San Quentin Escape Bid Believed Part Of Plot

Prison Officials Eye Violent Hour

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — The abortive San Quentin Prison escape try which took six lives may have been part of a large-scale breakout plan using uniforms of slain guards, the head of California's state prisons says.

"It was more than just George Jackson and John (Larry) Spain trying to escape," prison-chief Raymond K. Procnunier said at a news conference Monday. "It's my suspicion there were many more who were supposed to go with them."

SHOT FATALLY

Only Jackson, 29, who was shot fatally by a tower guard, and Spain, 22, who was captured in a prison courtyard, ran from the San Quentin adjustment center, where three guards and two white honor inmates had been killed, prison officials reported.

"It may have come off prematurely," Procnunier said. "We don't know if it was a plot throughout the system."

He said rumors of a massive prison escape attempt by "revolutionary types" had been circulating for months in California prisons and had caused him to meet a week ago with top state prison officials to discuss security measures to prevent violence.

Procnunier said the discovery of a 9mm foreign-made automatic in the Afro-style hairdo of Jackson, one of the so-called Soledad Brothers, may have started the break prematurely Saturday.

SHOT THE DROP

Jackson had just returned to the maximum security adjustment center after talking with attorney Stephen M. Bingham, when the gun was found during a routine "skin search," Procnunier said.

After Jackson grabbed the pistol and "got the drop on the guard," he ordered several officers to the floor and made one guard release 25 other prisoners in the first floor cells, prison officials said.

They included John Clutchette, 28, and Fleeta Drumgo, 26, the two other Soledad Brothers awaiting trial with Jackson on charges of slaying a Soledad Prison guard.

There was also Ruchell Magee, 32, indicted along with black militant Angela Davis on charges of murder, kidnap and conspiracy in an Aug. 7, 1970 Marin County Civic Center shootout in which a judge, two convicts and Jackson's brother, Jonathan, 17, were slain.

Procnunier said he believes at least several prisoners may have planned to masquerade with clothes from slain guards, because two of the dead guards had been found stripped to their underwear. He said bullets in soap possessed by convicts and a partially completed gun fashioned from a water pipe were discovered later in a search of the 2,000-man prison on San Francisco Bay.

U.S. Dollar Buying Spree Hits In Tokyo

LONDON (AP) — The U. S. dollar weakened sharply in European foreign exchanges today but showed increased strength in Tokyo as the Japanese government again refused to raise the value of its money.

European dealers reported signs of big money operators entering the market to unload dollars and a downward trend for the American money appeared to be developing.

But a dollar buying spree developed in Tokyo and the Bank of Japan was forced to shell out about $110 million to satisfy demand.

Japan's acting foreign minister, Toshio Kimura, ruled out a unilateral increase in the value of the yen. He said any change should come as a result of talks among leading countries directly involved in the present monetary crisis.

This was the picture in major exchanges at mid-afternoon: London—One dollar bought 40.88 British pence, 40.98 pence at the closing Monday and 41.33 on Aug. 13 before the crisis. This amounted to a cut in the dollar's value since Aug. 13 of 1.11 per cent.

Rome—The dollar bought 615 lire on the Milan money market; 617.50 Monday, and 620.50 on Aug. 13. This was a devaluation of the dollar of eight-tenths of one per cent.

Amsterdam—The dollar was worth 3.454375 guilders at the close and 3.483125 Monday. This was a 4.58 per cent devaluation of the dollar from the Aug. 13 rate of 3.62 guilders.

Violent Skid Kills 2 Men

A violent skid during a rainstorm killed two men and injured a third as thundershowers rolled over Northwest, North Central and East Texas early today.

Five inches of rain fell at Lueders north of Abilene by mid-morning, flooding several highways in the Abilene area.

Torrential rain fell at Abilene. The fatal crash occurred when two cars collided at an intersection at Longview. The dead were identified as Stephen Louis Scobee, 20, and Don Allen Gahler, 19. Injured was Eugene Wather, 41.

By 5 a.m. thundershowers were scattered along the Red River from near Childress to about 40 miles east of Wichita Falls and extended south to near Mineral Wells and Abilene and west to the Plainview area. Graham in Young County got about four inches of rain overnight and rain fell up to half an inch an hour in places.

INTEREST RATES Move To Hike Funds For Home Loan Lending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government moved today to put more money into the housing market in an effort to stabilize interest rates and make more money available for lending.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board announced plans to free $800 million by sayings and loan associations to increase the availability of funds for home loan lending.

It did so by reducing the minimum liquidity requirements, the amount of cash and securities that federally insured savings and loan associations must keep on hand, from 7½ to 7 per cent.

At the same time, the board's companion corporation, the Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corp., announced it was putting $300 million into purchases of government-backed mortgage loans in an effort to subsidize interest rates.

The action will reduce by three points the amount that sellers must pay on FHA-VA loans when mortgages are sold in the secondary market through the mortgage loan corporation.

In addition, the corporation is increasing its activity in purchasing participations in conventional loans by putting another $700 million into the conventional loan market.

The board said that action will reduce interest rates on conventional loans from 7½ per cent to 7 per cent.

Body Is Found In Car Trunk

DALLAS (AP) — The body of a man believed slain in suburban Farmers Branch Sunday was found in the blood-stained trunk of his automobile in a Dallas Love Field parking lot Monday night.

The chief criminal investigator for Farmers Branch police, Capt. Robert Kitchens, identified the victim as Billy Cletus Barnes, 41.

Prison Mutiny Toll Hits 38

SEOUL (AP) — The death toll in the bloody mutiny by 24 convicts rose to 38 today and five persons were still missing, the Defense Ministry reported.

The ministry said the convicts were "special military prisoners" on Shimil island, in the Yellow Sea 15 miles offshore.

After killing at least 13 of the 23 military prison guards on the island Monday, they hijacked a fishing boat, landed in Inchon, and commandeered a bus in which they rode to Yongdungpo, an industrial suburb of Seoul. The bus ran up on the sidewalk, and troops and police surrounded it. Firing broke out, and the escapees began exploding grenades.

The blasts killed 14 convicts and a 5-year-old girl, and wounded the child's mother, two other civilians and three of the convicts.

Amid the initial confusion, the Counter-Espionage Operations Command announced that the convicts were North Korean agents. This caused the U. S. and South Korean military forces to go on an alert until the report was corrected.

West Texas Rarity Becoming Common

Farmers greeted more rain in the upper end of Lake Thomas area with mixed emotions.

"The rain is always welcome," said Alton Marwitz of the State National Bank.

"But the farmer is concerned about not being able to get into the field."

Reports of light rain in most of Howard County were countered with a few areas of heavy rain. Vealmoor, Luther, Vincent and Coahoma all reported about one inch of rain along with thunder and lightning. Vincent topped the list with 1.8 inches in about one and one-half hours.

Vealmoor reported the electricity out. Big Spring experiment station reported .09 between 8 a.m. and noon today.

The Colorado River Municipal District officials were expecting Lake Thomas to pick up between two and three inches in elevation from the rain Monday and today.

This morning Thomas had picked up .3 foot in elevation since 7 a.m. due to the direct two-inch rain which fell on the lake.

Current elevation at Thomas is 2,226.13, which is 42,000 acre-feet. If elevation goes up to 2,229, which is about what is expected, according to Tom Ivey, director of CRMWD.

If the lake reaches the expected elevation the lake will have 51,000 acre-feet or 16.6 billion gallons of water, which is more water than the district uses in a 12-month period, Ivey said. However, evaporation will reduce this somewhat.

R. A. Schooling, administrative assistant, said all the creeks are running well. At the upper end of Lake Thomas the creek is 12½ feet and rising and Bull Creek on the Snyder-Gail Highway is running bank-full.

Reports today indicated that Hermleigh had received four inches of rain. Run-off from the Snyder-Hermleigh area reaches the river below Lake Thomas and eventually goes into Lake Spence, Ivey said. It will be a couple of days before the effects of the rain on Spence are known, he said.

Snyder reported dark skies and heavy rains this morning. Upwards of two inches had been received in the area between 6 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. and the rain was continuing, according to reports from the sheriff's office.

"It's so dark out here you would almost think it is night, and there is a lot of thunder and lightning," said the sheriff's office dispatcher. No high winds or hail were reported in the area, though.

Lamesa reported 25 inch, Gail one inch and three inches were reported at the Colorado River five miles north of the Howard County line.

"This rain is causing a lot of growth in the cotton crop," said Jim Allison, assistant Howard County agent.

"But the cotton is not fruiting out. The growth is stalk growth and not reproductive growth. The farmers need some hot and dry weather through Sept. 15. If they get it we could have one of the best crops the county has had for a long time," said Allison.

Public Confused About What Freeze Requires

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite President Nixon's prediction that America will comply voluntarily with his wage-price-freeze, an Associated Press spot check indicates the public still is confused about what the freeze requires.

FLAT 'NO'

The man in the street still asks such questions as, "Will I get my raise?" This is despite a week-long flurry of official, highly publicized rulings that in nearly every case was a flat "no."

To answer the public's questions the government has converted Internal Revenue Service taxpayer assistance offices in 380 cities into local wage-price service and complaint centers.

To find out what the public is asking, Associated Press bureaus in a half-dozen major cities asked a sampling of citizens for their questions on the freeze.

Here is a selection of questions, with answers based on official policy rulings and policymakers' statements:

Q. I was given a raise effective Aug. 15, the day Nixon spoke. I was working at the new rate—I was at work in fact—when the President issued the order. Will I get the raise?

A. No. Unless your raise was in effect Aug. 14 you may not receive any increase except for a bona fide promotion, for completing educational requirements such as a teacher's degree or for certain military bonuses such as hostile-fire pay or proficiency pay.

FRINGE BENEFITS

Q. What about longevity raises? asks a San Francisco resident.

A. They are not allowed, nor are cost-of-living increases.

Q. What about fringe benefits?

A. They may not be increased, whether or not there is any direct cash payment. These are considered compensation.

Q. Is it really going to be across the board, or will a lot of exceptions be made? asks a New York municipal worker.

A. This remains to be seen. Almost no exceptions have been made on wages, a few more on prices. Prices may rise on interest rates, stocks, bonds, raw agricultural commodities such as fresh fruits and vegetables, state and local taxes, school tuitions if the increase was already announced, and exports.

AUTO INSURANCE

Q. From Philadelphia: If an auto insurance policy expires before Nov. 12, the end of the freeze, can a company charge a higher rate than had been approved before Aug. 14?

A. Yes, provided a substantial number of policies were written at the rate before the freeze took effect. No rate increases may be granted during the freeze, however.

Q. A union contract was negotiated before Aug. 14 but not approved by the membership until a day or two after the freeze. It provided for retroactive pay to the time the contract expired July 1. Can these raises be collected after the freeze is lifted?

A. Probably not. The raise may not go into effect at least until after the freeze, and retroactive payments covering the freeze period are expressly forbidden. The government has not ruled on whether retroactive pay for the July 1-Aug. 14 period is permissible. It would have been if the contract had been ratified before the freeze.

Q. Are prices on foreign goods going up to stay?

A. One way or another, probably yes. The President imposed a 10-per-cent import duty surcharge that is temporary but indefinite.

Generous Response Gives Boost To The Bible Fund

Many friends had responded today to the annual High School Bible Class Fund appeal, and it made a nice gain. It was helped along by a $100 gift from the Vealmoor Baptist Church, from many nice gifts from classes, organizations and individuals.

The Fund, as it has through the years, pays for instruction of courses which present the Bible as a work of history, literature, morals and ethics. Many young people, students in the past, testify to its great value, and today's crop of students seek the same basic guidance.

The course can be operated only through private subscription, and you are invited to help. Make check to HIGH SCHOOL BIBLE FUND and send to The Herald for acknowledgment.

Your newspaper serves as a clearing house and will pass the money on to the sponsoring Howard County Ministers Fellowship.

Women 'Should Be Happy' To Wear New Fall Clothes

By LUCIE NOEL
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — Paris fashion designers have forgotten about mini, midi and maxi skirt lengths in their fall and winter collections, and have concentrated on making elegant clothes that women should be happy to wear.

Photos from the collections released today show that most hemlines cover the knees for daytime except in brief chasubles.

Coats come in many varieties. Raglan sleeves are revived in many. Hooded duffle coats come in all lengths and colors, sometimes braided at the seams. Patou showed a back-belted frock coat. Dior, Molyneux and Venet presented full-swirling pyramid coats. Cardin fitted coats to the torso through vertical tucking, with the fullness released.

Ribbed knit tights and body stockings were widely shown, often white but sometimes black. The rustle of taffeta, the return of satin, and of that favorite hardy perennial black velvet, play up charm and beauty. Black is preferred. Victoriana is revived for the romantic but for the functional minded there are jersey dresses featuring wild colored bands decorating hemlines, sleeves or tops.

The collections are a riot of colors, with two ranges of red. One stresses orangey reds, the second crimson, with fuchsia, plum purple, wine and eggplant variations. Green stages a comeback with tones from olive to cypress. Tender pastels appear for evening wear, and there is a dash of cafe-au-lait.

Lovers of the perennial Chanel suits will love the new ones, even though Coco Chanel was no longer there to design them. They're in stunning plaids, in fondant or bright or neutral tweeds, warm, light, soft as swansdown.

Elsewhere suits are classic, with shoulders broadened, extended, tabbed, but less exaggerated than last season. The rounded look through raglan sleeves succeeds at Griffe, Cardin and Balmain. Deep batwing or dolman armholes appear at Cardin, Castillo and Balmain. The chasuble dress, chasuble Bermudas and evening pinafore are prominent, in wools for functional daytime models to evening glamors.

Accessories come in for particular care. Gloves from short to shoulder-length are a must. Head-hugging jersey caps, vinyl snoods, fur turbans, new jewelry and sequin embroidery add gaiety and glitter to the winter scene.

Strict Bid Purchase Policy Put Into Effect In County

A strict policy of buying as much car, truck and equipment parts, fuel and lubricants on a bid basis to be put in force immediately, according to county commissioners.

Visitors Here Proud Of India's Progress

By JEAN FANNIN No longer is India the land of jewel-becked princes and princesses riding atop elephants.

It is the land of Rudyard Kipling as depicted in "The Jungle Book" and "Kim". Today, according to four visitors to Big Spring, India is a modern country which is becoming more modern, and its people are proud of its progress.

The men, Bashir Ahmad Akhtar, Dattatraya Narayanrao Goswamy, Ramchander Bhimrao Khairatkar and Syed Muhammad Madaruddin, are soil conservationists who are visiting the United States in an effort to learn more modern ways of controlling soil erosion and conserving water.

AGRICULTURAL In India 70 per cent of the population is agricultural, producing rice, corn, wheat, cotton. Most of which stays in the country.

Perhaps almost the most populous country in the world for its area, India's people have curbed their population explosion, Akhtar said. An average family now has three to four children who are given free education through college.

Although only a third the size of the United States, India has a population of more than 537 million. "Since independence we have really progressed," Akhtar said. India gained independence from Great Britain in 1947.

NATIVE LANGUAGE Since that time also there has been a move to replace English as the national language with the native Hindi. Normally wives do not work, but many women share business responsibilities working in business offices and politics as well as serving as doctors, lawyers and judges. The army, navy and air force do not draft members; service is voluntary.

Commissioners instructed Randell to see that all such extra purchases were stopped and to see that all cars, trucks and equipment were serviced from bulk materials purchased on bid.

County Judge A. G. Mitchell proposed the stipulation that all repairs, except in case of emergency, be done by county mechanics in the road and bridge department rather than at commercial garages.

Additional materials now bought as needed are to be put on big bids, according to the county dads. Batteries and spark plugs are among the items to be placed on bid.

Sheriff A. N. Standard, according to Randell, has refused to put on his department's cars the type of tires purchased on bid by the county because he says they are unsafe.

Bids for the supply of fuel and lubricants for the road and bridge department were submitted Monday, in addition to Boatler Fina and Continental Oil, by Gulf Oil, Mobil Oil, Sinclair, and Texaco.

Boatler was low bidder on motor oil, 55 cents per gallon; differential oil, 12 1/2 cents per pound; hydraulic oil, 40 cents per gallon; and diesel fuel, 10.68 cents per gallon.

Continental Oil was low bidder on diesel motor oil, 65 cents per gallon; grease, 14.60 cents per pound; and ethyl gasoline, 13.40 cents, per gallon.

Re-Evaluation Of Oil Re-Scheduled The scheduled board of equalization session of the county commissioners with Earl Bruce, of Pritchard & Abbott, oil and utility property evaluators, has been postponed until 1:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 30.

Commissioners will meet with Bruce at that time to discuss possible adjustments of valuations on oil and utilities properties and to determine if the companies are being taxed on a basis fair to both the county and the company, according to County Judge A. G. Mitchell.

THEFTS Police investigated a burglary at Broughton Truck and Implement Co., 910 Lamesa Highway, Monday. Taken in the burglary was an undetermined amount of change from a coin-operated machine, assorted tools valued at $200, four tires valued at $92 and a portable television set, unknown value.

Mrs. Richard Atkins, 1408 Rannels, reported Monday to police that over $50 worth of cosmetics had been stolen from her home. Mrs. Atkins is a cosmetic saleslady.

A break-in and theft was reported Monday morning to the police. Approximately $10 in an envelope was stolen from the East Fourth Baptist Church office. Officers advised that the lock on the office door had been picked.

ALTHOUGH HE UPHELD FEDERAL FREEZE One Last Try For Pay Increases

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says he will make one last attempt today to get federal authorities to let Texas give state employees and teachers the pay raises promised them on Sept. 1.

Martin left for Washington later Monday after handing down a ruling that the state must obey President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze, despite the defiance of Gov. Preston Smith.

138,000 TEACHERS

Martin told State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert that the law requires him to conform to the President's order and withhold almost 2 1/2 months of the $20 million raise given 63,000 state employees by the last legislature and the $40 million raise due 138,000 teachers under a 10-year automatic pay raise bill passed by the 1969 legislature.

Smith had claimed, in an official proclamation and on a national television panel Sunday, that the President had no authority to override state law authorizing the raises.

"While I am in Washington Tuesday, in addition to meeting with Department of Justice officials, I plan to seek a personal appearance before the Cost of Living Council to explain the unique circumstances existing in Texas due to the state's system of appropriations as it affects state employees and school teachers and to press for exceptions and exemptions," Martin said.

LOST IN '62

The attorney general has had an appeal pending with the Cost of Living Council since last week that federal authorities make an exception for Texas because the state's business year does not begin until Sept. 1. Most other states start their business years on Jan. 1 or on July 1, although Texas' pay raises are not effective until Sept. 1. They were approved before the legislature adjourned May 31.

Martin said he hoped to appear personally before Secretary of Treasury John B. Connally, head of the Cost of Living Council, and Arnold Webber, executive director of the council. Martin is a long time personal and political friend of Connally, having been appointed secretary of state by Connally after losing a 1962 race for lieutenant governor that was won by Smith.

CRAWFORD MARTIN

Smith told a news conference Monday that he still would like to see the federal courts decide whether a presidential order can supersede a state law. The U.S. Justice Department had threatened to seek an injunction against Smith but after Martin's ruling said there would be no reason to file the suit if the pay raises are held up as ordered.

"COURTESY CALL" Martin flew to Washington to hand-carry his legal opinion on the issue to the Justice Department and to make a "courtesy call" on Connally.

"President Nixon's recent executive order providing for stabilization of prices, rents, wages and salaries so valid and applicable to the state of Texas," Martin's opinion said. "Gov. Smith's proclamation of Aug. 19, 1971, does not repeal, modify or affect said executive order."

The comptroller immediately sent Martin a letter promising to abide by the decision and issue the pay checks minus the raises.

South was the victim of an extremely adverse trump break in today's six spade contract, however a careful study of the remaining distribution enabled him to uncover a line of play that succeeded in overcoming mother nature's unfortunate division in the spade suit.

The first three calls were routine and North chose to temporize by giving a spade preference over three diamonds in order to establish the trump suit before making a try for bigger things. When South rebid four diamonds, North cue bid the ace of clubs. This was all South needed to hear to proceed directly to slam. East showed excellent restraint in not doubling.

West opened the jack of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. A spade was led, East followed with the three and South put in the ten. When West discarded a heart, revealing the 5-0 division in trumps, declarer was apparently confronted with an insurmountable obstacle. He studied the layout for a long time and finally observed that the hand was not hopeless—provided that East's original distribution was 5-3-3-2, including three diamonds.

The ace and king of diamonds were cashed and then a diamond was ruffed with the seven of spades as East followed suit with the queen. The ace, king of hearts came next on which South discarded one diamond and the king of clubs. Shedding a club winner was an essential ingredient of his campaign as will become apparent in a moment.

A third round of hearts was trumped with the deuce of spades as East continued to follow suit each time. With eight tricks in, this was the position:

The six of clubs was led over to the queen and when this too lived, South was set for his winning end position. A heart was led from dummy. In order to prevent declarer from obtaining a cheap ruff, East trumped with the nine of spades. Declarer overruffed with the queen and led the eight of diamonds which he trumped with dummy's eight of spades. East overtrumped with the jack—leaving him with the king-four of spades and South with the ace-five.

On the forced trump return, declarer merely covered East's spot as cheaply as possible to win the last two tricks. All he lost on the deal was one spade trick—the jack.

Right Of Prayer Spelled Out

As strange as it may seem, the "prayer amendment" battle has remained alive and has a good chance to get a decisive vote in the Congress.

Nobody should fear such a vote but it's an utter waste of time unless, by some slim chance, the resulting debate would convince the amendment's supporters that they have been dead wrong all the time. The proposed amendment is a middle-minded affirmation of a right already entirely granted in the U.S. Constitution's cogently-stated First Amendment. The proposal states:

"Nothing contained in the Constitution shall abridge the right of persons lawfully assembled in any public building which is supported in whole or in part through the expenditure of public funds, to participate in nondenominational prayer."

The First Amendment says it better. It strictly forbids the Congress to pass any law respecting the establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof. Nothing else is needed. Nothing else is even desirable. And nothing could be clearer.

Persons lawfully assembled anywhere may pray, or not pray, all they wish.

The "prayer amendment" campaign is a diversion for a few people who either find excitement in their ignorance or who are able to make a few dollars by fanning the fears of the misinformed. Either way they have nearly found enough support to force a vote in the Congress. It's no big deal. Most congressmen can read the First Amendment for what it is: a magnificent statement in support of personal liberty.

The 'Super Cities'

There were probably few Americans surprised to learn that the 1970 census showed that 72.5 per cent of the country's population of more than 208 million people now live in urban areas.

However, the fact that 35 per cent of the population is concentrated in 25 "super cities" or defined-urbanized areas may be startling.

A "super city" is defined by the Census Bureau as a city with a population of 50,000 and more plus "the densely built-up adjoining area whether incorporated or not."

New York City, plus Newark, Paterson and Jersey City, N.J., form the largest of such urbanized areas. Texas has a number of such areas: Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, Fort Worth, El Paso, Austin, Corpus Christi.

Statistics don't mean much by themselves. They do point up more impressively a need for adjustments — which inevitably will come some day — to meet the problems created by such concentrations of people.

An Old Recipe

Around The Rim

Jo Bright

Dedicated label readers of consumer products can often find interesting little stories on their kitchen shelves.

For instance, most of the history of Lea and Perrins Worcestershire Sauce is right there on the label.

JOHN WHEELY LEA was a druggist in the English market town of Worcester. William Perrins ran a chemist shop in the nearby town of Evesham. On January 1, 1835, they organized Lea and Perrins, a Worcester chemist shop that was also a distribution center for pharmaceuticals, toiletries and food products concocted on the premises.

"FROM A recipe of a nobleman in the county" (inscribed on either side of the shield) refers to Lord Sandys, native of Worcester, ex-governor of the Indian state of Bengal and a connoisseur of exotic eastern sauces and spices. In 1835, Lord Sandys returned from Bengal with a recipe for what became the first Worcestershire Sauce, thus those words, "the original" to distinguish it from the multitude of imitations.

Worcestershire translates to "country of Worcester", and the shield emblazoned on the label is the ancient coat of arms of the country.

LORD SANDYS recipe, calling for tamarinds, garlic, eschallots, onions and molasses, almost turned out to be a catastrophe. The initial batch was unpalatable — Lord Sandys rejected it — and crocks of the stuff sat unused in Lea and Perrins' basement where, like old wine, it mellowed.

Sometime later, someone had the courage to try another lick. It was delicious. How long did the mixture age? The company isn't telling.

THE RECIPE, too, is top-secret and has never changed. Neither has the shape of the bottle or its wrapping. The company did consider a new design a few years ago, but rejected all proposals.

After all, why change something that's been a best-seller for 136 years?

The Labor View

Marquis Childs

By WILLIAM S. WHITE (Substituting for Marquis Childs)

WASHINGTON — The focus of the real struggle over President Nixon's new plans to revive the economy and to end a long era of undue American generosity toward Europe and Japan will not lie between the two political parties. Rather, the core of the action will be intramural as between the super leaders of labor, such as George Meany of AFL-CIO and Leonard Woodcock of the auto workers, and their own rank and file.

THE CONTROLLING Democrats of Congress are not really going to buck the President. For he has pretty well shot the economic issue out from under them for the 1971 presidential election. They know as much; and while there is going to be some grumbling about too little and too late and so on, no responsible Democrat is actually going to die on the barricades against Mr. Nixon here.

But the position among labor is something else altogether. Meany, Woodcock and Company, not to mention Harry Bridges on the West Coast and others, are not going to go along with Mr. Nixon (though, to be sure, they probably would not have in any event, as to 1972).

THIS DOES NOT necessarily mean, however, that the ordinary working stiff — and their wives, who are distinctly worried about the inflated living costs which the President is attacking — are going to follow Messrs. Meany and his colleagues.

It had, in fact, long been apparent, before the President's wage-and-price freeze was even a small gleam in his eye, that shirt-sleeve labor had become far less enchanted with the strike, with its payless paydays and its cheerless lining up for one form or another of welfareism, than had its great chieftains.

WHAT HAS been set up here, in short, is an eyeball-to-eyeball confrontation between the Indians and the chiefs in the labor movement.

Any man who attempted at this early stage flatly to predict the outcome here would be very foolish. All the same, certain factors which might — repeat might — suggest an ultimate victory of the Indians over the chiefs are perfectly discernible.

TO BEGIN WITH, the Indians are far more sophisticated than they used to be and millions of them have long since moved from the hovel life to life in the split-level — from lower economic class to middle class. They (and their wives) have no difficulty at all in figuring out that increased pay bought at the cost of long and dreary strikes is twice a chimera. Even when they at length obtain the raises sought they are aware that it will take a long, long time to recompense themselves for the wages lost in the meantime. And, again, they know, too, that increases are in any case swallowed up by what has been the inevitably accompanying rising cost of everything they have to buy.

THIS IS ANOTHER way of saying that the bottom issue here is not really unemployment as such. It is, simply, inflation. Moreover, of the 20 million fixed-income people most cruelly at present being pinched by inflation, many millions are far from rich and cosseted. They are, instead, elderly retirees subsisting on pensions — and they are also in many cases the relatives or close friends of Indians in the labor movement who themselves will one day be living on pensions, too.

It would be ironic — and it is very far from inconceivable — that in taking up an adamant position against the Nixon policies the chiefs might at last look over their shoulders to find that their Indians had, as the expression goes, had enough.

Prosperous Road
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Turnpike, most prosperous toll road in the state, may be kept as a toll road for the next 20 years although the bonds will be amortized within two years. The money that would keep coming into the Louisville-Elizabethtown road would finance a southwards toll road extension.

Great News Items

Art Buchwald

There were many great news stories that never made the papers. These were my favorites.

It was a cold winter's night in Secret Falls, when patrolman Sean Morgan was cruising around in his car. Suddenly the radio barked, "Go to 107 Maple Street; a pregnant lady needs help."

Sean turned on his siren and at 80 miles an hour sped to the address. Waiting in front of the house was the nervous husband, who explained his wife was about to have a baby, but he couldn't get his car started and he didn't know what to do.

Sean said he would take the wife in his car, but the husband said it was too late. His wife had started giving birth to the baby in the house.

THE PATROLMAN rushed inside and shouted to the husband, "I want hot water, lots of hot water." The husband dashed into the kitchen and started heating up kettles while Sean went into the bedroom, took off his jacket and rolled up his sleeves.

In a few minutes the husband raced in with the boiling water.

"Here's the water," the husband said. "What are you going to do with it?"

"How the hell do I know?" Sean said, shrugging his shoulders. "I'm not a doctor."

CHARLES WEATHERSPOON hated abstract art and the cult that went with it. When he heard there was going to be an abstract art exhibition he submitted a painting done by a chimpanzee and then he waited to see the results.

The day of judging arrived, and a group of distinguished art critics walked down the aisles, studying each painting.

Then they came to Weatherspoon's entry. They all stopped and stared and finally the silence was broken by James Corrigan, the greatest abstract-art expert in the United States, who said, "That's the louiest abstract painted by a chimpanzee that I've ever seen."

MAJOR ROY McMULLEN, World

War II ace, who was shot down in his fighter plane near the end of the war, was stationed in Germany in 1961 as commander of a squadron. One day he was visited by Friedrich von Ralston, a Luftwaffe fighter pilot who had been appointed liaison officer to Major McMullen's outfit.

The two started exchanging war stories and Von Ralston told of the day he shot down a P-38 over Stuttgart.

"I was shot down over Stuttgart," Major McMullen said, "on November 12, 1944, in a P-38."

"THAT'S THE DAY I shot down the plane," Von Ralston said excitedly. "It was number 345."

"Then you shot me down," Major McMullen said.

"Yah," Von Ralston said, "it was me."

"Why you no good S.O.B.," Major McMullen said, and hit Von Ralston right in the teeth.

CHUCK WINTHROP, who weighed only 149 pounds, was too light to make the Wallaboo University football team, but he tried so hard that the coach took pity on him and let him suit up for every game, though he always kept him on the bench.

In the final game of the year against Wallaboo's archrivals, Gazonga Tech, Wallaboo's first-string quarterback was injured in the second quarter. In the final quarter, Wallaboo's second-string quarterback was also injured. Gazonga was leading 6-0.

The coach looked down the bench and his eyes met Chuck's.

"PLEASE, COACH," pleaded Chuck. "My parents came 2,000 miles to see me play. Send me in."

The coach shook his head. "You're too light."

"It's my last year. Just let me play for a few minutes," Chuck cried.

The coach got up from the bench and walked over to Chuck. He put his hand on his shoulder and he said, "No, you're too light. We'll finish up the game without a quarterback."

And Wallaboo did. The final score was still 6-0.

'BUT—A LOT OF THINGS I CAN'T HAVE'

Concede? Not Janeway!

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The new economic game plan has been acclaimed for its daring and broad dimension, but it appears to have silenced one of the administration's chief critics — only temporarily, if at all.

Elliot Janeway, the economic consultant who has been blasting away at policies that have just been junked, is still as unmerciful as ever, still displeased.

He sees the stock market heading down next year, perhaps to 500 points on the Dow Jones Industrial Average, along with labor unrest and problems in coming up with a budget that totally satisfied Rep. Wilbur Mills.

He is just as scathing in his assessment of the administration's understanding of the real problems that beset the country.

"They read no history," he said. "They plagiarize from their critics," he added.

As Janeway sees it, one suspects, the real problem with the crowd in Washington is that they don't listen more closely. To Janeway, that is.

"Anything the government might now do to get with Janeway thinking will be in the first quarter," he lamented shortly before the new game plan was announced, referring to the inevitable time lag between an economic decision and the subsequent results.

And if a cardinal sin was committed in not heeding Janeway's advice before now, it certainly is nothing less than a mortal sin that the administration hasn't been on more intimate terms with Mills.

"I am very proud of the way he takes from me," said Janeway of the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, a man he respects highly for both his erudition and power. He was speaking about ideas.

This is the way Janeway communicates in speeches, seminars, talks shows, newsletters, books, telephone conversations and breakfast chats at his brownstone mansion with bankers and congressmen.

Work never ceases, and seldom does the advice, whether it is sought, bought or unsolicited. And his communications are quite often correct. He saw the stock market collapse coming in 1968. And he deduced that the Vietnam war would cut into rather than boost corporate profits.

Despite his continuing criticism, one now detects a dilution of Janeway's acid. When it was suggested to him that he concede some benefits from the new game plan he stopped the conversation short, either shocked, insulted or amazed by the speaker's lack of understanding.

"Concede?" he asked unbelievably, and then asked again. "Concede? Not I. Why, I proclaim it will help the economy." Then what's the beef?

Domestically, it concerns the freeze. "The only way for America to get out of this impossible problem it made for itself with a wage-price freeze is through a stretchout."

What does that mean? "Stretch out contracts for a year. Tell the working people that they will get every nickel coming to them after a year but that it will be worth 6 cents then instead of 4."

Andrew Tully

By SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

We have witnessed in recent years a gradual and potentially dangerous isolation and insulation of power within the executive branch of government. I am particularly sensitive to this situation, having had the special experience of serving both in the United States Senate for 16 years and as Vice President for four. Nowhere is the tendency toward isolation more apparent than in the field of national security.

THE PRESIDENT and key government officials meet occasionally with the leaders of Congress on an informal basis. There are several Congressional committees that deal with some aspects of national security. But decision-making is fragmented.

I have proposed that we end that fragmentation and provide for closer consultation by establishing a permanent Joint Congressional Committee on National Security. I believe such a committee will enable Congress to address itself in a more comprehensive way than ever before to a thorough and on-going analysis and evaluation of our security policies and goals.

THE COMMITTEE would have these main functions:

To study and make recommendations on all issues concerning national security. This would include review of the President's Report on the State of the World, the defense budget and foreign assistance programs as they relate to national security goals, and U.S. disarmament policies as a part of our defense considerations.

To review, study and evaluate the "Vietnam Papers," and other documents, whether published heretofore or not, covering U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

TO STUDY and make recommendations on government practices of classification and declassification of documents.

To conduct a continuing review of the operations of the Central Intelligence Agency, the Departments of Defense and State, and other agencies intimately involved with our foreign policy.

THE COMMITTEE'S unique feature would be the composition of its membership. It would have representation from those individual and committee jurisdictions that have primary responsibility in military, foreign relations and Congressional leadership.

It would include the President Pro Tempore of the Senate; the Speaker of the House; the majority and minority leaders of both Houses, and the chairman and ranking minority members of the Committees on Appropriations, Foreign Relations and Armed Services and the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy.

NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is more than a dustbin of time, stuffed with yesterday's trash.

Rather, memory is a glorious grab bag of the past from which one can at leisure pluck bittersweet experiences of times gone by and relive them. It is also, at best, a plush velvet brochure where are stored the golden moments of a lifetime—the echoed laughter, the long-dried tears—like the fragile ghosts of butterflies that die but never fade.

Your own memory album has many pages if you can thumb through it and remember when—

At least one dog in your neighborhood was named Hector and another Tige.

There was no place to send a box top to and get something back.

A majority of the people who went to a professional wrestling match thought it was honest.

About the greatest public glory that could befall a housewife was to win the annual pie-baking contest at the community fair.

It wasn't so much a matter of whether a child would have his tonsils out—it was a matter of when. Everyone assumed they would have to come out sometime.

Every politician removed his belt and put on galluses when he made a speech to a farm audience.

Phrenology—the telling of a person's character and mental faculties by the conformation of his skull—was more popular among young lovers than astrology. After all, it was more fun to feel the bumps on each other's heads than to read about their stars.

Your high school yearbook was incomplete unless at least half of your classmates had written in it. "Leaves may wither, flowers may die, friends rake you—but never shall I."

When Dad lost his job during the Great Depression you could hardly stand the embarrassment of going into the grocery store and having to buy margarine instead of butter.

Most of the working people in America could get to or from their jobs in less than half an hour.

The automobile was so new that it had not yet begun to scar the countryside with its unsightly metal graveyards.

A wife was regarded as extravagant if she sent her husband's shirts to the laundry instead of washing and ironing them herself.

People worried more about being polluted by sin than about the pollution of their environment.

At parties, Americans gossiped about each other less, sang together more.

Those were the days—but remember?

What do you think of the new "Gospel musicals" such as "Jesus Christ Super Star"? When I heard the latter, I detected that something was missing, but I couldn't determine just what it was. I would like your opinion. F.Y.

The present popularity of songs about Jesus and the Gospel indicate that John Lennon was wrong when he said the Beatles were more popular than Jesus. We knew at the time, that future events would prove him wrong.

Jesus has always captured the imagination of the young. His disciples were young men for the most part, and youth has responded to Him wholeheartedly from the rich young ruler to Nicky Cruz. With youths present preoccupation with music, it is only natural that Jesus comes into the pop music picture. Many of the new musicals have been written by dedicated Christians. Others have been written to capitalize on the popularity of Jesus in pop music, and have rather poor theological content. Regarding "Jesus Christ Superstar", the music, in my opinion is excellent, but the lyrics while at times reverent, at other intervals, border on the sacrilegious. I do not know the composers of the work, so have no way to judge them as personalities. But to me the work leaves a great deal to be desired. It has, however, created a lot of controversy and interest in the new music medium.

I agree with Leighton Ford who has stated that "Superstar" unfortunately ends with the death of Jesus, implying that He was a mere man. One must go on to the resurrection and ascension to see the total Jesus.

They Did Not Conform To School Dress Code

PASADENA, Tex. (AP) — At least 225 pupils at two high schools in this Houston suburb were sent home on the first day of school Monday, and told they did not conform to the school dress code.

Administrators at Dobie and South Houston high schools denied admittance to boys whom they thought needed a haircut and to girls they said wore skirts too short.

Pupils at the two schools estimated about 350 pupils were not admitted to the schools. James E. Barber, associate principal at Dobie, said only about 50 boys were told to get their hair cut and about 25 girls were sent home because of the length of their dresses.

W. C. Mathis, principal at South Houston, said about 150 pupils were refused admittance because of violations of the grooming code.

Officials at Memorial High School in the Spring Branch district in Houston said about 15 boys there were asked to have their facial hair trimmed. One pupil turned away said the figure was much higher.

Expensive Trip

PARIS (AP) — Passenger trains still are very much alive in France, and so are those luxurious private railways cars seen today mostly in old western movies.

The Campagne des Wagons-Lits recently rented one to a rich woman from Versailles, described only as Mrs. Fisher, 72, who suffers from arthritis. It cost her $900 for the 450-mile trip from Paris to Nice.

But the price included a crystal and rare-wood decorated living room, dining room, two master bedrooms, a four-bedroom for servants, and a kitchen.

PSYCHOANALYSIS Like Reports Of Mark Twain's Death

By C. G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Like reports of Mark Twain's death, those of the death of psychoanalysis are somewhat premature, says a Chicago psychoanalyst.

"It is still strong, living and moving forward," says Dr. George H. Pollock, director of the Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis.

Pollock discussed the status of the profession in an interview after attending the 27th International Psychoanalytical Congress in Vienna, home of Sigmund Freud, the father of psychoanalysis.

PATIENTS GALORE
The Chicago Institute, one of the leading psychoanalytic training, research and treatment centers in the country, still is besieged with more patients seeking treatment than can be taken care of, Pollock said.

Psychoanalytic treatment is a long and expensive process for those who seek it. But Pollock points out that the personality takes years to develop and the introspective hour-long session on the couch are the only way to get to the depths of the personality.

One of the criticisms made is that analysis is a one-to-one relationship and cannot be extended to groups as a therapeutic process.

The expense-averaging $25 to $50 per treatment hour—prevents many persons from seeking analytic therapy, and this is another criticism of this form of treatment.

TODAY'S WORLD

Dr. Eli Messinger of New York, former national chairman of the Medical Committee for Human Rights, criticizes psychiatry in general for focusing on psychological issues to such a degree that "some broader political, social or economic issues are lost sight of or ignored or explained away as a psychological phenomenon only."

The distress of a poor working man holding two jobs to maintain a family may be the result of economic stress but it is treated only as psychological stress, says Messinger, a child psychiatrist who works with the Riverside Neighborhood Service program.

Nevertheless, Pollock termed psychoanalysis "very essential in today's world," which depends on computers to diagnose illness and where doctors often do not know their patients. He said the personal relationship in psychoanalysis is the more important because of these depersonalizing factors in contemporary life.

He Was Lucky

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My story which my wife and I have agreed never to mention, might help others:

"Torchy" (fictitious name) was the most attractive young gal in our office, and all the men, including myself, shared her "favors" with which she was very generous. (I was a swinging young bachelor in those days.)

Next thing Torchy informed us that one of us had impregnated her! Now who would want to marry such a situation? Her attempts to pin the deed on each one of us terminated her charms overnight. Torchy played it cool and continued to work, growing bigger right before our guilty eyes. My conscience got the better of me and I married the Office Problem.

The baby was born and he is the cutest kid you've ever seen. Furthermore, he is the living image of ME!

Now, the most important part, Torchy straightened herself out and became the kind of wife and mother every man hopes for. And now every time I look at that beautiful kid I think of how close I came to walking out on my responsibility as well as handing my own son over to someone else. Sign me,

DUPLICATE IN UTAH

DEAR DUPLICATE: You were one of the luckier ones. The moral of your story is, "Never fish off the company dock."

DEAR ABBY: Last week my eldest son (whom I shall call "Jimmy") had his seventh birthday and I had a little party for him. My mother-in-law came with a present for Jimmy, and another one exactly like it for his younger brother, Billy, who is five. Needless to say, the birthday boy's nose was a little out of joint.

Now I am not saying that my mother-in-law was out of line to have brought a gift for Billy, too, but I don't think a child's birthday should have to be shared with brothers or sisters.

Am I wrong to feel this way? Or is my mother-in-law?

BETWIXT
DEAR BETWIXT: I think it's a rather thoughtful gesture to bring the other child a little something, but your mother-in-law went overboard in bringing the younger boy a gift identical to the birthday boy's.

DEAR ABBY: A Pennsylvania minister asked you to spread the word about how difficult it is to get those tiny multi-colored tissue paper hearts off trees and church property. (They're used to throw at married couples after weddings.) He suggested going back to throwing RICE!

Ever try getting rice and confetti off carpeting half an hour before a funeral!

Our pastor here in Indian Orchard, Mass., has a better solution. He informs the bridal couple that there is a $25 "cleaning service charge" for cleaning up after the wedding. This must be paid BEFORE the wedding, and if there is no litter (confetti, rice, or anything else thrown at the bridal couple) inside or outside the church, the service charge is refunded.

We haven't seen any litter from weddings since.

DEAR NEW ENGLANDER: Smart pastor you have there.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Baby's Food

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I wish playing with the baby for the baby's sake. They are teasing, scaring, and annoying him for the sake of seeing his reaction to it.

I doubt if it is the sort of thing that will cause stuttering, but such antics certainly can cause fears, anxiety, and other emotional damage later on.

If parents will stop and think for two minutes, maybe they'll see the light. I hope so.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a retracted nipple but can feel no lump, no discomfort, other than itching at time. Condition has persisted about one year. Can this become serious? — X.

Yes, it can. When a nipple, previously normal, inverts, it can be a danger sign, even though there is no pain or no lump. It may be innocent, but again it may not, and I urge you to have it examined without delay.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: People I know insist the reason teenage boys break out with acne on their face or back is because they lack and need sexual relief.

When my son broke out, one relative even said, "It will clear up when he marries."

I say this is an old wives' tale, and a lot of hogwash. But when I tell people that acne is caused by glandular changes in the body and a difference of oil output of the skin, I am not believed. — Mrs. D. F.

You are quite right, but I've long since given up hope of changing the mind of anyone who is thoroughly wedded to some old wheeze or other.

Another long-lived bit of hogwash is that acne is "caused by masturbation," which is just about the opposite of what you've been told — and equally incorrect.

The one thing that is true is that your son's complexion probably will clear up about the time he marries — depending on when he marries. It will probably clear up about the same time if he doesn't marry too.

At about the usual marriage age, the glandular system customarily settles down. The "acne age" is a trying one for youngsters and parents alike, but there's nothing to be gained by circulating false folklore as an "explanation."

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson, will help you give up the habit. To receive a copy of his booklet, write to him in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Royal Greet 99 Hopefuls

By The Associated Press
Six Southwest Conference teams opened fall practice in earnest Monday, as coaches had their first real chance since last spring to look at their charges. Texas A&M and Arkansas began preparations last week.

Defending champion Texas opened drills in the hot glare of a 15,000-seat upper deck under construction in Memorial Stadium. Head coach Darrell Royal welcomed 99 Longhorns and assumed his familiar position atop a three-story tower.

Thirty-two lettermen return from last year's undefeated team and two others from the national champions of 1969. The Longhorns open the season against UCLA in Los Angeles Sept. 18.

Head coach Hayden Fry gave the SMU Mustangs their first two-day workout in shorts and said he was pleased with the way his team hustled, although he also noticed some "first-day mistakes."

Three players—halfback T. J. Hutchinson, linebacker Dwight Moore, and defensive tackle Rock Rollins—missed Monday's workouts with muscle pulls from Sunday's 40-yard dash timing runs.

New TCU Head Coach Jim Pittman met 82 players and began two-day workouts, but was told that Jackie Ray of Aspermont, a second-team All-Southwest Conference freshman last year, would have to give up football because of a knee injury.

The players all ran a mile Monday, with the backs and receivers expected to run it in :36 or less and linemen expected to pass the distance in six minutes or under.

Texas Tech gridders rapped through two practice sessions Monday in full football gear, although the morning session was cut short by rain and lightning. The skies cleared in the afternoon, however, and the Red Raiders had a good afternoon workout, according to coach Jim Carlen.

Montreal Racks Up Eighth Straight

By The Associated Press

The hottest team in the National League wins even in cold weather.

Montreal's fired-up Expos ignored some gusty breezes and warmed up their Canadian faithful Monday night with a 12-6 victory over Los Angeles, handing them an eight-game winning streak, their best ever.

Elsewhere in the National League Monday, Pittsburgh belted Atlanta twice 15-4 and 4-3 to open a five-game lead in the East Division, Chicago dumped Cincinnati 6-3, San Francisco topped New York 5-4, St. Louis nipped Houston 3-2 and Philadelphia dropped San Diego 3-1.

In the only American League game scheduled, Detroit trimmed Minnesota 4-2 and Oakland walloped the New York Yankees 8-2.

The Canadian cool agreed with Boots Day and Rusty Staub, who destroyed the Dodgers with nine runs batted in between them.

HOMER IN 4TH
Day had a two-run single in the second inning and a two-run homer in the fourth as Montreal built an early lead. Staub drove in an early run with a sacrifice fly and then climaxed Montreal's assault with a grand slam homer in the eighth, giving him five RBIs for the night.

Los Angeles, which slipped 7 1/2 games back of San Francisco in the West Division race, grabbed an early 3-0 lead with Pitcher Don Sutton driving in two of the runs.

But the Expos bounced back with five runs to grab the lead in the second inning with John Bateman's bases-loaded single chasing the first two across and then Day's single and Staub's sacrifice fly capping the rally.

Day tagged his two-run homer in the fourth and Ron Fairly followed the issue with his bases-loaded blast in the eighth.

The Giants took advantage of Montreal's victory over the pursuing Dodgers by beating the Mets and adding another game to their West Division edge.

Bobby Bonds paced the Giants' victory, hammering a homer and a double to lead the attack. Jerry Johnson came out of the bullpen to save the victory for rookie Don Carrithers, 3-2. It was the 14th save for Johnson, ace of the Giant bullpen. He also had 12 victories.

PARADE NEARS
Members of the Quarterback Club, which is sponsoring the meal, will serve the food, as per custom.

For those who wish to view the Dallas-Houston pro football game on TV, the club hopes to serve as soon as practicable. The serving booths are scheduled to open about 7:30 p.m., but that time could be advanced a few minutes.

Parents of players just coming into high school have a special invitation to join the booster club, co-captain George Weeks stated this morning. The annual family fee is a modest $5 and entitles an entire family admission to the Thursday barbecue, as well as to all QBC functions.

Weeks said that slightly more than 100 memberships had already been sold. Those who do not wish to take part in QBC activities can gain admission to the barbecue for a nominal fee, Weeks stated.

Quarterback Club jackets and caps are again being made available to new and old members. The caps can be purchased from H. D. (Hunka) Stewart, one of the co-captains; the jackets from Weeks and Gibbs and Weeks Men's Store or through J. W. Dickens.

QBC officials again want to go all out on the Bold Gold theme this year, which means members will wear raiment stressing the gold theme to all athletic contests.

Present plans call for the club to hold a formal meeting immediately prior to the first game of the 1971 season, possibly as late as the evening of Sept. 8 or Sept. 9. School and community spirit should zoom highest at that time. Weeks stated, and the QBC hopes to capitalize on the attitude of the town.

Marshall Taylor, coaching aid at Texas Tech, will be the chief speaker at the Thursday barbecue, which will be served in the amphitheater at Comanche Trail Park.

MANNING WILL AVOID DRILLS
The New Orleans Saints aren't taking any chances with their No. 1 draft choice. The San Francisco 49ers are wondering what happened to theirs. The Saints, winless in National Football League preseason play, began practice Monday for their fourth game, Saturday night at San Diego, but did so without quarterback Archie Manning.

Their top pick from Mississippi, who suffered a foot injury in last weekend's loss to Kansas City, will be kept out of training "until it is completely well," a team spokesman said.

TO REST FOOT
He said Manning is walking normally but has been advised by doctors to rest the foot as much as possible.

The Saints also did without another quarterback. They traded Jim Ward to the Philadelphia Eagles for cornerback Richard Harvey.

The 49ers, meanwhile, will have to do without Tim Anderson for a long, long time.

Their top draft selection, a 22-year-old defensive back from Ohio State University, turned up in Toronto Monday as the newest member of the Argonauts of the Canadian Football League.

He was introduced by Coach Leo Cahill, the persuasive recruiter who has already lured four other United States star-quarterbacks Joe Theismann and Greg Barton, running back Leon McQuay and defensive lineman Jim Stillwagon—across the border.

Cincinnati turned up with something nice, too—an early display of offensive power and a solid fourth-quarter defense that brought the Bengals a 20-13 triumph over Pittsburgh in Monday night's only exhibition action.

CARTER ON BEAM
Virgil Carter engineered the victory, hitting 19 of 27 passes for 191 yards, including a 10-yard scoring strike to Bob Trumpy.

Doug Dressler scampered 35 yards for the Bengals' other touchdown and Horst Muhlmann booted field goals of 42 and 16 yards as Cincinnati opened a 20-0 lead.

Terry Bradshaw plowed over from the one-yard line and Paul Rogers kicked three-pointers of 45 and 22 yards before the Bengals' defense stiffened.

In their notable activity, the Oakland Raiders learned that Hewritt Dixon, their veteran running back who piled up 861 yards last season, will be out of action with knee injuries for six to eight weeks.

The visiting delegation will include four Fort Stockton players along with three from Pecos, two from San Angelo and one from Kermit.

Members of the Walling's team include Jake Broyles, Arnold Chambers and Sam Miller, all of Fort Stockton; George Miller, Ray Golden and Mitford Johnson, all of Pecos; Lawrence Bledsoe and Jack Lieber, both of San Angelo; and Roy Pedan, Kermit.

The cup matches precede the 49th annual Big Spring Invitational tournament, which will be held over Saturday and Sunday.

The cup players will get a special invitation to remain over for the tournament itself.

Cup match pairings:
Mike Walling vs. Don Lovelady; Broyles vs. Don Wilkins; Pedan vs. Thomas; George Miller vs. Ted Hull; Golden vs. R. P. Nicholson; Johnson vs. R. L. Heath; Bledsoe vs. Novice Womack; Lieber vs. Jerry Cockrell; Sam Miller vs. Wally Slate; Chambers vs. Darvie Hether.

Santa Fe Seeks 77 Racing Days
SANTA FE, N. M. — Santa Fe Downs, New Mexico's newest edition to the thoroughbred-quarter horse racing fraternity, announced today it will seek from the State Racing Commission approval for a 77-day season in 1972.

The Downs will ask the commission for a near 6-month season stretching from May 26 through Oct. 29.

During that stretch of time, Santa Fe would suspend its racing program during those September racing days belonging to the State Fair in Albuquerque. The State Fair usually runs from early to mid-September.

Santa Fe Downs is nearing the completion of its first season of racing. The current season will end the weekend of Sept. 10-12.

In its request for 77 days, the Santa Fe management is asking for only two more days than the commission approved for this past season.

The State Racing Commission originally okayed a 75-day schedule for Santa Fe Downs. That was later revised to 66 days.

Finally, Santa Fe settled on a 63-day season after a number of racing days had to be deleted at the first of the season.

Forsan Workout Is Moved Back
FORSAN — The Grandfalls-Forsan scrimmage, originally set for 4 p.m. here Thursday, has been moved back an hour on the suggestion of the Grandfalls coach.

Forsan, which went into pads for the first time Monday, greeted the new players Monday, both of them sophomores.

They are David Crook, who played basketball here last year, and Steve Gordon. In all, 29 boys are now working out for football.

Gibson Connects In 9th To Sink Houston, 3-2
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The old man of the St. Louis Cardinal pitching staff, Bob Gibson, showed the Houston Astros here Monday night that 35 is a fine age.

The Cardinal ace whipped up some pitching magic to beat the Astros 3-2, and also contributed the game winning hit in the ninth inning.

He slapped an infield single into the hole at shortstop with the bases loaded and two out to bring home the winning run.

The hit broke up a tight pitching duel with Don Wilson of the Astros and gave Gibson his 12th win of the year against 11 losses.

"I'd probably have come out," Gibson said of his last appearance at bat, "but we didn't have anybody warming up. I'm sure I'd have come out if we had."

Gibson got nothing but fastballs from Wilson, but he got enough wood on one of them to win the game.

"That fastball of his was really sailing good," Gibson said of Wilson's throwing. "All you can do is swing and hope. All I saw was fastballs. That's the way he struck me out the first three times up and I wouldn't think he'd throw me anything but fastballs that last time up."

On a 1-and-1 count, Gibson caught a fastball on the end of the bat and bounced it to deep

TV Program Recalls Pre-Bowl Fireworks

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out some pre-season college football wash: It could be called The Agony and the Ecstasy. The actual title is Notre Dame and Texas: The Wishbone Incident.

At any rate, it's an unusual show about last January's Cotton Bowl games in which Notre Dame ended Texas' 30-game winning streak. It will be shown over ABC-TV on Wednesday from 8:30-9:30 p.m. CDT.

You'll see all the big plays, including the notorious Texas wishbone offense. Notre Dame's Mirrored Wishbone defense, however, is missing. It's about the only thing that is unusual. There are some unusual scenes, particularly of Darrell Royal and the Texas team in the dressing room before and after the game and Royal along the sidelines during the action.

You'll see and hear Royal's last-minute pre-game talk to his team and if you're expecting some of that Pat O'Brien "Get out there and fight, fight, fight!" you're going to be disappointed.

You'll listen to Royal's off-the-cuff remarks during the game, remarks such as, "I'll be damned; what else is going to happen to us?" after one of the Longhorns' numerous fumbles.

And you'll remember for a long time Royal's speech to a downcast group of athletes after the defeat in which he tells them to hold their heads high and act like gentlemen during Notre Dame's moment of glory.

"Royal was unbelievable," says Dick Snider of NCAA Films, who produced and directed the show. "Our sound man, Bill Cooper, knows a lot about sound but not too much about coaches. We put a microphone on Royal, but early in the first quarter it was evident that it wasn't working."

"I asked Cooper to go down to the field to see if he could fix it. Now, Cooper, who knows considerably more about sound than he does about the temperament of coaches during a game, went down and walked right up to Royal. By this time, Notre Dame was driving for its second touchdown and when I saw Bill approach Darrell I thought we would have a murder on our hands."

Eddie Phillips, the Texas quarterback, and Tom Gatewood, Notre Dame's wide receiver, were in town last week for a preview of the film.

Phillips said it wasn't the Notre Dame defense—essentially a nine-man front—that beat Texas but rather the Notre Dame players.

HARRY WALKER, manager of the Houston Astros: "Trying to instill and maintain motivation among baseball players is a constant struggle. It's the most difficult part of managing. Sometimes I think it is the job — trying to instill pride in 25 individuals and getting them to play as a team. So often you have a player who is having trouble, or has set some sort of goal for himself — say 30 home runs or a .300 batting average — and he gets completely wrapped up in his problems. He forgets what's good for the team . . . It must have been easier a generation ago. Billy Southworth was running the St. Louis Cardinals when I broke in in 1942. The players on that team were just plain hungry for money. Most of them had a chance to double what they were making in regular pay by winning a pennant and a World Series. The highest paid player on that team was our center fielder, Terry Moore, and he was getting $12,000 a year. The rest of us were mainly rookies, earning $2,500 to $3,000. The World Series check of $5,000 or $6,000 was a chance to triple our pay. We fought like hell for it. It doesn't mean the same thing now — it can't . . . You can't appeal to the player's hunger. No, you've got to appeal to their pride . . . With some guys, that's almost impossible. They're willing to settle for less."

FRANK WHARTON, former touring golf pro, now with a club in Akron, Ohio: "In the 1965 Texas State Open in Houston, I tied an obscure pro from Dallas for first place. On the first hole of the playoff, I outdrive him by 40 yards. I thought 'I've got this little cat now.' But he puts his seven-iron about six feet from the hole and I hit my wedge about 12 feet. I missed my putt and this guy made his and won the tournament. That was my introduction to Lee Trevino."

DALE GROUNDS, linebacker for Rice: "Jim Bertelson of Texas is the best blocking back I've ever seen. That's the most impressive thing I can remember — a runner who runs as well as he does being able to block like he does. You don't find too many who are as good runners who like to block that much."

HALSEY HALL, 72-year-old broadcaster for the Minnesota Twins, when asked if he visited the Smithsonian Institute while in Washington: "No, I was going to, but I was afraid they would keep me."

LEO DUROCHER, Chicago Cub manager, after two of his players reported late for a game in New York's Shea Stadium: "Two guys land on the moon and I got two guys who can't get to the ball park."

DIZZY DEAN, former pitching great: "Baseball teams are getting weaker and weaker. Why? me and ol' Satchel Paige could win 45 games apiece against these guys they got now."

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
RAY SONS, Chicago sports writer: "Most of us approach the 35-year mark with some trepidation, only to discover that the country beyond isn't all that barren. But for an athlete, his mid and late 30s can be the slough of Despond . . . Phil Regan (relief pitcher for the Chicago Cubs) will be 35 next April, before the first pitch of a new season. Pick up a Cub roster book for the year 1969 and you will find him described as "the best relief pitcher in major league baseball." Today, my mail indicates he provokes more anger on Cub fans than anyone but Ron Santo, and possibly Johnny Callison . . . The Regan of a couple of seasons ago could have carried this burden (of taking blame for a Cub defeat). It is too much to ask of the Regan of 1971. I'm sure some of his detractors might suspect that constant harassment by umpires has dried up Regan's supply of the nectar that made his pitches drop . . . But there is this consolation for Phil: Old relief pitchers have more lives than cats. Look at Hoyt Wilhelm, Lindy McDaniel, Pete Mikkelson, Bob Miller, Ted Abernathy, Eddie Fisher, and many others now passed from the scene. They seem to lose it for a year or two, then get it back. If a movie is ever made of a relief pitcher's career, Boris Karloff or Bela Lugosi would have to be brought back to play him. They have experience in resurrections."

GOLF, BOOZE, ROMANCE Gleason's House: How Sweet It Is!

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Jackie Gleason is moving into a five-level, $500,000 townhouse with "a sunken pit for my pool table and—How Sweet It Is—a bar in almost every room."

The Brooklyn-born television comedian, currently on $100,000-a-year unemployment compensation from CBS, is leaving Miami but he won't go far. "I'm building this weird castle at Inverrary, a big development west of Fort Lauderdale," Gleason said Monday. "It began as a $300,000 deal, but I'll be lucky to escape for a half million."

The Jackie Gleason Show went off the air after the 1970 season when "The Great One" refused to bow to CBS ideas. The network had demanded that he turn the 60-minute variety show into a full-time situation comedy known as "The Honeymooners."

Since then Gleason, 55, married the former Beverly Sikes and they've "been living the good life of golf, booze and romance."

Broadway producer Alexander Cohen is dickering with Gleason regarding a six-part television series. Cohen wants Gleason to play the title role in the "Life of P. T. Barnum."

CBS' writing staff is also working on possible scripts for six Gleason specials. "As long as I don't work," Gleason said, "I get 100 grand from CBS. But, if I do work, it's a helluva lot more."

The Gleasons' elegant new pad won't be ready until at least Thanksgiving. "I designed two things—the pool room and the main bar," smiled Jackie. "Those are my specialties."

The townhouse has 12,000 square feet and 14 rooms. Only two are bedrooms.

"We have a lot of places to dine, to shoot pool and to drink," Gleason said. "It's a fun house, something I always wanted to build."

Ex-Publisher Of Edinburg Daily Dies

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Funeral services were scheduled today for pioneer Rio Grande Valley civic leader William Rogers Montgomery, 85, a former state legislator.

Montgomery, one-time publisher of the Edinburg Daily Review and long active in Texas politics, died in an Edinburg hospital Sunday after a brief illness.

Montgomery was the father-in-law of J. C. Looney of Edinburg, who served for 22 years as Democratic chairman of Hidalgo County. Montgomery's acquaintances included several U.S. presidents, and he was a frequent delegate to state and national Democratic conventions.

An Illinois native, he came to the Valley from the Texas Panhandle city of Dalhart in 1912, began practicing law in 1915 and served as county attorney in 1919 and 1920.

Elected to the state legislature in 1922, he served four consecutive terms.

Besides extensive Valley real estate holdings, he had in recent years acquired large holdings in the Big Bend area of Texas.

Negro Pupils To Be Exempt

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Judge Owen Cox has ruled that Negro pupils will be exempt from a court order requiring busing in Corpus Christi schools this fall.

The district won a reprieve from the busing order last week by Justice Hugo Black of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Under the order, 14,500 pupils, mostly Mexican-Americans and Anglos, who would have been bused.

Cox acted Monday on a recommendation from the federally appointed Human Relations Committee made up of Mexican-Americans, blacks and Anglos. Negroes compose about five per cent of the school district's enrollment.

announced Monday an exchange and sale agreement.

Gray Beck, president of General Telephone in San Angelo, and Clark Williams, president of Century Telephone Enterprises Inc. of Monroe, La., jointly said the transfer of properties would be effective Jan. 1 if the Federal Communications Commission, the Louisiana Public Services Commission and other authorities approve.

The Texas end of the deal would give General Telephone five Texas exchanges — three in the Dallas-Denton area and two in East Texas — serving about 2,250 customers, plus other undisclosed considerations.

Century would acquire 32 exchanges in Louisiana serving about 33,100 customers. General would receive the Justin, Argyle and Bartonville exchanges south of Denton and north of Lewisville where General Telephone has administrative offices for North Texas and a large portion of Oklahoma.

General would also acquire Marietta and Douglasville in East Texas near Daingerfield where the company serves a number of exchanges through its division and eastern area offices at Texarkana.

Beck and Williams said employees will have the option of remaining with their present employer at a new location or joining the new company and remaining at their present location. Allowances toward retirement credits will be made for employees changing companies, they said.

Car Deal Turns Sour In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston student won the right Monday to keep picketing a car dealer he claims sold him a lemon.

Joel M. Selsky, a University of Houston student, started picketing Sharpstown Dodge here Aug. 7. He said he purchased a 1968 Corvette from the company that was not as represented.

"I'd like them to take the car back and give me my money," he said.

Monday Dist. Judge William N. Blanton refused to restrain Selsky or his friends from picketing the dealer, saying he could not see where they were violating the law or were about to cause grievous harm.

Sharpstown Dodge President G. F. Wackerly claimed Selsky was blocking the company's entrances and exits and was stopping traffic along the road, affecting its business.

Judge Blanton said he would reconsider his action if the picketing became so pronounced and so great that there was a paralysis of the company's business.

Cotton Bales Dip Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says the current cotton production estimate of 10.9 million bales for 1971 exceeds 1970 but falls a little short of this season's prospective consumption. As a result, next summer's stocks may drop slightly from the 4 1/4 million bales on hand Aug. 1 this year.

The department says that although a gain is indicated for the 1971-crop almost a million bales below 1970-71's 16.1 million.

Both acreage and yields are contributing to the 8 per cent bigger cotton crop. The department says that harvested acreage of 11.6 million acres is almost one half million above last year. But the indicated national average yield of 452 pounds per acre is only 3 per cent above 1970's poor turnout, as early-season growing conditions were generally unfavorable in much of the cotton belt.

Moon Has 'Hot' Center, Instruments Indicate

SPACE CENTER, HOUSTON (AP)—Instruments left on the moon by Apollo 15 astronauts indicate the moon has a warm center, the Space Agency said Monday.

They said the instruments show temperatures increase at a rate of about nine degrees Fahrenheit for each 10 feet of depth.

The announcement from the Manned Spacecraft Center said Columbia University's Lamont-Doherty Geological Observatory scientists have successfully measured the temperature gradient beneath the lunar surface.

The recordings were said to be the first step toward understanding how the moon produces and gives up heat.

Astronauts David R. Scott and James B. Irwin implanted temperature sensors during their moon walks of July 31 and Aug. 1. They drilled two holes about 5 1/2 feet into the lunar surface and the temperature sensors were placed in the hollow drill stems.

The Space Agency said the deepest thermometer, 57 inches below the surface, had stabilized at a temperature of four degrees below zero and that temperature differences for four sensors in the bottom 20 inches of the hole were used to calculate a temperature gradient for the lunar surface material.

The current experiments being conducted by Dr. Marcus G. Langseth Jr., principal investigator for the heat flow project, and Dr. John L. Shute Jr., co-investigator, will continue until the lunar sunset of Sept. 12, the agency said.

Starting early today, the scientists sent radio commands to the lunar experiments to turn on heaters on the moon's surface which will determine the conductivity of material in which the thermometers are placed.

"Once the thermal conductivity (The efficiency with which a material conducts heat) of the moon has been established, it becomes possible to combine this information with the temperature gradient and to calculate the rate at which heat is flowing from the moon," the announcement said.

"This in turn indicates the total heat produced by the moon and is related to the moon's interior temperature."

Remap Board Under Court Order Not To Issue Plan

AUSTIN (AP) — The five-man Legislative Redistricting Board, faced with the tedious job of drawing new state Senate districts, meets today for the first time since Texas voters created it nearly 23 years ago.

Legislators, private citizens and the Texas Republican Party have given the board about 20 proposals for new districts.

Dist. Judge Herman Jones of Austin issued a temporary restraining order Monday to prevent the board from issuing any redistricting plan. He set a Sept. 2 hearing on an injunction requested by Rep. Fred Head of Henderson.

The board was expected to meet despite the order.

Head claimed in his suit, filed Monday, that the legislature has exclusive authority to redistrict itself. He said the constitutional amendment creating the board violated the right of due process of law guaranteed by the U.S. Constitution.

The board consists of Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, House Speaker Gus Mutscher, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert and Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong.

Membership of the board is spelled out by the constitution.

Texas' constitution gives the board 60 days from today to write a Senate redistricting plan that at least three of the board members can agree to.

A constitutional provision approved by the voters Nov. 2, 1948, automatically sets up the board if the legislature fails to redistrict either of its houses at the first regular session following publication of U.S. Census figures.

Senators failed to adopt a plan during the 140-day regular session of the legislature which adjourned May 31.

A redistricting plan approved by a three-member board majority and filed with the Texas secretary of state has the full "force and effect of law," the constitution says.

During the regular session, the legislature did pass a highly controversial House redistricting bill, but Judge Jones ruled it was unconstitutional. Martin has appealed Jones's decision to the State Supreme Court.

Gov. Preston Smith verbally chastised the board Aug. 10 because it was not planning to work on House redistricting.

Since Jones held the House plan unconstitutional, Smith said it was "absolutely ridiculous" not to begin work on a new set of House districts. Lawyers disagree over whether the board would even be authorized to draw a House redistricting bill if the Supreme Court upholds Jones' decision.

Mayor Claims Sharp Deals Proved Costly

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Houston Mayor Louie Welch said Frank W. Sharp cost him $357,696 in a year's time.

Welch handed out financial statements which showed his net worth had fallen from $461,817 in 1970 to $104,288 now.

"I've lost all the net worth I have down to the figure I show you," Welch said. "It cost me one thing but me and my family."

The mayor said the losses came in his dealings in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock, which he bought on the advice of Sharp. The insurance company is now in receivership and Sharp is the central figure in a huge stock scandal which has rocked the state.

Welch's financial statement of a year ago was filed in federal court in Dallas by the Securities and Exchange Commission as part of supporting evidence in its suit against Sharp, the insurance company and 26 other individuals and corporations.

Welch owed Sharp's now-defunct Sharpstown State Bank $235,000 for a loan he got to purchase NBL stock. He said he owes Sharpstown State on two other loans.

An agreement has been made with the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp., which has taken over the bank, to pay off the loan over a two-year period, Welch said.

Welch told reporters last January when the SEC suit was filed that Sharp offered him the NBL stock at a special rate more than $12 under its market price.

He bought the stock for $15.60 a share, Welch said. It is now worth between $1 and $3 a share.

Paul D. Meek, president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, has entered Methodist Hospital in Houston, where he is undergoing a series of tests. He is expected to be out of town for several days. His wife accompanied him.

Ex-SBA Exec's Brain Operation

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Former Small Business Administration administrator Hillary Sandoval Jr. was in serious condition Monday night following a nine-hour brain operation at Providence Memorial Hospital.

Physicians who removed a non-malignant tumor from the brain Friday, said he is responding to treatment.

Sandoval, named to the SBA by President Nixon, resigned from his post Sept. 1 due to health reasons.

One close associate said he began experiencing health problems four years ago, which included a partial paralysis and difficulty in speaking.

Besides a law practice in El Paso, Sandoval is a director on boards of several broadcasting stations, an El Paso bank and the National Economic Administration, a government group working with minority enterprise.

DAV Meeting

The Disabled American Veterans will meet today at 7:30 p.m. at First Federal Savings and Loan. All disabled veterans and their wives are urged by DAV Commander Lee W. Greaves to attend this meeting.
