

PAROLE BOARD DENIES APPEAL

Hoffa's Reign About To End

WASHINGTON (AP) — James Riddle Hoffa's 13-year reign over the giant Teamsters union appears all but ended after the U.S. Parole Board denial of his appeal for freedom.

Hoffa, serving an eight-year jury tampering sentence, will retain the title of union president for several more months, but Teamsters sources said he will almost certainly be replaced at the union's July convention in Miami Beach, Fla.

A new Teamsters president also could mean early negotiations for a return of the 2-million-member Teamsters to the main body of American labor, the AFL-CIO which expelled Hoffa's union in 1957 on corruption charges.

PICKED STAND-IN

Acting Teamsters president Frank E. Fitzsimmons, Hoffa's old Detroit sidekick and hand-picked stand-in, is rated the frontrunner to succeed Hoffa in his own right.

Hoffa will not become eligible for parole again until June, 1972, when Fitzsimmons, or some other successor will have had nearly a year to consolidate a hold on the union presidency. Presidential terms currently are for five years.

Hoffa at the last Teamsters convention in 1966 managed to rewrite the union constitution to make it virtually impossible for other union leaders to oust him. But the parole denial appeared to dash Hoffa's last hopes of retaining control of the union after more than four years in prison.

The parole refusal Wednesday crushed Hoffa's pledge to the union's 2-million members shortly before federal marshals whisked him in handcuffs to the penitentiary in 1967: "I'll be back, God willing, sooner than our enemies would have you believe."

While Hoffa still has union supporters and may continue to exercise influence, the parole denial evidently will accomplish something a host of opponents, including the late President John F. Kennedy, the late Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, congressional investigators, other labor leaders and even some of his union members, were unable to do—get him out.

MOST POWERFUL

A parole would have almost certainly put Hoffa back in the driver's seat of the world's largest, richest, most powerful labor union, in the view of Most Teamsters sources.

Under Fitzsimmons, the union had begun a slow drift away from Hoffa's tight national control to a more decentralized, operation with increasing roles for the 12 other vice presidents. Many reportedly would shy away from creating any new strong man president like Hoffa, who would dilute their power.

Mrs. Lloyd Rustin, 18, was charged with lewd and obscene dancing. Sheriff's deputies charged she was wearing a leather vest which exposed her bare breasts.

Obscene Dancing, Exposures Bared

HOUSTON (AP) — The owner of a Houston Lounge, his wife and an 18-year-old woman employe were arrested and charged for alleged immoral exposures.

Lester Musterman, 39, was charged with permitting lewd and obscene dancing on licensed premises. His wife, 27, was charged with exposing her breasts in the lounge by wearing a see-through gown.

Mrs. Lloyd Rustin, 18, was charged with lewd and obscene dancing. Sheriff's deputies charged she was wearing a leather vest which exposed her bare breasts.

'We Want Him Back,' Say Drivers

DETROIT (AP) — "No way... He's like one of the guys, a friend who'd stick with you. He's paid for whatever he did wrong, paid a lot more than worse men."

"It's a dirty deal." Around the Teamsters Union hall and truck stops of Detroit, reaction was bitter to the rejection of James R. Hoffa's appeal for parole Wednesday.

"We want him back," said several truck drivers of Local 299. Hoffa was a member of Local 299 and later became its president before being elected to head the International Teamsters Union in 1957.

A lot of the drivers in Detroit fought — literally in many cases — beside Hoffa when he was organizing the Detroit local in the 1930's and 1940's. They remember the camaraderie of those times.

Others recall long, sleepless hauls across country in unsafe rigs and credit Hoffa with improving their lot.

Hoffa is serving a 13-year term at the federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., for jury tampering and mail fraud.

With his request for parole turned down Wednesday, he will have to remain behind bars at least until July, 1972, when the U.S. Board of Parole said it would reconsider his case.

His union duties have been taken over by others but, to hear the rank and file talk, Hoffa maintains something like a sentimental leadership over the 17,500-member local.

"Look what Jimmy's done. The highways are safer for everybody because he wanted the best safety equipment. And I made the Pittsburgh run a few days ago and got a new motel with a color TV."

From the viewpoint of a man who's been in and out of prison three times, James Withers, 35, said, "Hoffa got a raw deal."

Withers said he'd been sentenced to a maximum 25 years in Michigan prisons on charges ranging from assault with intent to commit grave bodily harm to grand larceny. But he always won parole at his first hearings and spent only five years behind bars.

"Hoffa's behaved himself in jail. He should have the same breaks as me... He's done more good for people," said Withers, a member of Local 299 for 18 months.

But one man who hopes Hoffa won't win this time around is truck driver Larry Vroom, 52, a 25-year member of the Detroit union.

"I'd like him back at our home local," Vroom said. "I feel we lost a human touch when he went away."

GETTING NEWS OF HOME — Young South Vietnamese Airborne soldier chats with his father over beers following his return from the fighting in Laos. The old man came to Dong Ha, 11 miles south of the Demilitarized Zone, after he heard his son's unit had returned. The unit which is now "standing down" bore the brunt of the heavy fighting in Laos.

Drive Saigon's Troops Out Of Frontier Base

SAIGON (AP) — A North Vietnamese regiment crossed from Laos into South Vietnam's central highlands and in a furious assault drove Saigon's troops out of a frontier fire base, the South Vietnamese Command reported today.

Continuing an upsurge of offensive action that began Sunday, apparently in retaliation for the UTOS, the North Vietnamese also unleashed a barrage of 500 rockets against two other artillery bases close to the Laotian border.

DEATH TOLL UP

Meanwhile, a South Vietnamese commando force returned from an overnight raid on a North Vietnamese base on the Ho Chi Minh trail six miles inside Laos, the 26-hour operation apparently produced only minor results, with the South Vietnamese destroying some ammunition and fuel but failing to engage the North Vietnamese.

In another development, the U.S. Command's weekly casualty summary said 58 Americans were killed in action last weekend and 158 were wounded. It was the highest death toll in a month and the largest number of wounded in six months.

The North Vietnamese attack on the Firebase No. 6 began at dawn Wednesday with rocket and recoilless rifle bombardments. This was followed by a ground assault by the veteran 28th North Vietnamese Regiment, which took part in the 1968 siege at Ben H.

The attacking force, estimated at more than 2,000 men, penetrated the base several times and forced out its two companies of South Vietnamese, said a spokesman for the South Vietnamese command, Lt. Col. Le Trung Lien.

BOMBERS RAID

Before the South Vietnamese pulled out, H'n said, they spiked their artillery pieces—

105mm howitzers—to prevent an effort to stem the advance. The North Vietnamese using U.S. helicopters were also brought in to support the embattled Saigon troops, and the U.S. Command reported two choppers shot down, with one crew member killed and another wounded.

Hiem gave no casualty figures for either side. Firebase No. 6 is six miles east of the Laotian border and eight miles west-southwest of the central highlands town of Dak To.

Milk Prices Rise Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Retail milk prices, already at their highest level in two years, are likely to go up even more because of government dairy price supports going into effect today.

Government economists say the increased price supports also could boost prices of hamburger and other inexpensive types of beef.

This new increase in the government's guaranteed price to farmers for milk used in butter, cheese and other products is just under 6 per cent. A 9 per cent boost was approved last year.

The latest increase came on the heels of a White House meeting between President Nixon and dairymen urging higher price supports. The Agriculture Department initially resisted the increase.

Agriculture Department economists decline to estimate how much the latest price support increase will raise retail prices. Last year's dairy price support boost resulted in retail price increases of 2 per cent for milk and 2.8 per cent for butter, five and seven times the rise in general food prices during the same period.

Farm economists said the dairy support boost might encourage farmers to hold off butchering older or marginal dairy cows. That could reduce the supply of canned and ground meats and drive up prices.

Support prices are not the only factor affecting milk and meat prices, the economists emphasize.

The price boost followed disagreement between agriculture and dairy state congressmen.

Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin originally announced March 12 there would be no dairy price support increase this year.

Four days later Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., and 27 other senators introduced a bill to overturn Hardin's decision. Rep. W. R. "Bob" Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, scheduled hearings on a similar bill.

Nelson said farmers have to pay more for feed, labor and replacement stock. An Agriculture Department report noted the cost increases but concluded that record high prices and a greater labor supply would still permit a net gain in dairy income.

Houston Parking Pains Attacked

HOUSTON (AP) — A member of the city planning commission, Ben McGuire, suggested that the city adopt an ordinance requiring adequate parking be built when a house is converted into a business.

Many houses are being converted to restaurants, night clubs or other business, McGuire said, and the owners are not adding parking. Patrons are forced to park their cars along the streets, increasing congestion, or in other businesses' parking lots.

McGuire, chairman of the commission's parking committee, said he will ask the committee to draft a proposal for the ordinance to be submitted to the Houston City Council.

Quiz Kin Of POWs About Peace Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — Families of U.S. prisoners of war have been questioned by House committee investigators about contacts with a peace group which relays POW mail.

The disclosure follows two days of reports that FBI agents have been questioning POW families about dealings with the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen Detained in North Vietnam, a New York-based pacifist group.

The FBI has not responded to questions about the reported interrogation of POW families last summer and fall. House Internal Security Committee investigators were making inquiries about the same time.

WARNED HER

An Internal Security source said its investigators checked on the Committee of Liaison hearings on POW affairs last year.

The mother of one American serviceman missing in the Vietnam war told a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee Tuesday an FBI agent warned her to have nothing to do with the Committee of Liaison. Another POW mother told the panel Wednesday an agent asked if she would testify against the peace group.

Other reports of FBI agents questioning families about the liaison committee, accused the FBI of harassing families to keep them from dealing with her group.

The Committee of Liaison ferries mail from American families to their relatives in Hanoi's POW camps and from the prisoners to their families. The committee also has produced lists of men held in North Vietnam and others reported dead.

READ ALL ABOUT IT

Mrs. Gerald A. Gartley of Dunedin, Fla., said the agent who visited her asked a number of questions about her POW son and his capture, which she said was odd "since the Pentagon surely already knew all about that."

The agent asked Mrs. Gartley said, if the Committee of Liaison had used any coercion, had propagandized on her relationship with it or had asked for contributions. She said she answered no to each question.

An Air Force letter to POW relatives, shown at the hearing by Mrs. Weiss, said: "Dealing with this and similar groups, rather than at an official government level, is an obvious propaganda ploy designed to promote the credibility of those who oppose U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia."

Another letter from Col. J.G. Luther of Air Force personnel services advised against sending mail through the liaison group "as the possibility of exploitation and harassment is ever present."

Car-Truck Crash Kills Woman, 57

McKinney, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Maurine Bickham, 57, of Celeste was killed and her husband, J. D. Bickham, 62, critically injured in a car-truck crash here Wednesday.

Officers said the Bickhams' car was in collision with a concrete mixer truck on a frontage road near the intersection of U.S. 75 and Texas 24. The automobile burst into flames.

An off-duty McKinney policeman pulled Bickham from the flaming wreckage but was unable to extricate Mrs. Bickham.

Multicraft Pay Contract Signed

DALLAS (AP) — A multicraft agreement covering wages over the next two years in the North Texas region has been reached between the North Texas Contractors Association and the Dallas and Fort Worth Building Trades Councils.

Under the agreement, increases over the two year period would be $1.40 per hour for presently higher paid crafts and $1.10 for others.

The contract announcement Wednesday firmly establishes the next two years to be paid by the 166 association member contractors to employ in 21 different trade unions ratifying the agreement.

The parties say the agreement is the first of its kind in the nation on a regional basis.

The main points of the contract are:

Wages in all "sister" craft unions in Dallas and Fort Worth will become equal on or before May 1, 1972, by applying the first increase to the average wage of "sister" unions to establish a common wage.

A "no strike-no lockout" agreement is included to prevent work stoppages over working rules and conditions. A regional multicraft labor and management committee shall review any impasse in negotiations and should this committee fail to issue a decision, the issue shall go to binding arbitration.

Unions party to the agreement have agreed to support management in efforts to settle with other unions seeking terms in excess of those in this agreement by continuing to work—even though the non-cooperating union is on strike.

SOME DRUGS BEING BANNED — Dr. Henry E. Simmons, director of U.S. Bureau of Drugs, says ineffective drugs are being banned by the Food and Drug Administration.

Methadone Is Unproven Treatment For Addiction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejecting requests for major liberalization, the government today reaffirmed its stand that the controversial drug methadone still is an unproven long-term treatment for narcotics addiction.

But two government agencies sanctioned dispensation of the drug, used as a substitute for heroin, by individual doctors, a step some major medical advisory groups frown on.

RULES RELAXED

The Food and Drug Administration and the Justice Department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs set guidelines that must be followed to gain government approval for administering maintenance doses of methadone to addicts.

The rules were slightly relaxed from initial ones proposed last June, but retained safeguards some medical groups say are unnecessary and unduly restrictive of scientific investigation.

By contrast, the two agencies' sanction of methadone—dispensation by individual physicians was at variance with drug committees of the National Academy of Sciences and the American Medical Association.

OVERDOSES KILL

They said only clinics or groups of physicians are capable of keeping necessary tabs on methadone programs.

Methadone is a synthetic narcotic that proponents say eliminates the craving for heroin while allowing addicts to function productively in society. Methadone overdoses, however, can be fatal. The government has approved about 275 maintenance programs.

Washington is a major test area for methadone use. About 2,700 heroin addicts are being treated with the drug under one program, and many claim it has led to their successful rehabilitation away from crime.

But several deaths from methadone overdoses have been recorded, some involving persons who were not heroin addicts.

NEW GUIDELINES

The government agencies' new guidelines modified an initial proposal to allow methadone maintenance administration, with certain safeguards, to addicts who are pregnant, psychotic, under age 18 or suffering from serious physical disease.

They also raised the maximum permissible daily dosage and allowed physical examination of patients once a year, rather than every six months.

But, despite objections, the government retained a rule that investigators provide detailed, patient records without guarantees they would be confidential.

The government also rejected suggestions that federal approval not be required for methadone projects; that patients receive more than a three-day supply of the drug; and that weekly urine checks for heroin traces were unnecessary.

Ike Dollars To Sell For $10 Apiece

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The dollar coin has returned to U.S. currency with production of "cent wheels" bearing the profile of Dwight D. Eisenhower and depicting the American eagle on the moon.

Mary T. Brooks, director of the U.S. Mint, pushed the button Wednesday on a noisy stamping machine at the San Francisco Mint to start production of the first dollar coin since 1935.

The first coin off the press goes to Mamie Eisenhower, widow of the president. The second goes to her grandson, David, and the third to David's father-in-law, President Nixon.

Over the next four years, the San Francisco Mint will produce 130 million "uncirculated" Ike dollars, the first type produced. They will be sold to collectors for $3 apiece.

Production will begin in June on 20 million flawless "proof" Ike dollars—to sell for $10 apiece.

Later coins intended for general circulation, worth $1 will be minted in Philadelphia and Denver. They will be distributed to banks by fall, meeting the demands of vending machine operators for a coin to match inflation.

Requests for the collector coins will be taken beginning in July, after order forms have been distributed to all post offices. Mailed deliveries will begin in August.

The collector coins will contain 40 per cent silver and 60 per cent copper, compared with 90 per cent silver and 10 per cent copper in the silver dollars minted from 1963 to 1993. The general circulation dollar coins will contain no silver but an alloy of copper and nickel, such as current dimes and quarters.

Frank Gasparro, the U.S. Mint's chief sculptor and engraver, designed both the Eisenhower profile and the reverse side. The latter bears an American eagle, an olive branch in its claws, swooping in for a landing on the moon.

It commemorates the July 21, 1969, lunar landing of the Apollo 11 spacecraft, "The Eagle." It shows the crater-marked terrain of the Sea of Tranquility with the earth in the background.

Income Tax Ideas Mulled, Mutscher Will Speak Out

AUSTIN (AP) — Senate tax writers listen to income tax proposals today. House members will hear Speaker Gus Mutscher's explanation of his role in a federal stock fraud investigation.

There also was a strong possibility senators would take up Fort Worth Sen. Don Kennard's resolution banning floor action on tax proposals not heard previously by a committee.

Kennard's resolution is a tactic to head off surprise tax proposals such as last session's complex "destination tax" which contained loopholes that drastically cut its revenue potential.

Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg decided not to seek a vote today on his resolution concerning the conviction of Lt. William Calley in the alleged My Lai massacre. Instead, he said he would wait for it to go through the normal committee process.

Mutscher and several other state leaders gave depositions to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission about their dealings with Sharpstown State Bank of Houston, now defunct, and the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. The SEC said this week it wants to question Mutscher, Gov. Preston Smith and Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah further.

The SEC alleged in a suit filed in Dallas federal court that easy loans and quick profit stock deals were arranged for some state officials to induce passage of two bank deposit insurance bills in 1969.

The bills, the SEC alleged, would have allowed Sharpstown to evade inspection by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Mutscher and the others denied any link between the stock deals and the bills, which Smith vetoed. None of the officials is a defendant in the suit.

Monday, the House approved two resolutions that could result in an investigation of the passage of the two measures.

Borden Stock Show Slated

GAIL — The Borden County Livestock Show starts Friday at 3:30 p.m. with the judging of the barrows.

The show at the Borden County Barn will be Friday and Saturday.

Lamb's will be judged at 7 p.m. Friday and steers will be judged at 10 a.m. Saturday. Following the steer judging a barbecue lunch will be held.

The auction of about 75 of the 225 entries will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday. The bids will be taken in dollars, above floor price. If a bidder wants to keep an animal he must pay the price he bids and also pay the floor price, which is not included in his bid price. All animals will sell first to the floor bidder.

Drill Bit Part Of Angelo Loot?

CHICKASHA, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Crime Bureau in Oklahoma City is seeking to identify a drill bit found here and believed to be part of a $20,000 theft in Texas.

The bit, with its serial number ground off, was found Wednesday at an oil drilling rig in Grady County.

Sheriff Frank Shaffer said the Reed Buton bit, worth $1,200, was believed stolen from a manufacturer's warehouse in San Angelo, Tex., Feb. 18.

Poor Timing Keeps Solons From Winning Pay Raise?

AUSTIN (AP) — Legislators never get a pay raise because they ask for it at the wrong time, the chairman of the House Constitutional Amendments Committee says.

"We have never approached the general public at a general election with a clean cut, reasonable bill," Rep. John Traeger told his committee.

Legislators are scheduled to meet in regular session April 13. The committee approved a bill providing a $300 per semester tuition grant to needy students. Estimated cost for the next two years would be $8 million, said spokesmen for the Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas, Inc. (ICUT).

The other measure allows the State College Coordinating Board to contract with the private universities, paying them $1,000 for each bachelor's degree awarded, $1,500 for each master's degree and $2,500 for each doctoral degree.

The committee heard two bills on legislative pay raises—one by Traeger of Seguin and the other by Rep. Jim Earthman of Houston.

Traeger's measure would increase the House and Senate members' salaries to $9,600 a year and the lieutenant governor and House speaker to $20,000. They all now receive $4,800.

Earthman's bill calls for $12,000 for legislators, with the lieutenant governor and speaker receiving $30,000. Also, the members' per diem would be increased from $12 to $25.

Tuesday night the Senate Education Committee approved two bills providing direct and indirect state aid to private colleges.

The 10th annual Big Spring Paint Horse Show is scheduled for April 24 at the Big Spring Rodeo Bowl.

"The Big Spring show is the oldest continuous Paint Horse show in West Texas," said Kenneth Williams, show manager.

Thirty-three classes in three divisions, mares, stallions and geldings, will be judged. A Grand Champion and Reserve Champion in each of the three divisions will be selected.

There will also be two youth activities divisions. There will be one for youths 13 years and under and one for those 14 through 18 years.

Bob Collins, Zephyr, will judge the show.

"Entries are expected from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado," said Williams.

Sens. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston and James Wallace of Houston voted against the bills.

"You're about to relegate the public education system to a black, brown, poor, middle class system because everyone else in an above average income group is going to a private school," Schwartz said.

"It's our duty to provide a place in public schools for everyone who wants to go."

Dr. John Moseley, president of Austin College, told the committee there was a $1,750 gap between what a student pays to attend a private university and what he pays at a state college.

Similar bills are pending in a House Appropriations subcommittee.

Aspirin Can Kill, Disable

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two doctors are warning fellow physicians that the common aspirin can kill or disable persons allergic to its basic ingredient — acetylsalicylic acid.

Dr. Bernard T. Fein of San Antonio, Tex., said in an interview Wednesday that even the smallest quantity of aspirin can kill someone allergic to the medication.

He and Dr. Stephen D. Lockey of Lancaster, Pa., reported on their aspirin research during a meeting of the American College of Allergists here.

"We don't know how many people react abnormally to aspirin in the general population," Fein said. "We do know that they do and that's the reason for our attempting to warn our colleagues."

Lockey, chief of allergy at Lancaster General Hospital, said medical response to aspirin allergy victims must be swift to prevent death or damage that leaves patients as "vegetables."

Aspirin allergy can't be detected in normal skin tests, Fein said, but must be spotted clinically during a reaction.

In severe cases, the physicians said, symptoms usually are sudden and include a tightness in the chest and other signs typical of a heart attack.

"The patient may die if not given immediate treatment," Fein warned.

Ron Swoboda Leaves Mets For Montreal

By The Associated Press
Ron Swoboda was always popular and sometimes controversial in a New York Mets uniform. After he contributed to the 1969 World Series victory over the Baltimore Orioles, Swoboda's stardom nose-dived like his head-first catches and the bullish outfielder never hid his displeasure about Manager Gil Hodges.

Boswell, 26, plans to try out with Detroit and Tiant, 30, with Boston. Bobby Grich, a reserve infielder for Baltimore, was optioned to Rochester of the International League and Washington trimmed its roster to the opening day limit of 25 by sending pitchers Jackie Brown and Ron Law to their minor league base.

The Cincinnati Reds announced that first baseman Lee May would miss the first two weeks of the season because of an injury suffered in a Tuesday night exhibition game. The defending National League champions already will start the season without infielder Bobby Tolan, who was injured in an off-season accident.

Tommy John pitched eight shutout innings and Rick Reichardt knocked in four runs with two homers, leading the Chicago White Sox to a 17-1 slaughter over Detroit. Pete Koegel's double broke a 1-1 tie, highlighting a three-run fourth inning outburst as Milwaukee downed Cleveland; winning pitcher Juan Pizarro's two-run triple highlighted a five-run eighth as the Chicago Cubs whipped San Diego 8-3. Greg Garret allowed only three hits in six innings as Cincinnati beat Kansas City 3-0 and Jim Bunning checked Minnesota on one run in seven innings as Philadelphia stopped the Twins 4-1.

Montreal Manager Gene Mauch is happy, too. Swoboda, 26, a right-handed hitter who has been with the Mets since 1964, has a lifetime batting average of .242. Hahn, a product of the San Francisco Giants' organization, was obtained by Montreal in 1968 in a special expansion draft. The right-hander had a .255 average last year in primarily pinch-hitting roles.

Frank Howard delivered two mammoth homers Wednesday as the Washington Senators prepped for the Presidential opener next week with a 6-3 victory over Baltimore. Howard's homers followed walks to Mike Epstein and both cleared the 70-foot fence 380 feet away in left-center field.

St. Louis scored six unearned runs in the sixth inning and went on to a 12-2 rout of the Mets. Steve Carlton pitched seven innings for the Cardinals, striking out nine and giving up just five hits. Ray Culp warmed up for opening day with a nine-inning four-hitter as the Boston Red Sox trimmed Pittsburgh, 4-2. Boston put it away with three runs off Dock Ellis in the third inning.

Ali says he can beat Joe. MILWAUKEE (AP) — Muhammad Ali, who lost a bid to recapture his world heavyweight boxing championship recently easily captured the hearts of a large number of University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee students and faculty Wednesday.

Baltimore Has Too Much Of Everything

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Weaver's dilemma is the envy of 11 other American League managers. Weaver's Baltimore Orioles simply have too much of everything—pitching, power, defense, speed—for themselves as well as the rest of the league.

Reggie Jackson is the key to the fortunes of Charlie Finley's Oakland club and its new manager, Dick Williams. The guess here is that Jackson will come closer to the 47 homers he hit in 1969 than the 23 he sent out last year.

Mickey Lolich, 14-19, bounces back. Pitching is the Red Sox' chief concern, although they picked up Ken Tatum in the trade that sent Tony Conigliaro to California. Luis Aparicio, the 36-year-old shortstop obtained from the White Sox, is being counted on to provide the offensive spark in a power-lacked lineup led by Carl Yastrzemski. Duane Josephson, obtained from the Chicago White Sox this week, solved Boston's catching problem.

Panel Weighs Bill To Let Texas A&M Set Standards

AUSTIN (AP) — A division of Texas A&M would set air and water pollution standards under a bill heard by the House State Affairs Committee.

The bill was referred to a subcommittee Wednesday night. Rep. Cordell Hull said he got the idea for the bill in House Appropriations Committee hearings.

The Texas Water Quality Board and the Texas Air Control Board both asked the Appropriations Committee for more money for technical staff and research facilities, Hull said.

Later, the Appropriations Committee heard Texas A&M representatives describe how the Texas Engineering Experiment Station (TEES) has conducted research for many years on air and water pollution.

"I thought this was a reasonable approach, to use the expertise they have," Hull said.

The Fort Worth lawmaker called one witness in support of his bill, Dr. Fred J. Benson, director of the station, who promptly shot down the primary aim of the bill.

MIAMI (AP) — William Folsom spit on the floor, startling friends with whom he was having a drink.

Folsom spit out a .22-caliber bullet which had ricocheted off his cheekbone, bounced off his jawbone and landed in his mouth.

When Folsom's friend appeared in court on assault charges, Folsom wouldn't testify against him. Folsom said of Joseph Cole, 50: "I don't think he intended to do it."

The two longtime drinking buddies left the courtroom together.

Smith Asks Federal Aid In 60 Texas Counties

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has asked President Nixon for federal help in 60 Texas counties which have generally received less than 1.5 inches of rainfall in the past six months.

More counties could be added to the list later, the governor said Wednesday.

Smith's letter to the President asked for an initial allocation of $5 million.

The governor said Texas has already spent $3.5 million for disaster relief in Texas during the past 12 months.

Opening lead: King of ♠
Declarer got away with an aggressively bid slam contract today, when his opponent failed to attack the dummy in the only direction where it might have done some good.

South's jump rebid to four hearts was an overly ambitious move considering that he had five losers in the black suits. North cannot be blamed for taking charge and subsequently bidding a slam after checking for aces, since he had controls in all the other suits.

West opened fire with the king of clubs, and it is his play at trick two that makes or breaks the defense. Seeing the singleton club in dummy, West hastily shifted to a trump, in a feeble effort to cut down club ruffs. Declarer was quick to capitalize on the advantage in timing that was now his.

In light of West's preemptive jump overall, it was highly unlikely that declarer would be able to safely ruff out both of his losing clubs, for East did not rate to have more than a doubleton in the suit. South's best prospect appeared to be the successful establishment of the diamond suit in dummy.

After West's trump shift was taken in the closed hand, declarer cashed the ace of diamonds. He ruffed a club in dummy, played the king of diamonds and then a low one, trumping with the ace in his hand to establish the suit. Trumps were drawn and dummy reentered with the ace of spades. South's remaining club and spade losers were discarded on the queen and eight of diamonds.

West should have realized that there was no hope in trying to cut down the dummy's ruffing powers. The only constructive move that it was in his power to make was to hinder declarer's efforts to establish the dummy's long suit. This could be accomplished only by attacking North's side entry, the ace of spades. Observe that if West leads a spade a trick two, South will be unable to reach the diamond suit once he has set it up. Whether or not he decides to take the spade finesse, he must go down to defeat.

Captain Gets ATC Trophy

An instructor pilot in the 3561st Student Squadron at Webb AFB was recently awarded the Air Training Command Well Done Trophy.

The trophy was presented to Capt. John B. Millhollon for a feat of airmanship performed Jan. 8, 1971, when the captain was instructing on a T-38 Talon contact mission.

Capt. Millhollon took control of the aircraft from the student to demonstrate a normal final turn. As he lowered the flaps and entered the turn, the aircraft started a roll to the left. The captain executed an immediate go-around and attempted to raise the flaps without success.

Capt. Millhollon then positioned his aircraft for a straight-in approach with the right flap full down and the left flap up. The situation was further aggravated by a 22-24 knot crosswind blowing from the right.

On final approach and through touchdown, Capt. Millhollon had to use full available aileron and some rudder to control the aircraft.

The letter accompanying the trophy read in part, "Capt. Millhollon's exceptional flying ability and calm appraisal of a critical emergency resulted in the successful recovery of his aircraft."

Action Aplenty Behind The Lines

SAIGON (AP) — A 21-year-old helicopter pilot shot down in Cambodia-trekked four days through an enemy base area to safety, the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division said Wednesday.

CWO Craig J. Houser of Connersville, Ind., was flying his OH-1 Scout helicopter at treetop level over Kratie Province on March 10, searching for the enemy.

There was a burst of ground fire. "I heard an explosion and felt a jolt in the aircraft," Houser said.

The little chopper hit the bank of a stream, slipped under water and exploded. Houser worked his way out of his safety harness, got out of the burning craft and up to the surface.

DRAWING FIRE

Houser said he reached the south bank of the stream as enemy troops fired from the north bank at the Cobra helicopter gunship patrolling with him. It was maneuvering overhead, drawing fire away from the downed Scout.

When the shooting stopped, Houser found he had a .38-caliber revolver, a flare gun, buck knife and survival compass. He knew he was 12 to 18 miles north-northwest of the Cambodian town of Snuol, "and if I could find Highway 13 and follow it, I'd be alright."

He made less than a mile through the jungle the first day, started again at dawn and walked until noon the second day. He came to a pool of stagnant water and took his first drink since the crash, then slept near the water that night.

He kept on walking the third day and passed a number of buildings where North Vietnamese supplies and rice were stored, "lucky for me they were unoccupied."

DAANGEROUS

He climbed a hill that night, camouflaged himself and tried to sleep. During the night he heard what he thought were three enemy soldiers walking past, but they didn't see him.

The morning of the fourth day, he found Highway 13 and decided to follow it.

"That was dangerous in itself," he said, "but I was extremely tired." Then at a rubber plantation just down the highway, he found a parallel dirt road and took that.

Houser said he spotted two Cambodians on bicycles, stopped them and borrowed one of the bikes. He rode a short

Hearing Set For Dr. Baum

AUSTIN (AP) — The long-awaited public hearing by a Senate committee on the appointment of Dr. Elmer Baum to the State Banking Board has been set for May 6.

Baum's two-year term will expire Aug. 22 of this year if the committee and two-thirds of the full Senate confirm the appointment made by Gov. Preston Smith on Sept. 14, 1969.

Sen. Joe Christie, El Paso, chairman of the committee, informed Baum by letter that "The advice and consent of the Senate is a prerequisite to your final confirmation."

If Baum is approved by the committee, the full Senate will have until May 31, mandatory end of the 140-day regular session, to act.

There have been unconfirmed reports that Baum has not been called before the committee sooner because of indications that up to 16 senators may vote against his confirmation.

Baum, 56, who also is state Democratic chairman, has acknowledged that he and Smith made a quick profit of $125,000 off National Bankers Life Insurance stock with a loan from the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank. He and Smith have denied any wrong-doing in the transaction.

Smith named Baum, his close friend and political associate, to the banking board on Sept. 11, 1969. When appointments are made when the legislature is not in session the appointee serves in the job until the Senate acts on confirmation.

Previously Baum served on the State Health Board for 18 years and was physician for the Texas Department of Public Safety. Baum has been a practicing osteopath in Austin since 1948.

Royal Pheasants

SANDRINGHAM, England (AP) — Members of the royal family and their friends shot 15,500 pheasants on the Royal Sandringham Estate during the past 28-day season, the highest number in 10 years. Some 6,500 pheasants were shot the year before. The royal pheasants are sold by game dealers in the area.

Hangover Remedy

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP) — A West German professor claims that plain mineral water is the best remedy for a hang-over. Prof. Hans Glatzel, formerly of the Max Planck Scientific Institute in nearby Dortmund, said that after a drinking spree, the human kidney must secrete more liquid than usual and with it too much salt. Sodium in mineral water replenishes the salt level, the professor said.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CAROL RIGTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to use the utmost care that you do not let your feelings and emotions rule you for if you do you will find yourself in a very unpleasant situation. You are being very much imposed upon and have real difficulty in getting along with others. Make a point of showing your own personality in a way that is gentle, considerate manner with all. Use more diplomacy and courtesy at home, and find conditions there improve considerably. Being more willing to rid yourself of whatever is causing the trouble is wise. Start being good to yourself that way, also.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Taking risks whether at driving or dealing with others could really get you into serious trouble now. If you are in a bad mood, change it to a friendly one and you make this a profitable day. P.M. Talk less.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Any monetary matters that are giving you trouble now should await a better day for a wise solution. Get busy at cleanups or repairs that are necessary. Show affection to the one you love in p.m.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to curb that feeling of frustration and restlessness or you disturb others and nothing is accomplished. Assist others with their problems, too. Then this becomes a fascinating activity.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) — Running away from duties that need to be done quickly could get you into considerable hot water later on. Plan some time to assist those who are in trouble. Show that you are a true friend.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) Try not to criticize others who are acting erratically, since they have troubles they cannot share with you now. Stick to your own knitting and give a spot on the back instead. Show that you are a humanitarian.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Getting into some civic activity that further ingratiates you into the good graces of others in your community is fine. Find the right means by which to have greater progress. Confer with experts.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Much more data is needed before you can delve into the new interests you like so keep busy also completing other tasks with your own. Avoid boring individuals.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are expected to do some work, or you come up a cropper and could regret it for a long time to come.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) It would be wise to follow the lead of others now, since what you have in mind could meet with delays and actual failure. Take no risks whatsoever, either, or you come up a cropper and could regret it for a long time to come.

Check Soil Temperature Before Planting Cotton

LUBBOCK — Planting cotton as soon as the 10-day average minimum soil temperature at the eight-inch depth reaches 60 degrees F. generally is the best bet for top yields. Of course, a good stand is needed in addition to adequate fertilizer and irrigation water.

A five-year study of planting dates and cotton varieties at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock bears out this information, said Dr. J. D. Bilbro Jr., research agronomist.

"We obtained the highest yields with early plantings of three varieties (Blightmaster, Lankart 57 and Paymaster 101A) during the study," says Bilbro. "Our average lint production was 953 pounds per acre when the cotton was planted on April 20. This average dropped to 866 pounds when planting was delayed until May 15. Plantings on June 1, 10, 23 and 30 averaged 800, 662, 442 and 225 pounds of lint per acre, respectively."

According to the agronomist, all plantings received a preplant irrigation in four of the five years covered in the study. Summer irrigations were applied as needed in relation to rainfall and planting dates. All the tests received adequate fertilizer.

In addition to yield, lint turnout also declined as planting dates were delayed. Staple lengths were similar for the first three planting dates but became shorter thereafter. Micronaire readings of the cotton also dropped considerably as planting dates were delayed.

School Hassle Trial Delayed

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP)—The trial of Malcolm Maedgen Jr., a school board member charged with disorderly conduct, has been indefinitely postponed.

School Supt. Angel Gonzalez filed charges against Maedgen a week ago after a discussion which he said Maedgen sought on a bilingual education program here.

Texas Politics Perking Up As Dogwoods Bloom

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

This year is no exception, except that a lot of politicians are still probing the federal stock fraud case.

One thing politically definite, Houston has made a serious bid for both the national party conventions in 1972, offering the Astro dome as a convention hall and 2,500 new hotel rooms as enticement.

GOOD CHANCE

Most Texas officials think Houston has a good chance to get at least one of the national gatherings.

Texas also has special influence through high national party officials that could affect the convention decision. Robert Strauss, Dallas, is national Democratic party treasurer in addition to being Texas' committeeman. Mrs. Tobin Armstrong is co-chairman of the National Republican Committee in addition to being Texas' GOP national committeewoman.

Texas Republicans hope that a national convention in the state would help build up their sagging state party organization and pocketbooks.

Texas Democrats hope that a national convention in the state would bring forth the harmony that Democrats always seem to be seeking plus a certain amount of party reform decreed at the tumultuous Chicago convention.

ANY TIME

Houston offered the Democrats the choice of periods beginning July 9 or July 23, but said other dates could be worked out.

The Republicans were offered any time in August.

Three big cities in addition to Houston are asking one or both of the conventions — Miami Beach, San Francisco and Chicago. In addition, Louisville, Ky., put in a bid for the national Democratic meet.

Houston expects an answer from the Democratic party sometime in May and from the Republicans in late June or July.

When Houston made its bid to both parties, the sponsors stressed the "safety" features. They said 12-foot steel fences surround the Astro Hall, where preliminary meetings and caucuses could be held, and the Astro dome, scene of the main event. The location away from downtown Houston also allows for better police control, they said.

"HOST GUARANTEE"

However, each of the major bidders also had "safety" arguments—the far out Cow Palace convention site at San Francisco, Miami Beach's location on an island that could be barricaded quickly, and the Stockyards site miles away from downtown Chicago. Chicago quickly pointed out that the 1968 riots in downtown Chicago, hotels in downtown Chicago, not at the convention hall.

Houston claims 16,000 first class hotel and motel rooms available in the area, which extends to Galveston, and another 2,500 under construction. They stressed that low-income delegates and visitors, particularly those of college age, could be housed in dormitories at Rice University and the University of Houston.

Shuttle buses would take delegates to and from their hotels to the convention sites in Houston, as they would in the other cities.

And Houston has formed a non-partisan citizens committee to stage fund-raising luncheons and collect the $1.5 million required as a minimum bid or "host guarantee" expected by both parties.

'Official Noncandidate' For Presidency Talking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry M. Jackson calls himself an "official noncandidate" for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination. No separate office. No extra staff.

But the Washington senator's speaking schedule includes Florida, California, Oregon and Massachusetts—all with presidential primaries. Last week he made the meeting of the Association of Democratic State Chairmen.

And in the midst of his unsuccessful fight to save the supersonic transport plane for Boeing Corp., his home state's employer, Jackson made a politically significant pilgrimage to the Texas ranch of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

DEMO POLICY

"There was absolutely no indication whom he would support for the nomination," Jackson said conceding politics was discussed during the social call. Then, significantly, "But he feels very deeply about maintaining the historic position of the Democratic party's national security policy."

That policy, as the 58-year-old Jackson has been pointing out in recent speeches, comprises a strong national defense, support of the nation's international commitments and awareness of and opposition to Soviet expansion in the Middle East and the Far East.

"The Nixon administration is in deep trouble on the domestic front," Jackson, a New Deal-New Frontier-Great Society liberal on home-front issues, said in an interview last week.

"But the Democrats could lose the election if they find themselves advocating policies of national weakness at a time we are confronted with deep dangers."

'NATIONAL WEAKNESS'

The advocates of "national weakness" are never spelled out by name. But Jackson's definition covers senators advocating pro-Vietnam withdrawal from Vietnam and less defense spending.

This includes most of those running tacitly or openly for the Democratic presidential nomination: Sens. George S. McGovern of South Dakota, Harold Hughes of Iowa, Birch E. Bayh of Indiana and Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, widely regarded as the front-runner.

For the moment Jackson's stated aim is to influence his party's policies. His success has been less than notable. The Democratic Policy Council, which he declined to join, voted unanimously last week to call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam this year.

CIVIL RIGHTS

If Jackson should find an active candidacy is the best way to influence party policies, a decision he'll have to make later this year, he could find his strongest support coming from the South, despite a strong civil rights record.

Southern-state Democratic chairmen interviewed last week said Muskie and Jackson are the only two candidates who definitely could defeat President Nixon in the South.

Besides the South, attracted primarily by his national-security stance, Jackson could win support of a potent coalition.

LABOR BITTER

First and foremost is organized labor. Jackson was a big hit at the winter meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Committee, and his fight for the SST at a time when all of his potential opponents opposed it could lead to political assistance.

"The labor people are pretty bitter," he said after the SST vote. "It should be a matter of concern among Democrats. Labor is a strong part of the Democratic base."

Then, there is the traditionally Democratic Jewish vote, a factor in New York, California, Michigan, Illinois and Florida. No senator has taken a more outspoken pro-Israel stand than Jackson.

TOP CONTACTS

His claim: a weak U.S. position is encouraging Soviet expansion in the Middle East and jeopardizing Israel's future.

Then, there is his vote-getting record: Six times elected to the House, he won his fourth Senate term last November with 84 per cent of the vote, the national high in a two-party, contested election, after overwhelming a black antiwar primary foe.

Finally, there are his political contacts around the country. It's been a decade since Jackson was Democratic national chairman under John F. Kennedy, and many of those with whom he dealt have left office. "But I have the contacts around," he said.

Still, with about 60 per cent of the delegates to next year's nominating convention to be chosen in primaries, Jackson recognizes he'll have to run in them. He favors a national primary if some way could be found to control costs.

Communicable Diseases To Fade

BOSTON (AP) — A leading British medical officer predicts communicable diseases will disappear within 30 years.

Dr. Henry Yellowlees, deputy chief medical officer of the British Department of Health and Social Security, made the forecast in a talk before the 50th New England Hospital Assembly.

Dr. Yellowlees predicted that by the 1980s bacterial infections will no longer be a danger, vaccines will control viral infections, heart disease will increasingly yield to prevention and medication, and cancer research will find ways to curb cell dysfunction.

Transfers Available For Forsan Schools

Beginning today, students who do not live within the Forsan County Line Independent School District but who can qualify under the board of education transfer policy (of Jan. 13, 1970) may file application for transfer into the Forsan district for the 1971-72 school year.

Applications must be completed and signed by the parent or guardian at the school tax office in Forsan High School building prior to June 1, 1969-70 school year may enroll as transfers: children of any Forsan school employe may be accepted (no transfers into kindergarten will be accepted the applications will be reviewed and ruled upon as soon as possible.

Basically the transfer policy as amended, is as follows:

No tuition — those transfer students who were enrolled in the school system in the 1969-70 school year may remain in the system as a transfer student until completion or withdrawal. Pre-school brothers or sisters of transfer students enrolled in the building prior to June 1, 1969-70 school year may enroll as transfers: children of any Forsan school employe may be accepted (no transfers into kindergarten will be accepted except for this relationship); students who were enrolled in the system in the 1969-70 school year and moved out of the district may be accepted as transfers.)

Tuition — Any new transfer student will be charged $500 tuition for the school year ($250 each at the beginning of the fall and spring semesters.)

All transfers will be interviewed and are subject to approval or disapproval.

'Oklahomans' Entry Wins $60 For Midland Woman

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A contest to select the name by which the people of Oklahoma wish to be called has been won by a Midland, Tex., woman. The prize winning entry? "Oklahomans."

Mrs. Walter Cremin, who was born and raised in Oklahoma will be given $60 for her suggestion in the contest sponsored by the Chouteau-Pioneer Committee.

C.E. Chouteau, chairman of the committee, said 17,152 entries were received. Of those 8,643 suggested "Oklahomans."

Mrs. Cremin won because of the reasons she gave to support her entry.

Natural Gas Reservoirs

HOUSTON (AP) — A geologist told his colleagues that large reserves of natural gas may exist in hitherto little-explored areas where igneous rock formations are found.

Dr. T. J. Weismann spoke at the convention of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists.

He said scientists at Gulf Research and Development Co. have been able to demonstrate that such future gas supplies may be found in relatively unexplored areas.

Through studies of stable carbon isotope content of natural gas, he said, it has been found that an inorganic, high temperature mechanism may be responsible for the origin of some of the largest currently producing natural gas reservoirs.

In the past, natural gas deposits were generally considered to have originated in sedimentary zones created and decay and decomposition of organic materials.

A sampling of opinion among geologists at the convention, which continues through today, indicated little doubt that some 50 to 100 million barrel fields of oil remain to be found in the United States.

Gen. Polk Called Bigot, Court-Martial Requested

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has given a full honors farewell salute and a Distinguished Service Medal to General James H. Polk, denounced by a black congressman as a bigot who should be court-martialed.

Ending a 37-year military career, Polk was decorated Wednesday for his services as Army commander-in-chief in Europe. Last week, Rep. William Clay, D-Mo., accused Polk of lip service and token compliance with Pentagon directives aimed at eliminating housing discrimination against black soldiers in Germany.

FRUSTRATION HIGH
Clay contended in the Congressional Record that if Polk had used "the powers he had, he could have eliminated many of the problems that existed, thus lessening the animosities and hostilities between black and white troops and between black soldiers and biased German businessmen."

A Defense Department spokesman reported later to Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird that it found a new high level of black frustration and anger.

The group spoke of "the failure in too many instances of command leadership to exercise its authority and responsibility" in dealing with race relations, but named no names.

Defense sources reported at the time Polk and Frank W. Rendon, the Pentagon's black civil rights chief, had heated exchanges during the team's tour of the European command.

REAL REASON
Suggesting that Polk retired under pressure, Clay said "the Army should have publicized the real reason... making it loud and clear to all other bigots within the armed services that such practices will not be tolerated."

"I strongly recommend a general court-martial," Clay said.

An Army spokesman disputed Clay's assertion that Polk was pressed to retire early. "Nobody twisted his arm," the spokesman said. "He retired at his own request."

The Army gave Polk the same kind of ceremonial send-off it customarily provides for all top retiring generals, complete with a 17-gun salute, "Ruffles and Flourishes" and troop review.

The medal was presented by Undersecretary of the Army Thaddeus R. Beal rather than Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor, who had been scheduled to do the honors. Resor was on vacation, a spokesman said.

MRS. JERRY MYRICK

She Likes To Set Own Pace

By BARBARA LORD
She never liked home economics in school, but today Mrs. Jerry Myrick enjoys almost every aspect of house-keeping for her family.

"I guess the pace was just too slow in high school," Mrs. Myrick said. "I enjoyed the subjects, but I wanted to cook or sew things of my own choice, not what someone else wanted."

In some ways Mrs. Myrick is still somewhat held back in her homemaking talents. She loves to cook, but seldom gets an opportunity to try new recipes. Her husband, whom she defines as a "strictly meat and potatoes man," doesn't like fancy dishes.

"I have recipes for a lot of foods that I would really like to try, but if he won't eat them there's not much sense in it. The only time I have an opportunity to try something fancy is when he's away for some reason. He just likes old everyday stuff."

The Myrick's two-year old daughter, Sheri Lynn, loves everything when it comes to food. Mrs. Myrick said she eats some things that two year olds just don't normally like. The family all likes Mexican food, and tacos and enchiladas pose no cooking problems for Mrs. Myrick. Another favorite main meal is spaghetti with meat sauce.

Mrs. Myrick's forte in the kitchen is baking, and her favorite dessert is the red velvet cake recipe included with this article. The whole family enjoys desserts. Myrick particularly likes cherry and apple pies and Mrs. Myrick confesses to a little trouble in getting pie crusts flaky. But cakes, cookies and other baked goods give her no problems.

Mrs. Myrick was adopted by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beiset, 1700 Virginia at the age of two when her mother died. She acquired her liking for cooking by making the meals while her grandmother worked.

Her grandmother, a public seamstress for many years, also got Mrs. Myrick interested in sewing, and today she says it gives her a good feeling to be able to make clothes for her family.

"Sewing is fun because you get a lasting result that you can enjoy for a long time," Mrs. Myrick said. She makes many of her own clothes, as well as her daughters, and some things for her husband. She still gets assistance from her grandmother for buttonholes and monogramming.

Out of the kitchen, Mrs. Myrick displays other talents besides sewing and cooking. She has done a lot of antiquing, and does a professional looking job. Many of the items she completed were for relatives.

Myrick has plans for remodeling the family home at 1703 Jennings, and they have already wall-papered Sheri's room. Mrs. Myrick said her husband is good about doing work around the house once he gets started, but that getting him started is sometimes a job.

The family schedule is often hard to keep up with, and Mrs. Myrick must plan meals and activities around her husband's hours at the Cabot Corporation where he works shifts. His hours alternate from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., and from 4 p.m. to 12 o'clock midnight, so it is hard to get on a regular schedule.

Despite the irregular and busy hours, Mrs. Myrick manages to maintain active interest in the Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. She is presently serving as recording secretary and telephone chairman, and has been elected treasurer for next year.

Together the Myricks enjoy bowling, swimming, tennis and short, relaxing trips. She bowls every Monday and Wednesday and keeps a 160 average.

Mrs. Myrick's recipes are shown on Page 7-B.

RESOLUTION RECOMMENDING NIXON PARDON CONVICTED KILLER

Protests Echo In Texas Over Case Of Lt. Calley

By The Associated Press
Texas veterans, organizations and individuals simmered today in the wake of Wednesday's storm of protest over the conviction and sentencing of Lt. William Calley.

State Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg planned to present a resolution to the House in Austin condemning Calley's sentence and recommending that President Nixon pardon him.

Calley was sentenced to life imprisonment following his conviction for his part at My Lai. Meanwhile, many groups, including one draft board, bristled at news of Calley's sentence.

The Wichita Falls draft board went on record as being unanimously opposed to the court martial's guilty verdict.

TOUGH TASK
A letter to President Nixon and Army authorities said: "Our job will be much more difficult if our government condemns individuals in this manner, whether they be enlisted men or officers."

Former Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy told a group on the Baylor University campus Wednesday night that the alleged massacre was the particular responsibility of every citizen because the war was projected without direction.

"On the field, men like Calley were called upon to make what were really political decisions, and also ethical decisions," McCarthy said.

McCarthy said the decisions should have been made by higher officers or non-military officials.

"We have the most powerful military, but we haven't been able to win the struggle in Southeast Asia," he said. "We have the most productive economy but we have to acknowledge that it isn't working. There is a manifestation of weariness in this country. We have to conclude some things haven't been done very well."

PASS PETITIONS
Petitions started circulating on the Angelo State University campus at San Angelo implying that Calley should not have even been brought to trial.

The petition was written by ASU student Tim McPeters, who said he had gained several hundred signatures.

Rep. Jim Collins, R-Tex., said in Washington that he found the court-martial verdict hard to understand.

"I don't favor it. I think it's a poor decision," he said, adding: "You wonder what effect this is going to have on the troops over there and how they are going to interpret it, because in this war they've had women and children who have been shooting at soldiers all the time."

NOT GUILTY
For Clifford Teer, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Texas, Calley is "no more guilty of murder than the crew of the B29 that dropped the atom bomb on Hiroshima."

In a written statement, issued in Waco, Teer claimed, "The vast majority of the 62,000 members of the CFV in Texas strongly protest the verdict."

L.C. Coward, commanding VFW Post No. 1806 in Beaumont, said: "We support Calley 100 per cent. It is difficult to understand his conviction for premeditated murder. If this is true, then all our veterans of all our wars are guilty."

He said petitions were being circulated and a protest telegram had been sent to President Nixon.

Hal Atkins, chairman of a draft board in San Antonio, said Calley was trying to do his job. "I feel like the jury mistreated the boy," he said.

The American Legion Post 17 in Greenville flew its American flag at half staff and officers of the post said the flag will be flown that way indefinitely as an expression of protest.

Headquarters of the 101st Airborne Division Association at Greenville received calls and telegrams from all over the United States protesting the Calley conviction, the group's executive director said.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post in West Tehuacana and the Wolfe City American Legion post each sent telegrams of protest to President Nixon.

LET NIXON KNOW
The Greenville DAV post called a special meeting for Friday night to pass resolutions condemning the Calley verdict. American Legion posts in Commerce, West Tehuacana and Greenville all expressed opposition to the Calley verdict and said they would "let the President know."

Most editorial comment in Texas appeared solidly in Calley's support.

The San Antonio Evening News said in an editorial: "Calley's court-martial—puts on the record one horrible incident in a war of horror. Terror is a prime weapon of guerrilla warriors. Terror breeds terror and in such a situation it is absurd to assume rules of warfare will always be observed."

Dr. John Schaefer of New Braunfels, in a letter to Sen.

John Tower, R-Tex., called the Calley decision "one of the most stupid and asinine things I have ever heard, unless you are prepared to try Harry Truman because of his order to drop the bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki."

HEAT OF COMBAT
Criminal Court Judge Archie Brown, a World War II veteran, said: "I am persuaded in the heat of combat—a time of great stress—that if a civilian is killed, it should be comparable to manslaughter rather than murder."

But a San Antonio lawyer and former military law official, who asked not to be named, said he was "not at all surprised" by the verdict.

"In cases like this, the court expects a man to show common sense," he said. "If Calley had been given an order to kill everything in the village 'common sense would dictate he should question the order before carrying it out. If I had been in this position, I would have gotten that order in writing."

The San Antonio office of Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., said it was "swamped with telegrams and calls."

The Dallas Morning News called the decision to convict "a horrendous decision."
"If it is premeditated murder to kill unarmed civilians at a range of 10 meters, why is it merely an unfortunate accident to kill them with a howitzer at a range of 10,000 meters or a regrettable necessity to kill them with a nuclear device at a range of 10,000 miles?" its editorial asked. "At what range does the personal crime of murdering civilians become the impersonal conduct of modern warfare?"

SHOCKED
The Dallas Times Herald said: "Shocked as every decent citizen is at the events at My Lai, there is a widespread belief that Calley is being made a scapegoat for the actions of others, actions incomprehensible except in the context of the total terror and inhumanity of all-out war. Lt. Calley must be punished if he is guilty of wanton murder, but his punishment must be tempered with the admission that he is only a small part of the hellish web we weave during any war."

"This is a conviction which should grip the nation's conscience and make us all realize the horrors of war and the terrible effect it has on all who are swept up in it," said the Houston Chronicle.

LESSONS OF WAR
"If Calley is guilty, then so are many of his superior officers, and so are some of the higher commanders, and so are our political leaders who helped make the decisions which led to the tragedy, and so are the American citizens who ultimately are responsible for national policy..."

RESOLUTION RECOMMENDING NIXON PARDON CONVICTED KILLER

Protests Echo In Texas Over Case Of Lt. Calley

By The Associated Press
Texas veterans, organizations and individuals simmered today in the wake of Wednesday's storm of protest over the conviction and sentencing of Lt. William Calley.

State Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg planned to present a resolution to the House in Austin condemning Calley's sentence and recommending that President Nixon pardon him. Calley was sentenced to life imprisonment following his conviction for his part at My Lai. Meanwhile, many groups, including one draft board, bristled at news of Calley's sentence. The Wichita Falls draft board went on record as being unanimously opposed to the court martial's guilty verdict.

TOUGH TASK

A letter to President Nixon and Army authorities said: "Our job will be much more difficult if our government condemns individuals in this manner, whether they be enlisted men or officers."

Former Minnesota Sen. Eugene McCarthy told a group on the Baylor University campus Wednesday night that the alleged massacre was the particular responsibility of every citizen because the war was projected without direction.

"On the field, men like Calley were called upon to make what were really political decisions, and also ethical decisions," McCarthy said.

McCarthy said the decisions should have been made by higher officers or non-military officials.

"We have the most powerful military, but we haven't been able to win the struggle in Southeast Asia," he said. "We have the most productive economy but we have to acknowledge that it isn't working. There is a manifestation of weariness in this country. We have to conclude some things haven't been done very well."

PASS PETITIONS

Petitions started circulating on the Angelo State University campus at San Angelo implying that Calley should not have even been brought to trial.

The petition was written by ASU student Tim McPeters, who said he had gained several hundred signatures.

Rep. Jim Collins, R-Tex., said in Washington that he found the court-martial verdict hard to understand.

"I don't favor it... I think it's a poor decision," he said, adding: "You wonder what effect this is going to have on the troops over there and how they are going to interpret it, because in this war they've had women and children who have been shooting at soldiers all the time."

NOT GUILTY

For Clifford Teer, commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars in Texas, Calley is "no more guilty of murder than the crew of the B29 that dropped the atom bomb on Hiroshima."

In a written statement issued in Waco, Teer claimed, "The vast majority of the 62,000 members of the CFV in Texas strongly protest the verdict." L.C. Coward, commanding VFW Post No. 1806 in Beaumont, said: "We support Calley 100 per cent. It is difficult to understand his conviction for premeditated murder. If this is true, then all our veterans of all our wars are guilty."

He said petitions were being circulated and a protest telegram had been sent to President Nixon.

Hal Atkins, chairman of a draft board in San Antonio, said Calley was trying to do his job. "I feel like the jury mistreated the boy," he said.

The American Legion Post 17 in Greenville flew its American flag at half staff and officers of the post said the flag will be flown that way indefinitely as an expression of protest.

Headquarters of the 101st Airborne Division Association at Greenville received calls and telegrams from all over the United States protesting the Calley conviction, the group's executive director said.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars post in West Tehuacana and the Wolfe City American Legion post each sent telegrams of protest to President Nixon.

LET NIXON KNOW

The Greenville DAV post called a special meeting for Friday night to pass resolutions condemning the Calley verdict. American Legion posts in Commerce, West Tehuacana and Greenville all expressed opposition to the Calley verdict and said they would "let the President know."

Most editorial comment in Texas appeared solidly in Calley's support.

"The San Antonio Evening News said in an editorial: 'Calley's court-martial puts on the record one horrible incident in a war of horror. Terror is a prime weapon of guerrilla warriors. Terror breeds terror and in such a situation it is absurd to assume rules of warfare will always be observed'

Dr. John Schaefer of New Braunfels, in a letter to Sen.

John Tower, R-Tex., called the Calley decision "one of the most stupid and asinine things I have ever heard, unless you are prepared to try Harry Truman because of his order to drop the bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki."

HEAT OF COMBAT

Criminal Court Judge Archie Brown, a World War II veteran, said: "I am persuaded in the heat of combat—a time of great stress—that if a civilian is killed, it should be comparable to manslaughter rather than murder."

But a San Antonio lawyer and former military law official, who asked not to be named, said he was "not at all surprised" by the verdict.

"In cases like this, the court expects a man to show common sense," he said. "If Calley had been given an order to kill everything in the village 'common sense would dictate he should question the order before carrying it out. If I had been in his position, I would have gotten that order in writing."

The San Antonio office of Rep. Henry Gonzalez, D-Tex., said it was swamped with telegrams and calls.

The Dallas Morning News called the decision to convict "a horrendous decision."

"If it is premeditated murder to kill unarmed civilians at a range of 10 meters, why is it merely an unfortunate accident to kill them with a howitzer at a range of 10,000 meters or a regrettable necessity to kill them with a nuclear device at a range of 10,000 miles?" its editorial asked. "At what range does the personal crime of murdering civilians become the impersonal conduct of modern warfare?"

SHOCKED

The Dallas Times Herald said: "Shocked as every decent citizen is at the events at My Lai, there is a widespread belief that Calley is being made a scapegoat for the actions of others, actions incomprehensible except in the context of the total terror and inhumanity of all-out war. Lt. Calley must be punished if he is guilty of wanton murder, but his punishment must be tempered with the admission that he is only a small part of the hellish web we weave during any war."

"This is a conviction which should grip the nation's conscience and make us all realize the horrors of war and the terrible effect it has on all who are swept up in it," said the Houston Chronicle.

LESSONS OF WAR

"If Calley is guilty, then—so are many of his superior officers, and so are some of the higher commanders, and so are our political leaders who helped make the decisions which led to the tragedy, and so are the American citizens who ultimately are responsible for national policy..."

Forced Marriage?

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I read your column faithfully and think you hand out some good advice, however, I disagree with you on one very important issue: You don't think a boy or man should have to marry a girl if he is the cause of her pregnancy. It takes two to tango, and it takes two to cause a pregnancy. If my unmarried daughter became pregnant, there would be either a willing bridegroom or a shotgun wedding.

The most important thing would be to make sure the child had a name. Then afterwards, if the parents decided they didn't want to stay married let them get a divorce. It is not as much a blot on the child and her husband would like to come to my home for lunch on Saturday! This shocked me as I certainly did not intend for her to bring her husband. Also, I have been brought up to never invite myself anywhere. I told her that Saturday was not convenient for me, so she has been calling me daily to set up a date. How can this be handled tactfully?

DEAR SPOKE: Continue to find each suggested date "inconvenient" and don't feel guilty. She is obviously not as "charming" as you thought she was.

DEAR ABBY: Last month I received an announcement of an out-of-town niece's marriage. I did not know her address, so I wrote to her mother asking for it so I could send a wedding gift.

A few weeks later I received a short letter from my niece. She wrote, "My mother told me you wanted our address so you could send us a wedding present. My husband and I are thinking of buying a painting. If you would like to contribute something toward it, it would be very much appreciated." My question: Is that proper?

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Cyst Problem

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had a cyst in the lymph gland in the center of my armpit. Throughout the years from time to time I have been able to squeeze it and pus comes out of it.

Not long ago I really squeezed it until it hurt. The next day the area was quite sore, and because it had become such a lump, I squeezed it again. This time pus and blood came out of it.

This scared me and now I wonder if I have really done damage to myself. I'm afraid of cancer, of course, and wonder if what I did can cause cancer.

After a week the lump is still there but some of the swelling of it really pus -- or was it instead the waxy, whitish sebum produced by a skin gland?

On the next-to-last squeezing, you probably broke down some of the tissues and perhaps started a minor infection (a major infection would have flared into more trouble than you had).

My advice: quit squeezing the thing. It will just fill up again in time -- and someday, you may start an infection that will really give you some misery.

The probability of cancer is remote although not impossible. Since the gland has been filling and discharging for years, you can expect it to keep on doing so -- and perhaps getting worse, certainly not better.

So have your doctor take a look with a view to removing that annoying sebaceous gland, if my surmise as to its identity is correct. Naturally, if there is any sign of cancer, he will investigate accordingly, but in all probability you'll thus put an end both to the nuisance in the armpit and the worries in your mind.

Was what you squeezed out it really pus -- or was it keep the same blood type we were born with? Or does it change throughout the years? -- T.Y.

It remains the same throughout life -- except that in certain unusual cases there may be an apparent, and temporary, change -- as after a transfusion of blood that does not precisely match.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises -- Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

SAN CARLOS, Calif. (AP) -- And ad in the San Carlos Enquirer put it this way: "For Sale. Nice dog. May be heard between 1 a.m.-5 a.m. Inquire next door..."

Minors Found Not Guilty

Two of the minors charged with being in possession of alcoholic beverages March 23 at the Next Generation Club, Fourth and Gregg, were found not guilty Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Two others arrested at the time were juveniles and were turned over to Keith Jones, juvenile officer, for disposition. Jones said the two juveniles were counseled and released to parents.

Jury Postponed

Jurors in Howard County Court have been dismissed until 9:30 a.m. Friday when they are to report for the trial concerning a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Sale Of DDT Hearing Axed

AUSTIN (AP) — For the second time in two days, the Senate Environmental Matters Committee has postponed for lack of a quorum a hearing on bills banning the sale of DDT.

The bill also was to hurr a bill outlawing detergents containing phosphates.

The first hearing was set for Wednesday night. Several senators were in Washington getting the views of congressmen on congressional redistricting.

Sen. Murray Watson of Waco reset the hearing for this morning but again the committee failed to muster a quorum.

Watson said another attempt would be made to hear evidence on the bills April 5.

HELPS POOR PEOPLE IN ACAPULCO Shot Down Son-In-Law?

ACAPULCO, Mexico (AP) — "Ten lives wouldn't be enough to pay for the love I've received," said Mrs. Sofia Bassi as she relaxed in her cell in the municipal jail.

Mrs. Bassi was referring to what she called an increasing movement in many countries petitioning Mexican authorities to pardon her from her 11-year sentence for murder.

She was convicted of the Jan. 3, 1968, shooting death of her son-in-law, Count Cesar D'Acquarone of Verona, Italy. He was shot five times. She said the pistol went off accidentally.

Normally dressed in white slacks and a plain blouse her black hair is neatly coiffured in an Italian cut and she wears little makeup. An air-conditioned room is her cell.

Mrs. Bassi has never been haunted by dreams of that fatal day.

"Accidents happen to people innocently—that's what makes such things an accident," she said. "Once in a while I dream of the bright lights when photographers were shooting so many pictures after my arrest," she admitted.

Petitions with over three million names have made their way to the Guerrero State governor's office asking for Mrs. Bassi's release, she said.

The man on the street in Acapulco, who, perhaps, has never met Mrs. Bassi, speaks of her with affection and respect to a reporter.

Perhaps this stems from her social work before she became a painter seven years ago. Or because of the behind-the-scenes help she has given to poor people in the Acapulco jail. Many have gained their freedom from prison by having their fines paid anonymously by Mrs. Bassi while others have been provided with needed clothing or food by the former international socialite.

DON'T MENTION IT
"Please don't mention my helping others," she asked. "Some people may think I've done this to help my cause. I've always been concerned with poor people and I love my country and its people and I want to help."

An appeal by Mrs. Bassi's attorneys to the State Supreme Court was turned down. She still can go to the Federal Supreme Court to try to gain her freedom although she would run the risk of her sentence being lengthened.

"I feel strongly that I could take my appeal to the Supreme Court and gain my freedom quickly," she said, "but the people have gone to the governor to seek my pardon. I have a moral duty to these people and will wait until the governor makes a decision one way or the other."

"If he rejects the pardon then I'll feel free to go to the high court," the 52-year-old grandmother explained.

"But I hate the word 'pardon.' I have done nothing to be punished for. An accident can happen to anybody," she emphasized.

"I have faith I'll get out soon," she said. "I can't go on like this."

Bomb Threat Downs Plane

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — A Chicago-to-Phoenix, Ariz., airliner made an unscheduled landing today and officers searched it for a bomb without finding one.

Police said the unscheduled landing in Amarillo was ordered after Trans World Airlines in Chicago was told there was an explosive device on board.

The plane, a Boeing 727, set down at 12:10 a.m. CST and, after the search was completed, resumed its westward flight at 2:42 a.m. A TWA employee said there were 65 passengers and seven crew members.

Amarillo patrolman Robert Pounds said he was told Chicago police questioned a young man accused of telling someone two teen-age girls took a bomb onto the jetliner, but no charge was filed.

"We found the device—it was a shoe box full of candy the guy had given them," Pounds said. "He's being drafted and that apparently was his way of trying to prevent it."

Pounds said police decided the girls were blameless and they were not detained.
