closed to deal with personnel, real estate or security matters.

Under Allred's bill notice of meetings of public bodies would have to be posted in advance even if they were to be entirely behind closed doors.

And the minutes of the closed meeting would have to be posted within three days after the meeting.

The minutes would include only the motions that were made and how the members of the governmental unit voted on them.

"This, I submit, is part of the public's right to know how their lected representatives voted," Allred told the House State Affairs Committee.

Allred is on leave of absence as a reporter for the Wichita Falls Times and Record News during the legislative session.

Matters pertaining to security are excepted from the provision on posting minutes on closed meetings. And minutes on real estate transactions agreed upon would not be posted until after the deal was made.

MATTER OF RECORD

Ed Horn, managing editor of the Bryan Daily Eagle, said Allred's bill would make closed meetings a matter of record.

"As it is now there is no notice to the public that these meetings are being held," Horn said.

Allred's bill was referred to a subcommittee composed of Reps. D. R. "Tom" Uher of Bay City, chairman, and Joe Hawn of Dallas and Neal Solomon of Mount Vernon.

Also referred to subcommittees were two bills by Rep. Bill Swanson of Houston that would: —Create an upper level university—junior and senior grades only—in the Clear Lake area, southeast of Houston. Six junior colleges would feed students to this new school, Swanson said.

—Reduce the size of the strafe-torn State Mental Health and Mental Retardation Board from nine to three members.

How Fore Will Golf Rules Go?

LONDON (AP) — Astronaut Alan B. Shepard Jr. has received congratulations from the Royal and Ancient, ruling body of golf in Britain, for hitting some balls to see how far they would go on the moon.

The message sent Wednesday also contained a mild beef, however, saying: "Please refer to rules of golf on etiquette. Before leaving a bunker, a player should carefully fill up holes made by him therein."

Utility Bills Are Ballooning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Many of the nation's electric utilities, hit broadside by ballooning fuel prices last year, are passing on the cost to consumers in higher electricity bills.

A nationwide survey by the American Public Power Association shows many municipally operated public power departments are paying greatly inflated prices for fuel oil, coal and natural gas to run generating equipment. In some instances, the costs over the year swelled by 150 per cent and more.

A spot check of some of the utility companies involved in the survey disclosed that many already have raised their electricity rates and that others plan to do so.

$2.10 A MONTH
In 1969, the Electric Light Department of Freeport, N.Y., paid $33,000 for fuel oil to run its generators. In 1970, the figure jumped to $87,000, according to Ludovic Long, superintendent of the department.

"The average rate increase here has been $2.10 a month," Long said in an interview.

Long said his customers are complaining about the rate increases and he isn't happy about it either.

At the end of 1970, the fuel oil price paid by the Public Service Department of Glendale, Calif., had risen to 252 per cent of what it was a year earlier. The department already has increased its rates 6 to 7 per cent and more increases are likely, Assistant General Manager Howard Gulick said.

In Vero Beach, Fla., 1970 fuel oil costs were up 30 per cent and natural gas prices up 20 per cent, said City Manager James Pride. If the increases continue into the summer, Pride said, the city will seek a fuel adjustment clause for the utility department. Such a clause permits the utility to pass on increased fuel costs to customers automatically.

'HAD TO EAT IT'

"We haven't got the legal means to pass (the cost) on in utility rate increases, so we've just had to eat it," Pride said. "We can't eat it forever."

Among other utilities surveyed, the Carlyle, Ill., utility department paid 50 per cent more for its coal last year than in 1969 and then, to defray costs, switched to natural gas. Now gas prices are up 20 per cent and Supt. Virgil Bush says an electricity rate hike is "a good possibility."

Many of the utilities attributed the rising prices to fuel shortages and the need to obtain low-sulfur fuels to meet new air pollution standards.

Generally, municipally operated electric utilities were hit hardest last year by higher fuel costs. Unlike privately owned electric utilities, they are frequently prohibited by law from negotiating long-term fuel contracts and therefore are more subject to fluctuations in fuel prices.

IT'S AS EASY AS 1-2-3 to make this Plain Cake which is a favorite of Mrs. Joe Clark's husband. Mrs. Clark often shifts her talents from the kitchen to the ceramic shop to make items for her home such as the canisters seen in the background.

Stove Or Campfire, Her Meals Are Good

By BARBARA LORD

The Joe Clarks are as much at home in a tent in the forests of Arizona, Colorado or Utah as they are in their house at 1016 Baylor. Camping is a family love, and when the Clarks aren't on a trip, chances are they're mapping one out for the future.

One reason the Clarks like camping so well may be that they aren't restricted to hot dogs and beans, like so many people are while camping. Mrs. Clark seems to be as adept over an open fire as she is in the family kitchen. "We bought a dutch oven which I take on our camping trips. I can make biscuits and stew and a pretty wide variety of things," Mrs. Clark said. "Of course, we still eat the hamburgers, hot dogs and beans, too. That's just part of camping. We like to roast marshmallows, too, because it's a good way to draw neighboring campers over. We meet an awful lot of nice people that way."

The Clarks have three trips outlined for the future. They hope to buy a camping trailer eventually, but still enjoy camping without one.

"We want to get the kids up to see Yellowstone National Park next summer," continued Mrs. Clark. "I've heard it may close to the public because the automobile fumes are killing many of the trees, so I want to see it before it closes."

The Clarks also plan a trip to parts of Georgia and Mississippi, and a return trip to southwestern Colorado.

CAMPING BUFFS
"We're all camping buffs," Mrs. Clark said. "I guess we just enjoy the same things most people enjoy, but it still seems like a special feeling for us. We like to explore and study nature. The kids collect rocks from every place we go, and my husband likes to fish."

In her own kitchen Mrs. Clark is a master of many types of meals, with casseroles and backyard cooking the favorites of her family.

"We cook outside at least once a week and usually twice," Mrs. Clark said. "Steak and baked potatoes is an easy meal, but my family likes it about the best of anything. We also eat a lot of fish and hamburger casseroles. I make a lot of changes in the initial recipes, and my husband can usually tell when I've been experimenting on my own, but he eats about everything I cook."

Mrs. Clark has been cooking for a long time. She remembers cooking, ironing and house-keeping at the age of nine, while her mother, a licensed vocational nurse, worked.

Cooking is by no means the extent of her talent. She is a seamstress and makes most of her own and her daughters' clothes. She also knits and is presently making an afghan.

"Sewing is a never-ending job," said Mrs. Clark, "because when I make something for one girl, the other one insists on having the same thing, so I have to make two of everything."

CERAMICS

Top priority on Mrs. Clark's list of hobbies or pastimes is ceramics. Her home is graced with many attractive pieces she has made since she first began the art four years ago.

A soup tureen that Mrs. Clark made for her mother won a second prize ribbon at a Mitchell County fair. In addition, she has made mugs, ash trays, a large American eagle, an egg plate, a Brahma bull and several other items. She plans to make a lamp set with large Grecian urn bases.

Mrs. Clark was born and reared in Colorado City, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Holly Howell, still reside. Clark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Clark, 1203 Harding, Big Spring. Clark's sister, Mrs. Bruce Lynskey, and her six-month-old son, Vincent, are living with the Clarks while Lynskey serves a tour of duty in Vietnam. Mrs. Clark keeps Vincent during the day while his mother works at Howard County Library.

Mrs. Clark recently began an evening course at Howard County Junior College in Children's Literature, to show her how to teach a child to make the best use of books and libraries.

In addition, the Clarks raise and sell Bassett Hounds, with a litter due in about a week. "The largest litter we've had was nine, and they kept us pretty busy for a while," Mrs. Clark said.

With her many activities, Mrs. Clark still manages to serve as secretary of the Moss Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association, and is assistant leader of a Brownie Scout troop.

Serve Eggs With Corned Beef

Mentfolk usually appreciate old-fashioned pickled eggs.

PICKLED EGGS
1 cup distilled white vinegar
1 cup cold water
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. peppercorns
1/2 tsp. whole allspice
1/2 tsp. chopped fresh ginger or a small piece of dry ginger
6 hard-cooked eggs, shells removed

In a 1-quart saucepan, heat the vinegar and the water to boiling; add salt, peppercorns, allspice and ginger; simmer for 10 minutes. Pack eggs into a wide-mouth quart jar; strain vinegar mixture over them. Cool. If necessary, to keep eggs submerged in marinade, stuff a thick wad of transparent plastic wrapping into the jar over the eggs. Refrigerate overnight or for several days. Makes 6 servings.

Bake Him A Cupid Cake

It will be a tossup on Valentine's Day as to which will be more irresistible to a young man: this luscious cherry-filled devil's food heart cake or the woman who bakes it for him. It's a sure thing though, that the lady who makes it will win a special place in her man's heart this Valentine's Day.

The rich chocolate devil's food flavor of this cake blends well with the cherry filling. The cake is light and tender because it is made with margarine and it stays moist. A fluffy white frosting adds the dramatic finishing touch to this masterpiece.

The cake may look elaborate but simplicity is the keynote. It uses a one-bowl, no-creaming method to speed along the preparation time. Premelted chocolate is also used to save time and the trouble of messy pans. With the help of an electric mixer, preparation time is just six minutes. Canned cherry pie filling is used for the filling and the topping. Packaged frosting mix makes the fluffy white icing.

CUPID CAKE
Yield: Two 9-inch layers or two heart shaped pans
1/2 cup margarine, softened
2 1/4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

1 3/4 cups sugar
1 1/2 tsp. soda
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 cups sour milk
2 pkgs. (1 ounce each) pre-melted unsweetened chocolate
2 eggs
1 can (2 cups) cherry pie filling
1 pkg. fluffy white frosting mix

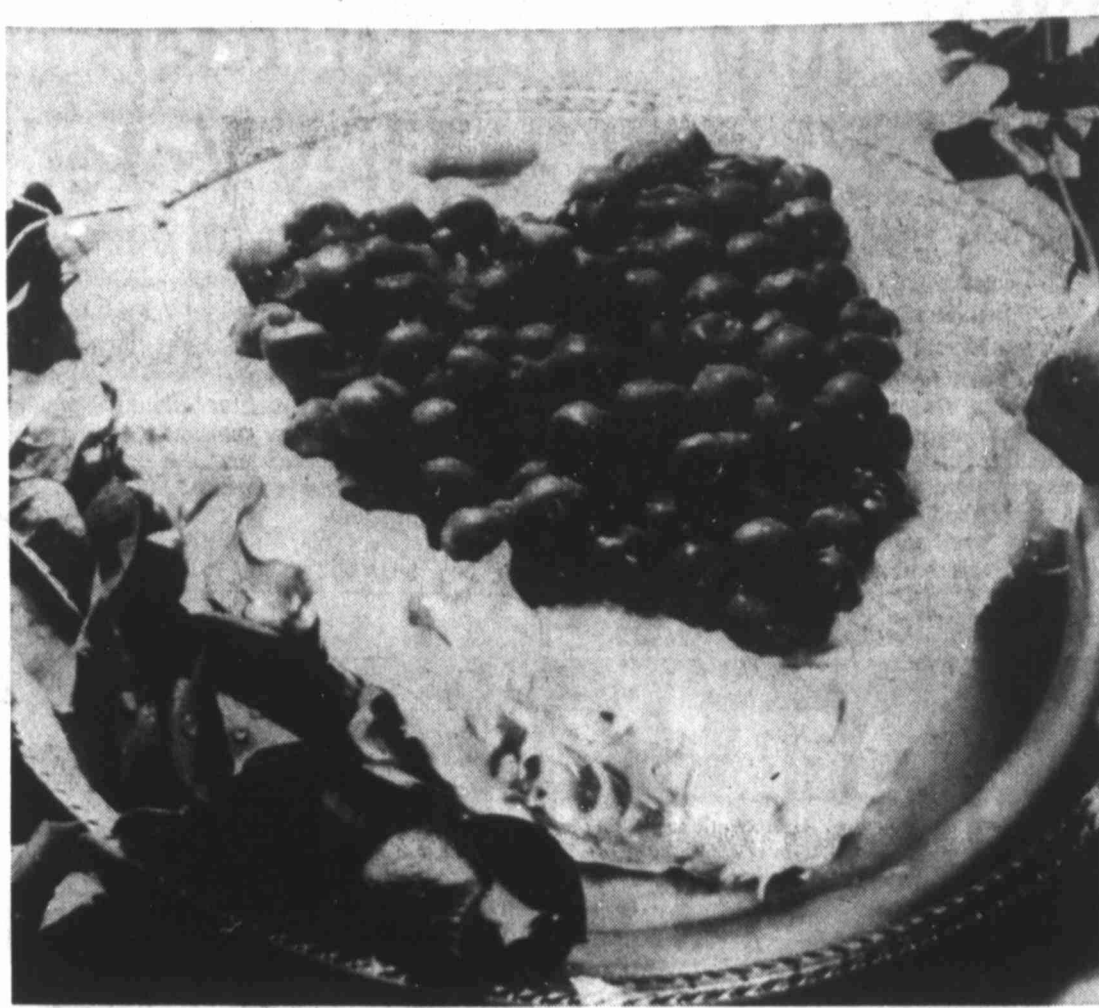

Grease and flour bottoms of two 9-inch round layer pans or heart-shaped pans. Place margarine in large mixer bowl. Sift flour, sugar, soda and salt into bowl. Add vanilla and 1 cup sour milk. Beat 2 minutes on medium speed of electric mixer, or by hand using 150

Speedy Supper

Canned luncheon meat makes a fast meal. Place cooked rice in a casserole dish and top with slices of canned meat. Spread applesauce over the meat and sprinkle with brown sugar. Put in moderate oven until heated through.

Pork, Pancakes

Pork and pancakes are perfect partners for breakfast or supper. Brown pork sausage links and serve with pancakes, plain or filled with fruit or cottage cheese. Or wrap the sausages in pancakes for handy eating.

DEVIL'S FOOD HEART CAKE For your special Valentine strokes per minute. Add the filling in heart shape on second layer. Prepare fluffy white milk and beat 2 minutes at medium speed. Pour batter into prepared cake pans. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool in pan on rack for 10 minutes; remove from pan. Place layers on rack.

FROST AND FILL. Cool layers completely before frosting. Spread one half can of cherry pie filling on bottom layer. Place top layer on top of cherries. Spread remainder of frosting over top layer. Prepare fluffy white milk and beat 2 minutes at medium speed. Pour batter into prepared cake pans. Bake in moderate oven at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Cool in pan on rack for 10 minutes; remove from pan. Place layers on rack. To make sour milk from sweet milk, place 1 tablespoon of vinegar in measuring cup and fill to 1 cup mark with sweet milk. For 1/2 cup sour milk, place 1/2 teaspoon vinegar in cup and fill to 1/2 cup mark.

Fixed-Up Date

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Please say something about married men on the prowl who lie about their marital status. Speaking for myself and half a dozen of my friends (all widows, divorcees and unmarried, fairly attractive and under 40) we don't want to get involved with married men. But what can we do when co-workers, customers, salesmen, etc. introduce us to a "nice, eligible man," only to find out after three or four dates that this rat has a wife and family in the suburbs?

Does an unmarried woman have to turn into a private investigator before accepting a date with a man who poses as a nice, eligible bachelor?

So what should we do about these rats? HOODWINKED: DEAR HOODWINKED: Which rats? The ones who introduce married men as "nice, eligible bachelors?" Or the married men who try to pull a fast one? The only protection a girl has against being "hoodwinked," is to be a little more fussy about whom she dates.

A good rule to follow: Never accept a fixed up date unless you know you can trust the fixer-upper.

DEAR ABBY: I could love you for your answer to "In Need of Sympathy," the woman who was worn out from having nursed a sick husband for 80 months. She resented being asked constantly, "How is your husband?" She wrote to you saying she wished someone would ask her how she was. So you asked her how she was.

That reminds me of the two old friends, Manny and Max, who hadn't seen each other for 20 years. When they met again, the first thing Manny asked Max was, "How's business?"

Max replied, "Is that the way to greet an old friend after 20 years? Why don't you ask me how my health is?"

Manny said, "I'm sorry, Max. How's your health?"

Max answered, "Don't ask." CORDIALLY, SOL

DEAR SOL: You bring back memories, my father used to tell that story 35 years ago.

DEAR ABBY: We were interested in the letter from the waitress in Dover, Del., who complained that customers sometimes under-tip. She mentioned that her regular wage was 75 cents per hour. Perhaps she would be interested to know that employees of restaurants with sales of $250,000 or more a year are protected by the federal minimum wage law.

The law requires that restaurant employees, including tipped employees, receive a minimum hourly wage of $1.60. The $1.60 minimum may be a combination of both wages and tips. However, not less than 50 per cent must be regular wages paid by the employer. If tips don't amount to half the minimum wage, the employer must make up the difference.

The Wage and Hour Division in Dover will be happy to provide her with further information about minimum wage provisions that concern hotel, motel, restaurant and food service employees.

ROBERT D. MORAN
U.S. DEPT. OF LABOR

DEAR MR. MORAN: Thank you for your very informative letter.

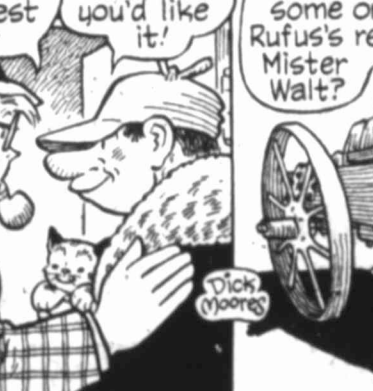

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Take New Test

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been taking thyroid medication for almost two years for underactive thyroid. I just don't feel like I am improving very fast, as I am still physically and mentally sluggish, with dry skin, puffy face and terribly thin hair.

Do you think the pills are helping me? Would you suggest some other treatment? I am 50 and going through menopause. Would like a comment from you before I go back to my doctor for another thyroid test.—Mrs. L.J.

Furthermore, I would be pre-sumptuous to suggest some other form of treatment without knowing what such test results might be, or knowing some other things about your condition.

Reading between the lines, I gather that you've noted some improvement, but not nearly as much as you expected or, doubtless, should have. The symptoms you mention all are typical of underactive thyroid.

Thus my guess is that perhaps your dosage may need to be adjusted—but that doubtless will be obvious enough once you've had some new tests. Remember, it's one thing for a physician to find that a person has a slow thyroid and needs medication to perk it up. It is quite another to be able to tell, first crack out of the box, just how much medication the patient needs or can use.

Many a patient, we know to our sorrow, has been disappointed, and started shopping around with other doctors, because treatment didn't happen to bring perfect results the first time.

Rather, instead of trying a new doctor, or insisting on a different treatment, your wise course is to report back to your doctor and see whether adjustment of the treatment isn't the right answer.

For an added thought, remember that thyroid deficiency doesn't come on suddenly, and your medication may still be in process of catching up for perhaps quite a few years of low thyroid troubles.

Subtle thyroid deficiency is a commoner trouble than most people suppose; medication often can show prompt results in such cases. But when the deficiency has continued long enough to affect skin, hair, and general body function, it takes time to catch up.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could any harm come from allowing a dog to lick out the remainder of food on a plate or dish? They are then washed with soap and warm water, and rinsed and dried in a dish washer.—Mrs. W.G.

No harm if thoroughly washed with soap and hot water.

Low blood sugar—a puzzler until correctly identified—is often the cause of faintness, headaches, visual and emotional disturbances. To learn how it can be identified and brought under control, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Help For Hypoglycemia," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

State Gets 'Go' Light To Sue New Mexicans

AMARILLO (AP) — A federal appellate court has ruled that Texas can file again a suit against New Mexico ranchers to protect Lake Meredith and water used by the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority.

Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis of Amarillo said the decision by the 10th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver was precedent-setting.

This is the first time a ruling has been made that a lower court can act in a matter involving a state in a suit against citizens of another state without having to start at the U.S. Supreme Court, Curtis said.

The decision, which Curtis received Wednesday, was on an appeal by the Texas attorney general's office against a ruling last June by U. S. Dist. Judge H. Vearle Payne in Albuquerque, N.M.

Payne held that he lacked jurisdiction in a suit to stop New Mexico ranchers from using the pesticide Toxaphene. Texas ranchers claimed the pesticide could eventually pollute water in Northwest Texas.

Payne said such a suit should go directly to the U.S. Supreme Court.

In a second suit, filed by Curtis in the name of the Canadian River Authority, Payne ruled in favor of the New Mexico ranchers. He denied an injunction that would have halted spraying up to two million acres of range land to fight an invasion by range caterpillars.

There was no appeal in the second suit.

The circuit court's decision reversed Payne's finding and sent back the case to his court. The court wrote that states are guaranteed protection by federal courts against pollution of the environment and resources by sources outside their boundaries.

Biologists maintained that toxic residual effects of the hydrocarbon-based Toxaphene could last up to five years.

Borden County Slates Farmers Short Course

A farm welding short course for adult farmers will be held Feb. 22-25 under the sponsorship of the Borden County High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to James McLeroy, superintendent, and Sid Long, teacher of vocational agriculture.

Joel R. Barton, welding specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the department of Agricultural Engineering at Texas A&M University, will do the instruction in the course.

Barton is a native of Glasscock County and was reared on a West Texas ranch. He attended grade school in San Angelo and graduated from high school at Big Lake, Tex. He holds a B.S. degree in Animal Science from Texas A&M.

After five years as a pilot in the U.S. Air Force, Barton served as an agricultural specialist in Texas state hospitals and special schools. In addition to regular classes, he set up farm shops and gave instruction in farm welding and general farm repair.

The short course at Borden County High School is scheduled to begin Feb. 22 at 7 p.m. in the vocational agriculture building. Other meetings in the series of five will be held Feb. 23, 24, and 25. During the dates the short course is in progress, Barton will be available to assist farmers with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm instruction.

Farmers interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools, James McLeroy, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Sid Long. An entry fee of $5 will be charged. Farm Welding Short Course Certificates will be presented to each enrollee who attends all the training sessions.

Mutscher Room Too Much For Houston Legislator

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Curtis Graves of Houston objects to the naming of a new House committee hearing room in the capitol for Speaker Gus Mutscher.

Graves introduced a resolution Wednesday demanding removal from the room of a bronze plaque that reads, "Gus Mutscher House hearing room."

He also wants a large color photograph of Mutscher removed.

BAD DEAL

There is a "speaker's committee room" and a "lieutenant governor's committee room" in the capitol, but no hearing room has been named for any particular individual until the Mutscher room in the basement got the plaque last October.

Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, chairman of the House Office Committee, said the committee picked the name without telling Mutscher.

Mutscher had suggested to the committee that the basement had poorly used space that was needed for offices and hearing rooms, Smith said.

The Mutscher portrait is to be presented to the speaker at the end of the legislative session.

"No governor, lieutenant governor or the speaker of the Texas House of Representatives has ever had any room in the capitol dedicated to him during his administration," the Graves resolution said.

"It is extremely bad precedent for any room in the capitol to be dedicated to any speaker or any other public official during his term of service."

NO SIGN

The door to the basement committee room has no sign or marking to indicate what is inside.

There is a sort of anti-room, with the "Gus Mutscher House hearing room plaque" on the wall opposite the door. Inside is a carpeted area, with a raised committee table. On the back wall, facing the table, is the Mutscher portrait, now covered with a yellowish-green cloth.

"The capitol building is not the property of the governor, lieutenant governor or the speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, but rather it belongs to all people of our great state," said Graves' resolution.

Number Painting

Members of the Spanish Club at Howard County Junior College will be available beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday to paint house numbers on curbs for $1. Members can be contacted through Jack Dunn at 263-1078 or Doris Medrano at 267-6311. The project is to raise money for a trip to Mexico.

Record Braker

KNOTTINGLEY, England (AP) — Arthur Armitage's name has been removed from the Guinness Book of Records, and he couldn't be happier.

He was Britain's heaviest man at 560 pounds. But the speaker of the Yorkshire giant has shed 224 of them. Now he hopes to get back on the records as Britain's champion slimmer.
