

SHINER KILLINGS CONTROVERSY HEATING UP

Negro Boy, 6, Shootout Victim

SHINER, Tex. (AP)—The Department of Public Safety said late Sunday that the killing of a 6-year-old Negro boy and his uncle by DPS officers appeared to be justifiable homicide but relatives of the dead persons disputed that story.

And Justice of the Peace E. J. Henkhouse who held an inquest into the shooting refused to talk about the inquest results, saying the DPS had told him to keep quiet.

Killed in the shooting Saturday night were Van Lee Mathis Jr., 6, of Shiner and Hazle Mathis, 42, of San Antonio, the dead boy's uncle. The dead youth's father, Van Lee Mathis Sr., 38, was reported in critical condition Sunday night with bullet wounds in his stomach.

KEEP QUIET

The justice of the peace refused to answer any questions about the inquest. "They (the DPS) told me not to say anything and I'm not going to," he said.

He said DPS Sgt. Dudley Thomas of Cuero told him not to answer questions about the incident. But Henkhouse did say he agreed with the official DPS version of the shootings.

The DPS said that Highway Patrolmen L. D. Gamble and Johnny Aycock shot only in self-defense when Van Lee Mathis Sr. opened fire on them with a .22 caliber rifle.

But members of the Mathis family said a broken shotgun and a .22 caliber rifle, which they said were the only weapons in the house, had not been fired.

Jim Robinson, a DPS public relations officer in Austin, said the two officers had stopped a car on suspicion of drunken driving about two miles north of Shiner Saturday night.

He said the patrolmen arrested the driver, Hazle Mathis, for driving while intoxicated, and arrested his father, Millard Mathis, for drunkenness.

Robinson said Aurillas Mathis, 59, Millard Mathis' wife who was in the car, asked to be driven to her home in Shiner. Gamble drove her, while Aycock drove the two Mathis men in the patrol car, Robinson said.

At the Mathis home, Robinson said, a crowd gathered and Hazle Mathis attacked Aycock. About this time, the DPS man said, Hazle Mathis' brother, Van Lee Mathis Jr., came from the house with a .22 caliber rifle and opened fire.

"In the ensuing events," Robinson said, "Hazle Mathis was shot to death. Van Lee Mathis Sr. was wounded and unfortunately, 6-year-old Van Lee Mathis Jr. was accidentally shot to death."

UNFORTUNATE

"Apparently," Robinson said, "he was standing on the porch and nobody saw him. This, we feel, is extremely unfortunate. It is our preliminary conclusion that the officers were justified in returning the fire at Van Lee Mathis Sr."

The version of the incident given by the Mathis family, including Aurillas Mathis' daughter-in-law, Mrs. Georgie Flowers, 30, did not agree with the DPS report.

Millard Mathis, who later spent the night in jail before being released early Sunday on a $50 bond, said the patrolmen did not tell them the charge on which they were arrested when they were first stopped.

He was handcuffed and put in the patrol car with Hazle Mathis, he said.

Mrs. Flowers said she was at the house when the officers and the Mathis family arrived and got out of the car.

WHAT'S HIS NAME

"When I came up, my brother (Hazle) was on the back of the police car. The dark-haired one—what's his name? Oh, yeah, Aycock, that's right—he was beating my brother with a blackjacket. My mother told him, 'Don't beat on my baby like that.'"

Mrs. Flowers said Mrs. Mathis grabbed her son from behind and threw him to the ground and she fell with him.

"Hazle reached down to pick up mother," Mrs. Flowers said, "and Aycock held him at arm length and the little blond one (Gamble) came up and tiptoed over his (Aycock's) shoulder and shot him (Hazle Mathis) two times. Shot him to the ground."

Mrs. Flowers said it was then that Van Lee Mathis Jr. ran from the house after hearing the shots.

"He just came to the door and hollered, 'Big Mama,' and when he did Gamble turned and fired four times through the door," Mrs. Flowers claimed.

"When the baby fell," Mrs. Flowers said, "my brother (Van Lee Mathis Sr.) was standing behind him holding his right side."

'LET HIM LAY'

Mrs. Flowers said that Hazle Mathis, who recently retired from the Army after 21 years, tried to get up after being shot but she quoted Aycock as saying, "You better tell him not to get up."

She said an ambulance came and took away the father and son but that the officers refused to let Hazle Mathis go to the hospital.

"The dark-haired one (Aycock) dared anybody to help him," Mrs. Flowers claimed. "Let him lay. Let him lay, he told me," she said.

Dollar Weakens On Some European Money Markets

By The Associated Press

The dollar weakened on some European money markets today in the first test of weekend measures taken by Europe's capitals to check inflation and the influx of dollars. It was firm on others.

At the opening of the foreign currency market in Frankfurt, the dollar nose-dived, then rallied.

West Germany's decision to let the mark find its own level seemed to be having its desired effect on creating uncertainty. Speculators, who last week spurred the most severe European monetary crisis since 1969, appeared to be hesitant about reaping profits by reconverting their marks, guilders and Swiss francs back into dollars.

INFLATION FUEL

The dollar was steady in London and Paris, but weak in Switzerland, Austria and the Netherlands.

The money markets were opened in Europe for the first time since last Wednesday, when speculative buying of European currencies created a glut of dollars that forced the exchanges to close.

West Germany took new action to drive out the flood of number of money market instruments, including certain domestic bond issues.

Spain also made a slight adjustment in the rate on the peseta.

Chancellor Willy Brandt's cabinet hoped its actions would reverse the inflow of dollars it contends has aggravated domestic inflation and caused a rush by speculators last week buying up marks in anticipation of the upward revaluation.

POUND STRONG

Trading resumed on most of Western Europe's currency markets after being shut down since Wednesday, but dealing was on a small scale as most dealers were still sorting out the implications of the various government actions.

The dollar dropped on the Frankfurt market, opening at 3.51 marks, four points below Friday's closing and 15 points below the previous official 3.66. Toward noon it rose to 3.575 marks.

The pound opened strong in London at $2.4195, compared to Friday's close of $2.4194 but dropped to $2.419 within an hour as dealers began profit taking on dollars.

The bullion market in London also stabilized, and the price of free gold dropped off 12.5 cents to $39.65 an ounce. It had risen well over $40 during the crisis last week.

dollars that it says is fueling inflation. The Bundesbank, West Germany's central bank, restricted interest payments on deposits of foreign currency.

The government also barred nonresidents from buying a

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1.—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A10855 ♥S Q73 ♦J875

The bidding has proceeded: North East South 1 ♠ Dble. ?

What do you bid?

A.—Your hand is not quite strong enough to justify a redouble, but immediate action is indicated and the proper call is one spade, holding in reserve a possible raise in diamonds if developments make such a bid desirable.

Q. 2.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK10853 ♥AKJ752 ♦9

The bidding has proceeded: East South 1 ♠ ?

What do you bid?

A.—That bid should be chosen which assures you beyond the peradventure of a doubt that your partnership will reach game. The only call that answers the description is an immediate cue bid of the suit adversely bid; in other words, two diamonds. To be sure, such a call normally announces that you can win the first trick in the suit, but with a hand of this inordinate power, a little poetic license may be taken in that respect.

Q. 3.—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠754 ♥862 ♦985 ♣AJ73

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ 1 ♠ Pass 2 ♠ 2 ♥ Pass Pass 3 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. While it is true that your club holding will be perhaps a pleasant surprise to partner, nevertheless it is not sufficient to justify a raise. Note that partner did not make an immediate jump to three hearts, nor did he double so that you cannot expect to find the equivalent of nine tricks in his hand.

Q. 4.—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQJ5 ♥AS3 ♣AKQ2 ♦Q4

The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♠ Dble. Pass 4 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You should assume from partner's leap that the heart suit is solid. The problem, therefore, reduces itself to the question of partner's holding in clubs. If he

Buddhist Nun, Monk Burn Selves To Death In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — A Buddhist nun and a monk burned themselves to death in appeals for peace on Buddha's birthday. The nun immolated herself Sunday on a Buddhist pagoda in Cam Lo, just south of the demilitarized zone, the head-

In his letter to President Nixon, Chon The said: "After more than 20 years of war, our country has been ruined and too many of our people have died. Give us the chance to solve our own problems, to live in peace, to reunify our country."

"I burn myself to pray for real peace for the Vietnamese people and beg American families to demand that their sons be returned home." After Chon The burned himself, another young monk handed out leaflets and called for the people to reaffirm the "sacred fire" of Chon The.

Assures 'Clean Water' Or '$100 Million Boondoggle'

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is one of a three-part series on the four proposed constitutional amendments offered Texas voters May 18, along with liquor by the referendum in 44 counties. Other stories will give the pro and con of suggested constitutional changes concerning Texas' public welfare crises and the controversial legislative ethics-pay issue.

AUSTIN (AP)—Texans decide May 18 if they want the state to take another step in helping cities with their local money problems.

Amendment No. 4 would allow the issuance of $100 million in state bonds at as much as 6 per cent interest for grants to cities to help with sewage treatment facilities.

Proponents say it will assure "clean water" for the future. Opponents, including the Texas AFL-CIO, call it a "100 million boondoggle."

MIXED DRINKS

The amendment is one of four proposals approved in the early days of the legislature and placed on the ballot at this special election—along with a referendum on mixed drinks in 46 counties, ordered after the liquor by the drink bill became law April 22.

Amendment 4, if approved, would do three things:

- Permit the Texas Water Development Board to issue more water development bonds up to $100 million to provide grants to cities in obtaining federal grants for water quality improvement programs.
- Allow the bonds to bear interest up to 6 per cent instead of the present 4 per cent ceiling. The board's last $25 million of offering remains unsold because bond buyers refused to bid on them at 4 per cent.
- U.S. AGENCIES
- Eliminates the requirement that all financial aid programs of the Texas Water Development Board end after Dec. 31, 1982. If the amendment is approved such programs could continue as long as any authorized bond money remains in the fund.
- "Passage of this amendment will provide low interest loans to cities and other local governmental agencies all over Texas to help them take care of the mounting problems and costs surrounding sewage treatment," said the Clean Water for Texas Committee, a group set up by the Texas Municipal League to work for passage of the amendment.
- The Texas AFL-CIO opposes the amendment, saying it "would increase interest paid on state bonds by more than 50 per cent" and "the sale of high interest rate bonds would only increase the need for more tax money in the future."

THE ONLY WAY

Local government now must provide waste water treatment facilities and sewer systems with 70 per cent local funds and up to 30 per cent federal grants. Adoption of Amendment 4 would let the state provide up to 25 per cent of such cost, local participation would drop to 20 per cent and federal participation would increase from 30 to 55 per cent if the state takes part.

Opponents say this is just another move of "towns to pass on to the state another financial burden which is rightfully their responsibility."

Proponents say this is the only way to get local governments adequately to treat and dispose of wastes, thereby improving the quality and quantity of water.

The amendment also was endorsed by the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, which says these federal funds will go to other states if Texas does not take them.

Amendment 2 has aroused less attention than the three others—but may be a vital step in revision of the state Constitution.

The brief proposal would let the legislature vote on changes in the Constitution during special sessions as well as the regular sessions.

WELFARE WOES

Proponents say the recent welfare crises in the state are examples of the need of the change. Although the $80 million welfare ceiling was inadequate and some welfare checks were cut in 1970, the governor could not call a special session on the subject and had to wait until the 1971 legislative met. Removal of the $80 million ceiling is one of the four amendments to be voted upon May 18.

Opponents of Amendment 2 say the Constitution has been amended too much already—more than 200 times since 1876. They say the 30-day special sessions, which may be called only by the governor, usually are called for such legislative deadlocks as appropriations and taxation. Submission of constitution changes in this atmosphere would lead only to further controversy and complication, the opponents say.

Maddox Wins 'Amen' Cries At Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia speaking to the congregation of a Baptist church here Sunday, said spineless leaders were ruining America.

Maddox spoke at a patriotic Sunday afternoon service at the North Houston Baptist Church.

He told about 300 members of the congregation, "We shouldn't allow spineless leaders to stay in office and sell America down the river. This is one nation under God and the only way it can stay that way is for God's people to insist upon it."

The Rev. Ron Hill, pastor of the church, introduced the former Georgia governor as a Christian and a patriot and said, "We need a man, like that in the White House."

"I'm not here because I'm a public official," Maddox said. "I'm here because I'm a Christian and an American."

"We've got to decide whether we're church members or Christians," he said. "We've got to decide if we're citizens of America or real Americans."

Maddox was frequently interrupted with cries of "Amen" as he spoke.

THE TOP EMMY AWARDS — Actor Jack Cassidy holds the Emmy Award that he accepted for actor George C. Scott for his performance in "The Price," Hallmark Hall of Fame, for the best single performance of an actor in a leading role at the Emmy Awards in Hollywood Sunday night. Actress Lee Grant holds the Emmy she won for the best single performance of an actress in a leading role for her performance in "The Neon Ceiling."

Great Scott, George Pays Price For Emmy

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)

George C. Scott, who rejected a movie Oscar for "Patton," has won a television Emmy for "The Price." A friend said Scott accepts the honor for best single performance by an actor.

"Oh, my God, it's George C. Scott!" Suzanne Pleshette cried as she opened the envelope at Sunday night's 23rd Television Academy Emmy Awards, echoing Goldie Hawn's announcement of best-actor honors at the recent movie Academy Awards.

"THANK YOU"

Scott's actor friend Jack Cassidy came to the stage and said: "If he were here he'd say a simple single 'thank you.'"

Backstage, Cassidy said of Scott, who is making a film in New York: "The mere fact that he asked me to accept—that in itself is an acceptance."

Scott had criticized the Oscar presentations as "a two-hour meat parade" and the voting as encouraging undesirable competition among actors. Backers of Oscar nominees often ballyhoo their candidate in trade paper advertising.

Cassidy told newsmen Scott apparently approves of the Emmy because "there's a different structure to the voting."

Instead of Academy-wide voting for Oscar, the Television Academy awards are decided by an anonymous "blue-ribbon" panel of actors, film editors and other professionals.

"THE PRICE"

In "The Price," from Arthur Miller's stage play, Scott played a New York policeman clashing in a taut drama with his brother, played by Barry Sullivan, over their past treatment of their father.

Scott was nominated for Emmys three times before but never won.

"The Price," shown Feb. 3 on NBC, also won Emmys for a supporting performance, David Burns, and direction, Fielder Cook.

Chosen the outstanding single program of the year ended March 16 was "The Andersonville Trial" on the Public Broadcasting Service. The Hollywood Television Theater drama was about the heartless commander of the Confederate prison camp where many Union soldiers died.

Scott directed the TV play, and Cassidy had a leading role, for which he received an Emmy nomination, losing to Scott.

Lee Grant was honored among actresses in leading roles for her performance in the "The Neon Ceiling" on NBC's "World Premiere" last Feb. 8.

Miss Grant was nominated also for "Ransom for a Dead Man" on "World Premier." Colleen Dewhurst—Scott's wife—was nominated for her performance in "The Price."

The canceled "The Senator" segments of NBC's "The Bold Ones" series won five Emmys, including that for outstanding dramatic series, Hal Holbrook won for portraying the senator.

Other awards included:

- Four to the Mary Tyler Moore show, including Edward Asner and Valerie Harper for their supporting performances and two for writing.
- Three to "All in the Family," CBS' comedy about bigotry, as outstanding new series, outstanding comedy series and to Jean Stapleton as its leading actress.

"THE ODD COUPLE"

Margaret Leighton as supporting actress in "Hamlet," Jack Klugman as costar of Tony Randall in "The Odd Couple."

The "Flip Wilson Show" as outstanding variety series.

The Burt Bacharach Special shown last March 14 as outstanding variety or musical single program.

"The David Frost Show" as outstanding talk series—a new category. He won last year in a variety show category.

An award from trustees of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences went to Ed Sullivan, an academy founder, for "showmanship, taste and personal commitment to entertaining the nation for 23 years."

Of the 80 Emmy awarded, NBC led the networks with 35, followed by CBS 25, ABC 10, and Public Broadcasting 9. One syndicated program, David Frost, was a winner.

Fickle Texas Weather Delivers Lots Of Hail

By The Associated Press

A cold front in Southwest Texas, a low pressure system in the Panhandle and a warm front in North Texas moved on a collision course this morning with the inevitable prospect of thunderstorms and rain showers.

Skies remained clear in the extreme west with cloudiness and warm temperatures elsewhere. The respite before dawn followed a night filled with thunderheads and hailstones which fell in the Johnson County area. A tornado funnel snaked from the skies in Bosque County Sunday but failed to touch ground. Meanwhile, big storms lashed at DeLeon, Groesbeck, Gainesville and near Wichita Falls.

It was cool—45 degrees—at Dalhart before dawn and in the 70s along the coast.

FAMILY DINING AT PIZZA HUT ... for quick snack or leisurely meal

Pizza Hut Fills The Bill For Nice Family Dinner

No matter if you are in the mood for a quick lunch or if you're looking for a place to bring the family for a nice dinner, the Pizza Hut fills the bill. You don't even have to like pizzas to enjoy the Pizza Hut's friendly atmosphere. The Submarine Sandwich, consisting of Canadian bacon, salami, cheese, lettuce and the special Pizza-Hut dressing, is a delicious meal in itself for the few who just don't like pizzas, and at 80 cents it has already captured the hearts of pizza lovers. Three ovens now bake the delicious pizzas that have made the Hut famous. "We can get your pizza to you in 15 minutes from the time you order it," says Charles Nieman confidently. "Sometimes when we're really busy, it'll take 20 minutes." Pizzas are the Hut's specialty and Nieman, who has been cooking pizzas for over two years, states without reservation, "We can make better pizzas than anyone else." Its menu includes mozzarella cheese, green pepper, sausage, mushroom, pepperoni, the pizza supreme, onion, anchovy, hamburger, black olive, Canadian bacon, jalapeno and shrimp pizzas alone or in any combination you wish. Pizzas come in two sizes: the 10-inch plate and the 13-inch pizza for the big eaters. While waiting for your pizza or as a complete snack by itself, try the Hut's Italian salad for only 40 cents. If you like beer with your pizza, the Pizza Hut serves light and dark Budweiser and Michelob. All orders can be prepared to go. To save time, call in your order and by the time you come by for it, the pizzas and drinks will probably be ready. Planning a party or just tired of cooking? Call the Hut at 263-3333 for an experience in good taste.

SEVERAL IMPROVEMENTS IN THE MILL Company Plans New Hangars

Big Spring Aircraft, Inc. has recently changed ownership. As of March 22, the company has been run jointly by J. W. (Bill) McClendon, Robert J. (Jack) Cook and Guilford Jones. "We have several improvements in the mill for both Big Spring Aircraft and the Howard County Airport," said McClendon. "One of the things we're looking into is the building of more hangars." Big Spring Aircraft will continue with its VA approved flight instruction. "I would like to remind any servicemen at Webb that they can take advantage of their G.I. Bill benefits, if they qualify, while they are still in the service," continued McClendon. "Our flight school is certified up to an airline transport rating."

Smack In Kiss

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a musician who plays first trumpet with a well-known band. We have a great relationship in every way but one. He is very stingy with his kisses. He says if he engages in too much kissing his lips will become "tender" and it will affect his trumpet playing.

Don't get me wrong, Abby. He is a very romantic and loving guy, and he's great with the follow-through, but he prefers to skip the kissing.

Is he putting me on. Or do all sweethearts and wives of trumpet players get cheated on kisses because their men have to protect their lips?

DEAR WONDERING: Take it from the lips of those pros who responded to my telephone inquiry with the following quotes:

HARRY JAMES (world-famous veteran trumpet player, Las Vegas) "That guy must be kidding. I've been doing both for over 35 years and so far I haven't had to give up either one, thank heavens!"

"DOC" SEVERINSEN (leader of Johnny Carson show orchestra) "If that guy isn't putting his girl on, tell him to live with the pain. My wife says if I ever started to ration my kisses to save my lips, it would be the end of our marriage."

RAY ANTHONY (world famous orchestra leader, top notch trumpet player) "If kissing actually harms his lips, then there must be something wrong with his arrangements."

ROBERT DI VALL (first trumpet player with Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra) "Any musician who must curtail his kissing because of his trumpet playing will never do either one very well."

PETE CANDOLI (first trumpet, Merv Griffin show) "From hot pants to hot lips! If he has to be that careful of his precious lips, he should get them insured with Lloyd's of London, or give up the trumpet."

"CAT" ANDERSON (played with Duke Ellington for 25 years) "What? Say that's the best laugh I've had in years. No, it isn't 'ruc. Kissing and playing the trumpet require two entirely different techniques, so there must be something wrong with the way he kisses."

JACK FEIERMAN (conductor and first trumpet player with Andy Williams, also with Jack Benny) "Kissing is all right. Just don't bite!"

MANNIE KLEIN (played trumpet with nearly all the top hands) "That guy is putting her on. Kissing won't hurt him, unless she has buck teeth!"

HARRY "SWEETS" EDISON (first trumpet with Count Basie and Frank Sinatra) "The more he kisses, the sweeter he'll play. There's nothin' like sweet and tender lovin' lips."

MRS. LOUIE "SATCHMO" ARMSTRONG: "I'm Lucille, Louie's wife, and right now he's recovering from surgery and isn't able to talk himself, but I've been married to him for 31 years and I know I can speak for Louie. He'd say a man could never keep a woman if he didn't kiss her."

AL HIRT (one of the greatest trumpet players who's ever drawn a breath) "The greatest joy of my life is kissing my wife on the lips, and it's never adversely affected my trumpet playing."

DEAR AL: I'll take your word for it, but I'd like to ask your wife if your trumpet playing has affected your kissing adversely? Or doesn't one "HIRT" the other. (Forgive me, I couldn't resist that one.)

Hay Fever Time
Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

I'm not starting with a letter from a reader today because the appropriate letters aren't coming in just now. But they will be, they will be. By then, it will be too late for a good answer. The topic is hay fever, and to a lesser extent "rose fever."

The questions about hay fever will start pouring in about next August or September, and by then I will have only a few temporary aids to offer. Every body can't go dashing off to some resort where there isn't much pollen in the air. If you have an air-conditioner with filtering, you can get some relief as long as you stay in the air-conditioned room. Or, you can use antihistamines which can help the stuffy and runny nose, watering (maybe itching) eyes, and the paroxysms of sneezes. But the antihistamines also can make you drowsy and inefficient at work or while driving.

If your hay fever also causes sneezing and asthma, antihistamines alone may not help enough. Some patients need small doses of steroids (cortisone, prednisone, etc.) until the pollen season ends.

That's about all there is to offer, at that stage of the game. For relief over a long range, desensitization with pollen extract is better and more lasting. But these injections cannot and will not work in a hurry. You need 12 to 16 injections, to build up your tolerance before the sneezy season starts.

At the rate of one injection a week, right now there isn't any time to spare. True, there are "accelerated programs," with an injection every three days, up to and through the pollen season, but the longer the series is spread out, the better.

Still more lasting relief is provided by continuing the injections all year, but only once a month through most of the year.

If you are a hay fever sufferer, start preparing for it now. Wait until August and the most effective help comes too late.

I mentioned "rose fever," because some folks have the sneezes, itches, and related allergic symptoms in late spring and in summer. They happen to be sensitive to things other than the ragweed and other pollens that torture the hay fever victims, but the nature of the trouble is the same.

If an allergist can find out your particular sensitivities, desensitization is practicable; if not, your best bet is staying away from fields or gardens or lawns where you have trouble and, if the trouble is that bad, getting some help in the proper season, from antihistamines.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, including scores of pertinent questions and their answers, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for his booklet, "Make Menopausal Easier," enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Boxing gloves for a basketball game? That's the suggestion of rookie-center Dan Issel, who leads the Kentucky Colonels to Salt Lake City Wednesday night for the fifth game of the American Basketball Association championship series.

The squads have split the first four games, Utah winning twice at Salt Lake and Kentucky reciprocating in Louisville Friday and Saturday, the latter in a nationally televised 129-125 overtime contest.

Tigers Blast Lenora Club

The Big Spring Tiger Cubs advanced to a 3-1 season record with a robust 22-3 win over the Lenora Red Sox Sunday at Steer Stadium. The home team blasted 15 hits and took advantage of several errors and a few walks.

Cardinals Drop Doubleheader

The Big Spring Cardinals dropped a double bill to the San Angelo Lions in San Angelo Sunday, losing the opener when the Lions rallied with three runs in the ninth with two out. They had no trouble in the second after scoring three runs in the opening round and went on to win 7-1.

Tigers Edge Elks, 10-8

The Tigers outscored the Elks 10-8 in an American Minor League game Saturday. It was a game of fat innings, and the Tigers had a slight edge in one of its rallies to edge the Elks, who rallied each time the Tigers pushed out in front.

Lions Win

The Lions upset the Yankees 3-2 in a National Little League game Saturday evening. Ken Fowler got credit for the victory. Scoring for the Lions were Terry Grantham, Henry Holguin and Fowler.

Awesome Rally Earns Jack Nicklaus Circuit Respite

DALLAS (AP) — For the next three weeks, professional golfer's tourists need have no fear of the Golden Bear. Jack Nicklaus, his second Byron Nelson Golf Classic in the trophy case, will become a little league baseball coach.

Nicklaus finished with a six-under-par 274 over the tough 7,031-yard Preston Trail Golf course which plays to par 35-70.

He had consecutive birdies of 20, 12, and 20 feet on holes 15, 16, and 17. Nicklaus' surge destroyed young Jerry McGee who shot a final round 65 for a 276 and Frank Beard who carved out a 67, also for a 276.

Sandra Haynie Makes It Three Straight Wins

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Sandra Haynie follows through with plans for "semi-retirement" this year, she'll be leaving the golf circuit in style—with at least three straight titles to her credit.

City Loop Opens Today

Play gets under way today in the City Softball League with Intech opening against Goodyear at 7:30 p.m. The second game will pit Morton's against the Big Spring Merchants at 9 p.m.

McCarver's Bat Subdues Astros

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia Phillies catcher Tim McCarver, off to the poorest start of his career, took a giant step toward stardom Sunday.

Padres Continue To Master Reds

The Cincinnati Reds are turning out to be sitting ducks for the rest of the National League, but they've always been clay pigeons for San Diego's Clay Kirby.

Chippers Sweep Abilene Series

The Chippers might as well have been called the sluggers Saturday evening when they swept a double bill from the Abilene A's, the 1968 state softball champs.

Oakland Clobbers Orioles Twice

It takes a mighty press hand to beat Baltimore's aces twice at their own game, but the Oakland A's have two of a kind in Vida Blue and Jim Hunter.

Hunter and Blue tossed four-hitters Sunday, trouncing Baltimore pitching stars Mike Cuellar and Jim Palmer, as the A's swept a doubleheader from the world champion Orioles 6-2 and 2-1.

It was the first time the Orioles lost both ends of a twin bill since Aug. 29, 1969, when California swept them by the same scores.

Patsies

In other action, the New York Mets mastered St. Louis 9-5, Pittsburgh exploded for eight runs in the eighth inning and ripped Los Angeles 11-5, San Francisco downed Atlanta 5-2 before losing the doubleheader.

Despite their lack of success against the rest of the league, the Padres generally make things tough for the Reds. They trail the Big Red Machine by a mere 19-23, by far the best they've done against any of the established clubs.

Then, with Mike Epstein—a strikeout victim in his first two at-bats for the A's—at the plate, Palmer uncorked a wild pitch. Rudi raced home with the tying run and when catcher Andy Etchebarren's return throw to Palmer went astray, Jackson also scored.

Merchants Drop Pair

The Big Spring Merchants, preparing for the start of the City Softball League, warmed up against the Lamesa Merchants Saturday at Lamesa—but not very.

Hawks Outlast Cabot Sluggers

The Hawks pushed across one run in the bottom of the final frame to edge the Cabots 10-9 in an American Little League game Saturday evening.

By The Associated Press
Violent deaths over the Mother's Day weekend climbed steadily with 52 persons killed in 20 traffic accidents, 14 shot to death and 12 drowned.

The Associated Press began its tabulation at 6 p.m. Friday and continued it until midnight Sunday.

The death toll was at an unusually high level.

BODY RIDDLED

Here is a partial accounting of the violent deaths:

LETTER
Says Thanks For Helping

To The Editor:
I have lived in Ackerly and Big Spring almost all of my life ever since I was an early teenager, and during all those years so many hundreds of times I have heard people from other places say "what on earth would anyone live here for if you could live in a beautiful part of the country where there is lots of rainfall, beautiful trees, lakes etc." I would always get mad at the remarks, but I could not explain to them. Now I can say and I know what is so wonderful about this area. It is the people. The most wonderful and generous people on earth are in Ackerly and the vicinity.

They will never know how much I appreciated and needed the love gift they gave me, especially since my insurance was cancelled. If some newcomer complains about our sandstorms, just remember the people are so much more important and sandstorms are minor.

Planning Council On City Agenda

A resolution confirming Big Spring's and the city commission's support of the Permian Basin Planning Council will be discussed again by city commissioners in regular session Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. in city hall.

No decision was made on the item at the last regular session because some of the members of the commission wanted more time to study the matter further.

A proposed sewer rate ordinance also will be on the agenda for discussion. A new and increased sewer rate was examined last week by the commissioners when they met in special session to raise the water rates, however, no action was taken on the sewage rates.

The commission will hear a report on the Cosden Country Club and also will be asked to approve the appointment of Fire Chief A. D. Meador.

Meador filled the shoes of H. V. Crocker upon his retirement May 1.

in other business on the agenda, the commission will:

- Read for approval four ordinances: bow fishing at Moss Lake on first reading, a zone change requested by First Federal Savings and Loan on first reading, a zone change requested by Clyde Carroll on second reading, and an ordinance establishing and regulating speed zones on U.S. 87 on third and final reading.
- Examine traffic commission recommendations.
- Hear a request concerning the West Side Community Center.
- Study appointments to be made to the Colorado River Municipal Water District board of directors.
- Make an appointment to the city planning and zoning board.
- Examine a request by Janice Sursky for a certificate of occupancy for the Roadrunner Club, Box 804A, IS 20 West.
- Hear a complaint from Mrs. Floyd Mays on motorcycle riding in Highland South.
- Discuss for approval vouchers paid by the city through May 11.

Postal Rates Due To Go Up Next Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unless a federal judge frustrates the U.S. Postal Service, this is the last week a postcard will cost a nickel.

Postage rates are going up next Sunday. It will take eight cents to mail a letter, 11 cents if you send it by air. Second and third-class mailing rates, plus some fourth-class rates, will jump from 10 per cent to 20 per cent. Special delivery and registered mail costs also will go up.

And the price of a postcard will be six cents.

The May 16 boost comes under what the U.S. Postal Service claims is its authority to postal rates pending a recommendation by the Postal Rate Commission.

The action is being challenged by a group of mail users, led by magazine and newspaper publishers, who seek to halt the increases until the rate commission has time to act.

The commission is to begin hearings next Monday on a permanent $4.45-billion-a-year revenue proposal.

U.S. District Court Judge William B. Bryant is tentatively scheduled to rule early this week on the legality of the rate hike. But postal authorities are confident he will not block the increase.
