TESTIMONY DUE Attorneys Will Seek 12th Juror

By LINDA CROSS

MIDLAND — Attorneys will be seeking the 12th juror Monday when the murder trial of Orville Davis, 51, reconvenes in 142nd District Court. Testimony could begin Monday afternoon or be delayed until Tuesday, depending on how quickly the jury is completed.

John Howard Moore, of Moore Realty, is the 11th juror to be chosen in the case. He was chosen Friday afternoon.

District Judge R. W. Caton, presiding judge, did not adjourn court until 6:30 p.m. Friday in an effort to complete jury selection.

Some of the jurors were dismissed because of objections to the death penalty which the state is seeking against Davis, but most were eliminated through peremptory challenges used by defense attorney Vern Martin. Both the prosecution and the defense are allotted 15 peremptory challenges of which Martin has used 14.

Others named to the panel are Tom B. Briscoe and Adrial C. Settle, selected Friday morning; Edward J. Phillips, Mrs. Estelle Teston, Donna Ruth Theine and Mrs. George W. Allen were all chosen Thursday; Joel W. Chappell and Quentin T. Wilson were selected Wednesday; and Mrs. Joe D. Eads, selected Monday, is the first juror to have been chosen in the case.

Davis is being tried for the murder of wealthy rancher Steve Currie during an alleged armed robbery the night of Dec. 2 at the Currie home in Glasscock County near Garden City.

Four other persons are also charged with murder with malice in connection with Currie's death. Whitmer Jean Ballard, 45, originally to have been tried along with Davis, is in custody in Midland County jail; Tommy Tisdale is now in federal custody in San Antonio; Judy Dunham, 20, has been released on bond, and Floyd Palmer is still at large.

Reviewing the ...

Big Spring Week

... with Joe Pickle

Success was stamped all over the quadrennial homecoming for Big Spring High School Friday. The parade, sponsored by the Student Council, was the most colorful our town has had in many, many moons. The bands, the Gold Diggers and other organizations came up with sharp marching, plus clever floats (including the band's winning circus train of projected Steer victims). The homecoming dinner drew a great crowd of exes, dating all the way back for half a century. The band put on a dazzling halftime show, and finally the football team overcame a bitterly scrappy Snyder squad 27-0. Notwithstanding, the Steers will have to oil up a better offensive punch if they hope to beat Abilene this weekend in district play.

We are indebted to the students, however, for the season's most profound statement. A banner proclaimed: "Once a Steer, Always a Steer." Now who can quarrel with that?

Farmers and ranchers had been wishing for a rain to give their crops and pastures a home-stretch punch. Their desires or prayers were answered in a big way with two to five inches of moisture over all the area. Yields now will hinge largely upon the weather and a normal or late frost. Another great benefit was another 12,000 acre feet of water gained by Lakes E. V. Spence and J. B. Thomas. Before the flow is over, another 6,500 may trickle into the lakes. Lake Spence,

Mutscher To Step Down As Speaker Of House

By The Associated Press

Reliable political sources in widely separated parts of Texas reported Saturday that Gus Mutscher, indicted in Austin Thursday, will vacate the Texas House speakership — perhaps Sunday.

The crisis came Friday night when about 40 House members met—and one source said two of those gathering in a guarded Dallas motel brought with them assurances from Mutscher that he will quit the speakership.

The Longview News and Journal reported that Mutscher wished to wait about a week to quit, but the conferees in Dallas insisted that he resign immediately.

MOST POWERFUL

Mutscher, holding one of the two most powerful offices in Texas because of the speakers' control of legislation, did not plan to announce any plans Saturday, it appeared late in the day.

Rush McGinty, Mutscher's top aide and a man who was indicted with the speaker, said no announcement was planned Saturday. He and Mutscher let their secretaries go home at noon and the speaker headed for the Texas-Texas Tech football game in Austin.

A stream of House members poured into and out of Mutscher's office during the morning.

About 12 members visited him individually and he met with one group of five.

The Dallas meeting was the third of essentially the same group of House members after the speaker figured prominently in investigations of the stock-bank loan scandals. One session was at Dallas and the other at Kerrville.

JONES OF ABILENE
Mutscher's actual indictment added to the intensity of the crisis. The Austin grand jury indicted Mutscher, McGinty and Speaker Pro Tem Tommy Shannon on charges of bribery.

The grand jury contended that the three accepted loans from Houston promoter Frank W. Sharp in return for helping pass banking legislation Sharp wanted.

Sharp is under three-year suspended prison sentence after he pleaded guilty to two charges involving stocks and loans involving his bank and his National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

The Longview News and Journal said the three-hour Dallas meeting resulted in selection of a list of three representatives from which Mutscher is to name his successor. These were listed as John Poerner of Hondo, Grant Jones of Abilene and Dick McKissick of Dallas.

GOT TO PICK

The Dallas Times Herald said the list was longer and included additionally the names of Joe Golman of Dallas, D. R. Uher of Bay City, Don Cavness of Austin, Bill Clayton of Springlake, Charlie Jungmichel of LaGrange, R. B. McAlister of Lubbock and Tati Santiesteban of El Paso.

"He may pick one of these and he may not," said a source, "but he's got to pick somebody."

THIRD TERM

The Dallas Morning News quoted Rep. Santiesteban as agreeing that he will quit the speakership, adding, "The word is that Gus is going to need all the time he can get to defend himself."

The Dallas News said Rep. Bill Healy of Paducah was at the meeting. He was one of those who profited in the stock deals.

Sources agreed that Mutscher will retain his House seat and will seek re-election to it, but that he will not run for a third term as Speaker.

The Times Herald said most of the 40 had pledged their support to Mutscher in his earlier plans to run for a third term as speaker. This was before the scandals broke.

One of those at the meeting said the names submitted to Mutscher for selection of a successor were "people who were not considered to be Mutscher's top lieutenants."

The agreement was that the interim speaker would not run for the speakership in the next legislature which meets in 1973.

The Longview newspaper said that two of Mutscher's close friends, Jungmichel and Rep. John Traeger of Seguin, stopped by the speaker's office about 3 p.m. Friday en route to the Dallas meeting.

They brought assurances to the meeting that Mutscher would accept the group's decision and would name an interim speaker immediately.

CRUCIAL TIME

About 50 were invited to the meeting, apparently called by Rep. Jim Nugent of Kerrville, but Friday night's bad weather prevented some from attending.

IMPRESSIVE BUS DRIVERS

OZONA, Tex. (AP) — Two men who would not "leave the driving to us" are in jail here after driving a Greyhound scenic cruiser from Memphis, Tenn., to this remote West Texas town, police said Saturday.

The Memphis pair, Gary Lynn Jacobs and Thomas Devine, both 27, were arrested in a motel soon after the abandoned bus was spotted by local officers.

Officers said it was a pretty good bet that the pair would not be driving on the 800-mile return trip to Memphis. Both are charged with possession of stolen property.

RUSSIANS PLAY IT COOL Soviet Spy Ring Exposed

LONDON (AP) — The Russians reacted angrily Saturday to charges they were operating a massive spy network in Britain as Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home flew to the United Nations and an almost certain confrontation with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko.

Sir Alec claims Gromyko ignored his protests that led up to the expulsion Friday of 105 Soviet diplomats and other officials, based on documents the Foreign Office said came from a senior agent of the KGB, the Soviet secret police, who defected to London.

SABOTAGE
Smiling, Sir Alec refused to go further with newsmen at London airport on the charge that the officer "brought with him certain information and documents, including plans for infiltration or agents for the purpose of sabotage."

British officials said the Soviet underground activities ranged from trying to sabotage the British-French supersonic airliner Concorde to exploiting the crisis in Northern Ireland.

In Moscow, a Soviet Foreign Ministry spokesman said he was "personally surprised and indignant" but the official news agency Tass went further and charged the British Foreign Office with "the fabrication of deliberately false accusations."

MYSTERY MAN
The mystery man—dubbed by the British press as Comrade X—went over to the West weeks or months ago. He is now under heavy guard in the English countryside.

Authoritative sources said the Soviet Embassy made a request to interview the agent shortly after his defection, but he snubbed them.

The Soviet people have not been told of the defection, which is being heralded in the British press as the most important since World War II.

The Foreign Office dossier struck at Soviet trade missions and other agencies, including the bank, as well as the Soviet Embassy staff.

The British government informed allies in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization of the decision to expel 90 Soviet officials within two weeks and ban 15 others now out of the country from returning.

Diplomatic sources and British newspapers predicted wide repercussions in the West about the KGB agent's revelations.

"His help will prove invaluable in efforts to crack the complex Soviet spy network in Britain and other NATO nations, particularly America and West Germany," said the Daily Sun.

NO DETAILS

Officials at Aeroflot, the Soviet airline, reported Saturday night that all 140 seats on the first flight to Moscow, leaving London Monday, were reserved—indicating that the expelled Russians may begin quitting Britain well before the two-week deadline. Aeroflot flights from here are rarely fully booked.

The airline gave no details of who booked the seats for the 3½-hour direct flight.

President Trying To Promote Maritime Strike Settlement

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — President Nixon flew to the Northwest Saturday to promote a maritime strike settlement and abolish authority for World War II-type detention camps in a gesture he linked with an historic meeting in Alaska Sunday with Emperor Hirohito of Japan.

The President also is journeying to Alaska in a gesture of conciliation with a cabinet member he fired, former Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel.

Nixon flew out of Washington in the morning, stopped at Kalispell, Mont., for a side trip to $426 million Libby Dam on the Kootenai River, and missed a spectacular view from the air of Glacier National Park because of rain and clouds that accompanied him across the country.

The President will visit with the Emperor of Japan for about 20 minutes Sunday in Anchorage, Alaska.

Welcomed by a warmly applauding but somewhat damp crowd at the Portland Air Base, Nixon pumped hands and made one of the customary speeches for the occasion.

And in it, he announced that he had signed a bill abolishing provisions of a 1950 law that authorized detention camps of the type used for thousands of Japanese-Americans in World War II.

The repealed law was used to set up six detention camps none of which, the White House said, ever was used for the intended purpose: seizing and detaining during internal security emergencies individuals likely to engage in acts of espionage or sabotage.

In a statement, Nixon said that the mere existence of legal authority for detention centers had stirred concern among many Americans that someday it might be used to apprehend and detain citizens holding unpopular views.

"I have supported and signed this repeal," Nixon said, "in order to put an end to such suspicions. . . . There is no place in American life for the kind of ranted—which the Emergency Detention Act has evidently engendered."

After a meeting with labor and management leaders, Nixon announced that they had agreed to try to reach settlement by the end of next week. The strike began July 1. It has shut down 24 ports on the West Coast from San Diego, Calif., to Seattle, Wash., idling more than 150 ships and causing cargo losses estimated in the millions.

The President's other stop in the northwest was set for Walla Walla, Wash., Sunday, and a helicopter flight to an atomic energy plant.

On Sunday, Nixon is flying to Anchorage, Alaska, to attend a reception at the residence of former Alaska Gov. Walter J. Hickel, whom Nixon fired as secretary of the interior.

White House officials said an invitation was extended to the President before news stories appeared in mid-September about Hickel's book, which contains some criticism of the Nixon administration during Hickel's abbreviated tenure in Washington.

But the biggest bit of history in the making is a conference at Elmendorf Air Force Base of Anchorage with Emperor Hirohito of Japan—the first time in the millennium of the Japanese Empire that its ruler has stepped on foreign soil. Hirohito and Empress Nagaka will be enroute to Europe for a seven-nation tour.

POLITICAL BULL — President Nixon visited the construction site for the multimillion dollar Libby Dam Saturday, a joint Canada-U.S. hydroelectric-recreation area project near Libby, Mont. The President is assisted by Rep. Dick Shoup, R-Mont., and Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., in trying to tug a rope to pour some concrete for the project. Mansfield is at the end of the rope while resident engineer Phil Cois holds up his hands in a signal. Mrs. Nixon was holding an umbrella in the background.

Base Welcomes Public To Air Force Career Day

Want to be a pilot? Then come to the Webb AFB "Career Day" show Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in an open house affair.

Airmen, non-commissioned officers and officers will be available to explain the duties of such specialties as Air Force pilot, nurse, air traffic controller, aircraft mechanic and security policeman.

Activities will center around the large hangar on the north end of the flight line where booths will be set up representing the majority of job specialties held by Webb personnel.

Answers to questions such as the qualifications needed for entry into a specific career field, promotion opportunities, technical training available and other aspects of Air Force life will be provided by the men and women in that particular job. In the last few years most Air Force career fields have opened to women, and women are especially welcome.

Highlight of the day will be an aerial demonstration by the world-famous U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds. Flying the sleek F-4 Phantom, the eight member team will perform their precision maneuvers at 1:30 p.m.

The Thunderbirds include a four-plane diamond formation flying team and a solo pilot. The planes, flying in a precision formation with their wings overlapped six feet, perform rolls and loops in formation and move on to spectacular maneuvers such as the high-show bomb-burst with solo vertical rolls. The highlight of the solo performance is the inverted pass, flying the plane at high speed across the field as low as 50 feet — upside down.

In addition to the Thunderbirds and the activities in the hanger, the flying squadrons will hold mock pilot briefings in the T-38 operations building. "The Air Force Now," a monthly movie distributed world-wide and other Air Force films will be shown. Further down the flightline base fire station personnel will hold an open house.

As many as 15 aircraft from numerous Air Force commands are expected to be on static display during the event. For music fans, the Sheppard AFB bands Rock'n'Roll ensemble will perform at an outdoor session.

Enemy Forces Stepping Up Shell Attacks

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers struck for a fifth straight day in North Vietnam Saturday while enemy forces stepped up shelling attacks in South Vietnam.

The allied commands reported 13 rocket and mortar barrages against U.S. and South Vietnamese units and bases, including shelling of two air bases and a South Vietnamese task force headquarters at Da Nang in the north.

All the barrages were light, and no casualties or major damage were reported.

The air strike in North Vietnam was carried out by two F4 Phantom jets against two aircraft sites near the Mu Gia Pass Saturday morning, the U.S. Command said.

EXPLOSION
The pass, 75 miles north of the demilitarized zone, dividing the Vietnam, is a mountain way through which North Vietnam funnels men and war supplies into the Ho Chi Minh trail in eastern Laos for South Vietnam and Cambodia.

The two Phantoms were on a bombing mission on the trail when they were fired on by North Vietnamese anti-aircraft guns protecting the Mu Gia Pass, a U.S. spokesman said.

The spokesman, Maj. Chester Hansen, reported the Phantoms bomber two gun sites and touched off a secondary explosion, indicating a hit on the sites or nearby ammunition stores.

The U.S. "protective reaction" strike capped five consecutive days of American raids in North Vietnam that began Tuesday with a massive 200 bombing sorties in the southern panhandle, many of them aimed at fuel depots.

The strikes on subsequent days each were two-plane raids against anti-aircraft gun positions.

AIR ACTION
The mounting air action in the North stemmed from increased U.S. air strikes against the Ho Chi Minh trail, resulting in greater anti-aircraft fire. The U.S. effort is aimed at wrecking the trail and mountain passes leading into it before the dry season arrives in about two weeks. That is when Hanoi begins its annual push of supplies and men southward.

The U.S. Command said both Phantom jets escaped undamaged, the same report as issued for all the strikes on the four preceding days.

It was the 64th "protective reaction" raid so far this year over North Vietnam. These strikes are fired upon or threatened with hostile action.

In South Vietnam, ground fighting once more added up to isolated skirmishes around the country.

Atty. Gen. Gremillion Convicted Of Perjury

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana Atty. Gen. Jack Gremillion was convicted by a federal jury Saturday on five counts of perjury.

The conviction stemmed from a federal grand jury indictment which said he lied under oath in 1968 when he said he did not own stock and did not have an economic interest in Louisiana Loan and Thrift Corp.

The case went to the jury at 1:25 p.m. Saturday after attorneys made final pleas.

Defense attorney F. Irvin Dymond told the six men and six women in his concluding arguments that the government spread a cloud of doubt over Gremillion without proving a single charge against him.

Edward Barnes, attorney for the U. S. Justice Department, argued that the government had produced abundant evidence to show that Gremillion had lied to the federal grand jury about his financial connections with Louisiana Loan and Thrift.

Gremillion was charged with five counts of perjury in connection with the grand jury testimony. He faces a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $20,000 fine on each count. Earlier he was acquitted on charges of fraud and conspiracy in connection with the now-defunct firm.

"I want you to know, ladies and gentlemen, that if you're going to convict him on one count, you may as well convict him on all five," Dymond told the jurors, "because if you do, he has lost his life, his future and his career as a lawyer."

But Barnes said:

"I think the evidence and the issues are clear and simple—did or did not Mr. Gremillion lie before a grand jury and did he know his responses to be false," Barnes said. "We believe the evidence is replete and abundant."

Barnes referred frequently to testimony of Mrs. Janyce Coman Degan, L.L.T. secretary. Mrs. Degan testified that Gremillion was a stockholder in the firm and that he even called her to ask her about his dividend checks.

PASSING IN AND OUT OF MUTSCHER'S OFFICE Like Mourners At A Funeral

By LEE JONES

AUSTIN (AP) — Lobbyists and legislators passed quietly in and out of Speaker Gus Mutschers' office, speaking in quiet, solemn tones like mourners at a funeral.

They offered sympathy at his indictment on bribery charges. More importantly, they gave advice on his next move.

"Hell, it was like going to a funeral and offering your condolences to the corpse," said a lawmaker who had just visited Mutschers.

DEAD POLITICALLY
The metaphor probably was apt. Most politicians interviewed after Mutschers' indictment predicted he was dead politically.

The immediate problem is whether Mutschers should hang on to the speakership, resign or work out some other solution.

"I think you can expect us to make a statement in that direction the first part of the week...I believe you will hear from us by Wednesday," Mutschers said Friday.

He left no doubt he is considering all possibilities, and he is getting a variety of advice from his closest friends and supporters in the House.

NEXT MOVE
About 40 House members discussed their next move at a meeting behind guarded doors in a Dallas motel Friday. Sources said Mutschers is expected to quit as speaker shortly after picking his own successor. Mutschers, a source said, also had decided not to run again for speaker in 1973 but would be a candidate for state representative next year.

Even the anti-Mutschers "Dirty 30" coalition of Republicans and liberal Democrats was split over what steps by the speaker would best suit them.

A speakership crisis could arise long before Mutschers comes to trial if the Texas Supreme Court rules that only the legislature in special session can write a House redistricting plan to replace one held unconstitutional by the court.

The court is expected to decide this week. If the court turns the job over to the Legislative Redistricting Board—of which Mutschers is a member—a special session to write a state budget for 1973 probably won't be called until June.

PLEDGED VOTES
Mutschers' decision is all the harder because he knows that the first time the legislature is brought into session there will be moves to oust him.

A close associate of Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine, a candidate for speaker, said Price's forces definitely intend to do this. Price, of course, would then make his bid.

"I am right at a majority of pledged votes," Price said. "I've got the votes to be elected tomorrow."

As a matter of political expediency, representatives who want to be re-elected would have no choice but to vote to oust Mutschers, a price supporter said.

COMMAND POST
Price had already set up a command post in Austin Friday to canvass House members for pledges.

"I don't think Rayford could put it together...I would think if he had a majority it would not be necessary to put in a command post," said Rep. Price Daniel Jr. of Liberty, a self-styled "reform" candidate for speaker in 1973.

Several House members—both friends and enemies of Mutschers—recommended that he resign. Some suggested he might temporarily step down, pending his trial, and turn the House administration over to a speaker pro tem.

Daniel proposed that Mutschers resign and that the House choose someone who is not a 1972 candidate for re-election as interim speaker.

NO THANKS
Another campaign office was opened in Austin by Rep. Dean Cobb of Dumas, who had been talking of a race for speaker when Mutschers no longer wanted the job.

House rules allow the speaker to name a speaker pro tem to preside over the House and perform "such other duties" as the speaker may assign. If Mutschers chose to turn over his duties temporarily to the speaker pro tem, he probably would replace Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, who now holds the post. Shannon was indicted with Mutschers on a charge of conspiracy to accept a bribe.

One member who made public his advice to Mutschers was Rep. Harold Davis of Austin, who spent 10 minutes with the speaker Friday and made public a letter which he handed him.

"DIRTY 30"
Davis suggested that Mutschers resign because "I do believe that your effectiveness as speaker is seriously impaired as long as these charges against your character and morals remain unresolved."

A House member who worked closely with Mutschers told a newsman he thought Mutschers should turn his powers over to a new speaker pro tem, pending the outcome of his trial.

"I think Gus probably ought to step aside, if he doesn't, we are going to have constant turmoil," he said.

Several other Mutschers backers voiced similar views.

Rep. Tom Moore of Waco, a "dirty 30" leader, said he would prefer to let Mutschers remain as speaker, saying, "We need him visible for the next elections." The "Dirty 30" already has begun a campaign to defeat key Mutschers supporters next year. Moore said he thought the indictments would make it easier to defeat a number of members associated with Mutschers.

THE WEEK

incidentally, for the first time in its short history, now has more than 100,000 acre feet of water.

The Industrial Foundation conducted a pair of tours last week for community leaders to see first hand what has been accomplished. Right now what the Foundation needs is for those with tardy pledges to pay up, and others, if possible, to prepay, and — best of all — for others who have not given to cease taking a free ride in this cooperative effort to invigorate our area's economy.

What some observers predicted was unlikely came to pass when a jury was empaneled at the week's end in Midland to hear the case of Orville Davis, charged with the murder of Steve Currie, member of a pioneer Glasscock County ranching family, last December. Whitmer Jean Ballard, jointly charged, won a right to a separate trial. Testimony will begin Monday.

The Community Concert Association almost surprised itself with the success of its first annual enrollment as successor to the Big Spring Concert Association. After the allotted drive period, it was able to announce the sweetest sound in the entertainment field: "SRO."

Hats off to three of our young people for academic achievement. Angie N. Teague, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Teague, Billy M. Priebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Priebe, and Bennett W. Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barzile Fletcher, were announced as National Merit Scholarship semifinalists.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District adopted a record $5,850,000 budget last week, up $885,000 from the previous year. This is because interest and principle on the work for Lake Spence and Ward County wells, plus pipeline systems, are now coming due at the rate of $3.3 million a year. So water in West Texas doesn't come cheap. Rates won't be set until next January, but CRMWD likely will not ask cities for an increase.

Compassionate people at Lamesa were rallying to a fund (established at the First National Bank of Lamesa) to aid with the medical expenses of Denise McShooler, who was mistreated and brutally beaten. Her condition in a Lubbock Hospital, is still serious. Five men have been charged in the case.

It's that time of year here. Automobile dealers are receiving their new 1972 models and putting them on display. If you're the least bit susceptible, the clean lines with new mechanical improvements will give you the fever — which dealers hope is contagious.

Authorities had a suspect in custody for mass burglary of a men's store in Snyder, and they were attempting to see if there was any connection with a similar costly raid on Prager's store here.

Will there ever be another Diamond Jim Brady?

Not likely. But we believe there's a bit of Diamond Jim in every man.

According to our poll, some men are quite fond of diamond and Star rings of yellow or white 14 Karat gold. Choose one today. Diamond Jim would approve of any of these.

Students Invade Imperial Palace

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese radical students hurled a smoke bomb and broke into the Imperial Palace Saturday on the eve of Emperor Hirohito's departure on an 18-day European trip and a chat with U.S. President Nixon in Alaska. The militants, identified as Okinawans living in Japan, injured three palace guards and one policeman before they were taken into custody. They were said to have been protesting Hirohito's European tour to dramatize the views of the Japanese island bore an unfair proportion of casualties and damage in World War II.

FIRST TIME
Police said four white-helmeted students, waving red flags and bamboo staves, rushed the guards, shouting: "Stop the emperor's trip!" As two of them scuffled with guards, the other pair dashed inside and got as far as the Imperial Household Agency entrance before being nabbed. The royal trip will be the first ever by a reigning Japanese sovereign. The 70-year-old emperor, who will be accompanied by his wife, Empress Nagako, has been a sovereign longer than anyone else alive. Unlike Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia, however, the postwar Japanese emperor's duties are only ceremonial. Hirohito and his wife will pay state visits to Britain, Belgium and West Germany, and informal visits to Denmark, France, the Netherlands and Switzerland. Their tour will be a round of meetings with kings and queens, political leaders and old friends, plus visits to museums, art galleries, zoos and other tourist attractions. SUN-GODS En route to Europe, their chartered jetliner will make a two-hour refueling stop at Anchorage, Alaska, where the emperor and empress will meet with President Nixon and his wife. In Japan, respect once commanded ordinary citizens to bow to the ground before passing emperors, who were considered sun-gods. But Hirohito renounced his claim to divinity at the end of World War II.

New Rules Aid Postmen In Avoiding Dog Bites

By BRIAN PEAY
The U.S. Postal Service seems to be catching up with a policy concerning dogs and postmen that has long been followed in the local post office.
Since July 1, the Post Office has been authorized by a new law to bill dog owners the cost of treating postal employees bitten while on their rounds.
Also the solution to this old and common problem has been taken a step further. Local post offices are also authorized to stop delivery to families whose pets have attacked mailmen.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

NO DELIVERY
"We do not have this problem any more," said Frank Hardesty, local postmaster. "Years ago our department established the policy that if a postman was afraid of being bitten by a dog at a residence, his orders are not to deliver mail to that house until the dog is either penned up or tied," the postmaster said.

Every year in the United States, 20,000 mailmen are bitten by dogs, according to the Postal Service. And the problem is worse in suburban areas.

Postal officials blame the increasing use of guard dogs for some of the troubles. Unfortunately, they say, the guard dogs are doing their thing to mailmen as well as to burglars.

PATRON'S CHOICE
Hardesty explained that the local department side-steps any possibility of the postmen getting bit by leaving the choice of delivering or not up to each postman's discretion.

"It is not our responsibility to deliver mail at the expense and welfare of the mailmen. Not only is the pain of the bite the worry, but also all the red tape the department has to undergo to get shots for the bitten postman and forms that have to be filled out," said Hardesty.

When a dog threatens a postman, the household is notified that unless the dog is leashed at mail delivery time, service to the home will stop.
"When we have to do this the owners usually get offended, thinking that their gentle dog could never commit such a deed," Hardesty commented, "but we have to realize that there is a possibility that if bitten, the postman could lose several weeks work."

REPELLANT
Most mailmen presently are equipped with dog repellent, that causes at least five seconds of eye irritation to the dog, thus giving the postman a slight edge on escaping.

Under the new law, when a dog bites a letter carrier, the owner is billed for the medical damages and loss of salary, if any. The owner is given 15 days to pay or notify his insurance company.
If no action is taken, the postal department's legal counsel files suit.

One post office in the east has five such cases pending, including one for $20,100 against a family whose dog tore a mailman's leg and put him out of work for six weeks.

"The local department wants to by-pass any possibility of this happening here. That is why we order the mailmen, even when only threatened, to stop delivery to that house," Hardesty noted.

"When the mail to that house is stopped for a few days, or the residents have to come to the post office every day, usually the dog is either given away or penned up."

COMMITTEE MOVES TO REDUCE PREMIUM COSTS City Cutting Insurance Coverage

More cuts in the city's insurance coverage was approved Friday, as members of the insurance study committee continued to find ways to delete extra costs.

Property damage coverage on the city's motor vehicle fleet policy and the general liability policy was dropped, marking a savings of approximately $5,668 to the city on insurance premiums.

Proposals reached by the committee will be presented to the city commission Tuesday night for official approval.

CALCULATED RISK
Committee members, Jack Watkins, Eddie Acri, Frog Koger, Harry Nagel and Roy Anderson, decided that a calculated risk can be taken during the next three years in dropping the property damage coverage.

Duties performed by city employees in the city vehicles and in each situation, covered in the general liability policy, are considered governmental functions, according to Nagel, new city manager.

And the law requires that the city carry only bodily injury liability coverage on duties considered governmental functions, he said.

The same deductible figure, $1,000, will be carried on each policy and a coverage of $100,000 per person and $300,000 per occurrence will continue in the general liability policy.

REVISIONS
In the last regular session of the council, a revised schedule of fire and extended coverage insurance on city facilities was adopted.

The insurance coverage of approximately 38 of 57 insured facilities was dropped, and the extended coverage on the Cosden Country Club and two facilities at the city sewage plant were also dropped.

The city paid $20,000 in fire and extended coverage insurance premiums over the past three years, but officials estimate similar coverage for the next three-year term will cost $40,000.

REPORT TUESDAY
Recommendations by the committee on the total insurance package of the city, excluding those policies that will not expire until next year, will be presented in the Tuesday commission meeting. The city is required by the city charter to have all new policies secured by Oct. 1, the beginning of the fiscal year, according to Watkins.

The study committee met with two insurance company associations Friday and explained the action taken on the policies.

The two associations will be given until the end of the month to present the costs of their policy premiums to the city. The two groups will try to make that presentation Tuesday night.

One of the groups is composed of local independent agencies, represented by Harold Rosson, of Farmers Insurance Co. This year is the first time this group has been considered by the city on the insurance coverage.

MUTUAL ISSUE
However, the new city manager quizzed the group on their representation of mutual insurance companies.

Nagel told the men that the state constitution forbids a city to be insured by a mutual company, because a city cannot lend its credit and be assessed for a loss, neither can a city buy stock in an insurance company and become a member of that company.

Rosson said that other cities in the state are insured through his company, and apparently it is not illegal. Nagel will contact the state attorney general for a decision on the matter, and will bring a report in the city commission meeting.

Webb's New Sergeant Major 18-Year Air Force Veteran

A 17-year Air Force veteran arrived at Webb AFB last week to assume duties as the base sergeant major and non-commissioned officer in charge of the administration division.

Master Sergeant Thomas M. McLaughlin takes over the job previously held by Master Sergeant Roland Rocheleau, who will soon be leaving for an overseas assignment.

As the enlisted chief of administration, Sergeant McLaughlin is responsible for the mail and distribution center, publications and reproduction, and documentation management. In his second role as the base sergeant major he acts as a liaison between the senior airman advisor and base organizations and performs other duties designated to him by the base commander.

Sergeant McLaughlin began his Air Force career in 1954 at Samson AFB, N.Y., where he underwent basic training. His first technical school was at Francis E. Warren AFB, Wyo., then at Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Ind., for steno-graphy school.

In 1955 the sergeant went to Osan AB, Korea, where he served in the clerical field with the 1818th AACS (Air Force Communications System) Group. One year later he transferred to the 1808th AACS Wing and moved to Hawaii. He spent that year at Wheeler AB, Hawaii, then was sent to Scott AFB, Ill., to work with the 9th Weather Group.

Following his assignment at Scott he was assigned to Shape Hqs., Paris, in November, 1962, he returned to Scott and was assigned to the 8th Weather Group as NCOIC of quality control and the plans division. A short time later he was transferred to the Pentagon, Washington, D.C., where he worked in the Air Force command post the next four and a half years.

After working at the Pentagon he returned overseas, this time to Stuttgart, Germany, where he was administration NCOIC

Right Worker With Right Job May Be Feasible

Texas Employment Commission has announced the publication of a new study which it hopes may help solve the increasing problem of providing workers with the right job skills, at the right location, at the right time, and in the proper numbers.

TEC Chairman Harold K. Dudley termed the report, titled "Texas Employment Outlook to 1975," a breakthrough study on probable trends in Texas industry and occupations, to mid decade.

The economic, social, technical, industrial and occupational changes of recent years put a strain on the state's manpower system. At times, some areas had sizeable labor surpluses while other sections had acute labor shortages. Usually this is caused by mismatching of job requirements with the qualifications of jobseekers at a given time or place, the inherent problem of a rapidly-growing work force.

Information about only the current picture of the labor force is inadequate for long range planning of worker training and other man-power programs, especially where the needed job skills require a long training period.

The report takes into account national legislative aims to increase job opportunities, as well as information on the current picture of the labor force.
In the period 1968-75 there will be a need for 504,800 more jobs in Texas. There will be 16,100 less jobs in agriculture by 1975; 7,500 less in mining (and that includes crude petroleum and natural gas); 48,500 more in construction; 39,600 more in manufacturing; 25,400 more in non durable goods manufacturing (such as books, dairy, meat, etc.); 13,900 more in transport, communications and public utilities (5,000 less in the railroad part); 48,800 more in wholesale trade; 94,600 more in retail trade; 33,800 more in finance (half of that in banks and credit agencies); 204 in service and miscellaneous occupations.

There is a marked flattening of the growth curve in most occupations, and particularly the professional-technical fields. For instance, this category shows an 88.2 per cent increase for the period 1960-75, but the rate for the last half of this period is 20.9. The growth pattern for managers, etc. is 28.9 for the period, but only 8.6 for the last half of it; sales workers, in contract will have 16.2 for the last half of a 28.4 rate for the period; there is a minus rate for metal workers for the last half of the period; a 3.8 rate for printing craftsmen for the last half of the 24.7 period gain; 15.3 per cent gain in service workers in the last half against 50.3 for the 15-year period; a deficit of 7.7 for the last half against a 15-year loss of 19.3 per cent in farming.

Copies of the 70-page report can be obtained by interested persons by writing to T. L. Barrow, at the State Office of Texas Employment Commission in Austin.

Among other information, the study shows estimated growth rates and employment for various kinds of Texas industry, distribution of total employment by major industry group, annual employment growth rates, and distribution of employment by occupational categories.

School Board Meets Tuesday

The second meeting of the month of the school board is scheduled for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the board room at 708 Eleventh Place.

No action items are on the agenda. Reports on the Texas Association of School Boards, the dress and grooming code, and the remainder of the duties and responsibilities of each of the professional positions will be made.

City Commission Faces Another Lengthy Agenda

Another long agenda composed of 20 items will be scrutinized by the city commission in regular session Tuesday at 5:15 p.m. in the city hall.

High on the list of importance will be consideration of revising the city's insurance policy package. Cut-backs in the fire, extended coverage, fleet and general liability policies will be presented.

Sharon Holt will be officially appointed assistant city secretary in the meeting, and the city will approve the 1971-72 tax roll.

Also a new addition to the commission meeting will be presented by new city manager, Harry Nagel.

Nagel will make a city manager's report to the commission each regular session. The report will include all the work the city departments are presently involved in and work that needs to be accomplished.

Harmless Sounding Agency Fighting Organized Crime

AUSTIN (AP) — This city's newest federal office has a harmless-sounding name with a bureaucratic ring to it, but its job will be one of the toughest in law enforcement.

The name is the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division of the Internal Revenue Service.

The job, said one of its officials, will be "almost exclusively fighting organized crime."

Some of the federal government's most effective new tools against organized crime are the laws of the past three years controlling firearms and explosives, which are administered by the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division.

The division, said Chief Special Investigator Elvin D. Hilger, who opened the Austin branch office, "is devoting more and more of its time to organized crime and it's going to be more that way in the future."

Although the division's agents of the provisions relating to the sale and import of guns to the average gun owner have been put into full effect, and the IRS can concentrate on using the laws as a weapon against crime, especially the organized variety.

Les Ellsworth of the Dallas office of the Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division said the average gun owner, "other than having to sign a form when he buys a gun, is not very much affected."

The new laws, he said, give the government "the ability to get some people off the streets and into the penitentiary—people who ought to be there. Quite frankly, it's working pretty well."

BIG-TIME THUGS

Ellsworth said the division's eight-state region which includes Texas had filed "in the neighborhood of 3,000 cases" since 1968, and "we can expect something in the neighborhood of 95 per cent conviction."

"The real significance," he added, "is who these 3,000 are—we're geared to go after big-time criminals rather than the petty criminal."

"The law is very complex," Ellsworth said, "and there are many, many approaches to it," but he offered as an example of the way it works against known felons "a situation in which the criminal is faced with a very hard choice—stealing a gun or swearing falsely that he is not a felon on the federal form which all purchasers of guns must sign."

Supreme Court Has Revamped Its Calendar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Expecting that two new justices will not be named in time for its new term opening next month, the Supreme Court has revamped its calendar.

Major cases originally to be heard between Oct. 12 and Oct. 20 were shifted Friday to the winter months. The biggest were four appeals by death-row prisoners testing the constitutionality of capital punishment.

New justices may vote only if they are on the bench when the cases are argued. Since successors to John M. Harlan and the late Hugo Black have not yet been named, there probably would be only a seven-man court to vote on the death penalty had it been argued Oct. 12 as planned.

Other major rulings expected include whether criminal convictions can be returned by less-than-unanimous juries; on a case involving the pollution of Lake Michigan, and in a major civil rights case from Colorado concerning job advancements for blacks and the way the government can aid them.

Insurance Broker Slain In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Police questioned a brown-haired woman who likes red wigs but at a late hour Saturday had not located her companion, accused of murdering an insurance broker.

Witnesses said this happened: A woman and her companion pushed their way into the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Geron in a swank part of Dallas Friday afternoon.

Geron grabbed a pistol held by the woman. Her male companion shot Geron in the back, then fled, leaving his woman friend to shift for herself.

Mrs. Geron was calling police when her husband was shot. She picked up a gun and went to her husband's aid. She held the woman at gunpoint until police arrived.

Police said the woman wore a red wig atop her brown tresses.

Robbery apparently was the motive. A year ago, a gunman took $83,000 in jewelry at the residence.

Wounded apparently by concrete splinters kicked up by bullets fired by the gunman as he fled was Mrs. Edith Elizabeth Taylor, 51, the housekeeper.

Buffalo Trail Banquet Date

Big Spring will be host to the annual Buffalo Trail Scout Council installation banquet next Jan. 20.

The council executive board, meeting here Thursday, accepted the invitation to hold its most important affair of the year here.

Goals for the year were accepted, reflecting a target of at least five per cent more boys in the Cub, Scout and Explorer programs.

The council may finish in the black this year, but only because it borrowed funds from the sundry account. Revenues from United Funds and independent finance campaigns have not measured up to their goals.

Bruno Hanson, Midland, and Boy Scout John Muir, Midland, gave a report on their experiences at the World Jamboree in Tokyo, including four days of hurricane. The meeting was held in the Fellowship Hall of First Methodist Church here.

Court Affirms Counterfeit Rap

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Convictions of four Texas men on charges of conspiring to counterfeit rare United States coins were upheld Friday by the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The court rejected all 10 questions raised by the defendants—Loren Robie Wilson, Charles S. Cooke, Harvey R. Hatcher and Earl T. Fairman.

In other Texas cases, the court:

- Rejected the appeal of Julian Encina, who sued his employer and his union seeking reinstatement to his job with back pay and restored seniority.
- Affirmed without comment a district court decision in the case of the Securities and Exchange Commission versus National Bankers Life Insurance Co. and David Hoover.

Arthur Hiller Will Produce

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur Hiller, film director of "Love Story" and "Plaza Suite," will produce and direct the movie version of "Man of La Mancha," United Artists has announced.

The film of the musical, to star Peter O'Toole and Sophia Loren, is set to start production in Italy early next year.

Wage-Price Suit Action

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The federal government has chosen teachers in Jefferson Parish (county) as the target for the first court test of President Nixon's wage-price freeze.

The Justice Department filed a complaint in U.S. District Court here seeking an injunction against scheduled pay hikes for 2,800 public school teachers in the parish, a suburban area adjacent to New Orleans.

The first pay checks under the new salary scale are scheduled to be given out today, but the government asked that cuts in next month's checks be made as compensation for the alleged overpayments.

Judge Blake West scheduled an Oct. 7 hearing on whether to grant a preliminary injunction and order the cut in October checks.

The annual salary scale specified under the new schedule ranges from $6,480 to $11,260, compared with the old scale of $3,910-$10,180.

Alarm Service Being Opened

The Big Spring Burglar Alarm Service, owned and operated by J. Walter Unger, has opened in Unger's home at 1024 Birdwell, across from Howard County Junior College.

"I have systems for sale or lease for the home, a business or an automobile," said Unger. "The business units I have automatically call the police department, and the owner when they are set off, and require no leased telephone lines. These systems can be modified to also call the fire department in case of a fire."

Unger plans to open a store with inexpensive do-it-yourself units in the future. His present units (Vertex) use the latest types of sensors, including infrared photo-electric cells, vibrators, foil windows, leaf contact switches, mercury switches and magnetic switches. Unger has been in Howard County since 1925, except for a 21-year stint in military service.

Next Clinic For Crippled Children Comes Saturday

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, in cooperation with the Howard County Easter Seal Society, will conduct its next crippled childrens clinic Saturday beginning at 9 a.m.

Parents of children may pre-register by calling the center, (267-6387) or register the day of the clinic until 12:00 noon. There is no charge for the clinic.

The clinic will be under the supervision of the center's medical advisory committee, composed of Dr. B. Broadrick, Dr. Nell W. Sanders, Dr. Louise Worthy, Dr. Pete Rhymes and Dr. Jim Roberts. The medical director of the clinic will be Dr. Rhymes, orthopedic surgeon. Dr. J. M. Woodall will be the pediatrician for the next clinic. All new patients to the clinic must be seen between 9 and 10 a.m., otherwise the pediatrician will not be able to schedule them.

All children and youths up to 21 years of age are eligible to attend. This will include children from the surrounding area as well as from Big Spring and Howard County. Clinic officials hoped that children from Lamesa, Colorado City, Snyder, Loraine, Stanton, Sterling City, Garden City and other communities as well, will benefit from this clinic. No charge will be made for services rendered.

Parents of crippled children who wish to have their children seen in this clinic should contact their family physician in order to have them referred. If they do not have a physician, they should contact the center or register the day of the clinic.

Purpose of the clinic is to offer a diagnostic and evaluation service to crippled children through the team approach by an orthopedic surgeon, pediatrician, physical therapist, public health nurse and brace man. This provides a better evaluation of the child's treatment program. The clinic will help to determine what kind of treatment is best for the child — whether physical therapy, surgery, braces, corrective shoes, drugs or a home exercise program, or a combination of these.

It is essential that children who are eligible for the state crippled childrens program be seen by a physician who is a member of the board of physicians approved by the state crippled childrens division before they can be placed under this program. Children who attend this clinic will be eligible to apply for the state crippled childrens program.

Pickup Exemption Okayed By Panel

WASHINGTON — In a closed meeting of the Ways and Means committee, currently deliberating the President's economic tax package, Cong. Omar Burleson gained approval of his proposal to remove the 10 per cent excise tax on pickup trucks of 7,500 pounds gross weight or less. The committee vote was 20 to 4 in favor of Burleson's proposal, with one member not voting.

Rep. Burleson commented that the president's proposal recommended removal of the excise tax on automobiles only. Because of the wide use of pickup trucks for personal transportation, and particularly in areas such as the 17th congressional district of Texas, which he represents, the congressman contended it would be discriminatory not to include pickup trucks along with automobiles in the tax removal. The committee action is subject to that of the House and Senate.

Mart Seminar Due At Stanton

STANTON — Agricultural producers need to exert more effective bargaining for price for the goods they produce, according to Charles W. Green, Midland County agent.

Green urged farmers and ranchers from Midland, Martin and area counties to attend an agricultural marketing seminar to be held at the Cap Rock Electric Cooperative auditorium in Stanton Wednesday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Martin County agent Billy Reagor, Martin County agent, echoed the invitation.

The program will be led by Dr. William Black, economist-marketing and policy, who will open by discussing "Changes in Agricultural Marketing and Production." Dr. Ed Uvacek, extension livestock marketing specialist, will present a talk on "Changes in the Beef Cattle Industry." Dr. Black will then discuss "Alternative Marketing Systems for Future Agriculture." "Alternative Marketing Systems for Grain Sorghum" will be covered by John J. Seibert, extension grain marketing specialist. Johnny R. Feagan, economist in farm organization, will present "Alternative Market Systems for Cotton," followed by Black with "Differences between Marketing Cooperatives and Bargaining Cooperatives." Feagan will present "Cooperatives and How They Can Serve Area Farmers."

Lakes Receive Substantial Gain

The area's two major lakes — J. B. Thomas and E. V. Spence — were still receiving more water Saturday in the wake of slow rain which persisted to Friday afternoon.

Together the two had picked up 12,250 acre feet, and Colorado River Municipal Water District officials estimated that they might gain another 6,500 before the flow is through.

Lake E. V. Spence crossed the 100,000 acre-foot mark for the first time since it was put into service three years ago. Saturday morning it had 10,563 acre-feet and the river at the Silver bridge above the lake had risen half a foot to reach 8.8 feet. Creeks feeding into the lake below that point, however, were subsiding. The lake had gained 2.78 feet for 12,218 acre feet of water. Elevation was 184.08.

Lake J. B. Thomas was at elevation 2233.5, an increase of 1.35 feet, and the river at the upper end of the lake was flowing seven feet deep. It has been up to 12 1/2 feet deep. Nearby McCullum Creek was flowing seven feet deep, somewhat less than its peak of 10 feet. Bull Creek, which drains the territory to the north, was running only two feet deep. The lake had picked up 4,675 acre feet of water and now held 66,135.

Black Caucus Figures Mull 1972 Election

NORTHLAKE, Ill. (AP) — Several dozen of the nation's most influential black politicians and political figures discussed 1972 election strategies in secret Saturday, behind security as tight as any all-black meeting since the 1967 Black Power conference in Newark.

No participant could be found willing to discuss the agenda with reporters even though portions of it had been leaked to the press early last week.

"I think they're really concerned with keeping the discussion as open and completely candid as possible," said one delegate. "I have never seen a more serious, more together group."

About 60 individuals were invited by Gary, Ind., Mayor Richard Hatcher, Georgia State Rep. Julian Bond, Manhattan Borough President Percy Sutton and California State Assemblyman Willie Brown to discuss the most effective way black votes might be used.

U. S. Officials To Press Hard For Monetary System Reform

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Monetary Fund's top official Saturday urged devaluation of the dollar to clear the way for world agreement on money-exchange rates. The United States wants such an agreement but thus far has declined to devalue the dollar.

PAPER GOLD
Keynoting the annual IMF meeting, managing director Pierre-Paul Schweitzer suggested also an expanded use for "paper gold" or Special Drawing rights as a reserve asset on which the value of other currencies would be based.

Schweitzer said at a news conference that the "present situation cannot possibly lead to a satisfactory system of exchange rates."

He referred to President Nixon's decision to cut the dollar loose from its tie with gold and impose a 10 per cent charge on imports.

The managing director thus placed much of the burden for monetary reform on the United States, saying he does not expect a solution without a "U.S. contribution."

By that, he said he meant a dollar devaluation in terms of its relationship with gold and Special Drawing Rights, the medium of exchange created in 1969 to provide more reserves for payments between countries.

THREE-STEP PLAN
The United States has rejected devaluing and, instead, President Nixon has said the import surcharge will remain until total reform of the monetary system is achieved.

"I would hate to see a situation where the surcharge would remain in effect for a year or so," Schweitzer said.

He suggested a three-step plan for solving the crisis, starting with a realignment of currency values and defining them in terms of both gold and form and reshaping of the world's monetary system.

Behind the facade of the ceremonial setting, finance ministers of the U.S., major trading partners are expected to bargain for devaluation of the dollar and removal of the Nixon-imposed 10 per cent temporary import surcharge.

But the Nixon administration is resisting both, holding fast against the dollar devaluation through raising the price of gold and pledging to keep the surcharge in effect until the monetary system is overhauled.

SEEK OVERHAUL
U.S. officials say they are doubtful the basic reform they are seeking in the system will take place at the week-long meeting, although the session could turn into the launching pad for such an overhaul.

The IMF is supposed to be watchdog of the international monetary system of fixed currency exchange rates shaped a quarter-century ago at Bretton Woods, N.H. But that system has been crumbling in recent years as the U.S. balance-of-payments position floundered heavily into deficit, weakening the value of the dollar and draining the nation's gold supplies.

Russia, Yugoslavia Sign New Security Declaration

BELGRADE (AP) — Leonid I. Brezhnev signed a new "Belgrade declaration" with President Tito Saturday, reaffirming Yugoslavia's right to sovereignty and noninterference in its internal affairs.

The joint declaration called for more cooperation and trust between their two Communist parties and countries.

In the historic document concluding the Soviet Communist party leader's four-day visit, Brezhnev and Tito declared their "closeness of approach" in international affairs and condemned the "aggression" of the United States in Indochina and of Israel in the Middle East.

They urged relaxation of tension in Europe and supported the admission of both Germany and Communist China to the United Nations.

In a concession to Yugoslavia, the declaration stated: "The development of all-round Yugoslav-Soviet relations is based on the principles laid out in the Belgrade declaration of 1955, in the Moscow statement and the declaration of 1956, and in the joint Yugoslav-Soviet declaration of 1965."

The 1955 accord, ratified by those in 1956 and 1965, upheld Yugoslavia's sovereignty, freedom, equality and right to chart its own course without interference. It was signed by the late Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Tito broke away from the Soviet bloc in Joseph Stalin's day and embarked on an independent course.

Brezhnev declared at the airport before the Belgrade declaration was made public that it represented "a firm basis for development of friendship and cooperation" between the two nations.

Then he shook hands with Tito, gave the 79-year-old Yugoslav leader a stiffly formal bear hug and took off unexpectedly for Hungary. Tito accepted Brezhnev's invitation to visit Moscow.

From Budapest, Brezhnev will fly on to Bulgaria Sunday. Presumably he will fill in leaders of these two staunch Soviet allies on his talks, and possibly to try to reduce tension between Yugoslavia and the Soviet bloc.

Hungary and Bulgaria have been sharply critical of the independent foreign and domestic policies of Yugoslavia.

The document represented three days of intense talks and compromise by Tito and Brezhnev.

While acceding to the Yugoslav demands for upholding the noninterference doctrine, Brezhnev extracted strong promises of political, economic and technical cooperation between his Communist party and Yugoslavia's despite their deep differences.

Some Yugoslavs took the declaration with caution.

"It remains to be seen whether the 'credibility gap' between Belgrade and Moscow continues," one informed Yugoslav said.

In return for the Soviet assurances, the Yugoslavs apparently accepted wording in other fields that went beyond anything Tito has said during Brezhnev's visit.

The declaration expressed "devotion to principles of Socialist internationalism," a term Yugoslavs dislike as unfavorably reflecting their avowed policy of nonalignment in foreign affairs.

Tito had avoided joining Brezhnev, earlier in the visit, in a condemnation of the United States, which he is to visit next month.

Woman Hurt In Car Flip

Patricia B. Heathman, 22, 3310 61st, Lubbock, was reported to be in good condition at Medical Center Memorial Hospital Saturday, following a one-car flip 10 miles north of Big Spring on U.S. 87.

The young woman was reported to have received some broken bones in the accident. Her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Botelho, of San Antonio, was also in the car at the time of the accident but was reported to have received only minor scratches.

Both women were taken to the hospital by Alert Ambulance at 4 p.m. Saturday.

Attica Riot Toll Hits 42

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Another Attica prison inmate died Saturday, bringing the toll from the riot, which state officials crushed nearly two weeks ago, to 42—32 convicts and 10 prison employees.

The State Corrections Department reported that Edward Menefee died at Meyer Memorial Hospital in Buffalo, a month before his 21st birthday.

A department spokesman said he assumed Menefee had died of gunshot wounds. But the spokesman added that the exact cause of death was being withheld, pending an autopsy.

Menefee was sentenced in Cortland County in 1968, had been adjudged a youthful offender and was the son of Alice Menefee of Parksville, Sullivan County, the spokesman said. He refused to give further details.

City police in Cortland, however, said that Menefee, then under the age of 19, had been arrested there in May 1969 and charged with stabbing another man in a tavern argument. The other man was not killed.

More than 1,000 Attica prisoners rebelled Sept. 9, seizing control of part of the western New York facility and holding 38 hostages until the insurrection was put down by state troopers and backup personnel Sept. 13.

Sarah Doesn't Expect High Court Appointment

DALLAS (AP) — U. S. District Court Judge Sarah T. Hughes, the best known woman jurist in the nation, says she would accept an appointment to the U. S. Supreme Court but doesn't expect to be named.

There are two vacancies on the Supreme Court.

Judge Hughes, who has always favored women's equality in jobs, says she is "strongly in favor of the appointment of a woman to the high court."

She added, "Such an appointment is long overdue. There are several women on the federal bench who are qualified for the positions. I hope the President will select one of them."

'I'm A Charge-Hell-With-A-Bucket-Of-Water Type Of Person'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — "I'm a charge-hell-with-a-bucket-of-water kind of person," said Luci Johnson Nugent.

"I'm the kind of person who plays red-light, green-light with my children. When my son asks how to climb a tree, I put on my tennis shoes and go out and show him."

Lyndon B. Johnson's younger daughter, the 24-year-old wife of Patrick J. Nugent, was talking about herself and her life as a private person now that her father is no longer in the White House.

She works at being a non-celebrity. Arrange to meet her, and she insists on picking you up at your hotel. A coffee shop waitress asks for her autograph, and she says, self-consciously, "This seldom happens in Austin."

NO IDEA
"Do you mind talking here for a while?" Luci asked. "I just came from my 8 o'clock class and have no idea what state the house is in. Let me call home to make sure it isn't a mess when we get there. Besides my children, I've been taking care of Lynda's. She broke her neck, you know."

The words tumble out with a slight lisp which disappears as she settles into conversation. The talk jumps from an impersonal discussion of the merits of a college degree to reflections on her life in the White House. "I did not adjust well at first."

Mention her children and the conversation is light, animated. Mention her parents and the answers come slower.

POOR DADDY
"I was one of those who felt Daddy had spent so many years driving himself for hours beyond my wildest conception, that I was incapable of imagining how he could adjust without being lost.

"His interests have changed. He's been able to take some of the energies which were channeled into public office into his business. He's picked up his interest in ranching. He's less intense as a person. The one thing he enjoys most is being able to do what he wants to do when he wants to do it."

Throughout her life, Luci said, her mother has had a "quieting" influence on the family. "She's a woman of great discipline. She has a listening ear."

As for Luci, she enjoys the freedom to come and go as she pleases without the Secret Service and freedom from the trail of reporters who followed even on her honeymoon—free at last from the public spotlight.

Most of her time, she said, is spent with her children, Patrick Lyndon, or "Lyn," a gregarious 4-year-old, and Nicole Marie, or "Oco," almost 2.

COLORADO RIVER
Luci is working toward a bachelor's degree at nearby University of Texas and she'd like to attend college fulltime. But for now, she insisted, "I want to raise my own children. When they spend a large segment of their time in school, so can I."

Luci checked her watch and decided it was time to get home to the children. Driving along the Colorado River towards home, in West Austin, she talked about her husband's job with a cable television company which, she said, "has absolutely nothing to do with my father's properties, no conflict, no connections."

Nugent is an executive with Cable Properties. The Johnson firm is Capital Cable Co.

The Nugent's live in a four-bedroom house, decorated in bright Mexican oranges and yellow, and filled with priceless gifts from Luci's White House years.

In the front hall is a five-paneled screen from President and Mrs. Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China. A Persian carpet from the Shah and Empress of Iran hangs on a living room wall, over a gold and purple baby cradle from Pakistan.

Luci displays her gifts with pride—the autographed picture of Pope Paul VI, the Grandma Moses original over the fireplace the bronze bust of her father, two paintings by singer Rick Nelson's wife, Kristin.

HERE'S LUCI — Luci Johnson Nugent, younger daughter of former President Lyndon B. Johnson, works at being a non-celebrity. Free at last from the public spotlight, she enjoys coming and going without a convoy of Secret Service men and reporters. On her first visit to Britain last year, she signed her name to a copy of her mother's book, "A White House Diary."

Decision On Oil Leases Expected

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A decision on whether to go ahead with the sale of oil and gas drainage leases off Louisiana is expected from the Interior Department in about a week.

The sale has been scheduled tentatively for November. Federal law requires at least 30 days notice before such a sale.

The sale involves 10 submerged tracts totaling 59,425 acres, 3.6 miles to 78 miles offshore.

A government statement of possible danger to the environment if oil is produced on those tracts indicates one or more of the proposed sites may be withdrawn.

Meanwhile, Assistant Welfare Commissioner Bee Grissom says, "I think there has been some misunderstanding about our intentions. Our intent has always been cooperation."

Grissom admits more program changes need to be made, especially in streamlining record-keeping procedures that are burdening pharmacists.

CASH ALLOWANCE

The new program provides that its recipients obtain a certain amount of prescribed drugs free of charge from participating pharmacies while the pharmacies bill the state.

Prior to Sept. 1, the welfare recipients were mailed a cash allowance for their pharmaceutical needs.

Grissom said welfare officials and representatives of the Texas Medical Association (TMA) will meet Oct. 2 about the program.

In a letter to members, TMA president Dr. James H. Sammons indicated that the group still is "very much concerned," although welfare officials have "responded favorably" so far to TMA protests.

COUPON BOOKS

In some cases, doctors should provide diagnoses to the state in order for welfare patients to receive additional drugs. Doctors should also check the patients' drug coupon booklet when they make a prescription.

While dialogue between the TMA and the state continues, the Denton County Medical Society has resolved not to participate in the program and the Tarrant County chapter of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons — 200 members strong — has voted to "advise" all physicians not to co-

Welfare Drugs Program Runs Into Hard Sledding

DALLAS (AP) — The State Welfare Department's new drug vendor program is entering its fifth week and some doctors declare they will not participate, some pharmacists are skeptical about being reimbursed, and some welfare recipients are wondering what happened to their monthly checks.

Even a Fort Worth man who lost his pharmaceutical allowance admits that the new program could eliminate welfare abuses, such as cash grants being used for items other than medicine. Floyd Chamberlain, an elderly victim of three heart attacks, said, "I'm a taxpayer like everyone else. I don't want to buy alcoholic beverages for anybody" — an obvious reference to accusations that some welfare checks are used in part for liquor.

But he added, "Everything they did is a drawback to everybody," referring to the drug vendor program.

Chamberlain said he and his wife now live on $229.70 monthly in social security payments, but he has been ruled ineligible for the drug vendor program because of the amount of assistance he receives.

The pharmacists' wariness stems from the contract they sign with the state and the amount of appropriation for the 600,000 welfare recipients' drug needs this year—about $34 million.

MUST AGREE

"In fact, I had two attorneys tell me if it were them, they would not sign it. It was all a one-way contract," said Mack Jameson, president of the Dallas County Pharmaceutical Association.

Jameson, a DeSoto pharmacist, said firms must agree that the state can alter the payment arrangements in the program at any time without the firms' consent.

Jameson and others wonder what will happen if the drug vendor money in the state coffers runs out, a situation that welfare officials admit is a possibility. "However, I think we hit it about right," Grissom said of the appropriation.

Grissom said the clause in the state contract is not for guarding against the possibility of partial or deferred payment to pharmacies, but rather for the possibility of altering the limit of prescriptions per recipient during the year. The limit would be lowered if the appropriation appears not to be enough for the year, he said.

DESPITE PAPERWORK Pharmacists Are In Drug Program

Pharmacists in Big Spring are still taking part in the vendor drug program, although most of them don't like it.

The program provides free medicine for persons on welfare. Previously, the cost of the medicine was included in monthly welfare checks. Now welfare recipients can get two prescriptions or $12 worth of drugs monthly. If they need more they must get prior authorization from their doctor. This must be filled out with a form and sent to a Medical Assistance Unit (Wichita Falls) for this area for approval.

Apparently, the major objection to the program is the headache with paper work and duplication. The program started Sept. 1, and according to some pharmacists, it has been changed so that some of the work has been lessened.

"The program will have to be changed even more before some of the pharmacies that are opposed to the program join in," said Bennett Brooke, of Bennett's Drive-In Pharmacy.

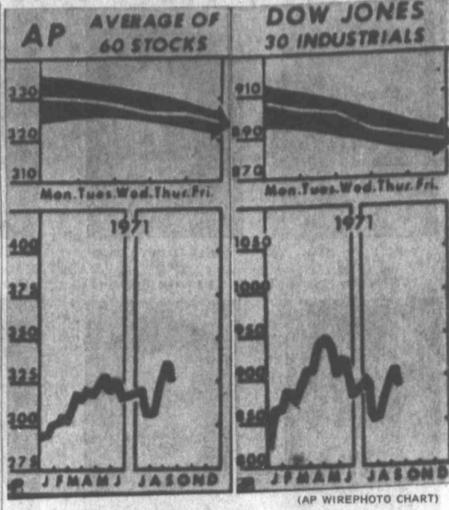

The program has been controversial since its inception, and a number of towns, especially in Central Texas, have dropped out of the program. Representatives of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association met with representatives of the State Department of Public Welfare Friday to discuss the problem.

Bill Woods, information officer for the Department of Public Welfare in Austin said the department had made a number of changes and modifications in the program to try to smooth the mechanics of it. The Texas Pharmaceutical Association has also appointed a committee of five members to work with the welfare department, according to Woods.

According to its officials, the 60-store Ward's Cut-Rate Drug chain at present has applied for the program for only six of its stores. The officials, one of whom said he has written Gov. Preston Smith, called the new program "very poor" and predicted the paperwork load will make welfare trade a money loser.

Welfare figures show the majority of pharmacies will handle the program and welfare officials said the paperwork, which may be repetitive, still "is not just another piece of bureaucratic red tape."

Much of it is required by the federal government, which is funneling $11.9 million to the Texas program, they said.

DECLINING MARKET — The market continued a three-week downturn with the Dow Jones average slipping to 889.31 Friday, down 18.91 from the week before. The Associated Press 60-stock average dropped 6.3 over the same period, to close at 275.3 Friday. Among factors cited by analysts for the slump were a decline in durable goods and an increase in the rate of consumer price advance.

Gunbarrel City Blasted By Winds

By The Associated Press

Scattered rains fell Saturday from North Central to Southwest Texas after a night of more widely spread downpours, some in turbulence.

Far West Texas was clear, but the rest of the state was mostly cloudy. Some clear patches appeared in South Texas and the Panhandle.

Temperatures were pleasant, in the 50s in the Panhandle to the 80s along the coast. Some rain was noted offshore.

The Weather Service said clouds would decrease all through Texas during Saturday night and Sunday. A few scattered showers were forecast for Sunday in South Central and Southeast Texas. A general warming trend was expected.

Rains usually were in the half to one inch zone, although Mexia 80 miles south of Dallas, measured 3.70 inches in the 24 hours to dawn Saturday. Valley Junction got 2.97, Wortham 2.70 and Denison 2.53.

Dense fog persisted in spots of Southeast Texas.

High winds, believed caused by a tornado, destroyed about 10 mobile homes and several houses Friday night at Gunbarrel City, on Cedar Creek Lake about four miles southeast of Mabank in northeast Texas. Mayor Roscoe Welch said that the wind also destroyed a church sign and ripped the roof from another house. About two inches of rain fell during the storm.

U.S. Jury Investigating Banking Expected To Make Its Report

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal grand jury which U. S. Atty. Anthony J. P. Farris says has been investigating banking phases of the widespread Texas stock manipulation scandal is expected to submit its report Monday.

There has been speculation there will be indictments pertaining to the now defunct Sharpstown State Bank, once the center of the financial empire of Frank W. Sharp, the key figure in the federal-state investigation.

The suburban Houston Bank that once had deposits in excess of $478 million closed its doors nine days after the Securities and Exchange Commission filed a Jan. 18 civil injunction suit in Dallas.

25 NAMES

Sharp and his bank were among 25 individuals and firms named in the Dallas suit.

Sharp was granted immunity from federal and state criminal prosecution June 14 after entering pleas of guilty to making a false entry in Sharpstown Bank records and to selling unregistered securities.

U. S. District Court Judge John V. Singleton Jr. of Houston placed Sharp on three years probation and fined him $5,000.

Sharp later was among the first of a long list of witnesses to appear before the Houston jury whose investigation since late July has been directed by three attorneys sent to Houston from Washington by the justice department.

Other witnesses have included four men indicted Thursday by a state grand jury in Austin—Texas House Speaker Gus F. Mutscher, Speaker pro tem Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, S. Rush McGinty, a top aide to Mutscher, and John Osorio, a former chairman of the State Insurance Board and a former president of National Bankers Life Insurance Co., another key Sharp firm in the scandal.

BOND $50,000

Prior to Thursday there had been only one indictment in the SEC-Sharp investigations.

Michae A. S. Makris, 43, was released under $50,000 bond after being indicted Jan. 22 on charges of three counts of perjury while giving a deposition to SEC attorneys. The former Houston business executive now is an employee of a Houston diaper service.

The Makris indictment alleges he misled banking authorities in a scheme to bring $200 million to Houston from Switzerland and that he lied about his association with Sharp and Father Michael Kennedy, former president of Strake Jesuit Preparatory College in Houston and now president of Loyola University in New Orleans.

Farris announced Aug. 11 that two weeks earlier he had asked the justice department to send career nonpolitical lawyers to Houston to handle the investigative phase of the case.

"I did this to beef up the investigative phase of the case since it covers three federal judicial districts in the State of Texas and I did this because these lawyers would be from out of state and would have no ax to grind," Farris said.

Farris, a Republican, said the attorneys sent from Washington were hired during the Johnson administration and each is an expert in special phases of the investigation.

Award Granted In Case Of Death Due To Insecticide

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Exposure to the insecticide Dieldrin caused the 1966 death from Hodgkin's disease of a Columbia, Mo., man, a federal judge ruled last November in a heretofore unpublished case.

Last month, Marilyn Burk of Columbia, widow of the victim, Donald C. Burk, was granted compensation for his death by the Bureau of Employees' Compensation of the U.S. Labor Department.

Mrs. Burk's attorney, Terrence Porter of Columbia, said it was the first case in his knowledge in which federal agencies ruled that exposure to a pesticide was a cause of Hodgkin's disease.

Court records showed that Burk, an agriculture extension agent in Boone County, was doused with the insecticide when the hose on a pressure sprayer broke as he was demonstrating its use in controlling cockroaches.

U.S. District Court Judge William H. Becker concluded on Nov. 24, 1970, that "Donald C. Burk died as a direct and proximate result of exposure to Dieldrin 1.5-E, formulated by the defendant Stauffer Chemical Co."

He said medical evidence showed the exposure caused enlargement of Burk's lymph system. Hodgkin's disease is characterized by enlargement of lymph glands, spleen and liver.

Court records show Mrs. Burk and her four minor children were paid $10,000 by the chemical company, which has headquarters in New York.

Armed with Becker's decision, Porter resubmitted the claim of Mrs. Burk and her children for workmen's compensation. Last Aug. 24, the bureau reversed an earlier decision and awarded the widow back pay from the time of Burk's death, plus a monthly payment in the future of a percentage of the victim's salary.

TOUCHDOWN DASH — Big Spring junior varsity gridders James Wakin shakes loose from an Andrews tackler and sprints into the end zone in a contest here Saturday afternoon. Trailing the play for the Shorthorns is flanker Billy Gressett. Wakin scored twice for Big Spring.

Reserve Leads Texas To Success

JVs Register Initial Win

James Wakins scored two touchdowns on the ground and Tom Sorley passed for another here Saturday afternoon as the Big Spring Junior Varsity footballers defeated Andrews, 30-14. The win was the first of the season for the Shorthorns. The team has lost once. Wakins opened the scoring parade for Big Spring in the first half with a 12-yard dash and Sorley passed to Jerry Knoepfel for the two-point conversion. The locals came right back to score again, this time on Chris Duron's 25-yard scamper following an interception. Sorley again connected with Knoepfel for the conversion. It was Wakins again on a 24-yard dive play for the Shorthorns' third tally. Sorley threw to Rafael Luevanos for the two extra points, and the locals led at intermission, 24-0. In the final quarter Sorley threw a 45-yard scoring bomb to Don Weeks for Big Spring's final points. Andrews managed to score single touchdowns in the third and fourth periods. Big Spring picked up 217 total yards while holding the visitors to just 83. The Jayvees also led in first downs, 9-4. The locals pounced on four Andrews fumbles during the tilt. Recovering the miscues were John McCasland, Rich Shook, Craig Perry and Gilbert Pesina. Outstanding offensively for the Shorthorns was Sorley while Mike Parker and Duron looked sharp on defense.

Sophomores Hang On To Topple Andrews

Quarterback Orville Rau passed 25 yards to John Smith for six points and then threw to Smith again on a two-point conversion to give the Big Spring Sophomores a come-from-behind 14-7 win over Andrews here Saturday afternoon. The Sophs went ahead early in the contest when Doug Smith intercepted a stray Andrews aerial and returned it 60 yards into the end zone. A running play on the extra point try was no good. Andrews went ahead for the first time in the third quarter when it scored on a running trap play up the middle, good for 25 yards. Andrews kicked the PAT for a 7-4 lead. That set the stage for Rau's game-winning toss in the final period. His touchdown pass climaxed a 50-yard sophomore drive. Offensive standouts for the victors were John Smith, Bruce Abbe and Rau. Sparkling defensively for Big Spring were Doug Smith, Abbe and the front four. The win gives the Sophomores a 1-1-1 slate on the season. Big Spring returns to action Thursday evening in a road game at San Angelo. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Death Match Is Set In Wrestling Show

A Texas Death Match highlights the return of big time wrestling to Big Spring's Municipal Auditorium Saturday night. In the feature event Terry Funk will be going Ciclon Negro. Under match rules, there will be no stopping the bout, no time limit, no disqualifications, falls do not count, the last man standing will be declared the winner. In a tag team affair, the Infernos will go against Bob Roop and Mr. Wrestling. This will be one of the few appearances in Big Spring for the Infernos and, according to reports, they are the most hated tag team ever to crawl through the ropes. Rice Outlasts Tulane, 14-11

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Tight end Gary Butler caught a 48-yard touchdown pass and Gilbert King set up another with a 35-yard punt return to lead Rice to a 14-11 upset victory over the Tulane Green Wave Saturday night and give Coach Bill Peterson his first victory as Owl head coach.

Tulane defensive back David Hebert electrified the crowd with a 103 yard interception return for a touchdown with 33 seconds remaining to narrow the margin. Quarterback Mike Walker passed to Basil Godwin for the two-point conversion. Defense-minded Tulane picked off two Rice passes in the first half and used a 23 yard field goal by Lee Gibson to take a 3-0 lead at half time.

But the Owls, stinging from two consecutive losses to start their first season under Peterson, caught fire with two third quarter touchdowns and turned in some stellar defensive play in holding back the Green Wave. Rice quarterback Bruce Gadd hit Butler across the middle on the first series in the third quarter and the husky tight end bounced off one defender and scooted to the end zone for a 7-3 Rice lead.

Moments later King returned a Tulane punt 35 yards to the Green Wave 25. A 13 yard penalty against Tulane gave the Owls a first down on the 12 yard line. On the fifth play fullback Stahle Vincent, who led all rushers with 159 yards on 28 carries, leaped over the middle two yards for the touchdown. The Green Wave's famed Bullard's Bandits intercepted four Rice passes but only Hebert's field length run aided the Green Wave.

Baylor Romps By Indiana

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Godfrey White, a 190-pound blur, broke open a punchless intersectional football game between Baylor and Indiana Saturday with a 94-yard second-half kickoff return to lead Baylor to a 10-0 victory. The Bears tackled on a 15-yard field goal after Baylor's other fine runner Matthew Williams, sped 36 yards to the Hooster 24 and a SI Southall pass to Ronnie Henson carried to the 11. White, with 4.4 speed in the 40, watched Indiana's kickoff to open the second half hook toward his right side line and come to a stop on the six. He snatched it up, faked to the left, sprinted up the right sideline, then raced across the field and flew into the end zone. The kickoff return tied a Baylor record set against Oklahoma City in 1936 by Bob Masters. After the Baylor field goal midway in the third quarter the game resumed its yo yo pace until the Hoosiers drove from their 30 to the Baylor six late in the fourth quarter.

NFL Upstarts May Get Acid Tests Today

Tune in Sunday for the answer to the question puzzling the pro football world: Are Atlanta, San Diego, New England and New Orleans legitimate threats or merely beneficiaries of the soap-opera scenario played out on the National Football League's stage opening week?

At that time, the six-year-old Falcons and the Chargers, perennial third-place finishers, will offer another opportunity for assessing their title capabilities while the Patriots and Saints afford another chance to look at rookie quarterback sensations Jim Plunkett and Archie Manning.

FALCONS GO WEST The Falcons, who opened with a stunning upset of San Francisco's defending Western champions in the National Conference, move into Los Angeles Sunday while the Chargers, who upended Kansas City, are at home to Oakland's defending Western Champions in the American Conference.

Plunkett, who directed New England's topping of Oakland, will be testing his passes against Detroit this week while Manning, who scored the winning touchdown as New Orleans upended Los Angeles, tries his hand at home against San Francisco.

In other games, Cleveland is at Baltimore, Chicago at Minnesota, Dallas at Philadelphia, Cincinnati at Pittsburgh, Washington at the New York Giants, Miami at Buffalo, Kansas City at Houston and Denver versus Green Bay at Milwaukee.

ONE GAME MONDAY The New York Jets are at St. Louis for a Monday night game that will be nationally televised by ABC starting at 8 p.m. CDT. The Oakland-San Diego game also will be televised to most parts of the country by NBC, starting at 3 p.m., CDT, Sunday.

The Falcons will have to be considered legitimate title contenders in NFC West if they can topple the Rams, generally expected to be San Francisco's only competition in the division. But Atlanta never has beaten Los Angeles in nine previous attempts.

The Falcons will need another solid performance by quarterback Bob Berry, who found a new target in rookie Ken Burrow while completing 16 of 21 passes against San Francisco. And the defense led by end Claude Humphrey will have to apply pressure again, this time to Roman Gabriel.

WHO DID WHAT? — A controversial play involving San Francisco's Ken Henderson and Ump John Kibler developed in eighth inning of game with Cincinnati Saturday. Henderson singled and when Tito Fuentes filed deep to center Henderson ran to second base and touched the bag. After the ball was caught, he returned to first, but Kibler ruled he had touched second, stepped toward the next base, but returned to first without retracing his steps, a rule violation Henderson and Coach John McNamara argued with Kibler as Willie Mays (24) arrived with bat in hand. Ump in chief Aug Donatelli overruled Kibler and Henderson went back to first. Reds won, 6-5.

Hal McRae Clubs Two Homers As Reds Win

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hal McRae knocked in four runs with two of four Cincinnati home runs as the Reds edged San Francisco, National League Western Division leader, 6-5 Saturday and stalled the Giants' title drive.

Cincinnati played the game under protest following an argument over a play in the Giants' half of the eighth inning. McRae stroked a three-run homer off reliever Don McMahon in the sixth inning to give the Reds a three-run margin at 6-3. McRae slammed his first homer of the game in the second inning off starter John Cumberbund. George Foster, obtained earlier in the season from the Giants, followed with a homer put the Reds up 3-0. Lee May put Cincinnati on top 1-0 in the first inning with his 39th homer, his career high. The Giants rallied for two runs in the seventh inning when Dave Kingman doubled to left center for his third two-base hit of the game, and scored when Dick Dietz singled to left. Then pinch-hitter Willie McCovey lashed a double to score another run.

In the Giants' half of the eighth, a hassle developed when Tito Fuentes filed to Foster with one out and Ken Henderson on first. Foster threw to second base and second base umpire John Kibler ruled a double play because he said Henderson had rounded second base on the play and failed to tag it while returning to first. But the umpire crew conferred and ruled that Henderson had touched second and permitted him to stay on first. The Reds, who left the field, returned and reliever Ed Sprague fanned Willie Mays to end the inning. The Giants tallied two runs in the third inning. The Reds won their sixth in the last eight games. Nick Is No Handicapper

BY TOMMY HART

Nick The Greek may do all right around the Las Vegas poker tables but he comes up somewhat short as a prognosticator of football games...

Nick has given the following odds on NFL teams to win their divisional titles: Miami, 6-5 in AFC East; Cincinnati, 6-5 in AFC Central; Oakland, 9-10 in AFC Western; Dallas, 4-5 in AFC East; Minnesota, 1-2 in AFC Central; and San Francisco, 1-2 in AFC Western...

I think you'll agree that Nick is a great healer, but it is a weird beautician... Charley McClendon, football coach at LSU, says much of Texas A&M's problems against his club emanated from the fact that the Aggies found their first foe, Wichita, such an easy mark...

Santa Fe Downs, a relatively new horse track in New Mexico, had a betting handle of nearly $9 million in the season just closed... and Texans continue to supply a lot of the wagering loot... The Santa Fe people are optimistic, they are anticipating a 25 per cent increase in business next year...

The San Angelo score came in the fourth period as the end result of a 30-yard drive. It was the only sustained drive the hosts could mount during the contest and it was aided by a couple of major penalties.

Coach Glen Petty's Toros had three good chances to cash in at the goal line but failed to convert. They had a fourth and one at the Glenn one-yard line in the fourth quarter but couldn't push it across.

The loss leaves the Toros with a 1-2 mark on the year. Next engagement on the slate is with Sweetwater on the road Thursday night.

Hughes Makes Home Debut With Oilers

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) - The Houston Oilers and Kansas City Chiefs, both derailed in their season openers last week, tangled in the AstroDome today in the regular season home debut for new Oilers head coach Ed Hughes.

The Oilers were completely throttled by Cleveland 31-0 after Hughes had said the Oilers would win the American Conference Central Division title.

Coach Hank Stram's Chiefs bowed in the second half for a 21-14 loss to San Diego after leading in the first half.

Hughes said his prediction had nothing to do with the big loss. "We didn't underestimate them," Hughes said. "I can't explain what happened. We were just flat. Would you like me to tell them they're going to finish fourth?"

Hughes said he would start his veteran quarterback Charley Johnson. Johnson hit nine of 19 passes against the Browns and was replaced in the second half by Rookie Lynn Dickey, who hit eight of 20.

Dan Pastorini, the Oilers' other prize rookie quarterback, will be in charge of punting since Hughes waived last year's punter, Spike Jones.

Quarterback Len Dawson will be directing Stram's multiple offense and he'll have help from former University of Houston star Warren McVea and Ed Podolak, who scored once each against the Chargers.

Jerry Strum, an 11-year veteran, will replace Walt Suggs as an center for the Oilers. Suggs went out with a knee injury last week.

Hughes said his reason for pulling Johnson against the Browns was a matter of age. "We were behind and having to pass," Hughes said. "Dickey is younger and I felt he might be able to side step the rush better."

Kickoff is at 1 p.m. Big Spring time.

Longhorns Halt Shorthorns 16-0

Steve Hughes, Don Hansen, Kyle Pfeiffer, Ed Wallace and Phil Lancaster excelled for the winners while Frosty Reynolds, Phil Woods and Robert Southworth sparkled for the Shorthorns.

Kenneth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Chandler of the St. Lawrence community, now gets around with the aid of a wheelchair. He often walks about with the help of crutches and feeling has returned to all parts of his body. He expects one day to be able to get about normally.

Field Goal Gives Tigers 10-8 Win Over Stanton

It was dispelled, however, when Cuellar's field goal attempt sailed through the middle of the crossbars.

Stanton had a chance to go back in front with a field goal late in the contest after working the ball down to Freshship's 13 but a hard rush by the Freshship line kept the Stanton kicker by getting the ball away.

HONORED Norm Bulaich Tops In NFL

NEW YORK (AP) - "I guess that's my best game since the eighth grade," said a weary Norm Bulaich of the Baltimore Colts.

The highlight of Bulaich's performance in Sunday's 22-0 triumph over the Jets came in the third quarter when he swept around right end and churned 67 yards for a touchdown.

"The offensive line just did a job on the Jets," he said, underplaying his performance. "They open the holes—I just follow them. Easy."

ATLANTA (AP) - Four years ago Tom Hayes was ending a two-year hitch in the Army, hoping to get a job but never dreaming he would some day start a National Football League game.

LUBBOCK - Randy Blanscott threw a 26-yard touchdown strike to Tommy Hendrick here Friday night and the Midland Bulldogs defeated Lubbock Monterey on a muddy field, 6-0.

Fine Defensive Effort Stymies Tigers, 27-0

By TOMMY HART

An aroused Big Spring team, still smarting from a defeat handed it by Ysleta Bel Air last week, got Snyder in its sights here Friday night to tie a knot in the tail of the Tiger. Final score was 27-0.

As a Homecoming crowd of perhaps 7,500 looked on, the Bold Gold took command at the beginning and never gave the Bengals a look-in. The Longhorns had been favored but most everyone thought they'd have to work harder for it.

So fierce was Big Spring's defensive charge, Snyder never succeeded in getting past midfield, even when coach Clovis Hale of Big Spring was taking a look at some of his younger talent, Snyder, whose best showing this season has been a tie with Stamford, gained only 67 yards and much of that came in the waning seconds.

In the first half, the visitors penetrated to their own 38 on one occasion and got as far as their own 27 the other time. Furthermore, they weren't giving their kickers time to unload. The Black Knights blocked two punts and deflected another.

SCORELESS QUARTER

Although the Steers dominated play from the start, they didn't get on the board until 3:06 remained in the first half. QB Mike Adams, who early in the second half suffered a bad bruise on his left arm, scored from the one on a nifty spin at the end of a 45-yard drive that required eight plays. Ricky Steen failed in trying to kick the PAT.

On the ensuing series, Snyder lost six yards back to its 17 when head hunters like Pete Shaffer, Mike Urban and Jeff Murdock hunted up the ball carriers. Jimmy Dyess tried to punt out of danger but Barry Truett crashed through to bend the flight of the ball and Vin McQueen wrapped himself around the oval at the one.

Steen, who together with Arthur Trevino gave the Steers a fine one-two punch on the ground, barreled over on the next play, with 1:36 remaining in the period. Steen then added a two-point conversion on a counter play and Big Spring led, 14-0.

Two fine blocks by J. T. Smith sprung Steen loose on a 38-yard scoring jaunt with 6:27 remaining in the third, boosting Big Spring's lead to 20-0. That particular surge carried 40 yards in just three plays.

NEW QUARTERBACK

In the fourth, with 7:03 remaining, Trevino untracked on the most thrilling run of the night. Artful Arturo split the seams with a 71-yard dash up the middle, benefitting from some fine blocking along the way.

Alan Davis engineered the final two touchdown drives for Big Spring and proved to be very knowledgeable at running the veer. He also completed the only two passes he threw and gained 14 yards in five carries.

After Trevino's cross-country run, Shaffer split the uprights with his boot for Big Spring's final point of the evening.

Shaffer was the fifth man in the Snyder backfield, when he wasn't lurking at the line to knock down a pass or spear a Snyder ball carrier. Cal Lowry, Glenn Carlton, Murdock sophomore Earl Reynolds, Urban, Dick Conley, Craig Brown and Scott Knight were others who put enormous pressure on the Snyder ball jugglers.

Snyder came here with the reputation of applying heat by going outside but the soggy condition of the field may have been a deterrent.

Truett picked off a Snyder pass at the enemy 27 shortly before the first period ended and Steen later tried a field goal from that point but it was short.

The Steers yielded the ball three times on fumbles but Snyder was unable to take advantage of any of the breaks. Truett blocked a Snyder punt halfway through the opening period and Big Spring came into possession on the Tiger 27. On that surge, Big Spring boomed to the Snyder 8 but had to cough up the ball.

Tackle Rondel Brock came out with an ankle bruise but was back in action in the fourth period. The Steer bench got a scare when Adams exited holding his arm but indications are he'll be back Monday, as the Steers start preparations for their 5-AAAA opener with Abilene High.

The win left Big Spring with a 2-1 record. Snyder is 0-1-1. The Tigers take a break next Friday.

The Steers gained a total of 317 yards and 260 of that came on the ground. Trevino was the workhorse, with 113 yards net in 11 carries for a 10.3-yard average.

Roper Shines As Missouri Kayoes SMU

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Chuck Roper fired two touchdown passes and the Missouri defense made a shambles of Southern Methodist's flying wishbone Saturday as the Tigers scored a 24-12 decision over the Mustangs of the Southwest Conference for their first victory of this football season.

The Big Eight Conference team now is 1-2. SMU is 0-2.

Roper flipped a 20-yard pass to John Kelsey for the first touchdown on Missouri's initial play from scrimmage and found Charles McMurry with a 27-yarder for six more points in the third quarter.

A 34-yard pass from Roper to Otto Nichols put the ball on the SMU one earlier in the third period, and Don Johnson puled over the middle for the touchdown. Greg Hill converted three times and connected on a 20-yard field goal.

The Tigers led at the half, 10-6.

SMU, which had been unable to make any concentrated offensive assault, finally got a break in the dwindling first half when Louis Scott returned a punt 38 yards to the Missouri 19. After a Missouri holding penalty put the ball on the four, Alvin Maxson got the remaining distance in two slashes, crashing over from the two.

Substitute quarterback Billy Weatherford moved the Mustangs 65 yards on two pass plays for SMU's last touchdown, hurling a 14-yard payoff strike to T. J. Hutchinson in the third quarter. SMU was held to a minus eight yards rushing.

Missouri marched on its 40 in the game's fading moments all the way to the SMU two, where time ran out before the Tigers could line up for another play.

Poor pitchouts by Gary Hammond, the Mustang quarterback, hurt SMU from the outset. On the game's second play, a Hammond pitch was fumbled by Maxson and tackle John Cowan sprawled on it for the Tigers at the visitors' 20.

Roper faded back and leveled a pass that Kelsey plucked in the end zone.

Shortly before the first quarter ended, Lorenzo Brinkley returned to the SMU six. Johnson made three yards on two stabs and a Roper pass was no good. Hill kicked his field goal.

Missouri go the ball at the SMU 47 in the first minutes of the second half. Jack Bastable, the Tigers' most effective ground gainer, made two, and Roper hit Mike McGee on the 38 inches short of a first down. Roper added three on the quarterback sneak.

Nichols pulled down Roper's pass for 34 yards on the one. Johnson twisted into the end zone.

'Big Play' Boosts Huskers By Aggies

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska drew on the "big play" Saturday, including touchdown runs of 98 and 95 yards, as the top-ranked Cornhuskers rolled to a 34-7 intercollegiate football victory over the unranked Aggies of Texas A & M.

Shifty Johnny Rodgers returned the second half kickoff 98 yards for the day's third Husker touchdown and defensive safety Bill Kosch returned an intercepted pass 95 yards in the fourth period.

Texas A & M countered with a dazzler of its own on Hugh McElroy's 94-yard kickoff return in the game's closing minutes.

The game ran to the 22 Nebraska string of games without defeat and left A & M with a 1-2 mark for the season.

A 67-yard sideline run by junior fullback Bill Olds put Nebraska on the scoreboard first in the closing seconds of the first quarter.

A one-yard sneak by Jerry Tague boosted Nebraska's lead to 13-0 at the intermission.

Rodgers, after his long distance kickoff runback, scored again in the same third quarter on a 32-yard pass from Tague.

Nebraska fumbles in the early going and a stiff Aggie defense helped keep the Huskers in check but A & M was unable to get its offense in gear until the late stages, after sophomore quarterback Mark Green had taken over for an injured Lex James.

A sparkling 51-yard punt return by Hugh McElroy put A & M on Nebraska's 14 late in the first half but a fumble two plays later nullified that threat.

Again late in the game, the Aggies reached Nebraska's 10 but Kosch's pass interception and 95-yard run squelched that threat.

Counting return yardage, Nebraska racked up an impressive 662 yards gained, against 299 for the Aggies.

Aided by his 67-yard td-run from scrimmage, Olds led all rushers with 100 yards on ten carries. Jeff Kinney contributed 51 and his alternate, Gary Dixon, ran for 50.

Green rushed for 43 yards to lead the Aggies.

Jacky Cupit Seeks Title

FORT WORTH (AP) — Dallas tour veteran Jacky Cupit will be after his fourth straight Northern Texas Section PGA golf championship here in the annual 72-hole tournament starting Thursday at Diamond Oaks Country Club.

Cupit's path will be barred by such tour performers as Gay Brewer, Miller Barer, Bruce Crampton, Bill Garrett, Roy Pace and Don January.

This year's $10,000 sectional championship again will pay $1,500 to the winner. Cupit has won the title all three years the Northern Texas Section has operated after a division of the old Texas section. Ross Collins of Dallas athletic Club Country Club was second last year.

A pro-am will launch the week's activity Tuesday. Official practice rounds will be played Wednesday with the 72-hole medal test starting Thursday and ending Sunday.

Butch Hartman Captures Auto Club Driving Title

MOUNT POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Butch Hartman, a blond charger from Zanesville, Ohio, whipped Lem Blankenship in a tretch duel Saturday to win the Pennsylvania 500 and capture the stock car driving title of the United States Auto Club.

Hartman, who had started on the pole when the race got underway last Sunday only to be stopped by rain after 41 laps, finished about two seconds ahead of old pro A.J. Foyt to claim about $14,000 in prize money—the largest payoff of his seven-year career.

Blankenship, a 30-year-old veteran from Keokuk, Iowa, had second place wrapped up until he ran out of gas with two laps to go, allowing Foyt to finish in the runner-up spot. Blankenship's misfortune dropped him to fourth.

Third place went to Don White, also of Keokuk, and fifth to Jack Boinker of Springfield, Ohio.

Hartman drove a winged Dodge. His driving title will mean a bonus of about $15,000 when the championship fund is split later in the year.

His average speed for the 500 miles, more than a third of which were run under yellow lights, was 116.760 miles per hour. It was the first distance race for late model stock cars at the new 2.5 mile Pocono International Raceway.

Baltimore Downs Tribe In Overtime

CLEVELAND (AP) — Tom Shopay's third hit of the game drove in Chico Salmon with the winning run in the 11th inning as the Baltimore Orioles topped the Cleveland Indians 6-4 Saturday.

Salmon reached on an error, moved up on a wild pitch and scored on Shopay's hit. Then Merv Rettenmund's third hit scored Shopay.

The Orioles rallied to tie the score with three runs in the fifth inning. Shopay doubled one home and the other two scored on Rettenmund's single.

Singles by Shopay, Rettenmund and Ellie Hendricks gave the Orioles their first run in the fourth.

MCCAMEY — Halfback Daylon Featherston's extra point kick provided the winning margin here Friday night as Iraan edged McCamey, 7-6.

The boot came in the opening minutes of the third quarter following Featherston's one-yard TD run.

McCamey had scored first in the second quarter on a 19-yard pass from Don Stevenson to Randy Brooks. The try to run across the conversion was stopped.

Philadelphia Eagles Seek To End Cowboys' String

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Eagles, especially the front line, preparing them to meet the scrambling tactics of Roger Staubach, who is expected to start at quarterback for Dallas.

"He is an excellent runner," Williams acknowledged, "and we are going to have to be alert for his rollouts."

Pete Liske, the quarterback acquired from Denver during the winter, will start again for the Eagles.

"We don't answer questions like that," the coach replied, a little testily.

"Do you plan any surprises for Dallas?"

"We don't answer questions like that either."

A sellout crowd of 65,358 will be on hand in the new $50 million Veterans Stadium, including a record 59,000 season-ticket holders who hope a 4-2 exhibition mark is a harbinger of improvement over last year's 3-10-1 finish.

halfback Tommy Brumley to set the Buffs up at the Wilson 30. On the next play, Williams sprinted to his right, and under heavy pressure, fired a touch-down aerial to Brumley, who had managed to get free in the right corner of the end zone.

MISFIRES

The same combination misfired on the extra point attempt that could have meant victory for Forsan.

Coach Jack Woodley's squad had a chance to score earlier when Wilson fumbled on the second play from scrimmage following the opening kickoff. The Buffs fell on the loose ball at the Wilson 35 and moved to the 16 before being forced to turn the ball over on downs.

The hosts retired for the rest period nursing a slim six-point margin.

Forsan took the second half kickoff at its own 14 and couldn't move the ball. Following a 39-yard boot off the toe of Brumley, the Buffs went to work at their own 41. Staying strictly on the ground, Wilson finally punched a score across when halfback Darrow Talkmitt plunged over from the one. Talkmitt carried five consecutive times for 21 yards before his final dive across the double stripe. The big gainer in the drive for Wilson came on Greg Weid's 26 yard scamper down the sideline.

KNEE HITS

On the all-important conversion attempt, Talkmitt fell into the end zone on a running play but the official, right on top of the play, ruled that his knee hit the ground at about the one foot line.

From there until the final whistle each team traded scoring threats but neither was able to muster enough strength to ring up another score.

Wilson drove to the Forsan 11 late in the fourth quarter but the Bison defense stiffened and took over the ball on downs.

Behind excellent running by Fullback Phillip Medlin and Williams, the Buffs put on a sustained drive from the 11 that moved the ball to midfield. The drive halted when William's pass was picked off by John Fields.

With just six seconds left, Fields found Chris Coleman behind the Forsan defense and hit him with a perfect pass. Coleman was caught from behind by Williams at the Forsan 20 to end the contest.

Buckeyes Are Upset By Colorado Bisons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Cliff Branch returned a punt 69 yards for a touchdown and 10th-ranked Colorado stopped No. 6 Ohio State three times inside the 10-yard line Saturday to hand the Buckeyes a 20-14 college football defeat.

The Buffaloes' victory, the Big Eight's 17th straight over Big Ten teams, snapped a 19-game home winning streak for the Buckeyes.

Ken Johnson, whose quarterback options baffled Ohio State all afternoon, dashed 6 and the 39 yards for touchdowns as Colorado reeled off its third successive victory.

EN ROUTE TO DISTANT PORT — Arthur Trevino of Big Spring is shown running 71 yards for a touchdown as a friendly figure behind looks for someone to block. The scamper produced the Steers' fourth touchdown of the night in a 27-0 romp over Snyder Friday night. Trevino was the game's leading ground gainer.

Winner Lauds Aggie Coach

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Nebraska Football Coach Bob Devaney, noting "It's always great to win," said "our defense played a fine game" against Texas A&M Saturday, but he regarded the offense as "spotty."

"Texas A&M played hard all the way to the finish, which is a credit to coach Gene Stallings and a fine group of men," said Devaney after his top-ranked Cornhuskers had mastered the Aggies 34-7.

In the A&M dressing room, Coach Gene Stallings was calling Nebraska "an outstanding team."

"I thought we gave a great effort, through," he added. "We hit and hit good."

If Nebraska's defenders earned Devaney's good words, the "Black Shirts" themselves were less than satisfied.

"Our defensive unit is still looking for the shutout," said defensive tackle Larry Jacobsen.

Safety Bill Kosch, who scored his first college touchdown on a sparkling 85-yard pass interception return, said he was "pretty thrilled" about that. But he said Nebraska wanted a shutout "and there always seems to be that one play that prevents it."

Middle Guard Rich Glover said it's "a letdown when you play a good game only to have one play ruin a shutout."

Nebraska, which had played with a minimum of errors in two previous games, fumbled away the ball three times against the Aggies.

"That's just the way we try to play," said Coach Stallings. "It was a hard-hitting game on both sides."

Twins Sweep Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jim Kaat scattered nine hits and pitched the Minnesota Twins to a 7-0 victory in the second game and a sweep of Saturday's doubleheader against the Kansas City A's.

In the opener Harmon Killebrew's 27th home run, a two-run shot off Al Fitzmorris in the seventh, broke a 2-2 deadlock and carried the Twins to a 7-2 triumph behind right-hander Bert Blyleven.

Cesar Tovar, who drove in three runs with a double and two singles in the first game, doubled and singled twice in the nightcap. He scored two runs and drove in another.

Tovar's double started a four-run fourth inning for the Twins in the nightcap with George Mitterwald doubling two of the runs home.

Coleman Deals Ozona First Loss

COLEMAN — The Ozona Lions went down to defeat for the first time this season at the hands of Coleman. Final score was 7-6.

The early part of the game was played in a downpour and the field was almost unplayable.

Garden City Barkats Ambushed By Three-Way

GARDEN CITY — Garden City jumped out to an early lead here Friday night but fell before the onslaught of Three-Way to the tune of 52-32.

A one-yard score by David Smith capped a long drive by the Barkats in the opening round and Joe Garcia added the PATs on a run.

Three-Way tied the count in the same period on a 25-yard dash by Nino Manuel and Chuck Dulper converted the conversion on a run.

The two teams traded touchdowns in the second period and

Class 4A Is Due Rating Shifts

By The Associated Press

There were no upsets among the top three teams in Class AAAA high school football Friday night, but three of the four top-ranked outfits in AAA and AA met defeat.

In AAAA, the top eleven — Port Arthur Jefferson 48-13 over Pasadena, Odessa Permian 24-20 over El Paso Belaire and Dallas South Oak Cliff 14-0 over Dallas Pinkston—all were winners.

But in AA, No. 1-ranked Refugio lost to Cuero 14-0 and second-ranked Klein was edged by Hitchcock 9-7. And in AAA, top-ranked McKinney whipped Burleson 23-8, but No. 2 Brownwood lost to Abilene 20-13.

All of the top 10 A schools teams escaped defeat, although there was one tie.

Class AAAA rankings undoubtedly will undergo major shuffling next week behind the big three. Three other top schools lost, but two of the losses were inevitable because two games involved four of the 10.

Fifth-ranked Abilene Cooper was trounced 47-6 by eighth-ranked Wichita Falls and sixth-ranked Galveston Ball rolled over 10th-ranked San Angelo Central 35-6. Fourth-ranked Austin Reagan, the defending AAAA champion, lost to San Antonio Churchill 20-15 Thursday.

The only other game involving a top 10 team in AAAA was ninth-ranked Hurst Bell's 30-0 romp over Arlington Lamar.

Seventh-ranked Beaumont Herbert plays tonight.

In AA, third-ranked Eastland stands ready to move to the top spot because of its 45-0 slaughter of De Leon and the losses by Refugio and Klein. Also likely to move up are fourth-ranked Diboll, which beat Corrigan 14-7; sixth-ranked Denver City, which whipped Jal. N.M., 17-8; seventh-ranked Phillips, which edged Clarendon 16-14; eighth-ranked Jacksboro, 14-0 victory over Graham and ninth-rated Tomball, which managed a safety to beat Crockett 2-0.

Brownwood's loss was the only defeat high in the AAA ranks. Third-ranked Ennis romped over Waxahachie 41-6, fourth-ranked Silsbee blanked Bridge City 23-0, No. 5 Iowa Park had an open date, No. 6 Gregory-Portland ripped Tulo-Midway 30-0, seventh-ranked Brenham beat Rice Consolidated 20-7, No. 8 Monahans edged Crane 14-13 and ninth-ranked West Orange tripped Cleveland 35-8.

Unranked Mathis' 6-6 tie with fourth-ranked Three Rivers was the only blot among the Class A top 10. Top-ranked Sonora beat Big Lake 28-9, No. 2 Holliday topped Notre Dame 25-7, third-ranked White Oak stung Hall Prewitt 28-14, No. 5 White Deer blanked Panhandle 39-0, No. 6 Albany shut out Ranger 14-0, No. 7 Pflugerville topped Round Rock 26-13, eighth-ranked Foth swamped Rockport 13-0, No. 9 Forney beat Rockwall 13-6 and 10th-rated Farmersville edged Wolf City 12-3.

Huskies Roll Past Purple

SEATTLE (AP) — In a game that saw scoring kickoff returns of 99 and 94 yards in the first 28 seconds of the second half, Washington's Huskies prevailed for a 44-26 victory Saturday in an intersectional football match with Texas Christian University.

Flanker Jim Krieg took the TCU kickoff 99 yards with three seconds gone in the second half to set a school record and make the score Huskies 26, TCU 6.

Fred Tounoy took the ensuing Washington kickoff 94 yards for the Horned Frogs and Ronnie Peoples caught Steve Judy's pass for a two-point conversion. Quarterback Sonny Sixkiller, Krieg and defensive back Bill Cahill were standouts for the victors. Krieg also caught a 44-yard pass from Sixkiller for another Washington touchdown. A 51-yard Sixkiller to Tom Scott pass set up the final Husky score. Cahill had punt returns of 24, 52 and 46 yards—the latter scoring a touchdown nullified by a penalty.

Judy broke the TCU career pass completion record of 270, which was held by Sammy Baugh, early in the fourth quarter when he hit Tounoy for seven yards. An eight-yarder to Tounoy on the next play accounted for the final TCU touchdown.

Georgia Roars To Life Late In 28-0 Win

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Powerful Georgia, its offense sputtering early in the game, flashed to life in the second half Saturday to plow under the Clemson Tigers 28-0.

The Bulldogs, the nation's 14th ranked football team, managed only three first downs in the first half and got their only score when sophomore Don Golden intercepted a Clemson pass and raced 71 yards to the end zone.

In the second half, near perfect punting by Georgia's Jimmy Shirer gave the Bulldogs the field position they needed to set up two third-quarter touchdowns.

Shirer gave Clemson the ball at the Tigers one-yard line early in the third period but a poor Clemson punt returned it to Georgia at the Clemson 32. Four plays later quarterback Andy Johnson scored from the one.

A similar exchange later in the quarter gave Georgia the ball at the Clemson 40 and tailback Ricky Lake capped a seven-play drive with a score from the four.

In the fourth quarter, Lake scored again with less than seven minutes left in the game after Georgia mounted an 82-yard drive. The Bulldogs converted several important third-down situations during the drive as Clemson appeared powerless.

Clemson threatened in the first quarter until Golden, a 6-4, 190-pound safety, stepped in front of a Tommy Kendrick pass and sped untouched for the first score. The rest of the first half was a defensive standoff.

Houstonian Is Fem Champion

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A Houston mother of four won her seventh Women's Texas Golf Association state tournament Saturday at the Texarkana Country Club.

Mrs. John Rathmell crushed Miss Lyda Hill of Dallas in the 36-hole finals of the event, closing Miss Hill out by halving the 26th hole with a par.

Miss Hill was playing in the finals this year for the second consecutive year. Last year, Mrs. Rathmell relinquished a title she had held the four years previous to Mrs. W. B. Mahan of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Rathmell also won in 1961 and 1962.

PUBLIC NOTICE

THE NEW CAR DEALERS ASSOCIATION OF BIG SPRING WOULD LIKE TO CLEAR UP SOME MISCONCEPTIONS REGARDING THE ECONOMIC PROGRAM AS ANNOUNCED BY PRESIDENT NIXON ON AUGUST 15, 1971.

THE FACTS REGARDING PURCHASE OF A NEW VEHICLE ARE AS FOLLOWS:

1. Prices were frozen as of August 15, 1971. This action caused the domestic manufacturers to rescind a previously announced price increase of approximately 5%.
2. An additional 6.5% duty was added to all imported vehicles.
3. President Nixon has urged Congress to repeal the 7% excise tax on all new cars, both domestic and imported. This tax is to be rebated to all purchasers, retroactive to August 15, 1971.
4. President Nixon has announced to Congress that the price freeze will end on November 13, 1971.

MAY WE SUMMARIZE WHAT ALL OF THIS MEANS TO YOU AS A PURCHASER?

1. Cars will never be less expensive than right now. All excise tax cuts will be rebated on purchases made after August 15, 1971, if approved by Congress
2. Domestic dealers are now offering tremendous discounts on 1971 models that are in stock.
3. Import dealers still have cars which were brought into the United States prior to the increase duty. These units are also subject to the 7% excise tax rebate.
4. If saving money on a new car is important to you, remember that on November 13, 1971, the freeze on prices will end. We know that if you purchase a car now, you will not have to pay any increased price.

OUR AIM AS BIG SPRING NEW CAR DEALERS IS TO PROVIDE QUALITY AUTOMOTIVE PRODUCTS AT THE LOWEST POSSIBLE PRICE. WE FEEL WE WOULD BE NEGLIGENT IF WE DID NOT POINT OUT THE FACT THAT:

NOW IS HE TIME TO BUY, IF PRICE IS IMPORTANT TO YOU!

U. S. Marshal Slain In Funeral Gunfight

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deputy U.S. marshal was killed in a gunfight outside a church after the stepbrother of a prisoner he was guarding pulled a gun at the funeral of the prisoner's father, police said.

Both brothers were wounded but managed to commandeer a passing car and lead police on a high-speed chase through city streets before they were captured two miles from the scene, authorities said.

Outside the church, the brothers were confronted by marshal Norman E. Sheriff and, in the ensuing fusillade, Sheriff was mortally shot in the chest and abdomen, police said. The prisoner was shot four times and his brother, who was also wanted by police as a parole violator, was shot in the hand, authorities added.

Despite their wounds, police said the pair stopped a passing car, ordered the driver out at gunpoint and roared off. The car attracted police's attention as it roared through a nearby speed trap.

After a high-speed chase by police cars and motorcycles that lasted about five minutes, the two were forced to the curb and captured without gunfire, detectives related.

Police said Lavance Green, 23, appeared next to the car, was arraigned on a homicide charge and his brother was technically charged with homicide to be arraigned after he recovers from his wounds.

Screaming mourners dived under pews as the two made their escape from the church. "It was something like you see in the movies," said Mrs. Willie Christy, secretary of the Florida Avenue Baptist Church. The Rev. Robert L. Rollins told police the mourners were just getting ready to view the remains when there was a lot of running around in the back of the packed church.

"I looked up and three or four people had their hands up," Rollins said. "One man was standing, waving a gun at them."

Everybody fell down between the pews. I hid behind the altar. Police said Randolph J. Green, 24, was sitting handcuffed in a rear pew with several deputy marshals nearby toward the end of the funeral when his stepbrother, Lavance

Round-Up Delayed

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Officials of the West Texas Rehabilitation Center have delayed the annual cattlemen's round-up auction until Oct. 4 due to heavy rains throughout the state.

"With all of the high water in almost every direction from Abilene, it is impossible to get the cattle to Abilene for the sale at this time," said C. A. Morris of Abilene, chairman of the affair.

The round-up, originally scheduled for Sept. 27, is the largest fund raising event of the center.

Cattle for the round-up are donated from ranchers and stockmen from throughout much of Texas.

CHANGED RULE — Kimberly Adams, left, and Kristi Sagedahl look at a magazine in the Sagedahls' living room in Minneapolis. The two met at a school this month after the school was paired with another in a racial balance experiment. Kimberly, however, was denied permission to ride home with Kristi on her school bus when the two wanted to play together after school. Both were required to return home on their separate buses until school authorities this week reversed the ruling allowing Kimberly, 11, to ride on 12-year-old Kristi's bus.

Ginger Bogs 600 Miles East Of Cape Kennedy

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Hurricane Ginger bogged down 600 miles east of Cape Kennedy Saturday as swimmers and surfers ignored stern warnings against braving the eight-foot waves she propelled onto Florida beaches.

Shores from Palm Beach to Daytona Beach were crowded with exuberant swimmers and surfers anxious to try out the eight-foot waves despite advisories from the National Hurricane Center here about the dangers of the high surf and treacherous undertow that accompanied them.

No drownings were reported Saturday.

Cape Kennedy remained under a Hurricane Condition 4 alert, imposed Friday. National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials called the alert, which means a hurricane could reach the area in 72 hours, when it appeared Ginger was heading on a westerly course toward a U.S. landfall. Workers were prepared to remove a Delta rocket from its launch pad and roll it back into a protective hangar if the storm starts to move again, NASA said. The rocket was being readied to launch a sun probe satellite this week.

In the center's 62nd advisory on the three-week-old hurricane, forecasters said Ginger's steering currents were extremely weak and opposing pressure systems were counteracting each other to keep the mass stationary at latitude 29.6 north, longitude 68.5 West, or about 300 miles southwest of Bermuda.

Dr. the lab soil

Dr. Paul Koshi, left, and Bill Brown, members of the Men's Garden Club of Big Spring, use the laboratory at the U.S. Experiment Station to test soil samples. Because Big Spring is located at the meeting place of the Southern High Plains, Rolling Red Plains and Edwards Plateau, the city actually has three different physiographic areas, resulting in different types of soil.

The Gardeners

By JO BRIGHT

It all began in 1927 when a male gardener, Leo W. Nack, won a garden contest sponsored by a Chicago newspaper.

An engineer by trade, Nack gardened on a small 45x60 plot, but he was proud of his hobby. He interested other men in gardening, and on March 15, 1928, he organized, as far as is known, the first men's garden club. He became the first president of the club, the Men's Garden Club of Chicago.

During the next four years, men gardeners banded together to form clubs in Des Moines, Fort Wayne and Aurora, and in 1932 at Chicago, representatives of the groups came together to form the Men's Garden Club of America. Harold J. Parnham of the Des Moines Club, who was a delegate to this meeting, is the only surviving member of the Chicago party.

And so, like the plants they tended, the men's garden clubs grew and multiplied. A thousand new members have joined to date in 1971.

Down through the years, the Men's Garden Clubs of America have afforded those who joined an opportunity to learn better gardening with friendship, fellowship, community service and recreation. Many of the clubs celebrated their 39th anniversary during Men's Garden Club Week which climaxes today.

The Men's Garden Club of Big Spring was organized in January, 1968, and its 12 members will make an all-out effort this fall to bring many more men gardeners into the club. Johnny Johansen is president, and working with him as executive officers are L. R. Saunders, vice president; and Bill Sneed, secretary-treasurer.

During the two years that it has been an organized unit on the local gardening scene, the men's club has worked with the women's garden clubs, through the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs, to stage flower shows, and will again take part in the fall show slated Oct. 23 at First National Bank.

On its own, the men's club has encouraged gardening on the part of young people by sponsoring the "Big Pumpkin and Giant Sun Flower" contest, wherein it provided seeds for participating youngsters. The club has planted trees on the grounds of Big Spring State Hospital and helped to purchase junipers which provide ornamentation in front of the amphitheater at Comanche Trail Park. To finance its projects, the club sold plants and bulbs.

The club's programs consist of nursery and garden tours, arboretum tours, speakers on ecology, and an exchange of seeds, plant materials and ideas.

The Men's Garden Club is a group of men who are involved in the ecology of the community. Members believe that through good ecological and horticultural practices around the home, much can be done to restore nature's balances, increase the value of property and improve the appearance of the community. Some of these practices include the proper use of compost, fertilizer, insecticides and herbicides.

Dr. Paul Koshi, a member of both the Men's Garden Club and the Organic Soil Makers, is a soil scientist at the U.S. Experiment Station which is concerned with soil and water conservation under dry land conditions of the sandy lands of the Southern High Plains.

"The management of our soil becomes a little sticky at times," said Dr. Koshi. "We are right at the meeting place of the High Plains, Rolling Red Plains and the Edwards Plateau physiographic area so we really have, as far as the city goes, three different physiographic areas, thus different types of soil."

Dr. Koshi explained that much of the soil in this area that used to be in crop land is now depleted and that one of the things it is short on is organic matter.

"Of course, along with that, when you have low organic matter you have low nitrogen," he noted. "and generally, this soil is also fairly low on phosphorus, but, in most areas, we have adequate potash. The main thing we need to do is increase our organic matter and, at the same time, boost our nitrogen content. It depends on whether you are an organic gardener or just a plain gardener on whether you want to use commercial fertilizer or organic fertilizer."

Dr. Koshi defines an organic gardener as one who is trying to garden as close to nature as possible.

"In other words, using natural products to improve the soil, and to do that, the main thing is to keep organic matter content high and don't use commercial fertilizers or insecticides. We're waking up to the fact that all improvements and technology may not all be to the good. There are certain detrimental effects coming out of our improved technology, and many people have been working on this organic gardening idea for as long as 50 years."

For community residents who are curious about the content of their garden soil, the Men's Garden Club will set up a soil testing center, along with their educational booth at the upcoming flower show. Johansen explained that only a small bottle of soil (three or four teaspoons) is needed for testing.

The Men's Garden Clubs of America wants to open the door for young people to "do their thing" in environmental programs, and in this regard, has published its first educational cartoon booklet, "Plants Improve Our Environment." It outlines the growth process and shows how plants protect the soil from erosion, prevent air pollution by producing oxygen, reduce noise and generally improve the environment.

Johnny Johansen, left, president of the Men's Garden Club of Big Spring, and Bill Sneed, secretary-treasurer, show a flower show "sweepstakes" award to remind gardeners of the upcoming fall show which will be sponsored by the local garden club council. The men will have an educational exhibit and soil testing center at the October event.

Lucious Saunders, left, and his son, L. R. Saunders, may be the only father-son combination in this area holding membership in the same men's garden club. L. R. was the first to join the club, with his father becoming a member after being a guest at several meetings. They are shown here in the hot house at the U.S. Experiment Station examining grass and soil samples.

'Family Plan' Succeeding

By MIKE DUFFY
Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Jamie Doe had her first child when she was only 13 and had 14 more children before Family Planning, Inc. taught her how to make effective use of birth control. Mrs. Doe was one of millions of women throughout the country whose background hadn't exposed her to modern birth control methods.

But Family Planning taught her and an estimated 98 per cent of the indigent women of New Orleans about birth control. Statistics show that statewide, the program has reached more than 70,000 women or about half the indigent women in the state and has the ambitious goal of reaching them all.

AMAZING RESPONSE

"This is the highest response to any voluntary program of any large population in the world," says Dr. Joseph D. Beasley, the program's creator, who is also chairman of the Planned Parenthood-World Population organization based in New York.

The success of the Louisiana program is all the more remarkable in light of the fact that six years ago it was against the law to disseminate birth control information in the state.

Beasley and a group of associates at Tulane University set out to gather the facts that would lay the foundation for a change in the law.

They found that in New Orleans, women in the lower socio-economic level constituted only 26 per cent of the total female population of reproductive age but accounted for 56 per cent of live births, 88 per cent of illegitimate births, 72 per cent of stillbirths, 80 per cent of maternal deaths and 68 per cent of infant deaths.

STUDY SHOWS NEED

The study convinced state officials of the need for birth control information, and in 1965 the state attorney general re-interpreted the law to allow the spread of such information.

Beasley and his group immediately opened an experimental clinic in rural Lincoln Parish (county).

Within 18 months, Lincoln Parish showed a 32 per cent decrease in the number of births to indigent women and a 40 per cent drop in the number of out-of-wedlock births. In four surrounding parishes, births to indigent women dropped by only 6 per cent and illegitimate births went up 2 per cent.

On June 27, 1967, a major Family Planning clinic opened in New Orleans, and the same success story was written.

The program grew rapidly and by last fall attained statewide status with 170 clinics and centers staffed by more than 600 employees.

Family Planning, Inc. is a private corporation funded through state and federal grants as well as private sources such as the Ford and Rockefeller foundations.

Women learn about the program through hospital visits following childbirth, through the program's "outreach" staff, through referrals from other agencies or simply by word of mouth.

TREATMENT IS FREE

Treatment is free and the only criteria for participation are that a woman meets Office of Economic Opportunity levels of indigency, has delivered in a Charity hospital in the previous five years or is currently eligible for maternity services in a Charity hospital.

Beasley attributes the success of the program to the fact that it offers a wide variety of health services. Besides birth control information, Family Planning offers pre- and post-natal care, cancer checks, family counseling and referrals.

"This is a health program," Beasley says. "It's a very positively oriented program."

Another major factor of the program's success is its blending of computer technology and human compassion.

Patients in the program are treated with respect and concern. From the time she is greeted at the door of the clinic through the entire process, a woman is treated as though she were a paying client in an expensive middle-class suburban clinic.

In a first appointment, she gives her medical history to a nurse, attends a slide show and lecture on family planning, undergoes a physical examination by a gynecologist, is presented with the option of several forms of birth control and is instructed in the use of any form she may choose.

PERSONAL CONTACT

Those who fail to show up for an appointment are contacted personally by an "auxiliary worker," one of a team of poverty area residents who speak the language and know the troubles of such a life.

"We've found that some of the neighborhood people had some of the strengths we needed in terms of communication," Beasley says.

The personal attention is matched by a modern managerial system with all the techniques necessary to keep the program from degenerating into an ineffective "do-gooder" program.

Beasley thinks he has found a formula that succeeds in bringing the power of birth control to the poor, without resorting to the external "incentives" ranging from tax breaks for small families to mandatory sterilization urged by others.

The concept, and Beasley's success, have impressed the federal government.

"We were asked by HEW (the Department of Health, Education and Welfare) to help them design a national center to do a similar job in the rest of the nation," he says.

Fall Rush Activities Set By Alpha Chis

"Trick or Treat with ESA" will be the theme for rush activities of Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, it was announced Thursday in the home of Mrs. Bill Adams, 1704 Purdue. The first rush event, a masquerade party, is scheduled Oct. 7.

Mrs. Clovis Hale presided and members agreed on several welfare projects for the year. They will continue to serve refreshments monthly at the Veterans Administration Hospital; assist in hosting a Christmas party at Big Spring State Hospital; decorate a Christmas tree in the lobby of the VA Hospital; participate in activties of the "pride committee" in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce; and make a monetary donation to "A Way Out, Inc." at Firehouse 6 each month.

In other business, Mrs. Hale reported that letters and pictures are available concerning two school children the chapter sponsors in India.

Mrs. Frank Perry outlined the working schedule for members at a garage sale Oct. 2 in the home of Mrs. Hale, 2611 Larry.

Items were brought by members to give to the state hospital for its "Operation Santa Claus" program. The next regular meeting is Oct. 14.

Local Woman At California Meet

Mrs. Allen Hull, president of the local Social Order of the Beauceants, leaves today for Los Angeles to attend the 51st annual supreme assembly scheduled Monday through Friday at the Los Angeles Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. Hull, with other officers and representatives from orders across the country, will attend workshops and schools of instruction concerning various phases of Beauceant activities.

Magic Mirror Charm School Will Open In Elaine Powers Salon

The first Magic Mirror Charm School in Texas will open Oct. 2 at the Elaine Powers Figure Salon at Highland Shopping Center.

"This is the first such charm school in Big Spring," said Lloyd Brown, owner of Elaine Powers of Texas, "and the first Elaine Powers Salon to have the school."

"We have a highly qualified instructor, Sandy Chatfield, to teach the eight-week course. She has an extensive background in teaching and was a stewardess for TWA," he said.

The charm school is for girls age 11-14 and will be taught 8 at ur day afternoons. Two classes of 20 girls will be formed, with hours from 1-3 p.m. for the first class and 3-5 p.m. for the second.

The subjects covered in the course include grooming, manners, hair and skin care, wardrobe, modeling, exercise and health. The girls receive a textbook and a skin care cosmetic kit during the course, and receive diplomas and charm bracelets at the graduation ceremony before their parents.

"We plan to move into a separate building at the first of the year," said Brown. "The course will then be offered to elementary, junior and senior high school girls. I think the charm school will be a real service to Big Spring."

Enrollment in the school will take place Monday through Wednesday at the Elaine Powers Figure Salon at Highland Shopping Center.

Meeting Planned

A meeting of the After Five Garden Club is slated at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, 704 Highland. Miss Bessie Love will present a program on succulents.

La Gallina Bridge Winners Named

The team of Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. Delnor Poss took first place among five tables in play at La Gallinas bridge Friday at Big Spring Country Club.

Other winners were Mrs. L. B. Edwards and Mrs. Ollie Anderson, second; Mrs. Don Wiley and Mrs. Paschal Odom, third; and Mrs. R. G. Sinder and Mrs. Ron Medley, fourth. The group will meet again at 10 a.m. Friday at the country club.

Making Love, Not Babies

By C. G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Make love, not babies. This seems to be the attitude of the modern American male. The number of men undergoing vasectomy — the male sterilization operation — has shown a "sensational increase" recently, says John R. Rague, executive director of the Association for Voluntary Sterilization in New York City. He estimated 750,000 American males had vasectomies in 1970. That's up from an estimated 200,000 the year before.

And Rague predicted in an interview that the 1971 figure will be even greater than 1970's.

So far, an estimated three million men in the United States have had sterilization surgery — a simple procedure, done often in the doctor's office in a few minutes. The American male is not alone.

In India, where reduction in the birth rate is a major concern, an estimated 8.2 million men have been sterilized. In Great Britain some 20,000 men underwent vasectomies last year and it is estimated the figure will be double for 1971.

Rague said his association offered $30,000 in October, 1969, to any New York hospital which would open a vasectomy clinic. There were no takers. The money went to the Margaret Sanger Research Bureau, which did open such a clinic.

Since then, Rague said, 154 vasectomy clinics have opened in 36 states. Among them are 82 hospitals which do vasectomies in their outpatient departments.

Rague, as well as medical authorities, attributes the recent upsurge in requests for male vasectomies to fears about possible adverse side-effects from the contraceptive pills taken by women.

There is also, he said, "a finer understanding of human sexuality, especially among the young," so that males are willing to take responsibility for preventing pregnancy.

And "the Puritanism which has been a strong influence in the development of the United States" has been declining in the past decade, especially among those under age 30, Rague said.

An obstacle to male sterilization has been the popular misconception that the operation makes the man less masculine, less able to perform sexually.

This is untrue. In fact a survey by the Association for Voluntary Sterilization of 25,000 men who had had vasectomies found that 85 per cent of the men felt that their sexual performances were better, 13 per cent felt it was about the same, and 2 per cent felt that it had declined.

In the last group, Rague noted, the aging process could have been a factor.

The male sterilization operation is much simpler and less expensive to perform than that for females, which requires hospitalization. Vasectomies are performed under local anesthetic, with little or no pain.

Vasectomy interrupts the flow of sperm into the ejaculatory system. The sperm, which are microscopic in size, continue to be manufactured, but they deteriorate and are absorbed with no danger to the body.

UF Drive Outlined

Morris Robertson, general chairman of the United Fund Drive in Big Spring, outlined the agencies that will benefit from the $110,000 goal that has been set for this year, when he was guest speaker for the Altrusa Club Thursday at Coker's Restaurant.

Money collected will be dispersed to 16 local organizations or projects, including the YMCA, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Lakeview YMCA, Salvation Army, Westside Youth Center, summer recreation programs, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, Texas United Community Service, Milk and Medicine Fund, Red Cross, Texas Rehabilitation Center at Gonzalez, Air Force Society, Halfway House, USO and Boys Club.

Relating some statistics from last year's nation-wide drive, Robertson said Dallas collected about $8 1/2 million and Abilene about $418 thousand.

Robertson also named the chairmen of specific areas of collection in the area. The program was arranged by the club's vocational service committee which is chaired by Mrs. M. S. Knowles. The next meeting is at noon, Oct. 14 at Cokers.

Deborah Hoggard Plans Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Jett Hoggard of Sand Springs announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Deborah, to Mark Pearce, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Pearce of Garden City. The couple plans an Oct. 8 ceremony in the home of the bride's grandparents.

HCJC Recital Slated Today

The public is invited to attend a recital featuring 21 students of members of the Big Spring Piano Teachers Forum at 2:30 p.m. today at Howard County Junior College auditorium.

The recital is the first in a monthly series planned by the forum and will include selections at all levels of piano study from first year students through advance students.

Playing today will be Judy Cox, Kathy Hartsfield, Paul Neill, Lavelle Bradford, Brian Hurst, Donna Sue Hale, Jan Hoover, Tanga Cain, Sheri

Snodgrass, Linda Walker, Donna Reavis, Janette Graunke, Peter Neill, Michelle Coffee, Karen Coffee, Viena Arenobia, Pam Smith, Kayla Gaskins, Brenda Thomas, Joel Dyer and Annabeth Deats.

Teachers represented in today's program are Mrs. Fred Beckham, Mrs. S. T. Cheatham Jr., Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, Mrs. Delnor Poss, Roy Koonce, Mrs. W. E. Row, Mrs. Chesley Wilson, Mrs. Robert D. Lee and Mrs. Chester F. Barnes.

CITY HD CLUB Want To Sew Lingerie?

Hints on materials and procedures to use when sewing lingerie were given by Mrs. W. N. Norred and Mrs. Clyde Cantrell to members of the City Home Demonstration Club Friday in the HD agent's office.

Patterns are available for all types of lingerie from bras, panties, slips and petticoats, to feminine gowns and elegant robes, according to the speakers.

The women suggested a woven fabric for sewing lingerie, such as nylon chiffons or polyester crepe. Another favorite is a single wrap knit made from nylon which gives strength, resiliency and easy care qualities.

For notions, the women recommended nylon lace for trimming because it matches other lingerie fiber content. Lingerie elastic is finished with a lacy edge on one side and is softer than other elastics. "Now all your lingerie can match or coordinate with your favorite outfits," said Mrs. Norred. "It will reflect your personality and will fit perfectly."

Mrs. Ross Callihan presided, and Mrs. B. F. Mabe was hostess. All HD council recommendations were approved.

Mrs. Merle Hodnett reported that Heritage Museum needs volunteer typists. Mrs. F. M. Walter was a guest. The next meeting is at 2 p.m., Oct. 8 in the home of Mrs. Callihan in Silver Hills.

MRS. FRANCES GLENN

Career Corner

In January, Mrs. Jack (Frances) Glenn will begin her 23rd year as treasurer for Howard County.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brown, she was born in Corsicana, and the family moved to the Knott community in 1925. She went to school at Knott and attended a business college in Corsicana prior to accepting a job as a secretary in Dallas.

It was Feb. 21, 1934, that she married Jack Glenn of Big Spring in Tyler. At the time of his death in a car accident in 1941, he was employed at a military base in Brownwood. The couple had two children. Their son, Wayne Glenn, is married to the former Nan Holaday of Forsan and they reside in Dallas. The daughter, Lynda, is now Mrs. Jim Billings of Brownwood. She and her husband have four sons, Michael, Kevin, Christopher and Lance.

Mrs. Glenn went to work at the Big Spring Bombardier School in 1942, remaining until the base closed in 1946. Her next job was in the tax assessor collection office, working for the late John F. Wolcott, and she went into office as county treasurer in 1949.

A member of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ, she also holds membership in the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge and is a state director of the Texas Woman's Bowling Association.

"I love to bowl," said Mrs. Glenn. "So much so, that I am currently bowling in four leagues. One is a traveling league, and once a month we bowl in either Big Spring, Abilene, San Angelo, Midland or Snyder." Her average is 170.

Mrs. Glenn, who owns her home at 1109 Sycamore, also enjoys fishing and sewing, but says she has little time to devote to gardening or yard work. She has been treasurer of the Howard County Employees Federal Credit Union since its formation in 1961.

A number of office skills are required in Mrs. Glenn's work, and she is proud of the fact that she has never had help in her office.

Mrs. Bobby Richardson was hostess for the salad luncheon, and Mrs. J. F. Skalicky reported for the home demonstration council that members are to bring Christmas gifts to the next meeting for distribution at Big Spring State Hospital.

Members approved the 1971 council recommendations. Guests were Mrs. J. C. Ray, Miss Shirley Ray, Mrs. Joe Langford and Mrs. Skalicky. How to make lingerie will be discussed at the next meeting, at 9:30 a.m., Oct. 5 in the home of Mrs. Miller, 606 Baylor.

Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Doyle Gillilan, 1603 Lancaster. She showed various types of scarves and how to arrange them for particular styles of costumes.

Recommendations of the HD council were approved. It was announced that a workshop illustrating how to make waste baskets from egg cartons will be held at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Fred Jones, 810 Andree.

Each member agreed to purchase a Christmas gift to be taken to Big Spring State Hospital for use in the "Operation Santa Claus" program for patients. The next regular meeting is at 1:30 p.m., Oct. 5 in the home of Mrs. Earl Grifford, 2406 Carleton.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

Miss Carolyn Mauldin became the bride of Roger Lynn LeVier during a 6 p.m. ceremony performed Saturday by the Rev. Collins Moore in Hillcrest Baptist Church. Background music was by Miss Arlene Henderson who played the piano and organ.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Mauldin, Box 67, Sterling City Rt., and Mr. and Mrs. Willis LeVier, 2208 Morrison.

After a wedding trip to Fort Worth and Dallas, Mr. and Mrs. LeVier will reside at 1102 E. 5th. A graduate of Big Spring High School, he attended Howard County Junior College for one year and is now employed by International Technology. She is a junior at BSHS.

ALTAR SETTING
The wedding party stood before an altar featuring an arch entwined with boxwood and flanked by branched candelabra. Baskets of white gladioli and carnations with emerald foliage completed the setting.

The bride was attired in an A-line gown of silk organza. Rembranded Alencon lace motifs, edged with seed pearls, decorated the lower skirt, neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The lace motif was repeated on the border of the chapel train. Her English illusion veil fell from a demi-bonnet of re-embroidered Alencon lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of Frenched white carnations with English ivy and white satin streamers.

Mrs. Cas Glover, matron of honor, was attired in a floor-length, purple satin, A-line gown styled with high neckline, brief puffed sleeves and a flat bow at the center back. Mrs. T. A. Mauldin, bridesmatron, and Miss Debbie Campbell, bridesmaid, were identically attired in deep pink satin dresses with bodice overlaid with lace which formed a redingote effect on the skirt. The attendants wore headpieces of satin flowers matching their gowns, and each carried a colonial nosegay of hot pink carnations and purple statice accented with royal blue satin ribbons.

The flower girl was Laura Mauldin.

Gary Kelly served as best man, and groomsmen were Chuck Pherigo of Coahoma and Tommy Mauldin. Keith Hamilton and Dale Peacock were ushers, and Todd Williford was the ring bearer.

RECEPTION
After the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall, where refreshments were served by Miss Frances LeVier and Mrs. Mike McClain. The table was covered with a white cloth and appointed with crystal

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

If there was anything that went on in connection with the 1971 Big Spring High School Homecoming that we missed I'm sorry. We really tried to take in everything, and it was delightful. All things considered, the wonderful break in the weather at what seemed to be the last possible minute, was about the best thing that happened . . . without it all other things were impossible, or almost.

Activities started with the parade. The colorful Goldiggers with their bright uniforms, gay balloons and pretty faces added much to the parade route, to say nothing of the clever floats and perky band numbers. The Band Boosters are deserving of much credit for the well-run dinner. I know it was for exes and there were many there but where, oh where, were any of the members of my class? Have we just quietly faded from the scene?

Some old timers who were there were Mrs. MAMIE PADGETT ROBERTS who graduated in 1923 and Mrs. DOROTHY WASSON RAGAN who finished at BSHS in 1927, Mrs. WINFRED WOODS was in the class of 1925 and Mrs. EVA NALL and JOE PICKLE completed their high school work in 1928.

HERMAN HODGES who came from Rio Grande, N.J., was listed as coming from the farthest point, (2150 miles) and others from far away were RONNIE SANDERS, Seabrook, 500 miles, and DERRELL SANDERS, 1,500 miles, from Woodridge, Va.

Other exes listed at the dinner who came from out of town included WAYNE KENNEDY from Fort Worth, DEWAIN COX and MRS. SANDRA MERILL, both from Odessa; DAVID HOLMES, Dallas; PAUL SOLDAN, Seminole; MRS. MAYWOOD RIX PICKLE, Lubbock; ROBERT SANDERS, Midland; and HORACE BOSTICK, Snyder.

The Bosticks, along with the W. D. McNAIRS, were our guests for the evening, and they topped their evening here with an after-the-game visit with other long time friends, the ROSS BOYKINS.

It was a very successful homecoming and the Big Spring High School student council and all the others who helped when help was needed are to be congratulated on a smooth running 1971 Homecoming. . . . We're looking forward to 1975.

We had several friends who were considering looking for parts for a ark when the rain persisted for so many days. It began to look like it might be another of those 40 days and 40 nights deluges.

It doesn't matter where Big Springers go, near at home or afar, they generally come upon someone they have known here at one time or another. The JIM ZACKS, who are in Japan, recently met up with MRS. REG JARVIS of Houston who was reared in Big Spring. She is touring with friends.

MRS. JOE GUNNING and a friend from Lubbock are vacationing in the Hawaiian Islands . . . and isn't this just the time of the year for time off from work?

MRS. BOB SPROUL of Fort Davis was over for a short time Friday to bring a friend whose husband is a VA patient. They returned home in the afternoon.

MR. and MRS. JOHN O. McDANIEL have returned to their home in Baton Rouge, La., after a visit of 10 days with her parents, MR. and MRS. N. R. HOLCOMBE, 1708 Purdue. McDaniel is with Cos-Mar Chemical Co.

From Puyallup, Wash., comes a note from MRS. D. C. PYLE who expressed her thanks and great appreciation to all her friends here who remembered her birthday with cards and letters. Mrs. Pyle's address is 10207 64th Ave., Court East, and she really enjoys news from here where she made her home so many years.

Miter Seams For Smooth Linings

Often you will find lining a garment will make it hold its shape and drape effectively.

But lining may make seams bulky and cause unsightly edges.

To prevent this miter your seams. Mitering is trimming in layers. You can do this by holding your scissors at an angle when you trim your seam, or if the fabric is heavy trim the seam a layer at a time.

Each layer of fabric should be a fraction of an inch narrower.

Good Diet Emphasized By Doctor

"Physical Fitness and the Dental Assistant" was the program presented by Dr. David Smiley of Lamesa when he was guest speaker for the Permian Basin Dental Assistants' Society Thursday at the Lamesa National Bank.

Attending from Big Spring were Mrs. Charles Summers and Mrs. Marvin Callihan. Dr. Smiley emphasized that proper environment and weight control are important to good physical fitness. He said few people realize the many illnesses caused by lack of potassium, sulphate and calcium in daily diet.

Dr. Smiley urged walking and swimming as exercise rather than jogging. He said, "Jogging can do more harm than good if a person isn't physically prepared and doesn't work up to the pace gradually."

Mrs. Lula Wilson, vice president, presided. The group will select one of its members as "Miss Permian Basin Dental Assistant" at its next meeting at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 28 in the L. D. Chrane Laboratory in the Permian Building. Members were also asked to bring items for a garage sale to the next meeting, to raise money for the society's national educational fund.

Dr. Harry M. Stover of Lamesa was a guest at the Thursday meeting.

'Make It With Wool' Competition Begins

The Howard County "Make It Yourself with Wool" contest will be held on Nov. 11. Entry forms are available at the Howard County Home Demonstration Office and the homemaking office at Big Spring High School. Entries must be in these offices by Nov. 1.

Garments must be entirely constructed by the contestant since January, 1971. There are the following divisions:

Gold Star Mothers Plan Prize

Members of the American Gold Star Mothers will give away an afghan in a fund-raising project, it was announced Thursday in the home of Mrs. A. W. Moody, 1514 Tucson. The prize will be awarded at the next meeting at 9:30 a.m., Oct. 21 in the home of Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington Blvd.

The women at the Thursday luncheon meeting donated five dollars to the Bible Fund and $15 to the club's general state fund. The refreshment table was covered with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white and yellow daisies. Mrs. N. J. Hill was a guest.

Oskar Libermann, 43, of West Germany, has left home because his wife refused to serve him dinner after his full day's office work until he addressed 200 envelopes containing pleas for equal rights for women.

"I didn't mind for the first month, but I began losing weight the second," he said. "And she just sat there watching TV while I worked my head off."

YOU'LL WANT TO KNOW Who Is Margaret Dana?

Who is Margaret Dana? Herald readers will soon learn that she is a friend — who tells you everything you've always wanted to know about your purchasing power.

The Herald will be introducing Margaret Dana to consumers in Howard County, and readers will have the chance to discover what thousands of readers over the country already know — that she is tops in today's hottest field — consumerism.

A professional consultant on the changing attitudes and problems of consumers, Margaret Dana knows what consumers want, need and should have in product performance.

During the past few years Margaret Dana has concentrated on writing two columns each week, giving consumer information to readers of some 100 newspapers, and in turn taking their responsive voices to industry, government and educators. Because the mail response is enthusiastic and widely spread, the thousands of letters she receives each month provide a clear and valid picture of changing consumer attitudes across the country.

For the first time, the average consumer has a direct channel of communication with business, industry, government and regulatory agencies.

The National Bureau of Standards asked Margaret Dana to advise them on how to word consumer information booklets to make them more understandable, and the Underwriters Laboratories, American National Standards Institute and National Fire Prevention Association have commended her columns as performing great service.

To maintain pipelines of communication, and to be sure consumers' voices are heard where they should be, Margaret Dana meets with a number of important national groups, as a member of each, to represent the consumer interest.

She is a member of Underwriters Laboratories, Inc., the National Fire Protection Association and the National Advisory Committee for the Flammable Fabrics Act.

Also, she is a member of the American National Standards Institute's Consumer Council and of its product safety committee and certification committee.

To bring consumers closer to their stores, Margaret Dana is a member, too, of the consumer coordinating committee of the National Retail Merchants Association and provides a monthly report for NRMA's trade journal on what consumers want their stores to know.

She maintains liaison with the American Apparel Manufacturers Association, the National Conference on Weights and Measures, the National Bureau of Standards, the Association of Home Appliance Manufacturers and others with important technical information for consumers. She has written a book, "Behind the Label," and is compiling an indexed collection of her columns and some 500 most-often-asked consumer questions, with the answers.

Be watching The Herald for Margaret Dana's first consumer column.

Belinda K. Gonzales, 18, a freshman at Howard County Junior College, is the second recipient chosen this year to receive the Dawson DeViney Memorial Scholarship. Billy Ray Franklin, 20, also an HCJC freshman, was the first recipient.

The second award was made possible by a $100 contribution to the fund by John Bayne of the HCJC faculty. The fund was established in June, 1971, to honor the memory of Dr. DeViney and to aid worthy students in furthering their college education. Dr. DeViney was administrative dean of HCJC at the time of his death several months ago. His wife is a teacher in the local schools, and their sons are Pat, an architect in Dallas, and Don, a senior at Texas Tech.

Miss Gonzales, who resides with her grandmother, Mrs. Lupe Sosa, at 901 NW 4th, is a graduate of Big Spring High School where she was active in Student Council, forensics, drama, volleyball and the Meister Singers. She was chosen best actress and received awards for two years as best oral interpreter. She was voted to Who's Who.

Designer Ventures To Female Items

A see-through belt from the Chantal de Vassieu consists of eight huge leather circles held together with a ribbon leather closure.

This belt is among new ones in a collection marking the young Parisian designer's first venture into feminine accessories. Until now, she has specialized in stunning belts for men.

Most of the belts had the see-through look, achieved by linking together geometric shapes with holes in the centers.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Folks:

Would you believe that we have been friends 10 years ago today? And that I am 10 years older than when I wrote my first column?

Both are true . . . It's odd what memories can flash back when cleaning out a file.

I ran across my very first column yesterday and not only did I share lots of memories with you but a few tears too — in those NOW four eyes (stronger glasses).

So I said to myself, "Now if I were going to celebrate something so sentimental — just how should I do it?"

The old gray matter in my head started wiggling and I thought "I'll just bake US (that's you and me) a cake, put 10 candles on it, pour a cup of coffee and sit down and cry a bit.

I shed a few tears of thanks for our friendship, the troubles we've shared and the problems you dropped in my lap. Then I lit the 10 candles and blew 'em out!

TEN years flashed by. Seems like yesterday.

So the next weekday column will be a reprint of my very first column. When you read it, pour yourself a cup of coffee and let's pretend that we're together.

Many of you have asked me to repeat certain hints you missed over the years, so the next 10 days will be just that. All your favorite hints — diapers, laundry and hamburger again. I promise to leave out the word nylon net!

Happy 10th anniversary to us both with a great big God bless . . . Yours forevermore, Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I go to the washateria once a week to do my washing and I sort everything before I go just like you said we should, but here is a neat little trick I would like to add.

I save those little plastic bags that are hung on the door knobs that carry ads from the local stores. I pour just enough soap into them for each load.

I just empty the plastic bag with the amount of soap into the washer and then fold the bags up so they can be used next week. . . Mrs. Ann White

LETTER OF THOUGHT

Dear Heloise:

Whatever you are cleaning now is going to get dirty again . . . almost immediately.

Whatever you miss, you can get the next time around, or the next.

Clean some of the corners some of the time, but not all of the corners all of the time.

Don't bother with a systematized routine. Work on the demand principle.

These are satisfactions missed by those who keep cleaning all the time. . . A.U.

Dear Heloise:

Try putting a candy lemon drop in each glass of lemonade.

It sure gives it a better flavor. . . Mrs. W. E. Ventura (Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

'Fiddler On The Roof' Entertains Hyperions

Musical selections from the long-running Broadway folk musical, "Fiddler on the Roof," were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Dowden during the annual Hyperion Club Council luncheon held Thursday at Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. Anthony Hunt served as narrator, and Miss Linda Mason was accompanist.

Cowden is chairman of the music department at Howard County Junior College and director of music at First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Jack Irons, council president, presided and introduced the other officers, Mrs. J. R. Farmer, secretary; and Mrs. Albert Smith, treasurer.

Individual club presidents serve as council vice presidents. They are Mrs. Rogers Hefley, 1965; Mrs. Marvin Miller, 1966; Mrs. Robert A. Fuller, 1967; Mrs. Robert Tinley, 1968; Mrs. John Gary, 1969; Mrs. Charles Bell, 1970; and Mrs. Robert Knight, 1971.

The 1970 club was in charge of decorations, and the 1955 club planned the menu. The 1948 club was responsible for the program, and the guest entertainers were introduced by Mrs. Tinley.

Some of the selections presented by Mr. and Mrs. Dowden were "Fiddler on the Roof," "Tradition," "If I Were a Rich Man," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "Do You Love Me?" Each club president introduced their officers, study theme and service projects.

The themes are "Man's Relation to His World," 1965; "Cultures in Conflict," 1966; "Patchwork," 1967; "Renaissance - Birth of a New Age," 1968; "Pollution: Give a Foot," 1969; "Let's Swing Into Life," 1970; and "Big Spring," 1971.

Projects include assistance to Firehouse Six, Heritage Museum, Howard County Library, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and Westside Community Center. Other community services include support for a proposed teen center, lending assistance to needy families and sponsoring cultural affairs.

Nutritionist Says Diet 'Disaster'

By G. C. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — A University of California nutritionist says the American diet is a "national disaster."

Dr. George M. Briggs, chairman of the university's department of nutritional sciences, said malnutrition is a fact in the United States and shows up as physical deficiencies, mental problems, work loss, obesity, heart disease, dental decay and alcoholism.

He spoke Tuesday at a seminar for editors and writers sponsored by the Vitamin Information Bureau of New York City.

The cost of malnutrition, he said, is greater than the cost of crime or automobile accidents or narcotics addiction.

Briggs estimated the cost in California at $3 billion a year, and said the total for the nation might be $30 billion, since California has a tenth of the population.

He attributed malnutrition to poverty, negative social and cultural practices such as vegetarianism and macrobiotic diets, the failure of the food industry to fortify foods adequately, lack of education, lack of motivation and the lack of nutrition education.

"The American public is eating a strange diet," Briggs said, adding that Americans eat more sugar, pure fat and wheat flour than their entire intake of other foods.

He said the American diet annually includes 102 pounds of sugar per capita, 53 pounds of fats such as salad oil, 100 pounds of white flour, 14 pounds of corn sugar and 276 pounds (this to come)

He said the dry weights of other foods consumed annually includes 74 pounds of red meat, 18 pounds of poultry and fish, 14 pounds of eggs, 34 pounds of milk, 7 pounds of cheese, 5 pounds of ice cream, 25 pounds of potatoes, 24 pounds of other vegetables, 18 pounds of fruit, 21 pounds of whole cereal and 19 pounds of beans, peanuts and other legumes — total 250 pounds.

"This is a terrible diet," Briggs said. "I wouldn't feed it to my cat or dog, let alone to livestock or poultry."

Rushes Honored

Rushes of Phi Zeta Omega Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, were honored at a party Thursday evening in the First Federal Community Room. Games were played and refreshments were served in a simulated coffee house atmosphere. Rushes were Mrs. David Grifford, Mrs. Joseph Coffman Jr., Mrs. James Bailey, Mrs. David Wilson and Mrs. Ronnie Wilson.

A LOVELIER YOU Spot Reducing Takes Exercise, Diet Duo

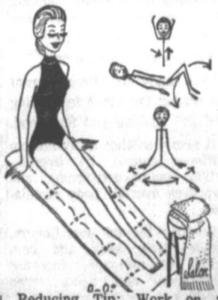

By MARY SUE MILLER

In a quest for a trim, graceful figure, spot exercise is essential. General overweight calls for a combination of exercise and diet. Spot routines are all that's needed to slim a heavy area, when your weight is near-normal.

The crucial proportions in relation to fall fashion occur at the waist, hip and calf — snug belts, fitted hiplines and below-knee hemlines, you know. Exercises to trim those spots follow. Step into the salon.

- 1. Midriff Slimmer. Stand erect, place fingertips on shoulders. Elevate chest, without lifting shoulders, and slowly contract waist muscles. First pull in and next pull up, as far as possible and then a bit more. Holding position clap hands high over head and immediately swing arms to sides and clap hands behind hips. Relax and repeat 10 times.

- 2. Hip Reducer. Lie, back down on floor, knees bent and soles of feet press to floor. Rock leg from far side to far side, so that weight rolls across hips. Twenty counts, or more.
- 3. Calf Trimmer. Sit on floor with legs straight out and together. Pointing toes bend feet backward as far as possible and hold position. Now slowly swing legs apart by sliding calves along floor; slide back to start position. Without stopping, repeat 10 to 20 times. Throughout press calves to floor — really press.

Reducing Tip: Work on a carpeted floor near an open window. Wear a minimum of clothes, no shoes or girdle. Breathe naturally in rhythm. That way you can expect to take a smaller dress size. Look for prettier movements and pinker cheeks too.

REDUCING EXERCISES

Spot reduction — key to a proportioned figure. Exercise is the only way to trim those stubborn bulges . . . to lose inches exactly where you wish. My new leaflet, "Spot Reducing Exercises," gives easy routines — 40 in all — for all slimming the upper back, arms, midriff, hips legs, ankles . . . Plus ideal measurements . . . other figure-trimming tips. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Gals Flock To Smocks In Fall

Girls may reveal their legs in hotpants but they're camouflaging their curves with smocks. Some designers are bowing to leg watchers and are combining loose smock tops over matching hotpants that are concealed underneath. Others refuse to keep the hotpants a surprise, so they've lengthened them to mid-thigh so you can see them.

A HIGH FEVER IS VERY SCARY

When a child's temperature shoots up very high, it is very frightening to the parents. And often, this will happen without any other symptoms. Fortunately children are able to tolerate high temperatures much more easily than adults.

If a fever gets over 102 in a small child, a physician very often prescribes a sedating suppository to guard against the possibility of a convulsion. Some physicians suggest you have these prescription suppositories in the house for use if a fever is raging late at night. Children's aspirin helps to bring down the fever but if it gets up as high as 104 or 105, your physician might recommend putting the child in a bath of cool water. Follow his advice.

MR. AND MRS. OWEN GEE

Couple's Hobbies Are Antiques, Architecture

By BARBARA LORD

A variety of interests and backgrounds have made a fascinating life for Mr. and Mrs. Owen Gee since their marriage in 1959. At the time, Gee was working for Cabot Corporation in Brownwood. Immediately after their marriage, the Gees moved to Berre l'Etang in Provence, France, where he served as technical advisor at Cabot's carbon black plant.

After a year and a half in France and Holland, the Gees moved to Pampa in July, 1960, where they remained until his transfer to Big Spring as Cabot's plant manager.

Gee previously lived in Big Spring. He worked at the local plant for three years (1956 to 1958), and was active in the First Presbyterian Church as a deacon and Sunday school teacher. He has one married daughter who lives in Corpus Christi, and four grandchildren.

In France the Gees occupied a three-story, 14-room villa with a history dating back some 200 years. They enjoyed the house, but said its age brought about many structural and technical problems which tested Gee's engineering skills. Mrs. Gee, an artist, painted a picture of the villa garden she and her husband grew.

"France is a lovely country with beautiful flowers," said Mrs. Gee, "but everytime we got our garden in good shape, another 75-foot pine tree would have to be uprooted for some reason, and the garden would suffer."

Although Mrs. Gee paralleled the life-style in France to what it must have been like in the states about 50 years ago, she and her husband both took advantage of the opportunities available.

MANY HOBBIES

Both of the Gees are interested in color photography, especially slide transparencies, and traveled extensively in Europe capturing scenes with camera or paint brush. In addition to spending 4½ months in Holland, the Gees saw England, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium and Germany.

Mrs. Gee was intrigued by flea markets and shopping, while Gee was interested in architecture styles. Their home at 615 Highland is graced with paintings, antiques and glassware items from flea markets in The Hague and Rotterdam.

Gee enjoys all types of wood-working, and they seldom reside in a home for long before improvements are under way. Plans for additional storage space are already being made in their new home. In Pampa, the Gees added almost 500 square feet of living space to the home, including a den.

"He's really a 'Mr. Fixit,'" said Mrs. Gee about her husband. "I get ideas and he carries them out. Sometimes he has to draw five or six illustrations before he captures what I have in my mind, but he always eventually figures it out."

Gee is also an avid golfer, and his wife recently took up the sport. They have joined the country club. Both enjoy playing bridge, and have joined the First Presbyterian Church.

In addition to painting, Mrs.

Association Discusses Diabetes

"Nutrition in Diabetes" was the topic discussed by Dr. Henry F. Page of Midland, guest speaker for newly formed West Texas Dietetic Association Thursday at St. Ann's School in Midland.

Dr. Page emphasized new concepts in dietary control, and said control of diabetes is not only a problem of carbohydrate utilization, but is now realized to be associated with protein and fat utilization also.

"Diet, insulin and exercise are the three basic tools of diabetic control," said Dr. Page. He stressed the importance of exercise, and said that because diabetics tend to have elevated cholesterol, their fat must be carefully controlled.

Dr. Page is a fellow of the American College of Physicians and a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine. He serves as an internist in Midland.

Dr. Wayne Bonner, director of guidance services at Howard County Junior College, will speak at the next meeting of the association at 7:30 p.m., Oct. 28 in the first floor conference room of the Veterans Administration Hospital, Big Spring. All local dietitians are invited to hear his talk about "Personnel Practices for the 70's."

Hand Massager Relaxes Muscles

Looking for a really soothing idea after an active, busy day? Well, what about getting an electric hand massager unit?

This handy little item is great for setting the blood to tingling and just making you feel good.

It gently soothes away muscle stiffness caused by over-exertion, out-of-conditioning and improves over-all body circulation.

Just run the unit over fingers, hands, face, neck and chin areas to massage, increase circulation and relax tense muscles.

FORMER TEACHER

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Gee taught at her alma mater, Howard Payne College, where she received a degree in business administration. She also worked with the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce before joining Cabot Corporation as an administrative secretary. She is a former member of Business and Professional Women's Club and the National Secretaries Association.

Gee is a graduate of the University of Missouri with a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering. Although golf is his primary hobby now, he formerly enjoyed pistol shooting and archery competitions. He is a member of the Rotary Club.

Mrs. Gee arrived in Big Spring Sept. 7, after her husband was already on the job here. Her mother, Mrs. Kittie Young, is temporarily residing with them.

"I'm glad the move is behind me," said Mrs. Gee. "It's always a chore moving the items that accumulate over the years, and we're looking forward to a long stay in Big Spring."

Runner-Up in the state "careless weed garden" contest

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION D BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1971 SECTION D

Enjoy Living In Beautiful Big Spring?

By BRIAN PEAY
Big Spring, with its varying terrain, has the potentiality of a beautiful city.

It has, instead, an abundance of brambles with the blossoms, a cavalcade of weed patches with the well-kept yards of some residential areas.

The problem grows as fast as the weeds, if not faster. City beautification seems more like a dream than a reality. Rank weed growth, along with its affinity for catching trash, has created fire and health hazards.

In the last regular session of the city commission, Omar Jones, local real estate developer, made a formal request that the city initiate a program to clean up vacant lots and to clear debris and high weeds from public and private property.

"Great idea, thanks," the commission said in effect. Nothing, however, was done other than to refer Jones to the new city manager (Harry Nagel) who was just coming on the job.

During late summer, a program of mowing was initiated by the city street department in an effort to control the fly and mosquito problem in the city. City officials reported that there was some response from the public to this program, but a major portion of the high grass and weed problem remains.

A city ordinance states that the owner of a vacant lot is responsible for his property and the up-keep thereof; that it is unlawful to let property become unsightly, run-down or cluttered with trash and high weeds.

The ordinance sets out a procedure for enforcement, which is the responsibility of the city fire and inspection department.

A property owner is notified by letter if his lots are unsightly and in need of repair. If the owner fails to reply within 10 days to the first notice, a second reminder is sent by the city.

If this action is ignored, the departments are to file suit against the owner and a warrant must be issued.

"We have not had a case of this type all this year. There were a few last year, but none up to now," said Melvin Darratt, warrant officer in the Big Spring police department.

"We have two major problems in this program; we usually cannot find the property owners to issue the notifications, and there is no city attorney to give us legal advice," said A. D. Meador, fire chief. Meador intimated some past city judges had been too lenient in previous cases. He also attributed ineffectiveness to a breakdown in cooperation and communication between the fire, inspection, and police departments and the municipal court judge as part of the problem.

City crews are beginning to mow the high grass and weeds on street rights-of-ways, but the roadways are but a portion of the over-all problem.

"We also have had a lot of trouble with our mowing equipment, and there is not enough manpower to keep the current program going at a steady pace," complained Gene Patton, fire marshal in charge of the program.

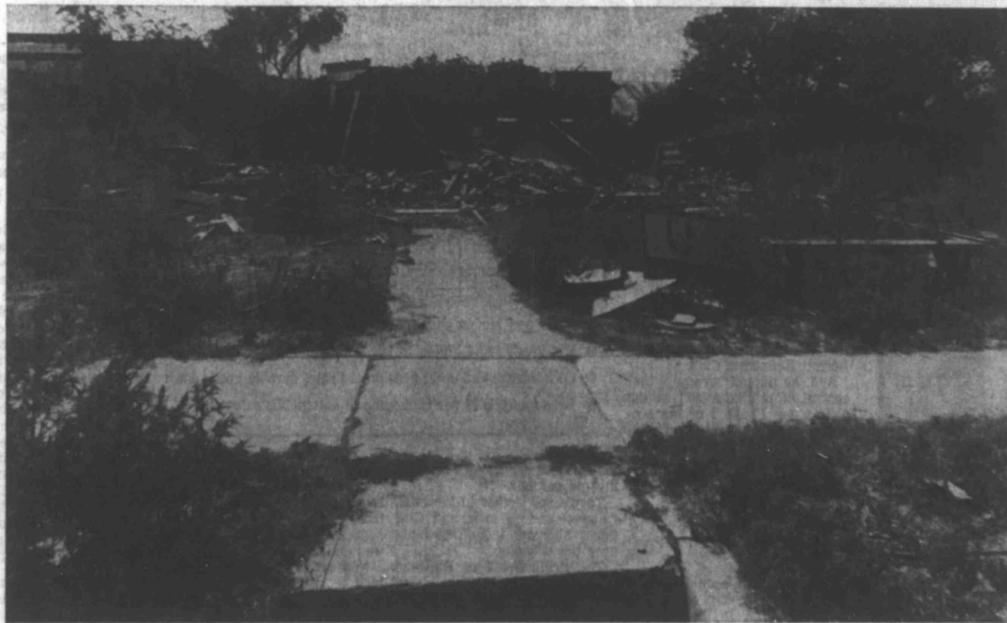

Hazardous structures on lots around the city also add to the grotesque view conveyed to all who pass — including visitors.

Four of these structures were demolished during August, and 27 have been cleared this year. Currently there are 11 structures on which work is just beginning. No action has been taken on six others that were cited.

"There have been over 400 of these hazardous structures torn down during the last five years," said Meador. Alas, he added, each year there are more and more buildings becoming old and abandoned.

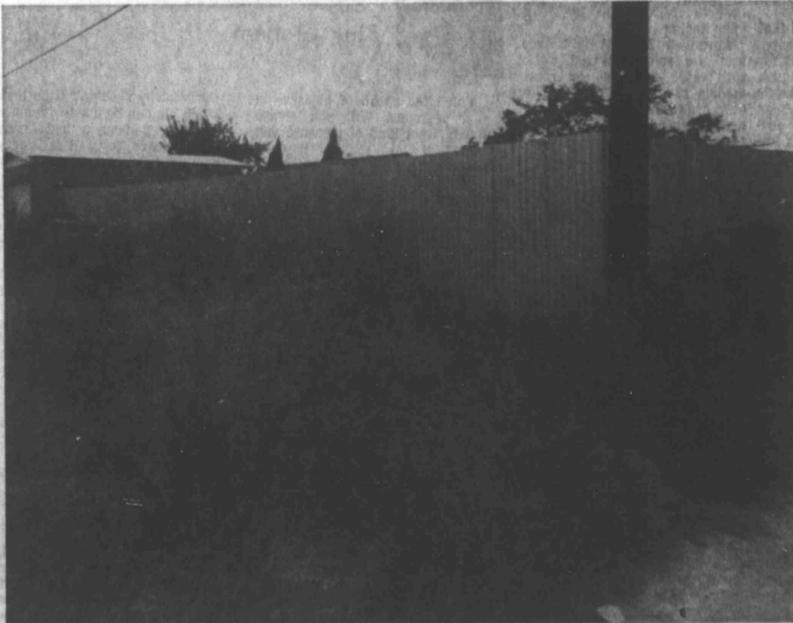

City officials have said that tricky legal requirements sometimes slow action against these dangerous buildings. There are suits pending in court against the city concerning the destruction of various structures.

At best, legal machinery often turns slower than the rate of growth for weeds, even in a dry year, let alone one with a pair of late summer monsoons.

Speedy Trial Is Essential

Fairness dictates that House Speaker Gus Mutscher be given the earliest possible trial on charges contained in two indictments returned in Austin. An indictment isn't a conviction but Mutscher, because he is a key public official in the Legislature, is just as surely under a cloud until the matter is resolved. He cannot expect to function effectively as the speaker until the questions raised in the indictments are answered.

If a quick trial is impractical, he should seriously consider standing aside during the special session. His announced consultations to determine whether he should pursue another term as speaker should include consideration to step aside as speaker pending his trial.

Mutscher's is an unusual involvement with a confessed swindler. Mutscher's complaint that the indictments were "politically motivated to protect others and designed to destroy my future" lacks credibility. Mutscher volunteered to deal with Frank Sharp and the speaker knew what the dealings were all about. The speaker has acknowledged his dealings and Sharp has testified to them.

While public business is being conducted, it would be far better if not essential to good legislation, to have someone else in the speaker's chair. Mutscher's political muscle was quite evident in the last session. He forced a redistricting plan that penalized his opposition; he choked off the voice of the "Dirty 30" house rebels; he tightly controlled the flow of legislative business. That much power ought to have a man in charge who lacks the stigma of unresolved and very serious questions about the quality of leadership in the public interest.

Unpretty And Unsafe

In today's Herald you may see examples of a few spots overgrown with weeds or strewn with refuse.

None need feel a sense of wounded pride that his corners were singled out, for this is an all-too-common pattern in the city. True, we do have many residential districts which abound in tallored lawns and pretty hedges and flower beds. But this does not alter the fact that unkempt spots spoil our appearance just as an ugly stain will offset a clean, attractive garment.

To permit rank growths of weeds and trash to persist is to convey the impression of a community that doesn't care. Moreover, with frost time only about a month and a half away, we could face the prospect of a tinderbox piled against fences and outbuildings, just waiting for a match to be dropped. In the meantime, flies and mosquitoes are making the most of these dense patches as places of harborage. Finally, a few intersections are downright dangerous because of vision blinded by weeds and brush.

Debts Acknowledged

Around The Rim

Bob Whipkey

As a fellow takes his final curtain (this is it today, folks), he should be gracious enough to acknowledge gratitude to many people and things who have added enrichment to his career. No way, in this space, to include everybody, even the more important ones, but here's a smattering:

Thanks to all The Herald employees who went blithely on their own course regardless of how I shouted "things are going to be different around here!" It's a good thing they paid no attention to my tantrums.

THANKS TO Jimmy Greene, who gave me a solid indoctrination in what civic interest and effort are all about.

Thanks to Friend Talbot and Don Newsom for not looking down on me.

Thanks to Henry Ford for having let me have the experience of driving both a Model T and a Model A.

Thanks to R. H. Weaver for his expertise in handing out insults. (These are good for the soul). Many people have delighted me with their broadsword attacks, but Weaver wielded a beautifully sharp stiletto.

THANKS TO the men who installed our plumbing so that the pipes knock like mad when the water's running. It's the only reminder that the outside sprinklers should be turned off.

Thanks to Mrs. Walter Douglas for keeping me in line in church attendance.

Thanks to the WPA laborers of some 40 years ago who built the surfaced road around Scenic Mountain.

THANKS TO Gage Lloyd and Don Hungerford, who always made me think they would like to have me in their churches.

Thanks to October, the month which will get rid of Daylight Saving Time.

Thanks to the LD telephone operators, who have never failed to be gracious and helpful, in times of stress and impatience on my part.

THANKS TO Georgia Johnson, who has bought my wife's Christmas present for me in August, listened with forbearance as I griped about her selection, then saw to it that the gift was delivered by Dec. 24.

Thanks to Lone Wolf Creek at Colorado City for letting me learn to swim.

Thanks to Preston Harrison and Lee Butler at the State Hospital, for demonstrating to me what real gentility is.

THANKS TO Bobo Hardy, Carroll Davidson and Clyde McMahon Jr. for brushing me off with smiles when I chided them out on how not to run their particular civic jobs.

Thanks to a woman named Molly Bailey who let me have the thrill of my first circus.

Thanks to Juanita Edwards, who corrected with a warm smile every error in every deposit slip I ever presented. The smile is something one treasures.

THANKS TO Josh Cosden, who selected Big Spring as the site of his coffee-pot refinery back in the late '20s.

Thanks to Mrs. Dora Roberts, whose vision of what to do with accumulated wealth helped make Big Spring an acceptable city. And to J. B. Thomas, who drummed it home that, without water, there would be no city at all.

THANKS TO T. S. Currie, who early convinced me that if I thought I needed a loan of $100, I could get by nicely on $50.

Thanks to Colorado City High School for not kicking me out. And to Bernard Hanks of Abilene for sending me to Big Spring in the first place.

Peace.

School Bus Ride

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — Many politicians talk about school busing, but it is doubtful that any of them has ever ridden on one under actual combat conditions.

Only those who have been on a school bus mission know what busing is all about.

I once took a school bus ride from St. Germain-en-Laye to Paris years ago, and to this day whenever the climate gets damp, my wounds start to ache.

THIS IS what happened. It seems that a group of American mothers who lived in the suburbs of Paris discovered there was no bus to take their children to the American school in town. So they went out and rented one, which would pick up the students in the morning and bring them home in the afternoon.

The first year they tried it without chaperones, and so many bus drivers quit that the bus company said they wouldn't rent them another bus again unless an adult other than the bus driver accompanied the children.

AT FIRST the mothers tried to hire chaperones, but they couldn't take it, so finally it was decided a different mother would ride the bus each day, trying to maintain some semblance of order. To give them a certain esprit de corps they called themselves the Mother Riders of School Bus No. 5.

As a young newspaperman on the Paris Herald Tribune, I was always volunteering for dangerous assignments, and when the editor of the paper asked for someone to write a story about what it was like to ride an American school bus in Paris, I asked to go on the mission.

THE MOTHER of the Day was a Mrs. Richard Edelstein, whose husband worked for Paramount Pictures. She had ridden No. 5 six times, which she told me was the equivalent of 50 bombing raids over Dusseldorf during World War II.

We picked up our charges, about 35 girls and boys at 3:15. The bus was fairly quiet when we first started off because most of the students thought I was a detective who had been hired by the parents to keep them in line.

BUT WHEN they found I was nothing more than a reporter, the wraps were off. The students in the back of the bus started hitting the students in front of them with their school books. The injured retaliated by swinging their lunch boxes at the attackers' heads. Mrs. Edelstein went back to break it up when a boy in the front produced a live frog, which he dropped down a 12-year-old girl's dress.

Her screams brought Mrs. Edelstein to the front of the bus, which gave the students in the middle an opportunity to kick the ones sitting in front of them.

A fire base for spitballs had been set up in the last row, which was targeted in on the bus driver, who like all French drivers, was barreling through the narrow streets of Paris at 60 miles an hour.

MRS. EDELSTEIN walked up and down the bus, first threatening, then offering bribes of candy and finally making the driver stop until all her charges had quieted down.

Miraculously we had arrived at the end of the line with no serious casualties. The only one shaken by the trip, besides myself, was the bus driver.

Controls Due To Endure

By JACK LEFLER
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans found out this past week that wage and price controls are likely to be around for a long time.

President Nixon dropped the word at a free-wheeling question and answer session of the Detroit Economic Club.

And he hinted strongly that control of profits wasn't in the picture for Phase 2 of his economic program, which will become effective when the current 90-day program expires on Nov. 13.

The as yet undefined restraints in Phase 2 will cover the whole economy, and will be of indefinite duration, the President said.

"The duration should depend on how effective it is in dealing with problems of the economy," Nixon told the assemblage of business, labor and civic leaders. "We're not going to set a limit."

Nixon indicated that he wasn't likely to waver from his stand against limitation of profits.

'FOR PROFITS'

"I am for profits," he said. "More profits mean more jobs."

The President said a company that makes a profit should not be penalized. "I don't think that's good for America," he added.

Nixon left open the question of restraints on interest rates— "Particularly with regard to loans affecting consumers." He noted that since he imposed the freeze Aug. 15 interest rates "have come down, and we want them to continue to come down."

Nixon's tax relief program—a major part of his new economic policy—took an important step forward in Congress this past week.

But, as approved by the House Ways and Means Committee, it differed sharply from Nixon's original proposals. The committee reduced by an estimated $4.9 billion the amount of tax relief originally proposed for business over a three-year period, and added $3.4 billion to the income tax breaks sought for individuals.

INVESTMENT CREDIT
Among benefits for business would be a 7 per cent investment tax credit against the cost of equipment.

Individuals would benefit from repeal of the 7 per cent excise tax on automobiles, and from a speeded-up higher personal income tax exemption

The Week's Business

- Wage-price controls may continue, no curb on profits
- Phase II of president's program of undefined limits
- Ways and Means panel slices $4.9 billion off business relief
- But it adds $3.4 billion to tax relief for individuals
- Consumer prices up at accelerated rate, durable goods down
- Bright spot is 22 per cent jump in automobile sales and greater allowances for low-income persons.

Threats of strikes in the coal, railroad and Atlantic and Gulf Coast shipping industries hung over the economy.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, which shut down the nation's railroads last May, will be free to strike Oct. 1 on expiration of a strike ban imposed by Congress.

Also free to strike on Oct. 1 is the International Longshoremen's Association, which represents dock workers on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts.

The contract of the United Mine Workers union expires Oct. 1.

LIVING COSTS JUMP

The government reported that the increase in consumer prices accelerated and new orders for durable goods fell in August, but administration economists contended there had not been enough time for Nixon's economic moves to have much impact in these areas.

Consumer prices moved up a seasonally adjusted 0.4 per cent from the July level at a 4.8 per cent annual rate. The increase was double the July rise.

New orders for durable goods took a sharp drop of 2.3 per cent from July in the first decline since April.

"Obviously, we aren't pleased with either report," an economist commented. "But they don't suggest anything wrong with the new policies, and actually, more than anything, might indicate the need for the new program."

Sales of U.S.-built automobiles in the middle 10 days of September spurted 22.1 per cent to 194,966 from 159,201 a year earlier.

American Motors' 1972 cars went on sale this past week with price increases on most models ranging up to $72. The new prices had been reviewed and approved by the Office of Emergency Preparedness.

Government Claims It Forced Down Oil Hikes

By BILL NEIKIRK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has claimed success in forcing down 144 price increases in the petroleum industry without resorting to court action and has its eye on 269 more.

"I firmly believe the petroleum industry will cooperate," said Arnold E. Weber, executive director of the Cost of Living Council, the newly created agency that is administering President Nixon's 90-day wage-price freeze.

The council issued its report on petroleum price boosts Friday following Sen. William Proxmire's charge that gasoline price increases were postponed generally just before Nixon imposed the freeze. Proxmire, D-Wis., asked Nixon to move to roll them back.

The government said it has no authority to move against price increases put into effect before the freeze, but it responded with a short statement on complaints involving the petroleum industry.

Weber said local offices of the Internal Revenue Service have received 1,012 complaints concerning price violations since the freeze began. "Of these, 599 were found to be without merit," he said.

Of the remainder, 144 who were contacted agreed that they were in violation and voluntarily rolled back their prices, Weber said. The remaining 269 are under investigation.

Diplomatic Tasks

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The United Nations has become for the Nixon Administration a Chinese prayer wheel. As the wheel turns (no such superstitions tolerated in the People's Republic of China), the petitions are cast in and you wait with what patience you can muster in the hope the petitions will be granted.

THE BELIEF, as Secretary of State William P. Rogers prepares his encounter with the General Assembly, is that both American resolutions will pass. One would seat the People's Republic in the General Assembly and also give the place on the Security Council presently held by Chiang Kai-shek's China to Peking. The other resolution would make an important question, requiring a two-thirds vote, of retaining Taiwan in the General Assembly as a separate state.

This may be the only possible compromise, given the tangled emotions both in the U.N. and in this country over the China question. Yet it would seem the worst of both worlds. Peking will never accept membership with Taiwan present as an independent nation. And the wrath of Chiang and his right-wing followers in this country will have no bounds.

THE LOGIC, from the Administration's perspective, is that the United States will have demonstrated its willingness to see Peking seated and on the Security Council with the power of the veto. This is a big step from the annual struggle to bar "Red China" by making membership an important question. And sooner or later — next year or the year after — Peking will come in. This last, to say the least, is doubtful, since the "two Chinas" proposal is for Peking the No. 1 obstacle to any real improvement in relations with the United States. A massive campaign is being directed in China against any solution compromising the status of Taiwan as an integral part of China's territory.

The consequences for President Nixon's trip to Peking could be serious. As the exchanges go back and forth between the two capitals, the date for the journey is being pushed forward. It is now being said it will not occur until early in the new year. That would put it far enough beyond the China debate so that some of the string of a "two Chinas" victory would be drawn.

SINCE HENRY Kissinger's mission to Peking Premier Chou En-lai has staked out the toughest possible bargaining position with which to confront President Nixon. Point by point he has built up the barriers against concessions of any sort.

Success for Mr. Nixon, even comparative success, will put him in the history books as a statesman of the first order. That is a goal the Nixon of 20 years, even 10 years, ago could never have dreamed of.

New Prayer Plan

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — With 218 signatures — those of a majority of all members of the House — approving a "discharge" petition, Congress will be asked to pass and submit to the states for ratification an amendment to the Constitution permitting "nondemonstrational" prayers in all public buildings, including schools.

But who is going to determine what is a "nondemonstrational" prayer? Probably some governmental authority would have to do it, and this was what caused the Supreme Court to hold unconstitutional what it regarded as "prescribed" prayers when local or state governments gave schools the wording of the prayers that were to be used.

MANY CHURCH organizations are opposed to any amendment which speaks of "nondemonstrational" prayers. They prefer instead "voluntary" prayers. A petition opposing the new amendment was sent to Congress last week by groups representing many religions. It said in part:

"We express the long-standing official position of the nation's religious faiths which affirm the adequacy of the first amendment to protect religious interest and to insure religious rights."

The proposed amendment, the petition also declared, would wrongfully allow government to determine both the place and content of prayer, the protesting groups added:

"WE AFFIRM the right of school children or any other segment of the population to engage voluntarily in their own prayers without government authorization or supervision. This right is adequately protected by the First Amendment as it now stands."

The idea of voluntary prayers has long been advocated. They would take place in schools during a recess which would not necessarily include the whole student body in a single assembly. A period could be allocated to different groups applying for admission. Under such a plan, the school authorities would not have the right to compose the prayer or supply any prayer as "prescribed" or "authorized." The entire process would be voluntary.

STUDENTS of the same faith would gather in separate groups, and they would bring to the meeting copies of prayers obtained from their parents which could be said aloud or read silently during the recess period.

This method could have been held constitutional without an amendment, as nothing in it would have been prescribed by any federal, state or local government. But since the Supreme Court has decided that a "prescribed" prayer is unconstitutional, and school authorities hitherto used that form, many members of Congress feel it is advisable to have an amendment adopted which would specifically assure for the future the constitutionality of "nondemonstrational" prayers in the public schools.

MELANIE: Meet in her diet makes the difference in the new vitality of recording star Melanie.

NOW SHE'S JUST NERVOUS Meat Mellows Melanie

By LISA ROBINSON

I'm giving, not something that's all animal substances, and my album, and do the album we're both females and we being taken from me, and it's covers according to their tastes. write and sing songs?"
SARATOGA, N.Y. (PSS) — Despite her tremendous interna- tional success on the concert stage, a hit single, and a best selling album, Melanie is still nervous before facing her audi- ence, an impression she seems to prefer to her reputation as a prima donna.
Now after a year of litigation with her former record com- pany and a loss of 20 pounds, Melanie has mellowed. She's even willing to talk to the press in an effort to alter her image as a self-designated star.
"I've been through a period where I resented everything," she said softly in a Holiday Inn room at the Saratoga Art Center where she was doing her new act for the first time.
"Now I know that this is what I want to do. And even the like interviews, are part of what I want to do, and I can get by it without resenting it, with- out getting bitter about it. I know that it's not something that I have to do, it's something that I want to do, something all animal substances, and my album, and do the album we're both females and we covers according to their tastes. write and sing songs?"

"I'm glad that I'm free," she emphasized. "I didn't like the way some of the things were handled in the past. I would have a certain thing inside, for example, and then the package- ing would ruin it."
"I broke down, physically and emotionally," she said. "It was a combination of a lot of things. I was overworked, and then there were the legal hassles. Also, I was a vegetarian for about two years. It was just long enough for my system to get adjusted to it, I assumed I would be a vegetarian all my life."
"And then this naturepath I went to — I don't listen to doctors! — told me that I wasn't getting enough nourish- ment. I would be on the road and going to Howard Johnson's and potatoes and salads with blue cheese dressing! I thought if I wasn't meant to eat, I would die."
"But I wasn't getting any ani- mal substance. This man told me that the things I had to do that I want to do, something we're both females and we write and sing songs?"

Melanie has written all of the songs on her forthcoming album, the first for Neighbors Records. "I like to do other people's material when I feel it's right. This time all the songs are mine. They just seemed to flow naturally. They all came out in one month, and we went in to the studio and recorded them."
"We" is Melanie, Peter and Roger Kellaway, who was on hand for her very first album. "This album took about a month and a half to record," said Melanie. "Roger changed a lot. The first time we worked together there were so many people around, and so many conflicts, and interference from people at the record company. But this time it was just us three in charge, and since Roger and I seemed to have evolved to the same place, it went fabulously."
Despite the fact that Melanie was "pleased with the new material she was nervous about performing it for the first time." (Pop Scene Service by Bell-McChure Syndicate).

any case, by now, Jameen Forsythe's mother knows that her daughter, otherwise known as Miss Virginia Teenager, is the winner.
Jameen is a brunette, which makes her somewhat atypical. The composite American Teen-ager contestant, is a tall, blonde cheerleader who wants to be a model, is a member of the National Honor Society, belongs to a 4-H Club, does not use nor approve the use of drugs, but attends a high school, where more than half of the student body does.
Miss Utah was the only contestant who said there was no drug problem in her town. I remember this without benefit of my notes because the facts were so startling. Miss Utah believes her town has escaped drugs because "everyone in town belongs to the Mormon church and Mormons don't smoke nor drink." She lives about 30 miles southwest of Salt Lake City.
WILL THE REAL BOBBY STEP FORWARD — In his new ABC network show, "Getting Together," Bobby Sherman plays a character named Bobby who works as a technician in a recording studio. In his spare time, he makes audition tapes of his songs. In real life, Bobby is called Bobby and in his spare time he works as a technician in a recording studio. But in real life, the recording studio is his own and he works in it full time as well.
That's where the similarity of characters ends. On the show, the projection room, an indoor-outdoor dining room, solarium, a small gym and sauna, and a swimming pool. It's on an acre of property and I have 11 orange trees and two bloodhounds.

The engineers, 25 per cent of the respondents representing 300 faculties, favored legalizing marijuana. Physicists, however, loomed as the most liberal group in the natural science field, with 61 per cent of them reporting they preferred presidential aspirant Eugene McCarthy to the 1968 Democratic candidate Vice President Hubert Hum- phrey. ASK DR. BROTHERS

If She Kisses Him Once, Will He Do It Again?

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm 14 and a big woman's Lib supporter. My mother is the head of a women's Lib group in our town and my father thinks it's okay. I'm very fond of boys, however, and I wouldn't want to scare any away. If I go on a date, I'm never quite sure what to do because of my feelings about Women's Lib. Should I kiss him first?

— If I want to, why not? — B.A.

Dear Miss A.: Why not, indeed? If you do it in the right way, and you don't overpower the poor fellow, I'm sure he would accept it in the spirit in which it was given.

The first kiss should come from a mutually shared desire, but if the boy is very shy he may not make the first move.

As long as you stop at a gentle kiss, I really can see no harm and I don't think most boys would object or feel that you usurped their special rights.

On the other hand, I think really aggressive girls do scare boys away. Perhaps that sentence should read, really aggressive PEOPLE, boys or girls are rather scared and unattractive, whether they are male or female.

They are probably more frightening to very young boys, however, who are just beginning to get some of their identity and their security. Because of our society and the demands placed upon them, they are often unsure of themselves. An arrogant, aggressive person, especially one of the opposite sex, can be very upsetting.

If you let him kiss you first, if he doesn't make an issue of it (as a liberated man), don't be afraid to open your own. You have the strength that he does not. He may feel like an ignoramus and don't put him down in front of his friends.

Actually, this same advice could be given in relation to a girl friend for what it really involves is common consideration and reciprocity. Emphatic have empathy. It means you have the ability to put yourself in another's place to feel his attitudes and share his innermost thoughts. As long as you can truly feel for another person, or put yourself in his place, you won't "scare any boys away."

In other words, even the good Women's Lib supporter should leave her hostility at home when she's on a date. Save hostility for particular males who may deserve it, but don't direct it to males generally until you find out their views. They may agree!

Homecoming Activities Provide Enthusiastic Week

By ROBBIE GLENN
Class pictures were taken Monday by Fox Studio. The seniors had two pictures made: a regular class picture and a picture with the cap and gown.

A Pep Squad meeting was held Tuesday after school. The members rehearsed the Homecoming routine, and the crown to be given to the Football Sweetheart was selected.

The Pep Squad also elected new officers during the meeting. They are: Kathy Schwartz, president; Laurie Lange, vice president; Karen Schwartz, secretary; and Jeanie West, treasurer. Miss Linda Foster is the sponsor.

PEP SQUAD MOTHERS
The members drew names of the football players. They acted as Pep Squad mothers to the guy whose name they drew. Three girls were responsible for the week.

During the week, the "Mothers" kept it a secret who they were. Then at the football party after the game, they revealed to the football players their identity.

The purpose of having Pep Squad mothers is to promote school spirit to a high peak. They left treats in the boys' lockers along with signs they made concerning victory. This is done every year during the week of Homecoming by the cheerleaders and Pep Squad members.

The cheerleaders met after school Wednesday afternoon. They planned the Homecoming Pep Rally. They also decorated the helmet used to crown Mr. Bearkat. It was covered with red glitter and outlined in silver center stripe.

PEP RALLY
Two skits were performed during the Friday afternoon pep rally. The first skit was entitled "The Railroad Crossing." It was done by Cynthia Currie, Deborah Plogos, Roxanne Hiri and Becky Schwartz. The second skit was entitled "Certs." It was done by Bobbie Glenn, Cathy Batta and Marjorie Glenn.

This past week has been a very enthusiastic week. The cheerleaders led wells between classes. Also, the members of Pep Squad made signs and hung them on the walls in the halls for the team. All the girls out vigorously with hopes of being Black footballs with red "G's" put on the team. There are 33 girls out for basketball this year.

The students in Mr. Fred Camafax's Spanish class are listening to records every day for the first half of the period. The purpose of this is to improve the students' pronunciation.

FHA sponsored a film shown Monday morning. Patrolman Jack White from the Texas Highway Department showed a film on safe driving. Afterwards he gave a talk and answered questions.

Mrs. Edna Drisko's eighth graders started a project of collecting rock specimens. They displayed them on boards and labeled each rock. This was done for science class.

Mrs. Blanche Sheen's fifth grade had a bake sale. They made $72.32. They are studying motors and engines in their science class.

Mrs. Ruth Cook's fourth grade had a bake sale Wednesday. The children took charge of the selling.

They sold watermelon, cookies, candy, lemon twists, donuts and brownies. They had a very big part in the bake sale and to make money getting them carried out, and for their Halloween candidates.

FLOWER GROVE Seniors Select Annual Designs

By JUDY CAVE
FLOWER GROVE — Mr. Elder of Taylor Publishing Company came to Flower Grove Tuesday and the seniors chose yearbook covers, division pages, end sheets and asked several questions concerning the 1971-72 annual.

The football boys had practice Tuesday night, and several people showed up to get a glimpse at the team. The cheerleaders came earlier and decorated the hall.

The juniors are selling Christmas cards to raise money for the Junior-Senior banquet. Anyone wishing to order may contact a member of the junior class or their sponsor, Mrs. Alma Wiggins.
