

Trustees Will Defend 'Neighborhood' Action

Supt. S. M. Anderson was authorized Tuesday evening by trustees of the Big Spring School District to defend the neighborhood school concept against a Health-Education-Welfare claim of racial imbalance.

Anderson also was authorized to seek legal counsel and appear before the HEW civil rights office staff to present the district's case for maintaining the present student make-up in the Lakeview and Bauer elementary schools, and in the alternative to seek more time to propose an acceptable plan to HEW.

The course of action was undertaken in an atmosphere of less than confidence. Asked by Jerry Jenkins what the chances are of getting an approval from HEW to continue to operate schools as they are, Anderson replied: "Very poor."

of two schools in the same manner, leaving the first and second graders in neighborhood schools.

Anderson said. "But this is not by board design or plan but due to operation of the two as neighborhood schools. The district lines have never been gerrymandered or changed."

Anderson said. "But this is not by board design or plan but due to operation of the two as neighborhood schools. The district lines have never been gerrymandered or changed."

Guthrie, but no action was taken on the proposal. "I don't believe it is going to do any good with just the board defending it," Guthrie said.

TIME SHORT

"I agree, but time is of the essence," said Roy Watkins, board president.

Enumerated among the reasons for keeping the Lakeview-Bauer attendance areas as they are now drawn were a possible high rate of absenteeism; the possible loss of the breakfast program; loss of extracurricular activities for bus students; tremendous added expense of busing; loss of maximum use of compensatory funding for these youngsters; and the loss of parental involvement in the schools.

"Records show that these schools have a high rate of tardiness. If we are busing these students, and they miss the bus, then their entire school day is shot," Watkins said.

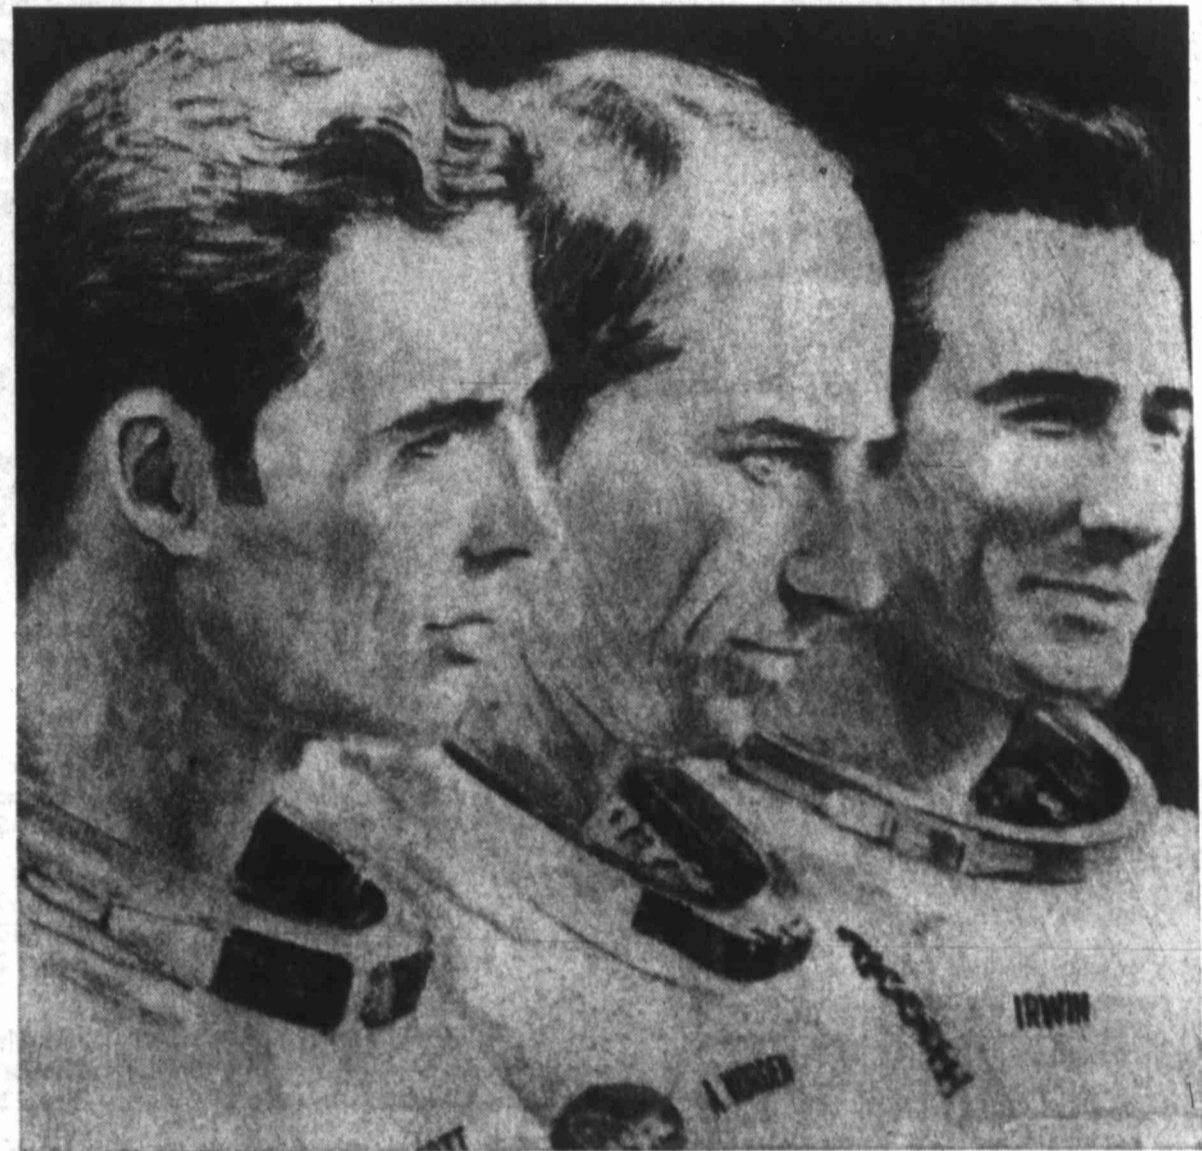

"The students are not getting their fair share of education, and we're suffering financially," Delnor Poss said, voting that the district receives funds based on average daily attendance figures.

BUSING COST

Doyle Crockett, business manager, in answer to a question concerning reimbursement for busing students, said that the state would reimburse the district only for those students who live two miles or more from the school to which they are assigned. "Not from the bus stop — but from their home," he emphasized.

A major portion of the discussion Tuesday night centered around the importance of the neighborhood school concept. "Economics indicate closing Gay Hill would benefit the district economically, but the neighborhood school concept is our strongest reason for keeping it open," Watkins said.

"Having a neighborhood school is the only way to get good parental involvement," Anderson said. "The money and time spent in transporting students around could be better spent in improving the educational program."

Claiming Medina Trial To Be 'New Ball Game'

MT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — The top Army defense lawyer for Capt. Ernest L. Medina says the captain's court-martial on charges of murder at My Lai will be "a whole new ball game" and not a rerun of Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s trial.

"It will not be a rubber stamp or replay of Calley's," Capt. Mark Kadish said of his plans for Medina's trial, which starts Monday. "Many of the witnesses will be the same but the focus will be entirely different."

Medina is charged with the premeditated murder of 102 Vietnamese civilians during an infantry assault on My Lai in March, 1968. Calley, one of Medina's platoon leaders in that assault, was charged with 102 murders and convicted of 22. His sentence to life in prison is being appealed.

In an interview Tuesday, the stocky, dark-haired Kadish, 28, declined to name the differences he anticipates, but said they "will come out during the trial."

"One thing, we expect it to be shorter," he said, with a laugh. Calley's 4½-month trial was the longest in military history.

Of Medina, Kadish said, "I think he's patriotic and one of the best Americans I've ever met."

The two often played tennis together before Kadish became too busy with the case. "We are committed to it, intellectually and emotionally," he said of himself and his assistant, Capt. John Truman. Both will assist F. Lee Bailey, Medina's civilian attorney.

"Working on the case has done things to my historical perspective—not to mention me as an individual," he declined to elaborate.

HO-HUM — Miss Puerto Rico, Beba Franco, 24, of San Juan, rests on the stage at Miami Beach Auditorium Tuesday near the end of eight hours of rehearsal for the Miss Universe Presentation Show. Miss England, Marilyn Ward, 21, of London, yawns in the background. Girls are among 60 competing for the Miss Universe title to be awarded Saturday night.

Nixon Names Schlesinger AEC Chief

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today named budget aide James R. Schlesinger to become chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Schlesinger succeeds Glenn T. Seaborg, who has headed the nuclear agency for more than a decade.

Seaborg, whose resignation was widely expected, is leaving Washington to return to an academic post at the University of California.

Schlesinger, 42, is now assistant director of the Office of Management and Budget.

Nixon also named William O. Doherty, 39, as a member of the AEC.

Nixon told Seaborg that he accepted his resignation with special regret.

"As a world famous chemist, scholar and administrator, you have contributed in a unique and meaningful way to far greater understanding and application of the miracles of the atom," Nixon wrote Seaborg.

The scientist headed the AEC since March 1961, serving under three presidents.

Schlesinger, an economist from the Rand Corp. "think tank" in California, joined the Nixon administration as assistant budget director in 1969 and, when the agency was reorganized as the OMB, handled money management for national security programs. He is a native of New York City.

Doherty is a Baltimore attorney currently serving as chairman of the Maryland Public Service Commission. He was named recently by Nixon to the President's Air Quality Advisory Board.

Cartoonist To Give Up

BOSTON (AP) — Cartoonist Al Capp will surrender voluntarily to Wisconsin authorities to answer charges of sodomy, attempted adultery and indecent exposure filed against him in Eau Claire, his lawyer said Tuesday.

No date has been set for Capp's surrender, however, attorney Alvin S. Hochberg said.

A warrant for the arrest of Alfred Gerald Kaplin, the cartoonist's legal name, was issued in Eau Claire in May after a complaint by a married college coed. Capp has denied the charges.

Capp, who was in a Boston hospital when the charges were filed, was released on personal recognizance July 7 after a hearing in Boston Municipal Court.

LICKING RIVER 1,500 Flee Flood Threat In Kentucky

MOREHEAD, Ky. (AP) — An estimated 900 million gallons of water climbed to within inches of the top of a huge earthen dam today, again threatening three northeastern Kentucky communities after a temporary decline.

The new rise of the rain-swollen Licking River and tributaries prompted the evacuation of 1,500 residents of Bluestone and Farmers in Rowan County and Salt Lick in Bath County.

The rate of rise had slowed from one inch per hour to one-half inch early today and the engineers said that if this rate held until crest sometime in the morning, the crisis would be over.

Officials said there appeared to be no danger of a break in the dam, but they ordered the evacuations as a precaution. Authorities said about 20 persons refused to leave their farm homes and no attempt was made to force them out.

The evacuation was the second this week after heavy rains caused flash flooding along the 825-square-mile watershed behind Cave Run Dam and Reservoir.

The water was in a 12-mile-long lake behind a 60-foot-high dam 225 feet thick at the bottom and 25 feet wide at the top. The dam is to be part of the Cave Run project.

Says 'Manson Hated Negroes'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Prosecutors contend Charles Manson sanctioned the decapitation of a Hollywood stuntman because the white man married a black woman.

"Manson hated Negroes," Deputy Dist. Atty. Burton Katz told jurors Tuesday. "He believed they are inferior people put on earth to serve the whites."

Steve Grogan, 20, former member of Manson's hippie-style clan, is charged with murdering Donald "Shorty" Shea, 35, Manson, 35, convicted and sentenced to the gas chamber for the murders of actress Sharon Tate and six other persons, also is on trial in Shea's death, but in another courtroom.

Katz, in his opening statement to the Superior Court jury hearing Grogan's case, said Manson did not approve of interracial marriage. The Manson "family" also hated Shea, Katz said, because Shea was hired to evict the family from a ranch in the San Fernando Valley.

The prosecutor said Grogan bragged about the killing, saying it was "really groovy." He said Grogan and others took turns tabbing Shea and then Manson ordered Shea's head chopped off with a machete.

"This is the most incredible opening statement I've ever heard," said Grogan's attorney, Charles Woodman. He frequently objected to the state's references to blacks, saying it would prejudice the jury, which includes five Negroes.

Shea's body never was found. Police say he was killed between Aug. 16 and Sept. 1, 1969.

PRAYER, FISH, RAINWATER

Seven Rescued At Sea

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (AP) — A Canadian priest who drifted with six Filipinos in the South Pacific for 37 days said today they stayed alive "by prayer, a few fish and some rainwater."

Father Marcel Loiselle, 38, of Quebec City, was picked up Sunday southeast of the Caroline Islands by the Japanese freighter Koyo Maru. He said in a telephone interview from the hospital at Rabaul that he and his six companions were now "feeling fine."

Father Loiselle said he set out June 11 from his mission at Caburan, in the Philippines, with three Filipino boys, two girls and a woman for a 40-mile trip in a 14-foot outboard motorboat.

He said they were heading for an island to take part in a religious ceremony but the engine broke down 30 minutes after leaving Caburan.

Father Loiselle said his companions, 11 to 27 years old, were very frightened after the first few days when they were caught in the eye of a typhoon and 25-foot waves nearly swamped their small boat.

He said they stayed alive "by praying, catching a few fish and drying them and catching rainwater."

Occasionally they saw islands on the horizon but no ships.

"We tried to forget our very desperate situation by praying and looking to the future rather than worrying about the present," said the priest.

When the Japanese freighter appeared southeast of the Carolines, "we waved everything we could put our hands on to make sure the crew saw us," he continued.

VICTIMS WITHOUT DISCRIMINATION

War Claims Women, Old, Newborn

AGARTALA, India (AP) — The civil strife in East Pakistan claims its victims without discrimination—Hindus and Moslems, men and women, the elderly and the new-born.

A 9-day-old orphan—his mother died of a head wound in an overcrowded hospital in this Indian border city in remote Tripura State. He had been carried out of East Pakistan by his grandfather, who said the Pakistan army had attacked their village in neighboring Comilla district.

The baby's mother, also struck in the head, had died on the spot.

LOST EYESIGHT
Doctors in the same hospital treat a 5-year-old boy who lost his eyesight and his parents inside East Pakistan.

"Where should we send him, what can we do for him?" asks Dr. C. Acharjee, superintendent of the 240-bed hospital which has 621 patients including 208 refugees.

Fulchand Bibi, 30, stands at the edge of a refugee camp on the Indian border and stares toward East Pakistan, her four children, ranging from four months to six years, clinging to her. She starts weeping uncontrollably.

A friend says her husband was killed four days earlier when he went back to his farm a mile inside East Pakistan to harvest the rice crop he had planted in February—when there was peace.

NO DOUBT
Pulchand's husband, a Moslem, was typical of many East Pakistani farmers who fled from border villages to safety in India when the Pakistan army destroyed their thatched huts while searching for members of the Mukti Foj-Liberation forces—battling for an independent Bengali nation in East Pakistan.

The number of orphans and widows is rising so rapidly—it is estimated to be in the tens of thousands, although accurate statistics are not available—that Indian government officials are planning to set up special rehabilitation camps for them.

There is no doubt that the refugees are fleeing widespread strife within East Pakistan, creating what U.N. officials describe as one of the largest human displacements in modern times.

He Helps Scarred Burn Victims Face The World

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Joseph Paderewski, sculptor, artist and musician, now spends his time helping scarred burn victims face the world.

Paderewski practices his art work at the Shriners Burn Institute, building prosthetics that restore the ears, noses, chins and other facial parts of burn victims.

"It all happened accidentally — this making new facial parts for burned patients," he explained.

He grew up in New York City, during World War II was a band leader for much of his 42 months overseas, and for a lot of his adult life has been a concert cellist, including seven years with the Houston Symphony in the 1950s.

In 1947, after marrying a Galveston resident, Paderewski moved to Galveston and soon after he was asked to do some portrait-type head models of key officials at the University of Texas Medical Branch here.

He was then asked by plastic surgeons to make some display and teaching models. The more Paderewski learned about medicine, the more he sought ways to help rehabilitate patients suffering from diseases, defects or accidents, particularly bad burns.

When the Shriners Burn Institute was completed here in 1966, Paderewski moved his laboratory there.

"I'm sort of an extension of the burn team," he says. "When the surgeons and other doctors finish the primary treatment, they decide what to prescribe for rehabilitation purposes. The prescription may be as complicated as a whole section of the face, new ears, noses, lips, artificial eyes and so forth," he said.

Most of the facial pieces are made from silicone rubber, which gives the most life-like appearance and can be tinted to all skin shades.

But it wears out, and in cases of children, they outgrow the aids. "You have to keep at it with many people, for life perhaps," Paderewski said.

The main problem in the speciality is that so few people do restorative prosthesis work. Many of them, like Paderewski, are self-taught. He has himself helped to train many persons.

"It's fascinating and challenging work, and I get an enormous pleasure out of being able to help people regain normal appearances," he said.

Much work needs to be done to make his work a truly professional part of the huge medical treatment team, Paderewski said. It doesn't do any good to get a bad prosthetic device.

"That just adds ridicule to tragedy," he said.

Opening lead: Six of ♣
 A virtuoso performance on defense by East led to a substantial swing for his side in defending against South's three no trump contract which was reached at both tables in a recent team of four contest.

The opening lead in both cases was the six of clubs, East played the ten and South won the trick with the queen — concealing the jack. A small diamond was led to the jack. East was in with the king and he returned the deuce of clubs. South played the seven and West won cheaply with the eight.

It was obvious to West that South had both the ace and jack of clubs left, because if East held the jack he would have returned it when he was in instead of the deuce. In the hope of hitting his partner's suit West chose to shift to the deuce of hearts. The ace was played from dummy and a diamond was led. East put up the ace, dropping his partner's ten and returned a heart. South played the king of hearts and cashed out. In all, he took three diamonds and two tricks in each of the other suits to make three no trump.

At the other table, the play was the same for the first two tricks. When East was in with the king of diamonds, he paused to assess the situation. His partner's lead of the six of clubs clearly indicated that the latter had a maximum of five cards in the suit, inasmuch as the five of clubs was the only other lower spot not in clear view. Since South was marked with at least four clubs, it appeared more than likely that he held further protection in that suit.

In the hope of striking richer territory elsewhere, East shifted to the jack of hearts. South won the trick and played the six of diamonds. East, without a flicker, followed with the three. South remembered that West had followed to the first diamond with the eight, so that there were three possibilities existent. West might have begun with the doubleton king, the doubleton eight or a singleton. If he had both the king and ten, it didn't matter what card declarer played.

The correct play, if West has either a singleton or the lone king left — is to let the six of diamonds ride, and that is what South chose to do. Unfortunately for him, the six lost to the ten and West returned the queen of hearts to dislodge declarer's king. A third round of diamonds cleared the suit, but East was in and he proceeded to cash three hearts to set South down by two. The 200 point profit scored by East and West added to the 600 netted by their North-South teammates at the other table swelled the total swing to 800 on the deal.

Spraying Program Costs $4 Million

HOUSTON (AP)—A $4 million spraying program to combat mosquitoes carrying Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) proceeded today in Texas while veterinarians in four other states started receiving vaccine to stop the disease.

Air Force planes operating from Ellington Air Force Base here were assigned to spray in the early morning hours in Chambers County, east of Houston, and Matagorda County on the Middle Texas Coast.

VEE vaccine was arriving, meantime, in Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico and Oklahoma as the inoculation of horses in Texas went into high gear.

The disease, which crept into the United States from Mexico, is fatal 50 to 80 per cent of the time in horses and causes a flu-like illness in human beings.

21 NEW CASES
Dr. R. E. Omohundro, who heads a U.S. Department of Agriculture task force assembled in Houston to fight the epidemic, said 1,182 horses have died of VEE in Texas since June 29 and 1,500 other horses have been sickened.

He said 21 new cases were discovered Tuesday. All were in South Texas, where the sleeping sickness first struck from Mexico.

The Texas Health Department said 72 suspected cases of VEE in human beings have been reported and 12 cases, all in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, have been confirmed.

One suspected case was reported in Austin. Doctors said a University of Texas student recently returned from Port Aransas on the coast showed symptoms of the disease.

Omohundro said plenty of vaccine for horses was available and by next week the USDA expects to have 1.2 million doses in reserve.

ONE MILLION DOSES
"It looks like we're going to need about one million doses in Texas," he added.

Omohundro said previous estimates of 350,000 to 400,000 horses had been based on tax rolls, but it looks like there's a lot of horses in this state that aren't being carried on the tax roll."

So far, Texas has the only confirmed cases of VEE, he said, but vaccination programs are gearing up in Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

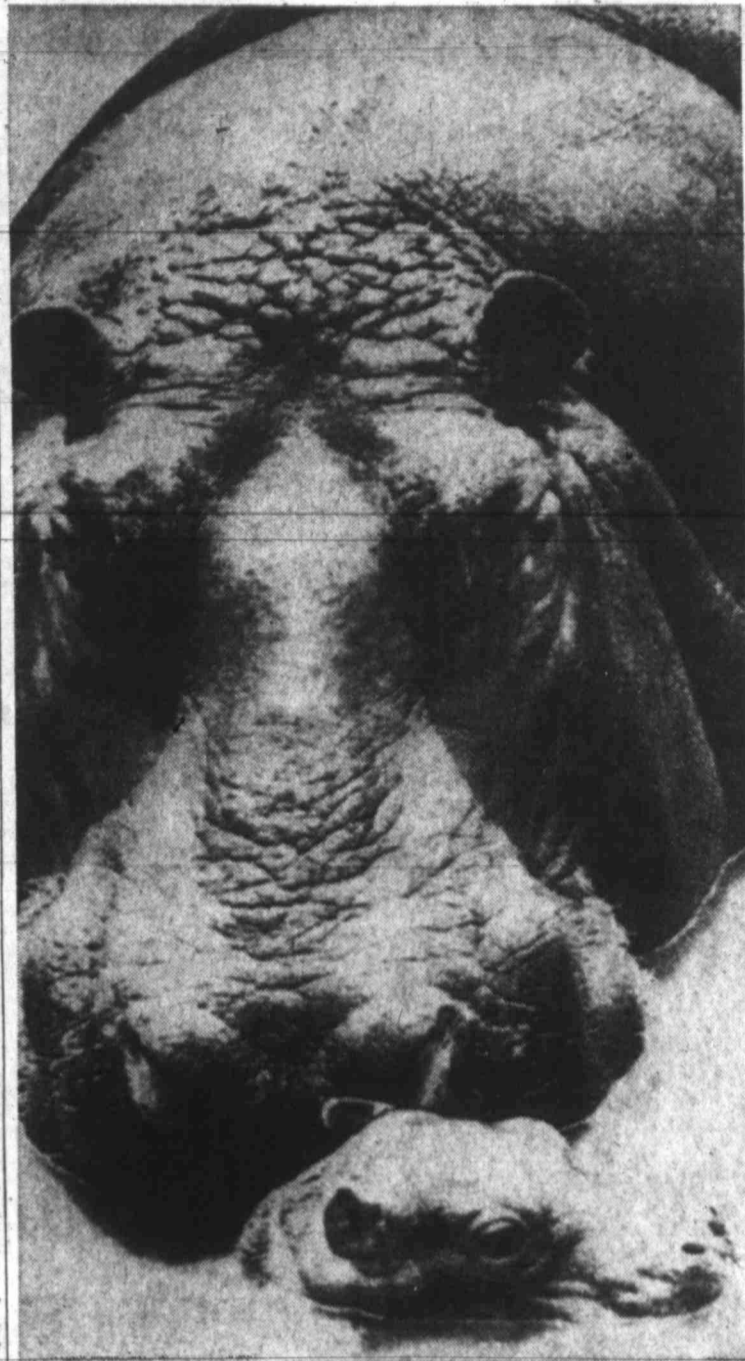

In Arkansas, 100,000 doses of vaccine were delivered Tuesday night and immunizations probably will begin Friday, state officials said.

Louisiana officials said 100,000 doses of vaccine were due in today—enough to vaccinate every horse in the state—and vaccination stations will be set up in all 64 parishes (counties). The program was expected to start Friday and last three weeks.

BLOOD SAMPLES
The Agriculture Department said in Washington that blood samples from horses which died in Louisiana were being studied.

In New Mexico, VEE vaccine was due to reach Albuquerque late today. It will be distributed to veterinarians by Friday, said Dr. Robert Pyles, a USDA veterinarian. He said there were no known or suspected cases of VEE in the state.

Oklahoma received 100,000 doses of vaccine Tuesday and they were distributed around the state by night. Inoculations were starting today.

China Lobby In Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American politics and society: China Lobby has the appearance of the Penn Central Railroad—it's large, still running but in serious trouble. And as many of the rail giant's problems stem from its friends, in the form of past management, so the lobby's troubles result, in part, from one of its old friends, Richard Nixon.

The lobby, once a force in shaping U.S.-China policy and now welded into an organization called The Committee of One Million, was stunned last Thursday to hear its former ally had accepted an invitation to visit the Communist-governed mainland.

CRITICAL POINT

Although he speaks optimistically about his organization's goal, to keep the Peking government out of the United Nations, committee Secretary Lee Edwards acknowledges President Nixon's latest move didn't please him.

"We are a single-purpose organization," Edwards said in an interview, and the President's trip "means we have reached a critical point."

If the lobby loses its fight to keep Peking out of the United Nations, and there are expectations within the administration as well as by many diplomats here it will lose, the defeat will end a fight dating to World War II.

At one time the lobby included in its informal membership some of the biggest names in senators, congressmen, publishers, writers and such public figures as Anna Chennault, widow of the World War II Air Corps hero. One of its supporters was Richard Nixon as congressman, senator and vice president.

Even now the Committee of One Million counts several current senators and representatives among its sponsors and the name is an accurate reflection at least of its numerical strength.

The China issue, Edwards said, just wasn't in the news, until last November. "That was when the United Nations gave its first majority to seating Red China," he explained. "Since then we have stepped up our activity to exceed any in the past several years."

Accordingly, Edwards said, Nixon's trip "makes us more determined than ever" to rouse the public and Congress against seating Peking in the U.N.

Showers Bring Relief From Heat In Texas

By The Associated Press

A weakening coolfront stalled across Texas' midsection today, setting off scattered light rain or showers for a second straight day.

There also was a little moisture in places from North Texas into the Panhandle, where temperatures felt more like early fall than summer.

Thundershowers and gusty winds tapered off after accompanying the frontal system into East and Southeast Texas and extending over a broad stretch of coastal plains.

Clouds overhung most of the north and central part of the state this morning, while it was generally clear in the south.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 60 degrees at Amarillo and Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 80 at Austin and 82 at Galveston.

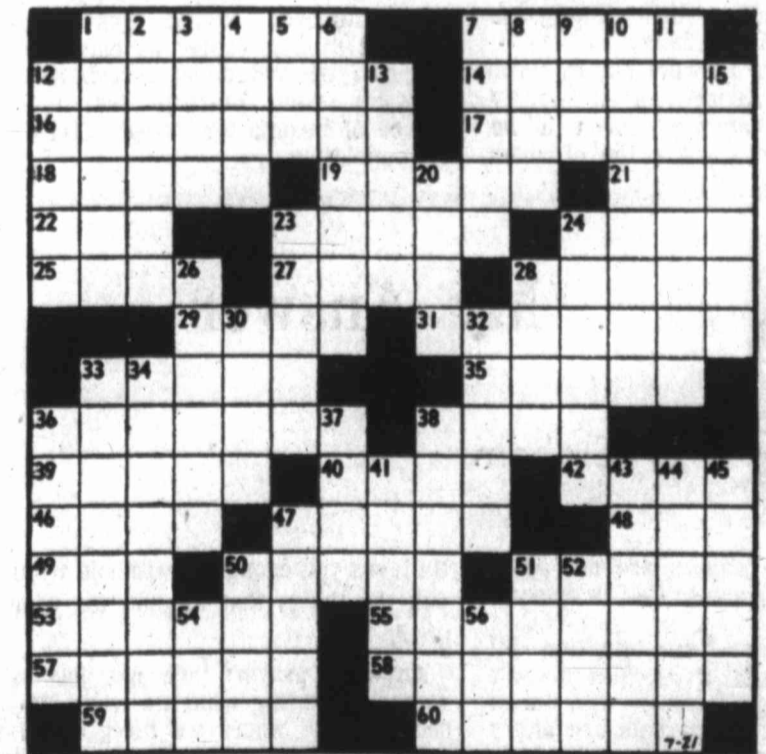

The cooler air provided a marked change from the simmering heat of recent days in the Panhandle sector. At one point Tuesday afternoon thermometers rested on 59 degrees in Amarillo, and the day's high there was 68.

It was still hot in other sections, with marks as high as 100 at Lufkin and 101 at Austin.

Fire Station Is Destroyed By Fire

BERVERLY SHORES, Ind. (AP) — Firemen were fighting a blaze at the Beverly Shores fire station when one of the fire trucks inside smashed down a door and rolled outside — under its own power.

Tires flat and body ablaze, the truck crept about 75 feet before firemen stopped it by putting blocks in front its wheels.

Despite efforts by about a dozen companies from nearby towns, the volunteer firehouse and three of the four fire trucks in this Lake Michigan suburban community were total losses.

Tremendous Problem

Having been the district for a test case at the outset of desegregation in public schools of Texas, the Big Spring Independent District has since been relatively free of problems in this direction. A few years back, it did close out one school and convert another first from high to junior high school status to the elementary level. This had the effect of erasing all neighborhood boundaries from junior high and up.

Since children of Mexican-American backgrounds have been classed historically as white, the balance of these and Negro children, all coming from basically the same portion of the community, met federal standards. Now, an interpretation by a federal judge of Supreme Court guidelines, has in effect held that those with Spanish surnames are an ethnic group and may not be counted as Caucasian in arriving at racial balance. This likely is the predicate for the latest Health-Education and Welfare directive to the Big Spring District to do something about breaking up the preponderant ant complex of Negro and Spanish surname children in two schools.

This is essentially the same problem which has confronted many other schools of the state from Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi down to Midland, and now Big Spring.

This is a formidable problem for the school board to wrestle with, especially within the space of less than the 10 days set out by HEW. The time interval is almost impossible, yet if some solution is to be achieved by the beginning of the fall term, some plan of action must be taken rapidly.

Whether this involves closing schools, busing, asking for an extension of time for a more sober look at the plan is the tremendous problem dumped in the board's lap. Whatever solution is reached is going to call for a lot of understanding on the part of all, regardless of personal concepts on the philosophy of neighborhood schools, quality program or an effective bus fleet, or closing schools to achieve the central park concept.

No Appeal

Rae Bourbon, 78, who was convicted as an accessor to the slaying of A. D. Blount, pet shop owner, died suddenly in a hospital here Monday, apparently from a heart ailment.

This ends the long and tragic saga between Bourbon and Howard County. Not long after Blount was gunned down by mysterious intruders at his shop at the south edge of town, two young men and Bourbon were arrested and eventually brought here. There followed a long legal battle, and for Bourbon, a constant stay in jail and in hospitals pending trial and appeals — at Howard County expense. Now the issue has been settled by a court from which there is no appeal or reversal.

Iceman Cometh

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Youngsters growing up now miss one adventure of the past, and I think they really miss something because of the passing of the ice wagon. To be sure there are ice trucks today which deliver to eateries, sub-stations and self-service boxes. The ice wagon made every house in town its port of call.

MOST WAGONS were of the van type with a high-but-seldom-used seat up front. The back end was open, although few had a drop curtain which could be used to help shut off the outside air. The ice man usually rode standing on a step, which was more like a platform, below the rear gate of the wagon, and from there he commanded the team of horses or mules with a terse "giddap" or "eyahh!" to start and "woah" to stop. Reins were seldom touched as the horses or mules trotted along with the clatter and rattle of harness and trace chains, and the clunk steel rimmed wheel and groan of wooden spokes. The team knew the route and stops as well as the ice man.

THE WAGONS started up with the interior crammed with 300-pound blocks of crystal ice. As expertly as a sculptor might shape a statue, the iceman deftly picked the blocks into three 100-pound pieces, then into 50 pounds 25 and 12 1/2-pound chunks. Either he knew what every home on the route would require each day, or else he glanced at a sign which could be varied by rotating a disc with various numbers on it in the window to see the amount of ice desired for that day.

THE ICE wagon drew kids like a

Pied Piper. Most of the time the iceman was understanding so long as youngsters didn't mess around the wheels or try climbing into the van. Probably more by design than by chance, he left a few chunks of ice lying on the slated floor near the rear of the wagon. A quick look inside revealed this treasure to barefoot boys who grabbed it and went tripping off with the day's reward.

THE ICE MAN himself was usually a powerful man, perhaps large, if not, certainly stocky. He had biceps and shoulders like a prizefighter, and he could handle 50-pound blocks like they were made of cork. The 100-pound chunks required more doing, and if he had to, he could muscle a 300-pound block out of the wagon choosing to skid it along the dock or floor to its destination. He wielded his hooks like they were extension of his hands, and sometimes he used them like a karate chop to separate blocks of ice.

DAILY CALLS plus a great physical strength made the iceman the target of jokes. Perhaps this will illustrate: One morning the head of the house was awakened by a banging on the door. Not realizing it was the ice man, he slipped on something to be presentable, only it happened to be his wife's kimono. As he opened the door, the ice man grabbed him in a fond embrace, then realizing his error, beat a hasty retreat.

This puzzled the head of the house, and he thought and thought about what this meant. Finally, he figured it out. That ice man's wife must have had a kimono just like his own wife.

'Normalizing' Not Easy

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — At last the United States will have an opportunity to discuss with Red China — one of its main adversaries in the Vietnam War — ways of achieving peace in Southeast Asia. While President Nixon's visit to mainland China may benefit American foreign policy in several respects, the war in Vietnam is the most immediate consideration, as Communist China holds a key to the problem by its influence with North Vietnam.

BUT THE chances of a "normalization of relations between the two countries," as the President expresses it, depend a good deal on how far Peking is willing to go in bringing the war in Indochina to an early conclusion.

What will Red China want in exchange for its efforts to help the United States end an expensive war? Obviously, if it is to be admitted to the United Nations, Communist China will insist on the seat in the security council now held by Nationalist China. This will create much dissatisfaction in Southeast Asia, where the government of Formosa has warm supporters.

BASICALLY, the friendship here is widespread for the Nationalist Chinese. While President Nixon says the United States does not intend to impair these relations, the fear is that uneasiness about American intentions may grow instead of diminish among some of the countries of the Western and South Pacific.

A "normalization of relations" is not going to be accomplished merely by an increase in trade or by Red China sending an envoy to the United Nations and exchanging ambassadors with Washington. Propaganda from Peking, for instance, has been for many years devoted to attacks on the United States and to accusations of American aggression in Asia. The effects cannot be wiped out overnight.

THE NEXT few months, of course, will see an even more determined effort by the United States to stabilize the situation in Southeast Asia. There is a possibility that another Geneva conference to safeguard the positions of North and South Vietnam — as well as Laos, Cambodia, and Thailand — may be called, this time perhaps with Peking offering more help to implement the agreements reached.

But will the Soviet Union concur? The development of Red China into a dominant power in Asia is not relished by Moscow, and the emergence of America as a supporter of mainland China in the United Nations would hardly be received with enthusiasm by the Soviets. The issue also will be raised as to whether the Soviet Union will wish to have Red China exercise the important veto that is held by permanent members of the U.N. Security Council.

PRESIDENT NIXON, however, views the problem as it concerns the United States in its future relationship to Asia. He feels that more friendly contacts with the people of Mainland China will ultimately help to bring peace to Asia and that it is his duty to undertake the task. This will mean a renewed effort, too, to persuade the Soviets to limit nuclear armament and curtail the introduction of new weapons so that the risks of war will be reduced and the world may use its resources for the benefit of peoples.

ONE THING is clear — there's an apparent desire by many members of the U.N. to admit Red China and place it in the security council, and it is doubtful if Peking will consent to anything less. But Nationalist China has held its seat legitimately for many years since the founding of the U.N. There certainly would have to be some manifestation by the Peking regime of its intention to abide by the obligations set forth in the charter before admission would be granted.

MR. NIXON'S decision to set up a personal meeting with Premier Chou En-Lai was not a hasty one. He has been planning this approach for some time. He believes that ambassadors and negotiators can make progress only if the men in control in an adversary government can be reached and frankly given the story of what America would really do to make peace.

Battle Far From Over

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's tough enough trying to figure out the market without having to figure out who you are," said the mutual fund manager, a man long familiar with problems but hardly prepared for the latest.

A recent court decision has fund people and others concerned about the nature of their business, their rights, their obligations and, as always, their profits.

To understand the new problem it should be noted that a mutual fund management company and a mutual fund are two different things. The manager charges the fund a fee to handle its portfolio and toeh business.

The nature of this relationship, once clearcut, is now in doubt.

The questions develop because of a decision made June 22 by a U.S. appellate court here that, by implication, means that when a management company is sold, the profits go not to the company's owners but to the fund's shareholders.

Especially worrisome to industry officials is the fact that several such deals have been made and the money pocketed by the sellers. If the decision holds, it means they'll have to return the cash.

While the battle is far from over—it may be just beginning—it already has had one significant result. Ten shareholders of the Dreyfus Corp., have agreed to pay $5 million to settle a similar case.

The Dreyfus Corp. was privately owned in 1965 when it decided to offer its shares to the public. The offering brought the original owners, including Secretary of State William Rogers, $42 million.

Seldom has such a basic dispute faced the industry, whose growth has been so vigorous that problems have been common.

In 20 years the industry has sprouted from a $3-billion pigmy to a $53-billion giant. Understandably, the practices of its managers were increasingly criticized and regulated as the industry grew in importance.

Past problems concerned commissions, relations with corporations in which funds are invested, the volatility of investment portfolios, financial arrangements with brokers, the impact on small investors, the quality of advice.

All the problems of this industry, it seems, involve matters of broad implications. Many of the issues still are unresolved, and nobody doubts that more problems are about to appear.

The Black-Eyed Pea

Robert E. Ford

There is one thing you can say about the black-eyed pea. All it needs to grow is to know that somebody wants it.

You can find black-eyed peas flourishing in soil so poor that Johnson grass dies — and that is poor.

IT GROWS healthy in droughts, depressions, money panics and even during the administration of whatever political party you don't like.

In good soil, with a few showers and the right party in power, it is something to see.

It saved the South innumerable times when hunger gripped the land and if the Yankees ever learn about it, the nation might be saved from all sort of disasters.

The black-eyed pea has been taken for granted for so long, like your mate, that not many people pay attention to it except at planting and eating time.

Oh, Elmore Törn, who passed on last April, put the label of "lucky" on the pea, if eaten on New Year's Day.

Thus southerners who expected to be in strange places in the world on that holiday made sure they had a can of the edible in their suitcase before they left home.

OVER AT ATHENS in East Texas they've finally decided that proper recognition should be given at last.

So Athens has proclaimed the first annual Black-Eyed Pea Jamboree for Aug. 6-8. And Athens decided to do it up right.

It is offering $2,500 in prizes to cooks. It further will surround the pea celebration with a tennis tournament, exhibition square dancing, air fair, watermelon eating contest, a carnival and a ham hock and black-eyed pea dinner restricted to cooking contestants.

IT IS HOPED that the price for the dinner is a misprint. It is listed at $2.50. Black-eyed peas are for poor folks, and if you promote them to the $2.50 class it may go to their heads and they'll start demanding irrigation and fertilizer!

A four-bit price would be about right if there was plenty of ham left on the hocks.

The cooking contest which starts Aug. 6 and lasts through the next day will be a revelation to most people, we hope.

Most epicureans didn't know there were two ways to cook black-eyed peas.

You just put the dried peas in a pot with water and a real salty ham hock and simmer until edible.

THE ONLY variation is the use of a square of salt bacon for the hock. If you are too poor for either, maybe there is some bacon grease to flavor it. Works the same way for fresh peas in season.

It is hoped that the cooks come up with some new recipes and that they are published throughout the south.

Your Cup Runneth Over If . . .

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — You're a born winner if—

You turn out to be twice the man your mother hoped you'd be.

The only time you bothered to send away a box top you got back a 70-foot yacht by return mail.

You are the only man your age in your block who still has all his own teeth. Count 'em—32.

Your only handicap in life is your golf score.

So rare are the three diseases you have that the National Health Institute has arranged to give you free medical treatment for the rest of your life.

You don't worry often about what is happening to the national ecology. Why should you? After all, wherever you go, you make your own ecology.

Your brother-in-law has steady work. His job is to pat you on the back when you get tired of doing it yourself.

There's nothing you hate worse than winning the million-dollar New York State lottery, because it puts you in another tax bracket—and what a nuisance that can be.

You employ as a doorman the guy your high school graduating class voted as most likely to succeed.

Strangers call you "Duke" because you look so much like John Wayne.

The reason you don't wear a hat is that it would disturb your hair.

Your hair begins to grow back in.

Both the John Birch Society and the Communist party make you an honorary member.

All five of your lovely secretaries are passionately in love with you, but your wife has only found out about two.

Yes, if these things are true, you're one of those fortunate few who can't lose from winning. Your only woe is that you have but one life to live, one time to throw away your ever-lucky dice.

Conservative Pair

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Privately, Washington's Sen. Henry Jackson and Rep. Wilbur Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, have agreed to work together to prevent the Democratic Party from nominating "some wild man" for President.

That is the end-all for Mills, whose friends have launched a surprisingly strong boomlet for the veteran Arkansan. But it will be a secondary goal for Scoop Jackson, who will make a serious run for the nomination when he announces in the fall. Jackson, a relative conservative, is convinced he can profit while the more liberal candidates are cutting themselves up — and dividing the votes — in the primaries.

BOTH MILLS and Jackson are running against the party's left wing. They think it would be a disaster if the leftists took over the convention and somehow managed to nominate somebody like South Dakota's Sen. George McGovern, Indiana's Sen. Birch Bayh or Oklahoma's Sen. Fred Harris. It is nothing personal. Mills and Jackson are fond of all three men. But they think President Nixon would clobber any one of them.

THE JACKSON-MILLS partnership also looks askance at the potential candidacy of Sen. Ted Kennedy. But this is being soft-pedaled for an obvious reason, to wit, Kennedy's popularity with the party's rank-and-file. Every poll so far has shown that Kennedy remains the choice of registered Democratic voters, despite the tragedy of Chappaquiddick.

As one party stalwart put it, "You don't attack a Kennedy, not this early in the game anyway. Even if he doesn't run, he's got a ton of votes to deliver to some lucky guy."

THE REMARK suggests that the battle to be kingmaker next summer could be the vital factor in the maneuverings for the Democratic nomination. The Jackson-Mills partnership wields guaranteed power in the South, the West and among moderate-to-conservative Democrats everywhere. But until contrary evidence is submitted, the Democratic Party still must be regarded as essentially liberal.

THUS JACKSON and Mills have an uphill fight ahead. Should Teddy Kennedy throw his support to Sen. Ed Muskie, the man from Maine almost surely would be a shoo-in. Kennedy might do the same for McGovern or Hubert Humphrey, although at this stage a Kennedy-Humphrey romance seems unlikely; there is still too much bad blood from the 1960 Democratic primaries.

WHILE THE Harris Poll showed Nixon with a comfortable margin, it also reflected Teddy's amazing comeback in the past couple of years. It also explains why Jackson and Mills are not going out of their way to bad-mouth the last remaining elective male in what is the country's closest approximation to a political royal family.

My Answer

Billy Graham

When my prayers are not answered is it because God is angry with me?

I will answer your question by asking you one: if a child doesn't get everything it asks for, does this mean that his parents are angry with him? Sometimes we, like little children, want the things that are not for our good. Would it mean that God loves us if He gave us everything we ask for? Sociologists are finding out that the overprivileged child is just as much a problem as the underprivileged child. The children who get everything they ask for, develop all kinds of psychological problems. So, when you ask the Lord for something and He answers with a "no," you can be sure He isn't angry, but that

He loves you enough to withhold from you the things that are not for your good.

Anyway, prayers are not just a means of getting what we want. The secret place where we meet God is not a "wishing well". In the model prayer given by our Lord, Jesus said, "Thy will be done on earth, as it is in heaven." Prayer is an exercise in which we commune with our Heavenly Father, and find out His will for our lives. Sometimes He will things that, for the moment, may be unpleasant. But this doesn't mean He is angry with us. It means that He loves us enough to allow good things and bad, to work together for our good.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"By your words you will be justified, and by your words you will be condemned." (Matthew 12:27, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear Father, help us to speak and act in a sincere, convincing manner that we are followers of Jesus Christ our Lord. In His name we pray. Amen.

Fort Worth School Fuss Boils Anew

FORT WORTH (AP)—A newly formed committee is urging advocates of retaining neighborhood schools to oppose the Fort Worth school system's court-approved integration plan.

Those opposed to integration by busing were told Tuesday by barge elected officials with letters stating their refusal to allow their children to be transferred out of their neighborhood schools.

A crowd estimated at 1,200 persons—about a half dozen of them black—attended a meeting called by the Concerned Citizens for Neighborhood Schools.

They were handed a paper outlining immediate steps that could be taken to fight the city's integration blueprint.

The most important step, the paper stated, is for persons whose children are chosen to be bused to refuse to allow them to be transferred away from their neighborhood schools.

"If the civil rights demonstrations have taught us anything, it is that if enough people disobey an unjust law, they cannot put us all in jail," the paper said.

The group is opposing the portion of the integration plan which involves the grouping of 27 of the system's 88 elementary schools into six "clusters."

Students in the clusters will be exchanged to bring about a racial balance in the schools, and bus transportation will be provided.

Jim Lucas, president of the newly formed group, emphasized that the group does not oppose integration itself.

"We are not racists. We are not radicals," he said. "We are opposed to integration by busing."

BIRTHDAY BASH — First birthday party for Greg Knoblock, Park Ridge, Ill., proved to be a round of excitement as, counter-clockwise from lower left, he unties ribbon of a present; pulls out a new sweater with a flourish; finishes off a helping of cake; and has the sticky frosting washed from his face.

UF Committee Hears Budgets

The screening and budget committee of the United Fund met Monday and Tuesday to hear budget proposals of all the United Fund agencies and will meet again Tuesday.

The committee is meeting to determine what budget should be presented to the board of trustees in its Aug. 12 meeting. The trustees will determine the 1971-1972 goal of the United Fund from the information presented.

Members of the screening and budget committee are R. W. Thompson, chairman, J. D. Nelson, Alton Marwitz, Jimmy Taylor and Tom Locke.

Two Cases Set To Begin Trial

Two criminal cases have been set for trial beginning Monday in 118th District Court. The first case scheduled is that of Loyd Paul Hodde, 54, of 807 N. 5th, Lamesa, charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Forrest Ray Ward, 18, of 2302 Lynn, charged with selling narcotics, is the defendant in the second case.

Scattered Resistance To Proposed Bell Pact

Scattered resistance to a proposed contract between the Bell Communications Workers of America continued today but most of the country's telephone workers returned to their jobs.

Most of New York State's 42,000 striking CWA workers stayed away from their jobs, honoring a decision by their 26 local union presidents. Picketing continued in company facilities.

Pickets in Akron, Ohio, Denver, Colo., Arizona, New Mexico and Wyoming early this morning defied a back-to-work order by Joseph A. Beirne, international president of the CWA.

Texas Fails To Prove His Ex-Wife Remarried

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The Texas Supreme Court ruled today that Austin Randall Moody had failed to prove his ex-wife had remarried even though he presented a purported copy of a Mexican marriage certificate which said she had.

The high court upheld lower court judgments granting Thelma Ruth Moody $23,925 in back alimony on a divorce decree from Nevada.

Moody's defense against paying the sum was that his ex-wife had remarried Oct. 19, 1963, in Columbia, Mexico (Nuevo Leon).

The copy of a Mexican marriage certificate was introduced at the trial, but an expert of such certificates testified on cross-examination that anyone could have gone to Columbia and used the names in the document—Harry Markel and Thelma Ruth Moody—and gotten a copy for $50 to $100.

Thelma Ruth Moody testified she did not marry Markel, had never been to Columbia, Mexico, and the last time she was even in Mexico was 18 years previously.

She said her parents' names were misspelled in the document and her address was wrong.

Markel said he had never been to Columbia and was in

Bourbon Funeral May Be Held In New York

Former nightclub entertainer Rae Bourbon, 78, convicted in connection with the murder of Big Spring pet shop owner A. D. Blount, may not be buried in a pauper's grave in Howard County after all.

Funeral arrangements will be made by attorney Bill Bell, who was appointed by the 35th District Court to defend Bourbon during his trial for accessory to murder. According to information from Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home where Bourbon's body was taken, no definite information on funeral plans has been received.

It has been rumored that Bell plans to have the body flown to New York for cremation and services, but this report has not been confirmed.

Judge Presides In C-City Court

District Judge R. W. Caton and Jerry Spence, court reporter, were in Colorado City today to fill in for vacationing 22nd District Judge Charles Ewald Kirk.

According to information from the district clerk's office, the two judges take over courtroom duties for each other for one day of the other's vacation to dispose of any cases that might accumulate.

Guilty Plea

Pat Ralph Gruver, 26, Tempe, Ariz., pleaded guilty Tuesday in 118th District Court to a charge of possession of marijuana. District Judge R. W. Caton sentenced Gruver a five-year probation period April 19, 1971, by the Howard County Grand Jury.

Draft Lottery Slated Aug. 5

WASHINGTON (AP)— Although the nation's draft law remains in limbo, the 1972 draft lottery will be held Aug. 5.

"The young men who face possible induction next year deserve to know their relative chances of induction so that they are better able to plan ahead," said Curtis W. Tarr, Selective Service director.

Tarr said the lottery to determine the draft order for 19-year-olds will involve one drum containing 366 birthdates and a second with sequence numbers from 1 to 366—since 1972 is a leap year.

A birthdate capsule and a number capsule will be drawn simultaneously from each drum. Thus, if June 4 is the first birthdate and 41 the first sequence number, those who became 19 years old on June 4, 1971, would be in the 41st group of men drafted in 1972.

Following complaints after the first draft lottery that odds favor the dates and numbers being drawn from the drums in relation to the order in which they are put in, Tarr said computers are being used to scramble 25 sets of lists.

Local Students Attend Farm Bureau Seminar

Four high school students from Howard County left Tuesday by chartered bus for a citizenship seminar Tuesday through Saturday sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau at Baylor University in Waco.

They are Janette Nichols, Mary Ann Wallace, Dorinda Graham and Reggie Hombrick, all students at Sands High School.

The Howard County Farm Bureau is sponsoring the local students at the four-day school. Some 400 students from 150 counties across the state will be attending the session.

Five outstanding, nationally-known lecturers will address the Waco training school, according to Derwood Blagrave, president of the Howard County Farm Bureau.

The purpose of the seminar is to give the student a better understanding of the American system and way of life. Emphasis will be placed on the economic, moral and social aspects of the American society. Instruction will consist of lectures, films and panel discussions.

Other are students on the trip are: Don Robinson, Midland; Carol Ann Smith, Martin County; Stephen Wood, Martin County; Gloria Bryant, Martin County; and Virginia Merritt, Midland. This bus is sponsored on the trip by Ed Cumble, Bronte.

CRMWD Meet

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet at the district offices at 10 a.m. Thursday to review progress on the 1970-A construction program, assess the supply situation, and possibly to consider contracts as a signatory for City of Midland and City of Andrews sanitary sewer expansion projects.

DEATHS

Joe W. Dulin, Funeral Today

COLORADO CITY (SC)— Joe Wilted Dulin, 43, Eagle Pass, died in a Kerrville hospital Monday.

Funeral was to be a 4 p.m. today in the Calvary Baptist Church in Colorado City. Burial will be in the Colorado City Cemetery under the direction of Kiker-Rains-Seale Funeral Home.

Mr. Dulin was born July 2, 1928, in Colorado City. He married Dolores Chavez in Eagle Pass July 23, 1963. He was an oil field worker and veteran of World War II.

Survivors include his wife and one daughter, Cynthia, of the home; his mother, Mrs. Ada Dulin, Roscoe; five sisters, Mrs. S. H. Gillum, Hermleigh, Doris Dulin, Roscoe, and Mrs. Roy Neel, Mrs. Oren Carpenter and Mrs. Leland Craghead, all of Colorado City; and three brothers, Gary Dulin, Roscoe, C. W. Dulin, Marryneal, and Buddy Dulin, Albany.

Miss Clara Pool, Funeral Today

Funeral was to be at 2 p.m. today in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for Clara Ralston Pool, 74, former Big Spring school teacher who died Monday evening.

Officiating was to be the Rev. Kenneth Patrick, her pastor at First Baptist Church, with burial in Mt. Olive Cemetery beside the graves of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pool.

She was born Aug. 4, 1896, in Cameron, and came to Big Spring from Mumford in 1907. Her father was a pioneer Big Spring businessman.

She began teaching here in 1919 and retired in 1965 after 46 years of service, virtually all of it on the same site—what is now Runnels Junior High School.

Survivors include one sister, Mrs. Fred (Guion) Keating, Big Spring; two cousins, Paul Langford, Houston, and Mrs. Robert Watkins, San Angelo.

Pallbearers will be to Grady Randal, Harry Middleton, Robert Stripling, Roy Phillips, Loy Acuff, George L. Brown, Orbin Daily and Granville Dawson.

To Sell News Ads In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—The retail advertising manager for the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, Dennis J. Lomasney, has been named sales manager for the San Antonio Express-News. Lomasney, who joined the Caller-Times in 1965 as sales coordinator, served as a director of the Corpus Christi Better Business Bureau and was past secretary of the Corpus Christi Advertising Federation.

Horse Inoculations Moving At Steady Clip

Work toward inoculating all of the horses in Howard County is moving along at a steady pace according to local veterinarians.

There are approximately 2,500 horses in the county and the doctors expect to have inoculated each by the end of this week.

The vaccine against VEE arrived in San Angelo, the main distribution point, this last weekend, and the veterinarians say there will be enough to get the job done.

Only one inoculation of the vaccine is required to make the animals immune to the disease and a period of 10 days must pass after the inoculation before the vaccine takes effect.

There have been no reports of the sickness in this area, but the doctors reminded horse owners that there is still a quarantine in effect and horses cannot be moved out of the county until two weeks after being inoculated.

Three of the four veterinarians in Big Spring who are working on the inoculation program are Dr. Joe K. Neff, Dr. H. E. Thompson and Dr. Don R. McDonald.

By the end of today Neff will have inoculated 500 horses and at last count Thompson and McDonald had inoculated 1,000 Monday evening.

"We are making a concerted effort to completely cover the city area with mosquito spray, and the men are working overtime to complete the job," said Nolen Chafin, director of public works.

IT'S THE GREAT BAND ROBBERY!

Geronimo probably never had such problems, but a San Antonio man hitchhiking through Big Spring learned that not even a headband is safe from thieves.

Michael R. Allen, 5047 Prince Valiant, San Antonio, reported Tuesday that three men offered him a ride as he was hitchhiking on West-over Road. The men took the headband which was adorned with two blue and white diamonds and thunderbird designs, leaving Allen undecorated and afoot. The value of the headband was reported at $35. Allen's wallet was also taken, but it contained no money.

H. C. Boutwell, Friday Funeral

Funeral will be at 11 a.m. Thursday for Hubert C. (Cowboy) Boutwell, 78, who died Tuesday morning in a local hospital.

Services will be in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Leo K. Gee officiating. Graveside rites will be at 11 a.m. Friday in Ft. Bliss National Cemetery, El Paso.

Mr. Boutwell was born Jan. 3, 1893, in Callahan County. He was a retired ranch worker and a veteran of World War I. He was a member of the American Legion. He was active in all the Big Spring rodeos.

Survivors include his wife, Anne, one daughter, Annabel Barker, Big Spring; one granddaughter, Big Spring; four sisters and one brother.

WEATHER FORECAST — Afternoon and evening showers are forecast Thursday for the Rocky Mountain states and the Southwest, from the Gulf Coast to the Mid-Atlantic states and from the Midwest north to the upper Great Lakes.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is being married soon. She will have a formal church wedding followed by a reception. Toward the end of the reception she plans to change into her going away clothes, for which she has selected at HotPants outfit. Abby, I have nothing against HotPants but don't you think she could have selected something a little more appropriate?

DEAR MOTHER: Possibly not.

DEAR ABBY: That anecdote you printed about the hippie couple taking advantage of government services and then protesting the establishment made a good point, but was somewhat inaccurate. I hope you give equal time to the other side.

In 10 weeks I'll receive a Master of Science degree, and I never could have made it without free clinics, government loans, a grant, and food stamps. I am grateful to the government for these services but cannot condone all the government does. That same government allows the right to free speech, assembly, and the right to dress the way I choose. Some people think anyone who wears Indian love beads and sandals is against the country. It just isn't so!

The youth movement has a violent minority (who, of course, are the ones we hear about on the news) that I can't agree with, just as the establishment has some narrow-minded citizens who would like to see all long-haired, bearded youths in jail or worse.

The real issues at stake involve so much more. (I've never seen a demonstration against the establishment; but lots for peace, women's rights, ecology.)

If only the young could benefit from the mistakes of their elders, and the old could listen to the fresh ideas of the young! How can we ever work together for peace, the environment, etc., when people like you pit one side against the other by printing that story? "UNDER 25" IN LOMA LINDA

DEAR "UNDER 25": It is not my intention to "pit" one side against the other, but the same freedom of speech which made it possible for "Over 30" to be heard, now makes it possible for you to be heard. Fair enough?

DEAR ABBY: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for recommending "A Doctor Speaks Out on Sexual Expression in Marriage" by Donald W. Hastings.

Thank You, And Goodnight Chet

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP) — Chet Huntley says he will remove his name from the Big Sky of Montana, Inc., project if environmental promises are not met.

Big Sky is a $20-million resort-recreation complex just north of Yellowstone National Park.

He said the environment controls the Chrysler Realty Corp. plans at Big Sky will leave the area in better condition than when the firm bought the land from a pulp company and rancher.

The former broadcaster added that roads in the development will fit the contour of the land to preclude any possibility of erosion and that effluents from a sewage plant would be clean enough to drink.

Her Fibroids

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

The only danger of spreading a hope that remote, I recommend serious thought about adopting a baby.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes fibroid tumors? I have a large one and two small ones in my uterus. Is it possible to have an operation to remove these fibroids. I am 60 and in good health except the fibroids are very sore.

Would you advise an operation, or would the removal of the tumors and uterus cause more tumors to spread to other parts of the body? —Mrs. P. A. G.

The cause of these fibroids is not known, but they are quite common, sometimes small, sometimes large, sometimes single, sometimes multiple. In many instances they cause no harm or discomfort, so in women of child-bearing age, they are usually left alone, although of course watched periodically, to be on guard in case they do start to cause trouble. And sometimes such fibroids begin to shrink after menopause, but not always.

After menopause, since the uterus no longer is needed for child-bearing, the whole uterus is removed, along with the fibroids. That is, a hysterectomy is performed, the term meaning removal of the uterus.

The operation will not cause the fibroids to spread elsewhere, since the fibroids are peculiar to that type of tissue.

If a fibroid does become cancerous, then it must be removed, and promptly. Otherwise the cancer (but not the fibroid) can spread. I presume a Pap smear has been done.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son is married and recently discovered that he is sterile. He has never been circumcised. Does this have anything to do with it? Can anything be done about his sterility? —Mrs. A.

Circumcision has nothing whatever to do with the matter. Whether anything can be done about his sterility is another question. Roughly speaking, the answer is no. If he has a low sperm count, maybe he can be helped somewhat. Other factors in his physical makeup also have to be considered. But it's a remote "maybe." The chances are small. Instead of encouraging

CAB To Sort Out Tangled Flight Ideas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board opened hearings Tuesday which will determine eventually whether San Antonio, Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston airports will hold their own, gain or lose traffic and services.

The hearings were called to sort out overlapping and conflicting proposals for additional air service between Texas, Mexico City and Acapulco. The contest arose from a U.S.-Mexico agreement last year authorizing increased service between the points involved.

Braniff and American Air Lines now share most of the traffic between the Texas points, Mexico City and Acapulco.

Meanwhile, Eastern Airlines seeks non-stop flights between San Antonio and Acapulco and service from Dallas-Fort Worth, Mexico City and Acapulco. International Airlines has also entered the hearings.

Transportation economists testified that the Dallas-Fort Worth airport, because of its passenger interconnection service and other facilities, is the best of the Texas gateways for any expanded flights to Mexico.

Egypt Backs Libya's Call For Arab Summit Meeting

The Arab chorus of outrage at Jordan's suppression of the Palestine guerrillas mounted today, but King Hussein appeared to have eliminated, for the time being at least, the commandos' threat to his throne.

Egypt endorsed Libya's call for an Arab summit meeting to support the guerrillas. Cairo announced that President Anwar Sadat was sending a personal envoy, Hassan Sabry el Kholi, to Damascus with Foreign Minister Omar Sakkaf of Saudi Arabia to confer with Syrian President Hafez Assad.

Syria, which for the past week had been trying to mediate between the guerrillas and Hussein's army, charged the Jordanians with shelling Syrian border posts. Radio Damascus said Syria would "take whatever measures are needed to support the Palestinian commando movement." Iraq, which closed its border with Jordan early this week and ordered its ambassador home from Amman, asked Hussein to withdraw his ambassador from Baghdad.

Kuwait and Lebanon welcomed Libya's call for an Arab summit, as did guerrilla chieftain Yasir Arafat, directing what looked like his forces' last stand in Jordan from the Syrian border town of Deraa. The guerrilla radio in Baghdad said much more than a summit conference was needed.

"You must close the borders, ports and airports to Jordan," it told Libyan strongman Muammar Kaddafi. "You must act immediately to close Jordanian embassies and interests in the capitals."

Saudi Arabia was an exception to the angry outcries. Amman Radio said the oil kingdom had paid the Jordanian government $9.6 million Tuesday as an installment on the annual subsidy King Faisal has made to Jordan since the 1967 Middle East war.

Two Accused Of Shiro Bank Robbery Seized

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Officers manning a roadblock four miles west of here captured two men accused of robbing the Farmers State Bank at Shiro, in neighboring Grimes County.

Sheriff Dick Johnson of Grimes County said a third man escaped with the $2,068 taken in the holdup Tuesday. Johnson identified the men in custody as Ronald T. Jolly, 24, and Leon F. Owens, 19.

Justice of the Peace E. T. Ketchum set bond at $50,000 for Jolly, who was held in the county jail at Anderson on a bank robbery charge. Ketchum did not fix bond at once for Owens, who was taken to the city jail at Navasota.

The sheriff said two men brandishing pistols took the money from bank employees while a confederate waited in a small car. A farmer saw the captured pair transfer to a second vehicle and the third man switch to still another auto, Johnson said.

Sue Davis, executive vice president of the Shiro bank, said, "They told me I had just 30 seconds to hand over the money." Mrs. Davis placed the cash in brown paper sacks and handed it over. She and Doris Lebew, cashier, were the only persons in the bank when the bandits entered.

Witnesses said the holdup men drove away toward Huntsville, which is 25 miles east of Shiro.

FACTS FOR BIG SPRINGERS

This column is to be a daily paid advertisement of Citizens For Responsive Election. In this column we will attempt to give information relating to the situation in our city which has necessitated a recall election. CARE supports no candidate for any office. We believe that the one thing necessary for good government is active voter participation and we feel that correct information will cause the voters to be active.

Our offices are at 217 Main and our phone number is 267-5418. We invite your calls and questions relative to the matter of the recall election in our city and those that seem to be of the most interest we will answer in this column.

We hold no animosity toward anyone. We simply feel that our city government is in a situation where only the voters can remedy the problems. We also feel that this recall election will provide whoever wins with a mandate for the majority of the people of Big Spring. In the past only a small number of citizens have voted and we hope that the recent turmoil will bring increased and continuing interest in our city government.

'HOT' MONEY
RAP HITS COP

DALLAS (AP) — Kenneth Kermit Hayles, 40, a former city policeman, was arraigned before U. S. Magistrate Patrick H. Malley on charges of manufacturing counterfeit $20 bills.

Hayles was arrested during the weekend by Secret Service agents, who said they had been looking for him since February. Two other men were arrested in May in Louisiana in connection with the case.

Hayles, who said he was in the electronics business, was accused of buying photo equipments and plates in Houston and Sherman.

Two bonds were set at $5,000 each.

Lawyer Who Drafted Bank Bills To Give Testimony

AUSTIN (AP) — The man who wrote two banking bills supported by millionaire Frank Sharp takes the stand today in the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission's closed-door investigation in a stock fraud case.

Eugene Palmer, Austin lawyer, authored the bills that would have permitted Sharp's bank in Houston to insure its deposits with a state corporation and thus avoid federal bank examiners.

The bills won legislative approval in a special session in September, 1969, but Gov. Preston Smith vetoed them.

CLOSED DOORS
The Sharpstown State Bank has been closed since January when the SEC filed suit against Sharp and 27 other persons and firms. A run on the bank by depositors forced the closure.

The SEC alleges that National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock was manipulated to give quick profits to influence votes on the banking bills.

Several high state officials made profits on the stock, which they purchased with loans from the Sharpstown bank. The stock was the only security for the loans.

None of the state officials are defendants in the SEC suit. All have said the banking bills and the loans were unrelated.

But Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said Tuesday the Travis County grand jury should look into evidence gathered by his office on quick profits made by state officials in NBL stock.

NEW DEPOSITIONS

Martin gave the evidence to Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith, who also has a July 18 request from State Insurance Commissioner Clay Cotten that local authorities should check the commission's probe of the insurance company for possible conspiracy and embezzlement violations.

The SEC took new depositions this month from Gov. Preston Smith, House Speaker Gus Mutscher, state Democratic chairman Elmer Baum, Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah and two aides of Mutscher, Sonny Schulte and Rush McGinty.

Smith and Baum say they made a joint profit of $125,000 in NBL stock.

Mutscher says he made a $20,000 profit but later suffered a $250,000 net loss in the stock because he bought more of it before its price plunged.

Healy says he made a $49,971 profit in NBL stock. Also scheduled to give depositions this month are former Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr, July 26, and John Osorio, Carr's law partner, July 22.

Ex-Hondo Police Chief
Asks $100,000 Damages

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A former Hondo police chief filed suit in federal court here Monday charging he was "summarily dismissed" from the department last Aug. 22 after being demoted from chief in mid-June.

Two days after the dismissal, the plaintiff, Joseph Pitre, was charged with theft by bailee over $50, in connection with a rifle.

Defendants in the suit, which also charges discrimination against Hondo Mexican-Americans, are Hondo Mayor George L. Brucks; city councilmen Andrew Patterson, Albert Vance, Ralph Hauger, Hilmer Mueller and M. E. Pedroza; City Mgr. Fritz Leinweber and Police Chief Jerry Williamson.

was no-billed last February by the Medina County grand jury. He then filed for reinstatement on the police force, according to the suit.

In his petition, Pitre says he "began a program to assure that Mexican-American citizens in Hondo enjoyed the privileges and immunities guaranteed by law," in 1970. He said Mexican-Americans had been subjected to a "systematic program of harassment and intimidation."

he was never formally given a reason for his demotion and discharge except for a statement to the press by Mayor Brucks and Chief Williamson that he was fired because of "negligence" in the line of duty, failure to comply with orders and for the alleged rifle theft.

Pitre asks reinstatement without loss of pay, damages of $100,000 and judgment declaring unconstitutional the "customs and procedure" used by the City of Hondo to dismiss employes.

C-C Manager Attends Institute

Chamber of Commerce Manager Tom Eastland is scheduled to attend the U. S. Chamber of Commerce Institute for Organization Management Sunday through July 31, at TCU in Fort Worth.

The week-long school attracts more than 300 chamber executives and includes instruction in motivation techniques, quality of living seminars, economic development, budget structuring, committee management and several other areas.

The six-year Institute is divided into two sections, three years of principles of management and three of advanced management. Eastland will complete the principles section this year.

period are $134,000 above the same period a year ago, and this is because of the higher rates which were assessed to meet new obligations of nearly $40 million in expanding the system in recent years. Also, the City of Midland has been added as a major customer.

During the first half, cities bought $1,353,390 water from the district, whereas a year ago the figure was approximately $378,000 less than this. At the same time, revenues from the oil companies dropped by $230,428 because prolonged drought limited supplies available to them. During the first half two companies received no water at all from the district.

Deliveries for the first half amounted to 5,761,623,000 gallons which is 441,000,000 gallons less than for the initial half of 1970. The cities used 4,683,884,000 gallons, or 1,024,341,000 more than for the first half of 1970, but deliveries of 1,077,739,000 to oil companies were 1,464,862,000 gallons less than for the same period a year ago. Of the total sold to oil companies this year, about 80 per cent has been in salt or non-potable water.

What Is Dereliction Anyway?

Affidavits have been filed with the City Secretary calling for a recall election and alleging, as grounds therefore, that three of your City Commissioners are guilty of dereliction of duty. What is dereliction? Apparently when the term is applied to a City Commissioner in the City of Big Spring it has a number of meanings, none of which are in agreement with the definition found in the dictionary.

To those asking for recall, dereliction, when applied to a City Commissioner, means being concerned about the fact that our City is presently spending more money than it received in revenues.

To those asking for recall, dereliction means not accepting a tax raise, or an increase in the city charge for services, as suggested by the City Manager, as being the only solution to the imbalance in revenues and expenditures.

To those asking for recall, dereliction means being concerned enough to go directly to the department heads to find out where the money is being spent when no satisfactory explanation is given by the City Manager.

To those asking for recall, dereliction means taking many hours away from their own business and occupation to try to determine what expenditures can be cut out without a sacrifice of services when they are told by the professional City Manager that there is no solution other than a tax increase or increase in the price of services.

To those asking for recall, dereliction means having the courage to remove a Chief of Police from office when they feel it would be in the best interest of the City to do so even when this action is opposed by many influential and otherwise well-meaning citizens in our community.

To those asking for recall, dereliction means a City Commissioner who is not tied to a special interest group but feels that he was elected by all the people, to represent all of the people, even when some of the decisions he must make are not approved by all of the people.

No City Commissioner or other elected official can be right all the time. These three men who are being subjected to this recall action do not claim to be perfect. If these men are guilty of anything, however, it is NOT dereliction of duty. We have a city government actively working to cut out the waste and stop the ridiculous rise in taxes. These have been three of the hardest working city commissioners we've had in many years.

The CARE people have stated that it's a combination of actions on the part of these commissioners that "necessitated" this action. As we predicted in our statement issued on July 10, those asking for recall are attempting to cloud the true issue which is involved in this election. Let's cut out the double talk and call a spade a spade. These three commissioners are not being subjected to this recall action for being derelict in their duties; they are being subjected to this for one reason and for one reason only and that is the fact that they had the courage to dismiss Jay Banks as Chief of Police.

This recall election is uncalled for and irresponsible. To vote for the recall of these commissioners is to in effect convict them of something that they are not guilty of. Give these three commissioners your vote of confidence. Vote AGAINST this irresponsible recall of Commissioners Choate, Watkins and Acrl. Go on record as being in support of your elected commissioners. Come by FAIR Headquarters at 107 W. Fourth or call 267-5275.

Recruit Assaults Sentence Reported

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A sergeant has been sentenced to two years' imprisonment after pleading guilty to charges of cruelty, maltreatment and "indecent, lewd and lascivious" acts while a drill instructor at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here.

Sgt. Terrance Joseph Elbert, 22, entered his plea at a general court-martial July 13.

The Marine Corps disclosed information about the case Tuesday when asked by The Associated Press. The base public information officer said it is a Marine Corps policy not to volunteer information on accused persons.

Members of the platoon that Elbert commanded lodged accusations against the sergeant Jan. 13. The recruits, all under 21 years old, were not identified, and a Marine spokesman said none left the service as a result of the charges.

Among 38 acts Elbert was charged with committing between Dec. 18, 1970, and Jan. 12, 1971, were hitting recruits, choking them, forcing their heads into a urinal and ordering them to perform indecent acts. Half of the 38 specifications were under the military charge of wrongfully committing "a lewd and lascivious act."

The charges say some of the acts involved the entire platoon, which number 62 recruits at its largest. Two other non-commissioned officers in charge of the platoon with Elbert said they knew nothing of the acts. They were not charged.

Elbert, of Elyria, Ohio, became a drill instructor in October, 1969, after service in Vietnam where he won the Bronze Star for valor.

Marine spokesmen said he was relieved of command of the platoon the day the recruits lodged their complaints.

Army Easing Its Approach To ROTC Cadet Training

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Faced with a dramatic drop in Reserve Officer Training Corps enrollment, the Army is easing its approach to ROTC cadet training in an effort to attract more prospective officers.

At the same time, the Army is spending $2.4 million a year on publicity to interest college men in enrolling in ROTC.

Advanced training for 3,600 cadets at the 18,000-acre Indiantown Gap Military Reservation near Harrisburg still is strenuous but the military atmosphere is relatively relaxed. The reservation draws cadets from 94 of the 279 schools with Army ROTC programs.

University of Kentucky law student, said he's in ROTC because of a low draft number. Because he lacked the first two years of ROTC, Elswich took basic training last summer at Ft. Knox, Ky.

OPPORTUNITY
Comparing Ft. Knox with Indiantown Gap, Elswich said,

"You don't have a drill sergeant breathing down your back. You're given a job and have the opportunity to carry it out in your own way."

In five years, ROTC enrollments have dropped 56 per cent, from 177,000 to 78,000. Sitting in his staff car at a range where cadets are taught rifle shooting, Brig. Gen. Melvin A. Goers, director of the ROTC program, conceded, "We are concerned about the drop in enrollment and it hasn't yet stabilized."

Goers, an ROTC graduate, said it costs $58,000 to produce an officer at the U.S. Military Academy, compared with $9,800 through the ROTC program. West Point graduates about 600 officers a year while the ROTC program at its peak in 1969-70 commissioned 16,581 officers.

Leon Langley Is Honored

Leon Langley, son of Mrs. W. L. Mattingley, and the late W. B. Langley, was awarded the Lone Star Farmer Degree at the state FFA Convention in Houston recently.

Langley was one of the 912 boys out of 52,000 boys to receive the degree. While attending Big Spring High School, he had been a member of the Key Club, Student Council and the Latin Club. While in the FFA he served as the vice president and the president of the local chapter. He had shown livestock in many of the major shows of the state. He also participated in chapter conducting teams and livestock judging teams.

His awards include: Star Greenhand; Star Chapter Farmer; Outstanding Leadership; Outstanding Beef Production, two years; Steer Showmanship Award at the county show in 1971.

He plans to attend HCJC in the fall.

Attending the convention in Houston with Langley were Neal Tindol, who will be a junior in BSHS, and Truett Vines, advisor and instructor of the local chapter.

Solon To Deliver North Viet Pitch

HOUSTON (AP) — A Texas legislator with what he says is a proposal from the North Vietnamese which could shorten the Vietnam war said Tuesday he will meet soon with White House officials.

State Rep. Joe Salem, who met with a North Vietnamese negotiator Monday in Paris, said on arriving at Houston Intercontinental Airport Tuesday that a presidential aide had taken steps to set up a meeting.

"My press aide was told in a call with a White House aide that Secretary of State (William) Rogers or Mr. (Henry) Kissinger will be inviting me soon," Salem said.

In Washington, White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler confirmed that the President's office had received a cable from Salem and added, "I'm confident if he wants to meet with someone in the White House, some representative of the President will meet with him."

Salem, a Corpus Christi Democrat, made a 48-minute tape recording of his conversation with a North Vietnamese delegate to the Paris peace talks which he said contained a proposal about ending the war.

"I think there is a very important item on this tape," he said. "I don't want to reveal it now because I don't want to interfere with peace negotiations. I won't say the proposal on this tape will end the war or return any of our men, but it will certainly hasten the end of the war if what is proposed on here will be accepted by my government."

Salem, the author of a resolution adopted in the last session of the Texas Legislature condemning North Vietnam for its treatment of American prisoners of war, went to Paris to deliver the resolution and succeeded in obtaining an interview with a North Vietnamese official.

"It was at this point that they made the proposal on the tape that I think is so important."

John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge Conducts Installation Rituals

Installation ceremonies for Allen, Mrs. W. C. Cole, Mrs. Mrs. Everett-Hood, as right support to the noble grand, and Mrs. LeP Thackrey as inside guardian of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge were conducted by Mrs. U. S. Beechly, district deputy president, and Mrs. Jones Lamar, deputy marshal, Tuesday evening at the IOOF Hall.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth, centered with a milk glass container of daisies. The grand's colors of white, yellow and brown were used in the decorations. Prayer was led by the Rev. Elra Phillips.

Mrs. W. R. Loftis, noble grand, presided, and a program recognizing the 24th anniversary of the lodge was presented by Mrs. Grady C. Beck, Mrs. Alton Allen and Mrs. Hood. Assisting the women were Mrs. Bill Rayburn, Mrs. Grady Sudberry, Mrs. Thackrey, Mrs. Beechly, Mrs. J. C. Pye, Mrs. R. B. Hughes, Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, and Mrs. Charles Boland, pianist. The program ended with the group singing "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

Resolutions of sympathy were read by Mrs. Homer Petty and Mrs. LaLonde in memory of W. H. Wise and Albert Pierson, both brothers of lodge members.

The 24 members present reported 31 visits to the sick. Refreshments were served by Mrs.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

While cleaning the tank in the aquarium, I found that I couldn't clean the inside of the tubes.

So I got some cotton swabs and cleaned the tubes in a snap. Now my aquarium tank is clean inside and out. . . . Donna Moody

Dear Heloise:

I used so many of your hints over the years, I would like to pass on one I discovered when I was knitting a pair of woolen slippers and needed a marker to keep track of the rows.

My son had just opened a new shirt and laid the plastic clips that held the sleeves in place on the table beside my knitting bag.

Rather than getting up and finding a safety pin or a piece of colored thread I usually used for a marker, I picked up the clip and slipped it in the stitch. It worked!! And so much handier than a pin or thread.

Now I use these clips as markers for all my crocheting and knitting. They are so handy and light, and to think that I have been throwing these clips away for years. . . . Vera Hemington

Dear Heloise:

What a time I have trying to dress my baby. Each time I try to put her little hand into the sleeve, she opens those tiny fingers and I have to be so careful. I'm sure you know what I mean, Heloise.

As a shower present, I received several small squeeze toys that are made of soft rubber.

Each time I dress my little one, I simply put one of the toys in her hand and while she is holding it, I slip her hand, toy and all, into the sleeve. Then I transfer the toy to the other hand and do the same.

The fist she makes holding the toy keeps those little fingers from being bent and dressing is so much easier, especially for me. . . . Mrs. S.H.

Dear Heloise:

Whenever you are in need of chilled glasses in a hurry, simply hold each glass in turn sideways and scrape it along the inside of your freezer. The frost will drop on the glass and chill it very quickly and effectively.

Needless to say, your freezer must NOT be frost-free! . . . Mrs. K.D.

Dear Heloise:

I am a great ribbon and bow saver.

I can never bring myself to throw away the pretty bows that come on gift packages.

However, when I go to use them I never seem to have ribbon to match the paper I have on hand or vice versa. So I cut tiny pieces off all my bows and tape them on a small card that I can carry in my purse.

When I am in a dime store I buy a few yards of ribbon to match the bow sample or paper sample, whichever it is that I need. . . . Mrs. O.S.

Circles Agree On Joint Meetings

Mrs. David Pohl presented a program entitled "Hope" for a joint meeting of the Lalla Baird and Martha Foster Circles, Wesley United Methodist Church, Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. M. O. Hamby, 1508 Eleventh Place. The program was a Bible study of verses concerning "the hope of receiving guidance of Christ through the scriptures."

It was announced that Miss Helen Ewing will attend the School of Christian Mission July 26-30 at McMurry College in Abilene.

Prayer was led by Mrs. Homer Thorp. The next meeting is at 9:30 a.m., July 27 in the home of Mrs. Bryant, 1602 Tucson.

CONNIE BARTLETT, JANE DRENNAN

Take Top Awards At Dawson Dress Revue

LAMESA (SC) — Connie Bartlett of the Caprock 4-H Club took a blue award and first place in the senior division when the Dawson County 4-H Dress Revue was held Monday at Forrest Park Community Center. Winner in the junior division was Jane Drennan of the Welch 4-H Club who also received a blue award.

Judging the show, which used the theme, "The Signs of Time," were Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent; Miss Jane Blay, Terry County home demonstration agent; and two junior clothing leaders from Terry County.

The two top winners will represent Dawson County in the District II dress revue July 22 at the Villa Inn, Lubbock.

Miss Drennan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Drennan, and Miss Bartlett is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Bartlett.

In the senior division, a blue award went to Linda Moody, who was named alternate, and red awards were won by Tammy Hamilton, Sheryl Capwell and June Snell. Alternate in the junior division was Ann Turner who won a blue award, as did Cindy Bartlett, Julie Campbell, Lisa Montgomery, Shelby Montgomery, Marla Stewart, Lynda Raney and Katrina Reid. Red awards, in the junior division, were presented to Linda Carol Mossis, Debbie Newbrough, Daleyn Schwartz, LaNell Smith and Dee Ann Woods.

Mrs. Jay Bruton, president of the Mesa Cotton Promotion Council, presented $5 gift certificates to the girl in each division who had the best all-cotton costume. The junior winner was Miss Stewart of the Lamesa 4-H Club, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart. Senior winner was Miss Bartlett.

The Crow Home Center provided gift certificates for first and second place winners in both divisions.

Awards were presented by Judge Leslie Pratt.

Decorations were furnished by the '48 Delphian Club and 4-H club adult leaders. Refreshments were served by the home demonstration council.

Women Offered Bright Furs (Men Get Cuffed Trousers)

By ODETTE MEGIN, AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP) — Anyone who thinks furs belong only on coats and come in nice animal browns and blacks is in for a surprise.

Italian high fashion designer Tivioli of Turin is using them in blues and reds to make costumes ranging up to all-fur evening gowns.

Her choice of skins is out of the ordinary too.

They include almost everything from kangaroo to zebra.

Tivioli opened the autumn-winter fashion showings for women after a day and a half of collections dedicated to men's wear. Fifty-one houses will show their collections in the week-long presentations.

Tivioli dressed one model in a Persian lamb blouse and skirt and had another wearing a kangaroo outfit. A choice of blue or red furs lasted through daywear to long evening dresses in zebra-striped skin "as slim as a knitted dress," according to the designer.

Another fashion house, Mapil, offered fur coats with human-hair collars matching the wig, in an effort to be original. Page boy bloomers in mink were another of Mapil's ideas. For more formal occasions Mapil chose a mink-trimmed white Persian lamb dress leaving the back bare and showing a triangle of bare skin at the waistline.

Gucci, noted for his suede and leather accessories, came up with a sheared Mongolian lamb outfit which he called a "cat suit." It was hooded with the dress stapped at the neck and waist. Tights in silk jersey showed from beneath the cat suit.

In the menswear showings earlier, an active man who likes to change often could find everything from motorbike wear to riding habits and tartan tuxedos.

Valentini showed ankle length knickerbocker jumpsuits for riding a motorcycle with matching beret caps at the autumn-winter fashion showing in Rome today.

The riding habits in olive green cloth and leather trimmed matching boots with brown knitting like turn down stockings were in Baratta's collection.

He offered velvet plaid tuxedo jackets with satin lapels for evenings. In a more romantic line for an evening at the theater was a short black satin coat worn over a silk shirt with a high collar gathered in front to form a jabot. A wide cummerbund finished the outfit.

The style, which Italian designers are baptizing neo-classical, included a return to trouser cuffs, even in sportswear.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

PAT WILEY, daughter of MR. and MRS. GROVER WILEY, has added another name to her list. She is being called GedheAmma, which means Buffalo Girl in Telugu which is what she speaks to the people with whom she works in India.

According to a newspaper clipping sent by a friend to Pat's mother, the Joint Venture Services, Inc., a voluntary organization incorporated in Washington, has extended one of its arms of friendship a long way to Nandyal in Kurnool district. Majority of the people of Nandyal being vegetarian, milk and milk products constitute the only source of animal protein in their diets. Said the writer, "It's no wonder, therefore, that Miss Pat L. Wiley of J.V.S., formerly a Peace Corps volunteer, came to choose Nandyal as the place to start new concepts in dairying.

"J.V.S. had initially encouraged Pat to contract with responsible farmers for loans (interest free) for a portion of the capital required to establish small dairies. Sixty applied and 11 were accepted... Four were selected from the 11 as being capable of managing and operating farms."

After going through the different steps for the financing, and a definite fodder was decided upon, the last stage was set for the purchase of buffaloes. It was decided to introduce in the area a new breed called the Murrah buffalo which is sturdy and has a higher yield of milk compared to other breeds in India.

Pat decided to tap the sources of the United States Agency for International Development for a loan from its rupee funds in India and called on the director-minister who was favorably impressed with the proposed project, and after consulting with a Kansas State University team operating in Andhra Pradesh under a contract with USAID, and arranging for financial aid, suggested a project outline be drawn up with a budget listing the financial needs. The draft outline submitted by Pat was finalized and now they call her GedheAmma.

And would you believe that when Pat applied as a Peace Corps volunteer she wasn't accepted until she practically made those in charge take her? What a loss for the people of India if she had been passed over.

MR. and MRS. RAYMOND KELLEY have recently returned from a vacation trip to Springdale, Ark., where they visited MR. and MRS. BUSTER BOSTICK. They later went to Kennedale, Tex., where they were the guests of MRS. ETHEL CROMER who was Ethel Maxwell when she lived here years ago with her family. Mr. Bostick is also a former Big Spring resident.

MR. and MRS. ZACK PAN-NELL were to leave today for their home in Muskogee, Okla., after spending a week in the home of his parents, MR. and MRS. FLOYD PANSELL.

MRS. J. P. DODGE had as her guests last week her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. AUSTIN BURCH of Albuquerque, N.M. They had also visited the YOUNG CHILDERS in Kingsland.

There are 40 Big Spring band students attending the band camp at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, and Saturday night some of those who are members of the Honors Band played a concerto for percussions and winds composed and conducted by fellow Big Springer, JAMES BECKHAM, who had composed it for his masters degree thesis. His parents, the Fred Beckhams, attended the concert and she said she recognized JOHN RHERD, BECKY JAMES and DIANA WILLIAMS as they quickly marched to their stations. JON ELROD and STAN VICK are among the first year campers from Big Spring.

BPO Does Convention Detailed By Participants

Mrs. Kay Williams and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins reported on the national convention of the Benevolent and Patriotic Order of the DOES at the local unit meeting Tuesday in the Elks Hall.

The convention was held June 20-25 in Omaha, Neb., where the women attended workshops concerning various phases of BPO Does activities. Mrs. Williams gave an over-all summary of the convention, and reported the ritual changes announced. She said that 16 Texas droves were represented among the 895 who attended.

Mrs. Jenkins attended a workshop on public relations presented by Mrs. Marge McCoullough of Clovis, N.M., and Mrs. Helen Slomiger of Arizona, editor of the national "DOES Talk" magazine.

Conducting the local meeting Tuesday were Mrs. Dick Simpson, conductress; Mrs. Alma George, senior counselor; and Mrs. Annie Mellinger, inner guard. Preliminary plans were made for an initiation ceremony for Mrs. David Thomas.

Mrs. Williams and Mrs. James Vines served refreshments to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital Monday evening. Insignias were given to the women to wear when serving at the hospital. The next meeting is at 8 p.m., Aug. 17 at the Elks Club.

A LOVELIER YOU Specs Are Flattering But Not A Cover-Up

By MARY SUE MILLER

Funny how we girls shy away from wearing clear, prescription lenses. Yet we happily slip on sunglasses any old time. Even on dark days indoors.

Why? Could be that tinted lenses are a great cover-up for any little flaws beneath, not to mention a safeguard against squint and lines. For certain, sun specs are downright flattering. And for just one reason: We choose them in bold fashion shapes and colors.

We were to bring the same derring-do to selecting clear prescription glasses, we'd achieve the same satisfactions. Of course, some prescription glasses are made up with tinted lenses. This is for your eye man to decide. In any case, the tips below guide you to greater looks in specs to see or sun by, or both.

—Be sure top rims of frames are as wide across as widest part of your face. Eyebrows should show, but there are exceptions which come further on.

—Lower rims should run counter to irregular features. For instance, squared-off lines counteract round, heavy chins.

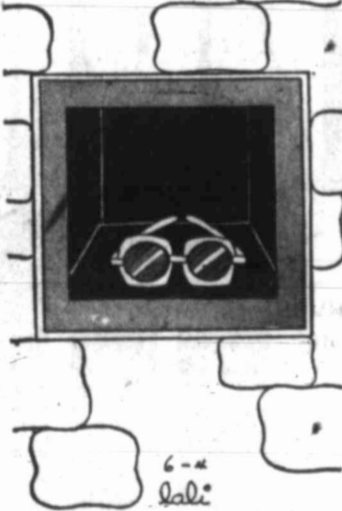

—Details boost flattery. Wide temple pieces cut length of long faces; a wide bridge appears to shorten a long nose.

—Cue frame colors to your skin. Deep shades, except in metallics, usually prove most becoming. Let makeup provide eye-appeal beneath clear lenses; choose tinted lenses not necessarily to match but to intensify eye coloring.

—As for fashion in frames, it ranges from gumdrop to saucer size (which styling breaks all rules of proportion). Wear what makes you look good and feel happy. Passe styles can't do a thing for you.

YOUTHFUL EYES

You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by

Why? Could be that tinted lenses are a great cover-up for any little flaws beneath, not to mention a safeguard against squint and lines. For certain, sun specs are downright flattering. And for just one reason: We choose them in bold fashion shapes and colors.

Spirit Of '76 In Home Decor

Starting the bicentennial countdown well in advance of America's 200th birthday celebration, with-it home decorators are rallying around the red, white and blue.

The flag colors are turning up literally everywhere in new home furnishings and housewares, reports interior design consultant Mary Ann Wills.

"One firm has launched a special 'Spirit of '76' collection of decorative accessories to be developed over the next five years," she said.

The flag colors are featured in both modern and traditional battery clock designs and in new deep-dimensional plaques, including a skillful interpretation of the flag itself.

BILL BURCHETT

Burchett Hurt In Mill Fall

Bill Burchett, former star quarterback of the Big Spring Steers, suffered serious burns about his legs when he fell into a vat of boiling water while working at the A. O. Smith Steel Mill in Houston several days ago.

Bill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Burchett of 2407 Cheyenne St., was planning to enroll at the University of Houston this fall for his junior year.

He has been a member of the Cougar football team the past two years but his doctor has decreed "no football" for him this fall. Whether he will again be able to play depends, of course, on his recovery.

Quick work by a coworker and a fellow Cougar, Kent Brentstetter, who reached down to pull Burchett from the cauldron, prevented even more serious injury to Bill, according to witnesses.

Young Burchett is now confined to Baptist Memorial Hospital in Houston and likely will remain there several weeks.

Bill not only was an outstanding football player here but starred in baseball, as well. His parents plan to visit him at the earliest opportunity.

Ex-Big Springer Friona Winner

FRIONA — Gary Travis, formerly of Big Spring and now of Levelland, won the 16-17 year division in the Friona Junior Golf Tournament here Tuesday to qualify for the West Texas Tournament of Champions at Odessa.

Travis, son of South Plains basketball coach Buddy Travis, fashioned a 72, beating runner-up Kenny Taylor of Muleshoe by two points. John Shankel, Amarillo, won the 14-15 year class with a 74 while Curtis Stoerner, Hereford, finished first in the 12-13 group with an 80.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

One of baseball's most underrated players is the Chicago White Sox's Bill Melton, who last year hit more home runs (33) than any athlete in the 70-year history of the American League team.

From all indications, some of the American League people wouldn't recognize him on the street, either. Twenty junior leaguers got into last week's all-star games at Detroit but Melton wasn't one of them.

Melton doesn't want for confidence. He said recently he thought he could hit as many four-masters as Harmon Killebrew and Frank Howard, who usually wind up leading the League with 40 or more.

Bill is only 26. At 6-1 and 190, he shrinks in comparison to the 6-7 Howard but he's getting stronger. Bill's a late bloomer — he didn't start powdering the ball out of the park this year until June. He hit 12 during that month.

As a rookie two years ago, Melton delivered 23 balls into the seats while batting .255. The way Melton handled the hot corner in Chicago's infield worries some of his friends. He was moved into the outfield late last season but management switched him back to third this year. He's shown improvement at his old position—maybe some one else had messed it up for him before. He made only one error at the far turn all last month.

Melton's critics couldn't keep a straight face when he suffered a broken beak when struck by a high pop in a game against Baltimore last year.

Did you ever try to catch the flight of something on the wing while looking into a tier of bright lights (in this instance, sodium vapor), take your eye off it to make sure you're not going to get bumped by someone close and then try to pick it up again? That's what happened to Melton.

Bill doesn't brood about his mistakes or his accidents. After that embarrassment, he came back to play another day and, like the song says, he's "getting better every day."

Harsh words have been spoken in the Summer Basketball League here again this summer. Invariably, they would have gone better unsaid.

The league was organized for fun and games. A few individuals have used the league to unharness their rage. Sometimes, one wonders why management tries so hard to please those for whom the league was organized in the first place.

A few of those who have been abusing the officials are not eligible to play in high school or college. Most of the others seem to know better.

More than one use the league as a vehicle to spew hatred for the establishment in general. The establishment may have wronged them in other ways but the league is trying its best to provide the best for the most. It has no other mission.

The calmer heads should tell the rednecks to cool it or run the risk of having the whole program go down the drain. Don't let the malcontents know a good thing when they see it?

If Tex Winter doesn't cut the mustard as coach of the NBA's Houston Rockets, management will likely try to talk Guy Lewis into taking the job.

Lewis is the only man who has been able to motivate Elvin Hayes, the outstanding rebounder and scorer for the Rockets. Hayes led the University of Houston to its finest hour in basketball.

Mae Beth Courtney of Fort Worth, the former Miss Astros, and Jackie Maitland of the Baltimore Colts have been dating.

The item is of interest in at least one local home — Dr. and Mrs. Halvard Hansen, Mae Beth, a close friend of the Hansen family, has visited here a number of times.

Aaron Leans On One, Atlanta Triumphs

By The Associated Press
For two nights Hank Aaron couldn't figure out what was going on out on the mound. Then he made a calculated guess.

The result was an explosive home run, a two-run shot with one out in the ninth inning that broke up a duel between Atlanta's Ron Reed and Dave Roberts of the San Diego Padres and powered the Braves to a 3-1 triumph.

"I was guessing fast ball," said Hammerin' Hank of Roberts' offering that wound up beyond the left field fence and brought Chief Noc-A-Homa outa his tepee for a victory dance.

The round-tripper was No. 618 of his career—still a long way behind Babe Ruth's 714—and his 26th of the season, putting him five back of major league leader Willie Stargell of Pittsburgh.

GIANTS LOSE
In other National League action, Pittsburgh dumped San Francisco 11-7, Philadelphia breezed by St. Louis 5-1, Cincinnati smothered Los Angeles 7-1, Montreal rallied to beat Houston 4-3 in 10 innings and, in an afternoon game, the Chicago Cubs defeated the New York Mets 4-2.

Aaron, recalling the ball he parked, said it "wasn't too high—but Roberts probably wanted to get it further out. He is a hell of a pitcher."

While Roberts' record slipped to 7-10, Reed's rose to 10-7. The big right-hander limited the Padres to just three hits—but one of them was Ollie Brown's fifth homer of the year that tied the game 2-2 in the seventh.

A pair of errors by San Francisco shortstop Chris Speier opened the way to five unearned Pittsburgh runs as the Giants blew an early 4-1 lead.

Stargell and Al Oliver each knocked out three hits and Bill Mazeroski, Vic Davalillo and Manny Sanguillen had two

COACHES Brown Resigns Albany Job

ALBANY — Jerry Brown, basketball coach at Albany High School, has resigned to accept a similar position at Artesia, N. M.

Brown's teams won four district championships in four years here.

SANTA ANNA — Jesse Smelley, formerly of Medina, has been named head coach at the local high school. He taught and coached at Bertram and Lometa before moving to Medina.

Larry Steele, who graduates next month from Tarleton State University, will become Smelley's assistant.

ANSON — Kenny Franklin has quit as head basketball coach at Anson High School to take a similar position at San Antonio Southwest High School.

Those seeking the job should apply through George Hopper, the head coach and athletic director.

Thomas Says He May Not Play

DALLAS (AP) — Duane Thomas, the recalcitrant Dallas Cowboy holdout, said Tuesday night, "I don't think I will play football any more."

Thomas told Dick Risenhoover of KDFW-TV, "Football is not important at all. It's not a way of life."

The former West Texas State Football League offensive rookie star who was the National Football League offensive rookie of the year in 1970 has a three-year contract with the Cowboys. But he wants it renegotiated.

He said Cowboy officials were trying to "put the Super Bowl game off on me. They want me to win everything. Then they ought to pay me."

apiece for the Bucs, who maintained their 11½ game lead atop the National League East.

Bob Veale was clobbered for five runs in four relief innings but still managed to pick up the victory, his fourth without a loss. It kept the Giants from widening their seven-game lead in the West.

SHORT IS HOT
Chris Short tossed a three-hitter and got more than enough support at the plate from Don

Money, and rookie John Vukovich in the Phillies' victory. Money cracked two doubles and a single and scored twice and Vukovich collected three RBI against the Cards.

Johnny Bench, returning to Cincinnati's starting lineup as a catcher for the first time since July 7, when he was injured on a foul tip, drove in a pair of runs with a single and his 19th homer of the year.

Joe Hicks Motor Hands Chippers Two Defeats

Morton's Chippers, marking time for the District ASA Softball Tournament at Lamesa this weekend, suffered a double defeat at the hands of a Slow Pitch League club, Joe Hicks Motor Company, in practice tilts in Comanche Trail Park Tuesday night.

Hicks' margins of victory were 5-4 and 4-1.

In the opening game, Hicks built up an early lead and then had to fight like all get-out in the final inning. Morton's banked three runs its final time at bat.

Hicks outthit the Chippers, 7-5, with Charley Burdette collecting two of the safeties. Both were home runs.

Burdette's first blast followed a round tripper by Tommy Arista in Round One. Charley connected again in the third with a mate aboard.

Al Oldfather accounted for two of Morton's safeties and one of those was a solo four-master in the third.

In the last inning, the Chippers' Bernard McMahan walked after two men had been retired but died at first base and Jerry Don Paige settled to retire Jerold Cox for the final out.

Hicks came from behind with two-run outbursts in the fourth and fifth innings to win the second game. Burdette clouted a two-run homer for the Hicks team in the fourth while Arista hit a solo shot in the fifth.

Danny Parchman also had two hits for the Hicks team in the second game.

Sports Stars Make Good Actors, Says Producer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sports super stars are naturals for show business and provide the ideal means for getting important social messages across to the kids, a New York television producer said today.

"You take Joe Namath and Johnny Bench," added Doug Schustek. "They are as poised and at ease before a microphone as if they'd had ten years in a drama class or school of communications."

"They're accustomed to playing before thousands—always on stage. They're constantly being interviewed, badgered by autograph seekers and pressured for public appearances."

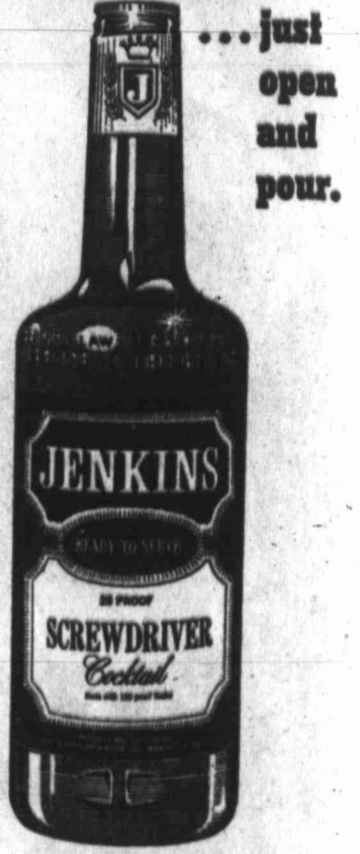

"They become completely immune to what we call stage fright or microphone jitters," Schustek, former sports director of New York's Channel 9, is current producer of a weekly half-hour show called: "MVP: Johnny Bench," shown on 22 stations.

In the winter, he had a similar show called "MVP: Willis Reed," featuring the New York Knicks basketball star as moderator. He also produced the first television show for Namath, the New York Jets' quarterback.

It is his aim, he says, to expand the series to include pro football and possibly automobile racing.

"There is no better way to get to the kids today," he said. "Most of them love sports and respect the outstanding performers."

Mike Cuellar Jolted By Kansas City Club

The loss broke his spell over the Royals. Cuellar had a 6-0 record over the expansion club in three years, including a one-hitter earlier this season. Elsewhere in the American League, the California Angels turned back the Detroit Tigers 2-0; the Oakland A's defeated the Cleveland Indians 6-3; the New York Yankees trimmed the Minnesota Twins 6-5; the Washington Senators ripped the Milwaukee Brewers 5-1 and the Boston Red Sox topped the Chicago White Sox 5-4.

NEW CONDOR — Pittsburg Condors General Manager Mark Binstein, left, introduces Paul Ruffner, newly acquired 6-11 center for the city's ABA team. Ruffner, of Downey, Calif., was obtained despite his remaining one year contract with the Chicago Bulls of the NBA. Ruffner was the No. 2 draft choice of the Bulls in 1970.

Texans, Midland Team Square Off

The Big Spring Texans, with a lineup which includes boys who won the City championship recently, challenge Midland Western in tonight's District 3 Little League game in the National Park here. The contest gets under way at 8 p.m. Midland Northwestern rallied to beat Midland Northern, 15-13, in last night's contest. Northern trailed by two runs, at 12-10, going into the final round.

Lee Will Get There On Time

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — Lee Trevino comes into the Westchester Golf Classic armed with brimming confidence, an undiminished thirst for victory — and seven alarm clocks. "I was on a late TV program the night before the first round last year, talking about my chances of winning," Trevino recalled today.

La Jolla Tries Comeback In Ruidoso's Feature

RUIDOSO, N.M. — A full field of 10 quarter horses 3-years old and up will be put to a 400-yard test in the eleventh race feature when racing resumes at Ruidoso Downs Thursday. The featured allowance will share the day's spotlight with a 6-furlong thoroughbred exam for 4-year olds and up slated for the tenth race on the program. La Jolla, a double-tough dasher, will be making her first out since running unsuccessfully for the Rainbow Quarter Horse Derby championship. Owned by L. R. French of Odessa, Tex., La Jolla will have jockey Johnny Cox in the irons and has been highweighted at 119-pounds along with Johnny Marble and Tee Go.

regular season play with a 12-4 record. The loss was the Tribe's ninth, compared to seven wins. The Hardware team made the most of eight hits. Landon Soles had two of them while Alan Davis, winning pitcher Troy Kerby, Craig Brown, Pat Ray, Bruce Abbe and Bobby Dwyer each collected one.

Ellis Needing Better Image

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The way Jimmy Ellis sees it, his image as a fighter has got to improve because it can't get any worse. "If I knock out Muhammad Ali, they'll probably say (Joe) Frazier took it all out of him," the former World Boxing Association champion said after a workout session. "The worst has already been written about me. It has to improve."

Seven Admit Bank Robbery

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Seven persons from Houston pleaded guilty Monday in connection with a $30,000 robbery on March 9 of the National Bank of Commerce's Union Avenue branch.

The four men and three women originally entered innocent pleas, and their trial was to be before U.S. Dist. Judge Robert N. McRae.

Pleading guilty to bank robbery or aiding and abetting a bank robbery—the latter carries the same penalty as the act itself—were James Warren Thomas, 27, Linda Joyce Kaminsky, 19, Joel Rene Keller, 23, Vickie Lane Rutledge, 30, Edward John Rutledge, 36, Donald Blackburn, 30, and Judith Carol Peters.

All face fines up to $10,000 and prison terms up to 25 years. Sentencing will be at a later date.

The three women and Blackburn also were charged with illegal possession of firearms.

MAKING FRIENDS — Timmy Beal of Marshfield, Me., has a new feathered friend, as a sea gull gracefully soars into position to take bread from his fingers during a lunch break along the Maine coast.

Dallas Mayor Urges Unity

FORT WORTH (AP) — More unity between Fort Worth and Dallas was urged by Mayor We Wise of Dallas in a civil luncheon club address here.

"I look forward to great things from a new feeling and mood of oneness between our great cities," he said. "I have long felt that the unique flavor which could be provided by the combination of our cities has never been fully exploited."

He called the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport "a stride in the right direction" but added that it "must be accompanied by a continued change in thinking and a continued advance in unity between Dallas and Fort Worth."

Wise said he had discussed the question with Fort Worth Mayor B. M. Stovall and added that the two are considering the possibility of inviting the International Conference of Cities to have its 1974 meeting in the area to coincide with the airport's opening.

Bird Watchers Are All Aflutter

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Bird watchers here are all aflutter over a new aviary that permits them to mingle with native Virginia birds at close-up camera range.

"It's proved to be one of our biggest attractions," said Reiner Hendriksen, city horticulturist who helps oversee the nature center in Richmond's rolling, wooded Maymont Park. In an age of increasing criticism of cruel and unnatural confinement of wildlife, the aviary, unobtrusively integrated with its surroundings, seems to be enjoyed as much by the birds as the bird watchers.

Nestled into the side of a slope, its vinyl-coated green mesh screening almost invisible against the leaves of the oak trees towering above it, the aviary offers all the comforts of the wild to its colorful inhabitants. A fast running stream cascades over a musical waterfall, which, in turn, feeds a small pond over which glide a variety of species of native Virginia duck. Dogwood, wild cherry and pine trees supply the necessary perches while juniper, osmanthus, mountain laurel and azalea provide ground cover.

One of the aviary's unique features is a redwood and cement V-shaped observation deck that cantilevers from the slope to give observers a close view of the birds while restricting them from the actual nesting area.

Two doorways overhung with white plastic strips give visitors easy access but appeal solid enough to the birds to discourage egress. The $35,000 facility, the latest addition to the nature center's wildlife exhibit, encountered an unexpected problem at the start.

"Rats," said Hendriksen. "Rats killed most of our ground nesting birds and we had to clear the entire area and fumigate with gas before we could build up the bird population on a permanent basis."

"But they don't do any harm," said Hendriksen. "They're compatible with the birds and add to the natural setting."

Horticulturist Believes In Bullying His Begonias

DALLAS (AP) — Horticulturist Pat Martin believes in bullying his begonias. He says it makes them grow.

When the begonias started drooping, John Hill, director of the Dallas Garden Center at Fair Park, was ready to scrub them for the season.

Not Pat Martin. He started talking to them like a top sergeant with a bunch of raw recruits in boot camp. "I was pretty harsh with them," Martin explained. "I just said to them: You better shape up or you're gonna be out of here. You either grow or go."

By next day the begonias were sitting up and taking notice. Within a week they were quite healthy, Martin said.

Martin, a graduate of Louisiana State University, has heard all that stuff about some scientists saying that plants respond to music and the human voice.

"I just sort of started talking to them because usually there wasn't anyone around to talk to," he said. "And then I noticed that they seemed to respond. I'd go in the next day and the ones I had spoken to the most Martin isn't making any scientific claims.

TOMORROW
—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You suddenly feel happier and in a lighter frame of mind. You may now have some big and highly intelligent ideas which you would be wise to put in effect without delay. Discussing your cherished longings with others can bring you their approval and support much more quickly than usual. Be happy.
