

WOMAN CAPTURED ON YACHT IN 1968

Red China Frees Two Americans

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China today freed two Americans, a man held captive for 19 years and a woman captured on a yacht in 1968. The pair crossed into Hong Kong and left on a flight for the United States.

The Peking government announced it had reduced the life sentence of another American and that a fourth American prisoner committed suicide more than two years ago.

NOT KNOWN

Richard Fecteau, 43, a civilian Army employe from Lynn, Mass., captured during the Korean war, and Mary Ann Har-bert crossed the border in the early afternoon. A Royal Air Force helicopter flew them to Kai Tak airport, and there they boarded a U.S. military plane for the United States, a spokesman for the Hong Kong government said.

It was not known where the plane was taking them.

Peking announced that the life sentence being served by John T. Downey, 41, of New Britain, Conn., had been commuted to five years starting from the date of commutation. That date was not announced, but presumably it was recent.

The fourth American listed by Peking today was Gerald Ross McLaughlin. The New China News Agency said he was captured by Miss Harbert aboard a yacht in Chinese territorial waters north of Hong Kong on April 21, 1968. The Communist agency said he committed suicide on March 7, 1969, while under investigation.

Peking's announcement was the first word of the capture of Miss Harbert and McLaughlin, and no information about them was available in Hong Kong. Informed sources said American authorities here had not known they were in China.

Two other Americans are known to be still imprisoned in China: Air Force Capt. Phillip E. Smith, whose plane was shot down over the Gulf of Tonkin in September 1965, and Lt. Robert J. Flynn, a U.S. Navy pilot presumed shot down over China's Kwangsi Province in August, 1967.

Navy Lt. Joseph Dunn, whose plane was shot down off China's Hainan Island in February, 1968, is listed as missing on the Chinese mainland.

The government spokesman said Fecteau looked healthy and wore a blue Chinese suit with blue cap. Miss Harbert, in Western-style clothes, appeared healthy but rather thin," the spokesman said.

Fecteau and Downey were captured in 1952 during the Korean war when a military plane on which they were passengers was shot down on a flight from Japan to Korea.

The Chinese charged that Fecteau and Downey, who were listed as Army civilian employes, were on a mission for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency dropping Nationalist Chinese spies. The United States denied the charge repeatedly.

CLEMENCY

Fecteau served 19 years of a 20-year sentence. He and Downey were visited last month by Downey's mother, Mrs. Mary Downey, 74, who told newsmen afterward that her son looked "well and in good spirits." Mrs. Downey predicted commutation of her son's sentence and said Fecteau was due for release soon.

In the Azores, where he is meeting with French President Georges Pompidou, President Nixon welcomed "the act of clemency."

"The President welcomes the act of the People's Republic of China in commuting the life sentence of John T. Downey... and the releasing of Richard Fecteau," presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said. "He also welcomes the release from detention of Miss Mary Ann Harbert. The fact that Mr. Fecteau and Miss Harbert will now be able to spend Christmas with their families is a matter of particular pleasure to the President."

Ziegler said Henry A. Kissinger brought appeals from Nixon on behalf of the Americans held prisoner in China when he went to Peking in July and October to arrange the President's forthcoming trip there.

Indigents Must Be Given Free Records Of Trials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today that indigent defendants in nonfelony cases must be given free records of their trials, including a full transcript where necessary, for the purpose of appeals.

The ruling by a unanimous court had the effect of overturning an Illinois Supreme Court rule which provides free trial transcripts only for felony cases.

"The size of the defendant's pocketbook bears no more relationship to his guilt or innocence in a nonfelony than in a felony case," the high court said.

DEMONSTRATION

The indigents' ruling came in the case of Jack L. Mayer, who was convicted of disorderly conduct and interfering with an officer during an antiwar demonstration in Chicago on Sept. 14, 1969.

Mayer told the court that when he tried to appeal his conviction he was told the transcript of his trial would cost him $300. Mayer said he did not have the money, but the state refused to provide a free transcript under the Illinois Supreme Court rule.

The state's refusal to give him a transcript, Mayer argued, discriminates against citizens on the basis of wealth since poor people without money to buy a transcript were unable to appeal.

The Illinois Supreme Court rule provides for transcripts for indigents appealing felony convictions but not for persons convicted of minor offenses.

In a 1956 ruling the Supreme Court had held, in another Illinois case, that destitute defendants generally must be given an opportunity for appeal equal to that available to defendants with enough money to buy transcripts.

MINOR CASES

Today's ruling extends the principle to minor cases.

The court said the city of Chicago was urging it to re-examine the 1956 decision to allow exceptions in its state court rules.

"We declined to do so," the court said.

"For it is now fundamental that once established, avenues of appellate review must be kept free of unreasoned distinctions that can only impede open and equal access to the courts."

The high court said its mandate for a record of sufficient completeness for an appeal did not automatically mean that a complete verbatim transcript must be supplied.

"We emphasize, however, that the state must provide a full verbatim record where that is necessary to assure the indigent as effective an appeal as would be available to the defendant with resources to pay his own way," said the opinion written by Justice William J. Brennan Jr.

CRYSTAL CLEAR

Moreover, where the grounds of appeal, as in this case, make out a colorable need for a complete transcript, the burden is on the state to show that only a portion of the transcript or an "alternative" will suffice for an effective appeal on those grounds," Brennan said.

Mayer, a third-year medical student at the time, said he was acting as a medic for the "Medical Committee for Human Rights" and was not participating in the demonstration. He said he ran afoul of police while trying to aid an injured man.

GUILTY PLEA Sentenced For Offering Kids For Sale

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — William O'Hara pleaded guilty today to offering to sell two small children for $7,000 and a $600 used automobile. He was sentenced to one year and three months in prison.

The Oklahoma City man made no statement except to offer his guilty plea and was promptly sentenced by Judge Everett Richardson in Criminal Court. He was taken to jail.

The only statement at the brief hearing was a summary by Asst. State Atty. David Carter.

He said O'Hara had brought Theresa Cox, 3, and Robert "Butch" Cox, 2, to Jacksonville and offered to sell them to a couple for $7,000 and a used automobile worth $600.

Police arrested O'Hara and a companion at the appointed time of the sale on Nov. 17. Charges against the companion were dropped later.

Dorothy Cox, mother of the children, was not in court.

Nor were the two children, who were in the city's Emergency Care and Protection Center for Juveniles.

Judge Clifford Shepard of Juvenile Court said he was waiting a report from the Florida Division of Family Services before deciding whether to return the children to their mother.

She denied any knowledge that O'Hara planned to sell them when she gave them into his care at Oklahoma City.

'IN BIG RUSH TO GET JOB FINISHED' Tunnel Blast Toll: 22

PORT HURON, Mich. (AP) — A former safety inspector on the Lake Huron water tunnel, where 22 men died in a violent explosion Saturday, charged today that his superiors had permitted safety violations so they could stay on schedule in construction of the huge facility.

The charges were leveled by Roger Roubaud, 30, of Mount Pleasant, Mich., in a copyright interview with the Detroit News. It was not immediately known why Roubaud left the project.

Roubaud said debris sometimes clogged the tunnel, causing shorts in electrical wiring.

"I wrote a memo to our project engineer at the time telling him the firm just would not take proper precautions," Roubaud said. "But my boss told me not to press it because we were in a big rush to get the job finished on time."

There was no immediate comment from those in charge of the project which is to supply water to metropolitan Detroit and some other communities.

Roubaud's charges were leveled almost at the hour that teams of federal and state investigators were slated to enter the six-mile-long tunnel shaft to see if there were any additional bodies and to seek clues as to the cause of the explosion that tossed men and machinery about in the tunnel.

Gerald Remus, general manager of the Detroit Metropolitan Water Services—DMWS—said it was impossible to tell how much damage had been done to the $120-million project which had been expected to supply water to Detroit by July.

WRECKAGE

Authorities said their first concern was to probe some of the tangled wreckage to see if any more workmen had been pinned under the debris.

Roubaud, who worked on the project for about a year before he left May 21, said, "the whole project was just full of negligence. I am just amazed that the horrible working conditions did not cause something like this a long time ago."

Remus was at the tunnel area today to direct the search for possible additional bodies.

"We think we have all of them out," said Gerald Remus, a project official. "But if you saw that tangled-up mess of debris, you'd understand how somebody could still be down there."

Investigators still were uncertain today what caused Saturday's blast, which rumbled through the six-mile-long tunnel some 230 feet below the lake surface. Eight workers also were injured.

INDIAN TROOPS Close Ring On Dacca

By The Associated Press

Two more Indian brigades helicoptered into battle near Dacca today to join Indian assaults closing in on the threatened East Pakistan capital on two fronts, Pakistan reported.

Senior Pakistani officers in the beleaguered city said their defenses were crumbling under the Indian thrusts. They predicted an attack on the city itself by Tuesday.

But correspondents in Dacca cabled in a pool dispatch that Pakistan's eastern military commander, Lt. Gen. A.A.K. Niazi, was determined not to surrender. And Radio Pakistan said the Pakistani forces were "putting up stiff resistance."

NO WAY

The fresh Indian attacks were reported near Tangail, 50 miles northwest of Dacca, and Narsingdi, about 30 miles south of the city. A spokesman, in the first Pakistani acknowledgement that the Indians were close to Dacca, claimed both Pakistani troops engaged both assaults.

However, Indian military spokesmen reported Sunday that Narsingdi has already fallen and Indian troops have passed through it on their way to Dacca. With newsmen unable to visit the front, there was no way of verifying the conflicting claims.

The Pakistani spokesman in Rawalpindi, West Pakistan, said their defenders apparently were unable to halt an Indian paratrooper assault advancing on Dacca from the north and a second Indian column nearing the city from the east.

Prime Rate Whacked

NEW YORK (AP) — Morgan Guaranty Trust Co., the nation's fifth-largest bank, today cut its prime lending rate from 5½ to 5¼ per cent, effective immediately.

The prime rate is the interest charged by banks to their best corporate customers and reductions make money more readily available to businesses. Morgan Guaranty said the cut reflected its evaluation of "money market conditions and loan demand, which has been soft."

Welch Youth Dies In Farm Accident

LAMESA (SC) — Alan Dale Raney, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Raney, of the Welch community, was killed Sunday in a farm accident in the Higginbotham community 15 miles southwest of here.

According to reports from the sheriff's office, the youngster was missing from 10:30 a.m. Sunday to 5:15 p.m., when he was found dead in a cotton trailer.

Justice of the Peace A. L. Standefer ruled the death, "death by asphyxiation, an accident."

Sheriff's officers reported that the child had apparently climbed into the trailer because of the cold and had fallen asleep. The trailer was then filled with cotton, burying the lad. He was not found until the trailer reached the gin, and workers began to remove the cotton.

Services will be Tuesday in the First Baptist Church of Lamesa with Rev. J. R. Williams, pastor of the Welch Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial will be in the Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Alan was born April 19, 1961, in Lamesa. He was a student in the Dawson School located at Welch, and was also active in the local 4-H Club.

Survivors include his parents; one sister, Lynda Raney, and one brother, Eddie Raney, both of the home; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Raney, Welch; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Newborough, Lamesa; three great-grandmothers, Mrs. T. H. Calhoun, Lamesa, Mrs. Alma Raney, Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Nora Mitchell, Welch.

BY THE OLD FIREPLACE — Lewis M. Robbins, one of the many residents of Philadelphia's Society Hill section, lays a fire in a fireplace in his restored home. His house, like many of the others in the historic section of Philadelphia, is furnished with invaluable antiques.

Renewal For The Wealthy

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Fifteen years ago, Society Hill, a historically rich area adjoining Independence Mall, was a deteriorating, low-rent, blighted area with the highest rate of tuberculosis in the city.

Now it is one of the city's prestige neighborhoods; an Alice-in-wonderland community of exquisitely restored colonial homes, tree-lined cobblestone streets, brick sidewalks and Franklin lamps.

Society Hill was conceived and executed as renewal for the wealthy, with no provision for those of low income. If such a proposal were put forth today, it probably would never get past the discussion stage.

There was little controversy when the idea was proposed for the stretch of land along the Delaware River. The city moved in and gave residents the option of restoring their homes or being relocated. Most of the residents left.

The affluent live on Society Hill and for them the 111-acre project is the answer to dreams of a perfect neighborhood.

Stores are convenient. The downtown business district, where residents work as doctors, lawyers, stock brokers and bankers, is only a couple of minutes away.

With an estimated 90 per cent of the project complete, the renewal has exceeded expectations of planners. They point to these signs of success: —In 1960, the population was 3,378. Currently it is 4,702, an increase of 39 per cent.

—Housing units increased 65 per cent, from 1,622 in 1960 to 2,678.

Stans Acquires Interest In Thailand Paper Firm

WASHINGTON (AP) — A private foundation controlled by Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans has acquired since he took office an interest in a Thailand paper company which directly benefits from U.S. government cash and other assistance.

In response to written questions from the Associated Press, Stans called the $24,302 investment in Siam Kraft Paper Co. "very minor," said he got no income from the Stans Foundation, and "couldn't conceive" of any tax breaks normally associated with such foundations as being available to him.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST "There is nothing whatsoever in this situation that could conceivably involve conflict of interest," Stans said.

Disclosure of Stans' involvement in the Thailand company, founded on a $14-million loan from the U.S. Export-Import Bank, and extended last year, marks the second time in recent months that questions have been raised about the secretary's financial holdings.

In February it was disclosed he held a $318,000 interest in a Penn Central subsidiary at the time his department was engaged in secret negotiations to save the railroad from bankruptcy.

At that time, Stans said he had disqualified himself from efforts to help Penn Central after attending one high-level meeting.

Tax returns for the Stans Foundation, which list Stans as president and his wife and four children as directors, show it acquired 2,667 shares of Siam Kraft in 1969 when the company was chaired by a Thai major general, managed by an American consulting firm and headed for large initial operating losses.

REAL ESTATE It got the shares from another Nixon appointee, Henry Kearns, president of the Export-Import Bank.

The foundation, Kearns and a New York investment firm, then headed by Stans, had been partners for a year in a separate real estate venture, Thai Industrial Estates.

A spokesman for Kearns and an officer of the investment firm, Glore-Forgan-Wm. R. Staats, said no real estate ever was purchased or developed although tax returns for the foundation show its initial $4,143 investment had grown to $20,851 by the end of 1968.

James Lynch, Glore-Forgan vice president, said he didn't recall when the partnership was dissolved, but that Stans shares were distributed in July 1969 to pay off the real estate investment.

Kearns founded Siam Kraft in 1965 with the Export-Import Bank loan plus other backing from four American banks, an insurance company and the General Electric Pension trust.

Questioned closely by the Senate Banking Committee about his $750,000 interest in the company, which produces paper bags, Kearns pledged to put his holdings in a blind trust and divorce himself from any Export-Import Bank efforts to help the firm.

Kearns declined a reporter's request for an interview, but Don Bostwick, the bank's executive vice president, said

"is and will continue to be totally dissociated with Siam Kraft Paper."

Stans also put his personal stocks and bonds into a blind trust, telling the Senate Commerce Committee he wished to avoid "circumstances which might imply any potential conflict of interest."

But he retained personal control of the foundation, plus real estate holdings in three states.

CONTROL The foundation, established in 1945, increased in new worth from $501,000 in 1962 to $1.39 million by the end of last year, according to its tax returns. The returns show a $319,514 increase in 1970 alone.

The foundation's tax returns for 1969 and 1970 list Stans as devoting parttime to its operation, but he said in response to a question "I have had no transactions with the foundation for years."

Foundation experts with the House Banking Committee say there are numerous tax benefits available to those who control foundations, with one of the most common being avoidance of capital gains taxes.

'Good Crowd' For 'Messiah'

More than 500 persons attended the 14th annual presentation of "The Messiah" Sunday.

The crowd, while not as outstanding as in past years when it was necessary to put up extra chairs in the aisle, was rated as a "good crowd," by Ralph Dowden, choir director.

More than a month of planning went into the presentation which featured Dowden, tenor soloist, Henry Sellers, Midland, bass soloist, Mrs. Joseph Dawes, alto soloist, and Mrs. Don Newsom, soprano soloist.

Mrs. Carl Bradley was unable to participate due to illness, and her parts were performed by Mrs. Dawes and Mrs. Newsom.

The choir had approximately 50 members from the First United Methodist Church chancel choir, the Howard County Junior College Choir and assorted other church choirs in town.

The Permian Basin Chamber Music Society, conducted by James Gambino, performed the instrumental music. Mrs. Mary Skalicky was organist.

Land Back In County

Instead of spending money today, Howard County commissioners received $4,328.08 in back taxes on land adjacent to Kentwood Addition No. 2 prior to reverting 89.1 acres of former city land back to county acreage.

Ted O. Groebel requested the change, and he told the commissioners that the land had been de-annexed by the city, and that Big Spring Independent School District had converted the land back to county acreage on its tax rolls. According to Groebel, the land is unimproved with no fencing or structures on it.

In other action, commissioners voted to advertise for purchase bids on two 1969 sedans used by the Howard County Sheriff's Department. Bids will be received sometime after Jan. 1.

Andrews County Chamber of Commerce wrote to County Judge A. G. Mitchell and members of the court expressing gratitude for the commissioners' cooperation in the S.H. 176 widening project between Big Spring and Andrews. Commissioners approved payment of county bills and adjourned.

Investment Fund Started In 1921

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — More than $200,000 representing the first distribution of money under a 500-year investment fund started in 1921 will be released Wednesday to an Indianapolis alcoholic treatment hospital.

The fund was established by a resolution of the Indiana General Assembly from the estate of Charles W. Fairbanks, a former vice president of the United States, in memory of his wife, Cornelia Cole Fairbanks.

Under terms of the resolution, $50,000 was invested for a period of 500 years, with interest or income from the investment to be distributed every 50 years to a worthwhile civic purpose in Indianapolis.

The first distribution of $207,000 will be made in ceremonies Wednesday to the new Cornelia Cole Fairbanks Memorial Hospital. The money was earmarked for the hospital two years ago by the board of trustees which administers the fund.

The hospital opened last May.

To Make Profit Abolishing Smoke

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — A sawmill owner told a county air pollution control agency Thursday he will not only be able to comply with its directive to get rid of his smoke, but will make a profit doing it.

Robert B. McClure of the McClure Timber Co. already has eliminated half his burning operations. He has found a manufacturer who is using as raw material the sawdust McClure formerly burned.

This left the problem of what to do with the bark, which McClure has been burning. He told the pollution agency he will buy a hammer mill to grind it and will sell it as a soil builder.

Edgar C. Jones, chairman of the agency, the Mecklenburg County Air Pollution Control Advisory Committee, commented, "He's going to sell his smoke."

Keeping In Touch For Fresh Thrust

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Jesse Jackson, who has severed his ties with the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, is keeping in touch with other civil rights leaders in an effort to determine his next course of action, aides say.

"We will be joining the Rev. Jackson in a new thrust," the Rev. David Wallace, an administrative assistant to the former SCLC leader here, said Sunday.

But Wallace reiterated Jackson's statement Saturday that there were no immediate plans to form a new organization.

Jackson announced Saturday that he was resigning effective Dec. 17 as national director of Operation Breadbasket, economie arm of the SCLC. The resignation stemmed from a dispute over how Jackson was running the organization.

Wallace also said he and three other paid staffers of Operation Breadbasket would resign this week. Their action, he explained, would follow the resignations of the 35 unpaid members on the SCLC's board of directors here.

In Atlanta, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, head of the SCLC, said he had made no attempts to communicate with Jackson. But he added that Jackson's departure would not mean the end for the SCLC in Chicago.

"No person is indispensable," Abernathy said.

Winds Brisk In Panhandle

By The Associated Press A weak high pressure system blustered into the Texas Panhandle today while cloudiness and some precipitation blanketed portions of the Gulf Coast.

The National Weather Service said the cold front would reach Central Texas by this afternoon, bringing possible rain into South, Southeast and Northeast Texas.

Winds were brisk and southerly in the Panhandle this morning while temperatures were mostly in the 30s in western sections and in the 50s in southern and eastern sectors.

Temperatures in North Central Texas dipped into the 30s, also, before dawn.

Residential Rent, Health Costs Guidelines Looming

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Price Commission is moving toward setting guidelines for residential rent and health costs, which have been in economic limbo since the freeze ended four weeks ago.

CAN'T WAIT A commission spokesman said Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. put the two items on the agenda for the panel's regular weekly meeting today and Tuesday, although still awaiting recommendations from two advisory panels.

"He just doesn't think we can wait any longer," the spokesman said. Announcement of any decision probably would come late Tuesday or Wednesday.

Meanwhile, a Pay Board spokesman said that panel soon will issue long-awaited forms for reporting big wage agreements. Reports are due by the end of the month, but so far the board has failed to decide what paperwork should be involved.

However, the Pay Board was reported far from agreement on clarifying what special circumstances will justify raises higher than 5.5 per cent a year. A proposal placed before the board last week would require advance approval of any agreement that exceeded that general limit, no matter how few workers are covered.

GRUMBLING Both pay and price panels have caused grumbling because of delays in knotting the many loose ends still flapping from post-freeze wage and price controls. "Somehow we can't seem to settle anything without a big argument," one Pay Board participant complained last week.

Congress, which also has been accused of stalling on economic matters, nearly wrapped up that work last week. It passed tax-cut legislation which President Nixon signed into law, and sent a wage-price control bill to a joint conference committee of the Senate and House to work out a final compromise.

Also last week the Pay Board approved the new railroad signalmen's agreement, scheduled a review of a pattern-setting contract in the aerospace industry and patched up a spat with a subordinate panel that regulates pay in the construction trades.

FREEZE RULES The Price Commission was relatively dormant, approving a 3.6-per-cent average increase for all U.S. Steel mill products while awaiting word from advisory panels on health costs and rent.

Rents present a particularly tough problem for the Price Commission. Commercial, farm and industrial rents are free from any federal controls, but residential rents have remained subject to stringent freeze rules pending Rent Advisory Board recommendations.

The Price Commission also is awaiting recommendations from the Committee on the Health Services Industry.

March To Tip Of Plantation

SAIGON (AP) — Moving under an umbrella of U.S. planes and helicopters, 6,000 South Vietnamese troops launched today their deepest penetration of eastern Cambodia in nearly a year with a North Vietnamese divisional headquarters as their target.

As nightfall approached, two columns of the three-prong drive had reached the southern edges of the 75-square-mile Chup rubber plantation. One was reported only three miles from the town of Chup, on Highway 7.

MOVING BACK There were no reports of contact with the enemy. South Vietnamese intelligence officers said the North Vietnamese had been shifted last week from the headquarters in the plantation to help defend the Dam Be base area to the east, the objective of a Saigon thrust then.

According to the intelligence reports, the North Vietnamese are now moving back and are along the northern edges of the sprawling plantation.

South Vietnamese officers said their immediate objective was to seize the town of Chup. Chup is on the eastern bank of the Mekong river, 110 miles northwest of Saigon and 85 miles from the border. The French plantation was the scene of hard fighting during the first allied invasion of Cambodia in May 1970 and again last February.

The plantation has suffered heavy damage from U.S. and South Vietnamese air strikes and is virtually inoperative. The U.S. Command said American B52 bombers pounded the plantation last week, apparently softening it up for the South Vietnamese sweep.

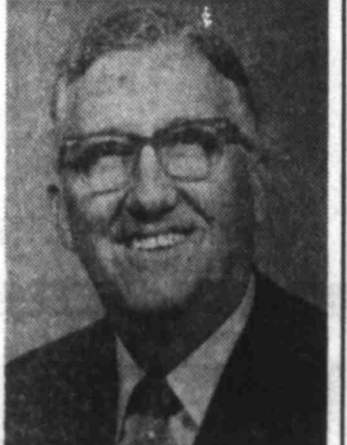

TUNNELS COLLAPSED "Large numbers of bunkers were uncovered," an American spokesman said. "Tunnels collapsed, and there were a great many secondary explosions, indicating hits on fuel and ammunition stores."

South Vietnamese officers said a defector told them the B52s wiped out a regimental headquarters and two battalions.

The drive is a new phase of a 25,000-man offensive into eastern Cambodia begun Nov. 22 to destroy enemy supplies, disrupt communications lines and forestall a dry-season invasion by three North Vietnamese divisions into South Vietnam.

Davy Jones' Locker To Get New Tenant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Davy Jones' locker may get a new tenant next month: the men-only tradition at the U.S. Naval Academy.

New York Sen. Jacob K. Javits, who upset a Senate tradition earlier by nominating a girl page, concedes there may be a few old Navy hands flustered by the rustle of skirts on the Annapolis campus.

But he says antiwoman discrimination must go.

He is thinking of nominating a girl to Annapolis before the Jan. 31 deadline for academy selections.

If the Navy custom does sink, it may also sound taps for similar enrollment customs at other public military academies, including West Point and the Air Force Academy.

Javits, a World War II Army veteran, is conferring with Navy Secretary John H. Chafee about the school's admission standards and what changes would have to be made in curriculum and facilities to accommodate women. The Navy says it isn't sure whether there's any formal ban on girls. But all of the 4,200 students at Annapolis are men.

"We don't want to change the Navy," said Javits' administrative assistant, Frank Cummings, "but we do want to change the academy. If nominating a woman isn't to Navy's advantage, we won't do it."

Javits claims his drive is not aimed at putting a woman admiral in command of battle-ships.

Instead he feels that training at Annapolis would better equip women career officers for jobs they already are doing.

"You don't want to send midshipwomen on a summer cruise to train them to be combat officers," said Cummings, who is in charge of strategy to forge an Annapolis beachhead. "So

Snow Alerts For Nevada

By The Associated Press

Snow and cold weather remained over the western mountains today, bringing heavy snow warnings to northeastern Nevada and northern Utah. Rain and thunderstorms dotted the Pacific Coast and light showers dampened parts of the lower Great Lakes and Atlantic Coast states.

Over most of the country, however, clear skies and warmer than usual temperatures were the rule. Unseasonably warm weather continued in the Southeast, with many localities reporting temperatures in the 60s and 70s early in the morning.

Four inches of additional snow fell on Austin, Nev., in a six-hour period, while one inch fell in the same period on Spokane, Wash., Pendleton, Ore., West Yellowstone, Mont., and Ely, Nev.

One thunderstorm deposited hail on Fort Bragg, Calif.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 75 at Homestead and Fort Lauderdale, Fla., to six degrees below zero at Alexandria and Hibbing, Minn.

The National Weather Service predicted occasional snow or snow flurries from the western mountains to the northern Great Plains, with snow flurries from the Great Lakes to the hills of New England. Showers are expected in the southern Atlantic Coast states.

Shot To Death While Walking

DALLAS (AP) — Dean Densman, 24, was shot to death Sunday night while walking from a restaurant with a young woman.

Witnesses told police they saw the killer's pistol and arm protrude from a nearby doorway just before the fatal shots were fired.

Police said the woman, about 21, fled.

A man was taken into custody.

Fatal Stabbing

DALLAS (AP) — Wanda Collins, 33, was found beaten and stabbed to death here Sunday on a city street.

Officers said the woman's undergarments were found neatly stacked with her purse and coat about 10 feet from the body.

She had been beaten, stabbed several times and her throat slashed.

Rains Gifts At Portland

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — It rained Christmas presents in Portland.

An unidentified Navy Reserve flier, was on his way home to Pleasanton, Calif., with four cartons of gifts for his family from relatives in Portland Sunday when the bomb bay of the jet fighter apparently opened accidentally.

The presents were scattered throughout north Portland. Police were alerted, but they said no presents had been recovered.

House And Senate Press Toward Month's Vacation

WASHINGTON (AP) — The current session of Congress faces a final controversy over a familiar issue, foreign aid, as House and Senate press toward adjournment and a month's vacation.

Congressional leaders plan to quit for the year before midweek—and Senate Republicans are urging a drive to wind up things tonight.

Four must measures await final action but only one, a temporary settlement of the longdeadlock over foreign aid, is likely to force much delay. A half-dozen senators may have something to say on that measure.

Sens. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., Alan Cranston, D-Calif., and Stuart Symington, D-Mo., reportedly agreed Saturday to stage a debate against the measure. That could block adjournment.

The measure they are opposing is a resolution to authorize continued foreign-aid spending until March 15, at a rate equal to about $2.6 billion a year.

The regular appropriation for foreign aid has not passed Congress because a bill to authorize the spending is still deadlocked between House and Senate.

The issue behind the stalemate is a Senate amendment, sponsored by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, calling for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina within six months, provided U.S. prisoners of war are released.

The administration and its House allies are adamantly opposed to that amendment; Senate negotiators have refused to budge on the issue, and the authorization bill is therefore blocked.

To get around that barrier, Senate leaders agreed to consideration of the resolution for temporary aid financing, with the whole issue coming due again in the next session.

U. S. Gains Major Trade Concessions

HONOLULU (AP) — The United States gained major trade concessions from the Japanese in weekend talks here, but not so much as the Americans bargained for, Japanese spokesmen say.

The same spokesmen indicated that the American failure to win all its goals could dim prospects for agreement on international monetary realignment at the Group of Ten meetings in Washington Friday and Saturday. The Group of Ten consists of the 10 wealthiest non-Communist trading nations.

Japan will unilaterally reduce tariffs on 30 items, hopefully by April, 1972, Japanese Customs Bureau Director Katsura Akahane announced Sunday at the close of the two-day session between high-ranking American and Japanese trade officers.

The Japanese also will eliminate import quotas on four items and offered to reduce Japanese auto import tariffs from 10 to 8 per cent if the United States would lift its 10 per cent import surcharge on Japanese goods.

Japanese tariffs will be reduced on items including cosmetics, electrical appliances, refrigerators, wristwatches, cameras and beef tallow. Import quotas will be ended on ham and sausage, refined sugar, tomato puree and cattle feed.

Costa Rican Guardsmen Gun Down One Skyjacker

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — Three men armed with guns and knives hijacked a Nicaraguan jetliner Sunday and directed it to Cuba. But when they landed in San Jose to refuel, the 49 passengers were let off, the five crew members escaped, and Costa Rican national guardsmen flushed the hijackers out with tear gas and killed one of them.

One of the passengers, Alfonso Lovo Blandon, the son of Nicaragua's agriculture minister, was wounded by a bullet reportedly fired by one of the hijackers. He was hospitalized in satisfactory condition.

The Lanica Airlines BAC111 was on a flight from Miami to Managua, the capital of Nicaragua. The three hijackers boarded at San Salvador.

Upon landing in San Jose, the passengers were permitted to leave, and President Jose Figueres of Costa Rica told the hijackers from the airport control tower there would be no reprisals if they released the crew unharmed.

The hijackers refused, and the national guardsmen opened up with tear gas. The crew members jumped out of a window, and as the hijackers left the plane one of them opened fire. The guardsmen returned the fire, killing him. He was identified as Paul Arana, believed to be a Nicaraguan.

The two other men, also believed to be Nicaraguans, were arrested.

Prefers Jail

ROUYN, Que. (AP) — Charles Denomme appeared before a judge on a charge of being drunk in a public place, pleaded guilty and was fined $40 or 15 days in jail. Denomme came back two days later and accepted the jail sentence, saying to the judge that it was comfortable in jail.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

DATING PLAN: (Q) My mother and I are having a small discussion about dating. I am 14 and won't be 15 until summer. I'm a freshman. If you were my mother and I gave you the following set of rules would you let me date?

1) She would have to know or meet the boy beforehand and she would have to approve of him.

2) I would have to tell her what time I would be home and where we were going. (She would be able to approve or not.)

3) If we decided to change our plans for the evening, I would phone her so she would know where I was.

4) I would date only one night a week. (Exceptions could be made but not too often.)

5) I would not single-date. I would either double-date or group-date (a bunch of kids together fooling around).

6) She would be able to disapprove any time she wished, but it would have to be within reason.

What would you say to that plan if you were my mother?

If this additional information will help: I know right from wrong. I am a decent girl and believe girls and boys should go out to have a good time. I have a personal set of rules on what I should do and shouldn't do. I help around the house quite a bit.

I will show my mother my list of rules and your answer. — Waiting in Maine.

(A) The rules you set for yourself appear to me to be reasonable. They are also well-expressed. They show that you have a clear and logical mind and are not likely to be led astray by appeals to your emotions.

I have only one reservation about your plan. In many places in America girls don't ordinarily begin dating until they are 15.

In some places, however, there are exceptions. If you have girl friends your age who are dating, and if you could double-date or group-date with them, I think your proposal would be quite workable and deserves your mother's serious consideration.

'THEY SEE YOU AND THEY KNOW'

Messengers Of Death

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wars rage on in the minds of men who saw the slaughter, but Vietnam leaves another breed of soldier with memories equally grim: the messengers of death.

Their are visions not of the fighting, but of the front porch. Not of comrades dying, but of women crying and children bewildered. Not of heroism under fire, but the anguish of a father deprived of his son.

MY DUTY

As laid down by the book, the task has been simple. The speech, rarely necessary, is short, if brutal: "It is my duty to inform you of the death in Vietnam..."

"But you don't have to say it," recalls one former "notification officer." "They see you and they know."

"You can't help but get emotionally involved," says another. Army Chaplain Ralph Willers of nearby Ft. McNair.

"It's led to a number of poignant, tragic, heroic, and at times disgusting displays," said Willers, who has delivered the tidings on 34 occasions. "If you want to see the frailties of mankind, pull that kind of duty."

Ask almost any man who has pulled it, and he will tell you it was the most torturous experience of his soldiering life.

"The thing that gets to you worst is that you look at these people and you can see your own mother and father in the same situation," says Army Maj. Eugene Fudge, who commanded a combat helicopter battalion in Vietnam.

MUCH WORSE

Chaplain Willers, a lieutenant-colonel who also is fully familiar with the sight of men dying on the battlefield, observes that "When you see a man killed, there is a total, utter finality to it."

"But when you go to the family, it's much worse. Because you walk in and recognize tragedy is now just beginning for them."

The military-wide system of personal notification is unique to the war in Indochina, although it since has been expanded to include domestic and other non-combat deaths as well.

'DON'T TOUCH'

At that, it wasn't until the war heated up in 1966—and after a public furor spurred by Army wives at Ft. Benning, Ga.—that the Pentagon replaced the old practice of relaying bad news to relatives by commercial telegram.

Even with the drop in U.S. war casualties, there still are many instances each week in which a pilot, tank commander or a supply sergeant must face up to the grisly duty of bringing emotional devastation into the home of a man he did not know.

"The Secretary," he is instructed to say, "extends his deepest sympathy." The regulations call for any number of other "Dos" and "Don'ts." You "Don't touch," for example, "unless there is extreme shock or fainting" on the part of the widow.

It is hardest of all, doubtlessly, for those who have not done it before. Even those with the blood-and-guts reputations find their training left them ill-prepared for coping with the grief of a fatherless child.

In some cases, the notification officer also serves as "survivors assistance officer," meaning he is responsible for lending ongoing moral support, helping the family make funeral arrangements and handling all the red tape relating to survivor benefits. That can make the task doubly trying.

But the roughest moments belong to the notification officers, the men who stand at the door and helplessly await the draining of color, the numb, draining of color, he numb, tears, and then the painful, often unanswerable questions.

The most veteran members of the bad news bureau find there's no getting used to it; there's no hardening of the soul with experience.

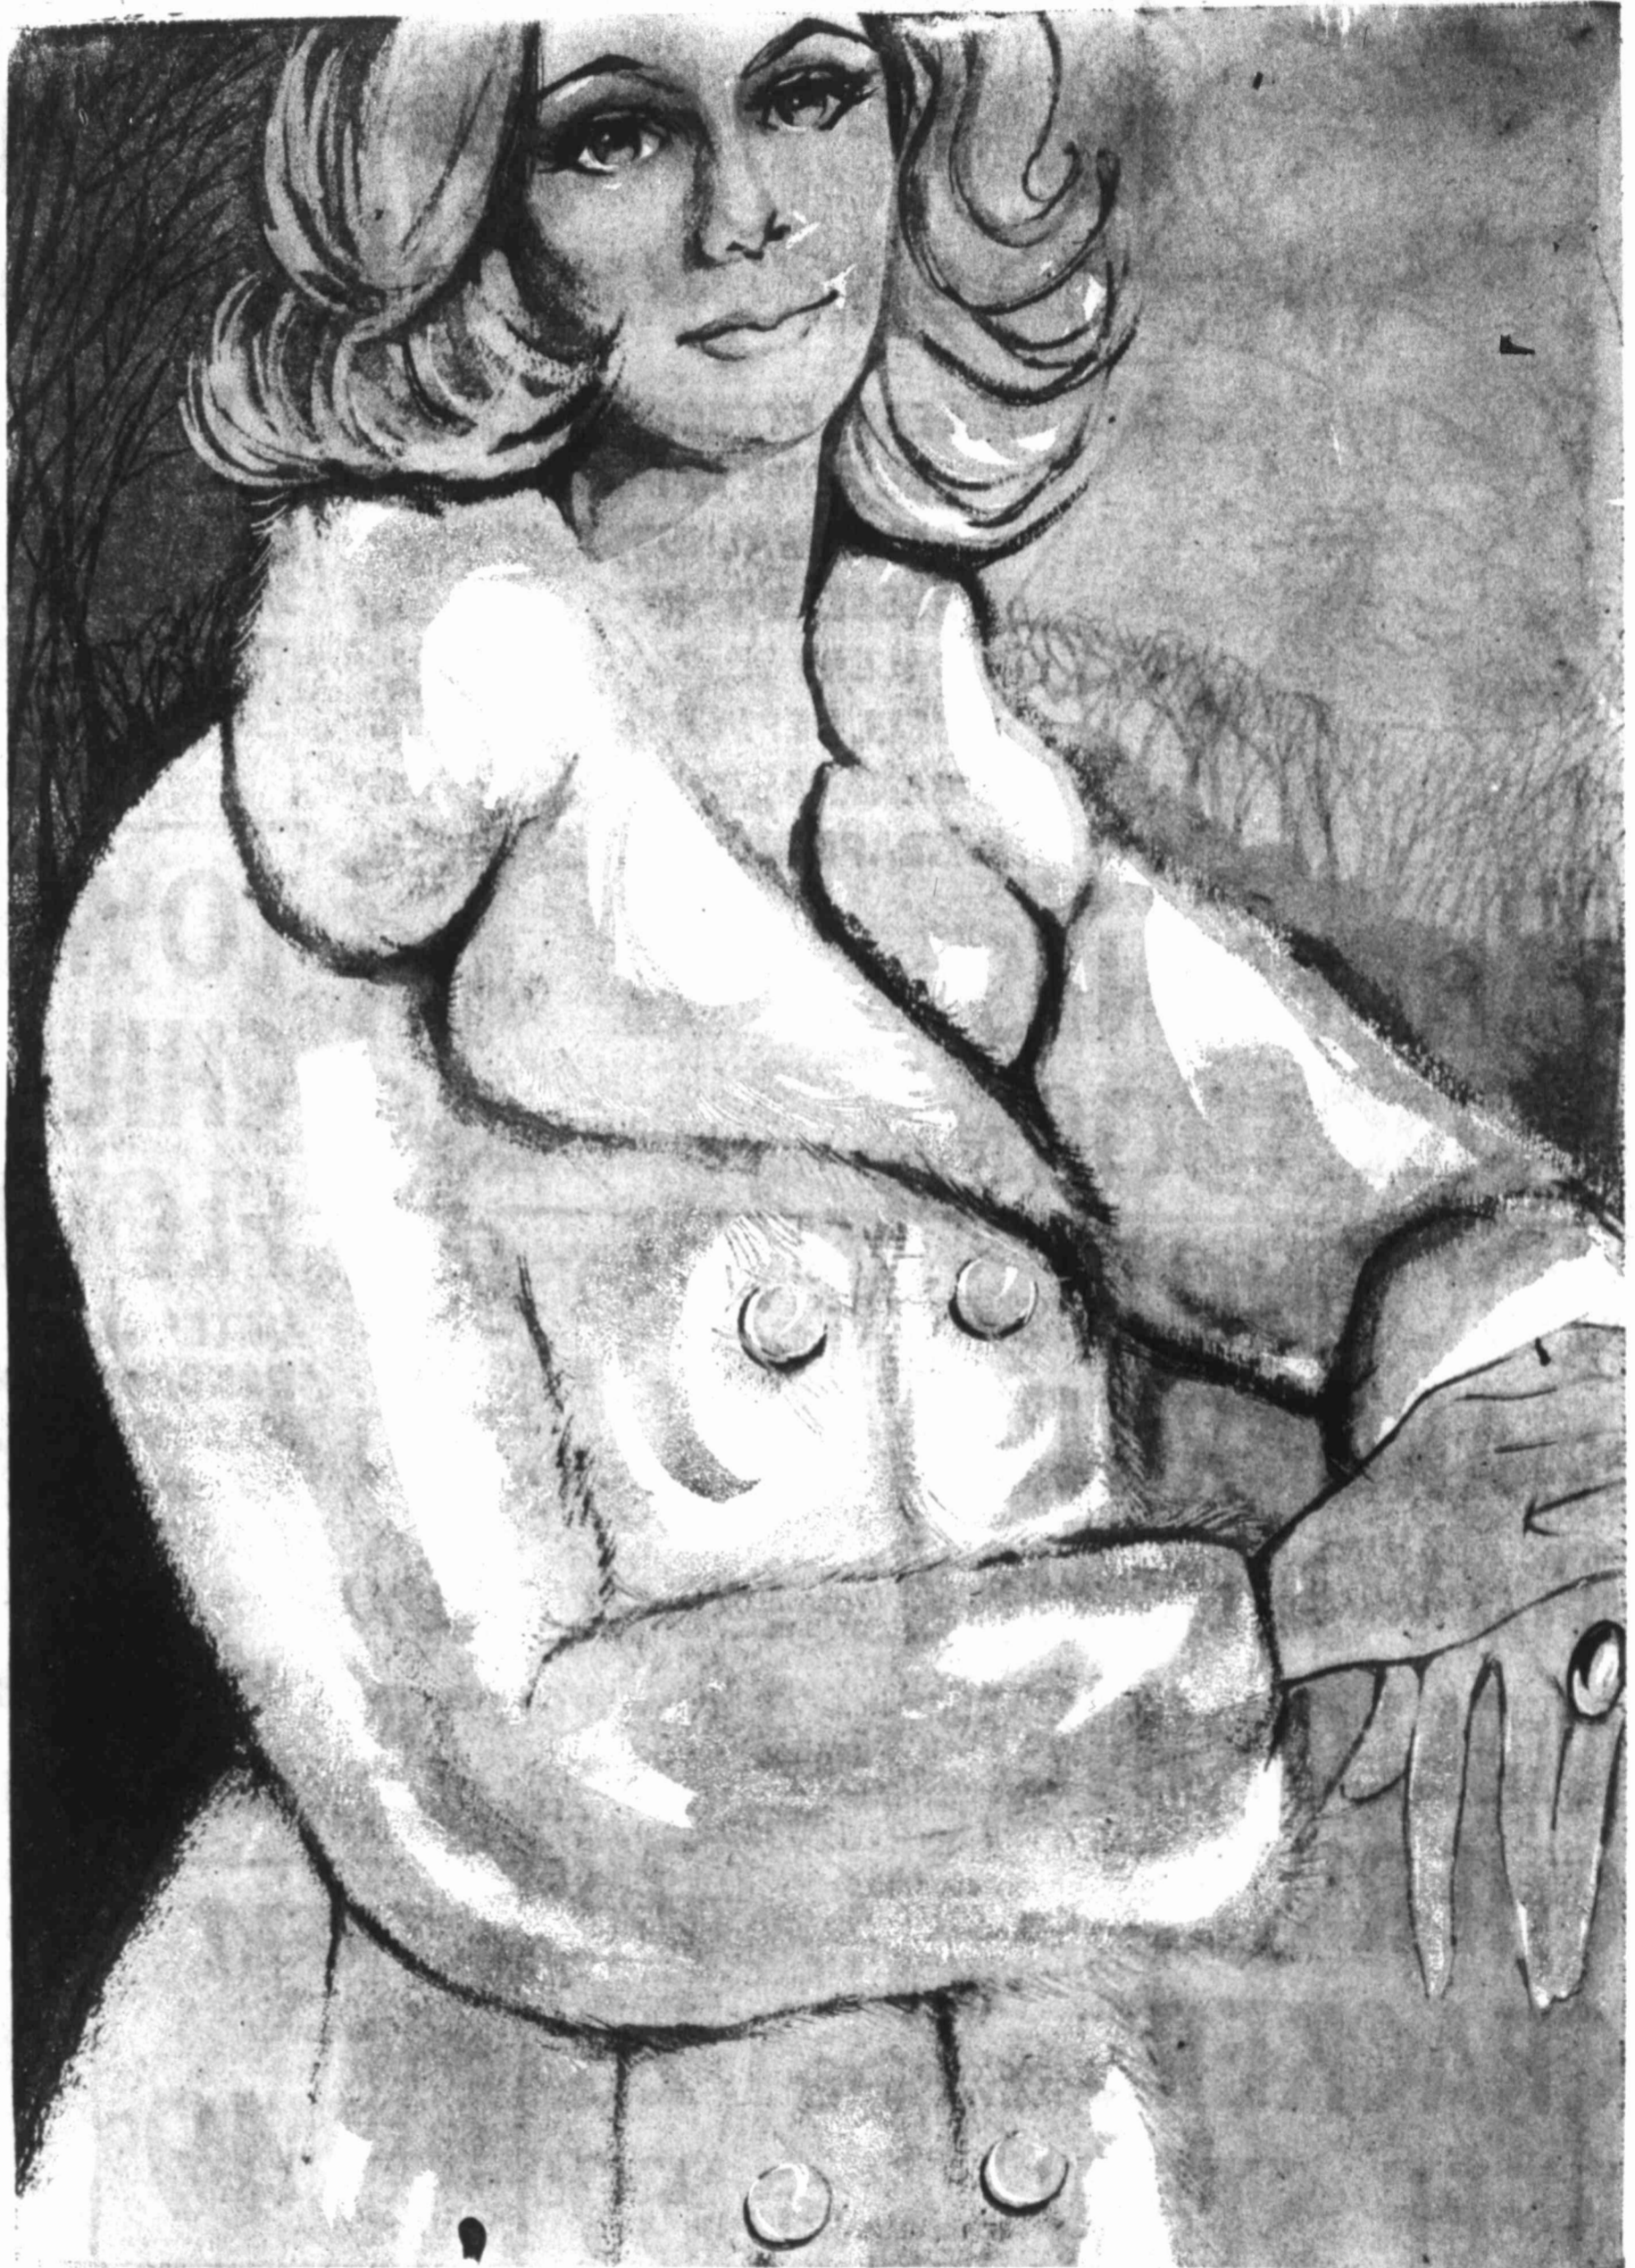

BAD NEWS

In most cases, notification officers have found it really isn't necessary to speak. Military families are aware of the procedure. Sometimes the sight of the green or blue sedan pulling up is enough to evoke the sobbing. And certainly, says Army Chaplain William K. Brock, "the minute you walk to the door they assume something is horribly wrong."

Burger Lousy, But This Is Rough

BOSTON (AP) — A short order cook was shot twice Friday by two men who complained he had given them "lousy cheeseburgers."

Eugene Windgate, 50, told police that after he served the men at the Roxie Diner in the Roxbury district Friday, one of them said, "This is the guy that gave us the lousy cheeseburgers." The man, said Windgate, pulled out a revolver and shot him in the chest. Then the second man took out a gun and shot the cook in the stomach.

Windgate was hospitalized and reported in satisfactory condition.

After a brief business discussion, during which the club donated funds to the Westside Community Center crafts class, Mrs. Callihan told a seasonal story, "Christmas at Grinders' Switch." The group sang carols, accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Cantrell.

The Jan. 14 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. J. P. Gordon.

Hard Water Can Up Heating Cost

Hard water can cause trouble in the operation of water heaters says Hobart Mitchell, general manager of Culligan Water Conditioning of Houston, Inc.

Water heaters become encrusted with rock-like hard water scale. This increases water heating costs and can cause premature "burn-out" of the heater.

This scale is eliminated when soft water is used. In addition, water heating costs are reduced by as much as 25 per cent.

A LOVELIER YOU Has Gift Giving Lost Warmth Of Meaning?

By MARY SUE MILLER

Do you sometimes think the true pleasures of the coming holiday season have escaped you? Gifts were once knitted, baked and whittled. Effort, time and thought went into them. A homemade gift, although a trifle, was rewarding to give, to receive.

Of course, in these frenetic times, the very idea of making everything you give may seem less feasible than tucking 10-carat diamonds in the toes of all your friends' stockings. But a few evenings devoted to homework would conjure up the smell and warmth and sense of holiday.

A young mother of six we know, bakes two dozen fruit cakes with all children pitching in to help. A teen makes marvelous bread and freezes it until delivery time. Aunt M. contributes whole-cranberry sauce in decorative glass jars. If you happen to pop in on the action, the scene and the fragrance bring tears of nostalgia to your eyes.

One fragrance memory begets another of a different sort. Potpourri and pomander come to mind. Storebought, both are elegant. Fashioned by loving hands they are just as sweet. The ingredients are found at health-food shops and ecology-minded drugstores. To list but a few of the possible ingredients, there's rose petals, lavender flowers,orrisroot, quality cloves, cinnamon, benzoin, oil of sandalwood, lemon, geranium, tincture of musk. Let the purveyors guide you. Have a merry!

American Christmas Observed First By Columbus, Indians

"Christmas in America" was discussed by Mrs. Margaret White for Modern Woman's Forum Friday at its annual Christmas luncheon in the home of Mrs. Mary Brown, 1606 Wood.

Mrs. White read excerpts from the book, "America's Christmas Heritage" by Ruth Cole Kainen. She said American Christmas celebrations began during Columbus' search for the Spice Islands. On Christmas Eve, 1742 his flagship ran aground at Santo Domingo, and he and his men were saved by native Indians. The next day they feasted together. Columbus later built a small fortress and named it "La Navidad" for the Nativity, to honor Christmas and to give thanks for their rescue.

"Every nationality that came to the United States added something to the bounty and wealth of our American Christmas," said Mrs. White, "and in the United States, Christmas has everything."

Mrs. White said Christmas belongs primarily to children, and that the rest of the world can best enjoy it by viewing it through the eyes of a child because it is the "birthday of the most extraordinary child ever born."

Mrs. J. P. Dodge read two poems entitled "This Christmas Time" and "Christmas and Always." Cohostesses for the meeting were Mrs. H. M. Rowe and Mrs. J. S. Sims.

The White home was decorated throughout with holiday decorations, and gifts were exchanged. The invocation was by Mrs. W. A. Laswell.

The next meeting will be at 3 p.m., Jan. 14 in the home of Mrs. Ruby Martin, 1503 Vines.

Change In Tax Structure?

Texas are not yet staggering under the load of the local property tax as residents of other states are. But the tax has already been a factor in the rejection of school and municipal bond issues in a number of locations in the state.

An alternative of a sort is being considered by the Nixon administration and the House Ways and Means Committee. It is contained in a proposal to encourage states and cities to rely more on income taxes to finance state and local governments.

The magnitude of this shift in emphasis from property taxes is indicated by the Tax Foundation, Inc., which estimates that the tax provided $29.60 billion of the $33.19 billion collected by local governments in the period ending in mid-1969. The state property tax has gradually been phased out — less than $60 million a year is now collected by the state. But the property tax is the main financial source for local taxing agencies.

The proposal has been sweetened by a "piggy-back" plan. The state would make its income tax provisions conform with the federal provisions, the federal government would collect the tax, and states would be relieved of the burden of a collection and enforcement bureaucracy.

It has become a fact of life, even in Texas, that the property tax can no longer be depended on to finance local government. The sales tax, which can produce almost $200 million a year for each 1-cent levy, has practical limits: 5 to 6 per cent may be the maximum acceptable to the people, some experts estimate.

This leaves the income tax, which measures with considerable accuracy the ability to pay. Less regressive than the sales tax or the property tax, the income tax expands or contracts with the economy as a whole. The income tax yield might to some degree supplement the property tax, although some relief might be granted property owners.

The debate over "piggy-back" and other reform is just beginning. But it is of special significance to school districts, especially in Texas, where court decisions suggest that the entire system of unequal valuations and taxation may be unconstitutional. The issue may be before the special session of the Legislature next year. If not, it surely will be much on the minds of legislators when they meet in January, 1973.

Curious Appointments

The Texas Senate has been alerted to inform itself sufficiently about the composition of the new Texas Vending Commission. The commission is charged with regulating the booming coin-operated vending machines in Texas.

There is an apparent conflict between wholesale distributors of the machines and the independent operators and, at least, basis for an argument that the regulations unfairly favor the distributors. With all three places on the commission reserved for industry representatives going to the distributors, the Senate would seem remiss in its duty if it fails to probe the nominees with thorough caution.

As a matter of good principle, no board or commission charged with regulating any business should be dominated by members of the regulated business. The conflict of interest is bad for the business, the public and it tends to compromise high government officials.

Texas government needs a reprieve from that kind of taint.

Hooked On Pinballs

Around The Rim

Tommy Hart

This and that: A California man filed suit recently, seeking to recover $70,000 he maintains he lost playing dice and pinball machines in one bar over a period of 10 months.

HE STANDS little chance of recovering the money. The point here is that there are pinball machine addicts, hooked as surely as are people who are on narcotics.

They feel compelled to play the machines, whether or not there is any reward. They are prone to feed all the money they have into the mechanical devices that explode into brilliant life at the drop of a dime, then go out and borrow from a friend for another run at the machine.

A MEMBER of Gamblers Anonymous says a person gets hooked on pinball machines by hypnosis. Some contraptions offer free games as a reward. Others promise nothing, yet their owners usually look upon them as a gold mine simply because some of the citizenry can't resist playing them.

THE SIGNS displayed about the machines invariably read "For Amusement Only." To the regular who can't resist playing them, they offer a measure of fun while exacting a toll the addict can't always afford.

YOU, NO doubt, can identify with the little boy who came home from school the first day, the signs of concern etched about his face.

When his mother asked what his problem might be, the lad exclaimed: "I'm not going back. I can't read and I can't write. They won't let me talk, so what's the need?"

HAVE YOU heard the story about the slaveowner who appeared before the men confined to the galley in ancient times, after the oarsmen had just completed a record run?

"Men," he stated, "I have some good news and some bad news. You will want to know that the ship's captain has ordered an extra ration of rum for all hands. He's proud of you. Now for the bad news. As soon as he washes up, he wants to water ski."

Pro Sports Special?

Omar Burluson

WASHINGTON — Professional sports are a way of life for many Americans. Sports-minded people have much to enjoy, either as a spectator at games or looking at contests on television.

After the world baseball series ended, college and professional football moved in and are now nearing the end of their season. Professional basketball is very popular in the East, Midwest and in the Midsouthern states.

SPORTS ACTIVITY can provide much needed respite from the tensions and worry that responsible men and women feel when they apprise the affairs of a troubled world and as they face daily demands of routine living. Sports could seem to be one of the few remaining fields where revolutionary change is not present.

Professional sports, however, are now in the midst of litigation that could bring radical change in its structure and in some ways threaten its very existence.

THE UNITED STATES Senate is now conducting hearings on a bill which would allow professional basketball to merge its two leagues into one. This would require separate legislation since professional basketball as well as professional football, boxing and most other sports are covered by anti-trust laws. The law prevents competitors from inhibiting competition. The Sherman and Clayton Acts outlawed price-fixing, boycotts, mergers resulting in monopoly and collusive bidding. These laws applied to most, but not all industries. Among those excluded is professional baseball.

THE EXEMPTION for baseball goes back to 1922 when Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes ruled that "baseball was not engaged in interstate commerce, but was only giving exhibitions which were purely a State's affair." In 1922 there was no television. Radio had not developed its vast network of coverage. Teams were not flying over the country and concessions were not the big business they are today.

The other professional sports began much later than baseball. As a result these sports were developed under interstate commerce laws, while baseball's traditional exemption has been held to that determined in 1922.

THESE RECENT developments have threatened baseball's immunity from these laws. Franchise shifts, such as the move of the Seattle team to Milwaukee last year and the transfer of the Washington Senators to the Dallas-Fort Worth area this year, are examples of change. Sentiment has developed to bring baseball under laws applicable to other sports.

Reason would suggest that baseball should be treated the same as other professional sports. On the other hand there is some question as to whether other sports are better off because they are required to observe anti-trust laws.

PROFESSIONAL sports are big business. Some athletes in football, baseball, basketball and, of course, boxing, draw salaries of six figures and a few close to $1 million. Ball club owners claim that their business is different from ordinary industries and should not be subject to the same legal limitations. Their reason is that they employ a comparatively few people who are specialists and for a relatively short time. Second, they depend on the loyalty of fans for profit. They say this loyalty could be destroyed if players were permitted to leave and go with another club during a mid-season and go from team to team as a better opportunity came along.

UNDOUBTEDLY, there are inequities that must be settled to protect the rights of players, those who have invested in teams, and particularly the public.

'We Have The Surgeon Standing By'

All So Scattered

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the problems with this country is that it can't manage to put it all together. Put what together? Low prices. They're scattered all over the country, but seldom assembled in any one place.

If you could buy your ground beef in Reno, your eggs in Fresno, Calif., your cigarettes in Hickory, N.C., your canned tomatoes in Springfield, Mo., get your haircut in El Paso, Tex., and rent in Lancaster, S.C., you'd be well off.

Late this year you could buy ground beef in Reno for 41 cents a pound, large grade A eggs in Fresno for 33 cents a dozen, cigarettes in Hickory for $2.41 a carton, number 303 canned tomatoes in Springfield for 17 cents, a haircut in El Paso for $1.50 and a nice apartment in Lancaster for $125 a month.

If you cannot immediately appreciate the relative bargains involved, consider that at the same time a pound of ground beef cost $1.29 in New York, eggs sold for 71 cents in Providence, cigarettes cost $4.50 in Hartford, tomatoes 38 cents in Anchorage, Alaska, a haircut $3.25 in Las Vegas, and an apartment $285 in Jersey City.

The problem with finding a bargain in one thing is that you might have to travel a few hundred miles for a bargain in another.

In Vermillion, S.D., a woman's shampoo and set cost only $2 in September, which was near the lowest price in the country, but a fifth of blended whisky cost $5.50, one of the nation's highest prices.

These figures come from a continuing study of living costs in 140 cities around the nation, conducted by the American Chamber of Commerce Researchers Association.

Whereas the government's Consumer Price Index concentrates on price changes, the ACCRA survey puts great emphasis on the actual prices — and for 140 cities instead of dealing with a representative sampling only.

And it goes a step beyond, rating the relative cost of living in each of the cities for each quarter and then producing an index — not of how prices have risen, but of how prices relate to the national average, which is rated 100.

ACCRA says its index "is keyed to the concept of a middle management executive family of four with an annual income of $15,000 to $16,000."

About That Dusting

When bugs invaded his field of honeydew melons, a farmer enlisted the service of a crop dusting company. The company promptly sent out a pilot to spray the field. But because of prevailing breezes, the deadly dust drifted to the beehives on a neighbor's farm.

BEES LANGUISHED and died by the thousands. Result: a damage suit filed against the crop dusting company by the farmer who owned the bees.

In court, the company protested that it could not be held responsible for the vagaries of the weather. Nevertheless, the court granted the farmer's claim. The court pointed out that the pilot, if he had been reasonably careful, would have foreseen the danger and delayed his spraying until the wind died down.

CROP DUSTING zoomed in popularity after World War II. Surplus airplanes were available. So were surplus pilots. And so were new and potent insecticides.

But, like many technological advances, this one has brought legal complications in its wake. Repeatedly, courts have held crop dusters responsible for failing to take reasonable precautions in their work.

ONE PILOT underestimated the carrying power of his spray equipment. Another pilot failed to give fair warning to a neighboring landowner. A third pilot disregarded the special characteristics of the chemical he was using. In each case, a court found enough evidence of negligence to impose legal liability on the company.

IN FACT, some courts have imposed liability even if the pilot took all the usual safety precautions before spraying. They say that, simply by using such dangerous stuff, the company automatically takes full responsibility for the consequences.

Occasionally the plane itself, rather than the chemical, will cause harm. In one case, the sudden gunning of a crop duster's motor threw a flock of turkeys into panic. They hurried themselves against a fence, with many of them perishing.

WAS THIS also the company's fault? A court decided that it was indeed. The judge said the timidity of turkeys was so well known that the pilot should have known what to expect.

Ship Is A Museum

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Her top speed was about 40 mph and in 1937 she traveled from New York to Southampton, England, in three days, 23 hours and 40 minutes for a record North Atlantic run. But now the Queen Mary is in the harbor here as a museum of the sea.

The 1,019-foot long ship once carried 1,957 passengers and a crew of 1,174.

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Sweden has two first-class tourist traps: the blondes and the smorgasbord. The girls may upset your heart and the smorgasbord your stomach.

If you have not grown up with raw herring, pickled pig's feet, smoked reindeer and highly potent braennin perhaps you better leave smorgasbord out at least.

If you have a well-lined stomach and purse this is the best time of the year to have a go at it. As the days grow darker and the cold bites his skin, the Swede tends to seek comfort at the smorgasbord. In restaurants and inns all over the country the Swedes are studying what comes to be known as the Christmas table.

Other countries have counterparts to the smorgasbord—Russia's "zakuski," France's "hors d'oeuvres varies," Denmark's

Blondes, Smorgasbord

"kolde bord"—but none of these can match the Swedish speciality.

The smorgasbord traces its origin to the aquavit buffet which was served in the 18th century as an introduction to a festive meal. It was set on a separate table and taken standing before the guests were seated for the meal proper. Today's genuine smorgasbord consists of an iced section, a cold section and a hot section.

You start off with the "iced realm" where the herring is sovereign. Here you'll find raw herring, salt herring, Baltic herring, cured pickled herring, fillets with sour cream, etc.

Then you proceed to smoked or boiled salmon and eel, anchovies, sardines, shrimps and a few colorful egg dishes.

Next come meat dishes like boiled ham, liver paste, sliced beef, pickled pig's feet, roasted spareribs.

Small warm dishes then loom on the horizon—meat balls, fried Vienna sausages, omelets.

If you still feel like it you may round off with a sweet or some fruit salad, cheese and coffee. The prevailing theory is to take aquavit with herring and boiled potatoes at the beginning of the meal. You drink it straight in a grand gulp after uttering the magic word skål! —a toast to good health.

Swedes have a way of sorting out smorgasbord beginners from smorgasbord veterans. A trainee rushes to the table and happily overloads his plate. A veteran pays several visits and puts only a few carefully selected delicacies on his plate each time.

Critics campaigning for healthier eating habits contend that smorgasbord is a dying institution in the Swedish culinary world. Swedish travelers pick up new food habits. A growing number of immigrants bring their own cuisines.

Billy Graham

I read about the success of your crusades, but I would be interested to know if anyone has ever turned from drugs, or prostitution as a result of your preaching. Please answer. I sincerely would like to know. C.W.

We have hundreds of letters from people who have experienced a great change in their lives through faith in Christ. It is not my "preaching" that changes them, but the transforming power of God.

Here's one I found on my desk just this morning.

"It seemed that life was against me from the beginning. I was an illegitimate child abandoned by my mother and placed in a home. Later I was adopted, and from then on my life seemed to fall apart. I made friendships that were bad. I was expelled from school when it was found out I was pregnant. I lost my self respect. In April of last year I came to London, where I became a prostitute. I dabbled in drugs. Out of loneliness I went to Earl's Court to hear you one evening and there, hearing the Gospel I accepted Christ. Life suddenly had meaning and purpose, and I was put in contact with a church which showed an interest in me. No more was I lonely, but I found happiness in knowing the Lord was mine.

"Life is still not a bed of roses, I still get the old temptations but the Lord has helped me to overcome them. My desire now is to complete my education so I can go to the mission field. How grateful I am for that night in Earl's Court where I realized the most thrilling fact of all — that God loved me."

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: I recently published a letter which I found extremely difficult to answer. I wavered between two opposite solutions. I asked my husband, He asked others. I then asked my readers how they would answer it.

The letter:

DEAR ABBY: My husband's boss has invited us to a everywhere together, knowing "housewarming party," which my husband feels we must attend. I disagree. His boss's wife had surgery recently and was found to have inoperable cancer. (The boss doesn't know this.) The boss sent her to Europe (where she came from) to be with her mother while she's recuperating. He told her he'd join her in three months and bring her home. But it's obvious that he's for refusing to go? Or is my husband wrong for insisting that we do? CAUGHT-IN-A-BIND behavior."

My suggested replies:

1. Dear Caught: Your first consideration is to your husband. Close your eyes, hold your nose, and go!

2. Tell your husband that he can help "warm" their house if he wants to, but the setup leaves you cold, and you're not going!

The surprising results: Number of responses: 877,091. Don't go: 566,001 (predominantly female). Go: 311,090 (predominantly male).

Some interesting observations:

The youngest voter was a nine-year-old girl reader of the New York Post. (She voted for Number 2.) The oldest was a 98-year-old female Los Angeles Times reader (She voted for Number 1.)

Of the females who said "Go," slightly more than 80 percent added, "your first duty is to your husband."

Of all who voted "Don't go," and indicated that they were under 30, a surprising number added, "and be sure the boss knows your absence is in responded, thank you. ABBY

Crab Lice

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What can I do about crab lice? Is there anything I can get without prescription to kill them and the eggs? I've been using an ammonia cleaning solution diluted in water. Is this doing any good? Please help. — D.M.G.

It may seem strange in this age of presumed social advancement that lice should be a problem, but they are: head lice, body lice, crab lice (which prefer the genital region).

When you ask what to use to get rid of them, I'll give the answer physicians find reliable: a combination of ingredients called Kwell (the long scientific name doesn't matter).

The law so specifies, so you'll have to have a prescription to get it. And that's what I'd advise you to do. (It comes in lotion or shampoo form, may require a second application, but should not be overused.)

There are other lotions, available without prescription, and pharmacies have told me that apparently results are quite good, but they cannot, under the law, dispense certain of the medications that are in Kwell, so my advice is to use the surest treatment.

I don't recommend any of the various home remedies. They can get rid of the lice, but the problem is when the lice already have laid eggs, which are stuck very tightly to hair shafts, so presently the eggs hatch and you go through the same trouble all over again. There is no home remedy I know of which will kill all the eggs. Just plain washing won't begin to get rid of them.

I checked with a pharmacy in what we think of as a "nice neighborhood" the other day, and was told that in the last few months they had sold more de-lousing medication than they formerly had in years. So even if you're not a hippie, be on the alert, and if you acquire some lice, get effective treatment. Don't waste time with home remedies.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You wrote that a person can get crabs from wearing the clothes of someone who had them.

It has been a financial help for us to buy garments at used-clothing stores. Are crabs and their eggs destroyed by having these clothes dry-cleaned? — C.

It's not too difficult to get rid of the adult lice, by dry cleaning or by thorough washing. Since the eggs nor-mally are attached to hairs, there shouldn't be too much risk of acquiring them from used clothing, if the clothes are adequately cleaned.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My niece writes that her 16-year-old daughter has had a hysterectomy. Is this out of the ordinary for a girl that age, and how serious is the operation? — M.C.

It is unusual at that age but sometimes necessary. Intractable bleeding is one reason for it, but there could be others. The young lady, of course, will not be able to bear children, but it should not bother her in any other respect.

For a comprehensive discussion of how to cope with the change of life, including scores of pertinent questions and their answers, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of this newspaper for his booklet "A Nice Menopausal Booklet," enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, stamped, self-addressed (use zip code) envelope to cover cost of printing and handling.

Claims Of 'Best' Sounded By Probable Bowl Teams

By The Associated Press

"If there is a better quarterback in pro football, I don't know who it would be," Kansas City Coach Hank Stram said of Len Dawson.

"I can't say they're the best two running backs, but just look at what they've done the last two weeks," Dallas Coach Tom Landry said of Duane Thomas and Calvin Hill.

Dawson masterminded a last-ditch 93-yard drive that ended in Jan Stenerud's 10-yard field goal which catapulted the Chiefs to a 16-14 victory over Oakland Sunday and the American Conference West championship.

And the Thomas-Hill tandem rushed for 183 yards and accounted for four touchdowns in Dallas' 42-14 shellacking of the New York Giants that put the Cowboys on the edge of the National Conference East throne.

OTHER GAMES

In Sunday's other National Football League games, San Francisco smothered Atlanta 24-3, San Diego bombed Denver 45-17, Green Bay belted Chicago 31-10, Philadelphia beat St. Louis 19-7, the New York Jets defeated New England 13-6, Cleveland edged New Orleans 21-17, Pittsburgh turned back Cincinnati 21-13 and Houston topped Buffalo 20-14. On Saturday Minnesota beat Detroit 29-10 to take the NFC Central title and Baltimore whipped Miami 14-3.

In tonight's nationally televised (ABC, 9 p.m. EST) game, Washington is at Los Angeles.

"Lenny cut the defense like a surgeon on that last drive," Stram raved. Otis Taylor, who wound up with 113 yards in pass receptions, caught three Dawson passes for 28 yards in the winning surge and an interference penalty on another pass to him accounted for 29 more. Stram called Taylor's catches on the march "one of the greatest individual efforts I have ever seen."

FIRST SINCE '66

It is Kansas City's first divisional title since 1966—although in 1969, after finishing second to Oakland in the regular season, the Chiefs whipped the Raiders in the playoffs, then went on to rout Minnesota in the Super Bowl.

Taylor also caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Stenerud booted earlier field goals of 33 and 14 yards in the triumph that wrecked a heroic performance by quarterback George Blanda, who came off the bench to guide the Raiders from a 10-0 deficit to a 14-13 fourth quarter lead on a pair of Marv Hubbard one-yard touchdowns.

The Cowboys opened a one-game lead over Washington and can clinch the divisional crown if the Redskins tie or lose tonight.

While Thomas ranted for 94 yards and touchdowns of three and seven yards, Hill tacked on 89, including a four-yard scoring run, and added 50 more on four receptions, one of them a 10-yarder from Roger Staubach for a touchdown.

BOMB TOSSER

And Staubach, who has quarterbacked the Cowboys to six successive victories since winning the starting job outright, teamed with Bob Hayes for scoring bombs of 46 and 85 yards.

John Brodie passed 23 yards to Larry Schrieber for one touchdown and boogied the ball five yards for another as the 49ers, limiting the Falcons' total offense to 130 yards, pulled into a temporary first-place tie—with the Rams in the NFC West.

John Hadl of the Chargers completed 21 of 36 passes for 332 yards and four touchdowns, including two to Jeff Queen and a 77-yard bomb to Gary Garrison, to lock the Broncos in the AFC West basement.

1,000-PLUS ROOKIE

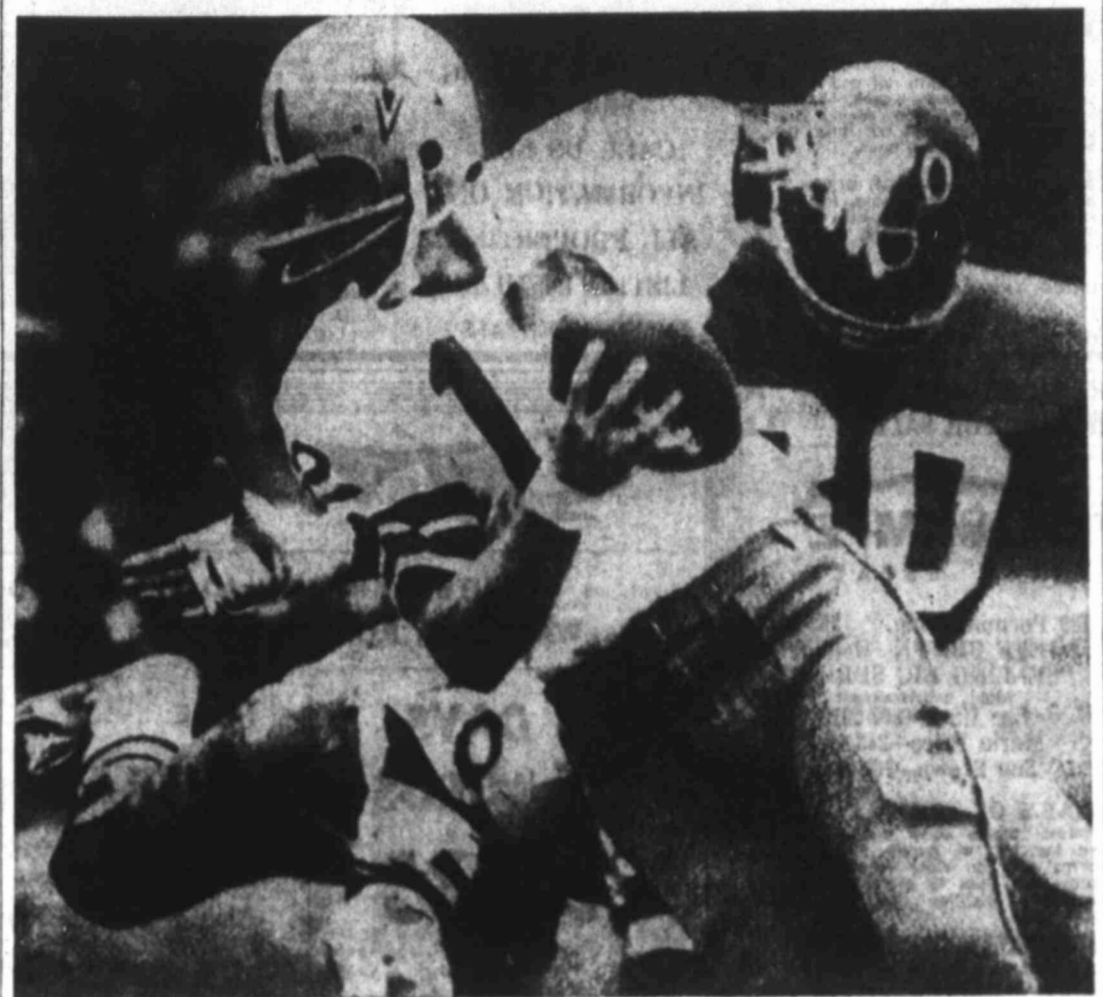

"I wasn't counting or anything," Packers' running back John Brockington said after he ran for 63 yards and a touchdown against the Bears to become the NFL's 25th 1,000-yard rusher and only the fourth rookie to reach the mark. He now has 1,032.

Tom Dempsey booted the Eagles to their fifth victory in eight games and past the Cardinals into third place in the NFC East with four field goals, one from 54 yards, while Pete Liske combined with Harold Jackson for a 69-yard touchdown strike.

"We surely didn't play well enough offensively to win," Cleveland Coach Nick Skorich sighed. "Fortunately the defense was able to get the ball back for us."

"I was going to use (Terry) Bradshaw only if I had to—and I had to," Pittsburgh Coach Chuck Noll said after the Steelers' quarterback came off the bench to fire a pair of last-period touchdowns and beat the Bengals.

ROGER THE DODGER — Roger Staubach of the Dallas Cowboys seems oblivious to the presence of New York Giants' Henry Reed behind him during the second quarter of Sunday's game in New York. Staubach threw three touchdown passes to lead the Cowboys to a 42-14 win over New York.

Small Colleges Have Their Day In Bowl Game Series

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — "In the first period, I thought it was going to be a whole of a ballgame," said Delaware's Tubby Raymond. "It was a ball game for one quarter, anyway," said C. W. Post's Dom Anlie.

For one quarter, Saturday's Boardwalk Bowl was a scoreless struggle. Then came the second period, and with it an onslaught of five Delaware touchdowns that gave the national small college champions a 35-7 halftime lead en route to a stunning 72-21 victory.

The only one crowned Saturday was Gary Wichard, Post's little All-America quarterback. The mighty Delaware defense, led by 260-pound tackle Dennis Johnson and ends Joe Carbone and Bob Depew, picked Wichard's pocket all afternoon, nailing him nine times for 70 yards in losses and intercepting him four times.

Despite his battered body and bruised feelings, Wichard managed to complete 13 of 34 passes for 262 yards and three touchdowns, all to Len Izzo, covering 22, 58 and 38 yards. Boardwalk Bowl: zone.

Besides the Boardwalk Bowl, three other NCAA College Division regional titles were decided Saturday. In the Mid-East, Tennessee State edged second-ranked McNeese State 26-23 in the Grantland Rice Bowl at Baton Rouge, La. Louisiana Tech turned back previously unbeaten Eastern Michigan 14-3 in the Pioneer Bowl at Wichita Falls, Tex., for Mid-West honors. And out West, Boise State outlasted Chico State 32-28 in the Camelia Bowl at Sacramento Calif.

Three touchdown passes by Joe Gilliam, the second team Little All-America quarterback, in the second half lifted Tennessee State over McNeese. A 91-yard punt return by freshman Winford Wilborn sparked Louisiana Tech past Eastern Michigan. And Eric Guthrie passed for two touchdowns and kicked a 42-yard field goal as Boise State rallied for 25 points

Elsewhere, Joe Nettles' 25-yard interception return set up Larry Lightfoot's two-yard touchdown that gave Livingston a 14-12 triumph over Arkansas Tech in the NAIA Champion Bowl at Birmingham, Ala.

Ronnie Collofflower, voted the outstanding back in the Lone Star Conference, passed for one touchdown and ran for another as Howard Payne shaded Cameron State 16-13 in the Cowboy Bowl at Lawton, Okla.

Carson-Newman erupted for six touchdowns in the second half and trounced Fairmont, W.Va., 54-3 in the Share Bowl at Knoxville, Tenn. Freshman James Rackley raced for 155 yards and three touchdowns to lead Florida A&M by Kentucky State 27-9 in the Orange Blossom Classic at Miami. And Fullerton State edged Fresno State 17-14 in the Mercy Bowl at Anaheim, Calif., on Mike Ernst's five yard pass to Tyrone Perry. The contest was to raise funds for the families of three Fullerton coaches who died in a plane crash Nov. 13.

Will Ellison Haunt His Former Mentor Tonight?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — When George Allen coached the Los Angeles Rams, the team drew the reputation of sagging near the end of the season.

Fans of the Southern California team hope the current Allen club—the Washington Redskins—will sag Monday night.

Allen, fired after five years as head man with the Rams, returns to Memorial Coliseum with a Redskins team he has revived into a playoff contender and he faces a team that also rates top honors.

The Redskins, a phenomnon during the early season, bring an 8-3-1 record and a half a dozen former Rams into the Coliseum to face the club which Tammy Prothro has built.

Los Angeles stands 7-4-1 and victories over Washington and Pittsburgh would guarantee the

SMILE OF VICTORY Richard Petty wins 500

Petty's Stretch Drive Wins

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — With only 20 laps to go in the Texas 500 Grand National stock car race Sunday, Richard Petty swung his Plymouth inside Bobby Allison's Mercury on the fourth turn.

Petty shaded Allison on the grandstand straightaway and pulled into the lead on the first turn of the 21st lap, but Allison stuck to him as if he were on a string.

For the next nine laps, the gap never exceeded one car length as they hit speeds up to 185 miles per hour.

Allison tried to pass on the inside a couple of times on turns, but Petty blocked him. Finally, on the 23rd lap of the two-mile Texas World Speedway oval, Allison's rear wheels began smoking and he was forced into the pit.

Petty, the first man ever to win more than $1 million racing stock cars, finished half a lap in front of Buddy Baker's Dodge for $13,395 in first prize money. It was Petty's 21st win of the year and boosted his money total for the period to $289,145, a record.

Baker, of Charlotte, N.C., earned $6,805 for second, and Allison, from Hueytown, Ala., added $5,125 for third.

Pete Hamilton, Dedham, Mass., whose Plymouth held the pole position at the start with a 10-lap qualifying time of 170.830 m.p.h., finished fourth for $3,865, and Bill Dennis of Glen Allen, Va., brought his Mercury in fifth for $3,190.

Petty, 34, Randleman, N.C., an angular six-footer with curly brown hair and a bright smile also won a trophy slightly taller than he is. He averaged 144 m.p.h., a mark lowered by three caution flags — when a poce car holds back the field at about 75 miles per hour as track crews repair damage or cover oil.

Only 23 of the 49 starters were still running when Petty crossed the finish line.

A disappointingly small crowd of 18,600 — by track officials' estimate — turned out for the race.

'We'll Win' Says Roger

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Staubach took control of the Dallas Cowboy offense six weeks ago, and the team started reeling off victories. He wants to remain in control.

"One way or another, we're going to win," Staubach said Sunday after the Cowboys had dispatched the New York Giants 42-14.

"When we go into the playoffs, we are going to play the best football we know how. And I think we are going to win," he said.

Staubach showed his control against the Giants as he passed for three touchdowns and showed excellent poise in handling his team. He hit speedster Bob Hayes for touchdowns of 46 and 85 yards, and Calvin Hill for a 10-yard score.

Although he's known as Roger the Dodger, he stayed in the passing pocket all day, and only was dropped once, for a loss of 12 yards.

Goalby: 'I Had To Win It; So He Took Last Tourney

FREEMONT, G.B.I. (AP) — "I had all my eggs in one basket in this one round" a smiling and admittedly excited Bob Goalby said.

He was talking about final round 70, a steady one-under-par effort under tremendous pressure Sunday that brought him a one-stroke victory in the $130,000 Bahama Islands Open Golf Tournament.

More importantly, at least for the 40-year-old Goalby, it secured him an exemption from the qualifying rounds for next year's regular tour events.

Goalby, who had had a poor season, had to win this last event on the pro schedule to make it.

"I'm pretty excited, maybe as much as I have ever been," he said after sinking short par putts on the final two holes to win the $26,000 first prize and a spot in the top 60 money winners—the determining factor in making the exempt list.

"It's a matter of prestige," said Goalby, winner of 11 titles in his pro career that started in 1957. "I didn't even know how much money it was for first place. I just knew that I had to win it. It's very important to me."

The victory pushed his 1971 earnings to $45,833.43 for the year and 51st place.

George Archer took second prize of $14,800. Archer, leader through the second and third rounds, finished with a 72 for 276. He closed out the year with $147,769, fourth on the list behind the absent Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer.

Bert Yancey had a final round 71 for 277 and a tie with Tommy Aaron for third. Aaron had a five-under-par 66, best round of the final day on the Lucayan Country Club Course.

Rookie Ralph Johnson had a 69 and was alone at 278. Canadian George Knudson also made it into the top 60 with a tie for 20th place. He needed $1,222.50. That knocked out Dick Lotz and Jimmy Jamieson who had held top 60 spots going into the week.

Some other top players who failed to make the exempt list included Doug Sanders, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Larry Ziegler and R.H. Sikes.

METCALF NIGHTMARE UCLA Clobbers Befuddled A&M

By The Associated Press

"All we want to do now is go home," said Texas A&M basketball coach Shelby Metcalf.

You would, too, after spending an outrageous evening with UCLA.

The top-ranked Bruins gave Metcalf's crew a rousing send-off back to Texas, railroading the Aggies 117-53 at cozy Pauley Pavilion Saturday night.

"Tremendous, just tremendous," said Metcalf, praising the bullish Bruins.

UCLA Coach John Wooden was almost apologetic after the slaughter: "I don't like to win games by overwhelming margins."

The Bruin blitz wasn't as shocking as some of Saturday's other results as upsets claimed three other Top Ten teams.

Ohio University surprised fourth-ranked Ohio State 79-68. Southwestern Louisiana topped No. 6 Long Beach State 90-83 in the finals of the Bayou Classic at Lafayette, La., and Indiana pulled out a nervous 90-69 double-overtime victory over seventh-ranked Kentucky.

Second-ranked Marquette had an easy time with ninth-ranked Michigan, whipping the Wolverines 81-32 in a mild surprise.

North Carolina, the country's No. 3 club, walloped Virginia Tech 93-60 and No. 8 Jacksonville trimmed Georgia Southern 106-88 in other games involving Top Ten teams. Fifth-ranked Maryland and No. 10 Penn had Saturday night off.

It may be hard for Metcalf to forget the nightmare right away. It could be that he'll have recurring bad dreams about Walton bolting to the backboards or forward Ken Wilkes shooting the eyes out of the basket with 22 points before sitting down.

En route to the easy triumph, the undefeated Bruins did something they've never done before—score 100 points in a game four straight times.

Both Local Cage Teams Play Games On Road

Cage fans will have to look elsewhere or hit the road this week to follow their local favorites.

Howard County Junior College plays three games, but all are on the road. The first is this evening in Roswell against New Mexico Military Institute, a Western Conference test.

Wednesday the Hawks will journey to Snyder to meet the Western Texas College quintet, and this is close enough many fans may go. Friday they meet the H-SU freshmen in Abilene, then knock off until Jan. 6-8 when the ABC Olympic tournament will be held here.

The Big Spring High School Steers, winners of consolation in the Snyder tourney, will meet Ector in Odessa at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. They then rest until Dec. 21 when they entertain Plainview. During the holidays they defend their title in the Borger Invitational tourney, opening with Duncan, Okla.

Busted Play Is Oiler Bonanza

BUFFALO (AP) — Call it a busted play, a crazy play, a clutch play or anything else.

Ed Hughes, Dan Pastorini, Jim Beirne and the rest of the Houston Oilers will agree with you.

It was that play—one covering 40 yards—which set the stage for the Oilers to overcome a one-point deficit Sunday and nip the Buffalo Bills, 20-14, for their third National Football League victory of the season.

Houston, down 14-13 after the Bills scored two fourth-period touchdowns, was on Buffalo's 47 with less than a minute remaining.

Pastorini missed on three passes. Coach Hughes sent instructions for Pastorini to send out five receivers.

and Beirne raced to the Buffalo six.

Houston went ahead two plays later, with 24 seconds left, as Robert Homes rammed across the goal line.

"It was just a broken play," exclaimed the excited Pastorini in the dressing room. "I thought Jim's eyes were about as big as saucers when he saw himself open . . . so were mine. The Oilers shot into a six-point lead on two 44-yard field goals by Mark Moseley and forged ahead 13-0 as Ken Houston ran 17 yards for a touchdown with a pass interception and Moseley's extra point.

Buffalo's big breaks came in the last period.

Dennis Shaw passed 39 yards to Haven Moses and then 29 to J. D. Hill, putting the ball on Houston's six. O. J. Simpson hit the line for a touchdown.

How much gasoline does a Texas baby use?

Not much? Well, every man, woman and child uses an average of three gallons of oil products every day.

All told, America uses 600 million gallons daily. And demand is increasing so fast that by the time this baby is 15 years old, he and every other American will be using six gallons every day.

A country that runs on oil can't afford to run short.

Spaceship Rolls To Launching Area

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 16 rocket and spaceships made their first move toward the moon today, a slow 3 1/2-mile trip from the assembly building to the launch pad.

Apollo 16 command module pilot Thomas K. Mattingly II watched from a viewing stand a few hundred feet away as the Saturn 5 nudged out of its hangar. Perched atop the booster were the command and lunar ships.

Once at the launch pad later today, crews will begin an extensive three-month checkout leading to a scheduled March 17 launch date.

Mattingly's fellow crewmen, John W. Young and Charles M. Duke Jr., were in Hawaii today to practice moon-walking techniques on an ancient volcano field.

During the 12-day mission, Young and Duke are to spend a record 73 hours on the moon, exploring in the lunar central highlands near the crater Descartes. They will drive a four-wheel vehicle like that used by the Apollo 15 astronauts last summer. Mattingly will conduct photographic and scientific assignments while orbiting alone in the command ship.

Dacca Orphanage Toll Uncertain

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Doubt remains as to the responsibility for the aerial bombing of an orphanage last week.

It was taken for granted at first that the bombs came from an Indian plane, since India had been bombing constantly in the area where the orphanage was situated.

Then India denied the orphanage bombing, and some Bengalis claimed to have proof that the Pakistan army had made the assault in an effort to embarrass India. Support for forces suggested that guerrilla forces may have been responsible was doubtful, and other able.

The bombing plane apparently was of the propeller type, not one of the jets normally used in combat.

The death toll still is uncertain, but there are fears that as many as 300 boys were killed in the incident.

NIXON'S VERSION Israel Strong Enough To Fight Off Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's version of a Mideast military balance is an Israel strong enough to defend against an Arab attack into territory she now holds — but not mighty enough to strike deep into Egypt.

The United States is committed to preventing the balance of power from swinging against Israel. But just what constitutes a "balance" is usually in some disagreement.

The United States has yet to supply the additional Phantom jets Israel wants.

According to the U.S. estimate, Israel's army of some 255,000 men is superior to Egypt's 400,000-man army and Jordan's 100,000-man force combined. The navies of the opposing sides are too small to make much difference either way.

Air power is rated a key factor. On this, the U.S. analysts say more planes for Egypt would do her little good now because she lacks the pilots to fly them.

China Oil Forecast

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Chinese oil production appears to have recovered sharply from economic conditions resulting from the "great proletarian culture revolution" in 1967 and 1968, the Oil & Gas Journal said today.

China is expected to exceed 500,000 barrels daily production this year, perhaps reaching 540,000, the Journal said. That compares with 1970 daily production averaging 394,000 to 400,000 barrels per day.

Production in mainland China is about 5 per cent of U.S. production.

Forsan Impact Funds Approved

The Office of Education has approved Forsan County Line Independent School district for an entitlement of $14,463.69 in impact funds, Cong. Omar Smith today.

The district has been certified for $7.21 immediate payment for the assistance under Public Law 874, which is in lieu of taxes for educating children of federally connected parents.

Supt. Smith said the entitlement figure represents 100 per cent, but that in practice the district may not receive more than 70-75 per cent of this total.

Teen Reported Struck By Car

At midnight Sunday Howard County Sheriff's officers received reports of a hit and run, car-pedestrian accident on the old Gard Road.

Dillard Curtis Johnson, 16, Colorado City Lake Rd., Box 814, was allegedly struck by a car that left the scene near the Jack Lewis residence on the highway.

Johnson was taken to Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital for examination, but has since been released from the hospital. Sheriff deputies Robert Puente and Bill Chadwell are investigating the alleged accident.

Johnson told officers that he and a friend, David S. Peabody, 18, of 700 Willia, had been running along the road at the time of the accident, according to sheriff's reports. Peabody was not hurt.

Injured Man Reported Okay

Milton Viera, 113 NE 9th, who was reported struck by a car in front of the Deep Rock Station or Lamesa Drive Saturday night, was listed in good condition at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital today.

Fred J. Cole, 1408 Bluebird, was the driver of the vehicle. Viera, at the time of the accident, was reported to have had possible head and internal injuries.

Alert Ambulance transported the accident victim to the hospital at 10:58 p.m.

Horseman Club

The regular monthly meeting of the Howard County Youth Horseman Club will be held at 7:30 p.m. today at the First Federal Community Room.

HCJC Choir Concert Today

The Howard County Junior College choir will present a Christmas concert at 8 p.m. today in the college auditorium. No admission will be charged.

The program will be made up of five groups of songs, with an intermission after the first three groups.

The first group is designated "sacred" and includes Renaissance and Baroque works as well as 20th Century. The second portion is a group of songs by the Madrigal singers.

The third group includes the Christmas masses. On the program are "O Come, O Come, Emmanuel," "A Spotted Reindeer," which will feature tenor soloist Roger Dixon, "Mary's Baby," and "Twelve Days of Christmas."

The second half of the program will be lighter in nature, according to Ralph Dowden, director, with the fourth group comprised of five nursery rhymes and a choral selection from "Man of La Mancha."

The last group contains a series of recent hit popular tunes, including "There's a Kind of Hush," "People Got to Be Free," "Never, My Love," "Close To You," and "Oh, Happy Day," featuring soloist Clara Mae Taylor, an HCJC student from Colorado City.

Accompanists for the concert are Joann Allen, Sharon Cook, both of Big Spring, and Glenn Crosshair, Colorado City.

Snoopy Brag: Bite Of Gold

SAN CARLOS, Calif. (AP) — With a bite of gold, five-year-old Snoopy is top dog in this San Francisco suburb.

The mixed dachshund-beagle got a $40 gold crown on one of its teeth recently after breaking the tooth in an automobile accident.

"It's no big thing," said veterinarian Robert Maahs. "It was a cosmetic and functional move."

Maahs said stainless steel crowns have been used on the teeth of cattle and armed service guards dogs—but probably never gold. He said it was used on Snoopy because it was easily molded.

The dog is the pet of Rex Van Rixel.

Band Boosters

Big Spring Band Boosters will meet Tuesday as scheduled due to the press of holiday activities, but the next regular meeting will be Jan. 11, association officials said today.

NAGGING NAVELS

Studying Assorted Ills Among Hippies

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Big belt buckles rubbing against the tummy can cause a nagging navel, say two researchers who have been studying assorted ills among hippies.

The researchers also say that preventive medicine—particularly a good dose of soap and water—is about the best solution for combatting such medical woes.

Dr. Joseph M. Wilentz, a Fort Lauderdale dermatologist, and Dr. Robert A. Berger of New York City, have published their findings on hippie malaise in a medical journal.

Medical problems which have been rather uncommon in the past 100 years are plaguing many hippies, the doctors said. In particular, they cited itching scalps and skin rash.

DON'T WASH

Wilentz said some of the scalp trouble stems from a belief that if you don't wash your hair, you won't go bald.

"I heard this over and over when we'd go down to the communes," Wilentz said.

After a year or so without washing their hair many hippies complain about an itching head.

"It's not the dirt but the itching," Wilentz said. "So, he gets some treatment and takes a hot shower and the itching stops. "And then he goes right back to the way he lived before. Six months later we'll see him again with the same problem."

Another complaint—mostly from women—is a fiercely itching rash affecting the belly but-and on stomach. Wilentz says New the top of big belt buckles when worn with low slung pants rubs in the midriff and results in a rash.

'VAGABOND SKIN'

Wilentz said a condition called "vagabond skin," named for an affliction dubbed plagued hoboes, is making a comeback.

He and Berger dubbed the condition "hippie skin." They said the condition is marked by lice, bed bug bites, patches of missing skin and caked dirt on the body.

Hippie headbands also produce a rash which hasn't been seen since hats were common, Wilentz said.

He also discussed a more modern problem—hippies who are allergic to marijuana.

"They wind up with 'flannel mouth,' an extreme dryness which feels like they've just sucked a lemon," Wilentz said.

Other symptoms include bloodshot eyes, sinus trouble and even asthma.

Said one youth who had the malady: "I have been rejected by grass."

AFTER EVACUATION — A young boy, clutched by his mother, waits with others in a Singapore hotel after arriving on plane that evacuated foreigners from Dacca, East Pakistan, with a stopover in Calcutta, India, Sunday.

Murder Signals New Phase In War

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — The assassination of a Northern Ireland senator has raised fears that the Irish Republican Army has launched a new phase in its war to reunite Ireland.

"This is obviously the start of a new phase of terrorism," said John Hulme, deputy chairman of the anti-government Democratic and Labor party. Some officials expressed belief that higher ranking politicians would be next.

A gunman rang the farmhouse doorbell Sunday night of 63-year-old Sen. Barnhill, a Protestant member of the ruling Unionist party and a militant. When he answered, the gunman killed him with two shots.

Mrs. Barnhill found the gunman kneeling over her husband's body. Then a second man helped drag the body into the living room, put a 50-pound gelignite bomb beside the body and warned the woman to get out quickly. Shortly after he escaped, the bomb went off, wrecking the house.

Barnhill's body was pulled from the rubble early today.

Prime Minister Brian Faulkner said the assassins were from a special IRA terror gang based in the neighboring Irish Republic. He accused the Dublin government of failing to stop them.

Barnhill was the first member of the provincial parliament to die in the two years of violence that has now taken 196 lives.

In a sermon delivered Sunday, William Cardinal Conway, the Roman Catholic primate of all Ireland, denounced the IRA bombers and gunmen as monsters.

President Ready For Bargaining

ANGRA DO HEROISMO, Azores (AP) — President Nixon, backed by foreign policy, monetary and trade specialists, was ready today for hard bargaining with French President Georges Pompidou.

Nixon told newsmen who flew with him to the Azores Sunday that their job would be difficult because "everything important pretty well has to be talked about behind closed doors."

Officially, Nixon made the five-hour Atlantic flight because he wanted to consult with the French leader before going to Peking and Moscow. Nixon was said to be particularly interested in discussing Pompidou's conversations with Leonid I. Brezhnev during the Soviet Communist party chief's visit to Paris in October.

However, Pompidou came preoccupied with the international monetary crisis. And Nixon brought a top-level monetary and trade team headed by Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally and including Ambassador-at-Large David Kennedy, the former Treasury chief now specializing in trade negotiations.

On the foreign policy side, Nixon was accompanied by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, National Security Adviser Henry A. Kissinger and Martin J. Hillebrand, assistant secretary of state for European affairs.

Because it was a working visit to this ocean-girded part of Portugal, the welcoming ceremony for Nixon was low keyed.

Radio Giant Sarnoff Dies In Home At 80

NEW YORK (AP) — David Sarnoff was 15 when he went to support his mother and three brothers and sisters.

Saving his money, he bought a telegraph instrument and learned the Morse code. He was hired by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Instrument Co. of America.

His first real step on the road to fame came on the night of April 14, 1912, when he was wireless operator at the Marconi station atop Wanamaker's Store in New York.

It was that night the SS Titanic, en route to New York on her maiden voyage, struck an iceberg and sank with the loss of 1,517 lives.

TITANIC DISASTER

Young Sarnoff picked up the staccato dots and dashes of the message from the British steamship: "Hit an iceberg. Sinking fast." For the next 72 hours, he told the world about the disaster, relayed names of the 700 survivors from a rescue ship and guided other rescue ships.

The Titanic disaster served to focus worldwide attention on the vast potential of radio and the new medium advanced rapidly after that. So did Sarnoff.

In 1916 he wrote a memorandum to his superiors proposing that a "radio music box" could be developed to broadcast programs directly into the home.

Sarnoff estimated sales of one million sets, at $75 a set, within three years, for sales of $75 million. Actual RCA sales from 1922 to 1924 amounted to $83 million.

In 1923 he penned another memo: "I believe that television, which is the technical name for seeing as well as hearing by radio, will come to pass in the future."

But he was ahead of television technology for the time being, so he turned to another interest—the formation of a central broadcasting organization through which RCA could feed a number of interconnected radio stations.

NBC was put together in 1926, to be the sound of Dr. Walter Damrosch's "Music Appreciation Hour," the Metropolitan Opera and Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony Orchestra.

'VICTROLA'

Sarnoff became president of RCA in 1930, a year after the company acquired Victor Talking Machine Co., with its "His Master's Voice" and "Victrola" trademarks.

GUNFIRE KILLS 10

Weekend Violence Brings Death To 28

By The Associated Press

The apparent triple murder of his family and the suicide of a San Antonio doctor over the weekend contributed to the violent death rate which climbed steadily over the weekend in Texas.

The Associated Press began counting deaths from violent causes at 6 p.m. Friday and maintained the count until midnight Sunday.

At midnight Sunday, the toll stood at 28 dead with a dozen persons killed in traffic accidents while gunfire killed 10 others.

Here is the way some died:

San Antonio police theorized Dr. Karl Aijian, 47, shot his wife, Blondell, 37; their son, Karl Jr., 12; and their daughter, Cheryl, 11, before killing himself late Friday.

A Houston man Robert Journey, 34, was shot to death at a party he was hosting Saturday in the Bayou City.

James Schilling, 35, was kicked in the throat at Houston Saturday night where he died.

Two men were shot to death Saturday night in Dallas during an argument over a parking place. They were Robert Gray, 34; and Frank Fritz, 37.

Mike Ruiz, 11, and his brother, Manuel Ruiz, 9, died Sunday near San Antonio in an auto accident on Interstate 35.

Cayetano Sisneros was shot to death Saturday night at Waco bar.

Three men were killed early Sunday south of Stratford in the Panhandle when their pickup truck collided with a cattle truck. They were Stanley Laycock, Duane Hincey and David Perdue, all of Dumas.

Sam Juarez Jr., 21, was shot to death Saturday night at Waco and his body run over several times by a car.
