Big Snow Storm Grips Panhandle-Plains Area

By The Associated Press

Heavy snow piled up over the Texas Panhandle today, reaching as far south as the Red River Valley between Childress and Wichita Falls, and making driving conditions more hazardous by the hour.

The Weather Service reported snow depths in the Panhandle ranging from four to six or seven inches. Roads were snow-packed and, in some cases, almost impassable. Motorists were advised not to travel except in emergency.

In mid-morning the snow began tapering off across the western half of the Panhandle although it still fell lightly at Amarillo and over the surrounding area.

SNOW IN MULESHOE
The fall was moderate to heavy in the eastern Panhandle, where conditions were expected to deteriorate further during the day in areas east of Amarillo and in eastern New Mexico.

Heaviest snow report at a late hour was nine inches on the ground at Friona, while Muleshoe in the South Plains had 8.5 inches.

Many schools were closed throughout the snowbound area. In some cases school buses collected children, but returned them home again when classes were cancelled.

HIGHWAY CLOSED
The weathermen said another high-level disturbance approaching from the west poses the threat of still more snow for Friday night and Saturday.

In the mountains near El Paso, the city's trans-mountain highway was closed.

While the snow tapered down to around an inch at Lubbock, freezing rain mixed with ice pellets and snow coated roads and bridges with a treacherous glaze. Icing also occurred through a strip where rain was mixed with snow southward past Midland, Odessa and Big Spring.

Warnings against four inches of snow or more went up

Wednesday night, and a special advisory early today predicted at least two inches more for the Panhandle-Plains before the storm moved on toward the east.

Even heavier snowfalls occurred in New Mexico, where 11 inches piled up at Las Vegas, and in parts of Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma.

STORMS ROAM
Rain was widespread over the rest of Texas, measuring as much as 2.28 inches at the Houston airport.

Thunderstorms roved the coastal plains as light to sometimes heavy rainfall extended from Victoria into Louisiana and from the Texas Coast northward past the Red River. Moisture amounts appeared to be generally heaviest near the coast.

Mutscher's Bribe Trial Transferred To Abilene

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The bribery trial involving Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher was transferred today from Austin to Abilene.

Dist. Judge Tom Blackwell said there had been a great deal of publicity on the case in Travis County (Austin) and while he thought Mutscher and two other defendants could get a fair trial, "I think it is incumbent on the judge to transfer it."

NEWS COVERAGE
The law requires that a case be transferred to an adjacent county unless it can be shown that the same news coverage "contaminated" those counties. Both the prosecution and defense stipulated that counties adjoining Travis County had been so contaminated.

The case was moved to the 104th District Court of Judge Neil Daniel. The trial was scheduled to begin Jan. 10 in Austin. Presumably it will be up to Daniel when to set it for trial in his court.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith earlier estimated a delay of half a year or more if the trial site was changed.

Mutscher was the highest Texas official to face criminal charges since Gov. James Ferguson was impeached in 1917. He is accused of accepting a bribe from Houston promoter Frank Sharp in return for the passage of two banking bills in 1969.

Defense lawyer Frank Maloney said he would file a motion in the Abilene court for a speedy trial. He estimated the trial would begin in February or March.

Smith said he had no doubt that he would take the lead in the prosecution of the case.

All pre-trial motions were transferred to Abilene.

"Abilene is as good a place to try it as Houston or Dallas or El Paso," Smith said, rattling off several other names.

Malone said Abilene has a less crowded docket and "good judges."

Twin Slayings Confessed

HOUSTON (AP) — Bodies of two former Rice University students, twin brothers Larry and Leslie Owens, were discovered early today in the precise spot in nearby Waller County where a companion said he shot them.

Police said Herman P. Beirsdorf, 22, of Houston walked into Houston Police Headquarters early this morning and said, "I want to do what's right. I killed two men."

Houston authorities said any charges would be filed in Waller.

The Owens twins, of Enid, Okla., had withdrawn from Rice last month to work on a research project.

Police said the man told them he got into an argument with the twins over the project.

Each of the twins was shot in the head. Their bodies were found face down in a vacant lot shortly before dawn in an area called Reid's Prairie.

The man told police he drove in the Owens' car to a Houston motel and left the car there and the pistol he had used to kill the twins. Officers later found the car and weapon.

The Owens twins were electrical engineering students.

He Hit Youth With 'Slapper'

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — An Abilene police sergeant accused of brutality against a black, told a civil service commission Wednesday he only hit the youth with his "slapper" in making the arrest.

Five youths told the commission Tuesday the black, Johnny Stevenson, was hit by Sgt. Marvin Sanders at least twice over the head with a flashlight.

Sanders told the commission that it was "not a bit unusual for an officer not to use force in making an arrest."

Stevenson has refused to testify but an affidavit given the police asserts that he told the officer when he was being arrested "No, I'm not going anywhere. I've not done anything. I never did hit Officer Sanders and Officer Sanders did not hit me after he put the handcuffs on me."

The incident occurred, Sanders said, when he shined his flashlight toward a group gathered near a business which had been vandalized and that a youth who he identified as Stevenson yelled: "Turn off that — light."

Big Springers Look Out On Winter Wonderland

Snow blanketed Big Spring and the surrounding area this morning with the arrival of the first real winter weather.

Stanton reported snow on the ground, covering things with about one-half inch of precipitation. They also had a light mist all day Wednesday, heavier about 6 p.m., and it rained most of the night, snowing quite heavily about 7:30 a.m. to day.

Lamesa has about an inch of snow on the ground and it was still snowing at mid-morning. Sands has a couple of inches of snow, but it is melting. Flower Grove school reported that it was muddy and sloppy with some snow cover.

Gail had some snow, but most had melted this morning.

A Texas Electric Service Co. power failure hit the east side of town this morning, causing lights and electrical facilities to be inoperative for a few hours. However, no comment was available from company officials this morning.

Nixon Vows To Improve Pension Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon promised today to give "close personal consideration" to the recommendations of a White House Conference on Aging and to seek legislation to ease the burden of property taxes, to improve pension plans and to promote job programs for older citizens.

Making a personal appearance, along with his wife, Pat, at the windup of the week-long conference Nixon said there must be a "new national attitude toward aging" to end a "throwaway psychology" and "re-open the doors of opportunity which have too often been closing on older men and women."

In a speech, the President expressed the need for passage of his family assistance plan, which he said would deal with the problem of inadequate income for the older Americans by putting a national floor under their income and making Social Security benefits inflation-proof "for the first time in our history."

Parade Slated Friday Down Santa Claus Lane

Santa Claus will be here Friday!

The jolly old gentleman will parade through downtown Big Spring at 2:30 p.m. to greet his friends, principally the younger ones.

Santa's appearance is being sponsored by the merchants group of the Chamber of Commerce, and plans are complete for his visit, said R. N. McDaniel, parade chairman.

Santa this year will be riding in an authentic, old-time "one-horse sleigh" obtained by the Chamber of Commerce and especially decorated for the Friday parade. The reindeer won't be here, but Santa's sleigh will be drawn by a beautiful white Welch pony.

The parade, with police escort and with members of the sheriff's posse setting the pace, will start at Eighth and Scurry, go north on Scurry to Second, east on Second to Main, and south on Main to the northeast corner of the courthouse square. There Santa will park his sleigh and remain to greet his young friends, and distribute candy and balloon souvenirs.

Members of the American Business Club will assist Saint Nick in his chores at the courthouse square.

They will remain at their post until children have been greeted. Those in school may come on down to meet Santa as soon as they are dismissed from classes. Parents are urged to bring younger ones on down to see the parade and greet Santa earlier.

ASK FOR $250,000 CUTBACK

City Commissioners Agree To Start Contingency Fund

By BRIAN PEAY
In ending the city budget work sessions Wednesday night, city fathers agreed on a plan to avoid an impending deficit and provide funds for capital improvements in the city this fiscal year.

Jack Watkins, city commissioner, suggested that a contingency fund be established under the control of the city commission, which will involve a $250,000 cutback in the city departments' budgets.

Watkins told the work session group Wednesday night, as he proposed the plan.

NO TAX HIKE
Watkins predicted that if spending continued at the same level, the city will be faced with a 20-30 per cent tax increase in June of this fiscal year. He said that the proposed plan would eliminate this possibility.

Over the past three nights, the commission members have been able to cut approximately $23,000 from the departments' requested budgets. Combined with a surplus of $113,000, available due to overpaid bond obligation payments, in previous years, the money, $136,000, will be about half of the $250,000 (See CITY, Pg. 10-A, Col. 3)

Conferees Pare Problems In Tax Bill To One Thorn

WASHINGTON (AP) — House and Senate conferees grapple today with a controversial provision to finance presidential campaigns with federal income taxes, the only remaining issue in a battle between President Nixon and Democratic leaders over a tax bill.

In a day-long session Wednesday, the conference resolved all other differences between House and Senate versions of the legislation, stripping it of tax-relief amendments Nixon said were unacceptable.

The President threatened to veto the bill if it reaches him containing a provision allowing individuals to earmark $1 of their income taxes for presidential election expenses.

All parties would share the funds, but the financially strapped Democrats need them the most.

Despite the White House threats, Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, House Appropriations Committee chairman and head of the House conferees, says the Democrats will hold fast on the check-off provision.

Mills told the Capital City Democratic Club Wednesday he doesn't think Nixon will veto the bill because it is a main part of his new economic program and another tax bill would face a rocky road.

Mills said, however, Nixon "sometimes does what others do not dare to do," and added: "He'll have the opportunity of passing judgment."

In earlier sessions the conferees scaled down the tax-relief provisions to a level they believe the administration will accept. On Wednesday the committee:

- Discarded provisions authorizing the President to impose quotas, a surcharge of 15 per cent or other import restrictions to protect the balance of trade.

Chilean Cops Use Tear Gas

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Police went into action with tear gas and water cannon Wednesday night after young leftists attacked 5,000 women protesting food shortages.

At least 88 persons were injured in the night of rioting, including five with gunshot wounds.

In the biggest demonstration yet against Marxist President Salvador Allende's government, the women banged pots and pans together and hooted at posters of visiting Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as they paraded through downtown Santiago.

The government ordered the closing of Radio Balmaceda, operated by the Christian Democrats, and accused it of biased reporting of the demonstration.

The Christian Democrats and the National party organized the march, which brought out a mixture of working class housewives in cotton dresses and upper-and middle-class women in pants suits and miniskirts, grandmothers and wives in their early 20s.

Chilean housewives have been confronted with increasing shortages of foodstuffs in recent months. Beef is available now only about one week a month, and the women complain that even then it is hard to find.

The government says increased buying power due to sweeping pay raises ordered by Allende is causing the shortages. The government now is trying to get control of such vital foodstuffs as meat and certain vegetables.

The police called in reinforcements and fired salvos of tear gas grenades and water at the women and the young battlers. They scrambled into alleys and entrances of offices and apartment buildings, then rioting spread across the city.

After the parade was dispersed, a group of anti-Marxist youths demonstrated in front of Allende's high-walled suburban mansion. A youth living nearby said he heard gunshots fired from a car, but other neighbors and police said the noise came from half a dozen carloads of women and youths who sped past the residence hurling bags of water and noise bombs.

One of Allende's bodyguards said the president was in the Moneda Palace and not at home.

SOUNDS 'LIKE A FRANK SHARP DEAL' 'Phantom' Bank Charters Win Approval In Austin

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The State Banking Board has approved nine "phantom" bank charters, disregarding a warning that they sounded "like a Frank Sharp deal."

Banking Commissioner Robert Stewart said the attorney general's office and board lawyer Will Knox agreed multi-bank holding companies do not violate Texas' constitutional ban on branch banking.

Only the courts can make a final determination of this, he added.

OPEN THE DOOR

Jack Lewis, board chairman of Jefferson State Bank in San Antonio, criticized the phantom charter device and warned the board it would open the door to branch banking.

Knox told reporters last month that phantom charters enable holding companies to bypass the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, saving both time and money in acquiring banks. Typical mergers involve exchanges of bank shares for holding company stock.

In a phantom procedure, the banking board charters a bank at the same location as an existing bank. The bank's name and directors are changed. After the charter is granted, the name is changed back, but control remains with the new owners. A bank's shareholders must approve such a merger.

Lewis, who worked for the state banking department in the 1920s, warned that multi-bank holding companies would be nothing more than branch banking.

MONKEY BUSINESS

He blasted the phantom charter device as "monkey business... illegal and morally wrong." "It sounds like a Frank Sharp deal to me. If the law says they should go through the SEC, sell, damn it, they ought to go through the SEC," Lewis said.

"I'm not really sure you mean that. We do have slender laws in Texas. I'd like to know if you really meant that," said Ralph A. Harper of Houston, attorney for First City Bank Corp. of Texas, a holding company that won approval Wednesday of four phantom charter applications.

"I've made my statement," Lewis snapped. Coincidentally, Harper is from Secretary of the Treasury John Connally's former law firm. As governor, Connally recommended a constitutional amendment to permit branch banking.

Sharp controlled the Sharpstown State Bank of Houston, which failed last winter because of a run on deposits after the SEC named the bank as a defendant in a stock manipulation suit.

Harper said multi-bank holding companies would not violate the constitution's prohibition against branch banking.

"The mere acquisition of stock by a holding company does not by itself violate anybody's branch banking laws," Harper said.

Phantom charters, he said, are a "procedure for the tax-free exchange (of stock)" and were "in compliance with the securities laws, not in violation of them."

WARNING

Lewis warned that Texas might become like California, where Amadeo P. Giannini's Bank of America pioneered branch banking and came to dominate the state's banking industry.

"If we ever let it (multi-bank holding companies) go, we are going to have a Giannini in Texas... in California, five men decide what happens in banking," Lewis said.

These holding companies' phantom charters were approved, with each bank's current name in parentheses:

First Southwest Bancorporation, Inc., of Waco; McLennan State Bank (Bellmead State Bank), Waco, and Longview State Bank (East Texas Bank and Trust), Longview.

First City Bank Corp. of Texas; Second Heights State Bank (Heights State Bank), Second Highland Village State Bank (Highland Village State Bank), Woodridge State Bank (Gulfgate State Bank) and 3001 State Bank (South Main Bank), all of Houston.

Texas Commerce Bancshares, Inc., of Houston; North Freeway Commerce Bank (North Freeway Bank), Airline Commerce Bank (Airline Bank) and Reagan Commerce Bank (Reagan State Bank), all of Houston.

Prisoner Back Behind Bars

VAN HORN, Tex. (AP) — A prisoner who broke away from a deputy sheriff enroute from El Paso to Abilene surrendered without a struggle less than an hour later.

Authorities gave this account of the incident:

Taylor County Deputy Sheriff Jim Blackley and his wife, Nina, were taking Lee Dixon, 19, from El Paso to Abilene where Dixon was wanted in connection with a Monday night grocery store robbery.

Dixon, who wore handcuffs, leg irons and a "belly chain," asked to go to the restroom at a service station in Van Horn. Inside the restroom, the deputy tried to help Dixon and a scuffle ensued, with Dixon getting Blackley's gun.

Dixon then commandeered a car driven by Joane Whittaker, 21, and Delores Brown, 36, both students at the University of Texas at El Paso who were traveling to Abilene.

Dixon made one of the girls drive while he sat in the back seat. He was unsuccessful in trying to shoot off his leg irons. The youth gave himself up without a struggle at a police roadblock about 60 miles north of Van Horn. The girls were not hurt.

He remained overnight in the Culberson County Jail in Van Horn.

U.S. Planes May Retaliate Against Red Viet Air Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon officials say American war planes may retaliate against North Vietnamese air bases if Communist MIG fighters attack U.S. planes flying air strikes over the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

The hint came Wednesday from Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim who reported the North Vietnamese may be preparing to threaten U.S. B-52 bombers and other aircraft attacking the enemy infiltration routes leading into South Vietnam from Laos.

Friedheim said there have been 10 separate instances over the last two months in which MIG 19 and MIG 21 jet fighters flew briefly into Laos, occasionally firing air-to-air missiles.

No U.S. planes were hit and there was some doubt as to what the North Vietnamese were up to, Friedheim told newsmen, adding:

"We certainly couldn't be surprised if they have in mind here developing a capability to threaten aircraft" bombing and strafing the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Asked if the U.S. would bomb North Vietnamese airfields if American aircraft were attacked, Friedheim replied, "That would be an option open to us."

Butz Good Bet To Win Senate Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dr. Earl L. Butz appears certain to win Senate confirmation today as secretary of agriculture despite bitter farm-state opposition and the obvious misgivings of some Republicans.

An Associated Press Poll showed 52 senators prepared to vote for confirmation, 39 opposed and eight uncommitted.

Assistant Republican leader Robert Griffin said he counted 52 "hard" votes for Butz.

Two leading opponents foresaw a Butz victory also. Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said he could count only 38 votes against Butz. And Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, said opponents figure on 42. Both men were hoping for a few more votes to strengthen the protest against a nominee they portray as a foe of family farming, a champion of agribusiness and an enemy of poverty programs, the environment and consumers.

Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kans., the GOP national chairman, said the opposition has a blatant political base, founded on Democratic hopes to make inroads in farm states during 1972's presidential election.

But Dole himself told newsmen he might have picked a candidate other than the 62-year-old Purdue University dean.

Senators' mail has been running heavily against Butz.

Many senators declaring their intention to vote for Butz said they did so reluctantly, out of respect for the tradition of allowing any president his choice of cabinet advisers.

Sens. Harris, Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said the lives and livelihoods of hundreds of thousands of family farmers are at stake in this nomination.

Only two Republicans were expected to vote against Butz:

Sens. Jack Miller, R-Iowa and Milton R. Young, R-N.D.—both from states feeling the effects of wheat and corn surpluses and low farm prices.

Sen. James Pearson, R-Kan., had criticized the nomination harshly and asked Nixon to withdraw it. But Republican sources said he would vote for the nomination.

The case against Butz was built with these ingredients:

—His service as assistant secretary under Ezra Taft Benson in a period which brought farm policies many farmers thought disastrous.

—His reputation for insisting on low farm prices with minimal federal support programs.

—His statements that large agricultural units would replace many smaller family-type farms.

—His service on the boards of directors of four large agribusiness firms while at Purdue.

Webb Officers, Sergeant Presented Commendations

Three Webb captains and one staff sergeant were presented special awards in ceremonies held recently at the base.

Col. William J. Kilpatrick, deputy commander for material, presented the Distinguished Flying Cross to Capt. Patrick W. Chandonnet, Capt. Robert E. Clement and Albert J. Roberts III; and the Air Medal to S.Sgt. Earl H. Sheppard.

Capt. Chandonnet was presented the DFC and the first oak leaf cluster for two acts of achievement while in Southeast Asia. The citation accompanying the award read in part: "The captain distinguished himself while participating in aerial flight as a forward air controller in Southeast Asia Jan. 3, 1971. On that date, despite marginal weather, the captain directed air strikes that contributed to the safe recovery of two pilots."

The citation for the oak leaf cluster said: "As a forward air controller on March 31, 1971, Capt. Chandonnet flew his aircraft in support of a friendly ground team under attack by a hostile force. He made repeated low passes to suppress the hostile fire while a rescue helicopter safely extracted the friendly ground team that was under attack."

Capt. Clement distinguished himself as an F-4E pilot at Da Nang AB, Vietnam, on Jan. 13, 1971. The accompanying citation said: "... in spite of adverse weather conditions and the constant threat of hostile anti-aircraft fire, Capt. Clement flew as high speed forward air controller in one of the most hazardous areas in Southeast Asia and obtained vital intelligence about the movement of hostile forces and their positions." The DFC was awarded to

Capt. Roberts for "leading a search and rescue effort for two American airmen downed in an extremely hazardous area in Vietnam. He flew at tree-top level in an A-1H fighter aircraft in very poor weather and mountainous terrain to locate the two survivors in an area 15 miles from their presumed positions. He then coordinated all the aircraft and rescue helicopters leading ultimately to the rescue of the two downed pilots."

The citation accompanying the award of the Air Medal to Sgt. Sheppard said "... is awarded the Air Medal for meritorious achievement while participating in aerial flight. On Jan. 2, 1969, and Feb. 6, 1971, the outstanding airmanship and courage were exhibited by the sergeant in the successful accomplishment of important missions under extremely hazardous conditions."

SHADES OF THE SEASON — Workmen begin the task of preparing the National Christmas Tree for presentation in the seasonal Pageant of Peace on the Ellipse in Washington. Tells School To Reconsider Barring Divorced Students

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge says pupils with an opinion in which he told "unhealthy intersex" can Channelview Independent School District officials to take another subject "at the corner drug-look at district rules forbidding divorced pupils from taking part in extracurricular activities."

Hannay retained jurisdiction Wednesday in the case of Son Romans, 16, a divorcee, and made it plain in his four-page memorandum and opinion that Miss Romans was on firm constitutional ground.

Miss Romans was married for 10 months before entering the Channelview district, where she has been an honor student.

The district bars married or previously married pupils from all extracurricular activities. School officials said the rule was promulgated because officials believe such pupils would discuss sexual matters with non-married pupils if permitted to take part in extracurricular activities.

Such restrictions, however, to not apply to unwed mothers who return to school after having their babies.

Miss Romans alleged the school ruling is discriminatory and unconstitutional and a hearing was held before Hannay last month. She testified she had been advised by a school counselor to take drama and choir classes, then later found she could not take part in singing or class plays, which are part of class credit. She would also come in eligible for a national honor society, she said.

Joe Moss Announced As Fina's Chief Counsel

Election of Joe A. Moss as vice president and chief counsel for American Petrofina Company of Texas was announced in Dallas today. Also, the company reported the retirement of Verne H. Maxwell from this position after more than 38 years of service to American Petrofina and a predecessor company. Maxwell will become a counsel with a Dallas law firm.

JOE A. MOSS

Moss is also vice president and chief counsel of the company's affiliate, Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, a position to which he was elected in 1964.

Moss was born July 26, 1925, in Waco, was reared in Austin, and graduated from Waco High School in May, 1942. Earning the BBA and JD degrees from the University of Texas, he began his career in Austin in 1950 as a partner in the law firm of Moss and Prewitt.

Between 1942 and 1952 he served two tours of duty, totalling six years, with the U.S. Navy. He resigned his commission as a lieutenant in January, 1950.

Moss joined Cosden Petroleum Corporation as attorney for the exploration and production division on Oct. 18, 1953, having been attorney for the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools of Texas the preceding 9½ months. In October, 1959, he was named assistant general counsel and in May, 1961, he was elected secretary of Cosden, continuing also as assistant general counsel.

Cosden Petroleum Corporation's assets were acquired in April, 1963, by American Petrofina, Inc., and Cosden Oil & Chemical Company was formed as a wholly owned subsidiary of American Petrofina. Moss became secretary and assistant chief counsel of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, and on April 26, 1964, was elected vice president and chief counsel.

The Downtown club will make the Highland Center kettle for the Salvation Army on Dec. 21, said Jim Lemons, first vice president, who presided. He also appealed for Lions to volunteer as holiday homes for a group of South African students.

Marked Calendar

Jean Adams'
TEEN FORUM

CALENDAR: (Q.) When I was 15 I got pregnant and had an abortion. Ever since then Mother has kept a calendar in the kitchen with my period date ringed in red ink. People who come through the kitchen ask what the date means and it hurts me. It hurts me so much that every time I see the calendar I want to cry.

I am 17 now and a different girl. I am engaged to the boy who got me pregnant. We do not fool around now. In fact he is away in the service. But when he is at home we do not fool around.

If mother has to keep the calendar, why can't she keep it in her bedroom or in a closet where no one will see it but her? — Really Different in Washington State.

(A.) Your mother was no doubt deeply hurt by what happened. She appears to be still untrusting, and of the opinion that she must punish both you and herself.

If you can find it in yourself to talk to her as openly as you have talked to me, about the changes in you, about how unnecessary her fears are, about how she could trust you anywhere and under any circumstances, I believe that maybe she can find it in herself to get along without that calendar, or at least put it in

Will Get Glimpse Of Yortymobile

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty will get a glimpse of his new Yortymobile today when he arrives for a speaking engagement at Drake University.

Forest City Millworks of Forest City, Iowa, made the Yortymobile for the mayor's campaigning for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The vehicle, a modified motor home, has a custom-designed observatory platform and a rear platform which Yorty plans to use after the first of the year for whistlestop campaigning around the nation.

more private place. Try to tell her. Try very hard. Try to tell her. Try very hard.

CHRISTMAS CALL? (Q.) This summer I met a real nice boy. He lives in Virginia and I live in Maine. I've written him a couple of times and he's written me. But I would like to know if it would be all right to call him or Christmas Day to wish him a merry Christmas. — Interested in Maine.

(A.) A Christmas call sounds great! Don't tell him you're going to call — surprise him.

Kosygin Gives Stans A Samovar

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin has given U.S. Commerce Secretary Maurice N. Stans a samovar so he can learn to drink tea served the way the Russians like it.

He said tea was served during a break in his talks with Kosygin in the premier's office last Saturday and "it was served very hot."

"Chairman Kosygin gulped his down while I had trouble even sipping mine," Stans recalled. Noticing the secretary's discomfort, Kosygin said: "I learned to drink tea from a samovar. Have you ever drunk tea from a samovar?" Turning to an aide, he said: "Get him a samovar. Send me the bill."

Airport Courts

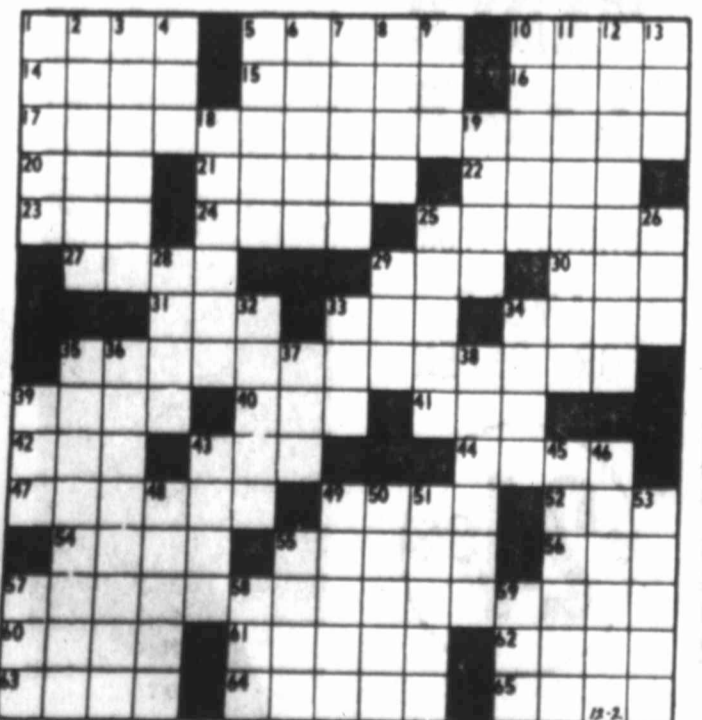

DALLAS (AP) — The police at the new regional airport between Dallas and Fort Worth should have little trouble finding a court where they can take apprehended persons.

City courts in Dallas, Fort Worth, Grapevine, Coppell, Irving and Euless will be available, according to Lee Holt, a Dallas assistant attorney assigned to the airport. The giant complex extends into all these cities.

Pearl Harbor Dead Remembered

On Dec. 7, 1941, Pearl Harbor Day, 33 Texans were among the 1,177 men who died aboard the USS Arizona. On the 30th anniversary of that day, the dead will be remembered with a special ceremony at the awe-inspiring USS Arizona Memorial, which Sam Kinch Sr. describes in a "Texas Star" article Sunday.

Another Sunday feature, "Foreign Fun Next Door," tells of the delightful experiences awaiting visitors to Mexico, Atlantic and Pacific oceans, mountains and seashores, sunlight and shadow — you can take your choice of attractions in the nearby foreign land, with John Moore as your guide.

Sheri Jones is a teenager who holds a pilot's license. She has been flying ever since she can remember. But her ambition is in the other direction; she is thinking about a career in oceanography. Cherie Hopkins presents the story of this exceptional Athens girl.

Editor Jimmy Banks recalls a tragic incident that spotlights the terrors of drug abuse and describes a movement designed to hobble the pushers who are responsible for a great deal of sorrow and death.

Mary Faulk Kooch turns her attention to venison — a timely subject — and shows how to roast a ham. It's easy and the result is highly satisfactory.

BLIND HYPNOTIST DISCUSSES CAREER

Patient Doesn't 'Look Into My Eyes'

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Folklore has it that when the hypnotist starts casting his spell, he closes in on his subject and says persuasively, "Look into my eyes . . ."

Truth often shames folklore. Dr. William Chapman is a blind hypnotist.

Chapman recently retired from a position unique in America and perhaps unique in the world.

He is the only blind hypnotist known to the American Medical Association or the American Psychiatric Association.

A hypno-analyst is a psychiatrist who uses hypnosis as a tool of medicine. Chapman did this for nearly 20 years at the outpatient department of the University of Virginia Hospital's Department of Psychiatry.

Chapman, 67, whose hobby is ham radio, came to Charlottesville as a psychiatrist in 1952, a few years after total blindness came on, caused by deterioration of the retina.

Chapman amply compensates for, ignores, rarely mentions and leads you to forget his blindness.

"People are generally easy to hypnotize, especially once they have experienced it," he says. "I can tell when they're asleep by listening to the breathing or feeling pulse. Just a gentle touch on the arm is enough to tell."

Post-hypnotic suggestion is the strongest psychiatric tool in hypnosis. Relaxing the patient so he will open his mind and let his troubles tumble out is another important use, the doctor explained.

Hypnosis is not for any patient. They must request it at UVA Hospital. Chapman explained what motivates many people.

"They want to lose weight or stop smoking and they think hypnosis can help. It can. But not in one session or two. It generally takes a series of sessions and perhaps even self-hypnosis."

Raising his eyebrows, he cautions, "There's no 'Hocuspocus, now you're thin' business here, and I don't use a special diet or anything like that. I plant the idea of using more self-control and more will power over food intake."

Suggesting to a patient that he will display more will power and more self-control when he wakes actually works, says the psychiatrist, and that's why he believes hypnosis is a serious tool.

It can also shorten analysis by many months because a patient tied in repressive knots by his problems often speaks his mind when hypnotized, Chapman explained.

He speaks of hypnosis with familiarity and endorsement.

"It's easy for most patients to place themselves into a trance and work on their own therapy or whatever," he says. "When they're through, they count backwards from five to end the trance or use the 'inner clock' that wakes many of us each morning."

Chapman explained that once he shows patients how to breathe and relax they can enter a self-induced trance.

There, "they communicate with the deeper levels of their mind and give themselves suggestions. 'I will eat no sweets today,' they tell themselves . . . and it works," he testified.

"It still shakes me up when singularly successful cases come along," Chapman confessed. "Most people get along all right but many of them are really sick, underneath."

"They can't concentrate, don't like to get up in the morning, have no ambition. After you have a few consultations with them and they begin to relax, you'd be surprised at how many just break down and weep."

"They pour out the tears. So many people are depressed without knowing it. Then when they learn they've been bucking a masked depression, it motivates them to do something about it."

Key Club Is Honored

Special recognition this week is being given to Key Club members across the nation. Nov. 28 through Dec. 4 is National Key Club Week, and at Big Spring High School, the local chapter is well known for its service to its school and community.

Some of BSHS's Key Club projects have been to place black and gold litter cans around the campus to help alleviate what was once a serious littering problem, to take the victory bell to all Steer football games and provide spirited backing for the team, a parents' appreciation banquet held to honor all parents of club members, and to air each week's happenings at BSHS on the "Week in Review" broadcast at 9:45 a.m. each Saturday on KHEM.

Key Day is planned for February, and Key Club members will produce programs from the various departments in the school, and the programs will be broadcast on KBST and KHEM radio stations, and will be hosted by club members.

Key Club Week was declared by Key Club and Kiwanis International Boards to honor the more than 3,600 Key Clubs in the nation.

Best Way To Learn Foreign Language Is Through Skits

PARIS (AP) — "Just put it down on the round thing with four legs."

If you can't remember how to say "table," you must talk your way around it at International House, the language school for people who are old enough to speak to strangers. "A good mimic will be good at language, and a good actor will have a good accent . . . provided he has not had a traumatic shock in his youth from a teacher who told him he was stupid," says John Haycraft, school head.

In 1953, then a Yale M.A. in drama and history, Haycraft started his first classroom in Cordoba. Since then, he has globe-trotted his school into 27 cities, including Bangkok, Tokyo, Tripoli, Beirut, Athens, Algiers and Lisbon.

"The French, English and Spanish are the worst students because they had empires and imposed their languages on others," says Haycraft. He speaks six languages, the same ones as his Swedish wife. Their three children, ages 12, 10 and 6, are only fluent in two apiece.

Don Juans may want to learn French, the better to do with savoir-faire, but businessmen everywhere are boning up on English, the language of business. IBM sends its Dutch, Danish, Swedish and Spanish engineers to London for a crash course.

Everyone else may call executives "sir," but their teachers — circa age 25 and trained at the rate of 1,000 a year in London central headquarters — call them by their first name "to create atmosphere."

"When you call the Japanese by their first names, they romp around like Italians," chuckles Haycraft. In Japan, they study Spanish too. In Rome, the biggest demand is for Italian. In Paris, German is coming into fashion, but English is still lengths ahead.

"Seeing is remembering" is the school's battle cry. So, to make the constructions "I will take off" and "I have taken off" stick in your mind, Haycraft organizes stripteases, both beginner and intermediate levels. "They only go as far as decency permits," he adds humbly.

WILLY NILLY

Willy-nilly, the students must lay aside their inhibitions and act in skits, "since speaking a foreign language is like playing a role." To play Englishmen, they star in one of Haycraft's favorites: "a girl with double vision goes to the oculist."

After 80 hours wrestling with a language, the students "begin to make sense." Some demand to be "totally bathed, even with lunch in English." Others are more satisfied by "regular doses," three hours daily, while those with low tolerance can only stand three hours a week.

When more or less in command of their tongue, they set off on "Walks in Paris." In a hotel, they take turns playing receptionist and client who complains about his uncomfortable room. On a walk to the Louvre to describe the paintings, everyone takes time out to describe a motorcycle.

Learning the language is not enough, though. You must learn what it means. "What does 'yes' mean?" he asks. "You can say it five different ways." The accent, therefore, is the content, which leads to all kinds of misinterpretations by a beginning ear.

WHITE BOARD

At any given time, there are 2,000 students somewhere in the world in front of a "white board" — instead of a blackboard — to start out with a clean slate — but only 10 to a class. Expatriates-to-be prepare to make the plunge. Travelers, among them plane loads of American students on vacation, learn how to speak as the Romans — or Malaysians or Moroccans — do.

PARIS WALKS

Politeness is taught on the telephone, a toy one. One student must persuade another to lend him his car, while the embarrassed car-owner is forced to refuse gracefully, knowing his friend is a bad driver.

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur A. Fletcher, one of the highest-ranking black officials in the Nixon administration, will become director of the United Negro College Fund on Jan. 1.

The White House announced Wednesday that Fletcher would fulfill his term as a member of the U.S. delegation to the United Nations for the current session, which is expected to end by Jan. 1.

Fletcher, 37, had resigned as assistant secretary of labor Sept. 22.

President Nixon said Fletcher would remain as chairman of the White House Domestic Council Committee on the Elimination of Economic Discrimination.

TUNNEL UNDER HARBOR REPLACES FERRY

Split Hong Kong United -- Under Water

By DAVID J. PAINE
HONG KONG (AP) — The two halves of the divided city of Hong Kong, lying on the rim of China, will be linked directly for the first time when a tunnel under the picturesque harbor that separates them is opened in 1972.

The mile-long underwater route from Hong Kong Island to Kouloun, a small peninsula on the mainland, is more than half completed.

Cars will be able to speed through it in about a minute and a half, and specially constructed roads will lead them into the downtown areas on each side.

LONG LINES
At present, vehicles going from one-half of the city to the other must cross the harbor by ferry. On the main route this takes 12 to 15 minutes, but long lines at rush hour and on the weekends when the Sunday hours.

The tunnel will be for vehicles drivers are out in force can mean a holdup of one to two only, with no pedestrians allowed. It is estimated it will cost $54 million and is one of the largest engineering tasks undertaken in Southeast Asia by private enterprise.

The direct road connection between the island and the mainland portion of this British colony is badly needed and when it has been in operation for a year or two people probably will wonder how they managed without it.

THREATENS PAST
But it also threatens a nostalgic tie with the past. Some of the small ferries which churn busily across the harbor are likely to become victims.

"It's just progress," says Robbie Brothers, executive officer for the company constructing the tunnel. "No city in the world on the scale of Hong Kong relies just on ferries. Ferries are outmoded."

The ferries which now provide the only mass transport system between the island and Kouloun — a small helicopter service also is available — are indeed, outmoded as a form of modern transport.

FERRIES TRADITION
But the ferries of Hong Kong have a special place in the colony's life and history. They have served Hong Kong well since last century and evoke many sentimental memories.
In a year, the efficiently run ferries carry 240 million passengers across the harbor, mostly between the two downtown areas. Other ferries run from Hong Kong Island to more distant parts of the mainland and to the outlying islands.

Best known to visitors are the Star ferries, which hurry between the island and Kouloun. Second class, on the lower deck, costs 10 Hong Kong cents (less than 2 U.S. cents for this seven-minute voyage), one of the cheapest in the world. First class, at 25 Hong Kong cents (about 4 U.S. cents), is less crowded and less interesting.

All 10 green and white passenger ferries on this run have the word star in their names, like Celestial Star and Twin-ling Star.

Operating more widely is the Hong Kong and Yaumati Ferry Co., which has 61 ferries and last year carried 170 million passengers and six million vehicles.

EFFECT UNCERTAIN
The effect the tunnel will have on the passenger ferries is uncertain and may depend largely on what cross-harbor services the bus companies decide to operate. But the vehicular ferries will be hard hit. Officials think they will lose 80 to 90 per cent of their vehicular traffic as soon as the tunnel opens. The tunnel company thinks most of this traffic will switch immediately from the ferries, and that many drivers who now leave their cars behind and travel by passenger ferry will instead drive through the tunnel.

The tunnel — in reality two tunnels lying side by side — is being constructed by the immersed tube method. Huge steel pipes are being sunk to the bottom of the harbor and will be joined up to form twin tunnels.

The prefabricated twin-tube sections are 320 to 370 feet long and each weighs about 6,000 tons. They are lined with about 16,000 tons of concrete and sunk into a specially prepared, rock-lined trench.

Each of the tubes is 34 feet in diameter and will provide a two-lane road surface 22 feet wide. At low tide there will be 40 feet of water above the tunnel, enough for most of the ships using the harbor to pass safely overhead.

The project was begun in September, 1969, and is scheduled to be completed by September, 1972.

UF HOPES GOAL NEAR

The United Fund has $88,623 and is preparing to initiate a final clean-up campaign.

"The division directors met Wednesday and the unworked cards were redistributed," said Morris Robertson, campaign chairman. "Everyone is going to work until we reach our goal of $110,000. We hope to finish soon," he said.

The money collected by the United Fund goes to 15 local welfare and child guidance organizations.

"If you don't do it, it won't get done. Give the United Way," said Robertson.

Major contributors to today's total were the employees of the Cabot Corporation and at Swartz.

Score One For Dowdy

BALTIMORE (AP) — An attorney for a congressional committee headed by Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., has told the Texas lawmaker's bribery trial that he personally handled allegedly leaked secret records pertaining to a federal probe.

Hayden S. Garber, chief counsel for the House District of Columbia Committee, testified Wednesday he picked up the records and kept them in his safe, at "no time" leaving the records where others could get at them.

The government contends the records, obtained from the D.C. licensing bureau under a subpoena signed by Dowdy, were improperly examined and copied in Dowdy's office.

The records allegedly deal with that bureau's probe of Monarch Construction Corp., a now-defunct Washington home repair firm headed by Nathan H. Cohen, who was later convicted of one count of a fraud indictment stemming from the probe, testified earlier in the trial that he arranged to pay Dowdy $25,000 to quash the probe.

The government maintains getting the investigation records was part of a "frontdoor scheme" to start a probe of government agencies by the House committee chaired by Dowdy, who is charged with conspiracy, perjury and accepting a bribe in connection with the scheme.

Under the scheme, Dowdy would grant immunity to Cohen for testifying before the committee, the government contends.

Immunity would also be granted Myrvin C. Clark, a former Monarch salesman, who has pleaded guilty to his part in the scheme and admitted passing the alleged bribe money to the 19-year House Veteran.

Clark also has testified he picked up the secret reports, had them copied, and furnished copies to his lawyer and others.

India Reports Its Troops Penetrate Across Border

By The Associated Press
Pakistani planes strafed the capital of India's Tripura State today, adjacent to East Pakistan's southeast border, an Indian government spokesman announced in New Delhi.

The spokesman said the Indian army had been ordered to take immediate "defensive action," indicating it would cross the border. The government used the same phrase in connection with the three previous advances into East Pakistan which it has admitted.

The Indian spokesman gave this account:

Five U.S.-supplied F86 Sabre Jets bombed and strafed the city of Agartala, 60 miles due east of Dacca, and its airport for 20 minutes this afternoon.

CIVILIANS KILLED
A number of civilians were killed or wounded, but anti-aircraft guns prevented any damage to the airfield.

Agartala has been under heavy shelling since 8 p.m. Wednesday, with artillery shells smashing into heavily populated areas and in the surrounding refugee camps for Bengalis from East Pakistan. The shelling has killed four civilians and wounded 37.

The Pakistani army reported two new Indian ground attacks, but Pakistani military sources said the defenders held or repulsed all assaults.

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi responded today to U.S. suspension of military shipments to her government with a declaration that India will follow its own policy toward Pakistan and will ignore any Western advice that her government feels is against India's national interest.

She did not promise any reciprocal Indian withdrawal.

India admitted only one penetrating across the border, reporting that its troops are occupying a stretch of East Pakistan from three to five miles wide north of Hilli, in the northwest sector. But Pakistani army officers consider a drive toward Jessore, 15 miles from the west central border, a more serious threat.

NOT SO WEAK
Mrs. Gandhi did not directly mention the U.S. decision to cancel $2 million worth of military export licenses and to refuse all future licenses. But in obvious reaction to the U.S. move, she said: "The country is not so weak as to be afraid of any aid being cut off. Today we will do what is best in our national interest and not what these so-called big nations would like us to do."

ATTACKED — Map locates Agartala, the capital of India's Tripura State, near the southeast border of East Pakistan. Indian government spokesmen announced Thursday the city was attacked by Pakistani planes.

The Gas Energy Crisis

There has been much debate about whether the country is really facing an "energy crisis" or whether reports of a shortage of fuels, principally natural gas, originate with the industry in an effort to attain higher prices and relaxed regulations.

Well, there is no arguing the fact many cities and states, particularly in the populous northeast, are preparing for a very real shortage of natural gas, one which could easily reach crisis proportions. And it may do so despite any last-minute efforts to avoid it.

New York Times writer Homer Bigart recently reported on the extent of the worry. For the present, national gas distributors are warning their consumers curtailments in service are possible this winter season; many are refusing to take on large new industrial users, and some are turning down new residence connections. Barring a severe winter, gas supplies should be adequate this year — just barely. But by the winter of 1972-73, the situation could become acute.

Should the worst happen — long months of winter and high usage — factories would be the first to have their gas service suspended. Then would come commercial establishments such as stores and restaurants. Then next, and finally, would come schools, public buildings, hospitals, and homes.

The problem is reserves of natural gas are being drained. We are down to danger levels of proven reserves; little new exploration is being conducted. Unless production can be increased — which means unless exploration can be increased — then the worst must surely happen.

Now If It Were For—

The beleaguered taxpayer now learns that Mrs. Martha Mitchell, help mate of the U.S. attorney general, has a chauffeured government automobile at her disposal 24 hours a day.

In defense, we are told that it is nothing new. Autos were provided previously for use by Mrs.

Adding to the pressure are new antipollution laws, which are turning more and more industries to natural gas. It is a "clean" fuel; its air-pollution factors meet new antipollution regulations other fuels cannot match. So the rate of demand rises, while the supply dwindles.

Producers say what is needed are higher well-head prices and fewer regulatory roadblocks to exploration. The gas is there, they say, and only lacks incentive to be discovered and turned to production. Incentive, not criticism of the industry, can solve the problem.

Ramsey Clark, Mrs. Nicholas Katzenbach, Mrs. Robert Kennedy, Mrs. William Roberts and Mrs. Herbert Brownell while their husbands ran the justice department.

But long-standing practice doesn't make it any more legal or palatable. But, if this expense were for a Maxim silencer in the case of Martha...

Bless That Cold

Around The Rim

Jean Fannin

I got to pondering the statement that a country which has spent millions of dollars to send men to the moon hasn't conquered the common cold. (The fact that I was experiencing sneezes, a stuffy nose and a sore throat at the time had nothing to do with my thoughts, I assure you.)

I CAME UP with a truly remarkable conclusion — no one wants to conquer it.

The entire television industry — for one — would go out of business. Now that cigarette commercials are taboo, the pharmaceutical firms practically subsidize television. I haven't got around to it yet, but one of these days I'm going to spend one evening counting commercials for products which promise to alleviate the miseries of the "aches and pains and fever" of the cold.

THE AMERICAN Medical Association also might have reservations about killing off the cold. Have you ever waited in line with hundreds of other cold victims to see a doctor. That's where the money is in the medical profession. There are odds on getting a really serious illness, but everyone at sometime or another gets a cold.

AND WHEN you talk about curing the cold, you're also bound to meet the opposition of the labor force. What's the best reason in the world to miss a few days work? I mean you can't very well call in and say "I've got a miserable appendicitis! That excuse is only good once.

AND IF we eliminate the common cold, what excuse will a man use at those tearful, heart-rending movies. About the only other thing he can say is "Does it seem smoky in here to you?" and that is not the sort of thing one says in a crowded theater.

Pity the poor teacher. I haven't checked it out, but I'm sure once the childhood diseases are conquered, the only respite a teacher gets is from the common cold. If it were not for the cold, a teacher might wind up with her full class every day of the year.

ABOUT THE ONLY ones who want the cold conquered are those of us who are too duty-conscious (and scared of the boss) to call in sick.

William F. Buckley Jr.

I have a letter from an irate lady informing me that she declined ostentatiously on a recent occasion to purchase a copy of one of my books "because I don't want to have a hand in making you rich." It isn't so often that one receives letters announcing the writers' intentions not to buy one's book in order, if only prospectively, to impose economic punishment.

ON THE whole, I approve of the gesture. It is, really, the only way of expressing oneself in vexed situations. Sometimes it imposes considerable burdens on the vexee. I have in mind one gentleman who regularly cancels his subscription to the magazine I edit, but who cannot apparently live without it, so that he is driven to re-subscribing under an assumed name.

While approving the gesture, I think it odd how little knowledge there is of the economics of the publishing business, and thought today to tell the little I know, so that readers may gauge more accurately what is their economic leverage.

CONSIDER the book writer. It is commonly thought that authors of books make a great deal of money. The answer is: some writers of books make a great deal of money. Most do not.

If you are an experienced book writer, you can wrest from your publisher a royalty of 15 per cent of the retail sale price of your book. That means that for every book that sells at, say, six dollars, the author earns 90 cents. A typical sale is 10,000 copies. From which the (experienced) author would earn $9,000.

THE PARTICULAR book my correspondent informed me she did not intend to buy happens to be out on the newsstands in paperback. It sells for 95 cents (call it a dollar). Now the paperback book is licensed to a paperback house by the publisher of the hard-cover edition. That ravenous gentleman gets to keep one half of the royalty paid by the paperback house, remitting the other half, grudgingly, to the author. The typical royalty for the paperback is eight per cent. Thus it is readily seen that for every paperback sale of the book in question, the author makes four cents. He needs to sell 100,000 copies in order to make $4,000. Very few paperbacks sell 100,000 copies.

SINCE THE publishers want to keep the royalty schedule as low as possible, they have devised a very neat trick for bidding for the high-selling authors, like the sex-book writers, and here and there a very popular historian like William Shirer, or the fascinating chronicler of a Mafia family, Mr. Gay Talese. What they do is to offer a guarantee widely in excess of anything the author could hope to realize from actual sales. In the case of Mr. Shirer's book about Nazi Germany, the guarantee was reportedly $450,000, and so is it, in that neighborhood, for Mr. Talese. That means, assuming a dollar book, that an author would have to sell one hundred million copies before he earned back his guarantee.

NOT EVEN "Love Story" sells one hundred million copies. But the paperback houses are in effect saying: Our own profit rises so steeply when we can sell several million copies of a book, we are willing to share those profits with the author, but we must couch the deal in such a way as not to undermine the normal contract between publisher and author. It is sad to think that the lady who wrote to deprive me of four cents, had to pay twice that to send me the letter.

IN THE MAGAZINE business, if the magazine sells for $10, it is reasonable to assume that, say, $5 is profit — on a renewal. (Usually there isn't any profit at all.) Five dollars is a lot more than four cents, but, alas, the imposition of a $5 fine is generally not enough to attract the personal attention of the publisher, and it is reputed that the computer has no feelings. Still, it is a robust habit, like refusing a candidate your vote, and I am all for it.

Wants Death

DALLAS (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin said during the State Bar of Texas convention that he will go to Washington in the fall to urge that capital punishment be continued. "Texas will seek to uphold the death penalty and I will go to the hearings," Martin said.

My Answer

Billy Graham

What is the meaning of complete silence and meditation which some groups teach? Also, what does it mean to practice the presence of God?

There is a vast difference between letting your mind slip into free-wheeling which is what some people do when they talk about silent meditation. It is simply the absence of thought, and psychologists teach us that it is possible for a person to throw his thinking apparatus into neutral and just let the engine idle. But this is not the Christian kind of meditation. The Scriptures teach that we must have something concerning which we meditate. For example, in the First Psalm David writes, "And in His law doth he meditate day and night." In other words, there was content to the psalmist's meditation, and there is always something concerning which the Christian meditates. That something is the truth of Scripture. Nor does one really practice the presence of God any more than a man practices the presence of his wife. Either she is there or she is not. There is no make-believe about it. Neither can you practice the presence of God unless He is there. The truth of Scripture is, "I will never leave you or forsake you." This we take by faith. Christ is with us. Meditate on Him! "Thou wilt keep Him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

A Devotion For Today . . .

An highway shall be there, and a way, and it shall be called The way of holiness. (Isaiah 35:8)
PRAYER: Lord Jesus, we are simple souls. Sometimes we do miss the way and lose too much of life and truth. Help us to nurture a robust faith and a firm tread that we cease not our following after Thee. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Freeze Is Working

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Several months ago George Meany, the head of the AFL-CIO, was urging the use of wage and price controls to curb inflation, while President Nixon was expressing his reluctance to do so. Now, since the President established a "freeze" and is beginning to apply a modification of over-all controls by the device of a pay board and price commission which concentrate on selective cases, the chief spokesman of organized labor is expressing his dissent.

WHILE MOST of the comments which have been attracting attention are related to the manner in which the President was received at the AFL-CIO convention, the fact is the various unions involved are deeply concerned over the future course of the pay board and the extent to which wage increases will be approved.

Mr. Meany himself may be a bit surprised by the stories of his alleged discourtesies, as he has always felt that he could say or do what he pleased about any administration with which he disagreed. It is significant to note that President Nixon, in the impromptu speech which he made to the convention, spoke in friendly terms about labor and also about Mr. Meany. Thus, in one section of the speech, the chief executive said in regard to his new economic policy:

"THIS IS NOT like an ordinary collective-bargaining dispute when labor wins and management loses. If we fall in this venture, America will lose and all of us will lose. I say to you: We cannot let that happen. It means that we must work together. It means that we must speak candidly, as President Meany has, and I appreciate his candor and his honesty. But it also means that what we must try to do is to find a way that, working together within the system, fighting it out — we find a way to temper the rise in the cost of living so that all Americans will benefit. And we can win this fight which is in the interest of all Americans."

THERE IS NO doubt that the wage and price situation is in far better condition than it looks on the surface. Many companies which normally would raise their price in an exact ratio to wage increases are cautiously instituting lower price rises so as to expand their sales. It is evident that this policy is designed to meet foreign competition and give American business an opportunity to end the year with a better profit picture.

EXTREME INCREASES in wage rates are generally being held back by the pay board, and boosts within the guidelines are being approved. There are, to be sure, lots of cases in which higher wage costs under contracts made either during the freeze or before it occurred now are being cited as the basis for various price increases.

The federal government will insist upon an 80-day cooling period whenever negotiations have failed and a strike is called or threatened which will interrupt interstate commerce. The likelihood is that there will be plenty of compromises submitted to the pay board.

IT MIGHT SEEM to some observers that the controversy between George Meany and the administration would imply that all the labor unions will be engaging in a form of hostility to the administration. But actually most of the union chiefs are wise enough to avoid such a situation.

'I AM - AS YOU SAY - HOLDING UP MY END'

Insurance Rates To Dip?

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Some property and liability insurers are reporting solid profits in recent months and so the prospects are growing that rates may soon be coming down.

While this is good news for homeowners, businessmen, drivers and others, it is almost too much to believe for some of the insurers, who year after year lost money even though they raised rates.

For the decade ending Dec. 31, 1969, for example, the underwriting losses for 148 capital stock liability companies were $1.2 billion. And as recently as last year the property-liability losses totaled $275 million.

Insurers credit many factors for their improving situation: rate increases, or "relief" as they call it, a slowing of inflation that helped them bring costs under control, and the economic slowdown.

But is there more to this story? Could it be that the insurers themselves rather than events beyond their control could have had something to do with their huge losses, which occurred during widespread prosperity?

Seldom did the insurers even permit this possibility to be discussed. The fault was not theirs, they proclaimed, but society's; the resolution of the problem must come from without rather than from within.

One wonders about the credibility of that argument after reviewing the procedures through which one giant, Continental Casualty, worked its way from a $34-million loss in 1965 to the break-even point last year.

The remedy was sought within the company.

More emphasis was placed on commercial business rather than on expenses. "We had to clamp down hard on expenses, painfully hard," an executive said.

Regional and branch offices were given more authority and responsibility.

Management personnel were upgraded through an evaluation system, a series of schools and seminars, transfers and promotions.

An emphasis was placed on consumerism. "How well are you providing the customer with a series that he really can't do without?" agents were asked. And the business of trade associations and their big premiums were solicited.

The final point is especially worth noting. Here it is, in the company's own language:

"A heavy accent on profit. Branches became 'profit centers' and were repeatedly told that income had to surpass outgo 'or the stockholders and the board of directors won't stay with us.'"

Rate increases and adjustments also were made, but admittedly only as a "close-the-gap" measure after it was already clear the strategy was working.

Weird Christmas Gifts

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Please, please—don't send me an adenoid for Christmas!

Or the deed to a square inch of Texas either. Or two live tropical birds. Or a cobra-skin necktie.

One of the trials of being a columnist is the habit some readers have of bombarding him with unexpected weird gifts. Some of them are rather hard to dispose of.

The adenoid came in a test tube full of alcohol. You'd be amazed how few people want to buy a second-hand adenoid. I did, however, have a few bids for the alcohol.

I gave the cobra-skin necktie to a teen-ager. The two birds died. The deed to a square inch of Texas I put away in a safe deposit box. There's always the chance that some innocent promoter may come along and build a big city over my inch of soil.

But my point is that it isn't the presents you get at Christmas that make you happy—it's the ones you don't get.

So, if by any chance you were planning to get rid of something in your house by mailing it to me as a Christmas present, don't send me:

A life-size, inflatable, plastic white elephant.

The carcass of your yuletide turkey. The wishbone, however, will be welcomed—if properly cleaned.

A hearing aid built in 1923 which no longer works.

A deck of pornographic playing cards. They simply break up a poker game, and three of them disappear everytime you try to play a hand.

A stringless zither you found while cleaning the attic.

That spiked German helmet which you brought home after the first World War—and which your 49-year-old son has finally tired of playing with.

A broken electric toothbrush. All this may sound like I'm brash and a bit of a curmudgeon. This isn't true. I like Christmas as much as anyone else. I just don't like getting Christmas presents I have no worldly use for.

Lawyers Love Nixon

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — While back I wrote an article in favor of no-fault insurance laws, which provide for people to be compensated for automobile accidents without the expensive process of litigation. To no one's surprise I received about 100 indignant letters from lawyers telling me I was trying to take the bread out of their mouths.

WELL, I HAVE good news for the legal profession. Whatever fees they lose on no-fault insurance, they will make up on President Nixon's Phase II economic plan. As a matter of fact, no matter what happens to the economy, lawyers stand to gain the most from whatever Mr. Nixon and his advisers have in store for the country.

This realization dawned on me when I tried for three days to get through to a lawyer friend of mine named Branch Brewmaker. Every time I called the line was busy, so I decided to go over to his office to find out if he was all right.

WAS HE ALL right? He was absolutely dancing around his office. "It's beautiful," he cried. "It's a lawyer's dream."

"What do you mean it's a lawyer's dream?"

"Phase II. No one understands it. My clients don't understand it, I don't understand it, no one in the government understands it. Do you have any idea of what this means in legal fees?"

"I GUESS it must mean something or you wouldn't be bouncing up and down on your couch in your stockings feet."

"Remember six months ago? How lousy I told you things were for lawyers? Well, everything has changed. Thanks to Mr. Nixon we will soon own the world."

"Brewmaker, I can understand a certain amount of elation, but why are you throwing $5 bills out your window?"

"I'll show you why," he said, jumping off the couch. He went over to his intercom. "Miss Ramsay, whom do we have on hold? Minow of Minow Earplugs, Inc.? Good, put him on. . . Hello Minow, Brewmaker here. . . What's that? You want to know if you can raise the price of plastic earplugs? I can't tell you offhand, but I'll find out for you. . . What's my fee? The usual $100 an hour. . . Right, I'll get back to you as soon as I have the answer."

BREWMAKER HUNG up. "Now watch this," he said to me, placing a clock in front of him. He dialed a number. "U.S. government? I wish to speak to someone in charge of raising the price on plastic earplugs. . . No don't hurry. . . I'll hold on."

An hour and a half later Brewmaker had yet to find anyone in charge of earplugs. He said to me, "It usually takes about three days to get anyone to talk to me." He laughed. "Then it takes another three days to explain the problem. Then they always demand more information. Then I have to go over and see the guy. It takes a half-day to find him and a day to get in to see him. Then when I finally do, it turns out he's the wrong guy, so I have to start all over again."

'I CAN'T LOOK BACK NOW' Freedom Swim Price? His Left Leg

By DAVID J. PAINE
Associated Press Writer

HONG KONG (AP) — The two youths, near exhaustion from many hours in the water, swam wearily toward the island which loomed above them out of the darkness.

Suddenly the water behind them swirled. A huge fish, a shark or barracuda glided toward them out of the darkness.

One of the swimmers screamed in terror as razor sharp teeth tore the flesh from just below his knee and savaged his leg.

The attacker struck again, ripping at his calf. A third time the vicious teeth snapped, clamping on the youth's foot and dragging him down. He twisted and writhed and the teeth released their grip.

The victim was Chan Sze-king, a 20-year-old freedom swimmer fleeing Communist China. He survived the attack and 39 hours waiting on rainswept rocks for help, but lost his left leg.

Chan was one of a steady stream of young Chinese who risk their lives to escape from Communist China. Most of them are lured by the bright lights of Hong Kong — the hope of a good job in this industrial colony and material benefits they could not expect in China. Almost all the escapees swim across Mirs Bay or Deep Bay, the two stretches of water several miles wide between

Christmas Card Hails Rosa Parks

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's International Afro-American Museum has issued a Christmas card honoring Rosa Parks, often referred to as the "mother of the civil rights movement."

Mrs. Parks triggered the Montgomery, Ala., bus boycott 16 years ago when she was arrested for refusing to move to the back of a bus.

The boycott, led by the late Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., started a decade of protests.

Mrs. Parks has lived in Detroit with her husband and mother since 1957. She works in the Detroit staff of Rep. John D. Conyers Jr., D-Mich.

Hong Kong and the mainland. They are the freedom swimmers. Only a handful try to cross the 22-mile-long frontier, which is far riskier.

Most are in their late teens or early 20s. The swim across the bay is a dangerous and arduous one. Few older people attempt it. In late 1970, as the water became colder with approaching winter, several dozen bodies of would-be refugees were washed ashore in Hong Kong.

There also is the risk of being caught by Communist Chinese border guards.

In the first 10 months of 1971, about 3,300 refugees were apprehended by Hong Kong authorities as they entered the colony. This was almost double the number for the whole of the previous year. For every one caught, probably another four slipped in unnoticed. This would mean that about 16,500 Chinese fled from Red China to Hong Kong between January and October.

As in the case of Chan, the refugees almost invariably are allowed to remain in Hong Kong.

Chan was working on an agricultural commune about 80 miles from the Hong Kong border in China's Kwangtung Province, when he and a friend decided to try and flee to Hong Kong.

The slimly-built youth had been a high school student in Canton when he was sent to the commune two years earlier.

"I was not very happy doing agricultural work and we had barely enough to eat, so I decided to try and get to Hong Kong," he said. "I hoped that I could get a job here. The question of communism did not come into it, I am not politically-minded. I just wanted a better life."

Chan spoke in a soft voice, often hesitatingly, as he related the story of his escape.

"It took us several days, possibly a week, to reach the sea," he said.

"Eventually we reached the water, Mirs Bay, and it was not very cold. The weather was warm at this time of the year."

"I don't quite remember how many hours we swam but it took most of the night. We had plastic bags which we blew up to support us. My friend and I are both good swimmers; we used to swim a lot in the rivers around the commune.

"It was just before dawn, when we were getting near a small island, that I was attacked by a big fish. I did not see the fish at all and I don't know what sort it was."

"My friend, who was not attacked, helped me to get to the island."

"The next morning, about 30 hours after the attack, my friend saw a Hong Kong marine police launch. They saw him waving and came to the island."

"We were taken in the launch to a place where an ambulance picked me up and took me to a hospital. My leg was so bad by this time that they had to amputate it that afternoon."

"The future is uncertain for Chan and he is reluctant to discuss the past. But he showed no signs of regret over the flight which cost him his leg and said: "I can't look back now."

LOOK AT BOOKS Credit Cards Are Consumer Pitfall

THE CREDIT JUNGLE.
By Al Griffin. Henry Regnery Co. $5.95.

There are many ways to hurt a fellow, and too many American are in financial pain because of credit cards that open the doors to easy purchasing.

Author Al Griffin, a specialist in consumer credit, recognizes the credit system as a "sound useful tool in the American economy."

Credit is good for business, and the buyer enjoys some comforts of life outside of his basic needs. Griffin, however, is sympathetic with the unfortunate consumer who overextends his credit far beyond his financial capacity, thereby plunging himself deeply into debt. Credit card addiction is found among higher income earners as well as the poor and uneducated.

This book explains a great deal of the machinations of business and credit; how banks profit from interest on revolving credit. Almost anything can be bought on credit; and it is not difficult to establish oneself as a card holder. The teen-age market is booming now that they can have their own cards. The information given here could serve as a handy guide to young engaged couples who are about to outfit their future home with things they need and a few things they can do without, in accordance with the standards of our great society. The author believes the consumer should have more protection from unscrupulous frauds who take advantage of the buyer's weakness to possess luxuries or articles of real necessity. He recommends consumer education as a required study in high school and hopefully they will be able to avoid some of the pitfalls of their forbears.

Frightening Calls

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been a lonely divorcee for nearly three years. I'm 45. Several months ago I met an attractive 50-year-old man who was (and still is) separated from his wife. This gentleman and I have been constant companions ever since our meeting which is the nicest thing that has happened to me in a very long time.

Several weeks ago his wife started phoning me at all hours of the night. At first I was patient because I felt sorry for her. But now her calls have become frightening.

I have left my receiver off the hook for hours, but still the calls continue. I spoke to my companion about this, and he has spoken to her, but to no avail.

I don't want to get an unlisted number as I have friends all over the country who call me and come to town occasionally, and these calls are important to me.

My companion says his wife is emotionally disturbed, and I believe she is. What's the answer? Should I put up with her calls until she decides to quit? Must I stop seeing my gentleman friend? Or should I take legal action to stop the harassment? NEEDS ADVICE.

DEAR NEEDS: Don't take any legal action unless you are positive that both you and your constant companion are not vulnerable to some legal action from his wife. Until a man is divorced, he is married, you know, which places you in the position of coveting with a married man.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy, 15, and a high school sophomore. Recently we had school elections, and I was nominated for vice president of my class and I am wondering about the following situation:

It is snobbish to vote for yourself in any kind of election? I'm not speaking only of the secret ballot when nobody else will know for whom you have voted, but in open elections when the voters raise their hands to cast their votes. I did this the other day (voted for myself in an open election), and now I feel terrible because I'm afraid some of the kids will think I am stuck up.

I would like your opinion on this.

DEAR DAVID: The Rabbi Hillel said: "If I am not for myself, who will be for me?" The rabbi was right on!

Dogs Aid Police

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Police Department is making a study to determine if it should use more police dogs.

"We use the dogs to search buildings where suspected burglars may be hiding, in area searches for fugitives, to sniff for marijuana, and other duties," said Police Chief Frank Dyson. "If we can determine an adaptability, we'd like to use them to sniff out explosives, also."

The department presently employs nine dogs.

Snacks OK

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 3-year-old is forever asking for something to eat — bologna, cookies, yogurt or whatever strikes her fancy.

I've been letting her have what she wants within reason (not too many sweets) and I notice that other mothers do the same.

I am becoming concerned, however, whether I may be teaching her bad eating habits by allowing her to snack at will. Many times she does not eat her supper and this bothers my husband to see good food wasted. Should I let her continue to snack or put my foot down? — Mrs. B. K.

It's important, of course, to inculcate good eating habits, but when growth slows down — have a lot to do with a child's need for food. Especially in such a spurt, some sort of snack at mid-afternoon is not only permissible but a good thing.

But when a child has done a good deal of snacking and then won't eat dinner, it's a strong hint that there was a little too much snacking. So — cut it down especially in late afternoon.

Some of the foods you mentioned (bologna, yogurt) have a considerable protein content. Naturally I'm not downgrading protein. It's a needed item of diet, and some folks don't get enough.

In terms of snacks, however, another consideration enters. Protein digests slowly. Hence, protein "stays with you" longer than other types of food and for that reason a high-protein snack in the afternoon can interfere with appetite at dinner time.

My suggestion would be to offer a lighter snack. Keep the protein foods for mealtime. For an afternoon snack, try milk fruit, a small cookie, or the like. It will provide energy but not destroy appetite later. Candy is apt to dull her appetite.

Incidentally, if you are worried about a child not getting enough to eat, remember that if a child is growing normally and has plenty of energy there's not much to worry about.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been taking a diuretic daily for two years. A nurse told me you have to be sure to eat at least one banana and drink a glass of orange juice every day. Is this true? Why? My doctor never mentioned it. — Mrs. C.S.

Some of the diuretics can, in time, contribute to loss of potassium, but it is easily corrected, and there's no point in correcting it unless it happens. Bananas and orange juice are high in potassium. That's evidently what the nurse was thinking about, but there are other sources of potassium, and in any event, your doctor evidently has not seen any sign that you need more.

HC Seeks Eighth Win In 7:30 Game Here

Howard County JC tries to regain its rhythm in a 7:30 o'clock game with newly opened Western Texas College of Snyder here tonight.

Sid Simpson, coach of the Westerners, has the Snyder team thinking it can win. His philosophy may pose a tough problem for the Hawks, who lost two of their three starts in the Garden City, Kan., Tournament last week and who will carry a 7-3 record onto the floor tonight.

HC is two games ahead of the pace it set last year but it is still prone to depend too much on man, sophomore Archie Myers.

Myers is hitting at a 34.3 norm, having scored a total of 343 points for the year.

The Hawks' next leading point getter is Jim Kreier, who has tallied 157 points for a 15.7 average. Jim has come on fast in recent games.

Western Texas recently knocked off Cisco College, 98-95, and is 4-2 on the year. The win over Cisco gave the Westerners the consolation trophy in the Grayson County Tournament.

Western Texas has only one sophomore in the lineup. He is Mike Simpson, son of the coach. Cliff Gardner, Gary Henderson and Walter Hanibal are among the Snyder standouts.

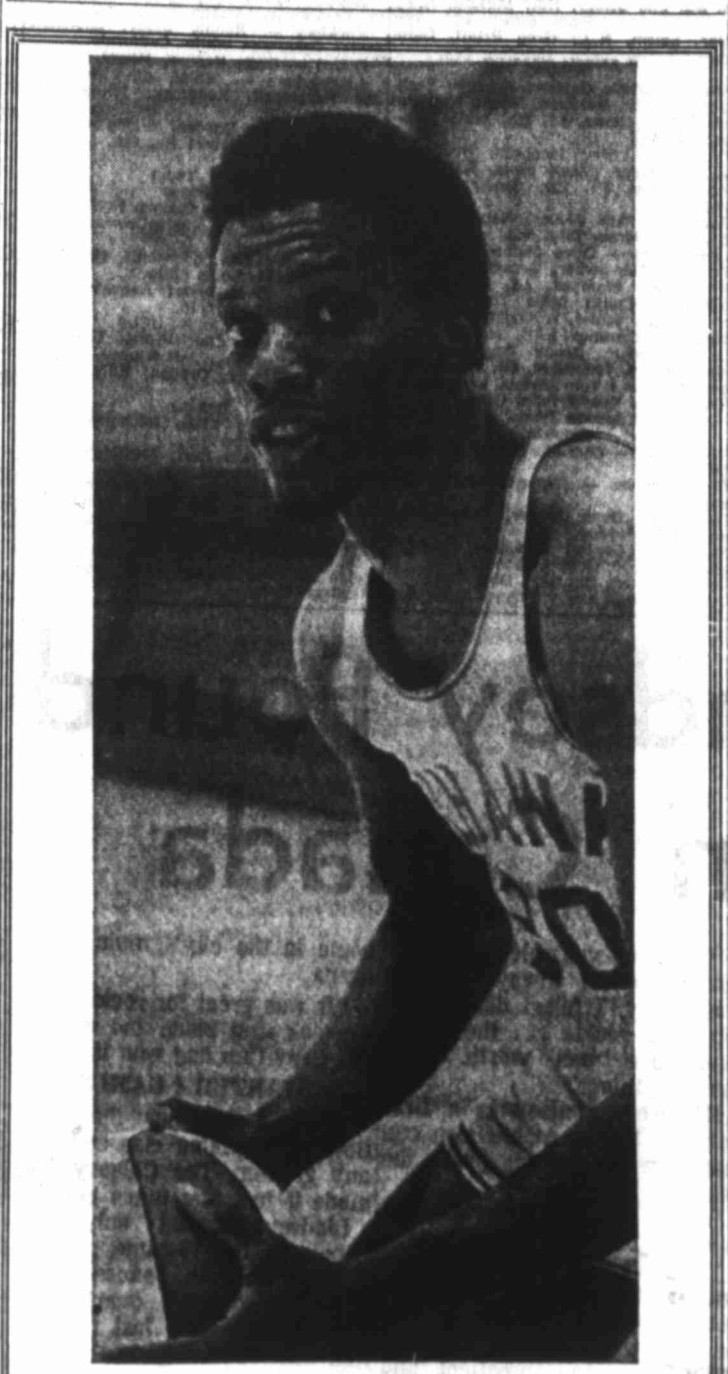

Gardner attended Tahoka High School. Henderson is an Amarillo Tascosa ex. Hanibal formerly played with Fort Worth Kirkpatrick.

James Houston of Charlotte, N.C., defenses well on the inside for Western Texas while Joel Dyess makes major contributions to the Snyder team's cause.

Starters for HC, along with Myers and Kreier, likely will be Lawrence Young, Herbert Lee and Harry Miller.

The Jayhawks go to Abilene Saturday for an early game with the ACC freshman unit. Howard County has beaten

ARTFUL ARCHIE MYERS

Myers Moves Nearer To All-Time Record

Already firmly entrenched in second place among all-time basketball scorers at Howard County JC, Archie Myers moved over nearly to Walter Carter's lead.

Myers has scored 1263 points in less than a season and a half, which leaves him 82 points shy of Carter's record 1345 points.

The sophomore from Cleveland, Miss., gets a chance to add to that aggregate in a game against Western Texas College of Snyder here this evening.

Archie has averaged 34.3 points a game since the current season began.

Terps Triumph; Trojans Fall To Sun Devils

By ALEX SACHARE

"I'm not concerned whether we look good or bad," declared Maryland basketball coach Lefty Driesell, "only whether we win or lose."

Driesell's Terps, ranked sixth in The Associated Press preseason poll, looked something less than good against Brown Wednesday night, but did manage to defeat the Bruins 100-89 in one of the key games on the opening night of the 1971-72 college basketball season.

In the night's major upset, third-ranked Southern Cal, which lost only two games—both to UCLA—last year, fell before unranked Arizona State 95-78 at Tempe, Ariz.

In other games involved the Top Ten, No. 4 Marquette overpowered St. John's, Minn., 69-50, No. 5 Ohio State got by Georgia Tech at Atlanta 63-55, No. 7 Houston defeated Stanford 87-67, Florida, playing at home, upended No. 9 Louisville 70-69 and No. 10 Kentucky turned back Northwestern 94-85.

No. 1 UCLA, No. 2 North Carolina and No. 8 Long Beach State did not play.

"The young players were probably a little bit tight," conceded Driesell, speaking about his sophomore-studded lineup.

NOT OVERJOYED
One of those youngsters, heralded sophomore Tom McMillen, scored 16 points and grabbed 10 rebounds, but was not overjoyed by his performance.

"I wasn't very nervous, but I became a little frustrated," the 6-foot-11, former Pennsylvania high school star said. "It seems like I always have a game like that, my first game of the year."

Southern Cal, considered a threat to dethrone UCLA as Pacific 8—and NCAA—champions, ran into a sizzling shooting performance by the Sun Devils. Arizona State sank 50 per cent of its field goal attempts, with Rhea Taylor scoring 22 and Bill Kennedy adding 21. Paul Stoval chipped in with 17 points and 13 rebounds.

Southern Cal, meanwhile, could hit on only 33 per cent of its shots.

Marquette proved too much for Little St. John's. Minn. Jim Chones, the Warrior's pivotman, scored 24 points, grabbed 17 rebounds and blocked six shots, prompting raves from his coach, Al McGuire.

Luke Witt, Ohio State's 7-footer, poured in 20 points and grabbed 13 rebounds to spark the Buckeyes. Guard Dan Gerhard added 18.

Houston started slowly against Stanford, leading only 39-36 early in the second half, but then came on to pull away from the Indians.

Florida's Jerry Hoover sank two free throws with 13 seconds left to give the Gators their upset. Tony Miller of Florida was high scorer with 29.

Adolph Rupp got victory No. 859 of his coaching career as 6-11 junior Jim Andrews scored 37 points to power Kentucky over Northwestern. Forward Barry Moran scored 32 for the losers.

BRENT GETS 23
In other games involving teams among the Top Twenty, No. 11 Jacksonville, C., overwhelmed Biscayne 110-75 as 7-foot center David Brent scored 23 points and grabbed 22 rebounds and guard Harold Fox sank 12 of 13 field goal attempts for 24 points; No. 12 South Carolina's five starters each scored in double figures to lead the Gamecocks past Auburn 84-63, and Wayne Grabiec scored 26 and Henry Wilmore added 21 as No. 13 Michigan topped Notre Dame 101-83, spilling Digger Phelps' debut as coach of the Irish.

No. 14 Kansas exploded for 12 consecutive points shortly before halftime and went on to post an easy 75-57 victory over Xavier, O.; No. 15 Penn raced to a 26-9 lead and coasted to a 97-67 triumph over Kings College, Pa., at the Palestra, and No. 16 New Mexico State fell before little San Angelo 77-71.

No. 17 St. John's scored 15 consecutive points at the start of the second half and defeated the Italian National Olympic team 60-53; Tom Inglesby scored 27 to pace No. 18 Villanova to a 79-52 triumph over Philadelphia Textile at the Palestra; No. 19 Brigham Young had the night off, and Samford rallied in the second half to upset No. 20 Oklahoma 74-72 at Norman.

The local JVs will compete in the Snyder Tournament that starts Friday.

In that one, the locals face Lubbock Monterey at 3:30 p.m. in a first round contest.

Other first round games at Snyder finds Plainview opposing Midland Lee, Abilene Cooper facing Sweetwater and Lubbock High tangling with Snyder.

Lightfoot Named Tournery Director
Don Lightfoot of Goliad Junior High is director of the two-divisional Big Spring Junior High School Basketball Tournament, which gets under way Friday and continues through Saturday evening.

The eighth grade division of the tournament takes place in the Goliad Gym while the ninth graders confine their play to the high school fieldhouse.

Lamesa Entered In Ysleta Meet
LAMESA — Lamesa is the only Class AAA school in the Ysleta Eastwood Invitational Basketball Tournament in El Paso, which begins today and continues through Saturday.

Lamesa faces host Eastwood in a first round game at 8 p.m. Friday. Six El Paso schools are entered, along with Amarillo Tascosa and Lamesa.

Cavaliers Discover Joys Of Winning

By The Associated Press

"What the hell, let's fly first class," Bill Fitch said recently—and his Cleveland Cavaliers have been doing just that ever since.

And if the coach of the suddenly rampaging National Basketball Association club keeps his word, it'll be riding in the front of the plane for the rest of the season.

The Cavs, pulling within a game of idle first-place Baltimore in the Central Division, reeled off their fifth consecutive victory Wednesday night as Charlie Davis came off the bench to pump in 11 fourth-quarter points and power Cleveland to a 116-110 triumph over Houston.

In other action, Chicago beat Cincinnati 109-101, Atlanta defeated Detroit 117-103, Los Angeles belted Boston 124-111, Philadelphia slipped by Seattle 102-98 and Phoenix bombed Portland 139-103.

FIRST CLASS
Last Saturday night, following a victory in Atlanta—the Cavs' third in a row—Fitch decided to splurge a little and fly by team home first class.

An NBA ruling requires first-class treatment only on flights of two hours or more—the Atlanta-to-Cleveland run is less than that—but Fitch was feeling expansive.

"I told them," Fitch said of his players, "that if they won five in a row they'd go first class all season. I'm ready to take them first class if they're ready to meet the challenge."

They met it against the Rockets with balance. Butch Beard led the Cavs with 21 points, John Johnson and Bobby Smith had 20 apiece, Davis had 19 and Austin Carr 16 while Rick Roberson hauled down 18 rebounds.

"I believe in momentum," said Fitch. "They had it going for them last year at this time—but it was a different kind of streak." A year ago the Cavaliers were 1-26. They managed just 15 victories all season. Now they're 9-14.

Chicago's Bulls edged within 3½ games of first-place Milwaukee in the Midwest Division, and dropped Cincinnati to a tie with Cleveland, by riding Bob Love's big first half to a 15-point lead, then stifling Royals rallies.

TOTALS 36
Love finished with 36 points, 24 of them in the first two periods as the Bulls built a 55-40 margin. But Cincinnati chipped away at the lead, trimming it to as little as six points, before falling short. Guard Nate Archibald of the Royals led all scorers with 42 points, 29 of them in the final two periods.

San Angelo Central has drawn Bryan as a first round opponent in the annual San Angelo BCD Basketball Tournament, a two-day event which starts Friday.

The two teams clash at 8 p.m. Friday.

In other first round contests, Lubbock Monterey vies with Dallas White at 3 p.m., Fort Worth Terrell tries Stephen F. Austin of Austin at 4:30 p.m., and Pharr-San Juan Alamo squares off with Wichita Falls Rider at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Monterey is the defending champion.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Lee Trevino will definitely play in the 1972 Masters Golf Tournament, if he's invited. You can make book on the fact that the tournament committee will dispatch him a RSVP card.

Supremex has passed up the Masters the last two years, complaining the difficult course is not his cup of tea. He's matured a lot since he first turned down an invitation to the Augusta event, knows the world's most prestigious linkers always show up for the four days of fun and games.

Is Lee the most popular figure in golf history? Arnold Palmer buffs will dispute that claim in caustic language. Lee is more generous with his loot than Palmer ever was. That's a claim. When he collected $12,000 recently for an 18-hole exhibition in San Antonio, Lee donated approximately 75 per cent of it to the charity which was benefiting from the gate itself.

More and more football coaches are going to the pros for a number of reasons. The pay is better. They don't have to wonder how their talent is doing academically, and the fringe benefits linger a long time—like for life.

Dan Devine and Tommy Prothro fled the collegiate ranks. Now Duffy Daugherty (Michigan State) likely will kick over the traces and shuffle off to Buffalo.

Duffy has been at Michigan State 17 seasons. There he has known good, bad and indifferent years. Daugherty is a natural for the pros, because he is witty and makes good newspaper copy. Even in defeat, he can be funny.

It was tough on Duffy when he first went to Michigan State. He and Biggie Munn, the athletic director, didn't get along and some people close to the situation predicted that Duffy would have to look for work elsewhere. Daugherty stuck it out, however, and the two developed a grudging respect for one another in later years.

Leo Williams, who represented Knott as a pole vaulter when that community had a high school, plans to transfer from HCJC to Angelo State University shortly, where he hopes to get a degree.

Although he has been away from the athletic scene a few years, Leo wants to coach some day. His first love is football.

Those who point to David Carter's lack of physical stamina say the Big Spring youth won't be able to come back after having undergone surgery on that ailing ankle.

They reckon without an untalented like the boy's keen desire, however. Carter gives it 110 per cent in everything he tries, whether it be basketball or baseball. If David does regain his form, the Steers will be hard to hold in the 5-AAAA basketball race.

The year 1947 was a vintage football season for the Southwest Conference.

Doak Walker led SMU into the Cotton Bowl that year where the Ponies were lucky to tie Penn State, 13-13. SMU scored the first two touchdowns in the game and had another negated when a pass receiver (Paul Page) stepped out of bounds, with no one between him and the goal. Elwood Petchel and Steve Suhey were the Penn State players of import that year.

Texas went to the Sugar Bowl the same year and Bobby Layne gave the Alabama Crimson Tide something to remember him by. Texas waltzed to an easy 27-7 victory, although the Tide had a nifty flinger named Harry Gilmer. The Longhorn line put extreme pressure on Harry all afternoon.

Among Texas stars that year, in addition to Layne, were Dick Harris, Tom Landry, Byron Gillory, Peppy Blount and Max Bumgardner.

Layne was the fellow who showed other pro quarterbacks how to fully utilize the last two minutes of a ball game. No one ever did it better.

Landry is still making his mark in pro football as coach of the Dallas Cowboys. Blount is a Longview attorney who has a son playing for SMU. Bumgardner coached at Angelo State until a few years ago and is still with the school.

Solons Hinting At Reprisals

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "Shocked" when the Washington Senators skipped town, lawmakers in the nation's capital have begun to pitch for a new major league franchise.

They made their first big delivery Wednesday at the winter baseball meetings... and threw a curve in the process.

A delegation of congressmen and community leaders from Washington expressed their strong desire for a team while baseball officials listened patiently for hours.

After the meeting, there was a hint of pressure from Washington if baseball doesn't come through by 1973.

"We must have a team in Washington by 1973," Joseph Dansansky, president of the city's board of trade, told a news conference.

What if baseball doesn't satisfy the demand? "We'll run over that bridge when we come to it," Rep. B.F. Sisk, R-Cal. said in a curt tone.

Sisk went on, softening his platform: "We are here on the request of the leadership of Congress. We are reasonable men working for the good of baseball. We don't want to hurt baseball."

Washington was caught short when the Senators pulled out of town for Dallas-Fort Worth last September. Owner Bob Short blamed financial difficulties.

"We've gone through a shock and sometimes a shock awakens you," said Sisk. "We realize that we took major league baseball for granted. We're not here to cry over spilled milk."

Other members of the delegation which flew 2,500 miles to appear before Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and the 24 major league owners were Rep. Frank Holton, R-NY; Rep. Melvin Price, D-Ill.; Rep. Joel Broyhill, D-Va.; Walter Washington, mayor of the nation's capital; Gilbert Hahn, chairman of the city council and John Kaufman, president of the Washington Evening Star.

"We had a very satisfying meeting," said Kuhn. "Baseball is flattered to have this delegation here. We will study the problem and see if a solution can be found."

Sisk, echoing the delegation's determined stand, said: "We are absolutely certain of ample resources to adequately finance baseball in Washington. Whether it is an expansion team, or a club moving from another city or a club sold to interests to move to Washington makes no difference. Any alternative is acceptable to us."

Raiders Shock Hilltoppers

By The Associated Press

Texas Tech struck a mighty luster for Southwest Conference basketball prestige Thursday night.

The Red Raiders stunned Western Kentucky 95-87 at Lubbock behind the 27 points by Greg Lowery and the 15-rebound performance of a towering 6-foot-10 junior college transfer, Ron Richardson.

The Hilltoppers were the third place team in the NCAA playoffs last year.

In other games involving SWC clubs, Mississippi upset Texas in Austin 79-78, Arkansas edged Georgia Southern 93-91, and Texas Christian rallied for an 87-78 victory over Oklahoma City on the road.

Lowery said the Red Raiders were "really looking forward to playing against Western Kentucky. I told people I talked to before the game to come on out because I knew we were ready to play."

A crowd of 7,525 fans braved sleet, snow and cold rain to watch the intersectional tussle.

Richardson, a junior college transfer from Compton, Calif., popped in 15 points besides his rebounding.

"I was pleased with our rebounding," said Tech Coach Gerald Myers, who noted Tech out-rebounded the Hilltoppers 58-38. "Richard and Steve Nicum did a good job on the boards. We are hustling, that's the main thing."

Texas Christian overcame an early 13-point deficit to blister the Chiefs in their backyard. The Horned Frogs trailed 43-34 at halftime.

Jim Ferguson scored 22 points for the Horned Frogs and made a key free throw that helped TCU gain the lead 58-57.

Tom Jordan hit two clutch free throws with 11 seconds left as Mississippi nicked Texas.

Senior guard Scooter Lennox led the Longhorns with 23 points. Duane Boucher was high for Ole Miss also with 23 points.

Men's Cage Loop To Be Discussed

Persons interested in organizing a men's basketball league have been asked to attend an exploratory session scheduled to begin at 7 p.m., Tuesday, at the YMCA.

Both coaches and sponsors are needed for the league, which would likely begin its schedule in early January.

Sunday's handle also marked the fifth time this season the wagering got over the $200,000 plateau. During the three-day weekend, the total handle reached $587,688. This was a solid increase of $180,388 over the comparable weekend last year.

Sunday's crowd of 3,718 was also highest so far this season. The previous high of 3,613 was set on Oct. 10, the first Sunday of the meeting.

Over the weekend, the turnstile clicked 9,812 times. The surge in business, evident from the first day of the meeting, continues to pick up steam.

Thinks Reb Gunman Hit

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops opened fire on an automobile early today and army headquarters said it believed a guerrilla gunman was hit.

A spokesman said a patrol first fired rubber bullets, breaking the car windows, after it refused to stop at a roadblock and tried to run a soldier down.

A gun was seen pointing out a window, the spokesman said. A soldier then fired a single shot and the man behind the gun slumped. The car sped away.

Late Wednesday night, military headquarters reported, a small bomb planted in a garage in Londonderry wounded six people, none seriously.

Black Militant Playwright Hires Self A Press Agent

By WILLIAM GLOVER
AP Drama Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Bullins, prolific dramatist and implacable black militant, recently got himself a press agent.

That move, off-hand, might seem odd for a self-proclaimed "prophet of America's doom" who regards "any white audience as criminals." But since doubt has no place in the chunky author's vibrant canon, such a suggestion would merely corroborate his obdurate belief that no white can understand the African heart.

Bullins works out of a crowded little office in Harlem. He edits Black Theater, the umbilical journal for 75 ethnic troupes across the country, and serves as associate director of the New Lafayette Theater, which is led by Robert Macbeth, who doesn't have a press agent.

SOCIAL FORCE
Those jobs, along with playwriting and a compulsive urge to sharply monitor art on both sides of the color line, make Bullins a force in the social struggle.

A few of his works have been staged for integrated audiences downtown and as far away as London.

Bullins concedes "perhaps art has been what has kept America from flying apart already." On the other hand, he adheres with combative tenacity to the belief that greater understanding between black and white is impossible, certainly in the theater.

'WHITES STEAL'
"White writers will come and steal what they can," he says of the burgeoning drama importance of himself and other new spokesmen for his race.

"They will see some damn good theater but they won't understand what is going on."

"The Western theater is stale, falling, there's nothing happening in it. So I imagine they'll bring in black writers to put some energy, some juice, some spirit of blood into the theater."

The New Lafayette Theater, where since 1969 Bullins has concentrated on community endeavor and deliberately shunned appraisal by the white world, derives main support from $1,212,120 given in four grants by the Ford Foundation.

ITS 'EVOLUTIONARY'
Bullins today calls the New Lafayette evolutionary, rather than revolutionary, a pilot center in development of black artistry.

"The black people of this country were brought here and made to divest themselves of as much as the slave masters could make them, of their heritage. And from that experience over the past 400 years an indigenous black culture has grown up that has recognized black traits."

The purpose of the New Lafayette and similar groups "is to join those elements and structure them for the people."

HIGH BARRIER
Q. Is there an insuperable barrier for whites to understanding that culture?

A. "Yes. After you've read all my plays, all my essays and the things I've written about the plays, and all the interviews, and even seen some, a white person still would not understand what it was all about."

Q. Do you find that regrettable?

A. "Well, like the average black person would walk into a theater downtown. He wouldn't know what it was all about."

Q. Is there any worth in the black playwright trying to reach across?

A. "Reach across where? The black artist has so much to do in his own community, he could use up a hundred lifetimes."

Super-Test For Aged Mansion

CANTERBURY, England (AP) — A 400-year-old mansion near Caterbury is about to become the noisiest stately home in England.

Charlton Park, a 16th century manor with a 100-acre garden, is being turned into a giant pop-music auditorium.

Owner Michael Underwood, an army colonel who likes music, said he is planning to install camping grounds, mobile lavatories, restaurants, medical teams and a day and night movie house.

Trying To Ban Sale Of Beer

IRVING, Tex. (AP) — A suit by eight Irving residents has been filed against Texas Stadium Corp., the home of the Dallas Cowboys, alleging that alcoholic beverages are being sold in the stadium without voters approving it in a local option election.

The plaintiffs, Robert Gooding, James Scoggins, James Walker, Gene Morgan, Jerry Spencer, John Watson, Arthur Cox and Al Smith, seek a declaratory judgment.

The Dallas Cowboys Football Club Inc., the City of Irving, Irving Mayor R. Dan Matkin, the Dallas County Commissioners and Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin are named as defendants.

The plaintiffs want a commissioner court order and a city ordinance designating the land used for the Texas Stadium as "wet" to be declared unconstitutional.

They contend Irving voters have been denied their right to vote on the issue of whether alcoholic beverages should be sold in the formerly all-dry city.

Okays Grid Loan

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state has approved the borrowing of $9 million to help finance a new University of Kentucky football stadium at Lexington, 30 miles from here.

PEANUT BUTTER IS GREAT IN CANDY
Snowy Fudge, Saucepan Crunchies are proof

Holiday Candy

Children look forward to holiday bake days almost as much as Santa Claus and presents. Although cookies and candy will never take first place over Ole Saint Nick and his bagful of gifts, here are some recipe ideas sure to please the "little angels." This is, after all, the time of year for visions of sugar plums and hands full of sweets.

SNOWY FUDGE

1½ cups peanut butter
2 cups sugar
2-3 cup milk
1 cup marshmallow cream
1 tsp. vanilla
Cook sugar and milk to 234 degrees as indicated on a candy thermometer or until syrup when dropped into very cold water forms a soft ball which flattens on removal from water. Add other ingredients. Mix well and pour into a buttered 8 by 8 by 2 inch pan.

SAUCEPAN PEANUT BUTTER CRUNCHIES

1 cup crunchy peanut butter
2 cups sugar
1-3 cup cocoa
¼ cup butter
½ cup milk
3 cups quick oats, uncooked
2 tps. vanilla
Mix sugar and cocoa in a large saucepan. Add butter and milk. Bring to a rolling boil. Boil 2 minutes while stirring. remove from heat; add oats, peanut butter and vanilla. Mix thoroughly. Drop by teaspoons onto waxed paper. Cool. Makes 4 dozen.

SUGARPLUM BARS

2 tps. butter or margarine
1 cup crushed Quaker Life Cereal
1 3½-oz. can flaked or shredded coconut
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) butterscotch pieces
1 cup chopped pecans
1 15-oz. can sweetened condensed milk
Melt butter in 9-inch square baking pan. Sprinkle cereal evenly over butter. Layer coconut, chocolate pieces, butterscotch pieces and pecans over cereal. Pour milk evenly over all. Bake in 350 degree oven about 30 minutes. Chill. Cut into bars.

BUTTERSCOTCH BOULDERS

6 cups Quake cereal
½ cup chopped nutmeats
20 caramels
1 6-oz. pkg. (1 cup) butterscotch pieces.
2 tps. water
1 tsp. vanilla
Dash salt

Place cereal and nutmeats in large greased bowl. Melt caramels, butterscotch pieces and water in top of double boiler over boiling water, stirring occasionally until smooth. Stir in vanilla and salt. Pour mixture over cereal and nutmeats, stirring until evenly coated. With greased hands, shape to form 1½ inch balls. Chill. Makes 3 dozen.

QUICK AND EASY FUDGE

2 cups sugar
3 tps. butter
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup evaporated milk
½ cup miniature marshmallows
1½ cups (9 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tsp. vanilla
2-3 cup chopped pecans

In a 2 or 3-quart saucepan combine sugar, butter, salt and evaporated milk. Stirring constantly, bring mixture to a full rolling boil over medium heat. Continue boiling and stirring for a full 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add marshmallows, chocolate, vanilla and pecans. Stir vigorously or beat with spoon until marshmallows and chocolate are melted and smoothly blended. Turn into buttered 8-inch square pan. When candy is cold, cut into squares. Makes about 2 pounds.

GUMDROP TREES

6 cups puffed rice
¼ cup butter or margarine

4 cups miniature marshmallows

¼ tsp. green food coloring
1 cup cut-up gumdrops

Heat rice in shallow pan in 350 degree oven for 10 minutes. Place rice in large greased bowl. Melt butter and marshmallows in top of double boiler over boiling water, stirring occasionally until smooth. Stir in food coloring. Pour mixture over rice, stirring until coated evenly. Stir in gumdrops. With greased hands, shape to form Christmas trees. Top each with small gumdrop. Makes 10 trees.

HOLIDAY CANDIED CITRUS PEEL

3 cups citrus peel, cut into strips from:
4 to 5 medium oranges, or 6 medium lemons, or
2 medium to large grapefruit or
8 to 9 large tangerines
12 cups cold water
2½ cups sugar
½ cup honey
1¾ cups boiling water

To prepare peel, wash fruit; score peel into quarters. Remove sections of peel with fingers; cut into uniform strips about ¾ inch wide. Boil peel with 6 cups cold water uncovered for 10 minutes; drain and rinse. Repeat process with 6 cups fresh water. (Note, if you are preparing tangerine peel, omit second boiling.) In large saucepan combine 1½ cups sugar, honey and boiling water; bring to a boil and boil 1 minute. Add cooked, drained peel and briskly simmer until almost all of syrup has been absorbed, about 30 to 40 minutes. Stir frequently to avoid sticking. Transfer peel to colander; drain well, about 10 minutes. In large bowl, toss drained peel with remaining 1 cup sugar to coat well. Spread out on waxed paper to dry. Store in tightly covered container. Makes one pound.

Cookies, Christmas – They Go Together

What's Christmas without a full cookie jar? Kids and adults alike will enjoy your old family favorites, but try some new ideas this year and perk them up by shaping some of them into Christmas trees, snowmen or other holiday forms. And your little kitchen helpers can enjoy the fun of decorating them as well as eating them.

EGG NOG SUGAR COOKIES

1 cup butter
1½ cups sugar
1 egg
2 tps. vanilla
3 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 tsp. salt
½ tsp. baking powder

½ cup prepared egg nog
Cream butter, sugar, egg and vanilla together until light and fluffy. Resift flour with salt and baking powder. Blend into creamed mixture alternately with egg nog. Chill dough thoroughly. Roll about ¼ of the dough at a time on lightly floured board to about ¼ inch thickness; cut with floured cutters in fancy shapes. Place on lightly greased baking sheet. Bake in 375 degree oven about 8 minutes. Let cool a minute, then remove to wire racks to cool. Decorate with frosting and candied fruits if desired. Makes 4 to 6 dozen cookies, depending on size.

SELF TAUGHT MUSICIAN — Although she classifies herself as a beginner, Mrs. John Walls is learning to play the autoharp and hopes someday to be able to accompany her husband, who plays the guitar. The couple's son, Scott, 10 mos., hasn't developed much of an ear for music yet, but he likes the high notes and cries at the low notes.

Unique Recipes Spark Her Table Bill Of Fare

By BARBARA LORD

only two years and said she has to follow a cookbook for everything, but she tries to choose a variety of unique recipes. "I hope someday to be an excellent cook," continued Mrs. Walls, "but right now it's still a trial and error method. My instincts for adding and improvising aren't too good, but someday I'll be able to just get up in no time flat."

Mrs. Walls gets lots of practice in the kitchen. Her husband, an engineer at Cosden, comes home for lunch every day, so she has to have a variety of "quick" meals on hand. She prepares a larger meal every night.

The Walls were married two years ago in Houston. That's when she first started cooking and first discovered the enjoyment she found in it. She has a few "secret" recipes (which were passed on to her by relatives) which she makes for special occasions.

When time allows, Mrs. Walls likes sewing and various types of needlework. She is also teaching herself to play the autoharp so she can accompany her husband when he plays the guitar. She is taking a course in psychology at Howard County Junior College and plans to take Human Growth and Development next semester.

After Christmas, Mrs. Walls will begin oil and acrylic painting, specializing in modern and abstract art, because she thinks she can express herself better with that form. Other interests include bowling, and she hopes to learn to scuba dive which is her husband's favorite hobby.

"My time for extra activities has really dwindled since Scott was born," said Mrs. Walls. "There are so many things I want to do, but there's just not enough time to do them."

Walls has been scuba diving for 2 1/2 years, and has collected many pieces of coral and other sea items which decorate the Walls' home. He is also a "Mr. Fixit" around the house and enjoys carpentry work. Mrs. Walls said if anything needs fixing, he can do it.

Mrs. Walls was born in Texas City which is about the size of Big Spring. Walls was reared in Dallas, and the couple lived in Houston before moving here.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Better make plenty of these creamy appetizers for them to make a savory beginning to your most spectacular of holiday parties. Toast two-inch rounds of white bread on one side in the oven. Blend American blue cheese with equal parts of butter and spread on untoasted bread rounds. Top each with a spoonful of sauteed onion and mushroom mixture and toast in the oven just until the cheese begins to melt.

An interesting luncheon addition is made by floating a tablespoonful of crumbled American blue cheese on bowls of steaming soup just before serving. As the creamy, blue-marbled cheese begins to melt, it imparts a zesty flavoring to any creamed or meat stock soup.

Crumbled American blue cheese adds an interesting zip to your favorite deviled eggs recipe. Prepare these for a special or football buffet.

Blend 1/2 cup American blue cheese with 1/4 cup cottage cheese and 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish. Spread on thin slices of smoked salmon and roll up. Get into one-inch widths and ready them for the hors d'oeuvre tray with attractive picks.

Debra Buchanan Presented Scholarship At 4-H Congress

CHICAGO (AP) — Scholarships worth $3,400 went today to six 4-H Club members from Texas at the annual National 4-H Congress under way here.

Each was named a regional or national scholarship winner by the 4H national organization and the Cooperative Extension Service.

Winners of $700 scholarships were Roger Pinkerton of Plainview and Karl Keith Lewis, 17, of Port Neches.

Four youths received $500 scholarships. They were Melvin Hollas, 19, of Cameron; Debra Buchanan, 18, of Big Spring; Mary Francis Martinez, 18, of Ozona, and Linda S. Clever, 17, of San Angelo.

Pinkerton received his scholarship for experiments with herbicides.

Pinkerton is a freshman at Texas Tech and plans a career in agronomy. His oldest brother, John, an Army helicopter pilot, is a soil scientist graduate of Texas Tech.

The winner conducted his herbicide experiments in a greenhouse that he built on the family farm.

project. Lewis quickly enrolled and began building his skills. During the past year he has given 39 vaccinations, 35 immunizations, 87 wormings, trimmed the hooves of 23 cattle and sprayed 240 horses.

Lewis has served as a junior leader for three years, teaching younger club members how to care for animals. He also has earned many 4-H awards in other 4-H projects which included beef, dairy, garden, poultry, rifle, recreation, photography, dog care and training and range management.

Miss Spielter, a high school senior, has been a 4-H member, eight years. Her favorite projects have been clothing and the showing and breeding of sheep. She served as chairman of both county and district 4-H Councils and as a member of the state 4-H Councils.

Miss Martinez is in her sophomore year at Angelo State University, San Angelo, where she is majoring in education. As a junior leader, she worked with projects groups in foods, nutrition, clothing, consumer education, public speaking, home management and recreation. Christmas arrangements and decorations were displayed by Mrs. C. A. Hollingsworth of Lamesa, for the Rosebud Garden Club Tuesday at the YMCA.

Mrs. Hollingsworth is a national flower show judge, and she demonstrated ways to make attractive arrangements by using many ordinary household items and accenting them with pine cones, holly and paint.

Mrs. Jesse Crane Jr. presided, and Mrs. Odell Womack was elected new vice president. Plans were made for a Christmas decoration and baked goods sale Friday at Highland Center Mall. Hostesses were Mrs. Sam Kamm and Mrs. Paul Malone. Guests were Mrs. Hollingsworth, Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. Ruby Billings, Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, Mrs. H. T. Hansen, Mrs. Jack Irons and Mrs. John Bauta of Lamesa.

The women will meet Dec. 7 at the YMCA to make Christmas decorations for Big Spring State Hospital. The items will be taken to the hospital, and members will assist patients in decorating.

Home Purchasing Reasons Given

A survey conducted by the United States Savings and Loan League shows that the reasons most people buy homes have nothing to do with money.

The most common reasons for home ownership are to provide a better environment for children, to attain privacy, to have freedom to improve the property and to have more space, according to the league, whose members finance more home buyers than do any other financial institutions.

A LOVELIER YOU Many Beauty Aids Found In Kitchens

By MARY SUE MILLER

Don't panic when you run out of indispensable beauty aid just before an important engagement. In any such crisis, look in your kitchen cupboard or your medicine chest. Both offer adequate substitutes for many a missing item. As ideas:

Sugar water stands in for hairspray. That concoction curls our great-grandmothers' curls in place. The recipe calls for dissolving 1 tablespoon of granulated sugar in a cup of tepid water. You spray it on with a perfume atomizer.

Rose water, the kind used in cookies, makes a delightful, soothing skin fresher.

Mixed to a paste with hazel, almond meal forms an excellent facial mask. Simply smooth it on, lie down for 20 minutes, then remove with warm water. Or try honey — a light coat worked on the face with pressure action of the third and fourth finger.

Mineral oil doubles as makeup remover.

Chapped hands, elbows and knees respond to large dollops of warmed salad oil.

The strained juice of a lemon in a pint of warm water forms an astringent rinse for the skin and the hair after washing.

You may smile at the idea of homemade beauty treatments, but it's great to have a few handy for emergencies. Some of the ingredients are getting the nod from cosmetic science!

MARGARET DANA'S Consumer's Question-Box

Q. I would like to know if the reducing belt called "Tone-O-Matic" is really effective, instead of exercise, to keep muscles in shape and reducing weight or the size of the waistline. And is this thing safe?

A. In May, 1971, the Federal Trade Commission prohibited the company marketing the "Tone-O-Matic" weighted belts from misrepresenting that it is or can be effective as a substitute for exercise and in reducing weight or the waist measurement. The FTC charged that radio and TV commercials and printed advertising made these false claims. The FTC also stated that the belt is not safe for everyone and could physically injure some wearers.

Q. I have always heard that coffee, if it is drunk clear, has no calories. But I have noticed the last few jars I have bought of instant coffee say there are about three calories per teaspoon, making one cup of coffee. No other ingredients are mentioned. Is it true that plain coffee has calories?

A. Yes, the Coffee Information Center says that plain coffee per cup contains about three calories per serving, or five calories per eight-ounce cup. A coffee cup measure is generally considered to be five ounces. Coffee makers, when measured by "cups," are measured on the basis of five ounces per serving, which would be three calories per "cup" of five ounces.

Q. Recently I purchased a hat made of material which was labeled "45 per cent rabbit hair, 38 per cent polyamide, 25 per cent polyvinyl chloride." Can you tell me what the last two items are and whether they are harmful when worn in a head-covering?

A. They are not harmful when so used. Polyamide is the name given compounds formed by a process called "polymerization" of amino acids or by "condensation of diamines with dicarboxylic acids." What this means is the polyamides are basic fiber-forming substances for nylon. Polyvinyl chloride (PVC) is one of the useful plastic fibers with such strength and flexibility.

Q. Suddenly I am aware that my favorite grocery store has switched to packed vegetables, fruits, meats, etc., and has removed all scales which used to be available to the consumer to check for approximate weights. When I called them on it they said they would be glad to accompany me to the back and let me weigh things on their scales. But they seemed annoyed that I didn't blindly trust the store. Is there any law that requires a scale to be available to the buyer for general checking?

A. There is no one general Federal law covering the entire nation regarding the presence of scales for customer use. But localities differ. And so do store policies.

Increasingly, consumers are awakening to their own responsibilities in protecting their pocketbooks, and demanding that scales be available for their own checking. Many stores in many communities do have an ordinance on this, and the weights and measures inspectors back it up.

In your case, check with your local city Department of Weights and Measures (under city government, probably Department of Licenses and Inspections) and ask what the local law is. And make your demand known to store managers — and get your friends to join in letters to stores.

Q. With our second child just four months old, I have two questions which I need answered. (1) Just how safe are the seats for toddlers which fit on the back of an adult bike? If one type is safer than another, what should one look for in buying one? (2) Is there a truly safe car seat on the market? My husband seems to feel that all are dangerous.

A. The general safety rule in using a bike, for adults or children, is not to carry a passenger with the driver of the bike. Packages can safely be carried in a basket attached to the bike. But carrying a baby or small child in a seat attached to the bike could be dangerous under many types of road conditions. The driver of a bike today needs his whole attention on the road ahead, behind and beside him. Carrying a small child would divide his attention.

As for safe car seats, last spring the Federal Trade Commission issued a warning to parents that tests of certain car seats showed they provided no protection for a child in the event of a collision or sudden stop.

The Department of Transportation issued a safety standard for child seats for cars which became effective April 1, 1971. Date of manufacture must be labeled on every car seat now, and, while car seats made before April 1 are still being sold, they must be labeled as made before April 1. So your best bet is to look for a seat labeled after April 1. You can be reasonably sure it meets the new safety standard.

Liz Carpenter: 'Rip Off A Piece Of The Political Action'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Leslie Carpenter, former press secretary to Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, has told women to let the politicians know that women are issuing a declaration of political independence.

"We are tired of making the national caucus which was formed last summer. We intend to 'rip off' a piece of the political action for ourselves in 1972," she said. "Those who count women in can count on women. Those who count women out, can't count on us at all."

"We are going to leave you behind at the ballot box, nursing your boyhood insecurities. This is not a battle cry for revenge. It is a rallying cry for simple justice," she said. She said at the last national convention, the Texas Democratic delegation of 120 only had 13 women. The Republican delegation of 56 included 15 women. She urged the women to "let every party chairman know, let every governor and every candidate for governor know now — that today in Texas, women are issuing a declaration of independence."

Mrs. Carpenter said she had worked for "woman-power in politics" since, as a reporter, she covered Eleanor Roosevelt's press conferences 27 years ago. In an interview, Mrs. Carpenter said women in Texas comprise 51 per cent of the electorate, "but there are only two elected representatives — Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston and Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi, and a handful of women among Gov. Preston Smith's 1,200 appointees." "There is already momentum in Texas," she said, "to quit giving women lip service and make the political conventions truly representative. We want every precinct to have 50 per cent female representation, and we're ready to have a credentials fight to get it."

Wedding Held In Abilene

WESTBROOK (SC) — The wedding of Miss Neta Delaine Bassinger and Patrick Joseph Halton, both of Lubbock, was performed Nov. 25 in the Pioneer Drive Baptist Church, Abilene. Music was by Miss Jennifer Benton, vocalist, and Mrs. Ruby Faye Ross, pianist. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bassinger of Eldorado, formerly of Westbrook, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Halton of Waverly, N. Y.

Bridesmaids were Miss Judith Knight, El Paso; Miss Emma Lee Hill, Winters; and Miss Judy Sallee, Eldorado. Mrs. John Phillips of Big Spring was bridesmatron.

Arvid O. Peterson, Evanston, Ill., was best man, and ushers were Dale Geiger, Colorado City, and John Stanley Phillips, Big Spring. The groomsmen were Robert Geiger, Colorado City; John Phillips, Big Spring; and Capt. Munson Compton and Capt. Roger Krinsky, both of Abilene. Serving as flower girls were Lisa Love, Odessa, and Cathy Wallis, Big Spring.

The bride was attired in a formal Empire gown with white satin and lace, and embroidered lace trimmed the chapel train. She carried a bouquet of orchids and babies' breath.

The bride, a graduate of Hardin Simmons University, is a teacher in Lubbock. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Kansas, and the couple will move in January to Austin where he will study pharmacy at the University of Texas.

Prior to departure for a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the newlyweds were honored at a reception, where members of the house party were Mrs. Eldon Love, Mrs. Joe Wallis, Miss Ruth Strickland, Mrs. Dale Geiger, Mrs. James Shoemaker and Mrs. L. D. Jones.

Quotable Quotes

"I think the whole trouble with the world is that people are taught to expect — not react. After all these years of asking questions, everybody has missed the point — that there are no answers. The point is to raise the questions." — Comedy writer Marcia Jacobs, in an interview.

"Men have monthly rhythms too, although not much research has been done in this area since all the researchers are men. But it has been shown that men have pronounced four- and six-week mood cycles." — Gay Gaer Luce, a scientific writer who authored "Body Time."

"I was really inspired by the Indians' relationship to the land. They have a well thought out way of living in harmony with nature. We're all asking how to cope with nature today, and it seems to me the Indians had a few answers." — T.C. McLuhan, author of the book, "Touch the Earth."

"I'm very happy for all women and myself... I've been a liberated woman all my life." — Sally Reed, involved in a legal case which resulted in a Supreme Court ruling barring arbitrary discrimination against women by legislators everywhere in the nation.

"Television is fine but I want to make my appearances seem very special so I space them. You last longer." — Actress Mitzi Gaynor, in an interview.

"The present type of economic, political and social system in the United States makes it impossible for any type of justifiable prison system to be run in the U.S." — Kathleen Cleaver, wife of exiled Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, at a news conference.

Wedding Invitation Unlocks Israel's Secret 'Lavon Affair'

TEL AVIV (AP) — A wedding invitation to Premier Golda Meir has unlocked one of Israel's oldest and darkest intelligence secrets — the "Lavon affair."

The bride is an Israeli jailed in Egypt 17 years ago for her role in the Lavon affair — a bungled attempt at sabotage that sent political shocks throughout Israel.

The affair, named for Pinhas Lavon, the minister of defense in 1954, toppled a government, split the dominant Socialist Labor party and started Israel's ouster. David Ben-Gurion, on the road to political limbo.

For years the incident was cloaked in secrecy — at least in Israel — by military censorship. Some details filtered through to the Israeli public from foreign press reports.

"It was sheer frustration," recalls an Israeli journalist. "We could write about the major political results of the affair, but could not write about the affair itself. It was like trying to paint a picture leaving the center blank."

The affair might have remained secret had it not been for a remark made by Mrs. Meir earlier this month. A newsman overheard her say she would attend the Nov. 23 wedding of Marcelle Ninio, 41.

Miss Ninio, imprisoned by the Egyptians for 15 years, was a key figure in the affair and her release and return to Israel had been secret.

Did Mrs. Meir's off-chance remark mean the story could now be told?

The censors considered and finally relented. The newspapers gleefully recounted the details under big headlines.

The story of the Lavon affair went like this:

In 1954, two developments in Jerusalem. Britain was preparing to leave the Suez Canal zone — a sure sign Israeli shipping would be barred from the waterway. And the Americans were making friendly overtures to Cairo.

In July someone — and it was the identity of this someone — that caused the later uproar — ordered an Israeli espionage apparatus in Egypt into action. The 11-member team, mainly Egyptian Jews, were told to place bombs at British and American installations in Cairo and Alexandria. The ring formed three years earlier, reluctantly agreed.

The Israeli thinking: Egyptian extremists would be blamed, the Americans would be offended, and the British would conclude the situation in Egypt was still too tense requiring a continued presence in the canal zone.

The plot failed. The ring was broken. Two of the spies were executed and one committed suicide in prison. The others drew prison terms ranging from seven years to life.

The Israeli intelligence colonel who led the group, Avraham Dar, alias John Darling, escaped from Egypt shortly before the arrests.

Another man, known only by his code name, "Paul Frank," managed to escape Egypt after the arrests.

The question asked in the higher echelons in Jerusalem at the time: Who gave the order?

Ben-Gurion, who had resigned at the end of 1953, returned to the premiership. Lavon resigned.

The stubborn Ben-Gurion refused to let the matter rest. In 1950, a ministerial committee exonerated Lavon, who had always claimed another man gave the order.

If Lavon was innocent, asked Ben-Gurion, who was culpable? He demanded another probe, this time a judicial inquiry. His Cabinet refused and Ben-Gurion resigned again, never to return to power.

Wounds opened in this imbroglio have yet to heal more than a decade later.

What happened to the dramatic personas?

Lavon, who entered private business, has been seriously ill in Tel Aviv.

Miss Ninio and three fellow Israeli agents also held in Egyptian prisons were secretly exchanged after the 1967 Middle East war for 4,481 Egyptian prisoners of war.

"Paul Frank" went from Egypt to Germany and in 1959 he was summoned home to face a secret trial. The only charge against him that stuck was "unauthorized possession of certain documents," the nature of which was not disclosed.

He was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment and only freed this year after appeals for a retrial or pardon.

He plans to write a book about the Lavon affair.

The other survivors are living normal lives in Israel. They were recognized as Israeli emissaries and were eligible for government pay, which included combat allowance for time spent in prison.

Miss Ninio, who has been studying at Tel Aviv University, is marrying a retired lieutenant colonel, Ed Boger, an employee of the Israel Citrus Marketing Board.

The Lavon affair is not likely to be forgotten. If "Paul Frank" — his real name still is secret — is permitted to publish the full account of the affair history may be replayed.

continued presence in the canal zone.

The plot failed. The ring was broken. Two of the spies were executed and one committed suicide in prison. The others drew prison terms ranging from seven years to life.

The Israeli intelligence colonel who led the group, Avraham Dar, alias John Darling, escaped from Egypt shortly before the arrests.

Another man, known only by his code name, "Paul Frank," managed to escape Egypt after the arrests.

The question asked in the higher echelons in Jerusalem at the time: Who gave the order?

Ben-Gurion, who had resigned at the end of 1953, returned to the premiership. Lavon resigned.

The stubborn Ben-Gurion refused to let the matter rest. In 1950, a ministerial committee exonerated Lavon, who had always claimed another man gave the order.

If Lavon was innocent, asked Ben-Gurion, who was culpable? He demanded another probe, this time a judicial inquiry. His Cabinet refused and Ben-Gurion resigned again, never to return to power.

Wounds opened in this imbroglio have yet to heal more than a decade later.

What happened to the dramatic personas?

Lavon, who entered private business, has been seriously ill in Tel Aviv.

Miss Ninio and three fellow Israeli agents also held in Egyptian prisons were secretly exchanged after the 1967 Middle East war for 4,481 Egyptian prisoners of war.

"Paul Frank" went from Egypt to Germany and in 1959 he was summoned home to face a secret trial. The only charge against him that stuck was "unauthorized possession of certain documents," the nature of which was not disclosed.

He was sentenced to 12 years imprisonment and only freed this year after appeals for a retrial or pardon.

He plans to write a book about the Lavon affair.

The other survivors are living normal lives in Israel. They were recognized as Israeli emissaries and were eligible for government pay, which included combat allowance for time spent in prison.

Miss Ninio, who has been studying at Tel Aviv University, is marrying a retired lieutenant colonel, Ed Boger, an employee of the Israel Citrus Marketing Board.

The Lavon affair is not likely to be forgotten. If "Paul Frank" — his real name still is secret — is permitted to publish the full account of the affair history may be replayed.

Soft Fashions Change Jewelry

Leg-of-mutton sleeves distinguish a soft '40s look dress for fall and winter. Forgive, please. It's what's known as a basic dress — meant to be dressed up or down via the addition or subtraction of jewelry. It has long sleeves and a plain neckline that circles the neck. The plain skirt is slightly flared. It comes in all basic colors but, to be perfectly safe, black is best. You add bracelets, necklace or pendant jewelry and matching earrings to look dressed up.

Pantsuits Still Fashionably 'In'

Nifty pantsuit is finished with self-fabric ban. No. 3887 comes in sizes 10 to 18. Size 12 (bust 34) takes 3 3/4 yards of 54-inch fabric. No. 3336 is same pantsuit in sizes 12 1/2 to 22 1/2. Size 14 1/2 (bust 37) takes 3 3/4 yards of 54-inch fabric.

Singapore In Middle Of Anti-Pollution Drive

By BRIAN GOMEZ
SINGAPORE (AP) — Singapore is in the midst of an anti-pollution campaign.

Prime Minister Lee Kuan Yew makes it quite clear he expects filthy canals and rivers to be sparkling clean within a few years.

"No clean rain water should be contaminated by being mixed up with dirt, filth or noxious chemicals... fish, prawns and marine life and vegetation will return to shores, rivers and canals," he promises.

BIRDS, NATURE

That by and large is the reward for the two million islanders — a vision of a healthy, green environment where birds and nature alike can be appreciated. Occasionally clean homes and shops win awards and a glare of publicity.

There's little doubt Lee will succeed. Spotless streets bear testimony: $166 fine, equivalent to a worker's two-month salary, faces anyone caught throwing litter. The law has been in force for three years. The average smoker now almost unhesitatingly walks to the nearest trash can instead of stamping out his cigarette butt on the street. There are hardly any more prosecutions.

AUTO CRACKDOWN

Thousands of motorists, among the worst air polluters, have yet to be conditioned to the anti-pollution idea although the crackdown on smoky exhausts got under way in early 1965. Fines were raised last year from $6 to $16. Stiffer penalties are contemplated.

The cleaning up of streams and canals will be more difficult. The Singapore River, for example, has been described as being "in a septic state of pollution." Fish float in during the high tide and die before

ONCE A SMUGGLER...

CARE Program Prodding Bedouins Into 20th Century

By MICHAEL GROSS
TEL AVIV (AP) — What do you do with 70,000 nomadic Bedouins whose chief source of income is smuggling anything from drugs to transistor radios across the rugged wastes of the Sinai Desert?

That was the question facing the Israeli occupation authorities after the 1967 Mideast War had cleared the Sinai.

The Israelis turned to CARE (Cooperative for American Relief Everywhere) the non-profit, non-political relief agency, better known for its work in feeding and rebuilding the remnants of post-World War II Europe.

Working with the Jerusalem government, CARE devised a program aimed at prodding the Bedouins into the 20th century.

As primitive as the sun-baked desert in which they live, the Bedouins for centuries have existed under tribal law, ignoring the various rulers of Sinai. As one observer put it:

"The only job the Bedouin ever knew was smuggling and they specialized in drugs."

"They carried the aromatic hashish on camel back from the Amman to the markets and smoke houses of Egypt," said David E. Jack, CARE's newly appointed mission director in Israel. "We didn't want to put them on the dole."

CARE, and the Israelis, had to find a unique and flexible way of building up a viable economy.

The scheme they devised is called "Food For Work." It entitles every Sinai Bedouin to a monthly CARE food ration in exchange for salaried work on a wide-ranging number of desert projects geared to benefit the Bedouins themselves.

The labor force is paid the equivalent of 60 cents a day for work on roads, building and repairing schools, clinics and water systems, and agriculture.

"Some of the projects have failed," said Brooklyn-born George Menegay, assistant CARE mission director. "For example, the Bedouins weren't interested in certain types of planting, or in 'fishing' projects usually suggested by the government."

"Our latest work project," said Jack, "is a plan to change the entire ecological balance of the desert by planting eucalyptus trees to hold back the constant encroachment of the dunes on roads and fields."

While CARE "ribbles" its food rations, and sets up schools, the Israelis have set up a medical program. A mobile clinic visits each of the more than 75 villages every week.

"The Israelis have even brought in helicopters to fly sick or injured villagers to hospitals in Israel," said Menegay.

CARE's food bill — paid for by donations by Americans and Canadians — was $1.63 million for operations in Sinai from November, 1967, through 1971.

An average of 82,500 rations were distributed in Sinai alone. CARE also operates programs in the occupied Gaza Strip and the West Bank. These were initiated under the former Egyptian and Jordanian authorities.

The Bedouins' "CARE Package" includes 29 pounds of wheat flour, vegetable oil and two types of high protein blend: corn-soya-milk blend, and wheat-soya blend, to offset protein deficiencies.

The ration is supplemented by ice, sugar and tea from the Israelis, and occasional CARE extras such as soap and coffee.

Distribution is handled by 30 local CARE employees.

"Only about one per cent of our rations are resold to local markets," says Jack, adding: "The Israelis are fast to confiscate any CARE goods found on local grocers' shelves."

As for smuggling, the CARE officials admit it can't be stopped completely. "But the Israelis keep a pretty tight rein," explained Menegay, "because they know that any man who crosses into Egypt can very easily bring back a mine or a gun."

Scientists Are Humanizing Earth's Prehistoric Beings

By KENNETH L. WHITING
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Prehistoric beings who roamed Africa two or three million years ago may have been more human and less apelike than believed earlier.

Most scientists hold that such specimens as Mrs. Ples and the Taung child, which are classified as Australopithecus, were simple creatures with an IQ little brighter than that of a gorilla or chimpanzee. They are classified as "hominid," or members of the family of man, however.

Fossils found at Makapansgat, near the town of Politeersrus some 160 miles north of Johannesburg provide evidence that Australopithecus may have been a manufacturer and user of tools, says researcher Brian Maguire.

COMPLETES STUDY

Working at Johannesburg's Bernard Price Institute for Palaeontological Research, Maguire has completed a 10 year study of materials dug from Makapansgat.

Along with Australopithecus fossil remains, Maguire collected thousands of stone fragments which, he contends, give evidence of having been made and used as tools.

The making of tools is not usually linked with the lower animals. While chimps will use tools, even these highly developed primates have never been credited with making them.

NO TOOLS

Until recently it was taken for granted the apemen of southern Africa were not makers of stone tools. Prof. F. Clark Howell, a United States anthropologist, wrote in 1966: "If two-leggedness does depend on tool use, it stands to reason that Australopithecus, who was unquestionably two-legged, must have been a tool user. It would be nice to be able to confirm this by producing some chipped stone artifacts from the same strata but here we are stymied. Experts searched for stone tools to go with Australopithecus for years but did not find a single one."

Maguire says they have been found, but just not recognized as tools by scientists.

VERY PRIMITIVE

"To the conventional archaeologists such stone tools should be obviously flaked, usually into some conventional or readily recognizable form. The tools I have found are much more primitive and evidence of flaking is minimal." They are nevertheless fashioned by hand, Maguire maintains. Natural circumstances cannot explain their features, neither the nature of the damage nor the endless repetition of certain basic shapes.

Flu Epidemics May Break Out

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The National Center for Disease Control (CDC) warns that outbreaks of flu are likely to reach epidemic proportions this winter.

The CDC reported the chances of an epidemic are high because of the relatively few cases of flu reported last year. The center said heavy flu incidence appears to come in alternate years.

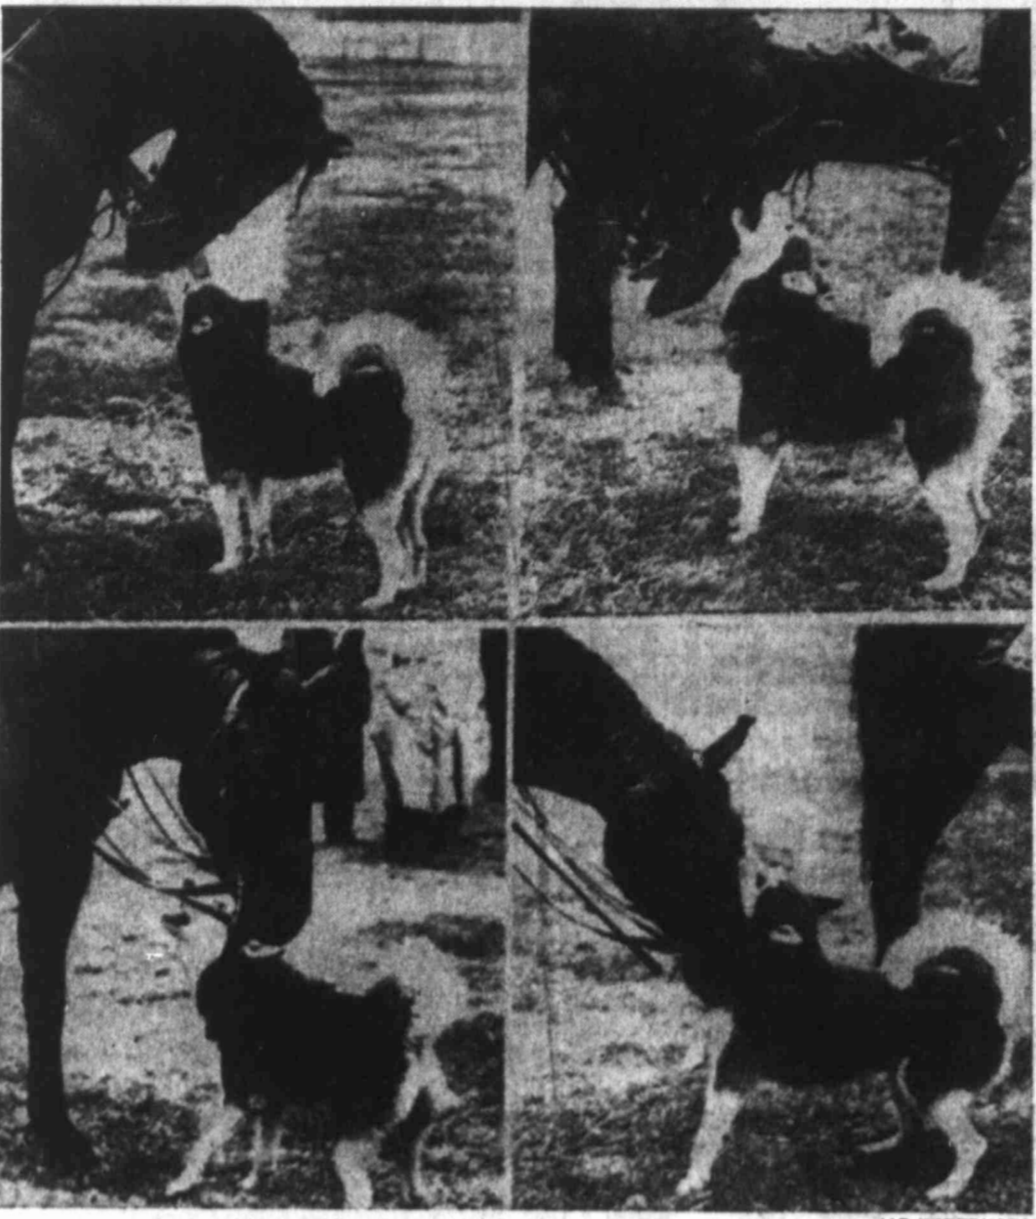

The infection, a CDC spokesman said, probably will be most intense in heavily populated areas and will be regional rather than nationwide in scope.

The most virulent strains of influenza at the present time are Hong Kong A-2 and Hong Kong B, the center said.

Sir Walter's Book Sells For $62,500

LONDON (AP) — A book in the handwriting of Sir Walter Raleigh was sold for $62,500 at a Sotheby's auction Tuesday.

The book was written during Raleigh's detention in the Tower of London 1604-1608. It contains notes for Raleigh's "History of the World," with 13 maps including 19 in color as well as a poem about Queen Elizabeth I.

JUST HORSING AROUND — A playful husky pup—name unknown—who frequents the Ellipse near the White House finds a playmate Monday in the horse of a U.S. park policeman. He gives the horse, "Olympia," a kiss, gets across his message in animal talk, and then begins to frolic with the obliging mount of Park Policeman F. C. Fahr.

LOOK AT BOOKS From Magic Nanny To Monkey Friend

FRIEND MONKEY. By P. L. Travers. Harcourt, Brace, $6.95.

Yes, this is the same P. L. Travers, an English woman, who wrote "Mary Poppins" and its sequels, about an English nanny with magical gifts. Mary has been an immensely popular character with young readers over the years.

But don't assume that the author has written just another "kid book." Her chronicle of Monkey's adventures has some children in it, but the main characters are adults, and you might call this a novel for "children of all ages," including those with children of their own.

The time is 1897. Monkey happens to get aboard a sailing vessel headed for London, and there he is taken into the home of a clerk in a shipping firm, Alfred Linnet. The Linnet family makes him their pet, despite his mischievous ways.

A fire at the Linnet house results in their moving in with Miss Brown-Potter, a remarkable middle-aged spinster who in her time has been an African explorer a woman who can cope with any situation without losing her cool. Other members of her household are Stanke, Livingstone Fan, a black boy she had brought back from Africa; a cockatoo named Louis; a badger named Tinker and a dog called Badger.

A key episode comes when Louis, Monkey and Stanley delay the huge parade celebrating Queen Victoria's diamond jubilee, and all sorts of complications ensue.

The characters are somewhat Dickensian, including the supposed villain of the piece, a Professor McWhirter, who seems bent upon stealing Monkey and selling him to a pet shop. The story comes to an amusing climax when everyone sails off to Monkey's original home.

Partly fantasy, partly unbridled imagination, with touches of whimsy, this book defies the usual classifications and emerges as a refreshing tale — seemingly naive, but really wise and war like.
