

ORDERS PAY BOOSTS FOR TEACHERS

Smith Defies 'Freeze'

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith responded to criticism from the White House today by saying he's been fighting inflation longer than President Nixon, whom he accused of dragging his feet.

The governor said he personally asked Nixon to invoke wage and price controls a year ago. Smith issued a new statement Thursday, that state employees and school teachers must receive scheduled pay raises in defiance of Nixon's wage-price freeze.

He instructed state agency heads to put the salary increases into effect Sept. 1 in open defiance of the freeze, as interpreted by Nixon's Cost of Living Council.

FEET FIRST

"Personally, I have felt all along that the Nixon administration has really dragged his (sic) feet on inflation. They should have taken this action (the wage-price freeze) long ago, years ago as a matter of fact, if they were really doing their jobs. I personally called on the president to invoke wage and price controls a full year ago," Smith said in a "special memo to newsmen."

Smith asserted he "acted long before Washington did to help Texas cure inflation."

"In January my office began putting on the pressure to cut our budgets and our state expenditures. We held the line. Later, I vetoed many bills, including a two-cent gasoline tax (increase), which would have cost all our citizens more from their family budgets. I also vetoed all the second-year appropriations bill (for the fiscal year starting Sept. 1, 1972) so that our legislature could take another look at it and reduce it to realistic proportions," he said.

Actually, Smith did not veto the gasoline tax, but merely threatened to. The legislature recalled the tax bill from his desk and removed the gasoline item.

Presidential press secretary Ronald Ziegler issued the administration's comment on Smith's defiance shortly after Nixon landed in Dallas Thursday to address the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"It appears that the governor of Texas, for motivations of which only he is aware, is seeking to single out a group of Texans for preferential treatment. We don't think any Texan wants that, particularly at a time when all the nation is banding together to defeat inflation and at a time when many Americans are being requested to make temporary sacrifices for the good of all," the White House statement said.

Smith said Nixon would "understand my motives if he should read the oath of office the governor of Texas takes on inauguration day. The oath is clear. The governor must uphold the laws and the Constitution of the State of Texas."

'Wait-See' Wage-Freeze Attitude Here

Big Spring teachers and school administrators are taking a "wait and see" attitude toward the wage freeze and its effect on teachers' pay.

"I don't know what will happen," said S. M. Anderson, school superintendent. "There have been no local raises, and we will just have to wait and see what the state decides to do. We have had no communication from them yet."

"The teacher salary increase is an experience increase. The pay base was set in 1969 and has not been changed," he said.

"The only change that we are acting on is the price freeze. We will keep the old cafeteria rates of 35 cents for elementary school children and 40 cents for secondary students. We hope the suppliers will also keep the old price schedule," said Anderson.

"The teachers I have talked to," said Ernie Boyd, president of the local unit of the Texas State Teachers Association, "all want the raise, but don't expect to get it right away and are not too upset about having to wait 90 days."

"We don't know what will happen," said Herb Johnson, president of the Classroom Teachers Association. "We don't expect to get the raise, but we will probably go along with whatever is decided. Most people are just confused about the whole program."

HAIR RAISING — The 120-year-old Indiana State Fair was in full swing in Indianapolis today as these two fair goers will testify on one of the "hair raising" rides on the Midway. The look of the Midway has changed as the old carnival look disappears and a Broadway atmosphere of talent and money has replaced it.

Life Sentence Of Calley Cut

FT. McPHERSON, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William L. Calley Jr.'s life sentence for the My Lai massacre was reduced to 20 years today by Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, commanding general of 3rd Army headquarters.

Connor is only the first reviewing officer in the Calley case.

The 28-year-old lieutenant who was convicted of 22 murders nearly five months ago, has been confined under guard to his quarters at Ft. Benning, Ga., pending his review.

The announcement was made by Maj. Herman Kassner, acting head of the public information office here, who said:

"Based upon the testimony and evidence presented at the trial, it was determined that the conviction was correct in law and fact and that the reduced sentence was appropriate for the offenses for which he was convicted."

"Gen. Connor took his action after consideration of all the evidence in the record of trial, after considering the advice and recommendation of his legal staff, and after considering matters in rebuttal by the defense."

Suit Charges Tax Inequity In Borden

GAIL — Six major oil companies have filed suit against Borden County asking that the county be restrained from preparing a tax roll and asking a re-evaluation program.

The suit was filed last week by Texaco Inc., Amoco Production Co., Union Oil Co. of California, Continental Oil Co., Mobil Oil Co. and American Petroleum Co. of Texas against the county, its equalization board (made up of county commissioners), and tax assessor-collector Norman Sneed.

A hearing has been set for 10 a.m. Thursday in Gail with 118th District Judge R. W. Caton sitting for 132nd District Judge Wayland Holt who has disqualified himself because he once served as Borden County attorney.

The oil companies allege that they're being assessed at 25 per cent of fair market value and that the landowners in Borden County are being assessed from 1 per cent to 7 1/2 per cent of fair market value.

County Judge Glenn Toombs said this morning that the oil companies had asked for an equalization board hearing which was refused. The companies asked that the county be re-evaluated. Judge Toombs said, and commissioners agreed, asking for a year in which to check land values.

"We do not feel we are excessive since 91 per cent of the land in the county is grassland," Judge Toombs said.

Americans' Living Costs Up Little Bit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rise in Americans' living costs slowed markedly in July to an increase of two-tenths of one per cent — the smallest hike in six months, the government reported today.

The report, covering a period before President Nixon froze all wages and most prices on Aug. 14, said a decline in prices of clothing and transportation partially offset continuing increases for food, housing, medical care and recreation.

The report was issued amid a revolt by organized labor which complained the freeze covers all wages but not all living costs.

PRICE INDEX

The July increase, only one-third the size of June's six-tenths boost, brought the government's consumer price index up to 121.8 of its 1967 base, meaning it cost $2.18 last month for every $10.00 worth of typical family purchases four years ago.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics also said average weekly earnings of some 45 million rank-and-file workers fell 35 cents to $127.22. This was still $5.77 per week above a year earlier, but after deduction for the year's rise in living costs was only worth 38 cents more.

However, the bureau said that, when the effects of both inflation and federal taxes were deducted, the average weekly take home pay was 49 cents less than a year ago.

AFL-CIO President George Meany and other top labor leaders have complained that workers suffered most from inflation and that the wage-price freeze would hurt them even more.

Living costs, the bureau's report said, were 4.4 per cent above a year ago, compared with a 5.5 per cent rise for calendar 1970 and 6.1 per cent the year before.

The bureau said grocery prices rose six-tenths of one per cent because of increases for pork, beef, fruit, vegetables, and sharp hikes for eggs, bakery and some dairy products.

Eggs and fresh fruits and vegetables are among items Nixon exempted from the price freeze both at the farm and supermarket levels.

Two 'Private Eyes' 'Bugged' Hunt Aides

DALLAS (AP) — Two private investigators were convicted Thursday by a federal jury of wiretapping the home telephones of four top aides of Dallas billionaire H. L. Hunt.

Jon Joseph Kelly, 27, and Patrick W. McCann, 23, both of Houston, were found guilty of four counts. The jury deliberated three and a half hours.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe E. Estes set Sept. 9 for sentencing. Maximum penalty would be a $10,000 fine and/or five years in prison on each count.

Three of the Hunt aides — Paul M. Rothermel Jr., his security chief; John W. Currington; and John H. Brown, sales manager for HLH Food Products Division — left Hunt's service in 1969. Their phones were tapped in January, 1970.

Brown testified that W. Herbert Hunt and Nelson Hunt, two sons by Hunt's first wife, combined with a nephew, Tom Hunt, to take control of the Hunt business operations early in 1969, shortly before Brown and the other two aides quit.

WILL A HELICOPTER DO? 'If I Had The Wings Of An Angel, Over...'

MEXICO CITY (AP) — One of the two prisoners who escaped from a Mexico City penitentiary in a helicopter flew to Sausalito, Calif., and the other is believed to have gone to Guatemala, the district attorney's office said today.

Joel David Kaplan, a 45-year-old U. S. citizen, and Carlos Antonio Contreras, a Venezuelan, escaped from the Santa Marta Acattilla Prison Wednesday at dusk in a helicopter rented from Natrola Service Inc. of Casper, Wyo., flown by Roger Guy Herschanner, 29, of Glendora, Calif., according to an announcement by the district attorney's office.

LONG GONE

After arriving in La Pesca, about 150 miles south of Brownsville, Tex., where the helicopter was found today, the pair took separate Cessna planes that had been rented in Phoenix, Ariz., to complete their escape from the country.

The district attorney's office said the helicopter left the McAllen, Tex., airport Tuesday, piloted by Herschanner who was issued a tourist card in Reynosa, Mexico.

At the Reynosa airport, Herschanner said he would like to visit Mexico City, but filed a flight plan to La Pesca, Tamaulipas.

Wednesday, according to the district attorney's reconstruction of the escape, Herschanner flew from Tamuin, San Luis Potosi, 70 miles west of Tampico, where he took on 300 liters of fuel, then to Pachuca, where he again refueled and from there to Actopan, Hidalgo, 100 miles north of the capital.

The helicopter landed in a Patio about dusk behind the dormitory where Contreras and Kaplan lived. They quickly boarded it and the aircraft returned to Actopan, the report said.

SENTENCED FOR MURDER

Kaplan, a New Yorker, was sentenced to 30 years in 1963 for the murder of Louis Melchior Vidal, also of New York. Contreras, who was his cellmate, was serving a sentence for fraud and robbery.

In Actopan the pair boarded a plane for the flight to La Pesca. The Cessna 210, piloted by Victory E. Stadler, left La Pesca for Brownsville and Sausalito with a passenger, apparently Kaplan, according to the report.

A similar plane, whose pilot was not identified, took off at about the same time and was believed to be headed for Guatemala with Contreras, the report continued.

The district attorney's office said Kaplan's conduct at the prison was good and that there had been no indication that he planned to escape.

The chief of security at the prison, Major Juan Tovia Martinez, his assistant, Andres Duenas Sosa, and five of his subordinates, including three guards who were on duty at the time of the escape, are under arrest for investigation of the incident, the district attorney's office said. The report added that those found responsible because of negligence or any other reason would receive "the strongest punishment."

South Viet Faces U.S. Aid Cut After Minh Withdraws

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam faced the threat today of a cut in U.S. aid because of the withdrawal of President Nguyen Van Thieu's only opponent in the presidential race.

The threat was underscored by Sen. Robert J. Dole, chairman of the Republican National Committee. He told reporters he had indicated to Thieu that there will be a critical reaction from Congress, which controls the purse strings.

The Kansas visited Thieu along with U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker a few hours after retired Gen. Duong Van Minh announced his withdrawal from the presidential race, leaving the president the only candidate.

Minh charged that Thieu was rigging the election, set for Oct. 3. He said the campaign was being turned into a "dirty-farce that can only make the people disbelieve in a democratic regime."

The U.S. Embassy expressed regret that Minh had withdrawn, adding, "Beyond that, we have no further comment." But unimpeachable sources said Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker had returned from Washington Thursday with a warning from President Nixon that it would be difficult to get Congress to approve more aid to the Saigon government if only one candidate is in the race.

The sources said Bunker conveyed this information to Thieu Thursday night and also to Minh in a futile, 11th-hour attempt to persuade the general to stay in the race.

Sources said the Nixon administration might elect to withhold or reduce portions of the aid program to forestall such a move by Congress. They suggested there might also be more pressure on Nixon to speed up the withdrawal of U.S. forces.

These threats might force Thieu to postpone or cancel the election, some sources said. But another said he thought this unlikely.

FINANCE DIRECTOR FIRST OBJECTIVE

Big Spring City Manager Named

Announcement of employment of a new city manager for Big Spring was made today by Mayor Arnold Marshall.

Harry W. Nagel Jr., 40, has accepted the position and officially will take over duties here Sept. 15. Nagel is coming here from Sulphur Springs, where he has been city manager since October, 1968. Prior to that, he was city manager at Uvalde from April, 1967, to September, 1968.

The city commission has conducted several interviews with Nagel and reached an agreement with him Thursday.

FINANCE POST

In an interview Thursday, Nagel said: "I will be stepping up from a smaller city position, and I am looking forward to coming to Big Spring and doing my best to fulfill the opportunities and challenges a new job presents."

Nagel said an immediate need is to fill the post of finance director. "Filling other positions will come later, but my main priority is on finance," he said. "I have a degree in accounting and in my past experience in city affairs I have been actively involved in the financial aspects."

Sulphur Springs has the same finance computer setup as is being incorporated here. Nagel said he is familiar with the system and what it can produce.

Nagel said he recognizes an adjustment is necessary in moving into a larger city, and will seek to establish departments under people who can direct them.

"I will have to strive toward delegating powers to the departmental supervisors and take a more administrative type role in this position."

"My primary job," he continued, "is to do the best job possible with the funds available." He said he plans to support existing programs and anticipates no major changes in over-all municipal government operation.

COOPERATION

Communication and cooperation among city, county and school phases of government is another area which the new manager will give top priority.

"I also will support fully public relations within city departments," he said. "All city employees are working for the citizens of the community and should strive to carry on good relations and in effect help "sell the city."

SEGUIN NATIVE

Nagel was born in Seguin and attended public school there. He graduated from Texas Lutheran College in Seguin in 1953 with a BBA degree in accounting.

He and his wife, Ruby, were married there in December, 1953, and they have three daughters, Laurie, 16, Donna, 14, and Lisa, 10.

After graduation from college, Nagel worked for seven years as a distribution department manager for United Gas Corporation, before going to Uvalde as city manager.

"RIGHT MAN"

The city commission has conducted a long search for an administrator to be the "right man," Marshall noted. Many applications were considered and a number of personal interviews conducted.

"It has been a slow process, slower than we would have liked, but we wanted to be very sure we had the right individual," said the mayor.

"It is with-pleasure that I announce the appointment of Mr. Nagel. The commission has worked very closely together in searching for and finding the man we think can fill the job."

'NOW, WE NEED HOT, DRY WEATHER'

Rain Has Benefitted Cotton

By STEVE HULTMAN
Area county agents agree that the 4-10 inches of rain received in the last month has been of untold benefit to cotton crops, but what is needed now is hot and dry weather.

"The rain came at a good time for the cotton farmer, but some problems are occurring with leaf diseases on the wet cotton," said Oliver West, Glasscock County agent.

"We have had enough wet weather," said Bobby Lemons, Mitchell County agent. "The cotton is about three weeks behind on setting fruit because of the cool, damp weather, and some of the early grain sorghum may be lost before the fields are dry enough for the farmers to get into."

Glasscock and Howard agents also reported the possibility of losing part of the grain crop because of wet fields.

"Boll weevils are building up to the third generation," said Lemons. "Some of the producers are preparing to do some control work."

Insect control is a tough proposition for farmers, according to Howard County agent Paul Gross. When harmful insects, such as the boll weevil are killed, the helpful insects are also killed. After control measures are taken, the harmful insects may build back up more rapidly than before control efforts were made.

Gross said, because the helpful insects are no longer there to help kill the harmful insects. Farmers generally avoid using pesticides on their crops unless the insect build-up is severe, Gross said. The only county that has reported insect problems severe enough to warrant control measures is Mitchell County.

Ranchers in the area are generally happy about the rains, with full stock tanks and good grass. But many of the ranchers sold considerable quantities of stock before the rains came and are understocked now. Replacement stock is scarce, and the prices high, J. W. Holmes, Borden County agent, said. It will be some time before the ranches are back to normal.

Labor Calls On Congress For 'Equitable Program'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring there are too many exemptions in President Nixon's wage-price-rent freeze, organized labor has revolted and asked Congress to impose more equitable controls.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, in a scorching attack on Nixon that was backed by most other labor leaders — the teamsters were a notable exception — said the freeze will halt all workers' wage hikes but won't halt inflation because not all prices are frozen.

"Eggs, fruits and vegetables — which every housewife must buy for her family — are exempt from the freeze. The 10 per cent border tax on imports will be passed on to the consumer," Meany said.

HIGH INTEREST
Interest rates, that affect living costs, and business profits are also exempt from the freeze, he complained.

The 77-year-old, cigar-chomping ex-plumber accused Nixon of deliberately misleading Americans about the gravity of economic problems, and called on Congress to kill Nixon's requested business tax credit, arguing it would enrich corporations without creating new jobs for the nation's 5.3 million unemployed.

Meany, backed by the full executive council of the 13.6-million-member labor federation, also said Congress should enact controls on profits and interest rates, expenses accounts, stocks and bonds and all other forms of income if the freeze remains on wages and prices.

Teamsters Union President Frank Fitzsimmons, representing 2 million workers in the nation's largest union, said teamsters will follow the President's requests.

BOLD MEASURE
Fitzsimmons also criticized the lack of controls on profits, dividends and interests but he praised the general action as "a bold measure to preserve the economy of this nation."

Meany said he doesn't believe Nixon plans to end the freeze at the end of 90 days in mid-November.

He urged unions to cancel any labor contracts under which scheduled wage hikes are frozen by Nixon's order, and to strike if necessary to win more wage increases to go into effect when the freeze is lifted.

Meany suggested unions might consider their contracts nullified by Nixon if "contractual provisions are impaired and members suffer losses."

Four Perish In Plane Fire

GEORGETOWN, Tex. (AP) — Four Austin residents died Wednesday night or early Thursday when a rented, single-engine plane crashed and burned half a mile south of the airport at this Central Texas town.

Three victims were identified as Roy Henderson, 26, an insurance agent who was thought to have been the pilot; Thomas Daniel Seay, 36, employed by a beer distributor; and Mrs. Bonnie Ruth Waggoner, 40, a secretary with the Highway Department.

Mary Jeanette Brodt, 23, a clerk with the Tourist Bureau at the State Capitol, was tentatively identified as the fourth fatality.

Airport Manager Jim Boutwell said the plane appeared to be on a final approach pattern when it crashed.

He said it appeared that as the plane crashed, it turned on its side, breaking the left wing and drenching the cockpit in fuel. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Just Not Fair To Dallas Mayor

DALLAS (AP) — While President Richard Nixon visited Dallas Thursday, Dallas Mayor Wes Wise was in Fairfield attending a fair.

Wise had invited Nixon to sit down and discuss school desegregation, revenue sharing and other current topics.

Nixon declined. Wise was not invited to attend Nixon's remarks at the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars here.

Former Republican Mayor Erik Jonsson and other prominent Dallas Republicans were among the few select party leaders invited.

GRACIE SLICK AT HOME — Grace Slick, the lead singer of the Jefferson Airplane, sits in her home near San Francisco with her baby, China, Grace, the anti-establishment girl, lives in the home with Paul Kantner, rhythm guitarist for the Airplane and father of her seven-month-old baby. Sen. Hall Giving Up Senate Seat To Run For Post AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Ralph Hall, Rockwall, has told the homefolks he definitely is giving up his Senate seat to run for lieutenant governor and will announce for that job in September.

Hall, 48, a Democrat personally handed Capitol newsmen copies of a statement which he said was being released in his nine-county Northeast Texas district.

He said his announcement "should be made first in my home district in order to clear the air regarding my statewide intentions, and at the same time to give those who desire to seek the seat in the 9th senatorial district ample time to initiate their campaigns."

"I would like to have awaited the drawing of the new senatorial district lines, but since the date for such completion—and even the method of drawing the lines—are presently in doubt and under attack, I feel that my plans should be clearly announced."

Suggestion Earns Money

The productive mind of a Webb sergeant recently made him $345 richer, when a suggestion he submitted was accepted by Air Training Command.

Sgt. Joseph Beckman, a jet mechanic, received the monetary award for suggesting the installation of rubber handles on J-55 maintenance stands. The handles will better personnel safety and lessen the chances of engine breakage.

The 21-year-old native of St. Louis, Mo., entered the Air Force in August, 1968, and came to Webb in 1969 following technical training at Chanute AFB, Ill., for jet engine mechanics. He will leave Webb soon for an assignment at March AFB, Calif.

Sgt. Beckman married the former Miss Dana Jones, from Kingsland, Tex. The couple has no children.

Worker Injured

Jimmy Johnson, Thrifty Lodge, was treated for minor injuries and released from Malone and Hogan Clinic Thursday following an accident at the Eagle Mobile Home Manufacturing plant at approximately 6:30 p.m. Authorities reported that a car had fallen on the worker.

Why Marry Father Of Her Child?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rock singer Grace Slick says she can think of no reason why she should marry Paul Kantner, father of her 7-month-old daughter China.

Mrs. Slick and Kantner are both members of the Jefferson Airplane rock group. She is in the process of divorcing her husband of 10 years, filmmaker Jerry Slick.

"Oh, there are two reasons for the marriage ceremony," she said. "One is religious, but I don't have any church."

"The other is the party. You get married and have a big party for your friends and everyone. My work is a party, so I don't need a wedding for more party. I have it every day."

When the baby was born Jan. 25, the couple named her "god—with a small g for humility," but Kantner later decided to call her China.

House Investigators Probing Reports Of GOP Skullduggery

AUSTIN (AP) — House investigators looking into the stock fraud scandal called a halt in their public hearings while they consider claims that some of them think originated from ambitious Republicans in Washington.

The five-member House General Investigating Committee recessed indefinitely Thursday after former State Atty. Gen. Wagoner Carr told them that he thought "this whole thing is nothing but a calloused, colossal, political hatchet job directed by the Republican administration in Washington."

high in political ambitions," said Carr, who succeeded Wilson as state attorney general. "The law has taken a back seat to politics when Will Wilson and his cohorts in Washington work out this smelly deal to parade Mr. Sharp around the state spouting nothing but innuendoes, hearsay and rumor."

Murray said that various committee members had recommended that U.S. Atty. Anthony J. P. Farris, and Singleton, both Houston Republicans, also be called and the action was being "considered."

Sharp testified Wednesday that he wanted the legislative bill passed so his Sharpstown State Bank could "get out from under the FDIC" by having deposits secured by state regulated non-profit corporations.

"All this gobbledygook about the bill supplanting or substituting for FDIC was not even considered at the time, nor was it intended," Carr testified Thursday.

perhaps weak bank depositor insurance concerns," Kimberlin said. "There are about 550 state banks in Texas that are not members of the Federal Reserve System. Under this bill they could cancel their FDIC insurance and take private insurance, and there would be no restraint on the amount of interest they could pay on savings accounts and certificates of deposit. This would also give them a clear competitive edge over state and national banks."

State Banking Commissioner Robert E. Stewart testified that he thought state banking officials and the FDIC could have salvaged Sharpstown State Bank if it had not been for the SEC suit. "The minute the suit was filed the depositors started a run on the bank and the bank could not liquidate its loans fast enough to pay the depositors and we had to close it," he said.

Clay Cotten, state insurance commissioner, said Rep. Tommy Shannon, Fort Worth, House sponsor of Sharp's bills, called him in October, 1970, and said Mutschers would like to see Cotten. Cotten went to Mutschers' office.

HE DID NOT
"He (Mutschers) said he had heard National Bankers Life had some problems . . . and he told me Mr. Sharp was a friend. He was interested in what the situation was in the company."

Cotten said he told Mutschers he had asked Sharp to resign as a director of NBL, but he thought the company could be saved.

Cotten was asked if Mutschers tried to get Cotten "to intercede for Mr. Sharp."
"No, he did not," Cotten replied.

Hoffa Bids For Parole

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Teamsters Union boss James R. Hoffa, his ties with the world's largest union severed, today makes his third bid for parole from federal prison.

The U.S. Board of Parole, which will hear Hoffa's case in executive session, last month moved the review ahead by nearly a year on the basis of undisclosed "new and substantial evidence" presented by his son.

When it denied Hoffa's last parole bid on March 31, the board had said it would not consider his case again until June of 1972.

Since then, however, Hoffa has resigned as president of the two million-member International Brotherhood of Teamsters and dropped his ties with the Michigan locals that provided his power base in the union.

In early July, as the Teamsters were electing a new president, the board said it would hear Hoffa's case ahead of schedule.

Hoffa is serving a 13-year term in the federal prison at Lewisburg, Pa., for mail fraud and jury tampering. He entered the prison in March, 1967.

Acting as Hoffa's lawyer will be his son, James P. Hoffa, a Detroit attorney for the Teamsters Union.

Parole Board Chairman George J. Reed said the younger Hoffa has not scheduled any witnesses to appear before the board on his father's behalf.

BANKING BILL

Carr said he made one appearance at the state Capitol in support of the bill, accompanied by John Osorio, former president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co., now in receivership, which was controlled by Sharp. At the time Carr and Osorio were law partners.

Osorio had been subpoenaed to appear before the House committee, but Murray said state officers had been unable to serve the subpoena. Osorio testified Wednesday before the federal grand jury in Houston. Murray said he would be called to appear at the committee's next meeting.

Sam Kimberlin Jr., executive vice president of the Texas Bankers Association, said his association did not oppose Sharp's banking deposit bill until after it was approved by the legislature and was on the governor's desk. Then the TBA asked Gov. Preston Smith to veto the bill which Smith did.

WRITING LETTER

"I'm writing a letter right away asking assistant U.S. Atty. Gen. Will Wilson when it will be convenient for him to appear before us within the next three weeks," said Rep. Menton Murray, Harlingen, chairman of the committee.

Wilson was state attorney general as a Democrat, then was appointed an assistant U.S. attorney general by President Nixon after switching to the Republican Party.

Wilson also was a former attorney for Houston millionaire real estate man and banker Frank W. Sharp, who is a central figure in the widespread, complicated investigation that began with a Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) civil suit filed last Jan. 18. It charges Sharp and 27 other individuals and firms with stock manipulation. The trial is set for Aug. 30 in Dallas.

Although not named as defendants, numerous high state officials and political figures were accused by the SEC as allegedly making quick stock market profits in exchange for help in getting two banking bills through the 1969 Legislature.

'HOME FREE'

Sharp was granted immunity from all federal and state courts by U.S. Dist. Judge John Singleton Jr. after Sharp pleaded guilty to dealing in unregistered securities and got a three-year probation sentence along with a $5,000 fine. Since then Sharp has been appearing almost daily before federal and state grand juries in Houston, Dallas and Austin.

Wednesday Sharp told the House investigating committee, in the first hearing open to the public, that he had a "tacit understanding" with House Speaker Gus Mutschers to finance a stock market venture, with borrowed money from Sharp's bank, in return for Mutschers' help in getting the legislature to pass two banking regulation bills wanted by Sharp.

KNEE HIGH

Sharp also mentioned half a dozen other state officials' names in connection with his effort to gain passage in 1969 of a measure that would let his Sharpstown State Bank, now defunct, operate with state deposit insurance instead of being regulated by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC).

Alleged Dope King Asks Sentence Be Set Aside

HOUSTON (AP) — Joseph Stassi Sr., alleged leader of a multi-million dollar dope smuggling ring, has asked that his 18-year prison sentence be set aside.

His attorneys filed a motion Thursday allegedly that the man who testified against Stassi traded Stassi's conviction for a light sentence for himself.

Stassi's lawyers introduced a notarized statement from an other prisoner in the Harris County jail at the same time with Milton Abramson.

In the statement notarized by his parole officer in Dekalb County, Ga., Allen Eli Wright said that Abramson testified against Stassi through fear of getting a "60 to 200 year sentence" himself. Abramson is serving a 14 year prison sentence.

Stassi was convicted in 1967 in the court of U. S. Dist. Judge Ben Connolly of conspiring to smuggle 22 pounds of heroin into the United States from Mexico. He has twice appealed his conviction to the U. S. Fifth Circuit of Appeals.

The circuit court found no error but sent the case back in 1969 to determine if electronic eavesdropping had been used to convict Stassi. Connolly ruled it had not.

Convicted Of Starving To Death Her Daughter

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Irene P. Martinez was convicted Thursday night of starving to death her 9-month-old daughter and a jury today was to determine the woman's fate.

Mrs. Martinez, 19, could receive anything from a two-year jail term to death.

The woman had testified the little girl, Yolanda, was the product of a rape which she said occurred before her marriage to a serviceman now serving in Vietnam.

Mrs. Martinez had testified she had left the baby with relatives during a period in which she was moving to a friend's home.

Prosecution testimony stated she had left the child alone for three days during which time, according to Dr. Ruben Santos, the child died a painful death of acute dehydration and starvation. Santos is the Bexar County medical examiner.

The state's first witness said Mrs. Martinez was watching television when she saw a news report of the child's death. The witness said the mother got up and switched channels.

Altho North's double of West's four spade opening bid is intended primarily for penalties, South is at liberty to bid himself if he has attractive distribution. Altho North has only a singleton club, his raise to six clubs is reasonable, for partner may be expected to have a good suit when he bids it at the five level. With North holding five spades himself, there is an excellent chance that South is void in that suit.

West opened the king of spades and declarer ruffed with the five of clubs. A diamond was led to test that suit and West's jack was covered by North's queen. The appearance of the missing honor cleared up any possi-ity of a potential loser in that suit and South was now ready to draw trump.

The ace of clubs was cashed and the closed hand was reentered by ruffing another spade with the nine of clubs. Declarer attempted to split out the trumps by cashing the club king and queen. If that suit divided evenly, he intended to cross over to the king and ace of diamonds to clear up the block in that suit, ruff a spade with his remaining trump and then take the last four tricks with the ten and eight of diamonds and dummy's high hearts.

When East discarded a heart on the third round of clubs, South's hopes were apparently dashed. It is now necessary to use up his last trump, the jack, to pull West's remaining trump, and with the diamond suit blocked, it appeared that there was no way to get back to the closed hand.

South had one string left in his bow, however. He drew the last trump, crossed over to the king of diamonds, cashed the ace and then led a heart away from the ace, king. East was obliged to put up the queen, but since he had only red cards left, there was no way that he could keep declarer from regaining the lead. East returned a heart, South won the trick with the jack and cashed the jack and eight of diamonds. His only loser was the queen of hearts.

Laird's Image Bruised By Connally's Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials deny defeat, but Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's image was bruised by his department's retreat in a wage-freeze skirmish with Treasury Secretary John B. Connally.

Laird has been rated a strongman in the Cabinet because of his many years as confidant and adviser to President Nixon, coupled with influence on Capitol Hill.

But Cabinet newcomer Connally won out in an open test, suggesting he may have more clout with the President in some respects.

The issue was whether the Pentagon could pay length-of-service salary increases to military men during Nixon's 90-day wage freeze.

ON VACATION
On Wednesday, Pentagon spokesman Jerry Friedheim said officers and enlisted men would get longevity boosts during the period, along with promotions, bonuses and other benefits normally due them.

Length-of-service steps are written into law, he noted. "The secretary of defense has the authority to run his department and this is our decision now," Friedheim said.

Although Laird was away on vacation, Pentagon sources said he knew of the position Friedheim would state to reporters.

Defense spokesmen declined to discuss what went on between officials of the Pentagon and the Cost of Living Council headed by Connally. But other sources acknowledged that neither Laird nor Deputy Secretary of Defense David Packard discussed the matter with Connally before Friedheim outlined the Pentagon position Wednesday.

GRAB HEADLINES
A Treasury official said "there was a breakdown" in communication.

But Packard did confer with Connally Wednesday night, officials said. By that time the Pentagon's claimed freeze exemption was all over the front pages and complaints were rising that the military shouldn't get special treatment.

Thursday morning, Connally jolted defense leaders with the flat assertion in a nationwide television interview that the Pentagon had made a mistake.

"I don't know by what authority they did it," Connally said of Pentagon officials. "I assure you that action had not been either considered or condoned by the Cost of Living Council."

At the end of the day, Friedheim appeared in the Pentagon pressrooms and announced suspension of longevity pay boosts for the duration of the freeze.

County Dads Lop Off $25,000 More

County Judge A. G. Mitchell today said that commissioners plan to cut the 1972 county deficit by another $25,000 by cutting the funds budgeted for new road and bridge equipment in half.

"The proposal came up in a telephone conversation between the commissioners. We have not taken any action on the cut yet, but it will be brought up and acted on in the public hearing on the budget Sept. 13," said Judge Mitchell.

Total income for 1972 for the county is projected at $1,084,380, and expenditures are estimated at $1,218,792.25. A cash balance of $134,412.25 will be carried over to cover the deficit for 1972.

General fund receipts are projected at $564,000, and a $103,131 of the total balance carried over from 1971 will be added to cover general fund expenditures of $667,731.

Receipts in the road and bridge fund total $407,000, and expenditures will be $421,536 with $14,536 carried over to cover the deficit. The totals include the proposed $25,000 reduction.

Jury fund receipts are expected to be $30,600 with a balance of $16,745.25 added to cover expenditures of $47,345.25. Permanent improvement, airport operating and lateral road funds receipts and expenditures balance for 1972. Allocations in these areas are $17,447 for airport operations, $37,200 for permanent improvements, and $27,533 in lateral road funds.

Interest and sinking funds receipts total $272,700, and expenditures are expected to total $160,999.25, leaving a balance of $111,700.75 at the end of 1972.

Clouds Cover While Gulf Showers Flirt

Central Texas lay wreathed in clouds early today while Gulf showers flirted with the Coastal Plains where temperatures were balmy.

The National Weather Service said warm temperatures in the southern climes would invoke thundershowers in Southeast and Southwest Texas.

Temperatures before sunrise ranged from the middle 70s in the coastal regions down to the mid 60s in Northwest Texas.

Mostly clear to partly cloudy conditions would prevail, however, according to weathermen who outlined highs for the day in the 90s with lows in the 60s for northern sections and somewhat more relaxed temperatures in South Texas.

Though the recent outpouring of torrential rain appeared over residents along the flood-swollen Rio River and a few other Southwest Texas streams prepared themselves against high water moving downstream.

The weatherman predicted no significant amounts of new rainfall for any section of the state.

Blows Whistle On Her Teen Son
SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A resident of a fashionable suburban area blew the whistle this week on her teen-ago son as a marijuana pusher.

Officers said the woman telephoned the sheriff's department to report her three younger children had watched as her son, 15, and a companion packaged marijuana for sale. The children also had seen their brother making sales, she said.

When a sheriff's investigator went to the home, the youth fled through a bedroom window. When he hadn't been found by dark, a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Busing In Corpus Stayed By Justice

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black has stayed full operation of a desegregation plan for Corpus Christi schools which would have included the busing of 14,500 pupils.

Black, acting as the justice presiding over the Texas district, held up Thursday part of a court order and let stand another part under which some 900 black pupils in the Corpus Christi school system will be reassigned.

Dr. Dana Williams, Corpus Christi school superintendent, said that with Black's order, school will open as scheduled Sept. 1 with no change from last year for Mexican-American and Anglo pupils. Williams said the district "was not pleased with the effect on black pupils and we will attempt to resolve this in the next few days."

Black's order is good until a ruling is made on the merits of the entire case by the Supreme Court, which reconvenes in October, or a lower court.

Williams emphasized the district remains under the court order to reassign about 900 black pupils. A maximum of 25 teachers will be reassigned to meet racial and ethnic balances, according to Dr. Leo Bradley, assistant superintendent for administration.

Black acted at the request of the Justice Department, the agency's first move since President Nixon disavowed a busing plan for Austin, Tex., schools proposed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. About 5 per cent of Corpus Christi's 46,000 pupils are black. The other 95 per cent are divided equally among Mexican Americans and Anglos.

U.S. District Court Judge Woodrow Seals had issued an order earlier to effect a three-way racial balance by reassigning the 14,500 pupils.

U.S. District Court Judge Owen Cox had set aside part of Seals' order but Cox was overruled by the appeals court.

Corpus Christi school authorities say they can't afford purchase of the 108 buses needed to implement the court's order. They place cost at $1.7 million.

At present, Corpus Christi has no school buses.

Plane Crash Claims Three

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A Downeast Airlines plane carrying eight persons crashed Thursday night in dense fog on an approach to Augusta State Airport. The Federal Aviation Administration said the pilot and two of his seven passengers were killed.

Police earlier had said that six persons died in the crash on a wooded peak some four miles from the Augusta airfield.

The twin-engine Piper Navajo had been on a flight from Boston to Rockland, Maine, but was diverted to Augusta because of heavy fog, the FAA said.

A spokesman for the Maine State Police identified the pilot as Dwight R. French Jr., 40, of Enterprise, Ala.

Also killed in the crash were Walter N. Kernan, 53, of Milton, Mass., and Michael Newes, 8, of Brussels, Belgium.

At Augusta General Hospital were Klaus Newes, 47, of Brussels, the father of the dead boy; his wife, Virginia, 42; and two daughters, Christian, 12, and Gabriella, 6; and Jeanne Mahon, 34, of South Bristol.

Cause of the crash was not determined.

A state trooper said the plane "chopped off some trees and ripped wide open."

Car-Theft Ring Broken

Three pick-ups stolen from Bob Brock Ford car-lot July 16 have been recovered and in so doing, state and federal police have broken up a national car-theft ring, according to Jack Jones, local detective captain.

Two of the vehicles had been recovered earlier, one in Monahan by local sheriff deputies there and one in the Odessa area by Texas Highway Patrolmen.

The third pick-up was located in Carlsbad, N.M., by FBI agents.

"The agents also recovered other vehicles of all types in New Mexico that had been stolen by the ring of thieves all over the nation. So far two arrests have been made in connection with the theft of the pick-ups here," said Capt. Jones. Investigations are still continuing in an effort to apprehend other members of the ring.

OUCH! — Thirteen-year-old Frank Hempstead of New London, Conn., reacted the way anyone would when bitten by a crab. This one, from the sand crab family, nipped Frank on the finger as it was being held up for the photographer. It even tried to attack the cameraman after Frank quickly dropped it.

Common Mart Countries To Open Money Exchanges

BRUSSELS (AP) — Britain and the Common Market countries agreed early today to reopen their foreign currency exchanges on Monday but failed to agree on a unified policy for determining the value of the dollar.

Differences between France and West Germany doomed agreement, and as a result Britain and the six Common Market members will arrange things separately on their exchanges.

A leading European monetary official predicted that none of the governments would continue to buy dollars to support the official exchange rate as they have in the past. But he said they probably would not let the rate fall low enough to ruin their export business or attract a flood of American goods made cheaper by the dollar's decline.

FIXED RATES
"They will come into the market," he said. "It just depends at what level we will be frightened enough to intervene."

The failure to agree on a unified policy came after negotiations that began Thursday morning and continued until nearly 2 a.m. today.

Britain's representative, Chancellor of the Exchequer Anthony Barber, conferred with the European ministers early in the evening and told them his government wanted to cooperate but intended to open the London exchange Monday with fixed rates but a wider permissible range of fluctuation.

The ministers were unable to overcome the differences between Finance Ministers Karl Schiller of West Germany and Valery Giscard d'Estaing of France.

The German wanted West European currencies to float more or less freely, as the West German mark and Dutch guilder have done since May. The Frenchman, fearing the effect on France's exports, opposed allowing the value of the franc to rise against the dollar, as it would if allowed to float.

NIXON'S POLICY
France is expected to set up a double rate system: A controlled one for trade and official transactions and a free market for speculative and investment purposes. This system also was urged by the advisory executive commission of the Common Market. Belgium has been using such a system since the monetary crisis in May.

A joint statement issued at the end of the meeting said that President Nixon's new policy of no longer allowing foreign dollar holdings to be redeemed in gold and his imposition of a 10 per cent tax on imports show the need for a reform of the international monetary system and a change in official exchange rates.

It said the Common Market countries—France, West Germany, the Netherlands, Italy, Belgium and Luxembourg—will propose changes at the annual meeting of the International Monetary Fund in Washington at the end of September. The finance ministers will meet again Sept. 13 to try to work out agreed proposals.

CALL OF WILD LURES AMERICANS TO CANADA

OTTAWA (AP) — Americans already control much of Canada's industry, and The Canadian Press says Americans are buying wilderness and recreation areas "in amounts that are alarming more and more Canadians."

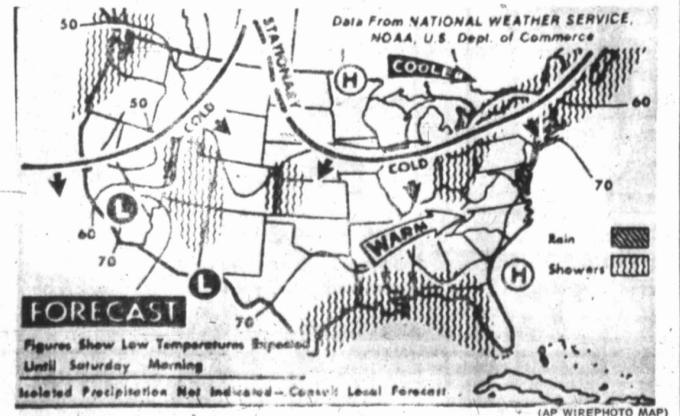

After a cross-country survey, the national news cooperative concluded: "As the United States becomes more crowded and its own wilderness dwindles, many Americans yearn for the lakes, the cottage lots and the islands to be found north of the border. So they buy here. And many Canadians wonder what's going to be left for them and their children."

The survey indicates that such sales are not frequent in Quebec and the Prairie provinces. The accent is more on Ontario, which is adjacent to the populous belt running from New York to Michigan, and on coastal areas.

Canada's federal government keeps no record of property sales to Americans, and did not touch on that factor in this year's census.

Prince Edward Island, an east coast province with fine beaches, is said to regard American ownership—just over 2 per cent of total acreage—as a serious concern. Nova Scotia, seeking details on ownership, finds many nonresident owners are Canadians from other provinces rather than Americans.

In the prime beach-land area near Fort Erie, Ont., the Canadian Press survey found "up to 90 per cent of the property is American-owned."

WEATHER FORECAST — Scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers are forecast today by the National Weather Service. Disturbances are expected in the Pacific Northwest, the Rocky Mountain states, part of the central Plains, the Gulf Coast states and from the Midwest through the St. Lawrence Valley and New-England. Warm weather is forecast for most of the country.

'New' Woman Awaits The Once-A-Month Pill

Editor's Note: Under the pressure of a still-growing world population, scientists are seeking new, better and safer methods of contraception. In the following first of two articles on Contraception, AP Science Editor Alton Blakeslee tells what may soon be coming out of laboratories to help in the fight against the population explosion.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
 AP Science Editor
LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Just around the corner now looms a fabulous new once-a-month birth control pill.

It would act upon the pituitary gland in the brain, preventing it from releasing hormones necessary for conception to occur, and for pregnancy to be maintained.

It would thus act like a rifle bullet, preventing conception without producing any other effects on the body.

The current pill is more like a shotgun. While it prevents conception, the female hormone-type chemicals in the pill affect other cells and systems of the body as well.

The new pill now promised involves a fantastic chemical, called Gonadotropin Releasing Factor—GRF—produced in the hypothalamus area of the brain. The GRF tells the nearby pituitary gland when to release the hormones responsible for a woman's releasing an egg, and for pregnancy to continue.

Now, two teams of scientists have synthesized this releasing factor, a chemical so powerful that a few thousandths of one millionth of a gram—one gram is 1-28th of an ounce—is enough to start the chain of hormone release.

This feat has just been achieved by Dr. Andrew V. Schally and associates of the Veterans Administration Hospital and Tulane University Medical Center, New Orleans, and by Dr. Roger Guillemin and his collaborators at the Salk Institute here.

A next step is to make a phony GRF, one that would be fooled by the pituitary gland, but which would block that gland from releasing its hormones. Such analogues, as they are called, have already been prepared by the scientific teams, and they might be fully tested for safety and effectiveness within two or three years. The day of the rifle-bullet contraceptive would be here.

The GRF is only one prospect in intensified research to find new contraceptives beyond the present pill, which came under a cloud of public worry during congressional hearings early last year. Pill use was associated with some increased risk of blood clots and other untoward effects.

Those alarms—unjustified in the opinion of some leading experts—prompted hundreds of thousands of women to turn from the pill, but a majority may have resumed its use.

Pill sales went down initially, but recovered as women resumed its use, or other women took it up. Statistics in some major American cities showed a slight increase in birth rate a year after the hearings, but officials are loath to attribute this simply to abandonment of the pill.

The majority of physicians and experts on birth control consider the pill as remarkably safe—safer than childbirth for example—and totally effective if taken regularly.

But the pill is not perfection, not the ultimate, hence the quest for even better methods, including a variety of methods that could suit everyone desirous of limiting family size.

Researchers are working upon minipills, hormone injections or implants that might be good for a year, pills that would induce abortion if a woman had conceived but didn't yet realize it, and pills for men. And there are the IUD's—intrauterine devices—made more effective through a small content of copper. There are also techniques to sterilize men or women, techniques that may be made reversible if the person should later desire parenthood.

Much research focuses upon the basic physiology of human reproduction, the miracle and mystery of procreating new life. Such knowledge might permit many childless couples to have the babies they want, as well as bring new, safe methods of contraception to be used by either women or men.

Animal experiments have turned up at least three chemicals that can suppress sperm production, but they may be too toxic for human use. Low doses of progesterone, one of the female hormones, can interfere with sperm maturation and mobility, but again there are questions of safety and practical application.

And some research is concerned with the capacitation factor—a chemical agent in the female reproductive tract that somehow alters sperm so they become able to penetrate the egg. A chemical that neutralized the capacitation factor might be an effective and simple contraceptive.

The present pill prevents ovulation by blocking the releasing factors in the hypothalamus. But the hormones in the pill affect other systems, too, and have been compared to "killing a mosquito with a sledgehammer."

That is why the concept of utilizing the GRF is so appealing. The only effect would be upon the pituitary gland to inhibit hormone release.

Next: Potential new contraceptives.

Credit Women Discuss Parliamentary Procedure

"Parliamentary procedure is sincerely," said Mrs. Weeks. "The audience will get more out of it, and you will get more out of it."

merely common sense used in a gracious manner," said Mrs. George Weeks to the Big Spring Credit Women Thursday at the Settles Hotel. She was quoting an article by Marguerite Grumme, a nationally-known parliamentarian.

Four basic rules of parliamentary procedure, according to Mrs. Weeks, are courtesy and justice to all; consider one thing at a time; the minority has a right to be heard and the will of the majority must prevail.

Mrs. Weeks explained procedures for processing a motion and offered advice for keeping business meetings as short as possible. She said members should be on time, pay attention to the speaker, contribute ideas "for or against", and offer assistance to new members.

"Every meeting is a play," said Mrs. Weeks. "Always act your part correctly and courteously and some day you may be the star."

The article also offered suggestions for club speakers, saying they should rise slowly and maintain attractive body position without leaning on anything for support. Speakers should have eye contact with the audience and avoid unnecessary gestures. Notes should be small enough to hold in the hand, and talk should be organized and condensed.

Growing Knowhow In Space Program

Successful completion of the Apollo 15 splash-down in the record books. The final moments offered drama and interest even some excitement when it was observed that one of the three parachutes had not functioned.

For the most part, some minor slips have to be anticipated — the Apollo crew mastered several of these — but the climatic events (that first glimpse of the spaceship slinging down through the clouds, the splashdown itself, the business of getting the crew out, even the scenes of greeting aboard the USS Okinawa seemed to be very familiar.

It is not these things which make the Apollo 15 mission memorable. What makes it distinctive, in degree if not in kind, is the comparative ease with which the stringent demands of this undertaking were met.

The little mishaps were taken in stride — much more so than they would have been on earlier missions. Astronauts David R. Scott, James B. Irwin and Alfred M. Worden carried out their respective tasks — complex tasks ranging from a light lunar exploratory schedule to the spectacular bit of space-walking — as if they had been doing this sort of thing all their lives.

If things appear to be easier, it is because that scientific techniques get better. A remarkable example was in the improvement of pictures by remote television.

It all was an impressive demonstration of the space program's growing mastery of manned space exploratory techniques. In terms of both scientific information garnered and familiarity with the space environment, Apollo 15 is a significant step along the road to wider explorations for which the whole Apollo program is merely a prelude.

Demos Have Problems

The Democratic party in Texas continues to be hamstrung as it approaches election year 1972.

One obvious factor is the presence of former Gov. John Connally in the Cabinet of President Nixon — and widely rumored as a possible vice presidential nominee on the GOP ticket. Connally has been THE power in Democratic politics; his alignment with President Nixon is bound to hurt the state party in the national election to come, both in prestige and in fund-raising.

Then there is the continuing scandal involving several Democratic officials — and state party chairman Elmer Baum.

As long as Dr. Baum remains chairman of the Democratic executive committee, the stock scandal must remain an albatross around the party's neck. It is difficult to see how Dr. Baum can function effectively in his post, once party affairs begin to heat up. And it is difficult to see how the party can long tolerate his continued presence.

Dr. Baum has not been formally accused of any legal violations. But even should all the fuss and furor result in no legal action against the Democratic party chief, the damage will hardly be less. The stock deal in which Dr. Baum was involved with Gov. Preston Smith has, rightly or wrongly, turned off the voters. It is regarded at best as a quick-money deal which has tarnished the reputations of all involved, however slightly.

One would think the party would demand that this door to its chances be removed; that, as much distance as possible be placed between the party and the stock scandal as election year 1972 approaches.

Great Memory

Around The Rim

Walt Finley

My memory never has been good. My mother, old What's-Her-Name, used to chide me about it, and now my best friend, Whatsit, does the same.

IT ISN'T age. I've always been that way—I remember what I want to remember and forget the rest. (I think this leads to an uncluttered, pleasant mind. Others think it's careless.)

Knowing this, I write notes to myself reminding me of Monday night baseball games on TV, pals I'm supposed to call, and the like. I put them in my shirt pocket and take care of them later — if I remember to look in my pocket.

When I forget, the notes go through the laundry and come back in tiny, unreadable balls. I catch myself saying:

"I wonder who this is."

THE TOM MIX museum in Dewey, Okla., is in financial trouble.

If they'll change the name to Ready Mix, they may get a concrete offer.

To prove that all progress is not our more important product, the guy who ruled out the fiesta was a wrong-thinker.

TODAY'S BORROWED thought is from lefty J. O. Sheid Jr.:

"Somebody ought to cross ballpoint pens with coat hangers, so that the pens will multiply instead of disappearing."

The bulletin board at a church in downtown Big Spring is short in stature. Therefore the man who changes the sermon subject each week must get down on his knees to do so.

Was this poor planning or good planning?

MY DRINKING cousin's wife, Arlene, writes:

Peace is looking in on your two sleeping teenage daughters and wondering what it was they did earlier in the evening that upset you so.

Oppression is your big sister's promise to beat the daylight out of you if you don't clean up her half of the room too.

"TWINKLE-TOES" Guinn, turned to the "Lone Ranger" after his first hectic month as a go-going radio newsman, paused, wiped his brow and asked:

"Are you sure Walter Cronkite started out this way?"

Roger Beard, my wildcattin' neighbor, has a graffiti:

A toupee is a breadth of fresh hair.

BEARD ALSO heard this story:

A fellow was knocked unconscious in an auto accident, and other motorists took him to a service station for treatment.

When he came to he started kicking and screaming and trying to get away. They couldn't figure what was wrong until one of the rescuers moved from in front of the S on the SHELL sign.

The Busing Mess

Marquis Childs

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

(Substituting for Marquis Childs) WASHINGTON — Fun is fun and politics is a game of relaxed standards, indeed — a game where almost anything goes. All the same, the whip-sawing of President Nixon in which pro- and anti-civil rights extremists are so happily engaged is anything but funny; and worse yet, the ultimate victims will be the school-children of this country.

WHEN GOV. George Wallace of Alabama on the right wing mocking "joins" the President's sensible opposition to forced school busing in its more ridiculously unworkable forms he seeks, of course, to cause the moderates of the country to bracket Mr. Nixon with Wallace racism in a clever ploy of forced guilt-by-association. But then no one expects anything else from the Wallace type of mind.

WHEN THE United States Civil Rights Commission cries out from the left that the President is "undermining the desegregation effort" it is shockingly irresponsible, totally unfair—and pouring tons of water upon the wheel of George C. Wallace.

For the crime of the Administration here is precisely the crime of enforcing what is the law of the land — no less and yet no more. This is not, of course, the first nor yet the fiftieth time that the either-or people from both sides of this tragic national problem have walked with hobnailed boots over the infinitely delicate fabric of a responsible, and thus an effective, means for school integration.

OVER AND OVER they have done the same thing in the Senate. Over and over the patient men who have sweated to bring forth operable civil rights legislation that would be even-handed to all sections of the nation have seen their work smashed into the dirt by these same hobnailed boots from left and right. Over and over the men of reason have picked up the pieces and started all over again.

This is what President Nixon has tried to do — this is all he has tried to do.

THE SPIRIT of this incredible oversimplification is now in substance being adopted by the Nixon commission on civil rights. Its naivete is equally incredible. It is difficult to see how grown men, so long as they are not the prisoners of sheerly emotive noughting, could possibly bring in the verdict that these men have issued.

But isn't President Nixon "playing politics" with integration in that he has a "Southern strategy" for the 1972 campaign? Yes, of course, he is; of course all presidents do, in the sense that he would like to avoid an alienation of a whole region; of course, in part for "political" reasons but also because we surely need no more divisiveness in this country than we have already got.

THERE IS NO issue of true integration here. One hopes that the U. S. Civil Rights Commission is enjoying its promotion of Wallaceism by making, through its own extremism, his clamors seem to have a germ of justice. Responsible men, party labels or no party labels, are not enjoying it at all.

'NOW-THAT'S A WHOLE NEW GAME PLAN'

Brand New Economic World

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Wall Street has been slow to offer its advice on the meaning of the new economic game plan, a plan which inevitably will have an enormous impact on stock and bond prices.

The first reaction by the market, sharply higher prices, was to have been expected, because professionals and amateurs alike had been awaiting any news that could be interpreted optimistically.

Now that enough time has passed for appraisals of the President's startling announcements to be made, few of any depth have been produced, despite the fact that no more important news to the market has been announced in decades.

One widely distributed market letter announced a "Special Report" which it said was an extended analysis of the President's "dramatic economic and international monetary proposals in an investment context."

Amidst hundreds of words, one can find this bit of wisdom: "American industry and American stocks look better; foreign industry and foreign stocks look less attractive than before."

Poised always to offer instant opinions on events of the most minuscule importance, the research departments of some Wall Street houses are almost without firm, specific advice on a change that means nothing less than a brand new economic world.

Meanwhile, a brand new mutual fund gives a preview of some new considerations which will further burden analysts in years to come.

The Pax World Fund, just announced, hopes to make a contribution to world peace as well as to investor's pocketbooks.

"The diversified, no-load fund was created to provide investors with security, regular income and possible long-term growth," its announcement states.

Formed by two ministers of the United Methodist Church's Board of Social Concerns, and by private money managers, it will seek investments in companies "that are not to any degree engaged in manufacturing defense or weapon-related products."

Liquor, tobacco and gambling industries are out. And given preference for investment are companies with fair employment practices. The requirements mean that a large number of blue chip companies cannot even be considered.

The Postal Service

Andrew Tully

(Andrew Tully is on vacation. During his absence his column will be written by leading figures on the Washington governmental and political scene.)

By POSTMASTER GENERAL WINTON S. BLOUNT

Our new U.S. Postal Service is less than two months old, but progress has been made already to meet the accumulated postal problems of almost two centuries.

We have moved a long way, for example, from the political patronage that dictated appointment of our postmasters, influenced appointment of other management personnel, and hampered postal management initiative and employee incentive for nearly two centuries.

THERE ARE critics who exploit every service change or delivery failure, heedless of the fact that we could fall 87 million times and still be 99.99 per cent perfect with our 87-billion-piece annual mail load. Of course, we do not fall 87 million times, but it is easy to find examples of service change or delivery delays and distort them into claims of service "cuts."

Our policy is for over-all improvement of service. However, we must keep in mind that people in this age of the auto, and the telephone have different service needs from those of people 50 years ago.

FOR EXAMPLE, the downtown postal station that was crowded in evening hours in years past may be virtually deserted at such times today, while the station that was once located at a lonely rural crossroads has become a bustling center of suburban activity today. It makes good sense to reduce window hours at the first and apply those manpower resources to better service at the second.

LOOKING AHEAD to the immediate future, we can expect increasing success with our recently announced improved standards for next-day delivery of airmail between designated cities over a 600-mile radius, and second-day delivery between major cities anywhere in the continental U.S.

We expect within the next year to be providing next-day delivery of first-class mail, including surface mail, over considerable distances. This will include reliable delivery "timetables," since we feel that our customers are as much concerned with dependability of service as they are with speed of service.

FOR SITUATIONS where speed is paramount, last year we created a service brand new to the American public — the mailgram — "cheaper than the cheapest telegram and faster than the fastest letter." We have receiving stations in major post offices, and millions of Americans ultimately will be able to take advantage of this service which is now emerging from its experimental stage.

MEANWHILE, we are adding regular delivery services to about a million city residences and nearly 40,000 businesses annually, together with several hundred thousand rural delivery customers who are eligible to receive mail deliveries under liberalized standards — people who formerly had to go to the post office to get their mail.

We have numerous other innovative and creative service programs which can be expected to develop in the immediate months ahead.

Set 'Em Up Bartender

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a bartender gets tired of hearing:

"The trouble with me is—"

"Doesn't the house ever break down and buy a round?"

"I can whip any man in the place, and if he's an Englishman I can whip him twice."

"Murphy, you've had your hand in the till so long you ought to be able to afford to open up two joints of your own."

"What do you mean I've had my fill? They've never made enough of the stuff to give me my fill."

"Murphy, is that the third cockroach I've seen on the back bar since I came in, or is it the same one going around in circles?"

"Just line up 12 martinis in a row on the bar. I'm going to drown my sorrows or get awfully wet trying."

"Where'd you get the idea it was my turn? I bought the last round."

"Why don't you put a couch in the back room, Murphy, and moonlight as a psychiatrist?"

"What if I did drink three-fourths of the highball before I saw the lipstick on the rim? The way I see it you either pour me a free drink or I make a telephone call to the Health Department."

"I don't want to start any trouble, Murphy, but that little lady sitting at the corner table looks pretty lonely. Is it all right if I go over and try to cheer her up? What's that? Well, you don't have to lose your temper. How did I know she's your wife?"

"Well, I guess I've had all I need for the road. Show me which one of those cars out there is mine and I'll drive home."

"Murphy, did you hear the one about the convicted Irish rebel who tripped as he was being led up an English scaffold. He stopped, kicked the offending step and swore, 'These bloody Protestants will be the death of me yet!' Not bad, eh?"

'Freeze' Extension?

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Is there a chance of an extension of restraints when the present 90-day freeze on wages and prices is ended? The answer is that such a step is possible but not probable. Everything depends on whether the complex questions that are arising can be solved and the national economy guided successfully in the first 90 days.

GEORGE P. SHULTZ, director of the Office of Management and Budget, in a news conference after the President had made his historic pronouncement, when asked if some new approach could be found to fight inflation, said that the 90-day period would make a very important contribution. He declared:

"In the first place, a wage-price freeze for 90 days is something in itself. We expect to get something out of that and have a new situation emerge in the 90 days from the one that started in. What can be brought out through a wide process of discussion and consultation during the 90 days as to what might be done at the end of that period, we will see. Any number of possibilities, including continuing the freeze, that is not ruled out."

MANY EXPERTS see ahead some difficult problems for the administration in trying to administer the freeze beyond the 90-day period. They say that if there is an extension, adjustments would probably have to be made to cope with fluctuating factors, such as seasonal changes in farm prices or unusual shifts in supply-demand patterns.

CONGRESS AT present apparently is inclined to cooperate with the President's plans. Although the chief executive did not mention in his speech any other transactions besides wages and prices, rents are one of the most important factors in the lives of citizens that will be affected, along with other services covered by existing law.

The willingness of the Democrats as well as Republicans to go along with the President is reflected in the assent expressed by Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana. After a conference with Mr. Nixon and other officials at the White House, the Democratic leader said that there was a majority of the Senate ready to "go all the way with the President."

THERE SEEMS to be very little disturbance here about the discussions abroad on the subject of the strength of the dollar. This is due to a belief in Washington that the dollar will rise in value as soon as the import situation feels the effect of the duty to be imposed by Congress and the other measures in the President's plan.

REPRESENTATIVE Wilbur D. Mills, Democrat, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, described the President's new plan as an "excellent one" and forecast prompt action by the House. The House Republican leader, Gerald R. Ford, also expressed his enthusiasm for the wage-price freeze. This spirit of cooperation means that Congress will support the various proposals which the President enumerated and will take a firm position in strengthening the value of the dollar abroad.

There is every indication that the President is not likely to set up a mechanism which would be beyond the 90-day period unless world conditions are such that he has no choice but to maintain the restraints that now are being imposed.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am saving for a new home. Is this a sin or shouldn't we worry about the things of the world enough to sacrifice for them?

K.B.

Thrift is a good virtue, and is encouraged in the Bible. "There is treasure to be desired and oil in the dwelling of the wise; but a foolish man spendeth it up." Prov. 12:20.

Many young couples today are hopelessly in debt because they buy everything they want without thought of the burden which will be imposed upon them. Many homes fall apart because of the lack of frugality, and many divorces are caused by bad financing and spending. While the Bible warns us against greed and selfishness, it does encourage frugality and thrift. Even Jesus said to His disciples after He fed the multitude, "Gather up the fragments that remain that nothing be lost." Although our Lord had the power to create, He Himself lived frugally and without luxury.

John Wesley had a threefold philosophy about money. He said, "Make all you can; keep all you can; and give all you can." Most of us get all we can; spend all we can, and borrow all we can, but give meagerly to God.

A Devotion For Today...

It was in Antioch that the disciples first got the name of Christians. (Acts 11:26, NEB)

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for Thy Son Jesus Christ. We pray that He may so completely possess us that we may grow more and more like Him each day. In His name we pray. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

ONE-METER DIVING CHAMPS — Mike Brown, left, of Denver, Colo., gets a hug from Cynthia Potter of Houston Thursday after he took the one-meter championship at the National AAU Diving Championships at Houston. Miss Potter took the honors in the women's one-meter on Wednesday. Both are students at the University of Indiana. Brown has been trying for the AAU title since 1966 and the closest he had ever gotten was fourth.

Old Sparring Partner Missing From Lineup

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — When the starting offense of the Cleveland Browns is announced to Dallas Cowboy fans in the Cotton Bowl tonight, there is apt to be a few cheers—or sighs, anyway—when Mike Phipps is announced as starting quarterback.

That will mean the Browns' veteran signal caller, weak-kneed Bill Nelsen, is not at the helm. Nelsen, should any Cowboy fan have forgotten, guided the Browns past the Cowboys 31-20 in the 1968 NFL Eastern title game and humiliated them the following year, 42-10, in the game for the same marbles.

Nelsen may see some action, his first of the season. But before Cowboy enthusiasts get too excited, they had perhaps take a second look at Phipps.

The second-year veteran from Purdue took the Browns on three touchdown drives, all over 70 yards, in the San Francisco game which they lost 38-24.

The Cowboys will be hoping to keep their winning streak going after easily beating Los Angeles and New Orleans. The road-weary Browns—this is their third pre-season away from home—have also lost to the Rams.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry says he will go with quarterback Craig Morton, since Roger Staubach has a few bruised ribs.

Dallas will be without tight end Mike Ditka and linebacker Lee Ray Jordan, while the Browns will be missing offensive tackle Dick Schafrath and defensive end Jack Gregory.

Quite a few veterans switched teams via the waiver route Thursday, including Jerry Rhome, Jack Clancy and Eugene Moore.

Rhome, who spent five years with Dallas and one with Houston, was picked up by the Los Angeles Rams on waivers from the Oilers. Rhome will battle Karl Sweetan and John Walton for the job as Roman Gabriel's back-up man.

The day after he got hurt, the New York Jets' Joe Namath was to have flown to Birmingham, Ala., for the world premiere of his latest movie, "The Last Rebel."

The film was made in Rome during the summer. A Joe Namath scholarship fund has been set up for graduates of his old high school at Beaver Falls, Pa., and was to have received part of the proceeds from the first public screening.

A San Antonio coach told a writer their city could not serve as host for the annual Texas High School Coaches Association school because of a lack of strip joints and other diversions.

The coach, no doubt, knows better. San Antonio is overlooked because some of the business people there have been known to fleece people when the opportunity presents itself.

The clinic is to be rotated between Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth for the next decade.

Another knock against San Antonio is that it doesn't boast the facilities the other three communities have.

Time was when the school was staged in cities like Waco and Lubbock but it grew so big only the large cities could adequately house the coaches for a week.

If you're a redneck and want to conceal the fact, you'd best not play golf.

Of the game, a learned man remarked recently: "There isn't a hothead alive who can hide his true nature when things go wrong for him on a golf course."

More unpleasantness occurs on the average course than could possibly be reported, and more stinging remarks have been exchanged in pro shops than the pros would dare to admit.

There's no doubt about it: Interest in the College All-Star game, usually booked the first weekend in August in Chicago, is declining.

It may last for some time, however, because it's offered free to television viewers and TV audiences will watch most anything from the comfort of their living rooms.

Hebner Is Hot As Bucs Slam Reds, 5 To 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — Pittsburgh's Richie Hebner, who couldn't fight out of a slump last week after a stint with the Marines, finally found he still has some ammunition left—the home run ball.

The Pirates third baseman went 0-16 in one stretch last week and struck out eight consecutive times in the span. But Thursday night he riddled Cincinnati 5-1.

"I hadn't been hitting at all since I got out of the service a week ago Sunday," Hebner said in an understatement. "I got absolutely no practice in while I was at Camp Pendleton (Calif.), but now I feel like I'm getting my stroke back. I just didn't seem to be able to make any connection at all."

Hebner's eight straight strikeouts tied a major league record and he jokingly said Thursday night that "I might as well have struck out the ninth time so I could have broken the record."

The homer, his 17th, came off Cincinnati reliever Wayne Granger who hadn't yielded a run in his previous 14 1-3 innings, and the round tripper helped snap the Reds winning streak at four games.

The homer was only the fifth hit of the contest: for the Pirates who had been shackled on two hits through eight innings by starter Jim McGlothlin who was lifted for a pinchhitter, Mc Glothlin, who was charged with the loss, had given up only one run—a homer by Al Oliver in the seventh inning.

Pats' Job Likened To Kamakaze Pilot

FOXBORO, Mass. (AP) — 1969, Mazur inherited the head coaching job of the Patriots when Clive Rush was "relieved" of his duties midway through last season.

Mazur did his best, but damage, both in the morale and injury departments, had been done. The Patriots finished with a 2-12 record, the worst in the NFL.

Mazur was given a new one-year contract, causing cynics to wonder. Is he a sacrificial lamb? An interim head coach while a bigger name is sought? Or is he trying to qualify as a kamakaze pilot?

With the help of new general manager Upton Bell, 33-year-old former player personnel director of the Baltimore Colts, Mazur is remodeling the Patriots, starting with a tough training camp designed to weed out players who do not give 100 percent effort.

Mazur's campaign already is paying off, with a 20-14 victory over the New York Giants and a 17-10 loss to the Minnesota Vikings in exhibition games.

Despite last year's record, only one rookie, 14th draft pick Alfred Sykes of Florida A&M has managed to crack the starting lineup so far. Sykes, a skinny wide receiver, has been the biggest surprise in training camp.

Most veterans, healthy once again, are battling to hold starting jobs.

Bell, son of the late NFL commissioner, Bert Bell, is trying to do as much as possible "right now to make John's job easier and, maybe, win a few games right away."

In that department, the Patriots have acquired in deals such players as Mike Haggerty of the Pittsburgh Steelers, Willis Crenshaw of the Denver Broncos, Steve Kiner of Dallas, and Rich Moore of the Green Bay Packers.

FEM GROUP TO SPONSOR SCOTCH PLAY SUNDAY

The Comanche Trail Ladies Golf Association will sponsor another scotch foursome at the Muny course Sunday afternoon.

The field will listen for a shotgun start at 1:30 p.m. Entry fee will be $3 per person.

Although women will be required to register as part of a team, a blind draw will be used to determine the makeup of teams.

Only half handicaps will be used, which means no player (more specifically no woman) can start competition with more than 18 strokes as a handicap.

Merchandise awards will go to winning teams.

The fem association now has 34 members, many of whom play the course regularly.

Some of the male entries in Sunday's play will grasp the opportunity to practice for the Sept. 4-5-6 City Championship Tournament, which will also be held at the Muny.

Young Grets 31 Youngsters

STANTON — Stanton High School football coach Bill Onofrio counted 31 boys when the Buffaloes launched fall workouts earlier this week.

Lettermen back with the Bisons include:

QB Glen Ray, 180 second team all-district last year; QB Rick Wilson, HB 170; Dwayne McMeans, 150; HB Jackie Swanson, 150; HB Armando Rios, 130; FB Frankie Branhill, 160; FB Steve Douglas, 135; center Clark Ray, 165; center Curt Howard, 145; guard Chipper Coggin, 160; guard Bubba Standerfer, 140; and tackle Mike Adams, 160.

Tommy Gregory, Jackie Burns and Alvis Jackson are helping Young with coaching duties.

Winless in ten starts last year, the District 5-AA Buffaloes figure to do better this year with more experienced personnel to man all positions.

Guard Duane Clary, 140; tackle Marc Briggs, 165; and ends David Dillard, 140; Paul McAllister, 130; and Charles Atchison, 145, are likely to clock a lot of playing time with the Buffs.

The Stanton club will operate off the Wing T and use a 4-5 defensive alignment.

Standerfer has been moved from end to guard to bolster the middle of the Stanton line. Wilson likely will wind up as a running back for Coach Young.

The Buffs appear shy of size, speed and experience again but Young says an aggressive club can make up for those shortcomings.

Glen Ray, Coggin, Adams and Swanson have been projected as all-district material by Young and the coach says Glen Ray ranks with the best in the state.

Stanton schedule:

Sept. 11 — at Tohoku
Sept. 18 — at Baton Rouge
Sept. 25 — at Freshport
Oct. 1 — at Rankin
Oct. 8 — at Seagraves

BROTHERS' GAMES DIFFER

Mike Hill Has Identity Problem On Golf Tour

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mike Hill's biggest problem on the golf tour is to get people to stop calling him Dave.

"It's not easy, Mike looks a lot like Dave, and if you close your eyes you'd swear it was Dave talking."

The easiest way to tell the two apart, however, is on the golf course, where younger brother Mike is as different from Dave as a hole-in-one is from a double bogey.

You could see the difference Thursday after Mike fired a seven under par 35-30-65 to take the first round lead in the $150,000 Industrial Valley Bank Philadelphia Golf Classic.

He leads by a stroke over Jack Nicklaus, who shot 32-24-66 at the Whitemarsh Valley County Club course. Bracketed at 67 as the field of 147 started the second round Friday were Bob Rosburg, Bob Murphy and Tom Weiskopf.

Hill, from Jackson, Mich., isn't as intense as brother Dave who is using the PGA for a million dollars over a fine leveled against him. Mike is the first to admit he's not as outspoken as Dave.

"No sir, I don't even attempt it," he snapped, when asked if he spoke his piece in the Dave Hill tradition.

Former Pastors Return Sunday For Mortgage Burning Service

Sunday will be a highlight in the history of the First Church of God, 2009 Main St., Big Spring. During services this week the church will burn the mortgage on its church building. The church has invited all of its former pastors to return for the event along with representatives from churches throughout West Texas.

Featured speakers for the day will be Rev. Hal Hooker in the 10:45 a.m. worship service and Rev. V. Ward Jackson in the special 2:30 p.m. service in which the mortgage burning will take place.

The Rev. Hooker pastored the church from 1956-1958 during which time the building was erected. He is currently residing in San Bernardino, Calif. The Rev. Jackson served the church from 1958-1968 and it was during his ministry that the bulk of the indebtedness was paid.

Other former pastors who plan to be present for the special day are Rev. Claude Johnson, Cisco, Tex.; Rev. Robert Bowden, Abilene, Rev. George Harrington, Charleston, S.C.; Rev. William Thomson, Fort Worth; Rev. Wesley Hutchins, Big Spring; Rev. Elra Phillips, Big Spring and the current pastor, Rev. Forrest Robinson.

The special day will be highlighted with an all church

REV. V. WARD JACKSON

Highlights of the church during these years were the paying off of the mortgage under the ministry of R. E. Bowden, and the launching of the building fund under the ministry of John Kolar. The church struggled through these formative years and one older member recalls, "We paid our early pastors $5.00 a week and supplemented this with produce from our farms."

The first building fund for the current building was unique. Pastor Kolar would have the people march around an old nail keg located in the front of the church and make their contribution. The building fund was successful and during the early 1950's the lots of 2009 Main St. were purchased in what was then the South edge of Big Spring.

In 1956 ground was broken for the present building. It wasn't long until the church moved into the lovely church plant. Pastors who have served the church in the present building are Hal Hooker, V. Ward Jackson, and Forrest Robinson, the current pastor.

The church has enjoyed a time of growth and expansion since the erection of the new building. In 1961 under the leadership of Miss Arah Phillips and the ministry of V. Ward Jackson the church launched the Jack & Jill Kindergarten and Day Care Center. During the ten years since its beginning the Kindergarten has served literally thousands of people in Big Spring and is a valued part of the church's program. Miss Phillips continues to lead the school in its constant attempt to serve the people of the city.

The church serves a constituency of approximately 500 people with attendance each week averaging near 200 in the church school. God has blessed and given growth to the church in its current location.

First Church of God has produced six ministers. W. S. Hancock, A. Leland Forrest, Elra Phillips, Charles Harrington, and Clyde Casleton accepted the call to the Christian ministry in the church. It has given two young men their first opportunity to serve in the full time ministry. David Hurst and William Thomson began their full time ministries as associate pastors of the First Church of God. The Church has produced two people who have become national leaders among the laity of the Church of God. Arah Phillips and Eddie Hickson have served in national roles over the years.

Charter members of the church who are still living include Mrs. Preble Miller, Mrs. Emma Neil, Mrs. Ethel Hickson, and Mrs. George Smith. The first pastor of the church, Rev. Claude Johnson is still living and resides in Cisco, Tex.

The Church and Pastor Forrest Robinson invite the public to join them for one or both of the special services on Mortgage Burning Sunday, Aug. 22.

Church Offers Christian 'Perspective' Of Occult

GEORGE CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

Church lessons in judo ... a Christian "night club" ... a pastor in clown's face going through acrobatic ... whisky bottles on the church floor ... Sunday school students ponder message across.

These are among the various off-beat tactics that show up these days in church operations to what interest and get the message across.

"We're doing it because there is an occult interest explosion," says the Rev. Raymond Tiemeier, a Lutheran Church in America education expert, in explaining reasons for a new intermediate church-school course called "Mystery Trip."

It makes use of Tarot cards, incense, fortune-tellers, and descriptions of the black mass, demonology, astrology, psychic phenomena and other mysteries along with contrasting Biblical concepts.

The objective, pastor Tiemeier says, is to examine reasons for the surge of occult interest among youths in "rebellion against the more mechanical impersonal view of life and the hunger for the mystical."

He said the course offers "Christian perspectives" on the matter but also points out "the elements of mysticism in the Christian faith."

In San Antonio, the Green Gate Club, once known for its strip shows, reopened last month as a "Christian Night Club" featuring a miniskirted, blonde professional singer, Karen Blackwell, who calls herself a "Jesus person."

In Detroit's Central Methodist Church recently, the robed choir marched through piles of whisky bottles, mason jars, pop bottles and baby food jars to reach the choir stalls.

The tons of bottles, stretching from the pulpit area out two side doors and down a corridor, had been brought there by worshippers to dramatize the nation's pollution problem.

At the Glen-Moore United Presbyterian Church in New Castle, Pa., the pastor, the Rev. Jack Heinsch, sometimes puts on clown's makeup and goes through acrobatics on a trampoline to get across points to younger members.

"I inject into the whole routine some good solid lessons in Christianity," he says, including the idea that many people hide their true selves behind false faces. He got his clowning talents from growing up in a circus family.

In Sacramento, Calif., St. John's Lutheran Church sponsors a judo and jujitsu club with nearly 100 participants, male and female of varying ages, in a church-owned athletic and recreation center.

"Training in the martial arts teaches self-discipline, self-control ... and sportsmanship," says director-instructor Mickey Davenport. "Students develop personality, confidence, and learn values and a purpose for themselves."

Communicate

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Methodist founder John Wesley "had a horror of men who professed themselves Christian, but who neither understood nor could communicate their faith," a Methodist theologian, the Rev. Dr. Albert C. Outler, of Dallas, said in a lecture here.

BSU To Hold First Meeting

The Baptist Student Union of Howard County Junior College will have an organizational meeting Thursday at 7:30 p.m., in the Student Union Building Parlor.

The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint new students with B.S.U. work on the HCJC campus. An outline of the work of B.S.U. will be presented along with an election of officers.

David Norvelle, minister of music and education at College Baptist Church, is the director of the organization. The B.S.U. of HCJC is supported by the Big Spring Baptist Association.

All Baptist students planning to enroll at HCJC this fall are invited to attend this meeting.

New Habit Shown To 200 Irish Nuns

DROGHEDA, Ireland (AP) — About 200 nuns watched professional models show designs for their new habits at the headquarters of the Medical Missionaries of Mary here in County Louth. Irish dress designer Sybil Connolly, who has undertaken the job without charge, said there would be one basic habit of the same color and fabric and five different working uniforms to suit nuns engaged in different tasks. "Our general chapter decided it was time to modernize our three quarter length gray and white habit," one of the nuns explained.

Christianity Had Underground Start

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The early church was an "underground church" composed of people from all walks of life, facing the threat of persecution and death if discovered, the Rev. John H. Baumgaertner, of Milwaukee, says in a book issued here by the American Lutheran Church's Augsburg Publishing House.

Called "Friends in the Underground Church," it portrays the slaves, tradesmen, members of the ruling class, tentmakers and others that made up the underground movement in the early centuries of Christianity.

EAST KILBRIDE, Scotland (AP) — The Church of Scotland has built four new churches in East Kilbride, including one of hexagonal (six-sided) shape that seats 600 and has a central communion table.

SOLITUDE but not SOLITARY

Quiet moments in solitude are good for the soul. Each of us needs those moments apart from the busy world—where we can distill our thoughts, reshape our purpose and revitalize our spirit.

This is not the same as living a solitary life—to be shut off from society, aloof and alone. We must remain in touch with the rest of mankind, or we will become lonely and selfish. We must be a part of the common flow of life.

In a society filled with patterns and cross-currents of both good and evil, where we dare not live in isolation, every person needs a strength greater than his own. That strength, derived from the presence of God in our lives, is the central concern of the Church. Spend some time in solitude with God before you attempt to meet the rush of life.

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I recently turned 18, so last night when I was out with my boy friend and another couple, I mentioned that I was going to register so I could vote.

The other couple (both of them are old enough to vote) said they had no intentions of registering because politics are so rotten these days there is no point in voting. And my boy friend agreed with them!

I just bit my tongue and said nothing because I was outmanned. I read your column every day, Abby, and I've never run into a problem like this.

Maybe if you say something it will change the minds of people like my friends:

CONCERNED AT 18
DEAR CONCERNED: No one said it more brilliantly than Edmund Burke: "The only thing necessary for the triumph of evil is for good men to do nothing."

In a democracy, the place to improve the quality of leadership is in the voting booth. You should have spoken up.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has recently started a catering business and we have a question we would like to have you answer. When we serve weddings, the orchestra expects to be fed just like the guests. We think they are paid to come and do their job, not to eat.

Right?
NO NAME, PLEASE
DEAR NO NAME: The caterer takes his orders about whom (to feed from the person who foots the bill. But it seems only fair to feed musicians who work over a period of time which includes a meal. (Or would you have them bring hot dogs in their clarinet cases?)

HERE COME THE BRIDES

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) —The four daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Hund don't want their father to foot the bills for four weddings, so they're all getting married in one ceremony.

"The girls thought it would be easier on their dad's pocketbook this way," said Mrs. Hund.

When Judith, 24, became engaged on Valentine's Day, she jokingly said she'd wait for the others before setting a date. Within weeks Janice, 23, Joanne, 21, and Jeanette, 18, were engaged too, and they agreed on a common wedding date.

SAN ANTONIO ED
DEAR ED: I understand and respect your values, but then I am not your wife. Your

Blood Pressure

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am under medication for high blood pressure. With it, it remains normal. I have been told not to eat herring in wine sauce and strong cheese as that would react with the medication and make it ineffective. But I love cheese. What kind can I eat?

It isn't exactly a matter of making the medication "ineffective." Rather there's a substance in cheese and some other things that changes the action, making the blood pressure go higher.

The result, so far as you are concerned, is the same—your blood pressure isn't controlled. The substance is tyramine, and it's particularly prevalent in aged cheese—cheddar, for one. So avoid aged cheeses, and discuss with your doctor whether in your case you can safely eat some of the other cheeses that do not involve aging.

Other foods to avoid for the same purpose are yeast extracts, chicken liver, chocolate, beer, and wines.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you be kind enough to outline in "seventh grade language" (so I can understand it) what is meant when a doctor uses the expression "triglycerides"?

—D.G.

Well, blood, besides containing hemoglobin, antibodies, platelets, and a lot of other useful things, also contains a variety of fatty materials, of "lipids." Best known of these, for whatever reason, is cholesterol, and a good many people are intent on keeping their cholesterol levels down to a proper level.

However, the other fatty substances—the triglycerides—may be just as important, and conceivably even more so if we ever find out just how they behave, in relation to hardening of the arteries.

With that in mind, I've included triglycerides (and the effect of diet on them) in a booklet, "Control Cholesterol Sensibly." If you want a copy, send 25 cents and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope. Please include your zip code on the envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter is 18 and snovy other hair on her head is snow white. Surely a girl that young must lack something to have her hair turn gray that young.

We have a doctor with the attitude, "Well, you can't do anything about it." I am not satisfied with that. What is your opinion? Thank you for any advice.—Mrs. A.S.

Maybe you won't like my advice, but I suggest you stop being dissatisfied with what your doctor said. Instances of very early gray hair pop up frequently, a quirk of nature. They do not signify anything wrong with the person's health.

There isn't anything known that will do anything about it except to dye the hair.

Troubled with gout? To learn of a new treatment for this cruel and painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Gout—The Modern Way To Stop It." Please enclose a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

SPECIAL NOTICE ON EXCISE TAX REBATE

President Nixon has recommended Legislation to repeal the 7% Excise Tax on new passenger cars, retroactive to August 15, 1971. New Car Dealers have been informed to tell their customers that if this Legislation is enacted, Auto Manufacturers will refund the amount of tax reduction to retail purchasers of the new 1971 and 1972 cars, purchased between Aug. 15th and the date on which the tax is repealed.

If the Excise Tax repeal is enacted retroactively, the Auto Manufacturers will send each customer a certification and request for adjustment. The customer will be requested to certify as to his purchase and return the form to the factory for their refund.

Hemphill-Wells

To Print Diary Of Drew Pearson

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York publishing firm of Holt, Rinehart & Winston plans to publish the 1.7 million word personal diary of the late Washington columnist, Drew Pearson.

Tyler Abell, Pearson's stepson, disclosed on Thursday acquisition of the diary by Holt, but he declined to discuss financial details.

An official of Holt said, however, that the contract provided for "a solid six-figure advance" and publishing sources estimated that the three-volume work can be expected to draw more than $1 million in royalties.

Aaron Asher, vice president and editorial director of Holt, said of the Pearson papers: "In many instances we found that what he put in his diary at night was what he couldn't put in his column by day."

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW

—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An adverse day and evening if you in any way downgrade others, or perform an unsatisfactory job at work, or take unwise chances in any direction. Use this day to wind up what has been left undone. You can keep from upsetting any present conditions — if you try.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Handle those duties that require tact and diplomacy now whether of a business or government nature and do them well. Put everything in order so that future success is assured.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) First, improve your appearance. Show others you like them and get good results therefrom. Be kind to young ones. Improve health so that the boys ahead are happier for you. Be wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your home needs improving. Do so by adding artistic pieces of furniture. Stop bringing up moot points of home. Avoid arguments there. Look on the positive side of life.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Not a good day to start on a trip.

You have to be extra careful in travel now. It is better you focus attention on unfinished tasks, going over papers, etc. Caution is the keynote.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Start fixing up property. Be sure your home is weathered nicely for the coming seasons. Make sure to pay bills on time, and fix your budget. It is important to avoid any extravagance.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have a feeling of restlessness and want to dash off on a tangent, but if you keep busy, you soon will be on an even keel. Improve your appearance. The social line tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have many small duties to attend which may take perseverance in order to get them all behind you. A friend in trouble needs your assistance. Do not disappoint this person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You are in a mood to criticize others. Do not look on the faulty side of others. Look on the good side. Steer clear of group affairs where trouble looms. Show that you have wisdom.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Higher-ups are late about something. Put a wide berth between you and them. Keep busy doing your work with precision. Pay bills on time. Impress others with your good citizenry.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You want to get started on a new project today, but this is not the right time. Next week would be better. A new acquaintance gives ideas, but they are no more than ideas.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Complete those little duties that have been accumulating for some time. Being overly suspicious of mate could lead to real trouble. Show that you are a reasonable person. Have faith.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Not a good day to discuss a problem of length with an associate who is not in a good mood. Don't fall for a trap one is trying to set for you. Show that you are an intelligent person.

Officers Shot At Mission, Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — A Corpus Christi rookie policeman was shot in the head by a sniper late Thursday, the second South Texas officer to be wounded in the same day although in different towns.

Corpus Christi Police Chief James H. Avant identified the policeman as Juan W. Surtain and said the 22-year-old officer was undergoing emergency surgery for a bullet wound in the head.

Avant said the patrolman was shot as he walked out of the police station around 10:45 p.m. to begin his regular night patrol. Officers combed a wide area behind the police station but found no trace of the assailant.

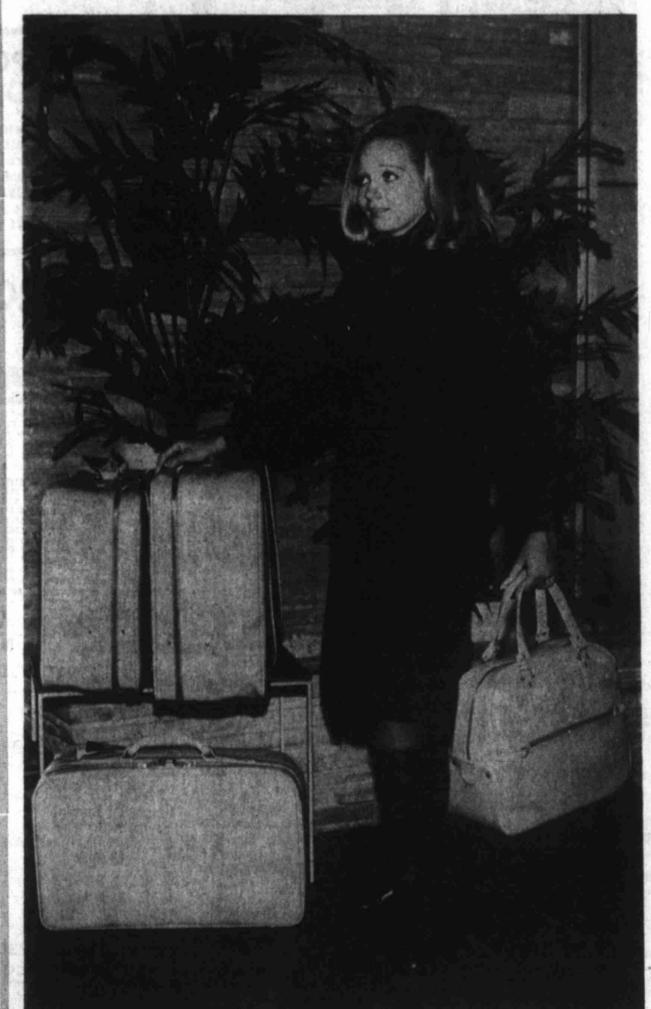

Earlier in the day, Leo Ward, a policeman at Mission was wounded by one or both of two men he had stopped on a routine traffic investigation.

One of the men being sought turned himself into police at Mission Thursday evening.

Meanwhile, South Texas officers intensified their search for the second man.

Avant said he had no information immediately which would link the two shooting incidents.

Mayor Ronnie Sizemore and other city officials were meeting with Avant early today.
