

LATE REP. RIVERS TRIED TO KILL PX PROBE?

Former General Denies Any Wrongdoing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., charged today the late Rep. Mendel Rivers, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, tried and failed to kill a Senate investigation into the conduct of former Army Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole.

"Mendel Rivers did intervene with the acting chairman of this subcommittee to try to stop this investigation and Mendel Rivers did not succeed," Ribicoff told Cole.

Ribicoff made the charge during a Senate investigations subcommittee hearing in which the former general again denied all wrongdoing on his part connected with alleged corruption in clubs and PXs under his control in Vietnam.

Cole brought up Rivers' name, saying that in September, 1969, Cole had called Rivers, asking him to talk to Ribicoff to arrange an appointment for Cole to call him on the phone.

At that time, Cole had just been relieved from command of the European Post Exchange system and he testified he feared "I would be sold down the river" in the investigation he knew had been initiated by the Senate subcommittee. He said he later called Ribicoff's office, but that the administrative assistant he spoke to never called him back as promised.

"At no time was I given an opportunity early in the investigation to tell my side of the story," Cole said.

Ribicoff then intervened with his charge Congressman Rivers tried to stop the investigation. Ribicoff, the acting chairman of the subcommittee, did not immediately give other details. River died Dec. 28.

Today's subcommittee hearing proceeded without the services of Carmine Bellino, a veteran staff member.

The 65-year-old Bellino, who once served as a White House troubleshooter for President John F. Kennedy, was felled Thursday afternoon by what associates called an apparent heart attack.

His illness prevented immediate presentation of his months-long study of Cole's accounts and of operations involving entrepreneur William J. Crum and others connected by testimony with alleged corruption in sales to PXs and service clubs in Vietnam. Jerome Adlerman, chief counsel of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, said financial records prepared by Bellino for presentation today would take weeks for another accountant to unravel.

"I don't know how I can put it on now," Adlerman said.

At the end of 3½ hours of testimony Wednesday, Cole was told by Sen. Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., that "he former general probably committed perjury.

Now a retired colonel, Cole denied tions of wrongdoing and said he never made a penny from illegitimate sales operations.

He blamed "a few discontented subordinates and other persons of questionable motives" for trying to destroy him through what he called "unproved, untrue and slanderous accusations ... slanderous accusations which have destroyed my career and my very existence."

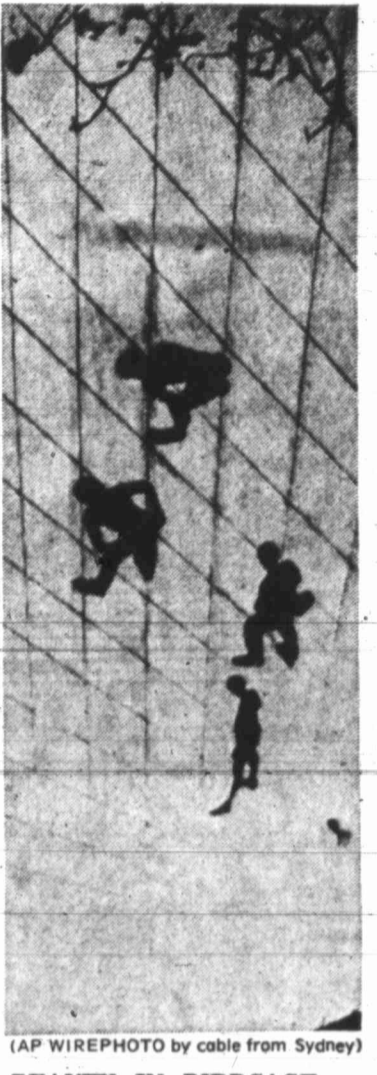

Cole was told to be prepared to give convincing explanations to 43 separate allegations of intervention in behalf of contractors dealing with Army PXs and service clubs.

lie detector test Thursday in Midland, but he did not show up. At this time, his role in the case is strictly as an informant, according to information from the sheriff's office.

This morning Sheriff Standard and some of his deputies were at the murder scene on Moss Lake Road "running string." This is a technique by which officers determine the path a bullet traveled by marking it with string.

Reportedly, eight shell cases were found at the scene, six are believed to have come from Martinez's gun, and two empty cartridges were in the cylinder of Ellison's gun. The bullets and weapons are to be taken to a Austin this weekend for ballistics tests to determine from which guns they were fired.

Deputy Ellison was buried Thursday, and funeral for Martinez was scheduled for 3 p.m. today.

'COLLEEN QUEEN ESTHER' — Maureen Toby Karlin of Somerset, N.J., is flanked by flags of the United States, Israel and Ireland, after she was crowned "Colleen Queen Esther" and reigned over the 10th annual St. Patrick's Day banquet and Purim Festival of the Loyal League of Yiddish Sons of Erin at a New York restaurant Thursday. Maureen, 17, is Jewish and has ancestors dating back hundreds of years who were all Jews born in Ireland.

Quick Boost In Benefits Dandy Bet

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic-engineered shortcut to a quick boost in Social Security benefits for 26 million citizens reached the Senate floor today, ready for passage.

By attaching the $5 billion provision to a House-passed bill boosting the national debt limit, the Democratic strategists skipped past a White House plan by allowing recipients a 10 to 56 per cent benefit boost several months sooner than the administration proposal.

The original bill increases the debt limit to a record $430 billion, $35 billion over the present ceiling.

The amendment provides at least a 10 per cent across-the-board increase for all Social Security recipients. At the same time, the current $64 minimum monthly payment to individuals goes up 56 per cent to an even $100 monthly.

Sheriff Busy Trying To Untangle Mystery Knot

Investigation into the deaths of Howard County Deputy Jimmie E. (Tiny) Ellison, 35, and his alleged killer Gilbert Martinez, 41, is continuing today, with officers checking out the possibility that Ellison may have been caught in a crossfire.

"There are a lot of questions that have no answers," said Sheriff A. N. Standard. "We have found some bullets out there which we have not matched with either Tiny's or Martinez's gun."

Sheriff Standard said today that he would make no statements on further developments in the case until Monday.

The possibility of a third person involved in the killing of the deputy is being thoroughly investigated, according to Sheriff Standard. One man was scheduled to undergo

Plan To Crack Down On Opium

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, introduced a bill Thursday to cut off foreign aid to Turkey or any other nation that fails to crack down on the illegal production of opium.

He told the Senate that the rapid increase in narcotics addicts "has had a crushing impact on our social structure" and Congress must act to stem the flow of heroin into the United States.

Opium is the drug from which heroin is made.

HOUSTON (AP) — Headquarters of the Harris County Socialist Workers Party was heavily damaged by an explosion early today.

The damage was discovered by two party workers when they arrived to open the office.

Paul McKnight, 23, one of the workers, said, "The building is in shambles."

The front window was blown out and shattered, tiles were torn from the ceiling and there were several holes in the walls and roof.

The office is a combination book store-office in a one story building between a lounge and a television repair shop about midway between the University of Houston and Texas Southern University campuses.

Policeman R. O. Autrey said it appeared an explosive device had been placed seven or eight feet inside the front door after a hole had been knocked through the front window.

FBI JOINS RAID Lubbock Six Hit With U. S. Gambling Raps

DALLAS (AP) — Six men living in the Lubbock area were arrested early today on warrants alleging breaches of the federal and state gambling statutes, Gordon Shanklin, special agent in charge of the FBI here, reported.

The six were named as Cecil Eugene Harris, 57, Philip Gale Wolfe, 35, Jackie Wade Hawkins, 38, Ronnie Lynn Jones, 26, Marlin Keith Bumpas, 38 and Houston P. Littlefield, 59.

They were arrested at the Redmen's Club near Lubbock by FBI agents and men from the Texas Department of Public Safety. Shanklin said they would be arraigned before U.S. Magistrate Bill H. Brister of Lubbock later in the day.

Shanklin said a joint investigation by the FBI and the DPS followed filing of a federal complaint charging the six "did knowingly and wilfully conduct, finance, manage, supervise, direct and/or own, all or part of an illegal gambling business and that such gambling was in violation of the laws of the state of Texas, which involved five or more persons and had gross revenue of $2,000 in a single day." The complaint said such acts also constituted a violation of federal gambling statutes.

Pregnant AF Nurse Wins Big Round

LONDON (AP) — A U.S. 3rd Air Force appeals panel has recommended that a pregnant 39-year-old Air Force nurse be permitted to stay in the service after she has her baby.

The panel of three colonels advised that Capt. Maria Cartwright of Corpus Christi, Tex., should be relieved of a long-standing obligation that WAF officers and enlisted women resign when pregnant.

A spokesman at 3rd Air Force headquarters in Ruislip confirmed the decision but said a final ruling must be made in Washington. "The Air Force recently took some of the inflexibility out of this rule," the spokesman said. "Women in such circumstances now are permitted to appeal to a special board for individual consideration."

Capt. Cartwright's husband, James, a 29-year-old former airman, has promised to look after the child until his wife's tour as a psychiatric nurse at Lakenheath Air Base hospital ends in three years.

TO FILE AS MANY BILLS AS THEY LIKE Midnight Deadline For Solons

AUSTIN (AP) — This is the last day legislators may introduce bills without asking anyone's by-your-leave.

More than 2,000 bills have been introduced in the House and Senate already, so there is plenty to keep the lawmakers busy the rest of the session.

The state constitution allows legislators to file as many bills during the first 60 days of the session as they feel moved to. After that, they must get a four-fifths vote in either house to introduce a bill.

STAY AROUND

Some lawmakers are expected to stay in town today to get

It provides for the same $4,800 salary, but says it shall be increased in 1973 by the amount cost of living has gone from 1961 through 1972. It also hikes the salary to future cost-of-living fluctuations.

LUNG CANCER

Other measures introduced Thursday included:

—A bill by Rep. Bill Blythe, Houston, that would increase the minimum penalty for auto theft from two to five years and forbid the granting of probation or parole to a person convicted under this law. Maximum penalty is 10 years.

—A bill by Rep. Will Smith,

Beaumont, making the highway department build farm to market roads with surplus funds instead of taking $30 million from general revenue over the next two years.

—A bill by Rep. Gayle Ingram, Quilman, limiting legislators to five terms. After a layoff of two years, the former lawmakers could run again. Ingram said this would result in better distribution of committee chairmanships.

—A bill by Sen. Jim Wallace, Houston, making-cigarette manufacturers liable for medical costs for indigent patients with cigarette-induced lung cancer.

Nixon Draws Howls From Fem Reporters

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon drew howls of protest from about two dozen female reporters who were excluded from a 75-minute interview with nine other newswomen in his Oval Office Thursday.

White House press secretary said Nixon had chosen the small group as a different way of communicating.

Ballot Places Determined

Positions of candidates' names on the ballot for the upcoming city commissioner election on April 6, were determined today. Luci Roberson, secretary for the city inspection department, made the drawing in the city secretary's office at 9 a.m.

The positions are as follows: M. R. "Frog" Koger, Geo. J. Zachariah, Raymond B. Tally, M. K. Carson, and Jack Watkins.

Eddie Aeri, city commissioner, Watkins, and Tally were present at the drawing. Charles Smith, city secretary, today reminded voters that absentee balloting will start in his office Wednesday morning.

Mob Boss Out Of Pen

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Underworld figure Carlos Marcello was released from the U.S. Medical Center here at daybreak today, officials said.

A big black car pulled up to the gates about 5:55 a.m. and within 10 minutes left with Marcello, ending his first imprisonment since 1959.

The 61-year-old millionaire was expected to drive back to the New Orleans area and face a federal move to deport him.

Marcello was sent to the medical center last October to serve a six-month term on a conviction of intimidating an FBI agent. Officials at the center said Marcello had been a model prisoner.

Will Ousted Wil Testify After All?

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An ousted Laredo Methodist minister, who originally spurred his church trial, told the court today he may testify before a 13-man jury after all.

Wil Schaefer appeared before the court only briefly and said afterwards that he would "be glad to testify if the proper (defense) counsel" represented him.

He referred to the Rev. Jerry Smart and the Rev. Richard Lear, who withdrew from the case as his counsel when a motion for postponement was denied.

radio executive Bill Harrell; and the new pastor, the Rev. John Gibbs.

In testimony Thursday, an authority on Methodist church law disputed Schaefer's claim that his church trial is illegal.

The testimony came from Dr. R. F. Curl of Kerrville late Thursday.

Schaefer, whose credentials as a minister were at stake, refused to attend the proceedings that day.

Schaefer, 35, was dismissed from Laredo's First United Methodist Church in January for refusing to give up his relationship with a recently divorced San Antonio woman.

He has maintained from the start that proper procedures were not followed in his ouster and that his church trial is illegal.

Testimony resumed today after a 13-minister jury heard seven witnesses Thursday and a tape recording of a radio program featuring Schaefer.

COPS AND ROBBER — The police were waiting for Bernard Gless, 25, when he made a short-lived attempt to escape their custody at Lille, France. A few moments earlier he had been sentenced to three years in jail for robbing a convent. Action took place at the Justice Palace in the French city.

Judge Orders Hoffa To Court

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A federal judge has ordered James R. Hoffa, imprisoned president of the Teamsters Union, and Frank E. Fitzsimmons, his stand-in, to show cause why they should not be enjoined from continuing to hold office.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge L. Clure Morton signed the order Thursday in response to a complaint filed by Don Vestal, president of Teamsters Local 327 here, and seven other local members.

'Knocked Up' Virgin Mary Remark Sparks Mom's Slap

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slapping feminist Ti-Grace Atkinson, says Patricia Buckley Bozell, was the appropriate Christian response to unkind words about the Virgin Mary.

"I am extremely pleased with myself," the Catholic mother of 10 said in reviewing her assault on Miss Atkinson which occurred during a Wednesday night speech at Catholic University.

"I think I did what Jesus would have wanted me to — after all it's His mother," Mrs. Bozell said.

She denied anyone prompted her to march from her seat in the university audience — where she gained admittance as a reporter for the conservative Catholic monthly, Triumph — and struck at Miss Atkinson. She said it was all spontaneous although she despised Miss Atkinson in advance.

"It was when she said the Virgin had been 'knocked up' — that's what triggered it," Mrs. Bozell recalled.

Miss Atkinson acknowledged using those words but, she explained at a news conference, she has no doctrinal dispute with the Catholic Church, just a political one. She said she wasn't arguing that Mary wasn't a virgin — just that she was impregnated against her will and may have been the original exploited woman.

She contended Mrs. Bozell's assault was prompted by right-wing hysterics in the Catholic Church. She said it lends credence to her belief the church is politically organized to hinder women, whether in denying their abortions or in fighting birth control.

INTERRUPTION — A woman, left, identified by the Washington Post as Mrs. Patricia Buckley Bozell, raises her hand after running on stage and attempting to interrupt the speaker, Ti-Grace Atkinson, right, at Catholic University. Mrs. Bozell is a sister of columnist William Buckley and New York Sen. James Buckley. Miss Atkinson cut her speech short after the incident.

Scholarships For Nurses Are Offered

Applications for a scholarship for trainees for registered nurses are being sought here by the local chapter of La Societe 40 Homes et 8 Chevaux (40 & 8).

This organization of service-men is offering a $500 scholarship for training as a registered nurse. Inquiries should be directed to Wendell L. Young, 1302 Rummels, or telephone 263-1888 after 3 p.m. The candidate chosen also will receive $10 a month spending money.

Young said that applications are needed as soon as possible so that interviews may be arranged by the committee headed by Dr. Houston Zinn. The deadline for forwarding to the national organization is April 30.

Applicants must be willing, if selected, to return to the county and engage in the practice of nursing for a period of three years.

Young people interested in a career in nursing are urged to contact Young. Those who are high school graduates, or even those in training may apply.

Baha'i New Year Marked March 21

Plans are being made for the observance of the Baha'i New Year's Day, Naw-Ruz, on March 21.

Baha'is and guests will observe Naw-Ruz with a picnic at Comanche Trail Park in Big Spring at 12 noon on Sunday, March 21. Baha'is residing in the Big Spring area are invited to attend.

The Baha'i New Year's Day, Naw-Ruz, falls on the first day of Spring each year.

Official Visit To Home Club

John A. Coffey, lieutenant governor of the Texas-Oklahoma district of Kiwanis International, made his official visit to his home club Thursday at the Settles.

A new member, Frank Shay, (Lt. Col. Ret.), who is now youth activities director in special services at Webb AFB, was inducted.

Biographical talks were given by Don Greene and Clyde Green.

Various Exhibits Planned In Show

Cubs, Scouts and Explorers will put their activities on display Saturday when the annual Scout Exposition is held from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Highland Mall.

Numerous themes will be developed in the 27 booths so far reserved. Included are American heritage, early history of Howard County, Indian Lore, cowboys and Indians, wildlife in the year-2000, soil conservation and pioneers, conservation of resources, knights in armor, camping, home games and toys, fun for boys, outer space, handcraft, collections and crafts, printing, hobo jungle, etc.

Aubrey Bryans, general chairman, said there is still time for other units to sign by calling him at his home (263-3703) this evening. Layout of the exhibits begins at 8 a.m. Saturday and half an hour later boys will begin erecting their booths and setting up exhibits. Each unit furnishes material for the booth and arranges its display, then dismantles and cleans up after 6 p.m.

Show hours are 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. during which period judges will give ratings. There will be a special award for conservation displays. The Order of Arrow will be the over-all cleanup team.

Charles Boadle will be on hand to receive the check in of tickets (those checking in Saturday will get a maximum percentage of their sales).

Assisting Bryans in directing the exposition are Boadle, (tickets, Bill Fryrear (judges), Jimmy Ray Smith, Ralph Beckham and Lt. Ron Berry.

Participating units are Cub Packs No. 1, No. 4, No. 11, No. 29, No. 40, No. 63, No. 100, No. 113, No. 136, No. 137, No. 138, No. 146, No. 179, No. 202, No. 238; Troops No. 1, No. 4, No. 5, No. 8, No. 11, No. 14, No. 16, No. 146, No. 175, No. 179, No. 300; Explorer Post 114; and the Order of Arrow.

Engineer Class

A class in hydrodynamics — including concepts and calculations involving moving fluids within reservoirs — will be presented by the Permian Basin Graduate Center at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Midland High School. Fee for the session — which is a part of the continuing Geological Management Development Program — is $20. The class will be taught by Roger L. Hoeger, a consulting geologist in Littleton, Colo. Registration is through PEC, 105 Gulf Bldg., Midland.

Patients Will Get 'Buzz' Out Of This

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Patients suffering from chronic and severe pain may be "buzzed" into relief with a device developed by a Wisconsin neurosurgeon.

The device is a wafer-thin, one-inch-long electronic vibrator which is implanted next to the spinal cord and then made to "buzz" by a low-powered radio signal.

Dr. C. Norman Shealy, chief of neurosurgery at the Gundersen Clinic in Madison, Wis., and developer of the device, said it creates a sensation in the fibers of the spinal cord which do not detect pain. Strong sensations in these fibers block the pain detected by another portion of the spinal cord.

PAIN BLOCKED

"We give the patient a buzzing or a sensation of vibration," said Shealy. "The pain is then blocked, just like with novacaine."

Dr. Shealy said the device has been implanted in more than 150 patients with almost uniform success.

The buzzer is connected by wire to a receiver which is implanted just below the collar bone. The receiver gets signals from a transmitter about the size of a cigarette pack. The patient controls the intensity and pulsing of the buzzer.

Most patients run the transmitter about eight hours a day and the relief continues after it is off. Some must run it 24 hours daily in order to be free of pain.

Dr. Shealy said the device is useful for patients suffering chronic pain from cancer, a ruptured disc or from a crushed limb.

PLEASANT

The sensation caused by the buzzer, Dr. Shealy said, is "as if you put your finger into a very weak electrical socket. All but one patient I have treated has interpreted the sensation as pleasant."

Dr. Shealy said his buzzer will be generally available "if all goes well in the final phases of development" by this summer or early fall.

He said the cost of the operation to implant the device and the device itself will be about $1,000.

Cemetery Plots Become Available

New burial plots are being made available in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

The plots are in the sections opened in about 1927 and 1930. These sections had been closed for some time, but plots are again available for $160.

The plots became available after two roads through the cemetery were closed.

Information is available from John Johansen, superintendent of parks and recreation (267-6358).

Conservation District Division Up To State

STANTON — The division of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District, one of the oldest in the state, into three separate units is now up to the state soil conservation board.

All the testimony at a public hearing here Tuesday favored the creation of three districts out of the present one.

The proposal had been made by the district directors months ago. They petitioned the state headquarters, who conducted a public hearing which was attended by 45 individuals, including district members and representatives of chambers of commerce at Big Spring, Stanton and Midland.

Joe Antilley, Abilene, state board member, conducted the hearing. Here with him was Lonzo Stewart, planning engineer for the state board.

If approved by the state board, the districts will be Howard Soil and Water Conservation District composed of most of Howard County; the Mustang Soil and Water Conservation District composed of Martin and the part of Glasscock county lying in the Mustang Draw water shed; and the Midland Soil and Water Conservation District, composed of Midland County.

Eye Witness To File Counts Against Two Fellow Officers

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — A four-times wounded Army lieutenant colonel says he plans to file charges today against two fellow officers whom he accuses of failing to investigate and report the alleged torture and murder of Vietnamese civilians.

Lt. Col. Anthony B. Herbert said Thursday he would bring federal court charges against Maj. Gen. John Barnes and Col. J. Ross Franklin, former commander and deputy commander of the 173rd Airborne Brigade.

COVERUP
Herbert said he was afraid the Army would allow time under the statute of limitations to expire without acting on his accusations.

In Washington, the Army issued a statement saying, "The allegations of Herbert are still the subject of an active investigation by the U.S. Army Criminal Investigations Detachment."

"Of the total of 19 criminal allegations made by Lt. Col. Herbert, a Pentagon spokesman said, "two had been the subject of previously completed CID investigations, five more have been investigated and determined to be unfounded, while the balance are still being actively investigated."

Barnes is presently assigned to the Pentagon and Franklin is assigned to Vietnam. They made no immediate comment on Herbert's accusations.

Herbert said in an interview he witnessed the killing of a Vietnamese woman whose throat was cut by a military intelligence unit made up of Vietnamese but headed by an American lieutenant.

THROAT CUTTING
He said that shortly after turning a group of prisoners over to the unit, he was told four of them had been killed. He witnessed the throat cutting when he went to order the killing stopped, he said.

He demanded the prisoners be returned to his charge, Herbert said, but later learned from a sergeant he placed in charge of their safe removal that the intelligence unit took the prisoners by force and killed them all.

Another time, Herbert said, he "tore the wires" of a young Vietnamese woman who was being tortured with electrical shocks from the generator of a field telephone.

Franklin told him that "if you ever interfere again, you'll not be permitted to go" where prisoners were being interrogated, Herbert said.

The officer said he knew of a noncom who served with intelligence identified only as a Sgt. Stamma, who was disciplined and reduced in rank because of his efforts to prevent the torture of prisoners and attempts to have atrocities investigated.

Herbert, a tall, crew-cut combat veteran of 22 years Army service, said in the interview that while commander of the brigade's 2nd Battalion for 58 days during 1969 he reported incidents of murder and torture of civilians to Franklin and, through him, to Barnes.

Credit Union's Assets Increase

Wade Choate, manager of the Webb AFB Credit Union, reported at the annual meeting held at Withycombe Hall recently that the credit union's assets are now $8,402,567.41, an increase of $1,408,880.18 over 1969.

CMSgt. Chester D. Urban, president of the board of directors, reported to the members on the new law which insures credit union shares up to a maximum of $20,000 per account by the federal government. Sgt. Urban also announced that signature loans are now made up to $2,500.

A new board of directors and credit committee was elected at the meeting. New board members are CMSgts. C. J. Brent, Eudis Gregg, Herbert C. Craig and Chester D. Urban and Lt. Col. Roy J. Ginder. Holdover directors are L. V. Misk and Gilbert E. Webb.

The slate of new credit committee members include T. Sgt. John M. Hilliard, W. H. McKinney, M. Sgt. Gerald Mathews and M. Sgt. Theodore K. Clark. Lone incumbent committeeman is Eli Guinn.

Draft Call For Doctors

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Selective Service said Thursday that the April draft call in Texas will be 1,033 men.

A special call also went out for Texas doctors and dentists.

Some 4,001 other men will be called up for pre-induction physical examinations, said Col. Melvin Glantz, state director.

Glantz said most men selected for induction would come from the first priority group for 1971.

Glantz said Texas' share of the special national call will be 51 doctors, four osteopaths and 32 dentists. Doctors and dentists under 26 years will be selected by their draft lottery numbers. He said if more doctors and dentists are needed they will come from those over 26 selected by date of birth with the youngest first.

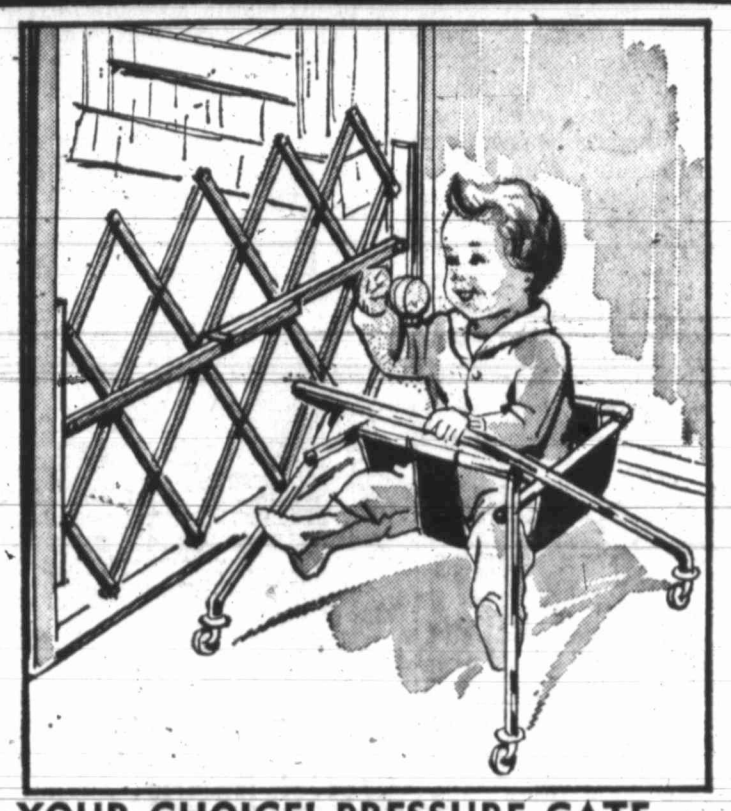

The induction orders for the special call will be mailed the next few days, the director said.

Memorial Gift Helps Center

Methods of funding activities at Westside Community Center was the main topic of discussion at this week's meeting of the center's board of directors in the office of Ben Bancroft.

The total amount of money ($1,800) which the center receives from the United Fund is used solely for the director's salary, so it is necessary to ask donations of time, equipment and money to meet the center's needs.

One such method of receiving funds is the Memorial Fund, wherein cards acknowledging the gift are sent to the family of the one being honored, along with the donor's name. The donations are tax exempt. The first to use the memorial fund was Junior Girl Scout Troop 429 in memory of Mrs. Leo K. Gee's father, Mr. Jess Scruggs. Anyone wishing to make a contribution in this manner may do so by mailing it to Don L. Morgan, 2406 Cheyenne, Big Spring, Tex., 79720.

The board will send a letter of commendation to Sgt. James Bagwell's commanding officer in appreciation for his work as a board member and service to the center. Sgt. Bagwell is being transferred to South Carolina. Replacing him on the board will be Julian Patterson of the Veterans Administration Hospital staff.

Additional program ideas were discussed as were the current weekly events and monthly activities such as the trip to the library sponsored by the Junior Woman's Forum and the birthday party hosted by member churches of Church Women United.

PRIZE PUPIL IN WEIGHT REDUCTION CLASS
Mrs. Richard Weisbart congratulates Sgt. Paul Pascale

Webb Gets Jump On 'Take It Off' Order

Getting the jump on a recent Air Force directive concerning a compulsory weight reduction program, volunteers at Webb AFB have met each Thursday for the past six months to discuss overweight problems. Net result: a total of 500 pounds of gross overweight loss for its members.

Organizer and leader of the Webb weight control clinic is Mrs. Jan Weisbart, wife of Capt. (Dr. Richard Weisbart of the 3560th United States Air Force Hospital. Dr. Weisbart supervises all medical aspects of the clinic program.

Leader in the pounds lost is T. Sgt. Paul Pascale, who has lost 60 1/2 pounds in 4 1/2 months. The 5-foot 9-inch technical sergeant weighed 225 pounds when he began his weight loss in October. At Thursday's weigh-in, he had achieved a trim 164 1/2 pounds, representing a loss of 7 1/2 inches in girth, as well as other attendant health benefits.

Mrs. Weisbart started the clinic here because she wanted to offer some positive service to help her doctor husband and the people at Webb.

WEIGH-IN

Each week the meeting of the weight control clinic starts with a weigh-in at the outpatient clinic. "Then," Mrs. Weisbart smiled, "we move to the hospital dining-hall, or all places, to hold our meetings."

The clinic has sustained a membership of 15 to 30 throughout its sessions. Some have become discouraged and dropped out still overweight, Mrs. Weisbart noted.

"Sgt. Pascale has never missed a meeting," she said. "He is our prize member, but many of the others have done some fine things."

The program is not based on calorie count, nor does it recommend the use of exercises. Under this plan all food is weighed and an effort is made to eliminate fats and sugar from the diet.

"This doesn't mean that you don't eat well," Mrs. Weisbart added. "There are three meals per day, and they include some pretty fabulous foods. We give the dieters recipes for pancakes and french toast, chicken cacciatore and many other delicacies. We even have a dieter's malted, invented by my in-laws. They call it gugglemuggie."

SELF MOTIVATION

Self motivation is the key in the local weight control clinic. "No one can force dieting, and it is not just weight loss we are after," Mrs. Weisbart observed. "What we are trying to teach compulsive over-eaters is a new way of life. We do this by re-educating them in eating and food preparation habits."

"In our meetings we talk a great deal about where to hide the chocolate eclairs this week," she continued. "No housewife can calculate the number of pounds she can add on, just with the crook of a tasting finger. What we try to do in the therapeutic sessions is to get the people to talk about their own weight problems — to analyze them honestly, and then honestly try to solve them. Several, such as Sgt. Pascale, have done some remarkable things."

Any military member or dependent interested in weight loss may join the group just by showing up at the Air Force clinic for the weigh-in at 2:30 any Thursday. It is free of charge.

A LOVELIER YOU

Turn Drab Tresses To Crowning Glory

By MARY SUE MILLER

A teen lovely asks: Why is my hair so dull looking when my skin is all too shiny? I'd like it better the other way around. What would give my hair some gloss?

The answer: Excess oil is at the base of both problems. Overages of oil put a shine on the skin's surface but, in penetrating through the hair's density, leave behind a dull, wilted effect. Like too much oil on salad greens.

The main step in controlling oily scalp and locks is frequent shampooing — at least twice weekly — with medicated or pH suds. In an emergency, new instant-dry shampoo sprays are helpful. A visit to a dermatologist comes highly recommended in the event that blemishes develop on the scalp or the face during a severe bout of oilness.

In addition to oil, harsh treatment dims gloss — careless waving, coloring and grooming, for instance. Any kind of improper care roughens up the outer layer of each individual strand, a layer that is composed of microscopic scales. To sparkle, those scales must lie smooth in an overlapping formation. So beware, be gentle with your hair.

Lastly, your hair, like all facets of beauty, is affected by your general health and the healthfulness of your living patterns. A balanced diet, sufficient sleep, plenty of exercise and fresh air, a nice mix of work and fun are what make Jill bright and attractive.

Is your hair a problem, Miss Teen? Then send for my leaflet, Teen Tresses, Model Type. It tells how to correct such ailments as oily hair and flaky scalp; fly-away, unmanageable, lackluster locks. Included, too, are styling tips and model grooming quickies. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Rev. Collins Moore Is New Hillcrest Pastor

The Rev. Collins Moore has accepted the pastorate of Hillcrest Baptist Church. The Rev. Moore came to Big Spring from Tyler, Tex.

He was born in San Angelo and graduated from San Angelo High School, now Central High School, in 1954. The Rev. Moore was active in schoolboy sports, playing both football and baseball.

Ordained by the First Baptist Church of San Angelo in 1957, he has pastored in Christoval, Tex., Lindell Ave. Baptist Church, San Angelo; and Alamo Heights Baptist Church, Midland.

In 1968, The Rev. Moore worked with the Central Baptist Church of Burbank, Calif., as an evangelist.

He was active with the Optimist Clubs in San Angelo and Midland, and he was president of the Westside Optimist Club Midland. The Rev. Moore met his wife, Martha, while both were attending Baylor University, Houston; and Angelo State University. The new pastor and his wife reside at 406 Westover with their two children, Mark, 13, attends Goliad Junior High, and their daughter Colleen is five.

Church Fetes Sgt. Corder

Sgt. Curry Corder, Webb AFB, was honored Thursday with a farewell social in the annex of Mt. Bethel Baptist Church. He will leave Sunday to visit his parents before assuming his duties in the Philippines.

Sgt. Curry has been active member of the church since his assignment here two years ago. He has served as soloist with the junior choir, has led the "Youth Day" services every second Sunday, and has served as panel discussion leader when the church's young people presented the Baptist Training Union program.

In his hometown of Nashville, Tenn., Sgt. Curry attended the Mt. Gillean Baptist Church where his grandfather, the Rev. Frank Corder serves as pastor. His parents are the Rev. and Mrs. Walter E. Corder, Nashville.

Mrs. Sammy T. Evans was mistress of ceremonies for the evening, and the Rev. Robert L. Parramore, pastor, spoke, expressing words of gratitude for the service Sgt. Corder had given the church.

The members of the congregation presented Corder with a "money tree" and the junior choir presented him with a Bible in which his name had been engraved.

The program featured songs of praise, and members of the congregation also expressed their gratitude to Corder.

Special guests at the social were three youths in the junior church and choir who had achieved outstanding accomplishments in the community. Honored were Misses Virgil Johnson and Cornell Lewis, and James R. Person.

Missionary To Speak In Big Spring Sunday

The Rev. and Mrs. Wallace White, missionaries to New Guinea, are now on furlough and will be holding a service at the Church of the Nazarene, 1400 Lancaster, Sunday, at 7 p.m. This will be the White's second furlough since being sent as missionaries in 1959.

The Whites have been carrying on mission work that was pioneered by the Rev. and Mrs. Sidney Knox who went to New Guinea from pastoring in Big Spring in 1955. Rev. Knox passed away in 1958.

Rev. White has held the position of field superintendent in charge of field affairs. He has been stationed in Kudjip, New Guinea.

Rev. White will present his program as a challenge to youth, as an inspirational and informative facet of the church, and as a means of comparing the old and new work among

SETS UP NEW QUARREL WITH REP. MILLS
Jap Textile Offer Rejected By Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The emotion-filled issue of textile imports has set up another confrontation between President Nixon and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, the most powerful member of Congress in the field of taxes and foreign trade.

The President and the Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, already are antagonists on revenue sharing, a prime Nixon project Mills says he will fight to the end. But the textile quarrel injects a strongly personal element into the disagreement.

MOVER, SHAKER
Mills, dealing directly with Japanese leaders, had been a principal mover in bringing about an offer by the Japanese textile industry to curb imports to the United States.

Although free-trade congressmen praised Mills' efforts, the U.S. textile industry objected strongly to the Japanese offer as inadequate.

Nixon came out on the U.S. industry's side Thursday, saying the Japanese program "will not result in an acceptable solution."

In addition, the President ordered Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans to monitor monthly imports of wool and manmade-textile products from Japan.

Alternative solutions to the textile problem, the White House said, include pressing Congress for quota legislation, and direct negotiations between the United States and other textile countries, mainly Hong Kong, Taiwan and South Korea.

The House, with Mills' support, passed a bill covering textile quotas last year. However, Mills said repeatedly he would prefer a negotiated solution and, after the bill died in the Senate, he renewed efforts for an agreement.

SHARP REPLY
In a tart rejoinder to Nixon's statement, he said: "Obviously our trade problems go far beyond just the question of textiles and I cannot understand how under any circumstances a statutory program for the protection of single industry can be developed which is exclusive of consideration of statutory programs for other deeply affected industries."

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican on Ways and Means, conferred with Nixon for an hour before the President's rejection of the Japanese offer was announced.

He told newsmen he is disturbed by reports Mills had negotiated the industry offer and noted support by one member of the Ways and Means Committee does not constitute U.S. approval.

CHERISHED PLAN
Mills, in a thrust at the official government-to-government negotiations which stalled, said it is "difficult to understand an out-of-hand rejection of the industry's proposal after two years of unsuccessful attempts to negotiate a settlement."

Mills, as chairman of the committee which originates all tax and foreign-trade legislation, is in a strong position to block quota bills as well as Nixon's cherished plan to share $5 billion federal revenues with states and localities.

But there is also strong sentiment within the committee for quotas not only on textiles, but on shoes. And on the textile issue Mills must do without support of Byrnes who has joined him in opposing revenue sharing.

LETTER
Back Youth, Save Water

TO THE EDITOR:
I have two complaints to register.

No wonder our children are on the streets and forever finding something to get into. How else can they get our attention?

The high school students gave a most wonderful performance in "The Mouse That Roared" Thursday night, and if they receive no more moral support and backing than what I saw, then we as parents, grandparents and friends have no right to complain at our children when they do something else that does draw attention.

They would even take jails, riots, drugs or most anything so you would listen to them. Wake up parents. Hear your children! They call through decency and you ignore them. So when they really go offbeat we complain! We hear them too late. Surely you could sacrifice one night of television, clubs or something to go see the talents of our youth.

My second complaint is the waste of water. Our drinking water is so bad our family prefers soda water and is becoming addicted almost. I may not know about ecology, but when I drive my school bus and car around town and see water flowing by the gallon down the streets instead of on lawns, I know our water is going to get worse and less. Why can't those people with those fancy sprinklers see they are wasting precious water?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Jack Horn

Too 'Hard'?

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 25, work 40 hours a week, have been married five years and have a stepson who is now 10. I have taught this child neatness, manners, respect for his elders and the property of others. If he misbehaves, he is punished either by spanking, or I take his bike away. He is made to clean up his plate before getting dessert, and he's not allowed a lot of junk candy between meals. He is also taught not to interrupt others while they are talking.

I have no children of my own and don't want any.

I am told by friends and relatives that I am too hard on the boy, and I am accused of not liking children because I don't want any more. Am I wrong raising him the way I am, and for not wanting any more?

WONDERING: You are raising a neat, respectful, courteous, responsible citizen, which is to your credit, and from your letter I don't think you are "too hard" on the boy. But if you "love" him, you failed to mention it in your letter. (Children need to be loved.)

You are not "wrong" for not wanting more children but because you obviously advertised that fact. I can understand why your friends and relatives would accuse you of "not liking" children. (Do you?)

DEAR ABBY: Can you tell me exactly how a girl is supposed to kiss a boy? I have heard that it just comes naturally, but in case it doesn't, can you give me some directions? Should you quit breathing? I know you aren't supposed to make a "smack" sound when you are kissing a boy, but it's if you are kissing a relative, isn't it? Another question: Are you supposed to move your lips? Or do you move your lips? One last thing: What are you supposed to do with your nose?

13 AND NEVER BEEN KISSED: DEAR 13: You should not quit breathing. No "smack" sounds. Not even with relatives. It's not necessary to move anything. And all you do with your nose is breathe through it.

DEAR ABBY: What can you give an 81-year-old man to make him behave himself? You wouldn't believe how much life there is in this old goat! By the way, he is not my husband.

72 AND TIRED OF RUNNING: DEAR 72: You can give him the back of your hand.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Cut It Out

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Der Dr. Thosteson: I'm wondering how far out I am. My daughter-in-law has a six-week-old baby and this little one has to sleep according to the mother's schedule.

If she should happen to fall asleep before she "should," the mother takes a flash camera and snaps a picture a couple of feet from the baby - not for a picture, but to awaken the baby. Can this have any effect on the baby? -Mrs. A.K.

Nature knows a lot more about when a baby is ready for sleep than anyone else. An infant should be allowed to develop a suitable sleep pattern naturally.

It is true that babies ordinarly adjust very easily to people who have to live upside-down hours - people who work nights and have to do some sleeping by day. Babies readily learn to do most of their sleeping when others in the household do.

But that is quite a different matter from the sort of thing you describe - when baby is sleepy but not allowed to sleep. (Where, by the way, did the mother get the idea that an infant should be awakened arbitrarily?)

No, I do not think you are "far out" at all, and I certainly hope someone can straighten out this mother's screwy thinking.

If she keeps up what she is doing, she may find that the little one grows into a nervous or a rebellious child.

Is it possible that she doesn't know that many very young infants spend 18 to 20 hours a day sleeping - and need it?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send your booklet, "How to Control Emphysema," for which I enclose 20 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. I use the use of salt in the diet of an emphysema patient harmful? Does milk have salt in it? -Mrs. E.J.

Booklet already sent. If the emphysema patient is not suffering also from heart weakness, he can use salt in his

This flashbulb trick, if continued, can have more than one bad effect. It can create fears or, at least, can create an unnatural and undesirable sleep pattern. I wonder if the mother has ever been in the position of trying to force herself to stay awake when she was sleepy. Or worse yet, having someone else do the forcing.

food without harm. Whole cow's milk has a moderate amount of sodium in it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: At what age do a woman's sexual desires usually leave? I am 61, my husband is 54, and we have been married six years. The first six months were perfection plus. Then he started drinking again and from then on sex became more and more obnoxious to me. My husband has become an alcoholic and at times quite abusive.

Are there spots that I could take, or is the trouble psychological? While I don't drink, I have no objection to moderate drinking by anyone else. However, drinking to excess is objectionable to me because of episodes in an earlier marriage due to heavy drinking.

I am not a normally frigid woman and cannot understand what has happened.—N.N.

You probably answered your own question most accurately. Sex, all by itself, wears thin. True affection nurtures it.

TIP FROM NARC AGENTS TRIGGERED DALLAS RAID

Odessa Lawyer To Defend Rodriguez

DALLAS (AP) — A tip from federal narcotics agents led Dallas officers to raid the garage apartment of Thomas Rodriguez, the Dallas News reported today.

The newspaper, attributing this information to reliable sources, said it could not be determined whether an informant mistakenly pointed to the Rodriguez quarters as the hideout of two accused slayers or officers simply raided the wrong apartment.

Soon afterward authorities entered another unit at the same address and captured Rene Guzman and Leonardo Lopez. The two are charged in the Feb. 15 killing of three sheriff's deputies.

PREGNANT WIFE

Rodriguez, 40, and his pregnant wife both were wounded after officers broke in their door. Police said Rodriguez fired at them first, and he has been charged with assault to kill.

A spokesman for the Justice Department's civil rights division said the U.S. attorney's office is investigating the Rodriguez incident.

The News said the U.S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs relayed word from an informant identified only as a Mexican-American. He was reported to have left town fearing for his life soon after collecting a $1,000 reward posted by a radio station for word leading to the accused killers.

Sheriff Clarence Jones refused to discuss the reported tip, saying, "We are holding what we have right now to present to the court."

BURNETT AGREES

There were these related developments:

—State Rep. Paul Moreno of El Paso came here to visit Rodriguez and said he has found the wounded man, a former El Paso resident, to be "a perfect man—immaculate."

—An Odessa lawyer, Warren

Burnett, has agreed to defend Rodriguez, Dallas Legal Services director Ed Polk told newsmen.

—Dallas Police Chief Frank Dyson, seeking to cool hostility in the Mexican-American community of West Dallas, said his department is thinking about adding Spanish language courses for men assigned to that district and exploring means to establish links with leaders of that community.

After a 15-minute hospital visit with Rodriguez, Moreno met with Mexican-Americans and Negroes at a West Dallas community center.

NOT ALONE

Speaking to about 200 persons, the El Paso legislator said, "I am here to let you know that you are not alone in your struggle."

Moreno declared that the Rodriguez family fell victim to something that could have happened only to poor people, adding, "Sometimes justice isn't available to all. It's available to those with a fat pocketbook."

A woman in the audience told Moreno that it "was open season for Mexicans" during the manhunt in which Rodriguez and his wife were shot.

Moreno then said, "I have been asked, 'What would you have done if you had been Rodriguez?' I would have done the same thing (fired as officers broke in)—but I wouldn't have missed. They cannot bust into your home like that."

Polk, at the meeting with Moreno, declared that Dallas "police are living outside the law—and that cannot continue."

About $100 in donations for the family was collected at the meeting and given to Mrs. Rodriguez. She and her husband have eight children.

Polk had said earlier that Dallas Legal Services was representing Rodriguez until county grand jurors formally indicted him on a charge of attempted murder.

Webb Personnel Presented Awards

During an awards ceremony recently, Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, 3560th Pilot Training Wing commander, presented three Distinguished Flying Crosses (DFC) and three Bronze Star medals to six Webb AFB men.

Capt. Wyndle R. Haese Jr., 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, received the DFC for distinguishing himself while participating in aerial flight as an F-100 tactical fighter pilot near the Dak Seang Special Forces camp April 2, 1970. Capt. Haese (then a lieutenant) took off from Phan Rang AB, Vietnam, in response to a request by friendly forces for a strike against opposing forces attacking the camp.

The citation accompanying the DFC to Capt. John Welland read in part, "...distinguished himself as an F-4 pilot near Hue, Republic of Vietnam, July 21, 1970. While responding to an alert scramble he delivered ordnance on entrenched hostile forces endangering a friendly fire support base. He accurately silenced the hostile mortar and small arms positions, inflicting heavy casualties and allowing the helicopter evacuation of the friendly wounded."

1st Lt. Leo A. Bienvenu received his DFC for participation in aerial flight as an A-37 fighter pilot in Southeast Asia March 24, 1970.

"He scrambled from the Bien Hoa alert facility to provide close air support for friendly forces, who were under attack by a hostile force of unknown size. Lt. Bienvenu made repeated attacks against the hostile forces and inflicted extensive damage."

MSgt. Charles Hamm, 3560th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, received the Bronze Star for "meritorious service as noncommissioned officer in charge of phase docks with the 355th Tactical Fighter Squadron, Republic of Vietnam, from May 8, 1969, to May 7, 1970.

He created a phase dock operation of the highest caliber. Both the quality and quantity of work produced by Sgt. Hamm's crew, were, according to the citation accompanying the award, unsurpassed in the wing.

The Bronze Star also went to M. Sgt. Clinton Shows, 3560th Supply Squadron for, "Meritorious service as Noncommissioned Officer in Charge of Maintenance Supply Liaison, 460th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing."

Also receiving the Bronze Star was T. Sgt. Paul O. Bitler, 3560th Air Base Group. He earned the award for "service as NCOIC of Management Analysis Branch, 377th Combat Support Group, Republic of Vietnam, from July 31, 1969, to July 4, 1970.

"During this period, Sgt. Bitler's outstanding skill and initiative aided immeasurably in identifying and solving numerous problems encountered in the accomplishment of his duties."

The bidding:
East South West North
1 ♠ 2 ♥ Pass 4 ♥
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♠

East realized that time was of the essence in today's hand and, while he still retained the lead, he launched the attack which appeared to offer the only chance to defeat South's four heart contract.

When North heard his partner overcall the opening one spade bid with two hearts, he resolved to be in the game since he had a sound opening bid himself, and he proceeded directly to four hearts. West opened the ten of spades and East cashed the first two tricks in that suit. When his partner showed out on the second round, he paused to reflect on his side's prospects. South was now known to have five spades and presumably five hearts as well for his overcall. There could not be many tricks for the defense then in the minor suits, and whatever was obtainable must be gotten to quickly before the dummy's diamonds became established for discards.

East reasoned that, unless his partner had the queen of clubs as well as the ace of diamonds, all hope was lost. He shifted therefore to a small club at trick three. West put up the queen to force out the ace. South came off dummy with a small club and, after a moment's reflection, East put up the king dropping declarer's ten.

With book in, it appeared that the only other trick that the defense could hope to win was the ace of diamonds, and if that trick was to be cashed—then there was no time to lose, for North's jack of clubs was now established for a discard. East therefore shifted to a diamond and West produced the ace for the setting trick.
