

MISTAKE? Connally Guns Down Military Pay Increases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Overriding the Pentagon, Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said today that during the 90-day wage-price freeze servicemen will get no raises except for promotions.

"No, the military are not going to be able to get a raise," Connally said. "This was a mistake the Pentagon put out yesterday. I don't know by whose authority."

Wednesday Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedhelm said the freeze would not apply to the 2.7 million men and women in uniform, adding, "The secretary of Defense has the authority to run his department and that is our decision now."

But Connally, speaking in a television interview, said the action was not considered or approved by the Cost of Living Council, which Connally heads. The council was set up by the President to interpret the freeze.

"They're going to be treated like anybody else," Connally said. A Treasury Department spokesman said this means no military increases for longevity, bonuses or benefits. However, pay raises for promotions are approved, as they are for nonmilitary jobs, he said.

A Pentagon spokesman said after Connally's statement, "We have nothing to say. We are awaiting guidelines from the council."

Connally spoke on the NBC-TV "Today" show.

Tall Texan's Verbal Jab Clips Meany

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally said today AFL-CIO President George Meany's opposition to the 90-day wage-price freeze shows "he's basically lost touch with what is meaningful to the American workman."

The verbal jab repeated an administration criticism that already had Meany reportedly fuming. It came less than two hours before a White House delegation headed for AFL-CIO headquarters to meet labor leaders virtually united in opposition to the wage-price freeze, viewed by some as their gravest crisis in 20 years.

Connally, appearing on NBC's Today show, said it was "sheer nonsense" and "rank demagoguery" to argue, as Meany and others have, that President Nixon's tax-cut requests favor business at the expense of the workingman.

Connally claimed for Nixon's new economic program the support of America's rank-and-file workers, and said he thought organized labor leaders would fall in line with their members.

Carr Labels Stock Quiz Political Hatchet Job

Ex-Banker Sharp Fails Payoff Test

AUSTIN (AP) — Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr told House investigators today he thinks the stock fraud investigation is nothing "but a calloused, colossal, political hatchet job directed by the Republican administration in Washington."

HIGH HOPES

"It is knee high in political ambitions," Carr told the five-member General Investigating Committee in its second day of a probe about alleged misconduct of state officials in the 1969 legislative approval of two banking regulation bills supported by Frank W. Sharp, then chairman of the Sharpstown State Bank, now defunct.

Sharp testified Wednesday that he had a "tacit understanding" but "no commitment" with Speaker Gus Mutscher to finance a stop-market venture in return for help in passing the legislative bills that Sharp wanted.

"The law has taken a back seat to policies when Will Wilson (former state attorney general as a Democrat and now assistant U.S. attorney general as a Republican) and his cohorts in Washington work out this smelly deal to parade Mr. Sharp around the state spouting nothing but innuendos, hearsay and rumor," Carr said.

NOW HEAR THIS

"For your information," broke in Rep. Dewitt Hale, a Corpus Christi Democrat and a member of the committee, "before this hearing is over I am going to ask that we subpoenae the federal attorney at Houston to appear before us and testify."

"Would you take an amendment to include the federal judge who granted this man (Sharp) full immunity from prosecution?" asked Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville.

Carr said he made one appearance at the Capitol during the 1969 second special legislative session in support of Sharp's legislation. Sharp testified Wednesday he wanted the bill so his Sharpstown State Bank could "get out from under the FDIC (Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.)" by having de-

WEBB AFB OPERATIONS BRIEFING
... Col. Malcolm Ryan, R. W. Whipkey

Whipkey Named Honorary Commander At Webb AFB

R. W. Whipkey, who retired last week after 36 years as publisher of the Big Spring Herald, was named honorary wing commander for the day today at Webb AFB, honored at a luncheon, and received a guided tour of the base's new hospital.

Whipkey was welcomed to the base at 11 a.m. by Col. Malcolm

Ryan, wing commander, and was given an executive briefing on the workings of Webb AFB.

Attending the luncheon in the Webb AFB Officers Club was Col. Ryan, Col. John Grow, air force group commander, Col. Charles Walker, deputy commander for operations, Col. William Kilpatrick, deputy commander for maintenance, and Capt. Regina McGuiness, information officer.

During lunch Whipkey was presented with a plaque inscribed with the poem "High Flight" and an American flag.

MSGT. Norman Collinsworth, first sergeant of hospital squadron, took the two wing commanders on a personal guided tour of the base hospital which will be dedicated soon.

Shaw Is Back In The Clutches Of The Law

By LINDA CROSS

After a brief absence during which he was sorely missed, Dorman Ray Shaw, fleet-footed escape artist, again reposes in Howard County jail today. Deputy Sheriff Eddie Owen collared Shaw shortly before 1 p.m. today.

Working on a tip from police officers who had spotted Shaw, Deputy Owen and Deputy Ed Cherry cornered Shaw in a rough, brushy area between 8th and 10th streets near the YMCA, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard.

Shaw, 28, charged with burglary, escaped Tuesday from Deputy Sheriff S. K. Roberts after he had been taken to 118th District Courtroom for arraignment and trial-setting on burglary charges. Shaw feigned illness and broke away down the third floor stairway as Roberts was escorting him to the restroom.

Roberts is nursing bruised knees, sore hands and hurt feelings he received when he tried to prevent Shaw's quick-heeled flight for freedom. Roberts leaped down the stairway after Shaw, but lost his balance and fell to his knees on the stairs. The time it took Roberts to recover himself is all the time Shaw needed to spurt ahead and down the stairs.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell, who thought his running days were over for another four years, took up the chase on the first floor of the courthouse and pursued Shaw down West Third where he disappeared in an alley near the Salvation Army Building.

City Manager Expected Friday

Prospects seem firm that a new city manager for Big Spring will be named by Friday.

Mayor Arnold Marshall said no announcement could be made immediately, but that an agreement for a new manager appears to be on a firm basis.

The City Commission has interviewed the prospect during the past week. He currently is manager of another Texas city.

She Starved Her Daughter?

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Arguments were due today in the trial of a teen-age woman accused of starving her infant daughter.

The state sought the death penalty for Mrs. Irene Martinez, 19, charged with murder with malice in the death of her daughter, Yolanda, 9 months, last Sept. 5.

In a tearful appearance on the witness stand Wednesday, Mrs. Martinez testified: "When my baby died, half of me died with her."

The woman, who also has a son, 2, told the court, "I had the babies — I could have given them away any time I wanted, but they were my flesh and blood."

"I never would have thought of intentionally doing anything like that," said the slender, attractive woman, whose husband is stationed in Vietnam.

Mrs. Martinez testified she "didn't abandon them as you said." She said she had asked relatives to take care of the children while she was moving into a friend's home. She said she thought the relatives were looking after the two children.

She said she had been under psychiatric care when she was 13 but had had no such treatment since then. She testified earlier that she had been raped when she was 13.

Personal Income Dips $11 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Personal income in July dropped by $11 billion from the previous month to an adjusted annual rate of $89 billion, the Commerce Department reported today.

The department noted that the June figure had been boosted by $16.75 billion because of an increase in Social Security benefit payments, of which a large portion were non-recurring retroactive payments.

Excluding the Social Security payment factor, July income increased $2.25 billion compared to $3.5 billion in June.

Agency Joins Busing Fight

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal housing officials are facing serious cost and management problems that threaten to price the poor out of the government's mushrooming multi-million-dollar subsidized-apartment program.

The most immediate concern of the Department of Housing and Urban Development is the number of projects running in the red and needing rent increases to meet basic operating expenses. On the horizon is the possibility rich investors may abandon buildings after using up the tax shelters that lured them to the program.

"We are doing low- and moderate-income families no favor by approving projects doomed to management failure almost as soon as they are occupied," Norman V. Watson, assistant HUD secretary for housing management, wrote field officials July 29.

Watson ordered a tightening of procedures because projects had been approved with such operating expenses as taxes, utilities and maintenance underestimated by as much as 10 to 20 per cent.

TALK TRUTH TEST TAKEN BY MEDINA

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — The jury in the Capt. Ernest L. Medina court-martial has the day off today while defense and government lawyers discuss a lie detector test taken by him.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey is exercising his option to place in the record expert testimony supporting Medina's claim he gave no orders to massacre civilians at My Lai.

Medina is charged with the responsibility for the deaths of 100 Vietnamese civilians allegedly killed by his men during a March 16, 1968 infantry sweep through the village. He also is charged with shooting a Vietnamese woman and causing the death of a young boy.

TWO OF QUINTUPLETS DIE DURING NIGHT

BOLTON, England (AP) — Two of the quintuplets born Wednesday to Mrs. Pauline Grundy, 23, died during the night. Both were boys.

The hospital said the surviving two boys and a girl were "progressing well." Born two months premature, they averaged two pounds and were in incubators.

Mrs. Grundy, wife of a supervisor in a hosiery mill, was in satisfactory condition.

Martin Voters To Consider $450,000 Bond Saturday

STANTON — Martin County voters will get an opportunity Saturday to determine whether to spend $450,000, refunding the present courthouse or building a new one.

"There's a lot of sentiment to keep the present courthouse, but it will cost us between $30,000 and $50,000 more to remodel it than it would to build a new one," County Judge Carrol Yater said Wednesday afternoon.

"But something definitely has to be done. We're running out of space for our county clerk's records, and after a recent rain I counted seven buckets catching drip water in the county law library," he said.

CHOICES

The two-part ballot gives voters an opportunity to decide for or against "the issuance of bonds and the levying of the tax in payment thereof." Voters are then given a choice of deciding "for the issuance of $450,000 bonds for erecting a new courthouse and jail in and for Martin County" or "for the issuance of $450,000 bonds for remodeling, renovating and enlarging the existing Martin County courthouse and jail."

Judge Yater said Martin County valuations increased by about $6 million last year and an even larger increase can be expected this year.

OIL MONEY

The increase is due to the reactivation of oil companies' interest in the Sprabery Trend area of the county, the judge said.

There were 149 new oil wells in the county last year and even more new wells are assured this year. "We have not had less than 12 active rigs in the county at any one time this year," he said.

The county has two bond series outstanding; according to Judge Yater, and these are due to be paid off in 1974.

If passed Saturday, the $450,000 bonds will probably be sold for 20 to 25 year term, and Judge Yater says he foresees no increase in the county's $1.29 per $100 valuation tax rate to pay off the bond.

NEEDED

"The commissioners court is unanimous in the feeling that improvement of some type is badly needed and feel that this type ballot will allow the voter, if he favors improvement, his choice of a new or a remodeled building," the judge said.

"We feel that sometime in the near future something will have to be done to upgrade our seat of county government. Adequate storage space is practically nonexistent for public documents in the clerk's office and our jail facilities fall short of state and federal standards. Anyone who has served on a jury in mid-summer or winter can certainly appreciate the need for better courtroom facilities," he said.

PLANS DRAWN

The present courthouse was built in 1906 and remodeled in 1951.

Big Spring architect Olen Puckett has drawn up plans for a one-story building to replace the present three-story structure.

Estimates are that the county can build and completely furnish the new building for $450,000, Judge Yater said.

"If voters want us to remodel the present building we'll just take the $450,000 and go as far as we can with the money," he said.

In addition to facilities included in the present courthouse, the proposed structure would have an additional courtroom, designated as the district court, and basement storage would be provided.

Birth Of Tornado Exposed

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Henry Perez, a Kansas highway patrol trooper, has captured on film a spectacular sequence of pictures of a developing tornado.

The highway patrol made the pictures available to The Associated Press for dissemination as a public service.

TORNADO ALLEY

On a stormy night in May 1930, on the flat Kansas prairie about 25 miles west of Salina, Perez, 28, and a fellow highway patrolman pulled off Interstate 70 in their patrol cars to perform tornado spotter duty. This is a regular function of the patrol in this state, in the heart of America's "Tornado Alley."

Tornadoes develop along squall lines when cool northern air moving southward across the midwestern plains overruns warm, moist air which has pushed northward from the Gulf of Mexico.

A tornado is a funnel-shaped, ominously dark cloud with winds swirling counterclockwise at up to 300 miles an hour. It travels along a path—usually southwest to northeast—at a speed of 25 to 40 miles an hour, dealing death and devastation if it dips into populated areas.

The tornado Perez shot was in open country. It caused only minor field damage and downed a few trees before rising again.

Perez had with him a 35mm Sears single lens reflex camera—a standard piece of equipment for the troopers to shoot highway accident pictures.

KEPT SHOOTING

What Perez recorded was a bulge protruding downward out of a boiling cloud about a quarter of a mile from the two troopers. "I got it right from the beginning," he said, "and just kept shooting as it progressed."

Perez continue to shoot the developing tornado until its long elephant-trunk funnel had dipped to the earth and began stirring up dust.

The trooper shot 20 exposures within 3 to 7 minutes by his own estimation, with the camera set on automatic for both the exposure adjustment and the shutter speed.

"I really did it just because I like to take pictures of something unusual," Perez said. "I don't like to take pictures as a hobby."

The pictures were filed away at the Kansas highway patrol headquarters until this summer when the National Weather Service and The Associated Press learned of their existence and obtained permission from Col. William Albott, patrol superintendent, to use them.

Fire Destroys Area Home

COAHOMA — Fire swept through the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don McIntire, 306 N. First, destroying their recently remodeled home early today.

The Coahoma Volunteer Fire Department responded to a call about 1 a.m. and had the blaze extinguished by 2:15 a.m.

"The whole front of the house was a solid blaze when we arrived," said Robert Helm, fire chief.

McIntire smelled smoke when he got home and thought it was the air conditioner and unplugged it, according to Helm. He then went to bed, and when he woke up the house was full of smoke and beginning to blaze. McIntire picked up the baby and ran outside. His wife is in the hospital.

"This is the worst fire we have had in three and a-half years," said Helm, "and the fire we had then was outside of town."

McIntire is staying with neighbors.

Nixon Will Talk To VFW In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — President Nixon will address the Veterans of Foreign Wars convention today during a brief stop here on his way to the California White House.

His talk, to be open only to veterans, their families and invited guests, probably will center around his foreign policy. The President is expected to assure the veterans that he plans no appeasement of Communist countries.

Nixon's visit was scheduled shortly after he announced his trip to Red China.

Dallas is just one of several stops Nixon is making as he takes 2 1/2 days to journey from Washington to San Clemente, Calif.

In his speech, he is expected to emphasize the need for support of his administration and the challenge of dealing with peace and relating that effort to the economy.

Various groups have planned demonstrations, but it appeared Wednesday to be a loosely organized venture.

The chairman of Concerned Citizens against School Busing, a Dallas organization, said his group would not protest because it feared it might be linked with antiwar and American Party groups which may demonstrate during the President's visit, which is only supposed to be about an hour and a half.

The chairman, George Hughes, Jr., said they were not demonstrating also because they heard from reliable sources that Nixon may say something about forced busing.

Republican Leader Confers With Local Representatives

Spreading the Republican Party's political philosophy throughout the state, Dr. George Willeford, state Republican chairman, was in Big Spring to confer with local party leaders this morning at the First National Bank.

"I am here to help Republican leadership in West Texas make the party's philosophy clearer to the local people," said Dr. Willeford.

Asked about the party's outlook on the state, Dr. Willeford said, "By tradition West Texans are conservative, honest and independent. When they see the Democratic party leadership fall in the paths converse to these principals, they are not so wedded to the Democratic party that they will forego these ideals."

The Republican leader struck a deep blow at the leadership in Austin stating that he felt the people of Texas are "tired of the corruptive cloud hanging over the state capitol in all governmental classes, and the team of Smith, Barnes, and Mutscher are running over anyone in their way as exemplified in the redistricting issue."

"I would like to go on record as saying the Democrat party is not to blame for the controversy in Austin, but it is the leadership, that is using the party as a vehicle to gain their own ends. The Republican party is offering itself as an alternative to try to remedy the problem and turn the greedy office holders out," said Dr. Willeford.

The Republican leader spoke to the local members of the party on current issues that will effect the party in attaining its goals in the state and the nation. He explained that Texas again would be a much sought after state in the 1972 political race and also spoke on the 18-year-old vote.

"I think that the administration is taking bold steps," said Willeford, "especially in the areas of the busing issue and the national economy. The President has given the whole world notice that America, in trying to get its economy back on the right path, will in the future start thinking about its own problems and making this its main priority."

The state party leader is scheduled to make his next stop in Tyler, Tex.

Police Report

THEFTS

Sam Dawson reported Wednesday a break-in at the Lakeview YMCA. Police officers reported that someone had broken into the building and had attempted to steal money from a coin-operated machine. No money was taken, because the machine had been robbed the night before, officers advised.

Mike Pipes, 1605 Kentucky Way, reported Wednesday that a homemade tape box, valued at $1, and 12 to 18 stereo tapes, valued at $70, had been stolen. Ricky McAdams and David Herrington reported three stereo tapes had been taken from McAdams' car and $2 in change had been taken from Herrington's car while they were parked in the parking lot behind the Ritz theater.

Are There Inequities In 'Freeze'?

Are cracks already appearing in the "lid" that was put on prices, wages and rentals?

Can agreements made before August 15 be carried out?

It seems this is one of the touchier facets of the 90-day freeze imposed by presidential order, although there will be plenty of others emerge as the days go on.

It has been said that Texas state employees and teachers will not be affected by the order. An appeal was made on the ground that such raises were passed in the appropriations bill of the last Legislature. There are also exemptions for the military.

It should be conceded that such "contracts" should be valid, and we would not question in any way that the groups mentioned should have their relief.

But is this full equity? Secretary of the Treasury on Monday made it clear that pre-agreed wage raises will not be acceptable. Consider the hypothetical case of an employer who bargained with his workers (not necessarily in the union process), agreed to grant a stipulated raise, say, last May, and another raise, say, October 1. Under Mr. Connally's stipulation, this second step cannot go into effect.

This would seem to be out of gear with exemptions granted to certain public groups.

Some critics of the wage freeze have pointed out that major unions in recent months have already gotten fat raises, for their members, and the freeze is too late to effect those many workers. Now, the critics ask, what about the small employer with 50 or fewer people who had agreed to grant perhaps 10 cents the expected fall upturn in business?

Mr. Connally said in his public presentation of the economic orders that there are bound to be some inequities. They are showing.

The Right To Read

near-illiteracy than does the rest of the country. This means such a low level of skill as to make normal reading and writing impossible although, technically speaking, these people are not illiterates.

In view of this tremendous need, it is regrettable that a "Right to Read" program drawn up in 1969 by the then secretary of education has yet to be implemented by Congress. No specific legislation for this program has been enacted.

Apathy toward the plight of the illiterate is not limited to the national government, however. Texas must shoulder its share of blame for indifference towards the needs of thousands of its residents for whom the printed word, in any language, remains a mystery.

Illiteracy in the United States has been traditionally regarded as a vestige of a rural, impoverished past which is rapidly being erased.

The 1970 census demolishes that myth. While illiteracy did plummet dramatically in other parts of the country, it continued to thrive in the South, including Texas.

In 1960, there were 3.05 million illiterates in 50 states, Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia accounted for about 40 per cent, 1.25 million.

In 1970, there were 1.4 million illiterates in the United States. However, 950,000 of these, 66 per cent were in the 12 southern states.

Also, the South has a much higher level of

Vacation All Wet

Around The Rim

Jean Fannin

There's nothing like a vacation to make one ready to return to desk and typewriter.

I was really looking forward to visiting the sunny beaches of the Texas Coast. Anytime I can see sand somewhere besides in mid-air, I'm all for it.

However I might as well have left my suntan oil at home. I drove into town in the middle of a rainstorm, and when I got up the next morning and looked out the window of my beachfront motel I noticed that instead of driving down the streets most cars were floating.

I WAS brought up (in an Air Force base town) to believe that the Air Force could do just about anything — but I never really thought that just by seeding the clouds they could close out a drought with a 22-inch rain.

I called a friend and told him "Look, just because I'm from West Texas you didn't have to go this far to impress me. Where are all the sunny, white, sandy beaches?" He asked where I was and then told me that at that particular time the beach was about three miles inland from me and moving toward Big Spring at a fast clip.

AFTER ENDURING an all-day rainstorm I gave up and decided to try a drier climate. I think I left town just ahead of the populace. The last I heard the National Guardsmen were commandeering boats and evacuating the low-lying areas — which was anywhere within three miles of the beachfront.

FROM THE time I left Big Spring until six days later when I returned I did not see the sun. I saw Texas — but no sun. I don't believe there was a corner of the state I left unturned in my search for a suntan — you know what they say about your own backyard!

After a week of swimming around I gave up and headed north for the mountains. I didn't get my suntan but my soggy car almost dried out before my vacation ended.

I HEARD a theory the other day that everytime the astronauts stroll around the moon they mess the weather up on earth. I don't know if this is the reason for all the weather we've been having lately (and we've certainly been having weather!), but next year I'm adding one more thing to my list of things around which to plan my vacation—NASA.

Barbie Keeps Up

Art Buchwald

(By popular request we are printing Art Buchwald's famous article on Barbie Dolls.)

I have nothing against toy companies. In their own way, they bring happiness to the hearts of our young ones and they give employment to thousands of people all over the country. It is only when they try to bankrupt us that I feel we should speak out.

If my situation is duplicated around the nation, every father who has a daughter between the ages of 4 and 12 is going to have to apply for relief. This is what happened — My 7-year-old daughter requested, 4 months ago, a Barbie doll. Now as far as I'm concerned one doll is just like another and since the Barbie was only $3 I was happy to oblige.

I BROUGHT the doll home and thought nothing more of it until a week later when my daughter came in and said, "Barbie needs a negligee."

"So does your mother," I replied. "But there is one in the catalogue for only $3," she said.

"What catalogue?" "The one that came with the doll."

I grabbed the catalogue and much to my horror discovered what the sellers of Barbie were up to. They'll let you have the doll for $3, but you have to buy clothes for her at an average of $3 a crack. They have about 200 outfits, from ice-skating skirts to mink jackets, and a girl's status in the community is based on how many Barbie clothes she has for her doll.

THE FIRST time I took my daughter to the store I spent $3 on a dress for her and $25 to outfit her Barbie doll.

A week later my daughter came in and said, "Barbie wants to be an airline stewardess."

"So let her be an airline stewardess," I said. "She needs a uniform. It's only $3.50."

BARBIE DIDN'T stay a stewardess long. She decided she wanted to be a nurse ($3), then a singer in a nightclub ($3), then a professional dancer ($3).

One day my daughter walked in and said, "Barbie's lonely."

"Let her join a sorority," I said. "She wants Ken." "Who is Ken?"

She showed me the catalogue. Sure enough, there was a doll named Ken, the same size as Barbie with crew-cut hair, a vinyl plastic chest and movable arms and legs. "If you don't get Ken," my daughter cried, "Barbie will grow up to be an old maid."

SO I WENT out and bought Ken ($3.50). Ken needed a tuxedo ($5), a raincoat ($2.50), a terry-cloth robe and an electric razor ($2), tennis shoes ($3), pajamas ($1.50) and several single-breasted suits ($27).

Pretty soon I had put up $400 to protect my original $3 investment.

Then one evening my daughter came in with a shocker. "Barbie and Ken are getting married. Here is the list of wedding clothes they'll need as well as a picture of Barbie's dream house."

"SEVEN NINETY-FIVE for a house?" I shouted. "Why can't they live on a shelf like the rest of your dolls?"

The tears started to flow. "They want to live together as man and wife."

Well, Barbie and Ken are now happily married and living in their dream house with $3,000 worth of clothes hanging in the closet. I wish I could say that all was well, but yesterday my daughter announced that Midge ($3) was coming to visit them. And she doesn't have a thing to wear.

Worthwhile Bonus

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The highway department has received a $90,000 bonus from the Federal Highway Administration for effectively regulating outdoor advertising along the interstate system.

My Answer

Billy Graham

What is happiness? If it exists, how does one find it? I hear so much about it.

C.G. The dictionary says simply: "Happiness is a state of well being and pleasurable satisfaction." Since dictionaries are written by men, and men can be in error, this definition is a bit misleading. A thief in good health after a successful robbery might have feelings of well being and pleasurable satisfaction if his conscience was sufficiently deadened.

The fact is: there are two kinds of happiness: temporal happiness and eternal happiness, or to put it another way: material happiness and spiritual happiness. We experience material happiness when we get a promotion, a good grade on exams, or a surprisingly expensive Christmas gift.

There is nothing sinful about this happiness, just as long as we do not confuse it with spiritual happiness. Material happiness is short-lived, fleeting, like a beautiful rose so fresh in the morning but so wilted by nightfall.

Spiritual happiness is something else. It endures affliction, adversity, trouble, and bereavement. It says with Job, "Though he slay me yet will I praise him." It is abiding, it does not fade, nor ebb with the changing tide.

There is a God-shaped void in each of our hearts. Unless that void is filled we will be restless and troubled. Christ said many times, "Be of good cheer." He alone can bring eternal joy to our hearts. He imparts real happiness.

A Devotion For Today...

The world of God is living and active, sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing to the division of soul and spirit, . . . discerning the thoughts and intentions of the heart. (Hebrews 4:12, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear heavenly Father, open the eyes of all the readers of the Gospels that they may see the true way of eternal life in Jesus Christ and follow Him. In His name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Nixon Moves Out

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — At last President Nixon has decided that the national economy needs regulation and that strong action, even though it may affect countries abroad, is necessary to safeguard the well being of the American people.

The President made the following proposals:

FIRST, a 10 per cent job-development credit in taxes for one year, effective this week, and a 5 per cent credit after August 15, 1972. This would be expected to generate new jobs and increase productivity.

Second, a repeal of the 7 per cent excise tax on automobiles, effective immediately. This would mean a reduction in price of about $200 per car which the American automobile industry would pass on to its nearly 8 million customers who are buying cars this year.

THIRD, an increase in the personal tax exemption for each taxpayer scheduled for Jan. 1, 1973, would be made effective on Jan. 1, 1972, so taxpayers could deduct an extra $50 one year earlier. This would result in an increase in consumer spending power.

The President also will recommend to Congress in January tax measures to stimulate the development of new industries and new technologies to help provide 20 million additional jobs. To offset the loss of revenue from these tax breaks, he has ordered a 4.7 billion dollar cut in federal spending by authorizing a postponement of pay raises and a 5 per cent cut in government personnel. Likewise, he is putting into effect a 10 per cent cut in foreign economic aid.

MOST SIGNIFICANT of the President's proposals, however, was his order that a freeze be imposed on prices and wages throughout the United States for a period of 90 days. He has called upon corporations also to extend this restraint to dividends. He has appointed a cost-of-living council within the government and directed it to work with leaders in labor and business to "set up the proper mechanism for achieving continued price and wage stability after the 90-day freeze is over."

PERHAPS the biggest surprise in the President's address was his reference to the protection of the position of the dollar around the world. Mr. Nixon said he had directed the Secretary of the Treasury to suspend temporarily the convertibility of the dollar into gold or other reserve assets, "except in amounts and conditions determined to be in the interest of monetary stability and in the best interests of the United States." The President declared he wished to "lay to rest the bugaboo of what is called devaluation."

THE PRESIDENT added that he was taking another step to protect the dollar, to improve our balance of payments and to increase sales for Americans. As a temporary measure, he is imposing an additional tax of 10 per cent on certain goods imported into the United States, which he called "a better solution for international trade than direct controls on the amount of imports."

Mr. Nixon's message has created a stir in most of the capitals of the world. While there has been much talk about "revaluation," the chances are that, as the United States economy is being strengthened, the dollar will become one of the "floating" currencies and will, in due time, regain the same position abroad it has had in the past.

'OF COURSE — WE REMAIN NON-ALIGNED'

Fresh Hazards, Rewards

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — It has yet to be given a nickname, but the feeling is widespread that the post-World War II economic world is over and that we are beginning a fresh course with unknown hazards and rewards.

The Marshall Plan has done its job of aiding economic recovery and now is of interest mainly to historians. The Bretton Woods agreement linking foreign currencies to the dollar and the dollar to gold is buried now.

Once-weak nations now are formidable competitors. Nations once enemies now are friends. And so new rules of trade are being sought and new political relationships are being pursued.

For the ordinary American, these are some of the possibilities that will concern him in this new world:

JOB—The import surge likely to benefit domestic automakers immediately, and thus provide new jobs before the year is out. The investment tax credit should mean more jobs in construction and machine tools as factories re-equip. An expected rise in retail trade should add to employment rolls.

PRICES—Although there is no official word on the subject, there is considerable feeling that the 90-day freeze might be extended through next April. Ninety days is a brief time to correct imbalances that have defied solution for four or five years.

Any estimate beyond 90 days is pure conjecture and depends largely on how effective is the Cost of Living Council on coming up with a new program of stabilization.

INTEREST RATES—Long-term lenders like stability, and so in that sense the new economic and financial moves seemingly would tend to keep rates down. Interest rates, however, are even less predictable than prices.

STOCKS—The record trading this week is felt by insiders to be as much from a sense of relief as from a considered judgment about the future.

Over the longer range the prospects appear very good.

CONSUMERS—A tremendous boost to confidence. Within hours of the announcement, Sindinger & Co., market researchers, found the President's move was the most widely discussed subjects in 20 years. And almost all the talk was favorable.

Blind Date Bloop

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Have you ever experienced a situation that started out famously and then ended, soon or late in a great big bloop?

If you can look back on your existence—with some sense of wry but tolerant humor—and recall experiences that started with great expectations but wound up sudden duds—well, these occasions may be familiar to you.

Going on a blind date and being told during the course of the evening that she didn't think you were so much to look at either?

Looking forward to eating caviar for the first time and then wondering why they didn't harden it and sell it for BB-gun ammunition.

Opening a gift package wrapped with an air of flair and importance but containing nothing that the Salvation Army would carry away without a surcharge.

Voting for a handsome young promising politician whose initial act in public office was to threaten a new tax.

Discovering in age that the homilies and adages that your parents annoyed you with by uttering in your youth turned out to be true as gold.

Starting a tomato garden in a patch of earth where cutworms were holding their first national convention.

Telling a surly traffic cop you were the mayor's second cousin — the traffic cop who turned out to be the mayor's first cousin. Offering to show a stranger at the YMCA—the fine points of playing handball, only to find out during the game that he has written three books on it.

Asking your boss for a well-earned merit raise on a day he just returned from having his last three teeth pulled.

Believing the red-haired girl who sat behind you in grammar school was finally falling in love with you, only to have her whisper in your ear and ask if you'd pass a note from her to the tallest guy in the class.

Passing the buck to a guy so dumb that the only way he could figure to get rid of it was to be smart enough to pass it back to you.

Commission To Review Taxation Of Industries

By LINDA CROSS
In an attempt to dredge up more county income without raising the current tax rate or dismissing employees, county commissioners will meet in a board of equalization session at 1:30 p.m. Monday to discuss the valuation and taxation of local industries.

Earl Bruce, of Pritchard & Abbott, mineral and utilities properties evaluator, will meet with the commissioners. Boards of equalization have not yet been closed by the commissioners.

According to County Judge A. G. Mitchell, there is a discrepancy between the actual value of local industries and the amount of revenue the county receives from them.

PUBLIC HEARING
Public hearing on the proposed 1972 budget has been set for Sept. 13. In budget sessions this week, commissioners have trimmed the projected $200,000 deficit to approximately $162,056. The county has a balance of $241,002.06 remaining from 1971 which can be carried over to meet 1972 obligations.

"We're in fairly good shape financially for this year, but we must look to the future," said Commissioner Bill Crooker, adding, "We can carry over funds for this year, but we don't want our balance to disappear over night, so to speak. We have to do something this year to control the situation or we will be in trouble in 1973."

"It will be much easier to correct the situation now than it would be in 1973," said Commissioner Jack Buchanan.

"The only things that can be done to keep us from spending more money than we're taking in is either raise taxes or cut employees," said Judge Mitchell. The commissioners decided to confer with Bruce on oil property valuations before raising taxes or cutting employees.

FUNDS CUT
Commissioners cut proposed general fund expenditures for 1972 by approximately $37,944, according to Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor. The principal reductions were in the road and bridge department and county library operational funds.

Approximately $9,000 was cut from the library fund and $14,000 from the road and bridge department. Mrs. Edna Nichols, librarian, was given a total budget of $37,277 for 1972, and she is to adjust her staff number, book budget and library hours to meet the budget.

Commissioners reduced the $228,000 in crew salaries originally proposed for the road and bridge department to $215,000. Salaries of men who have resigned or retired were deducted, and extra funds allotted by Mrs. Black, to cover any unexpectedly high amount of overtime hours were trimmed. An additional $1,000 was clipped which the county has never participated, according to Judge Mitchell, were trimmed from the deficit.

Commissioners also deleted $500 appropriated several years ago for the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center for dental equipment which the county was never required to buy, according to Mrs. Black.

No reductions were made in any allocations in the interest and sinking funds, according to Mrs. Black.

"We're in good shape in the interest and sinking funds," said Mrs. Black. "And the county will be in good shape once we get all our bonds paid off and have time to recover from the cost of remodeling the library."

Wallace Signs Order To Snag Integration

HOBSON CITY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace, in a move that received both approval and disapproval from Negro officials and heckling from 50 Negro children, has challenged federal court school integration orders in Alabama for the third time in a week.

The scene was all-black Hobson City, where the governor signed Wednesday an executive order to restore the town's school, as well as the predominantly white schools in nearby Oxford, to a full 12-grade system.

Twelve days before, a federal court order had paired the schools for racial balance. The court directed that all first through third grade pupils from both cities attend the previously all-black Hobson City school, and sent those in the fourth through 12th grades to the schools at Oxford.

Wallace had been urged to take the action by Joe Striplin, the Negro mayor of Hobson City, who said he wants integration but wants more to retain local authority over the school and keep a 12-grade system.

Of the young protesters, who carried signs and shouted "Wallace go home!" Striplin said they were led by an adult who "doesn't even live here."

The mayor told Wallace: "We appreciate you coming to our town to give us some assistance. We are sorry there are some who don't live here who feel something else."

Wallace said he based his order on a section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act which he said takes from any official or court the power to order busing to achieve racial balance in schools.

In issuing his order, Wallace attacked the "liberal philosophies" of the courts.

TRAFFIC TICKETS TAXED Crime Doesn't Pay, Except To State

State taxes have been levied on crime effective Sept. 1 with the passage of Senate Bill 841 of the 62nd Legislature, according to Melvin Daratt, warrant officer at the local police department.

In a letter received by Daratt from the state comptroller of public accounts, it was announced that after Sept. 1 each conviction of a crime from a simple traffic ticket to a felony charge will carry a tax rate in addition to the fine.

The Senate bill also requires that a report from the city and county treasurer, or whoever keeps the books on the tax receipts, be issued on Oct. 1 to the state comptroller and each quarter thereafter of costs levied under the bill.

A conviction in each misdemeanor case in which the fine is up to a maximum of $200 will carry a $2.50 tax. In each misdemeanor case upon conviction in which a fine and/or confinement in jail, a $5 tax will be assessed, and upon conviction in each felony case there will be a $10 tax.

The state comptroller will deposit the funds received in a Criminal Justice Planning Fund to help supplement the "Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act of 1968" as amended.

"I am sure that the citizens of the state will benefit by the monies raised through this taxation and better law enforcement at the city, county and state level," said Robert S. Calvert, state comptroller.

Each office collecting the taxes will retain 5 per cent of the over-all tax each quarter as a service fee for collection.

Terry's Texas Rangers Featured In Magazine

The Civil War heroes of Terry's Texas Rangers, Juanita Craft's achievements as a crusader for racial harmony, and the swinging Odessa Jazz Festival highlight this Sunday's issue of the Texas Star magazine. It's a big feature of the Sunday Herald.

The Union troops who encountered the self-styled "Terry's Rangers" in battle described their fighting style as "Texmanship" — a daring and oftentimes winning combination of bravery and bravado.

Artist-writer Bruce Marshall captures the bold spirit of the 1200 volunteers who joined Confederate forces under the command of Colonel Benjamin Franklin Terry. Taking the Wild West east, Terry led ten companies of fearless mounted rangers whose firepower was exceeded only by their self-confidence.

ready to accept the responsibility," says Mrs. Juanita Craft of Dallas, a crusader for human rights.

Karen Klinefelter Blair's probing interview, "Don't Call Me a Color," reflects Mrs. Craft's many successes in a multitude of youth oriented programs and her tireless work towards creating understanding between people of different ethnic groups.

The horns blow hot and cold drums blast out driving beats... and the hottest, swingiest jazz is turning Odessa into a Texas musical oasis. Originator of the Odessa Jazz Festival, Dr. O. A. (Jim) Fulcher, describes the "by invitation only" event as a "party for a special kind of people". A 6-day musical jam session, the Odessa festival promotes a revival of interest in jazz by bringing the greats of the jazz field to the folks at home.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

One of the most underrated receivers in professional football is Dan Abramowicz of the New Orleans Saints, who in four seasons has averaged 58 catches a season. On 33 occasions, he has gone in for touchdowns.

Dave Parks, the former Abilene and Texas Tech star who will play either wide receiver or tight end for the Saints, has averaged 43 catches a year for seven seasons.

As recently as 1946, Tommy Prothro was serving as business manager of a minor league baseball team in Gadsden, Ala., one of four minor league teams owned by his father, Doc Prothro. Every fourth day, Tommy took his regular turn on the mound for the team.

He was uncertain about his future but he wasn't giving much thought to football. One day in Birmingham he was visited by the late Red Sanders, then coach at Vanderbilt University.

They talked most of the day but Tommy had to excuse himself to charge the mound for Gadsden. Sanders was waiting for Tommy when he returned to the hotel.

About 2 a.m., the following morning, young Prothro called his dad to tell Doc he was giving up baseball to help Sanders coach at Vanderbilt.

When Sanders moved to UCLA, Prothro moved with him. When Sanders died a premature death, Prothro had moved away to become head coach at Oregon State, but Tommy eventually returned to UCLA to become head coach.

Now Prothro is coach of the Los Angeles Rams. There are few coaching jobs anywhere better than the one with the Rams, when all conditions are right.

Tommy may take his lumps for a while in the NFL but he'll be dealing misery to the other teams in large doses before long.

He's come a long way since he was a blocking back at Duke. His father was mad enough to sell off his baseball holdings when Tommy fled his side but Doc ultimately decided that his son knew his own mind.

Dallas turned the Rams every way but loose when the two teams met recently in an exhibition game. The final score was 42-21 and it probably could have been worse had coach Tom Landry of Dallas not used 50 players.

Still, Landry knows the Rams will be ready when the Rams head into Dallas for a Thanksgiving Day game. That one will be for keeps and Prothro always had the reputation for getting his clubs ready for the big ones.

Big Spring Charley Johnson is in his 11th season as a pro quarterback. He'd like to play a few more seasons and likely can, if his running gear cooperates.

As a matter of fact, Johnson probably would like to remain active a half dozen more years. That way he could beat Sammy Baugh's record for longevity in the NFL. Sammy practiced his trade for 16 years, or one more than Bobby Layne and Y. A. Tittle. (All four are Texans, by the way.)

One of the changes new coach Dick Winder is planning to make at Odessa High School this fall is move Mike Ashton from the offensive to the defensive backfield.

Ashton was the Bronchos' leading ground gainer last year. Winder has a plethora of running backs returning. Too, he reasons, that if the Red Hoses can't stop people from moving the ball they can't win.

Winder is realistic about the 5-AA4A race. He sees Permian, San Angelo and Cooper contending for the diadem — in a class removed from the other five teams. And he gives the nod to Permian.

Of the tome he recently finished, entitled "They Call It a Game," former cornerback Bernie Parrish (Cleveland Browns) says:

"This book is intended to drive Pete Rozelle, Arthur Modell, Carroll Rosenbloom, Tex Schramm, Clint Murchison, Lou Spadia and other so-called sportsman owners out of professional football. They are my enemies and they know it."

The battle lines are drawn but the game's titans Parrish has in his sights likely will escape unscathed. Parrish's book wounds itself with its own intemperance. It is so monotonously hostile it becomes a monumental bore.

Parrish even levels a charge that most NFL games are fixed. He may find that hard to prove, unless he himself admits going into the tank.

Jim Vellone Has Form Of Cancer

By The Associated Press

Jim Vellone has met some tough opponents in his five seasons as a starting guard on the Minnesota Vikings' fine offensive line — but none of the defensive tackles he battled is more of a threat than the opponent he now faces.

JIM VELLONE

Vellone, 27, won't be doing his battling on the football field, at least not this year. Vellone has Hodgkin's disease, a form of cancer, and underwent surgery Wednesday for removal of his spleen at the UCLA Medical Center Hospital in Los Angeles.

Though ailing physically, Vellone's spirit has not been dampened. "I'm going to lick it," he vowed.

"It is cancer in a form, and it scares you, no question," the former USC griddler said. But you've got to look at it optimistically... it has one of the highest cure rates of any form of cancer.

"It's just like a football game," the 6-foot-2, 250-pounder added. "You got to go on, even if you have made a mistake. You can't look back. You have got to go on."

The first trace of Vellone's ailment came when he reported to the Vikings' camp July 20. Something turned up in his pre-season physical examination which prompted doctors to perform further tests last week in St. Paul. That was when it was diagnosed as Hodgkin's disease.

Fullback Jim Grabowski of Green Bay, hampered the past two seasons by injuries, was placed on waivers Wednesday by Coach Dan Devine.

Grabowski, a five-year veteran from Illinois where he broke all of Red Grange's rushing records, was one-half of the Packers' "gold-dust twins." He and Donny Anderson reportedly received better than $1 million to sign with the Packers in 1966 during the bonus war between the AFL and NFL.

Grabowski, after leading the club with 467 rushing yards in 1967, has been slowed by injuries the past two seasons.

Green Bay also asked waivers on wide receiver Jack Clancy, a starter for much of last season. Clancy, a four-year pro from Michigan, came to the Packers last season in return for tight end Marv Fleming.

Another veteran wide receiver, Wendell Tucker, was dropped by Dallas but quickly signed with Denver. Tucker played four seasons with the Los Angeles Rams.

AND ANOTHER THING — Houston Astros manager Harry Walker pushes home plate umpire Nick Colosi over an out call on Edwards in the ninth inning of their game with the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday night. Walker lost the argument and was ejected from the game. The Pirates went on to win 3-2 in the bottom of the ninth inning.

May's Booming Bat Destroys Houston

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There is nothing ordinary or picturesque about Mill May's batting style but nobody is about to change it.

When he does that, he holds his hands above his head, his bat reaching for the stars. When the ball arrives, the arms and bat fall and he swings.

May swung with authority Wednesday night, hitting a solo home run, then driving in the winning run with a bases-loaded single in the ninth as the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Houston Astros 3-2.

"I've been hitting left-handed since I was at least four," said the Pirate No. 2 catcher.

"But nobody here has tried to change my style because I've always hit."

The Pirates held an early 2-0 lead on May's home run in the fourth and one by Bob Robertson in the second. Both came off Houston starter Don Wilson.

But the Astros tied the game with runs in the seventh and eighth before the Pirates won the game in the ninth with none out off reliever Jim Ray.

Willie Stargell led off the inning with a double off Denny Lemaster. Pinchhitter Manny Sanguillen was intentionally walked and Jim Ray replaced Lemaster. He walked Bob Robertson — unintentionally — and with the infield drawn in, May singled to right for the winning run.

"Would have been a routine out any other time," said Ray. "I didn't hit the ball well."

Steve Blass went eight innings for the Pirates and scattered eight hits before he left for a pinchhitter. The victory went to Bob Miller, 8-5, who had lost two straight games in relief for the Pirates since being acquired from San Diego.

Blass, 11-6 has won only game since the All-Star game on July 13.

In his last three outings, he has given up only four earned runs but has an 0-2 record.

"I'm pitching good and the hell with what happens after that," he said. "I've never had it so good."

"I'm making more money than I ever thought possible for a guy from Falls Church, Conn."

"If I win I'm happy," the right-hander said. "But I'm also happy if I pitch well and don't get the win as long as we win."

The Pirates ended their homestand with a 4-9 record. They play 10 games on the road, beginning with four in Cincinnati.

None out when winning run scored.

Where are the football fans of yesteryear, Don Green of the Big Spring school business office is asking.

Supporters of BSHS football who held season tickets to last year's games have only today and Friday to ask for their same seat locations.

Up to 9 a.m., today, only 432 had subscribed for the $10 season ticket, leaving the school shy of the 1970 figure by about 350.

Starting Monday morning, the tickets will be made available to the fans on a first-come, first-served basis. Patrons can buy in person or by mail, so long as their requests are accompanied by $10 cash, money order or check.

Some choice locations in Section C, the center section in the West stands at Memorial Stadium, remain available. Orders for those are now being accepted and will be filled next week.

Only 21 days remain between now and the opening of the local football season. The Steers kick off against powerful Lubbock before returning home Aug. 30.

Browns Out To Break Slump Friday Night

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Friday night's contest between the Dallas Cowboys and Cleveland Browns is important to both teams—Dallas to see if it can keep its high scoring momentum going and the Browns to break a mild slump.

The two National Football Conference teams have never met in the preseason battles, and Dallas would just as soon forget some regular season games, since Cleveland holds a 14-6 edge.

The Pokes have lost to their foe 31-20 and 38-14 in Eastern Conference finals in 1968 and 1969, although they did win 6-2 against the Browns last season on their way to the Super bowl.

The Cowboys will juggle the line-up considerably for the nationally televised contest. They beat Los Angeles 45-21 and New Orleans 36-21 the past two weeks.

The road weary Browns lost to San Francisco and Los Angeles on the road. This will be the third road game this season.

Paid-Up Tourney Entries Can Practice Saturday

Golfers who register and pay entry fees for the 40th annual Big Spring Invitational Tournament can practice on the Country Club course anytime from Saturday on, pro C. G. Griffin has announced.

The big meet is scheduled Aug. 28-29 over 36 holes. Entry fee is $20 and includes admission to a Friday night barbecue and a Saturday night dance.

No medalist will be declared this year, since the championship flight will be open to anyone who cares to contest for the crown.

The course is playing longer due to the recent rains and should be quite a challenge to the field. The grass has grown to the extent that mowing operations have had to be stepped up.

Last year, 126 registered for the tournament, which was held the first week in August, and the tournament committee would like to see that figure bettered this year.

David Price of Odessa is the defending champion. Last year's runnerup was Duncan Boyer of Abilene.

Don Lovelady, the Big Spring captain for the Aug. 27 First National Bank cup matches, was due to announce the makeup of his ten-man team sometime today. Mike Walling of Fort Stockton, the visiting captain, was to complete his team later this week.

The cup matches begin at 2 p.m., the day preceding the tournament itself.

Bill Casper Eyes Links Comeback

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I'm not worrying about defending the championship. I feel fortunate to make the cut every week what with shooting 73s and 74s," said Billy Casper. The 40-year-old Casper was among 147 golfers who started the first round today in Industrial Valley Bank's $150,000 Philadelphia Golf Classic. Casper won the $30,000 first prize last year with a 72-hole total of 14-under-par 274 over the Whitemarsh Valley County Club course. Casper is locked in the longest slump of his 16-year professional golf career. He started 1971 strong, finishing second in three of the first seven tournaments and earning $60,000. In the last nine he has picked up a little over $15,000 and suffered the ignominy of missing the cut in the U.S. Open. The 5-foot-11 Casper hasn't won a tournament this year, a sad state for a guy who has been a multiple winner on the tour for eight consecutive years. In 1970 he won four times. In the spring, Casper had an excuse. He suffered a hip and back trouble for about four or five weeks. Since the middle of May, however, he has been healthy. What then is wrong with one of the game's greats? "I don't know what the trouble is," Casper said Wednesday before going out for a practice round on the 6,708-yard par-72 Whitemarsh course. "Periodically you hit things like this. It's all part of growth," he observed. "But this is the longest slump I've been in." Casper feels his record of winning at least one tournament every year since 1956 is in jeopardy if he doesn't snap out of the slump soon.

Blomberg Following Bobby Murcer Trail

By The Associated Press
Once upon a time, the New York Yankees had a left-hander hitting outfielder with a world of talent. They scrupulously protected the young man and one day he grew up to be Bobby Murcer, bona fide star. Shortly after Murcer won his spurs as a full time player, the Yankees promoted another promising left-handed hitting outfielder. They're feeding him the same diet of right-handers only and one of these days, Ron Blomberg might grow up to be another Bobby Murcer. Blomberg ripped a two-run double Wednesday night that gave the Yankees a 3-1 victory over Kansas City and lifted his batting average to .347 in 41 games since being brought up from Syracuse of the International League. Elsewhere in the American League Wednesday, Washington walloped Oakland 10-3, Chicago trimmed Detroit 4-2, Baltimore tripped Milwaukee 6-4, Boston edged California 4-3 and Minnesota tripped Cleveland 4-2. In the National League, Pittsburgh edged Houston 3-2, Chicago rapped Atlanta 7-2, Cincinnati blanked St. Louis 5-0, San Francisco shut out Philadelphia 7-0, Montreal topped San Diego 4-3 and New York nipped Los Angeles 3-2 in 10 innings.

Local Bass Club Slates Tournament This Week

The Big Spring Bass Club is staging a two-day inter-club tournament at Hubbard Lake Saturday and Sunday. A registration booth will be set up at the Peeier Park boat ramp. Entry fee is $5 for the two days, $3 if the entry wishes to compete Sunday only. Deadline for weigh-in is 3 p.m. Sunday. A trophy and prize goes to the largest fish captured and weighed. Merchandise awards will be presented to second, third and fourth place winners. Memberships in the club are still being accepted. The organization picked up four new members at its last business session, bringing its membership to 82. A film, "Worm Fishing at Toledo Bend," was presented at the last club meeting. Plans for an invitational tournament were discussed but shelved due to conflicting dates offered by another club. The local bass club is now officially recognized by the Texas Bass Club Association, which now embraces 102 clubs throughout the state. Local members who have not yet obtained them can contact either Jerry Avery or Ted Hicks.

Downgraded Stellar Backfield To Spur Bulldogs

COAHOMA — If his line can come along to expectations, coach Bernie Hagins reasons his Coahoma High School Bulldogs will make the opposition sit up and take notice this fall. The Big Red has an abundance of good backs. Roland (Snickel) Beal and Troy Kerby will share quarterbacking duties. Both are juniors and both clocked experience last year, Coahoma's first in Class AA ball. Beal is 6-1 and will weigh more than 175 pounds. Kerby is three inches shorter and comes in at 160 pounds. To go along with those two, Hagins can call upon such boys as fullbacks Donnie Buchanan, 188, and Freddy Franklin, 165; and halfbacks Wendell Walker, 160; Keith Pherigo, 165; Lynn Ashley, 160; Ben Herrera, 145; and Tim Tindol, 160. Coahoma has been downgraded in District 5-AA by some observers, well back of such powerhouses as Ozona and Crane. However, the fans in Coahoma aren't selling the Bulldogs short. With a little luck, the Big Red could have won it all last year and the football buffs here reason that the added experience the Bulldogs got will make them that much tougher the second time around. Coahoma's schedule: Sept. 10 — at Sonora; Sept. 17 — at Colorado City; Sept. 24 — at Roton; Oct. 1 — Hamilton here; Oct. 8 — Ranger here; Oct. 15 — Stanton here (C); Oct. 22 — Stanton here (C); Oct. 29 — at Ozona (C); Nov. 5 — Big Lake here (C); Nov. 12 — Crane here (C); (C) — denotes conference games. Coahoma's first eight games start at 8 p.m. The last two will be 7:30 p.m.

Shoes Issued To 85 Boys

Big Spring High School football coaches issued 85 pairs of shoes to prospective gridlers Wednesday and were due to hand out another 16 pairs before the week is out. Those went to athletes in the top three grades. The freshmen draw their equipment later. Those boys who did not take their physical examinations last week report to the school gymnasium at 1:30 p.m. today. An estimated 30 boys are in that group. The Steers launch workouts in shorts Monday and will draw heavier equipment a week from tomorrow for the season that formally begins Sept. 10. The Steers will work out twice daily once the drills get under way. The Steers scrimmage Sweetwater here Friday, Sept. 3, with JV units clashing about 5 p.m., and the regulars coming on about two hours later.

Gymnastics Clinic Slated Aug. 25

ODESSA — A one-day gymnastics clinic for women, open to all interested girls, will be conducted in the Permian High School gymnasium here Aug. 25. The program begins at 8:30 a.m., with instruction in the low intermediate level and proceeds to judging points and questions at 10:30 a.m., girl student gymnasts at 1 p.m., and low intermediate level at 2:30 p.m., and again at 3:30 p.m.

Terry's Texas Rangers

The Union troops who met them in battle described their fighting style as "Texmanship"—a daring and oft-times winning combination of bravery and bravado. Tall Texan commander Colonel Benjamin Franklin Terry formed his 1200 volunteers into mounted rangers and took the Wild West east to fight the Civil War. Riding under the self-styled title of Terry's Rangers, their firepower was exceeded only by their self-confidence. Read about the legendary exploits of this crack regiment in the Texas Star magazine this Sunday, August 22. Six-Cent Tax Hike Needed

DALLAS (AP) — A six-cent tax hike is needed by the Dallas School District to implement the court-ordered desegregation plan, Supt. Nolen Estes told the school board plan.

The increase from $1.39 to $1.45 per $100 valuation at 54 cent market value, would raise $2.3 million, Estes said.

The $2.3 million supplemental budget will raise the district's total 1971-72 school budget for maintenance and operation to $108.3 million or some $10 million above last year's budget.

The board's original $106 million budget presented at a July public hearing would not have required a tax increase because of an $8 million surplus in the present budget.

County Nixes Landfill Site, Quotes Pollution Worries

County dads refused approval Wednesday of the proposed city sanitary landfill north of Big Spring on the Bolinger property. County commissioners did propose an alternate site east of town.

"I object to the site on North Birdwell Lane because it is too close to the city limits, and it will pollute the underground water supply out there," said County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

"I live in Sand Springs, and we get our water from out there, and I don't want it polluted. I think it would be unfair to the taxpayers to place the landfill there," said Commissioner Bill Bennett.

County commissioners announced their decision after touring the proposed site Wednesday with Roy Crim, consulting engineer on the project; Roy Anderson, acting city manager, and Jack Watkins, city commissioner.

Commissioners proposed a site approximately 1 1/2 miles from the Howard County Airport east of Big Spring. Anderson said that the city would study the new site and meet with the court again on the matter.

In other action during special session Wednesday, commissioners discussed two plans with the Airport Committee and Bill McClendon, Big Spring Aircraft Inc., for the construction of a $15,000 maintenance hangar at Howard County Airport.

McClendon proposed that Big Spring Aircraft would pay for the building if the county would prepare the site and furnish the foundation and the plumbing. According to McClendon, the building would belong to the county, and Big Spring Aircraft would request that the monthly rent charged the corporation for use of county facilities be reduced $200 per month until the new hangar was paid for.

Clyde McMahon, member of the Airport Committee, told the court that the foundation for the hangar would cost approximately $3,500 to $3,600. No estimate on cost of plumbing and utilities was given.

Commissioners proposed that the county construct the building out of the $18,000 appropriated for airport improvement, and that Big Spring Aircraft pay the county a total of $600 per month rent until the building is paid for instead of the current $400.

McClendon said that he would need time to learn how much the county's plan would cost his corporation before deciding. McClendon and members of the committee will meet at 10:30 a.m. Monday with the commission.

If constructed, the hangar will be due north of the Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. hangar.

Rummage Sale Set For Weekend

A rummage sale with proceeds going to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and to the Christmas Package for the Big Spring State Hospital will be sponsored this weekend by the Far West Club of the Telephone Pioneers of America.

C. G. Cooper, president, said the sale will be from noon until 7 p.m. Friday, 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and noon until closing Sunday at 217 Main, a site furnished by Elmo Wasson.

LAST DAY Enrollment Is On Tap For Friday

Students in the Big Spring Independent School District are to complete enrollment procedures Friday.

Parents of children who attended elementary school in Big Spring last year should go to the school and sign the age grade record card Friday, according to Supt. S. M. Anderson.

Any elementary age child who has not been enrolled should be enrolled Friday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Secondary students in Runnels and Goliad are to meet in the gyms for orientation — seventh graders at 9:30 a.m. Friday and eighth graders at 1:30 p.m.

Freshmen are to assemble in the Big Spring High School auditorium at 9 a.m. Friday for orientation and to pick up class schedules.

Sophomores, juniors and seniors can pick up schedules between 1:30 and 5 p.m. Friday at Entrance No. 3 (main entrance) at the high school.

Head Start registration will be held at the Head Start center Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., according to Keith Swim, director of federal programs.

At least one parent is requested to come with the child for the registration process at the old Kate Morrison Elementary School, Swim said. Age and family income eligibility requirements must be met.

Rains Soak Barbados

MIAMI (AP) — Torrential rains soaked Barbados early today, threatening the island with flash flooding as a tropical depression passed, the National Hurricane Center reported.

Air Force reconnaissance aircraft reported the center of the depression was close to the island of Martinique and moving west about 20 miles an hour.

It was centered about 1,300 miles southeast of Miami and 200 miles off the northwest coast of Venezuela.

The depression, still packing winds up to 40 miles an hour, will move through the Windward Islands today. Residents from the Grenadines north to Antigua have been alerted in case the system becomes stronger.

Tropical depressions sometimes become tropical storms.

The depression was near Latitude 14.0 North, Longitude 60.5 West, the center in Miami said.

Beautiful Campus If You're A Male

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — What is the most beautiful campus in the world? North Texas State University's if you're a male. Beauty has broken out all over. In the past year, the school has claimed the wearers of the Miss America, Miss Texas, Miss Dallas, Miss Denton, Miss White Settlement and Miss Tall Universe crowns.

Phyllis George, who won the Miss America crown last September as Texas' representative, was the start of it all. In her first try for the state crown as Miss Denton in 1969, Miss George was one of those favored to win. She wound up in third place.

Then in 1970, she entered the Miss Dallas competition at the last minute, because, she says, "I wanted the scholarship."

RAINDROPS FADE
She returned to the Fort Worth pageant with a more sophisticated hair-do and an original arrangement of "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head" and this time emerged with victory.

Atlantic City gossip tagged her a "shoo-in" from the time the 50 contestants arrived for the Miss America pageant. It might not have been quite that easy, but she did win the title.

When she goes back to New Jersey next month, Miss George is hoping she will wind up her reign by giving up her crown to another North Texas coed—and, incidentally, a sorority sister in Zeta Tau Alpha—Janice Bain, Miss Texas of 1971.

SAME SORORITY
Only once before in the 50-year history of the Miss America pageant have girls from the same state, same school and the same sorority won the title in consecutive years.

Mary Ann Mobley, Miss America of 1959, and Lynda Lee Mead, Miss America of 1960, both represented Mississippi, went to school at Ole Miss, and were members of Chi Omega.

Miss Bain's story parallels Miss George's in other ways. She was Miss Denton the first time she entered the state competition in 1970 and that time she was second runner-up to Miss George.

PRETTY TALL GIRL
At this year's pageant, Miss Bain, as Miss White Settlement, and Mae Beth Cormany, who was third runner-up last year, were considered the best bets to win. Miss Cormany was first runner-up to Miss Bain.

Denton's entry in the Miss Texas pageant this year was Jackie Barret, also a North Texas coed. She was among the 10 semi-finalists.

Ralph Kimmey, chairman of the local pageant, said that in his five-year association with the Miss Denton contest, all of the winners have been North Texas students.

The most beautiful tall girl in the universe is also a student at North Texas. Elaine McLendon added her name to the school's list of official beauties when she won the Miss Tall Universe crown in a Seattle contest in July.

The 5-11½ Miss McLendon entered the contest as Miss Tall Texas, a title she won last May in competition sponsored by the Tip Toppers Club of Dallas.

But the next time you're watching one of these competitions, if there is an entry from North Texas, don't make any bets against her.

Gov. Smith Likes 'School Freedom'
ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said Wednesday he has "never subscribed to busing and I've never seen the necessity to have racial balancing" in the schools.

"I have always believed in freedom of choice in our schools," he said.

Smith made the statement when he was asked about court-ordered busing for a number of public schools in Texas.

Smith was here for the dedication of a pirate ship at the Seven Seas Amusement Park. Smith said it did not seem fair to have children bused across a city when schools are within a few blocks of their homes.

ATTENTION THIEVES!!!

FALL RIVER, Mass. (AP) — John C. Thomas, who says his used car office has been entered by burglars more than 20 times in four years, took an aid in the Fall River Herald News which said:

"Attention Thieves. You have stolen all my tolls; taken my checks, cashed two of them for $1,250; taken my electric drill; two cars, one of which you wrecked, the other was never found.

"You have my office air-conditioner, not to mention carburetors, batteries, generators and other parts. So since you have all the protection and I have none, I will leave the office door unlocked. There is nothing left; you have it all."

Lazy Summer Haze Lingers

By The Associated Press

A lazy summer haze will linger over Texas today and dominate the weather pattern except for a few showers slated for the Upper Coast.

Early morning skies were clear to partly cloudy and pre-dawn temperatures ranged from the mid 60s in the Panhandle to the mid 70s along the gulf coastal areas.

Afternoon thermometers should climb into the upper 90s in the western portions of the state and the upper 80s in the north.

Thursday night the temperature should drop to the mid 60s again in the Panhandle to the 70s elsewhere.

Texas is under the grasp of a large ridge of high pressure extending to the mid Atlantic states, creating the summer weather.

BAD NEWS FOR TEACHERS, POLICE

Millions Of Government Workers Caught In Pay Web

WASHINGTON (AP) — Millions of state and local government workers have been told their raises guaranteed by contract are caught in the web of the President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze.

The new Cost of Living Council, created by the White House to write economic guidelines, said government employees at all levels are "subject to the freeze just as are all wages in private industry."

STAGE 'BLUEOUTS'

Teachers, police and firemen, thousands of whom walked picket lines or staged "blueouts" to win fatter pay checks, were told Wednesday they won't get them right away unless the contract period started before Aug. 15.

The same holds true, the council said, for federal government workers.

Although Nixon announced Sunday he intends to delay federal pay raises six months, Chairman Thaddeus J. Dulski of the House Post Office Committee said he will meet with federal officials to determine if that can be done legally.

The New York Democrat conceded, however that the bill providing raises next Jan. 1 and a year later also authorizes the President to freeze federal wages in a national emergency or economic crisis.

Meanwhile, high-level conferences were called today in Washington and foreign capitals to wrestle with details and consequences of the U.S. economic bombshell.

10-PER-CENT DUTY

The AFL-CIO's executive council, representing 13.6 million workers, was invited to the White House to throw expectedly hostile questions to three presidential advisers: George P. Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget; Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson and J. Curtis Counts, director of the Federal Mediation Service.

In Ottawa, Canada's Cabinet designated Finance Minister E. J. Benson and Trade Minister Jean Luc Pepin to meet in Washington with Treasury Secretary John B. Connally in an attempt to get an exemption from the new 10-per-cent duty surcharge.

In Brussels, Common Market ministers expected to receive contrasting plans by France and Germany on how to deal with U.S. dollars divorced from gold.

Paris has proposed a two-tier market in dollars, with one rate

'Tex' Washed Blood From His Hands?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linda Kasabian, on the witness stand for 18 days during the Sharon Tate murder trial, has completed her testimony after two days in the trial of Charles "Tex" Watson, also charged in the killings.

Mrs. Kasabian, granted immunity from prosecution in exchange for her testimony, told the Superior Court jury Watson led the group of Charles Manson followers who murdered the actress and six others on two nights in August 1969.

And, she said, Watson, 25, used a garden hose to wash blood from his hands after the bizarre slayings at the Tate home in Benedict Canyon.

A man who lives a mile from the house where Miss Tate and four visitors to the house were slain testified Wednesday he saw persons moving about outside his house the night of the killings.

BRIDGES REJECTS PLEA TO END DOCK STRIKE — Union leader Harry Bridges had a big smile for newsmen as he faced a battery of microphones in San Francisco at a news conference at which he rejected the government's plea to end the West Coast dock strike. The leader of the International Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union condemned President Nixon's wage-price freeze, claiming "it favors the rich, creates a new tax bonanza for U.S. corporations, allows interest rates to run scot-free and hurts millions of American workers and small businessmen."

CLEANING UP THE FAMILY NAME — Dr. Samuel Mudd, the man who set John Wilkes Booth's broken leg only hours after he had shot and killed President Lincoln, was tried and convicted of conspiracy in that incident by a military court 106 years ago. His descendants now have petitioned for a new trial, based on the fact that the military tribunal set up in 1865 had no jurisdiction.

She Finds Time For Canning In Hubbub Of Changing Homes

By BARBARA LORD

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Eggleston moved into their new home at 1505 Hilltop about two weeks ago, and it hardly interrupted her schedule at all. Their home is already as organized and settled as most are several months after a move.

Mrs. Eggleston hasn't spent all of the time unpacking boxes, cleaning cabinets and arranging furniture. In between all this, she canned fruits and vegetables to put up for winter use, and she has made a list of planned improvements to their new home. At the rate she works, it won't be long before the work is completed.

"I'm convinced that if I really set my mind to anything, I can do it," said Mrs. Eggleston. "With Mike's irregular schedule I have learned to do a lot of things for myself that I used to rely on him for, and I've found that I can make a lot of minor repairs around the house that I never thought I could do."

Eggleston is a driver for the B. L. Eggleston Cattle Company which his father owns. He travels a lot in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma and it's not unusual for Mrs. Eggleston to hop in the truck and go with him.

She loves to travel and finds new places and new people fascinating. She enjoys watching and studying people and claims this as her main hobby. She thinks it's fun to watch people and wonder where they're from and what they do, although most of her speculation goes unverified.

Mrs. Eggleston has decorated her home in an Early American decor with a personal touch that makes it "homey" and comfortable. She likes to rearrange furniture and thinks a home should be a place that expresses the personalities of its owners.

Several items of furniture in the Eggleston home have been antiqued by her, and she thinks anything with a personal touch adds a feeling of warmth to a room. Her primary project now is to antique the kitchen cabinets.

Mrs. Eggleston's kitchen is the site of a wide variety of cooking and baking creations. They both like all types of food, and her foreign foods cookbook is her favorite. Except for desserts and foreign dishes, she seldom uses a cookbook.

"I love to cook and I hate having to watch calories," said Mrs. Eggleston. "I think making desserts is thoroughly enjoyable, but we have to be careful about how many we eat."

On evenings when her husband has to work late, Mrs.

Eggleston fixes what she calls "hobo meals". They usually consist of beans and corn bread, or something else that is relatively simple and fast to prepare.

"Mike is like most men when it comes to food," she said. "If he doesn't like something, he'll tell me about it. So if he doesn't say anything, I figure he likes it."

In addition to antiquing and cooking, Mrs. Eggleston has several hobbies to fill the hours when she doesn't accompany her husband on his trips. She has made several pictures out of pebbles and cut glass. She does designs in yarn and also crochets. As vice president of the Howard County Young Homemakers, Mrs. Eggleston said she gets ideas for many projects from other members, and she feels the club is a good opportunity to exchange ideas and experiences.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES Mrs. Mike Eggleston

- JUBILEE JUMBLES
- 1/2 cup soft shortening
 - 1 cup brown sugar, packed
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 2 eggs
 - 1 cup evaporated milk
 - 1 tsp. vanilla
 - 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
 - 1/2 tsp. soda
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - 1 cup chopped nuts
 - Cherry halves
- Mix shortening, sugars and eggs. Stir in milk and vanilla. Sift together flour, soda and salt, and add to previous mixture. Blend in nuts. Chill one hour. Drop rounded tablespoonfuls on a greased baking sheet two inches apart. Bake at 375 degrees for 10 minutes, until lightly browned. While warm, top with cherry halves.
- HAWAIIAN DELIGHT
- 1 pkg. orange gelatin
 - 3/4 cup hot water
 - 1 can orange concentrate
 - 1 box dessert topping mix
 - 1 can Mandarin oranges, halved
 - 1 small can crushed pineapple, undrained
 - 1/2 cup miniature marshmallows
 - 1/2 box coconut
- Dissolve gelatin in hot water and add orange concentrate. Chill until almost set. Prepare dessert topping mix according to package directions, and fold into gelatin mixture. Fold in remaining ingredients. Serves 8.
- STUFFED CABBAGE ROLLS
- 4 to six cabbage leaves
 - 1 cup hot water
 - 1 lb. ground meat
 - 1/4 cup uncooked rice
 - 1/4 cup butter
 - 1 small can tomato sauce
 - 2 tps. salt
 - 1 tsp. pepper
 - 1 tsp. cinnamon (optional)
 - Mint leaves (optional)
 - 1 1/2-oz. can tomatoes
 - Juice of 1 lemon (optional)
- Wilt cabbage leaves in hot water and drain. Blend meat, rice, butter, tomato sauce, salt, pepper and cinnamon. Place two heaping tablespoonfuls of mixture into each cabbage leaf and roll firmly. Cover bottom of boiler pan with mint leaves. Place cabbage rolls close together in boiler. Cover with tomatoes and cook for 45 minutes. Add lemon juice, and cook another 15 or 20 minutes until rice is done. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

- TEXAS BROILER-BARBECUED CHICKEN
- 2 large or 3 small ready-to-cook fryers, cut up
 - 1 1/2 tps. salt
 - 3/4 tsp. pepper
 - 1/2 cup butter or margarine
 - 1/4 cup sugar
 - 2 tps. flour
 - 1/2 to 1 tsp. chili powder
 - 1/4 tsp. dry mustard
 - 1/2 cup vinegar
 - 2 tps. Worcestershire sauce
 - Dash tabasco
 - 3 tps. hot water
- Place chicken in casserole or roasting pan and sprinkle with one teaspoon of salt and 1/2 teaspoon of pepper. Cover and bake at 300 degrees for two hours until tender. Meanwhile, melt butter in a double boiler. Stir in sugar mixed with flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, chili powder, dry mustard and 1/4 teaspoon vinegar. Then add Worcestershire sauce, tabasco and hot water. Cook, stirring until thickened. Keep hot. Heat broiler. Place chicken on a broiler rack for about five minutes. Brush with sauce and broil two or three minutes more until glazed. Makes 8 servings.
- FRESH PEACH PIE
- Pastry for 9-inch double crust
 - 1 tsp. fine dry white bread crumbs
 - 2 to 2 1/2 lbs. juicy ripe peaches
 - 1 cup sugar
 - Dash of salt
 - 2 tps. flour
 - 4 drops almond extract
 - 2 tps. butter
- Roll out half of pastry and line a 9-inch pie pan, fitting it well into the angles. Trim pastry even with pan rim. Roll out remaining pastry for top, and cut designs in center for steam vents. Sprinkle bread crumbs over bottom of pastry-lined pan. Wash and pare peaches and cut in halves. Slice halves lengthwise into three or four pieces until you have a full quart. Blend sugar, salt and flour and sprinkle 1/4 of mixture over bread crumbs. Combine rest with peaches, sprinkle with almond extract and mix gently. Turn into pie pan and spread until moderately compact. Fruit should be slightly rounded in center. Dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust, and lay on top crust. Press gently around rim of pan to seal. Cut top pastry with scissors leaving 1/2 inch beyond pan rim, and turn overhang under edge of lower pastry so fold is even with rim of pan. Press gently and crimp with fork tines. Bake at 450 degrees for 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 325 degrees and bake 25 minutes longer or until well browned and juice bubbles through vents. Cool two or three hours before serving.

Attractive Salads

Garnishes add to the looks of salads. For vegetable salads, try pimiento or pepper strips, water cress, parsley or mint springs, carrot or celery curls. For fruit salads use cherries or bits of candied orange or grapefruit peel.

'Doctor Of Love' Will Be Paroled

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Dr. Bernard Finch, central figure in the sensational 1959 love triangle murder of his wife, will be released from prison although some parole board officials had reservations and voted to turn down his bid for freedom.

Finch, 53, will be released from the minimum security California Institute for Men at Chino Dec. 6. He has several job possibilities lined up in Missouri, Nebraska and Maryland as well as California, according to Henry Kerr, chairman of the California Adult Authority.

Finch's onetime sweetheart, Carole Tregoff, who was convicted with him, was paroled earlier.

The physician, convicted in 1961 and sentenced to life in prison, has served 12 years including pretrial confinement. In California, a convict serving life can be considered for parole after seven years.

a neighbor's lawn in the Los Angeles suburb of West Covina. Mrs. Finch, 36, an attractive socialite, had been shot and her skull fractured.

Finch was convicted of first-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder after three trials. Miss Tregoff, then 22, was convicted of second-degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder. She was paroled in 1969 and works in the medical records section of the Intercommunity Hospital in Covina under an assumed name.

MADE HEADLINES

Throughout the headline-making trials, Finch and Miss Tregoff contended Mrs. Finch was shot accidentally while she and the doctor struggled for a gun. But Deputy Dist. Atty. Fred Winchello insisted to the jury that the lovers wanted Finch's wife "out of the way" so they could have all of $750,000 in community property Mrs. Finch had outlined in a divorce suit.

VERY GRATEFUL

At Chino, near Los Angeles, institution superintendent Bertram Griggs told Finch the news and said, "I thought he would cry. He was very elated, very grateful... I got no feeling that he is a bitter man by any means... His happiness sort of radiated on his face."

Finch then 41, was arrested at the Las Vegas apartment of Miss Tregoff on July 19, 1959, the night after a policeman found the body of Barbara Finch lying in the moonlight on Whether Finch's medical license, revoked in 1964, will be reinstated is up to authorities in the state where Finch settles, Kerr added.

RENTS QUIZ

'Red Hot' Freeze Answers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Office of Emergency Preparedness has issued a partial list of official answers to questions it has received on the wage, price and rent freeze.

Here they are:

Q. Are apartment rents included in the freeze?
 A. Yes.

Q. Are prices of used commodities, such as used cars, antiques, and resale of housing included in the freeze?
 A. Yes.

Q. Are fees for professional services such as doctors and lawyers included?
 A. Yes. No increase in rates or fees for particular services are permitted during the freeze.

Q. How does the freeze affect people who work on commission or piece rate?
 A. Yes.

Q. Are rates charged by common carriers and public utilities included in the freeze?
 A. Yes.

Q. Are wholesale and retail prices included in the freeze?
 A. Yes.

Q. Are stock and bond prices and interest rates included in the freeze?
 A. No.

Q. Are price increases that have already been announced to take effect in the future subject to the freeze?
 A. Yes, all price increases must be controlled.

Q. Are deferred wage or salary increases which have been negotiated to take effect in the future permitted by the freeze?
 A. No.

Q. Are future cost-of-living increases built into wage contracts or provided by management exempt?
 A. No. There will be no cost-of-living increases during the 90-day freeze.

Q. Are increases in pensions permitted to take effect?
 A. Yes, these are not payments for services rendered.

Q. Are previously announced increased tuition rates for the 1971-72 school permitted by the freeze?
 A. Yes. These are considered transaction prices, since commitments have been made and there are number of cases where payments have been made.

Q. If farm prices of "raw agricultural products" are exempt, does this exemption of raw products follow through to retail?
 A. Yes.

Q. At what point do controls apply to agricultural products?
 A. At the point of initial processing.

Q. Are state and local tax rates frozen during this period?
 A. No.

Q. What effect does the executive order have on cost-of-living increases ordered by a municipal government and to become effective subsequent to the date of the executive order?
 A. State and local governments are not subject to this executive order. The President feels that he will have the support of state and local officials in pursuing national objectives.

EXCISE 'BITE'

Q. In cases where surcharges or other sales or excise taxes have been increased, is the ceiling for the price paid by the customer including these taxes raised by a like amount?
 A. Yes. The price the customer pays is equal to the base, which remains unchanged during the ceiling, plus these taxes.

Q. Are wage increases under apprenticeship contracts approved by the Department of Labor frozen?
 A. Such increases may be permitted only in accordance with the terms of the apprenticeship agreement up to and including the top step of the agreement. Increases beyond that step are prohibited under the freeze.

East, holding 10 tricks and four defensive winners, opened with a game forcing bid of two diamonds in today's hand. South expected considerable competition on the deal, so he merely overcalled with two spades. West passed, having been relieved of the obligation to keep the bidding open, and North raised his partner to three spades. East now showed his second suit by bidding four hearts and South carried on to game in spades.

West's hand presented some attractive distributional features including five card length in his partner's secondary suit, so he freely bid five hearts. North persisted to five spades which East doubled, although his defensive features were not that imposing due to the complete concentration of high cards in only two suits. It would have been better strategy on his part to make a forcing pass and leave the final decision to West.

West was reluctant to defend on the deal due to the fact that he was long in both of his partner's suits and it appeared that a profit on defense would be negligible at best. He accordingly pulled the double by bidding six diamonds. His purpose in raising East's first suit was to alert the latter to the fact that West held length in both red suits.

South now bid six spades which was passed back to East. It is highly questionable that he should still choose to defend on the deal, particularly in the light of West's warning. It should not have been hard to visualize that the opponents had both black suits and that their holdings were apt to be highly distributional so that defensive tricks would be scarce. A bid of seven hearts would merely be taking out insurance on the deal. Observe that if South defends, he must open the ace of clubs to set the contract one trick. If he tries to cash the ace of spades first, East ruffs in his hand, draws trump and sluffs West's losing club on a long diamond.

East chose to double six spades and the fate of the deal now hinged on West's choice of a lead. After a momentary consideration, he opened the three of diamonds, from his shorter suit. South ruffed, drew trump with three pulls and cashed five rounds of clubs—sluffing one heart from the dummy. A heart trick was conceded to the opposition and declarer chalked up a doubled slam for a substantial profit on the deal.

West was admittedly confronted with a guess and it was unfortunate that South happened to be void in diamonds. Had West paused to consider the evidence a moment longer, he would have realized that East must have more diamonds than hearts because he bid diamonds first. If he has five diamonds and four hearts, then the partnership holds nine cards in each suit. However, if East has six diamonds then the chances become greater that one of the opponents may be void in that suit. East's willingness to play six diamonds suggests that there may be a greater disparity in length between his two suits than the bidding had previously suggested.

Although the evidence is by no means conclusive, West perhaps should have been more inclined to lead a heart. Had he done so, his side would have cashed the first two tricks.

Don't Pry

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Our son (I'll call him "Rick") is in high school. Rick and a classmate are best friends. This friend has always been extremely courteous and seemed to be a model lad in every respect. My husband and I were pleased that Rick had chosen a boy of such fine character to pal around with.

Rick's friend went away for a vacation and yesterday Rick received a letter from him. While straightening Rick's room I saw the letter lying on his desk. Without meaning to pry, and because I had a genuine interest in knowing how the friend was getting along, I read the letter and now I wish I hadn't.

Such foul language! I was shocked and revolted. I actually felt contaminated. Could this be the same young man I knew and admired? Is this the language he and our son use together? Why do young people feel they have to use dirty words to express themselves?

How do I handle this situation? RICK'S MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: What's to handle? The offensive language was not intended for your eyes. Young people (and some older ones) talk "dirty" because it makes them feel unrestricted and "grown up."

Say nothing to your son about it. And in the future, Mother, if you want to know how any of Rick's friends are getting along, ask Rick.

DEAR ABBY: Would you believe that my wife got an overdraft notice from the bank informing her that she as $17.88 overdrawn in her checking account, so she sat down and wrote out a CHECK for $17.88 to cover it and mailed it to the bank?

LOVE HER ANYWAY

DEAR LOVE: With some of the mail I get, I can believe anything.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "INDEPENDENT WIDOW" whose big beef was a "stupid" waitress who ask two women who are traveling together. "Separate checks?" The waitress should know that under the circumstances each lady pays her own way, so why embarrass them by asking?

Look lad, I've been slinging hash for 17 years, and I'm still not able to read minds.

How am I supposed to know if you are "traveling together"?

For all I know, you could be sisters

How would YOU like to wait tables when it's 102 degrees outside and the air conditioner breaks down, the bus boy doesn't show up, the new girl is crying in the back because some creep chewed her out because he found a piece of tin foil in his baked potato, people are waiting at the cash register, and to top it all, two little old ladies tell you they wanted separate checks after you already put everything on one?

I say, "Ask and you shall receive."

DEAD TIRED AT BIG DADDY'S

DEAR ABBY: You answered an inquiry of stating, — in spite of all the women's "libbing it up" it's still a man's world.

I maintain that just the opposite is true, and here's proof: When a Man is born, everyone asks, "How is the mother?"

When a Man marries, they ask, "How did the bride look?"

And When a Man dies, they ask, "How much money did he leave her?"

A Child's Cold

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband and I have a running argument about colds. I realize there is scientific evidence that chilling or getting wet does not cause one to "catch cold," and that colds actually are caught from germs passed from person to person.

However, when one of our children has caught cold, and then is feeling better and I send him to school, I usually ask the teacher to excuse him from gym and recess.

My husband says this is nonsense. Who is right?

Some mothers ask that the children not be required to take showers after gym for the same reason. —J.M.T.

You're right in that germs, not the temperature or wetness of an individual, cause colds. Your husband's right when he says that too much coddling — no recess, no gym, no showers — after a cold is over is nonsense.

It is probable, although not provable, that severe chilling can impair our resistance to germs, but so can other things, such as loss of sleep, poor nutrition, or other such factors.

"Severe chilling" is not the same as going outdoors for a recess period.

Nor does gymnasium mean that anybody is going to catch a cold. As to taking a shower after gym, why should that be any more conducive to catching cold than taking a bath at home?

No, when a youngster has a cold, it's best to keep him at home, both for his own good and for the good of others (so he won't be passing his cold germs along to schoolmates).

But when he's well enough to go back to school (alert, active, no fever) there's no reason why he shouldn't have recess, gym, showers — just the regular school activities.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: How many times can a person catch the mumps? If you had them only on one side, can you catch them again? Two pediatricians have told me no, regardless of whether on one side or both. My husband says he was told by a military doctor that, if you have them only on one side, you can certainly get them again. Which is right? —Mrs. A.G.

The pediatricians know what they are talking about.

Mumps (and other diseases that provide immunity to future attacks) build up protection by creating antibodies in the blood.

Whether mumps makes you swell on only one side or both sides, your blood (including the antibodies) circulates throughout your entire body.

With most diseases, it is possible to have a second attack, but it is mighty rare. The immunity fades gradually; if, besides this, one is heavily exposed, then occasionally one can get the same disease again. But, as I said, that's very rare indeed.

When you have the mumps, you have the disease; whether you swell on one side or both or whether the disease affects the breast or the genitals has no bearing on future immunity.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching, and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald requesting a copy of his booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Garden Award Won By Mrs. G. T. Hall

The "Garden of the Month" award for August has been awarded to Mrs. G. T. Hall for her spacious lawn and gardens at 704 Texas.

The award is sponsored by the Pride People of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Hall's yard and gardens contain a multitude of trees, shrubs and plants.

"I like the varied colors of green that the different types of vegetation provide," said Mrs. Hall.

The grounds are bordered with brick walls and brick sidewalks that fit into a rustic harmony with the grounds.

The yard has a large number of trees, including loquat, yaupon, crab apple, summer cyprus, cherry laural and live oak.

"I make crab apple jelly when the apples are ripe," said Mrs. Hall.

"The lawn and gardens take constant care," she continued.

"I don't spend a lot of time working on any one thing, but there is almost always something that needs a little work. I don't use much fertilizer and I water thoroughly once a week."

Flowers abound during the spring, blending in with the shrubs and ivy-covered walls. "It is a very restful and quiet place to be," said Mrs. Hall.

MEMBERSHIP DINNER

PBX Operators, Guests Hear Bell Supervisor

Mrs. Nell Krehviel, customer instruction supervisor for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., was guest speaker for the PBX Club of Big Spring at its membership dinner Tuesday at Holiday Inn.

Mrs. Krehviel showed a film, "I'd Rather Like You, Mr. Bell," which featured Bob Newhart explaining correct telephone procedures.

Mrs. John Ray presided and announced that members had assisted at the concession stand during the Starlight Specials.

The Jerry Lewis Labor Day telethon to aid muscular dystrophy will be Sept. 5-6, and local PBX operators and volunteers will answer telephone inquiries during and after the televised show.

Mrs. John Rains, state PBX vice president, is organizing new clubs in Texas and will

Lions Auxiliary Has Swim Party

The Downtown Lions Auxiliary met for a swimming party Wednesday at the Carlton House, 2401 Marcy, with Mrs. C. R. Wiey and Mrs. B. M. Keese as hostesses. Mrs. Jimmy Holmes, president, presided at a short business meeting as members donated to the crippled children's fund. Guests were Mrs. Olton Jamison, Mrs. Joe English, Mrs. D. H. Havens and Mrs. Charles Havens.

Winners Named For Newcomers

Mrs. Scott Gordon won high score for Newcomers Bridge Club Wednesday morning at the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, while Mrs. Nancy Schulze was second. "Bridgo" was won by Mrs. Lyle Ratzel. The group will meet for lunch at noon, Sept. 7, the place to be announced.

'Friendship Night' Slated Saturday

The Laura B. Hart Chapter 1019, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a "Friendship Night" Saturday at the Masonic Hall, 21st and Lancaster. A salad supper will be served at 6:30 p.m., preceding the 8 p.m. meeting.

A LOVELIER YOU

Instant Nail Polish Requires No Drying

By MARY SUE MILLER. Did you ever dream of such a thing as instant nail polish? Well, in less than eight minutes you can now have beautifully polished nails with zero drying time, smudging or streaking.

Hydron, a miracle film, is responsible for the miracle. Pre-shaped and pre-cut, nail covers of this breathing film go on right over your nails. There's a choice of shades from natural pates to frosties and swingertips hot.

Application is real cinchy. All you do is lift off a nail cover from its sheet; holding it by the tab you then place the rounded end up to but not over the cuticle. You next press gently for smooth adhesion and, with an emery, trim off any excess at the nail tip. The flat end of an orangewood stick tidies sides if need be.

Advantages, other than speed, could prove the more desirable. For example, use helps to prevent chipping, splitting and peeling nails. A broken nail can be controlled until it grows out. Longer than accustomed lengths may be achieved thereby. Nails sensitive to enamel just may take to instant polishing.

How do you remove the stuff? Nail polish remover, of course. How are the nails prepared for use? Neat cuticles, tips filed as desired, a clean surface. Without any fuss, instant nail enamel can be replaced between manicures on one nail or all.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for "Lovelier Hands," a leaflet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish-chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

Party Honors Miss Phillips

Miss Nancy Phillips, who will be married to Robert Crenshaw Sept. 3, was complimented with a pre-nuptial shower Tuesday evening in the parlor of Wesley United Methodist Church.

Attired in a beige dress with smocking forming a wide band at the midriff, she was presented an orchid corsage. White carnation corsages were presented to the mothers, Mrs. Raymond Phillips and Mrs. James Crenshaw, as well as the bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Helen Faubion, and the bride-elect's grandmothers, Mrs. Melvin Choate and Mrs. H. O. Phillips, the latter of Stanton.

The 14 hostesses were Mrs. Caleb Hildebrand, Mrs. J. W. Bryant, Mrs. Elvin Bearden, Mrs. Neil Fryar, Mrs. Don Crockett, Mrs. C. W. Utley, Mrs. Morris Holmes, Mrs. T. C. Richardson, Mrs. Maurice Wright, Mrs. Thomas Macklin, Mrs. Cecil Stephens, Mrs. R. J. Alexander Sr., Mrs. Homer Thorpe and Mrs. Dean Forrest. The honoree's sister, Miss

Sherry Phillips, presided at the guest registry which held an orchid candle circled with flowers.

The refreshment table featured a floor-length, flounced nylon cloth, ruffled at the bottom. Appointments were crystal, and candies in crystal holders flanked an arrangement of white and orchid flowers.

Announce Marriage

The announcement is being made here of the Aug. 14 wedding of Miss Kathy Johnson and Jack D. Hopper, both of Big Spring. The couple was married in Las Vegas, Nev.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James L. Johnson Jr., 706 Birdwell Lane, and Hopper is the son of Mrs. Edna Hopper, 1507 E. 17th, and the late L. D. Hopper.

The couple is residing in the Silver Heels Addition. He is the owner of Jack Hopper Auto Sales, 500 E. 4th, and she is a teacher at Bauer Elementary School.

Rebekah Lodge Evaluates Work

A discussion of the Rebekahs secretaries and scribes state convention held at the Settles Hotel during the weekend was the predominant topic at the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge meeting Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. T. A. Melton was installed as a page for the state organization. More than 300 attended the convention which began with a salad supper Friday evening. The 1972 meeting will be held in Mineral Wells.

Mrs. A. R. Cadzow presided at the Tuesday meeting and announced that funds are needed for a new floor covering at the lodge hall. She also reported that a district meeting will be held at Odessa in October. The 27 members present reported 17 visits to the sick. The next meeting is at 8 p.m., Tuesday at the IOOF Hall.

Change Meeting

The TOPS Slender Benders meet Tuesday morning at Midway School with Mrs. E. A. Richters presiding. It was announced that Tuesday's meeting will be held at 4 p.m. at Rick's School Store.

Program Planned By Club Group

Members of the TOPS Pound Rebels will discuss aspects of TOPS Clubs on television at 6 p.m., Monday, it was announced Tuesday at a club meeting in the YMCA.

Mrs. Smiley Smith was crowned queen for July and received a silver bracelet charm. A silver pin was awarded to Mrs. Grady McCrary, runner-up.

SKINNY SPLIT

It's a fruit sundae with less calories. You make it with Foremost Big Dip, the ice milk that tastes like ice cream, looks like ice cream, but isn't so fat.

Simply take any three flavors (like strawberry, vanilla, and chocolate), add slices of fresh peaches, strawberries, and pineapple, and dig into your split. Your skinny split from Foremost.

Foremost. The Freshest.
