

FRIDAY MEETING Anderson To Confer With HEW Official

Supt. S. M. Anderson and local attorney Gil Jones will meet with HEW personnel at 1 p.m. Friday in Dallas to discuss the recent charge that two elementary schools here are "racially imbalanced."

Anderson said this morning the meeting is with Dr. John Bell, director of the regional civil rights office of the Health-Education-Welfare Department.

The Big Spring Independent School District has been asked by the civil rights office of HEW to submit a plan by July 29 through which the situation in Bauer and Lakeview Elementary schools can be changed.

Bauer is 98 per cent Negro and Spanish-surnamed students, while Lakeview is composed of 100 per cent such students. An HEW spokesman unofficially said the department would probably want a plan by which no school had less than 51 per cent Anglo students enrolled.

In a special meeting Tuesday night, trustees authorized Anderson to seek legal counsel and defend the neighborhood school concept which accounts for the low percentage of Anglo students in the two schools. In the event that this is not accepted, Anderson is authorized to ask for a delay for submitting a desegregation plan and a further delay of at least one school year in putting a plan into effect.

NO WORDS ON CHINA TRIP — Mme. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong's chief delegate to the Paris peace talks, talks to newsmen briefly today after arriving for the 122nd plenary session. She made no mention of President Nixon's planned trip to China. At the talks, the U.S. and South Vietnam, in an effort to improve the climate for peace negotiations, renewed a two-year-old proposal for a general cease-fire in Vietnam.

Standard state election procedures will be followed in the election Aug. 3, and voting polls will be the same as in a regular election — at the five fire stations. Polls will be open 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. election day.

Soldier's Family Says He's Alive

SWEETWATER — The family of S.Sgt. R. D. McDonnell refuses to believe he is dead.

The soldier's relatives, which include a sister, Mrs. Violet Bell, Big Spring, have said they believe he is a prisoner of war.

"They (the Defense Department) haven't found anything to prove that he's dead, so I just don't think they know," said his father.

The soldier's wife, who says no memorial services are planned, said she rejected the announcement because there has been no body, dog tags or personal possessions recovered.

The Sweetwater man was listed as missing in action March 25, but in an announcement Tuesday the Defense Department said he died in combat in Southeast Asia.

Sgt. McDonnell was born Jan. 23, 1943, in Sweetwater and attended Sweetwater schools. He had been in the U.S. Army for the past seven years and had served in Vietnam since October, 1970.

Other members of his family include twin sons, Wesley Allen McDonnell and Gary Don McDonnell, a daughter, Dana Lenell McDonnell, all of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McDonnell, Sweetwater; two sisters, Mrs. Bell and Mrs. June McDougle, Willispoint; and four brothers, Tom McDonnell, San Angelo, and James McDonnell, Odiss McDonnell and Gerald Wayne McDonnell, all of Sweetwater.

LEADERS FORCED TO LAND IN LIBYA

'Intervention' In Sudan

CAIRO (AP) — The deposed Sudanese leader, Maj. Gen. Jaafar el Numairi is back in power in Khartoum, Egypt's Middle East News Agency, quoting Omdurman radio, said today.

The agency said a detachment of troops under a Lt. Mohammed Kasbawi occupied the broadcasting station and had returned Numairi to power.

Numairi was deposed Monday by a junta of leftist officers in a bloodless coup.

The agency said an aide of Numairi's, ousted with him on Monday, personally read a statement over the radio announcing Numairi's return.

Maj. Ibrahim Abou el Kassem declared a state of emergency throughout the million-square-mile country and a nationwide curfew.

"The ordeal of the Sudan during the past two days is over," an announcement over the radio said.

Numairi, it said, is in good health and "remains the man who is leading and will continue to lead the nation."

Before the pro-Numairi takeover of the radio station, a member of the military junta had urged the Sudanese nation to take to the streets to defend the revolution against "external intervention."

Maj. Hashem Ata, in a statement over Omdurman radio monitored in Cairo, appealed to all Sudanese to speed to the aid of the four-day revolution.

Atta made his broadcast hours after a British airliner carrying two of the new regime's leaders home to Khartoum was forced to land in Libya, where they were taken into custody.

Atta, commander of Sudan's armed forces and vice-chairman of the ruling junta, did not specify from where external intervention came.

Sudanese troops and tanks earlier had surrounded the Egyptian, Libyan and Syrian embassies in Khartoum and the Libyan radio mentioned possible fighting in the capital city.

The Libyan broadcast said it was either a clash among rival army units or a civil insurrection.

The BOAC VC10 was buzzed by Libyan fighters before landing at Bengazi airport, passengers reported. Its landing followed by hours the unexplained crash over Saudi Arabia of a special Iraqi airliner bound for Khartoum with an Iraqi delegation to the new Sudanese regime.

Libya's government radio reported possible fighting in the Sudanese capital "between rival units of the Sudanese army or as a result of a civil insurrection."

It said Sudan's Omdurman radio was broadcasting "appeals to the people," but did not explain the appeals or say what they contained.

'SECRET PAPERS'

Buckley's Hoax: Ethical Vacuum

NEW YORK (AP) — William F. Buckley Jr., editor of the National Review, says his magazine perpetrated a hoax with fictional Vietnam papers to show that such forgeries "would be widely accepted as genuine provided their content was inherently plausible."

Buckley revealed the elaborate spoof Wednesday after a large segment of the American news media had carried stories on what the magazine called "highly classified government documents relating to the Vietnam war."

"We admit we proceeded in something of an ethical vacuum," Buckley told newsmen with a broad grin, but he suggested that somewhere in the government archives were real documents similar to the forgeries printed in the magazine.

"The point is that the papers, or something like them, must have been written," he said. "Therefore, one concludes that the difficulty was not that the Pentagon and the CIA gave LBJ bad advice, but that LBJ didn't take good advice."

Another aim of the hoax, he said, was to demonstrate "that the Pentagon and the CIA are not composed of incompetents—the unwarranted conclusion to which many were led by the fragmentary revelations of the New York Times and The Washington Post."

DIDN'T PUBLISH
Appearing under the title, "The Secret Papers They Didn't Publish," the National Review "documents" included dispatches attributed to former Secretary of State Dean Rusk, the CIA and others. Most were dated in the early 1960s.

Suspicions of a hoax grew when several of the persons listed as authors said they couldn't recall writing the "documents." Social historian Daniel Boorstin flatly denied writing a memo the magazine credited to him.

Buckley, who had been unavailable for comment when the magazine was released to the press, said at the Wednesday news conference that the "documents" were composed by editors of the magazine "ex nihilo"—out of nothing.

The New York Times, however, said today that at least some of the "documents" were composed by New York Times and from the published statements of the persons credited with authorship by the magazine.

'HALF IN FUN'
The Times said the first two memorandums quoted in the National Review were in fact excerpted from actual memorandums printed by the Times in its series in June and July about the secret Pentagon study of American involvement in the war.

Buckley, who has been championing the right wing and sticking pins in liberals since his days at Yale University, has been known to enjoy a put-on in the past.

He ran for mayor of New York City in 1965 "half in fun," telling newsmen that if elected his first act would be to "demand a recount." That wasn't necessary as he lost to John V. Lindsay.

One of 10 children of a millionaire Connecticut oilman, Buckley evinced an early interest in politics when at the age of 6 he wrote a letter to King George V suggesting England pay its war debt.

He first came to national attention in 1951 when, fresh out of school, he wrote "God and Man at Yale," a scathing indictment of his alma mater which he claimed was drifting to leftism.

1,132 IN TEXAS KILLED BY VEE

State Hurries To Shield Horses From Dread Disease

HOUSTON (AP) — Federal officials continued both aerial and ground warfare today against Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) with special emphasis on Texas and Oklahoma in a five-state inoculation program.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture emergency headquarters here said the number of dead horses from the sleeping sickness disease reached 1,132 in Texas Wednesday. It was a sharp increase from Tuesday's 875.

MORE SHOTS
USDA officials also reported an additional 1,469 suspected cases.

VEE VACCINE FEARS Drug May Contribute To Spread Of Malady

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vaccine shipped by the case to Texas and surrounding states to fight a disease ravaging thousands of horses may contribute to its spread, says a former germ-warfare scientist who helped develop the drug.

Dr. Frank Hardy, now a virologist with the Food and Drug Administration, said in an interview the vaccine could—in theory—become a virulent agent itself.

He urged controlled vaccination studies in states not yet affected by the Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis that already has killed 1,132 horses in Texas. Nearly 1,500 horses are sick from the disease.

SICK, SICK
Hardy said blood tests, including one he developed, are available to determine if the VEE virus in the vaccine can revert to its "wild" state.

The vaccine was developed by Army scientists in the early 1960s in a project that turned out an anti-human biological-warfare weapon consisting of live viruses that would produce VEE, a brain disease Hardy said would leave "an enemy damn sick without killing him."

The 46-year-old scientist speaks from experience. He said he and other workers at the Army's now-disbanded laboratories at Ft. Detrick, Md., were sickened from exposure to live virus in the course of their work.

"It's like the worst case of flu you ever had," he said.

"There's intense headache, with aches and general malaise all over the body—and some people have a tremendously high fever of up to 104 degrees for about a week."

Federal officials earmarked 676,000 doses of horse vaccine for Texas, 105,000 each for Arkansas and Oklahoma, 100,000 for Louisiana, and 70,000 for New Mexico.

"It is possible the number of doses for Texas and Oklahoma may have to be increased," said Sid Moore of the USDA's emergency headquarters.

Officials said Wednesday they hoped to have the full five-state inoculation program underway by Friday.

Aerial spraying continued today where weather permitted. Specially equipped Air Force planes from Ellington Air Force base were scheduled to spray portions of Chambers County and Matagorda County along the mid-Texas coast today.

Moore said contracts will be awarded for spraying the Corpus Christi area, where he said a Texas A&M team now is making a survey of adult mosquitoes.

Horse deaths from the disease were reported in nine Texas counties—Cameron, Hidalgo, Nueces, San Patricio, Aransas, Calhoun, Starr, Live Oak and Bexar.

BAD WEATHER

Moore said there were five unconfirmed cases in Oklahoma, including one dead horse. No suspicious cases were reported in Arkansas or Louisiana.

All horses in Louisiana were quarantined Wednesday in preparation for the start of the statewide vaccinations Friday. Similar restrictions placed on Texas horses last week were modified to permit owners to

GOP Leaders Expecting Agnew To Be On Ticket

DENVER (AP) — A survey of Republican organization leaders indicates most of those President Spiro T. Agnew will be renominated in 1972. But there is an undertone of dissent.

NIXON'S CHOICE
A minority scattered from the East to the Midwest and Texas said it is time for a change.

A cross-section of Republican state chairmen and national committee members surveyed by The Associated Press signaled wide support within the GOP organization for Agnew's renomination, and a general anticipation he will be President Nixon's choice.

The Republican state chairmen and the national committee members, two from each state, began a three-day conference in Denver today.

One major item of business: selection of a site for the party's 1972 presidential nominating convention.

But President Nixon has expressed no preference, leaving the possibility Republicans might decide to go to Miami Beach, where Democrats will hold their 1972 convention beginning July 10.

The party leaders were surveyed in advance of the Denver session and, in some cases, before Nixon's announcement of his planned mission to Communist China had underscored Agnew's past differences with administration overtures toward Peking.

Thirty-five GOP leaders said they expect Agnew will be chosen to run again with Nixon; 15 others said simply the choice is up to Nixon and they will abide by his wishes.

NEW FACE

Seventy of the GOP leaders responded; eight said they believe Agnew should be replaced; four others said it is possible he will be dropped from the ticket.

The others reserved judgment.

"The President is going to have to make up his mind first," said John Andrews, Republican chairman of Ohio. "Then so will the vice president. Past history favors his return."

But the Texas GOP chairman, Dr. George Willeford of Austin, said he doesn't think Agnew will be back. "I personally like Agnew... but I'm not sure he's good for the ticket," Willeford said. "I think a new face on the ticket would help."

Another Republican leader said he thinks the vice president will be replaced, and suggested Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally for the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

State Mental Health Board Schedules Session Here

Members of the Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation will be in Big Spring Friday for an inspection of Big Spring State Hospital and to hold a business session there.

It will be the first time there has been such board action held at the local institution and the first visit to Big Spring for several members since their appointment.

Due to be here are Joe K. Butler, Houston, chairman of the board; O. J. Baker, former member of the staff of Prairie View A&M College; Dr. Olin B. Gober, chief of staff at Scott and White Memorial Hospital, Temple; Jess M. Osburn, banker-rancher of Muleshoe and a veteran member of the board; Bernie E. Rushing Jr., Lubbock, vice president of Hemphill-Wells; and Edwin R. VanZandt, editor of Beaumont.

Three other members, Dr. Walter A. Brooks, Mrs. Howard E. Butt and Dr. L. G. Cigarroa, will be unable to make the trip.

Dr. David Wade, state commissioner for Mental Health and Retardation, will head the department staff, which will include E. M. Scott, W. G. Kirklin, Dr. Ira Tunnell, Bill J. Doggett, Harley Pershing, Richard Bruner, Dr. William McIsaac and Joe Woods.

The group is due in Big Spring about 4 p.m. and will tour local facilities, hold a business session, and remain here overnight. The visitors are to be honored at a dinner at the Big Spring Country Club Friday evening, with city and county officials and directors of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation serving as hosts. Local hospital officials also will attend the affair. Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, will receive officials at the hospital.

The MH-MR officials are in process of visiting all department facilities. On this week's tour, they will fly Friday morning from Austin to San Antonio to visit the state hospital there; will go next to Kerrville to inspect various facilities; and after lunch there will fly into Big Spring. Saturday, the group goes to San Angelo to inspect the school for mentally retarded at nearby Carlsbad, then to Abilene and back to Austin.

Similar tours have taken board and staff members to other parts of the state. Said board chairman Butler: "We think it essential the board visit all the institutions and facilities to help us gain personal knowledge of the programs, plans and problems of the department we supervise."

Barnes Tired Of Attempts To Link Him With 'Fraud'

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, in the opening stage of an extended campaign for governor, says McCarthy-like tactics are being used to try to link him to a federal probe of stock manipulations.

Although Barnes did not name them directly, he left little doubt he was blaming investigators of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission.

Barnes, flushed with anger, told an impromptu news conference Wednesday that "I'm sick and tired of the attempts being made to drag me into the SEC investigation."

DALLAS 'SCOOP'

He said a story was "leaked" to the Dallas Times Herald which ran in Wednesday's edition under the headline "Barnes-Healy stock link told."

"It out-McCarthyed Joe McCarthy," Barnes said.

Barnes said he got so mad after an aide called him in Waco to tell him about the story he "could not even make a good speech" to a Democratic women's organization there.

The story said Barnes introduced Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah to Ling & Co., the financial firm "which handled the National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock sales."

SPECIAL SESSION

An SEC suit against Houston millionaire Frank Sharp and 27 other persons and firms alleged that NBL stock was manipulated to influence passage of two banking bills in a special session of the 1969 legislature.

Barnes said what really happened was that he told several people, including Healy, in 1968, that Gary Boren of Ling & Co. had recommended Southern Gulf Utilities stock.

"It was completely unrelated to National Bankers Life," Barnes said. "Time and time again they have tried to bring my name into this..."

"It's politics of the lowest level," he added.

Barnes said he had heard from lawyers sitting in on closed-door hearings by SEC investigators "and other sources" that "they ask nearly every witness a question about me."

"A federal employee involved in the investigation told three newspaper people in another city, 'we're trying to get Barnes involved any way we can,'" Barnes said.

VERY CRUEL

"I find this, by God, very cruel," Barnes said.

Barnes said the conversation between the newspaper people, including a publisher, and the federal employee took place more than a month ago, and the publisher refused to print the story.

"Every time they—and Barnes did not specify who they were—get a chance to pick up a handful of smut and throw it my way," Barnes said.

Asked if he thought the Republican party was instigating questions about Barnes, he replied, "I don't know if it's the Republican party, but someone is doing it."

He said "if it doesn't stop, I'd like to talk to (U.S. Atty. Gen.) John Mitchell about it—go all the way to the top."

Barnes said he had not been contacted "by anybody" about the SEC investigation. "I've got nothing I want kept confidential," he said.

HARMLESS TO ME

In answer to questions, Barnes said he telephoned Speaker Gus Mutscher in 1969 and told him the two banking bills "would not pass unless someone got (Sen. Bill) Patman off of it (sic)."

Patman (of Ganado) represents the senatorial district Mutscher lives in.

Barnes said he called Mutscher because the speaker had indicated he was interested in the bills.

Ecology Boom Has Dangers

AUSTIN — The new boom in local ecology action projects may be creating a new form of accident problem along Texas highways according to a state safety expert.

J. U. Parker, a Houston safety consultant who is president of the Texas Safety Association, said that at least two persons have been killed in auto-pedestrian accidents recently while taking part in such projects.

"In each case, volunteer groups were engaged in projects of removing litter and refuse from the highway right-of-way. While these projects are no doubt beneficial, they can also lead to tragedy unless proper precautions are taken," said Parker.

"There also have been several reports of minor collisions occurring as vehicles try to avoid hitting members of groups participating in such projects," he commented.

Proper precautions according to the TSA president includes clearing such projects with the District engineer of the Texas Highway Department.

"When you mix vehicles traveling at 70 m.p.h. and pedestrians on a highway, you have a potential for disaster," Parker warned.

Parker suggested that pedestrians face on-coming traffic when working on highways; cross only when absolutely safe and also at designated points; don't depend on others to watch for your safety; when in groups, work only on one side of the highway at a time to avoid confusing motorists; do not clean up median areas because of inherent danger; don't try cleanup work at dusk or during hours of darkness.

SEWING STARTS — Freddie Casbeer, sewing instructor, is supervising the work of Aggie Kinsland, machine operator, as the Big Spring Dress Co., Inc., begins operations in its new plant. The present staff may expand to more than 250 women. Open house is planned in about two months.

Senate Adds To Military Pay Increase

Reversing itself from a vote on similar legislation two weeks previous, the Senate has added more than 1.7 billion dollars to the Administration's one billion dollar military pay raise proposal for fiscal year 1972.

Unlike the House amendment, which boosts monthly salaries in smaller amounts through the junior grades and increases the quarters allowance for all grades, the Senate version makes no mention of quarters allowances.

The Senate version would offer an airman basic $301.50 monthly. The House amendment will give the same recruit $268.50 monthly, compared with the present salary of $134.40. The Administration proposal was an increase to $201.90.

The increase for some junior officers would be about 33 percent. The newly commissioned second lieutenant would receive $612.30 under the Senate amendment; $495 from the House. His present monthly salary is $450.60. The House and Senate versions will have to be reconciled, probably in a conference committee.

Dress Company Begins Production

A skeleton staff has begun operations at the Big Spring Dress Co., Inc., according to Tom Cottone, production manager for the IBJ Corporation.

"We have eight women working with our instructor," he said. "When they are trained we will add more women until we complete our first work unit of 50 women."

The goal of the company is to have five units of 50 women in operation within about two years. The factory will assemble dresses and pants from material cut to size in Dallas and shipped to Big Spring.

The machine operators are happy with the new factory, according to Aggie Kinsland, machine operator. "This is the first time I have ever used brand new equipment."

The manager of the local factory, Harold M. Legendre, will arrive within a month. He is now working in Kansas City and has more than 30 years experience.

"Jobs are still open," said Cottone, "and we welcome anyone who wants to apply. In about two months we will have an open house, when we hope to have production going well."

Use Pesticides With Caution

Certain steps should be followed before using any pesticide, according to County Agricultural Agent Paul Gross. First of all, be sure there is a need to use a pesticide. Check the garden or field closely to determine whether insect pests are present and the amount of damage that is being done. Identify the insect or contact Gross for assistance.

The next step is to select the proper pesticide for the particular job. Check the label carefully to be sure that the pesticide can be used safely on the crop in your field or garden, said Gross. Pay particular attention to the waiting period described on the label which identifies the number of days required from the time of application until harvesting, grazing or other use of the crop.

ASCS Equities Deadline July 31

RALEIGH, N.C. — Farmers participating in the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) cotton loan program administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) have until July 31 to redeem their equities in amounts up to $15 per bale, Cotton Incorporated announced today.

J. Dukes Wooters Jr., executive vice president and general manager of Cotton Inc., urged cotton producers to analyze their loan situation and contact local buyers at once to determine the amount of their equities.

Form A loans totaling 46,727 bales and form G cooperative loans totaling 237,776 bales were still unredeemed by July 9, according to Ed Burns, director, Market News Section, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Cotton Division, Memphis, Tenn.

Loans in Texas totaled 7,768 bales for the form A and 71,658 bales for the form G on July 9, Burns reported. Wooters said, WEATHER FORECAST — Afternoon and evening thundershowers are forecast for most of the nation today according to the National Weather Service. Temperatures will continue warm in the southern parts of the country with somewhat cooler air expected for the Northern Plains and Great Lakes.

'Oops' Just Not Enough

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Most drivers have suffered the chagrin of a minor parking accident at one time or another.

But a simple "oops" just doesn't seem sufficient for one involving a 200-ton jetliner.

It happened Wednesday when an American Airlines 747 jumbo jet with 165 passengers aboard accidentally coasted past a docking gate at Los Angeles International Airport after safely landing here from Boston.

Officers at the airline said the nose of the jet smashed through the second-story window of the airport terminal, giving those inside a close look at the startled cockpit crew.

There were no injuries and only minor damage was caused to the building. Officials said damage to the plane was limited mainly to the jet's nose and the expensive radar gear it houses.

Ronnie Palmer Named Jaycee-Of-The-Month

Ronnie Palmer has been named Jaycee of the month of June it was announced in the past meeting of the local Jaycees.

Palmer, who is the director in charge of the Jaycee office and who has been considered by the organization as an all-around leader in other projects of the club since his becoming a Jaycee only eight months ago, was awarded the honor for his outstanding service in the organization, according to Jaycee president Capt. R. K. Taylor.

Palmer, the parts manager for Barney Toland Volkswagen, is also on the Jaycee board of directors as community affairs director.

Member dues in the organization will be raised due to an increase in the state organization dues, effective immediately, Aug. 1 is the deadline for each member to pay the increase, said Eddie Cole, inner vice president.

The second reading on the nomination of Bobby Brazel for the vacant director position on the board was held in the Monday meeting. There have been no other nominations.

Bill Sneed brought the program Monday on water conservation and gardening around the house and Ken Gafford, inner-club director, announced that there will be an upcoming Area 1-B convention in Midland July 30-31, and there also will be an Area 1-C convention in Sweetwater on Aug. 13-15.

VEE Effect On Stock Insurance Is Uncertain

Livestock owners may have difficulty obtaining insurance on their horses because of the Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis epidemic affecting the Southwest.

Present policy holders need not worry. They are covered from the VEE horse disease, if their policy has general mortality coverage, said an official from one local insurance company.

Most companies that carry livestock insurance are unsure about how policies will be affected by the epidemic and the experimental vaccine being used to combat it.

"We've had no claims filed here," said one insurance company executive. "If we do get one, then we'll know a little more about the situation."

New livestock policies are excluding coverage from VEE, said one insurance official. But the ban will probably be lifted when the quarantine ends, he said.

Another insurance official said that if a horse was examined by a veterinarian, and judged well, then a livestock owner could probably get insurance for it, especially in this area, since there have been no local reports of VEE.

DEATHS

Cremation Probable For Rae Bourbon

Funeral arrangements for Rae Bourbon, 78, one-time entertainer convicted in connection with the murder of A. D. Blount, pet shop owner, are being finalized by Bourbon's former defense lawyers and Nalley-Pickie Funeral Home.

According to information from the funeral home, there is final paper work to be completed before definite plans can be announced but it is thought that Bourbon's body will be cremated and the ashes taken to Coconut Grove, Fla.

The former nightclub and vaudeville performer, who billed himself as a female impersonator, died Monday in Big Spring State Hospital. He had been transferred to Big Spring from Brown County jail where he had been awaiting word on an appeal of his 99-year sentence assessed him as an accessory in the Big Spring murder.

While in jail, Bourbon told reporters that he had written and autobiography recalling his career during the early years of Hollywood. He was reported to have been a protégé of Mae West and to have performed for heads of state and European royalty. He listed among his acquaintances Rudolph Valentino, Gloria Swanson, Pola Negri and other famous stars of the silent screen.

Webb Gets New Dental Surgeon

A man who began his military career with the Army's 11th Airborne Division assumed duties recently as base dental surgeon at Webb AFB.

He is Lt. Col. Harold Hanson, who came here from his last duty assignment at Maxwell AFB, Ala. Col. Hanson replaces Col. Paul Sproule, now assigned to Hamilton AFB, Calif.

When Col. Hanson was in the Army in 1943 he was a radio operator. He served in the Philippines, Okinawa and Japan during World War II.

After being separated in May, 1946, the colonel attended the University of Minnesota, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in 1949. He went on to study dentistry and was awarded his doctor of dental surgery degree in 1953 from the same university.

Col. Hanson again entered military service, this time the Air Force, and was assigned to Yokota AB, Japan. He was released from active duty in 1955 and went into private practice until 1957 when he came back into the Air Force. He was then sent to Eglin AFB, Fla., where he stayed one year.

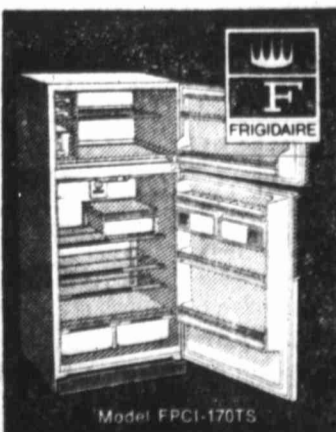

From 1958 till 1961 he was assigned to Shaw AFB, S.C. In the summer of that year, Col. Hanson worked at his prosthetics residency at the University of Texas at Houston and at Wilford-Hall Hospital San Antonio. Following this residency, he went to Wiesbaden AB, Germany, serving as the chief of prosthetics.

Astros Relaxing For Monday's Trip

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 15 astronauts today eased off on a heavy training program that began 16 months ago, relaxing for Monday's blastoff to the moon and one of history's most important scientific explorations.

David R. Scott and James B. Irwin planned a review of procedures to be followed before and after the three excursions they are to make during 67 hours on the lunar surface.

EXPLORE BELOW

Included are depressurizing and repressurizing the lunar module cabin, donning and removing suits and checking communications and life support systems.

Alfred M. Worden scheduled some time in the command module simulator, rehearsing maneuvers and science experiments planned for the three days he is to orbit the moon while his companions explore below.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said today marks the start of a more relaxing schedule as launch day nears. Scott, Irwin and Worden, who began training for the mission in March, 1970, are scheduled to start their 12-day journey on a Saturn 5 rocket at 9:34 a.m. EDT Monday.

"They are in excellent condition for launch," Dr. Charles A. Berry, the astronauts' chief physician said after they had been examined by a team of three specialists for four hours. The doctors also gathered medical data for in-flight and post-flight comparison.

DAILY CHECKUPS

The astronauts will receive brief daily checkups until launch day.

At the launch pad, the countdown, which began Tuesday, continued smoothly.

During the night, crews loaded gaseous helium to pressurize fuel tanks in the command ship and conducted leak checks of the lunar module tanks.

Scott and Irwin are to land on the moon July 30 at a site they call Hadley Apennine. It is surrounded by the 15,000-foot-tall peaks of the Apennine Mountains and a meandering gorge named Hadley Rille.

The site was selected because

Booklet Says Oil Gap Might Be Increasing

DALLAS — Texas' ability to fill the gap in an oil shortage may be fading.

This uncomfortable fact is pointed out in a new leaflet just released by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. Called "71 Facts about Texas Oil and Gas", it points out that Texas reserves of oil and gas are being used faster than new ones are being discovered.

Texas production again hit a new high in 1970, but reserves of both oil and gas skidded for oil well: Texas has produced 34.4 billion barrels of oil, or 36 per cent of the U. S. total; Texas oilmen drilled 8,114 wells last year; Texas has derived $80.8 billion from crude oil sales; and Texas remains the state's number one taxpayer with 1970 payments of $319 million. CITY FACING $250,000 BUDGET GAP General Fund Has $35,000 Deficit

By BRIAN PEAY

A $250,000 increase in operational costs, revenue deficits and needed improvements face the city of Big Spring as officials begin to formulate the budget for the 1971-72 fiscal year, according to estimates made by former city finance officer and secretary, Charles Smith.

In a briefing session held by the city commission and administrative personnel on public works and finance problems before Smith left to take a place at Lake Jackson, he presented a net summary report for the current fiscal year and its effects on the coming 1971-72 budget.

He explained to the commission that there are four categories where more money will be required by the city for the next year.

These are the city's general fund, interest and sinking fund, water costs and capital improvement.

An approximate $35,000 in the general fund will have to be worked out in the next city budget, Smith pointed out to the commission.

Two of the areas in the general fund which have contributed to the loss of projected revenues for the current fiscal year are court fines and penalties, also the sanitation department.

Officials projected at the beginning of the year that the municipal court would bring in approximately $64,000, but after seven months of the year had elapsed a second estimate revealed that the court revenues for the year will only total $44,000.

A total of $278,000 was anticipated in revenue in the trash and garbage department. The second estimate, with the advantage of the seven-month hindsight, showed that the department revenues will total only $245,000 for the current year. Over the past few years, the squeeze has been on the interest and sinking fund, and this year more revenues will be required for debt service. In 1960 the city adopted the Master Plan and its supporting $4,300,000 bond issue, and over the years there has been a gradual attrition of the interest and sinking fund balance. This year, said Smith, the fund must have an additional $65,000 to meet obligations.

Another contributing cause to the $250,000 gap between projected income and outgo is a $50,000 deficit between water payments to the Colorado River Municipal Water District and the revenue the city receives from its water department. The CRMWD raised water rates in the district member cities in January because of heavy expenditures to extend the supply system. However, the city's rates to its customers were not changed until June 1, leaving a six-month lag in which the city sold water to its customers at the old rate while paying a new and higher rate to the CRMWD.

One of the major contributors to the revenue-expenditure difference is an estimated $100,000 in capital expenditures to bring the city's sewage treatment plant into conformance with state standards.

For the past few years, the city's sewage system was not meeting the minimum standards of the Texas Water Quality Board for effluent of no more than 20 ppm BOD and 20 ppm suspended solids.

Under a plan, which the city was required to submit by July 15, were proposals for a chlorination contact chamber compatible with the trickling filter treatment plant built in 1962, at a cost of $40,000, according to Nolen Chafin, director of public works.

"The city also must spend an additional $60,000 to correct the infiltration of salt water in the main sewer trunk lines by utilizing a program of grouting," said Chafin. The work is something that cannot be delayed because the state board could impose a fine of $1,000 a day on the city if it fails to meet effluent quality standards.

"The City of Big Spring is not yet faced with an irretrievable financial situation to warrant increased taxes and cost of services, but we are right on the edge of a point of no return," said Jack Watkins, city commissioner. Controlled expenditures is the answer to the problem, he added. Mayor Pro Tem Wade Choate concurred.

"I think the city is being run as efficiently as possible, observed Mayor Arnold Marshall. "and we do have some severe problems. One way to solve these would be to cut expenditures, but let us keep in mind that this would also mean cutting some services."

Gail Educator Gets Award

James McLeroy, Gail, superintendent of Borden County Schools, is one of only 12 school administrators to receive the Distinguished Service Award of the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association of Texas.

He will be cited at an Aug. 4 breakfast at the association's annual meeting in Dallas for outstanding service to their schools, community and support of the vocational agriculture program.

Among legislators receiving the award will be State Rep. Elmer Tarbox, Lubbock, former Big Spring resident.

CAP Singing Squad Due Here

An encampment this weekend will bring the Civil Air Patrol's only singing squadron back to Webb AFB, the site of their swearing in.

Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, wing commander, swore in the group from Odessa on Armed Forces Day.

The squadron chorals will perform Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. at the Service Club. As a Glee Club the group of Cadets have performed in and around the Odessa area and are getting ready to tour Air Force bases in Texas.

LOOK AT BOOKS Former Big Springer Writes Child's Book

Ernest Jones, who moved to Big Spring in 1919 and was editor for The Herald, is the author of a novel for children just published by Lo-Wano Books, a new imprint.

"Mike and His Talking Trunk" is a 24,000-word story in large type on heavy white paper about a boy, 10, and his stunted little elephant, Pack, and their adventures in the Big Thicket of southeast Texas.

They are trying to reach a young educated Indian friend at the Alabama-Coushatta Reservation near Livingston.

Pack learns to talk. He sounds just like Karl Kappel, the kindly old midget who had adopted the orphan and brought the elephant from a cruel owner. Karl's death at Port Arthur has left boy and elephant destitute and without a home.

Jones, who has been writing 45 years for Texas and California newspapers, has won four journalistic awards in the last two years. He and his wife, Lois, live in Carrollton, where he is employed part-time on three Dallas area suburban newspapers.

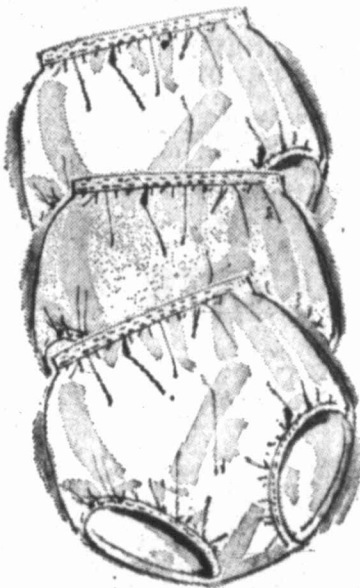

"I had more fun writing this book than anything I have done," Jones said. The novel is dedicated to his four grandchildren. It has been purchased for school libraries in two cities. Orders for copies at $1.75 each may be mailed to the author, whose address is 2200 Highway 77 North, Box 120, Carrollton, Texas 75006.

Bonus Baby Leads Sens Past Milwaukee, 6-1

By The Associated Press
 A major league contract was one of the Washington Senators' selling points in luring bonus baby Pete Broberg, now the big right-handed pitcher is selling the club on his ability.
 The 6-3, 205-pound rookie from Dartmouth College hurled his best game in his brief major league career Wednesday night, handcuffing Milwaukee on five hits and seven strikeouts as the Senators defeated the Brewers 6-1.
 Elsewhere in the American League, Kansas City trimmed Baltimore 7-2; Boston downed Chicago 6-1; Oakland shaded Cleveland 4-3 in 12 innings; Detroit split with California, winning the opener of a twi-night doubleheader 6-3 in 11 innings and losing the second game 7-6; and Minnesota edged New York 2-1.

SPURNED OFFER
 Broberg, the Senators No. 1 choice in the secondary phase of last month's baseball draft originally was picked by Oakland when he graduated from high school in 1968. But he rejected a reported $175,000 offer from A's owner Charles O. Finley.
 This time, another huge bonus—an estimated $150,000—and the chance to start pitching immediately in the majors sold Broberg on the Senators.
 After the youngster pitched his first complete game in the majors, beating Cleveland 9-4 with a six-hitter on July 4, Manager Ted Williams enthused:
 "That boy may never see the minors."
 In seven games with Washington, Broberg has allowed only 40 hits in 48 1-3 innings, struck out 35, walked 20 and boasts a sparkling 2.98 earned run average.
 Ironically, it was the Brewers—and not the Senators—who were planning to draft Broberg first. Before the session in New York, owner Bob Short of Washington had been talking about selecting Rob Ellis, an infielder-oufielder from Michigan State Univer-

McCovey Homers, Bucs Fall To Giants, 8-4

By The Associated Press
 When Willie McCovey speaks, everyone listens . . . and when he hits, everyone watches.
 McCovey, the biggest and strongest brute in San Francisco's power-packed lineup, let his bat do the talking as usual and hit a grand slam that clobbered Pittsburgh 8-4 Wednesday night.
 His two-out wallop off Pittsburgh's ace reliever, Dave Giusti, capped a six-run ninth inning that led the Giants back from a 4-2 deficit.
 The comeback victory was a lift for San Francisco, trying to beat off Los Angeles' pennant bid in the National League West. It gave the Giants an eight-game lead after the Dodgers lost to Cincinnati 6-2.
 In the other games, the Montreal Expos stopped the Houston Astros 5-3; the Chicago Cubs whacked the New York Mets 11-7; the St. Louis Cardinals turned back the Philadelphia Phillies 6-1 and the Atlanta Braves took a doubleheader from the San Diego Padres 8-7 in 11 innings and 1-0.
 Dick Dietz opened the Giants'

Pirates Edge Kiwanis, 3-2

The Pirates wound up their Hi-Junior Teen-Age league season with a 9-7 record by defeating the Kiwanians, 3-2 here Wednesday night.
 The Kiwanians dropped back to a 5-11 mark. Wayne Dickens pitched the Kiwanians into defeat, limiting the losers to five hits. He fanned nine.
 Barry Truett collected two of the Bucs' six hits and scored twice.
 Nate Poss banged out a double for the Pirates while Jeff Kuykendall and Alan Hill each had a single.
 Johnny Tonn accounted for two of the Kiwanians' safeties. Others came off the bats of Gary Stevenson, J. T. Smith and Wes Seay.
 The win nailed down second place for the Pirates. The Big Spring Hardware Tigers won the championship last week and will represent Big Spring in the district tournament next week.
 The Tigers will not learn the identity of their first round opponent until Wednesday night.
 Pirates: 000 010 1-3 4
 Kiwanis: 000 010 1-2 5

LOOKING 'EM OVER
 With Tommy Hart

Have you heard about that hopelessly-hooked golfer who showed up at home long after he was due and was admonished by a wife who had long since reached the end of her patience.
 "You wouldn't believe the things that happened to me," her husband began to explain. "First, I got a flat tire on the way to pick up Joe. He had overslept and I had to wake him up. He wanted to stop somewhere for breakfast. For that reason we missed our tee-off time."
 "We had to wait three hours before the pro would let us out on the course. Joe went into the bar and tanked up and I had to get him half way sober before he could start."
 "We ran out of balls after about the fourth hole and had to send back to the clubhouse for more. At nine, Joe insisted we drink a couple of beers. Then, on about 15 Joe flat passed out cold. After that, it was hit the ball and drag Joe, hit the ball and drag Joe . . ."
 Some people connected with the District Hi-Junior Baseball Tournament in Odessa are again trying to give the Big Spring entry a fast shuffle in the pairings.
 They would waive a couple of Odessa teams in the five-team field to the semifinals and assigned Big Spring to the tougher bracket.
 Under such an arrangement, Big Spring could win its first game and double right back to play the same evening. The local team should have the right of veto with such a plan. A team should not have to play more than once a night, regardless of how long the tournament runs.
 Muhammad Ali told intimates he would have been just as happy to go to jail for five years in the case which saw him originally convicted of draft evasion. Some of the lawyers who have bled him dry in his court fight and his appeal are the real wrongdoers in the cause celebre.
 Comedian Joey Bishop, who has been assigned to do the color commentary of the Muhammad Ali-Jimmy Ellis fight Monday night in Houston, has an appetite for the boxing game that hasn't been sated since he was a boy back in Philadelphia.
 Philadelphia has always been a good fight town. Joey's sire was attracted to the sport, too. When he was eight, Joey sold papers at the Jack Dempsey-Gene Tunney fight, which took place not far from his home, in Municipal Stadium in South Philly.
 Young Bishop carried the round cards when Penn State's Steve Hamas (you date back if you can recall Hamas and his derby hat) defeated Max Schmeling. Joey also worked as an usher when Benny Bass fought Cleto Locatelli.
 Bishop saw the cream of the Philadelphia fight colony, men like Midget Woigast and Tommy Loughran, rise to the top. When he was working the night club circuit, Joey had a clause in his contract which permitted him to attend the big fights in the city where he was working. He was in Cleveland the evening Sugar Ray Robinson put Jimmy Doyle to sleep.
 When Bishop had his own TV show, he had boxers appear with him frequently. He even sparred with Rocky Marciano on one program. He has hosted Archie Moore, Joe Lewis, Muhammad Ali and others.
 A lot of entertainers cultivate friendships with fisticuffers but Bishop is a little more knowledgeable about the endeavor than most of them.
 Bishop says the greatest fight he ever saw was the bout abandoned between Marciano and Jersey Joe Walcott in 1952, when Rocky abandoned the role of the challenger to become the champion. He lists Willie Pep, Ray Robinson, Marciano and Moore as the best he's seen in the trade.
 Of his unique assignment Monday night, the one-time middle-weight boxer says:
 "I'll probably get mike fright."

ERROR HURT

Clemente's single skipped past Mays in the seventh and the Pittsburgh right-fielder came all the way around to tie the game 2-2. Manny Sanguillen then homered to put the Pirates ahead and they scored another run in the eighth to take a short-lived 4-2 lead.
 Gary Nolan scattered seven hits and batted in two runs in a five-run third inning to lead Cincinnati over slumping Los Angeles, which lost its sixth in seven games.

CLIMAX TO A FINE HI-JUNIOR LEAGUE SEASON — Dr. J. W. Kuykendall, an official in the Teen-Age baseball program here, is shown presenting the Hi-Junior League championship trophy to three members of the Big Spring Hardware club. From the left, the boys are Troy Kerby, Alan Davis and Earl Reynolds. The Tigers are marking time for the district playoffs. Coach of the Hardware team is Harold Davis.

Texans Win, 7-2, In Tournament Here

Clem Sanchez pitched five innings of shutout ball in leading the Big Spring Texas League team to a 7-2 victory over Midland Western in a first round game of the District 3 Little League tournament here Wednesday evening.

Sanchez, who fanned nine, yielded five hits. He lost his shutout in the sixth when Joe Morales and Robbie Roberson crossed the plate.

The Texans struck for four runs in the initial round and that was all the working margin Sanchez needed.

Roberson of Midland and Arthur Olague of the Texans were the only players in the game to get as many as two hits.

Sanchez and Elroy Jackson each scored twice for the Big Spring team.

Two Midland teams, Eastern and Southern, clash in tonight's game on the National League diamond. The contest starts at 8 o'clock.

Winner of that contest comes back Wednesday night to tangle with the Texans. The 11-team meet — which has five Midland and three Big Spring teams still scrapping for the championship — continues through July 29.

The Big Spring Americans swing into action Friday night against Midland North Central as first round play draws to a halt.

Big Spring National, which drew the first round bye, plays Midland Northwestern Saturday night for the right to appear in next week's semifinals.

Winner of the tournament plays the Lubbock survivor in bi-district competition, with the winner there advancing to the State meet at Waco next month.

NEEDS TENTH GAME LeFevre Moving To Balmorhea

Native Big Springer Zay LeFevre, head coach at New Home the past two years, has resigned to take a similar job at Balmorhea, a District 7-B school destined to be promoted to Class A circles next year.

LeFevre, a basketball stand-out here at one time, will coach football, basketball and track the coming school year. Other members of 7-B are Grandfalls, Imperial, Fort Hancock, Dell City and Anthony.

"I need another game to complete our schedule and I need two scrimmages this fall," LeFevre said, after announcing plans to move to Balmorhea.

Balmorhea has an open date Sept. 24 and LeFevre said the team would play away from home, if the other coach wanted it that way.

The Bears open their season Sept. 9 against the Alpine JVs at home.

"We arranged one game against a JV team because games are so hard to schedule in our part of the country," LeFevre stated.

ZAY LEFEVRE

LeFevre, who coached at Fortsan and Tilden before going to New Home, succeeds Pete Salgado as head coach. Under Salgado last fall, Balmorhea finished with a 4-6 record. Salgado will go to work for the El Paso school system.

Bob Patton, who was working on his degree last year, will be one of LeFevre's assistants. LeFevre has been authorized another helper and will probably hire him during the coaching school at Fort Worth.

Charley Brewer replaces Zay as coach at New Home.

Balmorhea has 18 lettermen back from last season, only one of whom will be a senior this fall. Grandfalls was the 7-B winner a year ago.

Branstetter's Quick Work Saved Burchett's Life

Shortly after Bill Burchett of Big Spring and his University of Houston football team mate, Kent Branstetter, reported for work at the A. O. Smith Company the night of July 8, they went to the boiler room to drain water from the enclosure and to shovel out mud.

It was a simple, routine task often handled by one man.

Fortunately for Burchett, he wasn't alone.

"Kent and I had attached a hose to the main pump to suck out the water," Burchett recalled later, while lying in a Memorial Baptist Hospital bed.

"The water had receded to about 3 1/2 feet so we began to get ready to do the rest by hand."

"I went to secure another hose, but when I went to straighten it out, it was twisted badly. I pulled and pulled, but I still lacked four or five yards from getting it to Kent. Suddenly, it untangled and I was pulling so hard that when it freed, I stumbled backward."

Behind Burchett was a large vat of boiling water. Bill tumbled back hard but he somehow managed to grab the edge of the vat and hold on. His legs were immediately immersed in the water. Bill screamed in agony.

Branstetter said later he didn't know how Burchett held on as long as he did.

"He has some kind of strength for a little (180 pounds) man," Branstetter added.

"It was only a few seconds before I reached him, but he was already in bad shape — I could tell by the screaming. I grabbed him by the collar and lifted him out."

"When I ripped off his clothing and rubber boots I got handfuls of skin — burned skin. It was awful. I asked Bill if he thought he could walk. He said he felt all right, but he wasn't sure he could make it to a nearby building."

"By this time I figured he was in a state of shock and would pass out any minute."

Burchett said Branstetter kept reassuring him he'd be okay and he (Kent) would get help.

"He was great," Burchett said. "He didn't panic. He just told me to lie still, keep my eyes wide open and take deep breaths. Before I knew it, he was back with help and I was on my way to the hospital in an ambulance."

Burchett suffered second degree burns from the knees down. He was burned severely as high as the mid-back. The lesser burns have already healed but the more serious burns remain swaddled in heavy bandages.

Hospital doctors say Bill's football career is probably at an end.

"Kent probably saved his life," said ex-West Texan Melvin Robertson. "If Bill had not caught the edge and Kent hadn't lifted him out as quickly as he did, there would have been no saving him."

Burchett alternated with Burl Fuller as the first team left safety in spring training. He was a star quarterback here several years ago.

He will be confined to the hospital at least three more weeks.

Montgomery Goes To Green Bay

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bears traded running back Ross Montgomery Thursday to the Green Bay Packers for corner back Bob Jeter and an undisclosed draft choice.

The Bears, apparently banking on several standout National Football League rookies as ball-carrying prospects, swapped another veteran ball carrier, Ron Bull, to the Philadelphia Eagles Wednesday for an undisclosed draft pick.

Muhammad Eyeing Frazier

HOUSTON (AP) — Muhammad Ali says he's not taking Jimmy Ellis lightly, but thoughts of Joe Frazier are never far away.

"I'll have an advantage the next time I fight Frazier," Ali said Wednesday after training for his Monday fight in the Astrodome against Ellis. "I know how he hits now. I know how he gets tired."

All figures he'll use this match against Ellis as a springboard to another shot at Frazier's title. Ellis thinks he can move up the same way.

And the more Ali talks, the more he becomes convinced he wasn't the real loser in the Frazier fight.

"When a man loses a fight to the public, they don't turn out to see him train like this," said Ali, referring to the overflow crowds that have watched him train daily.

"I don't know why they even question you about Joe Frazier," said Bundini Brown, one of Ali's handlers. "Why he (Ali) played with him for three rounds. Everybody knows that."

"The mouse just got away," Bundini said. "He just got away, that's all. You think I'm giving? Forget about the press. Forget about the referees and the judges—go ask the people. They'll tell you who the champ is."

Despite his talk about having trouble getting in condition, Ali is expected to be ready for Ellis, who already is in top shape.

Ali weighed 224 Wednesday when the two fighters underwent physical exams for their 12-round battle.

Ellis scaled 192.

Ali said he realized the possibility was there that he might get tagged, but he felt experience would carry him through.

"When you get tagged, you should dance away," Ali said. "Tie him up, play the ropes, give yourself a chance to come out of it. It takes 20 seconds."

"You notice Ellis (when he fought Frazier) got hit, and he got up and goes right back in the hitting range. Bob Foster fell, and he got up and went back in the hitting range. They go right back when they're still numb."

TOO WISE
 "Frazier had me out in the 11th. But he couldn't follow up. I'm too experienced."

Ellis sparred two rounds Wednesday and continued to taper off.

"Friday, that's what I'm waiting for," Ellis said. "I think I'll be the aggressor. I'd rather be the man moving in."

Ali said he planned to fight again seven weeks after meeting Ellis.

"I need the work," Ali said. "I got to get ready for Joe Frazier."

He has three good fighters in mind for his next match, he said, but declined to mention per cent. of all income from the possible opponents. All will receive $450,000 or 45 per cent. of all income from the bout, including closed circuit television. Ellis will get 20 per cent. of all income.

LETTER

Pornography
Everybody's Business

TO THE EDITOR:

I recently publicly disparaged Jack Watkins for his attack upon our ex-police chief for the failure to stifle pornography in Big Spring. However, this concern should be shared by more of the responsible citizens of our city.

Pornography can be compared to a fuel. As fuel feeds the energy of a material-consuming flame, pornography feeds the fires of an individual's sex drive. Life provides plentiful fuel for our normal urges, and when we start using gunpowder for fuel, we can expect explosions that tear and maim, instead of sustain, us. Encouraging the flame of life with pornographic material can engulf not only the feeder of the flame, but the innocents around him.

It is not the responsibility of the Supreme Court, City Council, nor any Police Chief to curb pornography. It is the duty of our citizens to pledge personal non-support of the establishments which sell or deliver pornographic material on our streets. These establishments know what pornography is. They display it in segregated locations, and in many instances buy it in the same manner.

I realize this non-support would, if not attempted in a systematic manner, cause some people to travel out of town for their entertainment — and in some cases their food — but if we selected one store, movie, or magazine stand for every month of the year, we would soon convince them that Big Springers want either complete cessation or tighter control of the seemingly flood-like pornographic materials.

If this type action should take place, there are some of us who will be deprived of certain vicarious entertainments that we feel do not harm us as individual adults; but a morally clean city for our children would be worth some sacrifice on the part of people who still believe in bringing up their children in "the way they should walk."

Sincerely,
CHARLES R. BOLAND

Ella Fitzgerald
To Stop Singing

NICE, France (AP) — Ella Fitzgerald is suffering from a blood discharge in her right eye and "it is absolutely necessary that she stop singing for an indefinite period," a doctor who has been treating the jazz singer said today.

Dr. Maurice Guyard said he did not think surgery was necessary and Miss Fitzgerald might not have to be hospitalized. But he said she must have complete rest.

Earlier reports said she had a detached retina.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 22, 1971 SEC. B

ENGINE BLOWS JUST BEFORE TAKEOFF — This is the right inboard engine of a 707 jetliner operator by American Airlines after it blew the engine on takeoff at Love Field in Dallas Wednesday. An Airline official estimated that the four-engine jet would have been airborne 20 seconds later. There were no injuries.

Texas Firm Is Purchased

ABILENE — Merchants, Inc. and Peoples Gas Company have announced they have agreed in principle for Peoples Gas to acquire Merchants, a diversified trucking company based here. Peoples Gas is headquartered in Chicago.

Gene Whitehead, chairman of the board of Merchants, and Robert M. Dreves, president of Peoples Gas, said that subject to necessary approvals their companies would plan to combine through an exchange of shares. Merchants would operate as a subsidiary of Peoples Gas. No change in management or operations at Merchants are anticipated.

The proposal is subject to the execution of a definitive agreement, approval by directors of both companies and stockholders of Merchants, and satisfactory rulings by governmental agencies.

Under the preliminary agreement the nearly 2,100 shareholders of Merchants would receive three-fourths of one share of Peoples Gas common stock in exchange for each share of the trucking firm. At the end of this month Merchants will have 1,438,502 shares of capital stock outstanding as a result of a three-for-two split effective July 5. Peoples Gas, as of June 30, had 16,020,014 shares outstanding. Based on Friday's closing price for Peoples Gas the acquisition cost would be about $37,500,000.

Merchants, Inc. is the parent firm for a group of seven operating companies, the largest of which is a carrier of general commodities operating wholly within the state of Texas. Other subsidiaries transport petroleum liquids and gypsum products and manufacture chain link fencing and lightweight rock aggregate.

Political Pros Share $350,000 In Profits

DALLAS (AP) — Complex financial backgrounds and stock purchases of top Texas officials have been revealed in new depositions filed in the Securities and Exchange suit against the National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

—Dr. Elmer Baum, chairman of the state Democratic Committee, had a personal income of $100,000 in 1970 and his approximate net worth is $500,000. He purchased 12,000 shares of NBL stock for $178,500 and, according to the SEC, made a $68,500 profit.

MRS. W. L. McMULLAN

Her 'Junking' Hobby Takes Talent, Time, Hard Work

By BARBARA LORD
Of all the hobbies that fill the days for Mrs. W. L. McMullan, the most apparent one when you walk into the McMullan home at 704 W. 15th is junking. There isn't a piece of furniture in the home that was bought new. Mrs. McMullan (Sammie) spends as much time as possible browsing through junk shops looking for "good buys" and refinishing what she purchases.
"I call it junking rather than antiquing," said Mrs. McMullan. "Antiquing is too expensive. Everything in our house is either a hand-me-down from someone in our family or something I picked up in a junk store."
Mrs. McMullan has refinished most of the furniture herself. The children's rooms are styled according to personality. David, 6, and Mark, 4, share a room done in the rugged and rustic image young boys like; while Sheri, 8, enjoys a dainty decor of ruffles and frills to house her collection of knick knacks.

Her junk shop purchases don't stop at furniture. The McMullan home is accented throughout with antiques and bric-a-brac; some which were bought at a nominal price and later discovered to be worth much more.
ARTIST
Another favorite pastime for Mrs. McMullan is painting. Several sketches decorate the walls in her home, but most of her art has been given to friends and relatives. She began painting again about two years ago, following a period when the children were too young and too active to allow her much free time. Today she does sketches, oils and charcoal portraits.
Mrs. McMullan said her artistic talents end when she enters the kitchen — that most of the family meals are "nothing fancy, but lots of it and hot." She learned to cook in high school, preparing meals for a family of six. Now, with a family of her own, many of the habits of her high school days linger on, such as the big family breakfast each morning.
"Breakfast is a must for us," said Mrs. McMullan. "We all wake up starved, and I fix everything I can think of each morning. Maybe it's just a habit, but if we don't have our breakfast together, the whole day seems wrong."
The noon meal is a leisurely time, and sandwiches are the primary ingredient. At supper time, Mrs. McMullan likes to prepare the entire meal on the outdoor gas cooker, saying it keeps the house from getting so hot, plus it adds an outdoor flavor the family prefers. Most of their vegetables come from McMullan's father, W. H. McMullan, who is an organic gardener.
"Organic vegetables taste like vegetables are supposed to taste," said Mrs. McMullan. "All of the real flavor is in them, and the difference between them and other vegetables is amazing. People just don't realize how much better a vegetable can taste than most of them do."
Sunday is Mrs. McMullan's "day off," and she and her husband often go to Midland for dinner and a movie, or someplace where they can relax and get away from the hustle of everyday activity. She also leaves the family to "tend for themselves" at mealtime on the nights of her sorority meeting. She is vice president of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha.
In addition to her "junking" and painting, Mrs. McMullan enjoys decoupage, tile painting and sewing. She is presently designing and making a wedding dress for a younger sister.

Keep Summer Living Easy

It's afternoon on a summer day, the children are playing, and the adults are enjoying a few lazy hours basking in the sun. Your most pressing obligation is to turn over and bask the other side.

Don't spoil this cherished time by fussing over refreshments. Take a few easy steps to prepare a sweet, satisfying and cooling treat such as a Melon Sundae featuring some of summer's favorite refreshers — watermelon and vanilla ice milk.

Ice milk is a boon to sun-days in more ways than good taste. It's lower in calories and less expensive than ice cream, so it might be a good idea to keep several half gallons on hand for all sorts of occasions when the livin' is this easy.

Now, where were we... MELON SUNDIAE
1 small ripe watermelon, well chilled

½ gallon vanilla ice milk
Raspberry-Mint Sauce

Cut top from watermelon, lengthwise, about ¼ of the way down. Cut either straight across or with a scalloped or saw-tooth edge. Remove melon from center with melon ball cutter or cut into bite-size chunks. Return melon to shell, saving some to arrange around top. Pile scoops of ice milk into shell; surround with reserved fruit. Serve with Raspberry-Mint Sauce. Serves 8 to 10.

RASPBERRY-MINT SAUCE

Combine 1 (10 oz.) package frozen raspberries, ½ cup currant jelly, 2 tablespoons cornstarch blended with 2 tablespoons water and a few drops of mint extract. Cook and stir until sauce thickens. Press through sieve and discard seeds. Cool, then chill. If desired, add 1 tablespoon lemon juice before serving.

Relish Salad Helps Perk Up Hamburgers

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Writer

Something new to serve with hamburgers — a Pickle Bean Salad using chick peas, red kidney beans and pinto or white kidney beans.

As much a relish as a salad, this combination seems to please everyone. Do garnish it as suggested in the recipe because the sliced egg and pickle slices add their own attractive colors.

PICKLE-BEAN SALAD

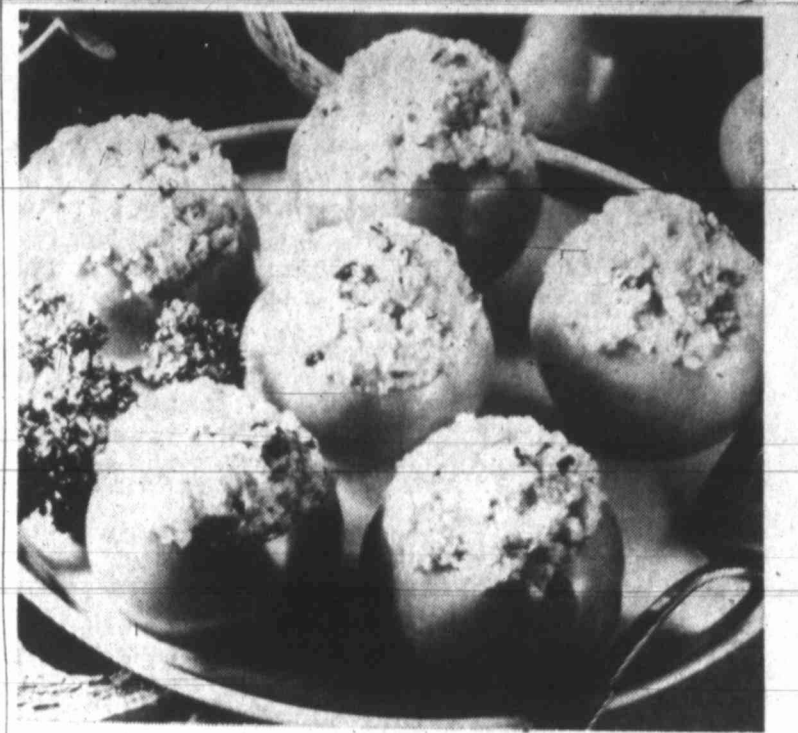

1 can (16 ounces) chick peas
1 can (15½ ounces) dark red kidney beans
1 can (16 ounces) pinto beans or 1 can (1 pound, 4 ounces) white kidney beans
½ cup salad (not olive) oil
¼ cup sweet pickle liquid
¼ cup cider vinegar
2 tps. Worcestershire sauce
1 large clove garlic, peeled and minced
2-3rd to ¾ cup thinly sliced scallions (3 medium with part of green top included), not packed down
1 1-3rd cups diced celery

1 cup diced sweet fresh cucumber pickle slices
1-3rd cup thinly sliced radishes
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. white pepper
2 or 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced
Pickle slices

Into a colander turn all the beans and rinse thoroughly under cold running water; drain well.

Into a large mixed bowl turn the oil, pickle liquid, vinegar, Worcestershire and garlic. Mix well with a whisk or a fork. Add drained beans, scallions, celery, diced pickles, radishes, salt and pepper; toss until mixed. Cover and chill for 3 to 6 hours.

At serving time drain salad and turn into a serving bowl; garnish with egg and pickle slices, alternating and overlapping them around the edge of the salad. If you like you may line the serving bowl with crisp greens before adding the beans.
Makes 8 to 12 servings.

CORN BREAD, HERBS, MUSHROOMS
For succulent tomato stuffing

Versatile Tomatoes Are Solo Or Combo Treat

Summer gardens yield a colorful array of succulent fresh vegetables. And even if you don't have your own back yard garden, you will see this bountiful harvest reflected in produce markets and supermarkets.

One of the most versatile and popular summer offerings is the juicy red tomato — a delight when served alone, and a flavorful addition to so many recipes. While whole tomatoes are at their best, feature them in this recipe for Summery Stuffed Tomatoes.

Pump tomatoes, hollowed out to form shells, are stuffed with crumbled corn bread sparkled with herbs and mushrooms; scooped out pulp and an egg moisten the stuffing. The delicate corn flavor and crunchiness of corn bread makes it an excellent stuffing. And it's especially delectable when combined with fresh tomatoes!

Next time you plan a backyard cookout, surprise everyone by serving Summery Stuffed Tomatoes with the grilled steak or hamburgers. A crisp green salad, peach shortcake and favorite beverage complete a colorful, appealing meal.

SUMMERY STUFFED TOMATOES

Makes 6 servings
3 cups crumbled corn bread
½ tsp. oregano
½ tsp. salt
Dash pepper
½ cup chopped mushrooms
1 clove garlic, crushed
2 tps. butter or margarine
6 med. tomatoes
1 egg, beaten

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Combine corn bread, oregano, salt and pepper. Sauté mushrooms and garlic in butter; stir into corn bread mixture.

Remove tops of tomatoes. Scoop out pulp and seeds. Dry cavities; sprinkle with salt. Stir 1 cup chopped, seeded tomato pulp and the egg into the corn bread mixture. Stuff mixture into tomatoes. Place in ungreased shallow baking pan; bake in preheated oven about 20 minutes. Serve hot.

CORN BREAD
Makes one 8-inch corn bread
1 cup enriched corn meal
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
¼ cup sugar
4 tps. baking powder
½ tps. salt
1 egg, beaten
1 cup milk
¼ cup vegetable oil

Heat oven to 425 degrees. Sift together corn meal, flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Add egg, milk and oil, stirring just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into greased 8-inch square baking pan. Bake in preheated oven 20 to 25 minutes. Cool.

NOTE
Split, toast and butter the remaining corn bread for a breakfast treat.

Bride Has New Job

Wedding bells signify love and marriage, but they also mean the bride-to-be has taken on new responsibility of establishing a healthy family.

One of the first responsibilities a wife faces is providing good nutrition. This task may mean that some adjustments have to be made.

One step in establishing a program of nutrition for your new home is synchronizing your food likes and dislikes with your husband's. Remember the basic four groups of foods needed for good health are meat, milk, vegetable-fruit and bread-cereal. Of the many varieties in these groups, find the foods you both enjoy. You may also find ways of combining foods you don't like with those you do.

If you don't know much about meal planning, buying and preparation, one of the best aids in your new job is to buy a reliable cookbook. Learning the amounts of food needed for two people is another task facing you. You will have to learn to buy and prepare foods with appetite appeal for two people.

UN Offers Guide To Eating In NYC

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Even the rawest newcomer to U.N. service may manage to eat out in Manhattan and yet not spend a fortune, with a little luck and a handy guide prepared by the Staff Activities and Housing Section here.

The 12-page guide, fittingly titled "Eating Out in Manhattan," remarks that a complete meal at a coffee shop "might cost from $1.50 to $3" and that cafeterias "generally are the least expensive places to eat."

It lists 81 restaurants — "places where you can have a more leisurely meal and where liquor may be served" — which "will provide a complete meal for less than $5," or so it says.

In case you want to eat in restaurants not on the list, the guide points out many post their menus in their windows.

"Those which are expensive generally do not display their bill of fare," it says. "If you enter a restaurant that does not have a menu posted, ask to see it before you sit down; check prices."

The pamphlet also lists 13 places for "Evening Snacks and Drinks." They carry such descriptions as "Banjo-plucking palace," "Gathering place for young single people" and "Swinging bar for young New Yorkers."

It advises against having meals in such places, saying, "This can become quite expensive."

Spy Pilot Lands Job As Reporter

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Francis Gary Powers, the American U2 spy plane pilot shot down over the Soviet Union in 1960, has a new job—a skywatch traffic reporter observing freeway congestion from a single-engine plane for a radio station.

"Well, I'm used to flying planes at a higher altitude and I didn't see much traffic on the ground," he said. "But this is a lot more fun."

Powers, 41, was hired this week by station KGIL as a vacation replacement pilot, flying a Cessna over the Los Angeles freeway system and radioing live reports on the traffic conditions.

Powers was laid off last year as a research pilot for Lockheed Aircraft, manufacturer of the U2. Captured and imprisoned by the Soviet Union after parachuting from his spy plane, Powers was released in 1962 in exchange for Rudolf Abel, convicted in the United States of spying for the Russians.

He co-authored a book, "Operation Overflight," about his experience.

'Law West Of The Pecos' Reviewed In Texas Star

A world's championship boxing match promoted by Judge Roy Bean, self defense lessons for ladies, and life with a TV football fanatic are featured in this Sunday's issue of The Texas Star magazine. It's a part of the Sunday Herald feature package.

How the famed judge used his bean in 1896 — frustrating Texas, Mexico and United States authorities by staging an outlawed bout on a sandbar in the middle of the Rio Grande — is told in "BEAN-bagged" by Jimmy Banks.

This and other "Law West of the Pecos" remembrances still attract thousands of tourists to little Langtry each year.

"Caution: Dangerous Curves!" is not a traffic safety article, but a warning to would-be muggers that soft shoulders can be deceptive. Mary G. Crawford follows eight Dallas housewives through a common sense course that will help them get away from an assailant.

Inimitable Cactus Pryor reminds families in "Pant, Pass . . . and Paralyzed" that it is about time for television football husbands to come out of hibernation. The adrenalin, he says, will start flowing in Old Number One again with the All-Star game next Friday night.

Also in this Sunday's Star, Wanda J. Campbell answers some LBJ Library questions, Weldon Hart tells how history stands still for some court-houses, and Mary Faulk Kook serves favorite "army brat" food.

The United States retained possession of the Bermuda Bowl—emblematic of the World's Bridge Championship—for the second successive year by defeating the French Team in the finals held in Taipei, Taiwan in May. The Dallas Aces pulled comfortably away in the concluding deals of the 128 board match after the French had narrowed the gap on several occasions. One of the deals where France gained a sizeable swing is presented today.

The bidding presented in the above diagram took place at the table where the French were seated North and South. North's jump shift response of three clubs is well below the 19 point standard generally advocated. After South rebid three spades, North might have been better advised merely to rebid his clubs. Giving a spade raise at this point could only serve to further inflame his partner. South's bid of five diamonds was a fake cue bid designed to throw the opponents off the track at the opening gun. North retreated to his seven card suit by bidding six clubs and South carried on to slam in spades, closing the auction.

West was not to be taken in by South's fake bid in diamonds, and he opened the queen of that suit. East signalled encouragement with the seven after South played dummy's ace. Prospects appeared to be virtually non-existent for declarer. The opening lead had knocked out the side entry to North's club suit, so that the only legitimate way to run the clubs was to find the club king singly guarded in the West hand. This was a remote possibility, but declarer had no other recourse available.

South proceeded to play the top three spades to draw trump and then he led the seven of clubs. West followed with the six, the ten was played from dummy, and East played the deuce. The ace of clubs was cashed next and when West produced the king, South was home. Three hearts and one diamond were discarded on the established clubs and declarer had all the tricks. The score for a non-vulnerable slam is 940 points (140 trick score, plus 300 for the game and 500 for the slam).

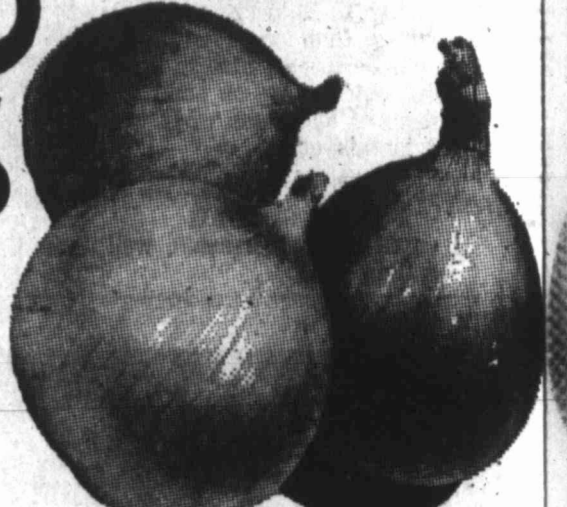

At the other table, Wolff and Jacoby were content to play a four spade contract for the United States with the North-South cards. Ten tricks were made for a score of 480 points and the net swing to the French on the deal was 520 points.

Better Than—

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been badly shaken at times, but not quite so much as when I discovered birth control pills in the purses of both my daughters. (One is 21 and engaged and the other is 19 and going steady.) I did not cause a scene, nor have I told their father. (He would probably throw them both out.) I feel as though I have been completely wrong out.

I told the girls of my discovery and they were embarrassed. I didn't give them a sermon, I simply told them they were fools. Of course they said it was common practice these days. Is it, Abby?

I cannot punish them by disconnecting their telephones or grounding them from dating any more. What can I do?

DISAPPOINTED
DEAR DISAPPOINTED: You could throw them out, but what would that accomplish? Taking The Pill is not common practice among young, unmarried women, but since your daughters have apparently already made their decision to engage in premarital sex, isn't it better that they protect themselves against unwanted pregnancies than to gamble and lose?

I do not condone premarital sex, nor do I approve of mothers searching their daughters' purses.

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday a friend of mine came to visit and brought along her poodle that she treats like a mother would treat a child. Well, my 4-year-old son was playing with her poodle, and the poodle licked the boy on his mouth.

I became very upset over this and told my friend to please hold her dog so he wouldn't do it again. She said that she was the one who should have been upset as her veterinarian told her a dog's mouth is cleaner than a human's, and she actually said she hoped her dog wouldn't catch anything from my child! Was she serious?

IRRITATED
DEAR IRRITATED: She was serious. And also correct.

Planned Parenthood will do it for only a few dollars if that's all you can afford. Or for nothing, if you're really broke.

Unwanted Tattoo

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I would like to remove a large tattoo from my chest. Your mention of dermabrasion prompts my inquiry. Could this technique for removing superficial skin blemishes be used for a tattoo? Will you outline various methods for removing a large tattoo? — B. C. R.

It is a procedure of precision: rotary steel brushes or comparable instruments are used to remove as much of the surface as can be spared, without destroying the necessary layers below.

It has to be done under anesthesia, and under aseptic (completely sterile) conditions, else the raw surface would pick up all sorts of infections.

It has to be done in a hospital — or, for small skin areas, under conditions comparable to those of a hospital operating room. And after that, bandaging will be required for periods of the order of two or three weeks, until the new skin surface is safely established.

In short, dermabrasion isn't a simple little process that you can have done in a free afternoon.

Dermabrasion, however, is being used to remove tattoos, but since a tattoo involves coloring matter that has been driven into the skin, the depth of penetration has a bearing on how fully the tattoo can be eradicated. I have seen cases of complete removal, but am not willing to say all cases can be that successful. You'd do better to have a dermatologist or plastic surgeon evaluate the prospects in your particular case.

Other methods are removal of the colored area (followed by skin grafting) and retattooing with colors that mask the tattoo.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What can be done for diverticula in the throat? My husband is bothered by this trouble — gurgling noises while eating, choking when swallowing, sneezing food at table, all of which is very annoying and embarrassing. Sometimes his pills get caught in his throat and are coughed up hours later. There must be some help. — Mrs. H. P.

A diverticulum (or several) can occur anywhere in the digestive tract, although not often in the area you mention — which is, evidently, in the upper gullet. It is called Zenker's diverticulum.

A diverticulum is a sort of bulge or pouch. Your husband's must be quite large to trap food and pills. Surgical correction is the only relief. Once formed, a diverticulum does not get smaller spontaneously.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Loans Violated Insurance Code?

DALLAS (AP) — Loans made to Jake Jacobsen, former legislative counsel to President Lyndon B. Johnson, and Austin investor Ray E. Cowan a year ago by National Bankers Life Insurance Co. figure in evidence filed for a lawsuit alleging stock fraud.

There were two loans amounting to $3.85 million and an NBL executive said they may have violated provisions of the State Insurance Code, according to a memo put on record by the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Various documents have been filed in U.S. district court as a preliminary to trial of the SEC's suit for an injunction forbidding practices attributed to 15 individuals and 13 corporations.

One item is a memorandum from Donald Akins, National Bankers Life vice president in charge of investments to NBL president Sam E. Stock. It states that Akins at first refused to fund the loans because his company could not obtain a valid first lien on two Fort Worth apartment projects to be used as collateral.

"However, I relayed this information to the (NBL) executive committee," Akin goes on to say, "and was told to fund the loans with the title difficulties remaining outstanding."

Lack of a valid first lien on the properties caused Akin to fear the transaction was in violation of the insurance code, he said.

After NBL funded the loans July 23, 1970, Akins warned Stock that they would "receive severe criticism" during the next examination of their company by the State Insurance Board unless NBL acquired title to the apartments or the loans were paid in full.

In another memo last Nov. 30, less than two months before NBL consented for their firm to be placed under state conservatorship, Akins advised Stock that "since we were told in the beginning that we would never have to fund the apartment house loans in Fort Worth," NBL should file suit for a first lien position if necessary.

"We are supposed to be working for the benefit of the stockholders and policy holders of NBL, and not for the personal benefit of any of the parties involved," Akins wrote.

"You must admit that our performance during the past four months would certainly indicate we just might be working for the benefit of the parties instead of the company. All parts of this transaction are quite embarrassing, if not ridiculous."

'Miss Nobody' Has Her Name Back, Trip Ends In Cemetery

MIAMI (AP) — "Miss Nobody" has her name back. She lost it five months ago, the day a drug overdose took her life in a Miami motel room.

The county medical examiner's staff was determined not to bury the pretty, hazel-eyed teen-ager until it exhausted all possibilities of finding her family. As supervisor of investigation Elizabeth Everson put it: "We've never buried one that young without knowing who she is. I just absolutely refuse to bury one so young in the county cemetery. It must be terrible for the parents not to know what's become of their daughter."

One day after a newspaper report was published about "Miss Nobody," a tearful mother telephoned police and said, "I think that's my daughter."

A few hours after Mrs. Robert Fortson of Miami Springs called the police, her husband arrived at the county morgue. The search was over.

Lisa Marie Johnson died Feb. 15. She was 18.

"What can I do?" Fortson said, brushing tears from his eyes as he spoke of his step-

FACTS FOR BIG SPRINGERS

Question: What is the last day a candidate can file for the city commission on the upcoming ballot and who is eligible to file?

Answer: Friday, July 23, is the last day to file. Any qualified voter of Big Spring is eligible and CARE urges any citizen who wishes to do so to file and give the voters as wide a choice as possible on August 3rd.

Question: Why are Watkins, Acri and Choate so opposed to submitting themselves to a vote of confidence from the citizens of Big Spring?

Answer: This is not easy to answer particularly in view of the fact that they complain that we only pay them $10 per month. It would seem that those who hold public elected office, especially those that are paid only nominal salaries, would always want to feel that their actions are in keeping with what the taxpayers want. If Acri, Watkins and Choate really believe their actions are in keeping with the desires of the citizens, then it seems they would not fear a vote of confidence. If on the other hand a majority of the citizens do not feel they are properly representing the best interests of the City, it would seem that one who is paid only $10 a month would not be interested in serving in such office. Perhaps we shall never know the real answer to this question. Public officials should tell those they represent the reasons for their actions. The people want to know.

Hot Front Spurs Rain Into State

By The Associated Press

That cool front which Texans welcomed a couple of days ago has turned into a warm front and caused damp air to start pouring back into the state from the Gulf of Mexico.

At last report the dissipating frontal system lay along a line from Lufkin to Childress and was expected to lose its identity today.

Some rather heavy showers fell Wednesday in rain-short sections of Central and East Texas and near the Upper Texas Coast, followed by brisk thunderstorms in the evening from around Breckenridge to Eastland.

By this morning such activity had dwindled into a few showers from around Sherman westward along the Red River and into the Panhandle-Plains sector between Amarillo and Plainview.

Partly cloudy skies helped to limit temperatures Wednesday afternoon to the 80s and 90s in most sections. Alice and San Angelo shared the top mark of 100 degrees.
