CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Nine U.S. senators were among 2,000 VIPs and a million other spectators who saw a perfect Apollo 15 launch in perfect weather today.

The senators then made a beeline for the Cape Kennedy air strip and a return trip to Washington, where they were due to vote on a cloture motion in the Lockheed dispute.

It was the first in-person view of a manned space launching for many of the distinguished guests, including Lynda Bird Robb, daughter of former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

She and her husband, Charles Robb, grinned broadly and shaded their eyes as they watched the Saturn rocket, carrying its three astronauts, rise into a clear, blue sky.

Beefed-up state and local law enforcement staffs were prepared to handle a million or more space fans and the plain curious.

The largest crowd ever to jam this sand spit along the Atlantic was estimated at just over a million when history's first moonwalkers, Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin, and their moon orbiting sidekick Michael Collins began their journey two years ago this month.

The most important visitors had ringside seats at the VIP site three miles from the towering Saturn 5 rocket of Apollo 15.

Congress is represented by 32 House members and nine senators, most of them supporters of funds aimed at keeping the United States ahead of the Soviet Union in the space race.

In the foreign contingent are three leaders of the oil-rich little country of Kuwait, headed by Sheikh Jabir Abdullah al-Habib al-Sabah, governor of Ahmadiyah Province.

But most of the Apollo watchers are middle-class people who made the Cape Kennedy launch a part of vacation travel.

U.S. Draft Law Still Deadlocked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acknowledging little probability of extending the nation's draft law before September, House-Senate conferees broke up again today still deadlocked on a nine-month war pullout amendment.

House Armed Services Chairman F. Edward Hebert, D-La., said no date was scheduled for further efforts to break the deadlock but said he hoped another meeting could be held this week.

Asked if there is any possibility Congress can pass a two-year draft extension bill before its Aug. 6-Sept. 8 summer recess, Hebert said yes but added: "I don't say there is a probability but there is a possibility."

Hebert said he believed the country could go for months without a full-fledged draft law by calling up thousands of students and other men with expired draft and deferments.

Authority to draft additional men expired June 30 although the machinery of the Selective Service System otherwise remains in business.

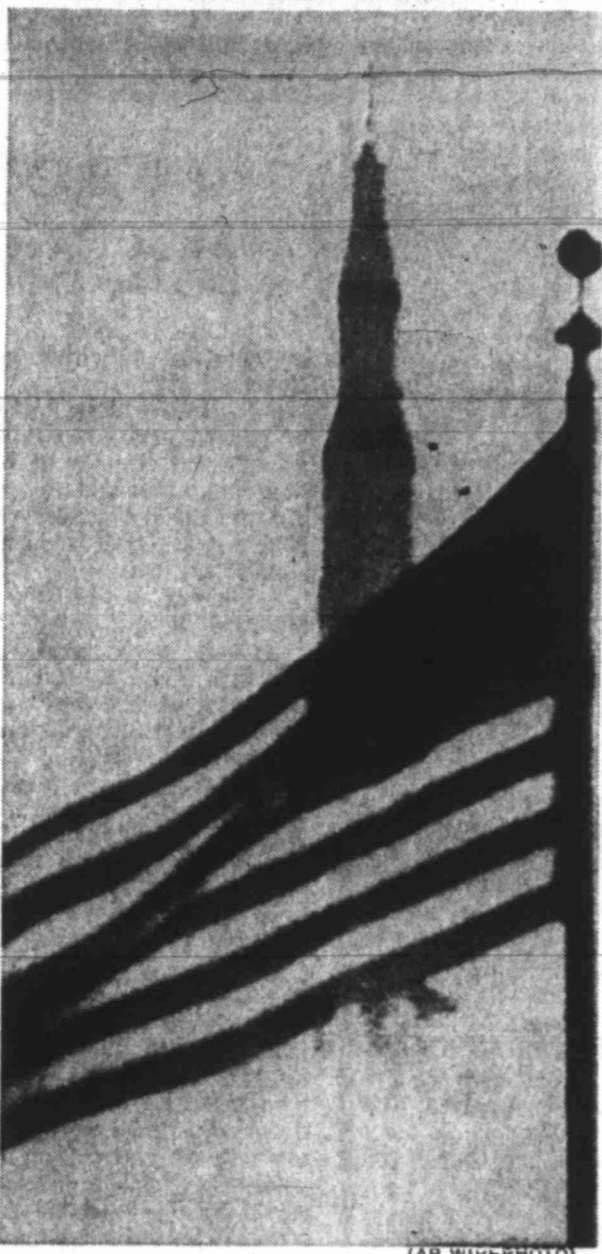

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said last week the Pentagon may have to ask for a callup of men with expired draft deferments if Congress doesn't extend the draft in September.

Provision for such callups was made in the expired draft law but the White House said shortly after the draft expired that President Nixon hoped not to call such men.

School Board Has Closed Session

The Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees today went into executive session to consider development of a plan for meeting a Health-Education-Welfare directive to correct a racial imbalance in the Lakeview and Bauer elementary schools. The board said that it regarded the matter as an explosive issue. In leaving the meeting, a Herald reporter protested that the action seemed to go beyond the limits of the Texas open meetings law.

A radio station newsman also left the meeting under protest.

UP, UP AND AWAY — The Saturn 5 rocket carrying America's Apollo 15 explorers lifts from the pad today on its way to the moon.

44 VOTERS First Day Of Absentee Balloting

A total of 44 absentee votes had been cast as of 1:30 p.m. today, the first day of absentee balloting in the approaching recall referendum of city commissioner Wade Choate, Jack Watkins and Eddie Aciri, according to Maxine Shaffer, acting city secretary.

The weekend was a busy one for the acting city secretary as she prepared 29 applications for absentee ballots to be mailed to Big Spring residents out of the county today.

Voters who wish to cast absentee ballots in the up-coming recall election will have to vote in the city secretary's office and will be required to have on hand a copy of their voter's registration certificate. If the voter does not have such certificate it will be necessary that he sign an affidavit stating that he is a qualified voter.

Candidate position on the election ballots were determined Friday afternoon. The positions were as follows: Lee O. Rogers, Harold L. Davis, John C. Anderson and Carlisle (Frosty) Robison.

Absentee balloting will continue through 5 p.m. Monday, Aug. 2. The recall election, to be held under regular state election procedures, will be the following day with regular election polls, five fire stations, opening at 7 a.m. and closing at 7 p.m.

Kings To Mull Sadat's Speech

Jordan's King Hussein met in Saudi Arabia today with King Faisal to discuss Hussein's worsening relations with other Arab leaders.

Sources at the royal palace in Amman said the two kings would discuss in particular Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's speech Friday, in which he accused Hussein of liquidating the Palestinian guerrilla movement.

Hussein's troubles worsened Sunday with the announcement by Syria that it had closed its border with Jordan, thus preventing Jordanian access to Mediterranean ports in Syria and Lebanon. But the Jordanian government appeared outwardly unconcerned and the interior minister commented: "Syrians are welcome to come to Jordan any time they wish."

Public Works Veto Blasted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee accused the Nixon administration today of having, in effect, used "an unconstitutional item veto" in handling public-works money it provided last year.

The committee's criticism accompanied the $4.57-billion 1972 fiscal year appropriation bill for public works, power and water development programs and the Atomic Energy Commission.

In last year's bill for the same activities, Congress added planning and construction funds not requested by the President. The extra $63.4 million was impounded by the administration and not allocated for projects added by Congress.

The committee said one result of the freeze was an estimated increase in project costs of $73 million and an estimated loss of annual benefits of $169 million. This, it commented, is not "good business."

America's Explorers Racing To The Moon

Lunar Secrets Search Shapes

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's Apollo 15 explorers rocketed out of earth orbit today and streaked toward the moon on another search for lunar secrets. They are to conduct man's first driving expedition on the surface, a quest among towering mountains and along side a deep canyon.

Col. David R. Scott, Lt. Col.

James B. Irwin and Maj. Alfred M. Worden, all Air Force officers, broke away from the embrace of earth's gravity at 11:30 a.m. CDT as a jarring rocket blast shot them out of orbit and sent them winging toward their distant target and one of history's greatest scientific explorations.

Circled The Globe

For nearly three hours, the astronauts had circled the globe in the command ship Endeavour, checking the craft's hundreds of systems before committing themselves to the three-day outward voyage.

Then they reignited the third stage of their Saturn 5 rocket and their speed accelerated from about 17,400 to about 24,300 miles per hour.

The Saturn 5 propelled them away from their home planet right on time at 9:34 a.m. as an estimated one million persons watched in the Cape Kennedy area.

"Good job," Scott told the launch crew. "It was a very smooth ride all the way."

All three stages of the Saturn 5 fired precisely on schedule and propelled the spacemen riding in the command ship Endeavour into earth orbit more than 100 miles high.

To Soar Across Fire

For three days, Scott, Irwin and Worden are to soar across the vast ocean of space and fire into lunar orbit Thursday.

On Friday, Scott and Irwin plan to steer the lunar landing craft they call Falcon to a precision landing in a basin at the base of the Apennine Mountains, tallest on the moon with peaks rising 15,000 feet high.

They would be the fourth American two-men team to land on the moon in two years.

'Good Luck!'

As the astronauts left the crew quarters, they smiled and waved at about 500 space workers and newsmen who applauded and shouted, "Good luck!"

Several members of Worden's family were in the crowd. The astronaut blew them a kiss and briefly shook hands with his father, Merrill Worden of Jackson, Mich.

The spacemen were transported to the launch pad nine miles away in an air conditioned van and rode a high-speed elevator up 320 feet to the spacecraft level.

Busy Pumping Fuel

Throughout the night, the launch crew was busy pumping more than 800,000 gallons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into the fuel tanks of the Saturn 5.

The astronauts are embarking on what mission commander Scott calls "the most singular, significant scientific expedition ever conducted. It is a journey backwards in time—to the first pages of the history of the creation of the solar system."

They hope to return to earth on Aug. 7 with rocks dating back to the birth of the moon, confirmation of whether volcanoes ever erupted there and enough information for scientists to draw an age map of nearly 20 per cent of the surface.

Very Risky Business

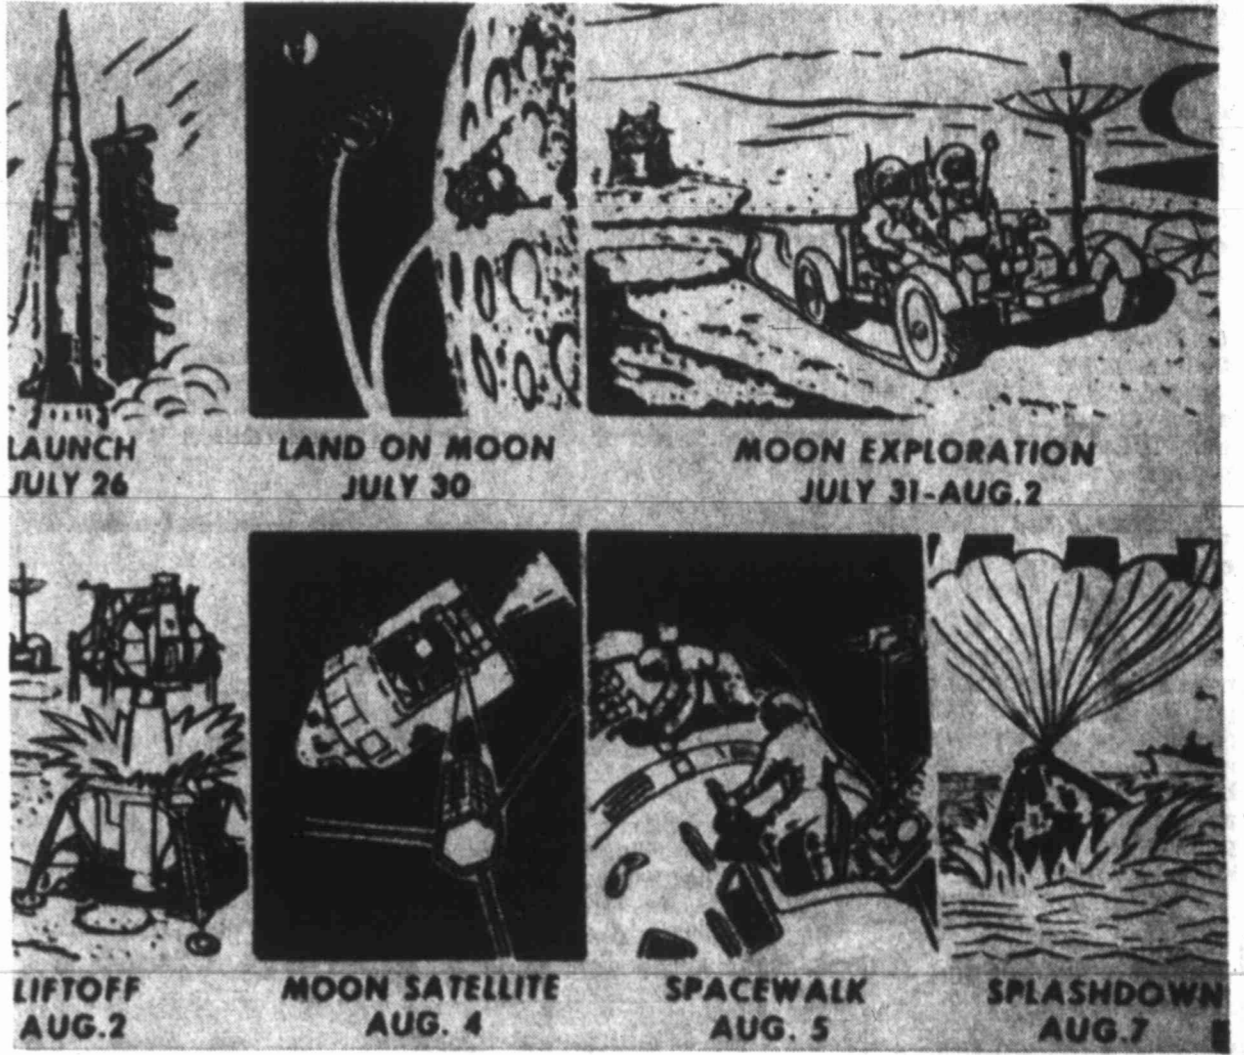

As they relaxed in the crew quarters prior to retiring, the astronauts received a telephone call from President Nixon wishing them "Godspeed" on their lunar mission.

Scott, Irwin and Worden go forth knowing full well that space flight is still a very risky business. They have only to look back less than a month, to June 30 when the Soviet Union's three Soyuz II cosmonauts died during re-entry into earth's atmosphere as their spaceship suddenly lost pressure because of a leak.

A similar accident could not happen to the Apollo craft because of a different design.

Apollo 15 is to fire into lunar orbit Thursday and the next day Scott and Irwin are to fly the lunar module Falcon over the 15,000-foot peaks of the Apennine Mountains to a risky landing in a small basin in the moon's Palus Putredinis, the Marsh of Decay, 465 miles north of the lunar equator.

PROSPECTIVE JUROR QUIZZED

Medina Trial Starts

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Selection of a jury for the court-martial of Capt. Ernest Medina moved slowly today with only one prospective juror questioned during a 1½-hour court session.

Col. William Proctor of Decatur, Ga., one of 10 officers called as possible jurors, was questioned extensively by Army prosecutor Maj. William Eckhardt about how closely he might have followed the court-martial of Lt. William Calley Jr.

CALL RECESS
Calley, a platoon leader in Medina's company during the infantry assault in March, 1968, was convicted of 22 murders at My Lai in March and sentenced to life imprisonment.

After a brief recess, Proctor was to be questioned by defense attorney F. Lee Bailey.

Medina, of Montrose, Colo., was commander of Charlie Company when the Americal Division Infantry unit swept through the Vietnamese hamlet March 16, 1968.

The 34-year-old wiry captain will be tried on a noncapital basis, which means the maximum sentence a jury could give him would be life imprisonment.

One of his platoon leaders at My Lai was Lt. William L. Calley Jr., who was convicted at Ft. Benning, Ga., March 29 of murdering 22 civilians at the Vietnamese hamlet. Calley could have gotten a death sentence, but the jury set his term at life. His case is under review.

DENIED ORDER
Medina denied in testimony at Calley's court-martial that he ordered his troops to kill civilians at My Lai.

The military judge, Col. Kenneth Howard, and lawyers for both sides have said they expect Medina's trial to be considerably shorter than Calley's 4½-month court-martial.

Medina is charged with premeditated murder but the Army has said he is held responsible for the deaths and is not accused of personally slaying 100 civilians. The captain is accused in two separate charges of killing two victims himself.

Howard said he thinks the approach to Medina's case will be along the lines of the case of Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita. After World War II, the United States prosecuted the Japanese general for failing to stop atrocities of his troops in the Philippines.

The United States never established that Yamashita ordered the atrocities, but hanged him for failing to take sufficient measures to stop them.

Howard presided over the court-martial of My Lai defendant Sgt. Charles Hutto. Hutto, S. Sgt. David Mitchell and Capt. Eugene Kotouc were acquitted of charges arising from the operation at My Lai.

Black Panthers Grab Couple Prison Guards

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two New Orleans Parish Prison guards were taken hostage early today by 30 inmates, including several Black Panthers being tried on charges of attempting to murder five policemen.

Prisoners said they took the hostages, both blacks, to protest conditions at the 42-year-old prison. One Panther had earlier complained that he had been bitten by a rat while asleep.

Prison officials said the inmates apparently overcame the two guards when the guards entered the cell area to serve breakfast. Officials said the guards were unharmed, although the inmates were reported armed with knives and other weapons they apparently had made from prison materials.

The inmates demanded a meeting with Mayor Moon Landrieu, Sheriff Louis A. Heyd Jr. and the Panthers' attorneys.

Landrieu and the sheriff entered the prison at mid-morning. Also at the prison was the judge who is presiding over the Panthers' trial now involved in jury selection.

Alvin Bronstein, one of the defense attorneys, talked with prisoners briefly and said, "The situation is very tense in there."

There was no word on whether the officials would meet with the inmates.

A force of armed officers took up posts around the prison but there were no apparent efforts to close in on the area where the guards were being held.

Twelve Black Panthers, nine men and three women, are on trial in Criminal District Court, accused of attempting to kill five policemen in a shootout at the Desire Street Housing Project last September.

Their trial began July 8 before Criminal District Court Judge Israel M. Augustine Jr., the only black in the city criminal courts. Efforts to complete the jury were to resume today after a 10th juror was selected during the weekend sessions.

Larry Crow Takes Position In Houston

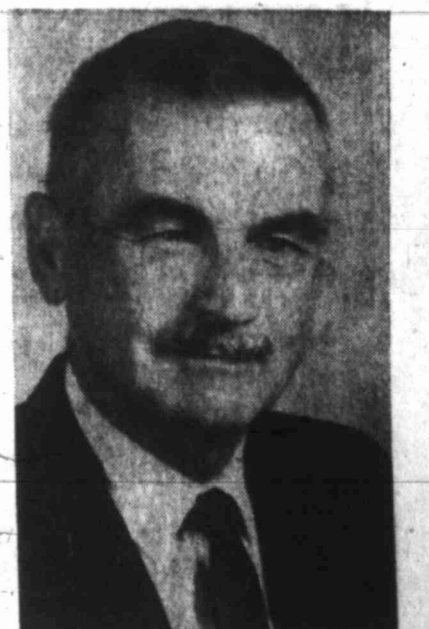

Larry Crow, former city manager of Big Spring, has accepted the position of Coordinator of Planning with the Gulf Coast Waste Control Authority, it was announced today by Jack Davis, general manager of the Authority.

Crow and his wife plan to move to Houston, where the Authority is based, prior to Sept. 1 and which time he will assume his new duties.

"We are very pleased to have a person with Mr. Crow's qualifications and recognized professional standing assuming this key standing responsibility," said Davis in a public statement of the appointment.

The authority, which includes Harris, Chambers and Galveston counties, is largely concerned with pollution control, including the problems of the Houston Ship Channel.

"Pollution control has become an urgent problem and the Gulf Coast Waste Control Authority is a new approach to meet growing pollution control needs.

LARRY CROW

I look forward to this exciting challenge," said Crow.

Crow tendered his resignation of the city post in May, and left his office June 30. He had served as city manager since 1962.

He Will Ask Judge To Allow Sharp To Be Called By Jury

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin will ask U. S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton today to allow convicted Houston financier Frank W. Sharp to be called before an Austin grand jury Wednesday.

Sharp won immunity June 14 from any civil process during a federal grand jury probe into the troubled affairs of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. and the collapse of the Sharpstown State Bank.

Sharp had pleaded guilty the same day to two violations of federal banking and securities laws involving the NBLP stock scandal and the bank collapse.

He received a three-year probation sentence and the immunity granted after he agreed to testify for the government.

The government requested the civil immunity so that Sharp would not be subpoenaed all over the state during the probe and the criminal immunity so Sharp could testify without being able to claim his rights against self incrimination.

Martin and Travis County Dist. Atty. Robert O. Smith have ordered a grand jury in Austin to look into possible bribery charges in connection with the passage in a special session of the Texas Legislature of two banking bills favored by Sharp which would have allowed him to get state insurance backing for deposits in his Sharpstown State Bank and escape the scrutiny of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Martin and Smith said grounds for this motion are that the state is investigating alleged felonies and serious state law violations to which Sharp is a material witness and that his testimony may be crucial in developing evidence in the state's case.

U. S. Atty. Anthony J. P. Faris said his office will oppose any modification of the immunity order at this time.

Sharp was scheduled to testify before a federal grand jury here today but the appearance was put off until Tuesday because of today's hearing.

PATTY PEUGH
"Cowgirl" takes blue award

Kayla Gaskins, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins of Knott was among the four top winners in the 4-H District 2 Dress Revue held Thursday in the Villa Inn at Lubbock.

The four winners will represent the district in state competition which will be held Oct. 14-16 in the Women's Building at the Texas State Fair in Dallas. The girl winning the state contest will receive a free trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Ill.

In Lubbock, there were 18 entries in both the senior and junior divisions, although the juniors participated without competing.

Patty Peugh, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peugh of Knott won a blue award in the junior division.

Debra Buchanan and Joan Crawford, both of Howard County, were on the district dress revue planning committee. Miss Crawford served as narrator for the style show, and the invocation was by Miss Buchanan.

Others from Howard County attending the Lubbock event were Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent; Mrs. Robert Brown, an adult clothing leader; Mrs. Billy Mac Gaskins, Mrs. J. E. Peugh and Ann Nichols, a 4-H Club member.

The costume with which Miss Gaskins hopes to win the state competition was of 100 per cent sterling wale clipped corduroy in a new fall color, "Israel Grapes," lined with contrasting "Lotus Wine." The long, tank-type belted vest was worn over hot pants with top-stitched hem and maxi-skirt split up the center front and accented with top stitching down the front and around the hem.

Completing her attire was a beige, wine and blue knit blouse designed with oversize cowl collar, wine-colored hose, a crocheted beret and beige Roman sandals which lace to the knee.

Miss Peugh modeled a two-piece costume which she had

The group will meet again at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the country club.

Ecology Glasses Banish Clouds

On a cloudy day add some brightness to your life with a pair of tinted fun glasses. A novel pair of green apple sunglasses from Riviera's Hot Glances collection are double apple-shaped lenses with stems attached, made from impact resistant space-age plastic. If peering through green isn't your bag, there are a number of other solid or two-tone shades that might appeal to you.

Other off-beat designs in the collection include a pair of butterfly shaped glasses and another featuring hearts.

It's rare to find a girl who owns just one pair of off-beat glasses. The fun shapes make great fashion accents for hot-pants outfits, resort wear and casual party dresses.

Many of the unusual tinted plastic glasses have been inspired by the recent ecology kick. That's the only explanation for the push toward insects, fruit, vegetables, animals and birds.

A LOVELIER YOU Bad Habits Cause Huff-Puff Breathing

By MARY SUE MILLER

Does a bit of exertion leave you overheated and short of breath? When a person knows herself to be healthy through regular medical check-ups, huff-n-puff occurs from insufficient exercise or bad breathing habits. Such as?

Your muscles grow soft from inadequate use. Activity then becomes an effort particularly in oppressive weather. Gasp breathing just naturally follows. Discomfort of course is heightened by incorrect breathing habits. Such as?

Some people gasp while exercising because they hold their breath, as if, afraid they'll split a gusset. Others, particularly overweight, breathe in short, shallow spurts, and so end up breathless.

The correct, natural breathing action comes from the diaphragm. In that way the body gets its share of energizing oxygen and expels fatiguing "dead air." Hot air, too!

The result is increased stamina and coolth, much welcomed by the needy, especially the reducers. For the latter a wise move is to begin exercise sessions with this breathing routine:

Stretch out on floor, arms overhead, and relax. Take breath deep enough to expand diaphragm; let out air, so that diaphragm contracts. Do not strain, but take it slow and easy.

Work until you've got the habit. It pays health and beauty dividends.

EXERCISES

Here's an effortless way to trim off heavy spots. All you do is lie down or sit down, and flex your muscles. If that's for you, send for "Lazy Girl's Exercises." Based on the isometric principle of exercise, routines trim head-to-toe figure.

Write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Four Victims Of Cargo Jet Crash Found

MANILA (AP) — Remains of the four crew members of a Pan American World Airways cargo jet were recovered today from the site 20 miles north of Manila where the craft crashed and exploded in thick jungle.

One was a Texan, Tom Rhemann of La-Grange.

A Pan Am spokesman said recovery teams were awaiting helicopters to evacuate three of the bodies. The first body was taken out by a U.S. Air Force helicopter. The plane's 23 tons of cargo—laboratory equipment, printed material, medicines and mail—was presumed lost, the spokesman said, although there had been no word from the crash scene.

Traffic controllers at Manila International Airport lost contact with the Boeing 707 Sunday six minutes before it was to have landed, as it tried to maneuver through stormy weather. Teams reached the wreckage on a forested mountain side about 23 hours later.

Pan Am said the plane was en route from San Francisco by way of Hawaii and Guam.

The spokesman identified the crew members as Capt. Louis Cogliani, 59, of Los Altos, Calif., the pilot; 1st Officer Tom Rhemann, 36, La Grange, Tex.; 2nd Officer Melvin Sisk, 39, Tucson, Ariz., and Flight Engineer Roland Ohnesorge, 40, Las Vegas, Nev. Cogliani had been flying with Pan Am since 1939.

AN AMAZING MAMMAL — The sight of the be-whiskered sea otter in the help beds off of Cannery Row is a popular one for binocular-toting visitors to Monterey, Calif. In this picture a sea otter illustrates his ingenuity. The marine mammal rolls himself up in kelp to provide anchor while he sleeps or preens. Where once hundreds of thousands of sea otters ranged from Baja, Calif., to Alaska and Japan, they virtually disappeared by 1911 due to massive slaughter for their pelts.

Junior Rodeo To Be Reset

The date for the 4-H Junior Rodeo will be set by the Junior and Senior 4-H Rodeo boards of directors in a meeting tonight, according to Paul Gross, county agent.

"Right now it looks like we will have the rodeo the weekend of Aug. 14," said Gross, "but the final decision will be made tonight."

The annual rodeo, scheduled for July 22-24, was postponed because of the statewide quarantine on horses set because of the spread of VEE from Mexico into Texas. Since the quarantine went into effect, most of the horses in Howard County have been vaccinated.

Reactor Safety Report Released

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A group of scientists said today that a backup safety system widely used in nuclear reactors is "likely to fail to prevent" a major disaster if an emergency occurs.

The report was issued by the Union of Concerned Scientists, a Boston area coalition of scientists, engineers and other professionals.

The report said the emergency cooling system designed to supply water to the reactor probably would fail if the primary system ruptured. The

Crown Miss Nude World

HAMILTON, Ont. (AP) — Wearing white shoes, a gold bracelet and a lovely tan from head to foot, blonde blue-eyed Rosemarie Hess was crowned Miss Nude World for 1971 Sunday night at a nudist resort 15 miles north of Hamilton.

An audience of 3,000 saw the 25-year-old married woman picked from a field of 17. Most of the 14 judges—who included two women—were journalists or broadcasters.

Mrs. Hess, who clerks in a department store, immigrated from Switzerland four years ago with her husband. She is 5 foot 3 with circumferences of 35-24-35.

The Hesses took up nudism five years ago in Europe.

"After five minutes, it's no problem," she said. "There's nothing more to see after four minutes."

Her prize included an eight-day trip to Florida, clothes, cosmetics, camping gear and a set of snow tires.

Art Of Walking In Space Grows Up With Apollo 15

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A Russian named Alexi Leonov started it all in 1964 when he stepped into weightless space and twisted and turned and flipped with an effortless, abandoned joy.

Films of the cosmonaut cavorting freely, without the restraint of gravity, fascinated the world.

An American joined the game months later.

On Gemini 4, in March, 1965, astronaut Edwin H. White stepped out of his spacecraft and floated free, restrained only by a tether and a hose feeding oxygen into his space suit.

"AW, GEE"

For 21 minutes White frolicked like a child. And when it was over, he returned reluctantly to the spacecraft.

Art Of Walking In Space Grows Up With Apollo 15

"Aw, gee," he said, "this is the saddest moment of my life." That was the last of the fun space walks.

Officials realized that if man was to conquer space astronauts had to be able to do useful work there.

It has taken six years, but the day of a useful, necessary space walk arrives Aug. 5 during Apollo 15.

Astronaut Alfred M. Worden, command module pilot for Apollo 15, will leave the command ship, scramble along handrails to the service module and remove film from a set of cameras.

SERIOUS JOB

The film must be retrieved by a space walk because the service module cannot be brought back to earth. It is jettisoned just before the command ship enters the atmosphere.

Between Worden's joyful gambol and Worden's serious job, useful space walking emerged as one of the most critical and puzzling problems U.S. astronauts and engineers had to conquer.

The first sobering lesson on space walking came during Gemini 9.

Astronaut Eugene Cernan showed that simple tasks can become monumental difficulties in space.

Cernan worked so hard trying to attach a tether to an unmanned rocket that his body heat overcame the cooling power of his space suit.

The astronaut later explained that because there was no gravity it was impossible to stay in one place.

Flies To Addis Ababa Tuesday

KAMPALA (AP) — President Idi Amin flies to Addis Ababa Tuesday for his first visit to another African state since he came to power in an army coup six months ago, Radio Uganda reported today.

The broadcast quoted Amin as telling tribal elders in northwest Uganda Sunday he would visit the secretary of the Organization of African Unity during his stay in Ethiopia.

Other details of the visit were not announced.

The announcement is regarded by observers here as an indication that Uganda's relations with the OAU now are becoming normal after a period strain following the transfer of the June summit conference from Kampala to Addis Ababa.

Uganda maintained the transfer was illegal and boycotted the summit.

Apollo 15 Crewmen Studies In Contrast

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 15 crewmen are a study in contrast: There's an all-American military man; a quiet, reserved plumber's son; a mod-dressing, fast-talking bachelor.

David Randolph Scott, 39-year-old commander of Apollo 15, is an Air Force general's son who has been aimed at a military career since boyhood.

The 6-foot tall, blue-eyed spaceman was born on a military base, got his middle name from an Air Force base and spent his boyhood in military schools.

JET PILOT

Scott graduated from the U.S. Military Academy at West Point fifth in a class of 633 in 1954. He took his commission in the Air Force and became a jet pilot.

The Air Force selected him for advanced schooling and Scott earned two master's degrees from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

He graduated at the top of his class at the Air Force test pilot school and was snapped up by the space agency for astronaut training.

Scott demonstrated his cool on Gemini 8 in 1966 when the spacecraft went out of control. He and astronaut Neil A. Armstrong regained control and brought it to a safe emergency landing.

In 1969, Scott was command module pilot of Apollo 9 and was the first astronaut to fly alone in the Apollo command ship.

Scott is married to the former Ann Lurton Ott of San Antonio. They have two children, Tracy, 10, and Douglas, 7.

The 1971 second quarter airline operating profit was $1,078,000 are compared to a $288,000 operating loss for 1970. Revenues reported were $18,256,000, an 18.4 per cent increase over the $15,416,000 second quarter revenues for 1970.

Dawson Dads Hear Requests

LAMESA — Dawson County Commissioners were still in session shortly before noon today and had taken no action on requests presented them by two delegations.

The Airport Board came before the commissioners to request that a paved taxi-way be constructed, and a committee presented a request that the county assist in constructing sewer and shower facilities in a camper trailer park.

Other reports were scheduled to be presented to the court today.

Other reports were scheduled to be presented to the court today.

A two-car motorist found himself in difficulty Sunday when the vehicle he was towing had a blowout. The towed vehicle was demolished.

The accident occurred at 6:35 p.m. Sunday 10 miles north of Big Spring on SH 350. Larry Alan Brown, 23, Tulsa, Okla., was towing a car behind the vehicle he was driving. The blowout caused him to lose control of the second vehicle. The car he was driving received only minor damage.

Lakes Gain Extra Flow

Two Colorado River Municipal Water District reservoirs caught slightly more water than anticipated Saturday in the wake of late-week showers.

Lake J. B. Thomas had a .64 of a foot rise, accounting for 860 acre-feet, or a little under the 1,000 feet projected for it. Lake E. V. Spence, however, picked up 1.45 feet, accounting for 3,770 acre-feet. First estimates were for a 3,000-acre-foot gain there. Gain for the two lakes was 4,630 acre-feet.

The Colorado River began flowing early Sunday morning at the diversion works above Colorado City, and O. H. Ivie, general manager, said that possibly as much as 50 million gallons of low-quality water would be diverted at that point.

New elevation for Lake Thomas was 2211.92, and for Lake Spence it was 1833.33.

Zale's Corporation Earnings Decline

Donald Zale, president of the corporation, noted that sales for the quarter were strong for the April Easter season and again in the latter half of June.

MORE STATES SET FOR HORSE VACCINATION — Horses in six more states will be vaccinated in the effort to contain the northward spread of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis. Map locates the six states in black. They are California, Arizona, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. Vaccination is already under way in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

VEE Reported In Counties Outside South Texas Area

HOUSTON (AP) — The federal emergency center here fighting the outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis (VEE) threatening a five-state area takes on six more states today.

Sunday Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin ordered the center to extend its emergency vaccination program from Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma to the six states of California, Arizona, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

The vaccinations in the six states will start in 7 to 10 days, officials in Washington said.

Meanwhile, confirmed outbreaks of VEE spread out of the eight South Texas counties, where they had been concentrated, to two new counties in Texas.

1,310 DEAD

Sunday Dr. M. J. Tillery of the emergency center said reports from the federal laboratory in Atlanta, Ga., revealed confirmed cases of VEE in Matagorda County on the Texas coast between Corpus Christi and Houston and in Guadalupe County east of San Antonio.

"This is the furthest east, in the case of Matagorda, and the furthest inland, in Guadalupe, that we have found VEE," Dr. Tillery said.

He said three more dead horses and 11 sick ones were reported Sunday, bringing the total to 1,310 dead and 1,847 sick in Texas since the disease spread into the country from Mexico June 29.

The latest available figure from the Texas Health Department shows 22 confirmed cases of VEE in humans and 90 suspected ones.

50-50 ODDS

The disease is fatal about 50 per cent of the time in horses but usually only causes headaches and high fever in humans for several days.

Vaccination programs in the original five-state area are slowing down in Texas, where 90 per cent of the horses in the vulnerable South Texas area have been inoculated.

Sunday airplanes from Lake Charles, La., Houston, Corpus Christi, Victoria and Brownsville, Tex., sprayed 820,000 acres for the mosquitoes which carry VEE, John Arnold of the federal center said.

The spraying from Victoria got under way Sunday for the first time, he said. So far, Arnold said, the planes have sprayed 1.9 million acres and will cover 8.6 million acres in the Texas-Louisiana coastal area before the program is completed Aug. 11.

200,000 Okie Horses Due Shots

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Veterinarians head into the homestretch of their drive to inoculate all of Oklahoma's estimated 200,000 horses this week as demand for the sleeping sickness vaccine has slackened.

Dr. Lloyd Weldon, U.S. Agriculture Department health division official, said a campaign would be launched soon to inoculate stragglers.

Weldon said that as of 1 p.m. Sunday, 138,931 Oklahoma horses had been inoculated against Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis, the dread disease which has killed hundreds of horses in Texas.

A total of 215,679 doses of the VEE vaccine have been distributed to veterinarians across the state.

Nixon Plans To Take Time For Blastoff

THURMONT, Md. (AP) — Like millions of other Americans, President Nixon planned to be beside a television set to watch the three Apollo 15 crewmen embark today on a voyage of discovery to the moon.

Rising early to clear away some work on the 1973 fiscal year budget, the President planned to flick on a color set at his away-from-it-all retreat at Camp David high in the Catoctin Mountains for the Apollo launch at Cape Kennedy.

With him are his wife, Pat, younger daughter, Julie, and her husband, David Eisenhower, and old friend C.C. "Bebe" Rebozo.

At the dinner hour Sunday, the President telephoned Cape Kennedy and spoke for about three minutes to Col. David R. Scott, Lt. Col. James B. Irwin and Maj. Alfred M. Wordon, whose trip to the moon was scheduled to begin at 9:34 a.m. EDT. Nixon wished them well and goodspeed, said Ronald L. Ziegler, the White House press secretary.

The President also enlisted in "Arnie's army" by calling golfer Arnold Palmer congratulations for winning the Westchester Classic at Harrison, N.Y.

Nixon has worked on budget preparations daily since Friday. Within a week, the Treasury Department is expected to announce the size of the 1973 deficit. The 1973 budget, to be submitted to Congress in January, will be the one he will have to defend during the campaign if he seeks re-election.

After the Apollo liftoff, the President planned to return to his office to work on the budget before boarding a helicopter around noon for Washington.

The only aides with him at Camp David over the weekend were Ziegler and H.R. Haldeeman, a presidential assistant.

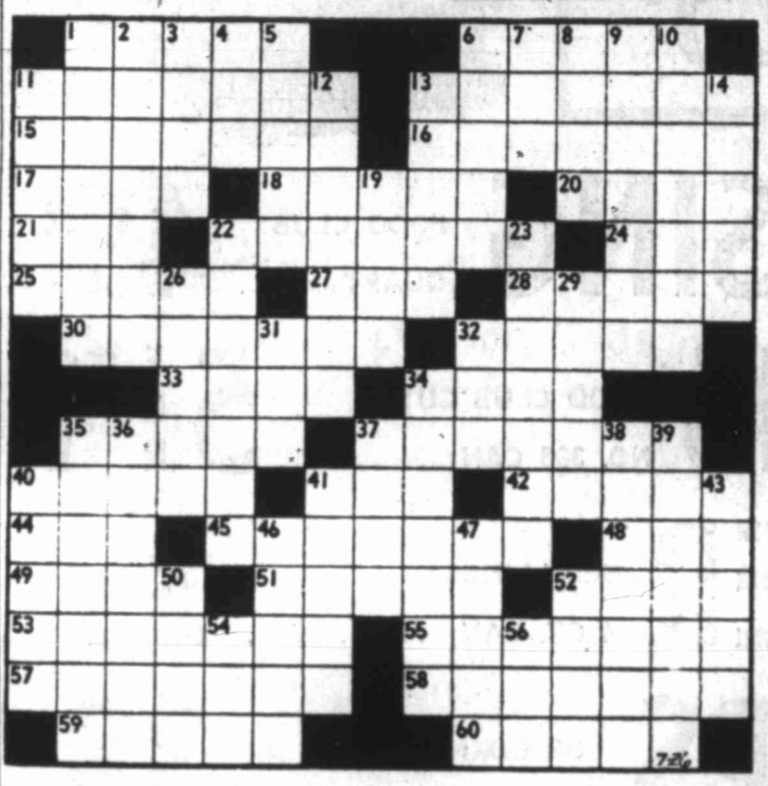

Nixon went to Camp David Saturday afternoon and was expected to return home late Sunday but changed his mind to stay on to see the space shot from the relaxed retreat, where weather was sunnier than in the capital.

Planning To Ferry POWs To 'Homes'

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A millionaire industrialist from New York, with a plan to ferry North Vietnamese prisoners of war to their homeland and bring out American POWs, is readying a three-masted schooner in Galveston's harbor to carry out the task.

Conrad S. Mikulec, president of a Buffalo-based chemical company, says he doesn't believe the South Vietnamese government actually gave 500 North Vietnamese POWs the opportunity to go home as they said they did.

"I believe any man who is a prisoner of war will return to his homeland where his family is no matter what the situation is if you give him the opportunity," Mikulec said. "I can take about 200 North Vietnamese per trip on the 'Star of Peace.'"

His 138-foot, 170-ton vessel is here to secure more crew members and make diesel engine repairs before sailing for Saigon by way of the Panama Canal, Hawaii and the Philippines.

Once he delivers the North Vietnamese prisoners, Mikulec hopes their government will turn over the 347 American POWs to him.

"We will take all 347 men on one trip to the 12-mile limit where they would be transferred to another vessel," he said.

Assisting Mikulec with his plans is Charles Havens III, Washington counsel for the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia. Havens also aided in plans for the release of the crew of the USS Pueblo from North Korea.

Several wives of American POWs will join Mikulec's group in Saigon where he expects to be by late October or early November.

While some years are good car years, 1971 has been a

VINTAGE YEAR FOR PLYMOUTH SATELLITE

ONE OF OUR BEST YEARS.
 It takes something special to come up with a Vintage Year. But that's what '71 has been for Chrysler-Plymouth. Everything—from drawing board to final assembly—has come together in great fashion. We like to think our slogan "Coming Through" had a lot to do with it, because it's more than a phrase. It's a pledge. To come through for you with the kind of automobiles you want, not only in style, size and price—but also in quality you can live with for years to come. A good example is Plymouth Satellite.

DESIGN IS RIGHT-ON.
 Plymouth Satellite started out a new idea in intermediates, the only all-new intermediate for the year. The idea was that a 2-door and 4-door model should have different designs so that interior dimensions would not be compromised. The idea came across so well, Road Test Magazine voted it "U.S. Car of the Year."

NOW, A GREAT SELECTION COMING THROUGH FINAL CLEARANCE PRICED.
 While some years are good car years, '71 has been a Vintage Year for Chrysler-Plymouth. Quality shines and shows in every line. A drive in a Plymouth or Chrysler will prove how our '71 models have come through. Check out our great selection. We think you'll find that a quality car at a final clearance price is what "Coming Through" is all about. For us, for you.

1971. It was a very good year.

A GAS outdoor grill gives food a tangy outdoor flavor without the time and bother of charcoal fire. Char-broiled flavor comes from the smoke of meat juices dripping on hot briquets. Charcoal itself provides no flavor.

Permanent ceramic briquets in the gas grill reach cooking heat in a few minutes, and there is no long wait to start cooking. The heat is regulated manually so there is no need to move a grill up or down.

GOP Gloomy Over Chances Of Fast Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite an eleventh-hour appeal by President Nixon, Senate Republicans were gloomy today over chances of a quick vote on a bill to aid Lockheed Aircraft Corp. and other big businesses in financial trouble.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., said repeated efforts will be made this week to gain the two-thirds vote required to silence Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., and a bipartisan band of Lockheed opponents trying to talk the bill to death.

Tower said prospects of winning, although dim for the first debate-shutoff vote, scheduled this afternoon, are "very good" for the next attempt planned for Wednesday. Even if that should fail, Tower said, he is confident the bill will pass before the weekend.

Administration sources suffered a setback when Sen. James L. Buckley, a New York Republican-Conservative, said he opposed the bill which has been broadened from specific aid for Lockheed to include authority for $250 million in guarantees for any ailing company whose collapse could hurt the economy.

Buckley, in a statement Saturday, said the bill "would pioneer a form of government intervention that would erode market disciplines acquired by a healthy system of free and competitive enterprise."

Buckley is not only conservative in an opposition that cuts across the Senate's political spectrum. But his defection had not been expected.

Lockheed opponents, claiming 42 senators prepared to vote against limiting debate, are showing increasing confidence they will be able to keep talking until the start of the month-long congressional recess Aug. 6. Lockheed says it may go broke in August if it doesn't get $250 million in loan guarantees to complete work on its TriStar Airbus.

Nixon, stepping personally into the battle to save Lockheed, urged Congress to approve the legislation before the recess.

In a weekend statement released at the White House and read on the Senate floor during a Saturday session, Nixon said the bill would be a useful tool in protecting the economy of the nation or a region.

Flash Flood Alert Issued

By The Associated Press

A new cool front slipped into the Panhandle early today bringing gusty winds as it spread southward.

A few showers and thunderstorms developed in an area west of San Antonio but the rest of the state was clear to partly cloudy in the early morning.

Thunderstorms, some heavy, drifted northward along a 50 to 100 mile strip near Brady, Waco and Longview.

Brady reported 6.51 inches of rain in a 24-hour period ending at dawn. Camp San Saba in McCulloch County unofficially had 7.50 inches.

A flash flood warning was issued for the county. Predawn temperatures ranged in the 70s and low 80s across Texas.

Scattered thundershowers will precede and follow the new front as it crosses the Panhandle and Northwest Texas into northern and western portions of the state.

A few thundershowers should be spotted across the southern third of Texas and the Coastal Plains.

Elsewhere the National Weather Service says partly cloudy weather will prevail with little cooler temperatures over the Panhandle and Northwest Texas.

Sudanese Firing Squad Awaits Rebel Leader

KHARTOUM (AP) — Sudanese President Jaafar el Numeiri's forces arrested the fugitive chief of the Communist party at dawn today and held him for a military trial on charges of masterminding the unsuccessful coup last week, the government radio announced.

It was assumed that the Red leader, Abdul Khalek Mahjoub, would be executed. Eight leaders of the 74-hour rebellion have already died before firing squads, and a ninth, Col. Babkir el Noor, is still on trial in Khartoum.

PUBLIC ENEMY

A broadcast statement from Numeiri's office called Mahjoub "the number one enemy of the nation, the chief saboteur," and urged the Sudanese people to help hunt down four of his aides still at large.

It said a Sudanese, who was not identified, had tipped the army to Mahjoub's hiding place in Khartoum.

Al Ahram, Cairo's semi-official newspaper, reported that Mahjoub engineered the revolt from the Bulgarian Embassy. The paper said Mahjoub had taken refuge there after he escaped from prison four weeks ago, but the Bulgarians denied the report.

The pro-Soviet Communist party that Mahjoub led is considered the best organized and largest in the Arab world with 6,000 members. Numeiri's government claims there are 10,000 to 20,000 Communists in Sudan. Soon after he regained power last Thursday, Numeiri ordered all Communists arrested. He had outlawed the party last February because it opposed his plans to join Egypt, Syria and Libya in an Arab federation.

119 WOUNDED

Maj. Farouk Osman Hamadallah was the rebel leader executed Sunday. He and el Noor, who had been named chairman of the seven-man rebel junta, were en route from London to Khartoum when Libyan fighters forced their British airliner to land at Benghazi. They were taken off the plane and handed over to Numeiri.

Numeiri praised Libya and Egypt for supporting him during the upheaval. He told a news conference that he was looking into allegations that the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and Communist China were among those responsible for the coup. But he said so far the only country he could prove had supported the rebels was Iraq, the only Arab nation to recognize the rebel Junta. He said documents had been found indicating the ruling Baath Socialist party in Iraq had backed the coup.

Numeiri said 38 persons were killed and 119 wounded in the coup and counter coup.

You're A Loser If Charm Missing

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — "Beauty isn't enough for a woman," says shapely Miss Universe 1971.

"If you lack intelligence and charm, you're a loser."

Lebanon's Georgina Rizk recounted experiences Sunday that led to her crowning as successor to Puerto Rico's Marisol Malaret.

"Even an ugly woman, if feminine and gracious, can be most interesting to a man ... more interesting than a beautiful girl who lacks soul."

Miss Rizk, draped in a Kasbah dancing girl costume, won the judges votes Saturday night with her 35-24-35 figure.

Georgina has been a model since age 14. Her dream is to become a world famous cover girl.

"My work has taken me to Germany, Cyprus, Italy, Belgium and Kuwait," said the 18-year-old. "I hope to do my work good as Miss Universe and see the rest of the world."

The work begins with visits to New York, the Bahamas, Puerto Rico and Brazil during the next few weeks.

"I have a boyfriend, Philippe Duce, back in Beirut," she said. "He may not be so happy since I will be away for most of the next year. Yes, he's a little bit jealous."

Duce, a Frenchman, is a university chemistry student. Her rewards as Miss Universe include $10,000 in cash and a $5,000 mink coat.

"All this will change my life—for one year," the 5-foot-7 beauty said. "Then, I'll come at least part of the way down to earth again."

Toni Rayward of Australia was first runnerup, followed among five finalists by Pirjo Laitila of Finland, Beba Franco of Puerto Rico and Eliane Parreira Guimaraes of Brazil.

Cherri Creque of the Virgin Islands became the first black ever to make the list of 12 semifinalists.

Fund-Raising On Tuesday Agenda

A retirement plan for employees, the 1971-72 budget and plans for adding to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center are on the agenda for trustees of the center meeting at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday in the third quarterly board meeting.

Trustees also will discuss ways of raising some $27,500 needed for the addition to be built east of the center at Third and Lancaster. Approximately $17,500 is needed for construction and $10,000 is necessary for equipment, according to Jim Thompson, center director.

A nominating committee for the upcoming election in October will be named Tuesday.

Ben Barnes Will Marry Widow Of Close Friend

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who was divorced about a year and a half ago, will marry today, it was revealed Sunday.

Barnes and Mrs. Nancy Sayers, the widow of a close friend of Barnes, will be married at 3:30 p.m. today in the Tarrytown Methodist Church in Austin.

It will be a closed ceremony with only their parents attending. Mrs. Sayers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Good of Waco. Barnes' parents are Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Barnes of Dublin, Tex.

Mrs. Sayers' husband, Scott, died in September, 1968. He was an assistant to then Gov. John Connally and was a former state legislator from Fort Worth. He was a close friend of Barnes when Barnes was House speaker.

Barnes and Mrs. Sayers have long been friends and have been seen together at numerous public functions in the past year. After her husband's death, Mrs. Sayers was appointed by Gov. Connally as chairman of the Texas Employment Commission. The appointment expired last November and she was replaced by Gov. Preston Smith.

Barnes was divorced in 1970 from his childhood sweetheart, Martha Barnes. She recently remarried.

Easing Financing Strain

Yes, Virginia, Uncle Sam's pockets do have bottoms in them.

He will issue long-term (10 year) bonds bearing interest of 7 per cent (7.1 per cent counting a slight discount) in order to cover debts due in the amount of $5.1 billion. For the first time since 1965, the Congress has authorized the longer-term bonds and higher interest. Previously the interest ceiling was 4.25 per cent. The authorization is for $10 billion of borrowing at the higher rate.

Purpose of the new bonds is to dilute concentration of short-term and medium-term borrowing. Effect of short-term borrowing is loan-pyramiding. Such pyramiding means the public is paying interest on top of interest, amounting to around $17 billion this year. New borrowing will run to around $2.5 billion by early September. Borrowing covers the deficit in operating money. It adds to the total debt and the cost to the public of servicing that debt.

With a deficit already set well above the $16.5 billion for the July-December period of last year, the long-term arrangement might ease the strain a bit through avoiding the present too-frequent re-financing, with its layer-on-layer interest charges. Secretary Connally of the Treasury Department has projected a deficit this year of around $23 billion more than estimated.

It remains to be seen how much demand for the longer-term bonds there will be. Treasury managers of the debt hope the bond sales will help stabilize interest rates and not disturb savings bond sales (on the 5.5 per cent bonds). Treasury planners were reluctant to make the new bonds available to individuals because of possible bad effects upon savings accounts but the Congress insisted upon making them available in $10,000 lots or more.

Longer-term notes should be helpful and, in time, might even lead to a trend in reducing the debt-service costs by making refinancing a less-frequent necessity.

Credibility A Casualty

William F. Buckley Jr. has had his odd little "joke" about the Pentagon papers. Publication of "top secret documents" about Vietnam in Buckley's National Review magazine this week was a hoax, he admitted with a grin. Intelligent, with a propensity for polysyllabic pronouncements, Buckley combined with his staff to write the fraudulent papers. His purpose, he said, was "to demonstrate . . . that forged documents would be widely accepted as genuine provided their content was inherently plausible."

The spurious papers "showed" that high American officials had recommended massive escalation in Vietnam, including use of nuclear weapons. This is "plausible," in Buckley's view, because that is what he and his magazine have favored.

Actually, Buckley lied to his readers with the made-up documents, which included paraphrasing of the actual Pentagon papers along with real names and alleged dates. This gave a ring of authenticity to the fraud and could not be denied by present and former officials who had not seen the magazine.

His capricious handling of a serious matter has damaged his credibility, and worse, that of all media.

Peking And Vietnam

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Although the general impression has been that the announcement of President Nixon's plan to visit Red China would bring an early peace agreement in Vietnam, there is no sign of such an accord being consummated. On the contrary, North Vietnam insists that its seven-point proposal still stands and that the United States must set a date for withdrawal of all its forces and stop supporting the Thieu government in Saigon before prisoners of war are released.

ALSO, THE propaganda media of the Communist world keep on accusing the United States of "imperialism" and seem to ignore the new approach which President Nixon has made toward a better understanding and "normalizing relations" with mainland China. The truth, of course, is that Communist governments work slowly. It takes time for procedures to be worked out, especially when they affect operations in countries allied with either Moscow or Peking.

As far as this country is concerned, its envoy at the peace conference in Paris is ready to make a cease-fire agreement and discuss all the points raised by North Vietnam so that a plan for the eventual withdrawal of all American troops can be presented and the position of each side thoroughly explored.

THE EXPECTATION, to be sure, is that the Vietnam war can be ended soon and a settlement reached with Hanoi which will be satisfactory to Peking. It is assumed that emissaries from the United States will consult the Red China government from time to time in order that the viewpoint of the United States can be explained and the negotiations thereby expedited.

MANY PEOPLE have been led to believe that, because of the announcement of the President's trip to Red China, the problems of Asia would be solved quickly and that the Peking government would begin to serve as an associate of the United States in ending such unhappy events as the war in Vietnam. But it will take time for the attitude of the peoples of Indochina to be disclosed. Elections are soon to be held in South Vietnam, and there are divisions of opinion within that country as well as in North Vietnam. Once Hanoi has made it clear that it will sign a cease-fire agreement and negotiate the dates for the withdrawal of American troops and the return of the American prisoners of war, it may be assumed the war will no longer be the cause of friction in Southeast Asia.

WHILE THERE has been much talk about the release of prisoners, no promises have been made by North Vietnam as to when they will be turned over to the American commanders. First of all, it must be made known exactly how many are held captive and who they are. There have been differences as to the number who are imprisoned by forces under Hanoi's control. It may be, of course, that some of those whose names will not appear on the lists furnished by the Communists will have been lost in action. But opportunities must be given for the prisoners themselves to be interviewed to determine whether they have at any time seen some of the missing individuals.

NOT UNTIL a satisfactory arrangement has been made for the return of the prisoners, will American forces be withdrawn from South Vietnam.

Fishermen's Traffic Jam

John Cunniff

By BILL BERTENA (Substituting for John Cunniff)

SEATTLE (AP) — Imagine some of the best commercial salmon in the world being pursued by hundreds of fishing boats through one of the nation's busiest waterways, only minutes from downtown, and you have a picture of confusion.

Those were the circumstances in the waters just off Seattle in June when they were opened to commercial fishing for the first time in 40 years.

A major Puget Sound ferry run had schedules fouled for a couple of days when boats with complicated purse seine gear got in the way. And a lot of other boats got in each other's way before it was all worked out.

The quarry was sockeye salmon migrating through the harbor to their spawning grounds in Lake Washington, which was seeded back in 1935.

For years the run amounted to little commercially, but about 10 years ago, partly because of little fishing pressure, there was a sockeye population explosion. The run "took off," as fisheries biologists put it.

The biologists feared that with so many trying to get back at the same time the spawning areas could be wrecked. So, for the first time in 37 years the legislature permitted the use of purse seine gear in lower Puget, hoping that the explosion could be reduced to manageable size.

Purse seine boats cast or set 1,200-foot-long nets which are closed something like a tobacco pouch, trapping the fish. They take up a lot of room in the crowded waters.

In fact, checks early this season seemed to show fishermen were catching almost as many ferries as fish. Sockeye weigh in at only three to five pounds. Unlike their bigger cousins, the kings and silvers so dear to both commercial and sport fishermen in the Pacific Northwest, they seldom take to bait.

But they're prime commercial fish, producing bright red, firm meat that brings premium prices canned. Each one caught is worth $2 to $3 to the men on the boats.

The men work hard for it. In spite of power gear to haul the tons of net from the water, there is still plenty of strain on the four to six crewmen clad in slickers.

It can be downright miserable. One crew was observed in obvious pain. As they worked the net in over their heads, stinging jellyfish dropped onto their bodies.

But there are many thousands of fish there and that means money.

The Family Name

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON — For some reason there has been an increasing interest in family genealogy. People often inquire how to trace their family tree — where their family originated and why the name.

Occasionally the National Archives here in Washington can give some reference but it takes quite a bit of assembled evidence before they can give any real help.

Numerous organizations are in the business of family history research but some have been known to manufacture a history to please the circumstances and hardly the evidence on which an oath could be applied. A great many people have been duped.

UNTIL ABOUT 1100 A. D. most people in Europe, the only people with whom we were familiar at that time, had only one name. As the population increased it became confusing to live in a village where perhaps one-third of the males were named John, a sizable number named William and so on.

To distinguish one John from another, a second name was needed. Four primary sources furnished these second names. There was, for instance, a man's occupation, his location, his father's name or some peculiar physical characteristic, which identified him from others.

ON THE SIDE of occupation, the local house builder, food preparer, grain grinder, and suit maker may be named respectively: John Carpenter, John Cook, John Miller and John Taylor. Location identified John who lived over the hill as John Overhill, the one who dwelled near a stream might be John Brook or John Atbrook.

Then the suffix of the father's name gave William's son the surname of Williamson, Jack's son became Jackson.

IN SOME of the non-English speaking nations of Europe, the designation of a son had other spelling. In Armenia, the "ian" identified a son. In Scandinavia — Denmark, Norway and Sweden — the "sen" stands for son. In Finland, it takes the name of "nen" and in Greek "poulos." In Czechoslovakia and some of the Baltic nations "wicz" identifies the son and in Poland it is more likely to end with "ski." Spanish is often "ez."

Prefixes in some nationalities denote son, such as "ap" in Welsh — the Scottish and Irish — Mac and Norman — Fitz. The Irish "O" denotes a grandfather. Indications are that physical characteristics played a part in creating surnames. Unusually small people might be known as Small, Short, Little or Lytle. A large individual just might be called Large, Long, Lang or Long-fellow.

NEEDING EXTRA names for identification, knights of old went a little further. The fighting man of the Middle Ages wore a metal suit of armor for protection. Since his suit of armor included a helmet that completely encased his head, a knight in full battle dress was unrecognizable. To prevent friend from attacking friend during the heat of battle, it became necessary for each to identify himself. They accomplished this by painting colorful patterns of their battle shields. These same patterns were woven into cloth surcoats worn over a suit of armor. Thus was born the term "coat of arms."

AS THIS practice grew, it became more and more likely that two friendly knights unknown to each other might be using the same insignia and attack. It finally worked out to prevent this records were kept that granted a pattern to a particular knight and his family shared his right to display this evidence. In some instances these records have been preserved and are in book form.

Hotel Equality

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — This country's first fully multiracial hotel has been opened at Jan Smuts International Airport near here.

A spokesman said "we are not a political hotel. We obey the laws of the land. But every guest in the hotel will be treated with complete equality. We were asked by the government to build a multiracial hotel and this is what we have."

My Answer

Billy Graham

We have discovered that a prominent member of our church is dishonest in his business. What should we do, sue him, or should we throw him out of the church? N.P.

Your attitude reminds me of the cantankerous Pharisees who wanted to stone the adulterous woman. How sad it is that you almost seem to rejoice in the failure of another. Have you made every effort to help this weak one? Have you prayed for him; counseled him; and tried in every way to help him?

I refer you to Galatians 6:1 which says: "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore such an one in the spirit of meekness; considering thyself, lest thou also be tempted. Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfill the law of Christ."

Should you sue him? If he hasn't wronged you, you have nothing to sue him for! If he is really guilty of dishonesty, only the offended can bring him to law. As I see it, you are meddling in the affairs of another, and your sin is on a par with him — if he is guilty. How about getting on your knees before God, asking Him to give you love and understanding for your brother. And then, trying in a Christian way, to help him.

A Devotion For Today . . .

He hath filled the hungry with good things. (Luke 1:53)
PRAYER: Father, forgive us when our appetites are dull for the heavenly manna. Sharpen our longings for Thee. Increase our sensitivity to Thy voice and provide us with a new willingness to do Thy will in all matters of practical life. This we ask in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From the "Upper Room")

Muskie Gains

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — There was never any doubt that President Nixon's planned visit to Communist China boosted his political prospects, at least temporarily. It now develops that Maine's Sen. Ed Muskie is a collateral beneficiary of this spectacular development in foreign affairs.

This is shown in the results of a hitherto unpublished poll by the Democratic National Committee of party professionals — state and county chairmen and other local leaders. A whopping 64 per cent of those queried said Muskie was the Democratic candidate who would benefit most by Nixon's China visit.

THE REASON cited by the pollsters was the same in every case: Since Richard Nixon's political stock had zoomed, the Democrats' best chance of beating him in 1972 was to nominate a moderate, middle-of-the-road challenger — to wit, Ed Muskie. The man from Maine was described as the candidate best equipped by ideology and personality to "unite" the Democratic party for what the pros admit looms as a bitter battle for the Presidency. Above all, said the nuts-and-bolts men, the party should avoid nominating any candidate who might be labeled "radical."

ONE COMMENT seemed to reflect the pros' attitude as a group. From the Midwest, a county chairman argued that the party had to name a candidate who could win the voters' confidence. "Muskie exudes the quality of reasonableness," he said. "With the campaign sure to be waged mostly on television, Muskie could clobber Nixon with his low-key style." Another leader said: "We're not going to win by abusing a President who is getting the troops out of Vietnam and trying to get along with Red China. We've got to have a candidate like Muskie who will offer a program to get this country on its economic feet, while playing down the peacenik issue."

ALL THIS emphasizes how badly the Democrats have been shaken by Nixon's acceptance of Premier Chou En-lai's invitation to go to Peking. It is all very well to mutter that the whole thing is a political ploy by a master politician, but a party that has been demanding peace on earth can hardly criticize a President for taking a giant step in that direction.

FORGETTING HIS personality and moderate stance, Muskie has to be favored to emerge as a "coalition candidate." He continued to lead Nixon, 42 to 40 per cent in the latest Harris Poll (taken before news of the China visit, of course). More significantly, Muskie ran 10 points stronger with the whole electorate than Teddy Kennedy, who has always been Muskie's leading challenger.

AMONG DEMOCRATS, Muskie is strong in the East, the Midwest and the West, and is picking up muscle in the South. According to Harris, Muskie also is doing as well as Kennedy in the under-30 age groups, out-polls Kennedy among the middle-aged and Catholic vote, and is running head-to-head with Kennedy among labor union members. It is a showing that helps explain why the party pros are comfortable with Muskie's candidacy.

What Memories Do For Us

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory can kill as well as reward. If all the guilt or regret we have felt over what we have done or what has happened to us stayed full strength in our minds their poignancy would destroy us. We could not bear their intensity.

Fortunately, however, memory is selective and ameliorating.

It softens the blow of past guilt and regrets; it casts a mellow glow around the years gone by; it stirs in us a sigh rather than a cry for all those forgotten yesterdays that somehow taught us to live.

CONCRETE VAULTS FOR PERMANENT PROTECTION ... constructed by Trinity Memorial Park

FOR PERMANENT PROTECTION

Concrete Burial Vaults Built At Trinity Park

Trinity Memorial Park has been making concrete burial vaults for 10 years. Rigid standards insure the quality of the concrete and the workmanship of each vault.

The vaults are constructed of dense concrete that can withstand pressure of more than 4,000 pounds per square inch. Tests have shown that this material increases in strength as years go by.

Part of the strength and durability of the vaults is provided by the steel-reinforced concrete. A waterproofing agent is also mixed with the concrete before it is formed. It adds impermeability to the features of the vaults.

A special feature of the vaults constructed by Trinity Memorial Park is the "Air Seal." Any dampness from other possible sources can escape. The interior is kept in a perpetually dry condition.

A concrete vault prevents sunken graves. Rust and that a more lasting vault cannot be built at any price.

People often do not realize the importance of a burial vault, and the necessity of a concrete vault for permanent protection is disregarded.

A steady increase of requests for the concrete burial vaults at Trinity Park has been noticed as more and more people realize the superior protection given by the vaults.

Unless specific arrangements are made with the funeral director, the outside container will be a wooden box. A vault corrosion are not possible. Trinity Memorial Park believes replaces the wooden box with an indestructible material, thus protecting the casket.

They are available through the various area funeral homes, including those in Stanton, Lamesa and Snyder.

The durability of the vaults makes them a preferred choice from the viewpoint of both the funeral director and the cemetery director.

The vaults' economical manufacture makes them available to the public at a very reasonable price.

LONDON (AP) — The London Transport Authority invited a group of city councilmen and police for a bus ride to prove the safety of a new bus route which residents along it had protested. Midway in the ride, the bus ran into a parked car.

"We are reconsidering the scheme," said a spokesman for the transport authority.

Nutritious Meals At Nursing Inns

All meals at the Big Spring Nursing Inns are prepared and served with a personal home style, which is in keeping with the home-like atmosphere always maintained at the Inns.

Mrs. Frances Parks makes sure that the meals offer balanced nutrition and are something that all the patients can look forward to.

When a patient is admitted to the Inns, his or her physician selects a proper diet. Even if the patient requires a special diet, the staff can prepare it.

In addition to the regular diets, the dietary staff prepares and serves diabetic, bland foods, low sodium, high protein and low residue diets. Three well-balanced hot meals are served each day.

Mrs. Parks plans meals two weeks in advance. She makes sure that the diet plans are followed for every meal, although she may make a substitution for a dish that the residents are known not to eat.

About half of the residents are able to come from their rooms to eat the hot meals served in one of the Inn's two dining rooms. The Nursing Inns also have hot food carts, so that patients who are not able to come to the dining room will still receive hot food.

Refreshments and snacks are served between meals. A choice of fruit juices is available at mid-morning and afternoon with cookies. Before bedtime snacks such as milk or milkshakes and graham crackers are served by cart to the different halls.

Volunteers are always needed by the staff at Nursing Inns. The volunteer's most valuable role at the local nursing home is just to keep the patients company.

Mrs. Joyce Phillips, activities director, has many ideas for new activities, but she needs volunteers before they can be initiated. She urges any local groups in search of a community service activity to consider the Nursing Inns.

"Many of the groups are 'adopting' patients, ones who have no family. They visit their patient regularly, fix him or her gifts or cookies. If any group wishes to do this, I have a list of such patients," said Mrs. Phillips.

The Big Spring Nursing Inns have received approval from medicare offices, the city health department and the welfare department.

MARSHALL DAY BODY SHOP ... installs "saddle" gasoline tanks

40 GALLONS MORE Saddle Tanks Add Mileage

If you have found that your pickup or camper just doesn't have the range, due to frequent gas stops, see Marshall Day at the Marshall Day Body Shop in Sand Springs.

Day can install in your pickup — without having to cut one hole in the body — polyethylene Universal saddle gasoline tanks.

The tanks which hold 40 gallons are installed in about one hour. Only 11 holes must be drilled, all of them out of sight. The tanks themselves are completely hidden.

They are located inside the rear side panels, just in front of the wheel wells. The filler necks are located in the wheel wells, eliminating the need for body work of any kind.

The tanks can be moved from pickup to pickup when you trade. It is not even necessary to remove the camper to install them.

The setup comes in a kit that includes two tanks, four galvanized steel support bands, zinc-coated bolts, one four-way brass valve, in-line filter and adequate neoprene hose for complete installation.

The tanks are unconditionally guaranteed for 90 days against defective parts, material and workmanship.

Give Moth Light He'll Find His Way

SAN FORD, Maine (AP) — An unidentified man came into the emergency ward of Henrietta Goodall Hospital during the weekend, complaining of a moth in his ear.

A skeptical nurse peered into the man's ear with an otoscope and there was the little creature buzzing around inside.

Backing Harris For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — The president of the National Urban Coalition, Jack H. Vaughn, says he is quitting to head a group backing Sen. Fred R. Harris' bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Announcing his decision Saturday, Vaughn said, "I think this is the time when the nation needs a leader who is really listening to the common man and speaking to the real issues. Fred Harris is that man."

Vaughn, 50, has been with the coalition since last October. He is a former director of the Peace Corps and U.S. ambassador to Colombia.

The Vasectomy

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: That mother of and we fell deeply in love. I six — at age 22, who asked your help in persuading her husband to undergo a vasectomy so she wouldn't get pregnant again — shows selfish inconsideration for him. True, a vasectomy is a simple, safe, 15-minute operation that has no damaging physical effects on a man, and doesn't reduce his potency as a lover. In fact, I think it increases his desire. I know because I had one 30 years ago. Five years later my wife died of pneumonia. I mourned her passing and didn't look at another woman for a year. Then, I met Marie, a lovely young lady about my wife's age was foolish. Not all women would reject a man because he couldn't father children. Some women would consider it an asset. DEAR ABBY: The letter from the young mother of six whose husband changed his mind about having a vasectomy interested me. Having had some experience along that line, may I say a few words? My husband had a vasectomy in 1959. I didn't talk him into it either. It was his own idea, but he kept changing his mind about it, putting it off, then rescheduling the operation several times. I should have told him at that time to forget it, but I didn't know better. He finally had it, and several years all was well. Then he suddenly got the idea it had done something to his manhood. In a nutshell, Abby, if a man feels vasectomy will make him less a man, he should not have it. It's only psychological, but for some, that's enough. ONE WHO KNOWS

DEAR ABBY: Your letter from the woman who has six children and is only 22 years old and is trying to convince her husband to have a vasectomy interested me. Maybe I can help her convince the jerk. After becoming the proud father of a son and daughter I decided back in 1935 that I had all I could handle to properly raise and educate them, and on the advice of my physician I had a vasectomy performed in Atlanta. Believe it or not, it required five minutes, during my lunch hour, and cost $50. That little bit of surgery has given my wife and me a million dollars' worth of happiness. Please tell that stubborn man his marital relations will be much improved without the worry of pregnancy. KAY BEE

DEAR KAY BEE: My mail is running 100 to 1 in favor of the vasectomy. But in all fairness, there is another side may be a sign of monoxide. For your purposes, I'd be more concerned about the chance of the heater's being too close to the canvas and causing a fire. So with those six youngsters, be careful about that. Dear Dr. Thosteson: How expensive is it to have acne scars removed or smoothed down? I would call over $25 halfway expensive and over $40 expensive. I have had acne for almost five years. Now it is clearing up and I would like my face to be smooth again—S.A. First of all, while dermabrasion or "skin planing" can help at times and some extent in improving the aftermath of acne, it is not the simple cure all that too many people hope it will be. It is neither a cure-all nor simple. Cost will vary according to the skin area that needs to be treated, and also a bit from one part of the country to another. But keep in mind that it is a surgical procedure, requires care for quite a few days after the surgery, and your ideas of

Safe Heaters
Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have read several articles, including one in your column, about portable heaters and burners being dangerous without proper ventilation. Does this include a pressurized gasoline heater for camping? We go camping a lot. We have six children and it's got me worried. If you use the heater at night, should a window in the tent be left open?—Mrs. M.E. Any heater that works by combustion, whether it burns wood, coal, coke, peat, oil, gasoline, kerosene, or anything else, can produce carbon monoxide. (Electric heaters do not depend on combustion; hence, no carbon monoxide.) The kind of tents I am familiar with have been uniformly drafty enough so the ventilation was adequate, but I understand that some of the modern, super-super camping outfits can be sealed pretty tightly closed. If your tent closes up tightly, then, yes, I'd leave a window open, but if you can feel fresh air moving under the edges or around the tent flaps, I wouldn't worry. It's in a closed area that carbon monoxide becomes dangerous, and it doesn't take very much of it. The effects are subtle: if you wake up with a headache in the morning, that what are "expensive" could be drastic underestimates. If you are seriously interested, then see a plastic surgeon or a dermatologist (some dermatologists do this, some don't) and find out first whether the procedure would do you enough real good to be worth it. Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can any case of VD or syphilis be detected by a blood test? If so, can any person be immune to any blood test that can be given?—Mr. X. Syphilis can be detected by a blood test, but not instantly—not the next day or even the next week after exposure. It takes a month, more or less, for the infection to develop to the point at which a blood test will show it. The much more prevalent form of VD, gonorrhea, will not show in a blood test. The research experts are working very hard to find a blood test for gonorrhea, but so far they haven't developed one. I hope they do.

Will It Be Sunrise Or Sunset For Ali?

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Muhammad Ali, the former king trying to regain his throne, and Jimmy Ellis, the former sparring partner trying to buy a tag, answer a list of intriguing questions tonight when they meet in a 12-round bout in the Astro-dome.

What did the Joe Frazier fight take out of Ali? Does Ali still have enough speed? What will happen to boxing if Ali loses? Can Ellis elude Ali's deadly jab long enough to get off his lightning combinations?

A live gate of 25,000-30,000 in the Astro-dome and possibly one million more watching on closed circuit television will see the answers unfold first-hand.

Although no title is at stake for this fight, it has taken on all the aspects of a championship bout, partly because of the partly because of the "All special" seats at $5 each to meet a request from Ali.

It will be the first fight for Ali since a June 28 U.S. Supreme Court decision reversed a five-year conviction for draft evasion and once again left him free to regain the title that was stripped from him for refusing the draft.

Ali, one of the most magnetic personalities in fight history, lost for the first time in his 32-fight career on March 8 in a brutal contest with Frazier.

All has been asked constantly since opening training here, what the Frazier fight has done to him.

SLOWER

"Look at my face and look at his," Ali usually says. "He was messed up bad. I had a puffed jaw for a few days but it went away. He still looks bad. He had to take a hospital rest."

All admits his speed isn't quite what it used to be before his exile from fighting. "I'm past my prime," he said. "I know I'm in my last days."

He remembered a national magazine using a timing device to clock the speed of his punch. "It was .04 of a second," he said. "It takes 25 of a second to think about moving. You're hit before you know it." He joked that he's probably slowed down to .12 by now.

It has even been suggested that a loss by Ali would send boxing into a decline. Ali, as smooth as a showman as he is a fighter, points to the huge crowds that have watched him train and says: "I can't understand it, I'm more popular after I lost than before."

Ellis, the quiet, 31-year-old former World Boxing Association champ, listens to it all patiently. He's heard it all since the early days of his heavy-weight career when he was Ali's sparring partner.

In addition to living in Ali's shadow, Ellis feels he's never received the recognition his talent deserves. He sees a victory over Ali as a ticket to another at Frazier, who knocked him out Feb. 16, 1970, for the heavy-weight championship.

League games, the New York Yankees took a doubleheader from the Milwaukee Brewers, 6-2 in 11 innings and 11-9; the California Angels hammered the Baltimore Orioles twice, 6-2 and 9-6 in 13; the Chicago White Sox beat the Washington Senators 5-1 and 9-6 and the Kansas City Royals beat Cleveland 4-3 in the first game of their twin bill but lost 2-1 to the Indians in the second.

Killebrew drove in a run for Minnesota with a single in the third inning, then capped a five-run explosion in the fifth off former teammate Luis Tiant with a 396-foot drive with two men aboard, his first homer since June 22.

Blue, boosting his record to 19-3, left after six innings of one-hit work simply because Oakland Manager Dick Williams "wanted to give me a rest."

Blue was struck on the foot by a pitch in the fourth inning. But that wasn't the reason Blue made an early departure and left the mopping up to Rolie Fingers.

BLUE WINS AGAIN Killer Breaks Homer Drouth

The next home run that Harmon Killebrew hits will be a big weight off his shoulders, to say nothing of Bill Rigney's mind.

"I'll be happy when No. 500 gets here because it's been bugging Killebrew ... and as the big guy goes, so do we," said Rigney, the Minnesota Twins manager.

Killebrew ripped his 499th career blast Sunday as the Twins stopped the Boston Red Sox 6-2. But it was only his 12th this season—an unusually low total for the Killer—and snapped him out of a month-long homer drouth.

The 500-homer plateau has been reached by only nine players in baseball history, the last being Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs in 1970.

While Killebrew inched toward the half-grand mark Sunday, Oakland's magical Vida Blue closed in on a 20-victory season, winning his 19th as the A's trimmed the Detroit Tigers 6-1 to gain a split of their doubleheader. The Tigers won the first game 7-4.

In Sunday's other American

League games, the New York Yankees took a doubleheader from the Milwaukee Brewers, 6-2 in 11 innings and 11-9; the California Angels hammered the Baltimore Orioles twice, 6-2 and 9-6 in 13; the Chicago White Sox beat the Washington Senators 5-1 and 9-6 and the Kansas City Royals beat Cleveland 4-3 in the first game of their twin bill but lost 2-1 to the Indians in the second.

Palmer Birdies One-Third Of Holes For Great Win

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — A recharged Arnold Palmer, who birdied 23 of 72 holes en route to the $50,000 top prize in the Westchester Golf Classic, said the big thing about his big payday was a bogey.

Palmer, who matched his Saturday round of 68 for an 18-under-par 270 Sunday on the 6,700-yard Westchester Country Club course, put his tee shot on the 14th hole over the green, nicked it a mere six feet with his second shot, then chipped 12 feet past the pin and putted a bogey four.

"If there was one big thing that happened," he said, "that was it. The one thing I didn't want to do was leave it there."

"But it was a good putt for a bogey and gave me the rhythm I needed to finish."

He finished five strokes ahead of Gibby Gilbert and Hale Irwin, who collected $23,125 apiece in this richest of tournaments.

Gilbert was only three strokes back of Palmer at the start of the final round.

BACK IN THE BIG MONEY — Golfer Arnold Palmer, recharged and winning again, goes through the familiar motions of exultation after dropping his putt on the 18th hole Sunday to win the $50,000 top prize in the Westchester Golf Classic. Ball at left still on green belongs to Palmer's playing partner, Ray Floyd.

Petty Nears Million Mark

Petty, whose white-toothed smile is a constant thing in the South, won career race No. 132 at Nashville, Tenn. Saturday night. He led all but 20 laps of a 250-mile and his first-place check of $4,025 put him within less than $5,000 of the $1-million career mark.

Revson drove 109 miles at the Glen at an average speed of 128.5 miles an hour, giving the British-based Team McLaren its third victory in four starts in Can-Am competition this year. Only Scotland's Jackie Stewart has broken the team's 1971 string, winning the second event of the series at St. Jovite, Quebec, a month ago.

Denis Hulme, the senior McLaren driver, came in second—making it the 27th one-two finish for the team in 38 races in four years. Jo Siffert of Switzerland was third, Mario Andretti fourth and Tony Adamson fifth.

An Alfa Romeo Spider driven by Andre de Adamich of Italy won Saturday's six-hour endurance run at the Glen. It also made an appearance in the Can-Am and finished seventh.

Cards' Rally Falls Short

The Big Spring Cardinals staged a last-minute rally here Sunday but still fell one run shy in a heart-breaking loss to the Odessa Stars, 4-3.

Odessa had some late heroics, too, putting three hits and a sacrifice together for two runs in the top of the ninth.

Hernandez completely mystified the Cards — all but Abel Ramirez — until the bottom of the ninth when he yielded three hits for as many runs. Ramirez got three hits in his times at the plate.

The Stars got to Jody Flores for nine hits, but not until the last frame were they bunched.

The Cards will go to Lubbock Sunday to play the Rhinos, who will play a return engagement here the following weekend.

Cleon Jones Paces Mets To Victory Over Astros

NEW YORK (AP) — For Cleon Jones, making records isn't as important as breaking into the victory column.

The New York left fielder reached a couple of hitting plateaus Sunday—but neither would have meant a thing without the Mets' 7-6 triumph over Houston.

"If we had lost the game, I'd have forgotten the record books," said Jones, who reached the 800-hit career plateau—tops for a Met—and also drilled the team's 1,000th home run in New York's 10th season.

Sunday's triumph gave the Mets their first winning streak in July—two in a row. The last time the Mets had a winning streak was the end of June, when they put three triumphs together.

Jones led off the fourth inning with his 10th homer of the season to trigger a four-run burst. The Mets, who added two runs before their eighth-inning blunders on the base paths, withstood a two-run ninth by Houston as reliever Ron Taylor shut off the rally.

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's 7-6 triumph over the New York Mets on Sunday was the first since July 10, 1967, when the Mets won their first game since the end of June, when they put three triumphs together.

Jones led off the fourth inning with his 10th homer of the season to trigger a four-run burst. The Mets, who added two runs

STARGELL FANS THRICE Pair Of Unknowns Silence Pirates In Double-Header

Fred Norman and Steve Arlin are not nearly comparable as pitchers to former Los Angeles stars Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale, but they—and the rest of the San Diego staff—resemble the outstanding Dodger mound corps of the mid-1960's, according to Bob Miller.

Miller, a member of the Dodgers from 1963 to 1967 when Koufax and Drysdale led them to three National League pennants, and now at 32 the dean of the Padres' hurlers, made his comparison after Norman pitched a five-hitter in the opener and Arlin fired a three-hitter in the nightcap as San Diego swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh's slugging Pirates 2-1 and 2-0 Sunday.

It was the first time this season that the Pirates—the top hitting club in the major leagues—had lost a doubleheader in five twinbills.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco beat Cincinnati 7-3 before losing 5-2; Atlanta defeated Los Angeles 3-1; Montreal held off St. Louis 5-4; New York whipped Houston and struck out seven.

Singles by Ollie Brown and Ed Spiezio in the second inning drove in the only runs of the game.

Bobby Bonds collected three singles and drove in two runs, while Willie McCovey also knocked in two as the Giants trimmed Cincinnati in their opener behind the nine-hit pitching of Gaylord Perry.

Lee May's eighth-inning homer, his 25th broke a 2-2 deadlock in the nightcap and gave the Reds a split. Tony Perez whacked his 17th homer with one on in the third for Cincinnati's first two runs.

Despite the split, the Giants increased their NL West lead to 8 1/2 games over Los Angeles.

The Dodgers suffered their 14th loss in 19 games, bowing to the seven-hit pitching of Atlanta's knuckleballing Phil Niekro.

John Bateman's fourth-inning grand slam homer broke a scoreless tie and powered Montreal past St. Louis. Bateman admitted he was a little leery about facing St. Louis pitcher Reggie Cleveland.

One semi-final berth will be decided by the Tuesday 8 p.m. game at the National park between Big Spring National and Midland Tower. The other will be settled Wednesday when the Big Spring American-Midland Southern winner faces Big Spring Texas.

Finals are set for 8 p.m. Thursday at the same site.

MISS ASTRO HOPEFUL — Miss Jessica Patton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Patton, 2106 Cecilia, who was named Miss KBST Saturday evening, will represent Big Spring at the Miss Astro competition Aug. 5-8 in the Astrodome. Winner of the Houston contest will receive a four-year college scholarship, wardrobe, diamond watch and a trip to Mexico. Second place winner and alternate in the local judging was Miss Sylvia Dorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Dorn Jr. of Coahoma.

Western Title To Beth Berry

CHICAGO (AP) — Beth Berry may have missed a half dozen putts under eight feet in the 36-hole showdown of the Women's Western Amateur Championship but she made those that counted toward her first Western championship, defeating Curtis Copper Nancy Hager, 1-up.

"I make them or I miss them big," said the sturdy Miss Berry, 22, who perfected her golf game as a member of the men's varsity team at South Alabama University before graduating in June.

Miss Berry, the Southern champion from Dauphin Island, Ala., missed putts of 8, 7, 6, 5, 4 and 2 feet in steaming Chicago heat Saturday over the exacting Flossmoor Country Club course.

But she dropped a 15-footer for a winning birdie duce to go 1-up on the 31st hole and then tapped in an 18-foot par putt to move 2-up on the 34th.

On the long 35th, Miss Hager won with par when Beth threeputed, missing a 2-footer which would have closed the match. Both girls halved the final hole.

All-Stars Taper Off For Friday

CHICAGO (AP) — The group of 52 collegians, rated among the best ever assembled in the series, begins tapering off this week in preparation for Friday night's All-Star game against the champion Baltimore Colts of the National Football League.

The graduated collegians will be trying to snap a seven-game losing streak against the pros in the classic at streamlined Soldier Field, where attendance is expected to be a capacity 52,000. The game will be televised nationally by ABC at 8:30 p.m. CDT.

The huge lake front arena has been remodeled and fitted with artificial turf to become the new home of the Chicago Bears.

The All-Stars, coached by Blanton Collier, are as usual in the underdog role. But instead of being given the customary 16 or 17-point deficit, the early line pegs them at a modest 10.

The pros hold a 26-9-2 winning bulge in the rivalry last losing in 1963 when Coach Otto Graham's brigade upset the Green Bay Packers 20-17.

Last year Coach Paul Brown's collegians were crushed 24-3 by the Kansas City Chiefs shortly after a NFL

Stroup Is Top Racer

Wayne Stroup was high-point man in Saturday's stock car racing card at the old Sahara Drive-In track on IS 20 West. He captured first in the feature race and second in the fast heat.

Fifty-one cars were entered in the contests which were watched by approximately 1,000 fans.

Winners included: Raymond Hamby (Western Yamaha), trophy dash; John Lee (Lee); slow heat; Wendell Maxey (B&W Welding, Midland), fast heat; John Edwards (Edwards Special), consolation; Carl Hart (Birdwell Salvage), Australian pursuit.

Winner of the power-puff race was Sarah Johnson (Patton Welding-Lacy Electric).

Rams Are Happy With Choice

By The Associated Press

Cleveland head coach Nick Skorich thinks the Browns were on the beam when they made Charlie Hall their third draft choice.

In fact, Skorich says some of the veterans may find themselves out of a job if the aggressive 6-3, 217-pound rookie continues to look impressive on the practice field.

"He has fine footwork and doesn't make many mistakes," Skorich said after the Browns' scrimmage Sunday. "It's my feeling that he'll make someone worry about a job before this whole thing is over."

Hall, who led the University of Houston football team in tackles the past two seasons, has been working on the left side behind veteran Jim Houston. And Skorich, who expressed worry about his line-backing strength before camp opened, didn't discount the possibility of assigning Hall to the right side where rookie Steve Casteel is battling veterans John Garlington and Billy Andrews for the starting nod.

Meanwhile, the Buffalo Bills traded one rookie and cut three others. Tight end John Redebaugh was swapped to the Detroit Lions for a future draft choice and cornerbacks Al Brown and Tony Sexton and tackle Andy Browder were trimmed from the roster.

Vic Suma, offensive tackle snared in the 12th round of the draft, was released on waivers by the Miami Dolphins. Vic Grant, acquired from the New York Giants after a squabble with Giants coach Alcx Webster, arrived in camp and took part in drills.

Miami holdouts Jim Kluck and Larry Csonka remained absent Sunday, adding to the $200 daily fines they are being assessed for failure to report to camp.

The Atlanta Falcons said they had reached tentative agreement with veteran line-backer Tommy Nobis, who has yet to sign his pact for the 1971 season.

Place kicker Dan Thatcher was cut from the Los Angeles Rams Sunday as the Rams continued preparations for Saturday's Hall of Fame clash with Houston. Running back Travis Williams, tackled by the flu, sat out the practice.

Frambrough, Barron Win

Jerry Barron fired a net 73 to win the first division of the one-club tournament Sunday over the Mundy Golf Course.

Tommy Frambrough captured the second division for those with 10 or better handicap to take top honors in that class with a net of 75.

Barron, who carries a handicap of one, used a No. 6 iron for his tour. Frambrough utilized a No. 5 in shooting 85 to go with his 10 handicap.

In the top division, second place went to Royce Cox with a 79-77 using a No. 4; third and fourth to Charlie Brantley (78-0-78) and Hack Spivey (82-4-80); and fifth and sixth to Burl Dennis (84-4-80) and Hal Rosson (84-4-80) and J. B. Brunson (83-3-80).

Bobby Ussery Hasn't Lost Skill In Riding Gee-Gees

By The Associated Press

Veteran jockey Bobby Ussery hasn't lost his skill on the race track.

The 36-year-old rider, who finished first in two consecutive Kentucky Derbys with Proud Clarion in 1967 and Dancer's Image in 1968, performed a slick maneuver at Aqueduct Saturday and won the $115,100 Brooklyn Handicap astride Never Bow.

"That was the slickest bit of riding I've seen in a long, long time," commented Sammy Renick, a leading jockey at the time Ussery was born in 1935, and now prominent as a producer of racing programs on television.

What Ussery did was keep favored Twice Worthy on the far outside in the 300-yard straight-away run to the first turn.

Never Bow, top-weighted at 126 pounds although he finished last, beaten 19 lengths by Twice Worthy, in the Suburban Handicap July 5, started from Post No. 11. Twice Worthy, carrying 120 including Johnny Ruane, left from Post No. 12 in the 12-horse field.

At the break Ussery kept

Spotted Fever

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (AP) — Six cases of Rocky Mountain spotted fever, a dangerous viral disease transmitted by tick bites, were reported in Suffolk County in June.

Dr. George E. Leone, county health commissioner, warned residents and visitors to avoid the tall, dune grass where ticks breed.

The disease is treated with antibiotics that should be administered as quickly as possible after the symptoms of high fever and spots appear.
