

RAISE IN TEXAS SALES, GASOLINE, BEER, FAG TAXES LOOMS

$658.3 Million Budget Decision

AUSTIN (AP) — Senators steeled themselves today for a vote, probably Wednesday on a record-busting $658.3 million tax package that would raise Texas sales, gasoline, beer and cigarette taxes.

The bill was approved 13-6 Monday night by the Senate State Affairs Committee.

Sen. Don Kennard, Fort Worth, said the measure actually would be worth an additional $769 million in revenue the next two years when another $110 million is expected from increased comptroller's estimates, savings on public welfare reform and the pending liquor-by-the-drink tax are taken into consideration.

Kennard estimated the bill is 49 per cent business tax, 51 per cent paid by the consumer.

The Senate bill compares with the $492.5 million bill passed by the House March 1. Because of difference in the Senate and House versions it is expected the final measure will be written by a 10-man conference committee.

IRON IT OUT

A similar 10-man negotiations group will iron out differences between the Senate appropriations bill which was estimated to cost $694.4 million in new taxes and the House bill which would require $604.4 million.

The bill approved by the State Affairs Committee Monday would produce $298.5 million by raising the state sales tax from 3.25 to 4 per cent; $79.3 million by increasing the motor vehicle sales tax from 3 to 4 per cent; $102.6 million by increasing the state franchise tax $1.25 for each $5,000 of capital; $46.5 million by a 3 cents per package tax increase on cigarettes; $102.1 million with a 2 cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax and by the transfer of $15 million annually in farm to market road money from the highway fund to the general revenue fund.

The State Affairs Committee added another $2.7 million to the bill by accepting, 12-7, an amendment that would raise the state beer tax from $4.30 to $6 per barrel. An effort to make the tax $10 a barrel failed 13-6.

Kennard said another $119 million in revenue could be expected the next two years by the comptroller increasing his estimate on the $492.5 million House bill by $50 to $75 million; by the expected $40 to $50 million income from pending liquor by the drink legislation and by a saving of $20 to $30 million in public welfare reform.

Kennard said the Senate bill struck out of the House bill plane and motel tax, a stocks and securities tax, a tax on jet airline fuel and a new tax on sand, shell and gravel.

He said senators accepted the House proposed sales tax increase and the motor vehicle tax increase, except the motor vehicle tax was extended to include car rentals of less than 30 days.

Kennard and the other six senators who wrote the Senate bill figured it was 49 per cent on business and 51 per cent on consumers.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and the subcommittee of the State Affairs Committee began their final deliberations at breakfast Monday and continued throughout the day.

Military Judge Tosses Out One Count Against Kotouc

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — A military judge directed a verdict of innocent today on a charge that Capt. Eugene M. Kotouc assaulted a suspected Viet Cong prisoner by cutting him on the neck at My Lai in 1968.

But Col. Madison Wright let stand a charge that the 37-year-old Kotouc, of Humboldt, Neb., maimed the same prisoner by cutting off part of a finger during an interrogation.

Wright directed the jury to limit its deliberations to the maiming charge.

The judge took the action after lawyers for Kotouc moved on the second day of his court-martial for Wright to throw out both charges.

ONE WITNESS

Capt. Norman Cooper, Southern Pines, N.C., one of three attorneys for Kotouc, made his motion after the government rested its case.

Cooper held that the government's case was not supported by the evidence.

He said the government had been able to produce only one witness to testify about the alleged assault and that he had failed to substantiate the charge.

The prosecutor, Maj. William Eckhardt, Starkville, Miss., disagreed. He said the testimony of the one witness was proof enough that an assault had occurred on the prisoner.

The government ran through its list of six witnesses Monday in 2 1/2 hours, then asked Wright to recess for the day. He did so over objections from the defense.

"As far as I know we have heard the prosecution's case," said former Nebraska Gov. Robert Crosby of Lincoln, Ko-touc's civilian lawyer. "We know of no more witnesses."

"If this is all of this case, with respect to the neck cutting," Crosby told newsmen outside of the courtroom, "I do not hesitate to say this is a travesty."

Crosby said the captain had never denied accidentally cutting off part of the suspect's finger while questioning him.

The prosecutor, Maj. William

Eckhardt, 29, of Starkville, Miss., said in his opening statement he would prove the finger was cut "wilfully, intentionally."

Of the six prosecution witnesses Monday, only Frederick Widmer of New Kensington, Pa., identified Kotouc as the officer who cut off part of the Viet Cong suspect's finger.

The finger was cut when the suspect and another prisoner failed to answer questions posed by Kotouc and others questioning him, Widmer said.

"At this time Capt. Kotouc raised his arm," said Widmer. "It came down and piece of the Viet name's finger was chopped off."

Widmer said the suspect, described by witnesses as a male, about 40, had been forced to place his finger on a block of wood.

Health Insurance Industry Has Failed U.S. Working Man?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, declared today the nation's health insurance industry has failed the working man and added to the fires of inflation.

He urged it be replaced by a federally run health insurance plan.

Woodcock, declaring health care is a necessary right, not a luxury, denounced President Nixon's plan to give more responsibility to private health insurance firms.

He endorsed strongly a plan sponsored by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., which would give the government the principal role.

Woodcock told the Senate Finance Committee private health insurance plans have failed to keep their promise throughout a history of what he called unparalleled failure: failure to control costs, failure to assure quality medical care, failure to respond to human needs.

In a lengthy indictment of health insurance Woodcock even challenged the name, saying what the industry provides is not health insurance but sickness insurance. And he said President Nixon's proposal is no better.

He said the administration's plan provides nothing for part time or seasonal workers, nothing for workers who are laid off or on strike, no new benefits for the elderly and nothing for employees of federal or state governments.

He said the only solution is to replace private firms almost totally.

In other testimony the Kennedy health bill was endorsed by Andrew J. Biemiller, a spokesman for the AFL-CIO.

Health plans covered Monday in the Senate hearing ranged from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's multibillion-dollar federal takeover approach to President Nixon's less extensive proposal to work through existing private insurance firms.

The Senate committee action this week is informational since any legislation must originate in the House, which initiates all financial bills.

The first step on that line occurred today when the administration plan was introduced in the House, although with a substantial modification benefiting small businesses.

As submitted by Rep. John W. Byrnes, R-Wis., it would require businesses to provide employees a comprehensive health insurance plan, and pay most of the premium.

Unlike the bill originally developed by the administration, the new version offers a subsidy to reduce the cost to small employers.

West Point Grads Report War Crimes

WASHINGTON (AP) — An unofficial congressional war crimes inquiry summoned new witnesses today after hearing West Point graduates say they saw Americans torture prisoners, shell unarmed villages and terrorize civilians in Vietnam.

The panel, headed by freshman Rep. Ronald V. Dellums, D-Calif., listed as witnesses today five former military intelligence agents and Lt. Col. Anthony B. Herbert, a career officer.

However, Herbert, who lodged charges against superiors for alleged cover-up of civilian slayings and torture in 1968, said Monday night the Army won't let him testify.

A Pentagon spokesman declined comment.

The hearings Monday attracted a dozen antiwar congressmen, but had to operate under a broadcast news blackout imposed by House Speaker Carl Albert. House committees may open meetings to radio and television coverage by a majority vote of their members, but Albert ruled the unofficial panel could not.

In Monday's unsworn testimony former Capt. Robert B. Johnson said he saw shelling of unarmed villages, personally called in air strikes on some of them and participated in 13 search-and-destroy missions to burn South Vietnamese homes and food.

"It became clear to me that we were waging a war not against a specific ideology but against the Vietnamese people," he said.

Former Capt. Ron Bartek, 26, said he was taught to sever the ears of dead enemy soldiers to verify "body count." His platoon mortally wounded an old man in an uncontrolled burst of fire on an unresisting village, he said.

DOOR-TO-DOOR Volunteers Set Cancer Drive Here Tonight

Today is the day that 360 women volunteer their time on a mission that they consider tremendously important.

It is the annual appeal for funds to support the work of the American Cancer Society in the battle against the most insidious of the killer diseases.

Mrs. Merrill Creighton, general chairman of the house-to-house canvass, said that volunteers will seek to knock on every door in the county.

About 240 of these will be covering various districts within Big Spring, the remainder will call on homes in Coahoma, Sand Springs, Forsan, Knott, other communities, and indeed at rural homes.

"These women are sold on the urgency of the need to the extent they are giving as well as going," said Mrs. Creighton. "We just hope that every resident in the county will be as concerned as they are when it comes to giving to the fight against cancer."

Wanda Kills 26 Filipinos

MANILA (AP) — Tropical storm Wanda began breaking up in the South China Sea today after it ravaged the Philippines, killing at least 26 Filipinos and driving thousands from their homes.

The storm heavily damaged chunks of the Philippines' prime sugar, rice and coconut lands.

The Weather Bureau said there was "very little possibility" Wanda would reach the South Vietnamese coast as earlier predicted.

Laird Seeks Missile Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said today the Soviet Union is increasing the size of its antiballistic missile system. He said he may have to ask Congress for more funds to increase the size of this nation's Minuteman missile force.

In a news conference, Laird also indicated for the first time that draft calls will total about 140,000 men this year and disclosed the Navy would announce later this week the selection of its first black admiral.

The defense chief told newsmen construction of the Russian ABM system around Moscow had stopped at four sites, but new evidence has disclosed that construction has begun on possibly as many as four new sites, which could represent an expansion of the Soviet GAOOSH antimissile system or a follow onto it. Each site is said to be equipped with 16 missiles.

Asian Air War Will Be Cut 25 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bomber operations in Southeast Asia will be cut about another 25 per cent in the coming year, reducing them to the lowest level since early in the air war, Pentagon sources say.

Current planning calls for a monthly average of about 7,500 Air Force fighter-bomber sorties in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia during the fiscal year starting July 1, the sources said.

That represents a drop of some 2,500 from this year's average of 10,000 sorties a month. A sortie is a single flight by a single plane.

Even before the planned new reduction, fighter-bomber operations have fallen about 50 per cent below the war peak of almost 19,000 a month in fiscal 1968.

Meanwhile, the number of B52 bomber sorties, temporarily up to 1,200 a month because of the intense air campaign to shut off enemy supplies flowing through Laos, will be down to 1,000 a month in the coming fiscal year.

While U.S. ground combat responsibilities are due to end this summer, American war planes will continue to support South Vietnamese troops at least for another year.

HHH 'The Odds-On Favorite' For Presidential Nod If....

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee, after examining political tea leaves, has pronounced Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey "the odds-on favorite" for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination if Sen. Edward M. Kennedy stays out of the running.

Humphrey looked over the GOP analysis, laughed, and said he appreciates the billing.

'SLIPPING FAST'

The GOP's weekly newsletter said Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the Democratic front-runner, is "slipping fast," and Humphrey stands to benefit.

"When the political estate of Ed Muskie is divided among his heirs—in the spring of 1972—his old mentor and patron, Hubert Horatio Humphrey, will emerge as his principal beneficiary," the Republicans said. "That's our prediction now—that is where the tea leaves point today."

The Republicans said Humphrey has moved up in the polls of Democratic opinion, while Muskie has dipped.

"Humphrey recruits are either defectors or deserters from the Muskie camp, and there is nothing to stop this steady attrition," the GOP newsletter said. "For Humphrey is quietly and actively promoting it. Moving about the country, getting exposure, garnering publicity, stressing his availability—Humphrey is consciously pumping himself up in the Democratic preference polls."

The Republican analysis said Humphrey's strategy evidently is to avoid the early presidential primaries, and to emerge only unbloodied centrist Democrat.

Summer Youth Program Under Way At Webb

Reports were presented by the four sub-committees of the Base-Community Council Monday at the monthly meeting at the Holiday Inn at noon. The Summer Youth Program at Webb AFB was reported to be underway and authorization has been given to hire 32 summer workers of which 80 per cent will come from needy families around town, Col. John W. Grow, co-chairman of the Public Relations and Prestige committee, said.

Also the committee suggested that more tours of the base be provided for adult and high school groups, in an effort to improve relations between civilians, especially the youth, toward base personnel and their children. The committee chairman told the council it was the committee's responsibility to plan a "Hail and Farewell" party in honor of Col. A. W. Atkinson, base commander, and his successor, Col. Malcolm E. Ryan. K. H. McGibbon is the other co-chairman of the committee.

Col. Atkinson will leave his command here to be vice-commander at Sheppard Wichita Falls. The Police-Health and Safety Committee headed by Capt. Richard N. Norris and County Judge A. G. Mitchell made some recommendations to the council to study, concerning the

More Money For Fathers

Veterans in training under the GI Bill were reminded Tuesday by Jack Coker, director of the Waco Veterans Administration office, that they are entitled to more money when they get married or have children. For example, Coker said, a full-time student in school will have his $175 a month increased to $205 when he gets married and to $230 if he becomes a father. Veterans taking cooperative, apprenticeship, on-the-job or farm cooperative training also have their VA payments increased when they get married and have children. Apprenticeship and on-the-job trainees get additional payments for only two dependents, while the others get them for all dependents.

Public Employes Bargaining Bill Debated In House

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas needs a state labor relations board to head off strikes by public employes such as firemen, policemen and teachers, says Rep. Carl Parker of Fort Arthur. Parker urged the House State Affairs Committee Monday night to approve his bill establishing a board regulating public employer-employee relationships.

The bill was referred to a subcommittee. "This bill would bring Texas into the 20th century so far as labor law is concerned," Parker said. "Right now Texas is in the ridiculous situation where public employes may not join together and bargain. Unless they are able to present their grievances in an orderly fashion before public bodies, in the very near future you're going to see disorderly and unauthorized and illegal strikes and labor problems none of us desires to see. Teacher strikes, public employe, police, mass sick calls by firemen. They're going to start acting on their own and when they do we're not going to be equipped to handle it. Representatives of 23 Texas cities opposed the bill.

Representation, Not Center Is The Question Of Youth

Between 250 and 300 youths gathered Monday night to argue not whether a teen center is needed in Big Spring but who should be represented on the youth committee to help organize the club.

Meeting in Comanche Trail Park amphitheater, the crowd was largely teenage with a few just out of their teens. A few parents and some youngsters who won't feel the need for a youth center for quite a few years also attended the sometimes boisterous meeting.

Elected to the temporary youth committee, which plans to meet with the adult committee some time next week, were Lonnie Hattenback, junior college sophomore, Mike Marchant, junior college freshman, Calvin Williams, out of school, Sam Sulak, high school senior, Susan Chappell, high school junior, Betty Ann Looney, high school sophomore, Linda Curtis, high school freshman; Kathy Sneed, eighth grade, and Steve Pierce, seventh grade. At-large, delegates include Gary Hughes Preston Crawford, Louis Dunnam, Gene Halfmann, Larry North and Pam Hartley. Most of the discussion centered around how to divide representation on a 15-member youth panel. Some felt the representation should be by classes; while others argued for an election at-large to fill the places on the committee.

The adult committee's suggestion that four junior high, nine high school and two college students be elected was voted down by the assembly.

The group finally accepted a compromise suggested by Susan Sulak, a Big Spring High School senior who was later elected to the committee.

The compromise, approved by the youths, was to elect one person each from the junior highs, one person from each of the four high school classes, one person from the out-of-school group and six at-large delegates.

No discussion was held concerning the actual formation of a teen center.

OFF THE GROUND
"This committee will be responsible for including the things you want in a center," Roger Brown, local attorney and member of the adult committee, told the crowd.

He also emphasized that the youth committee chosen

Monday night was only a temporary committee to "get things off the ground." He said once the teen center is organized a permanent youth committee as well as adult committee will be elected.

Unique Evangelist Is Due Here For Revival

A revival meeting with an unique evangelist will begin Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Trinity Baptist Church.

Jim Anderson, who will do the preaching for the series of meetings which continue at the same hour through the week and at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday, is a polished ventriloquist. He uses Harry Kiner, a mischievous little chum, and Roscoe, talkative but less-than-courageous hound, help him with his dialogue. When the banter is past, they both help the Rev. Anderson as he illustrates the Gospel message in simple, captivating terms.

A graduate of Ottawa College and a Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary where he is working on his doctorate, the Rev. Anderson is experienced in radio and other media. His multi-faceted talents leave him with a booking a year or more ahead.

Assisting him, the Rev. Claude Craven, pastor, announced, will be Leigh Roche, who began his career as an entertainer and in night clubs while in the British Army. Son of an opera star, he himself is a talented vocalist who says he now is singing under the management of Christ.

They will Observe 70th Anniversary

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Clyde Mauk, who will observe her 70th wedding anniversary Thursday, says living with a mate that long is "easy when he's amiable, nice and doesn't talk behind your back."

She's 89 and her husband 91. Mauk says they plan Thursday to "just set in our big chairs and maybe have a drink with the neighbors."

Preschoolers Can Attend Classes

GARDEN CITY — A preschool round-up will be held at the Garden City school Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. for all boys and girls who will be attending classes here next year.

Youngsters may ride the school bus to school, however parents are asked to pick the children up as soon after 12:30 as possible, Winn Talley, superintendent, said.

Lunches are 30 cents each, or the youngsters may bring sack lunches, Talley said. In charge of the program are Harold McGehee, elementary principal, Mrs. Sarah Jo Shuetter and Mrs. Fred Canafax.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain is forecast today for much of the Midwest and showers are expected in part of the South. Snow flurries are predicted for Wyoming and Colorado. There will be cold weather in the Great Plains states.

Murder Victim Feared For Her Child's Life?

FORT WORTH (AP) — A 3-year-old girl was abandoned more than a week ago because her mother, whose battered body was found Sunday in a Jacksboro stock tank, feared for the child's life, the girl's brother said Monday.

"I feel very definitely that that's why she left Gina," said Robert Shores Jr., 25, trying to explain the actions of his mother, Mrs. Edith Lorene Shores, apparently hours before she and her roommate were killed.

The bodies of Mrs. Shores, 40, and Miss De Ann Cloninger, 33, both of 1914 Eden in Haltom City, weighted with rocks and metal and tied up with baling wire, were found last weekend in a stock tank about 6 1/2 miles southeast of Jacksboro.

There were three other developments Monday.

'WHIPPING ON MOMMY' — Shores said Gina told him that "a man and a lady were whipping on mommy" just before Mrs. Shores left the child in an auto on a west side apartment house parking lot the night of April 16.

—Police said the two women and a man were to be "rubbed out" because Mrs. Shores and the man reportedly burglarized a hoodlum's house in Lake Worth Village.

—Sources said the man reportedly involved in the burglary has been telling people he feels his life is in danger.

—A Wichita Falls pathologist who performed an autopsy on Mrs. Shores Monday morning said the woman, who had been shot in the abdomen, suffered blows to the head that would have caused death.

'PLANNED CHILD' — Shores said his mother "worshiped" Gina and that the girl was "a planned child."

He said neighbors told him he and two women and the little girl left their house about 11:30 p.m. April 16.

"It was unusual that they would go out that late at night," Shores said. "I don't know if they were forced to leave. I think they might have been tricked into leaving."

Shores, who is trying to get custody of the girl, said Gina told him last Thursday about the man and woman beating her mother.

He said the beating evidently occurred on the parking lot and that Gina told him, her mother was crying as she left the child in the car and told her to "get some rest."

"Gina said her mommy got in a car with a lady and a man," Shores said, "and something about a car bumping into a man and hurting him on the cement. But I don't know what that means."

Shores said he knew of no reason why his mother, on a leave of absence from her beauty shop job, should fear for her life.

"I feel that if she had felt fear I would have known it," he said.

Shores said his mother always called him three or four times a day and that he was supposed to eat dinner at her house the night of April 16. The meal was cancelled because of bad weather.

Trio Rescued By Shrimpers

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston doctor's family is smiling today. They were rescued Sunday after they had spent 24 hours in the Gulf of Mexico.

Dr. Shelton M. Turner, 59, his wife, Corine, and daughter, Wendy, 17, spent the time in life jackets after their 38-foot cabin cruiser, the Sea Lair, exploded and burned Saturday.

They were rescued by the shrimp boat, Captain Eddie, operated by Joe R. Salinas. They were treated for sunburn, exhaustion, rope burn and exposure. The doctor also had been stung by a man of war.

The Coast Guard estimated the family had drifted about 30 miles in the water. They were picked up eight miles southwest of Freeport. Their cruiser sank in 50 feet of water 10 miles west of the Buccaneer offshore oil and gas field.

Says Bates Lied To Cover Up Change In Liquor Laws

AUSTIN (AP) — In the angriest public confrontation of the legislature, Sen. A. R. Schwartz told his colleagues Monday that Sen. Jim Bates lied two years ago to cover up a major change in Texas' liquor laws.

"You're a damn liar—take it as you will," shouted Schwartz after Bates had turned his back on the Galveston senator.

"You wouldn't call me that away from the glare of the television cameras," said Bates, of Edinburg. "My reputation on this point is as good or better than yours. He doesn't have the guts to do it off the floor—and I hope he tries it."

Schwartz, 44, and Bates, 47, clashed earlier in the session over Bates' resolution asking an immediate pardon for Lt. William Calley Jr., who was convicted of slaying 22 civilians in South Vietnam.

WEST TEXAS DEALER — Schwartz, a fiery orator, claimed that Bates allegedly joined with two lobbyists—a lobbyist without a conscience—and a West Texas retail liquor dealer in passing a law which he said put 20 per cent of the retail dealers out of business.

Schwartz said Bates told him on the Senate floor in 1969 that a House amendment in a Senate bill made no major change although it actually required all liquor package stores to have separate entrances.

The Texas Supreme Court upheld an injunction March 24 against a businessman who sold liquor and groceries in the same building in Coleman without erecting a partition between the booze and food.

Schwartz tried Monday to introduce a bill which would allow those liquor dealers operating in the old way—without a separate entrance—before the 1969 law was enacted to continue operating.

But a 17-12 vote was not enough for Schwartz to introduce the bill. Bates voted against the proposal.

LOST HIS TONGUE? — Schwartz said Bates also killed a similar bill by Sen. Chet Brooks of Pasadena by putting the measure in a "deep-freeze subcommittee" of five senators who opposed the measure.

"Did you or did you not tell me the House made no substantive change in the law?" Schwartz yelled at Bates as Bates talked with senators in another part of the chamber.

"Has the senator from Hidalgo (county) lost his memory or lost his tongue?" Schwartz said. "It was subterfuge, perhaps fraud..."

Bates sat down at his desk but swung his swivel chair away from Schwartz and stared out the window. He has worn neck scarves rather than ties ever since an auto accident several years ago forced him to wear a brace for sometime.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you waste too much time just worrying about a problem, you accomplish very little, so toss it aside for now and tomorrow the right solution comes to you. Handle that big deal cleverly. An expert is very helpful.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Talk over that new project with a friend and then see about getting the financial backing you need for it. Forget social life in p.m., since little or nothing would come of it. Get a good night's rest.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have inspired ideas how to out new line into old projects that will make them successful instead of discouraging failures. Information from one overcast can be helpful. Work of a measured pace.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plans must be well worked out if you want to handle your responsibilities satisfactorily today. Don't rely on others since they are busy. Use your best judgment and all is fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Pay attention to the ideas of an associate and do not look for blowups. Get more for you than you have a right to expect. Get away from that argument brewing between two talkative people. Keep out of trouble.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Ideal day to attend to work that only you can handle properly and do so in a clever and imaginative way. Expressing some particular talent you have is also good. Derive much pleasure or profit, or both, from this.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) A romantic interest has some rather strange ideas today, so smile them away and do not break up the relationship. Tomorrow they will be forgotten. Get out and buy that new wardrobe you want.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You had better cooperate with what faculty has in mind or you can certainly be the loser, as well as they. Riding yourself of the cause of tensions of home is wise. Show that you have a cheerful attitude.

Federal Standard May Prevail

The 62nd Legislature obviously has many important matters to consider. It must somehow enact monumental taxing and spending bills. It must deal with congressional and legislative redistricting.

There is one important area, though, in which legislators have failed to act with any enthusiasm: insurance reform. Mainly lip service has been given to the public complaint against the steadily rising insurance rates, or the difficulty in obtaining insurance at all.

Only two matters of significance have reached the legislative stage. One is the creation of an insurance company pool to provide high-risk coverage for tornado and hurricane damage — presumably at substantially higher rates than at present. The other is a measure which would establish the concept of comparative negligence, whereby partial negligence in an automobile accident would not prevent collection on an insurance claim.

The Legislature simply has not come to grips with the most revolutionary casualty insurance issue of the '70s: No-fault insurance. Under this proposal, injured parties would be compensated automatically up to certain limits for injuries suffered in an accident, irrespective of who was at fault. Sen. Philip A. Hart of Michigan and Warren G. Magnuson of Washington are the chief sponsors of no-fault insurance in Congress. No one seems to know just what this concept will do to premiums.

The comparative-negligence approach in the Texas Legislature is a forward step, but it cannot compete with the concept of no-fault. Thus, as has happened so often in the past, the federal government through Congress may soon impose a standard of insurance on the states that legislators either are unable or unwilling to impose. The claim of states' rights unaccompanied by states' responsibilities continues to be an exercise in futility.

Philanthropy Holds Own

Philanthropy by individuals, like nearly everything else in America, expanded last year by 5.2 per cent, matching the rate of inflation.

The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel estimated gifts from persons to causes at $14.3 billion, or 78 per cent of the $18.3 billion that went to philanthropy in 1970. Religious causes got most of the money (45.2 per cent). Education, health services and hospitals, and the arts followed in that order.

Foundations gave away $1.7 billion and corporations gave $900 million.

American tax law encourages philanthropy but it took a turn against tax dodging foundations last year, too. The new law will doubtless encourage changes in foundation performance. A few small ones are putting the assets into colleges or hospitals because changes in the law make it practical to do so.

Clay And War

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Supreme Court Justice Potter Stewart has always seemed to me to be a sensible man as well as a legal expert, but I can only conclude his mind was wandering the other day when he sought to explain Cassius Clay's defense against a conviction for dodging the draft.

CLAY, WHO fights viciously under the Nom De Guerre of Muhammad Ali, claims he is exempt from the draft because of his Black Muslim faith. This permits him to refuse to bear arms in all wars except those fought to defend Muslim beliefs. The law, of course, says that conscientious objection must be based on religious opposition to war in any form.

Yet we had Justice Stewart deposing at Clay's hearing before the highest bench that he understood Clay's exception to resemble a Christian's assertion that he would "fight for the defense of the Episcopal Church," an assertion Stewart said would not discredit an objection to war in any form.

I MEAN, good night nurse! If Potter Stewart was serious, which I find virtually impossible to believe, he was saying that we all can claim CO status if we are so inclined. It is not necessary to put down Episcopalians to argue that if they are permitted to pass up the ordinary, garden-variety of war, the same right should be allotted to the Roman Catholics, upon command of the Pope. How about the Methodists, Mr. Justice? How, for that matter, about the Baptists, Lutherans, Jews and Seventh Day Adventists?

INDEED, a Supreme Court decision last year broadened the interpretation of the law by ruling that ethical and public policy factors can enter the determination of opposition to fighting on religious grounds. Were that decision to be taken literally, a Republican could find it unethical to fight a war declared by a Democratic President. Public policy, you know. Would a member of the Elks be exempt from bearing arms because the Moose hierarchy endorsed a war against, say, Canada?

I DON'T blame Clay for fighting this case because he has been sentenced to five years in pokey and fined $10,000 for refusing to be inducted. But his argument flies in the face of another Supreme Court decision which explicitly denied the right of a conscientious objector to be selective about the wars to which he is opposed.

Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold pointed this out when he noted that Clay's objection left him free to refuse to fight a "white man's war," but to take up arms if commanded by his spiritual leader, Elijah Muhammad. Clay's lawyer, Chauncey Eskridge, agreed. He argued that Black Muslims are genuinely opposed to all wars except a theoretical war involving an attack on those who hold Muslim beliefs.

DESPITE THE incongruity of his arguments, Clay may have a point, to wit, that Americans could not be killed fighting wars if we all refused to serve, for one reason or another. But history forces me to reject that thesis until such time as all the peoples of the world, especially including those trapped in Fascist and Communist states, also decline to bear arms — and make it stick.

Shortage Of Shelter

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the most encouraging economic developments in recent weeks has been the rate at which new housing is beginning to rise, after a depression that has left a critical shortage of decent shelter.

The pace of private housing starts is now believed to be approaching 2 million a year—it was 1,918,000 in March—and by all logic should continue growing, now that mortgage money is available again.

Lewis Eaton, president of the U.S. Savings & Loan League, comments that reports from all over the country show "you'd have to go back to pre-inflation years" to find financing opportunities comparable with those of today.

But there is also reason to be concerned. First, it is estimated that the pace of new construction will have to reach 2.6 million units a year before the nation can begin making headway against the shortage.

Second, the price of new units being erected is rising faster than the incomes of those who wish and need to buy. The same is true for single family dwellings as for rental units. "If a family earning $15,000 a year is to be categorized as affluent," says Louis E. Fischer, president of Levitt & Sons, Inc., one of the nation's largest builders of single family homes, "then a very small percentage of American families will be owning their own homes in the next few years if rising costs continue."

Years ago, Fischer told a recent meeting of the Conference Board, a family earning that amount could consider itself well off and be able to afford a second home and a maid.

"Today $15,000 qualifies a family for only a $30,000 home—and this home is usually 30 miles away from a large downtown metropolitan area, is limited to three bedrooms, one bath, one garage, no air conditioning or basement, and on a 90-foot by 100-foot plot."

How can builders provide homes for $15,000 incomes, he asks, when a home that cost $24,000 in 1963 rose to $33,500 in 1970?

Prospects hardly seem to be improving either. "Based on the rising cost of living, this

The Upward Spiral

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — Reading the economic tea leaves, an indoor sport ranking considerably below table tennis and just above mumblety peg, is a chancy business these days. The specialists in the dismal science are divided over whether the trend is up or down.

THE LATEST report showing a record upward bound in the gross national product for the first quarter of this year, breaking the trillion-dollar barrier for the first time, is hailed by the Administration as proof of the beginning of the end of the slowdown. But economists on the outside, for the most part, take a different view. Pointing out that much of the rise resulted from stepped-up auto buying with the end of the General Motors strike, they say this will not happen again and the economy will continue sluggish.

THE PRINCIPAL optimist is Presidential counselor George P. Shultz. Shultz has a special assistant for economics, Arthur Laffer, who worked out an economic game plan called an econometric model. The model incorporates a rule of thumb — a one per cent increase in the money supply will be matched by a comparable increase in the gross national product.

But in their white marble palace on Constitution Avenue the governors of the Federal Reserve Board take quite another view of the Laffer model. Their critical report is being sent to the Joint Economic Committee of Congress. It notes that while the increase in the money supply in 1969 was 5 1/2 per cent the GNP for that year actually declined.

CHAIRMAN ARTHUR S. Burns, who presides over the Fed, is a long-time friend of President Nixon. But he has made no secret in recent months of his conviction that far more must be done if inflation is to be halted and unemployment checked. The combination of continuing price increases with unemployment at six per cent along with the high percentage of jobless in the ghettos makes for a situation requiring more than mere palliatives, as Burns sees it.

IN A SPEECH last December in Los Angeles he suggested the need for a high-level price and wage review board. While lacking enforcement power it would have broad authority to investigate, advise and recommend on price and wage changes.

Official statistics show the rate of inflation declining. But each day's headlines seem to belie this. The Civil Aeronautics Board authorized a six per cent increase in air fares, with another three per cent increase anticipated for the fall.

MILLIONS OF average-income householders are being cruelly squeezed by rising taxes and higher prices. The answer in many instances is moonlighting or a household in which both husband and wife work. But the recession has meant a sharp falling off of opportunity. Every time the weekly grocery bill jumps 40 or 50 cents the housewife knows what inflation means.

Child In Trouble

Around The Rim

Jo-Bright

Most any morning, the mail brings interesting things: notes, comments, clippings, bits and pieces of articles, odds and ends of information.

BUT, OCCASIONALLY, the mail brings memorable things.

Last week, it was a letter from a parent who, only a short time ago, "had crushing fears for my child, and was so grateful later for deliverance." The writer showed concern and compassion for all young people who, in confusion, have made a wrong turn on the road to maturity. Included was an excerpt from a new book, "Who Am I, God?"

I'D LIKE to share it with you.

"Child In Trouble"

My child is in trouble, deep trouble, God. I come to you weak and limp from sheer alarm. I fall to my knees before you.

I am almost too dumb with disbelief to articulate this problem. You know the details all too well, and so I shall spare myself and you a wild recital.

BUT, OH, dear God in heaven and upon this earth, please support me in this hour of trial. And support my child.

Lift us up, get us back on our feet. Don't abandon us, don't let us lose our common sense, or our faith in you.

What has happened can wreck many lives if we go to pieces and forget that you are standing by, ready to guide us if we let you.

READY TO comfort us. Ready to help us through the difficult hours that lie ahead.

You, who are in the very breath and substance of each of us, including the tragedy of this child; let us feel your presence.

FILL US WITH your peace, your assurance of a right solution.

Let us feel that blessed presence now, and trust in your love, which will see us through this deep trouble with our child.

Polled To Death

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The world will not end with a bang or a whimper. It will probably end with a poll. Americans are being polled to death at the moment and you can't leave your house without someone asking how you feel about something.

The other day I had to fly up to New York. As I adjusted my seat and got ready to go, the stewardess handed me a questionnaire. "Would you mind filling this out for our airline?" I looked at the questions. "Are you happy with our service?" "How many drinks did you buy?" "What is your color preference you choose to fly this airline?"

I DUTIFULLY filled out the questionnaire and went to my hotel. After checking into the room I found a questionnaire on the nightstand.

"The questionnaire would be grateful if you will fill out the following: Did you find the room made up when you checked in? Were there enough towels in the bathroom? Wash cloths? How often do you plan to take a bath during your stay?" And so on and so forth.

I canceled my lunch so I could fill out the questionnaire. After turning it over to the manager I went out to hail a taxi. A pretty girl in a mini skirt with a clipboard came up and said, "Would you answer a few questions for a survey our company is doing on New York tourism?"

"I'M VERY LATE," I pleaded. "It will only take a moment. How long have you been waiting for a taxi?"

"Just a few moments. There's one," I said.

"Please, sir, I still have some questions to ask you."

"Hurry," I pleaded. "Why did you come to New York?" "For meetings," I said anxiously. "Then not for pleasure?"

"WELL, I'M hoping to get some pleasure in, but I can't until I find out what they tell me at the meetings. There goes another taxi."

She stopped me from hailing it and continued, "What irks you the most about New York City?"

"Being polled while I'm trying to hail a taxi."

I finally got rid of her, but there were no taxis in sight so I had to walk to my appointment. Ten blocks later I was stopped by a man with a briefcase who said, "I beg your pardon, but could you tell me if you think Mayor Lindsay is doing better, doing worse or holding his own in New York City?"

"I DON'T KNOW. I'm a stranger here. I live in Washington."

"Washington?" He took another poll out of his briefcase. "Do you think President Nixon is doing better, doing worse or holding his own?"

I started to run down the street and he followed me so I sought sanctuary in a church on Fifth Avenue.

THE SERVICE had just finished and a minister handed me a mimeographed sheet of paper which said "In order to make our afternoon services more relevant would you kindly tell us whether you were: (A) Emotionally involved, (B) Spiritually fulfilled, (C) Satisfied with the musical number selected by our organist, (D) Did you have a good view of the altar?"

I filled it out and left. The man with the briefcase was standing in front of the church. "How about giving me your thoughts on hot pants?"

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a high school student, and troubled by temptation to cheat in school work. I am active in church and know this is wrong for a Christian. Can you help me?

Cheating is a combination of stealing and lying, which comprises two of the worst sins we can commit. I would never trust anyone who cheated in school.

However, I wish that every student who cheats would be as conscious of the wrong as you are. Already you have the battle half won because you admit that the practice is wrong, and also that you need help. Until we see the wrong in our conduct, and realize that we need help, there is no opportunity for God to help. The mistake that is most commonly made is that we do not realize that we need God's help continually. The next time you go to take an exam, enter the room recognizing that this is your weakness. Confess it to the Lord and ask His help every minute of the time to keep you from this evil. You will get a victory, not by self-determination, but by a recognition of your weakness and your need of His help. The Apostle Paul once said, "When I am weak, then I am strong," for the Lord had said, My strength is made perfect in weakness." You can apply this lesson to every situation where you recognize your failure.

A Devotion For Today...

All power is given unto me in heaven and in earth. (Matthew 28:18)

PRAYER: Father, we thank Thee for the Lord Jesus Christ and for his glorious resurrection from the dead. We thank Thee for His name. Amen.

Strong Support For Young Voters

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas House members debated a proposed constitutional change giving 18-year-olds the vote today and quickly indicated the measure had strong support.

A mistake was made in the calendar heading for the proposal, but the House voted 106-35 to take it up anyway. Only 100 votes were needed to send the measure to the Senate.

TO THE PEOPLE
The measure, once approved

RODNEY HAMMACK

Forsan Boy Is In Finals

FORSAN — Rodney Hammack will represent Forsan in the University Interscholastic League finals in Austin, having won first place in feature writing in the journalism division.

He also placed fourth in editorial writing in the region, but only first places qualify for the state meet.

Among others who placed in the regional contests were: Tinker Bailey, medalist and second in the golf division; Marcy Faught, second in prose reading; Tommy Rodman, third in persuasive speaking; Debra Fryar, third in informative speaking; Linda Fletcher, eighth in science.

by two-thirds of both houses of the legislature would go to the people for a vote this November. It would enable 18-year-olds to vote in all state or local elections. They already can vote in elections for national offices.

The Senate State Affairs Committee approved and sent to the floor for debate a $658.3 million tax bill, written as a substitute for the $524 million revenue measure approved by the House.

Like the House bill, the measure consists chiefly of taxes on individual consumers, despite some senators' complaints that the House bill was too light on business corporations.

The Senate bill, which probably will be debated Wednesday, falls some $35.7 million short of the $694 million needed to balance the Senate version of the state budget for the next two years.

TAXES, TAXES

Many consider the committee bill merely a vehicle and believe the final Senate bill will be written with floor amendments, which might include a corporation income tax.

Individual items in the committee's bill are a sales tax increase from 3.25 to 4 per cent $98.6 million; a motor vehicle sales tax increase from 3 to 4 per cent, $79.4 million; a three cents per pack cigarette tax increase, $46.7 million; a beer tax increase from $4.30 to $6 per barrel, $23.7 million; a two cents per gallon gasoline tax increase, $102.1 million; and a $1.25 per $1,000 of assets boost in the corporate franchise tax, $102.6 million.

In floor action Monday, senators passed and sent to the House a bill raising workmen's compensation benefits from $49 to $56 a week.

Also sent to the House was a bill allowing counties with more than 700,000 people to place liens on property to pay for water and sewage facilities.

Glasscock School To Start Aug. 16

GARDEN CITY — Trustees of the Glasscock County Independent School District recently reorganized their board and determined the starting date for the 1971-72 school year.

Charlie Smith was named board president; J. C. Newell, vice president; and Marck Schafer, secretary.

The first day of classes will be Aug. 16, 1971. Teacher inservice will be Aug. 9-12; and high school students will register Aug. 12-13.

Winn Talley, superintendent, said the school system has three vacancies for the coming year. Needed personnel include a high school history teacher, high school coach and second grade teacher.

THEFTS

R. B. Talley, 1201 Pennsylvania, reported Monday a burglary in his house in which a wrist watch valued at $125 was taken.

Charles Madry, 1206 Wood, reported Monday the theft of some tools from his home. The tools were valued at $280.

VANDALISM

A vandalism was reported at Christensen's Boot Shop early Tuesday as one of the windows in the front of the shop was broken. Value of the window was $55.

COCAINE GIG GAME

'You Don't Destroy The Mafia's Property'

DALLAS (AP) — A verdict was expected today from the 10-man two-woman jury trying the cocaine conspiracy case in which a Panamanian air traffic controller and two Texans are accused of smuggling the drug here from South America.

A fourth man was acquitted on the third day of the trial, and a fifth—Nicanor Aguilar-Vera, a Chilean—had his case severed from the others.

Those who, if found guilty, could draw sentences up to 20 years or a $20,000 fine on each count in the five-count indictment are Joaquin Him Gonzalez, 42, the Panamanian, Robert L. Robertson, 48, former head of a Dallas aircraft firm, who is alleged to have supplied planes for running the dope, and James D. Vicars, 42, of Hurst, Tex.

'SEND ME TO PRISON'
The case has been marked by dramatic incidents throughout six days in federal court.

Robertson once leaped off the stand and shouted at Judge Sarah T. Hughes: "Go ahead, send me to prison."

The judge ordered him back to the stand. Yesterday Robertson caused a disturbance at the county jail and his appearance in court was postponed for three hours, while a psychiatrist examined him. When he did appear, in handcuffs, he muttered wildly to himself and finally had to be removed.

He was not present during the final testimony, nor when Judge Hughes charged the jury.

There was a final moment of drama when Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Cecil Emerson stood in front of the jury, a pink plastic bag containing several thousand dollars worth of cocaine in his hand, and pleaded with them as family men and women:

DON'T GIVE A HOOT

"Please help us do something to fight this trade."

Emerson said of the accused: "They don't give a hoot. They don't care who gets this. What children, what poor people who shoot this stuff into their veins. They're just saving their hides, that's all they're doing."

Emerson claimed the evidence in the case was overwhelming and the accused are "guilty beyond any doubt."

"These are not street corner peddlers of marijuana," he said. "This is the big game. Now is your opportunity to find these people guilty — and they are guilty."

Robertson was said to have been terrified of Mafia vengeance when he found a suitcase of cocaine on his hands.

"What could he do?" asked his attorney, Walter Woodman. "You don't destroy the Mafia's property."

CHEATED, LIED

James McNees argued that Him Gonzalez had never sold cocaine. All he did was give a sample to Ronald Watkins, the informer who tipped off narcotics agents, because Watkins had been badgering him for it. Larry Parness, in an impassioned plea for Vicars, leveled his main attack at Watkins of whom he said:

"Ronald Watkins is an admitted actor, he has acted all his life, he is an admitted teller of lies, he's done it all his life... he cheated and lied and went to prison. And he admits it. And he is the whole government case against J. D. (Vicars)."

PERFECT MOTHER'S DAY GIFT IDEAS
... to be found at Inland Port 213, beautiful china and glassware

IMPORT A MOTHER'S DAY GIFT
Inland 213 Has The Best

Make this Mother's Day one to remember for that favorite mom of yours by giving her a gift from Inland Port 213, the simple answer to shopping problems, featuring unusual gifts from the corners of the globe.

Roy Peet, owner, has assembled a collection of different ideas in home decor from coast-to-coast in the United States and from Europe, Asia, and Latin America.

From Knowlton Originals in California, there are beautiful flower and butterfly arrangements sealed in vacuum for timeless beauty. Real flowers, dried by a hot sand method to keep their color, defy the changing seasons inside a crystal compote.

Collections of hand-painted china and pottery are now on display, including the artichoke pattern from Salerno, Italy, the Acapulco pattern from Luxembourg, and modern oven-to-table-ware by Mikasa from Japan.

Besides the 14-carat gold-sculptured ming trees encrusted with leaves of jade or semi-precious stones, Inland Port now has similarly designed pins and earrings.

There are jewelry boxes that play the two new tunes added by Swiss craftsmen in the last 90 years: "Lara's Theme" from Dr. Zhivago and "Moon River" from Breakfast at Tiffany's.

Inland Port's menagerie of large china lions and tigers came from Italy, and the "Hummel" figurines came from West Germany, along with fine miniature clocks and children's penny banks.

Incense burners from India are of brass and painted pottery. Fine crystal is there from France, Belgium, Italy and Australia.

Peet has expanded his selection of gifts for men, such as unusual decanter bottles and bar sets, leather goods, imported hand-tooled cuff-link boxes and grooming sets.

Perfect for lady or gentleman are the "4711" colognes and perfumes imported from Cologne, Germany, where fragrance is a tradition.

Imported gourmet foods from fondue ingredients to jellies make especially welcome gifts on Mother's Day. Inland Port also has chocolate and unusual snacks.

You can find brass from Italy, the Netherlands, Japan, Korea and England; pewter from Spain; and Mexican carved and polished balsa bowls.

Travel as far as the back of the store and you will find the famous Filipino Monkeypod wood carvings.

A Village Store display features soaps and bath oils in 32 fragrances, as well as elegant bath towels. Across the room there are the decoratively useful Early American pieces, including a handmade miniature logging sled with intricate harness work.

Unusual is indeed the catchword for the weary shopper, and Roy Peet has provided a safe cove, the Gold Anchor Room, supplied with fresh, hot coffee. Stop in and stay awhile at Inland Port, 213 Main.

Let Blue Lustre Lessen Spring Cleaning Load

While everyone else eagerly looks forward to the warm, sunny weather that spring brings, the housewife just mutters a wary "So What?"

To the housewife, spring means gleaming furniture, polished floors, fresh flowers on the table and the knowledge that everything is clean. It also means the bruised knees, broken fingernails and aching backs that are common to get everything clean.

Blue Lustre Carpet and Upholstery shampoo won't make spring cleaning a complete snap, but it will certainly help the busy housewife shorten her chores considerably.

Nothing else looks right against a background of dingy, faded carpeting. Blue Lustre shampoo can bring the total look of beauty to your home.

Give your carpets a real beauty treatment. Bring back the original brilliance of the colors and the springiness to the nap. Housewives everywhere are raving about the wonderful new look that Blue Lustre brings to their carpets and upholstery.

Waxing floors and polishing furniture and windows is all part of the spring-cleaning procedure, and until families can be persuaded to remove their shoes in the Japanese style, before entering the house, tracked in dirt will continue to be a problem for American housewives.

The Blue Lustre shampoo machine is light weight, easy to use and easy to carry. The twin brush foaming action brushes dirt to the surface where it is held in suspension until it is vacuumed away when the carpet is dry after shampooing.

Blue Lustre is available at Big Spring Hardware, as is the machine.

Shriners Conclave Set This Weekend

More than 500 Shriners and their wives will meet here Saturday at the Suez Temple Spring Ceremonial, according to Joseph W. Burrell of Midland, illustrious potentate of the Temple.

Members will attend from Midland, San Angelo, Abilene, Brownwood, Sweetwater and Big Spring, as well as from about 20 other towns in the 31-county area served by Suez Temple. Other Shriners are expected from neighboring Temples in Texas. The Shrine Club House at 101 South Goliad is to be Ceremonial headquarters.

The meeting has been dedicated to Ted O. Groehl, Big Spring, former Potentate of Suez Temple, and a long-time member of the committee on oil properties of the Imperial Council of the Shrine of North America. This committee has charge of oil properties bequeathed to the Shrine, the income of which is used in support of the Shrine's charities, the 19 crippled children's hospitals and the three Burns Institutes.

A full schedule of activities will occupy Shriners who attend, including business meetings, new member initiations, and a downtown parade at 11 a.m.

Social affairs include a ladies luncheon at the Big Spring Country Club, afternoon bridge at Holiday Inn, and a Ceremonial dance and breakfast at Cosden Country Club.

Advance activities begin Friday for early arrivals, including a golf tournament, and an evening hospitality hour at the Shrine Club House.

Two Arrested For Burglary

Gomesindo Diaz Jr., and Antonio Martinez Rivera, who police said were arrested inside the Gulf station at IS 20 and SH 350, Tuesday morning were charged with burglary. The charges were filed in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's court. Bond was not set.

Police received reports that some subjects were trying to break into the station and upon arriving at the scene arrested the two.

Burglary Charge Filed Monday

Martin Diaz, 17, and a juvenile were arrested Monday, and Diaz was charged with burglary in Justice Walter Grice's court. The juvenile was arrested in Midland by local police.

The charges are in connection with the recent burglaries of Christensen's Boot Shop and White's Auto Store.

Parental Notice Not Necessary

Teenagers may now be treated for drug problems by a physician without having their parents notified, according to State Representative Mike Moncrief. A new law passed in the Texas Legislature allows a physician to treat any individual 13 or older without notifying his parents. Many young people have hesitated to seek treatment because of their concern that their doctors would notify their parents, according to Moncrief.

Billie Sol Estes Coming Home To Abilene July 12

PECOS, Tex. (AP) — Many of the residents of this small West Texas town where Billie Sol Estes made his first million, would welcome him back.

Estes, who built a paper empire on the sale of nonexistent anhydrous ammonia fertilizer tanks, was paroled Monday after serving six years of a 15-year sentence for mail fraud and conspiracy.

TOO MUCH BLAME
He arrived here in 1951 and within two years had grown to national prominence. He was named one of the Jaycees' 10 Outstanding Young Men in 1953. Those commenting did not condone his actions but many believed he took too much of the blame himself.

Joe Stafford, a member of the Church of Christ where Estes attended, said he would be glad to see Estes return to Pecos. Stafford said Estes, unknown to most others, had helped many under-privileged people in the community.

Ray McPherson, a former Pecos banker said "I'm glad he's going to be turned loose. Much of the town was and is sympathetic. They seem to feel he was paying the price for others besides himself."
McPherson said many tried to blame Estes for the economic slump on Pecos during the 1960s. But McPherson said it "was just poor farming and poor crops."

Bill Hubbs, owner of Pecos Radio Station KIUN, said he was pleased to see the parole. Hubbs said the town was hurt by the investigation and conviction of Estes but the effects have worn off. In a two-sided comment often voiced here, Hubbs said, "Of course he helped a lot of the little people, but he broke a lot of good people."

J. F. Pattee, bookkeeping supervisor for Verhalen Mercantile Co. when it was controlled by stock ownership by the Estes brothers voiced an emphatic "no comment" when asked his comment on Monday's decision.

FAMILY OVERJOYED
Estes, 46, will live in Abilene when he leaves La Tuna Federal Correctional Institute July 12 and work on his brothers' farm. Members of Estes family were overjoyed and surprised by the decision to grant the parole, which was turned down 15 months ago.

"I was very pleased and happy with the decision," Mrs. Estes said in Washington Monday night.

Estes' 18-year-old daughter Dawn, a freshman at Abilene Christian College, said she was just happy when her mother called to tell her the news.

"I'm so excited," she said. "Mother called me a few minutes ago and she was crying so hard."
HE DESERVED IT
Dawn said she didn't expect the board to grant the parole. "I expected it last year, but not this year," she said.

Mrs. Walter Tedford, the former Pam Estes and oldest Estes daughter, said her mother was "very, very happy" when she called to tell the news.

"She felt he deserved it a long time ago," Mrs. Tedford said. Mrs. Tedford said she thought it was "very unjust the last time when they didn't let him out."

Estes' brother Word Estes declined any comment. He said the family already had received too much publicity and he preferred just not to talk.

La Tuna Warden W. E. Zachen denied permission for Estes to speak with newsmen but said he believed Estes' reaction was one of real pleasure and joy.

Five Of Six Cops Resign

BALCH SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Five of the six policemen of this Dallas suburb resigned during a stormy City Council meeting Monday night.

The resignations followed charges by the officers of political meddling in police affairs by the council during the week-end.

Mayor L. D. Renfro requested help at once from Sheriff Clarence Jones.

The officers who resigned accused the controlling faction of the council of impeding police activities, and blamed them for lack of manpower, poor pay and working conditions and for injecting political pressure into the department.

Councilman said the charges were untrue.

Patrolman Jeff Hickman, recovering from a beating administered by a motorist he stopped last week, said he would remain on the force because of financial reasons.

Erwin Promises Written Replies

AUSTIN (AP)—Frank Erwin Jr. of the University of Texas regents has promised a special Senate subcommittee he will submit by Friday written answers to numerous allegations concerning the remodeling of a home for the university chancellor.

Erwin told the subcommittee Monday he would appear next Monday, if it wished, to expand on the written replies.

The Legal Research Project, a group of law students, questioned last month the possibility that state funds may have been used without state authority in reconstructing the Bauer House.

Publicity over the repairs and the anonymous donor of the $600,000 caused the regents to return the gift after Erwin refused to reveal the donor.

Lamesa Sets Lawn Clinic

LAMESA — The agricultural committee of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce and the Texas A&M Extension Service will sponsor a lawn and garden clinic May 5 in Forrest Park Community Center.

The program will be designed specifically for area residents and will focus on the care and production of flowers, shrubs and other landscape subjects. This year a special section on antiques and outdoor furniture as they fit the scheme of things will be of special interest.

Authorities from various fields of horticulture will be present to convey new ideas and answer questions on gardening problems. Speakers will include Jim Valentine, area extension chemist; Dr. Robert Berry, plant pathologist; Dr. Bill Clymer, area entomologist; and Everett Janne, floriculturist. This is the second such affair held here.

clarer in again to trump a second club.

The ace of spades was cashed, followed by a spade ruff and South played the king and queen of hearts to pull East's remaining trumps. Declarer now had eight tricks in—two spades, two club ruffs and four hearts in his own hand. At trick 10 he led his last heart—the seven. At this point, the dummy retained the nine of spades and the A-K-10 of diamonds while West was left with the queen of spades and the Q-J-7 of diamonds.

The bidding:

Pass 4 ♥ Pass 5 ♦
Pass 5 ♠ Pass 6 ♥

Opening lead: Four of ♣
A fantastic swing resulted when today's hand was dealt in a recent team-of-four contest. The final contract at both tables was six hearts doubled with South as the declarer.

West was called on to make a discard on the seven of hearts. If he threw a diamond, North would take the last three tricks in that suit. If he discarded his high spade however, it would establish dummy's nine for the fulfilling trick. The doubled slam contract netted declarer a 1,600 point profit.

At the other table, six hearts was reached on a different sequence, after East had opened the bidding with one club and West had bid spades, East doubled to steer his partner away from a club lead, but West ignored the double and led a club anyway.

South ruffed in dummy and fearing that East was void in spades, he attempted to cash the king of diamonds. East ruffed and in the subsequent play, declarer proceeded to lose control of the hand and wound up going down four tricks for an 1,100 point deficit. The total swing on the deal to the winning team was 2,700 points.

South could have made his slam at the second table by returning to his hand with the king of spades to lead the nine of diamonds intending to let East ruff that card. Whether or not West covers the nine, there is no counter-measure the defense takes. By ruffing two clubs in dummy, declarer can develop the same end position as his counterpart at the other table and thereby produce a stand-off on the deal.

South reasoned that his partner was not apt to have doubled without some tolerance for the majors, so he rebid his hearts. This was all North needed to hear and he proceeded to six hearts. East doubled, which is a conventional call requesting partner to lead the first suit bid by dummy. It was East's intention to ruff a diamond and then cash a club trick.

West dutifully opened the four of diamonds. South had heard his opponent's double and reasoning that East was void in that suit, he played the deuce of diamonds from dummy. East ruffed and returned a trump. South put up the jack of hearts and ruffed a club in dummy. A spade to the king put de-

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently met a very attractive man I would like very much to see more often. He lives in Manhattan and I live about 60 miles out in Long Island. He doesn't own a car, but I do. He has told me he would like to date me more often, but he can't see himself taking the Long Island Railroad back to Manhattan in the wee hours of the morning after seeing me home. This I can understand.

He suggested that we enjoy the evening together in Manhattan, where he will provide suitable overnight lodging for me, and the next day he will take me home. I am 25 and he is 28. I am interested in your ideas on how this situation could be improved.

ANXIOUS DEAR ANXIOUS: If you live on Long Island and work on Long Island, you're a dead Long Island duck unless you get a job in Manhattan and live there!

DEAR ABBY: Several years ago my husband had an affair with another woman. It lasted about a year. I found out about it and forgave him on the promise that he would be faithful to me from that day on. Things have been going smoothly since then and I'm sure he is keeping his promise, but I am going out of my mind trying to figure out who the woman was. I keep thinking it was this one and that one, but I have no way of really knowing. I have begged my husband to tell me who she was. I even promised I would never say a word to her. My curiosity is killing me. My husband says he will not tell me so I should stop asking him. Don't you think he should tell me? STILL GUESSING

DEAR BRIDE: I can think of no occasion which should bring joy, but instead creates more hard feelings than a wedding! I agree. It's your wedding and you should be allowed to do as you please. If parents would let their marrying children plan their own weddings, they would cost less and mean more.

DEAR ABBY: I noted in your column the pros and cons of going braless. A few weeks ago I saw a small item in the newspaper, which may help to settle the matter. It read as follows: If a woman is not certain whether or not she should go braless, she should place a pencil under her bosom. If the pencil stays there she should wear a bra.

I would sign my name but my wife still has my pencil. SEATTLE READER

Double Kidney

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain about a "double kidney?" The doctor told me, after some X rays, that I have this. I have had kidney stone attacks and infection but never knew until now about a double kidney, although I've been told that some people are born this way. I am 77 but in fairly good health.—H.G.

After 77 years, there's no point in starting to worry about having been born this way. A "double kidney" is not common, but more unusual abnormalities than that are on record. As many as six kidneys have been found in one person! "Double kidney" can mean different things. You may have two kidneys on one side instead of one, or you may have one kidney with a double outlet emptying it.

Granted these abnormalities may result in kidney troubles, but very often the kidneys function normally. Evidently in your case, you got along very well with your double kidney for years. About 4 per cent of patients who require X-ray studies for urinary troubles are found to have one type or another of double kidney.

Depending on the type of abnormality, therefore, there is some tendency toward such complications as infection, stones, or faulty drainage, and you will, naturally, want your doctor to keep watch over the situation.

I suggest that you get 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for my booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble." Send request to me in care of The Herald. It describes the different sources of sinus trouble and the way to combat them, as well as some things not to do.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Without knowing more about your particular case, I certainly can't advise any particular type of treatment. You must start with determining what type of nasal or sinus trouble you have. Once you've done that, your chances of getting relief suddenly become pretty good.

Seven Walker Cuppers Are Still In Meet

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — As expected the spotlight was focused on Canadian Gary Cowan, the defending champion, and seven members of the U.S. Walker Cup team who won opening round matches in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament Monday.

However, true to the tradition of the game, an outsider has served notice on the youngsters that the veterans should not be held lightly.

Ray Kimpel, a 46-year-old lawyer from Urbana, Ill., accomplished the day's No. 1 upset by shooting even par in a 3 and 2 victory of Jim Simons, a cup team player from Butler, Pa., and Wake Forest University sophomore.

Kimpel has played here about a half-dozen times previously but never survived beyond the third round.

Before he left for the Pinehurst Country Club to meet Simons, Kimpel and his wife, Betsy, packed their clothes and checked out of their hotel. But they didn't mind having to unpack and Betsy crowed, "I'm going to pack our things again in the morning. I wouldn't mind unpacking every day."

Jim Mayer of Bedford, N.Y., was Kimpel's opponent on today's 32-match second round schedule.

While Simons was losing, seven other members of the U.S. Cup team won. The team plays the British next month at St. Andrews in Scotland.

The fastest, sharpest job was turned in by Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla., who was six under par in a 9 and 8 runaway over H.G. Young of Newark, Del.

Miller was in the third quarter of the draw, along with cup teammates Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., and Steve Melnyk of Jacksonville.

The husky Floridian was one over par as he scored a 5 and 4 victory over Loge Jackson, a Wake Forest player from Roxboro, N.C. It was the first look at the 7,000-yard No. 2 course for Melnyk, who arrived in Pinehurst late Sunday night after competing in a California member-guest tournament.

Cowan was in the first quarter along with such contenders as Dale Morey of High Point, N.C.; last year's runner-up, cup player Vinny Giles of Richmond, Va., and Jack Voghte of Clearwater, Fla.

Stars Face Pacers In Deciding Game

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Utah Stars face the Indiana Pacers Wednesday night and 11,000 roaring Indiana fans in the seventh and decisive game of the American Basketball Association West Division play-off.

It took 4½ hours Monday for the Pacers ticket office to sell 9,147 tickets and after a sellout statement by the ticket manager standing room tickets priced at $1 were put on sale. About $1,000 standing room tickets were sold before the office closed Monday, the first day for ticket sales for the final game of the series.

The defending ABA champion Pacers have come back from the brink of disaster. Down by 3 games to one, the Pacers have won the last two contests to even the series 3-3.

Indiana evened the series Saturday night with a 105-102 triumph over the Utah team in Salt Lake City.

Friede had to be a major motivating factor in Saturday's victory, but Pacer coach Bob Leonard added a psychological boost.

Before the game Leonard had his trainer, Dave Craig tape a dollar bill to the bottom of the chair of each player in the dressing room.

When the team gathered together, Leonard told them to look under their chairs and said, "If you expect to earn any money, you can't sit on your fanny."

He then told the Pacers their individual shares for winning the ABA championship might be worth $9,000 each.

His points were well taken. Hoosier fans believe the Pacers can make it three games in a row and take the championship.

They remember 1969 when the Pacers trailed Kentucky by a 3-1 margin and took the play-off series.

A victory Wednesday would put the Pacers into the ABA finals against the same Kentucky team.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Tigers, Cabots Register Wins

The Tigers got off to a flying start in Texas Little League play here Monday night, defeating the Indians, 12-8.

The Bengals counted six runs their final time at bat, then had to fight off a comeback on the part of the Tribe, which netted three runs.

Johnny Jones clubbed two home runs for the winners and received credit for the mound victory. In all, Jones collected four of his team's safeties.

Larry Duron, the losing flinger, smashed a round tripper for the Indians.

Outside of Jones, only Freddie Ramirez of the Indians had as many as two hits but Eddie Rodriguez scored three times for the Tribe.

The Sabres defeated the Talons, 9-7 in the inaugural International Little League game for both teams here Monday evening.

The Sabres got off to a good start, banking three in the first and three more in the second. It took a two-run fifth inning to nail down the verdict, however.

Robert Harper notched the pitching win.

In International Minor Little League play here Monday evening, the Ravens opened their season with a smashing 17-7 victory over the Falcons.

P. Neil, the winning pitcher, crashed out two hits. The Ravens succeeded in scoring in each of the four innings they went to bat. Neil fanned nine.

R. Myers also had two hits for the winners while B. Godwin banged out two blows for the Falcons. Russell Taylor was the losing hurler.

Bob Moore Named Coach At Snyder

SNYDER — Bob Moore, basketball coach at Phillips High School the past ten years, has been named to a similar position at Snyder High School.

During his decade at Phillips, Moore guided his teams to a 219-98 won-lost record. They won five district championships and tied for another.

He also coached at White Deer, where in two seasons his team won one district title.

Moore graduated from Texas A.M. He is married and is the father of four children.

The new mentor succeeds Ned Underwood, who resigned following last season but who is remaining in the Snyder school system.

Bovines Try To Hang On In 5-4A Baseball Race

Hanging by their fingernails in the District 5-AAAA baseball race, the Big Spring Steers venture to Midland today for a 4 p.m. struggle with Midland Lee.

The Steers are 1-2 in the second half race, having blanked Odessa Permian last Saturday, 4-0, after losing their first two starts.

The eyes of District 5-AAAA will be on Odessa, where the upstart Bronchos entertain Abilene High. The two teams are tied for first place in the race, each with 3-0 records.

Lee is still smarting from a 1-0 defeat suffered at the hands of Odessa last week. The Rebels are 2-1 in the pennant scramble and need a lot of help to win the second half championship.

Over-all, Lee is 16-6. Coach Ernie Johnson of Lee will send Roger Alexander to the mound. Oakey Hagood, the local mentor, will likely counter with David Carter. Alexander, who is only a junior, has won two and lost one against conference opponents. On the year, he is 3-2.

Starting behind Carter, in all likelihood, will be Pete Shaffer catching, Grady Ray at first

Astros Lose 4th In Row To Philadelphia, 2-1

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — An eighth-inning homer by the man who came to stay gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 2-1 victory Monday night over the Houston Astros.

The homer came from the bat of Willie Montanez and shattered the calm of a 1-1 deadlock as the Astros dropped their fourth straight game.

Montanez was one of two players the Phillies received in the ill-fated Curt Flood trade with the Cardinals.

"I made the club in spring training," said Willie. "I got it in my mind. I came ready. I think I've been ready for two years. I was in St. Louis and didn't get a chance, but here they have given me the opportunity to play. That's all I ask."

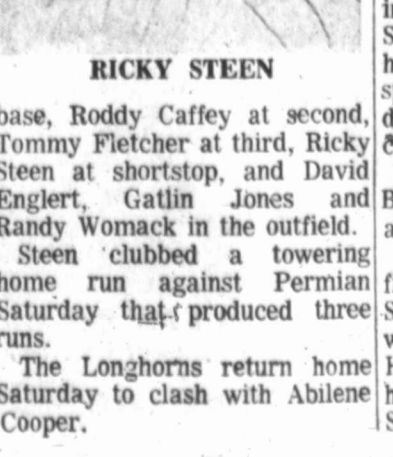

Astro pitcher Tom Griffin tried to slip a fastball past Montanez and it resulted in his third loss against no wins.

Montanez blasted it into the stands.

Is he a home run hitter? "Not really," said the 23-year-old from Catano, Puerto Rico. "I am a line drive hitter. If I get my pitch and hit it good, it will go. Tonight, I got my pitch and I hit it good."

The Phillies scored first in the first inning as Deron Johnson's two-out single to center followed walks to Don Money and Montanez.

Jim McDaniels Is Retained By Carolina

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars have settled their contract dispute over Jim McDaniels by agreement to pay a six-figure amount to another American Basketball Association club, the Utah Stars.

Vince Boryla, general manager of the Stars, said his team also would get two top choices from the Cougars and its pick of any Cougar player except Joe Caldwell.

Cougar owner Ted Munchak announced the six-figure settlement Monday but did not disclose the exact amount the Stars will receive for dropping their claim to McDaniels, the 7-foot All-American from Western Kentucky who was their No. 1 draft choice.

The dispute started after Carolina announced it had signed McDaniels to a lucrative contract despite Utah's pick.

Munchak announced in Greensboro, and Doryla in Salt Lake City, that the settlement was reached in a meeting at New York over the weekend under the auspices of Jack Dolph, ABA commissioner. Boryla said there also had been pressure from other ABA teams to settle the dispute for the good of the league.

In the election, coaches were not permitted to cast ballots for their own players.

Beaumont defeated Midland, 15-12, 14-10, in the Class AAAA State championship game last weekend in Austin.

Rainmakers Stimulate Clouds In Miami Area

MIAMI (AP) — Despite a dangerous four-hour flight that left two airplanes battered and grounded, federal weather scientists Monday squeezed as much as three inches of rain into drouth-stricken South Florida during cloud-seeding missions.

But most of the rain fell on the heavily populated Gulf Coast cities of Miami and Fort Lauderdale and didn't ease a drouth farmers claim is having a disastrous effect on agriculture. They said much more rain is needed.

"I think we made believers out of some people," said Dr. James McFadden, project coordinator for the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration.

"It's a first in a sense," he said. "Our objective was to mitigate the drouth by producing rain, and we clearly demonstrated today the success of our seeding techniques."

It was the third successful mission in a row for the rain-makers who stimulated the clouds with silver-iodide flares. Residents in South Miami reported flooded streets and softball size hail pellets—the first precipitation since April 5. Winds to 55 miles per hour and 2.14 inches of rain were reported at Coral Gables.

McFadden and project director Dr. William Woodley reported a DC6 airplane and a B57 jet have been grounded after a damaging battle with the clouds.

From October, 1970, until Monday, 5.05 inches of rainfall had been recorded in South Florida compared to a normal 19.76 inches.

Compliments For Youths

TO THE EDITOR: I want to express through your newspaper the gratitude my wife and I feel for an experience we had in your city recently.

On Sunday evening, April 18, we pulled into the parking lot at the Wagon Wheel Drive-In near the Holiday Inn and discovered a large crowd of young people. They were coming and going in cars and on motorcycles during the time we were there.

Despite the numbers and the confusion, they were the most courteous and considerate group we've seen in a long time.

They guided us in getting into and out of a parking space; when a radio was turned on in the car next to us, one boy asked if it was too loud and promptly turned it down.

Although there was naturally some shouting back and forth, at no time was there any obscenity or any language or conduct that could have been embarrassing to my wife or me.

So far as we could see these young people were having a good time without interfering with the rights of other patrons or the employees.

We want to thank them, their parents, and the community for this encouraging evidence that the great majority of our young people are polite and friendly.

How To Live 'Free' In America

Editor's Note: The Alternative Society's institutions — free clinics, free universities, free stores — are still young and very dependent on straight society, but they exist, and they serve a large number of disaffected young Americans, as this dispatch, one of a series from the AP Special Assignment Team, discloses.

By KEN HARTNETT
 Associated Press Writer

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The house is warm and airy with high ceilings and spacious rooms and a handsomely carved mantelpiece. It was built in another day, perhaps for another kind of doctor, but it is perfect for Allen.

He plans to turn the old house into a commune—a commune for doctors.

"People are recognizing more and more that to have a new society, you have got to build it," he said, leaning his 6-foot, heavily shouldered frame against the mantel.

HIP AND 30

As he spoke, his hands toyed idly with a half-braided leather belt that dangled from his shoulders at the edge of his flowing black hair.

Allen is hip and 30, an M.D. specializing in internal medicine. He and two fellow physicians are helping organize Seattle's Country Doctor—a free medical clinic, one of several springing up to join free universities, free stores and other infant institutions of the Alternative Society—that still wobbling attempt by disaffected young Americans to develop ways to live apart from straight society.

Allen has no interest in money—only in making enough to survive. His main interest is the clinic and leading a professional life not as "an economic machine" but as a human being with "medical knowledge to share."

SCREWED UP

"The way the arrangement is now, doctors are so incredibly overpaid I could work one day a week as a straight doctor and make around $12,000 to $14,000 a year easily. That's how screwed up things are," he said.

"Clinics are a long way from the answer," he said, "but I do see them as building blocks for a new medical system with free laboratories and free X-ray technicians and free radiologists and free hospitals and free people."

He laughed, a laugh recognizing that the reality of his vision

(AP WIREPHOTO)

DOCTOR OF FREE MEDICINE — Tim Jolley, a senior medical student at the University of Washington, is one of the originators of a new Seattle free clinic, The Country Doctor. The clinic is one of many that have sprung up in the Alternative Society.

was a long way off.

Doctors like Allen remain rare. As far as he knows, he is the only one of 72 doctors in his graduating class planning to devote his career to free medicine.

IMPORTANT THING

The important thing, he said, is the number of like-minded doctors who are coming out of medical schools after him.

Dr. Julius R. Krevans, dean of the University of California Medical Center in San Francisco, said it is too early to tell just how significant that number will be.

But, he said, there is no question that social awareness is quicken among students and faculty members in the nation's medical schools.

"Before this year, there wasn't a single medical collective in this area. Now you have at least three."

The Seattle Clinic, like virtually all the institutions of the Alternative Society, is directly dependent on the larger society.

Allen, for example, was trained at the University of California. The Country Doctor will operate out of an abandoned city-owned firehouse. Contributions will be tax deductible because the clinic will have tax-exempt status as a non-profit institution.

Milwaukee's Free Clinic operates in the basement of a Roman Catholic hospital on the East side, close by that city's hip enclave.

FREE CLINICS

The scarcity of doctors to man the free clinics makes continuity in treatment difficult. A young woman, well along in pregnancy, works in a Cambridge movement book store. She praises that city's medical clinic but says her baby will not be delivered by a movement doctor. "I want to be at a hospital where I would have the same doctor for delivery I had all along," she said.

Technical competence—not only in medicine but in auto mechanics—a thinly spread resource in the Alternative Society. Poets abound. Plumbers are scarce.

The People's Free Wheel, a no-charge bus line in Cambridge, Mass., has a discomforting habit of breaking down as it plies back and forth along Massachusetts Avenue.

The politically minded organizers of the free institutions blame the failures on what they see as the corrupting influence of the larger society—influences that the free institutions are designed to minimize.

'RIP OFF'

But the insulation is far from perfect. The Straight Society is very much a part of the Alternative Society. It supports it. Rock concerts and people's donations provide some cash and give a sense of community participation. But the hard cash doesn't come from the hip community. It comes from straight people, one way or another.

From the manual "F--the System: How to Live Free in Albuquerque," is an example of how to "rip off":

"One of the best places to eat is your local supermarket. Get a cart and start pushing it around. Throw a few things in occasionally for effect. Meanwhile, you can make sandwiches, eat fruit and cookies, and open a tin or two of smoked oysters. When you're full, leave your cart and split."

Naivete plagues some of the Alternative Society's institutions.

Albuquerque hips opened a free store and stocked it with donated clothing, food and household goods. All were welcome to come and take what they needed in exchange for what they could give.

"We had no restrictions on what people could take so they took everything," said a young woman at the store, which is now not so much a store as a store front movement meeting place with bare shelves and a handful of underground newspapers.

Linking the various experiments together within each community and within the nation is an elaborate communications network.

Most major cities and university towns have alternative newspapers, such as the Chicago Seed, the Milwaukee Kaleidoscope, the Great Speckled Bird in Atlanta or Berkeley's Tribe and Barb.

Thugs Discover Just How Wild The West Really Is

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Three fugitives from a Norman, Okla., jail were lodged in the Dimmit County jail today, probably just as thankful they're not still scampering about the wilds of West Texas.

Sheriff Tom Brady specifically accused them of breaking and entering a ranch house. He said he also is contemplating charges of horse theft, saddle theft and fence cutting.

It started last Saturday when George Stidham, 23, accused of murder; Jerry Miller, 22, held in connection with burglaries; and Leroy Bacon, 24, also held in connection with burglaries, escaped from jail in Norman.

They apparently captured a car and driver and came to this South Texas area where they abandoned the auto. That's when they discovered just how wild the West really is.

Sheriff Brady completes the story.

Deputies and sheriffs from three counties, as well as 12 Border Patrolmen, Safety Department Officers, and investigators for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association converged on this area Sunday. Somebody brought tracking dogs.

The search was suspended Sunday at dusk.

Free to move in the darkness, the three broke into the house on the Yett Ranch where no one was at home. It is 14 miles southwest of Carrizo Springs.

They found two rifles and, Brady said, tore up the interior of the house trying to find ammunition and apparently discovered none.

STEALS HORSE

Then they put saddles on three horses and rode away. As they fled, they cut any fence in their path. Fence cutting was a felony in the Old West—and still is although no one has been tried for the offense in decades. Horse stealing could get a man lynched in the old days.

Not being very good outdoors men, the trio wandered all night—and arrived at dawn back at the Yett Ranch after making a large circle.

They threw down the rifles let the horses go and took off on foot again.

Then came a Safety Department airplane and a Coast Guard helicopter, and the men crawled under some brush to keep out of sight.

The dogs sniffed them out.

A University of Oklahoma student, Barry Davis, 22, said he was going to work in Norman when three hitchhikers abducted him and his car and forced him to drive to Dille, Tex., where he was released unharmed. His description fit the jail escapees.
