

PRO-CALLEY SENTIMENT GROWS AMONG TEXANS

My Lai Reaction Overwhelming

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Overwhelming.

How else could it be described, this support that swelled up here for an Army lieutenant convicted of premeditated murder?

Republicans passed a resolution calling for the President to grant clemency to Lt. William Calley Jr.

A grocery chain took out newspaper ads urging citizens to petition the White House for a full pardon.

A young Army officer said he was too upset to discuss Calley's conviction—"I can't talk about it any more because I get furious when I do."

"It was a foolish thing to do in the first place, to convict Calley of premeditated murder," said a fellow questioned in a man-in-the-street poll.

In an interview prior to a speech at St. Mary's University Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., said Calley should not have to make atonement for "a national sin."

Shortly after it was announced that President Nixon ordered Calley's release pending a review of his conviction, an informal survey showed virtually unanimous support for the decision.

William H. Curry of Casper,

Wyo., said the President's action "was the proper thing to do. We're talking about a volunteer Army and it won't be successful by prosecuting a member of the armed forces for doing what he's trained to do, distasteful as it is."

IF HE'S GUILTY
Curry, president of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists, was visiting here after that group's Houston convention.

"If he's guilty, everyone in Vietnam is guilty," said State Health Department employee Jim Floyd. "The President's action is very commendable."

Hatfield said he had received "a phenomenal number of communications" protesting the conviction.

While he condones neither the slayings at My Lai nor the killings by massive bombings, Hatfield said, "I don't think we can have the expiation of a national sin thrust upon Lt. Calley."

In his speech, Hatfield viewed Nixon's release of Calley as "a gesture on the part of the President to indicate a sentiment of the American people that has thus far been expressed... and probably very indicative of his own sentiments."

The Bexar County Republican

executive committee voted Thursday night to urge that Nixon grant Calley clemency.

Only one of the 33 present voted against the resolution. Another committee member suggested he go to Vietnam and do some fighting himself.

County GOP chairman Van Henry Archer released a letter he wrote to the President, asking:

PITIFUL AMERICANS
"Since when does a Vietnamese life mean as much as one American life or even 200 Vietnamese to one American? This man is not a criminal. He did not shoot another American."

Archer suggested that Calley's court-martial panel tour the military hospitals and look "at some of these pitiful Americans that were shot up by so-called unarmed civilians."

There were some who disagreed.

Ramon Aguilar Rosas of Mexico City, a newspaper cartoonist, said he was against Calley, adding, "Despite his being a soldier, any human being has to have conscience. You can't kill civilians."

A retired Army colonel who didn't want to be named observed, "The Army doesn't railroad anybody. It has one of the fairest judicial systems in the land."

WIN LESSON

And, he said, "The military does not teach men to kill. It teaches them to win. After all, that's what is important."

At Ft. Sam Houston, one of five military bases here, a sergeant said the soldiers' reaction is "about 1,000 to one in Calley's favor."

Capt. Douglas Fomesbeck, 26, a Vietnam veteran from Logan, Utah, said many Army people are "really upset" about the conviction—"if this is the way the Army's going to be, they want no part of it."

POOR RESPONSE Easter Sunrise Rites Skipped For This Year

Big Spring's traditional sunrise Easter service is being suspended this year.

The Rev. John Beard, president of the Howard County Ministerial Fellowship which sponsors the event, said consensus of members was that the Easter worship should be held in abeyance. They cited the uncertainty of weather, difficulty in arranging a suitable program and general public response.

The ministers felt that if public interest is sufficient, the sunrise worship could be resumed next year.

The early-morning program at the Comanche Trail Park amphitheater has been conducted for many years.

Hooded Men Tar Principal

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — The principal of Willow Run High School, which was the scene of racial incidents last month, was tarred and feathered Thursday night by a group of hooded men who forced his car to the road side.

State police said Wiley Brownlee, 42, suffered minor injuries in the incident which occurred as he was on his way home from a meeting of the Willow Run School Board.

Brownlee said an auto with a lone occupant forced his car off the road. The hooded driver, armed with a shotgun, got out and told Brownlee, "Turn off your headlights and get out of the car."

Extortion Plot Flops

CHICAGO (AP) — Four persons were in custody today in connection with the extortion of $118,999 from a bank president whose wife was held captive in the couple's north suburban Wilmette home.

FBI officials said none of the money was recovered and they provided no details on the arrests.

Lawrence W. Nortrup, president of the Hartford Plaza bank, was told by telephone Thursday that his wife was being held captive in their home. Officials said he was told she would be held until $150,000 was turned over to her captors.

Shortly after the call, authorities said, Nortrup took two money bags containing $118,999 out of the bank and placed them in a nearby car as he had been instructed.

Police said a woman and a man in the car sped away.

KICKING UP HIS HEELS — This 250-pound ostrich at Tulsa's Mohawk Zoo is not attacking zoo director David Zucconi. Zucconi slipped and fell while trying to maneuver the huge bird into position for a picture. The ostrich ran toward him, but stopped short. Zucconi said later he was a bit concerned because ostriches can get "a little touchy."

Rehab Center, YMCA Receive $90,000 Gifts

The Dora Roberts Foundation announced today the distribution of $143,200 with major gifts to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and the Big Spring YMCA.

Others who were listed were the West Side Center, the Boys Club, Salvation Army, Heritage Museum and HCJC Student Loan Fund in Big Spring, and Trinity Towers, a rest home for the elderly in Midland.

The breakdown, according to G. H. Hayward, secretary of the Foundation board, shows:

Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center $50,000, YMCA, $40,000, Salvation Army $5,000, West Side Center $14,000, Boys Club $14,200, Heritage Museum $5,000, and HCJC Student Loans $5,000; also Trinity Towers $10,000.

Both the rehabilitation center and YMCA gifts are toward building programs the two institutions are undertaking, said Judge R. W. Catton, chairman of the Foundation Board. The West Side Center is to acquire an old hospital building from the air base, and its gift is to finance land and moving expense. The Boys Club gift is for equipment for its new home.

The student loan fund is a specialized program, and other gifts to the Salvation Army, Heritage Museum and Trinity Towers are of a general nature.

The distribution announced today brings to more than $3,000,000 the Dora Roberts Foundation has made since its first bequests starting with a pledge of half a million dollars each to two colleges in 1948.

Voting in the Big Spring Independent School District and Howard County School Board trustee election will begin Saturday at 8 a.m. at Big Spring High School. The polls will close at 7 p.m. (See story on area elections Page 6-A.)

RALPH McLAUGHLIN
... three-year term

Seven candidates have filed for four vacancies on the Big Spring Board. Six are seeking to fill three three-year terms, and one is seeking the one-year unexpired portion of extrustee Grant Boardman's term.

Those vying for three-year terms are Ralph McLaughlin, Bryon B. Smith Jr., H. Boyce Hale, Leon Miller, Jimmy Ray Smith, and Jerry G. Jenkins. Jim Bill Little has filed for the one-year term. (See ballot Page 1-B.)

In announcing his candidacy, McLaughlin said, "I believe I can make a significant contribution to our school district in its endeavor to provide the best education possible for the least amount of tax dollars."

"I am first of all for a strong academic program, but I also feel that athletics are important for lessons learned and as an outlet for our children," said Byron Smith. "I think teachers bear a heavy burden, and I am concerned that they receive adequate pay, that we take care of good and faithful servants such as our administrators, teachers and coaches. I am for sound operation of the system, yet favor paying the bill for adequate operation."

Hale said, "I offer my time and talents in an effort to determine that the Big Spring Independent School District will continue to offer the children of our community the best possible high school education. I will also pursue a course designed to prevent waste of the taxpayer's money."

"I am asking the voters of this school district for this office because I believe the education of our young people is the most important thing our community does," said Miller.

Jimmy Ray Smith said in announcing his candidacy, "It is my desire to support the schools in any way that is needed and to maintain the best educational standards possible with the funds available."

"I am offering my services in this area because I am interested in our community's educational processes, in the welfare of our children, and in maintaining an efficient, practical and stable school system," said Jenkins.

Little, sole candidate for the one-year term, said, "I am willing to offer my services in the role of trustee, giving the position the study and attention it deserves, so that I can, with other members of the board, help chart policies to keep our school system viable, productive and strong."

In the county trustee election, J. D. Gilmore has filed to succeed himself as trustee of commissioner's precinct 2.

Alton R. Bagwell has been proposed as a write-in candidate for trustee of commissioner's precinct 1. Incumbent H. H. Rutherford did not file for reelection. On his candidacy, Bagwell said, "I have not sought this office, but some people approached me on the write-in proposition, and I said that if there were those who wanted to put my name on the ballot, I will be happy to serve in this capacity to the best of my ability."

HOT TIME WASN'T FUN

GREAT FALLS, Mont. (AP) — Bruce Lundberg had a hot time on the town the other night, but it wasn't any fun.

Lundberg's rented car developed a flat tire at a downtown intersection. But, said firemen, he apparently didn't realize it.

One fireman said Lundberg, thinking his vehicle was bogged down in a pothole, revved up his engine and the tire burst into flames.

The fire then spread to the gasoline tank and eventually, to the entire car.

Damage to the late-model sedan was estimated at $3,000. Lundberg was not injured.

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP) — Army Col. Oran K. Henderson requested today during his pre-trial hearing that Capt. Theodore J. Burns be returned to his defense team. Henderson is charged in the alleged field investigation coverup of the My Lai incident.

The request sparked an hour's argument as it received a prompt objection from Maj. Carroll Tichenor, who heads the prosecution.

Tichenor contended that Burns had served as counsel for Lt. Huch C. Thompson who was described by Tichenor as a prosecution witness.

Burns had previously been placed on Henderson's case and then removed.

PULLOUT OF BASE AGAIN — American GIs, carrying their equipment and gear, head toward waiting Chinook helicopter as U.S. forces leave the Khe Sanh base a second time. The base, staking area for the South Vietnamese push into Laos, is being dismantled. U.S. Marines abandoned the base once before after it was deemed no longer useful.

Batch Of Local Bills Keeps Texas Senate In Session

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes kept the Senate in session today to handle a lengthy backlog of local bills. House members quit Thursday for the weekend.

Barnes said senators are complaining that the House is not acting on Senate-approved bills. The same complaint has been heard before.

The Senate spent its entire morning session Thursday debating Edinburg Sen. Jim Bates' resolution asking President Nixon to pardon Lt. William L. Calley Jr. "so that he can live with dignity and honor in the land of the free and the home of the brave."

CIGAR TAX

The resolution was adopted and sent to the House after those opposing it could muster more than six votes.

The Senate State Affairs Committee listened to tax proposals in the afternoon, and Sen. Don Kennard, who will handle the tax measure, said 12 amendments have been proposed to the House-approved $492.5 million tax bill.

The proposals include a cigar tax, a $10-a-barrel tax on beer, oil and gas production taxes, an entertainment tax on rodeos and amateur athletic events such as high school and college football, and a tax on gross receipts of stores that operate only on Saturday and Sunday.

House members tentatively approved a bill by Fort Worth Rep. W. C. Sherman designed to prohibit discount stores who do business on Saturday and Sunday from selling their inventory to a "paper" firm Saturday night and buying it back Monday morning.

"My bill says that if you want to sell the stuff to a paper company, they have got to move the stuff," said Sherman. He said it was aimed at Cook's discount stores and Sundaes.

ROCK ROCK

Also tentatively approved was a bill by Lubbock Rep. Elmer Tarbox giving county commissioners power to prohibit rock festivals.

Both proposals need a final vote before being sent to the Senate.

Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston presented a 6 per cent corporation profits tax to the State Affairs Committee. He said it would raise $600 million the next two years—still less than budget writers estimate will be needed.

Schwartz said 44 other states have some type of corporate income tax "and the time has come for us to join them."

Sen. Jim Wallace of Houston proposed a one-cent-a-bottle beer tax to raise $15 million a year. A total of $2.5 million would be earmarked for cleaning up litter on highways.

Police said Perry apparently did move the vehicle because when they checked later Sunday they couldn't find it or Perry.

Police began a search for Perry but conceded he had certain advantages in Sheriff Adnah Harlow's car—the police radio on which he could monitor police activities.

Harlow said he kept no weapons in the car.

Police said Perry apparently did move the vehicle because when they checked later Sunday they couldn't find it or Perry.

Vietnamese Are Appreciative

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — A Decatur physician and surgeon says South Vietnamese patients were very appreciative of his services.

Dr. Arthur L. Ennis recently returned from a two-month tour through a program of medical assistance of the American Medical Association, the Volunteer Physicians for Vietnam.

Ennis said he was stationed in a 267-bed hospital as a surgeon. He aided both Vietnamese and the Army physicians. Cases he treated included motorcycle accidents, fractures, some gunshot and shrapnel cases, burns, malaria, typhoid, hook worm, round worms and tape worms.

South Vietnam Forces Retake Frontier Base

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops have reoccupied embattled Firebase No. 6 near the Laotian frontier, the Saigon command announced today. Military sources said the two days of savage fighting took a high toll in South Vietnamese casualties.

These sources said more than half of the 200 South Vietnamese defenders were killed or wounded when an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese stormed the base Wednesday and drove the two Saigon companies out.

FIND 230 BODIES
Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, spokesman for the South Vietnamese command in Saigon, announced that South Vietnamese reinforcements reoccupied the artillery base Thursday afternoon. Apparently the North Vietnamese had pulled out; Hien said the reinforcements made no contact with enemy troops in moving back into the base.

Hien said the Saigon troops on their return found the bodies of 280 North Vietnamese in and around the base, which is in the jungled central highlands six miles east of the border. He reported 20 South Vietnamese killed and 25 wounded, but field reports indicated 200 or more South Vietnamese were killed, wounded or missing.

There was no word on the small group of U.S. advisers stationed at the base. Communist broadcasts claimed some U.S. advisers and South Vietnamese troops were taken prisoner.

COPTERS DESTROYED
The South Vietnamese had heavy American air support, including strikes by B52 bombers, fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships. At least two U.S. helicopters were shot down and destroyed.

The attack on Firebase No. 6 was the strongest of a series of assaults this week apparently made in retaliation for the South Vietnamese invasion of Laos.

Elsewhere in South Vietnam, the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported only scattered skirmishes.

At Khe Sanh, in the northwest corner of the country near the Laotian frontier, U.S. troops continued dismantling the big base that was used as a staging area for the campaign in Laos.

Several small units of U.S. troops remain at Khe Sanh but are expected to pull out soon. In Cambodia, Communist forces launched a heavy ground attack against Cambodian troops at the village of Rolous, 48 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

The Cambodian command in Phnom Penh said government troops counterattacked but added that no details of the fighting were available.

The command said that in earlier fighting at Rolous Wednesday, government troops killed 22 Communist soldiers and took casualties of five killed and 13 wounded.

REDISTRICTING TUSSLE

Outside Chance Of Pitting Congressmen In West Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Redistricting which will give Texas a 24th seat in Congress probably will not match one incumbent against another in the next election, a legislator who should know said Thursday.

This view was voiced by Rep. Delwin Jones, chairman of a Texas House redistricting committee who has just finished consulting with House members for two days. He added, however, that there was an outside chance of a contest pitting two congressmen in West Texas and perhaps one between two in East Texas.

Jones said he hopes to complete committee work on a bill redistricting state House seats by May 1 and put it to a floor vote by May 15, and his committee should finish its measure covering congressional seats by May 15.

"Our committee has developed a very tentative base map," Jones said in an interview, "from which we will ultimately develop the final map. The tolerances are not within an acceptable range and there are several variables that may change, basically in the Dallas and Houston areas."

The tentative map would preserve essentially the same situation in Dallas: two congressmen from the city itself and three others representing slivers of the city as well as substantial rural areas.

An alternative to this might be adding a minimum amount of rural territory to Dallas to bring the city up to a full three-member congressional district. "The same thing applies to Harris County," Jones said. "We are looking basically at a three-member congressional district totally within Harris County with rural areas added to give the county a fourth seat and bring it up to the right tolerance."

WEST OF FORT WORTH
"We still have some questions in primarily rural areas," Jones said. "If we can't resolve them, it will result in pairing of two congressmen in the West Texas rural area—anywhere west of Fort Worth."

If Dallas gets three congressmen paired in East Texas, he said.

The redistricting team more or less considers two veteran Texans to be sacred: Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, from Lubbock in West Texas, and Rep. Wright Patman, chairman of the Banking and Currency Committee, from Texarkana in East Texas.

BURLESON VS. WHITE?
Leaving those two out, then, the West Texans potentially vulnerable to pairing are Reps. Bob Price of Pampa, a Republican; and Democratic Reps. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls, Omar Burleson of Anson, O. C. Fisher of San Angelo and Richard White of El Paso.

The potentially vulnerable East Texans could be Reps. Ray Roberts of McKinney, John Dowdy of Athens, W. R. Poage of Waco and Olin Teague of College Station.

"There has got to either be a pairing or they have got to make deep inroads into some large metropolitan districts," Jones said.

He said the internal divisions of districts within, for instance, Harris County have not been drawn even tentatively yet.

Texas legislators made their first trip as a committee to Washington to catch congressmen right after nine state hearings on the matter and before the congressmen scattered for Easter recess.

Texas Farmers Union President Will Speak

LAMESA — Jay I. Naman, president of the Texas Farmers Union, will be one of two featured speakers April 15 at the District 8 Farmers Union meeting here.

Naman will speak on "Agriculture's Problems," an in-depth presentation of the problems facing agriculture today.

Dr. Otto Wilke, Texas A&M University Research Center, Lubbock, will discuss new techniques of sub-irrigation.

A chili supper will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Forrest Park Community Center with entertainment provided by C. C. Grigg and T. J. Godwin, Ackerville. The program will begin at 8 p.m.

Displays of permanent, low-cost sub-irrigation pipe will be on display for the men, and original patchwork designs will be on exhibit for the women. District 8 officers are Vernon

Rain Drop Misses Midland, Angelo

By The Associated Press — Many towns and cities missed getting a drop of rain during March in Texas and National Weather Service records show that it was one of the driest months ever.

No measurable rain fell at Brownsville, Corpus Christi, Del Rio, El Paso, Midland or San Angelo.

Old military records at Fort Brown near Brownsville show that only on two other occasions, 1901 and 1902, did the Brownsville area go without measurable rain in March.

This was only the second March on record without measurable rain at Corpus Christi. March, 1971, was the second driest March on record at Dallas. Only March of 1956 had less.

For much of Texas, this was the fifth consecutive abnormally dry month. At Galveston, the period from November through March has been the driest season for this time of year since the 1917 to 1918 period.

The National Weather Service Office at El Paso reported that parts of the Trans-Pecos have had no measurable rain in 100 days.

Within the five-month period from mid-October through mid-March, Marfa has received only .07 inch and received no measurable rain for 101 consecutive days.

El Paso received 99 per cent of the total possible sunshine during March, the highest percentage since records began in 1911.

Borden Stock Show Opens

Speaks On Violet Care

Advice on the care of African violets was given to the Texas Star African Violet Club by Mrs. S. R. Nobles, Mrs. B. H. Montgomery and Miss Shirley White, Thursday in the home of Mrs. R. W. Baker, 710 Lancaster.

The women said lighting and soil should be inspected daily, new plants should be isolated from others, and that old stems should be removed. They said not to let the plants get too dry, but not to overwater them or use cold water. Also, they said not to use heavy soil or to let the temperature go below 60 degrees.

Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales presided, presenting Miss Patricia Marks with a bracelet in appreciation of her work as the club's youth member.

Members donated $8.50 for cookies to be taken to Big Spring State Hospital Saturday. Mrs. Clinkscales and Mrs. James Marks reported that plants were donated to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and to the Webb AFB Hospital.

New members welcomed were Mrs. Jack Kountz, Mrs. Donald Goetz and Mrs. Wesley Pearce. Mrs. J. D. Milstead was a guest. The next meeting is at 7 p.m., May 6 in the home of Mrs. H. V. Crocker, 1707 Benton.

SOMETHING SPECIAL — When she was 15, Louise MacLeod was a Red Cross volunteer serving coffee and doughnuts to soldiers leaving for the Spanish-American War. At 87, Mrs. MacLeod is still spry and cheerful and recipient of the first 70-year service pin for the organization. She holds the special pin.

Hints From Heloise

DEAR HELOISE:

I have eight of those new long strands of beads and they cost me almost nothing!

I had a collection of short ones (haven't we all?) and thought I'd restring a three-strand pearl one to the new long length, and I then went on to mix and match the others.

My favorite is one made with black jets. I used a combination of one large and one small crystal bead between the jets. It's beautiful.

Another stunner is a turquoise with silver. For winter clothes I fixed one of green, gold and reddish brown with small crystals between each color. The possibilities are endless.

All you need is a roll of nylon fish line. My roll of line cost forty-seven cents and was enough for all eight strands and then some.

This is how you do it: Lay a Turkish towel on the table and place the beads on the towel in the sequence you plan to string them. Knot a safety pin on one end of the nylon line so they won't slip off.

I found that 38 inches is a good length, but a taller woman might like 40 inches or so. You don't even need a needle as the line is stiff enough.

Start in the middle with the largest bead if they are graduated, and work from each side of this bead-making sure the sequence is the same on both sides.

When completed, tie the ends together. You won't need a clamp. Thread the line back on each side through five or six beads, tying a knot between each. Leave enough play to have room for the knots.

A friend of mine tore up an old beaded purse and used the little beads in the purse in combination with other beads and came up with a beautiful strand.

I store all the extra beads that I don't use in empty pill boxes with snap tops for later use. . . . Ruth Zimay

I'd "string" along with you any old time you're a gal after my own heart.

Just a bit of ingenuity, a lot of imagination, and it's amazing what you can come up with. Keep those wheels turning! . . . Heloise

LETTER OF LAUGHTER DEAR HELOISE:

In one of your columns a woman wrote the suggestion to put the face cream left on her hand (after creaming her face) on her elbows, but wanted to know how to get the cream from her right hand onto her right elbow. My suggestion would be to use her HEAD. . . . Mary Konen

DEAR HELOISE:

I was wrapping a birthday present for one of my girlfriends and couldn't find any ribbon. Even my hair yarn looked too shabby to put on the package.

So I conjured up a brainstorm!

I took three pieces of string and dyed them in one-half cup of boiling water with one teaspoon of vinegar added, and several drops of food coloring.

When the strings were dark enough I hung them to dry. They looked darling on the package and later I saw my girlfriend had them in her hair. . . . Ann Y., Age 17

DEAR HELOISE:

Now is the time of the year that we really need to relieve that summer vacation.

If you have no screen for showing movies or slides you can easily make one by using an old card table.

Just stretch a clean, old white sheet on the table top and make it taut at the corners with thumbtacks.

Fold the table and prop it against a wall or on top of another table. It works beautifully and when you finish showing your pictures, just store the table in back of a closet or wherever desired. . . . Ann K.

This column is written for you . . . the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible. (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

Urge Pardon For Calley In Resolution To Nixon

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas senators are on record for a full pardon for Lt. William L. Calley Jr., whom they described repeatedly as a "scapegoat" for his superior Army officers.

"He's the small fish they're having to fry to keep the larger fish from being caught," said Sen. Chet Brooks, Pasadena.

Bitter debate broke out Thursday over a resolution urging President Nixon to pardon Calley. Calley was convicted of murdering 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai.

The resolution was overwhelmingly approved.

Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg, whose son was a combat Marine in Vietnam for 13 months, sponsored the resolution, identical to one introduced in the House Thursday by Rep. Joe Hubenak of Rosenberg.

Hubenak's resolution and one by Rep. Lindon Williams of Houston, a Korean war veteran, urging President Nixon to grant executive clemency to Calley were sent routinely to the House

Rules Committee.

After the Senate adopted Bates' resolution on voice vote, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said, "I think he (Calley) should be pardoned."

AMERICA TRIED

Barnes said he had so many telephone calls Wednesday night about Calley's conviction and life sentence that he turned his phone down.

"I think the administration could have prevented the way the trial was handled," Barnes said. "America was tried in every newspaper in the world. I think the newspapers gave it too much coverage... to pick out one man and try him in the newspapers and television screens is not the right approach."

"It's got to create a low morale among the men wearing the American uniform in Southeast Asia," he added.

Bates' resolution described Calley as a "dedicated military leader" who has "served our country with dignity."

"If Lt. Calley is guilty, then many thousands of men who have served before him, and who will serve in the future, must share in his guilt," the resolution said.

"You called them (the court) honorable gentlemen—you're ignorant, senator," Bates told Schwartz as they stood 20 feet apart, often shouting at each other.

- Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin, a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, said he voted for Bates' resolution to protest "the entire military justice system... of taking one man, an unfortunate lieutenant without a great facility for self defense, and letting others go with a condemnation or transfer of command."

"He was pushed as somewhat of a scapegoat," said Schwartz.

"Perhaps a sacrificial lamb?" asked Wilson.

"Certainly, he is," said Schwartz. "The Army would cover up My Lai like a latrine ditch if they thought they could get away with it."

Griffith Gets 25-Year Award

Burl Griffith was recently presented a service award and a safety award for 25 years service with Continental Oil Co. in Forsan. During his entire 25 years Griffith has lost no time due to accidents.

Griffith, a native of Desdemona, came to Howard County following military service and began work with Continental as an electrician.

He and his wife, Hattie, live in Forsan with their two sons, Vard, 18, a senior in Forsan High School, and Dale, 16, a junior.

SHARE THE GUILT

"I'll be damned if that resolution makes me guilty of firing an automatic weapon into a ditch filled with men, women and children," said Sen. A.R. Schwartz of Galveston.

"I don't share the guilt of Lt. Calley," said Schwartz, "but I do share the guilt of a nation continuing this unjust war."

Schwartz said he could envision lawmakers waving the Calley resolution in their 1972 election campaigns, shouting about "God, mother, and Lt. Calley—if I have to get elected on that promise, I'm not going to get re-elected."

STUPID, TOO

He was one of six senators, at most, who opposed Bates' resolution, but Schwartz said, "I don't want him to serve life in an Army stockade. I will vote to carefully consider the plight of this young man, and I will be as merciful as anybody. But I can't abide the idea of prejudging the court" that found Calley guilty.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is not a day to be extravagant or to take any chances where your assets or your good name are concerned and if you keep harmonious and refuse the temptation to get involved in all sorts of arguments and disagreements, you hold your present position intact and sidestep some pretty rough going. Keep poised.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Being more objective about conditions around you that you care a little about is good; you have been getting irritated to no good purpose for some time. Have fun with friends in p.m.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Care in motion is most important today or you have both trouble and expense. Look for errors in any phase of your endeavor and eradicate, adjust. Speak quietly but firmly with others.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ideal day to handle those monetary affairs most intelligently and do not make some errors you made in the past. Do not rely on a trusted business expert who is not available right now. Use your own judgment, which is good.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are tempted to raise a hub-bub with others because conditions are not working out as you expected. Take it easy. Steer clear of that group meeting where you might lose your temper in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have private duties to handle so take care of them instead of trying to pursue them in the business world.

Careful study of any problems sees you handling them wisely. Curb your temper; VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Relying on a good friend to help you solve some problem is not wise, since that individual is rightly too busy with own affairs just of this time. You can work out difficulties without help provided you forget fun and whatever is of a social nature now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have promised to do some civic chores and you must carry through with them or lose face. Get them early, please higher-up and you find the rewards will be great later on. Avoid sarcasm with anyone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Your ideas for advancement are excellent but this is not a good day to start wheeling in said direction. Recheck details. Take the time to confer with experts, even though their views are a little different from your own.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't run away from obligations or they will only increase and cause you to be very confused later; delve right into them early instead. Strive for harmony with mate by showing a little humility. Remember it's a promise made at this time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Instead of forcing your will on others, try to please them just of this time. Being diplomatic where some unexpected condition vexes is your best way of handling it. Losing your temper only aggravates matters.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Show efficiency of work you have promised to do, and see to it that others are pleased, then this becomes a profitable day. Small personal problems also must be handled quickly. Take it easy tonight and have peace of mind.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Go out early to the kind of imaginative recreation you often enjoy rather than the expensive kind, but steer clear of superficial individuals. Don't take any risks where something of importance is involved.

Calley 'Prisoner' In His Own 'Home'

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William Calley was a virtual prisoner in his own home today after his dramatic release from the stockade by President Nixon.

He was not behind barred wire but his freedom was severely limited under a revised Army directive.

LATE SLEEPER
His personal guard accompanied him in the apartment where he slept late this morning during a steady downpour of rain.

Outside, two military policemen patrolled the sidewalk while two more in a jeep rode slowly and continuously around the block behind his apartment, one of a complex, two more MPs sat in a jeep.

"It is for traffic control and to secure his quarters and the area," said a military spokesman.

His red-haired girlfriend entered his apartment at mid-morning loaded with a large bag of groceries. Meanwhile, two of the MPs helped a postman carry in two huge armloads of letters.

Trains Blamed Again For Fire

Sparks from a passing train were again blamed for a grass-fire Thursday in the West IS 20 area. A fire Tuesday on a railroad right-of-way near Stuckey's was also attributed to sparks from a passing train.

Thursday's fire was on the Charlie Creighton property on West IS 20 near the Sahara Drive-In. Two county fire units were called, and as in the case of the earlier fire, found that the blaze had nearly run its course.

According to information from the Howard County sheriff's office, the fire was contained to an area with little ground cover, and the damage was mostly to stumps and fence posts.

LAKEVIEW SPELLERS — Correctly spelling the word "accelerator" won Pauline Santos, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Marquez, 1002 NW First, the right to represent Lakeview Elementary in the Howard County spelling bee April 15. Judy Lopez, 11 (right), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Lopez, 606 N. San Antonio, will be the alternate from Lakeview. Both girls are in the fifth grade.

by the unprecedented intervention of President Nixon Thursday night, the Army said he would be under "light guard."

Today, the Army issued revised ground rules on the status of his confinement to quarters. They were:

- 1. He will normally be confined to his quarters.
- 2. He has indicated who he wants on his authorized correspondence and visitation list and will be allowed to be visited by personnel on this list and receive correspondence from these personnel.

PHONE CALLS
3. He is authorized telephone calls with people on his correspondence and visitation list.

4. He is authorized to eat in the field rations mess or may take his meals in his quarters.

5. He is authorized to take daily exercise accompanied by his guard.

6. Further authorization or departure from his quarters can only be made with special permission depending upon the circumstances.

7. As a prisoner he is not authorized to release public statements, grant press interviews, pose for photographs or make written releases for publication.

By order of President Nixon, Calley was taken from armed custody behind the barbed wires of the post stockade Thursday and returned to his bachelor quarters.

Only a day after he was sentenced to life imprisonment for murdering 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai, the boyish-looking lieutenant was ordered released by the President pending the completion of a full review of his conviction by an Army court-martial.

NOT JUSTIFIED
The White House directive took most observers by surprise. The President had once said of the massacre at My Lai that "under no circumstances was it justified."

5.2 Million Unemployed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment climbed back up to an annual rate of 6 per cent in March after a two-month decline, the Labor Department announced today.

The figures were not accompanied by an official interpretation by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, under the administration's new policy of handling the monthly announcements, but members of Congress called BLS economists for questioning.

There were 5.2 million unemployed men and women in March, the report disclosed. This was 270,000 fewer than in February, but the decline was less than usual for this season. After allowing for the seasonal adjustment, joblessness rose by 150,000 on the annual basis.

Employment was about unchanged at 78.5 million, seasonally adjusted. Except for a temporary rise in January, total employment has stayed virtually level since last May; it is 500,000 below the record high of March a year ago.

The increase in unemployment occurred largely among teenagers and those in the 20- to 24-year-old age bracket. Many jobless persons were newly entering the labor force but could not find work.

The jobs rate compared with 5.8 per cent in February, and 6.2 per cent in December — a nine year high.

Ex-Big Springer Authoress Of Book

Helen Reagan Smith, who grew up in Big Spring and was active in church and community affairs for many years, has written another book — this one to help families who have lost sons in the Vietnam war.

Actually, the book, JESUS STOOD BY US, (Broadman Press $3.75), is a series of case histories to help all who have lost a loved one. There are so many instances listed in her narratives that one of many are bound to fit the hurt of any mortal being.

Helen Smith writes out of an experience which all but overwhelmed her. Within the space of a few months she lost an aunt, who was almost like a mother; her youngest son, Robert, in a plane crash; and then her attorney husband, Tracy T. Smith.

"Your heart is torn; something has happened to you that makes the day's sunlight look like blackness. That which is closest to your heart has been snatched away. Life seems useless; living requires an impossible effort. Can you collect the pieces and go forward?"

"Jesus Stood By Us" is a documentary of people who walked through the same valley and found a way to pick-up the pieces. There are famous people; there are everyday people. Those who have faced grief can find within the pages someone who just couldn't go on but did. Various chapters may be especially helpful, such as dealing with depression, fighting from grief's quicksands, handling resentments, and others.

Helen Smith is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. B. Reagan, leading Big Spring citizens, and the sister of Howard Reagan, Big Spring.

She is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Baylor University where she earned both her bachelor and masters degrees. Since 1968 she has been a member of the Oklahoma University faculty as assistant professor of journalism assisting Foster Harris, head of the world-famous writing school. She is a director of the correspondence division of creative writing. Besides her teaching duties, she is in demand as a lecturer and clinician in professional writing.

One of her first works, "If My People," was published while she was a housewife here. Since then she has written several other books, including "Basic Story Techniques" (1964) and "Blessed Are Those Who Mourn" (1969), plus numerous magazine articles.

ART IN 3-D — Painter-scientist Ashten Mochell, a resident of Slidell, La., uses specially designed glasses to examine what he says is the world's first three-dimensional painting. Public Service Jobs Bill Sails

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $1.75 billion public service jobs bill similar to one vetoed by President Nixon last year has sailed through the Senate 62 to 10 despite renewed Republican opposition.

The Thursday vote sent the measure to the House where Democratic sponsors hope to clear it to the President later this month.

Republicans opposed to the bill said in the six-hour Senate debate they expect the President will veto it just as he did last December.

150,000 JOBS

However, their efforts to send the bill back to committee or weaken it were turned back by a coalition of Democrats and a few industrial state Republicans.

Democrats contended the bill would provide 150,000 jobs almost immediately if accepted by the administration.

In addition, they said, it would help the states, cities and other local government units meet pressing manpower needs in schools, hospitals, recreation programs, police and fire departments and other services.

Republicans replied the bill will make only a small difference in the near-6-per cent jobless rate.

They also contended most of the jobs will be a deadend, as Nixon argued in vetoing the 1970 measure.

They called instead for passage of the President's special manpower revenue-sharing proposal.

$1 BILLION

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chief sponsor of the public service jobs bill and chairman of the Senate Manpower Subcommittee, pledged Nixon's plan will get full consideration. But he said it probably will be next year before both the Senate and House can act.

Meanwhile, he declared, there is an unemployment emergency that Congress has an obligation to try to meet. And, he said the new version of the emergency bill had been altered to try to cover most of Nixon's objections.

The bill would make available $750 million the first year, and up to $1 billion the second if the present jobless rate of 6 per cent goes higher.

Washington would pay 90 per cent of the cost of the program.

Complaints About Mail Deliveries Getting Results

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex. says complaints about poor mail deliveries in North Texas and West Texas are getting results.

Purcell, who asked for an investigation into postal complaints, made the statement after the new postal service defended some of its actions but conceded that other complaints were valid.

"As result of the investigation, I think we've made some headway," Purcell said.

Purcell said that Postmaster General Winton Blount promised service equal to or greater than that which preceded start of the Postal Service.

Purcell said Saturday service has been restored at the main post office windows in Wichita Falls, as a result of complaints.

"I am concerned that a number of issues have not been resolved," Purcell said, "such as the inadequate handling of special delivery mail."

North Texas and West Texas officials had been protesting slowdowns in mail deliveries over the past year.

Local Students On Band Tour

ABILENE — Two Big Spring students took part in a tour of three states ending today as members of Abilene Christian College's concert band.

They are Alvis Ashley and Dee Elrod, said Charles Trayler, ACC assistant professor of music and director of bands. The band presented 12 concerts in five days in Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Ashley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Ashley of Rt. 1, Big Spring. He is a 1970 graduate of Coahoma High School and is a freshman music major at Abilene Christian.

A junior music major, Elrod is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Elrod of 2406 Birdwell, Big Spring. He graduated from Big Spring High School in 1969.

Support Voiced For State Ban Of Certain Pesticides

AUSTIN (AP)—When it rains in their present form for several years, he said.

DDT, for example, the most completely water-insoluble chemical man has ever created, stays around for about 15 years before it begins to break down, Plapp said.

The committee also considered a bill by Rep. Curtis Graves of Houston that would ban DDT by Jan. 1, 1972.

"There is absolutely no evidence that they create a disease," Platt said.

"But they make organisms more susceptible to disease. They are not a direct danger to man, but the question is: Do we take these as warning signals or not?"

Testimony was cited that DDT remains in the fatty tissue of animals and in lesser amounts as it moves up the food chain. Man, at the top of the food chain, then would have the most. It has been shown to have an adverse effect on the reproduction systems of certain birds, witnesses said.

Woodrow Hart, representing the Texas Association of Cotton Producers, said the committee could not ignore that pesticides are contributing to the current production of the world's food supply. His organization is continually working on ways to reduce or improve insecticides, he said.

H. B. Whitworth, an Austin lawyer representing the Texas Agricultural Chemical Association, said: "In dealing with technical and complex issues such as pesticides, it is dangerous to deal with it in an inflexible way such as statute," he said.

Dr. John Plapp Jr., research entomologist at Texas A&M University, said traces of DDT have been found everywhere in the world, even in the Antarctic.

He spoke in favor of a bill by Rep. Joe Golman of Dallas to ban DDT and pesticides containing chlorinated hydrocarbons by Sept. 1.

These chemicals are not as toxic as others, but even they are known as "persistent pesticides," Plapp said.

This means they do not break down as fast as other pesticides and can stay in the environment

Pirates, Reds Look To Be Best In Loop

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Pennant potential once again spreads from coast to coast in the National League this spring, but the balance of power still rests somewhere along the Ohio River between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.
The Reds and Pirates, loaded with long-ball punch, are this corner's picks to beat off a flock of challengers in their division races and then slug it out in an October rematch of the 1970 pennant playoffs.
Cincinnati, a runaway winner in the West last year, scored a three-game knockout over Pittsburgh's East Division champs in those playoffs, but fell apart against Baltimore in the World Series.
Los Angeles, bolstered by slugger Richie Allen, should give the Reds a run for the money in the West this year around. And Pittsburgh, the choice to repeat in another East dogfight, figures to push them to the five-game limit in the championship series.

NO WEST TEXANS Champs Put 2 On All-State

State champion Cypress Fairbanks placed two players on the Texas Sports Writers' Association Class AAAA all-state basketball team.
Jerry Mercer, a 6-foot-8 senior and Ronald Dunlap were named to the first team from Cypress Fairbanks along with Bill Marcellus of Dallas Jefferson.

Trevino Leads But He's Wary Of G. Player

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Lee Trevino held an eight stroke lead over Gary Player going into today's second round in the $190,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament—but was far from confident.
"Eight strokes?" he snuffed. "Man, that's nothing with that little man. I'd feel a lot better about it if it was the last round and I had eight strokes on him."
"But right now, with him, that's nothing. He can make it up in one day."
Trevino fired a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's first round for a share of the top spot with veteran Miller Barber and New Zealand left-hander Bob Charles.
Player, the doughty little South African who is the defending champion in this tournament and who has won the last two tour events, struggled in with a fat 75, four over par.
Player drove one over of bouds and took a triple bogey seven. He once found the water and had to drop out. And he three-putted four times.
Trevino, Barber and Charles held a one-stroke lead over a group of five tied at 68. They were Australian Bruce Crampton, former Masters champion Art Wall, tour sophomore Jack Lewis, Pete Brown and Dave Eichelberger.
National amateur champ Lanny Wadkins topped a big bunch at 69 and U.S. Open King Tony Jacklin of England had a 70 in spite of a double bogey on his final hole.
Masters champ Billy Casper, just back from an extended vacation, matched Player's 75.
Both must improve to make the 36-hole cut for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.
Trevino cut three strokes off par on his last four holes but, in characteristic fashion pointed to a 25-foot par-saving putt on his fourth hole as the key.
"I was one over at that time and thought if I bogeyed that one I'd miss the cut. I'd just brought my wife to this tournament. It cost $160 round-trip. If I miss the cut I've got to send her home tomorrow and I've just blown $160."

TOO MUCH CLASS

But look for the Big Red Machine to overcome a rash of pre-season injuries and grind its way to the top again behind the run-producing wallop of Johnny Bench & Co.
This is how the windup looks from here:
East—1, Pittsburgh. 2, New York. 3, St. Louis. 4, Chicago. 5, Montreal. 6, Philadelphia.
West—1, Cincinnati. 2, Los Angeles. 3, San Francisco. 4, Houston. 5, Atlanta. 6, San Diego.
Bench, the league's Most Valuable Player a year ago, when he paced the majors in home runs, 45, and runs batted in, 148, is the returning ring-leader of the Cincinnati fence-busting gang.
His cronies include Tony Perez, Lee May, Pete Rose and Bernie Carbo, who combined for 110 more homers as the Reds rolled to 102 victories and a 14½-game margin over the second-place Dodgers in the West.

The 1971 Machine doubtless will miss center fielder Bob Tolman, out indefinitely after undergoing surgery to repair a torn Achilles tendon. A knee injury has sidelined May temporarily and Manager Sparky Anderson could run into pitching difficulties if 20-game winner Jim Merritt and young Wayne Simpson, 14-3 as a rookie, don't bounce back from arm ailments.
Pittsburgh, led by big hitters Willie Stargell, Roberto Clemente, Manny Sanguillen, Bob Robertson and Al Oliver, also had to overcome sore arms last year. But the Pirates added pitching depth through winter trades for fireballer Bob Johnson and Nelson Briles.

Warriors Tip Bucks To Stay In Series

By The Associated Press
A lucky long shot by Joe Ellis in the last second kept the Milwaukee Bucks from making a four-game sweep of the San Francisco Warriors in the National Basketball Association playoffs.
Ellis let fly with a 40-footer that turned an apparent 104-103 defeat into a 106-104 victory for the Warriors Thursday night and kept them alive in the Western Conference semifinals.
The basket from near the center of the floor put the Warriors ahead 105-104. A technical foul then was called on the four-game sweep of the San Francisco Warriors in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Dierker Says He's Ready

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Astros pitcher Larry Dierker says he's ready for the season to start.
The big righthander stopped the New York Yankees on two hits for seven innings Thursday night as the Astros triumphed 5-0 in an exhibition game in the Astrodome.
Denny Lemaster took over for Houston in the seventh and also allowed only two hits as the Astros ran their spring record to 14-11.
"After this game, I can't say anything but I'm ready for the season to start," Dierker said. "I hope I feel this way Monday."
Dierker, the only 20-game winner in Houston's history, will start against the Dodgers in a 1971 National League opener Monday night.
He retired the last 16 Yankee batters after yielding second-inning singles to Danny Cater and Jerry Kenney.
"I felt real good," Dierker said. "I had real good control, especially with my changeup."
The Astros scored in the first inning on singles by Cesar Cedeno and Joe Morgan and Bob Watson's sacrifice fly.
Houston added three runs in the third on singles by Dierker and Watson, a double by Cedeno and a ground out and a sacrifice fly. The Astros' final run came in the eighth on a triple by Norm Miller and Doug Rader's single.
Starter Fritz Peterson was the loser for the Yankees, now 8-20 this spring.
The Astros, Yankees and Minnesota Twins will play a novel 15-inning exhibition game to night in the Astrodome.
Actually, there will be three separate five-inning games. However, a complicated scoring system devised by Houston general manager Spec Richardson will determine a 15-inning winner.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart
UT-El Paso recently beat Southern California in a five-way track and field meet, which should give you an idea of how Wayne Vandenberg has brought his team along out there.
The Miners won six first places and got a $48.2 effort out of John Bednarski in the two-mile run.

Bob Bass, the former Texas Tech cage mentor who is now the drill and floor show instructor for the ABA Floridians, is about to make waves that will be felt in far-away New York.
Bass and members of the Florida cabal have been making overtures to superstar Walt Frazier of the New York Knickerbockers.
The ABA people have been operating on credit and an over-abundance of gall. They may wind up on the poor farm but they'll go happily if they can force all the NBA teams to cop a plea for bankruptcy.

A former District 5-AAAA coaching aide has moved three times in three years now, each time to a higher paying job in another school system.
He may not be that good but obviously came to the conclusion long ago that the loyalty bath is for the birds, that school boards do not reward those men who stay in a school system, yet break their backs to find the funds to pay new and untried ones after they are gone.
Some coaches have no stomach for playing the game of musical chairs but they are forced into it by employers who never offer an encouraging word (or a boost in pay) if they hang around.

Five of the ten basketball players picked on TV Guide's District 6 all-star team are former junior college players.
The group includes William Chafmon, Baylor; Simpson DeGrate, TCU; Ray Golson, West Texas; Eugene Kennedy, TCU; and Gene Knolle, TCU.

Don't think the point hasn't been lost on Southwest Conference coaches. They're now recruiting like mad in the two-year schools.
Chatmon, incidentally, shattered seven school records and tied another during his stay at Baylor.

The University of Houston may be the team which finally ends UCLA's reign in NCAA basketball.
The Cougars have a wealth of material returning from this year's club and benefits from a freshman team that lost only two games all season.
Dwight Davis and Steve Newsome, both 6-7, will be back from this year's varsity team. Joining those two will be Jerry Bonney, a red-shirted sophomore from Houston Wheatley.

Coming up from the freshmen will be 6-2 Donnell Hayes, who broke all frosh scoring records with a 27.5 average; Sid Edwards 6-9 performer from Schenectady, N.Y.; 6-10 Dwight Jones, from Houston Wheatley; and 6-8 Mack Mitchell, from Diboll.
The Cougars, too, may land a Tyler JC star named Bill James, an Indianan who could replace talented Joe Welch.

Don't bet your breakfast money on it but heavyweight boxing champion Joe Frazier may call it a day, despite all that talk about a rematch with Cassius Clay.
Joe says he is 28 but he could be in his early '30s. He gave everything he had against Clay and won with points to spare but, in so doing, he took a physical beating.
His mother wants him to take up gentler pursuits and she may be aware of something Frazier himself may not know.
In training for a rematch, Frazier's aching body perhaps won't cooperate as it did before. He may never again be able to reach back and get that necessary something it took to beat Clay last time.

Dub McElhannon, the former Trinity University football coach, now recruits nurses for the Baylor Medical Center in Dallas.

The Lakers, back home in Los Angeles, drubbed the Bulls behind Gail Goodrich's 33 points. The Lakers now lead the series 3-2 and can win it by beating the Bulls in Chicago Sunday afternoon.
Rookie Pete Maravich, who scored 31 points, paced Atlanta to its nine point lead before the Knicks rallied. Two free throws by Willis Reed put the Knicks ahead for good after Dave Stallworth had tied the score. Dave DeBusschere, with 29 points, led the New Yorkers.
Defense also was the key in the Lakers' rout of the Bulls. "Clark, who scored 31 points for the 76ers, made his winning free throw with 50 seconds left. That put Philadelphia ahead 104-101 which Earl Monroe of the Bulls cut to one with two free throws.
Billy Cunningham was high for the 76ers with 32 points. Monroe topped Baltimore with 26.

LUBBOCK — Bob Devaney, athletic director and head football coach at the University of Nebraska, will be the featured speaker at the annual Red Raider Club All-Sports Banquet for Texas Tech athletes April 27. Dr. James Morris, club president, announced.
Nebraska won the National Championship of College Football in 1956 and posted its first undefeated season (11-0-1) since 1915. The Cornhuskers whipped LSU 17-12 in the 1971 Orange Bowl to clinch the national title.
Devaney is the winningest football coach in the nation, an honor he's held for six years. Devaney's teams win more often than any other in the nation, a fact supported by his lifetime record of 114 victories, 28 defeats and six ties.
During his nine years at Nebraska, Devaney's teams have posted a record of 79-18-1. During the same span, the Cornhuskers have won five Big 8 titles and tied for a sixth.
Devaney was recently selected to guide the West team in the Coaches All-America Football Game scheduled June 26 in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium.

SAN ANGELO—The scene of operations in District 5-AAAA golf competition shifts to the rugged San Angelo Country Club today, where Big Spring and other league schools try to reduce the 20-stroke lead built up by Midland Lee's White team in the first two rounds of play.
Royce Cox, coach of the Big Spring team, eyes this challenge optimistically. He remarked, earlier in the week: "Lee built up its lead in two matches. We have three tournaments left to try and catch them."
Abilene's Municipal course will be the scene of the fourth match next Friday. The teams wind up competition in Big Spring April 16.
Lee's No. 1 unit has a 36-hole score of 619, after having posted a 312 last week at Odessa.

Bulldogs Defeat Jackets, 2-0

MIDLAND — Robert Shaeffer pitched the Midland Bulldogs to a 2-0 win over Kermit here Thursday, limiting the visitors to three hits.
The win was the ninth in 14 starts for the Bulldogs.

Steers, Midland Lee Vie Here At 2:00 Saturday

Oakey Hagood's Big Spring Steers seek to end a four-game losing streak in a 2 p.m. battle with front-running Midland Lee here Saturday.
Lee, one of the favorites in District 5-AAAA, has reeled off three straight victories in conference play.
David Englert will likely be dispatched to the pitching rubber by Hagood. Englert has shown flashes of greatness and has been very effective as long as he keeps the ball down.
In their last out, the Rebels popped Abilene Cooper, 4-1, behind the stellar pitching of Roger Alexander and Stan Van Hoozer.
Lee is on an eight-game winning streak. Over-all, Lee is 11-4.
Probable starters for Lee include Robbie Christiansen, left field; Mark Stoltz, shortstop; Mike Holloway, center field; Mark Abernathy, left field; Bruce Boyd, right field; Gary Pemberton, first base; Burr Williams, catcher; Mike Abernathy, third base; and Alexander on the hill.

JVs Defeated By Panthers

ODESSA — Big Spring's JVs committed the incredible total of 15 errors, seven of them in one inning, in losing a 12-3 decision to Odessa Permian here Thursday.
Permian earned only two runs by the Dogies, who are now 6-3 on the year, couldn't seem to pick up the ball and often threw erratically when they did find the handle.
Big Spring had earlier beaten Permian but the Panthers counted three runs in the second inning and followed with a seven-run third to ice down the verdict.
Big Spring managed its first run in the opening round and added its other two in the fourth.
Five of Big Spring's misplays occurred after two Permian batters had been retired in the third.
Mike Tredaway had two of Big Spring's four hits.

Golf Teams Seek To Overtake Lee

Westbrook Sixth In Track Meet

SNYDER — Loraine finished fourth with 79.1-6 points and Westbrook was sixth with 33 in the 1971 District 10-B track and field meet staged here Thursday. Roby won the team championship with 108 points.
Mike Jones of Loraine won the 100 in 10.3 seconds to qualify for regional. Ron Jones of Loraine was second in 10.5 to also earn a regional spot.
Loraine's Minton was first in the 880 in 2:06.4. Anderson of Westbrook capped the mile in 5:04.0. Loraine's mile relay team also qualified for Regional by placing second behind Highland with a 3:38.8 clocking.
R. Jones, Loraine, won the pole vault with a leap of 10-0. G. Rich, Westbrook, was second with a 9-6 effort.
Ron Jones of Loraine was the high point man with 29 points.

PRE-TRIAL HEARING DELAYED AGAIN — Angela Davis walks into the courtroom in San Rafael Thursday with raised clenched fist, for her pre-trial hearing which was delayed again when her attorneys demanded the latest judge in the case disqualify himself.

German Sub Threatening Tampa Bay

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A modern Flying Dutchman—a sunken German submarine which apparently has drifted under water for nearly 30 years and 400 miles—reportedly is threatening the Florida coast with a deadly cargo of mercury and explosives including TNT, torpedoes and other armaments.

The vessel is believed to contain nearly 200 tons of mercury, a potent contaminant, and explosives including TNT, torpedoes and other armaments.

Howard Zeller, Southeastern chief of water quality standards for the Environmental Protection Agency—EPA—said he was ordered to investigate the situation after a commercial salvage operator reported finding the sub in 25 to 50 feet of water near Tampa Bay on Florida's West Coast.

The salvage operator was identified only by the last name of Gaddy from the Bahama Islands.

Zeller said he notified the government that the sunken hulk bore the number U166.

Another federal official said military records indicate that a U-boat of that number, reportedly a model 1XC, was sunk off New Orleans in 1942.

"It's apparently the same submarine," the official said. "The only explanation we have is that it, like the legendary Flying Dutchman, just drifted aimlessly with the ocean currents."

The Flying Dutchman, a traditional sea story, involves a captain doomed to sail a ghost ship eternally.

Zeller said the EPA concern stems from the fact that the model 1XC submarine, built in the late 1930s, reportedly carried some 200 tons of mercury as ballast.

The Food and Drug Administration has recognized a mercury concentration of .5 parts per million as the danger level in fish and seafood. A federal spokesman said however, the government had "no way to estimate the effect if 200 tons of mercury were suddenly dumped into the Gulf of Mexico."

"All I can say is that it's damn dangerous stuff," an official said.

Another federal official offered an explanation for the secrecy about the sub.

"In the 1930s," he said, "mercury was dirt cheap because there was a glut on the market. Today, well, it's not quite like gold—but it's still nice stuff to have."

News On Appeal Due In June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Muhammad Ali, the former world heavyweight boxing champion, is expected to learn in June whether he will have to serve his five year sentence for refusing induction into the Armed Services.

The Supreme Court announced Thursday it will hear arguments April 19 on Ali's appeal that he was entitled to an exemption on religious grounds. The high court indicated it would rule on the case before the end of its current term sometime in June.

Ali, also known as Cassius Clay, was indicted on May 5, 1967 and convicted the following month. He was sentenced to five years and fined $10,000. He appealed, contending his Muslim religion barred him from fighting in any war that did not have Allah's blessing.

Joe Frazier was recognized by most as the heavyweight champion after Ali's conviction. He outpointed Ali in their recent 15-round title fight in New York to gain universal recognition as the champion.

Country Living Guide Compiled

LONDON (AP) — Do you have bats in your belfry? Or does your horse have warts? You can find out how to get rid of them in "A Guide to Country Living" published here. The book has been compiled by P. D. N. Earle, joint managing director and secretary of the Country Gentlemen's Association and is published by Hutchinsons.

Those bats in the belfry—try smoking them out.

Your horse's warts — Cut an apple in half and rub one half on the wart. Then tie the two pieces together again and hang the apple from a tree. When the apple is withered, the wart will disappear.

Whenever the combined assets do not leave the declarer much margin for error, he must exercise great care in the management of his resources. South, the declarer at three no trump in today's hand, displayed foresight as well as a deft touch to earn his triumph.

West had no very attractive lead of his own, so he decided to open the three of hearts despite the fact that he held only a singleton in his partner's suit. South made a very shrewd play at trick one from the dummy when he covered with the eight instead of putting up an honor. If the jack of hearts is played, East can eliminate any subsequent entry to dummy in this suit by refusing to cover with the king.

East played the nine of hearts and declarer won the trick with the queen in his hand. At trick two he made his next unusual play, the ten of clubs. When West played low, the ten was permitted to ride for a finesse. It held the trick and South followed up by cashing the queen of clubs. A heart was led to dummy's ten to drive out the king and establish the jack of hearts as an entry to run the dummy's good clubs. In all, declarer scored five club tricks, three hearts and two aces to make four no trump.

It should be observed that declarer's first round finesse against the jack of clubs was merely a safety play to assure the success of his contract. If the finesse loses to the jack in East's hand, South wins the return in his own hand if either a spade or a diamond is led. He next plays the queen of clubs and overtakes in dummy to run the rest of the suit. The heart finesse may now be taken to give the declarer three heart tricks which along with four clubs and two aces add up to the required nine.

If South makes the routine play of cashing the high club honors, he is obliged to concede a trick to West's jack to establish dummy's long card in clubs. West can shift to a spade and declarer must hold off the ace for two rounds to break the communications in that suit. A diamond shift by East at this point will establish the setting tricks for the defense before declarer has dislodged the king of hearts.

Former Critic In New Post

CHICAGO (AP) — One of Chicago's most severe theater critics now is a consultant on a theater staff.

Claudia Cassidy, former critic for a Chicago newspaper, will assist John Reich, producing director of Goodman Theater, in reading and evaluating more than 150 new plays that are submitted annually for possible production.

Plays selected for production will make up next season's program, Reich said.

Newark Teachers Strike May End

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — The often bitter, sometimes violent Newark teachers strike, the longest such walkout in a major American city, appeared heading to a settlement today.

A spokesman for the Newark Teachers Union—NTU—said the union was informed by the mayor's office that the Board of Education voted late Thursday night to accept the proposals of a state mediator made last week. The union has already accepted.

"We're quite hopeful to have the schools open on Monday," said the union spokesman, James Lerman, a member of the negotiating team and executive board.

During the nine-week strike about half of the system's 78,000 pupils and 4,200 teachers stayed away from classes, although the schools remained open.

The breakthrough occurred during a three-hour meeting between Mayor Kenneth Gibson and the Board of Education Thursday night.

The spokesman said the board reversed its previous rejection of three key demands: that teachers be relieved of nonprofessional chores, agreement to binding arbitration and a no-reprisal clause against striking teachers. Agreement on salaries was reached last month.

Economic Development Helps Only Few Blacks?

HOUSTON (AP) — Georgia state legislator Julian Bond says the same economic development used by white immigrants to improve their plights has benefited only a few blacks but has not helped the masses.

Speaking to about 1,000 persons at Texas Southern University Thursday, Bond said the coalitions of the 1960s have failed and the present trend indicates increasing repression of Negroes.

He appealed to blacks to form what he called "aggressive independent" political programs that are free of the two major parties.

He said blacks should fill the political voids left by whites fleeing the nation's cities.

He said political action is not a panacea. He said economic programs at every level are needed for the resource-drained cities.

"We have to begin to seize power where we are," he said. Bond outlined what he called "confusion existing" at the opening of a new decade in a historical perspective.

He said the problems have not gone unsolved because of a failure to identify them.

He said the particular problems that blacks face stem from their status as a "colonial people."

He noted that historians have said that blacks are nationalized Americans who are supported by the constitution, and racism in the country is based on historical preference.

He said while European immigrants came voluntarily, blacks came in chains and were "denied chances to learn and what passes as a stable family unit."

More Details Of Kerrville Aircraft Firm's Fund Woes

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Still more details of a Kerrville aircraft firm's financial troubles were aired Thursday in the ninth day of trial for the company's two former top executives.

Lee Higdon, a founder of a Kansas firm that merged with Mooney Corp., testified his company was not told of the severity of Mooney's problems at the time of the merger.

Another witness, Houston accountant George Powell, said accounting practices followed by Mooney Aircraft, Inc., tended to overstate the value of its inventory and showed it was making more money than it actually did.

On trial are Hal Rachal of Midland, former president of Mooney Corp., a holding company, and of Mooney Aircraft, and Ed Hunnicutt of Kerrville, former secretary-treasurer. They are charged with selling Mooney stock without registering it.

Mooney now is under new ownership.

Straws In The Wind

For those who think they are ready to give up — wait!

There is more hope than sometimes appears to be.

The U.S. Supreme Court upheld a New York state law last week that seems to do several important things.

It said, in effect, that the law can protect the American flag as a symbol not to be abused.

It said that displays called art can be removed when they are offensive to "an outraged citizen."

It said a display that is obscene can be removed.

The court seemed to say, also, that Justice William O. Douglas talks and writes too much for a judge.

A New York art dealer lost his appeal on a 4-4 vote (it takes a majority to overturn a lower court ruling) to strike down the state law against desecrating the flag. He was charged with using the flag in an exhibit that he said was a war protest and others said was obscene. The state argued that the display should be removed — and it was removed — because the state has a legitimate interest in protecting the flag and avoiding a possible riot that might result when an outraged citizen saw the display. The court declined to disagree.

Justice Douglas disqualified himself without saying why but aides agreed it was for one of several reasons cited, including that he had written and spoken on the issue in the past.

This decision is a reversal of a trend. There appears to be virtually no censorship of art or entertainment. That fact has raised a new debate among even the most liberal critics. The debate centers on pervasive pornography.

The next round in the debate will be whether regulation, versus repression, can be done without abusing personal rights. It can be, but it's going to be a tedious fight.

The Supreme Court shows the direction of the straws in the wind.

Time For Performance

A unanimous vote for Brig. Gen. James Cross, former pilot of Air Force One, the presidential jet, to head the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, is the first peaceful event in the department in a long time. We hope it heralds a season of useful work for the people of Texas, who've waited too long for a first class parks system.

The department has been fractured by personality clashes and some strange political doings. It's about to begin to take seriously its role as a public agency.

Gen. Cross has some administrative experience, aside from his command of the presidential airplane. He will bring to his office a degree of prestige by association. There are some patches no doubt needed on the departmental morale. The department's tough job — purchase of a part of Mustang Island for a state park — has been taken out of the commission's hands and put into the courts.

The state needs some years of very good park administration.

Cities' Problems

Marquis Childs

SAN FRANCISCO — Behind the splendid facade of this beautiful city are the same troubles that plague the drab and blighted urban areas of the Eastern seaboard. It is a simple matter: No money.

Mayors from around the country went to Washington last week to tell the sad tale — layoffs of police and firemen, cutbacks in garbage collection, street cleaning and other elemental services. This while crime and violence are on the increase.

THEY WERE lobbying for Congressional approval of President Nixon's revenue-sharing proposal. In effect, they are begging for Federal money to help balance their operating budgets. As one mayor after another testified, the pinch is so great that breakdown is at hand in many cities.

REVENUE SHARING at the Nixon level of $5 billion will be the proverbial drop in the bucket. Mayor John Lindsay said that it would mean only two per cent of the budget of New York City, facing a deficit this year of $300 million and $1 billion next year. In other cities with smaller budgets and a somewhat better situation it adds up to a larger percentage but not much larger. And it must always be remembered that the urgent and immediate plea is for operating costs to pay police, firemen and garbage collectors.

THE MAYORS were also pleading for longer-range help in expanded job training, education, public service employment. They spoke feelingly of an unemployment level in the core cities of anywhere from 12 or 14 per cent to 20 to 35 per cent. Begging for a Federal commitment to summer programs, they were anticipating with dread a long hot summer with so many jobless roaming the streets.

One of the conspicuous pleaders in Washington was San Francisco's Mayor Joseph L. Alioto.

ALIOTO TOLD Washington that the city needed jobs and money for the poor, and it didn't have money for either. Six policemen have been killed since he was elected in 1967. Revenue sharing is essential as a stopgap to fend off the worst. But it can never be more than a stopgap. The status of the cities as poor stepchildren of the states is one reason for their plight. Without a realistic overhaul of the crazy-quilt tax structure of city, county, state and nation, the mayors will be scrambling for a bail-out operation year after year.

THAT IS THE weakness of the President's revenue-sharing proposals — it is a brief expedient. Last year Rep. Henry Reuss, D., Wis., introduced a revenue-sharing bill calling for tax and other reforms in return for Federal money. The funds from Washington were to serve as a lever — the old carrot and stick principle — to help bring about fundamental changes. Those changes are imperative if the cities are to recover their health.

Suburban Housing

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's television chat with Howard K. Smith has the most-handed segment of the liberal bloc weeping over what its spokesmen call Nixon's determination to perpetuate racial discrimination in housing. As usual, these characters are writing laws to suit themselves.

THEY ARE pouncing on the President's reply to Smith's assertion that "the greatest block to integration in any form is segregated suburbs." That, suggested Smith, is against the law. Nixon's reply was that "the situation is caused by economic considerations rather than by racial decisions." And he came out against forced integrations as unconstitutional "and... certainly not required by law."

Well, the law is clear. It prohibits segregation of housing because of race. But while it implies that it is quite legal to build public housing for the poor, mostly black, in the nation's suburbs it nowhere says that we must undertake such projects in those areas.

THAT IS the meat of the issue, not the President's declaration that forced integration is unconstitutional, although he has a point in his implied defense of a people's right to live among neighbors of their choice.

As an incurable city dweller, I have never considered suburban living a big deal. But I defend the right of people to live in suburbs without being harassed by the fear that a Big Brother government will saddle their neighborhoods with public housing projects that inevitably will reduce property values.

For some perfectly respectable and unprejudiced citizens, the suburbs also offer a refuge to which they may flee to escape the city's criminal jungle.

TRUE, THIS refuge is available only to those who can afford it, while the black poor languish in their ghettos, but I do not endorse penalizing the individual who by dint of hard work and meticulous saving finally is able to live in surroundings he considers safer and more attractive for his family.

Forced housing integration is unappetizing — besides being unlawful — because it is the creature of those bleeders who follow the doctrine of reducing us all to the lowest common denominator, instead of the highest. They are saying, in effect, that the American people will not enjoy full equality until everybody is condemned to the wretchedness of what might be called the neo-slum.

THERE IS also the fact that, despite the croonings of the wetpans set, most people prefer to stay where they are, even if where they are is now a ghetto. To the cry that ghetto children are subjected to inferior education, the simple answer is to see to it that the quality of education in the ghettos be improved, instead of busing kids all over the map.

Finally, we might all ponder what the reaction would be if taxpayers' money were used to foist a gaggle of white reactionary families on a neighborhood commune of the racial-separatist Black Panthers.

Share Festivities

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark. (AP) — Residents of this Ozark Mountains community are proud of their hill tradition and want to share it with others.

Not only do they show their handicrafts at a yearly fair, but each Friday night residents converge on the county courthouse where a makeshift stage, complete with lighting is in place on the lawn year around. For three hours they pick, sing, and square dance for the pleasure of anyone who assembles.

During foul weather the festivities move to the second-floor courtroom.

Fed Up With Technology

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — "We're keeping all technology companies out of our portfolios," said the young stock broker, claiming that in so doing he was merely recognizing a developing trend.

"This country is fed up with technology," he said. "Look where it got us." He said, and he rattled off a long list of problems familiar now to almost everyone: pollution and malfunctioning machines and an obsession with material acquisitions.

"The reaction has set in," he said.

As he saw it, the rejection of further federal funds for development of the supersonic transport plane supplied conclusive evidence of the direction the nation was taking.

"Away from technology," he said.

He added more evidence:

thousands of engineers and technicians without jobs, a drop off in demand for Ph.D.'s, slumping sales at once glamour science firms on Boston's Route 128 and in Palo Alto, Calif., a restatement of "progress" by the nation's intellectuals to emphasize human values.

"Can you deny it?" he asked. Brokers aren't the only ones talking that way today, but they are among the foremost with the antitechnology argument. One explanation is that many of the high technology stocks that rose like rockets died like them too.

But, as is sometimes the case, brokers can be wrong. Evidence also suggests that while technology might have gotten us into a mess technology also will have to get us out.

The problem really isn't the failure of technology, it ap-

The federal government plans an intensive four-week training course for guards designed to prevent further bombings and vandalism of its buildings — News item.

Would all you subversives please hold off on any more bombings for four weeks?

THE THOUGHT for the day is from my sensational uncle, Sonny Finley of Phoenix, who left this on the desk of a woman employee who now lives in Big Spring:

Be thankful for the troubles of your job. They provide about half of your income, for if it weren't for the things that go wrong, the difficult people you have to deal with and the problems and unpleasantness of your working-day, someone could be found to handle your job for about half of what you are being paid.

OKIE ELI GUINN reveals the Oklahoma Daily, the OU student newspaper, reported:

"Theft of an alto saxhorn has forced postponement of a recital..."

That takes care of the motive. Now who did it?

IF THE PROMOTION of the Frazier-Ali fight had gone on one more week, I wouldn't have been able to stand it, especially since the promotion was so visible and the fight wasn't.

One Big Springer passed up a chance to see the fight on closed circuit television in Odessa at 9:30 p.m. because:

"I'd have to miss my nightly fight with my wife, which starts at approximately 9:45 p.m."

COMEDIAN BOB NEWHART and his wife are parents for the third time — a girl. The Associated Press story on the event went to say:

"The Newharts have two sons, 7 and 4."

I know their father is a comedian, but what strange names to give his sons!

JAY SANDERS, one of the many back shop big-wigs, says back in the good old days on the Texas High Plains he was riding with the ranch foreman one day looking for some cow critters. He continues:

"We were approaching a canyon and riding alongside a bob wire fence when the foreman's horse was startled by a rattler."

"The horse bucked the foreman off and he landed astraddle the bob wire fence and slid down it about a quarter of a mile to the bottom of the canyon."

"When I reached there, the foreman had been sliced plumb to his trachea. I asked him what he was going to do, and he replied:

"I'll just lengthen the stirrups."

Wage Costs

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has at last come to grips with one of the main causes of the present inflation — the rise in wage costs beyond the capacity of an industry to absorb without putting prices up sharply.

The President has taken hold of the situation in the building trades and has established, with the assent of union leaders, joint labor-management boards for each craft as well as an industry stabilization committee to try to hold down wage increases. Mr. Nixon was reluctant to do this, as he wanted to avoid any form of wage and price control, but he found himself compelled to impose what is called a "system of constraints" in the construction industry.

LABOR LEADERS have gone along for the reason that the President was able to exert pressure by suspending the operations of the Davis-Bacon Act, a federal statute regulating the wages to be paid on government work. Suspension of the law meant that contractors would no longer have to pay union scales on federally-aided projects — nearly a third of all the building done in the United States — thus depriving the unions of a virtual monopoly in this field.

THE BIG question really is why has not some such plan as this been applied to other industries? Why is the President hesitant about using the same solution in other categories? It is recognized, of course, that the rise in wage costs above productivity increases has been a fundamental factor in driving prices higher and in diminishing the domestic market in many fields. Foreign producers have been able to sell more and more goods in this country as prices for American products have risen.

THE WAGE-PRICE problem has been more discussed than any other issue in connection with the decline in American business. The general feeling has been that, until something drastic is done on this subject, there will not be a stable economy.

The emphasis in public debate thus far has been on curbing inflation, but unfortunately there are other phases of a recession which can cause more anxiety. Joblessness has been high, and the belief is that unemployment will remain far above normal. For business is not spending much more for expansion. No improvement in the economy can be expected if such a stagnant situation continues, and there is evidence that 1971 will not show as sharp a recovery as desired.

CONGRESS, to be sure, is talking about some tax cuts, perhaps including an investment credit which would provide a stimulus to expansion. Most businessmen ask themselves: Why spend money when any project costs as much as it does today? Production expenses have gotten to such a point that many a business is finding it hard to go on without raising prices higher and higher, even as the market shrinks.

THERE IS reason to believe that some of the men who have been advising the administration — perhaps thinking of political risks — have not realized the seriousness of the wage-price crisis in America. What is being done in the construction industry to encourage housing is an excellent example of the relief that can be applied, but there are other industries which need similar action if the recession is to be terminated and economic recovery is to be really started.

Vending Machines Increase Demand

DUSSELDORF, Germany (AP) — Copper and silver coins circulating in West Germany account for an average $13.22 change for every one of 63 million Germans, the Central Bank reports.

The federal bank plans to order 1.5 billion new coins for 1972 to meet increased demands brought on by vending machines and coin collectors.

Cauliflower Conclusions

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

One of the ways to rebuild your ego when your life is crumbling around you is to carry a hard-boiled egg in your pocket. When you feel real low, you just reach into your pocket and touch it. There is something about the feel of an egg that gives you a sense of safety.

Also, of course, there is the practical fact that you can't starve on a day you have an egg. But you must be sure that it is hard-boiled. Otherwise both the egg and your ego may be accidentally smashed.

There is always a curious sense of disappointment in meeting someone whose penmanship is striking but whose character, you later find, isn't. It is rather like opening a box tied with a beautiful ribbon and finding nothing in it.

The best way to tell the morale of a company is to find out how the other employees feel about the telephone operators. If they don't brag about their telephone operators and claim they are the best in the world, the firm is hardly worth working for.

Everyone has a secret ambition which he hesitates to reveal to others because they would think it ridiculous. Mine is to hear a soprano opera sargle. I know this doesn't make much sense, but if anyone who reads this has actually heard a live operatic soprano sargle, I would appreciate a note from him — brief and to the point — telling me about it and whether it had had much impact on his life.

Our prejudices, too, are about as quaint as are our secret ambitions. For example, I have never had any interest in pursuing the further acquaintance of any man I've seen asking for a second helping of cauliflower. I figure he's too bland for my taste. Offhand, one might think this senseless prejudice may have cost me many rewarding friendships, but I doubt it. You know, you can go for years without seeing anybody ask for more cauliflower.

A realist is a man who refuses to carry a rabbit's foot for good luck, because he realizes that if the foot was really lucky the rabbit would still be wearing it.

People generally try to give the genteel impression that they take a bath every day. Nine out of 10 probably don't — nor do they need to. The world isn't as dirty as it used to be. Except mentally.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I become very discouraged when I see so many nasty people having such a good time and so much money while I struggle to support my family. Why is this?

H.B.

The Bible has answered your question long ago. Read the thirty-seventh Psalm and remember this is God's viewpoint, not man's. Also, in the ninety-second Psalm we find these words: "When the wicked spring as the grass, and when all the workers of iniquity do flourish; it is that they shall be destroyed forever." People living in sin, whether rich or poor, are to be pitied. Many people spend money to find true happiness but never find it because they look for it in diversions and in material things. True happiness comes in but one way — by surrendering our hearts to Christ and letting Him take over in our lives. When God's Holy Spirit opens our eyes and hearts and minds, we see that the things the world offers can never satisfy.

The Apostle Paul gives us the Christian's perspective in these words: "While we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal (temporary); but the things which are not seen are eternal." If you are disturbed by the apparent injustices of life, turn your heart over to Christ and He will let you see and receive the things which last forever. And, do not be jealous of the prospering sinner, be sorry for him and pray for him. He needs God, too.

A Devotion For Today...

In the name of our Lord Jesus Christ give thanks every day for everything to our God and Father. (Ephesians 5:20, NEB)

PRAYER: Forgive me, Lord, for not being thankful. Thank You for making me aware of it. Amen

Here Are Helpful Tips On Planting New Lawn

A new lawn can be planted with greatest confidence if the seedbed has been cultivated, mixing in plenty of fertilizer (and lime, too, if a soil test shows acidity). It is possible to scorch old vegetation chemically, scratch the surface (as with a powered thinning machine) and then seed. But seed stands the best chance of settling to a good site for sprouting and rooting among loose soil chunks.

Soil cultivation may be by a rotary tiller (almost no one seems to spade sizable areas anymore) or a tractor with cultivating and leveling implements can be rented.

Don't rework the soil more than necessary to get it level, for repeated tillage pulverizes soil, aggregates and destroys structure. A dusty soilbed "melts" upon first watering to seal off the rootzone from air and causes future water to run off rather than soak into the lawn.

Use a lawn spreader to sow seed uniformly, about 3 pounds of a Kentucky bluegrass-fine fescue blend is all that is needed for a thousand square feet — or only half this much of tiny-seeded varieties such as Highland and other colonial bentgrasses.

Even if you are in moist "bentgrass country," a little bluegrass and fine fescue is suggested along with the bentgrass; but mow low and water and fertilize to favor the bent.

The new perennial ryegrasses are not only attractive, but sprout quickly; they are good in seed blends for slopes that must be grassed-over in a hurry.

If possible, mulch the new seeding. Any loose material that conserves moisture and protects the soil will suffice. Clean straw is an old favorite, though seldom obtainable by city folk.

Garden centers usually carry woven nettings or mulch mats (such as of excelsior); or you can even use plastic if you are willing to lift it any time temperature approaches 100 degrees (as it will on a sunny day).

Around home you might find dried lawn clippings or the power company can perhaps provide chipped twigs. Stringy sphagnum peatmoss can be used, also.

If the soilbed is kept moist by light sprinklings and weather is warm, the seeding should sport a fuzz of green in two or three weeks.

Natural mulches need not be removed, but, of course, a plastic covering is another matter.

Roots of new grass grow about as much as the tops, so when the grass is an inch or two tall watering can become less frequent.

As soon as the grass leaves turn a bit floppy, 2 to 3 inches tall, it is time for mowing. From then on mow each time the lawn exceeds its customary height (usually about 3/4-inch for bentgrass, 1 1/2-inches for bluegrasses and fescues) by 50 per cent.

After a few mowings, the lawn will be well enough established to endure weed treatments, if needed, including spring crabgrass preventers such as Azak, Betasan, Dacthal, Tupersan and so on.

ACCENT ON GREEN — This man inspecting the young tree in his backyard is being joined by millions of other Americans. The well-kept turf in this yard adds valuable accent to the intimate garden nooks decorated with flowers, rock work and small ponds.

Many Hardy Varieties Of Lawn Seed Now Available

Today's lawnseed is a far cry from what could be had even a short decade ago.

There are excellent new cultivars ("varieties" or "cultivated varieties") of the same grasses which were the "greats" of yesteryear and from some new species as well. Selections in light or dark shades of green, with a range of textures from medium to very fine, mowing tall or low, sprouting quickly and withstanding the familiar grass diseases are now becoming widely available.

A user can buy seed well-suited to shady parts of his lawn, to poor and dry soils, to slopes and embankments that must be covered quickly or for luxuriant sods kept much like a golf green. Nor does one have to be well versed about lawn-grasses because seed firms expert in this sort of thing blend the best cultivars in proper proportions for planting in the climatic zone where they are sold.

To cite all of the available cultivars would make a nearly endless list. Just a few examples serve to illustrate the point.

Among Kentucky bluegrasses, Fyking, Pennstar and Sodco have joined Merion for the posh lawns that are regularly fertilized and often mowed somewhat shorter than traditionally. But selections of the traditional bluegrasses are still much used, too, including Arboretum, Kenblue and Park. The latter are best mowed fairly tall and not fertilized very much in hot weather.

Fine fescue favorites of recent years, e.g. Chewings, Illahee, Pennlawn, are joined by newer introductions such as Highlight, Ruby and Wintergreen.

Fescues are first-rate shade grasses, surviving the drought and infertility such as is common-place under trees. They are rather rapid sprouting, too.

Exceptionally quick ground coverage can be had from the new fine-leaved perennial ryegrasses, e.g. Lamorra, Manhattan, NK-100, Norlea and Pelo. Unlike annual ryegrass, these perennial beauties persist for years in most climates. A small percentage in a seeding mixture makes a very rapid cover, especially helpful where soil wash is feared.

In the upper South, seeded bermudagrass makes a top-notch turf when well tended and in the deep South several kinds of bahiagrass are becoming available for economical seeding of easy-to-care-for lawns.

These are but a few of the developments. What it all boils down to is that this is "a new ballgame" so far as turfgrasses are concerned.

Fine, new selections can be had for any taste, climate or economic station. You can find cultivars of distinctive shade, texture and performance to match your landscaping instincts.

'Hybrids' Can Be Successful

More and more in seed catalogs and seed stores, gardeners are seeing new vegetables and flowers described as F-1 hybrids.

The word "hybrid" comes from the Latin hybrida, meaning "offspring of a tame sow and a wild boar." But a much more useful animal hybrid is the mule — the off-spring of a jackass and a mare. Combining strength and vigor, the mule has been invaluable to mankind both on the farm and in pioneering.

In the plant world, hybrids are crosses between selected parents of different varieties. The resulting progeny often is discarded by the plant breeder. But once in a while the result is a new super hybrid that combines strength and vigor just like the mule animal.

Life for a hybridizer requires infinite patience. Often hundreds of hand crosses must be made before anything of great value results. After choosing two parents to mate, pollen from the male parents has to be transferred by hand to the female parent which is immediately isolated to keep bees and other insects from ruining the controlled cross.

The high cost of hand pollination — as opposed to haphazard pollination by bees — explains the higher cost of hybrid seed. But the better results achieved by increased vigor, increased yields, disease resistance and uniformity more than justify the extra cost.

When you consider the time and labor that goes into obtaining a good crop of vegetables or flowers, the cost of seed is still by far the smallest expense.

You Can Find Good Spot To Plant Herb Garden

Where you've a spot in the sun and where the soil is well drained but otherwise nothing to brag about, that's the place to grow herbs.

Herbs are pretty and practical, too.

If grown in rich soil, herbs make ample leaf growth, but the plant parts are not as fragrant or as flavorful. So beautify the poor soil areas with plants that thrive in them.

Herbs have been grown for centuries, usually in beds or groups by themselves to facilitate harvesting. Often herbs were planted in geometric patterns. A variation of that idea often used today is to scatter seeds or set plants between the spokes of a wagon wheel laid on the ground.

Herbs may be roughly divided into "seed" and "leaf," from the parts of the plants that are harvested for use. Seeds of many of the leaf herbs are tiny and best started indoors, the seedlings transplanted once, still indoors, then set in the garden when large enough.

Leaf herbs that are well known are mint, rosemary, lavender, sage, winter and summer savory and thyme.

Seed herbs have generally larger seeds than most leaf herbs, so it is satisfactory to sow them directly in the garden in early spring. Seeds do not sprout quickly, so perhaps you'd like to sow a few radish seeds in each row to mark its location.

Seeds herbs include dill and caraway, angelica and coriander.

Once you have an herb garden growing, you'll find it requires minimum care. Water is needed only when there's a drought and fertilizer not at all.

Witnesses Resume Meetings Sunday

C. L. Lunsford, presiding minister of the local Jehovah's Witnesses, announced that regular meetings will resume this week at the Kingdom Hall at 500 East Donley. A special address is scheduled this Sunday in all congregations entitled, "Restoration of All Things of Which God Spoke."

Jehovah's Witnesses, residents of Big Spring, are back in town after their weekend convention in Midland. Lunsford reported that at the opening session Friday there were some 969 persons in attendance. E. R. Brandt, representing the Bible and Tract Society which sponsored the event, served as instructor for a model ministry school similar to the one held each week locally and in each of the over 26,524 congregations of the over 26,524 congregations worldwide.

Birdwell Church To Host Meeting

More than 70 outstanding independent Baptist preachers and missionaries from eight states and six foreign countries have been invited to participate in the 8th Annual Fellowship Meeting-Bible Conference at Birdwell Lane Baptist Church, 16th and Birdwell Lane.

The public is cordially invited to attend every session of this conference, which will be held April 6-8. The first session will begin at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. All-day services are planned for Wednesday and Thursday, beginning at 9:30 a.m. both days. Besides the fine Bible preaching, there will be gospel singing presented by the Birdwell Lane choir and several special groups.

This meeting originated as a means of helping the Birdwell Lane congregation dedicate their new sanctuary in April of 1964. Since then, it has become an annual event during the first full week of April.

Although most of the visiting preachers usually come from Texas, some from Arkansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Illinois and Ohio are expected. There will also be missionaries from Mexico, Pakistan, Congo and Canada, along with representatives of the Independent Baptist College in Dallas and the Independent Baptist Home for Dependent, Neglected Children, Houston.

The church nursery will be open for every service. The Rev. Bob Lee, pastor, will serve as moderator, and music will be under the direction of Charles Grizzard.

Supervisors To Visit Big Spring Witnesses

C. L. Lunsford, local presiding minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced the visit of two traveling representatives of the Watchtower Society this week in Big Spring. E. R. Brandt, a district supervisor of the southern and midwestern United States, and R. A. McCarroll, the circuit supervisor of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico.

This special provision of the Watchtower to extend aid to local ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses in their ministry, and these men will be conducting calls on local residents this week along with local ministers to encourage more Bible study in the community.

The high point of Brandt's and McCarroll's visit will be Sunday morning at the local Kingdom Hall, when McCarroll will deliver the public Bible lecture entitled "Restoration of all things of which God spoke". Local residents are urged to attend. All meetings are free. No collection will be taken.

Old Priests Still Serve In Parishes

LONDON (AP) — The state Church has 51 clergymen aged between 80 and 82 still serving as parish priests, according to the Church of England Year Book for 1970. The average age of its 1,071 parish priests is 53, but only 27 of those listed are under 30. There is a deficit of 2,949 clergy to meet present manpower requirements in the diocese.

19:28-38

On a lonely hill a man died slowly, nailed to a cross.

His crime—goodness.

He walked the hills of Judea and the shores of Galilee, healing and comforting, loving everyone He met. Confidently, simply, He spoke of the Kingdom of Heaven, and crowds hurried to hear His vital words.

To some, His clear, sure talk of the Kingdom and the Way and of Himself the Son of God seemed a threat. And so He suffered on a cross, while a faithful few huddled in its shade and wept at the sacrifice.

Today, the shadow of that cross circles the globe, as people gather in churches around the world to remember that first Good Friday and give thanks for Jesus, the gift of a loving Father. His life and death and resurrection point the way for every man to find joy in the reality of God's love.

Ready To Split

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband just told me he doesn't love me anymore and wants to split up. I'm not sure why all this came up, but I still love him and don't want to split up. We have no children. He's a graduate student, and I helped put him through school.

He claims there is nobody else. He just wants a divorce. He also says that if we split up he wants to know where I am so he can come over and get his beard trimmed.

What should I do? Hang on to a guy who doesn't want me? Or tell him off and let him go?

TRoubled in COLORADO

DEAR TROUBLED: For the moment, don't do anything. A man who demands a divorce but wants his "ex" within shouting distance in case he wants his beard trimmed doesn't sound very mature to me. I'll say this for him, though. He sure trusts you!

DEAR ABBY: My sister took up karate lessons on my mother's request for her own protection. My problem is that every time one of my friends comes over, my sister practices some of her karate on them, and they go home black and blue.

If I try to tell my sister to leave my friend alone she bounces me around the room and tells me to shut up as she is a year older than me. Can you help me?

LOSING FRIENDS wedding and saw my hairy legs. DEAR LOSING: Tell her she may have a "brown belt" or nothing. Of course, I said a "black one", but if she continues to karate your friends or home, and have kept them yourself, you'll belt her! And then do it, Chop Chop!

LETTER FROM TEXAS

DEAR ABBY: "SAD DAD" who wished he could get his 18-year-old daughter to shave her legs should send her to visit my family in Cuernavaca, near Mexico City. She would be in high style with her hairy legs.

My family is an old Mexican family of pure, unmixed Spanish blood. All the women are proud of their hairy legs, and would no more think of shaving their legs than shaving their heads.

At 17, I joined my brother at the University of Texas. When he noticed the hair on my legs (it looked like fur), he said "Not here, sister, Shave it off, and keep it off!" I did.

When I returned to Cuernavaca, my mother and grandmother were scandalized at my hairless legs. They made me wear heavy woolen stockings until my legs were "furry" and presentable again.

When my fiancé came to Cuernavaca just before our

BOWLING BALL BANGS AUTO

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Mark Inserra's car was struck by a runaway bowling ball.

A witness said he saw what even Inserra couldn't figure out — a 16-pound bowling ball came rattling down a hill and smashed into the side of the car, causing more than $100 damage.

Nobody claimed the bowling ball.

Double Hernia

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a double reducible hernia — one on each side. Exactly what is meant when folks say you have to beware of "strangulation" of such a rupture?

Would you recommend an operation for a man of 51 who has to shovel coal? Would you operate on both sides at the same time? — G.S.W.

The hernia (or rupture) means, in this case, a weak place in the abdominal wall. (Hernias can occur in other parts of the body, but this is by far the most common place.)

The interior organs of the abdomen (meaning a portion of the bowel) can push through the gap or rupture. That causes the bulge of a hernia. But if a loop of bowel can be pushed back again, that is what is meant by "reducible."

But suppose a loop of bowel is pushed through the gap, then swells, and cannot be pushed back where it belongs? The result, very soon, is that blood circulation to that loop is cut off, and then gangrene sets in. Naturally this is a dangerous emergency and surgery is mandatory at the earliest possible moment. That situation is what is known as "strangulation."

Not all hernias become strangulated, of course; but one never can predict in advance when one will. A hernia does not get better by itself. It can only become larger.

As a general decision, a man of 51 with a hernia should have it repaired. As to doing both sides at once, this is a decision for the surgeon to make, but very often it can be done. Even if it should add a day or two extra time in the hospital, it might be worth it unless there are special considerations making it preferable to do one side at a time.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have found out I have low blood sugar, and been put on a diet of no sugar.

Someone I know who also has it has to eat sugar. Which is right?

I blacked out a few weeks ago. Would this cause it? — Mrs. C.V.

The person with episodes of low blood sugar doesn't need more sugar. He needs a better regulated sugar level, without a lot of sharp ups and downs.

Eating sugar when the blood sugar level is low will, temporarily, raise the level. Unfortunately, it is followed by a dip to a low level — and the trouble repeats itself.

When you avoid sugar in your diet, you substitute foods that are converted slowly into sugar and thus avoid the ups and downs.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

HOPPING MAD BUNNY - Jo Matthews was fired in 1969 by the Detroit Playboy Club because "you no longer fit the Bunny image." Jo claims that she was "fired for union activity - it's as simple as that." She and her union, Local 705, Hotel and Restaurant Employees Union, plan to take her case to the Supreme Court, even though the U.S. District Court in Cincinnati held that Jo had failed to exhaust all remedies. Jo, 37-24-36, said her husband has endorsed her fight, but he wishes it were over.

Sharp North Winds Still Raking Coastal Sections

By The Associated Press

It was generally cool and dry over Texas today in the wake of a chilly front which swept across the state Thursday and by this morning was 100 miles south of Brownsville.

Winds abated, dust settled from the air and skies cleared. Sharp north winds still raked coastal areas, however. The only clouds were at the tip of the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

THE LEANER — Speaker of the House Carl Albert, D-Okl., appears to be resting on the shoulder of Rep. J. J. Pickle, D-Tex., during a Capitol Hill news conference Thursday.

Drive To Up Minimum Pay

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats opened a drive Thursday to raise the current minimum wage of $1.60 an hour to $2 by Jan. 1, 1973, and extend coverage to all public employees.

A bill introduced Thursday providing the new rates and coverage should be before the House next month, said Rep. John H. Dent, D-Pa., chief sponsor of the legislation.

Speaker Carl Albert, who appeared at a news conference with Dent, said he expected broad support for the bill, which would provide the first increase in the minimum wage for nonagricultural workers who are now covered to $1.80 on Jan. 1, 1972, and to $2 on Jan. 1, 1973.

Agriculture employees, who now get $1.50 an hour, would go to $1.60 next Jan. 1, to $1.80 a year later and to $2 on Jan. 1, 1974.

The estimated five to seven million public employees who would be newly covered by the bill would start at $1.80 next Jan. 1 and to go $2 a year later.

Collision Course For Public Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats are on a collision course with the Nixon administration over a move to pump $2 billion into the nation's economy through an accelerated public works program.

The issue should come to a head in the House soon after Congress returns April 19 from its Easter recess.

House Democrats strongly back the idea of a big accelerated public works program, patterned after a similar one set up in 1962.

OPPOSED TO IDEA President Nixon is opposed to the idea, preferring to rely on his revenue-sharing program to improve economic growth.

Legislation to set up the program recently was approved by the 37-member House Public Works Committee with the support of half of the 14 Republican members. The other Republicans opposed it.

Speaker Carl Albert and Democratic Leader Hale Boggs had earlier endorsed the proposal—putting the party leadership squarely behind it.

The bill would authorize $2 billion in federal appropriations for immediate use on public works projects to relieve unemployment in distressed areas.

Funds would be funneled to redevelopment areas and economic development centers as set up under the 1965 Economic Development act and also to areas where the unemployment rate is 6 per cent or more.

Big Spring Youth In Special Meet

A Big Spring youth has been selected from more than half a million college students in five Southwestern states to participate in a unique leadership experience. The event is the Southwestern Life Youth Leadership Institute, being held this weekend in Dallas.

When the institute convened today, one of the 100 participants was Phillip Larry Tolson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cawthron who reside at 2909 US 80 West in Big Spring. He is a sophomore at Lamar State College in Beaumont, and was chosen by school officials because of his demonstrated leadership potential and scholastic standing.

A government major, Tolson is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary. He also has served as a representative to the Student Government Association.

This is the second year for Southwestern Life Insurance Company to host the Youth Leadership Institute. Last year's initial seminar received numerous awards from public relations and insurance associations, and was selected by the editors of Public Relations News as one of the nation's 10 outstanding projects of 1970.

The training is again taking place at Southwestern Life's home office in Dallas.

Southwestern Life is providing scholarships that cover all expenses except transportation to and from Dallas.

Purpose of the institute is to project promising young campus leaders into responsible career leadership roles.

according to company president William H. Seay.

The institute exposes participants to the latest and best in leadership techniques. In small groups, participants delve into human behavior and attempt to discover what makes a leader lead and others follow. Experiences in industrial management as well as behavioral psychology provide a basis for the training.

Court Dodges Sodomy Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court set aside a ruling that the Texas sodomy law is unconstitutional in an 8-1 action, the dispute over the law was referred to a federal court in Dallas.

Justice William O. Douglas dissented on the ground the high court should rule in the case.

Texas makes "unnatural sex acts" a crime, as do all the states except Illinois. In a ruling in January, 1970, a three-judge federal court in Dallas unanimously found the law a violation of privacy rights.

The Supreme Court set aside the ruling citing a decision last month that limited the authority of three-judge federal courts to rule on state criminal cases that are still incomplete.

The Texas law was challenged originally by Alvin Leon Buchanan, a homosexual, who was arrested twice in 1969 in a public rest room in Dallas, was convicted, and sentenced to five years in prison.

Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin appealed to the Supreme Court from the district court ruling. Buchanan and a second homosexual, Travis Lee Strickland, filed a separate appeal in a bid to protect private homosexual conduct from state action.
