RESERVOIRS STILL COLLECTING RUN-OFF

Cairo Gun Battle Water Troubles Eased

CAIRO, Ill. (AP)—Police say they plan to make some arrests soon in connection with the wounding of three police department employees in a gun battle near the police station over the weekend.

Two Cairo policemen and the civilian police radio dispatcher were wounded. The two officers were treated and discharged from a hospital. The dispatcher, Herschel Hoppe, 50, was listed in fair condition.

Police Supt. James Dals said, "We've got some names and we're going to make some arrests. We're going to ask the county prosecutor to file conspiracy charges against certain persons."

Police said late Sunday that no arrests had been made.

Officials said four Negroes opened fire on the police station Saturday night, wounding Hoppe who police said was working inside. Police said the shots came from nearby St. Columba Church.

Police Chief Fred Theriac said the police returned the gunfire.

The church has been the headquarters of the United Front, a predominantly black citizens group. It has been boycotting white merchants for more than two years, demanding more jobs for blacks.

The two injured officers, Larry Moddin, 27, and Terry Pigg, 28, were among four policemen who attempted to force the gunmen into the open.

Runoff continued into two major reservoirs Monday as water reserves improved in the face of Saturday's thunderstorm.

Lake J. B. Thomas had picked up 6,700 acre-feet and Lake E. V. Spence 9,600. The Thomas rise was the most since May 19, 1969.

Moss Creek Lake, which serves now primarily as a holding reservoir on the Colorado River Municipal Water District system, gained 300 on its own, and Powell Creek lake, nearby to the southeast, gained an undetermined amount of water.

Lake Colorado City gained only a quarter of a foot to elevation. 2054.00 but Champion Creek just across the river downstream changed its almost bone-dry status with a 16-foot rise according to unofficial reports.

O. H. Ivie, general manager for the CRMWD, said that 17,100 had been added to the district's water supply and that the final figure could approach 20,000.

Lake J. B. Thomas was up to elevation 2212.11 at 8 a.m. Monday with a delinquent flow from Bull Creek still coming in. The vertical rise in lake level was 5.69 feet. This put the level back to the Jan. 1, 1971, figure. The increase washed out the channel levees, except at the Big Spring-Odessa pump intake pool, used in the pump-back operation of the district. After a few dry days, these can be replaced.

Lake E. V. Spence, with an elevation of 1823.58 had gained 16.08 vertical feet in its level and to where it was last at 20. This lake also had been virtually depleted before the rains. Ivie said the quality water going into the lake is excellent.

The flow was continuing into the lake at a fairly brisk pace. Upstream at the diversion work immediately above Colorado City, water coursed over the channel dam 2.4 deep although the diversion pumps were sucking water off at the rate of 90,000,000 gallons a day. Monday morning 500 acre-feet of low-quality water had been withdrawn from the river at that point to permit the good water to go downstream to Spence.

The catch could exceed estimates at Lake Spence because the runoff from the violent thunderstorm in Big Spring Saturday was not due to show up there before today.

Lake Champion also was said to be catching more as Champion Creek continued to flow into the secondary Texas Electric Service Company reservoir.

San Angelo lakes had gained 6,300 acre-feet, and another 1,800 may flow in. This was in Lake Nasworthy and the Twin Buttes Lake. Prospects were not good for a rise at North Concho, however, there were some heavy rains Saturday in the Sterling City area that could account for a delayed rise.

Redistrict Issue Still Faces Fire

AUSTIN (AP) — A 140-day legislative session that few lawmakers or citizens have enjoyed went into its final hours today with numerous major issues still unsettled.

The session, which passed Texas' controversial liquor-by-the-drink law and its biggest tax bill, ends at midnight.

House-Senate conference committees were expected to come out with compromise proposals on new liquor-by-the-drink and other booze taxes and on congressional redistricting.

morning included state aid to private colleges, four-year terms for high state officials, legislative pay and a referendum on daylight saving time.

LONG HOURS

Expected to get final approval tonight was a record $7.13 billion state budget for the next two years.

The House worked until nearly 1 a.m. today and the Senate to around 11 p.m. last night on bills left over to the end of the session.

BIG QUESTION

Whether a session marred from beginning to end by a so-called "stock scandal" would come up with a legislative ethics law before final adjournment was a major question.

There were doubts, too, whether legislators would finally approve plans drawing new House and Senate districts, and some thought it was just as well.

Several lawmakers openly voiced the opinion that they would get fairer districts from the legislative redistricting board—set up automatically by the constitution if the legislature fails to do the job itself. It would be the first time the board was convened. Members would be Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Speaker Gus Mutscher, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong and Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

Other issues still hanging when the lawmakers convened this Senate action on bills Sunday night was delayed until 9:50 p.m. by a national record-breaking 29-hour 22-minute filibuster by Sen. Don Kennard of Fort Worth against a bill making the University of Texas at Dallas a four-year school.

The measure was then given tentative approval, 19-11.

Temper snapped and angry words were spoken in the House Sunday when Mutscher's plans to run through 102 supposedly uncontested Senate bills in a few hours were smashed by the self-named "dirty 30."

The "dirty 30," a Republican-liberal Democrat coalition that has opposed Mutscher's bill all session long, complained nobody knew what they were voting on and knocked every bill off the so-called "local and consent calendar."

A few of the bills were brought up on rule suspensions late in the night and were approved.

Audie Murphy Missing On Chartered Flight

ATLANTA (AP) — Audie Murphy, a baby-faced Texan whose heroism as an infantryman earned him 24 decorations during World War II, is missing on a chartered airplane flight.

The twin-engine Aero Commander in which the most decorated soldier of the second world conflict and four other men left Atlanta Friday morning was last heard from as it passed near Roanoke, Va.

The Federal Aviation Administration said bad weather was reported in the Roanoke area at the time. The pilot, Herman Butler, contacted the FAA's flight service station at Roanoke Friday and indicated he would land there at 11:40 a.m. Nothing more was heard from the craft, the FAA said Sunday.

PERFECT PLACE Unearthly Visitors Hide In The Ocean?

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — If you were a visitor from outer space, and you couldn't get anybody to take you to their leader, and you just wanted to get away from it all, where would you go?

Hayden Hewes says you'd hide in the ocean.

IT'S SO BIG

Hewes, director of the International Unidentified Flying Objects Bureau, says the depths of Earth's oceans may well be the headquarters for UFO bases.

"Some say they're behind the moon," Hewes said. "I say the ocean is more likely."

After all, he said, people have reported seeing UFOs flitting in and out of water, and earthlings "know more about Mars than we do our own oceans... the ocean is so big — it's a perfect hiding place."

Hewes, 27, here to deliver a lecture tonight on UFO's, says he has researched unidentified flying objects for the past 14 years.

"There's no doubt in my mind that UFO's do exist," he said.

A clerk for an Oklahoma City firm, Hewes said he spends virtually all his spare time researching UFO reports and writing articles about them.

"I believe Earth has been under peaceful reconnaissance since — if not before — recorded history," Hewes said in an interview.

647 Red Viet Prisoners Refuse To Be Repatriated

SAIGON (AP) — Only 13 of the 660 North Vietnamese prisoners of war tapped for repatriation this week have agreed to go home, official sources said today.

Nevertheless, the sources said, the Saigon government plans to go ahead with the release of prisoners off the coast of the demilitarized zone on Friday. North Vietnam has agreed to the arrangements.

The 647 POWs who have refused to be repatriated have until Thursday, the day before the turnover, to change their minds. One source indicated expectations that this might happen on orders from Hanoi, saying: "The prisoners have their own grapevine, and it's very good. They might get orders to return rather than stay."

PRESS BRIEFING

The Foreign Ministry canceled a news conference today at which it was to outline arrangements for the transfer of the prisoners. Asked whether the cancellation meant the release of the POWs might also be delayed, a government official said, "It is very hard to tell at this time."

The press briefing was tentatively rescheduled for Wednesday.

U.S. officials have been concerned about any delay in the POW turnover because it marks the first time in the Vietnam War that the North Vietnamese have openly agreed in advance to receive repatriated prisoners.

South Vietnamese Retreat From Snuol

SAIGON (AP) — A South Vietnamese task force with more than 100 men wounded abandoned the Cambodian rubber plantation town of Snuol today and retreated toward South Vietnam after five days of heavy fighting with North Vietnamese forces.

Field reports said U.S. helicopters helped lift out both wounded and nonwounded South Vietnamese troops from Snuol, on Highway 7 about 90 miles north of Saigon. Many of the wounded reportedly had been awaiting evacuation for several days.

Associated Press Photographer Huynh Cong Ut, flying over the region, reported that big South Vietnamese Chinook troop-carrying helicopters, also lifted out loads of wounded.

An armored column fought its way from the town southward along Highway 13 toward the Vietnamese border, Ut reported.

The armored column clashed with North Vietnamese forces seven miles southeast of Snuol during the start of the pullback Sunday night. Saigon headquarters claimed 54 North Vietnamese troops were killed. A spokesman said 16 South Vietnamese soldiers were wounded but none was killed.

Two North Vietnamese regiments from the 5th Division, numbering up to 4,000, are reported to be poised around Snuol, which was defended by the South Vietnamese task force of about 2,000 men. Last Wednesday, up to 1,000

North Vietnamese troops attacked the town, triggering five days of fighting. Fighting raged in the market place. Most of the enemy were driven back with massive U.S. air support.

The Saigon command reported at the time that most of the North Vietnamese troops had been driven out of the town and claimed more than 250 of them were killed.

Soldiers Split On Memorial Day

By The Associated Press

Soldiers who survived this nation's wars were divided into prowar and antiwar groups over many of the public rituals planned across the country today when Americans honor soldiers who died.

Veterans who for years had marched in Memorial Day parades in Madison, Wis., and Seattle planned to boycott them today rather than march with other soldiers who oppose the nation's policies in Southeast Asia.

In Media, Pa., antiwar veterans were refused permission to march in the parade down the streets of the Philadelphia suburb and said they would hold their own march on the sidewalks.

Gen. Leonard Chapman Jr., Marine Corps commandant, spoke to a memorial service at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery.

More than 3,000 persons were expected to attend similar rites at Veterans Administration Center Cemetery in West Los Angeles and place small American flags at each of some 55,000 graves there.

Trapped Youths Holding Hostage

ISTANBUL (AP) — Angry mobs and a cordon of troops and police today surrounded an apartment house where two armed youths wanted for the kidnap-murder of Israeli Consul-General Ephraim Elrom held a 14-year-old girl hostage.

The two young armed terrorists said they would release the girl if they were given safe conduct out of the country.

"We are going to wait patiently," one troop commander said. But another army officer said the two youths would be handed over to the mob if the hostage was not freed soon.

Soldiers and police evacuated neighboring apartments and houses and sealed off the third-floor apartment where the terrorists held Sebil Erkan, the daughter of Army Maj. Dincer Erkan. The youths allowed Mrs. Erkan and her 10-year-old son to leave but ignored all pleas to free the girl.

They shouted though a smashed window to the troops below that they would kill her if the soldiers attacked or used tear gas.

Jeeps mounted with searchlights and machine guns circled the apartment building

Car Wrecks Leading Parade Of Carnage

Despite the long Memorial Day weekend, violent deaths in Texas were occurring this holiday period at a rate about like a normal weekend.

The Associated Press began its holiday death tabulation at 6 p.m. Friday and is to continue counting until midnight tonight.

By midnight Sunday, the death toll stood at 24 with 15 killed in traffic accidents.

Inez M. Lippitt, 56, of Whase was killed in a two-car accident on U.S. 281 near McAllen.

Henry C. Black, 55, of McAllen was killed in a two-car accident on Farm 405 near McAllen Saturday night.

Bobby Green, 36, of Karnak was fatally injured Saturday night in a motorcycle accident five miles north of Marshall on State 43.

SMACKS TREE

Ernest Hellums, 20, of Dale, Tex., was killed Sunday when his pickup truck hit a tree near LaGrange.

Artemus White, 56, was killed in a robbery Saturday night at a filling station south of Sulphur Springs. He was an attendant. Police said they recovered $56 when they arrested a 21-year-old man in connection with the robbery.

Lewis Jordan, 25, was fatally injured Saturday night when struck by a car as he crossed a street in Texas City.

A Houston man and his son were shot to death and a third man stabbed early Sunday in a fight outside a bar. Killed were Gilbert Garcia, 31, and his son, David C. Garcia, 30. Frank Ramirez, 40, who was stabbed was released from a hospital after treatment. Police said they had arrested one man and hoped to arrest others.

TOT DROWNS

John Duke, 3, of San Antonio drowned in the swimming pool of friends he and his mother, Mrs. Sheila Duke of San Antonio were visiting in Austin.

Gerald Cisneros, 21, of Campbellton, Tex., was killed Sunday when his car ran off a farm road and hit a tree.

SATURDAY RAIN DOUBLES RECORD

Saturday's downpour of 2.42 inches more than doubled the 1907 record rainfall for May 29 of 1.06 inches.

Although there is no record of the rain intensity in 1907, the 1.85 inches Big Spring received in 13 minutes is probably another record for May 29. 15 minutes is probably another record for May 29.

Temperatures of 73 and 55 failed to break the record high of 107 degrees in 1927 or the record low of 43 degrees in 1947.

America's Mariner Races Russian Vehicles To Mars

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "Looks like we'll be at Mars in 5 1/2 months," a space agency official said as America's Mariner 9 spacecraft joined two Russian probes hurtling toward the red planet to search for life and to unravel scientific mysteries.

Mariner 9 rode the flawless performance of an Atlas-Centaur rocket into space Sunday to start a 247 million-mile voyage to the planet.

Horse Virus Drifting Closer

COLLEGE STATION — U.S. Department of Agriculture animal health officials and livestockmen are keeping a sharp eye out for symptoms of a foreign virus disease of horses that has recently moved closer to the United States.

The disease, Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE), has moved northward from South and Central America into southern Mexico where about 6,000 horses were reported killed by the disease. Besides Mexico, the disease has been reported in 16 other countries in South and Central America.

Symptoms include a rapid rise in body temperature up to 106 degrees accompanied by a rapid pulse rate, loss of appetite and depression. Often the animal will walk in circles until it falls down. Death may occur in six to eight days. Also, a horse may hang its head, press its head against objects, assume a cross-legged stance, show a "drifting" gait or appear drowsy, say animal health officials.

69 Persons, Hijacked Jet Still In Cuba

MIAMI (AP) — A Pan American 707 jetliner hijacked with 69 persons aboard remains in Cuba for the second day today while airline officials seek a reason for the "unusual period of time" it is being detained.

The Caracas-to-Miami flight was hijacked to Havana Saturday afternoon.

The release of the four-engine Boeing-built jet, its 60 passengers and nine crew members, had been expected Sunday, officials of the airline and the Federal Aviation Administration said.

A Pan Am spokesman in New York said the airline was "anxious about the inconvenience of the passengers but we are not yet alarmed about the delay."

A State Department spokesman in Washington said, "We have been in touch with Pan Am officials. We have a report from the Swiss Embassy, which represents us in Havana, and they said all the passengers and crew are doing well."

The spokesman said the crew and passengers were staying in a hotel and the Swiss Embassy had been requested to keep the United States informed.

The Pan Am spokesman said the plane was being held in Havana an "unusual period of time," but said it was not unprecedented, adding that a previously hijacked jet was delayed 36 hours.

Meanwhile, it was reported that those aboard Flight 42 were taken on a bus tour of Premier Fidel Castro's capital Sunday.

The fate of the hijacker was unknown. The hijacking reportedly was the work of one man who wielded a pocket knife and seized a woman passenger as a hostage to gain entrance to the cockpit and divert the aircraft.

Mass For Suspect, Yuba City Victims

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — A Memorial Day Mass is scheduled tonight for Juan Corona, whose bodies have been found in graves among the trees of this California orchard community. Corona is charged with 10 of the deaths.

FINANCIER WEDS ACTRESS — Norton Simon, left, 64-year-old Californian financier, wed film actress Jennifer Jones, right, aboard a chartered launch Sunday in the English Channel. The actress is 32.

Meanwhile, Sheriff Roy Whiteaker ordered a 25-man search force to comb two ranches adjoining the J. L. Sullivan ranch, burial site of 21 of the 23 bodies found thus far.

ALL SLASHED
All of the victims had been stabbed and hacked to death with a machete or similar weapon.

Deputies spent 7 1/2 hours Sunday digging at three possible gravesites among peach trees on the Sullivan property, but found no more bodies.

"I don't believe the end is in sight. I think there are more bodies out there," Whiteaker said.

The special Mass is scheduled at St. Isadores Roman Catholic Church to offer prayers for the victims, Corona and his family. The Coronas often attended services there.

Corona, 37, a farmer labor contractor in this fruit-growing region for the past 15 years, was charged last week with 10 of the slayings. Charges in the other deaths probably will be reached when the final body toll is reached, G. Dave Teja, Sutter County district attorney, said.

POOR VICTIMS
Asked why Corona was included in the Mass, the Rev. Joseph Bishop, St. Isadores' pastor, said: "Whether he's sane or insane, he still needs our prayers. And the poor victims, they're still part of the human race."

Corona's family—a second wife and four girls aged 4 through 8—need all the spiritual help they can get, he added.

The family is not expected to attend the Mass. They have constantly tried to avoid newsmen and photographers.

Corona's wife, Gloria, his brother Pedro and his mother, Mrs. Candida Corona of Axtlan, Jalisco, Mexico, visited Corona for about two hours Sunday morning in the jail in Marysville just across the Feather River from Yuba City.

Corona was moved over the weekend to the Marysville jail because, the sheriff said, security provisions there are better than in the old Yuba City jail where he had been held since his arrest Wednesday.

NO MORE BODIES
Four miles north of town deputies dug up muddy orchard areas which appeared sunken in by recent rain, as were the earlier graves.

No more bodies were discovered and the only remaining part of the Sullivan land left to be searched was the northeast corner, under eight to 12 inches of irrigation water.

Farm workers reported four or five "identations" in the submerged acreage—spots Whiteaker believes might be the sites of more graves.

He said "it may be a few weeks" before the land is dry enough for digging.

PRUNE PICKERS
Meanwhile, he said he planned to search on two vast orchards on each side of the Sullivan land where Corona had sprigged workers to prune trees and pick fruit.

Whiteaker said deputies are using portable metal detectors to locate such objects as belt buckles and rings, plus equipment designed to spot gaps in mineral content of the soil. A corpse would produce such a void, he explained.

The sheriff also said he is still negotiating with the Air Force to have it take aerial infra-red photographs, which would detect orchard areas where the ground has been disturbed.

Western Union Walkout Called

WASHINGTON (AP) — A strike of more than 17,000 Western Union employees is set for midnight EDT in the wake of union rejection of what the company called its final offer.

Six weeks of bargaining ended in recess Sunday after the company presented its two-year proposal in a two-hour meeting with union negotiators.

"We have our best offer up and we are prepared to take a strike if we have to," said R.H. Cobb, chief Western Union negotiator.

"Their latest proposal is unacceptable," commented E.L. Hageman, president of the AFL-CIO United Telegraph Workers. "It is much too low and it is not in accordance with the wage patterns being negotiated in other companies and industries."

Both sides agreed to remain available to resume negotiations although the union bargaining team split up and members returned to their homes.

The union is seeking a 16-per cent increase in each year of a two-year contract. Western Union offered a 10-per cent hike year increase offered by Western Union would have been 6 per cent effective June 1, with another 4 per cent added "the day of approval by the Federal Communications Commission of an increase in telegraph rates."

He rejected any raise conditioned on FCC approval of new telegraph rates. "We feel this is an illegal approach that would ultimately give the FCC power to control wages in a union," Hageman said.

The strike vote authorizing leadership to call a walkout was taken earlier this month. All but some 2,500 Western Union employees are involved. Those are under the Communications Workers of America and are continuing separate negotiations with the company in New York.

Negotiators for the national group said unsettled points in addition to general wages include pension increases, prohibition of contracting out workers and restrictions on personnel transfers.

Goren On Bridge

—CHARLES H. GOREN

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

(As told to The Chess Times)
BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠AKQ109 ♥A104 ♦Q105 ♣J2
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass
2 ♠ Pass 4 ♥ Pass
3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Six spades. You have distinctly more than an opening bid and partner has opened and jumped so there should be no doubt of the slam. There can be no real fear of losing two diamond tricks. Since partner has opened and then jumped he must have at least the king of that suit.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ64 ♥Q8752 ♣A753
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♥ 2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid?
A.—Pass. It is important to bear in mind that partner's hand was not strong enough to justify making a takeout double, so that his principal strength is no doubt in diamonds. It would be extremely bad tactics to try two no trump merely because you have hearts stopped and a smattering of high cards.

Q. 3—As South vulnerable, with 60 part score, you hold:
♠A5 ♥KQJ62 ♦AK ♣Q103
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Two no trump. Inasmuch as partner's bid has completed the game, this serves as a mild slam try and affords partner the opportunity to bid again if he happens to have a strong hand. Under the circumstances we would not recommend a jump rebid in hearts, for the texture of the suit is not good enough.

Q. 4—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J2 ♥AQJ853 ♦109 ♣976
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
Pass 1 ♠ 1NT Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Four hearts. Partner has shown the equivalent of a one no trump bid. Under the circumstances we would insist upon a game and, with this unbalanced hand, preferably in hearts.

Q. 5—East and West vulnerable and as South you hold:

♠3 ♥AQ95 ♦10653 ♣K974
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ 2 ♣ ?
What do you bid?
A.—The possession of four of the enemy's trumps may always be assessed as one defensive trick. In this case since you are so short in partner's bid suit, you may easily get in two ruffs. Since you can estimate that you will win at least four tricks, a double for penalties is your clear choice.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AQ ♥A ♣AQ10752 ♦Q1063
The bidding has proceeded:
East South West North
Pass 1 ♣ 1 ♠ 2NT
Pass 3 ♠ Pass 3NT
Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Even though you have opened the bidding and cued the opponent's suit, you must not consign this hand to game without at least one more try for slam. Since you have 18 high card points, the partnership is assured of at least 31 plus a six card suit. There is a strong probability that partner fits the diamonds, and he surely has something good in clubs. Our suggestion is that you temporize at this point by bidding four diamonds.

Q. 7—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K62 ♥A7 ♣A52 ♣AKQ75
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♥ 1 ♠ 2 ♣
2 ♥ Pass 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Six spades. Partner has rebid spades and has indicated that he has the king of hearts. It would be a most unusual hand if it did not produce 12 tricks.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KJ3 ♥J106 ♦KJ963 ♣104
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South
1 ♠ 1 ♠ ?
What do you bid?
A.—The recommended call is one no trump. This shows a fairly good hand but is not forcing. Normally such a bid describes a hand containing between 10 and 12 points. You have nine without counting the two tens, in addition to which you have a fifth diamond, which I would rather have than an additional jack.

Reputed Dixie Mafia Leader Denies Guilt

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Kirksey McCord Nix Jr., 28, reputed gangland boss and the son of an Oklahoma judge, has pleaded innocent to a charge of violating a federal anti-firearms law.

Nix, who pleaded innocent to state murder charges last week, entered the same plea to a charge that he falsely stated he was never convicted of a felony when he bought a gun in the city.

Nix, said by Dallas, Tex., police to be the head of a seven state Dixie Mafia operation, has contended that he was brought to New Orleans from Dallas last week illegally.

However, at the arraignment session in federal court Wednesday, Judge Edward Boyle held that a writ was legally issued to bring Nix to Louisiana to answer the federal charges.

Within days after Nix arrived in the city, the state arraigned him on a charge of murdering New Orleans businessman Frank Corso Easter night.

Corso was slain in a gun battle with burglars in his home. Police said they believe he wounded one of his assailants.

Nix was arrested in a Dallas hospital where he was being treated for a gunshot wound.

Nix is the son of the chief justice of the Oklahoma Court of Criminal Appeals.

Circus Acrobat Has Come Up

With a string of powerful performances to his credit, Burt Lancaster, starting Thursday at the Jet Theatre starring as the dynamic airport manager in the all-star production of "Airport," has come a long way.

He started his career in entertainment as a circus acrobat (at three dollars a week) and upon entering films was known as Mr. Teeth-and-Muscles.

"At 55, the teeth and muscles are still there, but today their owner is earning nearly $5 a minute and his Hollywood home bookcase has a shelf stacked high with awards including the prized Oscar for "Elmer Gantry."

Many of the films in which he has starred contained important dramatic themes — "From Here to Eternity," "Birdman of Alcatraz," "The Sweet Smell of Success" and "Judgment at Nuremberg."

"I agreed to Ross Hunter's proposal that I portray Mel Bakersfeld in 'Airport,' because although it is a best selling novel read by millions, it literally cried to be made into a meaningful film. It's a gutsy part of a man motivated by the basic human emotions as he wrestles with almost insuperable problems," he concluded.

Pantyhose Ban

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A braless pantyhose packet could get you in trouble here. Ever-alert government censors have banned body-stocking packets adorned with pictures of models wearing the product and nothing else.

Famed Johns Hopkins Hospital Can't Find Cure For Money Ills

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — One of the most important research projects at the Johns Hopkins medical institutions is under way — in the accounting office.

The world famous hospital and its school of medicine are fiscally sick.

"The basic trouble," says hospital treasurer W. Thomas Barnes, "is that we're getting in a dequate payment from nearly everyone."

"BLUE BABY" — The medical school, where the "blue baby" operation was developed in 1944, has been the only fully accepted model in U.S. medical education since 1910, according to the Carnegie Commission.

Yet it hasn't found a cure for its financial ills. And the prognosis for Johns Hopkins Hospital wasn't helped when four downtown hospitals moved to the suburbs, leaving Hopkins to care for the bulk of the city's pauper patients.

"Last year there was $34 million worth of medical services performed with no payment whatsoever," Barnes says. The red ink flowing from the school of medicine comes from the same bottle that produced a $4.3-million over-all Johns Hopkins University deficit this year. The medical share now exceeds $2 million.

ECONOMIC SLUMP — The general economic slump has slowed contributions and prompted a surge in applications for loans and scholarships.

Federal grants, at times comprising more than 60 per cent of the medical school budget, have been cut 28 per cent since 1965, despite a 22 per cent increase in the size of the entering class, says Dr. John Neff, assistant dean of the medical faculty.

Federal money available for long-term, low interest loans has dwindled from $1,100 to $261 per student since 1967, says Dr. Gerald Gotterfer, assistant dean of student affairs.

The Johns Hopkins School of Medicine was founded in 1893 and is considered a model for other schools largely because of its emphasis on biological research.

Hopkins today is experimenting with new concepts of comprehensive health care and this summer will open the nation's first children's emergency room in a general hospital.

Actually, deficits are nothing new to Johns Hopkins Hospital, which has been running in the red since it opened 81 years ago, Barnes says.

EMERGENCY CASES — Although last year's net loss of $543,000 was neither a record high nor low, the treasurer maintains the hospital is in a very desperate crisis now. The purchase of new equipment has slowed to a trickle and the building improvement program may have to be curtailed.

Besides the general rise in costs that are putting the squeeze on all U.S. hospitals, Hopkins is in a low-income inner city area where between 300 and 400 cases are handled daily in the emergency room alone.

Inadequate payment, says Barnes, stems partly from a simple inability of some patients to pay their hospital bills.

In addition, Medicare, Medicaid and Blue Cross reimburse only "cost" to the hospitals, the treasurer says, which does not include money for such items as bad debts, fund-raising expenses, special nurses or replacement of equipment.

NIXON'S GOAL — Other roots of the financial plight include the overhead of maintaining expensive facilities regardless of whether funds are available to use them; unionization of employees, and the general rise in the cost of medical education.

Neff sees President Nixon's goal of $6,000 per graduating medical student as a good idea, but completely inadequate. He says the total cost per student for the four-year program is closer to $40,000.

"Tuition recently went up from $2,500 to $2,700 a year, and with our endowment we can pay for about half the annual $10,000 cost. But there's only so much you can pass on to alumni and students."

Neff believes the state should consider helping Hopkins, which has at least partially trained 25 per cent of the physicians now practicing in Maryland. It now gives no aid.

RISKY FUTURE — Gov. Marvin Mandel proposed in his budget for next year a $2-million allocation to help both Hopkins and the University of Maryland medical schools, but there has been no indication the money would be an annual appropriation.

Neff says that more than $1.5 million in on-going research projects at Hopkins have been lost, amounting to perhaps between 5 and 10 per cent of the total work being done.

"The long-range effects on research are more subtle," Neff says. "Many of our brightest young people hesitate to go into research because the future is so tenuous."

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

Alcohol Nets Brownwood Evacuation

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A tanker truck loaded with an explosive form of alcohol overturned at a major highway intersection here late Sunday forcing evacuation of a nearby motel and other commercial establishments.

The type of alcohol was not learned at once.

Police said electricity was shut off in the area and motorists were forced to detour around the endangered intersection.

The accident occurred around 10:45 p.m. at the intersection of U.S. 67, U.S. 77 and U.S. 84. The truck driver was not injured.

Police said the tanker overturned in a light rain while trying to round a sharp curve where the three highways meet.

Six fire trucks joined police and emergency crews as the noxious fumes escaped. Police said the odor could be smelled for at least four blocks.

Firemen hosed down the streets as work crews allowed the remaining 40,000 pounds of alcohol to empty into storm drains.

Police said the accident caused a major traffic jam.

Two-Decade Career Ends With Retirement Party

Tuesday will mark the end of 20 years of service to Skelly Oil Co. and the oil industry for Charles Sweeney. Sweeney's retirement will officially take effect then. He was honored by approximately 130 friends and co-workers Saturday night with a dinner at the Cosden Country Club.

Sweeney came to Big Spring in 1951 as a representative of Butler, Miller and Lents, Houston oil consultants, to establish a natural gasoline plant.

After negotiating for rights-of-way and securing contracts, he supervised the construction of the East Vealmoor Gasoline Plant, under contract with Delta Engineering.

The plant processed casing-head gas from the oil fields of Howard, Borden, Dawson, Scurry and Mitchell counties, and the end products of propane, butane and gasoline were distributed throughout the country.

Originally Reef Fields Gasoline Corp., it was incorporated as Reef Corp., then purchased in 1967 by Skelly Oil Co.

Sweeney began his career in the oil and gasoline industry in

CHARLES SWEENEY

1926 during the "Borger Boom" in the Texas Panhandle. He worked at that time for Phillips Petroleum Co. Sweeney was joined in the industry by his brothers and brothers-in-law, all of whom became life-long employees of Phillips.

After leaving Borger, Sweeney went to Oklahoma City for six years, still in the employ of Phillips. In 1937, he went to Colombia, South America, for four years to work in gas processing for Standard Oil of New Jersey. He returned to the United States in 1941, where he began his association with J. R. Butler and M. R. Lents in the Cotton Valley Operators' Committee in constructing and operating a gas-recycling plant in Cotton Valley, La.

While working in Cotton Valley, Sweeney met and married Virginia Pearce. The couple has four children, Charles (Chip) Sweeney, Houston; Mrs. James (D'Ann) Lefler, Big Spring; Patsy Sweeney, a junior at Texas Tech University; and Mark Sweeney, a junior at Big Spring High School.

From Cotton Valley, Sweeney went to Haynesville, La., to operate a plant.

Howard and Borden counties' oil interest were taking shape with the Reinecke, Good, Vealmoor and Hobo fields, and these developments drew Sweeney to Howard County and Big Spring in 1951.

Sweeney has been active in civic and professional organizations in Big Spring during his 20-year residency. He has served as secretary, program chairman and chairman of the Permian Basin Natural Gas Processors Association, director of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce from 1957 to 1958, commissioner for the Boy Scout Council, director of the Rotary Club and director of the Big Spring Country Club.

The Sweeney family has also been active with the First Baptist Church.

Sweeney, an avid golfer, will be spending a lot of his retirement time on the golf course with a set of clubs presented him Saturday by his former associates.

Jimmy Felts served as master of ceremonies at the retirement dinner honoring Sweeney. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Young, Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Lents, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hudson, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Zike, Tulsa, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dodd, Eunice, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Chambers, Eunice, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. Max Schumaker Jr., Midland; C. D. Holder, Snyder; James Foster, Florida; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carr, Phoenix, Ariz.

Two Men Rape Houston Girl

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Police were searching today for two men who kidnaped a 15-year-old girl late Saturday night and raped her.

The girl was sitting in a parked car with her 19-year-old date in Houston's Memorial Park when two men approached with guns.

The youth told police the men made him strip, took his wallet and watch, then drove off in the car with the girl.

She was later released by the men.

She told officers the pair drove to a nearby car, from where they drove her to another location where both of them raped her. She said she was struck in the face at one point when she would not stop screaming.

The girl told police the men let her out of their car about 3 a.m. Sunday on a Houston freeway. She called her family who came and picked her up, she said.

Pickup Overtakes Near Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — A one vehicle-turnover was reported at 11:08 p.m. Sunday on U.S. 87 six miles south of this city, however, the driver, Ernest Terry, 35, apparently escaped injury. Medical Arts Hospital records did not show any treatment.

The accident occurred when Terry lost control of his pickup truck, and it struck the median and overturned. No other vehicles were involved.

Texas Highway Patrolman Arvin Kilpatrick was the investigating officer.

'Please Don't Ask Me Any Questions'

ROSARIO, Argentina (AP) — An Anglo-Argentine meat packing executive, freed by guerrilla kidnapers Sunday, says he was treated very well during his week of captivity.

Stanley M.F. Sylvester even stopped to buy a newspaper while riding home in a taxi.

"Please don't ask me any questions, I cannot compromise myself," Sylvester, 58, told newsmen. "They treated me very well."

Sylvester, the honorary British consul in Rosario, was kidnaped by the Marxist People's Revolutionary Army. To ransom him the Swift De La Plata meat packing company, of which he is a director, distributed $62,500 worth of food, blankets and clothing to shantytown poor in Rosario.

The leftists said they kidnaped Sylvester to call attention to the "unimaginable anguish" which they alleged the Swift plant had caused its 6,000 workers and their families here.

After his release, Sylvester hailed a taxi driven by Santiago Mugeta, 47, in downtown Rosario shortly before 8:30 a.m.

"He asked me to stop so he could get a newspaper," Mugeta said. "After he had the newspaper, he asked me if I knew who he was. I didn't, and then he said: 'I am the consul, and they treated me very well.'"

Sylvester was wearing a red pullover sweater and gray slacks. Arriving at his home in the wealthy Fisherton suburb, he was embraced by his wife, Sally, and two sons.

Born in Argentina of British parents, Sylvester holds British and Argentine citizenship and has been honorary British consul in this city of a million people for eight years.

The distribution of food, clothes and blankets was made Friday and Saturday. Thousands massed before the trucks hired by Swift for the distribution.

The firm announced its willingness to comply with most of the demands a few minutes before the terrorists' deadline.

Streets Clear Of Rain Debris

City streets were in hazardous shape for the flow of traffic, over the weekend following Saturday's rain, however most city streets have been cleared of debris, mud and water, according to police reports.

No damage reports to city streets or county roads were available today due to the Memorial Day holiday.

There are no streets in town that haven't been cleared of all hazardous debris due to the work of city, county and state maintenance crews working Saturday after the storm and Sunday in an effort to make the streets and roads accessible for traffic, police reports.

Astro Honored

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — The University of Maryland's European division has conferred an honorary doctor of science degree on astronaut Neil Armstrong, the first human to set foot on the moon.

The Apollo 11 crew member, now 40, is deputy administrator for advanced research and technology of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Armstrong told the 58 graduates Sunday the increase in knowledge will probably mean that some of them will eventually wind up in careers that do not exist.

VANDALISM

Manhattan DA's Career Spans 30 Years In Office

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank S. Hogan is completing his 30th year as Manhattan district attorney, a record span in that arduous job, and he probably is as widely known as any lawyer in the nation.

But he says of his advent in his profession: "Frankly, I didn't care for the law. I found it deadly."

But his distaste for the law dissolved as the years rolled by and today he appears happily immersed in the complexities of running the busiest DA's office in the country.

EIGHTH TERM
At the age of 69, has he given any thought to retiring when he completes his eighth term two years hence? His blue eyes twinkled as he replied: "I, of course, have thoughts of retiring on occasion. So far I've rejected them. I still find the work very challenging. So far as my doctor and I can figure out, I'm blessed with good health. I haven't had a sickness of any kind since infancy."

Hogan is a trim 5-foot-10, his weight of 165 somewhat down since he was sworn in as DA succeeding Thomas E. Dewey on Dec. 29, 1941. His black hair has turned white over the years. But he still has the dapper air and the agile mind of a much younger man.

A high school teacher once suggested that young Hogan consider journalism as a career. Frank Smithwick Hogan did just that, to the extent of coming to New York to begin a prejournalism course at Columbia University.

LAW SCHOOL
However, World War I ended and many of his fraternity brothers came out of service and into Columbia's law school. "I respected them very much," Hogan said, so much so that eventually he entered the law school himself.

Graduating Columbia in 1924, Hogan joined the real estate division of a large private law firm, then left to strike out with a young colleague in the firm, Anthony Leibler. But the Depression caught up with the pair, and financial troubles involving a 42nd Street landlord.

"SOME PRESSURE"
"So we moved," said Hogan wryly. "I think under some pressure."
Attracted to Dewey, who in 1935 had been appointed a racket-busting special prosecutor in New York, Hogan applied for a job with him and he got it. He went with Dewey to the district attorney's office in 1937. When Dewey quit to run for governor in 1941, he recommended any of four men as his successor. Hogan's name was among the four, the only Democrat on the list.

DEMO NOMINEE
Hogan won the Democratic nomination and was elected with bipartisan support, as he has been in seven subsequent elections.
Some of the landmark criminal cases Hogan has mentioned in the past are the prosecutions of union extortionist Joey Fay, Tammany politician Jimmy Hines, gambler Frank Erickson, and James Moran, first deputy fire commissioner convicted of a shake-down.
To these he now adds the investigation of the State Liquor Authority which led to the indictment and ouster of its chairman and the 1966 conviction of State Republican chairman L. Judson Morehouse for bribery and the taking of unlawful fees. Over the years, the roster of crimes the DA's office has been called upon to deal with is repetitive, leading Hogan to observe: "History repeats itself constantly."

YOUNGER CRIMINALS
He was asked if there hadn't been an alarming rise recently in crime among the young. Hogan said: "Certainly statistics bear this out. They indicate a disproportionate percentage of crime is committed by adolescents and young adults."

Why?
"That's for the sociologists to say," the district attorney replied. Then he offered his own musings by way of an answer:

"Then there is the preoccupation of so many of them with drugs — a great pharmacopoeia of drugs. Marijuana is extensively used — and literally dog-eared of others."
Over-all, Hogan considers the dope problem the greatest single burden on his office, explaining: "Certainly, if some persons could remove the drug problem, this would be an easier office to administer."

There is much greater mobility than young people had years ago — the auto, the motorcycle. There probably is greater permissiveness and that's a heady sort of situation. Some youngsters can handle it. Some can't. They are engaged in civil disobedience and often times in violence, by way of protest.

Producers are urged to check their seedling grain sorghum closely for greenbug infestations," emphasizes Rummel. "Since greenbugs have a high reproductive potential, populations can build up rapidly under certain conditions."

Small grain sorghum up to about six inches in height is much more susceptible to greenbug injury than larger plants, he said.

Recent surveys show that spotted greenbug infestations are present in some grain sorghum fields on the Texas High Plains. None have been reported in Howard County, according to Paul Gross, county agent.

Light greenbug infestations have been found on seedling grain sorghum in Parmer, Castro, Bailey, Hale, Swisher and Lamb counties, reports Dr. Don Rummel of Lubbock, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, most greenbug counts averaged far less than one greenbug per plant.

HONOR MAINTENANCE MEN — S. Sgt. Dale Sutter (left), S. M. Sgt. Frank Moore and A.I.C. Andrew Davis (right) have been selected at Webb AFB as the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron's NCO, Senior NCO and Airman of the Month for April.

Webb Field Maintenance Squad Honors Personnel

The 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron at Webb AFB has selected its men of the month for April, according to 2nd Lt. Percy Joubert, squadron administrative officer.

Chosen were S.M.Sgt. Frank W. Moore, Senior Noncommissioned Officer of the Month; S.Sgt. Dale C. Sutter, NCO of the Month; and A.I.C. Andrew Davis, Airman of the Month.

Sgt. Moore is the noncommissioned officer in charge of the propulsion branch, flight line support section. 1st Lt. Joseph Hinds, flight line support section officer in charge, said about the sergeant, "He has initiated maintenance and management programs that tackled the heavy workload during the month of April. He designed a program with 24-hour coverage, placing his personnel in critical areas in order to meet the mission requirement under a heavy workload."

Sgt. Moore has been in the Air Force 19 years. He came here in 1968, following an assignment with the 355th Field Maintenance Squadron at Takhli RTAFB, Thailand.

The senior NCO of the month wrote the letter nominating the NCO of the Month, Sgt. Moore said about Sgt. Sutter, "He is fully qualified to run-up, taxi and troubleshoot the T-38 Taon and T-37 trainer aircraft and related systems. In the absence of the noncommissioned officer in charge, he takes over the operation and leaves little to be desired by his performance."

The native of El Paso entered the Air Force in 1957. Prior to his coming here, Sgt. Sutter was assigned to the 3rd Field Maintenance Squadron, Beinh Hoa AB, Vietnam.

The honor airman is a corrosion control specialist in the fabrication branch of Field Maintenance. Allen W. Gerhart, corrosion control shop foreman, said about Airman Davis, "Since his assignment to the shop, he has shown great improvement in his field, being upgraded in a minimum amount of time. Particularly noteworthy is the outstanding job the airman does in painting aerospace ground equipment."

Airman Davis joined the Air Force in 1970. He completed technical training at Sheppard AFB, Tex., and then was assigned here.

WTCC Names New Manager

A new executive vice president and general manager of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has been elected to replace Jack G. Springer, who resigned to accept a similar position with the Oklahoma State Chamber of Commerce.

J. Fike Godfrey, Spur, takes over today. He is a past president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and of the Spur Chamber.

Godfrey, a graduate industrial engineer from Texas Tech, has been identified with educational, civic and livestock organizations working for the economic development of West Texas.

He married Naomi Sweeney of Phillips, and they have two children, David and Jan, both at Texas Tech. They will live in Abilene, the headquarters of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

British Marriage Bureaus Undeterred By Mod Society

LONDON (AP) — Britain's marriage bureaus are making great strides, undeterred by the permissive society.

An estimated 1,000 bureaus matchmaking business, while the country now engage in the columns of political journals and fashion magazines bristle with offers of introductions "with a view to marriage."

ADMIT IT
And, although few would admit it, many of Britain's newlyweds first met between the dusty sheets of the card index.

Heather Jenner, 57-year-old matriarch of the match-and-marry business with 15,000 knots tied over 30 years, has never been so busy: with 3,000 clients outstanding on her London books, she now registers 30 to 40 new applicants weekly.

While most of these are in their 30s, a surprising number are barely out of their teens.

"In my day," says Miss Jenner, "you had to say you were having a good time. Now you can admit to being lonely."

Katherine Allen, who runs a bureau for the upper and middle classes, believes today's youngsters are, if anything, too serious.

"There's a superficial throwing over of convention," she says. "But then there was in my day, too. Then it was drink; now it's drugs. When you're young you automatically kick against the establishment."

The major marriage brokers stress they are not melting pots for the "leftovers of humanity."

"The vast majority of our clients are attractive and intelligent men and women who join simply because they are not meeting the sort of person they wish to marry," says Ivan Margrave of the Town and Country Bureau.

SUCCESS RATE
Miss Jenner, who runs nine agencies in different parts of the country, notes that most of her clients are middle-class and professional people.

Mrs. Allen's register includes doctors and lawyers, millionaires and industrial tycoons. With characteristic realism, she notes that a mere 12 per cent of her clients are successfully matched. Others are less conservative in their estimates: Miss Jenner claims a healthy 75 per cent success rate, while Hargrave sets the figure around 80 per cent.

To Set Out On Search For 'Amazon Queens'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — In a few months explorer Gene Savoy plans to set out on a search deep in the Amazon jungle for perhaps the world's oldest surviving tribe of arch-feminists.

The fabled "Amazon queens" are believed to be an exclusively female tribe, said Savoy, that captures men to reproduce itself then kills them as well as all male infants. They are said to control 70 villages.

Francisco de Orellana of Spain was one of the few explorers to see the women warriors and live to tell about it. On their voyage down the Amazon in 1541-42, he and most of his men escaped, their boats so filled with arrows they looked like porcupines, Savoy related.

NO LIE?

The women also were sighted in the same area in 1835 and on April 2, 1970, by Indian scouts sent out by Savoy. "The Indians insist they were women and that they shot at them—and they have no reason to lie," said Savoy.

The tall, blond explorer, credited with discovery of the lost city of the Incas in 1964, said the object of his search for the Amazon queens is "to provide documented proof that they are there and then work with anthropologists and specialists to study their significance."

"I don't want to disrupt them or bring them any contact with civilization," he added.

Nine men, including an archaeologist, anthropologist, cartographer, skin diver, photographer and Savoy as director, plan to embark on the expedition from several Amazon tributaries in September.

An average of 40 porters will accompany them. Their equipment will consist of canoes, mules, a helicopter and a specially constructed boat equipped with two jets at the stern to allow navigation in shallow water.

WOMEN WARRIORS

Savoy is president of the Andean Explorers Club of Lima, sponsor of the expedition.

The explorers are looking for more than women warriors.

An equally important objective is the search for evidence of El Dorado or the gilded one, long sought by the Spanish.

"Even if we find the queens in the first week we're going on for three years with the El Dorado expedition," Savoy explained.

El Dorado, according to legend, was a priest on a raft in the Colombian Lake of Manoa or Omoa who covered himself with gold dust every morning and then ceremoniously bathed in the lake.

Savoy said he believes that possibly many cities were built to commemorate the priest and he hopes to find some of them.

The 44-year-old native of Bellingham, Wash., says his profession is "researching legends, folklore, myths and history." Since the late 1950's his home has been Peru and the discovery of an indigenous white race and the remains of 40 ancient cities in the Peruvian jungle the partial results of his research.

In 1969 he successfully floated aboard a reed raft from Peru to Central America, drifting with the currents to prove that there could have been contact between Peru and Mexico in ancient times.

Many of his adventures are related in his recently published book "Antsuayo."

CBS Signs Up 'Funny Face' Sandy Duncan

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A pert pixie named Sandy Duncan turns movie and television star this year, thanks to TV commercials.

"Skin cream, cologne, cooking oil, diapers, breath sweeteners—oh, gosh, I've done everything!" the 25-year-old charmer laughs.

Four bank commercials first sparked movie producers' interest. In one she is kind to a despondent with an unpronounceable name, in another she is kind to an air-fogging cigar smoker, in another she is kind to a confused old lady. In the fourth she is soaking her feet after a hard day at the teller's window.

Result: Screen tests and leads in the Disney Studio's "The Million-Dollar Duck," due for national release July 7, and "Star Spangled Girl," expected from Paramount about December.

CBS, meanwhile, signed Sandy for her own TV series, "Funny Face," starting in September. She'll play a UCLA teaching student who does commercial modeling to pay for her education.

How does Miss Duncan feel about her sudden ascendancy? "Wonderful," she says, "because I like to work. And the more successful you are, generally the more work you get and it keeps me very happy. I like to be active."

Record Snowfall

LONGMIRE, Wash. (AP) — Mt. Rainier National Park has claimed a world's record snowfall.

SADDLE GASOLINE TANKS
... for the vacationer at Marshall Day Body Shop

Body Shop Can End Those Frequent Stops For Gas

If you have found that your pickup and camper just doesn't have the range, due to frequent gas stops, that you would like, see Marshall Day at the Marshall Day Body Shop in Sand Springs.

Day can install in your pickup, without having to cut one hole in your pickup's body, polyethylene Universal saddle gasoline tanks.

The tanks, which hold 40 gallons, are installed in about one hour. Only 11 holes must be drilled, all of them out of sight. The tanks themselves are completely hidden.

They are located inside the rear side panels, just in front of the wheel wells. The filler necks are located in the wheel wells, eliminating the need for body work of any kind.

The tanks can be moved from pick-up to pick-up when you trade. It is not even necessary to remove the camper to install them. The tank comes in a kit that includes two tanks, four galvanized steel support bands, zinc-coated bolts, one four-way brass valve, in-line filter and adequate neoprene hose for complete installation. The tanks are unconditionally guaranteed for 90 days against defective parts, material and workmanship.

The tanks will fit all Chevrolet, Ford, Dodge and GMC wide-bed pickups. They are also available to fit in the bed of pickups forward of the wheel well.

In addition to the saddle tanks, Day Body Shop does glass work and body work. And started this year is an air-conditioner and sand-blasting service.

Day began his business seven years ago. He now has one of the largest paint rooms in the southwest. It is an enormous affair of 48x18 feet.

L'OREAL COMES TO CARVER'S
... ideal cosmetics with permanent shelf life

Carver's Adding Line Of Cosmetics

Carver's Pharmacy now has the complete line of L'Oreal of Paris cosmetics and hair care.

The exclusive distributor of L'Oreal, Carver's has an extensive line of shampoo, for dry or oily hair, hair sprays for the different kinds of hair, lip and nail color and even L'Oreal false eyelashes.

"L'Oreal is really wonderful," said Maudie Wood, clerk at Carver's. "I'm sold on it."

"The most important fact about L'Oreal is that it has a permanent shelf life," said Milton Carver, owner.

"Many women will buy a hair coloring that is out-dated. What they end up with is streaks all through their hair," continued Carver. "With L'Oreal they never have to worry about that."

"We have any color that you would want," added Mrs. Wood. "Within the next 10 days, Carver's will be getting in a supply of protein conditioners in the L'Oreal line."

"I couldn't sell anything that I don't really think is any good. With L'Oreal I don't have to worry," said Mrs. Wood. The first concern, of course, of the staff at Carver's is to be sure you get the high quality pharmaceuticals prepared exactly as your doctor ordered. All the pharmacists work extra hours to stay on top of the latest developments in the preparation of prescription drugs, and allow only the finest, most trusted products on the shelves. During bad weather, or if you're in a hurry, you can simply drive up to the window of Carver's and your prescription can be filled without your ever having to leave the car. If you cannot get to the pharmacy, the pharmacy will come to you if you live anywhere in the city limits of Big Spring. Simply tell your doctor to phone the prescription to Carver's and your order will be promptly filled and delivered to your door.

complete installation. The tanks are unconditionally guaranteed for 90 days against defective parts, material and workmanship.

The tanks will fit all Chevrolet, Ford, Dodge and GMC wide-bed pickups. They are also available to fit in the bed of pickups forward of the wheel well.

Day began his business seven years ago. He now has one of the largest paint rooms in the southwest. It is an enormous affair of 48x18 feet.

"I think it is one of the best equipped shops around," said Day. "I'd consider it a privilege for anyone to come out and let me handle their paint or body work problems."

After the ceremony, the couple rode on the ferris wheel while friends threw rice.

Crime On Minds, But Not In Hearts

ALBERT LEA, Minn. (AP) — The pupils of one absent-minded college teacher had crime on their minds but not in their hearts when the instructor failed to show up for their final exam Friday.

Sociology teacher Mildred Roberts had a dental appointment which went overtime, and forgot that the test was scheduled.

When she remembered and rushed to the Lea College campus she found three final exam papers completed and on her desk, and nine criminology students still at work on the exam question, which had been given to them at an earlier class session.

"I was astounded. They could have just hiked out on me," she said. The final exam subject was: "Devise an ideal criminal justice system."

Forced Marriage

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I respected their responsibilities. Your answers until you gave a put-down to that person who was all for forced marriages.

It doesn't make one bit of difference what kind of husband or father the boy will be. He can be a rotten husband—a lousy father, but at least the children will have a legal name. That is all that is important. It doesn't even matter if he lives with the girl after he marries her. If he's no good, let him clear out.

A boy should be forced by law to give his name to any children he fathers. That's the trouble with the world today, nobody is made to live up to 16, with two babies! I was supposed to get support checks, but none came, so no organization would help me. I couldn't pay my rent or buy food. We nearly starved to death. We lived on mayonnaise and bread for two weeks. Then eviction.

My own parents turned their backs on me so I took my two babies to my husband's parents. These "kind" people refused to let me see my children after that. It has been eight years now and I am grateful that my children have a good home even though I am not allowed to see them.

DEAR ABBY: Those who think the best solution to an unmarried girl's pregnancy is to force the guy to marry her might like to hear my story.

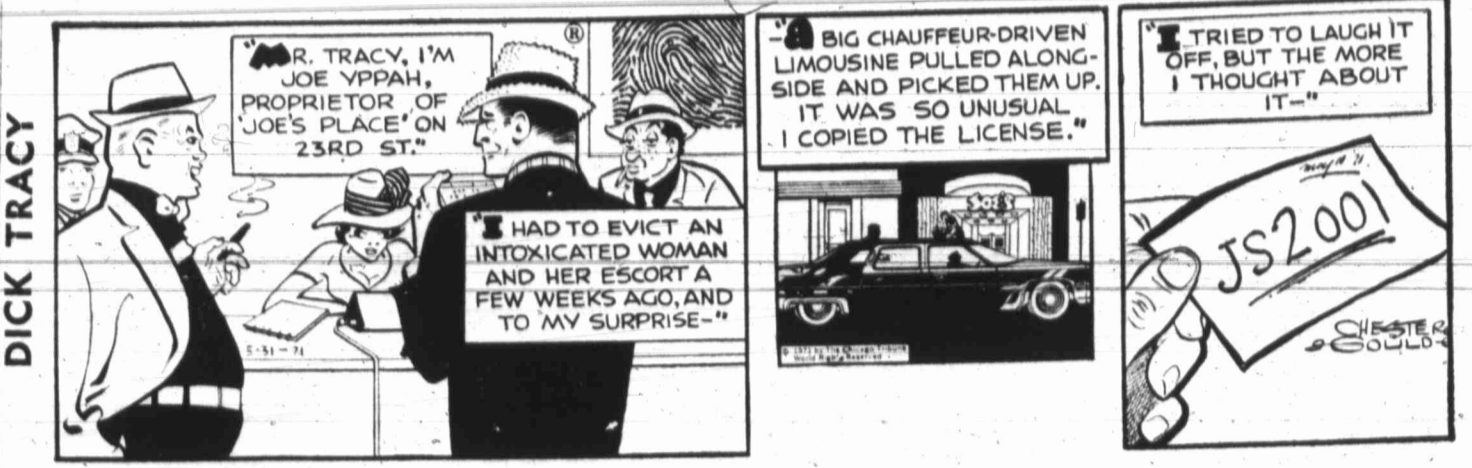

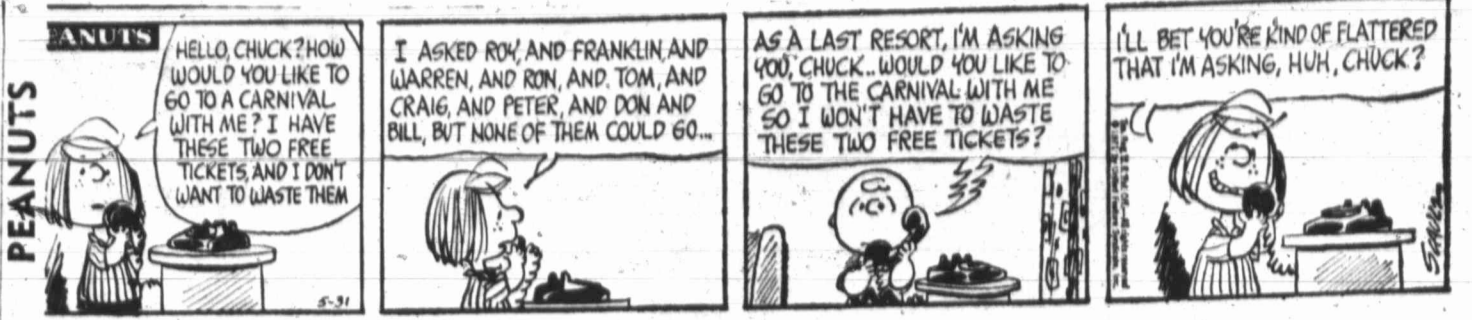

When I was 14 years old, I "fell in love" and became pregnant. The boy was 16. Our parents decided it would be best for all concerned if we got married. You can't know the horrible disaster it was. When my baby was three months old, I got pregnant again, and my child-husband went home to his mama. There I was, not yet rooms. I never got to go out, with or without my children. Yes, my children have a legal name but I don't know if you would call them legal or not. You see, their father never paid the doctor's delivery fees. A marriage doesn't mean your husband will support you, or love you, or take care of you.

STUCK DEAR ABBY: I am a Catholic and I'm proud of it. Since Catholics don't believe in divorce, even a baby on the way is not a good enough reason for me to use up one marriage I've got coming if I didn't really love the guy and planned to stay married to him for the rest of my life. I only 14, but I am . . .

LOOKING AHEAD What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

DON'T FORGET.
HIRE THE VET!

About Insanity

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: All the members of my family say that insanity is inherited. I disagree. Who is correct?—J.W.

Probably both sides are correct. And both sides wrong. You're arguing an impossible question, because "insanity" has a very vague meaning.

Would you argue whether "disease" is inherited? No, you wouldn't, because you know very well that some diseases are inherited and others are not.

So why argue whether "insanity" is inherited? The dictionary defines it as "being of unsound mind," which can mean almost anything. Do you mean damage from a tumor of the brain? That's not inherited. Or degeneration of the brain from syphilis? Do you mean schizophrenia? That can occur to people without any sign of it in other members of the family tree.

Do you mean feeble-mindedness? If so, what kind? Long inbreeding in some families has resulted in virtually all of the offspring being feeble-minded, so I think it is proper to say it is inherited in that case. There are other types of mental subnormality which are related to defects in the chromosomes—but I doubt that this could be called "inherited." Congenital, perhaps, but the parents do not have the same condition.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Should a diabetes blood test be taken before a meal or after? Can you use brown sugar instead of white when you have diabetes?—G.M.C.D.

Your doctor may want a "fasting" test, meaning before you have eaten in the morning, or after a meal. It depends on the information he requires, and he will tell you what time of day to have the test taken, and whether to eat before it.

You see, the efficacy of either insulin or diabetes pills is gauged by how well the sugar level in the blood is maintained throughout the day. For example, a patient taking a single dose of insulin in the morning may have a low sugar level in the afternoon, but a high level by the following morning. This would imply the need for more insulin late in the day, or possibly a different type of insulin, or adjustment in the patient's diet.

Second question: No, you can't substitute brown sugar for white. Sugar is sugar, and a diabetic must avoid it.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Installation Of Council Slate

Mrs. Garner McAdams, retiring advisor for the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs, performed an installation ceremony for the council's new officers Wednesday at Holiday Inn. The group met for a luncheon in the Patio Room.

Mrs. McAdams used a "Bird World" theme for the instruction to officers, noting the "pecking order" of the birds and comparing their characteristics to traits needed for various offices.

The slate includes Mrs. Paul Guy, president; Mrs. Charles Tuttle, vice president; Mrs. Pete Warren, secretary; Grady Randel, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Wilson, program chairman; and Bill Sneed, council advisor.

Sneed, retiring president, presided, reviewing projects sponsored by the council and reading a letter of appreciation from Big Spring State Hospital for trees planted near the chapel by L. R. Saunders, Johnny Johansen and Sneed. He announced that the Four O'Clock Garden Club has disbanded.

"We need to begin now on plans for a fall flower show," said Sneed, "and there is a need for money-making projects to support the show."

As Mrs. Guy took over leadership of the group, she spoke briefly of plans for future activities.

CIVIL WAR WIDOW — Mrs. Lyman W. Preston, 89, of Albuquerque, N.M., is one of the few remaining widows of Civil War veterans. She remembers her husband describing Sherman's march to the sea, Atlanta burning and the Union soldiers' Grand March after the war.

Civil War Widows? 423 Getting Pensions

By JERRY T. BAULCH
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The men who wore Yankee blue and Confederate gray are dead, but 423 widows of Civil War veterans still are alive this Memorial Day. Each was once a bride far younger than her husband.

"I remember the preacher lookin' at us and sayin' 'Brother, you're robbin' the cradle,'" says Louise Hudson, 95, who lives in a Georgia nursing home.

Mrs. Hudson, a native of Charleston, S.C., was 30 on her wedding day. She doesn't recall her husband's age, except "He was an old man" who was respected in his native Atlanta.

By coincidence, the oldest and youngest Civil War widows are named Harper.

As far as the Veterans Administration can determine, the oldest is Louie M. Harper, 104, of Perry, Ga., who married a Confederate veteran 21 years her senior in 1889.

The VA says the youngest widow is Minnie L. Harper, 57, of Ball, Fla., who married Jim W. Harper in 1943. She isn't certain what his age was.

Of the 423 widows still drawing small federal pensions, the VA says none was born before the Civil War ended in 1865, the average widow's age is 90. And 288 were married to Union veterans and the rest to ex-soldiers of the Confederacy.

INFIRMITIES

Many of the widows still are spry, but most are burdened with the infirmities of age. Some recall vividly what their husbands told them about the war, while others say they remember little or their husbands didn't talk much about the war.

Mrs. Lyman W. Preston, 89, of Albuquerque, N.M., remembers fondly her husband's war stories of marching to the sea with Sherman, of seeing Atlanta burn, of parading through Washington in the Grand Review after the war.

The Prestons met in 1913 in Mena, Ark., and married the following April when she was 32 and he was 65. A daughter was born a year later.

Preston, who joined the Union army at 16 to be with his brothers, lived to age 90.

Elizabeth Towle, of Crystal Lake, Ill., was 40 when she married Robie Towle, nearly a quarter-century her senior. She remembers few of his war tales "because I wasn't interested in them," and the war was too far in the past.

Now 100 and blind, Mrs. Towle says her most vivid recollections of the Civil War were from her father: "He was in the cavalry, but Mr. Towle was just a soldier." Both men were with the Union forces.

$70 MONTHLY
All Civil War widows over 70 are eligible for $70 a month pensions from the VA. Many receive $55 extra if they need aid and attendance or are in a nursing home.

They are under the same system as widows of Indian War and Spanish-American war veterans — $70 a month if age 70 or older, $40.67 if under 70 and $75 if married to the veteran during his wartime service.

Unlike widows' pensions for World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam, other income does not affect how much they get or whether they get anything.

In the 1950s the federal government took over from Southern states pension payments to Civil War veterans and widows of the Confederate soldiers. Besides widows, an estimated 332 children of Civil War veterans are on VA pensions rolls.

One Confederate widow, Belle Doyal, 84, was 23 when she married Leonard Doyal, a 65-year-old widower, in 1910. She had known him since she was a small child. He died 43 years ago.

home with Mrs. Doyal and she is able to talk over the old days with Mrs. Hudson.

In New York City's Borough of Queens Julia Schoenherr at 81 says, "I'm so young because I'm his second wife." John Schoenherr served as a private about nine months in the Pennsylvania Light Artillery.

The war ended when he was 25. They married in 1912 when she was 22 and he was 72. He lived to age 90 and died in 1930.

Lucy McCloy, 98, of Folcroft, Pa., is the widow of Capt. William Wilson McCloy of Richmond, Va., who served with the 24th Virginia Cavalry defending Richmond.

She was 27 and he was 57 when they married. Mrs. McCloy says there was never any problem with their May-December marriage because "we never talked about age."

Asked if her parents became upset when she married a Southern soldier, Mrs. McCloy replied "if they did, they didn't say anything. But I'm sure their hearts were heavy."

McCloy died at age 81 in 1925.

Variety In Denim Disguises Fabric

Spring fabrics run the range from soft to tough. New are the "naturals," anything hand-loomed, homespun, rough and ready-looking.

Denim is the leader, varied with brush surfaces, herringbone patterns, tie dyes and twills. Other "toughies" are canvas, calico, gingham and burlap.

You might not recognize some of the denim effects around currently.

For spring for the gals new denim looks include: Jacquard weaves, multicolored, stripes with denim-look backgrounds, antique and early American patterns on natural off-white denim, and a new mattress ticking stripe.

Foam-In Coloring Permanent Tint

The newest in hair colorings is supposed to take the mixing, messing, dripping and dabbing out of the process of altering nature. It's a foam-in permanent hair tint applied with a one-step applicator.

The maker says it is the first aerosol color that can lighten or darken, or cover gray. Hold the applicator upside down and press the lever to foam the coloring directly into the dry hair. After 20 minutes, rinse.

In all, there are 15 colors from several shades of blonde to black.
