SST Led Through Loop Toward Renewed Life

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American supersonic transport, the world's most debated aircraft, has been led through a legislative backdoor into a renewed fight for life. The stakes now may not be just two prototypes but a whole fleet of production-line SSTs.

Turning a congressional death warrant inside out, House backers of federal subsidies for the faster-than-sound, passenger plane engineered a 201-197 loophole victory Wednesday hailed by President Nixon and denounced by critics as a "travesty of the legislative process."

'DEATH TALK'
Spokesmen for the aerospace contractors that have built and fought for the SST project were quick to say any renewal of the work would be expensive, that all contracts would have to be renegotiated and that in their view the goal would have to be changed from mere prototype development to actual SST commercial production.

"Our strategy will be to try and beat it, beat it up and down," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. He declared to newsmen he will use any tactic under the Senate rules to kill the project—not ruling out talking it to death.

He said the original objections still stand: the SST is too costly, it is something that should be left to private industry, it is not practical and it threatens the environment.

"Minds have been changed in the last two months," said Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., who has fought to keep alive the SST, which was being built in his state.

CHANGES MIND
His homestate colleague, Sen. Henry M. Jackson, also a Democrat, said these factors were the mind changers: a strong reaction across the nation to rising unemployment, the current dollar crisis overseas and the continued effort of the British-French builders of the Concorde SST.

The issue, thought dead earlier in the year following defeats in both congressional chambers, was raised again when House SST backers, in an amendment to a supplemental appropriations bill, rewrote a section providing $85 million to terminate SST contracts. Their new language earmarked the money to restart the program.

The decision, reversing the House's 215-204 anti-SST vote eight weeks ago, tossed the controversy back to the Senate, giving another turn to a Capitol Hill saga in which the SST already has had far many more perils than the fabled Pauline.

51-46 VOTE
The Senate last March nailed down the earlier House decision in a 51-46 vote.

Spokesmen for the Boeing Corp. and General Electric, the two prime SST contractors under now canceled contracts, said the whole situation will have to be rethought.

"Any proposal to go forward on an SST program would involve very substantial financial commitments beyond $85 million," a Boeing spokesman said.

Rastus, Lucy Live In Luxury

SEATTLE (AP) — Rastus and Lucy live in idyllic luxury, master and mistress of their four-bedroom, $35,000 home in one of the city's posh neighborhoods.

They do what they please, have a maid to tend their every wish, groom them, feed them. If there is anything in life they lack, they have never said.

But Rastus and Lucy are in danger of losing their home and the good life it represents in a probate battle shaping up.

Rastus and Lucy are cats, 8 and 4 years old. When their owner, Charles Anderson, died last year at 83, he left them the family manse, a full-time housekeeper to look after it, and a trust fund to pay the bills.

Anderson left the rest of his $98,800 estate to a son and two step-daughters. This week, they sued the bank handling the funds as trustee, to kick Rastus and Lucy out of the house.

The three heirs ask that the cats' expenses be limited and the bank be ordered to sell the house, board the cats and distribute the remainder.

4-DAY WEEK FOR CITY EMPLOYEES

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Mayor Sam Massell says he will give city employees the option of working a four day, 40-hour week, rather than a five-day week.

The mayor said that employees can decide whether to work 10 hours a day for four days, instead of eight hours a day for five days.

The mayor made the announcement at a news conference Wednesday night.

He said the move would make city employment more attractive, and that a 10-hour work day would relieve traffic congestion because employees wouldn't be coming to work during rush hours.

Lad Attacked By Peacock

HOUSTON (AP) — A Port Arthur woman says a peacock at the Hermann Park Zoo attacked her young son and inflicted two deep cuts in his head.

Jason Jerome Bell, 4, was treated at a Houston hospital Wednesday and discharged.

Mrs. Rachel Gay Bell, 24, said she and her son were visiting the zoo when the peacock jumped through a hedge and attacked the boy.

John Werler, zoo director, said he understood the boy had been hand-feeding the peacock and was attacked as he turned to go.

Werler said it was the first time he had heard of a peacock attacking a human.

Promote Three Black Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army announced today the selection of three black colonels for promotion to brigadier general. It was the first time that more than one Negro was picked for star rank at the same time.

The three officers were among 80 colonels approved by President Nixon for promotion to one-star rank. The nominations have been forwarded to the Senate for confirmation.

The newest Negro generals are Roscoe C. Cartwright, 49, a native of Kansas City; Oliver W. Dillard, 44, who was born in Margaret, Ala.; and James F. Hamlet, 40, a native of Alliance, Ohio.

Uncle Sam Makes Offer On Red Viet Prisoners

PARIS (AP) — The United States offered today to fly out or send by sea to a neutral country North Vietnamese prisoners of war held in South Vietnam.

The offer, made by Ambassador David K.E. Bruce at the Vietnam peace talks, was an effort to get the North Vietnamese to agree to internment in a neutral country of prisoners of war held by both sides. The United States and South Vietnam made such a proposal recently, but it was in effect rejected by the North Vietnamese.

1,600 YANKS
South Vietnam holds more than 1,700 North Vietnamese prisoners it is prepared to send to a neutral country. There are about 1,600 Americans prisoners or missing in Southeast Asia, 339 held by the North Vietnamese.

Sweden has indicated it would be prepared to be helpful in the question of repatriating prisoners if an agreement can be reached at the Paris talks.

North Vietnam and the Viet Cong continued to insist today that the United States set a "reasonable" withdrawal date for its troops before other questions, including prisoner release, can be brought up. The United States and South Vietnam insist that North Vietnam also must discuss withdrawal of its forces from other Indochina countries.

BLAME NIXON
Earlier, North Vietnam accused President Nixon of ruining chances for peace in Vietnam after the United States had agreed to halt bombing of the North late in 1968.

North Vietnamese Minister of State Xuan Thuy, speaking to newsmen before the opening of the 113th plenary session of the Vietnam peace talks, recalled that the Nov. 1, 1968, bombing halt had been agreed to in talks between him and Ambassador Averell Harriman, Lyndon B. Johnson was president at the time.

"Efforts for peace made by Mr. Harriman and me were, unfortunately fought by Mr. Nixon," Thuy said. "He violated the agreement for an unconditional halt in the bombing and other acts of war against the North."

STALEMATE
Thuy said Nixon must take all the responsibility for the stalemate in the talks, which today entered their fourth year. The talks began May 13, 1968, between Hanoi and Washington, and were expanded the following January to include the Viet Cong and South Vietnam.

Rat Control Pains Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yielding to congressional criticism, the Nixon administration has backed down on its plan to crop the nation's rat control program.

Ron Coene, assistant director of the Bureau of Community Environmental Management, said the administration agreed Wednesday to restore the $15 million program for fiscal 1972.

Asked if congressional pressure forced the reversal, a high official in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said "That would be a proper conclusion."

"The administration line is that they have re-evaluated it," added the official, who asked not to be named. "They have decided there is justification for the program."

The program was quietly dropped without explanation in the initial HEW budget request. Freshman Rep. Paul S. Sarbanes, D-Md., called the decision unconscionable.

Several members of Congress joined in the protest, including Sens. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, and Allen Ellender, D-La., and Reps. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., and Edward Hebert, D-La.

The program is under way in several cities, including Baltimore, New York, Chicago, Atlanta, Cleveland, Milwaukee and Seattle.

Besides extermination, the program emphasizes destroying breeding places such as abandoned buildings and trash heaps, and educating citizens on the problem.

A recent report disclosed a 33 per cent decrease in "active exterior rat signs" where the program had been in effect between 1969 and 1970.

Currie Murder Suspect Held

To m y Tisdale, fourth suspect in the Dec. 2 shotgun murder of Glasscock County rancher Steve Currie, 71, is in custody in Phoenix, Ariz., according to 118th District Attorney Wayne Burns.

"We're awaiting word on whether or not extradition proceedings against Tisdale will be necessary. He was arrested earlier this week," said Burns.

Tisdale's name had been withheld pending his arrest after his indictment by the Glasscock County Grand Jury for murder with malice April 29. A fifth suspect, who remains at large, was also indicted on that date for murder with malice in connection with Currie's death.

Three others are also indicted for murder with malice in connection with the case. Judy Dunham, 20, indicted April 29, is free on $25,000 bond; Whitmer Jean Ballard, 45, in custody in Howard County jail, was indicted Dec. 14; and Orville Davis, 51, in custody in Martin County jail, was indicted Jan. 18.

Bond for Ballard and Davis has been denied.

Trial in the case is set for June 21 in Glasscock County. Tommy Bearden, defense attorney for Ballard and Davis, had indicated that he would file a motion for change of venue. Burns said today that no such action has yet been taken. Gill Jones, local attorney, has been hired by the Currie family to assist in the prosecution.

'Rough Time Ahead' HCJC Speaker Says

On a lazy spring morning that was tranquility itself, Howard County Junior College conferred associate degrees on its 25th graduating class.

But in contrast to the perfection and peace of the setting, graduates were warned: "You have a rough time ahead, but you have no choice but to meet life and living head-on and with courage."

Five years ago, said Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of Big Spring State Hospital and the commencement speaker, he would have told the class "I envy you. But I'm not so sure now, for you have a rough time ahead."

Rough but not hopeless, he added: rough but full of intellectual and moral challenges. How they respond, he noted, may shed a determinative light on gloomy predictions of scientists who recently forecast the year 2000 as one of hopelessness in dealing with overwhelming problems of mankind.

Dr. Harrison posed what he regarded as five key philosophical questions, namely political careers, personal involvement, spirit of open inquiry, communication, and finally creativeness and humaneness.

Valedictorian of the class was Jerry L. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack S. Price, 604 George, with a grade-point average of 3.99 out of a possible 4.0. So close that there was only .002 of a point difference was Vicky Lee Wallin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wallin, Coahoma.

Ralph Dowden, head of the music department, sang for the standing-room-only crowd, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Skalicky, music faculty member, who also played the marches. Prayers were offered by Martin Landers and Leslie Kelley, faculty members; graduates were certified by Ben Johnson, academic dean, declared graduates by Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, and given diplomas by K. H. McGibbon, president of the board.

Dr. Harrison, confessing that the invitation to speak fulfilled a secret ambition of his, paused to note that the end of the first quarter century for the college produced its largest class of 107; that 1,066 have received degrees (and possibly twice that number completed two years college). Thirteen went on to become ministers, he said, 10 physicians and dentists, 170 nurses, four attorneys, 130 teachers — and 372 in all to higher academic degrees. The important thing, he said, was that 60 per cent or better had remained in the community to enrich its life.

Politicians, he said in his address, may well be the most important people in our society today in that they are manipulators of the minds and possessions of men. It is the duty of those in and out of politics to expect statesmanship, and even pray that they be "divinely inspired."

To prevent the cycle of civilization collapse, individuals must be aggressive and take the initiative in affairs about them. The attitude of indifference, he said, is the most destructive of all forces and leads to moral inertia.

The search for truth with open and unbiased minds he charged the students. Avoid pollution of the human mind and sloppy, disorganized thinking.

A critical ingredient in the generation ahead is that of (See ROUGH, P. 5-A, Col. 7)

WORK ON UNCONTESTED BILLS

Gas Tax Ax Key To Veto?

AUSTIN (AP) — It appeared more and more certain today that Gov. Preston Smith will accept the tax bill which already has passed the legislature, if the gasoline tax increase is jerked out.

Several legislators who did not want their names used said the governor has stated he would sign the $903.8 million bill if the two-cents-a-gallon gasoline tax hike is removed.

Rep. John Traeger of Seguin has introduced a bill to "just that."

Traeger said he hoped to get a committee hearing on the bill today.

"If all goes well we could vote on it Monday or Tuesday," he said.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who seldom even talks to the governor, said he planned to let Speaker Gus Mutscher handle the negotiations with Smith.

"We need to stay calm and use sound logic and reason," said Barnes.

If the gas tax increase were removed from the bill it would reduce the tax package by $70 million, still enough to finance state government for two years at the levels proposed by legislators.

The 10 senators and House members working on a compromise spending bill, however, are just biding their time waiting for a solution to the tax question.

Sen. Mike McKool, Dallas, tied up Senate action on some House-approved bills Wednesday because, he said, the House was ignoring Senate proposals in favor of its own.

McKool claimed specifically that Rep. Jim Stroud, also of Dallas, cost the state up to $2,000 by refusing to let the House Elections Committee consider McKool's permanent voter registration measure — which had passed the Senate — but insisting that the committee hear Stroud's proposal.

The "$2,000" is the estimated cost, McKool said, for a bill to advance through the committee process to final passage.

McKool relinquished the floor after obtaining a promise from Barnes that Barnes would talk with Mutscher about the matter.

Senators finally passed several House-approved bills, including a measure to carry out the provisions of a proposed constitutional amendment which is on the May 18 ballot. The amendment would permit the Texas Water Development Board to issue up to $100 million in bonds for grants to cities to obtain federal funds for water quality programs.

They also sent to the governor a bill requiring justices of the peace who have not served at least two terms to take 40 hours of law instruction within a year of their election or give up their jobs.

The Senate amended and sent back to the House a bill allowing the State Board of Education to regulate private vocational schools.

Cancer 'War' Alerts Issued

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come for an all-out campaign to cure cancer, say government leaders.

President Nixon proposes just such an effort, and he spelled out objectives and some approaches on Tuesday. They are very similar to those in a bill already introduced in the Senate by Sens. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., and Jacob Javits, R-N.Y.

TAKE IT EASY

Cancer specialists applaud the purpose. But they sound some notes of caution.

Curing cancer cannot be accomplished quickly with the kind of powerful concentration of money and talent that produced the A-bomb, or which sent men safely to the moon and back.

Those were marvelous achievements, but mostly engineering ventures, successfully using basic knowledge that was already available. Einstein and others had discovered what might happen when an atom was split. Galileo, Newton and others had produced the basic facts about gravity, space, planetary motions, and other principles for going to the moon.

But that kind of fundamental knowledge does not yet exist for either curing or preventing most human cancers.

Perhaps only 50 to 60 percent of the basic knowledge required for full control of cancer exists at this time, says a spokesman for the American Cancer Society.

NO REASON

When the rest may be found, and by whose trained minds, can't be predicted. But, he says, that's no reason not to go looking for it more intensively and extensively, and to apply existing knowledge more intensively and efficiently to treat cancer patients, or to prevent cancers.

But unless the difficulties of finding the answers are appreciated, there's danger of raising false hopes.

"You can't go down to the corner drug store and buy a breakthrough in cancer research," says one medical school dean, Dr. Arthur Richardson of Emory University.

HCJC Scores Press Victory

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — A third straight sweepstakes triumph was scored by San Jacinto Junior College in 1971 competition of the Texas Junior College Press Association.

Until the Pasadena school started its victory string, Tyler Junior College had won the sweepstakes prize for the large college division three times in a row. Tyler placed second this year.

Contest director David R. Bowers disclosed Wednesday that Blinn Junior College of Brenham was the division I (under 2,000 enrollment) sweepstakes winner.

Second, third and honorable mention behind Blinn were Temple, Howard County of Big Spring and Cooke County (Gainesville).

San Antonio College and Tarrant County Northeast followed Tyler in the over-2,000 enrollment division.

Seventeen of 18 colleges entering shared in the awards.

Yearbook and magazine competitions will be judged at a fall meeting in Dallas.

Special Features Appear In New Sunday Magazine

A native Texan's refreshing look at Texas and Jerry LeVias' persistence in overcoming handicaps will be featured Sunday in the first issue of the Texas Star, a colorful weekly magazine which will be distributed in The Herald and 25 other Texas newspapers.

The first issue of the magazine, which has a circulation of about 1,500,000, features a dramatic, full-color picture of the State Capitol on the cover.

Jimmy Banks, editor of the Star, takes a close look in the first issue at his native state and concludes that "even after seeing it, many 'foreigners' don't believe it."

"This fascinating land of vibrant, enchanting contrasts defies the imagination of even those natives who insist Texas has plumbers who could 'fix' Niagra Falls and firemen who could extinguish the volcanic blazes of Mt. Veruvius," writes Banks.

Johnny Hollis of the Houston Post sports staff has high praise for LeVias in a feature on the pint-sized football star for the Houston Oilers.

"Life is a series of challenges for LeVias," writes Hollis. "SMU was one of those challenges; before that, it was high school and, before that, polo. Now it is pro football, and also helping the black man realize economic equality. Toward the latter goal, LeVias is leading by example."

The first issue also features columns by Humorist Wick Fowler, Cooking Expert Mary Faulk Kooch and History Expert Weldon Hart, all associate editors of the new magazine, plus an all-Texas question and answer column by Wanda J. Campbell.

Tuesday's Amendments

Without personalities or highly controversial issues to stir up a lot of people, prospects are less than bright for a large turnout of voters May 18 in four proposed amendments of the Texas Constitution.

But conscientious citizens — and we count people who read editorials as among them — do not need to be stirred up and worked to a feverish pitch to do their duty. They will vote every time there is an opportunity.

The four amendments proposed:

1. Establishment of a legislative ethics committee.
2. Permit the legislature to propose constitutional amendments in called (as well as regular sessions).
3. Erase the ceiling on welfare payments to the aged, blind and disabled, and fix a $55 million ceiling on aid to dependent children.
4. Authorize issuance of $100 million in state bonds to help cities and towns qualify for greater federal grants in upgrading disposal plants.

The first amendment sets up a commission (named by the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeals, Judicial Qualifications Commission and two members by the legislature) to propose standards for financial disclosure, rules for ethical conduct, etc. for legislators. There is a hook on this, namely that the legislature would have the power of veto (on a roll call vote) before activation of the code, and that the commission could recommend salary increases for legislators. So it is something of a swap — a code for prospect of higher pay. It's not obligatory either way, but even so perhaps the merits of a code outweigh the other although many have very fixed ideas about the pay.

The regular session of the legislature has never produced a shortage of proposed constitutional amendments — quite the contrary. We cannot see that No. 2 will improve the situation.

Since it involves those who are unable to help themselves, the welfare amendment (No. 3) should merit favorable consideration. Few want to pinch the blind, the disabled, the aged who need assistance. The dependent children are in their situation through no fault of their own. There is good prospect the welfare system is going to be overhauled, or that the federal government may take over certain classes of it. In the meantime, however, these unfortunate people need the maximum help.

No. 4 has been called the "clean water" amendment. At the heart of it is the authorization of $100 million in bonds (which would be repaid by localities to the state) that would open the way to federal grants up to 55 per cent for upgrading sewage plants. Pressure on cities to clean up their effluent is going to be terrific, and they will need all the help they can get. Except for a few possible cases of default, this would not cost the state; on the contrary, it might save cities millions. This amendment, in our view, warrants wide approval.

But regardless of how you look at it — you ought to vote your convictions Tuesday. And encourage all your friends and other associates to vote, too.

Working For Yourself

Cheer up. You're making money for yourself now, if you are the "average American taxpayer." The U.S. Chamber of Commerce which keeps statistics on such grim matters, figures that every penny made by the average taxpayer from Jan. 1 through May 9 was just enough to pay his local, state and federal taxes for this year.

That figures out to one-third of a year's income. The average taxpayer — and there are millions — may soon reach a breaking point. Then he will have to demand a halt to tax increase — which will mean a cut in government revenue and a reduction in services. The taxpayer eventually will have to make a choice: how long he wants to work for the government.

Health Insurance Bonanza?

NEW YORK (AP) — The private health insurance industry is angered and frustrated by what it considers a wild accusation from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that a proposed national health insurance plan would give it a financial bonanza.

Smith said, it could mean the loss of 200,000 jobs by private insurers, and tens of thousands more in Blue Cross and Blue Shield. "It is a matter of which way the country will go," he said in an interview.

"It is very difficult in group health insurance to find a profit of even one per cent," said J. Henry Smith, president of Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States. "If we could find that it would look very big to us."

The private industry, about 45 per cent of which is nonprofit, supports the Burleson-McIntyre health care proposal, which was developed by the industry and which would be underwritten by private carriers.

Some industry officials fear the Kennedy-Griffith proposal for a national health security plan as not only a new insurance mechanism but an attack on the existing private enterprise insurance industry.

"The opposition makes two points," Smith said. "First, that health insurance is a windfall for the industry. This is just unrealistic. Second, that the insurance mechanism of the country—Blue Cross and the private insurers—has not succeeded in holding down the cost of health care, and so has lost its claim to efficiency.

"Does this mean," Smith was asked, "that the charge of inefficiency has merit?"

"No," he replied. "In the early days of health insurance, the companies did not look upon themselves as policemen." Neither did Blue Cross, he said, but both are willing to accept that responsibility now.

The problem of rising costs crept up, Smith said, because of the fight for wage equality, advances in technology, and the inefficient use of hospital space and beds by patients who could have been treated as outpatients.

"But it's unfair to say we've failed or were less effective than the government. Nobody has succeeded. Costs have gone up in other countries where the government is the insurer. And Medicare costs have gone up very rapidly."

There was a time I am told that all one had to do to buy groceries was telephone an order to the neighborhood store. Soon the needed items would be delivered to your door.

lose the list or spot one item that I really need that I forgot to put on the list. Once I add that one item I go crazy.

THAT SOUNDS like a good idea to me. Grocery stores persecute me. No matter if I go after a loaf of bread, I wind up with a $30 bill — I realize groceries are high but believe me it is not the loaf of bread which drains my pocketbook.

NEITHER CAN I go straight through a grocery store. I wind around. For instance I can walk right past the meat counter to get eggs. Then I remember I need meat. So back I go to the meat counter. When I get there I remember I need milk and butter which is, you guessed it, over there with the eggs.

AS A MATTER of fact it usually is not even the groceries which add up. It's all those "extras" I don't really need.

While I'm doing all this crisscrossing I'm also passing and succumbing to — such jewels as a room deodorizer which looks like a bird and hangs in one corner of the room, a special new type of toothbrush made out of foam rubber and guaranteed not to scratch your gums etc.

For instance if I called in my order I would never think to order the latest copy of any particular magazine. But when I walk in the door past the magazine rack and see that headline, "How To Lose 50 Pounds Overnight" or "How To Get By On Your Salary," then I'm lost.

GROCERY STORE managers have mixed emotions about me. Some like to see me coming, some don't. One suggested I consult a doctor about my compulsive buying.

AND THEN OF COURSE there is always the obstacle course of dishes, glasses, bowls, vases, nutcrackers, can-openers, cheese graters, cookie cutters, false eyelashes, nail polish etc.

That would be too horrible to contemplate — imagine me being exposed to a choice between the common cold, an operation for gallstones, an appendectomy. I'd tie up the operating room for a month.

I usually wind up with one sack of groceries and four sacks of etc. Making a list is no good. I either

WASHINGTON — After a week of dealing with hectic demonstrations involving the arrest of at least 12,000 protesters, Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson of Washington must have been glad that Sunday was truly a day of rest and change.

IT'S A WHALING to ride Sh aquatic park has recovered

This correspondent happened to be invited by a friend to attend the services at the National Presbyterian Church, one of the largest in the capital. As we picked up the program for the service, we noticed that, besides the sermon, there was an Old Testament lesson and a New Testament lesson and that the latter was to be read by Police Chief Wilson. A footnote explained that Chief Wilson is the cub master of the Cub Scouts of the church.

"I hope that Washington's decisive opposition to mob force will set an example for other communities . . . to do the same. If they do, we will see an end to the extremist practice of running roughshod over the rights of others."

MR. WILSON has been at the head of the Washington police force for the past two years, but has been in the department for more than 20 years. When his most difficult problem with the demonstrators arose last week, he carefully planned the police action to be taken. He has received widespread praise for the discretion he used.

"I am proud of the Washington city police. I am proud that they stopped a repressive mob from robbing the rights of others. It is my firm belief that . . . authorities in other cities will not let the rights robbers rule their streets."

The general impression created by critics of chiefs of police nowadays is that they are heartless, if not brutal, men. Last week Chief Wilson handled the demonstrations with a minimum of force. He won the praise of President Nixon, who met with him, Mayor Walter E. Washington and a small group of military commanders on Saturday. The President feels that the police took proper action in making arrests and that what occurred was a model for the handling of demonstrations.

"Let the critics of the Washington police choose to make martyrs out of the mob which tried to rob the rights of 800,000 Washingtonians and injured 34 policemen in the process. As for myself, I will choose as heroes the valiant Washington policemen who kept the city of Washington functioning and protected the rights of their fellow citizens."

POLICE CHIEF Wilson ordered mass arrests of those participating in activities which sought to "close down the government." Some criticism was expressed in Congress, but on Monday the Senate approved by voice vote a resolution sponsored by Sen. Carl Curtis, Republican of Nebraska, praising chief Wilson and his men as well as other police and military personnel here for "consistent, just, calm and efficient action under strenuous conditions" in the confrontations with the demonstrators.

THE ATTORNEY general's comments were made in a speech delivered before the California Peace Officers Association in San Francisco. He also made this comment:

"But it's unfair to say we've failed or were less effective than the government. Nobody has succeeded. Costs have gone up in other countries where the government is the insurer. And Medicare costs have gone up very rapidly."

"I am proud of the Washington city police. I am proud that they stopped a repressive mob from robbing the rights of others. It is my firm belief that . . . authorities in other cities will not let the rights robbers rule their streets."

"I believe women are sincere in wanting equal rights the day I take one of them to lunch and she grabs the tab before I can pick it up."

These are among the intriguing items gleaned from Webster's Dictionary of Proper Names G. & C. Merriam Co., $9.95.

WASP Mess Boys

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — There was so much publicity attached to the announcement last week when the U.S. Navy promoted its first black officer to rear admiral that little attention was paid to another breakthrough in rigid Navy tradition. With no little pride the Navy announced that it had appointed its first white Anglo-Saxon Protestant waiter to serve in a U.S. Navy officers' mess.

The lucky seaman was John Paul Jones VII of Akron, Ohio.

UP UNTIL Seaman Jones' appointment as mess boy, only Filipino and black sailors were permitted to serve naval officers. But after a secret Defense Department race relations report, it was decided that if the Navy was going to have black admirals it would have to have white mess boys to even things out.

Although the U.S. Army, Air Force and Marine Corps all use WASP mess attendants, the Navy, according to the report, had been dragging its feet. The Navy kept saying that it couldn't find any qualified WASP seamen to wait on officers' tables.

"THERE ARE many white sailors who are as good at serving officers as blacks and Filipinos," the report stated. "They have just not been given the opportunity to prove it. It is our opinion that if the U.S. Navy hopes to recruit more members of the Anglo-Saxon race, it had better open up its kitchen and pantries to Caucasian servicemen."

Stung by the report, the Navy denied that John Paul Jones VII had been appointed to serve in an officers' mess because he was white.

"JONES," a Navy spokesman said,

"was selected because he was the most qualified waiter we could find."

The public information officer was questioned about the fact that Jones' appointment came only one week after the Defense Department report was leaked to the press.

"I'll admit," he said, "it sounds like a coincidence, but the U.S. Navy, and you are going to have to take my word for this, has been looking for qualified WASP mess boys for the last 192 years."

"I WOULD like to add, gentlemen, that John Paul Jones VII will not be the last WASP mess boy to make it in the Navy. It is our policy to see that our officers' galleys are staffed by the best men available, regardless of race, creed or color."

Seaman Jones was asked if he expected to find any hostility among the other mess boys.

"Perhaps at first, but I'm going to prove that WASPs can do anything Filipinos can. I feel I represent every white Anglo-Saxon Protestant whose dream it has been for 192 years to serve in Navy officers' messes on land as well as on sea. This is a golden opportunity, and I plan to make the most of it."

AFTER THE press conference Seaman John Paul Jones VII was taken to the White House, where President Nixon presented him with a white mess jacket and an aluminum tray. Witnessing the scene was Jones' father, a retired U.S. Navy admiral, who at the end of the ceremony broke into tears.

'Pure' Athletics

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Since I am neither psychiatrist nor college president, I am specially qualified to offer an objective judgment on the question of why so many college students behave like French cutpurses, with a helping of Skid Row. They learn the ropes at Old P. U., notably in the department of athletics.

THIS OPINION is submitted in reply to more than 50 letters from anguished readers wondering why collegians do not avail themselves of the wholesome therapy of campus sports instead of scampering naked around Hell City, practicing arson. The answer is that sports at too many colleges are hard-nosed Big Business.

We have lived so long with a situation that would bring a blush of shame to the visage of the most hardened Mafioso that we tend to forget the effect of its exposure on our campus cutups. I speak to the system which has made a dirty joke of the sanctity of contracts signed by college coaches and the practice of signing up high school athletes for money, to perform as "amateurs."

RECENTLY, the University of Oregon stole a basketball coach from the University of Pennsylvania, although the coach had a long-term contract at Penn. Joining the spirit of fun, Ivy League Penn pilfered a new coach from Boston College, his unexpired contract with B. C. notwithstanding. Meanwhile, Notre Dame helped itself to Fordham's coach, who had three years to go on his gentlemen's agreement, in writing.

THE DIRTY part is that there is nothing unique about these cases. It happens all the time at our holier-than-thou halls of academe, and indeed has acquired a kind of underworld legitimacy through long usage. It is why, I am sure, college athletes sign million-dollar contracts with one professional team, then jump to a club that offers a zillion smackers, with car and other niceties.

WITH THE colleges showing the way, there was little annoyance voiced in print over the case of Curt Flood, a baseball player. Flood made headlines by suing baseball over the reserve clause, as a matter of principle. But he forgot principle long enough to sign a $10,000-a-year contract with the bumbling Washington Senators, and then rejected it wholly by fleeing to Europe after collecting more than half of his annual booty.

IT USED to be that sports was considered a big chunk of the American apple pie, an endeavor which in the words of the late Grantland Rice taught kids that winning was secondary to how they played the game. But in this era of the decline (and fall?) of the American empire, I am constrained to find extenuating circumstances in the case of the brat who prefers spouting obscenities at cops. At least he has made a break with the hypocrisy of the head coach.

Trustees Ponder Problem Of Pregnant Schoolgirls

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas school trustees pondered the problem today of whether pregnant schoolgirls should be allowed on stage to receive their high school diplomas at graduation time.

Mrs. Linda Strudwick and Debra Kerby appeared before the board Wednesday to ask: "Why can't we walk across the stage and get our diplomas?"

The board gave no answer but agreed to come up with some recommendation at its next meeting.

Meanwhile the girls' plea split the board right down the middle.

"I can assure you it is not a medical reason," observed Dr. Dan Foster of University of Texas Medical School, attacking the old rule which keeps them away.

Dr. Sam Farris also supported the girls.

"If we can present diplomas to persons in wheelchairs—and they're in worse shape than these girls—I don't know why we can't give them diplomas. After all, with the graduation gowns they're going to wear, it's just an academic question."

Supt. Nolan Estes pointed out that Dallas schools had excluded pregnant pupils until this year.

"Now we have established centers for pregnant girls to help them complete their high school education," he said.

"However, it is the policy of the school district that these students be excluded from the graduation exercises. We award the diplomas later."

"The girls who posed the question are both at the city's White Rock Center for Pregnant Girls. They want to take part in commencement with their peers at Sunset High School.

COSTLY TENANT — The San Francisco Redevelopment Agency couldn't evict Don Caldwell and his dog from a 210-room hotel on skid row because of a court order. As a result the pair were the only hotel occupants at a cost of $1,394 a month. Efforts to relocate Caldwell and companion failed because most landlords would not take animals. Finally the agency got the San Francisco Housing Authority to permit Caldwell and his dog to move into a recently completed public housing apartment.

POPULATION VARIANCES

Representatives Approve Congressional Remap Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — A congressional redistricting plan with only a tiny population variance between districts has been approved by a House committee. "We feel we have a tolerance the courts will accept, 2 to 2 per cent from top to bottom," a spokesman said. The plan approved by the House Redistricting Committee pairs two West Texas congressmen and fails to cut district lines for the Houston-Beaumont area.

VOTE MONDAY

Rep. Delwin Jones of Lubbock, committee chairman, said he hoped the House would vote on the bill by next Monday afternoon "at the latest." Senators also will have their own congressional redistricting bill, and the final map will be drawn by a 10-man House-Senate Conference Committee.

The bill would put U.S. Reps. Graham Purcell, Wichita Falls Democrat, and Bob Price, Pampa Republican, in a single district, forcing them to run against each other if both seek re-election.

Jones said the districts fell easily within the U.S. Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rule. The most populous district, with 469,379, would be that of U.S. Rep. Bob Poage, Waco. Least populous, with 463,908, would be in Dallas County.

A large chunk of Southeast Texas, including Harris (Houston), Jefferson (Beaumont-Port Arthur), Galveston, Chambers, Brazoria and Fort Bend counties was left without district lines.

Instead, the area is designated on the map as having four congressmen running at large within the area.

RUNNING AT LARGE Jones said exact lines would be drawn later in conference. The area would receive the additional congressman Texas was allocated because of its population growth since 1960. Harris County now has three congressmen, and U.S. Rep. Jack Brooks of Beaumont represents Jefferson, Galveston and Chambers counties.

Rep. Clyde Haynes of Vidor, chairman of the subcommittee on congressional redistricting said efforts were made to cut Harris County into new districts. But he indicated sharp differences among Houston legislators blocked agreement, and time ran out. "We felt it would be better to get it to conference," Haynes said.

DOWDY SURPRISE Rep. Tom Bass of Houston protested the failure to draw boundary lines for Harris County congressmen.

"I would have thought that was the responsibility of the committee," Bass said.

Rep. Zan Holmes of Dallas also voted against the bill in protest to a "mid-cities district" drawn between Dallas and Fort Worth. Based on the equal population standard of 466,530 persons per congressional district, Dallas County would be entitled to nearly three congressmen by itself. Instead, the county got two congressmen and would have to share three more with two rural districts and eastern Tarrant County.

Bexar County (San Antonio) would have one congressman and would share two others with largely rural districts. To the surprise of many, the district of U.S. Rep. John Dowdy, Athens Democrat who faces federal bribery charges, was left largely intact. Dowdy had been considered vulnerable to "pairing" with another East Texas congressman to even up population.

LOOK WEST

Haynes is from Orange County, which would be in Dowdy's district, and has indicated an interest in running for Congress. Because of population shifts the committee had the choice of pairing either two East Texas or two West Texas congressmen. They chose to look to the west.

Purcell's district was shifted to the west, with five of his North Central Texas counties detached to bring the district of U.S. Rep. Ray Roberts, McKinney Democrat, up to the population standard.

House Speaker Gus Mutscher, whom some felt would have a congressional district carved for him, was left in Austin congressman J. J. Pickle's district.

Rep. John Young of Corpus Christi's district would lose some of Nueces County and all of Brazoria County and gain Wharton, Jackson, Goliad, Bee and Live Oak counties.

Rep. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen would lose Zapata and gain Duvall and Jim Wells counties and the part of Nueces County Young lost. Rep. Richard White of El Paso would gain Odessa out of Ector County and lose Pecos, Brewster, Terrell, Pecos and Ward counties.

BURLESON GAINS

Rep. Omar Burleson of Abilene would gain Dickens, King, Knox, Baylor, Archer, Garza, Kent, Stonewall, Borden, Young, Jack, Parker and Scurry counties and lose Coke, McCulloch, Glasscock, Lampasas, Mason, Llano, and Burnet counties.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock would add Parmer, Castro, Bailey, Lamb, Hale and the outskirts of Odessa in Ector County and lose Motley, Garza, Borden and Scurry counties.

Rep. Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio would retain the central portion of Bexar County. Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo would get a more westerly

Local Hospitals Send Delegates

At least 10 Big Springers will attend the Texas Hospital Association's 42nd Annual Convention in San Antonio Saturday through Wednesday.

The five-day meeting annually provides an opportunity for health care personnel from throughout the state to consider ways for improving patient services and yet keep pace with strict new federal regulations imposed upon the health field.

Medical Center Memorial Hospital and Big Spring State Hospital are the only local hospitals sending personnel to the convention. Included are: Norman Knox, Mary Alice Anderson, Carmen Phillips, Dannabel Meacham, Darlene Dean and Letha Duke, from Medical Center Memorial, and Mrs. Jerri Reeves, Mrs. Otilie Van Vleet, R.N., Mrs. Nelva Brien, R.N., and Dr. Preston Harrison, from the state hospital.

Keynote speaker at a combined session of the health groups opening the general meeting will be Stephen M. Morris, president-elect, American Hospital Association and president, Samaritan Health Service, Phoenix, Ariz.

Another highlight of general interest to all groups will be an analysis of proposed national health care programs, including the American Hospital Association "Ameriplan."

Nixon's Welfare Reform Plan Given Another Running Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's family-assistance plan for reforming the welfare system, which fell by the congressional wayside last year, has been given a new, running start.

The House Ways and Means Committee has included essentials of the plan — substantial federal takeover of welfare and a $2,400 income assurance for a family of four — in a mammoth Social Security-welfare reform measure.

Approved Wednesday except for a final review of language and formal vote, the measure is expected to go to the House for consideration early next month.

SOCIAL SECURITY

When fully effective in 1973 the big bill would pump an additional $6 billion to Social Security pensioners and welfare recipients.

The Social Security portion would require a sizable hike in payroll tax collected from employees and employers, though not as stiff as the committee tentatively approved earlier.

Through increases both in the wage base and the tax rate, the bill would raise the maximum payment by an employee and his employer from this year's $405.60 each to $550.80 in 1972. The maximum increase would apply only to those earning $10,200 or more. Committee spokesmen said the states could expect to save $1.5 billion to $2 billion of the money now expended on welfare.

TAKE OVER

The fiscal relief would fall unevenly on the states, depending principally on how generous their present welfare programs are.

But — a last-minute tailoring assured the dozen large, heavily paying states — protection against increases in their expenditures above the 1971 level caused by addition of the working poor and natural growth of the relief rolls.

The government would take over in stages the cost of welfare for the indigent aged, blind and disabled.

The committee voted both penalties and incentives to encourage the minority of welfare recipients considered able to work to prepare for and take jobs.

Such persons would be enrolled in a training assignment program administered by the Labor Department and funds would be provided to states and localities for 200,000 public service jobs. Day-care facilities for working mothers would be funded.

Phillies Scold Ump, Then Blow Decision

The burning question in Philadelphia is whether the Phillies were done in Wednesday night by three pitches that hit Chicago Cub bats or one pitch that didn't.

There may be different opinions on the matter. As far as the Cubs are concerned, home runs by Ron Santo, Johnny Callison and Billy Williams that accounted for six runs, in a 9-4 triumph were the keys to victory.

The Phillies, however, contend that a ruling by umpire Tom Gorman that Jim Hickman checked his swing and did not foul tip a 3-2 pitch was as crucial as any of the homers.

Elsewhere in the National League, Houston edged the New York Mets 5-4, San Diego nipped Pittsburgh 2-1, San Francisco trounced Cincinnati 7-2 and Los Angeles blanked Atlanta 5-0. St. Louis and Montreal were rained out.

The Cubs and Phillies were scoreless in the fourth inning when the fireworks—physical and verbal—started. Williams singled with one out and then hit Hickman. Joe Pepitone popped up for what the Phils thought should have been the third out, but Santo belted a three-run homer and Callison followed with a solo shot.

In the seventh, Glenn Beckert doubled three runs across and Williams homered. Santo, Callison and Williams also homered the previous night. Tony Taylor and Joe Lis connected for the Phils.

Hal Lanier doubled for two more. The others crossed on an error by Tony Perez, Frank Johnson's grounder and Ken Henderson's sacrifice fly. Johnny Bench homered for the losers.

K. Fowler fashioned the mound win, yielding only three hits to the Devils. His mates got eight assorted blows off T. Taylor.

Terry Kelly smashed a first inning double for the Lions. No player on either team had more than one hit. Bobby Doe, H. Holguin, J. Wrinkle and Fowler had the other hits for the Lions while J. Sevey, M. Hill and Taylor hit safely for the Devils.

Lions Turn Back Devils By 8-3 Tab

The Lions made it four wins in five National Little League starts by subduing the Devils, 8-3, here Tuesday evening. The Devils dropped back to 1-4 in the standings.

Donohue Registers 180-MPH Lap In Indy 500 Warmup

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — "Smooth" is the word for Mark Donohue, who unofficially turned the first 180-mile-an-hour lap at the 61-year-old Indianapolis Motor Speedway Wednesday.

The one-word description came from Peter DePaolo, 1925 winner of the Speedway's annual 500-mile race at an average speed of 101.13.

"This is just fantastic," said DePaolo, 73, of Dearborn, Mich., who made his annual appearance to watch practice for the million-dollar race May 29.

Speedway veterans didn't know whether to give most of the credit to the 34-year-old graduate engineer driver, to the master minding of car owner Roger Penske, or to the new Mark 16 McLaren-Offenhauser.

Donohue, running at an undeniably low 54 degrees in a brisk northwest wind, was caught at 50 seconds flat for the 2 1/2-mile oval on a half-dozen stop watches. Some in different locations made it 50.12 or 179.6.

The Speedway's electric eye timer was in use in drivers' tests for rookies. One of them, Dee Jones, 38, of Phoenix, Ariz., crashed near the pit entrance a short time later after completing the 150-mile-an-hour phase of the test. He was not hurt. The car may be repairable.

BURNED UP — According to Kansas City manager Bob Lemon, Royals' player Carl Taylor, above, took himself out of the game against the Orioles Wednesday night, said "I quit," and burned his equipment in front of his locker. Lemon said Taylor was suspended.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Run In 6th Wins For Starfighters

The Starfighters scored a run in the final inning to edge the T-Birds, 7-6, in International Little League competition here Wednesday night.

The win was the fourth in five starts for the Starfighters. The T-Birds are 3-2. The success enabled the Starfighters to move into first place in the standings.

Harvey Adams drove in the winning run with two outs in the final round. He had two hits in as many trips. John Medlin and Dale Hollandsworth also had one-basers for the Starfighters.

The T-Birds clicked off two double plays to avert disaster. Ken Coffee, Manuel Diaz and Barney Mashburn all had hits for the T-Birds.

double to help Neil's cause. Myers reported to the mound to work the last two innings for the Ravens. He fanned the six batters he faced.

The Scorpions dropped back in the race with a 3-2 mark.

The Mustangs mauled the Sports, 10-3, in American Minor Little League play Wednesday night.

Tim Doering, helped along by Jimmy Marquez in the last innings, won the mound decision. The two of them limited the Sports to a solitary hit.

The Ponies are now leading the standings with a 3-0-1 record. The Sports are 0-3-1.

Tony Lane collected two singles, Robert Armstrong a double and a single and David Trim two singles, all for the Mustangs.

When Gorman called ball four on Hickman, with Williams running, catcher Mike Ryan exploded and he, pitcher Jim Bunning and manager Frank Lucchesi all screamed at the ump.

"He foul ticked it," roared Ryan. "I didn't hear anything," said Gorman as he waved Hickman to first base.

N.Y. remained one game in front of Pittsburgh in the NL East, however, when San Diego shaded the Pirates on Dave Roberts' four-hit pitching and Ollie Brown's tie-breaking single.

Roberts hurled brilliant ball over the final six innings after singles by Clarence Gaston, Nate Colbert and Brown snapped a 1-all tie in the third.

The Giants erupted for six runs in the second inning and went on to whip the floundering Reds as Ron Bryant spaced eight hits.

Loser Don Gullett walked Dick Dietz and Alan Gallagher around George Foster's single to set things up. Tito Fuentes singled the first run across and

The Ravens scored in every inning to rout the Scorpions, 21-5, in International Minor Little League play here Wednesday night.

The Ravens, now 4-1 in the standings, ripped Scorpion hurling for 16 hits. Gary Normandau and Ricky Myers each had three safeties for the winners while Randy Sheffield accounted for two of the Raven hits.

One of Sheffield's blows was a three-run homer. Pete Neil recorded his second pitching victory. David Camp lashed a

The Hawks made it five wins in six American Little League starts by routing the Jets, 17-5, here Wednesday.

Tommy Churchwell and S. Evans paced the Hawks' 11-hit offense with three blows each. Churchwell was credited with the hill success.

M. Evans collected two safeties for the Hawks. Churchwell limited the Jets to four hits. R. Parsons, D. Coffee, J. Combs and R. Jenkins hit safely for the losers.

AFTER OPERATION Venturi Starting Anew On Pro Tour

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Ken Venturi has bounced out of golf's graveyard again with a new, re-made right hand a soul full of fresh hopes.

"I was sure my career was dead—that I'd never play another round of competitive golf," the tall, graying ex-U.S. Open champion from San Francisco said today as he nervously awaited his tee-off in the $125,000 Houston Champions International Tournament.

"I'm giving it a try although I haven't played more than ten rounds of golf since last August. I'm scared to death."

Venturi's golfing comeback is being watched here with as much interest as the rare appearance of the great Ben Hogan.

Venturi, 40 next Saturday, has walked hand-in-hand with tragedy almost from the day he came out of California in the mid-1950s hailed as the man most likely to usurp Hogan's throne.

In 1956, as an amateur, he had the Masters championship in his grasp, leading through the third round, and then blew the tournament with a final 80, allowing Jackie Burke Jr., to come from eight shots back to win.

In 1958 and 1960, as a pro, he was being fitted for the coveted green Masters champion's jacket when Arnold Palmer came soaring in on a blanket of birdies to take the title.

An official ruling in favor of Palmer on the 12th hole, giving him a three instead of a five, cost Venturi the 1958 Masters. After that Venturi's career was one series of heartbreaks and disasters after another—largely due to physical problems—until 1964 when he trudged through the suffocating heat of Washington, D.C., to win the U.S. Open.

Venturi was named PGA Golfer of the Year and a sports magazine acclaimed him the year's outstanding athlete of all sports. Venturi thought that now perhaps his bad luck had at last deserted him.

Bass Fishermen Set To Convene

Bass fishermen gather in the Reddy Room of the Texas Electric Service Company building at 7 o'clock this evening to discuss the formation of a Big Spring bass club.

Ken Lancaster, who is leading the drive to form the club, said he had a list of nearly 75 persons interested in such an organization.

Bass clubs are in existence all over the country. Objectives of such a society include campaigning for better fishing and promoting fishing contests.

Sunland Park's Wagering Handle Shows Big Gain

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Solid increases in both wagering and attendance were recorded during Sunland Park's 1970-71 season.

Total handle for both the fall and spring season came out to $13,253,888 for a daily average of $155,928. This is a hike of 5.6 per cent. over last year.

The 70-71 attendance finished up at 237,852 for a daily average of 2,798, up an even 7 per cent.

In comparing the recently concluded spring meeting to the spring campaign last season, the handle is up 6.3 per cent and the attendance reflected a gain of 6.1 per cent.

This spring, the handle reached $9,143,291 for a daily average of $157,842, and the total attendance of 158,482 came out to a daily average of 2,732. The 70-71 season covered 85 race days, one more than the 69-70 meeting.

Per capita wagering for the 70-71 season was $55.72, down 3.6 per cent. But for the spring meeting alone, the per capita figure lifted to $57.69 for a flat 3 per cent gain over the spring season a year ago.

DANGEROUS CATCH — Brewers' Andy Kosco is just able to reach pop foul off bat of New York Yankees' Felipe Alou Wednesday night at game in Milwaukee. Kosco half fell into the Brewers' dugout after making the full effort catch. The Yankees held the Milwaukee team scoreless and won, 3-0.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The softball diamond in Comanche Trail Park should either be improved or be closed and put to other use. Interest is high in softball but the facility is a disgrace to the city. Many adults play the game but they're risking life and limb when they play on the diamond.

One observer said a base runner needs a skin graft after he slides into a base. The caliche that decorates the infield has been pulverized and players find it difficult to remove from their clothing.

The city, which seems to be trying so hard to cater to the golfers' every need, has done nothing for the softball buffs. The screens are coming apart. The lighting system could and should be better.

Go almost anywhere in West Texas and you find better softball facilities than you do here.

Mal Andrews, the Cal State-Hayward track coach, tried a revolutionary new baton exchange with his relay teams this spring which have set observers to buzzing.

Dubbed the PSS exchange (for Prepare, Style and Smoke), the technique is highly unorthodox — so much so that it has caused some background merriment.

Andrews' athletes start from 40 yards back of the exchange line, instead of the customary 20. They keep their backs to approaching men, which is contrary to every theory of baton exchange. The men take three highly stylized steps, thus loosening muscles for the sudden explosion and the start of the run. The receiver is supposed to cover his area in 2.6 seconds. His exchange must be precise, but Andrews says that will come with practice.

Many of the great theories in track and field have originated in California, a track conscious state, so don't sell Andrews' idea short. He might deliver a lot of track people, in time.

More than a few observers think ABC-TV pulled a rock by firing Keith Jackson from his Monday night NFL telecasts and bringing in Frank Gifford.

Jackson was factual, Gifford may be television's best play-by-play man but again he may not be. In his new role, he'll be fighting for the microphone with Don Meredith and Howard Cosell. It may be the most crowded booth in all of broadcasting.

Gifford's style of delivery turns off a lot of people. And Cosell has already made his share of "Guns-moke" buffs.

The San Francisco Giants are carrying horseshoes in their pockets these days and could wind up in the World Series, as a result.

The other night in Atlanta, the score was tied at 2-2 in the bottom of the 11th. The Braves had the bases loaded with one out and dangerous Hank Aaron was coming to bat.

Bang! Aaron bounced into a double play. The Giants then scored three times in the 12th to win.

A team can be good but if it isn't lucky, too, it won't win over the long run.

Dick Conley, who will only be a junior, has been looking particularly good at linebacker in Big Spring's spring football drills.

Dick was counted on to play a lot of fullback next fall. Now, it appears likely he will go both ways.

Juniors Vin McQuilen, Mike Tredaway and Barry Truett also have sparked on defense for the locals — all at the rover's spot.

With a nice mixture of seniors and juniors in the lineup, the say's the limit for the Steers this fall.

The salad days for the Oakland Raiders of the NFL are now. The Raiders sell 50,000 season tickets a year to their home games. What's more, they have a list of 7,000 people waiting to be invited to subscribe for tickets.

On the other hand, the Oakland baseball A's find it hard to give away their tickets.

Those who watched the Milwaukee Bucks annihilate the Baltimore Bullets in those recent NBA playoffs probably saw the greatest player of all time in action.

No, not Lew Alcindor, although he may be, in time. Oscar Robertson is the man. Alcindor was superb under the basket but Robertson was always in the eye of the hurricane and operating with such disarming ease he wrecked the Baltimore battle plan.

Jacky Willis is going to have the unique experience of playing in this summer's Texas High School Coaches Association's All-Star football game — unique for a Forsan athlete, that is. He'll be the first Buff ever to perform in the contest.

Two 5-AAAA standouts will be in the North lineup, which will be two more than last year.

Rader Unloads, Astros Beat Seaver Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Each day had been blue Monday for Doug Rader this season until Tom Seaver came along.

"It was like having a bad illness," said the Houston Astros third baseman about his loss of power this season. "You go to sleep and know that you'll still be ill when you get up."

For a guy who hit 25 home runs and knocked in 87 last year, the freckle-faced, red-haired Rader was beginning to wonder when things would happen for him.

"I've got my swing back," Rader said Wednesday after whistling a Seaver fastball over the 390-foot mark in Shea Stadium for a three-run homer that helped Houston beat New York 5-4.

His first blast of the year ended a 30-game drought and also doubled his woeful RBI total of five. He had been hitting only 154 at game time and was in a 1-for-32 rut before unloading.

"It didn't make any difference who was pitching," said Rader. "I just wanted to get the old swing back. I was guessing and out front of every pitch."

"I've stopped the guessing game now, reduced my swing a bit and I'm waiting a little longer for the pitch and trying to go with it instead of pulling it over the fence," said Rader.

The 6-foot-2, 210-pound Rader, regarded as one of the National League's premier young players, had his best of four previous major league seasons last year when he was named to the league's Golden Glove team for his fielding exploits. In 1969, he had 11 home runs and 83 RBI.

THIRD WIN
It was the 20-year-old right-hander's third victory—all via the shutout route—in seven decisions and his first since April 12.

Rod Carew tripled in the fourth inning and scored the game's lone run on Jim Holt's single off Culp, who had beaten Blyleven 1-0 with a two-hitter 10 days earlier in Boston.

Stottemyres fired his third three-hitter of the season and drove in the only run he needed with a second inning single off Skip Lockwood as the Yankees stretched their win string to four games.

Detroit's Coleman, who started the season on the disabled list after suffering a fractured skull in a spring training mishap, reeled off his third victory without a loss, going the distance for the first time. He scattered eight hits and was backed by Ike Brown's three-run homer and sacrifice fly.

Tom Bradley triggered the White Sox' sweep over the reeling Senators by tossing a five-hitter in the opener for his fourth victory—and second shutout—in five decisions.

LETTER Credit Is Due No. Two Team

To The Editor:
Let's give credit to the "Big Spring No. 2 Golf Team" — Billy Crooker, Robert McFaul, Ike Robb, Milton Jones and Terry Pate. In the first District 5-AAAA Golf Tournament in Midland, the No. 2 Team was called the Black. The No. 1 was called the Gold Team — Howard Stewart, Mark Slate, Mark McCraney, Jarrell Carroll and Mark Peters. The Black Team beat the Gold by 10 strokes.

When going to the second district tournament at Odessa, the No. 1 was given the No. 2 team score, changing them to the Black, and the No. 2 team to the Gold. The boys qualified but Coach Cox decided the No. 1 team should be first. After playing the Odessa tournament, the No. 1 team emerged with a 20 stroke lead over the No. 2 team but had they counted their actual scores the two teams would have been tied with a 649.

I wonder if the No. 2 team might not have been the aggressor had they been given the encouragement and incentive to win by qualifying instead of picking the players each time. I believe we are losing some of our better athletes because of this in our schools.

We had one boy on the No. 2 team that would have been listed in the top ten had he been playing varsity. In Big Spring he would have been next to Mark McCraney in low score.

Utah Stars Defeat Kentucky, 137-127

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Good defense and good health, in that order, can give the Utah Stars the American Basketball Association championship, says Utah coach Bill Sharman.

Utah, leading the best-of-seven championship series 3-2 after a 137-127 victory Wednesday night, can wrap up the title before a national television audience Saturday in Louisville.

A seventh game, if necessary, will be played Tuesday night in Salt Lake City where the Utah Stars has yet to win this season's 16 and grabbed eight rebounds.

Dan Issel of Kentucky continued his high scoring Wednesday, getting 27 points in the first half and 33 for the game. But he got offensive help only from Cincy Powell, who scored 22 points to lead the Stars in both departments. Glen Sharman attributed this to defensive effort that held Ken and 21, respectively, for the lucky guards Louie Dampier and Darel Carrier to 10 points.

Beatty's second-half scoring between them in the first half which came with Issel on the bench much of the time, kept Utah never trailed, running up leads of 34-25 after the first quarter, 75-56 at halftime, and 104-88 after the third period. They led by 20 at one point in the second half before Kentucky pulled to 132-125 on Powell's three-pointer with 35 seconds left.

Carrier, who has a sore left knee, scored 20 points, 13 in the second quarter. Robbins Kentucky has yet to win this season's 16 and grabbed eight rebounds.

Robbins and Jackson played Wednesday 31 minutes apiece. Jackson limped on a heavily taped left leg, first half and 33 for the game. But he got offensive help only from Cincy Powell, who scored 22 points to lead the Stars in both departments. Glen Sharman attributed this to defensive effort that held Ken and 21, respectively, for the lucky guards Louie Dampier and Darel Carrier to 10 points.

Beatty's second-half scoring between them in the first half which came with Issel on the bench much of the time, kept Utah never trailed, running up leads of 34-25 after the first quarter, 75-56 at halftime, and 104-88 after the third period. They led by 20 at one point in the second half before Kentucky pulled to 132-125 on Powell's three-pointer with 35 seconds left.

Tryout Camps Set June 19

Boys of high school age or older that want a shot at professional baseball will have their chance June 19 at Shreveport's Star Stadium. The California Angels, who have a working agreement with the Shreveport Captains of the Dixie Association, have announced that a tryout camp will be held at Star Stadium starting at 10 a.m. on June 19.

The tryout camp will be run by Les Moss, manager of the Shreveport Captains, and Rex Carr, a scout for the California Angels. All boys who come to the camp will be given a thorough looking over and if Moss or Carr sees a boy they like and he is eligible he will be offered a contract. Any boy who is signed to a contract will be reimbursed for his traveling expenses to the tryout camp.

The boys will be given an opportunity to run the 60-yard dash, throw, field and hit. The pitchers will either throw to hitters or in the bullpen. The Angels will furnish the bats and balls while the boys should bring their own uniforms, shoes and gloves.

Avila Hoping To Stay Here

BALTIMORE (AP) — Back to a tumultuous welcome in Venezuela, where he received a Congressional medal and met with the president, jockey Gus Avila is seeking new racing honors in the United States.

Jim French and Bold Reason, Looming directly ahead of the runner-up and third-place course, is Saturday's $150,000 added Preakness, and Avila is jump on the rest of the field confident Canonero II can return to Venezuela. But he'd prefer pursuing his career in the U.S.

"I would like to," the 31-year-old jockey said through an interpreter, "but no one has asked me. I guess I should learn English first."

Canonero II, rated no better than fourth in the probable Preakness odds despite his Derbys, was to be officially entered today in the 1 3/16 mile race from New York to make it official.

Nine more entries, at $1,000 each, were expected today. It will cost another $1,000 each to start on Saturday.

Avila galloped Canonero II on Tuesday and worked the colt a lackluster five furlongs in 1:06. Wednesday, Trainer Juan Arias said he was satisfied, however, describing it as "half work, half fun."

Barnes Suggests Work For Welfare Mothers

AUSTIN (AP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes says mothers on welfare ought to go to work.

Speaking to a Texas Mobile Home convention Wednesday, Barnes said state Aid to Families with Dependent Children rolls are growing at the rate of 12,000 a month.

Welfare mothers gave birth to 6,683 babies in the first seven months of fiscal 1971, he said.

Substantial amounts of welfare money should be spent on birth control materials for mothers on welfare, he said. "I feel sorry for children born into a welfare family—but the welfare mothers are going to have to go to work in Texas," Barnes said.

"Six out of every 10 students will complete high school and of these high school graduates only 50 per cent will enter college. Then from these entering college only one in four will graduate," he said.

More vocational and technical education should be offered in junior and senior high schools, he said.

GETTING SMARTER
The children should be placed in day care centers and their mothers trained for work placement, he said.

Barnes criticized a federal court decision allowing a family to draw welfare even though a man lives in the house.

"These people are getting smarter," he said. "Now they've learned they can just live together without a marriage license and the family can stay on welfare and the man still work."

Barnes also said medical care for welfare recipients, which is going up from $22 million in 1970 to an estimated $144 million in 1972.

"We're paying for medical services some of the welfare recipients do not need and certainly for services the country cannot afford," he said.

FALSE VALUES
Barnes also criticized over-emphasis on college education.

"We're creating false social values as far as education is concerned," he said. "We're making work with one's hands unpopular and placing entirely too high a premium on college education."

State Benefits To Needy Aged May Be Sliced

AUSTIN (AP)—State benefits to needy aged may be cut if Amendment 3 is defeated on May 18, said Bert Holmes of Dallas, president of the Texas United Community Services and a member of the Coordinating Committee, Texas Citizens for Welfare Reform (TCWR).

Amendment 3 if approved by voters would leave allocations to the Texas needy aged, blind and disabled to the state legislature but limit grants to Aid to Families with Dependent Children to $55 million.

"Texas already ranks far below the U.S. average in aid given its poor," said Holmes. He pointed out that Texas' aged needy, unemployable, now get an average of $62.58 per month.

Record Low Wednesday

No rain, but Big Spring did have the coldest day of record Wednesday for May 12, breaking a 40-year record low of 40 degrees set on May 12, 1931. The low Wednesday was 39 degrees.

The lowest temperature recorded for the month of May was 31 degrees in 1907. The highest temperature for the month of May was 109 degrees May 31, 1916.

Wednesday's high was 72, with a record high for May 12 of 98 degrees in 1913.

Party For 'Gus' Boycotted By 'Dirty 30' Lawmakers

WASHINGTON ON THE BRAZOS, Tex. (AP)—Speaker Gus Mutscher was cited by Gov. Preston Smith as "a great public servant" and "one of the true leaders in Texas history."

Wednesday night in ceremonies boycotted by the so-called "Dirty 30" representatives who held their own party in Austin.

The "Dirty 30" have opposed Mutscher this session on taxes, spending, ethics and an investigation of Mutscher's alleged involvement in a stock scandal.

In his speech, Mutscher aimed several barbs at the House dissidents.

"I have no quarrel with those whose honest opinions on the many subjects of legislation differ from my own," Mutscher said. "But I question the motives of anyone who seeks only personal display and self-advancement."

"Frankly, there are those who have tried to enhance their political stature at the expense of mine. But Donna (Mrs. Mutscher) and I are not dismayed at the world of politics, but instead elated at the opportunity of being of public service."

Some 600 persons drank beer and ate barbecue on the grassy slopes of Washington State Park during the ceremonies honoring Mutscher at Texas' shrine of independence.

Mutscher was presented the traditional Speakers Day scroll signed by House members, but 19 members withheld their signatures because of absence.

Rep. Dan Kubiak of Rockdale, who frequently votes with the "Dirty 30" House coalition, said he is "strongly considering" moving to Mutscher's district and running against him.

Kubiak said his decision would depend upon the outcome of legislation drawing new House districts to reflect the 1970 census.

There have been rumors that the bill would place Kubiak and two of the "Dirty 30"—Reps. Charles Patterson of Taylor and John Bigham of Temple—in a single district.

"I am strongly considering the move if they are going to redistrict me as bad as is maintained in some circles... If I am chopped up I make no qualms—I'll be moving," Kubiak said.

A new four-mile-long line connecting El Paso Products Company's Odessa petrochemical complex to Santa Fe Pipeline Company's Chaparral system has been completed and placed in service, according to R. J. Hunt, Chicago, Ill., president of S.F. Pipeline, Chicago. This line is a lateral on the southern leg of Chaparral's gathering system and will move an NGL product stream to fractionation facilities at Mont Belvieu, Tex.

Dallas Won't Be Regional PO Center

DALLAS (AP)—Dallas won't be a regional postal center any more when the U.S. Postal Service reorganization plan becomes effective.

Instead, Memphis, Tenn., will take over the job as Southern Postal Region for 11 states, including Texas.

Texas congressmen were told the change would mean the loss of about 200 jobs for Dallas, most of them white collar assignments.

The Memphis region, one of five regional centers instead of a present 15 throughout the nation, will include Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Dallas Regional Director W. L. Crawford said Dallas will be a metropolitan area headquarters and ousted employees can apply for jobs within the system.

The other regional centers are New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and San Francisco.

New Postal Rates In Effect Locally At 6 A.M. Sunday

"All mail that is in the post office drop boxes, both outside and inside, at 6 a.m. Sunday morning will receive a Saturday cancellation, and the mail coming in after that time will be subject to the new postal increase," said Frank Hardesty, Big Spring postmaster.

Postage rates are going up, and after this Sunday it will take eight cents to mail a letter, 11 cents if you send it by air. Second and third-class mailing rates, plus some fourth-class rates, will jump from 1 percent to 20 percent. Special delivery and registered mail costs also will go up.

Even the stable five-cent post card will go up a penny with the postal increase.

The new rate will mean first class stamp prices have increased by 66 percent since 1932. During the same 39-year period, wholesale prices have increased by 230 percent and the average pay of manufacturing workers has gone up 670 percent, said Hardesty in approval of the increase.

"Despite greater potential traveling distances of letters mailed in the United States, thus greater transportation expense, our present letter rate is equal to or less than that of many smaller countries," Hardesty added. The principle raise or increase will be in the second and third-class mail, and businesses will have to bear 75 percent of the hike, according to Hardesty.

The impact of the proposed two-cent increase in first class postage on the family or individual in Big Spring will be minimal, he said. To the individual who mails one letter a day, the increase will amount to $7.30 a year, but to the person who mails only one letter a week, it will mean only $1.04 a year in increased postage, said the postmaster.

The new postal increase is slanted toward helping the post office system in the country break even in financing by 1975, Hardesty said.

"The whole idea is to get the post office system on a business type basis, which can now be achieved due to the office breaking away from politics, to provide better service to its customers."

The boost comes under what the U.S. Postal Service claims is its authority to postal rates pending a recommendation by the Postal Rate Commission.

The action is being challenged by a group of mail users, led by magazine and newspaper publishers, who seek to halt the increases until the rate commission has time to act.

The commission is to begin hearings next Monday on a permanent $4.5-billion-a-year revenue proposal.

Lubbock Raids Net 50 Accused Of Selling Dope

LUBBOCK (AP)—State police teamed with city and county officers in a Lubbock roundup of 50 persons accused of peddling narcotics.

"They picked up five others in neighboring Brownfield."

The raiders sent forth armed with 55 indictments charging sales of marijuana, hashish, cocaine, LSD and pep pills. About 30 officers took part.

The arrests capped seven months of investigation by three undercover agents.

Nixon To Talk At Library Dedication

AUSTIN (AP) — The man who succeeded Lyndon B. Johnson in the White House will make the speech dedicating the LBJ Library at the University of Texas May 22.

President Richard M. Nixon accepted an invitation Wednesday to make the address.

The program, starting at 11:30 a.m. and lasting less than an hour, will include a speech by Johnson also.

For 30 minutes before the ceremony the Texas Longhorns band will play a concert, ending with "Ruffles and Flourishes" and "Hail to the Chief" as Johnson escorts Nixon to the platform.

The invocation will be given by a minister who is a friend of both men, the Rev. Billy Graham.

Chairman John Peace of the University of Texas system regents will welcome guests, and Chancellor-emeritus Harry Ransom will speak on goals of the Library and School of Public Affairs.

The benediction will be given by the Rev. George Davis of the National City Christian Church in Washington, D. C., which was frequently attended by Johnson.

New Legal Attack On Death Penalty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund has asked the Supreme Court to block legal executions in the United States by considering at least one new legal attack on capital punishment.

648 CONDEMNED
Speaking for 27 of the 648 condemned prisoners the fund urged the court to schedule a hearing in any of the death cases or direct a lower court to take evidence on the contention that capital punishment itself is unconstitutional.

In a brief filed late Tuesday the fund said the situation is "perilous" since the court has ruled out two procedural arguments that had caused a nationwide halt in executions since 1967.

Stays of execution in many of the 648 cases will now be dissolved, the fund said, and "executions are imminent." Additionally, the brief said, many of the prisoners do not have lawyers to help them try to avert execution.

ONE GIRL
The 26 men and one girl, teen-ager Marie Hill of Rocky Mount, N.C., are on death row in eight states, Alabama, California, Colorado, Georgia, Nevada, New Jersey, North Carolina and Virginia.

In all there are 641 male prisoners and seven females under death sentence in 33 states. About 135 have appeals pending in the court.

Earlier Tuesday, William A. Ralph, a 37-year-old delivery man who won a reprieve last December, appealed to the court in a case that may bring about a ruling on use of the death penalty for convicted rapists.

Ralph, convicted in 1961 of an attack on a Kensington, Md. woman, said he was entitled to a new trial because a confession used as evidence against him was not voluntary. The state of Maryland is now expected to file a cross-appeal challenging the finding by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va., that upset Ralph's death sentence.

The issue in this case is whether the Constitution prohibits the death penalty when a "victim's life was neither taken nor endangered."

There are 79 convicted rapists facing execution in 10 states.

MOVE ROAD BLOCK
The fund told the justices "it is surely imperative that no human life be extinguished until the fundamental questions that Ralph raises under the 8th Amendment are authoritatively resolved by this court."

The court last week decided state legislatures are not required to set standards to guide juries choosing between life and death. Also, the court held in the 6-3 ruling, capital trials need not be separated so that there is a distinct sentencing phase.

This removed the legal roadblock of hundreds of executions. However, none has been carried out so far.

The fund suggested a variety of legal arguments the court could consider. The more appropriate course, the lawyers said, was for the justices to direct a lower court to develop an "illuminating" record on the ultimate legal approach to capital punishment.

This is the position that the 8th Amendment's prohibition on cruel and unusual punishments must be read in this age as forbidding the death penalty.

Monkey Mixup Erased

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A monkey mixup was hastily unscrambled here.

Sam, a 14-year-old rhesus monkey who rocketed into space more than a decade ago, was given to the San Antonio zoo and a sign was prepared identifying him as the "first primate astronaut."

It was soon discovered, however, that the sign was erroneous.

Sam was shot into space Dec. 1, 1959, but had two predecessors. They were monkeys Able and Baker, who went up more than six months earlier, on May 28, 1959.

Records show Sam was the third known monkey to be launched and successfully retrieved.

Officials at the Air Force School of Aerospace Medicine here, which gave Sam to the zoo, quickly admitted the error. "The sign is already down," an Air Force spokesman said, and it will be replaced with "one that tells the correct story."

TAKE THAT . . . AND THAT — Seven-year-old Kim Pisut isn't allowed to break tables with her bare hands but as a veteran karate champion she does break one-inch boards with the palm of her hand. Kim, daughter of Tom Pisut, a third degree black belt and karate instructor, learned by watching her father and imitating the 54 karate moves in Highland, Ind. In addition to winning in her class against older boys, Kim is the youngest person ever to break wood in public. Her father describes her as the "Ninth Wonder of the World."

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This morning can bring an upset in dealing with another person unless you make a special point of saying and doing nothing which a partner feels is against him or against your joint interests. The rest of the day and evening is fine for working out plans for next week of a practical nature.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Try not to enter into that argument that may ensue between a higher-up and an associate. Then you can expect cooperation from both. If you handle credit wisely, financial affairs will improve. Avoid extravagance.

Kill 600 Hogs Near San Angelo

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP)—Government inspectors killed 600 hogs on 25 farms northeast of here in a campaign to stamp out an outbreak of cholera.

They buried the carcasses and sprayed the farms.

Dr. Ed Judy of Waco, in charge of cholera control and eradication for the Animal Health Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, said additional personnel will be sent here to determine if other areas in Tom Green County are affected.

The county has been placed under a quarantine which prohibits shipment of hogs out of state or to packing plants in Texas without special permits.

Tom Green County is the 34th in Texas to be placed under a hog cholera quarantine since July 1, 1970.

As of March 31, 1971, Texas swine heads had been depopulated. This involved about 9,883 swine and state and federal governments had paid indemnity of about $253,581.

Link Between DDT, Human Infertility Triggers Alert

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government scientists have concluded a suspected link between DDT and human infertility warrants attention but not an immediate ban of the pesticide.

Two Environmental Protection Agency scientists who reviewed DDT experiments with rats said the test failed to demonstrate an imminent hazard to human health.

The tests with rats were conducted by Dr. W. Leroy Heinrichs, a gynecologist, and Dr. Ronald L. Gellert, a physiologist, both of the University of Washington.

BIRTH DEFECTS

The doctors reported an experimental link between DDT and ovarian cysts in offspring of laboratory rats. They said a corresponding condition causing infertility was detected with increasing frequency in women.

As a result of Heinrichs-Gellert findings that DDT might have caused the infertility, EPA launched a study whose results were sent Tuesday to Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus.

An EPA source told The Associated Press the report suggests the findings be considered in the continuing review of Ruckelshaus' decision to seek cancellation of all uses of DDT.

Ruckelshaus began procedures last March to ban all DDT uses because of suspicions it may cause cancer, mutations and birth defects, at least in experimental animals.

RAT'S SYSTEM

But he allowed DDT to remain on the market during the review, which could take a year or more, because, he said, there was no evidence of imminent hazard to human health.

The legal requirement for suspending sale of such chemicals, Heinrichs and Gellert reported their experiments two weeks later.

Dr. O. Garth Fitzhugh, EPA's toxicology adviser, said in an interview Tuesday the experiments used a form of DDT to which humans ordinarily receive little exposure.

"I don't think from a practical standpoint (infertility) would occur in humans," he added. "I see no imminent hazard."

Another EPA pesticides expert, Dr. Cipriano Cueto, said: "They used a type of material to which we have the least exposure, but even if it were the more common type it still would have been an exaggerated dosage."

Heinrichs said last month DDT in his experiments caused a defect in the part of a rat's nervous system which sets the pattern of hormone production, ultimately affecting the ovaries.

In human beings, he said, this "programming" for hormone production is believed to develop in the unborn fetus, and damage could show up when the offspring reaches child-bearing age.

Computerized Unit Reads The Brain

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Brain wave data that usually covers 150 pages can now be condensed through a computerized system to a single page for instant scanning by doctors, researchers report.

Dr. Reginald G. Bickford of the University of California at San Diego described the new technique as a kind of shorthand of the mind. He said the system can reduce a small mountain of brain wave readings to one page in less than five minutes.

Existing systems, he said, require an average of 150 pages to record similar data, which take an expert several days to read and analyze.

clear even though the lines are tightly compressed together, Bickford said. "The voluminous brain data can be compressed several thousand times so that it becomes manageable," he said.

Bickford said he and his associates have been concentrating on the "alpha lines" of brain activity, the recently discovered peaks that show up when the eyes are closed and the mind is thought to be at rest.

The new system, he said, may be able to prove a recent medical theory—that the relationship of the alpha wave peaks hold the clue to certain personality and psychological problems.

Widow Of 'Gus' Grissom Loses Pad Fire Suit

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A $5-million suit against spacecraft builders by the widow of Virgil L. "Gus" Grissom, one of three astronauts killed in a 1967 launch pad fire, was dismissed.

Betty Grissom had charged that faulty wiring and negligence caused the blaze aboard Apollo 1 at Cape Kennedy which also claimed the lives of Roger Chaffee and Ed White.

U.S. Dist. Judge George C. Young ruled that such a claim must be filed within two years after a death. Mrs. Grissom filed Feb. 18 of this year in Brevard County Circuit Court.

The accident, the lone fatal mishap involving a U.S. space mission, occurred Jan. 27, 1967, more than four years before legal action was taken.

Attorneys for defendants in the case, North American Rockwell Corp. and associated companies, claimed the two-year limit should apply despite pleas by the astronaut's widow.

Mrs. Grissom's lawyers said the case should be subject to a Florida law which allows suits to be filed for 12 years after a death caused by alleged negligence by professional architects and engineers.

The fire during a test several weeks before the scheduled launch of Apollo 1 was blamed after a National Aeronautics and Space Administration on an electrical arc.

Grissom was one of America's original seven astronauts and White earlier had become the first man to walk in space.

Kidney Repairing

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Researchers at Baylor College of Medicine have developed a method — used so far only on laboratory animals — to take organs out of the body, repair them, then reimplant them.

They have taken the kidneys from 30 dogs, kept them functioning out of the body for up to three days, then reimplanted them. Eighty per cent of the kidneys functioned well enough to sustain life for long periods.

The ability to detach a kidney from the body can be a distinct advantage in certain cases.

ALPHA LINES

"This gives the brain waves an appearance of a mountain range in three dimensions and makes it possible to see the important features," explained Bickford. Abnormal brain activity—such as that caused by a tumor or epilepsy—shows clearly as a peak in the graph.

One advantage of the technique is that the readout is

Cinema Centers Success Story

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This month marks the fourth anniversary of Cinema Center Films, CBS' bold venture into the movie-making jungle. After 26 feature films, the enterprise is considered a qualified success.

"We went into business at the worst possible time," says Gordon Stulberg, handsome, energetic president of the CBS subsidiary.

"Theater business was down and star salaries were up to a million dollars. But we matched the deals that were being made by other studios—matched, but did not exceed."

Stulberg emphasized the latter point. CBS is being sued by the major film companies for unfair competition, and one of the claims is that Cinema Center jacked up star salaries.

ted 20 years ago, when film companies had their own theaters." As a result, he charged, theaters retain an unequal share of profits from movies.

'Legal Eagle' Enters Double Plea For 'Tex'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Charles "Tex" Watson, the only male member of Charles Manson's hippie-style family indicted with the clan leader in the Sharon Tate murders, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity.

Watson's trial was set for July 19.

The tall, 25-year-old Texan, tagged in testimony at the Sharon Tate murder trial as Manson's lieutenant who led slaying expeditions, was not tried with others because he was fighting extradition from his home state.

He was returned here in September, but the following month was committed to a mental hospital, declared a "virtual vegetable." Last Feb. 4 he was declared fit to stand trial and was returned to Los Angeles.

Watson's attorney, Sam Brick, entered the double plea and told newsmen he would stress Watson's use of hallucinogenic drugs during the time he lived at the Manson "family" commune, Spahn Ranch.

Superior Court Judge Malcolm M. Lucas appointed two psychiatrists to examine Watson.

Manson, 36, was convicted along with Susan Atkins, 22, Patricia Krenwinkel, 23 and Leslie Van Houten, 21, in the August, 1968, slayings of Miss Tate and six others. The four were sentenced to death.

During his trial, the women testified that Watson led the killer parties to Miss Tate's home and the home of a wealthy market owner and his wife, Leno and Rosemary LaBianca. The women also said the killers were "stoned" on drugs, and Watson had taken STP, "one of the most far-out psychedelics you can take."

Superior Court Judge Adolph Alexander was named to preside over Watson's trial.

Expensive Foe

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (AP) — It would cost the government about $20 billion a year to start reversing the course of pollution in the air, says Robert J. Day, chairman of the board of Northeast Pollution Control Corp.

The impurities resulting from incinerators in apartment buildings, schools, hospitals and industrial plants are the most difficult to contain or combat, says Day.

West opened the king of hearts on which East played the six and, when this held the trick, he gave very careful study to the terrain before proceeding further. The dummy's club suit loomed as a serious menace for, with West's king located in front of the ace, declarer had only to take a finesse in order to run the entire suit. West had mentally consigned both the queen and jack of clubs to South, inasmuch as East had already shown up with the ace of clubs and it appeared fatuous to assume that he could have another face card and fail to keep the bidding open.

It was essential to attack the diamonds while West still had the king of spades. However, one diamond trick would not defeat the contract, and the normal lead of the king of diamonds would only serve to establish dummy's jack as a secondary stopper for the declarer. The only hope for the defense was to find East with the ten of diamonds and South with the nine, in which case declarer might be induced into misjudging the situation.

So thinking, West shifted to the five of diamonds. South played low from the dummy in the hope that East would be obliged to play a high honor. East produced the ten of diamonds however, which held the trick. A diamond back established the setting trick in the suit, while West still controlled the trump.

When you are unable to achieve your end by the application of brute force, a bit of subtlety can go a long way as West convincingly demonstrated by his performance in today's hand.

West might have chosen to open with one no trump in preference to one heart inasmuch as he holds 17 high cards points and all the distributional requirements. South was unwilling to surrender the field to his opponent for such a bargain price, so he reopened the proceedings by bidding one spade. West passed and North, who might well have taken some action on the previous round, decided not to daily any further and proceeded directly to four spades.

Home Meals Reflect International Cuisine

By BARBARA LORD

The Ramzi G. Botros family would delight any gourmet chef for their taste in foods covers every country and type of dish. Dr. Botros is on the staff at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. Originally from Cairo, Egypt, he is used to highly spiced Arabic foods, and his wife, Danielle, prepares many of the dishes served in his home country.

Even the children, Danielle, 9, and Susu, 8, prefer very spicy foods of German, Chinese, Italian or other foreign origin. "I've always enjoyed cooking unique dishes," said Mrs. Botros, "but it's generally a bit of a miss operation. My mother didn't like to cook much, and she only fixed very plain foods like roast, meat loaf or chicken. I always got sick of it, so I would go into the kitchen and start creating something on my own."

Some of Mrs. Botros' recipes are ones she "just sat down and thought up." Others are recipes she changed to fit her liking, but even these bear little resemblance to the original.

The family eats very few sweets. Mrs. Botros doesn't like to bake and confesses that when the children do get an occasional yen for a cookie, they get store-bought ones.

"I don't cook breakfast for the family either," said Mrs. Botros. "I'm a horrible person when I first wake up in the morning, so the children would rather fix their own breakfast than get me up to do it."

The Botros' spent three years in the Middle East country of Kuwait, where he worked for the government health program. During that time, they traveled a lot through Europe and spent a lot of time in Egypt, where she learned to cook many of the recipes included with this article.

"Egyptian food is marvelous," said Mrs. Botros. "Everything is home-made. They don't have all of the frozen food and mixes that we have here, and their food is definitely better for it."

Susu was born in Kuwait two months after Mrs. Botros arrived. She believes that spending their early years in a for-ign country helped the children develop a taste for spicy foods.

"We enjoyed Kuwait," she said. "It's a primitive country, but it had everything we really needed. I knew a lot of Americans that sat around and complained the whole time because they couldn't get any grits or some dumb thing. What a waste of time. We got out and involved with the culture of the country. The social life never quit, and we didn't worry about not having any grits." Mrs. Botros still speaks conversational Arabic she learned in Kuwait.

Mrs. Botros was somewhat worried about returning to the United States, because she didn't think she'd ever be able to run a household and bring up her children without the help of the live-in servants she had in Kuwait.

"It took some adjusting, but now I'm doing fine," said Mrs. Botros. "I'd never have live-in help again. You lose too much privacy." Today Mrs. Botros does a good job with her home and family, as well as many outside activities and exhilarating interests. She enjoys golf, riding motor bikes and bowling; is presently a member of three bowling leagues. She likes to refinish furniture and has decorated her home with many items "glued together" by her and others from various parts of the world.

Mrs. Botros is an assistant leader for Brownie Troop 340, president of the Medical Society Auxiliary, past president of the Newcomers Club and a member of the 1948 Hyperion Club. She attended Howard County Junior College one year and plans to enroll again in September.

Italian Sauces Flavor Many Budget Recipes

Those savory, tomato-y Italian sauces are the secret behind many a smart homemaker's food savings program.

The same subtly spiced blendings that make spaghetti and pizza family favorites can dress up any cut of meat — a wonderful way to make a big impression on a baby budget.

One meat that's plentiful now, and just right for the flavor lift of sauce-ry, is pork. Treated to an Italian-accented tomato and garlic sauce, ordinary chops become cutlets pizzaiola — much easier to serve than say...

You use prepared pizza sauce as the base, and flavor and season from there. The sauce-maker does the long, hard cooking. You take the bows!

PORK CHOPS PIZZAIOLA
6 loin pork chops
2 tbsps. Italian olive oil
1 can (15½ oz.) pizza sauce
¾ cup white Chianti or water
½ tsp. dried oregano
½ tsp. dried basil
3 tps. sugar
½ tsp. salt
1 large clove garlic, minced
1 small green pepper, diced
In a large skillet, saute chops in oil until golden. Pour off fat and add pizza sauce, which has first been mixed with the next seven ingredients. Cover and simmer 40 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add the green pepper and cook 10 minutes more. Serve with your family's favorite pasta. Serves 6.

Variation: During the last 10 minutes of cooking, top each chop with a slice of mozzarella cheese.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

ARABIC RICE
Long grain rice
¼ cup cooking oil
½ lb. butter
½ cup finely chopped nuts
Water
Salt

Read package directions to determine amount of rice needed. Sauté rice in oil, stirring often, until rice becomes lightly browned. Add water and salt according to directions on rice package, plus about 1 cup additional water. Cover and simmer. In another pan, saute nuts in butter, being careful not to burn. Add butter and nuts to rice when rice is almost done. Cook over low heat until done. Serve lukewarm. Rice will separate and become fluffy as it cools.

YOGURT AND CUCUMBER SALAD
2 or 3 med. cucumbers
1 pint yogurt (approximately)
1½ tps. dried parsley
1½ tps. dried mint
Salt to taste
Peel and slice cucumbers. Mix yogurt and seasonings, and spread on top of cucumbers approximately one-half hour before serving.

KIBBEH
½ cup burghul (cracked wheat)
2 lbs. ground round, or 1 lb. ground round and 1 lb. ground lamb
1 chopped med. onion
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. mint leaves, crushed
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
½ cup pine nuts or almonds
½ stick margarine
Soak wheat in enough water to cover. Mix ½ pounds ground meat with ½ onion, cinnamon, mint leaves, salt and pepper.

Kitchen Tips For Italian Cooking

Good Italian cooking starts with great ingredients. Tomato-based sauce just doesn't have an Italian accent unless the tomatoes are Italy's own. When you're shopping for an Italian meal, stick with the authentic brands. Every big supermarket has an "ethnic" section where you can get cans of the tiny Italian plum tomatoes that give a sauce sunny Mediterranean sparkle. American tomatoes are too watery to give your sauce the body it requires.

Thickening an Italian sauce? Old-country cooks use bread crumbs. Experiment with flavored Italian-style crumbs. They're made from crusty Italian loaves, so even the texture is different. And the herbs will add a subtle spicing.

When you're cooking Italian, the oil should be olive — preferably from Italy. Olive oil flavor varies from place to place; Italian recipes have been developed to take into account the distinctive flavor of the local oil.

Winter Cabbage Good With Hash

Cabbage is a very seasonal vegetable during winter. Corned beef hash is a convenience food which can always be on the pantry shelf. Why not put the two together, using corned beef hash as a stuffing for precooked cabbage leaves, rolled and baked? Serve with tomato or cheese soup as a sauce.

Combine meat mixture with the soaked wheat and set aside. Fry remaining onion in butter until yellow. Add the rest of the meat and the pine nuts to onions. Fry until all redness is gone from meat. Place half the uncooked meat and wheat mixture in the bottom of a greased 10-inch pan. Spread the cooked mixture on top and then place the rest of the uncooked meat and wheat mixture on top of that. Dot with butter. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Cool and remove from pan. Serve in wedges from platter.

VEGETABLE SOUP
½ gal. thin beef stock
3 large diced potatoes
3 or 4 sliced tomatoes
1 cup shredded cabbage
2 shredded carrots
2 stalks celery, chopped
1 large chopped onion
¾ stick margarine
2 garlic cloves
1 bay leaf
Thyme, oregano, salt and pepper to taste
Warm beef stock, add all vegetables except onion, and simmer. Sauté onion in butter over very low flame until transparent and cooked throughout. Add onion and but-

HOW TO BREATHE LIFE INTO A DEAD ROOM

Perhaps the greatest single reason for a nicely furnished room looking "dead" is the lack of contrasting colors. So many people are afraid to use vibrant colors that they "play it safe" and use too many neutral shades.

Many such rooms can be transformed with a chair or pair of chairs in bright yellow, red or blue or any completely contrasting colors. These contrasting colors can also be picked up in draperies, pictures, lamp shades or in many other ways.

Very often a complete change of arrangement makes an old room look new. Placing the sofa and chairs on another wall will often do the trick.

Another good way to bring life into a drab room is colorful carpeting — if properly used — in solid colors, textures or patterns. The use of contrasting colors on a wall will very often make the great difference you are looking for.

The effect you are looking for is often brought about by the use of one piece of furniture in an opposite period such as a colonial desk in a modern room or an abstract painting in a traditional room.

Visit us for ideas which will bring your rooms back to life.

Gander At Goose

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY:
Your answer to "L." was funny and quaint. An authority on GEESE you certainly ain't! For a GOOSE was a "him" You seemed to infer, and the GANDER you spoke of like "he" was a "her."
At your mix-up in genders I was amused, but some of your readers were, no doubt, confused.

(Edgar Allan Poe-Po)

DEAR ABBY: My story is as old as the hills. I am a fairly attractive woman and the mother of three children. I became bored with the housekeeping routine and decided to get a job. That is when my troubles began.

I met a man at work. (I'll call him "Charley.") We were very much attracted to each other. I enjoyed having something to get dressed up for every day, and this new excitement did a lot for my ego. My car was laid up for about a week, and Charley offered to drive me home. One thing led to another, and we started meeting secretly. I got hooked on him, and told my husband I wanted a divorce so I could marry Charley. It broke my husband's heart, but he said he wouldn't stand in my way if that's what I wanted.

Abby, I was so wrapped up in Charley, I couldn't see the people I was hurting. My husband moved out and I could see as much of Charley as I wanted to. After a few months I realized how foolish I had been. I began missing my husband and Charley suddenly looked less attractive to me.

Now I am so ashamed of myself I could die. I realize it's my husband I really love, but what can I do now? I don't deserve a second chance, but do you think my husband would take me back? ASHAMED!
DEAR ABBY: You'll never know until you ask him.

DEAR ABBY: I was nominated for an office in a club (don't mention the office or the club, please) and I really wanted this office. When the results of the election were announced, I lost by ONE vote. I was really heartsick because

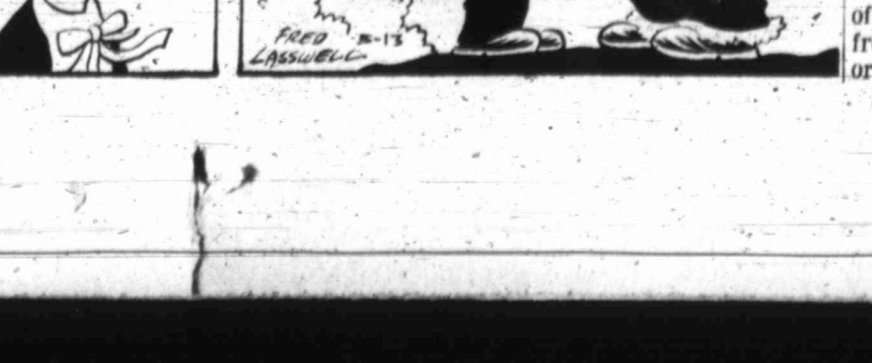

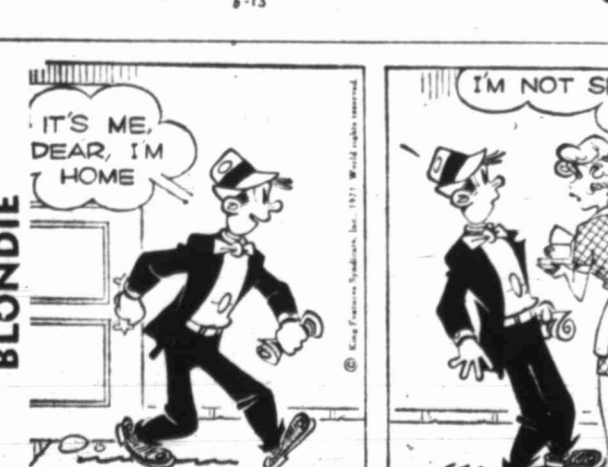

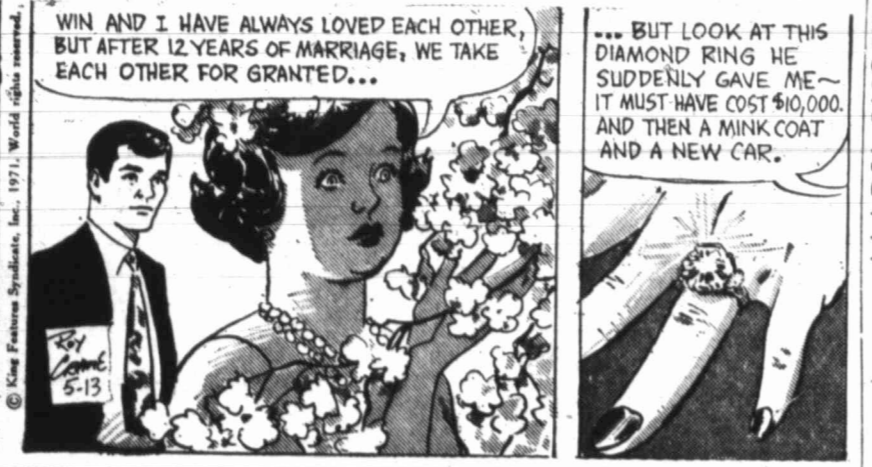

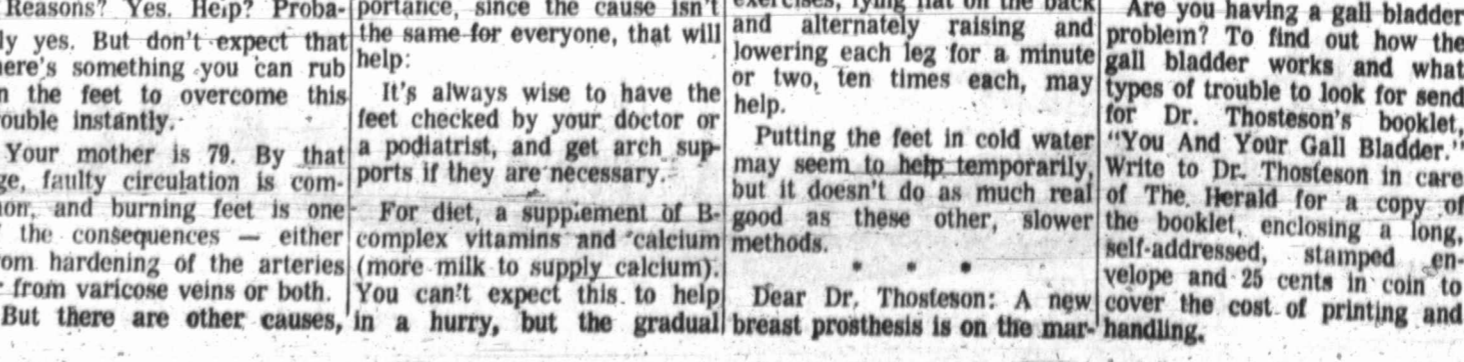

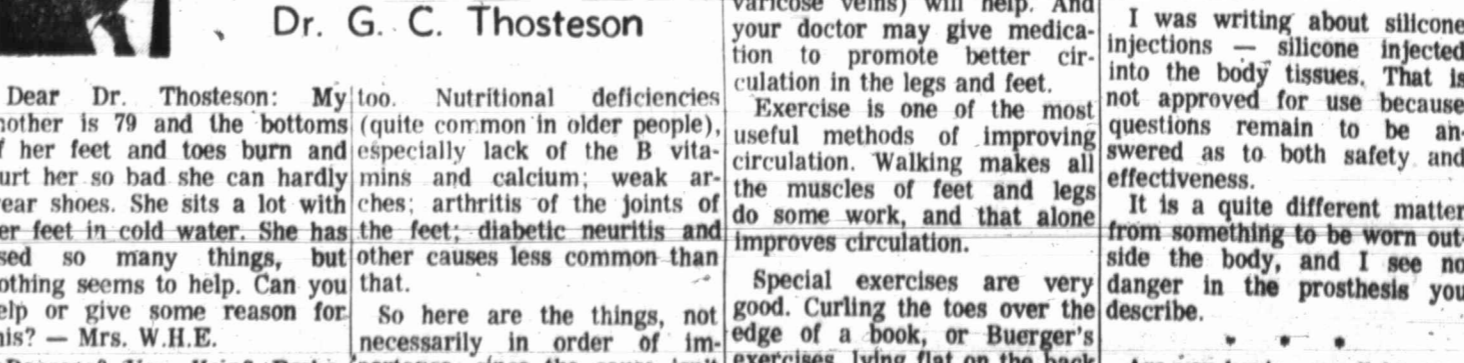

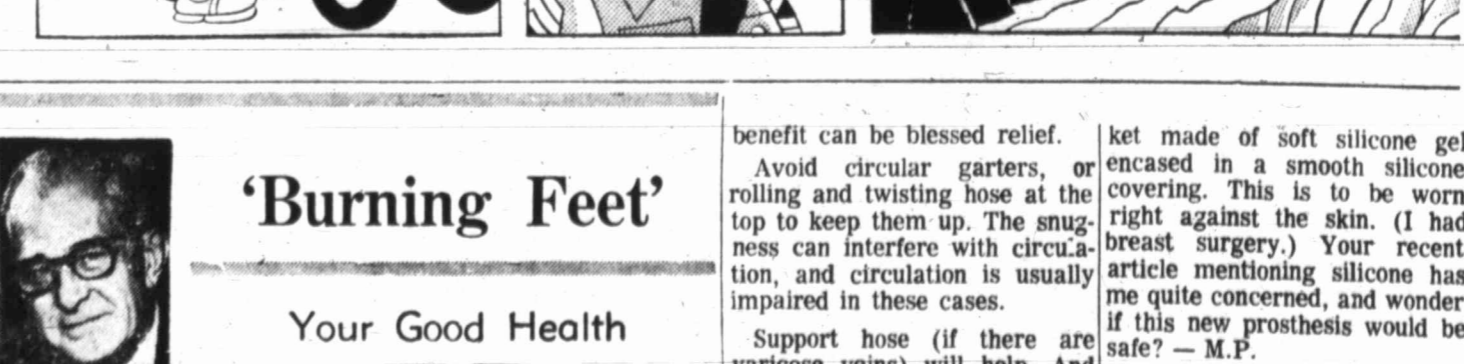

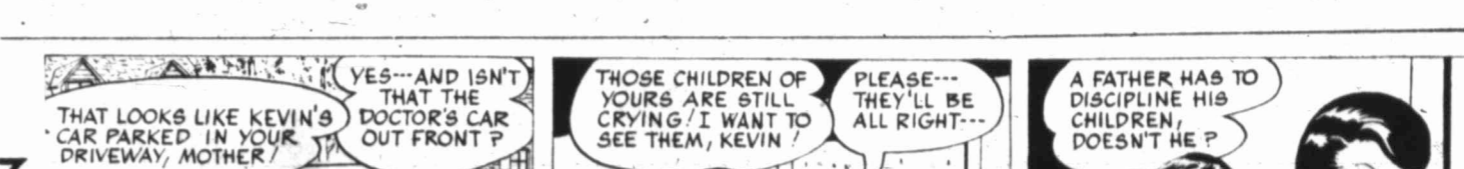

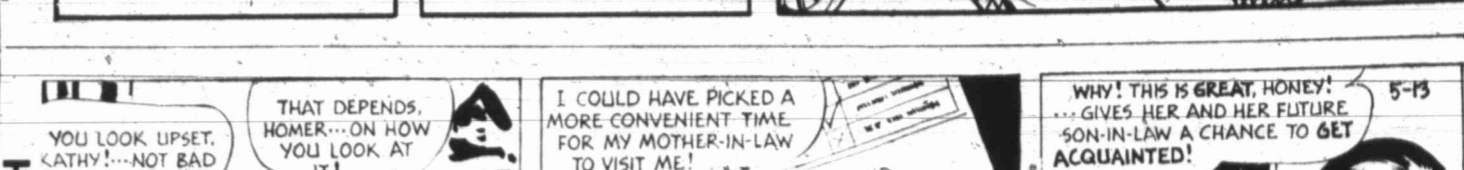

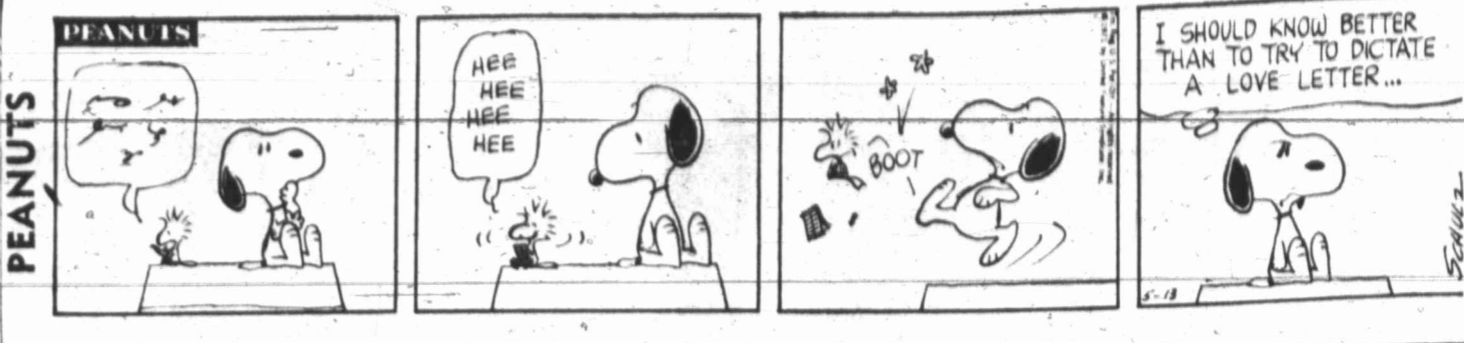

(as you have probably guessed) I voted for my opponent, who voted for himself. Was it stupid of me to have voted for my opponent? LOST!
DEAR LOST: You should have voted for the person who in your opinion would have made the best officer. If you didn't, then you were stupid (or perhaps impractically humble).

'Burning Feet'

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My mother is 79 and the bottoms of her feet and toes burn and hurt her so bad she can hardly wear shoes. She sits a lot with her feet in cold water. She has used so many things, but nothing seems to help. Can you help or give some reason for this? — Mrs. W.H.E.

Reasons? Yes. Help? Probably yes. But don't expect that there's something you can rub on the feet to overcome this trouble instantly.

Your mother is 79. By that age, faulty circulation is common, and burning feet is one of the consequences — either from hardening of the arteries or from varicose veins or both. But there are other causes, too. Nutritional deficiencies (especially lack of the B vitamins and calcium; weak arteries; arthritis of the joints of her feet; diabetic neuritis and other causes less common than that.

So here are the things, not necessarily in order of importance, since the cause isn't the same for everyone, that will help:

It's always wise to have the feet checked by your doctor or a podiatrist, and get arch supports if they are necessary.

For diet, a supplement of B-complex vitamins and calcium (more milk to supply calcium). You can't expect this to help in a hurry, but the gradual benefit can be blessed relief.

Avoid circular garters, or rolling and twisting hose at the top to keep them up. The snugness can interfere with circulation, and circulation is usually impaired in these cases.

Support hose (if there are varicose veins) will help. And your doctor may give medication to promote better circulation in the legs and feet.

Exercise is one of the most useful methods of improving circulation. Walking makes all the muscles of feet and legs do some work, and that alone improves circulation.

Special exercises are very good. Curling the toes over the edge of a book, or Burger's exercises, lying flat on the back and alternately raising and lowering each leg for a minute or two, ten times each, may help.

Putting the feet in cold water may seem to help temporarily, but it doesn't do as much real good as these other, slower methods.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A new breast prosthesis is on the market made of soft silicone gel encased in a smooth silicone covering. This is to be worn right against the skin. (I had breast surgery.) Your recent article mentioning silicone has me quite concerned, and wonder if this new prosthesis would be safe? — M.P.

I was writing about silicone injections into the body tissues. That is not approved for use because questions remain to be answered as to both safety and effectiveness.

It is a quite different matter from something to be worn outside the body, and I see no danger in the prosthesis you describe.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "You And Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

First Grade Day Slated For Friday

Friday is the day for parents to register their children for next year's first grade class. Ernie Boyd, coordinator of the pre-enrollment project, said prospective kindergarten pupils should also register. Parents of children who will be five on or before July 1 should register their children. Registration for the first grade, by schools, will be at:

2 p.m.—Airport, Marcy, Gay-Hill.
 2:15 p.m.—College Heights, Washington Place.
 2:30 p.m.—Moss, Lakeview, Kentwood.
 2:45 p.m.—Bauer, Boyd-stun, Cedar Crest, Park Hill.
 Parents are asked to bring their potential first graders with them so they can get a glimpse of what school will be like. Plans call for brief programs in many schools, an exposure of the prospective pupils to classroom situations, and then a period for refreshments. While the youngsters are being oriented, the parents will be learning the school routine and filling out the enrollment forms.

Threat Of Bomb Snags 'The Rivals'

CHICHESTER, England (AP) — A telephoned threat of a bomb forced Princess Margaret and 1,400 other persons to evacuate the Chichester festival theater Wednesday night. A police search failed to locate an explosive device and the Princess and other spectators quickly returned for a charity performance of the comedy "The Rivals."

Mobile Home Parts Shop Opens For Business Here

H. & H. Mobile Home Parts Company, 1710 Gregg, held its grand opening Wednesday as the first mobile home parts company in Big Spring. Bill Hewlett, 800 W. 18th, the owner of the store, has been working on the establishment for the last six to seven months. The store has everything that goes into a mobile home available for customers, he said. "Various mobile home lot owners around town were interested in a local place centralized in the city where they could send their renters for repairs and parts," said Hewlett, as he explained the reason for his entering the business. "We are stocking the basic materials now in the store, but we can order by telephone anything the customer desires or needs and have it delivered within three days," said Hewlett. H. & H. orders the parts from Legitt Co., Arlington and United Sales Co., Fort Worth. Also outdoor parts such as patio covers and awnings are available through the store from Groff Industries, Arlington, on the same order basis, but it takes two weeks for delivery from that industry. The store offers parts for both recreational and mobile home trailers, and "we will service anything on the trailer or mobile home," said Hewlett, as he pointed out that the only thing they are not equipped to do is move the home. "We are not expecting to set the world on fire in this business, but it is a good community service and the mobile home industry is picking up a great deal," said Hewlett, who by no means is a stranger to the city. Hewlett lived in the city in 1959-60 while attending Howard County Junior College. He grew up in Fort Stockton and served four years in the armed forces. He was stationed in Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., for one year and then served three years in Washington, D.C., where he went to work for the J. C. Penney Company. Hewlett moved back to Big Spring with his wife, Ara Marie, and daughter, Sandra Lee, in April of 1969 and went to work for Montgomery Ward where he is now employed. Ruth Hardesty, Bill's mother-in-law, is managing the store. The building in which the store is located is also shared with Earnest Rose, Big Spring Tile Company.

The agreement is subject to approval of Trattner shareholders.
