

CHIEF JUSTICE BURGER EXPECTED TO ACT TODAY

Groups Ask Nixon To Halt Nuclear Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — With their appeal for an injunction still before Supreme Court Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, environmental groups asked President Nixon today to halt the planned nuclear test at Amchitka Island.

Burger was expected to rule later in the day on their request that he bar the test long enough to allow a full court review.

Meanwhile, in a full page ad in the New York Times, the eight groups cited an appeals court opinion that there is "a substantial question as to the legality of the proposed test."

JUSTICE?

"In the interests of justice," the groups urged Nixon, "we respectfully request that you stay the Cannikin test until the courts can rule on these important questions. An administration that believes in the rule of law should do no less."

Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., said 34 senators have joined him in a telegram to Nixon urging cancellation of the test.

Calling the proposed blast a "hostile act of unimaginable power," they said "to proceed with the test is to endanger national security and world peace, not to further it."

Signers included 25 Democrats and 9 Republicans.

The Atomic Energy Commission plans to set off the five-megaton explosion at 5 p.m.

EST Saturday, 6,000 feet under the island off the Alaskan coast. The blast will test the hydrogen-bomb warhead of the Spartan antiballistic missile.

Conservation groups opposed to the test, code-named Cannikin, took their plea to Burger Thursday after losing two lower-court attempts to have the test stopped. A high court spokesman said a ruling could be expected today.

TIDAL WAVES

Conservationists have cited what they called environmental hazards of the test—the possibility of earthquakes, tidal waves and radiation. The test would be 250 times larger than the blast that leveled Hiroshima and the largest explosion yet set off in the Western world.

The White House Thursday said a careful study of the environmental risks had been made and a decision to proceed was made in the interests of national defense and security.

The appeal to Burger was filed by the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility, one of several groups opposed to the test, asking that the test be halted, pending a hearing by the full court.

TURNED DOWN

The appeal cited a Court of Appeals ruling that "substantial questions" exist on whether the government complied with the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, "and whether, accordingly, the action is lawful."

The appeal said the Court of Appeals determined there was not enough time for a "judicial resolution" of the matter. "The result is to permit the carrying out of a federal action whose effect on the environment may be among the most significant in all man's history," the appeal said.

A spokesman for the conservation group had said that if Burger turned down the request without referring it to the full court, group lawyers could then appeal directly to other individual judges.

While 100 members of Canada's Parliament, members of Congress and others protested the test, the White House called the test necessary.

Presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said Thursday "a most careful study was given to all aspects including potential environmental risks." Nevertheless, he said, it was decided to proceed with the test because of the overriding interests of national defense and security.

Pointing to formerly secret documents, opponents contended there is evidence the AEC violated the environmental act by not including adverse comment on the test in an environmental-impact statement.

They pointed to documents showing that Nixon's chief environmental adviser "concluded almost a year ago the test could trigger a large natural earthquake and release radiation at sea.

The statement by Dr. Russell E. Train, chairman of the Council on Environmental Quality, was released Wednesday at the order of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

Asked Thursday if Nixon had read Train's report, Ziegler said the report was one of the many environmental studies included in the decision-making on the blast.

Besides thousands who have signed petitions against the explosion, the blast also has been protested by the governments of Canada, Sweden and Japan.

$136-MILLION Grain Sale To Kremlin Disclosed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources disclosed today that arrangements have been made for a $136-million sale of American feed grains to the Soviet Union. U.S. labor union leaders have given their assurance that they will load the ships despite a previous ban on such shipments to Communist nations, the sources said.

The sale, expected to have an important impact on Midwest farm states in need of new markets, is being arranged through Continental Grain Co. and Cargill Inc., the administration sources said.

It is to be an all-cash deal with payment in U.S. dollars, a factor that will have an important effect on U.S. balance of payment problems.

According to the official sources, the deal will involve 2 million tons of corn, 600,000 tons of barley and 300,000 tons of oats.

In contrast to previous requirements, vessels of any origin offering competitive shipment rates will be eligible to carry this grain and any future business which may develop, the sources said.

SAVING A LIFE — Boston Globe reporter gives mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to Toka Arouja, 2, during an early morning fire today in the Dorchester section of Boston. Cullen and a photographer arrived with first piece of fire equipment. Fire fighters entered the building and found two children trapped in a room on first floor. Toka was tossed out the window to arms of Cullen. Both children survived.

Daughter, 2, And Father Found Dead

By BRIAN PEAY

The body of a father, with a bullet wound in the head and a gas hose in his mouth, and that of his small daughter were found in a mobile home here Friday morning.

Joseph C. Watson, 28, and his daughter, Jacque 2, were found dead in a mobile home trailer at the Chaparral Park, IS 20, at 9:30 a.m. today.

Watson's wife, Janice, found the bodies when she returned home today. Police reported Mrs. Watson, upon arriving at the mobile home, smelled gas, broke the front door window only to find the bodies of her husband and daughter together on a bed in one of the bedrooms.

Investigating officers said two stenographer's notebooks of death letter messages written by Watson were found in the home and a .38 caliber gun was found beside the bed.

A rubber hose connected to the central heating unit of the home was found in the man's mouth, and he had a gun shot wound in the head. Mrs. Watson said she found her daughter lying underneath her husband's body and moved the little girl into the living room of the home according to police. The little girl apparently died of asphyxiation by gas.

All vents in the home had been covered with clothes and the trailer was filled with gas fumes. According to one of the investigating officers, the cooking stove burners were also turned on, and some of them were burning. "I don't see how the trailer kept from blowing up," said Arvin Henry, investigating patrolman.

Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter was at the scene but was unable to make an official ruling on the incident. According to the peace justice, a ruling will be made sometime after noon today with the completion of an autopsy on each of the bodies. Alert Am-balance carried the bodies to River-Welch Funeral Home where the autopsy was to have been conducted.

Further arrangements were not available at noon.

Watson was formerly the service manager at Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. He resigned that job only a month ago and worked off and on at the Peach's Texaco station.

Police Apprehend Pellet Gun Vandals

Pellet gun vandals who have plagued the city with damage to business and auto windows apparently have been apprehended by city police.

"A part of the vandalism that has occurred in our city the past several weeks has been cleared by the apprehension of one 18 year-old boy and 14 and 16-year-old juveniles," Vance L. Chisum, police chief, said this morning.

Charges of destruction of private property against the 18 year-old youth will be filed Monday with the District Attorney, according to Chisum.

"The apprehension of the three involved was the result of an investigation by Detective Jim McCain and Keith Jones juvenile officer for Howard County," said Chisum.

The chief also expressed appreciation to local citizens who furnished information that brought about the apprehension of the suspects.

In the last regular session of the city commission, City Manager Harry Nagel was authorized to post a $150 reward for any information leading to the identity of the vandals and their possible apprehension.

Days later interested citizens and businessmen hiked the reward total to $250.

City officials and police authorities estimated damage to business store windows and auto windows, caused by the vandals shooting the windows with pellet guns, at over $4,000.

Police had established stake-out points around town in an effort to catch the vandals, Chisum said.

Police said the three subjects live in Sand Springs and Coahoma area.

Develops Weapon For Army: Just Plain Friendliness

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — The commanding general here has developed a new weapon for the Army: just plain friendliness.

"The whole idea is just to get people thinking, to treat others with courtesy and respect," said Maj. Gen. William R. Desobry.

Desobry said that approximately $2,000 worth of signs and decals and bumper stickers have been passed out on the post.

They carry such slogans as "Courtesy is Contagious," and "It's Fun To Be Friendly." Desobry sports a small orange "Keep Smiling" caricature on his desk.

"It's obvious to me that this is one of the finest installations in the country," he said. "And we live in a part of the country that's friendly as heck to the military, that understands and respects us."

"There's nothing wrong with it, I guess," Sgt. Patrick Smith said of the campaign. "You can do your job without being liked. But you can also be a human without becoming buddy-buddy with the trainee."

Mrs. Tadeusz Drozdowski, wife of a mess sergeant, said, "Some people need a little push to be friendly, but if you're already friendly, you don't need to be reminded by a campaign."

Desobry has tried before to make Army life more agreeable for his men. At Ft. Hood, Tex., he built patios so troops could get out of the stifling heat of the mess halls.

"I'd go home and sit out on my patio with a beer and I thought, 'if I do it, why shouldn't my soldiers? We can still make a guy tough and ready to fight, without having to practice misery.'"

Love Gifts Settlement

LONDON (AP) — An American millionaire and a British society belle, who paraded their love life and fought publicly for a week over who gave what gifts to whom, suddenly called off their row and settled out of court today.

Lawyers for Ralph Stolkin, 53, of Los Angeles, told Justice Melford Stevenson he had agreed on a settlement with his former fiance, Mrs. Patricia Wolfson, 32. Details were kept secret.

Justice Stevenson, who has shown asperity with the principals during the week-long parade of intimate testimony, told the lawyers: "You need not tell me anything about the terms. It is fortunate for the parties and their advisers that I am relieved from making any comments about this case."

Stolkin sought to recover jewels and other things he gave Mrs. Wolfson amounting to $600,000. He said he gave them on condition they would be married. She said they were outright and she jilted him when she found he was not divorced as he claimed.

Mrs. Wolfson contended she speeded up her divorce from the heir to a British textile fortune, received no compensation from it, and had depended on marrying Stolkin. But she testified she then found he still was married.

Throughout the trial, neither of the principals looked at each other, even when Mrs. Wolfson testified to being intimate with Stolkin or when he gave evidence that he was in love with her. All this was back in 1967.

The deal came out of two hours of private conversations Thursday night and this morning between the lawyers. When the judge closed the case, Mrs. Wolfson and her mother ducked out a basement exit into a waiting car.

Stolkin also departed hastily.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A grieving mother may have removed her daughter's body from its crypt in Louisiana and kept it with her in a Houston home since last May, Medical Investigator James L. Turner says.

Turner says he has completed a two weeks investigation that leads him to believe the body is that of Mrs. Marian Adams, who died of cancer in San Antonio and was buried in Houston on Aug. 30, 1966.

The body was exhumed from its Houston grave last May and taken to St. Martinville for reburial.

But when Turner and two other investigators opened the tomb at St. Martinville, La., Tuesday, the body was not there. "I still couldn't really be sure that it was her until we had checked that coffin," said Turner, who followed the investigation from Houston to San Antonio to St. Martinville.

The body was discovered in a vacant Houston house Oct. 8 after neighborhood children reported stories about "the mummy in the house."

Authorities discovered the embalmed body in the house. It was wrapped in plastic, and covered with a quilt. It was tied with pink ribbons and laid on a pallet in the living room.

Turner theorized that Mrs. Adams' mother, Mrs. Ethel Johnson, removed the body from its tomb while it was awaiting burial in St. Martinville.

"The mother wanted to see the body one more time before the crypt was sealed," Turner said.

Turner said friends of Mrs. Johnson had told him the mother loved the girl and grieved greatly over her death.

15 MINUTES HONEYMOON

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — A Tulsa couple got 15 minutes for a honeymoon before the groom went back to jail.

James Franklin Fain and Judith A. Pettit were married Thursday by Special District Judge Bill Ladd. The judge ushered the newlyweds into his chambers for their brief honeymoon.

Fain, 29, then was returned to Tulsa County jail where he is awaiting transfer to the Oklahoma State Penitentiary to begin serving a three-year sentence for burglary.

Handcuffs were removed from Fain for the ceremony.

Gov. Smith Solves Welfare Problem?

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith said today he is becoming increasingly convinced that better education for poor and minority children is the solution of the welfare problem.

He spoke to the Texas Research League, a non-profit organization supported by business and industry to seek ways of cutting government costs.

Smith said the failure to "bring about some meaningful reform for our welfare programs" was one of his big disappointments of the past year.

He said he was convinced that full federal support and operation of welfare programs seemed to be the "most realistic and responsible way to deal with this national problem."

"Unfortunately, President Nixon substituted the wage-price freeze for welfare reform," Smith said. "In view of the President's request for a one-year delay for welfare reform, and notwithstanding reassurances that his administration, it is obvious that we will receive no quick welfare relief from the federal government."

Besides, he said, the pending welfare reform bill would add more than $100 million to Texas' welfare costs, and "no significant reform would necessarily result from its passage."

He said his Urban Development Commission had recommended that he name an urban educational task force to seek ways of improving central city schools, "particularly as they affect the educational needs of economically disadvantaged and minority group children."

"We are becoming more and more convinced that the solution to our welfare problem lies in a positive approach—improving the quality of education available to those individuals who are most likely to wind up on our welfare rolls," Smith said.

Sunday Gala At St. Lawrence

ST. LAWRENCE — Sausage and fun will be the prime ingredients Sunday for the 16th annual Fall Festival here Sunday, and about 5,000 area visitors are expected to partake.

The fete will be held in the St. Lawrence community hall eight miles south of Garden City and five miles west on FM 2874. Serving for lunch will start at 11 a.m. Sunday and will last until 1:30 p.m. Supper will begin at 5 p.m. and last to 6:30 p.m.

Entertainment during the afternoon will include spinning wheel, grab bag, football throw and ring toss booths to be set up on the community building grounds.

There will be a needle work and baked goods stand and regular concession stands and a carnival ride for the children. Also an auction will be held during the afternoon, and capping off the eventful day a dance has been scheduled with music by the Leroy Matocha Orchestra.

Still Probe Death Threat Against Solon

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The FBI and local police are conducting a joint investigation into an alleged death threat against Rep. Henry Gonzalez, officials said.

The FBI said it officially joined the case Thursday at the request of the Justice Department.

Officers questioned a man about a reported "contract" for Gonzalez but released him, police said Thursday.

In Washington, Gonzalez said Deputy U.S. Atty. Gen. Richard Kleindienst has offered to assign U.S. Marshals to protect him and his family.

"I told him I did not want to do that until there was further information that would lead me to believe it was warranted," the San Antonio Democrat said.

He said he was first warned of the threat by an FBI man in Washington, who said it presumably was spurred by his probe of the Texas stock scandal.

He has made a series of House speeches on the scandal since June.

Rizzo Takes Care Of Younger Brother

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mayor-elect Frank L. Rizzo has announced his first cabinet appointment. He has named his younger brother, Joseph L. Rizzo, as fire commissioner.

Joseph, 47, has been a member of the Philadelphia Fire Department since June 1, 1949 and now is a battalion chief. He will replace James M. McCarey, commissioner since 1965, who announced his resignation Thursday.

Parents Still Hope For Child In Coma

POTTSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — "Mommy, I'm thirsty," were the last words Pamela Chaplin, 7, uttered before she fell into a coma last July.

Doctors said at the time she possibly would not live through the night. She did, and now the physicians can't say whether she'll ever recover from what is believed to be encephalitis.

Her long blonde hair pulled into two big ponytails, the child lies unmoving in bed. Her blue eyes, open wide, follow her father and mother around the room. She doesn't look unconscious.

"We don't know what she sees," says her father, Richard Chaplin. "It's hard to believe she isn't here."

Before she became ill, troubled by severe headaches, Pamela, a diabetic, loved to run, swim and ride her bike. The family doctor thought it was the beginning of a diabetic coma, but more insulin didn't help.

After she was admitted, unconscious, to St. Christopher's Hospital for Children in Philadelphia, doctors there took radical measures: replacing her blood.

It was the first reported blood exchange ever done on a diabetic, and one of the few done on a child.

The Chaplins were told Pamela probably wouldn't live through the night. They prayed and rubbed her body. "It was ice cold," her mother recalls. Pamela survived, and spent a month in the hospital, while doctors did scores of tests to find out the cause of the coma.

Encephalitis is the current diagnosis—inflammation of the brain, of unknown origin but possibly caused by a virus. Doctors say that even if the child recovers, there is a possibility of brain damage.

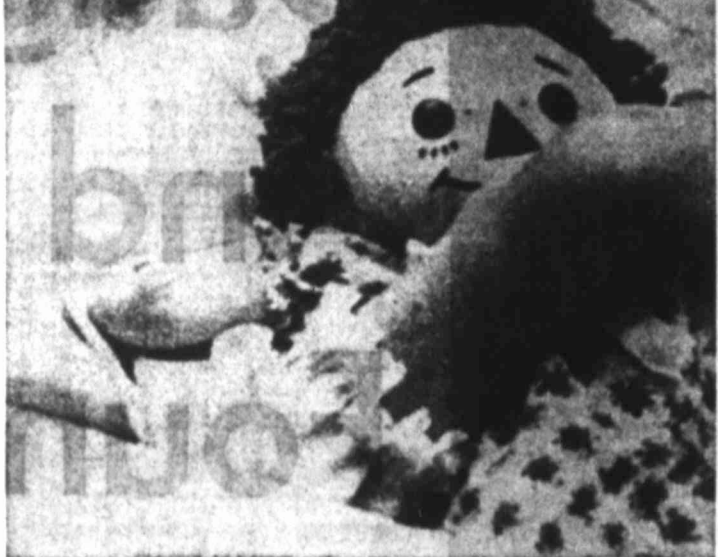

"It's like a living death for us," says Mrs. Chaplin. "It hurts most in the morning getting on to the school bus outside, or when I see other mothers with children in the supermarket."

"I think God still performs miracles once in a while, and I'm praying He will give us one. Hope is all I have to hold onto," said Mrs. Chaplin.

The Chaplin's neighbors have joined the effort. They come in during the day to help tube-feed Pamela, a two-person effort.

In the evenings, Colleen Smale, a 7-year-old classmate of Pamela, comes over from next door to help with one of the four daily feedings. All last year the two were in first grade together and sat together on the school bus.

Colleen still saves Pamela a seat.

"MOMMY, I'M THIRSTY" — Those were the last words which blonde, seven-year-old Pamela Chaplin said to her parents in Pottstown, Pa., last July. Since then, the youngster has been in a wide-eyed mysterious coma. "We don't know what she's seeing," say her parents.

Barnes' Bank Debt Paid At Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes' bank debt in Dallas has been retired, a spokesman said Thursday.

A $35,000 check, the last installment, was mailed Wednesday from Austin to National Bank of Commerce, according to Barnes' chief aide, Robert Spellings.

Barnes was investigated by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) during its probe of the bank loan-stock scandals which resulted in indictments of a number of individuals, including politicians.

Barnes has contended all along that his borrowing in Dallas had no connection with Frank Sharp, Houston banker under probated federal prison sentence in the case and pointed to as the mastermind of the stock-loan deals.

The lieutenant governor has not been named in any civil or criminal proceedings.

John M. Gray, chairman of the Dallas bank, confirmed that Barnes "has paid us in full" and is no longer a borrowing customer of a bank "although he remains a personal friend of many of us and our bank would not hesitate to consider future requests he might make of us for regular banking services."

Barnes retains the 3,000 shares of stock of National Data Communications originally pledged as collateral for the loan, Spellings said.

National Bank of Commerce has loaned Barnes more than $100,000 since July, 1969. The loans originally were secured by the communications stock.

PRIZE WINNER Says Man, Science On Collision Course

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — Man and science are on a collision course—and it is man who will have to change, says the winner of the Nobel Prize for physics, Dr. Dennis Gabor.

"I distrust the nature of man for very good reason," Gabor said in an interview.

"He was made to fight his way out of the forests, but it's doubtful he was made to live in a highly civilized society."

RESTLESS BOREDOM Man's impulses to fight and grow, Gabor says, lead to tremendous problems in an age of science—problems of overpopulation, pollution, destructiveness, and restless boredom if there is too much leisure time.

The way out, he says, is not to eliminate science—but to change man's motivations. Scientists and educators can work together to turn men toward excellence as a goal instead of more material life instead of destruction, he added.

Gabor, a 71-year-old native of Hungary who left Europe while Hitler's power was growing, won the 1927 Nobel Prize for inventing holography—a laser beam system for reproducing three-dimensional images without lenses.

GREAT THINKERS But he also has built a reputation in academic circles as a philosopher of science, particularly the problems it poses for society and the solutions it may be able to come up with. He has written two books on the subject and is about to have another published.

Gabor, a British citizen, spends half of each year working at CBS Laboratories here, speaks of his ideal of excellence as a way out of the dilemmas posed by science.

"By excellence, I always imagine the high civilizations of the past," he said—especially the small ancient Greek societies whose great thinkers looked on bigness as an evil.

"But they were small, undemocratic societies," Gabor says. "The problem now is to raise the great majority to excellence" without surrendering democracy.

"It can be done," he says. "Our technology is far more efficient than it appears."

"We could very easily spare 25 per cent of the effort that goes into economic production and put it into social improvements—education, welfare, rebuilding our ugly towns, stopping the polluting and homicidal motor car from polluting the environment."

CURRENT TRENDS Computer technology can be made available to predict the disastrous effects of current trends, Gabor said.

"This is the contribution that scientists can make—quantitative research—forecast the trends which are so complicated that they are far beyond the human mind. The change is too rapid. We have got one generation to carry out this slowing down and change of our values," he added.

Science, he says, has helped create problems of a calamitous order in the 20th century. Gabor says nuclear war probably won't come in this century, but overpopulation and pollution could prove disastrous within a generation.

UNHAPPY "Man," he said, "is a fighter, and he's restless. . . . Workers are now bored, dissatisfied. . . . It's not starving proletarians who are doing the striking now; they prefer an unpaid holiday, protesting."

"I can't blame them for that—the work they are doing in industry has become too monotonous for their intelligence to take."

The answer, he says, must be a society in which man's impulses to grow and fight are rechanneled into creative activity that solves social problems.

There are a banning of general funds.

LETTER Writer Challenges Herald Editorial

TO THE EDITOR: This is a challenge to the unwarranted assumptions in your "He Has A Challenge" editorial last Sunday concerning the appointment of a new city finance director.

While the position of finance director is an important one, by no stretch of the imagination could he be called a key post next in importance to the city manager's — not at this time or any other time. After all, he's still another department head supervised by the city manager and in no way responsible for the determination of city policy. This remains the prerogative of the city commission.

When two different office forces, the city's and the outside auditor's, are striving on a crash basis to bring a set of books up to date, the occurrence of deficiencies should not be too surprising.

Much unnecessarily negative publicity has been received by the city on its present financial condition. The fact that the city's water meter deposit fund was available for transfer to the general fund pending the collection of this year's taxes is not a criticism as you imply, but a tribute to responsible management by previous city administrations and commissions.

There are cities on record where I.O.U.'s are placed in the water meter deposit fund and the offsetting balances are then transferred into the general fund, much as the federal government does with your Social Security payments, to cover current expenditures.

Your conclusion that the city's fiscal affairs have had something less than astute management in the past year or so is not substantiated by any outside audit of activities that I've ever seen for the period in question.

On the contrary, over a year ago the city manager and utilities director both correctly forecast to the commission the fiscal probabilities that actually occurred and suggested, in plenty of time, remedial steps. Unfortunately, those taken were too little and too late.

Local Y Delegates To Attend Meet

Forty-five Big Spring YMCA youth delegates will attend a district conference of the Texas YMCA's Youth and Government Program in Abilene Saturday. Local Hi- and Tri-H-Y members will hold their sessions at Abilene Christian College with other high school age youth from San Angelo and Abilene.

The YMCA district conference is a delegate's training convention in the organization and functioning of the state legislature and court system. Youth officers are also elected for the annual "Y" Youth and Government program to be held in Austin, Dec. 9-12.

Big Spring nominees for office to be decided Saturday are: Rae McLaughlin, governor; Sam Chappell, president; protem Senate; Mike Bearden, chief justice; Mark Peters, district judge; and Martha Lewis, district editor.

Patti Womack and Martha Perry will serve as representatives on elections committee.

Leadership in the legislative hearing committees will be provided by chairmen Ike Robb and Paula Meek assisted by clerks Lana Parks and Terry Pate. Adult advisors will be Mike Scarbrough and Karen Chaney. Opposing bills in hearing committees will be Nancy Smith, Cindy Taylor, Bennett Robb, Lonnie Gary, Sue Duncan, Leigh Jones, Kelye Weaver, and Marianne McLaughlin.

Six bills have been drafted during the last few weeks and will be presented by Dori Crooker, Melody Ray, Kathy Perry, Kathy Meek, Sharon Jenkins, Cindy Cheateam, LeAnn Brazel, David McElrath, Bill Crooker, Cynthia Cook, Martha Perry, Teresa Stewart, and Grady Harris.

Witnesses in the judicial trial will be questioned by youth attorneys Robert McFaul, John Taylor, Larry Crittenden, and Greg Parnell.

Pam Little will serve as reading clerk for the House of Representatives session at the conference.

District Exec Speaks To Local Cancer Board

Charles Miller, district 2 executive director from Midland, presented the program at the noon meeting Thursday of the Howard County board of the American Cancer Society.

Miller showed slides of Seminole's cancer fund-raising project called "Miss Sillimole," a beauty pageant patterned after the Miss America contest but with men dressed as women as contestants.

Mrs. Clyde Thomas, service and rehabilitation chairman, reported that 50 "johnny" shirts had been made and donated to the cancer society, and she asked for help in obtaining sheets to make bandages.

The United Churchwomen will make bandages Nov. 12 beginning at 9:30 a.m. in the Fellowship Hall of Wesley Methodist Church, and sheets may be left at the church which is open every morning or they will be picked up if the donor will call Professional Pharmacy (267-2546) Mrs. Thomas said.

It was also announced that Mrs. Thomas was selected recently by the district board to serve on the district service and rehabilitation committee.

Mrs. Frank Long, memorial committee chairman, reported that $189 in memorials had been received by the cancer society. She announced that memorials can be mailed to Box 2121, Big Spring.

Glaucoma and the electronic tonometer.

Glaucoma occurs in 2% of all people over 35, and increases in incidence with age. It often results in the destruction of precious vision. One of the warning signs of encroaching glaucoma is increased pressure within the eye.

When the examination reveals the need, the Doctors of Optometry associated with TSO use an electronic tonometer to accurately measure intraocular pressure for indications of glaucoma. In cases where intraocular pressure is higher than normal, patients are referred for medical observation. Guard against eye disease, eyestrain and poor vision with an annual professional eye examination by a Doctor of Optometry associated with TSO.

A dance sponsored by the youth group of the Big Spring Youth Center, Inc., will be Saturday at the old Cosden Country Club.

The group will accept applications at the dance for membership in the Youth Center, and all youth interested in the center are encouraged to attend. Music for the fund raising dance will be provided by "The Eagle", and tickets will be sold at the door for singles and doubles.

The youth committee stressed that no membership dues will be collected at the dance, however, when the center's officers are elected, members will be notified concerning collection.

Duo Entertains At Kiwanis Meet

Capt. Arthur Splawn and Lt. Larry Lloyd, Webb AFB, entertained at the noon meeting Thursday of the Kiwanis.

Lloyd accompanied on the guitar as the two sang "Movin' On," "New Orleans," "500 Miles From My Home" and "Summertime."

Guests at the meeting were Terry Mitchell and Welland Brown.

HOUSE WRITES TOUGH RULES

Could Slow Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed early today a bill designed to ease the task of school desegregation but loaded it with antibusing amendments that could make the job tougher.

Meeting through the night, it approved at 2:21 a.m. President Nixon's request for $1.5 billion to help schools desegregate but clamped harsh restrictions on the use of busing to accomplish the goal.

Both the desegregation measure and the antibusing amendments were added to a multi-billion-dollar higher education bill, and the whole package is now headed for a House-Senate conference to work out a compromise. The vote on passage of the bill was 332 to 38.

FUNDS FOR BUSING

The Senate has passed a desegregation bill without any antibusing restrictions, and civil rights leaders hope to soften the House provisions.

There are three of them, one banning expenditure of any federal funds on busing, another preventing the federal government from requiring a state to use its own funds for busing, and the third delaying the effective date of court-ordered busing plans until all appeals have been exhausted.

On their face the first two would appear to restrict severely the ability of the Department of Health Education and Welfare to carry out requirements of the Civil Rights Act that call for school desegregation.

The one dealing with the courts could hold up busing plans for two or three years while appeals were carried to the Supreme Court.

NOT THE ISSUE

Black members reacted bitterly to the series of votes, accusing the House of turning the clock back 17 years to the Supreme Court decision that first outlawed school segregation.

"Busing is not the issue," said Rep. Augustus F. Hawkins, D-Calif., "it is desegregation. Those who are opposing busing are really opposing the integration of the schools."

Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., charged her white colleagues with hypocrisy.

"Where were you when black children and Mexican-American children were being bused by your white schools to dilapidated schools where they got an inferior education?" she asked. "Where were your voices crying about busing then?"

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., dean of the House and sponsor of the civil rights laws enacted during the last decade, chided the members for acting in "haste and hysteria" and promised to seek a legislative remedy for the busing program if the antibusing amendments were rejected.

But the House was in no mood to listen. The amendment prohibiting federal expenditures for busing was adopted by a vote of 233 to 124; the delay on court-ordered busing, 235 to 125 and the one preventing the federal government from requiring a state to finance busing carried by a 231-126 vote.

Debate was sharply limited, leaving members with only 30 seconds to make speeches. Cries of "Vote! Vote!" drowned out some speakers.

"This is a disgraceful performance," said Rep. Parren J. Mitchell, D-Md., one of the black members.

Mitchell's brother, Clarence J. Mitchell, chief civil rights lobbyist for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, who watched the entire session from the gallery, issued a stinging statement afterward.

RACISTS

"The people of each congressional district should study the roll calls on busing," he said. "This is a reliable list of the true racists and promoters of discord in the United States."

"They may wear the business suits of congressmen but in their hearts they wear the robes of the Ku Klux Klan and this night they have put the torch to the Constitution of the United States."

The antibusing amendments and the $1.5-billion desegregation aid measure overshadowed the higher education bill, the measure actually before the House. They were added to it because House leaders tried to keep the desegregation bill from the floor in order to avoid the busing fight.

Before becoming entangled in the busing dispute, the House refused to ban sex discrimination in the admissions policies of undergraduate colleges.

Gov. Smith Calls GOP Release 'Pure Politics'

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith says he never asked Stephen F. Austin State University regent to solicit student petitions asking the governor to run for a third term.

The Texas Republican Party made the alleged request for petitions public. Smith called the GOP release "pure politics and nothing else."

Bill Owens, SFA student vice-president, sent GOP Executive Director Jim Kane a letter saying that Regent James Perkins of Rusk offered Student Body President Greg Raney money to recruit students to pass out and collect petition signatures "urging Preston Smith to run for a third term."

"We would pay those students $2 per hour to do this. Greg announced this at our Student Congress meeting Tuesday night (Oct. 26)," Owens said.

He said he wondered whether regent support for Student Congress programs would "be easier to get if we go along with Mr. Perkins and Gov. Smith?"

Smith issued a statement saying the first he heard of Perkins' encouraging petitions came today when he was shown a copy of Kane's release and Owens' letter.

"I did not ask Mr. Perkins to do this, and he did not advise me that he was doing so. As an individual, and not in his official position Mr. Perkins—just like every other Texas citizen—has the right to participate as he wishes in politics. I am delighted and flattered that some people, apparently including some students, are interested in my running for re-election," Smith said.

"Perhaps they are just interested in good government," Smith added.

Children Of God Colony Reduced

DALLAS (AP) — Many members of the Children of God colony here are being spread to other parts of the country as the colony moves out of its present headquarters, a spokesman said.

Louis Ingersoll, who goes by the Biblical name Abel, said Thursday city officials have declared unsafe their present building, a fire-damaged print shop near the state fair park which they were renting for $1 a month.

Facilities are easier to obtain in other locations than here, Ingersoll said.

The group, down from 165 to 120, will drop even lower he said. Only 20 to 30 members of the sect will remain in Dallas. There are similar groups in Houston, Austin, Fort Worth and El Paso.

Ingersoll would not say when the Dallas headquarters, which only recently was mentioned as a possible world headquarters for the Children of God, was now being reduced. He said there was work waiting in the East and Northwest.

"We are not interested in having a large colony in any one place," he said. "We move around, as things are changing from day to day."

The Children of God colony is about 2,500 members strong nationwide and prides itself on saving youths from drugs and living the simple life.

Some parents have claimed their children are being held against their will.

Ingersoll said those remaining would act as an information center "for forwarding mail and helping parents locate their children."

4.6 Million Job Seekers In America

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dropped by 0.2 per cent to 5.8 per cent of the work force last month for the second decline in a row, the government said today.

The total number of jobholders rose to a record 79.8 million and the number of job seekers fell 270,000 to 4.6 million, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics reported.

The number of unemployed persons normally declines somewhat in October, but the BLS said last month's drop was 135,000 more than might be expected from seasonal causes alone.

The unemployment rate has wavered between 5.6 per cent and 6.2 per cent for the last 12 months.

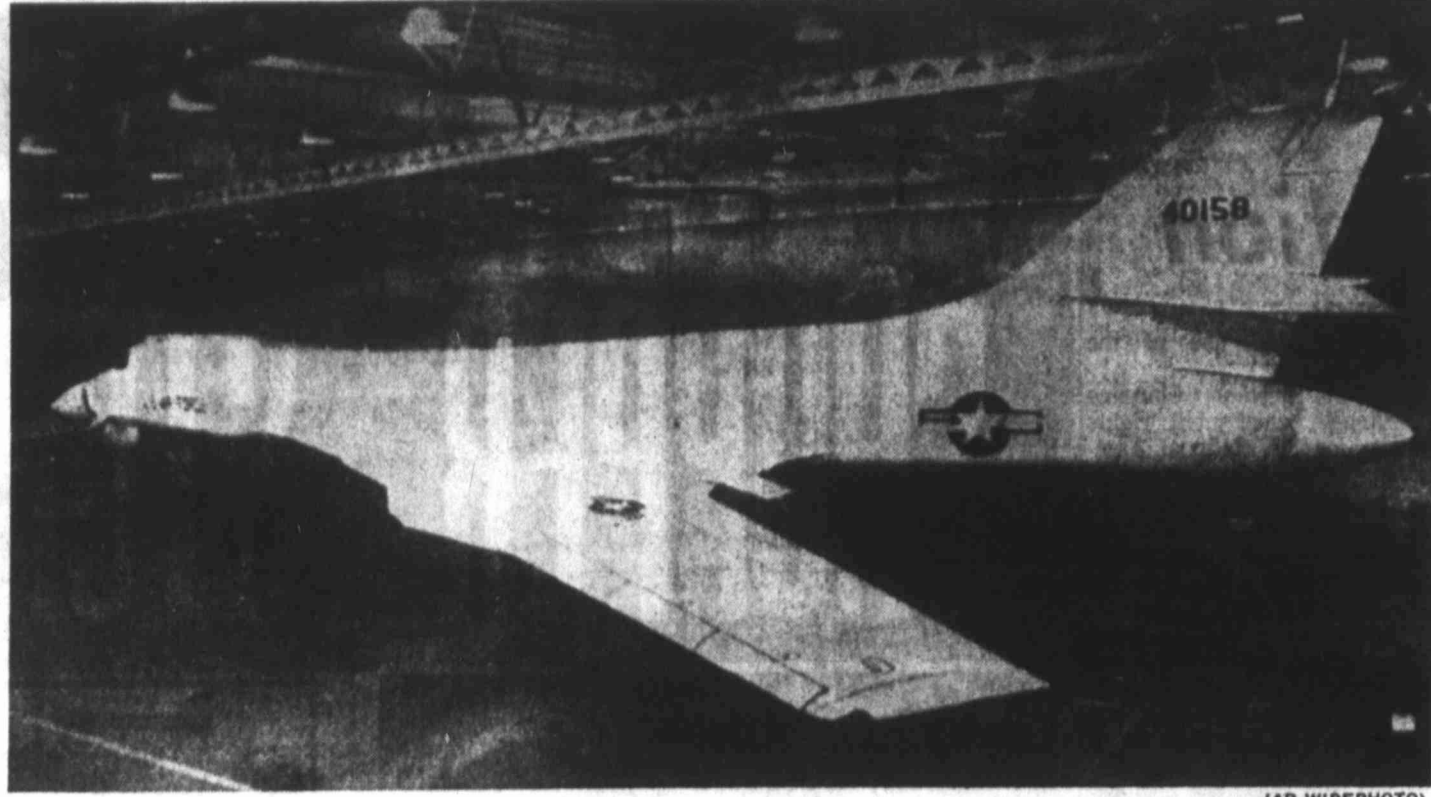

It was 5.8 per cent in July, 6.1 per cent in August and 6.0 per cent in September. The October 1970 rate was 5.5 per cent.

The BLS attributed the September decline in total unemployment to a reduction in adult males who had lost their jobs earlier. The rate for adult males declined from 4.5 per cent in September to 4.3 per cent last month, and the rate for married men dropped from 3.3 per cent to 3.0 per cent—the lowest in a year, the BLS said.

The rate for adult women dropped 0.1 per cent to 5.5 per cent and the rate for teenagers edged down to 17.0 per cent.

The rate for blue-collar workers dropped dramatically from 8.0 per cent to 7.2 per cent, but for white-collar workers it edged up from 3.3 per cent to 3.4 per cent.

The rate for whites slipped down from 5.4 per cent to 5.3 per cent last month, but the rate for blacks and other non-whites edged up from 10.5 per cent to 10.7 per cent.

NEW AIR FORCE BOMBER — A full-sized mockup of the B-1, the U.S. Air Force's newest heavy strategic bomber, was unveiled for the first time Thursday at the North American Rockwell plant in Los Angeles. The four-engine, swing-wing craft, which is scheduled for its first flight in the spring of 1974, will fly at twice the speed of sound.

Negro Raped Small Blonde

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — A jury will deliberate the punishment of Marshall Brown of Houston today after finding him guilty of rape.

The six-man, six-woman panel convicted Brown, 22, after almost five hours of deliberation Thursday.

The victim, a small Houston blonde, has testified that she was raped 15 times by a gang of six Negro youths. She said she screamed and cried as the youths drove to different locations near Bay City where they raped her and threatened to decapitate her and her date.

Her date, Larry Read, said they were sitting in the car listening to the radio when the attack occurred. The rapes allegedly occurred in 1966 but the case has been delayed by four changes of venue.

One man has been given the death sentence in the case, two others drew life sentences and two others lesser prison terms.

Stolen Money Orders Reported

Police Chief Vance Chisum has been notified by Republic National Bank of Dallas that a series of money orders have been stolen, and that local merchants should be wary.

Serial numbers of the stolen money orders are numbered from AH-1846001 through AH-1846200 and from AH-1962101 through AH-1963400. Merchants are asked to examine the serial number before accepting a money order drawn on the Dallas bank. If one of the stolen money orders is given to a merchant in the area, the merchant is asked to contact local police immediately.

Boy Injured In Accident

Steve Bodine, 8, of 1201 Mobile, was taken to Webb AFB Hospital Thursday after he was in collision with a car while he was riding his bicycle in the 1200 block of Mobile. He was listed in good condition today and is being treated for abrasions on his back.

Leslie Lane Clawson, 1901 Alabama, was the driver of the car involved.

Sadat's Planners Banking On Peace

CAIRO (AP) — Although President Anwar Sadat has repeatedly declared that 1971 will be a year of decision—peace or war in the Middle East—his nonmilitary planners are banking on peace.

Peace is vital to Egypt's internal development, foreign investment, oil production and tourism, while war is a heavy drain on a country which already devotes one quarter of its budget to defense.

All four nonmilitary areas have received substantial encouragement in recent months in the form of higher wages, bonuses for workers, a liberalized investment law, increasing oil production and expansion plans for tourism. This week the government announced it is reviewing a $2.3 billion plan to revitalize agriculture, pushing back the encroaching desert from previously reclaimed lands.

Egypt's 10-year plan, being unveiled in stages, envisages doubling the national income. He rejected a wage freeze last summer, reportedly saying it was "necessary to strike a balance between the needs of the coming battle and the essential necessities of man." Wage increases followed.

Egypt proved several years ago it could get along without U.S. foreign aid, and is now embarked on a wide-scale effort to attract others to invest in Egypt's future.

In 1966 Egypt and the United States signed an agreement providing Egypt with $55 million worth of foodstuffs, including 750,000 tons of wheat and 20,000 tons of vegetable oil. But when Egypt broke relations with Washington in June, 1967, the food and millions of dollars in aid were cut off.

EGYPT'S FUTURE

Last year Egypt began buying most of her wheat—a dietary staple—from Australia, which is expected to ship 1.75 million tons to Egypt this budget year, at a cost to Egypt of more than $100 million.

By drastically revising the agricultural sector, and cutting peasant land rentals by as much as 25 per cent the government hopes to grow more of its own wheat and increase agricultural exports, which are expected to total $476 million in the current budget year.

Egypt is opening the door again to the United States and Britain. Within the last few weeks it has agreed to repay a postwar debt to the United States of $140 million and to pay Britain nearly $5 million for properties confiscated in 1952 and 1956.

Meek 'Lays It On Line' For Retail Merchants Here

By STEVE HULTMAN

The retail merchants in Big Spring during the two years Paul Meek was president of the Chamber of Commerce have not put in the effort, talent and finances they should have, according to Meek.

Meek spoke at a "Lay It On The Line" luncheon Thursday to Big Spring retail merchants.

"The purpose of the meeting," said Meek, "is to point out what industrial development has done in Big Spring and what can be expected of it in 1972 so you can make your plans."

The course of economic development in Big Spring for the past two years was traced by Tom Eastland, chamber manager.

Eastland discussed the state of the economy and the loss of population in the last 10 years. People in Big Spring knew something had to be done, he said, and the Industrial Foundation was the result of that knowledge.

"The Industrial Foundation brought Intech, IBJ (Big Spring Dress Co.) and Eagle Homes to Big Spring," said Eastland. "It's strange that some people are complaining about or predicting failure for Eagle Homes," said Meek. "I will never apologize for my part in getting them, because any business venture has some risk."

"These industries mean many things to the retailer," said Eastland. "They mean, based on U.S. Chamber of Commerce statistics for manufacturing jobs, 2,280 new citizens in Big Spring, all potential customers — $3 1/2 million in new income — 300 new households — more than $1 1/2 million in additional retail sales annually — 350 additional jobs in service industries. Then the chain starts again," he said.

"We already have 250 people in new jobs," said Meek. "And we are on our way to at least 500, perhaps even 600 more."

"Of all the groups in Big Spring, the retail merchants are the ones who will have to take the lead in future development," said Meek.

"Others have done all they can, and the retail merchant must take over the leadership of industrial development. They have not done all they should have done in the past," said Meek. "Some put more money in the Christmas decoration fund than they do in the industrial fund."

"But some retail merchant's have been leaders, and have put in long hours and hard work. However," said Meek, "the general attitude has been poor."

"An indication of the attitude of the Big Spring merchants is the turnout to this luncheon. The chamber sent out 201 invitations, and we were so sure of what the attendance would be we got a room that could not hold 201 persons," said Meek. Attendance was estimated at less than 50 persons.

"I hope that with the new chamber manager and president the retail merchants will band together and become the driving force in the community not followers," said Meek. "because they will be the first to feel the benefits of economic development in 1972."

Vehicle Commission Faces Challenge If..

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Motor Vehicle Commission faces a strong chance its powers will be challenged in court if it votes to restore one of its members' monopoly over the Volkswagen business in Corpus Christi.

The commission heard testimony Thursday on a request by Barton-Grubbs Volkswagen's application for a dealer's license, protested by commission member Jack McKenzie.

Until Barton-Grubbs was franchised three months ago, McKenzie was the only Volkswagen dealer in Corpus Christi.

Will Ehrle, McKenzie's lawyer presented statistics which he said showed there wasn't room for two VW dealers in the coastal city.

But George Grubbs Jr., one of the new firm's owners, said there was.

"NEW DEALERSHIP" Grubbs gestured toward his and Richard Barton's young wives and said: "Their livelihood depends on the outcome of the hearing today."

The commission is feeling its way through the new law that created it to regulate the auto industry in Texas.

The law passed by the 1971 legislature, says the commission can refuse to license a "new dealership" if it finds existing dealers already are "adequately representing" a particular make.

The commission defined "new dealership" as one that went into business after April 7, the day Gov. Preston Smith signed the measure into law. Barton-Grubbs was franchised Aug. 2.

Conrad Werkenhth of Austin, Barton-Grubbs' attorney, has said the firm will go to court if the commission denies it a license. He told the commission its power to eliminate "new dealerships" violated the Texas and United States Constitutions.

Noting that four of the six commissioners are dealers, he said that "a board of dealers determining who shall be a dealer" violates the constitution right of due process of law.

OPPORTUNITY TO FIGHT McKenzie said he would take no part in any commission action until the Barton-Grubbs case was decided, to avoid any conflict of interest.

Grubbs said his firm already had 431 service customers—"they felt the need for another dealer, and they came to us."

Ehrle—who lobbied for the passage of the new law—told the commission the measure was designed "to allow dealers the opportunity to fight for the best interests of their customers and to prevent the anti-competitive results from an overpopulation of auto dealers in a given market area."

Ehrle presented statistics showing Volkswagen sales through August this year, nationwide, were down 6.4 per cent while those of other foreign makes were up.

RR Retirement

A representative of the Railroad Retirement Board will be in Big Spring Thursday. He will be available between 10 a.m. and noon in Room 242 of the Federal Building at Fifth and Main.

Snyder Resident Pleads Guilty

James R. Sewell, 46, of 1111 28th, Apt. 3, Snyder, pleaded guilty Thursday in 118th District Court to a charge of driving while intoxicated, second offense.

Sewell was sentenced to six months in county jail and ordered to pay $49 court costs. He was given credit for five months and 24 days already served in county jail. He was indicted July 9 for driving while intoxicated.

FALLING STAR — A piece of the Odessa crater meteorite will be on display at the Rock, Bottle and Indian Artifact Show at College Park Mall Saturday. Mrs. James V. Nixon holds the 12 1/4-pound fragment loaned to the show by Deck Coleman. It was found in 1935 about 200 yards from the crater and about six inches below the surface.

Prospectors' Show Is Slated Saturday

The annual Rock, Bottle, and Indian Artifact Show, sponsored by the Big Spring Prospectors Club, will get under way Saturday at College Park Mall in Big Spring.

Admission will be free for the two-day show, which will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday, and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Exhibits will include rocks and minerals, Indian artifacts, gem stones, bottles, antiques and barbed wire.

On hand with a display from the Alamo Rock Shop in Helotes, will be dealer Fred Matke.

TARS Trek Set Saturday

Footsores and 12 miles later, members of TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded) will have earned money to help retarded persons by walking from College Park Shopping Center to Sand Springs and back Saturday.

The Walkathon will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday. Anyone may enter the Walkathon provided a sponsor has agreed to donate money for each mile walked by the entrant. All donations go to local TARS and ARC organizations for aid to the retarded.

Walkers will end their trek at approximately 3 p.m., and prizes will be awarded to the youngest and oldest walkers, the first person to finish the walk, and for the most eye-catching approach to the march.

Big Spring Jaycees will provide trucks to carry water and weary walkers.

UNITED FUND HAS $67,047

The United Fund reported $67,047 in cash and pledges had been collected by this morning.

The fund is better than half way to the goal of $110,000 for the 1971-72 fund drive.

"We are doing better than average," said Morris Robertson, campaign chairman. "But we still have a lot of work to do."

A meeting of the campaign division heads has been called for Tuesday noon at the Holiday Inn restaurant.

WEATHER FORECAST — Showers are expected today in parts of the Midwest and border states of the South and in southern Florida. Snow is predicted in the Michigan Upper Peninsula and parts of northern Minnesota and Wisconsin. Cold air is moving into the Midwest and along a front heading toward the eastern coast.

THEFTS

Roy Webb, Northcrest Apt. 55, reported Thursday to police that someone had taken a battery valued at $10 from his car.

Officers investigated Thursday a report that credit cards belonging to Big Spring High School had been stolen Tuesday. Gwen Brasell, 403 E. 8th Apt. 3, reported the theft.

DREAMS ARE THE DAWN OF TOMORROW

And like the first light of a new day they seem distant, unreal. Yet out of our dreams we often fashion tomorrow.
The dreams of the daylight hours are not in the subconscious. Rather they project our hopes on a screen of reality. They grow into goals and aims and ambitions.
Whether tomorrow will fulfill those dreams depends on certain values which must be acquired today. Ideals, standards, moral principles, religious faith—these inspire dreams worth dreaming, and help us to translate them to reality.
Never worry about your daughter's daydreaming. Be concerned about her opportunities for spiritual development. The Church shares that concern. It can help you do something constructive about it.

Youth March Aids World's Hungry

Sunday, approximately 500 local youth will swing into action in a door-to-door campaign to earn money for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) for food to be distributed among the world's hungry in such areas as India and Pakistan.

Youths will seek contributions from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday. Last year, according to director Charlie Richards, eight churches represented by 150 youths collected $465 for the purchase of food distributed through CROP.

Richards said that this year, 14 churches are participating, and approximately 500 young people are expected to join in the campaign.

Churches represented are Baptist Temple, Kentwood United Methodist, First Church of God, Wesley United Methodist, First Baptist, First Christian, East Fourth Baptist, Central Baptist, College Baptist,

Male Quartet Sings Sunday

The "Soul-Searchers" quartet, an all-male singing group from Andrews, will sing in the Christ Ambassador youth service at 6 p.m. and the evangelistic service at 7 p.m. Sunday at Evangel Temple Assembly of God.

All young men with the Christ Ambassador Youth Department of the Assemblies of God, the quartet is composed of Roger Banks, James Eaton, Ramsey Humphries and Donny Wright.

The "Soul-Searchers" began some months ago when they began to sing for youth rallies in various sections of West Texas. Their ministry in singing is widely sought after.

Special sound equipment will accentuate the harmony of this singing group. They will also present their individual testimonies of finding Christ as Saviour and their call into the musical ministry.

A variety of Christian songs will be presented.

Confab Begins Monday At Phillips Memorial

Phillips Memorial Baptist Church will host the Second Annual Bible Conference Monday through Friday.

Speakers for this conference will be Dr. Avery Rogers of Victoria and Rev. Curtis McCauley from Balfour, N.C. These two men made such an impression on the audiences last year in the first annual conference when it met at Crestview Baptist Church that they were invited back this year.

Dr. Rogers devotes his time now to the revival and Bible conference ministry after a very full and fruitful pastoral ministry. His former pastorates include the First Baptist Church, Brownfield, and the First Baptist Church of Victoria. Rev. Curtis McCauley pastors in Balfour, N.C., but is in great demand as a conference speaker throughout the United States and is well known in Texas, especially in the Houston area. He is best known for his unique and unusual way of presenting Bible truths in a simple, direct, and positive manner.

The conference begins at 7:30 p.m. Monday. There will be services Tuesday-Friday 9:30 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. A nursery will be provided for all services. This conference is for the benefit and blessing of all Big Spring.

Report On Solutions To City Woes Given

AUSTIN (AP) — A report on solutions to city problems that took 18 months to write has been presented to Gov. Preston Smith. "We want to keep Texas the best place to live, and most of the people live in the cities," Arlington Mayor Tom J. Vandergriff, chairman of the Texas Urban Development Commission told Smith Thursday.

80 PER CENT URBAN
Texas has gone from 80 per cent rural in 1900 to 80 per cent urban in 1970, the report says. Constitutional revision topped the commission's recommendations.

"The Texas Constitution should be thoroughly changed to allow state and local governments to exercise more initiative and to be more responsive to current and future demands but at the same time free to be truly responsive to changing needs and merging problems," the report says.

The constitution, written in 1876, has 182 amendments, with 18 more approved by the last legislature for submission to the voters.

At the present rate, "experts predict we will need 30 amendments per legislative session by the turn of the century just to allow governments to deal with modern problems," the report says.

The governor is restricted with limited powers, and this is a major obstacle to solving urban problems, the report says.

—That most urban services should be consolidated in 20 key agencies.

NEW TAXES
—Local governments be given greater fiscal authority.
—More regulation of urban development.
—Overhaul of the "outdated" property tax system.
—Raising new taxes from new sources.
—Replacement of the system of legislative approval governmental units such as hospital and water districts.
—Recognition of land as a "discrete, depletable public asset for which both public and private actions have long-range impacts and effects."

There wasn't any churning inside me. It was a more contented feeling, of liking and being liked. He is 19, a year older than I am, and goes to college. He writes me, sometimes a card, sometimes a long letter. It is an hour and a half drive, but he comes to see me quite often.

I think about the feelings I have for him. I am not sure but I know they are not like the other times. And that I feel right about them. What do you think it is? — Interested in Illinois.

(A.) You like the boy and he likes you. You are experiencing mutuality. Before, you liked a boy and wasn't sure how he felt. Doubts swirled about you. Now there is less doubt, more sureness. You don't have the fluttery feeling that extreme doubt brings.

But there is still doubt. You are not completely sure. As long as you are not all the way sure, do not pick out a partner for life. Mutual liking is good, but it is not always mutual love.

Toxic Wastes Order Issued

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — U. S. Dist. Court Judge Allen B. Hannay has stayed an earlier order prohibiting Armo Steel Corp. from discharging toxic wastes into the Houston Ship Channel.

Hannay gave Armo 60 days in which to obtain a State permit for construction of an incineration system for disposal purposes.

Hannay approved an agreed order submitted by Armo and the U.S. Justice Department in the Thursday action.

The agreement also called for completion of the incineration system by July 7, 1972, and for revocation of the stay order if Armo fails to comply.

Hannay earlier ordered a total ban on discharging of cyanides and other toxic wastes into the channel. The Texas Water Quality Board had authorized the plant to drill injection wells for disposal purposes but the Federal Environmental Protection Agency objected.

Under Thursday's agreement, Armo would be subject to $5,000 per day fine for any violations in a three-year period after completion of the incinerator. Armo must apply by Nov. 30 to build and operate the incinerator. Federal officials also were authorized to make inspections and take samples of waste discharge at any time.

Since Hannay's initial order, Armo has been operating at about 60 per cent capacity. Company officials said Hannay's order would permit them to return to full capacity production.

Will Not Sell Tainted Turkeys

WASHINGTON (AP) — Swift & Co. says it will not sell 50,000 contaminated turkeys for human consumption even if the Agriculture Department says it may.

The firm said in a statement Thursday the birds were voluntarily withheld from the market in August after they were discovered to contain high levels of PCBs, industrial chemicals similar to DDT.

Swift said it alerted the Agriculture Department which confirmed the turkeys, bought from a Minnesota grower, were contaminated.

Charles K. Olcott, president of Swift Dairy and Poultry Co., a Swift subsidiary, said the birds "will either be destroyed or used as feed for nonedible animals such as mink."

DARING JAIL-BREAK — Walter Schubirch, one of three convicts who staged the most daring jail-break in Austrian postwar history, holds gun on hostage, Dr. Erich Weiss, in a Vienna taxi Thursday night. The three convicts, serving terms at a penitentiary near Vienna, forced authorities to take them to Vienna by bus, then boarded a taxi. After receiving assurances from authorities that they would not be pursued until noon, Vienna time, the convicts drove away. They later released Dr. Weiss and another hostage.

Separate Bids To Rescue Foreign Aid Due Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Separate congressional efforts to rescue foreign aid from last week's Senate rejection are headed for debate in both houses in an atmosphere of increasing antagonism between congressional critics and the Nixon administration.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee decided Thursday to separate the aid program into military and economic bills. In addition, the panel retained restrictive proposals the administration opposes, and cut the total aid amount to $2.3 billion—$1 billion less than the administration's minimum.

CUT FAVORED
Even with the cut, however, chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., expressed doubt the new bills would be approved. "I think it's marginal," he said, adding he will seek further cuts.

While the Senate committee moved forward with its bills, intended as interim measures to next June 30, the House Rules Committee cleared the way for consideration Tuesday of shorter interim funding for the aid program and agencies which don't have regular appropriations yet—the Defense Department, the Office of Economic Opportunity, and the District of Columbia.

But in the House action, too, a sharp cut is favored by Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the House Appropriations Committee.

THIRD MOVE
"I'm one of those who wants to see a vast reduction of foreign aid," Mahon said, "and I believe there will be a vast reduction."

The House plan is for a continuing resolution that would set aid spending at a level of $2.8 billion through Congress adjourns, probably in a month.

In still a third move, chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said the probably will bring the House a new aid bill totalling about $3 billion, some $400 million below what the House voted earlier.

At the White House, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the administration is "not satisfied with that level" of aid authorization in the twin bills. "We don't feel it is sufficient enough to meet the requirements of the President's policy."

The economic-humanitarian aid package written by the Foreign Relations Committee, including Pakistani refugee relief and U.N. program assistance, totals $1.144 billion, compared with $1.354 billion in the beaten bill.

MILITARY AID
The military aid measure totals $1.185 billion compared with $1.723 billion.

Restrictions contained in the bills are highlighted by a $341-million spending limit in Cambodia and the Mansfield amendment calling for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina in six months if American prisoners are freed.

The same provision was passed by the Senate 37 to 38 as part of the military procurement bill, but Senate-House conferees deleted the six-month restriction.

Rehnquist Apparently Clears First Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist appears to have cleared the first hurdle to Senate confirmation for a seat on the Supreme Court.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., of the Senate Judiciary Committee excused Rehnquist Thursday after two days of questioning and said the committee will turn its attention to Lewis F. Powell Jr. when it reconvenes Monday.

Rehnquist and Powell were nominated last month by President Nixon to fill vacancies on the Supreme Court created by the retirement of Justice John M. Harlan and the late Justice Hugo L. Black.

CRITICISM
Rehnquist's nomination has drawn criticism from some civil rights organizations and the liberal Americans for Democratic Action.

But Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., who led the successful fight against Nixon's earlier nominations of Clement F. Haynsworth and G. Harrold Carswell, has conceded a majority of the 16-member Judiciary Committee supports Rehnquist. One committee source said he foresees a maximum of five committee votes against Rehnquist and possibly no more than three.

Powell, a Richmond, Va., attorney and former president of the American Bar Association, had been scheduled to appear before the committee Thursday, but the lengthy questioning of Rehnquist forced a delay.

Bayh told newsmen after the hearing that he felt Rehnquist was more responsive near the end of his testimony than he had been earlier.

He referred specifically to an answer Rehnquist offered to a question by Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, R-Md., about the government's position on its authority to use wiretaps in domestic subversion cases without a court order.

Rehnquist, who previously had been reluctant to testify about advice he had given within the Justice Department, said he had taken the position that it would be a mistake for the government to rely on "an inherent power" to engage in such wiretapping. Instead, Rehnquist said, he had advised the government to make the more limited argument that it had this power under the 4th Amendment, which prohibits "unreasonable searches and seizures."

Smith Behind Working Man?

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Roy Evans, president of the Texas AFL-CIO said Gov. Preston Smith has shown he can stand up to President Nixon and possibly is behind the working man.

Evans said Smith's defiance of the President's wage and price freeze showed he was not like most Texas politicians, who Evans says "represents management views and rarely take labor's side."

The labor leader spoke Thursday to Amarillo union members. He said Smith is becoming known as "Preston anti-freeze." The American voter will send Richard Nixon back to Madison Avenue and Wall Street where he belongs," Evans said, adding that the administrations' economic policies would help defeat Nixon in 1972.

Sen. John V. Tunney, D-Calif., another committee liberal, also said he was pleased that Rehnquist had been "so much more forthcoming" near the end of his testimony.

Tribe Gets Land

LAE, New Guinea (AP) — An Australian Supreme Court judge has handed back to tribal ownership 500 acres acquired at the turn of the century when Germany controlled what is now the Australian-administered Trust Territory of New Guinea.

The judge said the land had been "inherited" by the Australians when they captured German New Guinea for Britain in 1914, but there was no proof that it had ever been properly acquired by the Germans.

—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon very adverse aspects are in effect so make sure you take no chances. Make a special note to sidestep whatever difficulties or arguments arise. The latter part of the day is then unusually good for whatever has to do with home, family, property and possessions and especially where art, color, culture enter the picture.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The afternoon is the best time to talk over whatever problems need handling at home with kin, servants, a morning to get business handled well and to get control of yourself. The evening will then be ideal.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) If you have to drive on the highway during the morning, exercise much care and avoid possible accident. Get shopping done well. Talk over the future with partners in the mid-afternoon.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Many affairs look bad to you in the morning but by talking them over with expert later, they improve quickly. Strive for greater security by being practical and alert. Have happiness with mate in the evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) The morning finds you puzzled just how to take care of some personal problem, but later all works to your advantage. Plan to be with people you like after the day's work. Show you are a charming conversationalist.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Conditions around you are hardly ideal in the morning, but later they improve considerably. Expert gives you the right advice which you must follow to get good results. Much fun is possible this evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You want to be alone during the morning, but later become very gregarious and much to your benefit. Be sure you know what it is you want to accomplish. Then go after aims in a most positive fashion.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Well until after lunch before asking a big favor from a higher-up you find amenable to your suggestions today. Do some serious talking and studying before you handle that civic matter of importance and you get right results.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning does not bring the results you want and requires a little diversion and then all works to your benefit, starting after lunch. Correspondence will gain you the benefits you desire also in due course of time. Keep active.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Although you want to have a good time, it is best to relegate this to the evening since you have important obligations to meet during the day. The best time for serious talk with mate is after lunch. Get to bed early tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Daytime is not good for discussing differences with an associate, so wait until the evening when tempers have cooled off. Later in the day is better for handling some civic matter, also. Get busy at important work in the morning when mind is rested.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day to get into all of those tasks that are difficult to perform during a busy 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road.

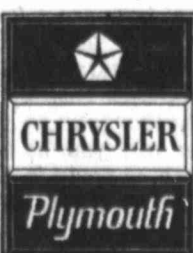

1962 Chrysler

That should tell you a lot about the cars we sell.

Whether you own a big or small car, pay a little or a lot, the one thing you don't need from a car is trouble. You want a car that will hold up. A car that's built to last.

Well, we're with you. Just look at this figure: 9 out of 10 new Chryslers registered in the last 10 years are still on the road. This includes all the various owners, any kind of terrain, and numbers of miles. But every Chrysler is designed and built the way you want it—to last. So even if you won't be keeping a car for years and years, it's good to know you've got all that quality going for you in your first year as well as in later years.

CIDAA

Every Chrysler Imperial is road-tested at the factory.

If our cars aren't right, we don't want you to have them. For example, every Imperial is put through a road test at the factory that includes over 100 different checks before it reaches you.

This year every Chrysler car offers a new optional electronic ignition system that does away with the points and condenser that can wear out. This helps keep the engine tuned longer. And a tuned engine means cleaner exhaust.

From our lowest-priced Chrysler Royal to our big, luxurious Imperial, Chrysler cars are built to last. The same is true of every Chrysler-engineered car we sell—Valiant, Duster, Cricket, Satellite and Fury.

We think that's the kind of car America wants. That's the kind of car we'd like to show you. Come see us today.

You gotta have heart.
The quality of a Chrysler starts deep down in the heart of the car. That's where you've gotta have it. That's where you get it. With such time- and road-proven features as Chrysler's torsion-bar suspension and Torque-Flite automatic transmission. The rigid strength of unibody construction. And a 7-step dip-and-spray anti-rust process. Extra care like that is why so many Chryslers stay in great shape.

Coming through with the kind of dealer America wants.

Meany Has A Point

George Meany, crusty AFL-CIO president, is a handy target because of his obstreperousness which many regard as a wholly self-centered point of view. He may not be classed as totally unbiased in his views toward the administration; in fact he may be slanted somewhat the other way. But Meany does have considerable point to make in his criticism of the administration's larding of the Bureau of Labor Statistics with partisan politics.

Meany points out the bureau has announced it will stop issuing special reports on unemployment in the nation's poorest neighborhoods. That appears a blatantly political decision, designed to put a better face on employment statistics. For unemployment in those areas has been running at 10.4 per cent, compared to the national rate of 8 per cent.

The result will make it more difficult — if not impossible — for the public to judge whether the administration's programs are succeeding in cutting down chronic unemployment in ghetto areas. For the national rate could decline while the no-longer-to-be-revealed ghetto rate climbs — and no one would know we were making no progress in curing the chronic jobless problems of the urban poor.

This is not the first example of job statistic-juggling. Earlier this year, non-partisan career statisticians — who have regularly conducted press briefings to interpret monthly jobs-jobs reports, pointing out rate changes were or were not significant, etc. — were ordered to do so no longer. This occurred after a nonpartisan specialist referred to job figures as "mixed" in February while Labor Secretary Hodgson, speaking for the administration, termed them "heartening." Mr. Meany doesn't have a monopoly on slanted views.

Season's Last Chance

Last week we urged a good turnout for the Big Spring Steers' football game. While the results were disappointing, we repeat the request again for several reasons.

First of all, our team and our student body needs the encouragement and backing of adults. Second, it demonstrates community loyalty on terms other than when everything is going right. Third, it is the last opportunity you will have this season to see the Steers at home.

Finally, it's a long road that has no turning (and it always has). One of these days the ball is going to bounce the other way. Who knows but what it might be this evening?

Now, Instant Cook

Around The Rim

Linda Cross

Anyone who can read, can cook. This is my mother's philosophy, anyway, and she is an excellent cook.

I HAVE a degree in English and Journalism, neither of which prepared me for tsp., soupcon, pinch, smidgen and other technical terms dear to the hearts of better cooks than I am.

I'm one of those I'll-fix-dinner-on-Friday-night nuts when I know the paper's going to fall apart and I won't get home until 6:30 p.m. I always promise dinner by 7 p.m. and deliver by 8 p.m.

AFTER interpreting the instructions, browning the meat and rushing off to repair the day's damages so I'll be the all-American glamorous hostess, I discover I've got half an hour to fix dinner. I always pick dinners in which "simmer gently until golden brown" etc. becomes cook like the very devil for 15 minutes and send prayers in the other direction.

INGREDIENTS are always a problem. In my case, the store never has what is called for, and it is up to me to select clever substitutes. A recent attempt called for mild, Bermuda onions. No store in Big Spring had any in stock, and the zero hour was approaching. I just grabbed the least lethal-looking white onion and ran. Everything turned out edible, luckily.

Recipes calling for simmering in wine fascinate me, as do wine labels. I spend valuable time after work just trying to determine which one really is that "delightful, dry red wine" chirpingly called for in the recipe. Bordeaux works.

CUTS OF MEAT are fascinating, too. Bone or boneless, this thickness or that thickness are decisions I waste time on. When in doubt, I let price be my guide.

To date, no one has expired from my concoctions prepared on a time schedule that would send Julia Childs into a tizzy. She's the nut with the soupcon fetish. I cook her French cuisine with West Texas twang.

MY DEEPEST respect goes to the ladies who daily march into battle armed with saucapans and skillers and emerge victorious with a meal for an entire family — on time.

Anyone who can read, can cook should be amended in my case to, "Anyone who can read and tell time, can cook."

Look At Rehnquist

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The Arizona axis is taking on new political power. The center is Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican candidate for president in 1964 who was defeated by a record plurality by Lyndon B. Johnson.

THE DEPUTY attorney general, Richard Kleindienst, formerly a Phoenix lawyer, was director of field operations for the Goldwater campaign and again for Richard Nixon in 1968. Kleindienst is widely regarded as the successor to John N. Mitchell when the attorney general changes hats and takes over direction of the Nixon drive for re-election. This is expected to occur toward the end of the year.

Now comes William H. Rehnquist, Kleindienst's good friend in Phoenix, nominated by President Nixon to one of the two vacancies on the Supreme Court of the United States. Kleindienst was responsible at the start of the Nixon administration for the selection of Rehnquist to be an assistant attorney general. Compared with the dubious choices that had previously been floated, Rehnquist and the other nominee, Lewis F. Powell Jr., looked like heirs of the great John Marshall. Their confirmation by the Senate was considered probable, if not certain.

BUT SECOND thoughts, together with evidence of the strong bias of one of the nominees, insure a contest over Rehnquist. With civil rights activists preparing the case, the question is whether a man's strongly held views of six or seven years before should disqualify him.

On his own initiative Rehnquist appeared before a Phoenix City Council meeting on June 15, 1964, to oppose a proposed ordinance prohibiting discrimination in hotels, restaurants, shops and other public places. After a tape recording of the statement that Rehnquist, then 40 years old, made before the council was unearthed by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, the Justice Department gave it out.

"I VENTURE to say," he told the Council, "There has never been this sort of an assault on the institution (private property) where you are told not what you can build on your property but who can come on your property."

In 1967 Rehnquist wrote a letter to the Arizona Republican opposing reorganization of the Phoenix school system to achieve racial integration. "I think," he wrote "that we are no more dedicated to an 'integrated' society than we are to a 'segregated' society. We are instead dedicated to a free society in which each man is equal before the law."

IN 1951-52 Rehnquist was law clerk to the late Justice Robert H. Jackson. He was later to charge that "unconscious slanting" by the law clerks influenced many cases the court was called on to decide. The "left wing" of the court, according to Rehnquist, was made up of Chief Justice Earl Warren, Justice William O. Douglas and the late Justice Hugo L. Black.

At least four of the Democrats on the Senate Judiciary Committee want to hear Rehnquist on his earlier views. Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. may also take part in the interrogation, since Rehnquist has been an active defender of the stringent District of Columbia anti-crime law with its no-knock and bugging provisions. Ervin, a staunch libertarian, opposed some aspects of that law.

Reasons For Market Plunge

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The fact that thousands of people make a living selling stock market forecasts to others doesn't mean that they are accurate. Not at all, because the laws governing the market are not fully understood.

A market analysis after the fact is much safer than a forecast.

Herewith, then, are some of the reasons given for the two-week plunge of nearly 68 points in the Dow Jones industrial average that may or may not have ended.

1. A great number of individual investors, not all of them small, are disaffected. They are frightened by revelations of ineptness in the brokerage industry. They have personally felt the effect of higher commissions and poor service.

During the past year the number of odd-lot sales has been higher than purchases almost daily. In four of the past five months the sales of mutual funds have exceeded purchases. The small investor just isn't buying.

If this is so, what is he doing with his money?

The answer is revealed by a glance at housing starts, now averaging more than 2 million a year; at the savings rate, which remains well over 7 per cent; at savings bonds statistics, which show an increase of $1.04 billion in the first 10 months of 1971; at car sales, which topped one million units in October.

The small investor is buying the house he couldn't buy during the months of extreme money tightness; he's buying the bonds that once didn't pay well but which now yield 8 1/2 per cent; he's buying the car that may be a bargain because of the freeze; he's putting his money where his confidence is—in the banks rather than the securities markets.

2. One effect of this, understandably, is to deprive mutual funds of a certain freedom of action. High redemptions mean less money to invest. Funds which showed great versatility when the money was pouring in feel strapped as it bleeds away.

3. Uncertainty is intolerable, and it generally is reflected in falling prices. Seldom has it been more difficult to know the immediate economic future. The Wall Street mindreaders are confused, because the government and minds they must read are not made up on the character of Phase 2.

When investors feel certain about the future they feel more certain also about their long-term commitments.

4. The stock market is said to reflect business and economic conditions, and the outlook for profits in particular. While prospects are better than they had been, many businessmen and consumers remain somewhat apathetic despite the jolt they received Aug. 15.

5. Tight money. The Federal Reserve has been slowing the rate of money growth each week since late August. Now there is less money in circulation than there was two months ago, which means less to invest in stocks.

Whether these likely explanations of the market's past behavior can be used to foretell the future is another matter. The future is always different than the past.

Lone Wolf Lindsay

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — New York Mayor John Lindsay, yesterday's part-time Republican, is the target of complaints to the Democratic National Committee from the grassroots that he has become today's part-time Democrat.

ALTHOUGH NO official press release has been issued, committee sources freely — and possibly gleefully? — admit that party nuts-and-bolls men are expressing sometimes profane outrage over Lindsay's refusal to say flatly he will support the Democratic nominee for president. Lindsay told a private session with Washington newsmen, in effect, that only a nominee who fits his definition of "a progressive" can be assured of his backing.

Presumably, Lindsay would go along with such as Sens. George McGovern and Fred Harris, and former Sen. Gene McCarthy. But therein lies the irony of the situation. None of these contenders is happy about The Profile's unannounced candidacy for top banana because he would siphon off votes from them. Indeed, McGovern's people fall just short of publicly denouncing Lindsay's implicit candidacy.

LINDSAY'S STAND apparently is aimed at the candidacies of Sens. Ed Muskie and Henry (Scoop) Jackson, generally regarded as "moderate" and "conservative," respectively. Naturally, neither Muskie nor Jackson is overjoyed by the development; they're looking for support wherever they can find it. Thus Lindsay runs the risk to finding himself with no friends likely to switch their delegates to his column if the Mayor has a chance to take it all.

An exception could be Sen. Teddy Kennedy, the most celebrated of the noncandidates, who would accept a draft at Miami Beach next summer. Kennedy undoubtedly fits Lindsay's definition of a "progressive," and there is talk of a Kennedy-Lindsay deal should this eventuality seem probable.

TEDDY, so these reports go, would buy Lindsay's allegiance by promising to name him Secretary of State or Secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Either would give Lindsay a power base from which to run for governor of New York in 1974.

However, it seems obvious that such a deal would hinge on Lindsay's success in ruining the other candidates in the primaries, thus setting up the draft. Only Kennedy would find this circumstance felicitous, if one may be forgiven for resorting to understatement.

LINDSAY'S OWN candidacy has to be considered viable because he has considerable support among assorted big-city mayors, the blacks and the young. He also is trying to form a coalition of blacks and so-called "working class" whites similar to that put together by the late Bobby Kennedy in 1968. Lindsay could become a Gene McCarthy with teeth in 1972. His weakness, however, is that he appears to be trying to do it as a lone wolf — as the candidate of the John V. Lindsay Party.

"WHAT'S LINDSAY going to do," asked one state chairman in a letter to Chairman Larry O'Brien, "vote for Dick Nixon?" The pros will never forget that Hubert Humphrey would have beaten Nixon in '68 but for the defection of party "liberals" of varied ideological hues.

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — You're a doubletalker if you say one thing while you're thinking another.

Everyone doubletalks except very young children who haven't yet learned that telling the truth isn't always either polite or wise. Your skill at doubletalking usually is a measure of your social grace. For the beginner who needs practice, here are a few typical examples of doubletalk. What the person said is in quotes followed in each case by what he actually thought.

"How can you be so bright and fresh so early in the morning Alice?" — She looks like she was in a car accident last night.

"Cooks may come and cooks may go, but no one can bake biscuits like you do, Mabel." — What did you cook these with — a blowtorch?

"When it comes to Martinis, I can take them or leave them alone." — Pour, brother, pour.

Let's don't waste time talking. "What can money really do for you in the last analysis? Who needs a million dollars to be happy?" — Me.

"Well," the old saying goes, "Beauty is only skin deep." — So, isn't it a shame you have such a thin skin, darling?

"Will all you passengers kindly move to the rear of the bus, please?" — And then jump out the window.

"And if I'm not telling you the literal and exact truth, may heaven strike me dead!" — Don't do it Lord. I've got my fingers crossed.

"I can't think of a way to repay you for all the things you've done for me." — So I won't even try.

"It's pure nonsense for us to go on with this silly feuding. Why don't we let bygones be bygones and bury the hatchet?" — In your back would be a nice place.

"Baby, I could really go for you. You've got a million-dollar

My Answer

I wonder if the angels of the Lord are watching over me. Do we have a guardian angel or is this just a tradition? T.D.

The Bible teaches that angels minister to us, and protect us. "For He shall give His angels charge over thee to keep thee in all thy ways," Psalm 91:11. It also teaches that angels perform physical services. Daniel wrote: "My God hath sent His angel and hath shut the lions' mouths, that they have not hurt me . . . Daniel 6:22.

The ministry of angels is mentioned in both the Old and New Testaments. When Peter was imprisoned and the Christians prayed, God sent an angel to the prison. "And, behold the angel of the Lord came upon him, and a light shined on the prison; and he smote Peter on the side, and raised him up, saying, Arise up quickly. And his chains fell off from his hands." Acts 12:7.

An angel brought to the Apostle Paul a message of hope when he was shipwrecked with two hundred and seventy-five others. Paul said: "Be of good cheer; for there shall be no loss of life among you . . . For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serve, saying, Fear not Paul . . . God hath given thee all them that sail with thee." And they were all saved. I believe that angels minister to us today, but that we are too spiritually blind to recognize them.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Do not judge others, so that God will not judge you." (Matthew 7:1, TEV)

PRAYER: We pray our Father, that You will help us to put ourselves in our neighbor's place, remembering that in today's world we are all neighbors. Teach us to understand his fears and hopes and to treat him as we ourselves would wish to be treated. In Jesus' name. Amen.

You Look Great

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: What does a person do when she comes face to face for the first time with a friend (or acquaintance) who has had cosmetic surgery — like a nose job or a face-lift? I recently ran into a woman who had just had a facelift, and with absolute sincerity, I said, "Your recent surgery has improved your appearance 100 per cent!"

She gave me an icy stare and walked away without even saying thank you. I felt like 2 cents.

Another time, I pretended I didn't notice that a friend's daughter had recently had a nose job. It was obvious, but I said nothing.

Finally, she said, "Don't you notice anything different about old, and am in love with an 18-year-old boy. We've been going steady for seven months and were planning on getting married in about a year from now.

We have gone all the way to express our love several times. My mother found out about it and carried on something awful, and now she is making us get married as soon as my boy friend gets his next paycheck.

Abby, we don't have any furniture, and we don't even have a place to live. My mother won't let me see my boy friend, and says I am to stay strictly in the house until I am married. I love my mother and don't want to hurt her, but she is hurting me more by making me get married with nothing except the love I have for my boy friend.

Do you think she is right in forcing us to marry right now with nothing? LOUISIANA GIRL: To force two ill-prepared young people into marriage in order to punish them, is, I think, very shortsighted. Worse yet, your 18-year-old boy friend is bound to feel trapped and resentful, and an unwilling bridegroom makes a very poor husband.

High Cholesterol

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor says I have high cholesterol. I have quit eating butter and use oleomargarine. I drink low fat milk. Do not eat eggs or fried foods. Yet when I had my physical exam my cholesterol was 270, and I understand it should be 150 to 200. What else should I do to bring it down? — LM.

Maybe nothing except to continue what you are doing. Or maybe eat a little bit less, total. Or maybe get a little more exercise.

And one more thing. Laboratory methods can vary, and different test methods may be used, so the numerical results aren't exactly what we might describe as "holly writ."

You specify 150-200 as the acceptable limits, and your figure is 270. That indicates that you are only a little bit above the upper acceptable "limit." To put it in medical terms, "slightly elevated."

It makes a difference, you see, whether your doctor said that your cholesterol was "slightly elevated," or "getting too high," or "higher than it ought to be," or "dangerously high." Or whatever words he may have used.

Yours is only slightly high, and no reason for great concern. If I knew more about you — your age, your weight, your exercise habits, and a lot of other things — I might modify my answer, but I wouldn't change it radically. My answer, that is, is this: stick to your diet which is low in saturated (solid) fats. If you are too heavy, reduce total food intake. If you don't get much physical activity, become more active.

And watch your relative cholesterol level. If it is gradually coming down, just keep it coming down and stop worrying — if it is going UP, in spite of your efforts, your doctor can prescribe medications to help things along. If he considers them necessary.

And if your level is remaining fairly stationary, I can't see any cause for concern.

If you haven't ready my booklet, "Control Cholesterol Sensibly," I think you should. While cholesterol levels have significance, they must be evaluated in relation to other prevailing factors. This I try to make clear in the booklet. Don't disregard high cholesterol, but don't think it's the most important thing to watch for in guarding your health. And certainly don't panic if the level is "slightly high."

If you want the booklet, and a fuller explanation of what the cholesterol level means, and doesn't mean, and how to control it without totally disrupting your usual eating habits, send 25 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Big Spring Herald. And don't forget to include your zip code in the self-addressed envelope. It speeds up delivery.

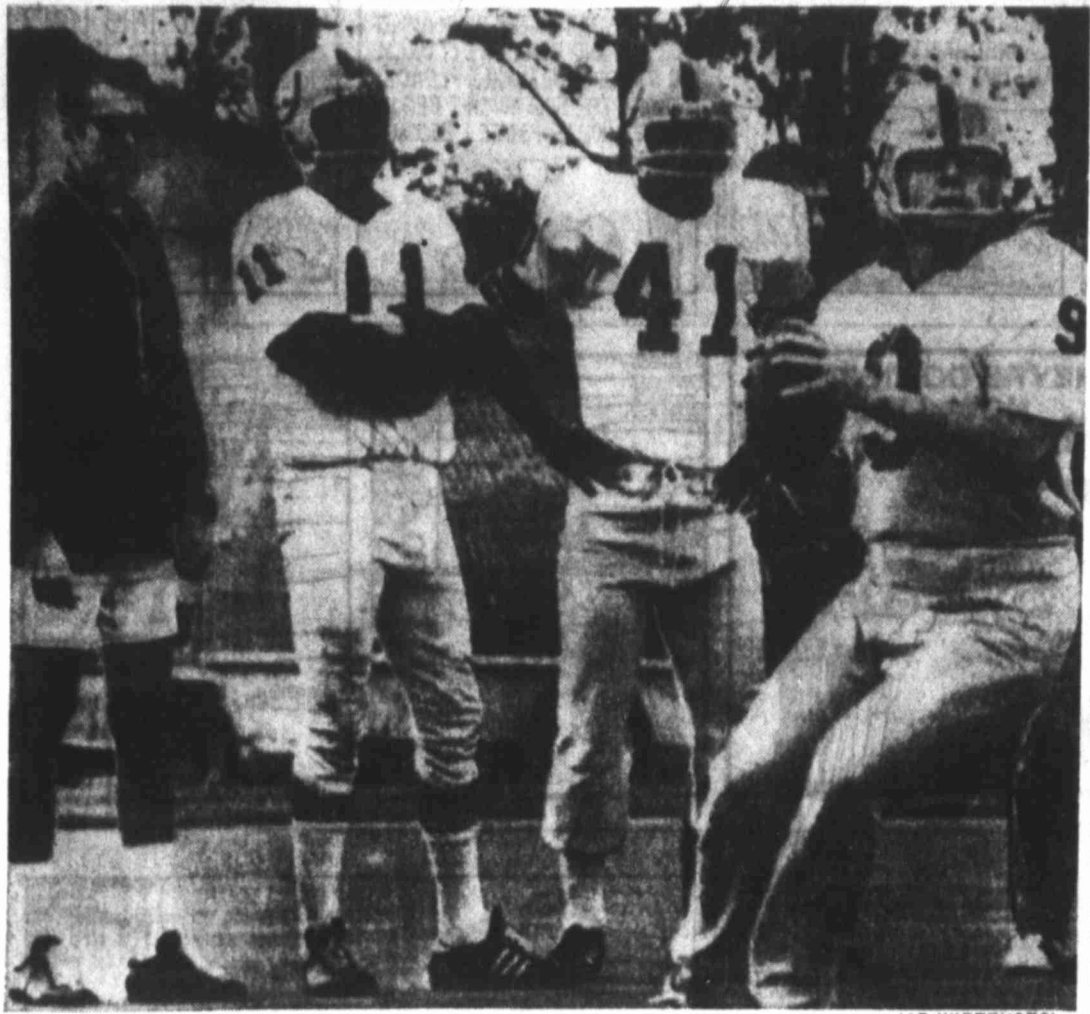

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What causes hair to grow rapidly out of a mole on the face? It is thick, coarse hair that grows much faster than other regions of the face. Is there any way to stop this? — R.H.

I can't explain the speed of growth, but this happens in moles other than those on the face, too. Some moles are hairy, some smooth.

Only suggestions I can offer would be to have a registered electrologist destroy the hair follicles, or roots; or to have your doctor remove the whole mole, hairs and all.

HERE COMES OLD NUMBER NINE — Washington Redskins' quarterback of the past, Sonny Jurgensen, who lost his starting job this year to Bill Kilmer when he was injured during the exhibition season, limbers up his arm under the eye of coach George Allen, left. Jurgensen is expected to be restored to the active roster in time for Sunday's game with Philadelphia. Also watching Jurgensen work out are starting quarterback Bill Kilmer (11) and running back Larry Brown (41).

Kilmer Still Redskin QB, Says Allen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sonny Jurgensen, the Washington Redskins' No. 1 quarterback until he broke his shoulder in an exhibition game, is expected to be activated today.

To make room for the 37-year-old signal-caller on the Redskins' roster, back-up quarterback Sam Wyche will be placed on the move list.

Although Jurgensen will be in uniform for Sunday's National Football League clash between the Redskins and the Philadelphia Eagles, Coach George Allen emphasized Bill Kilmer is still his No. 1 quarterback.

"He's done a great job," Allen said of Kilmer, who was obtained from the New Orleans Saints to be Jurgensen's reserve.

"I'm not a two-quarterback man," Allen said. "We go with one quarterback, one center, one linebacker, one right tackle. I don't believe in shoving people all around."

Allen had been piqued all week whenever someone asked him if Jurgensen would be activated. "I'll activate him when I think he's ready," he said repeatedly.

ODESSA High's Bronchos move into Memorial Stadium here tonight, determined to make Big Spring their sixth victim of a surprising season. The 8 o'clock game winds up home play for the Provincials.

The Red Hosses were generally picked for a seventh

or eighth grade finish in District 5-AAAA but they've already won five games and should be able to improve on that before they hang up their tack a week from tonight.

Big Spring is working on a five-game losing streak. Unless it does an abrupt about-face and starts playing a little defense, it may not be able to do anything about arresting the string before 1972.

The Longhorns have given up points wholesale in recent games. Abilene Cooper ran up 48 on the locals last week, without really working at it.

Big Spring has problems. Some of its most talented personnel is limping or has been ruled scholastically ineligible.

The Broncos go with the two-quarterback system with good results. Lefty Wortham works part time at that position for the Odessans. When he goes to the sidelines, Ricky Young takes over.

The Hosses have a fine work-horse back in Dennis Smith a 185-pound junior, who has carried the ball nearly four times as much as any other on Odessa back. They call on him when they need a yard or five. He's averaged 4.2 yards every time he's handled the ball.

The Steers were able to score three times against Cooper but that occurred long after the decision was out of reach.

Arthur Trevino, the Steers' ailing back, could see limited action tonight. He plays tough and that is enough for coach Clovis Hale.

Probable starters:

BIG SPRING
 E — Nate Post 170 and Col Lowry 172; T — D. W. Powell 200 and Ronald Brock 200; G — Jan Whitley 170 and Joe Peña 220; C — Mike Williamson 170; QB — Mike Adams 175; RB — Ricky Steen 175; FB — Dick Conley 205; P — Mike McCormick 150.

Striped Bass Are Growing

Striped bass in E. V. Spence Reservoir near Robert Lee must be finding things in the lake to their liking.

The striper caught in Texas Parks and Wildlife Department nets averaged an approximate one pound increase over what they weighed three months ago.

Test nets in Spence Reservoir yielded 27 of the strippers which have been released into the waters each year since 1970.

Two of the fish weighed more than four pounds each, and the fish averaged 3 3/4 pounds each.

Striped bass are a saltwater fish which can live in fresh water. Department biologists are trying to establish the fish as both a predator fish to take care of overpopulation of lakes by roughfish and as a sport fish.

The biologists hope that someday anglers in Texas will face the prospect of hooking a 10 or 15-pound striper.

Tigers Planning Big Welcome For Alabama

By The Associated Press

The citizens of Baton Rouge, La., are preparing a welcome for Alabama's football team.

Nothing special, mind you—just the same, old mind-numbing horror that usually accompanies the bitter clash of arch-rivals Louisiana State and Alabama.

The reception committee will turn Tiger Stadium into a vocal circus of horrors, as a crowd of more than 67,000 snarls at the visitors in the Saturday night affair.

MASCOT HELPS
 Along with the psychological impact of an unfriendly, raucous crowd, there'll also be the sight of Mike III to greet Alabama. He's the LSU mascot—a full-throated tiger kept in a cage on the sidelines.

Alabama leads the series, 20-10, with four ties.

The match between Alabama, the nation's fourth-ranked

LOOKING 'EM OVER
 With Tommy Hart

I always thought that the 1931 Big Spring football team and its opponents offered the greatest point differential of any high school scoring aggregate in the state. The Steers that year ran up 398 points and held the other troops to seven (although losing one and tying one).

The 1927 Waco High team, masterminded by Hall of Famer Paul Tyson, did better, however. The Tigers steamed to 739 points while rationing out only 21 to the parties of the second part. Temple was able to dent the Waco defense once and Abilene scored twice in the state finals against the Tigers that year, while losing, 21-14.

Following the 1931 season here, coach Obie Bristow lamented that he had the horses but the opposition he booked up to the Sweetwater game wasn't the kind that developed muscle and poise in the heat of more taxing battle.

Sweetwater, with Ney Sheridan, Mike Hicks and Spiegel Wood providing the ground power and Sammy Baugh keeping the Big Spring defense honest with his pin-point passing, won that heartbreaker from Big Spring, 7-0.

Still stunned by the sudden turn of events, Big Spring was tied by San Angelo the succeeding week, 0-0, and never got out of district.

The former Abilene Cooper great, Jack Mildren, is staging one miracle after another at the University of Oklahoma. While at Cooper he never was guilty of committing bonehead plays. He plays the same way for OU. Those waiting for Jack to blunder are simply wasting their time.

Some football patrons might be surprised to learn that tickets to home games of the Dallas Cowboys are still available by mail. The ducats, priced at $7 each, can be ordered by writing to the Dallas Cowboys Football Club — Tickets, 6116 N. Central Expressway, Dallas, Texas 75207.

The Cowboys play Philadelphia in Irving Nov. 14. Then follow home games with Los Angeles Nov. 25, the New York Jets Dec. 4 and the St. Louis Cardinals Dec. 18.

One of those people hopelessly hooked on golf said recently he couldn't do anything right on the course any more but he is still shooting in the 70s. However, two years ago he was shooting in the 60s — 1960 through 1969.

An era might have come to an end in the National Football League recently when Dave Smith of Pittsburgh, preparing to cross the goal line against Kansas City, lost possession of the ball just as he was ready to slam it to earth. The hobble cost the Steelers a touchdown at a time they were still in the game.

Coaches on all levels of football must have cringed over the years as they watched elated ball carriers part company with the ball by dramatically dunking it. Weary officials who always had to chase the errant oval were no less distressed by the spectacle, too.

Television viewers had grown to expect the separation of ball carrier and ball, once the Rubicon had been crossed. The ritual always seemed a little needless and hammy.

The sensible thing to do would have been to hand the ball to one of the officials. Many players have too much of a sense for the dramatic to resort to any thing as mundane as that.

There was a time a few years ago when players were throwing the ball into the stands. Rather than turn in the direction of the TV camera and do a curtsy, the gleeful runner would sacrifice the ball by flinging it to the wolves.

That little ceremony became expensive. NFL balls cost $22.50 each and club owners didn't enjoy losing six or seven a game, just to help provide the backdrop for an Academy award performance.

The practice ended abruptly when it was decreed that any player guilty of such an act would personally have to pay for the ball.

Somewhat, Elmo Wright's touchdown dance seems to be more fitting to the occasion. The officials, at least, think so.

Jurgensen came to the Skins in 1964 in a trade that sent quarterback Norm Snead and Claude Crabbe to the Philadelphia Eagles. In 1966, he was runnerup to Bart Starr for the National Football League passing title, winning the laurels the following year.

In 1969, he won the passing championship again, competing 274 passes in 442 attempts for 3,102 yards and 22 touchdowns. He is the only passer ever to gain more than 3,000 yards in a season five times.

Jurgensen has spent seven weeks on the move list, the maximum allowed under league rules. If Allen decides to put him on the list again, Jurgensen will miss a minimum of two more weeks.

Emphasizing Kilmer would continue to start, Allen said the addition of Jurgensen to the squad "should make us strong."

The coach, alluding to the quarterback troubles at Dallas and Baltimore, said, "there's going to be no problems" with Jurgensen in a back-up role.

The veteran quarterback went through his first full-scale workout with the team Wednesday, hitting both short and long passes with accuracy.

Toros Decided By Lamar, 33-8

SNYDER — Jerry Hopper measured the Big Spring Toros 33-8, in a ninth grade football game here Thursday evening.

The defeat was the sixth for the Toros, compared to three wins. The Toros wind up their season next week against the Big Spring Brahmas.

QB Barry Canning threw 25 yards to Stanley Wallace in the second for Big Spring's lone touchdown, after which Ricky Darrow ran in for the extra points.

The Toros' touchdown was set up by a punt blocked by Darrell Miller.

Lee Trevino Says He Is On His Way After 65

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "I'm just driving it so straight I can't help but score good. I get on some of them narrow holes and just automatically go to the old driver and hit it right down the middle."

Lee Trevino, admittedly "a little weary," was holding forth after shooting a brilliant, seven-under-par 65 Thursday for a three-stroke lead in the first round of the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament.

Trevino, a heavy favorite to add this national title to his collection of British, American and Canadian Open crowns, didn't miss a fairway and didn't miss a green in his stunning effort over the 7,174-yard Club de Golf course, called by many pros one of the world's best.

"I said when I came in here I'd like to shoot 10 or 14 under for the tournament," the 31-year-old Trevino grinned. "Well, I'm on my way."

He put together his remarkable effort despite a bogey on the first hole. He three-putted when a cameraman jumped in his line as he was making his second shot.

"That got me hot," he said, "but it really got me going. I told myself, 'You've got 71 more holes to play and you might shoot 10 in nothing. So I just calmed down.'"

Three strokes back and tied for second in the American-dominated event were Rocky Thompson and veteran Billy Maxwell, along with Mexico's Juan Neri and Ernesto Perez Acosta and Angel Gallardo of Spain.

R.H. Sikes had a 69 with four regulars Bob Rosburgh and Larry Ziegler and club pro Jim Barker of San Antonio, Tex., at 70.

THOMASVILLE, N.C. (AP) — It was nothing new to Wake Forest basketball coach Jack McCloskey when he was stopped Wednesday by Thomasville police.

He was leaving the city, heading for Winston-Salem, home of Wake Forest, after addressing a Thomasville civic club. In his talk, he had referred to two previous visits to Thomasville when he was stopped by traffic officers. Both times he was let off with a warning, he said, and both times he had promised himself he would drive more carefully.

As he started out of the city Wednesday there was that familiar blue flashing light in his mirror, and a patrol car pulled him over to the curb.

The officer asked several questions, then wrote on a ticket: "Welcome to Thomasville and return again soon."

About that time several members of the civic club drove up and confessed that University of North Carolina fans in the club had staged the prank.

Goliad Edges Lamar, 2-0, For Fourth Football Win

SNYDER — Gary Hopper and Greg Halfman teamed up to tackle an opposing back in the end zone in the third period and that was all Big Spring Goliad needed to topple Snyder Lamar, 2-0, in an eighth grade football game here Thursday.

Lamar had edged Goliad, 6-0, in a previous game at Big Spring. This time, the Snyder team couldn't get inside Goliad's 25 and coach Donald Lightfoot of the Mavericks said this was his team's finest defensive show.

Now 45 on the year, Goliad can assure itself of a 500 season by beating Big Spring Runnels next week.

He had eight birdies, twice hitting from 12 feet, twice from eight and scoring a two-putt birdie on the par five second. He wedged to four feet on the sixth hole and closed with birdies on his last two, running in a 20 foot putt on the 17th and tapping in from three feet after a beautiful pitching wedge shot on the 18th.

On offense, running back Jerry Marquez, QB Mark Moore and guards Davis Buchanan and Scott Robb played well for Goliad.

On defense, Jerry Currie, Juan Mauricio, Mike Coffee and Paul Neighbors excelled.

Neither team completed a pass and Goliad had one picked off by the opposition. Big Spring made seven first downs, Lamar five. The Mavericks wound up with 89 yards rushing, Lamar 72.

Over 200 Delta Kappa Gammas Expected For Workshop

Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will host a regional DKG workshop Saturday at Big Spring High School which is expected to draw approximately 200 members from Midland, Odessa, Stanton, Snyder, Big Spring and other area towns.

Honored participants will be Mrs. John Ward of San Angelo, area director, as well as two other regional directors, Miss Virginia Grove of Snyder and Miss Sarah Miltia Hill of Eldorado.

The meeting will begin with a President's Breakfast at Holiday Inn at 7:30 a.m., with registration to begin at 8:30 a.m. in the high school foyer. Workshop programs will be held in the high school auditorium from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m., breaking for a luncheon in the school cafeteria at 12:15 p.m. Mrs. Cass Hill, local chapter president, will preside and introduce Mrs. Ward as the luncheon speaker. Mrs. B. M. Keese will give the invocation, and music will be by Mrs. Carl Bradley, vocalist, and Mrs. William T. McRee, pianist.

"Let it Begin With Me" will be the workshop theme. The program agenda and chapters in charge are "Improving Self Concepts," Theta Tau Chapter, Wink; "Adapting to Change," Delta Phi Chapter, Andrews; "We Do Care," Delta Iota Chapter and Theta Mu Chapter, Odessa; "Civic Involvement," Zeta Xi Chapter and Epsilon Eta Chapter, Midland; and music by Zeta Kappa Chapter, Odessa. Miss Faye Middlebrooks will be music director, and Mrs.

Mary Hornberck will serve as accompanist.

Local women who are heading the arrangements committees are Mrs. E. Y. Buckner and Miss Helen Willard, morning coffee; Mrs. Eulalia Mitchell, registration; and Mrs. Jack Alexander and Mrs. Dawson DeViney, luncheon.

Mrs. Ward, director of the West Texas-El Paso area, is a member of the English faculty at Angelo State University and was formerly a professor of English at Sul Ross State University. She holds a BA degree in Spanish from Texas Woman's University and an MA degree in English from Hardin-Simmons University. She has done work in the doctoral field of Ward's DKG experiences include holding various chapter, regional and state offices. Other than holding membership in various professional organizations, she is a past state officer for the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs which named her "Texas Teacher of the Year" in 1958. She was named Aspermont's outstanding citizen in 1962.

Miss Grove, a mathematics teacher in Snyder High School, at Texas Tech University. Mrs. received her BA and MA degrees from East Texas University and is currently president of District 14, Texas State Teachers Association. She has been a DKG leader on the state level for a number of years.

Miss Hill is a former state president of DKG and has also served in other capacities for the state organization. A graduate of Texas Woman's University and Columbia University, she retired in 1961 after teaching art in public schools, West Texas University and Sul Ross State College. She is a past president of the Big Bend Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution and served as president General of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas from 1963 to 1965.

Costume Prizes

Costume prizes were awarded to Tony Lane and Todd Trice when the Civitans and Civinettes sponsored a weiner roast for children Saturday evening at the Webb AFB pavilion. Mrs. Robert Askew announced that the group will hold a garage sale Saturday and Sunday at 510 Dallas to raise funds for charitable projects.

Honored At New Home

Mrs. Leon Mense, 401 College, Coahoma, was honored at a housewarming party Monday evening in her home. About 50 friends and relatives were present, and Mrs. Mense was presented with an avocado green table cloth.

The Menses, long-time residents of Coahoma, recently moved into their new home. He is employed by a local oil company, and Mrs. Mense works as a clerk at the post office.

The serving table was centered with a basket of apples, pine cones and other fall items. Ironstone appointments were used. Hostesses were Mrs. Jack Taylor, Mrs. Bill Tanner, Mrs. Eddie Engle and Mrs. Frank Griffith.

Mrs. Keith Hamilton Honored At Shower

Mrs. Keith Hamilton, the former Nancy Oppgard, was honored with a gift shower Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Alton Marwitz, 1611 Osage.

Hostesses were Mrs. Norman Backs, Mrs. Leroy Budke, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. A. A. Graumann, Mrs. Ralph Hadley, Mrs. H. T. Hansen, Mrs. Albert Hohertz, Mrs. Frank Long, Mrs. A. Marwitz and Mrs. James Swisher.

The honoree was presented a corsage of yellow carnations. Similar corsages were presented to her mother, Mrs.

Moran Oppgard, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lynn Hamilton of Loraine and his grandmothers, Mrs. C. C. Hamilton of Loraine and Mrs. W. R. Bowlin of Snyder.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white cloth and centered with an epergne arranged with yellow pompon mums interspersed with greenery and yellow tapers. A milk glass punch service was used, and other table appointments were of milk glass and silver. The white cake was decorated with yellow confection roses to carry out the chosen bridal colors.

Out-of-town guests were the honoree's sister, Mrs. John O'Brien of Manhattan, Kan.; Mrs. S. R. McBeth, Andrews; and Mrs. H. E. McBeth, Kim McBeth and Amber McBeth, all of Seminole.

WMS Told Of Mission In Israel

Mrs. Dalton Johnston discussed "Unconventional Witnessing" for the Women's Missionary Society, Baptist Temple, Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Mary Dunn, 1702 Lincoln. In particular, Mrs. Johnston outlined work being done in Israel.

"There are over two million Jewish people in Israel," said Mrs. Johnston, "but Southern Baptist Churches do missionary work in local schools and churches in cooperation with the Jewish instructors."

One orphanage in Israel is for both Arab and Jewish children, which Mrs. Johnston said helps mutual understanding between the two races. The teaching of vocational training and fundamentals of education help overcome barriers between the races as well.

Mrs. N. R. Garrett, prayer chairman, urged concern for missionaries through daily prayers and contributions to those assigned at home and abroad.

Mrs. Alpha Page announced a workshop will be held at 10 a.m., Nov. 12 at Midway Baptist Church. Mrs. Sylvester Reed, Cleburne, will conduct the workshops.

Prayers were by Mrs. Otto Couch and Mrs. W. S. Warren. The next meeting is at 9:30 a.m., Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Bob Wren.

Club Sees Fashions From Hemphill-Wells

"Any length is the correct length now," said Mrs. Joe Gunning, a buyer for Hemphill-Wells, as she narrated a style show for members of International Women's Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. J. P. Stroud.

Fashions modeled by Mrs. Wade Choate and Mrs. Jerry Spence included hostess gowns, evening dresses, daytime wear and lingerie. Several mink pieces were also shown, including a mid-length, cape-style coat with black leather accents.

Mrs. Gunning said, "It is very important to wear the right clothes at the right time. Accepted length varies according to a particular outfit."

Two new members at the meeting were Mrs. Ronald Kinney and Mrs. Steve Cicardo, both of Germany. Farewell wishes were extended to Mrs. Georges Lambert who is returning to Belgium with her husband Nov. 19.

Slates Workshop For 'Mary Kay'

About 150 consultants and directors of Mary Kay Cosmetics are expected at an area workshop from 1 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday at Holiday Inn.

Principal speakers will be Mrs. Dalene White of Dallas, regional director; and Mrs. Stella Nowlan of Phoenix, Ariz., senior director.

Techniques of applying makeup and special care for problem skin will be discussed. Mary Kay is a water base makeup based on use of four items daily and a facial mask twice a week.

ABWA Members View Slides Of Holy Land

Mrs. Huey Rogers showed slides taken during her trip to the Holy Land for Scenic Chapter, American Business Women's Association, Tuesday evening at Ramada Inn.

During the narration, Mrs. Rogers described architecture of old churches and showed many fountains and formal gardens. She showed slides of the "Way of the Cross" and explained the fourteen points of important events to Christians, saying each point is marked by a church or chapel.

Miss Marie McDonald announced that Ace Reid paintings will be displayed Nov. 11 at Heritage Museum. Discussion of the ABWA national convention held recently in Anaheim, Calif., was given by Mrs. Billie Baron and Mrs. Jerry Dietz, chapter delegates. The national study theme is "Progress Through Change".

Mrs. Donald Jay McCray gave a vocational talk concerning her work at the Webb AFB Beauty Shop. "Changing hair fashions make it an exciting occupation," she said.

Prayers were by Mrs. Gene Haston and Mrs. Herman Taylor. Guests included Mrs. Ray Marquez and Mrs. Arthur Huff.

Baptists Mark Day Of Prayer

"World Day of Prayer" was observed by Baptist Women at Westside Baptist Church Monday morning. Mrs. J. W. Trantham outlined the purpose of the Baptist World Alliance.

"Praying and giving shows concern," said Mrs. Mary Riddle, "and also honors Christ and strengthens Baptist witnessing in the world." Mrs. Leroy Minchew discussed study, action, sharing and concern as illustrated through the BWA, noting progress of some countries in overcoming illiteracy with the help of missionaries.

HCJC PLANS WIG COURSE

Howard County Junior College has announced a wig styling course beginning Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. in the nursing building. There will be a $10 charge for the course which will consist of six class meetings. Mrs. Mary Haight will be the instructor. Further information can be obtained by calling Dr. Charles Hays, 267-6311.

Grady Kennedy Visits In Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Grady Kennedy of DeKalb and his son-in-law and daughter, the Dewayne Whites of Kilgore, are visiting the Don Murphys and the Paul Kennedys.

The Archie Riffes went to Galveston Friday to pick up their son, David Ray, a patient at John Sealy Hospital. They were accompanied by Mrs. John Riffe.

The Ikey Joe Hares and son of Dallas recently visited her parents, the W. E. Heidamans, as well as the Jack Lambs and the Van Gastons.

Jack Lamb is in Lubbock attending a course in water management.

Guests of the John Kubeckas are the Bristow Dunns of San Angelo.

Joe B. Soard was dismissed Monday from Veterans Administration Hospital.

Clogs Popular For Transition

Clogs are still a big thing on the transition fashion scene, especially with hot pants and bright colored stockings. Clogs are extremely comfortable and wearing them is good exercise for the legs.
