

'RED' AMMO TRIGGERS NEW TENSIONS

Fresh Explosions In Belfast

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—Fresh explosions and the find of ammunition intended to fit sophisticated Soviet and Chinese automatic weapons brought new tension to Northern Ireland today.

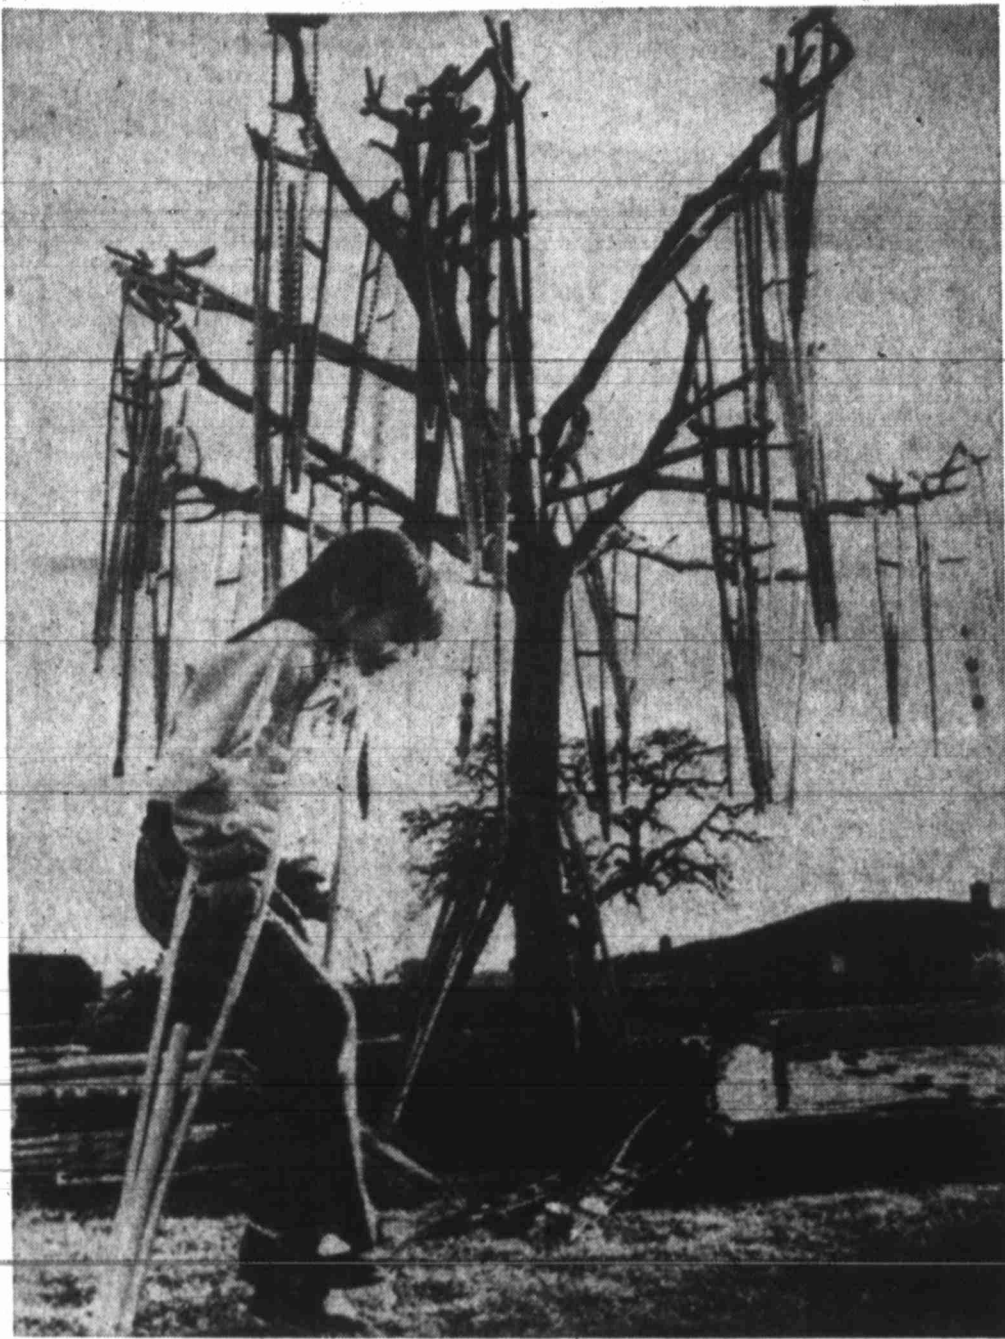

Security forces, acting on a tip, unearthed 4,000 rounds of bullets for submachine guns and some for the Russian Kalashnikov rifle which has been used by the North Vietnamese in Indochina. The cache was found at a deserted farmhouse outside Belfast.

"It is a most sinister haul," a security officer said. The ammunition appeared to have been manufactured in France, or at least packaged there in a professional manner.

Two terrorist blasts further plagued the royal Ulster constabulary and the British troops caught between both the Protestant-dominated government and the Roman Catholic minority as well as between rival wings of the outlawed Irish Republican Army—IRA.

Three young British off-duty unarmed soldiers were murdered and their bodies piled on a lonely lane 300 yards from the tavern last week.

The army and the police were torn between two theories. One has laid the blame for the murders at the door of the IRA. Another was that extremist Protestants—members of the outlawed Ulster Volunteer Force—demanding tougher measures from the Ulster government, were involved and sought to blame the IRA.

Panel Okays Financing Of SST Development

WASHINGTON (AP) — Expressing "complete confidence" that environmental hazards will be resolved, the House Appropriations Committee approved today full financing of continued development of the SST supersonic civilian aircraft.

It sent to the House floor for debate and expected passage next Thursday a bill to provide $289.9 million for development of two prototypes. One is scheduled to fly by March, 1973.

The government already has provided about $864 million toward development of the big plane expected to carry 298 passengers at speeds up to 1,800 miles per hour. Total federal outlays are estimated to reach $1.3 billion, augmented by $463 million in private financing.

In a formal report drafted by Rep. Jack McFall, D-Calif., the Appropriations Committee said it wanted to make it "unquestionably clear" that the federal commitment to help build the prototypes "cannot be extended to include" financing of commercial production.

Federal officials say the government's investment in the program will be repaid when 300 SSTs are sold, and if 500 of the planes are marketed, federal royalty payments will reach $1 billion.

Officers Who Will Decide Fate Of Calley Pack Bags

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The six combat-experienced officers who will decide the fate of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., were sent today to pack their bags in anticipation of the deliberations they will begin soon.

The jury, which has heard four months of testimony in the murder trial of the 27-year-old Calley, was told that the prosecution would begin its summation at 1 p.m. and that they would no longer be allowed to return to their homes as previously.

LOCKED UP
The judge handed each juror a 12-point list of rules governing their conduct during the time they are locked up.

Among those rules is one that says that "only TV entertainment programs may be viewed. News programs and 'flashes' may not be viewed. A bailiff must monitor all TV viewing."

JOAN BAEZ GREETS HIM AT PRISON GATE

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Draft resister David Harris was released today from La Tuna Federal Correctional Institution near El Paso.

His wife, folk singer Joan Baez, was at the prison to greet him when he was released about 7:30 a.m. They immediately took a flight out of El Paso.

Harris indicated they were en route to San Francisco by way of Los Angeles. Newsmen who were at the airport when Harris, his wife and their 16-month-old son Gabriel caught the plane asked Harris whether he felt he had proved his point.

Harris, a symbol of resistance to the Vietnam war, said, "I think I did." Harris refused to accept military induction and was imprisoned in August of 1969.

Murder, Suicide Case Is Closed

Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard, in a prepared statement, today declared the case surrounding the murder of Howard County Deputy Jimmie E. (Tiny) Ellison, 35, and the suicide of his accused slayer Gilbert Martinez, 41, closed.

Ellison was shot as he stepped from his vehicle at his trailer home on Moss Creek Road Wednesday, and Martinez' body was discovered 12 hours later in a vacant house about a mile from the murder scene.

Peace Justices Jess Slaughter and Walter Grice ruled that Martinez' death was caused by a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the temple.

In his statement, Sheriff Standard said that the deaths of Ellison and Martinez were the result of an old domestic grievance, and that there was no third party or third gun involved in the shooting.

ASPERMONT, Tex. (AP) — Rainmaker Homer Berry, 65, has left drouth-ridden Stonewall County to visit his wife and three children in Arkansas, but he says he'll be back to resume operations March 18.

"I'm going to show the world I can make rain, provided I have funds to operate on," were his parting words.

PLANS AT LEAST THREE MORE PRIVATE SESSIONS WITH GOVERNORS

Nixon Delighted With Revenue Sharing Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Delighted with his success in winning over one Democrat and all but persuading another at his first regional conference on revenue sharing, President Nixon now plans at least three more private sessions with state governors.

At the first meeting, held March 1 in Des Moines, Nixon outlined his plan to share general federal revenues with the states to four governors, two Republicans and two Democrats.

One of the Democrats, Missouri's Warren E. Hearnes, came out of the parley sounding as enthusiastic as a White House press agent and announced his conversion to the Nixon program.

WHAT HAPPENED?

The other, Patrick J. Lucey of Wisconsin, was considerably more restrained, but an aide acknowledged that the governor was "somewhat more persuaded" after hearing the President's presentation.

What happened during the two hours the governors spent with Nixon and his aides? Key participants interviewed separately, generally agreed that it was a give-and-take session, a dialogue.

Lucey was not in complete agreement. While saying, "I don't think any of us felt we were under wraps," he added, "I felt that I was attending a briefing rather than discussing a policy-making discussion."

John D. Ehrlichman, the President's domestic policy coordinator, said there was so much conversation that a 20-minute briefing by one of his assistants lasted an hour and 20 minutes.

At least one governor, Richard B. Ogilvie of Illinois, was successful in arguing a point.

TAX EFFORT

Ogilvie complained that his state would not be treated fairly under the proposed formula for allocating bonus money on the basis of state and local "tax effort." The formula designates 1968 as the base year for making the calculation and Illinois did not levy a state income tax until 1969.

"For God's sake, don't use '68," Ogilvie urged Nixon.

The President turned to Ehrlichman and asked, "Is there anything we can do about it?" Ehrlichman suggested the base period be spread over several years and the White House staff now is working on the problem.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin, one of four cabinet members in attendance, said he favors regional meetings because participants "talk more freely and the issues are penetrated more deeply when we're out in the country."

To encourage informal conversation, the White House sought out a small room for the conference. Coffee was served.

An embarrassed Ehrlichman did his bit for informality by toppling to the floor when a caster broke off his swivel chair.

Nixon's revenue sharing trips are regarded at the White House as a continuation of regional conferences he held in Fargo, N.D., Louisville, Ky., Denver, Indianapolis and New Orleans during his first two years in office.

WHY, OH, WHY?

Ehrlichman likes to emphasize the ideas that flow from the states to Washington in area meetings.

"The President's willing to make a decision on the spot if it appeals to him," said Ehrlichman. As an example, he cited a New Orleans meeting called to encourage quick and peaceful school desegregation.

A school official, he said, groused that his district's biggest problem in dealing with Uncle Sam was in filling out applications for federal aid.

The President, turning to Elliott Richardson, who had just become secretary of health, education and welfare, asked, "Why in the world do we have to go through this?"

Flushing, Richardson vowed he would whittle the application down to manageable size.

Since then, a check at HEW shows, the forms have been revised and simplified.

Legislators' Ethics, Whiz Battles Shape

AUSTIN (AP)—Senators may battle this week over a couple of issues that draw the line between lawmakers: Liquor by the drink and legislators' ethics.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said Rockwall Sen. Ralph Hall's ethics bill probably would come up early this week and there was a "distinct possibility" El Paso Sen. Joe Christy's liquor by the drink legislation also would be debated.

Hall's bill requires public statements of legislators' and other state officials' sources of income and investments and confidential filing of their federal income tax returns with the clerk of the state Supreme Court.

It also prohibits legislators—or their law partners—from hiring out to represent clients before state agencies.

Major committee hearings this week include a Tuesday hearing by the Senate Elections Committee on a bill setting up presidential preference primaries.

A package of major car insurance legislation goes before the Senate Insurance Committee Wednesday morning.

Shot Newsmen Still Serious

SAIGON (AP) — American newsmen William C. Barton continued in a serious condition today with a head wound suffered when a South Vietnamese sentry shot him at a checkpoint during curfew hours early Sunday.

Barton, 30, of Pontotoc, Miss., had been with The Associated Press in Washington and New York and came to Saigon five months ago. He left the employ of The Associated Press on Friday and reportedly planned to return to the United States soon.

South Vietnamese authorities gave this account of the shooting:

Barton was returning from Tan Son Nhut airbase to Saigon in a jeep driven by Frederick H. Marks of United Press International. As they approached a bridge, Vietnamese guards fired warning shots, but Marks did not stop. A sentry at a second checkpoint fired at the jeep; one round hit the dashboard and another hit Barton.

Barton was taken to the U.S. Army 24th Evacuation Hospital at Long Binh.

The shooting occurred at 3:30 a.m. There is a 1 a.m. to 5 a.m. curfew in Saigon.

Event Rattles To Wild Finish At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—The score was 3,900 snakes snared and four men bitten by the vicious rattlers as the 13th annual Sweetwater Rattlesnake Round-Up ended Sunday.

The snakes weighed 3,702½ pounds, and two San Angelo men — Tommy Young and Bob Turner — won the poultage contest by catching reptiles weighing a total of 678 pounds.

Victor Harris and Lloyd Webb, both of Sweetwater, caught the biggest rattler, one 69 inches long.

Blowing dust reduced visibility to several hundred yards and some of the snakehunters used flashlights to see better.

Drive-In Religion

READING, Pa. (AP) — First there were drive-in restaurants, then there were drive-in banks, and now there is drive-in religion.

Dr. Samuel Jaxheimer, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church here, says he thinks St. Luke's is the only church in the world to have its own drive-in window. It has been in operation for two weeks.

Dr. Jaxheimer said the window was installed to solve a security problem and as a convenience to the church secretary and the congregation.

He said the church's policy of a noon-to-five open door policy provided a too easy access for intruders and placed the secretary in possible jeopardy.

AMA Details To Congress Its Medcredit Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Medical Association detailed its own health-care plan to Congress today, a privately operated program financed in part by the federal government.

Dr. Max H. Parrott, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the AMA, and Dr. Russell B. Roth, speaker of the AMA House of Delegates, outlined the plan before the Senate health subcommittee.

SLIDING SCALE

The AMA's so-called medicredit program, provides a sliding cost scale based on income. As income rises, the federal contribution would diminish.

"Every family, however, is eligible for at least a small amount of federal contribution to provide an incentive for them to protect themselves with an approved policy or plan," Roth said in a prepared statement.

He emphasized the AMA's position that improvement of health care is most dependent on improving the delivery system by bolstering manpower, facilities, health education programs and the patterns of medical practice.

The operation of the system would remain in the hands of private medicine.

CHEAPER?

The medicredit plan, Roth said, would be cheaper than other proposed health care plans.

"The cost of medicredit has been estimated at $14.5 billion for the first year, which is lower than estimated cost to the federal government of nearly all of the other national health care proposals," Roth told the subcommittee.

He said 122 members of Congress have given their approval to the plan.

The medicredit plan faces two other plans: That proposed by President Nixon, and another presented by Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Rep. Martha W. Griffith, D-Mich.

Nixon's plan would build up the private medical system now in use, increasing the supply of doctors, revamping government medical care for the poor, encouraging group practice by doctors and putting more doctors in rural and ghetto areas now lacking them.

Kennedy's proposal would create a comprehensive health insurance program for all citizens. Prevention and detection of disease, care and treatment of illness and medical rehabilitation would be covered.

PAYROLL TAX

The program would be paid by general federal funds and by a payroll tax on employers and employees.

Programs under medicredit, to be approved by each state, would have to provide coverage for all hospital charges and physicians services.

"In each case under the basic coverage, the hospital services for which the program pays would include all of the services customarily provide, including drugs, supplies, specialized rooms, all forms of care and all needed services," Roth said.

$891 OR MORE

So-called catastrophic coverage would be paid in full by the government regardless of income. Under the basic sliding-scale payment system, the government contribution would start at full premium payment for basic care, and reduce to 10 per cent as family income climbs. It would remain at 10 per cent for everyone whose tax liability is $891 or more.

Dr. Parrott noted that medical costs and medical statistics are linked to many factors besides basic health. Citing infant mortality rates in ghetto areas, Parrott said they are tied closely to poverty, so reducing poverty and improving living conditions for everyone in ghettos, could help bring about a reduction in the high mortality rate for newborn children.

"We did not attack malaria by doubling the number of hospital beds or tripling the number of doctors. We conquered malaria by draining the swamps," he said.

Dry Front Whips West Texas Dust

By The Associated Press

Dust-choked weathermen predicted today that the dry north which clouded Texas Sunday would sweep into the Gulf of Mexico leaving fair skies and mild temperatures.

The very dry cool front whistled into Texas Sunday, whipping West Texas dust into a brown vapor which dimmed skies over much of the state. Behind the front, Dalhart in the Panhandle registered 54 degrees while ahead of it, McAllen, in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, had a very summerish 101 degree reading.

The thick layers of dust drifted east across Texas this morning into South and East Texas and the coastal areas.

Early morning temperatures were in the 30s in the Panhandle and near 70 along the coast.

Threatened thunderstorms failed to accompany the front.

A LOVELIER YOU Bodydressing Tells An Undercover Story

By MARY SUE MILLER
Clothes are soft and languid. The bodydressing beneath is soft-soft-soft. It better be, or never the twin shall meet.

Bodydressing is a new concept for the '70s' woman. The idea departs from the little-girl or little-boy look. From unisex. The present look projects the woman — naturally lovely.

Bodydressing can be exemplified: —By a natural undershaper bra with fashion contours and "not there" feelings.

—By natural stocking-locking smoothers, shaping invisibly from ribcage to thighline; by a fit that flows with the movement of the body.

—By instant-dressing body-suits, those true contemporaries.

—By such light-touch fabrics as nylon satin and crepe tricot, crepepon, gossamer laces.

—By dressliners from short to tall, from half to full slips, always following body curves.

—By delicious colorings: lemon white, sweet orange, clear-water blue, mushroom, green fizz. Yum!

Coordination with outerwear thus becomes more than ever possible and makes for great looks. —The ultimate derives from harmonizing lingerie and costume shades. Just try under-scoring a navy suit with sweet orange or, with a hemp dress, use mushroom. All "woman, that's you!"

—LEANER, LIGHTER Here's a painless way for teens and adults to reduce! Just send for my leaflet, "Leaner, Lighter and Lovelier." It includes menus for delicious meals and snacks; calorie counter and nutrition chart; diet shortcuts; spot reducers. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

Church Week Of Prayer Accents 'Sharing' Theme

"Sharing with one or one thousand" was the theme for the Annie Armstrong Week of Prayer for Home Missions observed last week by the Women's Missionary Union, Baptist Temple.

Mrs. Jim-Berringer and Mrs. Melvin Jenschke discussed ways of sharing with those in need at the Monday program. Mrs. B. B. Hardee talked Tuesday about sharing as taught by the Lord.

Rick Hippely, director of the Men's Brotherhood, discussed "God Cares and Is Alive" Wednesday, assisted by Sidney Hart, Jim Love and Joe Frazier. Mrs. Jim Puckett and Mrs. Virgie McCoy talked Thursday about times of crisis and how to share yourself and show concern.

The guest speaker Friday was Mrs. Glen Smith, wife of the pastor of La Fe Baptist Church, who spoke on ways of sharing with Spanish people. She indicated the need for adult education classes, sewing and visitation programs and more Bibles. The W.M.U. donated $25 to the Bible fund.

The Southern Baptist Easter offering goal for home missions in 1971 is $6,000,000. The mission fields are Panama, the United States, and Indian reservations. The money is used for disaster relief, pastoral aid, the aged, language missions and various other projects.

Violence In Texas Kills At Least 26 Over Weekend

By The Associated Press
Weekend violence in Texas killed 26 persons, most of them victims of traffic wrecks. There were 14 killed on the state's highways while 5 others drowned and 3 were shot to death. The remainder died in various incidents. The Associated Press began its routine weekend tabulation of violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued the toll until midnight Sunday. Jesse D. Avila, 3, of Van Ormy was killed Sunday when he was struck by a car miles south of San Antonio. Phillip P. Burton, 16, of Franklinton, La., a trainee at the Gary Job Corps Center in San Marcos drowned while swimming Sunday in the San Marcos River. Witnesses said the youth apparently suffered leg cramps and became entangled in river underbrush. Rudolfo Garza of Kenedy was killed and six other persons injured Sunday when two cars collided at a farm road intersection near Driscoll, southeast of Corpus Christi. Maria Ann Flores, 2, of Houston was killed Sunday when a car struck her as it backed out of the Flores family's driveway. Officers said no charges would be filed. Michael Paul Herring, 25, died in a Houston hospital Saturday of two .25 caliber bullet wounds. Police blamed a family argument. Ronald Guidry, 17, and Wilfred Lastrate, 17, both of Houston were killed and four persons injured in a three-car collision Saturday night on U.S. 29 about 6 miles east of Elgin. Arizona Manuel Grant, 38, of Houston was shot to death Sunday at her residence. Police who arrested a man, said Mrs. Grant was hit by a .38 caliber slug.

VANISHED SPECIES? — The Ivory-billed woodpecker appears to be the latest to join the ranks of the passenger pigeon and other vanished species. The last reported sighting was made by an ornithologist in 1967. This member of the species was photographed in 1951 in a bird sanctuary in Florida.

Israel Won't Give Up Arab Jerusalem

TEL AVIV (AP) — Foreign Minister Abba Eban flies today to the United States where he is expected to impress on Washington that Israel won't give up the Arab sector of Jerusalem, the Golan Heights and Sharm el Sheikh.

DESPITE DENIALS
Along with a schedule of fund-raising dinners, Eban arranged meetings with Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Swedish envoy Gunnar V. Jarngren, who is conducting the Middle East peace talks at the United Nations in New York.

Posse Wins High Honors

The Howard County Sheriff's Posse won second place in the San Angelo Rodeo and Fat Stock Show parade Friday and first place high-point trophy in the District 4 play day here Saturday.

Four members winning high point trophies in the play day were Dawn Burt, junior girl; Valerie Gamble and Steve Fryar, intermediate girl and boy; and Cecial Allred, senior man.

The posse will ride Wednesday in the ABC Rodeo parade in Lubbock and Friday at 4 p.m. in the Jaycees Rattlesnake Round-Up Parade here.

Despite denials by Rogers, it was widely reported in Washington and Israel that the U.S. government has been pressuring the Israelis to be less outspoken and adamant in public about their territorial demands. Premier Golda Meir was under fire at home for proposing in an interview with the Times of London that the Sinai desert be demilitarized and a peace force made up of Israelis and possibly Egyptians be established there.

Mrs. Meir defended her statements Sunday at a meeting of her coalition cabinet, contending that she said nothing new and it did not represent a final government decision.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE
Claiming that Mrs. Meir had proposed a border settlement contrary to Israel's interests, the largest opposition party, the right-wing Gahal, called for debate on the matter in the Knesset and a vote of no confidence in the government.

In the interview, Mrs. Meir also said that Israel was unwilling to give up East Jerusalem, the Golan Heights and Sharm el Sheikh, which overlooks the country's southern shipping lane through the mouth of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Mrs. Meir was reported to have told the Cabinet that the areas she specified as nonreturnable were so proclaimed by her Labor party during the 1969 national elections. In Damascus, Lt. Gen. Hafez

Assad was sworn in Sunday as Syria's president and vowed to "carry on the sacred struggle to remove the traces of Israeli aggression and liberate occupied Arab land."

Assad, 40, who overthrew President Nouredin Alassi last November, received 99.2 percent of the vote in a national referendum Friday. He said in his first radio address as president that all the country's resources would be "devoted to the battle of liberation."

Research Center Title Given UT

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas received title to a 400-acre research center Saturday from the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Balcones Research Center, northwest of the Austin campus, has been operated by the university system more than 20 years.

The center has 38 laboratories, conducting research in botany, zoology, plant ecology, paleontology, nuclear physics, chemistry, psychology, atmospheric science, pharmacology, pharmacy and archeology. The university, with the aid of former president Lyndon Johnson, then in congress, negotiated a lease agreement with the government in 1946 to take over the site, which was a World War II magnesium plant.

Baby's First Trip — Junkyard

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — John Davis doesn't think the anxious fathers-to-be pacing maternity ward anterooms have it tough at all. Here's his story.

His pregnant wife Sandra, 21, couldn't wait the 50 miles it took to drive with her husband from their Palm Desert home to Riverside General Hospital.

A 7-pound, 3 ounce son, Ashley, was born in the car on a freeway off-ramp. Davis, 21, continued on toward but he missed a freeway turnoff, the brakes failed and he coasted into an Ontario junkyard. He finally summoned help and an ambulance took mother and son to the hospital Thursday. "It was really smooth," Mrs. Davis said Friday of the delivery's medical aspects. "No complications."

Withdrawal Resolution Puts House Democrats On Spot

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats will face up to the Vietnam war for the first time as party members Wednesday when a resolution calling for total withdrawal of U.S. forces by the end of the year is put before their caucus.

Senate Democrats adopted a withdrawal resolution last month and individual House Democrats have spoken out, but a party position in the House has so far been avoided.

A resolution sponsored by Reps. William R. Anderson, D-Tenn., Jonathan B. Bingham, D-N.Y., Edward P. Boland, D-Mass., Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., and Spark M. Matsunaga, D-Hawaii says:

ONE REASON
"It is the sense of the Democratic caucus ... that the House majority should work to end the involvement in Indochina and to bring about the withdrawal of all U.S. forces and the release of all prisoners by Dec. 31, 1971."

One reason no clear cut vote has even been taken by the House Democratic caucus is the consistent support the top party leaders gave to the war policy of the Johnson and Nixon administrations.

Guitar Class Slated At YMCA

The YMCA is now taking registration for the beginning guitar class which begins Thursday, according to Curt Mullins, Y director.

The class will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursdays through May 6, and entry fee is $11.50 per Y member and $15.50 per non-member. Instructor will be Don Tolle, and class members furnish own guitars. Participants must at least be in the fifth grade, and the class is limited.

May to force a vote opposing the use of American forces in Cambodia. The move failed when not enough members showed up to vote in caucus.

There have been various votes on the House floor on Vietnam. In the latest one, the Cooper-Church amendment to limit President Nixon's hand on military action in Cambodia was resoundingly beaten in a procedural vote last July.

But now a split has developed in the Democratic leadership with the new party whip, Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill Jr., D-Mass., strongly in favor of a withdrawal.

ALBERT KEEPS COOL
Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma has not taken a public position on the resolution, although he is expected to oppose it. Majority leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana is firmly against it.

There has been no effort by the sponsors of the resolution to measure their support among the 254 House Democrats. Estimates of the size vote they might get range from 60 to 100.

The Senate resolution, calling for withdrawal "by a time certain," was approved 87 to 12.

"President Nixon has said he doesn't want to be the first president to preside over a losing war," Gibbons said. "And we want to show him that we won't use that kind of argument against him if he gets us out."

"This would take him off the spot so that he won't have to bear the whole brunt of winding down the war."

Hips Hang-Up Cost His Job?

EUGENE, Ore. (AP) — Roger Olson, 24, who has a wife and two children, felt he "shouldn't have to swallow my pride in order to work."

So he refused to shave his beard and lost his job at the Cabax Mills Plywood Division plant in Eugene.

People have "a hang-up about hippies," Olson, an Air Force veteran, says of a new company policy forbidding long hair and beards.

"I brush my teeth every day and take a bath once a day and wash my hair at least four times a week," he said.

Donald Barker, owner of Cabax, said the decision was for reasons of safety and cleanliness. "If it's close-cropped, neat and up tight, there's not much of a problem, but added he didn't want to arbitrate between shaggy beards and neat ones so he banned them all.

LONDON (AP) — Mick Jagger and his Rolling Stones drew nearly 5,000 fans to a performance billed as the last in a 10-day Farewell to Britain tour signaling their imminent departure to live on the French Riviera.

The show Sunday was staged in a former locomotive shed turned into a theater.

Gets Attention Anyhow

Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai certainly got Washington's attention with his visit to Hanoi and statement that the United States is posing a "serious threat" to his nation. He said Peking has "made adequate preparations."

While American policymakers doubt Red China is really contemplating entry into the Indochina war, there is the haunting memory of Korea, 1950.

On Oct. 1, 1950, Chou issued an official warning that Peking would "not stand aside" if "the imperialists wantonly invade the territory" of North Korea. His statement was dismissed as propaganda by U.S. and allied leaders.

But in November, when United Nations forces (primarily American) reached the North Korean-Manchurian border, Red Chinese "volunteers" poured into Korea, rolled back the U. N. troops and the war dragged on for almost three more years.

Before being briefed on Chou's Hanoi speech, Secretary of State William Rogers told a VFW conference there is no reason why the South Vietnamese "should be under any restrictions militarily." This again implied a possible invasion of North Vietnam. After seeing Chou's speech, Rogers' remarks were said to refer only to Laos and Cambodia. Peking may only be making sounds. Chou's implied threat from Hanoi does not rank with the 1950 warning. But Peking's words will be studied closely nevertheless.

Strikeout For Madalyn

The Supreme Court wisely declined to hear Mrs. Madalyn Murray O'Hair's suit against astronauts praying, reading the Bible or making religious statements while in space.

Mrs. O'Hair, who apparently is making a living by filing anti-prayer suits, contended the religious activity in space constituted government financing of religion.

In her successful suit against mandatory prayers in public schools, Mrs. O'Hair cited the First Amendment to the Constitution which says: "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion..." The same sentence continues, "or prohibiting the free exercise thereof." The astronauts were speaking for themselves and that right also is protected.

Labor Strength

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Although the chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Arthur F. Burns, told a Senate Banking Committee that it may be necessary to change some of the nation's labor laws so as to reduce the power of unions to force increases in wages, it may be taken for granted that hardly a ripple of interest was created among most of the legislators. For they are afraid of the political aspects involved.

MR. BURNS is correct — the unions have developed great strength. As Sen. John Tower, Republican of Texas, pointed out, the government in Great Britain, for example, has begun to consider restrictions on organized labor. The heart of the problem, however, is not the power of labor unions to move wages upward, but the power they exercise over the workers in a given industry.

For many years now, the antitrust laws have forbidden managements of competing companies to pool their interests and fix price policies. Monopolies have been condemned as evil. Yet the labor unions exert a monopoly in almost every industry. They control the workers of competing companies. In some instances, when wages are pushed up, this has the result of putting a competitor out of business.

CONGRESS HAS never effectively challenged the authority of labor unions to require workers to join unions as the price of continuing on a job. In most companies they may be hired even though they are not union members, but sooner or later they must pay dues to a union to retain their employment. In effect, the labor unions in every company are an integral part of national organizations which have control over the whole wage structure in a given industry. Employers are, for instance, rendered almost helpless when any group of workers calls a strike. While the dispute may involve only one classification of work, other employees in entirely different kinds of jobs stay out because they feel compelled not to cross the picket lines.

THE POWER of the labor unions in America is so strong that in the major industries the companies have a choice between a long and costly strike or acceptance of union demands, however excessive. Usually they decide to avoid a strike and grant the wage increases. This inevitably forces prices up, and is one of the reasons why inflation has grown in the United States.

COLLECTIVE bargaining was intended to be a negotiation between the employer and his employees. Yet nowadays the employer is dealing not just with his own workers but with persons who represent employees of businesses throughout the nation. Wage rates in certain industries have been standardized nationally. Negotiations are not on the basis of what an employer can afford, but on the idea that established scales must be paid irrespective of the effect on the costs of each company and its competitive position.

SOME DAY, if Congress really tackles the question of labor-union power in America, it may find that the antitrust laws which now are applied so strictly to management might well be extended to cover organizations that control employment in all the companies in an industry — a monopoly of vast influence over the nation's economy.

Our Inflation Vs. Others

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Among the economic dilemmas facing the nation we may include: —The problem of reducing unemployment in the United States without further angering our foreign friends. Many of them now feel the United States has greatly reduced its anti-inflation efforts in favor of jobs.

But why should they care? Mainly because they hold a lot of American dollars and feel that the efforts to expand the economy and create jobs will refire inflation, thus diluting the value of American currency.

For two decades the United States has run a balance of payments deficit, spending more money abroad than was returned here in purchases. Continued inflation would mean even more dollars abroad, and at lower relative values.

In general, foreign countries are disturbed that the United States might flood their economies with cheap dollars. It recalls the thinking of Gen. Charles de Gaulle in the 1960s that the United States was exporting inflation.

One interesting suggestion for expanding the economy while containing inflation comes from Herbert P. Patterson, president of Chase Manhattan Bank. The idea isn't new; it's old, but newly resurrected.

It calls for the U.S. Congress to consider a forced savings plan under which any increase in wages, salaries, dividends or other income above a certain percentage would automatically go into a thrift fund.

Patterson claims that such a plan would "reduce the incentive to seek and to pay overly large wage increases and to provide a new source of funds to finance public investment in such areas as housing, transportation and pollution control."

Upon reflection, you might reasonably conclude that it could conceivably help banks as well.

—The question of how corporations can pay for pollution control while keeping their shareholders happy.

This is the knottiest problem now being faced by many corporate executives, who find themselves being harassed by the same person wearing two different sets of clothes: those of the consumer, those of the shareholder.

The consumer, interested in preservation of the environment, insists that money be spent on pure air and water. The stockholder wants better profits and a higher stock market price.

Although stockholder and consumer often are two different people, the likelihood is far greater today than a decade or two ago that they are one and the same. There are now more than 30 million stockholders, compared 20.1 million in 1965 and only 6.5 million in 1952. And they're better educated, more concerned.

Most corporate executives, it seems safe to say, now agree that fair profits and a fair environment need not be antithetical, but it is difficult to convince them that the dual criticism isn't contradictory.

Corporate good citizenship isn't easily achieved today. It made wonderful material for speeches, but now that the line for action has come the rhetoric sounds empty.

'Mad Hatter'

This and that: Were you ever told where the term "mad as a hatter" came from? Some people reason the phrase refers to the mental derangement of the hat makers, but that is not valid. The word "hatter" was originally "atter," which means adder. Thus the first "mad as a hatter" fellow was only said to be as dangerous as a poisonous snake.

Most of the hat makers have reason to feel mad in this era, however, when it is the fashion to go without head pieces of any kind.

IN SOME parts of the world, pregnant women are advised to avoid viewing horses. They have been told if they do they are doomed to carry the child 12 months and experience difficulty in childbirth.

How long do you think you could carry on a conversation without using the words "is," "the," "an," "a" and "to?"

Those five tiny words provide one sixth of a person's chosen vocabulary. The word "is" alone pops up an average of 439.62 times per 10,000 words each individual uses.

IN MANY STATES, the penalty for receiving stolen property is greater than that for burglary itself. But, like so many laws today, the statutes that could be used to attack the so-called "fences" are all too seldom applied. Unless and until society works to eliminate the receiver of stolen goods, the incidence of crime is not going to go down very much.

ONE THING you can say about science and technology: They've made such great strides forward in the last 20 years, they're now only five years behind the comic books.

My idea of a real executive is a man who can hand a letter for a third typing to a shapely secretary.

YOU KNOW the honeymoon is over when the wife complains about the mess the husband makes while fixing his own breakfast.

Maybe man was born to live in travail and never know happiness for very long at a time. Jonathan Swift once described happiness as "the serene peace of being a fool among knaves."

Perhaps the perfect put-down was offered to the procrastinating plumber by that distraught housewife, who, when extended apologies for not arriving sooner and was asked how she made out, replied:

"Not too bad. While I was waiting for you, I taught my children how to swim."

Perfect World

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON — We saw a street a few days ago by the name of Idyllia. A curiosity developed and finally the word was looked up in the dictionary. It seems the source of the word goes back to the Roman poet, Theocritus, who wrote of pastoral life in Sicily. As related to music it seems to call for a pastoral composition.

Where it starts and ends was not determined but some romanticist must have been inspired to give the street its name.

AT THIS TIME of year, with some dreary days of winter and taxpaying time coming next month — with other things going on which disturb us, probably everyone yearns to find a place to escape it. A voyage to Idyllia would be as much as life in earth could offer.

Suppose we locate Idyllia lying East of Alpha Centauri in the Pledonians. It may be described as the only perfect place in the world, having blues and greens, the air and water both crystal clear and pure.

The Idyllians are handsome people of skin coloring running from golden through rich reds, tawny blacks and shades of brown and yellow, one as admirable as the other.

THE PEOPLE are gentle, loving and kind. They have only one simple requirement, which really does not need to be a law — "Thou shalt not hurt anyone else." It is never violated except by accident and there are seldom accidents. Their politics are simple too. Each year they elect some individual — it makes no difference about the sex — it can be either man or woman. When chosen he or she rules for a year with the title of "The Poor Dear". At inauguration the folks gather around and consolingly whisper "The Poor Dear".

THERE IS, of course, no want, which removes envy and avarice among them. Their forests produce an unlimited supply of fruits and vegetables of thousands of flavors and varieties. The climate is perfect — warm, soft rains and caressing sunshine, which eliminates the need for shelter and clothing. Having no need for machinery of any kind, they don't have to build, work or repair anything. There are no traffic jams, strikes or pollution. Disease is unknown and war is unthinkable. Really, all they have to do is sing, dance, eat, splash in the surf and love one another. They are without crime, poverty or any sort of hangups.

With this perfect society, there is no need to talk about building a better world.

THERE IS just one little concern about all this. From all indications, the life span of the Idyllians is very short. Few live beyond the age of 21 but occasionally one might be found to have reached 23 or 24. It seems those who live beyond 21 are those who might have developed some nervousness or be a bit more adventuresome than others. For this reason, they lived longer than those who do no work, have no worries and no responsibilities but who die early from boredom.

WELL, BACK to the old routine, commonly referred to as the "rat race." Back to all the problems which weigh heavily and haunt us from morning to night. Back to figuring out how we are going to pay next month's bills; send the kids to school and then there is likely to be an operation coming up pretty soon. Back to facing the deadline for making out that tax return. Back to the bickerings, the struggle for this and that and seeing and hearing of this imperfect world — except Idyllia.

Extended Benefits

NEW YORK (AP) — An estimated 35,000 unemployed workers throughout the state have been advised to register for extended benefits.

New legislation signed by Gov. Rockefeller extended the usual 26 weeks of unemployment insurance of 39 weeks during periods of high unemployment.

My Answer

Billy Graham

How can the Bible have the answers for all our problems? It was written thousands of years ago, and circumstances are entirely different today.

The Bible speaks to the problems of the heart and spirit; to the questions having to do with life and death. These have never changed. The man driving an expensive car down a super highway has exactly the same spiritual problems and needs of a man riding a camel across the desert in Abraham's time. The woman working in a modern air-conditioned office today has the same need of a right relationship with Christ which the woman in the heart of Africa has.

The Bible speaks to us, telling us of sin in all of its ugly manifestations. It tells us how Christ came to solve the sin problem and it makes the redeeming love of God, as found in His son, real to us — something which we may have without cost — to be received by an act of faith.

As an illustration of how modern the Bible is, take the Book of Proverbs. This was probably written about 3,000 years ago and yet any young person today will find that it tells of the problems of sex, of honesty, of right and wrong as they are faced right now. In fact, if a young person will read Proverbs daily (31 chapters — one for each day of the month), he will find it the greatest handbook for right living to be had anywhere. The Bible is actually more current than tomorrow morning's newspaper because it is the only book which tells us about the future too.

A Devotion For Today...

I will lift up mine eyes... My help cometh from the Lord. (Psalm 121:1-2)
PRAYER: We are grateful to Thee, our Father, for Jesus' promise to accept us whenever we come to Him. Hear us as we offer intercessory prayers for those who do not know Christ. In His name we pray. Amen.

(From the "Upper Room")

Serious Dick

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — To Atty. Gen. John Mitchell's deposition at a party the other night that President Nixon's employees "have got to change the Nixon image," I say watch it, Jack. That way lies trouble, if not madness.

It is Mitchell's position that Nixon's image makers "are not doing a thing for the President," and that therefore our leader is "the most misunderstood and underestimated President." He wants the fellows to go out and explain to the populace that Nixon is not always deadpan, dead serious and square, but actually is one of the boys.

I AM SURE Mitchell did not clear his remarks with Press Secretary Ron Ziegler, or Herb Klein, the President's director of communications. Had he done so, both probably would have reminded the Attorney General that they already have enough problems and that, anyway, it is dangerous to go to the country with a promotional campaign designed to reveal that the President is a kind of apprentice Bob Hope, bursting with quips and wanton wiles and likely at any moment to give Chief Justice Warren Burger a hot foot.

IT WOULDN'T WORK because it would be alien to the basic Richard Nixon. The President is a reasonably amiable man and as good-natured as most of us, considering the circumstances of his position, but he has never been a man to send audiences reeling into the aisles with his humor and, bless him, he has never pretended to such talents.

Nixon is congenitally compelled to take a job, any job, seriously. Perhaps he would like occasionally to get off an Adlai Stevensonian bon mot, but for the most part he is intelligent enough to realize that is not his bag.

WHEN the atmosphere is right, as Sammy Davis once remarked, an Adlai Stevenson or a John Kennedy could get laughs merely by saying "hello." But this requires a reputation for wit, and for better or for worse Richard Nixon has always been cast as the straight man.

We tend to be a querulous people. In one breath we demand that our President possess great dignity, and in the next we complain because he is not Flip Wilson. Society writers, mostly females, are always whining that Nixon gives dull parties and is not a swinger, but let him just once preside over a festive evening featuring scantily clad dancing girls and the papers would be full of grumbling that he had besmirched the solemnity of his office.

AS A PERFORMER, Nixon might fall short of the term well enough, but I suggest that John Mitchell nevertheless leave it alone. The President may be a square, but as a personality he is believable. Id is darkly suspicious if he were named as a summer replacement for Laugh In.

All A Day's Work

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — The daily newspaper is the only product in the world that is completely manufactured from scratch and then destroyed the same day.

"It is even less than a day," said Stephen A. Cousley, editor of the Alton Telegraph in speaking to the Alton Rotary Club, "from 6 a.m. until 2 p.m. press time."

Cousley said the newspaper is "written and edited under incredible pressure of time, so it's a miracle we don't make more mistakes than we do."

But he thinks it's all in a day's work to keep the public informed.

"If the journalist does not look after the rights of the individual and the public, and give voice who will? Who else is there?" he said.

No one knows how large the fish is that gets away, of course, but the largest known fresh water fish is the sturgeon of Asia's Amur river. Specimens weighing more than a ton have been caught.

Wives have been put to many uses but probably none odder than that by Col. John Stevens, early 19th century inventor. Awaking in the middle of the night with an idea for a new high-pressure steam engine, he sketched it on the nearest thing handy — his sleeping wife's back.

What makes you old — yourself or your environment? In an experiment at the University of Notre Dame, rats kept in an ordinary cage had by the end of two years developed such signs of aging as pneumonia, kidney disease and malignant tumors. But those in another group, who were born and kept for two years in "germ-free" isolation chambers, were free of such signs. But there are no such sanctuaries for people.

Wouldn't you guess it? One of the largest imports to Washington, D.C., is paper.

Were those good old days really so good? No bathrooms existed in five out of six American dwellings as late as the 1860s, and most hotels had no private bathrooms before 1900. Even today, the latest census revealed, 5.5 million of the nation's 65.8 million housing units don't have full plumbing facilities.

Know your language: Why does a white feather symbolize cowardice? Probably from the ancient sport of cockfighting. A true-bred cock had no white feathers. If it did, they indicated he was crossbred and likely to quit when the fighting got rough.

It was Thomas A. Edison who observed, "The three great essentials to achieve anything worthwhile are: first, hard work; second, stick-to-itiveness; third, common sense."

American Gunships KO Seven Red Tanks

HAM NGHI, Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnamese troops launched heavy artillery and tank attacks against a South Vietnamese base in Laos today and threw up a wall of anti-aircraft fire against U.S. helicopters supporting the base, field officers said.

Day-long ground fighting was reported 3 1/2 miles southwest of Fire Base Lolo, the headquarters of the South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division's 1st Regiment. The base is about nine miles southeast of Sepone.

SHOT DOWN

One U.S. helicopter was shot down and several others were hit. But sources said American gunships knocked out seven enemy medium tanks six miles north of Lolo after the tanks opened fire on the base with 85mm cannons.

Officers said two 150mm artillery pieces at the base were slightly damaged. Brig. Gen. Pham Van Phu, commander of the 1st Infantry Division, said the North Vietnamese were moving two regiments into the region around the base. Asked if he thought they would attempt to take it, Phu said, "No, but they will try to do something south of Lolo and they must move some troops south of Lolo to defend Highway 914."

TROOPS SWEEPING

Lolo is east of winding Highway 914, one of the main arteries of the Ho Chi Minh trail, and is the main operating base for South Vietnamese troops sweeping the westernmost section of the highway.

Officers said Lolo was hit with about 300 rounds of 85mm artillery, rockets and mortars Sunday night and today. Initial reports said three South Vietnamese were killed and six wounded, but at least a score more wounded were unloaded from helicopters at Ham Nghi, a forward base on the border.

Other South Vietnamese forces sweeping in Laos reported finding 70 North Vietnamese bodies Sunday about eight miles from the border. They said they apparently had been killed by air strikes.

A military spokesman said the paratroopers also found four mortars, two recoilless rifles, 700 rounds of ammunition for mortars and recoilless rifles, four field radios, seven telephones and 24,000 pounds of rice.

159 CAPTURED

The Saigon government's daily summary on the Laotian operation reported 8,861 enemy killed, 159 captured, 783 South Vietnamese killed, 2,912 wounded and 193 missing. This represented casualties in the past 24 hours of 653 North Vietnamese and 37 South Vietnamese killed, 149 South Vietnamese wounded and 28 South Vietnamese missing.

The U.S. Command reported the fifth accidental American air strike on South Vietnamese forces in the Laotian campaign. A spokesman said a U.S. fighter-bomber attacked South Vietnamese ground troops in Laos by mistake Sunday, killing 10 paratroopers and wounding 12. This brought the total casualties in the five attacks to 28 killed and 130 wounded.

The command also announced two more American observation helicopters were shot down, one in Cambodia and one over the southern tip of the Mekong Delta. Four crewmen were injured, the command said.

SMU Books Rev. Wil

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — The Rev. Wil Schaefer, whose ministerial credentials were revoked last week by a Methodist Church court, says he is scheduled to speak Tuesday at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

Schaefer, 35, was found guilty by the church court last Friday of charges of immorality, disobedience of church law and unministerial conduct. He said he would appeal.

The deposed minister said Sunday he had been invited to speak before a Christian ethics class Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the Perkins School of Theology at SMU.

The invitation, he said, was proffered before he was stripped of his credentials but has not been withdrawn. He said he would show up as scheduled.

Schaefer was removed as pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Laredo in January for refusing to break off his relations with a 27-year-old married woman.

The woman, Mrs. Judy Nash, since has been divorced and she and Schaefer, both say, have continued the relationship. Schaefer's wife, who has said she approved the relationship, has been visiting her ill mother in California.

OKIE SOLONS WARN THUGS

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Oklahoma Senate passed a resolution praising Mrs. Keith Boyce for "her courageous action" when, holding her 9-month-old baby in her arms, she shot and killed an ex-convict who was breaking into her home.

The resolution added: "That any person with criminal intent be and hereby is advised of the official sentiment in this state toward those who prey upon and threaten with bodily harm or violence the peaceful, law-abiding citizens of this state."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, neither vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQJ1096 ♥K6 ○AQ5 ♣83

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♣ Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—With this strong holding you naturally wish to reach game. You may accomplish this end by a jump rebid to three spades. Observe that this bid is forcing because partner has previously taken out at the level of two. A jump rebid in the same suit is not forcing if partner has taken out at only at the level of one so that if the bidding proceeds: Opener, one heart; responder, one spade; opener, three hearts; such a call is semi-forcing and may occasionally be passed by the responder.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠5 ♥Q1083 ○AQ1092 ♠1076

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♠ 2 ♥ ?

What do you bid?

A.—With this holding and the apparent misfit, you cannot reasonably see a game at this point. However, against the heart contract the "reasonable approximation" of your trick taking capacity is four. Your partner's opening bid should produce a minimum of three which adds up to seven and spells a two trick penalty. You should, therefore, double.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠KJ9 ♥AQ72 ○92 ♠AQJ6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ○ Pass ?

What do you do now?

A.—One heart. No other rebid is acceptable. With only 17 points in high cards a jump rebid to two no trump is not to be considered. Bide your time and on the next round you may be in position to make a more descriptive bid.

Q. 4—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠62 ♥A108632 ○Q6 ♠443

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

3 ♠ 3NT Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Since partner contracted for nine tricks on his own power you should be unwilling to play for less than game. A return to three spades would therefore be highly inadequate. The suggested call is four diamonds, throwing the choice back to partner. But contracting for game in either major is acceptable.

A.—Pass. A bid of four hearts is sincerely disapproved. Partner has expressed a desire to play at three no trump, an act which you are in no position to override. Partner made no request to hear from you.

Q. 5—North-South vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A ♥10962 ○K1094 ♠KJ62

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Dble. 2 ♣ ?

What do you bid?

A.—With this hand (worth 13 points) you should insist upon game and ask partner to select the suit. This can be done by a cue bid of three spades which we consider mandatory.

Q. 6—As South you hold [neither side vulnerable]:

♠AK1064 ○AKJ4 ♠AKQ2

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass Pass 1 ♥ 2 ♠ ?

4 ♠ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—There appears to be a choice between a bid of four no trump which is a conventional bid calling for partner to name his best suit, or a double which gives partner the option of passing or bidding if he has length in some suit. We would accept either, but would award a big demerit for a bid of four spades.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable. Your partner opens with four hearts and you hold:

♠KQJ ♥J6 ○AK102 ♠KQ74

What do you bid?

A.—Nothing. A slam is entirely out of the question. Partner could not have a solid heart suit and a side ace, or else he would not have preempted.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠962 ♥1074 ○A92 ♠KJ63

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ 2 ○ Pass 3 ○ ?

3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Since partner contracted for nine tricks on his own power you should be unwilling to play for less than game. A return to three spades would therefore be highly inadequate. The suggested call is four diamonds, throwing the choice back to partner. But contracting for game in either major is acceptable.

Football Widows

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Am I burning? I told her husband to find Mary, whose husband is a football nut, asks you what to do when her man has his eyes glued to the TV all weekend, and you say, "Bake a cake, clean closets, cupboards or drawers. Catch up on your reading or letter-writing. Do the ironing or mending or go visit your mother!"

Abby, my closets are clean and so are my cupboards and drawers. We have cake coming out of our ears, and my mother is tired of seeing me and my two kids. I iron and mend during the week, and everybody I write to owes me letters.

I wonder what would happen if a wife spent the entire weekend pursuing her hobby

You did offer a suggestion which I'm considering. "Go visit your mother!" My mother lives 100 miles from here. I think I'll go anyway. If you use this letter please use my name — that's the only way my husband will know where I went.

NANCY IN N.M.

DEAR ABBY: That gal, Mary, says her husband is loyal, devoted and he's true blue. Great. Our dog has the same qualities. Sometimes I wish I were the dog. He spends more time with my husband than I do. Of course, the dog doesn't drink, and my husband likes to have someone to drink with him while he's watching football.

The next time my husband comes home I'll get down on all fours and bark. Maybe he'll get confused and let me sit on his lap, or he might even take me in the car with him.

HAD IT IN JOPLIN

DEAR ABBY: I'm with you, and shame on Mary. My husband travels 273 days out of 365, and when he's home I don't care what he does as long as he's happy. At least he's home.

I recently complained to a neighbor about how lonely I was because my husband was away so much. She commented, "At least you know he's coming home."

I had forgotten, Abby, her husband died last summer.

MRS. MURPHY, VAN NUYS

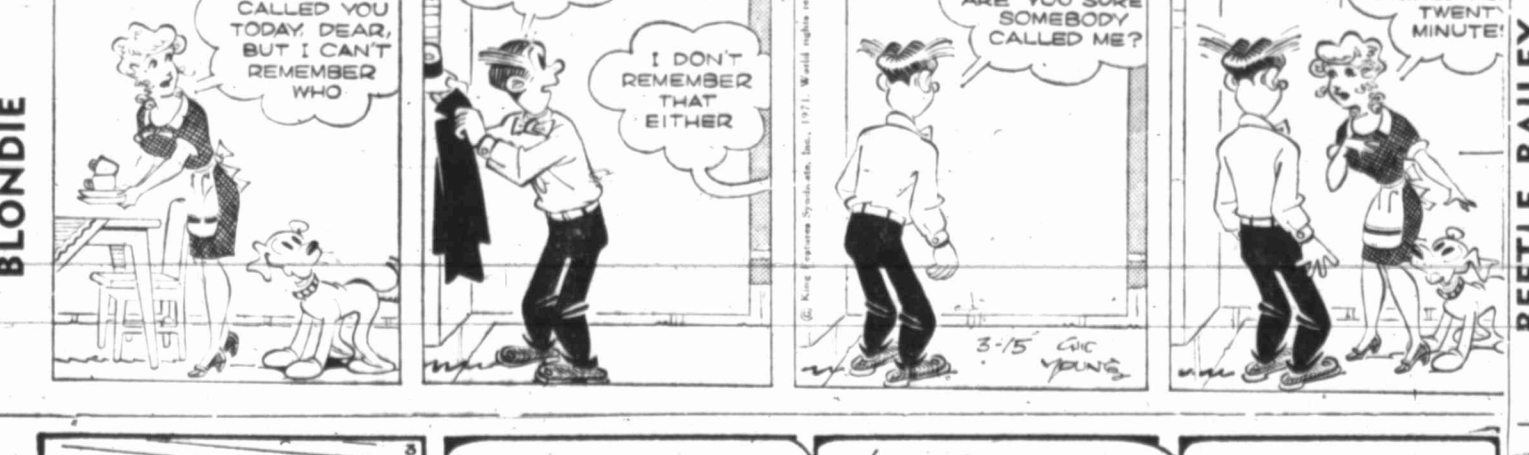

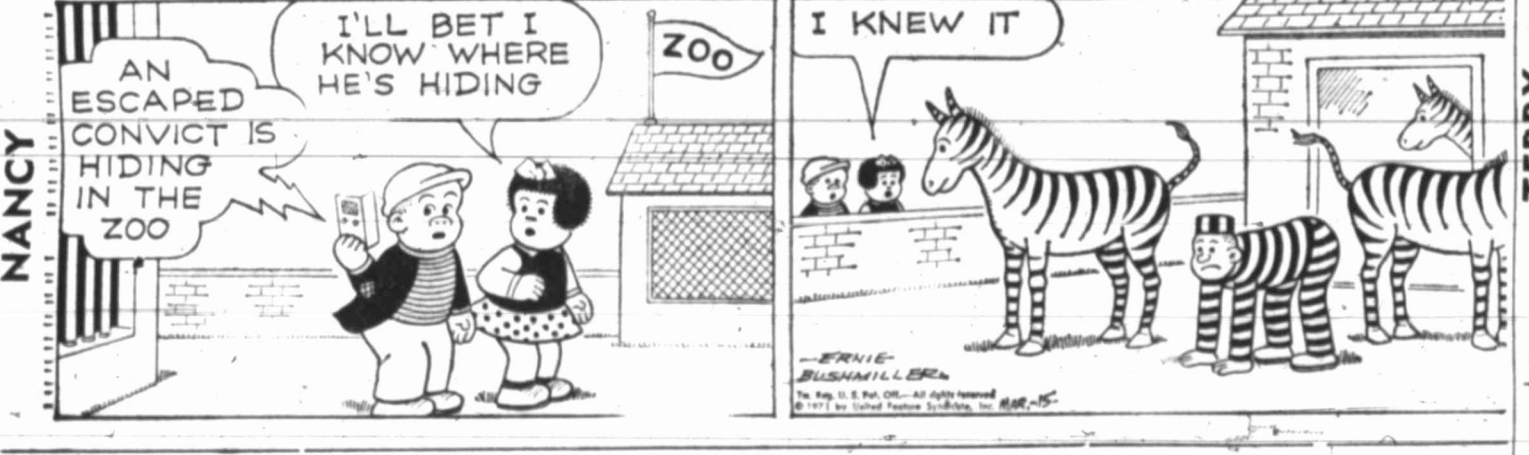

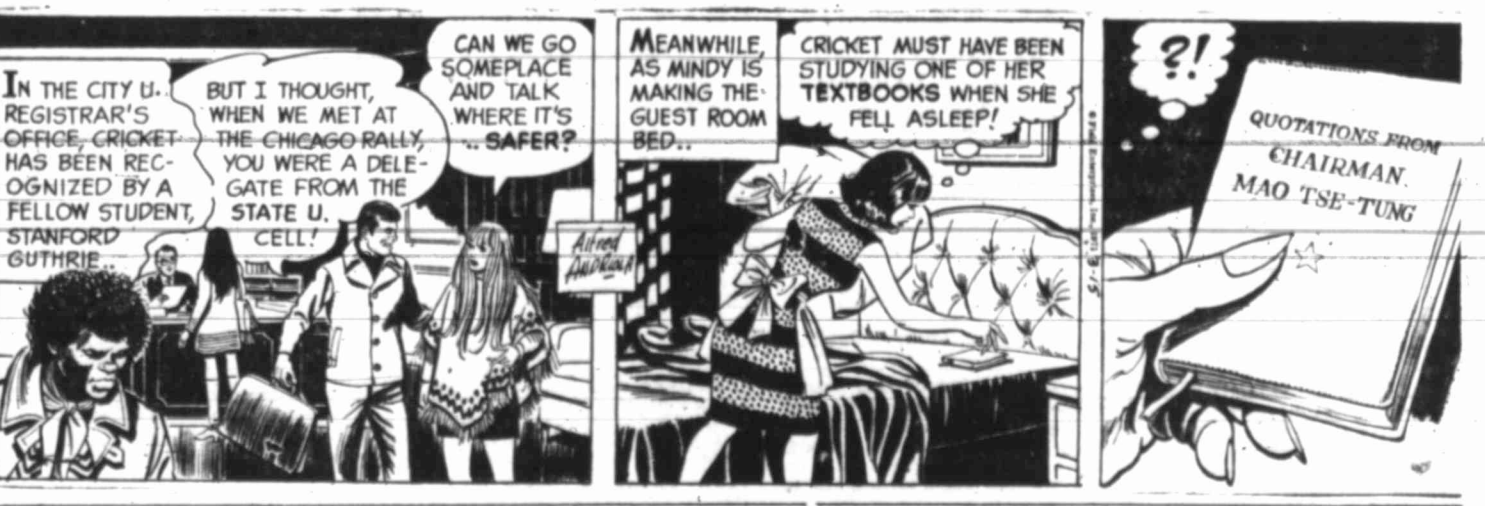

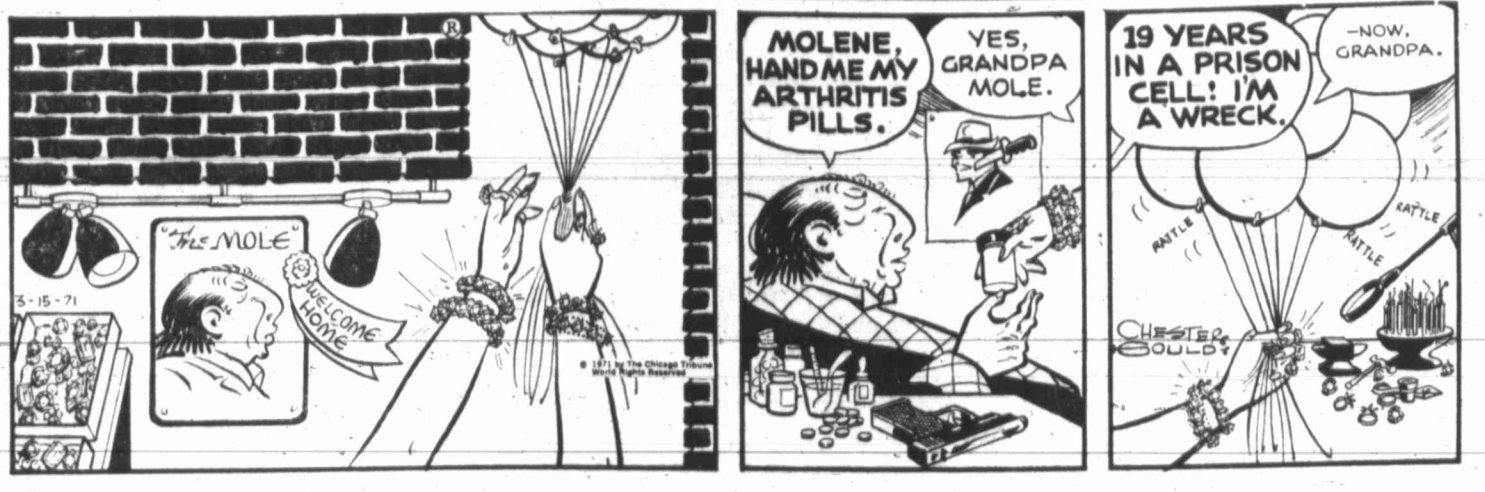

DEAR ABBY: For the first 15 years of marriage, I did what you told Mary to do while her husband watched football. If we ever drove anywhere with the kids we all had to shut up while Daddy kept the car radio on the whole way listening to a football game.

I finally woke up and said, "Listen, we're either going to pull this family together or you can move to the YMCA!"

He got the message. One day of the weekend he can have his TV football — but on the other, we all do something together.

Ventilation Need

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it all right to sleep in a room with an oil burner going day and night with no ventilation? — M.A.R.

No, it certainly is not. Doing that, some night you may go to sleep forever.

Almost anything that burns produces (or can produce) carbon monoxide, which is a deadly poison.

Most people by now are aware that the exhaust from an automobile is dangerous because it contains monoxide (although we still have people accidentally killing themselves by running the engine in a closed garage or sitting in the car with the motor running and the car closed up tight. Monoxide still seeps up into the car).

In the case of an automobile, the monoxide results from gasoline burning with only limited oxygen available.

But you get monoxide from burning oil, wood, coal, or anything else.

You may get away with an oil burner in a room with no ventilation — that is, for a time. But you are running a terrible risk. Enough air may get into the room (through cracks, under a door, around the windows, etc.) when the burner isn't running very steadily. But come a cold night, the burner runs harder, uses up more oxygen, produces more carbon monoxide. It takes only small traces of monoxide to make a person sleepy, perhaps give him a headache, and in a fearfully short time cause death.

No burners of any sort should be used without proper venting — that is, without a chimney or the equivalent to carry the carbon monoxide fumes outside.

You can smell some of the fumes from burners, of course — but the monoxide itself has no odor.

important thing is to prevent it from doing any further damage — as it will, unless cured. So keep on with your medication so your vision won't get worse. Untreated glaucoma can lead to blindness.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a very embarrassing and uncomfortable problem, pinworms. I am past middle age and didn't know that anyone my age could have them.

Through the day I am not bothered, but about 8:30 a.m. they start irritating, and make me so nervous I could scream — Mrs. C.R.

Oh, yes, adults can have pinworms. The reason they bother you in the morning is that the ornery critters emerge at night to lay their eggs, and you become aware of their activity. Everybody in the household should be treated at the same time as a precaution.

Scrupulous hygiene of the hands is essential, particularly before eating, or touching the mouth — scrub hands, keep nails cut short, and clean the nails often and carefully.

Arnie Grabs Second Win

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer had just scored his second victory of the season, moved into the No. 1 money winning spot and was a happy man.

But he wasn't content. "There's a lot more I have to do than just winning," he said Sunday, the putty face splitting in that famous grin. "Winning is important, and fun. But there are other things I have to do."

"I haven't won a major title since 1964. That's the thing that's in my mind."

And that means he has his sights set on Augusta, Ga., and the Masters Tournament four weeks from now. It was at the Masters seven years ago that the most popular player the game has ever produced scored his last major triumph.

He's had a series of trials and troubles since then. Time and again he was written off as a has-been.

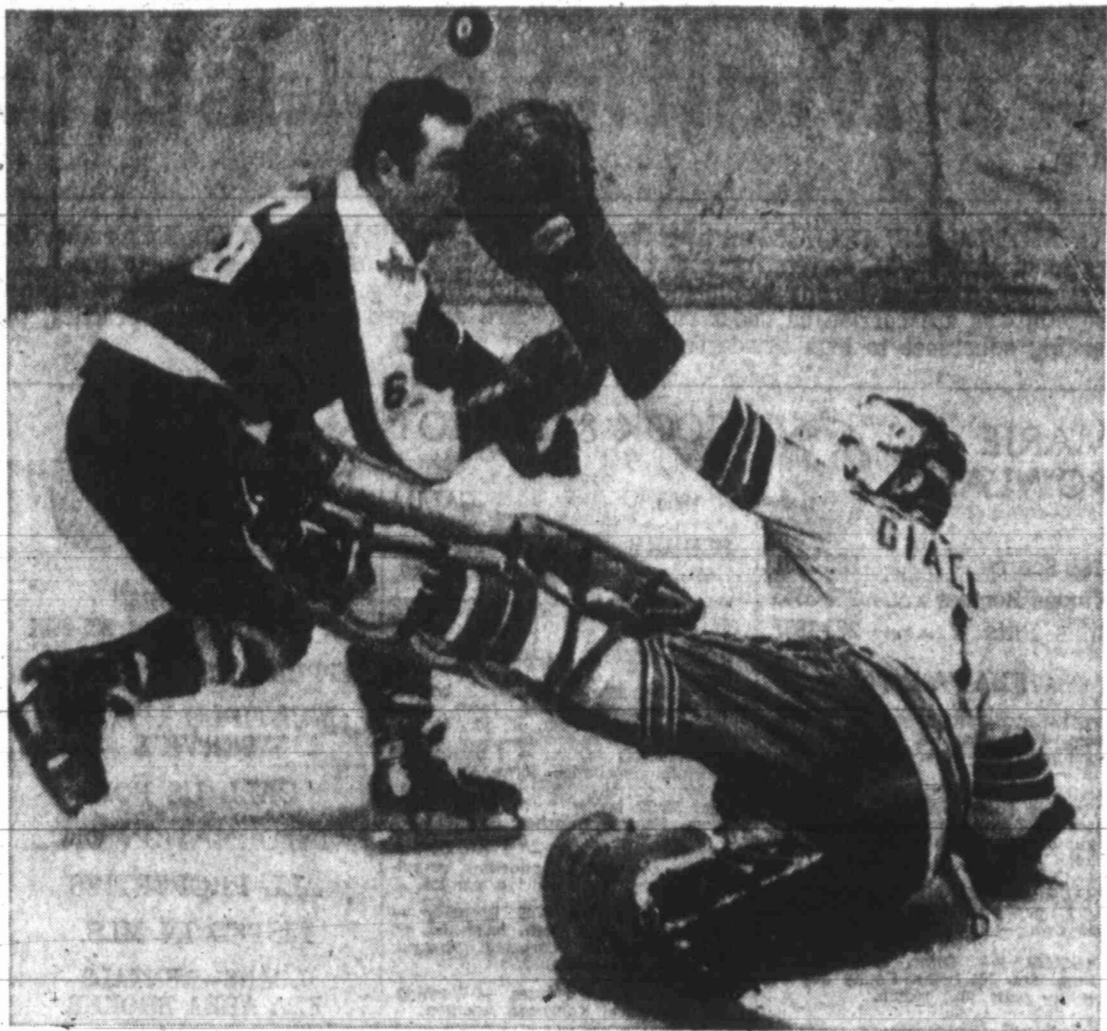

But he always came back again. Now 41, with a victory in the Bob Hope Desert Classic early this season, he became the third double winner of the season when he held off 51-year-old Julius Boros in the final round of the Florida Citrus Invitational.

Palmer had a final 68, four under par on the 6,849-yard Rio Pinar Country Club course, finishing 18 under par at 270. Boros was one stroke back with a 69 for 271.

The $30,000 first place check pushed his earnings for the year to $89,862 and his all-time earnings to $1,340,271. It was the 56th tour victory of his career, plus two in the Caribbean, plus two British Opens, plus two team championships.

It was a two-man race between Palmer and Boros all the way. Kermit Zarley had a 69 for 273 and was alone in third. Jerry Heard, 60, and Tom Weiskopf, 68, followed at 274.

TAKE THAT, YOU RUFFIAN — Goalie Ed Giacomin of the New York Rangers seems to be delivering a potent left jab to Forward Ron Ellis of the Toronto Maple Leafs during a Sunday game at New York's Madison Square Garden. Actually, Giacomin was making a sliding save on Ellis' shot. The Rangers won it, 1-0.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Frank Robinson of the Baltimore Orioles has added another view to the "deeper vision" of managing he has accumulated and gained the first plaudits of his peers in his bid to break baseball's last color line.

Emphasizing that he is not a crusader in any sense, Robinson became the first black to manage a major league club when he led an All-Star team to a 7-4 victory over the New York Yankees Saturday in an exhibition game.

While the show undoubtedly was staged for purely economic purposes—to attract attendance—the event did carry with it considerable social significance, spotlighting as it did both Robinson's ambitions and qualifications.

"He'd be a heck of a manager," said Dave Johnson, an Oriole teammate and a member of Robinson's All Stars. "He understands people. He has real good temperament. He wants to win, and people feel that and react to it."

Pete Rose Signs But Gets Less Than He Was Asking

Pete Rose didn't get his 5% per cent, but he'll still give his $26,000.

The Reds had rapped Rose's salary demands because his average dropped from .348 to .316 after winning two straight National League batting crowns. He did get 205 hits and scored 120 runs as the Reds won the pennant.

The Reds could have used Rose on the exhibition field. They bowed 6-4 to a combined squad of New York Mets, Philadelphia Phillies and St. Louis Cardinals as New York's Ed Kranepool belted a three-run homer in the first inning.

Denny McLain pitched six innings and Tim Lincecum and Ed Stroud homered as the Washington Senators whipped the New York Yankees 7-5. McLain allowed five hits and two runs, including a homer by Jake Gibbs.

Larry Bowa, who didn't hit a home run last season, cracked a two-run shot off Jerry Kosman that lifted the Phillies to a 3-2 triumph over the Mets.

Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew unloaded a grand slam in the Twins' 10-7 win over Boston and Pittsburgh's Vic Davalillo did likewise as the Pirates blanked a team of Latin all-stars 9-0 in Panama. Doek Ellis and Bob Veale held the Latins to five hits. Meanwhile, Pittsburgh's 'B' squad defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3.

Bucks Lose Another

The National Basketball Association record for most victories in a season is now fit to be tied, as the Milwaukee Bucks ever stop losing.

The high-flying Bucks bowed to the Phoenix Suns 125-113 Sunday night, their third straight setback and the longest losing streak since Lew Alcindor joined them last season. With 65 victories, the Bucks can do no better than tie the 68 triumphs posted by Philadelphia several years ago.

Connie Hawkins, who led the Suns with 27 points, helped Phoenix pile up a nine-point halftime lead and even Alcindor's 38-point spree couldn't overcome it.

The Suns kept their slim playoff hopes alive. They trail second-place Chicago by three games in the Midwest Division following the Bulls' 117-104 loss to Boston. The Atlanta Hawks remained 1 1/2 games ahead of Cincinnati in the race for the second playoff spot in the Central Division by beating Philadelphia 108-101 while the Royals downed Cleveland 115-103. Elsewhere, it was Seattle 124, Baltimore 121; Los Angeles 110, Detroit 100 and Portland 122, Buffalo 112.

Baseball Star No Crusader

Emphasizing that he is not a crusader in any sense, Robinson became the first black to manage a major league club when he led an All-Star team to a 7-4 victory over the New York Yankees Saturday in an exhibition game.

While the show undoubtedly was staged for purely economic purposes—to attract attendance—the event did carry with it considerable social significance, spotlighting as it did both Robinson's ambitions and qualifications.

"He'd be a heck of a manager," said Dave Johnson, an Oriole teammate and a member of Robinson's All Stars. "He understands people. He has real good temperament. He wants to win, and people feel that and react to it."

Aggies And SMU Will Put Lead Share To Test

Southern Methodist University and Texas Tech will put their conference baseball lead to the test this weekend in a league series against Texas A&M.

The Mustangs gained part of the lead during the weekend by downing Rice two games to one in their opening SWC series. Baylor shocked defending champion Texas two games to net the other half of the lead.

The Aggies have yet to enter the SWC wars but they've posted an impressive 7-1 record in non-conference action. Texas Tech and Texas Christian also enter SWC games for the first time this weekend. Tech is at Texas for three games Friday and Saturday and TCU is at Rice for three games.

Baylor's only game this week is Saturday against Hardin-Simmons.

This week's schedule begins Tuesday with a round of non-league games. Southwestern is at Baylor, Southeast Oklahoma is at SMU, Kansas State is at TCU, Sam Houston is at Texas A&M and Hardin-Simmons is at Texas Tech. All are scheduled twinbills.

Baylor defeated Texas pitching ace Curt Hooton last Friday to open the Longhorn series. The Bears won the opener of a doubleheader 4-3 Saturday before Texas finally caught fire for a 17-6 victory in the nightcap.

SMU split with Rice on Friday and won 2-1 on Saturday. Other games last Saturday included Texas Tech's 17-5, 17-4 victories over Lamar Tech, and Texas A&M's 3-2, 3-2 victories over Lamar Tech, and TCU split with Pan American, winning 9-8 and losing 6-1.

Shorty's Eye Win Margin

The American Basketball Association holds its official draft today but little Mach Calvin is the people's choice as far as the Floridians are concerned.

The 5-foot-10 sharpshooter scored the Floridians' last six points Sunday in a 117-114 victory over Pittsburgh that pulled them to within one game of the fourth-place Condors in the race for the final playoff spot in the East Division.

Ron Franz led the Floridians with 26 points and Calvin finished with 21. George Thompson had 24 and John Brisker 21 for the Condors.

Two other chases also remained tight as the Texas Chaparrals downed Memphis 132-123, the Utah Stars hammered Carolina 126-108, the Indiana Pacers beat Denver 131-121 and the Virginia Squires whipped Kentucky 123-121.

Texas' triumph over Memphis left the Chaps one game behind fourth-place Denver in the West. Gene Moore scored 26 points. Don Freeman 25 and Rich Jones and John Beasley 24 each as the Chaps posted their third straight victory. For Memphis, Wendell Ladner had 24, Charlie Williams 23 and Steve Jones 22.

57 Cycle Gang Members Probed

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The Cuyahoga County Grand Jury will meet in special session today to consider indictments against 57 motorcyclists charged by police with first-degree murder in the slaying of five persons at a motorcycle show here March 6.

The jury will try to "pinpoint" the blame for the five slayings during the fight between members of the Breed and Hell's Angels motorcycle gangs. Ten Hell's Angels and 47 Breed members were charged by police.

Stingy Brothers Hockey Stars

Hockey's goaltending Dryden brothers are burning up the long distance telephone lines today, telling each other about their sudden success in the National Hockey League.

"I'll call him Monday," decided Buffalo's Dave Dryden after shutting out Minnesota 5-0 Sunday night. "Yeah, I'll collect."

Earlier Sunday, Dave's kid brother, Ken, had made his NHL debut for Montreal and came up with a 5-1 winner against Pittsburgh.

Elsewhere in the NHL Sunday, New York blanked Toronto 1-0, Detroit ripped California 8-5 and Chicago tied St. Louis 4-4.

From the left, they are Lynn Bosworth, Midland High, judged the Most Valuable Player in the meet; Sue Spencer, Plains, named top set; and Peggy Rushing, also of Plains, the outstanding spiker. Midland High won the tournament, beating Plains in the finals.

Coach Says Cajuns Better Improve

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Coach Beryl Shipley says his Southwestern Louisiana team can do better. Coach Edward Martin of Tennessee State says the Ragin' Cajuns better improve if they expect to get far in the NCAA College Division Basketball Tournament.

"There's no doubt Tennessee State was the best team we've played this year," said Shipley. His team nipped Tennessee State 86-82 Saturday night to win the NCAA South Region and move into the national tournament at Evansville, Ind. U.S.L. plays Assumption Wednesday afternoon. Assumption, 25-1, won the New England Regional title Saturday night by defeating Central Connecticut 105-77.

USL and Assumption join Puget Sound, 20-4; Hartwick, 21-5; Old Dominion, 198; Cheyney State, 235; Kentucky Wesleyan, 216; and host Evansville, 198, in the championship round.

Philadelphia Textile, the 1970 college division champion, was eliminated, bowing 60-58 to Cheyney State and LSU New Orleans, which ended the regular season as the No. 1 team in The Associated Press small college poll, lost to Tennessee State in the opening game at Lafayette and then bowed 107-88 to Louisiana Tech in the consolation finals Saturday night.

Other Evansville pairings are: Kentucky Wesleyan vs. Cheyney State; Old Dominion vs. Puget Sound; and Hartwick vs. Evansville.

Most Of Favorites Pass First Hurdle

The two league champions get into the swim in this Thursday's second round, joining the weekend's first-round winners.

UCLA plays Brigham Young at Salt Lake City in the west and South Carolina faces Penn in the east at Raleigh, N.C. in two of the second-round contests.

Brigham Young smacked Utah State 91-82 in a west regional opener and fourth-ranked Penn Jolted Duquesne 70-65 in the east.

In other first-round games Villanova cruised past St. Joseph's, Pa., 93-75 and No. 10 Fordham buried Furman 105-74 in the east; No. 2 Marquette clouted Miami of Ohio 62-47 and No. 7 Western Kentucky slapped ninth-ranked Jacksonville 74-72 in the midwest; Notre Dame shelled Texas Christian 102-94 and Houston tipped New Mexico State 72-69 in the midwest and Long Beach State smashed Weber State 77-66 in the west.

Drake turned back Louisville 86-71 Saturday in their playoff for the Missouri Valley Conference title, thus setting up these pairings for Thursday:

East Regional at Raleigh, N.C.—Penn., 27-0, vs. South Carolina, 23-4, and Marquette, 27-0, vs. Ohio State, 19-5.

Midwest Regional at Athens, Ga.—Western Kentucky 21-5, vs. Kentucky, 22-4, and Marquette, 27-0, vs. Ohio State, 19-5.

Young Texan Dies In Race Mishap

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Californian Dick Mann set a record average speed of 104.697 miles per hour to win Sunday's Daytona 200, a grueling motorcycle race which claimed the life of a young Texas rider.

Mann, of Richmond, Calif., captured $5,000 in first prize money and $2,000 in lap money to best national champion Gene Romero of San Luis Obispo, Calif., who finished second, and Don Emdee of San Diego, who came in third.

Twenty-one-year-old Rusty Bradley of Dallas was one of three drivers who spilled on the first lap while entering the infield portion of the twisting 3.81 mile oval-and-road course at Daytona International Speedway.

The mechanical engineering student from the University of Texas at Arlington suffered multiple head injuries and died a few hours later in Halifax Hospital.

Bradley, who had raced motorcycles for five years and last year won all three U.S. races for professional novices, was considered the top rookie rider.

Garden City Girls Win

ROBERT LEE — Garden City won first place in the Robert Lee girls' track and field meet here Saturday, scoring 74 points to 70 for Eldorado and 68 for Robert Lee.

Garden City's first places came in the 440 and 880 relay events. Twila Coffman, Debbie Pierce, Laurie Lange and Marsha Talley ran in each event for the Kittens.

Garden City's time in the 440 relay was 51.2 and in the 880 relay 1:50.1.

Miss Talley also set a new record in the 220-yard dash when she ran the preliminaries in 27.4. The old mark was 27.9. She then proceeded to break it again in the finals with a 26.5 clocking.

In the triple jump, Debbie Pierce of the Kittens was second with a leap of 32-10 1/2. Laurie Lange of Garden City was fourth in the 60-yard dash with a 7.6 clocking.

In the mile relay, Garden City turned in a 4:46.5 to wind up third. Dinell Hirt, Debra Plagens, Becky Schwartz and Debbie Pierce competed for the Kittens.

Petty Nearly A Millionaire

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Richard Petty, known variously as "Rapid Richard," the "Randieman Rocket" and "King Richard," is on the verge of becoming stock car racing's first millionaire.

The 33-year-old Plymouth driver with the piano-key smile won the Carolina 500 before 32,500 fans at North Carolina Motor Speedway to run his career winnings to $910,988—almost twice the total of any other driver in NASCAR's grand-national stable.

Petty, who now has won three of his six starts this year, picked up $17,317 for his fourth victory at Rockingham. His total for the year stands at $82,080, putting him within reaching distance of his third $100,000 season in four years.

As has become his habit of late, Petty waited until the latter stages of Sunday's four-hour, 12-minute and 55-second marathon to make his charge to the front. He had paced the 40-car field on two brief occasions earlier, but at the 335-mile mark he roared past 1970 Grand National champion Bobby Isaac and was on his way.

Isaac came in second to collect $10,904 from the $86,000 purse but the Dodge driver had begun to close on Petty as the race neared its climax. A wreck involving several cars with only three laps to go shut off Isaac's bid, however.

Steers Sustain Double Loss In Monterey Tilts

The Big Spring Steers suffered insult after some pride damage Saturday. They dropped a doubleheader to the Lubbock Monterey baseball powerhouse, then had bad trouble on the road home Saturday night.

They are hoping for a change in fortunes Tuesday when they go to Brownfield in hopes of making it two in a row over this team.

Friday afternoon the Steers meet El Paso Burgess in El Paso, then Saturday morning square off against Austin and then Jefferson. Coach Oakie Hagood is hoping that this is the week when the Steers even out their 2-5 season record. That will take some doing, for they take their baseball seriously on the border.

At Lubbock, the Steers got off to a good start but then Monterey began nibbling away with monotonous consistency to win 9-1. They lost the second — a close one — 11-10.

Again the Steers started the second game well, only to fall apart in the second when an avalanche of errors, combined with hits, chased David Englert

COED'S CANVAS CASTLE — Monica Lutz, 22-year-old El Centro Jr. College student, relaxes in her 8x12-foot tent, where she has lived since last August. Miss Lutz moved into the 2-room tent after her apartment roommate depleted her checking account and another girl friend wrecked her car. She now enjoys year-around-tent living and plans to live there until she graduates from college.

Petite Blonde Likes Dallas Tent Living

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A former queen of San Antonio's Fiesta Days show, now a 23-year-old coed at El Centro Junior College here, has given up apartment dwelling to live in a tent.

Monica Lutz says it's been fun except for the time recently when snow collected on her roof and the green canvas shelter collapsed on top of her.

"I've never been so scared," she said. "I struggled about 45 minutes to put the tent up again, and sat up all night shuddering for fear it would fall again."

The petite blonde, who works as a model, moved into her 8-by-12-foot tent last August after she ran short of funds to maintain a $200-a-month apartment.

"I had to move so I bought the tent," she said. "at first it was a necessity, but now I enjoy it and I'm going to live here until I graduate from college."

She has moved her home four times, most recently to the backyard of a house occupied by seven students.

"At first I was worried about being acceptable to a family which most people would call 'freaks,'" she said. "But they've been wonderful. I even share their bath and pay a portion of their bills."

For the first time in eight months of tent living, Monica has electricity for her heater and lamp via an extension cord from the garage.

Monica says she is the daughter of a retired Army officer and grew up in a $40,000 home in San Antonio.

Buzzards Return
 CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — The buzzards returned to Hinckley today, "right on schedule," Cleveland Metropolitan Park system rangers reported.

Ranger Sgt. Ambrose Berger, who had been on a buzzard watch since early morning, reported sighting a lone buzzard circling high over Hinckley Lake at 8:36 a.m.

The ranger said he presumed this was the "pilot bird" that ordinarily precedes the flock to the traditional roosting area at Hinckley Ledges in a heavily wooded area near the lake.

The buzzards have been returning to Hinckley on or about March 15 every year for many years.

The town of Hinckley will observe the event next Sunday with pancake breakfast and other events.

The annual observance is expected to attract thousands of visitors to the area.

YAF Facing Money Jams

WASHINGTON (AP) — Young Americans for Freedom, the voice of conservatism on the country's college campuses, says it is caught in a two-way financial bind and may be forced to shut down on the eve of its biggest battle.

Randal Teague, YAF executive director, says the organization is $221,000 in the red and if emergency money does not turn up soon it will be forced to cease all operations.

The decision to continue is made week by week, said Teague, who expects to run the office here through next week but can't be sure beyond that.

"The worst part is that this hits us at the time we're trying to mount an offensive against the big push planned by campus liberals this spring," he said. "And there's no way to do it without money."

Contrary to a public misconception, Teague said, YAF is not bankrolled by rich conservatives.

"In the 11-year history of YAF," Teague said, "the largest contribution ever received was $3,000."

Soviet Union Quietly Getting Grip On Egypt

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — As some diplomats see it, the Soviet Union is quietly getting a grip on Egypt's civil and political apparatus.

The Russians are presumed to believe that a settlement of the Arab-Israeli conflict would lessen the importance of their military aid to Egypt and thus diminish the major role they now play in Egyptian affairs. They consequently are building up a political power base in Egypt that anticipates a future era of peace in the Middle East.

SWAP INFO
The East German interior minister, Col. Gen. Friedrich Dickel, signed in January an agreement with Egyptian officials providing for "full cooperation in the fields of police and security affairs." The two countries agreed to exchange technical and other information on security, the Cairo press reported.

A new Egyptian police force made its appearance in Cairo early this year after a nine-month training program which included political studies conducted by the East Germans. Known as "security prefects," the new police handle everything from traffic jams to political espionage, according to the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram. The 750 prefects roam Cairo day and night in two-man patrols, each equipped with a walkie-talkie radio.

Al-Ahram reported that among their early successes were the arrest of 15 pickpockets disguised as women and the apprehension of an unidentified foreign diplomat who had photographed a restricted military zone in Alexandria.

Secretary Of Agriculture Called 'Pushover' By Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin is a "pushover" who's afraid to fight for the nation's farmers, says a Republican congressman usually found on the side of the Nixon administration.

Unless Hardin either takes a harder line or is replaced, Rep. William J. Scherle, R-Iowa, said in an interview, "I can predict certain (Republican) defeat in 1972."

Scherle points to a study by the National Educational Institute for Agriculture which shows while Democrats gained only nine House seats in the 1970 congressional elections, seven agricultural districts switched from Republican to Democratic.

He blamed the switches on farmers' disgruntlement with the lack of an effective spokesman.

"When President Nixon campaigned he promised a forceful man in the Cabinet who understood agriculture," Scherle said. "Hardin just ain't doing nothing. All he wants to do is avoid controversy. He's a pushover for some of those White House aides. They say, 'Sorry, Cliff, and he just walks away.'"

Scherle grilled Hardin for almost two hours last week, he said, when the secretary testified at a closed hearing of the House agriculture subcommittee.

"I came away greatly disappointed Scherle said. "He didn't have specific details on anything."

For instance, Scherle said, Hardin was unable to say how much money a particular state would get under Nixon's rural revenue sharing plan.

Scherle, the operator of a 480-acre grain and livestock farm near Henderson, Iowa, also was critical of Hardin's positions on two budget items. He said the secretary didn't push hard enough for watershed projects and sewer grants for rural areas.

He said Hardin, former chancellor of the University of Nebraska, is "an economist, a theorist, an academician" who "remains somehow aloof from the farm crisis."

Tests Nixon's Right To Withhold Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — A high ranking member of the House Appropriations Committee is challenging President Nixon's right to withhold funds for specific programs.

Aroused by the impounding of nearly $9 billion in congressional appropriations last year,

Rep. Joe L. Evins, D-Tenn., is demanding to know "by what authority?"

It's an old question, a constitutional issue and a political issue.

Evins is chairman of the House public works appropriations subcommittee, a post he assumed this year.

When the President withholds money, specifically appropriated Evins said, he is effecting an executive veto. This is a power no president has under the Constitution, Evins said, and a power which Congress consistently refused to grant the executive.

When George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Bureau recently testified before the House Appropriations Committee, Evins opened his query of executive power.

"What authority does OMB have to withhold funds in this magnitude which have been appropriated by Congress?" Evins demanded.

Even though Shultz promised a response for the record, Evins contends there is no solid

Ugly 'Yankee' Image Is Receding

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — The touring Yankee is losing his ugly image, a federal tourist official reports.

Martin J. Darity of the United States Travel Service told a travel industry seminar Friday that a recent survey shows Americans "are considered the nicest, most appreciative, least critical and most generous of travelers."

The one category where American tourists did not rate first was whether they tell others about their homeland, he said.

"Are we so fearful of the bad publicity we have had that we don't dare to tell the American story abroad?" he asked.

COCOA RIOT — Members of the New Guinea Natives' Maungan Association battle with riot police in Rabaul, New Guinea, over control of a cocoa fermentary on the Gazelle Peninsula. The natives, armed with fire bombs, claimed the cocoa plant was taken from them by the local administration. Fifteen persons were injured in the clash.

200 Evacuated, No Bombs Found

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Police routed occupants from nearly 200 apartments in a Beaumont housing project early today after receipt of a bomb threat which proved false.

Police Sgt. David Gay said he received the call around 1:25 a.m. from a man who said he had been told two bombs would explode at the Magnolia Gardens project at 4 a.m.

Corpus Christi Ed Thinks Credibility Gap Widening

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Robert M. Jackson, editor of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, told conventioning newsmen here Sunday that he believes the credibility gap is widening.

Jackson spoke before the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association before it closed a three-day annual meeting.

He cited reports listing such matters as placement of stories, headline and story over-simplification, half-told stories, too much attention to the sensational rather than community matters and even simple errors as contributing to what he called the widening gap.

PRINT RAPS
"Nothing shakes the public trust in a newspaper like an error," Jackson commented.

Dorance H. Guy of the El Paso Times commented from the floor that a surprising result of a survey indicated 20 percent of the readers believe even a typographical error is a serious one.

Jackson told the editors the Caller-Times in recent years has carefully published a corrective when errors are found. Further, he said, the Corpus Christi newspapers "publish every letter we receive if it is critical of us."

The Corpus Christi man said one cause of the credibility gap is that readers fail to pay attention to the source of a story. Thus, he added, it is not the source which is wrong but the newspaper in the readers' minds. It is not the National Weather Service whose forecast is wrong, he said, but the newspaper which is wrong in the readers' thinking.

An increase in recent years in interpretive stories and personal opinion columns, he said, has caused further misunderstandings by readers. He said such material should have exact labels.

TARPLEY ELECTED
Don Boyett, executive editor of the Beaumont Enterprise and Journal, succeeded John Stallings of Corpus Christi-Caller-Times as president of the Texas APME Association.

Other officers named were Jack Douglas, Fort Worth Star-Telegram, first vice president; Dick Tarpley, Abilene Reporter-News, second vice president; Tom Simmons, Dallas Morning News, secretary, and Larry Ingram, Temple Daily Telegram, treasurer.

The meeting was held jointly with the New Mexico APME, which elected Lois Beck of the Las Vegas Optico as chairman.

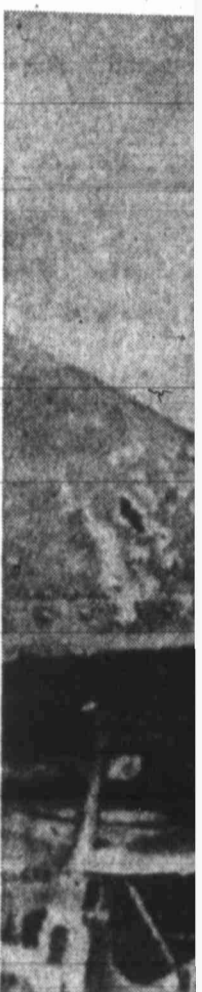

In a discussion session before adjournment, the editors studied the new concept of citizens councils to criticize newspapers.

Clifton Lawhorne of Texas Christian University said two such councils with which he was connected in the Midwest "fell flat on their faces."
