

BEFORE ANY SENTENCE TAKES EFFECT

Nixon Will Make Final Decision In Calley Case

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon announced Saturday he will personally review and make the military's final decision in the case of Lt. William L. Calley Jr. sentenced to life imprisonment for the premeditated murder of civilians at My Lai.

The Western White House said Nixon acted in the wake of widespread questions about the fate of the young officer, whose case has drawn worldwide attention.

MILITARY JUSTICE

A spokesman said the President would make his review after the case went through regular legal appeal channels provided in the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

Before any sentence can be put into operation for Calley, Nixon will review the case personally and decide it, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler announced.

Nixon's special assistant and former counsel, John Ehrlichman who was with Ziegler at the announcement, explained that Nixon was involving his inherent powers as commander in chief. He said the President wanted to add another ingredient—more than "stark legal issues"—after it goes through the legal process of appeals provided under the code of military justice.

CITES LINCOLN

Asked what his extra nonlegal review would bring to bear on the case, Ehrlichman said: "That's sort of in the heart of a man."

The presidential assistant said this was not an unusual procedure and pointed to the precedent of several Civil War cases in which President Abraham Lincoln concerned himself.

He cited the famous one in which Lincoln remitted the sentence of a Union soldier accused of falling asleep on sentry duty. He also pointed to a case in which Lincoln stepped in but upheld a sentence handed down on a soldier.

Avoiding any comment on the merits of the case or hinting in any way as to what penalty Nixon thinks or thinks should not be imposed on Calley, Ehrlichman explained the President's action this way:

GRABS ATTENTION

"The President felt, in this case having captured the interest of the American people as it has, that it was important for him to make clear at this stage that it would include more than the legal process the military code of justice provides."

Ehrlichman said that the Calley case has held the attention of the President in the last few days of his 10-day stay at the Western White House. An attorney himself, Nixon consulted with members of his Cabinet who happen to be lawyers, including Ehrlichman, Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson, a former attorney general in Massachusetts; Treasury Secretary John N. Connally and presidential counselor Robert H. Finch who were in California. He also has been in close touch with Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and Atty. Gen.

John N. Mitchell in Washington.

Less than a day after the military at Ft. Benning, Ga., sentenced Calley on Wednesday to life imprisonment the President had ordered that Calley be removed from the stockade and confined to his quarters throughout the review of his case.

Ehrlichman said the President didn't feel that under the circumstances "it was proper, correct, or desirable for the lieutenant to be in the stockade pending this long review procedure."

He had asked his aides

Thursday to check on this legal prerogative and when advised he could take his step, he did, Ehrlichman said.

WHITE HOUSE DELUGED

The White House has been deluged with thousands of messages it said were running 100 to 1 in favor of clemency for Calley.

There had been enough sincere questions raised over Calley's fate to deserve an answer, he said. The appeals for clemency, Ehrlichman said, were "all the way across the spectrum—even from people known to be critical of the war effort."

Bold Gold BSBS Wins Presidency

Big Spring High School successfully won the bid presented Saturday morning by the Student Council for the presidency of the Texas Association of Students in Austin.

BSBS students have been in Austin since Wednesday campaigning for the office. Other candidates for the office included Amarillo High School, Lee High School in Baytown, Victoria High School and Ray High School in Corpus Christi. In the association schools are elected to office rather than individuals.

Representing Big Spring High School at the convention are Cheri Turner, Denise Bryant, Kae McLaughlin, Belinda Gonzales, Patty Womack, Sammy Chappell, Bobby Carile, Jeff Talmadge, and Scott McLaughlin. Sponsors on the trip are John Talmadge and Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin.

Once more, local institutions have benefited from a distribution of the Dora Roberts Foundation. Two building projects likely will result from it — additions to the YMCA and the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. The Boys Club will get a wealth of needed equipment, the West Side Center will be able to utilize a frame hospital building from the air base, and the Salvation Army and HCJC Student Loan fund will be helped. The gifts amounted to $133,200, and every dollar will produce multiplied good.

A high honor came to Big Spring High School when it was chosen Saturday to have the presidency of the state student council organization for the 1971-72 school year. (Election is by schools, not individuals.)

Tuesday brings up the city council election with two places to be filled. Interest appears to be picking up sharply, and perhaps we will have a better turnout at the polls than usual. If everyone of you does his or her duty by voting, we will have over 10,000 turn-out.

Convict Who Revealed Mob Secrets Dies

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Valachi, who broke a blood oath to disclose the inner workings of the crime organization he identified as the Cosa Nostra, died Saturday of a heart attack at the La Tuna Federal Correctional Institution, the prison announced. He was 66.

Valachi, the mobster-turned-informer who bared the secrets of the Cosa Nostra in 1963 in televised hearings before a Senate rackets subcommittee, was serving a life sentence for murder.

It was Valachi who brought the term Cosa Nostra into popular usage. During his testimony before the Senate subcommittee, he detailed the setup of the organization and its members, then testified that it was known to insiders not as the Mafia, but as the Cosa Nostra—"Our Thing."

The late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, then U.S. attorney general called Valachi's testimony the "biggest intelligence breakthrough yet in combatting organized crime and racketeering in the United States."

Valachi's testimony reportedly led the mob to put a $100,000 price on his head. He appeared before several secret grand jury hearings closely guarded.

Valachi, who had been a strong-arm man and thug for the syndicate for 33 years, was sent to Atlanta federal prison in 1959 on a narcotics conviction. In 1962 he killed a fellow prisoner whom he falsely suspected of being assigned by the Cosa Nostra leadership to assassinate him.

Jenkins, McLaughlin, Miller Win

JIM BILL LITTLE UNOPPOSED

Jim Bill Little, Jerry G. Jenkins, Ralph McLaughlin and Leon Miller will be new members of the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees as result of the election Saturday.

Little, unopposed for a one-year term (the unexpired portion of a term vacated when Grant Boardman moved from the city) tabulated 910 votes, including the absentee total.

Jenkins, McLaughlin and Miller were tops in a six-way race for three complete three-year terms. Their votes (including absentee) were:

Jenkins 754, McLaughlin 643, Miller 628. The latter had a close call in besting the next man on the ticket, Jimmy Ray Smith, whose vote was 619. Byron B. Smith Jr. got 242 and H. Boyce Hale 196.

Jenkins is a vice president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., McLaughlin is owner-operator of the Saunders Co., a wholesale plumbing and materials supply firm, and Miller is director of volunteer activities at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Little is a construction contractor.

The vote total was only 1,020, considered very low and "disappointing" to the election judge, Lawrence Robinson. It was far under the 1,756 record set a year ago.

Winners for the three-year terms will replace Joe Moss, Mrs. Roscoe Cowper and Jimmy Taylor, none of whom sought re-election. With Little, they constitute a majority of "new faces," to serve with holdovers Roy Watkins, Delnor Poss and A. K. Guthrie.

Moss has served as president and Mrs. Cowper as secretary of the board.

Incumbent J. D. Gilmore, unopposed candidate, received 143 of the 155 votes cast in the Howard County School Board trustee election to succeed himself as trustee of commissioner precinct 2. He received 138 votes in Saturday's election and five during the absentee voting period.

Saigon Forces Claiming Red Regiment Wrecked

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese spokesman claimed Saturday that Saigon forces wrecked a veteran North Vietnamese regiment in three days of fierce fighting at a fire base in the central highlands.

"We can say that the 28th North Vietnamese Regiment has been put out of action," said Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien in announcing that the North Vietnamese were repulsed bloodily in a new attack Friday at Fire Base No. 6 near the border of Laos.

IF TRUE

Hien asserted that 350 enemy were killed by South Vietnamese infantrymen at the base and 550 more died in air strikes and artillery fire in six hours of fighting that broke out at noon Friday. If true, that would be the most enemy slain in a single battle in recent months.

In three days, Hien claimed, the North Vietnamese had lost 1,180 killed out of the regiment's force of more than 2,000 men. The report was greeted with skepticism by some military quarters.

They said it was an example of efforts by the South Vietnamese to rebuild their fighting image after the Laos incursion, in which some units took severe casualties. Military sources said the North Vietnamese regiment, while normally more than 2,000 at full strength, probably numbered no more than 1,500 men.

FIERCE FIGHTING

There was little doubt however, that the fighting was severe around the base, six miles from the border and 275 miles north of Saigon. The South Vietnamese were driven from the base Wednesday, recaptured it Thursday before the North Vietnamese again attacked.

The South Vietnamese spokesman said 41 government troops were killed Friday and 57 wounded. He gave over-all casualties for the three days of fighting as 61 killed and 82 wounded. Reliable military sources said, however, that the South Vietnamese suffered more than 200 killed or wounded in the first two days alone.

In Laos, U.S. bombers continued their attacks on the Ho Chi Minh trail. Intelligence reports have said the North Vietnamese are redoubling their efforts to get men and supplies through to Cambodia and South Vietnam since the South Vietnamese incursion ended.

Top Israeli Officials Assail Peace Offer Despite Warning

By The Associated Press

Israel is expected to reject Egypt's new peace offer Sunday despite President Anwar Sadat's threat of renewed fighting along the Suez Canal by month's end, sources close to the Israeli Cabinet said.

The Israeli Cabinet is to meet and discuss the Egyptian president's proposal but the sources said Premier Golda Meir would probably reject it outright.

SADAT'S PITCH

They said Israel may counter later with the so-called Dayer plan for reopening the canal. This plan, attributed to Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, calls for a gradual thinning of Israeli and Egyptian forces on both sides of the Suez with Egyptian technicians permitted to cross onto the Israeli-held east side for canal-clearing operations.

Sadat, quoted as saying a solution must be reached in April, offered to accept a new ceasefire and to reopen the canal if Israeli troops would pull back from the waterway and from part of the Sinai Peninsula. Under his proposal, Egyptian troops would then cross the canal and take up the territory now held by the Israelis.

Israeli officials condemned Sadat's offer but Deputy Premier Yigal Allon, in an interview over the state radio, said Israel has agreed in principle to the canal's reopening.

ABSURD

Information Minister Israel Gallili, one of Mrs. Meir's closest associates, called Sadat's proposal "absurd" during a radio interview in Tel Aviv.

Apparently stung by initial response to his plan, Sadat was quoted by the semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram as saying that April "is the month which shall decide between a solution and war."

NEW DRESS

The report said Sadat wanted all parties involved, including the United States and the United Nations to "define within this month their position in practical and precise terms."

Israeli opposition continued to mount, however.

Tourism Minister Moshe Kol disclosed that Jerusalem already had rejected a proposal by U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Joseph Sisco calling for an Israeli troop withdrawal back 19-25 miles from the canal.

RADIO ROOM SHOOTOUT 'Promotion Happy' Cop Kills Police Veteran

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — An off-duty policeman walked into the communications center at the Central Police Station Saturday afternoon and started shooting, killing one policeman and wounding another, police reported.

The center, to which about 10 officers are assigned on each shift, is adjacent to Chief Lewis Coffey's office.

Little Sticky

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Things got a little sticky when a molasses tank truck overturned about 10 miles west of Garden City on U.S. 83.

Highway patrol troopers said they were thankful that most of the molasses ran into a ditch rather than onto the highway.

The driver, Max D. Cochran, 33, suffered only minor injuries. He said he lost control of the truck when a tire blew out.

Patrolman Thomas S. Haskin, 35, who had been on the police force 13 years, was pronounced dead at St. Vincent Charity Hospital of a gunshot wound in the head.

Sgt. Shelton B. Friedland, 46, a 20-year police veteran, reportedly was shot three times. He was in critical condition at the same hospital.

Police identified the assailant as Patrolman Thomas F. McLaughlin, 45, who has been on the police force for 19 years and recently was assigned to the radio room.

The motive of the shootings was not learned immediately, but one report was that McLaughlin was disturbed because he had been passed over recently for promotion to sergeant.

Police said McLaughlin surrendered to fellow policemen after running out of the communications room following the shooting.

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — As President Nixon readies a new troop withdrawal announcement, the administration is contending that the incursion into Laos, makes a major enemy military drive unlikely for about 18 months.

'GHOST WRITERS

By that reckoning, it would seem doubtful that North Vietnamese forces could push a big campaign to conclusion prior to America's 1972 presidential election.

At the same time, however, a knowledgeable administration source said continued withdrawals of U.S. troops means an American-supported military move on the scale of Laos would not be possible in 1972.

Nixon now has reached the point where he is putting in final form the television-radio address he will make next Wednesday to announce continued withdrawals. He is said to be doing the writing himself, making major alterations in staff-prepared drafts.

The Western White House turns aside all inquiries about what Nixon will say, insisting that whatever decisions he makes known will not be fixed until he completes his writing chore.

The President has said withdrawals after May 1 will continue at a rate at least equal to the 12,500-man monthly average of the past year. By May 1 the American force level in South Vietnam will stand at 284,000.

Nixon added to anticipation about his address by remarking in a March 22 television interview with his announcement, "I am sure, will give some indication as to the end of the tunnel."

SPECULATION

Sources declined to speculate on the scale of future withdrawals or the time span to be covered. They were silent when asked about published speculation from Washington that Nixon might withdraw all forces by a fixed date should Hanoi agree to release American prisoners of war.

One source said the recently concluded operations in Laos, while not achieving all their goals, have effectively nullified the threat of enemy offensives during the current dry period. He expressed the view that it would take about 18 months for the North Vietnamese to restore supply pipelines, overcome heavy combat casualties and mount a campaign in a major way.

This informant described Hanoi as extremely overextended in three countries and said the United States has evidence of war weariness and low morale in the North.

Because of Laos, he said, the North Vietnamese ability to operate militarily in the two northernmost corps areas of the South has been severely impaired and the possibility of a sustained offensive elsewhere has been virtually eliminated.

TO GIRL, PARENTS, PALS, NO JOB

Johnny Comes Marching Home

AUSTIN (AP) — When Johnny comes marching home these days it's still the girl he left behind, his proud parents and old friends.

But something new has been added. No job.

The organizations which work with veterans are growing accustomed to the problems of the unemployed ex-soldier. The Texas Employment Commission (TEC) has about 1,000 veterans in its files seeking jobs, twice what the number was last year, said Ed Washmon, manager of the Austin TEC office. The reason for the increase in the jobless are multiple.

NOT ADAPTABLE

"We get a lot of men that were combat infantrymen and there's not a heck of a lot of demand in civilian life for combat infantrymen," said James L. Smith, assistant director of the Texas Veterans Affairs Commission.

"No doubt some men do receive some valuable training in the service that fits them for civilian life," Smith said, "but I think that's the exception rather than the rule. So many military jobs are just not adaptable to civilian life."

Those with training run into problems which are being felt nationally with too many men for not enough jobs.

Most veterans don't have the kind of industry to take many people, Washmon said.

TEC has found there is a surplus of engineers for the available jobs and a large number of liberal arts college graduates untrained in any specific area of work. Washmon said there is a scarcity of skilled tradesmen and clerical workers with highly developed job skills now.

For many veterans the problems are compounded by the fact they were drafted right out of high school with no time to acquire work experience, said Raymond H. Todd, acting director of the Veterans' Administration regional office in Waco.

NO EXPERIENCE

Others are military men retiring with 20 or 30 years of career military life behind them. Though many are men only in their late 40's and early 50's, they find age does make a difference in beginning a second career. Washmon said TEC files of unemployed veterans are about 25 per cent military retirees.

Nationally, the problem solution is being centered around the efforts of Jobs-for-Veterans, a program begun in January by President Nixon. Through advertising and letter contact with local, state and federal governmental officials, Jobs-for-Veterans is trying to get more consideration for the unemployed serviceman.

LETTERS

The Veterans administration, the Department of Defense and the Department of Labor have written letters to thousands of employers seeking employer interest in veterans' jobs.

Todd said the Waco VA office has begun receiving cards back from employers indicating an interest. Jobs-for-Veterans refers employers who want to hire veterans to the State Employment agency such as TEC. An on-the-job training program can also be implemented through the Texas Education Agency whereby a veteran receives trainee wages supplemented by the VA until he is ready to begin full journeyman wages with the employer, Todd said.

Holidays Fixed For Area Schools

Easter holidays for Big Spring and area schools vary from two to seven class days. Vacations will also include at least one weekend. In-service training will be held for teachers at most of the schools with long vacations.

Solons Expect To Total Tax Bill By Easter

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas taxpayers apparently will find out just before Easter how much the Senate and House think it will take to run state government the next two years.

And right after Easter—about income tax deadline time—will come the bad news of how much new state taxes are needed to finance 1972-73 spending.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes said Friday the Senate Finance Committee has figured out that the two-year general appropriations bill will require at least $550 million in new revenue and maybe as much as $780 million.

WELFARE QUESTION
The big question mark is still welfare funds. Both Barnes and Gov. Preston Smith have said they hoped new revenue sharing legislation by Congress or a federal takeover of welfare programs would ease state welfare spending. But the outlook now is gloomy for such action in Washington, particularly in time for this legislature.

Barnes said that if the Senate appropriates funds for only one year of welfare, as Smith asked, then the Senate spending bill will require only about $550 million in new taxes. However, if the $230 million estimated need for the second year of welfare is included, then the bill will be $780 million.

The five man subcommittee writing the Senate version of an appropriations bill hopes to complete the 400-odd page measure and send it to the printers this Easter weekend. Barnes hopes there will be a Senate debate shortly after the legislature returns Tuesday April 12, from the Easter holidays.

NEW TAXES
The House appropriations bill also is almost ready for the printer and may be available for debate the first week after Easter also.

Since there will be considerable difference in the two versions, the final 1972-73 spending bill likely will be written by a compromise committee of five senators and five representatives.

Barnes has said previously he would like a Senate version of a tax bill ready for debate April 12. The House passed a $492 million tax bill on March 4. The Senate State Affairs Committee may not meet Barnes' schedule but it hopes to complete hearings on the House bill and on still other tax plans the coming week and have the problem in the hands of a subcommittee for a final rewriting during the Easter weekend.

Final decisions on new taxes will not be presented to the respective chambers until there is some sort of agreement between the two houses on appropriations, to be sure the taxes will cover the spending.

The House recessed last Thursday until Monday.

The Senate returned Friday for a workday but only 19 of the Close Squeeze For Water Job

Good progress is being made on efforts to bring water from the Ward County well field to the Colorado River Municipal Water District system at Odessa by the middle of May — but it's going to be a close squeeze.

If the project is completed by June 1, as scheduled, that means that it will need to be operational by May 15, said O. H. Ivie, general manager.

The bright spot is the well field development, where 16 holes have been drilled on the lease south of Wickett. Although tests have not been made in all the wells, data from surrounding wells indicate that the district is within 900 gallons per minute of its goal. Ivie said he would like to have 16 wells that can produce 24 million gallons per day, so an extra well could be used as a standby for emergencies. Gathering lines and electrical system projects are moving on schedule.

With only six weeks remaining, the main supply line will become the critical factor. Through Saturday more than 20 miles of the 33-in. line had been laid, and Ivie said that most of this was in the most difficult part of terrain. However, four miles of the Monahans sandhills, with dunes up to 30 feet high, must be traversed along with the tedious job of working from the Odessa terminal westward through thickly populated sectors. Three crews are now at work, and a fourth might be added.

Three pump stations are progressing on schedule. The million gallon tank near the TESCO plant west of Monahans is complete except for coating and painting, one 600,000-gallon tank is well along, and a third will be started this week.

Meanwhile, the over-all supply situation continues to be tight in the absence of rain, and the board will meet again April 13 to review the situation.

LEAVES HOSPITAL — Texas' Attorney General Crawford Martin smiles broadly and waves to newsmen as he leaves Seton Hospital in Austin Friday. Martin was a patient at the hospital for four weeks because of a heart condition.

Sen. Hightower 'Plays' Governor

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Jack Hightower, a quiet almost shy legislator with a reputation for getting things done, was Texas' governor for a day Saturday.

Hundreds of spectators, many from his home town of Vernon and his District 30 that stretches from Wichita Falls to New Mexico, crowded the Senate chamber for the traditional ceremony.

The oath was administered by a former law partner, Judge Leon Douglas of the Court of Criminal Appeals.

A 19-gun salute by the National Guard preceded a public reception in the governor's office.

At noon the Hightower family had a private luncheon at the mansion. Later there was an afternoon reception and art exhibit and a dinner at the Austin Municipal Auditorium.

By Texas tradition the Senate president pro tempore, or assistant presiding officer, is honored with a governor for a day celebration while he is the third ranking chief executive of Texas. On that day the elected governor and lieutenant governor diplomatically say they will be out of the state, leaving the president pro tempore as acting governor.

Hightower, 44, was elected to the House of Representatives for one term in 1952. In 1955 he was elected district attorney in Vernon and held that post until 1961. He was elected to the Senate in 1964 and re-elected in 1970. He was named president pro tempore by fellow senators at the opening of the 62nd legislature to serve during the regular session.

Martin Remains In Fourth Place

Martin County dropped off by two rigs last week but held to its rank as fourth most active county in Permian Basin drilling.

There were 11 rigs turning at the end of the week. Pecos County replaced Lea County, N.M., as the leader by picking up one well to reach 22, while Lea dropped from 23 to 19. Ward County dropped two but it had 13.

Other area counties were Borden two, up one, Dawson one, unchanged; Howard five, up one; Scurry two, down one; Sterling one, unchanged.

THE WEEK

staked one and a half miles to the east. Good wells in any of these likely would touch off considerable drilling.

Dawson County has been having a rugged time on traffic fatalities this year. We're not certain about the count, but the total is paralleling Lubbock's so far. The latest victims were Mr. and Mrs. Horatio V. Hardage, who were killed Tuesday two miles west of Lamesa on US 180.

Despite some high winds, our area has been spared bad sandstorms (except in the northern part) during the past week. Temperatures dipped into the low 30's but didn't hit the freezing mark, so most vegetation escaped unharmed. By this time next week (Easter), we will be past the point of greatest danger of a killing frost. Then our greatest need will be for soaking rain... and that can't come too soon or too heavily.

Delaying the rodeo dates one week to June 23-26 was announced during the week. The reason became apparent Saturday when Charlie Creighton, president, announced that Ken Curtis — Festus on Gunsmoke — will be a guest artist on the show this year. This is the first time the association has booked an entertainer of this stature and it should prove a real attraction at the gate.

Receipts from car tag sales are nearing the half million dollar mark, according to Mrs. Zirah Bednar, assessor-collector. The total at deadline April 1 was $469,778, and late-comers are steadily pushing it upwards. By the way, those with '4' on inspection stickers will need to get new stickers this month.

There will be no Easter Sunrise services at the amphitheatre in Comanche Trail Park this year. The Howard County Ministerial Fellowship, many of whom were deeply involved in the recent Crusade, elected last week to pass up the service.

A majority interest in Consolidated Beverages, the bottler here of 7-Up, Big Red, Frosty rootbeer, etc., has been acquired by Tri-City Dr. Pepper Bottling Co., which operates out of Stanton. Those Spelling Bee champs are popping like kernels of popcorn. Big Spring schools will have their champs named prior to the Easter holidays, which start Tuesday after school, and others are expected to have their's soon after. The county championship meet is set for April 15 at 4:30 p.m. at the HCJC auditorium.

The extension service had an item last week to the effect that tests had shown that early cotton has the greatest yields. What concerns us most down in this dryland belt is the amount of moisture available for early planting. They might research that.

TO STUDY EARTH RESOURCES, FIGHT POLLUTION

Four-Shot Program To Send Astros In Orbit Proposed

SPACE CENTER. Houston (AP) — To fill a four-year void in America's manned space flights after 1973, officials here have proposed a four-shot program to send astronauts into orbit to map the United States, study earth resources and fight pollution.

They would use surplus Apollo spacecraft which one official said "are going down the drain anyway."

Dale Myers, NASA associate administrator for manned space flight, emphasized the program is in preliminary stages only and would require additional funding from Congress.

Chris Kraft, the Manned Spacecraft Center's deputy director, said the project would keep the United States in the manned space flight business at a time when he believes the Russians will be very active in the field.

BENEFIT MANKIND
It also would be a project that would directly benefit mankind, he said.

The two-man crews will fly at a higher inclination than 100 or more trips into space orbit," Kraft explained. "Using photographic and other sensing equipment developed in the space program, they could accurately map the entire United States, including Alaska. The astronauts also could make earth resources and environmental measurements."

The United States plans to conclude the Apollo moon-landing program with three more missions, one next July and two in 1972. The following year, a two-story preliminary space station called Skylab is to be launched and will be visited by three different three-man crews for periods up to 56 days. These astronauts will conduct medical, engineering and scientific experiments and set guidelines for future long-range flights.

Then NASA faces a gap of at least four years in manned space flight, until manned tests of the space shuttle start in 1977 or 1978.

FERRY SERVICE
This reusable shuttle, essentially a rocket plane that will land like an airliner and make shuttle and space station programs. "When you look at the problem at the end of the Skylab program and the beginning of the shuttle," Kraft said, "it's obvious there is going to be a four- or five-year period when we won't be flying men in space. When you look at the remaining hardware that you have in the Apollo program, I think it becomes apparent that Observers feel that during this four-year hiatus, the Soviet Union will wrest the space lead from the United States. In recent years, although it has not matched the Apollo moon landings, the Soviet Union has had an accelerating program, while the U.S. program has been on the decline. The Soviets have vowed to place the first large space station in orbit and many believe the first elements will be in space within two years.

With more earthly problems demanding attention, Congress has sliced heavily into NASA's budget, dropping it from a high of $5.9 billion in 1966 to approximately $3.3 billion this year.

FUNDING CUT
The result was the elimination of three Apollo moon flights and at least a two-year delay in the shuttle and space station programs.

Department also plans extensive military use of the shuttle system for reconnaissance, satellite and other assignments.

Other contests will be added to the agenda, if time permits. Admission fee will be charged for participants and spectators. Calf roping will be $12 for a two-calf average, and ribbon roping, one calf $4.

we've paid a lot of money for some hardware that could reasonably be used."

Kraft said Kenneth Kleinknecht, Skylab program manager here, undertook a study and concluded that the four-Apollo spacecraft, from the three cancelled moon missions and a backup craft for Skylab, could be flown for somewhere between $75 million and $150 million per mission.

30-DAY TRIPS
The plan would be for one launch a year, with the two-man crews remaining up as long as 30 days.

North American Rockwell Corp., builder of the Apollo ships, has been given a study contract to pinpoint the costs.

In Washington, associate administrator Myers said NASA received some encouragement recently when the House Authorizing Committee added money to the space agency budget to study flights using leftover Apollo hardware.

HOLD TOGETHER
"It shows some interest in Congress in the possibility of this type of operation," he said. Myers also reported a second Skylab was being considered.

However, this might cost nearly twice as much as the four earth orbit flights proposed by the Manned Spacecraft Center group.

Awards Given At Pack Meet

Numerous awards were presented at the March meeting of Cub Scout Pack 100.

The pack is sponsored by the St. Paul Presbyterian Church. Cubmaster is Joe Horton.

Exposition patches for selling 10 or more tickets went to Tony Lane, Derek Horton, Carl Caton, Mike Pitts, Mark Vassar, Clint Hyer, Kriss Allen, Tracy Pruitt, Bill Curtis, Dale Brown, Scott Simpson, Steve Culppepper, Kim Richardson and Jimmy Butts.

Boys selling 30 or more tickets were Jim Parks, Keith Steedy and Craig Drake.

Bobcat pins went to Chris Hyer and Leslie Richardson. Wolf badges went to Greg Henry and Ross Stone. Arrow points went to Mike Pitts, Jimmy Low and Craig Drake. Denner badges went to Jim Parks, Mike Hicks and Charles Purcell. Assistant denner badges went to Greg Henry, Mike Pitts, Sky Hart and Jimmy Butts. Webelo activity badges went to Ivey Lane, Carl Caton, Michael Bartosh, Dan Robison, Derek Horton and Ben Hicks.

Kent Ivey was recognized as a transfer to Webelo den and Ralph Caton and Roger Brown were introduced as new Webelo leaders.

Kraft said the four-shot program would hold together the nation's launch and technical capability which might otherwise deteriorate before the shuttle is ready. He said the decision to move ahead will have to be made within a year, before Apollo production lines shut down completely.

"These spacecraft are going down the drain unless someone picks up the option some time soon," he said.

Dr. John Dietrich, a mapping expert for the space center, said photos from space of the United States would permit existing maps to be updated. In addition, he said, astronauts would be able to photograph areas like the northern Canadian provinces, never before mapped accurately.

LAND USE
The maps could be used in planning land use and preparing new croplands needed to feed the world's growing population. Dietrich said men in space at the orbits planned also could study the Mississippi River watershed at its uppermost limits, gaining information of value in water use and flood prediction.

From their heights, the astronauts also would be able to examine pollutants going into the Great Lakes and be able to determine the source. They also would be able to spot items like oil-dumping ships at sea.

Some scientists say the most valuable use of the photos made from orbit will be planning of land and water use about metropolitan areas.

Orbital paths under study for the new, unnamed program would permit astronauts to photograph cities such as Chicago, Seattle, Minneapolis, New York and Detroit—population centers which never have been photographed by Americans in space.

Jackpot Roping Event Scheduled

A Jackpot Roping event, sponsored by the Iraan Roping Club, will be held in Iraan Saturday at Yates Arena.

Starting time is 7 p.m. The event will include calf roping. Only fresh stock will be used for the competition.

Other contests will be added to the agenda, if time permits. Admission fee will be charged for participants and spectators.

Pack 29 Cubs Gain Awards

The Grand Howl and the Law of the Pack opened the meeting of Pack 29 Thursday night at the Elbow cafeteria. Den 4 was in charge of the opening. Webelos posted the flags and led in the pledge of allegiance.

As the March theme was Cowboys and Indians, a Pony Express-costumed relay game was played. Indian dances were performed by four dens.

Six boys were "branded" with BSA, representing Scouting, as they were presented with their Bobcat pins by W. R. Creagar, Cubmaster. Tommy Ashton and Bill Padgett.

Ricky Godfrey earned his Wolf badge, gold arrow and 5 silver arrows. A Bear badge was presented to Mike Parker.

Transferred into the Webelos Den were Alonzo Abrego and Terry Everts. Sportsman activity badges were awarded to Ricky Godfrey, Juan Gomez, Mike Greene, Keven Low, Mike Parker, and Kim Long.

Mike Parker and Kim Long also earned athlete badges.

Timmy Decker and Bill Padgett received denner bars while Kevin Hooper and Billy Brummett were awarded assistant denner bars. Den chief cords were presented to Clifton Parker and Wayne Hooper.

Badges for exposition ticket sales were awarded to 26 boys. A top salesman badge was received by Tommy Ashton. Pack 29 received a first place blue ribbon at the exposition.

Next pack meeting will be May 6, and summer activities will be decided upon at that time.

Local Legion Backs Calley

The Big Spring American Legion Post 355, according to Bill Bédine, passed unanimously a resolution saying that Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s conviction for premeditated murder represents a gross miscarriage of justice.

The 28 members of the 500-member post at Thursday night's meeting called for action to be taken by President Nixon toward the end that the principles of justice be served.

SPRING TRAINING — Three state beauty titlists were on hand Saturday as Six Flags Over Texas Park opened. Marcia Mossbargan, Miss Missouri, left, Bruce Juell, a Six Flags official, and Nancy Carr, Miss Georgia, took the first car at the runaway mine train ride. Also at the opening was Bellinda Myrick, Miss Texas.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Fighting Men As Scapegoats'

TO THE EDITOR:
I feel that we in America need to be concerned about the penalties being placed on some of our combat men because of their killing of women and children in the Vietnam war zone. I know that it is surely possible for a man to unmercifully take the lives of those people, but I think it is possible, also, for them to be unjustly convicted of such a thing.

Let me share with you something I witnessed in 1953 in Hiphong, Indochina, now a part of North Vietnam. I was part of a combat cargo unit serving there at the request of the French government. We were assisting them in their efforts to keep Red China from overtaking the land. Our C-119 cargo type aircraft were being used partly for bombers, dropping Napalm Jelly Bombs in the hostile area known as Dien Bien Phu near the Red Chinese border. In practice drops instituted to see what the results were at various altitudes, our planes were flown over a small village somewhere in the immediate area, and the test load dropped on an innocent-looking village practically burning it to the ground. Now, this seemed horrible to me at first because I knew that women and children were killed when this was done. During the day time we could fly over some of these villages and not a man could be seen, but women and children could be seen everywhere and a close look revealed these women and children preparing crude weapons to be used against anti-communist forces. Where were the men? They were hidden out in tunnels and huts waiting for darkness to come so they could take these weapons and use them against non-communist villages, bunkers near villages and military installations, and many times make a push onto an air base and kill men and blow our planes to bits. These women and children were as hostile and dangerous as the men who used the weapons!

Although we know that all women and children of those war areas were not hostile, we do know that many of them were trained from their early youth to prepare and use weapons. War is a nasty thing, and men are trained to take away the enemy, regardless of sex, size or appearances. I wonder if we are not deserting those that now defend our nation and ridiculing those that have died to defend our way of life. Are our fighting men being used as scapegoats for some political purpose?

All Must Share In The Guilt

TO THE EDITOR:
Concerning the trial of Lt. Calley: Anyone who reads the newspaper surely sees pictures of the war, and they tell more stories than one. Not one of us could imagine how we would act in a foreign land, fighting a war that is so much disapproved of by the people back home.

It was on the news that the minimum sentence will be 10 years on good behavior. How many years of a man's life is this country entitled to, and what kind of reward may he then expect? Not even a nod of approval it seems.

If this is the way our country shows its appreciation to servicemen, then they can keep it.

When we as Americans share in the greats of this land, we must also share in the guilt of passing down such a harsh sentence, as life or even 10 years in prison. We only know about the parts of war that the military allows us to know. We will never know the whole story.

Major Story On The Back Page

TO THE EDITOR:
Today's (Wednesday's) Big Spring Herald is a complete shame. It should really be put in a place in history bigger than "The Fall of Rome." On the front page you put a story about our own country bringing a good Army officer back from doing his duty, in a senseless war, and being convicted of obeying orders and doing his duty as an officer in a war we should not fight.

Then on the same front page you put stories about dogs, small fires, etc. But you went all the way to the back page to tell the people; and I am sure you hoped none would see, or understand the wrong headline you had for a truthful, but bad story, "Two Federal Officers Killed in Head-on Crash." Then in the story you go ahead and say that four people were killed. The two federal officers and two boys who were prisoners at the time. You told here these boys were shackled hand and foot and midsection. So in truth, by being unable to handle a car two federal officers (whom we pay) killed themselves and two citizens, who were prisoners.

It is very plain that you will print news, but you are trying to stay in business. You know we certainly do not have a free press. If we had a free press you could have put today's paper on a very small newspaper to say "tax dollars pay for this." Draft our young and teach them to fight, if they learn, bring em home and sentence them to life in prison or death. If they do not learn they can and will be shackled to a car in moving traffic and their life in the hands of the lowest of our society whom we hire as federal officers.

I know you can not stay in the newspaper business if you print the truth but please print this letter.

Big Spring Policemen Try For Degrees

By their own choice, four Big Spring policemen work seven days a week.

Patrolmen Walter Johnson, Glenn Hunsucker, and Larry Lee and Sgt. Pete Stone attend Hardin-Simmons University on Tuesday and Thursday while they work on the police force the other five days a week. The four men are majoring in law enforcement working toward a bachelor of science degree.

Their two "days off" each week begin at 4:30 a.m. and end about 11:30 p.m. when they arrive back in Big Spring. The two round trips to Abilene each week total approximately 450 miles and eight hours spent on the road. Hunsucker and Lee have been attending H-SU since September, 1970, and figure that by May they will have traveled about 15,000 miles this year for their education.

All four men agreed that education in law enforcement is becoming more important. "Our Chief of Police stresses education," said Hunsucker. "Times are changing and professionalism comes through education." He added that of the 50 employees of the department, including secretaries, dispatchers, etc., 21 are enrolled in college. With a full-time course load — Lee has 18 hours this semester, Hunsucker and Stone have 15 hours each, and Johnson has 12 hours — study time is hard to find.

"We have to study before and after work," said Stone, "and we study in the car when we travel between Big Spring and Abilene." He added that their schedules are the most demanding on their families.

Hunsucker said that one morning while traveling to H-SU he noticed Lee reading the Bible

H-SU. "Also, I have a son who is a year and a half, and I believe I need a college education so that when he's college age I can convince him to go to college."

Johnson, the only bachelor of the four, has been with Big Spring since April, 1960, and holds the intermediate certificate. He is a licensed polygraph examiner and has attended HCJC and A&M before coming to H-SU for the first time.

Stone said that their college education is made financially possible by the Law Enforcement Education Program, a federal assistance program. Under this arrangement, the men can borrow funds to finance their education, and if they remain in law enforcement for four years after graduation they don't have to pay anything back.

"Our Chief of Police Jay Banks and administrators are extremely cooperative in working out our schedules so that criminal evidence and court procedure, criminal law, police and community relations, control procedures. They agreed that all of these courses are applicable to their work because most of the methods have been tried in the field and are written by people who have had experience from practical application.

Photography, a required course for law enforcement majors, is also important, said the men, because policemen must often take pictures to be used as evidence in court. Photography is one of Stone's responsibilities as identification officer on the Big Spring police force, and he also helps the instructor in the photography course.

Hunsucker has been with the Big Spring Police Department about two years and has been a policeman for about 10 years. He is to graduate on May 16 as the first full-time officer to graduate with a degree in law enforcement from H-SU, and also the first from the Big Spring department to receive his bachelor's degree.

He began college in 1966 and has attended East Central State College in Ada, Okla. Hunsucker and Lee were the first two men to earn the AA degree in applied science in law enforcement from Howard County Junior College in Big Spring. He holds the advanced certificate from the Texas Commission on Law Enforcement Officers Standards and Education.

Lee has been with the Big Spring police since October, 1966, and hopes to graduate from H-SU in December, 1971. He began college in 1965 at San Diego City College and has attended Sam Houston State at Huntsville and Texas A&M University. In August, 1970, he received the AA degree from HCJC. He holds the intermediate certificate.

Stone has been at Big Spring since September, 1964. He has attended HCJC and holds the intermediate certificate.

"The law enforcement program at Hardin-Simmons is good, and you can get a bachelor's degree in it," said Stone as to a reason he attends

WATCH FOR GIBSON'S BIG SPRING VALUE SALE COMING THIS WEEK

SCHWARZ COMES HOME — Marine Pvt. Michael Schwarz hugs his son and clasps his wife's hands shortly after arrival in Pittsburgh Friday night. Schwarz, of Weirton, W. Va., was freed from the Portsmouth, N.H., Naval Prison Friday, less than a year after being sentenced to a life term for the premeditated murder of 12 Vietnamese civilians. That term later was reduced to one year.

'Pro Sniper' Wants More Duty In Viet

WEIRTON, W. Va. (AP) — Michael Schwarz, back home after serving a 14-month prison term for the murders of 12 Vietnamese civilians, celebrated a belated Christmas with his family Saturday while telling of his hopes to return to Vietnam.

"I'm a professional sniper," the 21-year-old Marine private said. "I feel that if I go back to Vietnam I could teach other Marines to be snipers while in combat with on the job training."

FAIR TRIAL

One year ago, Schwarz faced a life sentence after being convicted by a Da Nang court-martial of premeditated murder of the civilians. Amidst public outcries of injustice, most of them from West Virginia, his case was reviewed and his sentence reduced to one year.

"I feel the trial was fair," he said Saturday, "as fair as the Marine Corps knows how to give."

About his ambition to return to the Corps and Vietnam service, Schwarz said his acting as an instructor "would help further the process of the war, plus it would help save a lot of lives."

Schwarz played with his 4-year-old son and busied himself opening presents with his wife and parents—presents that had waited under the Schwarz Christmas tree for more than three months. The tree still stood in the living room.

CALLEY TRIAL

Asked about the trial of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., Schwarz

said he did not think premeditated murder was possible by any serviceman under the conditions which existed when he and the Army lieutenant were charged. Calley was convicted of the premeditated murder of 22 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai on March 16, 1968.

The private's mother, Mrs. James Schwarz, claimed Calley did not receive a "fair and honest," trail.

Schwarz will return to the Marine Development Education Center in Quantico, Va., on Monday, where he expects to be given an "indefinite leave." His case remains in the appeal stage but the possibility of a dishonorable discharge still exists and such a discharge would negate all chances of reenlistment.

'SO FAR, WE DON'T HAVE A SOLUTION' Evil Circus: Drugs In The Military

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military's share of society's drug problem is unique because every day stoned troopers in the ranks must do the dull and the dangerous.

At Ft. Bragg and elsewhere, the Army is struggling with an evil circus where addicts high on drugs parachute from screaming jets, merrily fire howitzers, drive trucks, pass inspections, run a half-mile every chilly North Carolina morning. In Vietnam, they fight.

The soldier addict will tell you he does a pretty good job of it, and generally he does, until he goes AWOL, gets caught, or gives himself up.

THEY KNEW

"They knew I was on drugs but they couldn't ever catch me. I always performed my duties. All drugs do is relax you. They don't make you helpless. You still got the knowledge you would if you were straight. It may be slower, but the work eventually gets done."

This was a paratrooper private, Ron, 20, who gave himself up for rehabilitation treatment at Bragg, home of the proud 82nd Airborne Division.

He was strung out on heroin the last 10 of his 19 months in Vietnam. He flew 50 missions as a helicopter door gunner, got 13 confirmed enemy kills, picked up a Purple Heart.

Ron had to work himself into his problem. The first time he tried heroin he overdosed. His buddies stuck by him all night and he came back strong to a five-shot-a-day habit. He spent all the $4,100 he saved on drugs, lost 35 of his 160 pounds, turned into a pusher, and eventually was arrested by civilian police back in the states for transporting.

Psychiatrists and social workers, Army men, working with the Bragg drug program do not dispute the addicts' stories. "There's no reason to exaggerate," said Capt. Rich Elmore.

NO REASON

A case worker who has interviewed about 100 says the addict gets through his work very well, considering the boredom.

The statistics of the Bragg program, Operation Awareness, suggest a staggering situation. There are 90 in-patients at the moment and 369 out-patients, all with some degree of heroin experience.

However, the troopers remain suspicious of Army amnesty, says a local civilian familiar with the drug scene. There are plenty of black addicts among Bragg's 35,000 soldiers, but a very small proportion in the program, reflecting another sort of suspicion. It's what the trooper thinks, not the truth, that the Army has to deal with.

PEP PILLS

Col. Charles K. Nulsen of the fort's drug-abuse committee estimated 50 to 70 per cent of the men on America's biggest Army base use marijuana and about 800 to 1,000 are strung out on heroin and amphetamines.

Army Chief of Staff William C. Westmoreland told Congress recently: "Something like 40 per cent of our soldiers in younger age groups have used illegal drugs, principally marijuana, at some time during the lives, not necessarily since entering the Army."

The services are upgrading their drug-education programs but only the Army gives amnesty in exchange for a crack at a cure and getting an addict out of a possibly crucial job. The Air Force, Navy and Marines are studying the idea.

Investigation for pot or any drug is enough in the Air Force to automatically ground an aircraft-maintenance man or crew member. The Navy and Marines discharged 6,700 men for drug abuse last year. And more attention is being paid to keeping the addict out of the service in the first place.

NO SOLUTION

Solutions? "So far, we don't have a solution, neither does anyone else," says Westmoreland.

There are panels, assessments, flow charts, rap sessions on more and more bases, rehabilitation programs on six Army bases in the states and parallel effort overseas.

And there is group therapy, methadone maintenance, electric shock, and the Bragg approach of "adversive conditioning"—a man shoots and additives make him vomit.

Basically the key to the cure remains the will of the addict, says Elmore, the Bragg social-work captain. "Our results are not flattering."

NEED MORE

The score for nearly 500 addicts who have stepped forward: five cures. "We don't know that for sure since the men have left the Army," Elmore added.

And at Bragg the effects are obvious. Sixteen men were reported rolled last month. Some units caution against walking through the trees at night. On payday it would be stupid to go between the barracks when it's dark. The chippers and mainliners need the money.

DEATHS

John Craven, Retired Engineer For The T&P

John Calvin Craven, 71, retired T&P locomotive engineer, died at 1:40 a.m. Saturday in a hospital here after a short illness.

Last rites will be held at 10 a.m. Monday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. James Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple, officiating. Burial will be in the Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Craven came to Big Spring to go to work for the T&P, Nov. 5, 1927. He had considerable railroad experience behind him at the time and after getting the three required O-Ks on one trip went to work as a fireman. He made

Mrs. Gressett, Forsan Resident

Funeral for Mrs. Walter Gressett, 74, of Forsan, will be held at 4 p.m. Monday at Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Mrs. Gressett died Saturday at 6:20 a.m. in a hospital here.

Rites will be conducted by Charley Richards and John Wood, and burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Mrs. Gressett was born May 24, 1896, at Haskins, Ohio. She moved to Forsan in 1933 from Bridgeport, Ill., and was married to Walter Gressett March 24, 1951. He died Sept. 28, 1969.

Mrs. Gressett was a member of the Forsan United Methodist Church, was a former member of the Forsan Study Club and served as tax-assessor-collector of the Forsan County Line Independent School district for 11 years before retiring Aug. 31, 1964.

She leaves one son, James D. Madding, Baytown; one daughter, Mrs. J. R. Asbury, Big Spring; two stepsons, William K. Gressett, Forsan, and Donald P. Gressett, Snyder; one stepdaughter, Mrs. J. C. Pye, Hobbs, N.M. Also surviving are 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Pallbearers will be A. D. Barton, Bill Conger, Jim Snelling, Woodrow Scuday, D. M. Bardwell, Hamlin Elrod, Earl Hughes and E. M. Bailey.

Mrs. Robertson, C-City Resident

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Mrs. Stella A. Robertson, 90, died Saturday morning in the Root Memorial Hospital here after a long illness.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Monday in the Kiker and Son Chapel with the Rev. Carl Watson, pastor of Primitive Baptist Church of Lampasas, officiating. Burial will be in the Teeville Cemetery northwest of Colorado City.

Mrs. Robertson was born Sept. 11, 1880, in Brown County and came to Mitchell County in 1927. She married J. M. Robertson in 1897, in Brownwood. He died in 1946. She was a member of the Primitive Baptist Church.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Julia Kahler, Colorado City, Mrs. Tarel Ratliff, Phoenix, Ariz., and Mrs. Reba Gunter, Dallas; three sons, Frank Robertson and Lon Robertson, both of Colorado City and C. W. Robertson, Brownwood; one sister, Mrs. M. H. Sanders, Snyder; and several grandchildren.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. today in the Kiker and Son Funeral Chapel here with the Rev. Glenn Roenfeldt, First Baptist pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery.

Mr. Wilson was born March 27, 1913 in Eastland and came to Colorado City in 1923. He lived here until 1962, but was a resident of Garland at the time of his death. He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife Mary; two sons, Doyle Jenkins, Charleston, S. C.; and Bobby Jenkins, Roswell, N. M.; one daughter, Mrs. Jack Long, Jacksonville, Ariz.; two brothers, one sister and eight grandchildren.

Pallbearers are Sage Johnson, Jerry Musgrove, Clinton Jenkins, Billy Jenkins, Horace Dearing and Denver Johnson.

WT Farmers, Ranchers Face Staggering Losses

By The Associated Press

It began back in the summer and fall. By the beginning of the year it had a good grip. And when late winter-early spring winds arose, dust fogged up, and there was no question.

Drouth gripped Texas again. And the drouth this time is no hit and miss matter. Dryness is a blight upon all the state.

Vast segments of Texas already are trying to obtain federal disaster relief. Farmers "dust in" their crops in dry soil hoping later rains will germinate the seed. Cattle suffer. Stock ponds dry up. Small grains wither and die. Grass looks sick.

Already people are asking themselves: "Is this going to be another drouth like the 1950s when lack of rain and searing heat turned the state from green to brown for seven long years?"

Rain totals made March one of the driest months on National Weather Service records. Some towns had no rain.

Some of the hardest hit areas are in West Texas. With the five-month period from mid-October through March, Marfa received only .07 of an inch and got no rain for 101 consecutive days. The Weather Service office at El Paso said parts of the Trans-Pecos have had no rain for 100 days.

Farmers and ranchers face staggering losses in crops and livestock unless the drouth lifts.

In Central Texas, cotton and grain sorghum crops are hurting.

NO PLANTING "It's still too dry to plant," said Jack Doby, the Travis County agent at Austin. "Producers have planted in spots and have received some kind of stand... about half has come up, but it's beginning to die. For those who have dry planted, the seed is still in the ground."

Doby said most farmers were not planning to plant cotton until it rained. He noted it is getting late to plant sorghum but cotton could be planted up until May.

Ranchers aren't getting off, either. "There's a shortage of hay," Doby said. "Range and pasture conditions are getting extremely bad. We still have stock water, not as bad off as those farther west, but we've had only 13 per cent of normal rainfall, so the stock tanks are certainly going down."

Doby said most people can't remember such a dry winter. Panhandle farmers could lose much of their dryland wheat crops.

FEEDLOTS FULL Cattle have not been grazed on many wheat pastures and feedlots are full.

Panhandle farmers in several areas have applied for federal aid where disaster areas have been designated.

DALEY REVEALS HIS ANNUAL INCOME

CHICAGO (AP) — Challenged by his Republican opponent for re-election, Mayor Richard J. Daley revealed Friday that his income for the years 1966 to 1969 averaged only a few hundred dollars more than his $35,000 annual salary as mayor.

The powerful Democrat's income tax returns showed adjusted gross incomes of $35,847 for 1969, $35,230 for 1968, $35,307 for 1967 and $35,356 for 1966.

His opponent, Richard Friedman, who disclosed his net worth in January, said, however, the disclosure raised more questions than it answered.

UNLESS DROUTH BROKEN

South Texas farmers and ranchers could lose a substantial part of the area's annual average $350 million agricultural income because of the drouth. The general economy also could be affected.

As in other areas, cattle feeding has become necessary to support livestock and is causing many ranchers to reduce their herds.

Some ranchers have even sold out except for their breeding stock, and if liquidation becomes necessary, the livestock industry could be severely handicapped.

Farmers in South Texas face large losses. Planting normally would be almost completed by April 1, but only about half of the $75 million sorghum crop is in the ground, and less than a third of the $30 million cotton crops has been planted.

Farm experts say crop prospects are poor and will be disastrous if the drouth lasts much past late-April.

North Texas, around Wichita Falls, normally receives about 30 inches of rain a year. In 1970 the first three months of 1971 only 2.03 inches.

Farmers say the area's $50 million wheat crop is all but lost. This also could hurt the cotton and sorghum planting late which would lower yields next fall.

Bob Frye, an engineering technician with the Texas Highway Department, said the prospect is "very poor" for the usual brilliant array of wild flowers in South Texas.

"There are some bluebonnets in the country now, but they're quite short—only about two or three inches—and we don't know if we'll get any more," Frye said.

Frye said about two dozen types of wild flowers bloom each spring. "We've got to get several inches of rain the next two or three weeks if we're going to have any wildflowers," he said.

PLAYS COW PASTURE POOL?

A calf caused problems Friday at the municipal golf course. Charles Brantley, golf course employee, called city police when efforts to capture the calf failed. The calf decided the greens were not meant to be pastures and moved on before police arrived.

PAULING FORGETS HIS ANNOUNCEMENT

NEW YORK (AP) — Two-time Nobel-Prize winner Dr. Linus Pauling was on hand to announce establishment of a National Research and Demonstration Center for Schizophrenia and Brain Disorders but he spent his time defending his theory that Vitamin C prevents the common cold.

"I have the impression that I am the only person who has read the literature with an open mind," the Stanford University chemistry professor told a news conference Friday at the American Schizophrenic Association.

Several scientists have criticized Pauling's theory, presented in his best-seller "Vitamin C and the Common Cold."

THEFTS

Mrs. Jack Price, 604 George, reported to police the theft of a bicycle.

Burglars Busy In Big Spring

City police were called to investigate three burglaries Friday and Saturday and a fourth burglary attempt. Items valued at $4,467 were taken in the three successful break-ins.

The largest haul was Saturday morning when thugs gained entry through the roof into Christensen's Boots and Western Wear, 602 W. 3rd, and left with $3,500 worth of western togs. The burglary is still under investigation.

Richard Elhaha, 510 Lancaster, Apt. 4, reported Friday to police that over $900 worth of items had been taken from his apartment.

Louis Gore reported Friday that thieves had attempted to enter one of two neighboring homes that he owns, and that $50 worth of items was taken from the second home. The houses are at 104 and 106 Lockhart.

An attempt at entry Friday into Big Spring Hardware, 117 Main, failed. According to police reports, entry was attempted through an air conditioning opening.

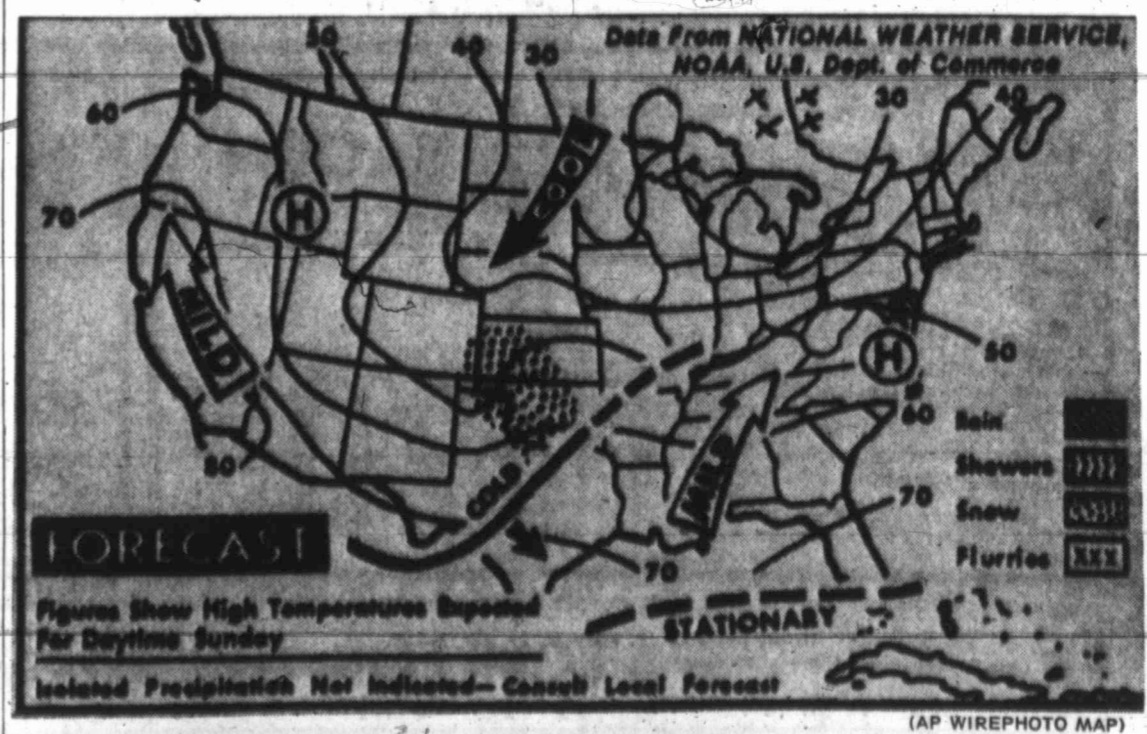

SHOTS FIRED

Shots were fired at the John Fierro residence Friday shortly after 11 p.m. Friday, 1603 Lark, reported to police three bullets struck his car, and one bullet entered the hallway of his home.

WEST TEXAS HARBINGER OF SPRING—MESQUITE
... weather forecaster has thorniest of dispositions

Intrepid Girl Reporter Comes Out Second In Tree Interview

(How does a mesquite know when it's spring? "Go interview the mesquite," the editor ordered. That's exactly what Linda Cross, intrepid girl reporter, did. — Ed)

Intrepid Girl Reporter: "Hello Mesquite!" (looking around with silly feeling to see if anyone is watching.) "I know you don't know me, but I'm from The Herald, and I'd like for you to answer a few questions." (Glancing around again, she plans to fade quietly away, then remembers the rent is due Tuesday and the grocery man won't take IOUs.) "I'd like to ask you how you know when it's spring."

Mesquite: (Haughtily) "Screech, scratch."
IGR: "No, I'm serious. I implore you!" (Aside: "I always knew mesquites had thorny dispositions.")
Mesquite: "Creak."

IGR: "Then I take it tree — you don't mind if I call you tree, do you? — that you have some secret formula for calculating when the last frost has occurred."

Mesquite: Penetrating silence.
IGR: "Pray don't turn me off. This is bread and butter to me. How do you learn to judge so that you seldom get picked off base by an icy blast?"

Mesquite slyly pops a bud, contemplating whatever mesquites contemplate.

IGR: "Thank you! Now listen tree, in West Texas you're more famous than the robin — and I must say a bit more common — for your spring-tide predictions. But aren't you ever just a bit unsure? Don't you sometime ease out a bud or two just to see what will happen?"
Mesquite: More silence meaning

"No comment."

IGR: "I see that there are quite a few other mesquites beginning to show spring colors, as green going to be big this year despite the drought?"

Mesquite: "Creak."
IGR: "Well, let me try it from another angle. Do you think that your ability to withstand the temptation to bud too soon is learned or is instinctive? Was your mother frightened by a groundhog?"

Mesquite: "Groan!"
IGR: "Well tree, it's been very enlightening talking to you. Keep your limbs upright, your roots deep, and don't take any wooden raindrops, Kimosabe!"

Mesquite: (to itself) "What is she, some kind of a nut? All I used to worry about was late blizzards."

LTV Aerospace Looks For Improved Net Income

DALLAS — LTV Aerospace Corporation reported that it expects 1971 revenues to approximate $640 million, compared with $820.2 million last year.

"Barring unforeseen developments, 1971 should see an improvement in net income compared with last year, even though total 1971 revenues are expected to decline to approximately $640 million," according to the company's 1970 annual report to shareholders, mailed today.

The report also said LTV Aerospace was able to reduce total current liabilities and long-term debt $66 million to $309 million in the last eight months of 1970. Notes payable at year-end were down to $135 million of a $170 million credit line; the company's Eurodollar loan, due March 31, 1973, was down to $12.5 million from $32.5 million.

The drop in revenues in 1971 will stem from lower production of A-7 ground support aircraft for the U.S. Air Force and U.S. Navy; revenues from the A-7 are expected to amount to some $285.5 million in 1971, compared with $560.3 million in 1970, the report indicated.

Forbes Mann, LTV Aerospace president, said that increased sales in other areas of the company will make up for some of this year's revenue decline attributable to lower A-7 production.

In addition to reviewing the company's financial progress in 1970, the annual report covers its activities in national defense, space, transportation, modular

Churches Restate No-Politics Policy

AUSTIN — The Texas Conference of Churches Friday reiterated its non-partisan position toward any and all candidates for political office. The restatement of official policy was made by the Conference executive director, Roy J. Cates.

"We have been advised that old conference envelopes bearing our former Austin return address have been used by persons interested in electing certain candidates in the local San Juan (Tex.) city election," Cates said.

"Although an attempt was made to cover up the conference's name and address, we feel it necessary to restate unequivocally that the Texas Conference of Churches has not previously and does not intend in the future to endorse in any way any person for political office," he added.

INCUMBENT HALL RE-ELECTED TRUSTEE AT SANDS

Write-In Victory At Grady Highlights Elections

Area voters elected school board trustees and city councilmen Saturday with voting light in many sections. Interest centered on a write-in win in the Grady school board election.

GRADY

Jimmy Sawyer was elected through write-in votes Saturday to a three-year term on the Grady Independent School District Board of Trustees Saturday. He received 35 votes. Charlie McKaskle, who received 39 votes, will take his place as a trustee also to serve a three-year term.

H. D. Howard, sole candidate for a one-year term, received 66 votes. Howard had been appointed to the board earlier.

In the race for the two three-year terms, O. B. Glaze Jr. received 33 votes, Eddie Odum and Charles R. Blake tied with 22, and Briley J. Ellyson received 19 votes.

FORSAN

In the Forsan City Council race incumbents John B. Anderson and Joe B. Hoard were re-elected and Bobby S. Wash was named to his first term. J. M. Craig, incumbent, who did not file for re-election received one write-in vote. There were 34 ballots cast and Anderson received 34 votes, Hoard 33 and Wash 29.

All three unopposed incumbents were returned to office in the Forsan school board election. Only 55 votes were cast in the election.

FLOWER GROVE

The two Flower Grove incumbents were returned to office in the school board election. Benny Foster received 36 votes, Earl Hightower received 35 votes and Jerry Cave received one write-in vote. The total vote was 36.

DAWSON

All three incumbents were returned to their position by voters in the Dawson County Independent School District trustee elections Saturday. A total of 91 votes were cast.

To succeed themselves in office, Lucie Drennan received 74 votes, Truman Hayes, 49, and

E. L. Hendon, 52. Troy Howard received 38 votes, Billy Roberts and Donald Preston both received 25, and Orville Hewlett received 6.

COLORADO CITY

Three new members joined the Colorado City School Board in Saturday's school election as voters placed a slate of newcomers in office.

Voting was moderate with 344 votes cast, according to election officials. Truman Bodine, local farmer and dairyman, led the ticket with 241 votes. Drew Ballard, owner of the local radio station, received 205, and Edward Roach, farmer, received 196 votes.

Defeated incumbents Dr. Dub Waldrip, general supervisor of the Spade Renderbrook ranch, 192, and Jeff Taylor, service station operator each polled 136. O. B. Trulock Jr., the third incumbent did not file for re-election.

Voters returned four unopposed incumbents to the board of the Colorado City Hospital District in Saturday's voting.

Voting was light with 215 votes cast. The four candidates returned to office were Preston Morris, farmer, 108; Wayne Shawn, banker, 106; Willie Landau, owner of a clothing store, 103; and Rex McKenney, Westbrook farmer, 103.

WESTBROOK

The two incumbents were returned to office in the Westbrook school board election. Cleburne Rich received 22 votes and David Anderson received 21. The total vote count is 23.

KLONDIKE

Seven men were elected to the new Klondike Consolidated Independent School District school board. All members of the Klondike and the Union school boards were candidates.

The winners are Henry Vogler, 67 votes; Don Peterson, 75 votes; Juttie W. Dennis, 78 votes; Ewell Scott, 65 votes; Bob Mitchell, 63 votes; Alden Harris, 64 votes; and Vernon Miller, 74 votes.

All the new board members were members of the Klondike board, except for Vernon Miller, who was on the Union school board.

Lindell Singleton, 47 votes; Gayland Airhart, 42 votes; G. W. Jones, 12 votes; Bob Archer, 16 votes; W. D. Franklin, 43 votes; Raymond Carr, 59 votes; and Leroy Phillips, 12 votes, were the losers. Two absentee votes were cast for A. B. Cohorn. The total vote was 104 votes.

GLASSCOCK

Incumbent Robert Hayden was defeated in the Glasscock County school board election by George E. Schwartz. Hayden received 67 votes and Schwartz received 123.

Incumbents Jesse Overton Jr., 89 votes, and J. C. Newell, 96 votes, were re-elected. Ed Plegens received 30 write-in votes and G. R. Pearce received 11 write-in votes.

LAMESA

The Lamesa school board has one new member and one incumbent. Bill R. Reed was re-elected with 362 votes. Mrs. Venna Nix was elected with 276 votes. Perry Roberts received 265 votes, Travis L. King received 221 votes, and one write-in vote went to Mrs. Frank Jones and one to Howard Moore. The total vote was 565.

STANTON

STANTON (SC) — In the Stanton school board race incumbent Gene Butler was defeated. Delbert Dickenson and L. D. Snell were named to their first terms. There were 177 ballots cast, including one absentee vote. Dickenson received 147 votes and Snell 122, while Butler received 69.

Unopposed city council candidates Cecil Bridges and F. O. Rhodes were elected to the city council. J. D. Poe received two write-in votes. There were 67 ballots cast and Bridges received 67 and Rhodes 65.

COAHOMA

The two incumbents were returned to office in the Coahoma school board election.

Carroll Choate received 177 votes and Waymon Lepard received 154 votes. The other results were Don Allen, 119 votes; Roland Beal, 112 votes; Don Holman, 116 votes; and one write-in vote each for Billy Horvel, Rex Shive, Carl Frazier and Weldon McAdams. The total vote count is 342.

SANDS

Incumbent Jerry Hall will return along with two newly elected men to the Sands Independent School District Board of Trustees as a result of Saturday's election. Hall received 89 of the 545 votes cast.

New members of the board will be J. E. Hopper, with 74 votes, and Earl Newcomer, with 72 votes.

Howard Armstrong received 70 votes, Gale Batson, 57; A. D. Floyd, 41; Joe Lemon, 31; and Reed, 49; Gus Soward, 43; Don Robert D. Anderson, 18.

One write-in vote went to Lloyd Robinson.

Vacancies on the board included two three-year terms and one two-year term. The three winners will draw among themselves to determine who will serve which term.

DAWSON

Only one of three seats in the Dawson County trustee election was opposed. A. R. Skinner, incumbent, and Moody Neeley were unopposed. The county-at-large seat was won by Cartis White, 174 votes. The other candidate for the seat, was Ted Turner, 105 votes.

BORDEN

The Borden County school board has elected Doyle Newton, incumbent, 58 votes; Martin Parks, incumbent, 58 votes, and Ab Hensley, 61 votes.

Write-in candidates were Ira Haggins, one vote; Clifford Vaughn, one vote; Pat Hensley, one vote; Weldon Hancock, three votes; and Nolan Jones, one vote.

SNYDER

Incumbent Kenneth Wilson was defeated in the Snyder school board election. Incumbents William J. Schiebel, 358 votes, and Dan Cotton, 522 votes, were returned to office. Wilson received 307 votes. His seat was taken by Bill Eiland, 420 votes.

Don Spink received 184 votes and William (Bill) Starnes received 333 votes. The total vote count was 729.

78 Animals Purchased At Borden County Show

The Borden County Junior Livestock Association show and sale in Gail Friday and Saturday sold 78 animals.

The sale included barrows, lambs and steers.

The Grand Champion lamb was sold by Rex Cox for $345 to Snyder Drugs. The price was in addition to the floor price of $27.

The Grand Champion Barrow was sold by Lisa Ludecke for $350 to Snyder Savings and Loan and Boren-West Insurance. The price was in addition to the floor price of $16.50.

The Grand Champion Steer was sold by Martha Anderson for $550 to Cowper Hospital, Hall-Bennett Hospital, Malone and Hogan Hospital and Medical Arts Hospital. The price was in addition to the floor price of $30.50.

The top hand award and the all-round showman award went to Rex Cox. Showmanship awards in the swine division went to Matt Farmer, elementary; Lisa Ludecke, junior high; and Joe Hancock, high school.

Drug Stores Asked To Halt Tobacco Sales

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The American Pharmaceutical Association has urged the nation's 54,000 drug stores to halt the sale of all tobacco products.

The association's 300-member House of Delegates approved the resolution without dissent on a voice vote on the final day of the 37,000-member association's annual convention.

A spokesman for the organization said the action establishes association policy without a general membership vote. The meeting drew 4,000 delegates.

A committee report approved by the House of Delegates notes the pharmacists in 1969 resolved that cigarette sales in pharmacies are "inconsistent with their functions as health institutions."

Last year the pharmacists voted to become active in anti-smoking education.

Since then "an increasing number of pharmacists have discontinued the sale of cigarettes" with favorable reaction from the public and other health practitioners, the report says.

The committee noted "concern over the growing trend of tobacco companies to compensate pharmacies who provide space for self-service cigarette racks."

Pentagon Abortion Policy Reversed

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon, reversing last summer's liberalization, has directed that abortion policy at military bases correspond with laws of states where the bases are located.

"From personal and religious beliefs," Nixon added Saturday, "I consider abortion an unacceptable form of population control."

Historically, the President said in a statement, laws regulating abortion have been the province of states, not the federal government.

"That remains the situation today, as one state after another takes up this question, debates it and decides it," Nixon continued. "That is where the decisions should be made."

25-Year Battle With Tax Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vivien Kellems faces a new skirmish in her 25-year battle with the Internal Revenue Service.

IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Throver told the Haddam Conn., woman the agency will investigate the blank, signed 1970 income tax return she returned she filed.

"This form does not constitute a tax return as required by law," Throver told Miss Kellems, 75, in a letter.

Social Security Plan Tied To Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON (AP) — A blue-ribbon advisory council recommended Saturday a change in the Social Security law to permit automatic adjustments in benefits to keep up with a rising cost of living.

Congress now sets the levels for each year.

The council said also that minimum benefits to low-paid workers, now and in the future, should be enough so that the aged beneficiaries will not be below the poverty level.

These were among 25 recommendations made by the council, which was appointed almost two years ago under a provision of the Social Security law which calls for a review of the program and health insurance programs every four years.

Arthur S. Flemming, president of Macalester College and a former secretary of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, headed the 13-member nongovernmental council.

PILOTS HONORED — Brig. Gen. William McLaughlin, right, presented the Silver Star to two instructor pilots and the Distinguished Flying Cross to two other instructor pilots during recent ceremonies held at Webb AFB.

Webb Pilot Instructors Receive Military Honors

The Silver Star, the nation's fifth highest award, was presented to two Webb AFB pilot instructors recently.

During the same ceremony two other instructor pilots received the country's seventh highest honor, the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Capt. James R. Matthews and First Lieut. Dohrman G. Crawford, Jr., received the Silver Star and the Distinguished Flying Cross went to Capt. Richard J. Ranaudo and Alexander C. Bridewell, III.

Capt. Matthews was honored for his actions on April 6, 1970, when he was on-scene commander of the rescue effort for two downed pilots of an F-4 Phantom jet. Despite heavy anti-aircraft fire directed at his A-1 Skyraider, the captain was able to halt the advance of hostile troops in the area of the downed aircraft. Then shortly before his own aircraft was shot down, Captain Matthews destroyed two enemy gun positions.

Lt. Crawford received his award for breaking an attack near Dak Seang on April 21, 1970. It was on that day Lt. Crawford used tactical airpower, despite severe ground fire, to prevent the friendly position from being overrun, thus saving many lives.

Capt. Ranaudo distinguished himself for striking a supply storage area and vital lines of communications within hostile territory in Southeast Asia. It was for continuing with the attack despite adverse weather conditions and opposing ground fire that singled the captain for the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Accurate destruction of enemy military structures in Southeast Asia on June 4, 1970 distinguished Capt. Bridewell. The captain assisted in delivering his ordnance directly on target despite the hazards of mountainous terrain and accurate ground fire. Capt. Bridewell was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross for his actions.

STUDENT DRIVER

It isn't Math, History or English. But it's just as basic.

To earn a living, he needs the old fundamentals. To keep on living, he must learn the right way to drive. Yet only one out of three high school students takes a driver education course. Too bad. Automobile accidents are the number one killer of American teenagers.

How important is driver education? Well, it's important enough that trained drivers have 50% fewer accidents and traffic violations. Important enough that many insurance companies offer lower rates for teenagers who have completed driver training.

And important enough that new car dealers across the nation loan 34,000 automobiles every year to our public schools for driver training.

It's your responsibility to help make sure your teenager takes the proper subjects in school. So make sure driver education is one of them. Where it's not available, we suggest that you consider a good private driving school.

When it comes to preparation for living, learning how to drive safely really is basic.

City's Revenue Down, But Expenses Rising

By BRIAN PEAY
 General revenue sources for the city are below those anticipated through the year according to the first computed report of the general fund through November, 1970.

The projecting on the general fund or ledger was given to members of the commission Wednesday, and it showed that the causes of low revenue are due to garbage revenue loss, lower sales tax return, corporation court costs and fines below anticipation and assorted building permits running behind.

The city received $108,688 from sales tax revenue March 25, however, this was $4,000 less than the anticipated return. Also there have not been as many traffic citations given in the city during the past year.

"We are trying a new philosophy concerning traffic violators. We are only trying to screen out the habitual violators and are trying to work with the people who inadvertently break a traffic law, but show an attitude of concern," said Jay Banks, police chief.

The new philosophy seems to be working so far, as is indicated by the lower number of traffic accidents in 1969 and 1970. Also there have been radar units out of order and a shortage of certified personnel to operate the equipment.

"This all contributes to the lower number of citations given," said Banks. All of these examples have contributed to the lower rate of revenue to the city.

"Another reason for the low tabulation on revenue to the city is the seasonal revenue sources the city depends on have not been received," said Larry Crow, city manager. These sources include the city swimming pool, municipal golf course, and various other activities from which the city draws money during the spring and summer months.

"We haven't seen enough of the results of the reorganization of the police and fire departments to predict the expenses involved to the city in these areas," said Crow.

The current contract paving project almost is complete and payroll expenditures to sanitation personnel is running over. These are other expense factors the city will have to deal with during the year, Crow explained.

"Another factor in the expenditures as in the revenue for the city is that some of the expenses are also seasonal. The city will not be paying for these until the spring and summer months," said Crow.

A quarterly report through December, 1970, will be computed shortly and will give a better perspective of the situation the city is in, according to Crow.

Fire Destroys T&P Shops At Marshall

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — Railroad officials inspected the fire damaged Texas & Pacific Railroad shops Saturday to decide their future.

The shops, in a brick building two blocks long, were engulfed in flames Thursday night after an explosion of undetermined origin. Several other explosions were heard as the fire spread.

Supt. Edd Clark estimated damage to the building, equipment and 26 railroad cars at $2.5 million to $5 million.

It was the largest fire in Marshall history.

The shops, once the largest in Texas with 3,000 men working there in the 1920s, had long been a keystone of the Marshall economy.

In recent years the shops repaired cars for the entire Missouri-Pacific Railroad system. The facility employed 144 men and handled an average of four cars daily.

Clark notified employees their jobs were ended for the present. He said he expected some employees will retire and that some will seek work on the railroad elsewhere. Railroad unemployment compensation will be available to those desiring it, he said.

The 144 employees ranged from apprentices with two years tenure to veterans of 35 and 44 years.

ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM Area Archaeologists Meet In Lamesa Over Weekend

LAMESA (SC) — More than 100 representatives of the Southwestern Federation of Archaeological Societies from a wide area of Texas and New Mexico met Friday and Saturday for the federation's seventh annual symposium being hosted this year by the Dawson County chapter of the South Plains Archaeological Society.

An artifact display, two business meetings, a luncheon, banquet and a field trip were among the activities scheduled for the two-day meeting.

The affair is a meeting of amateur and professional archaeologists to discuss recent discoveries and "how these discoveries will change our ideas of the culture of ancient man and early Indians in this area," said Donald E. Butcher, symposium chairman.

"By putting together bits of knowledge like a giant jig-saw puzzle," said Butcher, "we hope to learn more about the cultures of ancient man who lived in this area long before European man came to this continent. Few people realize that man lived in this area at least 9,000 years ago and possibly as long as 15,000 years."

"As more and more information becomes available, it appears that the Caprock area of Dawson, Martin, Borden, Lynn, Garza, Lubbock and Hale counties was a melting pot and trading area for Indian cultures from New Mexico on the west, central Texas cultures from the east, Plains Indians to the north and Rio Grande and Pecos cultures from the south."

The first business meeting was Friday. Discussion centered around the finances of the federation and setting of prices on new books published by the federation.

The second business meeting Saturday was a combination luncheon and business meeting. Archaeologists from Hobbs and Portales, N. M., El Paso, Midland, Lubbock, Rankin and Iraan attended the meeting. John Carley, Hobbs, N. M., served as moderator for a

Howard Wildcat Continues Tests

G. E. Kadane & Sons, No. 1 Morgan Ranch, Howard County dual prospect, five miles southeast of Big Spring, continued making production tests in the Wolfcamp through over-all perforations at 7,204-7,390 feet, which had been re-acidized with 12,000 gallons.

It swabbed and flowed an unreported time, making 64 barrels of new oil and 130 barrels of acid and load water. Choke size was not reported. During the last two hours, it swabbed 13.7 barrels of new oil.

During drilling operations, Leonard production was indicated with the recovery of 270 feet of mud-cut oil and 1,005 feet of mud-cut oil on a drill-stem test at 6,686-6,740 feet.

It spots 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 27, block 32, T-1-S, T&P survey.

Kadane was drilling below 2,780 feet at No. 1 Flanagan, wildcat operation 1/2 mile east of No. 1 Morgan, 1,980 feet from north and 810 feet from west lines of section 26, block 32, T-1-S, T&P survey. Operator ran 8 1/2-inch intermediate string to 2,772 feet.

YMCA Easter Schedule Set

The YMCA Easter holiday schedule will go into effect after Tuesday, the last day for regular Y classes. From April 7 through April 12, there will be recreation swimming from 1:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., and the gym, game room, and weight lifting rooms will be open all day.

Photo Selected

A photograph hung in the Texas Professional Photographers Association exhibit also has been selected for hanging by the New Mexico association in its Carlsbad convention. It is the study of the picturesque and historic Millhollon house, just east of Stanton and was made by Frank Brandon as a Halloween subject for The Herald. It will be entered in the Southwest Association exhibit in Oklahoma City, and if hung there, will become eligible for entry in the national show.

With Only One Event Unjudged, UIL Winner Still Undecided

FORSAN — Forsan, Bronte and Miles schools are all within striking distance of first place in the Region I District 9-B literary meet held at Forsan Thursday and Friday.

Only one event remains to decide the contest. Ready writing, with a total of 30 points available, will be judged Monday. The top school now is Miles, with 106 points. Bronte is second with 96 points and Forsan is third with 92 points. The 30 points in ready writing can put any of the schools in first place. First place is worth 15 points, second 10 points and third five points.

The Forsan ready writing entrants are Rodney Hammack and Karen Stovall. Bronte entrants are Kenneth Strdebel and Paula Landers. Miles entrants are Martha Bearfield and Evelyn Schwarz.

MUSHROOM HOUSE — A "mushroom house" in Rehovot, Israel, home of the Ravid family, is an example of a newly-developed way of home-building being tried out in Israel. The house, which is relatively inexpensive to build in addition to being a conversation piece, "sprouts" from a central pillar, which also serves as an entrance. The net result is a combination cellar-porch, which must be attractive to the youngsters on rainy days, and a cool place to relax when the sun beats down.

KERMIT — The Big Spring Toros raced to third place honors in the Kermit Junior High Track meet concluded here Saturday afternoon. The Brahamas came in eighth.

In the eighth grade division, Goliad also won third place and Runnels finished sixth.

The Toros came in with 102 points to finish behind winner Pecos with 164½ and Kermit with 112. Kermit was the eighth grade winner with 133½ points followed by Monahans with 95 one-third points.

Bobby Mayo picked up a first place finish for the Toros when he ran the 70 yard high hurdles in 9.7. Evaristo Pineda claimed another first for the Toros in the 220 yard dash with a time of 24.6.

Doug Smith, James Lacy, Tommy Miller and Pineda teamed to grab first place in the mile relay for the Toros. They had a time of 3:45.8. Jim Ellis finished second for the Toros in the 880 with a 2:19.4 effort. In the 880 yard relay the Toros came in second with a time of 1:39.0. Smith, Gillingham, Lacy and Pineda ran this event. Tommy Miller claimed a fifth place finish in the 660 yard dash when he finished in 1:36.7.

The Toros ended up fourth in the 440 yard relay with a mark of 49.8 and Mayo grabbed a fourth place in the 120 yard low hurdles with a clocking of 14.9.

In the ninth grade high jump David Woods came in second for the Toros with a leap of 5 feet, six inches.

Elbow Smith was the running star for Runnels in the eighth grade division. He claimed first place honors in the 220 yard dash in 25.2 seconds and first in the 100 in 10.7.

Goliad's Andre Hurrington ran first in the 330 yard dash in a time of 40 flat. Hayes Stripling claimed another first for Goliad with a 1:34.6 in the 660 yard dash.

Stanley Wallace jumped 19 feet, two inches for Goliad to nab a first place in the broad jump and the Runnels relay team raced across the 440 yard finish line to win that event.

Lee Rebel Rally Crushes Steers, 5-1

The Big Spring Steers jumped out to a one run lead over Midland Lee in the second inning Saturday but couldn't make it hold up and dropped a 5-1 decision to the Rebels.

It was the ninth win in a row for Midland Lee and gives them their fourth consecutive win in District 5-AAAA.

Righthander Rick Steen got the starting nod from Oakey Hagood and looked impressive for the first three innings. The roof fell in on him in the fourth frame when the Rebels chalked up four runs, more than enough to register the victory.

The Steers took the lead in the second inning when Pete Shaffer singled and raced all the way home when Steen lined a long triple to the fence in right center.

Steen, using a sharp curve ball and a change-up, handcrafted the Rebel hitters the first three times up. In the fourth, Christianson walked, Stoltz was safe on an error and Holloway walked to load the bases. Steen then forced in the tying run when he walked Mark Abernathy. Williams followed with a single to center to plate two runs and Ward capped a one-bagger driving across the fourth run of the inning.

In the top of the seventh, the Rebels pushed across an insurance marker when Mike Abernathy walked, stole second and raced home on a single by Christianson.

The Steers outthrew the visitors 7-4 but couldn't put them together in the clutch. Shortstop David Carter and Shaffer led the Bovines' hitting attack with two hits each.

The Rebels were held to four hits by the combined efforts of Steen and Johnny Sevey, who hurled the final three frames for Big Spring.

Coach Hagood takes his charges to Abilene Cooper Tuesday for a 4 p.m. contest where the Steers will be out to snap a five-game losing skein.

Rice Pole Vaulter Sets Relay Record

Funseth Leads GGO Tourney

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Soft spoken veteran Rod Funseth shot a six-under par 65 and took the top spot in the third round of the $100,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament Saturday.

Funseth, playing on his 38th birthday, had a 54-hole total of 204, nine-under par on the damp 7,034 yard Sedgefield Country Club course.

That put him two strokes ahead of a group of three tied for second at 206 — veteran Miller Barber, rookie Brian Allen and Dave Eichelberger. Allen and Eichelberger each carded 67s while Barber had a 69.

Bob Charles, the New Zealand lefthander who had a 68, and Pete Brown, 70, were tied at 207.

The playing conditions were near ideal, with practically no wind — a welcome relief from the rain and cold that marred Friday's second round.

But the glamor names of the game couldn't make up much ground.

Lee Trevino had a 71 for 210, six strokes back. U. S. Open champion Tony Jacklin of England took a 72 for 211. Billy Casper tumbled up for next week's defense of his Masters crown with a 67, but still was far back at 213. South African Gary Player, the defending champion here and winner of the last two tour events, had a 69 for 214.

Barber and Brown, one of the few blacks on the pro tour, shared the lead going into the day's play — and each ran into disaster.

Barber held the lead alone at one point, then took a triple bogey seven on the 13th hole. The second leading money winner of the year hit his tee shot into the woods, with the ball coming to rest against a root. He hit part of the root on his next shot and knocked the ball out of bounds.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rice's Dave Roberts soared to the first 17-foot pole vault in Texas Relays history and the Owls captured a climactic, bizarre mile relay Saturday before 10,000 fans in Memorial Stadium.

Roberts made the height on his third and final vault to erase the old standard of 16-9½ by Fred Burton of Wichita State in 1967.

Rice, paced by Chip Grandjean's 46.5 anchor, zipped to a 3:07.6 in the mile relay.

Favored Texas A&M dropped the baton and finished last. Abilene Christian's excellent four-some had to scratch at the last minute because of injury, and a Nebraska runner fell down and the Cornhuskers finished fourth. Louisiana State was second in 3:08.2.

Texas A&M, which won the 880 relay Friday night, took the sprint relay in :40.1 on a series of excellent passes. But a bobble between Robert Brew and David Morris cost the Aggies any chance of winning three relay events.

Texas A&M was named the outstanding university team and Dallas Baptist received the college team award.

The University of Texas at El Paso established a new Texas relays standard in the four-mile relay with a 16:34.1 effort. This cracked the old record of 16:39.2 set by UT-El Paso in 1970. The winning foursome was John Bednarski, Peter Romero and Kerry Ellison, who ran a 4:04.8 anchor.

Campbell Tops Steer Efforts In Amarillo

AMARILLO — Walter Campbell raced to a first place in the 440-yard dash to lead the Big Spring Steers to a fourth place finish in the Amarillo Relays held Friday and Saturday with 43 points.

Amarillo Palo Duro won the meet with 87 points and Midland Lee came in second with 49. Lubbock Coronado finished third with 48 points.

Twenty-four teams were entered in the AAAA division and overall more than 1,000 competitors were in the two-day meet.

Walter Jordan ran second in the 100 with a 9.7 and fourth in the 220 for Big Spring with a 22.4. Dave Duncan, Campbell, Clay Thompson, and Jordan ran second in the 440-yard relay in 43.2.

In the mile run, Mark Jones was fourth with a time of 4:49 and Danny Smart was sixth in 4:55.

In the junior varsity division for Big Spring, Charley Brown tied for first in the high jump with a leap of 5 feet, eight inches. Richard Templeton came in second in the 440-yard dash in 52.9 and Dale Lee ran fourth in the mile in 5:00.

Coach Glenn Petty will take the Big Spring cindermen to Andrews Friday for the Mustang Relays.

Stone Earns Region Trip

MCCAMEY — The Coahoma Bulldogs finished fourth in the District 5-AA track meet held here Saturday and qualified Ricky Stone and the mile relay team for the regional meet in Lubbock April 23-24.

Stone copped first place honors in the 880-yard dash with a time of 2:02.8. Bulldog Troy Kirby finished third in the 880 with 2:10.7.

The Bulldog's mile relay team came in second and qualified for the regional meet with a clocking of 9:51.1. Robin Hedrick, Augie Hernandez, Roland Beall and Stone were the runners in the event for Coahoma.

Ozona won the meet with 171½ points. Crane came in second with 149½ followed by McCamey and Coahoma with 63 and 51, respectively. Fifth place went to Big Lake with 46 points and Stanton totaled 12.

Forsan Linebacker Named To North All-Star Squad

Jackie Willis, outstanding fullback and linebacker for the Forsan Buffaloes during the 1970 football season, has been selected to play in the Texas High School Coaches All Star Football game in Fort Worth in August.

Willis is one of just four players selected from Class B schools throughout the state and will be playing for the North contingent.

Midland Belts Bobcats, 5-1

MIDLAND — The Midland Bulldogs handed the visiting San Angelo Bobcats a 5-1 spanking in District 5-AAAA baseball action here Saturday.

Ricky Schkade went the route on the hill for the Bulldogs. The win gives Midland a 3-1 league mark and 10-5 overall. San Angelo fell to 1-3 in family play and 5-12 overall.

Steve Caraway and Bill Hand each had two hits for the Bobcats while Paul Blanscott had two hits in three trips for Midland.

IN WASHINGTON, CINCY Baseball Season Opens Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1971 baseball season begins Monday with traditional openers at Washington and Cincinnati in which the Senators will be without the services of right-hander Dick Nixon and the Reds will be without the services of first baseman Lee May and center fielder Bobby Tolan.

But while the spotlight will be on the Senators and Reds Monday it will shift throughout the country over a three-day stretch before all 24 teams have taken the field with sky-high hopes and matching payrolls for baseball's 102nd season.

Almost a score of players will be pocketing more than $100,000 for their season's work, including such stars as Carl Yastrzemski, Willie Mays, Frank Howard, Hank Aaron, Bob Gibson, Frank Robinson, Pete Rose, Harmon Killebrew and three of the sport's most controversial figures—Curt Flood, Denny McLain and Richie Allen.

The latter three all will be on display Monday in some fashion or other with Allen and his new Los Angeles Dodger teammates also beginning play, in a night game, after Flood and McLain have put on their new uniforms.

Flood, who still is suing baseball, likely will be in the outfield, and McLain, suspended most of the 1970 season, will be on the bench, awaiting a Friday debut, when the Senators open against the Oakland A's in the Presidential Opener without the President.

Nixon will be flying from the Western White House to Washington Monday and is not expected to be on hand for the ceremonies surrounding the throwing out of the first ball, but there is a chance he will show up before the 1:30 p.m. EST, game ends.

An hour after Senators' starter Dick Bosman begins matching pitches with Vida Blue of the A's, Cincinnati's defending National League champions will take the field against Atlanta with Gary Nolan opening for the injury-plagued Reds against Phil Niekro.

At 8:30 p.m., the Dodgers begin play at Houston as Allen, the controversial slugger acquired from St. Louis, slips into his latest role while Bill Singer opens on the mound for Los Angeles and Larry Dierker for the Astros.

Sixteen more teams begin play Tuesday before the world champion Baltimore Orioles and Chicago White Sox become the last teams to take the field on Wednesday, the Orioles opening at home against Washington and the White Sox in a double header at Oakland.

The Tuesday schedule lists nine games. In the American League, Milwaukee will be at Minnesota, Cleveland at Detroit, New York at Boston and Kansas City at California for a night game. In the National League, it'll be St. Louis at Chicago, Montreal at New York, Philadelphia at Pittsburgh and San Francisco at San Diego and Los Angeles at Houston in night games.

The Reds, who totally wiped out the opposition in National League West last year, are expected to find it more difficult this season due to the injuries, questionable pitching and Allen, who is expected to make the Dodgers that much stronger.

While the Reds are attempting to defend their laurels in NL West, Pittsburgh's Pirates will be doing the same thing in NL East with a pitching staff bolstered by the addition of Nelson Briles from St. Louis and Bob Johnson from Kansas City.

The Orioles, meanwhile, are strong favorites to repeat in American League East with their slugging triumvirate of Boog Powell and Brooks and Frank Robinson backing last year's three 20-game winners—Jim Palmer, Dave McNally and Mike Cuellar.

Baltimore also has reached out for added pitching with the acquisition of Pat Dobson from San Diego but could be subject to the problems of age with several stars in the 30-and-over category. In that event, Boston and Detroit can't be overlooked.

The Red Sox have Yastrzemski, baseball's highest salaried player with a three-year, $500,000 contract, and new faces in shortstop Luis Aparicio and catcher Duane Josephson from the Chicago White Sox and reliever Ken Tatum, acquired from California in the Tony Conigliaro trade.

The Tigers, who traded away McLain, have a new left side of the infield with third baseman Aurelio Rodriguez and shortstop Ed Brinkman, along with pitcher Joe Coleman, coming from Washington in exchange. They also have a new manager in fiery Billy Martin.

Martin is one of only two new managers in the majors, with Dick Williams of the A's the other. Williams will be out to try and push Oakland past the defending champion Minnesota Twins in AL West, but no one is overlooking the California Angels.

The Angels, who finished third last season, have been strengthened by the addition of Conigliaro's bat to go with the one used by AL batting king Alex Johnson.

LOOKING 'EM OVER Harton Had A Winner

By TOMMY HART

Vernon Harton, who coached the Big Spring High School basketball team to 39 victories in two seasons beginning with the 1958-59 campaign, is back in high school coaching.

He serves as the combination high school principal and head cage mentor at Bullard, not far from Jacksonville, and took the team to the Class B Regional meet before it ultimately lost to a state semifinalist, Cherino, by 10 points.

VERNON HARTON

Bullard ended play with a 35-9 won-lost record. One of Vernon's outstanding players was his 5-11 son, Ray, who averaged about 14 assists a game. Ray is headed for either Tyler Junior College or Kilgore JC. The Hartons, who still reside in Jacksonville, plan to build a home on Emerald Bay at Lake Palestine. Harton tried it as a sporting goods salesman for a while after coaching at Jacksonville Baptist College but found the demand for travel too taxing. The Minnesota Twins, which lost three straight games to Baltimore in the American League playoffs last year, had succeeded in measuring the O's seven times in 12 starts during the regular season. Bob Milburn, the San Angelo scribe who tries to psyche all athletic opponents of San Angelo Central either through the written word or by sticking pins in dolls that faintly resemble coaches and sports writers, says that golf teams in District 5-AAAA are weaker than they were last year. That's not an opinion shared by the golf coaches, who think the league offers more outstanding talent this spring than it has in a long time. The University of Texas' share of the Cotton Bowl loot was $357,098, which is more than the Longhorns earned in their first four appearances in the Dallas classic. Athletic trainers in 5-AAAA have worked out a plan whereby the home trainer looks after the welfare on both the resident and visiting teams in an athletic contest, thereby freeing trainers of visiting schools for other chores. The idea works well everywhere but Abilene, where school officials have never subscribed to the idea of a trainer. Skippy Spruill, the former Odessa football star, will try it again as a middle linebacker for the San Antonio Toros this fall. The Toros have three exhibition games booked this spring, the first of which will be April 25 against the Fort Worth Braves.

Melvin Perez, the Howard County JC cage star, has a chance to go to the University of Montana on a scholarship. It appears his teammate, Shelley York, may wind up at Oklahoma Christian College (where ex-Abilene Cooper mentor Bill Vilines is now range boss). Decell Lewis, another HC star, is entertaining offers from both Oklahoma Christian and Panhandle A&M. Coach Harold Wilder of HCJC sent out 150 letters to basketball prospects who are winding up their high school careers. Mike Epstein, the Jewish slugger who has been forced to sit on the Washington Senator bench because Frank Howard hits more home runs, says he can't play the outfield because football busted up both his arms. An Abilene personality named Max King whose dodge is denkiat at Big Spring in a column recently by writing "there is probably some reason for the selection of Big Spring as a site for the District (5-AAAA) setto, but I can't imagine what it is." Someone should explain the facts of life to Mr. King. There are better places to hold the meet, perhaps, but one of them is not Abilene — at least not this year. Jerry Johnson, the former Odessan, did well enough in spring training, from all indications, to win himself a place on the roster of the San Francisco Giants. The top junior college basketball prospect in the state reportedly is Kilgore's Clinton Harris, a 6-7 forward. Most of the better juco boys the past season were freshmen. The Baltimore pitching staff hurled 22 more complete games than any other mound corps in the American League last season. NCAA regional basketball tournament will be played next year in Morgantown, W. Va.; Dayton, Ohio; Ames, Iowa; and Provo, Utah. Although there was criticism of the facilities, Houston's Astrodome could host the NCAA semifinal and championship games again in about five years. Texas is rated no lower than third in the first of the 1971 football ratings, the one prepared by Football News. Ranked ahead of the Longhorns are Southern California and Nebraska while Notre Dame is fifth, just behind Tennessee. Lefty James Newman won his first pitching decision for Pan-Am University of Edinburg. Only Florida State has been ranked above Pan-Am nationally. Bert Yancey is 6-1 to win the Masters Golf tournament, according to Golf Digest Magazine — just behind Jack Nicklaus, who is 5-1. Don Stevens, who retired as Forsan football mentor recently, explained his decision by saying "I thought I did my time."

Astros Open Against LA In Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Larry Dierker, the only 20-game winner in Houston's history, will oppose Los Angeles righthander Bill Singer Monday night when the Astros and Dodgers open their 1971 National League season in the Astrodome.

A crowd of about 30,000 is expected to watch the Astros launch their 10th season and seventh in the Astrodome.

Dierker was a 20-game winner in 1969 and posted a 16-12 record last season. Singer, hampered by illness and injury, was 8-5 for 1970.

The Dodgers finished second in the National League West last season with an 87-74 record, 1 1/2 games behind Cincinnati. Houston placed fourth with a 79-86 mark, 24 games out.

Both clubs have some new faces.

The Dodgers acquired Richie Allen during the winter from St. Louis and the controversial slugger is slated to start in left field.

Houston obtained rookie shortstop Roger Metzger from the Chicago Cubs and the youngster had a fine spring. With Metzger at short, veteran Denis Menke moves to first base.

Tom Griffin and Don Wilson, Astros pitchers who suffered arm problems last year, appear to have recovered.

Harry Walker, beginning his third full year as manager, says his charges are the best Houston team to come out of spring training.

"The Astros are good enough to make a run for it," he said. "If arms stay good, we can be real tough."

However, Walker believes the Dodgers could be the toughest club in the West.

"The Dodgers are young, for the most part, but one of the fastest," he said. "With good pitching they could be the best in baseball."

HOUSTON (AP) — Probable lineups for Monday's Los Angeles-Houston opener:
Los Angeles: Willis as catcher; Grobarkewitz 2b; Davis if Allen if 1b; Parker 3b; Mota if Haller c; Garvey 3b; Singer p.
Houston: Cedeno if Morgan if 1b; Wynne if Menke if 1b; Rader 2b; Edwards; Metzger ss; Dierker p.

McCRANEY MEDALIST Steers Take Second In District Golf

SAN ANGELO — Big Spring Blacks hung in there Friday to hold Midland Lee Whites to the same 20-point edge in District 5-AAAA golf, and in doing so, crawled into second place with a one-shot lead over San Angelo Number One.

The Big Spring challengers fired a 308 Friday for a three-day total of 947, which is 20 strokes off the Lee pace. Midland Lee also shot a 308 Friday.

Mark McCraney was the Friday medalist with a par 72, but Mike Adams, Midland Lee, is the overall medalist by one stroke over McCraney. Mark went to the 16th tee three strokes over par, then proceeded to birdie the last three holes. This marked the second consecutive week Big Spring has provided the medalist.

By holding steady over the San Angelo Country Club course, the Big Spring Blacks improved their chances to figure in the district race. They

Referendum Proposals May Change Scholastic Rules

AUSTIN (AP) — A referendum on loosening up the athletic amateur and awards rule is underway among members of the Interscholastic League, university officials said Saturday.

The referendum was authorized in November. Results will be disclosed at the annual league meeting here May 8.

League officials said Saturday only about 100 schools had returned the ballots, with about 1,100 still out.

Also placed on the ballot Nov. 2 by the league's legislative council was the question of moving the starting date for high school football practice one week and changing the date of the first game from the second Thursday in September to the first Thursday.

The proposal would amend the amateur and awards rule to apply only to activities sponsored by the league. In other words, a high school football player would not be penalized, for example, for winning a prize in a rodeo or boxing or wrestling.

Another proposal on the referendum would exempt student officials from provisions of the amateur rule. For example, a high school football player could officiate in a volleyball game.

Two no-athletic proposals were also placed on the referendum. One would permit the use of electric typewriters in league typing contests. The other would allow special education pupils to be eligible for academic scholarships.

A special committee to study swimming regulations will report to the next council meeting, in November 1971.

Morton's Chippers Top Webb In Double Header

Morton's Chippers opened the 1971 softball season on a winning note here Friday night winning both games of the double header from the Webb Air Force Base nine, 5-3 and 12-7.

Cotton Mize went the distance for Morton's in the opener and allowed the armers just four hits while striking out five.

Roy New, Jerald Cox and Minard McMahan paced Morton's hitters in the first game with two hits apiece. Contreras had a single and double to pace the Webb stickmen. Irvin took the loss.

In the nightcap, Al Oldfather started on the mound for Morton's and went five innings and received credit for the win. He needed relief help from Mize to quell a Webb uprising. Roy New and Jim Roger each had two hits to lead the winners' hitting attack in the second tilt. One of New's shots was a two-run homer in the opening frame. Oakey Hagood, who had walked, scored ahead of New.

Dwight Pegg paced the Webb hitters in the second game with two hits in three times at bat. He had a double and a single. Bruce Gregg was the losing pitcher for Webb.

West Cagers Win Again

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — For the third consecutive year, the West has won the East-West Senior All-American Basketball Classic, this time 137-110 in a game of run-and-gun.

The West's 137 points Thursday was the largest winning total in the game's three-year history. It beat by one point the number accumulated by the West squad last year in a 136-121 game. The year before that, it was West 98, East 85.

"They played real well together," said West Coach Bill Russell, who got double figure scoring from seven of his eight players.

Ernie Banks Will Miss First Opener In 17 Years

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just like money in the bank, the Chicago Cubs never worried about one starter for 17 Opening Days.

But this year will be different — this year Ernie Banks will be missing.

The spirit is willing, but the knees aren't, doctors said Thursday as the Cubs put their gilt edge slugger on the 21-day disabled list.

The 40-year-old Banks, tortured by arthritic knees, hasn't responded as expected to treatment and workouts this spring.

Banks said his main concern was "not to hurt the club. I don't want to embarrass the team, making it look as if the Cubs were playing someone who is hurt."

Banks was the National League's most valuable player in 1958 and 1959 and has a career total of 509 home runs.

Teams continued to pare down for Opening Day, including the Montreal Expos who sold infielder Marv Staehle to Atlanta for an undisclosed sum. The Expos also said that outfielder Adolpho Phillips would be left behind when the club broke camp, to be either sold, traded or assigned to the minor leagues.

Cincinnati got down to the 25-player limit by sending pitchers Pedro Borbon, Pat Osburn and Ross Grimsley to the minors and placing first baseman Lee May on the 15 day disability list and the Chicago White Sox slid to 25 by optioning outfielder Pat Kelly to the minors and selling pitcher John Purdin to Hawaii of the Pacific Coast League.

Orlando Cepeda and Earl Williams uncorked home runs, but the Atlanta Braves needed an infield out and a rundown play in the seventh inning to trim their Richmond farm club 4-7 in Thursday's spring training action.

Western Championship On Line Here Friday

Big time wrestling returns to Big Spring at the Municipal Auditorium Friday night at 8 p.m. with a double main event on the card.

The first main event will be for the Western States Championship between the Spartan and Ricky Romero. The masked Spartan will be making his debut in the spring city. He is a big, rugged individual and is unbeaten since coming to these parts.

The second main event pits Cyclone Negro and Nick Kozak. Negro is another new face to Big Spring wrestling fans and he is another grappler who can do it all in the ring. During the past five years he has been one of the top ten rated wrestlers in the world.

A special treat for local fans will be the girl wrestlers. Sandy Parker, the black girl champion will be going against Marie Laverne, the Texas Ladies Champion.

The opening match is a tag team affair featuring the Butcher and the Beast against Cowboy Carlson and Ramon Torres.

Tickets will go on sale at the auditorium at 3 p.m. Friday with ringside duets selling for $2, general admission $1.75 and children 4-11 will be admitted for $1.

Larry Dierker and Denny Lemaster checked the New York Yankees on four hits, leading Houston to a 5-0 victory and Juan Marichal gave Milwaukee only one run in seven innings as he pitched the San Francisco Giants to a 4-1 victory in a tune up for the curtain-raiser next week.

Pinch-hitter Gene Lamont delivered a two-run single in the bottom of the ninth inning, capping a wild, 42 hit affair and handing Detroit a 13-12 victory over Boston.

Billy Williams and Jose Ortiz each had three hits in a 13-hit attack and Jim Colborn, Phil Regan, Earl Stephenson and Ron Tompkins combined on a four-hitter, leading the Chicago Cubs to an 8-0 rout of Cleveland.

A triple by Campy Campaneris and double by Felipe Alou highlighted a four-run eighth that carried the Oakland Athletics to a 4-2 success over the San Diego Padres.

Manny Sanguillen got in two runs in a three-run second inning and Al Oliver contributed a pair of doubles and scored two runs, powering Pittsburgh past Cincinnati 5-4. Mike Hedlund and Jim York pitched a combined four-hitter as Kansas City checked St. Louis 2-0 and Philadelphia rejects Mike Anderson, Greg Gossen and Greg Lubinski collected nine hits as Eugene of the Pacific Coast League, beat the parent Phillies 9-7.

Wicks Signs Portland Pact

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Sidney Wicks of UCLA signed a five-year contract Friday with the Portland Trail Blazers of the National Basketball Association.

The terms of the contract were not disclosed but it was believed to be for $1.5 million.

"The Trail Blazers offered more money. That's why I came here," the 6-foot-9 Wicks told a news conference after the signing.

Was the difference strictly dollars?

"I would have to say yes," said the All-American who helped UCLA to its fifth consecutive NCAA basketball championship last weekend.

Harry Glickman, executive vice president of the Blazers, would say only that the contract would give Wicks financial security.

Wicks had been reported to be seeking between $1.5 million and $2 million.

The Blazers picked Wicks Monday in the NBA college draft. Wicks said he had given definite consideration to the Texas Chaparrals of the American Basketball Association, who also drafted him and offered him a $2.3 million contract.

The pact with Texas was said to have considerable annuities. The Blazers said their offer would be mostly cash.

Permian Whips Cooper, 2-1

ODESSA — The Odessa Permian Panthers ripped the Abilene Cooper Cougars, 2-1, in District 5-AAAA baseball action here Friday.

Permian hurler Collins Rico threw a five hitter for the winners, who are now 4-0 in league play.

Footle led the Permian hitting attack with two safeties and Polnick had a pair of hits for Cooper.

Fishing Good At Moss Creek

The past week has brought some great catches at Moss Creek Lake, including several seven-pound large-mouth bass.

Manual Jara landed one of these, and Neel Barnaby another. Barnaby also netted a 7 1/2-pounder, but she was loaded with eggs, so he turned her loose.

M. Willbanks hooked a 6 1/2-pound large mouth bass, Fred Jara a four-pounder, Keith Blackington a two-pounder, and Bill Sample a 1 1/2-pound specimen.

Kevin Lancaster had a four-pound white bass, which was only 20 ounces off the state record.

Reporting catches of channel catfish were: L. L. Judgens, 2 1/2 pounds, Darwin McBeth, two pounds, Ester McDonald 1 1/2 pounds, and Leo Brummett and Benny Cantrell five and two pounds.

How Do You Fix A Golf Tourney?

(AP WIREPHOTO)

TROUBLED TREVINO — Lee Trevino has his troubles as he blasts from a sand bunker on the 13th hole in the Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament in Greensboro, N.C.

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — How do you fix a golf tournament? Easy. You don't.

That's the consensus of touring professional and officials, who point to two main drawbacks any would-be fixer would encounter in an attempt to arrange the finish of a pro tournament.

1. There simply isn't that much action, that much gambling, by the big-money boys on pro golf, and
2. There are too many players involved.

Almost all sports have had their bad moments. Baseball had its Black Sox. There were the point-shaving scandals in basketball. Football, boxing, racing all have their closets peopled by skeletons.

Although very much a gambling game on the amateur-club level, professional golf has a history amazingly free of any aint of scandal.

"There are enormous possibilities for cheating in golf," said Joseph C. Dey Jr., commissioner of the Tournament Players Division of the PGA. "It is a credit to the game and the men who play it that we are so free of it."

Still, there was an ugly incident early this year, shortly after Arnold Palmer had won the Bob Hope Desert Classic. A recently-fired professional caddy charged onto the green during the presentation ceremony shouting "It's a fix, it's a fix."

The man was arrested and taken to a mental hospital for observation.

The professional tourists now play for a minimum of $100,000 a week, ranging up to $250,000. Those huge figures, on the surface, would appear to appeal to professional gamblers.

But the size of the purses actually is a deterrent to fixing.

"What would it take to bribe a player?" asked one tour regular.

"$100,000? Why should he take that when he's got a chance to make $25,000-$40,000 legitimately?"

And, even if one player could be fixed, could be persuaded to throw away a couple of strokes so that someone could win, even that would be no insurance.

The size of the field and the medal play format for most tournaments prohibits that.

"You couldn't possibly do anything, try to make any fix, until after the third round," mused a tour regular. "Now first of all, that wouldn't give you much time."

"And then, how many guys would you have to get to? Say you fix the two or three or even a half dozen, and what's that going to cost? Even if you got that money, what's to stop somebody else from coming five or six or seven strokes away and winning it all?"

"No, I just don't see how it could be done."

"Besides, how do you fix Arnold Palmer or Jack Nicklaus or Billy Casper or Gary Player?"

"There just isn't that much money."

"They don't care about anything but winning. And if they're in the field, even eight strokes back, they still have a chance to win it."

And what about another possibility, purse splitting? Say two players are involved in a playoff with $30,000 to the winner and $17,100 to the loser. Suppose they agree to split it, $23,550 to each regardless who wins.

NEW VETERANS STADIUM — The new Veterans stadium will be dedicated in Philadelphia today as the new home for the Philadelphia Phillies baseball team and the Eagles football team. The stadium will seat 53,000 for baseball and 65,000 for football and has been sold out for the Phillies' home opener April 10 against the Montreal Expos.

HCJC Netters Fare Badly In Killeen Meet

KILLEEN — The Howard County Junior College tennis teams didn't fare too well in the Central Texas College tournament held here Friday.

The Hawks won three matches and lost six and the distaffers recorded the same score.

Winning matches for the male side of the ledger for HCJC were Steve Mitchell with a 6-3, 6-1 win over Mark Hafernick of Wharton; Mitchell and Walter Sanders topped Lee McLeary and Potts of McClendon by default and Richard Welch and Dennis Smiley downed Brinkley and Stuard 6-4, 7-6.

Dolores Cobar won over Jane Allerton from San Jacinto 6-3, 6-4 and over Shirley Tomlinson of Temple 6-0, 6-2. Linda Miller teams didn't fare too well in the tournament.

Hockey Coach Is Confident

GENEVA (AP) — Watch out for the U.S. hockey team in the 1972 Winter Olympics at Sapporo, Japan.

That was the word today from Coach Murray Williamson of Edina, Minn., even though the Americans were relegated to Group B in the World Ice Hockey Championships Friday night.

"I think we'll win a medal in the Sapporo Olympics because of the experience our young players gave gained in this tourney," Williamson said.

Selective Drive Tourney Today

The United States beat West Germany 5-1 for a final won-lost record of 2-8, and missed by one goal staying in Group A for the 1972 championships at Prague.

The Americans had to win by five goals to avoid the demotion to Group B since the Germans had beaten them 7-2 in their first game.

Williamson pointed to Jim McElmury of St. Paul, Minn., Tom Mellor of Cranston, R. I., Henry Boucha of Warroad, Minn., and Dick Tomason of Chisholm, Minn., as "the boys who can make our Olympic squad."

Late-rising golfers still have until 12:30 p.m. today to sign up for the selective drive tournament that begins at 1:30 p.m. this afternoon at the Big Spring Municipal Course.

Late Saturday afternoon 29 entrants had signed up for the event.

Golfers must be members of the Big Spring Golf Association to play but non-members may join the association today and still be eligible for the tournament. Details are available from officials at the Muni course.

PRO BASKETBALL WAR CONTINUES TO RAGE

By The Associated Press

The pro basketball war promises to heat up still more next week as star college basketball underclassmen start thinking like millionaires.

George McGinnis of Indiana and Julius Erving of Massachusetts are the latest to reveal that they might forsake the remainder of their college careers and play for the pros.

McGinnis, a sophomore at Indiana expected to lead the Hoosiers back to greatness, said flatly he will skip his last two years of college to sign a pro contract.

Erving, a junior last season, also disclosed he was considering an earlier-than-expected pro career while denying one rumor that he had signed a seven-year, $500,000 contract with Virginia of the ABA.

MINNESOTA STEAL — Twin's first baseman Rich Reese gets his hand on second before Yankee shortstop Gene Michael put the tag on him. Action came in the second game of the 15-inning round robin played in the Astrodome Friday night. The round robin was played between Houston, New York

Houston Rookies Work Out For New Coaches This Week

HOUSTON — Coach Ed Hughes and his Houston Oilers coaching staff will get their first look at the Oilers' 1971 rookies at a special three-day rookie camp which gets under way Thursday.

Hughes and his assistants — Walt Schlunkman, Fran Poltfoot, Ernie Zwahlen, George Dickson, Burnie Miller and Walt Yowarsky — will send the rookies through two-a-day drills Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Thursday's opening day work-outs will be highlighted by an Open House from 6 to 8 p.m. at which time the public is invited to meet the Oilers players, coaches and staff. The Open House is sponsored by the NFL Club, the official booster club of the Oilers.

Daily workouts will be held at the Oilers' practice field on the corner of Fannin and Braeswood and will be open to the public.

Houston's top two rookies — quarterbacks Dan Pastorini and Lynn Dickey — will not be on hand for the three-day session since Coach Hughes plans another special week-long camp just for the quarterbacks.

"The three-day workouts will be devoted largely to individual drills from the respective coaches," said Hughes. "We just want to check the agility, speed and other skills of the rookies. We'll use Charley Johnson, Jerry Rhome and scout King Hill to do the throwing for us during the workouts."

The following rookies are scheduled to attend the three-day rookie camp:

Dick Adams (DB), Miami (Ohio); Willie Alexander (CB), Alcorn A&M; Bucky Allshouse (DB) Rice; Willie Armstrong (RB) Grambling; Phil Croyle (LB) California; Calvin Fox (LB) Michigan State; Joe Hoing (G) Arkansas Tech; Andy Hopkins (RB) S. F. Austin; Macon Hughes (WR) Rice; Larron Jackson (T) Missouri; Russell Price (DE) No. Carolina Central; Steve Svitak (LB) Boise State; and John Thompson (T) Minnesota.

Nicklaus Favored In Masters Event

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Arnold Palmer is hot again. Gary Player is even hotter. Bill Casper is rested and ready but Jack Nicklaus is the man to beat next week in the 35th Masters Golf Tournament.

Seventy-nine hand-picked stars, some from as far away as Taiwan and Buenos Aires, tee it up Thursday at the Augusta National Club with Nicklaus, already holder of the PGA crown and eyeing a professional Grand Slam, standing all by himself as favorite at 6-1.

The men pressing him in the unofficial odds are those who have been most prominent in recent Masters history—Palmer, winner of two events this year and leading money winner; Player, bounding in from consecutive victories at Jacksonville and Miami, and Casper, the defending champion who has been sitting out the Florida tour because of allergies to Florida insecticides.

The three of them are rated

Super Rookie Tops Scorers

NEW YORK (AP) — Super rookie Dan Issel of Kentucky, with a torrid stretch run, won the American Basketball Association's scoring title this season with a 29.88 average.

Issel used two 51-point efforts at the end of the season to nose out fast-closing Rick Barry of New York, who also had a 51-point night the final week and finished with a 29.39 average.

Issel scored 2,480 points to 1,734 for Barry. Pittsburgh's John Brisker was third with 2,315 points for a 29.30 mark.

Mel Daniels of Indiana won the rebounding title, also in the season's final days. He took top honors with a 17.99 average, but Denver's Julius Keye grabbed 131 rebounds in his last seven games to draw within half a rebound of Daniels in the final standings.

Zelmo Beaty of Utah took the two-point field goal honors with a .555 average; Carolina's George Lehmann finished in three-point field goal shooting with a .403 percentage and Barry topped the league in free-throw percentage with an .890 average. Barry's teammate, Bill Melchioni, chalked up 672 assists for an average of 8.2 to pace the ABA in that department.

Two Repeaters On All-State

By The Associated Press

Anthony Manning of Kountze and Jesus Guerra of Roma are repeaters of the Texas Sports Writers' Association Class AA all-state basketball team.

Lynn Royal of state champion Hughes Springs, was the leading voter getter in balloting by sports writers across the state.

Rounding out the first unit are James Brannon of Kountze and Kent Ballard of Friendswood. Ballard also was an all-state quarterback on the football team.

Guerra, a junior, now has a chance to make a rare third appearance on the first unit.

Named to the second team were Randall Treadwell of Eastland, Rodney Unruh of Friendswood, Kent Bradford of Dimmitt, H. T. Burrow of Linden-Kildare and Bill Todd of Friendswood.

Third teamers are Steve Routh of Ballinger, Wenche Garcia of Roma, James Langston of Ralls, Rudy Gandaria of La Joya and a tie for the fifth position between Vernon Polk of Van Vleet and Dan Kubinski of Ysleta Parkland. Routh also was a third-team selection last season.

Cunningham Triggers Philadelphia Victory

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Billy Cunningham jumped and rebounded for 33 points and 15 rebounds as the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the Baltimore Bullets 98-94 Saturday and sent their best of seven game series to Baltimore Sunday for the deciding game in the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Cunningham's jumper from the foul line with 2:50 remaining and ignited a 9-4 rally that clinched the victory. It was the first playoff victory for the 76ers on their home court in nine games since they beat Boston in April, 1968. The 76ers had lost 10 of 11 playoff games on their home court.

The 76ers, who had trailed in this Eastern semifinal series 3-1, led by as much as 16 points in the first period and were ahead 55-40 at halftime. Baltimore came back in the third period with a 24-8 rally, including a spree of 12 straight points, that earned the Bullets a 68-67 lead.

Philadelphia rallied to lead at the end of three quarters, 75-74. The lead changed hands six times in the final period before Cunningham's jumper gave the 76ers a lead they never lost.

Stamp Machines

Reliable persons will be selected in this area including entire Big Spring and surrounding area to own and service postage stamp machines in local stores. More postage stamps are sold than any other product in the country. Sales of this necessity are in the upper billions yearly and you can get your share of it now. Profits are greater than ever.

All accounts are secured by company experts, therefore no selling is required. This is a servicing business. It is not a "Get Rich Quick" scheme, and not a job but an opportunity to get into a depression resistant business that can be started spare time and be developed into a big profitable full time business (with company financing) if you are truly ambitious and sincere.

YOU CAN MAKE UP TO $200 Monthly & Over Spare Time
$3000 Monthly Full Time

To qualify, you must have a car, a few hours weekly and a cash investment of $1295. For a personal interview, write to Postage Stamp Co. of America, Suite 148, 4500 Campus Dr., Newport Beach, Calif. 92660. Include phone number.

BEHIND EVERY SUCCESS STORY IS A MAN WHO GRABBED AN OPPORTUNITY!!

And here's that opportunity! Ull Snack Shop vending machines.

A proven winner in the growing $5 billion a year market. One of the few markets left where the independent operator does the lion's share of the business.

Ull Snack Shops are a proven business opportunity with a proven line of nationally famous brands of confections that sell themselves. If you can invest as little as $600 to $1500 and 10 hours a week in your own car to begin, you can build a business. Your income is commensurate with your desire to succeed through hard work and conscientious service.

You need no experience, you make no personal sales calls. We will train you, counsel you, and secure your locations. You service them, and earn the profits yourself.

If you're interested in improving your income and your life style, fill out the coupon below.

We don't have to start from scratch each year.

We've been making the same basic VW for so long now, you'd think we'd be bored with the whole thing.

But the fact is, we're still learning. For no matter how perfect we think one year's model is, there's always an engineer who wants to make it more perfect.

You see, at the Volkswagen factory we spend 100% of our time making our car work better and 0% making it look better. Any change is an improvement.

And when we do make new parts we try to make them fit older models. So there's nothing to stop a Volkswagen from running forever.

(Which may explain why Volkswagens are worth so much at trade-in time.)

Starting from scratch each year can get in the way of all that.

Just when they've ironed out the kinks in the current model, they have to face the kinks in the next.

We'll never understand all the hoopla over the "big changes" for next year's models.

Publishers Launch Attack Against TV Ownership Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association launched an all-out campaign Friday against government proposals that would bar many newspapers from owning radio or television stations and community antennae TV systems.

The publishers filed their formal opposition with the Federal Communications Commission. They broadened the attack on the plan by sending every member of Congress copies of the document backed up by studies made of multiple ownership of information and entertainment channels in various communities.

EQUAL PLEA

The association set forth its position at a news conference during which its general manager, Stanford Smith, stressed that the newspapers "seek only equal consideration with all other citizens in the electronic media licensing system."

Smith, supported by Harold W. Andersen, publisher of the Omaha World-Herald, contended that diversity of media ownership, and access to the public "can best be promoted by not ruling out any class of potential owners and by letting those who best serve the public hold the licenses."

The association contended that the agency lacks jurisdiction to extend its licensing authority "to the unregulated print media or to take into account, penalize or discriminate against newspapers in the regulation of radio, television or CATV systems."

Andersen noted that the acts and intent of Congress repeatedly back up the publishers' position. He said also three prior chairmen of the FCC have testified the agency "does not have statutory authority to discriminate against any category of licensees as a class, including specifically newspapers."

BIG MONEY

The FCC, spurred by the Justice Department, last year proposed policies which would require multimedia owners to reduce their holdings within five years and would bar newspapers as a class from owning radio or television stations or CATV systems in their home market cities.

The publishers contended in their presentation that the immediate effect of the FCC proposal, if carried out, would be the forced sale over a five-year period of 476 television and radio stations in some 155 communities having an aggregate market value of $1.9 billion.

West Texans Need April Showers Now

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texans hope April showers will be forthcoming at once and in volume.

March was not good for agriculture, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Optimum planting dates have and are passing as farmers wait for rain needed to insure stands and to get crops growing. The above average daytime temperatures and cool nights and continuous winds are further complicating things, Hutchison said.

Ranges, except in limited areas, are proving little or no grazing. Fires are a constant threat to remaining dry forage. Ranchers are feeding and hauling water to keep livestock in the best possible condition as they await badly needed moisture.

DRY PLANTING

Dry planting has been the rule over widespread areas. Other farmers choose to wait for moisture, delaying the planting of major crops, the director said. Grain prospects declined. The situation over-all is not good.

District agents reported:

South Plains (Lubbock): Pre-plant irrigation is in full swing. Dryland areas need rain to complete plowing for planting. Corn planting has started, onion and potato planting is near completion. Livestock are holding up well with heavy feeding.

Rolling Plains (Vernon): The entire district badly needs rain and grains are in poor condition. Ranges are poor, feeding is heavy, and marketing and hauling water are continuing.

Far West Texas: Warm, windy and dry. A general rain is badly needed. Livestock are fair, grass is very short; feeding is increasing. Irrigated crops were good and growing. Preplant irrigation is heavy for cotton planting. Alfalfa is making good growth. Good calf and lamb crops are on the ground.

West Central Texas: Small grains are about gone with most plowed up or dead. Planting is delayed due to the dry soil. Livestock are in poor to fair condition with feeding heavy.

Central Texas: The drought is severe. Grain has already been plowed up and that left is more dead than alive. Some hay crops have been planted and sorghum is not showing uniform stands. Some fields are too dry to germinate the seed. Ranges are poor and heavy feeding is needed. Sheep and goat shearing is under way.

South Texas: Moisture is critically short and the dryland crop situation is poor. The onion harvest has started. Cabbage and carrots are moving to market. Ranges declined and fires are a constant threat. Heavy feeding is needed.

FOUR YEARS AGO, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Tompkins, 2711 Ann, presented their children with an Easter bunny. Since that time, an estimated 50 bunnies have hopped about the premises, some remaining as pets and the others providing tasty meals. Holding on to two favorites are Tonya, 4, and Troy, 7.

BY THE TIME a young lady has reached her sixth birthday, a new Easter dress is a pretty important purchase. The Easter bunny takes a back seat — but stays close enough to view the crisp yellow pique dress chosen by Elise Wheat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wheat, 901 Mountain Park Drive. The tie silk sash is yellow, black and white.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

The nicest thing about spring is that it comes when it's needed the most.

Nature has a delightful way of reminding hopeless, hurting hearts that there are new beginnings every day. Yellow sun, blue skies and soft breezes warm the spirit. Just yesterday, I heard pretty Linda Cross murmur something about having a conversation with a mesquite tree.

I've had a few conversations, too, while keeping my ear to the ground, so you might say they were a little more down to earth.

Lots of people are getting sand in their shoes, and I hear that Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moss, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Weaver are planning to get away from the dust for a few days by putting up the "Gone Fishing" sign and taking a tour of the Caribbean.

Capt. and Mrs. Tom Warren are sticking closer to home, but they're packed to leave tomorrow for her hometown of Las Cruces, N.M., and after saying "hi" to the folks, they'll head for the Las Vegas shows and Disneyland.

Even hard-working Marie McDonald knows when enough is enough. She and Mrs. Faye Barfoot of Abilene are off to Austin, San Antonio and Del Rio where they will see Maj. and Mrs. Allen Hornbarger, formerly of Webb AFB. He has recently returned from Vietnam. While Marie is gone, Mrs. Tommy Hutto will be helping out at the Book Stall.

Among the college students home last week was pretty Jan Toland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Toland. Didn't get to see her this trip, but she called, happy and excited, to say that she and her houseguest, Dina Whigham of Perryton, were leaving for a holiday in New Orleans. After the weekend flight, they returned here for a couple of days before heading back for the Tech campus at Lubbock.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY
The Ed McConnells, who have been helping the "Firehouse No. 6" project get going, will be leaving Big Spring in May as Ed returns to the University of Texas to work on a master's degree. (He managed Cosden Country Club for several years.)
Had a good visit with Mrs. Mary Cochran, former volunteer coordinator at Big Spring State Hospital, when she returned for the All Faith Chapel dedication. After a busy day, we got together over at Mrs.

Gerre Reaves' to chat about old times — and catch up on new ones. Of course, her older daughters, Katy and Linda, are married and living elsewhere, but the youngest, Mary Kay, is still in school at Kerrville. Incidentally, Mary said she recently ran into another ex-Big Springer, Mrs. Patty Gwynn, who has been at Kerrville for some time.

Jeff Grant got tired of waiting for that cotton pickin' (plantin'?) rain so he and Mrs. Grant caught a plane to Dayton, Ohio, to see their son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Daniel Strickland and children, Wende and Danny. The captain will leave soon for Southeast Asia, so Koila and the youngsters will be here for an extended visit this summer.

Mrs. Johnnie Morrison, who gets away from the county club only occasionally, recently had a few days in Tenaha (East Texas) with her mother, Mrs. Nora Lakey, and brother, H. H. Squires, 1005 Bluebonnet, Parker White.

Mr. and Mrs. Parks Squires, David and Michelle, recently visited his grandmother, Mrs. and his uncle and aunt, the Garner McAdames. The family was returning to their home in El Monte, Calif., after three weeks in Florida where he had some chores to do for NASA at Cape Kennedy Space Center.

Mrs. Steve Wilson, the former Betty Sue Fannin, was due to leave the Whiteman AFB Hospital in Knob Noster, Mo., on Friday, after undergoing surgery. Her mama, Mrs. E. L. Fannin, went up and brought back the baby, Steve, who will stay here until Mother is feeling better. His aunt, Jean Fannin, has spoiled him rotten already.

BIRTHDAY
I was pretty tied up a couple of weeks ago and had to miss a birthday party for Mrs. Culin Grigsby at the home of Mrs. R. L. Tollett. Other hostesses were Mrs. Jim Raoul, Mrs. Bobbie Lassister and Mrs. Ayra McGann. It was so nice, I think Juanita is looking forward to the next one.

Our Lucy Pickle is taking it easy over at Medical Center Memorial Hospital this week and that's a hard way to get a few days off. But call your 'Round Town' news in and we promise to get it in print.

Deadline. Call me?
P.S. Note in the back of my book says that E. T. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jones, has had a bit of surgery, too. He's over at Hall-Bennett being pampered by pretty nurses.

TO WED — Mr. and Mrs. H. C. (Hoss) Enger, Route 1, Box 103, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Beverly Ann, to John W. Farmer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Farmer Sr., 310 SW Avenue J, Seminole. The couple plans a Sept. 23 wedding in the home of the bride's parents.

Republican Unit Meets

Mrs. Floyd Mays presented a framed resolution to Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper in appreciation of her service as a school board executive member, at the luncheon meeting of the Republican Women's Club Thursday at the Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Jack Lipscombe, president, presided. The women sent a telegram to President Richard M. Nixon stating their opposition to the recent conviction of Lt. William Calley for the murder of 22 Vietnamese men, women and children. The group will meet again May 6.

Pattern Measures
When making clothes for small girls, always choose patterns by body measurements rather than by age.

Are You 60 Or Over? Make Money At Fair

The Howard County Committee on Aging is sponsoring a Talent Fair April 24 in the Highland Center Mall featuring saleable items in the arts and crafts field as well as miscellaneous homemade items.

Newlyweds Residing In Indiana

Miss Shirley Ann Jones and Tyrone Anthony Parrish were married in a ceremony at the State Street Baptist Church of Hammond, Ind., Feb. 20. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Jones of Hammond, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Parrish, 801 Marcy, Big Spring.

Mrs. Ronald Ferrel served as matron of honor, while Bruce Tyan was best man. A reception was held at Obie's Restaurant in Highland, Ind.

Following a wedding trip to Texas and Acapulco, Mexico, the couple is residing at 6916 Hohman Ave., Hammond.

Mrs. Parrish is a graduate of Hammond Technical Vocational High School, and is presently employed by Northern Indiana Public Service Company in Hammond.

Parrish graduated from Big Spring High School and the Canal Zone Junior College, Balboa, Canal Zone. He is now employed as an electronic instrumentation specialist for Cosden Oil and Chemical Company in Calumet City, Ill.

Anyone 60 years of age or over may enter the handicraft fair, exhibiting articles which may be sold.

Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county home demonstration agent, said there will be adequate display space so that the public may view all entries. Any homemade items will be accepted for sale with the full purchase price going to the entrant. All unsold items will be returned to the owner.

Items suggested for entry include crocheting, knitting, embroidery, aprons, handbags, coat hangers, woodwork carvings, handmade flowers, house plants of all kinds, home canned fruits, vegetables, pickles, jellies, preserves, lye soap, quilts, afghans, ceramics, pillow cases, baked goods, or permanent flower arrangements, lamps, doll clothes, etc.

"This could be the means of personal income for many people," said Mrs. Crawford. "At a similar fair in Fort Worth this year, 396 citizens netted almost $29,000."

Miss Bessie Love, formerly director of nurses at the Veterans Administration Hospital, is chairman for the event. Also, the Howard County home demonstration office, 267-8469, can provide information to those who want to participate.

Mrs. Crawford invites clubs or individuals to assist with arranging displays, selling articles or encouraging their friends to attend the fair and purchase items they need or want.

SPRING CLEAN YOUR CARPETS NOW!

HAVE THEM PROFESSIONALLY CLEANED WITH GOOD HOUSEKEEPING'S NEW STEAM TYPE PROCESS

HOW DOES IT CLEAN?
Heavy-duty Thermo-Jet equipment sprays a heated cleaning solution deep into the carpet pile, dissolving and loosening soil. A powerful vacuum instantly removes this dirt-laden solution, leaving your carpets clean and almost dry.

WILL IT HARM MY CARPETS?
No, because no harsh scrubbing is required as in obsolete shampoo methods. Also no sticky soap residue remains to attract more dirt.

WILL IT REMOVE SPOTS?
Yes, almost all spots can be removed. Our professional crews are highly trained in the latest spot-removal techniques.

IS IT EXPENSIVE?
No. The cost is surprisingly low and removing the deep-down dirt will actually extend the life of your carpets.

MRS. MERRITT D. HARSHMAN JR.

Wedding Solemnized In Baptist Ceremony

Miss Linda Kay Stephens and Merritt David Harshman Jr. were married at 7 p.m. Thursday in the Airport Baptist Church. The Rev. Arthur Thomas performed the ceremony before a lattice archway entwined with greenery and flanked with baskets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Merritt Harshman Sr. of Arlington, Tex., Mrs. M. Q. Stephens, 2506 Carleton, and the late Mr. Stephens.

Traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. James M. Norman, pianist, and Miss Patsy Lewis was the vocalist.

WHITE GOWN
The bride was attired in a floor-length satin empire-style gown accented with a scalloped redingote effect. The bodice was overlaid with lace, and featured long lace sleeves ending in petal points. The scoop neckline was trimmed with pearls, and a lace train fell from the shoulders. Her waist-length veil of illusion was held with a Dior bow of sequins and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of feathered carnations interspersed with Stephanotis and tied with ribbon streamers. Mrs. J. Gale Kilgore served as the matron of honor, wearing a spring green lace over organza floor-length gown. The empire-style gown was accented with a lace ruffle at the neck, puffed sleeves and a velvet bow at the back waistline. Miss Debra Campbell, the bridesmaid, wore a pale yellow gown identical to Mrs. Kilgore's. Both attendants carried a single carnation tied with matching ribbons. Dr. J. Gale Kilgore was the best man, and David Weber was the groomsmen. The bride's brothers, Mike Stephens and Troy Stephens, served as ushers. Miss Carol Brackett was

Fabric Re-Styled For Men's Wear

Cotton pique, one of the most popular fabrics for women's fashions is also moving over into men's wear for spring and summer. Long known as durable and easy to care for, pique has been re-styled for a more masculine look. In men's fashions, it turns up in sharp colors on lighter grounds — like green against blue, or gold with pumpkin — in strong plaids and checks. Noteworthy is a waffle-weave pique plaided in red, white and navy. It's used for a two-button shaped jacket that's teamed with shirt and slacks in solid white waffle-weave pique.

Britishers Will Hold Bazaar

Plans were finalized for the British Wives Club bazaar, slated for 10 a.m., April 17 at the Webb AFB John H. Lees Service Club, at a meeting Thursday evening. Posters announcing the bazaar have been placed at locations on base and in the downtown area.

Mrs. Bill Johnson, bazaar chairman, announced that there will be a wide variety of hand-made items for sale, including many knitted articles.

Mrs. Bryan Matthews presided, and nominations for new board members were accepted. Elections will be held at the club's next meeting at 7:30 p.m., April 15 in the service club.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served, and games were played. The table was centered with an arrangement of flowers hand-made by one of the members.

Mrs. Carla Petty Receives Award

Mrs. Carla Petty was named weekly queen by the TOPS Salad Mixers at a meeting Monday in the Knott Community Center. Mrs. Robert Nicholls presided. Guests are invited to attend the club's officer installation at 6 p.m., Monday, in the center. Winner of the Easter contest will be revealed at that time, and refreshments will be served.

Fair Credit Reporting Discussed By Club

Mrs. J. B. Apple led a discussion on the Fair Credit Reporting Act for members of the Big Spring Credit Women's Club. Mrs. C. W. Mahoney presided at the Settles Hotel Thursday. Members discussed how the act affects the consumer and the credit granters, and how a person applying for credit can review his file or correct an error in the file. Mrs. Apple announced that she will host an annual tea for the club members May 2, replacing the regular monthly meeting. Mrs. A. A. Cooper as a new member. Borzie R. Fletcher, credit office manager at Hemphill Wells, was a guest. Miss Sandra Davis won the door prize, and Mrs. Noel Hull led the closing prayer.

NEW HOME AND NEW FRIENDS — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McBride, Mark and Stacy are happy they came to Big Spring. They like their new home and their many new friends. Mrs. McBride had heard West Texas was desolate and treeless, but they have bigger trees in their back yard than they have had anywhere else. McBride is the dealer representative for White's Stores in the West Texas area.

'Our Own Mountain' Intrigues Newcomers

By BARBARA LORD
The kids truly love living on the side of a mountain," said Mrs. Ronald McBride. "They've written to all of their friends and told them to come see 'their' mountain."

The McBrides moved into their home at 511 Highland a little over a month ago from Garland. He is the dealer representative for White's Stores, Inc., and travels to 23 stores in the West Texas area. They were given a choice of four or five towns to live in and chose Big Spring because it is in about the center of his territory. "I'm awfully glad we moved here," Mrs. McBride said. "I feel like Big Spring is my home now. Everybody is so nice that I'm getting spoiled."

The McBrides have been honored with neighborhood and church get-acquainted socials, and are amazed at the friendliness of the townspeople. "One neighbor I hadn't even met yet, invited me to a coffee to meet the neighbors, and when I got there she had 13 people over," said Mrs. McBride.

In addition to getting settled in their new home, the McBrides are getting acquainted with local places and activities. They attended the recent Rattlesnake Roundup, and have climbed South Mountain.

Mrs. McBride looks forward to searching out antique and 'junk' shops to find items for their attractively decorated Early American home. She enjoys rummaging through old items in search of a "good bargain." She and her husband have antiques several pieces of furniture for their home, and plan soon to redecorate their daughter's room.

One reason Mrs. McBride enjoys Big Spring so much is because she isn't working. In Garland, she worked as an x-ray technician for two orthopedic doctors and said she never realized how much it meant to the kids to have her at home during the day.

MUCH TO ENJOY
"There are so many things about Big Spring to enjoy," Mrs. McBride said. "There are a lot of different birds here; more than in the Dallas area. We put up a bird feeder and I just enjoy watching them. The vultures have recently come to the mountain, too."

The McBrides have joined the YMCA and the children are elated that they can swim year around. Stacy, 8, is in the Brownie Scouts, and Mark, 9, is in Cub Scouts. Both attend College Heights Elementary School. The family pets are three dogs.

"I don't know if I can ever get used to the dust storms or not," mused Mrs. McBride. "I think we were here about two weeks before the neighbors realized our poodles were white instead of beige. But I do think I can be considered a native West Texan now, because I didn't clean up immediately after the last dust storm. I ran around hectically after the first few, trying to keep everything dusted."

more time for family activities. "We both love water skiing," said Mrs. McBride, "but he doesn't like it like I like it. He gets tired of driving the boat before I get tired of skiing."

CAMPER
The whole family likes to camp, and they visited seven states with their camper during a two-and-a-half week trip last year. They enjoy fishing, and managed to get in one deep-sea fishing trip in Florida last summer.

"We like to do things as a group," said Mrs. McBride. "We enjoy outdoor activities the most and always have a good time." They also bowl and play some bridge.

Mrs. McBride was born in Enid, Okla., but when she was a junior in high school her family moved to Wichita Falls, Tex., where she later met and married her husband. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mackey, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. McBride, all of Wichita Falls.

Pharmacy Facts
By Bob Knight, R. Ph.
For many centuries, even thousands of years, the effectiveness of drugs was established by trial and error or by wishful thinking. Alchemists concerned themselves with whether or not a remedy worked. They dared not hope to establish WHY it worked; that was beyond their fondest dreams. We owe most of our modern miracle drugs with their life saving and life extending abilities to a branch of science known as "biochemistry" which has applied laboratory techniques to the treatment of disease. Today, before your doctor prescribes medication for you, it has been established by research not only that the treatment will be effective but why and how it achieves its cure. We know why people bring their prescriptions to us... they like the fast, accurate prescription service and also the friendly atmosphere. We really enjoy serving you.

Contest Begins For Mother Of The Year

Who will be Howard County's "Mother of the Year?" The contest is being held this year under the dual sponsorship of the Howard County Chapter of Young Homemakers of Texas and Radio Station KBST.

Any mother who resides in Howard County is eligible for the competition and need only be nominated by her husband or one of her children by way of a brief letter.

The letter, in 25 words or less, should state "Why I Think My Mother (or wife) Should be Howard County's Mother of the Year." It should contain the woman's full name and address, along with the number, names and ages of her children and a brief resume of her activities in the contributions to the community, home and family.

The nomination, postmarked no later than April 21, must be mailed to Mrs. Johnny Justiss, P. O. Box 196, Coahoma, Texas, 79511.

One winner will be named, as well as two runners-up. Numerous prizes will be awarded to the winner, with smaller gifts going to the two runners-up.

The Young Homemakers committee working on the contest are Mrs. Tom Warren and Mrs. Mike McCreary, publicity; Mrs. Bobbie Lindsey and Mrs. Mike Eggleston, prizes; and Mrs. Gaylon Williams and Mrs. Andy Wilson Jr., judges.

Heat Exposure Softens Plastics

All plastics fall into one of two categories — thermoplastic or thermosetting.

Thermoplastic materials soften when exposed to heat and harden when cooled regardless of how many times the process is repeated.

Thermosetting plastics are set into a permanent shape when heat and pressure are applied during the manufacturing process — and reheating or reapplying pressure will not change the shape of the materials.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Shortes, 2100 Alabama, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their granddaughter, Miss Carla Ray Carlton, to Teddy Mack Latham. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carlton of Tulsa, and the prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Latham, also of Tulsa. The couple will be married June 18 in the First Baptist Church, Tulsa.

Major Events Slated By Golf Association

A spring bouquet of blue irises, yellow gladioli and pink heather set the theme for the monthly Ladies Golf Association luncheon held Friday at Big Spring Country Club. Tables, placed in a U-shaped arrangement, were covered with gold cloths.

Mrs. Walter Wheat, president, was the presiding officer, introducing the guests, Mrs. James Leffler, Mrs. Charles Walker and Mrs. Kinney Taylor.

Mrs. Harold Davis reminded members that an informal Easter Parade will be held for children and grandchildren of members during the Easter Sunday lunch hours at the club. After lunch, the children will be entertained at an Easter egg hunt.

Mrs. Lowell Jones announced that, beginning at 9 a.m., April 20, free golf lessons for women members will be held every Tuesday and Thursday for four weeks. C. G. Griffin Jr. will be the instructor.

Also, it was announced that the club entertainment committee is planning a major function each month in order that new members and their families can become better acquainted with older members.

Hostesses were Mrs. Robert Stripling, Mrs. Obie Bristow, Mrs. Akin Simpson and Mrs. Charles Sweeney. The centerpiece was won by Mrs. Hank McDaniel.

The May luncheon will have

Sees Work Of Knitting Machine

Mrs. Carroll Hardison, guest speaker for the Elbow Home Demonstration Club, displayed and demonstrated a home knitting machine Thursday in the home of Mrs. R. B. Covington Jr., 2405 Carleton.

Mrs. Hardison demonstrated the speed of the machine, and showed several garments she had made, including a sleeveless dress and a two-piece girl's suit. She said she can complete a garment in one day with the machine.

Mrs. Stewart Anderson, president, and Mrs. R. P. Morton gave the devotion. It was announced that the club will host the Howard County HD Council at 2 p.m., May 3 in the HD agent's office.

The next meeting is at 9:30 a.m., April 15 in the home of Mrs. L. M. Duffer, Old San Angelo Highway.

Two Retiring Teachers Receive Gifts Of Appreciation From PTA

Mrs. James R. Hale and Mrs. Jack Reed, who are retiring from their teaching positions at College Heights Elementary School in June, were presented gifts of appreciation by the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday at the school. Both of the women are third grade teachers and Life Members of the PTA.

Officers for the 1971-1972 school year were elected, and Mrs. David Hodnett, PTA city council president, conducted the installation. They are Mrs. W. A. Moore, president; Mrs. Joe Newnam, vice president; Mrs. Charles Bell, secretary; and Mrs. Harlan J. Hill, treasurer.

Mrs. Hodnett compared the new officers to parts of a tree, and said that all parts must work together to remain healthy. The officers were presented white flowers.

In other business, perfect attendance pins were presented to James Beam, principal, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. C. K. Orr, Mrs. Charlie Shanks and Mrs. J. E. Swindell.

Mrs. Swindell presided, and reported that the PTA scrapbook and yearbook received excellent ratings at the recent spring conference. Also at the conference, Mrs. Swindell was awarded a life membership to the PTA.

Mrs. Shanks reported that an area will be black-topped for use as a volleyball and basketball court, and that a road will be made from the Goliad cafeteria to the College Heights cafeteria.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Shanks, and refreshments were served by Mrs. Moore. The room count was won by Mrs. Tom L. Newton's second grade and Mrs. S. A. Walker's fifth grade.

Committee On Aging Announces Contest

COLLEGE STATION — A Senior Citizen's Portrait Contest for Texas residents 65-years and older has been announced by the Governor's Committee on Aging.

From the contest, the state's entry in the cover design competition for the National White House Conference on Aging will be selected.

The national winner will receive an expense-paid trip to the White House Conference on Aging to be held in Washington, D.C., Nov. 29-Dec. 4.

According to Mrs. Carter Clopton, executive director of the Governor's Committee on Aging, it is felt that the portrait of an older American can best be incorporated into the program cover. Figure drawings or paintings which express the age and personality of the subject are also acceptable in the competition. However, the effectiveness of the message is more important than the method.

Open to all senior citizens over 65 years of age prior to Dec. 31, 1970, the contest is not limited to amateur artists. Senior artists who normally sell their work may compete, but their entries may not be available for sale during the competition time.

The media is not restricted — any artistic method, whether color or black and white, which will lend itself to reproduction as a program cover may be entered. The size of the entry, however, is limited to 30x30x42 inches, including the non-glass frame.

Entries must have been done within the past three years by an artist who was at least 65 years old when the work was finished. The entry also must be submitted by the artist himself.

The Governor's Committee on Aging must receive the entries no later than May 7. All entries will be shown at the State White House Conference on Aging in Dallas, May 26-28. The Texas winner will be announced during the state conference, and will automatically qualify for consideration in the national contest.

Official entry blanks and criteria may be obtained from the Governor's Committee on Aging, Box 12786, Austin, Tex., 78711.

Rugged, Serviceable Denim Becomes Spring Fabric Pet

By Catherine Crawford (County MD Agent)

For play day or work day, choose the denim look — rugged, serviceable. Denim can be recognized by the coarse yarns and a left hand twill on the face of the fabric. Indigo-blue is always the signature for denim, but for Spring '71 there are many colors for many places.

Denim-look fabrics are available in local retail stores in all cotton, cotton-polyester blends, woven or knit, permanent press finish, solids, stripes, prints, tie-dyed, blue, navy, green, red, gray.

The total look is one of earthiness. The pattern should be one that incorporates those construction details unique to denim — topstitching, flat felled seams, patch pockets, front closings. Denim is especially good in dresses, rainwear, shirts, jeans, overalls, pants.

EASY TO SEW

Denim is easy to sew and requires no special equipment. Follow the general pattern directions, but add these special finishes to make your denim garment truly the "denim look."

TOPSTITCHING — stitching that is visible on the outside of the garment. It is done from the outside whenever possible because the stitching-line can be controlled from the visible side, and machine stitching looks better on top than underneath. The stitch length is often lengthened for the sake of looks.

Use topstitching as a design feature by sewing about 1/4 inch apart along side seams, at hem, around edges of collars, cuffs, pockets or down front opening. Thread may be matching or contrasting in color.

FLAT FELLED SEAM — a feature of sport clothes. You can fell an armhole seam only if the top of the sleeve is almost straight, as in a shirt sleeve, with a very shallow cap and no ease.

Directions: Make a plain seam right sides out. After pressing the seam open, press it again with both seam allowances turned in one direction. Trim away under seam allowance to about 1/4 inch. Fold in the top seam allowance to half its width. You may want to practice on some scraps of fabric before beginning to work on your garment.

POCKETS — a must is sharp edge seams for those patch pockets or hip pockets. To achieve the desired look in your pockets, interface, trim, grade, clip and topstitch.

POINTERS

Try these pointers in making a patch pocket.

1. Turn raw top edge of pocket section 1/4 inch to the wrong side and stitch. Fold the hem to the right side on the fold line indicated on the pattern. Stitch along the seamline around remaining edges. Trim seam to 3/8 inch and trim the corners at the top fold.

through the seam allowance at curves. Turn to the wrong wide on the stitched line, baste and press. On a square pocket, fold corners to the wrong side on the seam line and press.

3. Turn seam allowance on stitched line; miter the corners; baste and press the pocket.

4. You may want to topstitch the top edge with 2 rows of stitching 1/4 inch apart.

5. Baste the pocket to the garment; topstitch with 1 or 2 rows along the edges. To reinforce top corners, either —

6. Stitch a triangle at each top corner.

7. Make close zigzag stitches, about 1/8 inch wide, for 1/2 inch.

8. Backstitch for about 1/2 inch.

For added country interest: Decorative facings — along the center front-closing, neck, sleeve hem and pocket, the hem can be faced with such fabrics as prairie print.

Fastenings — Select decorative zippers, sporty buttons in colored plastic and decorative or gripper snaps.

Trims — decorative braids, wide, bright, textured in weave or embroidery, designs of Indian or peasant prints — the denim look.

A LOVELIER YOU

Blue Undertones In Redhead Fashions

By MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely asks: What colors are most becoming to me? I am a flaming redhead with very fair skin. I have heard that flattering shades bear the same undertones as one's skin. But, because of my hair, I wonder about spring colors like pink-carnation or red-violet.

Another point that puzzles me is the clashing colors in so many print fabrics — pink and orange for instance. I'm not sure I like such combinations or that they like me.

The answer: As a general rule the main consideration in the choice of fashion colors is flattery to your skin. Red hair can prove the exception. When it is alight with orange-red flames, colors tinged with red from pink to maroon are sure to clash and should be avoided.

The safest choices carry a blue undertone — blue-green, blue-violet and the like. Fair skin is traced with blue, you know. So the scheme makes a nice compromise between skin and hair tones.

As for "modern art" print fabrics, your personal feeling about their dissonance is beside the point. Their becomingness is the crux of the matter. For a dark brunet, a mix of neon orange and red could prove wildly flattering. Even, so, she must like it before she attempts to wear it.

YOUTHFUL EYES
Color affects our moods as well as our looks. You would not want to wear a shade that put you in a tizzy.

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Coat, Dress Are Easy To Make

Julia Diane Hall Gets OWC's Scholarship

Miss Julia Diane Hall, daughter of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Daniel W. Hall, 172-A Fairchild received a $200 scholarship from the Officers Wives Club at its luncheon meeting Thursday in the Officers Open Mess. Miss Hall is a senior at Big Spring High School and plans to attend Howard County Junior College.

Mrs. Porter Medley, parliamentarian, introduced the candidates for OWC officers and read their qualifications for the positions. Elections will be held at the next luncheon, May 6, during a closed meeting at the club. Women not attending the luncheon may vote beginning at 10 a.m. at the club.

John Quigley, owner of Quigley's Floral Shop, demonstrated how to make an Easter bonnet centerpiece. Using a green straw hat with a wide brim, Quigley made an arrangement of pink tulips, stem-dyed yellow and mint green carnations, Scotch heather, daisies and flat juniper.

"Wire is one of the florist's best friends," said Quigley as he wired the copper base and oasis into the hat. "You can do more with wire than with anything else."

Quigley suggested using the natural foliage from flowers for the greenery accents. After completing the arrangement, he answered questions about flower dying and arranging.

OWC COFFEE

Mrs. Thomas Brandon announced that the next "Hi and Bye" coffee is at 10 a.m., April 22 at the club. Other upcoming activities include Mah-jongg at 9:30 a.m., April 13 and April 27; and bridge at 9:30 a.m., April 15 and April 29. Persons interested in playing may contact Mrs. Jack Hallett, 263-3159, for reservations.

Mrs. Smith Swords announced the sale of "I Care" pins for a project sponsored by the National League of Families for the benefit of prisoners of war and those listed as missing in action in Vietnam. Sale proceeds are used for stationary and postage for letters sent to the North Vietnamese peace delegation in Paris, France.

Mrs. James Clevenger, first vice president, presided at the meeting, and announced that the OWC board is accepting suggestions for nominees for the 1972 edition of "Outstanding Young Women of America". Nominations are based on club activities, community service and family life. Suggestions may be phoned to Mrs. Clevenger at 267-7281.

Guests included Mrs. Hall, Miss Hall, Miss Carol Seaman, Mrs. Nelda Boyd and Mrs. James Finfinger. New members present were Mrs. Cindy Adams, Mrs. Peggy Linberg, Mrs. Peggy Baker and Mrs. Sharon Blaumont.

FAREWELLS

Also, the club bid farewell to Mrs. Michael Leinen who is going to Taiwan with her husband; Mrs. Clevenger, who is going to Spokane, Wash., while her husband is in Vietnam; and Mrs. Jerry Callahan, who is going with her husband to Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio.

The stage was decorated with a large mobile gum-drop tree and a white cotton Easter bunny. The tables were covered

Hair Care Rules To Prevent Loss

NEW YORK — Loss of hair among women is on the increase, according to dermatologists.

Here are some reasons for the balding trend that are easily eliminated. Don't sleep on rollers, especially the brush type. The rollers pull and twist the hair at the scalp.

Do keep your hair and scalp clean. Gentle shampoo cleans without stripping natural oils that give hair shine and manageability.

Eat a well balanced diet that will contribute to the growth of healthy hair.

Gentle hair brushing is important to increase the scalp circulation, but don't overdo a good thing.

Prints, Weaves In Men's Styles

Golden Age Club Schedules Party

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Westbrook Golden Age Club will meet at 7 p.m., Tuesday in the club building according to Mrs. Hoyt Roberts, president. There will be table games, music and refreshments.

The L. R. Messimer have been in Dallas as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Riss, former Westbrook residents. Guests of the Alvin Byrds were their nephew, the Rev. James Byrd, and family of Byran.

Mrs. Frank Oglesby spent last week visiting Mrs. Dan Oglesby in Abilene and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brackeen in Clyde.

Weekend guests of the Maxey Wares were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pope and daughter of Odessa.

The Carr Home Demonstration Club met Thursday in the

Hot Oil Treatment Conditions Hair

Dry hair is usually the result of nature's failure to produce sufficient sebaceous oil. Artificial heat and exposure to the weather are other causes.

Condition the hair and scalp with a hot oil treatment before shampooing.

Big Load For Lolly, But Goal's In Sight

By STEVE HULTMAN
Eualia T. Martinez, known as Lolly, dropped out of school at age 17 before she finished the ninth grade.

Her father was ill and unable to work, so Lolly had to help provide for her seven brothers and sisters living at home. However, each time she applied for a job, she ran head-on into twin barriers. She was told she lacked experience and education. So Lolly earned what she could baby-sitting.

About nine months ago, someone told Lolly about the Neighborhood Youth Corps (NYC). She inquired about it, learned the program offered counseling and training on the job, so she applied and was accepted.

Ramon Ortega is the NYC counselor responsible for Lolly. "She is doing better than most because she is faster. She has a wonderful personality and attitude," said Ortega. He counsels with her every two weeks.

JOB AT VA

Ortega arranged for Lolly to begin working at the Veterans Administration Hospital August 24, 1970, as a nurse's aide.

"I didn't want to be a nurse; I just wanted a job so I could make some money," Lolly said. But Lolly did a good job at Ward 3 East. She works from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. five days a week. She makes beds, fills water pitchers, escorts patients to and from lab and x-ray and assists the nurses in any way possible.

"She is very gentle and very thorough in her work," said Mrs. Richard Egan, her supervisor.

"I like Lolly," said Sidney G. McCullough, an Army veteran patient. "Everyone in the ward likes her."

After Lolly had worked at the hospital for a few months she became interested in becoming a Licensed Vocational Nurse (LVN).

"I was impressed by the nurses and decided I wanted to be one," said Lolly. "Mrs. Egan has been just great. I really enjoy being around people, working with them and helping them."

NIGHT SCHOOL

Lolly also got interested in her education and started night school. In two months she passed every test required to get a General Education Development (GED) certificate. The girl who had spent three years in the ninth grade became the one who finished the equivalent of three years of high school credit in two months.

Lolly has now applied for a scholarship to Howard County Junior College for LVN training. The program is a 52-week, five days a week program, leaving no time for her to work to support her family.

"I don't know how I will do it, but I am going to try," said Lolly.

Named To Area Posts For Eagles

Three members of Big Spring Aerie 3188 were named to district posts at the Eagles District 4 convention Saturday and Sunday in Odessa. They are Mrs. Mae Steel, vice president; Harvey Clay, conductor; and Mrs. Nell Tippie, trustee. They will be installed with other district officers in Midland; the date to be announced.

In other business at the convention, Roland White and Mrs. Lucille Moran were installed. Others attending from Big Spring were Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dalton, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls, Mr. and Mrs. James Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sayers, Mrs. Bert Brice, Mrs. Francyse Gatliff and Preston Ward. The convention was hosted by the Odessa Broncho Aerie 2914.

The Big Spring Aerie received third place trophy for attendance. The local aerie and auxiliary will elect officers at their first meetings in May.

Announcement Made Of Wedding In Tulia

The announcement is being made here of the wedding of Miss Lana Kay Sprawls and Jim Owell Carlton Feb. 20 in the First United Methodist Church at Tulia.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. R. Sprawls, Tulia, and the late Mr. Sprawls. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Carlton, Tulia, and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Owell Shortes, 2100 Alabama, Big Spring.

Dr. W. Neil Record, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Lockney, officiated for the ceremony, and music was by Miss Carla Carlton, pianist, sister of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Robert F. Devin, organist, aunt of the bride.

Presented at the altar by her brother, Jan Ray Sprawls, the bride wore a floor-length gown of peau de soie with Empire bodice, mandarin neckline and long, lantern sleeves with elongated cuffs. The A-line skirt, overlaid with Venice lace daisies, formed a train bordered with matching lace. Her veil of illusion was held by a cluster of lace daisies, and the bridal bouquet was a cascade of orchids backed by camellia foliage.

Miss Patty Harris, Canyon, was maid of honor, and other bridal attendants were Miss Sandy Wright, Canyon; Mrs. Jim Dickens, Lubbock; and Mrs. Richard Jacobs, Vernon. Their gowns were of lilac chiffon designed with high-rise bodices, lantern sleeves and A-line skirts of daisy print in lilac shades. Veils were attached to lilac pearl headpieces, and each carried a bouquet of lilac carnations, pink and white roses and babies' breath.

Lee Kesler of Tulia was best man, and groomsmen were Joe Don Morris of Canyon, Fred Boston of Plainview and Randy Mahaney of Tulia. The ushers were Mac Devin, Lubbock, and Teddy Latham, Plainview.

The couple was honored at a reception in the church parlor and took a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton are graduates of Tulia High School and attended West Texas State University. He is stationed with the Air Force at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio.

Painting Hint

When you've finished painting, paint a line on the outside of the can to indicate how much paint is left.

Solid Ties Are Back For Men

Wide, solid color neckties are a new choice for teaming with patterned shirts. The intricacy of the new shirt patterns and the intensity of their colorings almost demands that the tie be toned down. Also, many men have trouble with pattern on pattern, and this a simple solution.

A new look for casual wear is the sport shirt collar over the jacket collar. Since the new idea in sports shirts is to leave at least three or more buttons open, another new look is the chain look. Simply wearing a chain or two, with or without medallions to break the expanse of bare chest. The young will wear beads of their own stringing.

Use Light Touch For Skin Care

For combination skin, both oily and dry, a light liquid or fluid foundation is best.

However, first apply a moisturizer to the dry skin areas. Any lightly textured foundation will do on delicate or sensitive skin, but for extra day-long protection, always apply an under make-up moisturizer.

YOUTH ACHIEVEMENT FINALISTS ANNOUNCED

Winners To Be Named April 20

Thirty-two seniors and juniors in Howard County's high schools have emerged as the select group of finalists in the 1971 Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Award program.

A total of 80 nominations from Big Spring, Coahoma, Forsan and Sands, was received this year and these have been under intense study by a panel of eight judges for weeks.

The judges gathered Thursday evening for a final analysis, grading and determination of the elimination process. They confessed to a most difficult task, and said the standards of leadership shown by most of the nominees were exceptionally high.

Under stipulations of this year's event, there are 20 finalists from Big Spring High, and four each from Coahoma, Forsan and Sands. These, with their parents and dates, along with public and civic leaders, will be guests at the sixth annual awards banquet, to be held at the Big Spring Country Club at 7:30 p.m. April 20.

At that time, a top winner from each of the schools is to be announced.

These winners will receive handsome trophies and watches from Zale's Jewelers. All finalists are to receive special gifts, and all nominees are to have special certificates of merit.

Young people at the upper high school level were nominated by the public, and selection of finalists was on the determination of academic work, extra-curricular activities in school, participation in religious affairs and demonstration of leadership ability and public service in various fields of volunteer work.

"Purpose of this program," said the sponsors, "is to turn the spotlight of recognition and appreciation on those high school people who obviously are developing themselves as outstanding citizens and future leaders. Nominations themselves are a distinct honor, since they mean that others are appreciative of the worthwhile programs in which the youth engage themselves. It is high tribute to our youth that so many merit this confidence, and everyone of them is due a commendatory salute."

The finalists, by schools and in alphabetical order, are:

BIG SPRING
Vicki Annen, Charles Scott Birdwell, Debra Buchanan, Robert Carlisle, Sammy Joe Chappell, Sharon Cook, Marj Dirks, Douglas Daniel, Martha Fierro, Kent Fish, Connie Gary, Ben F. Johnson III, Milton Lee Jones, Catherine Macklin, Scott McLaughlin, Ranette Miller, Janie Renteria, Jeffrey T. Talmadge, Cheryl Turner, Randy Womack.

Sheri Lee, Arlene Milliken, Jackie Dean Wolf, Phyllis Faye Winn.

Jackie Lynn Condron, Gloria Jean Dodd, Debra Kay Fryar, Karen Diane Stovall.

Carla Hunt, Johnny Peugh, Larry Don Shaw, Mary Ann Wallace.

Dallas Cowboy Star Is Youth Banquet Speaker

One of the outstanding figures in professional football will be featured speaker at the Zale-Herald Youth Achievement Awards banquet April 20.

CALVIN HILL

back of the Dallas Cowboys.

Hill, a graduate of Yale, hit the NFL football ranks in 1969 with the force of a sonic boom, rushed for 942 yards in his first season and was named All-Pro Rookie of the Year everywhere, won trips abroad and was singled out for numerous honors.

Hill suffered injuries in the 1970 season which kept him from matching his first-year performance, but he remains a key in the Cowboy offensive strategy.

Hill previously had set many records as a player at Yale, and in addition to competing in football he was an outstanding track man. At age 24, he is listed in Cowboy records as standing 6-4 and weighing 227 pounds.

Hill is a native of Baltimore and attended Riverdale Country School in the Bronx before going to Yale. He is a history major and attends the Perkins School of Theology at Southern Methodist University during the off-season.

Hill has built a reputation as an able speaker, and is recognized for his special efforts in youth work.

Big Spring Rodeo Lures 'Gunsmoke's' Festus Here

FESTUS COMING HERE — Ken Curtis, who plays the role of Festus on the ever-popular Gunsmoke series, has been booked for personal appearances for all four nights of the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo June 23-24-25-26.

Cub Scout Leadership Training Sessions Set

The first in a series of six sessions in Cub Scout leadership training will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in Room 232, Veterans Administration Hospital. The session includes lessons in Cub Scout program planning, den meetings, den operation and pack operation. All cubmasters, den mothers, den leaders and Cub Scout committeemen are invited to attend. Bill Brooks, chairman of the leadership training committee, said, "Persons who have missed sessions in past programs can complete their training by attending these particular sessions in this program. Further information can be obtained from Brooks at the VA Hospital."

the part of scruffy Festus Haggin on the Gunsmoke series for the past 7½ years, has been booked for the annual Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo, June 23-24-25-26. Charlie Creighton, president, made the announcement Saturday, explaining that the rodeo dates had been set back one week in order to have Festus appear on the show each evening.

Coming with the noted television star will be his own band to back him up in the musical part of his show.

"I've seen Festus in a number of rodeos," said Creighton, "and I know the people in this area will be delighted with him."

In real life, Festus is Ken Curtis, successful entertainer and business man. Where unsuited and seldom-bathed Festus commits mayhem on the king's English, Curtis is a college man who speaks softly with perfect grammar, is neat and unassuming.

Still, his gift for portrayal of Festus comes naturally, for he patterned the character after an old nester, Cedar Jack, in his hometown back in Las Animas, Colo., where his father was sheriff. It so happens this is not far from Dodge City, the scene of his weekly exchanges with Marshal Dillon, Miss Kitty and Doc.

Curtis got his background in music by playing in the high school band and writing songs and music for college productions. For many years he sang in the Sons of the Pioneers, appeared as a vocalist on radio shows and for a time sang with the Tommy Dorsey and Shep Fields bands. After service in World War II, he caught the eye of Columbia pictures and played supporting roles in several western pictures.

In 1963 he appeared as a guest character on "Gunsmoke," as Festus, and the irascible individual immediately became a favorite and part of the Gunsmoke family. Unlike many actors who clamor to get off series which have brought them prominence, Curtis hopes the Gunsmoke family goes on and on.

Liz Taylor's Driver Grounded

MARGATE, England (AP) — The chauffeur for actress Elizabeth Taylor and actor Richard Burton has been forbidden to drive for a year after being found guilty of operating the film couple's $24,000 car while under the influence of alcohol. Gaston Sanz also was fined $600.

The 49-year-old Frenchman was accused of driving under the influence last August when the car hit a light pole, crashed into the side of a shop, banged a brick wall and came to rest in a car park.

Fina Acquires Market Outlets

DALLAS — American Petrofina today announced it has acquired the Oregon and Washington marketing properties of Harbor Service Stations, Inc. Involved in the transaction are 10 service stations and approximately 29 other outlets of distributors now identified with Harbor.

Harbor Service Stations, Inc. is a wholly-owned subsidiary of Union Oil Co. of California. The purchase marks American Petrofina's entry into the Pacific Northwest. Eight of the 10 controlled units are in Oregon, the majority around Portland; the other two are in Seattle.

The acquisition increases to 24 the number of states in which American Petrofina markets refined products. A company spokesman stated that the Harbor outlets will be changed to the FINA brand as soon as practical. Fina markets through 3900 Fina stations.

City Absentee Vote Total Doubles That Of Last Year

Absentee voting in person for the city commissioner election closed Friday with a total of 58 votes cast. Absentee votes by mail were acceptable as late as Saturday.

This year's total approximately doubled the 1970 total, according to city officials. The total for 1969 was 28 votes.

The election will be held April 6, with the polls opening at 7 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m. that day. The planning and zoning commission meeting scheduled for Tuesday will still be held.

Candidates for the two commissioner positions currently held by George Zachariah and Garner McAdams are, (as they appear on the ballot): M. R. (Frog) Koger, George J. Zachariah, Raymond B. Tally, M. K. Carson and Jack Watkins.

There will be five polling places for the election. The polls and election judges and alternates will be as follows:

Fourth and Nolan, Central Fire Station — W. J. Sheppard, judge and Alton Marwitz, alternate; Fourteenth and Airbase Road, closed fire station — Mrs. Floyd Mays, judge, and E. B. McCormick, alternate; Eighth and North Main, Northside Fire Station — Mrs. Rufus Davidson, judge; Eleventh Place and Birdwell Fire Station — Lawrence Robinson, judge, and Mrs. Oliver Cofer Jr., alternate.

Ship Disasters Compiled In Book

GREAT SHIP DISASTERS. By A. A. Hoehling. Cowles Book Co., Inc. $6.95.

One test of A. A. Hoehling's reportorial and writing skill is his ability to recount in capsule form, yet interestingly and adequately, several sea disasters that have been the subject of full-length books — the tragedies of the Titanic, the Morro Castle, the Andrea Doria and the Lusitania.

Back in the fifties, with his wife, Hoehling wrote the full-length "The Last Voyage of the Lusitania," and the chapter-long account of the Cunarder's last voyage in his new book based on the earlier work. Whether working in the abbreviated or the long form, Hoehling knows how to handle stories of the sea.

Sail and steam ships succumb to fire, storm, collision, torpedo and other causes, including the fury of a wounded whale, in the 17 chapters of Hoehling's book.

None of the stories is previously untold, but Hoehling has done more than to rewrite material that already has been printed. He has researched his subject matter, interviewed and corresponded with survivors of disaster, with kin of persons lost at sea and with relatives of people who figure in his stories. He employs eye-witness accounts with good effect.

His accounts of two riverboat tragedies are particularly vivid and dramatic: how explosions at the keel of the sidewheeler Sultanna on the Mississippi with a toll of 1,200, mostly paroled Union prisoners, and how fire gutted the General Slocum on New York's East River, bringing death to more than 900 on a Sunday School picnic.

As an added plus, Hoehling's list of 70 major ship disasters and his comprehensive list of books and sources on which he based various chapters should be invaluable to a student of sea lore.

Ethics Code Set For Educators

AUSTIN — Final adoption of this state's first "Code of Ethics and Standard Practices for Texas Educators" will keynote the Monday meeting of the professional practices commission at the Texas Education Agency building, 11th and Brazos streets in Austin.

Final results of the statewide referendum on the proposed code's 30 points are now being tabulated by computer at the Agency. The code will govern the profession beginning Sept. 1, 1971. More than 80,000 certified public school administrators, teachers, and other professional educators voiced their acceptance or rejection of the code in balloting which began in early February.

Upturn Is Coming In Texas Economy

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas economy is in "a state of limbo," but statistical indicators signal an upturn is coming, reports the Bureau of Business Research.

The economy is caught "between the paradise of a strong recovery without inflation and the perdition of a severe recession with inflation continuing," said Dr. Robert Williamson, finance professor at the University of Texas.

The strongest indicator of better things to come is the home-building industry, with building authorizations up 40 per cent in February, he said.

The January-February authorizations are 54 per cent above last year.

The average unemployment rate for the major labor markets in the state dropped from 4 per cent in January to 3.9 per cent in February. A year earlier, the figure was 2.9 per cent.

Personal income in February was 2 per cent above February 1970, meaning a loss because inflation grew faster.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROL RIGHTER

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening for you to decide the policies under which you would most like to operate in the days ahead. The church or studies of your choice, as well as newspapers and other sources can give you the answers suitable for your needs. Be expansive. Delight others.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you contact key persons early you find you can accomplish a great deal today tonight. Closest tie will gladly cooperate with you in whatever your ideas may be. Show that you are an appreciative person.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A fine day for handling those conditions at home that are not quite right. Show thoughtfulness for the needs of family. Loyalty at home pays off in big dividends later on. Take it easy tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Increase faith by attending services. Visit with good friends; those who are ill or otherwise engage in activities that make you feel you are living in a worthwhile fashion. Plan some trip that is necessary now.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Good day to plan how to have more financial success and to contact key people who can assist you in this. One in particular could be most helpful. Do some studying tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Good day to sit down with good friends and make mutual plans of worth, whether of a social or business nature. Then visit around and get further good results. Show that you are a charming person.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Sit down in the privacy of your study and figure out how to gain a big aim. Start working in right direction. Evening is fine for romantic happiness with the one you love.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contact that friend who can show you a good time in the elegant fashion you prefer. Get into group activity that can help further your career. Show others you are a charming conversationalist.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Ingratiate yourself into the good graces of bigwigs on this fine day and you get excellent ideas for advancement in your field of endeavor. Plan to be a more well-known and valuable citizen. Forget histrionics.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Listening carefully to what others say who are masters in their field gives you inspired ideas and impetus to join their ranks in due course of time. Make concrete plans later. Get to bed early tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Think out how to get your bills paid more quickly and save more money than any other emergency that may crop up. Mate gives fine new ideas. Follow through on them in union and get excellent results.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Contact associates and let us discuss plans for more successful and harmonious relations in the future. Good day for reconciliation with a charming who has been acting up some. Win over easily with a smile.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Plan early how to get duties handled with speed and accuracy. Take the health treatments you need early. Doing for others is a good way to make your own life more happy and profitable as well.

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Delays and confusion are apt to be a part of today's picture for you unless you make an effort to have everything exact. Clarify in your contact with others just what they expect of you. Also make clear what you feel they should do to make your relationship more productive.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) If you don't schedule your time more wisely, and let pleasure interfere with business you could become frustrated. Try to be more economical where fun is concerned. Show wisdom.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you continue to be stubborn at home, conditions there could get worse instead of improve. Show that you have a cooperative spirit and air works out just fine. Relax happily tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Overcome a feeling of fear and you win out where an important project is concerned. Consider the position of the other fellow and then all goes very well. Show that you are a reasonable person.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Although others may not understand your way of handling financial affairs, don't waste time explaining. Forget the social for now and concentrate on the monetary. Make cleverness pay off handsomely.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Plan how to gain your personal desires without getting tough or in the way of blowing who could give you much opposition. Being devoted to loyal associates is wise. Think constructively.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget personal anxieties so that you can accomplish a great deal in the business and creative world. Do not go against occupied standards of living. Show that you have a good mind.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Seek sincere friends instead of permitting self-seeking persons to take away some of your assets. Don't follow a certain man who keeps nagging you. This could lead you in the wrong direction.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) An associate could have an argument with a higher-up, but silence on your part sees it end quickly. Follow every law that applies to you and be safe. Taking even small risks could be hazardous now.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Getting out to look into new interests or entertaining friends is good this morning. Do some serious thinking about your personal aims. It may not be what you want after all.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Engage in activity you like most. Avoid a person who can be persuasive to much devotion to mate brings the fine results you want. Establish real harmony with him or her.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Use diplomacy with an irate family. Be as well as one you deal with in business. This way you can accomplish a good deal. Plan how to produce more in business and give. Be wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Keep busy at home and at work. Use utmost care in travel. The right choice of words is important now since others misunderstand your meaning easily. Say what you mean.

Your Vote Is Important

Voters elected trustees for school boards Saturday, and now Big Spring voters turn Tuesday to the important task of selecting two members of the city commission.

There is a good field of candidates from which to choose, and the least citizens can do is to honor this offer of public service by turning out to vote.

Normally, it is difficult to get 2,000 votes out for a city election, and 3,000 votes is getting into the stratosphere. Yet, there are at least 10,000 eligible voters within the corporate limits.

When less than a third of the people turn out, this means that a minority of voters have the voice in the selection of commissioners. And when less than a third vote, the minority factor becomes greater and greater. Short-cuts and single-shots can be employed to take advantage of light voting, and this is perfectly legal.

Yet, there are two places to fill, and we hope that voters will exercise a choice for both places. This will provide for selection of two individuals from the greatest possible number of voters.

Our city is not so large but what the individuals who have offered for places on the council are known to most other people of the city. If not, it is a relatively easy matter to ask friends about them, or even to ask the candidates themselves what their view may be.

We have a lot of people who profess great concern in democratic processes and who will raise their voices on the street corner, in the home, in the store and assorted other places. But the best place of all to raise a voice for good government is to vote in elections. That chance comes up Tuesday, and we pray you will use it.

Our Deepest Thanks

Without being presumptuous, we want to say on behalf of the entire community that the latest distribution of the Dora Roberts Foundation is deeply appreciated in Big Spring and Howard County.

Doubtless the $133,200 for local institutions will mean the difference in being mired on building programs and other activities, or being able to go ahead. It will be a godsend in every instance.

Looking back over the years, we marvel at the many good things which have come to our community because of the generosity of the Foundation toward our institutions. That we are able to have so many plus features for a city this size is in a good measure due to the far-sightedness of the Dora Roberts Foundation trustees. What has been done with these gifts likely could not have been done at all, or if it could have been through borrowing, it would have cost twice as much.

We give thanks for it, and especially for the memory of a good woman who had the vision to bless her home town.

Seed Catalogues

Around The Rim

Bob Whipkey

This is the season of the year when one facet of the credibility gap is 100 per cent ignored.

The person who feels the mysterious stirrings of Spring within his bones turns compulsively to the seed catalogues, and although deep within he knows he'll never produce the wondrous flowers, shrubs and vegetables as pictures, he never ceases to dream. He discards all shred of credibility.

HE KNOWS that last year, and the year before and the year before that, his strawberry bed was a failure, his champion radishes came in last and his prize-winning dahlias garnered no honors. But this Spring is a different one, and for six or eight weeks at least, hope springs.

If the government in its wisdom is making felons of all of us for one fool thing or another, it's time its sleuths took out after the producers of the garden catalogues.

THESE MIGHT NOT tell you how to bring to fruition those Super-Sensational, Prime, No. 1, Top Select fruits and vegetables, but they certainly entice you into the feeling that you, too, can be another poor man's Burpee.

The printer's art has reached its highest point in the production of Spring seed catalogues.

THE COLOR PICTURES are out of this world. There is no redder tomato, no pinker sweetheart rose, no corn as golden, no lettuce as freshly green than those pictured in the book. Even turnips and cucumbers look luscious.

The catalogues may be a deceit and a fraud. They don't actually SAY that you can grow blooms and produce as rich in color and health as those pictures, but they certainly want to make you TRY to grow them.

AS A WOULD-BE horticulturist whose misadventures have been confessed in this corner, I would have to report that my labors in flower bed and garden space have been so frustrating, disappointing and downright tragic that I had made a mild resolution not to fool with such efforts again.

But here comes warmer weather; one hears the chirping of early arrivals among the birds; one notes that even the mesquite is asserting its revival; and all of a sudden one's normal instincts to turn the soil become undeniable.

IN A WORLD so topsy-turvy that nobody believes much of anything anymore, it is strange but true that there remain gullible folk who accept everything they see and read in the seed catalogues.

It's not that I am so gullible; it's just that I thought maybe — just maybe — one more year?

Death Penalty

Marquis Childs

SAN FRANCISCO — As you drive toward San Rafael the turn-off to the right says San Quentin, and there is the great yellow stone prison shining in the brilliant California sun. Its death row now holds 85 condemned men. Along with everything else, California holds the record. Florida, with 72 prisoners waiting execution, is an outclassed runner-up.

THE SENTENCES of death pronounced against the four defendants in the Manson trial gives this booming state a big spurt ahead. Charles Manson and the three young women who were the principals on the bloody night that saw five corpses strewn about the lawn and house of actress Sharon Tate will presumably join the others on death row after all the appeals have been heard. This monstrous accumulation presents the governor, the attorney general and the parole board with a riddle that seems to have no answer. Do you send 99 persons to their death one after the other in the gas chamber? And is such a spectacle any real deterrent to the crime and violence rampant here, as almost everywhere throughout the country?

THE ACCUMULATION results from the fact that the Supreme Court of the United States has not yet passed on two challenges to the legality of the death penalty. Until the court hands down its decision the total will grow, and what will happen if the death penalty is upheld is anyone's guess.

THE NATIONAL total by the latest count, pre-Manson, was 631 — Louisiana and Ohio with 42 each and Illinois 31. Nine states — Alaska, Hawaii, Iowa, Maine, Michigan, Minnesota, Oregon, West Virginia and Wisconsin — have abolished the death penalty. The Supreme Court must rule on whether a jury has the right to impose death without pre-set standards determining its imposition. This is a ticklish legal question, and an opinion may raise almost as many doubts as it resolves.

COMMISSIONS GALORE have spelled out the clogging of the courts, the hideous overcrowding of the prisons, all the dire consequences of the law's delay. The Manson trial cost the City of Los Angeles a million dollars. And as it dragged on week after week and month after month, generating sensational headlines and extensive television coverage, the man from Mars might well wonder whether this was the way to arrive at a fair and impartial verdict.

There is slight evidence that the death penalty is a deterrent to crime. An estimated 40 per cent of the robberies and holdups in San Francisco are committed by heroin addicts desperate for a fix. These addled men would hardly be deterred by thoughts of the gas chamber.

PERHAPS THE very multiplicity of the condemned will be a block to wholesale execution. Sirhan Sirhan is in the San Quentin death row for the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy. Will he be executed, and will Dennis McGautha, whose case is one of those before the Supreme Court, be given the alternative of life imprisonment for killing the proprietor of a small market in Los Angeles? This is one for the wisest Solomon nowhere in view.

SHOULDN'T BE HIS TO BEAR ALONE

Will Volunteer Brakes Work?

By CAROLE MARTIN

NEW YORK (AP) — How much impact the Nixon administration's new plan to stabilize construction industry wages and prices will have on curbing inflation was a key topic of discussion in business circles this past week.

If labor and management looked upon the President's system on constraints on wages and prices as "a barrier to be circumvented, it will fail," said Labor Secretary J. D. Hodgson.

But he predicted that if the plan were viewed as "an opportunity to bring needed stability, sound growth, increased employment and a bright future to a troubled industry, then everyone will have gained immeasurably."

In announcing the plan Monday, Nixon warned that "disaster lies ahead" unless the inflationary trend in construction is countered. "On the other hand," the President said he envisioned "a bright and prosperous future," if sensible restraints were practiced.

UNTIED It will be some time, however, before it will be known whether the new system can, in fact, slow inflation in the building industry.

The plan would establish labor-management boards to review collective bargaining agreements in each of the construction crafts, with a committee representing labor, management and the public set up to review those boards' findings.

Under the administration's system, settlements would be acceptable if supported by productivity and cost-of-living trends, but only when they don't exceed average annual increases negotiated from 1961 through 1968, which was about 6 per cent per year.

But the system is a loose one, with the boards and the committee given considerable latitude in interpreting the criteria set forth in the President's order. Hodgson added that the 6 per cent figure wasn't "a hard and fast one."

Some observers noted that last year's settlements in construction average 15 per cent a year, so equity adjustment could wipe out the 6 per cent figure. Some crafts might demand more than 6 per cent this year in order to maintain their traditional lead over other crafts that settled for 15 per cent last year. Hodgson said some of last year's larger settlements might have to be

- Administration plan depends on voluntary conformance disregarded in making equity adjustments this year.

Leaders of construction unions weren't happy about the President's executive order. They said they would "obey the law" but would fight the President's plan by all legal means available.

I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers union, which faces industrywide negotiations with steel companies this summer, said his union would not accept any wage limit similar to that applied to construction bargaining.

The same day the President moved to curb the construction industry wage-price spiral, the Congressional Joint Economic Committee issued a report which concluded that the economy was not likely to attach the Nixon administration's growth goals this year.

COUNCIL NETWORK The committee majority called for creation of a board to apply voluntary guidelines as a means of restraining wage and price increases. A minority favored a national network of "productivity councils" to achieve efficiency.

Both approaches have been advocated by Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, but the administration generally has been opposed to such plans.

On Wednesday, Burns told a

Senate Banking subcommittee that the Federal Reserve Board unanimously opposed a proposal to let the board apply reserve requirements against various types of bank loans, instead of against only various classes of deposits.

AGREEMENT In other developments this past week: —Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and the British government reached agreement on use of Rolls-Royce Ltd. engines developed for Lockheed's three-jet Airbus. Terms were not disclosed and the agreement would have to be approved by the airlines that ordered the 300 passenger L-1011 Tristar jetliner and by banks financing the sales.

—Ford Motor Co. recalled all 220,000 Pinto minivans built through March 19 for modifications to guard against flash fires in the air cleaners.

—The government's Wholesale Price Index showed that the rise in prices of wholesale food and industrial goods eased in March. The over-all result of price changes for a broad range of wholesale food and industrial goods was an increase of two-tenths of 1 per cent in the index, sharply lower than the steepest two-month hikes in 20 years of nine-tenths in February and seven-tenths in January.

The Calley Case

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The tragic case of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., who has been convicted of the murder of civilians at My Lai, will probably never be forgotten. The young officer has been found guilty of the "premeditated" killing of at least 22 Vietnamese, including women and children. A military court handed down the verdict, but the issue will not end with the outcome of the trial and imposition of a life sentence.

SENATOR ABRAHAM Ribicoff, Democrat of Connecticut, for instance, has asked President Nixon to grant Lt. Calley executive clemency and to suspend his sentence. The senator says that all sides have committed horrible atrocities and that Calley "should not be made to bear sole responsibility for all wrongdoing."

What this really means is that officers of lower rank should not be held responsible for the action that follows emergency developments in an army operation. The theory, for example, is that in the particular case in which Lt. Calley gave his commands, the civilians were in an area where the Viet Cong had been located and from which they had been carrying on hostilities against the American forces.

STRICTLY SPEAKING, in a military sense an order should have been issued telling each officer exactly what should be done in carrying out the assault. But, if, under the stress of the moment, he urged his men to shoot down those who may have been involved in the attacks, could this be called a case of "premeditated murder"? Or was it a normal method of opposing this kind of enemy?

The Army now, through a military court, has declared Calley to have been wrong — and, in effect, has notified officers generally that they must not take the chance of killing innocent civilians. Just what impact this will have when troops in the field encounter similar circumstances is difficult to anticipate. But public opinion in the United States had been aroused by reports of what happened at My Lai, and the trial of Calley was a natural result of the outcries.

THERE ARE many people who feel that Calley himself was accused of "premeditated murder" when actually he felt at the time that he should attack those persons on enemy territory whom he thought were potentially dangerous or might be involved in guerrilla warfare. It is not an easy question to solve. The military court placed the blame on Calley doubtless because of a belief that this was the best way to revise discipline and teach officers that they cannot make decisions of this kind without specific authority from higher command.

SO FAR as is known, no officer of high rank directing the 1968 operation ordered the killing of unarmed civilians at the South Vietnamese village, and whatever action was taken on the scene supposedly was based upon what was believed to be necessary at the moment. The military court's decision will doubtless be studied by top officers of the Army and other services, and unquestionably will have an effect on the conduct of military operations in the future, particularly in areas where civilians may be involved.

THE CONTROVERSY will not soon be resolved. Military men will continue to ask just what rules they are to follow when they are sent on missions in such regions as Vietnam where guerrilla tactics are employed against them, and they do not know whether civilians carry hand grenades or have other weapons stored in their homes which can be used at any moment to cause the deaths of American soldiers.

No-Fault Whiplash

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — One of the things we're going to be hearing more about as time goes on is "no-fault insurance." Everyone has his own idea of what no-fault automobile insurance should be, but basically it boils down to the idea that when someone has an accident, his own insurance company would settle the claim instead of seeking damages from the other party or his insurance company.

The advantages of no-fault automobile insurance are that you would eliminate a lot of phony claims from people who say they had suffered grievous injury. Litigants would not have to wait years to be paid off for an accident, the nation's courts would be free to deal with other matters of much higher priority, and, hopefully, automobile insurance premiums could be reduced.

THE DISADVANTAGE is that no-fault insurance could put a lot of lawyers out of work.

It therefore comes as no surprise that the trial lawyers are cranking up a fierce lobbying campaign to prevent no-fault insurance from becoming the law of the land.

My friend Briefless, who deals in nothing but automobile accident cases, becomes very emotional when you mention no-fault insurance to him.

"They're trying to take the bread out of our mouths," he said tearfully. "If we can't sue, we'll die."

"Oh, come now, Briefless," I said. "It can't be that serious."

"YOU CAN say that. But do you know suing insurance companies is the second largest industry in the United States? If they institute no-fault insurance, you'll have breadlines from Baltimore to San Diego. I'm not just talking about lawyers. I'm talking about all the other people it will affect — private investigators, legal secretaries and paid witnesses, not to mention the yellow legal pad paper companies. There is more at stake here than two cars getting into a lousy accident."

"But Briefless, surely there is other law work that you can find?" I said.

"NOTHING that pays as well. Sometimes, if it's a difficult case, we get 50 per cent of the settlement. The very least we'll get is a third. If we lose we get nothing. But it's the only thing we know how to do. You can't say to a man who has been trained in 'whiplash' and 'pain and suffering units' to go out and learn a new trade. Do you know what has made America the great country it is today?"

"I'm not sure," I admitted.

"The right of one person to sue another person for an automobile crash."

"No kidding?"

"AND ALSO the right to select counsel to sue the other person, plus the right of the other party to select counsel to defend the suit. If you take these rights away from Americans, what have they left?"

"No-fault automobile insurance?"

"Exactly. The American dream in this country is to be hit by a cola truck or a Greyhound bus that was in the wrong."

"I never thought of it that way."

"Are you going to take this American dream away from the people? What fun is it to have your own insurance company settle with you, when in your heart of hearts you know that with a sympathetic jury you'll get $100,000 from the other guy's insurance company?"

Billy Graham

My Answer

An old friend will not speak to me because of a trivial disagreement. I'm heartbroken and unhappy about this and I would like to ask his forgiveness for my part in this. Do you think our long friendship can be mended?

D.R. Of course it can be mended if both sides have an honest and wholehearted desire to do so. Deep friendships, however, are harder to mend after a break. Shallower friendships do not mean so much and are easier to mend. The Bible tells us that if one has wronged us and then asks forgiveness we are to forgive without reservation, even to seventy times seven. But you say your former friend will not let you confess your part in the break, and will not speak to you. First, you must think well of him; then speak well of him. Do not intrude, but wait with kindly patience. Try to show your good will toward him unostentatiously. Restored friendship of its former great depth will amply repay both of you for your trouble. In due time, I am sure, the bonds that formerly held you together will be restored stronger than before. Make it a matter of prayer. God will help you.

A Devotion For Today...

Thus said the Lord, God, the Holy One of Israel, "In returning and rest you shall be saved; in quietness and in trust shall be your strength." (Isaiah 30:15, RSV)

PRAYER: O Lord, my God, come into my soul through the windows of quietness and trust. So may I know Thee and thus bear witness to Thee by my life. Amen.

RUNNELS

Plans Made To Entertain Sixth Grades

By LINDA LITTLE

Runnels' advanced choir will present a program for all the sixth graders in Big Spring in the high school auditorium, Monday morning at 8:45. The choir will sing two of its contest numbers alone, and four other songs with the Goliad choir. The bands will also play. This program is being held so that sixth graders can decide if they would like to take choir or band in the seventh grade.

Runnels' track team did well at the track meet Tuesday and Wednesday. Runnels' eighth graders had a total of five first places, four second places, eight third places, eight fourth places, seven fifth places, and six sixth places. The eighth graders had a total of 219 points.

The seventh graders had a total of five first places, three second places, five third places, eight fourth places, six fifth places, and eight sixth places. The seventh graders total number of points was 197.

Picture retakes were made this week at Runnels for those who had something wrong with their previous picture, and for those who had been absent when the first pictures were made.

The girls in the P.E. classes at Runnels are rehearsing for the P.E. program they will give after the Easter holidays. The first program will be for the VA Hospital and the Big Spring State Hospital. It will involve about 60 girls and their rhythm routines. Easter holidays start at 3:45 p.m. Tuesday. School resumes April 13.

School Newspaper Wins Merit Award

By KATHLEEN THOMPSON
The "Corral", school newspaper of Big Spring High, received the distinguished merit award for excellent journalism in Austin March 19-20.

Four members of the staff attended the Interscholastic League Press Conference with Mrs. Erma Steward, sponsor. This is the second year in a row the "Corral" has been given the distinguished merit award. The last regular issue will go on sale during the advisory periods Tuesday. Price of the last regular issue will be a dime. Subscriptions for the all school magazine will go on sale after Easter for 50 cents.

This magazine continues where the annual leaves off, covering all spring events not contained in the El Rodeo. The Junior-Senior Prom will be contained in the 20-page edition, as well as all the spring banquets the clubs have.

The journalism department has been selling pictures on the patio for 15 and 25 cents. The picture sale will take place again later in the year as the department clears the files of all the pictures taken during the year. It was announced by Mrs. Steward that next year's "Megaphone" editor from the Big Spring High School will be Ruth Payne.

The "Golden Horns" played Tuesday in assembly for the benefit of the Student Council. Selections played were of modern music. Thursday evening all three stage bands presented a jazz concert in the high school auditorium.

The Court Jesters and Thespians held a special meeting after school Wednesday to see the UIL one-act play being produced for district competition. The "Heritage of Wimpole Street" is based on the characters of Edward Moulton-Barrett, Elizabeth Barrett Browning's father, and her son, Robert. Also involved in the play are Elizabeth's two sisters, Henrietta and Arabel. Cast in the role of Edward Moulton-Barrett is Jon Rice. Portraying his grandson, Robert Barrett Browning, is David Wright. Henrietta is played by Norma Backs and Arabel is played by Joy Stevens. Leslie Welsh is cast as the maid.

The choral department participated in the UIL Choir Contest in Midland March 24. The Freshman Choir brought home a sweepstakes trophy from the event in Midland Lee High School. The Girls' Choir obtained a I in concert and a II in sight reading, while the Boys' Choir received a II in concert and a I in sight reading. The capella choir rated I in concert and II in sight reading. The Meistersingers received a II on concert and a I in sight reading.

Future Farmers Win Second Sweepstakes

By MARTY HARRELL
The Future Farmers of America traveled to Abilene Christian College Monday to compete in a judging contest.

The teams placed first in Range and Pasture and also in land judging. They also won the sweepstakes trophy for the highest total points. Those that placed in individual divisions were Ricky Mims first and Mark Hursh second in land judging. Lynn Romine placed third, Gary Posey, fourth and Jackie Rudd, eighth in the range and pasture division.

The results of the National Educational Development Test were reported Thursday. There was a total of eight students from the seventh and ninth grades to receive merit awards for scoring above 90 percentile.

Those named from the seventh grade were Rae Avery, Randy Conner, Joanna Haggard, Gary Hanson, Jo Mims, John Yater, and Lisa Zuck and Dale Henson from the ninth grade.

Stanton High's representatives for district spelling bee were named last week. Those going to district are Doyla Doggett, Mary Ann Villa, Mollie Adkins and alternate Sandra Meneffeld.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletics met last Tuesday. Guest speaker was Don Tollison from the "Crusade for Christ" campaign. The Huddle helped distribute leaflets publicizing the Crusade.

Stanton was entered in a golf match Wednesday. The boys participating came from last place to fourth with the A team shooting 358 and B team shooting a 399.

Tickets are now on sale for the Stanton Athletic Banquet to be held April 19 at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are being sold by Booster Club members, athletic and coaches. The price of the tickets are $3.50. The guest speaker will be Marshall Taylor. He is an assistant football coach at Texas Tech University.

GOLIAD FINALIST NAMED

Spelling Bee Champions Prepare For County Test

By MELANIE HAYWORTH
School spelling bee finals were held Thursday. Maridene Margolis won first place; alternate is Larry Cordes. Maridene will represent Goliad in the county spelling bee. Mrs. Janice Rosson, counselor at senior high school, acted as pronouncer. Mrs. Dorothy Smith, Mrs. Margie Schmitt, and Miss Doty Wilking were judges.

Goliad and Runnels competed in city wide track meet Tuesday and Wednesday. In the seventh grade division Goliad won over Runnels, 278 points to 197 points. Goliad's eighth grade track team also totalled up more points than Runnels, 263 to 219. Seventh graders placing first, second, or third in the meet were Dick Martin, Kim Wrinkle, Jimmy Cox, Jerry Williams, Kerry Robinson, Jerry Marquez, Jimmy Douglas, Tony Lester, Gary Cole, David Ramsey, Greg Halfmann, Jim Ray, Garry Moore, Scott Robb, Mike Valenzuela, and Barry Gautreaux.

Wallace, Barry Canning, Robert Grow, Billy Don Whittington, Wade Franklin, Mike Mounce, Virgil Spargo, Hayes Stripling, Bruce Geary, Terry Ramsey, Andre Hurrington, Terry Tredaway, Albert Vela, and Kyle Neighbors.

A cheerleading clinic will be held in the Goliad gym April 14-20 from 3:45 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day. All girls wishing to try out for eighth or ninth grade cheerleader are to get a form from room 120, read it, and have it signed and returned by 2:45 p.m. Tuesday. The judging will take place April 20. Judges will be in no way connected with the girls trying out or to Goliad. They will select 12 seventh graders and nine eighth graders to try out in front of the student body. Four girls will be chosen for eighth grade cheerleaders and three for ninth grade cheerleaders. These girls will serve during the 1971-72 school year.

School will be dismissed Tuesday at 2:45 p.m. for Easter holidays. Classes will resume at 8:30 a.m. the following Tuesday, April 13. The student council reminds the student body that Tuesday, April 6, will be dress-up day.

New trainees for library aides next year are beginning a training period on principles and procedures. This training period will last throughout the month of April. Vice president Mike Holub, Sheila Hardee, and Kathy Thornhill.

Pat Biby have been the trainers for the four prospective aides during the month of March. Trainers for April will be Robert Downing and Susan Handley. One library aide, Diane Pascale, is moving to New Jersey. She will be replaced by Mike Holub, Sheila Hardee, and Kathy Thornhill.

MR. E. Y. BUCKNER congratulates Doyle Lawson, Curtis Bushnell and Ronnie Meek for winning the first three places in the VICA District 1 appliance repair contest. Doyle won first, Curtis placed second and Ronnie placed third. The three will attend the state contest in San Antonio May 1.

Didn't Mean It

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am so ashamed. I am 14, and a boy. The other night I was at the Boys Club and I called my mother to ask her if I could stay an extra half hour. My older brother answered the phone and he went to get my mother. By best friend standing by the phone with me, and just to play a joke on him I said right into the telephone, "Mom, you old bag, I'm staying out until 10 o'clock!"

To my surprise, my mother was on the other end and she heard me. When I got home she told me that since she was being called "an old bag," she was going to start acting like one, and I shouldn't expect any more favors, or money from be left behind than have the crummy kind of marriage she and Dad have. And when I bring up the fact that we need some guests to get my father out of the spare bedroom, she shuts up. Then my father doesn't speak to me for a week. Any advice on what I should say?

RUTHY
DEAR RUTHY: You need advice on what NOT to say. And so does your mother.

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "WELL KEPT - BUT UNLOVED," in which the husband stated that he must "earn" his loving, struck home with me. For years, women have been using sex as a weapon.

I've been married for 30 years and have raised two children. I never wanted my wife to work, and for 25 years she didn't. Then she said she wanted to go to work so she could be a "person" instead of just a housewife. I reluctantly agreed, with the understanding that she would not expect me to do any more around the house than I did before.

Well, do you know how long that understanding lasted? About a year. Then she started complaining about all the laundry and housework that piled up all week. I told her if it was too much for her, she should quit her job. She said, no, she wouldn't quit her job, she needed more help from me. All the while she was working she was too beat to provide me with any loving.

I am not the type to look for other women. I'm stuck, and I know it. But it's done me lots of good to get this off my chest.

ALSO UNLOVED

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and want to register to vote but my parents won't let me. They say THEY couldn't vote until they were 21, and I will have to wait until I am 21, too.

I feel it is now my privilege to vote and they don't have the right to deny me this privilege. Do they? DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: No. You don't need parental consent to register.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69708, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

About Scoliosis

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you discuss scoliosis? It would be good to give the warning signals so parents could save their children the ordeal of spinal fusion and months in a cast later on.—Mrs. J.D.

Scoliosis is a sideways curvature of the spine. Ninety per cent of the cases have developed by adolescence, and the problem is more prevalent in girls, by about nine to one.

There are differing causes. It may be a congenital defect and has been seen and identified in young children. Polio used to cause a lot of cases because it caused an imbalance of the muscles in the back, drawing the spine out of alignment. That cause, of course, has been virtually eliminated now.

One theory of scoliosis that develops in adolescence is that it has to do with growth spurts, throwing the spine out of line. Injury, naturally, can cause it; so can infection involving the spine (especially tuberculosis)—but these are less common causes.

Anyway, there are several signs that raise a suspicion of scoliosis. One is a tilting of the shoulders or hip bone. A prominent shoulder blade is another. A faulty, slouched posture sometimes is a clue.

Another way, if you have any reason to suspect scoliosis, or if you just want to be on the safe side, is to have a youngster stand up straight. The vertebrae can be seen and easily felt. Normally they are in a straight vertical line. With scoliosis, a deviation from side to side will be apparent.

In a good many cases, mild scoliosis requires no treatment. Other cases can be corrected by exercises to strengthen the muscles of the back, and sometimes a brace may be helpful.

Only extreme cases require spinal fusion or months in a cast or other surgical treatment.

Early recognition and treatment will avoid these more drastic measures so, Mrs. J. D., I think your suggestion of writing this column was a useful thought.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there any cure for hives? I break out all over with them and my lips and face swell up. I have been to several doctors but they don't help me.—Mrs. E.P.

Hives is an allergic reaction—and finding out what you are sensitive to is the problem. It isn't often easy. The only reasonable advice I can offer is that you go to one doctor instead of several (preferably an allergist) and accept the fact that it may take more than a little searching to find out what is causing your hives.

Troubled with gout? To learn of new treatment for this cruel and painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Gout—The Modern Way To Stop It." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25-cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Inn Case Ironed Out Before Peers

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The Des Moines Ramada Inn has been found innocent of ironing permanent press sheets used in its guest rooms as required by a 58-year-old Iowa law.

Renowned Pianist In Recital Here

Lucien Leinfelder, member of the faculty at SMU and internationally renowned pianist, presents a piano recital Monday, April 5, at 9:45 a.m. in the Howard County Junior College auditorium.

Leinfelder is a well-known concert pianist who has played numerous recitals in Europe as well as in the U.S. He made his Town Hall debut in New York City in 1967, receiving high praise from both the press and the public.

Last season Leinfelder toured with the Dallas Symphony and at the present time he is on the faculty at Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

LUCIEN LEINFELDER

Leinfelder first made news in the music world in 1955 when he won the Elmer Scott Young Artists Award in his hometown of Dallas. In 1956 he received top honors in the Dallas Civic Federation Young Artists Competition.

The pianist has been soloist with major American orchestras and has performed on national television.

Leinfelder also has devoted much of his time to teaching piano and has served as artist-in-residence at the University of Dallas and taught at the University of Missouri.

He received both bachelor's and master's degrees in music at SMU. A scholarship enabled him to pursue advanced studies at the Julliard School of Music in New York, where he studied with the famous teacher, Mme. Rosina Lhevinne. Other advanced studies were with eminent pianists Jorge Bolet and Alexander Uninsky.

In November, 1969, he played a recital at the junior college. He was well received by the capacity audience who demanded several encores.

In this year's concert, open to the public without charge, Leinfelder will present an all-Chopin recital.

HOW TO FRAME A FIGG... starring Don Knotts

Knotts Fights City Hall—From Inside

A comedy on society's exaggeration of its machines — man's love affair with the computer — garners its laughs when Don Knotts tickles the ribs of a machine programmed to destroy him by the plot of small town politicians in "How To Frame A Figg," coming Wednesday to the Ritz Theatre.

Co-starring are Joe Flynn, Elaine Joyce, Edward Andrews, Yvonne Craig and Frank Welker.

Knotts is usually surrounded in his films by lovely girls — and in "How To Frame A Figg," he shares his time between Elaine Joyce playing a waitress, and Yvonne Craig, the secretary-seductress. As in all Knotts' pictures, the girl with the better moral value system wins his heart.

Flynn, who rose to fame in television's "McHale's Navy" series, is cast as a tax-accounting expert who is part of a team defrauding the taxpayers of his community. His wry, satiric approach was used in counterpoint to Knotts' naive, open-faced panic.

Television and motion picture veteran Andrews plays the pompous, fumbling mayor with no mind of his own. Veteran Parker Fennelly is the doddering moneybags who controls the mayor and other officials in their money-filching scheme.

Film Is Tale Of Cougar's Growing Up

In the still, rugged high country of Colorado there is nothing more real than a young cougar as he stalks his prey. And there is nothing funnier than the actions of a curious cat as he awaits a cold and hungry night... wondering how it got away!

"Cougar Country" is the real story of the first two years in the life of a mountain lion in the beautiful mountains of the West.

A huge cast of wild animals provides the action as "Whiskers," the cougar, grows up under the careful tutoring of his mother. Background is the natural splendor of the Rocky Mountains. Nature provides the special effects.

Life for the young cougar among the peaks of the Colorado mountains is exciting and funny as he learns to catch fish from an icy stream and sometimes ends up getting wet.

"Cougar Country" provides "fun" entertainment for the entire family — as "Whiskers" moves farther and farther from his mother's lair and meets more of his neighbors, including a somewhat offensive skunk, a mean marmot, a not-too-friendly American Eagle, giant moose and elk, beaver, badgers and coyotes — and all the other animals with whom he shares his territory — "Cougar Country."

'GET CARTER,' MICHAEL CAINE... George Dewell, Rosemarie Dunham

From Toothpaste Ad To Stardom

If Britt Ekland hadn't appeared in a toothpaste ad when she was 15, the world might have lost an actress, and Michael Caine a beautiful co-star in his new gangster type role, "Get Carter."

Enthusied by the response, the actress began to seek roles in Swedish television shows and films. She attended drama school in Stockholm for two years and gained stage experience when she toured Sweden with a travelling theatre company.

She played her first featured role in an Italian comedy, "And So To Bed," which was made on location in Sweden and starred Alberto Sordi, and this led to a role opposite Toto in "Il Comandante" which was filmed in Rome in 1963.

This was followed by an English television drama, "A Cold Peace," and such films as "After the Fox," again with Sellers, "The Double Man," "Too Many Thieves," "The Night They Raided Minsky's," which was made on location in

New York, "Stiletto" and "Machine Gun McCann."

She will soon be seen in "Tintomara," a costume drama set in 18th century Sweden, and opposite top continental actor Pierre Clementi in "Cannibals."

Prior to "Get Carter," she played a comedy role in the British comedy "Percy."

Miss Ekland's marriage to Peter Sellers ended in divorce in 1968. They have a daughter, Victoria, who was born in 1965. Britt is currently living in London after spending the last few years on the Continent and in the United States. She is a sports enthusiast and spends a good deal of her spare time riding, skiing and horseback riding. She is also endowed with a knack for languages and is fluent in English, French, Italian, German, and, of course, Swedish.

Author Gets Novel, Child All In One Day

A father never forgets the day his first child is born, nor does a writer ever forget the day his first book is published. This makes it easy for Sterling North. Both monumental events happened for him on the same day.

North, author of the best-selling novel, "Rascal," which Walt Disney Productions has made into a major motion picture, was only 21 years old when his book, "The Pedro Gorrino," was simultaneously published in the United States, Great Britain and Germany, and his other "first edition" was born.

But North had a history of accomplishing great things at an early age. He was only eight when his first poem was published in a national magazine. As a college freshman his first attempt at a short story was also published in a national publication. At 19 he had won just about every prize offered for poetry, including the Witter Byner Interscholastic Poetry Prize from more than 1,400 contestants at 40 universities.

Audrey Hepburn Is THE 'Fair Lady' Of All Time

Only the radiant talent of Audrey Hepburn could take Eliza Doolittle from the gutter to gentility as she does in "My Fair Lady." Audrey thereby became THE "My Fair Lady" for all time.

The slender, internationally acclaimed beauty was the overwhelming choice from the bevy of young women who were vying for the role of the flower seller who is tutored into the ranks of the gentry in the Academy Award-winning motion picture which is now being presented in an encore presentation opening Friday at the Cinema Theatre.

The patrician Professor Higgins who fashions this miracle is played, of course, by the patrician Rex Harrison, who won an Oscar for his portrayal of the testy phonetics expert in the musical, one of eight garnered by the film.

Of her demanding role, Audrey has said, "It was the most difficult characterization I've ever undertaken. In some ways, Eliza is the first real character I've attempted on the screen. In other roles there has almost always been at least a little bit of me. In this one, there's none."

As it turned out, the priceless look, inimitable glow and magnificent talents of Audrey Hepburn made her the perfect

Eliza Doolittle, as the film itself became a perfect vehicle for her.
