

COULD REDUCE TIME OF ATLANTIC CROSSING TO THREE DAYS

Navy Preparing To Test Turbojet-Powered Ship

WASHINGTON (AP) — With civil war threatening hundreds of Americans in Jordan, the Defense Department last fall alerted the Navy's 6th Fleet to prepare for a possible airlift.

rier Guam was dispatched quickly from Norfolk, Va. By the time the crossing was completed—11 days later—the crisis was cooling.

The Navy calls them surface effect ships, turbojet-powered vessels that skim the water on a bubble of air at speeds designed for greater than 100 knots.

future and "change the whole power relationship at sea." With their high speeds—100 knots versus 40 knots for today's swiftest destroyers—surface effect ships will be able to outrun nuclear-powered submarines, skirt around bad weather and quickly get to the action.

Air, Surface and Electronic Warfare Division, says surface effect ships, their size unlimited, could be adapted for any mission carried out by today's conventional men-of-war.

day's destroyer escorts—are possible. To prove their feasibility, the Navy will test two 100-ton prototypes.

Each boat, about 80 feet long and 40 feet wide, costs $15 million. The one built by the Bell Aerospace Corp. at Michoud, La., is propeller driven, while the entry of Aerojet-General Corp. at Tacoma, Wash., is propelled by high-pressure water jets.

It's no coincidence that the two companies chosen by the Navy to build the prototypes are known primarily for their work in aviation. Surface effect ships bring together design and engineering features from both naval architects and aeronautical engineers.

MANY WORKERS WALK OUT EARLY

Ma Bell Has Labor Pains

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Bell System was struck by up to 500,000 telephone workers today as phone companies kept service going but prepared to halt repair service and installations.

Supervisory personnel filled in at switchboards after members of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America walked out at 6 a.m. EDT. A union spokesman said the virtually nationwide walkout would last at least two weeks because of complicated labor ratification procedures.

But people can expect to hear a lot of male voices when calling the operator," said information officer Chuck Dynes. Because telephones are so highly automated, most calls will continue to go through until lack of maintenance causes breakdowns.

job early; "tired of waiting," they said, for the mornings deadline. At Nashville's Western Electric plant, an arm of the Bell system, all 70 workers walked off the job just before midnight in protest of the suspension of 12 workers the company said had slowed production. The plant was forced to close.

'Business As Usual' For Big Spring Bell

"Business as usual" is the reaction of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company in Big Spring to the nationwide strike of the Communications Workers of America.

"We naturally hope that there will be no work stoppage," he said. "If there is one, we'll try to keep our service as efficient as possible."

MEET TODAY Two Suggest Aug. 3 As Recall Date

Two local attorneys appointed by city commissioners to determine guidelines for a recall election will suggest Aug. 3 as election date when they meet with commissioners at 5 p.m. today.

"We will present these recommendations to the commission in the meeting today for their approval and it will be left up to their own discretion as to changes that will be made in the procedures," said Burgess.

The decisions of the attorneys came after the presentation of the recall petitions to the commission Tuesday in a special meeting called by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

COMMISSIONERS OKAY CITY SEWAGE ORDINANCE

Self-Service Gasoline Station Prohibition Repealed

By BRIAN PEAY
An ordinance passed in 1950 prohibiting and regulating self-service gasoline stations in the city was officially repealed by action of the city commission in regular session Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. in city hall.

"It is my opinion, as stated in the last city commission meeting, that the 1950 ordinance regulating self-service gasoline stations was repealed by the adoption of the Fire Prevention Code in 1964 and was specifically repealed by the adopting ordinance codifying all previous ordinances of the city," said Herb Prouty, past city attorney, in a letter to the commission.

The question of the self-service stations being established in the city has been tabled by the commission two times in past city commission meetings, and the last action of the commission on the question was to direct the city attorney to make a ruling on the issue.

OWN MERITS
The commission approved the city attorney's opinion with the stipulation that other investigations be made into the issue and in the future each individual station being built in the city will have to "stand alone on its own merits," said Jack Watkins, commissioner.

A city sewage ordinance was approved on emergency reading by the city commission Tuesday night as part of city attempts to meet the Texas Water Quality Board's requirements concerning needed sewage improvements.

"The reason for the ordinance is to control the content of particles in the city sewage that may affect the sewage treatment effluent," said Nolen Chafin, director of public works.

RETAIN CHEMIST
Chafin also recommended to the commission that the city retain the services of a chemist on either a full-time or part-time basis to check the effluent for violations of the ordinance.

"The chemist will not only be used as enforcer of the ordinance, but also will have other duties at both the water treatment, and sewage plants," said Chafin.

Mayor Arnold Marshall expressed the commission's positive attitude toward Chafin's recommendations and suggested that he make more study and present more recommendations as to the needs of the city sewage system in meeting the TWQB requirements.

NEED REMEDY
"I think that we often do not realize the seriousness and importance of the problem that is facing the city and its sewage system, and we need to get started on a remedy to the problems," said Mayor Marshall.

Temporary appointment of Maxine Shaffer as city finance officer effective July 16 was approved by the commission. Current finance officer and city secretary for the city, Charles Smith, will leave the city position July 15.

"I suggest that Mrs. Shaffer be compensated $200 more a month for the extra responsibility and work, and I also recommend that the city utilize the services of George Thornburn, accountant," said Roy Anderson, acting city manager.

The commission approved Anderson's recommendations.

The commission also approved the appointment of Lucie Roberson as assistant city secretary and city manager's secretary. She takes the place of Ranette Sheppard, who left that position last week.

OUT OF SIGHT
"The city's insurance premiums are going out of sight," Anderson told the commission in the meeting.

Three years ago the insurance premium stood at approximately $19,992, but insurance companies are projecting the cost of another three-year term insurance plan for the city to be $45,000, according to Anderson.

Four of the commissioners, excluding Mayor Marshall, agreed to form the committee and talk to the insurance representatives with Anderson.

"The committee will make a study to see where costs can be cut and examine insured items that may be dropped from the insurance package. We will have to take a calculated risk on dropping some of these items from the package, however, this will greatly affect the city budget," said Anderson.

NURSES AIDE

'Heroin' Indicted After Fatal Fire

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A petite nurse's aide, who was praised as a heroine last January, faced arraignment today on 10 counts of wilful murder and one of arson in connection with a fire that killed nine persons at a senior citizens home.

Pretty 21-year-old Mary Ann Wyatt was rushed unconscious to a hospital after spending more than three hours last Jan. 14 rescuing and comforting survivors from the Westminster Terrace Presbyterian Home.

She was arrested and jailed without bond Tuesday after the Jefferson County grand jury indicted her in connection with the blaze.

The indictment gave no details of Miss Wyatt's alleged connection with the fire other than to name her and list the charges.

Miss Wyatt, who hoped to become a physical therapist, was one of two staff members on duty when the fire was discovered.

As smoke rolled through halls, Miss Wyatt and Helen Turner, the night nurse, moved 12 of the 13 infirm patients safely out of the building. The other died from smoke inhalation.

Miss Wyatt then led other residents of the home to safety, in many cases forcing locks on sliding glass doors and moving patients to balconies outside their rooms.

Of 94 residents in the building, nine died of smoke inhalation, and a tenth died of pneumonia Jan. 21.

Dr. Donald Thomas, Director of the emergency room at Louisville General Hospital and a city fire department physician, praised the 4-foot-11 brunette for her rescue efforts.

"I could see she had taken in a lot of smoke, but she didn't want to go to the hospital," he said.

"The pay's not too hot and the benefits aren't great, but I loved those people," Miss Wyatt said from her bed in January.

Arson investigators theorized that paper was used to start the fire but said the intensity of the flames apparently consumed the starter fuel. The $1.5 million building was damaged severely.

The indictment listed 40 witnesses, including 16 count police officers, two firemen, residents of the home and the Rev. Jack T. Goodykoontz, executive director of the home.

'Pep' Lawyer Draws Jail

DALLAS (AP) — A disbarred lawyer who pleaded guilty to a charge of possession of dangerous drugs faced a maximum two-year jail sentence and a $3,000 fine today.

Deputy sheriff Tom Barker testified he had received confidential information that Utsman was supplying drugs to jail prisoners.

Utsman was disbarred after misdemeanor charges of drug possession were filed against him.

Fine Of $200 Is Okayed For Drivers, Riders Off Limits

An emergency ordinance regulating park traffic and the first reading of an ordinance adopting a zoning fee policy were approved in the regular session of the city commission Tuesday evening.

"There has been recent damage to the municipal golf course greens in the Comanche Trail Park by people operating motor vehicles on undesignated paths and grounds, and there is a great need for this ordinance," said Roy Anderson, acting city manager.

The ordinance prohibits the riding of horses, bicycles, and the driving of any motor vehicle in the city parks, Moss Creek Lake park, and Shadow Retreat Pavilion, except upon authorized trails, roads and parking areas, and also provides for a penalty clause with a maximum fine of $200.

$35 FEE
The second ordinance adopted a policy set by the city planning and zoning board providing for a $35, non-refundable, fee on each application for zone change and specific use permit and provided for a 90-day waiting period before an application can be re-submitted to the commission or planning and zoning board after it has already failed one of these bodies. It was passed on first reading.

In other business the commission:

—Accepted the resignation of Earl Dean as tax evaluator for the school district, county and city and approved the replacement of Novis Womack to finish Dean's contract at the same terms.

ROAD CLOSING
—Directed the acting city manager to check the legalities and technicalities of closing the road on West Eighth street in front of the new IJ Dress factory. Members of the city Industrial Foundation came before the commission requesting the action so that a parking lot for the dress factory may be built in the area.

—Approved a request by Nolen Chafin, director of public works, for the permission to purchase an amount of No. 4 pre-coated rock, at a cost of $15,000 for the city's annual seal coat program on paved streets in the city. Chafin told the commission that a survey run by his department showed that 304 city streets need seal coating, but he recommended that the city only work 100 streets due to the cost.

—Vouchers paid by the city through July 13 were approved.

—Denied a request by Gulf Oil Refining Co. for an easement on land owned by the city in the Silver Heels Addition for the purpose of laying a pipeline. The request was denied because the price for the land damage was considered too low.

—Authorized the acting city manager to dispose of the old style police uniforms as he sees fit. A ROTC marching unit at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene will receive some of the uniforms and the others will go to the local Salvation Army.

TRASH CANS
—Tabled a request by the director of public works for the authorization to purchase 12 refuse containers and directed him to contact Metalboard Company, Lubbock, to check on other prices.

—Approved a request for an easement on city property by Texas Electric Service Co. with the stipulation that the land be on city property and not on county property.

—Approved a certificate of occupancy authorizing Martha W. Tate to sell beer and wine for on-premises consumption at the Hide-A-Way Lounge, Birdwell Lane and IS 20.

Woody Guthrie's Widow Due Here

An organizational meeting for the West Texas chapter of the Committee to Combat Huntington's Disease (CCHD) will be held here Aug. 26 or 27.

Mrs. Marjorie Guthrie will be in Big Spring on those two dates, and plans are being made for a workshop and a folk festival.

The time and place will be announced later.

Mrs. Guthrie is the widow of the legendary Woody Guthrie, "a ramblin' man, a hobo," as he described himself, who became one of the best known and most prolific creators of folk music. Woody Guthrie wrote his songs as he followed the migrants out of the "Dust Bowl" in the 1930s and into the "Peach Bowl" of California. On the walls of an old beat-up house in Okemah, Okla., are scrawled these words: "Here once lived one of the greatest Americans the world has ever known and his name was Woody."

But Woody had something besides a musical talent and a human touch — he had Huntington's chorea. He had fallen ill in Brooklyn, N.Y., where a hospital diagnosed his ailment. He died in 1967 from the ailment, which is little known outside the medical profession, and until recent years somewhat nebulous even in scientific circles.

Yet, those here who have been working more than a year toward formation of a chapter know of 18 cases and are certain there must be a substantial number of others who may have it.

Front Burner Heat Lingers

By The Associated Press

Summery heat is keeping Texas on the front burner.

Thermometers climbed as high as 105 degrees at Mineral Wells Tuesday, hit 100 or better at nearly a dozen other places and reached into the 90s nearly everywhere else.

Even Houston recorded 96 degrees despite 1.09 inches of welcome rain. Elsewhere there were only a few skimpy showers in parts of South and Southeast Texas.

Forecasts promise little change. A few thundershowers were expected along the coastal plains.

Forsan Students Reminded Of Shots

FORSAN — H. D. Smith, superintendent of Forsan schools, today reminded parents that Texas has a new law which requires immunizations for pupils in public schools.

These are for polio (three shots for all up to age 19), diphtheria and tetanus (three shots within the last 10 years), measles or rubella (one shot or three-day rubella or German measles (one shot, through age 12), and smallpox (one shot, within past 10 years).

In the case of polio, diphtheria and tetanus the last dose must have been since age four; the measles last dose may have been anytime; the smallpox inoculation within the last 10 years.

All immunizations should be completed by the time school is entered, said Smith. If this is not possible, then provision must be made for immunization to be started by Jan. 1, 1972, and completed as soon as medically feasible. Since there is no standard form, any document listing each immunization will be acceptable during the 1971-72 school year, provided they are valid proof. Smith referred patrons to their family physicians for questions, or if this is not possible, the local health unit may be of service. The health unit will provide immunization Tuesday from 9-11 a.m. and 1-4 p.m. for those not able to obtain services of a personal physician.

FOUND GUILTY — Air Force Capt. Thomas Culver smiles as he arrives for court-martial Tuesday in Lakenheath. Later, the court found Culver guilty of demonstrating against the Vietnam war while stationed abroad and for encouraging other servicemen to join him.

Culver Will Challenge Ban

LAKENHEATH, England (AP) — Capt. Thomas Culver says he will challenge the constitutionality of the U.S. Air Force's ban on demonstrations under which he was convicted Tuesday.

Culver is to be sentenced today and could receive a maximum of four years in prison, loss of all pay and a dishonorable discharge.

An Air Force court-martial by eight officers on Tuesday found the 32-year-old lawyer from Westfield, N.J., guilty of participating in a demonstration against the Vietnam war in London May 31 and of soliciting other servicemen to join in. It was the first time an American serviceman was tried in Britain on charges of demonstrating.

Servicemen abroad are banned from taking part in such demonstrations although they may do so in the United States while out of uniform and off duty. Culver said he would appeal his conviction and would take the case all the way to the Supreme Court if necessary.

"This is an important test case raising so many constitutional issues," Culver said. "It will force the military to look again at the constitutional rights of the First Amendment."

He expressed confidence that the Court of Military Appeals in Washington would decide in his favor.

BREWED WITH PURE SPRING WATER

Pearl is better beer because it's spring water fresh, spring water smooth. From the Country of 1100 Springs.

SINCE 1886

Back in 1886, Pearl discovered the Country of 1100 Springs. And the country discovered a great new beer.

A beer brewed with a unique German formula and pure Texas Spring Water.

PEARL — A PROUD NAME

Over 100 years ago, a brewmaster in Germany watched the bubbles rise in a glass of beer. They looked like little pearls so he called them perle.

The word perle came to mean the sparkle — the life — of the beer. Years later, a famous German brewery in Bremen chose Perle as the name for its finest lager beer.

Perle

Our founders brought both the name and the formula over from Germany in 1886. And the proud name of Pearl began.

FINE LAGER BEER

The word "lager," from the German verb, "lagern," means to store or to age.

Centuries ago, German monks aged their beer in cool mountain caves. Today, Pearl Beer is placed in special glass-lined tanks in refrigerated aging cellars. There it is slowly "lagered" to bring its famous flavor and aroma to perfection.

Pearl Beer

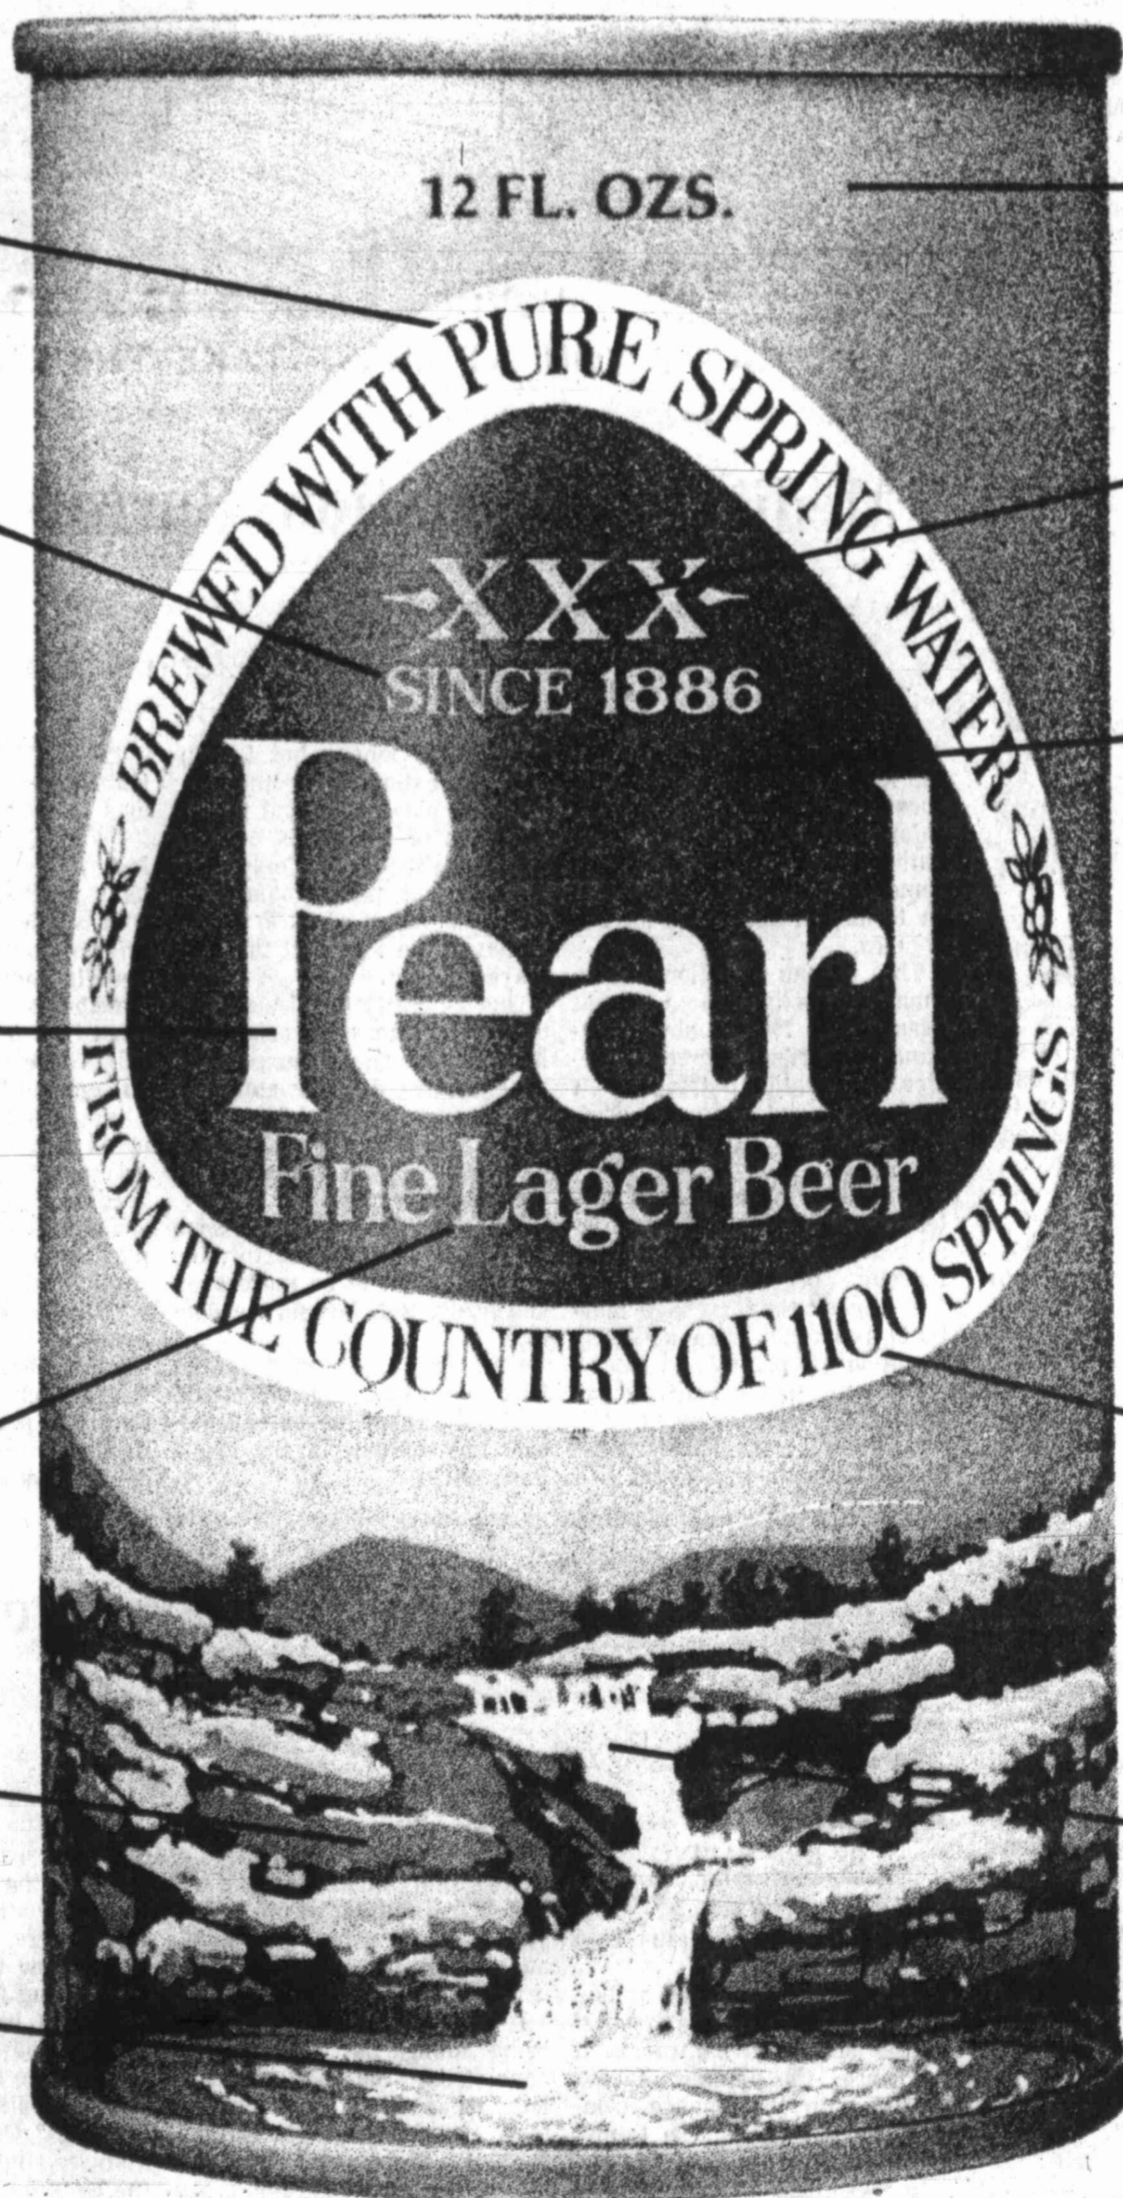

The fine lager beer Texans proudly call their own.

TEXAS LIMESTONE

Underground formations provide a natural filtration system for our perfect brewing water.

COLD, CLEAR, CASCADING WATER

Hear it?

GOLD CAN

XXX

When European royalty and noblemen traveled the countryside in the 16th century, a courier was sent ahead to sample the beer in the inns along the way. If the beer was average, the courier would mark the inn's door with a single X. If the beer was good, two X's marked the spot. But if the beer was of the highest quality, the inn received three X's.

XXX. The meaning hasn't changed.

BRIGHT RED

THE COUNTRY OF 1100 SPRINGS

Hidden deep in the hills of Southwest Texas is one of the great spring regions of the world, the Country of 1100 Springs. It's a big, lonesome land. Still wild. Rugged. And free.

This six-million-acre stretch of scenic beauty is dotted with crystal-clear springs. The icy water from these natural fountains flows into noisy rivers like the Frio and the Medina, and then disappears underground into honeycombed limestone.

Never leaving this snow-white stone, the spring water makes its way south and east into the natural underground reservoir where our own wells find it, a quarter mile beneath the Pearl Brewery. Up comes one of the world's few naturally perfect brewing waters. Fresh. Clear. Perfect for capturing all the life and good taste in Pearl's fine grains and hops.

The delicate flavors you often miss in other beers can't hide in this rare water.

Pour yourself a cold Pearl Beer. Every refreshing sip will take you back to the Country of 1100 Springs.

AT TARS CONVENTION

Teens Helping Fight Mental Retardation

Thirty-six Howard County TARS were among the 550 members of Texas Teens Aid the Retarded who held their convention over the weekend in Lubbock.

Sponsors accompanying the group from here were Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith, Mrs. Harold Bell and Miss Evelyn Jopsin.

Bob Rundell, Southwest

regional representative of the National Association for Retarded Children, was keynote speaker, entitled his talk, "And David Slew Goliath." In illustration, he noted that TARS can "slay" mental retardation.

Workshop topics included "Poverty and Mental Retardation," "The Buddy System," "Youth NARC" and "Drugs and

During a banquet, awards were presented to outstanding supporters of TARS activities. An award went to the Victoria chapter for having the largest attendance at the convention and for having the ARC sponsor. Calhoun County received recognition for having the outstanding TARS unit in the state.

Tom Turnage was elected vice president of Region 4, and David Wetzel was chosen board member-at-large. Both are from Andrews.

TARS, sponsored by the Texas Association for Retarded Children, is a group of young people working to increase public awareness of the needs of the mentally retarded.

The convention theme was "He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother."

'Water Thief' Steals From Area Ranchers

"Texas ranchers lose between three and five million dollars per year because of brush," said Dr. Paul Koshi to the Organic Soil Makers Monday at Furr's Cafeteria.

In his talk, "Brush — the Water Thief," Dr. Koshi said about 15 per cent of rainfall in this area runs off to the Gulf of Mexico; six per cent is lost to evaporation and 37 per cent is lost to uneconomic weeds and brush.

Removing brush can increase grass yield from as much as 10 pounds per acre to as much as 300 pounds per acre, according to Dr. Koshi, and he said that in most instances, removal by machine is more efficient than other methods.

Bill Brown, outgoing president, presided at the installation of officers. Chaplain Kenneth Summy of Webb Air Force Base conducted the ceremony. The new officers are Johnny Johansen, president; Guy T. Cook, vice president; Mrs. Don Williams, treasurer; and Mrs. Bill Brown, secretary.

Cliff Chapman, advisor to an Explorer post sponsored by the Soil Makers, spoke to the group about the objectives of the post.

The club will meet for a watermelon party at 8 p.m. Aug. 9 in Comanche Trail Park. The Men's Garden Club was invited to attend.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

The good turnout for the Heritage Museum ranch display proved that people will get out of their air-conditioned homes on Sunday afternoon if they have something to see. It's a good exhibit and especially interesting for the children, many of whom have not been exposed to many ranch-like articles, particularly those of vintage displayed at the museum. Some of us who have lived here many years learned a lot about the old time-equipment.

The pictures are proving popular, and they are displayed on a wall long enough so that a number of people can view at the same time and talk over who they might have known in them.

MR. and MRS. BILL McREEE have returned home from a vacation trip to see their daughter, MRS. NANCY DOWALBY, and her son, Mark, in St. Louis, Mo. They were accompanied by Mrs. McRee's mother, MRS. WILLIAM F. FROWE, of Lawrence, Kans., who was celebrating her 85th birthday.

The party really took in St. Louis and enjoyed a tour of the Missouri Botanical Gardens, the big St. Louis Zoo and Park and lunched atop the Stoffer Hotel in the revolving restaurant where they had a beautiful view up and down the Mississippi River. They also drove over to Edwardsville, Ill., where they heard Van Cliburn in concert at the University of Southern Illinois in the out-of-doors theatre.

All of this going was a special treat to Mrs. Frowe who took it all in via wheelchair.

MR. and MRS. LYNN HISE and their children are vacationing in Cloudercroft, N.M.

MR. and MRS. RALPH PROCTOR returned Monday night from a week's visit in Tacoma, Wash., with their daughter and her family, T. SGT. and MRS. EVERETT NEWTON and their sons, Mike and Steve. It was the first air trip for Mrs. Proctor, and she's still singing the praises of air travel. The group also went to Seattle and saw the old World's

2 Astros Turned Down Offer By Financier To Sell Stock

DALLAS (AP) — Moon astronaut Charles Conrad Jr. was just back from the Apollo 12 venture and still in quarantine when he first learned that Houston financier Frank W. Sharp wanted to sell him stock in the National Bankers Life Insurance Co., it was disclosed here Tuesday.

New depositions filed by the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in the court of federal Judge Sarah T. Hughes included one from Conrad and another from his fellow astronaut, James Lovell.

Conrad was quoted as saying that he had known Sharp, whose complex financial dealings play a role in the SEC civil suit alleging stock manipulation, for "probably quite a few years." Before the Apollo 12 flight in November, 1969, Conrad testified, he and other astronauts were presented with life insurance policies valued at $100,000 each during a party at the Lakewood Country Club.

Lovell's deposition said he telephoned the Apollo 12 crew while they were still in quarantine in the lunar receiving lab and talked to Conrad about Sharp's offer to sell them stocks.

He said he knew Sharp "through in-laws," Barbara and John Masterson, godparents to Lovell's youngest child. Mrs. Masterson's brother, W.D. Haden, is Sharp's son-in-law. It was through Lovell the other astronauts became involved in the stock offer.

Lovell said in late 1969 Sharp offered to make him a director of National Bankers Life.

AT THE HEART That Dallas insurance company, now in receivership, is at the heart of a SEC civil suit alleging stock manipulation by Sharp and 27 other individuals and firms.

Opening lead: King of ♣ Today's hand provoked a great deal of comment when it was dealt in a recent tournament because most of the North-South pairs that played it arrived at a contract of only four spades. After West opened the king of clubs and then continued the suit, South ruffed in and proceeded to draw trump and claim 12 tricks inasmuch as he had more than enough heart ruffs and diamond discards to dispose of his remaining losers.

At most tables the first three bids were the same as those presented in the diagram above. South was looking at a hand worth 13 points (10 in high cards, two for the singleton and one for the fifth spade once that suit had been supported). Inasmuch as partner's jump raise announces 17 to 19 points, it appeared that the requirements for a small slam (33) were a bit beyond reach and many of the South players were content to merely proceed to four spades. There was considerable discussion, of course, when the deal was concluded as to why the partnership had not bid the slam.

Some Souths contended that North should have jumped to four spades on the second round. This actually occurred at a few tables with mixed results. Over four spades, South cue bid the ace of diamonds. A few Norths felt by this time that they had done their full duty on a holding worth 18 points in support, counting high cards and distribution (the jump rebid to four spades announces 20 points in support) and they signed off at five spades which South passed.

At a couple of tables, North bid five hearts over five diamonds to show the ace of hearts and South, holding a singleton club, now bid the slam in spades.

While we have no objection to a four spade call since South needs only a four card spade suit headed by the king-queen to give himself a reasonable play for game, we favor the bidding sequence given in the diagram. This auction occurred at most of the tables where the slam was actually bid.

Altho South has only an average hand in high card content, he has added values in the form of a good suit and outside controls including a fitting honor in partner's suit. North has promised four spades by virtue of the jump raise. If he has a long diamond suit as well, slam may well be in the offing.

A cue bid of four diamonds cannot cost anything, inasmuch as South is making his try below the game level. When North cue bids the ace of hearts, South is temporarily obliged to sign off at four spades, since he has nothing extra.

North can visualize the possibility of slam at this point if his partner does not have two club losers. South should have either the king or queen of spades to warrant his try—and if he has the club control, a six spade contract will hinge on a trump finesse, at the worst. North's five spade call asks about the only unbid suit, clubs. Inasmuch as South has a singleton, it becomes routine for him to bid the slam and after the opening lead, the play becomes equally routine.

Round Up Dozens Of Mafia Suspects

ROME (AP) — Police rounded up dozens of Mafia suspects in towns throughout Sicily and on the Italian peninsula today in the wake of a parliamentary report charging that police and other officials protected the criminal organization.

The arrests were ordered by the police chief of Palermo, the Sicilian capital, Ferdinando Li Donne, and Col. Carlo Alberto della Chiesa, commander of the national police in Sicily.

The suspects were being brought to Palermo for action by special courts which have banished 33 Mafia leaders to islands off Sicily and Sardinia in the past two months.

The parliamentary commission charged that Mafia leaders seldom have been convicted by Italian courts because they enjoyed "powerful and authoritative protection and political complicity" from police and other officials.

It said the Christian Democrats, Italy's Roman Catholic party and the leader of every postwar government, is among the parties that traded political protection for the Mafia's support.

After a seven-year investigation, the commission issued a 300-page report Tuesday in which it outlined the activities of 13 men it named as Mafia kingpins in postwar Italy. They were described as "bloody criminals, killers, drug dealers, persons capable of any atrocity."

Of the 13, one is in jail, Vincenzo di Carlo, a former judge serving a life term for multiple murder; four were killed in Mafia gun battles and five were confined by the government recently to islands off Sicily and Sardinia. Another, Luciano Liggio, wanted for the killing of another Mafia chief in Sicily, disappeared in 1969 and is still a fugitive, the report said.

Last year, all John Benson saved was $54.32.

This year, he joined the Payroll Savings Plan.

Poor John. Money just seemed to slip right through his fingers. Every time he planned to stash something away, there wasn't anything left.

Then John decided to join the Payroll Savings Plan where he works. Now, an amount he specifies is automatically set aside from his check before he gets it. And invested in U.S. Savings Bonds.

Because John has become such a systematic saver, he's almost forgotten about it. When he gets around to remembering, he's going to have quite a nest egg laid away.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970 ... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

If you keep forgetting to save something out of your check, join the Payroll Savings Plan and let somebody else do the remembering for you.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America. Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

Call Him Doctor

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: In your column I saw the question of whether or not one who has earned a Ph.D. degree should be addressed as "Doctor." Why not? It irks me no end that in the United States only medical doctors are addressed as "Doctor." On the other hand, in Germany, any uneducated goose who happens to be married to a doctor calls herself "Frau Doktor." IRKE

DEAR IRKED: Save your irk. Any dummkopf can tell in two minutes whether the frau married the title or earned it.

DEAR ABBY: Carol and I have been married for 12 years and we get along better than most married couples I've known. I work for an international company, and I've had four promotions since our marriage. Each promotion has meant moving to another state.

The first time we moved I noticed my wife had this old trunk filled with love letters, pictures, souvenirs and junk from previous boy friends. She collected ashtrays from restaurants everytime she had a date. They are all labeled. This trunk has got to weigh 200 pounds.

I was annoyed to think she'd hang on to all that junk, but I didn't say anything. Now I am really burned! After 12 years, she is still hauling this stuff round the country. I think it's time she got rid of it, but I don't want to play the role of the jealous husband. What do you think, and what should I do? CAROL'S QUIET MAN

DEAR MAN: The "junk" belongs to your wife, and if she wants to haul it all over the world for the next 50 years, it's her privilege. You've been smart to be quiet about it. Don't spoil it now. Apparently, she still needs a little support for her sagging ego. Or she could just be sentimental.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

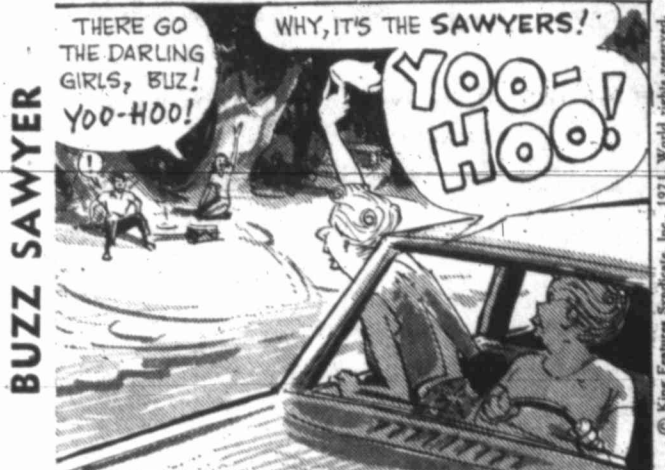

DEAR "IT": The lady is right. I agree, it does pay to advertise, but there are subtler ways of doing it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

No Major Worry

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please write about chronic low blood pressure. What effect does it have on the way one feels? Is there any medication that will perk up the pressure? In old age, how will it affect a person's health and activity?

What causes it to manifest itself in early childhood — a defective heart to start with, or an early illness of some kind? — Mrs. H. W. G.

For reasons not known to me, there seems to be quite a lot of concern about low blood pressure — and there shouldn't be.

First of all, there is a wide range of pressure that is normal high normal, low normal, any number of in between normals. But the last word is the important one — normal.

The person with low normal pressure doesn't feel anything. He's normal and healthy. In fact, a person usually becomes aware of low blood pressure levels only because of a casual remark by the doctor after taking a reading.

The patient thinks it means something is wrong. It doesn't.

If the patient is languid, tired, the fatigue is usually due to some other factor. Indeed, in comparatively few cases in which low blood pressure is being caused by some organic disorder, then the organic disorder is what needs treating; trying to treat the "low blood pressure" is very much a matter of putting the cart before the horse. Such organic conditions include, among others, Addison's disease, low thyroid function, chronic infection, etc. And with all of these, there will be symptoms other than the low pressure.

You might keep this in mind: insurance statistics show that folks with low normal blood pressure have a longer life expectancy than those with high B. P. Doesn't that cheer you up?

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Are the vitamin and calcium contents any less in farm milk rather than the pasteurized milk you purchase in stores? My family drinks quite a bit of farm milk.

T.Y.S.

I presume by "farm milk" you mean unpasteurized milk. The difference, if any, is small, except that much of the milk sold commercially may have some vitamins added. That is relatively unimportant. The reason for not drinking raw milk — unpasteurized — is that enough serious disease was traced to raw milk to make pasteurization a routine precaution.

Not all raw milk happens to carry disease germs, but just one serious illness from that source is one too many. Personally I would never take the risk of drinking unpasteurized milk.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is also vital to human life. For this reason, Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of The Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Stock Scandal Vote Shaped 'Dirty 30'

AUSTIN (AP)—Twenty of the "Dirty 30" have decided their ranks were formed March 15 when they challenged Speaker Gus Mutscher on a motion relating to the stock fraud investigation.

Spokesmen for the House members known as the "Dirty 30" released a voting analysis Tuesday which they said shows "crucial votes principally concerning ethics and the stock fraud investigation" during the recent legislature.

The 20 met Sunday and agreed that the 118-30 vote by which they were unsuccessful March 1 in appealing a ruling by Mutscher was the start of the original "Dirty 30."

Their tally of votes indicates four legislators, including speaker candidate Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty, joined the "Dirty 30" later.

The March 15 vote sustained Mutscher's ruling that a motion by Rep. Frances Farenthold, Corpus Christi, to investigate immediately the passage of two 1969 banking bills was not privileged.

Mrs. Farenthold said the decision to test the speaker's authority was the first time in 11 years a speaker's ruling had been challenged in such a manner.

The banking bills, later vetoed by Gov. Preston Smith, have been mentioned frequently in the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's stock fraud investigation.

The "Dirty 30" said it analyzed 19 votes which were the "beginning of the now widespread reform drive in the Texas House... the voter analysis includes record votes on such issues as an immediate, impartial investigation of the stock fraud and financial disclosure by state officials."

The "Dirty 30" describes itself as a "group of independent, reform-minded of the Texas House of Representatives who are pressing for reform in the legislative rules to allow full and open debate on substantive issues." The group says it is made up of liberals, moderates and conservatives of both parties.

Billie Sol Stopped In Midland During Flight From Newsmen?

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—One-time farm and fertilizer millionaire Billie Sol Estes may have been in Midland Tuesday while a self-styled "bounty hunter" bragged that he kept newsmen from reaching Estes after his release from prison.

Minutes after the motel coffee shop interview with John Ernst ended, several motel employees said they thought they recognized Estes as the man who checked into the downtown facility late Monday with the El Paso "bounty hunter."

Efforts to confirm that Estes was or was not registered as a guest at the motel were fruitless.

In a chance meeting with a reporter, Ernst boasted that he helped Estes elude newsmen when Estes was released from the La Tuna Federal Correctional Institution near El Paso early Monday.

KINGS QUARTET—An Albuquerque, N.M., singing group, the Kings Quartet, will present a concert at 7:30 p.m. today in the First Assembly of God Church, Fourth and Lancaster. There will be no admission, however a free-will offering will be taken and recordings by the group will be on sale. The public is invited to attend.

'JUST AS A FRIEND'

Ernst also said he was helping Estes "just as a friend" in the post-midnight chase in which Estes eluded newsmen on the fringe of El Paso.

Estes was paroled early Monday after serving more than six years of a 15-year sentence assessed him in 1963 on a seven-count conviction for mail fraud.

After his release from prison, where he was picked up by his wife and three of his children, Estes was aided in his attempt to avoid newsmen by Ernst, who was driving a separate car, a "souped-up" 1962 white Lincoln Continental.

"You know a Mustang ain't no match for a Lincoln," said Ernst, who tried to run a newsman's car off the road during the flight.

'CROOKED JOHN'

"I wouldn't have hit you," he told a reporter involved in the chase. "I wasn't even driving in high gear."

Lee Trevino Hopes Wheels Stay Put

CHICAGO (AP) — "I just hope the wheels don't come off." Lee Trevino said today as he prepared for Thursday's first round in the $150,000 Western Open. "I just hope it keeps going, that this wagon keeps rolling. I like winning golf tournaments. I'd gone 13 months without winning. I'd been right up there a lot of times, but something always happened," he said. "But then, all of a sudden, it just started happening." He won five tournaments in just over two months, lost another in a playoff and completed an unprecedented sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open titles in Southport, England only last Saturday.

His fantastic performance vaulted the 31-year-old Super Mex alongside Jack Nicklaus as the two dominant figures in the game today and stamped him as the man to beat in the 72 hole chase for the $30,000 first prize here. Probably his chief opposition is Billy Casper, the 1970 Player of the Year but a nonwinner this season. Casper, winner of more than $1 million in prize money, was a late entrant. He had planned to skip this old event and spend two weeks in Morocco as the guest of King Hassan II, but changed arrangements after bloody political upheavals in that country last weekend.

Arum said the exhibition would show if Frazier was healthy or not. Williams had challenged Frazier to meet him without protective headgear. Joe said it was fine with him but Durham said he would insist on using headgear.

Everybody seemed worried about Frazier's health except Frazier. "Anybody who wants to check me up, that's okay with me," Frazier said. "I'm willing to go to any doctor. I've had no problems with headaches. I've been training three weeks and I feel great." That's bad news for Cleveland "Big Cat" Williams, a seasoned pro, and James Helwig, a Texas Christian football player who recently turned pro boxer. Rod Laver Is Critical Of ILTF Net Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rod Laver of Australia, the best player of his era, says he can't understand why a permanent peace isn't negotiated between warring amateur and professional interests in tennis. "There are two worlds, the pro and the amateur," Laver said. "They should be working together. They should find their own niche and work at it. This can be worked out." Laver made the comments to newsmen after winning his first-round match in the $50,000 Washington Star International Tennis Tournament Tuesday. The top four seeds rolled to easy victories during the opening round.

John Newcombe, Australia, No. 1, blanked Torben Ulrich, Denmark, 6-0, 6-0; Stan Smith, Sea Pine, S.C., No. 2, defeated Harold Solomon, Silver Spring, Md., 6-4, 6-2; Arthur Ashe, Richmond, Va., No. 3, defeated Tito Alvarez, Argentina, 6-1, 6-2, and Laver, No. 4, defeated Roy Barh, San Diego, 6-3, 6-1. Laver was critical of the action taken last week in Stressa, Italy by the International Lawn Tennis Federation (ILTF), which banned professionals from its 1972 tournaments. The ILTF's decision was aimed primarily at World Championship Tennis (WCT), a professional group led by Texas millionaire Lamar Hunt Jr. Laver is under contract to WCT. Unless a reconciliation can be reached, pro stars such as Laver, Newcombe and Ken Rosewall of Australia and Ashe of the United States will be forced to miss next year's major tournaments, including Wimbledon and Forest Hills. Newcombe won at Wimbledon two weeks ago.

OFFERS ASIAN HELP Champion Boxes In Astrohall

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Joe Frazier admits he can't out-talk his old antagonist Muhammad Ali, but the heavyweight champion does have a way of getting attention. Frazier had been on the ground in Houston only a few minutes Tuesday when he announced he would try to get clearance to go to North Vietnam to seek the release of American prisoners. Later he invaded Ali's training camp at the Astrohall because "I just wanted to see what you looked like now. Usually when I get through with a fighter, there's not much left." Jackson's Home Run Sparks Americans

DETROIT (AP) — After eight years of All-Star frustration the American League finally found the silver lining . . . and it came like a bolt out of the blue.

Reggie Jackson's bolt, not Vida Blue's. While the fans came to see the sensation AL Blue pitch, they all went home talking about Jackson's really-sparkling home run that helped the Americans stop an eight-game losing streak with a 6-4 victory over the Nationals in Tuesday night's 42nd All-Star Game.

"That ball really took off and I thought it was going to knock the light tower down," said National League catcher Johnny Bench about Jackson's gigantic, two-run pinch-hit wallop that highlighted a four-run third inning.

STARTS SPREE

Jackson's blast off National League starter Dock Ellis, estimated at close to 600 feet since it hammered against the facade over the upper deck of Tiger Stadium's right-center field, touched off an American League power spree.

Frank Robinson delivered a two-run shot later in the inning and Harmon Killebrew followed with the clincher, another two-run smash in the sixth.

The Jackson shot helped the American League wipe out an early 3-0 National League advantage, built on two homers off Blue, the Oakland A's usually untouchable 17-game winner. "Good pitching doesn't always stop good hitting," said Blue, referring to the old baseball adage.

He spoke from experience. Blue, who came into the contest touted as baseball's best pitcher, breezed through the first three batters before dealing a gopher pitch to Bench, who smacked a two-run homer in the National League second.

Blue then gave up another homer in the third inning, this time to Hank Aaron. Despite an unparalleled 17-3 record and 188 strikeouts just halfway through the season, the Blue Blazer admitted he's only human.

"I'm no super All-Star," said Blue, who said he was "nervous before I threw the first pitch" in his first performance in an All-Star game.

EARLY DEFICIT

So Blue was saddled with a quick three-run deficit and the partisan 53,559 fans in the Detroit Tigers' ancient park probably wondered if their American League heroes would ever win a game and cut into the National League's 23-17 advantage.

Then light-hitting shortstop

Luis Aparicio hit a sharp single in the third and Jackson came in to bat for Blue, his Oakland teammate.

Jackson, a last-minute replacement for injured All-Star Tony Oliva, had two strikes on him before he knew it.

The next pitch sailed off Jackson's bat like a bullet and was greeted by a thunderous ovation as the home fans applauded the American League's first two runs. The Nationals didn't know it at the time, but it was all over.

Oakland Star Would Walk In Image Of F. Robinson

DETROIT (AP) — Over the winter Frank Robinson helped straighten out Reggie Jackson's hitting problems by patting him on the back.

Tuesday night they combined to straighten out the American League's losing problem and now both are getting pats on the back.

They each hit two-run homers in the third inning off Pittsburgh's Dock Ellis and later Minnesota's Harmon Killebrew added another two-run shot which powered the American League to a 6-4 victor over the National League in the 42nd annual All-Star Game.

"Jackson gut us close, Frank put us ahead, and Killebrew made it easy," summed up Earl Weaver of Baltimore, manager of the victors.

Robinson was voted most valuable player of the game by newsmen. Robinson and Jackson must be considered dual heroes in the slugfest, which stopped the AL's All-Star losing streak at eight.

And afterwards they each lauded the other for his performance.

"If I could walk in his image it would be tremendous," the Oakland outfielder said of Robinson in the AL clubhouse.

"I'm not saying he's a god or a saint. But he's the best I've ever seen."

Jackson credited the Baltimore superstar for helping him come back this year from a slumping 1970 season.

Last year Jackson's batting average dropped from .275 to .237, his home run count from 47 to 23 and his RBI total from 118 to 66.

Red Sox Outlast Lions, 9 To 7

The Red Sox staggered to a 9-7 Sophomore league victory over the Lions Tuesday night, rallying for three runs in the second extra inning to turn the trick.

David Wheeler and Ray Don Box spurred the Red Sox to their win, which looms as very important in the second-half race. The Sox and the Yanks tangle Saturday night, with first place at stake in the skirmishing.

Wheeler west the distance on the mound to get credit for the win. He was also a factor at bat, driving out three doubles.

Box collected a triple and two singles for the Scarlet Hose.

It was Mark Taylor's triple in the ninth that turned the issue the Sox's way. Don Froman had a double for the winners.

For the Lions, Jay Mounce smashed three hits while Robert Stevenson, Pat Carroll and Mike Mounce each connected safely twice.

A total of 26 hits ricocheted around the field, with the Red Sox accounting for 14 of them.

Wheeler and Box each scored twice for the Sox while Stevenson and Mike Mounce each counted twice for the Lions.

Red Sox — 107 130 003-9 14

AUTO AD CLAIMS DRAWING FIRE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is a Ford Ltd. really "over 700 per cent quieter?" Are Oldsmobiles "pollution fighters?" Is the Super Beetle really different in 81 ways from Volkswagens of "yesterday?"

Seeking the answers, the Federal Trade Commission Tuesday ordered seven U.S. and foreign automobile manufacturers to submit documentation for these and other claims made in advertising.

The orders, sent to General Motors Corp., Ford Motor Co., Chrysler Corp., American, Toyota Motor Co., and Nissan Motor Corp., gives the firms 60 days to respond.

Soon after answers are received, the information will be made public by the FTC for use by consumers and competitors.

The FTC spokesman emphasized that in announcing the results, the agency will not make a public evaluation of the adequacy of the documentation.

New Conservationist Due Aug. 8 In Howard County

The new area conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service here will be Joe J. McEntire, Uvalde.

He will report for duty here Aug. 8, succeeding W. S. Goodlett Jr., who is being sent to Harlingen in charge of Area 25 in the Lower Rio Grand Valley sector.

McEntire is a veteran of 20 years with the SCS, with some time out for service during the Korean conflict. He has been an area conservationist at Uvalde since 1963.

The new conservationist is a native of Comanche County and did his high school work at Sidney and his first two years of college at Tarleton State in Stephenville. In 1950 he completed his agricultural education degree at Texas A&M University and taught vocational agriculture for a year in Parker County.

In 1951 McEntire made his connection with the Soil Conservation Service and became a range conservationist at Fredericksburg. This was interrupted by a call to duty for two years with the U.S. Marine Corps in the 1st Marine Air Wing.

He was reassigned to Fredericksburg on his return, but in 1953 was sent as range conservationist to Kerrville, where he was promoted as district conservationist. In 1959 he was sent in this capacity to Floydada before being promoted and sent to Uvalde in 1963.

He and his wife, the former Gerri Willis, have three children, Stephen, 16, Robert, 15, and a daughter, Ann, 12. They are Baptists. McEntire is a member of the Soil Conservation Society of America and is a director for the Texas Society for Range Management.

Cloud-Seeders Take A Vacation

The first half of the weather modification program in the Big Spring area being promoted and financed by the Colorado River Municipal Water District and under the direction of the Atmospherics Inc. group based at Howard County Airport is drawing to an end.

There will be a month break starting Thursday and lasting to Aug. 15.

The modifiers have been contracted by the CRMWD for a five-month period which started April 15 and will last to Oct. 15 with a month break in July and August.

Bob Munn, meteorologist for the group, will stay here for three weeks of the month working on a report and Roger Tyree, pilot, will work during the off period in the Plains Weather Improvement Association's program at Plainview.

The month from July 15 to Aug. 15, according to area statistics, is the driest period of time in the year in this area, said Munn.

According to the rain gauge network of the Atmospheric group the area had received and surpassed the average rainfall (2.11) for the month of June by June 22.

Nine of the gauges in the 40-gauge network were below the normal two-inch level. 17 gauges caught between two and three inches, 11 gauges registered between three and four inches, three gauges recorded between four and five inches and one gauge caught between five and six inches for June.

The last week in the month of May resulted in the most rain for that month. By the end of May the group's gauge network verified that the area had received an average of 2.88 inches of rain. The average rainfall for that period in this area is 2.75.

"However, we are not here to increase the possibility of rain, but to increase the amount of runoff waters into the area reservoirs," said Munn.

There has been no considerable rain activity in the target area this month.

"We have no doubt that the first half of the program has been a success. Even if the area gets no rain for the rest of the program, we feel that the results of the first half have been sufficient to call the entire program a success," said Munn.

"But we will get even more rain in the second half."

The possibility of rain in the second half of the program will not be as good as the possibility was in the first half, according to Munn. "May was our best month for rain, but we still expect to have more rain and increase the runoff waters in the second portion."

The goal of the weather modification company is to increase the runoff in each project area by 20 per cent.

Tate Informant Branded Snitch, Slugged, Beaten

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Branded a "snitch" and beaten up more than once amid insults and threats, an informant says her life has been hell since helping police crack the Sharon Tate murder case.

"It's just bad news staying around here," Ronnie Howard, 32, told newsmen after the latest attempt on her life. She said she will probably move.

Police dug a .30 caliber bullet out of a hallway wall Saturday after a sniper apparently fired a shot into her apartment that she said missed her head by inches.

Officers said her story checks out and they have stepped up patrols around her apartment.

"I should have kept my mouth shut in the first place, and not said a word," the dark-haired woman said.

Miss Howard and another woman were key prosecution witnesses in the 15-month Tate-LaBianca trial, testifying that Susan Atkins bragged to them about the seven August 1969 murders when the trio shared a jail cell.

Miss Atkins, Charles Manson and two other female followers were convicted and sentenced to death.

Miss Howard was released from police protective custody about a year ago.

She said she helped police because Miss Atkins had said more people would be killed.
