IRA Rescues 'Doll' From Hooded Gang

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — The Irish Republican Army rescued a girl today from a gang of hooded women who were going to shear her head and tar it for fraternizing with British soldiers.
She would have been the fourth victim this week of the Women's Revenge Group, a masked band operating in the Bogside and other Roman Catholic sections of Londonderry, Northern Ireland's second largest city.
The girl's name was not disclosed. A group of hooded women took her from her home and bundled her into a car, but an IRA squad took her away from them and brought her back home.
The Catholic guerrilla army battling to reunite Northern Ireland with the Irish Republic denied earlier that it was responsible for the treatment of the three girls whose heads were clipped and tarred before street mobs earlier this week.
One of the trio, 19-year-old Marta Doherty, was to be married today to Pvt. John Larter, the British soldier for whom she was humiliated. She was in hiding, and there were reports that the wedding might be held secretly in the army's Ebrington Barracks.
The Women's Revenge Group threatened Thursday night to shear and tar 30 more "soldiers' dolls." A male spokesman for the group charged that the troops were plying the girls with liquor and extracting information from them.

Feverish Fans Ready For Game

COAHOMA — Football fans had the fever in a big way here today in anticipation of the crucial game with Crane here this evening.
By noon today a number of fans had put their stadium seats and blankets in the bleachers to stake out claims to a seat because there are no reserved seats. In addition, many were parking their cars around the field so that they, too, might have a vantage spot assured. Officials fully expected fans to begin taking their places in the stands long before sundown.

'Fake Bomber' Cheats Bank

DALLAS (AP) — Teller Gloria Palmer, 37, handed over an undisclosed amount of cash Thursday to a robber who passed a fake bomb through her drive-in window at the First Citizens Bank.
The bandit, well dressed and apparently in his 40s, escaped in a bright sports car after the 6:30 p.m. holdup in Northeast Dallas.
Officers said a note with the package given the teller warned that an explosive in a bottle would blow up at any moment. Experts found, however, that the harmless device consisted only of two flashlight batteries attached to a bottle of clear liquid.

'Pow, Pow, You're Dead'

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A child found a pistol in a headboard of a bed in his home and pointed it at a neighbor, saying "Pow, Pow," police reported.
The 23-month-old boy, Stephen Y. Morgan Jr., then dropped the gun and the neighbor, a 24-year-old man, thinking it was a toy, picked it up to playfully "shoot him back," police said.
The .22 caliber pistol fired, hit the youngster in the forehead, and killed him.
Police said it was an accident and no charges would be filed. The name of the neighbor was not disclosed.

He Survives Bridge Plunge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Harry Harrington, the eighth person in history to survive a plunge off the Golden Gate Bridge, was in critical condition today.
Harrington, a 36-year-old Internal Revenue Service employee who lives in nearby Pacifica, went over the rail at the span's south tower Thursday, police said.
At Mission Emergency Hospital his ruptured spleen was removed in surgery and a spokesman said he also suffered extensive liver and chest injuries. He is in the hospital's intensive care unit.
Harrington's leap was the 435th known to have taken place off the bridge since it was opened in 1937.
Of the seven who lived before him, two died soon afterward of their injuries. Five survived.

SPOKANE SHOOTING SPREE

Youth 'Killed By LSD'

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — "My son Larry is dead. Killed by police bullets, the record will say. But he was not killed by bullets, he was killed by LSD," said E. Glenn Harmon.
In a written statement Thursday night, Harmon expressed his feelings about his brilliant son. The father said LSD had turned the youth into a religious fanatic who believed "Christ was an imposter."
Police gave this account of a fatal rampage by Larry, 21, earlier Thursday:
SHOT BY POLICE
The young man entered St. Aloysius Roman Catholic church on the campus of Gonzaga University here, carrying a 22-caliber rifle and a sledge hammer.
After doing thousands of dollars damage to statues and old Italian marble altars with the sledge hammer, he shot and killed Hilary M. Kunz, a 69-year-old caretaker.
Larry left the church and fired the rifle in several directions. Michael J. Clark, 18, suffered a serious wound in the back. Less seriously wounded were Robert D. Schroeder, 17, Robert A. Fees, 63, and Thomas C. Brass, 24.
BRIGHT BOY
Young Harmon died a few feet from the church after being shot by police.
Larry's teachers later said he was the brightest mathematics student ever to attend high schools here. His father, a prominent attorney who considered Larry to be a budding nuclear physicist, said the youth had scored a perfect 100 points in the math portion of a nationwide preuniversity exam and finished in the top one-half of one per cent nationally in the over-all test.

Larry went to Massachusetts Institute of Technology to study nuclear physics.
Harmon said friends induced Larry to try marijuana. Then, on his 18th birthday, "he took a half of a pill which his friends told him was LSD." The elder Harmon said Larry had "incredible hallucinations ... a bad trip."
Harmon said Larry tried more LSD a few days later and the hallucinations returned.
MERCY, MERCY
"He met and talked to the devil in hell," Harmon said. Later young Harmon picked up the Bible and became fanatical about it, the father said.
"May God have mercy on his soul," Harmon said. "And may God have mercy on those who caused the deaths he brought to others."
"But, most of all, may God have mercy on a country in which such things can happen with not enough concern for others than those who are destroyed by that 'wonderful mind expanding drug' LSD."

Five Robbery Suspects Are Being Held

SWEETWATER — An armed robbery was reported to the police station here this morning, however, quick action on the part of law enforcement agencies both here and in Colorado City resulted in the apprehension of the alleged robbers.
A hitchhiker was reported to have been stopped on IS 20 eight miles east of Sweetwater by a carload of men. Police here reported that the men in the car relieved the man at gunpoint of all of his money, an approximate $300.
Shortly after the robbery, the man was able to get a ride into the city and notified the police department of the incident.
"We got the message out to Colorado City law enforcement agencies that the carload of men were driving west on IS 20 and they set up a roadblock," a police dispatcher said this morning.
Sheriff's office personnel in Colorado City reported that a Highway Patrol unit passed the car on the west side of Sweetwater and notified the roadblock that the car was approaching. The men were apprehended by Mitchell County deputies.
The five suspects were being held at the Mitchell County jail for questioning at noon, and authorities from here were en route to Colorado City with warrants for the arrest of the men.

'Red Wig' Bandit Holds Up Bank

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — A woman wearing a red wig and driving a red Volkswagen fled with an undetermined amount of money today after holding up the City National Bank in downtown Wichita Falls.
The robbery occurred about 11:20 a.m. when the woman drove the small foreign car up to a drive-in window of the bank and demanded money.

Price Board Approves Guides For Cost Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Price Commission says frozen prices will be thawed just enough after Saturday to make up for new increases in business costs.
That is the core of a complex cluster of price guidelines announced Thursday and aimed at keeping the average of all post-freeze price increases down to 2.5 per cent or less.
Meanwhile, the Pay Board completed work Thursday night on regulations to implement pay policies after the freeze ends at 12:01 a.m. Sunday. The regulations, built around a general 5.5-per-cent ceiling on pay increases, will be published in the Federal Register Saturday.

The Price Commission also announced:
—Rents will remain frozen for the time being on existing homes and apartments.
—Retailers must display conspicuous lists of freeze-level prices of food and some other items where customers can compare them with new prices.
—Profit margins may not increase after the freeze.
—Prices will be discounted for any increases in worker productivity.
—Scheduled increases in utility rates may, in many cases, go into effect when the freeze ends at 12:01 a.m. Sunday.
However, earlier scheduled increases in steel and auto prices probably will have to be junked unless they can be justified to the commission. Ford Motor Co. Chairman Henry Ford II said Thursday he will seek permission for appropriate price increases after studying the new guidelines.
The commission's policy statement does not mean that all prices will increase by 2.5 per cent. "This means that some prices will go down. Some will not increase at all. Some will," said Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson.
The aim is to get the average of all price increases to that level, he said. If that doesn't happen, some changes will be made.
The same basic rule was laid down for manufacturers, retailers, wholesalers, service industries and professionals: The only price increases to be allowed are those that can be justified by cost increases or decreases in productivity, and which do not increase the profit portion of the pre-tax sales dollar.

SPOT CHECKS
For the 10 million smallest firms that account for half America's sales this rule will be enforced only by Internal Revenue Service spot checks and watchful customers. Bigger firms will be monitored by government, with the 1,300 largest corporations required to get advance approval of any price increases.
Meanwhile, Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns said he expects the Pay Board's 5.5-per-cent guideline to be reduced as price increases level off next year.
"I do not think we can stand an increase in wages of 5.5 per cent indefinitely," Burns told Wall Street leaders in New York Thursday night.

Nixon Nominates Butz To Agriculture Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has nominated a former Eisenhower administration official to lead the nation's farmers to the prosperity he promised during the 1968 campaign.
The President accepted the resignation of Agriculture Secretary Clifford M. Hardin Thursday and picked former Asst. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz for the Cabinet post.
Administration officials made no reference to any political reasons for the change in command. White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler was quick to announce Hardin's resignation was totally unrelated to problems of surplus corn and depressed farm prices.
GOP strategists recently had been showing concern about sagging Republican fortunes among Midwestern farmers.
The area went heavily for Nixon in 1968 after he promised to improve the parity ratio but the Republicans lost several congressional contests in the Farm Belt in 1970.
Nixon also disclosed he has abandoned a plan to abolish the Agriculture Department.
Under the proposed scheme, major activities of the department would have been absorbed by a proposed Department of Economic Development that would have taken on a number of other functions from the present departments of Labor, Transportation and Commerce.
Hardin is the fifth original Cabinet member to leave since Nixon took office. His resignation had long been predicted in government circles. Hardin said he was leaving to accept a job as vice chairman of the Ralston Purina Co. in St. Louis.

'THAW' TIME Some Stores Don't Comply With Ruling

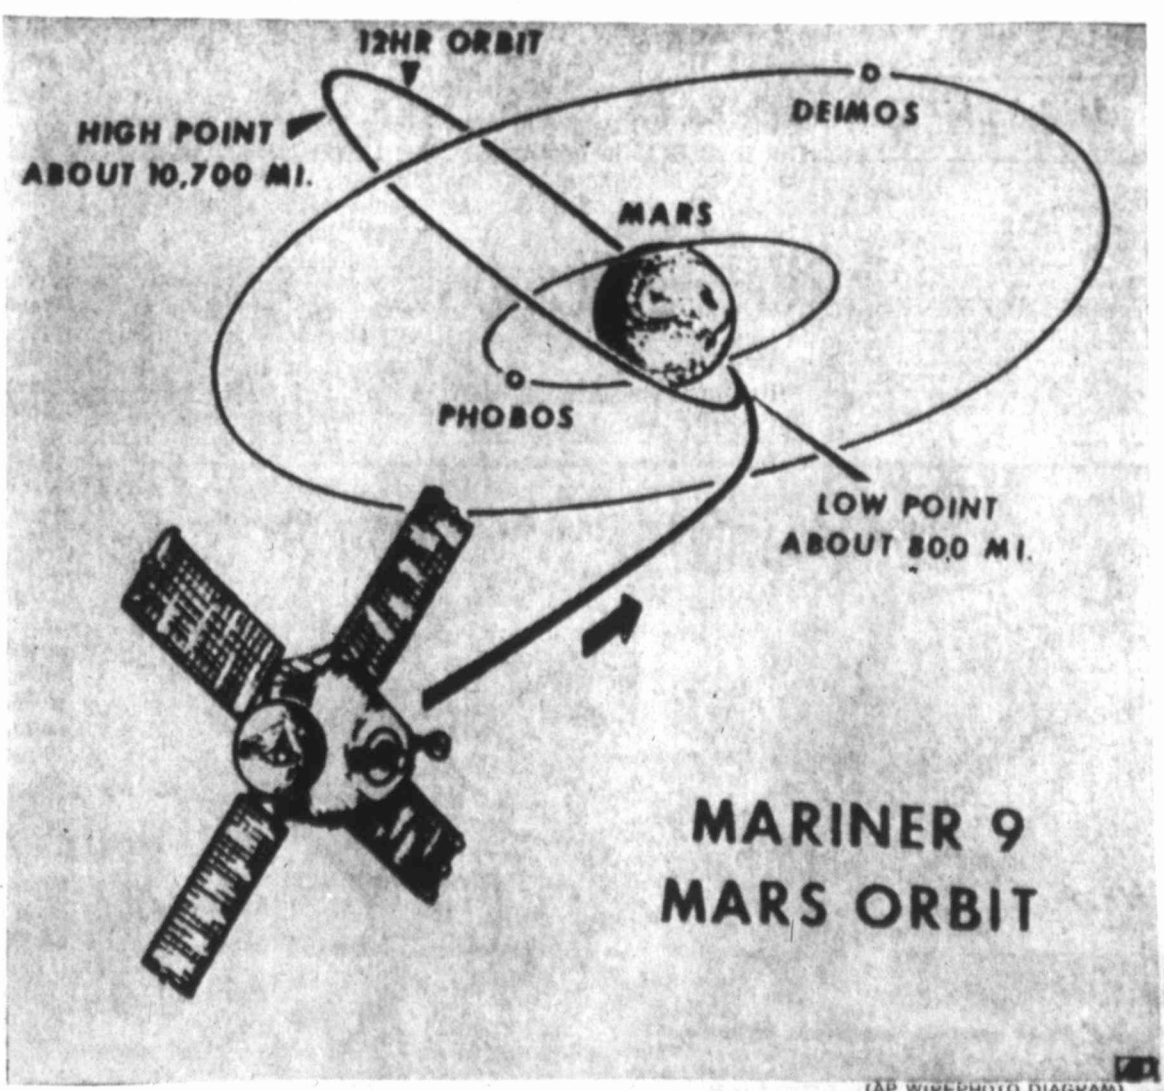

Prices "thaw" Sunday at 12:01 a.m. with wholesale and retail sellers being monitored only by spot checks and citizen complaints.
In October the Office of Emergency Preparedness announced that merchants must have posted a list of ceiling prices available for public inspection by Nov. 1, 1971, although locally a spot check showed that several merchants had not complied by Nov. 1.
The OEP ruled that the ceiling price list may be a single master list for the entire establishment or separate lists of ceiling prices for each section or department of the store.
Two local grocers have chosen an alternate method. Emil Clemens, manager of Foodway, said his store furnishes forms on which the consumer requests prices for the items he's interested in. The store then sends the forms to the main office for approval. Piggy Wiggy uses a similar ceiling price information request form.
Although not yet available, Giant Discount Food Store No. 1 and Safeway will furnish a pass book of grocery, drug and market products, according to Pete Howell, manager. Newsom manager C. G. Evans and Tommy Thompson, manager of Furr's, said their stores will provide their ceiling price book upon request with no forms to fill out.
The ceiling price lists will enable Big Spring shoppers to check for price rises.

Arthritis March Scheduled Sunday

The Big Spring-Howard County Arthritis Foundation Victory March against arthritis, will be held Sunday.
Volunteers from all over the city will participate in the drive to raise money for research on the disease that affects 50 million Americans to some degree.
Block leaders have been chosen in most areas of Big Spring and the FHA groups will work in the communities outside of Big Spring.
The fund drive this year is headed by Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. The organization volunteered to spearhead the drive, and Mrs. Tom Warren, Mu Zeta president, is acting as chairman of the Victory March.
"We have been working out of our headquarters since Oct. 11," said Mrs. Warren. "We have a lot of volunteer's working on this, and we expect to do well. Some of the volunteers who will be unable to march Sunday have already begun collecting."
The chairman of the Big Spring-Howard County Arthritis Foundation, Dr. W. A. Riley, said, "The research on arthritis is very close to finding some solutions to at least some of the problems of the disease. We very much need the funds raised in drives such as this if the research is to continue and be successful. Arthritis is a disease that affects one out of every 11 Americans. I hope all Big Springs will help with this effort to raise money to continue the much needed research in arthritis."

Police Recording System Held Up For Radio Changes

A grant of $2,134 to initiate our station receiving multi-frequency radios," said Leo Hull, captain of the services police department is being held up in lieu of a technological breakthrough in the communications field, whereby multi-frequency radios will be produced for law enforcement agencies, according to police officials Thursday.

The grant was received by then Acting Chief Stanley Bogard and was to have been incorporated into the local agency's telephone and communications system during September, to improve inner-departmental communications and communications with other law enforcement agencies.

"We have held up work on the new system, because of the possibility of multi-frequency radios in the near future," said Melvin Daratt, warrant officer and communications head at the local station. He also said that it is not feasible to incorporate only a portion of the program on the telephone system and not on the radio.

"We still have the money from the grant available, but will wait on the possibility of the new system, because of the possibility of multi-frequency radios in the near future," said Melvin Daratt, warrant officer and communications head at the local station. He also said that it is not feasible to incorporate only a portion of the program on the telephone system and not on the radio.

Officials Check Rumors Of Glasscock Hepatitis

ST. LAWRENCE — Confirmed cases of hepatitis have been reported from here and the surrounding areas, which possibly might pose a problem for visitors who attended the Fall Festival last Sunday.

According to sources here, confirmed cases of the disease were noted as much as two weeks before the annual Fall Festival and there might be a chance that the communicable sickness was spread to some of the food served and the tables prepared here for the festival.

Only one case of hepatitis has been reported to the Howard County Health Unit. "Multiple cases of the disease in the St. Lawrence area have not been confirmed at this unit, because we have had only one case reported from the Garden City community, and we are not sure that the child with the sickness was from the St. Lawrence area proper," Buck Kirksey, county health officer, said today.

Sources here also reported that the sickness has mainly broken out among the youth, and rumors that more cases are being confirmed in the San Angelo, Midland, Big Spring areas were unfounded Friday.

"If people, who attended the festival, are worried, they should contact their family physicians, and explain the situation for advice on the possibility of getting medication in advance," Kirksey said.

No cases of the ailment among the workers, who prepared the German style sausage, or food has been reported. Sources did indicate that some of the young people, currently down with the disease, may have assisted in serving food or waited on the tables.

Pay Of State's Profs Top National Average

AUSTIN (AP) — Professors' salaries at Texas' public colleges have risen past the national average, but professors too often are still bogged down in paperwork, says a special legislative committee.

The committee on faculty compensation said, however, that salaries for college professors in Texas have risen on the average to 7 per cent above the national pay scale.

The committee said Texas' 22 public senior colleges and universities spent $17.9 million on administration and student services in the fiscal year starting Sept. 1, 1970.

This was from a total appropriation of $256.4 million.

"Our greatest effort and most of the resources available should be channeled into the teaching function rather than the administrative function of our colleges," the committee said.

It added that "use of teaching personnel for administrative detail should be held to a minimum so that the faculty members can devote all of their time to their primary purpose, that of teaching and research."

It was the six-member committee's third report since it was created in 1965 and resulted from meetings in 1969-70 at Texas Southern University in Houston, Lamar State at Beaumont and Texas A&M.

The committee said "many faculty members" testified that "more and more use of their time was being used for routine paperwork" demanded by colleges administrators.

Scout 'Together' Project Over Goal

Ray Newton's "Together" project exceeded its goal in organizing new Scouting units, the Lone Star District was informed Thursday.

Instead of two units, three were organized, said Jack Alexander, district chairman. These were Wesley Methodist (which already has had two meetings), First Presbyterian (which is recruiting leadership), and First Christian (which has approved the step). Reeves Moren also drew praise for securing underwriters for the project.

Immediate emphasis is being placed upon the district camporee Nov. 19-21, and upon the annual district banquet Dec. 2 at HCJC. Ralph Beckham, camporee chairman, urged troops to get in their registrations promptly; for the banquet, Monty Stokes pleaded for reservations by Nov. 24.

The banquet, said Harvey Hooser, advancement chairman, will be a means of honoring boys who have attained the rank of Eagle during the past year.

Don Myers, leadership training chairman, said that four adults have completed Scout basic training and six others will qualify in makeup sessions. The Cub training program still is getting good attendance, reported Monty Stokes, district executive.

The district had four teams of Explorers in the recent rally at Odessa, reported Bill Fryrear. He said prospect of a conservation post now is encouraging.

Construction Falls
Below Moving

A couple of months ago, city building officials thought they detected residential construction straws in the wind. Although seven residential permits surfaced in September, it is ironical that more permits were granted in October for moving houses out of town than for building new ones. October had no new residential permits; yet there were six granted for moving houses.

New apartment buildings have been constructed and are being planned for the city. Contractor D. D. Johnston, toward the end of September, finished a small complex of apartments in the 1700 block of Goliad. These apartments were quickly filled, Johnston reported.

Johnston also plans to build another larger complex in that same block on Nolan. Also Reeder and Associates are handling papers for an Austin firm planning a large 96-unit complex to be constructed on Wasson Road, across Connally Street from Marcy Elementary School, but construction of the apartments is not due to begin until next year.

According to Bill Estes, of Reeder's, all moving of houses that are Federal Housing Administration repossessions will stop after October. Most FHA repossessed houses in the city are concentrated in the Monticello Addition.

"Instead of selling these houses to the first bidder for moving, the FHA will remodel the residences and put them on the market for sale," Estes said. Some FHA houses on the north part of town will be sold as is, he said.

One product of a growing demand for housing, is that it reflects that the city is on a growing trend once again, officials said.

Only 24 building permits were issued for October, compared to 26 that were issued in October, 1970. Total construction this last month stood at $22,825, a considerable drop from $50,025 logged this time last year and $75,562 recorded in September.

Year-to-date figures for construction cost in 1971 stand at $928,805 for 276 permits issued, an increase over $747,799 at this time last year for a total of 214 permits issued.

A number of permits — 59 electrical, six plumbing and 39 gas — were issued by the inspectors in October. Year-to-date figures in these categories read 533 electrical, 125 plumbing and 287 gas permits issued so far this year.

Considerably lower, only 359 electrical, 120 plumbing and 180 gas permits had been issued at this time in 1970.

Guild Installs Officers, Schedules Christmas Tea

The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First United Methodist Church met Monday evening in the church parlor, with Mrs. B. M. Keese presiding.

Officers for 1972 were installed by Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, guild coordinator. She used the theme "Ignite, Instruct, Inspire" as the duties of guild officers.

She urged the officers to seek to — ignite others with a spirit of mission and duty; instruct by teaching truth; and inspire by living exemplary lives. She urged prayer as a means of fulfillment of the mission and to inspire enthusiasm as officers.

Officers installed were Mrs. B. M. Keese, president; Mrs. Cass Hill, vice president; Edith Gay, secretary; and Mrs. W. E. Moren, treasurer.

Following installation of officers, Mrs. Moren conducted the pledge service wherein members make their pledge for the guild's financial commitments for the year.

In other business $50.00 was allocated for purchase of life membership pins, and the purchase of a sewing machine for the Westside Center was approved. Members were also asked to give miscellaneous items such as margarine "tub" containers and soft-drink ring-pull tabs to Mrs. Caleb Hildebrand for use in the center's arts and crafts classes.

Dec. 19, the Women's Society of Christian Service will hold its Christmas tea in the church Fellowship Hall. Young people of the church will present a special program for the tea.

Power Firm
Sues To Block
Interference

GALVESTON (AP) — Houston Lighting & Power Co. filed Thursday a federal suit seeking to overturn a massive government program—based on an 1899 law—which seeks to control water pollution.

The suit seeks to enjoin the Environmental Protection Agency from interfering with the construction of the company's huge new Cedar Bayou generating plant at Baytown, Tex.

It also asks U. S. District Court Judge James Noel to rule unconstitutional a plan ordered by President Nixon last Dec. 23 requiring all industries to obtain a permit before discharging any wastes into navigable waters, using a basis the 1899 Refuse Act.

The suit charged that the presidential order illegally transferred authority for administering the permits from the secretary of the army and the Corps of Engineers to the EPA.

Permits are being issued by the corps, but the EPA has veto power over any permit it believes would harm the environment.

The suit said the EPA has made it plain that it would never approve a discharge permit for the 5 million kilowatt Cedar Bayou plant in which the power company has already invested $117 million.

EPA officials, the suit charges, are acting "beyond their statutory and constitutional authority" in opposing a 2,600-acre cooling pond which the utility says will abate thermal pollution of Trinity Bay.

'Good Neighbor'
Always Wanted
To Deliver Baby

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Frank Martin has delivered her first baby and drew on practical experience while doing so—she got her basic know-how from watching a television talk show.

"Gee, I've always wanted to deliver a baby," Mrs. Martin told her husband as they watched the Dick Cavett show Tuesday night and listened to true or false questions about delivering a baby.

She got her chance at 7 a.m. the next morning when neighbor Robert Walsh rushed over to the Martin home to report his wife Terry, who had gone through false labor three times, really meant it this time.

While Walsh called for a doctor and an ambulance, Linda Martin handled the delivery—muddling through with the help of the TV advice—and now mother and daughter are doing fine.

Ethics Code Vague

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has delivered a stinging attack on the new state officials code of ethics and, in effect, invited a court test of the code.

Martin, who said he never was consulted on the bill and did not see the final version until it had been passed, had a variety of strong words for the code and the Legislature.

Originally, the code was to govern state officials. In its closing-hour haste to pass the bill, the Legislature allowed amendments to broaden the act to include an apparently unlimited number of local officials and employees.

This act-in-haste and let the courts remedy the resulting mess appears to be the specialty of the house in Austin. Better leadership, allowing time for full consideration of important measures, is needed. Too many vital bills are left to be pushed through in the final-hour crush.

Martin said the bill is too broad and could cause school board members, city councilmen, members of state commissions and other part-time workers who have some faint connection to the state to make "unreasonable financial reports to the secretary of state."

Further, the secretary of state's office said it doesn't know just who the code applies to, and said perhaps 300,000 annual filings could be required. Naturally, the Legislature made no provision for the office to handle the mass of reports.

The code should be tested in court to see if its provisions are constitutional and enforceable. The purported aim of the code of ethics act was to help state officials conduct themselves in an ethical manner and to disclose possible conflicts of interest. But two of the 12-member State Ethics Commission could bar investigation of any legislator, under the code. This leaves a wide loophole, and one deep enough to bog almost any investigation.

Why Not A $3 Bill?

Rep. Seymour Halpern has introduced a bill to resurrect the $2 bill, with a portrait of early-day suffragette Susan B. Anthony replacing Thomas Jefferson on its face.

Some women libbers objected to the "empty honor" of the proposal, but there are some practical aspects too. Rep. Bella Abzug noted that $2 bills attract attention. Also, the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, which prints money, said it could save $2 million a year by replacing half the $1 bills that are printed with bills worth twice that much.

On those terms, why not a $3 bill? That will presumably save even more money, feature a woman and attract a lot of attention. Besides, the dollar, like the nickel, won't buy much of anything these days.

Soft-Headedness

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12 — In this federal city, where the latest sport seems to be raping and murdering 82-year-old women, usually by thugs equipped with handguns, it is discouraging to learn what happens to persons convicted of illegally carrying these handy weapons.

NOT MUCH, according to a Metropolitan Police survey. In fact, says the survey, nearly two out of every three of these "sportsmen" somehow manage to escape a jail sentence. This, in a state and asphalt jungle where there already have been 236 homicides so far this year, surpassing last year's total of 230 and threatening the record high of 292 in 1969.

From July 1 through Sept. 30, 1970, there were 379 persons arrested on charges of carrying an illegal or unlicensed pistol — an average of more than four arrests a day. Only 157 suspects were convicted, and of that number only 54 were given prison sentences while 92 were placed on probation and 11 were fined.

"THIS EXTRAORDINARY statistic," said Geoffrey M. Alprin, general counsel for the police department, "may be the chief reason why carrying a pistol without a license is not viewed throughout the criminal justice system as a serious crime." What Alprin would say if he dared is that Hell City, like so many jurisdictions across the country, is cursed with too many soft-headed judges, aided and abetted by assorted bleeders in the guise of "social workers."

LET US consider one example out of many of the incredible leniency practiced by Hell City's judges. Recently a gunman invaded a Capitol Hill home, tied up a man and two women, forced two other women to disrobe, raped one, and then fled with $75 when the second escaped, still nude, into the street.

The suspect was arrested a couple of days later. At a hearing before Magistrate Lawrence Margolis, the prosecution urged that the defendant be placed in protective detention on the grounds that, while still a juvenile, said defendant had been charged with three prior offenses involving rape and robbery and was in effect on probation. Nope, said Margolis, and thereupon set bail at $50,000.

IT IS TRUE, of course, that the suspect had little hope of raising $50,000. The victims told police their assailant was armed with a handgun. This makes the crime a felony, even in Hell City. And even if the suspect was innocent in that particular case, his record makes of him a man a judge would release only at society's peril. Alas, I fear that is the kind of case thoughtful opponents of gun control legislation will employ to bolster their arguments.

IT STRENGTHENS the position of the anti-gun control lobby that controls would penalize only the law-abiding citizen. President Nixon and Chief Justice Burger may have something when they proclaim that what the country needs most in the battle against crime is tougher judges — judges who judge instead of moonlighting as mother's helpers.

HEARING AID

Paper World In Action

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Millions of Americans spend a lifetime either bucking or backing the system. Those who fight it have the feeling that bureaucracy, often symbolized by mountains of paper, grows more burdensome each year.

Consider as evidence a Transportation Department estimate, just released, that $3 billion, or nearly 50 per cent, could be cut from the annual document cost of $6.5 billion paid by U.S. shippers and carriers.

This paperwork presumably is meant to assure compliance with regulations, as evidence that something was done, or as proof that something exists. Paper, nevertheless, like paper money, may represent nothing more than the bureaucracy in action.

"Industry and business spend some $18 billion a year researching and developing new products; yet 75 per cent of total new product expenditures, for a cross-section of companies, were wasted on unsuccessful products."

This is one conclusion of a study made by Bank of America. And while experimentation of necessity results in what some might consider waste, it would take considerable convincing to dispel the notion that a bungling bureaucracy doesn't add to those lost billions.

The report also details the frustrations of the independent inventor, the man whose work led, ironically, to the establishment of some of our largest and most bureaucratic companies. He doesn't have much of a chance today.

The report shows that of the total number of patents currently issued, 70 per cent go to corporate inventors and only 25 per cent to independents. The other five per cent are issued to government and university inventors.

Rising taxes are to some extent an indication of the growing complexity of the paper world, which may not at all represent the real world. Money spent for a specific job, such as defense, must first go through a sponge funnel.

The Tax Foundation claims that spending to publicize the Defense Department and armed service activities rose nine times in the decade of the 1960s. By 1970, it said, $28 million went for publicity.

The advanced stage of modern societies are said to be measured by the amount of paper they use. With the securities business just recovering from near death by paper with paperwork using up much of the money donated to charity, and with other evidence all about us, perhaps it's time for a change.

Wave Of Fear

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Congress has generated a wave of fear throughout the world among nations which have been receiving American foreign aid. Many of them are apprehensive that its suspension means a permanent change in foreign policy by the United States and that they can no longer depend on the protecting arm of this country.

WHILE THE appropriations by Congress were only in part of a military nature and were more important in the economic and educational assistance given, there is no doubt that some governments felt they had military ties to the United States. Likewise, our own Secretary of State as well as our military chiefs believed that we had allies in those countries and could depend on them for support and, if necessary, bases.

But since the foreign aid bills have been held up and a question has been raised as to whether Congress will pass them, a number of governments — both large and small — are worried about their future relationships with the United States. This is perhaps the most significant interference in foreign policy by Congress that has occurred in recent years.

SECRETARY OF THE Treasury John Connally, in his visit to Manila on Monday, thought it necessary to state publicly his confidence that American foreign aid to its allies will be restored. He said:

"I am sure foreign aid will continue. We will make every effort to see that it continues. We in the administration feel very keenly about living up to our responsibilities as leader of the free nations."

This reassurance will be welcome, particularly to the smaller countries of Asia. But the effects of a stoppage of foreign aid would be felt even more acutely on other continents, especially in Africa and South Africa.

WHILE THE whole aid plan was never begun with the idea of gaining military advantages, the American navy unquestionably has benefited by bases which have become available in different parts of the world. This, of course, has added to the strength of our sea power.

The main purpose of foreign aid is to assist other nations in a humanitarian way, but there have been benefits in a military sense, the loss of which would prove costly to the United States.

THE SOVIETS have done the same thing in Asia and in Africa. Indeed, it has been argued by some people that Russia has really adopted the foreign aid idea in order to build up its influence all over the world. So, if the United States shatters its aid program, this will certainly open wide the opportunities to the Communists to gain an advantage in countries which will be sorely in need of help and will doubtless accept assistance from Moscow.

ON TOP of all this, the United States is considering a reduction of its participation in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, which would mean a substantial curtailment in the number of troops that will be maintained in Western Europe. This is specifically related to the defense of Europe against attack by the Communists. Although the United States has been talking about eliciting pledges from the Soviet Union to cut down the size of its forces in the satellite countries of Eastern Europe, the Russian armies obviously could be moved back again quickly while American forces could hardly be returned overseas in any short interval.

Real Parents

Around The Rim

Linda Cross

I am writing this in reply to an article by an 18-year-old adopted girl published in a current magazine in which she said she wanted to uncover the identity of her real parents "to know whose hair, whose eyes, whose nose, etc." she had inherited.

WHO CARES? Such things are superficial, and when one learns the infinite number of possible combinations of genes that compose hereditary features, one wonders how anyone can ever look like anyone else.

I'm adopted. My parents adopted me when I was six months old and I have never known my "real" parents.

But then, that depends on one's definition of "real" parents.

MY ADOPTED parents took me in when I was helpless and very much in need of love and a home. As I grew up and had all the small triumphs and defeats of childhood and school life, my adopted parents were there to share the experiences and help me over the rough spots.

They gave up a lot to insure that I had everything I needed and wanted — clothes, good times, food, an education and, most of all, love. All this makes them my real parents.

SOMEONE else may have sacrificed to insure that I would have a healthy childhood, a good education and a chance at a successful, independent future.

I'm saying that giving up one's own child is a sacrifice. Because my biological parents were able to make that sacrifice, I had a chance in life that I probably would not have had otherwise. I think they deserve more than for me to pop up 23 years later into the new life they've constructed for themselves.

IF MY mother was not married,

I'm a mistake she should be allowed to forget and overcome. If my parents were married, the circumstances which forced them to give up a child cannot be anything they want to relive or be reminded of. A confrontation could only be embarrassing and painful to all involved.

So, I won't seek to uncover my background. My adopted Mother comes from a Scotch-Irish clan, and my Dad is French and American Indian, as far as we can determine. (He never was adopted, either. Grandpa just changes his mind from time to time on his choice of tribes.)

BOTH SIDES of my adopted family claim that I look like this relative or that relative, and, at times, I do. As I grew up, I copied some of my Dad's facial expressions, and I imitated my Mother's way of laughing until it became mine, too. That, in my opinion, is the way that most children become like their parents. It is not just a freak chance of birth. The similarities come from living together and sharing a life.

What I'm trying to say to this girl and any other adopted children is why throw the one good thing your biological parents were able to do for you back in their faces? They don't deserve that.

THE OTHER is, why toss away a good home and the reality of loving parents just because your eyes are one color and theirs are another? It would seem that there are many kinds of bigotry.

Two people had enough love in their hearts for each other and all God's children to take a stranger's child and make it their own. In my own case, for this I will be eternally grateful.

Blasts And Butter

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — The $200 million that the blast at Amchitka cost is a drop in a large bucket. With nuclear weapons already being capable of mass death and destruction on a scale almost impossible to take in, the pursuit of ever more fantastic and wholesale killing devices goes on.

ON BOTH sides of the great divide the pursuit seems to have no end, unless it be bankruptcy or total devastation. The demonstrators in Canada against Amchitka forget or ignore that the Soviet Union has had two big underground bangs — one equal to if not exceeding Amchitka, the other somewhat smaller.

In a closed society these things are handled rather differently. Protesters, if any, are hustled off to prison or a lunatic asylum. The fact that no public announcement is made precludes any controversy even if it could occur in, say, the highest ranks of science and administration. Only through the remarkable American Network of Detection are the Soviet bangs known.

THEY OCCURRED on Novaya Zemlya, a barren island in the Barents Sea far above the Arctic Circle. The first Russian underground test on Zemlya which occurred on Oct. 14, 1970, was from three-to-six megatons. The second test was on Sept. 27 of this year, and it was rated from two-to-four megatons.

SIMILARLY IN Russia the huge amounts spent for weapons development and weapons production are secret. It can hardly be doubted that they match American expenditures, which are staggering. The Atomic Energy Commission budget for the next fiscal year totals $2,294 billion. Of this, $1,357 is under the defense umbrella, largely weapons development and testing. The balance covers a variety of civilian uses from new-type power reactors to isotopes and other medical application of energy from the atom.

But AEC spending on weapons is small compared to the Pentagon Budget. Research and development for weapons is billed at $7.9 billion. That is the province of John S. Foster Jr., a master persuader with Congress. He scares the daylight out of the Senate Armed Services Committee with private warnings of what the other side is up to and how our side is falling behind.

IT IS SURELY not unreasonable to ask where this race will end.

So we come to the strategic arms limitation talks (SALT), with the breath of hope out of Helsinki that agreement would come before the end of the year on limiting defensive missiles, with the Soviets agreeing to approximately 100 around Moscow and conceding up to 250 to the United States to protect the intercontinental missile firing bases in the West. The word is no agreement until next year.

WHAT THIS overlooks is the economic consequences of the race. In a totalitarian society the consumer can be squeezed down to a minimum existence. Take one item alone, the motorcar. If the Soviets produce this year 150,000 passenger cars it will be a record. The United States is aiming for a 10,000,000-car year. All the rhetoric about a rich country and butter does not conceal the ravages of inflation and the pinch of poverty.

Counting Bikinis, Peekaboo

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Nobody wants to stay home anymore. Everybody wants to be somewhere else.

Somewhere a ship is setting off for beckoning fabled lands. Even now a jet plane is soaring to some far place most of us will never see.

The airline ads stir in us a vast discontent with where we are and what we are doing. I look out a dirt-streaked window at cloudy Manhattan and dream of Tripoli. Yes, if I had my druthers, I'd rather not be here right now. It is the land away that calls. I'd rather be—

Counting bikinis on the Riviera.
Banging away at grouse in Scotland.
Tilting up a pot of poteen in Galway.
Greeting a dawn in London.
Taking the elevator up the Eiffel Tower in Paris.
Remembering the World War II Battle of the Bulge in Spa, Belgium.

Visiting a military cemetery in Normandy.

Lighting up a cigar with a match struck on the Rock of Gibraltar.

Going on a wine-tasting tour through Bordeaux and Burgundy.

Fishing in the Rhine and hoping to catch a siren.

Sitting on a rock with the little mermaid of Copenhagen.

Sailing the mystic fjords of Norway.

Searching for a parakeet in the Canary Islands.

Double-checking a hotel bill in Czechoslovakia.

Throwing a snowball in Moscow's Red Square.
Drinking retsina wine in an outdoor cafe in Athens.
Dunking bread in a lasagna sauce in Rome.
Shaking paws with the Sphinx outside Cairo.
Playing peekaboo in a harem in Turkey.
Hanging my hat on the horn of a rhinoceros in Africa.

Looking for Charles Boyer in a cashah in Morocco.

Eating a Bombay duck in Calcutta.

Standing a monk in Mongolia to a treat.

Watching children play at dusk outside a pagoda in Rangoon.

Flying over Vietnam—flying way up high over Vietnam.

Taking my first peek at Peking.

Climbing Mt. Fuji in Japan.

Selling a pair of men's shorts to a native of New Guinea.
Holding the hand of a girl carrying a red clay jar on her head up a hill in Bali.
Having one hell of a fine fling anywhere in Australia.
But isn't it funny? In all those far-off places, and hundreds more, someone right now is daydreaming about how much fun it would be to come here, walk down seedy Broadway, eat a hot dog, and maybe even visit Grant's Tomb!

My Answer

Billy Graham

After I retired I moved South where I know very few people. As a stranger I find it difficult to witness for Christ. Can you help me? R.V.

Serving Christ has nothing to do with our geographical location. As the song says, "In Christ there is no East or West," and we could also add, "North or South." If you were a Christian in the North, you will be no less a Christian in the South.

However, I can understand your natural shyness in imposing yourself into a new situation. The best way I know is to find a fellowship of believers, and the best place to find such a fellowship is a church. It is strange, but Christians out of a church tend to wither and die. The church is the natural environment for the Christian, and when left alone, he is apt to become discouraged, depressed, and useless. In the New Testament you will find that the disciples did great things, but it was in the church (the Christian fellowship) that they obtained their inspiration, guidance, and power, and where they worshipped God. Go to church, and remember that fellowship is a two-way street, and if you are friendly with others, they tend to be friendly with you. But if you are shy, others will be shy too.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Truly I perceive that God shows no partiality, but in every nation any one who fears him and does what is right is acceptable to him." (Acts 10:34-35, TSV)

PRAYER: O God, hear the sincere supplications of Thy people everywhere who engage in the practice of prayer. Help us to cultivate the discipline of daily devotion to Thee. Amen.

Baptist Association Hosts Missions Conference

The Rev. Harold Hitt, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Clark O. Hitt, Big Spring, will be one of the 10 state, home and foreign Baptist missionaries and missions directors to take part in the World Missions Conference here Dec. 5 through 12.

Member churches of the Big Spring Baptist Association are sponsoring the conference. Each church is responsible for housing one missionary, furnishing transportation to all speaking engagements and for covering partial cost of the speaker's travel expense to the conference.

FLOYD HENDERSON

6-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, Nov. 12, 1971

Taking part in the conference are 20 Big Spring and area Baptist churches. To facilitate the conference, the churches have been divided into four "teams" of five churches each. Teams one and three will have missionary guest preachers at services Sunday, Dec. 5, through Wednesday, Dec. 8. Teams two and four will hear the special missionary messages at services Thursday, Dec. 9, through Sunday, Dec. 12.

Sundays, the missionaries will speak during each church's regular morning and evening worship services. Weekday services will be at 7 p.m. A rally Dec. 4 at East Fourth Baptist Church at 7 p.m. will begin the conference.

The Rev. Hitt, now serving as language missionary for the Northwest Baptist Convention which is headquartered in Portland, Ore., works with American Indians, Spanish speaking peoples, Chinese, Russians and migrants of all races to this country. He is responsible for missionary work in Oregon, Washington, portions of Idaho and Northern California and three Canadian provinces.

Married in 1952 to Ellen Eastham, Big Spring, the Rev. Hitt has three daughters, Dev Ann, Kay and Joy. The Hitts have recently taken into their home two Navajo Indian girls from a Utah reservation in order that the girls may have an opportunity to attend public school and experience Baptist home life.

The Rev. Hitt will speak to the congregations of First Baptist, College Baptist, Coahoma Baptist, Vincent Baptist, Crestview Baptist, Berea Baptist, Baptist Temple and East Fourth Baptist churches.

Other home and Texas missionaries are the Rev. Eugene R. Krueger, of Miami, Fla., and missionary in New Orleans, La., the Rev. Jerry Johnson, area missionary with the Lower Rio Grande Missionary Association, Lloyd Henderson of the Dallas office of the Southern Baptist Convention, and Daniel Elson, director of church services for the San Antonio Baptist Association. Frank Burress, superintendent of missions for the Wisconsin association, will also be a conference speaker.

Foreign missionaries include the Rev. Leroy Hogue, of Oklahoma City, now missionary to Taiwan; the Rev. Douglas Knapp, of Tampa, Fla., now missionary to Tanzania, East Africa; the Rev. Elizabeth Truly, of De Leon and Ballinger, Tex., now missionary to Abeokuta, Nigeria; and the Rev. Blake W. Western, of Wayne, Okla., now missionary to Ohihiro, Japan.

All of the conference services are open to the public. Each church has a schedule of when each missionary will address its congregation.

Churches taking part in the conference are First Baptist of Big Spring, College Baptist, Coahoma Baptist, Vincent Baptist, Salem Baptist, Midway Baptist, Crestview Baptist, Berea Baptist, Baptist Temple, East Fourth Baptist, First Latin Baptist, Forsan Baptist of Stanton, Westside Baptist, Airport Baptist, Hill-Baptist, Tarzan Baptist, Prairiecrest Baptist and Phillips View Baptist, Lenora Baptist, Memorial Baptist.

Helping to coordinate and moderate the services will be the Rev. V. R. Mitchell. He is the son of the Rev. W. E. Mitchell, former pastor of the Church of God here.

The singing will be a special feature of these services with choirs from area churches, soloists and groups.

The services will continue through Nov. 21 with a Sunday service at the auditorium at 2:30 p.m.

People of all faiths are welcome to these services. Anyone wishing additional information may call the Rev. O. D. Robertson at 267-8593.

Snyder Slates City Crusade

SNYDER — A city-wide evangelistic crusade here Nov. 28 to Dec. 5 is expected to draw an attendance of some 4,000 persons to nightly services at Scurry County Coliseum, East Highway.

Leading the eight-day meeting will be evangelist James Robison and his teammate, gospel singer John McKay, both of Fort Worth.

Services will be at 7:30 p.m., daily for the interdenominational crusade, which is being sponsored by 16 area churches. Cooperative planning efforts for nearly two years, under the direction of crusade chairman, Rev. Raymond Hall, pastor of Snyder's First Baptist Church, have been focused on laying groundwork for a forthright, Bible-based presentation of the gospel of Christ through music and preaching.

Music Duo In Service Sunday

Wesley and Dorothy Pearce will be featured in the evening service at the Church of God, West Fourth and Galveston Sunday.

Along with their singing and testimony, they will present films made during travels in the Holy Land.

The couple has recently moved to Big Spring from Canada. Pearce served five years in the Royal Canadian Air Force. They have four children and reside at 609 E. 13th. They have recorded two albums and have held meetings in churches in Canada and in the United States.

The public is extended a cordial invitation to meet this couple and enjoy their ministry. The Sunday evening service begins at 6:30 p.m.

Last year thousands of new books were published in America. Some are already forgotten. Others became best-sellers. Yet the best-selling book of all time is probably not listed in your weekly book review.

This book is the Bible. It contains the record of God's love for mankind and His wish to reconcile man to Himself through Jesus Christ. That's quite an order, isn't it?

To understand the meaning of life and our relation to God, we cannot lightly scan the pages of this Book like a recent novel. In fact, we must have the help of scholars and students of centuries past.

Your church represents generations of accumulated knowledge and faith which will help you discover, in fellowship with others, the meaning and direction of life.

Tax-Cut Bill Vote Looms

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Democratic liberals ready to try to add more individual tax relief, the Senate scheduled opening votes today on a tax-cut bill sought by President Nixon to stimulate the economy and create jobs.

The $15.5-billion measure is the tax portion of the President's new economic policy, and it has survived the House and the Senate Finance Committee as basically what the administration proposed.

Leaders are pushing for final action on the measure by the middle of next week, but dozens of proposed amendments must be dealt with before the final vote.

The Finance Committee approved the bill without major change from the version passed by the House Oct. 6. But Senate managers of the measure conceded some changes might be made on the floor.

Democratic liberals have argued that the bill is lopsided in favor of business and said they would fight to increase relief for individuals. Having failed in the effort in the committee, they pledged a continued attempt on the Senate floor.

As it reached the floor, the measure contained the major business incentives asked by Nixon, including restoration of the 7-per-cent investment credit on new machinery and equipment, accelerated depreciation provisions, and a new provision to encourage American companies to expand export sales.

For individuals, the bill advances the dates for increases in the personal exemption—to $750 next year, compared with $650 now—and contains a new $1,300 minimum standard deduction to help low-income families.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said the bill merely accelerates tax cuts already enacted for individuals. He pledged to fight for an $800 exemption.

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said the legislation "is grossly unfair and one-sided." He estimated it will give "approximately $74 billion in tax relief for big business over the next 10 years."

Amendments expected to be called up during the debate would allow tax credits for small political contributions, fix a tight ceiling on federal expenditures, and grant a $325 annual tax credit on college expenses.

Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., said the bill merely accelerates tax cuts already enacted for individuals. He pledged to fight for an $800 exemption.

Clark Gable's First Wife Dies

EYEING HIS CRATE TO AFRICA — A two-year-old lion, unnamed, who was born in Dallas to East African parents, will be flown Saturday to Dakar, Senegal by a Detroit animal importer. The lion is being flown to Dakar without charge because the zoo does not have the money to obtain the lion locally. The steel crate, with two big signs saying "Handle With Loving Care," will fly air freight to New York from Detroit and then by cargo jet to the Dakar Zoo.

First Methodist Site Of Thanksgiving Service

The annual inter-faith Thanksgiving service will be held at 10 a.m. Thanksgiving Day at the First United Methodist Church. The Rev. Earl Price, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, will present the Thanksgiving sermon. Pastor of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, the Rev. Louis Moeller, will present the invocation. The Rev. Randall Ball, pastor of First Assembly of God Church, will give the benediction, and the Rev. John Beard, pastor of First Christian Church, will read portions of the Scripture.

According to the Rev. James Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple and chairman for the planning of the service, other parts of the program such as special music, will be announced later.

An innovation in this year's service will be the reading by a local elected official of President Richard M. Nixon's Thanksgiving Message. In the past, according to the Rev. Puckett, the President's message has been read by a minister. He added that one official has been contacted to do the reading but has not yet accepted the invitation.

Mafia Takes $94 Million Profit On Texas Betting?

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says the Mafia is taking a $94 million profit in football betting out of Texas each year.

Martin says the mafia has a definite foothold in the state and he favors wire-tapping, if that be the only means available, in trapping underworld figures.

Martin spoke Thursday to the Federal Bar Association here.

He said that Texans for years have "liked to brag that we don't have the problems of organized crimes that other states have."

"For what it's worth, our criminals have been pretty much the home-grown variety . . . up until recently, at least," he said. "But now we can't say that all of our crime is free of the taint of the mafia — the mob. Because it is tainted," Martin said.

"RICH" RACKET

Although apparently no top mafia chieftain has moved to Texas permanently, Martin said highly placed mob representatives are known to be moving in and out of the state.

"The average citizen is more afraid of the stick-up man, the burglar and the mugger than he is of the mobster who loots his city of millions of dollars in gambling revenue."

Martin said the most lucrative rackets in Texas are the various forms of gambling, particularly bookmaking.

MONEY, POWER

Martin said the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council conservatively estimates that $767,280,000 is bet on college and professional football yearly in Texas, from which the mob realizes a $94 million profit.

The figures are conservative, he said, because they are based on the 588 known bookies in Texas. "We have reason to believe that there are actually at least 800 bookmakers operating within our state."

Other mafia activities now under way in Texas include auto theft, extortion, swindling, bribery, loan sharking and "other financial ventures promoted by the organized crime combine," Martin added, as well as prostitution and narcotics.

"The tremendous amount of money and power derived from these illegal activities are increasingly used to infiltrate legitimate business and labor unions, and to subvert and corrupt our democratic processes," he said.

Martin defended the use of the wire tap in fighting organized crime, saying the wire tap is often the only way to get essential information on criminal activities.

'72 Plymouth Fury Coming Through!

One look and you can see how beautiful our new Fury is. What's not so easy to see is how beautifully put together it is. Fury is built with one thing in mind: to stay together longer and run better, longer than any they've ever built before. In short, it's built to last.

You get the rigid strength of unibody construction. The deep-down protection of a 7-step dip-and-spray process that guards against rust. You get famous Torsion-Quiet Ride and the equally famous TorqueFlite automatic transmission.

Put them all together and you've got a car that's built to last. Value you can hold onto for a long long time.

Isn't this the kind of full-size car America wants?

Gardeners Advised On 'Bad Bugs'

How to kill bad garden bugs and still retain good bugs was discussed by Mrs. Don Williams and Bill Brown who led a discussion for Organic Soil Makers Monday evening at the U.S. Experiment Station.

The speakers agreed that the first step is to learn to recognize the bugs and know the good from the bad. They said it is important to know about seeds and plants to assure that healthy ones (resistant to disease and bugs) are purchased.

Researchers say by changing a chemical in a plant very slightly, it can be made unappetizing to bugs it once enticed. One harmful thing many gardeners do is find a diseased plant, then touch healthy plants, passing the disease along.

Sick plants should be isolated or destroyed. They shouldn't be used for mulch or compost. Plowing land in the fall helps destroy grubs and eggs by bringing them to the surface. It is also important to keep debris and litter off the ground so bugs cannot harbor there and lay eggs.

Planting vetch will help kill grubs if a garden is to be made where it was once grassy. Good, healthy soil is a major advantage to both plants and gardeners.

Members will meet for a covered-dish supper at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 13 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Leonard, 2310 Roberts.

A LOVELIER YOU Grooming Shortcuts For Hurried Dates

By MARY SUE MILLER

Are you ready to accept an unexpected invitation at the drop of a telephone call? Even though you are super-organized, the pressure of duties can play havoc with your grooming schedule.

That's where a few shortcuts would come in handy:

For an "instant" manicure use nail covers — a cinch to apply, swinger-tip shades, ready-dried. A seedy hand complexion responds to skintoned body makeup. The ruse is not detectable under night lights. The finish stays with you, until you suds it off.

For a removal of fuzz on the legs, an electric shaver is perhaps the quickest method. But a safety razor comes close, if you pre-slasher the legs with rich hand lotion. No soaping or rinsing is then necessary. The skin looks satin-smooth.

Deodorant pads boost protection in seconds. And when you crave an all-over freshener, rub down with a fragrant friction lotion. It's the next best thing to a lengthy shower for a tingle-clean feeling.

If you cannot manage to make up from scratch, firmly pat on skin freshener with a large pad of absorbent cotton. Let air dry and then fluff on a brush-on. Use a shade with the merest pearly blush of color and apply it to the entire face for an illusion-veiling effect.

Add a wig or a wiglet, and you are ready to go in minutes! STRICTLY PERSONAL Everything you need to know about deodorants, anti-perspirants and depilatories is contained in my leaflet, "Strictly Personal." All doubts are cleared up about why, what, when and how to use these safeguards of femininity. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Spoudazio Fora Group Tests 'Witch Potential'

Spoudazio Fora Study Club members were given a test to determine their "witch potential" when Mrs. Bill C. Coleman presented a program on witchcraft Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Bob Clark, 2103 Morrison.

Briefly tracing the history of witchcraft, Mrs. Coleman discussed amulets, various charms, casting spells and made predictions from a moon calendar. She displayed a witch board which she had made and guaranteed "to make your fondest hopes come true."

Mrs. Hulen Harris presided, and Mrs. Clark, hospitality chairman, announced that the Christmas cocktail party and dinner for members and guests will be held Dec. 11 at Holiday Inn. Reservations must be made by Dec. 7 by contacting Mrs. Oliver Cofer or Mrs. Charles Neefe.

Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Coleman reported on the Big Spring State Hospital project which involves the renovation of a day room.

Mrs. Clark served refreshments from a polished table accented with a straw basket arranged with miniature bronze chrysanthemums.

ALERTNESS PAYS OFF — Craig Barber (50) of Big Spring heads back down field after plucking a San Angelo fumble out of the air in Thursday night's JV football game here. San Angelo scored early and held on to defeat the Dogies, 8-0.

Lack Of Punch Costly To JV In Game Here

The Big Spring JVs recovered three San Angelo fumbles and came up with a couple of timely interceptions but couldn't mount any offensive punch and lost to San Angelo, 8-0, here Thursday night.

Several regulars with the local JVs had been moved to the Sophomore unit, which accounted in part for their lack of clout.

San Angelo scored early in the first period on a sustained drive but could never again offer much in the way of a threat.

Big Spring had its best shot at a touchdown in the third when the Kittens lost possession of the ball on a fumble just outside their own 20.

Big Spring chugged to the 17 but there yielded possession. Tom Sorley and James Wakin gave the Dogies what little power thrust they had.

The defeat was the sixth of the season for Big Spring, compared to three wins.

Consistent defensive play by such boys as Billy Gressett, Craig Barber, Rickey Hayley and others kept the score from mounting higher.

Chicago Mob Choice In NFL Skirmish

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Chicago Mob will do in Washington's Over-The-Hill-Gang Sunday while the Buffalo Bills, who have been firing blanks for eight games, will steal one from the New England Patriots.

Those predictions are among those brought to you by a guy who had a 5-6-2 record last week. So consider the source.

The feeling is that the tough Bears will manhandle George Allen's aging Redskin troops, Detroit 31, Los Angeles 21-who were tied by Philadelphia last week, and that the Bills have to win one somewhere, and so why not against the Patriots.

Anyway, here's the whole picture:

Chicago 21, Washington 17—Redskins still without wide receiver Charley Taylor and tight end Jerry Smith. Nothing would please the Bears more than to deal a blow to former assistant coach George Allen, who has Washington out front in NFC East.

Miami 34, Pittsburgh 21—The Dolphins probably will have to go without running back Jim Kiick but the Steelers will have quarterback Terry Bradshaw on the sidelines with a badly sprained ankle.

Buffalo 17, New England 14—Strictly a hunch. But everyone wins some time. And, even with the loss, the Bills still could retain the lead in the race for the No. 1 draft choice.

Baltimore 21, New York Jets 10—The Colts still aren't scoring anyone points and allowing just enough to keep winning. The Jets will be looking for another upset but Baltimore has been forewarned.

Oakland 27, Houston 14—The Raiders have struggled at times this season but the Oilers should help that situation.

Houston may go with rookie Lynn Dickey at quarterback.

Minnesota 21, Green Bay 10—This could be a tussle with the Packers seeming to improve every week. But the Vikings are just as stingy as the Colts in giving up points.

San Francisco 24, New Orleans 17—The 49ers may be due for something of a letdown after beating Minnesota last week and the Saints have proved they can surprise. But not this week.

The Lions have the edge offensively, the Rams defensively. But Los Angeles will be trying to wind things up again after losing to Baltimore Monday night in a heartbreaker.

CHIEFS DUE BACK Kansas City 28, Cleveland 14—The Chiefs will be looking to bounce back after last week's upset by the New York Jets and will tee off against sophomore Browns' quarterback Mike Phipps.

Miami 34, Pittsburgh 21—The Dolphins probably will have to go without running back Jim Kiick but the Steelers will have quarterback Terry Bradshaw on the sidelines with a badly sprained ankle.

Buffalo 17, New England 14—Strictly a hunch. But everyone wins some time. And, even with the loss, the Bills still could retain the lead in the race for the No. 1 draft choice.

Baltimore 21, New York Jets 10—The Colts still aren't scoring anyone points and allowing just enough to keep winning. The Jets will be looking for another upset but Baltimore has been forewarned.

Colts Blank Jayton, 28-0

STATISTICS table with columns for Colts and Jayton, listing stats like First Downs, Yards Rushing, Yards Passing, etc.

JAYTON — Sands Junior High completely dominated play in routing Jayton, 28-0, in the district championship football game here Thursday.

The Colts thus finished their season unbeaten in five starts. In that string, they outscored the opposition, 190-14. Sands suited out 18 boys and played them all.

Frosty Floyd scored two touchdowns for Sands, one on a 45-yard run and the other after accepting a 10-yard pass from Neel Grigg.

Kevin Gandy also went in twice for six-points on runs of one and 50 yards.

The Colts' four extra points were accounted for by Keith Gandy on runs. Sands led at half time, 22-0.

Most of the 367 total yards the Sands team gained came in the first half. The Colts seemed content to keep the Jaybirds from gaining ground after the intermission.

Jayton could manage only 29 yards in total gains and yielded the ball four times on errors.

Two long Sands runbacks went for touchdowns but they were nullified by penalties.

The district title was the second in a row for Sands.

Everything Is Riding On Game At Coahoma

COAHOMA — The District 5-AA football race has come down to one game and that one will be played starting at 7:30 p.m. here tonight.

Coahoma, unbeaten in 5-AA competition and loser only to Sonora this fall, will play host to Crane. The winner moves into bi-district competition, probably against Alpine.

Crane has experience and depth on its size. Coahoma has the better offense but coach Bernie Hagins says the Big Red must play ball control in order to win.

Crane has 21 seniors in its lineup and plays two-platoon ball. The Cranes lean heavily upon a hard-running Ronnie Holland. All teams have tied but all time here, likely will be on hand to see the Bulldogs can contain him to the odds makers say they will.

The Bulldogs offer a greater variety of threats. When the stands seat about 5,000 and opposition points to stop Donnie Buchanan, boys like Wendell Walker, Keith Pherigo and QB Roland Beal are likely to break loose.

Some fans who ordinarily follow Big Spring will likely drive over to see how Howard Crane's most successful team fares in the pressurized game.

The story, of course, will be told in the line and coach Hagins is proud of his Bulldog primary.

Crane has made more first downs in conference play than has Coahoma (74 to 72) but the Bulldogs have outgained the Cranes, 1445 yards to 1415. Neither team puts the ball in the air much.

Crane has slightly the better defensive record. Crane has only allowed league foes a total of 842 in total gains while the Bulldogs have yielded 1,041 paces. Crane has surrendered just 40 points to 5-AA foes, Coahoma 58.

Coahoma has been in AA ball only two years.

Crane has 21 seniors in its lineup and plays two-platoon ball. The Cranes lean heavily upon a hard-running Ronnie Holland. All teams have tied but all time here, likely will be on hand to see the Bulldogs can contain him to the odds makers say they will.

The Bulldogs offer a greater variety of threats. When the stands seat about 5,000 and opposition points to stop Donnie Buchanan, boys like Wendell Walker, Keith Pherigo and QB Roland Beal are likely to break loose.

Snyder Loses To Estacado

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Estacado rallied in the fourth period to topple Snyder, 26-15, in an important District 3-AAA game here Thursday night.

The Tigers scored twice in the opening quarter to lead, 12-7, but Estacado went ahead to stay in the third.

Sammie Harrison plunged one yard for a Snyder TD in the first and Mike Glasscock later drove in from one yard away for the Tigers.

In the third, Sandy Land kicked a 26-yard field goal for the Bengals.

Ken Yates, Larry Isaac and Larry Robinson all scored touchdowns for Estacado while Isaac booted a 26-yard field goal in the final round.

Snyder outruled the Matadors, 288 yards to 274, and gained 16 yards in the air. Estacado failed to complete a pass.

Snyder, now 4-1 on the season, winds up play against San Angelo Lake View next week.

Estacado is 8-0-1 for the season and unbeaten in six league starts. Snyder could have tied for the lead by winning but dropped back to 4-2.

Estacado's last game will be against Sweetwater.

South African Leaders In World Cup Matches

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, with the vision of a blond-headed owl, plunked a five-foot birdie putt in near darkness to keep the favored United States team close while the guest hackers from Romania and Libya simply faded into the Florida sunset.

Nicklaus was topping off a four-under-par 68 Thursday to capture the individual lead in the 19th World Cup Golf Championships while he and partner Lee Trevino clung within three shots of the front-running South Africans.

Trevino struggled to a 75 on the treacherous 7,096-yard East Course, giving the Yanks an aggregate of one-under-par 143 and a second place knot with New Zealand's Bob Charles, 71, and John Lister, 72. South Africa's Gary Player battled a virus to carve out a 69. Johannesburg pal Harold Henning had 71 for a four-under-par total of 140.

Of course, the poor Romanians and Libyans didn't have a full shot at the opening-day glory. Darkness stopped them after 17 holes as the snail's pace play caused each foursome to spend more than six hours on the course.

It was just as well. Dumitru Muneanu had just taken 10 on the par five 17th hole and already had 95 strokes for the agonizing day. His countryman, Pavel Tomita, had 85 with one hole to play.

That put the Romanians at 44 over par, some 48 shots behind South Africa's leaders—and they weren't even through. Their playing partners from Libya, Hosain Abu Elmola and Muftah Salem, were 26 over par at the time.

Sophomores Lose By 18-16 Tally

SWEETWATER — Sweetwater's B team edged the Big Spring Sophomores, 18-16, here Thursday night. The loss left the Dogies with a 5-3-1 record.

Big Spring led, 16-6, at half time and had another touchdown called back. Still another long run by Big Spring was nullified by an infraction. Nagging injuries hurt Big Spring's chances, too.

Nathan Baker scored both the Dogies' tallies, one on a ten-yard run and the other on a four-yard jaunt.

Ronald McKee kicked a 20-yard field goal for the Short-horns.

Sweetwater punished Big Spring's line by running outside with the Veer.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart

Perhaps the pass defense the Big Spring coaches have been trying to teach the Steers is too complicated, perhaps man-to-man coverage in most instances would suffice.

The Longhorns have been getting burned too often by passers with ordinary talents. There are indications the local backs have been milling about, trying to figure out what they are supposed to do.

The officiating was somewhat less than adequate in last week's game involving Big Spring and Odessa High. The umpire completely missed a man-in-motion violation against Odessa that would have arrested an Odessa drive.

As it turned out, Big Spring was assessed 15 yards on the same play for unsportsmanlike conduct, when the alleged offender merely reacted after the Bronchos charged across the line.

In addition, the Bronchos' last touchdown was tainted. Randy Bell was jarred loose from the ball almost immediately after he accepted a pass from Ricky Young, leading several Steers to protest that he never had possession.

Bell was in the end zone at the time. Had he taken the pass and then gone across, it would have been a touchdown under existing rules. The same official ruled in favor of Odessa.

Amarillo College is the overwhelming favorite in the Western JC Conference basketball race.

The Badgers not only have 6-9 Larry Kennon, an All-American, back but have picked up a 6-5 guard from Philadelphia and a 6-8 rebounder from Indiana.

Amarillo lost only one player (Russell Bailey) and he didn't even play in the Region V tournament here.

This will likely be the last year the score board at Memorial Stadium will be used. The school board has been discussing plans for a new one and will probably act on the matter sometime next spring.

Who ever agrees to underwrite the expense of a new board should insist that white lights be installed in the moving parts of the facility. As it now functions, the board is virtually useless in day games.

They all try valiantly, and certainly no school has been fielding a better band than Big Spring in recent years, but I only wish half time shows at football games varied more than they do.

There is a sameness about most such shows. The bands march out and form the initials of one school or the other, or else they evolve into the outline of maps of states or countries.

The band which marches smartly stands a better chance of keeping the interest of the spectators than those which specialize in good music, especially in stadiums where echos bounce through the stands and across to the opposite bleacher.

This is not to suggest that bands do not add to the festive occasion. They are as much a part of football as teeing up the ball. And a halftime without some sort of musical interlude would be a dreary time indeed.

Over-blown productions seen in the major stadiums are usually far worse than those seen on the high school level. What the production chiefs in those situations try to do boggles the mind.

Big Spring will seek to make its three victories in a row over San Angelo Central in a game starting at 8 o'clock this evening in San Angelo.

The Bold Gold's task won't be easy. San Angelo isn't used to losing three times running to any team. Too, the Bobcats will be striving to improve upon a 5-4 record and insure themselves of a first division finish in District 5-AAAA.

Nothing is riding on the outcome of the game, outside of pride in performance. Big Spring is chained to the cellar, having emerged winless in six league standings.

This is the Big Spring's poorest record in over a decade. Over-all, the Steers are a lackluster 2-7.

San Angelo hasn't done much better and there are rumblings in San Angelo that coach Dan

BILL DENTON

LaGrasta's job is riding on the line. That could be true. San Angelo is used to better things.

The Steers haven't been able to defend anybody in the conference. They've given up an average of five touchdowns a game to conference opponents. Their pass defense has leaked like a sieve on occasions.

Clovis Hale's team has been able to put points on the board, but rarely has it been in a game this season against conference opposition.

Now that the end of the season is at hand, Hale likely will take a good look at some of his underclassmen. That means junior QB Alan Davis may see more duty than usual.

San Angelo's losses have come at the hands of Galveston Bay, Odessa High, Abilene High and Permian. Only Ball and Abilene beat the Bobcats badly.

Bill Denton is the San Angelo navigator. He can call upon running backs like Eddie Richardson, Mark Varien and Jackie Henderson and get solid response in each instance.

The Cats have a bigger line than Big Spring. When they're in tune, they're hard to run against.

Unitas' Role As A Reserve Distressing

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas, voted the greatest quarterback in the history of professional football, doesn't like his role as Baltimore's backup signal caller.

Unitas wants to play. He's ready to play. But he refuses to criticize Coach Don McCafferty's decision to stick with Earl Morrill as the Colts' starter.

"I'll go along with what they want to do, even though I don't like it," Unitas said today. "I'm not going to cause any trouble. It's hard enough to play the game without creating problems."

"Earl is doing a fine job. I don't see how Mac can change quarterbacks in midstream. The only thing that matters is that we continue to win."

Unitas denied published reports that there was friction between himself and McCafferty, contending the press had misinterpreted some of his comments.

UP TO COACH

"When someone asks me if I want to play, of course I'm going to say I do," Unitas said. "If they ask me why I don't, I'll tell them to ask the coach. I just mean it's his decision."

"I've never told Mac I wanted to play. He knows that. Anyway, if there were a problem between us, it would be up to him to come to me, not for me to go to him."

McCafferty supported Unitas' contention that they have had no problems and added: "The reporters are trying to read something into everything John says. If they keep asking me the same questions every week, I'd get pretty upset."

"I haven't been saying too much lately," Unitas said. "No matter what I say, I come out as the loser."

Unitas made a remarkable recovery from surgery to repair a torn right Achilles tendon suffered while playing a game of paddle ball last April.

Many thought the injury would end the career of the 38-year-old quarterback. If he came back at all, the most optimistic figured, it would be several weeks into the 1971 season.

Knicks Beaten By Warriors

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl Monroe, who was acquired only before Thursday night's National Basketball Association game with the Golden State Warriors.

Playing in an unaccustomed reserve role, the newest of the Knicks scored only nine points in a 112-103 losing effort to the Warriors.

"It sure was strange playing with the Knicks after playing against them all these years," said Monroe, who was acquired only before Thursday night's game with the Golden State Warriors.

Monroe, who had been having contract troubles with the Bulls more management, last played a game Oct. 19 before being suspended by the Bulls. The inactivity—and a sore left ankle—clammed the Pearl well under his lifetime scoring average of 25 points a game.

But he promises things will get better. "It's going to be good," he said after the game. "Man for man, the Knicks have the best starting five in the NBA. And just being an addition makes me feel good."

Monroe, who confessed that he almost signed with Indiana of the American Basketball Association, appreciated his welcome by 19,588 New York fans, most of whom stood and applauded for almost three minutes when his name was announced.

"I was elated," said the soft-spoken, unemotional Monroe. "I never got an ovation like that in Baltimore—or anywhere else—for that matter."

T-Birds Await Cage Debut

HOBBS, N.M. — The New Mexico Junior College Thunderbirds open their 1971-72 basketball season Saturday night. The contest, slated for 8 p.m. in Thunderbird Gym, matches the Thunderbirds against Southwestern Christian College of Terrell, Tex.

The opener is followed by a busy four game slate next week. Monday night the T-Birds meet the Lubbock Christian College Junior Varsity and then go to the Odessa (Tex.) tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The T-Birds open tournament play at 2 p.m. against Cisco Junior College Thursday.

Saturday's contest with Southwestern Christian is the first meeting between the two clubs and the Thunderbird coaching staff has very little idea what to expect from Coach John Iverson's ball club.

Southwestern Christian College plays a lengthy schedule and will have several games under their belt when they meet the Thunderbirds.

The Thunderbirds have been plagued with a rash of injuries in pre-season workouts and this has made it very difficult to establish a definite group of starters for Saturday night's game. However, they should come from this group:

Ben Gardner, a 6-foot-3 1/2, 215 lb. guard from Gary, Ind.; Mike Dawson, a 6-foot-3 1/2 lb. guard from Gary, Ind.; Jack Toone, a 6-foot-4 215 lb. guard-forward from Yonkers, N.Y.; Larry McCants, a 6-foot-5 190 lb. forward from Albuquerque; Bruce Boling, a 6-foot-6 center-forward from Greenfield, Ind.; Brian Untch, a 6-foot-5 200 lb. center-forward from Gary, Ind.; and Mike Dunn, a 6-foot-5 185 lb. forward from Gary, Ind.

Dunn, the only freshman in the group, and a very fine prospect, appeared to have a starting berth wrapped up but suffered a hip pointer in practice and has missed two weeks of practice and both of the T-Birds pre-season scrimmages and is now listed as a doubtful starter.

Huskers Are Likely To Cage Wildcats

By The Associated Press

Undeclared Nebraska is headed for a Thanksgiving Day showdown with Oklahoma and even the revamped passing attack of Kansas State will be hard pressed to halt the momentum of the rampaging Cornhuskers.

Top-ranked Nebraska, 9-0, unbeaten in 28 starts, Saturday that has displayed tremendous battles Kansas State, a team improvement since switching to a pro-type aerial attack engineered by junior quarterback Dennis Morrison.

Morrison posted a humiliating performance in his first three games and connected only 16 times in 47 tosses for 177 yards.

Kansas State Coach Vince Gibson then shifted to the offense with two wide receivers and dropback passing. Morrison has since fired 67 completions on 21 passes for 864 yards and two victories in the last two contests.

HAS POISE
"Morrison is a leader now," appraised Gibson. "He's confident, he's got poise and he can scramble. There's no telling how good he's going to be."

Morrison will be throwing against Nebraska's fearsome pass rush and rigid defense secondary, which has surrendered only 92.6 yards passing per game.

Nebraska quarterback Jerry Toge will be firing against a Wildcat defense which has been socked for more points than any other team in the Big Eight.

Cornhusker flanker Johnny Rodgers leads the conference in receptions and leads the league in punt and kickoff returns.

No. 2-ranked Oklahoma will host the Kansas Jayhawks in a nationally televised game, and Sooner Coach Chuck Fairbanks says his team is not taking Kansas lightly.

"I think this game means so much to the squad that they are not looking beyond it. If we don't play our best, Kansas is a good enough football team to beat us."

Third-ranked Michigan can be virtually assured of a Rose Bowl bid by downing Purdue.

STANTON — Stanton County employed a strong defense against the rush to defeat Stanton, 32-12, here Thursday night in the final 5-AA action of the year for both teams.

Both Stanton scores came in the fourth quarter. QB Rick Wilson drove in from a yard out at the end of a 606-yard march.

End David Dillard managed the other on a ten-yard pass from Wilson.

David Hickman and Terry Neal gave Reagan County a double running threat the Buffaloes simply could not contain.

Reagan County managed the last touchdown on the final play when Stanton tried an onside kick. A Big Lake guard picked up the ball and, when Stanton defenders overran the play, went all the way for a score.

Armando Rios, back in action for the Buffs, played outstanding ball as a back for the Buffs.

Stanton then ended its record with a 2-8 record and finished 0-5 in conference. Reagan County settled for a 3-1-1-conference record and had a season's mark of 6-3-1.

STANTON — Stanton's up-and-coming B team ended its season on a successful note here Thursday, surprising Coahoma, 20-14.

In a previous game at Coahoma, the Bullpups had won, 20-8. Stanton ended its season with a 4-5 record. The Stanton club carries a three-game winning streak into the 1972 season, however.

Vernon Brown swung the issue Stanton's way with 6:30 to go in the game with a 70-yard run off the Veer.

QB Bill Howard raced in from a yard out for one Stanton score while Dennis Stevens managed the third on a four-yard scamper.

QB Gordon Elland kept for a two-point conversion following Stanton's second tally.

Putt Choate scored both of Coahoma's touchdowns. In addition to Coahoma, Stanton defeated Wink, Rankin and McCamey over the season.

Speak Out

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my husband's family. We get along for the most part, but when it comes to politics and related social issues, we disagree violently. In order to keep every get-together from erupting into a noisy battle, I just keep my mouth shut.

However, my children are now old enough to understand the talk and I don't like some of the statements made by my husband's family to go unchallenged. Yet I know they are the kind of people with whom one cannot have an intelligent discussion. All they know how to do is yell and argue.

They (my husband's people) always initiate these political discussions, and to keep the peace, I say nothing. How in the world can I keep quiet without destroying my children's belief in my ideals?

BUTTONED LIP
DEAR LIP: A good noisy battle involving politics and related social issues is much healthier for children than the choked off silence you're maintaining in the interest of peace and quiet. Speak up! Silence implies agreement.

DEAR ABBY: I am divorced and have four children. I've been dating Harold for two years and we plan on marrying. Here is my question: Harold contends that if we take my children out to eat, or for entertainment, I should pay for the children until we are married.

My argument is that since we do this only occasionally, it is not too much to expect Harold to treat them.

Harold is not stingy. He says it is "accepted etiquette" when dating a divorced woman with children.

WONDERING
DEAR WONDERING: Harold may not be "stingy" — but he's no big spender either. My friend Amy Vanderbilt (who is the last word on "accepted etiquette") says that when a divorcee and her children are invited out, the "host" picks up the tab for ALL the guests. (P.S. If you plan to marry Harold, establish all the financial ground rules in advance or prepare for some rough money fights!)

DEAR ABBY: I am a 24-year-old housewife and the mother of two. I have bronchial asthma and can't tolerate smoke, so I put a large "No Smoking" sign up in my home.

When I absolutely must go where people are smoking, I have to take medication in order to breathe, and when I come home I need a clean atmosphere to recuperate in.

My sister was married last year. Her husband told my

That Dry Mouth

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please write about the cause and possible remedy of "dry mouth." I am a man 67 years old, in fairly good health. I gave up all smoking and alcohol several years ago.

The only symptom I seem to have is a white coating of the tongue, but this condition is driving me batty. — A.J.O.

There's gradual slowing down of our various bodily functions, and dry mouth isn't what you'd call rare at your age, as the salivary glands, along with others, are not as active as they used to be.

Smoking and alcohol can contribute to this trouble, but they can't be blamed in your case.

sometimes makes it difficult for me to catch my breath. What can I do to get relief? — D.P.

That drip in the throat (post-nasal drip) is a natural result of chronic nasal congestion. The strategy of correcting it is to find out what is causing that nasal congestion: Polyps? Allergy? Sinus infection? Structural fault in the nose? Excessive smoking? As a rule, it isn't too difficult to find out which it is, and once that is known, treatment can be effective. I suggest that you send for my revised booklet, "You Can Stop Sinus Trouble," which tells what to do about post-nasal drip as well as sinusitis. Send 25 cents in coin for printing and handling costs, and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would you explain an ameba? My doctor has given me two medicines and told me I would have to take one the rest of my life because the ameba cannot be killed. I wonder if any other treatment is known. — Mrs. F.

Mouth breathing could account for the dryness as well as the coated tongue.

A deficiency of vitamin B is another.

Allergy, undue nervousness, a sensitivity to denture material also are possibilities.

Aside from correcting any of those situations, if present, I have two other suggestions. Rinsing your mouth with a solution of glycerin or syrup before meals may give some relief. Or sucking a tart candy — lemon or lime drops — also may help, the tartness stimulating more activity by the salivary glands.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a nasal catarrh and with it a dripping in my throat which Texas Worst In Nation?

DALLAS (AP) — Texas' record for educating Mexican-Americans is the worst in the nation, the Dallas News quotes a spokesman for the U.S. Civil Rights Commission as reporting.

The newspaper said this standing, in comparison with other states, is disclosed in a study of minority education to be made public next month.

"For the first time, this document the extent of the educational gap between Mexican-Americans and white students," the paper quoted the spokesman in Washington, D.C.

The commission said Dallas is not included in the report, "The Unfinished Education," because its population is not composed of 10 per cent Spanish surnamed individuals.

Rene Martinez, a member of the federal court-appointed Tri-Ethnic Committee, said the study reflects the problems of Mexican-Americans in Dallas, however.

"The school district is just barely beginning to act on the problems of the Mexican-American," he said.

The News said that studies by the Texas Education Agency show that only two per cent of Mexican-American pupils who finish high school ever finish college.

Woman Elected

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Mrs. Nancy Koch, a 40-year-old mother of three children, is the first woman elected to the Albuquerque City Commission.

She ran as an independent candidate in the October election for an unexpired term of about 19 months. Mrs. Koch, wife of a physician, defeated 14 other candidates.

Mrs. Koch was graduated with honors from DePauw University, Greencastle, Ind. She moved to Albuquerque in 1957 when her husband, Jim, was stationed at the U.S. Army Hospital at Sandia Base.

WILL FRITZ BE RATED X? — This is Fritz the Cat, star of a cartoon movie based on an underground comic book, due to be released in mid-January. Because of four-letter words and nudity, its producers expect it will be the first cartoon film to be X-rated.

HEART-SHAPED: (Q.) My face is heart-shaped. My forehead is small. I wear glasses. How do you suggest I wear my hair? — Brunette in Alabama.
(A) You do not have a standard heart-shaped face. The small forehead is unusual. Most heart-shaped faces are topped by large foreheads. For these bangs are ideal.
But for you, no bangs. Try chin-length hair with fullness at the chin, and glasses with oval frames.

DISSENT: (Q.) I come from a very large and close family. I am in college and live with my cousin and her family. We get along fine. My parents have seven children. Our relationship is fantastic, except for one thing. All my family hates my boy friend, and at least once a day one of them tells me so.
They want me to go with another guy. I have tried going with him but it's no use. The last time I was out with him he practically raped me.

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — Robert E. McCord, 44, a resident at a nursing home here, has become the first candidate to file for lieutenant governor in the 1972 Democratic primary.

McCord, a disabled former maintenance man for the First United Methodist Church, filed the $1,000 fee with the party's executive committee.

"I'm running for progressive Democratic leadership and because I think it will help Corpus Christi to have a lieutenant governor from here," he said.

A veteran of both World War II and Korea, he is living presently at the Good Samaritan Nursing Home.

Horoscope Forecast
TOMORROW
—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A fine day to find out factually just where you stand with a friend. If you get involved in any disputes you miss much of the week. Follow hunches, which are good, and you get best results. Show more you are devoted.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan just how to get associates to go along with your ideas in a most cooperative fashion. You can be argumentative, but don't lose temper. Keep calm at all times.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have many little tasks you have been putting aside for a more appropriate delay. Plan your time well. Don't over-time, which is today, so start without work.
