

TIED, WEIGHTED Two Bodies Of Beaten Women Found

JACKSBORO, Tex. (AP) — The bodies of two women who were beaten to death and their bodies tied and weighted and thrown into a stock pond near here were identified today as Haltom City residents.

Officers said tattoos on the arms of one woman identified her as Mrs. Edith Shores. The second woman was identified by detectives of Haltom City, near Fort Worth, as Mrs. Shores' roommate, Deann Cloninger, 34.

Officers said Mrs. Shores was the mother of a 2½-year-old child found April 16 in a parked car in Fort Worth.

The date the child was found is about the time, officers estimate, that the bodies were tossed into the stock tank 10 miles southeast of here.

The father of the child said at the time the tot was found that he did not know the whereabouts of the mother, from whom he was separated.

A woman fishing with her five children found one body Saturday. The second body was found Sunday when the pond was drained for evidence.

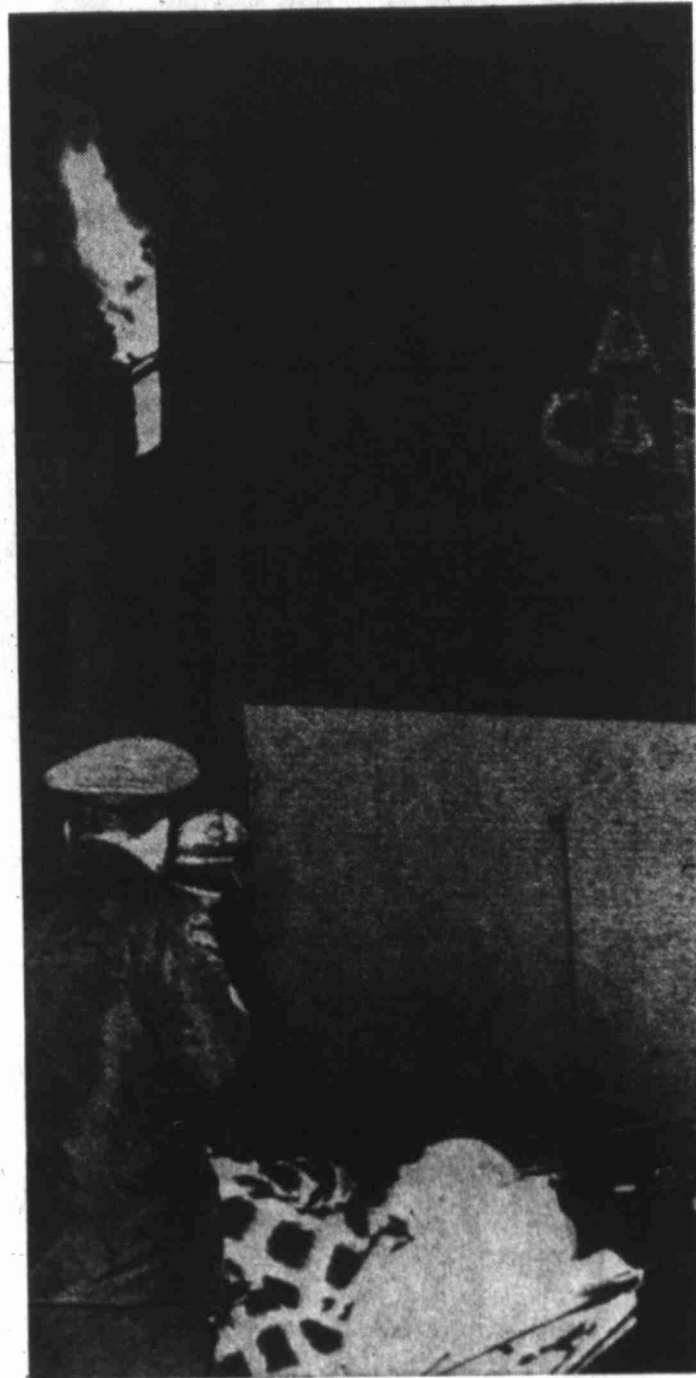

Sheriff Humbert Jackson said today that the pond later was drained but no further evidence was discovered.

Both bodies had been tied with wire and weighted with auto parts and stones.

A bloodstained patch of grass and weeds was found Sunday by Jack County sheriff's officers. The stains were near a dirt road that led to the tank.

Sheriff Jackson estimated the bodies had been in the water about a week.

The bodies were taken to the Wichita County Hospital for autopsies. Jacksboro is about 65 miles south of Wichita Falls.

SURVIVOR ANSWERS QUESTIONS — A survivor answers questions from rescuers about the early morning fire in a Seattle apartment building that killed 12 persons Sunday. The fire still raged in the background from one of the apartments. The fire, in downtown Seattle, apparently was caused by a smoker's carelessness, according to Fire Marshal Stephen McPherson.

'Kick It' Panel Set In Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — The Texas Department of Corrections "Operation Kick It" will be presented Wednesday in two Lamesa schools.

The program, an effort to combat actively the growing drug abuse problem, is slated for 1:30 p.m. at Lamesa High School and 2:30 p.m. at the Middle School.

"Operation Kick It" attempts to demonstrate what can happen to drug users. It consists of a panel of four state prison inmates who have been touring the state since June, 1970, telling the story of drug misuse.

They are first offenders, age 17-21. Each was convicted of possession of marijuana, one for the sale of drugs. Each tells briefly about his home background, how he began using drugs, and the events leading to his arrest.

Youth Center Meeting Tonight

Young people in Big Spring are being asked to express their views concerning a teen center.

The meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Comanche Trail Park amphitheatre. In event of bad weather the meeting will be in Municipal Auditorium.

On the adult steering committee are Roger Brown, Ken Carter, Al Herridge, Caleb Hildebrand, Mrs. Bobby Hughes, Larry Lee, Alton Marwitz, Mrs. Ralph McLaughlin, Mrs. Ernest Morgan, Mrs. Clarence Peters, Norman Picquet, Leon Taylor, Henry Thames and Woody Thelin.

Jobless Pay Claims Look

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said today latest figures show a substantial drop in new claims for unemployment insurance due to a pickup in economic activity, but the total receiving jobless pay was still considerably above a year ago.

The report said new claims in the week ended April 17 totaled 257,900. This was 20,600 below the preceding week and 81,100 less than the corresponding weeks a year ago.

However, the total number of Americans receiving unemployment insurance the week ended April 17 totaled 2,375,700. This was 31,300 lower than the previous week but 637,200 more than a year earlier and the insured unemployment rate remained unchanged at 4.5 per cent. A year ago it was 3.3 per cent, the report said.

U. S. Troop Strength Dips

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. troop strength in Vietnam dropped to 281,400 men last week, the U.S. Command announced today. The total was 2,600 below the ceiling set by President Nixon for May 1 and the lowest level in nearly five years.

Official sources said they anticipated strength would drop about 274,000 by May 1, or 10,000 below the ceiling.

Nixon has announced a seventh round of troop cutbacks to reduce the authorized ceiling to 184,000 by next Dec. 1.

Bill To Include 'Business Taxes'

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes talked at breakfast today with a seven-senator tax-writing subcommittee and later said the group would unveil a tax bill this afternoon.

Barnes said he planned to meet again with the subcommittee over lunch.

"There is definitely going to be about $100 million in business taxes in there," Barnes said of the revenue measure, written as a substitute for a tax bill passed last month by the House.

The tax bill probably will be debated in the Senate Wednesday or Thursday.

The House Appropriations Committee approved a Senate-passed bill, making an $8.2 million fund transfer to prevent a cut in welfare payments to needy children May 1.

SPECIAL FUND
Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney said the money is in a special fund set up to receive surplus federal dollars received in years when Texas did not spend its full welfare appropriation.

Without the transfer, aid to families with dependent children would be cut by about one-third May 1. Passage before that date is expected.

Although Barnes and some senators criticized the $524 million House Tax package because they said it relied too heavily on consumer taxes, Barnes said the Senate version also will be well stocked with consumer levies.

Both the appropriations bills which already have passed their respective houses and the tax bills are expected to be worked out by Senate-House conference committees.

Barnes said the Senate tax proposal probably will have a $300 million sales tax increase and a two-cent gasoline tax increase, which would raise $102 million in two years.

The Senate bill will not have the corporation income tax which liberal senators have promoted, Barnes said.

WELFARE CHANGES
He has recommended welfare changes, however, which he said could save $40.1 million a year by limiting surgical and hospital benefits to welfare recipients.

The House tax measure provided a sales tax increase of from 3.25 per cent to 4 per cent as the main factor in raising new money.

In committee hearings today, the Senate State Affairs Committee was to hear evidence on bills creating a Texas Human Relations Commission and establishing a Governor's Commission on Physical Fitness.

The House Elections committee scheduled a Monday night hearing on the Senate-passed bill setting up a form or permanent voter registration.

Cosmonaut 'Completely Satisfied' With Trip

MOSCOW (AP) — Col. Vladimir Shatalov, the Soyuz 10 commander, says he and his two crewmen were "completely satisfied" with their two-day space trip to test new docking equipment in space.

The three cosmonauts returned to earth safely Sunday aboard the command ship module after the test of a new docking collar and other equipment for use in building orbital space platforms.

ALIVE, HEALTHY
Shatalov told newsmen the flight program was "big, complicated and tense."

Rookie cosmonaut Nikolai Rukavishnikov said: "We are alive, healthy, and in one piece." But he said the Soyuz landing module narrowly escaped dropping into a lake.

Descending at the end of an orange parachute at dawn, it touched down only 130 feet from the lake in Soviet Central Asia.

Soyuz 10 docked with the unmanned space station Salute Saturday, and the two craft orbited for 5½ hours locked together.

Salute remains in space, possibly to be used again when Soyuz 11 is sent up.

The Russians did not disclose how their new docking collar works. Negotiations between the Soviet Union and the United States are under way to work out compatible docking equipment so one nation could rescue another's spacecraft if that became necessary.

New electronic finder equipment for docking and rendezvous in space as well as unspecified new accessories also were tested on the Soyuz 10 flight.

Peking Gets Nod For Seat In U. N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission recommended today that Communist China be brought into the United Nations, with the continued membership of Nationalist China imperative.

This was the highlight of a report from a 50-member commission set up in connection with observing the 25th anniversary of the United Nations. The commission is under the chairmanship of Henry Cabot Lodge, President Nixon's emissary to the Vatican.

"The U.N.," the report said, "can best do its job of war prevention and settlement of disputes if its membership includes all the governments in the world, provided they subscribe to the principles of the U.N. Charter. This means all governments which are unquestionably governing specific areas—even though they may not control all the areas which they claim."

The commission members took the position that the United States should adopt a stand for including all firmly established governments in the international organization, subject to international obligations under the charter, on the basis that the benefits would far outweigh problems that would be raised.

REPORT TO NIXON

Lodge handed the report to President Nixon at a ceremony in the presidential office.

He told reporters that Nixon had not commented specifically on any of the recommendations but termed it a very comprehensive report and noted that there had been much agreement on it.

James C. Hagerty, American Broadcasting Co. executive and a former White House press secretary in the Eisenhower administration, said that the recommendations on China all were adopted before the recent visit of the United States table tennis team to the Chinese mainland.

Hagerty is a member of the commission.

War Foes Roaming Halls Of Congress After Rally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Militant war foes and poverty lobbyists turned their attention to the halls of Congress today after the weekend's huge and peaceful Capitol rally, which a police official called the biggest in history.

Kicking off a two-week campaign of planned nonviolent disruption, they scheduled calls on congressmen and 24-hour sessions with senators in a "people's lobby" against the war and for expanded welfare aid.

Sunday, the continuing anti-war campaign saw police quietly lead away 124 persons whose Quaker peace vigils at the White House grew beyond the 100 persons allowed.

'SPRING OFFENSIVE'
Police arrested only those who refused to leave when asked, and charged them with crossing police lines, which carries a $25 maximum fine.

The so-called "spring offensive" of antiwar actions is coordinated by the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, which helped put on the big rally Saturday.

The People's Coalition is a loose, diverse group with wider aims and a more militant cast than its ally, the National Peace Action Coalition. NPAC seeks an end to the war through huge rallies and the People's Coalition stresses massive civil disobedience and non-violent action for peace and social justice; specifically, an end to the war by Aug. 28, a $6,500 guaranteed yearly income for a family of four and freedom for "political prisoners."

Sunday, NPAC co-ordinator Jerry Gordon claimed anew the Saturday march and rally at the Capitol drew half a million persons. Police stuck officially with Chief Jerry V. Wilson's estimate of 200,000, but civilian information officer Bill Jepsen said it seemed much larger.

FEW CONFUSED

"I would say from my knowledge that there were more here than ever before," he said. "We had liaison men out and they said it just dwarfed anything they'd seen."

Newsmen who covered the demonstration shared Jepsen's assessment. The previous high attendance is generally conceded to be the 320,000 estimated by police at an antiwar rally here Nov. 15, 1969.

One high administration official, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, accepted the police crowd estimate and downplayed the importance of that figure.

He added: "I think a lot of them (demonstrators) are well motivated, but confused. But I would call their attention to the fact that it is becoming too fashionable in this country for our citizens to extol the virtues of enemy nations, of very repressive, totalitarian societies, while they run down the decision of our own elected officials."

President Nixon, who spent the demonstration day at his mountain retreat in nearby

Maryland, has made no comment on the protest.

A similar demonstration in San Francisco Saturday involved another 156,000, police there estimated.

Massive 'Stall-In' On New Jersey Pike

MOUNT LAUREL, N.J. (AP)

Ninety-seven persons were arraigned today on charges of disorderly conduct arising from a massive "stall-in" on the New Jersey Turnpike by demonstrators returning from a peace rally in Washington.

Those arrested, mostly young persons whom police said remained on the four-lane highway after traffic began moving again about 11 p.m. Sunday, were taken to the municipal court house here. Thirteen cars and one bus were towed from the scene, police said.

The New Jersey residents, 28 in all, were released on their own recognizance. Others were held in lieu of $50 bail and taken to jails in Mount Holly and Camden.

Twenty of the youths were able to make bail and were released pending a hearing, tentatively set for May 19, court officials.

Police estimated that about 1,000 persons left their cars at the peak of the demonstration, built a bonfire, drank beer, shouted antiwar slogans and stopped cars behind them for about five hours.

Witnesses on the scene said the demonstration seemed to "just happen" with no visual evidence of organization.

But a girl who identified herself as Abi Eddy of New Britain, Conn., said the idea for a "stall-in" was formulated in a roadside restaurant in Delaware. She said about 50 persons had sat on the floor of the restaurant but left under orders from Delaware police.

Police said no incidents of violence were noted.

Power Of Congress To Strike At 'Loan-Sharking' Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 3 today that the states may allow voters to veto public housing projects in their communities.

The decision, given by Justice Hugo L. Black, approved a 1950 amendment to the California Constitution that requires endorsement by a majority of the voters before housing projects need be constructed.

Black said the provision did not aim at a racial minority and insures that all the people of the community will have a voice in the decision.

In other actions today, the court:

AID TO JOBLESS

—Acted to maintain aid to jobless workers while their former employers challenge their eligibility.

—Appointed U.S. Circuit Judge Clifford O'Sullivan to referee a dispute between Arkansas and Mississippi involving their mutual Mississippi River boundary.

—Upheld the power of Congress to strike at organized crime by making loan-sharking a federal offense.

—Upheld the government's right to grant informal permits of admission to some 50,000 Mexicans entering the United States for daily or seasonal employment.

—Refused to hear the case of an Austin, Tex., man convicted for possession of one marijuana cigarette butt. It was found by police who searched him without a warrant on the basis of an anonymous telephone call about "hippie types."

"Provisions for referendums demonstrate a devotion to democracy, not to bias, discrimination, or prejudice," Black wrote.

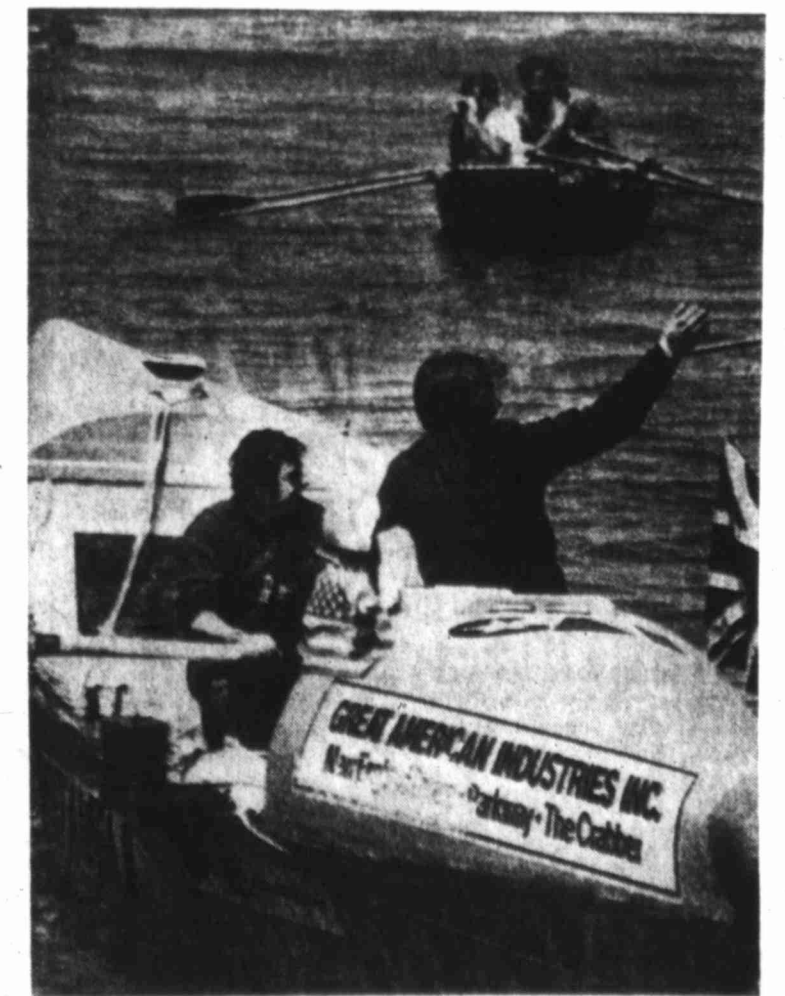

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Byron R. White were in the majority with Black. Justices Thurgood Marshall, William J. Brennan Jr. and Harry A. Blackmun dissented.

VOTING PATTERN

This lineup was noteworthy in one special respect. It was the first time Blackmun and Burger have disagreed in a major decision. Their voting pattern has been similar previously.

Justice William O. Douglas ruled himself out of the case without giving any reason.

Commie Attacks Double In Delta, Yanks Killed

SAIGON (AP) — The enemy doubled his attacks in South Vietnam over the weekend and inflicted heavy losses on the South Vietnamese and their American allies. One attack early today wrecked the biggest ammunition dump in the central part of the country for the third time since January.

Vietnamese were killed, 168 were wounded and more than 100 houses were destroyed in attacks since Saturday. The casualties included five civilians killed and 56 wounded.

AF Brass Warns Pilots About Near-Collisions

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An Air Force official has warned pilots in the San Antonio area to be on guard against an increasing number of near-collisions in the air here.

Col. Hoyt S. Vandenberg Jr., commander of the 3510th Flying Training Wing at Randolph Air Force Base, said the problem has become Randolph's "number one priority project."

Randolph fliers reported 27 near collisions in 1970, Vandenberg said, and five more during the first three months of this year.

"With an average of almost 3,500 daily movements in and out of just the major airdromes in the San Antonio area," he said, "it becomes the responsibility of every pilot to be alert to the possibility of a mid-air collision."

He called on aircraft owners and pilots to "join us in an intensified educational effort. The importance of recognizing the high mid-air collision potential in the Randolph vicinity cannot be overemphasized."

Notices of the hazards have been sent to all pilots in the San Antonio area, Vandenberg said.

One reason the Pentagon cited for closing Perrin Air Force Base by June 30 was a severe air space limitation problem. Officials attributed it to a heavy volume of civilian air traffic over Perrin, located between Denison and Sherman, Tex.

A Federal Aviation Agency spokesman said he was aware of some near-collisions at San Antonio but no statistics were available here.

The area north of Randolph is particularly dangerous since it involves much air traffic from both Randolph and San Antonio International Airport, he said.

The U.S. Command reported seven Americans killed, three missing, and 60 wounded. Two U.S. heavy duty bulldozers, two Sheridan tanks, one armored personnel carrier, a UH1 helicopter and an F4 Phantom fighter-bomber were lost.

Only 54 North Vietnamese were reported killed. The attacks were concentrated in the Mekong Delta south of Saigon and along a 300-mile stretch of the coastal lowlands from Cam Ranh to Da Nang.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 54 "enemy-initiated incidents" between 6 a.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. Monday, the highest number this month and more than double the average of 24 a day earlier in April.

The U.S. Command announced five "significant" rocket and mortar attacks on American forces during the night, the most in nearly three weeks.

The dump held about 15,000 tons of ammunition of all types for both U.S. and South Vietnamese forces. It is operated by the South Vietnamese. The various storage areas are sectioned off by earthen walls, and apparently this saved some sections.

The full extent of the damage was not known because demolition specialists still were unable to get into the area by noon, some nine hours after the attack.

"There was one very large explosion and then a huge fireball," said one U.S. officer. "It shook buildings, broke windows and caused structural damage."

The ammunition depot is located on the side of a mountain about a mile and a half west of the town.

UNLUCKY SEVEN Only 54 North Vietnamese were reported killed.

HUGE FIREBALL "There was one very large explosion and then a huge fireball," said one U.S. officer.

WIPED OUT Viet Cong mortars set off scores of 500-pound bombs at the coastal Qui Nhon ammunition dump 265 miles northeast of Saigon.

RIGHTS GUIDELINES 3,000 Teachers Will Draw Lots

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — More than 3,000 teachers will draw lots this week to determine who will be transferred to other schools to achieve a balance of ethnic groups among faculty members.

Administrators of the San Antonio School District said federal officials notified them earlier this month that they must make the changes to comply with civil rights guidelines.

Supt. Harold Hitt said it is not known how many of the system's 3,400 teachers will be affected, but he said less than 400 probably will have to move.

The school district, largest here with 74,000 pupils, was told the faculty makeup of each school must compare with the over-all percentage of Anglo, Mexican-American and Negro teachers throughout the system.

Teachers and other personnel who deal with pupils—including counselors, deans and special education aides—will draw lots Wednesday or Thursday at most schools, officials said.

Claud H. Kellam, assistant superintendent for personnel service, said he discussed the lottery with the executive committee of the San Antonio Teachers Council and that the group approved of the plan.

"This is not a wholesale deal," Kellam said. He said as many as 30 of the district's 97 schools "won't see a move at all," and that in at least 15 schools, there probably will be only about two transfers each.

Dr. Hitt said it was felt the lottery system was the "fairest way to achieve racial balance on the faculties."

Kellam said the district will strive for a breakdown in each school of 10 per cent Spanish-surnamed, 12 per cent Negro and 78 per cent Anglo on the secondary level; and 13 to 14 per cent Spanish-surnamed, 14 to 15 per cent Negro and the remainder Anglo in elementary schools.

CAPTURED IN TEXAS Three Escapees Kidnap Student?

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Sheriff Tom Brady of Carrizo Springs said three escapees from the Oklahoma jail were captured today.

They were picked up about 14 miles southwest of Carrizo Springs in South Texas, 100 miles southwest of San Antonio.

A youth, later released, said he was kidnapped by men who answered the description of the three.

The sheriff's office here said a manhunt began early Sunday and continued throughout the day. No arrests were reported.

The FBI filed federal charges of unlawful flight against three men who escaped from the Cleveland County Jail at Norman, Okla., Saturday.

One of the men faces trial in the slaying of a young Oklahoma city woman.

A University of Oklahoma student, Barry Davis, 22, notified his father in Tulsa Saturday night that he had been abducted at knife-point by three men Saturday and forced to drive them to South Texas.

Davis said he was released unharmed near Dilley, Tex.

The sheriff's office at Carrizo Springs was heading a hunt for the men, believed on foot in the

Bridge Test

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠106 ♣Q9654 ♦6 ♣AJ952

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♠ 2 ♣ Pass Pass

2 ♣ 3 ♣ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four hearts. A single raise would not do justice to the hand and, even if partner has a mild rebid, you should have a good play for 10 tricks.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable. Partner opens with one spade, and you hold:

♠QJ753 ♥62 ♦K95 ♣A103

What is your response?

A.—There is no satisfactory bid with this hand. It is too good for two spades and not good enough for a jump to three, which guarantees game. Nor is it the proper type for a jump to four. The best is to make a temporary bid of two clubs, intending to give a spade raise on the next round.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠J83 ♥A2 ♦K753 ♣Q963

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South

Pass 1 ♠ 4 ♣ ?

What do you bid?

A.—With a likelihood that you can win two tricks defensively, the indicated procedure is a penalty double. There would be no justification for a bid of four spades, which would be a shot in the dark.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠K86 ♥Q1054 ♦K832 ♣42

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—One no trump. While partner's rebid is by no means forcing, another bid is recommended just in case he has a pretty good hand. The one no trump rebid in this case does not show substantial values and can be made with as little as eight or nine high card points.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQ10 ♥AKJ1082 ♦52 ♣QJ

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 3 ♦ Pass

3 ♥ Pass 6 NT Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—A grand slam bid is clearly indicated. Partner has contracted for a small slam on the basis of a mere opening bid from you with only the added information that you have a rebiddable heart suit. As far as high cards are concerned, he could not count on you for more than 13 points. He therefore must have 20. Inasmuch as you have 17, you know that you have the necessary 37, together with a good six card suit.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠872 ♥J86 ♦A10654 ♣85

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♦ Pass

2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. You fully exhausted your values when you responded with one diamond. If this were all partner needed to produce a game, he would have been in position to jump to three no trump instead of only two.

Q. 7—East-West vulnerable, South you hold:

♠QJ5 ♥AJ762 ♦982 ♣53

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West

1 ♦ Pass 1 ♥ Pass

2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—A return to two diamonds is clearly indicated. There is no justification for a bid of two no trump merely to describe a spade stopper. Such a rebid should be based on a stronger holding.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠K9 ♥AQ7 ♦AJ84 ♣A976

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North

1 ♥ 1 NT Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—That East has dragged a red herring across the scene has just become apparent. In view of the fact that North has sufficient high card strength to justify a jump shift, it is barely possible that East may have stretched the truth. In an effort to shed more light on the situation and to expose the gay deceiver, a cue bid of three hearts is recommended with the intention of supporting clubs vigorously on the next round.

A LOVELIER YOU A Breath Of Spring Helps Body, Beauty

By MARY SUE MILLER

Next time you are outdoors make a point of taking deep breaths. Most of us breathe a far too shallow fashion and we pay for the habit in a way we can ill afford.

Unless a person breathes deeply and evenly as nature intended, there is a lessening of energy and an increase in nervous tension. From the beauty angle, cheeks lose their blush and eyes their sparkle. Even the voice is affected, sounding squeaky or flat.

In a few instances, overweight is the cause of improper breathing. Heavy people tend to breathe off the top of their lungs in short gasps. And that is one reason the exercise they need comes hard to them—why they feel strained and breathless before time.

But whatever your weight, if you wish for more stamina and pizzazz, b-r-e-a-t-h-e. On these spring days you could scarcely find a more enjoyable pursuit than to take your share of fresh air. Provided, of course, it is fresh and smogless. Well almost!

To improve breathing habits, try this simple routine while you wait for the bus, let's say: Pull up tall and then inhale deeply for a slow count of three. Exhale for six slow counts, directing your breath against the back of your throat. Repeat, working for rhythm.

Not incidentally, the routine is a quick pickup when you feel and look fatigued.

LAZY EXERCISES

Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for "Lazy Girl's Exercises." Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure. Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Lunch, Auction Set At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — The Golden Jubilee Senior Citizens Club will meet at 10 a.m., April 28, in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room for a covered dish luncheon. Prior to the luncheon, a program will be given by a representative of the Social Security area office. Items made by the club members will be displayed, and an auction will be held. The public is invited to attend.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE — The marriage of Miss Rebecca Bright to David Clifton Williams is being announced by the bride's parents, Mrs. Merry Jo Bright, 1504 Johnson, Big Spring, and Robert Clinton Bright, also of Big Spring. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill C. Williams, 4215 Purdue, Houston. The civil ceremony was performed April 20 in Juarez, Chih., Mexico, by Filiberto Terrazas. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will reside in Houston where they plan to continue their education at the University of Houston.

Women's 'Action' Group Helps Lamesa Chamber

LAMESA — The women's division of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce is reorganizing into an action group.

"We want to do something more than meet and eat," Bobby Taylor, president, said. Projects being discussed include an art gallery, a senior citizens club, downtown modernization and a city cleanup.

"This is ballooning into a very effective group," Bart Burnett, chamber of commerce manager, said. "This has grown from just a handful of women into 107 members since the planning began the first of this month."

The purpose of the organization is to actively participate with the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce in the promotion and advancement of the commercial, industrial, agricultural, educational, civic and community development of the city. Other officers include Faye Collins, vice president; Joy Boyd, secretary-treasurer; and Pat Bell, Carolyn Claiborne, Betty Harp, Mickie Crump, Betty Taylor, Iris Moody and Winnie Cope, directors.

Travelogue On Arab Republic

"Along the Historic Nile River" was the program presented by Mrs. Margaret White and Mrs. H. M. Rowe for the Modern-Woman's Forum Friday at Holiday Inn. The program told about the United Arab Republic as part of the club's theme, "Armchair Travelogue."

"Egypt is said to be the gift of the Nile," said Mrs. White. "Nowhere on earth is the contrast between the brown and the green — the barren solitary desert and the fertile, teeming valley more dramatic than in Egypt. The division is so sharp that you can practically step from one realm to the other, from the watered to the unwatered."

The meandering Nile brings water to a strip of land 930 miles long and 14 miles wide. About 95 per cent of the people live in this valley and "every square inch" of it is cultivated. The water of the Nile comes from Ethiopia and lands farther south. Sites along the river include this historic Aswan Dam, many temples and fortresses of the Egyptian pharaohs, colossal statues of Ramesses II, where Moslems come to pray at appointed hours, and the ancient pyramids at Giza.

"About 97 per cent of Egypt is desert," said Mrs. Rowe, who went on to tell some of the problems faced by farmers. "There is an endless sea of sand and stone, scorching hot and bone dry, beneath a blazing sun. Egyptian farmers have a hard time despite fertile soil, water and warmth in the Nile Valley."

"Egypt's chief crops are corn, wheat, rice, barley, sugar cane, clover and cotton. The farmers are poor, and their tools are primitive and inefficient. They never have enough land to farm, and taxes are high."

The speaker went on to say that the present Egyptian government is trying to divide the land and offer 30 years to repay loans. Rents are presently fixed at a fair price.

A health program is in effect to keep people from drinking the polluted water from the Nile. The nation "is faced with hunger and starvation in the near future. They had hoped the Nasser Dam would save the nation, but it has brought many problems with it benefits.

Bilharzia, a blood disease caused by a small worm that lives in quiet water and penetrates the skin, is spreading with the largescale irrigation projects started with water from the dam. Malaria may also spread, and the sardine fishing industry has been affected because the dam holds back the organic silt which feeds the sardines.

Egypt has a population of about 34 million people, and it is expected to double in less than a quarter of a century. Much of the food used has to be imported.

Mrs. J. S. Sims was the hostess. The next meeting is a luncheon at 12:30 p.m., May 14 in the home of Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington Blvd. New officers will be installed.

NYC Jobs Explained

Kenneth Hamilton, regional supervisor for the Neighborhood Youth Corps in Lamesa, spoke to the Health and Welfare Committee Friday at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

The NYC is a program which offers young people an opportunity to learn a skilled job which they can use after graduation from high school. It is designed to help those who cannot attend college.

To qualify for a position during school, a person must be registered full-time and may not work more than 10 hours a week. For the out-of-school program, an applicant must be between 16 and 18 years of age and may not work more than 24 hours a week. No one out of school longer than six months may work under the program.

Anyone interested in the program may contact the Texas Employment Commission for further information. Lt. Joseph Saint, chairman, presided. The next meeting is at noon, May 28 at the hospital.

Friendship Class Met Saturday

Mrs. J. W. Brigrance and Mrs. J. C. Ray worded prayers for the Friendship Class, Wesley United Methodist Church, Saturday in the home of Mrs. Alta King, 702 E. 12th. Mrs. J. E. Peters presided, and members signed cards for members who were sick. Mrs. W. D. Lovelace was a guest.

EXHIBITS AT TALENT FAIR — A steady stream of customers and "lookers" were on hand Saturday when Howard County's first annual Senior Talent Fair was held in Highland Center Mall. According to Miss Essie Love, general chairman for the fair, final records showed that over $750 worth of merchandise was sold. Numerous arts and crafts were displayed by the 50 entrants. Shown at the fair with examples of their handiworks are, from left, Mrs. Mary E. Brown, Mrs. Joe Jacobs, Mrs. Ruby Simpson and Mrs. A. A. Marchant.

Party in Abilene
Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Shortes, 2100 Alabama, spent the weekend in Abilene, and attended the Golden Wedding anniversary celebration of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Rochel Drupree, Sunday. Also attending from Big Spring were Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Gresham, 4026 Vicky.

Gives Review

Mrs. Clyde Angel was guest book reviewer last week for the Lamesa Delphian Club, reviewing "Then There Grew up a Generation," by Thyra Bjorn. The affair was held in the clubhouse with approximately 125 in attendance. Mrs. Angel was introduced by Mrs. W. S. Dalmont, chairman for the tea.

The book is a contemporary novel concerning the "generation gap" and the church in a sophisticated world. Among those attending were Mrs. C. T. Clay of Big Spring and Mrs. Bill Satterwhite and Mrs. Hayes Walker, both former Big Spring residents. The spring theme was carried out in floral arrangements.

AMERICAN MILITARY EQUIPMENT IN USE IN ISRAEL — During display of fire power recently at an undisclosed site in Israel, Israeli soldiers use an American M109 self-propelled cannon, foreground, and a Sikorsky CH53 combat helicopter, also American made. The arms were displayed in connection with Israel's 23rd Independence Day celebration.

Rogers Hopes To Revive Mideast Settlement

Secretary of State William P. Rogers flew to London today en route to the Middle East, where he hopes to revive hopes of a settlement between Israel and its Arab enemies. The way ahead is difficult because neither Egypt nor Israel, the principal antagonists, show any sign of softening positions that have deadlocked peace negotiations. Rogers' aim, as a starter, is to make arrangements for the reopening of the Suez Canal by a partial Israeli withdrawal from the east bank. But Israel wants Egypt to stay on the west side of the canal. Egypt wants the Suez Canal reopening as part of a deal for complete Israeli withdrawal from all Arab territory occupied in the 1967 war.

Possible Water, Sewer Rate Increases Studied

The problem of increasing water and sewer costs, including capital improvements and improvements on the city sewerage system was discussed by city commissioners today in a special planning and discussion meeting. "We have worked out partial solutions to some of the problems, but by no means are these final," said Larry Crow, city manager, as he explained to the group present that there would be no formal decisions made in the meeting. Bo Anderson, city utilities director, presented a five-year extension of a possible water and sewer rate increase that could be assessed on the citizens in Big Spring to meet increased water rates by the Colorado River Municipal Water District Jan. 1, 1971. "We also need to look at upgrading our sewage effluent to a degree that we can resell it and realize the revenue it would bring in to offset the needed expenses on our present sewerage system and state qualifications," said Anderson as he explained some of the sewage problems in the city. Bob Nichols, of Nichols, Freese, and Endress, engineering firm from Fort Worth, gave a report to the commission in a meeting last Tuesday, in which he told of the problems in the city sewer. He explained that the sewer plant is under state regulations and that the city does not have a permit for the operation of the new sewer system. "We need to take a long, in-depth look at these problems and at some state programs that we can utilize that might offset the rising costs of improving our systems," Crow told the commissioners. Wade Choate, mayor pro tem, summed up the situation by pointing out there are three main problems, capital improvement costs, state requirements on sewerage and assessed costs of the city meeting the requirements, and increased water rates. One possible increase was examined by the group in which water consumed at a minimum of 3,000 gallons would be raised to $3.75. It is now $3 for 3,000 gallons. Over 3,000 and up to 400,000 gallons would cost $6.50 per thousand gallons and over 100,000 gallons would cost $6.00 per thousand.

Dropped From Welfare Rolls

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — John Tredo, who recently opened a restaurant and delicatessen in Lawrence, has been dropped from the Douglas County welfare rolls. Tredo, listed as a University of Kansas fine arts senior last fall, did not enroll for the spring semester. The county welfare director, John Derrick, said Tredo drew $462 in welfare payments since January. Meanwhile he got a $10,000 federal small business loan and a $2,500 personal loan. Derrick said Tredo also owns three motor vehicles, and got $324 in January for aid to dependent children. The welfare director said he asked Tredo that if he had all that federal money, "What in hell was he doing getting money from us." Derrick said Tredo replied he didn't know.

AND DON'T LOOK BACK

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — When a fare held him up, a Miami Beach cabdriver handed over $43, looked steadily into the gun barrel, and swore he had no more cash. The gunman lowered the gun, peeled off two single bills, and returned the $2 to Julius Grossman, 39. "Can't leave a guy broke," said the gunman. "Drive off and don't look back."

THE QUIET OF SPRING PLOWING — In a noisy world of tractors and gasoline engines, this Lancaster, Pa., farmer does his spring plowing behind big draft horses pulling a single plow. The only noise in this scene is the clanking of the harness hitches and the occasional command from the farmer to his horses.

Four Charged With Assault

Four Big Spring men were arrested Sunday in connection with an alleged assault on a police officer Saturday night at the Wagon Wheel Drive-in, Twenty first and Gregg.

Jack Allen Thompson, 22, of 1905 Johnson, was charged with simple assault and theft from person and John Howard Smith, 22 of 801 Marcy, Apt. 33, Eddie Frank Fabian, 22, of 1905 Johnson, and Forrest Ray Ward, 18, of 2302 Lynn Drive, were charged with simple assault.

The charges were filed in Justice of the Peace Mrs. Fred Adams' court, Coahoma.

The four men were all released Sunday on bond which was set at $100 each for the simple assault charges and $1,000 for the theft from person charge.

The men were charged in connection with the assault of Brian Peay, an off-duty reserve officer. Police said the officer's gun was taken from him and fired several times, however no one was injured in the incident.

Two Injured In Accident

Two women were injured Sunday morning when their car overturned onto the median on IS 28 about 12 miles east of Big Spring. Both are listed in good condition today at Medical Arts Clinic-Hospital.

Diana Bailey, 25, of 403 E. 2nd, was the driver of the car, and Carol Hessler, 23, Odessa, was a passenger in the vehicle. According to the investigating officer, Mrs. Bailey sustained a broken arm, and Miss Hessler received back injuries.

Confirmation of the nature of the injuries could not be released today by the hospital, and the attending physician was not available for comment.

Investigating officer was Texas Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell.

THEFTS

Rev. C. E. Neal, 309 NE 2nd, reported the theft of 10 gallons of gas from his car as it was parked on the Highland Shopping Center parking lot during the Spring Automobile Show Saturday.

Ezra Horton, Kent station, Lamesa Drive, reported Sunday a burglary at the station in which two Delta tires and $5 in change was taken.

Joe A. Lopez reported a break-in at 500 NW 6th, home of Mrs. M. Lopez, in which a clock, jewelry case, suitcase, one key, wallet, one hairdryer, one finger-nail set, two electric shavers and some bottles of whiskey and cologne, all valued at $311.90 was taken from the house.

Rotary Confab

Several members of the Big Spring Rotary Club participated in the district Rotary international convention held Friday and Saturday in Sweetwater. Heading the local group were Fried H. Talbot, president, and Mrs. Talbot; Dr. M. W. Talbot, president-elect; Olen Puckett and W. T. McRee.

Awards Judgment

Jurors in the case of G. R. Billingsley et al vs. Scenic Gardens Inc. et al turned in a verdict Friday in favor of the plaintiffs. The plaintiffs were awarded $8,400 in architects' fees which the jury ruled were owed to them for work done on a project cancelled by the defendants.

Burglary Charge

Lupe R. Hernandez, 17, of 102 NW 4th, was transferred to county jail over the weekend by city police. Hernandez is charged with burglary. He was released on $2,000 bond set by County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

Andrews Highway Project Back Before Commission

County dads approved an expenditure of $3,483.59 today in connection with the widening and improvement of the Andrews Highway.

Texas Electric Service Co. presented the cost report on removing the poles that are in the path of the widening project and installing others.

Election judges and assistant judges were named to fill vacant positions to serve in the May 18 amendment election. O. R. Crow will be judge in voting Precinct 5 and Loyd Underwood will be assistant judge; Rayford Dunagan will preside in Precinct 2; J. Alden Ryan will be judge for Precinct 1, and Mrs. Evelyn Pachal will be assistant judge.

Mrs. E. A. Fiveash will preside in Precinct 15, and Bob Dean was named to the special canvassing board.

Hollis Randell, road and bridge administrator, was given permission to place all the men in his employ on an hourly wage basis. Randell said that there would be no change in the amount of any salaries, but the hourly basis would enable him to figure overtime and time off more easily.

Commissioners voted not to appoint a committee to study the mental health needs of Howard County. The committee would have worked in cooperation with the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and members from 16 Permian District counties to determine local needs.

The newly-remodeled attorney-client conference room in the county jail was inspected today by the members of the court. The room has been carpeted, re-furnished and improved with acoustic walls and ceiling to allow attorneys more privacy in conferring with their clients.

Shortly before noon, Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, was to report on the methods she learned from the state auditor Thursday in Abilene on recording the cost of operation and depreciation of road equipment.

"The state's methods are more detailed and complicated than what we would need," said Mrs. Black. "I will have to study their methods and pick what would be most suited to our needs."

Board To Review Possible Parole For Billie Sol Estes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U. S. Parole Board reviews possible parole today for former Texas wheeler-dealer Billie Sol Estes, serving a 15-year prison term for his nonexistent fertilizer tanks.

Estes, 46, was convicted in 1963 of getting persons in an 11-county area to sign mortgages on the fictional tanks and selling the mortgages to finance companies.

The parole board refused Estes' first request for freedom in January, 1970. He has served more than six years of his prison term.

The chairman of the eight-member parole board, George J. Reed, said Estes will not appear at the hearing today, but will be represented by his lawyers and members of his family.

Estes has been in the Federal Correctional Institute at La Tuna, Tex., for the past year. He was arrested by federal agents March 29, 1962, and convicted the next year of mail fraud and conspiracy.

Estes began his financial dealings after he arrived in Pecos, Tex., in 1951. He founded an empire based on grain elevators, cotton allotments, a newspaper, mortuary and fertilizer.

The U. S. Jaycees named him

one of their "10 Outstanding Young Men of 1953."

Estes, an elder in the Pecos Church of Christ, could recite Bible passages to fit most occasions. He frequently preached in various churches.

Estes also had a group of homilies. One often used was: "You can shear a sheep every year. You can't skin him but once."

DIG THESE CRAZY WORMS

REEDVILLE, Va. (AP) — Strict antipollution measures on Coe's Creek have given fishermen a new problem — worms.

"They acted like they'd been starving for 30 years," said E. Carl Rice Jr., owner of a marine facility here. "They just grabbed everything in sight."

The worms, called bore clams by marine scientists, avoid polluted waters.

Dock pilings crumble under the attack of the worms.

Cloudy Skies Roam State

By The Associated Press

A cold front shoved its way into the northern Panhandle today but showed signs of stalling before reaching into the heart of Texas.

Low cloudiness spread over the southern portions of the state but the rest of Texas was clear early today. Dawn temperatures ranged from the 50s over the Panhandle to the high 60s and 70s elsewhere.

Forecasters said the cold front likely would stall over Northwest Texas.

Cloudy skies dotted much of the state Sunday afternoon with the only clear area from Big Spring vicinity westward and northward to El Paso and across the Panhandle-Plains country.

Four On Operations Staff Chosen For Webb Honors

Four men assigned to deputy commander for operations (DO) were recently chosen for quarterly honors at Webb AFB.

Selected by a quarterly board were S. Sgt. Victor Kyrilyuk, Airman Instructor of the Quarter; Capt. Robert Baker, T-37 trainer Instructor Pilot of the Quarter; Capt. Larry Funk, T-38 Talon Instructor Pilot of the Quarter; and Capt. Allan Fox, Classroom Instructor of the Quarter.

As an instrument trainer specialist, Sgt. Kyrilyuk works with students in link trainers. Col. Charles Walker, deputy commander for operations, said about the sergeant, "His outstanding knowledge of instrument flying and skill in presenting this information in a clear and concise manner are highly commendable."

Sgt. Kyrilyuk entered the Air Force Dec. 11, 1966. Following basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex., he was assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill. for technical training, then came to Webb, November, 1967. The sergeant married the former Miss Carol Klough, Wellesley, Mass. The couple has one child, Eric, 3.

Capt. Funk came into the Air Force Aug. 26, 1967, through the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) at Kansas State University, Manhattan, where he received a bachelor of science degree in agriculture. He completed undergraduate pilot training at Williams AFB, Ariz., arrived here in October, 1968, and went through local pilot instructor training. The native of Waldo, Kan., married the former Miss Carolyn Wilson.

The T-37 IP of the quarter began his military career in 1956 as an enlisted man. Capt. Baker was a tailgunner on B-36s and B-52s. He was assigned to Carswell AFB, Tex., Altus AFB, Okla., and Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, before entering the airman's education and commissioning program at Indiana University where he earned a bachelor's degree in business. Following Officer Training School at Lackland, the captain completed undergraduate pilot training here in 1967. He was then assigned to Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam, flying A-37s.

Big Springer Top Cowboy

SAN ANGELO — Horace Rankin, Big Spring, was named all-around cowboy Sunday in the Angelo State University Open Rodeo. Rankin finished first in tie-down calf roping and tied for third in ribbon roping to win his title. Cindy Bruton, San Angelo, finished first in barrel racing and was in a tie for first in flag racing to clinch the all-around cowgirl title.

Approximately 147 men and 30 women signed up for the three-day show which was produced by W. C. Klein, Mountain Home.

training at Perrin AFB, Tex., upon his return from Vietnam, then came back to Webb as an instructor. Capt. Baker has earned the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with 17 Oak leaf clusters and the Air Force Commendation Medal. The Clifton, N.J., native married the former Miss Ruby Eiseman, Eureka, S.D. The couple has two children — Michael, 11 and Col. Walker said of Capt. Fox, "His additional duties, although extensive and taxing, do not detract from his efficiency as an instructor. As wing life support officer, he has developed an inspection program which was highly complimented during a recent command-level inspection."

Capt. Fox entered the Air Force in 1961 through ROTC at New York University where he earned a bachelor of science degree. He completed undergraduate pilot training at Moody AFB, Ga., and was then assigned to Mather AFB, Calif., as a line pilot. In 1965-66 he served with the 4th Air Commando Squadron in Vietnam, flying AC-47 skytrains. He arrived here in November, 1966, to begin duties as the physiological training officer. Capt. Fox has earned two Distinguished Flying Crosses, eight Air Medals and the Air Force Commendation Medal.

The Brooklyn, N.Y., native married the former Miss Ronna Taylor, Quitman, Ga. The couple has two children — Tammy, 6, and Jeffrey, 3.

Social Studies Students Win

For the second year in a row Big Spring High School students have won seven of the 15 awards at the annual social studies contest at Sul Ross State University.

David Cutteback, Larry Margolis and Mike Urban won the first three places in the American History division. Kent Fish won first place in Government, and Jeff Vaughn, Scott Birdwell and Mike Woodbridge won third through fifth places. No one placed in the World History section.

William Martin, high school government teacher, and Mrs. Peggy Allemand, American history teacher, sponsored the trip for 27 students to enter the contest. Students are tested with an hour-long objective test and a 30-minute essay test.

Eagle Pass and Fort Stockton, with two awards each, were the next closest winners in the contest.

San Antonio Light Will Raise Price

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Citing steadily rising production costs, the San Antonio Light announced it will raise the price of its Sunday edition from 20 to 25 cents on May 2.

Only the price of single copies will go up, the Light said Sunday.

The newspaper said there will be no increase in subscription rates at this time.

The Light said it had kept the price at 20 cents for nearly 15 years.

U.S. 87 Meeting Dates Are Changed

LAMESA — Due to conflicts in schedules of several members the annual US 87 Highway Improvement Association meeting has been changed to May 21-22 here.

Representatives from towns and counties along the highway from Clayton, N.M., to the Gulf Coast of Texas are expected for the two-day meeting.

A reception and dinner honoring highway employes as well as guests will be held Friday at Forrest Park Community Center. The public will be invited.

The official business session with section reports and a proposed new program will be viewed Saturday at Allen's Galley.

Headquarters will be The Westerner Motel.

R. A. (Skeet) Noret, of Lamesa, is president of the association this year, making the second time the organization has had a Lamesan at its head. The first president of the organization was Clyde Branon.

Reports will include discussion of highway improvements along US 87 since last year's meeting in San Angelo and a promotion campaign to lure tourists along the route.

The association was organized in the 1950s to promote a multi-lane divided highway from Port Lavaca, Tex., to Raton, N.M., over the route of US Highway 87; to promote traffic over this route; and to secure other improvements.

Membership includes city and county officials along the route and Chamber of Commerce representatives, plus any other interested citizens. Bart Burnett, manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce, said.

Ex-Con Charged With Burning Three To Death

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — An ex-convict is being sought on a murder warrant in the robbery of a cleaning store during which the owners and their son were set on fire and burned to death and a store maintenance man burned critically.

Police said the warrant was issued Sunday for Barnell Bishop, 32, convicted in 1957 of burglarizing a cleaning shop in Beaumont, Tex. He is sought in the deaths of Alfred and Ida Lizzo and their son, Johnnie.

Officers said the family died Friday after a robber tied them up, covered them with dry cleaning soaked in cleaning solvent and set it on fire.

A store maintenance man, Jake Williams, 46, was burned over 75 per cent of his body and was reported in critical condition at Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital.

April Airman Is Recognized

Airman Donald G. Vanslyke has been named airman of the month for April in the Civil Engineering Division, it was announced this week by 2nd Lt. Richard A. Bauman.

Assigned to the electric shop as an exterior electrician, he performs duties including installation, and repair of overhead and underground electrical distribution systems on base.

His supervisor, M. Sgt. Edwin S. Byrd, says that "he's a man that any supervisor would be proud to have under his command." Airman Vanslyke's job knowledge, professional know-how, and individual initiative have contributed greatly to the over-all effectiveness of his shop, the commendation continued.

Free Info On Cancer

Free literature about cancer will be distributed Tuesday night when Cancer Crusade volunteers conduct a house-to-house campaign.

"We encourage all to take heed of the literature given them by the crusaders and have check-ups," Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Crusade chairman, said.

Literature will be left for those who are not at home when a crusader calls, Mrs. Creighton said. "National statistics show that the most check-ups are made immediately following these crusades," Mrs. Creighton said.

Puzzle of Saturday, April 24, Solved

Lamesa Gets New City Park

LAMESA — With the completion of the North Ninth Street Park, another city park has been added to the Lamesa parks department.

While the park is not officially opened, Lamesa youngsters are already enjoying the playground equipment placed there.

In addition to the playground, the parks department people have erected three picnic shelters and barbecue pits and planted 500 trees.

The department personnel are also responsible for building the bridges over the man-made pools located in the six-to-eight acre park.

The park is built on the site of a lake bed and for years has served as a drainage site. The pools of the land will be filled with reclaimed water, which is also used to keep the grounds green, Bob Jefferson, parks superintendent, said.

Recharge wells have been developed on the site to keep the old basin area drained. "In this way we can just pump the water back into the well if we happen to get a particularly large rain, and we don't waste any water," Jefferson said.

The park is located adjacent to the Boys Club and a ballpark.

Dallas Men Cop State Bass Title

LAKE WHITNEY, Tex. (AP) — The team championship of the 1971 state bass tournament belongs to two Dallas men today. J. R. Miller and O. H. Womack of Dallas caught a total of 19 pounds, 5 1/2 ounces of bass Sunday at Lake Whitney to win the team title.

George White of San Angelo won individual honors. Jerry Nichols of Fort Worth finished second behind White.

Jim Bob Jones of Arlington caught the heaviest bass of the tournament, a 5 pound, 13 ounce fish.

TWO-CAR CRASH CLAIMS FIVE TEXANS Violent Death Toll Soars

Authorities tried to determine today the cause of a two-car collision near Hillsboro that killed five persons and sent the violent death toll soaring in Texas during the weekend.

There were no survivors of the grisly crash on I-35 and another man died of a heart attack when he arrived at the death scene.

The Associated Press count, which began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight, rose to 29, including 16 in traffic, six in shootings, four in fires and two stabbings.

Killed in the crash a mile north of Hillsboro were Joseph Mangum, 61, of Hillsboro; Raymond Gonzales, 21, of Grand Prairie; Jessie Gonzales, 29, of Italy; Mike Martinez, 35, of Itasca, and Ray Martinez, 21, of Ennis.

FREAK MISHAP

Wrecker driver Claude B. Reed of Hillsboro died of a heart attack soon after he arrived to help clear the highway of debris. His death was not counted in the violent death toll.

Vernon Block, 47, of Fort Worth died in a Dallas hospital Sunday after suffering burns over 95 per cent of his body. Block was saturated with burning gasoline when two automobiles collided near a filling station where he was having his pickup truck serviced.

One of the careening automobiles smashed into a gas pump near where Block was standing in the driveway. The impact shattered the pump and sparks from the disintegrating equipment set the gasoline afire.

Jeff Pair, 19, of Amarillo was killed Sunday when his pickup truck went out of control on an Amarillo street, jumped the curb and smashed into a tree.

An unidentified man, apparently about 20 years old, was killed Sunday when his car overturned near Houston's western city limits.

DROWNING

Herbert Walter Nagle, 7, drowned while swimming in a canal in Galena Park, a Houston suburb. Officers said the drowning occurred late Saturday or early Sunday.

Johnny Duque, 17, of San Antonio was fatally shot at HemisFair Plaza Saturday night. Police sought an unidentified man in connection with the shooting.

Refugio Castillo, 19 was shot to death Saturday night in a tavern brawl in San Antonio. Police said another man was critically wounded.

OPEN BURNER

Eric J. Watkins, 18, of Ardmore, Okla., was killed Saturday night when his car hit a bridge abutment on a Dallas freeway.

Police questioned a 26-year-old woman in connection with the fatal stabbing Saturday of Lillian King, 53, at a Dallas residence.

Two small children, 3-year-old James Police and his 11-month-old sister Susie Jo, died Saturday in a fire that struck their two-room home in Mount Pleasant. Authorities said flames quickly engulfed the house when wind blew a curtain into an open gas burner.

Robert E. Hammack, 37, of Victoria died Saturday when his car hit a concrete pillar at the intersection of U.S. 77 and Loop 175 five miles south of Victoria in South Texas.

Wilson Green, 23, of Jefferson was struck and killed by a car Friday night as he walked along Texas 49 1/2 miles east of Jefferson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ola A. Howard of Houston died Saturday when fire swept through their home. Witnesses said Howard had escaped from the house but ran back into a bedroom to find his wife.

FLAMING DEATH

Dist. Fire Chief W. W. Stahel said firemen reached the couple only seconds after they arrived. "We got to them, but they obviously were dead and had been for a few minutes."

Saint John Lozano was fatally shot Friday night during an argument in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas.

Ray Ponce, 15, of Corpus Christi, died early Saturday when he was struck by a car as he walked along U.S. 181 1/2 miles east of Taft.

Fred M. Silbas, 30, of Freeport died Friday night in a two-car head-on collision on a country road in Brazoria County near Freeport.

Clyde Smith, 60, of Dallas was fatally shot in the chest and mouth with a .22-caliber pistol Friday night. Police questioned another man in connection with the slaying.

STABBED IN HEART

Mrs. Beulah Braswell of Blue Ridge was killed Friday in a car-pickup truck collision on Texas 154 about 10 miles east of Quitman in Wood County.

William Ernest Jenkins, 25, was killed in Fort Worth by somebody who stabbed him in the heart with a butcher knife Sunday. Police said they were hunting four young men.

Jose Flores, 25, of a Brownsville rural route was killed and two persons injured Sunday night when a car and pickup truck collided on Farm Road 511, two miles east of Brownsville.

Duane Otten Gorda, 18, of La Porte died Saturday night of injuries suffered when his motorcycle and a pickup truck collided on a county road north of Houston.

James C. Watson, 62, was shot to death Sunday in what officers said was an argument over $600. Houston officers filed murder charges against Watson's son, James C. Watson Jr.

Vet Solon Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Rep. Robert J. Corbett, R-Pa., the dean of Pennsylvania's congressional delegation, died Sunday at Suburban General Hospital. He was 65. Corbett served in the U.S. House of Representatives since 1938, with the exclusion of 1941-1945 when he was elected sheriff of Allegheny County.

Snyder College Names Professor

SNYDER — A doctoral student in the department of biological sciences at North Texas State University has been appointed as associate professor in the science department of Western Texas College.

Gerald Cagle, who will receive his Ph.D. in August, will assume duties at that time, according to Dr. Robert L. Clinton, president of the college.

Cagle graduated from Amarillo College in 1964 with an associate of science degree and received a bachelor of science degree from North Texas State University in 1968.

Makers Can Do It Best

What Americans say they need is a car that will survive the mortgage without fouling the air. The industry says it's on the way, if the federal government won't insist upon designing it.

Sales figures show Americans are buying small cars and a lot of imports. Industry experts say economy is the reason. They cite imposing data: U.S. auto exports were $11,413 and imports were $3,869 in 1969. By 1969, the figures were $3,869 exports and $11,413 imports.

Price — buying and operating — is the big factor, industry insists. American cars are very good but sometimes take a lot of doing to get them properly assembled and working.

Factory recalls for flaws have hurt, too. Current models with bumpers that don't absorb a bump indicate too-slow response to demands for good design.

Indications are that things will get worse before they get better. Some 120 changes for safety reasons are scheduled and the industry says they will add about 700 pounds and $1,000 (plus inflation) to small-to-medium price cars within five years. European auto makers estimate 30 per cent increase in their prices for export models meeting the proposed safety standards.

Pollution-control changes are extra. A car ought to be as safe to operate as America's marvelous technology can make it. Unsafe drivers have to be identified and kept off the roads. Progress is being made with emphasis upon alcohol-related problem drivers.

Makers of automobiles are best qualified to come up with more efficient and safer cars. The alternative is a maze of regulations that will cost us more than it ought to for less than we should have.

Welcome Reversal

The federal government is beginning to follow up on President Nixon's 1969 renunciation of germ warfare.

Pine Bluff (Ark.) Arsenal, a facility which researched and produced biological weapons is being converted into another kind of research center to study the effects of chemicals on man.

The Food and Drug Administration will use the Pine Bluff buildings to investigate long-term health effects of food additives, industrial and household chemicals, pesticides, cosmetics and drugs.

These questions need to be answered. It is satisfying that a place once devoted to killer germs will now be used to help man protect himself from his own inventions.

Just Skip These—

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

Things I can easily do without: Being told, at least once a day, that pollution and over-population, is going to kill us all inside 70 years. I am grateful the pessimists spared us such predictions when I was a boy. Then, however, they never had so many ways to clamor for your attention.

People who might be expert in one field who pose as erudites in other endeavors — particularly in politics, conflicts between political philosophies and social problems. Not only do they take themselves seriously but they expect you to do the same.

Any kind of dish with lobster in it. VENDING MACHINES which don't pay off after you have invested your money, even after you kick them. The least their owners should do is pay for your shoe repair bill.

Newspaper pictures of people who pose with telephones at their ears. Doctors who treat you for pneumonia and you die from the gout. When I was a boy, if doctors treated you for pneumonia, you died of pneumonia.

THOSE PHONY knightshoods passed out to show people and soccer players by the Queen of England. The royal family has always been enamoured of the theatre and the people who inhabit it. Those showboats who insist their household pets are boa constrictors or cheetas, rather than dogs, cats, parakeets or turtles.

THOSE BLEEDING hearts who would pave Saigon's streets with gold, yet frown on the suggestion that America spend anything to upgrade its decaying cities. Fighting in Southeast Asia is like arguing with a lady: You can't win. The best solution is to grab your hat and run. Maybe Abraham Lincoln had brush fire wars like the one in Vietnam in mind when he wrote: "When you have an elephant by the hind leg, and he is trying to run away, it's best to let him run."

PEOPLE WHO say, upon departing your company, "come and see us sometime," then look speechless if you ring their doorbell.

The habit of some individuals, however well meaning, of looking over your shoulder while you are writing something. I had much rather stop what I am doing and devote full attention to their conversation, rather than try and finish what I am doing and engage in piecemeal conversation.

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — For obvious reasons, President Nixon and his political board of strategy are delighted that Maine's Sen. Ed Muskie is now having an occasional get-together with the New Left. They see it as the beginning of the downfall of the front runner for the Democratic presidential nomination next year.

This could be wishful thinking, of course. For among all the Democratic hopefuls, Richard Nixon wants least to run against Ed Muskie. He even would prefer to go to the mat with Sen. Teddy Kennedy, because of Kennedy's personal troubles, and at this point he does not fear Sen. Birch Bayh, George McGovern or that authentic dark horse, Iowa's Senator Harold Hughes.

THUS THE Nixon team finds comfort and even delight in Muskie's association with the mixed anti-Nixon, anti-war, and anti-everything bag. The Maine senator's appeal has always been to Richard Nixon's own "silent majority" — and the tax-and-tuition-paying, law-and-order crowd. The bunch Muskie has decided to placate, against his own instincts, is way down on the list of people most of the silent majority would invite in for a dish of tea.

MUSKIE recently has made two crossings of the Rubicon at the insistence of his younger advisers. He was one of two Democratic candidates — Bayh was the other — who spoke at a dump-Nixon rally in Providence, R. I., sponsored by former Rep. Allard Lowenstein, the dump-Lyndon Johnson boy. He also endorsed the anti-war demonstrations launched here and elsewhere last week.

BUT MUSKIE was persuaded that he must, at least, try to avoid alienating the New Left, as Hubert Humphrey did in 1968. He hasn't joined them, but apparently he will continue his campaign to convince them that, while he is not a Trotskyite or a Maoist, he understands and to some extent sympathizes with their frustrations and their demands for change.

THIS MAY be good politics, if only because the 18-year-olds will be eligible to vote for President next year. But it also has its perils. In thus mingling with the anti-war demonstrators and sharing the same Providence platform with the folk singer, Peter Yarrow, who was convicted of a morals charge involving a teen-age girl in Washington last year, Muskie not only risks alienation of Middle America but could lose the support of well-heeled labor unions, ethnic groups and Southerners.

IN SHORT, in actions that almost seem born of desperation, Muskie is gambling with his respectability — a quality never overlooked by the electorate beyond the drawing rooms and the rock-and-pot pads.

In his Down East, Lincolnshire way, Muskie has offered himself as a candidate behind whom all variety of Democrats can safely unite. He still has a lot of credit with the party derived from his low-key, sensible campaigning in 1968. But he may yet be forced to decide between the squares who have always liked his looks and the radical militants who prefer their politics raw.

HIS SEVEN LEAGUE BOOTS

Tax Shelters Mean Losses

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the customary problems of tax shelter deals is that while they might help the individual save a lot in tax payments they often cost him as much or more because the investment is of poor quality.

Thousands of people in high tax brackets have poured millions into dry oil wells, stuffed nearly as much into poor grade cattle that can't be fattened at a profit, and helped real estate promoters live high, charing it to overhead.

Oil well drilling, cattle feeding and real estate all offer legitimate tax shelter, meaning that because of high risk or public value, tax breaks are afforded in an effort to channel money to them.

Much of the profit from oil well drilling, for example, is tax free. And in real estate, the property that actually may be appreciating in value can be depreciated for tax purposes—the entire amount, even though only a down payment was made.

It is understandable that promoters would enter such activities and offer partnerships to the public. And just as understandable that a person in a 50 to 70 per cent tax bracket would want to utilize their services.

Very often the situation is one of the greenhorn being taken in by the smart promoters, but just as often it involves otherwise sophisticated investors who seek out and participate in well-intentioned deals that are poorly researched, financed and administered.

The moral in tax-shelter investments is to keep your eye on the doughnut and not on the hole. By concentrating on the tax writeoffs and ignoring the basic investment quality, one can easily fall through the hole. Several years ago, D. Bruce Trainor, a young Philadelphia broker, tried to find shelters for some of his clients. He searched long with short results. The more he studied well-known deals, the less attractive they seemed.

"Most of the partnerships being offered to the public need an awful lot of improvement," he found. "Many of them were being put together by people with little or no experience at all."

"You've got to know the investment inside and out or hire somebody to study it for you," says Trainor. But what lawyer ever journeyed to the cattle feedlots or the oil fields in order to better advise clients?

Trainor now operates a unique investment advisory service by the name of—what else?—Tax Shelter Advisory Service, in Narberth, Pa., selling research to brokers, accountants, lawyers and others who advise high earners.

China Looks West

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Red China's gesture opening a "new page" in its relations with the United States is considered by officials here to be part of a planned effort by the Peking government to play a more important role in world affairs.

What this really means is that Communist China's fear of the Soviet Union has motivated a desire to end its isolation from the West not only by beginning to establish friendly relations with the United States but by doing the same with respect to many of the other nations of the world.

WHILE THE Russian military threat in Siberia and Central Asia is said to be a factor in Red China's recent moves, the probability is that Peking has also viewed with some concern the spectacular economic growth of Japan, and has come to regard it as essential to build better relationships around the globe.

There will be some controversy about having two Chinese governments in the United Nations. As a practical matter, however, this may not bar friendly relations from developing between Peking and Washington. The Red Chinese may or may not decide to enter the U.N. while Nationalist China is a member, but this will be looked upon as something for the nationalist and mainland Chinese to settle among themselves.

WHAT IS MOST interesting at present is the policy being pursued by the Red Chinese government in its efforts to promote trade and other contacts with Western countries, including the United States. The expectation is that tensions will be reduced as this process goes on. If the relationship between Communist China and the United States continues to develop on a friendly basis in the next year or two, diplomatic recognition probably will be mutually extended and representatives will be exchanged in the normal manner. In the meantime, many of the restrictions on trade and commerce — and on the travel of Americans to the mainland of China — are being removed.

COMMUNIST China is anxious for its new attitude toward the United States to be fully understood and reciprocated in this country. The visit of American table tennis players to Red China was an unusual way to focus public attention on the opening of the doors of both countries which had been closed to each other for more than 20 years.

But as always happens in diplomacy, the underlying reason for the important step that Red China has just taken is the desire to accomplish something which will benefit the Peking government. It seeks a way to share to a greater extent in world trade and perhaps to regain the friendship that China once had with the United States.

THIS COULD lead to a more stabilized situation on the Asian continent. For if the Peking regime is interested in expanding its trade and maintaining amicable relations with the free nations, it would have less reason for sending munitions and weapons to assist revolutionaries in various areas or to aid a nation — as has been the case with North Vietnam — in its aggression against another country.

Red China sees that there is much to be gained by a development of friendship with the United States. America, on its part, would like to be of any help it can to the Chinese people.

By BOB THOMAS
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "It's no trick to make a movie nowadays. All you need are some naked broads and the dirty words you can think of. But to make a successful television series—that's the real challenge."

James Garner was explaining why he is returning to a television series after a decade's lapse. He left "Maverick" to pursue a career in feature films. Next season he stars on NBC as a 1915 sheriff in a Southwestern town. Title: "Nichols."

Garner is one of several film stars (James Stewart, Shirley MacLaine, Glenn Ford, Anthony Quinn, etc.) who will appear regularly on the home screens in the 1971-72 season. The common assumption for such a trend is this: since the movie industry is a disaster area, the stars might as well grab the easy dough in television.

"Not true in my case," commented Garner. "As for the money, there's no way I could make as much money in TV as I did from my share of 'Support Your Local Sheriff.'"

"Nobody makes any money from the first season on a TV series. If it bombs, you lose everything. Only if a series goes into a third year can it turn a profit."

"Fortunately, I've had no problem keeping busy in films. I have developed a specialty—the comedy Western—which seems to have worked very

Garner Returning To TV

Billy Graham

My husband died and now I am alone. I am an invalid and needed him so very much. Why did God take him?

With our restricted perspective in this world there are many things we cannot understand. You can be sure of this one thing — God makes no mistakes. Remember that He sees all of the past, all of the present and all of the future at the same time. With this infinite wisdom and knowledge He has taken your husband, and for some reason it is right and good. It may have been to draw you close to Himself. One of the most blessed promises in all of the Bible is found in these words: "And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are called according to His purpose." Do you love God? If so, this very experience of bereavement and loneliness is working out for your good. If you do not know and love Him then God in His infinite love and mercy would use this very experience to draw you to Himself. In all of our experiences we should remember that our life in this world is but a flash of a second as compared with eternity. While you may not understand your own experience now, if you will but surrender everything to your loving Heavenly Father you will, some day, praise Him for this very thing. God always knows best.

A Devotion For Today...

"In the world you will have trouble. But courage! The victory is mine; I have conquered the world." (John 16:33 NEB)

PRAYER: Thanks be to Thee, O Father Almighty, for revealing Thyself to us through our Lord Jesus Christ. In Him Thou dost banish our fears. We lift up our hearts in renewed faith. Amen.

Lovers At Party

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I just received an invitation to a surprise 25th wedding anniversary party for a couple I'll call "The Johnsons," which is not their real name. We have been friends with the Johnsons for many years. Here is the problem. About five years ago Mr. Johnson and I started having an affair, and it's still going on, but nobody is wise. We really love each other, but we know it's hopeless. My question: Should we go to the party?

It would be difficult for me to sit there and pretend to be happy while Mr. Johnson pretends he loves his wife. And it would probably be embarrassing for Mr. Johnson, too.

cerning the failure of a widow to return about a dozen irreplaceable books which her husband borrowed during his last illness. How does the owner get them back?

You suggested that she take some cookies to the widow, then suddenly bring up the subject of the unreturned books. I say, nuts to your cookies approach. It's not honest. Just take a suitcase over there and ask for the books. A year is 50 weeks too long to wait for their return. Anyone who values a book should require a dated receipt for it. Every library does.

AN M.D. IN K.C.
DEAR M.D.: Thanks, Doc. Your prescription will no doubt effect a quicker cure than mine.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Nose Surgery

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you please discuss some of the things involved in having your nose straightened? It is very expensive. — Mrs. A.M.B.

It's called rhinoplasty. The operation itself has to be done in the hospital, and a certain amount of aftercare is necessary, so all that, plus a fairly short time in the hospital, means a cost of some hundreds of dollars. If you are seriously contemplating such work, discuss it with a plastic surgeon, and he can give you a pretty good estimate of cost, plus an estimate of how long you will be off work.

One question that is often asked is how to find a good plastic surgeon. The answer is simple: ask your regular physician to refer you to one. There really is a good deal of "nose-bobbing" and other surgery for the sake of appearance, but one thing that distresses plastic surgeons is to encounter the patient who expects too much — that just getting a different-shaped nose will transform a plain Jane into Zsa Zsa what's-her-name.

If you are realistic about what you want done, fine. But don't get any wild daydreams about a new nose changing the rest of your face.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible for a woman who is on the "pill" to become pregnant if she missed one, and still has her periods? — I.D.

Doubtful. Authorities tell me the best rule is that if you miss a pill one day, take two the next. If you miss more than one day, take extra precautions until the next full cycle is due.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My grandson, 5, has Legg-Perthes disease of the hip and has been in a cast for a year. The doctors say there is no improvement, so he is still in a cast. Does this disease cure itself? — Mrs. E.S.

Yes, the bone regains its strength, but must be protected from damage meantime. Sometimes recovery is much more rapid; sometimes it can take considerably longer than a year. I would advise continuing as you are.

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Big O And A Snuff Out Baltimore Bullets Hopes

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Big O and the Big A stand for Oscar and Alcindor. Or, they could signify omnipresent and awesome.

Oscar Robertson seemed to be everywhere as the Milwaukee Bucks crushed the Baltimore Bullets 102-83 Sunday and took a 2-0 lead in the National Basketball Association's best-of-seven championship series.

The third game will be played in Milwaukee Wednesday night, with the Bucks trying to become the second team in the 25-year history of the NBA to sweep the championship series. The only other was Boston over Minneapolis in 1958-59.

The Big O, who has never played for a championship team in 10 previous seasons, scored 22 points, had 10 assists and six rebounds, and held Baltimore's Earl Monroe to 11 points.

While Alcindor and Robertson provided almost half of Milwaukee's points, the Bucks were raving about their defense.

Lew Alcindor, who is listed at 7-foot-2 but is at least two inches taller, scored 27 points, grabbed 24 rebounds, and intimidated the Bullets on defense.

While Alcindor and Robertson provided almost half of Milwaukee's points, the Bucks were raving about their defense.

Miss Haynie from Runaway Bay, Texas, earned $4,500 in taking first place with a 54-hole total of 219. It was a three-under par performance for Miss Haynie who last year in a sudden-death playoff.

Holguin And Doe Belt Home Runs

Lions hitters, led by Henry Holguin with three safeties and Bobby Doe with two, were hot as the Lions defeated the Braves 10-1 in a National Little League game Saturday evening.

Both Holguin and Doe had three-run homers, and Holguin got credit as winning pitcher, yielding only three hits. Dale Osburn was charged with the loss, allowing eight hits.

Petty Scores Another Win

By The Associated Press
Old pro Richard Petty recorded his 127th career victory, though it was a controversial one, and 26-year-old Mike Mosley won his first as the auto racing season roared into high gear Sunday.

At Riverside, Calif., Australian Frank Matish, who finished second in each heat, won the Continental 5000 Grand Prix on an over-all basis.

Petty drove his Plymouth home a bare second ahead of David Pearson's Ford in a 250-mile NASCAR Grand National stock car race at Martinsville, Va., then stood by as Pearson filed a protest claiming that Petty drove the last 18 laps minus the cap on his fuel tank—a violation of the rules.

It was Petty's eighth triumph of the season in 14 starts and, if he keeps it, the first prize check of $6,225 will put his earnings past the $112,000 mark and closer to a career total of $1 million.

There was no controversy attached to Mosley's runaway victory in the Trenton 200, final warmup for next month's Indianapolis 500 for USAC's speedy championship cars.

The stocky blond from Brownsburg, Ind., finished almost five miles ahead of Wally Dallenbach of East Brunswick, N.J., as a chilled crowd of 22,000 and an ABC television audience watched. Al Unser, leading at the time, had engine failure.

Colonels Wipe Out Virginians

MADISONVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Frank Ramsey, coach of the Kentucky Colonels, isn't an excitable type.

His team just had wrapped up the American Basketball Association's Eastern Division finals by sweeping Virginia four games to two, so how did Ramsey celebrate?

He had some friends over for hamburgers Sunday night at his home here and borrowed one of their motorcycles for a spin around the block.

"There isn't anything to celebrate yet," the mild-mannered former Boston Celtic great said. "We haven't won it yet."

The high point of the Colonels' season came in Louisville Saturday night when they ran away from Virginia in the final quarter to wrap up the series with an easy 129-117 victory.

Tiger Cubs Get Clubbed

The Big Spring Tiger Cubs dropped a wild 21-11 decision to the Lamesa GI Forum in a contest at Steer Park Sunday.

The Lamesans combined hits, walks, and 14 Cub errors to compile the 21 tallies, while the Cubs had only their own hitting to produce runs.

Highlights were three hits by Emilio Ramirez, giving him seven hits in 10 trips over two games, and Juan Cervantes' towering two-run homer. Randy McClure added a double and a single.

The Forum jumped ahead early, but the Cubs came back to 14-11 after five and a half innings. Unfortunately, the home club failed to score in its last two at bats. The Forum put it away with a seven run rally in the top of the final and seventh innings.

Next week the Cubs travel to Lenoar to try to improve their 1-1 record.

FIRST PLACE Surprise Expos Sweep Astros

By The Associated Press
The Montreal Expos— the first-place Montreal Expos, 11-0 vis-a-vis—are one up against the rest of the National League East for the first three weeks of 1971 and one up on the Houston Astros for the last two years.

In their first two seasons, the Flying Frenchmen of baseball managed to win only two of 12 games in the Astrodome. They betted that lowly mark Sunday with a 2-1 victory behind Bill Stoneman's three-hit pitching and a sweep of a three-game series.

Elsewhere in the NL, Pittsburgh defeated San Francisco 6-2, Cincinnati blanked Los Angeles 2-0 after the Dodgers took the opener 4-2, St. Louis rallied for three runs in the ninth inning, and beat Philadelphia 5-4, the Chicago Cubs triumphed over the New York Mets 9-3 and San Diego and Atlanta split a double-header, the Padres winning 3-2 and the Braves taking the 10-inning nightcap 4-3.

The Expos swept through Houston with a sometimes rare commodity for them—good pitching. They won the first two games by 3-2 scores behind Carl Morton and Steve Renko, although both needed late relief.

Manager Harry Walker of the Astros cited good control as the Expos' not-so-secret pitching secret.

After being shut out by Steve Stoneman and Ron Bryant, Pittsburgh jumped on San Francisco ace Juan Marichal for three runs and Vic Davalillo drove in three more with a pair of singles off Marichal's successors, Nelson Briles, making his first start of the season because Bob Moose had military duty, needed last-out help from Dave Giusti.

The Reds snapped their own four-game losing streak and the Dodgers' six-game win string behind Don Bullett's sixth-inning hurrying and Tony Perez' first home run since opening day. Bill Singer pitched a five-hitter in the first game and was staked to four runs in the fourth inning, an uprising ignited by Willie Davis' triple.

Joe Torre, hitless in four previous trips, extended his hitting streak to 19 games with a two-out, bases-loaded single in the ninth inning that capped the Cards' three-run rally. A walk, singles by Ted Sizemore and Joe Hague and a forceout produced the first two runs and another walk and an error by Don Money set the stage for Torre, who grounded into a double play to kill a threat an inning earlier.

Pitcher Ferguson Jenkins and Johnny Callison each drove in three runs as the Cubs whipped the Mets.

The Padres edged the Braves in their opener on Ollie Brown's two-run homer and an unearned run, although Hank Aaron No. 599 and Orlando Cepeda homered in the ninth. Atlanta won the nightcap on an error in the 10th.

Nicklaus Demolishes His Opposition By 8 Strokes

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus' mind still was on his defeat at the Masters when he teed off in the final round of the MONY Tournament of Champions Sunday.

"I wasn't pleased with the way I've been finishing lately," Nicklaus said. "I think I've been paying too much attention to the scoreboard and not enough attention to myself."

"So I told my caddy, 'Let's do something different. Don't tell me what anyone else is doing. I just want to go out and play my game and not worry about what anyone else is doing.'"

He didn't have to worry, shooting a final round 70 for 279 and a huge, eight-stroke victory in this event that brings together four champions from the last 12 months. It was the biggest winning margin in more than two years.

It simply was Nicklaus all alone. He finished at 279, nine under par. It was eight strokes back to a group of three tied at 287—South African Gary Player, Australian Bruce Devlin and Dave Stockton.

With Nicklaus, they were the only players to break par on the 7,114-yard, par 72 layout that features deep, clinging rough and pipeline fairways.

Player and Stockton had 72 and Devlin took a 73.

Gene Littler, 71, was alone at 288, and Bobby Nicholas had a 71 for 289. Charles Coody, who won the Masters and destroyed Nicklaus' hopes of a professional grand slam this year, took a 75 for 290. Arnold Palmer had a 73-295 and U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin of England was one of 11 who failed to break 300. He had a 74 for 301.

It was Nicklaus' 32nd victory on the American tour, along with two British Open titles, two national team titles and four World Series of Golf triumphs.

The $33,000 first place check pushed his earnings to over $102,000 in only seven starts and he just behind Palmer on the money-winning list.

Chippers Clip Lamesa Twice

Lamesa Merchants rallied with a run in the top of the last two frames of the first game here in Comanche Park Saturday evening, but the Big Spring Chippers already had it sailed with a 3-0 lead.

After winning the first 3-2, the Chippers then unleashed an 18-hit attack to demolish the visitors 13-2 in the nightcap. All but two Chippers hit safely. Roy New connecting for four, Herb Sorley for three, and Oldfather, Roger, Cox and Steve New for two each.

Roy New was the winning pitcher in the first game, besting Don Gibson. Cotten Mize coasted in for the second victory.

"They're not going to see me down on Bourbon Street this year," he grinned.

Trevino charged home with a final-round 68 to finish with a 72-hole total of 273, 15 under par. He was three strokes ahead of Jim Weichers and four in front of third-round leader Hubert Green. Trevino had started the pay-off charge with rounds of 69, 67 and 69 on his card.

Green started the day one stroke up but blew under the pressure and bogeyed four holes. He drew high praise from Trevino.

Green's third place finish was worth $4,500, while Weichers picked up $7,200 for finishing second.

Trevino has won $65,880 this year, about $11,000 below his earnings at this time last year.

Late Score Wins For The Stars

The Stars pushed across a run in the top of the last inning to edge the Pirates in an American Little League game, 4-3, Thursday evening.

The Pirates, who had hopped to a first-inning lead, saw the Stars knot it in the fourth. The teams matched runs in the next frame, as C. Thompson of the Stars and C. Pringle of the Pirates squared in a pitchers' duel.

Both allowed only five hits. C. Hull was charged with the loss, however.

Derby Day Looms

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Keeping track of all the Kentucky Derby hopefuls in the Churchill Downs stable area today was almost as hard as picking a winner in Saturday's 97th running of America's most famous horse race.

Twenty Derby candidates were stable at the historic track Sunday, with at least two still to make an appearance.

Arthur A. Seeligs Jr.'s Unconscious was due to arrive from California today while Frank J. Caldwell's Jim French, the winter book favorite, is expected in from New York Thursday.

sider felt 17, the number of 1970 starters, would be a more realistic figure.

Whatever the number of starters, there are more than enough horses to keep the traditional Derby Week arguments burning. And this year there is an extra ingredient to fan the flames—four missing 3-year-olds.

Not here are the injured Hoist The Flag, who had been the strong early Derby favorite; His Majesty; Good Behavior, a triple stakes winner who was not nominated for the Derby; and Executioner, a double stakes' winner whose owner chose to skip the Derby.

Derby candidates expected in the trial are George Holsinger's Bopdavelle, A. H. Sullivan's Fourula, J.L. and R.W. Losen's Prospect Hill, and Fritz and Sechrest's Vegas Vic. Two outside Derby prospects set for the trial are Philip Teinowitz' Royal Leverage and Bruno Ferrari's Jr.'s Arrowhead.

Much early attention Sunday was paid to the California Farm pair of Bold and Abie and Eastern Fleet.

Bold and Able won the seven-furlong Stepping Stone Purse at Churchill Downs last Saturday while Eastern Fleet finished sixth in a field of seven. However, Eastern Fleet had earlier won the 1 1/4-mile Florida Derby.

Cocaine Case Defendant Refuses To Leave Cell

DALLAS (AP) — Robert L. Robertson, one of the defendants in the international cocaine smuggling trial under way here, refused to come out of his Dallas County Jail cell today.

Cecil Emerson, an assistant U.S. district attorney, said a psychiatrist was sent to the jail to examine Robertson.

Four men are on trial on charges of smuggling and conspiring to smuggle cocaine from Central and South America into the United States.

Judge Sarah Hughes, the federal jurist hearing the case called lawyers into her office for a conference shortly after Robertson refused to come to court.

At one point last week, Robertson rushed out the witness stand and refused to testify further.

Robertson, 48, formerly was head of a Dallas aviation concern.

Earlier in the trial, Dr. Mary L. Cannon, a Dallas psychiatrist, testified about an examination she made of Robertson on the court's order.

She said that at that time Robertson was not delusional although he had been in Beverly Hills Hospital with a nervous breakdown in 1962. The diagnosis at that time was schizophrenia.

"I was baffled because when I examined him, I could find no evidence at all in my examination of schizophrenia," Dr. Cannon said.

The doctor also testified that some years earlier, Robertson had been on the drug, prelude, an amphetamine called "speed" or "good balls."

She described his present mental condition as "mild depressed."

The doctor said he has average intelligence and there was no evidence of hallucinations or delusions.

She said at the end of the hearing he asked her if she considered him insane. She did not say how she replied.

Kennedy Urges Adoption Of His Health Care Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accusing the health insurance industry of "failure to serve the people," Sen. Edward M. Kennedy today urged adoption of his plan to cover all Americans under one federal health insurance policy.

The Massachusetts Democrat was the leadoff witness at three days of Senate Finance Committee hearings on several different health care proposals, including a health partnership plan of the Nixon administration.

SOARING COSTS

Other first-day witnesses were Elliot L. Richardson, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare; Sen. Clifford P. Hansen, R-Wyo., and Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott.

The Kennedy plan would cover every individual living in the United States for all health services for the prevention and treatment of illness and medical rehabilitation. It would be funded partly from the general U.S. Treasury and partly out of a payroll tax of 3.5 per cent on employers and 1 per cent on employees.

Kennedy, chairman of a separate Health subcommittee, said in his prepared testimony two months of hearings by his panel showed "gross waste and inefficiency" contributing to soaring costs of health care.

"We have heard testimony," he said, "that hospitals are used unnecessarily because insurance covers hospitalization but not outpatient care. We have heard that costly hospital facilities, such as open heart surgery units, are built for prestige reasons, and then paid for by insurance companies."

STRONG EVIDENCE

Hospital charges have tripled in the past decade and physicians fees have risen by 150 per cent, Kennedy said.

"We have heard strong evidence that the insurance industry has neither the ability nor the will to control costs or promote efficiency in the health system," he said. "They take the path of least resistance. They simply raise their premiums to cover the inefficiency and inflation."

Kennedy said that under his proposed Health Security Act the federal government would effect controls on costs by requiring adherence to budgets and through annual reviews to eliminate costly and duplicative facilities and to base new construction on area-wide planning.

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A search continued late Sunday for a young, slender man wanted for questioning in a fatal shooting during Fiesta Week celebrations.

The shooting erupted at HemisFair Plaza about six blocks away from a disturbance in which 34 persons were arrested. The two incidents were minutes apart Saturday night but were unrelated.

Killed during a dance at HemisFair Plaza was Johnny Duke, 17.

Hospitalized with wounds suffered in the shooting were two brothers, Mario and Hector Salazar, 18 and 20. The gunfire followed a jostling incident, officers said.

Police said they were seeking a man about 19 or 20 years old. Street fighting disrupted the Fiesta Flambeau, a long, illuminated nighttime parade that climaxed Fiesta Week and drew more than 300,000 spectators.

Police said several persons crowded into the middle of a street during a gap in the procession of brightly lit floats.

Officers said they persuaded most to return to the sidewalk but one man refused.

Friends began dragging the man away, but another person "jumped in," said Inspector Marion Talbert. "When we started to arrest him they (the crowd) started throwing chairs."

Some policemen were reported slightly injured in the ensuing melee and police said about four of those arrested required hospital care.

Seven persons remained jailed late Sunday on disorderly conduct complaints, officers said.

'Crazy' Asks Bankruptcy

ARLINGTON, Mass. (AP) — "This is what happens when you do well," comedian Frank Fontaine—Crazy Gooenheim of the Jackie Gleason Show—told a news conference he called Sunday night to announce he will petition for bankruptcy.

Fontaine's attorney, former Massachusetts Lt. Gov. Francis X. Bellotti, said, "It's a case of poor financial management." Bellotti estimated the comedian's liabilities at $850,000.

The Internal Revenue Service announced Friday the seizure of Fontaine's home in suburban Winchester, alleging Fontaine owes $450,000 in income taxes, penalties and interest.

The house, with an assessed valuation of $88,500, is to be auctioned May 25.

747 GETS STUCK IN MUD

DENVER (AP) — A Continental 747 jetliner became stuck in the mud early today after over-shooting the runway at Stapleton International Airport here. None of the plane's 75 passengers was injured, airport officials said.

The plane had landed on a flight from Los Angeles, but went off the east end of the runway and sank into mud. Airport officials said wet pavement may have been a factor in the incident.

Pre-Enrollment Set At Elbow

The Elbow elementary school of the Forsan County Line Independent School District has set pre-school enrollment for kindergarten for 1971-72 school year.

This will be held Thursday between 9 a.m. and 12 noon at the school. No transfers can be accepted for kindergarten, although those approved for transfers in grades 1-5 still will be accepted.

Attendance in the Forsan kindergarten will be limited to 30 children. Those eligible are children who will be 5 years old by Sept. 1, 1971, or who are children who are culturally deprived and nearest their 5th birthdays.

Those presently enrolled in the kindergartens are pre-enrolled for the first grade next year. However, if there are any children who will be 6 years of age by Sept. 1, 1971, and who are not in the Forsan kindergartens, these will need to be enrolled Thursday also.

Birth certificates are necessary for enrollment. Health forms will be distributed during the enrollment period.

Additional information may be had by calling W. R. Cregar, principal of the Elbow Elementary school at 398-5444.

Young Trying To Create A Brave New World

Editor's Note: There is developing in America a second society — an alternative society. It's young and full of dreams. But it also has its own wobbly institutions and structures, and it is attracting large numbers of disaffected young people. This dispatch, the first of a series from the AP Special Assignment Team, examines the broader aspects of this new and significant development in American life.

By KEN HARTNETT
Associated Press Writer
BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Margaret Mary, 22, tall, lithe and educated daughter of the middle class, hopes someday to make her parents understand why she dropped out. But not yet; the weekend would be awkward enough.

Her parents were driving in from Kansas Saturday and she had already promised to spend the day with her friends making a pornographic film.

The $75 will help Margaret Mary get through another month. Each month brings her closer to the day she can flee the city for the rural commune that lights up her dreams.

IF DREAM FAILS
Even if that dream falls through, there are others. The Alternative Society has no shortage of dreams and Margaret Mary is a member in good standing. She turned her back on the society that produced her.

Throughout the nation, untold numbers of young white, well educated Americans have made the same decision.

Many may prove temporary dropouts, staying off to the side with one foot at least tentatively planted in straight America. They are finding "a way station."

"But there is evidence," wrote sociologists Peter L. and Brigitte Berger in the New Republic, "that for as yet unknown number, the way station is becoming a place of permanent settlement. For an apparently growing number, there is a movement from youth culture to counter culture. These are the ones who drop out permanently."

NIX SUBURBIA
There's no way to estimate the size of the Alternative Society's population, but it is clear that thousands of young people have turned their backs on the America of processed food and skyscrapers and eight cylinder cars and little houses in suburbia.

They are engaged in building an Alternative Society with its own values, its own institutions, even its own religions. Journeying through the outposts of this other American — places like Berkeley, Calif.; Madison, Wis., and Cambridge, Mass., one finds free universities which offer whatever courses people want to teach or learn, free medical clinics, even free buses and taxi cabs.

Berkeley, Madison and Cambridge have long been regarded as radical bastions. But one finds the same kind of institutions in places without as rooted a history of confrontation politics.

FREE STORE
Albuquerque, N.M., has its free store and a people's garage where profit is not a motive. Atlanta, Ga., has communes, a people's craft center, an underground newspaper. Seattle, Wash., will soon have a movement free clinic staffed by long-haired doctors.

Communes, not only for foot-loose hippies, but for doctors and lawyers, are springing up in the major cities. Food cooperatives — on the West Coast they are called "Conspiracies" — are giving hip communities an alternative to supermarkets. Seattle hippies, many of them stocked with federal food stamps, have their own "supermarkets," with the markup percentages posted on the wall.

There are alternative radio stations, such as KTAO in Los Gatos, Calif., where the taped voices of Angela Davis or Jean Paul Sartre lend a radical touch of station identification.

STREET HAWKERS
Alternative newspapers are part of the scene in virtually every large city or major university town, providing street hawkers with a small but certain income.

"Never before has a society dealt to its children two alternative ways of life," says Allen, a 30-year-old Berkeley trained doctor helping organize the Country Doctor, a free clinic in Seattle.

Sociologist Bennett Berger, author of "Looking for America," says there is ample reason for the spread of alternative institutions.

"There's nothing else to do," he said. "There's a large, enormous population in the relevant age group whom the society has no room for. They are caught in schools which become warehouses, in an army they want to stay out of, and in businesses which they have trained incapacities for. So they gather together..."

They cluster in rickety apartment houses at the edge of university districts or in major cities at the edge of the ghetto or scatter in smaller groups into the countryside.

LIVE AND LET LIVE
They are united by the live and let live atmosphere of the drug culture — although by no means are they all drug users — and a common contempt for the values of what they call "Plastik Amerika."

Some are emotional wrecks. Some are highly gifted. Psychiatrist Seymour Halleck of the University of Wisconsin believes it is important to see if the alternatives they are devising can work. "What I don't like," he said, "is that it takes some people with a potential for changing the system out of the system."

"That just makes it easier for those who want to keep it the way it is to keep it that way."

Others, notably Yale's Kenneth Keniston, see aspects of the Alternative Society as a source of inspiration for those who share its values but plunge into the larger society anyway.

Keniston calls these people infiltrators.

SOCIAL CHANGE
"My own view," Keniston

says, "is that (social change) is more likely to come about through infiltration than through a commune in Colorado, although the commune may be important because it provides inspiration for the infiltrators."

Everywhere, the new society is dwarfed by a dependent on the larger society.

"How autonomous can they be?" asks Keniston. "They almost have to be parasitic. They take for granted a much larger system they are at least nominally opposed to but at the same time can't do without."

"It's really kind of ridiculous," sneered a New Mexico social worker, "these small groups of middle class children with their straightened teeth get so much sympathy while you can't get money for people whose needs are a lot greater."

"And after they come here and get their case of hepatitis or whatever, off they go, back to Chevy Chase or Grosse Pointe."

I'M AFRAID
Margaret Mary could return home to hide or to rest, but never to live.

"I'm afraid of the outside world," she said. "There are parts of you that are still innocent and there's no way of knowing until you are hit."

Besides, she said, she wants to survive and straight America is doomed — a view widely held in the Alternative Society.

In another age, Margaret Mary might have been an oddity living up the gossip in a small Kansas town. Or, perhaps, she might have made her way to New York or Chicago and lived out her life among a minority of like-minded clustered there.

But Margaret Mary is no oddity in the other America. Even Kansas has hip communities where she would feel at home, find shelter, food and advantages — skills, education or some family money to fall back on.

Without those advantages, one needs a little bit of luck and some friends.

But, already, substantial numbers of young Americans are living on their own terms and surviving.

"We are not a lunatic fringe," wrote revolutionary Tom Hayden in his book, "Trial." "We are a new people rising from the ruins of the American empire."

Hayden's "New People" are together in what is often self-imposed poverty near the heart of virtually every major U.S. city.

POPS PROFIT
They are linked by a life style that puts down profit and exploitation and extracts personal fulfillment.

Listen to Margaret Mary: "I want someday to raise goats and wild plants and live off the land and be together with my friends... It's very important to me to be a mother. I want to be the mother of children without last names. I won't force them to, but I believe my children will be hip because I hope my life will satisfy them."

Listen to Linda, a delicate, child-like girl of 22 living in an Albuquerque commune: "Why should I work 30 or 40 hours a week for someone or something that doesn't give a s--- about me so I can get money to buy things I don't give a s--- about owning?"

Listen to Paul, a radical in Cambridge:

"I think the thing they got stinks. I don't think they are happy. I'm trying to be happy and I hope to come to a human alternative at the same time."

They all are in flight from the society they were raised to be a part of. The society they are running toward isn't yet ready to receive them all. It may never be.

HIP MOVEMENT
But it is new. The hip movement as a catalyst that acted on significant numbers of middle class children is scarcely more than five years old, if one dates its birth to the blooming of the flower children of San Francisco Haight-Ashbury in 1966.
