$100 REWARD
City Seeks Information About Vandals

A $100 reward for the information leading to the capture and conviction of pellet gun vandals, who are currently damaging window property in the city, was authorized Tuesday night by the city commission to be posted.

Harry Nagel, city manager, in his report to the commission, anticipated the approximately $4,000 worth of window damage had occurred over the past weeks.

"In previous cities I have worked, we have had similar problems, and the reward program was successful," said Nagel.

The city manager also told the commission that whoever gave the vital information would remain anonymous, and that he would personally attend the court hearing on the vandals, when they are apprehended, seeing that part of the restitution includes the $100 reward.

The initial surge of vandalism caused by pellet guns forced the city manager to advise the commission in the last regular session on Oct. 12, that if any more occurred the city would have to post the reward. The initial phase resulted in approximately $750 worth of damage to auto parts and car lot offices' windows.

Since then two more waves of vandalism have occurred, the last, which was reported Monday, totaling approximately $3,000 in damage.

Phase 2 Idea Pushed Along By Connally

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally told Congress today President Nixon's whole economy-stabilizing effort could be wrecked if the lawmakers do not extend his authority over wages and prices.

Connally, who also is chairman of the Cost of Living Council, appeared before the House Banking Committee to open the administration's case for legislation covering Phase 2 of the President's economic program, which will take effect when the 90-day wage-price-rent freeze expires Nov. 13.

Congress is expected to go along with most of Nixon's recommendations for continued controls after the freeze ends. But there has been resistance to his request for a full year's extension—until April 30, 1972—of his standby control powers.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has authorized the explosion of a five-megaton atomic warhead under Amchitka Island in the Aleutians, the Atomic Energy Commission announced today.

Officials Meet Jointly Today

All elected city, county and school officials were to meet today at 3:30 p.m. in the First Federal Savings and Loan meeting room to discuss ways of closer and more economical cooperation between the taxing agencies in services to the tax-payers.

Elected officials include the Mayor and City Commission, the County Judge and County Commission, and trustees of Howard County Junior College and Big Spring Independent School District.

The session is for elected officials, but the public is invited to attend.

Judge Sentences Convicted Pair

District Judge R. W. Caton Tuesday sentenced Charles L. Crawley, 20, to 15 years in prison, and Daniel Holden, 21, received a 10 years probation prison sentence for the March 3 murder of Tony Butler, 24.

Sentences were handed down at 3 p.m. Tuesday. Jurors Friday had found the pair guilty of murder with malice in the pistol slaying of Butler. Saturday, the two defendants waived their rights to jury sentencing.

Crawley was convicted as the trigger-man in the murder, and Holden was convicted for his alleged involvement in driving Crawley to and from Butler's apartment and accompanying him inside.

Testimony revealed that the pair had visited Butler's apartment twice on March 3 to confront him concerning his alleged attack on Leada Sanderson Woods and an overdose of drugs he had reportedly given her. The second visit culminated in Butler being shot five times in the upper abdomen and chest with bullets from a .22 calibre pistol.

Smallest Of Israel's First Quints Dies

JERUSALEM (AP) — The smallest of Israel's first quintuplets, a boy, died today four days after birth, a spokesman at Hadassah Hospital announced.

The other boy and three girls were reported in satisfactory condition.

The spokesman said he could not give the cause of death yet, but the infant had been having breathing difficulties since Tuesday morning and his condition deteriorated steadily.

"It may have been because he was too small," the spokesman added. The baby weighed only 24.7 ounces at birth.

Hot Political Dispute Brews Over Food Bank

WASHINGTON (AP) — A hot political dispute may emerge on Capitol Hill over a proposed national food bank for building reserves of important grains.

While supporters and opponents of the food bank both say publicly there should be no partisan approach to the issue, they agree privately it could become a political issue.

Some Democrats hope to force the President's hand on an issue of crucial concern to voters in the farm belt. Republican opponents of the proposal call it "an ineffective and wasteful gesture that will bring more mischief than relief both to farmers and to the general public."

EMERGENCY TAG

Over intense opposition from the Nixon administration, the House Agriculture Committee recently approved the bill 21 to 10.

Although it is not expected to reach the House floor for action until next year, Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, the prime sponsor, said in an interview Tuesday that he will press for the Democratic leadership to attach an emergency tag to the legislation.

Under the legislation, the secretary of agriculture would set up, maintain and dispose of reserves of grain sorghums, corn, barley, oats and wheat. He would buy, through the Commodity Credit Corporation, up to 300 million bushels of wheat and 25 million tons of feed grains—paying not more than the previous five-year average price received by farmers.

The reserve would be offered for sale above average farm prices.

A reserve could be retained on declaration of emergency by the President or a resolution by Congress. The reserves could be used to ease distress at a disaster area. They also could be rotated to prevent stocks from damage or spoilage.

FARMERS' INTEREST

"The reserve would give strength, continuity, and resultant stability to an erratic market swollen by domestic over-production, and facing difficult foreign trade circumstances, not the least of which has been a U.S. dock strike of mammoth proportions," said the committee majority report to the House.

The Agriculture Department estimated it would cost about $1.45 billion for wheat and grain purchases and $215 million a year for storage based on this year's figures only.

Nine committee Republicans who voted against the bill described it as "adverse to the farmer's interest and expensively futile for the public."

They said: "It fails to recognize the fact that there is no shortage of grain now or in the foreseeable future. It ignores sources of grain both at home and overseas that would be available. In brief, it simply adds another price depressant to farmers' market price picture."

Decision To Expel Taiwan Spurs Angry Denunciations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Nations' decision to expel Nationalist China has sparked a round of angry Senate denunciations and added controversy to the foreign aid bill.

Before anyone could even try to amend the $3.2 billion authorization measure, Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, was on his feet Tuesday to urge it be sent back to the Foreign Relations Committee—so it could be saved.

DEFEAT IT

"If we don't send it back to committee I think we're going to defeat it," Saxbe said.

But Senate leaders said a postponement in considering the aid measure might delay congressional adjournment, now scheduled between Nov. 15, and Dec. 1. They also said it may delay other important legislation.

While the debate raged on the Senate floor, Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, came up to the Senate Press Gallery to support the Saxbe move.

"It's a very poor way to legislate—to begin this debate the day after the U.N. vote," Church said. "The mood of the Senate is hot-tempered and irrational. Senators have been known to do silly things in the past and who knows what silly thing might be adopted now."

MAIN THREADS

But Saxbe had to abandon his effort, and the aid bill is now ready to receive amendments.

An amendment already inserted by the Foreign Relations Committee calls for a withdrawal of troops from Indochina in six months.

As senators rushed to get on record on the U.N.'s Monday night vote, these main threads of argument developed:

—Conservative senators from both parties called for reduction in U.S. financial support of the United Nations with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., demanding U.S. withdrawal.

Sen. James L. Buckley, R-N.Y., said he has asked his staff to prepare legislation "calling for a major reduction in U.S. support, and amendments might come to cut the $141 million in the aid bill to U.N.-related programs.

—Sens. Church, Gale McGee, D-Wyo., Alan Cranston, D-Calif., Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., opposed any move to cut back U.S. contributions.

DANGER AHEAD

"While all Americans should deeply resent explosion of the Republic of China," Taft said in a New York speech, "and while it is likely to endanger the future of the United Nations, it should not trigger regressive actions against U.S. interests."

THE VANTAGE POINT—XI

Weight Is Lifted

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON
When I took the oath as President in January, 1965, to begin my first full term in office, I felt that it would be my last, and this feeling grew stronger with every passing week in the White House.

Two hospitalizations for surgery while I was in the White House had sharpened my apprehensions about my health. My heart attack of 1955 seemed well behind me, but I was conscious that it was part of the background of my life — just as I was conscious of my family's history of stroke and heart disease. I did not fear death so much as I feared disability.

Whenever I walked through the Red Room and saw the portrait of Woodrow Wilson hanging there, I thought of him stretched out upstairs in the White House, powerless to move, with the machinery of the American government in disarray around him.

"I DO IT"
I have very strong feelings about work. When it is there to be done, I do it. And the work of the Presidency is demanding and unrelenting. It is always there to be done. Of all the 1,886 nights I was President, there were not many when I got to sleep before 1 or 2 a.m., and there were few mornings when I didn't wake up by 6 or 6:30. It became a question of how much the physical constitution could take. I frankly did not believe in 1968 that I could survive another four years of the long hours and unremitting tensions.

These were considerations I had lived with from the beginning. Others had developed in the course of events. On that last morning in March, as I moved toward one of the most significant hours of my life, several factors relating to the state of the nation fed into the decisions I was preparing to announce.

HIKE IN TAXES

First, we faced the absolute necessity of an increase in taxes. For two years the Chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers had been stressing the need for a tax increase in the strongest terms. I knew that the stability of the dollar and the economic health of the nation and the world demanded an increase at the earliest possible time. I also knew that the likelihood of obtaining the necessary Republican votes to propel a tax bill through Congress, particularly in an election year, would be close to zero if I were a candidate for re-election.

Second, we faced the possibility of new riots and turmoil in the cities in the summer of 1968. We had experienced widespread disturbances the previous summer, many of them exploited, I believe, by men who took advantage of distressed people to advance their own political causes.

The principal responsibility for dealing with such disorders rests with the nation's mayors and governors, but in a few cities in 1967 I had been asked to invoke Presidential authority and send in federal troops. It seemed likely that I might face the same decisions again. I did not want the slightest suspicion to arise — in Congress, the media, or any segment of the public — that I had responded with too little or too much, too soon or too late, with one eye on the safety of our citizens and the other on Election Day.

Finally, there was the question of Vietnam. I had been preparing a speech on this sub-

Says Proper Nutrition May Prevent Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A University of Texas scientist who says he has starved rats on commercial white bread told the National Academy of Science today proper nutrition may prevent cancer.

Dr. Roger J. Williams said supernutrition, a word he coined for nutrition beyond "good" nutrition and unrelated to calories, deserves investigation as "a strategy for the control of disease."

Much remains to be discovered on what constitutes supernutrition, Williams said.

"The presence of significant unknown nutrients in uncooked food has long been suspected, and (H.A.) Schneider has partially isolated an unusual unknown nutrient for mice."

"An attempt to supply supernutrition would involve a deep concern for all unknowns. Scientists whose work impinges on medicine need to identify these unknowns because they may constitute indispensable links in the nutritional chain," Williams said.

"Several years ago in a different context we carried out an experiment related to supernutrition. A group of mice already receiving a commercial stock diet, supposedly well supplied with all nutrients, including pantothenic acid, were given an extra supply of calcium pantothenate in their drinking water.

"The result was an increased longevity of about 19 per cent. If this result is achieved by strengthening only one link in the chain, one can legitimately expect the result to be even more striking if one attempted to strengthen all the links," Williams said.

"It seems probable that even 'incurable' diseases such as muscular dystrophy and multiple sclerosis can be prevented by expert application of supernutrition, especially of it could be started with vulnerable individuals at an early age . . .

"It is my considered belief that medical science has taken an extremely important and unfortunate wrong turn in its neglect of nutrition, and that this wrong turn is evident in connection with the thinking about all diseases, including cancer.

"Cancer is very much in the public mind these days, and in the area of medical science treatments and cures are of the utmost concern. Prevention draws little attention, and is thought of in a very restricted way.

FOR SLAYER OF ABILENE SCHOOLGIRL Jurors Decree Life In Prison

EASTLAND, Tex. (AP) — The jury that Tuesday night handed James Creel a life prison term for the murder of a 10-year-old Abilene schoolgirl indicated it felt Creel should stay behind bars for the rest of his life.

During deliberations prior to the life imprisonment verdict, the jury asked District Court Judge Earl Conner what sentences, besides the electric chair would guarantee he would not be released.

Creel, an Air Force sergeant stationed at Dyess Air Force Base in Abilene, remained calm during the announcement of the jury's verdict.

The punishment verdict came at 10:05 p.m., an hour and 45 minutes after punishment deliberations began. The jury decided Creel, 33, was guilty of murder with malice earlier in the evening.

SEXUAL PERVERT

The body of the murder victim, Tona Worthington, was found March 17 stuffed in a culvert near Abilene. Testimony showed she had been strangled. Creel, testifying in his own behalf, adamantly denied the deed. "I didn't pick up Tona Worthington. I never saw Tona Worthington," he declared.

ings, moved to Eastland on a change of venue. She spoke with her husband, the father of four children, during numerous recesses, but did not talk to him at the trial's end, because Conner ordered Creel whisked away before anyone in the courtroom left their seat.

Mr. and Mrs. Worthington shook hands with the jury, prosecutors and Abilene police.

The tempo of the trial was disturbed for a time Tuesday afternoon when an elderly spectator collapsed in his courtroom seat. His doctor was quoted as saying the man "suffered a near stroke" and that he was in fair condition late Tuesday in a hospital.

Regents Honor Houston Harte

Houston Harte, founder of Harte-Hanks newspapers which include the Big Spring Herald, was honored Friday by the Board of Regents, State Senior Colleges.

Meeting in San Angelo, the governing board voted to name Angelo State University's new student center the Houston Harte University Center.

Board President William C. Donnell of Marathon stated that the action departs from usual board policy that such namings be made for persons who are deceased.

The board decided to deviate from policy "because of all that Mr. Harte has done for the university, for the community and for the State of Texas," Donnell said.

Harte and his wife established a scholarship fund at Angelo State University in June, 1968.

The announcement marks the second San Angelo testimonial to Harte. In 1970 the San Angelo Board of City Development announced plans to name the proposed east-west freeway the Houston Harte Expressway.

School Board Meets Thursday

The school board will hold its second meeting of the month Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the board room at 708 Eleventh Place.

The two action items on the agenda are consideration of a school dress and grooming code and the execution of a surety bond for the textbook custodian.

TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is your day to follow the straight and narrow and to do nothing to which anyone else could take exception. Adverse aspects are in effect in the first place, and added to this Mars comes along with vibrations that may stir up contention and disagreements that could result in real trouble. Maintain a smile and be cool to offset this.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Let your conversations with others be short today or you could get into some unfortunate arguments with them. Social life is not very good but if you must accept invitations, smile politely and say little.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Taking any risks where your reputation is concerned could lead to dire results how, so be sure to tread the straight and narrow. Higher-ups are under pressure and want someone on whom to vent fire. Take care it is not you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Going off to new outlets and activities is naive today, so stick to the tried and true instead. You could get into engagements you would regret later. Show more devotion tonight.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't try to get out of your obligations that are right and have to be paid some time. Improve your credit. Do not permit some actor in the part of mate to throw you off kilter. Smile and then correct later.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Don't try to wangle out of some contract you have made with another. Such actions would only lead to trouble. Save your face. A public nature will ease if you do nothing about them now. Keep your cool.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Keep up your end of a work deal and make sure to cooperate with a fellow worker more. Drive the benefits later of such action. Take it easy tonight and restore your energies. Read some.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Make sure you do not get into any kind of amusement where there could be much risk of any sort. Do not pick a quarrel with your mate, or you get into real hot water now. Show that you are a considerate person.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to use self-control now if you are to avoid an argument that could develop from the slightest mean word. Get busy removing whatever is causing trouble at home. A little firmness helps a lot.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Particular care in driving is vital now to avoid some kind of strange accident. A soft word can avoid a big argument. If you are spending money foolishly, curb this habit.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You think that if you spend much money you will make more money, but this is foolhardy if you cannot afford it. Set up a new budget for yourself and allow a leeway for possible and unavoidable emergencies. Buy a present for mate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you try to force your will on others this can be a most unhappy day and do not try to support others wherever possible. Social activities are not good for the time being so postpone them.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have a feeling of limitation that is best dispensed with by solving your problems wisely and objectively. Show you are a true humanitarian and all works much better for you. Avoid extravagance.

Mrs. Lansing was presented a gold engraved bracelet as Mrs. Hulen Harris, president, read a tribute in appreciation of her service to the club. Individual gifts from members were presented during the social hour.

During a brief business session, Mrs. H. O. Hudgins was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy created by Mrs. Lansing's resignation.

Reports were heard on a recent club-sponsored garage sale to provide funds for a young patient at Big Spring State Hospital. Also, a contribution was made to the hospital's Christmas fund.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white crocheted cloth and centered with a dried arrangement of multi-colored mums in a wicker basket.

The next meeting will be November 9 in the home of Mrs. Bob Clark, 2103 Morrison, where the program, "The Power of Witchcraft", will be presented by Mrs. Bill Coleman.

MRS. DEWAYNE OLIVER SHANNON

Couple Recites Nuptial Vows

Miss Loretta Leeann Smith and Sgt. DeWayne Oliver Shannon were married Monday morning in the First Christian Church, with the ceremony being performed by the bride's uncle, Lucian M. Farrar Sr., minister of the Church of Christ, Rochester, Tex.

The altar setting included an archway of greenery flanked by pedestal arrangements of white gladioli and greenery. A prelude of organ music was by Mrs. John Birdwell, and Miss Gaylynn Edmonson was soloist. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest O. Smith Sr., 1312 Mesa, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Shannon of St. Joseph, Mich.

The bride was attired in a white Chantilly lace gown designed with a sweeping chapel train of lace and illusion. The scalloped neckline was embroidered with white sequins and seed pearls, and the sleeves were tapered to points over the hands. A crown of seed pearls and white sequins secured the fingertip-length veil of illusion which was edged with lace. Her bouquet was fashioned of yellow roses circled with daisies and showered with white streamers.

Londa Pittman, wore an Empire-style long yellow gown, and a triple lace bow with shoulder-length veil formed her headpiece. She carried a nosegay of yellow daisies.

Earnest O. Smith Jr. served his brother as best man, and ushers were Ronnie Seal and Robert Seal, both of Lamesa.

Out-of-town guests at the reception in the church parlor were Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Smith and Bob Smith, all of Huntsville, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Seal, Peggy Seal and Gina Seal, all of Lamesa; Mrs. E. M. Smith, Kermit; and Mrs. Lucian M. Farrar Sr., Rochester, Tex.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a lace cloth over white linen, and attended with the bride's bouquet flanked by white candles in silver holders. The tiered cake was topped with feathered doves. Assisting with serving were Miss Debra Rigdon and Miss Kala McKinney.

Sgt. and Mrs. Shannon will reside in Big Spring where he is stationed at Webb Air Force Base. He is a graduate of Lakeshore High School, Stevensville, Mich., and she is a student at Big Spring High School.

1905 Hyperions Hear 'Presidential' Panel

In conjunction with the 1905 Hyperion Club's 1971-72 study theme, "Man Relates to His World," a panel of club members presented "Man Consults with His Fellow Man" Thursday at Big Spring Country Club where Mrs. R.W. Currie was hostess.

Each panel member represented a former president of the United States, with Mrs. O. T. Brewster, moderator, representing President Richard Nixon. Completing the panel were Mrs. Tom Barber as Thomas Jefferson, Mrs. Clyde Angel as John Adams and Mrs. Lance Williamson, a new member, as Andrew Jackson.

Among the questions asked were "What was the image of the presidency during your term of office?"

The answers by the "presidents" were: Jefferson: "I abhorred the Federalists and fought for democracy at every level."

Jackson: "I threw the task of judging on to the common man."

Adams: "We do have to depend on others to a great extent. We cannot make it alone." Jackson: "I raised the prestige of our young nation in the eyes of the world by collecting debts owed us by other nations."

The question, "What of the humanity of your reign?" brought various and humorous answers from the panel.

The program was introduced by the chairman, Mrs. Miller Harris.

Mrs. Rogers Heffley presided during the business session, and Mrs. Hayes Stripling Sr. reported on the recent Texas Federation of Women's Clubs meeting which she attended in Brownsville. Mrs. G.T. Hall was elected to membership.

Mrs. Heffley presided at the silver service as refreshments were served from a table laid with a lime green cloth and centered with yellow and bronze chrysanthemum arrangement accented with a miniature witch and a pumpkin.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 in the home of Mrs. R.T. Piner, 600 Matthews, when Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow will be in charge of the program.

Explain Why

Dear Abby/
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have recently married a kind, considerate and generous man, who took on a divorced 40-year-old woman, plus her three rambunctious teen-agers and a cat. He wants to move us out of our present home into a larger, more pretentious one. I would like to stay put for another four years, until my youngest is out of high school. My children have changed schools many times in their lives, and now they are happy, and I don't want them to have to adjust to another change. I believe the teen years are the most difficult when it comes to breaking into a new circle of friends. My home is pleasant and adequate, and in an entirely acceptable neighborhood, but my husband would like something a little less modest. I want desperately to make this wonderful man happy, but at the moment I am torn with indecision about where my first obligation lies. Please tell me what you think.

TORN
DEAR TORN: You seem to be a very unselfish, sensitive and thoughtful woman. Tell your husband why you prefer to "stay put" rather than move into a more pretentious home. If he's as kind, considerate and generous as you say he is, he will respect you for your attitude, and defer willingly.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 71-year-old widow. I live alone in a little home which I own and I am afraid to be here alone at night. Do you think I'd be the talk of the town if I let a man sleep in my basement? The man I have in mind is clean and respectable. He's a little retarded. Can't read or write, but he is honest. (He's done some odd jobs for me over the years.)

I have asked a few of my good friends, and they said, "Sure, why not?"

MRS. I.J. DEAR MRS. J.: Sure, why not, indeed!

DEAR ABBY: I don't know whom to believe. My teenage daughter tells me that her friends have complained to her about the way her father acts towards them. Father is 40, good-looking and very lively. I mentioned this to him and he said those girls have misinterpreted his actions — that he is just trying to have a little fun, teasing them.

He tickles them in the ribs and sneaks up behind them and puts his hands around their shoulders or their waists.

Your suggestions are most welcome in this misunderstanding.

MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: Tell father that if he will keep his hands to himself there will be no chance of a "misinterpretation" or "misunderstanding" or whatever.

DEAR ABBY: After being officially engaged for five months, I realize that it would be a big mistake to marry Harry. I feel bad about having to break our engagement after all the parties and gifts given in our honor, but there is no other way.

I have already figured out what to say to him, my family and friends, but what do I do with the engagement ring? Should I pay him the $300 and keep it?

RING TROUBLE
DEAR RING: Give the engagement ring back to him. What he does with it after that is his problem.

Cancer Catching?

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a nurse's aide and have taken care of several terminal cancer patients. Is there a chance of being contaminated or infected with discharge from patients I have handled?

I have read that cancer is not infectious, but is there a chance of some cancer cells being transmitted through cuts or wounds?

Many articles tell about the possible or proven causes of cancer, but I haven't seen the answer to what I am asking: Do the cancer cells exist only in the patient's body? Why does not the health department require isolation techniques on cancer patients? — Mrs. L.P.E.

The exact cause of cancer has not been determined, and there is reason to wonder whether there is "a cause." One possibility is that cancer occurs under a certain combination of circumstances — a combination of heredity, hormones, irritants, virus and possibly others.

Why not isolation techniques for cancer patients? There's no more cancer among nurses and others who care for such patients than in the rest of the population, which is pretty good basis for believing that cancer is not transmitted.

Another reason is based on a study some years ago when a number of convicts volunteered to have cancers transplanted into their bodies. These were live, growing cancers. In most cases, the cancers stopped growing and were destroyed by the body. The only exceptions were with volunteers who already had cancer. Only in those cases did the transplanted cancers continue to grow.

Thus there is no reason to think that, as a nurse, you are endangered by caring for cancer patients. (This also is the answer to others who ask whether there is any danger in living with a person who has cancer, eating at the same table with him, using clothes or other articles formerly used by a cancer patient. Cancer is not transmitted in any such manner.)

There is one point that you should keep in mind as nurse, though. Open cancers easily become infected, just as any open wound can. The germs causing such a secondary infection should, of course, be avoided, just as you would avoid the germs from any infection in which cancer is not involved at all.

Wearing gloves and washing the hands is sufficient protection against picking up such secondary infections, but cancer doesn't enter into that.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In regard to the girl with the "itchy bottom," may I add a word? I agree that nylon panties may aggravate if not cause her problem, but wearing cotton may not always be the answer, either.

My son at 13 had an "itchy bottom" (around the genitals) and no amount of medication seemed to relieve him. Finally I took him to my own doctor who suggested simply that I get him some rayon or acetate underclothing to wear.

In just a few weeks the itching disappeared. For two years we tried several times to go back to his cotton briefs, but each time the itching returned.

So if cotton panties don't work for the girl, perhaps she should try rayon or one of the acetates before giving up. It worked for us. — Mrs. C. V.

Removal Of Moody As Trustee Sought By Attorney General

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has accepted the word of his investigators that Shearn Moody Jr. has got to go if the multi-million dollar Moody Foundation is to do any good in Texas.

Wilmer Hunt, a retired Houston judge, recommended Tuesday that Moody be removed as a trustee of the foundation, which has an estimated potential worth of up to $400 million.

Hunt's report, put together over nine months with the aid of assistant attorneys general Wayne Rodgers and E. L. Hamilton, said Moody's "open and flagrant opposition to the foundation's best interest when it conflicts with his own seems clear."

life beneficiaries of American National Insurance Co. to receive stock dividends since 1943 as income, instead of putting the dividends into the foundation, as required by law.

American National is the major asset of the foundation and the Libbie Shearn Moody Trust, which established the foundation. The foundation and trust own approximately 35 per cent of the common stock of American National, whose assets exceed $1.4 billion, making it about the ninth largest stock life com-

Moody said in Galveston late Tuesday he will not resign as a trustee but will "redouble my efforts to remove the wrongdoers to the Moody Foundation and restore its honesty and integrity."

MOUTHPIECE

He was the only trustee to comment on the report.

"I believe it is time for the people of Texas to recognize Crawford Martin for what he is—a partisan mouthpiece for the majority trustees of the Moody Foundation," he said in a statement released through an official of the W. L. Moody and Co. bank.

Moody said that by reading the report, "you would think that the wrongdoing here is that members of my family have exposed payoffs and insider deals within the Moody Foundation and the American National Insurance Co., while money intended for charitable purposes has been used to finance half the gambling casinos in Las Vegas and the Bahamas."

"As far as I'm concerned, Mr. Martin had his so-called report already written the day I blocked the Martin approved giveaway of $25 million in hotel assets to a foundation insider a year ago."

The report also said Shearn Moody Jr. was behind a $137 million lawsuit—filed by David B. T. Myrick — attempting to hold four of the foundation trustees responsible for alleged acts of misconduct by two of American National's officers. Myrick, the report said, "had no personal knowledge of facts alleged in the case."

Rain Confined To Narrow Belt

By The Associated Press

Gusty winds, occasionally heavy rains and scattered showers accompanied a cool front's march across Central Texas into eastern areas of the state during the night.

The Weather Service reported up to two inches of rain fell after midnight in the hill country west and northwest of Austin, creating a threat of flash floods for a time at low-water bridges.

Turbulence generated by passage of the frontal system caused a tornado watch to be posted earlier for 28 counties from Northwest into North Central Texas. It was cancelled without word of any twisters being sighted.

The shower activity occurred around Mineral Wells, Brownwood, Austin, Temple, Waco, Fort Worth, Dallas, Palestine and Tyler, and northward into Oklahoma. There also were some showers between Lufkin and Austin in South Texas.

By early morning the rainfall was confined to a narrow belt along the cool front, which lay on a line linking Tyler, College Station, San Antonio and Del Rio.

Skies cleared everywhere over the state except for a good part of South Central and Southeast Texas.

Mostly fair weather was promised all sections by tonight. Another cool spell was expected to move into Northwest Texas Thursday.

Temperatures near dawn stood at 48 degrees in Dalhart and Lubbock. Readings elsewhere were mostly in the 50s and 60s, staying as high as 75 at Corpus Christi and Palacios and 77 at Brownsville.

McAllen in the Lower Rio Grande Valley recorded the nation's high of 89. Top marks at other points ranged down to 63 at Amarillo and Marfa.

NO MERIT

The 1970 suit accused trustees S. Marcus Greer and James Lykes Jr., both of Houston, Paul Haas of Corpus Christi and W. L. Moody IV of Galveston of "many serious acts of impropriety and self dealing." But Hunt's report said the charges "have no merit."

The report also quoted Shearn Moody Jr. as telling the president of the Moody National Bank that Moody "did not give a damn about wrecking the foundation."

State investigators concluded that the other six trustees have fulfilled their duties to the Moody Foundation.

QUEST FOR CONTROL

"His quest for 'control' of the Moody Foundation and its assets is amply and overwhelmingly documented," the report said. "His hostility and zest for combat with other trustees appears repeatedly. If the foundation is to operate in peace and for the sole benefit of the people of Texas, it is essential that Shearn Moody Jr. be removed from the board."

The report also recommended increasing the size of the board of trustees from seven to nine because the foundation's business is so big and complex and because of disagreements among trustees in the past.

Martin adopted Hunt's report and said if the board does not follow the recommendations, he will file suit in Galveston to have it done.

WON'T RESIGN

At least six lawsuits already are pending involving the foundation, a charitable organization which dispensed $8.7 million in grants last year.

The report said Shearn Moody Jr. personally advocated legislation in 1969 which would allow

One Of Three Kidnaped Raped Before She Died

MESQUITE, Tex. (AP) — Police said here Tuesday that new autopsy evidence shows one of three young people kidnaped here and killed had been raped before she died.

Officers pressed their search today for two men believed to have been involved in the triple slayings.

Police say a witness has described viewing a man pacing in front of the drive-in grocery in Mesquite from which Forrest Covey, 22, and his wife Jena disappeared minutes later.

The witness' statement is one of the few shreds of information police have as the investigation of the kidnaping-murder of the Coveys and of 16-year-old Susan Shaw continued today. An autopsy showed Miss Shaw had been raped but Mrs. Covey had not been sexually molested.

The witness identified the painter from police artists' composite drawings of suspects. The witness told of almost bumping into the man, police said.

The Coveys disappeared Oct. 17 from the Mr. M. Food Store where Mrs. Covey, 10, worked. Miss Shaw vanished from a Mesquite doughnut shop three days later, and authorities believe the two incidents are related.

The badly deteriorated and bullet-punctured bodies of the Coveys were discovered Sunday afternoon in a Hunt County barn by two men searching for a place to hunt ducks.

Two hours earlier, the body of Miss Shaw was found face down in a slough of Lake Ray Hubbard in Dallas County. She, too, had been shot.

Police also are seeking two men who were spotted at the Sweet Cream Donut Shop, where Miss Shaw was a part-time employee.

The men's car was a 1953 of 1954 two-tone white and blue Chevrolet. One doughnut shop suspect is aged 28-30, 5 feet-4-1/2 inches, and has light brown hair, while the other is described about 40 years old, 5 feet 10, 160-165 pounds and having gray hair.

Detectives Tuesday questioned a 33-year-old man arrested in the area of the food store early Tuesday morning. The man has a record of armed robbery and illegal possession of firearms.

Lubbock Police Fear Foul Play

LUBBOCK (AP) — Police Tuesday urged all farmers and ranchers in a 125-mile radius of Lubbock to check seldom used barns, stock tanks and roads for possible clues in the disappearance of Elizabeth Perryman.

Utah women were found in somewhat remote areas. Mrs. Perryman, 26, a mother of three, disappeared Sept. 28 from a Toffee House cafe in South Lubbock. Nothing further about her has come to light since that date.

'I Could Do No More'

As the months wore on, we talked it over with our daughters and their husbands. The girls' reactions were divided. Luci did not want me to run. She insisted that she wanted a living father. Lynda's response was more complex. As a daughter, she said, she would prefer that I not run, but as a citizen she hoped I would. Later, when her husband, Marine Captain Charles Robb, was under orders to go to Vietnam, her reaction as a citizen superseded her reaction as a daughter.

Late in March, while working on my forthcoming speech on Vietnam, I asked Horace Busby to make a new try at drafting the announcement. I told him I wanted a statement that would be as clear and effective as he and I together could make it. Busby sent me his new version on Saturday, March 30.

Lynda had been flying all night from California on the "Red Eye Special." She had just said good-bye to her husband, Chuck, who was leaving for duty in Vietnam. Mrs. Johnson and I got up early and were waiting at the south entrance of the White House to welcome her home. When she arrived, a little after 7 a.m. that Sunday morning, we all went up together to the family quarters on the second floor of the Executive Mansion.

For several years Lady Bird and I had spoken many times about our plans to leave the White House at the end of my first full term. Her position had remained perfectly clear and consistent. She did not want me to be a candidate in 1968.

TEEN FORUM
Jean Adams'

PREGNANT: (Q.) I am unhappy. I am an adopted daughter but the last few years I have been living part time with my real mother. I do not like that. I feel I am no longer hers. Now I am pregnant and my real mother wants my baby. I do not want to give it to her and I do not want to marry the boy I got pregnant with. Because of my unhappiness I have thought seriously about getting rid of the baby. What do you think? — Unhappy in Florida.
(A.) Go back "home" to your adoptive parents. Tell them, as you have told me, of the conflicts in your thinking. Ask them to help you. I believe your best course would be to go to a home for unwed mothers until the child is born, then let it be adopted by parents who will want it and love it. I am sending you a list of maternity homes in your state that you could go to. You have not been altogether happy because you have not had a standard adopted life in which the child lives full time with the parents who chose him or her. You would be happier if, after having the baby, you could live full-time with your adoptive parents. Ask them if you can. And if you do give up your baby for adoption, resolve not to interfere with its life in the future. That way it will have a much better chance for happiness. God bless you.

don't dodge." By thus consciously willing it, you can keep your eyes level and open. If it is a matter of nerves around the eyes, consult your doctor.

Farm Show Adds 'Tractor Pull'

FORT WORTH—Another first for the Southwest was set recently when the Southwest Farm Show was selected for the site of a National Tractor Pull in 1972. The Southwest Farm Show and Tractor Pull will be held in the Fort Worth convention Center, March 3-4-5, 1972. A tractor pull is a contest among tractor drivers with the machines pulling against a sled which is equipped with a weight transfer device. As the sled is pulled forward, the weight is moved from a set of wheels to the sled, increasing the burden on the sled until the tractor stalls or its wheels begin to spin. The distance the tractor and driver can move the sled is used to determine the winner.

Sweetwater Sale Slated Saturday

SWEETWATER — Over 2,500 head of cattle are expected at a special cow sale conducted by the Sweetwater Livestock Auction, Inc., Sweetwater at noon, Saturday. According to market owner Cecil Sellers, buyers from several states are expected to be on hand to bid for the Hereford, Angus and crossbred cows and heifers. The sale will feature young, selected, pregnancy tested cattle. Cattle are being consigned from a very broad area including a lot of 250 from New Mexico.

Voter Confab

A regional voter registration conference for young voters will be held at Texas Tech University in Lubbock Saturday starting with a general session at 12:30 p.m. It has the support of Democrats and Republicans, but the conference is based in part on the thesis that leadership of the state and nation can be improved drastically, said Hank Fletcher and Mrs. Pat Moody, Lubbock, co-chairmen of the parley.

TWITCH: (Q.) Can you give me advice on how to keep my eyes from twitching. A couple of people like to look at my face but they tell me my eyes twitch. — Jumpy in Pennsylvania.
(A.) I believe you have acquired a habit of excessively blinking your eyes when someone looks directly at you. It is a sort of mental dodging, or ducking of your head. If this is so, use psychology on yourself. Tell yourself: "Look straight at him, don't blink."

May Add 750,000 Names To Texas Welfare Rolls

AUSTIN (AP) — More than 750,000 persons would be added to Texas welfare rolls at a cost of $153.4 million under a welfare reform bill approved by the U.S. House, says a report by state budget experts. The report, written by examiners for the Legislative Budget Board and the governor's budget office, was presented to the State Public Welfare Board Tuesday. Senate hearings on the measure will be held early in November, Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said, adding, "I don't think Sen. (Russell) Long (D-La.) or his committee are for it." "Texas and the nation needs welfare reform. This reform must contain in its provisions that over a period of time reduce the number of people requiring welfare assistance and fiscal savings to the state. Unfortunately H.R. 1 (the welfare bill) in its present form contains neither of these principles," the report said. In addition to higher benefits costs, the bill would impose $170.9 million in new medical assistance expenses in 1973 the report said. While the bill clearly says states are not required to provide medical assistance for welfare recipients made eligible for welfare because of the bill, "most observers agree it will be very difficult, politically and socially, not to provide medical assistance for the new recipients."

LTV Aerospace Reports Income

DALLAS — Net income of $4.5-million on sales of $465.8-million for the first nine months of 1971 was reported here today by LTV Aerospace Corporation. Net earnings per common share, after preferred dividends, was 61-cents, including an extraordinary second-quarter gain of 15-cents ($1.1-million). In the 1970 nine-month period, net income was $7.3-million, or $1.04 per share, on sales of $585.4-million. "Military aircraft, missiles and space programs continued as the mainstay of our business, although revenues from those programs declined from $517.4 million to $391.1-million," according to Forbes Mann, president and chief executive officer. "LTV Aerospace's commercial and industrial activities accounted for $74.7-million of sales, or 16 per cent of the total, up from $68.0-million in the 1970 nine-month period, and some of the newer diversification efforts are approaching the breakeven point," he said. Interch, which has a plant in Big Spring is a division of LTV Aerospace.
