Big Four Agreement

BERLIN (AP) - Ambassadors of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union signed a Berlin agreement today intended to mark the end of an era and the start of a new East-West relationship in the heart of Europe.

The signing took place in the Allied Control Council Building, where in 1948 the Russians walked out to signal the start of their land-water blockade of West Berlin.

The four ambassadors strode past smartly saluting military police guards and up an ornate staircase of the big gray building that once housed the Prussian Supreme Court in Imperial German times. After signing papers and notes annexed to the agreement, the envoys moved into a high ceilinged room where they had met more than 30 times before.

The signatories were Kenneth Rush, United States; Sir Roger Jackling; Great Britain; Jean Sauvagnargues, France, all ambassadors to West Germany, and Pyotr Abrasimov, Soviet envoy to East Germany across the Communist wall dividing the former German capital.

Sauvagnargues was chairman of this 34th ambassadorial meeting in a series that began March 26, 1970.

Signing had been delayed a full day because of last minute wrangling over an official translation into German to be used by East-West German negotiators, who are to complement the four-power agreement with an arrangement of their own.

Superpowers Missile Race

LONDON (AP) - The United States and Russia are cutting back their strategic bomber forces but the missile race between the two superpowers goes on unabated, military research experts reported today. The American Strategic Air Command in the past year has allowed its B52 stirke force to dwindle from about 405 planes in service to 360, while the Russian force of MYA4 Bison and TU20 Bear bombers is now estimated at 140 aircraft, the International Institute of Strategic Studies said in its annual survey of the world's military balance.

The U.S. force, however, is developing shortrange missiles for its planes which could sharply increase the delivery of nuclear weapons, while "the Soviet Union has shown no apparent interest in matching this particular effort," the survey

A prison spokesman said the guards were seized about 7 p.m. Thursday as about 65 prisoners barricaded themselves in the wing and issued a set of 16 demands.

FOUR AIRMEN HIT WITH MURDER RAPS

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) - Four young airmen were held in the Dyess Air Force Base stockade today on charges of murder in the shooting death of a sergeant over the weekend.

The Air Force identified the men as Maurice Williams, 21, of Austin; Bennie Smithy, 21 of Chicago; and Sam Ferguson, 25, and Nathaniel

Bush, 20, both of Miami. They are charged in the slaying of Sgt. Alfred L. Lincoln, 23, of Tyler Sunday night in the parking lot of a noncommissioned officers club. A spokesman said the air base will provide the legal counsel for the accused and their courtmartial is expected in four to six weeks.

nation's total employment climbed to an all-time high in August but the jobless rate also climbed sharply because there were more new job seekers than jobs, the government said

> The national unemployment rate rose from 5.8 to 6.1 per cent of the labor force, said the report by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statis-

It said the total number of Americans at work rose 260,000

WASHINGTON (AP) - The to almost 80 million, but the million rank-and-file workers work force rose nearly twice the job gain to an all-time high of 84.3 million.

The bureau adjusts the figures for seasonal factors. Without that adjustment, the actual total employed dropped 63,000 to 80.6 million and actual unemployment dropped 69,000 to a little over 5 million, the report said. The labor force without the adjustment dropped more than 400,000.

The bureau also reported that average earnings of some 45 rose two cents an hour to $3.44 and $1.43 weekly to $129. The report is based on figures collected before President Nixon froze wages and prices on Aug.

Unemployment Tops 6 Per Cent

The report said the average weekly paycheck was up 5.6 per cent, or $6.80, over the past year, but the 4.4 per cent rise in living costs reduced the gain to $1.23 per week.

The August rise in employment occurred almost entirely among women in part-time

The rise in unemployment was largely among men and teenage boys, the bureau said. "A curtailment in production in the steel industry was the principal factor in the rise in adult male unemployment," the report said.

The jobless rate for men rose from 4.3 to 4.5 per cent for a total of 1,989,000. The jobless rate for women rose from 5.7 to 5.8 per cent for a total of 1,800,-000 and for teenagers the unemployment rate rose from 16.2 to per cent, for a total of 1,272,000.

In a racial breakdown, the bureau said the unemployment rate for white workers rose from 5.3 to 5.6 per cent for a total of 4.1 million while the rate for non-whites-mostly Negroes-declined from 10.1 to 9.8

per cent for a total of 956,000. The bureau said most of the rise in unemployment was due to workers who lost jobs rather than from the entry of new job seekers into the labor force.

West North East Pass 3 A Pass Pass Pass Pass Altho we generally endorse a sound and exploratory approach in the bidding so that the partnership may reach the proper contract, the game of bridge does not always lend itself to a purely scientific approach. Direct methods sometimes prove more effective as is illustrated by today's handtaken from a recent tourna-

A final contract of six pades was reached by most of the North-South pairs and the result on the deal hinged upon West's choice of an opening lead. If a diamond is pened the defense can cash two tricks in that suit and then wait to score another in trumps, holding the declarer to 10 tricks

The bidding sequences varied considerably. The first round was fairly routine, but then courses varied. Some Souths concluded that the partnership had the assets for a small slam and they proceeded without further ado to six spades. We admire this approach. Altho North might have the right cards to score 13 tricks—the king-queen of spades and the ace-king of diamonds—the odds do not favor such a perfect fit.

-CHARLES H. GOREN

Where South leaped directly to six spades, West had to make his choice without benefit of assistance. Those players who took the conservative course by leading the jack of hearts, met with disaster. South promptly cashed North's three top honors, discarding his diamond holding. The play of the ace and another spade restricted the defense to one trick on the deal.

We personally favor a diamond lead against the slam contract. Against a suit bid, it may be vital to develop tricks quickly and it is usually better practice to lead from higher rather than lower honors. Unless the opposition has grossly overbid, declarer should be in position to develop 12 tricks with dispatch and the defense should attempt to cash out.

Some Souths chose to bid four clubs over partner's jump raise. Where North signed off by bidding four spades, South cue bid his void in hearts. North was now fully aware of the duplication of values and he retreated to five spades however the damage was done. West was aware of the oppositions' weakness in diamonds and the lead of that suit led to a one trick set on the deal. If North cue bid the ace of hearts over four clubs, some South's chose to sign off at four spades, but West was nevertheless alerted to the indicated diamond opening to 10 tricks on the deal for an inferior match point score.

FBI Probes Alleged Leaking Of Sensitive Info To Newsmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — An FBI investigation into the leaking of sensitive information to newsmen by government offi-cials extends to the White House and Pentagon, as well as the State Department, it has

UNUSUAL QUERY Informants say the probe involves lie detectors and demands that officials sign affi-davits swearing they did not provide unauthorized material

According to these informants the White House ordered the FBI into the current investigation after a July 23 New York Times story gave details of a new secret American proposal at the U.S.-Soviet strategic-arms-limitation talks in Hel-

First official indication of the unusual query came Thursday when the State Department acknowledged some of its personnel had been questioned by the Justice Department concerning sources of "stories which we judge to be harmful to the national interest."

State Department spokesman Robert J. McCloskey declined to "go into details or the anatomy" of the investigation. However, information provided by various sources produced the following account:

The administration has been bothered by more than one story dealing with sensitive information attributed to government officials, including the famous Pentagon-papers incident. But the direct cause of the investigation was the July 23 Times story that raised serious concern in the White House.

DENIALS This led to the order that the FBI investigate, a move supported and cooperated in by Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

The FBI subsequently found four State Department officials who confirmed talking to Times reporters who wrote the armslimitation story, but the four denied leaking sensitive infor-

Nevertheless, asked to take lie-detector tests which were described as supporting their positions. Other State Department employes also were asked to sign statements affirming they had not disclosed any unauthorized information to the public.

State Department officials said no disciplinary action was taken against any of the agen-cy's personnel questioned by the FBI.

Other informants said this apparently indicated the State Department phase of the probe is over, but that sources of leaks still are being sought in the White House and Defense Department. They declined, however, to give further details. The FBI declined specific comment, saying it is against policy to discuss a current investigation.

The New York Times story that spurred the query said government officials-unnamed in the article — discloses the United States had proposed to the Soviet Union that both sides stop building land-based missiles and missile-carrying sub-

Chaplain (Maj.) Kenneth Summy performed the ceremony at an archway entwined with greenery and flanked by arrangements of gladioli and candles. Mrs. William F. Martin, organist, provided traditional wedding music.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. William Oscar Smith of Birmingham, Ala., and Mr. and Mrs. Ward Warren Frye of Imperial Beach, Calif.

The bride was attired in a formal-length gown of white satin styled with an Empire bodice overlaid with lace, and an A-line skirt. Matching lace formed her long sheer, bishop sleeves which were cuffed at the wrist and trimmed with lace. She wore a scalloped lace choker and a floor-length scalloped lace mantilla. Her cascade of fowers was formed with white pompons, English ivy and babies'-breath.

Lt. Naomi Daniel of Spencer, Ind., served as maid of honor, wearing a floor-length mint green sleeveless gown with a band of daisies accenting the Empire waist. A daisy bandeau held her mint green veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade of white daisy pompons and babies'-breath.

Lt. David Reay of Garden City, N.Y., served as best man, and Capt. Russell Peterson of Concord, Calif., was the usher.

Following a trip to Mexico, the couple will make their home in Big Spring. Lt. Frye is a student in Class 72-09 of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron

Not all bridges are built. When the sea pounds its relentless waves against a wall of rock...when the icy crust of a glacier spans a mountain chasm... when a giant of the forest falls across a stream... bridges simply happen.

Here perhaps is the parable of God's kind of engineering. Seemingly there are no calculations, no blueprints, no construction equipment. But results man can behold with awe and reverence.

Yet some men are so wrapped up in their human projects they simply forget that God accomplishes anything . . . until their errors begin to show . . . their bridges start to crumble. Then they need Someone to stop the collapse.

It makes better sense to work with God in all that we build — and in all that happens. The Church has been man's greatest source of help across the span of centuries.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled otherwise in a case from Illinois (March 24, 1969) and another from Virginia (Feb. 24, 1970). Both cases were argued on 14th Amendment equal protection

The Illinois decision held that states are not required to equalize spending in the various school districts. Illinois, Virginia and California fund ther schools primarily from local property taxes.

Texas funds its public schools primarily from state taxes allocated to the various schools primarily on the basis of average daily attendance in each district. So the state funding formula is on a basis of equality. State funding aims at a minimum acceptable educational standard for all students. Local districts may add to that whatever they desire.

The big San Antonio Independent School District gets its money from state funds (47.8 per cent), local taxes (18.9 per cent), federal funds (18.5 per cent) and other local funds (6.9 per cent). The other funds include income from cafeterias,

Pressing Problems

A recent survey of citizens in 10 major cities to learn their views on a variety of urban problems produced one clear pattern: They were concerned most about the youth drug problem.

From a list of 16 items that might be of concern, the majority of those polled gave the highest priority to "helping kids and others who are on

The survey was made by the Urban Observatory Program and distributed by the National League of Cities.

Asked what cities should be doing about the problem, more than half suggested using more police and law enforcement techniques. But some 40 per cent said the emphasis should be on education and treatment rather than on law enforcement.

The second highest degree of agreement from the survey was that cities should spend more money on inspecting houses and requiring owners to clean up substandard or hazardous conditions. Majorities also said that more money should be spent on schools, police patrol, cleaning and repairing streets, medical care for the indigent, low-income housing and control of air pollution.

On the question of tax increases to finance services, a majority of interviewed citizens in each of the 10 cities favored a sales tax over other methods of taking.

Property taxes came in either last or next to last. An income or earnings tax was second to a sales tax. There was strong sentiment for changing the laws to remove the tax exemptions of churches and private schools. Offered the alternative of reduced services or more taxes, most citizens favored increased taxes.

Were an extended survey made, authorities might be surprised to learn that those closest to the drug problem believe the most lasting benefits will come from education and treatment

'AFTER THE THAW - THEN WHAT?

Marquis Childs VILLER OF THE LETTER SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. - The boldest diplomatic initiative in this century is still very much on the rails. Henry Kissinger and his staff, in the closest collaboration with President Nixon, are working almost literaily day and night on the details of the mission to Peking and the meeting with Chou En-lai and Mao Tse-tung.

The China Visit

THE BEST GUESS now is that the trip will take place in late October some time after the debate in the United Nations General Assembly on the two Chinas. This will aimost cerntainly end with the seating of the People's Republic not only in the General Assembly but in the Security Council as weli. Then the expectation is that Chaing Kai-shek will retire to the solitary splendor of Taiwan.

THERE HAVE been dire reports that the President will be humiliated with nothing to show for his 10,000mile journey. These reports are given no credence at the White House. Those foilowing the exchanges almost weekly between Washingon and Peking through a variety of channels over the past two years discount such reports completely.

They are convinced of Chou's seriousness in seeking an understanding with the United States. They do not speculate on motives, although they do not discount his concern over the massed million or more Russian troops on the Chinese border.

AS NOW CONCEIVED, the visit will the following course. The President will have extensive talks first with Chou and then with Mao Tse-tung. They will agree on later exchanges at commercial, cultural and diplomatic levels. These exchanges will be the substance of the communique issued at the end of the visit. It is possible that a visit to the U. S. by Chou will be one result. Formal recognition between the two Pacific powers is years away. American troops in Taiwan, military aid for Chiang, the presence of the 7th Fleet in the Taiwanese Straits ail these issues must be resolved.

AFTER PEKING Mr. Nixon will turn tourist. He will visit Shanghai and perhaps other principal industrial and commerical centers. This is one of the aspects of the journey he is most looking forward to.

The hate mail undoubtedly comes from the lunatic fringe. What is amazing is that, after such a long campaign of hate propaganda beginning with the downfall of Chiang Kai-shek in 1949, the American people should welcome with such eager curiosity the opening up of the largest country in the world. Scientists, journalists, tourists, politicians in the thousands are applying for visas to view the mystery beyond the Great

IT IS A tribute to Mr. Nixon's prescience that he took this initiative. In light of his own participation in the hate China campaign be might have expected quite a different reaction. But he has proved over the years that he is an astute politician, and China and 1972 can hardly be put down as a coincidence.

Now we know why President Nixon set his wage-price freeze for 90 days. He figured it would take that long to decide whether Texas school teachers would come under it.

Prison Slayings

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON - Commentary in this space has been postponed on the most recent "Soledad Brothers" carnage out in poor, nutplagued California in the hope the over-there liberal community would stop trying to make a hero out of George Jackson because he was killed in an attempted breakout from San Quentin.

BUT THE WAILING over the fate of this career criminal continues unabated. Wherever a body listens, the Look-Ma-How-Liberal-I-Am bunch is calling Jackson a symbol of the blacks' anger with the country's judicial system. The argument is that Jackson would be alive today if blacks were not ill-treated in our prisons and forced to resort to

BUT EVEN if one admits that Jackson was shot to death because he was black, my more glandular colleagues miss the point. Somehow, Jackson had got his hands on a gun, a circumstance even Supreme Court Justice Bill Douglas might find untoward. There was an attempted escape. In the viciousness that followed, five other persons died from throat slashings, including three guards and two inmates.

JACKSON'S bereaved mother has charged that her son was set up for his killing by his jailers, and there are those in the intellectual ghetto who assert the poor woman has something there. Perhaps she has;

at least Mrs. Jackson has a right to be overwrought. But even if, almost incredibly, Jackson was handed that gun by a guard or other warder, the issue is still what hap pened after that.

At any rate, there are all these very dead people, and it seems passing strange that I have read no expressions of sympathy from "liberal" commentators for the guards and their wives and families.

THE CONCLUSION inevitably must follow that when Jackson got his hands on that gun - whether or not he was set up - he started something that ended with six persons dead by violence. Whatever the "root cause," Jackson was with those who believe in violence to right real or fancied

AND THAT, of course, is just what the system is all about. It has its terrible faults and it is true enough that blacks sometimes are victimized by the system's white administrators, but its aim remains the protection of society from any individual, even including a mixed-up George Jackson, who would play judge, jury and executioner. Indeed, Jackson was awaiting trial on a charge of killing a guard at Soledad Prison when he died so terribly.

Meanwhile, I expect the forces of the left will pursue their attack on the system. After all, it is the breadand-butter of their ideology.

My Answer

was born with a lame leg, and I have not been able to live a normal life. Since all ministers agree "we were created by God," I wonder what God had against me when he did such a bad job on me. I really think he blew it as far as I'm concerned. How can I have faith in such a creator? This time, I'm going to let a little child from whom I received a letter recently, answer you. The Bible says: "Thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes." Matthew 11:25. Dear Billy Graham: "I have had eight operations on my head. I have shunts on both sides of my face to control my vision. The other day I accidentally walked through a glass door, and they are soon to operate on my leg. But, I keep falling, so as yet they have been unable to operate. I have a cast on now from falling. I am a child with an enlarged head, and I was born that way. I have also had spinal meningitis. A Devotion For Today . . .

The Lord will give strength unto his people; the Lord will bless his people with peace. -Psalm 29-11

PRAYER: God, show us how to find victory in Christ, how to discover His peace for ourselves. This we ask in the name of Jesus, who taught us to pray: "Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come, Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive those who trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. For thine is the kingdom, and the power, and the glory forever. Amen.

LOOKING With Tommy Hart

Judging them off their first four exhibition games, I don't think the Dallas Cowboys can go back to the Super Bowl. They might not even finish ahead Washington in their own division of the NFL's six-section race.

George Allen is risking his reputation on a Washington team which largely played for Los Angeles last year. At Dallas, Tom Landry still needs a quarterback.

What about Craig Morton, you ask? He has done little to show he is the passer he was three years ago, and he may again be Landry's messenger boy, a fellow who must accept help during the progress of battle from Landry's
