Rain Brings Joy To West Texans

By The Associated Press San Angelo caught 3.5 inches of rain early today and officials said it had eased the West Texas city's critical water shortage.

estimate the runoff. Rainfall measured five inches unofficially at Mertz and up to four inches around Ozona, and on the critically dry Edwards Plateau.

to dismiss the storm threats as inconsequential as long as there was rain. Turbulent weather broke out as a Pacific cold front moved eastward across the state packing showers for at least some sections for all sections: Near dawn the forward edge of the cooler air lay along a line linking Wichita Falls and San Antonio and the trailing edge from near Childress to Del Rio.

inches at San Angelo, which had received less than one-half inch of rain since last October. Reports to the Weather Service indicated the heaviest downpours occurred in that area. Sharp rises occurred on several creeks in San Angelo vicinity but they presented no danger, authorities said.

while 2.16 inches of rain fell. In the past six months Del Rio had measured only .47 inch and the last moisture was 28 inch Feb. 25. Dan Bus of the Del Rio News-Herald said one resident described the hail as sounding "like battlefield machine gunfire hitting the roof tops." Bus, trying to move his car under cover, took a beating as the icy pellets knocked a window out at his home.

Goliad Eighth Grader Wins County Spelling Contest

Maridene Margolis, 13, eighth grader from Goliad Junior High, is the new Howard County Spelling Bee champion. She won the 1971 title after a prolonged duel with Scott Sullivan, 11, a sixth grader from College Heights.

In their duel, Maridene and Scott had fielded such words as "amanuensis", "ambidextrous," "annihilate," and "antecedence." Maridene is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Margolis, VA Hospital. If she has a hobby, it is music. She plays flute in the Goliad band, but she also is an accomplished pianist.

Scott is the son of Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan, 110 E. 18th. He also likes to play the piano and is active as a member of Scout Troop 179. As second place winner, he becomes the alternate for Maridene in the regional bee.

A sizable number of school alternates, teachers, parents and others attended the county finals in the Howard County Junior College auditorium. Judges were Martin Landers, John F. Smith and Don Shoemaker.

THEY CAN SPELL 'SMILE' — Here are Howard County's two top spellers for 1971. Maridene Margolis, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jack Margolis, holds her first-place plaque, and Scott Sullivan, son of Mrs. Mary E. Sullivan, exhibits his champion ribbon. It took 79 words before a duel between the two was settled in the finals here Thursday.

Would Force Texans To Pay $674 Million In New Taxes

No Benefits For Lakes From Showers

Area lakes showed negligible benefit from Thursday night's showers. Lake Thomas gained no water from a .6 of an inch shower. Gail, in the middle watershed, reported only .1 of an inch. Lake Spence, likewise, appeared to have missed out on a sharp increase. Although there were 3 inches in Robert Lee below the dam, the fall at the dam was about two inches and progressively lighter above. Some creeks were running, but only to a minor degree.

CLOUDS SEEDED Baby, The Rain Must Fall... Sometime!

The first day of cloud-seeding by Atmospherics Inc. brought long-awaited rainfall to the thirsty West Texas soil. The rain-makers seeded the clouds three times Thursday and believe that at least some of the rain was caused by them. Big Spring officially received .76 inches of rain, breaking the record of .72 inches set in 1941. This is the most rain Big Spring has had since the .77 inches August 31 of last year, 228 days ago. The only other larger rain last year was .79 inches March 5.

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate added an estimated $12 million to its appropriations bill today for additional state employee pay raises.

The vote was 21-8 for an amendment by Sen. Charles Herring of Austin to increase the bill's 3.4 per cent raise in each year of the biennium to 6.5 per cent the first year and about 10 per cent the second year.

The vote angered Sen. A. M. Aikin Jr., of Paris, dean of the Senate, who had urged his colleagues to let the bill go through without change.

As amended, the bill would force Texans to pay $674.6 million in new taxes.

The Senate-passed liquor by the drink bill is on today's House calendar, probably for afternoon debate. The House failed to suspend rules and take the measure up Thursday.

Sponsors hope for two-thirds majorities in both the House and Senate to put the bill into immediate effect and force May 18 local option elections in 46 counties.

Sponsors hoped to get the bill passed in time to force local option mixed drinks elections in 46 counties on May 18.

A doughnut and coffee session at 10 a.m. next Tuesday for the announcement of location of a new industrial firm in Big Spring is free and all interested persons are invited to attend, the Industrial Foundation announced today.

The affair will be at the old Cosden Country Club. It previously had been announced that tickets would be $1 each.

"We want everybody in the city who is concerned with our development to be at this session," said Ken Perry, Foundation president. "We will have an announcement to make that we know will be encouraging and stimulating. It will mark another step in our continuing effort to develop more local manufacturing payrolls."

Ordering Colleges To End Sex Bias Or Face Whacks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Male chauvinism on the nation's campuses is in trouble. Women demanding that sex discrimination must go have been handed a big club by the federal government.

Either takes affirmative action to eliminate sex bias, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare is telling colleges, or the flow of federal contract dollars will stop. Already such institutions as Harvard and the University of Michigan have negotiated agreements designed to end sex bias where women are paid lower salaries for equal work and passed over for promotion.

J. Stanley Pottinger, director of HEW's office for civil rights, said investigators have run into some resistance but in the end the "universities are very cooperative."

SAD PRESSURE There are signs, however, that administrators are unhappy with the pressure. The University of Michigan school newspaper, reporting on the first agreement negotiated, quoted Fidele Fauri, a school vice president, as saying: "We just want to get those bastards at HEW off our backs."

William Cash, university human relations director and member of the negotiating team, also told the newspaper. "Once you let women know they've got you over a barrel they'll take everything they can get from you. Women just make life difficult." But male egos had better harden. The federal government is getting more aggressive. Owen Kiely, in charge of the program to eliminate discrimination because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin where there is a federal contract, said the number of field investigators will more than triple by 1972.

CITY DRAINAGE DITCH DUE CREDIT FOR RAIN?

"See there... I told you so," said Nolen Chafin, director of public works, as he explained that some credit for the rain Thursday night was due not only to the clouds, Colorado River Municipal Water District and Atmospherics Inc., but also to the city utilities department.

For the past five years there have been certain interested parties who have put forth considerable efforts and worries about the lack of rain in our area, when all the time the city department had "a sure-fire way of making it rain," said Chafin.

He was talking about the drainage ditch between Pollard Chevrolet and Pinky's Liquor Store running from Fourth to Third streets. Yes, a drainage ditch! It seems that every time the city has begun to work on re-excavating the ditch and rip-rapping the banks of the dry gulch in the last five years, the trusty old clouds have "begun to clabber and let forth West Texas liquid gold. It was no exception this year as work began on the ditch last week and operations were beginning to take place Thursday on the rip-rapping. The work is a normal maintenance filler on the ditch that backs all the way to Sixth street. "That portion of the ditch from Sixth to Fourth already has been excavated and provides a natural drain for the water collecting in the east portion of town from Goliad to Birdwell Lane and as far south as Eighteenth street," explained Tom Dignon, street superintendent.

Auto Roll Kills Two Angelo Men

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Two San Angelo men died about 1 a.m. today as their car ran off rain-slicked U.S. 277 and rolled several times. State patrolmen identified them as James Patrick Brady, 32, and Claude Lee Howell Jr., 40.

FOLLOWING STRONG REBOUND IN ECONOMY

White House Rules Out Tax Cut

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House has ruled out cutting for immediate tax cuts following a strong rebound in the nation's economy during the first three months of the year. Although the recovery was not as great as the Nixon administration had hoped, White House economic adviser George P. Shultz said it shuts the door to any tax-relief proposals in the immediate future. "As of now, we're on a good course and we hope to stay on that course," Shultz told news- men Thursday. "There is no reason to make any shift in policy."

SOLID MAN

Shultz said the first-quarter advance of $28.5 billion in gross national product, output of the nation's goods and services, was a "little less than expected, but larger than what the pessimists thought."

Doctor's Role Still In Future

Help for the child with learning disabilities is more in the hands of the teacher and the psychiatrist than the doctor, Dr. Steve Funderburk, Webb AFB, told members of the Learning Disabilities Society Thursday night.

Speaking on the role of the pediatrician in helping children with learning disabilities, Dr. Funderburk said that in the future he thinks a doctor will be able to aid such children with the use of medication.

Following Dr. Funderburk's talk Thursday night, the group elected officers. Mrs. Arthur J. Schmidt was named president; Mrs. Jack Parrott, vice president; Mrs. Jerry McCormick, recording secretary; Mrs. Julian Patterson, corresponding secretary; and Ralph Dennis, treasurer.

Illegal Aliens

Eight persons who had entered this country illegally were transferred at 1:30 a.m. today by Midland authorities to Howard County jail. The eight remain in county jail awaiting transfer to the custody of the U.S. Border Patrol.

FOUND BY COMPUTER — Man identified as Louis R. Trujillo, above, 37, California parolee who's been missing since 1968, is under bond in Chicago as Dr. Anthony Barton (or Trujillo), a psychologist in a children's home. Federal network has sought him through alleged forged papers and records.

however, that inflation continued its high level, galloping along at 5.2 per cent during the quarter but down from the upward-revised 5.9 per cent during the last three months of 1970.

Nixon has pledged to cut the inflation rate to 3 per cent and unemployment to 4.5 per cent by mid-1972.

CARS SNAP BACK

To do that, the administration figures, GNP will have to average $1.065 trillion for all of 1971. If statistics released Thursday are indicative, output will fall short of that goal.

The gain brought GNP to $1.018 trillion at a seasonally adjusted annual rate, a 12-percent increase measured by current prices and the biggest single-quarter percentage rise in more than 12 years.

But real GNP output figured in terms of noninflated dollars, rose by 6.5 per cent, sharpest since the second quarter of 1968.

In sheer dollar volume, the $28.5-billion advance was largest on record, mainly because of the rate of inflation.

The increase was possible primarily because auto production snapped back strongly from last fall's General Motors strike and accounted for two-thirds of the GNP advance. Outside of the automobile sector, the economy still suffered from considerable slack during the period.

Girls Gym Team Entertains At VA

The court ordered his release while it decided the issue.

Opening lead: Jack of ♣
 Even the West did not uncover the killing diamond lead against South's six heart contract, declarer unleashed a brilliant stroke to mislead his opponent and score up the vulnerable slam. It might be interesting for the reader to try his hand at uncovering South's method — before proceeding further.
 North's jump response to three no trump over his partner's demand bid, shows 8 or 9 points but no aces. When South rebid four hearts, North made a slam try by overbidding the game in hearts. South realized that the partnership was off the ace of diamonds, and success would depend on the spade finesse. He was willing to take a shot at a slam on 50-50 odds and he proceeded to six hearts.

West opened the jack of clubs and declarer paused to assess his prospects. If the spade finesse failed, the opposition would be in position to cash the setting trick in diamonds. In order to enhance his position should West turn up with the king of spades, South chose to put up the queen of clubs from dummy. East covered with the king and declarer was in with the ace.
 A small heart was led over to the nine and the jack of spades was returned and permitted to ride when East followed with the six. West won the trick with the king and having observed declarer's apparent attempt to win the opening lead with dummy's queen of clubs, West attempted to cash the ten of that suit to score the setting trick.
 South ruffed in his hand, drew trump with two more pulls and then ran the spades — discarding all of dummy's diamonds. The deuce of diamonds was ruffed out and declarer claimed his slam.
 South had nothing to lose by putting up the queen of clubs at trick one even if East did not have the king, for the only true play was in finding the king of spades outside. Whether or not West should have shifted to a diamond when he was in, I will leave to the reader's judgment. Declarer did everything he could to throw his opponent off the right track. Who could ask for more?

Testimony Begins In Murder Trial

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Jury selection was completed and testimony began Thursday here in the trial of Mrs. Madeline L. McIntosh, 58, charged in connection with the death of LaWayne Iglehart, 9, killed Aug. 8, 1970, when struck by an automobile.

Mrs. Roy Wayne Iglehart, the child's mother and the first witness, testified that her twins, LaWayne and DeWayne, were working in the back yard of their home at the corner of Seventh and Hickory Streets shortly after 8 p.m. when she heard a loud noise and an automobile came over the fence at the rear of her home and struck the children.

She said LaWayne's skull was "out of shape" and DeWayne was bleeding. LaWayne never regained consciousness and died about two hours later in the Root Memorial Hospital. DeWayne recovered from his injuries.

Two days later Mrs. McIntosh was charged with murder by accident and mistake while driving while intoxicated.

Steve Key, 22, a student at Howard County Junior College, said that on the evening of Aug. 8 he saw the McIntosh car on Hickory Street when it swerved to one side of the street apparently hitting the curb and then swerved to the other side, jumped the curb, ran across the driveway and fence and into the Iglehart back yard.

City patrolman Nick Martinez who investigated the accident said that he took Mrs. McIntosh to the police station and that she agreed to a Breathalyzer test and that highway patrolman Herman Seale came from Sweetwater to give the test. She later requested a blood test and was taken to the hospital for the test. Results of neither test have been entered into testimony.

The trial went slowly Wednesday as defense attorney Tom Rees and district attorney Frank Ginzel entered countless objections into the record.

The trial is being heard before 132nd District Judge Wayland Holt of Snyder, sitting in for 32nd District Judge Weldon Kirk. Judge Holt told the two attorneys that he expected the trial to be completed by Friday. He indicated that if testimony were not faster-paced that a night session would be held.

Want To Call Peking Gal?

LONDON (AP) — The first telephone call from Britain to China in 22 years got through Thursday but it took 3½ hours from the time the Chinese opened the circuit.

A British Broadcasting Corp. journalist, William Hardcastle, placed a three-minute call to George Barras, a second secretary at the British mission in Peking. Reception was nearly perfect.

The Post Office—which runs Britain's telephones—tinkered with radio transmission equipment badly affected by atmospheric.

Mao Tse-tung's government suggested four days ago that the telephone lines be reopened. They were cut in May, 1949.

The move, coming shortly after Peking raised the bamboo curtain to admit American, British and Canadian table tennis teams to China, was seen as another sign that Mao's Communists want to improve relations with the capitalist West.

Telephone service between the United States and Peking reopened Monday night.

Former Patrolman Ends Death Term By Strangulation

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — The body of a former Texas highway patrolman serving a life term for the beating death of his wife at Gatesville was found Thursday at the Ellis Unit.

Justice of Peace Mable Franklow ruled death by self-inflicted strangulation by Wallace B. Plentl, 35.

Plentl worked in the dental lab where his body was found Thursday, a nylon cord wrapped around his neck.

Prison officials said a note was found near Plentl's body. It said, in part: "I loved my wife. I didn't mean to hurt her."

Plentl was sentenced to life in prison in July, 1969.

Census May Mean Moderation

Congressional reapportionment, directed by law to reflect the census, will result in a middle-road Congress after the next elections. Census analysis shows there will be more congressmen from suburbia than from rural or center-city districts. Voting records of such representatives show they are less liberal than center-city congressmen and less conservative than rural representatives.

That means strong influence in the House for moderate programs.

It could very well mean tougher times for center-city problems. Cities have a greater burden of poverty and associated problems of crime, welfare needs, inadequate opportunities for unprepared young people who need jobs.

Suburban leaders simply cannot ignore the cities and hope to get away with it. Urban problems, which mean without exception people problems, demand attention. Tough problems of trying to make a living have to be resolved because the alternative is radicalization, without exception.

Center-city problems may be handled from Washington by default. Having a Congress increasingly weaker of city representation will demand a greater degree of understanding that cities cannot be abandoned — politically or otherwise — except at terrible cost to the country.

Solving An Issue

At first blush it appeared that a rift in the city council ranks was not long in developing when the issue of a work session came up after the regular meeting. It seemed momentarily there would be a two-member boycott, but this did not develop. Ultimately, the problem was resolved by making sure that adequate notice was given.

There was some objection on the grounds that the sessions were secret, but the media always has been welcome. Most of these meetings are informational in nature to permit council members to do their homework before regular sessions. No action can be taken, and if an attempt were made to reach decisions at these informal briefings, we certainly would object.

At any rate, council members presumably have reached a point of accommodation or understanding on the issue, which is good.

GOP In California

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The evidence continues to pile up that an overwhelming majority of Americans support the varied moves to end U.S. participation in the war in Vietnam. Quibbling over dates to one side, they simply want to stop the bombing and the killing.

Rep. Paul N. (Pete) McCloskey Jr. sent a questionnaire to the voters in his district in California that drew a response that surprised even him. His district in suburban south of San Francisco is a decidedly mixed one, including many of the affluent together with middle-class families.

THE FIRST of four questions was: "Should Congress vote to cut off funding for the war in Vietnam and require withdrawal of all American troops by December 31, 1971?" Of more than 30,000 replies, 71.25 per cent said yes and 28.75 per cent said no.

Question No. 2 was: "Should Congress vote to terminate the President's power to bomb Laos and Cambodia effective immediately?" Sixty-seven per cent said yes, 33 per cent no. On whether to declare war on North Vietnam the response was an 85 per cent no. Likewise on whether the President should be permitted to conduct the war in Southeast Asia as he alone determines, the tally was 82 per cent noes.

THIS REPORTER, recently in California, observed a familiar phenomenon in the overflying, somewhat eccentric state. Gov. Ronald Reagan and the California Republican Assembly have been busy reading McCloskey out of the party and making him the whipping boy for all the ills of both the Reagan and Nixon administrations. Granted that McCloskey is a far-out maverick, threatening to run against the President in the primaries if no better-known Republican takes on the assignment, still reversion to the custom of ex-communication says a lot about the status of the party in the most-populous state in the Union. Drumming out those who won't walk the narrow line of conformity has cost the party heavily.

AFTER A VICIOUS smear directed at Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, an able senator in the tradition of Hiram Johnson and Earl Warren, Reagan and the party backed Max Rafferty, the flamboyant, right-winger then state Superintendent of Public Instruction, in the 1968 primary. Rafferty defeated Kuchel, but in the election a Democrat, Alan Cranston, won with the votes of independents and moderate Republicans as well as Democrats.

LAST FALL Reagan held out for Sen. George Murphy for re-election. Age and infirmities were a handicap for the former song-and-dance man and he was defeated by John V. Tunney.

Another familiar phenomenon is the denial of funding for the supersonic air transport was the widely held feeling that the nation's technological efforts were being misdirected.

FROM THE perspective of both ideology and organization the Nixon party is in trouble. If the wheel of fortune is to turn, the turn must come soon — with 1972 just ahead.

Free Americans

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — These two clippings have been littering the desk while the master tried to decide whether their significance merited submission to his hard-boiled editors. The clincher came with the mailing off of assorted income tax checks to our ruling lords.

Yes sir and madame, Mrs. Ann Dunaski of Jackson Heights, N.Y., and Fred W. Chou of Arlington, Va., deserve mention in a footnote to the history of 1971. They have rebelled. They have proclaimed America's harassed and frustrated individualism. They have challenged the System.

CONSIDER, FIRST, the case of Mrs. Dunaski, a grandmother with a green thumb. For three years she has been toiling at making of her backyard a beauty spot, clearing it of dead trees and weeds and planting assorted flowers. But there was nothing Mrs. Dunaski could do about a 25-foot telephone pole, bedecked with multiple wires, standing like an inanimate monster amongst the flora.

For a year, Mrs. Dunaski pleaded with the telephone company to do something about that pole. Remove the pole, she told her tormentors, or she would cut it down. She set a deadline of May 1.

FRED W. CHOU must have known how Mrs. Dunaski felt. He attended the opening game between the Washington Senators and Oakland Athletics. He enjoyed the Senators' 8-0 victory, but his patience waned when he had to wait in long lines to buy a hot dog, a beer and visit the men's roffin.

Emerging from the park, Chou found other tormentors in store. With thousands of others, he was herded by police — slowly, but very slowly — into a jammed underpass leading to the cheaper parking lot where he had stashed his car. So Chou broke away from the mob and started to take a short cut over an embankment leading to the beltway which encircles Robert F. Kennedy Stadium.

CHOU WAS halfway across the road when a U.S. Park Police officer on a horse rode up and motioned him back. Fred W. Chou is not Job. He had been pushed around enough, so Fred W. Chou kicked the policeman's horse.

Sadly, the policeman gave him a ticket for being a naughty pedestrian. Chou pocketed the ticket and headed for home again — across the forbidden road.

I CLAIM that Mrs. Ann Dunaski and Fred W. Chou are shining heroes. Mrs. Dunaski's axe and Chou's right foot are much more than an axe and a right foot. They are symbols of a free nation. Mrs. Dunaski and Chou were tired of being mere faceless numbers, so they dared to be people.

A Close Brush

BRYAN, Ohio (AP) — Automobile thievery reached a new high — or perhaps a new low — for 90-year-old Miles Lester.

He was in church when someone stole his car — a 1969 Brush.

Police located the antique car six months later in Claverack, N.Y., unharmed and with a new paint job.

After all the facts were checked and a culprit identified, two of Lester's friends drove to New York then returned the car to Bryan aboard a flatbed trailer.

HE COULD BE KILLED WITH KINDNESS

Recognize Yourself?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Observations of the industrial scene that affect your budget and maybe your life:

—One of the chief factors in the denial of funding for the supersonic air transport was the widely held feeling that the nation's technological efforts were being misdirected.

If public transit was inefficient, highways jammed and railroads bankrupt, it was asked, why should the nation put millions into developing an aircraft that would be used by a relatively tiny percentage of the public?

Some of the same critics now are alternately enraged or depressed by another situation closer to earth, that is, that automobiles capable of exceeding 100 miles an hour will have bumpers able to withstand crashes of 2 1/2 miles an hour.

The new standard for rear bumpers, beginning on 1973 models, are actually an improvement over the existing situation. Some bumpers today are largely decorative, like ribbon on a package.

Nevertheless, the term persists, leading drivers to assume their cars are really able to take bumps, and driving insurance companies frantic as they pay millions of dollars in needless damage claims — which of course raises rates.

The new standards call for front bumpers on 1973—model cars to withstand 5 m.p.h. impacts, or twice that for rear bumpers. But a proposal to make bumper heights uniform was put off until 1974 models.

The automakers argued that it would be too costly to make some of the changes before then. But, with the business climate so critical, could the cost eventually be even greater by resisting the improvements?

—As a member of the new breed work force, you are "less easily controlled", less dependent, less submissive and passive, less willing to work harder and smarter, despite greater material rewards, improved working conditions and better training and enlightened supervision.

Recognize yourself? That's part of the description used by Alexander Trowbridge, president of the Conference Board, in announcing the completion of a study aimed at making jobs more acceptable to workers.

"People at work don't appear to be motivated," says Trowbridge, who used to be secretary of commerce.

The carrot-and-stick formula for motivation doesn't always seem to work too well anymore. Many managers and behavioral scientists have come to recognize that the missing element "may lie in the character of the work itself."

And so the study of job design is growing in popularity, marked by completion of a Conference Board study by Harold Rush, senior management research specialist.

The basic job-design techniques include:

Job rotation, or moving employees from one related task to another to broaden their perspectives and skills.

Job enlargement, or expanding the scope of the job itself.

Job enrichment, or making the basic task more demanding and giving the employee more planning and managerial control over the job.

Work simplification, or step-by-step examination of the job to eliminate unnecessary or duplicated tasks and to improve methods for doing the job.

The study quotes the personnel director of an aerospace company on the "Puppy Syndrome" to the effect that:

"We have too often treated our employees as if they were puppies. A swat on the tail makes a puppy anxious about going on the carpet again, but a swat isn't even effective in toilet training unless the puppy is shown where to go and is rewarded."

"Should we expect people to behave differently if they are treated like puppies?"

Hal Boyle

Cuffs Nudes, Hot Pants

NEW YORK (AP) — Some things we could do without:

People who have nothing on their mind but what they weigh and who think everyone else is interested in it too.

Stenographers who wear hot pants in the office.

Waiting in line to buy something you don't need or particularly want.

Listening to two passengers on a bus discuss their digestive disorders.

The taste of the first Martini—and the effects of the third.

Nude pictures on cuffs.

Any new books offering new solutions of the Vietnamese problem until some of the solutions already proposed are tried.

The eating on Monday of restaurant hash made on Friday.

The high cost of living on a standard that seems to be steadily lowering in quality.

People for whom you've gladly done a favor and who then think that they must make some grand gesture in return such as giving you a dried-out dime cigar that crumbles to shreds when you try to light it.

People who seek to achieve attention and distinction by becoming owners of a new breed of dog that no one else has ever heard of. The dog usually has a face that looks like a catfish caught in a mob.

Anybody who tries to read the newspaper over your shoulder because he is too cheap to purchase one of his own.

Smart guys who ask, when you get to work 10 minutes late in the morning, "Back from lunch already?"

Wives who spend more money and time taking care of their fur coats than they do their children.

Doctors who tell you how much they dropped in the stock market while they're writing out a $15 prescription for a $5 medicine to treat you for a two-bit head cold.

Hotel closets which always have exactly four fewer coat hangers than any ordinary guest—even a nudist—actually needs.

Only The Innocent

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

Southpaw printer, J. O. Sheid Jr., reports a highway patrolman stopped a motorist who was exceeding the speed limit. As he wrote out the ticket, the driver asked "What do you do when you stop someone who is really guilty?"

"I don't know," the patrolman replied. "All I ever catch are innocent."

REMEMBER THE joke about the guy who hijacked a bus because he was afraid to fly?

Well, it happened, in Chicago. The Associated Press had a story about this guy who forced a city bus driver to take him out to an interstate road.

British ship owners say pollution is a four-letter word, according to a news story.

And with their peculiar pronunciation, I'll bet it sounds like one.

MY FISHING uncle, Russell Harris, notes: "Perfect poise is not looking self-conscious in the front pew."

A spy sent along a bulletin from the Downtown Cosmopolitan Club of Dallas with this closing item:

"Feeling bad about missing the stag 'Las Vegas' party San Antonio's club gives? Don't. They were raided this year and all 500 male guests hauled in."

HARRY WILSON'S Oklahoma

Travel News has an item that should interest Paul P. of right here in River City. I quote:

Arkansas is one up on us with an attraction in Prescott, where the embalmed body of a derelict named Mike, who died on a park bench there 59 years ago, has been kept on display, unclaimed, in a local funeral home ever since.

When asked why, the local mortician replied "Because it's such a good job of embalming."

HARRY FOUND an interesting story in the Dallas Morning News. The eighth grade teacher in Wellington, Tex., was trying to acquaint her students with the evils of drugs.

She asked if anyone knew anything about marijuana. Nobody answered. She repeated the question, and Richard Lee Sanders raised his hand.

"What do you know about it?" the teacher asked.

"Well," said Richard, "all I know is they don't smoke it in Muskogee."

THE DECORATIONS which go between the items in this column are called star dashes. When the teletype guy sets the type and a star dash is needed, he puts in a slug reading "put star dash" or even "pu star dash" if he's in a hurry.

One of the instructions reading "pu star dash" wound up in a few early editions recently, so I'm explaining this so you'll understand it wasn't the work of a printer turned critic.

Although many of them do.

Climbing Wages

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Although President Nixon has shown clearly, through the third "inflation alert" just issued by the administration, that he is dissatisfied with the wage and benefit increases in the recent contract settlement in the can industry, indications are that the nation faces a crisis on wages and prices in the next few weeks in other industries as well.

THE REPORT of the President's Council of Economic Advisers says flatly that the 9 per cent annual increase granted the can industry workers over the next three years "represents no progress toward the declining trend of wage increases that is essential if we are to regain increased stability of prices and costs." This same problem confronts the steel industry, the aluminum industry and the copper industry.

Negotiations between the steel workers' union and the aluminum companies are scheduled to begin the latter part of May, copper during June, and steel in August.

THE SETTLEMENT in the can industry has already been accomplished by the steelworkers' union. Notwithstanding the "inflation alert," union president I. W. Abel says he expects to get an even better contract for 450,000 workers in the steel industry. There are approximately 1,000,000 employees in the aluminum, copper and steel industries where the new contracts will be negotiated.

THE PRESIDENT'S Council feels that the terms of the agreement reached in the can industry are "clearly in excess of any realistic assessment of long term productivity growth prospects." The fear is expressed that if the steelworkers obtain the same settlement from steel as in the can industry, the steel companies would have to raise prices. This makes it harder for them to meet foreign competition, and would result in more unemployment not only in steel but among other industries using steel products.

THE ADMINISTRATION, of course, is reluctant to impose restrictions on imports of steel from Japan and European countries, and yet it may be compelled to do so if price levels in this country are forced upward as a consequence of the union demands. The leaders of the steelworkers' union are making it clear that their members are not likely to accept any wage scales lower than those obtained in the can industry. The whole problem, therefore, is really up to the White House to solve if there is going to be a curb on the inflationary trend that higher prices in steel, aluminum and copper would inevitably bring.

THE NIXON administration has hesitated to apply any wage or price controls, although it has authority from Congress to do so. Because steel, aluminum and copper are basic metals and their costs directly or indirectly affect the prices of many products, the administration is finding itself confronted with a serious challenge. However distasteful it may be to impose wage and price restrictions, the administration may find itself forced by the circumstances of the current inflation to take positive action not only with respect to the three industries concerned, but for the effect it will have in the other industries of the country where labor negotiations during 1971 and 1972 could have a substantial influence on the upward movement of prices.

Many observers, including economists, have felt that until the government manifests a direct interest in holding the line on prices and wages, there is little chance really to curb inflation and promote economic recovery.

My Answer

Will you please tell me if there is a difference between being a disciple and being a Christian?

Becoming a Christian is a matter of a personal encounter and the establishment of a relationship with Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. Nothing which we can do can make us Christians, other than the exercising of the act of faith in and commitment or our wills to Christ.

To be a disciple means to follow on with Christ after receiving Him. We are not like amoeba, one cell organisms, but God has given us bodies, minds and souls. The body needs food and other material things. The mind needs knowledge and the development which comes through such knowledge. The soul needs God and the things of the spirit. Strange to say, so many seem content with concern over the body and the mind and leave God out of account. If we are to be true Christians, we not only exercise faith towards Christ but we set out to make Him the master of our bodies, our minds and our spirits. This is true discipleship and with it come those multiplied experiences of life which develop our dependence upon Him and our capacity to serve Him.

Leading the visitor will be the pastor of the Church in River City. The Rev. pastor will be at 7:30 p.m. on April 25. We be at 7:30 p.m. through Saturday, April 25. We be at 7:30 p.m. on April 25. We be at 7:30 p.m. on April 25.

A Devotion For Today . . .
The next day Jesus decided to go to Galilee. And he found Philip and said to him, "Follow me." (John 1:43, RSV)

PRAYER: Give us the commitment, Father, to turn our lives completely over to Your care. As this world balances precariously on the edge of dangers and difficulties, we look to You to be our source of courage and help. Amen.

DIMINISHING BREED They'd Walk A Mile For A Sopwith Camel

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's going to be a lot of talk around the Mayflower Hotel the next couple of days about De Havillands, Sopwiths, Nieuports and Sopwith Camels. And about the occupation of Paris—friendly U.S. version, circa 1918.

Nearly 175 World War I overseas fliers and 80 of their wives have turned up for a reunion to rap about their war to make the world safe for democracy and talk about setting up a permanent organization of a rapidly diminishing breed.

PUSHING 75
These are the men—all of them pushing 75 or more—who volunteered to man the flimsy flying machines of World War I, enlisting in what was called the flying service of the Army Signal Corps.

"Be an American Eagle!" says an old recruiting poster someone has uncovered. It suggests young men contact their local draft boards, any recruiting officer or the chief signal officer of the U.S. Army.

Chief promoter of the reunion is Ira Milton Jones, a Milwaukee patent attorney. He pushed ahead despite some discouraging words from former Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker.

'SICK OF US'
Rickenbacker, Jones says, contended "the Air Force got sick of us" when it sponsored a previous reunion in July, 1966. He declined to sign a letter trying to stir up interest but promised to attend. Rickenbacker sent regrets later citing personal reasons.

By writing letters and talking to people, Jones compiled a list of more than 600 World War I fliers still living. Some of them served with the British or the French Lafayette Escadrille before transferring to U.S. forces. The 173 who sent word they would come represent 28 states, the Virgin Islands and the District of Columbia.

A number of them, like retired Maj. Gen. Leigh Wade of Oakland, Calif., served in the Air Force in World War II.

HARD DOGFIGHT
One who did not was John A. Logan of Washington, former head of the National Association of Food Chains, who was retired for disability after World War I. "I had my neck broken," he says laconically. "We hit the ground a little hard after a dogfight."

night's banquet will be given by observer, Spessard Holland, retired Democratic senator from Florida, will introduce the main speaker, Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Headquarters for the literary meet will be in the Big Spring High School office. Contest results will be posted on a bulletin board in the central mall near the general office.

Awards will be presented in the general office when the event is completed and certified by the contest director.

Track and field events will be conducted at Memorial Stadium on the Howard County Junior College campus.

Tennis meets will be conducted on the Big Spring High School courts and the Howard County Junior College courts.

The final golf tournament will be conducted at the Big Spring Country Club.

Admission charges for the track and field meet and the one-act play contest is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Tennis, golf and ready writing will begin Friday and all other events will begin Saturday.

What Comes Down ... Must Come Up?

Not only was water produced from the sky last evening, but also from the ground. Water department and maintenance crews had a busy night with eight breaks in water mains around town being reported.

The crews were quick to remedy the situation with the last of the breaks to have been either repaired completely or to the point of little loss of water by 1 a.m. this morning.

"We have not estimated the amount of water lost or the cost in repairs to the breaks. We do feel that the breaks were due to increased pressure on the lines due to the adding of water to the city reservoirs and the failure of a valve at the water treatment plant due to the pressure," said Bill Brown, superintendent of water and sewer treatment.

"Much credit must be given to the operator at the water plant for noticing the change in pressure and closing the valve completely in time, or there would have been much more damage in the downtown area," said Brown.

Burglars Hit Second Time

For the second time in two weeks burglars have broken into Christensen's Boot Shop, 602 W. 37th. Mrs. Christensen reported to the police Thursday night that someone had torn boards off the back of the building and had entered the store.

No merchandise was taken by the burglars, and Mrs. Christensen explained they were just checking on the building when they found the hole in the back wall.

A thorough check was conducted by police on the building and the field to the north of the building, however, none of the burglars were apprehended by the authorities.

The first break-in occurred April 3 when entry was gained to the building from the roof. The thieves made off with $3,500 in western wear, however, some persons have been arrested since in connection with the burglary.

There were also reports of a burglary at the Gulf station, IS 20 and SH 350, Thursday night.

Police officers discovered at approximately 1:25 a.m. the building had been broken into. A total of $27 in change was taken by the burglars.

'Patton' Grabs Seven Oscars Despite Slap

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Patton" blitzed the 43rd Academy Awards like one of its hero general's World War II sweeps, winning seven Oscars including best picture.

The best actor award went to George C. Scott who played the title role—an honor he had said he would refuse.

HOLD TIGHT

The movie academy says it will hold the Oscar for him in case he changes his mind.

Other top winners Thursday night included Britain's Glenda Jackson, best actress, "Women in Love"; John Mills, supporting actor, "Ryan's Daughter"; Helen Hayes, supporting actress, "Airport"; and Franklin J. Schaffner, direction, "Patton."

An artillery-like barrage of applause and approving yells came from a Los Angeles Music Center audience of nearly 3,000 as Goldie Hawn ripped open the envelope and cried, "Oh, my God — the winner is George C. Scott!"

Scott had won for his portrayal of Gen. George S. Patton despite statements he'd decline the Oscar because "it is degrading to have actors in competition with each other ... in a public display of contrived suspense."

He also had called the presentations "a meat parade."

Film-acting in New York, the actor said through a spokesman Thursday before the presentations: "Win, lose or draw I have no statement."

FIRST TIME

There had been speculation that Scott's blasts would hurt his chances for the Oscar. Accepting the honor for Scott, "Patton" producer Frank McCarthy said the showy "has distinguished itself, showing what a great organization it is, by honoring so generously a fine performance by a great actor."

It's the first time any winner ever refused an Oscar of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Academy President Daniel Taradash said before the ceremonies that since Scott had said he didn't want to be involved, the academy had done everything it could to see that he wasn't.

"He did not receive a letter of congratulations from me as did the other nominees, and he was not invited to the awards," Taradash said.

'LOVE STORY'

He said the academy will keep Scott's Oscar and if at any time he wants it, he can have it, but it will not be sent to him.

In 1962 Scott rejected a nomination for an Oscar for his supporting role in "The Hustler."

"Patton" also won for best sound, art direction, film editing, direction and original story-and-screenplay.

"Love Story," with seven nominations, won only for its background music, or score, by Francis Lai. "M-A-S-H," which had five nominations, won only for best adapted screenplay, by Bing Lardner Jr.

Supporting his left hand, injured recently in a London cab accident.

He said he was "utterly unprepared" to win and, referring to his role in the movie, "was speechless for a year but I want to say I think it was a wonderful choice. I'm very thrilled."

'Give A Hoot' Week Planned

No action was taken at the Pride People Task Force meeting Thursday, but plans were discussed for the upcoming "Give A Hoot Week" May 1-7.

Tentative plans call for a massive clean-up by the civic clubs in Big Spring the first day of the week and a message from local churches about the clean-up campaign Sunday.

An auction on May 8 with 20 per cent of the sale going to the Chamber of Commerce was considered and will be discussed in the future. Some members of the Leon P. Moffett Chapter of the Order of DeMolay were present.

"We came down here to see what we could do to help," said David Simpson.

Another DeMolay, Joe Trantham, suggested that people collect aluminum beer cans and sell them. "I and some of my friends collect them and sell them. People laughed at first until they saw the money we earned. The Coors plant will take only aluminum cans. They said there were 23 cans per pound, and they pay us 10 cents per pound. It's a good way to clean-up and make money, too."

The next meeting of the Pride People Task Force is scheduled for 5:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Congresswoman Touring Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Rep. Louise Day Hicks, D-Mass., arrived in Saigon Thursday for a four-day visit that she says is being made to "find out how our fighting men stand on some of the issues facing Congress today."

The freshman congresswoman from Boston said she would visit fire bases in the field and talk with military and civilian officials in Saigon and Cam Ranh Bay concerning veterans.

"I was sent out here by the House Veterans Affairs Committee to have a look at the hospitals, the extent of drug addiction and to find out what our boys think of the Vietnamese people," Mrs. Hicks said.

The fourteenth case was presented to the panel this morning. Evidence against 16 defendants has come under the scrutiny of the jurors.

Naman Tells Farmers Tax Revision Needed

LAMESA — Jay Naman, Waco, president of Texas Farmers Union, told a farm and ranch audience here Thursday night that property taxes have outlived their usefulness in the rural areas as a source of revenue for supporting local government.

Naman addressed a meeting of District 8 Farmers Union at the Forest Park Community Center.

"Tax reform is badly needed on the state level to relieve the rural communities from the onerous burden of supporting local education, which is presently financed entirely by an eroding tax base," said the speaker.

Naman went on to say that a corporate profits tax is necessary to balance state taxes between the consumer and business. He pointed out that farmers and ranchers pay a disproportionate share of the sales tax and continued increases in the sales tax are unfair to commercial farm and ranch producers.

"Under the present sales tax program and the bill which has been passed by the state house of representatives, consumers and farmers will continue to pay more than their fair share in taxation. A six per cent corporate profits tax, as will probably be proposed by the State Senate, would raise six hundred million dollars in the biennium and would enable state government to relieve the local tax situation, which, in the rural areas, is no longer able to support needs," Naman said.

The state Farmers Union president reviewed issues which are now before the legislature and stated that some of the proposals which have been made relating to restrictions on the use of pesticides could be "unfavorable" to farmers.

Naman said farmers have a stake in a clean environment but the banning of the use of certain insecticides would be unwise because there is inadequate technological proof to warrant this action.

Turning to the drought situation, the state farm leader said, "We are asking that USDA make modifications in the administrative rulings which will permit farmers to preserve their allotments and qualify for payments without waiting for the currently announced replant dates. We must make the administration of the farm program flexible enough in the drought areas that farmers can salvage some income from this year's crop."

Naman said that Farmers Union is also working to get a drought feed and hay program under way and is calling upon the Farmers Home Administration to provide low interest rate financing for eligible farmers who are drought stricken.

The district 8 director, Vernon Chandler of Midland, chaired the Lamesa meeting. Dr. Otto Vilke of Texas A&M University Research Center at Lubbock discussed subirrigation, "the new look in agriculture."

Horace Duke, Lamesa, Dawson chapter president, was host for the meeting.

welcome and sketch the purposes and possibilities of the museum which is located in the former Dora Roberts home at Sixth and Scurry.

The opening ceremonies, which will include the invocation by Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, retired pastor of First Presbyterian Church, the introduction of the governing bodies and the museum board and committee chairmen, and a ribbon cutting, will be on the east (Scurry Street) side of the building. The Ambassadors will assist in the ribbon cutting.

The initial exhibit arranged by a committee headed by Daryle Hohertz, will feature enlargements and other pictures of Big Spring. Interspersed will be other items to reflect these early times.

For the past three months, the former Howard County Library home, which now houses the museum, has been in the process of renovation and redecoration.

The museum to date has received $5,000 from the city and county and donations from various other individuals and organizations. Total expenses have been $1,656.89. The museum as of March 31 had a cash balance of $10,528.11.

"We urge every person who can be on hand for the opening or to call between the hours of 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. to view the new facilities. It will have meaning to the extent that people in this area make it their museum."

Emergency Aid Granted Here

Howard County has been designated for haying and grazing privileges as an emergency aid, Cong. Omar Burleson advised The Herald today.

This applies only to those who have land in the CAP program, and there are only five in Howard County. By paying for the privilege they may graze their stock (or permit others to do so) on land which previously was committed to the long-range conservation program.

Prior to the ruling, this was considered retired land.

The lifting of restrictions on the CAP land is not so significant within itself, said local farm leaders, but it does put the county in line for more substantial relief if and when special drought-disaster programs are approved.

Buddy Meeks, Texaco Station, 901 Gregg, reported the theft of $10 from the cash register in the station Thursday night.

VANDALISM

Charles C. Vineyard reported to the police station Thursday night that the tires on his vehicle had been slashed as he parked at the Sands Restaurant. The value of the tires was set at $35.

Buddy Meeks, Texaco Station, 901 Gregg, reported the theft of $10 from the cash register in the station Thursday night.

Calls For FDIC To Collect $600,000 'Political Loans'

HOUSTON (AP) — Rep. Bill Archer, R-Tex., says $600,000 in loans to Texas public officials were written off as bad debts by the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank.

The Houston congressman said Thursday the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. should make every effort to collect the money.

Archer said the writeoffs were revealed in testimony at a closed hearing of the House Committee on Banking and Currency, of which he is a member.

"I don't know who the individuals were but I know the sum total was $600,000," he said. "The FDIC (Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.) was not eager to release the names. It was not pressed to release them."

STUDY FAILURES — "I intend to pursue the matter and determine the current status of the loans and what is being done to collect."

Archer's committee is making a study of bank failures across the nation. The Sharpstown bank in Southwest Houston closed in February after a run.

of some $15 million on deposits begun when the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a civil suit alleging stock manipulations by Houston financier Frank W. Sharp and others.

The FDIC took over the bank after an investigation by state banking examiners.

While Archer was making his statement to newsmen Thursday, lawyers for Sharp filed a petition in federal court seeking to get back some of Sharp's personal records that are being held for a federal grand jury.

Sharp asked that an order by which the records were seized and sealed be quashed, dismissed in part or modified.

The petition alleged that some of Sharp's personal records from his filing cabinet and his desk were seized along with bank records when a federal grand jury ordered all Sharpstown State Bank records produced last Jan. 18.

Sharp said that frequent requests to the FDIC that the records be returned have met with refusal.

In the petition, Sharp again alleged that the failure of the bank was caused by the Jan. 18 filing of the injunction suit by the SEC.

The SEC disclosed earlier this week it is sending investigators to Houston to seek records and documents that were not available at the time the suit was prepared. U. S. Dist. Judge Sarah Hughes has scheduled an Aug. 30 hearing on the case in Dallas.

WRITTEN OFF — Archer said the loans were written off by the Sharpstown bank "sometime after the first of the year" and "in the same period of the time the bank was closed."

"I don't believe any of these loans are political loans," he said. "I don't think public officials should be treated any different than anyone else. I would think anybody in public office could make some payment on a loan regardless of size."

Archer said the House committee will hold further hearings.

"The equipment needed ranges from a $3.75 tape measure to an $825 whirlpool bath. The volunteer council will attempt to provide some of the equipment. Anyone who would like to provide equipment or donations should contact the volunteer office at the hospital. Telephone number is 267-8216, extension 308."

The council voted to hire a full-time sports director for the hospital during the summer. The man will work to help the hospital staff and patients by setting up intramural sports programs during the summer.

A request for seeds for the work village garden was heard and approved by the council.

A request for seeds for the work village garden was heard and approved by the council.

Therapist Speaks On Rehabilitation

The Big Spring State Hospital Volunteer Advisory Council met Thursday in the Allred building at the hospital for lunch.

Jim Thompson, therapist at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and consultant at the State Hospital, discussed the job of a physical therapist.

"We are here for the benefit of the patients," he said. "We try to rehabilitate the whole person, not just the mind, not just the body, not just the spirit. There is often a physical problem as well as an emotional problem."

"We try to either completely alleviate the physical problem or alleviate the problem as much as possible and teach the person how to live as full a life as possible while living with the problem."

"Physical restoration is important because it allows the patient to do what we do. If a child does not have proper motor skills," he said, "he spends time developing motor skills that would normally be spent on cognitive skills."

"At the State Hospital Hope M. Leyva, chief physical therapist, has performed 27,870 treatments in the last year. Many of the people have a long term, permanent disability. But most can be helped to some extent," said Thompson.

The hospital has a new physical therapy building almost

The 'Nice' Girl

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have news for the girl in Eudora, Kan., who claims she is dateless because she's nice.

I happen to be a 26-year-old bachelor who lives in Eudora, so I think I'm in a position to know. I am no creep, and I've dated all kinds of girls, here and in other cities.

I feel sorry for a girl who doesn't get asked for dates, and if it makes her feel better to say it's because she's "too nice," it's all right with me. But that's not the real reason. There must be something wrong with her personality. A girl can't be too nice! Sure, a guy will take out an easy number just to prove to himself that he's a "man," but after he's used the girl for that purpose, she's had it.

Girls who put out may enjoy a rush of popularity for a while, but guys talk, and if the girl wants to settle down and be respectable, she'd better leave town.

EUDORA READER

DEAR ABBY: This is for the nice girl from Eudora, Kan.: My roommate is a junior in college and I am a freshman. We were "decent" in high school and it paid off. We have done a lot of dating in college mostly with guys who ask us out more than once because they have a good time. And we don't have to put out either. The guys who just want sex don't ask us twice. And who needs them? Most fellows respect girls who say no! Here is our motto: "Friendship may blossom into love, but don't cheapen yourself and give love to gain friendship." The joy of true love is worth all the waiting it takes.

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the girl who said that nice girls don't get dates. She's wrong. Boys don't ask girls out because they want only sex. Sure, if you're giving it away, they'll take it, but they do have other interests. I'll bet that nice Kansas girl is dateless because she lets a guy know right off the bat that she thinks all he wants is sex, and that turns him off.

LOTS OF DATES AND STILL A VIRGIN

DEAR ABBY: About that girl who said boys don't care to date nice girls. You said she was wrong. Well, you goofed. I say she's absolutely right. Face it, Abby, you aren't a teenager anymore.

SEVENTEEN

DEAR SEVENTEEN: I know it. They were saying the same thing when I was a teenager, and they were wrong then, too.

DEAR ABBY: That girl was so wrong to say that guys don't want to date girls unless they can score with them. I am a 27-year-old bachelor who enjoys the company of a girl I can have a good time with and assure you I can leave sex out of it. There is so much more to dating and relationships than just heading for the bedroom.

I come from the old school where a walk in the moonlight and a kiss at the door is a perfect ending for a wonderful evening. As far as I'm concerned, good girls are in style, and I hope that girl in Kansas doesn't lose her faith in us men.

R.K. IN OSHKOSH, WIS.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Slow Pulse

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Recently my cousin, a medical student, took my pulse, 48 beats per minute, and acted as if I were a freak!

I'm 24, have four children, and am in good health. Is a slow pulse a sign of anything? Has it anything to do with my heart? Should I see a doctor? — Mrs. S.M.

While a pulse as slow as 40 can be normal (individuals differ) a slow rate is found when a patient has heart block, about which I recently wrote.

For a simple test, exercise vigorously. If the rate goes up, you do not have heart block. If it rises only slightly, you might have.

To satisfy yourself and to contribute to your cousin's medical education, have an electrocardiogram. That will register your heart rate accurately, and the presence or absence of a block in heart impulses can readily be determined.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My

Answers To Some Ills In Africa?

HOUSTON (AP) — Magazine editor Aaron Segal says the answers to some of America's social ills may be found in Africa.

Dr. Segal, editor of New York-based Africa Report magazine, said he foresees a new closeness between the United States and Africa in the future with Africa having an important cultural influence on Americans.

Segal was in Houston to speak at Texas Southern University, the University of Houston and Rice University.

What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Only solution I can think of would require an electrician — have him install a set of headphones for her, with separate volume control so she can have it as loud as she needs. It's not her fault that her hearing failed. Neither is it yours. I don't see why anyone's feelings should be hurt.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What effect will it have on the child if a mother nurses the child up to age 2 or 2 1/2 years? The mother is 38 and the father 43, both healthy. — Mrs. K.B.S.

There are numerous advantages to breast feeding in early infancy, but it is doubted that any advantage persists in nursing beyond nine months.

Put Safety First In Choosing Mower

When it comes to selecting a lawn mower, there is one thing to insist on — safety — and one thing to decide on — the appearance you want your grass to have, and as a corollary, the time you can spend working on your lawn.

This view is emphasized by one of the nation's recognized mower experts, Lester Van Dyke.

"Safety is of vital importance," says Van Dyke. "Insist on a mower that carries the safety seal of the Outdoor Power Equipment Institute. The makers of power equipment have been ahead of any federal demand for safety features on mowers. But above all, read the instruction manual carefully. It spells out exactly what you should do to stay on the safe side."

When it comes to lawn appearance, there are two choices: a reel mower — hand and powered — or a rotary mower.

"A rotary mower chops off the grass and the edges of the blades can become brown," says Van Dyke. "It's not much, but an expert can see it. On the other hand, it is faster and probably easier to handle than the reel type. The reel mower, by contrast, cuts the grass clean and leaves it looking a little greener."

The rotary mower is the overwhelming favorite. In a typical recent month, 17,323 hand reel lawn mowers were sold compared to 12,205 reel power mowers, and 442,055 rotary power mowers. In the 1969-12-month model season, 5,700,000 power mowers were sold of which 1,000,000 were riding units.

"Let's say it's spring and you have decided on your mower," says Van Dyke. "Basically, at the start of the season when the grass is young, it should be cut at a minimum height of 1 1/4 to 2 inches, whether it is a new lawn or an old one.

"As the growth firms up and matures, then the length can be lowered to 1 1/4 to 1 1/2 inches but no closer. Most people cut their lawns too close. As summer heats up, you should let the length of the grass go back up again, particularly if you use rotary mowers. Incidentally, the blades of a rotary mower should be sharpened after every use.

"There is a strong trend to the use of bags to collect the grass cuttings. In the old days, we let the cut grass lie on the lawn to form a composite or mulch, but now we think the cuttings should be removed so the grass can breathe. Besides, this makes for a nicer looking lawn."

"With a reel mower, cut your lawn once every five days, with a rotary once every seven. And of course fertilizer and water makes for a better looking lawn.

"The average life of a reel mower is 10 years and of a rotary three to five years.

"The big advantage of a rotary mower is that it can tackle any height of cut, allows for close trimming, and is easier to maintain."

As for starting a new lawn, Van Dyke says:

"Talk it over with a reliable local seed dealer. Conditions vary from state to state, even from county to county, and there is a type of grass for almost every condition except possibly dense shade. Usually there is more than one type for each separate lawn condition so you have a choice of color, density, and hardness. Grass comes in an almost infinite number of varieties. Just make sure you get the right one."

Sodding is another way to start a new lawn. It is more expensive but the results are instantaneous. The squares of sod must be kept moist until they are put in place, and they should be laid close together and overlapping the way bricks are laid. As soon as they are in place, the new lawn must be wet down thoroughly and must be kept moist until the grass is firmly rooted.

The fall is the time to scatter a good fertilizer over your lawn along with a weed killer so that both can work all winter under the snow in regions where there is snow, or under the rain that falls in most other parts of the United States.

Van Dyke, an official of a company (AMF Western Tool) which makes a complete range of mowers, offers these suggestions on the selection of a lawn mower:

"First, look for the safety factors. A good machine will carry the OPEI safety seal. A reputation for reliability along with the name of a reputable manufacturer are important, and you should have confidence in your dealer.

"Quietness is vital too, along with the ability to change the height of the cut easily. Read the instruction manual carefully, particularly the parts dealing with safety.

"Then it gets down to a question as to how big a lawn you have and how much you want to spend. For a tiny lawn, a hand reel would do the job. A bigger one might call for a powered reel or a push type rotary cutter. Next on the scale is the self-propelled rotary cutter and finally, in the real luxury class, is the riding lawn mower, usually rotary."

Organic Matter Must Be Added To Area Soils

By BILL SNEED
(President, Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs)

Soil and moisture are probably the most important factors when considering gardening in West Texas.

Soils throughout the Southwest are alkaline, as evidenced locally by the great amount of caliche in the soil. Many plants need a more neutral soil or soil slightly on the acid side.

We can improve this situation by adding organic matter to the soil, which will improve the texture and water holding capacity. Peat moss, materials from your compost pile, etc., will help build the soil. By organic fertilizers, sulphur and iron, we can continue to improve the soil and increase the acidity each year.

One of the more important things overlooked by gardeners here is mulching your flower beds. Use cotton burrs, grass clippings, or anything to cover the surface of the flower beds. A good mulch will keep the roots cool, eliminate most of the weeds, and most important conserve moisture that is lost by evaporation. With rainfall so scarce here, we can save water by mulching. An organic mulch will decay and therefore further improve the soil.

When watering, do it slowly so the moisture will soak into the soil and avoid runoff. Another way to cut down on the water bill, is not mowing your Bermuda lawns too short.

The longer grass makes a nice carpet and protects the roots from the hot sun, and helps reduce evaporation. Shallow watering will produce shallow roots and will eventually cause the plants and lawns to suffer.

Those who come from the more lush areas of the country, take watering their lawns as a matter of course, but in West Texas, watering the lawn can become a ritual — most of us have learned that the following procedure is probably the most effective. Lawns should be watered in the early morning, before the temperature gets too high, and evaporation becomes a problem. Another area of difficulty in watering is the presence of wind. Therefore, when ever possible, it is best to water when there is little or no wind, or else on a windy day you will find you are watering your neighbor's lawn or giving his automobile an unwanted bath. Of course it is not always possible to avoid the wind, but at least pick a relatively calm day!

Planting native shrubs and plants which require little moisture is also another big help. However, every gardener loves a challenge and likes to experiment with a variety of plants. By using the suggestions mentioned, one can grow many varieties of plants — even those the oldtimers say can't possibly be grown here, and know the satisfaction of "fooling the experts!"

IMAGINATIVE DESIGN — In a country where water is precious and soils require much extra work for lawns and shrubs, yards may be beautified in other ways, as Roy M. Peet, 710 Edwards has done. It features specially-trimmed native trees, statuary, rock gardens and fountains.

Dry Flowers For Beauty Year Around

America's pioneer women were experts at drying fresh flowers.

You, too, can enjoy flower arrangements all winter by selecting fresh blooms at the florist shop now and preserving them indefinitely.

Here are two flower-drying methods.

The first: remove leaves from flowers. Do not place material to be dried in water. Tie in bunches and hang upside down in a dry, cool, dark place. Leaves and ferns are best preserved if flattened in books or on a flat surface under a heavy object. This process takes from two to three weeks.

The second method: combine two pounds of borax and five pounds of corn meal and add two tablespoons benzoate of soda. Mix thoroughly. Place about two inches of the mixture in a shallow box. Remove stems of flowers to be dried. Place blossoms face up in box. Lay leaves (carefully cut away from stems, of course) flat. Space blossoms and leaves so they are not touching. Gently sprinkle drying mixture completely over flowers and leaves. Arrange additional layers of flowers, covering each with powder until container is filled.

Make box as airtight as possible by taping a piece of aluminum foil or plastic over the top and sides.

The Society of American Florists reports the exact drying time depends upon size, texture and moisture content of flowers. Tiny blooms take about four days, large flowers a week.

An inexpensive and ready-made chemical that will also do the drying job is silica gel. It is reusable and sold under various commercial names at department and handicraft stores, garden centers and florist shops.

When flowers are dry, remove powder gently. Thrust a two or three-inch section of No. 20 florist's wire through each blossom-head, securing wire's placement by bending it to hook form at flower-head end. Twist the end of this short wire to longer wire that has been cut to desired "stem" length. Wrap the two with green floral tape. The final touch; attach dried leaves with tape.

More Shrubs And Trees Can Curb Air Pollution

Twelve million tons of particles such as dust, grit and cinders are released into the atmosphere above the United States each year. They come from almost every place — automobiles, industrial furnaces, incinerators, jet planes and home heating systems.

On many days in the nation's cities, one has only to wipe his forehead or clean his glasses to see evidence of this pollution. Persons with lung ailments feel pain when they breathe unclean air and an increasing number of city dwellers are developing lung illnesses as a result of breathing polluted air over a period of years.

Amidst the talk of how to stop the release of these pollutants into the air, most Americans have overlooked a natural resource that can help considerably in alleviating the problem.

The resource is green plant life.

That simple thing we take for granted called a plant has the amazing ability to act as a dust trap for these particles. The hairy surfaces of plant leaves on trees, bushes and vines catch falling particles from the air flowing by. Then, with rainfall or a hosing down, the pollutants are washed into the ground, where they are no longer a danger to man's health.

"Increased use of trees and shrubbery on city streets, shopping malls and along freeways will help lower the pollution rate of the air in that vicinity," Robert F. Lederer, executive vice president of the American Association of Nurserymen, has suggested.

Homeowners, too, can help. No residential area today is totally free of air pollution. By planting an extra tree or two in the backyard they are doing much more than providing some shade for a hot summer afternoon and making their home more attractive. They are helping improve the quality of living for their families and their neighbors, as well.

Winners In Yard Contest Have Formula

Last year's winners in the Chamber of Commerce "Yard of the Month" contest didn't say it, but they were all very proud of the results of the hard work they put in on their lawns.

Tips on a good lawn from some of last year's winners include deep watering once a week, cutting the grass as high as possible and properly fertilizing the lawn.

"I trimmed the trees and shrubs, fertilized and added top-soil to the yard," said Roy Peet, 710 Edwards Blvd., one of last year's winners. "I tried to make it look like someone lives here. This year I have fed it, watered it and just done the best I could in this weather."

"I put on a lot of water and used the best fertilizer I could buy," said Noel Morgan, 1011 Main. "I also cut my grass high. Most people cut it short, but it takes more water that way because it dries out. High grass gives a good shade that helps keep the moisture in the soil. I am not putting any special effort in this year, but if it looks like rain I will."

"You don't get a fine lawn in one year," said Don Trupp, 208 Circle. "You have to visualize how it's going to look in July and August you have to cut the grass as high as you can. People cut the grass short to kill weeds, but that just makes them grow. I fertilize and water once a week."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Granted that the Abilene Eagles appear capable of dominating the meet, the District 5-AAAA track and field show here Saturday promises to be a lively one. In the past, Big Spring hasn't prospered in the cinder meet but Glenn Petty has made the local community track conscious and the results will show on the morrow. The local squad is still much too thin to figure in the race for team honors but the talent will come shining through in some individual events and a relay race or two. It will help if you are there to lend the Bold Gold some support. Ring a cow bell. Wave a handkerchief. Shatter the silence with a stentorian clamor. In other words, let them know you're there and that you care.

Where-are-they-now department: Del Wilbur, the former St. Louis Cardinal, is managing Denver of the American Association. Del Crandell, once of the Milwaukee Braves, is master-minding Evansville in the same league. Sherman Lollar, who caught for the Chicago White Sox years ago, is bossing the Iowa Oaks of the AA. In that capacity, he matches wits with Warren Spain, the one-time Boston-Milwaukee mound ace, now with Tulsa.

Clyde King, former manager of the San Francisco Giants, is currently skipper of the International League's Richmond Braves. Hank Bauer, who went up with the Yankees and managed all over the American League, calls the shots for the Tidewater Tides of the International League. In that capacity, he tries to outguess Clyde (Bit) McCullough of Winnipeg, who had a lengthy big league career.

Minnie Mioso, a gung-ho outfielder for the Chicago White Sox in years past, is mapping strategy for the Gomez Palacio Cottonpickers of the Mexican League.

Laney Cook, the former Sonora quarterback, will be offered the opportunity to make the Denver NFL club this summer.

Do you agree with Rep. Morris K. Udall, who says over-exposure of sports on television is putting sports buffs on the brink of boredom?

The Arizona Democrat wants to limit televised professional baseball from the second Monday in April through the second Sunday in September, would bar pro football from TV from Sept. 1 through the second Sunday in January and would keep pro basketball off the air before Dec. 1 and after the second Sunday in April.

Udall says organized sports are too important to throw them away as last year's craze, to make them a hula hoop replaced by a frisbee.

It is generally acknowledged that television uses up a sport pretty fast.

What would you do to entertain yourself if all TV went off the air for a week? We might even start to bend our backs again or look up the address of the local library.

Local service clubs which would like to view the 1971 Cotton Bowl game films can write for them by addressing envelopes to the Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Box 7185, Dallas 75209. There is no rental fee, but transportation charges must be paid.

The University of Alabama has gone to Beaver Falls, Pa., to sign a young football recruit named David Capan, a 6-3, 210-pounder who plays offensive tackle and defensive end.

The last Beaver Falls player talked into going to Alabama was a fellow by the name of Joe Namath, who discovered the doorway to the world was Tuscaloosa.

One of the nicest compliments of Big Springer Zay LeFevre's coaching career came his way recently when quarterback Jimmy Fillingim of New Home was named to play in the All-Star football game at Fort Worth in August. Fillingim's all-around ability made coaching a pleasure for LeFevre at New Home over two seasons.

Chippers Play 2 Saturday

The Big Spring Chippers, now 5-1 on the year, go to Lamesa Saturday for a softball double-header, meeting that city's Merchants.

The first contest gets under way at 7:30 p.m. Cotton Mize and L. W. Utley are the likely pitching starters for Big Spring while Don Gibson and Bob Lambert are set to take the mound for Lamesa.

The Chippers dropped their first game of the season in Comanche Trail Park here Thursday, yielding the opener to the Big Spring Merchants, 8-5. They came back to win the morningcap, however, 8-3.

Bill May hurled for the Merchants in the opener, scattering six Chipper hits. Colton Mize took the mound for the Chippers in the after-piece and benefitted from a six-run sixth inning on the part of his mates.

Roy New had two doubles and two singles for the Chippers in the second game while Jimmy Roger complemented his play with a single and a home run. Charles Lindermon and Charles Burdett each collected two safeties for the Merchants.

In the opener, the Merchants made the most of five hits. One of those was a second inning home run by Claude Fryar, the drive coming with a man aboard. Roland Fryar smashed a triple and a single for the winners.

This will be a day-night event. Preliminaries in running events and finals in field events get under way at 1:30 p.m., and continue until 3:40 p.m.

The athletes report back at 8 o'clock for the running finals. The last race (the mile relay) starts at 9:45 p.m.

First and second place finishers in each event become eligible for Regional competition. Most of the others will call it a season, although the first six finishers in each event earn points for their teams.

One novelty of the meet will be the appearance of Dave Duncan of Big Spring. An all-district quarterback in football, Duncan started out in baseball this spring but accepted coach Glenn Petty's invitation to try out for the sprint relay team, after Arthur Trevino had been hurt.

Dave was clocked in 10.2 in his leg of the 440 relay in the recent Amarillo meet. He'll also run in the 100-yard dash.

The 100, by the way, could be the highlight of the meet because it pits Big Spring's Walter Jordan against San Angelo's Dwight Harris, among others.

Both Jordan and Harris are sophomores and have built up quite a rivalry in the short time they've been out for track. Jordan twice nipped Harris in close finishes and Harris, who gets a better start, has vowed revenge.

Walter Campbell, a quarter miler; Bob Priebe, miler; Clay Thompson, quarter miler; Mike McCormick, half-miler; Danny Smart, half-miler; and hurdler Terry Price are others who are likely to pick up points for the Steers.

Petty expects to suit out 22 boys for the meet, among them several promising sophomores who may be a year away from first place contention. Still, the experience they'll pick up will be invaluable.

Coaches of teams competing here, in addition to Petty, are Roy Overton, Abilene Cooper; Fred Walker, Abilene High; Ed Nixon, Midland High; Sam Volpe, Midland Lee; James Segrest, Odessa Permian; Ken Fannon, San Angelo Central; and Jim Walker, Odessa High.

Medals go to first, second and third place finishers in each event. In addition, the first place team gets a trophy as will the two winning relay teams. High point man of the meet also earns a medal.

The track is in fine shape and could be a little faster than most of the ovals the boys have been running on this spring. BSHS crews have been busy in the last two days getting things in order at the stadium.

L. (Red) Lewis of HCJC will be the meet referee while Gerald Breeding of San Angelo will serve as chief starter. The head field judge will be Bill Narrell while Garand Braun will be clerk of the course.

Alcindor Resumes Rivalry With Wilt

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lew Alcindor and Wilt Chamberlain, the Giants of the National Basketball Association, resume their hefty feuding tonight as the favored Milwaukee Bucks battle the crippled but scrappy Los Angeles Lakers.

So far, the best four-of-seven series for the Western title stands 2-1 for Milwaukee but Los Angeles renewed its hopes with a 118-107 victory on its Forum home court Wednesday night after dropping a pair in the Midwest.

Again, the home court advantage goes to the Lakers, whose 7-foot-1 veteran Chamberlain has kept the NBA Most Valuable Player Alcindor from dominating the series.

With the exception of a 20-point first half in the opening game, won by Milwaukee 106-85, Alcindor hasn't been too aggressive.

In the three games, he's scored 72 points compared with 70 for Chamberlain and Wilt has taken the boards away, averaging 22 rebounds to 17 for the Bucks' big man.

Additionally, in the third game, Chamberlain frequently tipped rebounds to teammates.

At 34, Chamberlain is 10 years older than his adversary, yet has played more minutes in this series.

Wilt and three other Lakers each scored 24 points in the Wednesday victory which confounded those who figured the Lakers, without Jerry West, Elgin Baylor and Keith Erickson, would be no match for the club with the regular season's best record of 66 victories against 16 defeats.

Happy Hairston, Gail Goodrich and Pat Riley each tallied two dozen points and for Riley it was his career high. He didn't join the starting corps until Erickson suffered an appendicitis attack last Sunday.

Milwaukee averaged 118 points during the regular season but only 100 in this playoff and Coach Larry Costello still awaits the "offensive explosion" which he has predicted.

He also hopes Oscar Robertson will shoot more. The veteran guard, hampered by a pulled stomach muscle, took only 10 shots in the third game.

Midland Lee has all but clinched the championship, with a 72-hole team score of 1,226.

The Rebels lead runner-up San Angelo by 26 shots while Big Spring is third, a stroke back of the Bobcats and intent on using the home course advantage to take over second place and insure a place in the Regional tournament.

Abilene Cooper trails Big Spring by seven strokes with a 1260 while Lee No. 2 is fifth with a 1263.

Mark McCraney, Big Spring, hopes to win individual laurels today. He leads with a 222, one stroke better than Lee's John Adams. In individual competition, players use the scores from their best four rounds. Six players are bunched within six shots of each other and any could win with a strong rally today.

Others in the running include David Ridley, Cooper, 224; Chuck Runnestrand, Lee, 227; David Taylor, San Angelo, 227; and Craig Stevens, San Angelo, 228.

Far for the Big Spring layout is 71.

Starting for the Big Spring No. 1 unit will be McCraney, Howard Stewart, Mark Peters, Mark Slate and Jarrell Carroll.

Under rules adopted by the league, points go only to the two finalists in each division, 15 to the winner and 10 to the runner-up.

Nancy Thompson is set to play in girls' singles for Big Spring while Lana Parks and Sandy Williams will team for doubles.

The boys' mass at the high school courts for their competition. The girls will play on the HCJC courts.

Jana Hooten, San Angelo, seeks her third straight girls' singles championship. The Bobcats also won in boys' doubles and half of that winning tandem, Craig Pfleger, is back to try and start a new string.

Rated No. 1 in boys' singles is David King of Abilene, with Mike Gleason of Midland rated a good chance to slip in ahead of King.

Big Spring's boys' singles entry will be Geren Martin. The Steers' best bet for a championship may be the boys' doubles tandem of Stewart Bunn and Bobby Dyer.

Bunn and Dyer have been playing well together all season and coach Novice Kniffen has high hopes for them.

San Angelo and Midland High shared the team championship last year with a total of 40 points each.

Skip Lockwood Dazzles Sox Behind Milwaukee

By The Associated Press
And now the envelope, please. Winner of this year's best actor award in baseball is Skip Lockwood for roles in King Kong and Aunt Alice.

Giants Again Fell Astros

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "When a team is going good, a lot of things break its way," says Houston Astros Manager Harry Walker, pointing a finger toward the surging San Francisco Giants.

Walker speaks from experience. The ailing Giants Thursday used three rookies in their starting lineup, and a fourth rookie, third-string catcher Fran Healy, cracked a tenth-inning homer for a 4-3 victory over the Astros.

Walker lectured his club behind closed doors following Thursday's loss. "If we had been hitting, it would have been a lot different in these two games," he said. "We really wasted some good pitching, but we never seem to hit well at Candlestick."

The Giants, meanwhile, received some good news by learning Willie McCovey does not have cartilage damage in his left knee.

Healy, who had 10 at bats and no homers for Kansas City in 1969, slammed his game-winning homer on the first pitch he saw in the National League. It was delivered by reliever Jim Ray, 0-1, with one out in the tenth.

like Aunt Alice," says Milwaukee's Jekyll-and-Hyde pitcher. "But, however I feel, I have to keep bearing down because I don't have any tricky stuff."

Lockwood assumed the leading part Thursday—pitching the Brewers over the Chicago White Sox 4-1 with a four-hitter. So whatever happened to Aunt Alice?

"I stayed with my best pitches—fast ball and curve," said Lockwood, who decided to skip everything else.

Even though the White Sox knew it was going to be one of the two, it didn't help. Lockwood, who had a 5-12 record last year, was especially impressive in the sixth inning as he won his first game of the year.

Lee Richard singled and Mike Andrews walked to open the frame and Chicago threatened to cut into the Brewers' 3-1 lead. But Lockwood then mowed down the power of the White Sox lineup—Carlos May, Bill Melton and Rich McKinney.

In the American League's other games, Detroit defeated New York 3-2; Baltimore topped Cleveland 6-4 in 10 innings; Oakland trimmed Minnesota 4-3 and California bounced Kansas City 5-2 in 11.

It was Lockwood's show as the Brewers handed the skidding Sox their sixth straight loss. The only time Chicago scored on the 24-year-old former third baseman was in the first inning on a walk and singles by Melton and McKinney.

Lockwood then yielded only singles to Richard in the sixth and McKinney in the ninth.

Despite the overpowering performance, Lockwood said he'd be trying a different warmup style in the future.

After Chicago took a 1-0 lead, Milwaukee went ahead for good in the second inning as Tommy Harper scored the first run with a bases-loaded ground out and Mike Hegon drove in the second with a single.

Ed Brinkman's ninth-inning single scored Aurelio Rodriguez to boost Detroit over New York. Rodriguez opened the ninth by beating out a bunt off relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel.

He advanced to second on Mickey Stanley's sacrifice and came home on Brinkman's hit to left field.

Jayhawks Grab 27-Hole Win

AMARILLO — Playing its finest golf of the season, the Howard County Junior College golf team took a 14 stroke lead over Odessa College in the first 27 holes of the Great Plains Golf tournament here Thursday.

The 54-hole event will be concluded today. First round action took place at the Tascosa Country Club. Today's competition is booked for the Amarillo Country Club.

The initial 27 holes figure in Western Conference play, which means the Jayhawks returned to second place in the standings. Odessa still holds the No. One spot but yielded a point to the red-hot Jayhawks. In third place, after Thursday's activity, is New Mexico JC, one point back of HCJC.

Following play, coach Tommy Rutledge of HCJC said he was very pleased with the Jayhawk effort, adding "I felt sooner or later they would put it all together. We played today like I thought we were capable of all season."

The Jayhawks finished with a four-man, 27-hole score of 443. They were five under on the last nine holes.

Today's District 5-AAAA baseball game between Big Spring and Abilene High was postponed until next Wednesday, due to rain and wet grounds.

The Steers next see action against Midland High in Midland Tuesday and coach Oakley Hagood, who departed the hospital Wednesday, said he would probably pitch John Sevey against the Bulldogs.
