

Charges, Answers Given At Police Chief Hearing

Efforts of three members of the Big Spring City Commission to remove Jay Banks as chief of police were still at an inconclusive stage Thursday following a public hearing Wednesday night on the majority's request for his resignation.

Between 1,300 and 1,400 citizens attended the orderly two-hour session in the municipal auditorium, applauding and sometimes booing those who spoke for either side.

Apparently some action in the wake of the hearing will be taken Friday. Mayor Arnold Marshall said that Commissioners Wade Choate, Jack Watkins and Eddie Acrl, who first called for the removal of Banks, have asked for a closed session to discuss personnel matters at 6 p.m. tomorrow. It is assumed a decision will be made after consideration of Wednesday night's testimony.

There were varying opinions on that subject at the hearing.

Notwithstanding, Banks cleared his office Wednesday prior to the hearing.

Charges of lack of cooperation by the police department with other law enforcement agencies were leveled by Choate and Commissioners Jack Watkins and Eddie Acrl. Banks retorted that "this is a two-way street."

To an allegation by Watkins that a member of the department had unsuccessfully approached investigators of the office of Special Investigation to obtain information on one of the commissioners, Banks said he knew nothing about it at the time and stopped it when he heard. Detective Larry Lee, who also read a lengthy statement into the record as president of the Big Spring Police Association, said he instituted the request (which, incidentally, was denied by the military organization).

"SELF-DEFENSE"

"I authorized it," he said. "I do not apologize for it." He looked on the step as "self-defense" because he said he understood a member of the commission was trying to investigate the department.

Statements from District Attorney Wayne Burns and Sheriff A. N. Standard, complaining of poor cooperation from the police and botched cases, were read.

Banks contended that if commissioners had spent as much time examining the work of his department as they had at the courthouse trying to find complaints, "we might look better" to them.

IN REBUTTAL — Gil Jones (center) reads a letter from the Police Association citing some 20 points concerning improvements in the Big Spring Police Department since Jay Banks (right) became chief 11 years ago. Larry Lee (left) is president of the association. Uniformed policeman behind Lee is Fred Parsons.

NO DECISION — City Commissioners are expected to meet today or Friday to consider complaints against Chief of Police Jay Banks brought out in Wednesday night's public hearing. No decision was made Wednesday night. Shown here are (from left) Commissioners M. R. Koger and Wade Choate, Mayor J. Arnold Marshall, D. A. Brazel (who acted as parliamentarian Wednesday night), Commissioner Jack Watkins, court reporter Jerry Spence and Commissioner Eddie Acrl. Uniformed patrolman is Claude Morris.

Nixon's Four-Front 'War' On Illegal Dope Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP) — Labeling drug abuse "a national emergency," President Nixon asked Congress today for an extra $155 million to "tighten the noose around the necks of drug peddlers and thereby loosen the noose around the necks of drug users."

REHAB PROGRAM

In a special message, Nixon called for new efforts to rehabilitate drug victims while, at the same time, increasing efforts to cut off the supply of illicit narcotics on an international scale.

The President said use of drugs by American servicemen in Vietnam is "especially disheartening."

He announced the immediate establishment of a rehabilitation program for addicted servicemen being returned from the war zone. And he asked Congress to give the Pentagon legislative authority "to keep uniformed personnel in service beyond normal discharge dates if they are addicts."

The President gave congressional leaders an early-morning advance peek at his proposal.

BODY AND SOUL

Discussing "the tide of drug abuse which has swept America in the last decade," Nixon said addiction "afflicts both the body and the soul" of the nation.

To coordinate federal activities in research and education in the area, Nixon announced creation by executive order of a Special Action Office of Drug Abuse Prevention within the White House structure. He asked Congress to follow up with legislation that would formally establish this office and broaden its power.

The extra $155 million Nixon seeks for anti-drug efforts in the 1972 fiscal year that begins July 1, would bring total outlays to $371 million.

Of the added funds, $105 million would be used for the treatment and rehabilitation of addicts. The rest of the money would go for enforcement, research, education, and—to the tune of $1 million—American aid in training enforcement officers of other countries which are the source of most illegal drugs used here.

City Attorney Resigns To Take Dallas Post

Another city official, Herb Prouty, city attorney, announced his resignation of the city position today, according to Larry Crow, city manager. Prouty is the fourth city official to resign his post since the first of the year. His resignation is effective June 30.

In a letter of resignation to the city manager, Prouty said, "I have accepted a position as assistant city attorney with the city of Dallas. My resignation was tendered on June 11, 1971, to the city manager and was accepted by him. Public announcement of my resignation was withheld until after the hearing on the Chief of Police issue, because I did not wish that my resignation would have any influence on the outcome of that hearing."

"I have been fortunate enough to secure a position that offers more potential for future growth in my profession than does my current position in Big Spring. This is my decision. I made it after long consideration, and no member of the city commission has asked for my resignation," Prouty said.

Noten Chafin, director of public works, was the third city official to resign his position with the city. He resigned June

HERB PROUTY

6 and will leave the office July 31.

The second city official to make his departure from the apparent shaky situation at city hall by announcing his resignation was Larry Crow, city manager. He resigned several weeks ago to be effective June 30.

Bo Anderson was the first to resign earlier in the year. He was the utilities director for the city and that position has yet to be filled by the commission.

Prouty, 30, came to the city and was hired for the position in November, 1968. He served as assistant city manager in San Antonio for one year and prior to that served in private practice for one year.

Prouty was born in Odessa, Washington, but grew up in San Antonio.

Since coming to the city of Big Spring the attorney has become a member of the American Bar Association and the Texas City Attorney Association. He is a member of the local Chamber of Commerce, the Community Action Council, and has served as secretary and treasurer of the Howard County Bar Association.

Prouty has contributed to two reports of the American Bar Association on municipal tort liability and recently received a scholarship for and attended a course for city attorneys in Dallas.

The young lawyer received his B.B.A. degree in 1964 at the University of Texas at Austin and was graduated with a L.L.B. degree in 1966 from the University of Texas Law School. In 1970 he was awarded retroactively his Doctor of Jurisprudence degree.

FOREIGN IMPORT

"America has the largest number of heroin addicts of any nation in the world," said Nixon. "And yet, America does not grow opium—of which heroin is a derivative—nor does it manufacture heroin, which is a laboratory process carried out abroad. This deadly poison in the American life stream is, in other words, a foreign import."

With public and congressional concern about the rise of GI drug addiction in South Vietnam, West Germany and elsewhere, Nixon proposes identifying and treating addicts-in-uniform before they are returned to civilian life. Congressional legislation will be needed to extend the service terms of some uniformed men and women if extra time is necessary to wean them away from narcotics before they receive honorable discharges.

NIXON PLAN

At a June 1 news conference Nixon said "A national offensive on this problem" is needed. He promised to "step up our national program on four fronts."

Leftist Kills Two Officers, Blows Self Up

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — With homemade grenades strapped to his body, a leftist wanted for the assassination of Chile's former vice president machine-gunned two detectives at their headquarters Wednesday then blew himself up, seriously wounding a third detective.

Police said Heriberto Salazar, 45, was one of three members of the extremist Organized Vanguard of the People who were accused of killing Edmundo Perez Zujovic last week. The others were Ronald Rivera Calderon, 25, killed by police Sunday, and his brother Arturo, 20, who killed himself rather than surrender.

Police said Salazar went in the front door of the downtown headquarters of the plainclothes police, Chile's equivalent of the FBI, whipped out a submachine gun and fired a burst that killed two detectives.

ANYBODY HUNGRY? Aggies Serve Up 18th Annual Barbecue Today

Don't bother to cook supper today — you can get a bigger bargain at the 18th annual Aggie Scholarship barbecue at the Comanche Trail Park amphitheatre.

The traditional annual event features big helpings of barbecue, beans, all the trimmings and drinks for $1.50. Net proceeds go to finance a scholarship for some area youth.

Announcement of this year's winner will be made by Don (Lefty) Reynolds, president of the Aggie Club and general chairman for the barbecue. There have been 21 scholarships awarded over the years, and seven youths have graduated from Texas A&M University as a result. Currently there are two at the school under the scholarship program.

Don Newsom is, as has been the case for all these years, the food chairman for the barbecue affair, and Hayes Stripling Jr. is the ticket sale chairman.

Tickets will be available at the amphitheatre entrances, and serving will start at 7 p.m. (possibly earlier for the Little Leaguers) and will continue to 9 p.m.

"This is strictly a come-and-go affair," said Stripling. "It's a come-as-you-are event for the whole family with all you can eat for the price of a ticket."

Bell System Strike Date

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Joseph A. Beirne, president of the Communications Workers of America, says chances of a settlement with the Bell System before a July 14 strike deadline appear "very poor."

Thousands of delegates to the union's 33rd annual convention cheered Wednesday when Beirne announced that 500,000 members of the union would strike Bell at 5 p.m. CDT July 14 unless it meets their demands.

Beirne planned to fly to Washington today to confer with government officials about the possibilities for a settlement.

In its last contract proposal, made May 23, Bell offered an 11 per cent pay boost. The union's executive board said it would not settle for any increase less than 25 per cent.

Union members then voted overwhelmingly to authorize a strike.

50,000 Coal Miners Striking

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge today ordered United Mine Workers President W. A. "Tony" Boyle into court Monday unless some 50,000 striking miners in six states return to work by then.

"If these men aren't back at work, I want you back in here at 9:30 Monday morning," U.S. District Judge Gerhard Gesell told union attorney Paul Connolly.

Explosive Situation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private foundation said today some 2.5 million unemployed black youths will create a potentially explosive situation for the nation's cities this summer and urged creation of federal, city and state government jobs for them.

Jury Clears All Officers In Shootout At Midland

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—A Midland County grand jury report has exonerated all law officers in the shootout with a Midland man this week.

Michael Ray Mathis, 26, was killed Sunday after a 90-minute gun battle with 20 police, sheriff's officers, state patrolmen and Texas Rangers.

The officers went to a house to investigate the reported murder of a Big Spring man. The body of 28-year-old Bob Johnson was found in the trunk of Mathis' car shortly after the gun battle.

"Having heard testimony from several law enforcement officials and Mrs. Kaye Haney, who was in the house with Mathis, we have determined that law officers gave Mathis every available opportunity to surrender," said the grand jury report, released Wednesday.

"It is the opinion of this grand jury that the death of Michael Ray Mathis was a justifiable homicide and we would like to express our appreciation of the efforts of the Texas Rangers, Department of Public Safety, Midland Police Department and Midland County Sheriff's Office in handling a very dangerous situation," the report said.

The shooting of Johnson was accidental, Mrs. Haney told officers in an informal statement.

Life Sentence For Raping Girl

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has affirmed convictions in two rape cases and a murder case, and a 99-year sentence by a Dallas jury for possession of enough marijuana to make eight to 10 cigarettes.

The decisions were handed down Wednesday.

Donald Christopher Jackson drew a life sentence for raping a girl in Beaumont.

Jackson and two other men allegedly came upon the victim and her boy friend while hunting rabbits with shotguns and headlights.

Witnesses said he threatened to kill the couple if they failed to get out of their locked car.

"I have been hearing that you white people don't like Negroes," a state witness quoted Jackson as saying. "You white — Let's walk down this trail. I am going to show you whites what a Negro can do."

PULLED PANTIES

Jackson was accused of raping the girl twice after beating her.

One of the grounds for reversal claimed by Jackson's lawyer was the trial court's refusal to let him present evidence that the victim was not a virgin.

The appeals court said that had nothing to do with any contested issue in the case.

A 20-year sentence for Antonio Lopez in the Hidalgo County rape of a 15-year-old girl also was affirmed.

Lopez was the only one in a group of four youths who did not rape her. He said he tried to stop the others. The appeals court noted, however, that witnesses said he participated in the assault by pulling her from a car and helping tear off her shorts and panties.

The court affirmed a life sentence for Billy Allen De Voyle in the Bell County slaying of Raymond Willis Cosper.

POKER GAME

Cosper was last seen alive April 26, 1969, at a poker game in De Voyle's house. His body and that of another player, James G. Levi, were found a week later in Mayberry Park on the Ft. Hood military reservation.

The appeals court overruled a contention that 42 state exhibits, including floor scrapings and sofa stains, were obtained illegally from De Voyle's car and house. De Voyle had earlier agreed to the searches after receiving the required warnings, the court said.

Fred Rose appealed his marijuana conviction on the ground that dope was seized without a search warrant.

BURNING WASTE — Thick black smoke alarmed fire-jittery Big Springers Wednesday shortly after noon on the south edge of Big Spring. Citizens tied up the phones to the sheriff's office and the police department, and sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen were at the scene about an hour-unsnarling, traffic tie-ups caused by the heavy smoke blowing over the highway and sight-seers. The smoke came from burning polystyrene foam, and county fire trucks were at the scene to keep the fire under control.

Combat Death Toll Increases In Indochina

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that 25 Americans were killed in action in Indochina last week, the fourth lowest toll this year.

Thirteen other U.S. servicemen died of nonhostile causes and 199 were wounded in combat, the weekly casualty summary said.

The combat death toll was six higher than the toll the week before, when 19 Americans were killed in action. That total was the lowest for one week in more than 5 1/2 years.

The low number of battlefield deaths reflects the steady reduction in the total number of Americans in Vietnam and the low level of fighting involving the 247,200 U.S. troops that were still in Vietnam last week.

Vietnamese casualties continued high, however.

The Vietnamese casualties the week before were 419 killed and 908 wounded for the government and 1,789 killed for the enemy.

The weekly summaries raised the total casualties reported in the war to:

Americans—45,275 killed in action, 9,596 dead of nonhostile causes, 300,123 wounded.
South Vietnamese—128,760 dead, 279,629 wounded.
North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—751,885 killed.

Postmasters Back Home

Postmasters Frank Hardesty, Big Spring, and Edward L. Engel, Coahoma, have returned from the 35th annual convention of the Texas chapter of the National Association of Postmasters of the United States.

Bremer Ehrler, Louisville, Ky., the national president, told the postmasters that recent postal service organizational changes will place more authority and responsibility on the shoulders of local postmasters.

The convention spotlighted retiring postal officials of the Dallas region, which is being de-activated and combined with a larger center in the Southern region at Memphis, Tenn. Carlos Palacios, Laredo postmaster, succeeded Zona O'Connor, Petty, as president of the state organization. George Kemp, Richardson, was named president elect.

Smith Signs Ethics Bill, Bans Slick Tires On Cars

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith has signed into law bills setting out a code of ethics for legislators and banning worn-out tires from Texas highways.

A lawmaker could be sent to prison for five years if he violated the ethics proposal.

Smith said Wednesday by banning the old, bald tires, traffic deaths should be reduced and car insurance rates might be lowered.

The ethics bill, proposed after a "stock scandal" shook state government this year, requires all elected or appointed state officials and state employees earnings $11,000 or more to file annual public statements of their financial activities the previous year.

Officials would be prohibited from using their positions to get "privileges or exemptions" for themselves or others. They could not engage in any business transactions of professional activities or take on obligations "in substantial conflict of interest with the proper discharge" of their duties.

A State Ethics Commission would be composed of six Senate and House members elected by their colleagues, plus two persons each appointed by top judicial officials. It would investigate alleged ethical breaches.

The bill was sponsored by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville. The tire bill was by Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown.

SEC Orders Governor To Testify In Probe

AUSTIN (AP) — The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission has ordered Speaker Gus Mutscher, Gov. Preston Smith and several others to appear before SEC investigators here next month.

They are scheduled to give additional depositions in an SEC stock manipulation case coming up for hearing in Dallas Aug. 30.

Most were questioned by SEC investigators late last year, before the SEC filed its stock fraud suit against Houston millionaire Frank Sharp and 27 other defendants.

Service orders for the deposition-taking give the following dates for appearances at the federal office building here:

Smith, July 9; Mutscher, July 9; Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah, House Appropriations Committee chairman, July 7; Dr. Elmer Baum, state Democratic chairman and former State Banking Board member, July 8; Sonny Schulte, a Mutscher aide, July 6; Rush McGinty, another Mutscher assistant, July 7; former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, a defendant in the SEC suit, July 26; Eugene Palmer, Austin lawyer July 21; John Osorio, Austin lawyer and former president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co., July 22; Fred Tasto, Luling banker, July 8.

The SEC alleged that the defendants in the suit made easy bank loans and arranged speculative NBL stock profits for a number of legislators and state officials to encourage passage of two banking bills in 1969. Mutscher, Smith, Baum, Healy, McGinty and Schulte said they did receive loans from Sharpstown State Bank to buy NBL stock but denied any connection between that arrangement and the two bills, which Smith vetoed. None of the officials is a defendant in the SEC suit.

Granville Hahn Takes Reins At International Technovation

Granville Hahn, manager of technical services and quality control for Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, has been named president of International Technovation, Inc. (Intech), effective July 1.

Hahn has been with Cosden for 21½ years and has been associated in the plastics program of the company almost since its inception.

Intech operates two plants, one in Big Spring and one in Arkansas, engaged in manufacture of packaging containers for eggs, meats, etc.

As president of the company, he will be directly responsible to Bob Franklin, who heads the Service Technology branch of Ling-Temco-Vought Aerospace.

"One thing for certain," said Hahn, "it's not that we want to leave Big Spring, but this offer is such a challenge that I just have to try to see if I can meet it. I'm flattered by the chance, but I do feel that I have some background in the plastics field which I believe has a tremendous future."

Only recently, he added, he and his wife had planned on building a new home here. Now they will be house-hunting in Dallas.

Hahn, who grew up here, went to work for Cosden in the tire and battery outlet on East Third Feb. 1, 1950 as a bookkeeper while he was going to school. Before long, he was given a chance as a transport driver, then a place in the company's laboratory in quality control in 1952.

He began participation in the plastics field for Cosden in 1958 and in 1962 was assigned by Rene Brown, vice president, to the technical services and quality control division. Two years later he was promoted to manager of the division, and as such had experience in purchasing, research, development, advertisement and sales. Cosden tapped him out to enroll in the University of Texas management development seminar, from which he graduated in 1970.

Hahn was married June 11, 1949, to Marie Thames, and they reside at 1805 Thorpe with their son, Gregg, in his first year of college, and Randy, student in high school. They are members of the First Baptist Church, and he is a member of the Society of Plastic Engineers, and is vice president of the Big Spring Country Club. He has been active in various civic affairs, including the YMCA for which he was longhouse chief for the Y Indian Guides.

Slaying Of Farm Worker Protests

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Members of a Mexican-American activist group marching from Mexico to Sacramento say they will demonstrate Friday at police headquarters protesting the slaying of a farm worker.

A spokesman for the Chicano Moratorium Committee said the protest concerns the shooting by law enforcement officers from three agencies of a Thermal man.

The shooting occurred last month near Thermal when officers were making arrests in a narcotics investigation. The slain man was not involved in the investigation but apparently fled after police ordered him to halt. Officers say the shooting was accidental.

'Rusty Death' Toll Spirals

WARSAW (AP) — The small, metal object, dug up in a Polish field, was intriguing for its young finders. Seconds later they died in a blinding blast—the latest victims of what is known here as the "Rusty Death."

The problem of land mines hidden in Poland's fields is enormous even though World War II ended 26 years ago. Official figures show 350,000 mines and various kinds of shells were uncovered last year.

Of 48 persons killed in the last 18 months 40 were children. Of 157 wounded 125 were children.

Authorities have tried to combat the problem by using special military teams to comb the country for old explosives.

Poland was one gigantic battlefield in the war starting with the Nazi invasion in 1939 and intensifying in 1944-45 when the Germans retreated from Russia.

Officials estimate that since the war Polish soldiers have defused 15 million mines and 70 million other explosives. In that time they demined and handed back for use one million acres of arable land and a million acres of woods and meadows. They cleared 33,000 towns and villages.

Cannibalism Is Keeping Price Of Lobsters Up

BOSTON (AP) — The price of lobster is going up and one reason is that lobsters like to eat lobsters about as much as people do.

Lobsters have gotten expensive because of interlocking economic and biological factors that can be simplified into one phrase: small supply and big demand.

Biological factors, such as cannibalism, help keep the supply down. The jetliner is responsible for starting much of the demand and for continuing it.

TOO EXPENSIVE

"Unless the lobster can be moved quickly from boat to table, they spoil," said Dr. Thomas Meade, professor of fisheries and marine technology at the University of Rhode Island.

"Before the airplane, it was all but impossible to get live lobsters to a place like Duluth," he said. "Now we can, and naturally there is a demand now in places like Duluth where there was little or no demand before."

In Boston, restaurants charge up to $9.50 for lobster—$1.50 to $2 above the prices listed on menus.

In Seattle, restaurant owner Victor Rosellini said he took Maine lobster off the dinner menu, carrying it as an a la carte item at $8.50.

"I don't want to sell it, it's too expensive," he said.

WAY OUT TO SEA

The increased demand and resulting reduction in the natural lobster population forced American lobstermen to change age-old methods of fishing.

Until the 1950s, lobstermen plied their trade in inlets and coves along the East Coast from Labrador to the Carolinas where they dropped their traps—small, wooden p shaped like Quonset huts.

As the lobster population near shore dwindled, lobstermen went further out to sea, first trawling with nets and more recently dropping 6-foot, metal lobster pots as deep as 400 feet along the edges of the Continental Shelf.

The deep-ocean traps, anchored with buoys, have been getting in the way of the nets of Soviet-bloc trawlers, causing meetings on the high seas with Russian fishermen to get geographic limits to their trawling activities.

Now the off-shore lobster population is falling off and lobstermen are beginning to worry about conservation.

RAISE THE LIMIT

Many lobstermen favor raising the limit on the legal size for a lobster catch as a conservation measure. Others said raising the limit might be opposed by inshore lobstermen who must work a population of smaller lobsters.

Whatever is done to preserve and multiply the lobster population, it appears the lobster will have to do most of the work.

Lobster hatcheries have been operating in such places as Boothbay Harbor, Maine, and on Martha's Vineyard, Mass., for years with limited success.

But, the lobster is not reared to maturity in the hatcheries. The young larvae, a year or so after hatching, are turned loose in the ocean to fend for themselves.

Sky Marshals Trim In Works

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a new rash of air piracy and the first slaying of a passenger on a hijacked plane, the chief of U.S. sky marshals says the government may be able to start trimming the force late next year.

Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, director of the civil aviation security, says ground security at airports is beginning to get the detailed attention it requires and an eventual 75 per cent cut in the 1,200-man sky marshal force is possible.

"It is likely that we will always have to have sky marshals to prevent air crimes," Davis said in an interview. "But I would think there would be about one-fourth the number we have now."

SHOCKING EVENT

Davis, a retired Air Force lieutenant general, said displaced marshals could go to other government security jobs. Putting armed marshals aboard planes is a hazard and unpopular with the government, airlines and passengers, but essential for the time being, Davis said.

He called "shocking, extremely disturbing" the fatal shooting of a 65-year-old Connecticut businessman aboard a hijacked Trans World Airlines jetliner at Chicago's O'Hare Field last Friday.

"Nevertheless, the solution toward which we are all pushing remains, and it is complete security on the ground—keeping dangerous persons off aircraft," Davis said.

Citing an example of ground security efforts, Davis said one major airline has spent $750,000 to buy enough weapon-detection devices to cover every boarding gate at every airport it serves.

LOOK FOR LIQUOR

At a closed May 25 meeting of the American Association of Airport Executives, he outlined these previously undisclosed security slips at different major airports:

—Two teenagers running away from home walked aboard a parked jet airliner with plans to stow away, and were found asleep there.

—An insurance investigator testing the effectiveness of cargo security measures climbed aboard a parked Boeing 747 jumbo jet, wandered about and took pictures without being challenged.

—Drunks rummaged through three parked 727s looking for liquor.

—A security survey of an important airport in March disclosed instances of motorists lost on runways at night and of horseback riders, hunters, sightseers and cyclists on restricted airport roads.

Study Printed By Times Nets Low-Key Response

PARIS (AP) — The North Vietnamese submitted to the Paris peace talks today their own analysis of the origins of what it called the U.S. aggression in Vietnam.

pects of U.S. policy as revealed in a secret Pentagon study published this week by the New York Times.

The Hanoi paper describes the Gulf of Tonkin incident as an operation intended to "create a pretext" for the bombing of North Vietnam. President Lyndon B. Johnson's adviser, Walt Rostow, is accused of originating a three-point plan leading up to the bombing by way of a naval blockade of Haiphong and sea-borne attacks on North Vietnamese shore installations.

The Pentagon documents brought a low-key response from the North Vietnamese delegation at the start of the 117th session of the talks.

Hanoi's Xuan Thuy said, "We have long indicated that American aggression is both the origin and the immediate cause of the situation in Vietnam."

Rain Tease For Texans

By The Associated Press

There was just enough moisture to tease rain-short sections of Texas in widely scattered showers and thunderstorms Wednesday night and early today.

The shower activity dotted eastern and south central areas of the state, generally playing by midnight.

Isolated thunderstorms moved around before dawn in the Panhandle-Plains sector from near Plainview northward to around Dumas and Spearman and, after these ended, a smaller area of thunderstorms developed south of Marshall in East Texas.

By daylight skies were partly cloudy in the southeast and south central parts of the state and nearly clear in the north and west.

Link Ex-GOP Candidate To Texas Stock Scandal?

DALLAS (AP)—Business activities of Jack Cox, a onetime Republican candidate for governor, are under scrutiny in the Texas insurance stock scandal, the Dallas News said today.

The newspaper reported Securities and Exchange Commission investigators were in Tampa, Fla., to quiz Nick Papolos about his role in promoting a company headed last year by Cox. These details were given by the News.

This firm—Ricology, Inc., of Dallas—was among three defendants consenting Aug. 13 to a permanent injunction against violations of federal securities laws in New York.

The other two defendants were Papalos, from St. Petersburg, Fla., and RIC International Industries, Inc., parent company of Ricology.

UNTRUE DATA

Cox formerly was president of Ricology and managed oil and gas properties for RIC at about the same time. Ricology was formed in February of 1970 by Cox and two Dallas men, Tom Thomas and Garrell Ormand, to develop pollution control products.

In the New York suit the SEC alleged Ricology and RIC made untrue statements to the public about the effectiveness of products those firms were testing and marketing, and about the tests and demonstrations of Ricology products.

An accident involving a Greek tanker caused 15,000 gallons of crude oil to be spilled into Tampa Bay Feb. 13, 1970. The SEC said this spill caused Ricology and Papolos to promote the stock of RIC by publicizing "stricklite," a substance developed by Ricology as a major deterrent for industrial use in water pollution control.

According to the SEC's suit, a news release from a Dallas public relations firm Feb. 27, 1970, quoted Cox as announcing, "Officials revealed today that tests and demonstrations on containing an oil spill in the St. Petersburg-Tampa Bay area have proved highly successful."

This release also stated, the SEC said, that Cox, RIC "and the inventor of stricklite, Robert Strickman, personally conducted the tests and demonstrations." The SEC's petition added that Mayor Richard Ercius of St. Petersburg Beach told Cox in a letter, made public at the time, about seeing the demonstration "in a pool . . . I highly recommended it."

Papolos showed this and other testimonial letters to a New York City brokerage firm to induce them to sell RIC shares, and the price of RIC stock rose from 8 3/4 Feb. 16 to a high of 12 3/4 March 6.

The SEC contended that the first demonstration of the white granular powder consisted "only of sprinkling stricklite by hand on a small area within a boat slip from a rowboat tied to dock."

'Wig' Bandit Loots Bank

DALLAS (AP)—A gunman disguised by a wig, fake goatee and sunglasses robbed the East Dallas Bank of $10,000 Wednesday.

Police Lt. James Bowles said the thug parked a car in front of the bank, waited inside the bank several moments and then pushed a customer aside as he tossed a brown canvas bag on the desk of Hilda Mills, a bank employe.

At the same time he brandished a revolver and threw pills cases to two other women employes, ordering them to put cash inside.

After the women complied, the gunman collected the sacks and fled.

The license number of the escape car was obtained by witnesses, but the auto was abandoned three minutes after the robbery. It had been stolen Tuesday night.

WHAT WOULD YOU LIKE TO CALL ME? MOTHER!!

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The girl, then-7 and an orphan, was touring the local zoo with an unmarried woman school teacher.

"What would you like to call me?" the teacher asked.

"Mother," the child answered.

That was about a year ago. Today, it was learned that a Family Court judge had approved the adoption even though the 34-year-old teacher was still single.

The teacher, who asked that her name not be used, said her application to a social agency for a school-age child to adopt led to their meeting and trip to the zoo. "She had been in care a long time."

A few days after the meeting, the child moved into the teacher's home.

Commander Ends Retirement, Briefly

Brigadier Raymond McNeil and has been called out of retirement temporarily to hold down the citadel pending permanent assignment of officers to command the Salvation Army corps here.

He had good news, for him at least, in word that new commanders will arrive here probably by July 1. The corps has been without an officer since the departure of Lt. Joseph and Mary Saint the latter part of May on a year's leave of absence to do graduate study.

Brig. McNeil said that while the appointment of successors in the Saints is firm, it has not cleared all channels, hence he can not announce who will be coming here.

Although 71, his health is still good, but he had to get a contact lens fitted following cataract surgery before he could report. He and Mrs. McNeil live at Amarillo where he served 10 years in two hitches (1930-33, and 1955-62). They retired while at Longview after two score years of service, 36½ years of it in Texas. In addition to Amarillo, they were called back for second tours at Wichita Falls and San Angelo.

He began his service in 1924 at St. Louis, Mo., after graduation from seminary and commanded units in Illinois, Missouri and South Carolina before coming to Texas.

The McNeils reared seven children to adulthood, then one (a son) was killed in an explosion. Four are school teachers and one, Maj. (Mrs.) Margaret Housel, Memphis, Tenn., is a men's special service worker for the Salvation Army in Memphis, Tenn.

Price Looks To Cities For Votes In His Race

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine says he plans to campaign heavily in metropolitan counties in his race for House speaker and doesn't think his rural origins will hurt him any.

"Just because I live in Palestine doesn't mean I don't have sympathy for Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth," he told a news conference in the Capitol Wednesday.

Price said he had 51 firm pledges out of 150 total House members in his race to thwart Speaker Gus Mutscher's unprecedented bid for a third term.

Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty announced he will hold a news conference next Monday. He is expected to announce his candidacy for speaker.

All candidates—including Mutscher—are putting special emphasis on modernizing or reforming the House.

Mutscher issued a statement saying his right-hand man, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, was soliciting ideas for reforms from all House members, which will be turned over to a 17-member study committee.

Price, 34, said he felt the House's rules and procedures should not be controlled by the speaker or any candidate for the job.

He said that later this year he would ask a group of members representing all elements of the House to recommend rules changes.

"I will insist that this committee propose rules that will protect the basic right and duty of each member to disagree with and oppose any idea, policy or action of any person whatsoever, including the speaker," Price said.

Mutscher was accused by a number of representatives during the regular session of using dictatorial tactics to silence opposition and to punish those who bucked him.

Price said he intended to make an "active statewide campaign."

"The public is concerned over the operation of the House of Representatives and disgusted with the present leadership," he said. "The public demands and should demand a thorough and complete change in the leadership of the House."

Guards Moved Into Santa Fe

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The jitters that gripped Albuquerque after two days of disorders earlier this week spread north to the capital city of Santa Fe Wednesday, as Gov. Bruce King moved National Guard troops in to guard state buildings.

King's move came after one fire-bombing incident in Santa Fe Wednesday morning. The firebomb set off a fire in the old federal building in Santa Fe, burning the office of the federal highway administration building.

More than 600 National Guardsmen had been on patrol in Albuquerque this week since the last incidents of violence Tuesday morning. The two days of disorder left 15 persons wounded by gunfire, damage in the millions of dollars and more than 600 persons arrested on various charges.

King declined to give the specific number of guardsmen who had been moved into Santa Fe. He said it was "more than 100."

Pete Pence, the governor's press secretary, said there had been several phoned threats on buildings in the Capitol complex during the day.

In Albuquerque, tense citizens tried to resume normal activities and the city went through a "second day without incident."

Meanwhile, the Black Berets, an activist Mexican-American group, held a meeting Wednesday night attended by about 150 to hear speakers tell of alleged excessive force used by policemen during the disorders.

Police Chief Donald Byrd had announced earlier he would attend the meeting, along with state officials. But the officials declined to attend because of continuing tension.

'POLITICAL THROUGH AND THROUGH—PURE POLITICS'
Smith Cancels Talk, Stirs Speculation

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith won't be making his "state of the state" message on television tonight after all, and speculation about his reasons is widespread.

The governor unexpectedly canceled the address Wednesday afternoon, shortly after issuing a news release giving the stations on which the statewide telecast could be seen.

Smith had built up the speech so enthusiastically that many observers were not satisfied by his stated reason for canceling it—failure to complete all arrangements on time.

DEADLINE WOES

Some thought Smith had suddenly reconsidered some major announcement he might have been planning.

Others speculated there might be a new development arising in a federal stock manipulation case with which Smith's name has been linked.

Jerry Hall, Smith's press aide, handed newsmen a three-paragraph news release canceling the program only 30 minutes after issuing a statement giving details on the program.

The release quoted the governor as saying material for the program had not been compiled and "all necessary arrangements could not be made in time to meet the deadline for the show."

"No decision has been made as to whether or not the program will be re-scheduled," the release said.

Hall said he had no other information besides that contained in the release.

SOME SURPRISES

Smith's earlier statement listed 21 stations that would carry the address and quoted the governor as saying there would "certainly be some surprises" in the message. "Our unprecedented action in making the television address should be of vital concern to every citizen as well as to the leadership of state government . . . we have chosen this means of expressing certain things that need to be said following the adjournment of the legislature because it is the most effective fashion of reaching the majority of Texans. All our citizens deserve to know what we will be saying and why we are compelled to say it."

Smith originally announced the telecast Monday, shortly before his political arch-rival Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes disclosed—as expected—that he would run for governor next year.

SLAPS LEADERSHIP

Barnes went out of his way to score Smith for lack of leadership, saying the governor had left Texas with a "void in pursuing greatness."

Smith has hinted about seeking a third term, but there also has been speculation he would not go for re-election.

Another big event happened Monday that some theorized might have affected Smith's decision to cancel his address.

Houston financier Frank Sharp, a key figure in the federal stock case, agreed to testify before a federal grand jury in exchange for a light sentence on two counts of federal banking and securities law violations and immunity to further prosecution.

Sharp then went before the federal grand jury in Houston.

TELL THE TRUTH

"He's not going to testify against anybody. He's just going to tell the truth," said Morton Susman, one of Sharp's lawyers.

Smith told newsmen at an informal news conference Wednesday morning that he planned to tape his address that afternoon. And he said the Justice Department's deal with Sharp proved the stock case was "nothing more than political harassment."

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission alleged in a non-criminal suit filed in Dallas Jan. 18 that Sharp and other defendants had arranged easy loans and speculative profits for key legislators and state officials to help pass two banking bills in which the defendants were interested.

Smith, House Speaker Gus Mutscher, House Appropriations Chairman Bill Heatley, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, and State Democratic Chairman Elmer Baum each said they bor-

HUGE PROFITS

The loans—totaling hundreds of thousands of dollars—were secured only by the NBL stock.

Both bills were quickly passed by the legislature, but Smith vetoed them.

Smith and Baum each said they made $62,500 from their NBL stock. They and the other state officials denied any wrongdoing and said there was no connection between the stock and the bills.

The SEC plans to take further depositions from the state officials next month.

"Political through and through—pure politics," Smith said.

Hobbies Galore Fill All Her Spare Time

By BARBARA LORD
 "I have a hundred hobbies, but there's never time for any of them," said Mrs. Bill Fox. Despite her claim, the Fox home at 604 W. 18th is elegantly decorated with many samples of her handiwork. Her skills are evident in everything from the ornaments on the wall to the clothes on her back.

Included in her long list of interests is cooking, although a full-time job as bookkeeper at Cowper Clinic and Hospital, and her husband's shift work at Cosden, limit the time she gets to spend in the kitchen.

"I run into myself trying to get things done," said Mrs. Fox. "We eat fast and easy meals. That's why I like casseroles. They can be prepared in a hurry, and there's very little cleaning up to do afterward."

Mrs. Fox thinks casserole cooking is her forte in the kitchen. She and her husband both like them, and she feels they offer more freedom in spice variety than other dishes. She also cooks some Mexican and Chinese foods. The Oriental Hash recipe included with this article is her favorite, and she said the Buttermilk Pie is a luscious dessert even for people like herself who don't like buttermilk.

"I hated cooking when mom first started teaching me," said Mrs. Fox. "I really didn't think I knew anything about it when I got married, but I guess I learned something from watching, because I just seemed to know what to do when I got in the kitchen. I cook exactly like Mom does, and I enjoy it now."

Among her other hobbies, Mrs. Fox lists antiques, furniture, decoupage, ceramics, crocheting beads, foiling and sewing. She makes most of her own clothes, and recently began learning to knit.

"It's all a matter of mood with me," she said. "I might work on a project every spare minute for days, and then put it away for months before starting something else."

At home Mrs. Fox is kept busy caring for Max, a one-year-old Great Dane that is still growing at 135 pounds; as well as Coco, a toy poodle that weighs in at a slim five pounds.

"The dogs get along pretty well," said Mrs. Fox, "but when there's trouble it's usually Coco that causes it. Max is the friendlier of the two, even though his head alone is larger than Coco's whole body."

In addition to her job and hobbies, Mrs. Fox is recording secretary for Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, and historian for the Jaycee-ettes. Her Jaycee-ette activities include teaching personal grooming to children at Westside Community Center; co-chairmanship for the club's rodeo-parade float; and chairman of redecorating the Jaycee's building on Third Street. She is also a substitute Brownie leader for Park Hill Troop 108.

The Foxes were both reared in Big Spring, and were married here four years ago. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Hatch of Fairview, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Fox of Weatherford.

"Bill's dad is the former health inspector for Big Spring," said Mrs. Fox, "and I always had the fear he would come in and close me down. House cleaning isn't my favorite pastime."

CALLING ALL HOME MAKERS

By Ted Hatfield
 TAKING PROPER CARE OF WOOD SURFACES

The National Association of Furniture Manufacturers makes the following suggestions in order to take proper care of wood surfaces on furniture, and we pass them along to you as a public service.

Immediately remove any liquids spilled on surfaces and always use a blotting rather than a wiping action. Pre-test cleaning and polishing methods on an inconspicuous part of the furniture before applying to more exposed parts.

Avoid exposing indoor furniture to strong sunlight. Some rubber and vinyl products stain or soften furniture finishes. A protective pad, or piece of felt, should be used between them and the furniture finish.

Lift objects to move them; never drag them across the finished surface.

Avoid exposing wood surfaces to extreme heat or cold. Avoid burning surfaces by using pads under hot dishes. Although the finish itself may be highly burn resistant, the wood underneath the finish can be charred by a burning cigarette.

Use only polishes recommended for furniture. A self-polishing floor wax, for instance, would soften the finish on furniture.

When dusting or waxing always work with the grain of the wood.

Good quality furniture always lasts longer. That's why it pays to visit our showrooms.

The balance of the apple slices enrich a distinctive Apple Raisin Sauce which is spooned over individual helpings at the table. For festive service, the chops are set on end to form crown effect.

PORK CHOP CROWN CORNMEAL APPLE DRESSING
 1/4 cup chopped onion
 2 tps. butter or margarine
 1 lb. 4 oz. can pie-sliced apples, well drained
 2 tps. sugar
 6 loin pork chops, 3/4 inch thick
 3 cups corn bread cubes
 1/2 cup raisins
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1/2 tsp. poultry seasoning

APPLE RAISIN SAUCE
 2 tps. cornstarch
 2 tps. sugar
 1/4 tsp. ground cloves
 1/4 tsp. ginger
 1/2 cup orange juice
 1/2 cup water
 1/4 cup raisins

Saute onion in butter until tender. Dice half of the apple slices. Add diced apple slices and sugar to onions in skillet and cook until apples are glazed; remove from pan. Brown chops on both sides. Combine corn bread cubes, 1/2 cup raisins, salt, poultry seasoning and apple mixture and blend well. Spoon into a shallow 8 or 9 inch round baking dish. Arrange chops on top of stuffing to form crown. Cover casserole tightly with foil. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 1 hour or until chops are fork tender.

Meanwhile prepare sauce by combining cornstarch, sugar, cloves and ginger in small saucepan. Slowly add orange juice and water. Add remaining whole apple slices and raisins. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens and becomes clear. Serve hot over chops when serving.

Weak, Hybrid Plants May Change Revolution Color

By LAURANCE P. STUNTZ
Associated Press Writer

The green revolution is not without its casualties: its beneficiaries are proving to have drawbacks as well.

In fact, said India's Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, citing jobless figures, "perhaps the color of the revolution is changing to red."

The "green revolution" is the big increase in the production of corn, wheat and rice in recent years. Largely due to the development of hybrid plants, the land in many countries now can produce food for all its people.

But it isn't feeding them in such countries as India. That is the danger that the revolution color may change from green for plants to red for blood.

DEBIT ACCOUNT
Drawing up the debit account against the green revolution, it looks like this:

—The new hybrids are not as light-resistant as the older types. There is the possibility that a country's entire crop — perhaps a world crop — could be wiped out by a new plant disease. It almost happened last year with the corn crop in the United States. The affected corn was a hybrid and could not fight the blight.

—The new hybrid strains bear so heavily that they may threaten overproduction of some foodstuffs, causing hardship to farmers who cannot sell their crops. This has already happened in Malaysia, which cannot eat or export all the rice it grows.

CASTS SHADOW
—Most of the increased production is being grown on large farms, which increases the economic power of the large farmers. In India, at least, this means they buy up small farms. The small farmer goes into the city where he joins the ranks of the jobless.

—What Mrs. Gandhi was talking about.

—Failures of distribution and storage with the new crops are casting discredit on the government. Since regimes in some of the underdeveloped countries are unstable at best, this casts the shadow of the red revolution over them. It has been estimated that half India's grain production is lost annually to mould, rats and insects while in storage.

FEAR
The International Rice Research Institute, which developed the new rice strains, now warns that "there is concern that the fear of scarcity may be replaced by the fear of surplus."

In Malaysia, the government, foreseeing the dangers, has told its people to cut down on rice growing. They want to raise only 90 per cent of the needs at home, importing the rest. This is to avoid the problems of overproduction.

And the United States, wary of the weakness of the new hybrid, has launched a study of the threats to them.

Who's Running State Democratic Party Now?

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer

Texas voters will be pardoned if they have occasion to ask: "Who's running the state Democratic Party now?"

Just last week Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes told Washington newsmen that he thought Sen. Lloyd Bentsen, D-Tex., should be a favorite son candidate at the National Democratic Convention to hold the Texas delegation together.

"LITTLE 'PREMATURE' "
Gov. Preston Smith, who is titular head of the party, said such thoughts were a "little premature."

State Democratic Party headquarters, headed by Smith's friend and business associate, Dr. Elmer Baum, put out a notice last week saying a big fund-raising $50-a-plate dinner was being planned for mid-January with special invitations going to all possible Democratic presidential nominees.

Barnes told the Washington newsmen that Democratic hopefuls should stay out of Texas at least until next spring.

It's not the first time that Barnes, who has announced for governor, and Smith, who refuses to be counted out of a 1972 governor's race, have disagreed over party plans.

REFUSED TO QUIT
Although Baum has resigned as a member of the State Banking Board in the wake of a Securities and Exchange Commission stock fraud investigation, he has refused to quit as state chairman of the Texas Democratic Party—and Smith has refused to ask for the resignation.

Barnes predicted back in April that if a meeting of the state executive committee was held, Baum could not get a majority vote of confidence. Such a meeting can be called only by chairman Baum and there has been none called and none scheduled in the future.

There have been published reports that Smith actually wants to replace Baum with Austin lawyer-lobbyist Ed Clark, former U.S. ambassador to Australia, if Baum would just step out.

Both Barnes and Bentsen endorsed Larry Temple, former presidential aide to Lyndon B. Johnson and former assistant to now Secretary of Treasury John Connally, as Baum's successor.

DEAL HIM IN
Smith said Bentsen called him once to talk about Baum's possible resignation and the senator said he wanted a hand in picking a successor if a vacancy occurred.

Meanwhile, there has been little activity about the Democratic state headquarters in Austin, even in the midst of the hot legislative session. There was no representative of the state headquarters to appear in support of a number of election law changes presented the legislature.

PICK A TIME

On June 8 the state headquarters distributed a memorandum saying that several subcommittees — not the full committee — met in Austin on May 30. French Robertson, Abilene, chairman of the state party's budget and finance subcommittee, was quoted as the source for the announcement of a "presidential dinner" tentatively scheduled for mid-January. Robertson appointed Dr. James R. Gill, Waxahachie, and state party secretary H. H. Coffield, Rockdale, to contact the possible presidential candidates and pick an exact time.

Another meeting of Robertson's subcommittee was called for Aug. 1.

Control of the state party and the 130-member Texas delegation to the national convention will be vital issues to any candidate for governor in 1972.

With Barnes a candidate for governor and Smith claiming he is still considering a third term, the question of who runs the state Democratic Party may not be settled until voters have their say in May, 1972.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I'm just dying to tell someone about my newly decorated bathroom, and you are such a good listener!

You see, my bathroom is done in black and white and finding just the right curtain for my bathroom window was no easy task.

I tried several different ideas and just wasn't pleased. Finally I hit upon the idea of using ball fringe. You heard right — after I explain you'll see I haven't really flipped.

I used the very large black ball fringe and a regular cafe curtain rod with the brass pinch clips.

Just cut fringe the desired length needed for the window and hang each length with one of those little pinch clips.

This really gave the room a light airy look but still I just wasn't completely satisfied. I needed something more. So, I frosted my window and you should see it now. It's simply spectacular!

Thanks for listening! Anything is more fun when shared!
... Gabby

Anytime, doll! And if you come up with another brain child like that, promise me you'll get it in the very next mail out. I'll be waiting ... Heloise

My father had a good idea on how to roast wieners over an open fire.

He took a broken TV antenna and used that.

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:
In one of your recent columns it was stated that "life is a matter of choices but that we have to be willing to live with them after we make 'em!"

Well, my husband and I made a choice last summer and have never regretted it.

You see, we discovered a painting we both liked so very much but the price was beyond our budget.

But we made the choice. We decided to let the painting represent all the presents we would give each other during the next two years. Now, when we have a birthday or wedding anniversary we stand in front of our picture and exchange best wishes for many more.

Not once have we regretted our choice! Gaylord and Phyllis

Parents Should Give Daughters 'The Pill'

DALLAS (AP) — For parents to hand their daughter birth control pills is a good idea, says one Fort Worth psychologist.

It is the contention of Dr. Austin Foster of the Edna Gladney Maternity Home that daughters ought to be given information about birth control from the age of two years on.

"We've had a sexual revolution, but the kids know they can't talk to the old folks about it," he said.

And he doesn't think that dispensing birth control information to one's daughter is being permissive. In his view, it's just being realistic.

"Ninety-nine per cent of our teen-agers are engaged in some sort of sexual activity between the age of puberty and marriage," he told the National Conference on Social Welfare here recently.

"Groups of girls have told me that 80 per cent of 13-year-olds who have been going steady for six months are having sexual relations," he said.

"The odds are such that if parents do not cooperate in making birth control available, a lot of girls will get pregnant. We've got to get parents over their own inability to accept what's going on or they can't help their children. They won't let their kid tell them the truth," he said.

Foster said three-fourths of one group of about 40 girls told him they could not discuss birth control with their parents. "I am not a believer in encouraging young children to be promiscuous, but if you take the forbidding view, you're shut out, and you won't know what's happening."

"Though coming to grips with the idea that daughters are engaging in sex may be a bitter reality to face, Foster says facing an unwanted pregnancy is even more disastrous.

"They are basically good, fine girls from good homes. Most of them ignored their pregnancy for the first six months. A girl must be in a degree of panic before she comes through the agency's door," he said.

By discussing birth control with daughter, Foster feels parents may be setting the pace for more relaxed, honest dialogue with their children.

Who Sez Crime Doesn't Pay?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Testifying under heavy guard, a convicted mail thief told Senate rackets investigators Wednesday his lifetime netted him and his partners "approximately $100 million in stocks, bonds, jewelry, cash and furs."

The witness, Robert F. Cudak, named those he said were his associates and those who fenced the goods he stole.

Cudak appeared at a hearing in which photographers were forbidden to take his picture. Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee, announced:

"This man has a problem of safety for his life and we want to keep our promise to him."

McClellan endorsed Cudak's sworn testimony, that he and his partners robbed the mails at least 125 times, as "not hearsay or imaginary."

Four plainclothes detectives stood between Cudak and the hearing room and audience and uniformed policemen posted themselves in the rear of the room as he told the subcommittee:

"My share of the loot my partners and I stole in a four-year period came to approximately $1 million. I am penniless today. I gambled most of the money away as soon as I received my share from the fences."

Cudak said most of the loot was in the form of stocks and bonds for which he said fences were at first reluctant to handle.

"As we continued," Cudak said, "the loot from our airport thefts became more attractive to the fences who buy stolen goods, many of whom are controlled by or linked to organized crime."

School Will Hire Lawyer For Pupils

HOUSTON (AP)—Next fall the student at the University of Houston who has trouble getting back his deposit on an apartment will have professional help. The help will come from a lawyer the school will hire to counsel students on legal problems.

The counselor, yet to be selected, will advise students on standard legal procedures and their legal rights.

Tom O'Donnell, the student advocate who takes up students' problems with the university administration, started the idea.

He said the counselor should help remedy situations in which students suffer in legal disputes because they either lack knowledge of their rights or funds to hire an attorney.

The counselor will advise students on small claims court procedure, consumer protection laws, the Civil Rights Act, labor relations board procedures, laws concerning the employment of minors and city traffic court procedure.

Counseling on problem pregnancy laws and draft laws will also be provided. Because of restrictions on group practice of law in Texas, the counselor, to be selected from a list of local attorneys, will not represent students in court or perform actual written legal services. In such instances, the counselor would refer the student to either a lawyer's referral service, if he is able to pay, or to the Houston Legal Foundation, which provides legal services for indigents.

Released On Bail Pending Appeal

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two former executives of a Kerrville aircraft firm have been released on bond pending an appeal of their convictions on federal stock fraud charges.

Mal Rachal of Midland, former president of Mooney Aircraft, Inc., was released Monday. Edward Hunnicutt of Kerrville, former secretary-treasurer, was freed Tuesday. Both posted $50,000 surety bonds.

 Dblc. Pass Pass Pass

Yesterday we presented a hand taken from the Team-of-Four Championship held in Miami Beach during the Southeastern Regional Tournament wherein a difference in approach by the respective declarers in the play of a three no trump contract led to a substantial swing on the deal.

Today, we have another hand which also led to a decisive swing, however, bidding is the main ingredient of this tale. At one table the bidding proceeded as depicted in the diagram. East opened with one spade and South overcalled with two clubs. The competitive raise to two spades by West and the free bid of three hearts by North are fairly routine.

At this point East chose to jump to four spades. South continued the competition by raising his partner to five hearts. Observe that the king-small of trumps is considered adequate support for a partner who has named his own suit at the three level. West carried on to five spades inasmuch as he had little defense and a profitable sacrifice appeared in the offing.

North now raised his partner to six clubs and East doubled, which closed the auction. Had West guessed to lead a diamond, the defenders would have cashed out the first three tricks in that suit. The double by a player not on lead is considered conventional, however, and carries a specific message. It forbids the normal lead, which in this case would have been a spade—East's bid suit. It calls for the first suit bid by dummy—hearts. Since both North and South had bid hearts, it appeared to West that his partner was void of that suit and desired a heart ruff.

West accordingly led a heart and South proceeded to cash six clubs and six hearts, plus one spade ruff to score 13 tricks on the deal. The total profit for North and South was 1,800 points.

East could have avoided the disaster by making a simple, if slightly orthodox call. Over North's bid of three hearts, it is suggested that East bid four diamonds. There is no intention, of course, to play the hand in diamonds, but it does suggest a good lead to partner should the opponents wind up playing the hand with South as the declarer. It is somewhat fatuous on East's part to assume that he can buy the contract for four spades when everyone at the table is bidding.

If West for some reason should happen to raise diamonds, East can always retreat to spades, a higher ranking suit. If East and West had saved at six spades, they would still have effected a considerable saving on the deal, for that contract can be set only one trick. This was in fact the result at the other table, where the teammates of the North-South pair that scored the doubled slam—were defeated 100 points at six spades. The net profit on the deal to their side was 1,780 points.

Rush For Liquor Glasses Expected

DALLAS (AP) — A promising new market now that the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission has begun issuing licenses for public sale of mixed drinks is that of cocktail and hard liquor glasses.

Glass buying picked up 30 to 50 per cent after the first day permits were issued, but wholesale merchants say the rush won't come for several months. J. R. "Pat" Patterson, executive vice-president of Huey and Philp Co., predicts the demand for new glassware will be "pretty heavy."

His supplier, E. Jeffrey Shields, branch manager for Libby Glassware, said the "proper use of the right kind of glassware will make their jobs easier, happier and more profitable."

"There are very few items in business that are seen, felt, handled and used as often as glassware service," he said.

Shields estimates that the average bar will need a minimum of 708 glasses, ranging from two-ounce sherry glasses to 11-ounce tumblers.

Giant Grant From Moody

AUSTIN (AP) — A $1.25 million grant from the Moody Foundation of Galveston will be used primarily to finance two Moody public affairs conferences jointly sponsored by the Lyndon B. Johnson Library and the LBJ School of Public Affairs, officials said.

"These conferences will focus on public affairs problems of critical concern to the nation and will be conducted by men and women who have had intimate practical experience in dealing with such problems," the announcement said. "These distinguished speakers will also meet with LBJ school student seminars."

The Moody Foundation funds three lectures by distinguished speakers "directed to broad audiences drawn from the campus, local and state citizens, and visitors from other sections of the country."

Prize Winner Dies

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Dr. Wendell M. Stanley, 66, who shared a 1946 Nobel Prize for the first isolation of a virus, died Tuesday, apparently of a heart attack, in Salamanca, Spain, the University of California reported.

People Talking

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is an attractive woman in our social circle who certainly looks and acts the part of a "Jady." Although she's a grandmother she is very young looking for her age.

This woman is married to a well-to-do man who treats her like a queen. She has a beautiful home, her own car, expensive clothes and plenty of money. The problem: This so-called lady has been telephoning several men in her social circle and asking them to meet her to discuss something "very important." Then she asks their "advice and counsel" on what to do about her frustrations over a loveless, sexless marriage.

Now a man would have to be stupid not to know what she is after. Men talk, Abby, and I'm afraid this is going to get back to her husband. He's a good friend of mine, a sweet guy, and deserves better.

ALSO APPROACHED: DEAR ALSO: If you really want to do your friend a favor, tell his wife to cool it because people are talking.

DEAR ABBY: My neighbor's wind chimes are driving me crazy! I listened to those chimes all last summer and if I have to listen to them again this summer I'll go mad, but what can I do? This neighbor has hung the chimes on a tree one of those who owes me has ever mentioned the debt, not room window. She has air-conditioning and I don't, so I have to raise my window when I retire and all I can hear is tinkling and clanging and clanging until I could just about jump out of my skin!

I have a good relationship with this neighbor, who is very nice, and I don't want to get her angry with me, so please help me solve this problem peacefully.

GOING BATTY
DEAR GOING: Tell your neighbor that her chimes are a source of annoyance to you, and if she is a "nice" person and you have a good relationship with each other, she will remove them promptly. It's as simple as that! (P.S. And if she's not so "nice" as you thought she was, and refuses to remove the chimes, there are laws against disturbing the peace.)

DEAR OLD ENOUGH: Try this: "Look, my young friend, you have owed me _____ for _____ months. I've said nothing, hoping you would recognize the importance of keeping your credit good. You will hurt yourself in the future more than you hurt me now if you don't pay your honest debts. How about it?"

All three co-workers are very friendly to me, and none seems embarrassed about his nonpayments. I am far from wealthy and could use the cash myself as I shall be retiring soon. How shall I handle this?

OLD ENOUGH TO KNOW BETTER

Proteins Needed

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I wonder if you have heard of the "organic vegetable and fruit diet" many young people are taking up.

My 19-year-old son announced that he was never eating fish or meat again and recently eschewed all dairy products as well.

Since he has an apartment of his own and is doing fairly vigorous work, I fear he will damage his health. He won't eat eggs, butter, or milk because he says the cow's cells are the same as those of the steer which is killed for food. He has lost 25 pounds in about two months, and could afford to lose this much, but if he continues losing at such a rate it would seem he would undermine his energy and resistance to disease.

We have tried to talk to him. I could go along with his relinquishment of meat, since he has always been very tenderhearted about animals, but when he refuses to get needed protein through fish, cheese, etc., it is a great worry.

If you have any knowledge of this fad (my son says it is a "way of life") we would appreciate an answer. Is there danger in such a rigid diet, or are we magnifying the possibilities? — M.M.

I've had some reverberations about this in letters from readers, but yours is the closest to any explanation. It still leaves some questions in my mind.

The human body needs protein. Protein (the amino acids of which it is made up) is the principal material of which the body's cells are composed. Deprive the body of protein, and the body wastes away and becomes vulnerable to disease. That's precisely why so much attention is being paid to find ways to provide more protein in the "hungry" parts of the world, where malnutrition is robbing the inhabitants of the will and energy to improve their own condition.

There are vegetarians who refuse to eat meat, but they get protein from other sources: milk, cheese, eggs, nuts, small amounts in some vegetables.

If your tender-hearted son doesn't want to eat meat, he can be tolerably healthy getting his protein from other sources, but it sounds to me as though he has gone much too far.

You might remind him that nobody kills the chickens to get eggs, nor cows to get milk. In fact, if he were a farm boy, he's know how unhappy cows get when they aren't milked regularly. Cheese is an excellent source of protein. Milk is fair.

Or isn't it in his "way of life" to consider such things?

If he has lost 25 pounds in two months, I'd guess that he isn't going to be able to continue his fad indefinitely. It probably hasn't hurt him so far, and doubtless losing the weight was good for him; but I rather imagine that in time nature is going to have something to say about things.

How does VD start? Why are teenagers among its most frequent victims? Will it cure itself? Dr. Thosteson has the answers in his convenient, layman's language booklet, "Venereal Disease? How to Avoid It; How to Cure It." For a copy write him in care of The Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed (use zip code) envelope.

Two Ruled Guilty Of Bank Robbery

HOUSTON (AP)—John Goode, 26, and David Fry, 29, were convicted Wednesday of a 1970 robbery at the South Park National Bank here.

Both were wounded by a bank official carrying a 12-gauge shotgun. He shot them on the bank parking lot as they fled. A district court jury decides punishment today.

Polio Strikes

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's first case of polio in two years was reported Wednesday by Dr. Albert Randall, city health department director.

Forsan Trustees Appoint Replacement For Board

FORSAN — The Forsan Independent School District School Board held its regular meeting Tuesday in the board room at Forsan High School. The board appointed William R. Banks Jr., 2109 Carl Big Spring, as replacement for board member Leon Ward. Banks will serve until the board election next year. The board heard a report on the actions of the board of equalization, including discussion of the new power lines through the area by Texas Electric Co. and the condition of the oil companies. School superintendent H. D. Smith announced that 85 transfers for the 1971-72 school year had been accepted. There were 83 transfers from Big Spring and two from Garden City. The board voted to join the Texas Association of School Boards and elected board president Oliver Nichols Jr. as delegate and Tom Yeats as alternate. The selection of a depository for the next biennium was tabled until the July meeting because of minor changes required in the bids. A new two-year contract was signed with Pritchard and Abbott. They are valuation engineers who handle mineral valuations. Damage estimates were not available for all the damage done to the Elbow school in the May 29 rainstorm, but one bid of $496 was accepted for damage to the roof of one of the teacher houses. Coffman Roofing in Big Spring had the low bid. The board returned to their consideration of the building program. A low bid of $8,724 by Jeter Sheetmetal Co. was accepted for air-conditioning four offices in the administration building; the homemaking room; the teachers lounge; the language lab and three classrooms. A bid of $1,566.40 from the Coleman Concrete Works was accepted for 2,450 square feet of sidewalk work around the high school. The board approved paving the streets and parking areas around the high school at a cost of $8,043. The tentative drawings for a new band hall were approved. The plans will be finalized and bid on at the July meeting. The board discussed the new health law that will go into effect in September, 1971, and decided to send information to all parents about the new immunization law before school starts. The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Darlene Eggen, a sixth grade teacher, leaving because of her husband's transfer, and accepted Mrs. Vesta Shoultz as a replacement. No bids were accepted on closing off the stage in the old gymnasium. New bids will be requested. The board decided to sell a wooden house and a double tin garage, now on school property.

MEET BABY MILO WHO HAS WASHINGTON TERRIFIED

20th Century-Fox presents ESCAPE FROM THE PLANET OF THE APES PANAVISION • COLOR BY DE LUXE

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amendment to cut off money for the Vietnam war headed for a House vote today, given less chance of passage than a tougher move that failed in the Senate Wednesday. Sponsors estimated 150 to 170 of the 434 House members would vote for the Nezi-Whalen amendment to prohibit spending for war weapons after Dec. 31, 1971.

Viet Deadline 'Kill' Shapes

Hatfield told reporters after the vote he was disappointed because "51 senators have at one time or another indicated their support for withdrawal at a time certain. The problem is we haven't found a date on which the 51 will agree." He said he would not be surprised if President Nixon sets a definite date for ending U.S. involvement. "The President can't be unaware of the 73 per cent of the public that wants out of the war." "The President can't be unaware of the 44 senators who had the courage and conviction to stand up and vote to get out," Hatfield added. The Chile amendment attracted 34 Democrats and 10 Republicans. Last February, 38 Democrats voted at a party caucus in favor of a resolution urging action to set a date certain for ending U.S. involvement within the life of the 92nd Congress, which runs until Jan. 3, 1973.
