New Money Standards Prove Costly To GIs In Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — The floating of the West German mark may cost the U.S. Army in Europe more than $30 million this fiscal year. For the individual serviceman, it means higher rents, tighter budgets and less travel and entertainment.

Young GIs arriving in Germany for the first time encounter a new kind of cultural shock. They compare the hard marks and pennig of reality with the tales they heard from their fathers and big brothers about the good old days when a carton of American cigarettes could buy practically anything here.

With a note of disillusionment, Spec. 5 Frank Godec of Pueblo, Colo., remarked, "I had the idea things would be dirt cheap over here. After all, the dollar was king."

HARD TO GET BY

But now Godec says he and his wife are finding "it's really hard to get by on the 'economy.' If you try to use dollars they only give you three marks or less. Sometimes they won't even accept dollars for marks."

Since the mark was floated I've been paying $10 dollars a month more rent."

The "economy" is military jargon for the marks-and-pennig world outside of American military compounds. Godec is one of thousands of married American enlisted men living "on the economy" because military dependent housing is not authorized or available.

The Godecs pay 500 marks a month for rent. Before the float, this came to about $137. Now it is about $147. But this figure is subject to fluctuation.

West Germany allowed the mark to float, or seek its own level on the international money markets, on May 9. The move was designed to stem the inflow of unwanted U.S. dollars and halt domestic price rises.

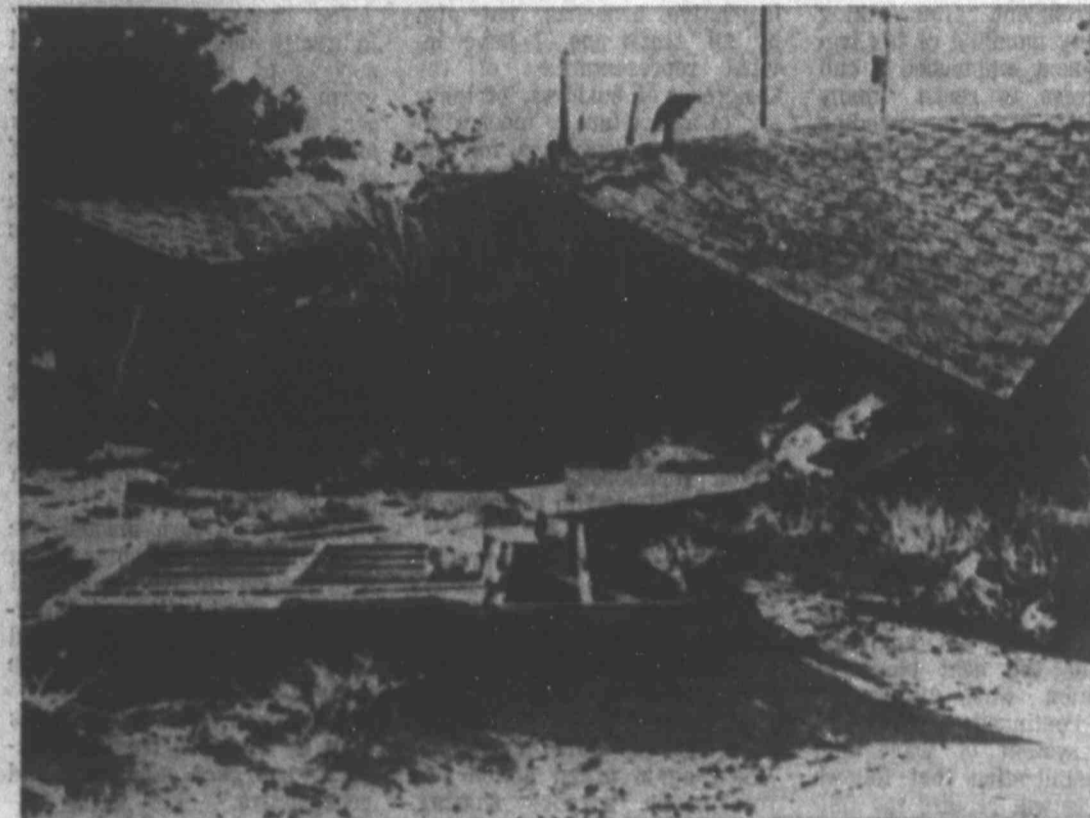

MARK GOES UP

Two years ago, the value of the dollar was dropped from four marks to 3.66 marks. Since it was floated three months ago, the mark has risen about 8 per cent in value and Americans now are getting 3.28 marks or less for each dollar.

A long-time Army employee, who remembers the good old days, remarked, "I just don't go out on the 'economy' any more. I eat at the American clubs. I tell my wife: Don't buy on the 'economy,' go to the PX and commissary."

Spec. 4 William Jeter of Hays, Kan., said he and his wife "used to buy most of our groceries on the 'economy.' But since they floated the mark, we just can't afford it. Besides, we don't know from day to day how much our dollar is worth. We do our shopping in the commissary now."

But there is no comparable way to offset such higher fixed costs as rent, and the Jeters—like the Godecs—are paying $10 more a month than when they arrived last March.

LUBBOCK EXPLOSION — A natural gas explosion demolished an East Lubbock residence and sent a woman and five children to St. Mary of the Plains Hospital. The woman and four children were treated and released. The fifth child was listed in satisfactory condition. The blast that shook dwellings seven blocks away occurred about 7:40 a.m. Firemen arriving at the scene turned off the gas supply. There was no fire.

Demos Set New Rules To 'Streamline' Convention

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democratic party reform commission today unveiled its final blueprint for a streamlined 1972 national convention designed to assure equal treatment for all candidates, true representation by delegates and a speedup of the nominating process.

Many of the proposals, developed over the past two years at public hearings and meetings, require approval of the Democratic National Committee, which meets Oct. 13 and 14. Others go directly to the committee that will write next year's convention rules.

Together with delegate-selection reforms already approved by the National Committee, the proposals are designed to prevent a repetition of the party's tumultuous 1968 convention in Chicago.

They have the broad effect of providing for greater participation by women, young people and minority groups; eliminating rules and practices used by some party leaders against challengers; and strengthening the power of individual delegates to determine their officers, rules, platform and candidates.

The proposed convention committee changes add to the strength of major industrial states, already set to receive more representation under the proposed delegate-apportionment formula which is currently under a federal court challenge.

Specifically, the commission headed by Rep. James G. O'Hara, D-Mich., recommended:

—Instead of two members from each state, convention committees will have one member from each state with the rest up to 150—allocated according to delegation size.

—The platform and rules committees would be required to complete their work 10 days before the convention starts and the credentials panel would have to finish two days in advance.

RESTRICTIONS

—Only presidential candidates with the support of at least 50 of the proposed 3,016 delegates, could be nominated. The 50 delegates must come from at least three states. The time for nominating and seconding speeches would be limited to 15 minutes. This rules out favorite-son nominations, but a delegate would be free to vote for anyone. Floor demonstrations are banned, and "spontaneous" ones would count in the 15 minutes.

—All committee sessions including votes would be public.

—Women are assured equal representation on committees and as convention officers. Officers would be selected by the committees themselves, and the convention chairman would be picked by the delegates, rather than by party leaders.

Moscow Agrees To Talks With U. S. On Navy Issues

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S.-Soviet agreement to seek an end to harassment of each others' navy is not part of any Russian effort to offset Communist China's increasingly active diplomacy, American officials say.

Nevertheless, some foreign diplomats are questioning why Moscow picked this week to approve an October visit by an American delegation to discuss ways of preventing what the State Department described as "collisions and other incidents at sea."

The time is only coincidence, according to high State Department officials, and has no direct relations to recent Soviet agreements easing tension with the United States and its European allies.

In fact, one source said, the Soviet Union agreed last November to the principle of seeking accords on joint naval matters. He denied any delay was involved in waiting until Wednesday to announce the talks would open Oct. 12. "It was only a matter of working out the details and then setting a date," he said. There was no explanation why Moscow hadn't answered sooner after the original U.S. approach was made in April, 1968.

State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray told newsmen secretary of the Navy John W. Warner will head a high-ranking American delegation to Moscow "to discuss how to avoid incidents at sea between our two nations."

Explaining that the hoped-for understanding would cover "rules of the road" for naval vessels of both countries, Bray said no political background is involved. Only the desire to prevent recurrence of the 100 incidents reported over the past several years is behind the talks, Bray said.

Heavy Strikes By B52s, More Troops Moved Up

SAIGON (AP) — American helicopters ferried 1,000 fresh South Vietnamese troops to within two miles of the Laotian border today in a major drive below the demilitarized zone spearheaded by U.S. B52 bombing strikes.

No contact with the enemy was reported as 15 helicopters carried the South Vietnamese infantrymen in more than 60 lifts to landing zones south of Highway 9 and Khe Sanh.

About 25 B52s, making their heaviest strikes in more than three weeks, dropped 750 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese positions extending from the southern half of the DMZ 20 miles southward below Khe Sanh.

PULLING BACK
The raids inside the buffer zone were aimed at North Vietnamese troops who reportedly had pulled back in advance of the South Vietnamese offensive launched Monday, which has grown to 13,500 troops. The object of the drive is to disrupt enemy supply routes and infiltration corridors leading into South Vietnam from Laos and the DMZ.

There has been no major fighting reported, and Maj. Gen. Pham Van Phu, directing the operation, said thousands of North Vietnamese had fled north across the DMZ during the preceding two weeks of heavy B52 raids.

Associated Press Correspondent Holger Jensen reported from the field that two American advisers accompanied the South Vietnamese to call in U.S. air strikes around the landing zones if there was enemy resistance.

LACK GUNS
U.S. 24th Corps artillery supports the South Vietnamese in the northern sector because they lack the long-range howitzers and 175mm guns.

In a smaller, parallel operation farther east toward the populous coastal lowlands, South Vietnamese infantrymen reported killing eight enemy troops and capturing one prisoner. Two South Vietnamese soldiers were reported wounded.

Sharp fighting was reported in the Mekong Delta at four points more than 100 miles southwest of Saigon, including the U Minh forest. The South Vietnamese said 50 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were killed while South Vietnamese losses were five killed and eight wounded.

In other developments:
—Adm. John S. McCain Jr., commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific, arrived in Phnom Penh to confer with Cambodian leaders on American military aid.
—South Korea announced it will withdraw one brigade of its 50,000-man military contingent in South Vietnam between December and next June.

Thieu Now Worrying About A Cutoff Of Aid From U. S.

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu is increasingly worried that the U.S. Congress might cut off drastically reduce aid to South Vietnam if he runs unopposed in the Oct. 3 presidential election, informed sources said today.

Thieu is reported concerned despite assurances made by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker and Secretary of State William P. Rogers that the Nixon administration has no intention of abandoning the Thieu government.

Sources said that in a series of recent meetings with advisers, Thieu has mentioned the possibility of resigning to forestall a cutoff in U.S. economic and military aid by Congress.

JUST TELL ME
"If the U.S. doesn't want me as president, if they just tell me that directly, I will resign rather than have aid to South Vietnam cut off," Thieu was reported to have said.

He added that a coup attempt would be absurd "because there would be no winners in a coup. The U.S. would withdraw and cut off all aid," the sources said.

Western diplomatic sources, in confirming that Thieu is increasingly worried about a possible cutoff in U.S. aid and has mentioned the possibility of resigning, said most diplomats still believe that Thieu will carry through with his plan to run unopposed in the Oct. 3 election.

VOTE OF CONFIDENCE
Thieu has not talked to the press in the 10 days since he announced on national television that he would consider the election a "referendum" and would step down if he and his policies failed to get a vote of confidence from the people.

Some reports say he will hold a major news conference within the next several days to explain the details he omitted from his television speech: What he would consider a "vote of confidence" and how it would be measured, the mechanics of the election, and the procedure by which he would step down if he failed to get the required mandate.

URGED TO RESIGN
A Saigon newspaper published by opposition Deputy Ngo Cong Duc was confiscated tonight for a banner headline claiming that the country's top generals were urging Thieu to resign.

The headline followed a reported meeting between Thieu and his four corps commanders and top generals from the Ministry of Defense and the joint general staff.

The government's official Vietnam Press reported that a second newspaper was confiscated today because it carried a story claiming that Madame Thieu has twice attempted suicide because her husband refused to resign as president.

Bloodiest U.S. Battle Put Gettysburg On Map

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — This is a town where the dead support the living.

The bloodiest battle in American history put Gettysburg on the world tourist map, and the town has been living off it ever since.

The 53,000 casualties who fell on those three horrible days in July, 1863, in what proved to be the Civil War's turning point, unwittingly created an economic bonanza that today attracts 4.5 million visitors annually who spend more than $28 million.

Without that chance meeting between Gen. Robert E. Lee's invading Confederates and the defending Union forces, followed a few months later by President Abraham Lincoln's address, Gettysburg would be just another quiet community in rural America.

IKE'S HOME

Gettysburg also has the farm home of the late president, Dwight D. Eisenhower. His widow, Mamie, still dwells there. The town takes advantage of that, too.

"This community can survive now only with tourists," says a Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce spokesman.

That lucrative trade has caught the town up in what some tag the Second Battle of Gettysburg, a legal fight to halt or at least slow down the commercialism around the shrine.

LEGAL BATTLE

The legal battle centers around a 307-foot basket-weave tower on spindly steel legs. The tower is designed to give the tourist, for $1, a better chance than ever to see the ridges, hills, woods and wheat fields where cannons boomed and the cold steel of bayonets and hot lead of rifle bullets ripped into sweaty bodies.

Opponents say the tower will be an environmental obscenity and an intrusion that will break the spell of history.

Thomas R. Ottenstein, millionaire Washington promoter, denies his tower is strictly for the money. He calls it educational, describes it as "a classroom in the sky," and insists it will provide "a feeling of liberation, which is basically what the Civil War was all about."

TEMPORARY BAN

Gov. Milton J. Shapp, condemning the deal, went to court. Claiming the tower will violate the constitutional rights of Pennsylvania to enjoy "the natural, scenic, historic and aesthetic values of the environment," he won a temporary injunction. On Sept. 22 a judge will hear argument on whether to make the ban permanent.

Is Gettysburg honky tonk, selling slightly phony history and fun to visitors who buy made-in-Japan souvenirs by the barrelful? Or does it really try to show and tell it like it was?

There is some of both.

It's the government's job to chronicle in the park what went on 108 years ago on the 16,000 acres that today boasts 2,393 monuments dedicated by states and regiments, 415 cannons and 70 miles of wood and stone fences.

"We're trying to recreate a historyscape, not a battle scene with the gore," says Jerry Schober, park superintendent. "What we do is retain the appearance of the land, including crops planted and harvested by locals like it was when the soldiers came here to fight."

HISTORYSCAPE

Keeping the tourists entertained and spending is the successful goal of the 16 private attractions, 13 of them self-styled museums.

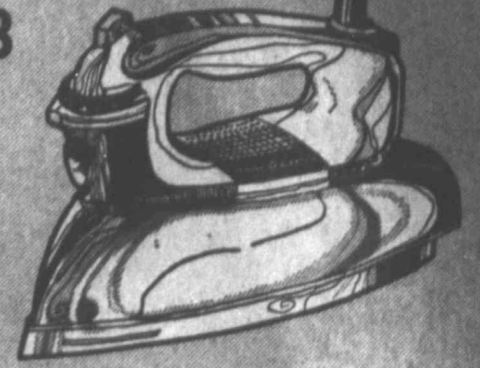

You can tour the battle sites by bus, hire a National Park Service guide, fly over in a helicopter, ride through in your own car assisted by a rented, taped synopsis of the sights, or walk the hallowed ground where the battle raged, reliving the final fury, while carrying a rented recorder that describes the events with a background of music and cannon fire.

A LESSON IN HISTORY — Tourists study a monument and look out over the famed Gettysburg battlefield from atop a rock at Little Roundtop. Millions visit the battlefield every year.

Bicycling Returning As Popular Sport

DALLAS (AP) Many people may think this is the age of recycling, what with ecology and all that. Actually, according to recent sales, one would think it's the age of just plain cycling—bicycling, that is.

Bicycles, which used to be just for the under-15 set, are now "in" with practically everyone. Some people buy them to ride them around the block as a status symbol.

Marty Newman, a bicycle mechanic, said people that are really serious about cycling are really good people.

Newman gave up his job as an executive with a Dallas advertising agency because he prefers to tinker with bicycles.

"I guess I took a $700 cut in salary but I enjoy living and this is like being alive again," he said. "It's the first time in my life I've been happy." Serious cyclists are buying the European type racing cycle equipped with 10 gears. He said a person in good physical shape should be able to push these along at 25 m.p.h.

Newman, who used to drive a Cadillac, now arrives at his destination on a bike. It's just as quick in some cases, he said.

Motorists are a problem, however, and occasionally they are downright offensive.

He said there would be special bicycle tracks, laid down with special protective barriers from the automotive traffic.

Tupamaros Grant Amnesty To Kidnaped Ambassador

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — Leaflets distributed Wednesday night at a leftist political rally claimed that the granted "amnesty" to British Tupamaro guerrillas have granted "amnesty" to British Ambassador Geoffrey Jackson, kidnaped eight months ago.

Officials at the British embassy said they were examining one of the pamphlets to determine its authenticity. The leaflets were passed out at an election rally held by the Frente Amplio—Broad Front—a coalition of leftist parties that is challenging the conservative government of President Jorge Pacheco Areco.

Jackson, seized by the Tupamaros Jan. 8, has been a captive 244 days, making him the longest-held kidnap victim in recent history.

The Tupamaros, Latin America's most active urban guerrilla organization, freed 106 of their comrades and five common criminals Monday by tun-neling 120 feet into a federal prison on the outskirts of Montevideo.

There were rumors that the mass escape was part of an "agreement" under which Jackson would be freed.

But Pacheco Areco's government mounted a massive search for the fugitives, replaced the prison director, and vowed to punish officials of the Punta Carretas prison for "inaptitude and total corruption."

UT Newspaper Squabble Solved

AUSTIN (AP) — A settlement has been reached by University of Texas regents and the publishers of The Daily Texan in their lengthy controversy over the school newspaper.

Regents Jenkins Garrett of Fort Worth, and Frank Erwin Jr. of Austin said regents got everything they wanted.

Erwin even said he was "shocked and amazed" that Texas Student Publications, Inc., had agreed to the conditions of the settlement.

The regents approved the arrangement proposed by TSP Wednesday in a 5 1/2-hour closed door session on the UT-Austin campus. TSP accepted the proposal last week.

DROP LAWSUIT

It means the regents' lawsuit against TSP — set for Sept. 20 — will be dropped.

Under the new agreement, TSP would be dissolved and all of its assets, including $600,000 in state funds, would be turned over to the regents. Control of the assets was the object of the lawsuit.

No time limit was set on the new agreement.

The present nine-member TSP board will serve until June, 1972, when a board of six students, three faculty members and two professional newsmen will be set up.

ELECT EDITOR

The Texas editor will continue to be elected by the student body.

Garrett said the proposal also makes TSP subject to regent rules and gives the president of the university final authority in any dispute over the operation of the newspaper if the new "operating trustees" (now TSP) and the journalism department chairman should disagree.

Garrett said the agreement insures that "day to day operation (of the paper) will be under the control of the students . . . and safeguards against censorship, which was never the desire of the regents."

TSP lawyer Joe Latting of Austin said the student control trustees could still determine what could be printed.

The controversy arose prior to the expiration of July 5 of the TSP 50-year charter as a non-profit corporation. TSP contended a seven-month extension by then Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr was invalid. The regents said it was not.

Prior to action on the Texas, Regent Chairman John Peace of San Antonio denied publicly that he had violated the conflict of interests law in the site-selection of UT-San Antonio.

WELL-KNOWN

He said several possible sites were such "common knowledge" that maps of them had been printed in the San Antonio newspapers and a "lot of people" kidded him about taking a hard look at certain sites in which they were involved.

A student group here, The Legal Research Project (LRP) said Saturday that Charles Kuper and Alfred Negley, both of San Antonio, began buying about 1,100 acres around the UT-SA campus about three months before regents approved the site in May, 1970.

The students said Kuper and Negley were officers of La Ventura Corp. and Peace was an incorporator and initial director. They said he was instrumental in choosing the site.

Peace told a news conference he had even refused to recommend a site because "I did not want to interfere with the committee's objectivity."

He said he did not know Kuper and Negley had acquired options to buy the land until months after the regents approved the site.

"They are friends of mine, no question about that, but many friends are closer. I do see them weekly or monthly," Peace said.

Irish Firebrand On His Way Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Irish Republican Army firebrand Joseph Cahill was ordered returned to Dublin Wednesday, his exclusion from the United States a week ago upheld at an immigration hearing.

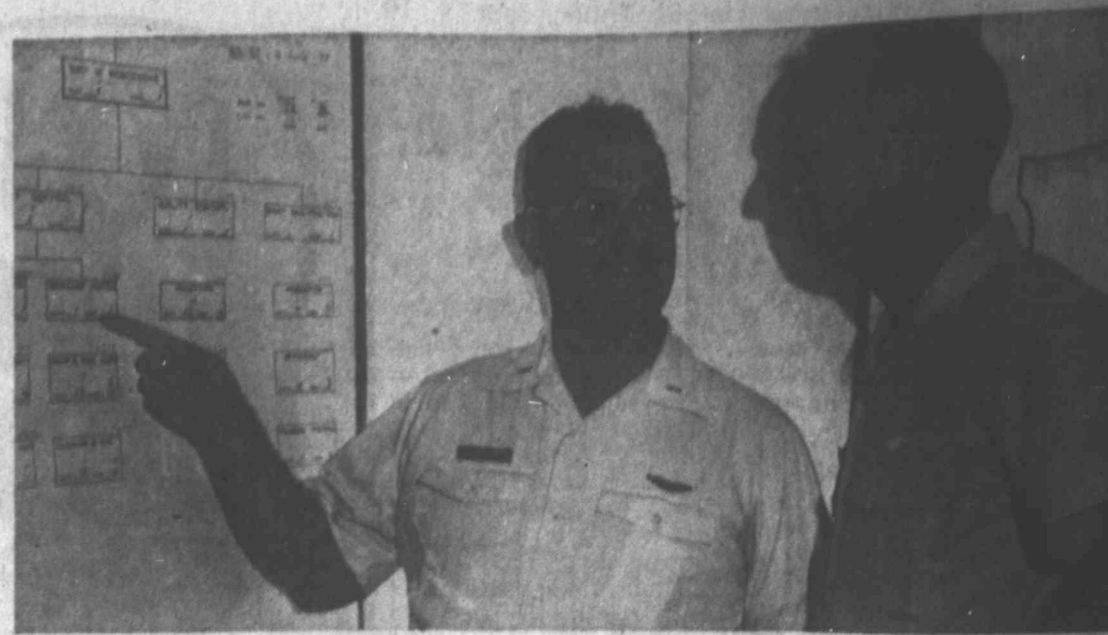

Two hours after the mid-afternoon ruling by Francis J. Lyons, presiding officer at the immigration hearing, Cahill was on his way to Kennedy Airport.

Cahill flew back to Dublin at 10:17 aboard an Aer Lingus jet after telling newsmen he would like to return to the United States and hoped the government would rescind its ban against him.

He said he had received a call earlier from Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., who said he'd try to get some his Senate colleagues to join in asking the government to change its mind. Lyons upheld the State Department's cancellation of Cahill's visa on grounds the Irish guerrilla — who has been described as the British army's most wanted man — had failed to report a murder conviction and subsequent prison term when he obtained it last November.

Sponsored by the Irish Northern Aid Committee, a Bronx-based organization, Cahill, 51, arrived at Kennedy Sept. 1, planning a four-weeks tour of nine American cities to raise funds for the militant provisional wing of the IRA, which he heads. It advocates open warfare with British troops in Northern Ireland to achieve union with the Irish free state.

COL. AUSTIN R. BRYAN (right) ASSUMES CHARGE OF MAINTENANCE CWO Henry Brewer shows new chief personnel figures for big group

Maintenance Squadrons Get New Commanding Officer

Lt. Col. Austin R. Bryan has assumed duties as Webb's chief of maintenance, encompassing both the 3500th Field and 7th Air Force at Tan Son Nhut Air Base, Vietnam. As chief of maintenance the colonel is responsible for the planning and scheduling of the entire aircraft maintenance effort at Webb and control of 728 military men and 108 civilians.

"Webb has a tremendous collection of talented people," noted Col. Bryan in observing that people constituted the most important asset, given training and equipment.

Col. Bryan entered the Air Force in 1951 under the aviation cadet program. He received his wings and was commissioned in 1952, then was sent to Korea where he flew F-84 Thunderstreaks. In the next 15 years he was assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., Randolph AFB, Texas, and other stateside bases, serving as a maintenance flight test officer quality control officer and maintenance manager. During this time he attended the staff maintenance management course at Randolph.

In 1967 he returned to Japan and was assigned to Yokota where he flew F-4 Phantoms, was also an operations officer in the 35th Tactical Fighter Squadron. Then he went to Fuchu Air Station where he was chief of the current plans division at Hq. 5th Air Force. In 1969 he drew his assignment with the 7th Air Force.

Col. Bryan is a native of Houston. He married the former Miss Patricia DaCamara, from Laredo. They have a daughter, Deborah, who is a freshman at the University of Texas at Austin, and a son, Austin Jr.

Unique Features For Open House At Research Unit

This year's field day and open house at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock will offer several unique features, according to County Agricultural Agent Bruce Griffith. The annual event is slated for Tuesday beginning at 1 p.m.

Detailed discussions will be presented on grain sorghum varieties, weed control, narrow-row cotton and verticillium wilt control. These will be presented on special tours to particular field locations throughout the afternoon. Visitors may select any one or all of these tours. So, agricultural producers, homeowners and gardeners are encouraged to bring their questions on insect, disease, and weed control, fertilizer use, irrigation or whatever for the "experts." Griffith also encourages them to bring any plant specimens they may have.

There will be general tours to the various field research plots on the Center's 300 acres.

AIC Salathe Is Honor Airman

An inventory management specialist assigned to the research section has been named supply squadron Airman of the Month for July. He is Airman I.C. Stanton W. Salathe, who has served only nine months in the Air Force.

A native of Gretna, La., the honor airman graduated from Martin Behram High School in New Orleans in 1964. He completed the BS degree in marketing at the University of Southern Mississippi, Hattiesburg, Miss., in 1969.

Airman Salathe completed his technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo., before he was assigned to Webb in April.

He was cited for "his sincere desire and high level ability to research," according to his supervisor, Mrs. E. Fay Rogers.

Airman Salathe married the former Miss Judy K. Hallenus, a native of New Orleans.

Transfer Trouble In Crystal City

AUSTIN (AP) — Several Crystal City residents will ask the state Board of Education Saturday to explain why 178 pupils were denied transfers from that city's troubled school system, a local official said Wednesday.

Wayne Hamilton, one of two Anglos remaining on the Crystal City School Board, said eight to 15 persons would attend the meeting.

The state board put an "audience" with the Crystal City group on its Saturday agenda.

State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar instructed surrounding school districts in July that accepting the Crystal City pupil transfers would violate federal court order and endanger their accreditation. Transfers of 144 Anglos and 34 Mexican-Americans were rejected.

Since then, dozens of families have moved from the city so they could legally enroll their children in schools in nearby Uvalde, La Pryor or Carrizo Springs.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin ruled that appeals from the transfer denials could not be made to the state boards — as is customary — but had to be taken to U. S. Dist. Judge William Justice in Tyler. Justice instructed the education agency to disapprove any transfers tending to increase school segregation.

Hamilton said the Crystal City group is "mainly interested in ascertaining whether the transfer decision is equitable and is being applied across the state, or whether some special consideration is being given Crystal City."

He said some Mexican-Americans whose children were denied transfers would be in the group.

Emerson Banack of San Antonio will be spokesman for the group, Hamilton said.

La Raza Unida, a militant Mexican-American political party, has a 5-2 school board majority in Crystal City. The party also has a majority on the City Council.

Area Council Gets Foundation Aid

GALVESTON — The Moody Foundation of Galveston has awarded nearly $1 million to a wide range of projects across Texas at its fourth meeting of 1971.

Seventy-six grants totalling nearly $4 million have been made this year to causes such as pollution research, educational innovation and medical and welfare programs.

More than $500,000 was awarded to seven educational projects ranging from special classes for the emotionally disturbed to improving college faculty quality.

In this region, the Concho Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America received $22,383 to continue its outreach program to Mexican-Americans along the border.

Library Resumes Its Story Hour

Now that the older youngsters have returned to school, the Howard County Library has restarted its weekly story hour program for the entertainment of pre-school youngsters. Mrs. Margaret Stevens, library assistant, conducts the story hour from 10-11 a.m. each Friday.

A coin-operated copying machine will be installed soon in the library. The machine will be for use by students needing copies of research materials, or by anyone desiring copies of materials which cannot be taken from the library. The cost of the copies will be 15 cents per sheet.

Six Flags Teams Win Scholarships

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Twenty members of the Six Flags Over Texas host and hostess team have been awarded special scholarships in recognition of outstanding work at the Theme park this summer.

The $500 scholarships were presented by the park's vice president and general manager, Robert W. Freeman.

Winners were selected from lists of nominees submitted by each department in the park. The program was initiated in 1966 as a means of recognizing the vital role which the students play in the success of Six Flags. This year's scholarships brought the total given during the life of the program to 111 awards worth $55,500.

Similar programs exist at the other two Six Flags Parks in Atlanta, Ga., and St. Louis, Mo. The total of scholarships given by all three parks now stands at $116,000.

The winners were judged on their attitude toward guests and fellow employees, personal appearance and conduct and job performance.

Police Learning To Handle Mentally Ill

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas police recruits now take training in helping them to recognize and handle the mentally ill.

Mrs. Katherine Reed, executive director of the Mental Health Association of Dallas County which helps sponsor the program for the recruits, said the first contact with the mentally ill is usually the police.

"This is because they usually reach a personal crisis and begin yelling or disturbing the peace and the police are called by frightened neighbors or passersby," she said.

These people need to be treated or committed, not just jailed, she said.

The association began its work with the Dallas Police Department about two years ago. At the time, trainees were receiving some training on the handling of mentally ill persons but it was conducted by the department.

The first part of the program has the police recruits visit the Mental Illness Court where they learn firsthand about commitment proceedings.

Then they go to the Mental Evaluation Center where persons believed to be mentally ill are under observation before being committed.

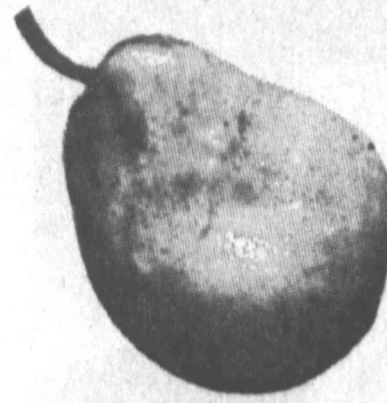

So far, nearly 600 police recruits have gone through the training program.

Mine Situation Not Under Control Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — The lowest fatality rate, during the first seven months of this year, in the statistical history of coal mining.

Eighty-six miners were killed during the first five months, for a ratio of .73 fatalities per million man-hours worked. The six-month ratio fell to .69.

The picture suddenly changed in July when 17 men died, setting a one-month rate of .87 fatalities per million man-hours and pushing the seven-month figure back to .72.

Bureau of Mines personnel tried to announce the upswing but could not get official clearance for a news release, sources said.

A reference to the July death rate, in a speech written for Mines Bureau Director Elbert E. Osborn for delivery in Denver Aug. 22, was edited out by the department, sources said.

In August, the latest reports show, at least 20 men died in the coal mines. Man-hour figures are not available yet, but it appears the August fatality rate will approach one death per million hours worked.

Manson Mistrial Motion Denied

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A motion for mistrial in the second murder case of Charles Manson was denied as the trial resumed after a two-week recess.

Manson, sentenced to death earlier this year for the seven Tate-LaBianca murders, is now on trial in the slayings of stuntman Donald "Shorty" Shea and musician Gary Hinman.

Manson's attorney, Irving Kanarek, asked Tuesday for a mistrial because of recent publicity over arrests of Manson followers in an attempted robbery that ended in a shootout.

Meanwhile, in the trial of Charles "Tex" Watson, being tried separately for the Tate-LaBianca murders, a second physician testified Tuesday that Watson has brain damage probably caused by drugs.

Lynda Bird Hurts Neck

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — University of Virginia Hospital spokesmen say Lynda Johnson Robb will be hospitalized through this week for a cracked neck vertebra.

The daughter of former President Lyndon B. Johnson suffered the injury in a fall in the yard of her home last weekend and was brought to the hospital Sunday by her husband Charles.

Robb is a second-year law student at the university.

A hospital spokesman said the injury was not serious and that the 27-year-old Mrs. Robb was "up and around."

Ex-Basketball Players Charged In Heroin Sale

NEW YORK (AP) — Two former college basketball players, employed in a city anti-drug program, have been arrested and charged with trying to sell four ounces of pure heroin to a police undercover agent.

The two are Solomon McMillon, 24, a graduate of Loyola University of Chicago, and John Busby, 24, who played at J.C. Smith University in Charlotte, N.C., police said.

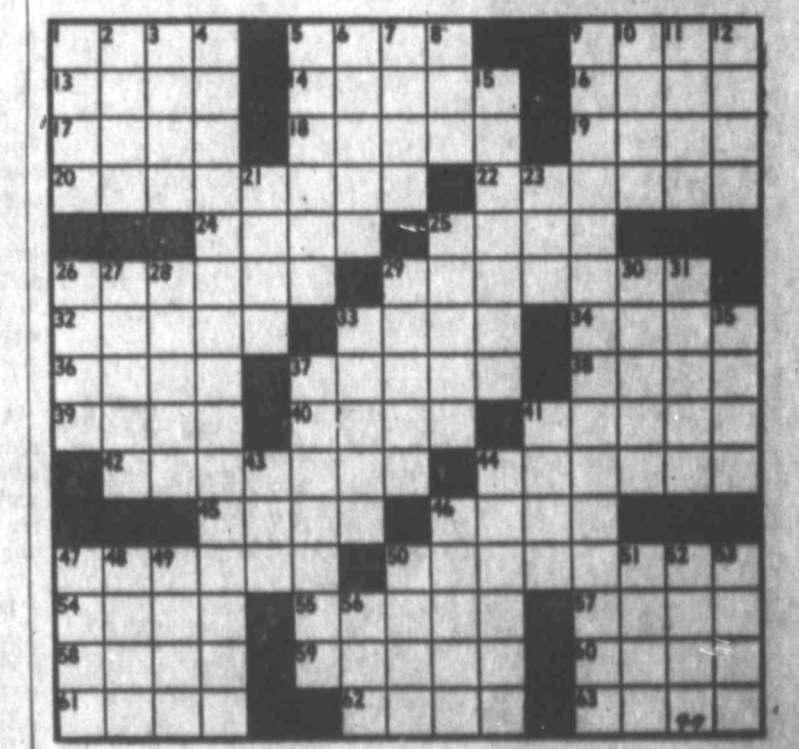

They were employed by the Youth Services Agency's Operation Sports Rescue program to teach school youngsters in basketball clinics and to warn of the dangers of drug use.

Detectives said they offered to sell the undercover agent four ounces for $4,000. Police estimated that when cut for street sale it would have brought $75,000.

Souped-Up Car

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem doesn't really concern your generation, Abby, but the younger generation will understand.

I am a 17-year-old guy who has a souped-up car. My car is nice looking and is pretty noisy, but I'm sure it is legal. The police are constantly following me for no reason at all. I have been driving for nearly two years and have never had an accident or a ticket.

Why do the police bug me all the time? I don't break any laws and I don't intend to. Is it because my car looks fast and I'm a younger guy? FED

It's HER junk, and if she wants to drag it around the world for the next 50 years, it's all right."

Next comes a letter from a wife complaining because her husband still carries a picture of his old girl friend in his wallet, and you say, "Nix! HER picture doesn't belong in your husband's wallet."

To me the principle is the same. Defend yourself.

HOWARD IN SALT LAKE
DEAR HOWARD: Aw, come on! Letters, pictures and souvenirs from dating days represent scads of old beaus. But one picture in a man's wallet is special, and no wallet is big enough for a man's wife and his old girl friend.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to "HUNGRY FOR LOVE" made me wince.

For 11 years I was married to a charming, kind, bright and sweet man who had little or no need for sex. But my desire made him uncomfortable, then angry, finally hostile.

"Surely, there is something wrong with me," I thought, "I must be oversexed. What is normal? Once a day? Once a week? Once a year?" I didn't know.

My physician suggested a psychiatrist for each of us. We each spent several years on the couch, after which my husband died of a tumor of the pituitary gland — undiagnosed.

After 15 years of marriage to my present husband I learned much about life and sex. To put it succinctly, "If one has an itch, he will find a way to scratch it."

A disinterested husband who has no "itch," may be physically sick. Look for a medical cause, not a psychological one.

BEEN THERE IN TRENTON
DEAR BEEN THERE: A psychiatrist is first of all a medical doctor, and one who is competent will look for both medical and psychological reasons.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

A 'Foodaholic'

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a "foodaholic" — a human garbage disposal, a compulsive overeater. I turn to food, especially man-made carbohydrates, much as an alcoholic turns to liquor (for the same reasons — lack of reasons).

Since childhood, food has been overly meaningful to me. When depressed, resentful, anxious, rejected, frustrated, in pain — as well as happy, satisfied or excited — I would turn to enormous quantities of food. A "binge."

I would eat, eat, eat all day and all night perhaps; bating myself, yet continuing. When literally stuffed, I'd force myself to throw up, only to eat

(O.A.) Since I have been an O.A. member I have come to understand that I have an illness that I can control just for today, one day at a time.

I am learning to place food in the proper perspective. It is merely a necessity of life, as is sleep. It is not the answer to my problems. It only made my problems worse because I hated the fat me for running to food, instead of helping myself. Obesity is a serious medical problem, but there is hope through this program. — V.J.G.

Physicians who specialize in treating obese patients are often aware that overeating is often an emotional reaction, and the "secret eater" has to understand why he eats so much — or why she does.

V.J.G. enclosed a pamphlet about "Overeaters Anonymous," and it is, indeed, patterned very much after Alcoholics Anonymous. V.J.G.'s letter explains cogently why that makes sense.

I do not know how widespread O.A. is, but it has been in existence since 1960, and has groups in various places, just as A.A. does.

For anyone interested, I'll give the address to which to write to find out if there is a group in your vicinity. It is Overeaters Anonymous, P.O. Box 3372, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My hands shake and seem to be getting worse. What causes this and what can I take to help me? I have been this way for about two years. — Mrs. L.C.M.

There are different causes of hand tremors, the commonest ones being Parkinson's disease, aging, and overactive thyroid. Treatment depends on what the cause is, and you will have to have your doctor diagnose the cause.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint diseases as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to him in care of The Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.
