NO INTENTION OF REMAINING SILENT ON WAR ISSUE

Lindsay Accuses Nixon Of Reviving McCarthy Tactics

By The Associated Press
President Nixon's personal call for caution in criticizing his Vietnam policy received some support from Democratic candidates on the right but was blasted from the left as an attempt to use Americans' anxiety about the war to silence dissent.

And a ranking administration official followed it with a sharp attack calling some Democratic presidential aspirants parrots of Hanoi.

Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, one Democratic hopeful, accused Nixon of reviving the tactics of the late Sen. Joseph McCarthy. Lindsay labeled the President's State of the World message "a scurrious attack upon the honor of his critics and an absurdly polyanthropic caricature of the international scene."

Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota, one of the Democratic candidates often mentioned in recent attacks on critics of Nixon's peace proposals, said he has no intention of remaining silent on the war.

Nixon, McGovern said, was trying "to use the anxiety which the American people understandably feel about this war to silence his own critics here at home."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, whose attack more than a week ago on Nixon's latest peace proposal has sparked continuing debate, said he didn't blame Nixon for trying to inhibit criticism. "But he ought to understand that dissent on this war is now five or six years old," Muskie said, "and it's not about to be put down by his dislike of criticism."

The source of the most recent outbreak in the running controversy was Nixon's radio broadcast Wednesday outlining his State of the World message.

"I do not question the patriotism or the sincerity of those who disagree with my policies to bring peace," the President said. "But I would hope that anyone seeking the presidency would examine his statements carefully to be sure that nothing he says might give the enemy an incentive to prolong the war until after the election."

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota said in commenting on the speech: "I believe the President of the United States needs to really confide in the American people—not generalities but specifics."

CALL NEWSMEN

Mutscher Pre-Trial Hearing

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — District Court Judge Neil Daniel ordered lawyers for four subpoenaed newsmen to bring their clients into the courtroom at the pre-trial hearing against House Speaker Gus Mutscher Jr. and two of his associates today.

Mutscher, along with Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and aide Rush McGinty, is under indictment on accusations of conspiracy to accept a bribe. Mutscher is also charged with accepting a bribe.

All three defendants were in court.

COURT CLEARED

Just as the court was to resume after a brief recess, the bailiff ordered the courtroom cleared of all but the lawyers. No explanation for the move was given.

The four newsmen called to court are Robert Heard of the Associated Press, Glen Castleberry and George Kuempel of the Austin American-Statesman, and Don Fisher of the Dallas Times Herald. Fisher was working for the American-Statesman at the time the indictment was drawn up and acted upon last September.

The newsmen's lawyers asked the judge to quash the subpoenas, contending that the stories they wrote on the grand jury action were irrelevant and immaterial to the present proceeding. They argued also that the subpoenas were merely "a fishing expedition" by the lawyers for Mutscher, Shannon and McGinty.

Frank Maloney of Austin, chief defense attorney, countered that the source of the stories in question might be important and he wished to pursue the matter because it could be relevant to his motion to have the indictments quashed.

Gold-Trade Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has sent Congress a long-awaited bill to devalue the dollar by 8.57 per cent, while claiming success in trade talks with Japan and the Common Market.

Treasury Secretary John B. Connally sent the devaluation proposal to Capitol Hill Wednesday in the form of a 270-word bill that would raise the official price of gold from $35 to $38 an ounce. Administration officials predicted prompt approval.

The administration thus carried out a pledge made last December when the richest non-Communist nations agreed on a new set of currency-exchange rates built around a dollar devaluation.

Accompanying the measure was a disclosure that substantive agreements have been reached with the Common Market and Japan to remove some of their barriers against U.S. exports.

Strike Causes 'Blackouts'

LONDON (AP) — Electricity was cut off to thousands of homes, offices and factories throughout Britain at lunchtime today, the first of the blackouts caused by a miners' strike that has hit coal-fueled power stations.

Leaders of the 280,000 striking miners rejected a new pay offer but agreed to continue talks with the state-run National Coal Board.

The limited power cuts to 5 per cent of subscribers, originally not expected until Friday, came as cold weather put additional strain on power. Many Britons use electric heaters.

The cuts were ordered under emergency powers the government took to conserve dwindling coal stocks.

Under a rotation system, each district in Britain faces a maximum of two power cuts a day lasting up to four hours each. At any one time, up to a third of the nation could be blacked out.

The cuts came after power stations tried to conserve power by reducing voltage 6 per cent throughout the nation this morning. This was not effective.

Under its emergency powers the government has banned the use of electricity for advertising displays and floodlighting for sports and other entertainment.

Peace Talks Disagreement

PARIS (AP) — The United States today indefinitely postponed the next meeting of the Vietnam peace conference because of an antiwar meeting scheduled for this weekend in nearby Versailles.

U.S. Ambassador William J. Porter called the delegates to the Versailles meeting a "horde of Communist-controlled agitators."

LET YOU KNOW

He told the Communists at today's session of the peace talks "our side does not wish to agree to a meeting . . . next week . . . We will notify you when we have determined how soon another meeting will be desirable."

The United States feels the Versailles meeting will trouble the "neutral atmosphere" surrounding the peace conference. Organizers of the meeting say about 1,200 delegates from perhaps 80 countries, including the United States, will attend the Friday-Saturday-Sunday meeting.

SLANDER

At today's session of the talks, North Vietnam sharply assailed President Nixon's references to Vietnam in his State of the World message, saying: "He repeated his old slanderous and fallacious allegations."

The United States in turn accused the Communists of being fearful of elections in South Vietnam, as proposed in Nixon's peace plan, although the Communists boast of controlling 80 per cent of the country. The U.S. delegate also declared the North Vietnamese were deceitful on the prisoner of war issue.

Nguyen Minh Vy, assistant chief of the North Vietnamese delegation, told the 14th session of the peace talks that Nixon "tried to shift responsibility for lack of a settlement to the other side."

DEMAND U.S.

Nixon said in his message Wednesday that if North Vietnam thought it could take over South Vietnam with American help, then negotiations could not succeed. If the Communists are ready to compete fairly in the political arena "they will find our side forthcoming," he added.

Vy, sitting in for the chief delegate, Xuan Thuy who was reported to be ill, asserted that Nixon's peace plan was "not designed to be accepted by the other side."

Instead he said the allies use "non-acceptance as a pretext to pursue the policy of Vietnamization of the war."

SUCCESSOR SOUGHT

Hunt Reiterates Retirement Plan

Dr. W. A. Hunt reiterated his intention Wednesday to step aside this summer as president of Howard County Junior College, and trustees regretfully accepted his resignation.

Dr. Hunt is in the homestretch of his 20th year as president of the college, having come here Aug. 1, 1952.

The search for a successor will begin soon. K. H. McGibbon, board president, named Dr. P. W. Malone and Mrs. Horace Garrett as a committee to suggest procedures to be followed in receiving and screening applications.

Dr. Hunt expressed the hope that the board could engage a new president in time for him to spend a month or two with the new man before he steps aside July 31, 1972.

He said he had no immediate plans except to "get out of the new president's way and support him in any manner possible." He also expressed the hope that board members would continue to offer to serve in their posts in order to give the college continuity of experience during the transition period.

Dr. Hunt, a graduate of McMurry, SMU and the University of Texas, succeeded E. C. Dodd, first president of the college, just after the college had moved to its new campus on the present location. There have been several major expansions during his administration, including the construction of the practical arts building, agricultural green house, new science wing, music building, Dora Roberts Student Union building and men's and women's dormitories, the new science building, new library, and now the Horace Garrett Applied Science building which will be dedicated Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Annual enrollment has increased from about 1,200 to upwards of 3,000 in that period of time.

Dr. Hunt had told the board last August that he planned to resign as president at the end of the year, but board members had expressed a hope he would continue. Wednesday he reaffirmed his decision, declaring that "I think it is not immodest to say we have a great institution here and that it is in good shape."

HELP FOR FAMILIES AND PATIENTS

Title IV-A Grant Approved For State Hospital Here

Help for families — and indirectly help for patients returning home from the Big Spring State Hospital — is on the way.

The hospital has been approved for a Title IV-A grant of $127,000 to finance a program of follow-up counseling.

This will be provided through the outreach clinics of the hospital in Pecos, Post, Monahans, Sweetwater, Snyder, Seminole, Lamesa and Colorado City. Members of families outside these points may be furnished transportation to the clinics or to the hospital here for help.

Some preparatory work will be done, in cooperation with vocational rehabilitation, to enlighten families about the patient's needs upon release from the hospital. Once the patient is back home, there will be follow-up counseling both with the former patient and with the families.

In many instances, family situations contributed to the illness of the patient in the first place, and hospital authorities hope that psychiatric and psychological assistance here may help alleviate these conditions. At least, they explained, the families will be given a new understanding of how they can aid the patient on the way back to a healthy day-to-day situation.

Tad Corbett is coordinating the program through the outreach clinics, and Jake Glickman is shaping up the social services through the hospital. Both will be assisted by psychiatrists and psychologists assigned to the project.

In addition, counselors are being hired in the cities where the outreach clinics are located in order that they will be on hand when and where they are needed.

Because the Big Spring State Hospital services 48 counties from Lubbock to San Angelo and from Abilene to El Paso, families in need of help have been up against it due to time and distance. The new program is designed to help overcome this.

The target group includes low-income families with dependent children, and who have or have not had a member of the family as a patient in the hospital. The family also must be a present, past or potential recipient of aid for families with dependent children.

By heading off a lot of potential trouble before it gets to be a major problem, said Dr. Preston E. Harrison, hospital superintendent, the Title IV-A project hopefully can cut down drastically on readmissions. The program fits naturally into the concept of more and more mental health service to people in home surroundings.

GRANDMA CAT BURGLAR SUSPECT — Adele Borsierine, 54, is shown after her arrest here as a suspect in the cat burglaries of plush Miami area hotels. The woman, from Kansas City, Mo., was arrested after deputies and FBI agents found her automobile jammed with furs, jewelry, traveler's checks and keys from 33 hotels.

Granny Posts $5,000 Bond

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Grandmotherly, 54-year-old Adele Borsierine has been released on $5,000 bond after being charged with cleaning up Miami Beach hotel rooms "in more ways than one," police said.

A spokesman for the Dade County Sheriff's Department said the 115-pound Kansas City, Mo., widow used maid's uniforms and pass keys to burglarize rooms in hotels along the tourist strip. "She was spending her month's vacation in Florida," a sheriff's department spokesman said. "She apparently has uniforms for all the hotels on the strip, and she'd just walk into a room, clean up, and split with anything that took her fancy."

"Then she'd wrap the stuff up in brown paper packages and mail it home to Kansas City," the spokesman said.

Mrs. Borsierine was arrested Tuesday and charged with possession of stolen property, possession of burglary tools and possession of stolen credit cards.

Officers investigating the case said her new car was filled with furs, jewelry, traveler's checks and keys from 33 hotels.

The sheriff's spokesman said officers watched Mrs. Borsierine mail a package to Kansas City just before she was arrested. When postal authorities opened the package, they said it contained a $2,000 mink coat that had been reported stolen from a hotel.

Racketeers Go 'Legit'

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 85 per cent of the nation's racketeers are engaged in legitimate business activities, with restaurants, bars and taverns heading the list, the Internal Revenue Service says.

In its 1971 annual report, the IRS said today it has information that about 2,000 persons are considered major racketeers in the United States.

Officials provided few details, but said there are 217 restaurants, bars and taverns in which racketeers are engaged. This figure includes both major and minor racketeers, the IRS said, and "there could be two or more racketeers in one restaurant." The report did not define "major" and "minor" racketeers.

The IRS listed 186 businesses in the real estate and insurance field in which racketeers are engaged. Other major fields and the number of business involved:

SENATE YOUTH DELEGATE
Sam Chappell returns with honors from Washington, D.C.

Solons' Lack Of Interest Surprising, Says Youth

"The main thing we learned in the program was that the senators and leaders of the national government are human beings, just like anyone else," said Sam Chappell, president of the Big Spring High School student council, after his trip to Washington, D.C., to participate in the Youth Senate Program.

Chappell was one of 102 Senate Youth Delegates who toured the nation's capital, and talked with some of the most influential leaders in the country for one week, from Jan. 29 to Feb. 5.

The program is sponsored by the William Randolph Hearst Foundation. The local youth received a certificate of scholarship and a $1,000 scholarship for his college education from Sen. John Tower.

VARIED ACTIVITIES
The delegation was involved in various activities during the week-long stay in the capital. "We were fortunate enough to see the senate in session, and the surprising fact was the lack of interest the senators had during the session," Chappell observed. "The highest number of senators on the floor at any time was 12, and the rest didn't have the interest to get out of their offices."

The delegation had other meetings in which they were greatly impressed with the national leaders.

Key sessions were held with Melvin Laird, secretary of defense, and William Rogers, secretary of state.

"I was impressed with the intelligence of these and other of the President's staff," said Chappell. However, the public figure most liked by the youth group was Associate Justice

Blackman of the Supreme Court, according to Sam.

The Senate Youth Delegates' visit to the White House was capped by discussions with Donald Rumsfeld, Counsel to the President and chairman of the Cost of Living Council. The delegation was not able to see Nixon, however. He was away at Key Biscayne, Fla., working on his China tour, according to the local youth representative.

Chappell also added that the one thing most astounding to the youth delegation was the amount of crime in the capital city.

"We listened to the senators and congressional leaders tell us how great the country is, but during our stay there we were escorted by armed guards to keep us from being mugged," Chappell said. He added that during the stay, the hotel where the delegation was staying was robbed of $10,000.

DINNER-DANCE
The program concluded with a dinner-dance at the Mayflower Hotel for Delegates and escort officers.

Each delegate received a U.S. flag, which had flown over the Capitol for presentation to the hometown schools.

Foundation Trustees attending functions throughout the week included Harold Kern, publisher of the Boston Record American, Joe Kingsbury-Smith, director of overseas operations for Hearst Corporation, and Ray Petersen, publisher of Good Housekeeping Magazine.

Ira P. Walsh is the director of the Senate Youth Program, which completed its 10th year.

"We always get the idea through the news media that the senators are unreal figures. We found out that they have no super-political answers to the country's problems, and are just trying, like anyone else, to make the country better," said Chappell.

"The most meaningful point of the program was that the democratic process of our nation was brought to a down-to-earth level for us to examine."

Improvement Seen In Spot Cockrell

The condition of Jerry (Spot) Cockrell, who was burned during a flash fire at the Corden refinery here Monday, is much improved, according to word received here by his mother-in-law, Mrs. J. W. Garrison.

Cockrell suffered third degree burns over 10 to 12 per cent and second degree burns over 45 per cent of his body.

He was flown to the John Sealy Hospital in Galveston. Those who would like to write him can forward their mail to Unit 7-C, John Sealy Hospital, Galveston 77550.

To Increase Bills For U.S. Tourists

PARIS (AP) — The French tourist office says international currency realignment will increase the bill for American tourists in Western Europe by 10 to 20 per cent.

The increase for trips in France was set at 14 per cent, with 20 per cent in West Germany and Switzerland, 17 per cent in Italy and Britain, and 10 per cent in Spain, Portugal, Greece and Yugoslavia.

Ex-Grid Star Heads Raza Unida Ticket

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A former schoolboy football star and an outspoken young woman from South Texas head the list of candidates who will seek state and local posts under the banner of a Mexican-American third party.

Leaders of the Raza Unida Party, founded two years ago in Southwest Texas, say they will not limit their campaign strictly to Mexican-American issues.

LAW DEGREE
"We are an independent political party not only for Mexican-Americans, but for all those dissatisfied with the present state government," said Mario Compean, chairman of the party's state executive committee.

Raza Unida released a list of 54 candidates Wednesday for offices ranging from governor and U.S. senator to state representative and county commissioner.

Running for governor is Ramsey Muniz, a former star high school football player at Corpus Christi and later a football letterman at Baylor University, where he received a law degree.

Now of Waco, Muniz lists his background as serving two years as administrative officer for the Model Cities program in Waco, and three years in program development with federal and state programs.

SEXIST QUESTION
Raven-haired Alma Canales of Pharr, Tex., is seeking the lieutenant governor's post.

"We'll emphasize the problems of Mexican-Americans," she said, "but we're not going to replace a system that oppresses people with a brown system that oppresses people."

"What's a pretty girl like you doing in politics?" a newsman asked.

"That's a sexist question," she retorted. "I suppose somebody thinks I have ability."

Party leaders noted their slate includes some anglos and some blacks. Miss Canales said she has found that many Texans are interested in supporting a party offering a coalition of ethnic groups.

The party faces at least two major obstacles—obtaining enough signatures on petitions to qualify for the ballot, and challenging age limitations placed on political candidates. Miss Canales is only 24. A person must be 30 to run for lieutenant governor.

OPTIMISTIC
Compean appeared optimistic that the party can obtain the necessary 22,358 signatures to be placed on the November general election ballot. But he predicted Raza Unida opponents will try to block the party by other means.

"We're prepared to go to court or do whatever is necessary to get on the ballot," he said, referring to the age limitations and any other problems that may arise.

The other statewide candidates include Flores Amaya, who holds a law degree from the University of Texas, for U.S. senator; Ruben Solis Jr. of San Antonio, originally from Texas' Lower Rio Grande Valley, for Texas treasurer; Fred Garza of the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, for state railroad commissioner; and Robert Gomez of a farm workers newspaper, for land commissioner.

The party will field candidates for such offices as state representative and county commissioner in nine counties, including Hidalgo (Edinburg); Zavala (Crystal City); La Salle (Cotulla); Starr County (Rio Grande City); Nueces (Corpus Christi); Victoria (Victoria); McLennan (Waco); Tarrant (Fort Worth); and Bexar (San Antonio).

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's calf crop last year tallied more than 46.9 million head, up two per cent from 1970, the Agriculture Department reported Wednesday.

CAMPAIGN CHAIRMEN — Mrs. Horace Garrett and Curtis Strong talk about the Easter Seal Campaign to be conducted in Big Spring from Feb. 28 to April 2. Mrs. Garrett has been appointed honorary chairman and Strong is the formal chairman of the upcoming campaign.

Jones Wants To Upgrade Conduct Of Texas Senate

DALLAS (AP) — Bill Jones of Odessa, a candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor, said Wednesday that he is running because more businessmen are needed in government.

Jones, who said he is worth between $2 and $3 million, said in an interview that too much of the legislation passed in Austin is done to promote politicians rather than help people.

The legislature, he said, "needs to be run like a business." The lieutenant governor presides over the Texas Senate.

INCOME VOW
Jones said one way he would upgrade conduct of the Senate is by "being more discreet in the committees you appoint." By that, he said he meant that committee members should aim to serve the people rather than interest groups.

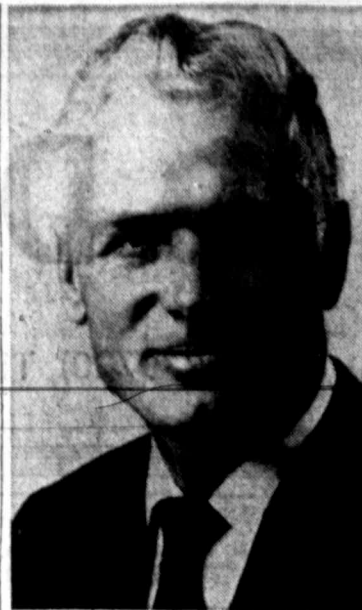

Jones said he has not disclosed the amounts and sources of his income but would if elected.

Jones said he sees nothing wrong with officeholders making business deals while they are in office, but said he would be against accepting a business deal as a favor to help pass legislation.

2 Incumbents Back In Race

Two incumbent school board members today filed for reelection to the Big Spring independent School District Board of Trustees.

J. W. Little, elected to the last year of a three-year term in 1972, filed for a three-year term and Tom Feters, appointed to fill the remainder of the first year of a three-year term, has filed for the remaining two years of the term vacated late last year by Leon Miller.

A. K. Guthrie, whose three-year term also expires April 1, has not announced his plans.

The filing deadline is March 1 and absentee voting for the April 1 election begins March 13 and ends March 28 at the county clerk's office.

School Enrollment Still Plummeting

Big Spring school enrollment eased off by 13 last week, making a total of 6,956, which is 231 under the comparable date a year ago. Elementary school enrollment dropped by 13 with Lakeview and Marcy each showing a decline of five. The total was 3,567. Secondary enrollment was 1,962, down five for the week, all in the senior high. Special education gained five in reaching 288.

Navajo Chief Asks 50-50 Participation

HOUSTON (AP) — The chairman of the Tribal Council of the Navajo Nation says he is pleased with early rejection to a major shift of policy on energy matters announced by the council six months ago.

Peter MacDonald of Window Rock, Ariz., said the 10-year plan adopted after he took office early last year is in line with President Nixon's objective that Indians should shape their own destiny.

"We want to develop our resources on a joint venture based or through operations wholly owned by the tribe," he said.

MacDonald discussed the new program at a Wednesday news conference and later outlined its objectives in a speech before the Houston Kiwanis Club.

He said his people are prepared to spend millions to develop the natural resources of their 25,000 square mile reservation.

"The Navajos are not satisfied with just royalties," he said. "We want at least 50-50 participation all the way to the delivery or end point."

He said the tribe has an estimated one billion tons in coal reserves but is receiving only 15 to 25 cents a ton under current contracts.

"We figure we are getting only about 5 per cent of the total money involved in the entire operation," he said. "We hope to increase this 5 per cent to 30 per cent."

Orange Crop Really Big

WASHINGTON (AP) — The second largest orange crop on record, second only to last season's 190.661 million boxes, is in the U.S. Agriculture Department's January forecast.

The USDA Wednesday predicted a crop of 190 million boxes, 6.2 million of them in Texas.

Total citrus fruit output, based on Feb. 1 conditions, was estimated up four-tenths of one per cent from January indications. The orange production estimate included:

Florida 136 million boxes this year, compared with 142.3 million last season; California 44 million and 38.6 million; Texas 6.0 million and 6.2 million; and Arizona 4.0 million and 3.56 million.

The grapefruit harvest was estimated at 61.6 million boxes, up 500,000 from the January estimate and 900,000 more than last season.

Grapefruit output, by states, included: Florida 44 million boxes, compared with 42.9 million last season; Texas 10 million and 10.1 million; Arizona 2.4 million and 2.52 million and California 5.2 million and 5.16 million.

Lemon production was estimated at 17.5 million boxes, unchanged from January and 1.1 million more than last year.

The Florida Temple crop was estimated at 6 million boxes, compared with 5 million last season.

RETURNING TO WORK — Actor Richard Boone says he's returning to work because, in seven years' semi-retirement, he has fulfilled an obligation to his son, Peter. The star of the onetime television series "Have Gun Will Travel" and "Medic" says his 18-year-old son "doesn't need me to shepherd him any more."

Must Set Free Or Retry Man

HOUSTON (AP) — Harris County Dist. Atty. Carol S. Vance says a federal district court ruling that Lee Otis Johnson be set free or retried on a marijuana charge will be appealed.

Vance said Wednesday his office, the office of the Texas attorney general and the state attorney for criminal appeals will jointly appeal the ruling.

Johnson, 32, a black activist, was convicted Aug. 27, 1968 on a charge of giving a police undercover agent a marijuana cigarette.

He received a 30-year prison sentence and has been in the Texas Department of Corrections since then.

However, U.S. District Court Judge Carl O. Bue ruled Jan. 20 that the state must free Johnson or retry him within 90 days. Bue said he found indications that influences other than evidence presented during the trial played a role in the jury's deliberations.

Show Of Aerial Strength As Warning To Commies

SAIGON (AP) — The United States has shown its aerial strength in the country for the first time in months today as a past four months during which the South Vietnamese were killed and 161 South Vietnamese were wounded.

Nearly a score of U.S. B-52s sharply stepped up its air concentration on the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

The South Vietnamese air force flew another 85 strikes.

The show of aerial strength was intended as a warning to North Vietnam of heavy retaliation in the event of the big Communist offensive predicted this month. Nearly 400 fighter-bombers and B-52 heavy bombers were in Vietnam, Thailand and off the coast of North Vietnam, and about 40 more B-52s were ordered from the United States to the western Pacific.

84 COMBAT STRIKES — The U.S. Command reported that Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers flew 84 combat strikes in South Vietnam, more

County Residents Receive Degrees

DENTON — Four Howard County residents were among 905 candidates receiving degrees at North Texas State University this winter.

Howard County degree recipients were Mrs. Mary Crawford, Coahoma; Nancy Hedleston, Wesley Ballou and Mrs. Lisa Jordan, Big Spring.

Mrs. Crawford received a master of education degree in counseling and student services.

Miss Hedleston received a master of education degree in counseling and student services.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Hedleston, 1609 Indian Hills.

Ballou was awarded a bachelor of business administration degree in marketing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley P. Ballou, 2501 Carol Drive.

Mrs. Jordan received a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Parks, 800 W. 15th St.

Longshoremen Take Picket Order To Court

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Longshoremen ordered to cross picket lines in New Orleans or Houston ports took their case to the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals here Wednesday, but the judges gave no indication when they would rule.

The longshoremen claimed that the federal judge's order violated the First Amendment.

The longshoremen's union claimed that government lawyers were using injunctions to control the working man. The court orders, they said, had the effect of "threatening working men with jail if they didn't violate their convictions."

U.S. Atty. William Fowler countered that the object of the government action was to get the ships unloaded.

The dispute stems from orders issued after longshoremen at Houston and New Orleans refused to cross picket lines set up by deep sea unions to protest wages and conditions aboard foreign flag vessels serving the United States.

Warner Brock, a spokesman for the International Longshoremen's Association, said only individual members of the ILA declined to cross the picket lines and there was "no concerted action."

Another ILA lawyer said that only 10 gangs out of 118 ordered out in New Orleans were not working.

United States Considering Recognition Of Bangladesh

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is weighing diplomatic recognition of Bangladesh as part of a broad review of U.S. policy toward the developing structure of South Asia.

What postures will India and Pakistan adopt toward the new state and vice versa? How will India and Pakistan relate to their neighbors and to Peking and Moscow? These are among questions to which U.S. officials say they still find no clear answers.

Tied into this review, too, is the extent to which the United States should revive its massive economic-development aid to the subcontinent—assistance suspended since last year's Indian-Pakistani conflict.

President Nixon does not intend to announce a decision until after his China trip.

So far some 30 countries have moved to set up formal diplomatic ties with the former east wing of Pakistan which broke away in December's two-week war. Among them are Britain and the Soviet Union, but not mainland China.

A prime item in Nixon's view is whether India will abandon its past neutral stance and adopt a militant posture in South Asia, perhaps hooked in with Moscow.

The President said in his State of the World report Wednesday that the United States has "a continuing interest in India's independence and nonalignment" and also in its policy "toward its neighbors on the subcontinent."

Similarly, the United States would prefer that Bangladesh, a country of 70 million, not be tied into a possibly hostile power bloc.

Current reports give U.S. officials some assurance on this score. They indicate Bangladesh's Sheikh Mujibur Rahman is displaying some independence from New Delhi, and that he pressed for the Indian agreement to pull out troops.

These officials say the decision on recognizing Bangladesh is a technical item which will fall into place easily once Nixon charts the larger U.S. policy course.

The scale of U.S. aid to the subcontinent, however, is unlikely to reach earlier heights, should Nixon signal a go-ahead. The aftermath of U.S.-Indian bitterness over the war lingers.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED REPLACEMENT OR MONEY REFUNDED

Are you going to live longer than your money?

Maybe you're having a pretty good life now. Your credit is good, you've got a few nice clothes and a good dependable car. And if you're lucky, maybe you own your own home. But that's because you're working. What happens when you retire? You can't live on memories. It's still going to take money. Lots of money. Money that you should be saving now.

And one of the easiest ways to start putting away a few dollars for those retirement years is by joining the Payroll Savings Plan where you work and buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

That way every time you earn a little money for today, you save a little for tomorrow.

Then when the time finally comes to retire, you'll have something put away to retire to.

Now E Bonds pay 5 1/4% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). Bonds are replaced if lost, stolen, or destroyed. When needed they can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

Farm Income Projection Revised Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has revised upward, perhaps by $2 billion, its estimate on farm income this year.

The projection was included Wednesday in a report on the demand and price outlook for farm products.

"Gains in gross income will more than offset advances in expenses, lifting farmers' realized net income about $1.5 billion to $2 billion above last year's $15.7 billion," the report said.

That would mean a possible top level of $17.7 billion, exceeding the old mark of $17.1 billion set in 1971.

Until now, administration officials, including Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, have predicted only a $1 billion gain in net farm income for 1972.

At the same time, the report said retail food prices are expected to rise "close to four per cent," this year. Over-all retail food prices, including meals in restaurants, had been predicted to be up "around 4.5 per cent" from last year.

"Livestock prices look strong for most of the year, with considerably less pork production but more beef, poultry and milk," the report said.

"Record harvests have dampened grain prices but smaller total supplies of cotton, soybeans, vegetables and tobacco are holding crop prices above a year earlier."

Officials said 1972 farm sales are expected to be "well above" last year, with most of the gain coming from livestock receipts.

The report also said: "Hog slaughter will sharply trail year-ago levels through the first half. Prices, though declining seasonally in late winter, are likely to average well above a year ago throughout 1972."

"Beef supplies will be up moderately in the first half, an eight per cent increase in cattle on feed Jan. 1 suggests larger marketings at least through spring. Prices will probably weaken in late winter, but continue above January-June 1971 prices."

"Broiler output is expected to be larger in 1972, partly due to lower feed costs. Prices, aided by small pork supplies, will likely average moderately above 1971 levels."

"Milk output is in for another slight gain in 1972. Prices will run above 1971 through the first quarter."

Fiesta Story In Texas Star

Laredo's fiesta time is George Washington's Birthday, when people of two nations rally at the International Bridge and pledge anew their friendship.

There will be again — as for the past 75 years — a great celebration with Texas-Mexican atmosphere, including parades, bands and bullfights. The story will be featured in the Texas Star next Sunday when Laredo — a romantic gateway to Mexico — will be described by Fernando Pinon, managing editor of The Laredo Times.

Jack Martin of Lamar University is the head honcho of Texas basketball if you compare the won and lost records. Once he had a severe critic and sought silence by marrying her. Now she's unofficial assistant coach. Jerry Wall unfolds the details in another Star feature.

There is more fun for children in learning now, due to the imagination and effort of the late R. H. Porter, whose career in publishing is outlined in another Sunday article. As head of the Steck-Vaughn publishing house, his innovations, including easy readers and new math, were years ahead of his competitors.

Charlie Brite gives the readers a rundown on the Texas music scene, in which a large number of home grown celebrities appear and make this the top creative center in the recording industry.

Divorce Sought By Mama Cass

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Eileen Naomi Wiedeman, better known to fans of her singing as Mama Cass, has asked Superior Court for a divorce from her second husband, a Bavarian baron.

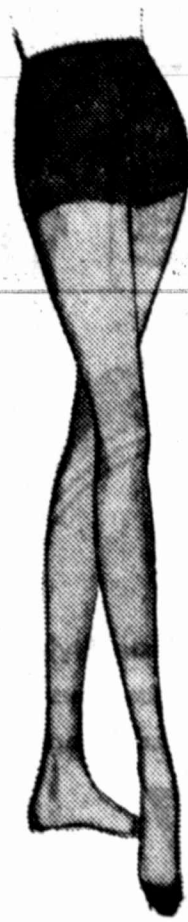

The hefty, 30-year-old pop singer said Tuesday she married Donald von Wiedeman, 27, on June 26, 1971, and lived with him for five months. Her suit cited irreconcilable differences.

BARN RAISING — The new county barn at the rodeo grounds is well on its way toward completion, according to Howard County Agent Bruce Griffith, and should be complete enough for at least partial use by the time the Howard County Junior Livestock Show is held March 16-18.

Solon Blasts Smith, Secretary Of State

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine said today Gov. Preston Smith should call a special legislative session on the filing fee issue. Price repeatedly denied he was motivated by any desire to enhance his race for House Speaker.

He criticized Smith and Secretary of State Bob Bullock for taking "drastic and unprecedented steps" to run this year's party primaries without legislative approval.

"I think it is true there very well could be a speaker's election at a special session, but we would have a special session anyway," he said, referring to a mandatory session later this year on appropriations and taxes.

"I am not concerned about timing—I am concerned about the usurpation of the legislative powers by the secretary of state," he said.

Price acknowledged that "it very well could be easier" to defeat Head if he already had been elected speaker, "but I don't have any concern over being re-elected."

Price said he had no specific criticisms of any of the regulations Bullock has issued.

"Kings used to make good decisions, but we decided a long time ago to have a representative form of government," he said.

There have been frequent reports that house members might vote in a special session to depose Speaker Gus Mutsaers, who goes on trial in Abilene Feb. 28 on bribery charges growing out of the Texas stock fraud scandal.

Price claims a majority of house members would support him for interim speaker, giving him added leverage for a full term as speaker starting in 1973.

Price is opposed by Rep. Fred Head of Henderson and one other candidate in the Democratic Primary for re-election to the house—a pre-requisite for election as speaker.

A three-judge federal court that struck down Texas' 1971 candidate filing fee law also gave Bullock, as chief election officer, power to set rules and "reasonable filing fees" for the primaries.

Price called this "czar-control of this basic democratic institution that rightfully and constitutionally belongs to the people of Texas."

DEATHS

Walter Koemel Dies Tuesday

LAMESA (SC) — Walter A. Koemel Sr., 73, died Tuesday in Medical Arts Hospital here.

Last rites were to be said at 2 p.m. today in the First United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Newton Starnes officiating. Burial will follow in Lamesa Memorial Park under the direction of Branon Funeral Home.

Mr. Koemel had been a Lamesa resident since 1944. He lived in Robstown before moving to Lamesa. He was a longtime member of the Methodist Church, a member of the Lamesa Masonic Lodge 909 and the Eastern Star. He had been active in the Masonic Lodge for 51 years, having received his 50-year pin last year. He was also a member of the Corpus Christi Commandery KT.

Survivors include his wife, Clara Koemel, Lamesa; two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude McEwen, Ogden, Utah, and Mrs. Pat Anderson, Santa Fe, N.M.; a son, Walton Koemel, Lamesa; four sisters, Mrs. Tim Holman, West, Texas, Mrs. Freeman Ray, Lufkin, Mrs. John Lesko, Miami, Fla., and Mrs. Ray Matustek, Lenora; and seven grandchildren.

Grandsons and cousins will serve as pallbearers.

Mrs. Arismendez Succumbs At 59

LAMESA (SC) — Mrs. Teresa Arismendez, 59, died at her home in the Sparenburg community Wednesday morning.

Services are scheduled for 10 a.m. Friday in the St. Margaret Mary's Catholic Church with the Rev. Jerome Vitek officiating. Burial will be in the Ackery Cemetery.

Mrs. Arismendez had been a resident of Dawson County for 14 years.

Survivors include her husband, Merced Arismendez; of the home; five daughters, Mrs. Oelfina Lopez, Ackery, Mrs. Nora Lopez, Belton, Tex.,

San Antonio Rites

Services for Dr. Frederic G. Lahourcade, 58, who died Wednesday in Big Spring, are set for 11 a.m. Friday at the Porter Loring Funeral Home Chapel in San Antonio. Local arrangements were by Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Services Are Set For Obie Caldwell

SAN ANGELO — Ben Davis "Obie" Caldwell, 83, a former Forsan resident, died at about 8:30 p.m. Tuesday at Baptist Memorial Geriatric Hospital.

Services are set for 4 p.m. today at Johnson's Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Paul Fulmer, visitation minister of First United Methodist Church and the Rev. Larry Madden, assistant minister of the church, officiating. Burial will be in Fairmount Cemetery.

Mr. Caldwell was born in Mississippi and was a retired employee of Continental Oil Co. He was a member of the First Methodist Church and a member of the Masonic body. He moved to San Angelo from Forsan in 1958. His daughter Vivian was a teacher at Forsan for some time.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Vivian Stockton, of San Angelo, and two grandchildren.

Infant Girl Dies In Local Hospital

Graveside rites will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday in Trinity Memorial Park for Marsha Kay White, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland E. White. The baby was stillborn at 6:25 a.m.

Bohannon Funeral Set For 2 P.M.

Services for Hudson L. Bohannon, 73, who died Tuesday in Big Spring, are set for 2 p.m. today at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Masonic graveside rites will be held and burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Pallbearers were to be Harvey Clay, Lloyd Brooks, James Wilcox, Justin Holmes, W. B. "Preach" Martin, Ewing Ferguson, Chester Cathey and Wendal Parks.

Bowles Funeral Is Set Today

Services for Viola Mae Bowles, 84, who died Tuesday in Big Spring, are set for 3:30 p.m. today at the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Burial will be in the Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Pallbearers are to be Noyle Stone, Terry Hans, F. W. Beckmyer, Merrill Creighton, J. B. Apple and David Elrod.

Rites Conducted For Potet Man

Mrs. A. J. Vaughn attended funeral services Wednesday for a brother-in-law, Lewis Faulkner, Potet rancher.

Services were held at Potet and burial was in High Valley Cemetery.

Survivors include two sons, Col. Brock H. Faulkner, Bryan, and Calvin Faulkner, San Antonio; a daughter, Mrs. Charles Lott, Jourdanton.

Mr. Faulkner had visited here on numerous occasions.

Adams, Warren To Run Again

The annual trustee election for the Howard County Junior College was fixed officially for April 1 at the monthly board meeting held Wednesday evening at the college.

Paul B. Adams and Dr. Charles Warren, two whose terms have expired, announced that they will seek re-election and have filed for a place on the ballot. There will be polling places wherever the independent school districts within the county are holding elections.

The board Wednesday approved the purchase of eight double-pedestal tables for $379 from Foremost and five single-pedestal tables for $154. Also approved was purchase of 70 stacking chairs, half of which will be used in the old SUB where adult educational classes are being held.

Also approved was an increase in monthly payments to Blue Cross to increase the per day hospital allowance and top limit on benefits. It will cost the college about $350 per annum for the additional coverage.

Eight refunds of spring semester tuition and fees were approved in cases where enrollees were moving or had been in accidents, etc. The board passed on a $294 landscape bill for the new Horace Carritt Applied Science building, and authorized miscellaneous expenditures for campus improvements.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, reported that new storage buildings were all but complete, and that two new exterior lights had been installed at the rear of the practical arts building and near the new storage buildings.

Debt Ceiling Raise Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $20-billion raise in the national debt ceiling, enough to cover Treasury borrowing until June, has been approved by the House but now waits its turn to be considered by the Senate Finance Committee.

The timing could give the Treasury a mild case of nerves, but the Senate is expected to act before the mounting debt goes through the present $430-billion ceiling, an event forecast for early March.

The House voted, 248 to 147, Wednesday for the bill, cut from President Nixon's request for a $50-billion borrowing authority increase. The requested raise would have taken care of Treasury needs until February 1973.

The Democratic-controlled Ways and Means Committee instead approved the interim increase, which will automatically bring the administration back before Congress for a fiscal discussion before the presidential campaign.

The Senate Finance Committee, to which the House-passed bill was referred, is committed to winding up its work on President Nixon's long-pending welfare reform bill this month.

Committee sources said it is still giving the welfare bill top priority and that the debt-ceiling measure will have to wait.

Another Patrol Car Damaged

The third minor accident this week involving a city vehicle occurred at Third and Settles at 4:39 p.m. Wednesday.

A police patrol car, the city vehicle was driven by Vilosio Y. Garcia, 502 N. 11th. Floyd E. Hoesler, 229 Floyd, Elkhart, Ind., was the driver of the other vehicle involved in the mishap.

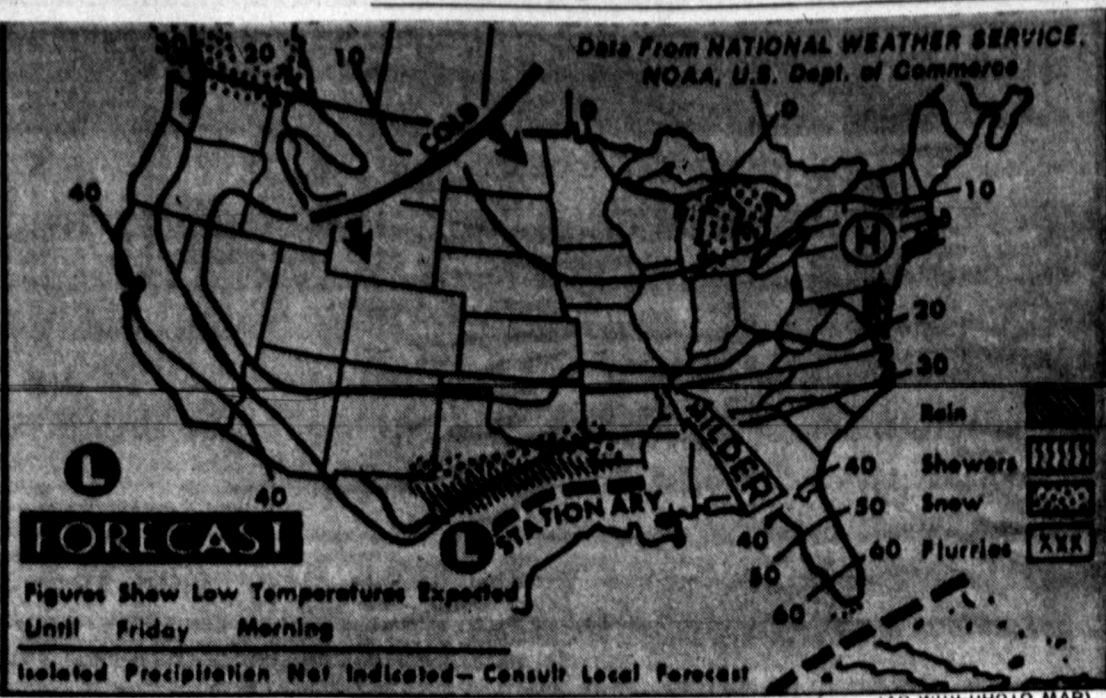

According to police reports, the city vehicle had been in the city garage for repairs, and the garage employee was making a test drive on the vehicle when it was involved in the accident.

Light damage resulted to the patrol car.

Two other police vehicles were involved in accidents this week. One, a regular patrol car, was damaged only lightly and the other, a detective unit, was damaged to the extent of approximately $400 to $500.

Attends Session In Late Methods

Dr. Halvard Hansen, local chiropractor was in Lubbock the past weekend studying precision methods of correcting low back conditions by utilizing "space age technology." This is through an instrument developed by Dr. Arlen Fuhr of Minnesota, to make corrections without pain, discomfort or disrobing of the patient. Also, immediate analysis can be made to ascertain the degree of correction made and information as to further treatment.

WEATHER FORECAST — Fair but cold weather is forecast for most of the nation today. Milder weather is expected in the Southeast. A mixed band of snow and rain is expected across Texas. Snow is also forecast for Michigan and northern Washington.

CHICKEN SEXERS IN TEXAS SEPARATE HENS FROM HIMS

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Tired of that 9-to-5 routine? Thinking about a change? Then how 'bout becoming a chicken sexer — a guy who separates the hens from the hims.

A group of eight Japanese men in Nacogdoches, Tex., have this unusual occupation. They make their livelihood by dividing hens from roosters at chicken hatcheries throughout Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

Most folks can distinguish an adult rooster from an adult hen if not by sight then by sound; but distinguishing a day-old rooster from a day-old hen is a job for the experts.

Primarily, they work with white leghorns and can identify the sex of the baby chicks at the rate of 1,000 per hour.

Paul Takiguchi, 46, one of the practitioners of the unusual occupation, says their work is primarily aimed at selecting chicks for egg producers. Takiguchi says culling out the roosters at the day-old stage saves egg producers the expense of feeding the chickens for several weeks before culling out the roosters.

While white leghorns are remarkable egg producers, white leghorn roosters, according to Takiguchi, are virtually worthless, even as broilers, due to their slow rate of growth. As a result the poor hapless white leghorn chick that staggers out of its shell to discover that he is a him rather than a hen may end up being converted into poultry feed or food for swine.

Meanwhile, life for the little chick which finds itself a hen is no bed of feathers.

She had better produce! Careful records are maintained on each hen by commercial egg producers and woe be to the poor hen that sits down on the job.

Hospital Plans Are Outlined

Highlights of plans for a new hospital plant to complement the Medical Center Memorial Hospital were outlined by Norman Knox, administrator, in a talk to the Downtown Lions Club at the Settles Wednesday.

He described contemplated facilities, stressing the service core of operating, recovery and intensive care rooms, laboratories, etc., plus 70 new patient rooms. The project, he said, was envisioned as the first phase of what was envisioned some day of being a 250-300 bed hospital complex. The present hospital would be continued in use, but in time would be phased out, he said.

Knox explained why trustees were attempting to go the route of a tax-exempt but non-taxing hospital authority. While there would be an advantage in exemption from ad valorem taxes as a public agency, he said the larger consideration was the interest break on revenue bonds. These bonds are the only way that the hospital can come up with matching funds required for a Hill-Burton grant, he said.

The administrator reiterated that the hospital is and will be open to all physicians who apply and are assigned staff privileges. "There are certain mechanics to be observed in keeping with accrediting agencies in processing applications, but the center will be open to all qualifying doctors. And I don't know how to say it any plainer than that."

The authority, he said, is run solely independently and by the board, whose members receive no remuneration, favors or benefits for their service.

Local Man Is Charged In Cotton Case

A Big Spring man has been taken into custody by the Howard County sheriff's department for allegedly pocketing the proceeds from the sale of cotton burs belonging to John Cherry, who owns a farm approximately two miles north of Big Spring.

Ed Hughes, 51, Knott Route, is in custody in Howard County jail, charged with theft over $50. Bond for Hughes has been set by Peace Justice Jess Slaughter at $5,000.

Most Musical City In State

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Quite likely, Fort Worth will be the most musical city in the state the next three days.

Some 200,000 man-hours of music are being devoted to various phases of improving music and music education in the state during that time.

The occasion is the annual clinic-convention of the Texas Music Educators Association (TMEA).

The highlight of the session will be the 1972 grand concert Saturday night in the convention center. The event features more than 500 of Texas' most talented music students, performing as the Texas all-state symphonic band, all-state symphony orchestra and all-state choir.

The group will be under the direction of nationally prominent conductors.

DON'T BE FOOLED BY PRETTY LEGS

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Don't be fooled by your instructor's pretty legs. Ron Watkins advises fellow Michigan State University students in his book, "The MSU Professor Rating and Coloring Book."

The 33-page guide offers 387 thumbnail sketches of faculty members. "She has nice legs . . . but should rely more on what's in her head than what's on her lecture notes," he says of one instructor.

Watkins writes another professor "must be a genius — he's over everyone's head," and another "lectures like a used car salesman."

Watkins, 28, a senior majoring in communication, says the sketches were drawn from professor rating forms he distributed to students last fall.

Watkins admits his book "may not be a completely accurate guide, but it should serve its intended purpose — a stimulus to students and teachers."

First Lady Buys Spring Wardrobe

NEW YORK (AP) — Pat Nixon has purchased her spring and summer wardrobe, and designers say many of the clothes she selected would be perfect for campaigning.

The First Lady did her shopping Wednesday in her suite at the Pierre Hotel from selections brought to the hotel by various New York designers.

Mrs. Nixon told newsmen that she plans to take the same clothes to Moscow in May as she does to Peking later this month, when she accompanies the President to his two summit meetings.

None of the clothes she bought Wednesday, she said, was for the Moscow and Peking trips.

"I finished shopping for those trips," she said. "These are for spring and summer trips in the United States. It's hard to think of summer when it's so cold outside."

Three simple words, really, but words that hold out great promise for man's enjoyment and well being as we move towards such ever increasing leisure time as the three-day holiday weekend and the shorter work week.

There are many, many ways to pursue recreation, of course. But by far, most of us look to the out-of-doors for fun and recreation. It's out there, it seems, where we find the true meaning of the word "recreation": to recreate and refresh oneself. And increasingly, we're finding the outdoors looking right back at us.

TWO-WAY RELATIONSHIP

This is no one-way relationship between man and his environment. To enjoy the outdoors as a source of recreation, man must pay his dues: the protection and preservation of that environment for all to use and enjoy.

Every family that spends its weekends camping has an obligation — both to other campers and to the outdoors itself — to leave behind a clean camp.

Every family that enjoys boating must be sure not to toss litter overboard, nor to pollute the waters.

Every family that fishes or hunts should follow good conservation rules and practices, because fish and animals are as much a part of the environment as are the streams and forests in which they live.

In short, man and his family have the privilege of using the great outdoors in all its many splendors to increase his enjoyment of life; but in turn he has the inherent responsibility to preserve and protect that outdoors as he would preserve and protect his own family.

Industries serving the recreational needs of the American public have long recognized this obligation, and have been working towards a better environment.

Obviously, consumers would not buy their products if the products could not be used under the pleasant surroundings expected by the recreation-bent people.

But these manufacturers are users, too, and look to the outdoors for their recreation as much as does the office-bound accountant or the factory worker.

PERSONAL REASON, TOO

Recreation manufacturers thus have a double stake in the environment, and their interest and work in creating a better world for recreation — both for the consumer and for themselves — clearly shows this unique interest.

But the industries can do only so much. It remains, finally, to the users, to the campers and the boaters and the hunters and the fishermen, to anyone who seeks recreation under the skies, to recognize his obligation to help preserve the outdoors.

Local Trailer Club To Meet

The Big Country Holiday Ramblers, a travel trailer club, will meet at the Big Spring KOA campground for their monthly chapter meeting Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

The local chapter includes the area between Abilene, San Angelo and Lubbock, and has about 40 families in the club. The local president, Neel Barnaby, is also state president of the 18-club group.

The members will begin arriving Friday and most should be in Big Spring by early Saturday. A pot-luck chili supper will be held Saturday following a day of tours, including one of the Heritage Museum.

"We expect most of the members to be here if the weather is good," said Barnaby. The Holiday Ramblers will hold a state convention at Sweetwater Sept. 24, with more than 250 trailers expected from all over Texas.

Mutscher, Aide Engage In Land Speculation

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Post said in a copyrighted story today that House Speaker Gus F. Mutscher and his executive assistant, S. Rush McGinty, are partners in a Brazoria County speculative land venture.

The Post said the venture includes a small loan lobbyist from Houston. The Post story, from its Austin Bureau, said the lobbyist is Delphin Diamond who represents the estate of L. D. French, which operates two licensed under $100 loan offices in Houston and seven others in Corpus Christi, San Antonio, El Paso and Waco.

The newspaper quoted Diamond as saying he did not know Mutscher and McGinty were partners in the venture at the time he became a partner and their involvement "had nothing to do with me."

He said his own involvement was "purely a business investment" which gives him no special influence with the speaker.

"I didn't get into it for that purpose," he said.

He said he has many land investments, but only a few are through limited partnerships.

Heavy Snow Alert In Far West Texas

By The Associated Press

Winter took another swipe at the Texas Panhandle today, thrusting frigid air southward past blowing snow in Eastern Colorado.

It was cloudy everywhere in the state except a few areas in East Texas and near the Upper Texas Coast, and snow or drizzle were expected to follow the frontal system into some areas by tonight or Friday.

The latest norther blustered past Amarillo just before midnight and near dawn the forward edge of the cold air lay across the Panhandle south of Childress and Lubbock. Fog developed at Amarillo in early morning.

Near dawn the temperature dipped to 17 degrees at Amarillo, 19 at Dalhart, 28 at Childress and Lubbock, all behind the front, and 30 at Marfa in the West Texas mountains.

Readings held above freezing in other sections, running from the middle 30s in the north and 40s farther south up to 52 at Brownsville and 53 at Galveston on the coast.

Forecasters issued a heavy snow watch for the mountain areas in far West Texas, predicting accumulations up to four inches.

A special advisory issued by the Weather Service at Amarillo held out prospects for light snow in the Panhandle but it said amounts were expected to be small and offer no trouble to travelers.

Some of the light snow was expected to spread into the north part of North Central Texas, and chances were seen for occasional drizzle or showers scattered over other sections of the state.

Temperatures by early Friday were expected to get down to 15 degrees in parts of the Panhandle, 22 to 25 in the southwest and north central parts of the state, 32 in the northeast and 38 elsewhere.

Slip Of Girl Wins Gold For Our Side

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — "I might have wrecked the win-ning chances of many com-petitors."

"How many girls of her age would have survived a moment like that? She came through it with the poise of a veteran."

"She is a great champion al-though she is still so young," added Ludmila Titova.

The object of the Russian girls' praise was Anne Henning, who broke the Olympic 500-meter speed skating title not once but twice Thursday, giving the United States its second 11th Winter Olympic Games' gold medal in two days, com-plements of Northbrook, Ill.

The 16-year-old whiz, who will be battling with teammate Dianne Holm for the gold in Friday's 1,000-meter race, whizzed around glittering Makomanai Stadium in 43.75 seconds, fast enough to win de-spite being fouled by Canada's Sylvia Burka.

And because of that foul-in-terference on Miss Burka's part as the two skaters switched lanes—Miss Henning was given a second run and another shot at her own world mark of 42.75.

She didn't make it this time either, although she did man-age to shave almost half a sec-ond off her first time, finishing in 43.33. Miss Krasnova won the silver medal with a 44.0 clock-ing and Miss Titova took the bronze in 44.45.

Anne's triumph, which dem-olished the Olympic mark of 45 seconds, came just 24 hours af-ter Miss Holm, another Northbrook skating star, won the Games' first gold for the United States in the 1,500 me-ters.

In Thursday's other medal com-petition, Norwegian farmer Paal Tyldum won the tough 50-kilometer (31-mile) cross-coun-try ski race in 2:43.14.75 and Gustavo Thoeni of Italy cap-tured the men's giant slalom with a two-run time of 3:9.62.

In Thursday night's huge dou-bles final, Italy's team of Paul Hildgartner and Walter Plank-ner and the East German duo of Horst Hohnlein and Reinhard Bredow finished in a flat-footed tie for the gold with identical two-run times of 1:28.35.

And in Class A hockey, the defending champion Soviet Union pounded Poland 9-3 to take sole possession of first place before runner-up Sweden took on third-place Czechoslovakia and the United States, hoping to keep alive its hopes for a bronze, faced Finland.

Miss Henning's coach, Ed Rudolph, from Chicago, said the instant of the foul precedence. "We were pretty even ... mabe Sylvia was slightly ahead. She crossed in front of me and, to avoid a col-lision, I stood up and slowed down."

"I thought I had lost the lap. But I kept telling myself to keep skating and not look down."

Royal stressed last October to the Longhorn Club, which in-cludes some of the team's most avid fans, that "we've got our eye on some good (black) run-ners, and we're going after them hard as soon as the season is over."

ONLY ONE

Only one black recruit, how-ever, has signed this year with Texas. He is David Smith, a 6-2, 215-pound linebacker from Navarro Junior College.

Not by coincidence, Alvin Matthews' initial job as Texas' first black coach was to accom-pany assistant Jim Helms to a Smith Tuesday morning.

Matthews also was with Royal and assistants Fred Akers and David McWilliams at Kir-byville Tuesday night to watch Earnest Bean, a black all-state halfback, play basketball.

Bean broke Steve Worster's schoolboy rushing records last year, and Worster, a former Bridge City star, was the heart of Texas' wishbone-T offense for three years, making all-America his senior season in 1969.

All-America schoolboy half-backs Ronnie Littleton of Wis-tita Falls and Joe Washington Jr. of Port Arthur Lincoln, both black, say they have not ruled out Texas. Neither has visited the campus, although they have been invited.

The reluctant blacks to at-tend Texas carries over to the local level where the biggest disappointment was the last-minute decision of William Brooks of Austin Johnston, a black athlete, to go to SMU.

Brooks, 6-4 and 190, has start-ed in football as a split end and in basketball for three years at Johnston. He called Assistant athletic director Bill Ellington at 11:30 p.m. Monday night to say he would sign the next day with the Ponies.

Johnston's other top college prospect, also a black, is 6-2 240-pound tackle Edgar Fields. He is going to Texas A&M.

A third black, Doug Mitchell of Austin Reagan, is leaving home for TCU.

TEXAS BOUND

The five top white prospects in Austin, including blue-chip quarterback Larry Miller of Reagan, are going to Texas.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — By al-most any recruiting standard except one, the Texas Long-horns, defending Southwest Conference football champions, have scored decisively in rein-forcing their stockpile of talent.

Four of the state's 14 so-called blue-chip players and 19 of the 91 players on Texas Football magazine's checklist signed with Texas Tuesday, the first day for signatures.

But Texas coaches are still having trouble recruiting black athletes.

"Don't ask me why, we're trying just as hard as we can. I don't understand it," said head coach Darrell Royal.

Royal stressed last October to the Longhorn Club, which in-cludes some of the team's most avid fans, that "we've got our eye on some good (black) run-ners, and we're going after them hard as soon as the season is over."

Rugged Thunderbirds Challenge Jayhawks

New Mexico Junior College, still incensed over its 87-84 loss to Amarillo College earlier this week, invades the HCJC Gym-nasium this evening to tackle Harold Wilder's resident Jay-hawks in a 7:30 p.m., Western Conference game.

The Thunderbirds are just about out of the race for the championship, having won only four of eight league starts. However, the Hobbs team would dearly love to remove the Hawks from title contention.

This will be the annual Homecoming game for the Hawks. That could and should insure the locals no end.

HCJC is 24-6 on the year and 7-2 in conference. Somebody is going to have to knock off Amarillo if the locals get back into the race for first place, however.

Although the T-Birds were de-feated by Amarillo, all five starters hit in double figures. Ben Garner, the club's biggest threat, scored 21 points. Mike Dawson had 17, Jack Toone 14, Brian Untch 13 and Jackie Denton 12.

At 5-4, Denton is the smallest player ever to perform for the NMJC team. He should be quite a matchup for HC's lightning-fast Herbert Lee.

When HCJC defeated NMJC in Hobbs earlier this season, 87-82, Archie Myers hit 31 points for the Hawks. That is three of his last four games. Myers has scored 50 or more points.

Garner is averaging 22.7 points a game for NMJC. In addition, he's pulling down a norm of 14.6 carsoms per start.

Myers will start for HC this evening, along with sophomores Jim Kreier, Lawrence Young and Harry Miller and freshman Lee.

Next week, the Hawks go to Levelland for a contest with South Plains Monday evening and host Clarendon in their final home start Thursday.

Price finished the game as Louisville's high scorer with 17 points, while Terry Benton, Shockers' center, had the game-high 25 points.

Crum's forces hiked their record to 17-2.

Second ranked Marquette found an easy time beating Xavier of Ohio 89-59 behind the 22 points and 21 rebounds of Jim Chones.

"I think that should get us going. We're off to the races," exclaimed Coach Al McGuire of the 18-0 Warriors. His team suffered a letdown for five games before coming alive against De-Paul last Saturday and Xavier.

"We're not trying to bury any-one, we just want to get out of the doldrums."

Another ranked team, Vir-ginia, needed an accurate free throw from sophomore Steve Morris from four seconds re-maining in overtime to defeat West Virginia 89-88. The sixth-ranked Cavaliers, 17-1, were tied 80-80 at the end of reg-ulation when Mountaineer Wil Robinson hit a jump shot at the buzzer. Jim Hobgood led Vir-ginia with 21 points while Robin-son had 40 for West Virginia.

Maryland's late rally toppled 20th-ranked Duquesne 85-71. The Terps held the Ducks to just two field goals in the final 4½ minutes with a zone de-fense. Sophomore center Len Elmore scored 27 points for the 15-3 Terps while teammate Tom McMillen had 20. Mike Barr scored 22 points for the Ducks, also 15-3, and Lionel Bil-lingsly had 20.

Higgins, who played high school athletics in Stanton, is a graduate of Texas A&M University. At one time, he studied veterinary medicine. While in Big Spring, Higgins doubled as one of the track and field coaches.

The Higgins family will re-main in Alice until the end of the school year.

Mexia is a District 9-AAA school. Another member of that league is Athens, where another Big Spring, Joe Crousen, is head coach.

Other schools in 9-AAA in-clude Duncanville, Ennis, Wilmer-Hutchins, Lancaster, Marlin, Seagoville, Terrell, Waco Moore and Waxahachie. Higgins is 39.

Card Problem: They Bring Out Best In Foe

By The Associated Press

Louisville college basket-ball's wonder ingredient. Just put the Cardinals on the court and the opposition automati-cally gets better.

"We seem to bring out the best in everybody," Denny Crum, Louisville coach, said Wednesday night after his team skinned by Wichita State 65-64. "All th teams get real emotional against us and really go all out. We just have to play better."

The fourth-ranked Cardinals trailed the high-flying Shockers until the final two minutes of the Missouri Valley Conference contest, when a foul and techni-cal foul were called on Wichita State's Steve Shogren when he swung at a Louisville player after receiving an elbow in a rebound tussle. Louisville went ahead for good on a jump-shot by Jim Price following the in-bounds pass after the technical foul shot.

Price finished the game as Louisville's high scorer with 17 points, while Terry Benton, Shockers' center, had the game-high 25 points.

Crum's forces hiked their record to 17-2.

BUT REMAINS THIRD Myers Improves His Aggregate

Archie Myers' scoring average, as posted with the National Junior College Athletic Association, has climbed to 36 per game but the HCJC soph-more remains in third place among the nation's point getters.

Ahead of him are J. Beye of Englewood Cliffs, N.J., who in 15 starts has been averaging 39.9 points a game; and Sammy Hervey, Kilgore, Tex., who has a 36.2 norm in 17 assignments.

Myers, who had appeared in 28 games when the averages went in, had far and away the most points — 1007.

Closest to him was F. Hoffer of Grand Rapids, Mich., with a total of 767 points.

Vincennes, Ind., still un-defeated, remains top rated among the teams in the nation but Dalton, Ga., continues in the No. Two position.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, the towering center of the Mil-waukee Bucks, was just too much for the Cleveland Cav-aliers Wednesday night.

Jabbar exploded for 53 points—tying a Cleveland Arena record he set last year—as the Bucks scored a hard-earned 126-121 National Basketball As-sociation victory over the Cav-aliers.

Jabbar's outburst was just one point shy of his season high and three short of his career high.

In other National Basketball Association games, Los Angeles nipped Atlanta 117-113, the New York Knicks downed Detroit 126-102 and Boston beat Buffalo 139-112.

Despite Jabbar's productive night, the Bucks did not pull away from Cleveland until John Block hit a three-point play with just 36 seconds to play.

Goliad, Runnels In Clash Today

All-star teams representing the seventh grade basketball teams in the city's junior high schools clash in their annual game at 4 p.m. in the high school gymnasium today.

A 6-50 p.m. engagement between the Brahmas and the Toros will follow.

Goliad is favored to win over Runnels in the seventh grade contest. The Brahmas rule as slight choices in the ninth grade engagement.

Runnels' all-stars:

Allen Parlee, Arthur Otague, Harold Sherman, Charley Martinez, Jessie Doss, Chris Burrow, Ricky Moore, Lonnie Green, Johnny Jones, all of Rodgers; Cornell Kimble, Erroy Green, Frank Rubio, Phil Barber, Ricky Trawick, Rudy Hernandez, all of Cowboys.

Goalie In Hospital

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Goalie Bruce Gamble of the Philadelphia Flyers was in sat-isfactory condition in Merritt Hospital here today following an apparent heart attack.

Certainly, I was interested in acquiring top-caliber racing stock," Howell explained on his return to El Paso. "But my ap-petmost thought in each of the purchases was the potential breeding value. Each of the 10 yearlings is in sound shape, and each is well-bred."

With breeding potential the main consideration, Howell went to the sale with the idea of acquiring nothing but fillies. But a Sword Dancer colt, named Evening Beat, caught his eye and he picked him up for $26,500. This was the only colt in the Howell group. The price was the second-highest.

"He's as hard as a hickory nut, and he has all the earmarks of a top race horse," Howell said.

The most expensive acquisition in the group was an un-named filly by In Reality, who went for $33,000. "I considered this filly the finest property in the sale — both from racing and breeding standpoints," Howell said.

Ex-BS Coach Takes Post

R. S. Higgins Jr., a former Big Spring High School coach-ing aide, has been named head coach at Mexia High School. He succeeds Dale Baker.

Higgins left here when Spike Dykes was named head coach at Alice High School. He served under Dykes for eight years at Coahoma and Alice, as well as Big Spring.

Uranium Mill Is Producing

Operation of a South Texas uranium processing mill began this week near Falls City about 50 miles southeast of San Antonio.

The facility is owned jointly by Pioneer Nuclear, a subsidiary of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, and by Continental Oil Company, which will be the operator.

The mill will produce concentrated uranium oxide, called "yellowcake," from ore being mined from nearby areas. The mining and milling facilities are known as the Conquista project, said A. F. Cox, president of Pioneer Nuclear.

Located seven miles west of Falls City and 50 miles southeast of San Antonio, the mill has a capacity of producing 1.5 million pounds of uranium concentrate per year. The output will be sold to power companies throughout the United States where it will be processed into nuclear fuel elements to be used in generating electric power.

Pioneer and Conoco initiated large-scale uranium exploration in South Texas in 1968. Ore mining operations began earlier this year in the Karnes County area. The two firms hold additional acreage in other parts of South Texas.

Both Pioneer and Conoco will market their shares of uranium concentrate independently. More than two-thirds of the total plant output has already been sold by the companies.

When in full production, the total work force of the project will be about 130 persons, including 70 at the mine, 45 in the mill and 15 in the administrative offices located in Falls City.

Suspect Released On $3,000 Bond

Bobby Wolfrum, 24, Kerrville, was released from Howard County Jail Wednesday on $3,000 bond set by Kendall County authorities. Wolfrum was arrested by sheriff's officers here on a Kendall County warrant charging him with possession and with sale of heroin.

Denetta Schafer Places In Show

GLASSCOCK COUNTY — Denetta Lin Schafer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Schafer, took two ribbons at the fat stock show at Fort Worth last weekend.

Miss Schafer won 16th with her fine wool lamb in one show, then took seventh in the open show with her lamb. Several other representatives of Glasscock County also took part in the show.

BEING KIDNAPED IS NO FUN, BUT BEING RESCUED IS — Thirteen-year-old Nick Galanis of suburban Salt Lake City tells about his 22-hour ordeal in the clutches of a kidnaper who tricked him into his car Monday as he was leaving school. Nick said he was scared; his mother, Dena, said she prayed and his father John said it was like a TV drama which wouldn't end.

Missing Tanker Plank Recovered

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Coast Guardsmen looking for the tanker V. A. Fogg in the Gulf of Mexico have recovered a plank from the vessel, which has been missing since Feb. 1.

A Coast Guard spokesman in New Orleans said Wednesday a tugboat reported monitoring a weak distress signal it believed came from the Fogg but a search of the area where the signal apparently originated turned up no trace of the ship.

The tug Elizabeth Kelso reported it was near the Port O'Connor Coast Guard station Wednesday when it heard the signal.

The Coast Guard spokesman said the area had been searched previously and was searched again without success.

"It could have been the tug heard someone talking about the Fogg," he said. "In view of the fact we have searched the area, we do not wish to raise the hopes of the families at this time."

The plank recovered Wednesday 65 miles south of Galveston had the name "V. A. Fogg" printed on it, the Coast Guard said.

A search aircraft also spotted a floating door about 45 miles south of Port O'Connor but ships were unable to locate the door to determine if it came from the missing tanker.

The 572-foot craft had 39 men aboard when it left Freeport Feb. 1 en route to Galveston. A massive air and sea search began after the tanker did not arrive here as scheduled.

The Coast Guard has recovered a life jacket, a lifering, a door and an unused life raft from the missing tanker in an eight-day search.

Light Snow Mars Picture

By The Associated Press

Light snow stretching from the central Rockies to the Midwest marred an otherwise fair and cold weather picture for the nation today.

Denver was blanketed by 3 inches of snow overnight. Lesser amounts fell at other points in the snow band.

Travel warnings were posted for the parts of the Rockies and eastern Colorado as snow with blowing and drifting cut down visibility. Missouri braced for an expected 3 inches of snow.

The only other precipitation was snow flurries in western New York and the central Appalachians and scattered light rain in Florida.

Below-normal temperatures persisted over most of the remainder of the nation. Subzero readings were reported in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan, New York and New Hampshire.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 16 below zero at Eau Claire, Wis., to 67 at Key West, Fla.

Cupid's SPECIALS

Valentine's Day abounds with happy thoughts of love for everyone's special someone. The February chill melts a little on the 14th as hearts come on the scene to bring warmth and joy to all. It's a day for the young and all who feel young.

Although St. Valentine had nothing directly to do with the hearts and lovers aspect of the day, this association came about purely by accident, because the feast of the saint falls in early spring.

Heart shapes prevail in greetings, candies, flower arrangements and even in desserts. So, a Valentine's dinner for special people can be a beauty crowned with a heart-shaped dessert, symbolic of the special meaning the day holds.

PLUM RASPBERRY SOUFFLE

1 8½-oz. can purple plums
Water
1 envelope (four serving size) raspberry gelatin
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
2 tbsps. whipped topping
2 pecans, finely chopped
Drain plums and add enough water to the juice to make 1½ cups. Heat liquid to boiling. Dissolve gelatin in liquid. Chill until slightly thickened. Pit plums and press them through a sieve. Stir pulp into gelatin. Fold in egg whites. Make a foil collar, 2 inches high around a 1½ cup souffle dish. Tie collar in place with string. Pour in souffle mixture. Chill until firm. Gently pull off foil collar and top with small rosettes of whipped topping and chopped nuts. Serve at once. Makes 2 generous servings.

RASPBERRY CLOUD

1 10-oz. pkg. frozen raspberries, thawed
2 tbsps. lemon juice
½ tsp. grated lemon rind
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
½ cup nonfat dry milk solids
½ cup ice water
¼ cup granulated sugar
Chocolate covered grahams
Mixed, cut-up fruit in season
Chocolate Peanut Bars
Drain raspberries, reserving syrup. Add enough water to syrup to make one and one-third cups. Bring to boil with next two ingredients. Pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Refrigerate until consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Meanwhile sprinkle milk solids over ice water and beat at high speed until peaks form, while gradually adding sugar. Beat gelatin mixture until foamy. Stir in raspberries; then fold in whipped milk mixture. Pour into a 4½ cup ring mold and chill until set, about four hours. Just before serving, unmold and arrange halved chocolate covered grahams around base. Fill center with fruit. Pass chocolate covered grahams and chocolate peanut bars. Makes 6 (about ¾ cup) servings.

POT DE CREME

½ cup skim milk
2 tbsps. cornstarch
1 egg yolk
1 6-oz. can chocolate topping
1 to 3 tbsps. instant coffee powder (optional)
1 8-oz. can pineapple tidbits or slices
Combine skim milk, cornstarch and egg yolk. Beat until blended. Stir in chocolate topping, coffee powder and one-third cup juice drained from pineapple. Cook while stirring over low heat until cream bubbles and thickens. Cool to lukewarm. Reserve 8 pineapple pieces or 1 slice cut into 8 pieces for garnish. Divide remaining pineapple (slices should be cut into small wedges) between 4 pot de creme cups or small dessert dishes. Top with chocolate creme. Chill until firm. Garnish top of each dessert with two pineapple slices. Makes 4 servings.

APPLE FLOWER SQUARES

1 jelly roll spice cake (15½ x 10½ x 1 inch)
1 ½ cups lemon-flavored confectioner's sugar icing
1 1-lb. 4-oz. can pie-sliced apples, well drained
½ cup sugar
¾ cup water
1 tsp. grated lemon rind
1 tsp. lemon juice
Yellow food coloring
2 tbsps. red cinnamon hearts
Prepare and bake jelly roll spice cake and ice with lemon-flavored confectioner's sugar icing. Divide drained pie-sliced apples in half. For yellow flowers: In skillet combine ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup water, lemon rind, lemon juice, and a few drops yellow food coloring. Heat, stirring constantly until sugar dissolves. Simmer for 5 minutes. Add half the apple slices and cook until apples are glazed and syrup is absorbed. Drain and cool.

For red flowers: In skillet, combine ¼ cup sugar, ½ cup water and cinnamon hearts. Heat, stirring constantly, until cinnamon candies dissolve. Simmer for 5 minutes. Add remaining apple slices and cook until apples are glazed. Drain and cool.

Arrange apple slices on cake in petal fashion. Garnish with pieces of angelica fir stems and gum drops for centers of flowers. Cut into 3 inch squares, with one flower to each square.

ORANGE COEUR A LA CREME

1 lb. pot cheese
1 pkg. (8-oz.) cream cheese, softened
1 cup heavy cream
¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
½ tsp. vanilla
1 can (3½ oz.) flaked coconut
2 tbsps. grated orange rind
Beat pot cheese until smooth. Add cream cheese and blend well. Whip heavy cream and fold into cheese. Add undiluted orange concentrate, vanilla, coconut and grated orange rind and mix well. Place the cheese mixture in a colander lined with cheesecloth; place over a bowl and drain overnight in refrigerator. Next day, pack the mixture in a heart-shaped mold lined with cheesecloth and chill until ready to serve. Unmold on plate, remove cheesecloth, and serve with Orange Sauce. Yield: Eight servings.

ORANGE SAUCE

¼ cup sugar
1 tsp. cornstarch
¾ cup orange juice
2 cups orange sections
Mix sugar and cornstarch in a small saucepan. Stir in orange juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens and comes to a boil. Simmer 1 minute. Cool. Stir in orange sections.

Note: To section oranges, cut slice from top, then cut off peel in strips from top to bottom, cutting deep enough to remove white membrane. Or cut off peel round and round spiral fashion. Go over fruit again to remove any remaining white membrane. Cut along side of each dividing membrane from outside to middle of core. Remove section by section.

MINCE MEAT BAVARIAN CREAM

1 envelope (1 tbsps.) unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
½ cup hot water
1 9-oz. pkg. condensed mince meat
½ cup water
¼ cup sugar
1 tbsps. lemon juice

1 cup (½ pint) heavy cream, whipped

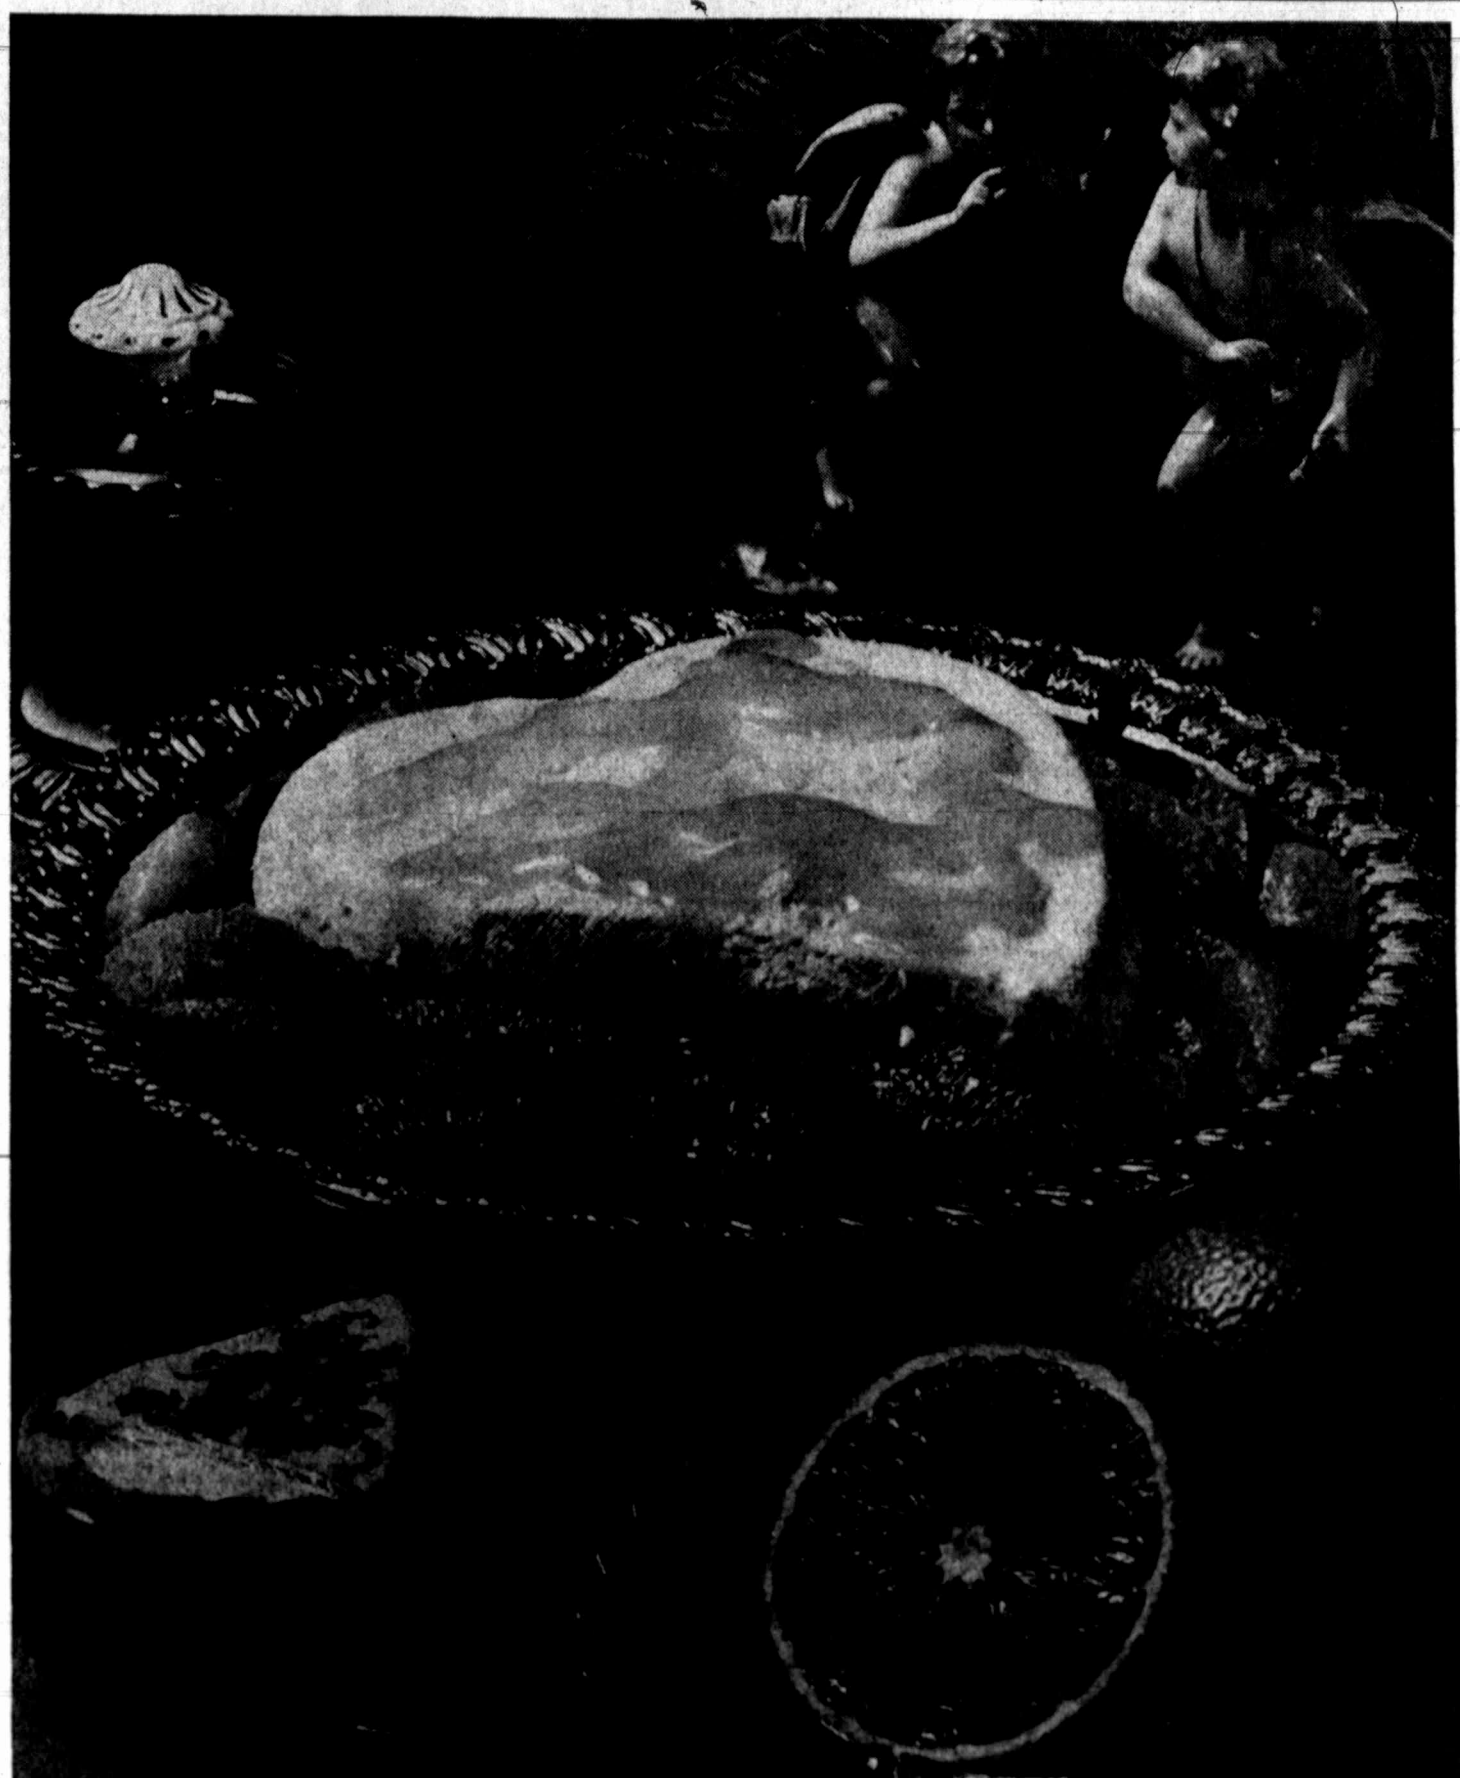

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup cold water. Let stand five minutes. Add the ½ cup hot water. Stir until dissolved. With fork, break mince meat apart in small saucepan. Add ½ cup water and sugar. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring until mince meat is completely broken up. Boil briskly for 1 minute. Stir in lemon juice and dissolved gelatin until well blended. Chill in refrigerator until mixture is slightly thickened. Fold in whipped cream. Pour into lightly oiled 1-quart mold. Chill in refrigerator for 2 hours, or until firm. Unmold on platter. If desired, garnish with additional whipped cream and prepared mince meat. Serves 6.

VALENTINE CAKE

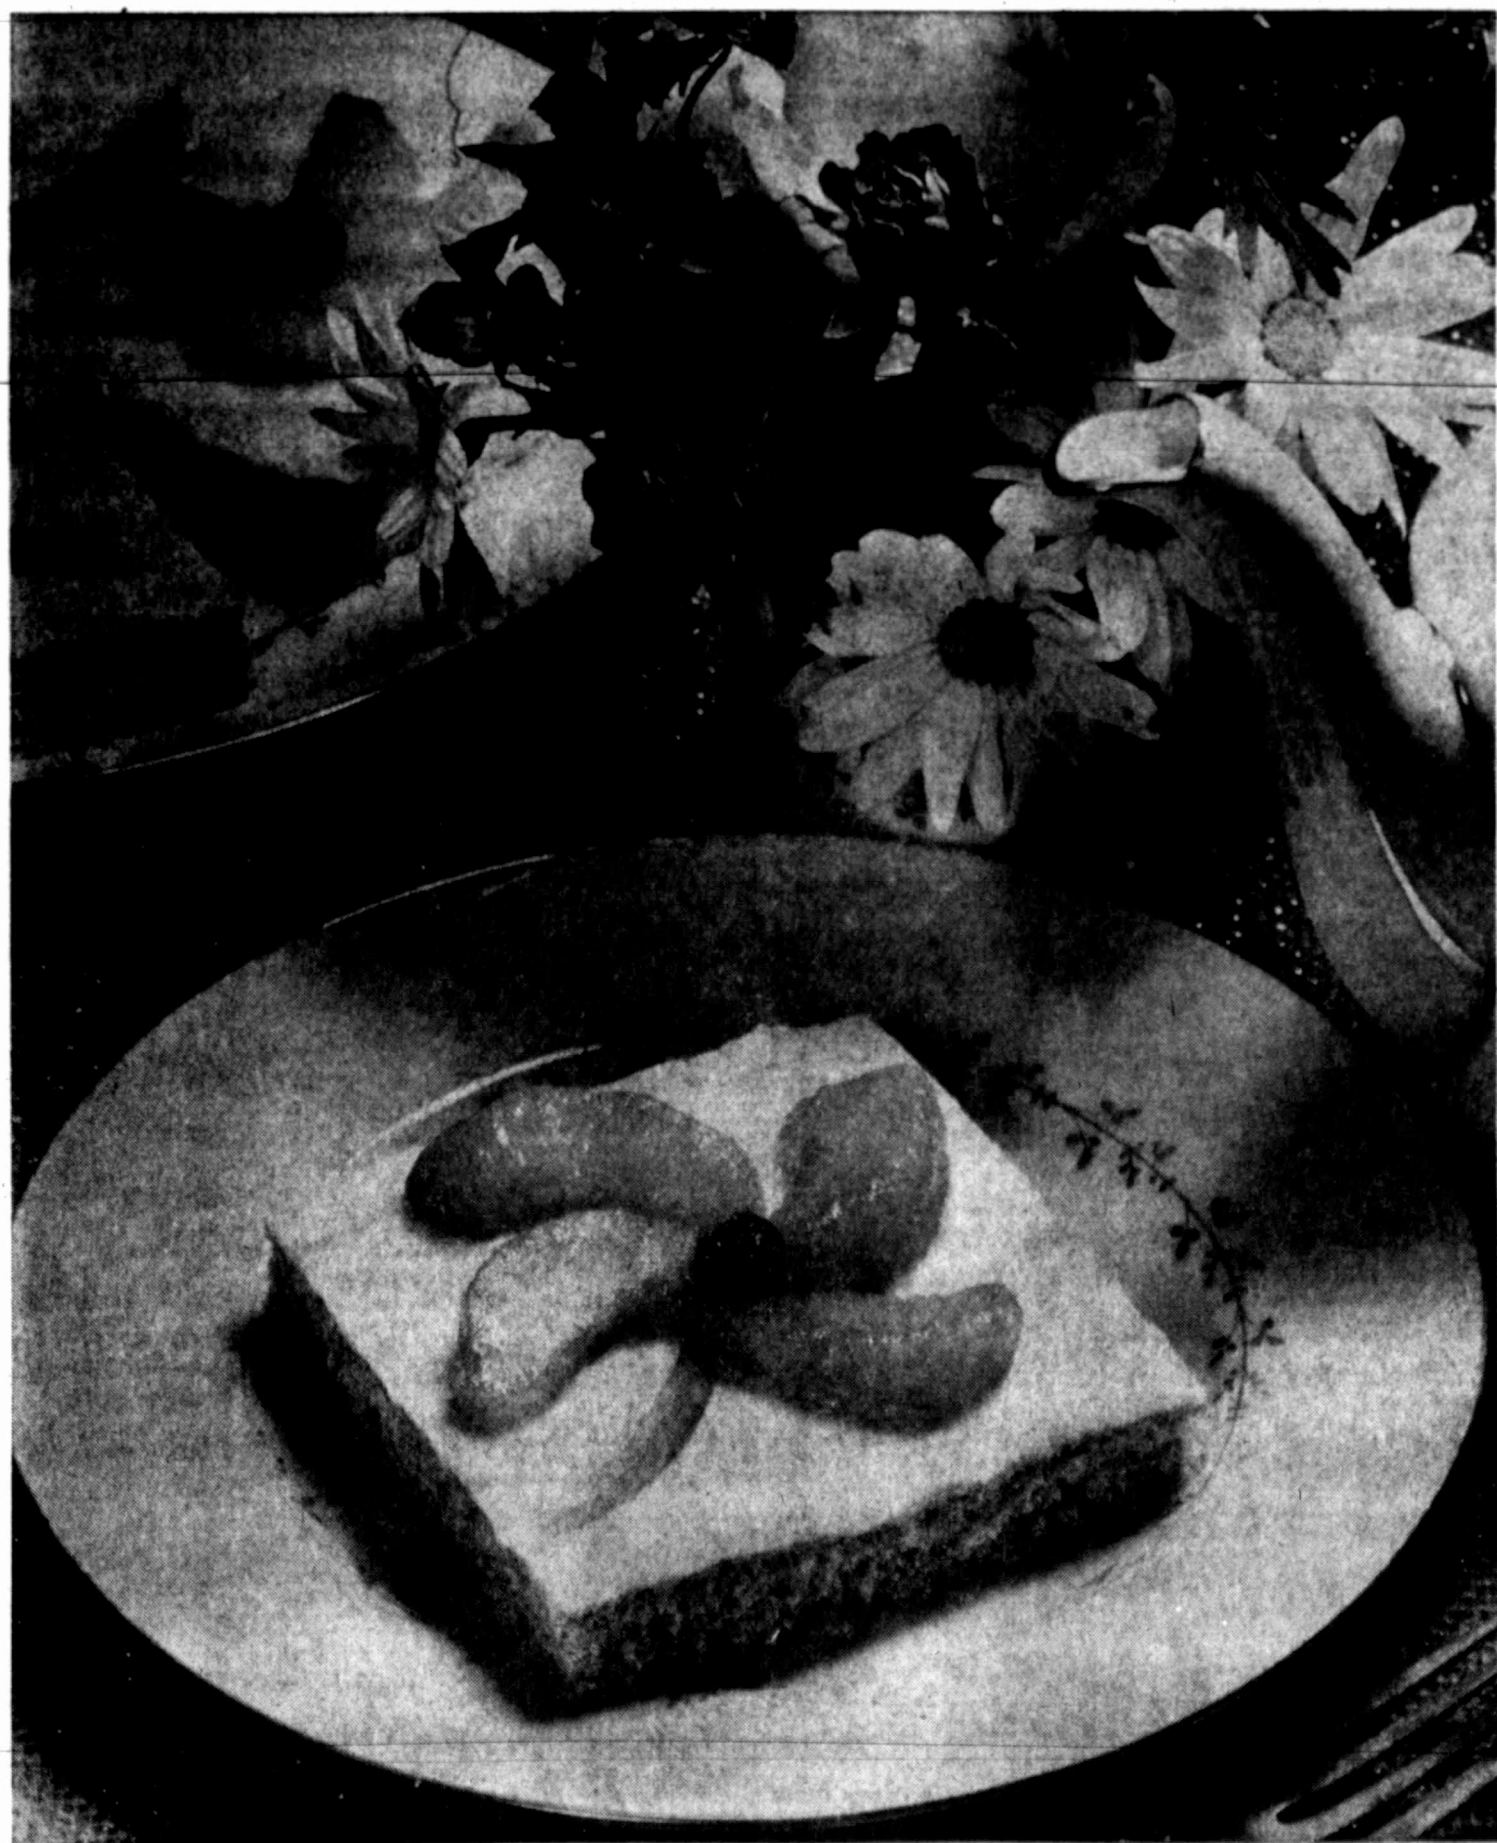

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup sugar, divided
¼ tsp. salt

1 cup cold water
6 eggs, separated

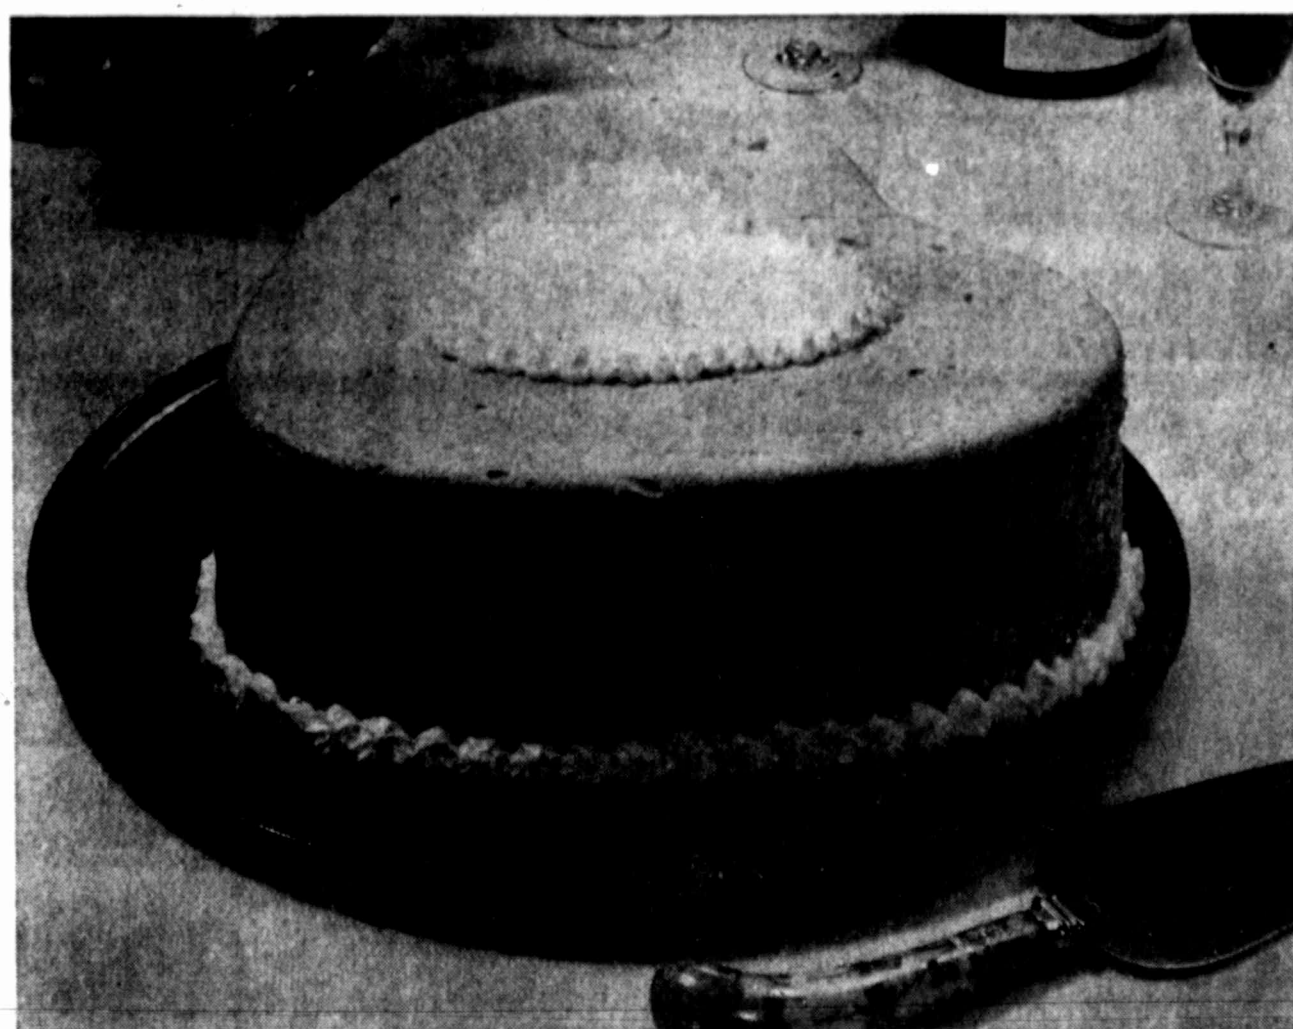

1 cup creme de almond cordial
2 cups heavy cream, whipped
Mix together in top of double boiler gelatin, ½ cup of the sugar and salt. Stir in water. Blend in egg yolks. Place over boiling water, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly (about 5 minutes). Remove from heat and stir in creme de almond. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Gradually add remaining ½ cup sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold in gelatin mixture, then fold in whipped cream. Turn into 12-cup heart-shaped mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and decorate with whipped cream as shown above. Yield: 12 servings.

SOMETHING SPECIAL — Deliciously spiced Shrimp Dip is one of those special snacks Mrs. Sam Morgan prepares when company's coming. She enjoys an occasional formal atmosphere for dining, as well as many casual get-togethers with friends. The vase and bowl sitting on the table are two of several items Mrs. Morgan made in her weekly ceramics class.

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Shared By Mrs. Sam Morgan

SHRIMP DIP
1 can frozen cream of shrimp soup
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 small minced garlic clove or 1/4 tsp. garlic salt
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Dash tabasco
1 small jar Old English cheese
1 small can drained shrimp or desired amount of frozen shrimp
Thaw frozen shrimp soup and mix with all other ingredients. Heat gently, and stir often until blended. Serve hot in a fondue pot or chafing dish.

TURKEY ROCHAMBEAU
6 slices toast (sour dough bread is good)
6 thin slices cooked ham
6 thin slices cooked turkey (white meat)
On each slice of toast place one slice turkey and one slice ham. Cover with sauce Poullette (shown below). Serves 6.

SAUCE POULETTE
2 tbsps. butter
1 tbsps. flour
2 cups chicken broth
1/2 tsp. salt
1 tsp. pepper
2 sprigs parsley
2 egg yolks
Juice of 1 lemon
1 tsp. chopped parsley
1 4 1/2-oz. can drained mushrooms
Heat one tablespoon butter, and add flour. Cook one minute. Stir in chicken broth and add salt, pepper and parsley sprigs. Bring mixture to a boil, then lower heat and simmer for 30 minutes. Discard the parsley. Remove the sauce from heat, and blend in egg yolks. Add lemon juice, chopped parsley, remaining butter and drained mushrooms. Mix and serve over turkey, ham and toast.

CRABMEAT AU GRATIN
2 tbsps. butter
1/2 cup flour
2 cups milk
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
1/4 cup grated American cheese
Paprika
Melt butter, add crabmeat, and saute for three minutes. Add corn starch mixed with cream and egg yolk. Cook until thick. Season with salt, and pour into a buttered casserole. Sprinkle with cheese and paprika, and bake at 350 degrees until cheese melts. Serve as soon as you remove from oven, on browned buttered toast, English muffins or cold slices of avocado. (It's nice to bake and serve in individual clam shells also.) When large fresh mushrooms are available, remove stems, wash and saute in butter a few minutes, then stuff with the crabmeat au gratin—rich and delicious.

IRISH BANANA-NUT BREAD
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 cups flour
1 1/2 tbsps. baking soda
1 cup ripe banana pulp
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 cup pecans
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs, separated
Cream butter and sugar. Add well-beaten egg yolks and buttermilk. Sift flour, baking powder and soda three times. Add flour mixture to sugar mixture. Add pecans, banana pulp, vanilla and stiffly-beaten egg whites. Bake approximately 45 minutes at 325 to 350 degrees. Makes three small loaves or one large cake.

PLUM CAKE
2 cups self-rising flour
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. cloves
3 eggs
2 small jars plum baby food
2 cups sugar
1 cup cooking oil
1 cup pecans
Combine all ingredients in a bowl and mix. Pour into cake pan and bake at 350 degrees for one hour. Cool about 15 minutes in pan, then remove and drizzle with icing while still warm. Make icing by combining two cups powdered sugar with enough lemon juice to make thin enough to drizzle.

ASPARAGUS AND CREAM SAUCE CASSEROLE
2 tbsps. margarine
2 tbsps. flour
1 cup milk
1/4 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 tsp. onion juice
1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
3 chopped, hard-cooked eggs
1/2 small can pimientos, chopped
1 No. 2 can green asparagus
Buttered bread crumbs
Make white sauce by melting margarine, adding flour and slowly adding milk. Stir constantly. Cook and stir slowly until mixture thickens. Add cheese, celery, onion juice, Worcestershire sauce, and salt, pepper, eggs and pimiento. Drain asparagus and add to mixture. Pour in casserole and top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 to 20 minutes, until hot and bread crumbs are browned. Serves 6 to 8.

Apples Make Pretty Valentine Day Salad

Pretty as a lacy valentine, but so much more edible, is our Apple-Chicken Salad. And, just as young lovers once carved hearts and initials on tree trunks, we've carved pretty little hearts around the top of this shiny-red, natural valentine.

These lovely heart-shaped Washington red Delicious apples are perfect "containers" for this delightful luncheon salad. Elongated in shape, with white sweet meat, it's an ideal apple variety for all fresh uses — salads, snacks, fruit compotes. The Rome Beauty variety, also available from Washington's fine apple-growing region is spherical in shape and also well-suited to this use, as well as its traditional one of baking.

APPLE CHICKEN SALAD
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 tbsps. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. seasoned salt
1/2 tsp. celery salt
1 apple, cored and diced
1 cup cooked, diced chicken
1/2 cup celery, chopped
1/2 tsp. pimiento, chopped
2 tbsps. sliced ripe olives
4 large apples
3 tbsps. lemon juice
1/2 cup water
Lettuce

To prepare dressing, combine first five ingredients in mixing bowl. Remove one-third cup of the dressing and chill. Wash, core and dice unpeeled apple into remaining dressing; add chicken, celery, pimiento, olives and combine. Chill.
Cut 1/2-inch slice from top of four apples. Remove pulp leaving 1/2-inch shell. Score tops of apples around outside to represent heart shapes, dip apples in lemon'd water. Fill apple cups with salad, and place on a bed of lettuce. Top each with a dollop of the chilled dressing. Yields four servings.

"Supervisor" Helps Pick Menus But Cooking Is Left To Her

By BARBARA LORD

Although Sam Morgan doesn't help his wife with the actual cooking, Mrs. Morgan said he is a good "supervisor."

"He comes in the kitchen to taste, make suggestions and pick menus," said Mrs. Morgan, "and it helps me get a pretty good variety of dishes. He's anything but a steak and potatoes man. I don't think I've ever fixed anything that simple."

Mrs. Morgan tries something new at least once a week, and if for some reason she misses a week, she makes it a point to make two new recipes the following week. She said it really isn't hard to make new recipes if the cook has a good variety of cookbooks to choose from.

Mrs. Morgan's new dish is usually the main course. Neither she nor her husband eat many desserts. He prefers a good salad, meat, soup and vegetable.

"We like to make a special event out of dinner," said Mrs. Morgan. "It's usually just a lazy time for relaxing, talking and getting caught up on events of the day."

Breakfast is pretty special for the Morgans also. Seidom do they start the day with ordinary bacon and eggs or cold cereal. They prefer Eggs Benedict or some form of fancy fruits.

Mrs. Morgan has always enjoyed cooking. She picked up a particular liking for French creole foods during time spent in New Orleans, La.

Morgan is manager of the base exchange at Webb AFB. The couple has one daughter, Sabrina Renee, six months old. They moved here from El Paso about 1 1/2 years ago.

"I decided when I had Sabrina that I would retire from teaching school and take up some fun hobbies of my own," said Mrs. Morgan. Her pastimes now include a vast variety of interests, many of which are done as a family.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan go to the YMCA about three times a week, where she does exercises and he lifts weights. They also enjoy swimming, and Morgan, who has been SCUBA diving for eight years, took lessons at the YMCA last year.

"That's one sport I don't share with him," said Mrs. Morgan. "I just can't get interested in it." He has taken several trips to go SCUBA diving in Mexico and on the West Coast, and spends most of his time spear fishing.

Mrs. Morgan takes ceramics classes four hours a week and has made many items that add to the decor of their home. She also takes tile painting and decoupage lessons. Her other talents include refinishing furniture, and she did a lovely old ice chest into a wardrobe for Sabrina's clothes.

Camping and back-packing are among the couple's favorite hobbies, and their more memorable trips include one to Sitting Bull Falls, N.M., and a hike up Sierra Blanca Mountain, which is a trek of about four miles each way. Their poodle, Andy, goes with them, and Mrs. Morgan said he usually runs around so much he covers three times as much territory as they do without getting tired. Mr. and Mrs. Morgan are also avid sailboating fans and are members of the Lake Thomas Yacht Club.

When it comes to entertaining, the Morgans' do all types, from casual to formal. She normally limits dinner parties to about six guests, but she enjoys getting fancy for some of them.

"We got a lot of nice gifts for our wedding," said Mrs. Morgan, "and I like to use them occasionally. Not to be showy, but just because I think they should be used." On an average, the Morgans' have people over for dinner or cocktails three or four times a month.

Mrs. Morgan thinks the key to her finding time for home-making and outside interests is that she isn't hooked on daytime or evening television shows. The couple doesn't own a television set and doesn't intend to purchase one until they think they should for Sabrina.

"I think, eventually, television will be important to improve Sabrina's vocabulary, but until then we can do without it," said Mrs. Morgan. "When Sam was in college he was addicted to television, and we don't want that to happen again."

Morgan received his degree in business administration from the University of Mississippi, and Mrs. Morgan got hers in elementary education from Baylor University. She taught school for 4 1/2 years, including seventh and eighth grades at Runnels Junior High School. She is originally from Houston, and Morgan was reared in Alabama.

Pantry Pick-ups

Kitchen know-how: grease the pan for baking powder biscuits.

An hors d'oeuvre is an appetizer that is served as finger food or fork food at the beginning of the meal. It may be as simple as a cheese cracker or as elaborate as thin pancakes stuffed with a seafood sauce.

When a main dish is called "creole style," is usually contains onion, green pepper and tomatoes.

To heat a long loaf of French bread, you can use a moderate oven and let it heat for ten or fifteen minutes. Place the loaf on foil, if you like, but don't wrap it tightly or it won't be crisp.

Wrap bacon around pitted plumped prunes; broil several inches from high heat, turning as necessary, until the bacon is crisp. Serve with a cheese spread and crackers as a snack offering at a party.

When you are making turnovers or tarts with a very rich pastry dough, roll out only half the dough at a time and shape. Keep the dough you are not working with chilled in the refrigerator. Use rich cookie dough the same way.

Make up a batch of sauce for seafood cocktails and keep it in the refrigerator. You can use a bottle of chili sauce or catchup and add lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and horseradish to taste. Some cooks like to use half chili sauce and half catchup as the base.

A teaspoon of loose tea is equivalent to a teabag.

Install GAS air conditioning now and beat the rush that always comes with the first hot days. While everyone else is waiting on installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other kinds.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and no compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs, its long life with no loss of cooling capacity, and its easy maintenance with few repair bills.

Install Gas Air Conditioning NOW?

GAS air conditioning also filters the air to reduce dust and pollen.

If you have a forced air heating system, you may be able to use the same ductwork for GAS air conditioning.

Gives Tips On Starting Seeds

Methods of starting seeds in a house or greenhouse were discussed by Bill Sneed for the Men's Garden Club Tuesday evening at the U.S. Experiment Station.

Sneed suggested the use of vermiculite or perlite, which are sterile substances, as a medium to start seeds in. Seeds may be placed in commercially-bought flats or in milk cartons to fit on a window sill. A heating cable helps increase heat and germination. Sneed said plants should be started four to six weeks before it is time to put them outside.

If seeds are started in flats, Sneed said they should later be transplanted to individual pots, and when warmer weather arrives, they should be moved to a garden.

Members reviewed programs presented in 1971, and made tentative plans for 1972 programs. It was announced the national convention of Men's Garden Clubs of America is scheduled April 10-12 in Tucson, Ariz.

Members will support plans of the Garden Club Council to replenish the rose garden in Comanche Trail Park. J. T. Brose announced there will be an open house at the Horace Garrett Applied Science Building at Howard County Junior College Sunday, and people will also be allowed to tour the college greenhouse.

Dr. Paul Koshi showed a film about how to treat snake bites. The next meeting is at 6 p.m., March 14 at the experiment station.

'Music Parade' Cites American Composers

The 17th annual "Parade of American Music," sponsored by National Federation of Music Clubs, was observed by the local club in its program Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Marguerite Hyden, 1725 Yale.

The "parade" began in 1955 to give recognition, encouragement and support to American composers and performers. Mrs. Walter Osborne was leader for the program, which included a rendition of "Stormy Weather" by the club ensemble. Mrs. Joe Daves was director, and Mrs. Charles Beil, pianist, accompanied the group.

Mrs. Richard Cook, pianist, played "To A Wild Rose," by Edward MacDowell, and "Green Cathedral" by Carl Hahn. Another pianist, Mrs. Hyden, played "Down a Country Lane" by Aaron Copland.

A duo-piano arrangement of "Yankee Doodle," written by Braggiotti, was presented by Mrs. James Little and Mrs. Beil.

Cohostesses for the meeting were Miss Helen Ewing and Mrs. Mike Skalkuck. The next meeting is at 3 p.m., March 3, in the home of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, 429 Edwards.

International Club Honors Officer

Mrs. Ronnie Palmer, immediate past president of International Women's Club, was presented a charm bracelet in appreciation for her services, at a meeting Wednesday evening in her home, 2305 Mishler.

Mrs. W. B. Dickinson presided and introduced Mrs. Charles Grisham of Germany as a new member. Tentative plans were made for a party in March to observe the club's eleventh anniversary.

German-style refreshments were served including a Black Forest Port. Mrs. Jack Aultman won the attendance prize.

The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., March 8 in the home of Mrs. Ronald Kinney, 244-B Langley. Any foreign-born woman interested in joining the club may contact Mrs. Dickinson at 263-2389.

Top Tallies For La Gallinas Play

Four tables were in play for La Gallinas duplicate bridge games held Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club. Winners were Mrs. Norman Piquet and Mrs. Monroe Gafford, who tied for first and second place with Mrs. Ross Boykin and Mrs. P. W. Malone, and Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. Vernon Swafford, third. A club tournament is being planned before the end of March.

Birthday Party

Karri Lou LaRochelle, 1, was given a birthday party Tuesday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, 600 W. 16th. A circus theme was used in decorations. Guests included the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Jones.

Demolay Mothers Club Announces New Officers

Mrs. Gloria Strom Ezzell was named honorary president of the Demolay Mothers Club during a meeting Tuesday in her home at 501 Westover.

Elected to office were Mrs. Orville Shapland, president; Mrs. B. J. King, vice president; and Mrs. James Hughes, secretary-treasurer. The telephone committee will include Mrs. Ray Brashears, Mrs. B. J. Kilpatrick and Mrs. Pat Simmons.

Mrs. Brashears also assigned to the special projects committee.

Mrs. Ezzell explained the purpose of the club and told how it could assist the Demolays. She commended Mrs. King for her efforts in providing refreshments for Demolay meetings.

The mothers club will meet committee will include Mrs. the second Tuesday of every month at 7:30 p.m., with the Patrick and Mrs. Pat Simmons next meeting being March 14.

"PRETTY BLINKER" SEMI-PERMANENT EYELASHES

Imagine! You can swim, shower, water ski, or participate in any water sport, and being completely waterproof, they won't come off, and they are just as beautiful, and natural looking as they were to begin with. Just think! You need no mascara, no eye liner, and when you get up in the morning, you are ready to go! "Pretty Blinker" semi-permanent eyelashes are lighter than human hair. They stay looking beautiful for weeks and weeks. If they are cared for properly will last from 2 1/2 to three months.

"Pretty Blinker" lashes come in two colors, black and brown, and they are in four sizes, long, medium, short and under lashes. FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:

COOKIE SALESMEN - The annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale, which begins Friday, will see the initiation of a new customer service as the new cookie-filled mobile unit goes into high gear. The unit will be operating in areas not currently served by Girl Scout troops. Shown loading the rolling cookie store are, from left, Yvonne Eggleston, Junior Troop 205; Alma Willetts, Senior Troop 49; and Mrs. Frank Krovitski, Senior Advisor.

Sweet Tooth Itching? Cookies Are Coming

Girl Scouts will be knocking on doors Feb. 11-19. It's cookie time and Junior, Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts are out to surpass their efforts of last year, which was the best sale in the history of the West Texas Girl Scout Council. The large family-size boxes will be selling for $1 per box or $12 per case.

A new addition to the sale will be the mobile cookie unit manned by Senior Scout Troop 49. The purpose of this innovative idea is to provide people in parts of town where there are no registered troops an opportunity to buy cookies.

Mrs. Frank Krovitski, troop adviser, has announced that the unit will operate in the Bauer and Lakeview Elementary Schools, Lakeview YMCA and Sacred Heart Youth Center areas as well as the playground area at Seventh and N. Main. The mobile unit will be in these areas Saturday afternoon.

Purchasers of Girl Scout cookies will be doing more than helping a worthy cause... they'll be providing the family some delicious eating without turning a hand, other than reaching into a purse for money to buy the cookies.

Homemakers who like to try new recipes might turn both hands and whip up a luscious new dessert based on the cookies.

COOKIES TOPPED WITH MARSH-MALLOW AND A DOT OF BUTTER WHITES AND SALT. Put in a pudding dish in pan of warm water and broil for 35 minutes at 325 degrees. May be served with chocolate sauce.

CHOCOLATE CREAM ICE BOX CAKE
1 cup heavy cream
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup instant sweet cocoa mix, or 1/4 cup cocoa and 1/4 cup sugar
Dash of salt
1/2 tsp. vanilla
12 Butter Flavored Shorties
Whip cream mixed with cocoa mix or cocoa and sugar, salt and vanilla, until thick. Spread some of the mixture on each cookie and put them together in a stack or roll, placing it on a platter or refrigerator dish. Frost outside with remaining chocolate cream.

Store in refrigerator 8 hours or overnight, then cut in diagonal slices about 1-inch thick. For Mocha Roll, add 1 to 2 teaspoons instant coffee to the cream mixture. Serve with chocolate sauce.

A good variation is to use plain sweetened whipped cream and when ready to serve, add a sauce of sliced strawberries.

MINT ICE CREAM
1 can condensed milk (sweet)
1 pint cream (2 jars)
12 to 20 mints - thoroughly chilled to make brittle
Whip cream and add condensed milk slowly mixing well. Put mints in a paper bag or between two sheets of heavy oil paper and roll to crumbs. Stir these into the cream and pour into the tray of electric refrigerator. When practically frozen, remove from refrigerator and stir once more.

DATE AND NUT ROLL
1 doz. Girl Scout Cookies - broken but not too fine
3/4 cup chopped dates
14 marshmallows - cut up
1 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup whipped cream
Combine the above - saving 1/2 cup crumbs. Mix well and roll up with 1/2 cup crumbs on the outside. Wrap in waxed paper and put in refrigerator at least 5 hours. Cut in slices and top with whipped cream. (Use Butter Flavored Shorties.)

COOKIE SOUFFLE
1 cup scalded milk
12 cookies, broken (use Butter Flavored Shorties)
4 egg yolks
1/2 tsp. vanilla
4 egg whites
Pinch of salt
Pour milk over cookies, add well-beaten yolks, and cook in a double boiler until thick. Cool.

A LOVELIER YOU End Brunette Blues With Good Hair Care

By MARY SUE MILLER
A Lovely writes: I have been tinting my mousey brown hair to a deep, rich brunette. Lately red highlights have begun to appear with color applications. At first the reddish tones looked attractive, but now they are becoming harsh and brassy. How can I overcome this problem?

The Answer: Chemical changes in tinted hair cause orange and brassy tones. Changes are brought about by fading from exposure to sun and air, and by normal scalp perspiration.

A new True Brunette shampoo-in formula works against unnatural, unwanted color topknots. There are a number of brown shades from which to choose; all colors last and remain true from shampoo to touch-up time weeks hence.

Past Matrons Hears Guitarist

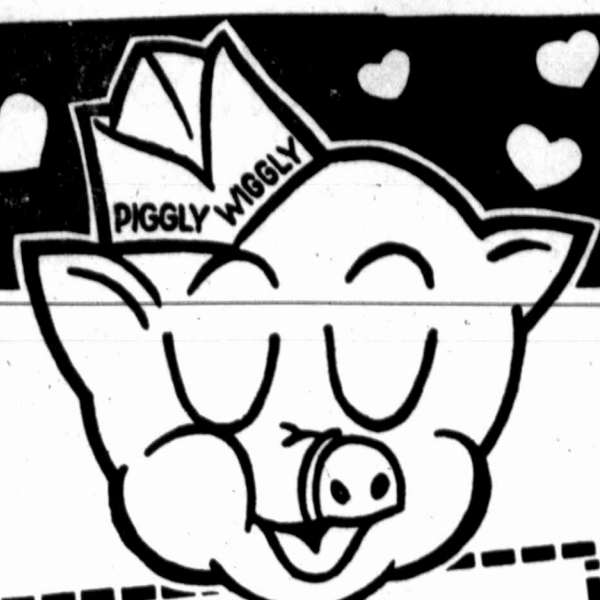

The Past Matrons of Big Spring Chapter 67, Order of Eastern Star, met Tuesday at the Downtown Tea Room where entertainment was provided by Melody Dabney, granddaughter of Mrs. G. W. Dabney, a member of the club. Miss Dabney played several selections on the electric guitar.

Other guests were Mrs. Ray Dabney and Mrs. A. L. Secrest. Mrs. Orbin Daily presided. Tables were decorated in the valentine motif with red streamers down the U-shaped tables. The head table featured a large arrangement of red roses and hearts.

To encourage perfection, be faithful to your hair-brush and protective head gear. Why not, you can hardly call it a chore.

Why do teens eat the way they do?

There may be as many answers to this question as there are young people, but the lack of knowledge on good nutrition also contributes, according to the staff of Dr. Frederick Stare, chairman of the Harvard University Department of Nutrition.

These researchers report that "adolescents have only the sketchiest information on the caloric content of foods and on sound nutritional practices."

Many youngsters have the idea that well-balanced meals are "kid stuff" and important only during the growth period, according to Dr. Mary Hill of the Economic Research Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The most severe dietary deficiencies occur among teenage girls. Dr. Jean Mayer, the President's consultant on nutrition and a member of the Harvard team, analyzed a certain nervous loss of appetite which is limited almost entirely to teen and young adult girls.

To whiten bread or meat boards which have become discolored, rub them with lemon rinds turned inside out, then wash with clean warm water and dry.

If your kitchen lacks vegetable storage bins, buy plastic waste baskets to match the color scheme of your kitchen. They make good containers for vegetables.

For soft-baked potatoes that will not crack, rub potatoes with cooking oil before baking.

~~A little vinegar rubbed on~~ fingers will remove onion or fish odors from them.

For a tasty biscuit variation, mix in $\frac{1}{2}$ cup grated cheese with caraway seeds into flour mixture with the shortening.

Apples will absorb odors, so store them away from potatoes and onions.

Never soak iron skillets in a sink over long periods. They can discolor enamel and porcelain.

Next time you make potato salad, try adding both French dressing and mayonnaise to the potatoes. Pleasant variation!

Q. What is the name of this cut of meat?
A. Boneless Leg of Pork (Fresh Boneless Ham).

Q. How is it identified?
A. It is a fresh boneless, shaped and tied whole leg or ham. It has a thin covering of fat. The roll usually weighs 10 to 14 pounds but may also be cut into smaller roasts.

Q. How is it prepared?

A. By roasting (baking). To roast, place the Leg of Pork fat side up, on a rack in an open roasting pan. Insert meat thermometer so the bulb is centered in the thickest part, but not resting in fat. Do not add water and do not cover. Roast in a slow oven (325 degrees) to an internal temperature of 170 degrees. A 10 to 14-pound roll will require approximately 2 to 28 minutes per pound; a piece weighing 4 to 5 pounds will require 35 to 40 minutes per pound. Allow the roast to "set" from 15 to 20 minutes before carving for easier slicing.

Jean Adams'
TEEN FORUM

DREAMS: (Q.) I am 15, I baby-sit for a couple that gets some very frank magazines, including Playboy. I read it from cover to cover.

I have never even had a boy friend. But sometimes I pretend a boy I know is touching me or making love to me. Once I dreamed it was our wedding night. Is this bad? — Pretender in Georgia.

(A.) Sex dreams or fantasies, whether the awake or sleep kind, are not unusual for boys and girls your age.

You would be more content if you would use your time on something more constructive than sex magazines.

Take your home work with you when you baby-sit, or some good records, or a book, to learn to knit or do other hand-work.

Also look around for a boy friend. He doesn't have to be the one you have been thinking about. A girl of 15 needs to have boy-girl dates as well as baby-sitting dates.

POSTER PLEA: (Q.) My parents are super-strict. I have nine black light posters but no black light. They won't let me get one. To look at my posters I have to borrow one of my friends' lights. They all have one, or more.

When I ask my mother or father why I can't have one they say nothing. I need help. — No Light in Louisiana.

(A.) Your parents may be suspicious of the black light. I is fairly new, and for some older people a little spooky.

Or they may object to your friends, all of whom seem to be black light faddists.

Or it may be money, or something else.

Talk to them about these possibilities. Be honest with them. Be understanding too.

Non-Pollutant Cleaners Are Making Appearance

Pollution in America's streams, rivers, and lakes has life in their lakes and water-reached an unprecedented level. The phosphates increase and to date not enough has been the growth of algae and this, done to reverse the trend. As in turn, absorbs the oxygen in early as 1912, the American and the water. This results even-Canadian Governments were. "We know where we are go- concerned enough to com- ing. We are moving with his- mission a study on the subject. Subsequent studies throughout marsh lands which will kill off the years proved that something species of fish and wildlife. had to be done. Lake Erie was being virtually destroyed. In only the last two years has the public become aroused and pollution of their basic water the better informed to the point that they want to do something about it.

Florida has recently been studied and people have become aware that phosphated cleaning compounds have seeped into fresh water supply wells and caused rashes on people's skins. Since then, cleaning compounds with phosphates have been banned from the store shelves in that area under penalty of a fine.

Mald Brite Chemical Co. recognized these problems and has developed several home care cleaning products that are non-phosphate and biodegradable. Bio-degradable means that these products return to their natural state and are non-pollutants.

IT ADDS UP TO TROUBLE

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — When the adding machine in the Redding police station broke down last week, it was taken to the local dealer for repair.

The repairman told police the machine had been stolen 2 1/2 years ago from one of his customers, veterinarian William Brink of nearby Whitmore.

Police Chief Robert Whitmer said a partial explanation found that the adding machine was part of the loot recovered when a burglary arrest was made 22 months ago. He said the department had been unable to locate the owner.

A sticker on the front identified the dealer who sold the item to Brink.

Sooner Shrine Admits Autry

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Gene Autry would have given almost anything to be a major league baseball player but instead became a guitar strummer and Hollywood Cowboy hero.

Friday night he will come close. Autry, 64, chairman of the California Angels, will be inducted into the Oklahoma Baseball Hall of Fame Friday night at the annual Tulsa Diamond dinner.

Inducted, Autry will join such personalities as Paul and Lloyd Warner, Carl Hubbell, Dizzy Dean, Pepper Martin, Alvin Dark, Ailie Reynolds, Dale Mitchell and others.

Lloyd (Little Poison) Warner, who is listed in the Baseball Hall of Fame, will induct Autry into the Elite Oklahoma baseball group. "I guess I've always been a frustrated ball player," Autry said. "I could hit, but I wasn't very fast."

Of his success as a singing cowboy, the one-time Oklahoma man says it was from being in the right place at the right time. "If I'd come five years earlier or five years later, I might not have succeeded."

Singer Supports 'Pep Pills' Ban

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Country and Western singer Roger Miller told a state legislative committee Tuesday he supports a proposal to ban the sale of amphetamines because the measure might "keep somebody from getting into the same snakepit I got into."

Miller told the lawmakers he "fought a seven-year bout with amphetamines, then decided three years ago to kick the habit. "I just got tired of falling down," he said.

Pinching Down On Secrets

Another skirmish has begun in the continuing campaign of Congress to recapture some of the authority it has surrendered to the President. It takes the form of a bill introduced by Sen. Clifford P. Case, New Jersey Republican, and unanimously approved by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last Dec. 7, requiring the President to tell Congress within 60 days of any new executive agreement it makes with a foreign country.

This would seem to be a normal and straightforward request. But executive secrecy has made it almost impossible for members of Congress to know what agreements the President has made with foreign countries. A committee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri, for instance, discovered that executive agreements had been made with Ethiopia in 1960, Laos in 1962, Thailand in 1964 and 1967, and Korea in 1966, in addition to secret annexes to the Spanish bases agreement of 1953.

Case recognizes that there may be some agreements that must be kept secret. He has therefore provided in his bill that in such cases information would be transmitted to the foreign relation committees of both houses "under an appropriate injunction of secrecy to be removed only upon due notice from the President."

This is a liberal approach to conservatism. The memory of the Bricker Amendment of the Eisenhower years provides an ironic counterpoint. That was the attempt by Sen. John Bricker of Ohio to subject such international treaties as the United Nations to the approval of the Senate. Bricker claimed the United States was in danger of losing its sovereignty.

More Accessibility

Big Spring school board has departed from a more or less traditional policy of a single box for trustee elections.

This may have been more convenient from the point of mechanics of holding the election, but in setting up a box for the north side of the city and one in the Gay Hill area, the board has looked to the convenience of voters.

There may have been a haunting suspicion

The Case bill is a reasonable attempt to clear up a troublesome problem. Senators and plain citizens have become a bit weary of discovering suddenly that we are tied to some foreign country by some secret, unpublished agreement made by the President.

It would seem that if Congress cannot be trusted with knowledge of executive agreements, then the times are truly out of joint and the separation of powers doctrine under our Constitution has been derailed completely.

at some time in the past that voting needed to be in a central spot where it would be subject to close scrutiny, and that to put boxes within reach of people in certain areas would open up a Pandora's box. We doubt the validity of this fear. The purpose of an election is to provide voters an opportunity to cast ballots, the higher the ratio of ballots cast to the potential vote the better.

The Real Issue

Around The Rim

Linda Cross

Gloria Steinem, spokeswoman for the Women's Liberation Movement, recently got zapped by a national woman's magazine for being a "great flirt" in opposition to her public stand that women and men should be honest with each other in their relationships and not resort to flattery or trickery to ensnare a partner.

THE MAGAZINE publishing the article is the same one that publishes a 101 beauty and "charm" tips in each issue, guaranteed to insure that if a woman can't get a man to marry her, she can at least get him to pay the rent and finance a jaunt to the Riviera.

I am tired of women's lib workers being portrayed as frustrated, man-hating harpies when a good many are like Miss Steinem, who is an attractive and successful journalist.

IN THE article, the writers got around to saying that Miss Steinem's tendency to flirt with talk show hosts and other males they have observed her with is excusable, because flirting is only an attempt to get to know the other person.

Perhaps the writers of the article have a convenient definition of flirting, but the type that Miss Steinem and others of her ilk have objected to is that which reduces the woman to a kitsy-poo, clinging vine type who debases her own value to build up that of the object of her affection.

WOMEN'S LIB is saying, if he needs that much building, baby, forget him, and find yourself one that's already put together.

Goals of intelligent, dedicated and responsible Women's Lib leaders are to help women break away from their traditional second class citizenship in property and career matters, encourage women to express their talents and ambitions in addition to fulfilling their biological roles, just as men do, and to help them to see themselves as a person separate from their husbands or boyfriends with needs, characteristics and rights peculiarly theirs.

MISS STEINEM and others like her are asking no more than that women be granted Human Rights, regardless of traditional sexual roles needlessly and wastefully enforced by society.

I say wastefully enforced because of all the years that society has been denied women scientists, industrialists, and to a great extent, sports figures because all these roles were considered "unwomanly" and "unbecoming."

BRA-BURNINGS, anti-male statements and like trivia, as droned on at length in the magazine article that started this tirade, are side issues and reflect nothing at all of the true goals of the women's movement or of the nature of its leaders. It pains me to admit it, but the press, in the never ending quest for "good copy" and "sell headlines" is largely responsible for stigmatizing and perhaps stunting the growth of the movement.

Delicate Negotiation

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, in his rebuttal of a speech by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, Democrat, advocating what amounts to the acceptance of the North Vietnamese demands, minced no words when he declared that the comments of the Maine senator are not in the national interest and are harmful to the United States.

AT THE MOMENT, President Nixon is in the midst of a delicate negotiation with North Vietnam, and the belief here is that the Communists are depending upon a divided America to help them get a settlement on their terms.

The Viet Cong representatives in Paris have made what are called two "new" proposals. The first would require the United States to stop all military activities in Vietnam, including the air war, and "rapidly and completely" withdraw from South Vietnam all U.S. troops, advisers, military personnel, weapons and war material and those of other foreign countries in the U.S. camp, and dismantle the U.S. military bases in South Vietnam. The American government is supposed to set a "specific terminal date" for this "without posing any conditions." This would also be the "terminal date" for the release of all military and civilian prisoners captured during the war.

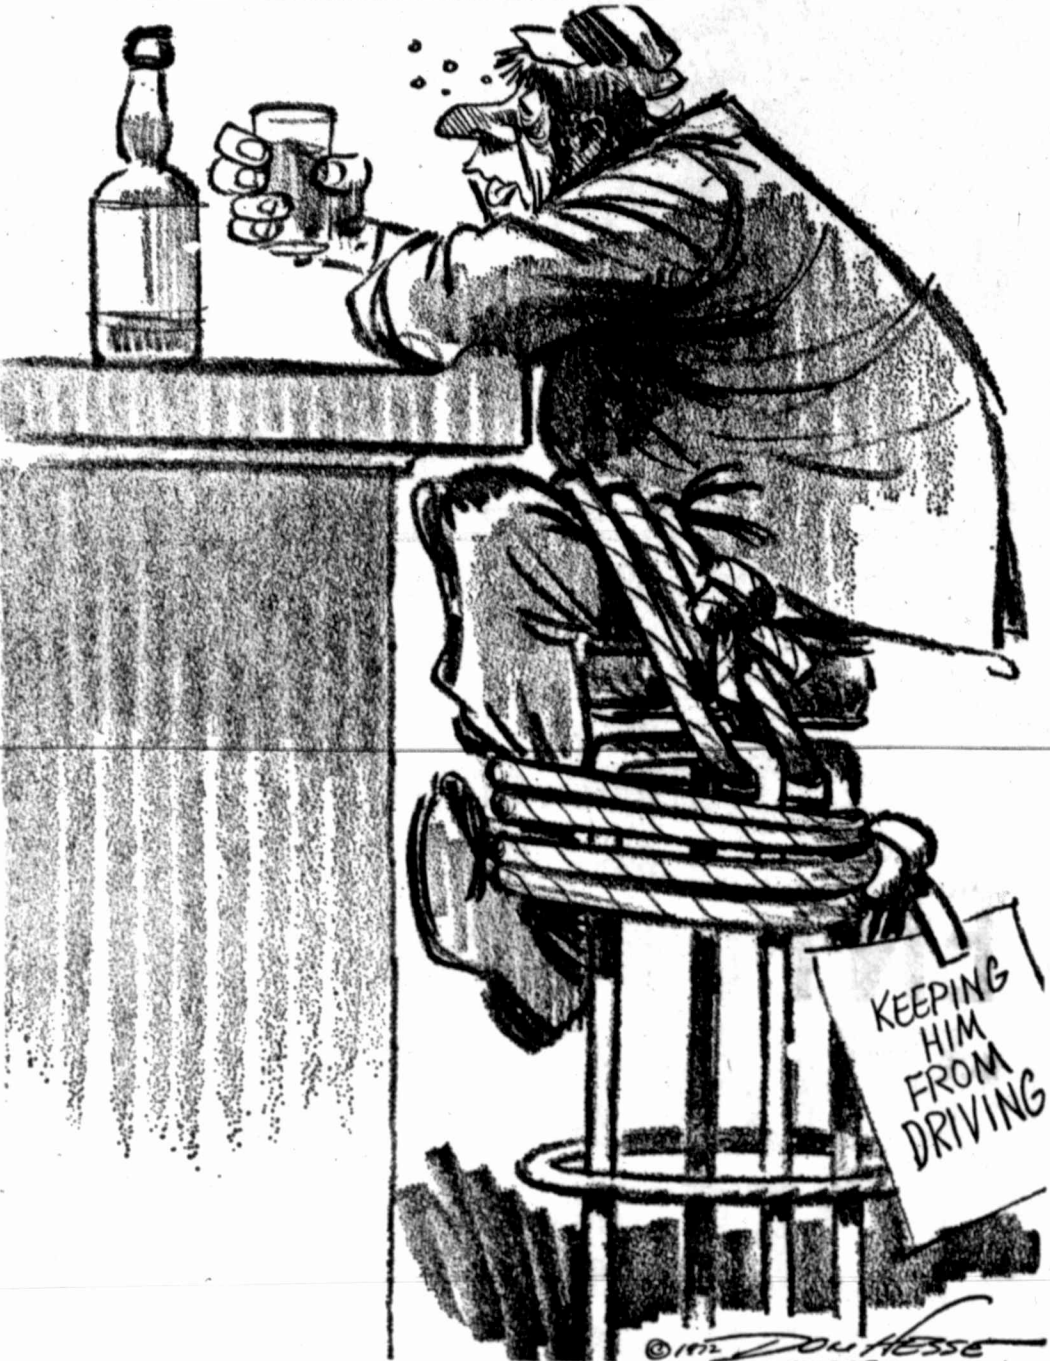

THE SECOND POINT is that South Vietnamese President Thieu would resign immediately, and the Saigon administration would be required to "end its warlike policy" and "disband at once its machine of oppression and constraint against the people." Thereafter the "provisional revolutionary government" — the Viet Cong — would immediately discuss with the Saigon administration the formation of a new government, which would then organize general elections to be held "according to procedures agreed upon among the political forces in South Vietnam."

THUS IT IS clear North Vietnam is insistent that the United States withdraw its forces on a given date and cease supplying any help to South Vietnam. Theoretically, the South Vietnamese would decide on the form of government to be established, but there is no provision for a guarantee that would maintain that country's independence. Indeed, the Viet Cong, who are Communists and have set up what they call a "provisional revolutionary government," could conceivably take over South Vietnam and make an agreement to join with North Vietnam. This, of course, would be the end of South Vietnam as an independent state.

NOWHERE IN any of the proposals that have come from the North Vietnamese is there any provision for international guarantees or supervision of elections by other governments so as to assure the sovereignty of South Vietnam. Instead, all the plans offered by the Communists are confined to demands for the departure of American troops, the ousting of the present Saigon government, and the holding of elections but with no assurance that they will be free or be honestly conducted. There is no doubt that North Vietnam is trying to get possession of South Vietnam. The United States, on the other hand, has believed from the outset that the independence of South Vietnam should be preserved, and in trying to make peace has been willing to support any plan which would achieve this under international supervision. If the people of South Vietnam are guaranteed the right to vote for their own form of government and select their own officials, the United States would feel that all of our troops could be withdrawn.

BEST KIND OF SEAT BELT FOR HIM

Family Farm Fears

John Cuniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Among the concerns of Americans with a love for what they feel is the traditional way of life is the fact that farming has taken on the corporate form. How sad, they say, that the family farm is disappearing.

Lost along with it, they fear, are the wholesome qualities of a strong family life, thrift, independence, individuality, responsibility, hard work and a respect for property and person.

The major flaw in this point of view is that it assumes corporate farms and family farms are the antithesis of each other. They aren't. Some 75 per cent of corporate farms are family owned.

Moreover, according to a man who should know, these fears are partially based on an incorrect assumption: that the important factor is the family farm when in reality it is the farm family.

Those virtues, according to Walter Penn, are not lost because of the corporate form, which really is evidence only of a more stable, businesslike operation, partially necessitated by the fact that a 320-acre Iowa farm, for example, might have assets of $225,000.

Farm families change, of course, says Penn. But they remain constant too. Those old virtues remain. A family farm that incorporates does not suddenly involve a family of employees and executives. The old relationship remains.

Penn, who was born on a farm and who is now responsible for close to $800 million in farm loans, has watched closely the changes that have occurred in the past 30 years or so and is far more impressed than disappointed.

As vice president of Equitable Life Assurance Society he has found a tremendous source of investment—steady, reliable, good collateral. Because of the depression of the 1930s, Equitable became the reluctant owner of 8,000 farms by 1940. It owns none now.

Moreover, farm loans involve almost no defaults. Farm families pay back steadily, and many of the farm once heavily mortgaged are now free and clear of debt. Of U.S. farmland worth $220 billion, only $30 billion is mortgaged.

His 61st Birthday

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — There's much to be done at 61.

But with my 61st birthday looming on the horizon, I feel pretty much inclined to relax and let the other fellow do it. If a man hasn't been able to reform the world in 60 years, it is only wisdom to pass the problem on to other hands.

Frankly, right now I'd rather float along with the world than fight it. I feel like the guy who rode over Niagara Falls in a big rubber ball. He didn't change them—but he did survive them. That's my goal, too.

Being 61 doesn't call for much celebrating. It's pretty much of a blah birthday, just another niche and foothold in a long climb up the mountain.

There aren't many notable days in a man's life really. They are the day he is born, the day he first goes to kindergarten, the day he first puts on long pants, the day he gets his first real job, the day he marries, the day his first child is born, any day he pays off a mortgage, the day he retires and the day he dies.

Oh, yes, and the day his father tells him about sex. This day didn't take long in my case.

"Son, your mother thinks it's time I told you about sex," my father said unexpectedly.

"What do you know about it?" "Well, I know a little boy isn't supposed to get a little girl in trouble," I said. My father thought that over for a moment.

"Well," he conceded, "I guess that's about all you need to know. But if you do get one in trouble, come and tell your Dad about it first."

As it turned out, I never had to bend Dad's ear.

No great illumination dawns on a man at 61. He can see little or perhaps no farther into the human forest. It is a betwixt and between age.

It is a time when a man remembers passion but now feels he'd rather be in the throes of serenity.

He retains his sense of humor, but now every new joke he hears is an echo of an old one heard before.

It takes him 15 minutes longer to get up in the morning and go through the motions of reading himself to face another day.

There are at least three kinds of food he enjoyed at 40 that he now avoids because they make him burp.

He has almost lost his fear of losing his job. They wouldn't turn a guy out at 61, would they? Or would they?

His terrors about his errors lessen too. At 61 he has too much caution—and too little energy—to make any major new mistakes.

Above all, he is glad that if the world goes to hell from now on they can't blame him. He isn't in the driver's seat. He is only going along for the ride—and happy to be healthy enough to enjoy the view.

Cast Of Characters

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The Howard Hughes autobiography mystery is moving so fast that most people find it hard to keep up with all the parties involved. As a public service we are printing the cast of characters as they have appeared on the scene. Carry this program with you at all times.

CLIFFORD IRVING — handsome, 41-year-old author of the book "Fake," who went to McGraw-Hill and told them he had made a deal with Howard Hughes, the mysterious billionaire to write his autobiography. Irving's credentials were impeccable as he lived on the island of Ibiza in Spain, where no one has ever been known to tell a lie.

McGraw-Hill — the prestigious publishing house which advanced $650,000 for the book and said it would stake the integrity of the firm on the authenticity of the manuscript.

The joke around New York is that McGraw-Hill is thinking of changing its name to the Irving Trust Company.

LIFE MAGAZINE — a prestigious magazine which agreed to pay $250,000 for the magazine rights to the autobiography. When asked why they thought they had the real thing, a spokesman said, "We're no Modern Screen. This is the Time-Life Corporation."

Modern Screen — a movie fan magazine which said when informed the Hughes autobiography could be a forgery, "We're not Life magazine."

Osborne, Associates — a distinguished handwriting analysis firm which attested to the fact that the correspondence in McGraw-Hill's possession and the signature on the checks matched those of Howard Hughes. Business at the firm has been slow for the past three weeks.

EDITH IRVING — Clifford Irving's fourth wife. A German-born Swiss citizen whom the Swiss police would like to talk to concerning her role in the affair. At one point Irving said he would sue anyone who linked her to the $650,000 deposited in a Swiss bank.

Helga R. Hughes — no relation to Howard. The woman who opened an account in the Credit Swiss under the name H. R. Hughes and deposited and withdrew the money Irving said he had paid to Howard Hughes. Mr. Irving has admitted his wife was Helga and therefore all lawsuits linking his wife and Helga have been called off.

HANNAH ROSENCRANTZ — the woman who opened a bank account after the money was withdrawn from Credit Swiss and placed it in the Swiss Bank Corp., across the street. It is believed she is Edith Irving and Helga Hughes put together.

Nina van Pallandt — a voluptuous Danish singer who says that Clifford Irving is in love with her and took her to Mexico with him when he said he met Howard Hughes. She claims Irving never left her side, which damages Irving's story, not to mention his relations with his wife Edith, as well as Helga and Hannah.

ANN BAXTER — A blonde beauty who taught Irving scuba diving in the Virgin Islands, when Edith thought he was taping Howard Hughes.

Howard Hughes — a voice on the telephone who claims he never met Irving and has short fingernails and cuts his own hair.

Hughes has promised to have his photograph taken very soon to show people he is still alive, but Life magazine will not be asked to take the picture.

My Answer

Billy Graham

In service conducted in our Baptist church, the evangelist or minister invites the people to come forward for various reasons. If the first call doesn't get any response, he will try another proposition, and give another. This tactic turns me off. Does this mean that I'm not a spiritual person or that I am overly critical?

M.W.

In a spiritual decision the urging must be of the Spirit, and not of the flesh.

You see, the presentation of an evangelist differs somewhat from a regular church service in which the minister usually preaches for the edification of Christians. The evangelist preaches for a verdict, and the question is: "What will you do with Jesus?" This began on the day of Pentecost when Peter preached to the multitudes gathered there. When they were moved to respond, and asked what they should do, Peter said: "Repent, and be baptized, everyone of you in the name of Jesus Christ for the remission of sins . . . and the same day there were added unto them about 3,000 souls." Acts 2:38-41.

Peter proclaimed Jesus Christ, asked for a verdict, and 3,000 people responded. Probably your aversion to this method is due to your background. It is new to you. But, when you think it through, everyone who follows Christ must have made some kind of acknowledgment of the Savior as their Lord and Master.

A Devotion For Today . .

The meek will be guide in judgment; and the meek will be teach his way. —Psalm 25:9

PRAYER: Eternal Father, I thank Thee for Thy guidance and the promise that Thou wilt always guide me. Take away selfishness and self-will which blind me to Thy will. Let my obedience be complete and joyous. Amen.

Chlorene Contact Chamber To Update Sewage Plant

Construction on a new chlorene contact chamber to update the city's sewage facilities to meet the Texas Water Quality Board requirements will be initiated in late April or May, according to Bill Brown, city utilities director.

Plans on the chamber were sent to the TWQB Dec. 10 for study and approval of the board, however, final okay did not come until Jan. 31.

"Because we are not seeking federal or state funds to help in the construction of the chamber, the plans also had to be approved by the State Health Department, which delayed final approval of the plans," Brown explained this week.

TO SEEK BIDS

Next step the city will take is to evaluate city work forces and estimate equipment materials required for construction of the chamber. Then the city will seek bids on materials prior to start of construction.

Brown added that actual engineering and construction of the costly chamber will be done by city personnel. The only outside aid was required on the preparation of the plans, and Nichols - Freeze - Endress, Engineering Consultants, of Fort Worth, supplied the service prior to the preliminary plans being sent to the TWQB.

Cost of the chamber is estimated by city officials to run $30,000, and will be a portion of the $100,000 appropriation, which the city commission approved last year.

The chamber will be 38 feet by 34 feet, and will be constructed on the effluent discharge lines at the sewage plant. Brown explained the purpose of the contact chamber is to decontaminate the effluent discharge, while cutting down on the biochemical oxygen demand.

All efforts on improving the sewage facilities are to meet TWQB standards for effluent discharge of 20 parts per million suspended solids, and 20 parts per million BOD.

UH Students Hear Nader

HOUSTON (AP) — University of Houston students have been told by Consumer Advocate Ralph Nader they can "foresee and forestall problems" by forming public interest research groups.

Nader told about 1,300 UH students Wednesday the nation needs research into hazardous and inadequate pharmaceuticals, unnecessary food additives and inadequate hospital care.

He urged formation and support of a Texas Public Interest Research Group which currently is under study at the university.

"This is the building of a firm institution that will take root and develop rapidly from year to year" to combat pollution, poverty and failing educational systems, he said.

Involvement in research groups could help eliminate student problems of alienation, loneliness and lack of fulfillment and also could revitalize the educational process, he said.

"If students cannot get together to develop this type of institution, cannot sacrifice that little amount for the kind of institution that can have a beneficial impact on the state, then they have learned something about themselves," he said.

Ambulance Call Nets Surprise

BETHEL, Conn. (AP) — A routine ambulance call last week has brought a pleasant surprise for the Bethel Volunteer Fire Department.

The volunteers have received a check for $20,000 from sculptress Anna Hyatt Huntington of Redding. In a note with the check, Miss Huntington said, "Buy the best ambulance you can find." She said the check was in gratitude for the "kind volunteer service rendered and the pleasantness of the attendants."

When Miss Huntington's physician wanted her to go to the hospital for routine tests, the Redding ambulance was tied up with an emergency call so the doctor called the Bethel volunteers. Their ambulance picked Miss Huntington up, drove her to the hospital, waited for her and brought her back home.

Combat Dead Hits 45,646

SAIGON (AP) — Two Americans were killed in action last week and 31 were wounded, the U.S. Command announced today. The Command also reported seven deaths from nonhostile causes.

The total of combat dead was three less than the week before, and South Vietnamese headquarters also reported a drop in this category last week. It said 205 government soldiers were killed in action, compared to 292 the previous week. The number of wounded increased, from 661 the week before to 718.

The South Vietnamese also claimed 1,305 enemy were killed last week compared to 929 the previous week.

The allied commands now have reported these total casualties for the war:

American—45,646 killed in action, 302,602 wounded, 10,065 dead from nonhostile causes.

South Vietnamese—139,299 killed in action, 302,199 wounded.

NIXON ADMINISTRATION DEBATES VIET

Back-Pedaling Only Slightly

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration has left little doubt it views some proposed alternatives to its Vietnam policy as akin to surrender, even while backing away softer, he doesn't think those from strident language applied same candidates are fully aware of the harm their attacks might be causing.

President Nixon outlined this policy Wednesday when, discussing his State of the World message, he said there should be no debate but his prospective presidential opponents should make any criticism he is careful they don't play into Hanoi's hands.

"I do not question the patriotism or the sincerity of those who disagree with my policy to bring peace," Nixon said. "There should always be free debate and criticism so that our policy will represent the best thinking of our nation."

This was a far cry from earlier statements by a top aide, H.R. Haldeman, that Democratic presidential hopefuls were "consciously aiding and abetting the enemy of the United States" by their attacks on Nixon's peace plans.

Yet, the President indicated that while his wording might be softer, he doesn't think those from strident language applied same candidates are fully aware of the harm their attacks might be causing.

"A candidate for president," according to Nixon, "has a higher responsibility than the average citizen. A candidate should make any criticism he believes would contribute to an honorable peace."

"But I would hope that anyone seeking the presidency would examine his statements carefully to be sure that nothing he says might give the enemy an incentive to prolong the war until after the election."

CONVICTION

Henry A. Kissinger, the President's chief adviser on national security, took the opportunity while briefing newsmen on the State of the World message Wednesday to drive home the administration point.

When asked about one of the most-constant opponents of the President's Vietnam plans, Kissinger responded: "Everyone is joining with the enemy to destroy the South Vietnamese government."

These views consistently with integrity and conviction and patriotism over most of his public life.

That was several degrees milder than Haldeman's remarks and Secretary of State William P. Rogers' statement last week that candidate Edmund S. Muskie's speech "will be very harmful to the prospects for successful negotia-

But Kissinger quickly followed his conciliatory language about McGovern by saying the alternatives offered by the President's Vietnam plans, Kissinger said, emphasizing the administration never will.

Putting together all that has been said by Rogers, Haldeman, Kissinger and Nixon, the administration attitudes toward its Vietnam critics may be summed up this way:

Refuge Grows

BRAZORIA, Tex. (AP) — The Migratory Bird Conservation Commission has added 2,798 acres to this National Wildlife Refuge on the Texas Gulf Coast, 50 miles south of Houston.

NEED IS URGENT

"Sen. McGovern apparently believes the need to end the war is so urgent he'd be prepared to take this step," Kissinger said, emphasizing the administration never will.

Putting together all that has been said by Rogers, Haldeman, Kissinger and Nixon, the administration attitudes toward its Vietnam critics may be summed up this way:

Presidential aspirants have a right, without having their patriotism doubted, to criticize the President's policies and offer alternatives; but they run the risk of having these alternatives labeled clear calls for surrender.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT BACKING Crime Compensation

Editor's Note: There has long been a clamor for society to compensate victims of crime. Seven states now have laws providing compensation to victims of crime or persons injured in the commission of a crime, and with federal government backing, there may be more on the books soon. A report on the situation.

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Donna M. Morrissey, a young registered nurse, was shot in the left shoulder by an unknown assailant as she got out of a car at a Boston skating rink Dec. 23, 1970.

While Donna was recovering, her father told her about a Massachusetts law which, under certain conditions, provides monetary compensation for victims of a criminal act.

On March 22, 1971, Donna filed a claim for compensation and after a June 14 hearing, the 25-year-old nurse was awarded $765.20. Three months later, Donna received her money.

ONE OF SIX
Massachusetts is one of six states in the nation with laws compensating victims of crime. A seventh, Nevada, com-pensates persons injured in aiding the victims of crime.

A bipartisan group of legislators hopes to encourage other states to enact similar laws and, as a stimulus, is preparing a bill for Senate action under which the federal government would pay 75 per cent of the costs of compensation programs established by the states in accordance with federal standards.

Arguments in favor of such legislation include:

William Brown, attorney general of Ohio: "We do everything we can to rehabilitate the criminal, so it's only fair that we help the victim."

Robert Morris, University of Chicago Law School professor, who helped draft a crime compensation bill pending in Illinois:

"It's an extraordinary community which says help your neighbor, but the hell with it if you get hurt."

In addition to Massachusetts, the states already with such victims-of-crime compensation laws are New York, New Jersey, California, Hawaii and Maryland.

UP TO $10,000
The Massachusetts law is fairly typical of the compensation statutes, although the different states have different maximum awards.

It allows the filing of claims for compensation by victims injured in a crime or by certain dependents of victims killed in a crime.

The law provides for compensation of up to $10,000 to victims who have lost more than $100 or two continuous weeks of earnings or support, provided the sum is not covered by public or private insurance. All expenses—including medical costs—are included in the $100 figure which is automatically deducted from any compensation payment. Donna Morrissey, therefore, actually received $665.20 of her $765.20 award.

Claims are filed in District

Court and payments are determined by the court which must decide whether a crime was committed, whether the crime directly resulted in personal injury or death and whether police records show the crime was reported promptly.

The law took effect July 1, 1968 and the state attorney general, Robert F. Quinn, says most of the claims filed since then have resulted from assault and battery cases. The state paid $4,498.58 in fiscal 1968-69, $60,885.76 in 1970 and $27,162.33 for the first four months of 1971—the last period for which figures were available.

DON'T KNOW
The number of claims has been lower than expected, according to a spokesman in the attorney general's office. "Most people don't know about this program," he said. "I've even met lawyers who don't know what it is."

The proposal before Congress, in addition to picking up part of the tab for state compensation programs, also would provide compensation up to $50,000 for victims of violent crimes committed in the District of Columbia, in national parks and forests, on Indian reservations and aboard airplanes and ships.

IN CAST — Kit Hunter of Virginia Beach, Va., is a member of the Alpha-Omega Players, who present "The Diary of Adam and Eve" at the First United Methodist Church dinner theater starting at 7 p.m., Saturday. Admission is $3 per person. The play takes place in the church's Fellowship Hall.

Link Union Organizer With Church Employees

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Connection between church-paid volunteers and unionizing efforts of Tony Oreindein in the Rio Grande Valley was claimed Thursday by the Weekly Texas Methodist.

In a full-page story, Judy Weidman, assistant editor of the 140,000 weekly circulation Dallas-based paper said that a task force of Spanish-speaking churchmen decided over two years ago that Tony Oreindein's plan to reach the poor through a radio program and volunteer service program "seemed to the committee the best existing vehicle for zeroing in on the massive poverty in the Valley."

Oreindein heads the Farm Workers Organizing Committee (AFL-CIO) in the Valley. Even though no money from the $20 million Fund of Reconciliation has gone directly to

Mr. Oreindein or the union, the newspaper said, funds are paid to a local task force for subsistence salaries of volunteers. The volunteers were put at the service of Oreindein as a part of the Fund for Reconciliation's Voluntary Service Program begun in 1969, Miss Weidman wrote.

LAST SEPTEMBER
Last September, $15,000 was granted directly to Oreindein through the church's Commission on Religion and Race, she said. These funds came from United Methodisms' basic benevolence fund, World Service, according to the church newspaper.

Three months ago the church newspaper was invited to the Valley "to conduct an investigation of the entire matter, and report the truth as we uncovered it to the church," said the Rev. Spurgeon M. Dunnam, III, editor of The Texas Methodist. The Rev. Mr. Dunnam said the paper would make a full report of the finding to a church meeting scheduled Friday evening in McAllen.

There is little cause to doubt that United Methodist paid volunteers are furthering the cause of the union, while harboring virtually no pronounced commitment to the institutional church, the church newspaper said.

HELP THE POOR
The publication said that national church officials have insisted the program is geared primarily to help the poor. "They concede the union may very well benefit from the arrangement but believe the church can profit by identifying with the poor. To date there is little to indicate that either side has benefited greatly," Miss Weidman's story said.

The newspaper added that one thing seemed certain—"If the church had been doing its job all along, there would not be the alienation that now exists in the Valley."

"But until both sides begin talking, understanding is impossible. At the moment, communication appears at a virtual standstill," she added.

A press conference was called by the editor of the publication for 10 a.m. Friday at First United Methodist Church in McAllen.

Sheriff Seeks Check Suspect

The Howard County Sheriff's department is trying to find the individual who allegedly forged a $301.76 check and passed it at College Park Safeway Grocery recently.

According to Mrs. Rachel Schaffer, deputy in the department's bad check and forgery investigation division, the check was one of 17 stolen from Allison Drilling Co., Denver, Colo. The check passed here bore the name of the company and was forged in the name Peter L. Ross.

Other checks stolen from the Colorado firm have been passed in Lubbock, Odessa and Fort Stockton, where officers notified the local sheriff's department that they are holding a suspect. The local department will be in contact with the Fort Stockton sheriff's department to determine if there is any connection between the suspect and the check case here.

TOMORROW

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A really mixed-up day with an equal number of difficult and beneficial aspects that may keep you from being able to put through the course of action that is vital to your progress. Watch what is happening and avoid putting new ideas in effect until they have really jelled for your use.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): Try to get higher-ups to give you the backing you need, but be very diplomatic about it. Don't give in to that feeling of impotence you have. Take it easy tonight and do not argue with others.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): Although your ideas are good, your judgment is not so sound as a better day to put them across to others. Just so long as you get them well outlined now, all is fine. Out for social activities early in a.m.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): You have to use caution in handling all of your affairs today, whether of a business or personal nature, especially with the government. Not a good day to consult with advisers, since they all have different opinions.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): You are somewhat suspicious of partners today, but you can trust them. If you make radical changes, you will regret them very quickly. Get busy at work ahead of you and all is fine.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Keeping busy at work ahead of you and being cooperative with others is fine, since you are in the mood for just that. Find the right method of procedure that will help you advance considerably. Drive carefully.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Ideal day to plan a new wardrobe as well as social and recreational affairs for the weeks, months ahead. Listening to what loved one has to say now is fine, but don't give any advice as yet. Sleep on it first.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): A fine day to analyze well the conditions at home but not to make radical changes there as yet. Bringing up any moral points could lead to real trouble. Drive carefully. Do not lose your temper with anyone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): If you sit down with associates and clear up your relationship with them, you can have a more profitable and satisfying partnership together. Plan the changes that are to be made. Do not work on them until tomorrow, though.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Listening carefully to what successful persons have to say is fine, but do not jump into new outlets without proper study first. Right preparation is the key to advancement. There are big opportunities ahead.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): If you are more diplomatic with others instead of being forceful, you gain your aims easily and properly. Making sure you are well dressed is wise. Realize the importance of making a good impression on others.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Do not give in to friends who want to take you away from important duties. You will have to perform today. Refuse them courteously and take a quick check-up to solve personal problems while at work.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): You have an opportunity to have a good time with congenial and shrewd people instead of going after a bigwig who is not available now. Know what your personal aims are and get wheels in motion to gain them. Relax tonight.

Don't Lie

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am so heart-broken and confused I don't know where to turn.

My son and his wife divorced two years ago, and my former daughter-in-law took my two small grandchildren to a distant state. (I must admit, my son wasn't a very good husband or father.)

His former wife recently remarried, and her new husband is adopting the babies.

I wrote and asked her if I could come out and visit for a few days, explaining that I would be no trouble as I would stay in a nearby motel. I just wanted to see my grandchildren. I miss them so.

To my amazement, she said I could come, on the condition that I do not tell the children

NOT their father. She says that her present husband is children think he is, and that's the way she wants it.

Abby, what am I to do? I can't lie to them about who their father is, and who I am. Yet I want to see my grandchildren. Can you help me?

HEARTBROKEN GRANNY DEAR GRANNY: Try to persuade your former daughter-in-law to be honest with the children for their sakes. Tell her it's not likely that she can deceive them indefinitely, and when they learn the truth, it could be traumatic. Don't agree to lie. Even to see your grandchildren.

DEAR ABBY: Since others use your column to air their pet gripes, may I? It's repairmen who set up appointments to repair your television, refrigerator or whatever, and they don't call to say they can't make it. They just don't show up.

I left work early last Monday to be home at 3 p.m. when the TV repairman said he'd be there. I waited until 7 p.m. and he never showed up! I called him the next day and made another appointment with him. Again I got off work early, and again he didn't show. (Always an excuse. Car trouble, got tied up, had to go to the dentist, etc.) He had my number at work and could have called me.

Abby, I paid someone to cover me at work so I could leave early for these appointments. My friends tell me they've had the same lousy experiences with repairmen. What's the matter with people nowadays? Their word isn't worth a thing.

DISGUSTED IN SHERMAN

DEAR DISGUSTED: Sorry that you (and your friends) have had such rotten luck with service repairmen. There must be some who have integrity, or businesses that sell service wouldn't survive very long.

DEAR ABBY: For years I've enjoyed your column, and many times have felt the urge to write to you, but never more than when I read the letter from "Old Fashioned," who worried about whether her virgin fiancé would know what to do at the right time.

I'd like to add my reassurance to hers. When my husband and I were married, we were both virgins. Believe me, "Old Fashioned," you have nothing to worry about. My husband was soon a "pro," and I didn't do too bad myself.

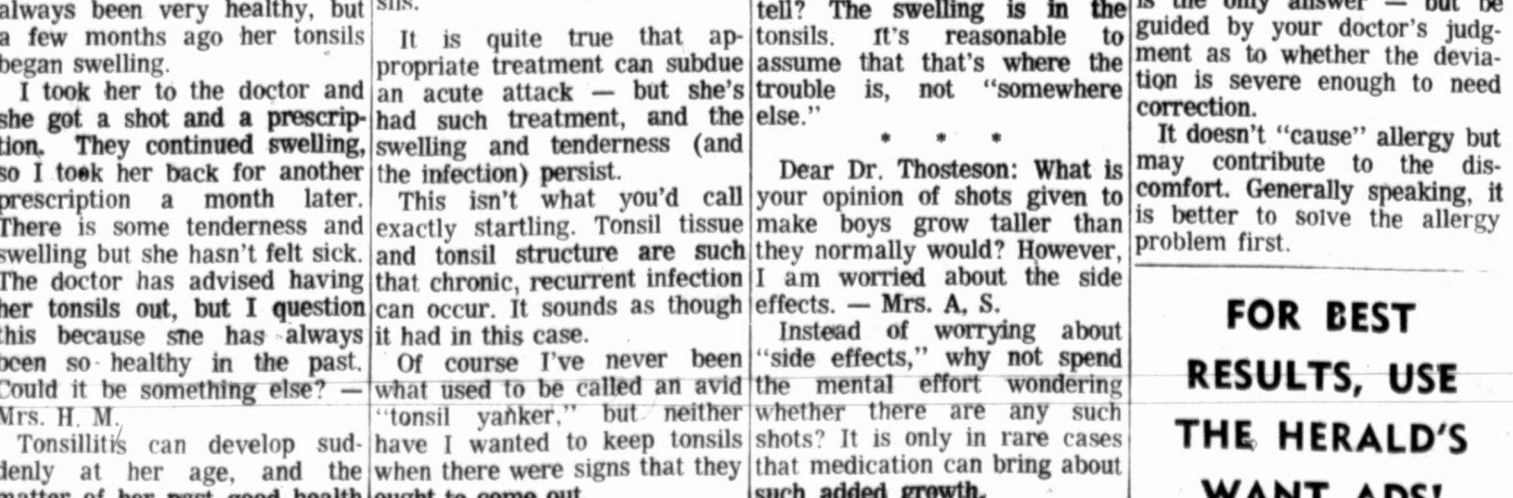

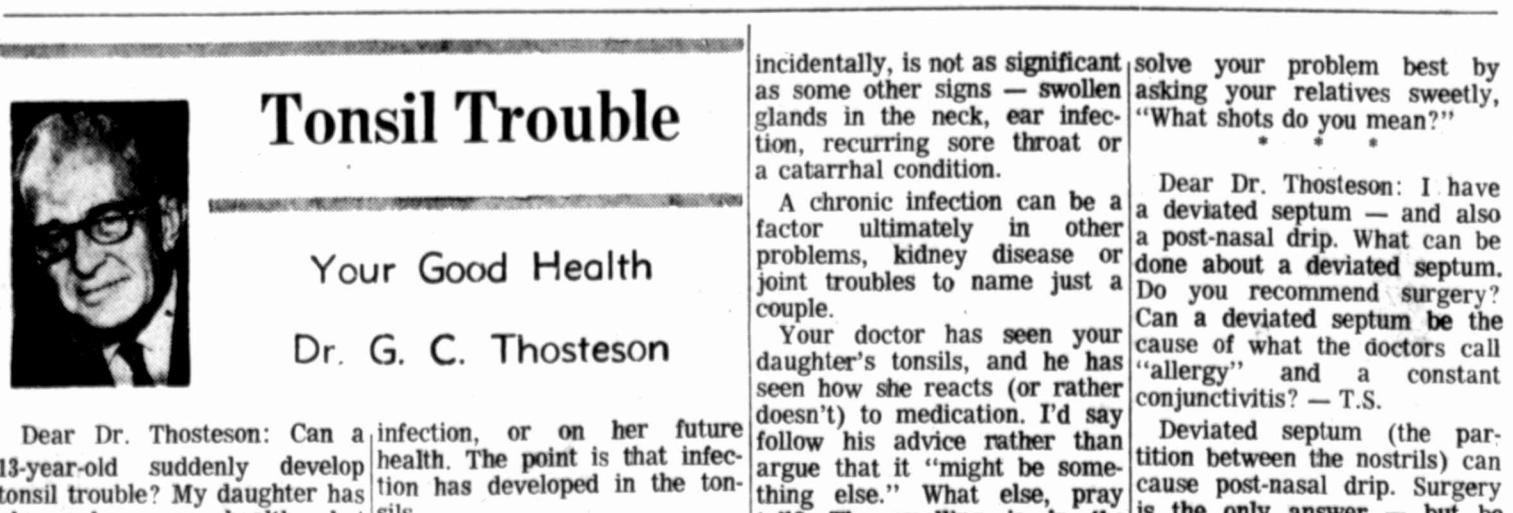

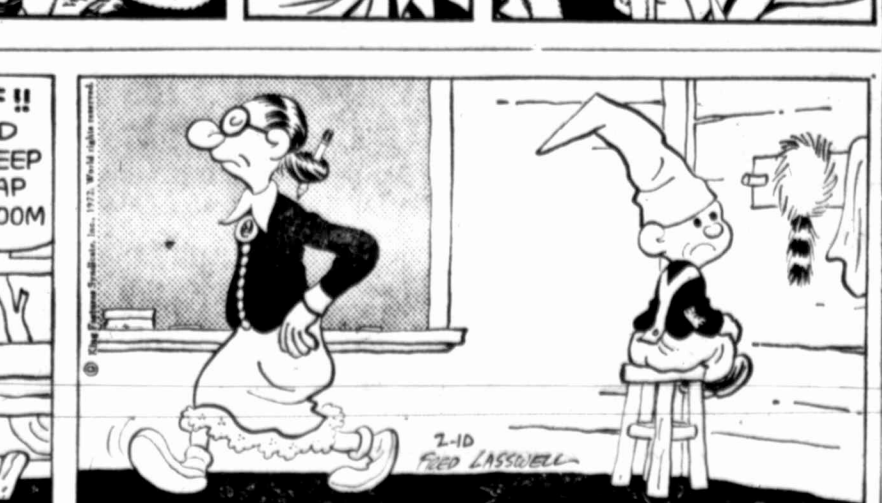

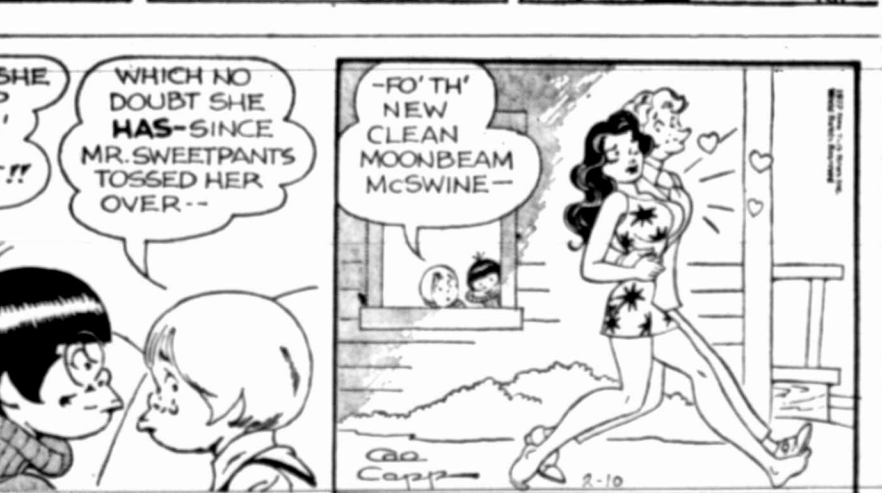

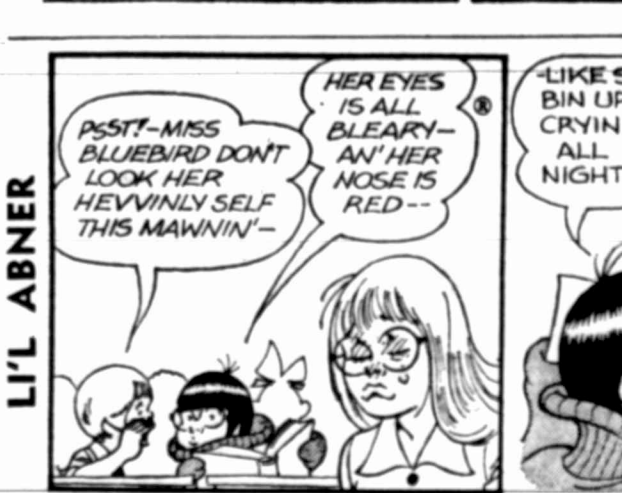

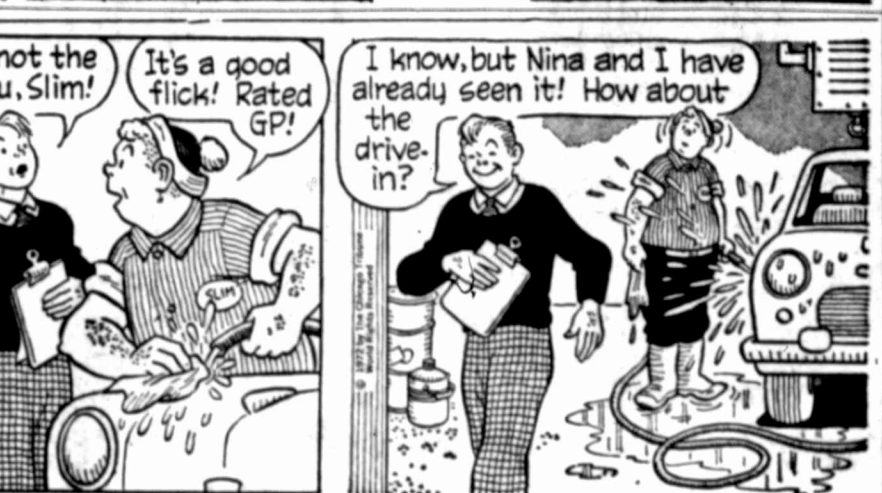

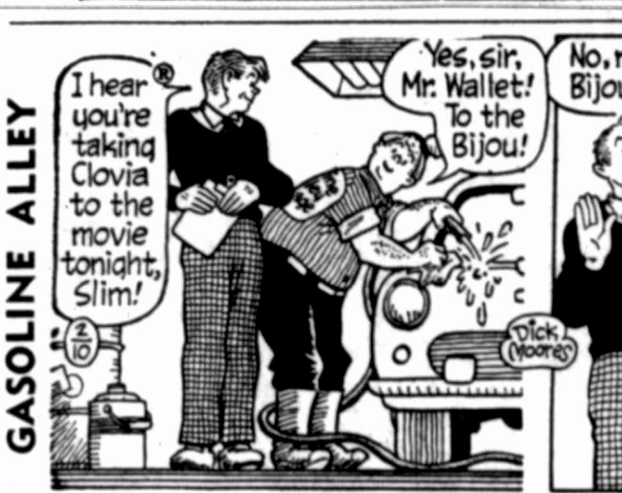

OLD FASHIONED, TOO

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Tonsil Trouble

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can a 13-year-old suddenly develop tonsil trouble? My daughter has always been very healthy, but a few months ago her tonsils began swelling.

I took her to the doctor and she got a shot and a prescription. They continued swelling, so I took her back for another prescription a month later. There is some tenderness and swelling but she hasn't felt sick. The doctor has advised having her tonsils out, but I question this because she has always been so healthy in the past. Could it be something else? — Mrs. H. M.

Tonsillitis can develop suddenly at her age, and the matter of her past good health may have no bearing on the infection, or on her future health. The point is that infection has developed in the tonsils.

It is quite true that appropriate treatment can subdue an acute attack — but she's had such treatment, and the swelling and tenderness (and the infection) persist.

This isn't what you'd call exactly startling. Tonsil tissue and tonsil structure are such that chronic, recurrent infection can occur. It sounds as though it had in this case.

Of course I've never been what used to be called an avid "tonsil yanker," but neither have I wanted to keep tonsils when there were signs that they ought to come out.

incidentally, is not as significant as some other signs — swollen glands in the neck, ear infection, recurring sore throat or a catarrhal condition.

A chronic infection can be a factor ultimately in other problems, kidney disease or joint troubles to name just a couple.

Your doctor has seen your daughter's tonsils, and he has seen how she reacts (or rather doesn't) to medication. I'd say follow his advice rather than argue that it "might be something else." What else, pray tell? The swelling is in the tonsils. It's reasonable to assume that that's where the trouble is, not "somewhere else."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion of shots given to make boys grow taller than they normally would? However, I am worried about the side effects. — Mrs. A. S.

Instead of worrying about "side effects," why not spend the mental effort wondering whether there are any such shots? It is only in rare cases that medication can bring about such added growth.

In blunt language, you might solve your problem best by asking your relatives sweetly, "What shots do you mean?"

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a deviated septum — and also a post-nasal drip. What can be done about a deviated septum. Do you recommend surgery? Can a deviated septum be the cause of what the doctors call "allergy" and a constant conjunctivitis? — T. S.

Deviated septum (the partition between the nostrils) can cause post-nasal drip. Surgery is the only answer — but be guided by your doctor's judgment as to whether the deviation is severe enough to need correction.

It doesn't "cause" allergy but may contribute to the discomfort. Generally speaking, it is better to solve the allergy problem first.

City Hall
To Recycle
Newsprint

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)

City hall has joined the ecology movement with a pilot project to recycle newsprint.

Officials said 6,000 homes in three areas of San Antonio will be involved in the six-week experiment, which begins Feb. 14.

The project calls for a special collection of newspapers once a week. Circulars explaining the project are being distributed in the three areas.

Asst. Public Works Director Mel Suetenfuss said the city plans to sell the paper to a broker, who will ship it to reclamation centers where it will be converted for re-use.

He said the key to the project is public cooperation. If the experiment is successful, it will be expanded city wide.

Suetenfuss said the idea for the project grew out of talks with spokesmen for a local group called Citizens for a Better Environment, which conducted an extensive experiment with other groups last year.

The experiment, called Recycle Our Trash, proved reclamation is feasible here, spokesmen for the environment group said.

Expanded This Year

Deadline for entering the Little Miss Contest, sponsored by the Big Spring Choir Boosters, is Friday. This year, the contest has been expanded to include 13- to 16-year-old girls in the Junior Miss category.

All proceeds from the contest are to aid the boosters in enhancing the choral programs in all Big Spring schools. Admission prices to the contest finals to be held at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Big Spring High School Auditorium are $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children.

Preliminaries will begin at 9 a.m. in the auditorium, and are open to the public at no charge. Programs containing pictures of most of the contestants will be sold for 50 cents each at both the preliminaries and the finals.

Enceing the finals will be KBST radio announcers Ken Carter and Jim Willett. Judges for the contest will include Miss Cotton of Texas 1971, fashion experts and newspaper columnists.

Each contestant is sponsored by a local merchant who pays a $10 entry fee, which is used to boost the choir program.

Entrants and sponsors in the Tiny Miss division for girls aged 3 to 6 are Tymy Kaye Brooks, 5, Faye's Flowers; Lori Nell Gilbert, 3, American Finance System; Kelli Jo Gilbert, 5, Hobby Center; Molly Thompson, 3, River-Welch Funeral Home; Katy Thompson, 5, River-Welch Funeral Home; Stacey Fields, 3, Joe Hicks Motor Co.; and Terri Lynn Mears, 6, Atha's Hair-Styles.

Evangelist Plans
Visit To Prison

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham says he plans to visit Attica state prison, where 43 inmates and guards died in an insurrection last year. Graham told a news conference the inmates had invited him after hearing him on the radio a few weeks ago. He said he'd "be happy" to go at some future time.

Retired Ranger
Trial Delayed

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — Trial of a civil suit against retired Texas Ranger Capt. A. Y. Allee has been postponed until the May court term.

State District Court Judge James Kazen of Laredo granted a continuance because Allee's lawyer, Fred Semaan of San Antonio, was unable to handle the case at present due to health reasons.
Kazen said he had talked with Semaan by telephone and was satisfied the lawyer was under a doctor's orders.

The suit was filed by Abel Lopez Jr., 27, a grocery clerk who claimed Allee struck and threatened him last June at a Carrizo Springs store where he
