

UNITED STATES JOINS IN WELCOME

Red China Takes UN Seat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States joined other countries in welcoming Communist China to the United Nations today and expressed hope that Peking's presence would help bring world harmony.

U.S. Ambassador George Bush was among more than a score of delegates speaking in a ceremony of welcome after five representatives of the People's Republic of China took their seats in the General Assembly for the first time.

The United States had made a last-minute decision to join the list.

"Speaking as a representative of the host country," Bush said, "the United States joins in welcoming to the United Nations the representatives of the People's Republic of China . . ."

"Their presence here makes the United Nations more reflective of the world as it now exists, and we hope that it will contribute to the organization's potential for harmonizing the actions of nations."

Bush had suffered a personal defeat when the assembly expelled Nationalist China in the same vote by which it admitted Communist China three weeks ago.

In an oblique reference to that, he declared: "The issues of principle that divided the General Assembly in recent weeks were deeply felt and they were indeed hard-fought."

"Those differences should not obscure the principle on which nearly all of us, including the United States, agreed: that the moment in history has arrived for the People's Republic of China to be in the United Nations."

"The United States, whose people are indeed linked by long ties of friendship with the great Chinese people, is confident that with renewed dedication to the principles of the (U.N.) charter, we can move toward peace and justice in the world.

"We shall now seek to work here with all who share that hope."

The five Chinese delegates to the 131-nation assembly filed into the big, high-domed blue and gold assembly hall and took aisle seats at 10:32 a.m. EST, ending 22 years on the outside.

The five were the delegation chairman, Deputy Foreign Minister Chiao Kuan-hua; the vice chairman, Ambassador Huang Hua; Fu Hao, Hsiung Hsiang-huei and Chen Yu.

They arrived at the delegates' entrance with a girl interpreter, Tang Wun-shong, and the U.N. chief of protocol, Sivan Korle, showed them into the hall.

On the way, he introduced Chiao to U.S. Ambassador George Bush, who in turn introduced him to Bush's deputy, Ambassador Christopher H. Phillips.

BOATERS ALERTED
Laura Aims
For Cuba's
Tobacco

MIAMI (AP) — Late-blooming Tropical Storm Laura built its top winds to 55 miles an hour today and threatened to pour torrential rains into western Cuba's rich tobacco lands.

And Arnold Sugg of the National Hurricane Center in Miami said: "The probability that Laura will become a hurricane is fairly high."

Weathermen put small boaters on alert Sunday night after Laura formed 17 days short of the end of the official Atlantic hurricane season.

Locally heavy rains and winds of gale force in squalls were predicted over western Cuba today, spreading into the extreme southeast Gulf of Mexico tonight.

"It's too early to say what part of the United States coast will most likely be affected," said Joe Pellissier, a hurricane center forecaster.

"But once a storm gets into the Gulf, it's going to hit some place. They just don't go away."

"There's probably a good chance it will produce hurricane winds of 75 miles an hour," Pellissier said.

The hurricane center said Laura was expected to hold a course toward the western tip of Cuba at 8 to 10 miles an hour and probably turn toward the north tonight.

"Small craft around western Cuba should remain in safe harbor and those around northeastern Yucatan and south Florida should not venture into open waters," the hurricane center said.

Greyhound Bus
Drivers On Job

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Greyhound Bus Co. drivers are remaining on the job after an 11th hour decision by the president of the Amalgamated Transit Union to postpone a Sunday noon strike deadline for five days.

In postponing the strike, John M. Elliott advised union negotiators by telegram from Washington, D.C., that he was setting up a top-level bargaining session between union and company representatives here Tuesday.

A strike would halt Greyhound operations in all states east of the Rocky Mountains and have a partial effect on states west of the Rockies.

Postponement of the strike deadline came after federal mediators said the contract talks had broken off following union rejection of an offer of a three-year contract Greyhound said would cost it more than $34 million.

Greyhound officials have refused to comment on any aspect of bargaining to replace a contract which expired Oct. 31, but union negotiator Ellis Franklin said the main issues do not involve wages.

Act To Protect Rail Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court acted today to protect railroad workers swept up in mergers by giving the Interstate Commerce Commission broad authority to look after them.

The commission didn't want that power, but the 4 to 3 ruling, written by Justice William O. Douglas, said federal law and Supreme Court interpretation require that the ICC exercise it to protect rail workers.

Justice Harry A. Blackmun, speaking for three dissenters, suggested the majority had acted out of sympathy for railroad workers and in doing so had overridden Congress.

Part Of Plan To Drive Down
Wages Of American Workers?

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — AFL-CIO president George Meany today sharply criticized President Nixon's overtures to China and other Communist nations and said it was a part of a plan to open cheap labor competition against U.S. workers.

"The President is going all-out to cultivate Communist China and almost any other place where freedom no longer exists," Meany told a labor convention.

TITO WEEK

"A couple of weeks ago, it was 'Be Kind to Tito Week,'" Meany said of the recent visit of Yugoslavian President Josef Broz Tito to the White House.

Nixon also has scheduled a trip to Moscow to "sit on Kosygin's lap," Meany told several hundred delegates of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department, made up of 44 unions with some 8 million members.

Meany made no mention of whether he will recommend to the main AFL-CIO convention later this week that labor members either quit or remain on President Nixon's Pay Board.

Meany criticized one of the public members of the Pay Board, economist Neil Jacoby. "He thinks all problems can be solved by driving wages down," Meany said.

TYPICAL OF GOP

The labor leader said this attitude was typical of the Republican administration and big business leaders who want to open new trade routes to Communist nations and, at the same time, drive down wages of American workers.

"There is a definite drive in this country on the part of big business to keep wages down, to drive them down," Meany said. "If they beat the wages down, do they think they are going to have the viable economy, the profits they had in the past?" Meany asked.

He said that international trade has never amounted to more than 6 per cent of America's total trade.

"Over the years, the very best customer of American business has been the American worker," he said.

DECENT PAY

"We want decent wages. We want purchasing power in the hands of the great mass of American workers."

Meany and four other labor members of Nixon's pay board voted against new regulations limiting future wage hikes generally to 5.5 per cent a year, ruling out most retroactive pay for the 90-day wage-price freeze that expired Saturday night and opening the way to possible rollback of previously-negotiated wage increases.

May Rescind Last-Minute
Exemption Of Car Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — With Phase 2 of President Nixon's anti-inflation program barely under way, the Cost of Living Council called a session today to decide whether to rescind a last-minute exemption allowing car prices to go up without advance notice.

The council said Friday that companies required under Phase 2 regulation to clear price increases in advance with the government could boost prices without notice to cover the cost of wage increases due their workers between now and the first of the year.

But Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. urged the council Saturday to reconsider.

Grayson also predicted that any adverse affect that uncertainty over Phase 2, which began Sunday, has had on the stock market would clear up by the end of the week.

Pay Board Chairman George H. Boldt, appearing Sunday with Grayson on the CBS interview program "Face the Nation," said the board will meet Tuesday to decide whether teachers and other groups may collect retroactively pay raises frozen during the wage-price freeze period that expired Saturday night.

But Boldt declined to predict what the board would decide. "We're going to consider it," he said. "There's a chance of anything, of course."

The board already has ruled against allowing general retroactive pay raises, but has agreed to consider individual cases on their merits.

Grayson promised Saturday that, if the Cost of Living Council approves his request to rescind its earlier ruling, the Price Commission would change its regulations to "assure that these requested price increases are reviewed within 72 hours."

Local Woman
Is 'Critical'

Mrs. Jean Anderson, 1317 Wright, is in critical condition today in Lubbock Methodist Hospital's intensive care unit where she is being treated for a bullet wound in her chest.

Mrs. Anderson was accidentally shot when, after hearing what she thought was a prowler, she went for a gun which discharged, wounding her in the chest.

Mrs. Esta Williams, mother of the wounded woman, reported the shooting to police at 9:56 p.m. Saturday, and Mrs. Anderson was transferred to the Lubbock Hospital by Alert Ambulance at 10:54 p.m.

According to a report filed by Detective Jim McCain, the two women were alone in the house when the accidental shooting occurred.

WILL WAIT FOR HELP

Says Pakistan Poised
For Attack On India

NEW DELHI (AP) — India's defense minister charged today that Pakistan is poised for an attack on India but Prime Minister Indira Gandhi said her government will wait for mediation from abroad before taking action.

Mrs. Gandhi, just back from a six-nation tour, said she had urged world leaders to defuse the East Pakistan crisis lest it boil into war. She did not spell out how long India intended to wait for help from outside.

VERY SERIOUS

The prime minister spoke for 20 minutes to the 450 members of her ruling Congress party just before the five-week winter session of Parliament convened.

Defense Minister Jagjivan Ram told Parliament: "I do not wish to exaggerate, but the situation on our borders is very serious indeed."

"Their armored divisions, which have been put into a full state of readiness, are poised to act in full concert. The reports received by us indicate pre-emptive strikes on our airfields as part of their plans."

Ram said India's armed forces are deployed along all the borders with Pakistan and are "in a full state of readiness to meet all eventualities."

As he had previously, Ram said there would be no withdrawal of Indian troops from the border until a settlement of the civil war in East Pakistan that would enable the millions of Bengali refugees in India to return home.

He said the continued stay of the refugees in India "imposes intolerable strains on us; it threatens the stability of our economy, jeopardizes many of the fundamental values enshrined in our constitution" and has engendered social, economic and political tensions.

Commissioners Split Votes
In Administrator Issue

By LINDA CROSS

In a three-to-two vote, county commissioners defeated Commissioner Bill Crooker's motion to agree to "back road administrator, Hollis Randell, 100 per cent, and in so doing, turn down his resignation."

Crooker made the motion following a lengthy closed session this morning of commissioners court during which Randell's resignation as the county's road and bridge administrator was discussed.

An apparent conclusion was that if the commissioners would agree to support Randell's administrative decisions 100 per cent, Randell would withdraw his resignation. In open court, Crooker moved that such action be taken, and Commissioner Jack Buchanan seconded the motion.

Commissioners Simon Terrazas, and Bill Bennett and County Judge A. G. Mitchell voted against Crooker's motion. "I think you all know my reasons for voting this way. I feel that unless the court backs him 100 per cent, Randell can not continue to work," said Bennett. Bennett also complimented Randell on the job he has done for the county since assuming the administrator's post in February.

Judge A. G. Mitchell adjourned the regular commissioners session and called a closed session following this morning's conference with Randell in which the administrator has asked the court's approval for the "laying off" of eight to 10 road and bridge employees.

Randell said that "as an economic move" men now operating mowers and men now part of the "bridge" crew whose function is largely to put up and repair fencing could be laid off without affecting the work.

Buchanan moved that Randell be allowed to lay off employees as he saw fit, but his motion died for lack of a second. Terrazas objected to Randell's

Mariner Sends
'Ghost Images'

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The Mariner 9 spacecraft has sent back 64 more pictures from Mars, but man's first close look at the red planet was blurred by a huge dust storm.

Scientists at California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory said that with but one exception the new pictures showed no discernible surface details through the huge dust cloud swirling around Mars.

And they were unable to pick up again a Martian feature photographed by Mariner Friday while the spacecraft was 651,000 miles from Mars.

The picture appeared to show a crater 100 miles wide, with sand dunes radiating out a thousand miles, in Mars' western hemisphere south of the equator.

But scientists said it could also be a picture of turbulence in the atmosphere.

During a 37-minute picture-taking session Sunday in its second orbit of Mars, Mariner passed over the area, but the crater and streamers couldn't be seen.

The dust, if that's what it is, was kicked up in late September when high winds apparently began blowing over Mars.

proposal saying he "was not for the layoff of one man," adding that the men had been hired with the expectancy of being able to continue in their work, and he could not agree to laying them off for no reason.

Commissioner Crooker asked Randell what effect such a lay-off of men would have on the productivity of the department.

"There's plenty of work for 80 men not 40," said Randell, but he said that laying off the men he specified "would not make any difference in the work."

"Basically, it's a good idea economically, but it should be done on the basis of attrition. We should just not re-hire when men resign of their own accord and hire mower operators during the mowing season — make it just seasonal work," said Crooker.

"If a man leaves on his own, and it's not necessary to replace him, then it's fine not to re-hire. We're operating with about four less men this year than we did last year," said Terrazas.

Crooker suggested that attrition take up any excess in the department instead of laying off anyone in particular. He said that there was a high rate of turnover in the road and bridge department, and this could be worked to take care of the problem.

Commissioners apparently agreed, without taking formal action, to have Randell instruct his men that mowing jobs were seasonal, and that when a man bidded the position, he would go back to his former job and rate of pay at the end of the mowing season, which is largely the summer months.

A citizens committee, largely composed of members of the Chamber of Commerce highway committee met with the commissioners in their closed session to urge the retention of Randell as administrator. Members of the group were B. H. Weaver, City's McMahon, John Currie, R. N. McDaniel and Joe Pickle.

Campaigning For Italian Presidency In Full Swing

ROME (AP) — The campaign for Italy's presidency is in full swing, and no one has announced that he wants the job.

That doesn't mean there's any shortage of candidates; there are six. It's just the way things are done in Italian politics.

President Giuseppe Saragat, the Democratic Socialist whose seven-year term expires Dec. 28, has already started moving out of the Quirinal Palace. But he's one of the unannounced candidates, and there's no guarantee that he won't be moving back in.

THE SHADOW KNOWS

The president is chosen by Parliament, and the election starts Dec. 9 but is likely to be a lengthy process. A two-thirds majority is required for election on the first three ballots. After that a simple majority will suffice. Saragat's election in 1964 took a record two weeks and 21 ballots; he won only after accepting support from the Communists.

The political parties now are in the thick of negotiations. The candidates are keeping to the shadows for fear of spoiling their chances, but everyone knows who they are.

Amintore Fanfani, 63-year-old president of the Senate, tops most lists as the man most likely to win.

CHIEF RIVAL

A four-time premier and former president of the U.N. General Assembly, he is a shrewd member of the Christian Democratic party, Italy's largest, who is on friendly terms with Soviet diplomats and arch-conservatives alike.

Fanfani's chief rival from his own party is Foreign Minister Aldo Moro, 55. A former premier also, Moro is known for his patience in reaching compromises. Rival politicians say he doesn't overplay you as much as outward you.

If Moro and Fanfani deadlock, the prize might go to Giovanni Leone, a colorful Neapolitan who is considered one of Italy's most astute lawyers.

Candidates with a Marxist background include Saragat, Pietro Nenni, the 80-year-old grand old man of the Socialist party, and Deputy Premier Francesco de Martino, 64, also a Socialist.

REDS HOLD KEY

Nenni recently went to Communist China and De Martino to Romania. In the code language of Italian politics, this indicates they are looking for Communist support in the election.

In fact the Communist party, largest in the West, holds the key to the election.

The Christian Democrats, Socialists and Democratic Socialists have joined forces in a coalition center-left government that has a majority in Parliament. But the parties are competing with each other for the presidency and the Christian Democrats are divided themselves. As a result, Communist backing is needed to elect anyone.

Guest Performers Join Golden Tor Chorale

LAMESA — Seven guest performers will join the Golden Tor Chorale in a special program Tuesday in the Lamesa High School auditorium.

The program is to help raise money for the Chorale's trip to Fort Worth in February to sing for the Texas Music Educators Convention. Tickets are $1 for students and adults, with all elementary school children admitted free.

The second half of the program, the Vaughn Williams Mass in G Minor for double chorus, will feature four guest soloists — Mrs. Carolyn Sander soprano, Mrs. Mary Jane Johnson, alto, Dwayne Hood, tenor, and James Ramsey, bass.

Mrs. Sander, now an elementary teacher in Denver City, is a former member and soloist with the Tech Choir, the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra, and the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Chorale. Mrs. Johnson has soloed with the Midland-Odesa Symphony Orchestra and is a former member of the Tech Choir and Madrigals.

Hood, director of choirs at Denver City High School, is a former member of the Tech Choir, the summer musical theatre "Casa Manana" in Fort Worth and a former member and soloist with the Midland-Odesa Symphony Orchestra and Chorale. Ramsey, director of choirs for Monterey High School in Lubbock, is a soloist with the Texas All-State Choir and is president of the Texas Choral Directors Association.

Anthony Brittin, John Rucker and Joan Seymour will be accompanists for the first half of the program.

Brittin and Rucker will be playing French Horn for the Women's Chorus. Brittin is a teacher at Texas Tech and a member of the Faculty Woodwind Quintet and the Faculty Brass Quintet. Rucker is the director of the Golden Tornado Band and is a former member of the Midland-Odesa Symphony and Chorale.

Playing harp for the Brahms songs will be Joan Seymour, who was named outstanding music major at Amarillo College during her two years there. She now plays with the Lubbock Symphony, the Tech Symphony and will accompany the Texas All-State Choir this February.

The program includes "Widenspruch" by Schubert, "Bonnie Eloise and Seeing Nellie Home" by Hunter-Shaw — Men's Chorus; "When'er the Sounding Harp is Heard and the Death of Trencher Op. 17, No. 1 — Women's Chorus; and "Hallelujah" for Double Chorus by Mendelssohn. If I got my ticket, can I ride? by Robert Shaw, and Go Ye Forth, America by Newbury — the Chorale.

THE EYES HAVE IT — And those can only be the eyes of Sophia Loren. In these photos, she is made up for her role as a nun in the motion picture, "The Sin," now being filmed on location in Italy.

Stan/Eval Team Rates Webb AFB 'Excellent'

For the sixth year in a row, Webb AFB earned an excellent rating from the Air Training Command's Standardization/Evaluation team.

The 12-member command team, headed by Lt. Col. Horace Miller, conducted an extensive review of all phases of the flying program including evaluation of instructor pilots, students, academic and officer training, student squadron, base stan-eval and the pilot instructor programs.

The final report was presented to the wing commander Nov. 5. It also included checks on non-flying but flying connected instructors such as synthetic trainer instructors. Supervisors and personnel were also inspected to determine proficiency levels.

According to Maj. Willis Luttrell, chief of base stan-eval, without the professional skill and ability of the pilots, students, instructors and all other related personnel, the excellent rating would not have been possible.

Lt. Col. R. H. Lang, chief of operations, said the command team visits on an annual basis to inspect on a no-notice basis.

Another purpose of the command team is to inspect the base stan-eval's performance. The local team requires a minimum of three check rides annually for every instructor pilot on the base. They test the IPIs for their technical knowledge of all flying abilities and professionalism. While conducting the flying evaluations, the board also administers written tests to the students, instructors, and non-flying instructors.

Foreign Aid Fuss Boiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. foreign aid chief John A. Hannah says the time has come when "the American people, through the Congress, better face up to whether or not we're going to play a role in the world."

DROP-OUT

"I don't think the United States can be a drop-out," added Hannah in an interview conducted as Congress debated what to do about the foreign aid program.

The Senate voted Oct. 29 to kill the annual aid bill, then reversed itself after strong administration urging and passed a two-bill aid package last Thursday. In the House, Foreign Affairs Committee Chairman Thomas E. Morgan said he hopes to pass a new bill this week.

Meanwhile, legal authorization for the aid-administration is slated to expire tonight. Administration and congressional statements differ over how soon AID's thousands of employees here and abroad would have to go payless in the absence of new legislation.

Dr. Hannah, former Michigan State University president who has headed AID since early in the Nixon administration, said both the economic and the defense-related aid in the administration's $3.4-billion request are in the American interest.

CONVICED

On foreign economic assistance, he said: "I'm convinced that the first interest for most Americans is what's my city or my state going to be like for my children and my grandchildren?"

"This is a shrinking world," he said, "and it ought to be clear from what happened in the last 30 or 40 years that what happens to any significantly large segment of the world's population is going to have a profound effect on what happens to the United States."

He said there is no assurance that U.S. aid will guarantee peace or foreign gratitude, "but we can be reasonably certain that the chances are better if we do what we can to help well-intentioned people to help themselves more in the direction of putting the primary emphasis on better lives for people."

On defense-connected aid, Hannah said a drastic cut would accomplish the Communist goal of collapsing South Vietnam's Thieu government now that "we have about reached the point where Vietnam may be able to stand on her own feet."

Will Receive $10,000 Award

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Luna B. Leopold, 56, a native of Albuquerque, has been named to receive a $10,000 Rockefeller Public Service Award for "outstanding service to the government of the United States and the American people." Leopold, a research hydrologist with the Department of Interior, will receive the award for Physical Source Development and Protection Dec. 8 in Washington. The award cites Leopold's studies for river mechanics and flood plain development.

DAV Meeting

The Disabled American Veterans will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the community room of the First Federal savings and Loan. A "mystery speaker" will give a brief talk, and flag pins will be sold for $1 each contribution to VA Hospitals' Christmas Cheer Fund. Wives are welcome to attend, and refreshments will be served.

Butz Says He Is Severing His Ties With Business

WASHINGTON (AP) — Earl L. Butz, secretary-designate of agriculture, says he is severing his ties with business, but his decision failed to mollify Senate critics.

Opposition to Senate confirmation of Butz developed around charges that he favors big business over the family farmer, and that his directorships with the four companies might represent conflicts of interest.

Butz agreed that retaining the directorships would create potential conflicts, and said in an interview Sunday night he is resigning all business connections and placing his stocks in a blind trust. He labeled his critics' charges as "political statements."

'NOT ENOUGH'

Butz, 62, of Lafayette, Ind., said he has notified the Ralston Purina Co., International Minerals and Chemicals Co., Stokeley Van-Camp Co. and the Standard Life Insurance Co. of Indiana he is resigning from their boards. Written resignations will be submitted in a few days, he said.

His position on the board of the J. I. Case Co., a farm-equipment manufacturer, was terminated about a year ago when the firm merged with Tenneco Corp., he said.

"That's not enough," said Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla.

"It's a matter dating back to the time of Ezra Taft Benson. He's been on the side of big business."

Butz, dean of continuing education at Purdue University, was an assistant agriculture secretary under Benson during the Eisenhower administration.

"He's the best example of the big, rich corporation against the small farmer," Harris said. "Getting rid of that stock is not going to change that."

Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., said "I think his interests would be about the same" despite resignations from business connections. "I don't think a man should have been appointed in the first place who had all those long-time interests," Young continued.

BAD NEWS

Two large farmers' organizations split in their evaluation of Butz, nominated by President Nixon to succeed resigning Clifford M. Hardin.

National Grange delegates, meeting in Charleston, W.Va., expressed support for Butz, and Grange National Master John W. Scott said, "I think Dr. Butz has a knowledgeable understanding of farm problems and can intelligently direct his efforts toward general improvement of the agriculture industry."

In Corning, Iowa, the president of the National Farmers Organization said Butz would "throw government support toward a policy of liquidating all but 600,000 farmers, hundreds of thousands of rural community businesses, and thousands of our small towns."

NFO chief Oren Lee Staley said he has asked Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman Herman Talmadge, D-Ga., for permission to testify in opposition to Butz at committee hearings.

Five Escape From Jail

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Texas and Mexican authorities searched today for five men who escaped from the Webb County jail here Sunday night. A Department of Public Safety helicopter was dispatched from Corpus Christi to aid in the search.

One of the five, Luis A. Milmo 32, was being held on charges of smuggling into the United States 23 pounds of heroin, which authorities said was worth $10 million.

Sheriff Perfirio Flores said that three of the escapees, all federal prisoners, were the most dangerous of the 269 inmates. The two others were trustees.

The men were identified as Tedoro Escalante, 33, of Aurora, Ill., and Scudine A. Fernandez, 26, of San Antonio, both federal prisoners; and trustees Homero Mena, 26, of Laredo, and Jose Garcia, 19, of Nuevo Laredo, Mexico.

Vietnam's First Major Battle In Seven Months

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. helicopters collided in the air today, another one crashed after a mechanical failure, and a South Vietnamese chopper hit a mine as it landed and blew up.

Four Americans and six South Vietnamese were reported killed, and five Americans and three South Vietnamese were injured.

The helicopters collided about 70 miles northwest of Saigon as they were returning to refuel after landing South Vietnamese troops on an operation 10 miles east of the Cambodian border.

All four crewmen aboard one of the UH1 helicopters were killed, and the four crewmen aboard the other aircraft were injured.

The U.S. Command said an investigation was being made to determine the cause of the collision.

A third U.S. UH1 went down Sunday 21 miles west of Saigon after a mechanical failure, the U.S. Command reported. Three South Vietnamese troops were killed and one of the American crewmen was injured.

A total of 8,020 U.S. helicopters and planes now have been reported lost in the Indochina war.

A South Vietnamese helicopter was landing infantrymen 80 miles north of Saigon and about 10 miles from the Cambodian border this morning when it hit a mine and exploded. Field reports said three South Vietnamese were killed and three were wounded.

In Cambodia, Phnom Penh's airport was closed to commercial flights after three rockets hit the airfield. The small barrage about 7 a.m. caused no damage, the Cambodian command said, but a second salvo of three rockets at 10:30 a.m.

Among the flights canceled was a U.S. Air Force cargo plane coming to pick up an elephant given by Premier Lon Nol to Adm. John S. McCain Jr., the U.S. commander in chief for the Pacific. McCain is giving the animal to the Los Angeles Zoo.

It was the third time in a week that the airport had been shelled. In one attack on Nov. 10 more than 30 persons were killed and nine aircraft were destroyed or damaged.

South Vietnam's central highlands had its first major battle in seven months over the weekend, and the Saigon government reported 163 North Vietnamese and 29 South Vietnamese killed. The battle occurred 225 miles north of Saigon and 11 miles from the Cambodian border.

The South Vietnamese also reported 32 of their troops wounded out of a battalion of about 400 men. The losses indicated that some South Vietnamese positions were overrun.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

REMEDY: (Q.) Last spring my boy friend gave me my "final notice." I spent like what felt forever moping about it. Then a few weeks ago I had a brilliant idea.

One lonely Saturday night I wrote myself a letter and tacked it on my bulletin board, where I could see it every morning. This is what it said:

"Was I ever happy then? But I was also one first-class idiot to think that it would last forever. That's one mistake I won't ever make again.

"Maybe I was slow to get the message, but I see the light now. I'm still sorry and I'm still sad, but he'll never know it if I can help it! So, smile, girl! The world hasn't ended."

You have no idea how this has helped me. Well, what do you think of it? — Smiling Again at Last in New Jersey.

(A.) Enough to publish it. Let's just hope it can help stop a lot of sad girls from moping!

I don't use any kind of hair dressing. Is there anything I can do to keep it from coming out? — Falling Fast in Pennsylvania.

(A.) Quit worrying. There's really nothing effective you can do if you indeed are losing your hair. All of us shed hair regularly. With some it comes back fast enough to replace itself. With others it doesn't. If it doesn't, it just doesn't.

So enjoy it while you have it. If you lose too much, there are many good-looking men's hairstyles to choose from. Long ones, too.

Senate Drives For Passage Of $19.5-Billion Tax Slice

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate resumes work today on an expanded $19.5-billion tax-cut bill with leaders driving to win final passage by Wednesday.

The biggest obstacle to that goal could be a Democratic proposal for federal financing of presidential campaigns, which could be expected to touch off a bitter battle between money-starved Democrats and well-financed Republicans.

But the Democratic leadership isn't sure that rider will be offered.

ADD RIDERS
Another fight could develop over various proposals to add to the tax bill riders increasing Social Security benefits.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the legislation, said every effort will be made to keep such riders off the bill, since Social Security will be considered later in connection with the House-passed welfare-reform bill.

Long said, however, that a presidential campaign-financing rider is being prepared along the lines of one he sponsored in 1966. He said a decision will be reached early in the week on whether the amendment will be offered.

It was understood the provision might guarantee each mafor party's presidential nominee $18 million in a national election and a third-party contender $6 million.

BACKED BY LBJ
The money could be raised by allowing each taxpayer to indicate on his tax return that $1 of his payment should be used for the campaign-financing fund.

Long got a similar plan enacted in 1966 with the strong backing of then-President Lyndon B. Johnson. But a coalition of Republicans and a few Democrats succeeded in nullifying it in 1967 after a Senate floor battle lasting six weeks.

In a major test on the tax-cut bill Saturday, the Senate turned down 53 to 13 an attempt by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., to eliminate more than half the benefits of the 7-per-cent investment credit. President Nixon is counting on restoration of this credit to help greatly in the drive to make American companies more competitive in world markets.

PERSONAL INCOME

Nelson proposed that the credit be limited to the first $1 million of new machinery and equipment, or to a maximum $70,000 credit against taxes due. This would have reduced tax cuts for business from this restoration to $1.7 billion, compared with $3.6 billion for an unlimited credit.

As the tax bill came to the Senate floor from the Finance Committee, it contained $15.5 billion in reductions for individuals and business over the three years 1971-73.

But the Senate already has voted to expand this total by about $4 billion, chiefly by raising the personal income tax exemption to $800 in 1972 instead of $750 as voted by the House.

STANTON (SC) — John Anastasio, chemistry and biology teacher in Stanton High School, has been chosen as a leader of American Secondary Education.

Anastasio was born in New York and received his BA and MS in Geology in 1953 from Syracuse University, New York.

Thieu Presents Economic Plans

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu presented today a program of sweeping economic reforms aimed at increasing investment, production and exports.

The program outlined to the National Assembly included provisions for devaluing the piaster and attracting foreign investment.

Thieu said the nation is living in "a state of dependence on foreign aid," and "there will be a day when it is going to be reduced and then terminated."

He called for the utilization of aid to "develop rather than consume ... to shorten the road to self-reliance, and to enable the Vietnam economy to gradually recover from the devastations of war and to find by ourselves the potential for continuing development."

Pointing out that less than half of South Vietnam's farmable land is under cultivation, the president said increased agricultural production must be "the foundation of economic development and social reform."

Air Force Personnel Out Early

Some pre-Christmas gifts in the form of early releases and liberal leave policies were announced recently by Capt. Randell Carr, quality control officer in the Consolidated Base Personnel Office.

Authority for the announcement was a message from the U.S. Air Force Military Personnel Center, Randolph AFB, which made clear many of the policies. Capt. Carr noted that as soon as all details of the policy are worked out, a letter from CBPO will be sent to all squadron commanders for the next Commanders' Calls.

The message read in part, "Contingent upon international developments and unless instructions are issued to the contrary prior to Dec. 8, all officers and airmen ... whose date of separation will occur during the period, Dec. 8 through Jan. 9, 1971, inclusive, may be separated beginning Dec. 8 if they request early separation and there are no critical manning or operational considerations to the contrary."

Sheep, Goat Deduction Asked

Members and directors of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers have voted to sponsor a proposed referendum which would involve 16,700 producers and 5,578,000 head of sheep and goats in 73 counties.

The proposal calls for a maximum deduction of 20 cents a head on sheep and 10 cents a head on goats and would be expected to raise more than $400,000. This would be used to finance 32 new trappers in battling predators. The assessment, if approved in a mail ballot by producers, would be on all sheep and goats coming off pasture, or producer-raised lambs going into feedlots.

Counties in this area included are Upton, Midland, Reagan, Glasscock, Howard, Borden, Scurry, Mitchell, Nolan, Coke and Sterling.

Historical Committee To Seek 'Trail' For County

The possibility of having a new "Texas trail" established in this area was the main topic of discussion at the last meeting of the Howard County Historical Survey Committee, with Mrs. Floyd Mays presiding.

There are now six established travel trails in Texas, none of which include the Howard County area. In order to request the establishment of a trail in this area, the committee will need to find historical sites, arrange and map out a driving trail which would be approved. Mrs. Mays requested that anyone knowing of such sites contact her or other members of the committee.

Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper and Mrs. Mays reported on their recent trip to Del Rio to attend the Texas State Historical Survey Committee annual meeting. Mrs. Cowper described the group's tour of the Del Rio area, and Mrs. Mays told how to take a survey of a town for preservation of buildings or locations of historical interest.

The next meeting will be Dec. 14 at the Howard County Library.

'PLAYTIME' SET FOR CENTER

A pre-school age playtime on Saturdays will be initiated at Westside Community Center Nov. 20, to continue through Christmas, according to an announcement by Mrs. Clyde E. Thomas, a member of the board. Hours will be from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. each Saturday, with workers being members of the Elbow 4-H Club under the direction of Mrs. Edman McMurray. The service is being provided for mothers who reside in the center community or on the north side of the town.

Government Attempts To Save 30's Murals

"A long neglected collection of post office art is now in the news," said Mrs. Fred Whitaker Friday discussing the book, "W.P.A.: Rescue of a United States Treasure", for Modern Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. Hugh Duncan, 1600 Tucson.

"A nation-wide search is underway for what is left of a publicly owned art collection once valued at more than $100,000,000," continued Mrs. Whitaker. She said there are many murals and paintings from the W.P.A. era in post offices and schools in the country. One such mural is in the Howard County Public Library, which was formerly at the post office, and which could not be moved. The mural is by Peter Hund.

Almost every major U.S. artist of the depression years, including Hurd, Reginald Marsh, Ben Shahn and Henry Varnum Poor, was employed on the public painting project which was operated by the old Works Progress Administration and the U.S. Treasury Department. The artists were paid as little as $25 per week for their work.

In the next two years, Mrs. Whitaker said the U.S. Government General Services Administration hopes to locate 100,000 of the works done by these artists. Damaged paintings will be restored where possible, and relocated if necessary. The effort began

Woman Pleads With Army To Aid POW-MIA Families

By ANN BLACKAN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — When an Arizona woman told a general the Army wasn't meeting the needs of families of men held prisoner or missing in Vietnam, he hired her as a consultant. That was six months ago.

Since then, Iris E. Powers of Phoenix has made two dozen recommendations to help Army next-of-kin with legal, medical, economic and psychological problems.

Those the Army has accepted include: family group-therapy sessions, a comprehensive guidance booklet for next-of-kin, more effective ways of returning a man's personal property to his family, and establishing a task force to prepare the families for their husbands' return, or the eventuality that they may never return.

"The crux of the problem," said Mrs. Powers, 54-year-old widow and mother of a pilot who has been missing since April 1969, "was the lack of meaningful communication between the Army and the families."

Asked why the Army saw a need for a personal consultant while the other services did not, Mrs. Powers said that most Army men held prisoner, or listed as missing, are young, single and enlisted, while most of those from the Air Force and Navy are career officers.

Reaching for a copy of her recent testimony before a congressional committee, she read: "The Army next-of-kin are mostly parents; their sons are largely non-careerists. These mothers and fathers know little about military life, about their son's service, or about the channels through which they might learn additional details about the circumstances of their son's disappearance."

Before making her recommendations, said Mrs. Powers, she consulted senior staff officers at 31 Army posts, and interviewed scores of POW and MIA families.

"Two years ago, if you'd asked me to go on an Army base unescorted, I'd have preferred to walk into a den of lions," Mrs. Powers said in a voice husky from chain-smoking cigarettes. "I knew nothing about military life. But in the shock and unrealistic aspects of my own loss, I felt I had to go to Washington to do something."

Mrs. Powers' son, Army CWO Lowell S. Powers, is one of 1,823 Americans listed by the Defense Department as captured or missing.

"We have to prepare these families for the very real eventuality that their man may not return," Mrs. Powers said, adding that she doesn't have much hope that her own son is alive. "And if and when they do return, they will not be the same men the family remembers."

Besides making formal recommendations to the Army, Mrs. Powers has advised individual families on personal problems.

For instance, when a Baltimore woman asked how she could support her two children if her husband does not return, Mrs. Powers sat down with her to discuss the woman's background, interests and ability. Together, they decided the woman should start in a nurse-training program.

"If they're into something that interests them, it won't be such a traumatic experience if their husbands don't come home," Mrs. Powers said. "And frankly, they need someone sympathetic to discuss these problems with. They see my situation and there's no credibility gap."

Mrs. Powers said she became aware of the problems Army families faced after she moved to Washington last year to help organize the National League of Families of American Prisoners and Missing in Southeast Asia.

"I became aware of the situation little by little as I talked with more and more Army parents who were bewildered and dazed by their misfortune, parents who were terribly frustrated by the many unanswered questions they had concerning their sons' fate. The families for the most part just didn't know that they could even ask the questions, or that any answer did exist in Army files."

Then during a League luncheon, she sat next to an Army officer who asked if the Army was doing enough to help the families.

"When I told him no, it was like hitting him in the face with a cold towel," said Mrs. Powers. "But he listened intently and promised to do something about it."

Several months later Mrs. Powers was appointed a consultant by Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff.

Vets Commander Talks To Barracks, Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary to Big Spring Barracks 1474, World War I Veterans served a Thanksgiving dinner Thursday at a joint meeting with the men.

Guest speaker was Fritz Mogford of Colorado City, district commander for the men. Mogford reviewed World War I events, as happened in France and Germany, and discussed current world conditions as they effect military veterans.

Several other out-of-town barracks commanders and their wives were present. Guests were registered at a table covered with a lace cloth and centered with bronze and yellow mums. The dining tables were laid with Thanksgiving motif cloths and accented with cornucopias and fruit. Auxiliary members were hostesses, and 75 members and guests attended.

Reform In Slow Motion

After three years of investigation, a team of senators has told the Army that its post exchange and club systems are corrupt. After detailing the "ethical decay," the senators urged wholesale reform to root out the corruption.

The Army would do well to support four reform bills proposed by the Senate's Permanent Investigations subcommittee and to follow through swiftly.

Already plagued by Vietnam, racial conflicts and drug abuse problems, the Army needs to rid itself of the taint of corruption as quickly as possible.

The senators correctly did not indict the Army as a whole in their final report. They did blame a lack of vigilance up and down the chain of command which failed to police the use of nonappropriated funds for the clubs and PXs.

Earlier hearings by the subcommittee have resulted in a variety of actions against individuals, including demotions, indictments, courts-martial and forced retirements. The Army did take action, but only after public disclosure in the probe.

Now the Army needs to seize the initiative against corruption. The senators have made sound proposals for reform. One would establish an inspector general with authority to investigate wrongdoing in all branches of service. Others would permit auditing of PX and club accounts, set up a governing board to centralize policies and bar unauthorized acquisition of confiscated firearms by government officials.

Although the Army has acted against individuals accused of corruption, it has announced only one major policy change. That is a decision to remove slot machines from overseas clubs because of their corruptive influence. And the slots will not be removed until July, 1972, a ridiculously long time.

Army policies, indeed all military service policies, must be formed to remove corruption and eliminate the chances of its recurring. The military is struggling to overcome massive problems in the wake of a now unpopular war, and it cannot allow the rot of corruption to hinder that struggle.

Deserved Honor

His colleagues last week chose Jim Holmes, principal of Kentwood school, to become president of the district Texas State Teachers Association organization.

Thus he will head the group through which several thousand teachers in this area work. It is a deserved honor for him, and one that reflects upon the community. It's reassuring to know that we have the quality of individuals in our system who are held in such high regard by their colleagues. Holmes had shown himself a real professional, not only in his work with teachers here, but in going the second mile in several other areas to broaden local educational opportunities for all.

Age Of The Bike

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

One thing and another: The age of the bicycle is here, and you had best get ready to dodge, if you don't own a two-wheeler yourself.

THE KIDS have always had bikes. Now adults are being sold on the idea. Bike sales will likely exceed eight million this year.

U. S.-based manufacturers are not completely happy about the money that is being made in the new craze — many of the better bicycles are being imported from overseas.

Bicycling has been a way of life in Europe for many years. American adults have been slow to adopt them as a mode of transportation.

PERHAPS WE would be better off physically if we were forced to ride bikes to and from work three times a week and leave the family sedan in the garage during that time. The automobile lobby would never let that happen and the bike manufacturers know it. That's why they're trying to sell the American public on the idea that the bicycle is a recreational vehicle, the "in" thing for those who would save the environment and enjoy life at the same time.

WHAT IS YOUR idea of God? Is He a benign overseer, a clergyman of great import or a super cop, the kind of authority on high that even J. Edgar Hoover answers to?

What is the color of His skin? You'd be surprised to know how many people reason he is white. Some of us, I fear, just "went go" if, after departing through the Gates of Valhalla, we learn he is black, or red, or yellow.

IT WAS THAT master of the put-down, H. L. Mencken, who once wrote that an archbishop was a "Christian ecclesiastic of a rank superior to that attained by Jesus Christ."

Mencken also described Democracy as the "worship of jackals by jackasses."

DELVING ON THE subject of monotheism reminds me, for some reason, of the story of a minister of the gospel who, upon completing what he reasoned was a sermon of significance, had two of his deacons pass his hat among the congregation—this being one of the less privileged church where collection plates were considered a luxury.

When the padre retrieved his fedora, he slowly and deliberately inverted it and shook it to show that it was devoid of any benevolences.

The preacher raised his eyes heavenward and exclaimed fervently: "Dear Lord, I thank thee, that I got my hat back from the congregation."

ONE HEARS that Jimmy Hoffa sought to escape from old Stoney Lonesome by hiding in a laundry truck — but was stuck inside for three hours before he learned the Teamsters were on strike.

The Real Power

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — Dr. Henry Kissinger by now is known to most Americans who are interested in the news as a White House personality who moonlights as a man-about-town with an eye for a pretty girl. Since this is evidence that President Nixon's assistant for National Security Affairs is human, I am capable of restraining my enthusiasm for the role Kissinger has been given in Nixon's reorganization of the intelligence community.

INDEED, I find myself wondering whether Kissinger's power over foreign policy rivals that of the President, which is not good. It is not good because the doctor would be less than the human being he has revealed himself to be if he did not enjoy power, and use it.

Most reports on the reordering of our spy shop have emphasized that CIA Director Richard Helms will be the czar of all intelligence agencies, including those inside the Pentagon. His most powerful weapon will be in his new assignment to draw up one budget for the entire espionage establishment.

THAT'S SPLENDID because Helms was not born yesterday and he is aware that President Nixon is annoyed at the high cost of international snooping — some $5-billion a year. No one has to tell Helms his No. 1 priority is to get intelligence as wholesale as possible.

But it says here that the real boss of intelligence could very well be Henry Kissinger, whose new title is chairman of the new National Security Council Intelligence Committee, charged with providing "guidance and direction" to Chief Helms. In effect, Kissinger, through his committee, not only will tell Helms how to run the show, but will decide which intelligence assessments find their way to the President's desk. Power in Washington lies not only in having the ear of the President; it is also in refusing the President's ear to others of a dissenting viewpoint.

TO BE SURE, Helms has the power to submit his own recommendations directly to Nixon, and so have Secretary of State William Rogers, Defense Secretary Melvin Laird and the Joint Chiefs of Staff. But since Kissinger's job is to take the task of reviewing options off the Presidential shoulders, a dissenter already will have two strikes on him.

INDEED, NIXON'S reorganization has merely put into fine print what Kissinger has been doing for three years. Without any spelled-out authority, Kissinger's Senior Review Group has always been Nixon's personal State Department. The difference now is that there is a document bearing Richard Nixon's signature which says no intelligence assessment or proposed operation will be approved until it has gone through Kissinger's shop.

THE NEW SYSTEM may be the best possible solution to bringing the sprawling intelligence community, with its more than 200,000 employees, under Presidential control. At the same time, I don't consider it overly boorish to point out who's got the real power in this one. Contemplating Kissinger's new role, in some leafy haven across the Styx, Richelieu must be frantic with envy.

Makes Him Talk Out Of The Corner Of His Mouth

Jealousy, Fear, Doubt

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — We must all make sacrifices for the good of the economy, we were told back in August, and with what appeared to be a sense of comradeship in a crisis, almost everyone agreed.

Now, two months later, rituals of the sacrifice have been proclaimed and the reactions range widely, from disappointment to rage, and with elements of surprise, jealousy, fear and doubt—but not enthusiasm.

Looking back, it is possible to discern some of the motives that gave President Nixon his original support.

Labor, for example, felt that inflation was depriving it of its fair financial share and felt that federal intervention might benefit it by correcting an imbalance. And business too felt it was being battered in the market place because of unrestrained labor demands and now would obtain justice.

But the result of the deliberations by the Pay Board and the Price Commission for Phase 2, look unexpectedly firm and restrictive to both labor and management, and both now seem to feel that they have been baited into a lobster trap and that they might be the sacrifice.

This feeling is tempered by considerable doubt on three scores—the first concerns their understanding of the details spelled out during the past week, the second relates to the appropriateness of the formula, the third relates to the ability of the government to enforce the details.

The formula of 5.5 per cent wage increases and 2.5 per cent price increases has never been tried and there is no assurance it is correct.

There is some concern about the way the percentages relate to productivity increases, for example.

If productivity increases the economic cake gets bigger and then labor, business and government all can take a bigger slice. If the cake remains the same, no element of the economy can take a bigger slice except at the expense of another.

New Amendment?

Omar Burleson

WASHINGTON — Under the rules of the U.S. House of Representatives, legislation can be forced on the floor for debate with the signatures of 218 members, which constitutes a majority of its members.

THE PROCEDURE is not the best method for bringing bills up for debate and is rarely successful. There comes a time, however, when a committee of the Congress fails or refuses to act on a measure that the majority favors, then this process is a last resort.

Such is the case presently for a constitutional amendment to prohibit the busing of school children to attain racial balance. The Judiciary Committee, which has jurisdiction over this subject, refuses to approve bills pending before it for this purpose.

A PETITION was filed on Oct. 4, 1971, to discharge the Judiciary Committee and bring a Constitutional Amendment up for debate directly. The petition now has 115 signatures but 103 more are needed to produce the desired results.

Heretofore a number of amendments dealing with Federal Aid to Education have been adopted prohibiting the use of appropriated funds for the purpose of busing school children out of the district where they live to another area for the purpose of achieving racial balance. The courts have virtually ignored this direction from the Congress and have overruled the limitation. It appears that the only way to resolve the matter is by Constitutional Amendment rather than by statute.

A CONSTITUTIONAL amendment requires two-thirds majority in both the House and Senate for passage. If passed and approved by three-fourths of the State legislatures, the prohibition against upsetting neighborhood schools would become the 27th Amendment to the Constitution.

The proposed amendment is simple and direct. It says "No public school student shall, because of his race, creed, or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school."

This language is subject to amendment when, and if, this measure is finally forced out by the discharge petition route but the essence and intent will be pretty much in the above language.

UNDER THE practice of busing, whole neighborhoods are being disrupted and the quality of education stands to be irreparably injured. It simply does not make sense that a child should be bused 10, 20 or 30 miles away just for the purpose of giving a racial balance in the school room. In places, the bus from the inter-city to the suburbs meets the bus from the suburbs coming into the city. The expense of such a foolish arrangement is obvious and places an additional burden on our already overburdened school budgets.

The courts first took after schools in the South, ordering integration and the use of busing to achieve it. More recently the same rule has been applied to the East and the North and now the shoe is pinching in places which earlier had advocated and demanded this arrangement. An example is Pontiac, Mich., which has recently been in the news. There have been disruptions to the point of violence in opposition to it.

MEMBERS OF THE Congress are receiving such comments as the mother who asked, "My child is bused 15 miles from my home. I do not drive. What do I do when she needs me?"

Mailbag Bulletins

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Japan has found a new way to solve a pollution problem—turning discarded plastic bottles into streets. The bottles are crushed, melted and then blended with other substances to make a street paving material.

What makes civilization so dangerous to the young? Accidents mostly. They are the leading cause of death among all persons from 1 to 37 years old. Accidents claim more lives among children aged 1 to 14 than the six leading diseases combined. Among youths from 15 to 24 the toll from accidents is greater than from all other causes combined.

The gravitational pull of the moon affects the earth itself as well as the seas. This pull, which causes the tides, can also raise the North American continent half a foot when the moon is directly overhead.

Some anthropologists believe the human neck is getting shorter. Whether this is physically true, it isn't a bad idea. Certainly few people today want to stick their neck out very far.

Quotable notables: "With the supermarket as our temple and the singing commercial as our litany, are we likely to fire the world with an irresistible vision of America's exalted purposes and inspiring way of life?"—Adlai E. Stevenson.

Good advice: Don't fool around with old golf balls. If pierced, they can explode and maim. Golf balls with liquid cores contain a compound under pressure of up to 2,500 pounds per square inch.

Oink, Oink: The lowly pig, despite the low regard in which it is held, is one of the most intelligent of animals. In Polynesia it was used in earlier centuries to locate lost burial places. In France it still is employed to search out truffles. In England during the last century it was trained by many hunters to retrieve game.

History lesson: What U.S. president was taught to read and write at 17 by the woman he married? He was Andrew Johnson, successor to Abraham Lincoln. Johnson, a young tailor who had never been to school, learned his ABC's from Eliza McCordle whom he later married in 1808 at the age of 18. He was the youngest presidential president to marry. Kachoo! Americans are expected to get half a billion colds this year. Incidentally, the so-called "common cold" is a myth. Over 100 viruses that can cause colds have been isolated. It can take weeks to identify the culprit virus in a particular case, and by then the cold has dried up and been forgotten.

Folklore: It is unlucky to point at the moon or try to count the stars. A child born on Sunday will be safe from evil spirits. A bride who fails to cut the wedding cake herself may wind up childless. You'll have bad luck if a picture falls from the wall in your home, but only if the glass is broken.

Billy Graham

My Answer

I believe that Christianity is a religion of hope. Our minister's preaching is so negative that it depresses me. Do you think this is good for Christians? H.K. No I do not! As a matter of fact, there is more hope in pure Christianity than in anything else in the world. To be realistic, there is little hope in anything else. The Bible speaks of the faith as: "Which hope we have as an anchor of the soul; both sure and steadfast, and which entereth into that within the veil." I have been accused of being negative, too, but I am only negative when I speak of the false hopes people have. We offer no hope for a world built upon human ingenuity. We offer no hope for a world built upon materialism, with the love of money as a motivating force. We offer no hope for a world which disallows faith in God, and lives in the dimension of time, heedless of eternity. And this is the kind of a world millions are trying to build. This is where a minister of the Gospel may sound negative. But he fails to give the whole Gospel unless he sounds the positive note of the grace of God: "Where sin abounds, grace doth yet more abound." The good news is this: even in a twisted, tortured world, we have hope, but it is a hope that transcends these transient things. It is the hope of Jesus Christ.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"I was a stranger and you welcomed me" (Matthew 25:35, RV)

PRAYER: Merciful Father, grant us a spirit of service. Remove from us our selfishness. Give us a true spirit of hospitality. In the name of Jesus we ask. Amen.

End Of Longest Coal Walkout Since 1949

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Thousands of miners refused to enter the pits today despite union and management agreement on a new three-year contract designed to end the long coal strike since 1949. Spot checks at major mines in West Virginia and the soft Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Mon., Nov. 15, 1971 7

“One more day ain't going to kill us now that we've been off 44 days,” Bill Martin, president of UMW Local 6149 at Amigo, W. Va., said Sunday night. Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr., who helped negotiate the new contract, admitted its pay increase provisions were out of line with the federal Pay Board's guidelines of pay boosts of 5.5 percent, but he said he was optimistic the miners will get what the contract calls for. Joseph E. Moody, president of the industry association, said the pact would increase operators' labor costs by 39 percent.

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Band Boosters will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the Coahoma Band Hall. Mrs. Stan Griffith, chairman of the concession stands, will report on the success of the operation. Bob Badger, band director, will report on the marching contest the band attended in Andrews Saturday. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

Hunt Says U.S. To Fall Prey To Commie Bosses
SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Oilman H. L. Hunt, here to drum up advertisers for his conservative-oriented radio program “Lifetime,” says America has but three or four years before the Communists take over. The Dallas magnate told a news conference in his opulent hotel suite that Henry Kissinger must be blamed for all of the nation's foreign diplomacy problems. Kissinger, who recently returned from Red China, is President Nixon's national security affairs advisor. Labeling Kissinger a “super manager,” Hunt said “There's no one like him since Alexander the Great. He couldn't get elected and yet he's been running the country for the last 21 years.” “The United States only has three or four more years left before it falls prey to the Communists,” he said.

Hunt was here to get sponsors from among those attending the annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute. Playboy magazine's interview with Hunt called him “tight as a new shoe and as shrewd as a riverboat gambler.” Hunt distributed copies of the interview to reporters prior to the news conference.

Tried To Murder Mao Three Times?

NEW YORK (AP) - Time magazine says Western experts believe Lin Piao, Mao Tse-tung's designated successor as chairman of China's Communist party, tried to assassinate Mao three times and was betrayed by his own daughter as he tried to escape. Crediting the account to "China-watchers from Hong Kong to Washington," Time said Lin, the defense minister, is "politically finished and very possibly dead as well." The magazine said "an epic struggle for power" came to a climax in September. It said six of the 21 members of the politburo have since "dropped completely from view." According to this explanation for the vague reports of turmoil coming out of China, Lin was somehow exposed in September. He reportedly tried three times in 18 months to kill the man who made him his heir-apparent 2 1/2 years ago. Deciding to flee China, Lin, his wife and son; Chen Po-ta, Mao's chief ideologue, personal secretary and ghostwriter; and Wu Fa-hsien, chief of the air force reportedly went to a military airfield near Peking. Chen was purged from his fourth-ranking spot in the Politburo last fall. He and Wu were described as coconspirators with Lin. The group took off in a British-made Trident aircraft equipped with special radar to fly at very low altitudes, the magazine said. "Wherever they were headed, they never made it," Time said. "Lin's own daughter, Lin Tou-tou, betrayed the escape attempt and the Trident was somehow shot down."

RELUCTANT IMMIGRANT - Lady Amelia Fleming, 60-year-old widow of the discoverer of penicillin, speaks to reporters at Heathrow Airport in London Sunday, following her arrival from Greece. She was deported from Greece Sunday morning, and on her arrival in London, she staged a 50-minute sit-in aboard the plane.

Lady Fleming III, No Home, Money

LONDON (AP) - Stunned by her sudden expulsion from her native Greece, Lady Amelia Fleming said today she is sick, has no home or money, and needs time before she can carry on her fight against the Athens military regime. Although deprived of Greek citizenship, Lady Fleming remains a British subject. She acquired citizenship when she married British scientist Sir Alexander Fleming. She had met him after the war while doing research work on a scholarship at St. Mary's Hospital in London.

Shooting Victim Still 'Serious'

Daniel Gonzales, 22, was still listed in serious condition today at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital where he is being treated for gunshot wounds in the chest. Jose Garcia, 27, of 811 N. Gladiol, was charged Saturday with assault with intent to murder, and was released Sunday on $5,000 bond set by Peace Justice Jess Slaughter. Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard said Gonzales was shot sometime after midnight Friday while he and Garcia were passengers in a car on a rural road. A 22-caliber pistol was recovered in connection with the incident.

THEFTS

Bobby Rutherford, Key Motel reported Saturday that a .22 caliber pistol, portable air tank, men's clothing, one spare tire, and two used tires had been stolen from him. Value of the merchandise was placed at $302. Robert Lane, 106 NE 10th, reported Saturday that a house had been burglarized, and that $89.85 in cash had been taken. Roddy Cathy, 2500 Larry Drive, reported Saturday that a stereo tape deck, five tapes and two high school letter jackets had been stolen from his car while it was parked at the HJJC Men's Dorm. Value of the items was $155.

Lost For 11 Years

MELBOURNE (AP) - A pigeon returned to its home loft at Stawell, 145 miles northwest of Melbourne, after an absence of 11 years. Its legband showed it was a bird that was released from a 550 mile homing flight from South Australia in 1960.

Plans For Barn Renovation OK'd

Bruce Griffith, county agricultural agent, presented to commissioners court today plans for the remodeling of the county show barns and the addition of a connecting structure between the two present show barns at the rodeo bowl. According to Griffith, pens presently in the north show barn would be removed, and six-foot concrete aisles for viewers, four-foot concrete alleys for leading stock from one area to another, and nine-foot stalls be constructed inside the barn. Griffith said the barn would hold 71 head of cattle, and that the concrete alleys and aisles were designed so that easy access to all stalls is possible, and that they could be easily cleaned by use of a small tractor. An alleyway would be constructed on the east end of the show barn which would create a passage way through the proposed connecting barn into the south barn and show arena. In the proposed connecting barn, portable pens for the showing of sheep, barrow etc. would be set up as well as animal wash racks, a meeting room and a kitchen. The south barn would be left basically as it is now, except for moving the auctioneer's stand to an area outside the arena, said Griffith.

J. D. Jones Construction Co., low bidder when the barn project was first approved in 1969, was given the job for the construction at the 1969 bid of $17,500. According to County Judge A. G. Mitchell, retaining Jones as builder is legal as long as they have not advertised for new bids. Some discussion was held this morning over whether Olen Puckett, architect, should be in charge of the project. The county purchased plans for the construction of the barn from Puckett, but he has not been retained as architect. Judge Mitchell instructed Jones to proceed with the plans as soon as possible, and that the court would consult with Puckett and decide this afternoon whether to retain him or not.

More than 500 persons participated in the drive, with some planning to finish today. Anyone who was missed and would like to contribute to the fight against arthritis can mail contributions to: The Arthritis Foundation, 4650 Vicky, Big Spring. This year's drive was sponsored by the Mu Zeta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, who helped direct and recruit the many volunteers who have participated in the Victory March.

Police Computer Study Committee Meets Here

Only a short stretch is left in work toward the feasibility of computerizing divisions in the local police department, and members of the study team met this morning at the station to discuss items left to be studied, plus the final general report. Members of the work team attending the meeting at 10:30 a.m. were Dr. Tom Dock and Dr. William R. Cornette, Texas Tech School of Management; Bill Garay, IBM representative; Harry Nagel, city manager; Vance Chisum, police chief and Sgt. Pete Stone, BSPD ID Section. In the meeting a program of review of new and advanced IBM systems that could be incorporated into the local agency was presented. The study will conclude at the end of this month, and a general report will be presented to the city manager and police chief for approval. "Then a copy of the updated report will be sent to the Texas Criminal Justice Council, so that the members may review the study for possible initiation in the local agency," said Sgt. Stone. A $5,700 grant to the city was appropriated by the TCJC last May for the funding of the feasibility study. The city's part of the program was in the form of an in-kind match of $2,400. With the approval of the city commission in June, the study began under the direction of Dr. Vince Luschinger, director of the Texas Tech School of Management. Also the study was conducted in cooperation with representatives from the International Associations of Chiefs of Police. The study has been to determine what areas in the police department to develop. The program could be a pilot program for computer use for other police departments in cities of 20,000 to 80,000 population, according to former city officials, who helped to start the project. Application of the computer will be two-fold, police activity and operations, and municipal court procedures. In the application of the computer to the municipal court, it would be useful to speed up various court operations, collecting tickets, improving the system of records, and cutting down on man hours spent on the paper work of the court. We have been told by representatives of the council that if the study project is successful upon completion, and a design feasible to the size of the city is worked out, funds will be allocated actually to put the completed design and program into effect in our department, said former Police Chief, Jay Banks, upon initiation of the study.

Local Hepatitis Case Confirmed

One local case of hepatitis has been reported to the Howard County Health Unit, Buck Kirkey, health officer, reported this morning along with six other cases reported in the St. Lawrence-Garden City area. Approximately 80 residents in the area Saturday sought shots to lessen the effects of the illness, an infectious inflammation of the liver. To date, no adult cases have been reported. "Most of the reports have involved out-of-town residents, but we have received one report of a local youngster with the illness," said Kirkey today. No public inoculations against the illness are planned by the Howard County unit, but officers have advised persons who attended the Fall Festival in St. Lawrence to contact their physicians for advice. Webb AFB personnel and dependents who attended the festival and think that they have been exposed to hepatitis may receive shots at the Webb Hospital immunization clinic Tuesday from 12:30 to 4:30 p.m. In Midland, a spokesman for Midland Memorial Hospital said that a report of a suspected hepatitis death at the Midland hospital turned out to be unfounded. An autopsy showed the death was not related to hepatitis.

Bribe Trial Of Rep. Dowdy

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) - The bribery trial of John Dowdy, D-Tex., was to continue today following testimony last week that the Athens congressman was given $25,000 in 1965 to influence a federal probe. Nathan H. Cohen, former president of a now-defunct Washington D.C. area home improvement firm, testified Thursday he gave the veteran of 19 years in the House the money in cash in exchange for aid in helping a Justice Department probe of his firm. Cohen, testifying for the government under limited immunity from prosecution, related how he taped conversations with Dowdy for the FBI.

Dowdy, whose ill health and legal machinations delayed the trial six times, is charged with perjury, conspiracy and accepting money as a bribe.

Can't Shake It

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old ex-nun. I have been out of the convent for two years and am now in my fourth job. I do office work and am well trained for it, but here is my problem: When I am asked about myself, I have always told the truth, and as soon as it is learned that I am a former nun, I am viewed with curiosity, suspicion and in some cases, contempt. The fact that I was a nun fascinates people (especially men), and wherever I go, I am questioned about it. I would like to forget it, but once someone knows, I am sunk. I like this new job and want to stay. So far I haven't mentioned my background. I don't want my mother to take them, but her son to lie, but I don't want to pour out my life's story too soon because the truth might add burden. (The boys were prejudice people right off at. Can you advise me?

EX-NUN DEAR EX-NUN: Your problem is your excessive concern over what people will think about you when they learn the truth. Don't try to second guess them. If they're "fascinated" with the fact that you were a nun, so what? That's their problem. Don't make it yours.

DEAR ABBY: More than 25 years ago, I rescued two battered, unwanted babies from a 20-year-old mother and a cruel stepfather. The juvenile ward in a state psychiatric institution, which didn't seem to help him. The younger boy did better, spending four years in the Air Force. He married a nice little girl (I'll call Anna) and they moved in with us. While my husband and I were on vacation a few months ago, their natural mother came to town and became very friendly with her, and now for the shocker: Anna and her husband have just become parents of a baby girl, whom they named for that woman! I was stunned, crushed and amazed.

We have signed notes for them, given them money, and treated them as our own children. Please ask a psychiatrist, why, why, WHY?

DEAR NUMB: Intensive psychological studies are necessary to determine what motivates people to behave as they do. On the face of it, it's hard to believe that this young couple didn't know how you would react, which leads to the natural conclusion. They didn't care.

(two and three at the time.) Finally the young mother put them out, and took them never to come back into that wretched little apartment over someone's garage. When darkness fell, a neighbor told me that these children were huddled on her back steps, like abandoned puppies, dirty, hungry and asleep.

Force. He married a nice little

Heartburn

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My stomach burns most of the time and I have been X-rayed for ulcers and gall bladder, but the X-rays were normal. My doctor said I might have an ulcer that doesn't show or that there was too much acid in my stomach. I am now on a bland diet. Is it possible to have an ulcer without its showing on X-ray? The doctor said if I didn't have an ulcer, it would turn into one if I don't control the acid in my stomach. Is there any way to control it? -- H.D.

Sounds like heartburn -- which is a burning sensation in the area of the lower part of the breastbone. (Despite its name, it has nothing to do with Common causes of heartburn, which is a pretty common ailment, are excess acid in the stomach; regurgitation of stomach contents into the gullet (esophagus); the regurgitation of bile when the outlet of the stomach is incompetent; belching. Hiatal hernia also can cause heartburn, and a special technique is required to show that with X-ray, but I trust that was part of your examination. Only a very small percentage of ulcers (2 per cent or less) are missed by X-ray, and any- way the gnawing pain of an ulcer is usually lower down than the breastbone. (Despite its name, it has nothing to do with regurgitation of stomach contents carries the possibility of developing an ulcer, so you have more than one reason for wanting to get at the root of your trouble.

Since your trouble continues, you evidently have NOT got at the real trouble. Therefore, further examination is in order. Continue the bland diet, for that is one step in combating excess acid, but there are other ways. Possibly smaller, more frequent feedings (say milk between meals) may help.

Antacid medications taken an hour after meals can reduce acidity, but that doesn't get at the basic trouble.

If regurgitation is the real problem, remember that obesity plays a role; too much fat in the abdomen exerts pressure. Losing weight gives relief. Or, if you are an air-swallower and belch quite a lot, then make yourself eat more slowly (And don't gulp when you drink.) Hypoglycemia and some other conditions can contribute to heartburn, but first I'd take a thorough look at the suggestions I've already made.

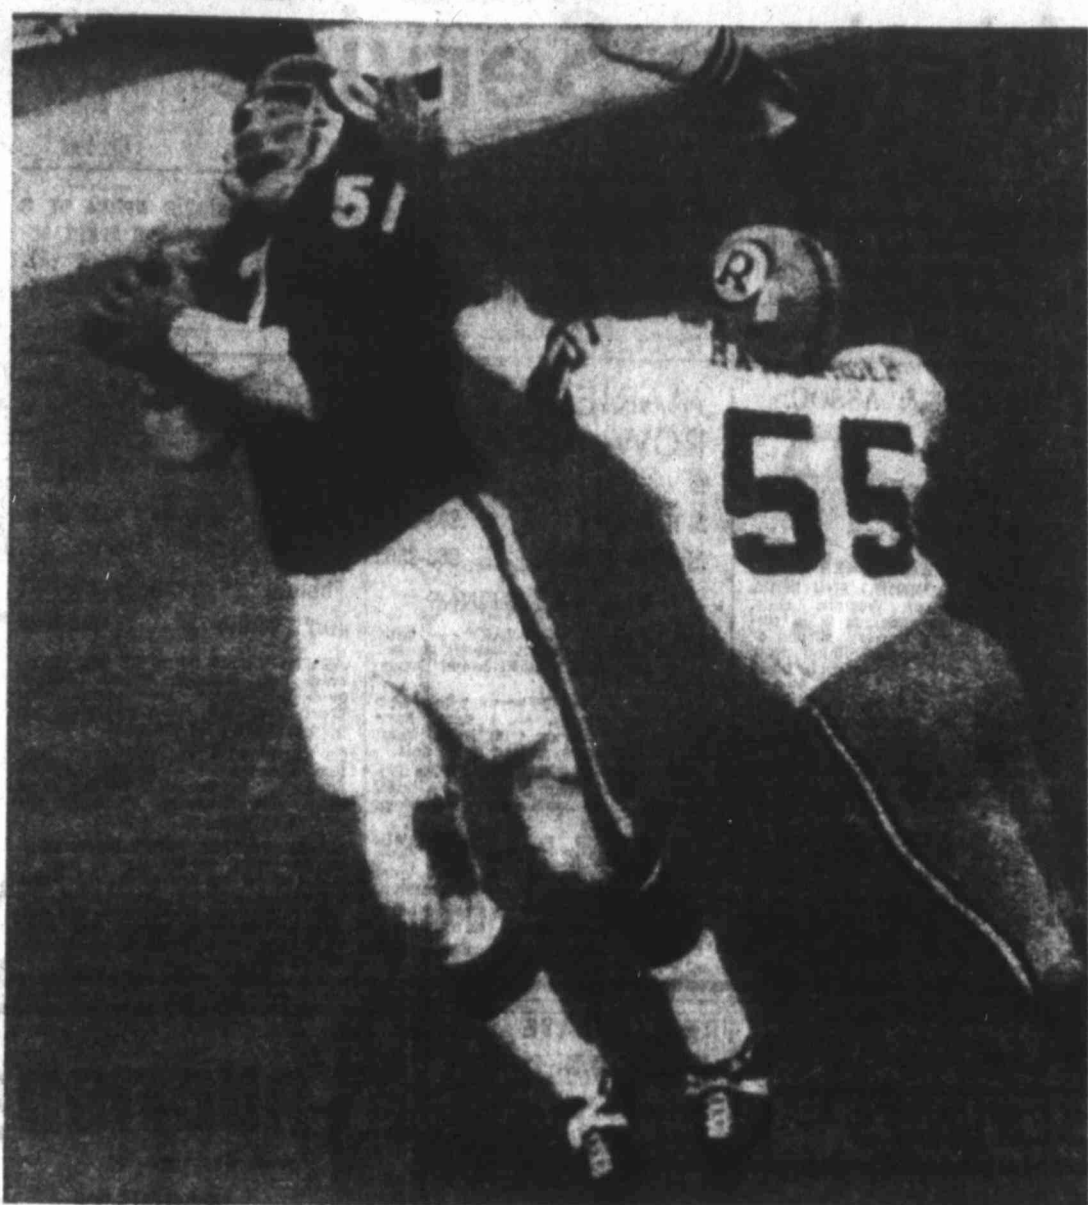

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been reading that the IUD (intra-uterine device) compares favorably with the birth control pill in effectiveness.

Let's get down to the nitty-gritty. Has there been a known case where a woman using an IUD has become pregnant? I am too old to take any chances at all. -- Mrs. J.A.

It's true that the coil, or IUD, compares favorably with the pill -- meaning that it is pretty reliable but not quite as. Yes, there have been pregnancies by women using an IUD.

Last figures I saw said that the pill, properly used and no forgetfulness, was virtually 100 per cent effective; the IUD something like 98 or 99 per cent.

Diverticulosis is a bulge in the digestive tract. To become more familiar with the subject, write in care of The Herald for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

BUTKUS CATCH CLINCHES VICTORY — Chicago Bears linebacker Dick Butkus (51) grabs a fourth quarter pass in end zone in Chicago Sunday, an unusual play that gave the Bears a 16-15 win over the Washington Redskins. Redskins back Chris Hanburger (55) fails in attempt to block. Bears quarterback Bobby Douglass, who was supposed to hold for conversion kick after touchdown, retrieved a high pass from center and passed to Butkus for the winning point.

Screwy Pass Play Wins For Bears

By The Associated Press

"I never scored on a screwer play," Chicago's Dick Butkus exulted. It was but one play in a slightly screwy day that did all sorts of strange things to the National Football League standings.

The Bears' big linebacker, usually the recipient of plaudits for his defensive brilliance, found himself the offensive hero of Sunday's 16-15 victory over Washington when he grabbed a desperation Bobby Douglass pass on a broken punt-after-touchdown play.

Cyril Pinder had burst up the middle for a 40-yard scoring scamper that knotted the game early in the fourth quarter. But the snap back to Douglass on

Skins Within Dallas' Reach

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas offense appeared to be listening for Chicago-Washington scores over the loudspeaker Sunday while the Domsday Defense went out and did a hard day's work for a 20-7 victory over Philadelphia to set up a National Conference Eastern Division showdown with the Redskins.

Dallas moved within a half-game of Washington thanks to a 16-15 victory over the Redskins by the Bears.

The Cowboy defense, headed by tackles Bob Lilly and Jethro Pugh and linebacker Chuck Howley throttled the Eagles with only three first downs until late in the game when the defense sagged to let Philadelphia eat up the clock.

WHAT A PUNCH (BOWL) — Lee Trevino, right, chats with Jack Nicklaus over the big cup they won for the United States in the World Cup International Golf Tournament at Palm Beach Garden, Fla., Sunday. The twosome carded a 21-under-par 55 team total, which was 12 strokes ahead of their nearest competition—South Africa.

Nicklaus And Trevino Cop World Cup By 12 Strokes

PALM BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino won the World Cup International Golf Tournament at Palm Beach Garden, Fla., Sunday, by 12 strokes over their nearest competition—South Africa.

The United States' two premier golfers finished mutilating teams from 45 other nations Sunday, shooting a 21-under-par total of 55 at PGA National Club.

Nicklaus rolled home with a personal 17-under-par 71.

"The individual award should be eliminated from the world cup," said Nicklaus, who blitzed through rounds of 68-69-63-71. "It's a team tournament and no one person should be allowed to steal the show."

South Africa was the runner-up, limping home 12 shots behind the Nicklaus-Trevino powerhouse at nine-under-par 567.

New Zealand was two strokes farther back in third.

Gary Player had led the South African challenge for two days with 69-67, but the Golden Bear's incredible 63 on Saturday as the Americans coasted to victory.

John D. MacArthur, tournament host and one of the world's 10 richest men, climbed to the podium and delivered Trevino's requested beer. Lee then had MacArthur light him a cigarette.

Nicklaus trails Trevino by more than $20,000 in the U.S. tour dollar derby. Both plan to enter the Heritage Classic at Hilton Head, S.C., and the Disney World Open at Orlando, Fla., during the coming weeks.

Nicklaus won the PGA championship on the same 7,096-yard course in February with a seven-under-par 281 aggregate. In the World Cup, he was 10 shots better.

Steers On Short End Of Season's Statistics

The 1971 season for the Big Spring Steers ended 2-8, and the only two games the Steers won were non-conference. The statistical chart helps tell the story.

During the season, the combined oppositions gained 1,295 yards more than the Steers. That pretty well reflects both of an offense that sputtered and a defense that leaked.

Eliminate the Big Spring picnic against Snyder, and the charts weigh even more heavily against the locals.

One thing which the figures do not reflect, however, was a tenacity in the face of adversity, for many of the Big Spring offensive thrusts and scores came in situations where they were hopelessly out of it and could easily have just quit. They kept trying to the end.

In first downs, the enemy led by 64; in rushing by 659 yards; in passing by 636. In the latter category, the opposition doubled the Steers, who completed less than one of three while the opposition connected on one out of every two. The Steers picked off six passes but had 14 intercepted. The only advantage

Webb Gridders Capture Title

Webb AFB flag football team, the "Dusters" won the Air Training Command tournament at Sheppard AFB Friday. Webb won over 16 other teams from bases from all over the United States.

Fifteen members of the team went up for tournament — which was a double elimination tournament — Webb was the only undefeated team.

The Dusters scored 143 points for the week compared to their opponents combined score of 18. Webb's quarterback was named most valuable player for the tournament. He is Lt. Gary Baxier, former Air Force Academy quarterback of two years ago.

Duster's coach is TSgt. Allen Oldfather. The team will play Tuesday against a city team. The Webb team is a member of the city league.

The winning game football from the tournament was to be presented to Col. Malcolm E. Ryan, wing commander, this morning.

Rerun Of Good Old Days — Title Clash On Turkey Day

By The Associated Press

The Texas-Texas Aggie Thanksgiving Day collision with the Southwest Conference title on the line poses enough questions to keep a soap opera on television for five years.

Can Texas win an unprecedented fourth SWC title? Are the Longhorns too crippled to stop a suddenly awesome Aggie machine? Can Aggie Coach Gene Stallings save his job with a victory?

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, who tells it like it is, sees no easy time of it against a muscle-bound Aggie outfit which has found some goal line direction under senior quarterback Joe Mac King to go with a hard-tackling defense.

Royal says "A&M is ready to lineup man for man and challenge us better than they have for a long, long time."

The Aggies haven't beaten Texas since their Cotton Bowl year of 1967 when they bumped the Steers 10-7 at Kyle Field.

Second-string quarterback Donnie Wigginton, who could loom big in Royal's plans if Eddie Phillips can't heal his injured shoulder in time, said, "If we get everybody well, we will win against A&M...and on January one we'll play one of the top teams in the nation and find out how good we are."

The Aggies have surged to four consecutive SWC victories after a stumbling start that started the rumors flying again

Riders Plagued By Motor Trouble

Mechanical troubles plagued Big Spring riders Sunday at Lubbock and held them to one first place. That went to Larry Adams, who captured the 125 cc novice event.

David Hanson, in the 250 expert, and Jimmy Johnson in the open, won second places. Jimmy was riding with a loose front end. Danny Wier was leading the 125 cc expert on a new machine when his gas tank split and forced him to a third.

The next race will be the grand prix Sunday in San Angelo.

Mrs. Downey said her son's case was being reviewed and his chances for release were good. House Faces Decisions On Campaign Spending WASHINGTON (AP) — The time income of all print and broadcast media that thrive on political advertising.

AD RATES
Major disputes are certain to erupt over moves to impose restrictions on labor union activities, over efforts to apply advertising-rate requirements on newspapers, and over how far down the elective line to clear long-standing legal obstacles to federal campaign-financing mechanisms, and the election-the 1925 Corrupt Practices Act, whose critics claim is so full of loopholes that half the money spent on campaigns goes unreported.

Outsiders complain the bills are weighted in favor of incumbents. And several features in the various packages are being challenged on constitutional grounds.
The Senate-passed bill, described by backers as the most far-reaching reform plan in 25 years, will be brought to the House floor by Republican Reps. Bill Frenzel of Minnesota and Clarence J. Brown of Ohio.

CHIMP TALKS TO HERSELF WITH SIGN LANGUAGE

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — "Washoe," a female chimpanzee who already holds the chimp championship for talking to humans using sign language, has been credited with additional powers: she talks to herself with sign language.
Washoe, aged 6, is the most advanced of 23 chimpanzee pupils being progressively taught the sign language by two psychologists at the University of Oklahoma in Norman.
Washoe has a "vocabulary" of about 200 words, and an ability to construct simple sentences, using sign-language taught by Drs. R. Allen Gardner and Beatrix Gardner, comparative psychologists at the University of Nevada, Reno.
They started teaching Washoe the sign language about four years ago — using the stereotyped gestures of the American Sign Language (ASL) employed by the deaf in the United States.
Summarizing Washoe's progress under the Gardners' tutelage — up to the time they apparently sent her off to Oklahoma for "graduate" work toward her Ph.D. — the National Science Foundation says she ultimately "even talked to herself when she thought no one was watching, much as young children talk to themselves when they think no one is listening."
"Washoe climb tree" she would sign to herself — then up the tree she would go," Dr. Gardner observes.

10 CENTS LID

The Senate bill sets the per-candidate spending limit at 10 cents for each potential voter — with a 6-cent-per-voter maximum for broadcast ads. With a voting age population of 140 million in 1972, that would limit a presidential candidate to $8.4 million in broadcast advertising.
The Hays bill provides spending of 6 cents per constituent: a presidential candidate could spend $12.3 million for all media purposes.

Zone Hearing

The Zoning Board of Adjustment will hold a public hearing Nov. 24, at 5 p.m. in the city commission room in City Hall concerning a request by Robert Byrd, 1010 N. Main, for a zoning variance which will enable him to build a carport attached to the front of his home. Property owners in this area are being advised of the request and the public hearing.

Miss Wool Of Idaho Is Blonde

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — A 19-year-old nursing student at North Idaho Junior College in Coeur d'Alene has been chosen the 1971 Miss Wool of Idaho.
Blonde, brown-eyed Lianne Fullmer of Post Falls will represent the state in the Miss Wool contest at San Angelo, Tex., in June.
Before moving to Idaho, Miss Fullmer was selected as Junior Miss of California in 1969 and Miss Hollywood in the Miss U.S.A. Pageant in 1970.
Cathy Garcia, 20, a University of Idaho student from Vacaville, Calif., was chosen first runner-up and Tracy Lynn Bennett, a Boise State College sophomore from Boise, was named second runner-up.
Other contestants were Bonnie Jean Allee, Twin Falls, College of Southern Idaho; Karen Elaine Short, Rupert, Idaho State University; Susan Waidner, Glendale, College of Idaho; Ruth Ann Henning, Santa, Idaho, Lewis and Clark College, and Kathleen Johnson, Arco, Ricks College.
The Miss Wool contest was held in conjunction with the Idaho Wool Growers Association convention, which got under way today.

Prices Of Pinto, Capri Increased

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. has hiked the prices of its domestically produced Pinto and the imported Capri, ending the era of the U.S.-built auto with a price tag of less than $2,000.
Increases on the Pinto line average $94, while the German-built Capri will go up $119. The price boosts have government approval.
The new price tags put the basic Pinto at $2,028, compared with $2,090 for the Chevrolet Vega and $2,040 for American Motors' Gremlin, the other subcompact cars built by U.S. firms.
The suggested list price for Volkswagen's best-seller, the Super Beetle, is $2,278.
A Ford spokesman said Saturday that price increases for the rest of the Ford line are in the offing.
The other U.S. auto firms—General Motors, Chrysler and American Motors—are expected to follow suit.
Ford announced a $150 increase on the two Pinto models last July just before the 1972 models were to make their debut, but that price hike was rolled back at the time of the government price freeze Aug. 15.
Ford went to the Cost of Living Council and asked for permission to raise Pinto prices, contending that the firm had made substantial sales prior to Aug. 15 as required under the Office of Emergency Preparedness guidelines.
The Capri, built by Ford of Germany for distribution by Lincoln-Mercury dealers, will now carry a list price of $2,730.
