Boundary Question Is Only Barrier To Talk

By The Associated Press

Israel is ready to talk to Egypt about firm Middle East boundaries but without preconditions, such as the Arab demands that Israeli forces must withdraw from all territories seized in the 1967 war, U.N. informants reported Saturday.

The Egyptian government was reported to feel "tangible progress" is being made in U.N.-sponsored talks in New York and that it is willing to extend the Middle East cease-fire beyond next Sunday's expiration date. That word came in the semi-official newspaper Al Ahram of Cairo on Saturday.

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt has said he would agree to extension of the cease-fire only if there was noticeable progress in the talks.

Al Ahram's article said the Egyptian government is prepared to accept unanimous decisions of the Big Four on the Middle East—including extension of the cease-fire.

Israel's reply to the Egyptian peace proposals was in a position paper handed over to Gunnar V. Jarring, the U.N. special envoy on the Middle East. He has been serving as the go-between in the indirect talks in New York.

The U.N. informants said there was nothing in the position paper that specified that Israel would not give back Sharm el Sheikh to Egypt, East Jerusalem to Jordan and the Golan Heights to Syria. The sources added that there was no map or statement indicating where Israel would want the borders to be. But Israeli officials in Tel Aviv were saying these are territories the Israelis do not intend to give up.

The U.N. sources, however, described the Israeli position as being based on free discussions of the issues, without preconditions.

Egypt's ambassador to the United Nations, Mohammed H. el-Zayyat, raised a possible procedural obstacle to talks.

He objected, in a statement, that Israel had not replied to questions Jarring put to both sides on Feb. 8 but had chosen instead to reply only to Egypt's response to Jarring.

Zayyat suggested that this was a block in "the way of peace." But he did not make clear whether that meant he would not accept the Israeli paper from Jarring and respond to it.

The Israelis have not answered questions put by Jarring because they challenge his authority to ask them.

Although the U.N. informants reported the Israelis submitted no map with their reply to Egypt, Deputy Premier Yigal Allon indicated in Tel Aviv that Israel in fact is drawing one up and that it would include an Israeli presence at Sharm el Sheikh, the strategic stronghold guarding the Strait of Itran.

Foreign Minister Abba Eban suggested earlier that Israel would continue to retain Sharm el Sheikh, Syria's Golan Heights and all of Jerusalem.

Allon reiterated Israel's case for holding Sharm el Sheikh: "This is a very vital problem because the geostrategic position of Sharm el Sheikh provides a permanent temptation to Egypt to block the entrance to Aqaba Gulf, a move which never can be accepted by the Israelis and led to a general war twice."

The Israeli port of Elath is on the Gulf of Aqaba and this leads into the Red Sea.

Sharm el Sheikh, the Golan Heights and the Jordanian territories were seized in 1967.

Eban said in a Friday night broadcast that all three areas were basic causes of conflict in the Middle East. Israeli border settlements were bombarded from the Golan Heights.

Speaking of boundaries in any peace settlement, Eban said there is "ample room for compromise and negotiations."

DETAILED SPENDING REPORT ASKED

Senators Want To Know Aid's Cost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sens. William Proxmire and Clifford P. Case recommended Saturday legislation to require the president to tell Congress each year how much the United States is spending on all its foreign-aid programs.

Proxmire, a Wisconsin Democrat, and Case, a New Jersey Republican, said their proposal is an outgrowth of recent testimony that actual U.S. aid spending is two to three times the $2.4 billion included in the economic and military parts of the Foreign Assistance Act.

"The purpose of the bill is to bring order out of chaos," Proxmire and Case said in a statement. "The American taxpayer should at least know what he's paying for."

The Senate Foreign Relations

Committee, meanwhile, released a General Accounting Office report criticizing the program to train foreign military and civilian officials. And it accused the Pentagon of barring the GAO's access to many pertinent records and reports.

The GAO reported training sometimes unnecessary or of low priority; that foreign military officers were trained for unavailable equipment and aircraft; that military training programs were often unrelated to civilian programs; and that improvements are needed in management of the programs.

It cited the training of Thai military personnel in the United States, costing $500,000, to operate and maintain a missile system that would not be installed for some time.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, said in releasing the report that many of the findings were the same as those of previous GAO studies. "Apparently," he said, "the Defense Department ignored the results of the GAO investigations of 1961 to 1963."

Elmer B. Staats, the comptroller general, said in a letter to Fulbright that the Pentagon rejected some GAO complaints of denial of access, contending "an understanding was reached a number of years ago between the General Accounting Office and the Department whereby planning data and inspection-type reports would not be provided."

In announcing their legislation, which will be introduced in the Senate Monday, Proxmire and Case said the foreign aid bill does not include cash and credit military sales, military advisory missions, outright gifts of military equipment, Defense Department funded aid for South Vietnam, Laos and Thailand included in the defense budgeting, private arms sales which totaled $52.4 million in 1969 and use for military purposes of foreign currencies generated by the Food-for-Peace program.

The Pentagon estimated to Proxmire's subcommittee an economy in government of the Joint Economic Committee last month that total U.S. overseas aid is $4.8 billion while Fulbright put it at $7 billion.

Foul Play Not Indicated

ODESSA (AP) — The case of West Texas' fifth missing woman was cleared up Saturday night when relatives asked that the name of Mrs. Oleta Fuller be taken from the missing persons list.

Police said nothing they learned from a man named Don, questioned in the Feb. 10 disappearance indicated Mrs. Fuller met foul play.

Officers in Odessa said information procured from Don led them to Irving, Tex., relatives who said they were aware that Mrs. Fuller was living in Dallas. Capt. Glenn Wallace of Odessa police detectives said there was no connection that could connect Mrs. Fuller's departure from Odessa with the disappearance of four other young women, three of whom were found slain.

Mrs. Fuller has not been reported seen since her car stalled as she and her daughter, 11, were en route to a grocery store. The daughter was quoted as saying her mother went to a tavern to seek help and that a man she identified by the name of Don drove her and her mother home.

The other women who disappeared under unexplained circumstances were: —Mrs. Linda Cugat, a housewife who dropped from sight two years ago. Her body was found a few months later in a pasture near Odessa.

—The body of go-go dancer Eula Mae Rogers, reported missing last year, was found in her apartment.

—Mrs. Ruth Maynard was reported missing Jan. 9. Her body was found in a pasture earlier this month.

Reviewing the ...
Big Spring Week
... with Joe Pickle

Our area appears caught in the back wash of major weather storms from the north but which swing southeastward before they reach us. A week ago today we got a crazy series of snow showers and sunshine and missed out on the Panhandle's terrible blizzard. Wednesday we had light mist — then dust. Friday, another of these southeasterly-moving systems sucked in winds of 40 mph from the west and afflicted us with a blinding dust storm. It's the old story of it can't get better until it rains, and it can't rain until it gets better. Reminds us of the 1951-54 cycle.

Still in the face of this windier and cooler cycle, the signs of spring are beginning to emerge. Fruit trees are swelling and soon will be bursting. Jonquils are putting out, and soon it will be the yellow jasmine, and then a few yellow primrose (buttercups) if there is any moisture left.

In today's Herald is an application blank for registering as a voter. If you haven't attended to this vital matter, fill out the blank and get it in the post office today — the very last day.

Two new facilities will observe open house this week. Big Spring Savings & Loan Association takes the wraps off its handsome new plant at Seventh and Main on Monday, and then on Wednesday Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes comes here to help. (See THE WEEK, Page 2-A, Col. 1)

MOD Airlift This Afternoon

The annual March of Dimes Airlift takes off today at 1 p.m. at the Howard County airport.

Ten to 15 pilots will take turns piloting eight planes around Big Spring from 1 p.m. until sundown. Donations collected at the event will provide support for March of Dimes projects.

The annual event is possible because local pilots donate their time and their planes for the event. Gasoline for the planes has been donated by the McGibbon Oil Co.

Tickets for the rides are $2 donation for adults and a $1 donation for students through high school. The airlift will start at the Howard County Airport in the Big Spring Aircraft lobby.

Voters Must Register Today

Late voter registrants will receive a period of grace after midnight tonight from the Big Spring Post Office. The Post Office will not change the date on the cancellation machine at the wicking hour in order to give late mail-ins pre-midnight date.

Friday was the last day for in-person registration at the county tax assessor-collector's office. Since Feb. 5, when registration was reopened, 370 persons have registered, bringing the Howard County total for 1971 to 12,060. According to Mrs. Zarah LeFevre Bednar, tax assessor-collector, mailed-in registrations will raise this total. See voter registration form page 9-A

Union Workers To Stay Home To Protest Antistrike Edict

LONDON (AP) — More than a million British workers have been ordered by their union to stay home Monday in a 14-hour protest against the Conservative government's antistrike legislation. The demonstration is likely to shut down London newspapers and the entire car industry.

Government ministers will be anxiously studying the size of the walkout to gauge the strength of opposition in this strike-plagued country against the bill to curb union powers.

The numbers answering the union call also will give an idea of the strength of militant leaders in opposition to more moderate union chiefs.

The demonstration was called by the militant leadership of the Amalgamated Engineering Workers and Foundrymen's Union, the second largest in the country, with 1.5 million members.

The union front is far from united, though, even within the AEW. Men at the Derby plant of the stricken Rolls-Royce company, already facing massive layoffs as a result of the company's failure, have served notice they will ignore the AEW call.

The Trades Union Congress has rejected an AEW plea for backing and warned that such strike action would only increase public anger and boom-crang against the unions.

A tieup that has halted production at the 20 plants of the Ford Motor Co. moved into its fifth week with production losses estimated at $98.4 million about half in export orders. No end to the deadlocked pay dispute appeared in sight.

The Ford workers have demanded parity with the more highly paid men in the midland area of England. This would mean increases of $28.80 to $38.40 a week on an average salary of $72 a week. The company is standing pat on a $4.80 offer. Fifty thousand workers are involved in the walkout.

Two hundred thousand postal workers are in their sixth week of a pay strike that has halted mail deliveries and tied up manually operated telephone and telegraph services. Four percentage points separate the two sides, with the Post Office offering 9 per cent raises against the union demand for 13 per cent.

The government holds that any settlement over 10 per cent will only feed the flames of the country's raging inflation, now approaching an annual rate of increase of 10 per cent.

Wholesale prices in January were 8 per cent higher than January, 1970, according to government figures, and retail prices rose by 1 1/2 per cent last month.

Only Japan has a higher rate of inflation than Britain among industrial nations but Japan is better able to cope with the increase because production is booming, with the output per worker rising steadily. British production and increased productivity have remained stagnant for more than a year.

Green Berets Face End Of An Era

Special Forces Group Packing Up To Leave

SAIGON (AP) — When the colors of the 5th Special Forces Group leave Vietnam in early March, it will mark the end of an era for the Green Berets. The group's 2,800 men were sent to Vietnam from Ft. Bragg, N.C., in 1964, but Special Forces have operated in Vietnam for nearly a decade. The first element came from Okinawa as early as 1962 for temporary duty. The future of the 5th Group itself has not been announced. Sources said it will probably return to the Special Warfare center at Ft. Bragg. A handful of Green Berets will remain behind under the U.S. Command, acting as advisers to the South Vietnamese special forces. Another small group, also directly controlled by the U.S. Command, will continue to conduct clandestine reconnaissance operations in Laos and North Vietnam. Others have traded the Green Berets for maroon ones and became conventional advisers to the South Vietnamese Ranger Border Command, which assumed responsibility Jan. 1 for the last two of the border surveillance camps once run by Special Forces. There were some 80 Special Forces camps in operation at the peak, with most of them along the Laotian and Cambodian borders. A number of the camps were closed, either because they were overrun by enemy forces or because enemy pressure made their continued operation impractical. Others—including Ben Het and Duc Lap in the central highlands, the last two camps turned over to the Ranger Border Command Jan. 1—gained fame by withstanding enemy sieges of up to three months. Ben Het, a remote camp at the end of a road in the Laos-Cambodian-Vietnam tri-border area, burst into the headlines on March 4, 1969, when it was assaulted by at least 10 North Vietnamese armored vehicles. Three Soviet-built PT76 tanks were destroyed by American bombers, and the rest pulled back into Laos. A month later, two North Vietnamese regiments laid siege to Ben Het. Three months of heavy fighting, billed as the first real test between North and South Vietnamese ground troops, produced heavy casualties. Nearly 2,000 North Vietnamese were reported killed, 40 Americans and 200 South Vietnamese killed and more than 1,000 South Vietnamese wounded. The phaseout of Special Forces in Vietnam reflects both the de-Americanization of the war and the current disfavor with which many conventionally-trained senior officers regard the Special Forces. There was frequent friction between 5th Group and the U.S. Command. Special Forces officers charged that their operations were hampered by conventionally-trained commanders who failed to understand the guerrilla nature of the Vietnam war. Regular army officers asserted that control over Special Forces operations was too loose. Col. Robert Rheault, retired former commander of the 5th Group, believes Special Forces could have been used much more effectively in Vietnam. "The CIDG mission was reasonable in its original concept," Rheault told The Associated Press. "As time went on and the flavor of the war changed and control of the operation passed from the CIA to the Army, there was no question that in a lot of areas Special Forces became tied down." Rheault said that the Special Forces were partly successful on border surveillance missions, especially in the central highlands where Montagnard tribesmen were trained as soldiers, but that in other areas the mission was "totally unrealistic." Rheault said the pullout of Special Forces from Vietnam is an untimely end to the program, because in many areas the camps were not yet ready for turnover to the Vietnamese. The Special Forces group said about 90 per cent of its trained soldiers were converted to the regular units. Many Special Forces officers doubt that the conversion will ultimately prove successful, especially with the Montagnards in the central highlands. The Montagnards have a traditional hatred for the Vietnamese, and worked almost exclusively for the Americans. Officers with long experience in the highlands doubt that the mountain tribesmen will ever be successfully integrated into South Vietnamese forces. Rheault said the withdrawal of Special Forces "defies a logical explanation and invites speculation that the reason for it is an emotional one. "Why does MACV want to do away with a program which was Vietnamization in the trust sense before anybody else dreamed it up?" he asked. Rheault retired a year ago even though the Army dropped all charges against him in the so-called Green Beret murder case. This involved a charge that Green Berets killed a double agent. As Special Forces closes out nearly a decade of operations in Vietnam, they face a worldwide cutback from 9,000 men to 6,000. Rheault said they will become again what they were in the 1950s: "small, quiet and selective." Much will depend, he added, on the direction of U.S. foreign policy but he said there will always be a need for special men to do a special job.

SAVINGS ESTIMATED AT $40 MILLION Satellite System Is Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comsat—the Communications Satellite Corporation—proposed Saturday to put up two satellites and a spare to provide television, telephone and data services for all the United States and Puerto Rico. The system ultimately could cost about $248 million, Comsat President Joseph V. Charyk told a news conference. Its significantly increased capability could offer the television networks and other users service at about half the rates they now pay, he said. The savings, he said, would amount to about $40 million a year.

The three satellites would be positioned, along with three others proposed specifically for use by the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., 22,300 miles above the equator between 94 and 124 degrees west longitude—the best position for antennas pointed at North America. Canada has proposed also to station, in that part of the sky, two satellites for its own domestic services, Charyk said.

Since the satellites must be at least five degrees apart to avoid interference with each other, the eight spacecraft would use up the sky space available for that type of service, he added. Charyk said the multipurpose domestic proposal will be filed with the Federal Communications Commission Monday, and the AT&T proposal on Wednesday.

The Comsat chief said the only other applications on file with the FCC that would provide television as well as other services are those of Western Union and Hughes Aircraft Co. "We don't think either of those proposals provides the scope of coverage that the networks desire," Charyk said. Charyk said each satellite when working with a large 97-foot diameter earth station antenna would have a capacity of about 14,400 telephone circuits, or 24 color television channels, or more than a billion bits per second of high speed digital information, or combinations of these.

Designed for a seven-year operating lifetime, each satellite would have 24 transponders or individual radio repeaters which common carrier companies could lease at a fixed annual charge of $700,000 each. Comsat has estimated that large potential users such as the General Telephone System companies, Western Union Telegraph Co., Datran, MCI carriers and Alaska would have a total requirement equivalent to 24 full-time transponders, while others such as television networks and news media could use from 18 to 20 additional transponders.

The Intelsat 4 type satellites, 19 feet tall and nine feet in diameter and weighing about 1,600 pounds in orbit, would be launched by Atlas Centaur-type vehicles. The Comsat proposal detailed construction applications for an initial group of five ground stations. The proposed network would include 132 earth stations.

ATTEND THE Silva Mind Control Method OF DEVELOPING Self Motivation and Psychic Awareness

INTRODUCTORY Lecture

On April 2nd, NBC Television carried a Science News Special — "The Unexplained," narrated by Rod Serling — in which one of the most fantastic breakthroughs in modern psychology was discussed. This new science deals with the conscious control of brain waves — the electrochemical activity of the brain. This new science is called Alpha Rhythms of the brain. A noted researcher at the University of California, demonstrated on national TV how students can learn to control their brain waves and discussed some of the phenomenal capabilities of man with self-control of his brain waves.

There are four principal brainwave rhythms: the Beta-wave, associated with the outer conscious levels, tension, anxiety, physical activity, etc.; the Alpha-wave, associated with inner-levels of mental activity, tranquility, inspiration, creativity, E.S.P., healing processes, memory, learning, day dreaming, and other phenomena; Theta-waves, which are related to deeper INNER MEDITATION, mental control of pain, and finally the Delta-waves, which are found in deep sleep or total unconsciousness.

Exploration of this almost unknown continent — the human brain — has been pioneered by a soft-spoken parapsychologist, Jose Silva, of the Institute of Psychorientology, of Laredo, Texas. This sincere, dedicated scientist has been training people to control the brain waves for many years. Twenty-six years ago Silva and his associates began their research in MIND CONTROL, to see if it was possible to increase a person's I.Q. factor. Amazingly, Silva discovered that not only could I.Q. be increased but a person trained in this technique could even control certain areas of the Autonomic System heart beat, respiration, body temperature, etc. The implications of this breakthrough with regards to health and disease, were staggering. With MIND CONTROL, it was found that a person could banish pain, accelerate healing, eliminate insomnia, migraine headaches, as well as untold psychosomatic problems.

As research continued, an amazing discovery was made. Volunteer students were found to be surprisingly sensitive to the feelings and emotional attitudes of others. In other words they became more intuitive. In-depth studies revealed that anyone with a normal brain and sufficient training could develop the PSI FACTOR, or ESP and clairvoyance, Alpha Brain Wave Control actually enables anyone to develop their own natural, but dormant Psychic Abilities.

ALPHA BRAIN WAVE CONTROL — Four years ago, the directors of the Institute of Psychorientology, decided they were ready to release their findings to the general public, and offer the Mind Control training program to everyone interested in developing a better mind. 20,000 GRADUATES — COAST TO COAST — Now there is no longer any doubt as to the great value of this astounding method of self improvement. Techniques have been improved and refined to the point that only a few hours of classroom instruction were all that was required to train a person to be truly effective.

LEARN SPECIFIC TECHNIQUES — Once you have mastered Silva MIND CONTROL, you can totally relax anytime you desire; banish insomnia, anxiety, tension, have greater artistic ability, eliminate pain; enhance your learning capacity; have more vitality and energy; be more successful in your business and personal life; eliminate bad habits, create good habits; control your weight, smoking, etc.; improve your self confidence and assurance and become truly happy; learn techniques to help your loved ones in a dramatic and effective way regardless of their problems; be a better student, parent, employee, or boss; become a truly effective problem solver.

SILVA MIND CONTROL METHOD and its Alpha Brain Wave Function literally opens the door to "the Kingdom within." Through simple, easily learned techniques you can reach your goals in Life and be the person you want to be.

CHAPLAIN KENNETH SUMMY
... Chaplain F. J. Kevetter (l.)

Senior Chaplain Is A Native Texan

Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Kenneth D. Summy has arrived at Webb AFB to assume duties as the senior installation chaplain, replacing Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Frederick J. Kevetter, who is leaving the Air Force for retirement at the Friendly K Ranch, Lake Whitney, Tex. Chaplain Kevetter had been the senior chaplain here since September, 1969.

A native of Longview, Tex., Chaplain Summy entered the Air Force in 1953. Prior to beginning his Air Force career, the chaplain served in the U.S. Navy from 1941 to 1947. He was an enlisted man assigned to Bombing Squadron Two aboard the USS Lexington, which was sunk while sailing in the Coral Sea near Australia.

After leaving the Navy, Chaplain Summy attended Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches, where he received a bachelor of science degree with a major in social studies. He then received a bachelor of divinity degree from the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University.

The chaplain's Air Force assignments have taken him to Keesler AFB, Miss.; Moore AFB, Tex.; Freising AB, Germany; Wakkanaai AB, Japan; Langley AFB, Va.; Randolph AFB, Tex.; and 20 months at Goose Bay AB, Labrador, before coming to Webb.

Chaplain Summy, a United Methodist minister, married the former Miss Olga F. Owen of Whitesboro, Tex. The couple has three children — Kenneth, attending Stephen F. Austin State College; Marilyn, attending classes at the University of Texas; and Suzanne, here with her mother and father.

Chaplain Kevetter was probably the only chaplain in the Air Force who had aeronautical ratings in four areas.

He has earned the wings of a navigator, bombardier, gunner and observer while accumulating 28 years of military service, over 20 years of which have been on active duty.

Big Question: Why, Oh, Why?

LONDON (AP) — Allen Klein, manager of the Beatles, says he rescued the group from near insolvency, their income rising to $10.5 million in 1970 from $2.04 million in the year before he took over in 1969.

Klein, an American, sent an affidavit to a court hearing on a petition by Paul McCartney to dissolve his partnership with Ringo Starr, George Harrison and John Lennon and have the Beatles' business affairs placed in the hands of a receiver.

An attorney for McCartney's partners said the guitarist opposed Klein's appointment as manager to succeed the late Brian Epstein and sought the job for his father-in-law, Lee Eastman, a New York lawyer.

State Hospital Chapel Dedication Scheduled

Realization of a fond dream of more than a score of years will be symbolized here Wednesday when the Tollett All Faith Chapel at Big Spring State Hospital is turned over to the State of Texas.

It is the gift of private individuals and groups who raised funds for the property valued at $180,000. Under state law, tax funds cannot be used for the construction of buildings dedicated to religious functions.

Here to make the acceptance address is Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who incidentally, was the speaker here in 1969 on the occasion of the 30th anniversary of the founding of the hospital.

Activities will include the ceremonies Wednesday at 3 p.m. in front of the chapel, which faces west directly toward the administration building. Thursday there will be conducted tours from 7 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. Saturday open house and more tours will be observed from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Dedication of the chapel will come Sunday at 2 p.m. when Chaplain Max McGuire, Rochester, Minn., who was chaplain here when the reorganized effort for a chapel was constituted, will speak.

Frank Hayford, Midland, president of All Faith Chapel, Inc., will present the chapel building to Dr. David Wade, Texas commissioner of mental health and mental retardation, and in turn Dr. Wade will present the keys to Dr. Preston Harrison, hospital superintendent.

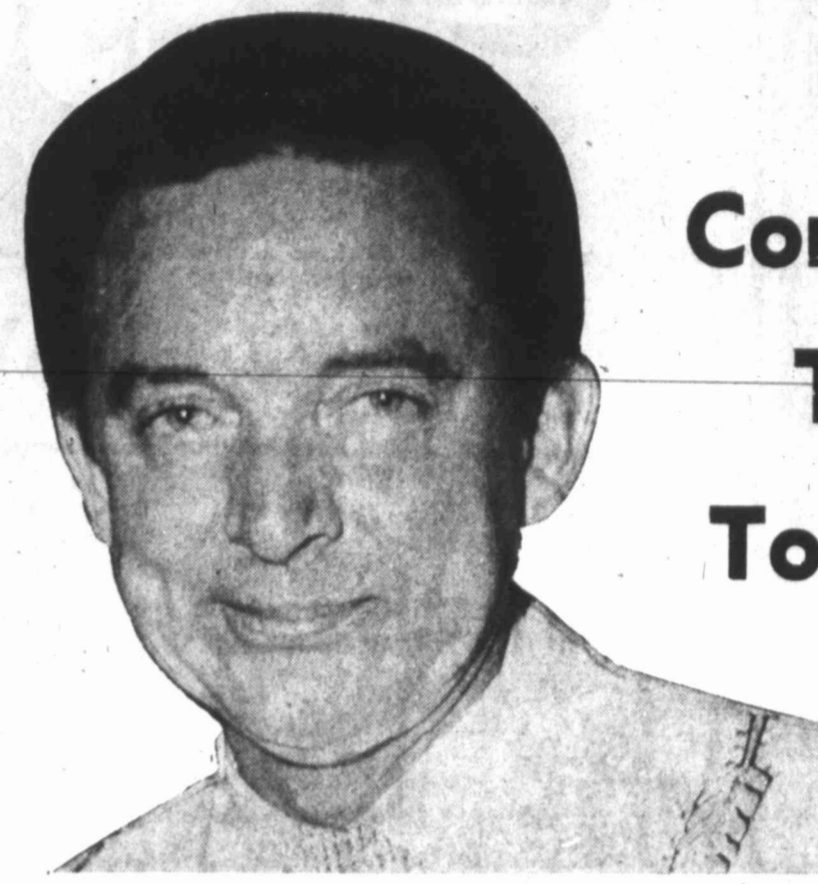

Sen. David Ratliff, Stamford, will introduce Lt. Gov. Barnes. A prayer of dedication by Lee Butler, hospital chaplain, will precede the cutting of the ribbon formally opening the beautiful structure. Others on the program include the Webb AFB color guard and Kent Fish, who will sound to the colors; the Rev. David Northcutt, Coahoma, associate chaplain.

Sunday, the Scripture reading will be by Rabbi Benjamin Zeitin, Temple Beth El of Odessa, and the Rev. James Delaney, Sacred Heart Catholic Church and an associate hospital chaplain, will word the invocation. Mrs. Lee Butler and Connell Taylor will sing a duet, and Frank Wharton will be at the organ console and Mrs. W. T. McRee at the piano. Chaplain Butler will preside and the Rev. Robert Parramore, Mt. Bethel Baptist pastor and associate hospital chaplain, will pronounce the benediction.

Senate Facing Wheat Treaty

WASHINGTON (AP) — One piece of business affecting agriculture that the Senate is faced with the next four months is consideration of a new international wheat agreement.

If ratified by the Senate, the treaty will make the United States a partner in the new agreement, which then would go into effect for three years beginning July 1.

The new plan would succeed the ill-starred international grains arrangement which expires at the end of this fiscal year. Participating countries approved the new agreement in Geneva, Switzerland, Feb. 20.

Four years ago when the present compact was being formulated, the outlook was for a very tight market situation for wheat in international trade. The agreement set up firm maximum and minimum prices which participating nations agreed to accept for international trading.

But world wheat output, and production of other important food grains, increased abruptly. Almost from the time the agreement went into effect July 1, 1968, the pricing structure was in trouble. Huge reserves of wheat available for export in many countries resulted in price cutting and brought the United States to the verge of an all-out wheat-price war with such countries as France in the Common Market, Canada and Australia.

Price negotiations and subsequent adjustments in formulas averted that from happening, and for the past year or so the world wheat market has improved substantially. U.S. exports, for example, are expected to total a near-record 725 million to 750 million bushels this fiscal year.

The new accord is more of a skeleton than a fully fleshed plan for controlling wheat prices. It does not set price minimums or maximums but does provide for implementing formulas if they are considered necessary.

Most important, says the Agriculture Department, it "maintains the framework for cooperation and consultation" necessary for keeping the world wheat situation under review.

New Warning System In Effect

NEW YORK (AP) — A test of emergency announcements by the National Warning Center was transmitted by the major news services Saturday under new procedures set up after the government's erroneous transmission last week threw much of the nation into confusion.

The teletyped message from the warning center inside Cheyenne Mountain in Colorado was received on special machines in the broadcast department of The Associated Press in New York and United Press International in Chicago.

The news services authenticated the test by calling the White House and then transmitted the message on their broadcast wire networks.

Previously, the warning center had the capability of taking over the AP and UPI broadcast teletype circuit and sending its alert test directly to the thousands of radio and television stations across the nation.

Last Saturday, an Army civilian employee accidentally sent a real alert message on the wires. Scores of stations went off the air briefly until the false alert was rescinded.

SELL JOB
It's All
Done With Mirrors

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief domestic adviser is using mirrors, magic lanterns and evangelistic persuasion to sell revenue sharing to the nation's governors and mayors.

John D. Ehrlichman is spending much of his time behind a slide projector, script in hand, trying to convince the influential that Nixon's plan to share federal dollars is the most practical way of rescuing states, cities and counties from the brink of bankruptcy.

PREVIEW
He called in the White House press corps Friday for a special presentation of his slide show, because, he joked, "I haven't been able to get anyone to look at it."

There at the front of the briefing room were twin silver screens. Between them, a sensitive microphone, designed to pick up reporters' questions and relay them to a tape recorder which presumably transcribed the session for President Nixon.

In front of the screens, on coffee tables, were two fancy devices—distant kin to submarine periscopes and abounding with carefully angled mirrors.

MULTICOLORED
Stepping to the rostrum, Ehrlichman proceeded to unfold a multicolor screen presentation that surely gave many governors pause when he presented it for them at their conference here earlier in the week.

Without ever saying so directly, Ehrlichman confronted those who might be persuaded Chairman Wilbur Mills of the House Ways and Means Committee is right in spurning Nixon's revenue-sharing and lean instead toward a gradual federal takeover of public welfare costs.

Graphically, Ehrlichman dramatized White House calculations that 39 states would get less money under what some people now call "the new alternative" than they would receive under Nixon's revenue-sharing plan.

SEE-THROUGH
Ehrlichman's aide turned over appropriate see-through panels—yellow, orange and red—to indicate calculations by his boss' office of how badly most states would fare if Congress went along with Mills instead of Nixon.

Watching the magic lantern, it was understandable that any governor whose state came up yellow on the screen would be concerned, to say nothing of those whose states turned out red.

Asked how the governors reacted to the sales pitch, Ehrlichman said he started with a "sort of a form sheet" and afterwards figured he'd converted two.

"I'm not aware of any erosion," he emphasized.

Asked if even Mills' opposition might be melting under the heat of the magic lantern, Ehrlichman replied, "I would rather not talk about that."

League Barred
From Picketing

NEW YORK (AP) — The Italian American Civil Rights League has been temporarily barred from picketing at the office of the Staten Island Advance, where violence has erupted during three days of demonstrations against the newspaper.

The league, angered over the terms "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra" in stories on organized crime in the newspaper, was ordered Friday to show cause at a court hearing on Tuesday why it should be allowed to continue picketing.

Police said a delivery truck was forced to the side of the road by men in a car on Friday, its two occupants beaten with tire irons and 150 bundles—about 10,000 newspapers—and the truck set on fire.

The driver of the truck and a district circulation manager were hospitalized. Richard Diamond, associate publisher of the Advance, then asked the police to escort delivery trucks.

Picketing since Wednesday by as many as 200 league members—has resulted in a dozen arrests for disorderly conduct.

The league says the newspaper's articles picture all criminals as Italians or Italian-Americans. Diamond says he "will stand by any story our paper prints."

Heavy Fighting Reported In Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — Furious fighting was reported Saturday around Hill 31 and two other South Vietnamese bases along the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos.

With heavy engagements also reported in Cambodia, the fighting in the past few days was regarded as possibly the bloodiest in the Indochina war.

South Vietnamese spokesman in the north said paratroopers led by an armored column routed the North Vietnamese regiment from Hill 31, eight miles inside Laos.

The situation was clouded, however, by later field reports saying fighting was still in progress around the hill. It appeared both South and North Vietnamese were clinging to parts of the hill, seized by the enemy Friday.

Part of the confusion was due to restrictions placed by American and South Vietnamese military authorities that have the effect of barring newsmen from getting into Laos.

Before the spokesman's announcement, Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of the operation in Laos, said South Vietnamese in a counterattack recaptured half the hill with the aid of U.S. helicopter gunships. Spokesman said U.S. fighter-bombers knocked out five enemy tanks.

Casualties were said to be heavy on both sides. South Vietnamese spokesman claimed 1,000 North Vietnamese were killed in three days of fighting for the hill.

Another position under heavy assault was Hill 30, a paratrooper position five miles inside Laos not far from Hill 31. American helicopter pilots reported heavy enemy fire trained on Hill 30.

The fire was so severe that U.S. helicopters could not fly in supplies to the defenders, and two of them were shot down. The five-man crew of one helicopter was rescued. The fate of the crew of the second, an observation helicopter, was unknown.

The U.S. Command previously had acknowledged the loss of 20 helicopters in Laos, along with 12 downed on the Vietnamese side of the border in support of the Lao operation. Antiaircraft fire in Laos has proved to be some of the most deadly of the war.

Field reports said it was believed that two regiments of North Vietnamese troops had moved in around Hill 30. They were reported to be the same units that overran a South Vietnamese ranger base last weekend, inflicting heavy casualties.

Another base reported under severe pressure is south of Highway 9, about 18 miles southwest of the border post of Lao Bao. It is known as Hotel 2. Fighting there was said to be less severe than that at the hill positions north of the highway, but the base was reported under heavy shelling. Highway 9 is the route used by the South Vietnamese when they opened the drive Feb. 8 to sever North Vietnamese supply lines.

In its cumulative report for the Laos operation, the Saigon command claimed 2,416 enemy had been killed up to 6 p.m. Friday. The communique said government losses for that period were 310 killed, 971 wounded and 99 missing.

Although no forward movement or significant victories were claimed in Laos, a South Vietnamese spokesman summed up the situation this way: "The fighting in Laos has become intense. That is what we expected before the operation started. We would like to see the enemy stand and fight with us, and the enemy is now doing what we expected them to do."

About 300 miles to the south, in Cambodia, major successes were claimed by South Vietnamese forces.

Spokesmen said a government task force, with the support of U.S. aircraft, killed 273 enemy in fighting near the sprawling Chup rubber plantation 35 miles inside Cambodia. They reported the government force lost five men killed and 107 wounded. Most of the enemy were killed by air strikes.

In South Vietnam itself, only scattered, sporadic fighting was reported Saturday. Officers said there were three enemy shelling attacks, but they caused light casualties.

The Cambodian high command in Phnom Penh said government troops and planes killed 21 North Vietnamese or Viet Cong at a tourist landmark in southern Cambodia. It reported two government soldiers were wounded.

The fighting broke out during a Cambodian sweep around Tuk Chhou waterfall, a beauty spot about 80 miles south of the Cambodian capital.

Prosecution Seeks To Establish Calley's 'Rough' Reputation

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The government sought permission Saturday to offer testimony that before the alleged My Lai massacre Lt. William L. Calley Jr. killed at least one prisoner, beat old women and earned "the reputation of being rough on Vietnamese."

The judge, Col. Rex W. Kennedy, took the request under advisement. Acting on another prosecution request, however, he said he was prepared to re-admit a witness who had testified earlier that Calley shot a woman who was trying to surrender at My Lai.

The defense argued vigorously against the admission of the additional evidence, saying one of the accusations had previously been dismissed and further argument would "muddle the case."

The prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey Daniel, speaking in the absence of a six-man court-martial jury told the judge:

"The government also has evidence that on a previous operation occurring approximately a month before this operation, the accused detained an old man and one of his men beat the old man in the presence of the accused and threw him into a well and that the accused shot this old man in the well."

"Also there is evidence that prior to and subsequent to this operation, the accused beat prisoners he had captured and beat old Vietnamese women for no reason and that he had a reputation of being rough on Vietnamese."

The 27-year-old Calley is charged with the premeditated murder of 102 unresisting Vietnamese men, women and children at My Lai March 16, 1968.

Kennedy also reserved decision on a defense request that it be furnished a list of government rebuttal witnesses to be called after the court-martial resumes next Wednesday. It was recessed for three days to allow the prosecution to bring the witnesses here. The jury was excused Friday.

However, Kennedy ruled that the prosecution could recall Thomas Turner, 24, former GI in Calley's platoon, to repeat his testimony that at one point during the slaughter of civilians at My Lai:

"A young Vietnamese woman was coming toward us. She was giving herself up. You could see that. She had her hands raised. Lt. Calley shot her several times. She fell over into a rice paddy."

This testimony originally was stricken by Kennedy on grounds that it was a new accusation and not outlined in the original murder charges against Calley. He said he now is prepared to admit it to bolster the government's charge of premeditation involving Calley.

Also the government won the right to call officers who attended a briefing just prior to My Lai by the commander of the task force, Lt. Col. Frank A. Barker Jr. He was killed in a helicopter crash less than three months later. While as many as 32 such witnesses may be called, Kennedy said he was reserving the right to limit the scope of their testimony.

Police Intern To Join Local Force

In an effort to better himself and his country, Adel Khalil Shaban, law enforcement major from Saudi Arabia, has almost completed his degree at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene.

Shaban will finish his college career by serving an internship in the Big Spring Police Department either the first or second summer semester of this year through Howard County Junior College.

HSU requires that a law enforcement student who is a last semester junior or senior take six semester hours of internship with a law enforcement agency. Shaban has already served three of those hours at the police department in Hamilton, Tex.

The six semester hours would mean that the student would have to spend 300 hours of observation and write a report for his final examination on the entire operation of the department where his internship is located.

ON PATROL

Shaban chose Big Spring because he will be allowed to go on patrol with the regular officers and get first hand experience. He rode with the patrol officers Friday night for the first time. Adel was in the city visiting the department this weekend.

LIKES WEST TEXAS

Adel's home is the Holy City of Medina, where his father, a merchant, and his two sisters and four brothers live.

"I can't say how much I feel for all my friends in the U.S., especially West Texas, and I will hate to leave when my education is completed. My country needs me, though, and I am ready to go home to my family," Shaban said. "I am grateful for the chance to study in American and feel my country will benefit greatly from it."

Special guests will include J. A. Coffey, Kiwanis lieutenant governor, Big Spring; J. B. Massa, Key Club regional counselor, Pampa; and Dean Herring, Key Club district chairman, Hereford.

Palestine State Proposal Rejected By Organization

CAIRO (AP) — The leadership of the Palestinian Liberation Organization rejected Saturday proposals for the creation of a new state of Palestine in any Middle East settlement.

It said Palestinians must press for "complete liberation of their homeland." This would be what is now Israel.

The organization's executive committee, headed by Yasser Arafat of the Al Fatah guerrilla group, turned down the separate state idea at a meeting devoted to plans for unifying various Palestinian refugee organizations. This will be discussed at the Palestine National Council meeting in this Egyptian capital Sunday.

Council members are meeting amid indications that Egypt and Israel may be entering serious negotiations with United Nations mediator, Gunnar V. Jarring, for a peaceful settlement of the region's 22-year-old war.

Palestinians express fear that Egypt might conclude a peace agreement with Israel at their expense.

Palestinian leaders agreed they would not accept an independent Palestinian state on only portions of the old British mandate before World War II.

The committee delayed opening the council—whose 110 members constitute a sort of Palestinian parliament in exile—for 24 hours to hear an address from Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

PILOT PROGRAM FOR POLICE Model Set-Up Is Studied Here

By BRIAN PEAY

Big Spring may be the site of a new pilot project to develop a model program for small Texas towns in the area of computer usage in the police department, according to city officials.

Wednesday, Jerry Clay, Texas Criminal Justice Council representative, will come to Big Spring to talk to city officials about the study on the model program, the first of which will possibly initiate here.

On Feb. 12, a meeting was held here with Bill Garay, IBM; Glen Conner, Texas Criminal Justice Council; and Jay Banks, police chief, in attendance to talk about a possible grant to Big Spring from the TCJC to develop the model program.

The grant from the TCJC will most likely be on an in-kind matching basis, according to City Manager Larry Crow, and the city's portion of the match could be the computer, equipment, or supervision and personnel.

STUDY

Areas of city work by which the IBM Systems III computer in city hall can help to improve the efficiency, speed and quality of service offered by city departments are being studied by city officials.

The police department is an area in which city officials think the computer can provide assistance to gain these improvements.

"I was in the police dispatcher's office one day, and it occurred to me that the filing system used in the department was so complicated and laborious that something needed to be done to bring these systems up to date," said Crow.

"The city has as one of its facilities a computer that by no means is working at capacity levels, so why should we not examine other areas in which the computer could make needed improvements," Crow said.

MODERNIZATION

"We are in a constant state of change and the proposed program will fall in line with the modernization and will be a step forward for the police department," said Banks.

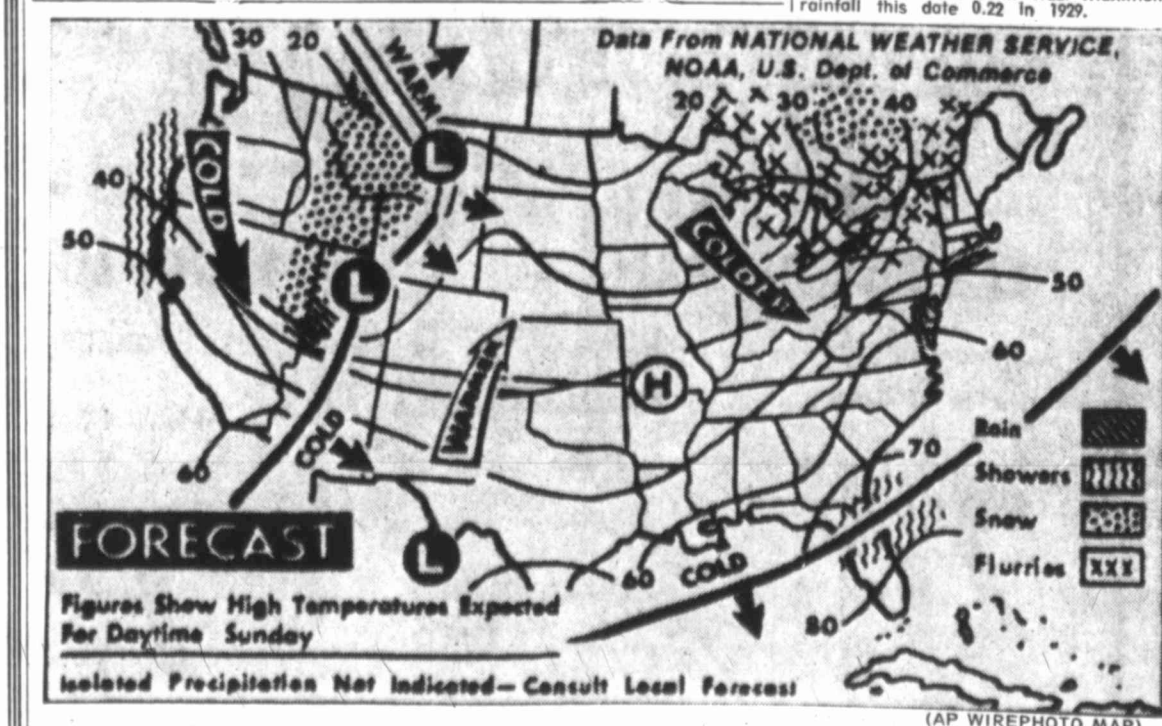

The IBM people not only offer a line of hardware, computers and related equipment, to the city, but also a line of "soft-

Revenue-Sharing Plan Puzzles Area Officials

President Nixon's proposed federal revenue-sharing program is puzzling to area city and county officials, who don't understand what the program is or how it will work.

Federal revenue sharing, in the plan presented by President Nixon, would provide $75,001,356 to Texas cities the first full year of operation if it is approved by Congress.

The plan is based on the idea of taking a set percentage of federal revenue each year and returning it to local government with no strings attached. However, all officials agree there must be guidelines, and participation will depend on them. The figure in the present plan is between 1 and 2 percent, amounting to $5 billion the first year for the nation.

Area officials said they would be able to spend any money they received, but some wondered why the money has to go to Washington first, and then back to the people.

Some excerpts from comments by area officials were as follows:

"I would rather they would just cut our Federal taxes," said Dawson County Judge Leslie C. Pratt. "We could always use the money to do some things we don't do otherwise."

Dawson County would receive $166,322 under the plan.

Coahoma Mayor Jack Cauble said "I don't think we need to send the money up there and then send it back here. But we have several things we could spend it on. We just don't know enough about it yet."

Forsan Mayor C. J. Lamb said "We like it. We need the money, especially for cleaning and street improvements."

Lamesa city manager Carroll Taylor said "There are lots of places we could spend the money; but we don't know enough about it yet to say if we would like it or not."

Lamesa would receive $83,798 under the plan.

Colorado City City Manager J. A. Sadler said "We haven't heard anything about it. Certainly we could always use the money. It would depend on what guidelines it had."

Colorado City would receive $43,811 under the plan.

Borden County Judge Glenn Toombs said "If there are no strings, it would be fine. We always need money. We could do so much for the people in the county with the money."

Borden County would receive $40,342 under the plan.

Martin County Judge Carroll Yater said "We have not had time to study this, but there are quite a few areas we could spend the money in."

Martin County would receive $36,803 under the plan.

Mitchell County Judge Bill F. Carter said "If it's done, I want my county to get its share. I would rather they just left it here and lowered taxes. We could find places to spend it."

Mitchell County would receive $67,378 under the plan.

Scurry County Judge Preston Wilson said it is being discussed at this time, and that no opinion has been formed. Scurry County would receive $302,635 under the plan.

'Jobs For Veterans Month' Proclaimed In Big Spring

March has been declared "Jobs For Veterans Month" in Big Spring by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

Big Spring is participating in a national campaign to find jobs for the almost one million men expected to return to civilian life in 1971.

"We have almost 300 job applicants registered at the Big Spring Texas Employment Commission office," said Leon Kinney, manager of the office.

"Last year we were able to place 212 veterans in local jobs or in training programs."

"Most of our veterans are Vietnam veterans, but we have some as far back as World War I. We want employers who have job openings to list their job openings with the Texas Employment Commission so that veterans may be referred and considered when an opening occurs," said Kinney.

"The TEC normally has 50-60 job openings listed every day. We have only 16-18 openings listed now."

Mayor Marshall said Big Spring civic clubs have been working with veterans for some time. Returning veterans receive recognition at club meetings and some help in obtaining jobs.

"The TEC already notifies veterans before their discharge that it stands ready to help them, advising them of their employment opportunities and rights, and invites them to contact their nearest TEC office when they are ready to seek work," Kinney said.

"Those who are undecided about the kinds of work they want to do or have aptitude for, may seek free counseling and testing at TEC offices. Some veterans may be considered for on-the-job training or other special training, during which they may receive training allowances."

"We will give employers information about the Jobs For Veterans program, about the qualifications of individual veterans, and offer any other assistance possible," said Kinney.

"We register veterans, identify job openings for them and review job orders frequently to insure maximum exposure of veterans to job opportunities. An effort is made to relate applicable military experience and training to local employer needs."

Dr. King's Slayer Denied New Trial

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray, the admitted slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has been denied a new trial.

Criminal Court Judge William H. Williams made the ruling Friday on a petition by Ray's lawyers seeking "post conviction relief" for their client. The judge said Ray was not eligible for such relief.

Ray, who pleaded guilty on March 10, 1969, to the slaying here, now is serving a 99-year term at Brushy Mountain State Prison in East Tennessee.

Bentsen Offers Measure For Stronger Bumpers

WASHINGTON — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen has introduced a bill to reduce auto collision damage and cut car insurance costs by requiring auto manufacturers to build cars with better bumpers.

The senator said the federal standards for improved front and back bumpers which would be established by the measure could save the public more than $1 billion each year. He said the bumper standards would also reduce the cost of automobile insurance which has skyrocketed in recent years.

"Auto insurance has become prohibitively expensive in recent years and much of that increased cost can be traced to poorly designed and engineered front and back bumpers," Bentsen said. "Tests by reputable concerns show that better bumpers can save hundreds of dollars in damage in auto collisions and practically eliminate damage in low-speed collisions."

The Bentsen bill would require bumpers be designed and built on all U.S. made and imported cars that will withstand impacts up to 10 miles per hour without damage. Currently most bumpers on cars are designed mostly for appearance and few can withstand impact of more than three miles per hour without damage, he said.

"This is a relatively simple engineering task. We already have the technology. The auto companies can do the job. The problem of auto body repair costs and insurance costs is one which can be solved," he said.

Bentsen said the measure which he has introduced will require that all cars manufactured in the U.S. and imported into the country meet standards set by the federal government. These standards would include the provision that bumpers be capable of withstanding a collision at speeds up to 10 miles per hour without sustaining property damage to the auto or injury to the occupants.

The bill would require that the standards be met after Jan. 1, 1973, giving the manufacturers time to design and build the bumpers into cars.

City Balks Over Television Fee

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Singer Andy Williams says he was "stunned" by a decision Friday by city officials not to pay him $60,000 for taping his Jan. 30 television show in the civic center here.

City Public Relations Director Mike Styles claimed Williams failed to give enough publicity to San Diego in the show. "San Diego was mentioned a couple of times, but not $60,000 worth," Styles said.

In Los Angeles, Williams said: "I thought we talked a great deal about San Diego, but if they wanted a travelogue, they misunderstood."

Mark Foerster Named Engineer Of The Year

H. M. (Mark) Foerster, Odessa, manager of engineering for Orloff Corp., was named engineer of the year at the 14th annual awards banquet of the Permian Basin chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers. The affair was held Friday evening in the Big Spring Country Club.

He was cited not only for outstanding professional achievement, but for civic and church activities as well. Robert M. (Bob) Orr, Monahans, last year's recipient, made the presentation.

The meeting attracted approximately 170, who heard Alton (Bo) Gates, San Antonio, humorist-philosopher, speak. Paschal Odum, Big Spring, chapter chairman, was in charge of the program which was attended jointly by members of TSPE, American Institute of Chemical Engineers, Institute of Electrical Engineers, Institute of Electric and Electronic Engineers, American Institute of Mining Engineers, and American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Foerster, a native of Navasota, is a graduate of Texas A&M University with a BS degree in electrical engineering. From 1952-58, with two years out for service with the Army in Korea, he was with Phillips Chemical Co. in Pasadena, Tex. He joined El Paso Natural Gas Products Co. in Odessa in 1958, and in 1964 became associated with the Orloff Corp. in Midland. He has engaged in the design and construction as well as maintenance of various types of chemical plants, also in construction of electric generating plants and development of electrical systems. He also has done special study in instrumentation, cables and management.

As a lad he was an Eagle Scout and subsequently served as a scout leader. He is a member of Highland United Methodist Church in Odessa, serving on the official board for 12 years and as chairman for a time. He also has been president of the Methodist men, is a lay leader, and teaches a Sunday School class for seniors. Foerster is one of his church trustees and has devoted many hours on construction and painting at the church.

He is registered as a professional engineer in the states of Texas, Kansas, Mississippi and soon in Arkansas. Foerster is a past president of the Permian chapter of TSPE (1967) and served as membership chairman and awards chairman in 1969. He has been equally active in the Basin section of IEEE, having been chapter chairman in 1964-65.

His wife is the former Betty Byram of Brenham, and they reside at 1504 Verde Street, Odessa, with their two children, Kathy, a seventh grader; and David, a fourth grader.

San Antonio City Races Heating Up

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — City council races began heating up here and in politically troubled Crystal City over the past week as Mexican-American hopefuls filed for office.

Six candidates filed for the city council in Crystal City Friday, including three running under the banner of Raza Unida, a Mexican-American third political party in Southwest Texas.

A day earlier in San Antonio, outspoken independent councilman Pete Torres Jr. filed for re-election. He challenged the standard bearer of the ruling political organization here to follow through on announced plans to run against him.

In another development, four young Mexican-Americans have filed as independent candidates for city council here in a campaign on behalf of a local group, the Committee for Barrio Betterment.

One of the four Barrio committee candidates is Mario Compean, 30, a founder and former state chairman of the militant Mexican-American Youth Organization.

Another candidate here, Jose Olivares, chose the bank of the San Antonio River to announce his plans to seek office. He said he chose the location to "dramatize the problems of drainage, pure water and sewage treatment."

The race in Crystal City seems certain to be heated, just as others there have been.

The Raza Unida candidates for the three open city council seats at Crystal City are incumbent Francisco Benavides, who became mayor after councilman Paul Mata was ousted from that post; and two teachers, Jose Talamantez and Robert Gamez.

Ousting them are incumbent Mata, incumbent councilman Santos Nieto and Gilberto Salazar.

If the three Raza Unida candidates win April 6, it would give the council a full five-man slate locked out of their first period class and known to have been on campus were suspended.

party began seeking political power there.

The Crystal City election is an unusual turn of events: Benavides, Nieto and Mata ran together as a ticket two years ago.

In a recent meeting, councilmen voted that illiterates will be given assistance in the Crystal City council election. This was based on a federal court ruling that held unconstitutional restrictions against aiding illiterates in marking ballots.

'I JUST ACTED STUPID' Narc Says Infiltration Easy

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Infiltrating the drug scene in this university town was easy, says a young narcotics agent whose investigative activities led to a sweeping narcotics raid.

"I just went into the dorms and acted stupid," said the agent, who asked that his identity not be disclosed. "I got into conversations and got to know them. Then I asked where they could get the stuff and they told me. Some of the buys I made were from students."

The 19-year-old agent, dubbed "George," and a 21-year-old companion known as "John," are two of the many youths being used by state Atty. Gen. Vern Miller in his narcotics probe.

Miller calls the two "spark-plugs" that have ignited his anti-drug campaign in Kansas.

"I can only commend and admire the courage of the undercover agents who built these cases," Miller said Friday after raids in which 30 persons were charged with drug violations. Twelve were students at the University of Kansas.

Miller, meanwhile, has come under fire for the early morning raids which some students described as a publicity stunt.

University Chancellor E. Lawrence Chalmers Jr. said he had no advance word of the raids by 150 agents and that campus reaction appears to be "disbelief, a certain amount of resentment considering the hour involved, and some anger."

Miller, at a news conference in Topeka, said he didn't think the raids were the business of university officials. Residences near the campus and one dormitory were entered.

John Naramore, a Kansas graduate representing the "street people" in Lawrence's police-community relations program, said the raids were "an obvious stunt" by Miller.

"By exploiting the situation at the University of Kansas and the Lawrence community for

Trustees Seeking Riot Investigation

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — The Texarkana School Board meeting in a special session until 1 a.m. Saturday, voted to call for a grand jury investigation into racial trouble at the Texarkana High School Feb. 17.

In that incident, 224 pupils were suspended after a group of white pupils allegedly became boisterous in the school's Student Union. Officials said 150 pupils were Negroes.

The pupils began fighting outside the Student Union and five were arrested by police, called to the campus two days earlier on a report that there would racial trouble.

School officials reportedly locked school doors when the fighting began and those pupils locked out of their first period class and known to have been on campus were suspended.

As "narcotics"—narcotics agents—for Miller, "John" and "George" made the Lawrence drug scene the last two months. John said he began working for Miller last August in Wichita when Miller still was sheriff of Sedgewick County.

"Somebody has to do something," John said. "It seems like the public is too apathetic about the drug problem. If more people felt this way, we wouldn't have the problem we have in Lawrence..."

George, who lives near Lawrence, drops into the city at intervals. He said he has made drug purchases in dormitories on the campus.

Both say they enjoy their work and want to continue it providing their identities remain anonymous.

"I'm proud of being a narc," said John. "If you can't be proud of what you're doing, you shouldn't be doing it."

Deadlines Near For Area City Council, School Board Elections

Area city council and school board elections are scheduled for April 3 and 6. Filing deadline for the April 3 elections is Wednesday and the deadline for the April 6 elections is Saturday. The number of filings has been increasing, but not all elections have as many candidates as seats.

In Forsan only incumbent Joe B. Hoard has filed for the city council. The two incumbents, John B. Anderson and J. M. Craig, have not filed and no other filings have been reported. Filing deadline is Wednesday for the April 3 election. All three incumbents have filed for the Forsan school board. Leon Ward filed earlier for a three-year term, Oliver B. Nichols Jr. filed for a three-year term and Robert L. Rister filed for the remaining year of the term he was appointed to. Filing for the Coahoma city council is Steve Dick. Easter Seal Drive To Begin, Monday Eddie Jowers is just one of many boys and girls getting a helping hand daily from the Howard County Easter Seal Society.

But during this year's Easter Seal campaign, which begins March 1, and comes to a climax April 11, Easter Sunday, Eddie is somebody special: The official 1971 Easter Seal Child for Big Spring and Howard County.

For the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jowers, 1606 E. 5th, life has been difficult. Because of cerebral palsy, Eddie is unable to do many of the things other children do to lead an active and normal life.

Eddie is making progress toward overcoming his handicap through physical therapy, which he gets from the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

EASTER SEAL POSTER BOY
... 3-year-old Eddie Jowers

"Eddie is a brave little boy," said Mrs. Morris Robertson, publicity chairman. "That's why we chose him to represent the crippled children and adults who receive Easter Seal care here in Big Spring."

"We think it's important to treat Eddie, as if his handicap didn't even exist," his mother explained. "That way, he feels more important and is encouraged to work harder to overcome the problem."

Contributions received during the Easter Seal campaign will provide continued services for children such as Eddie, and the Howard County society hopes to expand its program at the rehabilitation center to care for more crippled children and adults during 1971.

These services include purchasing personal equipment such as wheelchairs, braces, crutches, corrective shoes for patients, underwriting all expenses for the crippled children's clinics at the center, and helping to pay for the salary of a speech therapist.

Water Group Honors Fulcher

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Water Quality Board chairman Gordon Fulcher, praised for a "deep and sincere" concern for Texas' environment, was named the Texas Water Conservation Association's "man of the year" Friday.

The association also elected Beeman Fisher of Fort Worth its new president, succeeding Josiah Wheat of Woodville.

Gov. Preston Smith urged the association's help in getting voter approval May 18 of a constitutional amendment boosting the interest rate on water development bonds from 4 to 6 per cent.

The amendment also would authorize $100 million in state bonds for construction of sewage treatment facilities.

Arraignment Due In Conspiracy To Burn Schools

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Four persons face arraignment next Saturday in federal court on charges growing out of an alleged conspiracy to burn the Tyler school administration building and other facilities.

The four include black militant Lincoln Ashford, self-styled spokesman for the Black Liberation Front. Ashford was arrested in Chicago in September and has been in jail at Tyler since, unable to make bonds of $60,000.

Several months before his arrest, Ashford placed advertisements in Tyler newspapers asking that the name of the Robert E. Lee High School be changed.

Also set for arraignment were Andrew Lee Mitchell, Jerry Lee Williams and Jesse H. Hampton. Mitchell's wife, Mary Ann, was one of the original defendants in the case. She pleaded guilty Feb. 12 in Beaumont of manufacturing and possessing illegal arms and fire bombs.

Liquidate Assets Of Defunct Bank

HOUSTON (AP) — The Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which is liquidating the closed Sharpstown State Bank, was authorized Friday to sell off much of its assets.

An order by Dist. Judge John Snell Jr. said, however, that the notes of Houston Educational Foundation, Inc., the successor to the Jesuit Fathers of Houston who operate a prep school here, would not be sold.

Snell also said that notes of the bank's stockholders would not be sold unless they agreed.

The Jesuit Fathers earlier this month put their corporation in the hands of the federal courts for reorganization, saying they had run into financial troubles by relying on advice from Sharp.

Plads Guilty To False Entry Count

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A former vice president of the Longview Bank & Trust Co., Charles W. Huffman, pleaded guilty Friday to three charges of banking irregularities.

U.S. Dist. Judge William Steger said he will sentence Huffman at 10 a.m. Thursday in Texarkana.

The government had charged Huffman with making false entries in the bank's liability ledger with intent to deceive examiners and officers of the bank.

'By Pass Surgery' Is Up-And-Coming Method

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A top heart surgeon has predicted that a technique known as "bypass surgery" will become the "cardiac surgery for the 1970s."

Dr. Denton A. Cooley said Friday his team at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital in Houston has used the operation on 303 patients with a 10.9 per cent mortality rate in the past year, making the new procedure much safer than heart transplantation.

Cooley addressed some 300 doctors attending a biennial meeting of the Johns Hopkins Medical and Surgical Association, of which he is president.

The operation was developed for persons who suffer blockage of arteries which feed the heart muscle. Bypass surgery usually takes about five hours and involves replacing the diseased section of artery with a segment of vein, usually taken from the patient's leg, Cooley said.

During the operation a heart-lung machine is used to take over the regular functions of the heart.

"There may be as many as five million people in the country that could benefit from bypass surgery," said Dr. Vincent L. Gott, cardiac surgeon-in-charge at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Saturday Is Filing Date

Deadline for filing applications for candidacy in the April 6 city commissioner election is Saturday.

"Those wishing to run for office can get in touch with me here at the city hall all day Saturday," said Charles Smith, city secretary.

The positions to be open on the city commission are currently held by George Zachariah and Garner McAdams, and prospective candidates will have to have their applications in by midnight March 6.

Absentee balloting begins Wednesday, March 17, and lasts through Friday, April 2, for voting in person at the city secretary's office.

Candidates running for election must be city residents for two years prior to the election and also must be a qualified voter. J. L. Watkins, former furniture store proprietor and current real estate operator, has been the only person to file for a place on the ballot thus far.

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Flames fed by magnesium raced through a regional car parts center Friday, virtually destroying six buildings. Damage was estimated at $9 million.

Scores of firemen battled the blaze at Volkswagen South Central Distributor, Inc., which serves five states—Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado and Wyoming.

General manager James Lewis set the $9 million loss figure.

Underground Ed's Case Is Mistrial

DALLAS (AP)—Jurors could not agree on a verdict and the case of former underground newspaper editor Brent Stein ended in a mistrial Friday. Dist. Judge R. T. Scales said Stein will be tried again on a charge he interfered with police during a disturbance at the city's Lee Park last April. The jurist was told that jurors were hopelessly deadlocked after deliberating seven hours. Prosecutors had sought to prove that Stein, formerly with the underground paper "Dallas Notes," was a leader in a rock-throwing melee at the park. It occurred after officers arrested several persons for swimming nearby in Turtle Creek.

Is It Texas Or Oklahoma Water?

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tug of war has developed between the Texas Water Rights Commission and Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., over rival water projects in their respective states.

Harris has caused delay on a project in the Texas Panhandle because it would take some water that now flows into Oklahoma's Lake Altus.

In turn, the Texas commission is trying to bring a halt to work expanding the capacity of Lake Altus.

The commission has filed its objection to the Altus Retrop, the enlargement project, with the Department of the Interior. It also has hinted it will file objections against 60 other Oklahoma water projects until the dispute over the McClellan project in the Texas Panhandle is solved.

McClellan Creek is upstream from Lake Altus, and water flows from the Texas Panhandle east through the Altus area and eventually into the Red River.

Harris has suggested the McClellan Creek project not be approved until Texas and Oklahoma agree on water use, or until a federal court decides who owns the water.

the water and Texas Rep. Bob Price, of the Panhandle area, thinks Texas holds ownership rights.

An aide to Price said the lawmakers can holdup each other's projects because an appropriation committee won't appropriate the money until congressional objections are withdrawn.

Harris, however, said that has been tried before and hasn't worked.

Patty Duke Is Now A Mother

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Patty Duke is the mother of a 5-pound 7-ounce boy and a spokesman says the Oscar-winning actress is "thrilled and happy."

Born Thursday in St. John's Hospital, and named Sean, the baby was the first child for Miss Duke, 23.

The actress, who won her Academy Award in 1962 for her role in "The Miracle Worker," filed for divorce last July from her second husband—Michael Tell, 25, a Las Vegas promoter of rock concerts.

Mistrial In Murder Case

HOUSTON (AP)—The murder trial of Dr. John R. Hill, a prominent Houston plastic surgeon, ended in a mistrial Friday after Mrs. Ann Kurth testified Hill told her he killed his wife, Mrs. Joan Robinson Hill, with a needle.

Mrs. Kurth, the now-divorced second wife of Hill, also had testified that Hill attempted to kill her less than a month after their marriage. She said he rammed her car into a bridge, then tried to jab her with two hypodermic syringes.

Defense lawyer Richard Haynes objected to the testimony and demanded a mistrial when Mrs. Kurth related the "confession" by Hill of his wife's murder.

Dist. Judge Fred M. Hooley first refused the mistrial, but after a recess met with opposing attorneys in his chambers for 30 minutes, then surprised a packed courtroom by announcing that he was declaring a mistrial. A new trial is due in two to three months.

Hill was accused of killing his wife by deliberately failing to give her proper medical care during a short illness before she died March 19, 1969.

Frogs Clinch Tie For Title

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian overcame an aroused Texas zone defense to defeat the Longhorns 74-71 Saturday and clinch at least a tie for the Southwest Conference basketball championship. TCU jumped in command as the game started and led by as much as 10 points on three different occasions. But the Horns closed the gap to a 35-53 deficit by halftime. In the hip-and-tuck second half, Texas took the lead at 65-63 with 5:54 left. But the Frogs regained the lead at 4:15 on a basket by Simpson Degrate and TCU never trailed again. Texas missed a chance to catch the Frogs with 4:01 left when they missed four consecutive free throws after Texas Billy Black and TCU's Goo Villarreal were ejected from the game for fighting. Eugene "Goo" Kennedy left the Frogs with 26 points and Degrate contributed 21. Scooter Lenox had 22 for Texas and Jimmy Blacklock added 16. TCU hit 54 per cent from the field but only 44 per cent at the free throw line. Texas had percentages of 45 from the field and 58 at the charity line.

KENTUCKY NEARS SEC CAGE CROWN

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Kentucky clinched at least a tie for the Southeastern Conference basketball title with a surprisingly easy 119-90 victory over Vanderbilt in a regionally televised game Saturday afternoon. The Wildcats romping to their 14th league victory against only two defeats, now need only one victory in their next two games — at Auburn Monday or at home against Tennessee next Saturday — to wrap up the school's and Coach Adolph Rupp's 26th SEC championship since the league was organized in 1933. Kentucky actually put the game away with a sizzling 55-point first half while holding the Commodores to 37. Tom Parker, the Cats' sharp shooting junior forward from Collinsville, Ill., and Jim Dinwiddie, a senior guard from Leitchfield, Ky., led the visitors' first half assault with 20 and 13 points respectively.

FORT STOCKTON — Abilene High lived up to its role as favorite by winning the annual Comanche Relays with a total of 99 points here Saturday. Midland Lee was a distant second with 52 points. Big Spring wound up seventh with 35 points and, no doubt, would have fared better had not its sprint relay team had problems after qualifying in the respectable time of 43.3. The Steer team of Arthur Trevino, Walter Campbell, Clay Thompson and Walter Jordan passed out of the zone on one occasion and dropped the baton on the third exchange. It just wasn't their day but they'll get better. Big Spring's best finishes were two second places, one by Walter Jordan in the 220 and the other by Clay Thompson in the mile. Mike McCormick was third in the 880 but finished only half a second off the winning pace. Jordan was third in the 100. TEAM STANDINGS 1. Abilene, 99; 2. Lee, 52; Midland, 46; 4. San Angelo, 44; 5. SNYDER — Big Spring fielded both the team champion and the winner in boys' doubles competition in the annual Canyon Reef Tennis tournament staged here Saturday. In the eight-team field, Big Spring earned the title award by scoring a total of 42 points to 34 for runner-up Snyder and 32 for third-place Odessa High. Andrews, Sweetwater, Kermit, Monahans and Lubbock Estacado also entered teams in the meet. Coach Novice Kniffen crossed up the other teams by entering his ace singles player, Stewart Bunn, in doubles competition with Bobby Dyer and the strategy paid off. Bunn and Dyer won four consecutive matches, ultimately beating the Odessa High tandem of Steve Loomis and Glen Bingham in straight sets for the championship, 6-4, 7-5. Bunn and Dyer chilled Snyder, Monahans and Lubbock Estacado on the way to the finals. They lost their only set to Mims and Hallman of Estacado but won, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0. Max Falls, Snyder, who conquered Hill in boys' singles, 6-1, 6-1, proceeded to win the championship with a 6-1, 6-1 success at the expense of David Falk, Odessa. Eddie Lee of Estacado was consolation winner. In boys' doubles, Stephens and McBeth, Andrews, won

STEERS' MARK McCRANEY Holds two Big Spring awards

McCraney Claims Medal At Andrews

ANDREWS — Mark McCraney, Big Spring, captured medalist honors in the 36-hole Andrews High School Invitational Golf tournament in a playoff Saturday that went three extra holes. McCraney shot a bogie-par in the playoff to nip Mike Ussery of Roswell Goddard, N.M., after the two had finished with nine-over par 149s at the end of regulation play. McCraney would have closed it out on the first extra hole had he not three-putted after reaching the green. McCraney toured the layout in 75 the first day and cut one stroke off that figure the second time around. Ussery had a 76 his opening round but came back Saturday to fire a 73. Big Spring's entries also won a trophy by finishing second to Midland Lee in the race for low-ball honors. The Steers, Lee and Lubbock Coronado all wound up tied for first at 129 each. Lee beat Big Spring and Coronado on the first extra hole and then the Steers took out Coronado on the second hole of the playoff. Big Spring had the remarkable score of 29 on the first nine, only to coast off a bit. Team honors were won by Roswell Goddard, with a four-man 36-hole score of 612. Goddard beat out El Paso Coronado and Midland Lee by a single stroke. Big Spring tied for seventh in team play with a 624. Also in at that figure were Lubbock Coronado and Alamogordo, N.M. In all, 18 teams competed for Division I honors. Team results:

Clay Talking Excessively As Bout Nears

NEW YORK (AP) — Pressure is building for the Fight-Muhammad Ali is talking faster than ever while Joe Frazier is hardly talking at all. Frazier says he is saving his talking for Ali when they meet in a scheduled 15-round title bout at Madison Square Garden on the night of Monday, March 8. And if money talks, Frazier will have the last word. The heavyweight champion has been made the 7-5 favorite by the Nevada bookmakers. Frazier has become increasingly incommunicative with sports writers covering his training sessions in Philadelphia, while Ali has increased his sayings and ramblings to the point that writers covering him in Miami Beach run the risk of being overwhelmed. The behavior of both fighters follows patterns established by the fighters by their conduct both in and out of the ring, patterns that led Garden boxing publicist John Condon to add their mouth sizes to the list of the usual pre-fight physical measurements. Each fighter's mouth closed is four inches while Frazier's mouth open is six inches to 11 for Ali, according to Condon's measurements. "I don't mind talking to you guys it's just that I always know what you're going to ask," Frazier told a sports writer in explaining why he don't like interviews. This reluctance to be interviewed grows into a moody silence as a fight approaches. On the other hand Ali's chatter increases as a fight approaches until it reaches the point when it often seems he doesn't even care if anybody is listening. At the weigh-ins for his fights with Jerry Quarry and Oscar Bonavena, Ali put on non-stop talking performances. And there was the famous scene at the weigh-in for the first Sonny Liston fight, which brought Ali the title as Cassius Clay, when Ali appeared hysterical. Some observers said the fight should be called off. Frazier and Ali are due in New York next Wednesday, for the pro-fight physicals required by law.

Baylor Defeated In Double Bill

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Powell Brown and Ricky Soliz each pitched three hitters as Pan American University swept a doubleheader from Baylor Saturday, 6-1 and 6-0. Two towering home runs, both over the 40-foot high screen above the left field fence, powered Pan Am's wins. Willie Gawklik hit one with the bases empty in the opener and Al Piece slugged a three-run blast in the first inning of the nightcap.

Myers Breaks Mark; HC Is Assured Tie

By TOMMY HART
A near-capacity crowd filed into the HCJC Gymnasium Friday night to see if Archie Myers could shatter Walter Carter's all-time school scoring record and stayed to see perhaps the finest game of the 1970-71 Jayhawk season. The Hawks crowded past Odessa College by the skin of their teeth and with the luck of the Irish and thus insured themselves a tie for first place in the Western Conference standings. Final score was 95-94. It probably was even closer than that.

Not until the final 12 seconds of play, when cool Melvin Perez hit on two free pitches did the Hawks nail it down. Perez's two shots gave the Big Spring collegians a three-point bulge. Odessa got the ball out of bounds with just two seconds left and the Hawks turned the Wranglers loose for their final two points, rather than take the chance on fouling. A short time before Perez went to the line, Myers hit two pressure field goals from the top of the key and wound up with 29 points for the game. He now has 827 for the season and has at least one more game to add to that total. Carter set his mark in 1963. No asterisk need follow Archie's name, since he did it in 34 games, just as did Carter. Odessa was beating the Hawks on the boards and had not ratty Allen Carter fouled out with 3:36 remaining probably would have won. Carter was a puzzle to the Hawks and a constant threat with his left-handed hook side—a thing

Amarillo Shocks Texans, 67-57

AMARILLO — Amarillo College mopped up on South Plains, 67-57, here Friday night and moved into what amounts to a four-way tie for first place in Western Conference standings. Howard County has clinched a tie for the top spot. Amarillo, South Plains and Clarendon are the other teams which can deadlock for the top spot. Each has four losses. The race doesn't end until Monday. Larry Kenon, hobbled by HCJC Wednesday, came back to lead Amarillo with 27 points. Herschel Mitchell added 20 for the Badgers. Gene Perry led South Plains with 20. High-scoring Tommy Jordan was limited to eight by the Badgers. Amarillo is now 19-5 on the season while South Plains slumped to 20-10. South Plains hosts Odessa Monday. Both teams are entered in the Region V tournament at Big Spring next weekend. SOUTH PLAINS (57) — Perry 10-23; Jordan 4-8; White 1-0; Snodgrass 1-1; King 9-21; Lopez 2-7; Dickson 0-1; Totals 25-57. AMARILLO (67) — Kenon 11-27; Puryear 2-4; Bailey 0-11; Bishop 1-5; Mitchell 10-20; White 0-11; Burton 1-3; Totals 25-147.

Clarendon And Amarillo Will Square Off Monday

HOBBS, N.M. — Clarendon College moved into a tie for first place in Western Conference basketball standings by defeating New Mexico JC, 99-91, here Friday night. The win was the ninth in 13 league starts for the Bulldogs. NMJC dropped out to 8-5 and is out of championship contention. Clarendon plays host to Amarillo Monday, with the winner insuring itself a deadlock for first place in the race. Clarendon jumped into a 51-46 lead at half time but the Thunderbirds rallied to lead several times after the intermission. The final score was the game's widest margin. Ben Garner paced the NMJC team with 23 points. Clarendon was paced by Bobby Martin, who settled for 26. Tony Moya tossed in 22 for the winners. Clarendon is now 18-10 on the year while NMJC dropped back to 15-13. CLARENDON (99) — Martin 11-42; Lind 5-12; Moya 10-42; Villareal 4-8; King 9-21; Lopez 2-7; Dickson 0-1; Totals 41-149. NMJC (91) — Hamilton 5-13; Dawson 1-3; Carrasco 6-21; Baling 1-3; Brinker 4-12; Banks 7-21; Toome 1-2; Garner 10-23; McConis 1-0; Totals 38-159. Half time score — Clarendon 51, New Mexico JC 46. Levelland Pro On Fight Card Former all-service fighter Jim Elder of Levelland will be on the card when Muhammad Ali meets Joe Frazier in Madison Square Garden March 8. The West Texan will meet Bunny Akins of Fresno, Calif., in a preliminary event.

Fem Wrestling Coach Takes Unwanted Job

LINWOOD, Kan. (AP) — The voice of a young, curvaceous brunette rings sharply through the door to the boys' dressing room. "You've got three more minutes," Clara Shub says firmly, "and if you're not out of there by then, I'm coming in." A roar of youthful male laughter penetrates the sound of water thrashing against the shower walls. Mrs. Shub watches the seconds tick away on her watch. One minute passes... two minutes... three minutes. Nothing happens. Mrs. Shub takes a deep sigh and then keeps her word. Suddenly a mass of arms and hands are scurrying for towels and clothes. Never have four boys put on their duds so quickly. The foursome makes up the entire wrestling squad at the high school in this tiny farming community some 25 miles west of Kansas City. Mrs. Shub is their coach. "BOYS EMBARRASSED" "When I have to go in on them," says Mrs. Shub, a twinkle in her eyes, "they are more embarrassed than I am." Mrs. Shub, 23, volunteered as coach and the school board accepted. She said she did it not to help the women's liberation movement but to help the boys. "There are only three men teachers in the school, and none of them could work it in," she said. "The school had a mat but no wrestling program. The boys had been begging for a coach. I thought boys who wanted a wrestling team so badly should have the opportunity to participate." Mrs. Shub, in her first year as teacher of vocal and instrumental music at the 90-student school, was given her coaching assignment last December. "I found out I was the coach on a Monday night," she said. "We practiced for the first time the next Wednesday and went to a tournament at Tonganoxie, Kan., the following Saturday. The team was entered in the 125, 145, 157 and 165-pound classes."

Mrs. Shub is a picture of femininity with her sparkling eyes, and miniskirts. At 5-foot-7 she weighs a trim 120 pounds, 10 pounds less than when she started coaching. "I lost the weight doing some of the things my boys do," she said with a smile. "I don't feel it's fair to the boys to ask them to do things I can't do. I lift weights right along with them. I do the toe touches, the situps, the pushups, the jumping jacks, the rolls, the leg stretches, the back bends. "I do the presses like they do. I can press 65. The only thing I don't do are the laps. And I don't wrestle." Mrs. Shub says she has no discipline problems and that her only regret is that she can't show the boys how to wrestle by example. "I can show the basic breaks," she says with a few gestures, "but it's difficult to show the holds, the body slam, the head scissors, the body scissors, the full nelson and those things. But my boys are learning. "We've had only one dual match... with Wathena, Kan., and we won 10-18. We had the smallest squad and the shortest amount of practice but we didn't finish last in the district tournament. One of my boys placed third and got to go to the regionals." ACCEPTED Mrs. Shub says there were a lot of raised eyebrows among the townfolks but she has been well accepted by other coaches, all male, once she rattled off her qualifications.

Steers, Coronado Meet Here Monday

Either Dave Duncan or Dave Englert, both righthanders, will get the starting call when the Big Spring Steers take the field in the season opener here Monday against Lubbock Coronado. "I haven't decided yet who will start," said Oakley Hagood, Big Spring baseball coach. "I'll determine that Monday." Hagood indicated that he will use both Duncan and Englert in the contest. "I'll let one throw 75 or 80 pitches and then come in with the other. It's too early in the season to let one pitcher go all the way." Hagood also said that pitcher John Seavy might see some action against Coronado. The Big Spring mentor announced his starting lineup at the other eight positions. Around the infield will see Grady Ray at first base, Roddy Caffey at second, Tom Fletcher at third and Randy Womack at shortstop. Getting the starting nod in the outfield will be Arthur Guess in left, Ricky Steen opens in center and Pete Shaffer in right. Veteran Tom Brewer will start behind the plate. Monday's opponent Coronado, returns all eight starters from last year's team which posted an over-all 13-15-1 record. Top returnees include Gary Olivo, Joe Byrne, Mike Byrne, Kenny Hill, Dickie Craddock and Wayne Williams. Coronado coach Mark Saunders has indicated he will switch Olivo, a two-year all-Lubbock shortstop to second base this season. He also has a five man pitching staff with which to work. Ace hurlers are Joe Byrne and Kenny Hill. Others slated for mound work include Olivo, Brent McKinney and Bill Wallis. Hill is expected to get the starting call against the Steers Monday.

NEED COLOR TV Linksters Hard To Tell Apart

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — At the risk of sounding like a commercial, the 30-million arm chair spectator—the network estimated—need a color TV set to get a true appreciation of big time tournament golf today. You can tell all the players by the cut and design of their pants—or can you? "Oh, look, there's Tom Shaw," gushed one of the fans at the 53rd PGA championship here. "I can tell by his red pants. I saw him on television." "No, that's Larry Hinson," corrected a friend. "Shaw didn't make the cut. Both have got blond hair. "I'm sure it's John Miller," a bystander interjected. "They all look alike." All were wrong. It was Jack Nicklaus—the new Nicklaus, with his long mop of unruly golden hair and fresh slimmed-down image. "It's really hard to tell them apart these days," acknowledged the original speaker. "Yeah, the mods have taken over," said the companion. AWARE OF LOOKS That is not entirely the case but it's certainly true that the tournament golfers—like actors—have become conscious of how they look on the big screen. Curtis Mills Has 46.2 Quarter COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Curtis Mills ran a 46.2 anchor lap to provide Texas A&M with the mile relay victory and a 68-68 tie with Rice Saturday in a dual track meet. The Aggies had to win the final event to get the tie and Mills took the baton for the final lap some five yards behind Rice's anchorman, Chip Grandjean. Mills came off the final turn even with Grandjean and then whipped him down the stretch to win by about three yards. A&M was timed in 3:10.3 and Rice in 3:10.5.

Atlanta Pros Making Run At 2nd Spot

ATLANTA (AP) — A late-season surge sparked by Walt Bellamy, a much-traded veteran, is transforming what has been a year of agony into one of hope for the Atlanta Hawks. Only six weeks ago Atlanta was mired in third place in the National Basketball Association's Central Division, seven and one-half games out of second, the final playoff berth. The Hawks had a 14-33 record and had not been in the No. 2 spot since early November. The uphill struggle to catch Cincinnati began when the Hawks reeled off their longest winning string of the year, five in a row, behind the efforts of 10-year veteran Bellamy, who has seen action with five NBA clubs. Atlanta finally drew even with Cincinnati last Wednesday and the clubs remained deadlocked going into Saturday night's action. Each had 13 games remaining including a pair of head-to-head clashes in Atlanta March 7 and in Cincinnati March 13. The dismal early showing of the Hawks stunned most Atlanta fans, who thought the defending Western Division regular season champs were approaching a dynasty when they landed Pistol Pete Maravich of Louisiana State, college basketball's all-time scoring king and a master showman. Maravich became a million dollar rookie, and some veteran Hawks went to the negotiating table seeking substantial salary increases. Joe Caldwell, a super jumper who was one of the keys to the 1970 success, and Atlanta's management never came to terms, and shortly after the season began, Caldwell leaped all the way to the Carolina Cougars of the rival American Basketball Association. Maravich experienced considerably difficulty in adjusting to the Hawks' style of play, but he has shown steady improvement and built his scoring average to 22 points per game, while cutting down on his turnovers.

Claude Girls Win Cage Title

AUSTIN (AP) — Claude took the Class A state girls basketball title Saturday with a 46-33 win over Glen Rose. Claude won the Class A title handily with Diane Campbell and Janis Irby pouring in 16 points each. Candy Marks was high for Glen Rose with 15. At the half Claude led 22-20. Glen Rose pulled ahead by five points once in the second half but could not hold it as Claude pushed on to win. The Class B playoff was set up Saturday morning when Grandview took an overtime 50-47 victory from Follett, the 1970 champion Round Top - Carmine was easy winner over Wells 66-30. In the 1970 first round Follett advanced to the finals by defeating Round Top - Carmine 55-53.

Texas Splits Two With S. Houston

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Bud Whitleyman was both a loser and winner Saturday as he pitched Sam Houston State to a 4-1 victory and a split with Texas in the second game of a baseball doubleheader Saturday. Texas won the opener 5-3 with a four-run outburst in the third inning. Whitleyman started both game for Sam Houston, but was pulled in the first inning of the opener and credited with the loss. But Whitleyman started again in the nightcap and struck out four and allowed one hit before retiring in the sixth. David Wolley whacked a two-run homer in the second inning of the first game to give Sam Houston a 3-0 lead. Floyd Ciruti pounded out five hits in nine trips for Sam Houston over the two games. Texas now is 3-1 for the year and Sam Houston is 1-3.

Spearman Cops AA Girls Crown

AUSTIN (AP) — Last year's runner-up became this year's champion when Spearman defeated Buna 52-47 Saturday for the Class AA state girls basketball title. Buna, former state titlist in 1957, 1960, and 1961 made Spearman work hard for the win. The game was tied 13 times and was 24-24 at halftime. Midway in the fourth quarter Sheila Patterson, who was high for Spearman with 32 points, put the Lynxettes ahead and they kept the lead the rest of the game. Darlene Singleton had 33 points for Buna.

Four Volunteers Help In Gymnastics Drills

Aided by four volunteer instructors, YMCA Recreational Director Eddie Trice has a gymnastics program off and running at the local YMCA.

About 40 local young boys and girls between the ages of six and 12 are participating in the program now which is running Monday through Thursday.

Working with Trice in the program are Bill Hembree, Roger Dixon, Larry Moreno and Capt. Mike Friedel.

Trice said, "Our gymnastics program is really going big guns now. The kids are getting instruction in the fundamentals of trampolining, tumbling and floor exercises and some of them have started in the fundamentals of the steel rings, side horse, high bar and parallel bars."

Friedel, a native of Baltimore, is working with the youngsters on the steel rings, parallel bars, side horse and high bar.

He learned gymnastics from Dr. George Kramer at the University of Maryland and taught the sport at Connecticut Recreational Center.

Assigned to the Weather Detachment at Webb, Friedel says his biggest thrill came when he juggled basketballs for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus in Little Rock.

TEACHING GYMNASTICS AT YMCA Mike Friedel (L), Billy Hembree

Working with Friedel is Bill Hembree, an experienced gymnast who has competed in the Gulf Coast AAU in Houston and the Southwest AAU in Dallas. He had been in the sport since 1958 when he graduated from San Angelo High School.

Hembree was taught by Jamille Ashmore of Dallas. Another instructor in the program here is Big Spring native Roger Dixon. He is a freshman at Howard County Junior College and learned the sport in classes at Texas Tech.

Larry Moreno, a Forsan native and a sophomore at Howard County, is working with the program too. He learned the skills of gymnastics at Southwest Leadership Classes at Baylor.

He has been at the YMCA for two years and teaches in trampolining, tumbling and floor exercises.

The gymnast program at the YMCA is coed and Trice has hopes of expanding the program.

"We have time on Friday to start a class for kids in junior high and above," he said. "If we can get enough interest, we'll be happy to begin one."

New-Look Sens Proving Lure To Reporters

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Manager Ted Williams, sitting on the back of the batting cage, looked around the Florida ballpark which his Washington Senators were using for spring training and expressed surprise at what he saw.

"What's everybody doing here?" Williams asked of no one in particular. "You might have thought we won the championship."

It is difficult at times to tell whether Williams, one of baseball's all-time great stars, is kidding or serious, especially when there are several newsmen within earshot.

But it was strange to see the steady procession of newsmen traipse through the Senators' spring-training camp last week, especially since Washington finished in last place in the American League East in 1970, 33 games behind the champion Baltimore Orioles and losers of their final 14 games.

BIG ATTRACTIONS

The difference, however, between the Senators of 1970 and the Senators of 1971 is Denny McLain and Curt Flood who, with Williams, form a triumvirate worthy of drawing crowds wherever and whenever they appear.

And Frank Howard, the likable giant who led the American League with 44 home runs and 126 runs batted in last season, hasn't arrived yet. He chose to remain away from the camp temporarily, using his annual excuse that he is not satisfied with the Senators' contract offer.

Mostly, he dislikes spring training.

The absence of the mammoth Howard, however, has not diminished the crowds in the Pompano Park, nor the early representatives of the news media during the first two weeks of the Senators' training camp, which is exactly what owner Bob Short had in mind when he brought McLain and Flood to Washington.

McLain, who once described himself as Peck's Bad Boy, came to Washington in a controversial eight-player trade with Detroit last October in which the Senators sent starting shortstop Ed Brinkman and third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez to the Tigers.

The trade came after McLain who won 31 games in 1968, and 24 in 1969, was suspended three times in 1970, once for alleged gambling activities.

ON SIDELINES

Flood sat out the 1970 season after filing a $4.1-million suit against baseball in which he alleged the reserve system violated antitrust statutes. His suit was filed after St. Louis traded him to the Philadelphia Phillies in 1969 after 11 years with the Cardinals. He did not report to the Phillies.

Flood's suit is pending and probably will end up in the Supreme Court. His initial appeal was turned down by a U.S. District Court judge.

The 33-year-old outfielder was lured back to baseball by Short who acquired him from Philadelphia last November in a trade for a utility infielder and two minor leaguers.

McLain, Flood and Williams have been the center attractions during the early spring training. They have been confronted by newsmen who talk to them daily, sought after for television interviews and are the primary subjects of photographers.

"Well, one thing for sure," said Williams in one of his expansive moods from his favorite spot behind the batting cage. "We're going to be a colorful team this year."

Owner Short, who is not expected to arrive until early next week, probably smiled with joy in absentia.

Forsan, Miles Vie In Bi-District Play

FORSAN — Forsan's Buffaloes, who returned to winning ways Friday night at Robert Lee when they knocked off Mozelle, 67-60, are marking time for Tuesday night's bi-district encounter with Miles. That game will also be in Robert Lee, starting at 7:30 p.m.

While Forsan was beating Mozelle, Miles was having troubles with Throckmorton, losing by a score of 84-53. Throckmorton had previously beaten Forsan by a single point.

The win for Forsan over Mozelle was the 15th of the season for George White's team, compared to 11 defeats.

Glovers Open State Tourney On Thursday

FORT WORTH (AP) — Fort Worth's Nick Wells goes after a record-tying third consecutive heavyweight championship when the 35th Texas Golden Gloves state tournament launches a four-night run Thursday.

Action will continue in Will Rogers Coliseum Friday and Saturday, then conclude with the finals Monday.

Approximately 120 to 130 fighters representing 14 cities are expected to enter the event, sponsored by the Star-Telegram for charity.

Cities fielding teams in addition to Fort Worth are Abilene, Amarillo, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, Odessa, San Antonio, Temple, Tyler and Wichita Falls.

Once again the strongest contingents are expected to come from Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio. Fort Worth is defending team champ.

Three defending individual champions will be in the field. Two of those are from Fort Worth — Wells and light heavyweight Sam Hatton.

If Wells can retain his title, he'll be only the second fighter in Gloves history to win three heavyweight championships. Charles Simmons of Dallas holds the record, turning the trick in 1946, 1947 and 1948.

The other defending state titlist is Beaumont's James (Bubba) Busceme, who also won the national featherweight championship for the second straight time last year.

A national Golden Gloves rule that permits a contestant to win only two national championships in the same weight division has forced Busceme to move up to the lightweight ranks for this year's meet.

Busceme will be seeking his fourth consecutive state title. He was the bantamweight champ in 1968.

Leading bantamweight contender in this year's tourney is expected to be Tyler's Bobby Vasquez, who lost a split decision to San Antonio's Tony Moreno in the 1970 flyweight semifinals. Moreno went on to win the national title and has since turned professional.

Houston's Melvin Dennis, Texas' third defending national champ, also has turned pro.

The national tournament, also set in Fort Worth, opens March 18.

Softball Meet Set For March 8

Joe Dobry, commissioner of the city and church softball leagues in Big Spring, has announced another organizational meeting will be held March 8 at 7 p.m. in the Reddy Room at Texas Electric.

Representatives of all teams planning to enter the leagues this year are urged to attend this meeting.

If enough teams are entered plans are to form two softball leagues in the city.

Lew Jenkins Jr., Gets First Salute From Dad

Lew Jenkins Sr., the West Texas who won the light weight boxing championship of the world in 1940, is counting his blessings.

Lew's son, Lew Jr., 23, recently was sworn in as a second lieutenant in the U.S. Army Reserve and received his first salute from his illustrious father. As per custom, the son handed a dollar to his dad.

When Lew Sr. visited friends and relatives here seven years ago, he said his big ambition in life was to see that his boy got a college education. Such a thing had been denied Lew Sr., who grew up fighting around carnivals and in small clubs.

The younger Jenkins recently graduated at San Jose State from the school of engineering. He reports March 18 to Fort Bliss, Tex., for missile training.

Lew Sr. has a brother and a sister residing here. The brother is Pete, who lives at 1709 Muleshoe while Mrs. G. A. Loflin of 500 State Street is the sister. She is the former Faye Dell Jenkins.

Mention of Fort Bliss brings back fond memories for Lew Sr. The Silver Star winner took his basic training three years ago as a horseshoer with the Eighth Cavalry.

"From horses to missiles in 35 years," Lew Sr. remarked, upon learning that his boy would be assigned to Fort Bliss, "such a change."

The senior Jenkins, who now resides in Concord, near San Francisco, Calif., held the world's lightweight championship in 1940 when he beat Lou Amburs. He fought the best, including Henry Armstrong and Fritzie Zivic.

At that time, he was credited with having the hardest punch of any little man in the history of the ring. He often took four or five punches to the head but when it landed the lights usually went out for the opposition.

In New York ring circles, he was often called the Sweet Swatter from Sweetwater and Big Spring as a child. He ended a 20-year career in the Army seven years ago, retiring as a first sergeant.

Lew Sr. won the Silver Star for gallantry in action during the Korean campaign.

PLAYOFFS Crane Ousted By Phillips

LEVELLAND — Lamesa and Dumas scored first round victories in the Class AAA Regional basketball tournament here Friday.

Lamesa knocked off Wichita Falls Hirschi, favorite in the meet, 62-58, in a game that saw sophomore Harry McCurley count 20-points for the Tornados.

Dumas edged Odessa Ector in two overtime periods, 73-69.

LUBBOCK — Dimmitt won the Class AA Regional basketball championship here Friday night by measuring Phillips, 50-40.

Phillips earlier had decked the District 5-AA champion, Crane, 67-50, in the semifinals while Dimmitt measured Balingier, 60-58.

Ricky Andregg scored 16 points for Crane.

'Iron Mike' Halts Braves

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "Iron Mike" shut out the Atlanta Braves on only four hits Saturday but the team will get another chance at bat again Tuesday—then against live pitching.

"Iron Mike," the team's pitching machine, held both sides scoreless in a seven-inning intrasquad game.

Nor Reed, who missed the first two months of the 1970 season with a broken collarbone, and Cecil Upshaw, who sat out all of last year with an injured finger, will be among those pitchers getting a workout Tuesday, Harris said. Others are Steve Barber, the former Baltimore standout who pitched briefly for the Braves last year, and Tom Kelley, a former Cleveland pitcher.

Meanwhile, Clete Boyer, Orlando Cepeda and Bob Priddy remained unsigned, although Boyer was in camp for the first time Saturday. He was not in uniform.

Texans Move Up In Cage Poll

College of Southern Idaho, Twin Falls, Idaho, remains solidly entrenched in first place in the weekly NJCAA Basketball Poll.

Brevard Junior College (Cocoa, Fla.) still holds second place with San Jacinto College, Pasadena, Tex., and Casper, Wyo., moving up into third and fourth places.

Defending champion, Vincennes, dropped into fifth place as it suffered its second loss of the season at the hands of Robert Morris College, Carthage, Ill., 86-75.

Vincennes bounced back to edge Southeastern Iowa Area C.C. (Burlington), 63-62 and then blasted Allegheny Campus, C.C. of Allegheny City, Pittsburgh, Pa., 128-77.

In individual scoring, A. Stewart of Essex County Community, Newark, N.J., is the top point producer with a 35.5-percentage average.

Greg Procell of Panola, Tex., a former leader, ranks third with a 33.8 norm.

In team effort, Becker of Worcester, Mass., leads with a 111.9 average. Kilgore, Tex., is third in that department with a 107.6 mean.

In team defense, Newbury School of Business in Boston, Mass., is best, having allowed the opposition only 55 points a game.

San Jacinto, Tex., had played the amazing total of 35 games when the averages were taken.

THE VEGA DRIVE IS ON

VEGA

There's a very good reason we're trying to get you to come in and drive a Vega: If you drive one, you'll want to buy one. Because Vega is a great car to drive. For lots and lots of reasons. First off, Vega is little, so it's maneuverable. Yet Vega is very stable for a little car because of its wide stance and low center of gravity. Vega is also very peppy for a little car. Its 160-cubic-inch overhead cam engine lets you merge onto freeways and climb steep hills with ease. And once you get a Vega going, it's easy to get it stopped, thanks to the big 16-inch front disc brakes. One more thing. Just sitting still in a Vega is quite an experience. Its room-filling bucket seats are amazingly comfortable. Step in today. Drive a Vega. Then, let's talk. You'll be impressed.

Coming Up —

Girl Scout Week

By JO BRIGHT

The week of March 7-13 will be a busy one for Girl Scouts as members all over the world celebrate Girl Scout Week. The event comes close on the heels of the February 22 birthday of both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell who first founded Scouting in England. Too, last week marked the close of the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sales through which many Scouting activities are financed.

In Big Spring, which is divided into service units, numerous special events are on the calendar to mark the Scouting anniversary.

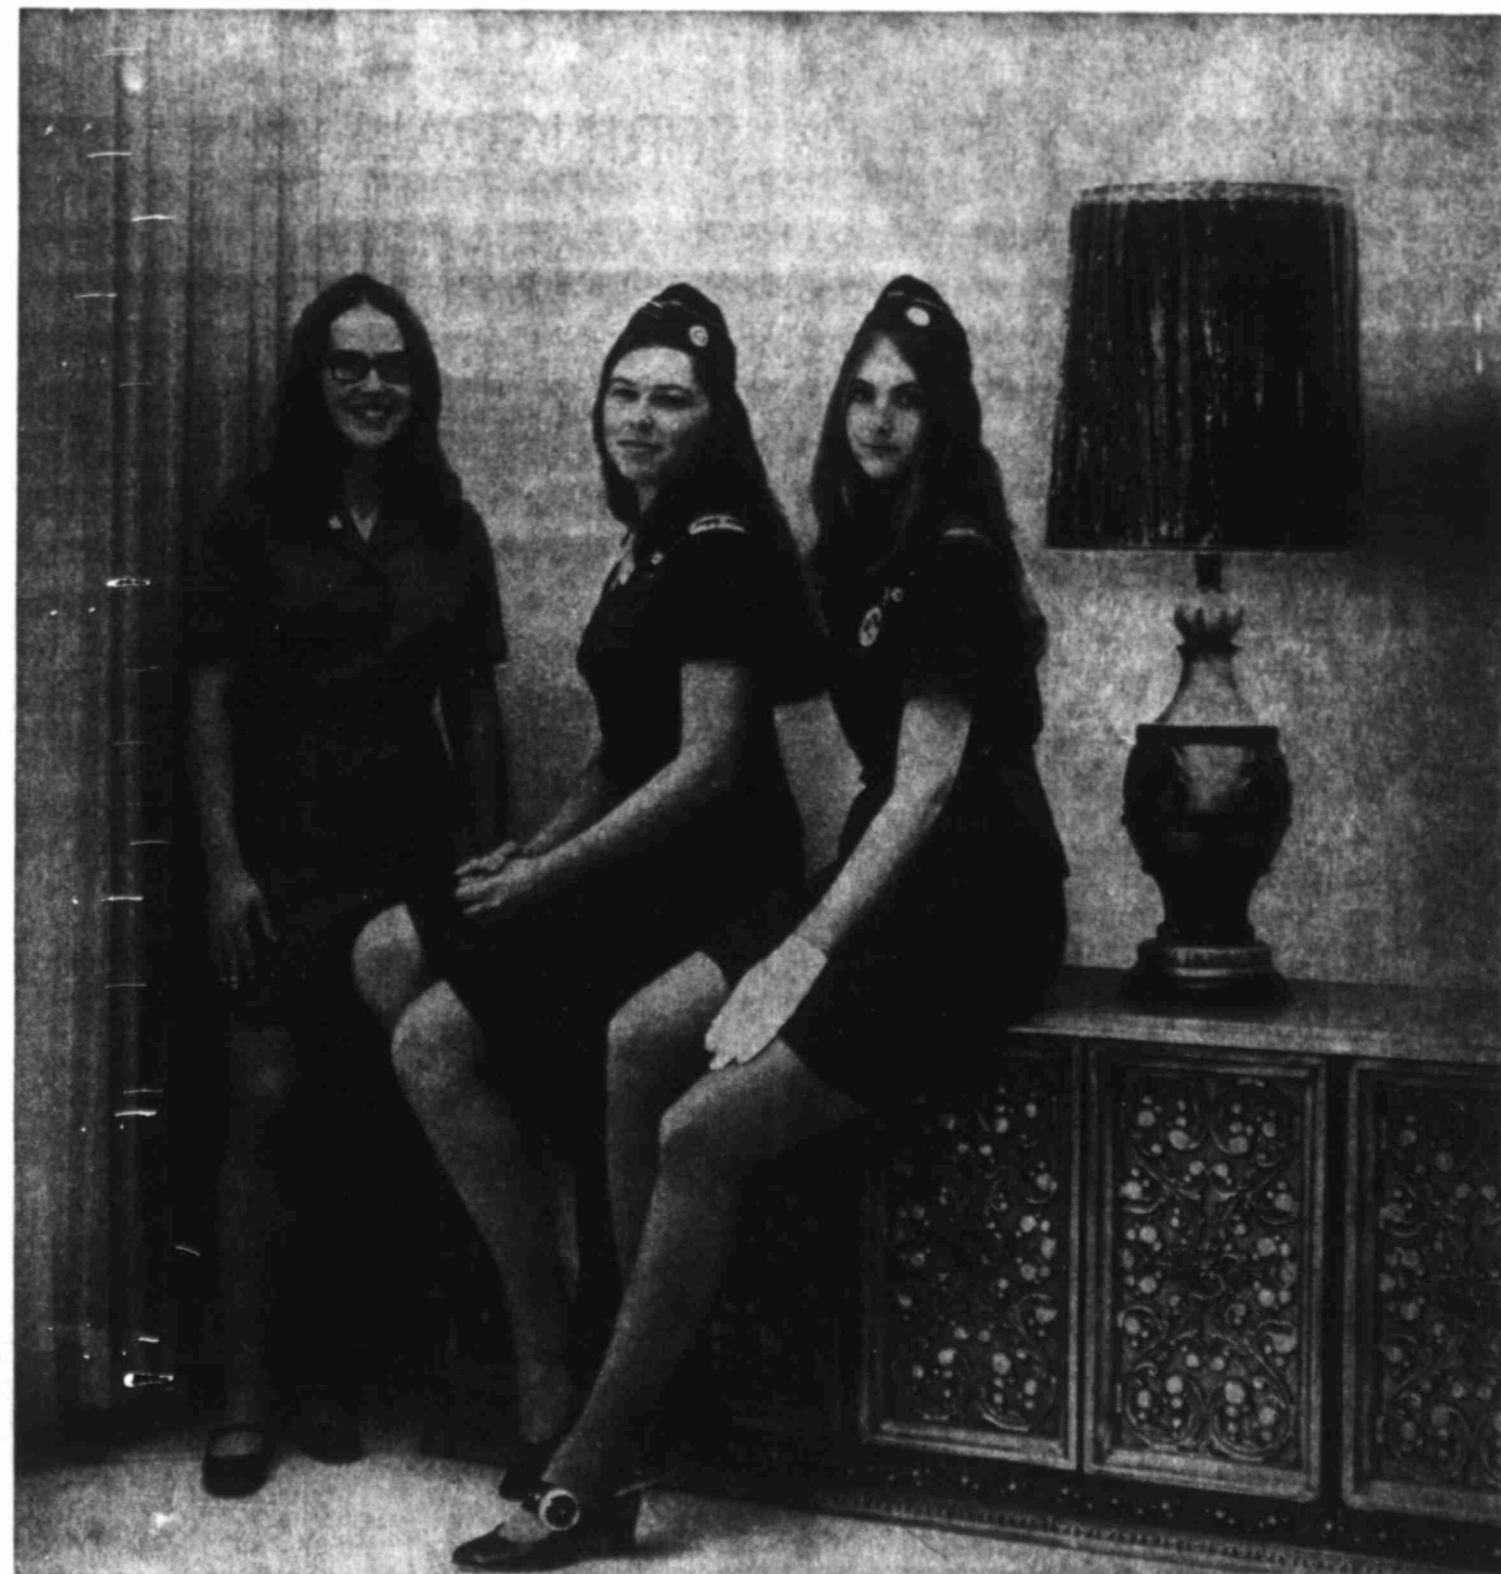

Service Unit 33, with Mrs. Bob Ballard as chairman, begins the week March 7 with a 7:30 a.m. sunrise service at College Baptist Church with all troops in the unit in attendance. On March 9, the unit will sponsor a Citizenship Day program in Big Spring High School cafeteria with all Girl Scout troops in the city invited to attend. Speakers will be John Burgess, local attorney; Mrs. Annie Mellinger, a naturalized citizen; and Mayor Arnold Marshall. The final event will be a father-daughter box supper at 7 p.m., March 12, in the cafeteria at Howard County Junior College.

Service Unit 34, headed by Mrs. Jim Thomasson, will hold its father-daughter box supper at 6:30 p.m., March 11, in the high school cafeteria, and on March 13, all troops in the unit will meet at 10 a.m. for an Out-Of-Doors Day at the day camp grounds in Silver Heels.

Service Unit 35 will mark the occasion with a (Continued on Page 2-C)

SENIOR SCOUTING in Big Spring received a boost with the reactivation of Senior Troop 49 with Mrs. Donald Roberts and Mrs. Stephen Heaton serving as troop advisors. Participating in the Senior Service Aides Program, the girls con-

Ill-Fitting Pants Need Particular Alterations

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
(County HD Agent)

In a previous article some of the solutions to problems in fitting pants were discussed. Today consideration will be given to making adjustments for particular problems that are frequently encountered.

Waistline alterations: If your waist measurement is larger than that of the pattern, you will need to add to the pattern at the center front, center back, and the side seams. Add 1/4 the amount needed to each seam and taper to the crotch in the center front and center back and to the notches on the side seams.

If the waist measurement is smaller than that of the pattern, it is necessary to take away from the pattern at the centers and side seams tapering in the notches in the crotch and side seams as discussed in the preceding paragraph.

Hip alterations: Add 1/4 the amount needed on the front and back pattern pieces at the side seam from the hipline to the lower edge. Adding at the hip line and then tapering back to the original cutting line will throw the grain off balance in the leg. Remember, if you select the correct size and type of pattern the alteration needed at the hip should be minimal.

Side length: Measure the side seam of the pattern from the waistline seam to the lower edge. Compare this measurement with your own measurement plus the hem depth. The difference is the amount to be lengthened or shortened. Lengthen or shorten on the indicated line that is on the leg or the pant. Follow current fashion trends in length for the professional look.

Thigh Adjustment: Measure the heaviest area of your thigh. Determine the distance it is from the waistline to the line on which the thigh was measured. Measure the same distance from the waistline on the pattern to determine the comparable thighline on the pattern. If your measurement plus 1 inch for wearing ease matches that of the pattern, no adjustment is necessary; if your measurement is larger, the adjustment is made on the inside seam. Add half the needed amount to the front inside leg seam and half to the back inside leg seam. Slant the new line to meet the original cutting line at the lengthen-shorten line.

If your measurement is more than 1 inch smaller than the pattern you may decrease the inside leg seam of both the front and back by half the total amount of decrease needed.

DARTS IMPORTANT
The darts are a vital part of the fit. The position and direction of the darts are important, and, if necessary, darts can be shortened or lengthened to create more shape or eliminate shape as your figure requires.

So much of the good looks in the clothes that you fashion at home depend on experience and development of judgment. Perfection of grain contributes to the feel and right appearance of the garment. Making sure that all fabric and notions to go into the garment will respond favorably to the care you plan to give the garment is so important. Many women have learned that laundering fabric, zipper, and trim prior to construction of a garment will avoid problems that may occur when it is laundered for the first time after construction. Just slight shrinkage of the zipper tape can cause unsightly crinkles in the garment.

ALTERATIONS
The following problems may be corrected in pants you are making, or in pants that you have that do not fit as you would like them to:

- 1.) Crotch too tight — let out the seams on the inner leg at the crotch point. (Letting out the crotch seam itself will only make the crotch shorter.)
- 2.) Crotch too baggy — take in the inner leg seam as needed at the crotch point, and taper the new line into the original seam line. (Taking a deeper seam in the crotch seam itself will only make the pants baggier.)
- 3.) Ripple about the waist — reduce the length of the darts or make two darts in place of the one that is there.

mother-daughter tea from 4 to 6 p.m., March 14 at 1195 Penn-unit chairman.

Service Unit 36, which Mrs. Don Roberts serves as chairman, has scheduled a father-daughter banquet at 6 p.m., March 11, in the NCO Open Mess, Webb Air Force Base. At that time, a film will be shown on the Girl Scout cabana in Mexico.

Service Unit 37, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Don Hale, will honor dads at a father-daughter box supper at 6:30 p.m., March 12, in the cafeteria at Coahoma Elementary School. Junior Troop 436 will have a cook-out March 13 at the home of Mrs. Charles Butts, and on March 14, a mother-daughter tea will be held in the home of Mrs. Melvin Brown, Sand Springs.

Adults holding key positions in Girl Scouting for this area are Miss Ariene Estes of Abilene, field director; Mrs. Lanny Hamby, Big Spring, Association Four chairman; and Paul Meek, Daryl Roberts and Mrs. Paul Campbell, board members for the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

'Like Big City To Us' Claim New Residents

By BARBARA LORD
In the midst of unpacking, enrolling the kids in school, getting the utilities turned on and the general confusion which accompanies any move, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Kruse have still found time to acquaint themselves with Big Spring and their neighbors.

The Kruses arrived here on St. Valentine's Day from Mineola, where they were in the fertilizer business. Kruse is the new assistant manager at Intech.

"Big Spring is like a big city to us," Mrs. Kruse said. "We're enjoying being able to go to a movie or out to eat. Mineola has a population of 4,500. That's the Chamber of Commerce figure so I imagine it is closer to 3,500."

The Kruses have lived in East or Central Texas for the past seven years, but West Texas is really home. They were reared in Monahans, and were married there in 1957.

"Our neighbors are extremely nice," Mrs. Kruse said. "Most of the people in West Texas accept new people easily because most of them have moved too and know what it's like to be 'new.' They seem to really put themselves out for you."

"You always appreciate a friendly smile. Especially when you are the new person. There are a lot of things for the children to do here, and I think we are all going to be happy in Big Spring."

The children, Brett, 12; Amy, 9; and Randy, 7, are already involved in various activities at Kentwood Elementary School. Brett is active in the Boy Scouts and is swimming at the YMCA.

Miss Sandra Lee Frazier of Chicago, Ill., became the bride of August Joe Luedecke of Hinsdale, Ill., Saturday afternoon in a ceremony performed in the First United Methodist Church of Warron, Ohio. Dr. Robert B. Hubbard, pastor, was the officiating minister.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Frazier, Avon Lake, Ohio. The bridegroom, who attended Howard County Junior College, is the son of Mrs. Beth McDonald, Lubbock, and the late Mr. Luedecke. He is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Blum, Big Spring.

A prelude of organ music was presented by Jarod Jacobson, and the wedding party stood before an altar graced with vases of yellow and white roses flanked by candelabra.

The bride was attired in a floor-length gown of ivory peau de soie trimmed in Venice lace at the neckline, on the sleeves and skirt and edging the chapel-length train. The gown had an Empire waistline, high Victorian neckline and long bishop sleeves. Her lace headpiece held a silk illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with a single yellow rose.

Mrs. Raymond Karcher, matron of honor, wore an aqua and silver grey brocade floor-length gown with satin trim. Alan Dale Wilson of Aurora, Colo., was best man. David Charles Frazier, Warren, Ohio, and Stephen Lane Blum, Dunwoody, Ga., lighted the altar tapers, and served as ushers.

After a dinner reception in the Holiday Inn, the couple left for wedding trip to Akron, Ohio, after which they will reside in Hinsdale.

PTA Opens Governing Bodies To Students

Reaffirming its long standing commitment to youth, the national Parent-Teacher Association has proposed a change in bylaws which would add a new position to each of its five governing commissions to be filled by young people aged 16 to 20, inclusive.

The far-reaching change will come to a vote at the national PTA convention to be held May, 1971, in Oklahoma City, Okla. "PTA has been actively involved with youth during the length of its 75-year history," said Mrs. Leon S. Price, national PTA president, "and this recent proposal by the board of managers is simply another step in the normal progression of our work with young people." Mrs. Price pointed out that the youth members will be "bona fide" members of the national board of managers. "We must provide for a meaningful experience, not token participation," she said.

Setting precedents is not new for PTA. One of the priority projects of the current Action Program is called PTSA, Parent-Teacher-Student Association.

"The project was designed to give parents, teachers and students the chance to share opportunities, rights, responsibilities and satisfactions for working for quality living and quality learning for all Americans," she explained.

Last year, the board of managers abolished any restrictions on students for membership in PTSA's. They recommended that students be given full and equal status with adult members. This recent move to bring young people to the board is the first such action of a major national organization.

When asked what the PTA hopes to accomplish by bringing young people to the governing body of the multi-million-member organization, Mrs. Price emphasized that it was to provide a better understanding of how youth really feel and how they see PTA personally.

"Not how we think they see it, or want to believe they see it," she said. Mrs. Price added that the national PTA wants to provide the stimulus to states to involve more youth and to provide a source of continuing, concrete suggestions on how to better involve other youth. "A need exists for deeper involvement of youth not only in all levels of PTA, but in all areas of our society today," she concluded.

'More Problems Than Other Generations'

"The youth of today are the brightest, the best fed and the best clothed of any generation," said Mrs. Harold Rosson, guidance counselor at Big Spring High School. "They also have more problems than any other generation."

Introduced by Mrs. Willard Hendrick, Mrs. Rosson presented her program entitled "Youth" to the Altrusa Club Thursday at Coker's Restaurant.

"The basic problems confronting today's youth are trying to establish their own identity and trying to achieve independence. The parents are bearing most of the cost of these problems," Mrs. Rosson continued.

"Young people don't want to depend on a family, but they want to be a part of a family. They have greater pressure on them than other generation has ever had. They must decide what they want to be and select an occupation before they are out of high school."

Keeps Toys Clean

Wash the children's toys every now and then. Baby's toys, which frequently find their way into chewing or sucking or licking position, ought to be washed thoroughly on a regular basis.

"Our generation accepted the standards of values given us by our parents and never questioned them. Young people are now questioning these standards, and want to start their own."

Mrs. Rosson said that small high schools have less problems

Receives Pin For Church Service

Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, president of the Women's Society of Christian Service, First United Methodist Church, was presented a service pin at a meeting Tuesday in the church parlor. The presentation was made by Mrs. Clyde Johnston.

Mrs. Tommy Corwin led the opening prayer. The program was the first of a four-part study of the Book of Psalms. The use of the Psalms in the community, their meaning, authorship, setting and origin of their name were all explained.

Presenting the program were Mrs. Corwin, Mrs. James Moss, Mrs. Don McGee, Mrs. Ernsting, Mrs. K. W. Lunsford and Mrs. Lanny Hamby.

Presiding at the business meeting, Mrs. Ernsting announced that the Church Women United World Day of Prayer will be at 10 a.m., March 5 at the church.

because most of the students are in outside activities such as band, speech and church work. In most schools with an enrollment of 2,000 like that of BSHS, only about 17 per cent of the students are engaged in extracurricular activities.

According to Mrs. Rosson, BSHS has about 30 per cent of its students active in outside groups, and therefore has less problems than other schools of the same enrollment.

"The main problem in colleges is that there is an absence of joy and mirth," said Mrs. Rosson. "College students fall into three categories. The 'evil dreamers' are against all authority, and are in the minority. The 'kept generation' goes along with things as they are, without protest, and the 'hippies' are disillusioned with society and escape with drugs."

Mrs. Rosson has been a counselor at the school for five years, and taught English prior to that. She received her bachelor of arts degree and her masters degree from Texas Christian University.

Mrs. Loyd Wooten presided. The women will have a general business meeting at noon, March 11 at Coker's.

Plan Parties For Senior Citizens

The Women's Society, Ackerly Methodist Church, is organizing a monthly gathering for senior citizens of the Ackerly community. They will provide a meeting place each month and assist in other ways. The first meeting is Tuesday from 2 to 5 p.m. at the church. For further information, call the church office at 353-4755.

R IS THE WHEEL CHAIR IN GOOD WORKING ORDER?

Just as any other mechanical device needs to be taken care of, so does that wheel chair. For if it is neglected it will not give good service. We realize that the person confined to a wheel chair usually cannot do this necessary work themselves and that others in their families might not be able to do it for them.

We invite you to stop in and let us show you how to put your wheelchair in better condition. Sometimes just a good cleaning and fixing up of the seat will be all that is needed. We carry a complete stock of sick-room needs.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

No, You Can't Judge A Kid By His Cover

KIDS LIKE To dress up in costume these days. This boy prefers the "peasant" look, with a full-sleeved print shirt worn with cut-out ribbed vest. Gold coins dangle from neck chain for further authenticity.

A DURABLE JACKET is a wardrobe basic, and this natural canvas model features today's popular "action" back and is worn with cotton print shirt, cotton polyester slacks.

CLASSROOMS will be colorful this spring according to the Men's Fashion Association. This cotton pullover shirt is in pink and purple, while cotton slacks are bright orange with yellow hip pockets. Outfit is part of the "cartoon" look.

By CHARLES HOCH
PHILADELPHIA — Like a book, you can't judge a kid by his cover.
 Don't assume, just because he wears red, white and blue, he's a super patriot or that he's putting down America. Don't decide, if he appears in an olive drab fatigue suit, that he's off to join Castro.
 More likely he's chosen his clothes either because they're fun, or because they're comfortable, or because everybody's wearing it.
 Ken O'Keefe, fashion director for Men's Fashion Association, explained in a press clinic held for 150 newspaper and magazine editors that young men between the ages of 12 and 22 are expressing their own life style through their attire. And the youthful life style is as varied as the many looks shown this morning. The pivot point of the whole youth culture, according to O'Keefe, is that "Status Quo Must Go!"
 The first grouping shown here was the tailored look for casual dressup wear. Knits and more knits made the big news here because of its practicality and comfort. Knits can take a maximum of rough and tumble wear without losing their shape or becoming as wrinkled as an accordion. Comfort is another factor that means a lot to the young wearer. A knock-out look from the knit group was a blue blazer with button flap pockets and back belt worn with a blue and white nubby tweed vest and knickers.
 The tailored look appeared, too, in a suit of blue denim, the fabric destined to be number one for spring and summer. The suit, cut with wide lapels, had button flap pockets stitched in white and a deep center vent. The trousers were styled with an extended waistband and slightly flared legs.
SKINNY SHIRTS
 Skinny knit shirts and jeans are so important in the coming seasons they made up a category all their own. O'Keefe explained that the popularity of this duo is due largely to the fact that young men are proud of their physical fitness, and that the close fit of the shirt and jeans is another form of self expression. The skinny knits ran the gamut from a rather classic navy and white striped cotton, through the Wallace Beery look to a hot pink with white flower appliques. This last was shown with perfectly fitted knit blue jeans and a five-inch wide ball-head studded belt. Jeans also appeared in various solid colors, stripes and novelty prints. Red, white and blue animal cracker print jeans were teamed with a red and white shirt.
 One new idea and one revival are news in the casual picture. Overalls, otherwise known as Tennessee tuxedos, appeared in blue denim worn with a tan and gold cotton corn print shirt. Other overalls in prints and solids were shown without shirts to be used as after-swim cover-ups.

 The revival is shorts. After an absence of several years, shorts are back with a bang. But these are short shorts, closely fitted for a long, leggy look. The longest pair shown, and again in blue denim, were slightly higher than mid thigh.
 Swim trunks shown were almost invariably knit and the popular length will be the racer and the slightly legged brief. When trunks were teamed with matching tops for a beach outfit, all the tops were vests.
 The most personalized looks were the peasant, the flag, the cartoon and the military. The peasant look is the look of the balkan gypsy and can be captured in a full-sleeved look of the balkan gypsy and can be captured in a full-sleeved shirt or overshirt with embroidery trim. Each individual will add personal touches such as amulets, scarves and belts. The flag look revolves around the use of red, white and blue with patriotic motifs. A red, white and blue stars and stripes shirt was shown with blue brushed denim jeans with a star and wreath applique on the right pocket.
 While the cartoon look combines many colors in one outfit, the military is always monotone and either khaki or olive drab. An olive drab fatigue suit was shown authentic right down to its bellows patch pockets on each leg. But his olive knit shirt had a modern touch on the sleeve — sergeant's stripes centered with the peace symbol.
 The clinic closed with the prom suit — a white Prince Albert coat with wide satin-faced lapels and very deep center vent; the trousers, the traditional satin-stripe-down-the-side-evening variety.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

Only those who like cats will really appreciate the story of Rorschach who had a special place in the household of MR. and MRS. BILL UNGER during their residency here.

Friends of the Ungers know of their great attachment for the cat who weighs 15 pounds and was named after Dr. Hermann Rorschach, a Swiss psychiatrist known for tests made by ink blots for mental studies. (Rorschach looks like a mass of ink blots). Anyway, when the Ungers moved from Big Spring to Lubbock in May, 1969, the cat moved with them but strayed away for some reason or another.

After 20 months of being away, the family had resigned themselves to being without the big pet until last week when a junior high student called to ask if they had lost a cat. Mrs. Unger replied they had, but it had been almost two years ago.

The student said he thought he had found the feline judging from information on the tags. He was in the vicinity of Adkins Junior High School at 54th and U; the Ungers live in the 3400 block of 41st St. Big Cat, which is what is on his tags, knew right away that his family had found him, and according to a news story in the Avalanche-Journal, he started purring at the sight of them.

Now Old Rorschach is back on his favorite ottoman just like he'd never left on his super-long "night-on-the-town." He just blinks, purrs, naps and eats just like he'd never left home.

It's three of a kind for MR. and MRS. BILL SMOOT with the arrival on Feb. 16 of their third son, David Jonathan. Mrs. Smoot is the former Lou Anne Parsons. The family lives at 2004 W. Berry, Fayetteville, Ark. Their other sons are Billy Ray and Stephen Paul. The maternal grandparents are MR. and MRS. FLOYD PARSONS now of Little Rock, Ark., but formerly of Big Spring.

If there's anything better than a telephone call from sons away

Quotable Quotes

By The Associated Press
Some quotable quotes from women during the week.

"Oh, honey. Anytime I get a chance to open my mouth and make a loud voice for my savior — that's my thing." — Gospel singer Ethel Waters to President Nixon after White House worship services.

"I don't let them be too friendly. I don't fraternize with anyone." — Simone Abboud, believed to be the first woman ever to sail as a crew member on an American cargo vessel.

"My friends are interested in ecology, but I tell them they can't have one without getting involved in the other — politics, and I drag them to sessions of the mayor and council." — Barbara Olsen, 16-year-old North Plainfield, N.J., school student who is second vice president of the town's Democratic Club.

Bridge Players Hold Tournament

Mrs. Delnor Poss and Mrs. Harold Davis won first place in the La Gallina bridge tournament held Friday at the Big Spring Country Club, with six and one-half tables in play. Other winners were Mrs. Jim Bill Little and Mrs. Paul Shaffer, second; Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Jr., third; Mrs. Ross Boykin and Mrs. P. W. Malone, fourth; Mrs. George McAlister and Mrs. John Taylor, fifth; and Mrs. Pete Cook and Mrs. Clarence Peters, sixth.

Club Purchases Wometco Shares

Member of the Markets Challenge Investment Club reviewed and bought shares of Wometco, at its meeting in the Downtown Tea Room Tuesday. Mrs. Ralph Caton presided, and the information on Wometco was presented by Mrs. J. W. Speer and Mrs. D. Hefner.

Mrs. Maria Hoag reviewed the stocks on hand and their price as of Tuesday. At its next meeting, at noon, March 30 in the Tea Room, the club will review Mountain State Telephone and Telegraph and Robins.

from home, it's a telephone call from two sons away from home serving in Vietnam. MR. and MRS. LAWRENCE ADKINS of Lomax were the happy recipients of a call Wednesday night from their sons, 1ST LT. ROBERT ADKINS, a military advisor stationed near Oul Nhon, and 1ST LT. LARRY ADKINS whose base is at Bien Hoa with the second corps. Both are in the US Army. Larry flew to Oul Nhon to visit Robert, and they decided it was a good time to call their folks.

They said they were well and hoped to go on an R&R together to Australia in April. There is a possibility that Robert will be back in the states in July and Larry in October.

You probably noticed where JAN DICKERSON (Lt. Col.) has been called back for a period of active duty at the Pentagon. Jan, who is the daughter of MR. and MRS. C. W. DICKERSON, last year wrote a book on horsemanship, and it has already sold more than 5,000 copies, and is due soon to have a second printing. It's getting one of the best receptions in a long time for a first book, and publishers predict a long life for it. Incidentally, Jan has a second book in the mill.

All of the family of MR. and MRS. RAY SNYDER are at home today. Here from Austin are MR. and MRS. JERRY SNYDER and their children, Bobby and Tammy; from Sweetwater, DON SNYDER and DICK is over from San Angelo. MR. and MRS. RAYMOND MOORE, Gayle and Gary who live here rounded out the family gathering.

Chapter Honors G. Washington

Henry Brewer presented a program honoring George Washington for the Laura B. Hart Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday at the Masonic Temple. He also gave a tribute to the U.S. flag, and Mrs. Richard Mitchell sang "America the Beautiful."

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Steen presided. Members were urged to visit a school during Public School Week, March 1-5. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jessie Barker, Mrs. Ruth Swett and Miss Helen Ewing. The table was decorated with red, white and blue streamers, centered with a picture of Washington surrounded by flags.

The next meeting is at 8 p.m., March 11 in the Masonic Temple. The program will be on landmarks.

ENGAGED — The engagement and approaching marriage of Mary Ann Dennis to Donald Zane Rawlings has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dennis, Rt. A. Lamesa. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Rawlings, Route One, Ackery. The couple plans an early June wedding in the Downtown Church of Christ, Lamesa.

Mrs. Davis Honored On Saturday

Mrs. Bobby Davis was honored with a baby shower from 2 p.m.-4 p.m. Saturday in the home of Miss Debra Fryar and Miss Kathleen Fryar, 4001 Wesson Road.

The refreshment table was decorated with a yellow and green baby-land scene, and centered with an arrangement of a miniature stork and rattles. Miss Kathleen Fryar presided at the guest register.

Other hostesses were Miss Kim Kuykendall and Miss Gloria Dodd. The honoree was presented a corsage made of ribbons and rattles.

Communication Fine; But 'Understanding'?

Human relationships, in regard to communication and understanding, were discussed as area home demonstration clubs met in separate sessions last week.

KNOTT CLUB
"Sometimes problems are not due to a lack of communications, but to a lack of understanding," said Mrs. Joe Gaskins in her program for the Knott Home Demonstration Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. R. J. Shortes.

"Try to see the other person's viewpoint," Mrs. Gaskins said. "The situation may appear different to you than to the other people involved." Quoting an old saying from the Sioux Indians, she said "Help me never to judge another until I have walked two weeks in his moccasins."

Mrs. Shortes presided at the meeting. Members will provide cookies for the dedication of the Big Spring State Hospital chapel in March. The next meeting is at 2 p.m., March 9 in the home of Mrs. Gaskins.

CENTER POINT CLUB
"The more trouble some people have, the more happiness it brings them," said Dr. Murray Banks in a recorded speech to the Center Point Home Demonstration Club, meeting Tuesday in the HD agent's office.

In the speech, presented to the club by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent, Dr. Banks listed some attributes of a well-adjusted person. "People should have a contented mind and avoid worry," Dr. Banks said. "A good home environment is important. They should learn love and concern for others and know the importance of seeing other people's viewpoints."

Mrs. J. R. Petty presided, and the devotion was by Mrs. Bob Wren. Further plans were made for the arts and crafts exhibit in the Highland Center Mall May 13. The club will furnish five cakes for the bake sale scheduled at the exhibit.

Members were asked to submit suggestions for roll call answers, thoughts for the day, devotions and programs by Monday to help with the 1971-72 HD yearbooks.

In other business, the club donated $12 to the Texas HD Association scholarship fund. Members will also help at the open house for the dedication of the Big Spring State Hospital chapel.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Petty, Mrs. A. F. Gilliland and Mrs. Wren. The table was centered with a miniature cherry tree and hatchet in recognition of George Washington's birthday.

The next meeting is at 2 p.m., March 9 in the home of Mrs. Petty, 1013 Sycamore. A program on uses of a blender will be given by Mrs. L. J. Davidson and Mrs. D. H. Griffith.

LEES CLUB
A "Fashion Forecast" was presented to the Lees Home Demonstration Club by Mrs. James Eiland, Martin County home demonstration agent, at its meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Gary Seidenberger, Garden City Route. Mrs. Eiland discussed new fashions and gave hints on how to tailor clothes. Mrs. Benny Joe Blissard presided. Mrs. J. L. Overton was elected delegate to the district Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting March 25 in Andrews.

LUTHER CLUB
"Happiness isn't always in the future," said Mrs. Delaine Crawford. "Sometimes it is now, and it is often overlooked."

Speaking to the Luther HD Club at its meeting Thursday in the home of Mrs. M. F. Bryant, 1704 Owens, Mrs. Crawford presented a recorded speech by Dr. Murray Banks entitled "Just in Case You Think You're Normal," in which he lists the attributes of a well-adjusted and happy person.

Mrs. John Couch presided. Mrs. J. L. Lloyd led the recreation, and Mrs. Frances Zant won the hostess gift. Refreshments will be made for the Big Spring State Hospital March 3 by Mrs. Webb Nix and Mrs. Lloyd.

Guests were Mrs. Clyde Denton and Mrs. Thomas Yates. The next meeting is at 2 p.m., March 11 in the home of Mrs. Couch, Gail Route.

Club Continuing Crochet, Quilting

Members of the Sew and Chatter Club worked on individual crochet projects and continued work on quilts for the needy at its meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. M. Rowe, 1300 Johnson. Honored for their birthdays were Mrs. B. M. Weaver, Miss Twila Lomax and Mrs. Marvin Sewell. The next meeting is at 3 p.m., March 10 in the home of Mrs. Sewell, 407 Washington Blvd.

Casualty Yours

By JO BRIGHT

When the posh Dallas Petroleum Club held its lavish ball at the Fairmont last week, incoming president, John Little and his wife, Donna, had as guests, their friends, Jack and Jean Cook of Big Spring. The spectacular affair attracted over 700 oil personalities from as far away as California, Mexico and Canada. Little is an occasional Big Springer, too, since he is manager of the Moss interests, whose holdings include College Park Shopping Center. The Cooks made the weekend a family affair, too, when daughter, Sue, and husband Coy Conner, joined them from Tyler.

The W. W. Lansings are off in the other direction for an even more momentous occasion — their granddaughter, Carrie, will celebrate her fifth birthday Tuesday in Austin with her brother, Brian, and parents, the C. B. Glenns. The Lansings are going for a preview, for they'll have to be back here Tuesday. No doubt, Mrs. Tommy Hutto is finishing her packing today. She'll leave Monday by plane for New York to visit daughter, Tommie Lou, a stewardess for American Airlines, then the two are off for a 10-day trip to Hawaii. While there, they'll look up Marie McDonald's nephew, Mike Mudgett, stationed at Hickam Field.

SHORT TAKES: Mrs. Billy Dykes of Brownfield, mother of ex-Coahoma coach, Spike Dykes, has been here visiting her sisters, Mrs. Robert Currie and Mrs. Vernon Smith Lebkowsky, came from Odessa to join the gathering.

The Zolite Boykins, who sold their home to Dr. and Mrs. Larry Adams, are settled in their new quarters. The other day, Mrs. Boykin had a few friends over for games, but they had plans of their own and turned it into a surprise house warming for her. The Boykins plan to keep their grandchildren, Lucinda and Martin Graves, while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Graves, are in Austin for some company festivities. Keith Bristow and Carl Berman are skiing at Aspen despite Keith's sprained ankle. The men say they prefer Aspen to Vale or Sun Valley.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower

Miss Charlotte Ott, bride-elect of Ronald (Butch) Sweatt, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. Herman Smith, 2702 Rebecca.

The honoree was presented a corsage of blue carnations, as was the bridegroom - elect's mother, Mrs. Paul Sweatt. Miss Ott was attired in a blue A-line dress with blue accessories.

The refreshment table was covered with a off-white lace cloth, centered with a three-tiered candelabra and blue carnations.

Hostesses were Mrs. Larkin Martin, Mrs. M. Bohanan, Mrs. William M. Martin, Mrs. L. D. Thornton, Miss Audrey Arnold, Mrs. Thel Watts, Mrs. V. L. Smedley and Mrs. Smith.

Miss Ott and Sweatt plan an April wedding.

Gas Flame Is Blue, Not Yellow

When a range is adjusted properly, it burns with a clear, blue flame and a sharply defined inner cone. There should be no traces of yellow in the gas flame.

If there are, the American Gas Association suggests you try cleaning the burner. If the yellow persists, call your service representative or local utility company.

Pharmacy Facts

By Bob Knight, R. Ph.

When illness strikes, there is enough unpleasantness without financial problems, too. At such a time, the cost of drugs may seem unreasonably high. Everyone involved would like to see the cost of medication reduced, but there are certain factors to be kept in mind.

Fantastic standards of cleanliness insure purity but are costly. Would you want corners cut here? The price you pay includes the cost of research which creates new drugs. About five percent of sales are reinvested in research by the drug makers. Finally, costs are coming down. The first commercial penicillin cost $20.00 per dose; today the same dose costs a few pennies.

Come in and get acquainted. You will discover a prompt prescription service of all the acceptable modern drugs that are of the highest quality.

HANDY HINT: Save time and money by preparing food for two dinners at once. Store second dinner in freezer.

ORGANIZE TROOP

Scouting Rejuvenated By Five Senior Girls

Five Big Spring high school girls have formed the first Senior Girl Scout Troop in the area in several years.

"Together with their advisors, Mrs. Don Roberts and Mrs. Stephen Heaton, the girls are discovering that Senior Scouting is adventuring with a special compass as a guide," said Arlene Estes, staff member of the West Texas Girl Scout Council. "The compass is the Girl Scout way of thinking and acting based on the Girl Scout Promise and Laws."

The new Senior Scouts are Alma Willetts, Joyce Roberts, Kelly Thames, Dianne Kohanek and Cheryl Meyer. The girls comprise Senior Troop 49. Miss Estes said these five girls are a part of 85,000 high school girls in the U.S.A. united by the Girl Scout code of Senior Scouting.

"Millions more, in over fifty countries around the world that are part of the World Association of the Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, also share the code and know the meaning and richness the code can add to their lives," said Miss Estes.

The Big Spring Senior Scouts have chosen four projects for the year.

SERVICE AIDE
"The Senior Service Aide programs are designed to offer the Senior Scout an opportunity to give help, after special training, to an organization or institution in her community. In return she receives practical vocational guidance," said Miss Estes.

Mrs. Oliver Nichols, librarian of Howard County's new public library, has set up the Library Aide project. Miss Willetts gives several hours of volunteer service to the library each week. Under the guidance of Mrs. Nichols, she is learning various aspects of library work.

Miss Willetts also does volunteer work on weekends at the Veteran's Administration Hospital as a part of the Hospital Aide program.

As a special guest of the Medical Post of the local Explorer program, she joins other teenagers in exploring the field of medical technology.

Miss Roberts is working in the Animal Care Aide program at Western Hills Animal Clinic. Dr. Henry Thompson and Dr. Don R. McDonald are training Miss Roberts in small animal care; e.g., first aid, vaccinations and inoculations. Miss Roberts also does some office work for the clinic.

Pursuing an interest in camping and emergency preparedness stemming from experiences in the Cadette Girl Scouting program, Kelly Thames, Dianne Kohanek and Cheryl Meyer meet with the Coahoma Explorer Survival Post.

At Christmas, the girls gift wrapped on the Highland Shopping Center Mall. Money earned from this project went to the Seniors selected for the Council sponsored trip to Our Cabana in Cuernavaca, Mexico, in June.

Although the entire troop may not get to go, the scouts feel a close bond to each other and they agree that the money should go to those girls who are selected.

The trip to Our Cabana is one of the many travel opportunities open to Senior Scouts. There are world Scout Centers in Mexico, India, Switzerland and England. In the United States, Senior troops camp at national locations in Worland, Wyo., and Washington, D.C.

Texas troops meet together for weekend conferences on college campuses, visits to the Houston Space Center or extended heritage trips around the states, said Miss Estes.

"The positive aspect of using only returnable soft drink bottles is that it is a place to start for concerned citizens," said Mrs. Lester Smith Jr., San Angelo league president.

The Junior League of San Angelo, Inc., has resolved to purchase only returnable bottles during the month of March. In passing the resolution, the group has joined many other Junior Leagues across the nation.

The primary purpose is to focus attention on a great problem — that of solid wastes. Before the advent of the one-way bottle and can, the returnable soft drink bottle was the ultimate form of recycling. An average bottle made 50 trips before being discarded.

Both families are formerly of Big Spring, and Miss Wooley is presently attending Howard County Junior College. The couple will be married April 10 at the East Fourth Street Baptist Church with the Rev. Dale Cain presiding.

PROJECTS
Miss Estes said that as busy as the girls are with Service Aide Projects, regular troop meetings and school activities, the group still finds time to do projects together.

The girls gave a Halloween party for the children at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Individually, they help in troops of younger Scouts.

At Christmas, the girls gift wrapped on the Highland Shopping Center Mall. Money earned from this project went to the Seniors selected for the Council sponsored trip to Our Cabana in Cuernavaca, Mexico, in June.

Formal Opening Is Scheduled For New B. S. Savings Home

Latest addition to the Big Spring commercial scene is the new home of Big Spring Savings Association at Seventh and Main, which is being formally presented to the public Monday with a two-week period of "open house."

Brief formalities are scheduled at 9 a.m. Monday when Mayor Arnold Marshall will do the traditional ribbon cutting, with members of the Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors in attendance.

The public is invited, said Jack Worsham, president, but also is welcome at any convenient time to tour the new facility.

The Association, he said, is inviting registration for a two-week period (through March 12) to a color television set, for which there is no obligation. Such registration is for adults only.

GIFTS, REFRESHMENTS
In addition, said Worsham, there will be special gifts, and coffee and cookies will be served each day during the "open house."

"We want everyone to feel free to come at any time and inspect our new home," he continued.

The facility, highlighted by a 42-foot tower at the corner of the property, contains more than 6,400 square feet. It is situated on property 162.5 feet by 140 feet, so that there is parking both at the south side and to the rear of the building, as well as along the Main Street frontage.

DRIVE-IN WINDOW
A drive-in window is located on the north side, with access from Main Street. There is also a night depository here.

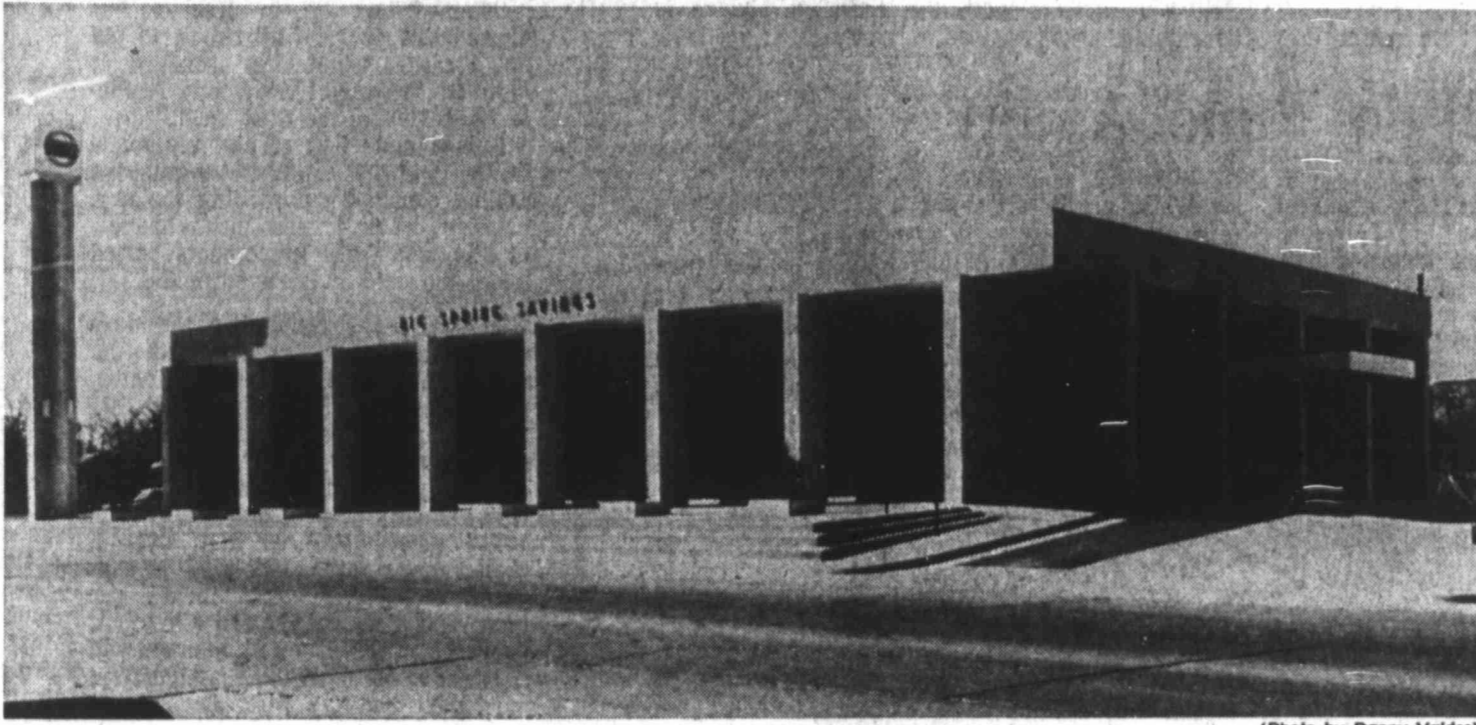

The modern structure is distinguished by an unusually broad overhang, protecting a large expanse of bronze glass windows. Exterior material is of exposed aggregate pre-cast panels on tall columns. This material also is used in the wing walls, fascia and tower, and the building has harmonizing bronze trim to set off the glass of that tint.

WALNUT PANELING
The interior has an air of spaciousness with 15-foot ceilings. Walnut paneling is the dominant interior decor, but this is contrasted by a large wall directly opposite the front entrance, which is in a brown-and-gold vinyl fabric. This wall, a focal center, is highlighted by a large credenza, a specially-ordered painting of a western Texas scene, and massive flower stands which catch spotlights from the ceiling.

The center of the main lobby, covered with terrazzo flooring, has a specially-designed rug as focal point, this being under a suspended square of light panels. Groupings of tables, divans and chairs are around this public area. To one side of the lobby is a special customer's work desk.

OFFICES
To the left of the main lobby are receptionist's and secretary's desks, and also two paneled offices for officers. There also is a director's room to this side.

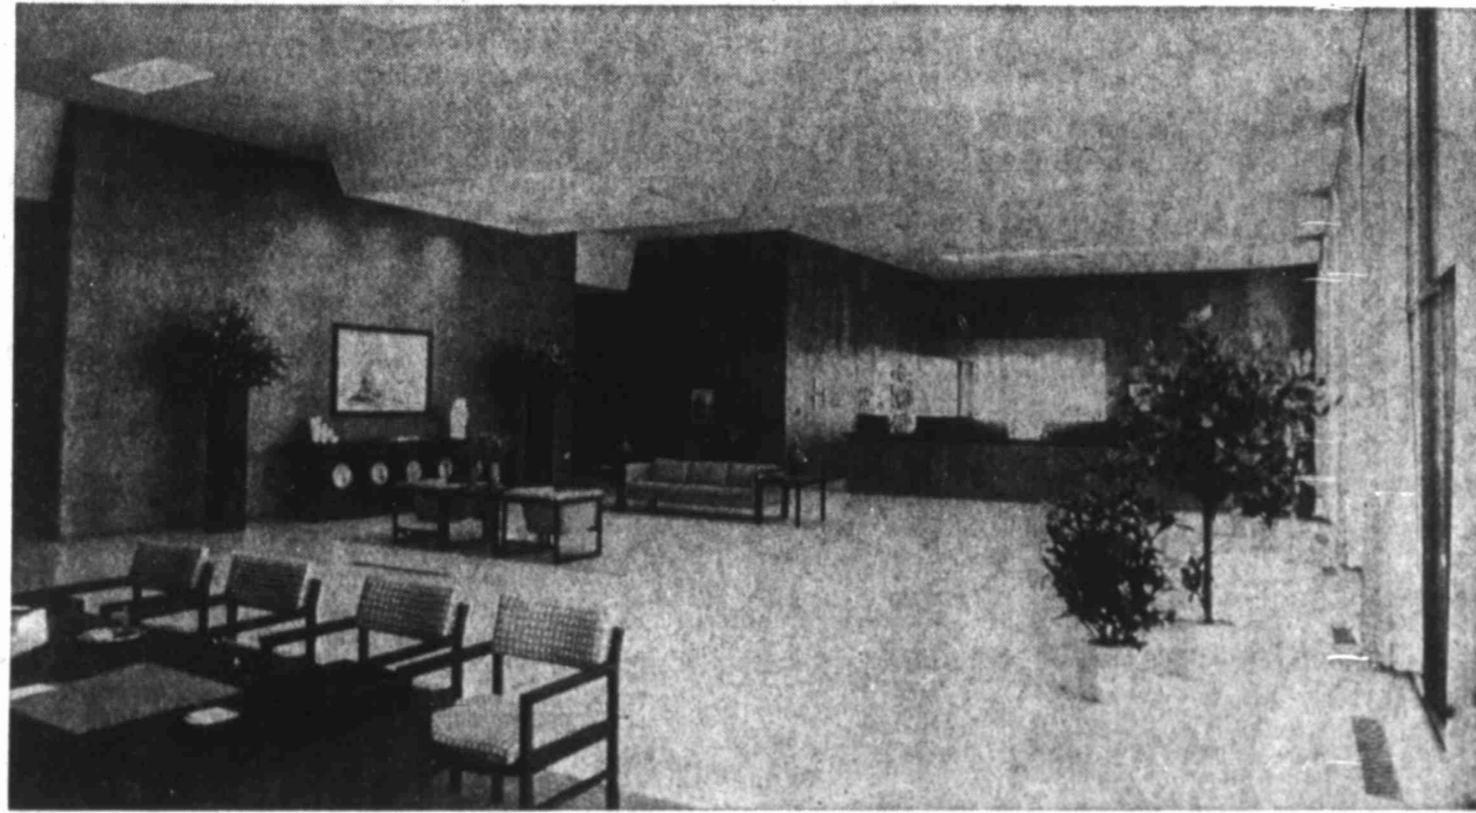

To the right is the teller, bookkeeping and customer-serv-

Pot Plant Blooms At Busy Airport

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Officers have made many arrests on marijuana counts at International Airport here, but they weren't quite prepared for the case they encountered this week. Police said officers discovered a six-inch marijuana plant blooming in an airport sidewalk crack in an area traveled by thousands of passengers. Officers figured one of the passengers must have dropped a marijuana seed there some six months ago.

LIGHTING
The tower, topped by a five-foot graphic, and the building's overhang are set off by special lighting.

The building was designed by Gary & Hohertz, who also served as supervising architects and engineers. J. D. Jones Construction Co. had the general contract, while interior decor was done by Lucelle's.

Big Spring Schools To Host Parents

Big Spring schools will observe Texas Public School Week with open house days and classroom visitation Monday through Friday.

This week has been proclaimed Texas Public School Week by Gov. Preston Smith. This is the 21st year the event has been sponsored by Texas Masonic lodges.

The Masons last week treated administrators of area public schools to a breakfast as a means of thanking them for their work with the school systems.

Local schools plan many different displays this week for the parents of the children. Most local displays will consist of classroom work done by the children. Some special displays of Texas history may be exhibited, also including the children's work.

The Airport school will have open house Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. The PTA will meet Thursday at 7:30 p.m., and teachers will host the parents in the classrooms following the meeting.

The Bauer school will have visitation all week, with emphasis on the breakfast program and the new services available to school children at Bauer.

At Boydston school the faculty invites the parents and friends to an open house and classroom visit from 8:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m. Tuesday. Children's classroom work will be on display.

Cedar Crest will have open house all week, Thursday at 7:30 p.m. The PTA will meet.

At College Heights the school will observe open house Wednesday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to visitors by members of the PTA.

At Gay Hill the PTA will have a program Friday at 2:30 p.m., featuring all the classes at Gay Hill. A display of school work will be set up in the gym for parents to view before and following the meeting.

At Kentwood an open house with classroom visitation will follow the PTA meeting at 7:30

Area Schools Schedule Open House

Schools in the Howard County area will observe the March 1-5 Texas Public School Week with open house days and visitation. This 21st annual event is a means of bringing teachers and parents together so that a better understanding of schools can be achieved.

The Sands schools will have open house and visitation. Letters have been mailed to parents informing them of the activities.

Colorado City schools will have open house Tuesday night. Wallace elementary and the Junior High School will be open from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Kelley elementary will be open 7-8:30 p.m. Hutchinson elementary will be open 7:30-9 p.m.

The high school will have student council members available during class hours during the week to show parents the school. The public is invited to a lecture by Eddie Piland at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the high school on the Pharmaceutical aspects of the drug problem.

The Coahoma schools, in addition to an invitation to parents to visit classrooms anytime during the week, are having some special events. The fourth and fifth grades will present plays Monday and Tuesday at 1 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Thursday night, open house will be observed by all grades. The junior high and the sixth grade band students will present a concert in the junior high gymnasium during the open house from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Vocational agriculture and industrial arts displays will be shown in their departments.

Arrangements for the observance were handled by W. A. Wilson, superintendent, and the three principals, Bill Easterling, senior high; Rob Etheridge, junior high; and W. A. Fishback, elementary.

The Forsan schools will have visitation and open house all week. Parents may eat lunch with their children if they call one day ahead of time so the proper number of plates can be prepared.

Stanton will have visitation all week. On Tuesday there will be band concerts at 7:30 p.m. at all three schools. Open house will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday.

Hates Concrete

KIDDERMINSTER, England (AP) — Six years ago, at the age of 56, Bill Moore suddenly was stricken with prime hatred for concrete.

"I walked into the town center one day and there was this horrible office block and all that concrete jungle," the proprietor of a liquor store said. "I thought that's it, if that's what they're doing to Kidderminster, I don't want to see it."

WHERE SAVING IS EASY

Perhaps A Lesson For Us

Britain's changeover to a decimal currency system is being accomplished with unexpected ease. The experts anticipated a good deal more confusion and difficulty than have been encountered.

In part this attests the soundness of the preparatory educational program laid on by the government to smooth the transition. The good sense of the British people also is a factor: Though there have been 20 shillings to the pound and 12 pence to the shilling for many generations, and though the British are said to be hidebound in matters of tradition, most of them took in quick stride the switch to a system of 100 pence to the pound.

Another factor seems to be operative, one that has particular meaning for Americans. The British currency shift bolsters the idea that people will adjust without a lot of fuss to very significant changes in their way of life, if they come to regard such changes as beneficial.

And why should this have particular meaning for Americans? Because we seem to be approaching the time when, all the necessary studies having been made, a switch to the metric system of weights and measures in this country will be authoritatively recommended. The soundness of such a change, even though it would cost a lot, is evident. Instead of dealing with inches, feet (12 inches) and miles (5,280 feet), for example, distances would be measured in meters, decimeters (10 meters), kilometers (1,000 meters) and so on — everything in multiples of 10. When the thrust finally begins to marshal support for the change to the metric system, much will depend on the good sense of the public. Even more will depend on that when the change is actually undertaken, with an inescapable minimum of attendant confusion and trouble. The current British experience with the currency change is heartening.

Deadline Time Again

Today we come down to the lick log again on qualifying to vote for 1971 elections.

If you haven't done that, by all means fill out the voter application form in today's Herald and put it in the post office before midnight tonight. Your only cost will be the postage. Your reward will be in knowing that you have put yourself in a position to exercise the most solemn right of a citizen — that of voting.

While our total of more than 12,000 voters is fairly respectable, it is nothing like what it ought to be. Frankly, the addition of less than 400 (through Friday) more voters through the extended February sign-up is disappointing.

But it is not too late — if you act today. If you haven't applied as a voter, don't let a thing keep you from getting it in the mail today.

Rain's A-Comin'

Around The Rim

Bob Whipkey

Some fellow up in Kansas has chosen this year, of all times, to put out a rather frightening brochure. It is titled "Midnight At Noon: A Pictorial Review of the Dust Bowl." It is a collection of pictures made in the mid-30's, and shows massive boiling clouds encompassing the sky, country roads turned into channels of dirt, and farm implements buried under the sand on deserted fields.

THOSE WHO remember the days will shudder, particularly with the record of rainfall in recent months. It has been last September since Big Spring had as much as two inches of moisture in a month, and September was preceded by summer months with virtually no precipitation.

The records tell us that, over a period of 70 years, this area is supposed to average 18.41 inches per year, and if we get the full allotment, properly spaced, we manage to survive. At least that's what farmers, ranchmen and the rest of us count on.

THE PROBLEM is that Mother Nature is capricious in doling out the waters from heaven, and doesn't always pay attention to the averages.

Would you believe that in the year 1917 — the year the agricultural economy of West Texas (and then, by far the biggest factor) went reeling, to its knees — in the year 1917, the total rainfall here was 4.68 inches? We haven't dipped to that point in any year since. I suppose the natives of the time were recalling 1910, when a bounteous 7.25 inches fell.

THE THIRD and fourth worst years of the century were 1954 with 8.06 inches, and 1952, with 9.20, and it doesn't take much scratching of the memory pads to recall what was happening to us in the mid-50's.

Webb Air Force Base was in its early years then, and the good people who had been assigned here from such lush areas as Michigan, Virginia and Florida were all but ready to accept the end of the world as the billowing black clouds of dust blotted out the sun and overran the earth as though it were actually enveloped in one mass of stifling dirt.

YEAH, we caught it in the 50's, as we had back in 1917.

Our area suffered during the dust bowl years, but the great Midwest took harder blows, and the storms that rolled over us, ranging in color from coffee au lait to dark chocolate, had taken their toll in Oklahoma, Kansas and western Colorado.

WELL, things balance out if you have the perseverance. By 1919, we were soaked with 34.01 inches of rainfall — just about the wettest year ever — and in 1941 there fell 31.62 inches to heal the land.

Old-timers have a caustic way of reporting that there was "one time, it never did rain." Surely this won't be the time. The wettest months, by the records on the average, are, in order, May, September, June and July. Just hold on a little longer.

Hanoi Can't Hear

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — There must be something wrong with the communication facilities of the North Vietnamese government. Either the significant news doesn't arrive in Hanoi or it doesn't get translated properly from English. Thus, for example, Madame Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong foreign minister and chief negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, told the press in Rome on Feb. 23:

"When the United States agrees to withdraw all forces from Indochina, the government of North Vietnam will take into consideration the release of prisoners."

BUT THE PRESIDENT of the United States, on February 17 in a news conference, had said:

"As long as the North Vietnamese have any Americans as prisoners of war, there will be Americans in South Vietnam and enough Americans to give them an incentive to release the prisoners."

The President was then asked if he would be willing to join Congress in a resolution saying the intention of the United States is to withdraw all its troops from Vietnam. He replied that it is not needed because in a speech last October he had called for "A total withdrawal of all forces if it was mutual." He added:

"So, the policy of this government is for a total withdrawal, provided there is a withdrawal by the other side."

THE UNITED STATES, therefore, has certainly made clear that it will not retain troops in South Vietnam if the prisoners of war are released and enemy forces are withdrawn. Thus, it is surprising to read an announcement that seems to indicate that Hanoi and the Viet Cong have never heard of American policy on the release of prisoners of war.

IT NOW SHOULD be clear to Hanoi, however, that the time has come for North Vietnam to begin meaningful negotiations. The President put it this way in his news conference last Thursday:

"We will continue to pursue the diplomacy for a primary reason, the primary reason being to negotiate some settlement of the prisoner-of-war issue."

"We have to realize that, as far as the negotiations affecting a political settlement for South Vietnam is concerned, time is running out for the North Vietnamese if they expect to negotiate with the United States. Because, as our forces come out of South Vietnam, it means that the responsibility for the negotiations increasingly, then, becomes that of South Vietnam."

THE PRESIDENT also remarked that the United States is constantly examining the possibility of diplomatic initiatives, but, that there are no more concessions coming from our side.

The opportunity of the North Vietnamese to wind up the war should have been enhanced by the announcement that the release of American prisoners would hasten our total withdrawal. That's why it is strange to read what the Viet Cong foreign minister said to the press seven days after the President's public announcement in Washington. Maybe the bureaucracy in Hanoi selects only certain information, favorable to their cause, for transmittal to the officials in the highest level of their government.

THE FIRST ITEM on the agenda at Paris should be arrangements for the release of the hundreds of Americans who are being held hostage in North Vietnamese prison camps. What the Hanoi government does in the next few weeks will have a crucial influence on world opinion.

Saving Your Job

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The trouble with most business administration schools is that they teach you everything about business except how to keep your job when a company starts to lay off people during an economy drive.

"The reason they don't teach you how to survive during an economy wave," said my friend Wholesworthy, who has lived through every pink slip crisis in his company for 20 years, "is that the only way to keep your job during a personnel reduction is to fight dirty. And schools don't want to admit you have to fight dirty to stay in business."

"Give me an example," I said.

"ALL RIGHT, suppose you are working as an executive for the Soft-Serve Tennis Ball Co. The word is out that there is going to be a 15 per cent across-the-board cut in jobs. You don't sit back and wait to see if you're in the 15 per cent. You act immediately.

"You go to see Croton, the vice president in charge of personnel, and you say 'If you have to fire someone in my department, Mr. Croton, I would prefer it be me rather than O'Toole.' You see, O'Toole has had some serious problems and that is why he hasn't been able to function for the past six months."

"Croton will reply 'Problems. What problems?'"

"HIS DRINKING, sir. When O'Toole first came here he never touched a drop. Then he fell apart. But it wasn't his fault. You'd have taken to drink too if you had been under the pressure he's faced lately."

"Pressure? What kind of pressure?"

"Well, sir, O'Toole's a friend of mine and that's why I hope I'm not violating a confidence. The pressure came mainly from his gambling. O'Toole started losing heavily to the bookies and they threatened to tell his wife about the woman O'Toole was keeping if he didn't pay his debts.

"O'TOOLE WAS gambling and keeping a woman and he's got a drinking problem and you want me to keep him on the payroll?" Croton will say.

"We all make mistakes, Mr. Croton, you protest. As soon as O'Toole straightens out his financial affairs and makes up his mind whether he's going to get rid of his wife or his mistress, he'll be a great addition to the company."

Wholesworthy said to me, "Now if you were Croton, which man's head would you put on the block?"

"Poor O'Toole," I said. "I knew him well."

THERE ARE other methods of holding onto your job during a cut-back period," Wholesworthy said. "One is to go to Croton and say, 'I don't envy the dirty work the board of directors has assigned you, Mr. Croton. Before you're finished, you're going to be the most hated man in the company.'"

"Yes, it's true," Croton will reply. "They'll all hate me. What can I do?"

"Why not form an employee's 'Force Reduction Committee' and let the committee absorb all the blame for the cuts in personnel? We'll take all the flack."

"WHO'S WE?" Croton will ask.

"Me and my committee," you say. "Whenever someone screams, you can blame it on us."

"You're a good man, Wholesworthy. I don't know what the company would do without you."

Controls Foreshadowed

By LINDA RUBEY

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration reversed its policy on wages and prices this week as President Nixon took a modest step to curb spiraling construction industry wages.

Declaring that an emergency existed, Nixon suspended a law requiring contractors on federal construction projects to pay top union scale wages. The President indicated the suspension would remain in effect until unions and management come up with a voluntary wage-price stabilization plan to curb inflation in the construction industry.

The action applies to wage negotiations in some $25-billion worth of federally assisted construction — a sizable portion of the $90-billion industry.

Treasury Secretary John Connally told a congressional committee this week that the administration was reversing its stance and supporting an extension of the bill which gives the President power to control wages and prices.

STANDBY POWER — The bill which expires March 31 unless extended, gives the President standby authority to freeze or control wages and prices at levels not less than those prevailing on May 25, 1970.

Connally emphasized in supporting the bill the administration didn't believe a comprehensive wage-price control system was needed. But he didn't rule out a wage-price freeze on the construction industry if a voluntary solution was not worked out.

Neither the construction unions nor management were satisfied with Nixon's step. Management contended it didn't go far enough to curb rising wages; the unions said it was unfairly directed at the cost of wages alone and did not restrain the price of land or materials which also are increasing rapidly.

Observers noted that the President's action was possibly the mildest he could have taken to halt inflation in the construction industry where wage settlements have been about twice as high as in manufacturing generally. They doubted it would have significant effect in the near future, but said it might be felt over the long term.

FED FAVORS CONTROL — In testifying before a congressional committee last week, Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the

- Administration hinting some wage-price curbs under study
- Construction singled out due to government's big slice
- FED chief adds voice to those calling for actual controls
- Money supply January jump equals all of 1970
- Economic indicators rise at 3 pct., living cost same rate

Federal Reserve Board, said the board was in favor of an income policy to reduce inflationary pressures with some type of wage and price review board.

At the same time he declined to commit the board to full support of the President's rapidly expansive economic policy for 1971. He said the board estimated the gross national product would be in the $1,045 trillion to $1,050 trillion range this year, less than the administration's prediction of $1,065 trillion.

In his testimony Treasury Secretary Connally said, "I don't think there's any question but what we're going to have to have a greater supply of money than we've had in recent months."

During the past four months the money supply increased at only a 3 per cent annual rate and in January it grew at only a rate of 1.1 per cent, he observed.

CONSUMERS WARY — George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, conceded that the Federal Reserve is not yet fully committed to the administration's economic goals. He added that he hoped they would join in, however, Burns maintained that economic problems were more related to a lack of consumer confidence than to the rates of money-supply increase.

Some important economic indicators did lend some credence to the administration's contention that the pace of inflation is slowing and the economy turning around.

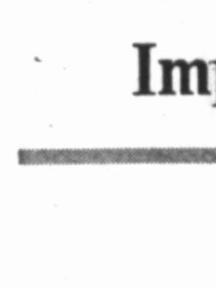

The government composite index of leading economic indicators rose in January for the third straight month. The index climbed 1 per cent last month to 118.1 per cent of the 1957 average, the Commerce Department said.

COSTS SLOW — The cost of living in January also showed a sharply narrower increase than in preceding months. Consumer prices rose at a seasonally adjusted rate of 0.3 per cent in January or at an annual rate of 3.3 per cent, the Labor Department reported. This was down from December's increase of 0.5 per cent or a 6.6 per cent annual rate. The index currently stands 9.2 per cent above a year earlier, the slimmest year to year increase since March, 1969.

"I told him where he could write to get his birth certificate. And he replied he didn't want to write letters, he wanted a passport."

When Shaw said he had to have some evidence, the man declared, "Well, I'll just stay home."

The passport office processes an average of 25 to 30 applications here a day. In slack times, a passport can be obtained in a week.

Important Issue

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Ask almost any reporter the question: Is Sen. Edward M. Kennedy a candidate for President in 1972? The answer would be no. But put it this way: Is Kennedy positioning himself to run if events should thrust him into the top spot for the Democrats? The answer would be yes.

THIS IS RELEVANT to the debate that has begun over a nationwide system of health insurance. Kennedy is not only chairman of the Senate health subcommittee but he is the author of a bill providing a comprehensive insurance plan financed and administered by the Federal government. It is in sharp contrast to the Nixon Administration proposal that brings private health insurance companies into a system designed to scale back the public cost.

If war, as has often been said, is too important to leave to the generals, American's rapidly degenerating health care and the rapidly escalating costs are too important to leave to politics. Scoring points for Kennedy or for the Nixon Administration will be an answer for the millions of Americans caught in one way or another in the health squeeze.

PRESIDENT NIXON's health message put eloquently what the faults and failures in medical care today mean — skyrocketing costs, the ruin of catastrophic illness, the scarcity in many areas of doctors and adequate hospitals.

Washington Hospital Center, where this observer recently spent a relatively brief siege, has by cutting every possible corner kept the charge for a small private room down to $80 a day, which is certain before too long to go to $100. The rate for a shared room is $68.50; in most New York hospitals it has gone to $97.50.

A WEEK OR 10 DAYS in the Center's heart care unit, said to be the best of its kind in the country, can mean a bill of up to $10,000.

This reflects the complex devices and the experts mulling them that are part of modern medicine. A first-degree burn or the mangling of an auto accident results in a catastrophic bill.

The Kennedy measure calls for an over-all insurance program equalizing the costs so they would fall equitably on every income level. There would be no cutoff dates, no co-insurance, no deductibles and no waiting periods. According to those who helped to frame the measure, the cost of the benefits under the program for the fiscal year 1970 would have been $41 billion. But they stress that this would not have been "new" money, but rather the amounts already being spent by individuals, employers and governments for health care.

THE ADMINISTRATION proposal has many blank spaces. The insurance costs would be heaviest on low-income groups. Individuals in some categories are left out entirely. Stress is put, and this is true also of advocates of the Kennedy measure, on health maintenance organizations (HMO) with prepaid medical costs and the emphasis on preventive medicine. The outstanding example of HMO is the Kaiser operation in California.

But between the two sides are areas of agreement. In his testimony highly critical of the administration program, Rashi Fein, an economist on the faculty of the Harvard Medical School, pointed to a number of specific proposals in the Nixon message that he said deserved the support of all concerned Americans. He cited the need for HMO, supplying scarcity areas with better care and merging the two parts of Medicare.

THIS SUGGESTS the possibility of a compromise that could mean some forward movement until the larger issues are threshed out. Why could not certain agreed-upon steps be taken in this session of the Congress?

My Answer

Billy Graham

My wife and I are very happy but she is so self-conscious of her foreign accent that she refuses to leave the house. I don't want our child to think her mother is odd. What can I do?

Try to make your wife feel not only that this country is a fine place in which to live, but that she has something to contribute.

Invite Christian friends to come to your home. Occasionally ask them to share a meal with you, and tell your wife to prepare some favorite dishes of her native land. The appreciation which she receives will give her confidence. It will help her to overcome her timidity.

Then take your child by the hand and go to church together. We sing,

"In Christ there is no East or West, in Him, no South or North." As we worship together we draw near to the Savior, and we forget our differences. There is room for all within the fellowship of the church. There your wife will experience the warmth of Christian love. Perhaps, in addition, she could be encouraged to perform some small service for the church. This might be only helping to set tables for a church supper, or sewing on curtains for the nursery. Working with others at any small task would make her feel that she belongs.

I'm sure your wife has much to give. Help her to find ways to use her talents. Then she will be happy in her new home and superficial differences will be forgotten.

A Devotion For Today . . .

He named . . . the pillar of Zion, for he said, "The Lord watch between you and me, when we are absent one from the other."

PRAYER: Lord, grant that in this new decade—the seventies—mankind will find his way back to Thee and to the inspired scriptures, and so find peace and hope. Amen.

Puente, 27, a native Big Spring, and a 1963 graduate of Big Spring High School, was hired as a deputy Jan. 4 in a controversial session of county commissioners court. Throughout January, Puente attended the Southwest Law Enforcement Academy course offered at Howard County Junior College. Upon completion of the course, he received 240 hours credit and began work as a full-time night deputy with the sheriff's department.

In addition to his classroom training, Puente gained law enforcement knowledge as a reserve policeman with the Big Spring department for two-and-one-half years.

Puente is also a member of the American GI-Forum.

He and his wife Mildred reside at 708 NW 5th, and have two children, Cynthia Ann, 4; and Sandra Ann, 1½. Puente is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Puente, 803 N. Gregg.

Equipment On County List

Only three items are on the agenda for county commissioners Monday at 9 a.m., and all three deal with either the purchase or acquisition of equipment for Howard County.

Commissioners will discuss the possible purchase of road equipment with Hollis Randell, county road and bridge administrator. The court viewed the operation Wednesday afternoon of a road grider preparatory to buying it.

Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard is scheduled to come before the court to discuss the purchase of two patrol cars for use by his department.

Additional shelving space for the law library on the third floor of the courthouse is the final item of the agenda. Commissioners have previously visited the library to determine the need for the shelving.

GOLIAD Parents Night Planned For Public School Week

By MELANIE HAYWORTH
Goliad's annual Parents' Night will be held Monday evening from 7:30 until 9 p.m. in the gymnasium. Students and faculty invite all parents and friends to attend. This is in observance of Texas Public School Week, March 1-5.

Goliad, Runnels and Big Spring High School will participate in an art exhibit to be held at First Federal Savings and Loan the week of March 7-12. It will be a joint exhibit of student work.

The showcase in the main corridor is now filled with selected work done by students in the eighth grade art classes.

Each college carries a message. Some of the students in the National Junior Honor Society will participate in the Easter Seal Drive to aid crippled children. These students will seek donations on April 6-8 p.m.

Algebra aptitude tests were given to all eighth grade students in their math classes on Tuesday. The results of these tests help students decide what math course they should take in the ninth grade.

Eighth grade girls' P.E. classes participated in good grooming exercises this past week. This week they will begin playing badminton. Seventh grade girls' badminton tournament games will be played this Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

Seven new books were donated to the Goliad Library by Miss Agnes Currie. Book titles are "The Age of Napoleon" by J. C. Herold; "Go With God" by Jim Bishop; "The Haunted Palace" by Frances Winwar; "Magnificent Destiny" by Paul I. Wellman; "Martin County the First Thirty Years" by Fay E. Smithson; "Mr. Clemens and Mark Twain" by Justin Kaplan; and "Robert E. Lee" by Philip Van Doren Stern. The library has an additional 24 more new books on the shelves.

Last Monday the Goliad volleyball teams played Runnels in the Goliad gym. Monday they will play Lamesa there at 5:30 p.m., and on Thursday they will play Big Lake in the Goliad gym at 5 p.m. On Saturday, the Mavericks will journey to Snyder for a tournament with both eighth and ninth grades participating.

Goliad welcomes three new students this week. They are Debra and Sheila Kinman from Odessa and Keith Thomas from Mississippi.

Attend Church Sunday

Select The Church Of Your Choice And Be Faithful
In Your Attendance

If we could build a fence around the world, would we respect our limitations and live happily with one another? Would we stop wars? Probably not!

You can fence in physical objects but not the minds and hearts of mankind.

Nor can we be forced to live in peace. Peace comes through practicing love, faith and tolerance — an understanding of God and His Church. Then, remember World Day of Prayer. Determine not to build a fence around yourself, or around anyone else. Instead, enlarge your horizons through the common voice of prayer.

What better place to start than in the Church?

The Wrong Man

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What does a girl do when she realizes she married the wrong man? I knew right after I married Tom (not his real name) that I should have waited for Roger (not his real name either). Roger was in the service at the time.

Three years later I realize that I still love Roger. My husband is good to me and our two babies, and I really have no complaints, but I feel so guilty not being able to return the love he gives me. My thoughts keep going back to Roger.

DEAR ABBY: I am 6 foot 4, weigh 240 pounds, am told I'm good looking and I play college football. They all call me "lady killer," but when I go out with a girl I'm the one who gets killed. Would you believe I don't know how to get anywhere with a girl? I get all the encouragement a guy in his right mind needs, but I don't do anything about it. When I get home I could kick myself. Am I normal or not?

DEAR ABBY: Every guy fumbles a little before he learns how to complete a pass. You need more experience. If I guys don't kill you, one girl won't.

DEAR ABBY: Would you please ask one of your medical experts what can be done about a face that has been badly scarred with acne. My scars are very bad and people just stare at me something awful. On top of that, my complexion is dark because I am part Indian and I have heard that if a dark-skinned person has plastic surgery, the scars can be worse than that you started with. Is this true?

DEAR ABBY: I am 28 and female. I don't have much money, but if there is any hope for me I could save What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply, enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is in the hospital with collagen disease. The doctor gives me little information except that the condition is or can be grave. Can you enlighten me? — Mrs. R.M.

A little — and only a little. Collagen is fibrous connective tissue which exists throughout the body — in the joints, the arteries, the skin. A collagen disease is one in which an inflammatory process is active in this type of tissue.

What causes it? We don't yet know. How to cure it? We can't say, although we can do something, in most cases, to control the disease.

There are five major types of collagen disease: rheumatoid arthritis, primarily attacking the collagen tissues of the joints; disseminated lupus erythematosus, attacking the connective tissues virtually anywhere in the body (and quite often being accompanied by arthritis); polyarteritis nodosa, involving the arteries; dermatomyositis, involving skin and muscle tissues; and scleroderma, featured by hardened patches of skin.

But with any of these diseases, symptoms may be bizarre and are variable. Most of them are accompanied by fever. One disease may merge into some phases of another collagen disease. Kidney involvement, with albumin and blood in the urine, is an example of the sort of complications that may occur.

The very uncertainty of the way a case will progress, along with the lack of knowledge of what causes these diseases, may explain to you why your doctor didn't tell you much about your husband's case. Explanation isn't easy, and it is quite impossible to predict with any assurance.

All of these disorders, for reasons not known, are more prevalent in women but not known in men by any means.

Treatment is with the steroid drugs — cortisone and its derivatives. This usually arrests the course of the disease and makes the patient more comfortable. Of course complications arising from the diseases may need attention, too.

There can be wide differences in severity. So-called discoid lupus erythematosus is a nuisance but not classed as dangerous. But disseminated lupus, depending on what parts of the body are attacked, can be distinctly dangerous unless the disease is arrested.

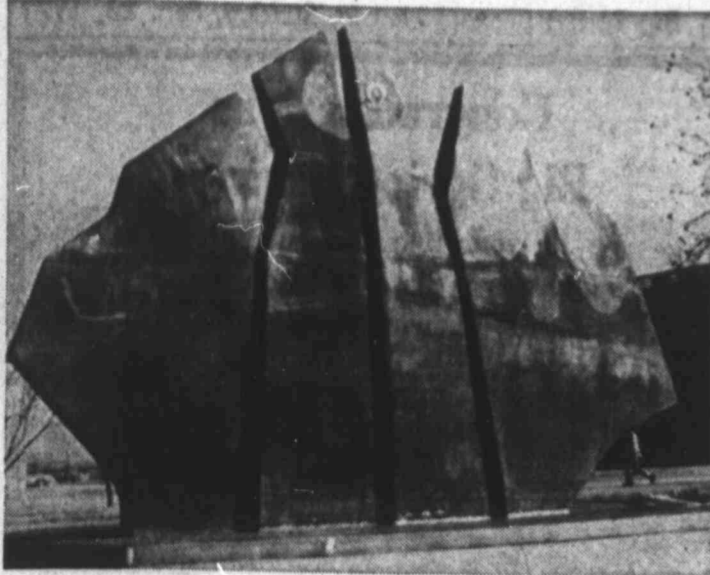

All of them — certainly including rheumatoid arthritis — should be regarded as chronic ailments that need to be controlled but have no specific methods of cure.

And yet cases can wane, without visible reason. Here again rheumatoid arthritis is an example. A case can go into remission, perhaps even for years, but the wise patient will not trust these remissions too far. Rather, he will be on guard to watch for any sign of the condition flaring up again.

AVERY FALKNER'S 'OMEGA POINT' Sculpture now adorns Abilene Christian mall

Sculpture Is Work Of Big Springer

"Omega Point," the new massive sculpture which is positioned on the Mall side of the new Brown Library at Abilene Christian College is the work of Avery Falkner, member of the ACC staff, and a Big Spring native.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Falkner, 708 W. 17th.

"There is more poetry than direct meaning in the title," said Falkner of his abstract work. He said he liked the shape of the Greek letter Omega and incorporated it as part of the relief on one side of the sculpture.

It is a non-objective work with no relation to any realistic form, yet it is designed to blend into the architecture of the new library and surrounding buildings. Even the materials are coordinated. Made of the same Cor-Ten steel as in the Civic Center, the metal will turn brown, then a purple black with a pebbly texture.

After conceiving the design, Falkner, fashioned a framework of angle iron, then with electric welding torch covered this with eighth-inch steel plate shaped to the forms he envisioned.

Each of four sections were then transported to the site and fixed to a heavy concrete base. The work weighs some 3,000 pounds, measures 10 ft. 4-in. tall and 13 ft. long.

Falkner's first love was painting, but he has turned lately to three dimensional concerns and to experimental film making. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School and of ACC, attended The Brooklyn Museum of Fine Arts for a year, and took his masters in fine arts from the California College of Arts and Crafts. He is married and he and Mrs. Falkner have two children.

'Mouse' Is High School Presentation

"The Mouse That Roared" will be presented by the Big Spring High School Drama Department March 10-12 in the high school auditorium.

The political satire comedy is about the world's smallest nation, the Grand Duchy of Fenwick.

Realizing that any nation defeated by the United States in a war is always splendidly reconstructed, the nation declares war on the U.S. and confronts New York City with 20 archers in chain mail.

Unaware of their real mission, the archers create havoc with Fenwick's master plan and the entire world's balance of power by winning the war.

The cast includes Jill Shaver as Gloriana the 12th, John Holloway as Tully Bascom, Joy Stevens, Jon Rice, Kathy Bull, John Hicks, Joan Carl, John Lipscombe, Belinda Gonzales, Paul Talbot, Pam Wheeler, Kelly Draper, Pam Huckaba, Bobby Barnes, Nancy Bortner, David Wright, Cecelia Coffey, Guy Bell, Martha Talbot, Steve Ferrell, Norma Backs, Steve Carlisle, Robyn Hooper, Keith Swim, Barbara Widger, Jackie Cantrell, Teresa Sheppard, Martha Perry, Kathleen Thompson and Ellen Cooley.

Extras in the cast include Annamarie Smith, Tommie Sue Eastland, Chris Chandler, Susan Sulak, Anne Long, Mary Mullen, Darla Carlisle, Stevi Raphael, and Mandy Brown.

Announcers will be Terry Allison and Curtis Condray.

'Dorian Gray' Star Is Becoming Famous Rapidly

A new face to today's motion picture audiences, Helmut Berger who stars in "Dorian Gray," which comes to the Ritz Theatre today has quickly become one of the best known faces on the screen, thanks to his performance in Luciano Visconti's Oscar contending film, "The Damned."

The sensational aspects of his role in the film have made him the international discovery of the new film season.

His performance in "Dorian Gray," promises to add even greater laurels to the young star's record.

The handsome, blond star was born May 29, 1944, in Salzburg, Austria, son of a restaurateur. He attended college in Feldkirch, near the Swiss border until he was 18 when, determined on an acting career, he went to England to perfect his English and study acting. He later continued his dramatic studies at the University of Perugia in Italy.

Berger's screen career started in 1964 when he went to Rome, intent on breaking into films. After several extra roles and bit parts, he was lucky enough to meet Luigi Visconti who cast him with Silvana Mangano and Annie Girardot in his episode of "The Queens" (Le Streghe). It was an association which culminated in his now famous role in "The Damned."

'Fools' Is Love Story

"Fools," described as a love story, pure and simple, stars Jason Robards and Katharine Ross. Shot completely in the 'city for lovers,' San Francisco, the color feature opens Friday at the Cinema Theatre.

"Fools" is another example in the current and successful wave of American-made pictures relying on low budgets and prestigious stars dedicated to a film's concept rather than the glamour or salary it might bring them.

It was directed by Tom Gries whose most recent feature film was Michener's "The Hawaiians," an eight million dollar epoch. For "Fools," producers Henri Bollinger and Robert H. Yamini stayed within their budget which was less than one-eighth that figure.

Donald Sutherland Learns About Fame

Donald Sutherland has learned what it means to be a star.

You sign your autograph for the fifth time on the set of your latest motion picture (the Carthy Center Elementary School in Los Angeles. Between breaks school kids playing themselves in the film have begged you). And then you're asked by a young voice with childlike wonder, "Are you in this picture?"

It does deflate any ego a Star might have been nurturing.

As for being in the picture, Sutherland definitely is. The star, Alex. A filmmaker who is searching desperately for an idea for a new film and in his search discovers make-believe isn't fiction, after all: it's the world about him.

The film is "Alex in Wonderland," opening Wednesday at the R-70 Theatre, with Jeanne Moreau in a cameo role and Ellen Burstyn playing Sutherland's wife.

But how could one explain to the young autograph hunter who Donald Sutherland really is, and how could you blame him for not knowing? Until a few months ago, a year ago, few did.

"M*A*S*H," in which Sutherland appeared with Elliot Gould, rescued the actor from anonymity and supporting roles to stardom, adulation, acclaim and demand that both delights and frightens him.

In the past he has appeared in — are you ready for these esoteric titles? — "Sebastian," starring Dick Bogarde, Susanna York, John Gielgud and Lilli Palmer; "Promise Her Anything" with Warren Beatty and Leslie Caron.

Horoscope Forecast

TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROL RICHTER

SUNDAY: You have a good chance this day to decide what you will do about problems and to determine the best philosophy for the future. Fine for attending service from which you gain the greatest amount of inspiration for successful living.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Ideal day to get in touch with one younger than you are, so you will know what help you can depend on in gaining your highest aims. Attend some social affair but try not to get on the wrong side of some bigwig.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): See what can be done to gain more favors and respect from higher-ups just at this time and have better rapport with the public in general. Avoid confusion of any sort. Get tests done properly.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You have an opportunity for new outlets but make sure you consider what persons of wisdom have to say. Listen also to what new acquaintances suggest. Don't commit yourself to anything, though.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Fulfilling whatever you have agreed to do without deviating one whit gains the approval of higher-ups. Make your desire more of your time. Complete work first and then all is fine.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): A good day to talk over the new interest with partners and come to a real meeting of the minds. Try to force others to your way of doing things or they will resent it. Cooperation is the keynote.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): If you serve others well today, you find this comes up new avenues of opportunity and happiness for yourself also. Try to improve your health in some way that gets right results. Avoid bursts of temper.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): A day for having a good time with associates who have similar ideas. Discuss with them policy matters for the future. Don't stir up any old contentions. Keep stable.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Jump right into all the duties ahead of you and get them done quickly and efficiently. Plan how to improve yourself for the season ahead. Don't go in for anything that is unadvised.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): You can have a happy time if you have a new attitude where recreation is concerned. Put that creativity you possess to work. Show much affection for good friends and relatives.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): You can make the conditions of home as you want them now, so think constructively. Know what it is that family desire and try to please them. The evening is not good for social activities, and is best spent at home.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): You are thinking in a clever way now, but don't get smart-alecky with others or you came out a loser. Others can be most inspiring at this time. Make as many contacts as you can.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You have to get a better consciousness of prosperity and plan how to go about gaining it, instead of fretting, because you do not have enough for your needs. Study how a successful person has become that way, and emulate his methods.

MONDAY GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening when you have a good chance to put your overall aims in operation and with more success than you have been able to do lately. You would also be wise to make whatever repairs are necessary of your home or on your property. This will give you a greater amount of security in the future.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Consulting with advisors in a business matter that is important helps you to get your affairs in for better order. Don't commit yourself to anything too big for you to handle. Show that you are wise.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Doing what makes you a more attractive person is good. Your handling of a friendly person in a tactful manner is important. Take a more optimistic attitude regarding the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): If you quietly put your plan in motion you can make the future more successful in all ways. Get busy and handle a charitable matter graciously. This brings fine results later.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): A good friend supports a plan you have, but this is not the right day to put it in motion. Target social affairs that could prove disappointing now. Evening is fine for catching up on your reading.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Although business matters appear difficult, if you are diplomatic with others, all works out fine. Taking any chances could easily jeopardize your position with one who means a good deal to you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): You have a new plan in mind which a family member does not like. You would be wise to listen to warnings. Staying if further, however, will help you to get the kinks out. Then full speed ahead.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You know exactly how to handle these responsibilities ahead or you if you get an early start, they are soon behind you. Clear up problems with loved one that has long been embroiling you. Show reason.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Try to find out what associates desire of you, then know how to proceed intelligently. An issue just arising should be handled quickly and well. Don't let it develop into something serious.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Not a day for getting into anything of a frivolous nature. Attend to the

Oilmen Tell Commission Price Increase Needed

Independent, small producers, who traditionally have found 75 per cent of oil and gas reserves, must have a substantial wellhead price increase in both new gas and old or flowing gas, the Federal Power Commission was told last week.

Tom Sealy, Midland, speaking for the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, testified at the Washington, D.C. hearing of the FPC conference on Permian Basin area gas rates. Also representing the association was Ed Thompson, executive vice president of the association.

Sealy and Thompson also conferred with Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the appropriations committee, Rep. Wilbur Mills, ways and means chairman, Sen. John Tower, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, and John Connally, secretary of treasury.

Happy Feet

NORWICH, England (AP) — Thanks to a small ad, two men at last have four happy feet.

The ad was placed in the Norwich Eastern Daily Press by factory foreman Geoff Lewis, 49. It said: "Gentleman with odd-sized feet — left foot 9, right foot 7½ — wishes to meet another with opposite requirements."

It brought a reply from schoolmaster Douglas Presland, 48, and now their shoe bill is halved.
