THREATEN TO DESTROY PAKISTANI JETLINER

Air Pirates Demanding Medicine

PARIS (AP) — Air pirates seized a Pakistani International Airlines jetliner today and threatened to destroy it and all aboard until French authorities began to give way to ransom demands for 20 tons of medicine for Bengali refugees.

After five hours of negotiations, two men wearing Red Cross armbands began unloading cases of medicine from a small pickup truck parked alongside the airliner and carrying them into the big jet at Orly Airport. As they did, seven passengers, six adults and an infant left the aircraft.

The French government had acceded in the face of the hijackers' threats. Although there was no official announcement, a fleet of trucks bearing more than a ton of penicillin and anticholera vaccine were dispatched through heavy traffic to the airport.

The plane was en route from London to Pakistan.

The airline's London office said the hijackers first ordered the jet to Beirut, Lebanon.

Orly police said 28 persons were aboard, but the airline in London reported 16 passengers and 6 crewmen.

The hijackers seized the plane in the name of Bangla Desh, Pakistani guerrilla movement.

The Pasteur Institute, a national research and inoculation center in Paris, announced that it had sent a consignment of anticholera vaccine to Orly.

Calling themselves representatives of 10 million Bengali refugees who have fled from East Pakistan to India, the hijackers warned police to stay away from the four-engine Boeing 720B jetliner and said any action that could "look like intervening" would lead to the plane's destruction.

From their voices, heard on a control tower radio, and their written style, police assumed the hijackers represented a segment of the French population which has given support to the Bangla Desh guerrilla war, aimed at turning East Pakistan into an autonomous state.

About 200 riot troops formed a security cordon some distance from the plane, parked with its red cockpit light flashing 50 yards from the main terminal. All vehicles were cleared from the area, but regular air traffic continued.

The police said the 28 persons aboard included six crew members and 22 passengers. It was not known if the hijackers were included in the passenger total.

The Bangla Desh separatist movement is seeking to sever East Pakistan from West Pakistan and form an independent state.

SNOWMOBILE — A family in the town of Brainard, N.Y., got together after the recent 22-inch snowfall in the capital area, and built themselves this automobile out of the snow. The snow carved vehicle will probably last until spring, and is a full scale replica of cars out of the thirties.

Wholesale Prices Continue To Climb

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices rose one-tenth of one per cent last month before the freeze ended, entirely due to a rise in farm products not subject to government control, the government said today.

The closely watched industrial commodities index actually decreased slightly but wholesale prices of consumer finished goods, closely comparable to those that make up a Consumer Price Index, rose two-tenths of one per cent.

The over-all rise of one-tenth of one per cent, which the Bureau of Labor Statistics said was unchanged when adjusted for seasonal variations, brings the whole price index to 114.5 per cent of 1967 levels, which is 3.2 per cent higher than November of last year.

This means that a cross-section of goods that cost $10 at wholesale in 1967 cost $11.45 last month.

The rise in wholesale prices follows declines of three-tenths of one per cent in September and one-tenth of one per cent in October, figured on an unadjusted basis. When corrected for seasonal fluctuations, wholesale prices declined four-tenths of one per cent in September but rose one-tenth of one per cent in October.

The industrial commodities index, considered a key measure of inflationary pressure, decreased one-tenth of one per cent on an unadjusted basis, but showed no change when corrected for normal seasonal variations.

On an unadjusted basis, farm products rose eight-tenths of one per cent, the bureau said. This group almost exactly coincides with raw agricultural products which were exempt from price controls during the freeze.

The bureau said practically all of the over-all increase in wholesale prices was due to increases for raw agricultural commodities. It also said that prices used to calculate the November Wholesale Price Index were gathered entirely before the freeze ended at 12:01 a.m., Nov. 14, and so do not show the effect of what administration officials say may turn out to be a bulge of price increases following the loosening of controls.

Jobless Rate Bounces Back To 6 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — The unemployment rate jumped back up to 6 per cent in November even as the number of working Americans rose to a record high of 80 million, the government said today.

While total employment rose, many young adults lost their jobs, helping push up the number of job seekers to 4.8 million.

This is an increase of 210,000, seasonally adjusted, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

There were unemployment increases in virtually every category except for nonwhites, which declined markedly to 9.3 per cent from October's eight-year high of 10.7 per cent.

Joint Flight Agreement

MOSCOW (AP) — American and Soviet scientists plan to sign an agreement on a joint manned space flight within the next two months, a U.S. Embassy official disclosed today.

Tech said the agreement apparently would provide for separate launchings of Soviet and American spacecraft, which would then link up in outer space.

"The fact that they were discussing the technical compatibility of the hardware — the actual parts of the two spacecraft that would have to fit — would mean a linkup," Tech said.

Gilruth came to Moscow with a party of 20, mostly space engineers. They plan to stay in the Soviet Union until next Tuesday.

Plans for a Soviet-American space flight apparently were first discussed in detail during the second conference of Russian and American space officials in Houston last June.

A statement issued at the close of that session said that a study of how to test compatible docking systems "would be based on the premise that the first such experiment might be the docking of an Apollo spacecraft with a manned orbital scientific station of the Salyut type."

It added: "A subsequent experiment might be docking of manned spacecraft of the Soyuz type with an orbital scientific station of the Skylab type."

Fiery Crash Claims Two

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — A fiery crash of a loaded gasoline truck and a car on a rainswept stretch of Texas 31 killed two persons Thursday.

Alma Terry Burris, 29, and C. D. McCarrell, both of Tyler, died in the collision two miles east of here.

Officers said the car driven by Mrs. Burris veered onto the wrong side of the highway and collided with the tanker operated by McCarrell, who was headed the other direction.

The vehicles locked together and travelled 152 feet before they broke free and landed in ditches on opposite sides of the road.

McCarrell was trapped as flames enveloped his transport, carrying 2,100 gallons of gasoline. Pennco Distributing Co. of Tyler owned the truck.

Pakistani Warplanes Rip Three Airfields

By The Associated Press

Pakistani warplanes attacked three airfields in western India today, an Indian spokesman reported. The Indian capital, New Delhi, went dark in an unexpected air raid warning but there was no sign of an attack.

The Indian spokesman said one Pakistani air attack was against Srinagar, capital of Kashmir, a territory long in dispute between India and Pakistan.

AIR ATTACKS
The other air attacks were carried out against Amritsar in western Punjab and at Pathankot, also in Punjab, the spokesman reported.

He added that the attacks were under way as he spoke and had no details of them.

Sirens sounded in New Delhi and air raid wardens ran from house to house warning residents to take cover.

"This is no practice drill, ladies and gentlemen," the spokesman told reporters.

Earlier in the day, the Indians reported Pakistani air strafing of the airport at Agartala in northeast India for the second straight day. Informants said Indian troops had crossed into East Pakistan near Agartala on Thursday and that the new Pakistani air attack was an attempt to blunt the Indian advance.

The three cities the Indians claimed had come under air attack are 1,000 miles or more away from East Pakistan, the center point of the conflict up to now.

Srinagar is about 200 miles north of New Delhi. Pathankot is about 150 miles north and slightly west of the capital and Amritsar is 120 miles to the northwest and only 10 miles from the border of West Pakistan.

Pakistani jets strafed Agartala airport in northeast India today for the second straight day, an Indian military spokesman said. Authoritative sources in New Delhi said Indian forces had crossed the border of East Pakistan near Agartala following the first attack Thursday, and the attack on the airport today apparently was an attempt to blunt the Indian advance.

HO, HO, HO, SANTA'S HERE

Santa Claus was scheduled to be in Big Spring at 2:30 p.m. today. He was to follow a short parade route in his sleigh, pulled by a white pony, and stop at the courthouse square to visit with the children of Big Spring.

Santa was to give candy and balloons to his friends. His appearance was sponsored by the merchants group of the Chamber of Commerce.

Christmas Gift Coupons In Herald

The special Christmas gift coupon promotion sponsored by The Herald starts today with a total of more than $500 in prizes being offered by at least 25 merchants.

Area stores have coupons in The Herald that can be used for drawings to be held at each store. Dec. 20. The coupons must be turned in at each store, but the winner does not have to be present for the drawings.

The winners will be announced Dec. 22 in The Herald. Prizes are worth from $10 to as much as $65.

Holdup Attempt

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — A gunman accosted 60-year-old Cliff Brady Thursday while he was working in a service station and told him, "Give it to me." Brady promptly belted the gunman in the mouth, knocking him down. When the assailant got up, Brady said, he knocked him down again. This time the gunman crawled to his feet and fled. Police said all that was lost was a little skin from Brady's knuckles.

CHEER FUND ALIVE, WELL

The Christmas Cheer Fund stayed alive today with a couple of fine gifts from friends who have helped through the years.

Because the toy repair program has become impractical (due to many plastic toys), a new approach to Christmas remembrance to the needy is being followed this year, and it will require more financial support. WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill cutting taxes $15.8 billion over the next three years and postponing beyond 1972 the hard-fought issue of tax financing for presidential campaigns apparently is on its way to enactment.

A Senate-House conference finished fashioning the measure Thursday, making a deep concession to President Nixon's opposition—backed by a veto threat—to the dollar checkoff campaign financing feature.

REPEAL RIGHT
The White House strongly implied Nixon would sign the bill, but reserved the right to seek repeal or some other means to prevent the campaign-checkoff provision from going into effect.

The provision would allow individuals to contribute $1 to a presidential campaign fund by checking a box on their income tax returns.

The conference committee bill would give Nixon essentially what he sought in tax changes designed to stimulate the economy.

But it is a blow to Democratic hopes that the checkoff plan they devised could yield their deficit-plagued party $20.4 million for the 1972 campaign.

The conference voted to postpone the checkoff until 1976. And even for future elections the actual disbursing of the funds would require appropriation legislation by Congress, which could be subject to presidential veto.

For individuals, the bill would mean an extra $25 personal exemption this year, an extra $50 next year.

For low-income persons, the special minimum deduction would be boosted next year from $1,000 to $1,300.

The excise tax on automobiles and light trucks would be repealed, an average saving of $200 for car buyers and a stimulus to the big-employing automobile industry.

Industry generally would benefit from a revised investment credit, permitting a 7 per cent tax writeoff for spending on productive equipment.

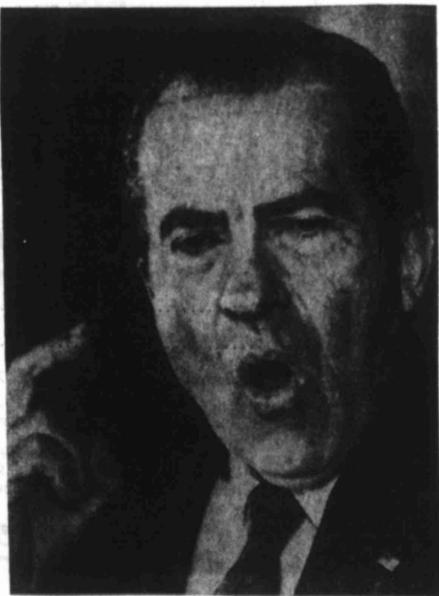

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee offered the compromise on campaign checkoff.

VETO BRAG
Mills told newsmen afterward he was not convinced the House would pass the bill in its initial form and was convinced Nixon would veto it.

A veto, he said, would be devastating to the economy, since all the tax provisions would be in doubt for months.

Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin, senior Republican member of the Ways and Means Committee, denounced the compromise as "monstrous gimmickry" and said an effort still might be made to kill it on the House floor.

But others on both sides of the controversy predicted the House and Senate will approve it.

NIXON MAKES A POINT — President Nixon delivers an address to more than 4,000 persons at the closing session of the White House Conference on Aging Thursday in Washington, Nixon called for a "new national attitude toward older people" and said he will seek an additional $115 million for programs benefitting senior citizens.

VOTE FOR SCROOGE VOTE FOR SANTA CLAUS

CHRISTMAS CAMPAIGN — These are the posters going up on Capitol Hill as the Congressional Staff Club, in a fundraising campaign for charity, seeks votes — at $1 apiece — for either Ebenezer Scrooge or Santa Claus in a mock election for an at-large seat in the House of Representatives.

Pros Determined To Seat Christmas Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capitol Hill's political pros are openly buying votes in a wild Christmas campaign pitting a haunted penny-pincher against a bearded toymaker.

Posters are proliferating, committees are mapping political strategy, charges are flying among liberals and conservatives, and the absentee candidates are issuing statements through dummy addresses.

Each voter receives a badge and is asked to explain his stance to others who are in turn urged to cast their own ballots for the candidate of their choice.

Sources reliably close to the North Pole said Scrooge is seeking big labor votes on a reform platform, but the Claus forces point to Scrooge's early anti-labor stance.

that the Christmas spirit is a warm and wonderful light that should stay lit all year long. On the other hand, 'Bah, humbug!' still says a lot today.

EARLY FAVORITE

It's a mock campaign for an at-large seat in the House, matching:

—Underdog Ebenezer Scrooge, a wealthy English businessman who gained considerable repute following a sudden personality transformation allegedly prompted by ghosts.

—Early favorite, Santa Claus, a far North manufacturer and world-wide distributor of toys to youngsters who heed their parents.

According to the first day's tabulations of the $1 votes being solicited by the Congressional Staff Club, Scrooge leaped into an initial lead but was quickly overtaken by a big batch of ballots bought by Claus backers. By Christmas, all money will go to charity.

Bangs Bank Sentences

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Four men convicted of robbing the First State Bank at Bangs, Tex., were assessed 25-year sentences by U.S. District Court Judge Joe Estes Thursday.

The four—Thomas D. Jenkins, James R. Sikes, Joseph E. Mashburn, and Royce J. Sanders Jr.—were convicted Nov. 18 of taking $21,000 from the bank in June of last year.

COMPLAINT

The Claus advisory committee, meanwhile, denied reports that airline pilots had filed a confidential complaint about potential mid-air collisions with frequently stopping, animal-drawn air vehicles.

Through separate statements of candidacy, the contenders provided these appeals for votes:

Claus—"I sincerely feel that the House of Representatives could use my experience and my philosophy, not just on Dec. 25 but throughout the entire year... I think America needs today a spirit of unselfishness, a touch of kindness, a little bit of brotherhood and a lot more love for all mankind."

Scrooge—"I realize that I am considered to be stingy and mean, but I learned long ago

To Seek Normal Ties With China

TOKYO (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York said today that it is important for the United States to seek normal ties with Communist China, but the key to East-West stability lies in the American relationship with Japan.

Lindsay, appearing at the Foreign Correspondents Club, said that "whatever the United States does in respect to China will intimately and closely affect the stability and welfare of Japan."

Lindsay arrived in the world's largest city after attending the National League of Cities conference in Honolulu. The mayor, who will spend four days here, said he was particularly interested in learning about Japan's strict gun laws.

Montana Warden To Be Second In Command Of Texas Prisons

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana warden James Estelle Jr., 40, is going to Texas to take over as assistant director of the Texas Department of Corrections at Huntsville.

The California penologist took over Montana State Prison two years ago in the wake of political intrigue, charges of prisoner abuse and in which top prison officials were fired.

He resigned here Thursday, effective Jan. 31, but not without evidence of regret.

"The two years spent as warden of Montana State Prison have been the most gratifying of my career," Estelle said.

He praised the staff at the institution, saying it is "a good one by anyone's standards and I am confident that their commitment to corrections will be my successor's greatest asset, as it has been mine."

The Montana prison currently houses 276 inmates, down 102 from the 373 incarcerated in 1969 when Estelle arrived. The ancient, gray-walled facility was started at the Southwestern Montana town of Deer Lodge in 1869, five years before Montana became a territory and 20 years before it became a state.

Estelle said he has been impressed by Montana's willingness "to deal decisively and effectively with her correctional problems. This has been true from the governor's office through concerned citizens of the state."

Earlier this year, the Montana Legislature appropriated $1 million for a new facility—provided that federal funds of $3 million could be obtained. Hopes for the federal aid, however, are now extremely dim.

Estelle had a good word for his treatment by the news media of Montana. "They have been most fair in coverage of our efforts at the prison," he said. "The dignity, attitude and accuracy of their reporting has been outstanding."

Estelle's active penology career began in 1952 when he served three years as a correctional officer at California's maximum-security prison at Folsom.

For the next four years he was in the adult parole division, working as a field parole agent in northeastern California.

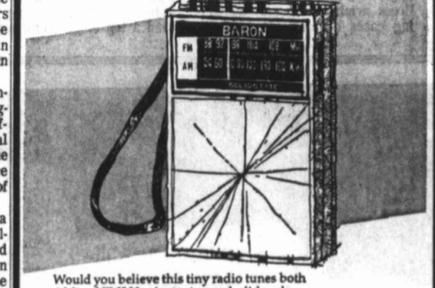

He then put in 1½ years in the state's Medical Facility, then returned to Folsom as a lieutenant.

NEW JOB

In commenting on his new job, Estelle said: "The Texas Department is one of the few large systems that has managed to maintain effective control and discipline while at the same time has offered every inmate an opportunity for self-improvement and resocialization."

Laborer Accused In Slayings Freed

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Everett Clinton Harris, 36, freed last Monday from jail, was free today of all charges against him in connection with the slaying of a young Mesquite man. Harris was regarded as a suspect, also, in the slaying of the man's wife and a teen-age girl.

Dist. Atty. Larry Miller of Hunt County said Thursday, "Based upon the evidence that has been presented to this office at this time, there is insufficient evidence to seek a grand jury indictment."

Harris was charged in the shooting death of Forrest Covey, 22. Covey vanished with his wife, Jena, 19, from the Mesquite drive-in grocery where Mrs. Covey worked. Their bodies were found in a barn at Quinlan near where Harris and his widowed mother live.

Susan Darlene Shaw, 16, vanished from the doughnut shop where she worked in the same general area from where the Coveys disappeared. Her body was found full of bullet holes at Lake Ray Hubbard.

Dropping of charges against Harris, however, does not preclude grand jury action at some later date in the event there is new evidence, Miller said.

Plans for an examining trial requested by Harris' lawyer were dropped immediately after Miller's statement.

Harris, a construction worker, was held without bond since Oct. 27. Dallas police questioned him also but never filed any charges.

Five persons had identified Harris as the man they saw in the Mesquite neighborhood from where the dead persons had disappeared and near the site where Covey's bodies were found.

Harris has maintained his innocence throughout the investigation and said he hoped his arrest "might help the police catch whoever did these killings."

Fight Over Butz Will Jar Loose Cash For Farmers?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey predicts the commotion around the fight to prevent Earl L. Butz from becoming secretary of agriculture will help pry loose impounded federal funds and boost farm income by up to a billion dollars.

President Nixon made his own prediction after the Senate approved Butz 51-44 Thursday and said the 62-year-old educator will be a better agriculture secretary because of the stiff fight it took to confirm him.

THIRD DEFEAT

Democrats, who came close to making the Butz confirmation battle the third defeat of a presidential Cabinet nomination in this century, warned Butz his troubles aren't over if he ignores their concern for the family farmer.

Speaking moments before the Butz roll call began, Humphrey said the bitter debate has focused public attention on the plight of agriculture and forced the hand of the Nixon administration.

"They are going to have to dip into the Treasury now to help the American farmer," Humphrey said and added:

"And let this prediction be on this record:

"That after Dr. Butz is confirmed, we will see from the Treasury of the United States, for the first time, money being released to help the farmer. This Senate debate has been worth a billion dollars in farm income.

WORTH THE EFFORT

"I think it has been well worth the effort."

The American farmer, especially in the Midwest is caught in a three-way squeeze between rising costs, a huge feed-grain surplus, and plummeting prices.

Capitol Hill observers have predicted the administration must take some steps to improve the situation before the 1972 elections or face severe setbacks in key farm-belt states.

Butz was sworn in as secretary five hours after the Senate vote and he told newsmen he would do something immediately—he didn't say what—to improve corn prices now lower than 90-cents a bushel in some areas.

TOUGHEST JOB

Butz, who waited for the result of the Senate roll call in the chambers of the departed secretary, Clifford Hardin, had this comment after he was finally sworn in and given the right to occupy the office legally:

"When the President told me this was the toughest job in Washington, I didn't realize what a master of understatement he was."

Jaycees Attending Drug Abuse Meet

Two Big Spring Jaycees will attend a seminar on drug abuse in Houston this weekend. The seminar is being sponsored by the President's cabinet of the Texas Jaycees.

Don Wortham and Roy Deal will attend the meet lasting two days.

In the monthly night meeting of the local chapter Tuesday, Jim Kent, a member of the President's cabinet of Texas Jaycees, was a special guest. He explained the seminar and some of the activities scheduled.

Upon return to the city, the two Jaycee members will work toward initiating a local program against drug abuse, according to R. K. Taylor, president.

Also in the Tuesday night meeting, Ed Kissinger, public relations officer of the Big Spring Police Department, presented a program on drug abuse on a local level.

Kissinger displayed some of the kinds of drugs used locally and spoke on the problems at the high school and junior highs. He also advised the chapter on some of the steps that could be taken in the community to fight the problem.

Six projects are planned during this month by the organization. Dec. 11 and 18 the chapter will be ringing the bells for the Salvation Army, and the project is chaired by Jimmy Lockhart.

Under the direction of John Beer, the Jaycees will host a Christmas party Dec. 14 for patients at the Big Spring State Hospital. Also on Dec. 18 the annual Jaycee Christmas party is scheduled. In a statement opening a week of hearings examining how the military obtains its weaponry, the chairman of the Armed Services Committee said he wants to know "what sort of reforms in the process will give us a better product."

The panel will study the reasons for soaring costs of F14 and C5A aircraft along with the jamming of M16 rifles in combat.

"The discussion of weapons systems in the Congress has seemed to me to be sadly deficient in its understanding of process and procedures."

"It's almost as if we attempted to understand fundamental problems of law, order and justice by focusing entirely on specific defendants and whether or not they were innocent or guilty as charged," he said.

The Mississippi Democrat said the attention will be on all facets of weapons development and procurement, not just individual overruns.

Stennis said he is concerned with "geometric" increases in the cost of weapons, and, in effect, whether the nation will be able to get the best bang for the buck.

If the cost increases are "not sharply reversed, then even significant increases in the Defense budget may not insure the force levels required for our national security," Stennis said.

"It seems absolutely clear to me that we reduce and even endanger our national security by developing and procuring costly and ineffective weapon systems."

"If the weapons we develop are so costly that we cannot afford enough of them, and if they are so technically complex that they are unreliable and difficult to maintain, we have done the nation a disservice by developing and procuring them," he said.

Also scheduled to testify Friday were Gilbert Fitzhugh, the chairman of the President's Blue Ribbon Defense Panel, and Dr. John S. Foster Jr., director of Defense Research and Engineering.

Officers Charge Former Disc Jockey In Slayings Of Twins

HOUSTON (AP) — A former disc jockey with shoulder length blond hair was in jail at nearby Hempstead today, charged with murder in the slaying of twin brothers.

Waller County sheriff's officers took Herman P. Beirsdorf, 22, to the Waller County Jail Thursday afternoon where he was held without bond.

He was charged with two counts of murder in the deaths of Larry and Leslie Owens, both 19, of Enid, Okla. Both were former Rice University students. Homicide detectives found the bodies of the twins face down on a three-acre plot in Waller County where authorities said Beirsdorf told them they would be.

WHAT'S RIGHT

Houston police said Beirsdorf walked into police headquarters early Thursday and told them: "I want to do what's right. I killed two men."

HERMAN P. BEIRSDORF

saying he shot the pair Wednesday night after an argument over a nuclear research project they were working together. Police said Beirsdorf, formerly of Dallas, told them he took a recently purchased .22 caliber pistol and shot them in the backs of their skulls.

He said he drove the twins' car to a Houston motel and left it there along with the gun.

Police said they later found the car and weapon. Homicide Detective Paul Nix quoted Beirsdorf as saying he met the brothers Wednesday evening. He said the brothers told him they were going to a rock concert but he told them he had something more important than music to discuss.

SOUGHT HELP

"We're going to the country," he said he told the brothers. They drove to Waller County where they discussed the project, he said, but the brothers wanted to abandon the idea.

The twins dropped out of Rice University about a month ago. Both were described as quiet.

Though Beirsdorf described himself as a "genius," he told friends he never graduated from high school. He did audit—or sit in on—a sociology class at Rice.

Friends of the twins said Beirsdorf, who last year was a disc jockey on the Rice radio station KTRU, convinced the twins to withdraw from Rice and work on the project. They said Beirsdorf told the twins of his plans for an independent nuclear research project. They said he told them he had a friend in the Atomic Energy Commission who would let them use equipment.

Beirsdorf said that after abandoning the car he took a taxi to Veterans Hospital where he told a woman psychiatrist there what he had done. He said she gave him a tranquilizer and advised him to go to the police.

Hospital officials confirmed that Beirsdorf sought help at the hospital Wednesday night.

Murder-For-Hire Witness Threatened, Promised Aid

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Testimony from a defense witness in the murder-for-hire trial of Charles V. Harrelson indicated Thursday the witness was both threatened and promised assistance concerning his testimony.

R. Bruce McCarty, a Houston gun dealer, testified he was once promised legal assistance for Harrelson Firearms Inc., his firm by defense lawyer Percy Foreman of Houston. He said Foreman also wrote a letter to a Houston bank to assist McCarty in obtaining a loan.

DEATH THREAT

McCarty said, Douglas Russell of Houston threatened him by telephone, saying if he testified "You won't live through it."

Harrelson, 33, of Houston, is being tried on a charge of murder with malice in the 1968 shooting death near McAllen of Sam Degelia Jr. of McAllen.

The prosecution claims Harrelson shot Degelia because he was offered $2,000 by Pete Thomas Scamardo, a former business partner and longtime friend of the victim. They allege Scamardo wanted Degelia killed in order to collect some life insurance.

The defense contends that Degelia was killed because he was involved in a gun running scheme with a group of Houston men.

GUN PARTS

Much of McCarty's testimony concerned a scheme to convert some machine gun parts into workable weapons and sell them to a man who, he said, identified himself as a Central Intelligence Agency employee who was procuring guns for anti-Castro Cuban forces.

McCarty said that he and Douglas Russell bought 300 machine guns from John Card, a Houston gun dealer told him he had a buyer for the guns.

Pay Raise For Queen?

LONDON (AP) — A special parliamentary committee has recommended a 106 per cent pay raise for Queen Elizabeth II, but public opinion polls show three out of four Britons think her present $1.18 million a year is enough.

The committee, representing all three major parties, recommended that the queen's annual allowance be increased to $2.45 million and that other members of the royal family also get sizeable hikes.

Out of her allowance, which hasn't been increased since 1952, Queen Elizabeth must pay for many of the trappings of monarchy—palace and pomp, servants and socializing.

Last year, the committee reported, she spent $61,005 on receptions and garden parties for 31,729 guests, $17,500 on laundry, $30,000 on wines and other drinks and $110,000 on food.

With more than 900,000 Britons unemployed, Willie Hamilton, a Laborite member of the committee and militant antimonarchist, termed the queen's request for more money "the most insensitive and brazen pay claim made in the last 200 years." But he was the only dissenter on the committee.

McCarty identified the buyer who said he was a CIA agent as Jerry O. Watkins of Houston. Watkins was a key prosecution witness who testified he was with Harrelson at the time he shot Degelia. Foreman has attempted since the start of the trial to discredit Watkins, a former convict.

McCarty testified that the men were paying Card $900 for the machine gun parts and planned to sell them to Watkins for $300 each.

The deal for the guns was never completed, McCarty said, because he learned that Watkins was not a CIA agent and was a former convict who had served a term in federal prison for gun running.

McCarty said at the time he had federal permits to manufacture and sell prohibited weapons such as machine guns provided they were sold to legitimate sources such as police forces. He said the sale to Watkins would have not been a legitimate sale.

McCarty testified that he had been subpoenaed by Foreman to testify at Scamardo's trial last year. He said the two men had a misunderstanding and he did not testify. Instead, he said, he went to Hidalgo County Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis and told him everything he had earlier told Foreman concerning the gun deal and has furnished McInnis statements he gave Foreman and a copy of the letter Foreman wrote to the Houston bank.

The Houston man said that in addition to being threatened by Russell on the telephone he was threatened by a man he described as a "gunman" used by Russell for "strong arm tactics" in collecting debts from furniture customers.

The Houston man testified that he never met Degelia or Scamardo and never heard them mentioned during his gun dealings. He also testified that most of the gun deal took place after Degelia was shot to death July 6, 1968.

John A. Blasienz, former co-owner of BLD Cotton Co. at Bryan, testified Degelia once offered to buy his cotton firm for $130,000. He said the deal was never completed because Degelia died. He said he later sold the property for $57,500 to Brazos county.

Foreman has claimed that Degelia wanted to purchase the cotton firm to use the buildings for the gun running scheme.

Irwin West, manager of the Hearne Municipal Airport, testified that Russell kept an airplane at the Hearne airport for several months during 1968. He said the plane developed engine trouble and was kept there until it was repaired.

Myrvin C. Clark, a prosecution witness testified earlier in the trial he delivered the $25,000 cash to Dowdy at the airport while a Monarch salesman looked on.

Clark, a Monarch sales manager who has pleaded guilty to his part in the scheme, also set the date as Sept. 22.

Wilson, the fourth defense witness, said he had tape recorded the telephone calls to Dowdy that led to their Atlanta meeting.

Wilson, who now sells mobile homes in Hamilton, Ala., said he was a friend of Donald Johnson, congressional aide to Dowdy.

Wilson told the jury he saw the congressman leave the plane and walk into the airport. After that, he said he accompanied Dowdy to a hospitality lounge and talked with him for an hour.

The congressman then left, Wilson said, adding he saw the plane take off.

Fail To Stick Ex-Cop With Wiretap Raps

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Robert L. Forche, a former South Texas police chief, was found innocent of wiretapping charges.

A federal court jury returned the verdict late Wednesday night after deliberating five hours.

Forche, 47, had been charged with tapping the telephones of the United Auto Workers headquarters here between April and September 1970.

The defense called no witnesses during the trial which began Monday.

Forche was police chief at Mission in 1960 and 1961 and at Baytown in 1965. He also has served as a police patrolman at Harlingen and as an intelligence officer at the Kingsville Naval Air Station.

He most recently had worked for a private detective agency here.

During his trial, the prosecution contended the local police intelligence squad had instructed Forche to tap the UAW phones to overhear the conversations of County Commissioner Albert Pena.

Pena, a Mexican-American leader, was a UAW organizer at the time.

Police officers took the witness stand to deny the prosecution's claim.

The officers admitted, however, that a fake telephone company service truck, found in a garage rented by Forche, was an undercover vehicle owned by the police. They said it was being stored there but that Forche did not have permission to use it.

Testimony also brought out that the garage contained electronic equipment, radios and tape recorders belonging to police.

Other witnesses testified that the alleged tap on the UAW phone lines led to a room in a nearby building rented by Forche.

The defense argued no witness had told of seeing Forche drive the phony truck or of seeing him enter the building where the wiretap led. They also noted there was no fingerprint evidence to link him with any "bugging" devices, and that no receiving equipment had been found connected to the alleged wiretapping line.

Youngsters Chess Nuts

EAST PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Youngsters in a second and third grade class aren't wasting their free periods on childish mischief—they're too busy playing chess.

"When they come in in the morning it's just straight to the floor to the chess board," says Miss Carter Coates, a teacher in a combined second-third grade class at Gordon School.

Miss Coates says three of the 24 pupils came to school this year with knowledge of the game and taught most of the others. All of the boys and many of the girls like the game, she said.

U. S.-Soviet Space Rendezvous Woes

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Even a simple thing like telling each other hello will pose problems if U.S. and Russian spacecraft ever rendezvous, a space agency official says.

But none of the difficulties is insurmountable, says John H. Disher of Washington, deputy director of the Skylab program.

Discussions are already in progress on the technicalities involved in U.S.-Soviet spacecraft docking, Disher noted in an interview here Thursday.

Communications systems would be a major factor. For one thing, Russian and U. S. spacecraft use different radio frequencies, Disher said.

And then there's the likely possibility of a language barrier. Disher said the spacemen probably would have to speak to each other through interpreters stationed on earth.

Still other complications would include the fact that the U. S. and Soviet spacecraft would be launched from widely separated points, Disher said, meaning they would take different paths into space that would require careful coordination.

Based on talks with the Russians, space agency officials are preparing a budget request for a project that would lead to the docking of American and Russian spacecraft, Disher said.

"Here we would have the potential for lifesaving," he added.

He said the space agency currently is studying a later project in which a Russian spacecraft would dock with a second Skylab, "if there is a second Skylab."

America's first Skylab, the space laboratory that will orbit the earth, is proceeding on schedule toward an April 30, 1973, launch date, Disher said.

Nineteen astronauts, including physicians, geologists and astronomers, are training for Skylab now, he said, adding that the crews probably will be selected and announced this spring.

Plans call for the first three-man crew to spend a month in Skylab, followed by two more crews that will stay in the orbiting laboratory for two months each.

Disher said a physician would be a valuable asset aboard Skylab for medical tests and observations.

"There's a good chance, I think, that the doctors will make it," he said.

Disher was here to address a regional meeting of the American Chemical Society.

He said the space agency currently is studying a later project in which a Russian spacecraft would dock with a second Skylab, "if there is a second Skylab."

A conservative estimate during this same period of time indicates that bookmaking activities on the sport of football alone amounted to $787.2 million, he said. This meant a gross profit of $90 million to the bookmakers, he said.

Possession cases will total 1,000 this year, compared with 356 two years ago, he said.

Spair called for legalized wiretapping to aid in the fight against organized crime in order to reach the leaders, who never get involved beyond their telephones and penthouses.

"It may be that the public does not realize what these proposals actually mean," he said. "What is being proposed is a tightly controlled system under which electronic surveillance could be used only under formal orders by a district judge, obtained only for a specified period of time and only after the judge has become convinced that there is probable cause to believe that a person is involved in the rackets, whether they involve illegal narcotics traffic, gambling and the rest."

Spair said 588 persons operated in Texas in the past year as bookmakers, agents of bookmakers or as financiers of a bookmaking operation.

"These 588 persons, according to an in-depth investigation, had a combined gross investment—or bankroll—in the amount of some $17.6 million."

Cites Progress In 'War' Against Organized Crime

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas' top law enforcement officer says the war against organized crime is making "great strides" through more concerted effort and public support.

Col. Wilson E. Spair, director of the Department of Public Safety, testified behind closed doors Thursday before the House General Investigating Committee, then released a statement to newsmen.

There is more to organized crime than one national syndicate, he said, apparently referring to the Mafia.

But the weakness of smaller units of organized crime is their tendency to war among themselves, he said.

"Our potential strength in the fight against crime of an organized nature lies in the fact that the criminal justice system, with the support of the people, is getting organized together, and great strides are being made," Spair said.

DPS narcotics agents are expected to file 3,000 cases against 2,000 defendants this year, compared with 960 cases against 680 defendants in 1969, he said.

More than half of these cases are made against drug pushers, he said.

Possession cases will total 1,000 this year, compared with 356 two years ago, he said.

Spair called for legalized wiretapping to aid in the fight against organized crime in order to reach the leaders, who never get involved beyond their telephones and penthouses.

Witness Denies Seeing Cash Passed To Lawmaker Dowdy

BALTIMORE (AP)—A defense witness in the bribery trial of Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., has testified he met the Texas lawmaker in an Atlanta airport in 1965, but denied seeing anyone pass him a suitcase allegedly containing a $25,000 cash bribe.

Leonard Wilson, 35, of Jasper, Ala., former executive secretary of the Citizens Council of Alabama, said Thursday he was in the airport the entire time the congressman was there changing planes en route to his east Texas home.

Two other witnesses have testified they gave the congressman the suitcase in the lower lobby of the airport. Wilson set the date as Sept. 22, 1965.

Wilson, who said he met Dowdy at the airport to relay a $500 campaign contribution he had received from a friend, testified for the defense at Dowdy's trial on charges he accepted the cash to influence a federal probe of Monarch Construction Corp., a now-defunct Washington home repair firm.

Earlier in the trial, which resumes Monday, Baltimore businessman Nathan H. Cohen, Monarch's president, testified he enlisted Dowdy's aid in a scheme to get immunity from prosecution for admitted fraudulent practices of Monarch. In a separate case, Cohen was convicted of one count of fraud stemming from a Justice Department probe of Monarch.

Wilson, who now sells mobile homes in Hamilton, Ala., said he was a friend of Donald Johnson, congressional aide to Dowdy.

Wilson told the jury he saw the congressman leave the plane and walk into the airport. After that, he said he accompanied Dowdy to a hospitality lounge and talked with him for an hour.

The congressman then left, Wilson said, adding he saw the plane take off.

Clark, a prosecution witness testified earlier in the trial he delivered the $25,000 cash to Dowdy at the airport while a Monarch salesman looked on.

Clark, a Monarch sales manager who has pleaded guilty to his part in the scheme, also set the date as Sept. 22.

Wilson, the fourth defense witness, said he had tape recorded the telephone calls to Dowdy that led to their Atlanta meeting.

Jack White, of the education division for the Texas Department of Public Safety, was the speaker for the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis Club at the Settles Thursday noon.

He outlined the various changes in the new highway safety code, including the requirement for a full stop when lights are flashing on a stopped school bus. He also noted that many of the changes were to conform with national codes.

Most of the regulations became effective in September, while some are effective at the end of the year, he said.

Red Vietnam Forces Kill 24 Militiamen, Wound 24

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government sent a squadron of helicopters to Cambodia today to help extricate retreating Cambodian forces on the northeastern front.

Military sources in Saigon said 24 to 30 helicopters plus six to eight escorting gunships were airlifting the Cambodians in their withdrawal to safer defensive positions.

The Cambodians, under heavy North Vietnamese attacks, abandoned two towns this week in the worst setback for the Phnom Penh government in the 20 months of the Cambodian war.

ORDER TO FIGHT
The Cambodian command tried to play down the reverse, issuing a terse communique which said that its forces had withdrawn from the towns of Baray and Kompong Thmar to reorganize defensive positions in order to continue effectively the fight against North Vietnamese and Viet Cong aggressors.

Baray is 60 miles northeast of Phnom Penh and Kompong Thmar is six miles north of Baray.

A Cambodian spokesman, Lt. Col. Am Rong, said new defensive positions were being set up around the town of Taing Krasaing on Highway 6, some 70 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, at three hill positions a few miles farther north and at the provincial capital of Kompong Thom, 80 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

15-MONTH SIEGE
It was to break a 15-month siege of Kompong Thom that the Cambodians launched a 20,000-man operation last Aug. 19 along Highway 6.

With the government forces strung out over a 30-mile stretch of the highway, the North Vietnamese 9th Division launched heavy attacks this week to wreck the Cambodian offensive and force the current pullback and regrouping.

Am Rong said it was still not known how many Cambodian soldiers were killed, wounded or missing in this week's defeat.

The colonel claimed that most of the forces left Baray and Kompong Thmar in good order after destroying equipment they could not carry with them.

In South Vietnam, two U.S. Army UH1 helicopters supporting South Vietnamese troops in the U Minh forest collided in the air Thursday, killing four American crewmen and injuring four, the U.S. Command announced.

Two more Americans were killed and two wounded when a unit of the 1st Air Cavalry Division clashed with an enemy force 42 miles east of Saigon, the command said. The GIs had been landed by helicopter after gunship helicopters spotted the enemy troops and fired on them. The command said seven of the enemy were killed.

HEAVY CASUALTIES
The South Vietnamese suffered heavy casualties in a sharp action 48 miles northwest of Saigon.

The Viet Cong radio today proclaimed three-day cease-fires in Vietnam for Christmas and New Year's and a four-day cease-fire for the Tet lunar new year holiday in mid-February.

The allies are also expected to declare cease-fires, but for shorter periods, and to withhold the announcements until just before the holidays for security reasons.

Nixon Plans To Channel Tax Unhappiness Into Key Issue

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — As the campaign season nears, President Nixon is moving to build a major national issue out of the growing public unhappiness over rising local taxes—especially property taxes.

White House political advisers generally agree that the economy and world affairs, including the Vietnam war, now rank as the top issues in the 1972 presidential campaign.

But several strategists said in interviews that the question of local taxes is a "sleeping issue"—one that they said Democrats have largely ignored.

TIME HAS COME
Nixon raised the issue himself Thursday before flying south for a working weekend at the Florida White House. He told the White House Conference on Aging that he is preparing "specific proposals to ease the crushing burden of property taxes for older Americans, and all other Americans."

He didn't elaborate, but said "the time has come to stop talking about the impact of property taxes on older Americans and to act in their behalf, and in behalf of other citizens in similar circumstances."

It is in the white, middle class suburbs that Republican strategists see the greatest potential for political gain by cultivating the issue.

"People have moved away from the cities to the suburbs to get away from high property taxes," one administration official said, "but now the high taxes are catching up with them."

The problem, this official added, is finding a way to convert what basically is a local issue into one that fits into the GOP's national campaign portfolio.

BEST WAY
"Probably the best way is to tie it in with revenue-sharing," he said in reference to a major Nixon proposal pending before Congress.

Sharing federal revenue with the states, they contend, would allow a cut in property taxes.

Political planners also say the issue has emotional appeal—a fact the White House already has shown it is aware of.

For his Thursday speech, Nixon aides plucked from the White House mail a letter from a woman who wrote that her 73-year-old father, "too ill and tired to work," is being forced to sell the property "for which he worked so hard and so long" in order to meet his real estate taxes.

"These inhumane tax laws must be changed," Nixon quoted the letter as saying.

"She's right," he added in the applause of the 3,000 conference delegates. "They should be changed."

Orders Cut In Pep Pill Production

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department has ordered a 40-per-cent reduction in pep-pill production next year, based on another government agency's report which was lost for two months and rewritten at the last minute.

The proposed manufacturing quotas on amphetamines and methamphetamines are designed to curb overproduction and illegal use, the government said.

Of the estimated 3.5 billion pep pills produced annually in recent years, government officials estimate 20 to 50 per cent were diverted into illicit drug traffic.

John E. Ingersoll, director of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, said the 40-per-cent production roll-back was recommended by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

An HEW report prepared for the surgeon general's signature more than two months ago by the National Institute of Mental Health was lost in government channels and surfaced again back at NIMH last week.

Officials of three federal agencies met in a hastily called conference last week to draft a new recommendation to BNDD before 1972 quotas were set for the first time under the 1970 Drug Control Act.

The proposed quotas are a total of 5,870 kilograms of amphetamines and 2,782 kilograms of methamphetamines, which

Chapel Holds Chili Supper

The Senior Choir of Baker's Chapel A.M.E. Church will host a Chili Supper at 7 p.m. today at the chapel. Donations of $1 will be taken for the supper.

The chapel recently held the first quarterly conference with Elder Leon McNeil as the active presiding Elder of the Lubbock District.

The 11 a.m. service was delivered by Elder McNeil and the 3 p.m. service was delivered by the Rev. Gilbert, from Odessa.

Choirs from different churches sang at the conference. Following the services dinner was served in Fellowship Hall. Visiting the conference were Elder and Mrs. T. B. Reese. Elder Reese has worked in the first quarterly conference with church for 42 years, and is still the active.

All-together beautiful and built to last...

'72 Plymouth Fury Coming Through!

One look and you can see how beautiful our new Fury is. What's not so easy to see is how beautifully put together it is. Fury is built with one thing in mind: to stay together longer and run better, longer than any they've ever built before. In short, it's built to last.

You get the rigid strength of unibody construction. The deep-down protection of a 7-step dip-and-spray process that guards against rust. You get famous Torsion-Quiet Ride and the equally famous TorqueFlite automatic transmission.

Put them all together and you've got a car that's built to last. Value you can hold onto for a long long time.

Isn't this the kind of full-size car America wants?

'Finer Points Of Shoplifting' And How To Prevent It

By BRIAN PEAY
A small gathering of local merchants turned out Thursday night for a seminar on the finer points of shoplifting and how to prevent it. The session was sponsored by the Big Spring Police Department.

"I was impressed with the seminar, and feel that it is the best way the police department can provide a needed service to help the local merchants and businessmen," said Mayor Arnold Marshall.

Marshall welcomed all who attended the session, but at the end of the seminar commented on his concern over the small amount of people who attended. He said he was disappointed and felt it was a reflection on the evident attitude of the community merchants.

MORE INVOLVED
Police Chief Vance Chisum also commented on the light gathering, saying that he felt the merchants should become more involved in sessions of this nature for their own benefit.

Speakers at the session included a psychologist from the Big Spring State Hospital, William Kuester.

The psychologist said that the main reason for crime and shoplifting in the nation is due to present values held by the American people.

LITTLE LARCENY
"I feel that everyone in America has a little bit of larceny in them and will take advantage of a situation when it presents itself, especially where money is concerned," said Kuester.

He said that most shoplifters commit the crime for kicks, and shoplifting and other crimes in the country will not stop until the values held by Americans change.

"Crime is tolerated in the country, and we tend to turn our heads when it is committed, unless it happens to ourselves," the psychologist said.

T. C. Loper, of Pinkerton Inc., Fort Worth, spoke to the group of methods and equipment used for surveillance and prevention of shoplifting.

BEST TOOL
"The best tool against the shoplifter is the department employe, and merchants should give more training to their workers in the field of preventing shoplifting," Loper said.

He also said that the shoplifter always has a fear of being caught, and initial recognition of each customer in the store by the employe or clerk is the best deterrent.

Loper also recommended each store owner have a policy of harsh prosecution of the shoplifter, when one is apprehended, especially in the case of the first offender child.

FEAR DETERS
"If prosecuted once, usually the fear the child undergoes may deter him from further criminal activity," Loper said.

Loper also told the local merchants that shoplifters usually work the stores where they know there is little surveillance, or where they know the store policy on prosecution of violators is light.

Reasonable was the main word stressed by Guilford Jones, attorney, in his portion of the seminar, as he explained when a store employe or owner comes to the point of apprehension or questioning.

"At any reasonable time when the employe has judged the circumstances, conditions and evident actions of the suspect may he make reasonable contact with the suspect for questioning," said Jones.

STATE LAWS
The attorney read the state statute regarding the merchant's rights on making an assumption of accusation and detention of the suspect.

"Most merchants are afraid of false accusations leading to possible law suits against himself, however reasonable action on the part of the apprehender constitutes a safe policy," Jones said.

He also advised merchants when taking delayed action against a suspect to present all the facts to the county or district attorney, and then only file charges on their advice, therefore, by law eliminating all vulnerability to possible legal suits.

President Settles Down With Budget Advisers

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon settles down today in warm, Florida weather with top budget advisers and briefcases full of statistics to make major decisions on his fiscal 1973 budget.

The chief executive plans a weekend of intensive work, reviewing the budget figures department by department, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler reported.

He will be deciding whether to accept figures already worked out or to send them "back to the drawing boards" for modifications, Ziegler added.

Nixon has a tough job trying to hold down government expenditures under election year pressures.

The President wasted no time getting down to business. He launched his conferences during the two-hour flight from Washington Thursday night aboard Air Force One.

Here for the budget skull sessions at the bayside Florida White House are George Shultz, director of the Office of Management and Budget, Caspar Weinberger, budget director and deputy chief of the OMB, and John Ehrlichman, Nixon's chief domestic adviser.

Nixon has to present his 1973 budget within 15 days after the 92nd Congress reconvenes in January for its second session.

Horse(y) Set Challenge

LONDON (AP) — Richard Meade, whose name has been romantically linked with Princess Anne, has challenged British showjumping star Harvey Smith to a duel. The weapons: horses.

Meade, an Olympic gold medalist, issued the challenge

Thursday after Smith criticized the 21-year-old princess as not being good enough for the Olympics.

Princess Anne, European horse trial champion, was voted British Sportswoman of the Year after winning the title. But Smith still maintained she is "nowhere near Olympic standard."

In his challenge to Smith, the 32-year-old Meade suggested a showjumping duel to take place at the Duke of Beaufort's estate next April.

Rat Decathlon Is Under Way

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan, torch in hand and rat perched on his shoulder, has launched the 10th annual Rat Decathlon, the ro-jen world's Olympics.

"You've found out that when you come up with an idea, especially born of scholarly pursuit, you do attract the world to your doorstep," Reagan said Thursday as he opened the event.

Reagan lit an "Olympic torch" and made friends with one of the contestants, "Victor Hasselrat," who crawled about the governor's shoulder.

The decathlon, which runs today and Saturday, is sponsored by students at American River College. Decathlon events, which include the long jump, high jump, six-foot rope climb and rat maze race, attract 6,000 to 8,000 persons.

Lone Star Scout District No. 1, 'They Try Harder'

"We're No. 1," proclaimed Monty Stokes, Lone Star district executive. "We're going to stay No. 1," added Clayton Hicks, incoming district chairman who had just taken over reins of the district from Jack Alexander. This sums up the situation for Scouting in this area, according to reports at the annual recognition banquet attended by 175 persons Thursday evening at the HCJC SIB. The district has equalled its goal of 48 units, is 33 per cent ahead of its goal on standard units, and 55 per cent ahead on trained leadership. As for membership, it lacks only 17 Cub Scouts to meet its goal, and the boy membership is bound to be exceeded by the year's end. There were numerous other accomplishments, too, including the presentation of the Wood-badge award, probably most difficult for Scout leaders, to Sam Morris and Charles Grizard. The Scouters key, an exclusive one in training, went to Bill Cregar, Glenn Kingston, and Lee Mulkey; the Den Mothers Award to Sharon Cregar, Judy Kineston, Dorothy Long, Baudy Kineston, and Dorothy Calverley. Training awards were presented by Bill

Brooks. Earning special citations for Friend of Scouting were Harry Calverley, Garden City, and Kenneth (Jack) Peel, Sterling City, both of whom have served as cubmaster, scoutmaster, commissioner and district chairman in their communities. Dearl Pittman recognized these units and leaders for having reached Roundup goals: Pack 1, Charles Cain; Pack 12, Bobby Myrick; Pack 45, James Anderson; Pack 46, Capt. Mark Stahl; Pack 100, Joe Horton; Pack 113, Glen Kingston; Pack 136, Jim Bob Roberts; Pack 137, Jack Powell, a past district chairman, presented a plaque to Jack Alexander, retiring chairman and father of four; Pack 202, Alton Marwitz; Troop 1, Lee Mulkey; Troop 5, Bill Bradford; Troop 8, Don Myers; Troop 13, Marck Schaler; Troop 16, Bill Mims; Troop 17, Ivory Harper; Troop 136, LeRoy Wright; Troop 146, Capt. Todd Pearson; Troop 179, Bill Priebe; Troop 300, Dr. Clyde Thomas. Boys who earned the Eagle Badge, highest in Scouting, during the past year, were Horace J. Phillips, Troop 1; Joe E. Alexander, Troop 16; Donald G. Thornhill, Troop 146; Michael J. Malone, Troop 149; Rob C. Lawlis and Maxey Roy Brashears of Troop 179. Carl Johansen paid tributes to workers in the Order of the Arrow, an honor camping and service fraternity of Scouting, Jack Powell, a past district chairman, presented a plaque to Jack Alexander, retiring chairman and father of four; Pack 202, Alton Marwitz; Troop 1, Lee Mulkey; Troop 5, Bill Bradford; Troop 8, Don Myers; Troop 13, Marck Schaler; Troop 16, Bill Mims; Troop 17, Ivory Harper; Troop

Fog Adds To Hazard Of Icy Texas Roads

Snow and ice kept a crippling grip on the Texas Panhandle and a damp chill lingered in other parts of the state today as a death-dealing storm moved on toward the east.

Motorists again were warned of travel hazards in the Panhandle, where up to 10 inches of snow mantled the countryside the day before. Roads were dangerously slick and early morning fog dropped visibility as low as one-sixteenth mile in places.

ASCS Ballots To Be Counted

Tabulation of ballots for community committees in Howard County will be at 9 a.m. Wednesday, J. G. Hammack, director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, announced Friday.

Wandering Body Will Find Permanent Resting Place

HOUSTON (AP) — The wandering body of Marian Adams apparently will find a permanent resting place.

The body of Mrs. Adams, who died in 1966 at the age of 34, was discovered in a vacant house Oct. 9. It was wrapped in a quilt and tied with pink ribbons.

County commissioners approved Thursday a $180 expenditure requested by the county medical examiner, Dr. Joseph A. Jachimczyk, to have the body sent to St. Martinsville, La., for burial. It will be accompanied

He told the commissioners his investigator has not been able to find any relatives to take the responsibility for moving the body.

Mrs. Adams died in an Air Force hospital at San Antonio Aug. 27, 1966. She was buried in Houston three days later.

Turner said Ebel Johnson, mother of Mrs. Adams, had the body and casket exhumed May 5, however, and taken to St. Martinsville to be entombed there.

Neighbors reported seeing the woman was arrested at a beauty salon Thursday but was not charged at once. Police sought to link her to a pickup truck which they said contained a map of the bank in the glove compartment.

President Elwood McKinney said the robber drove to a teller's window in the motor bank, told Mrs. Beverly Mathis he had a bomb and demanded money.

He scooped up the cash and sped away, abandoning the car about two blocks from the bank. It was at this point that the man reportedly entered the truck containing the map of the bank.

Circuit Judges Mull Dallas Desegregation

HOUSTON (AP) — A Dallas desegregation case in which Coleman of Ackerman, Miss., lawyers for the plaintiffs ask one of the judges who heard that case and took it under advisement for 70,000 of the 180,000 pupils in the school district was being studied today by three U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals judges.

At least one proposed bus route would involve a daily round trip of about 48 miles, attorney Ed Cloutman told the panel Thursday.

He said most of the routes would be much shorter although he said he did not have a mile-by-mile figure for the average route. "It's unfair to the blacks and the whites to haul them such a distance under such circumstances,"

Also opposing the consolidation suggestion was an attorney representing the Garland, De Soto, Mesquite and Carrollton Farmers Branch School Districts.

"Are you contending children should ride 1 1/2 hours a day on a bus?" Coleman asked Cloutman.

Cloutman did not speak directly on the consolidation proposal but for the Dallas School District.

Cloutman said the district does not seek to have its affairs mixed with other political subdivisions.

Cloutman compared the situation to something like having an operation.

"If it is someone else, it is minor, but if it is you, it is major surgery," he said.

Cloutman, seeking bussing to integrate all the district's 180 secondary elementary schools, said the district is committed to spend $10 to $15 million on a closed circuit television project for elementary youngsters but cannot find money to buy buses. He also said 33 of the 37 new school buildings completed or planned since 1965 are one-race schools.

"The pattern of one-race schools will continue unless a firm order is issued," Cloutman said. He estimated the cost of buses and one year of operations at $5 million.

Whitham said that of the 70,000 pupils involved in the plaintiffs' bussing plan, 35,000 would be from elementary schools and 35,000 from junior and high schools.

Bonds Sold By Regents

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Tuition revenue bonds totaling $54 million have been sold by the University of Texas System regents to finance construction of seven new campuses across the state.

The regents sold the bonds Thursday at an 5.4635 per cent interest rate, a syndicate including White, Weld and Co., First Boston Co. and Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith.

Floyd Shelton, deputy chancellor, said the bonds will provide funds for all construction contracts expected through next March.

At least two other bond sales are contemplated, he said.

Another $50 million in bonds are expected to be sold in subsequent issues including one sale of $25 million in either June or July, 1972, and one or more sales totaling $25 million later, he said.

The legislature this year authorized the sale of up to $150 million in bonds secured by tuition revenues from all component institutions in the system — including the tuition expected from the new institutions that the bonds will help build.

The new institutions are UT-Dallas, UT-Permian Basin (at Odessa), UT-San Antonio, UT-Medical School at Houston, UT-Dental School at San Antonio, UT Undergraduate Nursing School at El Paso and UT Clinical Nursing School at San Antonio.

The strike affected more than 60,000 passengers a day, including about 20,000 school children. Police said traffic flowed smoothly despite rain-slick streets, and businesses reported few employees were absent. Taxicab firms were flooded with calls.

The city's main school district said its absenteeism doubled. Rainy weather and illness were cited as factors.

Bus drivers and mechanics struck early Thursday morning after rejecting a seven per cent hike in favor of 8.23 per cent.

Officials said the new agreement still calls for a seven per cent raise but includes back pay and more fringe benefits, such as improvements in holiday pay.

THEFTS

Madell Rigdon, 1519 Tucson, reported Thursday that a stereo player and tapes, valued at $94, had been stolen from her car while it was parked at Gibson's Discount Center.

Two adults and one juvenile were arrested in Midland in connection with a theft at a Big Spring Texaco Station, 1500 E. 4th, Thursday afternoon.

Police received a report from the station attendant Thursday at 1:40 p.m. that the subjects had stolen $50 from the cash register while he was busy with another customer.

A teletype message was sent to surrounding cities and at approximately 5 p.m. the trio was apprehended in Midland on their way to El Paso. All three subjects live in El Paso.

Local police returned the two adult men to Big Spring for questioning and the juvenile female was left with juvenile authorities in Midland.

Charges were to have been filed in the case against the two men later today.

Wandering Body Will Find Permanent Resting Place

HOUSTON (AP) — The wandering body of Marian Adams apparently will find a permanent resting place.

The body of Mrs. Adams, who died in 1966 at the age of 34, was discovered in a vacant house Oct. 9. It was wrapped in a quilt and tied with pink ribbons.

County commissioners approved Thursday a $180 expenditure requested by the county medical examiner, Dr. Joseph A. Jachimczyk, to have the body sent to St. Martinsville, La., for burial. It will be accompanied to Louisiana by county investigator James L. Turner. The embalmed corpse was found on a pallet in the living room of the Houston dwelling. It has been in the Harris County morgue since then. Jachimczyk said it should be moved because he needs the space.

He told the commissioners his investigator has not been able to find any relatives to take the responsibility for moving the body.

Mrs. Adams died in an Air Force hospital at San Antonio Aug. 27, 1966. She was buried in Houston three days later.

Turner said Ebel Johnson, mother of Mrs. Adams, had the body and casket exhumed May 5, however, and taken to St. Martinsville to be entombed there.

Devaluation Of Dollar Bigger Bark Than Bite?

NEW YORK (AP) — Devaluation of the dollar would have a bigger bark than bite as far as the average American is concerned.

The question of devaluing the dollar—reducing its value in relation to other currencies—was a vital subject this week at a meeting in Rome of top finance officials of the 10 richest non-Communist nations.

The meeting of the Group of Ten ended Wednesday with reported progress but no agreement on means of solving the international monetary crisis. Another meeting was set for Dec. 17-18 in Washington.

The United States has been resisting demands of other countries for devaluation of the dollar. Those countries want an unstated increase in the American price of gold—$35 an ounce—to decrease the value of the dollar.

The free market price of gold is $43 an ounce. Even if the United States raised its dollar price to that amount, more than European nations are believed to be asking, the only direct effect in this country would be a possible reopening of previously unprofitable gold mines.

Devaluation in terms of gold, however, could ease the way for an upward reevaluation of foreign currencies. And even if dollar devaluation in terms of foreign currencies were to come out of the Group of Ten negotiations, economists say it wouldn't hit the pocketbooks of individuals in this country to any appreciable extent.

"So far as the individual is concerned, this whole question so hotly debated in Rome couldn't matter less," said an economist for a major New York bank.

This would be the case, however, only if the individual con-finer his purchases to American goods and spent his vacations in the United States.

"In the long run," the bank economist said, "devaluation would produce more jobs in the United States and make U.S. goods more competitive abroad, especially with the goods produced by West Germany and Japan."

This would result because U.S. goods exported to other countries would be priced lower, therefore would be easier to sell. Foreign goods brought into this country would likely cost more, cramping their sales.

The economist said devaluation would particularly improve the competitive position of small U.S. cars and some electronics products, such as radio and television sets.

BOOKS

Short Stories Inspire Faith

THE LOST ANGEL. By Elizabeth Goudge. Coward, McCann, $5.95.

Most of the brief stories in this small 144-page book by the veteran novelist Elizabeth Goudge — whose most recent best seller was "The Child From The Sea" — are related to Christmas themes.

A sort of prologue, scarcely more than three pages, on the birth and resurrection of Christ, sets the tone.

After a sentimental love story involving the rescue of some orphan children there is "Three Men," in which an aging monk finds a miracle on Christmas Eve.

"Lost—One Angel" is a heart-tugging story about a little boy, decked out in an angel's costume for a Christmas pageant, who wanders through London and by chance brings together two old people who have been lonely for years.

A story titled "Saint Nicolas" is an emotional episode about a wandering group of actors, centering around a Christmas Eve performance of the Nativity legend. There is a short narrative depicting the anguish of the young disciple John on the day of the resurrection, and the book concludes with a description of how St. Francis and a small boy help each other sustain their faith.

These are stories designed to inspire hope and faith, and although they are rather floridly written, they are effective in their own way.

Mortgage Burning Ends Church Debt

Bishop Stephen A. Leven, of the San Angelo Catholic Diocese, officiated at Sunday's mortgage note ceremony held in the school hall at Immaculate Heart of Mary.

After Bishop Leven celebrated 10 a.m. mass, the men's club of the church served breakfast to all parishioners, and the note burning ceremony was held in the school hall following the breakfast.

Immaculate Heart of Mary was dedicated in January, 1961, and the church plant includes rectory, convent, church and school. The debt on all the structures has been paid.

The Rev. Louis D. Moeller is pastor of the church.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW
—CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a strange day and evening. You have more vitality and energy than usual, but you are going to have to be very careful to use it in the right direction, or you find you can make much noise and get very little of worth accomplished. Try to plan your future more wisely in balanced fashion.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Something that happens at home today can give you a big lift, but then it helps you to solve some situation much better.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Now you have greater vision where your daily routines are concerned and can be more efficient in handling them. Plan those Saturday errands early. Schedule your time wisely so you do not get frustrated.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) A good day to plan to improve your monetary position through careful study, planning. This is not a good time to cut down on some big expense, but plan how to do so very soon. Control your temper with others.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You have to exercise patience if you are to gain those personal desires that are uppermost in your consciousness. Find a better way to add to present assets. Make your appearance more attractive.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A good day to sit back and observe what is going on around you. Do small favors to those you like. Don't feel imposed upon just because you want to get much done later in the day. Take good care of any pets you may have.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) If you listen to what an associate has to suggest, you gain your aims more easily and quickly now. Avoid gossipy pals who waste your time today. Seek out those who have fine ideas to impart to you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Take a more worldly attitude if you want to solve those problems you have. Don't neglect to handle that civic matter well. Don't try to force an issue or get into much trouble. Be more matter of fact with others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have fine new ideas which only require that you study the small details in order to become more successful. Be a bit choosy where new friends are concerned. Make this a delightful evening with mate.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can go ahead with promises you have made to others with ease and energy now. Handling more automatically makes the future much brighter. Try not to do all of the talking all the time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Instead of wasting energy arguing with an ally, get to work constructively and you come out much better. Some time spent at fascinating recreation is good. Take right partner along with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Schedule time and have a real plan if you are to avoid trouble and make this a productive day and p.m. You can make a five agreement with someone now by using a tactful approach. Do not spend money foolishly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Good time for favorite recreations, provided you are not beyond your means. No better day than this to forget dull routines. Go to bed at a reasonable time.

No Glittering Crown For Teenage Beauty

FORT WORTH (AP) — Without glittering crowns, victory strolls and sexy swimsuits, a new Miss Teenage America will be chosen tonight. Ohio holds two trump cards.

A national television audience estimated by CBS at 40 million will tune in the pageant, beamed live from the Convention Center beginning at 8:30 p.m.

The new Miss Teenage America will be named near the close of the 90-minute show but, unlike most pageants, she will neither win a crown or take the familiar walk down the center ramp of the stage.

"It is not a beauty contest," officials contend, "but instead places its main emphasis on scholastic ability and awareness, poise and appearance, and individual accomplishment."

"For this reason the young woman who holds the title of Miss Teenage America does not wear a crown."

Instead she receives a medalion, presented on stage by the reigning Miss Teenage America, Rewa Wash of Anaheim, Calif. She also receives a $10,000 scholarship, stocks and a $5,000 guarantee for a year of personal appearances.

The victory walk was abandoned by default to omit the ramp from a psychedelic stage which CBS says cost nearly $25,000.

A ramp presumably would distract from the "bright and young" look.

The competition has narrowed from 55 contestants to eight semifinalists, two of them Ohioans, Debbie Risko of Cleveland and Colleen Fitzpatrick of Columbus.

The other contenders are Mary Ann Grabovoy of Aurora, Ill.; Debbie Solle of Orange, Calif.; Gail Hannah of Seattle, Wash.; and Debi Zeller of Tucson, Ariz.

The selection will be made for the first time by a committee that includes six former contestants, none of them winners but all finalists in pageants dating back to 1963.

The semifinalists will be seen in a variety of talent numbers but not in swimsuits, which of-officials consider unbecoming for a pageant of this nature. Entertainers John Davidson and Lucie Arnaz will serve as host and hostess of the musically oriented show.

Civinettes To Assist Shoe Drive

Final plans were made concerning the shoe project for underprivileged children by the Civinettes Tuesday at Coker's Restaurant.

The women will meet with the children and attend a show at the B-70 Theatre Dec. 11. Each child will receive a new pair of shoes and a bag containing candy and a toy. Members will meet Thursday at the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ to sort the gifts for distribution.

Mrs. Bob Askew presided, and tentative plans were made for a joint New Year's party with the Civinettes. The women will meet for a salad supper and gift exchange at 7 p.m., Dec. 14 in the home of Mrs. Askew, 510 Dallas.

Honored At Gift Party

Mrs. Jerry Don Oliphant was honored at a baby shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. C. W. Jones, 1010 E. 13th.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Royce Griffith, Mrs. Harold Cain, Mrs. J. J. Willingham, Mrs. George Holden, Mrs. David Rhodon, Mrs. Loy Anderson, Mrs. Don Dyess, Mrs. B. H. Williams, Mrs. W. M. Irwin, Mrs. Floyd Dixon, Mrs. H. M. Macomber, Mrs. Bob Jones, Mrs. Jack Lee, Mrs. J. C. Thomas, Mrs. Raford Dunagan, Mrs. C. A. Tom Jr., Mrs. Dick Davis, Mrs. Francys Plozman, Mrs. Bob Brock and Miss Marguerite Cooper.

The honoree was presented a corsage made of baby items forming a rosebud. White carnation corsages were given to her mother, Mrs. William R. Banks Jr., and her husband's mother, Mrs. T. L. Oliphant of Pampa.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white crocheted cloth over pink linen, and centered with pink roses and a miniature play pen stacked with small packages. The cake was decorated with pink roses, and crystal and silver appointments were used.

International Club Will Present Holiday Program

Invitations to discuss their native lands were accepted by members of International Women's Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Jack Aultman, 217-B Langley.

Members will speak to the American Association of University Women about Christmas observances in their countries at a banquet at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 13.

Mrs. Aultman and Mrs. Joe Cooper will be guest speakers for the Spanish Club at Howard County Junior College Monday.

Also, several members recently discussed homemaking and cooking customs of their native lands for a home economics class at Big Spring High School.

Plans were finalized for a Christmas party for members and their husbands, which is scheduled at 8 p.m. Dec. 17 in the home of Col. and Mrs. Charles Walker, 7 Albrook.

Anne Martin Is Visiting Relatives

Miss Anne Martin, a former longtime resident of Big Spring, is here from her home in Santa Barbara, Calif., to visit her sister, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, and a brother, Dewey Martin. She plans to be here several days.

Local Girls In 'Wool' Contest

Feminine fashions for the sub-deb as well as the young at heart will go on review at Texas Tech University Saturday with the presentation of the 28th annual District 1 "Make It Yourself With Wool" style show at 2 p.m. in the University Center Ballroom.

Young seamstresses from a 54-county area in Northwest Texas will model garments they have made, and district winners will be announced at the fashion parade which climaxes the day-long series of judging events for more than 120 contestants in four age groups.

Area entrants are Kayla Gaskins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins of Knott; Dona James, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ovis James of Coahoma; and Toya Banks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Banks of Sand Springs.

The program and show will be open to the public at no charge, according to Prof. Myra Timmons of Tech's Clothing and Textiles Department, director of the district competition.

Dr. Donald Longworth, interim dean of the College of Home Economics, will give the welcoming address. Narrators for the style show presentation will be Tech students Dru Ann Boyd of Weatherford, Caron Cloud of Rule, Donna Huffaker of Hale Center, Donna McAllister of Tahoka and Claudia Nawrocki of Houston. Awards will be presented by Mrs. Kay Caddel and graduate student Marilyn Douhan of the Department of Clothing and Textiles.

Costumes are to be evaluated on the basis of workmanship, fashion and beauty of design in each of the following divisions: Sub-Deb for ages 10 through 13, junior for ages 14 through 16, senior for ages 17 through 21 and adult for ages 22 and over.

Judges will include Mrs. Martha Schmidt, Mrs. Juanell Hansard, Miss Peg Williams, Mrs. Laura Haynie, Miss Camille Garrett, Steve Ireland, Mrs. Pat Bates, Miss Joy Beth Parnell and Mrs. Linda Smith.

The "Make It Yourself With Wool" competition is sponsored by the American Wool Council in cooperation with the Women's Auxiliary to the National Wool Growers Association and the Texas Sheep Growers Association.

Winners in the junior and senior divisions are eligible for state and national competitions. Adults are eligible for district and state competitions only and the sub-deb division is limited to district competition.

State finals are to be held Dec. 11 at Sam Houston State University, Huntsville. National finals will be Jan. 20 in Phoenix, Ariz.

Country Club Setting For Weekend Dances

The first of the season's formal holiday festivities begins this evening, with a number of dimmers, dances and private parties scheduled between now and Christmas.

The American Business Club will hold its annual holiday dance this evening at Big Spring Country Club where members and guests will dance to the music of the Jess Gayer Orchestra.

The formal affair will begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m., to be followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m., and the dance will start at 9 p.m.

Auriel LaFond is president of the ABCub, and Mrs. LaFond heads the auxiliary. Bill Brooks is acting chairman of the social committee which planned the dance.

Members and guests of the Cotillion Dance Club will dance to the music of the Don Caldwell Orchestra of Amarillo Saturday night at Big Spring Country Club. The dance will begin at 9 p.m., ending at 1 a.m., when breakfast will be served.

4-H Girls Learn Sewing Methods

The Drum Right 4-H girls are making shoe bags for their first sewing project, and the proper method of cutting and measuring material was studied Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Gary Seidenberger of Lomax, adult leader.

Members agreed to go Christmas caroling at Big Spring Nursing Lun and Big Spring State Hospital as a Christmas project.

A Christmas party for members and their mothers is scheduled Dec. 13 in the home of Mrs. Lynn Glass. Gifts will be exchanged. The next meeting is at 4 p.m., Jan. 5 in the home of Mrs. Glass.

Drug Use Decline

Dramatic declines in the writing of amphetamine prescriptions have been reported in various sections of the country where physicians have started programs to curb use of the stimulant drug.

FAMILY CHRISTMAS CRUSADE

Evangelist Team Coming Here For Evangel Temple Crusade

The first Family Christmas Crusade for Evangel Temple Assembly of God, 2205 Goliad, will be conducted daily at 7 p.m. Wednesday through Dec. 19 by Evangelist and Mrs. John Pratt of Amarillo.

A dynamic evangelistic team, the Pratts will begin each crusade service with a children's presentation, using puppets and ventriloquist dolls. Mrs. Pratt will also do a chalk drawing each night.

The adult service will include special singing and instrumental music by the Pratts, who are recording artists. Each service will have a special Christmas theme and film strips may be used.

Mrs. Pratt will present her testimony of being healed by prayer of multiple sclerosis in 1963. This testimony is considered one of the "high points" of the Pratts' crusades.

Evangelist John Pratt will be speaking nightly on sermons of the times, and in keeping with the Christmas season. He is a graduate of Southwestern Assemblies of God College, Waxahachie, and a former pastor. He served as a chaplain's assistant in World War II.

The Pratt family has made guest appearances on television programs and for public school assemblies, according to the Rev. Donald Calvin, pastor of Evangel Temple. They are available for these and civic club meetings in Big Spring, by invitation by telephoning 263-6871.

Evangelist and Mrs. Pratt are accompanied by their daughter, Pam, who will work as a children's evangelist during the crusade.

Large number of visitors usually attend the Pratt crusades, according to Rev. Calvin. The public is invited to make Christ the theme of Christmas by attending this Christmas crusade.

Robison Rally Is Continuing

SNYDER, Tex. - The James Robison Evangelistic Crusade continues at Scurry County Coliseum today through Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

The 16 churches sponsoring the eight-day interdenominational crusade are already preparing for the expected harvest of new converts, just as they have been planting the seeds for a dramatic spiritual movement for the past several months under the direction of crusade chairman, Rev. Raymond Hall of Snyder.

"Many area churches will be dismissing their own Sunday evening worship services in order to participate in the crusade," Rev. Hall said.

The 28-year-old Robison, of Fort Worth, Tex., has been compared to evangelist Billy Graham by many church leaders who predict that he will soon shed the noted crusader's mantle. Their predictions are based on the spiritual impact that Robison's nine-year ministry has already had in cities across the nation.

Sunday Rally Will Launch Baptist Missions Conference

Baptists of the Big Spring Association rally Saturday evening to launch an ambitious week of World Missions conferences. Ten missionaries will be involved as speakers in 20 churches all during the week. The various churches come together for luncheon meetings where a pair of missionaries will speak daily, according to Sam Robertson, mission committee chairman.

Representatives from the score of participating churches will be given the perspective of the conference at a dinner meeting Saturday at East Fourth Baptists Church when the Rev. Blake Western, Southern Baptist Missionary to Japan, will speak. The dinner is at 6 p.m., the program at 7 p.m.

Reptiles Were Causes For Observance

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) - Every October, Rio's Penha Roman Catholic church, perched atop a 200-foot bluff on the city's north side, becomes an important religious and social center for thousands of working-class Brazilians.

People flock to the church on Sundays to ask for help or to give thanks for favors from the neighborhood patroness, Our Lady of Penha. Penha means "bluff" in Portuguese, Brazil's national language. The whole thing started in 1635, when Brazil was a Portuguese colony. The legend goes that one October afternoon, a wealthy rancher named Capt. Cardoso was riding to his nearby home on horseback, when he came across a poisonous snake. The captain prayed to Our Lady of Penha for help. Immediately, a lizard appeared and engaged the snake in mortal combat. The thankful captain built a small hermitage on top of the bluff. News of the miracle spread, and religious folk from miles around streamed to the little chapel on the hill. The present church was built at the turn of this century.

Churchwomen Nix Nudity Of Statue

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP) - Art does not exist for its own sake, but is subject to the word of God, three churchwomen told Prime Minister John Vorster. They presented Vorster with a memorandum condemning a controversial nude statue scheduled to be erected at a new government office building. The memorandum said: "It is clear the Bible demands the wearing of clothes in public after the fall of man."

Sunday, Youths Present Rock Opera, 'Joseph'

Sunday at 7:00 p.m., the youth fellowship of St. Paul Presbyterian Church is presenting "Joseph and His Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat". The work is a religious rock opera by the same artists who wrote "Jesus Christ Superstar". The presentation will feature multi-media displays accompanying the text and music. "Joseph" differs from "Superstar" in that it is not a heavy piece but is almost childlike in its bright telling of the old story of Joseph. The presentation has great appeal for youth, children and adults and is open to the public. St. Paul church is located at 1008 Birdwell Lane.

Guest Trio Set Sunday

"Country Gospel Singers," a trio from Slaton, will make guest singing appearances Sunday at Grace Baptist Church, 2000 FM 700 West, during the 11 a.m. and evening services. Composing the group are Johnny and Nelda Flanigan and Morris Tyler. The evening concert presented by the trio will be from 6 to 7 o'clock. Country Gospel Singers were featured at the last annual meeting of the World Baptist Fellowship at Arlington, and they record on the Goodnews Records Label. The Rev. Roy Honea, pastor, invites everyone to attend either the morning or evening service to hear the gospel music presented by the group.

"What goes on in the beauty parlor? Bet you hear all the gossip in town." That's what my husband says.

Well, I'll admit — there is talk. When people get together — whether in a beauty parlor, a barber shop or, in the old days, around the cracker barrel in the general store — tongues start flying. It is human nature to talk, to criticize, to complain.

But isn't it refreshing to hear something good about someone? Sometimes it takes a lot more strength to say something good than something bad! Sometimes it takes more strength to stand up and be counted as a churchgoer than it does to sit on the sidelines, espousing neither faith nor cause.

Which side are you on? If you're not sure, why not cast your vote for the Church? Try it next Sunday.

Reassuring Our Allies

President Nixon seems to be setting a record for summit-level meetings with both friend and foe. His schedule for the Christmas and New Year holiday season is a travel agent's dream, but the implications are far more important.

The White House has been scheduling top-drawer sessions with evident haste. In five days, meetings were announced with major allies to brief them on the President's forthcoming visits to Moscow and Peking.

Mr. Nixon will meet with President Georges Pompidou of France in the Azores Dec. 13-14; Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain Dec. 20-21 in Bermuda; West German Chancellor Willy Brandt in Key Biscayne, Fla., Dec. 28-29; and Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato at San Clemente, Calif., Jan. 6-7.

Also, Canada's Prime Minister Elliot Trudeau is to visit in Washington in early January. This week, Israeli Prime Minister Golda Meir is in Washington for discussions. Mrs. Meir probably won't get the briefing on Peking and Moscow, but Russia's Middle East role is certain to be discussed.

Purpose of this flurry of heads-of-state meetings is to reassure our allies that they won't be sold out or hurt by the visits to Peking and Moscow. Mr. Nixon has said this several times publicly, but apparently wants to give the word personally.

Also at the top of the list will be the differences between the U.S. and its partners on international monetary matters. The new Nixon economics has shaken some of our friends and the President wants to smooth out the disputes.

Mr. Nixon has taken on a formidable holiday schedule in an effort to patch up present and potential cracks in alliances and friendships. Summitry does not automatically resolve any questions, but the President is making an all-out effort to get his views across.

Good Mix Needs Support

Chamber of Commerce members have elected five new members to the board of directors. Included are R. W. Whipkey and Dr. Carl Marcum, who are more or less old timers in civic work; Clyde McMahon Jr., who is among the younger group but certainly a veteran in community service and Tom Locke and Dan Wilkins, relative new personalities in the community.

It's a good mix. These, and the hold-over directors have an opportunity to perform a crucial service this year, both because the Chamber will be having a new manager and because there is a new resurgence of community enthusiasm and optimism.

Although it is true, we sound the warning that a few men and women can't do it — community progress is a reflection of dedication by everyone.

First Impression

Around The Rim

Brian Peay

I received a letter early this month that made me feel good about the cooperative way in which the city government, Chamber of Commerce, and citizens have initiated the current cleanup campaign in the city.

APPARENTLY before the campaign started, some felt that the outward appearance of our city was having an adverse effect on visitors and vacationers.

The letter was from Mrs. Richard J. Landon, Merced, Calif. In the letter she told how she grew up in Big Spring and had moved to California, and after living there for a time, came upon an article in the San Francisco Chronicle.

"I KEPT the clipping and had forgotten about it until the Herald started a campaign on cleaning up the city," said Mrs. Landon. "I am sending this to you to let you know what a stranger's first impressions may be of Big Spring."

The article written by the Chronicle's O'Hara, asked the question of "What's the Worst Town You've Ever Been In?" and was asked in Ghirardelli Square in San Francisco.

PATTI RASO, a stewardess at the San Francisco International Airport replied to the question in the article: "Miami. There are a lot of little towns in Texas that are terrible. Big Spring, Texas, for instance. That's where "Midnight Cowboy" started. Lubbock, Tex., is also a terrible town. Little River, too."

"After reading this article I became hurt and mad. It is not the people that you first meet, but the town," said Mrs. Landon in her letter.

"I KNOW being in the military, and having to move around a lot, that a town's appearance is a first and sometime lasting impression," she said.

It seemed odd to me that persons living so far away, in the cases of both women, could see the problem so much clearer than most of the people living here for so long.

HER LETTER reminded me of the old cliché, "You can't see the forest for the trees." But in our city's case it could have been said, "you can't see the town for the trash and weeds."

"After I started reading the articles and seeing the pictures in our paper, and after coming back for a visit, did I realize that Big Spring did indeed need brightening up," Mrs. Landon said.

"I HOPE the citizens will continue their campaign and bring the city's appearance up to match the warmth and friendliness that the people of Big Spring radiate," she said. "The feeling is mutual, Mrs. Landon."

Nixon Takes Issue

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has concluded at last that he must make an issue of the obstructionism of the Democratic party in Congress. He has taken the stand that a bill passed by the Senate — supported largely by Democrats — which contains tax cuts of 27 billion dollars, as contrasted with the 15.4 billion which the President recommended, is a clear case of adding a big deficit to the budget that can frustrate the fight against inflation.

THE HOUSE of Representatives, having been given notice of the President's decision to veto the bill, if passed in the Senate form, has a choice between supporting the 15.4 billion dollar measure which it had previously approved or going along with the Senate and challenging a veto by the President.

If the veto is thus invited, there will be no two-thirds vote in both houses which would be needed to override the President's rejection. So the chief executive's announcement of his intention ahead of time gave the House an opportunity to repeat its earlier action and instruct the conference committee to stand pat on the original bill. This would have served notice on the Senate that its bill would not be adopted with the huge amount of taxcutting and that the best thing to do would be to accept the house measure.

ANOTHER OBJECTION to the Senate bill is that it contains a provision which would make up to 20.4 million dollars of tax money available to the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates, respectively, in 1972. The Republicans are almost unanimously against the idea of public financing of presidential campaigns. They contend that the plan would permit major contributors to concentrate on primary elections and also might bring about a proliferation of political parties because funds would go to minor party candidates, too.

There is no doubt that the conference committee will make changes in the Senate bill. Whether they will be satisfactory to the President and avoid the veto is difficult to predict at this time.

THE PRESIDENT is determined, however, first of all, not to have a tax bill that adds to the deficits by spending a substantial amount in excess of the revenues. Secondly, he believes that the campaign-financing plan — which allows taxpayers to designate on their income-tax returns the contribution of a dollar of their taxes to a certain political party — is really unconstitutional and should not be permitted. The Department of Justice probably will reveal its objections on this phase by the time the measure reaches the President and he issues his statement explaining his veto.

If the House and the Senate do not modify the legislation, this would mean a lengthy debate on a substitute bill, which would keep Congress in session perhaps through the month of December. Congress has been hoping to adjourn around Dec. 15 for the Christmas recess.

FROM A POLITICAL standpoint, Mr. Nixon will be able to argue that adding to the deficits in the federal budget can only mean continuing inflation. He also can contend that a President needs a majority in Congress of his own party in order to obtain constructive legislation.

THE NIXON administration has had a budget deficit, but this is largely due to the recession. If the economic recovery in 1972 is as big as expected, tax receipts should be high enough to overcome or substantially reduce deficits provided further spending has been curbed.

Lockheed Guarantees

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — On Sept. 9 the federal government approved up to $250 million in loan guarantees to Lockheed Aircraft Corp. Some $155 million of the loans so guaranteed are scheduled for repayment by the end of 1975.

Lockheed needed the guarantees because it had exhausted its own borrowing capacity at the banks and was threatened with bankruptcy should it fail to obtain more funds.

The future would be better, it said. It assured Americans that it was not seeking a government loan but only a guarantee. Proponents of the guarantee said it was still a viable enterprise and should be preserved.

Others didn't see it that way. If free enterprise itself was to remain in working order, they said, a weak corporation should not be preserved by subsidies of any kind. That practice would lead only to still higher costs.

Lockheed and its powerful supporters in Washington prevailed, but the issue was never really settled. And now a speech by Daniel Haughton, Lockheed chairman, suggests that the entire industry—manufacturers and airlines—may be unable to live under free enterprise.

Speaking of airline profitability, Haughton told a meeting of the Air Transport Association at Beverly Hills, Calif., this week:

"One wonders whether we have passed the point of diminishing return. Whether we have reached, in fact, the point of no more return."

Increased costs for labor and ground facilities have compounded the problem and, he suggested, offset the opportunity for further gains that might result from advanced technology.

Nevertheless, it appears that Haughton's hope for airline profitability still depends on technological developments, an admittedly slim hope.

"Is it possible still to make the economies that will keep bringing down direct costs at a fast enough clip to offset the increase in other elements of airline operating costs?" he asked.

"Possibly not," he answered, "unless we have a dramatic breakthrough that we do not know about today—a breakthrough in structures, materials, propulsion, aerodynamic design."

The chances, he seemed to say, depend not only on slim hopes but on possibilities that have not even appeared on the horizon.

"Even with such a significant breakthrough, there remains a major—perhaps an even larger—question," he said.

"In view of the risks, and the magnitude of investment required, who is going to launch the next commercial aircraft program?"

Opinion Can Do It

Andrew Tully

WASHINGTON — The trouble with both the Left and the Right is that they are fascinated by the extreme solution. An example is the American Conservative Union's direct mail campaign seeking contributions to put over a constitutional amendment that would end forced busing to achieve racial balance in the public schools.

I HAPPEN to oppose such busing because it is messy and divisive — and totally unnecessary. So although the ACU is right in principle I do not plan to contribute to its constitutional amendment cause because no amendment is needed. Representative government already has indicated it is competent to handle the situation.

Specifically, the House has passed legislation prohibiting the use of Federal monies for busing programs. The House did not simply wake up one morning and decide to legislate this ban. Its members had been hearing from angry constituents on the matter and in due course of time they remembered Lincoln's admonition that ours is a government by the people — and not, one may now add, by bureaucratic fiat.

SOME OF those who voted for the ban were sincere in their principles. Others noted that they were up for re-election next year and decided they had no wish to be retired to private life.

Sen. William Brock (R-Tenn.), for example, one of the leaders of the ACU's anti-busing campaign, has received more than 3,000 letters protesting forced busing. Conservative Sen. James Buckley was elected in 1970 by the very liberal state of New York despite (because of?) his anti-busing position. Every poll I've seen shows a majority opposed to busing.

IN THIS atmosphere, I expect an anti-busing constitutional amendment could be enacted. But it would take time, and the process would set off another noisy brouhaha, which the Republic needs like it needs two Angela Daveses.

Anyway, the 1964 Civil Rights Act clearly forbids busing to achieve racial balance. If the nation's courts tend to read this ban casually, and if the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare insists that the law is elastic, Congress is not without the means to make it stick, as the House's action has revealed.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT civil right is involved in the fight against school busing. It is the right of parents to bring up their own children. Children are not the property of the state, at least not yet. If a parent fears that a two-hour bus ride to school every day is harmful to his child, or that the school to which the child is assigned by HEW is a threat to the quality of his education or his safety, no bureaucrat has the authority, constitutional or assumed, to overrule that parent.

BESIDES, as has been noted here previously, the Constitution nowhere states nor even implies that the United States must achieve an integrated society. A free society, of course. Equal rights, of course.

But as for busing constitutional amendment — forget it. On this one, public opinion can do the job.

Christmas Double-Talk

NEW YORK (AP) — Christmas is the time of year when a man's best friend is his double-talk.

The season has become so syrupy that no man of spirit can wade through it and keep his mental balance without deliberately and consciously resorting to double-talk—which is saying one thing while you really mean the opposite.

For those unlearned in this ancient conversational art, here are a few typical examples for yuletide. What the person said aloud is in quotes, followed in each case by what he actually thought:

"Don't you think I've been a really good little boy this year, Mama?"—If she rats on me to Santa Claus, I'll put itching powder in her talcum powder.

"What would Christmas be without you, dear Aunt Martha?"—Just fewer unwearable neckties to throw down the in-cinetator as soon as you leave town.

"Did old Santa stay long at your house?"—If I don't ask her, she'll tell me about every present she got anyway. What I don't understand is why she doesn't simply mimeograph the list and mail it to everyone she knows.

"Well, I did shop for it a long while because I wanted very much to find a gift that would suit your true personality."—Of course, I could have settled by buying you a black broomstick.

"There's no more heart-warming sight than seeing kids playing happily together under a lighted Christmas tree."—I always wonder which will be the first to wind up in jail.

"No, thank you, I don't believe I care for any more of your fabulous eggnog right now. But it does taste yummy."—Even eggnog can't hide the flavor of cheap booze.

"How sentimental of you, darling, to pick Christmas morning to give me my engagement ring. But can you really afford it?" The diamond is so big.—I can almost see it without putting on my glasses.

"As board chairman and chief financial officer of the firm, it is my duty to give you some good news and some bad news. First, the good news: Each employee will receive the annual Christmas bonus. Now the bad news: Regrettably, it will be only half as large as last year's bonus."—But it is still three times the amount that any of you goldbrick artists deserves.

"How wonderful it would be if sometimes Christmas, instead of lasting only a day, would last throughout the whole year!"—If I thought it ever would, I'd hang myself right now from the highest bough in our living room.

Billy Graham

My Answer

I feel that working in the church, as singing in the choir, ushering, etc. proves that I am a believer and that there is no need to come forward or give testimonies. Am I wrong? T.R.

If you are a church member, there was a time when you stood before a public audience and made a profession of faith in Christ. If you did this, which you doubtless did, and were sincere, you obeyed the command of Christ: "If you confess me before men, I will confess you before my Father which is in heaven."

In the New Testament, when decisions for discipleship were made, they were made publicly. There is no such thing as a secret disciple. The Bible says: "With the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." Confession is made both with the heart, and with the mouth.

But beyond this, it should be backed up by a solid Christian life. The Bible says, "By their fruits shall ye know them." No amount of public display will take the place of living for Christ from day to day.

Yes, ushering, singing in the choir, are evidence that you believe, but remember the Bible says, "Man looketh upon the outward appearance, but God looketh upon the heart."

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Whenever you refused to help one of these least important ones, you refused to help me." (Matthew 25:45, TEV)

PRAYER: Grant us, Lord, awareness to see a need, Christlike compassion to stop, and thy strength to do what we can to help. In the spirit of Jesus we ask it, praying as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

BRA BATTLE: (Q.) My mother wouldn't let me buy a bra or wear one either so I took one at the store and started wearing it.

For about a month no one knew. Then my mother caught me putting it on.

She asked me where I got it. I said I bought it. She beat me up and told me to return it and get the money back or else.

What should I do? And how old does a girl have to be before she can wear a bra? — On the Spot in Massachusetts.

(A.) A girl should begin wearing a bra when she looks better and is more comfortable with one on than she is without one.

If she needs a bra at 10, she should start wearing one then. If she doesn't need one till she is 13 or 14, she shouldn't worry about it.

Any time a girl thinks she needs a bra, either because of her size or for any other reason, she should talk to her mother about it and the two should be able to make a decision.

You and your mother should be able to decide whether you really need one.

You, however, have a bigger problem than a bra. Tell your mother and your father — together, if possible — what has happened. Tell them the truth and all of it. If you have taken other things from stores tell them. Ask them to help you.

If they do not know what to do, ask your counselor at school or your minister to help you.

PARENT TROUBLE: (Q.) My girl friend's parents will hardly let her talk on the phone to me. They don't want her to even like me. They don't like to admit I am even alive.

When I call her, her dad answers, every time. First he asks me what my name is, every time. Then he asks my girl friend if she knows me, every time.

When we finally get to talk, we can't say much, because he listens in on the other phone. If he found out how much we like each other, he would beat her.

He has beaten her before. I can't stand the idea of her being beat on.

He thinks boys have only one thing on their minds — sex. This is NOT true, but I don't know how to convince him. — Almost Hopeless in New York State.

(A.) Your impression of your girl friend's father may be incorrect. His impression of you may be incorrect.

Call him, introduce yourself, and ask him if you can visit him either at home or where he works and talk with him personally. Personal visits can solve problems and misunderstandings.

Maybe by talking to each other personally, you two will get a better impression of each other.

Face Lifting

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am seriously considering having a facelift. I am 45 years old and have crow's-feet around my eyes and a few wrinkles around my upper lip.

Would I have to be hospitalized for this type of operation? And if so, for how long? Also, how long does a face-lift usually last?

I have two children. My husband has told me repeatedly that he doesn't love me, and that as soon as the youngest (who is now in the 10th grade) graduates from high school he is leaving me.

Please answer because I want to look my best when he leaves. Thanking you in advance, I remain,

"G" IN BATON ROUGE DEAR "G": Make an appointment with a reputable plastic surgeon and ask him in person. It depends upon the doctor, his method of operation, and your face. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: It all started when a woman I knew only slightly showed up at a country club dinner party wearing a dress exactly like the one I was wearing. (May I add, it was a very expensive dress.)

When we saw each other, I laughed and said, "Well, it just proves that we both have good taste."

She didn't laugh, however. Instead she appeared to be very much embarrassed and ill at ease, and within a matter of minutes she had disappeared.

Very truly yours,

The next time I saw her she was wearing a different dress! Would you believe this fool! She had actually rushed home and changed her dress? How would you have felt had you been in my place? Insulted? Or relieved? GREENWICH CONN.

DEAR GREENWICH: For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "BIG DILEMMA": Yes, you should express sympathy to the family of your friend who took his own life. Make no reference to the circumstances, but be assured they would be far more hurt were none of his friends to send their condolences.

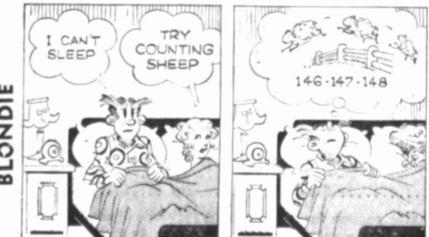

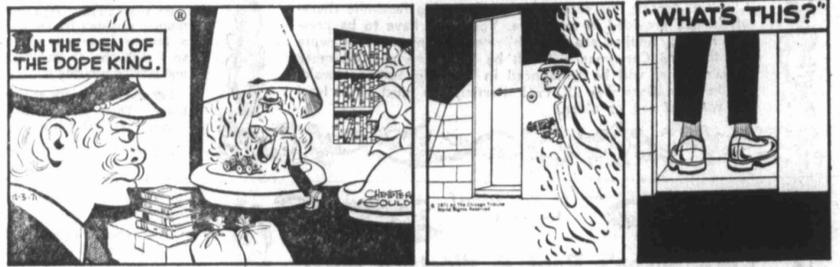

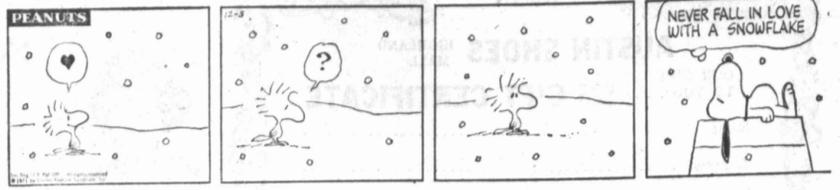

DEAR GREENWICH: For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

Which Hand?

Your Good Health
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 4-year-old grandson showed a tendency to be left-handed at about 2. For a while there was a definite preference; now he uses either hand almost equally well. Probably eats better with his left hand, but has done it more.

He's going to nursery school and uses scissors, colors, etc., and I see he shifts from one hand to the other.

If encouraged, I believe he would soon be right-handed. His parents have never done anything one way or the other. They fear some emotional problem might develop from interference. They feel he should just use his hands as he wishes. Could you enlighten us as to the best way to handle 'his' Mrs. L.F.

It's true that being forced to do something that just doesn't come naturally can put unnecessary pressure on a child, and can, indeed, sometimes result in emotional turbulence.

Oh, sure, there are some things children need to learn, but there's no great need for trying to make a child right-handed if his brain pattern is such that he uses his left-hand better.

In a word, I'd say the parents were exactly right in this case. Ignore the whole matter. As the boy matures, a dominance for the left (or right) hand will become evident. Most likely, that can "prevent old age." Rather, do what you reasonably can to keep it within reason.

But I had a friend, a surgeon, who was ambidextrous. He could shoot a pistol, tie a knot or do an operation with equal skill with either hand.

And then there are some people who have only certain peculiarities. I know one man who all his life has done every thing right-handed except two. He chops wood and deals cards left-handed.

I didn't mean any particular exercises, just exercise in general. As to diet, that's discussed in detail in "Control Cholesterol Sensibly," sent in return for 25 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have Still's disease, though not to any serious extent, and have heard its cause quoted as everything from an inferiority complex to gonorrhoea.

I am also in the dark about the usual progress of this ailment, complications, etc. — D.S.

Still's disease is a form of rheumatoid arthritis affecting children. Its cause is unknown. It has certain characteristics unlike those of rheumatoid arthritis in adults — swelling of lymph glands, and spleen, and some others.

However — and this is the optimistic aspect — it tends to subside completely in about 80 per cent of patients.

T.E.E. H.E.E.!

T.E.E. H.E.E. stand for Technical Engineering Excellence and Highly Extravagant Extras. On the Datsun 2-Door 510 Sedan, they refer to standard equipment like:

- Single unit welded body
- Independent rear suspension
- Safety front disc brakes
- Front bucket seats
- Tinted glass
- Whitewalls
- Overhead cam engine

Will Seek Call For Israel To Move Out Of Territory?

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. diplomats expect Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad to open the debate this afternoon with a 45-minute speech. Diplomatic sources said his main objective probably would be an assembly demand that Israel comply with the proposals presented last February by Gunnar Jarring, the special U.N. envoy for the Middle East.

In an effort to lay the groundwork for peace negotiations, Jarring sought simultaneous pledges from Israel that it would withdraw from all Egyptian land and from Egypt that it would enter a peace agreement with the Israelis. Egypt agreed, but Israel refused, and Jarring's attempt to hold indirect peace negotiations with himself as go-between broke down.

The Swedish ambassador returned to New York Sunday from his regular post at Moscow and since then has talked with Riad and Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekoah.

The Middle East debate was scheduled to begin Thursday but was postponed at Egypt's request so a group of African foreign ministers could report on recent visits to Egypt and Israel by four African heads of state.

Presidents Leopold Senghor of Senegal, Ahmadou Ahidjo of Cameroon, Yakubu Gowon of Nigeria and Joseph Mobutu of Zaire were sent as mediators by the Organization of African Unity.

Reports from Cairo said the African presidents favor a revival of Jarring's mission.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban is scheduled to speak to the assembly Monday.

TAX DISCLOSURES

Ready To Wield Mighty Tool Against Criminals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Commerce Committee has moved into the criminal investigation field with a powerful new weapon—presidential authority to inspect Americans' income-tax records.

Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., said his investigators will use their new power to ferret out organized crime's impact on interstate commerce with immediate emphasis on extortion in the detergent industry.

It was Executive Order No. 11624, signed by President Nixon Oct. 12, that gave Magnuson's committee authority to inspect "any income, excess profits, estate, gift or excise tax return for the years 1939-72 inclusive."

Magnuson's panel still became at least the seventh congressional committee allowed access to Internal Revenue Service records.

The Senate Finance Committee, House Ways and Means Committee and the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation have standing authority to send their investigators to IRS headquarters for a look at any U.S. taxpayer's records.

About a half-dozen additional House and Senate Committees—now including the Commerce panel—do not have permanent-access privilege but have asked for and received presidential permission, which is good for up to two years.

But governmental rights to income tax returns don't end in Congress or even in Washington.

Several other federal agencies are allowed to look through IRS records, including the Commerce Department, Federal Trade Commission, Justice Department, the Renegotiation Board and the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations.

In addition, any governor or any state or local tax official may inspect IRS records.

"There's nothing all that unusual about it in investigative work," said Donald Gray, chief investigator on the Senate Commerce Committee's new organized-crime fighting unit.

"We have reason to believe the IRS has collected much information over the years" the committee might be able to use in its investigation, he said.

Magnuson said Gray and his men will be checking returns of taxpayers who have figured in the panel's investigation of alleged extortion by detergent manufacturers whose product is packaged under various local labels or store brands.

Gray said no congressional committee can get a look at an individual's returns unless the full committee has approved the investigation of that person.

Speed Chases, Crime Spree In Louisiana

SIMMESPORT, La. (AP) — Two heavily armed gunmen killed one man, kidnaped two policemen and wounded two other persons during a crime spree involving a robbery, high speed chases and shootouts in rural eastern Louisiana, authorities reported.

Bloodhounds and a state police helicopter were called into service as authorities continued the search for the gunmen today.

"They're desperate and they'll kill anybody," said Sheriff F. D. Didier of Avoyelles Parish.

Authorities said the gunmen were armed with .45-caliber pistols, shotguns, Submachine guns and a rifle.

The crime spree began Thursday night when the gunmen broke into the home of C. R. Laborde, a retired farmer who lives near Bordenoville. They tied up Laborde, his wife and two children and fled with $740, the family car, a shotgun and a rifle.

At Mansura, policemen halted the fleeing bandits, but the gunmen captured officers Addis Fruge and Douce Jacobs and took them hostage in their patrol car.

The first shootout took place when a police unit from Bunkie caught up with the gunmen. Fruge and Jacobs escaped during the gunfire but the gunmen escaped and made it to Evergreen.

At Evergreen, authorities said they killed a man tentatively identified as Thomas Matthews, wounded his wife and fled in the family car.

Johnny Wilmore, a Chenyeville policeman, picked up the pursuit, was hit in the chest by a shotgun blast. He was not seriously hurt and stayed in the chase.

About 25 police cars continued the chase out of Evergreen. Five cruisers lost the gunmen, who shot out the windows of two other police cars. Another cruiser stopped because of a burned-out engine and two others went careening into ditches when the fleeing men threw out smoke bombs that hampered visibility, authorities said.

Unit To Combat Purse Snatchers

BOSTON (AP) — Boston police have assigned 13 cruisers and 26 patrolmen to a special detail to combat purse snatchers.

"We're going to put sneakers on some of these younger officers so they can run fast," said Duty Supt. Joseph M. Jordan.

Jordan said the city's rate of handbag snatches had become "critical."

"This is a particularly vicious kind of crime," he said. "They usually attack elderly people and knock them down."
