

POSSIBILITY OF HUNG JURY LOOMS LARGE

Calley Will Plead For His Life

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William Calley Jr. will plead for his life to the jury that convicted him of premeditated murder of Vietnamese civilians at My Lai. The sentencing phase begins today.

What he will say, his attorneys would not disclose. But lately Calley has been expressing antiwar sentiments to friends.

The trial judge, Col. Reid Kennedy, raised the possibility that when the jury learns it can choose only between life and death "maybe at that point they will reconsider the finding of guilty."

IT TAKES FIVE
It took only four members of the six-man panel to return the three findings of guilty returned Monday, but it takes a vote of five for a sentence of life in prison and all six to sentence Calley to death.

In a previous case, a jury did reverse itself when learning of the limited punishment permitted under military law. In that case the jury lowered the verdict to involuntary manslaughter.

"I'd like an instruction to the court that the members may reconsider the findings at any time before returning a sentence," said George Latimer, Calley's chief defender. "I'll do that," Judge Kennedy said.

'HI, HOW YOU DOING'
The possibility of a hung jury looms large in a court-martial because of the requirement of at least five for a life sentence. If it cannot be resolved by the jury's lowering its verdict an entirely new panel could be convened for the sentencing.

When Calley entered the courthouse he greeted a newsman: "Hi, how you doing."

On Monday when the jury returned its decision Calley, of Miami, Fla., stood with head high, his manner soldierly correct, but he was shaken by a verdict he didn't expect.

The night in the stockade's private officers' quarters—in a two-room suite—was Calley's first time in confinement since he was charged one and a half years ago.

He is the first American accused in the massacre; the first to be convicted.

"The thing that makes My Lai so unique, it was a small tragedy in a small place," he said in an interview with The Associated Press. "For once, man was able to see all the hells of war at once."

In court this afternoon, Calley's 70-year-old lawyer pleads with the jury to spare the 27-year-old bachelor lieutenant's life. The lawyer, George Latimer of Salt Lake City, earlier had called Calley a pigeon, "the lowest officers on the totem pole in this whole business."

The jurors will be informed by Judge Reid Kennedy that under military law their choice is only between life in prison and death. Five of the jurors must agree to a life sentence, all six for death.

RAMROD STRAIGHT
Should there not be five votes, for at least life, the jury would be disbanded and another brought in for the sentencing phase.

In Vietnam in September, 1969, a military court convicted Lt. James B. Duffy of premeditated murder, but lowered its finding when it learned the limited penalty choice.

Manson, Three Girls Sentenced To Death

Action Permits Prosecution Of 'Vagrants'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal court rulings that invalidate Texas, Florida and North Carolina vagrancy laws were set aside by the U.S. Supreme Court Monday.

The justices vacated the district courts' ruling that had barred prosecution, Justice William O. Douglas dissented.

The federal courts had ruled in each case on the state laws before trials were held. Last month the Supreme Court ruled federal courts must not interfere with state criminal trials except in the most flagrant cases of prosecutor abuse. This ruling was cited again by the justices Monday.

In the Texas case a three-judge federal court in San Antonio had struck down the law permitting prosecution of gamblers, gypsies, fortune tellers, beggars and men and women who engage in "lewdness."

Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin, in appealing, claimed the provisions were based on a valid legislative judgment and well within the police powers of the state.

Also, Martin contended, the 43 alleged "vagrants" whose lawsuit led to the ruling should not have been heard by the three federal judges because "they failed to show that they suffered any irreparable injury."

The Supreme Court action permits their prosecution.

LATEST RECALL Don't Worry They Won't Shoot Pintos

DETROIT (AP) — About 165,000 American owners of Ford's new Pinto are affected by the automaker's announcement that virtually all the minicars are being recalled for an engine defect. For many of the motorists, it's the second time around.

A total of 204,000 cars in the United States are involved about 165,000 of them in customers' hands and the rest in dealers' lots or in transit, Ford said.

In addition, some 13,100 Canadian Pintos and 2,100 shipped overseas must be recalled, the nation's second largest automaker announced.

The recall Monday, due to a defect in antipollution equipment that could allow gasoline fumes to collect and explode under the hood, involves all Pintos built between their introduction last summer and March 13. Some 7,500 Pintos built after March 13 need not be recalled, Ford said.

Last October Ford recalled some 26,000 Pintos because of complaints about accelerator pedals sticking when the throttle was opened more than halfway.

Judge Has Power To Reduce Penalty

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the jurors who decreed the death penalty for Charles Manson and his three women co-defendants in the Tate-LaBianca murders says, "I wanted to protect society." A prosecuting attorney says the verdict "reflects community feelings." A defense attorney says it doesn't help anything.

Their comments came late Monday after the jury's decision brought to an end the nine-month-long trial of Manson, 36; Patricia Krenwinkel, 23; Leslie Van Houten, 21, and Susan Atkins, 22.

GAS CHAMBER
The same seven-man, five-woman jury that convicted them of first degree murder and conspiracy last Jan. 25 chose the gas chamber penalty over the only alternative, life imprisonment.

Judge Charles Older has the power to reduce the death penalty to life imprisonment when he formally sentences the four April 19 death sentences are automatically appealed to the state Supreme Court, and Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi says he thinks the case will go to the U.S. Supreme Court.

Manson and the women were not in the courtroom to hear the jury's decision. The judge had banished them for shouting.

'SICK AT HEART'
One women juror later told newsman she felt sorry for the defendants because of their backgrounds, and another, asked if jurors saw any reasons they should have spared the girls, said somberly: "We tried desperately to find some."

It was Manson, dark-eyed leader of a roving hippie-style "family," who scared jurors most, said juror Marie Mesmer.

"He was the leader, the worst... I think he's a dangerous influence on society, highly dangerous. In my verdict, I wanted to protect society."

Defense attorneys' who had made impassioned pleas for "the gift of life," appeared shaken by the verdicts. One wiped his eyes as the sentences were read; another quickly fled the Hall of Justice saying he was "sick at heart."

After the verdict, Bugliosi told newsmen he felt the decision "reflects community feelings" and was "unquestionably the right verdict."

"I feel this case will undoubtedly reach the U.S. Supreme Court," he said. "It was no more easy and pleasurable for this jury to return this verdict than it was for me to ask for it."

Chief Defense counsel Paul Fitzgerald, who defended Miss Krenwinkel and argued that the women were mentally ill from chronic use of LSD, said of the verdict: "I fail to see how it helps anything—this 'country,' this society. The country that kills its problem children denies itself the access to insights, solutions."

Senate To Hear Testimony On House-Passed Tax Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Senate tax bill writers take a last look at the House-passed $492.5 million tax bill today before they start writing a Senate version.

Scheduled for public hearing this afternoon was a House proposal to increase the corporation franchise tax from $3.25 to $3.75 per $1,000 of assets for new income totaling $39.5 million the next two years.

In three earlier hearings last week and Monday the committee heard a long string of witnesses opposing the House recommendation. Not one witness has appeared in favor of any part of the bill.

In Monday's hearing top officials of airlines serving Texas protested that the House tax of five cents a gallon on jet fuel would hurt both their airlines and the state.

Each and every witness warned of two results from such a tax:

—Airlines would be forced to wipe out marginal routes serving many of Texas' smaller cities.

—Airliners on interstate routes would fill up with jet fuel in other states to evade a Texas jet tax.

"This proposed Texas tax would, alone, charge the airlines with approximately $30 million, based on 1970 purchases—nearly three times the total tax collected from all other states (with present jet fuel taxes) combined," said Harding L. Lawrence, chairman of the board of Braniff International.

Finance Director Skips Like Deer As Checks Bounce

HOUSTON (AP)—The finance director of the suburban city of Deer Park has been charged with forgery, city officials said, after an unauthorized $300 check was found drawn on a city account.

Police are seeking Patrick E. Kronin, who has been missing since he left the city March 21 on a personal leave of absence, City Administrator Clovis D. Mann said Monday.

Kronin was charged Saturday with forgery in the court of Peace Justice V. L. West of La. Porte.

Mann said an audit was ordered Monday after several other prenumbered blank checks were unaccounted for.

Fund Transfer To Block Welfare Payments Slash

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and welfare advisors said today a fund transfer will take care of welfare payments to families with dependent children through August without reducing any checks.

They said a bill would be introduced to satisfy reservations of the Welfare Board about the legality of spending the money. But Barnes said there was a "question" in his mind that the bill was needed.

Barnes, Dr. June Hyer and William P. Hobby, a Houston Post executive who served on a special welfare committee, talked with newsmen for almost an hour after holding an equally long meeting with the board and legislators, including Speaker Gus Mutscher.

They said an extra $6.6 million will be needed for financing aid to families with dependent children through Aug. 31, and $5 million already is available in a contingency fund of the welfare department.

The contingency fund should "earn" the additional $1 million or so to make up the $6.6 million.

The fund "earns" federal matching dollars when state money is spent on welfare. The fund was created in 1950 and has been used before to avert a welfare crisis, Hyer said. "I don't remember a time in the past 24 months when we haven't had a welfare crisis," Barnes said. "One reason we're in the shape we are is that politicians haven't had anything to do with welfare programs or tried to understand them."

Barnes said he would include himself in that group in the past.

Probation Terms For Tax Officials

AMARILLO (AP) — Loren Jones, Potter County tax assessor-collector for a decade, was placed on 10 years' probation when he pleaded guilty Monday to three charges of misapplying county funds.

Mrs. Jo Ann Shottlander, 38, formerly assistant cashier in the tax office, was placed on six years probation after pleading guilty to a similar charge.

The probation terms were assessed by Robert H. Bean of Lubbock, retired judge who sat as a special 47th District judge. During five hours of testimony, Dist. Atty. Tom Curtis said Jones had been involved in check kiting with his personal checking account, running some $77,000 through the account in a three-year period. Curtis asked Jones why he could not pay his living expenses with his salary and loans.

"I suppose I could, but once I got started I couldn't stop," Jones explained.

Jones and Mrs. Shottlander were indicted Nov. 6 by a Potter County grand jury after state auditors found shortages of about $35,000 in county funds. Both admitted taking funds which they covered by personal checks left in the cash drawer. Jones made restitution on 31 checks totaling $7,875 and Mrs. Shottlander on 13 checks totaling $1,595.

THEY FACE DEATH IN GAS CHAMBER — Charles Manson and three co-defendants, from left, Susan Atkins, Patricia Krenwinkel, and Leslie Van Houten, walk to court Monday for sentencing in the Sharon Tate murder case. FHA Week Begins With Special Events

Getting the jump on the official beginning of National Future Homemakers Association Week, members of the local high school chapter held a community service day Saturday, collecting almost $150 with an Easter Seal roadblock.

Also, on Saturday, judging was held for FHA state degrees. The five girls earning their degrees were Donna Stanley, Vicki Annen, Julie Allen, Terri Bull and Marilyn Hale.

On Sunday, as part of the week's special activities, the FHA members attended church with their parents. On Monday, which was Spirit Day, the girls provided a large sign which students signed in support of the high school student council's bid for the state presidency.

Today is Color Day, when all FHA girls will wear the organization's colors of red and white. A special feature of Teacher Appreciation Day Wednesday will be the cookies provided in the teachers' lounge and red roses placed in the offices of the principal and assistant principals.

Traditionally, Rose Planting Day on Thursday will feature the planting of a rose bush in the school patio, and Thursday, a high school "Mr. Irresistible" contest will be held, with prizes going to the three boys with the highest scores.

Holding top offices in the local chapter are Miss Stanley, president; Debra Irwin, Miss Bull, Miss Annen, Terry Arcand and Helen Tidwell, first through fifth vice presidents; Sandy Williams, secretary; Cecelia Coffey, treasurer; Ranette Miller, historian; Marilyn Hale, pianist; and Miss Arcand, song leader.

The high school FHA members are joining with 600,000 others across the country in observing the special week. The 1,600 chapters in Texas will carry out special projects and activities to focus on the theme, "FHA Cares."

Altrusans Hear Talk By Sheriff

Sheriff A. N. Standard offered suggestions on "Protection From Assaultants" to members of the Altrusa Club Thursday at Coker's Restaurant.

The best defense methods a woman has, according to Sheriff Standard, are hiding, running, striking and screaming. He said that screaming is usually the best because most assaultants "can't stand the noise."

While traveling alone in a car, Sheriff Standard said women shouldn't pick up hitch hikers or stop to give aid to other cars. He suggested keeping doors locked and windows up, and said that if a woman does stop to talk to someone, she should lower the window only far enough to be heard and not far enough for someone to get a hand in. He said that the rules are for home town driving as well as trip driving.

At home, Sheriff Standard said a dog is often useful for warning a woman about assaultants or for scaring-off the assaultant. He said that if a woman relies on a gun, she should know how to handle it and how to shoot it. If a house is left at night, the garage area or house entrance should be lighted. He also said that a woman should keep screen doors latched, and should always turn on a porch or yard light before opening doors to callers at night.

Sheriff Standard was assisted in his talk by Mrs. E. W. Nail and Mrs. Jack Shaffer of the Howard County Sheriff's Department.

Mrs. Loyd Wooten presided and Sheriff Standard was introduced by Mrs. Homer Petty of the community service committee.

Mrs. E. B. Martin, financial chairman, announced that the club will sponsor a book review at 7:30 p.m., April 23 at the First Federal Community Room. Mrs. Clyde Angel will be the guest speaker. Tickets will cost $1, and the proceeds will go to the Howard County Junior College scholarship fund. The next meeting is at noon, April 8 at Coker's.

Mrs. N. R. Holcombe led the pledge ritual before a table covered with a royal blue satin drape, with a gold ESA insignia. Gold and blue candles were used.

In other ceremonies, Mrs. Bill Norrell received her jewel pin, and Mrs. B. E. Reagan received a 20-year membership pin.

Mrs. Jack Price announced that new officers will be elected at the next meeting, 7:30 p.m., April 8 in the home of Mrs. Charles Utley, 905 E. 14th.

The dinner table was centered with an arrangement of yellow spring flowers, which Mrs. Holcombe won as the attendance prize.

Railroads Ask Congress For $600 Million A Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's railroads asked Congress today for $600 million a year to avoid full-scale government takeover and put them on equal footing with other modes of transportation.

"The country is at a crossroads with its railroads," said George Smathers, a former Florida senator who now is a counsel to the Association of American Railroads.

"If nothing is done to restore the industry's financial viability, service will deteriorate further, earnings will decline even more, additional railroads will be forced into bankruptcy," Smathers said.

"Government takeover," he added, "would then be the only solution, since the country must have rail service."

He estimated cost of nationalization at from $27 billion to $60 billion or nearly double the projected costs of the ambitious industry proposal to save itself with government help.

Smathers, in testimony prepared for a hearing of the Senate surface transportation subcommittee, said nationalization has failed to reverse huge rail deficits, in France, West Germany and Japan.

Today's session marked the start of a lengthy inquiry into the railroads' mounting problems—a probe subcommittee Chairman Vance Hartke, D-Ind., says eventually should take a searching look at the failure of the Penn Central, the nation's largest rail carrier. Smathers presented a report by America's Sound Transportation Review Organization—ASTRO. The industry study calls for government-industry expenditures of $36 billion over the next 11 years and a drastic overhaul of federal regulations.

Smathers noted four railroads serving half the country's population already are in reorganization. "There are two root causes of this financial crisis—an outdated regulatory system geared to a transportation monopoly that hasn't existed for decades and government spending policies that have treated other modes more favorably than railroads," Smathers said.

He Paid Ex-Convict $500 To Scare Estranged Wife

HOUSTON (AP) — All William S. Halcomb Jr., 43, wanted police said, was for his estranged wife to return to him.

That is why, officers said he told them Monday, he hired Joseph Wilson, 36, for $500 to go to her apartment Sunday and frighten her.

Police related these details: Wilson an ex-convict, forced his way into the apartment of Joann Halcomb, 31, threatened her with a knife and tried to rob her.

Mrs. Halcomb, an agent for the Texas Bureau of Pardons and Paroles, in turn hit Wilson with a club which had been taken from one of her parolees, then stabbed him to death with his own knife as they struggled.

Halcomb, a foreign representative for LeTourneau Offshore, Inc., told officers he hired Wilson, rented a car for him and bought him rope to tie up his wife and pliers to cut her phone wire, all in an effort to scare her.

TRUTH TEST

The Halcombs were married in January of 1969. He said she served commitment papers on him last March 18 and he was admitted to Jefferson Davis Hospital for a psychiatric examination.

At the hospital, Halcomb said, he met Wilson, who had entered voluntarily for treatment of alcoholism.

The plan, Halcomb said, called for Wilson to go to his wife's apartment, tie her up and "show her that she couldn't be as independent as she wanted to be—I wanted her to think she needed me."

Halcomb was questioned after officers found the car used by Wilson and a young woman who accompanied him to the apartment was rented by the husband. He made the statements after taking a lie detector test.

"It was all a tragic mistake in its entire conception," Halcomb told questioners. "I love my wife and have a great deal of respect for her and for what she did."

TRAGIC MISTAKE

Mrs. Halcomb said the woman with Wilson asked to come into the apartment to look up a name in a telephone book. Mrs. Halcomb refused, she said, and Wilson broke down the door.

A 22-year-old woman surrendered to authorities at the Jeff Davis psychiatric ward Monday afternoon, saying she was with Wilson Sunday afternoon. She was found to have escaped from the state mental hospital in Austin three days ago and authorities said she would be returned there.

Halcomb was in jail Monday night and police said they were preparing charges against him.

Use of caution and abjectly helps very much. Keep alert.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can rid yourself of worries quietly and quickly now without involving others concerning them. If you are in the right monetary bracket, assist one in trouble willingly. Show you are a humanitarian.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Steer clear of social activities and keep out of trouble, utilizing your time for more practical pursuits. Working alone can gain you the personal aims you want so badly. Show that you are calm, cool and collected.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't take any risks whatsoever in any realm of your endeavor now or you will regret it later. Show bigwigs that you are an A-1 citizen. Steer clear of anything of a detrimental nature.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Although you would like to make some radical changes, this would only get you into deeper trouble. See where you have made errors and fix them. Show only your finest qualities to others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) You want to shove those responsibilities into a corner, but this would be detrimental to your advancement, so handle them efficiently instead. Prove that you are consistent, can be relied upon. Steer clear of trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Associates could be quite annoying as the month ends, but don't show your feelings and tomorrow all will be fine again. Keep promises you have made and show your good will. Make allowances for March idiosyncrasies.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You scarcely know where to begin with work ahead of you, but if you do the most important first, all is fine. Then log along pleasantly with the rest — workers are not in a very good mood — please them, be silent yourself.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You had better be with friends who are trustworthy and do not make you spend too much money for pleasure today. Get important work done first, though.

German Born, But Not German

WIESBADEN, Germany (AP) — Almost 36,000 infants born in West Germany during 1969 had non-German parents, the Federal Statistics Office reports. In 1960 only 4,000 children were born to foreigners. Since then there has been a marked increase in the foreign-labor force.

Time For Action

The Legislature is taking a close and serious look at the proposed new code of criminal procedure. This is encouraging news. The code is the result of many years of work by competent and experienced students of the law — judges, prosecutors, defense lawyers, professors and others.

It's an excellent revision of a jumbled, often vague and confusing patchwork of a century of legislation, not always by sensible persons.

The code aims at speedier trials on more clearly defined law. It protects defendants but it also protects society by making possible tougher penalties for repeaters. It makes criminal law more enforceable, less subject to error and appeal. It can become the tool for swifter dealing with criminals.

Most of the objections voiced publicly have been couched in exaggerated terms. Some objectors fear change because they don't understand it or are so unambitious that they choose not to understand it.

Any serious student of the courts and the whole process of criminal procedure will admit we have a clumsy, inefficient, often unfair system — the way it works under the present code.

The proposed code — with the means for insuring penalties will be served as well as the means for giving rehabilitation a fair chance — is a great opportunity to give Texas a criminal code equal to the quality of its Department of Corrections.

We are never going to come up with the perfect code, but there is need of a better one that we now have. If bugs appear, they can be worked out. To pass over this session without action may mean a disposition to do this indefinitely.

Watch For Those Bars

Automobile tires being manufactured these days have built-in tread wear indicators, familiarly known as "wear bars." Federal law requires them. The Tire Industry Safety Council endorses them, and points out that keeping an eye on the indicators is a good way to improve your chances in fast highway traffic.

When the wear bars appear in two or more adjacent grooves of a tire, that means only one-sixteenth of an inch of tread remains. At this point, the council advises, it's time to get new tires.

Simple. There's just one little thing: The system's no good unless the motorists keeps tabs on where the wear bars are.

Artist And Heroes

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

My daughter, Becky, who lives in California, is like her mother in that she is a born bookworm and incurable bookstore browser.

A couple of weeks ago she wrote the following letter.

"DEAR MOMMA, remember when we spent the night at Peter Hurd's guest house in New Mexico? What a marvelous experience. Well, David and I were in this fabulous old bookstore the other day and I bought the July 4, 1945, edition of Life magazine. It was a special edition of art, by and about the soldiers at war. Leafing through it, I found a 20-page section of Peter Hurd's paintings of the war and a full-page article about him. He was a 39-year-old Life artist then, and there's a photo. He was quite a handsome young man — but then he still is, really. I'll send you a photo copy of the article if you like, but here's a part of it now:

"AFTER HIS RETURN to his ranch at San Patricio, N.M., where he completed more Air Force paintings, Hurd wrote:

"Now, sitting here in the New Mexico sun, my experiences with these boys seems suddenly remote in time as well as distance. They seem like a band of legendary heroes, although I know well that they themselves would be the first to scoff at such an idea. All in all, it was the biggest adventure I have ever had — living the life of constant excitement that is the life on a bomber station.

"THEY HAVE the look of veterans, these youngsters in their late teens and early twenties. United in their supreme purpose, they have looked death in the face repeatedly and unflinchingly. They are inviolable realists and know well the odds for and against their survival. But there is in them a will to endure beyond this struggle, if not as living men of flesh and blood, then in literature or in painting. So I had no lack of models.

"ONE THING was quickly apparent as I grew to know them well. There is no norm for a flier. They are of many types and classes and seem to have in common only courage, a love for flying, and above all, a belief in America's future as a free nation."

Dick's Letters

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — President Nixon pulled out all stops in trying to rally enough Senate votes to get the funding of the SST passed. Although he failed, he should get high marks for every tactic he used.

One that came to light, just a few hours before the vote, was a letter he had hand-delivered to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine saying that he intended to keep open the Portsmouth Naval Base in New Hampshire, where many citizens from Maine are employed.

SEN. SMITH became so indignant at what she considered an attempted bribe to get her to vote for the SST that she released the "Dear Margaret" letter to the press and then voted against the supersonic transport.

While this was a setback for Mr. Nixon, it's doubtful that this will be the last such attempt to win over votes by promising federal projects to various senators.

The next big bill President Nixon hopes to get through is his revenue-sharing measure for cities and states, and we can just see a spate of letters being sent off to the Hill a few hours before that vote.

They'll probably go like this:

DEAR CLINTON,

After consulting with the Defense Department, I have decided to go ahead with the building of a submarine naval base in New Mexico for $100 million. The base when fully built will employ 20,000 people and will bring to New Mexico another $500 million in wages and industry.

Because New Mexico is not connected to any major waterway, I have concluded that this would be the safest place for a submarine base. The Navy is now working on methods of land transportation to deliver and bring back the submarines from the sea. You have my permission to announce this, and Mrs. Nixon and I are looking forward to seeing you at Tricia's wedding.

Sincerely,
Dick

DEAR JIM,

As you probably know, we've been looking for a new site for our atomic underground tests, and the AEC has recommended Westchester County in New York as the ideal place. (Underneath the Penn Central railroad tracks.)

I thought since you were a freshman senator, and because of my affection for your brother Bill, that you would like to hear about it before Jake Javits. The AEC plans on spending $300 million and hiring 600 people, which will bring great prosperity to the area. After the revenue-sharing vote this morning, why not come over to the White House and have lunch? I'd love to meet your sister.

Cheers,
Dick

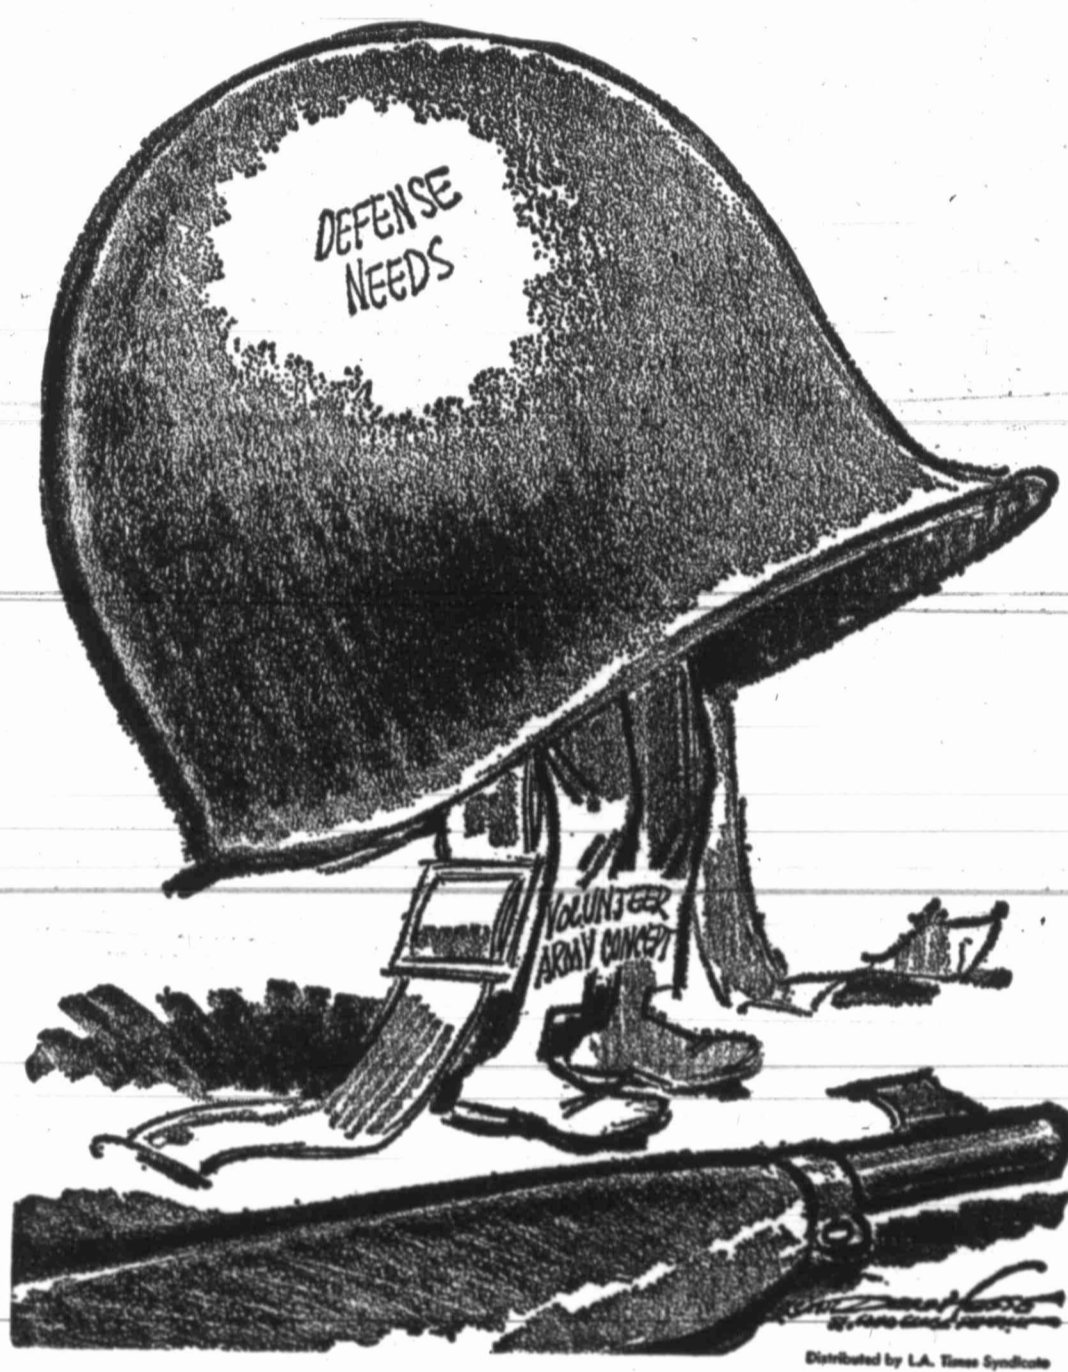

DEAR STROM,

It's hard to squeeze one more military base into Charleston, S. C., but our defense people think they can do it. What's your poison?

Sincerely,
Dick

P. S. Julie and David said they'd baby-sit for you any time you and Mrs. Thurmond want to go out.

Flood Insurance Scarce

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Many on individual property owners as on town governments, which are facing the spring thaw this year without having made any force certain land-use control measures prior to Dec. 31, 1971. The availability of coverage results from the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, which created a business-government partnership between the National Flood Insurers Association and the Federal Insurance Administration.

Once a community has been declared eligible, flood insurance policies may be purchased from any local property and casualty insurance agent or broker.

However, records show that to date only 500 communities have become eligible for protection, leaving several thousand that have flooded in the past still vulnerable.

Insurance officials blame the situation in inertia and on the overly optimistic attitude that "it can't happen again," but some resistance is believed to come from community officials reluctant to take orders from outside.

In some shorefront communities, for example, the chief attraction for tourists and businesses is the nearness to the water, the very areas that might be excluded from protection as flood prone.

Among the regulations are these: —Areas of a community most frequently flooded are to be used for open space purposes, such as for playgrounds, parks, parking areas and storage.

—Less frequently flooded sections are to be used for industry, commerce and multi-story residential buildings, with controls on first-floor use.

According to the Insurance Information Institute, some communities which have been considering the program may still have time to qualify and be eligible for protection this spring.

"Policies will be effective immediately as issued during the first 30 days the insurance becomes available in an eligible local area," a spokesman said.

Policies purchased after the first 30 days of a community's eligibility incur a 15-day waiting period.

Agnew's Attacks

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The institutions of representative self-government are fragile if only because they rest in the last resort on public confidence and trust. That goes with special force for the media — the concept of a free press, and the question inevitably arises whether Vice President Spiro Agnew is deliberately out to erode confidence in an institution that has survived since the founding of the Republic.

DURING HIS entire term Agnew has attacked the media. He concentrates on those elements in press and television critical to the Administration to such a degree that it looks like blatant intimidation.

He is centering a lot of his fire on the Columbia Broadcasting System, "The Selling of the Pentagon," to support his charge of bias and slanted reporting.

THE DOCUMENTARY, run twice on the network, was a powerful presentation of the huge resources of the Department of Defense and how they are used to convince millions of Americans that the military is the embodiment of the good, the true and the beautiful.

Agnew and Chairman F. Edward Hebert of the House Armed Services Committee, successor to the late Mendel Rivers, found specific flaws in the film. Hebert said an interview he had with an Army colonel was used under false pretenses. Statements made by military men were taken out of context, according to Agnew.

THE WHOLE episode might have been forgotten, as public information men in the Pentagon hoped it would be, had it not been for the vice president. He chose a speech in Massachusetts at the Middlesex Club to fire his heaviest broadside. Not only did he attack the Pentagon film but he went back to two earlier documentaries, "Project Nassau" and "Hunger in America." Of the latter he said that CBS had represented a baby as dying from malnutrition when that was untrue. On "Project Nassau" he renewed his charge that CBS had paid to bring off, without success, a rebellion in Haiti and then film it.

IN THE Congressional campaign last fall Agnew won the favor of conservative Republicans who helped to bring about the Nixon nomination in 1968. They are his constituency, and if the President contemplates dumping Agnew in 1972 he can count on their opposition to any such move. This may be the explanation of his continual rousing of old animosities toward the media.

BUT AGNEW'S personal fortunes are for the long pull unimportant when measured against the strength and weaknesses of the institutions that sustain a free society. Like all human institutions the media is a long way from perfection. It is often over-competitive, so bent on the immediate sensation, the day's headline, that the underlying cause and effect are lost to view.

In his book, "To Kill a Messenger," William Small, Washington news director for CBS, puts it aptly. It is a struggle between the real world and the fantasy world of the extreme right and the extreme left. They both want to kill the messenger who tries to tell it like it is.

Old Vehicle

NEW YORK (AP) — One of man's oldest vehicles for transportation actually gave rise to one of his newest sports. Tobogganing, developed in Canada around 1880, traces its history back at least 15,000 years to Neolithic man, who fashioned the popular coasting toy from wooden strips and animal skins, and used it for hauling supplies. Three million U.S. coasters will hit the slopes during 1971, according to Steve Moorehead, product manager for Welch Toboggans.

NEW YORK (AP) — If he hadn't become one of filmdom's top 10 box-office stars, Clint Eastwood says he would enjoy being a criminal lawyer.

"An attorney for the defense, not a prosecutor," he added. "It sounds more noble."

As a youth the 6-foot-4-inch actor was something of a drifter and a loner—he worked as a lumberjack and a steel mill laborer—and today, despite a crinkly grin that makes him look disarmingly boyish, he still has an air of aloofness about him.

He gives the impression of a man in charge of his own destiny. His mind moves before his mouth does. Asked a question, he stares a while through green eyes that hold a muzzie quality, before answering it with words slow and few.

His saga is familiar. After appearing in a dozen or more films in which it was hard to tell him from the scenery, Clint starred for more than seven years in "Rawhide," a television series.

He then took his saddle sores to Italy, where he earned a fortune in three low-budgeted horse operas that made him an international star and whose profits won the awe of Hollywood.

How he has his own company, Malpasco Productions, which can pay him $1 million or more a picture. It is as much for his business acumen as for his acting ability that the industry envies him.

Eastwood is a thoughtful man, made so perhaps by his early years of solitary self-reliance and independence.

Life to him, he said, "means many things—freedom, tranquility, creativity and activity. It is to get away from the stuffy effects of the industrial that Clint bought a refuge at Carmel, Calif., for himself, his wife Maggie, a former model, and their small son, Kyle Clinton.

The actor's latest film is "The Beguiled," a Civil War drama. He also recently directed "Play Misty for Me," in which he plays a popular disc jockey besegged by a sexy young fan.

"I fired myself three times in that one," he remarked. I think it's better to do one or the other—act or direct. To do both is insanity, unless you are merely appearing in a cameo role."

What is his goal? "Maybe it's a swear word today—but just to entertain. I don't feel I have any major social message to impart. But if there is an underlying message in the film, that's fine. It's the difference between the saber and the foil."

From 'Drifter' To 'Star'

My Answer

I have a neighbor, an elderly widow, who is very active in church work. However, she is constantly saying malicious and critical things about her neighbors. How can I handle this? K. D. In the Bible, in II Samuel, chapters 11 and 12, we have the record of the two great sins committed by King David. God wanted to rebuke him and sent his servant to tell him a story about a rich man who had taken the pet lamb of a poor neighbor to feed his own guest. When David heard the story, he was rightly incensed and vowed punishment on the guilty party. God's prophet then said to David: "Thou art the man." With that accusation, David was convicted of his own sin.

In the case which you mention, the wise course may be to use an illustration showing the sin of harsh criticisms of others. Tell how one may throw out a bag of feathers and then find it utterly impossible to pick them all up again because the wind has scattered them beyond recall. In the same way, harsh words and gossip are easily spoken, but they can never be fully retrieved. Be frank with this person and show how such conduct dishonors the Name of the One she professes to follow. Pray for her — and if she is willing pray with her. That which neither you nor she can change, God can change, and He will.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you. (John 14:27)
PRAYER: Our Father, help me to trust You today as Jesus trusted You. Help me to remember that You are with me at all times and You offer peace to me today. I receive that peace now. I pray in the strong name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Nixon Stakes Out Flexible Wage, Price Boundaries

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has staked out flexible wage and price boundaries for the inflation-ridden construction industry in an order backed by the government's massive power of the purse.

OIL Wildcat Staked Near Another

Another wildcat in the potential discovery area southeast of Big Spring has been staked. It is the Champlin Oil No. 1 Flammagan, a mile and a half east of the Kadane No. 1 Morgan Ranch wildcat which has recovered free oil in the Wolfcamp and Leonard.

Administration officials said the plan also calls for review of existing contracts in which large wage increases have been deferred until this year or next.

Although the wage constraints, as the administration called them, are flexible, officials said pay increases generally would be held to an average of about 6 per cent a year.

The wage restrictions stop short of full-scale controls because they will be regulated by a system of craft-by-craft, labor-management review boards, administration officials said.

LOCATIONS

HOWARD Wildcat, 8,200 — Champlin Petroleum No. 1 L. R. Flammagan, 1,980 from the north and 600 from the west lines section 25-32-15, T&P four miles southeast of Big Spring and one and a half a mile east of Kadane No. 1 Morgan Ranch which is testing through perforations 7,204-7,212.

Administration officials said the plan also calls for review of existing contracts in which large wage increases have been deferred until this year or next.

Administration officials said the construction industry agreed to the Nixon plan only because union leaders feared suspension of the Davis-Bacon Act would allow many nonunion builders to land government contracts.

The craft-by-craft boards will determine whether negotiated wage agreements fall within the pattern of 6-per-cent yearly wage increases won during 1961 through 1968.

There will be similar boundaries for prices, but administration officials said those limitations have not been developed.

Administration officials said Nixon has no authority to set up restraints on profits in the industry.

The President's power to restrain or freeze wages and prices comes from standby authority approved last year by Congress. A bill extending the authority to June 1 was passed 183 to 143 by the House Monday and sent to the Senate.

AFTER FLOOR FIGHT OVER STOCK DEALINGS

House Turns To Liquor By Drink

AUSTIN (AP) — Still a little groggy after a long floor fight over a "stock scandal" investigation, House members take their first plunge into the liquor by the drink issue today.

The House Liquor Regulation Committee scheduled an afternoon hearing on the Senate-passed bill legalizing sale of mixed drinks in restaurants and bars.

While attention centered on the House's three-hour investigation debate Monday, senators stayed busy passing major education and insurance bills.

MOST IMPORANT
A measure setting up a form of permanent voter registration, under which a person would register automatically by voting at least once every four years, went to the House on a 22-8 vote.

Senators also sent to the House a bill allowing the State Insurance Board to regulate insurance holding companies.

The board called the bill the most important measure for regulating the insurance business since 1955, when the present Insurance Code was enacted.

Senators also passed to the House a bill by Sen. Jim Bates, Edinburg, creating a commission to study property taxes and—in Bates' words—"encourage some of these local governments to collect their delinquent taxes rather than come to the state for more money."

In a long debate session Monday that carried hungry lawmakers past their usual lunch break, the House:

—Voted 143-0 to set up the House General Investigating Committee, which House Speaker Gus Mutscher said he would appoint before the Easter holidays.

—Approved, 128-16, a resolution asking several state agencies and professional associations to investigate the collapse of the Sharpstown State Bank of Houston, the "enjoining of National Bankers Life Insurance Co." and "related matters."

BANK BILLS
But they rejected four attempts at a more specific probe of the passage of two bank deposit insurance bills in 1969. The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission alleged in a suit filed in Dallas Jan. 18 that quick-profit stock deals were arranged for several state officials to induce passage of the bills.

According to the SEC petition, the bills were designed so that Sharpstown State Bank could avoid examination by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Mutscher, Gov. Preston Smith, Rep. W.S. Healy of Paducah, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and state Democratic Chairman Elmer Baum all told SEC investigators they borrowed large sums from Sharpstown in 1969 to speculate in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock. They denied any connection between the stock deals and the two banking bills, and none is a defendant in the SEC suit.

"Those of you who feel an investigation should be made, you have here the vehicle by which an investigation can be made," said Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi, sponsor of the General Investigating committee resolution.

COMPLETE RECORD

The other resolution, by Rep. Carl Parker of Port Arthur, instructs the attorney general, state banking commissioner, state securities commissioner, state insurance commissioner and the presidents of the State Bar of Texas, Texas Bankers Association, and Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants to make an investigation.

The agencies and associations would file with the attorney general and the House Investigating Committee "the complete record of all factual information with regard to closing of the Sharpstown State Bank, the enjoining of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. and all related matters as soon as practicable."

Mutscher has stated he thinks the investigating committee should conduct its work—whatever it chooses to investigate—after the legislature adjourns May 31.

ONCE AND FOR ALL
"The air must be cleared once and for all. The publicity surrounding the current SEC activities must be fully explored. I want the members of the House and people of this state to know the facts. Facts—not innuendos, not distortions. I want to emphasize that I do not want the results of these resolutions you pass to be a white-wash nor a witch-hunt. The facts must be laid before the public," Mutscher told the House before debate began.

Several members said privately that lobbyists asked them to reject any attempt at major changes in the Hale and Parker resolutions.

It became clear early that Mutscher had the votes to pass the two measures—which had his blessing—without significant amendments.

Representatives tabled, 110-35, an amendment by Rep. Tom Bass of Houston to require Mutscher to appoint the investigating committee in 10 days.

Then they tabled, 108-35, an amendment by Bass to the Hale resolution that would have required the investigating committee specifically to probe circumstances surrounding passage of the two banking bills.

Rep. Tom Moore of Waco was defeated, 105-38, in an effort to compel the investigating committee to see whether state bribery laws were violated in connection with the two banking bills.

BRIBERY?

"This is an allegation of nothing less than bribery," Moore said of the SEC suit. "It is incumbent upon us to lay the facts bare and put this dog to rest one way or another."

He pointed out that the investigating committee decides what to probe unless the House instructs it.

"The committee may investigate . . . or they may not, and the public will be on our backs unless we pass this amendment," Moore said.

"Is it your motive to investigate or accuse?" asked Parker.

"I don't think that question is worthy of an answer, and you ought to be ashamed of yourself," Moore replied.

Parker later told him, "If we incorporate those accusations in writing in your amendment, we will be giving credence to those accusations."

"That baby already has been born. This merely acknowledges it," Moore replied.

Wade Choate New Director

Wade Choate, manager of the Webb AFB Federal Credit Union, was elected for a two-year term as director of the Board of the Texas Credit Union League at the annual meeting in Fort Worth.

Choate who succeeded Mrs. Laura Lemon, Abilene Teachers Credit Union in Abilene, representing the Midwest district credit unions, will serve on the executive committee of the league. The Midwest district includes Abilene, San Angelo, Colorado City and Big Spring.

Harold Marsh, Dyess AFB Federal Credit Union, was elected as the other director from the Midwest district, replacing Duke Baker, Big Spring Educators Credit Union. Neither Mrs. Lemon or Baker sought re-election.

UTPB Groundbreaking Ceremonies Wednesday

The University of Texas of the Permian Basin development committee of the Odessa Chamber of Commerce, headed by John Ben Shepperd, is making arrangements for groundbreaking ceremonies for the first building on the UTPB campus.

These will be Wednesday at 10 a.m. on the UTPB site.

Chairman of the University of Texas system board of regents, John Peace, will deliver the major address at the groundbreaking. Peace, who was elected chairman of the University of Texas system board March 12, has been active in the development of UTPB as chairman of the regents committee on buildings and grounds.

J. H. Creekmore, president of Houston Endowment Foundation, will present a check for $130,000 to Chairman Peace for use in constructing the building to house the planning offices for UTPB.

In ceremonies at 11:30, Mrs. Peace will formally open the Presidential Museum exhibit "Contributions of the Presidents to the Arts." Following the exhibit opening a reception will be held for the Peace's and Creekmore at the Presidential Museum. Peace will address a luncheon of the Presidential Museum membership.

Dowdy Returns To Congress Still Charged With Bribery

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sixty pounds lighter with a weak right leg and a fouled-up stomach, Rep. John Dowdy has returned to Congress after a seven-month absence.

He resumed his seat Monday, almost a year after being indicted on charges of perjury and accepting a $25,000 bribe to defray federal investigation of a home-repair firm. At the time of the alleged crimes, he was chairman of a subcommittee looking into urban renewal practices in the District of Columbia in the early 1960s.

There was no fanfare as Dowdy took a seat six rows back from the well of the House chamber. Member after member came by to shake his hand.

Most moved on. But some of the Texans, such as Rep. Olin Teague sat and chatted awhile. "I didn't notice any restraint. There was no embarrassment by anyone. Several people mentioned he'd lost weight," said another Texan, Rep. Richard White, an El Paso Democrat among the hand-shakers.

Dowdy, a Democrat from East Texas, said later only one or two persons asked about his scheduled last fall, Dowdy became ill in Texas and subsequently had a back operation to correct an injury plaguing him since he was 15. He later got pneumonia and antibiotics given him to counteract it nearly destroyed his digestive system. He lost 35 pounds in as many days. And now, he said, he has neither energy nor appetite.

When reporters called Dowdy off the House floor Monday, he walked laboriously and sank quickly into a cushioned couch in the cloakroom.

A court-assigned physician says Dowdy is able to stand trial; Dowdy's doctor says he cannot.

Dowdy maintains he will be able to handle the job of chairman of an education subcommittee on the D.C. committee, however. He plans to confer with the chairman, Rep. John McMillan, D-S.C., about pending business but has no doubts about his ability to do the job.

trial set for May 3 in Baltimore.

"Those who know me know it stems out of the work our committee did," Dowdy said. Shortly before his trial was

LETTER Thanks For Help At Fire

TO THE EDITOR:

Concerning the recent fire in the Silver Heels area, I wish to express our gratitude for the immediate response of those I asked for help, specifically Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., Webb AFB, and the Howard County fire fighting units. In addition, I want to thank our many friends who came to help both during and after the crisis.

Without a brief and miraculous wind change, and the able help of Rene Brown, Joe Moss and Jerry Jenkins, who prevented the fire in our barn from re-igniting the area, hosed water on our roof, and gave me hope when I had none, I believe our house surely would have caught fire.

Also, I want to thank the Howard County road and bridge department for the use of a water truck in augmenting and replenishing our water supply.

And a special thanks to our wonderful neighbors, Tom and Carol Ann Ivey, who came quickly and assisted in every possible way.

Fighter-Bombers Attack Red Artillery Batteries

SAIGON (AP) — Four American jet fighter-bombers streaked across the Ben Hai River today and attacked North Vietnamese artillery batteries in the northern half of the demilitarized zone, the U.S. Command said.

The four planes returned safely, the command said, but it gave no indication if they hit the enemy guns.

The first indication that the U.S. Command was planning a strike north of the river separating North and South Vietnam came last week when the Pentagon reported that the North Vietnamese had moved field artillery pieces into the six-mile-wide buffer zone.

GUN TARGETS

American field commanders just below the DMZ said about a dozen 122mm guns had been positioned several weeks before, apparently in response to the U.S. and South Vietnamese buildup just below the zone concurrent with the drive into Laos.

The commanders said the guns had not been fired against targets in the South and probably would not be since the threat of a South Vietnamese drive north appeared to have diminished. But they said the guns had a 13-mile range, were in the central sector of the zone and could hit any of several U.S. and South Vietnamese fire bases in the old McNamara Line below the DMZ.

A communique said 225 enemy soldiers were killed in a five-hour battle. Field reports said more than 50 government troops were killed and 130 wounded.

The communique said the fighting began shortly before midnight Sunday when enemy troops pounded an armored cavalry command post and infantry battalion south of Route 7 with about 100 heavy mortars, then made a ground attack that wounded six government soldiers.

INFANTRY RIPS

An hour later, the nearby headquarters of the 5th South Vietnamese Task Force, spearhead of the 7½-week-old campaign against enemy bases in eastern Cambodia, was hit by about 160 rounds of 82mm and 120mm mortars.

Enemy gunners resumed shelling the armor and infantry positions with another 100 rounds after dawn, then sent 10 mortars crashing in a ranger position. The South Vietnamese cavalry and infantry counter-attacked at noon, plowing into an enemy regiment just south of the plantation. They called in cavalry and ranger reinforcements, South Vietnamese artillery and American helicopter gunship support.

In another development, Fire Base Mary Ann south of Da Nang was shelled again during the night, but the U.S. Command said there were no more American casualties. In a devastating sapper attack on the base early Sunday, at least 33 Americans were killed and 76 wounded. The base's command bunker was knocked out and virtually all of its officers killed or wounded.

Unique Library Has Aid For Blind

MIDLAND — A unique library is in operation in Midland — it offers books for the blind.

The Midland Tape Lending Library, which recently moved into a new building at 202 North C, has more than 1,350 tapes available in categories which include novels, Bible selections, textbooks, short stories, Reader's Digests, Guideposts and even a collection of readings of the Dr. Seuss stories for children. Classical music tapes also are available.

The tapes are available to anyone, and the library will check out to handicapped persons such equipment as recorders, pillow speakers, headphones and record players.

In addition to the tapes the library also has records, books with extra large print and Braille books. The library also recently acquired a Braille writer.

PULLING OUT

Farther north, a U.S. artillery unit pulling out of the Khe Sanh base was ambushed on the edge of the Khe Sanh plateau. Two Americans were reported killed and eight wounded.

The artillery unit was one of many American outfits that have been pulling out of the Khe Sanh area after supporting the South Vietnamese drive into Laos. Military sources say they expect all U.S. ground forces to be out of the area by the end of the week.

Better Tell All

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our son, 23, spent two years in Vietnam and came home in '68 with lots of medals. He has been a wonderful son in every way and has never given us any trouble. He met a sweet girl a year later and they were married. The marriage lasted seven months, and a divorce was agreed upon. Now he has met another girl (also very nice) whom he wants to marry as soon as his divorce is final, but he doesn't want to tell her he has been married before. I told my son that this is no way to start a marriage. My son claims if he tells her, she won't want him. What steps shall I take?

WHERE TO TURN DEAR WHERE: Start by trying to convince your son that he must tell his fiancée the truth, and if she won't have him because of his previous marriage, he's ahead to know it now. The very basis for a lasting marriage is the willingness of both parties to accept the other as he is! If your son is not mature enough to realize this and refuses to listen, he stands to be a two-time loser in short order.

DEAR ABBY: A boy (I'll call him Bertram) asked me to the St. Valentine's Day dance at school. He is 15, and so am I. My mother helped me to make a dress, and I was so excited the night before I could hardly sleep. The morning of the dance, Bertram called, and in a very weak voice said he couldn't go because he had been in a bad motorcycle accident. I was surprised as I never knew Bertram even drove a motorcycle. I felt terrible about missing the dance, but told him to just get well fast and not to worry about me. An hour later my mother called Bertram's mother to find out what hospital he was in so we could send him a plant. His mother said, "Hospital? He's not in any hospital. He looked feverish and his forehead felt hot so I took his temperature. It was 101, so I told him he couldn't go out."

Now when I see Bertram at school he avoids me. Abby, why did he make up that lie about the motorcycle? I would have understood if he had told me the truth. I'd like for him to know I don't hold anything against him, but how can I without running after him?

LOST OUT DEAR LOST: He made up that lie because he was too embarrassed to tell you the truth. Besides, a "motorcycle accident" sounds much more glamorous than a temperature of 101. He's avoiding you because he knows his mother tipped his mitt. Be patient. He'll come around.

DEAR ABBY: I just read your Confidential to M.C. Abby, I don't know what M.C. wrote, but please don't back down. I'm sure you must have cheered every working person in San Francisco with your first suggested replay to panhandlers. ("Nothing doing, Buddy. Earn your own bread.")

I work in downtown San Francisco, and it is impossible to go out for lunch without being approached two or three times for a handout. I don't object to blind people asking for donations, or even the street musicians who at least are giving something in return for the money they get, but I resent able-bodied young men and women who approach everyone wearing clean clothes, and ask for a handout.

"WORKING STIFF"

Gas In Silo

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, a farmer, 48 years old, was taken to the hospital last fall by ambulance for serious breathing difficulty and coughing. He was taken to the intensive care unit and given oxygen and fluid in his veins. The doctor said his trouble was caused by silo gas — he had just finished filling two silos. We are told that farmers are advised to wear gas masks when it is necessary to work around silos, but nobody knows where to buy them. Can you tell us? Many would like to know before the next silo-filling season. — Mrs. H.U.

Silo-filler's disease is caused by inhaling nitrogen dioxide, a product of decomposition of silo material. It can cause acute bronchitis — so severe that it can be fatal, and a person who has suffered from inhaling this gas should be observed for several weeks following the accident. As to where to get a gas mask, I'm afraid I'm no authority. I would suggest checking with one of the police agencies (sheriff's department, police department in town, state police) or possibly a National Guard unit. Or perhaps the Farm Bureau could give you a ready answer. Or the extension service of one of the agricultural schools. Doubtless somebody among the readers of this column will have the answer, and if he will send the information to me, I'll get it in print before the next silo-filling season is upon us.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband has been a diabetic for six or seven months. Can he eat honey in small amounts? Isn't honey good for the nerves? He has neuritis very bad. — Mrs. J.M.S.

Honey is mostly sugar, and sugar is what a diabetic can't handle efficiently, so, no, he shouldn't eat honey. (Honey will not do a bit of good for his neuritis anyway.)

I think further that you ought to read a good book on diabetes — or send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and ask for my booklet, "Diabetes, The Sneaky Disease."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am planning on getting married soon and would like information about douching as a birth control method. — Miss G.

It is not a reliable method for that purpose.

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Better Methods For Heart Swaps

McAlLEN, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Denton Cooley, the noted heart surgeon, says research is under way on improved methods of transplanting hearts and that there will be more such operations in the future.

There have been 33 heart transplants in Houston performed by teams headed by Dr. Cooley and Dr. Michael DeBakey, but none in more than a year.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT — Two rookies who are bringing smiles to San Francisco Giants manager Charley Fox are pitcher Steve Stone (left) and shortstop Chris Speier. Stone has been impressive with his control and the way he gets opposing batters out. Speier has been rapping the ball with authority and moving smoothly in the shortstop position. Both will be with the club when it opens the regular season. Speier is expected to open the season at short.

Lonborg, Hershberger Both At Crossroads

By The Associated Press
The baseball careers of veteran pitcher Jim Lonborg and outfielder Mike Hershberger remained up in the air today following contrasting performances while that of young Terry Crowley took a decided turn for the worse.
Lonborg, who hasn't been the same since a sking accident following Boston's 1967 pennant, pitched five unimpressive innings in an 11-4 exhibition rout of Houston, with Don Pavlich hitting two home runs. The tall right-hander yielded three runs, six hits, walked three and threw two wild pitches.
"I want to do what is best for him and the club," said Manager Eddie Kasko. "I have a couple of deals pending, but if nothing happens I would be inclined to leave him here."
Hershberger, dropped by Milwaukee and trying to catch back on with his old club, the Chicago White Sox, delivered a game-winning single in the ninth inning for a 7-6 victory over Pittsburgh. The Sox trailed right-hander yielded three runs, six hits, walked three and threw two wild pitches.
"I want to do what is best for him and the club," said Manager Eddie Kasko. "I have a couple of deals pending, but if nothing happens I would be inclined to leave him here."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
CHET GLADCHUCK and AL LUKECZEK, Boston College football co-captains, when they approached members of the Clemson team prior to the Cotton Bowl game in 1940:
"Look, fellows, we're here to play you a good football game, but not to re-fight the Civil War. Our parents were back in the old country in those days."
WALT ALSTON, manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers:
"We waited seven years for Sandy Koufax to develop into a winner. You couldn't consider trading the boy, because anybody who could throw the ball that fast had to be kept around. He was so wild it was unbelievable, not wide or high, but all over. Then all of a sudden, he found it. Control — thanks to his own perseverance and the constant efforts of Joe Becker, our coach. Sandy never lost it again. He pitched the corners. He must have been a great pitcher because he couldn't field, couldn't hold a man on base, couldn't bunt or hit worth a lick. I will say he didn't have too much worry about pickoffs because not many men got on base, but he had to do it all with his arm. He had no other way of helping himself."
RICHIE ALLEN, acquired by the Dodgers from St. Louis in a trade:
"I'd like to think I'm worth more than Ted Stizmore and Bob Sinton. If I had been in the front office, I wouldn't have made the deal."
TV critic RICK DU BROW, writing the day after the Joe Frazier-Muhammad Ali fight:
"This is one fight where the true villain is the public and not one of the boxers. For, by falling for the promotion of the match, hook, line and sinker, the public reminds us sadly that we have not come as far as we like to think from the 1930s and 1940s. And it reminds us that television brutality is easily forgotten. For those who may not remember, ABC used to have a Fight-of-the-Week years ago until finally the public got sick and tired of the series. But what really killed national interest in televised boxing was the fatal beating absorbed by Benny (Kid) Peret while millions watched. A wave of revulsion toward boxing swept the nation at the time, but apparently we have overcome that enough to regress."

FRANK LEAHY, former Notre Dame football coach:
"Knut Rockne could have coached now and Vince Lombardi proved that the young man, and the older ones, too, can be reached. The burden is on leadership. The lads are more knowing than ever before, yes, but they'll follow the genuine. No team can ever reach greatness without motivation. I regret that some coaches seem to think it is passe."
PHIL ROOF, Milwaukee catcher, after playing against the Tokyo Lotte Orions.
"It's like watching nine second basemen play."
JOHNNY SWAIM, after his TCU basketball team had lost to All-America Austin Carr and Notre Dame:
"You hear about a player like that, and no matter how much you hear, you just can't believe he's that good. But he is."
TED WILLIAMS, manager of the Washington Senators, entertaining a proposal to direct his team from the press box:
"Maybe I should. Think of all the help I'd get."
QB JIM PLUNKETT, when asked what he thought about the name of his new employers, the New England Patriots:
"I thought Boston and the Patriots went together. Their name now is something out of Roller Derby."
LARRY DIERKER, pitcher for the Houston Astros:
"I don't think 20 wins is magic in itself. A guy could win 16 or 17 with a last-place club and he could be a better pitcher and actually have pitched better for a whole year than another guy who wins 22 or 23 with a great club. So it may be a little over-emphasized, the importance of reaching those arbitrary figures."

Bucks Likely To Be Next Cage Champs

NEW YORK (AP) — The Ohio State Buckeyes could become a team of destiny next season and end UCLA's long reign as national collegiate basketball champion.
The Buckeyes of the Big Ten pose a distinct threat to the Coach Johnny Wooden's Bruins, who won their fifth straight national title last Saturday.
UCLA beat Villanova 68-62 in the final of the NCAA tournament before 31,765 in the Astrodome at Houston. Wooden says the Bruins "will have a pretty decent club" in 1972 despite the loss of Sidney Wicks, Curtis Rowe and Steve Patterson.
Nevertheless, the manner in which the sophomore-laden Buckeyes came on a strong late in the season to win the Big Ten and snap Marquette's 39-game winning streak 60-59 in the NCAA second round stamps them as a team that could go all the way.
Back for Coach Fred Taylor's Scarlet and Gray crew will be Alan Hornyak, Luke Witte, Mark Minor, Bob Slekmann and Dave Merchant, who gained vital experience in the upset of Marquette and near-upset of Western Kentucky in the NCAA quarter-finals.
The Hilltoppers had to come from behind to beat the Buckeyes 81-78 in overtime.
High scoring George McGinnis will be back for Indiana as will Henry Wilmore for Michigan, the Hoosiers and Wolverines figure to again finish behind Ohio State in the Big Ten.
Adolph Rupp, the veteran Kentucky coach whose ambition is to win another NCAA title, likely will have another strong team in the Southeastern Conference with Tom Payne and Tom Parker available.
Other teams likely to be high in the 1972 rankings include North Carolina, which routed Georgia Tech 84-66 in the final of the National Invitation Tournament in New York, Hawaii, Penn., Southern California, Marquette and possibly Maryland with highly touted 6-foot-11 Tom McMillen up from the frosh team.

Blas for six runs in the sixth inning, featuring homers by Mike Andrews and Walt Williams.
Crowley, a 24-year-old outfielder-first baseman, won a berth with the world champion-to-be Baltimore Orioles last spring and hit .257, including almost a dozen winning or game-tying hits. It's been a different story this spring. Bothered by a pulled leg muscle, Crowley was hitting only .074 Monday when the Orioles optioned him to Rochester of the International League.
The Orioles also snapped a five-game losing streak with a 4-1 victory over Montreal as Frank Robinson homered and Dave McNally scattered 10 hits in becoming the first Baltimore hurler to go nine innings.
Oakland's Reggie Jackson crashed two homers and drove in four runs and San Diego's Nate Colbert also socked a pair for five RBI as the A's trimmed the Padres 9-6.
Milwaukee broke a tie with six runs in the eighth inning against California relievers Gene Brabender, Ray Jarvis and Dave LaRoche for a 7-1 triumph. The uprising included six walks, Dave May's bunt single, Bernie Smith's sacrifice fly and Rick Auerbach's two-run single.
Ken Holtzman pitched six strong innings as the Chicago Cubs downed San Francisco 5-1. Stan Bahnsen went seven and Johnny Ellis hammered a key double in the New York Yankees' 3-1 win over Atlanta.

The Detroit Tigers got seven innings from Joe Niekro and a home run from Jim Northrup in beating Kansas City 7-5. But first baseman Norm Cash sprained his ankle chasing a foul pop.

FOR TONY JACKLIN
Open Win Didn't Insure Invitation
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Notes from the pro golf tournament trail:
Tony Jacklin of England won the 1970 U.S. Open, probably the most prestigious golf event in the world. But, as the U.S. Open champion, doesn't necessarily qualify for the Masters. Oh, he'll play in Augusta, Ga., next week. And he'll even be recognized as the U.S. Open champ. But he's in by invitation only.
The situation came to light last week when South African Bobby Cole discovered he was not eligible. Cole finished in a tie for 12th in the 1970 U.S. Open.
He thought he was eligible under a published list of qualifications that includes:
"The first 16 players, including ties, in the 1970 U.S. Open championship."
But, a Masters official explained, that applies only to U.S. players.
So, following that reasoning, the item "2. U.S. Open champion" would apply only to U.S. players. Jacklin is not. Foreigners get in on invitation only, with the exception of Gary Player, a former Masters champion.
And how's this for an early-season oddity: the man leading the Vardon Trophy standings for the low stroke average hasn't yet finished a tournament.
Dave Marr posted rounds of 68 and 69 in the Phoenix Open, then withdrew because of illness. He hasn't played since, but leads the standings with a 68.5 stroke average.

Joe Boyd Going Back To Alpine
SWEETWATER — The head football coaching job has been vacated by Joe Boyd, who has decided to return to Alpine as head coach.
At Alpine, Boyd replaces Boze Ansley, who resigned earlier this month. Boyd's contract will extend for two years. Born in McCamey, Boyd is now 32.
Boyd has been at Sweetwater the past five years, during which time his teams have won 31, lost 18 and tied one.
Boyd will receive a starting salary of $11,800 a year. Alpine is a member of District 6-AAA.

Buffalo Draft Adds Fuel To NBA Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro basketball war within one league and between both of them heated up Monday as National Basketball Association teams finally found out for whom they are fighting.
The battle within the NBA for Spencer Haywood flamed anew as Buffalo this time challenged Seattle's right to the superstar after the SuperSonics signed him in defiance of NBA by-laws which prohibit the signing of a player whose college class has not graduated.
Buffalo's promised action came after Cleveland opened the NBA college draft by choosing Notre Dame's Austin Carr. Portland followed by selecting Sidney Wicks of UCLA and Buffalo chose Elmore Smith of Kentucky State.
IN SECOND ROUND
Haywood, the controversial 6-foot-8 forward whose class will not graduate until June, was picked by Buffalo on the second round despite an out of court settlement Friday in which the NBA allowed Seattle to keep Haywood and fined the club $200,000.
The Braves had asked U.S. district court judge Warren Ferguson in Los Angeles if the Braves could select him. The judge, who earlier had ruled that Seattle could keep Haywood, said he could not make such a decision and that was good enough for the Braves.
"We thought the judge's decision was favorable," said General Manager Eddie Donovan of the Braves. "He didn't say we couldn't sign him."
In Seattle, General Manager Bob Houbregs of the Sonics wasted little time answering a question if he would consider selling Haywood to Buffalo: "Not at all — no way."
Haywood, who signed with Denver of the rival American Basketball Association, two years ago after his sophomore year at Detroit University, jumped the ABA club in a contract dispute for Seattle in January.
While the Haywood situation became more muddled, the draft, conducted more than two months after the ABA draft, did fortify NBA teams the knowledge of which players they are trying to sign. In the past two months, the league has had to negotiate for them.
Cleveland, however, had immediate assurances that Carr would sign with the Cavaliers, who took the high scoring 6-foot-3 All-American instead of the expected big man such as Wicks.

IN ODESSA TODAY Longhorns Clash With Permian 9

Dave Duncan likely will charge the mound today as Big Spring seeks a return to winning ways in District 5-AAAA baseball play, when the Steers venture to Odessa to play Permian at 4 p.m.
Defensive weaknesses have plagued the Longhorns in their two conference games to date. The locals yielded to Abilene High, 12-2, and Midland High, 9-3.
Over-all, the Steers are a lackluster 3-10 and coach Oakey Hagood says he can't figure it out. The Steers execute well in practice but they're prone to make mental blunders in a game that cost them dearly.
Permian is tied for first place in conference with Midland Lee, each with a 2-0 record. The Panthers knocked off the 5-AAAA favorite, Abilene High, last Saturday, 2-1, after earlier having blanked Midland, 3-0.
The Steers likely will look at the pitching slants of Collins Rice, who blanked Midland, today.
Hagood is apt to start Pete Shaffer behind the plate, Grady Ray at first base, Roddy Caffey at second, Tommy Fletcher at third, David Carter at shortstop and David Englert, Ricky Steen and Tommy Brewer in the outfield.
Over-all, Permian has won eight of 13 assignments and has outscored the opposition, 58-47. The Longhorns play their next home game Saturday against Midland Lee.

C. Davis Named Young Texan Of Month By Club
LAMESA (SC) — Cecil Davis, Lamesa High School senior athlete, has been named the Young Texan of the month by the Optimist Club. Davis was honored with a presentation of a plaque by the club at the last meeting.
The son of Mr. and Mrs. James Earl Davis, Cecil has maintained a B average through three years of high school and in junior high. He also has maintained this average during his senior year.
Cecil has been a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes for the past three years, a member of the "L" association for the past four years and during his sophomore year was elected vice president of his class. He was also runner-up for sophomore class favorite.
In his senior year he has been nominated for most School Spirit, Most Valuable Senior and Mr. Tornado. The results will not be announced until May.
A member of the Holy Cross Church of God in Christ, he has participated in the choir since junior high days and has been active in Sunday school.
During the past three summers he has been employed as a lifeguard and assistant manager of one of Lamesa's swimming pools.
An athlete in both football and basketball, Davis capped off his high school career by being named All-District to both teams. He was selected also to the All South Plains team in both sports named by the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.
He has made practically every All-Star team in tournaments involving Lamesa during the past two years, and is one of the four-year lettermen on the LHS basketball team.
Davis has been offered scholarships in both the gridiron and cage sports and would like to compete in either football or basketball in college while majoring in physical education so that he might enter the coaching field after graduation.

McCauley Added To Track Field
Jack Woodley, director of the Jaycees' first annual Permian Basin Belle Reunals scheduled here April 10, said this morning that McCauley has become the 25th entry in the cinder meet.
The girls' track carnival will be the first of two big events scheduled here during the month of April. The second is down for April 17, at which time the District 5-AAAA meet is scheduled.
Woodley also stated his sprint relay team might have threatened the state record last week at Rankin, had it not been for a bad handoff.
The Bearcats finished second in the event, as it was, with a clocking of 51.9. The state record is 50.3.

Astros Launch Stand In Dome With Yankees

COCOA, Fla. (AP) — The Houston Astros pull up stakes and head for Houston today, their Florida adventures over for the 1971 spring exhibition season.
The Astros will continue their exhibition season Wednesday in the Astrodome against the New York Yankees. They will be trying to improve on a 12-11 Florida record, which includes their 11-4 loss to the Boston Red Sox Monday.
Despite the loss, Astro Manager Harry Walker was happy.
"I feel better about this club than any other we left Florida with. All the results of our spring camp have been very encouraging," Walker said.
Walker said he was especially happy about the pitching form of last year's question marks—Don Wilson, Tom Griffin and George Culver, who underwent an elbow operation last fall.
"The pitching has looked good," he said, "and that is what we must have—Wilson and Griffin to bounce back and for our pitching to keep us in the game so we'll have a chance to win the game."
The infield play has been sharp, Jim Wynn in center field and Cesar Cedeno in right enjoyed a fine spring on defense. Cedeno also whacked the ball well and Wynn's bat is beginning to bark louder.
"And Bob Watson in left," said the Astro skipper, "will make most of the routine plays. In the late innings, we can always throw Cesar Geronimo in out there when we are trying to hold a lead."
"The over-all attitude of the ball club is very good," Walker said. "They're in good frame of mind, their spirit is good and I think our club is ready to go."

Webb To Play Chipper Nine

Webb AFB's softball team will open a 30-game schedule with a doubleheader on its home diamond Friday night against the State ASA champions, the Big Spring Chippers.
The first of two seven-inning contests gets under way at 7 p.m.
Norm Collingsworth is manager of the Webb team, which will play both military and civilian teams in what promises to be a busy season.
Collingsworth said his biggest problem will be to develop pitching strength.
The Webb team will be the host club in a three-day tournament wrapped around July 4, a 16-team event that promises to have some of the finest talent in Texas on display.

Dogies Shade Midland, 8-1
MIDLAND — David Newman, Tommy Tune and Orlando Olague had big days when the Big Spring JVs, 8-1, here Monday afternoon.
Newman, who alternates between the mound and the infield for the Dogies, played shortstop Monday and delivered two hits and scored three times.
Tune smacked a couple of hits and accounted for three runs-batted-in.
Olague not only pitched the win but had two hits, one of them a double.
The two teams scored matching runs in the first but that was all Midland got off Olague. He scattered three enemy hits, fanned six and did not walk a batter.
The win was the sixth in seven starts for the red-hot Big Spring team, which returns to play at home Wednesday afternoon against Midland Lee.

States Authority To Bar Illegitimates Due Test

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP) — The attorney for the mother of a 9-year-old girl says she plans to ask for a rehearing of the U.S. Supreme Court's decision that gives states authority to bar illegitimates from inheritances. The 5-4 ruling Monday on the issue went against the child. "We still have hopes that an application for a rehearing would persuade one or more members of the court to reconsider the decision and vote in favor of the minor child," said attorney James Cox. Cox represents Lou Bertha

Social Security Raises In June

Social Security beneficiaries should not expect the 10 percent raise in their checks April 3. Erven Fisher, Social Security manager, explained that it will be June 3, this year, before monthly checks will have the raise reflected in them. Fisher said the benefit increase will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1971. In June, all beneficiaries can expect two Social Security Checks. The regular check on June 3, will have the 10 percent raise in it. Later in June a separate check will cover the retroactive increase due for the months of January through April. Those people receiving special age 72 benefits will receive their raises in the same way. Fisher reminded that the increase in benefits is automatic. No one need call or come by the Social Security office to get these increases.

Social Security Visits Planned

The schedule for visits to area towns by Social Security representatives in April, May and June has been released by the office here. Representatives will be in Snyder from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 2 p.m. every Tuesday; in Colorado City from 10 a.m. to noon every Wednesday; in Lamesa from 10 a.m. to noon and 1 to 2 p.m. every Thursday; and in Stanton from 2 to 3 p.m. April 26, May 24 and June 28. The representative will be in the courthouses in Snyder and Stanton, in the Chamber of Commerce office in Colorado City and in the library conference room in Lamesa. In Big Spring the office is in Room 232, Federal Building, 501 Main.

Stanton individuals placing high in the contest were Rickey Mims, first and Mark Hursh, second, in land judging; and Lynn Romine, third, Gary Posey, fourth, and Jackie Rudd, eighth, in range and pasture judging. Stanton also entered the livestock judging contest. Regulations require the sweepstakes winner to be entered in all three classes of judging. Stanton judging teams have also won over-all sweepstakes honors at the Sweetwater judging contest and have been the grass judging winners at San Angelo and Houston this year.

South's opening bid of one spade does not quite measure up to our standard requirements, since the hand is valued at only 12 points. Opener runs the risk of coping with an awkward problem if partner should respond at the two level. If South does choose to open, a better call would be one club which provides him with a convenient rebid over any response.
North's sudden jump to five no trump is a conventional call which implies a tremendous fit with partner's suit and requests the latter to proceed solely on the basis of his trump holding. With two of the top three honors he is requested to bid a grand slam.

Police Elect New Officers

New officers of the Big Spring Police Association were elected in March, with two hold-over officers serving the last year of their terms. Patrolmen Larry Lee, hold-over officer, was elected president of the association, and Ed Kissinger, patrolman, was elected to serve as vice-president. The board of directors of the association include Capt. Stanley Bogard, hold-over, Linda Robinson, Ernest Lee, patrolman, and Ken Carter, reserve. The new officers will serve two-year terms, and all will assume their duties April 1. Capt. Jack Jones, past president, Doris Smith, and patrolman Bill Roger and John Minnick are those officers going off the staff of the association.

Case Scheduled

Jury qualification was underway this morning in Howard County Court. A trial involving a charge of driving while intoxicated is scheduled for Thursday at 9 a.m. Three cases are set for trial Friday.

SEC Pushing Preparations For Hearing

DALLAS (AP) — The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pushed preparations for the Aug. 30 hearing of its civil suit alleging stock manipulation by Texas banks, insurance firms and individuals, by announcing Monday that it was preparing to take further depositions from 64 people including high state officials.

The state officials, who are alleged to have made quick profits in stock of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. of Dallas, include Gov. Preston Smith, House Speaker Gus Mutscher Jr., House Appropriations Committee chairman W.S. (Bill) Healy, and two Mutscher aides, Fred Schulte and Rush McGinty.

The SEC also said it planned to take sworn statements from astronauts Allen Bean, Thomas Mattingly and James Lovell, and from Houston golf professional Doug Sanders. None are defendants in the case. The astronauts are alleged to have bought NBL stock but not profited from it.

The sworn depositions that the SEC is now seeking will be available for use when the federal agency seeks a permanent injunction from U.S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes to prohibit the defendants from engaging in what it claims are illegal stock transactions.

Two of the Dallas banks listed among the businesses to be questioned prior to the hearing were defendants in the suit but have already agreed to the permanent injunction. They are Dallas Bank & Trust and Citizens Bank & Trust.

The other banks to be questioned are not defendants in the suit. These are South Oak Cliff Bank, Exchange Bank & Trust and Bank of Services & Trusts.

Nine Dallas men are named among individuals the SEC said it wants to question. They are Tom Max Thomas, Donald S. Akins, David Hoover, Charles Power, Audy Byrum, H.E. McCain, Sam Stock, J. Quincy Adams and Joe Novotny. All but Power were among the original defendants in the suit.

Other than the Dallas banks, the SEC said it will take depositions from banks in Houston, Lake Jackson, Overton and Angleton.

Big Refiners Challenge Posting Of Gas Data

HOUSTON (AP) — Major petroleum refiners filed suit in federal court Monday challenging the power of the Federal Trade Commission to require them to post gasoline octane ratings on service station pumps.

The FTC ordered the oil companies to post ratings on pumps by June 28, saying failure to identify gasoline with actual octane ratings is an unfair trade practice, and that there is a wide variance in octane levels in the standard types causing serious damage to some car engines.

The FTC said consumers are buying higher-price fuel because of the vagueness of the existing designations of regular, and ethyl or and premium.

The suit was filed by the National Petroleum Refiners Association, the American Petroleum Refiners Association and more than 30 individual refiners.

They asked U.S. Dist. Judge Carl O. Bue for an injunction against the FTC order and to declare the move illegal.

They argued that the FTC was trying to usurp the function of Congress in posting the order. For 40 years, the refiners said, the FTC has enforced rules by formal adjudicatory proceedings, made investigations and surveys and turned their findings over to congress. Such findings did not carry the force and effect of law, they said.

Since May of 1962, the refiners say, the FTC has tried to replace the statutory rule with a "substantive rule making procedure of its own invention."

The refiners say the FTC hearings in 1969 on octane ratings were conducted illegally. They say most of the 27 witnesses appearing and the 59 filing written statements opposed the new rule.

The FTC handed down the new rule Dec. 30.

The oil refiners claimed that enforcement of the new rule would result in higher gasoline prices to motorists.

Unemployment Benefits Extension Bill Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — An additional 13 weeks of unemployment benefits that would immediately aid 300,000 out-of-work Americans was proposed today by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

Bayh says another one million unemployed people might be aided by the extension within the next two or three months.

Bayh proposed the added benefits as an amendment to a bill, sought urgently by the Nixon administration, extending the interest equalization tax.

This levy, which expires Wednesday, has been in effect since 1963 to cut outflows of American capital and help the U.S. international balance-of-payments position.

The tax is on sales of stocks and other securities by foreign borrowers in the United States.

Congress enacted legislation last year providing 13 weeks of extra jobless benefits in times of high unemployment, but it would not take effect until 1972.

The Bayh amendment would put this plan into effect immediately and provide full federal financing of the extended benefits. Under the 1970 act, the states would have paid half the cost.

The plan provides for up to 39 weeks of benefits. Most states now pay 26 weeks.

The extra payments would be triggered when the insured unemployment rate is at 4 per cent, which corresponds roughly to a national unemployment rate of 6 per cent. The insured rate has been over 4 per cent since last September.

Proposal To Cool Campus Rioters

AUSTIN (AP) — Officers could demand the identity of any person on a college campus if a bill approved by the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee becomes law.

The committee Monday sent the bill to the House for action.

Rep. Tom Moore of Waco argued against the bill, calling it a "radical departure from all of our jurisprudence." He said there are sufficient laws on the books to handle campus disruptions.

consultant for the hearing impaired. His headquarters are located at the central TRC office in Austin. Poss, who holds a master's degree and speaks clearly, although he has been totally deaf since age four, pointed out the thing holding these young adults back is the inability to communicate.

"At home, they have worked out various signs and gestures through which they communicate with the members of their families, but these signs would be meaningless to anyone else," Poss said.

Once the standard signs and manual alphabet is learned, those suffering from a hearing handicap can go on to a special school for the deaf at which they can learn such trades as automobile mechanics, printing, typing, key punch operations and many others. Expenses for the vocational training would be paid by the commission, according to Poss.

Interested persons of those in need of assistance in a related area also may call Mrs. Mayberry, public health nurse at the local state health department office.

Impaired children can receive diagnostic services through the crippled children's program and child and Maternal Care Divisions of the state welfare department, Poss commented.

RETIREMENT? — Rep. Barry Goldwater, R-Calif., said Monday that his father, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Rep.-Ariz., below, would not seek re-election when his term ends in 1974. The senator's press secretary said; however, that the older Goldwater has no such plans.

Program For Deaf Begins In Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — A program aimed at giving a second chance to local young adults who are vocationally handicapped by deafness began here Monday under the direction of the Texas Rehabilitation Commission.

The program, although sponsored by the commission, is being made possible by the willingness of a local resident who has volunteered to help those with impaired hearing in the area.

Mrs. Melvin Lux, who along with her husband has impaired hearing, will instruct a special class to teach the manual alphabet and standard sign language here Monday and Tuesday nights at 7 p.m. in the foyer of the local state welfare office at 305 N. Houston Ave.

"There are at least six persons living in the area now who need this basic training and there may be several more of whom we don't know," said Jimmy Gafford, TRC vocational rehabilitation counselor from Lubbock.

Gafford, visiting in Lamesa Friday, said these persons were between the age of 19 and 24 and had either never attended school or attended only sparsely because of their hearing handicap.

Gafford was accompanied here by Bert Poss, special
