

DEMANDS U.S. WITHDRAWAL FROM INDOCHINA, TAIWAN

Red China Lines Up Against Two Superpowers

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Communist China in its maiden speech in the United Nations lined up against the two superpowers and demanded U.S. withdrawal from Indochina and Nationalist-held Taiwan.

Chiao's delegation took the seats in the 131-nation assembly that up to three weeks ago were held by the Nationalist Chinese.

to cast its first vote today—on a resolution calling on the U.S. government to ignore an order of Congress to resume chrome imports from Rhodesia despite a Security Council embargo.

He added that Peking's presence now was a defeat for a U.S.-Japanese plan to create two Chinas in the United Nations and "a victory for Chairman Mao Tse-tung's revolutionary line in foreign affairs."

to oppose the hegemony and power politics practiced by the one or two superpowers," Chiao said.

Chiao accused the United States of aggression in Indochina and said it should withdraw from there so that their people could solve their problems free from foreign interference.

He contended the Middle East crisis was brought on "by Israeli Zionism with the support and connivance of the superpowers."

Demos Lose Tax Battle

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats have failed in efforts to add a big 1971 tax cut for individuals to the $23.9-billion tax-reduction bill and to trim benefits for business.

college student. The credit will be subtracted from taxes due.

Democrats tried twice Monday to correct what they said was a major imbalance in the bill in favor of business.

Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson, D-Ill., lost, 44 to 39, in an effort to raise the personal exemption for 1971 to $700, compared with $675 voted by the House and $650 in present law.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., was defeated, 40 to 39, in an effort to give taxpayers $2.4 billion of additional cuts for 1971 with a $25 tax credit for single persons and $50 for couples.

Bayh's amendment also would have cut back the help to business in the accelerated-depreciation provision, reducing the tax savings by $7.8 billion over the next five years.

The votes appeared to indicate that the only additional general relief for individuals voted in the Senate floor debate would be the $300 personal exemption for 1972 and thereafter, adopted last Friday. The House voted for $750, the figure supported by the administration.

Six Found Dead In Their Homes

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A family of four and a prominent general practitioner and his wife were found dead in their homes today within a few blocks of each other in a fashionable neighborhood.

Police Chief Lawrence Morris said Robert Eder, a federal employe, had apparently killed his wife and two children before taking his own life. Their bodies were discovered about 7 a.m.

Stanton Couple Is Hospitalized

A hospital couple is in Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital today as a result of a one-car accident Monday in which their vehicle overturned at least one and one-half times and came to rest upside down in a roadside ditch along IS 20.

In critical condition with head injuries is Avalos Nevez, 44. His wife, Perfecta, 36, is in fair condition with shoulder, leg and possible neck injuries. Their son, Alberto, 2, was treated for cuts and released Monday.

The accident occurred at 2 p.m. Monday on IS 20, about five miles west of Big Spring. The Nevez family was heading west when the car went out of control and went off the highway to the right. According to investigating officers, Mrs. Nevez said that something went wrong with the car's brakes, but the cause of the accident has not been determined.

Texas Highway Patrolmen investigated the accident.

Throwaway Car Designed

LONDON (AP) — European and Japanese manufacturers are designing a $400 automobile that can be thrown away in a year, Europa magazine reported today.

One European builder "has already subjected a prototype to extensive tests," said the magazine printed in the Netherlands.

Another prototype is "well past the drawing-board stage" at the Volkswagen factory in Wolfsburg, West Germany. Volvo of Sweden and Toyota of Japan are other manufacturers working on the design of such a car.

The magazine quoted Antonio Gottardi of Turin, an auto executive, as saying his factory would aim at a 9,000-mile life for the revolutionary car. He said the price would be about $400.

Railroad Union's Pact Might Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The railroad signalmen's union announced today tentative agreement on a new 42-month contract that may prove to be the first big test of the Pay Board's post-freeze wage guidelines.

Terms of the settlement were not immediately announced, but it was thought likely it would follow the pattern set by many earlier settlements providing other rail unions with wage increases averaging 42 per cent over 42 months.

This is roughly 12 per cent a year, which exceeds the Pay Board's general rule that new contracts may not contain increases of more than 5.5 per cent a year.

Charles J. Chamberlain, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Signalmen, said terms of the agreement will be announced Saturday when the union's 75 general chairmen meet in Chicago to ratify the pact.

Chamberlain said he intended to consult with the Pay Board about the agreement.

Contracts covering more than 500,000 workers must receive advance approval by the Pay Board before they may become effective. The signalmen claim 12,000 members, so apparently this requirement will apply to them.

"We're investigating all these things," Chamberlain said. "We don't anticipate any problems. But there are unknowns."

The Pay Board has indicated through informed sources that it is inclined to let earlier rail agreements stand, since they came after a long period of rising prices in which rail workers received no wage increases.

Contracts that existed during the freeze are allowed to stand unless challenged and found to be "unreasonably inconsistent" with the 5.5 per cent rule.

Existing contracts and new contracts the board has left itself plenty of leeway to approve raises higher than 5.5 per cent a year if circumstances warrant.

The Pay Board, meantime, met for the first time today since the freeze expired.

It was expected to consider whether to grant teachers retroactive pay for wage increases held up during the freeze.

David Selden, president of the American Federation of Teachers, sent a telegram to Pay Board Chairman George Boldt on the eve of the meeting, urging the board to "correct injustices done to American teachers."

Pay Hike For State Employees Unfrozen

AUSTIN (AP) — State employes will get their 6.8 per cent pay raise authorized by the 1971 legislature, says state Comptroller Robert S. Calvert.

President Nixon's pay board has unfrozen the pay raise, Calvert said Monday.

Word of the decision came from regional Internal Revenue Service headquarters here, Calvert said, but it came too late to permit the raises to be included in the Nov. 30 paychecks.

He said a supplemental payroll, providing the raise money from Nov. 14—the day that Phase I of the President's anti-inflation program ended—through Nov. 30 would be made up. The pay raise checks should be in the hands of the employes soon after Nov. 30.

The comptroller said the IRS told him Monday the raises could be paid up to Jan. 1. He was unsure about the significance of that date.

The state will be able to continue paying the increases after Jan. 1 if the pay board approves, Phay said. The date was selected to allow pay raises to be put into effect subject to subsequent approval by the pay board. The board would have been "cramped if approval had to come first," he said.

Gov. Preston Smith and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin asked the pay board last week not only to allow the raises but to permit the state to date them back to Sept. 1, the day they would have taken effect had not wages been frozen.

RETROACTIVE
No ruling has been received on the request to make the raises retroactive.

Calvert said the raises were allowed because they were granted by the legislature prior to the freeze.

Last week, Calvert balked at an effort by Smith and Martin to put raises into effect because he had no ruling from the attorney general or the pay board to put the stamp of legality on them.

MOST PLEASED
"We are most pleased that our state employes and teachers will not be penalized any further because of the wage-price freeze," Smith said after the announcement. "We are anxious to process whatever paperwork is necessary to see that all employes and teachers receive these well-deserved increases as soon as possible."

Smith added that he hoped the pay board also "will give serious consideration and ultimate approval to Texas' request for retroactive pay."

MASTER SPY DIES — Rudolf Abel, the master spy who was the top Soviet agent in the United States, died Monday, informed sources reported in Moscow today. Abel was 68 and had been ill for six months with lung cancer, the sources said.

Glasscock Wells Get Clean Bill Of Health

GARDEN CITY — Wells which supply the school here and also a well in the St. Lawrence area showed no indication of being a source of hepatitis cases reported in this sector recently, Winn Talley, school superintendent, said today.

One well at the school was shown to have slight impurities, but these were no more than for any water well. As a precaution, the water is being chlorinated.

Possibly as many as half a dozen cases of hepatitis have been reported in the St. Lawrence area, but residents there were concerned about rampant rumors there was an epidemic. Most of the infections were light and the children involved were being kept at home as a precaution against possible spread.

A Dr. White, from the State Health Department in Austin, came here at the request of St. Lawrence residents, to test wells. The test there showed only the usual impurities of any well water and indicated no connection at all with hepatitis, he said. Dr. White said that a multitude of other things could have been a source of the ailment and could occur anywhere.

Only one case of hepatitis was treated in Big Spring, said Buck Kirkshey of the city-county health unit. Some 80 persons had taken gamma globulin inoculations, he reported, but Webb AFB authorities called off its offer of mass shots and announced only persons able to show some direct contact with a hepatitis case would be given the injections.

Only one case in the area was reported to have been infectious hepatitis; all others were mild and confined to youngsters. Supt. Talley said he had been informed that all affected were up and feeling fine and observing prescribed rest as a precaution.

One contributing factor to the rumors concerning the ailment was that cases were reported after the community's traditional fall festival. The timing appeared to be purely coincidental and had no connection at all with food served at the festival.

LAMESA CHAMBER WORKERS ARE HONORED

'Inner Motivation' Is Key To Success, Speaker Says

By LINDA CROSS
LAMESA — "After doing these things for a number of years, I can tell whether an audience likes me or dislikes me ... goodbye!" was Jack Yianitsas opening remark to the audience at the Chamber of Commerce annual banquet held at Lamesa High School's cafeteria Monday night.

Yianitsas, of Beaumont and Houston, is a popular speaker for such groups as chamber of commerce, church and civic clubs.

After an opening segment of humor, Yianitsas began to speak on inner motivation as the key to all success, either for an individual, a group or a nation.

He said that businesses spend a lot of money to uncover their competitive edges and spend more money to advertise it to draw in potential consumers of their services.

"After all this, the consumer comes in and encounters a lethargic employe. He looks up at that employe and says, 'I'm not interested.' What he means is 'you're not interesting,'" said Yianitsas.

Yianitsas told the audience that each person is special, unique, and that inner motivation is the key to each person's success.

"We are all born with an equal opportunity to become unequal," he said.

"Everyone must be a salesman. What is selling if not getting another to agree on an idea," he said.

"Confidence comes from successfully overcoming failure," he said. He illustrated his point by detailing the failures of great men. Abraham Lincoln was the most unsuccessful politician to ever become President, defeated in numerous Congressional and Senatorial campaigns, according to Yianitsas. "Everyone knows that Babe Ruth holds the record for the most home runs, but does everyone know that he also holds the record for the most strike outs," asked Yianitsas.

"Anytime you have the courage to risk failure, you also risk success," he added.

Prior to the introduction of the guest speaker, outgoing Chamber President Bob Brown told the group of the highlights of chamber accomplishments during his 15 months as president.

Brown jokingly blamed his long tenure on Lamesa's new chamber manager, Arthur Roberts, who changed the chamber's year from October to October to January to January.

"The most rewarding thing," said Brown of his time as president, "is to see many of you here who have put forth of yourselves and your time in working for a better Lamesa."

Highlights listed by Brown included Lamesa's winning the Blue Ribbon City Award from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The award is presented annually to the city chamber that has best promoted education, parks and recreation and industrial development, according to Brown.

Lamesa also won first place in its division in the "Beautiful Texas Contest" sponsored by the Governor's Council. Brown said that winning the award was made possible through the work of 200 block chairmen who carried out the block-to-block cleanup campaign organized by the Chamber's action committee.

The chamber's highway committee hosted the State Highway 87 Committee meeting in Lamesa. The committee is composed of delegates from cities along U.S. 87. Dawson County Fair, the Junior Livestock Show, a garden clinic, other exhibitions and other agricultural courses, and the first bale of cotton award were among the year's outstanding achievements of the chamber agricultural committee, according to Brown.

In tourist promotion, Brown listed as the chamber's achievements Lamesa's Operation Tourist Stop, the publication of Focus Magazine, and Lamesa's being honored in the Texas Highway Department's Texas Travelogue Magazine for its tourist promotion.

According to Brown, the chamber also worked actively in promoting industrial growth for Lamesa. The Roadrunners Club has been organized. Brown said that it is composed of a group of persons who travel in their work outside of Lamesa and are constantly on the alert to encourage new industry to move to Lamesa. The chamber also initiated "Industry of the Month, recognizing industries within the community. Brown recognized members of the chamber whose efforts had contributed most to the chamber's progress.

Retiring directors of the chamber honored for their efforts included Jerry Bell, Walter Buckel, Elwood Freeman, Ray Renner, Charles Bratcher, John Hegi, Doyle Norris and Neale Roy.

Dorothy Haney received the "Top Hand" award from the chamber's "Round-Up Club" for her outstanding efforts in recruiting new chamber members.

Dallas Woods, incoming president, was introduced, and he presented Mrs. Bob (Eleanor) Brown, with a bouquet of long-stemmed red roses to express the chamber's gratitude for the loan of her husband during his tenure as president.

Brown was presented with a plaque in appreciation of his work as president of the chamber. "As we begin a new year for the chamber, it is a good time to look at its purpose — to make our community a better place to live," said Woods.

Woods said that a chamber is everyone "working together to do things as a group that they could not do as individuals."

Woods introduced the present and incoming board of directors for the chamber.

"Holdover" directors are Norris Barron, Brown, Ed Fullbright, Woods, Joe Coffey, George Norman, Wendell Strahan and Nolen Cope.

Incoming directors are Don Bristow, Jess Claiborne, Richard Gentry, Nelson Hogg, E. D. "Bo" Adcock, Bob Capps, Marshall Middleton and Philip White.

Richard Gentry will be vice president for the coming year, and Joe Coffey will serve as treasurer.

Gadget Tackles Cancer Of Jaw

ATLANTA (AP) — Emory University's school of dentistry is putting a computer to work at diagnosing tooth ailments and cancer of the jaw.

A computerized image-processing technique which has been used to analyze aerial photographs will be used in conjunction with X-rays at the school's diagnostic clinic.

Dr. Joseph Bissell, director of the clinic, says the technique can lessen the chances of erroneously extracting a healthy tooth and may provide an alternative for surgical treatment of cancer of the jaw.

Pulpwood Production In 'Dixie'

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Southern Forest Institute says Georgia led the 12 Southern states for the 23rd consecutive year in the region's 1970 pulpwood harvest, which amounted to more than $1 billion.

The Atlanta-based forestry institute said Georgia's harvest totaled $174,734,400 and that this represents a $14 million increase over the 1969 figure.

Alabama, with a pulpwood harvest valued at $153,825,600, was the second most productive state followed by Mississippi, with a 1970 pulpwood harvest valued at $121,293,600, the forestry institute said.

Harvest figures for other Southern states showed Arkansas production at $61,780,800; Florida $52,204,800; Louisiana $93,981,600; North Carolina $98,580,000; Oklahoma $4,720,800; South Carolina $79,219,200; Tennessee $13,615,200; Texas $70,022,400; and Virginia $57,679,200.

The institute said that during 1970 the South provided approximately two-thirds of the nation's total pulpwood supply.

The record harvest delivered to the region's 107 pulp and paper mills was $1,011,657,940, the institute said.

Library Read-In Week Observed

In honor of National Children's Book Week which continues through Saturday, tours for elementary school children have been scheduled at the Howard County Library.

"Read-In, 1971" is the theme of the week, and Mrs. Edna Nichols, librarian, has arranged an exhibit which details the changes in illustrations in children's books from 1911 to 1971.

National Children's Book Week began in 1921. Mrs. Nichols has added books of that vintage to the exhibit to show reading fare available to children of that era.

Approximately 50 new children's books have been purchased especially to be available this week to young patrons. Mrs. Nichols invites all primary-grade aged youngsters to come to the library to "read-in."

Need Return Of Trust

A crisis of confidence in the federal government is deepening and continuing, according to a team of University of Michigan social scientists which has been conducting surveys on the subject for 13 years.

The American people now view Washington — the federal government as a whole — with more cynicism than ever, the surveys disclosed. Correlations with previous surveys suggest that the decline in trust is directly related to the Vietnam war, but also includes areas such as racial problems and the economy.

The surveys are not quickie political poll-type samplings. They are based on lengthy questionnaires examining complex issues and are directed at a nationally representative sample of adults. They cannot be dismissed lightly, either by the people or the government.

Surveys prior to 1964 found high levels of public trust. In 1964 the social scientists found 62 per cent expressing a high degree of trust. By 1970 the proportion had dipped to only 37 per cent. Similar surveys in 1966 and 1968 showed a steady decline.

The largest loss of trust was where it hurts the most — among the moderate, middle-ground people. Those with a moderate position on the war favored ending the fighting but maintaining a military presence in Vietnam. In 1964, 74 per cent of the moderates held a high degree of trust. By 1960, the figure had dipped to 26 per cent.

The federal government is huge, cumbersome, expensive and often unresponsive — all of it, the executive, the Congress and the judicial branches. Government officials have at times been less than truthful and been caught at it.

Yet at the same time the people were losing trust, they were turning more and more to the government, turning to it for grants, aid, solutions and direction. Local and state problems have become federal problems. This also reflects a loss of confidence in local and state government.

A return of trust is vital if the American system is to continue to work. A people which doesn't believe its leaders or officials eventually may try to make a drastic change. The people must hold the government more accountable for its actions. The government must listen and act according to the peoples' wishes. And it must be honest and forthright in its decisions and policies. It must deserve that most important ingredient of democracy — trust.

On A Slow Boat

Tom Jolley of Tallahassee, Fla., doesn't want any part in a storm — he wants to stay right in Tallahassee.

The U.S. government says he's an unwanted alien and is seeking a country to which to deport him.

Jolley was born in Greensboro, N.C., but fled to Canada in 1967.

But to emphasize his point, the 27-year-old man also formally renounced his American citizenship.

In 1968 he came back from Canada and was soon found by immigration officials who declared he had non-citizen status and couldn't stay in the U.S.

Jolley sued to remain, all the way to the Supreme Court which this week declined to hear his case.

If American citizenship means so little to him, he justly deserves to be put on a ship headed for Anywhere, The World.

Special Offers

Jo Bright

Do you get confused by the rash of "cents-off" promotions, "economy-size" bargains, "introductory offers," etc., in the stores? Help is ahead.

EFFECTIVE DEC. 31, new rules laid down by the Federal Trade Commission and the Food and Drug Administration, will govern use of such come-ons for food, drugs, cosmetics and other household products.

Here's a rundown of the regulations (which I have capsuled from "Changing Times," a small magazine package which is big on better ideas for you and me as consumers).

"CENTS-OFF OFFERS": They will be valid only if they are a real and honest cut from the customary price. Labels will have to state the regular price, the amount of cents off and the net price to you. Only three such cents-off deals will be allowed per year in any given area for each size of a specific item, with the special offer limited to a maximum six-month period during any 12-month interval. Furthermore, no more than half the total sales of the item can be sold at the cut price over a year's time.

"INTRODUCTORY OFFERS": The product involved must actually be new, significantly changed or newly-introduced in the geographic area in which the special is offered. It has to be clearly labeled as an "introductory offer," with the duration of the promotion limited to six months. After that, the distributor must "in good faith" intend to sell the product at a regular and higher price. If used in combination with cents-off deals, such offers must comply with "introductory" rules and also specify what the actual cut is from the regular price.

"ECONOMY SIZE OFFERS": The description can't be used unless the packer sells the same brand in at least one other size. Also, it must be sold at a price at least 5 per cent lower than prices of other size packages of the same product.

"COUPON OFFERS": You will be told clearly what the coupon is worth in cash or goods so there will be no confusion at the check-out counter.

Government officials say the new rules are intended to help people compare one cut-price bargain with another. Also, they will bring an end to those deceptive promotions of cents-off and special-priced deals that are 100 per cent phony.

Front Runners

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Every now and then a man prominent in the Democratic party who has been talking about trying to win the party's nomination for the presidency decides, for one reason or another, to drop out of the race. In doing so this week, Sen. Fred Harris of Oklahoma confessed that he did not have the funds to continue the contest. But there is something more required to get a nomination than just having enough money. A candidate not only has to be widely known but must offer a program that draws support from the people.

TODAY THE POLITICIANS seem to think that Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine is the most likely Democratic candidate. There was a time when Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts was being mentioned frequently, but his strength has been dropping off because he has repeatedly declared that he doesn't want to run in 1972.

The Democrats perhaps will be impressed by someone who makes a penetrating speech at the national convention in Miami Beach when the party platform is being drafted. They can win only if they have a program that will appeal to the majority of the voters of the country. It is not so much the man but the kind of legislation that he favors which will attract voters in the next campaign.

SEASONED CAMPAIGNERS feel that it is too soon for candidates to be spending their time and money trying to line up Democratic delegates. This is something that should come in the spring of 1972. Success will depend to a large extent on what the economic condition of the country happens to be then. The Vietnam War is not expected to be an issue, as nearly all our troops will be in process of withdrawal from Southeast Asia. So the big question will be what the Democrats can offer that will meet with the favor of voters of all parties and cause them not to support the Nixon administration.

IT IS CONCEDED by experienced politicians that if economic recovery has not been attained by election day, the Democrats will have a very good chance of winning. But if the reverse is true and unemployment has been substantially reduced and the trend is toward a general improvement on all sides, the voters will be disinclined to want a change. The personality of the candidate whom the Democrats choose will, of course, have much to do with their opportunity to win. While Sen. Muskie is getting much of the publicity, it cannot be forgotten that Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota polled a substantial vote in the last election while serving as vice president under Lyndon Johnson. Humphrey's followers will unquestionably make a vigorous effort in his behalf.

ONE THING IS beginning to emerge as an influential factor. There must be extensive organization at all levels by the two major parties. This means carrying on a campaign precinct by precinct across the country. Workers will be needed to call on citizens and try to persuade them how they ought to vote. It will cost each party a great deal of money to line up votes. Mobilizing party strength cannot be left solely to state organizations. There will have to be local groups in cities and counties. This is why everybody concedes that the 1972 election is likely to be the most costly in American history.

IF THE DEMOCRATIC convention were held tomorrow, the contest would be between Sen. Humphrey and Sen. Muskie, but it's a little early to predict who will be the nominee.

Improper Contact

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Steve Nobles saw a man trying to put a battery in a car.

"Do you have a wrench?" the man asked. In a noble gesture, Nobles got his and helped him finish installing the battery.

The man got in his car and drove away.

Nobles then tried to do the same but couldn't.

His battery was gone.

Welfare Drops

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky reports its welfare rolls down by 4,300 persons from April, 1970, to March, 1971. Spokesmen said part of the decline is due to a program under which private citizens help find work for qualified welfare clients.

Beleagured Airlines

William F. Buckley Jr.

SEATTLE — There is an air of resigned depression here, the assumption being that Boeing will never rise again. Boeing isn't out, but it is down, and it will be a while, longer than the economy of Seattle would like, before the supply of its airplanes wears so thin that it will need to re-employ the dozens of thousands of men and women who have been let go. Werner von Braun was here the other day, and he reassured the community by saying that the Luddite spirit of the day will soon be spent, and before long, America will turn back to technology and go confidently forward. This would mean, among other things, the resumption of the SST program, and a happier economic future for Boeing.

THE CHANCES would appear to be happier even for Boeing, than for the American-run carriers. Figures recently published by Aviation Daily make the point with spectacular lucidity. The magazine made a study of five major employe categories at TWA, Pan Am, Air France, Lufthansa and Alitalia. The statisticians studied the minimum and maximum wages paid to: mechanics, ramp servemen, ticket agents, accountants and captains.

THE LESSON, then, is conveniently communicated by comparing the figures for Pan Am and those for Lufthansa. Pan Am begins its mechanics at $11,000 (I round out the figures), and pays them a maximum of $12,000. Lufthansa's comparable figures are $4,000 and $5,000. Pan Am begins its ramp servemen at $9,000, and pays them a maximum of $10,000. Lufthansa's comparable figures are $3,000 and $4,500. Pan Am begins its ticket agents at $9,000, and pays them a maximum of $10,500. Lufthansa's comparable figures are $4,000, and $6,000.

Pan Am begins its accountants at $9,000 and pays them a maximum of $13,000. Lufthansa's comparable figures are $4,000 and $6,000. Pan Am begins its 727 pilots at $40,000, and pays them a maximum of $49,000. Lufthansa's comparable figures are $20,000 and $27,000. Pan Am begins its 747 pilots at $48,000 and pays them a maximum of $71,000. Lufthansa's comparable figures are $20,500 and $33,000.

"ADDED TOGETHER," the survey concludes, "the five maximum salary levels for Pan Am and TWA (an average of the two carriers at each level) total $118,500, while the same figure for the four European carriers is $58,500." In other words, it costs the American carriers almost exactly double what it costs the European carriers to operate the airlines.

Manifestly, there is no way out. Unless . . .

UNLESS WHAT? Well, unless the American carriers take on a lot more passengers than the European carriers. Here they have at least a temporary advantage. In order to pay the much higher wages, the carriers have need of the extra business.

'OF COURSE—A LOT OF THIS WILL BE UP TO YOU'

Momentous Issues

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — If the American people are suspicious of Sen. Edward Kennedy's political intentions, they certainly cannot be blamed. Every time you pick up the newspaper there is another story about Teddy Kennedy confirming he is not a presidential candidate in 1972. It isn't the denial that has people confused as much as where Sen. Kennedy denies it.

As the campaign heats up we can expect more and more news stories on the subject. They might look like this:

WINDY FALLS, Iowa — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy told a cheering throng of 10,000 persons at the Windy Falls County Fair that he would not accept the presidential nomination under any circumstances in 1972.

The senator from Massachusetts said that the people must defeat Nixon or the country would be faced with inflation, unemployment, drought and financial ruin. He called on the citizens of Iowa to turn out the Republicans in 1972 and elect a Democratic President from the fine list of candidates who were now running, of which he was not one.

AFTER HIS SPEECH Sen. Kennedy visited an Indian reservation, a Mexican-American migrant labor camp, a United Auto Workers communion breakfast, a chamber of commerce awards banquet and made a short speech during half-time ceremonies at the Iowa State-Nebraska Tech homecoming game, reiterating his determination not to run for the highest office in the land.

NEW YORK . . . Sen. Edward Kennedy spent 14 hours in New York City yesterday in a whirlwind tour. A Kennedy aide said that the senator from Massachusetts wanted to take his message that he was not a presidential candidate personally to all the five boroughs. The senator unequivocally denied any higher political ambitions at a rally in Harlem, a Jewish temple in Queens, the Sons of St. Patrick in Staten Island, the Brothers of Italy in Brooklyn and the Save Yankee Stadium Citizens League in the Bronx.

SEN. KENNEDY also met with Democratic Party leaders of New York State in his brother-in-law Steve Smith's Fifth Avenue apartment, to discuss ways of keeping his name off the ballot.

He then talked for an hour with Mayor John Lindsay in an effort to persuade Lindsay not to start a grass-roots Kennedy presidential campaign.

BEFORE LEAVING New York, Kennedy rode up Fifth Avenue in an open convertible with his wife, Joan, hoping to discourage New Yorkers from considering him as a Democratic hopeful.

After the ride Kennedy appeared on the Johnny Carson Show, the Dick Cavett Show, the David Frost Show and the Late-Night Movie, stating he would not even accept a draft at the convention in Miami. He shook hands with the cast of "Jesus Christ Superstar."

WASHINGTON — A spokesman for Sen. Edward Kennedy said today that while the senator was flattered that he was leading Muskie in both the Harris and Gallup polls and was half a point behind President Nixon, he still would not consider under any circumstances the race for President of the United States.

Sen. Kennedy was unavailable for comment as he was en route to Ireland, Italy and Israel where he hoped to explain to those countries' leaders why he would not run in 1972.

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — More fundamental issues may be involved in current economic problems and our handling of them than at any time since the 1930s, but awareness may not be as great as it was 40 years ago.

The renovation of the economy during the Great Depression came after almost every American was made personally aware of its failure. Little doubt existed that fundamental changes were being made.

The economic changes now being fashioned are equally basic but, because they are seen as remedies for immediate problems, the long-term consequences are sometimes overlooked.

Consider the matter of self-regulation versus government controls. Americans traditionally have considered self-regulation as more acceptable than orders from Washington. Free of shackles, it was felt, business could better do its job.

Few people now really believe that in some automatic way the economy is a self-correcting mechanism. Doubts have risen as to the ability of a self-regulated industry to curtail its abuses, such as in polluting air and water, although in its defense, it must be noted that industry's problems are not solely because of its failures but involve raising expectations on the part of the citizenry.

Self-regulation versus controls is the issue in a thousand battles being waged today between industry and its critics, and some business leaders fear that not only are they losing the present but that the critics rather than they are shaping the future.

The imposition of economic guidelines is only one illustration of this. Few people are willing to let the economy regulate itself, even conservative economists refuse to accept the terms the economy demands in seeking a balance. Instead, they demand that government step in and balance it.

Men of great learning once offered unemployment as the solution for inflation, and it is true that there is a correlation between high employment and inflation, and unemployment and a reduction of inflation.

NEW YORK (AP) — Things we could all do without: A hatcheck girl who looks grumpy when you leave only two-bits.

Mothers and daughters who dress alike after Mama is 50 and daughter is over 25. Rain or snow on weekends during the football season.

Hostesses who put so much garlic in their food that you're afraid to open your mouth for three days afterwards.

People who use artificial flowers to decorate their home but never dust them.

The tributes anonymity of most modern day gravestones. Just because a guy didn't do much when alive is no reason why his survivors can't think up something nice to say about him after he has gone.

Anybody who cloaks his laziness or his fear of trying anything new by saying he is allergic to it.

Anybody who tries to achieve a spurious fame by carving, painting or scratching his name or initials on public buildings, national monuments or wash-room walls for that matter, except in his own home.

Women who can tell you how to get out of Vietnam but can't sew on a button for a fellow.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I was criticized by the "good people" in our community before I became a Christian. Now that I am a Christian and working hard for Him, these same people now are criticizing because I'm such a zealous Christian. How can I win? C.J.

You are a victim of modern mediocrity which curses you if you don't, and curses you if you do. How can you win? You've already won — with Christ. The seekers of a comfortable, sterile religion, would like to make you in their image, but Christ's man is often an object of ridicule. The Bible says, "All that live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution." 2 Timothy 3:12. If you would avoid criticism from your contemporaries, be a lukewarm, cold, ineffective religious person. No one will criticize you for this — not even the devil. In fact, he encourages people to be religious, just so long as they don't go "all-out" for Christ.

Be sure to study the Scriptures so that your zeal is not without knowledge. However, D. L. Moody, once said: "I'd rather have a man with much zeal and little knowledge than a man with much knowledge and little zeal."

A Devotion For Today . . .

One Lord, one faith, one baptism. (Ephesians 4:5)

PRAYER: O God, we are all as one people passing our days on earth. Help us to be one in spirit and one in service to Thy Son, Jesus Christ. Amen.

A LOVELIER YOU Stormwear Fashions For All Occasions

New stormwear goes anywhere. Wraparound and belted shirt coats take you about town. Chubbies and battle jackets topping warm pants and raincoats lead a sporting life. For the evening, long and fitted, coats plunge to the floor.

Capes, capelets and hoods make an impression as gadabouts. Real and lookalikes, furs profusely border cuffs, closings and hemlines. In icy weather you can snuggle in coats with bulkless fur and pile linings.

On the whole, fabrics are innovative. Suede-like cottons, no-wale corduroys, cut velours, wool melton, quilts and more quilts come to the fore. Cotton gabardine and poplin, brushed denims, canvas, twill and double-knits continue in good standing.

Colors follow top fashion trends from off white to pale topaz, camel to russet to brown, from plum to navy, light to dark red and black. Prints — floral, animal, argyle — brighten the scene on leaden days and dark nights.

Add slick accessories to your turnout — spanking waterproof boots and gauntlets, a colorful ascot or turtle dickey at the neckline, smooth hair at the hemline and brilliant lipstick at the smileline.

Nothing short of a deluge can quell your splashy looks.

At your service:

Electricity that costs less than 10 years ago.

It's true. Your dollar buys more electricity now than it used to. Because Texas Electric's rates for electric service have not increased since 1961.

In fact, there have been two rate reductions since 1961—in 1963 and 1965.

While the cost of living is up about 30 percent over 1961, the average price of electricity per residential kilowatt hour is down more than 30 percent (see chart).

If your bill for electric service at your residence is higher, it's because you're using more electricity. You may have added air conditioning, a clothes dryer, frost-free refrigerator or color TV.

It all adds up to this: In spite of continuing inflation you're getting more electricity for your dollar than you did in 1961. You're also getting all the extra comfort and convenience that electricity makes possible.

Son's Dilemma

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Am I some kind of nut? My husband says we should ignore the news that our 18-year-old son (I'll call him "Bud") and his girl friend, who has just turned 17, are about to become parents.

Bud doesn't want to marry the girl, but she is going to keep the baby anyway.

Bud is working, but is making poor wages. However, he said he paid some of her doctor bills, but he hasn't contributed lately because the girl refuses to see him. She is from a very poor family and is motherless, and I feel certain she needs help.

What do responsible parents do? I can't believe we should just sit back and ignore the whole thing. We can well afford to help her financially. Can you

BUD'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: First, consult a lawyer and learn what your son's legal obligations are to the girl and her child. And aside from that, any moral and financial support you can give the girl should be a generosity on your part. (P.S. In the meantime, try to make a man of your son. Your husband seems lacking in manhood himself so you can't depend on him.)

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I recently visited a marriage counselor for advice on saving our marriage.

During the course of the counseling, we learned that the counselor had been married twice, and is presently in the process of getting his third divorce.

Now my wife wonders just how good a marriage counselor is who can't solve his own marital problems. What is your thinking on the subject?

CONFUSED IN CALIFORNIA
DEAR CONFUSED: One should not assume that in order for a doctor to practice good medicine, he himself must exemplify good health. However, in matters of counseling, one would naturally have more confidence in a winner, so I think your wife's skepticism is understandable.

DEAR ABBY: You told "CRIES A LOT" to take her doctor's advice. (He said, "So everyone knows you're a crier. Don't let it bother you. Look at it this way, you will never have an ulcer or a nervous breakdown because you can express your emotions.") I think you're both wrong. I was the same way. Only I let it go longer than I should have, which caused severe depression. I went to a general practitioner and he didn't have a thing for me. I finally went to a psychiatrist and one visit to that wonderful doctor was all it took.

He told me I had a hormone deficiency and he gave me some medicine. After a couple of months, I felt better than I had ever felt in my life.

Now I am enjoying great success in a business I would never have dreamed of entering six months ago. HAPPY IN SAN ANGELO, TEXAS

DEAR ABBY: I can sympathize with "Cries a lot." I'm emotional too, and had the same problem. I went to my obstetrician-gynecologist and he gave me a gigantic dose of estrogen, which really put me back on my feet in one visit.

I'm still very emotional, however. Beautiful music really gets to me. And when I see others cry, I join them. MARY IN FULLERTON

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Would the fracture? What about the nutritional state of the patient? And age?

Generally speaking, healing is complete in 10 to 12 weeks, but you can see how much that may vary.

The type of cast depends largely on whether it is a weight-bearing bone that has been fractured. That would require a plaster cast.

Bones not under stress often can be splinted with a lighter material, but there again other considerations may intrude.

How extensive is the fracture? Will the weight and bulk of a heavier cast help keep a patient from putting too much strain on it? Is the fracture so located that a light splint will give adequate support?

Discoloration of the hand (with an arm or wrist fracture) could be related to hemorrhage at the site of the fracture, or from changes in the skin resulting from inactivity of the part while the cast is in place. The discoloration should later clear up gradually.

I have two questions. Will eating ice hurt you other than being bad for your teeth? Also, I brush my teeth with soda. It cleans them well, but I always swallow some. — Mrs. F.W.

Ice is just congealed water, so eating ice won't hurt you if you don't wreck any bridge-work crunching it.

The soda won't hurt you, either, unless you happen to be on a low-sodium (low-salt) diet.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a problem of complete prolapse of my cervix, before and during pregnancy with my second child. I had hoped that it would return to proper position after the baby was born, but it has not.

Is removal of the uterus necessary? Is there a chance the condition will correct itself? Is it advisable to get pregnant again? — Mrs. G.L.M.

The condition will not correct itself because of the relaxation of tissues. However, a suspension operation can be done so that removal of the uterus is not necessary.

Subsequent pregnancy probably would be all right, but on this point you had best be guided by your own doctor's advice, on the basis of your particular situation.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Partee's Goal Sinks Cards For Chargers

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — When Dennis Partee left the field among a happy mob of San Diego Charger teammates, he knew he'd succeeded. Otherwise he'd have walked alone.

"I kept my head down and just followed through so I didn't know it was good until I got swamped," Partee said Monday night. "Then I figured it must have gone through."

The 45-year, last-second field goal lifted the Chargers over the St. Louis Cardinals 20-17 in their nationally televised National Football League meeting in San Diego Stadium.

The kick that made the Chargers 4-5 in the American Conference West and the Cardinals 3-6 in the National Conference East was Partee's longest of the season. He learned that later.

Partee's boot followed a game-tying St. Louis touchdown with 17 seconds left when Cid Edwards plunged for a yard. The Cardinals then attempted an onside kick, but they didn't recover and San Diego, with John Hadl throwing a 16-yard pass to Gary Garrison, got field goal position and stopped the clock with a last time out.

The onside kick plus an all-purpose effort by San Diego running back Mike Montgomery in his first NFL start, two interceptions from rookie safety Bryant Salter—those were factors in San Diego's victory.

Montgomery ran for 98 yards, passed for 33 and caught passes for 77—a total offense of 208 yards.

But the Charger hero could have been a goat.

Coach Bernie Hagins and his staff will discuss the coming game with Alpine and show films of the Crane game.

Hawks Oppose Lubbock Quint In Home Debut

All-state guard Archie Myers, who set a season record for Howard County Junior College last year when he scored 920 points, gets a chance to join the Howard County JC exclusive 1,000-point club this evening when the Jayhawks make their home basketball debut against Lubbock Christian College's JV unit.

ARCHIE MYERS

Tipoff time in the contest is 7:30 p.m. Season tickets for home games of the local collegians, priced at $5 for adults and $3 for students, will be available at the gate.

The classy outside performer from Cleveland, Miss., has counted 63 points in the two games the Jayhawks have played to date.

He now has 983 for his collegiate career. Only eight players in HCJC have gone over the 1,000 point total.

They are Walter Carter, (1962-63), with 1,345; Robert Jackson, 1,171; Tommy Carter, 1,146; Bob Williams, 1,120; Eddy Nelson, 1,110; Kurt Papp, 1,049; Jim Knotts, 1,036; and Ernest Turner, 1,019.

If he can stay healthy, Myers likely will pass everyone on the list before his playing days in an HCJC uniform are over.

The Hawks, who beat Southwestern Christian of Terrell and Mountain View JC of Dallas on the road last week, will use LCC's Roadrunners as a final tuneup for the Odessa Tournament, which is scheduled this weekend.

Partial Share Given Kison By Pirates

NEW YORK (AP) — Baby-faced Bruce Kison, the hero of the first night game in World Series history, was given only a three-quarter share by the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates, Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced today.

The 21-year-old right-hander, who was called up by the Pirates in mid-season and compiled a 65 record before his World Series heroics, was voted $13,623.44 by his teammates. A full share was worth $18,164.58. The vote was taken before the Series.

Kison relieved starter Luke Walker in the first inning of the fourth World Series game against Baltimore on Oct. 13 and blanked the slugging Orioles on one hit over 6 1-3 innings. He left in the seventh inning for pinch hitter Milt May, who delivered the game-winning hit in a 4-3 Pittsburgh triumph.

LCC likely will go with a lineup consisting of Damon Richards, Steve Lincoln, Ed Moultrie, Ricky Russwarm and Skip Vandevender.

Over-all, the Pirates voted 31 full shares from their pot of $627,237.11 of the 1971 World Series and championship series receipts. They went to 23 players, Manager Danny Murtha, five coaches, trainer Tony Barrowe and clubhouse manager John Hallahan.

They also voted several smaller shares, but did not give any money to their ground crew. The ground crew had received a full share to split last year when the Pirates won the National League's East Division title.

Runnersup in the race were Collins Rice of Permian and Eddie Richardson, San Angelo. Each had 78 points.

Ricky Steen, Big Spring, wound up eighth in the derby with 47 points. He was one point back of three boys who tied for fifth place.

Members of the Big Spring High School basketball team will be introduced by coach Ron Plumlee at tonight's meeting of the Quarterback Club, scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Matters relating to football, past and future, will also be discussed, according to co-captain J. W. Dickens.

Stanton Vanquish Steers Vanquish Stanton, 99-43

The Big Spring Steers toppled Stanton in a basketball scrimmage played under game conditions here Monday, 99-43.

The Steers had a marked height advantage over the Buffaloes and used it to good advantage.

Coach Ron Plumlee takes his team to HCJC Thursday for a workout with the HC freshmen.

Commander's Cup Given To Trio

Col. Malcolm Ryan, wing commander at Webb, recently presented the Commander's Trophy for over-all sports excellence to Col. John Grow, base commander, Capt. Wayne Klein, headquarters Squadron commander, and Elmo Gladden, athletic officer for Air Base Group.

While Group took first place in the only two major sports, bowling and flag football, participation in all sports was the key to success. Group had 6,275 points for the year, which begins with basketball and ends with flag football.

Runner-up squadron was Webb hospital with 5,625 points. Third place went to 3560th Pilot Training Squadron with 4,525 points and fourth to Supply Squadron with 3,550 total points.

Japanese Triumph

NAGOYA, Japan (AP) — Japan's champion Tokyo Yomiuri Giants, teaming with the Nagoya Chunichi Dragons, walloped Baltimore 9-1 today with utility infielder Jerry DaVannon of the Orioles pitching 3 1-3 innings in relief.

PLAYERS OF WEEK Three Coahomans Among Honorees

Following is a list of football players in the Big Spring area singled out for distinctive play in games involving their teams the past weekend:

BIG SPRING
 Back of the Week is QB MIKE ADAMS, who guided the Steers to three touchdowns and almost got a fourth in San Angelo. Adams gained 32 yards carrying the ball and completed three passes for 36 yards. Mike also chipped in his high school football career by scoring a touchdown.

ROB LAWLIS, a junior, was again named Lineman of the Week. After taking over for Joe Pesina, Lawlis emerged as one of the finest blockers on the team and consistently carried out his assignment against the Bobcats.

The Steer award went to Dick Conley while Earl Reynolds was named the outstanding back.

SANDS
 Back of the Week is REGGIE HAMBURCK, who in a losing effort against Forsan, gained 89 yards carrying the ball and played craftily on defense from the middle linebacker spot. He's a 165-pounder.

STEVE HERREN, 140-pound senior, was named Lineman of the Week. He was tough on defense and as a flanker when Sands had the ball came down with three pass catches.

FORSAN
 TOMMY BRUMLEY again won the honor as Back of the Week. He had a big night against Sands, scoring two touchdowns. One TD jaunt was for 70 yards, the other for three. He gained over 100 yards rushing. Tommy also intercepted a pass. He is a 160-pound junior.

RONNIE BANKS, center on offense and linebacker on defense, was named Lineman of the Week. He intercepted a pass and fell on an enemy fumble. He is a 145-pound senior who now. There are things I have to think about first," he said.

Zwahlen was offensive line coach with the San Francisco 49ers and came to the Oilers this year when they hired Hughes from the same team.

The Oilers, 1-7-1 this year, were 10th in total offense in the American Conference going into last week's game in Oakland. They were 13th in rushing and third in passing.

"We have two outstanding young quarterbacks," Breen said, referring to rookies Dan Pastorini and Lynn Dickey, "and a strong offensive line is a necessity."

Zwahlen said Monday night he had anticipated his firing. "This is a way of getting to Ed Hughes, too," he added.

"Ed has some problems. It's a matter of who has control. There's a lot more to it than this situation. What happens on the field is one thing, but you also need co-operation in the front office," he said.

Zwahlen said he felt management wasn't treating Hughes fairly. "I chance to win. He can get the job done if his hands aren't tied."

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Unbeaten and untied Hampden-Sydney will be one of the teams in the Knute Rockne Bowl football game in Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 26.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

TOM CUSHMAN, Philadelphia Evening News:

"George Foreman's wake is cluttered with 31 consecutive victims, 28 of them prone, several of whom had trouble walking from the dressing room to the ring without falling down. The last three took place during a month-long siege in Texas against opponents who sound like they might have been left over from the Alamo."

PAT FULLER, who coached high school football in Texas many years ago:

"I don't know whether this highly specialized football today is as much fun as the old, simpler kind that father likes to talk about. It probably is. And it certainly makes the kids think a lot more. The job the kids have just remembering all the plays and assignments makes me wonder if some of the guys I played with could have done it without slipping a cog in their far less cluttered brains. I got a big kick out of comparing the precision blocking and the wholesale passing you see on high teams now with what went on when I was a coach, back in the days before the T formation was invented or, at least before we found out about it. We blocked hard but it was nothing like this. And I'll bet we didn't throw a half dozen passes a game. The big change, of course, is in the backfield formations. The direct snapback from center, sometimes 20 to 30 yards, such as the punter takes now, was the procedure on every play. The center really worked then. . . . Maybe they ought to go back to some of the old stuff because, for one thing, it didn't put the great pressure on the quarterback. He was just one of four backs in the old days. He was usually the brightest of the lot but he didn't always do the passing. Other backs now and then called signals. . . . And you got a well-rounded education in football, because 11 guys usually played the whole game."

CLAUDE HUMPHREY, defensive end for the Atlanta Falcons:

"I never knew a quarterback I really liked. They just stand around at practice. They don't do any of the work, but they get all the money."

GIL BRANDT, vice president of the Dallas Cowboys, discussing how Austrian Toni Fritch was signed:

"Ermal Allen and I went to Vienna in April. Toni was a national hero over there. England had been beaten three times in the last 15 years at home. One of those defeats was by Austria and Fritch kicked two goals to beat them, 3-2. The first time we looked at him, he kicked 17 of 18 from the 40. From the 50, he was six out of six. He kicked like six of nine from the 35. I said let's get dressed in a hurry and hustle on down to the hotel to talk business."

HERB ADDERLEY, defensive back for the Dallas Cowboys:

"Roger Staubach really has to cause a lot of problems for the defense. I hate to play against a quarterback that can run like that. You don't know how to play him. You come up and he throws on you. . . . I feel better with one quarterback in there for us. Working out against our receivers in practice, I think they like one quarterback instead of two. They can work on their timing with one guy better."

CATFISH FISH, Bear Club director at Waco, a former coach himself:

"We used to teach the defense to blow and go, then some son-of-a-gun comes along and invents the trap play and that stops that. Then we went with the double wing and had ourselves a ball until some guy comes up with a 5-3 defense. There's always someone around to mess up your plans."

Gail, Smyer Will Tangle On Slaton Turf Thursday

GAIL — The bi-district game between the Borden Coyotes, champions of district 2-B eight-man football, and Smyer, champions of 1-B, will be at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in Slaton.

Coach Bobby Dyess said that his boys were in good physical condition. If they win this contest, they will compete in the regional finals. Eight-man ball only goes to the regional level.

Chief problem of the Coyotes will be to contain Jim Kelly, a 200-pound back with lots of speed, and Charles Line, a speed merchant who rated second in the state 100-yard dash last spring.

Borden has an 8-0-1 record having been tied by Sterling City, while Smyer finished 7-3.

The Bobcats of Smyer clinched their district title by smashing Cotton Center last Friday, 32-8. Gail hasn't lost a game in two seasons now. A coin toss

Klondike Hosts Forsan Girls

FORSAN — Coach Don Stevens takes three Forsan girls' basketball teams to Klondike this evening for exhibitions. The junior high teams open their entertainment at 5:30 p.m.

Forsan will be seeking its fourth win in five starts in the varsity game. Klondike handed Forsan its lone defeat in a close one at Forsan a couple of weeks ago.

AWARDS FOR CROSS-COUNTRY WINNERS — Coaches Tom Adams (left) and Glenn Petty of Big Spring admire some of the trophies which will be presented to winners in the second annual Big Spring Cross-Country meet in Comanche Trail Park here Saturday morning. The prizes were donated by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Petty will double as director of the meet.

Boosters Set 'Little Miss'

Choir Boosters Monday night set Feb. 12 as the day for the annual Little Miss Pageant and added a new age group to the contest.

Previously age groups had included Tiny Miss, ages 3-7, and Little Miss, ages 7-12. In addition, this year there will be an age group for girls between the age of 13 and 15. Mrs. R. V. Colclazer and Mrs. Roy Cedberg are co-chairmen of the event.

Jack Bowers, high school choir director, reported to the boosters that the Meistersingers will be in Odessa Saturday for the Odessa College choir clinic. Choirs from all over West Texas will participate with each choir singing separately. A combined performance will be presented at 3:45 p.m. Saturday at the college.

Bowers also announced the Christmas music program at the high school will be Dec. 16. Choir boosters heard reports from various committee chairmen and decided not to meet during December.

WEATHER FORECAST — Cold weather continues today for all but the southeast part of the nation. A broad band of rain or showers is forecast from the Southwest through the Central Plains to the Upper Great Lakes.

Bigger Role For Counties In Food Stamp Program?

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Welfare Department wants that counties participating in the food stamp program assume the responsibility of issuing the food stamp coupons and collecting in size because of new, "more liberal" federal requirements.

The board voted to set the annual assessment to counties at 60 cents per food stamp recipient, effective next Feb. 1, the maximum allowed by the 1971 legislature.

The three board members agreed to wait until after Thursday to consider a staff proposal that counties taking over the food stamp program assume the responsibility of issuing the food stamp coupons and collecting and safeguarding the money for the stamps.

BETTER OFF? Thursday is the meeting date for county judges of the 28 Texas counties now taking part in food stamp programs.

The board postponed its decision after listening to a protest by Nueces County Judge Robert Barnes, but it indicated it favors the counties taking over the additional duties.

Barnes said the Nueces County Commissioners Court "honestly believes the taxpayers will be better off under the present (state) system."

Barnes said the state is "more able to shield itself from the political pressures" that arise from the program. "There'll be more people camping on my doorstep" if the county has to issue the stamps.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

HIPPIE KICK: (Q) To me it looked really great to be a hippie and all that stuff. It was so different from the small-town life I was used to. I didn't really understand the hippies at first.

One guy I went with was really hung up. He had a lot of problems and I don't think he knew how to love anyone. He wanted to have intercourse with me, though, and we did, even though it was my period.

My experience with that boy helped me see what hippies are really like. They are the ones who are not real people.

I left them and came home to real people. But now I am 17 days late on my period. My parents know and are very worried. A friend of mine says she was late because of an infection.

I know now I have done a bad, bad thing. I hope God and my parents will forgive me. Do you think they will? — Nearly 17 and Wiser in Pennsylvania.

(A) Because of the timing, it is improbable that you are pregnant. But you should go to your family doctor immediately for a checkup. I know God will forgive you if you ask him. I hope and believe your parents will, too.

have blackheads in my ears. Lots of them. I scrub and scrub but they stay and stay. How can I get rid of them? — 14-Year-Old Girl in Oregon.

(A) Scrubbing helps prevent blackheads, but it doesn't always cure them. Take yours to a dermatologist. He can help you erase them and give you specific, personal instructions for keeping them erased.

Five Laredo Jailbreakers In Mexico? Guard Fired

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Five prisoners who escaped from the Webb County jail have probably fled across the Rio Grande to Mexico, officials said. A search continued on both sides of the border.

Authorities also reported that one of the guards who was overpowered in Sunday night's escape has been fired because it was learned he is an ex-convict.

A state police helicopter joined searchers Monday but returned to its base in Corpus Christi after a fruitless day, officers said.

Sheriff P. L. Flores said men matching descriptions of three of the escapees were seen running for the Rio Grande shortly after the jailbreak.

HIDE OUT All five, including one held in a $10 million heroin case, have probably hidden out in Mexico, Flores said.

The sheriff said two trustees, operating on a "well planned schedule," overpowered a guard and released three federal prisoners from a top security cell. Forty men were in the cell and all could have fled but did not, he said, adding: "Some were tougher than the three that escaped."

Hogs Safe Now
BALTIMORE (AP) — The U.S. Department of Agriculture has declared Maryland officially free of hog cholera, a disease that cost state farmers more than $300,000 in killed hogs in 1969.

No cases of the disease have been detected in Maryland the past 12 months, the department said.

The new mandatory federal requirements would allow, for example a four-person household to get food stamps if its maximum monthly net income is less than $360. Under current Texas regulations the household's monthly income could not be over $210.

The welfare board also adopted mandatory federal requirements.
