Arrest More Than 80 Memorial Blockaders

Vietnam Veterans Against The War

By The Associated Press

More than 80 persons were arrested at a human barricade put up by Vietnam war veterans staging an antiwar protest at the Lincoln Memorial in Washington.

The arrests Tuesday followed by only a few hours a decision by 15 members of the same group, the Vietnam Veterans Against the War, to end their 40-hour occupation of the Statue of Liberty.

At the Lincoln Memorial, the U.S. park police arrested 86 demonstrators who refused to move from the entrance. The protesters placed their hands on their heads in prisoner of war fashion and waited for police to lead them to waiting buses. They were charged with blocking the entrance to a building, a misdemeanor.

COME AND GET ME

The last person arrested was Gerald Evan, a University of Massachusetts student and an Air Force veteran. Evan had climbed atop a huge urn in front of the memorial and held aloft a flag emblazoned "Vietnam Veterans Against the War."

Thirty minutes after the last of his comrades was arrested, he shouted to police: "You told me I was under arrest and I surrender. I'm your prisoner and under your custody. All you have to do is come and get me."

In the end, he climbed down and gave up.

Earlier, park police chased one protester from the urn across the memorial steps and knocked him down. Two others were arrested when they moved close to him.

Some 150 protesters had marched peacefully from the base of the Capitol to the front of the White House and then to the memorial.

COFFEE MONEY

The group had burned copies of the North Vietnamese seven-point peace plan at the base of the Capitol. Then, at the memorial, the group placed an empty coffin in front of the seated likeness of the 16th president. The protesters stood silently while taps was played, then staged a short sit-down before locking arms and attempting to barricade the entrance.

Demonstrators in New York left the Statue of Liberty in good shape, according to James Bateman, the statue's superintendent. Floors were cleared and refuse placed in garbage cans.

The veterans left behind five $1 bills with a note explaining the money was to pay for some food and coffee they had taken from a refrigerator in an employees' cafeteria. They also left a message in the guest book which read:

"May those people who happen to leaf through these pages in search of the name of a friend know that on this page are the names of 15 men who carried out a beautiful thought—that we should all live in peace."

Calls Dowdy 'Perjurer' And 'Bad Guy'

BALTIMORE (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury begins deciding today the guilt or innocence of Rep. John V. Dowdy, the East Texas Democrat accused of participating in a $25,000 bribe scheme in 1965.

The panel of nine women and three men heard nearly seven hours of final arguments Tuesday and was scheduled to start deliberations after receiving instructions from Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

Dowdy, 59, is accused of conspiring to receive a $25,000 payoff from Nathan H. Cohen in return for his influence to get the Justice Department to drop a probe of Cohen's now-defunct home improvements company.

The lawmaker, now serving his 10th House term, also is charged with aiding the interstate transportation of a bribe and with five counts of lying to a federal grand jury.

During the final arguments, both defense and prosecution attorneys reached at least one consensus: that the jurors' basic task is to determine whose witness was lying.

The prosecution contends that Dowdy went to the Atlanta airport from Washington Sept. 22, 1965, and picked up a briefcase containing $25,000 from two employees of Cohen's Monarch Construction Co. of Silver Spring, Md.

Testifying to this were Cohen and the former employees, Myrvin Clark and Julius Levitt.

Conversely, Dowdy denied the accusation, and he was supported by Leonard Wilson of Jasper, Ala., and William R. Thompson Jr. of Shady Side, Md., who both testified they were with Dowdy at the airport but saw neither Clark and Levitt nor a briefcase.

Barnet D. Skolnik, an assistant U.S. attorney for Maryland, argued Tuesday that although the three prosecution witnesses were "bad guys," they were telling the truth about Dowdy.

The prosecutor branded the lawmaker a "bad guy" and "perjurer" and accused Dowdy, Wilson and Thompson of collaborating on a "perjured alibi" heard by the government for the first time during the seven and one-half week trial.

IN TAX CASE Anderson Sees Accordance

"I am not really surprised at the court decision," said S. M. Anderson, superintendent of the Big Spring schools.

"Since the property tax was ruled unconstitutional by the California Supreme Court, it looked like the decision would be made here. But this is the first Federal court to agree that the property tax is not a constitutional method of financing schools," said Anderson.

"Now the decision needs to be tested in the United States Supreme Court, which I think will uphold the lower district court."

Anderson will be in Austin Tuesday for the first meeting of committee that will study new methods of financing Texas schools. He will represent the Texas Association of School Administrators.

$97,000 CAPER Cologne Bank Gang Leader Wounded

SAARBRUECKEN, Germany (AP) — Police reported today they cornered three men who robbed a Cologne bank of $97,000, wounded one of them and arrested the two others.

Shortly before the arrests, the bandits had seized a 21-year-old youth as hostage. The youth was rescued unharmed, police said.

The bandits made their escape from Cologne after robbing the bank on Monday by taking two police officials hostages. They released them in a forest here near the French border.

The forest robber was tentatively identified as gang leader Kurt Vicenik, 44, an Austrian with ties to the French underworld in Marseilles.

Police opened fire after the bandits pulled a car they were driving into a parking lot near the Saarland town of St. Wendel in an attempt to negotiate with the police about exchanging the hostage for a police official and safe conduct to the north German port city of Hamburg.

The car carrying the robbers and their hostage was first spotted 18 miles from the French border.

As police took up the pursuit on the ground and from the air, the bandits threw slips of paper out a window of their car. The papers contained the robbers' offer to open negotiations.

The car then turned off the highway into a parking area where one of them reportedly held a gun to the head of the hostage while they waited for police to respond to their offer.

The hostage, police said, was able to free himself during a struggle that preceded the shooting.

Sheriff Jails Himself

MARKSVILLE, La. (AP) — Sheriff F. O. "Potch" Didier, a prisoner in his own "crackerbox" jail, hopes that something good will result from his 45-day sentence.

Didier, who was sentenced after conviction on a malfeasance charge arising from an alleged scheme to bilk a scrap metal dealer, committed himself to jail Tuesday. Dr. Henry Kaufman, the Avoyelles Parish coroner who automatically became acting sheriff, made Didier a trustee.

"This is going to give me a good time to really analyze the jail situation, which I've been wanting to do for some time, and write up the weaknesses of the jail and get this to the public," Didier said.

He said he hoped this report would convince the parish police jury that the jail is dilapidated and needs to be replaced.

"This jail is nothing but a crackerbox," he said.

Didier is being held in a fourth-floor room assigned to trusted inmates.

"I don't expect to leave the fourth floor, period," he said.

"I have trustees who go all over the courthouse, work all over the courthouse, cleaning and all that, but I'm not going to leave the fourth floor."

To Pull Out Of Malta

LONDON (AP) — The British government today rejected further financial demands by Malta and ordered British forces to prepare to pull out of the Mediterranean island.

If the order to go is finally given, British forces will be pulled out of the tiny island for the first time since it was wrested from Napoleon Bonaparte 170 years ago.

The Foreign Office said Maltese Premier Dom Mintoff made his new demand for more money on Christmas Eve, asking for an immediate $11 million.

Ashbrook To Challenge Nixon For Presidency

WASHINGTON (AP) — Accusing President Nixon of largely abandoning his 1968 campaign promises, Rep. John M. Ashbrook announced his challenge to Nixon for the presidency today to give conservatives what he called an opportunity to remind Nixon of those promises.

OUTRAGEOUS STRING

The Ohio Republican said his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination would begin with the New Hampshire and Florida primaries.

Ashbrook accused Nixon of endangering U.S. national security, deepening the "illusion of detente" with Red China and the Soviet Union in defiance of pledges three years ago and "the largest, most outrageous string of deficits in American peacetime history."

Ashbrook also assailed Nixon's family assistance plan, saying it would more than double the U.S. welfare roles with a guaranteed annual income.

If Americans wanted the kind of program Nixon has produced, Ashbrook contended, they "would have stuck to the party with the real expertise in these areas, the Democratic party."

FIRM BELIEF

But he said Nixon was elected because he offered change "and it was to be in the conservative direction."

Ashbrook said it was "because the promise and hope of the 1968 campaign have been so largely abandoned that I am declaring my candidacy for president of the United States."

"It is my firm belief," he said, "that the Nixon program of 1968 genuinely reflected majority sentiment in the Republican party and throughout the nation."

Since his possible candidacy was first mentioned early this month, the 43-year-old, six-term

Man Attacks Three Girls

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. — About 100 Bexar County Sheriff's deputies and volunteer firemen searched for a man in an area near Lackland Air Force Base after three girls reported they were attacked Tuesday night.

Although not sexually molested, the girls were treated for minor injuries.

UF Drive Passes Projected Mark

The United Fund drive is over the top with contributions totaling more than $110,000.

"It has been a long, hard campaign," said Morris Robertson, campaign chairman, "but with the excellent help of all the division chairmen and the volunteer workers we have made it. The citizens of Big Spring and Howard County have again demonstrated their willingness to help those in need."

"Morris and his division chairmen have done an excellent job," said Ken Perry, president of the United Fund. "They have put in long hours working to achieve this year's goal."

The goal this year was $110,000 for the 15 local welfare and youth guidance organizations receiving money from the United Fund.

The division chairman include: Paul Meek, out of town donations; Don Bohannon, big gifts; Dearl Pittman, special division; R. E. Hickson, employee division; Erven Fisher, public employees; Wayne Rock, metropolitan; and Mrs. Gene McElroy, women.

May Draft Young Men Into Guard

WASHINGTON (AP) — Top Pentagon officials are studying the possibility of drafting young men into the Army National Guard.

There are some legal and political hangups, but guard sources say the draft may be the only way to bolster a sagging but critical part of the nation's military establishment.

Army Guard strength has dipped to its lowest level in six years—384,000, 16,000 below the authorized level.

Guard officials think they may lose another 80,000 citizen-soldiers before next fall and then face serious manpower shortages.

For now, they are relying on higher pay and other incentives to re-enlistment to reverse the diminishing size of units around the country.

And they emphasize that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird would probably seek congressional approval before going ahead with a draft into the part-time Army. But the idea is a very live one, officials say.

The idea of using the draft to support the guard, and other military reserves, is startling because it comes even as the Nixon administration is trying to end the draft for the regular armed forces by mid-1973.

But Pentagon officials do not see any necessary conflict. They contend the government can continue to cut the size of the regular forces only if it can maintain a strong guard and reserves to meet crisis situations.

If the country and Congress can accept that reasoning, they may also accept drafting young men into the guard, the officials say.

But until that becomes necessary, officials are banking on what they call an "incentive package," chiefly a proposed re-enlistment bonus, to stem guard manpower losses.

With congressional pressure on to hold down the defense budget, guard officials fear that the bonus, costing $55 million, will fall by the wayside.

Defense sources indicated Laird would hold off on any decision regarding the draft and the guard until he has had a chance to gauge the effects of recent military pay increases, which trickle down to guardsmen, and of a recruiting campaign.

In any event, officials agree the law is hazy as to whether there is now authority to draft men into the National Guard.

Nixon Turns To Upcoming Soviet Union, China Trips

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — President Nixon today turned to his upcoming trips to China and the Soviet Union as prime subjects for the second and last day of his summit conference with West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

Nixon was particularly interested in this not only to explain the historic visits but to gain from the impressions Brandt picked up in his meetings last summer with Russian leaders.

Officials on both sides said the talks have been a great success, conducted with warmth and full understanding and agreement on the wide range of subjects.

The major development from Tuesday's opening rounds was a pledge by Nixon, in the words of Secretary of State William P. Rogers, "to do everything we can to maintain our troop strength in Europe."

This was of much value to Brandt, who sought reassurances of a continued strong American presence in Europe to buttress his negotiating position to reaching an understanding with East Germany.

Rogers, in his meeting with Foreign Minister Walter Scheel, and Nixon, in his session with Brandt, stressed that the United States will in no way negotiate any agreement with the Soviet Union on troop cuts or other European matters outside the framework of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

"In other words," Rogers told reporters, "we are not going to make any agreement about reducing our forces in Europe unless we do it in consultation and in full cooperation with our allies."

Bangladesh Confusion

DACCA (AP) — The nation that used to be East Pakistan has acquired a name that's well known around the world, but this capital is confused as to its spelling.

Some make it Bangla Desh, two words, others Bangladesh.

The two words mean "Bengal nation." The one-word version is a contraction similar to the one that turned Viet Nam into Vietnam for general usage—although the Saigon government tends to use a hyphenated form.

M. R. Akhtar, the government's director of press and information, says the official spelling is Bangladesh. This style is used in Dacca newspapers and on most official documents. It is being adopted for Associated Press dispatches.

Akhtar acknowledges there's cause for confusion. The man who designed the nation's first postage stamp, not yet placed on sale, engraved it "Bangla Desh."

DUNN PREDICTS NIXON WIN IN TENNESSEE

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Winfield Dunn of Tennessee predicted today that President Nixon would carry his state in the 1972 elections. "I feel he will do as well or better in our state," Dunn said, referring to the President's victory in Tennessee in 1968. "He has always run well in Tennessee," added Dunn, the first Republican elected governor of Tennessee in 50 years.

Texas Will Need $325 Million For Welfare

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith says he will go to Washington, D. C., next month to urge Congress again to take over all welfare programs. Smith told a news conference Tuesday that President Nixon "has spoken out often about the need to help the states but his actions have amounted to very little." Texas will need $325 million in state funds for welfare in fiscal 1973, compared with $156 million being spent this year, Smith said. Smith said he would soon name the members of the Texas Commission on Children and Youth, which was authorized by the legislature this year. The governor announced that Wilbur Cohen, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare under President Johnson, has agreed to serve as a special adviser to Smith on welfare and child development.

Hay Fire Sparks $500,000 Suit

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Disposal Service Inc. filed a $500,000 suit Tuesday against the City of Houston over a hay fire near Houston's Astrodome last March 4 that cast heavy smoke on a nearby freeway and allegedly caused a pileup of automobiles. The Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo also was a plaintiff in the suit. They charged the city fire department wasted 30 minutes in putting out the hay fire. The hay was removed from the Astrodome following last year's rodeo. Jerry V. Walker, attorney for the plaintiffs, said they were suing the city "only because they are being sued by persons involved in the accidents" on the freeway.

Will Hear Hair Case

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — A federal appeals court has ordered an en banc hearing for a Texas case involving a high school principal's effort to keep schoolboy hair short.

The order means that the case of Chesley Karr and his father against the principal of El Paso's Coronado High School will be decided by all 17 judges of the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals instead of by the normal three-judge panel.

Principal Clifford Schmitt and the other defendants, who include the school board trustees, filed an appeal after a U.S. District Court in El Paso agreed that hair length is a matter of personal freedom.

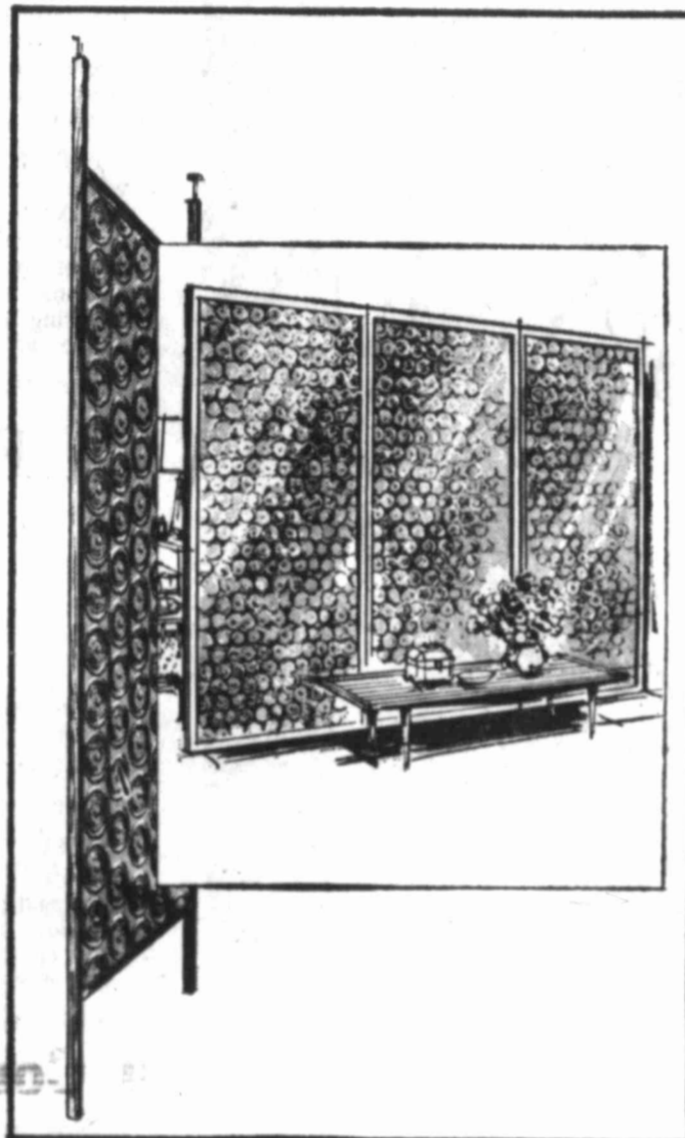

The judge issued an injunction forbidding enforcement of the school's hair law for boys and ordering that Chesley be enrolled as a student unshorn.

Chesley was one of 21 youths barred from enrolling at the school last August because their hair was over their ears or below the top of the collar of their "standard dress shirt." The others complied but the Karrs took the issue to court, seeking both an injunction and $10,000 damage.

Guitar Lessons Offered At Y

Beginning guitar instruction will be offered for eight weeks beginning Jan. 6 at the YMCA. Cost of the course is $11.50 for "Y"-members and $15.50 for non-members. Don Tolle is instructor for the course. Classes will be held each week on Thursday at 6:30 p.m. The classes are open to all persons from fifth-grade-aged through adults. Students may use their own guitars or rental instruments will be available at the YMCA.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan now for those new setups you want to put in operation in a few days, and do not neglect small details. Listen to ideas which co-workers have. There could be much of worth in them.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Amusement is favored for it and get in deeper later as a result. You want to tackle too much work at the end of the year but this had better wait. Make the most of the holidays ahead. Plan now.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Basic matters need immediate action now, so get busy on them early. Some of them may be hard, but perseverance wins out. Try to keep all in harmonious accord at home.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Now that you are capable of making new arrangements to improve your life, make sure you do not permit some gossip to curtail your efforts. An associate feels depressed. Do something to restore his ego.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try to please those who have power over your life, affairs, and gain more support and wellbeing for yourself. Study your present position, well and accurately. Know just what things to do to improve.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can now go through with that plan you have to make your relationship with an associate for more harmonious. Don't try to get out of any promises you have made to others. Nor is it wise to change them, either.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you plan your time and activities early, you can get so much accomplished you will even surprise yourself. Try more modern methods that are worthwhile. Make little changes in your wardrobe that are good.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) By making small changes in arrangements, that plan for recreation can work out very much better. A smiling face can be most helpful to others who are feeling depressed for some reason or other. Show generosity, too.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Others may break promises made to you but take this to your stride and try to find out the reason why. This could be a matter of lack of funds. Show humanity. Get rid of whatever is outmoded and feel better.

Sensible Adjustment

The administration has begun its expected move to reduce the United States' contribution to the United Nations. It has presented some good arguments in favor of such action.

The timing may make this appear to be a direct and somewhat petulant reaction to the U.N. vote on Taiwan, but there is an air of reasonableness about the administration proposal. The same cannot be said for certain other suggestions being advanced.

The basic contention is that a cut in the United States' share of payments made to keep the United Nations going would be helpful rather than harmful to the world body. In suggesting a reduction to 25 per cent of the total from the current 31 per cent level of U.S. funding, Assistant Secretary of State Samuel DePalma maintained that the United Nations should not be overly dependent on the contribution of a single member.

This is a sensible argument. Smaller countries may resent having to be so dependent on us. Also, big contributors to any organization tend to feel that they are entitled to more clout than others, and this may have a divisive and unproductive effect against our best interests.

Whereas the administration view has considerable merit, the course proposed by Rep. Joe

D. Waggoner Jr. of Louisiana would be destructive folly. He and 68 fellow House members are urging that U.N. contributions be based on the member countries' population. This would seriously undermine and perhaps destroy the United Nations — which may be what some of the plan's advocates desire.

Many of the more populous countries — India, for example — are unable to afford large United Nations contributions. On a population basis alone, some of the most prosperous nations would pay amounts far below their capacity. A system should be worked out which is equitably based on a sliding scale whereby members would pay what they can afford.

Although the administration denies that it is motivated by the General Assembly's censure of Taiwan, that action clearly sparked our government's move. This does not alter the fact that a review of U.N. financing is long overdue. At the same time, our outlook should be kept in perspective. While the United Nations is far from perfect, and in many respects weak, it is the best thing we have for world forum. No one wants it to be a world government, but it can be useful as a cooperative vehicle.

The Ticklish Hawk Case

The case of Mrs. Joanne Hawk of Doylestown, Pa., is one to arouse the interest and concern of many an editorial writer throughout the land. She was charged under an old Pennsylvania statute as a "common scold," to wit one who repeatedly uses "wicked, scandalous and infamous words."

Fortunately, at least for Mrs. Hawk, a jury of 11 men and one woman found her not guilty. Presumably they took note of a case tried two years ago which resulted in a conviction, but was reversed on appeal because there was no evidence of a "continuity of scolding." The jury might have laid the wood on Mrs. Hawk if she had been a little more continuous in her scolding.

As every writer should know, the line between exhortation and vilification, between stern injunction and busybodyism is a fine one. The ultimate fear of us all is to be known as a common scold. The prescription in the case of Mrs. Hawk is plain: Discontinuous criticism is to be preferred over continuous criticism.

Underground Castle

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

The first house in any West Texas community likely was not a house at all, but some sort of dugout or make-shift shelter.

THIS FACT will be illustrated at the Ranch Headquarters on the Texas Tech campus, where an original dugout (with only the hole new) will be encased as part of the graphic chronicle of what early ranching was like on the great Llano Estacado.

When ranching moved on to the brakes and plains in the 1880's, lumber and satisfactory building stones were often lacking or in sparse supply. Yet, the hearty pioneers have found effective protection against biting northerly, swirling sand storms and sometimes even rain.

THE DUGOUT was the handy form of housing during that period. On the flat plains it was likely little more than a hole in the ground with some sort of covering. Occasionally it had low walls to allow for light, and this called for a crude roof. If other materials were hard to come by, settlers sometimes cut out blocks of native sod and used them for walls, in some cases they were used for roof covering, although mostly some sort of thatching of brush, grass and weeds overlain with a few rough beams of mesquite, cedar or cottonwood.

THE RANCH HEADQUARTERS, which incidentally is aiming at completion in time for the nation's bicentennial in 1976, is moving a half-dugout from the Matador Ranch in Dickens and Motley counties and restoring it on the headquarters spot on the campus.

It was built in 1888 by James C. Davis and his stepson, Charlie Bird, when they homesteaded a section of public school land in Dickens County while working for the Matador Land & Cattle Company. The structure was dug into the side of a gently sloping hill, boxed in with low walls of cottonwood logs and red stone, and covered with a roof of brush and mud over mesquite poles.

HOWARD COUNTY'S "first house" was something less pretentious than this. Dave Rhoton found a handy overhang in the escarpment around Moss Springs, built up some impromptu walls out of loose stones. Here he batched while running a modest herd of cattle over the open range. His descendants can mark the spot today where their father lived along on the vast frontier which was even then hardly clear of Indians.

WHEN HE RETURNED to Austin for a relatively brief period, W. T. (Bud) Roberts moved into the same vicinity and staked out his ranch. Here again, his "house" was a dugout which served until sometime later when he could build a hut.

Peter Hurd has captured something of the spirit of these rustic souls who make a house and a home out of what they had at hand. His fresco mural just inside the entrance of the Howard County Library shows the family beside a half dugout with Signal Mount in the background, the livestock and poultry at hand, and a bit of the native sod turned.

THESE PEOPLE were of sterner stuff than most of us. About all they wanted was a little room and opportunity.

Soviet Expansions

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — The Soviet Union doesn't make public its annual budget, but there is every indication that the situation in Asia is going to cost the Kremlin more money — especially by an increase in the amount of military assistance to be distributed throughout that continent.

AS A RESULT of the India-Pakistan conflict, the Soviets feel that they now should extend their military strength in various parts of Asia. The alliance with India is just the beginning of a movement to break down the prestige of Red China and build up naval bases for Russian ships along the southern coast of the continent.

The real expense for the Soviet Union in such a policy of expanding its influence in the world is that of furnishing arms, military equipment and supplies for the land, sea and air forces of certain nations. Among these are the Arab states — notably Algeria, Egypt, Syria and Iraq — Cuba, Eastern Europe, North Korea and, of course, North Vietnam. These countries and others which the Kremlin seeks to bring under its wing are looking to Moscow for economic assistance of the type called "defense support" — roads, rail facilities, port equipment, merchant shipping and the like.

RUSSIA'S latest venture in Asia made it possible for India to invade and dominate East Pakistan. This could not have been done without Soviet backing. Although the new Bengal state is theoretically being granted independence, East Pakistan is an abysmally poor area and will need all kinds of help. Since India cannot afford to provide it — the Indians say they fought the war to get the Bengal refugees back into East Pakistan from India — this, too, will be up to Moscow.

There is a feeling now that, while Russia may allow the Vietnam war to come to what Americans will call a "conclusion," North Vietnam will in due time be given enough military support to take over Indo-China. The assumption is that the United States is not going to be involved again in wars in Asia. The Soviets, on the other hand, are inclined toward more military encroachment on that continent.

THERE IS TALK of reducing the number of American troops in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, and the Russians are pushing hard for this step. They are willing to promise to withdraw some of their forces from the satellite countries. But the truth is they want the United States to take its troops back across the Atlantic so that the Kremlin will have virtually a free hand in the future.

With a cloud overhanging Asia, there are also beginning to be worries as to what will occur when the strength of NATO has been weakened. Its army at present is very small compared to the large units which can be mobilized currently by the Soviets.

THE KEY to the whole problem of war and peace in Russia rests with the people. Millions of individuals are in military service, and the standard of living generally has not improved materially to anything like Western norms. Many persons are unhappy and some day will express their discontent in an outbreak against totalitarianism.

The big task now is not merely to stress in the United Nations the importance of maintaining world peace, but to convey the facts to the peoples behind the Iron Curtain. In this era of new ways of scientific communication, peoples everywhere can find out what is blocking the road to peace.

THE REAL QUESTION is: When are the people in the satellite countries and in the Soviet Union going to learn that major wars are keeping them from getting the income they deserve? When will they unite to stop intrusion in the lives of peoples of other continents?

'I THINK WE'VE OVERLOADED IT'

Escaping Depression?

John Cuniff

By LAURANCE F. STUNTZ
(Substituting for John Cuniff)

People who think the world doesn't improve might compare the action of the world's money men in 1931 and 1971.

In 1931, mutual help between central banks was grudging and slow. Aid to each other, when it came, was dribbled out, measured against strict national interests, country against country.

In contrast, 40 years later the mutual aid was given quickly, with the realization that a speedy settlement was in everybody's best interests. With one exception, international financial stability overrode national interests.

The result is that the 1931 crisis ended in tragedy, with the collapse of currencies followed by unemployment, the collapse of business, and the Great Depression. So far the 1971 crisis has avoided tragedy and reached a compromise that everybody can live with.

The Federal Reserve Bank of New York has published a useful little monograph by Stephen V.O. Clarke on "Central Bank Cooperation 1974-81". This draws on the memorandums written by George L. Harrison, governor of the bank during the crisis, on his almost daily telephone conversations with central bankers of other nations. It also uses Federal Reserve history and documents.

The political backgrounds of the two crises were entirely different. In 1931, hostility between German and France colored and curbed all the negotiations. In 1971 the two countries in general could be counted on to work together.

Another difference was the lack of any organization in 1931 for consultation among the money men. The meetings of the Bank for International Settlement provided an occasional reason for meeting but gave little or no staff support. In the later crisis, the International Monetary Fund was an active organization for consultation.

The heads of the central banks in 1931 carried the load. As a result, Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, collapsed halfway through the crisis and was out of action. All the bankers, since they could not talk to many people for fear of revealing the crisis carried the load alone.

Again in contrast, in 1971 there was staff support from the IMF, whose experts had watched the situation and prepared plans which could be proposed. Above all, the 1971 ministers had the experience of 1931 to draw on and knew what to avoid.

It is too early, of course, to go congratulating ourselves on escaping another Great Depression. Much remains to be done. But at least the machinery for dealing with crisis has been found adequate for the first few rounds.

J-Ps Going To School

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The justices of the peace of Texas — men who sometimes hold vast power in both civil and criminal matters — are getting better educated.

JUSTICES OF THE PEACE do not have a universally good image. For one thing, they first meet people in periods of stress when their "customers" know something bad is going to happen — a fine or perhaps jail.

In an effort to improve the performance of the justices, 418 now have taken special courses.

For instance, 102 attended a three-day course recently at College Station. Similar courses were held earlier at Lubbock, Arlington and Longview.

Similar 20-hour courses will be held in the same cities in 1972, with the addition of a San Antonio session.

THE TEXAS Criminal Justice Council is furnishing the training funds. The police training division of the Texas A&M University Engineering Extension Service is conducting the training.

"When the second go-round is completed, we expect to have about 65 per cent of the state's J.P.s enrolled," Ralph Benton says. He is the supervisor of the training program, working under Ira E. Scott, chief of the police training division.

The 62nd Legislature earlier this year passed a law requiring 40-hour mandatory training for justices of the peace who have served less than two full terms eight years and are not attorneys.

Some of those who enrolled here were veteran justices and a few held law degrees.

THE OVER-ALL purpose of the law and the course is to upgrade the services of all justices of the peace. Benton said. The men and women enrolled have said the training is highly beneficial to them and that they would like to have additional training, he said. He added that advanced courses will be offered if additional funds can be obtained from the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

COURSES INCLUDED during the first go-round include judicial ethics, new traffic laws, attorney general opinions affecting justice courts, general aspects of criminal law, practical aspects of justice court, arrest with and without the warrant, forcible detainers, writs of restitution, executions, sequestrations, writs of possession, examining trials, evidence, and practical experience.

Veteran judges, the state attorney general's office, the Department of Public Safety and the Commission on Law Enforcement Standards and Education assisted with the training.

THOSE ENROLLED were given much literature concerning forms, procedures and legal aspects of the justice of the peace office. They also were informed that work is under way to produce bound volumes covering all aspects of the justice of the peace office.

NEW YORK (AP) — All it takes to turn the most law-abiding citizen into a quivering bundle of nerves, searching his conscience for crime, is a session with the customs inspector.

You know you haven't done anything wrong. You didn't have enough money left to spend more than your $100 duty-free allowance even if you wanted to. And you're not smuggling Cuban cigars or Oriental opium.

But let the customs inspector fix his beady eye on your battered suitcase and the guilty feeling begins.

Contributing to the intimidation, at Kennedy International Airport at least, is the baggage-checking system itself. You give your declaration card to the first inspector and he gives you a colored card in return.

One color means you and your baggage pass without checking; another means a cursory search; the third means a piece-by-piece examination.

Receiving anything other than the free-pass card immediately sets up a nerve-racking train of thought. "Do I look

Billy Graham

I heard a clergyman say that Christianity is anti-sex. How can you equate this with the fact that God created them "both male and female?"

G.R. Who said Christianity is anti-sex? You're right, God created the whole idea of sex. The rub between Christianity and the free sex exponents of today is whether sex is to be used or abused. It is an historic fact that when people debase sex, and take it out of the context the Bible puts it in, the result is tragic.

It is interesting that the Soviets, who once taught free sex, returned to Biblical principles minus the Author of these principles, and they did it for national survival.

Dr. Sorokin said: "During the first stage of the Revolution, Soviet leaders deliberately attempted to destroy marriage and the family. Free love was glorified by the official "glass of water" theory. If a person is thirsty, so went the party line, it is immaterial what glass he uses when satisfying his thirst; it is equally unimportant how he satisfies his hunger." Within a few years bands of homeless children roamed the streets, and became a menace to the Soviet Union. The government was forced to go back to the Biblical concept. And if things continue to degenerate in the United States, we will be forced to do the same. "Heaven and earth may pass away, but my word shall not pass away." Matthew 24:35.

School Financing Rule Triggers Texas 'Crisis'

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Two education officials used the word "crisis" Tuesday in describing the effect of a recent federal court ruling on Texas public school financing.

A state lawyer and another educator raised the possibility that the ruling might jeopardize $2 billion in public school bonds and bonds sold by public junior colleges.

Dr. M.L. Brackette of the Texas Education Agency said telephone calls from administrators in other states illustrated the possible widespread repercussions of the court decision.

The three-judge panel ruled Friday in San Antonio that Texas' school financing based largely on property taxes, violated the federal and state constitutions.

Schools are presently fianced by 44 per cent local funds—from property taxes—46 per cent state funds and 10 per cent federal funds.

The two-year court ultimatum for Texas to draw up a new system for financing schools presents the state with a "financial crisis," Brackette told a Senate committee.

Dr. J.W. Edgar, state education commissioner, also referred to the current situation as a "crisis" but added that he viewed it "as another opportunity for the people to design a better public educational opportunity for the children and youth of Texas."

He said the State Board of Education would consider the matter at its next meeting, Jan. 8.

Joseph Sharpley of the Texas attorney general's office said local ad valorem (property) taxes are pledged as payment for $2 billion in outstanding public school bonds.

He told the committee on occupational education that there is "no other source" to pay for the bonds, and that the bonds division which he heads "will wait until the court order is clarified before making any kind of decision" whether to approve any more public school bond issues.

Sharpley said he mailed a motion Tuesday to the federal court in San Antonio, asking for that clarification.

Pasadena Sen. Chet Brooks, committee chairman, asked if the state might have to assume responsibility for the bonds.

"I guess you'd have to do it if you want to protect your credit and ever want to sell any more Texas bonds," Sharpley replied.

"We're not approving school bonds now, and if we did, no one would buy them," Sharpley added.

John Guemple of the education agency suggested that the court decision may halt development of area vocational schools, and also that the financing of public junior colleges through local property taxes "might be one of the problems that surfaces."

Brooks said he had asked Gov. Preston Smith to consider appointing a special task force to revise public education financing in the state. He said Smith was "keenly aware of the necessity to develop a workable, reasonable and equitable solution to the problems facing Texas" as a result of the court decision.

Brooks announced the appointment of 16 persons to a citizens advisory committee to work on the matter.

Voice Conviction In Tyler Rape Case

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court has reversed an order for a new trial for Jimmy Curtis Roper, convicted of rape in 1962 at Tyler, Tex., after the victim identified him by his voice.

The appeal to the 5th U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals was filed by the State of Texas after a U.S. District Court judge granted Roper a writ of habeas corpus.

Roper, serving 75 years in prison, contended that the voice identification of him was made under circumstances which denied him due process under law. The District Court judge agreed.

The victim, a 27-year-old secretary at the time, said her attacker seized her from behind as she entered her apartment and pressed adhesive tape over her eyes and mouth. She said he talked to her for about 35 minutes while she was bound to a bed.

Three days later at the police station, the victim listened to Roper, who was being questioned in an adjoining office, and identified the voice.

The appeals court said neither the admissibility of the voice identification nor Roper's voluntary confession was challenged at the trial.

"We hold that in the totality of the circumstances of this case, the identification procedure was not so impermissibly suggestive as to give rise to a substantial likelihood of misidentification," the opinion said. "The identification testimony did not offend due process."

Young Socialists Push Referendum

HOUSTON (AP) — The Young Socialist Alliance national convention voted Tuesday night to sponsor a national presidential referendum on college campuses next April.

Calling it "Choice '72", the poll will be conducted in cooperation with student governments and newspapers, campus Young Democrats and Republicans and other interested groups. The delegates voted at the close of its first day's session.

The convention continues until Saturday and today the group is scheduled to vote on a resolution calling for mass demonstrations in New York City and on the West Coast on April 22 to end the war in Vietnam.

So far, a spokesman said, more than 1,000 persons have registered for the convention, the first socialist national meeting ever held in the South. He said no exact figure on registration was available.

The campus poll will also include questions on student attitudes toward the war in Vietnam, abortion, a bill of rights for high school students and black liberation.

Also Tuesday the convention voted to support demonstrations set for Thursday in New York and Saturday in Washington protesting the bombings of North Vietnam carried out by American war planes in the past week.

Linda Jenness, Socialist Workers Party candidate for the U. S. presidency, said at a Tuesday news conference that the renewed bombing point up what she called the fakery of President Nixon's program to end the war.

"It's obvious the American people are not going to put up and are not going to be satisfied with just token withdrawals of troops but they want the bombing stopped," she said.

"We think the Democratic Party peace candidates can put up or shut up right now on the question of this war and either support these demonstrations or stop pretending they're against the war when they're not."

The convention was marred Tuesday afternoon when two smoke bombs exploded in a basement men's room of the city-owned Music Hall where the convention is being held.

Damage was minor and no one was injured, police said. They made no arrests.

HONG KONG (AP) — Radio Hanoi broadcast Christmas messages from two more captured American servicemen Wednesday, bringing to a dozen the number heard since the first message Dec. 20.

All are attributed to Americans reported held captive in South Vietnam by the Viet Cong, and the North Vietnamese radio said the taped recordings had been sent by the Viet Cong's Liberation Radio.

Hanoi said the messages heard Wednesday came from Spec. 4 Robert Lewis III of Houston, Tex., and Thomas James David of Eufaula, Ala.

Both were on the list of 18 Viet Cong prisoners announced Dec. 22 by the Committee of Liaison with Families of Servicemen Detained in North Vietnam. Cora Weiss, co-chairman of the committee, said it was the first confirmation that they were prisoners and they had written their families for the first time since their capture.

Lewis' message said: "From Spec. 4 Robert Lewis III, US67123367, camp of detention for captured U.S. servicemen in South Vietnam.

"To Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis Jr., 1114 Heiner St., Houston, Texas, 77019.

"Dear name unclear, sounds like M'Dear and Dad:

"I have been given this opportunity to send this message to you on the occasion of Christmas. I am in good health and my treatment is very good. Tell the family I am fine and hope everyone is the same.

"I miss you all very, very much and some day our dreams will be fulfilled.

"Since my detention, time seems to be passing very fast to me, so it don't seem to be too bad anyway. I know you can't help from worrying about me but don't let it get you down. I am in good health and, even more, so hopeful to be able to return home some day.

"Tell Peggy and her family I said hello for me, and that I know things have changed since I've been gone. I don't think it will be hard for me to get in the swing of things once I return.

"Tell Jeanette and Zaida I said hello and I hope they are well. I know Zaida's a big girl now and I wish so much to see her, but time is the answer to all our problems.

"Tell Momma, Nanny and the rest of the family, and also my friends, I said hello and I wish them all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

"The bureau began distributing the block data last September and expects to have it all out by the end of January, depending on how fast the government printing office works.

"An awful lot of these block reports are down at the GPO," said the census bureau man. "We are getting a lot of letters from people that know the data is out and can't get it."

While pointing to a backlog at the printing office, the official also conceded that the Census Bureau "said it would deliver the data before it did and didn't meet its deadline."

"This has been an incredible census," he said. "About 18,000 cities and towns and it seems like that many had complaints about the count. This slowed up the census by 4-5 months while we checked out complaints."

The bureau brought part of this problem on itself.

"In 1967 the bureau made a sample study, highly theoretical, and admitted to missing people for the first time in its history," said the official. "It believed it missed five million people in 1960. It caused every city, county and state to think that part of that miss was in their area and they watched this time."

'BAD' DEADLINES
Another factor, the official said, was that "a lot of states had impossible deadlines. Pennsylvania was in this bind. They had to have block data and they couldn't redistrict last year. New York had to do the same thing. California, which is just as big, has done very well with the MED list. But California is angry about not getting data on Spanish-Americans.

"Some legislatures have laws saying they must redistrict after release of census data. But the question is, what is census data?"

The Census Bureau has six different counts. The first is a basic tabulation of people in large areas, such as counties.

Next comes the enumeration districts, then the block data.

Still to come is a further breakdown of detailed characteristics such as farm income, ethnic groups, occupational levels—the kind of information sought by sociologists. Then another count by Zip Codes, the information that marketing people want. And finally detailed characteristics for large urban centers, data needed by such government departments as Health-Education and Welfare and Housing and Urban Development. "We dump everything in that one," the Census Bureau official said.

Census data is a basic tool for redistricters. It provides the answer for the courts' demand that every person be represented equally in city and county councils, in the state legislature and in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"People are paying attention to population data as never before," said a key official at the Census Bureau. "When people did their redistricting after the 1960 census, there was no rush because there were no legal mandates."

Then came the Supreme Court's one-man, one-vote rulings of the 60s and "anybody is able to take a state legislature into federal court," he said. "People want to redistrict as fast as possible. A lot more people are knocking at our door and they want data earlier than the Census Bureau can give it to them."

COUNTING NOSES
On the day of the census, the bureau set 180,000 people to counting noses. Preliminary data was released in the fall of 1970. By February this year, each state had the figures for its part of the 250,000 "enumeration districts" the bureau tabulates.

"The Master Enumeration District list was available," the census official said. "Some states picked it up, some didn't. But a lot of older politicians, particularly the ones that worked on redistricting in the 60s, were used to using block data. And some states could not use the MED list because it averages 800 people per district."

"The bureau began distributing the block data last September and expects to have it all out by the end of January, depending on how fast the government printing office works.

"An awful lot of these block reports are down at the GPO," said the census bureau man. "We are getting a lot of letters from people that know the data is out and can't get it."

While pointing to a backlog at the printing office, the official also conceded that the Census Bureau "said it would deliver the data before it did and didn't meet its deadline."

"This has been an incredible census," he said. "About 18,000

New Rice Dean

HOUSTON (AP) — Rice University Tuesday announced the appointment of Dr. John L. Margrave, chairman of the Chemistry Department, as dean of graduate studies effective July 1.

He will succeed Dr. George Holmes Richter, who asked to be relieved to devote full time to teaching organic chemistry.

Out Of Their Minds To Run Against J. Edgar?

PHOENIX Ariz. (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says, "Anyone would be out of their cotton-picking minds to run against J. Edgar Hoover in a presidential campaign."

Mitchell made the comment Tuesday when asked about a Washington Star report that Democrats will make him and FBI Director Hoover the major targets in 1972. Mitchell was interviewed at a resort hotel where he is vacationing.

When questioned about recent reports that the 76-year-old Hoover would be asked to step aside next year, Mitchell noted that the FBI director is appointed by the president and said President Nixon still feels Hoover is doing a good job.

"Recent resignations of top FBI underlings have been played quite out of proportion, in my opinion," he said.

Mitchell added that the FBI always has a substantial number of resignations because its men can retire after 20 years and go on to higher-paying positions.

To a question about whether he will resign next month to head the President's re-election campaign, he quipped: "As of Tuesday, the last week of December, my answer is still the same: My wife and the President haven't decided what to do yet."

He Committed Robbery To Stay Out Of Jail

HOUSTON (AP) — Richard Willett Jr., 19, is in jail today, charged with a robbery police said he told them he committed to stay out of jail.

Willett was charged with the Tuesday robbery of the Hickory Farms of Ohio store in Houston's plush Galleria shopping center.

"I had to do it because I needed the money to pay my lawyer and bondsman from the last time I was arrested. Otherwise it was back to jail," police said Willett told them.

He had previously been charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Officers said a man walked into the store Tuesday and handed clerk Beth Flannagan, 21, a note saying she would be shot if she didn't hand over the money in the cash register.

She put $279 in a paper bag but another store employee, Danny Mulligan, chased the robber and tackled him in a parking lot outside the mall and held him for the police.

The robber was armed only with a blank pistol and all the money was recovered, police said.

Best-Selling Novelist, She's Hard To Capture In Words

Editor's Note: Eugenia Price, one of the best-selling current novelists, grants few interviews. But she agreed recently to talk with a longtime friend, Joyce Norman of The Birmingham News.

By JOYCE NORMAN
Birmingham News Writer

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Ga. (AP) — Author Eugenia Price can take a character from a history book and make a best-selling novel out of him. But Miss Price herself is an elusive person to capture in words. Born in Charleston, W. Va., Genie, as she is known to so many readers, became widely known when she wrote and directed "Unshackled," a half-hour radio drama, which ran for five years. She began speaking engagements across the United States and in Canada and during this 12-year period she wrote almost a book a year, "most of them on trains between speaking engagements," she said.

The irregular hours, the traveling and the desire to "just write" led her to seek a place where she could find the peace to work.

With her closest friend and fellow writer, Joyce Blackburn, Miss Price discovered St. Simons Island and said, "I immediately knew I had found home base."

Far back off the main road and surrounded by the Marshes of Glynn that she loves Miss Price lives in a comfortable home, and there, she is still writing.

Miss Price has completed a trilogy of novels about St. Simon and is hard at work on others.

"I feel extremely fulfilled now that the trilogy is written, but sad, too," she said. "My characters are a part of me and I pass their graves in Christ Church Cemetery every time I drive to the village."

She has written 20 books, mostly religious fiction. She is turning more and more to novels.

She has been described as the only living writer who has all her books still in print and available in hardback. Her books have sold 3.5 million copies in America alone, exclusive of book clubs.

Her religious books are non-demonstrational. She talks about God and her relationship to Him.

"I had no formal religious training," she said. "I met God late in my life and He is very real to me. He alone is all that is important. So, I have no doctrinal rigidities to overcome. No barriers to knock down. I've not been made afraid to disagree."

Miss Price is no recluse. Her friends range from movie stars, writers and politicians to the black family which lives nearby.

And this former Yankee has let all of Georgia know she has entered the state. Recently when the coastal marshes were threatened, she made a trip to the Georgia Legislature.

"Georgia has beautiful, unspoiled marshes. I had to fight for them," she recalled. "When I talked to the legislature, I didn't give reams of ecological facts. I simply told them why the people on St. Simons love the marshes and how their beauty adds to our island."

Shortly after her visit, the Wetlands Protection Act was passed. "The marshes are safe for now, at least," she said.

Her latest book, "Light-house," called for a speaking, autograph party tour. "I had a decision to make," she said. "I did the tour to promote my second novel, 'New Moon Rising,' and for six weeks I spoke at breakfasts, lunches and dinners and came home literally exhausted."

"Right now I have a two-novel contract and deadlines to meet and I pondered what to do about the tour for 'Light-house.'"

"You see, I love going out and meeting my readers. I have made many friends across the country, but I had to make a choice and my dear friend, Tay Hohoff, senior editor at Lipincott, helped me make it."

"You can't do this to my author. Genie's not going to be worn out like last time. So, no tour."

In addition to fulsome acknowledgments in her books thanking people who have helped her, Miss Price even thanks her characters.

"They were real people who lived and suffered and loved and died on the enchanted little coastal island where I hope to live out the remainder of my life," she said.

"Miss Price is an optimist. 'Never give up,' is the advice she gives aspiring writers."

She recently bought a very small piece of land about a mile from her home.

"I found out there was some space in the cemetery behind Christ Church and I bought it," she said. "So I'll be buried right among my characters." (soon. She has 20 or so more books to write. But she isn't planning on that.)

FOURTH DAY WITH NO END IN SIGHT Heavy Bombing Raids Continue

SAIGON (AP) — The heavy, round-the-clock bombing of North Vietnam in more than three years continued for the fourth day today with no letup in sight. U.S. diplomatic sources reported that the armada of 350 B-52 bombers and helicopters flew from the Tonkin Gulf, along with more than 500 attack strikes and hundreds more support missions in the first 3 1/2 days of the Coral Sea.

planes were shot down on Sunday and a sixth on Monday. It said a number of the pilots were killed or captured. The U.S. Command refused to comment on the report of the number of strikes flown, Hanoi's claims of seven planes downed or its report that the raiders had killed or wounded many civilians. The command said that for security reasons it would disclose no details of the operation until it was completed.

F4 WRECKAGE, SAYS HANOI — This radiophoto from Hanoi, monitored today in Warsaw, shows, according to the original caption, North Vietnamese militiamen in Thanh Hoa province examining the wreckage of a U.S. F4 Phantom. Thanh Hoa province is in the south-central part of North Vietnam. Hanoi says the plane was shot down Dec. 26.

CIVILIANS HIT

Hanoi claimed that in Thanh Hoa Province on Sunday the U.S. planes killed 24 civilians and wounded 47. A broadcast said most of the casualties were caused by steel-pellet air-pellet bombs dropped on workers in the fields; and that targets for the bombs included the Thanh Hoa hospital.

Despite the magnitude of the campaign, the U.S. Defense Department denied that it had turned the clock back to 1968, before President Lyndon B. Johnson halted the bombing of North Vietnam.

"We have not resumed the bombing campaign of the North," Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said in Washington. "Our operations are limited duration strikes. They are limited as to geography and targets."

When newsmen pointed out that Johnson's officials also claimed bombing attacks were limited as to targets, Friedheim replied, "They were not nearly as restricted as now."

Both Friedheim and U.S. Command spokesmen in Saigon repeated earlier official claims that the strikes are aimed at protecting the diminishing American forces in Vietnam. But it appeared that their chief purpose was to aid Laotian, Cambodian and South Vietnamese forces fighting the North Vietnamese on several fronts.

SITUATION CRITICAL

In addition to the anti-aircraft batteries menacing U.S. planes along the Laotian border, the targets include vast stores of war materials awaiting shipment through the Barthelemy and Mu Gia passes to Communist troops in northern and

Muskie Raps U.S. Bombing

KINGFIELD, Maine (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has called on President Nixon to halt the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

"Our present policy in Vietnam is a dangerous one and a futile one," the Maine Democrat said.

Muskie, a frontrunner for his party's presidential nomination in 1972, issued the statement during a news conference Tuesday at Sugarloaf Ski Area.

He renewed his request to the President to set a date for withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam, and called on Nixon to expedite a political settlement of the war, end all military involvement in Indochina and to obtain the release of prisoners of war.

Muskie and his family are vacationing at this ski resort in western Maine.

State Of Union Message Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon plans to deliver his election-year State of the Union message to Congress on Jan. 20, and the Democratic majority is at work on a televised assessment of its own, to be delivered a day or two later.

The White House has advised Senate Republicans of the date but has not yet sent word as to whether the President will speak at mid-day or will make the speech in the evening, on prime television time.

SAME THING

The expectation on Capitol Hill is that the Nixon message will offer no dramatic, new proposals, but will concentrate upon urging a Democratic Congress to act on what he already has offered. One Republican legislative tactician said Nixon won't get anything new out of Congress anyway. He said a Congress controlled by the Democratic party that will be challenging Nixon for the White House in 1972 will be in no mood to deal with new administration proposals.

LEFTOVERS

But there is plenty of leftover business on the domestic agenda already presented by the President, with welfare reform, health care and insurance, and federal revenue sharing with the states and cities topping the pending list.

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien has speculated that Nixon may indeed post new tax proposals in 1972, suggesting the President may recommend a value-added tax, a form of national sales tax.

PROPERTY TAXES

There has been speculation such a proposal might be advanced as a means of financing schools to ease the burden of local property taxes.

It could be an attractive offering in a campaign year, although the chances of approval in a Democratic Congress would be slim. But the administration might try to translate inaction on such a proposal into an issue with harried taxpayers during the campaign.

One certain Nixon offering will be legislation to confirm his devaluation of the dollar by raising the price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce. Democratic leaders have pledged to seek prompt approval.

An annual assessment of the State of the Union by the party out of White House power has become a fixture at the opening of Congress.

Case Of Superintendent, Postman, Playboy Over

HOUSTON (AP) — The case of the school superintendent, the postman and Playboy is over today, with the postman barred forever more from delivering the mail.

Tuesday Houston Postmaster Leslie McLean had been transferred to a clerk's job. "He's not handling mail and won't handle mail at anytime."

McLean's troubles started after his wife wrote a letter to the Houston Chronicle saying that Dr. George Garver, fired as superintendent of the Houston School District last August, shouldn't get back his job because her husband delivered "filth" in the form of Playboy Magazine to his door every month. The voters apparently disagreed, electing to the school board three members—enough for a majority—pledged to rehire Garver when they take office next month.

McLean was relieved of his carrying duties after the letter was published and assigned to the vehicle maintenance department of the post office while an investigation was conducted.

The postmaster said McLean will remain in that job because mail carriers are prohibited from divulging the type of mail they deliver. "We've been assured that he will comply with rules and regulations," Pottevent said. Contacted at his home, McLean said, "I feel the matter is finished. I don't have anything else to say."

SILVER HEELS FIRE STATION APPROVED Tardy Water Customers To Pay $1 Penalty Fee

By BRIAN PEAY
Beginning with the next billing date, city water customers will be charged a $1 delinquency fee for payments made after the due date of each water bill.

City commissioners meeting in regular session Tuesday evening amended the Water Rate Ordinance, Section 29-25, and adding Section 29-25.1.

Now the ordinance reads, "A delinquent fee of $1 will be added to all water and sewage bills not paid on or before due date." Currently the due date is approximately 15 days after the billing date.

Jack Watkins, city commissioner, asked whether or not the days should be drawn out to 30 days, because of the possible duplication of work on assessing the late bills in mid-month.

CHARGE PICKED UP

However, Harry Nagel, city manager, assured Watkins that the computer will automatically pick up the delinquent charge after the 15 days and the charge will be assessed on the next bill.

"The main thing we need is communication with the people, so they will understand what is expected of them and will then comply," said Watkins, as he emphasized a fear of city telephones ringing off the wall with complaints due to the initiation of the extra cost.

Also to clear any possible misunderstanding, the commissioners and administrators decided that the actual mailing date will be stamped on each bill, so that customers will be sure of the due date.

Residents in the Silver Heels Addition were assured of a fire station, when commissioners approved a resolution authorizing the mayor to enter into a lease agreement with the county to establish a fire station site on Goat Hill, city-owned property.

Nagel told commissioners that the new station will be 30 feet by 40 feet, apparently large enough to house two fire trucks, and will be an all metal building.

He also said that there will be bathrooms in the facility and living quarters, and that there were water and gas lines available on the property.

In other business two appointments were made to fill previously vacant positions since last summer.

OFFICIALLY MOVED

Willis V. (Bill) Brown was officially moved to Director of Utilities, a position he has filled in an acting capacity since the resignation of Bob Anderson in May. Also James Campbell, previous data processing manager for the city, was moved to the Director of Public Works position, left vacant with the resignation of Nolan Chafin in June.

Nagel said in the meeting though that Campbell will still be utilized in the computer department when the need arises. Campbell is taking the new position on an administrative level.

The payment of vouchers was another big item, at least as far as Commissioner Watkins was concerned. He questioned vouchers to be paid by the city through Dec. 28, ranging from work compensation claims to powdered soap charges.

Also coming under the probing eye of the commissioner, were non-actions of city employees on bid taking, the securing of purchase orders and receipt writing.

In the city manager's report, Nagel told commissioners that a new format for checking vouchers will be initiated. A typed sheet with the voucher number, amount and date will be given commissioners before each regular session, and will require the signature of the mayor before approval.

All other items on the relatively short agenda were approved by the commission.

A request for de-annexation of property in the Colonial Hills Addition by owner Joel D. Starnes Jr., was voided, when Nagel told commissioners that it was impossible because the land in question was surrounded by city-owned property.

Starnes agreed with Nagel's viewpoint and withdrew the request.

Also a claim for damages due to a sewer back-up, requested by W. D. Miller, was approved. Nagel said that city policy in the future will be non-acceptance of any water or sewer back-up damage claims.

Fog Covering Most Of State

By The Associated Press

One might have expected to see Sherlock Holmes darting in and out of the shadows of most Texas cities early today as a heavy fog enveloped most of the state and light drizzle fell.

Only extreme South Texas escaped and the blanket of fog as a weak trough of low pressure caused a few showers over extreme West and Northwest Texas before dawn.

The National Weather Service said the warm front stretching from southern Louisiana to West Texas should move northward rapidly today as a cold front comes off the Central Plains into West Texas.

Thundershowers should be touched off as the two systems collide and temperatures should drop behind the cold front.

Considerable fog and occasional light drizzle will persist over the northern half of the state today.

The fog over the Coastal Plains should have dissipated by late morning, giving way to partly cloudy skies and mild temperatures in that area. Cool to cold thermometer readings will continue over North and Northwest Texas.

Predawn temperatures were in the 60s over South and Southeast Texas and the rest of the state had readings in the 40s and 50s.

Mrs. Earnest Welch was taken to a Lubbock hospital Tuesday for additional tests, after originally having been hospitalized here for treatment of a kidney condition.

Gem Robbery Loot Viewed By Widow

ATHENS, Tex. (AP) — By now, Mrs. Jean Geron is no stranger to aiding in police investigations.

A Department of Public Safety helicopter took Mrs. Geron, a Dallas widow, to Athens Tuesday, where she viewed four pieces of expensive jewelry.

She told Henderson County Sheriff J. W. Brownlow and Texas Rangers that the pieces—valued at $19,530—were taken from her home in a 1970 robbery which netted $83,000 in jewels.

The four pieces were recovered by Brownlow and Ranger Dale Bryce after questioning a person in connection with a house burglary in Henderson County. Brownlow says the person and two others bought the jewelry. He says the person is in jail, but his identity is being kept secret because of fears for his life.

Mrs. Geron lost her husband, an insurance broker, in a robbery attempt this year of their fashionable home in Dallas. According to police, a distant relative of Mrs. Geron masterminded the attempt.

In the robbery attempt, she aided police by holding a gun on one of the intruders following the shooting of her husband. She called police and held the suspect until they arrived.

Ex-Envoy Undergoing Treatment For Tumor

DALLAS (AP) — Former ambassador to Pakistan, Eugene M. Locke, was undergoing treatment here today for a brain tumor.

His wife, Adele, said the 52-year-old Dallas attorney-investor, has been hospitalized at St. Paul's Hospital since last July.

"His condition fluctuates almost daily," she said Tuesday. "We really don't know what his condition is. He has had so many complications and things change all the time. We just don't know."

Locke, following his 10 months in Pakistan, was deputy ambassador to South Vietnam for nine months, resigning in 1968 to run in the Texas Democratic gubernatorial primary which he lost to Gov. Preston Smith.

Locke shares close ties with former President Lyndon Johnson and Treasury Secretary John Connally.

Locke and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker assumed this nation's diplomatic chores in South Vietnam in succession of Henry Cabot Lodge.

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The letter from the woman who was annoyed with her gentleman friend because he always salted his food before even tasting it, reminded me of something I once read about Thomas Edison.

Edison would always invite a prospective employee over for dinner. The first course would be soup, and if the fellow salted his soup without tasting it first, Edison wouldn't hire him.

JOE GOLDSTEIN, SIOUX CITY, IOWA

DEAR JOE: Heaven only knows how many good men Edison passed up by prejudging a man because he prejudged the soup.

DEAR ABBY: I was glad to read about George who always seasons his food with plenty of

DEAR ABBY: We are parents of a child who is not doing well at school. We think we might be part of the problem and have been considering speaking with the school psychologist.

A neighbor told us that the school principal would insist on sitting in on all the conferences, and the psychologist could not keep confidential any personal family problems that might come out during these conferences. Private help is out of the question right now, as we cannot afford it. Any suggestions?

DEAR SUBURBANITES: Go to school and get your information directly from the school psychologist. I can't believe what your neighbor told you is true.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the person who never misses a chance to brag about his ancestors. If he goes back to his great-great-grandfather, ask him what he knows about the other seven. Then remind him that there is as much in his blood from each of these 13 people as there is from the one

Class 2 Pap

Your Good Health

patient is on birth control pills, or if there is undue irritation or some other such factor.

When a physician sees a Class 2 report, he puts the information together with any other observations he has made — patient's age, history and so on — and judges how long it should be before another test should be made. Let's say he says six months, which will still leave adequate time even if in the interim the cells change to Class 3 or even Class 4.

Ordering another test too soon may not permit enough time to show which way the cells are progressing — moving toward Class 3, or back toward Class 1. A test too soon just doesn't show anything new. There's no reason why you should not ask for another Pap test sooner than six months, if that will put your mind at ease.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What are the possibilities of becoming pregnant after having a tubaloplasty operation? (The tubes were closed.) N.S.

Generally speaking, your chances are about 50 per cent or less. It depends on the reason for the operation — that is, how did the tubes come to be closed? If the tubes were closed because of salpingitis (infection of the tubes), your chances are slimmer than if you had your tubes tied and then reopened.

In some cases, a vinyl tube may be used to keep the Fallopian tubes open, but even that does not guarantee success.

Note to Mrs. L.M.C.: While seeing colored halos around lights at night can be a sign of glaucoma, it isn't necessarily that. It can happen when cataracts are beginning to form, too.

Emphysema can be controlled. To learn how to live with this serious lung disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, requesting a copy of the booklet, "How To Control Emphysema," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

DELNOR POSS CALLS TECHNICAL

Maravich, Refs Volley

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston winning its ninth consecutive title was part of the history of the 12th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl Basketball Classic—but TECHNICALLY speaking, there was much more to it than that.

The referees became the star attractions of the final night's action Tuesday as they called seven technical fouls in the consolation and championship games.

Texas A&M defeated Louisiana State University 73-57 in the consolation game and Houston blew out Michigan State 104-73 in the championship match.

But the technical fouls took center stage, bringing a bitter exchange between the game officials and the LSU and Michigan State coaches.

The fireworks started in the consolation game when referee Bob Smith ejected LSU coach Press Maravich after calling three straight technicals on the veteran coach.

Smith also called a technical on an LSU assistant coach and the other referee, Del Poss of Big Spring, called a technical on LSU's Bill Newton 30 seconds left in the game.

"I shouldn't be talking because I'm so mad," Maravich said, "but it's a shame that the Southwest Conference schools have to play with such inconsistent officiating. A tournament like this one needs great officials, not officials who ignore hard contact fouls and then call 'kissing' fouls. They're very inconsistent."

"I haven't had many dealings with the Southwest Conference, but this was disgraceful," Maravich said.

Michigan State Coach Gus Ganakas, still fuming from a technical Smith had called on him in Monday night's first round, joined Maravich in blasting the officiating.

Ganakas said of his technical "I called him Bob and he said not to get personal. Then, he gave me a technical. It was unbelievable."

During the exchange with Maravich, Smith also threatened to have a radio announcer on press row ejected.

In explaining what happened, Smith said:

"The only thing I can say is that the coach from LSU started it. Coach Maravich, isn't that his name? He started moaning about inconsistencies. I struck a technical on him and he said 'give me two.'"

"I warned him that a third would put him out of the game and he said 'give me three.'"

"I feel when we lose our sportsmanship we're lost," Smith said. "When the kids hear the coach doing it they'll start it too."

Official scorer W. O. (Soapy) Johnson said Smith came to the scorer's table following the A&M-LSU game and told him that the second game would begin with a technical foul against Michigan State for abusive language from Ganakas.

Johnson said he relayed the information to the referee for the championship game, but no action was taken.

But the second game did start with a technical foul against Houston because the Cougars' Dwight Davis dunked the ball during pre-game warmups, against NCAA rules.

"Something has to be done or it's going to kill athletics," Poss said. "It would be a shame if some of these small kids running around here grew up and couldn't compete in athletics."

Poss said rowdiness and uncontrolled teams are jeopardizing athletics.

Houston was clearly the class of the tournament, scoring 100 points each night and landing three players on the all-tournament team.

After a close first half, Steve Newsome hit three straight baskets early in the second half and Michigan State never recovered.

Cougars making the all-tournament team were Dwight Jones, Dwight Davis and Sonny Willis, also named the tournament's most valuable player. Jeff Overhouse of A&M, William Kilgore of Michigan State and Steve Chidley of LSU rounded out the team.

A TOUCH FOR TENPINS — Martin Fryar (left) and Tom Van Winkle have been named Bowlers of the Week by the City Bowling Association. Fryar won his laurel at the Bowl-A-Rama by posting a series score of 762. Van Winkle posted a 636 at Webb AFB to share the distinction.

Tangerine Hero Looks To Pros

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Toledo quarterback Chuck Ealey, 23, lead and stayed close until fourth quarter touchdowns.

Joe Schwartz ran for two scores on short first bursts of 1 and 3 yards. And Ealey, who completed 14 of 23 passes, rammed over from the one for a touchdown.

Still, the 230-pound Long was the man who turned the game around. He had predicted it would be a memorable night.

Long told coach Jack Murphy before the game, "I'm gonna go out and win the most valuable award." And, he did.

Ealey and All-American defensive tackle Mel Long led the Rockets to their 35th consecutive triumph Tuesday night in a 28-3 smashing of Richmond in the Tangerine Bowl.

"Sure, I want a shot in pro football," said the 6-foot Ealey. "Some people say I can't make the pros as quarterback, but I'd sure like to try."

Richmond, Southern Conference Champions despite a 5-6 record, was not completely shocked at losing to the team that hasn't tasted defeat in three seasons.

But the gritty Spiders took a 20 lead and stayed close until Toledo made it a rout with two fourth quarter touchdowns.

Long told coach Jack Murphy before the game, "I'm gonna go out and win the most valuable award." And, he did.

Ealey was acclaimed the outstanding back.

The muscular tackle gave Toledo a 7-3 lead early in the second quarter when he crushed Richmond quarterback Ken Nichols, causing a fumble in the end zone. Long leaped on the ball for a touchdown.

More Experienced 49ers Await Favored Cowboys

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Cedrick Hardman, a Texan on his way home for a weekend recalls, "I used to like the Dallas Cowboys."

"When I was in college they gave us passes to their games," the 6-foot-3, 255-pound defensive end of the San Francisco 49ers said Tuesday.

But in last year's National Football Conference championship game, the Cowboys picked on Hardman, a rookie, by aiming a lot of running plays in his direction. Dallas won 17-10 to reach the Super Bowl.

On Sunday in Dallas, the teams meet in a title rematch. "I haven't let that game bother me too much," Hardman says now. "The only thing that I don't like when I look back is the final score."

"The films showed I was doing my job on their sweeps. But we didn't readjust our whole defense when we should have in some situations."

Coach Dick Nolan agrees. "They threw some new things at us, and it takes experienced players to read those things quickly," he said Tuesday.

"We had Hardman, Jim Sniadecki and Bruce Taylor on the right side, with a total of four years experience," he added. "On Sunday, we'll have seven years experience there."

Cornerback Taylor also was a rookie last season, and Sniadecki, in his second season, was filling in for injured Skip Vanderbunt at right line-backer. Vanderbunt, a starter

Now, 51 weeks after the Cowboys' National Conference championship victory—one he quarterbacked them to—Craig Morton sits in the shadows.

More precisely, he stands in them, conferring with coach Tom Landry and watching the action from the bench while Roger Staubach does the quarterbacking.

"We're winning, aren't we? That's the important thing," Morton said as he and the rest of the Cowboys went through a workout in preparation for their NFC title rematch with the 49ers next Sunday at Texas Stadium.

The personable, soft-spoken seven-year veteran from California, who lost the No. 1 role to Staubach midway in the season, expressed mixed emotions about his back-up role.

"Sure I want to play," said Morton, who directed the Cowboys to a 17-10 triumph over San Francisco a year ago and came off, so close to doing the same in the Super Bowl before Baltimore eked out a 16-13 decision.

Horses Honored NEW YORK (AP) — Ack Ack, best in the West, is the 1971 Horse of the Year while Canonero II, who won two jewels of the Triple Crown and the affection of the general public, is the champion 3-year-old.

Steers, Lions Out To Make Amends

DALLAS (AP) — The Texas Longhorns arrive for their fourth consecutive Cotton Bowl Classic today and the New Year's Day clash with Penn State in a matchup being dubbed "The Redemption Bowl."

Of course, Penn State wants to soothe a final 31-11 regular season loss to Tennessee and regain some prestige for Eastern football.

The Longhorns—Southwest Conference champions—want to make amends for their Cotton Bowl loss to Notre Dame last year when Texas' awesome Wishbone-T offense came unglued with damaging fumbles.

"The Tennessee loss hurt but this game against Texas can help us make up for it," said Penn State All-American back Lydell Mitchell. "Maybe we can prove something with this game."

Only light workouts were scheduled for the teams as they taper off for the Saturday game. Penn State is ranked No. 10 while the Longhorns, who lost to Arkansas and Oklahoma, are 12th ranked.

Texas' corps of injured appears to be healing. Hard-running Texas halfback Jim Bertelsen said, "The layoff has helped all of us. My bruised shoulder hasn't bothered me at all. (Quarterback) Eddie Phillips is going real well and (linebacker) Stan Mauldin and (wide receiver) Jimmy Moore are both working out with us. We should be ready."

Bertelsen, a senior, said he would like to close out his college career with a victory.

A prime professional prospect, Bertelsen said "I'm really kind of looking forward to the final game. The season got awfully long toward the end. It will be good to get some time off. I know what's going to happen, though. In a month or so I'll be wishing it never had to end."

Penn State coach Joe Paterno said he has admired the Hudson, Wis. kid and admitted he had a chance to recruit Bertelsen but didn't follow up on it.

"After he went to Texas I got a note from some people telling me we'd missed a good one," Paterno said. "Yes, we really did miss a good one."

Paterno said, "Bertelsen's a great runner and a tremendous blocker. In fact, I don't know of a better open-field blocking halfback anywhere."

Morton Happy Despite Role

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas fans voted him their "favorite Cowboy"—but that was a year ago.

Now, 51 weeks after the Cowboys' National Conference championship victory—one he quarterbacked them to—Craig Morton sits in the shadows.

More precisely, he stands in them, conferring with coach Tom Landry and watching the action from the bench while Roger Staubach does the quarterbacking.

"We're winning, aren't we? That's the important thing," Morton said as he and the rest of the Cowboys went through a workout in preparation for their NFC title rematch with the 49ers next Sunday at Texas Stadium.

Herd Blows Lead, Loses To Clovis

BORGER — Big Spring built up a 13-point lead and then fell apart in losing to a smaller but more aggressive Clovis, N.M., club in the semifinals of the annual Borger Invitational Basketball Tournament here Tuesday night, 84-77.

The Steers return to competition at 8 o'clock here this evening, at which time they will be battling for third place. The game winds up pre-conference play for Ron Plumlee's team, which is now 10-6 on the season.

Big Spring was the defending champion in the eight-team tournament.

The Steers lost three players on fouls in the uneven contest. Plumlee's team appeared to be firmly in command shortly before the half and again in the third quarter but could do little right, after that.

After tonight, the Longhorns will be off until Jan. 4, at which time they visit Abilene for a 5-AAAA game against Abilene High.

Rice Won't Launch Legal Fight Against Peterson

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Steve Judy of Texas Christian — While the South all-stars were wrapping up their final game as collegians with a 9-0 victory in the Blue-Gray football classic, their head coach was also pacing the sidelines for what was probably his last time before stepping into the professional ranks himself.

Bill Peterson, who guided the Gray squad through a giant defensive battle Tuesday night, had learned earlier in the day that Rice University was not going to put up a legal fight to keep him as their head football coach.

His send-off in the nationally televised game in Cramton Bowl was on a winning note, but the victory was earned in a manner which Peterson is not known for.

He has been one of college football's biggest proponents of the pro passing style, and under his command on the Gray were two quarterbacks with proven passing abilities

However, the expected aerial fireworks were dampened by fierce defensive work, and it took a 7-yard touchdown scamper by Stahle Vincent of Rice and a 19-yard field goal by Tennessee's George Hunt to nail down the hard-fought win.

San Angelo Seeks New Grid Coach

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo school board has launched a search for a new head football coach. The job was vacated by Dan LaGrasta, who is joining Emory Bellard's staff at Texas A&M.

LaGrasta was making $13,900 annually when he departed. Among those being prominently mentioned for the job is Gordon Wood, Brownwood's veteran mentor.

Restore Trust

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

ONE TIME: (Q.) I went out with my friends one night. They were all drinking. They asked me if I wanted a drink and I said no. They gave me a look as if I was some kind of a queer. So I said yes.

That was the first time I ever drank. My parents found out, and I promised them I would never do it again. But they don't seem to trust me as much as they used to. — Sorry in Connecticut.

(A.) You do not ask a question, but you naturally want to be fully trusted again. Many who write me are in the same predicament, for one cause or another.

One of the most wonderful things a parent can do is to forgive and return to complete trust in a child who has made a mistake and learned from it what is right.

This forgiving and returning use a temporary color in your hair, if possible, more wonderful for the parent than it is for the child. I believe that if you will talk to your parents you can convince them that you have learned a very worthwhile lesson.

Then maybe they can share with you the wonderful experience of complete trust. It may take them a while and they may not be able to put it into words, but you will be able to see it in their eyes and their actions just as you now see the lack of it.

HAIR CHANGE: (Q.) Last summer I lightened my hair. Now the roots are dark again and I want all of it to be its natural color again. But it hangs "way down and the light part will take a long time to grow out. Could I do anything to make it grow faster? — Two Tints in Oregon.

(A.) Not really. But you can use a temporary color in your own original shade until nature can do the repair job.

Texas Phone Rates Change

DALLAS (AP) — It will cost more to call the same long distance points in Texas beginning today.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. officials said Monday that adjustment of long-distance rates announced last July but which had been deferred by the government's wage-price freeze, has been approved by the Price Commission.

The increases will mean about two per cent more revenues for Southwestern Bell on intrastate calls. The new rates reflect reduced charges on direct-distance dialing calls and increased charges on calls where operator assistance is required.

R. D. Schodde, vice president of Texas operations for SWB, said the company will also put into effect new rate periods—day, evening, night and weekend—for direct distance dialed calls.

He said also that July 4 and Labor Day are being added to the list of holidays for reduced rates on calls within the state.

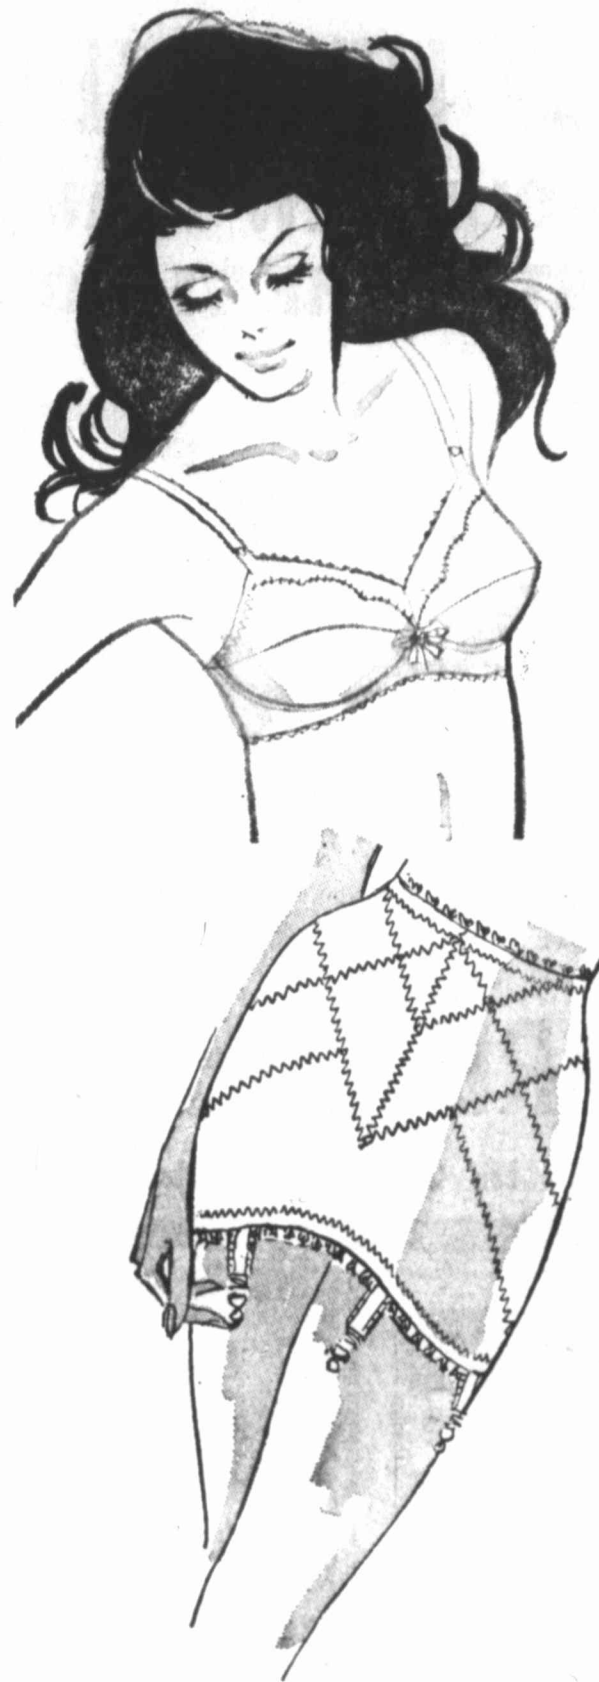

Schodde said the new DDD rates will not apply to collect calls, credit card calls, calls charged to a third number or calls made from pay telephones.

5-Cents-A-Pack Chicago Tax Legal

CHICAGO (AP) — A five cents-a-pack tax to be imposed on all cigarettes sold in Chicago has been upheld as constitutional and the way now appears clear for it to go into effect Jan. 1.

Judge Nathan M. Cohen of Circuit Court upheld Monday the right of the city to impose the tax, which several cigarette distribution firms had contended as in violation of the equal protection clause of the Illinois and U.S. Constitutions.

Revenue from the tax will go toward salary increases for city officials.

Scientists Say Big Bomb Being Used By Air Force

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A relatively new bomb, which kills everything within a radius of 3,280 feet, is being used by the U.S. Air Force in Southeast Asia, two scientists say.

Dr. E. W. Pfeiffer, a zoologist at the University of Montana, and Dr. Arthur H. Westing, biology department chairman at Windham College in Putney, Vt., claim the bomb was developed for "the instant creation of clearings in dense jungle which can be used as landing zones for assault helicopters."

The scientists who visited South Vietnam last summer, added they have learned the weapon has been used as an antipersonnel weapon, a fact confirmed by a high official in the U.S. embassy in Saigon. They said they were told by the Air Force the bomb was used two or three times a week.

In Washington a Pentagon spokesman said the bomb has been used for some time and there has been no secret about it. The bomb's concussion effects serve to knock down trees and other growth which otherwise would require "the insertion of personnel and equipment prior to helicopter assault," he said.

The two scientists presented their report on the bomb Monday in a paper entitled "Impact of Modern Weaponry Development on the Human Environment in Indochina." The paper was read at the American Association for the Advancement of Science's 138th annual meeting here.

They said they visited Vietnam in August on a mission for the Scientists Institute for Public Information, a group based in New York whose current president is anthropologist Margaret Mead.

The weapon is designated the BLU 82B general purpose high explosive concussion bomb, 4.5 feet in diameter, over 11 feet long and weighing 15,000 pounds. Within a thin steel case are 12,600 pounds of a dense blasting agent made up of ammonium nitrate, aluminum powder and a binding agent, the scientists said.

The two men said they learned the bomb has been used in Laos and Cambodia, as well as South Vietnam, and added that it is used to cut enemy roads in mountainous areas by creating landslides.
