

ASSERTS HOUSE SPEAKER MUTSCHER AFTER INDICTMENT IN STOCK SCANDAL

'Big Fish Are Still Swimming'

AUSTIN (AP)—House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two of his chief lieutenants have been indicted on bribery charges arising out of the Texas stock scandal.

Mutscher, the highest state official to face criminal charges since Gov. James W. Ferguson was impeached in 1917, told newsmen Thursday after being fingerprinted: "the big fish are still swimming."

"I think it's a politically motivated thing designed to destroy me politically and completely destroy my future," Mutscher said.

The Travis County Grand Jury Thursday indicted Mutscher on charges of accepting a bribe and conspiring to accept a bribe.

The grand jury indicted Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, speaker pro tempore, and Mutscher's chief administrative assistant, Rush McGinty, on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe.

John Osorio, former State Insurance Commissioner and president in 1969 of National Bankers Life Insurance Co., now in receivership, was indicted on a charge of filing a false report with the State Board of Insurance.

The bribery indictment against Mutscher, officially unsealed and made public today by the district clerk's office, alleges he accepted $130,250 in loans and the use of the money provided by Frank Sharp through the Sharpstown State Bank of Houston "on or about" July 22, 1969... another $179,258.76 in loans and the use of the money was provided Mutscher's employees, associates and relatives," the indictment says.

AGREEMENT

Mutscher accepted the loans "with agreement and with the understanding with" Sharp that Mutscher would "use his vote and influence and powers of his office... to procure and assist in procuring the passage" of bank deposit insurance legislation, the grand jury alleged.

This, the indictment continued, "was in violation of the duty of the said Gus F. Mutscher Jr., as a legislative officer..."

Mutscher, McGinty and Shannon are named jointly in a single indictment alleging conspiracy to accept a bribe. The indictment says that "on or about July 22, 1969" Mutscher, McGinty and Shannon "did unlawfully conspire, combine, confederate, and enter into a positive agreement... to accept and agree and consent to accept a bribe and bribes..."

USE OF MONEY

The indictment says they agreed to accept loans "and the use of money" from Sharp and the Sharpstown bank "with the agreement and with the understanding" that Mutscher and Shannon would "use their votes and influence and powers of their offices" to pass bank deposit insurance legislation.

The grand jury also charged that Mutscher, McGinty and Shannon agreed "together and between themselves" that they would accept profits from National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock under an agreement with Sharp that Mutscher and Shannon would work for passage of the banking bills.

"Pursuant to such conspiracy," the indictment says, Mutscher and Shannon actually did influence passage of the measures in the second special legislative session of 1969 and after passage of the bills accepted the profits.

The grand jury also took a swipe at other "high state officials" for their "questionable practices." Some Texas lawmakers have been "too busy granting political favors and being influenced in exchange for 'turning a fast buck,'" the jury said in a special report.

Mutscher posted $20,000 bond on his two charges. McGinty posted $10,000 bond on his charge.

Shannon reportedly was prepared to post $10,000 bond in Fort Worth, to where Travis County Sheriff T. O. Lang mailed an arrest warrant.

Shannon appeared at Sheriff Lon Evans' office in Fort Worth at 10:20 a.m. to post bond and issued this statement:

NOT GUILTY

"I am not guilty of charges brought against me. In my 15 years as a member of the House, I have never supported nor opposed legislation for compensation or reward. I have never even been approached to do so. I am certain that I will be cleared in court. I plan to request an early hearing so that this matter can be finally resolved."

Evans said Shannon went through what the sheriff called "regular jail booking routine." Evans added, "I may arraign him I don't know yet."

Shannon went to Evans' office with a bondsman and $10,000 bail was posted.

Shannon, a short man with grey-white hair and wearing a blue-green striped suit, appeared solemn as he went through the processes.

WON'T FIGHT

Osorio telephoned from New York Friday to a Dallas acquaintance to say he will report to the Austin sheriff Monday. He stressed that he does not plan to fight extradition.

Seven members of the "Dirty

30," a coalition of Republicans and liberal Democrats that has fought Mutscher's team in the House, issued a statement calling for Mutscher and Shannon to resign.

"When individuals have been indicted for abusing their powerful political positions and the public trust they should not serve in such positions," said Reps. Frances Farenthold, Corpus Christi; Lane Denton, Waco; Ben Grant, Marshall; and Tom Bass, R. C. Nichols, Curtis Graves and Walter Mendgen, all of Houston.

POSTED BONDS

Mutscher and McGinty were indicted to the jail floor of the county courthouse for fingerprinting and photographs "just like everyone else," said Chief Sheriff's Deputy George Pope. They were released after posting the bonds.

OFF AND RUNNING — Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma announces today at a Washington news conference his candidacy for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination. "I intend to try to turn this country around before it's too late," the 40-year-old senator said. He is the second declared entry in a crowded field of Democratic White House prospects.

Top Soviet Spy Defects

LONDON (AP) — A senior Soviet intelligence agent defected to Britain with documents on a Russian spy network, the Foreign Office announced today.

The Foreign Office ordered 105 Soviet employees of the embassy, the trade delegation, the Moscow Bank and the Aerofoil airline to leave Britain.

Ninety of the Russians currently on duty here were given two weeks to leave. Another 15, currently abroad, will be denied permission to return to London.

MASS EXPULSION

The mass expulsion is the biggest of its kind in modern diplomatic history except in cases of countries breaking off relations.

The expelled officials, all accused of espionage activities, are spread through the embassy, the airline, the tourist agency Intourist, a machinery rental center and the Moscow Narodny Bank, a Foreign Office spokesman said.

Sir Denis Greenhill, permanent secretary acting for Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home, gave the British decision in written form to Ivan Ippilov, the Soviet charge d'Affaires.

SPY YARN

None of those expelled will be replaced, the British said. This would reduce the Soviet population to 445 and the Foreign Office said anyone else detected in espionage activities would be ejected without replacement.

The Foreign Office said: "Evidence of the scale and nature of Soviet espionage in Britain conducted under the auspices of the Soviet Embassy, trade delegations and other organizations, has been provided by a Soviet official who recently applied for and was given permission to remain in this country."

"This man, an officer of the KGB, brought with him certain information and documents including plans for infiltration of agents for the purpose of sabotage."

The Russians ordered to quit Britain apparently work for the Soviet trade delegation, the airline Aerofoil, the tourist agency Intourist and the Moscow Narodny Bank as well as the embassy.

NO COMMENT

Foreign Office sources said: "This is a matter we have tried to settle discreetly with the Russians and it is because they have not replied or in fact admitted that a problem existed that we have been obliged to take this action."

The action is one of the most widespread and dramatic expulsions—short of closing an embassy—that the British government has undertaken.

Jury Box To Be Filled By Monday

MIDLAND — Ten jurors had been selected by noon today in the Midland murder trial of Orville Davis, 51. Testimony is expected to begin Monday, according to 118th District Attorney Wayne Burns, one of the three prosecutors in the case.

Latest jurors to be named to the panel are Tom B. Briscoe, engineer with Catholic Protection Service, and Adrian C. Settle, mail clerk with Skelly Oil Co.

Jury selection is expected to be completed today, but it is thought that if efforts to finish today fail, 118th District Judge R. W. Caton is expected to call a Saturday session to fill the jury box.

"No matter what the outcome is today," said Burns, "no testimony will be heard before Monday." The Saturday session would be for the sole purpose of completing the jury, according to Burns.

Three jurors were selected Thursday afternoon to bring the panel number to eight. The newly seated jurors are Edward J. Phillips, an electrical technician, Mrs. Estelle Teston, Midland housewife, and Donna Ruth Thiene, a secretary with Coastal States Oil Co.

Mrs. George W. Allen, a Midland housewife, was selected Thursday morning.

Attorneys questioned 14 prospective jurors Thursday, most of whom were dismissed because of objections to the death penalty which the state is seeking against Davis.

SOME RUNOFF Rain Continues To Surprise West Texans

Rain continues to fall in Big Spring and the surrounding area, with a Big Spring total of 2.50 inches, bringing the yearly total to 17.22, more than three inches above average.

Temperatures continue low, but today's low of 54 degrees is still warmer than the record low of 45 degrees in 1926. High for the day was 57.

City street department officials reported today that there had been no drastic problems with the rain, but that the intersection of Second and Owens streets was blocked briefly Thursday due to high water.

"We actually needed the rain to cure or harden the seal-coated streets around town," said Tom Dignon, street superintendent. After the rain subsides, the street department will sweep the remaining gravel off those streets that were seal-coated. Dignon said that there have been no other problems with the rain, because it was not hard, extended showers.

Motorists were experiencing some problems with the rain this morning. Police investigated a minor accident at the intersection of Tenth and Gregg, in which one driver said that an approaching car had splashed water on her car, causing her to lose visibility and hit another vehicle. Police encouraged all motorists to take every

WEBB PLANS SIREN BLAST

The quarterly siren system check at Webb AFB will be held at noon Saturday.

No action will be required by base personnel.

Budget Will Have To Wait, Temporary Measures Set

By BRIAN PEAY

With the proposal and adoption of a new budget before the Oct. 1 deadline a physical impossibility, the City of Big Spring may keep operating at its present rate until a new budget can be formulated and approved.

This can be done either by "continuing appropriations" or by a hearing on and adoption of the current budget with intent to completely amend it later.

As directed by the city charter, notice of a budget hearing must be posted 10 days prior to the hearing and a budget must be approved by the city commission by Oct. 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

But, Harry Nagel, city manager, assured today that the city would not go beyond the legal bounds set by the charter, and that a continuing appropriation operation would be substituted until a formal budget can be formulated.

"We have not determined the city's actual financial deficit yet, and we will try to operate on this system until we present the formal budget to the commission approximately 60 days from now," said Nagel.

Maxwell Green, auditor on special assignment for the city, has completed the reconciliation of the city books through July, and is presently working on the August figures, according to Nagel.

"His findings are important to the formation of the budget, and we will have to wait until he completes the work before any real projections can be made," Nagel said. City officials hope the work will be completed next week.

Under the continuing appropriation operation, the city will be able to continue the regular operations of the city departments and maintain existing services, but no additional expenses can be approved until the new budget is adopted.

Nagel said that many times the federal government has operated under the same interim situation.

This temporary plan will be presented to the commission in the next regular session, and if not satisfactory, Nagel said that the current fiscal year budget, with some amendments, would be submitted for adoption.

The new city manager met with departmental supervisors last Tuesday and directed each supervisor to work up his own department's budget.

"They will know better what type of budget their department will be able to live with during the next year, and if any department goes over the budget, it will have itself to blame," Nagel said. His practice, he added, is to live within the budget.

The aggregate of all the supervisors' budgets will form the total revenue and expenditure projections for fiscal year 1971-72.

A downtown parade was scheduled to kick-off the public activities of the Big Spring High School Homecoming today — if it stops raining.

The parade was to be held beginning at 5 p.m. if it was not too wet, said school officials, "but if it is raining very hard, we will have to call it off." Floats will be judged and prizes awarded in any case.

Rain failed to dampen the spirits of onlookers at the bonfire Thursday, which blazed high enough to light the clouds, despite the day-long soaking of the massive pile of wood.

Several hundred spectators turned out for the combination bonfire and pep rally. The "admission" price was one piece of wood per person, which added to the already huge bonfire.

The marching bands, floats, pep squads and other entries in the parade, scheduled to begin at Tenth and Main, will be followed by the Homecoming Dinner and alumni registration at 5:30 p.m. at the Howard County Junior College student union. The Golden Horns Stage Band will provide music for the gathering. Prizes will be awarded to alumni at the $1.50 per person dinner, scheduled to close at 8 p.m.

Pre-game activities will get under way at 7:30 p.m. in Memorial Stadium with a parade of the winning floats of the afternoon parade, followed by the announcement of winners and the presentation of awards. Special alumni will be recognized and the student council will welcome the visitors.

At 8 p.m., the Homecoming game between the Big Spring Steers and the Snyder Tigers will kick-off, with the Steers favored to win this year's game. Upsets, however, are the rule, and not the exception in the annual contest, so expectations are high for a closely fought game.

Highlight of the half-time activities will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen, the Band Sweetheart and the Football Queen. Contestants for Homecoming Queen are Denise Bryant, Connie Torres and Nancy Smith; for Band Sweetheart Sue Fortenberry, Becky James and Carol Perry; and for Football Queen Sheila Armistead, Patricia Cherry and Marilyn Cunningham. A patriotic show by the Steer Band will follow the crowning of the queens.

This year's Homecoming will end Saturday at midnight when the Homecoming dance is over. The dance is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. The dance, for high school students with an activity card, is $1.50-$3.00. Entertainment will be provided by the band, Glory, from Abilene.

Poff May Be One Of Two Nominated To High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has thrown out a broad hint that he may nominate Rep. Richard H. Poff, a Virginia Republican, to fill one of two openings on the Supreme Court.

Poff's chances appeared brighter after Nixon discussed with members of the Economic Club of Detroit the kind of candidates he was considering. Teachers, legislators for example with great experience on the House Judiciary Committee. He helped pilot Nixon's crime control legislation through Congress last year and is considered a "law and order" conservative of the sort the President would turn to for the high court.

REP. RICHARD POFF

CIVIL RIGHTS

He already has the backing of the committee chairman, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., and the ranking Republican, Rep. William M. McCulloch of Ohio, though he voted against civil rights bills they sponsored in the 1960s.

A second place on the Court opened Thursday when Justice John M. Harlan retired. Harlan, 72, and suffering cancer of the spine, stepped down six days after Justice Hugo L. Black, who is in critical condition at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

In announcing Harlan's retirement, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Nixon was expected "to move as swiftly as possible to find two highly qualified individuals to fill the vacancies."

The court opens its new term Oct. 4. Hearings are scheduled to begin Oct. 12 with argument on the constitutionality of the death penalty. Only justices on the bench when a case is argued are permitted to take part in the eventual decision.

MORE MODERATE

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said that once the nominations are made the Senate would act on them as quickly as possible. In the past the Senate readily approved two Nixon nominees, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun, and rejected two others, Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and G. Harrold Carswell.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said Burger and Blackmun "reflected the conservative element" and that he hoped the nominees to succeed Black and Harlan would represent "more moderate elements of American opinion."

Ziegler said Nixon would use the same "strict constructionist" standard he used in the past. This means a restrained view of the Court's functions and a reluctance to upset state or federal laws.

WOMAN TALK

Speaking in Detroit the President said appointment of a woman was a possibility and that he was more interested in a prospect's judicial philosophy than his region.

The hint about Poff came about when Nixon said he might select someone other than an experienced judge.

"Justice Felix Frankfurter, a teacher, was a great justice," he said. "Justice Louis D. Brandeis, one of my heroes, was a practicing lawyer."

Burger, Blackmun, Haynsworth and Carswell all were federal appeals court judges when they were named for the Supreme Court. Justices William J. Brennan Jr., Potter Stewart and Thurgood Marshall also had judicial experience. Justices William O. Douglas and Byron R. White had none when they took their seats.

RETIREMENT

Harlan's retirement ends a 16-year Court career noted principally for judicial scholarship and the theory that Bill of Rights safeguards should be applied to the states only when

Harlan, "is not a panacea for every blot upon the public welfare; nor should this Court, ordained as a judicial body, be thought of as a general haven for reform movements. If the time comes when this Court is looked upon by well-meaning people—or, worse yet, by the Court itself—as the repository for all reforms, I think the seeds of trouble are being sown for this institution."

DEATH SENTENCES

Tall and serene, he looked the part of a Justice and was the grandson of one, the first John Marshall Harlan, who served for 34 years. He took on some of the toughest opinion-writing assignments, including his last major decision for the Court last May upholding the latitude of juries to impose death sentences.

He supported the right of privacy and disapproved of various police searches and aspects of government eavesdropping.

His voting record was generally to the right of Black, Douglas, Brennan and Marshall and to the left of Burger and Blackmun. The double retirement of Black and Harlan gives the administration a wide-open opportunity to build on the Burger-Blackmun nucleus. Four Justices with their viewpoint should have little trouble controlling the Court since they would need to pick up only one vote—generally that of Stewart or White—to form a majority.

The Washington Post quoted Atty. Gen. Mitchell today as saying Nixon was "very seriously" considering nominating a woman. The Atlanta Constitution said, meanwhile, that Nixon was considering Mrs. Rita Hauser, a New York lawyer who was active in his 1968 campaign and has served as the U.S. representative to the U.N. Commission on Human Rights.

Rogers Plans To Take Up Berlin Security Question

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers planned to take up Berlin and European security questions with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko tonight in talks to be climaxed by a Gromyko call at the White House next week.

Over dinner at Rogers' Waldorf suite, the superpower foreign affairs leaders were expected also to discuss the U.S.-Soviet strategic arms limitation talks—SALT—just recessed at Helsinki.

PRIME TARGETS: U.S. sources said the SALT negotiators still have some way to go before reaching a major agreement on limiting antiballistic missiles—ABM—and offensive missiles.

the Moscow-Washington hot line, and avoiding nuclear war by accident.

The session with Gromyko highlights a busy round of appointments for Rogers on the first day of his yearly visit to the U.N. General Assembly opening.

He expects to meet with some 65 foreign leaders all told, with the China seating and Middle East among prime topics.

After an early-morning Cabinet meeting in Washington today, he arranged to lunch here with French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann and meet separately during the afternoon with envoys from Japan, Iceland, Turkey, Iran and Upper Volta.

The evening with Gromyko is the first such high level U.S.-Soviet parley in a year—and Nixon's planned trip to Peking seems to have heightened Kremlin interest in securing its western flank.

DEADLOCKED: Berlin rated priority on Rogers' agenda because of an impasse since the Big Four—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—signed their historic Berlin access agreement Sept. 3.

West and East Germans are deadlocked over arrangements to carry out the agreement, and Washington wants Moscow to prod its Communist allies to live up to what the West sees as their commitment under the accord.

Progress on Berlin in turn has a bearing on other European security questions: The Soviets have been pushing for an East-West conference on European security and have indicated also an interest in mutual force reductions in Europe.

Wealth Topic Of Program

The parable of the rich was the topic of discussion for the Baptist Women at Westside Baptist Church Tuesday.

N. M. Hipp directed the program, assisted by Mrs. Donald Brooks, Mrs. Leroy Minchew and Mrs. C. L. Kirkland.

"There is no evil in wealth itself," the women said. "Jesus had many wealthy friends he didn't condemn. Many of his disciples were successful businessmen. Wealth becomes evil when it is made the chief end of life; when it binds men to material issues and blinds them of spiritual life."

The women said man is born to die, and that many spend their lives gaining more and more material possessions, forgetting the day when sorrow and death will bring an end.

They said men who lay up extras for themselves are not rich to God, and that God should be put first.

The birthday prayer calendar was read by Mrs. J. W. Trantham, and prayers were by Mrs. Don Brooks and Mrs. Mary Riddle. The regular Tuesday meeting will not be held next week.

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The board of directors of American Petrofina, Incorporated, Dallas, meeting here Tuesday, declared a dividend of 55 cents per share on the Class "A" and Class "B" common stock for the second half of 1971. The dividend is payable Nov. 4, 1971, to shareholders of record at the close of business Oct. 18, 1971.

In the first half of 1971, the company paid a semi-annual dividend of 55 cents per share.

Suspect Sought In Assault Case

Robert Villareal, 24, of 108 NW 2nd, is charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with an alleged assault Wednesday on Manuei Pineda, 26, of 1102 W. 2nd. No arrest has been made in the case.

Pineda was allegedly wounded over his left eye, but examination has failed to reveal what type of weapon was used in the attack, according to Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard. Pineda was released from Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital Thursday.

The victim told investigating officers that the incident occurred sometime after 6 p.m. Wednesday on a roadside four miles west of Big Spring. According to Sheriff Standard, beyond time and locale, details of the alleged shooting are sketchy.

After firemen were able to quell the fire, Sheriff Standard and his deputies assisted Texas Electric Service Co. in cutting off all utilities to the house in case of another outbreak of the fire.

Cause of the fire has not been determined, said Sheriff Standard.

Ruling Affects Lakeside Homes

Owners of property on the Highland Lakes in Central Texas may be directly affected by an order adopted by the Texas Water Quality Board to regulate the use of septic tanks by homes located in two zones surrounding the lakes.

To preserve the quality of the waters in these lakes, Hugh Yantis, executive director of the Water Quality Board, said that in a zone close to lake shores, septic tanks will be prohibited. In a second zone, further removed they will be permitted under strict regulations.

A request by the manager of the Webb Aero Club that the CAP assist in the clean-up of the building was heard and the next meeting was set as a general clean-up session. All members were requested to wear fatigues and flight suits to the next meeting.

Willie D. Lovelace, 2200 Carl, was reported to be in good condition today at the Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. He was involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of 21st Street and Runnels Thursday evening.

Nathan Joel Poss, 704 Mathews, was the driver of the other vehicle and was not injured in the accident, in which Lovelace's pickup was turned on its side from the impact of the collision.

A fire department unit was dispatched to the scene, but no fire resulted from the accident, which occurred at 6:30 p.m.

Connecticut Man Robbed, Stabbed

Police received a report from the Phillips 66 Truck Stop, IS 20 and US 87, Thursday night that a man had been robbed and stabbed.

Patrick Scully, 39, of 109 W. North Street, Hartford, Conn., received minor cuts, investigating officers reported, and had been robbed of $340 worth of checks and $10 in cash.

Scully was taken by police to Cowper Hospital and Clinic, and was treated for the minor wounds and released. He was able to give a detailed description of the two men that robbed him, according to the authorities.

CRMWD Budget Bigger This Year

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District Thursday adopted a budget of $5,850,691 for 1972, up $885,727 over the current year.

The vast bulk of the increase comes from higher principal and interest payments occasioned by the Lake Spence and Ward County well field and pipeline projects. Debt service will cost the district $3,332,957 for the year, or $602,753 more than budgeted for this year.

Operating expenses will total $1,351,199, or $72,010 more than for the current year. Nearly all of this can be attributed to addition of the Ward County field and supply line to the system, for this incurs $61,169 new expense.

The district projects water sales of $5,800,691 and recreation revenues of $50,000. The anticipated net revenues for the year are put at $1,166,535, an increase of $169,964 over this year and sufficient to provide the required 1.35 coverage for outstanding bonds.

Biggest single item of expense will be electric power for pumping, which is calculated at $583,710, an increase of $32,247. Next is payroll, which amounts to $435,332, up $25,547 for new employees and salary adjustments of 5 per cent provided the wage freeze is lifted by the new budget year Jan. 1.

The board also authorized execution of two new contracts to sell water to Texas Electric Service Company. One calls for delivery of water to Lake Colorado City, under certain conditions, starting in 1972, and from the Ward County well field to TESCO's Monahan power plant in 1974.

Bids on a crawler-type tractor were authorized. O. H. Ivie, general manager, reported the district now has 141,000 acre-feet in surface reserves, not counting inflow under way from Thursday's rain.

Area Rain

Wet, rural roads are stopping school buses, but apparently not the students.

Three buses in the Gay Hill area have had to avoid muddy, dirt roads, but only one student has failed to make it to school, according to Gay Hill principal George M. Archer.

"They know the school buses can't pick them up in this kind of weather," he said, "so they don't expect them, and they find another way to school."

A special education bus slid off the road in town Thursday, but no one was injured and the bus was fixed only briefly.

Although the two to four inches of rain fell slowly over a two-day period, this water-logged area was yielding some runoff for its lakes today.

Together, Lake E. V. Spence and Lake J. B. Thomas had picked up over 8,000 acre-feet, and there was good prospect that the ultimate yield will be at least twice that figure.

Moss Creek Lake and Powell Creek Lake southeast of Big Spring also had gained some, but there were no accurate gauges on them so far.

At mid-morning, Lake J. B. Thomas stood at elevation 2,232.55, a rise of .45 of a foot accounting for 1,500 acre-feet. McCollum Creek which drains northwestward to near Gail was running five feet deep, and the Colorado River at Shady Grove on the crossing at the upper end of the lake was also five feet deep. Reports from the river crossing on the Big Spring-Gail road, about 20 miles upstream, was that the river was running 1 1/2 feet deep at that point. Bull Creek was running two to three feet deep at the U.S. 180 crossing east of Gail, but this did not represent a heavy flow.

The Colorado River at the Silver bridge above Lake E. V. Spence had come back up and was running six feet deep at 10:30 a.m. Creeks in that area also were said to be running from effects of slow but persistent rains totaling two and three inches. Lake Spence's elevation was 1,852.82, an increase of 1.52 feet representing 6,000 acre-feet of water. This is half a foot above the previous record high for the lake.

Area rainfall reports include 1.37 at the TESCO station east of town; 2.1 inches in Coahoma; 1.5 inches at Moss Creek Lake; 1 inch at Forsan; 1 inch at Fairview; 2 inches at Ackery; 1.5 inches at Vealmore; .7 inch at Vincent; 3.5 inches at Luther; 2 inches at Elbow; 1.1 inches at Stanton; 1.16 inches at Lamesa; 2.50 inches at Colorado City; 1.74 inches at Sweetwater; 2 inches at Escoda; 1.93 inches at the Colorado City power plant; 2.28 at Wild Horse Creek on the Snyder Highway, a two-day total; and 2.26 inches at Morgan Creek, a two-day total.

Lake Thomas reported 1.4 inches at the dam; 1.8 inches at the Big Spring-Odessa intake; 1.6 inches at the Big Spring pump station; 1.5 inches at the O'Barr Well field, 20 miles south of Big Spring; 2 inches at the Lake Spence pump station; 1.36 inches at Snyder; and two-day totals of 2.4 inches at the Martin County pump station; 3.2 inches at Midland; 3.7 inches at Walsh & Watts; 3.2 inches at the Lake Spence dam; 2.4 inches at the Boyce Hale home on the south edge of town; and 2.9 inches at Price Earth Moving Co. on the Snyder Highway.

'Poor' Buffet Called Tasty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional and administration samplers of a poor-man's buffet describe the government food handouts as good and tasty.

The buffet was thrown by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill., Thursday as part of the first look in decades at the federal commodity food program.

"We are trying to focus not on the farmer whose surplus is bought, but on the poor people, who have to eat it," said Percy, a member of the Senate Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs.

The buffet looked like the food in steam trays in an Army mess hall. There was rice, chicken, pork, scrambled powdered eggs, powdered milk, and processed cheese.

"I find it very tasty," said Richard Lyng, the assistant secretary of Agriculture in charge of the program.

Lyng said that he had sampled the food two or three times before. "I'm not sure how the milk was put together. But, yes, it's very tasty," he said.

"For the most part, the meal is quite good," said Percy.

According to an Agriculture Department study, however, the typical handout diet provides only 54 per cent of the needed daily calories and only a fraction of the nutrients considered necessary to good health.

San Angelo Gets Time To Repay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Interior Committee voted Thursday to give San Angelo, Tex., more time to repay an Interior Department loan for a water project.

The West Texas city has been short of water since 1961 and has built the Twin Buttes Dam and Reservoir, partly with a federal loan.

Waggoner Carr Target Of $1.29 Million Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — Former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and former Texas Insurance Commission Chairman John Osorio are among defendants in a $1.29 million suit filed in district court by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

The FDIC claims in the suit the defendants borrowed $1.25 million from Sharpstown State Bank about April 17, 1969 for a period of 364 days. The suit claims the defendants paid one note in the amount of $25,075 Nov. 6, 1970.

The suit further claims the money for the loan was used to purchase all the outstanding stock in the West Virginia Life Insurance Co. by the defendants as shareholders of Nashwood, a Sharp-controlled firm.

Maintaining Innocence, Mutscher Blames Press

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher, a curious blend of political ruthlessness and unabashed sentimentality, angrily blames the press and his political enemies for the bribery indictments against him.

And he stoutly proclaims his innocence of the Travis County Grand Jury's charges that he accepted a bribe and conspired to accept a bribe.

MEANS POLITICIANS

"I think it is a politically motivated thing, designed to destroy me politically and completely destroy my future," Mutscher told reporters clustered around him as he left the county courthouse after being booked, fingerprinted, photographed and released on bond.

"The big fish are still swimming," he added, without explanation.

Asked to elaborate on what he meant by "politically motivated" Mutscher looked squarely at a capitol newsman and said: "I don't want to get into it. You could even read your stories and other comments and see there has been a lot of lobbying in that direction."

Mutscher also was asked if he intended to resign. He replied, "the future course we will take is something we will discuss with House members in the next few days."

father for the first time six months ago.

By then, things already had begun souring for him.

His alleged role in a stock scandal broken by the U. S. Securities and Exchange Commission in January eroded his authority with the House.

The "Dirty 30" House coalition of Republicans and liberal Democrats kept him off balance with repeated demands for a legislative probe of his quick profits in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock with money borrowed from the Sharpstown State Bank of Houston.

'DIRTY 30'

It was those dealings that brought Mutscher to the attention of the grand jury.

By the close of this year's legislative session in June, Mutscher was bitter and angry at the "Dirty 30" and came close to losing his composure on several occasions.

An end-of-session poll by the Associated Press indicated Mutscher could not count on the support of a majority of the present House members in his race to become the first three-term speaker, a job once held by the late Sam Rayburn.

Mutscher's sentimentality came out in late May in what some of his critics laughingly call his "win one for the gipper" second one in 1971 for his wife, Donna.

MISS AMERICA

As told by those who were present, Mutscher met with a group of lobbyists at a private party. He told them he won his first race for speaker in 1969 for himself, as a bachelor, and his

"I'm going to win the next one for Gus Hurley," his baby son, Mutscher reportedly said. Donna Mutscher was Miss America of 1964, when she then was Donna Axum of Eldorado, Ark.

Deserved Tribute

Ablene folk are taking the lead for all residents of Texas Highway Department District 8 in honoring J. C. (Jake) Roberts, district engineer, at a barbecue today.

It couldn't happen to a more deserving individual. And the occasion of the observance of Texas Highway Week is an appropriate time to pause and say thanks to a man who has invested his life in progress and grown through highways.

Much can be said about the scope and the quality of the Texas network of roads, particularly in the 13-county area which Jake Roberts supervises. While this was one of the first districts in the state to complete its part of the increase (IS 20 from Eastland to the Martin County Line), it would be a mistake to gauge Jake Roberts' effectiveness on this major thoroughfare. He has maintained a system of primary roads second to none in the state, and has seen to it that the secondary and the lateral road program did not suffer in the process. This is the process of wise, perceptive planning and aggressive action in obtaining approval for the work, as well as good stewardship with the taxpayers' dollar in building the projects.

Someone has to be responsible for this. Obviously the fine hand of Jake Roberts is evident. This is enough to earn him the accolades of this district, but in our book the man himself is the best reason of all in justification of the honor paid him. Jake Roberts is a man of integrity and upright character as well as ability. In West Texas language, he is a square shooter.

Severe Test Of Influence

As tension mounts again in the Middle East, United States influence is being severely tested.

The 13-month cease-fire was initiated by the U.S., which is urging both Egypt and Israel to abide by it. The truce was endangered by brief clashes involving planes and missiles, but not troops.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant has urged the U.S. to get Israel to the bargaining table before war erupts again.

The U.N. has sought to get Israel to commit itself to pulling back to the original boundaries of Palestine. Israel has refused to do so.

The United States reportedly has proposed to Israel that it pull back from the Suez Canal to mountain passes 24 to 40 miles away. Israel has not responded to the suggestion.

Meanwhile, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat has said that the United States no longer is a useful mediator in the Middle East. Also, Sadat has pledged to resume war unless a settlement is reached this year. By settlement, Sadat means the return of Arab land taken in the four-day 1967 war.

Israel has said it will be guided by its own interests and its own survival. The Israelis insist on guaranteed borders.

The U.S. is in a tough position. Its ability to influence Israel toward a settlement will be strongly tested.

SINCE LAWYERS can be disbarred and priests unfrocked, why shouldn't people in other professions be similarly dismissed? Electricians, for example, should be delighted; musicians denoted; cowboys deranged; models deposed. And why shouldn't a medium be dispirited or a Far Eastern diplomat disoriented?

Think further how power plant operators could be degenerated; song writers decomposed; doormen unhinged; sailors unstitched; captains decapitated; politicians devouted, and hog callers could be disgrunted.

Worst of all, teachers could be outclassed and reporters depressed.

THE BOBBY BOND record "Nothing New in Oklahoma" is not a Texas propaganda piece. It's about a broken love story.

"There'll be nothin' new in Oklahoma. I still want you all the time. No, there's nothing new in Oklahoma. You're still the only thing that's on my mind."

It might work out better, Bobby, if you'd quit calling her a "thing."

BOB ROGERS, backshop boss, says he thought of a really great gag for this column a few days ago but forgot it.

"Why don't you leave a blank space in your column for it?" he asks. Because I'm not very, very stupid, Bob. Where would I be if the boss decided he liked the blank space better?

IF MY MAIL is an example, the post office seems to be letting six-cent stamps carry a letter to its destination, at least for a while.

It's just as well. Think of the jam it would create if they sent employees around collecting for all those postage-due letters.

Honest Ed Muskie

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — By the time this is read, Sen. Ed Muskie may have decided that demagoguery is the better part of valor and repudiated his statement to a group of black leaders that the voters would reject a Presidential ticket with a Negro in the No. 2 spot.

After all, the man from Maine is a politician and thus is entitled to have second thoughts about telling the truth. And President Nixon, predictably, has joined Muskie's Democratic opponents in self-righteously putting him down for daring to wander down the path where candidates fear to tread.

HOWEVER, if Muskie indeed has disavowed this rare jewel of candor, it really isn't material to the heart of the matter. The record will still show that once upon a time he did have the guts to level with the black electorate and this will be remembered. That is to say, you never can tell when he will slip and again let his integrity show.

In any event, Muskie is still one up on the competition, which has descended into unrealistic, if not fraudulent piety.

"IT IS A libel on the American people" to say that they will not support a candidate for office because of race, religion, or color, says President Nixon. The Democratic party's vice presidential candidate should be picked without regard to race, creed, or color, say Sens. Hubert Humphrey, Birch Bayh, Henry Jackson, George McGovern, et al, ad nauseam.

I HOLD MY nose. Sure their words are noble. But they refer to an ideal, not a reality, and all those guys know it. In the context of the times, which is what Muskie's original statement was all about, not one of them willingly would risk almost certain defeat by putting a black man on his ticket.

OF COURSE this is a sad situation. It is just as unfair as the national mood that existed when Catholic Al Smith was defeated in 1928, and when some voters cast their ballots against Catholic John Kennedy in 1960. But acknowledging its sadness and unfairness doesn't change it. Blacks represent only about 12 per cent of the electorate, including some citizens who by the very nature of the human animal would not vote for one of their kind. Everybody is acquainted with mathematics; Muskie merely spelled them out.

IF ANYBODY cares, Ed Muskie told young blacks no such blatant thing. After noting that there are blacks who are eminently qualified for the Presidency, he said merely, and truthfully, that unfortunately a ticket with a black on it was not electable at this time.

This was Muskie's political sin. It is called treating responsible black politicians like grownups instead of trying to kid them along.

'I'M CHECKING ON THE DOWNDRAFTS THIS TIME'

'Black Capitalism' Blues

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Is it wise or just to turn over to an insurance pool from which black-owned insurers are excluded because of small size the $80 million a year in premiums paid by 200,000 black servicemen for life insurance?

Wouldn't it be more constructive to allocate those premiums as a competitive reward to those companies, black and white, who invest in the disadvantaged areas to which some of these servicemen will return to live?

These are the kinds of questions that occupy the mind of Theodore Cross, 49, former Bostonian, Harvard Law grad, executive and, as a beneficiary of capitalism, an unemotional believer in its universal application.

To his concern, he feels the Establishment and business and even government and the law are subtly withholding from the black the incentives and the means to affluence by denying him the chance to acquire capital.

Banks do not lend to him. Insurers shy away from his property, bondsmen won't guarantee his contracts. Businessmen really don't see him as a potential executive. Professions, such as accounting, do not demand his services.

The black has little incentive to raise personal capital because often he cannot use it creatively. He lacks strong aspirations for certain jobs because he knows there is no demand for his service in those roles.

Cross calls it a boycott, generally unorganized, often benevolent but often conspiratorial. He hopes to end it, not by destroying the establishment but by enlarging it to include those on the outside.

Otherwise, he maintains, the black is "powerless to speak effectively to the many except through riots, boycotts and sit-ins."

Cross maintains the ingredients for black capitalism exist. The skills can be developed if the economic rewards are offered. The entrepreneurs and tradesmen will develop if given the opportunity.

Some of Cross' views, which have developed a wide following within and outside of government, were expressed in a book, "Black Capitalism," which led to the year-old Opportunity Funding Corp. of the Office of Economic Opportunity.

"My notion is that the federal government should insure and underwrite and guarantee black business, minority business, until it is viable," he says.

"We must guarantee deposits in black banks even to $100,000. We must guarantee them insurance. We must guarantee contract performance in order that they can enter bids."

Court Appointment

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — At the age of 85 Justice Hugo Lafayette Black has just resigned, coincidental with a serious illness. After a tumultuous and troubled beginning on the Supreme Court, he has served his country well with an independence of mind and spirit that has characterized the truly distinguished judges in the long history of the court.

Justice Black's many admirers had hoped he would be able to return to the bench, if not at the opening of the fall term on Oct. 4, then shortly thereafter. His anticipation had been to serve longer than any other justice. Only two have exceeded his 34 years. One was Chief Justice John Marshall and the other Associate Justice Stephen J. Field.

THE COMPOSITION of the Supreme Court, the highest body in the third independent branch of government, is not for years but for decades. This makes the President's appointive power one of the most important functions of the chief executive. He can determine the direction of the court as the final arbiter far beyond his own term or terms in the White House.

IN THIS department Mr. Nixon's record has been dismal. Twice the Senate, with some Republican support, rejected his nominations. Both Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and G. Harold Carswell were found, ideological considerations to one side, unfitted for the high court. Finally, after two long controversies ending in defeat, the President named a neutral figure, Judge Harry A. Blackmun of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Eighth Circuit.

WHEN A vacancy occurred with the resignation of Justice Abe Fortas, following a bitter controversy over his nomination to be Chief Justice, the name of Rep. Richard H. Poff of Virginia was immediately speculated on. It was soon realized that Poff, second ranking Republican member of the House Judiciary Committee serving his tenth term in Congress, was ineligible. Under the constitution a member of Congress may not be appointed to an office for which he has voted a raise in pay.

WITH RE-ELECTION to a new Congress this barrier no longer applies, and it is widely believed that Poff is in line for the next vacancy on the court. An ideological conservative, stopping considerably short of being a Byrd Virginian, Poff gets high marks from both liberals and conservatives on the Judiciary Committee for his knowledge of the law and the judicial process.

When Poff's name was speculated on earlier Chairman Emanuel Celler and Rep. Robert Kastenmeier, who has served for many years on a subcommittee with the Virginian, told him half-jokingly that if he had any trouble with the Senate Judiciary Committee over confirmation they would be happy to come and testify for him.

A POFF nomination would go through with no difficulty. This would be the President's third appointment. Given more than a year still in office, barring a second term, Mr. Nixon may well have an opportunity to name a majority of the nine judges. This is underscored by the fact that a second justice, John M. Harlan, 72, has also just resigned.

You're Middle-Aged If . . .

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — You're getting middle-aged if— You can think of more people you'd like to leave out of a will than put in it.

Every dawning when you awake you lie in bed for 15 full minutes trying to think of a good worthwhile reason for getting up and facing life. There is none. Habit is all that gets you up.

You decide it is high time you taught your wife how to put up the storm windows herself. After all, that's what she'd have to do if something ever happened to you.

One fine morning you study your face in the mirror and your heart leaps with horror as you detect a hair growing in your ear. The color of the hair is gray.

You quit sending away box tops because you can't think of anything you really want back.

For everything that makes you smile there are two that make you frown and five that make you yawn.

Every personal letter you write contains some comment on the current state of the weather, and the comment is rarely laudatory.

When you get a cold, it hangs on two days longer than it used to—and takes one more bottle of bourbon to cure.

You suspect that not one but three of your fellow workers at the office are secretly trying to get your job, and now and then you get a little melancholy over the fact that this world holds such treachery.

It is difficult to find anyone to have a discussion with, because they are either too old and opinionated or too young and callow to take seriously.

Even with the help of your bifocals it becomes increasingly difficult to read the fine print on medicine bottle labels.

On rainy days you like to review your life insurance policy and try to figure whether, in the eventuality of your demise, it would provide for your wife until she could find another husband half the man you are.

Generally speaking, you feel better in the autumn than in the spring and, specifically speaking, you can't remember the last time you felt really good all over.

You haven't bothered to estimate the number of days you still have left to work before you get a pension, but you can make a pretty close guess on the number of months.

Yep, there's no doubt about it—you're middle-aged. But you don't have to stay middle-aged.

You can always outgrow it.

My Answer

Billy Graham

All my life I hoped to be somebody. Now that I am getting older I must admit that I've failed to accomplish much or been much. How can I overcome feelings of disappointment?

K.Y.

The Indian poet, Tagore wrote: "I have spent my days stringing and unstringing my instrument, while the song I came to sing remains unsung."

This is the sad lament of many people. David, the Psalmist, shed some light on this problem when he said: "This is the day the Lord hath made; we will rejoice and be glad in it." God deals out the precious commodity of time, one minute, one hour, one day at a time. Seize this golden amount of "now" and bring to it all the faith, the idealism, and love you can muster. The person you have always wanted to be, be today. The noble deed you have always longed to do, do it today. The belief and trust you have always wanted to appropriate, appropriate it today. This is the day the Lord hath made.

Most of us are too busy making preparations for living to actually live. We say, "Lord, increase my faith," when we aren't using the faith we have. Don't spend your days stringing and tuning your instrument — start making music now.

Like making out our income tax, many wait until April 15th, and barely make it under the deadline. Tragically, many defer their relationship to God until they are about to draw their last breath. "Seek ye first the kingdom of God."

A Devotion For Today . . .

The fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace, long-suffering, gentleness, faith, meekness, temperance: against such there is no law — Galatians 5:22-23

PRAYER: O God, we are thankful for the new life You give us when we accept You. Through Your love and help we are able to withstand worldly pressures. Continue to give us strength, Amen.

A 434-page tome with a $5.95 price tag the Associated Press has placed on it is "A Century of Sports," which can be obtained by using an order blank printed occasionally in The Herald. The volume includes a history of 44 sports, if you include bullfighting. Gifted writer Ernest Hemingway didn't. Of the classic duel between matador and the animal, Hemingway once wrote: "Bullfighting is not a sport. It was never supposed to be. It is a tragedy. A grand tragedy." Some sports which border on tragedy, like football and many art of self defense, are also covered in the book. Football commissioner Pete Rozelle does the forward in the book and he focuses attention on the sports explosion which occurred in the 60s and which is still going on. In 1959 (says Pete), there were 16 major league baseball teams. Today there are 24. In 1959, there were eight major league basketball teams, compared to 23 now. A dozen years ago, golfers on the pro tour were contesting for tournament prize money totaling $1,187,340. This year, the PGA has 63 stops, with a total value of $7,100,000. Pro football embraced 10 teams in 1959. Now there are 26 and more expansion is shortly planned. The book will keep you engrossed and not only with its wealth of information. Its pictures are interesting, too. In any gathering, it should prove to be quite a conversation piece.

Gerald (Dopey) Anderson, who played a creditable end in football for the local high school prior to World War and who went on to letter at McMurry College, has maintained his interest in the game and the theater down through the years. Anderson is now director of athletics at Ore City, a District 17-A school located not far from Longview. During his college years, Gerald was a speech major. He naturally gravitated toward the stage. After the war, Anderson was in summer stock at New Milton, Conn., for a time, where such acting worthies as Walter Huston, Jennifer Jones and Blanche Yurka were treading the boards. Gerald's budding career in the theater ended when his father, C. E. Anderson, died here. The elder Mr. Anderson departed this mortal coil long after Gerald had accepted a bit part in the Broadway production, "The Heiress." Gerald returned to this area for two years to work the farm before moving back to East Texas. Anderson is also a poet of some renown, occasionally writes for a literary magazine at North Texas State University. His son, Mitchell, enrolled at his alma mater this fall. He also has a daughter, 14-year-old Melinda. Gerald is married to the former Joyce Arnold, who is now a music teacher in the Ore City schools. Don Maynard, the Colorado City product who went on to become pro football's premier pass catcher, goes merrily on his way with the New York Jets. He'll soon go over the 11,000-yard mark in total passing yardage, and he became the all-time leader as long ago as 1963. Now 34, Don may live up to the threat he once made to the attendant of this window — that "before I quit they'll have to tear my uniform off me." Don experienced what he stepped on a stone and came up with a slow-healing bruise. Still, he caught 31 passes and no one on the New York team gathered in more. Dr. and Mrs. John Hogan of Big Spring, who were attending the National Association of Medical Clinics in Cleveland last week, were staying in the same hotel (the Sheraton Cleveland) with the Houston Oilers and had a nice visit with Charley Johnson, the Big Spring native who quarterbacked the Oilers. The Hogans had to miss the Cleveland-Houston game (it was no Roman holiday for the Oilers or for Texas, as it turned out) instead went on to Detroit where they watched their 12-year-old grandson play football.

Three Local Men In Handball Meet

MIDLAND — Two Big Spring players, Eddie Trice and A. J. Pirkle, will be battling for places in the semi-final bracket of the W. D. Noel Class B Handball Singles Tournament here Saturday morning. Joe Hobbs, also of Big Spring, is in consolation after having lost his second match. Trice meets Don Sparks, Midland. Pirkle opposes Bob Page, Midland; Hobbs' opponent will be Robert Welch, Midland. The tournament ends Saturday evening. Twenty-one men are competing.

Four Games Reset Due To Weather

The football game between the Big Spring JVs and Andrews, which was to have been played here Thursday, was reset for 2 p.m. Saturday due to the condition of Memorial Stadium. The Sophomores venture to Andrews for a 4 p.m. contest tomorrow. That game was originally down for 2 p.m. The ninth grade Toros, deprived of the chance to play Glenn Junior High in San Angelo Thursday, will visit that city Saturday for a 1 p.m. game in the old Bobcat Stadium. The eighth grade Mavericks of Gollad have had one of their two games with Coahoma cancelled due to the weather. The other will be unreeled at 8:45 a.m. Saturday in Coahoma.

Saturday's Match Must Be Reset

The Saturday golf match between Cosden and Webb AFB representatives, which was to have been played at the Big Spring Country Club, has been cancelled. Webb's flying schedule will not permit personnel to take part in the play. Quite likely, a new date will be set for the struggle.

Battle Cites Major Woes With Auburn

Bill Battle, Tennessee football coach, says he is fully aware of the capabilities of Auburn's deadly passing combination of Pat Sullivan and Terry Beasley. "But we can't afford to concentrate on them alone," said Battle as he prepared to send his ninth-ranked Volunteers against the fifth-ranked Tigers in one of Saturday's key matchups. "We know that the Sullivan-Beasley combination will give us a lot of trouble," added Battle. "But Auburn can give us other trouble as well." Despite Battle's comments, the result of the game should hinge on Tennessee's ability to contain Sullivan, the nation's total offense leader last season, and Beasley, the leading scorer in the Southeastern Conference in 1970. Sullivan, who completed 59 per cent of his passes last year in leading Auburn to a 9-2 record, got off to an even better start in 1971, completing 13 of 16 aeriels, including two for touchdowns, as the Tigers opened their season with a 60-7 rout over UT-Chattanooga. Tennessee, 11-1 last year, also began its 1971 campaign with a romp, crushing UC-Santa Barbara 48-6. The Volunteers only setback last season was a 36-23 beating by Auburn. Naturally, they will be looking for revenge. Another confrontation between two members of the Top Ten Saturday will be No. 10 Colorado at Ohio State, ranked sixth. Meanwhile, the other members of the elite also will see action. Top-rated Nebraska will entertain Texas A&M. Notre Dame, No. 2, will be at Purdue. Third-ranked Texas will be home against Southwest Conference rival Texas Tech. Michigan, No. 4, will be host to UCLA. Arkansas, rates seventh, plays Tulsa in Fayetteville, Ark. and Alabama, ranked eighth, visits Florida.

Giants In Position To Wrap Up Flag

Break up the San Francisco Giants ... and wake up the Los Angeles Dodgers. With just a week to go in the nervous National League West race, it appears the Dodgers need a more-than-giant effort to catch front-running San Francisco. "I don't think Los Angeles can overcome their lead," said Houston Manager Harry Walker after the Giants knocked off his Astros 2-1 Thursday night and took a reasonably-comfortable three-game lead. You know, he could be right: Each team has six games left and any combination of four San Francisco victories or Los Angeles defeats will hand the

Giants their first title since 1962, when they won the National League pennant. BIG BREAK "This victory has got to be a big break for us," said Gaylord Perry, the big San Francisco right-hander who pitched a stunning three-hitter. "Especially big in the Astrodom, where we haven't won much the last few years." Perry's power pitching followed a superlative performance by Juan Marichal, who spun a six-hit, one-run job Wednesday night. It gave hope to the Giants' stretch run. "Those two can win it for us," said Manager Charlie Fox of the Giants. "Pitching is the name of the game." In the other National League games the Pittsburgh Pirates bounced the St. Louis Cardinals 5-0; the New York Mets beat the Chicago Cubs 5-4 and the Philadelphia Phillies tripped the Montreal Expos 6-4. The Chicago White Sox whitewashed the California Angels 5-0 and the Oakland A's nipped the Milwaukee Brewers 5-4 in American League games. Winning in the Astrodom not only boosted the Giants' lead in the West, but also gave them a spiritual lift. They had won only five of 30 games at Houston before winning two of their three-game set. The two straight victories, incidentally, composed San Francisco's longest winning streak since early September before the Giants started a slide that cost them most of a once-commanding 1/2-game lead over the Dodgers. "It's been a tough two weeks for us," said Perry. "We got together and talked about tonight's game. We wanted to make sure everyone talked it up on the bench and made the plays on the field." "Things are just going the Giants' way now," said Walker. McCovey CONNECTS Things went their way right away Thursday night when oft-injured Willie McCovey smashed his 18th home run in the fourth inning to give the Giants a 1-0 lead. They scored the winning run when McCovey was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded, forcing in a fifth-inning tally. Perry then gave up one of his three hits, a home run to lightning John Mayberry in the bottom of the fifth. Bob Aspromonte's two-run, tie-breaking single in the eighth inning carried New York over Chicago and snapped the Cubs' string of six straight victories over the Mets. SAN FRANCISCO HOUSTON

THURSDAY'S GAMES Brahmas Wallop Cee City, 30-0

The Big Spring ninth grade Brahmas achieved their second win in three starts by storming to a 30-0 victory over Colorado City on a muddy field here Thursday night. The situation had so stabilized by the end of the opening period that coach David Verner used his reserves most of the final three rounds. The Brahmas counted three touchdowns, all by Albert (Elbow) Smith, in Round One, then didn't count again until the fourth. Colorado City never got close to Big Spring's goal, so fierce was the Brahmas' defensive charge. Verner suited up 37 players and used them all. Smith went off tackle 40 yards for Big Spring's first score shortly after play opened. He climaxed a 48-yard drive shortly thereafter by sweeping for three yards and Big Spring's second tally. Before the period was out, Big Spring had blocked a punt and Smith picked it up and sprinted 25 yards for the third Brahma tally. In the fourth, Albert Alvarez scooted 35 yards for Big Spring's fourth score, the touchdown run occurring one play after a Colorado City punt. The next time Big Spring got the ball, Dick Earhart raced 45 yards on a veer play for the Brahmas' final tally of the night. The locals failed to convert after any of their TDs. Second string QB Doug Robison (he's a first string half back), first string QB Bobby Brashaw, fullback Lynell Brasher, guard Nat Hart, tackle Bobby Winters and Steve McDaniel looked outstanding on offense for Big Spring. Defensively, tackle Stanley Partee, linebacker Jerry Mintz, halfback Angel Pineda and end Russell Stevens were stickouts for Big Spring. The Brahmas oppose San Angelo Edison here next Thursday evening.

Runnels Rips Cee City, 22-0, In Contest Here

up with a 17-yard deficit. The Yearlings scored twice in the opening period. Eric Franks returned the opening kickoff 82 yards for a touchdown and Runnels was off to the races. With 1:33 remaining in the opening quarter, Franks went in from four yards out after Ullyses Matthews had returned a Colorado City punt 17 yards to the enemy four. QB Ronnie Mullins passed to Jimmy Shanks for the two extra points that put Runnels ahead, 14-0. In the third, Timmy Cain intercepted a Cee City pass and returned it 25 yards for a score but the play was nullified by three infractions, two of which were ruled against Big Spring. Frank scored on 28 yards on the first play from scrimmage after Runnels had taken over on downs early in the fourth. Mullins again passed to Shanks for two extra points. Cee City never mounted a threat during the game. Runnels' defensive unit, in particular, made a praiseworthy effort. Among boys who glistered for the Yearlings were ends Mike Easley and Duane Crow, cornerbacks Joel Place and Benny Anderson, tackles Mike Rich, Joey Robles and Raymond Lopez, linebackers Franks and Shanks, halfbacks Cain and Matthews and safety Mullins. The Yearlings play the Coahoma A & B units here next Thursday. FOOTBALL RESULTS Austin Lanier 22, New Braunfels 12; Houston Kashmere 7, Houston Wheeling 0.

Upsets Could Continue In Pro Loop This Week

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer NEW YORK (AP) — The string of upsets that sent footballers reeling in the National Football League last week likely will continue this week with Atlanta harassing Roman Gabriel and Los Angeles into submission while O.J. Simpson breaks loose for Buffalo in an upset of Miami. But remember, those predictions are being made by the same guy who last week correctly predicted Atlanta to upset San Francisco—and not much else. The record, as a matter of record, was 4-9-1, for the opening week's program. The problem this week is being able to determine which of last week's upset winners are legitimate threats and which are merely pretenders. The guessing is that the Falcons are for real and the Bills, who showed plenty of offense against Dallas, are substantially stronger. JETS, CARDS WAIT Here's the way it looks like it might go with a 12-game program Sunday followed by Monday night's nationally televised game between the New York Jets and St. Louis being shown by ABC starting at 8 p.m., CDT: Atlanta 27, Los Angeles 20—QB Bob Berry has a new target in rookie Ken Burros, and the Falcons have the defense to harass Gabriel, who completed just 11 of 30 passes against New Orleans. The Falcons may not have the depth to go all the way but right now they're solid. Buffalo 31, Miami 27—Dallas watched O.J. last week and Dennis Shaw passed for four TDs. The Dolphins will probably be watching Shaw this week. So watch O.J. The key, however, will be the Bills' defense, lacking against Dallas in last week's 49-37 loss. Baltimore 28, Cleveland 17—Browns' QB Bill Nelsen picked apart Houston last week but the Colts' zone defense is something else. So apparently is running back Norm Bulaich. The Colts aren't flashy but they win. Minnesota 35, Chicago 10—The only danger here is that the Vikings may take the Bears too lightly. But spartan Coach Bud Grant will see to it they don't. Even if Gale Sayers makes it back, Chicago doesn't have enough to match the powerful Vikes. Oakland 48, New England 13—The Lions should be aroused after tough loss to Minnesota. Patriots and Jim Plunkett. Plunkett gets plunked—often. San Francisco 38, New Orleans 21—John Brodie doesn't throw four interceptions every week, and that's the only way the Saints can beat the 49ers. Archie Manning also gets plunked—often. Denver 30, Green Bay 17—The Broncos' front four will push either Zeke Bratkowski or Scott Hunter all over the field. Green Bay Coach Dan Devine better watch his oteg leg. Kansas City 24, Houston 21—The Chiefs can't get their offense rolling, but they should be able to handle the Oilers, who appeared totally disorganized in Cleveland shutout. St. Louis 27, New York Jets 20—Norm Bulaich ran against the Jets so why can't MacArthur Lane and Co.? But it all may revolve around which quarterback hurts his team less, Jets' Al Woodall or Cards' Pete Beathard.

DIES — Comedian Billy Gilbert, whose 65-year career spanned the gap from vaudeville to TV, died Thursday at the age of 78 in a Los Angeles convalescent home. Gilbert was best known for his sneezing routine, and especially for his role as the voice of "Sneezy" in the Walt Disney picture "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Military Pay Squeeze Play

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $2.4 billion military pay raise just approved by Congress may be caught in a wage-price squeeze play.

Sen. Gale W. McGee, D-Wyo., has threatened to fight for scheduled but frozen pay raises for civilian federal employees unless military compensation is frozen on the same basis.

Pay raises for government employees have been frozen until next July 1, and McGee, chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said the military should be subject to the same rules, "as a matter of simple equity."

NO SENSE — "It would make no sense to freeze half the employees' pay and increase the other half," McGee said Thursday.

The draft extension bill passed by the Senate and sent to President Nixon Tuesday boosts military pay Oct. 1. But the White House has indicated it may be subject to the current 90-day wage-price freeze, which expires Nov. 12.

McGee said he has written the President urging that military pay raises be frozen until July 1.

NEW POLICY — As part of his new economic policy, Nixon ordered a six-month delay in some $1.3 billion in federal pay raises scheduled for Jan. 1.

The postponement could be overruled by Congress, if action is taken by Oct. 8.

"A failure to freeze military salary increases at once would not only be unfair to civilian federal employees," McGee said, "it would almost certainly result in Congress taking whatever action may be necessary to unfreeze civilian pay levels."

He said that would be a serious blow to the administration effort to halt inflation.

McGee and his Senate panel have been under pressure from organized labor to act to overrule the pay freeze.

"As chairman of the committee," McGee wrote Nixon, "I would have to advise you that without a military pay freeze, I could not continue with clear conscience to ask our committee to hold the line against federal employe pay legislation."

LOWER GRADES — Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., however, is sponsoring legislation to further increase the total military pay raise, to some $2.7 billion, with the additional funds concentrated on men in the lowest ranks.

"I'm going to fight to make it effective Nov. 15," Allott said. "The inequities in this situation are not on the side of the government worker, they're on the side of the lower grades in the military."

Allott said a freeze until mid-1972 would jeopardize administration efforts to move from the draft to a volunteer army.

Considering An Appeal Of Murder Conviction

HOUSTON (AP) — Lawyers for Adrian Earl Lambert, a key figure in an indictment involving a Texas state senator, say they are considering an appeal of Lambert's murder without malice conviction.

A jury assessed Lambert, 35, a four-year prison sentence Thursday after convicting him of the Nov. 26, 1967 slaying of Don Packer, 27, of Spring, Tex. Packer was shot to death with a shotgun outside Lambert's Houston home.

The jury received the Lambert case Wednesday, one day after a grand jury at Corpus Christi returned an indictment against state Sen. James Bates of Edinburg. The indictment alleged Bates received from Lambert an $8,500 diamond ring stolen from a Corpus Christi lawyer.

Bates had previously represented Lambert, who has convictions for burglary in Nueces, Hidalgo and Kerr counties.

Lambert's lawyer, Charles Hearn, called the murder without malice verdict "a partial victory" but said he still felt the verdict should have been an acquittal.

"We were very unhappy with a guilty verdict of any kind," Hearn said. "We are contemplating an appeal."

When the four-year sentence was announced, Hearn read a typed statement.

"We have advised Mr. Lambert not to make any statement regarding Sen. Bates at this time and he has been further advised he should not make any statements without first conferring with the district attorney in Corpus Christi," the statement said.

Six Astronauts Quizzed By Dallas Grand Jurors

DALLAS (AP) — Six of the nation's astronauts appeared before a federal grand jury Thursday as it started probing into allegations of stock fraud made by the Securities and Exchange Commission. The probe deals with a $641,250 deal which Houston financier Frank W. Sharp has said he tried to make with five of the spacemen.

Sharp since has drawn a three-year probation sentence for securities law violations. In addition the SEC, through an involved civil suit against 28 men and corporations, has won injunctions against stock fraud and manipulation.

EMPIRE EXECS

Two former executives in Sharp's financial empire were other leadoff witnesses during the seven hours the grand jury was in closed session Thursday.

The astronauts are James Lovell, Charles Conrad, Fred Haise, Thomas K. Mattingly, Richard Gordon and Alan L. Bean, and they spent the forenoon testifying.

They were followed in the afternoon by Sam Stock and Donald Akins. The two are former officers of Sharp's Dallas-based National Bankers Life Insurance Co., in which 22,500 shares of stock were involved in the proposed deal with the astronauts.

Lovell at one time was a director in National Bankers Life. His fellow astronauts apparently only considered buying stock, which the SEC claims was manipulated to enable politicians and others to gain quick and sizable profits.

VALUE AND STYLING — The 1972 Plymouth Satellite Sebring Plus, with canopy roof, combines distinctive styling and economy. New Plymouths are now available at Dewey Ray Chrysler-Dodge-Plymouth, 1607 E. 3rd.

Chrysler Adds Engineering Improvements, New Look

The 1972 Chrysler, now on display at Dewey Ray Chrysler Dodge Plymouth, 1607 E. 3rd, enters an expanding medium-priced marketplace with a new look and a number of engineering improvements.

The highly successful Newport Royal and Newport Custom will be continued. A separate premium line New Yorker Brougham will be added to that well established model lineup.

All Chrysler car line models will be available in two and four-door hardtops and four-door sedans with the Town and Country wagon available in both two and three-seat versions.

The New Yorker Brougham model will have upgraded interior trims and certain optional equipment made standard.

Chrysler's top of the line Imperial LeBaron emerges as an all-new luxury car with simplified but elegant lines for 1972.

In addition, Imperial includes a number of engineering innovations to improve safety, ecology, and driver and passenger comfort that will complement the over-all in ultimate luxury.

Styling emphasis encompasses a complete change in sheet metal. Bumpers have design features, which include protection against damage to lights, exhaust, heating and cooling systems during light contact. Color-keyed body side moldings provide added protection. Grille, head lamps, taillights, backup lights, and ornamentation blend to the long, low and elegant lines. Fiberglass fender skirts are standard.

Styling changes add eye appeal and engineering improvements contribute higher quality and greater reliability to the 1972 Plymouth Barracuda, Chrysler-Plymouth Division's specialty compact.

In a move to simplify manufacturing and thus improve quality, the 1972 Bar-racuda will be offered in two models — both two-door hardtops. They are the standard Barracuda and the performance-oriented 'Cuda.

The interiors of both models combine comfort and style. The bucket seats have integrated head restraints. The design throughout the interiors eliminates projections, which may cause injury in accidents. Top-grade vinyl upholstery and trim is available in five colors.

A long list of optional items gives owners great latitude in "personalizing" their Barracudas.

There are distinctive paint and striping treatments for both of the hardtops. A bold optional tape stripe in black or white follows the body contours and highlights the fender lines.

"Mini" - "Sub" - "Small" may be "in-words" to some but the 1972 Plymouth Fury series will offer new style and innovation to the standard size automobile for the market that wants more in things automotive.

A complete new styling, coupled with economy, value and comfort, will be featured in the eight series, and 16 models of the top line of Plymouth.

Head, shoulder and leg room will be as large, or larger, than some of its high-priced competitors. Standard features include: Cricket, Plymouth's single-model, four-door subcompact sedan, has increased H.P. (Hopping Power) for 1972.

An all-new car when introduced by Chrysler-Plymouth dealers, last January, Cricket will also wear bright new colors in the coming year.

Cricket offers as standard equipment several valuable features ordinarily found only on more expensive models. They include: power front disc brakes, light and positive rack and pinion steering, flowthrough ventilation system, which operates even when the car is standing; color-keyed interiors, and dual headlights.

They are standard "peace of mind" features such as a steering column, which locks when the ignition key is removed; a hood which can be opened only from the inside of the car, and child-proof safety catches, which prevent children from opening rear doors.

The biggest little success story in the burgeoning compact car marketplace will continue with its broad appeal for 1972, adding engineering and quality refinements for its owners.

The Plymouth Valiant line with the new Duster added in 1970 became an instant success upon introduction and continued its dramatic sales progress in 1971.

For owner convenience and comfort, some of the more noticeable improvements on the 1972 line of Valiants, Dusters and Scamps include: Redesigned seats, stronger seat tracks, sliding roofs, new headlinings, a better alternator, easier manual brake and clutch pedal effort, automatic transmission improvements, better corrosion protection, and better three-speed manual shift linkage.

The Plymouth Satellite intermediate car line for 1972 offers dozens of improvements along with minor appearance changes and a revised model line-up.

The improvements contribute to reliability, longer car life, lower maintenance costs, safety, cleaner air, mechanical performance and passenger convenience. They include a new engine and a unique electronic ignition system.

The 1972 Satellite line includes four two-door hardtops, two four-door sedans, and five station wagons. Two 1971 models have been discontinued — the GTX, a hardtop; and the Satellite Brougham, a sedan.

Medina's Job Offer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Capt. Ernest L. Medina, acquitted Wednesday of all charges arising from the massacre of civilians at My Lai, has refused comment on reports he has been offered a job by a Florida promoter who paid a large share of his legal defense. A spokesman for businessman Glenn W. Turner of Orlando confirmed Thursday that Turner had offered Medina a job, but he said the type of job and salary specifics had not been discussed.

After his court-martial ended, Medina told newsmen his only immediate plans are to get out of the Army.

The Turner spokesman said Medina's civilian attorney, F. Lee Bailey, is a business associate of Turner.

Evangel Temple Starts Missionette Program

The "Missionettes," Evangel Temple Assembly of God's program for girls, will be officially launched in evening worship ceremonies Sunday at 7 p.m.

Sponsored by Evangel Temple's Women's Missionary Council, the program is led by Mrs. Dixie Hosmer. Mrs. Hosmer is a former public school teacher, with a background of experience in Missionette programs.

Aiding Mrs. Hosmer are Arlene McKinney and Connie Chase. These Christian leaders will teach the girls Bible, sewing, homemaking, child care, citizenship and music.

The Missionette program is geared to the interest of girls. It is Christ-centered, designed to prepare them for Christian leadership.

"Stairway-to-the-Stars," a four-step achievement program for Missionettes, is part work and part play. It does meet a vital need for indoctrination and training for Christian service.

The program is composed of "Missionettes," ages 9-15, and "Prims," ages 6-8. Each program seeks to develop girls morally, physically and spiritually, through professional Christian adult leadership.

Weekly meetings are at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Evangel Temple. For information call Mrs. Hosmer at 263-0043 or the Rev. Donald Calvin at 263-1136 or 263-6871. Parents are invited to inquire. Girls are invited to "Stairway-to-the-Stars" excitement and learning in the Missionettes.

Nearly all of the 98 Nazarene churches in the district will be represented according to the Rev. Lyle Eckley, Lubbock, district superintendent.
Principal guest speaker will be Dr. Samuel Young, Kansas City, Mo., senior general superintendent of the denomination. He has served continuously since 1948 in the highest elective office in the church.
Dr. Young previously was a college president, district superintendent and pastor. He will retire at the 18th quadrennial General Assembly of the denomination in Miami Beach, Fla. in June 1972.

Most Sympathies Are With Israel
NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Southern Baptist poll shows most pastors and Sunday school teachers — more than 70 per cent — are sympathetic with Israel in the Middle East crisis. Less than 3 per cent said they sympathized most with the Arab states. The rest said "neither."

LIGHTED WINDOWS

It's after hours. Yet most of the windows are bright. Perhaps the cleaning crew is at work, or a few executives catching up on their mail.

Whatever the reason, the lighted windows glow with purpose. The dark windows are blank, austere and forbidding. What a difference one flick of a light switch can make!

People are like the windows of this building. Some, radiant with the joy of living, find days full, happy and useful. They are fun to be around. Others, gloomy and sad, find life lonely and meaningless. Their company is tedious.

What makes the difference? Where can you turn if life seems troublesome? You can't flick a switch to change an attitude.

The secret is in your church. Worship and study there, and welcome the living presence of God into your heart and mind. Your whole life will be lighted and your days filled with new happiness.

Job For 'Princess'

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have a grown daughter whom I shall call "The Princess." She works full-time and lives at home. We both love her very much, but here's the problem: The Princess never misses a meal at home, gets free room and board, her own TV, and my wife even buys her toothpaste and shampoo, besides doing her laundry. In turn, The Princess monopolizes the bathroom, keeps a sloppy room and leaves her cosmetics and clothing scattered all over the place from 11:00 to breakfast. I maintain she should contribute to her food expense. My stoves, ovens, ductwork and anything that heats up because he honestly believes that the smell of onions and garlic kills germs. Does it?

NEEDS TO KNOW
DEAR NEEDS: No, but it could test a lot of friendships.
DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a woman who had been married for 18 years to a man who still flirts. Well, I have her beat. I've been married for 55 years to a man who still flirts. He is over 80, and I don't see any signs of him slowing up. You once compared an old man who chases women to a dog that chases cars. How did that one go anyway?
CHASER'S WIFE, HAGERSTOWN, MD.
DEAR WIFE: I said: "An old man who chases women is like a dog that chases cars. If he ever caught one he wouldn't know what to do with it."
DEAR ABBY: I don't write to columnists as a rule, but after reading all the comments about wedding gifts, I decided to send this to you: With the invitation to a wedding of a young California couple came this note: "There are millions of the poor who are cold and hungry. There is still war and ever-increasing ravages of war. This makes us aware of our riches and makes us want to find meaning for ourselves and for our marriage in somehow changing things. Therefore, if you had planned to give us a gift, we would especially appreciate a contribution to the Fellowship of Reconciliation, the American Friends Service Committee, the Committee to Aid Hungry Americans or some other cause, so that because of our marriage life for others may be a little better."
After I read the above, I guess it made my day a little better. I am divorced, but should I ever marry again, I think I will follow in the footsteps of these beautiful young people. Maybe if you print this, others will, too.
"TOUCHED" IN MICHIGAN
DEAR TOUCHED: I, too, am touched. Thank you for sharing a truly noble attitude in a generally selfish and materialistic world.

Hunting A Book

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A Mrs. E. R. wrote to you recommending a book called "Out of Silence" by Mary Sorrell, written by a woman journalist who was left speechless by a cerebral hemorrhage. Mrs. E. R. said she had received a "small pocket edition" for Christmas. Is there any way we might find out the cost of this pocket edition?—M.D.D.
This letter is from the secretary of a Hearing and Speech Center, interested in getting one or several copies. I have had enough similar inquiries, from people who just wanted to know where to get the book, to warrant giving such further information as I have.

Many said book dealers couldn't find a record of the book. The reason for that may be because the publishers are in England—Hodder & Stoughton, St. Paul's House, Warwick Lane, London E.C. 4.

Doubtless some of the larger book dealers, such as Brentano's, would have no difficulty finding the book, but for the smaller dealers, the information that the publishers are English should be helpful.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send booklet, "Hialatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," for which I enclose 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Does such a hernia, if small, ever heal itself by proper diet, etc.?—M.N.

A hialatal hernia does not "heal itself," and that is true with most hernias. A small one can be detected by X-ray examination at one time and not another, but this does not mean that it has disappeared.

However weight control and other methods more often than not can keep a hialatal hernia under control so it does not bother the patient—and that's what your goal is.

There are cases in which surgery is required, but in the majority of cases it is not.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Several years ago, during a previous marriage, my husband had a vasectomy. Now we have been married a year and would very much like to have a child. We have heard that a vasectomy can possibly be reversed through surgery. Would appreciate any information.—Mrs. D.C.

Sometimes it can; sometimes it can't. It depends in part on how the operation was done in the first place, but "reversing" a vasectomy is subject to some speculation in any event.

Only way to find out is to have your husband go to a urologist and try.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: The practice of taking lemon juice straight or slightly diluted is to be discouraged. I have seen cases where the dental enamel has been dissolved by continued use of lemon or lemon juice.—R.A.F. (D.D.S.).

I've warned that it could harm the teeth, but since you are a doctor of dental surgery, probably people will pay more attention to hearing it from you.

To learn the major categories of prostate trouble—symptoms, treatment, how to speed recovery—write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for his booklet, "The Pesky Prostate," enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

MOODY FOUNDATION REPORT Two Colleges On Brink Of Financial Disaster

AUSTIN (AP) — A report illustrating the worsening financial condition of Texas' private colleges suggests some time-proven business techniques might be the solution to the money problems. Grant coordinator Edward Protz of the Moody Foundation, which financed the report, said Thursday the foundation has temporarily stopped giving Texas' private colleges construction money partly because current facilities are not being fully utilized.

Protz said the Galveston foundation has rejected six college requests for construction money at its last two meetings. The multi-million dollar foundation already has given Texas colleges $23 million, it said. But after reading a preliminary report by Dr. Glenn Ivy, Protz said, "in view of the serious financial crises facing many of these (private) institutions, the under-utilization of facilities and the many other factors which were enumerated, a temporary and informal moratorium has been placed on allocating funds for the construction of new buildings and other facilities."

Ivy, formerly with the Texas Research League, recommended cooperative-management arrangements to reduce administrative costs and, where distance permits, the sharing of facilities and faculty among private colleges. He said they also could improve their management techniques, such as cost accounting and record maintenance. He said "it is obvious that private colleges in Texas have expanded their physical facilities far beyond the growth of student enrollments. In turn, the over-construction of physical facilities increases maintenance and upkeep costs which further deplete available current revenue for instructional expenses."

The report said that although Texas' 50 private colleges drew almost 30 per cent of entering freshmen in 1950, the enrollment had declined to 17 per cent in 1969. In the 1970-71 school year the private colleges had vacancies for 16,455 students, Ivy said. Ivy's report also showed that: —It cost $619 more in 1967-68 to educate a student at a private college than it did a public institution, and average tuition reached $1,111 in 1970, compared to $100 for most public school students. —Average salaries for a full professor at the private colleges are $4,363 a year less than those at state colleges. Ivy said 19 of the 38 accredited colleges will run a deficit this year totaling about $5 million, and Protz added that if solutions to their financial problems are not found in the 1970s "we may well see half of our private colleges . . . close their doors."

Protz said there are at least two "on the brink of financial disaster at this moment." He did not name the schools. Nineteen of the 24 private senior colleges already have less than 1,000 students, which the state college coordinating board considers the minimum number for maintaining a two-year college. Obviously, Ivy said, more than 1,000 would be needed for a four-year school. Protz said a management consultant team showed one college how it could save $300,000 without changing its academic offering by cutting out unnecessary operating expenses. He said another solution which some schools might consider is the "clustering of small colleges into a university system." Also, he said, "There are courses that can and should be combined. Others need to be redesigned and updated, and some should be dropped altogether."

"More than any other institution in our society," Protz said, "colleges and universities must move with the change of pace. They must decide who to teach, what to teach and how to teach it."
