Texans React Bitterly To Calley's Conviction

By The Associated Press

A San Antonio retired colonel and Vietnam veteran sent Lt. William Calley a telegram reading: "In God we trust. Request for delay. Thousands of letters on the way."
A Lubbock Air Force veteran dashed off a letter to President Nixon, demanding his son be released from Navy service.
A Houston American Legion post commander commented:

"They say they can't make you obey an unlawful order, but they can sure make you wish you had."

ANGRY PROTESTS

A Dallas Navy veteran said: "This one looks real rotten—it stinks to high heaven."
A San Antonio woman said she would yank her two sons out of the ROTC.
These were some Texas reactions Tuesday at news that the Ft. Benning court martial found Lt. William Calley Jr. guilty of the premeditated murder of Vietnamese civilians at My Lai. Telephones jangled daylong in newspaper, radio and television offices as the public called in, mostly to voice angry protest. Some people wanted to know where they could write to Calley. Others asked how he could be reached by telephone.

A protest march from downtown San Antonio to the judge advocate general's office at Ft. Sam Houston was planned for 6 p.m. this evening.

Another will be held in downtown Dallas Friday.
'IT SET ME BACK'
Lester Topp, a certified public accountant at Harlingen, was appalled at the verdict.
"It set me back," he said. "It was hard for me to believe. He's scapegoat for the whole thing. I think I would feel differently now about my own son going into the service. We're going to end up with our military becoming a Boy Scout operation."

Topp, who fought at Okinawa with the Army, thinks the decision will ultimately hurt the U.S. world position as a military power.
"Do you think the Russians would do something like this?"

he asked.
But another Harlingen man said, "I think the public is getting the issue confused. He was tried, not for killing, but for killing civilians."
ISSUE CONFUSED
Herb Williams, a quality control engineer at Recognition Equipment Inc., said most of the 1,100 persons employed at his Dallas plant are angry at the verdict.

"I was in the naval air service in World War II," said Williams, "and I know what it is. Sometimes things come up and you can't always explain why you did or did not do a certain action. But this one looks real rotten—it stinks to high heaven. My faith in this country is dissipating a little and this certainly doesn't help it."

Paralysis Doesn't Keep Dog From Wheeling Around Town

By LINDA CROSS

When Melinda Brooke returns home for the Easter holidays Friday from St. Edward's College in Austin, she will be greeted by the family dog, Katrina—on wheels.

Katrina, a victim of the back problems that beset many Dachshunds, has been outfitted with a wheeled harness to take the place of her paralyzed back legs. She is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Bennett Brooke, 700 Dallas.

Dr. Akin Simpson, veterinarian, constructed the harness for Katrina to insure that she would be able to get around and to aid in exercising the wasted muscles in her legs.

"The paralysis occurred about a month ago," said Mrs. Brooke. "In about three days, her legs were paralyzed by calcium deposits on her spine. She was extremely ill at first and was at the vet's for two weeks."

"Now she can put just a little weight on her legs. We think this shows some improvement. Katrina eats like a horse, and I don't know what we're going to do if she doesn't get well. She's practically one of the family, and it's sad because the front part of her is just fine," added Mrs. Brooke.

Katrina, whom the Brookes have had for five years, "can go like a house afire" in her wheeled contraption, the likes of which not many people have seen, according to Mrs. Brooke.

"She does well until she comes to a step or a curb," she added, "but Katrina just can't lift her back part with the harness over a curb. On a level area, she has no trouble."

Mrs. Brooke added that they were hopeful of her recovery because the veterinarian told them "that after three months of treatment and exercise, Katrina might recover some use of her legs. Before the harness was constructed, Katrina lay in a box and got no exercise, and the muscles in her legs deteriorated quickly, according to Mrs. Brooke.

"It'll be quite a surprise for Melinda when she gets home because the last time she saw Katrina, the dog was still in the box," said Mrs. Brooke.

Lt. Calley Receives Life Imprisonment

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William Calley Jr. was sentenced to life imprisonment today by the same jury that convicted him of murdering My Lai villagers three years ago. The sentence is subject to automatic and extensive appeals.

Calley, flanked by his civilian and Army attorneys, saluted the jury foreman, and clinched his fist as he awaited word. As soon as he heard the word, read by jury foreman Col. Clifford Ford, "to be confined at hard labor for the length of your natural life," Calley let out a deep breath.

The six-man jury had deliberated five hours and 58 minutes since they got the penalty phase of the case Tuesday. The panel had convicted Calley on Monday of the premeditated murder of 22 Vietnamese men, women and children at My Lai March 16, 1968.

There were only two verdicts available to the jury—death, presumably by hanging and life imprisonment, with the parole possible after 10 years.

In addition, Calley was ordered dismissed from the service and must forfeit all pay and allowances. His monthly salary is $773.10.

After his second night in the stockade, Calley returned to the courtroom early today looking cheerful. He told a newsman he was "very pleased" about the local demonstrations in his behalf Tuesday night.

A small group of demonstrators walked in orderly fashion around the stockade where Calley is being held. Another group, estimated at about 500 held a "march for Calley" rally at the municipal stadium in nearby Columbus, Ga.

The jury returned to its deliberations this morning after

Judge Reid Kennedy, an Army colonel, charged them to "select a sentence that is appropriate to the offense of which you have convicted Lt. Calley, his deeds, the welfare of society and good order and discipline within the military service."

Calley's plea before the jury Tuesday was brief but dramatic: "You stripped me of all honor. Please, by your actions that you take here today, don't strip future soldiers of their honor. I beg of you." After his two-minute statement Tuesday, the jury retired for its final task:

to condemn Calley to life in prison or to death on the gallows.

"I'm not going to stand here and plead for my life or my freedom," he told the six officers who convicted him of slaying at least 22 persons at My Lai.

RIBBONS GALORE
"I would ask you to consider the thousand more lives that are going to be lost in Southeast Asia. The thousand more, that is, to be imprisoned not only here in the United States, but also in North Vietnam and in hospitals all over the world as amputees.

"I've never known a soldier, nor did I ever myself wantonly kill a human being in my entire life."
The 27-year-old Calley, a man with the stature of a stocky teenager, appeared even smaller as he stood alone in front of the court-martial members—experienced combat officers with their chests full of service ribbons.

His voice broke as he said: "If I've committed a crime, the only crime I have committed is in my judgment of my values. Apparently I have valued my troops' lives more than I did that of the enemy."

Absentee Vote Surpasses 1970 Totals

After a heavy day of absentee voting Tuesday in the county clerk's office, the 1971 absentee vote total of 66 surpassed the 1970 total of 61 votes cast in the absentee elections for trustee positions in the Big Spring Independent School District and on the Howard County School Board.

According to Mrs. Margaret Ray, deputy county clerk, almost as many persons voted Tuesday as had voted in the elections since the beginning of the absentee period March 15.

Thirty-two persons voted before the absentee deadline Tuesday at 5 p.m., and 34 had voted prior to that date.

Of the 66 vote total, five votes were cast in the county school board elections. Only one candidate had filed for one of the two vacancies, and the county clerk's office received no written votes for the unfilled vacancy.

Candidates for four three-year terms on the Big Spring school board are Ralph McLaughlin, Byron B. Smith Jr., H. Boyce Hale, Leon Miller, Jimmy Ray Smith and Jerry G. Jenkins.

Regular elections in the two trustee races will be held Saturday at Big Spring High School. Anyone with a valid 1971 voter registration may vote.

FOUR PERISH Battle Back Bay Blaze

BOSTON (AP) — Flames swept the upper floors of an apartment building early today. Fire officials said four persons died, 12 were injured and others were missing in the blaze of "suspicious origin."

LI George Lee, public relations officer of the fire department, said there had been two other fires of suspicious origin in the five-story brick structure during the past year.

Lee reports seven deaths at first but revised the figure later. The dead included a baby. Neighbors said they thought most of the victims were older persons.

Many students and elderly persons lived in the block-long building. About 150 of them fled to safety or were rescued. The injured were treated for burns and smoke inhalation.

The first of the 250 firemen who fought the blaze arrived just after 12:30 a.m., and rescued about 40 persons on ladders from apartment windows. Other tenants made their way through smoky hallways or metal fire escapes to exits.

Stewart Thayer, 52, who came down a ladder from his bathroom window, said when he left he heard someone screaming "get me out, get me out."

"I heard people running downstairs," he said, "but I couldn't get out. I broke through a screen on my bathroom window and yelled for help."

Witnesses said dozens of persons were perched on window sills and ledges outside blazing rooms when fire equipment arrived.

The apartment complex, in the Back Bay section not far from the Red Sox home Fenway Park, contains 40 apartments housing about 160 persons.

Fire Chief George Paul said damage to the building was about $150,000.

Lamesa Couple Dies In Crash

LAMESA (SC) — A Lamesa couple died and a young San Angelo soldier was seriously injured in a two-car crash Tuesday afternoon two miles west of Lamesa on US 180.

Funeral is pending at Branon Funeral Home for Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Hardage, 707 N. Avenue H.

Avolino Orpiz, stationed in El Paso, was listed in satisfactory condition this morning in Medical Arts Hospital here. The Hardage vehicle was headed west and attempting to make a left turn when it was in collision with the Orpiz car headed east, according to investigating officers.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardage were taken to Medical Arts where they died in the emergency room shortly after arrival. The accident occurred around 4:30 p.m.

Chinese Made Skyjackers Apologize

MANILA (AP) — Passengers from a Philippines airliner hijacked to Communist China returned to Manila today and one of the four Americans on board said the Chinese treated them courteously and made the hijackers apologize to them.

Russell Ebersole, who heads a Baptist mission in Manila, said the leader of a group of Chinese officials gathered the passengers together and said they did not approve of the hijacking and that this was the first time it had happened in China.

Ebersole added that officials then brought the six youthful hijackers to the passengers to apologize for the inconvenience they had caused.

Ebersole told of sleepless hours listening to patriotic songs and quotations from Mao Tse-tung. But, he said, the Red Chinese treated them "politely and well."

Ebersole said the Chinese served them three meals—a 3:30 p.m. lunch, an 8 p.m. dinner and 6 a.m. breakfast—in which they were allowed to choose American or Chinese dishes. He said menus were printed in English and Chinese, Ebersole said they were pestered by mosquitos but the Chinese provided blankets and mosquito nets.

"We were not treated badly in any way," said Eldred Fewkes of Burley, Idaho, who has been in business in Manila for 12 years.

The hijackers diverted the plane with 45 persons aboard Tuesday morning during a domestic flight in the Philippines. It refueled in Hong Kong, where 20 passengers were released.

HUNT BOMBS
After the plane's return to Hong Kong, security guards searched it for bombs that might have been planted by the hijackers and found none. Then plane, passengers and crew returned to Manila.

RODEO DATES ARE CHANGED

Dates for the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo have been moved back one week, Charlie Creighton, president, announced today.

The new setting is June 23-24-25-26.

The change was occasioned by effort to fit the show schedule into that of the producer and special attractions. It will result, said Creighton, in a show with much more pulling power.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
 The bidding provided declarer with a road map that clearly indicated the strategy required to land his game contract today. Failure to heed the information he had received can perhaps be attributed to the sheer force of habit which controls the play of a great many performers at the bridge table.
 As the reader will observe from an examination of the diagram, West's jump to two spades was a preemptive overall designed to interrupt the smooth flow of his opponents' bidding. North made a penalty double from which East escaped to the apparently safer haven of three clubs. When South freely rebid his diamond suit, North was unwilling to settle for less than game. Had he known that partner had the clubs stopped, he would have ventured into three no trump in preference to bidding a game in diamonds. A better procedure on his part, perhaps, would have been to cue bid three spades which might well have induced South to try the shorter road to game.

 West decided to open the queen of spades against the final contract, for he was convinced that partner's run-out from North's double of spades was based on an extreme shortness in that suit. The evidence was clear-cut to declarer that East was void and would ruff in but, with an air of "What can I do about it?" South put up the king of spades from dummy. East promptly put the three of diamonds to good use to trump the trick, and switched to the queen of clubs. South put up the ace, drew trump and then took the heart finesse. When it lost to East's king, the latter cashed a club to set the contract.
 The solution to declarer's problem is essentially quite simple. The way to avoid a first round ruff is to refuse to cover the opening lead or the spade continuation. South can count 11 top tricks once he is able to get in. It doesn't really matter to him when the opponents get their two tricks; and by refusing to expose any of his high cards to an adverse ruff, he can protect himself from disaster.
 After West's queen and jack of spades hold the first two tricks, if he continues with a third round, South merely plays low from dummy again while ruffing in his own hand. After drawing trump, he crosses over to the dummy and throws his heart and club losers on the ace and king of spades.

Union Leaders Vow Fight Against Wage Lid Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction union leaders vowed today to fight against President Nixon's new wage stabilization order, but add they will "comply with the law of the land." The labor officials were vague about how they will attack Nixon's executive order in court, but C.J. Haggerty, president of the Building and Construction Trades Department of the AFL-CIO said, "with all the legal power at our command we intend to fight this plan for more equity."

Lenten Series Speaker At St. Mary's Tonight

Dr. North E. West, head of the department of psychology at Wayland College, will be the guest speaker today at 6:30 p.m. at St. Mary's Episcopal Church as part of the Lenten series.

Wednesday's activities will begin with a worship service at 6:30 p.m., followed by a covered dish supper, and then the address by Dr. West followed by a discussion.

Dr. West is a consultant at the Mental Health Clinic, Plains General Hospital, and consultant in Mind Control Institute. He has served as counselor at church-related boarding schools in Arkansas, has worked with

NIXON'S ORDER

Haggerty also told newsmen Tuesday the 17 craft unions involved have not decided whether they will sit on wage stabilization review boards established by Nixon's order.

The boards, composed of labor and management officials, will review wage settlements to determine if they meet Nixon-ordered restrictions. While the wage limits are flexible, they generally the wage boosts to an average of not more than 6 percent a year.

The administration said Monday the system of wage restraints is largely a self-regulating process depending on the cooperation of unions and contractors.

Haggerty took issue with Nixon's assertion that construction union leaders had indicated willingness to cooperate in a wage stabilization plan.

Right To Picket Ruling Appealed

HOUSTON (AP) — Southwest Bell Telephone Co. filed an appeal Tuesday on a U.S. district court ruling March 15 that the Communications Workers of America Local 6222 has a right to picket a new company directory service center.

The telephone company filed a suit March 4 claiming the union was illegally picketing the building.

The union posted the pickets in February to protest a company plan to use part-time help at the new facility. The company argued the picketing violated the union agreement to arbitrate differences.

Skyscraper Ban Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A garment manufacturer who feels high-rise office buildings are destroying America's big cities says he has 50,000 signatures on petitions for a proposal to ban new skyscrapers from the San Francisco skyline.
 About 1,100 volunteers have been canvassing over the last 10 weeks for the 24,800 signatures required to get the issue on the ballot in a special election June 8.
 Alvin Duskin says the response shows the city may be ready "to do a really historic thing—to turn its back on mindless development, to stop this destruction."
 The measure provides that no building more than 72-feet or six stories high can be constructed within the city without the voters' approval. City officials now have that power.
 "It's a myth that we need tall buildings in order to meet city expense," Duskin said. "The more you build, the poorer you get. Basic figures from real estate experts show for every $10 you bring in by property taxes it costs you $11 for services added by these skyscrapers."

Lawyer Socks D.A. In Face

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Ray Gene Smith, a Wichita Falls lawyer, punched Dist. Atty. Jim Phagan in the face Tuesday and was cited for contempt of court a second time in a week.

The altercation occurred in a court anteroom during pretrial proceedings. Smith knocked Phagan to the floor and leaped on him before spectators could pull them apart.

Dist. Judge Temple Driver cited Smith for contempt but delayed sentencing in order that the trial of Ann Warman, 21, could continue. Miss Warman, attired in a mini-skirt and large mod glasses, is charged with selling LSD to an undercover narcotics agent.

Judge Driver found Smith guilty of contempt last week when the lawyer banged on the courtroom door, demanding he be heard in the case of a man charged with selling heroin. The defendant, Lepoleum Crother, 26, was convicted and assessed a 300-year prison term.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Only by using your head and taking advantage of some beneficial surface conditions can you prevent some very difficult situations from occurring that could put you behind the eight ball. However, a smile and a considerate attitude please others and brings to you their active support and assistance where you need it the most.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Although you're dissatisfied with conditions of home, don't make any radical changes that could worsen matters. Get to the bottom of whatever may be the trouble and clear that up quietly. Relax tonight.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You want to get all of your affairs straightened out, so get busy early and clear up all the duties ahead of you. Make sure you do not act too quickly in making errors and clear those up. Get out socially in p.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although financial affairs require speed on your part to take care of them on time, make sure you do not act too quickly in making errors and clear those up. Get out socially in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Ideal day to do whatever will give you a more charming appearance and also help you to relax from daily tensions. A little compliment to others and a cheerful attitude helps much now. Show that you are not a petty person.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Make sure that you follow advice which trusted advisors give you now and you come out on top. Show that you have good business sense and you overcome frustrations. Use your own good judgment also.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Trying to force friends who are doing other things to change and go along with your ideas is a waste of time; please your own conscience and all is fine. Some personal wish can be achieved by changing your methods, or attitude, or both.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) You have several career problems that are bothering you, but you can handle them nicely if you get advice from an expert you know. Seek this person out early and you make this a profitable day, p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) You want to dive right into those projects that fascinate you, but it would be well to study them further for best results. Steer clear of a most charming person who nonetheless gets on your nerves.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 21) Handling responsibilities that cannot be postponed occupies the better part of day before you get into new projects also in p.m. Avoid intrigues of all kind.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Keep promises to associates and recognize their pet idiosyncrasies. Don't do anything that will irk an ally or there can be a severance of valuable connections. Evening good for reading something worthwhile.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Getting all that backlog of work handled early in the day is good for new activities of importance just about to begin. Don't argue with a fellow associate who does not see eye to eye with you. Tend to your own knitting exclusively.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Being firm with yourself and not wasting too much time on pleasure or money makes this a constructive and profitable day. Have a plan of life in mind that is more worthwhile. Show you are an able worker.

'Rent-A-Mayor' Raises Funds For Sick Girl

AMERICAN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — The mayor shampoos hair, boxes groceries, mixes hamburgers, scrubs corridors and makes a mean pizza.

Mayor Ralph Wheeler Jr. has rented out himself to do all sorts of chores as part of the community program to raise money for a local girl with a brain tumor.

He raised $271 in two days. "I'm having a ball," says Wheeler, 38, a druggist and president-elect of the Association of Idaho Cities.

It all started when Wheeler designated March as "There's Help for Jeanette" month in an appeal for money for Jeanette Davis, 18. She has been ill four years but attended high school until last fall. She now is confined to a wheel chair.

Doctors don't want to operate, so current plans are to put her in a school for the physically handicapped, where she can learn a trade.

More than $1,100 has been collected in this southern Idaho community of 2,347. The drive, which ends April 8, has no specific goal.

Jeanette's parents are separated and both work.

Quarantine Is Ordered On Movement Of Hogs

A 60-day quarantine on the movement of all hogs except for slaughter has been ordered by the Texas Animal Health Commission in order to help eradicate hog cholera.

The order was effective Monday. The order is part of a program designed to eradicate hog cholera from the United States without the use of hog cholera vaccinations.

For details of the order farmers should contact a local veterinarian.

Some points of the order are that any hog can be moved to a packing house or market without a permit, but it must be slaughtered.

Hogs going to a show can move if they are inspected on the farm by a representative of the Animal Health Commission and a movement permit accompanies the hogs. Representatives include local veterinarians.

Hogs may be moved from one farm to another with no diversion in route if they are inspected and are accompanied by a permit to move.

To hold special feeder and breeder sales the persons wishing to hold this sale should contact Dr. H. Q. Sibley, acting executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, 1021 Sam Houston Office Building, Austin, Texas 78701, phone 512-475-4111.

A farmer who finds diseased hogs should report them as soon as possible. He will be paid market price for all live hogs.

Pretrial For Angela

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — A pretrial hearing in the Angela Davis case — interrupted two weeks ago when the judge disqualified himself — is scheduled to resume at 10 a.m. Thursday.

Alameda County Superior Court Judge Alan A. Lindsay, who was appointed last week, set the hearing Monday at about the same time a new move was being made to halt all proceedings in the state court and transfer the trial to U.S. District Court.

Miss Davis, 27, an avowed Communist and former UCLA philosophy instructor, and Russell Magee, 31, a San Quentin convict, have been indicted on charges of murder, conspiracy and kidnaping in the Aug. 7 Marin County courthouse shooting.

Solon Receives Threatening Calls

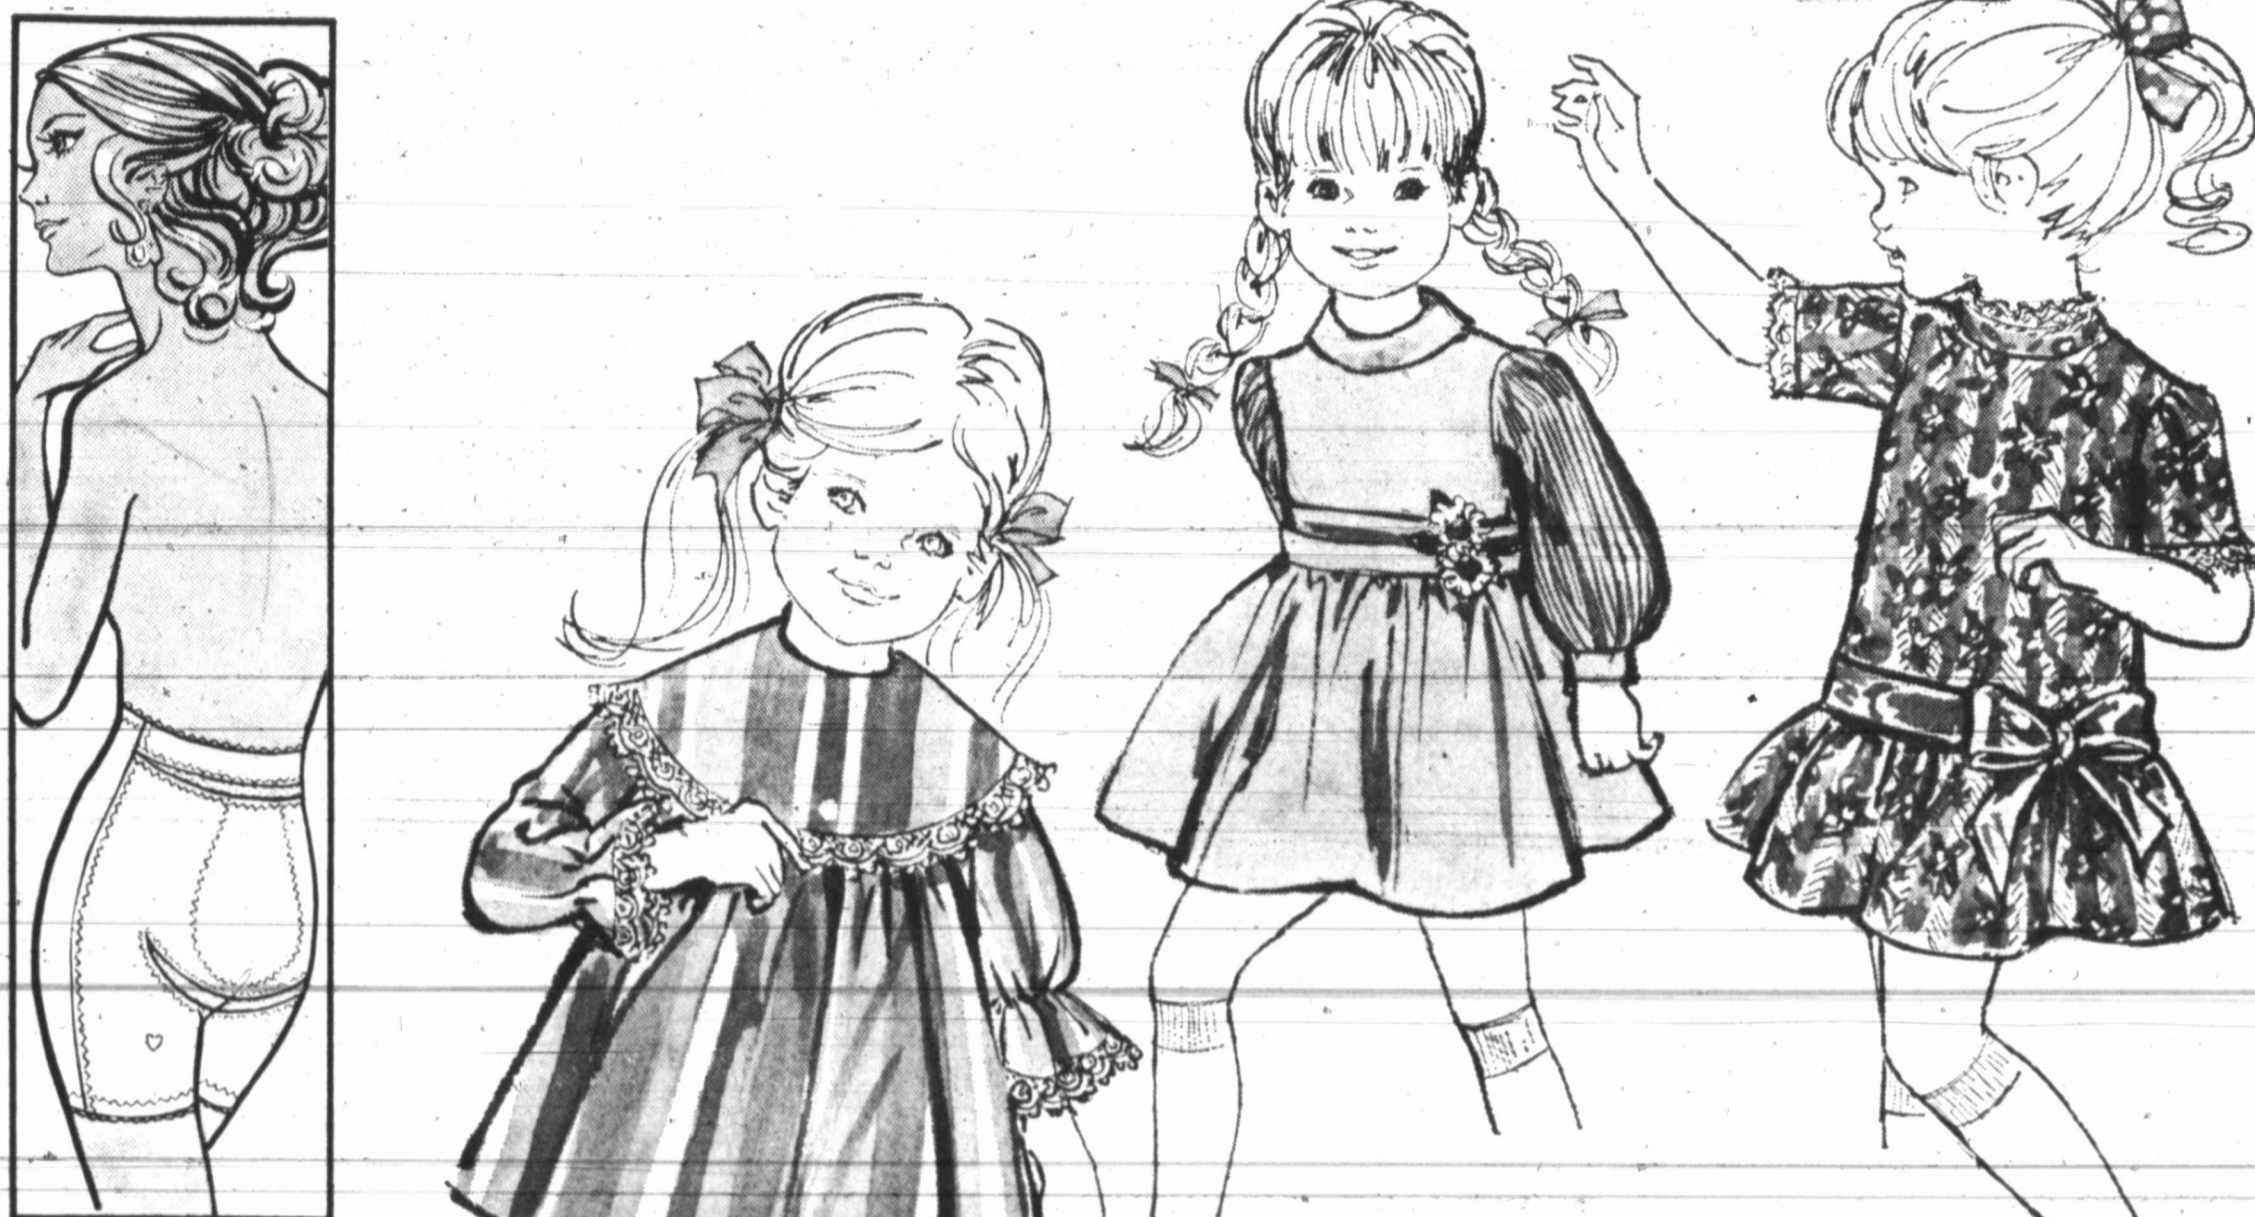

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A congressman says he has received "threatening and abusive" telephone calls at his home since speaking in favor of various city council candidates.

Rep. Henry Gonzalez, San Antonio Democrat, said he received seven abusive telephone calls on Sunday afternoon.

Dust Blowing In High Plains

Blustery south winds warmed much of Texas today, showing moist air inland from the Gulf of Mexico but also whipping up dust over parts of the High Plains for a second straight day.

Occasional thundershowers started cropping up here and there in adjoining areas of Southwest and North Central Texas, gradually moving eastward.

Much of the shower activity occurred in a sector running close to Junction, Brownwood, Austin and Killeen.

Thundershowers appeared near El Paso in far West Texas during the night and weather observers took note of typical spring conditions, mentioning that a big flock of wild geese was sighted winging northward near Dallas.

Forecasters took note, however, that a new Pacific cold front was expected to push into West Texas tonight and spread over much of the state by Thursday. Its prospective collision with the warmed air raised a possibility of thundershowers by Thursday in the north central and northeast part of the state and a few showers in the southeast.

LAWYER FOR MANSON, GIRLS SAYS: Appeals May Last Five Years

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The chief defense lawyer in the Sharon Tate murder trial says appeals of the convictions and death sentences of Charles Manson and his three women followers may last five years and will be taken to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Paul Fitzgerald said in an interview Tuesday that the defense will launch its appeal on April 19 at a hearing before Superior Court Judge Charles Older, who presided over the 14-month trial that ended Monday.

Of only two of the seven killings in August, 1969, Fitzgerald said they were the women's witness stand confessions. Miss

Fitzgerald said that because of the condition of the body "it will be almost impossible to tell what the cause of death was."

Authorities believe Hughes died in a mudslide or was swept away by raging waters during a storm.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Concerned About Youth, Minister Questions Effort

TO THE EDITOR: It seems the never ending problem of our youth is ever before us. What to do for them; what to do about them.

Almost everyone will agree something should be done to get the youth off the streets but no one seems to know what. One thing for sure, if anything is ever to be accomplished it must be done by total community effort. We must all work together to find the solution that will work, put it into operation and keep it going. This will not be easy, but what worthwhile task is ever easy?

The first hindrance that must be removed is the division among ourselves. Another is the fact that most of us fail to understand the problem at all. We think because our churches furnish some type of recreation, this is enough. This is not enough! We are not holding our own, much less reaching the unchurched youth of the community. It seems we had much rather continue to judge and criticize the youth of our city; trying all the time to fit them into a mold set by our own standards. None of us would deliberately alienate our youth, but we are doing it through an enormous lack of compassion and understanding.

We must realize some youth will conduct themselves in a manner which most adults do not approve. Their manner of dress may not please us; their long hair is repulsive to us; their way of talking does not equal anything we condone. These things are not important! The important thing is to look beyond the mode of dress and hair style; listen to the far-out talk and hear what is being said to us; then and only then will we recognize what this younger generation is — a group of young people struggling in a society of unrest to make a place for themselves. I remember once when I went to preach in another state. A deacon in the church there asked me how I felt about preaching to the Negro. I answered that I could not look at the color of skin but to the inner man and meet his needs. This deacon told me in no uncertain terms that I should be ridden out of town on a rail, after a good tarring and feathering. Are we beginning to be this prejudiced toward our youth of today? Even though I may not approve of a lot of things they wear, do, or say, I still love them and must reach the inner person and meet his needs or I am not worth my salt!

There is going to be the problem of drugs; but only in a minority group; there will be the problem of alcohol which will still be in a minority group. There will be hard rock music, dancing and the kids just plain "doing their things." These things are prevalent among the youth, not because they are "fads" but rather because they are becoming a way of life. We need to be less condemning and accept the youth as they are, in their environment, win their trust and confidence by loving them and only then will we be able to help them. The Bible says we are to give out cups of cold water. If we aren't doing this personally, then how can we expect to see a change among the needy youth?

To begin, I think the citizens of this city should work to find a suitable building for a recreational facility for the youth. We should start now to work out the financial problems which are sure to be involved. We could at the same time have committees to look into the feasibility of a youth council to work and plan for the facility and these same young people could ban together to help the youth who are in trouble or need help in some way. I have to believe there are enough "straight kids" in our city who are willing to give of their time to help those who are not so straight. Christian youth need to learn early to identify with those not so fortunate and to give of themselves to their fellowman in service, where the need is.

There should also be a team of volunteer professional men and women (doctors, attorneys, clergymen) available for counseling those who need professional help. Parents should also make themselves available to render services to the youth of this city. If the need for rehabilitation programs is present, then we should meet these needs.

I am not convinced the people of Big Spring do not care. I know there are enough people who do care; who will at least try. I am also aware the problems we are facing cannot be completely removed but I know we must do something about them.

If you do care and want to do something, please, please, let your voice be heard. I am willing to do most anything to prove to the youth of this city that I truly care about them.

WILLIAM C. McMILLIAN
Pastor, Central Baptist Church

TO THE EDITOR: Recently a jury in Howard County assessed a 10 year in prison sentence upon a young man who pleaded guilty of marijuana possession.

More recently in Abilene, Taylor County, Tex., four young men ranging from nineteen to seventeen pleaded guilty of the same charge, and they were sentenced to two years in prison, which was probated.

Isn't this one more incident in widening the generation gap between us as parents and those who are young? How in the name of God does the sentencing this young man to ten years in prison help our drug abuse problems? Murders get lesser sentences — rapists get lesser sentences — now how do we explain justice to our children?

Don't for one moment think that I condone drug abuse — but I would like to see some logic in sentencing people for such offenses.

Escape Clause In Army Ads Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has the option of canceling on 24-hour notice its $10.6 million prime-time recruiting campaign if the Vietnam fighting escalates or if the United States becomes involved in another war elsewhere.

The escape clause is written into contracts with the nation's three major television networks and more than 1,200 radio stations carrying the Army's soft-sell recruiting message.

Known on Madison Avenue as a catastrophe or strike clause, "it gives the Army protection in case something drastic happens," explained Don Reath, spokesman for N.W. Ayre & Son, the Army's advertising agency.

Airlines use a similar clause to pull their ads from newspapers and broadcast stations on short notice should one of their planes crash.

"It's just good sense," said Reath. "If something drastic happens, you want your money back."

In the Army's case, the contract provides cancellation of the 13-week advertising program "upon 24 hours' notice in the event of the involvement of U.S. armed forces in a military engagement in foreign territory other than the present in-

U.S. COPTERS LAND COMMANDOS

Hit-And-Run Raid In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. helicopters landed a small force of South Vietnamese commandos in the Laotian panhandle today for a raid on a North Vietnamese base.

Speaking to newsmen at Dong Ha, headquarters for the South Vietnamese drive into Laos, president Nguyen Van Thieu said the raiders landed five minutes ago and attacked a North Vietnamese base in base area 611. Operation Lam Son 719 is still going on and the South Vietnamese army is still on the attack, despite the pull-back of some units into Vietnam.

CODE NAME
Lam Son 719 was the code name for the 22,000-man South Vietnamese drive into Laos.

U.S. and South Vietnamese officers said the 200 to 300 South Vietnamese taking part in the raid were members of the elite Hac Bao—Black Panther—Strike Force and the 1st Reconnaissance Company.

The U.S. 101st Airborne Division flew them into Laos in 45 of its Huey helicopters. Ten reserve Hueys and dozens of Cobra gunships accompanied the assault force to the target area, believed to be about five miles inside Laos along Highway 922 and south of the area swept during the recent invasion. The invasion force was supposed to sweep the area on its way out of Laos, but heavy North Vietnamese attacks forced it to abandon that part of the operation.

GET BACK OUT
The raid presumably will be a hit and run attack lasting two or three days, like a raid planned for two days ago but called off at the last minute because of heavy anti-aircraft fire and poor visibility. Today's target, however, appeared to be several miles east of the earlier one, which had been described by informed sources as "bigger than a division headquarters."

Some U.S. sources described the aborted raid as a "political-type operation to show that the South Vietnamese can go any place they want. The objective was to inflict maximum casualties on the enemy with minimum friendly casualties and get back out."

Observers also believe another aim is to regain some of the face lost when the North Vietnamese drove the South Vietnamese force out of Laos last week.

PRESS PROTECTION
Monday's assault was scheduled to be staged out of Quang Tri, the forward American headquarters supporting operations in Laos but on Tuesday the raiding force was flown to a small staging area at Mai Loc, several miles to the west. Informed sources said they were moved "to get them away from the press."

Although told they could not accompany the force into Laos, two German photographers slipped aboard helicopters leaving Quang Tri. They were ordered off at Mai Loc and reported an American lieutenant under guard for about four hours. One of the Germans said his legs were tied for five minutes.

American platoons were reported standing by to go into Laos to protect any helicopters downed in the operation. During the earlier drive into Laos, the Hac Bao did that job.

At a news conference held while inspecting troops who took part in the Laos drive, Thieu said Operation Lam Son 719 was the biggest and most successful of the Vietnam war.

He claimed it had succeeded in cutting the Ho Chi Minh trail and prevented the enemy from launching an offensive in South Vietnam and Cambodia.

He also claimed that the "kill ratio" of the operation was 10 to 1 in favor of the South Vietnamese. But other informed sources have reported a ratio of less than 4 to 1, and that is based on a South Vietnamese claim of nearly 14,000 North Vietnamese killed a figure which U.S. officers consider much exaggerated.

Elsewhere in Indochina, little significant ground fighting was reported, but the U.S. Command announced the loss of six more helicopters—three in Cambodia and three in the northwest part of South Vietnam.

Arraignments Not Held Tuesday

None of the three defendants scheduled were arraigned Tuesday in 118th District Court.

Attorneys for one defendant were appointed.

Lawyers for Howard Franklin, 32, Fort Worth; and Clara Spencer, 27, Odessa, were not present in court Tuesday, and their clients could not be arraigned on any of the three indictments each against them.

Attorneys were appointed for Jody Hilliard, 18, Monahans, also indicted on three counts.

All are indicted on two counts of robbery by assault and one count of assault with intent to murder in connection with the Dec. 11 robbery of two Big Spring service stations.

Church Of God Revival Follows Robison Crusade

The First Church of God, 2009 Main Street, will be in revival today through Sunday morning of this week. The guest evangelist will be the Rev. Jack Bush from Valley Center, Kan.

REV. JACK BUSH

Rev. Bush is pastor of the Church of God in Valley Center. He is a graduate of Gulf Coast Bible College in Houston and has pastored in Michigan and Kansas. He is a member of the State Board of Evangelism, the Executive Council and other ministerial groups in Kansas. He has traveled the U.S. as a singer as well as a speaker.

The revival will be highlighted by a large baptismal service tonight. Tonight has also been designated as Sunday School night and each class is urged to have 100 percent representation in the service. Thursday has been designated as "Fill-a-pew" night.

Friday is youth night and the youth choir will sing along with other special singers. There will be a pizza party for the teenagers after the service.

Saturday will be "Children's Night" and the Children's Choir will sing. Sunday morning will end the revival effort. All awards from the Church's winter recreational program will be presented and pictures of the championship teams will be taken.

The First Church of God hopes to continue the spirit of the James Robison Crusade and has special singers from many of the city churches scheduled to sing during the revival, according to the Rev. Forrest Robinson, pastor. Services will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. and Lonoell Roberts, 20, Dallas, Tex., were trapped inside the car, their hands, midsections and legs manacled. They died in a Pauls Valley hospital.

Hilton E. Shorre, deputy U.S. marshal, and E. G. Moya, deputy constable, both of Corpus Christi, also died in a Pauls Valley hospital.

James V. Ditto, 48, Ardmore, Okla., driver of the other car, was listed in critical condition Tuesday night but an Oklahoma City hospital spokesman said he was conscious and was able to talk. Ditto was rushed from Pauls Valley to Oklahoma City, about 55 miles, for further emergency treatment.

Chief deputy U.S. marshal Mike McGrew, Oklahoma City, said his office did not have information regarding the prisoners or prison terms.

Burning Town Looked Like Big Ashtray

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Two battalions of North Vietnamese troops came down the Ho Chi Minh trail into South Vietnam, attacked and burned a district capital southwest of Da Nang, and inflicted heavy casualties on the civilian population and their militia.

The down of Duc Duc, 25 miles southwest of Da Nang, came under heavy shelling and ground attack Sunday night, and the North Vietnamese held most of the town Monday and Tuesday.

At least 200 Vietnamese civilians were reported killed or wounded along with 18 regional militiamen killed and 36 wounded. A thousand houses were burned.

"It looked like a big ash-tray," said an American who flew over the town today.

Gay Hill Youngsters Warn About Fires With Posters

By BRIAN PEAY
With the lack of rain causing all of West Texas to be a potential tinder-box everyone from the youngest to the oldest Texan is conscious of the dangers of carelessness.

Left up to their own creativity, first- and second-grade children at Gay Hill School, 24 miles north of Big Spring, have worked hard since the beginning of the year to prepare fire prevention posters.

The posters will be entered in the state fire prevention poster contest sponsored and promoted by the Texas State Board of Insurance.

A total of 16 of the 23 children in the grades began work on the posters the first of January following rules and regulations set forth by the state board concerning size, shape, and general dimensions of the posters, plus the message each poster presents. April 1 is the deadline for the posters to be made and entries filed in the contest.

"The children worked on their own time, and the work did not detract from school time," said Mrs. Fay Newman, teacher in the first and second grades.

"I think that working on the posters has really made them conscious of how easy fires can be started through carelessness," Mrs. Newman said.

Prizes ranging to $50 are awarded students between the age of 6 and 20 who enter the contest. "My students have been entering the contest for some time, and last year we had six to eight honorable mentions," said Mrs. Newman.

Some of the entries from Gay Hill this year read: "Protect Our Animals — Be Foxy Prevent Fires"; "As Good Americans — Let's Prevent Fires"; "Wise People Learn Fire Rules"; "Don't Be a Square Yogi Bear — Learn to Prevent Fires";

Some of the winning posters will be reproduced and incorporated in road signs along the highways in honor of Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 1, and also to remind the careless to prevent fires.

FREEDOM OF PRESS
James E. Crowther, vice president and general counsel of the Houston Post Co., said the bill was designed to resolve the conflict of "freedom of the press . . . and the right to compel a witness to appear . . ."

The measure, Crowther said, "does not propose to put newsmen outside the law but it does recognize the peculiar status of the press to gather the news and publish it."

Sen. Charles Herring of Austin, chairman of the Jurisprudence Committee, said the bill would be put in a subcommittee for two weeks for further study. "It is granting immunity so to speak and should be given careful consideration . . . particularly an in-depth review of such words as 'compelling need' . . ."

Herring said: "No reporter, editor, writer, photographer, announcer or other person engaged in the gathering, dissemination or presentation of news on behalf of any newspaper, periodical, press association, news syndicate, wire service or radio or television station shall be required to testify in any action, suit or proceeding, or before any grand jury, concerning any information obtained by him in such capacity."

NO PROTECTION
However, it continues, "the presiding judge in any trial or the impeaching judge of any grand jury may compel such disclosure if there exists a competing need for such testimony and if in his opinion the same is necessary to a proper administration of justice."

Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena, sponsor of the bill, said newsmen have no legal protection now for guarding their sources. Crowther told the senators the bill would protect "off the record comments," a common form of communication between politicians and newsmen.

Crowther said reporters had found that when they have been forced to reveal sources, the sources have stopped talking to the reporters. He said this is especially true today of militants, members of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) and extremists—"things the public needs to know about. They need the right to talk to reporters and have their confidence respected."

Endorse Bill To Let Reporters Keep Sources Of Info 'Secret'

AUSTIN (AP)—A proposal to allow newsmen to keep secret their sources, unless ordered by a judge to reveal them, has been sent to a Senate subcommittee for two weeks.

News executives, including a lawyer, supported the bill Tuesday in appearances before the Senate Jurisprudence Committee.

FREEDOM OF PRESS
James E. Crowther, vice president and general counsel of the Houston Post Co., said the bill was designed to resolve the conflict of "freedom of the press . . . and the right to compel a witness to appear . . ."

LAW IN 17 STATES
Larry Ingram, editor of the Temple Daily Telegram, repre-

rated the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association, which has 87 daily newspaper members of the 107 dailies in the state.

He said the "passage of the (proposed) legislation would make our jobs easier and, more importantly, would allow the free flow of information to the public to continue."

He said of the 17 states which have a similar law there has not been a single instance of a judge or other official claiming that the law "obstructs justice."

Baptism Services
Baptismal services will be held today at 7 p.m. at East Fourth Baptist Church. The Rev. Dale Cain, pastor, said that 26 are candidates, nearly half of whom came during the recent Crusade. Others came Sunday. Brief evangelistic services will follow.

Coahoma Pupils Get A Bonus

COAHOMA — This is good news for students and teachers of the Coahoma Independent School District.

They will get an extra day during the Easter Holidays. The spring holiday period has been lengthened to include the Monday after Easter.

Now, said Supt. W. A. Wilson, the holidays will begin Friday (April 2) at 2:40 p.m., and they will terminate with resumption of school at the regular time on the morning of Tuesday, April 13.

The school board meeting which normally occurs on the second Monday of each month, is set back one day to the evening of April 13.

Representatives To Vote On Booze Bill In 10 Days?

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas representatives may get a chance to vote in about 10 days on the Senate-passed liquor by the drink bill, the chairman of the House Liquor Regulation Committee Tuesday after the committee heard nearly three hours of testimony by both wets and dries.

FINAL CHARGE
Prohibitionists tried a final charge to flank the wets and kill the bill.

Wets indicated that parts of the bill weren't wet enough to suit them.

Committee Chairman Dick McKissack of Dallas sent the measure to a seven-man subcommittee headed by Rep. Tati Santiesteban of El Paso.

McKissack said the bill probably would be reported to the floor next Tuesday for full House debate. He said house action would come in "maybe 10 days."

But backers—including McKissack and sponsor DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi—want to have enough time to insure a two-thirds majority so the bill can take immediate effect.

McKissack said this might make mixed drinks available by the start of the tourist season if local option elections are held quickly enough in Texas cities.

Prohibitionists let the committee know they would like to see the bill killed. But they showed they knew this was unlikely, and some asked that the measure be made at least more acceptable to dries.

$5,000 LICENSE
Wets attacked two main points in the bill: a $5,000 state license requirement to serve mixed drinks and a Senate amendment requiring towns to be incorporated for three years and have 100 registered voters before holding local option elections.

"I am 100 per cent opposed to this bill, in toto," said Sam Morris of San Antonio, manager of radio station KDRY.

Morris laughed at those, including Hale, who denied it was a wet-dry issue.

A.W. Rutter Jr. of Midland, president of a firm that operates motels and restaurants, asked that liquor by the drink be limited to restaurants, bowling alleys and other places "so the drinking is incidental."

He said the $5,000 license fee is too steep for most restaurants but is not high enough to keep out certain undesirables.

"Somebody with a big interest in liquor or prostitution can damn sure buy up all those $5,000 permits you can print up," Rutter said.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife's husband was, Myrtle said that I was no better than I had made several passes at her. This is a dirty, rotten lie. Myrtle is ugly as a bullfrog and I wouldn't spit on her if she was on fire.

My wife believes her sister. How can I prove to my wife that Myrtle is lying?

DEAR TRUE: You can't. It's your word against Myrtle's. It seems to me that your past record (and Myrtle's) should speak for both of you.

DEAR ABBY: Stan had a beard before we were married into it. When my wife was trying to tell Myrtle what he decided to be friends with Stan when he shaved off his beard for our wedding.

Well, after five months of being married, Stan decided to grow another beard, so my father told us he wanted nothing to do with me or my "hippie" husband.

Here is my father's reasoning: My younger brother got the courage to let his hair grow long because of Stan's beard. My husband's beard is not a bushy, wild one. It is neat, well trimmed, and looks very nice.

Is my father being fair? He doesn't have to kiss my husband or even like the beard on him. I'm the one who has to live with it, and I like it. We would like your opinion and the opinions of others.

STAN'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your father is being grossly unfair. But I must admit that I am prejudiced. I find well-manicured beards extremely attractive.

DEAR ABBY: If you could give the young parents of today just one piece of advice, what would it be?

'Serious Indictment Of Society'

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston School District began hiring more security guards today.

The action follows the school board's approval of doubling the security force to 50 as requested by Supt. George Garver.

Garver's request came after several acts of violence on campuses.

"It is a serious indictment of our society that this expenditure is necessary," Garver said.

Bell's Palsy

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 43 and just found out that I have Bell's palsy. It scares me when I get up in the morning and see the right side of my face swollen. My eye seems to swell more than the rest of my face. My doctor says there is an operation behind the ear to correct this affliction but my husband is a little leery. —Mrs. G. S.

Bell's palsy is a one-sided paralysis of the muscles of the face, resulting from damage to the controlling nerves. Yes, it can distort the face quite considerably.

Surgical procedure to treat it depends on the duration of the disorder, and its failure to respond to conservative treatment.

About 80 per cent of patients recover within a matter of several weeks. Electrical stimulation of the nerve is a guide to knowing when surgery is wise. If the nerve responds to such stimulation, then treatment other than surgery usually is continued. (Recovery of patients has been known to occur after a longer lapse than the several weeks I just mentioned.)

But if there is complete lack of response by the nerve to electrical stimulation, then surgery may be considered. You do not say how long you have had the trouble, nor what tests have been made, so I am in no position to say whether your particular case warrants surgery.

Bell's palsy comes on rather commonly with exposure to a cold draft as the only specific instigating cause. It is possible, though, that in such cases the nerve, for some reason, already is overly sensitive.

Other causes of the disorder are infection; physical injury to the nerve — usually a head injury; disturbed blood supply to the nerve; or pressure on the nerve from a tumor or other cause.

Physical therapy is very important in treating Bell's palsy. This consists of one or more of such procedures as heat by local application, infrared lamps, ultrasonic treatment, a massage of facial muscles, periodic electrical stimulation of the nerve trunk. Cortisone or ACTH may be used.

If the eyelids are affected (they may or may not be), meticulous care of the eyeball is important. Warm salt solutions or other eye washes are used. An eye pad frequently is worn to keep out wind and dust, and "artificial tears" may be necessary to keep the eye moist.

To repeat, if the nerve shows some conductivity (response) to electrical stimulation, I would doubt that surgery will be necessary.

Your surgeon, knowing the details in your case, really must have the final say as to whether the operation is advisable.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my newly revised booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is, and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Only Chicago-Laker NBA Series Close

By The Associated Press
There's good reason to believe that, by Thursday night, Atlanta's Hawks, San Francisco's Warriors and the Philadelphia 76ers will feel like April fools.

All three teams slipped within one game of elimination from the National Basketball Association playoffs Tuesday night, the Hawks losing 113-107 to New York, the Warriors falling 114-102 to Milwaukee and the 76ers bowing 120-105 to Baltimore.

Only one of the four series' is still a horse race—or, more accurately, a Bull race. Chicago's Bulls charged back to even their series with Los Angeles at two games apiece, ripping the Lakers 112-102.

RESUME FRIDAY
After taking today off, all four series' resume action April Fool's Night and, by evening's end, the Eastern Conference finalists may well be known.

New York's defending champion Knicks, leading Atlanta three games to one in their best-of-seven semifinal, will go for the clincher at home in Madison Square Garden.

And the Bulls, who went the full seven before losing in last year's post-season play to the Knicks, will take their 3-1 series lead into their Civic Arena with a chance to eliminate the 76ers and take another shot at the New Yorkers.

It'll be anything but a happy homecoming for the Warriors. They haven't been able to beat the Bucks all year and trail 3-0 in their Western Conference series.

But the Lakers will no doubt be overjoyed to get back to Los Angeles. They won their first two games in the Forum before dropping a pair in the Bulls' pen.

Walt Frazier led New York with 26 points but it was five successive free throws by Willis Reed and Dick Barnett that pulled the Knicks comfortably away from a 101-101 deadlock in the closing minutes. Lou Hudson had 30 for Atlanta.

SCRAMBLE BACK
The Warriors scrambled back from a 15-point deficit to within a point of Milwaukee at 94-93.

But San Francisco center Nate Thurmond threw away one pass and teammate Jeff Mullins lost another and the Bucks, converting both miscues into points, were safely ahead once again.

As in the earlier games the Warriors stayed close in the early stages only to fall far behind. They were down by just two points after one period but at the half the Bucks led 55-42. Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee topped all scorers with 33. Jerry Lucas had 23 for San Francisco.

Earl "The Pearl" Monroe, clicked for nine points in the final 1:46 of the first half that enabled Baltimore to climb to a 62-62 intermission deadlock and the Bulls just kept climbing the rest of the way, leading the 76ers by a substantial 98-81 after three periods.

Jack Marin had 15 of his game-high 27 points for Baltimore in the last period. Archie Clark had 24 for Philadelphia.

Bob Love connected on 17 of his 36 points in the last period for the Bulls, who trailed the Lakers 83-78 going into the crucial quarter. He hit 11 straight Chicago points that opened a 93-89 margin to 104-93.

Wilt Chamberlain intimidated the Bulls early as Los Angeles surged to a 14-2 lead but, after going without a basket for nearly half the opening quarter, Chicago caught fire and tied it at 16-16. Gail Goodrich led the losers with 32 points.

TOSSING DOUGH INTO OLYMPIC MONEY CAMPAIGN — Former Olympic champion Parry O'Brien shotputs some of San Francisco's famous sour dough at gathering in New York's Olympic House Tuesday starting campaign to raise funds for the Olympics. At O'Brien's left is another ex-Olympic gold medalist, Frank Wykoff. Wykoff was on the winning U.S. Olympic relay teams in 1928, 1932 and 1936. O'Brien won the shotput in the 1952 and 1956 Games.

Ex-Dunbar Coach Gets College Job

LUBBOCK — James Hillger, former head football coach at Lubbock Dunbar, has been named to a similar position at Prairie View A.M.

Hillger spent seven years at Dunbar, during which time his teams won 51, lost only six and tied five. His 1963 Dunbar team won the Class AAA State championship.

It's not hard to understand why the lords of baseball figure it is imperative that the game's reserve clause be left alone.

It's estimated that it takes $400,000 to acquire and develop a major league player. The nabobs are not going to invest that kind of money if the risk of losing talent becomes greater.

Joe Coloman, who gave Odessa High School some stellar football clubs in the late '40s, is recovering from a severe heart attack he suffered on a recent trip to New Mexico.

No regular season opponent scored as many points against the University of Houston's varsity basketball team as did the UH freshman club. The Kittens accumulated 95 points in a skirmish with the school's varsity troops that was played under game conditions.

Hopes are understandably high for a winner at Houston next fall.

Cinder Show To Conclude

Seventh and eighth graders in Big Spring's two junior high schools were to turn to running events in their City championship track and field meet at Memorial Stadium today.

Gollad took a sizable lead in field events completed Tuesday.

The first running event today was down for 4:40 p.m. The meet was to continue through 5:45 p.m.

In all, nine running events, including two relay races, are on the program this afternoon.

Today's schedule, with seventh graders running first in all cases:

4:15 p.m. — 440-yard relay.
4:25 p.m. — 660-yard run; 4:35 p.m. — 330-yard run; 4:45 p.m. — 100-yard dash; 5 p.m. — 70-yard high hurdles; 5:10 p.m. — 220-yard dash; 5:25 p.m. — 120-yard low hurdles; 5:35 p.m. — 1,320-yard run; 5:45 p.m. — 1,320-yard relay.

A New Dent Develops In Big Red Machine

By The Associated Press
Another dent has developed in Cincinnati's Big Red Machine.

This one is named Lee May. The slugging first baseman suffered damaged knee ligaments in a collision with New York's Tim Lincecum during Tuesday night's 6-3 exhibition victory over the Mets.

May joins pitchers Jim Merritt and Wayne Simpson, center fielder Bobby Tolan and shortstop Dave Concepcion on the sidelines. The first two will be left behind in Florida when the Machine limps north in the hope that more warm weather work will cure their arm miseries. The last two are on the disabled list.

The Reds combed lefty Jerry Kosman for all their runs in his seven innings, including Bernie Carbo's two-run double. Kosman has allowed 17 runs and 34 hits in 31 innings this spring.

The New York Yankees' ace Mel Stottlemyre was breezing along on a two-hitter and a 6-0 lead through six innings. Then the wind and the Washington Senators did him in. The Nats clipped Stott and Ron Klimkowski for eight runs in the seventh, with Frank Howard hitting a wind-blown two-run homer and a wind-blown two-run single.

Denny McLain allowed four runs, seven hits, four walks and threw two wild pitches in five innings for Washington.

The Los Angeles Dodgers breezed to a 9-1 triumph over San Francisco as Bill Singer fired a four-hitter and Bill Sudakis homered. The Dodgers scored three runs in the third, fourth and fifth innings.

Gene Alley, who suffered a broken wrist several weeks ago when struck by a ball from a pitching machine, finally saw action in Pittsburgh's 8-6 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Alley doubled to trigger a three-run first inning.

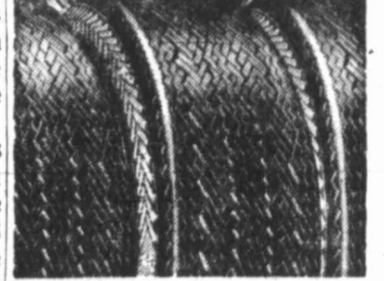

Ellie Hendricks drove in three runs with a homer and two sacrifice flies and the Baltimore Orioles scored four times against Minnesota's Stan Williams in the sixth inning in beating the Twins 7-5.

St. Louis teed off on Kansas City 10-3, scoring four times in the third inning and five in the seventh. Leron Lee had the Cards' only homer.

Montreal battered Atlanta's Mike McQueen for four runs in the first inning and four more in the fourth en route to a 9-3 triumph. Steve Renko went the route with an eight-hitter and Bob Bailey slammed a homer, two doubles and a single.

Bill Hands pitched eight innings in the Chicago Cubs' 6-3 win over California. Tommy Dean's homer and Nate Colbert's two-run double helped the San Diego Padres over Cleveland 6-3 and the Milwaukee Brewers nipped Oakland 6-5 with Phil Roof knocking in three runs with a double and single and Mike Hegan cracking a homer.

Lower Grades Show A Loss

Leakage in the secondary level eased enrollment in Big Spring Schools off a bit last week. The total of 7,185 was ahead of the 7,119 at the same time a year ago, but when the 108 in kindergarten (a program new this year) are taken off, then the comparable enrollment now would be 7,077, or 42 less than a year ago.

Oddy, the second grade is the point at which there is a radical dip from last year. The 568 now enrolled in this level compares with 639 a year ago, a difference of 71. Also, the senior high enrollment of 1,963 is down 48 from the same time last year. Junior high enrollment is off only 10. Some elementary levels showed gains.

At the end of last week there were 3,780 elementary children, a gain of two for the week. There were 3,167 secondary, a loss of 12 (seven in senior high and four in junior high), and 236 in special education, a gain of four.

PTA Admonished To Face Current Issues

"Who Says You Can't?" was gathered at Sacred Heart Youth Center Monday to hear Mrs. Marvin Armstrong for the keynote address she presented at the Sixteenth District Conference, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

MRS. MARVIN ARMSTRONG

A LOVELIER YOU

Dieting? Vegetables Will Help You Do It

By MARY SUE MILLER
Nutritionists never stop stressing the value of vegetables to good health and looks. All those natural vitamins, you know!

Yet reports show a decline in the consumption of vegetables. The reason is hazy. Do you suppose misguided reducers could be responsible for the drop? It is a fact that most adults attempt to reduce at some time and that most of them are misguided. As a group they eat the wrong things for a really successful weight loss.

Vegetables are essential to a reducing diet, and not only because of their health-giving and beauty-making properties. At a very low cost in calories, vegetables go far to satisfy your appetite, to curb those hunger pangs that can wreck a diet program.

For instance the count of 1 cup of string beans is only 50 calories. And that's a lot of good eating. Coming in at the same amount and count are broccoli, flowerettes, carrots, spinach and stewed tomatoes. Also for 50 calories you can have 8 stalks of asparagus, 1/2 Idaho potato, 5 "beefsteak" mushrooms. At 100 calories, there's a quart box of Brussels sprouts, 1 head of cauliflower and 2 heads of lettuce — more than you can hope to eat at one sitting.

Marine Sergeant Returns Home

WESTBROOK (SC) — Sgt. Howard Williamson and family are visiting his parents, the J. K. Williamsons. Sgt. Williamson recently returned from a Marine assignment in Vietnam, Okinawa and Japan and saw his son, Greg, for the first time. Greg will be one year old April 17. Sgt. Williamson and his family will leave soon for Camp Lejeune, N. C.

The A. C. Moodys returned Monday from Seguin where they were guests of the Ray Moodys. They were all in Hico with the Herman Moodys during the weekend, and were also joined by the Alvin Moodys of Ft. Worth.

Mrs. Curtis Clemmer is a patient in Root Memorial Hospital at Colorado City.

ers, is a long-time worker for the PTA, having held numerous offices on local, district and state levels, and is an active civic worker in her home town of Lubbock.

The PTA program theme for the past two years has been "Confrontation With Realities," and Mrs. Armstrong urged her audience to "move beyond confrontation to shared problem-solving."

"This program theme is designed to inspire each local PTA to assume a leadership role within the community to face squarely the issues that are real and vital to that community," she said. "This requires determining what those issues are within a given community, careful study of the issues and appropriate action. Thus it's time for PTA to say, 'Who says you can't?'"

The speaker went on to say that PTA must turn away from "comforting" topics and face the problems of the day in presenting programs that will "compete for the minds of people who want to become involved in current issues." She said the PTA will center its programs around four areas — the family, community, human relations and education.

In the family area, the speaker said there is a pervading sense of guilt among many parents and an air of contempt among the young toward traditional values; that families must move beyond conflict to communication.

In serving the community, she said PTA must look beyond vested interests and concentrate on community-wide cooperation to relieve problems of drug abuse, environment, integrating schools, drop outs, hunger and poverty.

"Programs in the area of education should be of great concern to the PTA," continued the speaker. She said schools should be exciting, stimulating and child-centered to help a child become the best person he is capable of becoming in a world of others.

"If our children are not achieving, we must examine the system in view of finding better ways of teaching and learning," she emphasized.

In the field of human relations, Mrs. Armstrong stressed that "the day has passed when we can afford to indulge our prejudices, regret our differences and build walls around our personal interests." In conclusion, she said "Progress in human relations requires us to relinquish some of our vested interests, to see the other person's dilemma, his defensiveness, aggressiveness or his withdrawal. We must rear children who will become men and women of good will."

Baptist Women Study Witnessing

Mrs. Leroy Minchew presented the program for the Baptist Women Tuesday at the Westside Baptist Church, based on the study book, "Witnessing in Today's World." She discussed the importance of witnessing, and some of the obstacles that keep the church and its people from witnessing. The missionary birthday calendar was ready by Mrs. J. A. Andrews, and prayers were led by Mrs. J. O. Murphy and Mrs. N. M. Hipp.

Scripture Is Read During Program

Mrs. A. W. Page gave a scripture program Tuesday for the Women's Missionary Union, Baptist Temple, in the home of Mrs. Dalton Johnston, 600 E. 16th.

She compared the world to a large field and said that people of the world were like a buried treasure. Noting that treasures are found by seeking what is lost, she said the greatest treasure is salvation.

Mrs. Page presided as members discussed a more extensive visitation program. Mrs. N. R. Garrett read the prayer calendar, and Mrs. Bob Wren emphasized that the emergency clothes closet at the church needs restocking.

The closing prayer was led by Mrs. James Puckett. The women will meet for a Royal Service program at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the church.

Mrs. E. Richters Is Yearly Queen

Mrs. Ernest Richters was honored as the yearly queen for the TOPS Slender Benders Tuesday at the Midway School. She was presented a bouquet of roses.

The three-month contest winner was Mrs. Tommy Willis who received $15 toward the purchase of a wig. One-month winners were Mrs. Charter Hale and Mrs. Willis.

Other award recipients were Mrs. Natalie Roberts, Mrs. Joe H. Rogers and Mrs. Richters, who were presented certificates from Texas state headquarters as division winners. The monthly KOPS (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly) award went to Mrs. W. R. Morrison.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. I. E. Davis, Mrs. R. L. Coates, Mrs. Billy Spears, Mrs. R. H. Washburn and Mrs. J. B. Roberts. The next meeting is at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday at the school.

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Lana Maria Rock and Roy Clifford Moore exchanged wedding vows at 2 p.m. Saturday in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church.

The Rev. Thomas Francis performed the ceremony before an altar graced with two bouquets of white gladioli. Background music was played by Mrs. Leslie Green, organist.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Coates, North Birdwell Lane, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Rock, 4007 Wason.

The bride was attired in a floor-length, white organza A-line gown, with full Camelot sleeves. The empire-style gown was accented with Venise lace and chapel-length train. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place with organza petals, highlighted with pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of babies' breath and white daisies.

Mrs. Walter Widger served as matron of honor, wearing a floor-length, Empire-style lavender satin gown; the bodice accented with yellow ribbon. The bridesmatron was Mrs. Brenda Bolock, sister of the bridegroom. Her dress was identical to Mrs. Widger's, and both attendants carried colonial bouquets of yellow daisies.

Sgt. Wayne Herridge was the best man, Thomas Willingham was groomsmen and Allen Herridge was the usher.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, with Miss Nancy Nash presiding at the guest register. A white net cloth covered the refreshment table which was centered with the bridal bouquet. The tiered cake was topped with miniature wedding bells and an arch.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Auriel LaFod, Mrs. Fred Mercier, Mrs. Stewart Forrester and Mrs. J. D. Kendrick.

The bride and bridegroom are both seniors at Big Spring High School, and will reside on North Birdwell Lane.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Rock, Andrews, Odessa; and Mrs. Judy Bedell, Kermit.

ABWA Bulletin Wins First Place

The monthly bulletin of the Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association, won first place honors at the Southwestern District ABWA convention held March 24-29 in Phoenix, Ariz.

The bulletin was chosen over 133 other chapter bulletins represented at the convention. Chapter members attending the convention were Mrs. Fred Butler, bulletin chairman and "woman of the year" for her chapter; and Mrs. Lois Rogers, reservation chairman.

Gardeners Hear Guest Speaker

Mrs. J. A. Van Auker of Midland was guest speaker for the Rosebud Garden Club Tuesday at the YMCA. She assisted the group in making various floral arrangements.

Mrs. Van Auker, a nationally accredited flower show judge, has lectured throughout the Houston area, West Texas and New Mexico.

Hostesses for the workshop were Mrs. Odell Womack and Mrs. Les Maulden. The speaker was introduced by Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas.

Mrs. J. D. Leonard was a guest. The next meeting is at 9:30 a.m., April 20 in the home of Mrs. J. W. Kuykendall.

Civinettes Hear Skin Care Hints

A cosmetic firm representative spoke to the Civinettes about proper skin care and application of makeup Tuesday at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, with Mrs. Walter Fields serving as hostess.

Mrs. Wendall Sharp reported that the Girl Scout troop sponsored by the club recently earned $35 in a fund-raising project. The nominating committee will present a new slate of officers at the next meeting, at 7:30 p.m., April 27 in the home of Mrs. Ronny Reeves, 2210 Cecilia.

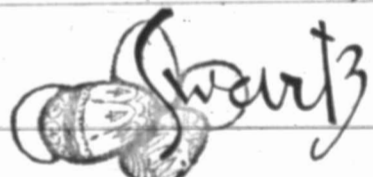

Opti-Mrs. Learn About Antiquing

Mrs. Billy Grisham, home economics instructor at Big Spring High School, demonstrated methods of antiquing for the Opti-Mrs. Club Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Bill Reynolds, 1000 Baylor.

Mrs. Grisham showed both wood and foil antiquing, and during the program she antiqued a cream and sugar set which she first covered with foil.

Mrs. Jesse M. Looney presided. The next meeting is for lunch at 12 o'clock noon, April 13 at the Ramada Inn.
