WAIT AND SEE How Much Is That Bar Bill, Pal?

AUSTIN (AP) — When a customer pays his bar bill this summer, it's still not known how much tax he'll pay and who's going to get it.

The House tacked a 10 per cent gross receipts tax-split between the city, county and state — and a five-cents per bottle retailer-to-bartender tax on its bill Tuesday and sent the measure to the Senate.

But the Senate State Affairs Committee, on an amendment by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, wiped out that portion of the bill clean Wednesday and imposed a 10 per cent gross receipts tax. This was sent to the floor for debate.

Rep. Dewitt Hale of Corpus Christi, the House sponsor, lost in an attempt to do away with the gross receipts tax in favor of a sales tax on both bottled liquor and drinks.

Christie told the Senate committee his measure would raise $41.3 million during the biennium.

All the money would be channeled to the state, he said. Under the House measure, the state would collect half the gross receipts tax while the cities and counties split the other half.

Christie's amendment also leaves the beer tax at $3 a barrel, a 70-cent increase over the present $4.30. The House had trimmed the increase from $6 a barrel after Speaker Gus Mutscher said he made an agreement with the Senate.

The whisky tax is also $2.17 per gallon, which Christie originally recommended. A House committee cut it to $1.95. Currently it is $1.68.

The gallonage tax on wine and carbonated drinks is increased about 30 per cent from its present amount under the bill.

The gross receipts tax will raise $16 million in the two years, Christie said, with the beer tax bringing in about $10.6 million and the distilled spirits and wine gallonage tax accounting for the remainder of $41.3 million.

The committee also approved and sent to the floor a House-passed bill calling for a referendum to let voters decide if they want daylight saving time.

Wholesale Deaths Of City Hall Birds

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch says wholesale deaths of birds at the city hall three years ago resulted from poisoning by a city-hired exterminator.

The mayor commented Wednesday after an exterminating company spokesman asked that the present city exterminating job be put up for competitive bidding.

At the time of the bird deaths, scientists, councilmen and even city laboratory at the time even theorized that storing insecticides picked up by migrant birds in fields had caused the deaths after a buildup of poison in their bodies.

The mayor said the present exterminator rids the city hall trees of birds without killing them.

BOY WITH BIG HEART GIVES

DEER PARK, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Jim Simmons, collecting for the cancer drive Wednesday night, knocked on a door that was answered by a 13-year-old boy.

He could dig up only two cents, but he asked the couple to wait until he got into his piggy bank.

The couple said he found $1.67 in the bank and gave it to them. He said both his parents had died of cancer.

Nine Jews Guilty In Leningrad

MOSCOW (AP) — The nine Jews on trial in Leningrad on hijack plotting charges were convicted today and sentenced to labor camp terms, Soviet sources reported.

The defendants, according to official press accounts, were in the dock for alleged complicity in an abortive hijack attempt or for "anti-Soviet slander."

The trial began May 11.

The court reserved the stiffest penalty — 10 years of strict regime in a Russian labor camp — for Gilya Butman, a 38-year-old engineer whose role in the planning of the June 15, 1970, hijack attempt was called treasonous by authorities.

Mikhail Korenblit, 33, was sentenced to a seven-year term. The Leningrad prosecutor had asked for a 10-year sentence for Butman and eight years of confinement for Korenblit.

This was the second Leningrad trial in connection with the hijack attempt that failed.

Last December, 11 persons who were to have boarded the 12-seater plane for a flight to Sweden to make their way to Israel, were tried in secrecy. Two were sentenced to death, but the penalty was later commuted. A 12th man, an army officer, was tried and convicted separately by a court-martial.

The prosecutor has demanded labor camp terms ranging from one to 10 years.

Big Spring Man Killed In Accident

Word has been received here of the death of Pedro Sotelo, 56, of 413 N. Nolan.

According to officers in Alice, Tex., Mr. Sotelo was killed Wednesday night when he was struck by a car as he sat on a U.S. 281 bridge just north of Alice.

Mr. Sotelo was born May 23, 1914, in Presidio.

BRIG. GEN. SAMUEL W. KOSTER

Wrist Slaps For My Lai Generals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army broke Samuel W. Koster to brigadier general "to mollify those segments of society who feel you can't convict lieutenants and let the generals go free," his attorney charges.

"Apparently they were willing to sacrifice one general," Brendan V. Sullivan said in accusing the Army of "acting on the political exigencies of the moment."

Part of the public outcry following the conviction last month of Lt. William L. Calley Jr., involved charges the Army was making him the scapegoat for the My Lai massacre while letting higher-ranking officers escape punishment.

Calley, so far the only man convicted in the case, is appealing a life sentence for the murder of 22 Vietnamese civilians.

Twenty-five officers and enlisted men originally were charged either with crimes at My Lai or with covering up the incident.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor Wednesday ordered the 51-year-old Koster demoted from major general, censured and stripped of his Distinguished Service Medal for not thoroughly investigating the My Lai incident while Americal Division commander in March, 1968.

Koster's assistant at the time, Brig. Gen. George H. Young Jr., 50, also was censured and his DSM revoked.

But Resor allowed him to retain his rank against the recommendation of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

In an interview, Sullivan said Koster, currently assigned to Ft. Meade, Md., "is not going to retire at this time" and may fight Resor's action in the federal courts. There is no avenue of appeal in the military for this form of nonjudicial punishment.

Lad Accidentally Shoots Himself

Bryan Dean Barr, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mitchell, 814 Lorilla, was reported to be in fair condition today in the intensive care unit at Medical Center Memorial Hospital following an accidental shooting Wednesday evening.

The youth apparently was shot in the back with a .22 caliber rifle after he dropped the rifle on the floor while visiting a friend, Terral Martin, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Martin, 1200 Madison, according to police reports.

"Terral and Bryan were by themselves at the house when the youngster was shot. Terral was in the kitchen fixing a sandwich, and Bryan was in the bedroom looking at the rifle," said Detective Richard Cantwell, investigating officer.

The youth apparently dropped

U.S. 87 Group Meets Friday

LAMESA — Representatives from towns and counties along U.S. 87 from Clayton, N.M., to the Gulf Coast of Texas are expected here for the two-day meeting this weekend for the U.S. 87 Highway Improvement Association.

A reception and dinner honoring highway employees as well as guests will be held Friday evening in the Forrest Park Community Center. The public is invited.

Headquarters will be at The Westerner Motel, and registrants are expected to begin arriving early Friday, Skeet Noret, president, said.

The official business session with section reports and a proposed new program will be viewed Saturday at Allen's Galley.

All's Well That Ends Well In Mineral Wells

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., says that it was the people of Mineral Wells' "spirit of cooperation" toward the Army that was a key factor in the reversal of a decision to close a helicopter training base in the Texas town. Laird had notified Tower of the decision Wednesday.

Tower, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Laird's decision is a wise one because "there is more than adequate justification for retention of the base at operational status."

Nixon Announces ABM 'Deal' With Russians

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today that the United States and the Soviet Union have agreed to work this year toward an agreement on limiting antiballistic missiles and on limiting offensive nuclear weapons.

In a brief statement on live television and radio, Nixon declared "this agreement is a major step in breaking the stalemate on nuclear arms talks" begun with the Soviets in 1969.

Nixon's short announcement—timed with a similar one to be issued by Moscow—gave no details on what breakthrough he anticipated in the U.S. Soviet Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT) which got under way in Finland in the fall of 1969.

WORTH SALT

The major U.S.-Soviet disarmament negotiations have been stalemated over a Soviet proposal to go ahead with a deal just to curb ABMs (antiballistic missiles). The United States has been contending that a SALT agreement should include both offensive weapons such as intercontinental ballistic missiles (ICBMs) and ABMs in the same package.

Nixon's announcement indicated there may have been some compromise by each side in order to make progress toward an historic agreement to limit the arms race between the two superpowers. But his national broadcast did not spell this out.

MORE DETAILS

Further details were expected to be made public by the White House later.

The current SALT talks are in Vienna.

Nixon has been meeting here this week with Ambassador Gerard Smith, head of the U.S. delegation to the SALT talks, and delegation members. The subject of their talks has been held in strict secrecy.

Nixon said the agreement had been reached at the highest level. He did not specify with whom. The Soviet Communist Party leader is Leonid Brezhnev. The prime minister is Alexei N. Kosygin.

Nixon, speaking from the White House press room, said "intensive negotiations" must yet be carried out at the SALT talks in Vienna.

The President acclaimed the agreement, which he said had been reached by the highest authorities in this country and the Soviets, as "the beginning of a new era in which all nations will devote themselves not to the weapons of war but to the works of peace."

DECISIONS, DECISIONS

The chief executive said the two countries have agreed that

Senate Buries SST, This Time For Good

WASHINGTON (AP) — The supersonic transport, burdened by controversy and a billion-dollar price increase, has been killed again by the Senate, this time, it appears, for good.

Fifty-eight senators agreed late Wednesday night the American SST bore a price tag in economic and environmental terms the nation could not afford.

Only 37 senators supported federally subsidized production of the pencil-thin, faster-than-sound craft needed, its backers claimed, to maintain American dominance in the world's aviation markets.

Even before its formal defeat the White House conceded the demise of the program promoted by every President since John F. Kennedy initiated it nearly a decade ago at a cost that has reached $800 million.

Having killed the SST, the Senate agreed to pay for the funeral.

It voted 92 to 3 to appropriate $155.8 million in termination money split three ways: $85.3 million to SST contractors, $58.5 million to the airlines which had deposited that much in good-faith cash in 1967, and $12 million to shut down the SST office of the Department of Transportation.

Both the Democratic and Republican leaders of the House said after the Senate vote they saw little chance their chamber would revive the SST.

Thus, the attempt to have the government underwrite the most controversial plane in the annals of aviation appears to have died.

It was an end prefigured by many death rattles.

Last year the Senate voted to end the federal development role only to have the House interfere by continuing the project, a view upheld in a conference committee. Then last March both the House and the Senate decided against the plane, leading to the conclusion the SST was doomed.

It was a surprise, therefore, when the House voted last week to restore the supersonic transport by turning $85 million in SST termination money included in a supplemental appropriation into a fund to restart the project.

The Senate turned down this attempt Wednesday by accepting an amendment by long-time SST critic Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., to delete the restart money.

The White House made it clear Wednesday the SST comeback had been doomed by the frank dollars-and-cents talk of an unlikely villain: William Allen, chairman of the board of the Boeing Co., the chief SST contractor.

Two Flee Jail At San Angelo

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Two men broke out of Tom Green County jail here during the night.

Jail officials said Billy Mike Akin, 27, and Marshall Allen McCallum, 19, both of San Angelo, sawed through the window bars of their second floor cell, climbed on to a balcony and leaped to the ground.

Officers said the men may be in a late model car. It is not known if they are armed.

Akin had just had his probation revoked on a 3-year sentence for forgery and passing false checks. He had been hunger-striking since May 19.

McCallum had been charged with theft by false pretext. Application for revocation of his probation had been filed.

Gunmen Raid Card Game, Kill Player

DALLAS (AP)—Larry Wayne Hill, 16, of Fort Worth, was killed today by one of three gunmen who raided a card game in a West Dallas apartment.

After the shooting the other two players were beaten up by the bandits, who fled with $10 in cash.

BACK HOME AT AUBURN — Auburn coeds Kim Davis (left), of Auburn, Ala., and Laura Randolph, Orlando, Fla., tell newsmen of their being held hostage by two inmates of Draper Prison, located near Wetumpka, Ala., Wednesday. The coeds are still wearing the same clothing they wore when they were held at knife point by the inmates.

OGDEN NASH DIES; POET, HUMORIST Millions Laughed With Him

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ogden Nash was very serious when he first tried his hand at poetry. "I wrote sonnets. About beauty and truth, eternity, poignant long before his death Wednesday had established him as America's master of doggerel.

Nash, 68, died at Johns Hopkins Hospital, where he had been under treatment for kidney failure and a May 9 stroke.

OGDEN IS GONE — Ogden Nash, whose wit deflated the pompous and the haughty bore, died Wednesday in the city of Baltimore. He compared candy to liquor and found the latter to be quicker, and now we'll have no more verse from America's laureate limericker.

JUST THOUGHTS

Asked once why he had changed from heavy to light verse, Nash said, "I thought I'd better laugh at myself before anyone else laughed at me."

When millions laughed with him, Nash deflected praise with the comment that his verses were "just thoughts that must occur to many thousands of men."

Perhaps, but few could express them with Ogden Nash's flippant, meter-gone-crazy style that cut humorously to the heart of the matter.

MORE NONSENSE

As a young man, Nash decided he did not have a future as a serious poet and turned to writing advertising copy for Doubleday & Co. His mind wandered one day and he scribbled some nonsense lines of verse.

He threw them away, but later recovered them and sent one to the New Yorker magazine. The editors liked his style and asked for more. Soon he was making more money writing verse than advertising copy, and later he became the managing editor of the New Yorker.

Beginning with the book "Hard Lines" in 1931, he composed more than a dozen volumes of verse. He wrote the lyrics for the 1940's stage and film hit "One Touch of Venus," but other stage ventures he helped compose were not successful.

Nash was born Aug. 19, 1902, in Rye, N.Y., and moved to Baltimore three years after he had married a Baltimore girl, Frances Rider Leonard, in 1931. They had two daughters, who were with their mother at Nash's bedside when he died.

Seale-Huggins Await Verdict From Jurors

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A Black Panther Chairman Bobby G. Seale, accused of giving an order two years ago today for the slaying of a party member, awaits a verdict from a jury weighing capital charges against him and a local Panther leader. The jury of five blacks and seven whites deliberated 3 1/2 hours Wednesday, then retired without reaching a decision in the six-month-old Superior Court trial of Seale and Ericka Huggins.

TRIAL COMING TO END

The two Black Panthers are charged with kidnaping resulting in death and aiding and abetting murder, both capital offenses that could result in death penalties, plus conspiracy to kidnap and to murder in the shooting of Alex Rackley of New York City.

Judge Harold M. Mulvey, instructing the jurors Wednesday, told them not to draw inferences from Seale's failure to testify and to consider the possibility that testimony of some prosecution witnesses "may be colored" by their status as un-sentenced prisoners.

The judge said a defendant has a right not to testify and the prosecution bears the burden of proving the charges.

The state's case rests primarily on the testimony of George Sams Jr., whom the defense blames for the killing, and of Warren Kimbro, who has admitted shooting Rackley in the head on Sams' orders.

In weighing their testimony that of two other witnesses who admitted participation in the events leading to Rackley's death, the judge advised the jury to remember that the four are "confessed criminals" and "may be looking for favors in the disposition of their cases."

Mulvey also told the jurors that in considering Mrs. Huggins' testimony they should take into account "her interest in the outcome of the trial and any motive she might have for not telling the truth."

Mulvey ruled that all of the evidence except two tape recordings would be put in the jury room. He said the jury could ask to have the tapes played.

One recording includes an introduction by Mrs. Huggins to an interrogation of Rackley 2 1/2 days before he was killed. In the tape, which Mrs. Huggins claimed she helped make only because of her fear of Sams,

Texas Senators On Opposite Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators from Texas took opposite sides Wednesday night as the Senate rejected 73-24 an amendment urging negotiations for troop withdrawals from Western Europe and requiring progress reports from President Nixon.

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Jr. of Texas was among Democrats voting for the amendment, and Sen. John Tower of Texas joined Republicans against the measure.

Killer Faces Go-Go Murder Rap In Texas

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A San Antonio man who pleaded guilty this week to the slaying of an elderly woman has been indicted in the death of a second woman.

County grand jurors returned the indictment Wednesday against William Wellman, 32, in the slaying of Ida Harrell, 44, whose mutilated body was found on a creek bank here Dec. 3, 1968.

She was clad only in go-go boots and a coat, officers said. Wellman was sentenced to 48 years in prison Monday after he pleaded guilty to the Oct. 18, 1968, slaying of Maude Winters, 64, of San Antonio.

Her body was found in a blanket six days after she died. Officers said she was killed with a blunt instrument.

Wellman was arrested in Dallas a year ago on a traffic complaint. A fingerprint check revealed a warrant for his arrest here in Mrs. Winters' death.

FOUR TIMES MORE LBJ Library Will Cost U. S. Taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs, which dwarfs in concept and size all other presidential libraries, will cost the federal government four times more to operate than the figure given to the Congress that authorized the project.

under a single contract for a total cost of $18.6 million. Archives officials said no federal funds were used in the library's construction. However, university officials said there is no school's share was $15.8 million with the rest coming from the federal treasury: a $2.6 million grant plus $270,000 in GSA funds.

Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs. Because a single construction contract was let for both the library and Richardson Hall, university officials said there is no way of separating costs for each building. However, an Office of Education spokesman said the $2.6 million grant "was not made for the archives. It was to be used for academic purposes only."

World's Most Experienced Spaceman Taking Desk Job

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP) — Navy Capt. James A. Lovell Jr., the most experienced spaceman in the world and the commander of the near tragic Apollo 13 mission last year, is leaving the Astronaut Corps to take a space agency desk job.

Lovell, a veteran of more than 29 days in space, will become deputy director for science and applications at the Manned Spacecraft Center here, officials confirmed Wednesday.

The 43-year-old astronaut has been expected to leave the spaceman's corps for months. He told newsmen before Apollo 13 that that moon mission would be his last space trip.

MOST DRAMATIC
Lovell flew on four space missions, including three of the most dramatic in U.S. space flight history.

He and astronaut Frank Borman orbited the Earth for 14 days aboard Gemini 7 in 1965, establishing a flight duration record which was not broken until an 18-day Soviet mission last year.

Lovell commanded the four-day Gemini 12 mission in 1966. In 1968, Lovell, Borman and William A. Anders stunned the world by orbiting the moon on Christmas Eve aboard Apollo 8. Theirs was man's first mission to the vicinity of another heavenly body.

In a broadcast monitored around the world, the trio beamed to Earth a Christmas message which included reading of the biblical story of creation.

GRAND OASIS
It was Lovell who looked at the Earth and described the home planet of mankind as a "grand oasis in space."

Lovell and two crewmates, Fred Haise and John Swigert, grabbed the attention of the world again in April, 1970, when an explosion crippled their Apollo 13 spacecraft while it was on its way to the moon.

The blast of an exploding oxygen tank tore a hole in the side of the Apollo 13 service module and totally disabled the command module oxygen system. The astronauts retreated to the attached lunar module and for three days their lives hung in a delicate balance as the spacecraft swung around the moon and streaked earthward.

FOUR CHILDREN
As commander, Lovell directed emergency procedures to conserve electrical power, to cleanse the spacecraft atmosphere of carbon dioxide, and to correct the craft's flight path with rocket thrusters.

Apollo 13 landed safely in the South Pacific, but the explosion ended Lovell's decade-old dream of landing and walking on the moon. The world's champion spaceman stuck by his earlier decision to not again go into space.

Lovell, a Cleveland, Ohio, native and a 1952 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, was a Navy test pilot before his selection in 1962 as an astronaut.

He is married to the former Marilyn Gerlach of Milwaukee, Wis. They have four children, Barbara, 17; James, 16; Susan, 12, and Jeffrey, 5.

County Trustees Approve Routes

The Howard County School Board met Tuesday to elect officers and approve bus routes for all school districts in the county for the 1971-72 school year.

J. D. Gilmore was elected president of the board, and R. L. Heith was named vice-president.

All bus routes were approved as set by the various districts, Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma.

Smith Seeks Legal Opinion On Welfare Spending Limit

AUSTIN (AP) — A quick legal review could tell the legislature today whether they can spend more than they thought to handle an "approaching welfare crisis."

Gov. Preston Smith told a news conference Wednesday lawmakers may be able to exceed the $80 million constitutional limit on public welfare even though voters rejected an amendment to do just that.

He asked Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin for his opinion.

The governor shoved aside Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes' suggestion to resubmit a welfare proposal to the voters again, maybe in September.

"It would be an insult to their intelligence to re-submit it right back to them," Smith said. "To head off possible welfare cuts, 'I don't see how in good conscience we can do anything but try to pass it again,' Barnes said.

The proposal turned down by the voters Tuesday would have removed the ceilings on public assistance to the aged, needy and blind and set a ceiling of $55 million for aid to families with dependent children.

But Smith said when the voters adopted a 1960 amendment to the state constitution setting the current $80 million limitation on all welfare spending it also gave the legislature the authority to spend more "if we were in danger of violating federal law and therefore losing federal matching funds," which total $500 million a year.

To cut off spending automatically at $80 million would "conflict with federal law," Smith said, "and because of this I believe that the legislature can appropriate additional funds."

Allied Forces Slugging It Out

SAIGON (AP) — The Royal Laotian Army has abandoned its last outpost on the Bolovens plateau in southern Laos, giving North Vietnam more supply routes down to Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Military sources in Vientiane said commanders in southern Laos ordered the evacuation Wednesday of Houei Kong, 300 miles southeast of the Laotian capital, because the isolated outpost could not withstand an expected attack.

The sources said the troops withdrawing westward clashed several times with the North Vietnamese, but there were no casualty reports.

North Vietnamese forces captured the other two government posts on the Bolovens plateau, the towns of Pak Song and Ban Houei Sal, on Sunday and inflicted heavy casualties on the defenders.

On the third Indochina battleground, Cambodia, a new drive was reported under way south of Phnom Penh aimed at opening an alternate government supply route from the sea.

The U.S. Command disclosed a third "protective reaction" air strike inside North Vietnam this week, the 41st this year. It said two Air Force F4 Phantom fighter-bombers on Tuesday destroyed a 57mm antiaircraft gun that fired on them while they were attacking the Ho Chi Minh trail. The planes were not hit. The gun was a mile inside North Vietnam near the Ban Karai pass and 35 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone.

The U.S. Command also reported that 24 American servicemen were killed in combat last week, 27 died from non-hostile causes and 240 were wounded. It was the lowest toll of battle dead in three months and the first time in five months that non-hostile deaths exceeded those in combat.

In South Vietnam, allied forces battled North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops Wednesday only 25 miles from Saigon, at four points around the A Shau valley and on two sides of the U Minh forest in the Mekong delta. Communiques said 79 of the enemy and 22 South Vietnamese were killed, and 47 South Vietnamese and six Americans were wounded.

10-Day Suspension After Rumors Fly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has ordered a 10-day suspension in over-the-counter trading in securities of R. D. Philpot Industries, Inc., of Pasadena, Tex.

The SEC said Wednesday it issued the order because of a recent rapid rise in the price of the company's stock which appears based on false and misleading financial information.

Members of Church Women United have volunteered to make bandages for patients in town, she said.

Mrs. China Long announced the chapter had received 13 memorial donations, and Mrs. Ben Boadle, public education chairman, reported more than 5,000 persons contacted through her group this year.

Tentative plans were discussed for the annual appreciation banquet in June. Five delegates will attend the district annual meeting June 10 in Odessa, and one delegate, Mrs. Raymond Torp, will attend the Aug. 23-24 division meeting in Houston. Mrs. C. B. Marcum is alternate.

Burns Rules Out Return To Tight Money At Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's top banker has ruled out a return to tight money at home as the way to boost the value of the beleaguered dollar overseas.

Raising interest rates to cure the dollar's weakened international position "would not meet our lasting needs at home or abroad," Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said Wednesday.

Burns' statement closely paralleled thinking of Nixon administration economists who say economic expansion in the United States should not be sacrificed because of the recent dollar crisis.

But Burns' assertion carries more weight because the independent central bank he heads is responsible for the flow of money and credit into the economy.

The recent dollar crisis triggered some speculation the board would tighten the money supply, thus boosting interest rates and eliminating one of the main reasons for the dollar's erosion in Europe.

In recent months, the board has followed a sharply expansive monetary policy, driving down record-high interest rates dramatically. Nixon's economic recovery plans depend heavily on the central bank's treatment of the money supply.

Burns said a tough anti-inflation policy stands at the top of his list of ways to help the dollar internationally.

"The overriding need is to restore price stability even as the present slack in our economy is taken up," he said. "I believe, with growing conviction, that a cogent incomes policy is a necessary part of the effort to restore price stability."

An "incomes policy" is economic jargon for all forms of direct government action to hold down wage and price increases. Nixon has edged closer to such a policy, but has not

Funds Asked For Local VA

Sen Lloyd Bentsen this week asked the Senate to include funds in a supplemental appropriation for hiring needed medical personnel at Veterans Administration Hospitals, including the Big Spring VA.

The senator said that the supplemental funding would mean adding around 600 more medical personnel at nine VA hospitals and one clinic in Texas.

These facilities are hospitals at Amarillo, Bonham, Big Spring, Dallas, Houston, Kerrville, Marlin, Temple and Waco and a clinic at San Antonio. All would receive funds for additional personnel.

ONE BIG WOMAN DIES IN HOUSTON HOSPITAL

HOUSTON (AP) — Ben Taub City-County Hospital Wednesday reported the Tuesday death of a DeQuincy, La., woman who underwent surgery March 10 for removal of a tumor that caused her to grow in height to 8 feet, 2 inches.

Mrs. Dolores Paulard Johnson, 24, was returned to Ben Taub Hospital after the eight-hour surgery was performed at the nearby Methodist Hospital in the Texas Medical Center.

Hospital spokesmen declined to elaborate beyond confirming the death.

The 431-pound woman suffered from a condition called acromegaly, a gigantism caused by a tumor of the pituitary gland at the base of the brain that secretes growth hormone.

She was 5 feet, 2 inches tall by the time she was six and 7 feet at age 14, the tumor stimulating an abnormally high secretion of the hormone.

Enrollment Steady In Schools Here

Enrollment in Big Spring schools held exceptionally steady last week considering proximity to the end of the current term.

There was a loss of six in elementary schools, leaving 3,757 on roll, and four in secondary schools, making 1,939. The special education division had 229, a gain of four, making an over-all total of 7,199.

This compared with 7,064 on the comparable date a year ago. Take out the 107 in the kindergarten program, which is new this year, and the net loss is 52.

LETTERS Waiting To Be Waited On

To The Editor:

It was with some amusement that I read your explanation of the "occasional line" at the post office. May I enlighten you? These people were not waiting to buy the latest government goodie — the eight-cent stamp. They were simply waiting to be waited on.

This "occasional line" can be found anytime between the hours of 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and it has been that way since the new post office opened its doors to the public.

In 1945, we had approximately 12,000 people, and usually two men worked the main windows that served the public. And may I add, they did an excellent job.

Now we have a new modern building, and additional windows that are never in use, and still two men to serve a population of 30,000. Progress is wonderful.

Disturbance In Kent's Bar Area Flares

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Riot-ready police quelled another disturbance in Kent's bar district early today and pushed a crowd of about 300 students back to the Kent State University campus.

Four plate glass windows in downtown business offices were smashed in the second straight night of disturbances, police reported.

No arrests were made as a sudden rainstorm helped break up the demonstration, and no injuries were reported.

The crowd of young people gathered in the bar area after a Municipal Court jury found Michael Brock, 20, guilty on a charge of flag desecration.

Brock, a Kent State student, was one of three persons who were charged in connection with a Feb. 5 incident in which demonstrators pulled down the U.S. and Ohio flags on the school's administration building and raised the red, yellow and blue North Vietnamese flag.

Derby Clinic Set Tonight

Boys 11-15 years of age were reminded once again of the Soap Box Derby clinic set for 8 p.m. today at Pollard Chevrolet Co., 1501 East Third.

Details on how to enter, how to construct derby racers, to gether with a film of last year's finals at Akron, Ohio, won by Steve Suter, Midland, will be aired at the Thursday clinic. Robert Williams, Midland, head of the area project for the Midland Jaycees, will conduct the clinic.

Two Suspects Plead Guilty

Two men pleaded guilty Wednesday in 118th District Court to charges of burglary. Sentenced are Ronald Leo Sowers, 24, Phoenix, Ariz., and Juan David Lopez, 18, of 107 NW 19th.

Sowers was sentenced to 94 days in county jail for the burglary of a coin-operated machine. He was arrested Feb. 14, 1971, and indicted April 19. He was given credit for time spent in county jail and released.

Lopez received a probated two-year prison term for burglary and was released from custody. He was arrested Sept. 13, 1970, and indicted Oct. 28, 1970.

Writer Lauds Commissioners

To The Editor:

Recent statements by our city manager about "butting heads" at regular commission meetings would seem out of place to this reader.

For the first time in eight or nine years we have some city commissioners with minds of their own. These individuals represent the people by whom they were elected. Simply because their opinions as to what is best causes them to disagree, they have been accused of not being interested in our overall welfare.

"To work as a team" does not mean to blindly follow the leader. In a game of football a smart quarterback will change a call in the huddle based on an opinion from a lineman.

These recent statements attributed to the city manager by your newspaper is tantamount to public criticism of his duly elected "bosses."

THE FAME IS FLABBERGASTING — The past May 5 Marcy Taylor grabbed a burning American flag from an antiwar demonstrator and extinguished it with her bare hands. Since that moment what's happened to her she describes as "flabbergasting." Since her photo appeared in newspapers and on TV the 25-year-old petite blonde has received bouquets of flowers, a marriage proposal, 100 letters of congratulations and one obscene letter of criticism.

Gail Grads Pick Schools

GAIL — Four members of the Borden High School graduating class have decided on their school plans.

Joe Pat Harding will enter Angelo State University in San Angelo in the autumn. In the meantime he will be employed by Skelly Oil Company and hopes to get in a bit of rodeoing and softball.

Billie Briggs plans to work toward a math degree at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. This summer she will ride and show her jumping horse in New Mexico.

Tommy Lockhart is bound for Baylor University in Waco in the fall.

Loretta Zant is working this summer and will attend Lubbock Christian College in the autumn.

Bedouin Slips Nomadic Ties To Gain Medical Degree

JERUSALEM (AP) — The 25,000 Bedouin nomads in Israel's desolate Negev desert are patching up his broken Hebrew with private lessons.

Top-ranking Israeli army officers and police officials were present, as were heads of the Hadassah School of Hebrew University, to which Bedouin to graduate from Jerusalem's prestigious Hadassah Medical School and take up the medical profession.

He plans to use his skill, obtained from six years of study, among his own people, where disease and illiteracy are rampant.

When Yunis returned to his tribe armed with his degree, his people laid out one of the biggest feasts in living memory.

Heads of almost all 20 tribes under Israeli administration at-part-time work as a campus security guard, public relations officer and laboratory assistant.

He now begins his internship at the Negev Central Hospital in Beersheba, and intends to travel around the desert lecturing to Bedouins on hygiene and first aid.

His chief goal involves breaking through one of the Bedouin's most ancient taboos — he wants to persuade Bedouin fathers to let their daughters attend school.

Gail Seniors Due Back

GAIL — Seniors of Borden High School and their sponsors are due back home Saturday from the traditional trip which this year took them to Hot Springs, Ark.

Baccalaureate rites will be Sunday at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium, and commencement is set for Thursday at the same time and place.

'The New Army' Becomes Conscious Of Reputation

By PEACE STERLING
AP News Service Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Who in the world can you work for and be anything from a policeman to a musician in a band?

Would you believe the U.S. Army, which, according to Maj. A. W. Borst who is in charge of recruiting for the New York area, now offers an enlistee well over 300 courses from which to choose.

"We're really committed to the idea of an all-volunteer Army now," Borst explained. "And to get to a zero draft, we have to have these options."

TRAVEL CHOICE
He said that after the Korean War the Army introduced an option allowing an enlistee to go to the location of his choice — with the idea of travel and adventure in mind. At the start of the Vietnam war, however, this idea was changed and the Army began concentrating on the career and school options available to enlistees.

"Now we're advertising that an enlistee will receive a guaranteed place in the Army school he chooses," Borst said. However, this choice is not left entirely to the enlistee.

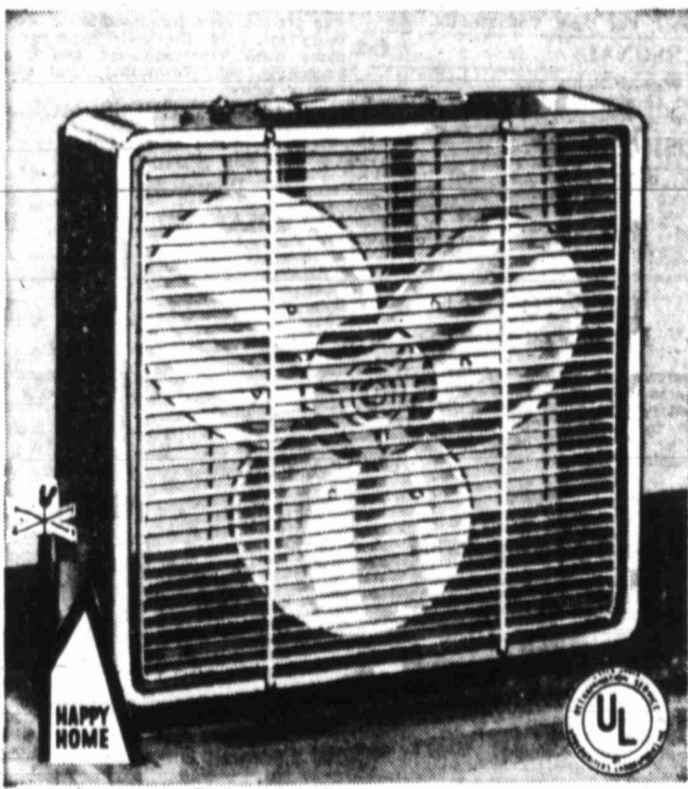

"A man first takes a battery of tests to determine what he's capable of doing," the major noted. "After the results are in, a recruiter then will tell the enlistee he's qualified in three or four courses and that he can choose among those options. After he makes that choice, he's programmed for his enlistment date, and a class spot is reserved for him by name."

However, even with the new options, Army recruiting isn't an easy job.

GOOD SALESMAN
Surprisingly enough, Borst has found recruiters are hampered most by fathers of potential enlistees. "I think their attitude is, 'When you're talking about a recruiter you're talking from World War II,'" he said. "But then we had a bigger job good he's got to be honest with to do, and I suppose individuals his people at all times. If a were sacrificed more for the needs of the service."

'Lies, Loans, Larceny' Are Gamblers' Problems

By BENJAMIN BYCEL
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The urge was always there. Not a day went by in more than three years when Mike N., a $12,000-a-year salesman had not gambled.

He bet on anything: horse races, ball games, cards, jalal, roulette, slot machines, dice, sweepstakes, even elections. It was all the same to him. Action.

Sometimes he won. But not often. Even if he did win, he would never stop until he had lost all his winnings.

COMPULSIVE
Mike N. was a compulsive gambler. He had been gambling compulsively for 20 years and his life was a mess. He was $38,000 in debt to three banks, five finance companies, two shylocks and to friends and family. He was losing his job.

Mike N. and thousands of others affected by this little known sickness have joined together in an organization called Gamblers Anonymous.

Patterned after Alcoholics Anonymous, GA began in Los Angeles in 1957. Its founders were two men who, like Mike N., had a long history of trouble and misery because of an obsession to gamble.

Today, GA has more than 5,000 members in 160 chapters here and abroad. They meet regularly to discuss their mutual problems.

HONEST DESIRE
The only requirement for membership "is an honest desire to stop gambling," says their charter.

GA's program for gamblers, organized along the lines of Alcoholics Anonymous, is based on self-help and group therapy. The GA program stresses over and over that "gambling is a sickness that can never be cured, only arrested."

The compulsive gambler is expected to follow GA rules and attend meetings regularly for the rest of his life.

"When a member attends his first meeting, he is usually skeptical about GA," said Bernie P. "Gamblers see themselves as big shots and don't want to be associated with losers."

NO MORE BETS
Once admitted to the group, the new member is urged never to make another bet. No friendly card games. Not even a raffle ticket or bingo.

At the meetings, new and old members stand up and give "confessionals" about their gambling exploits. In GA terminology this is called "giving therapy."

All must start by admitting to themselves and the group that they are powerless concerning gambling.

"I am a compulsive gambler," each member states as he begins his therapy.

The stories are mostly all the

Deaf Man Likes Violin Repairing

DETROIT (AP) — As a hobby, Ben Harrison likes judo and has a black belt. But the real love of this 46-year-old suburban Berkley man, totally deaf for the last 27 years, is building violins and repairing cellos and violas.

Harrison is a craftsman in his small shop, delicately inlaying the ornate purfling on the back plate of a violin while affectionately preparing the finishing touches on the instrument.

Born in Chattanooga, Tenn., he learned to strum guitar as a boy when he still had his hearing and won several guitar-playing contests.

Then he went to bed one night with perfect hearing and awoke the next morning totally deaf. Doctors can't restore any of his hearing. "We've tried everywhere and nothing has helped, so we've learned to live with it," said his wife, Marian.

Harrison received a college degree in engineering and moved to Detroit to work for Chrysler. On a trip back to Tennessee in 1952, he found some old handmade violins he had made as a youngster in the attic of the family home and his enthusiasm was rekindled. He read every book available on the art of violin making and began constructing them again — but this time from the viewpoint of an engineer.

He's made so many now that he cannot remember the number — somewhere between 50 and 80. "I would tear some apart because once you make one mistake you have ruined the final product," he said. His fingers are his ears as he tunes the instruments and gauges the precision thickness of woods for new violins through vibrations on a tuning fork.

In 1969 he won a grand award for tone at the International Violin Makers Association meeting in Arizona. "With the tuning fork he can tell if there are any differences in the vibrations," his wife says.

Most of the violins Ben has made go to some of his favorite people, young music students, for "moderate prices" from $350 to $1,500.

Challenge For Harmony

The resignation of Larry M. Crow Jr. as city manager for Big Spring represents, to put it in its mildest way, a major transition for the city.

While the resignation might not have been expected at this time, there was no secret that some sharp differences had developed between the city manager and some members of the commission, and that any resolution of these differences seemed to become more remote as recent months and weeks passed.

We acknowledge that each of those involved was acting with honest personal convictions, and there can be no immediate judgment that one side is all white and the other all black.

In our judgment, Mr. Crow has served honestly, competently and with a great deal of devotion, looking to programs he has believed are in the city's best interest. For nine years of public-spirited effort, he is entitled to a firm expression of gratitude from all the citizens.

It is an actuality that men in position of responsible public service cannot serve as long as nine years without alienating or offending some of the people and some interests who would like to see perfection. The city administration has not been perfect — we know of none that is — but it has made a commendable record. The people of Big Spring have no need to be ashamed of it.

But, regrettably, differences have developed. Since Mr. Crow has removed himself as any part of issue, this would seem to put these differences in the past, we feel that the challenge is now for elected public officials and the supporting citizenry to make every effort to work in harmony. There is a great deal of responsibility involved here in keeping our city from getting further divided or fragmented. May those at the helm resolve that all decisions be made for the good of Big Spring. Cities our size have enough problems and obstacles without being hobbled by anything less than the general interest and well being of the community.

Use With Care

We have had a minor wave of closed sessions by city and county officials, so designated because discussions concerned personnel.

The philosophy of the law permitting such sessions is that some matters touching on personnel might be needlessly injurious if aired in public. This is not to say that every personnel matter is grounds for a closed meeting, and we leave this to the good judgment of public bodies to be highly selective when it comes to invoking this rule.

The county commissioners came near exceeding these limits, it seems to us, in reaching a provisional decision on representation of road and bridge department employees by a union. This is a matter of general policy which just happens to affect personnel. The matter of representation, we believe, is hardly delicate enough to warrant a closed session. This is a general policy decision, not something personal dealing with an individual or individuals.

Save Gov. Reagan

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — No matter how I try, I can't stop worrying about Gov. Ronald Reagan's personal financial situation. As everyone knows by now, Gov. Reagan had such bad financial reverses last year that he didn't have to pay state income taxes.

Instead of Californians sympathizing with him over these financial reverses, they became upset and felt there was something wrong because they had to pay taxes and Reagan didn't.

VERY FEW PEOPLE in the state said, "If the governor makes $44,000 a year as salary and has assets of around $1 million and still can't pay his state income taxes, then he must be hurting very badly, and needs pity rather than censure."

My first thought was that the governor should seek legal aid from the local Office of Economic Opportunity. Although Reagan is trying to abolish legal aid for the poor in California, I'm sure the poverty lawyers would take his case anyway, just to prove that they will take anybody in dire financial straits, regardless of race, creed or elective office.

TO MAKE SURE, I telephoned a CRLA (California Rural Legal Assistance) lawyer in California and asked him if he would take Reagan as a client.

"Yes," he said, "he would qualify for free legal aid. Our charter specifically says that any governor of a state whose finances are in such poor shape that he doesn't have to pay personal state income taxes is in no position to pay a lawyer, and is therefore eligible for free legal advice. It would be our pleasure to help Gov. Reagan in any way we could."

"How would you go about it?"

"FROM A LEGAL standpoint it would probably be the most interesting case we've ever handled. Most of our cases have had to do with people who didn't pay any state income taxes because they didn't make any money. This would be the first time we represented someone who made money but didn't pay income taxes.

"Surely there is something wrong with the system if the governor of the largest state in the union has been hurt so badly financially that he can't pay any taxes."

"But what legal defense would you have for him?" I asked.

"FIRST, WE would have to find out what financial reverses Mr. Reagan had, whether they came from cattle, oil, real estate or the stock market. Then we would prove that it wasn't his fault that his investments went sour. It was probably due to the general economy."

"But the Republicans are in charge of the economy right now. Wouldn't it look bad if Reagan blamed his own party for the fact he had such a bad income situation?"

"I guess you're right. We'll have to think of something else. Perhaps we could persuade the courts to allow the governor to make one motion picture a year."

"THIS THING has far more ramifications than anyone wants to admit," he said. "We're trying to pull the poor up by their bootstraps so they become honest, hard-working citizens. But if they see somebody like Gov. Reagan, who has worked all his life and still has nothing left over for income taxes, they're going to say to themselves 'The hell with it. Let's stay on welfare.'"

'THIS IS WHEN DRUNKS STOP BEING HUMOROUS'

Grim Views By Leaders

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — A somewhat paradoxical, often contradictory and always revealing commentary continues to flow from those individuals and institutions thought to be authorities on profits, competition and the American way.

Earlier comments include Henry Ford II on the inability of the nation's automotive industry to stem the tide of imports, and Edwin Gott, U.S. Steel chairman, on the need for protective quotas on imported steel.

They also included rather grim views by leaders of the casualty insurance industry on the inability to make profits on certain business, by oil industry spokesmen on the inevitability of foreign imports increasing, by the railroad industry on the hopelessness of maintaining passenger service.

Add spokesmen for the aerospace industry, where one large company recently lost government assistance in funding a supersonic commercial transport, and where another now seeks a $250 million loan guarantee because otherwise the banks won't lend it any more money.

From William Wilson, vice president of Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which seeks the loan guarantee:

"Insufficient financing for the L1011 TriStar would force cancellation of the transport program, and Lockheed would be forced into bankruptcy through its inability to meet the huge obligations it already has incurred."

Bankruptcy, Lockheed said, "could cause great confusion, abrogation or alteration of agreements, greatly increased costs on government programs, and displacements and future hazards for Lockheed employ-holders and bondholders."

And more on steel, from Hendrik S. Houthakker, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, after studying the profit-inched but still profitable steel industry:

The inability of steel to raise productivity, he suggested, may not be the wage demands of unions but could be a "result of the fact that competition isn't as much as it could be."

The industries that are finding competition in a free enterprise economy to be a bit distasteful include the mightiest in the land: Automotive, oil, aerospace, rails, insurance, steel.

What conclusions should be drawn? It may be too early to say with any authority, but one thing is certain, these are unusually troubled times for some of America's largest industries if not for the entire system.

Around The Rim

Jean Fannin

Two years ago this month I graduated from college. No, I'm not bragging, I'm just trying to convince myself.

GRADUATING from college is a little different than graduating from high school... at least at my alma mater.

For instance when I graduated from high school each of us went up, shook hands with the school superintendent and various and sundry members of the school board, clutched our diplomas in our hot, sweaty hands and there was excitement all over the place.

AT COLLEGE graduation at my alma mater it is very different. Instead of 300 excited youngsters, there are 3,000 excited youngsters, oldsters and middle-agers. At college you not only have the just-out-of-high-school students, there are also the just-out-of-the-service students, bored housewives, interested housewives, retired businessmen, and even a few grandmothers and grandfathers show up.

FOR COMMENCEMENT the 3,000 candidates are herded into a huge auditorium where a long-winded speaker eventually gets around to telling you that the bachelor's degree you have just earned once meant something, however now it is as common as dishwater and it is the master's degree and the Ph.D. which are important. I've decided that such speakers are hired recruiters for colleges and probably work on a commission.

After the speaker is through, the college president or someone equally important asks the candidates for degrees to stand. "You are graduated," he says. That's it.

SOME FOUR months later you receive in the mail, probably with postage due, your diploma — which not only cost you four years and untold thousands of dollars, but also $5 to pay for the paper and ink.

I left college in May, and I got my diploma in October. I was beginning to worry. Had I really graduated?

APPROXIMATELY a year later, I received a letter from the ex-students' association congratulating me on my recent graduation from college and encouraging me to mail in my membership fee.

Then a month or so later I got a letter urging me to make my will out at once and include the college. It sounded kind of like they had a contract out on me with the syndicate.

ANYWAY, after two years of asking for money, now they are demanding it. This week I received a letter saying that my records had been impounded and would not be released until I paid the 50 cents I owe the college. For what I'm not sure, but it sounds like a pretty good money-raising idea. At the rate of 3,000 to 5,000 graduates a year, each billed for 50 cents two years after graduation — the income could be astronomical.

What I'm wondering now is what happens if I don't pay it. Does my diploma self-destruct?

A Needless Strike

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Everybody in government knew a rail strike was coming, but Congress did not begin to take action until the trains actually stopped running and the main freight and transportation system of the country was paralyzed. The resulting delay in the mails and in delivery of food and all kinds of goods imposed a burden on private citizens and involved a loss of many millions of dollars.

Just why was Congress indifferent to such a contingency? And why are businesses forced to suffer such huge damages?

ANTHONY J. OBADAH, the labor relations manager for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in a statement called the railroads "the heart of our commercial system" and urged Congress to bring the strike to a halt. He said the administration has been diligent in its effort to find a solution but "Congress has turned a deaf ear." He added: "It's time Congress started doing its job."

Labor secretary James D. Hodgson criticized the Union of Signalmen for refusing to settle for "some version" of the 42 per cent pay raise over 42 months already accepted, by four other rail unions. He said:

"IT IS AN indictment of the million employees of the rail industry should find themselves out of work and that millions of Americans should be subjected to service disruption by this action taken by a union representing a relatively few employees."

Gerald R. Ford, Republican leader of the House, says that the strike never should have been allowed to happen and that permanent legislation to deal with national-emergency strikes should have been enacted. Recalling that the President had outlined legislation which would serve as a basis for hearings on this subject, Mr. Ford asserts that Mr. Nixon had faced up to his responsibility. Representative Ford declares:

"IT IS AN indictment of the Democratic-controlled Congress that nothing is being done to deal with the almost annual strikes against the railroads except on an emergency order-'em-back-to-work basis'."

The administration and Congress have refused to deal with the fact that labor unions exercise a monopoly far in excess of that ever possessed by corporations. The setting up of picket lines extends the scope of strikes, closing down many a business operation as other workers refuse to cross these lines due to a fear of what action might be taken against them by the unions.

CONGRESS HAS NOT tackled the problem of labor-union power in America, and this has become one of the biggest factors in the ever-rising costs to American industry. Today's recession is largely due to the organized efforts of labor unions to increase wages far beyond the scales that have prevailed before. The government could have stepped in with wage-and-price controls, but President Nixon declined to do so. This may turn out to have been the main reason for the failure in 1971 and possibly in 1972 to produce recovery and help America emerge from recession.

Clowns Marry

PARIS (AP) — Charlie Chaplin's daughter Victoria has married Jean Baptiste Thierree, her partner in a circus clown act they put on in tents and night clubs.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a Christian girl of seventeen and have a serious problem. My parents refuse to allow me to date and I'm very lonesome. Is it wrong for me to want to go on dates with boys?

R.D. Not only is it not wrong for you to want the friendships and companionships afforded by others — it is perfectly natural and right. You do have a problem but, as a Christian, remember that there is no problem which Jesus cannot solve for you. Pray for two things — that God will send you the boy, or boys, He would want you to date. Then, pray that God will open your parents' hearts and minds so that they will realize that it is right and normal for you to date them. Remember, what seems such a problem may be but a challenge to you to test and see that God is still a miracle-working God and that He wants to show you how our human difficulties can dissolve through His power just as the mist dispels before the morning sun.

Negroes' Rights

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Let us dance a circumspect two-step in the nearest street. Two developments of the last few days offer influential evidence that American blacks are growing weary of certain presumptuous white allies who imply that they, the blacks, are all either basically stupid or wild-eyed militants, or both.

AN EDITORIAL in the NAACP magazine, "Crisis," demands that black parents protest a Ford Foundation-sponsored course teaching vernacular "Black English" to black students as their "native language." And a group of black businessmen, ministers and educators have announced a whistle-stop tour of the country to repudiate black radicals. Both actions strike at the patronizing thesis of white do-gooders that special allowances should be made for a citizen because his skin is dark.

THE MEASURED outrage of the NAACP stand should be considered in the context of that organization's long and unabated fight for black rights. Thus, the "Crisis" editorial speaks with impeccable authority when it takes a poke at a "Black English" course taught by one Prof. Carol Reed of Brooklyn College under a whopping $65,000 grant from the Ford Family's tax-exempt busybody.

MISS REED, it seems is teaching 50 black students to say such things as "he be tired" instead of "he became tired" on the presumption that mouthing such linguistic inanities will preserve their native tongue. But that kind of talk is no more the blacks' native tongue than it is the whites'. The phrase "he be tired" in effect was foisted on the blacks by their long indenture to whites who refused to let them learn good

English. Miss Reed would perpetuate this injustice by a calculated campaign to insure that blacks will be known by their speech. In any reasonable society, her efforts would be denounced as a form of separatism — a device to make or keep blacks "different."

THIS MAY BE picturesque, but it is no help to the blacks in making their way in the American economy. "Crisis," which calls Miss Reed's course "black nonsense," pleads for the black child's right to compete with his white peer. "What our children need," says the NAACP editorial, "and other disadvantaged children as well... is training in basic English, which today is as near an international language as any in the world."

THE BLACK GROUP out to change the "black image" is taking the same tack. Headed by Clay Claiborne, national director of the Black Silent Majority Committee, the members "intend to restore a positive image to black America, and to dispel the negative, pessimistic, destructive image upon which the new media seems to dote."

I rejoice at these two actions because they tell me that voices have been found for the black majority which is tired of being pushed around by black crazies and professional white uplifters — for pay and political profit. They say what has been self-evident, except to these self-appointed guardians of the black — that the black majority seeks only full citizenship and a chance to compete on equal terms with whites for citizenship's benefits.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Now is the time to come to the aid of your conversation with double talk.

This is the art of saying one thing while thinking another. Without the tension-relieving hypocrisy of double talk we'd all bite each other to death instead of trying to talk each other into rigor mortis.

For those who may need a brief brush-up course in double talk, here are a few examples of this vocal art form. The speaker's comment is in quotes, followed by what he actually thinking.

"I will not stoop to disparage or denigrate my worthy opponent," — He has more mud to throw at me than I have to throw at him.

"That certainly was a soul-stirring sermon you preached on the evils of temptation, Dr. Hardrock," — I wish he'd quit kicking the hell out of sin and say something cheerful sometime.

"When we get the signal, we simply break right through the police lines. Who do they think they're scaring with those clubs?" — Me!

"Naturally I'm not so old-fashioned as to be against free love, Rodney, but—" — Just marry me first, and then you can have all the free love you want.

"You don't have to go into or describe my worthy opponent," — He has more mud to — Maybe I can help you think of someone else who will be sucker enough to lend it to you.

"You can't imagine how many times I've thought of you since the last time we met." — You can't imagine something less than nothing.

"Those new hot pants you're wearing may get you arrested for arson, Gretchen darling. They could set a man on fire you know." — But only if he's so near-sighted he can't see who's in them.

"I've never met anyone who can make breaded veal cutlets taste just like yours, Blanche." — And I sure do hope my lucks keeps up.

"I guess it's time for us to not forever?"

THE NEW EAGLE — Leo Koestler, manager of the new mobile home manufacturing facility here, and Ken Perry, president of Big Spring Industrial Foundation, show an eagle insignia for the new Eagle homes. A non-commercial exhibit of one of the units is to be held at Highland Center Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Eagle Home Is Slated For Display

A mobile home manufactured by Eagle Homes, Big Spring's latest industrial addition, will be on display Saturday and Sunday at the Highland Center parking lot. The 12x65 foot mobile home will be on display 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 1-5 p.m. Sunday. It is in the medium-high price bracket. "The mobile home will be a non-commercial display," said Adolph Swartz, vice president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation. "Although some company officials will be present, the home will not be sold, and orders will not be taken. We just want to give the people of Big Spring a chance to see what our newest industry will produce." The Ambassadors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will be the official hosts of the event and will answer any question about the product. "The mobile home is air-conditioned and uses the latest in furnishings and equipment. The Big Spring plant will use the most modern construction methods to build the homes when it is complete. Ground-breaking took place for the new plant last week and cement work should begin next week.

Name Lanier New Warden

HUNTSVILLE, Tex., (AP) — A 12-year veteran of the state Department of Corrections has been named warden of the Ramsey prison unit at Roshan, Tex. Sidney Lanier, 48, presently warden at the Walls Unit, succeeds Terrell Hutto, who has accepted the post of commissioner of corrections in Arkansas. Dr. George Beto, director of the Texas Department of Corrections, said, "The Ramsey Unit's gigantic industrial, agricultural and educational complex requires the supervision of a seasoned warden." He said he was confident Lanier "will respond positively to the challenge." Lanier had served previously with the Federal Bureau of Investigation for two years and for 15 years with the Texas Department of Public Safety.

 South's desire to score his 100 honors in spades led him to insist on playing a suit contract when nine tricks were routinely available in no trump. Then, when he became the declarer at four spades, he failed to capitalize on the distributional advantages available to him—and the final result was an unnecessary setback.

West opened the nine of hearts and East covered North's queen with the ace and returned the jack to dummy's king. South cashed two high trumps and then led a diamond from his hand—ducking the trick around to East's seven. The latter returned the ten of hearts which declarer ruffed.

The ace and king of diamonds were cashed in an attempt to establish dummy's long card for a discard. When diamonds did not divide evenly, South trumped the fourth round in his hand and led out to the king of clubs. East proceeded to cash two tricks in that suit to set the contract down by one.

Declarer had a foolproof line of play available to him. Inasmuch as East is marked with length in hearts because of his overcall, it is possible to throw him in the lead while diamonds are being established. The advantage to having East in is to protect the dummy's club holding from a direct assault.

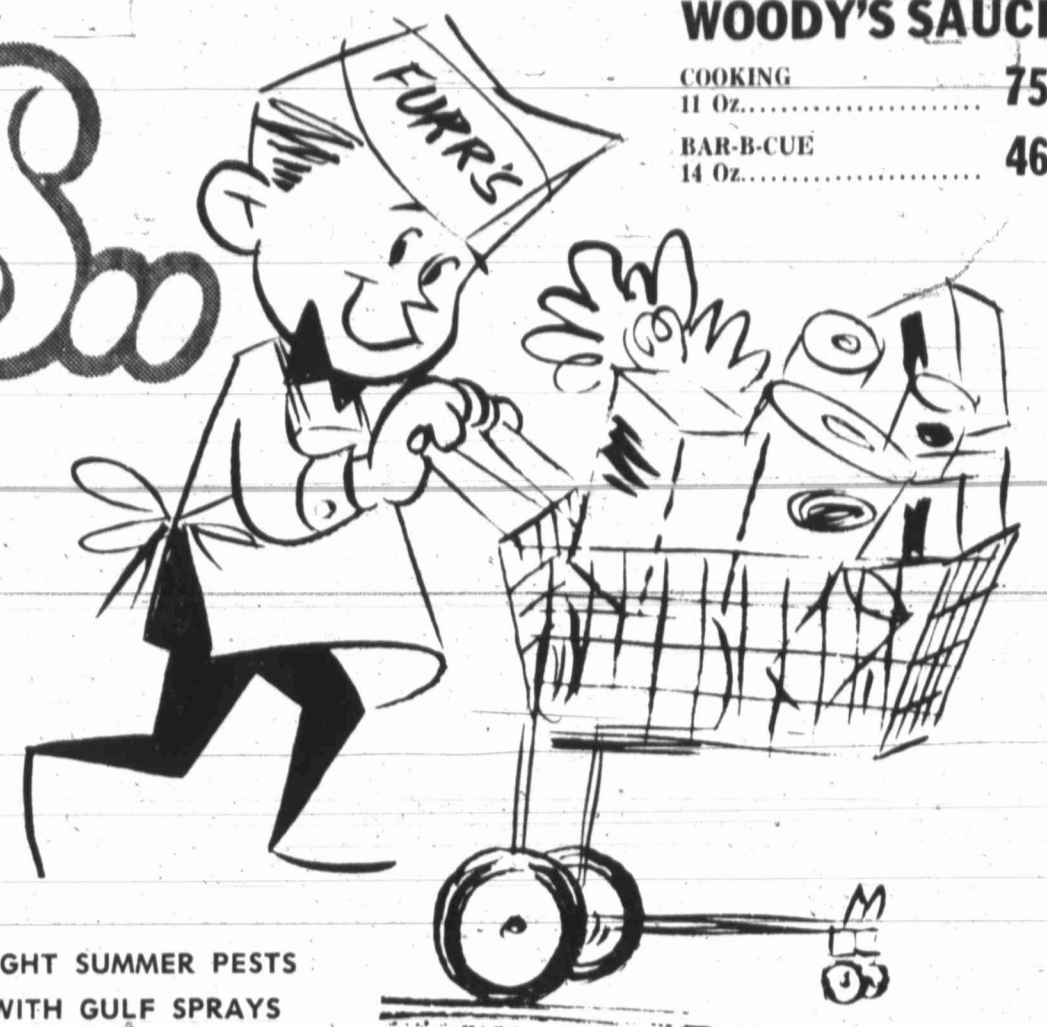

After trumps are drawn, it is suggested that South cash the top two diamonds and then lead the seven of hearts from dummy. East covers with the eight and now declarer merely discards the nine of diamonds from his hand. He is conceding a trick that must be lost in any event and he assures that West will never gain the lead in diamonds to make the damaging club shift.

When East is in with the high heart, he is obliged to return a club—thereby establishing dummy's king—or else present his opponent with a ruff and sluff by playing another heart. If he has a diamond to return, South can ruff and if the suit divides evenly, North's long diamond will become established for the fulfilling trick.

Boots Loud Legal Eagle From Court

DALLAS (AP) — A bailiff forced lawyer Ed J. Polk, controversial director of the Dallas League Services Project, to leave the courtroom of Justice of the Peace Robert Cole. His removal was ordered because Polk refused to stay quiet during a case involving a man evicted from an apartment for failure to pay rent. Cole ruled that Polk was appearing in behalf of a man who was not indigent and therefore did not qualify for project aid. Immediately after the courtroom ouster, Polk filed a federal court petition asking that the case be removed from Cole's court, contending his client could not receive a fair trial. Polk and other lawyers with his agency had appeared as counsel for Bobby J. Curlee, who was served with notice of eviction for failing to pay $45 in back rent. Curlee said he refused to pay the rent because his landlords failed to keep promises to furnish the apartment and install air conditioning. In answer to Cole's question about his financial status, Curlee said he had about $200 in a bank account. The ruling against Polk as a defense lawyer followed.

EX-DICTATOR PERON BEATS CHARGE OF RAPING TEEN

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — An Argentine court has cleared former dictator Juan D. Peron, now living in exile in Spain, of a charge of rape. The move clears the way for Peron's return to Argentina, but observers said it was unlikely Peron, now 75, would do so. The charge against Peron, ousted in a military coup in 1955, stemmed from his living with 13-year-old Nelly Rivas in 1954 and 1955. She is now married and living here. The court ruled the charge void because of the statute of limitations.

2 cans condensed beef consomme
1 cup water
1/2 tsp. salt
Pepper to taste.

GRITS AND CHEESE

6 cups water
2 tsps. salt
1 1/2 cups grits
3 eggs
1 stick margarine
1 lb. grated cheddar cheese
3 tsps. seasoned salt
Dash tabasco sauce
Dash paprika
Bring salted water to a boil. Add grits and cook until done. Cool slightly, then add remaining ingredients and stir until cheese and butter are melted. Put in an oblong baking dish and bake 1 1/2 to 2 hours at 250 degrees.

FRUIT SALAD

1 10 oz. pkg. frozen raspberries in syrup.
1 13 oz. can pineapple chunks
1 10 oz. can mandarin oranges, drained
2 tsps. frozen orange juice concentrate
1 to 2 sliced bananas
Mix all ingredients, including about 1/4 of the pineapple juice, and chill until ready to serve.

HOT CHEESE BALLS

1/2 lb. American cheese, grated
1/4 lb. margarine
1 cup flour
Dash of red pepper
Mix all ingredients and form into small balls. Bake at 400 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot. Good with dessert or salad.

TEA-TINY TASTIES

1 3-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1/2 cup plus 1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 cup sifted flour
1 egg
3/4 cup brown sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Dash salt
3/4 cup coarsely chopped pecans
Let cheese and 1/2 cup butter soften. Blend together. Stir in flour. Chill about one hour. Shape into two dozen 1-inch balls. Place in ungreased pans for very small muffins. Press dough around bottom and sides of each cup. Beat together the eggs, sugar, 1/2 cup margarine, vanilla and salt. Mix until smooth. Place pecans on the pastry, and top with the egg mixture. Leftover pecans may be placed on top of this. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 minutes.

KOSHER POTATO SALAD

8 medium sized new potatoes
1 medium purple onion, sliced in circles
1 cup kosher dill pickles, sliced in circles
1/4 cup kosher dill pickle juice
3/4 cup salad dressing
1 tsp. dried parsley
1 tsp. celery seed
Peel potatoes, boil and dice. Add salt and pepper to taste. Add pickles and onions. Mix salad dressing with pickle juice, parsley and celery seed. Pour over potato mixture and mix.

CHICKEN TARRAGON

Dash black pepper
2 tsps. minced onion
2 tsps. minced parsley
1/2 tsp. crushed tarragon
Dash thyme
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper. Place in baking dish. Mix remaining ingredients, pour over chicken and bake at 450 degrees for 45 minutes.

Lattice Pie Is Family Favorite

Strawberries make a juicy pie.
STRAWBERRY LATTICE PIE
1 qt. fresh strawberries
1 pkg. pie-crust mix
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup flour
1/2 tsp. salt
Butter
Rinse berries in cold water; hull; drain. Make up pastry mix; roll out half and fit into a buttered 9-inch pie plate, leaving an overhang. Brush pastry with melted butter. Roll out remaining pastry and cut into 1-inch wide strips. In a medium mixing bowl, stir together the sugar, flour and salt; fold in berries; turn into pastry-lined pan. Dot with 2 tablespoons butter. Place pastry strips, lattice fashion, over filling; fold bottom-crust overhang over ends of strips; flute. Brush strips with melted butter. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until pastry is lightly browned — about 40 minutes. Stand pie on a wire rack until just cooled. Filling will be juicy so you may want to serve the pie with dessert forks and spoons.

ALWAYS GLAD FOR SPRING and warm weather because it brings with it the advent of outdoor cooking, Mrs. C. G. Griffin Jr. likes the refreshing yet easy to prepare meals that the family so often enjoys in their back yard. Kosher potato salad is one of the family favorites, whether served with a hamburger or a lean, juicy steak.

Laments Of 'Golf Widows' Don't Get Her Sympathy

By BARBARA LORD

Being married to the golf pro at Big Spring Country Club poses some meal problems for Mrs. C. G. Griffin Jr., but she handles them with the relaxing, carefree attitude necessary for someone whose schedule must be flexible.
Griffin works six days a week, with Mondays off. His hours are those that people like to golf, which means he is usually at the club from morning 'til sunset. Daylight Savings Time means that the Griffin evening meals became even later than usual; often at eight or nine o'clock. Mrs. Griffin depends on quick and easy meals, but still ends up cleaning the kitchen and doing dishes well into the evening.
"Of course, while Teddy is away at college, our meals are smaller and easier," said Mrs. Griffin. Teddy, their son, is a junior at Texas Christian University, majoring in business management. Prior to that, he attended Howard County Junior College for two years.

The Griffins eat every type of food, including many foreign dishes. Mrs. Griffin learned to cook as a child, when she was the youngest of five children.
"By the time I was old enough to cook, most of the other children were gone," said Mrs. Griffin, "but I still managed to learn. I enjoy cooking, but we like to eat in restaurants quite often, too."
Teddy is home for the summer now, which means Mrs. Griffin may be making desserts which she and her husband don't usually eat. But, other than that, her meals will remain about the same. They all love the outdoors and prepare a lot of meals in the comfort of their back yard. They enjoy entertaining with casual cookouts, often topped with a freezer of homemade ice cream.

Mrs. Griffin spends as much time as possible outside. She and her husband both enjoy gardening and have made the yard of their home at 1106 Lancaster into a leisurely, relaxing place to spend quiet afternoons and evenings.
Bright roses and other flowers accent the landscaping, and they raise tomatoes in a backyard hot house they built.
As might be expected, Mrs. Griffin's favorite sport is golf, and she holds a respectable average in the low 90's.
"I had to learn to play golf in self defense," said Mrs. Griffin. Their son is also a golfer, and the family vacations are generally worked around tournaments which Griffin participates in around the state. Mrs. Griffin has also played in some tournaments.
Mrs. Griffin likes to keep her regular commitments to a minimum so she can be free the same time as her husband. She is a member of the Ladies Golf Association and plays a little "strictly social" bridge. At home, she can often be found sewing or doing various types of needlework.
The Griffin men enjoy hunting, fishing and camping, but Mrs. Griffin prefers the conveniences of a modern kitchen.
"Maybe if we had a camper with the built-in conveniences, I'd like camping better," she said, "but living and sleeping in a tent is a little too primitive for me."
Mrs. Griffin is originally from Chillicothe, and Griffin is from Big Spring. Since their marriage in 1947, they have lived in Floydada, Colorado City, and Brownfield, but they now plan to make Big Spring their permanent home.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Add a pinch of sugar and one of nutmeg to that creamed spinach.

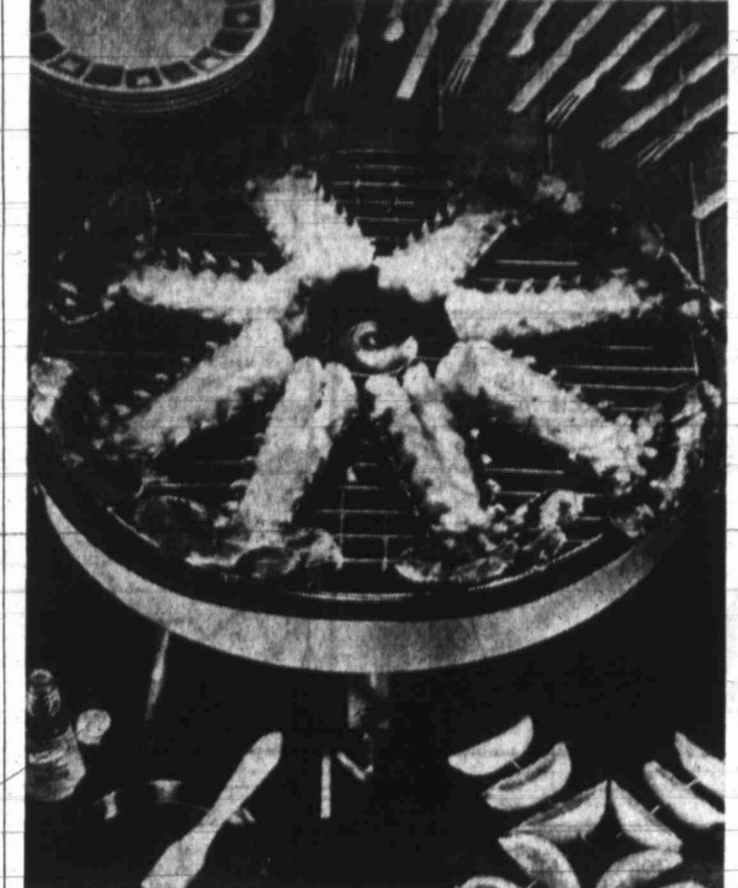

If you use an aluminum pan as a water bath when you are baking custard, add a tablespoon of vinegar to the water in the pan to prevent discoloration of the aluminum.

Want to save yourself grating or mincing onion to add to a meat loaf mixture? Add dried onion soup just as it comes from the package; two tablespoons of the mix will give good flavor for each pound of meat.

Baking chicken breasts? A glass baking dish that is about 12 by 8 by 2 inches will hold three of the breasts (six pieces) split in half.

A few cooked snap beans leftover in the refrigerator? Chop them fine and heat with canned tomato soup. Tastes good and stretches the soup!

THE NICEST NIGHT OF THE WEEK inspires a Friday cookout. Lobster tails, marinated and grilled, make a delectable meal for family or guests.

Grilled Lobster Tails For Friday Parties

For many of us, Friday night is a favorite time to invite neighbors for dinner. If you like Friday entertaining, make a super-special of grilled lobster tails.

Set your outside table with your prettiest patio plates. A round tabletop grill is attractive and easy to handle, and a delectable marinade adds wonderful flavor to the tails.

GRILLED LOBSTER TAILS
8 South African Rock Lobster Tails, 4 to 5 ounces, thawed
1 cup melted butter or margarine
1/2 cup lemon juice
3/4 tsp. salt
1 small garlic clove, crushed
1-1/2 tsp. Kitchen Bouquet
Clip underneath each side of tails and remove membranes. Slit about halfway through down middle of tails; bend shells out, toward back, to crack in order to prevent curling, or push small skewer under and along shell. Brush open side with marinade made of remaining ingredients and let stand 15 to 20 minutes. Place on barbecue, shell-side down, and broil over moderate heat about 12 minutes. Brush generously with marinade, turn and cook 4 to 5 minutes longer. Turn again. Brush again, and serve with remaining marinade. Yield: 4 servings.

With lobster tails as the elegant menu star, serve crisp potato sticks, warmed in the oven and sprinkled with garlic salt; a hearty salad with croustons and cherry tomatoes; and a glamorous dessert. Your Friday cookout will get the weekend off to a wonderful start.

Lunchtime Salad:
For lunchtime salad, toss greens with French dressing, hard-cooked eggs and anchovy fillets. Cut each anchovy into about four pieces before adding to the salad.

Barbecued Lamb For Taste, Thrift, Casual Dining

Use a thrifty cut of meat for Barbecued Breast of Lamb.

BARBECUED BREAST OF LAMB
2 lbs. boneless breast of lamb, cut in serving-size pieces
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup (or more) barbecue sauce with minced onions (from a 1-lb.-2 oz. bottle)

Remove as much fat as possible from meat. Place on a rack in a shallow roasting pan and bake in a preheated 450-degree oven for 30 minutes. Remove from oven; reduce heat to 350 degrees. Drain off fat and replace lamb in pan without rack. Sprinkle lamb with the salt. Cover with foil and bake in the 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

Spread meat with the barbecue sauce and continue baking covered, in the 350-degree oven until tender — about 30 minutes; uncover for the last 10 minutes of baking. Makes 4 servings.

BACKYARD-COOKING TIME Vegetable Kabobs accent burgers

Outdoor Favorite Joins Skewered Vegetables

Juicy hamburgers, still sizzling from the grill, are always popular outdoor fare — and are even better accompanied by tasty vegetable kabobs. What makes Open-Air Burgers the best ever is their juiciness and flavor. Since the flavor of beef itself is so delicious, the simplest way with the burger is the best. Combine the beef only with a little liquid, salt, a dash of Worcestershire sauce, and Ac'cent.

OPEN-AIR BURGERS

2 lbs. ground beef
2 tps. Ac'cent
1 1/2 tps. salt
1 tsp. dry mustard
2 tps. Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup water

Break up meat with fork. Shake Ac'cent, salt, mustard and Worcestershire sauce over meat. Add water. Mix lightly; handle as little as possible for tender burgers. Shape into 4 to 8 patties, according to size of appetites. Broil 4 to 5 inches from heat 5 to 8 minutes on each side, or until done as desired.

KABOBS

1 lb. medium-size mushrooms, stems removed
2 green peppers, cut in 2-inch pieces
24 small white onions, cooked in boiling salted water for 10 minutes
2 tomatoes, not too ripe, cut in 8 wedges
Salad oil or melted butter
Salt
Alternate mushrooms, green pepper pieces, onions and tomato wedges on 8 skewers. Brush with salad oil. Grill 4 to 5 inches from heat about 20 minutes, turning and basting with oil occasionally. Sprinkle with salt and Ac'cent and serve immediately.

Mushroom Dish Is Company Fare

Good enough for guests!
MUSHROOMS ROMANOFF
1 1/2 lbs. fresh mushrooms
1 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1/2 cup (1/2 stick) butter
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
1 1/2 tps. flour
1 tsp. dill weed
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 cup commercial sour cream

Wash mushrooms and trim off tips of stems; drain well. In a large skillet melt the butter; add lemon juice, salt, pepper and mushrooms. Saute mushrooms about 5 minutes; remove from skillet and keep warm. To butter in skillet stir in flour, dill weed and nutmeg. Remove from heat; gradually stir in sour cream and milk, keeping smooth. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Return mushrooms to sauce; reheat. Makes 6 servings.

Strawberries Are Refreshing

Refreshing dessert that features fresh strawberries.
JELLIED FRESH STRAWBERRIES
1 pkg. (3 oz.) strawberry gelatin dessert
1 cup boiling water
1 cup medium-dry or dry white wine
1 1/2 cups sliced fresh strawberries
Custard Sauce, homemade or from a mix
Into a medium mixing bowl turn the gelatin; add the boiling water; stir until dissolved; stir in wine. Chill until slightly thickened, stirring a few times. Fold in strawberries. Turn into six 1/2-cup molds or custard cups; chill until set. Unmold and serve with Custard Sauce. Makes 6 servings.

Spread Specialty For Wheat Bread

Try this combination for a delightful sandwich treat.
OLIVE-CHEESE-RAISIN SPREAD
1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup chopped pimiento-stuffed olives
1/2 cup chopped (medium-fine) toasted pecans
1/4 cup raisins
Dash of salt
In a medium mixing bowl, with a wooden spoon, thoroughly mix together all the ingredients. Use as a sandwich filling for whole wheat bread. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Has Her Doubts

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a veteran who may be confined to a wheelchair for the rest of his life. I am in love with John (I think) but I have so many doubts. I have always dreamed of a lovely wedding, and I love children, and have always pictured family outings with my children romping about with their mother and father. I have always loved skiing, swimming, tennis. How does a wife enjoy these sports with a husband in a wheelchair?

If I go through with my plans to marry John, how does a bride walk down the aisle to be met by her groom who is seated in a wheelchair, waiting for her? Even the matter of wedding pictures will be a problem. I realize these sound like little things which should probably never bother me, but I am 29 years old, Abby, and I should know my own mind, but I am frankly bewildered. Can you, or any of your experienced readers, help me?

MISERABLE IN MAINE: You wouldn't be asking for someone to "sell" you on marrying him, would you?

DEAR ACCOMPlice: Tell your roommate what you have told me. And since your moral codes are not compatible with his, I think you'd both be happier with a change of roommates.

DEAR ABBY: I have a sticky problem: I share an apartment with a young man from a foreign country. He is here for graduate study. I told him I was going out of town for the weekend and he asked me if he could have a friend stay with him in our apartment. I thought it was another fellow, since he is a married man and speaks so lovingly of his wife and child.

When I returned, he told me that his guest was a lady friend. I do not approve of adultery and was shocked and disappointed in this young man.

I plan to go away again, and my roommate has asked if he may have a guest (I presume it's the same one) in my absence. How should I handle this? He is older than I, and I am not about to give him a moral lecture, but I don't want to be a party to such goings on.

DEAR ACCOMPlice: Tell your roommate what you have told me. And since your moral codes are not compatible with his, I think you'd both be happier with a change of roommates.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

'Thinning' Bones

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Keep in mind, however, that in other individuals there may be osteoporosis, but not to a degree that causes any real trouble.

The exact process of osteoporosis has been studied in depth, and it is still being studied because, frankly, we haven't yet learned enough about it.

I can't in good conscience say that there is a "cure" for osteoporosis, but at the same time I won't say that nothing can be done for it, because usually something can.

It occurs in both sexes, but is more often noticeable in women who have passed menopause, suggesting - that the change in hormone level in the body probably has a good deal to do with the situation.

Therefore treatment with hormones, plus attention to a good diet - plenty of protein, and plenty of calcium, especially from milk and milk products - is called for. Recently osteoporosis has been found to increase density in osteoporosis.

Since bones (as well as other tissues) thrive best by being used, the patient with osteoporosis is urged to remain as active as possible. Naturally if there is any appreciable brittleness of the bones, as occurs with osteoporosis, the patient is warned not to be foolhardy about things. Stay active - but guard against falling.

Osteoporosis doesn't come on quickly; it isn't going to yield to treatment in a hurry, either, so don't expect it to.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as outlining effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mule Train Hits Santa Fe Trail

HUGOTON, Kan. (AP) — A mule pack train will leave Santa Fe, N.M., June 26 commemorating the Santa Fe Trail origin 150 years ago and will move eastward to reach Shawnee, Kan., July 10.

The trip was announced Tuesday by Walter Young, president of the Santa Fe Trail Association.

The pack train will visit towns along the way and will be composed of units from some of the towns.

Argument Develops Over Criminal Law Revision

AUSTIN (AP) — One of the quietest lawmakers in the legislature Wednesday night told off three prosecutors who spoke against a proposed revision of Texas' criminal laws.

"I want to tell you, with some conviction, if you are successful in defeating it and come back here in two years you can look for another sponsor," said Sen. Charles Herring, Austin.

Herring spoke at a meeting of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee, which adjourned without taking action on the bill for lack of a quorum.

The committee was to meet on adjournment of the full Senate today to vote on the measure.

Doug Mulder, first assistant Dallas County district attorney, said the new penal code is like a ship.

MIGHT NOT FLOAT
"It might look good in dry dock, but it might not float," Mulder said. "If it doesn't float, Page Keeton will go back to the drawing board, but Mulder is going to be on that ship when it goes down."

He referred to the dean of the University of Texas Law School, who headed a 29-member State Bar Committee that worked five years writing the new code.

Bexar County Dist. Atty. Ted Butler said the code "was a top secret thing."

"That is absolutely not true," Herring said.

Butler said statewide hearings should be held on such an important piece of legislation, so all the people could voice their opinion.

REFERENDUM
"Maybe we ought to put it on a referendum, put the whole thing (500 pages) on the ballot," Herring said.

"If you do, they won't pass it," Butler said.

"They wouldn't have any more information on it than the district attorneys," Herring snapped.

Herring, a mild-mannered man who walks gingerly and seldom displays emotion of any kind, seemed particularly disappointed in Harris County Dist. Atty. Carol Vance, who helped write the code, then opposed its adoption at this session of the legislature.

Vance, representing the Texas Law Enforcement Legislative Council, voiced several objections to the bill, then said he wanted to be sure to acknowledge the code's "many good changes."

"I hope so," Herring said. "You helped write it."

"I don't think the district attorneys are ever going to write the penal code in the legislature. It's going to be a public interest bill," Herring said.

Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg, who has a temper and likes to use it, joined in. He told Mulder the bill in its present form had been available for six weeks, despite Muller's plea for time.

"We haven't had time to read it. We have a lot of crime in Dallas County," Mulder said.

"We have 3,500 bills before the legislature," Bates barked.

Bates predicted that if the bill is delayed two years the district attorneys still would not have read it when they start objecting again.

Butler said the bill deserved more mature consideration.

Bates said he considered that to be an insult to every member of the committee.

Butlers aid by mature consideration he meant ample time.
