Lindsay Seeks Presidential Nomination

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, a Republican until last August, announced today that he seeks the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I have decided to seek the presidency," he said, "and I will begin that effort in the Florida primary." The Florida primary is March 14.

Lindsay attacked the Nixon administration for ignoring the needs of ordinary people in the nation and the world, calling the White House now "a clubhouse for privileged power at home and the parade ground for juntas and generals from around

He said in a prepared statement that Washington "is a capital closed to the ordinary citizen, but open to bankrupt corporate giants, foreign dictators and to those wealthy enough to buy privileged protection with campaign cash."

Lindsay, 50, said he chose Miami to announce because its economic and cultural diversity make it a testing ground for the principles he will run

Following his appearances in the state, Lindsay was to fly to Wisconsin, where he will announce his plans Wednesday for the April 4 primary there. The mayor, who during much of his term of office in New York has fashioned himself as a spokesman for the nation's rapidly growing urban populace, said he will "speak for the America

A full hearing on a motion for an injunction was scheduled for Jan. 5.

The group rejected Monday evening a government compromise offer that would have reopened the historic monument to sightseers while allowing the veterans to remain on Liberty Island and continue their protest.

Flying an American flag up-side down as a symbol of distress, the veterans reiterated their position that they would not leave until their demand that the protest be publicized to U.S. troops was met.

Similar antiwar protests were carried out Monday at the Betsy Ross House in Philadelphia and at a ward in a hospital at Travis Air Force Base in Cali-

All three protests were organized or aided by the Vietnam Veterans Against the War (VVAW) in an effort to create pressure on President Nixon to set a definite date for withdrawal of American forces from Southeast Asia.

Seize Inmates Manhattan Jail

NEW YORK (AP) — Inmates took over the small civil jail in Manhattan for several hours Monday night in a raucous and sometimes violent protest over living conditions and delays in court

Police moved in and restored order about 12:30 a.m. There were two minor injuries reported and one inmate was arrested for allegedly assaulting a detective. No hostages had been taken.

Some reports said the disorder started as early as 6 p.m. when inmates hurled food in the segregated mess hall and forced unarmed guards off the floor. Others said the uproar came following the 10 p.m. lights-out.

Most of the 37 inmates in the four-story dormitory style facility were reported in bed at 3:30 a.m. Asst. Chief Police Inspector Frederick P. Kowsky said nine of the inmates stayed up to discuss grievances, including lack of privileges inadequate food and medical care, reading censorship and court delays of up to nine months.

HIJACKER LEAVES FORWARDING ADDRESS

TORONTO (AP) - The man who pulled off Canada's first successful hijacking by diverting an Air Canada DC9, to Cuba, left the six-member crew with a forwarding address.

"He said we could write to Hijacker House in Havana and he would get the letter," said stewardtss Ruth-Anne Snell, 21, of Woodstock, Ont., after the plane returned safely to Toronto Monday. Miss Snell said the hijacker, armed with a revolver and a grenade, did not elaborate on what he meant by Hijacker House. It was believed he could have been referring to one of the large hotels on the Havana waterfront where many other hijackers are reported to have been lodged.

Police in nearby Mississauga, whose jurisdiction includes the Toronto airport, said they were told by Foreign Ministry officials in Ottawa that the hijacker carried a passport bearing the name Patrick Critton, 24, a native of New York City.

The hijacking began Sunday night when a man who said he had "a job to do . . . a mission to fulfill" handed a note to stewardess Jeanne Keldson, 21, of Toronto. The plane was about 20 minutes out of Toronto on an 850-mile flight from Thunder Bay, with 83 passengers aboard.

Stewardess Helg Weterings, 28, of Toronto, described the man as "very very rational and rather calm.

After refueling in Toronto the plane left at 8:45 p.m. for Havana.

WASHINGTON (AP) - Attacks by congressional Democrats are mounting against stepped up bombing raids over North Vietnam while Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird says the new strikes were prompted by violations of a 1968 understanding with Hanoi.

Laird refused at a year-end news conference Monday to rule out more strikes against North Vietnam and Radio Hanoi reported that fresh waves of American bombers hit various targets for the third straight day today.

The defense chief described the attacks by a reported force of 350 planes as being of limited duration. He said they will not slow down the U.S. troopwithdrawal rate.

With the U.S. troop level in Vietnam down to 160,000, Laird said: "The primary emphasis is on protecting the remaining American forces that are in Vietnam today."

But Democratic presidential hopeful Sen. George McGovern said the "shocking escalation ... sinks us deeper into the quagmire of Indochina and, more important, makes it certain none of our prisoners will be released.

Police Think They Are Closing In On Three Bank Bandits

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP) - A thousand West German police hoped they were closing in today on the three Cologne bank robbers who freed their hostages unharmed and fled on foot into a forest near the French border.

Police tentatively identified the robbers as Kurt Vizenik, 44, an Austrian; a Frenchman and an Italian. A fourth man, Roger Roch, 37, of Marseilles, was arrested in Cologne when he tried to contact Vizenik after the holdup. He was to be arraigned today as an accomplice. The robbers entered the branch of the Deutschebank about 10 a.m., Monday, drew their guns and ordered everybody to lie on the floor. A bank employe happened to be talking by phone with a customer and told him, "There's a holdup." The customer called the police, and a patrol car arrived within a minute.

Witnesses said the robbers began discussing hostages when they realized police were outside the bank. Two hours of negotiations with police followed while thousands gathered outside in the cathedral square.

Big Problems Ahead

If the U.S. Supreme Court upholds the judgment of a three-judge federal court that dependence of public schools on a property tax is unconstitutional, the state will have two years in which to come up with an answer for school

This will be a formidable task, for education traditionally has relied upon ad valorem taxes, not only in Texas but throughout the nation. What the alternatives are constitutes a long list, but the state income tax looms large in any discussion. Many states outside of Texas already have turned to this source, so what does that leave them?

Texas has turned previously to the sales tax as a way out of financial difficulty, and successive legislatures have raised this levy until it is nearing the saturation point. Natural resources are bearing a hefty share of taxation, and the luxury taxes have been increased and increased and increased.

Yet, if the decision holds, the state must come up with some monumental new sources of income. That means that the tax will fall back on the average individual, thus any joy over prospect of lessening ad valorem taxes should be tempered with the realism that taxes ultimately come from the same source. In effect, we will have to transfer from one pocket to another.

There can be little doubt that this will help districts already making a maximum effort. These

The Texas Legislature is in no small measure responsible for the present dilemma which faces Texas primary and secondary education. The Governors (Connally) Committee strongly recommended that the state adopt a means of state aid to local effort - increasing state support to districts making maximum financial effort to maintain quality education, while lessening state help to districts which coasted along with little financial effort because of natural resource or industrial production yielded such high property tax income. The legislature dwadled.

There are many, many questions yet to be answered, and many issues - such as the effective local control of schools - to be settled. But regardless of what the Supreme Court decides in this particular case, it is apparent that drastic changes are in the offing for sources of educational

Great Idea

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith is fed up with her male colleagues. She thinks some of them spend entirely too much time running for the presidency, taking junkets at public expense and lecturing for large fees.

The senator from Maine has the quaint idea that senators should attend to Senate business first. Furthermore, she has a plan to make them do just that

Sen. Smith said she will introduce a constitutional amendment to provide for automatic expulsion of any senator or House member who is not present for 60 per cent of the roll call votes in any session.

This is an admirable plan. Both senators and representatives should be on the floor and voting when decisions are made. Mrs. Smith's charges about rampant absenteeism are all too true, especially with a campaign year coming up.

There is just one hitch - a constitutional amendment requires a two-thirds vote of approval in both houses before it goes to the states for ratification. Guess what its chances are?

WASHINGTON — Is President Nixon going to peak too soon? There is some concern in Washington that after President Nixon goes to Peking and then to Moscow it will be hard for the Republicans to keep up interest in him until Election Day.

NOT SO, say the people who are programming the President's political campaign. The trips to Peking and Moscow are just warmups for the main event. Which will probably take place two weeks before Election Day. I can now report what the Republicans have in store for their

My Answer

Billy Graham

I am a black citizen and I am disturbed about all the racial trouble in our country. It seems we are outnumbered, and I doubt if we will ever achieve any sort of equality. Don't you agree?

No, I do not agree. Social reform is always slow. Sweeping changes never come overnight, but they are changing nevertheless.

For example, in the political arena. In 1965, the 11 states of the old Confederacy had fewer than 80 blacks holding elective offices. Today, there are more than 1,000 who hold public office of some kind. That's progress.

Two black legislators, the state's first since reconstruction, come from Gov. Wallace's district, no less. South Carolina has three black state legislators, and Mississippi broke precedent this year and placed eight black citizens on its school boards. In Georgia, for the first time a black candidate won the Democratic Party's nomination to Congress.

Alabama has four black sheriffs.

On my team of 10 associate evangelists, two of them are black. Things are changing fast and the black population of our country, despite some persistent inequities, have it better here than the minority of most other countries of the world.

Jesus replied, "Because I will only reveal Myself to those who love Me and obey Me. The Father will love them too, and We will come to them and live with them." (John 14:23, LNT) PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, please come into our hearts and reign supreme. Do take the dullness of our souls away and shine through. To Thee be all honor and glory. Amen. # Enough electricity for today and tomorrow.

Dependable electric power in ample supply helps make good living possible today-and is essential for tomorrow's growth and progress-throughout the area served by Texas

Providing enough electricity to meet these needs will require over $165 million in new construction in the next two years. That's a lot of money, And about $100 million of this will have to be raised in a competitive market at a time when interest rates are much higher than they were just a few years ago.

This, added to other higher costs of doing business, makes the job of planning and building ahead an even bigger task. At Texas Electric, providing enough electricity is a commitment and a continuing effort that keeps us at your service.
