

MAIN STRIKE ISSUE IS CHANGE IN WORK RULES

No Rail Solution In Sight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The union striking four railroads has rejected a Labor Department request that a neutral board impose a binding settlement in the dispute. The union said the offer showed "complete bias of the government toward the management position."

Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson asked Tuesday for responses by today on his arbitration suggestion, but the United Transportation Union replied came within two hours. "Collective bargaining can never work as long as government remains a slave to management and interferes when collective bargaining is beginning to succeed," said UTU President Charles Luna in rejecting the offer.

The railroad industry has not yet replied.

The Labor Department recessed joint union-industry talks Monday, saying no solution was in sight.

With the union threatening to strike six more railroads Friday, Hodgson recommended a panel of three neutral experts be selected by both sides or by President Nixon to reach a binding settlement.

Despite the increasing problems White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said, "We have no plans at this time to send legislation to the Hill" to seek an emergency settlement.

The UTU struck the Southern and Union Pacific railroads 12 days ago and extended the walkout last Saturday to the Norfolk & Western and the Southern Pacific. Some 120,000 employees have been off work and 20 per cent of rail shipments tied up.

A 5 p.m. strike deadline today against the Long Island Railroad was postponed by the UTU pending developments in Washington.

The six railroads' with 45,000 employees, targeted for strikes Friday are the Duluth, Mesabi & Iron Range, the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern, the Bessemer & Lake Erie, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, the Alton & Southern Terminal in St. Louis and the Houston Belt & Terminal in Houston. On Aug. 6 the union has slated walkouts against the Baltimore & Ohio; Chesapeake & Ohio; Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific, and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

The main issue is a change in work rules recommended by a presidential emergency board last fall and accepted by three other rail unions. Management says the rules are needed to help offset a 42-per-cent wage increase over 42 months.

UTU president Luna said in his telegram to Hodgson: "To revert to arbitration at this point when we have established the right to the exercise of economic strength through court action would be foolish."

Pesky Gremlins 'Bug' Explorers

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The Apollo 15 explorers hurried "right by the book" on course to the moon today, bothered only by such pesky space-ship gremlins as a broken piece of glass and a brief voltage drop.

Flight director Glynn Lunney said the problems all were minor and posed no threat to the astronauts or the planned landing on the moon Friday.

David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Alfred M. Worden retired an hour late Tuesday night after spending extra time helping the ground troubleshoot a rash of nagging electrical and communications difficulties. So Mission Control Center let them sleep an hour later today.

WELL RESTED

No major activity was scheduled and officials want the astronauts well rested for six busy days ahead in the vicinity of the moon.

Lunney was asked if the total of five problems reported so far on the mission was unusual, especially in electrical systems.

"I don't think you can make too much of the electrical problems," he replied. "We always seem to have these nagging sorts of problems. When you consider the complexity of the hardware, I think we're doing quite well."

Lunney also commented on the quietness of the crew, who rarely say anything unless spoken to by Mission Control.

VERY QUIET

"The Apollo crews generally have been very quiet on the way out to the moon," he said.

Mentally Retarded Boy Found Alive On Mountain

CASPER, Wyo. (AP) — Kevin Dye, a mentally retarded 9-year-old missing on rugged Casper Mountain for 10 days, was found alive today not far from the spot where he disappeared.

Officials at the base rescue camp on the 8,110-foot mountain said first reports indicated the youngster was in fairly good physical condition. An ambulance was rushed to the scene where alpine rescue team members were bringing Kevin down the mountain.

The boy, an epileptic, had been without his normal medication during the period and was believed to have subsisted on mountain stream water and food from garbage cans and cabins in the area.

Kevin's mother, Mrs. Phillip Dye, of Casper had said she believed Kevin was merely frightened of the searchers as he eluded experienced mountain rescue team and tracking dogs.

The youngster was with his parents on an outing at a cabin on the wooded mountain when he disappeared.

engine system.

Two were solved quickly. Ground experts were troubleshooting the others today.

The new troubles cropped up when Scott and Irwin transferred Tuesday night into the lunar module, called Falcon, to make certain all its systems were in order for their descent to the base of the moon's highest mountains at 6:15 p.m. EDT Friday. Apollo 15 is to fire into lunar orbit at 4:05 p.m. Thursday.

Simultaneously, communications from a tracking station at Goldstone, Calif., was lost for 19 seconds and voltage dropped in an electrical system in the command ship Endeavour. Both problems were brief.

TRACED QUICKLY

The first was traced quickly to a power amplifier at Goldstone. A series of tests showed the two incidents were not connected, and further tests traced the power drop to a tripped circuit breaker.

Mission Control said the affected circuit controlled a few display panel lights and that engineers were developing alternate ways of lighting them.

U. S. In Red $20 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration rolled out final figures today on the nation's second largest budget deficit since World War II, a fiscal 1971 red-ink figure between $20 billion and $25 billion.

The precise figure, set for announcement by the Treasury Department, is topped only by the $25.2-billion deficit rung up during fiscal 1968 under former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

But the 1971 deficit is not apt to attract wide criticism from Democrats, who have urged President Nixon to spend even more to give the economy more steam.

DRAMATIC CHANGE

It does reflect a dramatic change in Nixon's economic thinking since he became president. When the fiscal 1971 budget was submitted to Congress in early 1970, Nixon said it would show a $1.3-billion surplus.

'GLARING INCONSISTENCY'

Financial Aid To Thai Mercenaries Attacked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case accused the Nixon administration today of "glaring inconsistency" in its accounts to Congress of American financial aid to irregular forces fighting in Laos.

The New Jersey senator asked the administration to disclose all details of U.S.-aided operations in Laos, including the cost, the personnel and agreements involved, and "most importantly, when will it all end?"

TOLD YOU SO

Case said the State Department advised him July 15 that support for irregular forces from Thailand fighting in Laos is being provided under the U.S. military aid program.

Case said that aid directly contradicts June 14 testimony to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and also violates legislation forbidding use of defense appropriations to support foreign mercenary forces in Laos.

Case quoted Laird as saying flatly: "The military assistance program will not fund that program."

He said Laird also testified military assistance cannot be used for support of irregular forces. A month later, Case said, the State Department wrote him:

"Support for these irregulars is supplied under the Laos military aid budget, which, as you know, is funded through the Department of Defense budget as military assistance, service funded."

MORE SORROW

"It is more in sorrow than in anger that I report a glaring inconsistency in the administration position on the funding of Thai troops in Laos," Case said.

STRIPS FOLIAGE Winds, Hail Pop Parts Of Panhandle

Damaging winds and hail assailed parts of the Texas Panhandle in fierce thunderstorms during the night, and remnants of a squall line lingered in that section this morning.

Near dawn the belt of unruly weather stretched from around Childress and Paducah northeastward Mineral Wells, Denison and Sherman into Central Oklahoma.

Showers and thunderstorms also cropped up in an area including San Angelo, Cisco and Comanche, stretching toward the east into Louisiana and Arkansas.

There were occasional early morning showers in several other sections, including parts of Central and East Texas, near Gaudalupe Pass in far West Texas east of El Paso, and near the Upper Texas Coast.

Winds up to 60 miles per upset a mobile home and knocked down fences at Gruber, about 80 miles north of Amarillo in the Panhandle, and hail the size of marbles whitened the ground.

Elsewhere in the Panhandle, hail up to two inches thick stripped the foliage off young maize plants near Channing and the icy pellets also rattled off the rooftops at Stratford.

FELL 70 FEET, CAME UP RUNNING

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A workman who fell 70 feet from a scaffold Tuesday hit the dirt and came up running because he thought the scaffold was coming down on him.

Wade Stanley, a 23-year-old installer for the Central Glass Co. in Lakeland, was taken to a local hospital for treatment of broken ribs and bruises.

Police said Stanley was installing exterior ventilator screens on the seventh floor of the new Municipal Justice building when the scaffold gave way.

Those Telegrams Will Cost More

The end of the nationwide Western Union strike means Big Springers can send telegrams again, but they will cost more.

The local Western Union office at 124 E. 3rd is open for business, as is the branch office at the 66 Truck Stop.

Prices for a regular telegram of 1-15 words delivered by telephone have increased from $2.75 to $3.75, according to Mrs. Kathleen Brown, the local Western Union manager.

"Overnight telegrams delivered by telephone," she said, "have remained at the same price of $1.70." The greatest increase in cost is for home delivered telegrams, which cost an additional $1.50 for delivery.

The downtown office of Western Union will close within 90 days, she said. Services will be taken over by sub-stations at the Truck Stop and the Continental Bus terminal.

THIS CHECK WON'T BOUNCE

BUCKINGHAM, England (AP) — City Councilman John Benham paid his local taxes with a concrete check weighing 112 pounds as a protest against the condition of Buckingham's sidewalks.

Col. Ryan To Take Reins Of Webb AFB Saturday

Col. Malcolm E. Ryan Jr. takes command of the 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb Air Force Base Saturday following a change of command ceremony on the Webb flight line.

The ceremony will be held in conjunction with graduation exercises for Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 72-01 at 9:30 a.m.

Col. Ryan replaces Col. Anderson W. Atkinson who will become vice commander of the Sheppard Technical Training Center in Wichita Falls. Col. Atkinson has commanded the wing for the past 16 months.

Col. Ryan arrived at Webb after attending the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington, D.C.

WEST POINT

He was commissioned in the Air Force upon graduation from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1950. After commissioning, he received his pilot training at Williams Air Force Base in Arizona.

Col. Ryan has held many positions during his 21-year military career, including instructor in the Department of Mathematics at the Air Force Academy from June, 1958, until August, 1960, after which he was named assistant professor of mathematics and academic scheduling officer at the academy.

OVERSEAS

He was assigned as Operations Officer of the 494th Tactical Fighter Squadron at RAF Lakenheath, England, from October, 1965, until January, 1967. In January, 1967, he went to Aviano Air Base, Italy, as deputy commander for Operations.

In December, 1968, he was assigned as Wing Operations Staff Officer, and then as assistant deputy commander for

... checking out his orders

Operations at Tuy Hoa Air Base, Republic of Vietnam. In October, 1969, he was transferred to Headquarters, Seventh Air Force at Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Vietnam, as chief, Current Plans Division under Operations.

During the Korean conflict, Col. Ryan logged 90 combat missions which totaled 169 combat hours in the F-84. In Vietnam, the colonel flew 212 combat missions totaling 550 hours of combat time.

PH.D. IN MATH

In addition to his degree from West Point, Col. Ryan has a masters degree in mathematics and a Ph.D. in applied mathematics, both from the University of Colorado. He is also a graduate of the Air Command and Staff College and the Armed Forces Staff College.

He wears the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Flying Cross with four Oak Leaf Clusters; the Air Medal with 15 Oak Leaf Clusters; Air Force Commendation Medal with one Oak Leaf Cluster; World War II Victory Medal; the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award; Republic of Vietnam Campaign Medal; Republic of Vietnam Gallantry Cross with Palm; and the National Defense Service Medal.

Born in Pueblo, Colo., on Dec. 30, 1927, Col. Ryan calls Brawley, Calif., his home. He is married to the former Miss Lois Jean MacLean of Baldwin, N.Y. The couple has one daughter, Kathleen, a sophomore at the University of Colorado.

More Ballots Are Necessary

Absentee balloting in the upcoming Aug. 3 recall election has drawn so many voters that extra ballots had to be ordered by Maxine Shaffer, acting city secretary, Tuesday evening.

Only 200 ballots originally were ordered for absentee voting, Mrs. Shaffer said. An additional 500 ballots were ordered Tuesday and arrived this morning, she said.

A record total of 219 absentee ballots had been cast as of noon today, the third day of absentee balloting.

Deadline for absentee voting is 5 p.m. Monday in the Aug. 3 recall referendum against city commissioners Wade Choate, Jack Watkins and Eddie Acri.

Candidates running for possible spots on the commission in lieu of the commissioners being recalled are, as in the order on the ballot: Lee O. Rogers, Harold L. Davis, John C. Anderson and Carlisle (Frosty) Robison.

Old Settlers Ready For 47th Reunion

The beans are ready for pickin' and the beef will go on the pit Friday for the 47th Annual Howard County Old Settlers Reunion to be held at the Old Settlers Pavilion in Comanche Trail Park.

Settlers with dexterous fingers will meet at 9 a.m. Thursday at the Old Settlers Pavilion to pick the innumerable beans that will be prepared for the noon barbecue Friday.

Registration for the union will begin at 9 a.m. Friday when old and new settlers begin gathering at the park. The day-long activities will feature a noon barbecue, music by the Country Cousins, the old fiddlers' contest, an afternoon dance and a dance at 8:30 p.m. All activities are open to the public.

Donations have continued to come in to help finance the reunion, according to Mrs. Dollie Murphree, reunion secretary-treasurer. Vandoyl Murphree is this year's president for the reunion.

Those who have donated to the reunion include B. A. Regan, Security State Bank, Whites Auto Store, Safeway Store, 418 Gregg; Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., C. R. Anthony Store, Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home, H. W. Smith Transport Co., J. L. Christensen Boot Shop, Den Meads, Kimbell's Feeds, C. W. Guthrie, Robinson Drilling Co., Cook & Talbot, Hamby Motor Co., Midwest Welding Co., Big Spring Savings & Loan, and Dalton Carr.

Other contributors include Mort Denton Pharmacy, Bill Woods, Mr. and Mrs. John Quigley, Montgomery Ward Store, F. L. Austin, Reeder & Associates, Jay's Feed Store, Foy Dunlap, Stagg Auto Duppy, Walker Auto Parts and K. H. McGibbin Oil Co.

U.S. Steel Corp. had announced big earnings gains Tuesday but cut its quarterly dividend to 40 cents a share from 60 cents. The dividend reduction reflected the threat of a steel industry strike July 31 and an expected decline in steel products shipments later this year.

U.S. Steel Dividend Cut

Bethlehem declared its regularly 30-cent dividend.

Bethlehem, ranked second in size to U.S. Steel, earned $47,854,000, or $1.08 a share, on sales of $1,011,764,000 in the second quarter. This compares with $26,176,000, or 59 cents a share, on sales of $763,862,000 a year earlier.

In the first half of this year Bethlehem earnings totaled $80,979,000, or $1.83 a share, or sales of $1,783,732,000, compared with $54,482,000, or $1.24 a share on sales of $1,526,020,000 in the 1970 first half.

Bethlehem said first-half shipments and especially those in the second quarter were abnormally high as consumers built up inventories as a hedge against a strike.

U.S. Steel Chairman H. Gott had cited this factor in his announcement Tuesday.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Not a good day or evening for entertaining. Avoid getting into a dispute with someone of whom you are very fond. You are able to look about you, see the things to be done and do them in an efficient fashion. Don't let others know today you are so determined to get your way. Be cooperative.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Being conscientious in handling those promises you have made to your associates is very important now. Don't lose good contacts, either. Be sure to pay bills you have put aside.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You know what an associate expects of you and can cooperate so that fine benefits are possible for both in the future. A long discussion with another person could lead to good results.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) An ideal day to bring a fine idea to a blow who can aid financially so that you have success with it. Engage in civic duties than can also be helpful to your career and add to your prestige. Show that you have ability.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An ideal time to assist a younger person and perform a valuable service that will be appreciated. Do some entertaining. Accept invitations that are worthwhile. Show that you have charm.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show that you have the ability to get everything working in harmonious fashion of home and in a way that is best for all concerned. Develop a more practical attitude toward loved one. Don't be ruled by emotion alone.

Commission Hears Plans For Apartment Complex

A request by representatives from Reeder and Associates for approval of a plat for the development of portions of PD-7-NS was approved by the city commission in regular session Tuesday at city hall.

"We plan to build an apartment complex in the 1900 block of Wasson Road that will have 92 units and will cost approximately $1 million," Bill Johnson, of Reeder and Associates, told the commission Tuesday evening, as he explained that the apartment complex is being built mainly for the business of Webb AFB personnel.

The area in which the company plans to build the complex is classified already as "NS," Neighborhood Service, and does not require a zone change and with the approval by the commission of the plat, construction is scheduled to begin four months from this week, according to Johnson.

The firm has set a completion date on the complex as one year from time of approval by the commission. There was no one present in the meeting opposed to the plan.

NEAR MARCY
The complex will cover a two-block area fronting Wasson Road beside Marcy Elementary School. One, two and three bedroom apartments will be available at $105 per month for the one bedroom and ranging to $185 per month for the three bedroom apartments.

The plan for the complex was approved with the stipulation that off-street parking by the school be set back on the apartment property to quell future traffic problems with parents bringing their children to the school.

NO MONEY?
A request for the authorization to take bids for a truck and refuse collection body was deferred to the next meeting pending the completion of computer print-outs on the city's financial situation.

"In the garage fund there is only $80,594 left for operational expenses and capital outlay for the last five months of the fiscal year," quoted Jack Watkins, commissioner, from a financial print-out for April.

"If we spend $30,000 of the sum for the truck and body that will leave approximately $50,000 for other expenses in the department and the monthly operational expense of the department currently is $15,000, therefore, we will not have the money to meet these operational expenses throughout the fiscal year," said Watkins.

Within the next week the computer print-outs on the general ledger will be completed for the months of May, June and July, bringing the city up to date on its financial standing, Roy Anderson, acting city manager, told the commission.

BEER SALES
The commission tabled the request until the exact financial status could be determined before spending the extra money on the needed item.

In a public hearing Tuesday night a request for two specific use permits to allow the sale of beer and wine for off-premises consumption in the Safeway stores on Gregg Street and in the College Park Shopping Center was approved by the commission.

The request was made by Ira C. Kiker Jr., vice president of Del Norte Sales, Inc., Dallas. Kiker told the commission that the stores needed the permit to allow the sale of the beer and wine due to public sentiment and competition with other stores.

The approval of the permits was made although there were letters presented to the commission from members of the Christian Science Society, the First Church of the Nazarene and Grace Baptist Church.

OKAY EASEMENT
In other business the commission:

—Approved a request by Texas Electric for a utility easement within the city limits.

—Approved the planning and zoning board's minutes of their last meeting.

—Tabled a request by Gulf Oil and Refining Company for a pipe line easement of city property in the Silver Heels addition until the next regular session.

—Reimbursed the Big Spring Boys Club a sum of $192 for the replacement of a sump pump at the swimming pool at the Northside club.

HIRE ENGINEER
—Approved a contract for the city to hire a Texas Registered Civil Engineer in the absence of a public works director for a study on the monthly retainer fee.

—Approved on second reading an ordinance on a change in the zone change procedures in the city.

—Approved an ordinance on emergency reading approving and adopting the tax assessment roll for 1971 with direction to the acting city manager to contact a local lawyer for clarification on portions of the ordinance.

ZONE CHANGE

—Approved a request by Robert Wheeler for a zone change from "SF-3," Single Family Dwelling, to "LC," Light Commercial, in lot 3, block 42 and portions of block 52, Bauer Addition for the purpose of building a vehicle repair garage.

—Okayed a request by Mrs. James Carol Woods for a specific use permit for the purpose of placing a mobile home in a "R," Retail Zone, on the east 1/4 of lots 1 and 2, block 6, McDowell Heights Addition.

—Approved an appeal to a planning and zoning board decision by O. L. Pitts. Pitts requested a specific use permit for the purpose of placing a mobile home on lot 9, block 4, Wrights 2nd Addition and was denied the permit by the planning and zoning board at an earlier meeting.

Rotarian Governor Talks Here

Dr. Paige Carruth, Rotary district governor, presented an address to the local Rotary Club in the regular noon meeting at the Settles Hotel Tuesday.

In his address, Carruth urged his Rotarian colleagues to set a goal of 12 new members during the 1971-72 membership year. He also called on the local Rotarians to identify themselves with Rotary work and to attend all district conventions.

A capacity crowd of local Rotarians and their wives heard the governor's address. Carruth, dean of student affairs at West Texas State University, Canyon, was accompanied by his wife, Norma.

All local officers and committee chairmen met with Dr. Carruth Monday night and outlined programs of work.

Three-Item Agenda Set

County commissioners have set a three item agenda for their meeting Thursday at 5:30 p.m. in county commissioners court.

In addition to the weekly meeting with Hollis Randell, road and bridge administrator, the commissioners will have a conference with Mrs. Zarah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector, and with the district agent of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with reference to hiring a replacement for Mrs. Catherine Crawford, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Crawford will accept the post of district home demonstration agent for a 20-county area on Sept. 1. Her main office will be in Lubbock.

Death By Hanging For Sudan Commie

KHARTOUM, Sudan (AP) — The chief of Sudan's Communist party was hanged early today in the 14th execution since last week's unsuccessful attempt to depose President Jaafar el Numairi.

The government announced that Abdul Khalek Mahjoub, leader of the largest Communist party in the Arab world, was hanged 11 hours after the close of his trial on charges of masterminding the short-lived coup in an attempt to turn Sudan into a Communist state.

Numairi's government is hunting down all Sudanese Communists, and Joseph Garang, an avowed Red and a Cabinet minister until he was arrested two days ago, was hanged Tuesday night.

Garang was minister for the South Sudan, the area where black animists and Christians have been fighting the rule of the Northern Sudan's Arab Moslems for 15 years. The coup leaders had promised the South autonomy once order was restored in the country.

Garang, a black, published a weekly newspaper in English, the Nile Mirror, which had criticized Numairi's government for failing to make good on old promises to grant the South autonomy.

"I knew there was a lot of discontent in the country and the armed forces, but I did not know about the coup in advance," Mahjoub testified.

Funds For Lockheed Faces Severest Test In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government drive to save Lockheed Aircraft Corp. faced its stiffest Senate test today as opponents moved to deny the nation's No. 1 defense contractor favored status in a corporate-rescue bill.

Administration supporters say enactment of a bill without preferential treatment for Lockheed would delay aid until the cash-starved company is beyond help.

Although broadened from the original White House request to save only Lockheed, the bill nevertheless remains chiefly intended to save the California aerospace firm's development of a 400-passenger airbus.

Without government help or assurances of it before Congress recesses Aug. 6, Lockheed says it will be forced to cancel the program, file for reorganization and lay off thousands of workers.

The Stevenson amendment deletes a provision to exempt companies applying for a loan guarantee before Oct. 1 from congressional review and the possibility of veto.

A three-man government loan-guarantee board established by the bill would have to give the House and Senate Banking committees 20 days' notice before approving an application.

Without the Oct. 1 exemption Lockheed couldn't get help until Sept. 28—or 20 days after Congress returns from recess.

Following that vote, the Senate scheduled another try at limiting debate on the over-all bill to provide up to $250 million in federal loan guarantees for any large company whose collapse might endanger the economy.

TOP DOLLAR — U.S. Mint Director Mary T. Brooks sits atop bags of newly-minted Kennedy half-dollars, stored at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. Some 200 million of the 1971 coins are stockpiled due to lack of demand by banks and the public.

Public Not Using Kennedy Halves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 200 million 1971 Kennedy half-dollars are gathering dust in government coffers, going largely unused for reasons the Treasury Department can't fully understand.

"I can't understand the population," said Mary T. Brooks, director of the U.S. Mint, shaking her head. "They're not using them."

The situation has reached the point Federal Reserve banks are calling commercial banks to spark demand, figuring if the public knows there are plenty of new half dollars, bearing the likeness of former President John F. Kennedy, demand will pick up.

"There are vending machines by the thousands sitting in warehouses," Mrs. Brooks said in an interview. "The owners are dying to use them if the banks would use the half dollars."

But commercial banks say they are not ordering the coins because the public demand is too weak.

"I can't understand it," she said. "The half dollar weighs exactly the same as two quarters and there would be less rattling in the pocket. They're much less trouble."

The 1964-69 Kennedy halves, which were part silver, never were in general circulation because the public stashed them away as collectors' items even though more than one billion were minted, she said.

Mrs. Brooks said more than 300 million of the 1971 halves have been minted since April, with a little more than 100 million in circulation as the Mint rolls out more of them every day.

She said everywhere she goes, she asks businessmen if they have any Kennedy halves. "They tell me, 'Why, they're not making them any more.' And I reply, 'I beg your pardon, I just got through making 300 million of them.'"

Sharp Deal Sought In Stocks Tangle

DALLAS (AP) — A deal is being sought for dismissal of Houston financier Frank W. Sharp and his companies as defendants in a government stock fraud suit, the Dallas News reported today.

A copyrighted story in the newspaper quoted a Securities and Exchange Commission lawyer, Robert Watson, as saying the SEC is "negotiating with Mr. Sharp's attorneys concerning a settlement" of the case.

Morton L. Susman, one of Sharp's lawyers, said his office and the SEC "have been discussing a settlement to dismiss the case against Mr. Sharp and all his companies."

"We would like to settle it, but we are still very far apart," Susman said.

Sharp was granted immunity from criminal prosecution last month by U.S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton of Houston in return for his testimony before a federal grand jury.

U. S. Dist. Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Dallas ruled June 28 that Singleton's immunity grant did not extend to the SEC's civil suit and refused to dismiss Sharp as one of 15 individual defendants. Trial of the case is set for Aug. 30.

After that ruling the SEC said it would "vigorously pursue injunctive action" against Sharp and the other 14 individual defendants named in the suit, filed Jan. 18.

The News said that in their current attempt to win dismissal, Sharp's lawyers are trying to get the SEC to file the motion in hopes for more positive action by Judge Hughes.

Watson said a "settlement could mean anything from a consent decree to a permanent injunction to a severance of Sharp as a defendant."

Substituting while Judge Hughes is on vacation, U. S. Dist. Judge Robert M. Hill ordered the SEC Tuesday to take a deposition from Sharp Aug. 9.

After planning to take testimony from Sharp under oath Thursday, the SEC had postponed questioning him indefinitely.

Another defendant in the SEC suit, Joseph P. Novotny, objected to the postponement. It would have meant the SEC would quiz Novotny, a former president of the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank before Sharp was interrogated.

Susman said, however, that he did not consider Judge Hill's order binding because Sharp was not present and was not notified in advance of the hearing.

"They are going to have to serve him with a subpoena," Susman said.

Stock Scandal 'Talk' Starts

AUSTIN (AP) — The Travis County grand jury begins taking testimony today in the stock scandal.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith has said witnesses today and Thursday would be ones who are "completely clean" of any implications in the stock dealings by high public officials.

Sen. Charles Wilson of Lufkin told newsmen Tuesday he had not been subpoenaed but that he understood that two aides of Speaker Gus Mutscher, Rush McGinty and Sonny Schulte, had been summoned.

Wilson was the Senate sponsor of two banking bills approved by a special session of the legislature in 1969. The bills would have permitted state banks to insure their deposits with a state corporation and thus avoid federal bank examiners.

The bills were supported by Houston financier Frank Sharp, whose Sharpstown bank loaned money to high state officials to buy National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.

The governor, one of those who made a quick profit on the stock, vetoed the bills.

Two Forsan students are listed on the honor roll for the spring semester at Angelo State University in San Angelo. The students are listed on the 3.5 to 4.00 honor roll. They are Buene Anne Neel and Vesta Harrison Shoults.

John J. King, counsel for Novotny, said, "How I ultimately advise my client may turn on, to a large extent, what I get when I cross-examine Mr. Sharp" as a deposition is taken.

You Be The Judge

The IRRESPONSIBLE RECALLERS say that Watkins, Acri, and Choate are "ruining our city." They say they want someone who will "run our city instead of ruining it." In making such a charge we feel they have failed to give you the real facts. They say Choate, Acri and Watkins have caused "seven competent, well-trained individuals to leave the City of Big Spring within a two-month period, and accept jobs elsewhere."

Let's look at the facts. LARRY CROW — CITY MANAGER. Larry Crow resigned May 18, 1971. The City Manager is the administrative head of the city government. He is charged with the job of running the City at the direction of the City Commission, who is elected by the people. The City Manager is responsible for preparing the city budget and keeping the City's "financial house in order."

Under Larry Crow's administration the city budget has increased from approximately $1 1/2 million to $3 1/2 million while the population of Big Spring has dropped from approximately 32,000 to 28,000. The City Manager is also charged with keeping the City Commission informed at all times as to the financial condition of the City. As early as 1963, the City Auditor complained in the audit report that the monthly financial statements were not being delivered to the Commissioners until some twenty or thirty days after they should have been delivered.

In May, 1971, at about the time of Mr. Crow's resignation the auditor's report stated: "Purchase orders were not being formally recorded where issued. Therefore, the Commissioners are not being informed as to the outstanding liabilities in this area."

The City Manager, when asked by some of the commission members, for information about different affairs concerning the operation of the City told the commission members in a written memorandum: "Go directly to the Department Head concerned, eliminating formality and paper work."

After being told by the City Manager to go directly to the department heads for information which the City Manager would not furnish, the commissioners are now being accused of harassment.

CHARLES SMITH — FINANCE DIRECTOR. Mr. Smith resigned June 24, 1971. He was appointed by the City Manager, Larry Crow. Prior to his appointment he was employed by a mobile home manufacturer in Grand Prairie, Texas. He had NO previous experience in city administration or city finance before coming to Big Spring.

In December, 1969, the Auditors Report stated that "the general ledgers were not balanced during the entire six month period preceding the audit. This was Mr. Smith's responsibility. In November, 1969, the auditor had complained that "authorized issues of materials were not properly recorded to the accounting records." Then again in May, 1971, the auditor complained,

"Many of the problems encountered were created by the operation of the Working Capital Fund. This particular bank account, which constitutes several operating funds, was not reconciled until after the close of the operating year . . . we recommend that the various bank accounts be reconciled each month."

In other words, The Finance Director had not reconciled the bank accounts of the City of Big Spring for a period in excess of 12 months! This cost the taxpayers of Big Spring an extra $6,500.00 to have the auditors to do this job which we pay the Finance Director to do! Could you operate your household or your business without reconciling your bank balance for over a year????

In May, 1971, the City Commission had not seen a monthly financial statement for over 5 months, though having repeatedly requested the City Manager and Finance Director for such reports. The Commission was completely in the dark as to the City's financial condition and yet the commission was being asked to make intelligent decisions concerning the purchase of equipment, increasing water rates, increasing sewer rates and other important decisions concerning the expenditure of city funds which belong to you the taxpayer.

BO ANDERSON, DIRECTOR OF UTILITIES. After his resignation of March 15, 1971, effective May 1, 1971, as Director of Utilities, he went to work for CRMWD with no loss of time. Bo Anderson applied to the CRMWD over a year prior to his resignation.

H. V. CROCKER, FIRE CHIEF. Retired April, 1971. Chief Crocker has publicly stated that he did not retire early as stated by the Irresponsible Recallers. He had worked for 41 years and is 68 years of age. "To the contrary," says Chief Crocker, "I took a late retirement." He stated definitely that he did not resign because of any City Commissioner.

NOLAN CHAFIN, DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS. Resigned June 4, 1971. While we believe Nolan Chafin to be a competent employee, he had no previous experience in City Administration prior to coming to Big Spring. After resigning he applied for the job of City Manager and was interviewed by the City Commission. After being told the job would require two years experience he withdrew from consideration. Mr. Chafin had already obtained a similar position in Victoria, Texas, prior to his resignation.

HERB PROUTY, CITY ATTORNEY. Resigned June 11, 1971. Herb Prouty was appointed by the City Manager. He had approximately 1 year experience as an Assistant City Attorney. He told some of the City Commission, more than 9 months prior to his resignation, that he was looking for another position because he was unhappy having to share a secretary with the City Manager and that there was not enough delinquent tax work to supplement his income. He had listed his house for sale more than 9 months prior to his resignation.

JAY BANKS, CHIEF OF POLICE. Discharged June 18, 1971, for good cause on vote of Commissioners, Wade Choate, Eddie Acri and Jack Watkins. WE ASK YOU THE PEOPLE TO DECIDE WHO IS RUINING OUR CITY? HAS IT BEEN CITY COMMISSIONERS, CHOATE, WATKINS AND ACRI, OR HAS IT BEEN THE CITY MANAGER, MR. LARRY CROW, TOGETHER WITH THE IRRESPONSIBLE RECALLERS???? YOU DECIDE.

Woman Who 'Buys' Patronizes Balmain

PARIS (AP) — Every woman knows that a little black suit is good for a decade of luncheons. And the ones who go to Pierre Balmain want to buy clothes, not look at them.

Gray flannel is just as classic, whether it makes a pleated skirt, a narrow sheath or Balmain's new coat, with huge armholes and elbow-room shirt sleeves. Everything just covers the knee of course.

Fur is fun at any time of day and anywhere from cuffs, huge shawl collars to a bushy mink beret. If you like a sleeveless turtleneck with your suit, try one in leopard. Balmain's biggest innovation in the furry field: an astrakhan coat that unzips.

Pierre Cardin manages to pack more dynamic news into a two-hour show than anyone. He opens his collection with a short speech outlining his approach to fashion. Among his remarks:

"I am giving you Paris of today, tomorrow but not yesterday. There are two main silhouettes, figure-skimming with a small waist, and a wider one."

This last concerns his new square cut which created a sensation. A wide piece of fabric is designed as a square dress or coat. The length of the square reaches the wrists of the outstretched arms. There are slits or circles or triangles or slashed seams at the sides. Striped bands lend swing or hemline interest. Black patent belts mark the natural waistline.

He also makes the sleeves end in deep points, sometimes trimmed in fur. White flannel, or tweed, or violet or orange or blue coatings checked are used.

This season Cardin also says he has studied every sports activity. There are outfits for ski wear, mountains, golf and wear by the sea. And a good half of his collection is for city wear.

Cardin gives great play to ponchos and winged-capes cut in new ways, sometimes forming part of the dress or doubled over, or cut away in uneven poncho-like lines often matching the dress.

The Bruce Parkers, vacationing in Dallas and Fort Worth, also plan to visit her sister and family, the Gary Gaskins of Ada, Okla., before returning home Friday.

The John McGregors have returned from Red River and Aztec, N.M., where they visited her sister and family, the Glenn Johnsons; her niece and family, the Delbert Crandels of Phoenix, Ariz.; and her brother and family, the N. E. Goodes of Torrance, Calif.

A LOVELIER YOU Grooming Care For False, Real Lashes

By MARY SUE MILLER

False Eyelashes, Part I . . .

You know she wears them, when she doesn't cleanse them that is. Lashes, like all else in this polluted era, suffer from soil. Eyes aren't exactly exempt. It helps if their fringes are freed of grime.

Your own lashes get washed along with your face. But not unless false ones are first removed. Actually they must be removed or they go unclean and unremoved, a kind of menace to your lovely orbs.

The job is now simplified by "wash 'n wear" lashes. Just soak them briefly in a bowl of fluffy rinses, whisk around gently, rinse in clear water and dry on fresh cleansing tissue. In laundry jargon, there's no fade, no shrink, no loss of shape or curl. Lashes look new again in minutes.

Being waterproof, lashes take to swimming in pool or surf, in a high dive or scuba diving. Styles run the gamut, you name it.

PART II . . . She's allergic. She can't wear them. But maybe she has a chance now. A grouping of lashes has been allergy-tested with regard to band, color and hygienic aspects.

What about adhesive? Surgical adhesives, originally created for hospital use, are by nature hypo-allergenic and have staying power. However, exceptions always exist. Somebody, somewhere will prove sensitive. With a negative reaction, the message reads, "Skip it."

EYES OF YOUTH You're not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions always exist. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Resolution Read By Rebekahs

A resolution of sympathy in memory of Mrs. Irene Winn, sister of a lodge member, was read by Mrs. Homer Petty for the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge Monday at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. W. R. Loftis presided, and Mrs. Jones Lamar read a letter from Mrs. Gertrude Whitney of Humble, assembly president, regarding plans for her official visit to the lodge Aug. 16.

The 26 members present reported 41 visits to the sick. Mrs. Letha Massey of Mineral Wells, a former member, was a guest.

Named to the program committee for August were Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, chairman, Mrs. Jessie Barker and Mrs. John Kay. On the refreshment committee were Mrs. Jim Ferguson, chairman, Mrs. A. E. Clanton, Mrs. Grady Beck, Mrs. Bill Rayburn, Mrs. Gariand Land and Mrs. W. W. Grant. The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

Newspaper Procedures Explained By Speaker

Mrs. Jo Bright, women's editor of the Big Spring Herald, outlined the daily procedures used in printing a newspaper when she was guest speaker Tuesday evening for the Spring City Chapter, American Business Women's Association.

Concentrating on the women's pages, Mrs. Bright discussed steps involved in gathering and preparing news stories and pictures for publication.

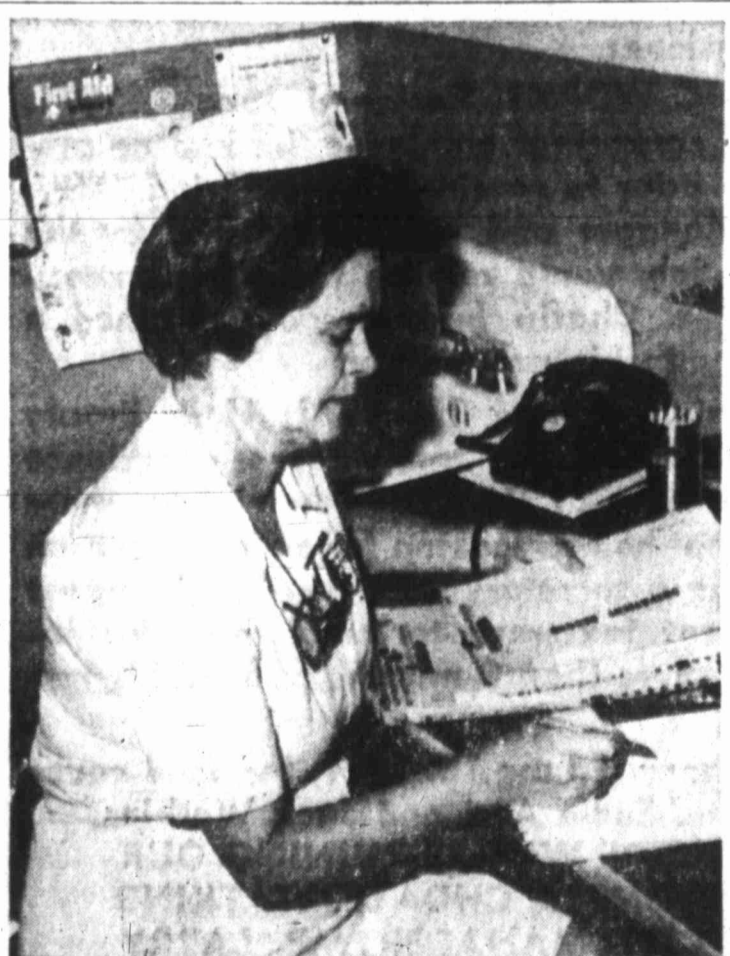

Mrs. Robert McDonald presided at the dinner meeting in the Patio Room of Holiday Inn, marking the first anniversary of the chapter. Fourteen charter members were honored, and 11 members were recognized for perfect attendance.

Mrs. Bobby James Nobles and Mrs. John Ferguson served the anniversary cake, which was decorated in chapter colors of black and gold.

The vocational talk was presented by Mrs. Malcolm West who works in the office at J. C. Penney Co. She also gave the invocation. Benediction was by Mrs. Nobles.

Guests included Mrs. Donald J. McCray and Mrs. Louis A. Casillas, both members of the Scenic Chapter, ABWA; Mrs. Rex Goff and Mrs. Bright.

HELPING HAND — Mrs. Homer Conner, a resident of Big Spring for 15 years, has been named Red Cross Volunteer of the Month at Webb Air Force Base Hospital. Mrs. Conner works in Pediatrics on Tuesday mornings, in the Obstetrics-Gynecology clinic Wednesday afternoons and in minor surgery whenever she is needed. She is also the records and recognition chairman of the Red Cross volunteers at Webb. Her husband works in the Civil Engineering Division.

Rebekah Lodge Holds Initiation

Mrs. D. L. Knightsstep became a member of Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284 during initiation ceremonies Tuesday evening at the IOOF Hall. Mrs. A. R. Cadzow, noble grand, presided.

Mrs. A. F. Hill received a certificate of perfection for unwritten work. The 39 members present reported 29 visits to the sick.

Hostesses for the salad supper meeting were Mrs. Joe Jacobs, Mrs. Johnny Gorman, Mrs. Erlene Bailey and Mrs. Clara Parker. Hostesses for August will be Mrs. Leona Hughes, Mrs. Egelee Patterson, Mrs. Beulah Morrison, Mrs. R. X. McNew and Miss Donna Gibbs. The group will meet again at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

YOUR VOTE AGAINST RECALL IS A FORWARD STEP FOR BIG SPRING

1. RECALL IS WRONG. Commissioners Wade Choate, Eddie Acri and Jack Watkins are courageous men. These men have strong convictions. Due to their administrative decision to dismiss Police Chief Jay Banks, they have been subjected to a Recall Election. The only reason for a Recall Election as provided for in the Big Spring City Charter is for dereliction. These three men have not been derelict in their duty.

2. A "SELECT FEW" HAVE BEEN RUNNING OUR CITY. For many years the City of Big Spring has been run by a select few men. The nod of this select group was necessary in order to be elected.

The three men who have filed for the City Commission in the Recall Election — Mr. Carlile (Frosty) Robison, Mr. Harold Davis, and Dr. Lee O. Rogers have the nod of the "select few" men who have been selecting the candidates for the City Commission and other local boards and commissions for years. The "Irresponsible Recallers" will attempt to give the impression that these three men are not their candidates. This is simply not true! All three of their men signed the recall petitions. They were recruited by the same people who supported the irresponsible recall petitions.

Mr. Choate, Mr. Acri, and Mr. Watkins actions apparently have not been pleasing to these "select few men" so they are attempting to throw them out of office prior to the expiration of their terms with the Recall Election on August 3, 1971.

DO THESE MEN HAVE TO BE ELECTED TWICE IN ORDER TO SERVE? Never in the history of the City of Big Spring has there ever been a recall election. It must not happen in 1971. Mr. Choate, Mr. Acri, and Mr. Watkins deserve the whole-hearted support of our citizens — they are not tied to the "select few" who have been running the town for years. If you want a City government of the people, by the people, and for the people — you will vote AGAINST Recall of Commissioners Choate, Acri, and Watkins.

FROST AND FRIEND — Television personality David Frost and American actress Diahann Carroll, wearing a "love" brooch, arrive in London Tuesday night on a flight from Greece. They had been guests at a weekend party given by Aristotle and Jacqueline Onassis. The long-time friends were met at the airport by Miss Carroll's daughter, Suzanne.

Regents OK Expansion Of Maritime Academy

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas A&M University board of directors approved a vastly expanded campus for Galveston at a meeting here Tuesday.

The regents approved a greater role for the Texas Maritime Academy, already in operation, the Moody Marine Institute and the Galveston coastal zone Laboratory.

They will be combined in a newly-created college of marine sciences and maritime resources which was approved at the last session of the Texas Legislature. Officials said they hope to have programs ready by the next regular legislative session so funding can be sought.

John Calhoun, who will become vice president of academic affairs at the university on Sept. 1 said this new college will engage in all phases of the marine field, including engineering, marine life sciences and marine social sciences.

President Jack K. Williams said the initial objective of the university in getting the new college into operation will be to hire a director and the report approved by the regents says

Puzzle of Tuesday, July 27, Solved

Stans Says U.S. Trade Surplus May Hit Zero

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans says 1971 may be the first year of this century the United States has been unable to maintain a surplus in its foreign trade.

"Our economic future depends on maintaining our technology," Stans told the House Science Committee Tuesday. He said the U.S. trade surplus of exports over imports, which has been declining in recent years, may hit zero for the first time since 1893.

The surplus was $2.7 billion last year, down from $7.7 billion in 1964, Stans said.

The last official comment on the balance of trade was July 8 when the Commerce Department forecast a $500,000 surplus for 1971. It predicted exports would rise 7 to 8 per cent, while imports increased 13 to 14 per cent.

Stans urged Congress to consider stimulating technological advancement to break the cycle.

"It may well be time," he said, to modify antitrust regulations so that industries can pool resources and make advances he said are needed.

Although the Nixon administration hasn't decided "which way we want to go," Stans said, four options exist:

—Direct federal grants, cost-sharing and loan guarantees for technological development; and such indirect aid as tax breaks, investment credits and depreciation allowances.

—Establishing a "federal focus," such as a single agency, to forecast future developments and set up programs encouraging inventions and innovations.

—Freeing individual firms from costs of technology by, perhaps, spreading development risks among several companies.

—Encouraging voluntary standards for innovative equipment, particularly for export.

"I do not presume today to suggest which of these options are most effective or even most desirable," Stans told the committee. "A thorough analysis by both executive and legislative branches is necessary."

The trade deficit with Japan is a major reason for the expected big drop in the balance of trade, Stans said. The United States is importing over $2.5 billion more this year from Japan than it is exporting. The deficit was only $100 million in 1965.

He described the trade balance with Japan as "already serious and growing worse."

SPENT 18 MONTHS IN PRISON Student Advises Closed Mouth In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — When visiting East Germany, keep your mouth shut says an American student who spent 18 months in an East Berlin prison.

"If you spend 10 minutes in East Germany talking with anybody, the chances are you'll open yourself up to a charge of slandering the state," said Mark Huessy of Jericho, Vt., a 22-year-old junior at Pomona College, in Claremont, Calif.

"It can include anything from criticizing a policeman to saying—the trains don't run on time—which they don't—because of poor planning."

POLITICAL LAWS
"Everybody knows that a country like that has political laws, but you don't realize how they work until you are subjected to them."

The secret police arrested Huessy on Jan. 4, 1970, in an East Berlin subway station. Within a few hours he realized he and his contacts in the Communist capital had been under surveillance. Huessy, fluent in German, had spent several months in East Berlin talking to people about his two specialties—the late Berthold Brecht, the renowned playwright, and anti-Nazi resistance.

"I can only assume they actually thought at first that I was a spy," he said, recalling he was investigated first on espionage charges. These were later reduced to charges of slandering the state and hostile agitation.

FALSE CHARGE

"Miscarriages of justice happen in any country, but the East Germans were dishonest about admitting they had made a mistake," Huessy said. "They arrested me on a false charge. Having established that it was false, they investigated me enough to prove to themselves I was guilty of a very minor and technical violation—slander."

The charge of hostile agitation was added because "they decided to make a serious crime of it," he claimed.

Huessy was convicted last Sept. 21 and sentenced to seven years in prison. This was reduced on appeal to five years. He was freed on probation July 16 and returned to West Berlin with the five other Americans then in East German captivity on various charges.

Korioth Quits Accident Board

AUSTIN (AP) — Tony Korioth has resigned after four years on the Industrial Accident Board. Gov. Preston Smith accepted his resignation Tuesday, effective Aug. 31.

Korioth, 38, served three terms in the Texas House of Representatives from Grayson County (Sherman) with his last term in 1961-62.

After that he served with the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity in Washington and practiced law in Houston. He also worked one year for the state regulatory loan commissioner before former Gov. John Connally appointed him to the Industrial Accident Board in 1967.

The board administers the state's workmen compensation act and makes findings on benefits due injured workers.

Korioth has said he wants to resume private law practice.

Army Hero Dies

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Retired Army Col. John H. Shenkel, 77, who was decorated by the United States, Belgium, France and Poland for his heroics during World War I, died Tuesday. Shenkel, an active member of the American Legion, was a leader in the fight to put "In God We Trust" on currency and to include the phrase "under God" in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Loan Star Gas Co. Earnings Record

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Record annual earnings of $2.08 per share have been reported by Lone Star Gas Co. for the year ending June 30.

The new earnings figure is compared with the previous year's earnings of $1.93 per share, President W.C. McCord said Tuesday.

He said the increases were attributed to non-utility segments of the company.

Man To Be Reckoned With

If anybody doubts the old saying, "money talks," Wilbur Mills can dissipate those doubts. Congressman Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee. That's the panel which is charged with acting on any revenue-raising bill before it can be considered by Congress. Rep. Mills is not inclined to let this responsibility go by default; on the contrary, he takes a hand in shaping contents of the bills.

Therefore, he will have a great deal to say about welfare reform, about revenue sharing, and about federal taxes. He even dipped into foreign trade, working out a deal with Japan and Italy, to the consternation of the administration, to obtain voluntary restrictions on exports from those countries in return for credit.

Governors, who met recently in their annual national conference, take a dim view of Rep. Mills' proposal to share federal money with cities — not states, as President Nixon had proposed.

Rep. Mills' rationale is that money should go where it is most needed and a case is made for it, and where guidelines for spending it exist. He thinks that the federal government is worse off financially than most states, but he is willing to stretch a point on the cities which are in danger of fiscal collapse. He wants the "filers" kept out, which is to say by-passing the states and governors, but he may not get too much opposition on this if he succeeds in any wise on a proposal to have the federal government assume the whole load for welfare.

Hence, in any program of sharing or welfare form, Wilbur Mills will have to be dealt with. He wasn't born yesterday and knows his committee's powers, and he wants to be heard.

Public Confidence Needed

We have no desire to add to the burdens of the Big Spring Independent School trustees as they wrestle with the great burden of attempting to come up with a plan that will meet Health-Education-Welfare guidelines.

Hence we make no issue of the executive session held by the board Monday to hear reports from a conference between the HEW and the board's representatives except to say that we consider it improper under terms of the Texas open meetings law; that sensitivity of an issue is not alone a valid reason for a closed session; that for our reporter to remain in an executive session would be in all honor to remain silent, no matter how vitally discussions affected the public. And this does vitally affect the public whose confidence is needed urgently at a time like this.

While we earnestly hope there is no repetition of such sessions, we feel for the trustees in their responsibility to the schools and in their efforts to find some practical means of accommodation. They need understanding and encouragement.

Lunar Workshop

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Assuming that our astronauts land successfully on the moon, they will be the best equipped of any for the most extensive scientific exploration in the history of man.

WHEN APOLLO 15 lifted off, it carried a payload of 1,050 pounds scientific equipment, or 800 pounds more than heretofore sent aloft. The scientific equipment to be landed on the moon was increased from 510 to 1,200 pounds.

Included in the conglomeration of things for gauging all sorts of phenomenon and computing data on the habitat of the moon, the Lunar Module (LM) will carry a Rover, a four-wheel vehicle which will increase the capacity of the astronauts for exploration by 10 times. This little item alone weighs 970 pounds.

WHEN THE LM puts down on the moon, an astronaut will trip latches which will enable him to lower the Lunar Roving Vehicle (LRV), much like pulling down a folding bed from the wall closet. As the chassis unfolds, the front and rear wheels will unfold and lock into position. The astronaut will disconnect the vehicle, raise the seat and other equipment including high and low-gain antenna, a television camera, a 16 mm camera, 70 mm camera, tool chest, and other paraphernalia. Two silver-zinc 36-volt batteries will deliver power to electric motors for each of the four wheels. (A prototype, the "Grover," was tested extensively in the Rio Grande Gorge in New Mexico, which approximates a terrain scientists say the astronauts will find near the Hadley Rille and Apennines landing site.)

ONE OF THE first things the astronauts will do, as on previous missions, is to scoop up samples of the moon in event, for any reason, the mission has to be terminated prematurely. Then the ALSEP package (Apollo Lunar Surface Experiments Package) will be distributed. From a central transmitter (which sends signals back to earth) will be run lines to the RTG (Radioisotope Thermal Generator) to supply power to the transmitter; also to a Passive Seismometer (PS) measure extremely small vibrations of the moon's surface; the Heat Flow Experiment (HFE), which involves two holes drilled into the moon (yes, they sent along a battery powered drill with drillstem and guiding treads) to measure heat at two different points.

ALSO TO the Lunar Surface Magnetometer (LSM) to measure field at the surface of the moon; the Solar Wind Spectrometer (SWS), to measure energy density, direction of solar wind; the Solar Wind Composition Experiment (SWC), which is similar to a roll of aluminum foil to trap particles from the solar wind; the Suprathermal Ion Detector (SIDE) and Cold Cathode Ion Gauge (CCIG) to study the atmosphere of the moon; the Lunar Dust Detector (LDD) to measure the amount of dust accumulation on the moon's surface (and damage to solar cells), the Laser Ranging Retro-Reflector (LRRR), used to return to the earth a laser beam aimed at the landing site.

THEN THERE are all sorts of miscellaneous tools such as a scoop with an extension handle; a whole assortment of geological hand tools including brush, rake, tongs, drills, hammers, drive tubes for obtaining cores, shovel, plus an aluminum suitcase known as the Apollo Lunar Sample Return Container. There also is a special aluminum sample container which has vacuum seal to prevent gases from entering or escaping, and to prevent contamination. Another handy gadget will be the self-recording penetrometer, which will alert the astronauts to the bearing strength of the moon's surface.

Isn't it curious that man will really be using an extension of his basic discoveries to learn about the moon — the step or ladder, the wheel, the rope, the hammer, the stick and the scoop?

President's Power

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Some members of Congress unwittingly would set up a system that not only might weaken American diplomatic power abroad but could impair governmental operations in the executive branch at home. The theory that Congress alone can "declare war" is correct. The President, however, has the duty and responsibility to conduct foreign policy and make such moves as may prevent the American people from being thrust into a world war.

THE PRESIDENCY is not just a political office, as a number of congressmen seem to feel. It is a center of authority over a mechanism of investigation, with representatives in various parts of the world whose business is to discover what is being plotted against the United States and its allies.

When a deliberate effort is made to violate the independence of a small country and the United States has expressed an interest in the safety of such a nation, it would seem necessary for members of Congress to know the entire background before taking steps to interfere with the operations of foreign policy. Only a continuing day-by-day study could provide the knowledge.

TODAY, FOREIGN policy for the United States covers relations with many countries which are supported by the Communists and must take into account what the troop deployments and naval-strategy changes of our adversaries happen to be from week to week. Not all the movements of Russian submarines—armed with Polaris-type missiles—into American waters or close to our Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean become known publicly. Nor is it wise for the Defense or State Department to talk about them.

WHEN THE United States becomes involved militarily, it is up to Congress to learn all the pros and cons. Sometimes "a declaration of war" could be disadvantageous to American trade. It could also make it difficult to maintain relations with all countries.

Congress has many ways to find out the essential facts about any involvement in a military operation which the President has undertaken. The commander-in-chief, whoever he may be, is usually willing to explain in confidence the dangers that caused American participation. Such conferences are much better than legislation which would limit the powers of a President in an emergency situation.

IN THE NORTH Atlantic Treaty, for instance, which was ratified by the Senate in 1949, it is provided that if an "armed attack" occurs against one or more of the members in Europe or North America, this "shall be considered an attack against them all."

In the case of South Vietnam, the Gulf of Tonkin resolution adopted in 1964 was at that time considered broad enough to be the equivalent of congressional consent to the President's use of our armed forces in the Southeast Asia area.

THE MORE the subject is examined, the less likely it is to be found that a limitation on the President's power to protect national security can be imposed by Congress under the Constitution.

'THINK YOU COULD MOVE OVER A LITTLE?'

Navigation Benefits

John Cunniff

By DAYTON BLAIR (Substituting for John Cunniff)

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — When John Steinbeck wrote of the Dust Bowl in the 1930s few persons could even dream of a major waterway through Oklahoma.

But today Tulsa stands at the head of navigation on the 440-mile Arkansas-Verdigris River system, linking the Midwest to the Mississippi River and beyond by boat. This once landlocked "oil capital of the world" is now the nation's most inland port city.

Barge traffic so far has only scratched the surface of its potential. But oil, grain, fabricated metal, coal and newsprint are already moving. Spacecraft hardware is a possibility in the future.

Newspaper was the first shipment to come up the winding course of the Arkansas and Verdigris. Shipments of pipe for Oklahoma industry followed.

The future of commercial traffic is indicated in a number of actions already taken.

The Willbros Terminal Co. has signed a $1.5-million agreement for a bulk fertilizer warehouse, conveying system, two railroad spurs and roads and parking areas.

Williams Bros. a pipeline company which operates in 10 states, estimates it will handle 150,000 tons of phosphate fertilizer for Oklahoma and Kansas farmers.

North American Rockwell Corp. has recommended Tulsa as one of three potential manufacturing sites. Both it and McDonnell Douglas Co. has Tulsa plants and both are bidding for a role in producing the reusable space shuttle that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration plans for the future. The possibility of shipping hardware downriver is obvious.

Also along the river between the Mississippi River and here are ports of Muskogee, Okla., and Pine Bluff, Little Rock and Fort Smith in Arkansas.

Navigation began in December 1968 from the Mississippi to Little Rock. A year later it was opened to Fort Smith, then to Muskogee and finally to Tulsa at the first of this year.

Army engineers estimated when it was opened that the system would carry 13.2 million tons of cargo annually.

Additional benefits, engineers say, will be savings of $40.4 million annually to shippers. Power generated from six reservoirs on the system will be valued at $14.8 million.

Will Rogers may have been right when he quipped once that it would be cheaper to pave the Arkansas than make it navigable. But he didn't know of the fringe benefits.

Editor's Note: It sounds like Will, but it's not. It has been proven the navigation remark was not his baby.

Watch Mills

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Somebody — perhaps that hard-boiled pragmatist, Atty. Gen. John Mitchell — should warn President Nixon of the very real danger of losing the 1972 election to a very smart and very tough baby named Wilbur Mills.

ALTHOUGH THE Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, is a potential candidate for the White House, it is unlikely his name will be on the Democratic ballot. For Nixon, the danger is that Mills will become fed up with the cavalier attitude to which he has been subjected by White House underlings and throw a monkey wrench into the President's programs on Capitol Hill.

"China-Schmina," said an irate Mills aide the other day. "Nixon could persuade Mao to give us the province of Canton and it wouldn't do him any good at the ballot box next year if Congress refuses to give him the money for what he wants to do on the domestic front."

MILLS' LATEST grievance is the putdown administered to him by Peter G. Peterson, assistant to the President for international economic policy, whose name is a household word only in his own home. Peterson denied to reporters that Mills had been any special help in persuading Italian Manufacturers to limit shoe exports to the United States. Peterson admitted Mills had shown an interest in negotiations then added ("Beyond that, we are not aware of anything else that Mr. Mills has done...")

ACTUALLY, according to a furious Mills, he had talked a few weeks ago with Spanish and Italian officials and found them willing to negotiate a voluntary agreement to forestall trade quotas. Mills said he passed this information on to Peterson.

By so doing, said Mills, "I did, I think, save the administration from going the route of trade quotas." Mills blistered Peterson in a phone conversation, then told reporters, "This makes it difficult for me to cooperate with them" — the White House.

ALTHOUGH Richard Nixon also is a tough baby, this kind of talk from Mills was calculated to send shivers running down the Presidential spine. In legislative matters, Nixon proposes and Wilbur Mills disposes. Very little legislation of importance, particularly bills requiring Federal expenditures, gets through Congress without Mills' okay. Few among the Democratic majority on the Hill dare to defy Mills because as Ways and Means he has the power to punish rebellious colleagues by killing their own pet bills.

IN SHORT, Richard Nixon is wooing a whirlwind. He needs Mills to get decent consideration of such landmark White House legislation as welfare reform and revenue sharing. Mills is also pressing the White House hard to adopt wage and price guidelines to curb inflation and a ceiling on Federal spending. If the President adopts those two steps, says Mills, it would be both safe and desirable to cut taxes.

CURIOUSLY, the administration seems unaware of Mills' power. After the Arkansas sounded off about the Peterson matter, Presidential spokesman Gerald Warren remarked only that "We, of course, are more than willing to cooperate with Mr. Mills, as with all committee chairmen..." Mills is not to be lumped with "all committee chairmen." He is a monarch among equals.

Ability To Scrounge

Robert E. Ford

A fellow down the street came churning up the other day, sweaty, panting, angry. He waved a page he'd torn out of a news magazine.

"Look at that," he said, shaking the page. "Read it," he demanded, without giving anyone a chance.

"It says here that among the morale problems of troops abroad is that they have to pay to keep their quarters in repair out of their own pockets."

He added bitterly, "What is it this younger generation is coming to?"

ANYONE DRY behind the ears must agree with his morose estimate of the ingenuity of the modern military man. To some degree, at least.

Not many years ago, a serviceman never paid for anything except some over-priced souvenirs to send home to mother or for a few drinks if he could get a pass to a spot of civilization.

In these days, any man in uniform could scrounge enough stuff not only to repair whatever needed repairing but to build a two-bedroom bungalow if it happened to suit him and he could find a spot of government or enemy ground to put it on.

THE VIRTUOSOS however, recognized and respected by everyone from the generals down to buck privates, were the supply sergeants.

Lucky was the lieutenant or captain who found the right man — a confidence artist, a fellow whose conscience did not tug at him as he liberated a few hundred board feet of government lumber, a combination mechanic, electrician and carpenter.

The quartermaster has lists of what a unit should have in the way of this world's good. Supply sergeants never saw such lists and wouldn't have believed them anyway.

Or suppose the supply sergeant found he needed 40 men for an unofficial work detail like erecting a non-commissioned officers' recreation tent which was not regulation to start with.

He'd explain his problem to the lieutenant, who would order an inspection, find a speck of dust on someone's rifle, and order the whole platoon on a work detail as punishment. The tent would be ready with floor, timber supports and bar before evening chow call.

THERE ALWAYS was extra food if anyone was hungry, thanks to the supply sergeant, and all sorts of little comforts like plank sidewalks if the company street was a little muddy.

This ability to scrounge was not applied alone to camp living.

Probably most of the battles were fought with tools that the authors of the supply lists never heard of.

Pay to have something done in those days? You'd never think of it.

We don't know whether we won that war because of such ingenuity or in spite of it.

My Answer

Billy Graham

Isn't it a sin if a person makes a promise using the expression, "honest to God" and then breaks that promise?

Quite obviously it would be wrong for a person making a promise to break that promise, or making a commitment to fail to keep it.

The fact that the person used the expression, "honest to God," is an indication that so far as their religious life is concerned, it is exceedingly superficial. Their words have actually very little meaning.

That is why Jesus in His well-known Sermon on the Mount cautioned people against making oaths (Matthew 5:33-37).

A man's word ought to be good whether he does or whether he doesn't make an oath. That fact that that person used the expression "honest to God," does not make the oath more or less binding. The fact that such a careless phrase would be used is simply an indication that people use the name of God without even thinking of its meaning.

The Hebrews at one time were so jealous of the name of Jehovah that they even refrained from pronouncing it. This, of course, was the other extreme. The name of God should be used only in the highest reverence and never reduced to the trivial promises and commitments that a man may make. Neither should a person feel that his promise or commitment is not binding unless he invokes the name of God.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Put out into deep water and let down your nets for a catch."
PRAYER: O Father, too often I have succumbed to the temptation of hugging the shoreline of faith. As long as I can see land, as long as I can run for its shelter during storms, I remain content with the smaller blessings. Help me, Father, to be obedient to the command of my Master, so that I may discover the treasures of the deep. Amen.

Jury Wheel Comes To Mitchell County

COLORADO CITY — A jury wheel has been installed in the Mitchell County Courthouse as a result of recent state legislation repealing the jury commission system of picking prospective jurors.

The new legislation repeals all laws regulating the formation and functioning of jury commissions, according to Attorney General Crawford Martin.

Mitchell and other counties with less than 10,000 people have been using the jury commission system — a system by which an appointed commission of citizens selects the names of persons who will be called as potential jurors as court cases require.

Members of the commission are appointed by the presiding judge with the assistance of the sheriff. The commission selects prospective petit jurors from sources such as property tax rolls, voter lists, the telephone book and previous jury lists.

Only in the case of grand jury selection will the commission process continue.

With the jury wheel, the names of every qualified voter within the county will be placed in the container, and prospective jurors will be drawn from this pool of names as the need arises.

Under the new law, the jury wheel must be filled with the names of registered voters between Aug. 1 and Aug. 15.

The size of the Mitchell County wheel will allow for 6,000 names to be placed in it. The current voter list which District Clerk Bill Erwin is typing onto jury wheel slips numbers only 3,452.

Sometime during the period of Aug. 1-15, the law will require Erwin, Montie Hardegre, county tax assessor-collector, Sheriff Lewis Claxton and County Clerk Marie Bassham (or representatives of their departments) to put the names of all the registered voters in the new jury wheel.

After the names of all registered voters — each on the same size slip of paper — are placed in the wheel's cylinder, the two locks on the cylinder door will be fastened.

Sheriff Claxton will keep one key and Erwin will keep the other.

These two officials, the district clerk and the sheriff, will turn the wheel, mixing the names thoroughly, drawing the names, then notify the prospective jurors as the courts issue jury calls.

Because the new law allows

Red Tide Sweeps Coastal Sections

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A noxious, fish-killing red tide has swept into more Southern California coastal sections, and an expert forecasts no letup in the invasion of the dead sea micro-organism for at least two weeks.

The tide, which made its first appearance over the weekend at southern Los Angeles County beaches, moved north Monday to Paradise Cove in Malibu.

Hundreds of fish killed by the rust-colored waters and washed up on beaches were being cleared away by county work crews. The dying plankton micro-organisms in massive numbers can suffocate fish by depleting the waters of oxygen.

The red tide is harmless to humans but creates a pungent smell. Nevertheless, said life-guard Steve Senecal at Redondo Beach, "We're still getting big crowds and the people don't seem to mind the red water or dead fish."

Ellsberg Slated To Testify Before Capitol Hill Panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Daniel Ellsberg, a former Defense Department researcher who says he leaked top-secret Pentagon papers to the press, was called today before an unofficial House panel investigating significance of the war documents.

NO HINT — The group of 18 antiwar Democratic congressmen headed by Rep. John G. Dow of New York gave no hint what Ellsberg might testify.

Ellsberg is under federal indictment on charges of violating the Espionage Act and stealing government property. He was arrested June 28 after admitting he gave the press copies of the 47-volume Pentagon study he helped to draft.

The Pentagon papers, covering a 20-year period, outline U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Tony Russo, like Ellsberg a former employe of Rand Corp., which is involved in Defense research, told the unofficial panel Tuesday that present U.S. policy in Vietnam "rests on as many lies and as much deceit as we see in the Pentagon papers."

CITED FOR CONTEMPT — Russo, who has been cited for contempt of court for refusing to discuss unauthorized disclosure of the documents with a grand jury, said prison conditions in North Vietnam may be playing a part in the battle over information about U.S. prisoners of war.

"We sit here and demand information about prisoners of war in North Vietnam. Yet, even at the jail in Saigon the jailkeeper doesn't have a list of who's there," Russo said. Russo made studies of South Vietnamese prisoners and jails in 1965-66 and 1967-68.

"If the jails were overcrowded and they considered the prisoners to be dangerous, it is my understanding they were shot," he said.

Former Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, said the United States is doing in South Vietnam the same things Hitler, Stalin and Mussolini did in World War II.

The only difference, he said, is that "we do it in the name of liberation, in the name of self-determination, thereby adding hypocrisy to our sins."

Tran Vinh Dinh, former deputy South Vietnamese ambassador to Washington, said the Pentagon papers showed "the United States did not respect the principle of self-determination for the Vietnamese people."

Colorado River Study Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — A flood control program for the Frio River at Three Rivers, Tex., and three surveys for Texas waterways were among the projects approved Tuesday by the U.S. House Public Works subcommittee.

The Three Rivers project was for $2,193,700. Two of the surveys were a $374,000 study of Arlington and Johnson Creeks in Texas and a $950,000 basin-wide Colorado River study.

A third survey, for Red Fish Bay, did not have a cost estimate.

Gonzales Justice Family Affair

GONZALES, Tex. (AP) — An unpaid assistant to her husband for 25 years, Mrs. Alice Sutherland Romberg has been sworn in to replace him as Gonzales County judge.

John Romberg, the Gonzales County attorney for five years and the county judge for 20, died last Wednesday.

With Mrs. Romberg at the swearing-in ceremony was her mother-in-law, Mrs. Olga Romberg, whose husband — John's father — had been Gonzales County judge for 30 years. Mrs. Alice Romberg's sister, Elizabeth Carpenter, was press secretary for Mrs. Lyndon Johnson when her husband was president.

Mrs. Romberg will hold office until the November, 1972, elections. Gonzales County, a center for pecan and poultry production, is east of San Antonio.

Non-Stop Route To Big D Nears Reality

Steadily the gaps in IS 20 are being closed between Big Spring and Fort Worth.

The 15-mile stretch south of Cisco and Eastland will be ready for opening in October, according to E. M. Pritchard, Stephenville, district engineer.

In June, a 13-mile stretch from the Brazos River east was opened. This leaves 25 miles on the Eastland-Erath County line and to the Brazos River still to be completed, but this could be opened by March, according to J. R. Stone, Fort Worth, district highway engineer. The 16 miles of this could be opened earlier. (The east nine miles is 40 per cent complete now; the west is 90 per cent complete with 98 per cent of the concrete paving poured.)

For practical purposes, this will close the gaps between Fort Worth and Monahan, although there are several points where four-lane roads need to be upgraded to Interstate standards.

One of these is between Fort Worth and Weatherford (two miles in Parker and nine in Tarrant counties) which will be up for bids in 1972.

A loop from west of Ranger to east of Eastland is due to be contracted to Interstate standards in 1972.

On the west end other segments are due for improvement. From 20 miles west of Pecos to nine miles east of the junction between IS 20 and IS 10 is now under construction. The 18-mile stretch begun May 4, is 15 per cent complete and will require about two years for completion of the $4.6 million project.

From 10 miles west of Kent to 15 miles east of Van Horn, a 12.5-mile segment is rated as 90 per cent complete.

A 15-mile loop from a point east of Van Horn to loop around the town is slated for letting. Four miles of this, which is the loop around Van Horn, is due for a letting in 1971, and the remaining portion of the route is due for a 1972 letting.

 A precise and crisp performance by the defense sunk South's four spade contract before the latter could even get his own campaign started. The slightest slip by his opponents would have enabled the declarer to emerge with a profit on the deal.

Altho South made minimum rebids at every opportunity, North had too much to stop short of game. When South confirmed a six card suit by bidding spades for the third time, North carried on to game in that suit since he had a doubleton trump, as well as a ruffing value in hearts.

West opened the king of hearts on which North followed with the queen and East played the deuce. East's discouraging signal suggested the desirability of a shift and since the diamond suit did not appear to be an inviting prospect, West led the five of clubs at trick two. The deuce was played from dummy and East put up the king.

With two tricks in, the best hope for developing two more appeared to lie in the trump suit and in order to protect his spade holding from repeated finesse East promptly shifted back to a small heart. West covered South's six with the seven and dummy ruffed with the seven of spades.

The jack of spades was led and successfully finessed when East followed with the four. The closed hand was entered with the ace of diamonds and the ace of spades was cashed. When West showed out, there was no way that South could avoid the loss of two spade tricks—and he was obliged to concede defeat on the deal.

Observe that if West does not make the club shift at trick two, East will never be in position to score a trick in that suit. If, for example, West continues with a second round of hearts, declarer ruffs in dummy, leads the jack of spades for a successful finesse, crosses back to his hand with the ace of spades. He then concedes two trump tricks to East—who is never able to get his partner in again to lead a club thru dummy. After East's trumps are out, South can run the diamonds and discard his club loser on dummy's long diamond. He loses two spades and one heart.

Fall Victim, Thursday Rites.

Funeral services are set for Thursday at 2 p.m. in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for Malinda May Weatherman, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Weatherman, 612 Steakley.

Malinda died Monday of injuries resulting from a fall from a 100-foot cliff behind Indian Lodge where her family was vacationing in the Davis Mountains State Park. The girl reportedly was climbing on the cliff with her brothers when she lost her footing and fell to the valley below. She died shortly after having been taken to Brewster County Memorial Hospital in Alpine, 31 miles from the park.

The Rev. D. A. Calvin, pastor of Evangel Temple, will officiate at the services, and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

She was born Oct. 25, 1958, in Big Spring. She would have been a seventh grader at Runnels Junior High School this fall.

Survivors include her parents; three brothers, Terry Wayne, Danny Shane and John Herbert; her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Herbert, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Samples, Kingsville; and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Weatherman, Big Spring.

Palbearers will be S. Sgt. Dick Chaney, Billy G. Land, Lloyd Bingham, Lerla L. Johnson, Bill Rives and John O. Puckett.

Elizabeth Alsbury, Thursday Funeral

Funeral will be at 7 p.m. Thursday in the First Presbyterian Church for Elizabeth Ann Alsbury, 18, who died Wednesday morning in a local hospital following an illness of several months.

Officiating Thursday will be Dr. R. Gage Lloyd. Graveside rites will be at 1 p.m. Friday in Restland Memorial Park, Dallas. River-Welch Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Miss Alsbury was born Jan. 1, 1953, in Fort Worth. She had been a resident of Big Spring since January, 1968. She was a freshman at the University of Texas at Arlington. She was a member of Rainbows and of the First Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Alsbury, Big Spring.

The family suggests memorials to the "Rainbows-Let's Be Thankful Fund."

S. M. Abernathy, Local Tailor

Samuel M. Abernathy, 67, died Tuesday evening in a local nursing home.

Funeral will be at 3 p.m. Thursday in Weathersby Chapel in Rotan, with burial in Belview Cemetery in Rotan. Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home is in charge of local arrangements.

He was born Feb. 5, 1904, in Dublin, Tex., and came to Big Spring from California two and a half years ago. He had been a resident of Rotan before moving to California. He had worked in tailor shops in Rotan, California and Big Spring. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church of Rotan.

Survivors include two brothers, Ross Abernathy, Big Spring, and C. L. Abernathy, Los Animas, Colo.; two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Montgomery, Kingsland, and Mrs. O. R. Clark, Rotan; two nieces and two nephews.

Mrs. Jackson, Funeral Today

Funeral was to be at 2 p.m. today in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for Mrs. Lillian Jackson, 51, who died Monday in a local hospital.

Officiating will be Elder B. R. Howze, Primitive Baptist Church with burial in Trinity Memorial Park.

Survivors include her husband, J. D. Jackson; two sons; her mother, Mrs. H. G. West, Big Spring; one sister; two brothers and two grandchildren.

Sixth Juror In Medina Trial Seated

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — A sixth juror, another Vietnam veteran, was tentatively seated today for the My Lai massacre trial of Capt. Ernest Medina.

Maj. Dudley Budrich of Chicago was tentatively accepted without challenge from either defense lawyers or the Army prosecutor.

The minimum five jurors required in the court-martial was reached Tuesday. However, any two of the present jurors could be eliminated without cause at any time.

Budrich, a training officer at 3rd Army headquarters here was an adviser to a South Vietnamese regiment and said he had engaged in combat.

Asked by Col. Kenneth Howard, the military judge, what he recalled reading about the My Lai incident, Budrich replied, "I never believed I got a full picture of what happened. I knew civilians were killed there. I never knew how they were killed. You never really know in combat sometimes."

Ex-Rev. Wil Asks Divorce

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Ousted Methodist minister Wil Schaefer has filed a suit for divorce here against his wife of 14 years.

A Methodist church jury stripped Schaefer of his credentials as minister earlier this year because he refused to sever his relationship with a divorcee, Mrs. Judy Nash.

Schaefer was pastor of the First United Methodist Church in Laredo when the relationship with Mrs. Nash was disclosed.

The divorce suit says the Schaefers were married May 27, 1957 and separated last Jan. 19. The couple's separation was the result of "discord and conflict of personalities," the suit claims.

The suit says the Schaefers have two children, Stuart, 10, and Lucinda, 9.

Mrs. Schaefer and the children were living recently in California.

Bentsen Asks President To Share Power For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd M. Bentsen, D-Tex., said today if Congress had shared fully in the decisions that led to the war in South Vietnam, the divisiveness now besetting the nation might have been avoided.

"The point is, if Congress had asserted itself, if the proper constitutional procedure had been followed, if the elected representatives of the people had acted by consensus, the nation would have been provided a powerful unifying force," Bentsen told the Senate.

Bentsen proposed legislation he said is designed to restore Congressional authority over the commitment of U.S. forces overseas.

Under his bill, when the President commits troops, he would be required to report promptly to Congress the reasons for his action. Congress then would decide within 30 days whether to continue the commitment.

"The tragic miscalculations on Vietnam, resulting in the harsh divisions in this country, are the most compelling argument for returning to the principles of collective judgment," Bentsen said. "Presidential decisions — and I extend this back to Eisenhower, include Kennedy and Johnson as well as Nixon — have shaped the course of this war, and still shape it.

"The principle of sharing power has been weakened," he said.

Pope Assails Immodesty

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican's assault on immodesty reached a summertime peak today with Pope Paul VI denouncing some modern dress as indecent and with nuns dressing in miniskirted women from St. Peter's Basilica.

Speaking from his summer retreat at Castel Gandolfo, the pontiff told his weekly general audience that "many forms of modern life degrade the dignity of man."

He cited "immodest fashions, frivolous and passion-laden shows, immorality of customs, and perfidiously diffused pornography."

"Moral conscience," he declared, has been "anesthetized" to the "profit of the sexual conscience."

At St. Peter's Basilica, the Vatican strengthened its defenses against the "scandal" of short-skirted visitors. In addition to a plain-clothes custodian and two gray-uniformed Vatican guards, two nuns have started checking skirt lengths.

They turned away women with skirts only two inches above the knee.

In past summers Vatican gendarmes checked tourists' dress. Federico Alessandrini, Vatican press spokesman, said nuns took up the job a week ago because they could perform it "with greater tact."

Strict standards are needed, Alessandrini explained, because "certain styles of dress that once were exceptional now are becoming more common." Without checks, he said, "we'll get to the point when they enter in bathing suits."

Signs in English, Spanish, German, French and Italian outside St. Peter's main doors welcome tourists but remind that "entrance cannot be granted to men dressed in shorts nor to women wearing a minigown or sleeveless dress."

Citywide Summer Rec Program Ends

Thursday will be the concluding day for the Citywide Summer Recreation Program at Comanche Trail Park, and Friday it will close at Lakeview.

Children and the staff are knocking off a day early at Comanche Trail Park because the traditional Old Settlers Reunion comes up Friday at the Pavilion where the recreation program is held.

During June and July, the program has attracted 253 different youngsters with a cumulative attendance which will approximate 3,000 for the season.

The Lakeview program, operated at the Lakeview YMCA and the neighborhood swimming pool, has had 128 enrolled and its cumulative attendance already is past the 3,000-mark. About one-third of the children participating there are from the Bauer area.

Another portion of the program, junior high and high school boys basketball, also is due to end this week. The junior high program has attracted 50 boys, and the cumulative attendance will be about 100. The senior boys program has had 96 different individuals to sign with a cumulative attendance pressing the 600-mark.

The first item on the season's program was a week devoted to learn to swim. The program is a cooperative effort supported jointly by the City of Big Spring, the United Fund, the Big Spring Independent School District, and the YMCA. The latter agency recruits and trains staff and administers the program which is open without charge to every child of elementary age and above.

Rehab Center Directors Okay Retirement Plan

An employe retirement plan was approved by the board of directors of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center Tuesday afternoon, and a nominating committee for approaching elections was appointed.

The retirement plan, presented by Louis McKnight of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, will be initiated by Jim Thompson, director of the center, and Lillian Staggs for employes after three years of service to the center. All premiums are to be paid by the center.

McKnight outlined the retirement plan for the directors Tuesday according to the guidelines the directors had released earlier, he said.

PLANNING OUTLINE

All employes between the ages of 24 and 55, after three full years of service, will be covered under the plan. Benefits start on the anniversary date of their employment nearest their 65th birthday, he explained.

The employe will pay none of the premiums on the retirement plan. The corporation pays 10 per cent of the employe's salary, McKnight said.

After five years under the plan, the employe can withdraw, upon leaving the center, 50 per cent of the money paid by the center into the plan, and 10 per cent more of the money each additional year up to 10 years, after which the entire amount can be withdrawn.

Thompson and Miss Staggs are the only employes of the Rehab Center who now qualify for the program, said McKnight.

Dr. Dean Box, H. W. Smith and John Ferguson were appointed to the nominating committee by Truett Thomas, president of the board. Their recommendations are to be presented at the next board meeting. Election will be in October.

ADDITION PLANNED

The directors instructed Thompson to inform architects to go ahead with plans for a proposed addition to the present plant. Thompson showed the directors preliminary plans and told them the addition would be approximately 3,600 square feet more room at a cost of almost $90,000.

The addition to the center would include a physical training gym, a motor training area that could be divided into three separate rooms by wall partitions, a class room for the physically handicapped and a classroom for the deaf.

Two Arrested For Theft

Two subjects, one a juvenile and the other an adult, were arrested by local police early today in connection with a theft at the Chaparral Restaurant this morning.

Charges against the pair have not been filed pending further investigation, police reported. Approximately $85 was taken from the cash register in the restaurant by four subjects this morning when the waitress was not looking at the men.

Commissioners Withhold Payment On City Voucher

Vouchers paid by the city through July 27 were approved by the city commission in regular session Tuesday with the exception of one voucher.

Attention was called by Jack Watkins to the voucher concerning the reimbursement of Roger Avant of $25 which was forfeited to the city funds as bond following his arrest on a misdemeanor charge of rudely displaying a fire arm in the city limits on May 21. Commissioners questioned the fact that Avant had pleaded guilty to the charge, yet the case was dismissed.

The commission directed Roy Anderson, acting city manager, to investigate the matter Tuesday.

"According to my inquiry, the bond was paid following Avant's arrest, and the case was set for court on June 9. However, I talked to John Coffee, municipal court judge, and was told by him that the case never came to court, and he never did dismiss it," Anderson told the commission in the regular session.

"This concerns us very much and we are interested in finding the person that took it upon himself to dismiss the case before it came to court," said Eddie Acrt, commissioner.

The commission withheld payment of the voucher until further study could be made into the matter.

Bond money is usually held at the police station pending a court decision on the case, however, through a secretarial mistake the bond money in this particular case was forfeited to the city funds before the trial date on the case, Melvin Darat, warrant officer said this morning.

Nab Fugitive Near Reynosa

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A fugitive from the federal prison at Marion, Ill., was in jail here today after his arrest in Reynosa by Mexican police.

Jesse Burt Bishop, 27, was returned to Texas by Mexican police.

Officers said Bishop allegedly kidnapped three persons last week in Kansas City and later terrorized a Brownsville, Tex., family before he fled to Reynosa where he was arrested.

He was to be transferred by U.S. marshals today to jail at Brownsville.

Brownsville Police Chief Gus Krausse said Bishop tied up a Brownsville family and stole their car for the flight to Reynosa. He was arrested near Reynosa by Mexican police who said he appeared to be intoxicated. They said they later learned he was wanted in the United States.

Family Planning Programs Aimed At Black Genocide?

NEW YORK (AP) — A study of black families has found that a majority of those in the reproductive age range do not accept the idea that birth control programs are an attempt to eliminate blacks from the population.

Some militant blacks have argued that family planning programs are aimed at black "genocide," the deliberate elimination of a cultural group.

But the study also found that a significant minority—among men 30 and under—did agree with the thought that encouraging birth control among blacks is an effort to eliminate them.

Further, the study found significant feelings of racial consciousness among blacks and recommended community control of birth control services and the inclusion of young black males in policy making and executive functions.

ABORTION REJECTED
As for attitudes toward birth control methods, both abortion and sterilization were rejected by large numbers of those interviewed.

The study was conducted in 199 black households in a medium-sized city in New England, not identified, by researchers at the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, and reported in a publication of the Population Reference Bureau.

Authors of the study are Dr. William A. Darity, head of the school's public health department; Dr. Castellano B. Turner, assistant professor of psychology, and Dr. H. Jean Thibaux, assistant professor of public health.

The Population Reference Bureau noted that government population policy—"or nonpolicy"—has resulted in birth control activities being confined largely to bringing to the poor the same ability to control family size the rest of society has.

"Inevitably," the bureau said, "that has meant that official birth control centers have been concentrated in poor communities, a disproportionate share of which are black. This concentration has led some militant blacks to proclaim that family planning programs are aimed at black 'genocide'."

Chargers Trade Post

By The Associated Press

Dickie Post, operator of Dickie Post Ltd., mod clothing stores in San Diego, will be setting up shop—football variety, that is—in Denver during the 1971 National Football League season.

The relatively small but hard driving back was traded Tuesday by the Chargers to the Broncos for a 1972 No. 2 draft choice.

With the 5-foot-9, 190-pound Post, who led the old American Football League in rushing in 1969, and 5-10, 195-pound Floyd Little, who led the American Football Conference in rushing last year, the Broncos will have one of the smallest but best ball carrying combinations in the NFL.

SLUMPED IN 1970

Post had the worst of his four seasons with the Chargers in 1970. He missed the first five games because of knee surgery and gained only 225 yards in 74 carries and scored one touchdown.

It was quite a comedown from 1969, when he carried for 873 yards in 182 attempts and scored six times.

This season, Post reported late to the Chargers' training camp in Irvine, Calif., and still had not signed his contract when he was sent to Denver.

Despite Post's sub-par 1970 showing, Denver Coach Lou Saban was happy about his new acquisition. "Dickie is an established running back who can also catch the football," said Saban. "We are delighted to have a man with his versatility with us."

While the Chargers apparently disposed of Post because of his contract difficulties, the Atlanta Falcons signed star middle linebacker Tommy Nobis to an estimated five-year contract at about $50,000 a year.

Meanwhile, the Minnesota Vikings suffered their second major loss in two days as veteran cornerback Bobby Bryant broke his right leg when wide receiver Gene Washington fell on him after a collision during practice.

Bryant, who missed much of the 1970 season with a shoulder injury, broke his leg three inches above the ankle. Coach Bud Grant said he expected Bryant to be sidelined for two months. "It appeared to be a fairly clear break," said Grant, "and fortunately it was a small bone and not a weight-bearing bone."

Bryant's injury followed by one day an announcement that guard Jim Vellone would be out for the season with an undetermined illness.

TRADE CUTBURTH

to shuffle their roster, obtaining running back Henry Dyer from the Cincinnati Bengals on waivers and trading quarterback Bob Cutbuth to the Oakland Raiders for an undisclosed draft choice.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Wed., July 28, 1971 11

WHO STARTED THIS ANYWAY??

On July 9, 1971, the Fight Against Irresponsible Recall committee issued a news release immediately after recall petitions alleging "dereliction" on the parts of Commissioners Choate, Acri and Watkins were filed with the City Secretary. In that news release we stated as follows:

"Many of the supporters of the recall election recognize that they cannot win on the issue of Jay Banks. We predict that in the days to come these people will carefully attempt to divorce this election from the Jay Banks issue and will attempt to slant their news releases by using selected statements from City officials that recently resigned."

Our prediction has come true. The statement issued by the supporters of the recall election through Mr. Banks which appeared in Sunday's paper is calculated to make the people of this community believe that Jay Banks really has nothing to do with this recall election and is not an issue at all. As uncomfortable as the supporters of this election are with the Jay Banks issue, there is nothing they can do, aside from calling the election off, which will remove this matter as an issue. The fact is there would never have been a recall election had it not been for the dismissal of Jay Banks. The overwhelming majority of the people who signed the recall petition did so in protest of the firing of Jay Banks. The majority of the people who circulated the recall petitions were doing so in an effort to reinstate him as Chief. To say at this point that this whole matter which was conceived as the result of the controversy involving the dismissal of Jay Banks really has nothing to do with his dismissal is deceptive and is merely an attempt by the supporters of the recall election to cloud the true issue.

ROOKIE CATCHES DOUBLE HEADER, HITS TWO HOMERS — Bobby Pfeil, Philadelphia Phillies rookie who caught both games of Phils-Houston Astros doubleheader Tuesday night and hit two homers in first game, questions call by umpire Bob Engel in first inning of second game. At bat is Astros' Jim Wynn. Phils won first, 8-3; Astros, second, 5-1.

Versatile Bobby Pfeil Saves Phils' Bacon

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Most major league players check the starting lineup when they come to the ball park. Not Bobby Pfeil. He checks the injury list, then the lineup.

The 27-year-old Pfeil is a utility man. He can play every position. Last year, for instance, he was in 15 games at first base, 52 at second, eight at third, 14 in the outfield and six behind the plate.

Pfeil played eight positions in one game against Tacoma and was going to pitch in the ninth inning, but couldn't because he wasn't listed under pitchers according to a Pacific Coast League rule.

DONS HARNESS
Tuesday night the Philadelphia Phillies came up short in the catching department. First stringer Tim McCarver was sidelined with a bruised knee, and backup receiver Mike Ryan was out of uniform with a muscle spasm in the back. Manager Frank Lucchesi handed Pfeil a catching mitt and sent him out to catch a doubleheader.

"That's why he's here, because of his versatility," said Lucchesi of the 185 pound Pfeil. Pfeil not only went out and caught lefty Woodie Fryman, one of the tougher pitchers to handle, but he slammed a pair of home runs, his first in the major leagues. He drove in three runs as the Phils beat the Houston Astros 8-3 in the first game of a two-night doubleheader.

Houston won the second game 5-1 behind the four hit pitching of Wade Blasingame (7-8) who completed his first start in 20 this year. Home runs by Cesar Cedeno and Doug Rader gave the Astros a 3-0 lead on lefty Ken Reynolds. They added two more in the ninth off reliever Jim Bunning. Deron Johnson's 24th home run in the ninth was the only run off Blasingame.

Pfeil had two passed balls charged against him in the first game, and he made a throwing error in the second. He also tagged out a runner at the plate on the end of a doubleplay in the ninth inning of the second game.

INSPIRED BY RYAN
"Mike Ryan was an inspiration to me," said Pfeil after the first game. "I decided that if he could catch like he did last night I could catch."

Ryan went 15 innings against the Astros after suffering a muscle spasm in the dressing room before the game. It was painful for him to move, let alone catch in a major league baseball game.

The Nationals collected nine hits, one of which was a home run by Henry Holguin.

Dick Battle and Wade Cobb each had two blows for the Nationals. Bubba Stripling, Bobby Doe, Terry Kelley and Mike Warren had the other base raps for Big Spring.

Fletcher and Mike Richards each had two safeties for the Tower team.

Winner of the tournament will meet the Lubbock champion in the American League park here at 8 p.m., Aug. 3. Survivor in that game goes to the State Tournament at Waco.

STANTON PARTNERSHIP MEET SLATED TO OPEN SATURDAY
STANTON (SC) — The first annual Stanton Partnership Golf Tournament will be staged at the Martin County Country Club here Saturday and Sunday.

Entry fee is $30 per team. No more than 50 teams will be accepted for the meet, since the golf course has only nine holes.

A shotgun start will be used at 9 a.m., and again at 2 p.m. Play will be over 30 holes.

Those planning to enter should call 756-2356 during the day or 756-3355 at night. Ronnie Gilbreath is heading the planning committee for the tournament.

Merchandise awards will go to winning tandems.

BS BASS CLUB Local Sportsmen Shade Andrews

A duel bass-fishing match, which pitted clubs of Big Spring and Andrews against each other, held last weekend, was declared a smashing success by Bob McCullough of the local club.

The tournament was staged at the Coleman Lake over Saturday and Sunday. Each club fielded 23 entries.

The largest bass caught was one weighing 5 pounds 8 ounces. Its captor was R. C. Thomas, Big Spring. He was awarded a trophy and an Ambassador reel.

Second largest catch was a 4 pound 15 ounce beauty hooked by Jerry Avery, also of Big Spring. He claimed a Coleman camp stove as a reward.

An Andrews man, Ed Henry, was third with a 4 pound 6 ounce fish. Henry received a Finwich casting rod for his efforts.

John Hawkins, also of Andrews, was fourth, with a catch that weighed an even 4 pounds. His award was a battery charger.

The prize for catching the largest string of fish in one day also went to Avery, who is president of the Big Spring Bass Club. He accounted for five fish Sunday. They weighed a total of 17 pounds 1 ounce.

Bill Mssey, Andrews, had the second largest string. His fish weighed a total of 12 pounds 6 ounces.

Tom Henry, Big Spring, had a string that pushed the scales to 12 pounds 2 ounces, good for third place.

Ed Henry, Andrews, finished just behind Tom Henry with catches that totaled 10 pounds 13 ounces.

Ted Hicks, Big Spring, was fifth in that category with fish that weighed a total of 10 pounds 1 ounce.

An even 100 pounds of bass were caught, with Big Spring entries accounting for 56 pounds. In order to qualify, a fish had to measure at least 15 inches in length.

The local bass club continues to grow in membership. Eight new members accepted this month brought the total enrollment to 77.

Back and shoulder patches are now available to members. McCullough stated. They can be obtained from any club member. Several of the local members wore their patches to

NATS BEAT TOWER Big Spring Final Assured In Meet

The pressure has suddenly become very intense in the District 3 Little League tournament going on in the National League park here.

The Big Spring Nationals ushered themselves into the finals by defeating Midland Tower, 6-1, in a pressure-packed joust Tuesday night.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, Big Spring American and Big Spring Texas square off to see which plays the Nationals in the championship game Thursday evening.

Pat Dobson Registers 14th Win For Orioles

By The Associated Press

The Birds completed the sweep, winning the nightcap on Brooks Robinson's ninth-inning homer.

COMPLETE SWEEP

Elsewhere in the American League Tuesday night, Minnesota trimmed Washington 4-2, Cleveland nipped California 4-3, Boston split a doubleheader with Milwaukee, winning 4-3 before losing 5-1, Detroit topped Kansas City 5-4 in 11 innings and Chicago defeated New York 9-6 in 12 innings.

In the National League, New York edged St. Louis 3-2, Montreal dropped Chicago 6-1, Philadelphia split a doubleheader with Houston, winning 8-3 and then losing 5-1, Cincinnati whipped San Diego 11-3, Los Angeles topped Pittsburgh 8-5 and Atlanta beat San Francisco 4-3.

Dobson, now 14-4, hasn't lost since June 12 and has pitched eight straight complete games. He was in complete control against Oakland as Baltimore swept the showdown of AL division leaders.

The right-hander, picked up from San Diego during the winter, didn't allow a hit until the fifth inning when Dick Green singled with two out. The hit followed four straight strikeouts. Clay Dalrymple's fifth inning double drove in the only run Dobson needed in the opener. The Birds needed more than that in the nightcap though.

Baltimore jumped into a 4-0 lead in the second game but the A's rallied to tie the score with four in the seventh. It was still 4-4 with two out in the bottom of the ninth when Boog Powell doubled and Robinson tagged his homer.

REDEEMS SELF

Bill Melton's throwing error allowed the Yankees to break a 5-5 tie in the top of the 12th inning, but the slugging Chicago third baseman made up for it with a booming three-run homer in the bottom half of the inning after the Sox had rallied to tie the score again on a walk and Pat Kelly's double.

Bobby Murcer homered for the Yankees, who had a five-game winning streak snapped and blew early 4-0 and 5-1 leads.

Mickey Lolich went all the way for his 16th victory, surviving a game-tying homer by Kansas City's Dennis Paepke in the ninth.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Arnold Palmer, who should know a good golf swing when he sees one, says Lee Trevino's pivot is anything but classic.

"He has, however, such a great extension through the ball with his left arm, that even when he misses a shot — and I've seen him miss by two or three inches — he moves it in the right direction. And that momentum is wonderful," adds Palmer. Duffers everywhere identify with Trevino. He shows all the frailties of the average man and lifted himself into golf's elite without the benefit of a country club connection or a golf angel so necessary in this inflationary age.

Sometimes, Lee acts as if his successes are merely figments of his imagination, that his dream will end abruptly. That thought may always haunt him.

Some observers reason Lee's reign at the top may not extend too long, that he tends to be overweight, that his effectiveness will suffer when his hunger is abated.

Trevino relishes the thought of leading a parade, though. He's a light-hearted extrovert — a Mexican idolized by Latinos and Anglos alike for the levity he has brought to a sober sport. The grand old game has needed such a personality for a long time.

Golf carts, it is no secret, have helped keep many a course in the black. Without them, a lot of senior members would not be able to continue playing — those elders who, in many instances, pay much of the upkeep around a club. The carts bring in tremendous revenue to the individual who sells them and the persons or clubs which operate them.

But golf carts can be an atrocity, too. They deprive players of exercise — it just doesn't burn up many calories to follow a ball over hill and dale by cart, dismounting occasionally to strike the pellet again.

The golf carts can spoil the flavor of the game, too, simply because their use doesn't give the players much time to think between shots. A player finds himself standing over his ball again almost before he has had time to judge it and shape his strategy.

The carts can be dangerous, in addition, unless they are handled with great care. I've seen some cart drivers operate their vehicles as if they were roaring away on the first lap of the Indianapolis 500.

Astrodome, which embraces the home of the National League Astros, Astroland and the amusement park, means $100 million annually to the Houston economy.

An estimated 7 1/2 million persons visited the area last year and even more likely will drop by and leave their share of loot this year.

Some insist the Astrodome is the greatest thing that has happened in Houston since the ship channel from Galveston was dug.

Sixty-five per cent of the Astrodome's attendance for all events originates from outside Houston. At the height of the baseball season — from Memorial Day to Labor Day (vacation time for kids) — more than 50 per cent of the fans are from outside Texas.

Some of the land in the immediate vicinity of Astrodome is selling for $140,000 an acre.

The Astrodome was built for $40 million, a tremendous bargain. New Orleans' proposed Superbowl will cost at least $110 million and the New Orleans people, pointing in envy to the income Houston has realized from its stadium, say it will be money well spent because out-of-staters will be picking up most of the tab.

The National Chamber of Commerce estimates that the average out-of-state tourist spends an average of $40 a day. Two dozen tourists a day, the chamber adds, will benefit a community as much as acquiring a new industry with an annual payroll of $100,000.

Some reports in Houston indicate that for every dime spent in the Astrodome there, the visitor leaves a dollar in the community.

Two BS Teams Go To State

Four teams, including two from Big Spring, will represent District 7 in the Texas State ASA Softball tournament scheduled Aug. 5-6-7-8 in Brownwood.

Morton's Chippers and Whitaker's Sporting Goods are the Big Spring teams eligible to go. Morton's is the defending state champion.

Britt's Cats and the Merchants, both of Lamesa, will also take part.

The Lamesa Merchants defeated Britt's, 10-5, in the finals of the district tournament the past weekend. Whitaker's wound up third.

Morton's played three exhibition games during the tournament and won them all, beating the Merchants twice by identical scores of 1-0 and Britt's, 3-1.

The Chippers go to Lubbock Friday night to clash with the five-time New Mexico champion, Booth Pharmacy of Portales, in a double header. The first game will be at 7:30 p.m. Site of the contests will be a diamond at 25th and Avenue Q in Lubbock.

Coahoma Team In Tourney

COAHOME — Jack Brown takes his Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department team to Sweetwater Thursday for the District 4 Freshman Texas Teen-Age Baseball Tournament.

The Firemen, 10-1 on the year, tangle with Brownwood American at 4 p.m. in a first round game.

In other first round contests, Sweetwater American tangles with Sweetwater National at 6 p.m., San Angelo tries Brownwood Continental at 8 p.m., and Brownwood National clashes with Comanche at 10 p.m.

Championship finals will be at 8 p.m. Saturday. The winner qualifies for the Aug. 3-7 State tournament at Killeen.

Only team to defeat to VFD team this season was Harding Well Service.

Bucs, Odessa Clash At 7

John Newman's Big Spring launch play at 7 o'clock this evening in the District 6 Senior Teen-Age Baseball tournament in Colorado City.

The locals' first round opponent will be Odessa.

In tonight's other contest, slated for 9 o'clock, San Angelo Big T tangles with Monahans, champion of the Four-County League.

San Angelo Big T, one of the favorites, boasts a 12-3 win-loss record and is managed by Jim Allen.

Should Big Spring win its opener, it plays again at 9 p.m. Thursday. Should it lose tonight, it comes back Thursday for the 7 p.m. contest.

Only one game is scheduled Friday. If all teams in the meet lose as many as one game in the early going, two games will be needed Saturday to determine the champion. The first game Saturday is down for 7 p.m.

Astros Can Look But Not Touch

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — When the Apollo 15 moonwalkers look into 1,200-foot deep Hadley Rille on the moon Saturday, they'll be like two penniless children peering through a candy store window.

They can look but not touch. The rille, or canyon, is too steep for David R. Scott and James B. Irwin to descend safely on foot. They can only describe what they see and take pictures.

NO SAMPLES
That's frustrating to scientists who would like to know what's at the bottom of the intriguing gorge. They would like progressive samples from the slope.

It's like earth geologists having to be content with standing on the rim of the Grand Canyon of Arizona looking down, unable to climb about the canyon and sample its rocks. Hadley Rille could be as old as the solar system, 4.6 billion years old.

"Examination of the rille floor and sampling of the rocks located there would be extremely valuable. Evidence of the origin of the rille would almost certainly be found," Dr. Gene Simmons, chief scientist at the Manned Spacecraft Center, wrote recently.

"But perhaps more importantly, rocks from a depth of about 1,200 feet would be collected."

CROSSBOW IDEA
Such rocks revealing the vertical change, or stratigraphy, of the moon could reveal its history more than anything else.

"The scientific need to examine rocks from the bottom of the rille is so great that many people have tried to solve the problem of how to get them," Simmons said. "One prominent scientist suggested that the astronauts use a crossbow with a string attached to an arrow for retrieval."

That idea and others were abandoned.

Bible Course Set At HCJC

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church, will again teach a Bible course at Howard County Junior College.

As he has for many years, he will instruct a survey of the Old Testament during the fall semester, then a survey of the New Testament in the spring. The class meets from 8 a.m. to 9:20 a.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays at the college, and it carries a three-hour college credit. However, the course is open to anyone, regardless of whether they want to earn college credit or not.

Welfare Not Vested Right

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court held today that welfare is not a vested right.

Mary Jane Meade applied in 1968 for permanent and total disability welfare payments. She was 56 and said she suffered from back and neck pains, hypertension, arthritis, a speech impediment and blackout spells.

A State Welfare Department "administrative denial" of her application stated: "The medical and social information indicates that this individual is handicapped to some extent and her work capacity is markedly restricted, but her condition does not appear severe enough to be totally disabling."

A Dallas trial court ruled that she had a right to appeal from this decision.

The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals reversed and rendered the case, saying: "There is no right of appeal from an administrative order unless the order violates a constitutional right or adversely affects a vested property right. Appellant has no 'vested property right' to the assistance she applied for."

3,000 South Viets Joining New Sweep Under Umbrella

SAIGON (AP) — Another 3,000 South Vietnamese troops joined massive sweep operations in eastern Cambodia today under an umbrella of U.S. helicopter gunships, jet fighter-bombers and B52 stratofortresses.

The new drive was the third by Vietnamese troops in Cambodia in a week and the fifth this month. All are designed to push North Vietnamese forces back from the border to keep them from disrupting the South Vietnamese elections in late August and early October.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the newest Cambodian front that the South Vietnamese and their spearhead of 80 armored vehicles began moving north from Highway 1 between Svay Rieng and Prey Veng, about 255 miles inside Cambodia.

NO RESISTANCE
They encountered no enemy resistance initially, Esper said. But sharp fighting was reported on Tuesday about 25 miles to the northwest. South Vietnamese headquarters said ground forces and air strikes killed 35 North Vietnamese, while six Saigon troops were killed and 26 were wounded.

South Vietnamese helicopters lifted 1,600 troops to the area between Svay Rieng and Prey Veng for the new operation.

Baptist Hospitals Eye Federal Funds

DALLAS (AP) — A hospital study committee of the Baptist General Convention of Texas recommended Tuesday that the group's nine hospitals be permitted to accept federal grants and low interest loans.

Such permission, the committee said, would help offset the difference between federal payments for government patients and the cost of providing services.

After a year's study, the group also said hospitals should be allowed to add a minority of non-Baptists to hospital boards of trustees to broaden community support.

The recommendations must be approved by the convention's executive board Sept. 10.

Previously, all requests for permission to accept federal grants have been denied.

Gold In The Hills

BRECKENRIDGE, Colo. (AP) — Situated at 9,600 feet altitude just west of the Continental Divide, this town's gold mine have yielded an average of nearly $1 million for each of the 111 years since it was first settled during the gold rush of the 1860's.

At the turn of the century the highest post office in the U.S. was located a few miles out of town on 11,482-foot Boreas Pass, where a narrow gauge railroad line snaked its way across the Rockies. Today an old log section house marks the spot.

The U.S. Command confirmed that B52 strikes were flown in support of the sweep, in addition to helicopter gunship fighter-bomber operations.

The South Vietnamese began pre-election sweeps in Cambodia July 8 with a week-long, 3,000-man push in the Parrot's Beak area east of Svay Rieng.

A second sweep by 2,000 Rangers was launched July 19 across the border from South Vietnam's Chau Doc Province, in the Mekong Delta. It is still in progress.

CLOSE TO RUBBER
A third sweep was made by 10,000 infantrymen from July 21 to July 26 north of Highway 7 and adjacent to the area northeast of Saigon known as War Zone C.

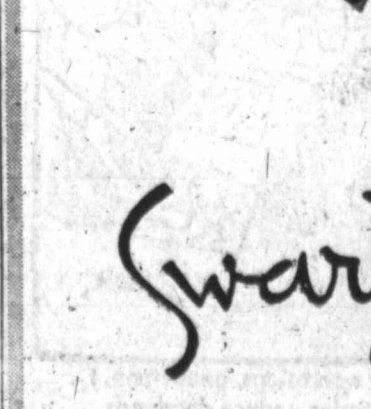

Last Monday, 1,000 South Vietnamese infantrymen with another 1,000 in reserve began a fourth drive along Highway 7 south of Snuol. They are reported to have pushed to within four miles of that rubber plantation town from which South Vietnamese occupation troops were driven early in June after a five-day battle that cost them 600 casualties and heavy equipment losses. Commanders of the new operation there said there are no immediate plans to retake the town.

None of the sweep operations has resulted in significant contact with the enemy.
