Muskie Turns Tables On His 'War' Critics

By The Associated Press
Sen. Edmund Muskie turned the tables on his critics today, saying "if I am guilty of consciously aiding and abetting the enemy," then President Nixon "must have been" too.

The Maine Democrat, his party's presidential frontrunner, cited statements he said Nixon made in 1966 against President Johnson's Vietnam policy.

On Thursday, Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who is expected to run Nixon's re-election campaign, indirectly blasted Muskie, keeping alive the administration assault which pictures the senator as jeopardizing chances for peace in Indochina.

TRY TO 'WHIPSAW'
Muskie, speaking to high school pupils in Nashua, N.H., today, said he was provoked by a speech he gave more than a week ago proposing a two-point peace plan for Southeast Asia.

Muskie's plan followed Nixon's announcement on national television of the eight-point plan which had been presented to Hanoi.

Two statements by Nixon during the 1966 congressional campaign, Muskie said, were an attempt to "whipsaw" the government.

Muskie referred to one statement in August 1966 by Nixon: "I am convinced that the war effort will be served by a substantial increase of Americans on the ground, and a substantial increase in air capability."

A month later, Muskie said, Nixon criticized the administration's buildup of American forces by charging that the United States was going "overboard."

The senator said it is "clear those two statements were just criticism of the Democratic administration."

Muskie said there were similarities between his criticism of Nixon's policies and Nixon's criticism of Johnson's policies.

Nixon told a surprise news conference in the White House that various presidential candidates have proposed solutions to the Vietnam conflict that have gone beyond his own eight-point plan outlined in a nationally broadcast speech Jan. 25.

The president told newsmen that other proposals for peace could lead North Vietnam to decide it "might be well advised to wait until after the election rather than negotiate."

Muskie has called Nixon's eight-point plan a retreat of old ideas and offered a plan of his own.

Later, at a Republican fundraising dinner in Washington, Mitchell criticized Muskie by omission.

Mitchell, expected to give up his Justice Department post no later than mid-spring to run Nixon's campaign, praised Democratic candidates Hubert H. Humphrey and Henry M.

Jackson.

Those two, and Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana Mitchell told the $100-a-plate audience of about 500, have refrained "from doing or saying anything which could undercut the President or his position of negotiation, or encourage Hanoi to prolong the war in the hope of getting a better deal after election day."

"They have acted with high responsibility," Mitchell said, "and I take my hat off to them."

Muskie, who is in New Hampshire campaigning for the March 7 primary election, announced Jan. 25 his criticism of the President's eight-point plan and predicted it probably would not be accepted by the North Vietnamese. Since that day, numerous administration and Republican congressional leaders have zeroed in on him.

GOP National Chairman Robert J. Dole and Nixon's chief of communications, Herbert Klein, also attacked Muskie in separate speeches Thursday night.

'LOOKING FOR FALLGUYS'

Irving, Wife Tell Feds They Never Met Hughes?

By The Associated Press
Author Clifford Irving declined comment today on a Los Angeles Times report that he and his research assistant told federal authorities they never met with Howard Hughes, subject of Irving's purported "autobiography."

But Irving termed "a vicious lie" a report in the New York Times that he and a Los Angeles book reviewer were going to collaborate years ago on a Hughes biography.

"People are looking for fallguys," Irving told newsmen at his hotel in New York. "It astounds me that so much space has been devoted to this."

Meanwhile, the New York Times reported that Irving was seeking to exchange his cooperation in the federal fraud investigation for legal protection for his wife against prosecution in the tangled case in the United States and Switzerland.

Asked for comment, Irving's attorney, Maurice Nessen, said, "I deny the accuracy of both stories, and I am much concerned that such stories should be given headlines."

He added, "I feel there shouldn't be any further comments."

The federal probe continued in Madrid, where U.S. prosecutor John J. Tighe arrived today after spending two days with another investigator looking into secret bank accounts in Zurich, Switzerland.

EXCHANGE INFO

Tighe would say only that he expected an exchange of information with Spanish authorities about the case and refused to acknowledge whether he would pick up tapes and documents taken from the Irvings' home on Ibiza off the coast.

The Los Angeles Times said sources close to the federal grand jury probe of Irving's sale of the "autobiography" said Thursday that Irving and Richard Suskind, his research-er, told authorities the book wasn't written under the circumstances they had earlier claimed.

Irving has said he recorded material for the book in face-to-face interviews with Hughes in motels, and parked cars throughout the western hemisphere, but that Hughes insisted on keeping the tapes after the interviews were transcribed.

Irving and Suskind reportedly refused to spell out details of how they created the 230,000-word manuscript until they get assurances that Irving's wife, Edith, won't be prosecuted by either U.S. or Swiss authorities, the Times said.

'HELGA R. HUGHES'

In a story from New York by John J. Goldman and Robert L. Jackson, the Los Angeles Times said it was understood that no promises were made by U.S. officials.

Mrs. Irving is the acknowledged "Helga R. Hughes" who deposited and then withdrew from a Swiss bank account $650,000 McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. gave Irving for payment to Howard R. Hughes for his "autobiography." The checks were made out to "H.R. Hughes."

The Times said the admissions by Irving and Suskind were said to have been made during a closed-door session in New York Wednesday with U.S. Atty. Whitney North Seymour Jr. and top members of Seymour's staff. Attorneys for Irving and Suskind also were present, the newspaper said.

CLOSE TO CASE

The New York Times, quoting "sources close to the case," said that under the still tentative deal Suskind would testify under immunity from prosecution and Irving "would plead guilty to predetermined charges."

Neither Irving nor Seymour was available for immediate comment on the reports.

A combined federal-state investigation has been probing possible perjury, forgery and mail fraud violations in the case.

$50,000 Robbery

DALLAS (AP) — Police searched today for four gunmen who robbed the Lloyd's jewelers' store Thursday and got away with $50,000 in a precisely executed maneuver during which they tied up at least 10 persons.

Mrs. Otto Kris, wife of the owner of the store, said the robbers "came in about 2 p.m. and stationed themselves strategically. I knew then that we were going to be robbed."

Each of the gunmen went to a different sales person. They pulled out their guns and tied up the customers and employees and locked them in a backroom. Some were forced to lie on top of the others.

While one of the gunmen guarded the customers and staff, his companions went through the display cases taking only the most expensive diamond rings and watches.

Police said the robbers were in their 20s. Three were described as being 6-feet tall and one as being 5-8. All were well dressed.

Power Cuts May Cost Jobs Of Millions

LONDON (AP)—The government told a shocked House of Commons today that millions of British workers may be laid off because of new massive electric power cuts.

Hundreds of factories were expected to save electricity from coal-fueled power stations crippled by a five-week miners' strike.

John Davies, trade and industry minister, said "many, many people, perhaps millions" will be out of work at a time when Britain already has more than a million unemployed because of economic woes.

Judge Calls Another 300 For Jury Duty In Alpine

With jury selection a little more than half completed, the murder trial in Alpine of Whitmer Jean Ballard, 46, adjourned this morning until 9 a.m. Monday when a venire of 300 more persons will report for jury selection.

Ballard is being tried for the shotgun murder of Steve Currie, 71, during a robbery of the prominent rancher's home near Garden City. The trial has been moved on venue changes from Garden City to Ballinger, to Midland and finally to 83rd District Court, Alpine.

Four jurors were selected Thursday to bring the total to seven jurors. Presiding District Judge Charles Sherrill, 112th Judicial District, said Thursday that jury selection should be completed by Tuesday or Wednesday with testimony to begin in the case by the middle of the week.

Judge Sherrill said Thursday that the early recess would be necessary because only 50 of the expected 200 veniremen reported Wednesday for selection. The remainder had not received notice to report. A total of 35 jurors had been questioned individually by Thursday, and only nine had been disqualified because they objected to the death penalty.

Tuesday at 2 p.m., Judge Sherrill has scheduled a hearing on motions by defense counsel Bobby Bearden, Midland, and Ralph Burleson, Alpine, to suppress items of evidence. Judge Sherrill said that if jury selection has not been completed at that time, it will be interrupted for the hearing.

Named to the jury Thursday were W. A. Evridge, Brewster County rancher; John R. Rinley, employed in an Alpine auto parts store; Mrs. Earl Rudder, an Alpine housewife; and J. W. T. Harrington, an electrical and mechanical engineer from Marathon. Jurors selected earlier in the week are Esteban Rodriguez, Mrs. Laura Pattillo and Grover Crone.

Open House Set For College

Howard County Junior College will mark entering its second quarter of a century Sunday with open house, and with dedication of the new million dollar education facility — the Horace Garrett Applied Science building.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, urged all residents in this area to be on hand Sunday at 1:30 p.m. for the dedication of the new building, and if this is not possible for the open house which will continue to 5 p.m.

Every building on the campus will be open for public inspection, and students and faculty members will be giving demonstrations of modern equipment and programs at many points. Refreshments will be served all during the afternoon at the Dora Roberts Student Union building.

HCJC was launched in 1945 with approval of a countywide district, started classes in 1946 with about 150 registered the first semester in the old bombardier school hospital unit. Today the college has $5 million in assets, and has nearly 1,100 enrolled in the spring semester.

Reveal Threat To Kidnap Miss Idaho

KAREN HERD
Miss Idaho Of 1971

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho (AP) — A bizarre threat to kidnap and shoot Karen Herd, Miss Idaho of 1971 and first runnerup in the Miss America pageant, was revealed in District Court.

The story, came to light when a Jane Doe—listed as the victim in a criminal complaint—was amended to give Miss Herd's name.

"It was simply a value judgment, whether the real victim's name should be used or not," Deputy Bonneville County Prosecuting Attorney Thomas C. Whyte said in explaining why Miss Herd's name had been kept secret.

The complaint was amended Wednesday after an Idaho Falls man, Keith Blaylock, 23, pleaded guilty before District Judge Boyd R. Thomas to third-degree felony charges of threatening to commit a crime of violence against a person in connection with the incident.

Whyte said a threatening letter sent to Karen's residence in Idaho Falls in December warned that a man would purchase a .44-caliber magnum pistol, kidnap Miss Herd off the stage at a public gathering and shoot her if anyone, including police, interfered.

Blaylock was arrested several days later. In the meantime, another letter had been sent to the Herd residence saying that the threats had been a mistake, would not be carried out and the writer was "sorry."

Grand Jury Calls Blonde Scuba Girl

MIAMI (AP) — The second mystery woman in the Clifford Irving-Howard Hughes "autobiography" mystery, a fetching blonde scuba diving instructor, has been subpoenaed by U.S. Postal Service agents to testify before a federal grand jury in New York.

Agents went to the modest

North Miami apartment of 29-year-old Ann Baxter on Thursday and delivered the subpoena.

She is expected to be questioned about her reported trip to St. Croix in the Virgin Islands with Irving last December and about any meetings between the author and Hughes.

Irving claims he went to St. Croix for what he said was one of his many interviews with Hughes in preparing an autobiography of the billionaire recluse. Hughes has filed an affidavit in New York saying he has never met Irving.

Life magazine reported that Miss Baxter, a 5-foot-9 beauty, accompanied Irving to the Virgin Islands as his scuba diving tutor.

Postal agents are investigating possible mail fraud in connection with Irving's sale of the Hughes "autobiography" to the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co.

After serving the subpoena, postal agents took Miss Baxter to the U.S. marshal's office where she drew an advance for a one-way air trip to New York and one day's subsistence allowance. Officials said such advances are "perfectly routine" when a witness pleads a lack of funds to meet an appearance.

Until she was summoned by postal agents, Miss Baxter had remained as elusive as Hughes. Newsmen got no answer when they called at her fourth-floor apartment and neighbors said they saw little of the statuesque blonde. When newsmen converged on the Miami Beach hotel where Miss Baxter was employed as a scuba teacher, she didn't show up for work.

'Just Lucky, I Guess'

JACKSON, Tenn. (AP) — Gov. Winfield Dunn stopped by the Tennessee Highway Patrol target range Thursday.

Handed a .38-caliber revolver, Dunn fired five shots from a standing position — and hit the center of five man-sized targets.

Asked to try shooting from the hip, the governor fired five more shots — and zeroed in on five more targets.

Asked about the governor's shooting prowess, a spokesman said Dunn was no sportsman — "just lucky, I guess."

Harvard Grad Joins Cop Unit

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — John Pippin is the first Harvard College graduate to become a Harvard campus policeman, and he says he likes it well enough to stay.

"I wanted to do something I enjoy," he said. "I wanted to have a job where I knew that if I, with my own particular ability, weren't there, the world wouldn't be quite so good a place."

The 22-year-old Pippin, with a luxuriant mustache, patrols a regular campus beat.

Pippin of Dallas, Tex., was a German history major and said his parents expected him to go to graduate school after his graduation last June.

Irish Terrorists Blow Up Jeep, Kill Two Soldiers

BELFAST (AP) — A road mine — presumably planted by the Irish Republican Army — blew up a British army jeep near the border Thursday night, killing two British soldiers. And in Belfast a gunman shot Wednesday night in a fight with police died in a hospital.

This raised the death toll to 243 in Northern Ireland's religious-political warfare, including 37 this year.

Bombs also exploded in downtown Belfast and in the center of Armagh. British troops skirmished with bands of youths in Coalisland. No casualties were reported in these incidents.

PEACE TALKS

The British Cabinet was reported weighing a proposal for new peace talks between leaders of Northern Ireland's Protestant majority and the Roman Catholic minority. But the titular leader of the Protestants, provincial Premier Brian Faulkner, took a hard line toward the Catholics to the table — relaxation of the internment without trial of suspected IRA guerrillas.

The Catholics and their representatives in the provincial Parliament, the Social, Democratic and Labor party, have vowed not to participate in any talks until internment is ended. The British Cabinet reportedly agrees that internment must continue in force, but "we think we can tinker with it a bit" by

Warplanes Rake Western Frontier

SAIGON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. and South Vietnamese warplanes pounded a 225-mile stretch of the western frontier from the demilitarized zone to the central highlands in some of the heaviest raids of the Indochina war, informants said today.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers and U.S. B52 heavy bombers launched about 400 strikes during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today, the informants said.

THEIR MISSION

The raids ranged over South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia. Warplanes struck at North Vietnamese infiltration corridors leading from the DMZ, Laos and Cambodia into western South Vietnam, at staging areas, base camps, supply depots and troop concentrations.

Their mission was to blunt the big enemy offensive which U.S. officers predict will come this month, just below the DMZ or in the central highlands and adjacent coastal lowlands.

About half of the raids were flown in South Vietnam, the heaviest since last August and September when U.S. air power helped counter a North Vietnamese push below the DMZ.

A total of 201 tactical air strikes were reported in South Vietnam, 32 more than were flown in the previous 24 hours. On both days half were flown by U.S. planes, the other half by the South Vietnamese air force, while almost all the missions in Laos and Cambodia were flown by American pilots.

In one raid on an enemy base camp in the central highlands, the U.S. Command said, helicopter gunships and bombers killed 25 enemy troops and destroyed 20 bunkers.

AMBUSH

The command also announced that an Air Force F4 Phantom crashed Thursday night while on a mission allowing the release or trial of minor and political offenders, one official in London said.

WILL NOT WORK

Faulkner did not make clear how much tinkering he would agree to. But he told a rally of his ruling Unionist party: "It will be utterly wrong to let the internment issue become a political bargaining counter. It would clearly be quite wrong and irresponsible to release dangerous men in circumstances where they would simply resume terrorist activity."

He added that no governmental system would work in Northern Ireland if it would be unfair to them. The new British proposal reportedly includes a statement that ultimate reunification of Northern Ireland and the Irish republic is not ruled out so long as it can be achieved peacefully and with the consent of the Protestants.

The Saigon command reported 23 enemy attacks during the 24-hour period ending at dawn today plus 38 government operations of battalion size or larger.

Communications from the Saigon headquarters and field reports listed at least 29 South Vietnamese troops killed and 104 wounded. The South Vietnamese command claimed 149 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

Communist forces apparently trying to cut South Vietnam's busiest highway ambushed two U.S. convoys and encircled a government outpost, field reports said.

PROMOTED — Glen Burgeis, who formerly served here as salesman for Jones & Laughlin Supply division, has been named assistant manager-field operations at New Orleans, La., in charge of Louisiana, Mississippi, East Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas and the Tulsa, Okla., area. Burgeis once played football for the Chicago Bears.

Western Parade In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Thousands of spectators were expected to swarm downtown today for a giant western parade kicking off the 23rd annual San Antonio Stock Show and Rodeo.

Parade organizers said the parade, featuring about 7,000 persons who rode in 10 trail rides from distant Texas cities this week, probably would last three hours.

Dental Clinic Set Feb. 26

Local and area dentists will attend the Fourth Annual Dental Seminar Feb. 26 in the auditorium of the Big Spring State Hospital.

The seminar is sponsored by the Permian Basin Dental Society and the Big Spring State Hospital. There will be no registration fee, and all doctors will be guests of the Dental Society and the State Hospital.

Special speaker for the event will be Dr. Omer K. Reed. He is a practicing dentist and a member of the board of directors of the Southwest Foundation for Medical Research and Regents of California Lutheran College, the board of directors of the Christian Dental Society of the American Society of Preventive Dentistry, and a member of the Federation Dentaire Internationale and the ADA.

Also Mrs. Suzie Redding, a disease control therapist, will be Dr. Reed's counterpart in conducting the seminar.

A Dutch-treat barbecue luncheon will also highlight the seminar at the hospital, which will begin at 9:30 a.m.

Raped Woman In Cemetery

HOUSTON (AP) — A Monday punishment hearing has been set for Nathaniel Hawkins, 19, convicted of raping a 69-year-old woman in a cemetery.

A seven woman, five man state district court jury found Hawkins guilty Thursday after deliberating about 10 hours.

During the trial the woman identified Hawkins as the man who raped her May 14 when she visited the cemetery to place flowers on her husband's grave.

Hawkins testified he never saw the woman as he was working in another part of the cemetery that day.

HAMSTER SHAKEN BY INCIDENT BUT EVERYTHING ENDS WELL

Herbie, a hapless golden hamster, found out that the proverbial dark cloud does have an occasional silver streak in its lining.

Herbie was scuttling across the yard of the James Ray residence at 1309 Mt. Vernon Wednesday night, when suddenly things looked as if they were about to take a turn for the worse.

Ko-Ko, an eight-month-old Siamese cat belonging to the Ray family, had spotted the hamster, and she pounced on it.

Mrs. Ray went to the door to call in the cat, who had been taking her usual evening romp with the family's pet poodle, Lapracia. Both came bounding through the door, according to Mrs. Ray, and then she noticed Ko-Ko had a passenger.

The hamster was retrieved unharmed from Ko-Ko, and christened Herbie by the Rays' three children, Jim, 14; Penny, 11; and Jackie, 7.

Since his rescue from an untimely fate at the paws of Ko-Ko, Herbie has been reposing peacefully in a perforated shoebox, dining on oatmeal, celery and carrots and submitting to the petting given him by the children.

"We have a poodle, a dachshund (named Sam) and a cat, and now, thanks to the cat, we have a hamster," said Mrs. Ray.

With his nocturnal wanderings over, Herbie has found himself a home, with a little help from Ko-Ko.

The bidding:

North East South West
 2 ♣ Pass 2 ♥ Pass
 3 ♣ Pass 3 ♥ Pass
 6 ♥ Pass Pass Pass
 Opening lead: Six of ♠

When North received a positive response of two hearts to his opening bid of two clubs, he envisioned 'slam possibilities because he held an overwhelming wealth of controls as well as a readily establishable suit. Altho South merely rebid his suit over three clubs, North was willing to gamble out a slam for if his partner had as little as six hearts headed by the king-queen, there would be an excellent play for 12 tricks. He accordingly proceeded without any further preliminaries to six hearts. West opened the six of spades and the king was played from dummy. Declarer observed that two diamond discards were forthcoming on the ace and king of clubs. However, in order to find a parking place for his other losing diamond—it would be necessary to develop a long card in North's club suit.

South began establishment of the clubs by leading the four of that suit at trick two and ruffing with the deuce of hearts. A heart was led to the ace so that declarer might trump another club in his hand.

When the nine and ten of clubs appeared from East's hand on the first two leads of that suit, South decided to proceed with care. The dummy had only two entries left—the ace of diamonds and the ace of spades. If clubs are divided five-two, it will be necessary to utilize both of these honors to complete the successful development of North's long suit.

South decided to forego the luxury of taking a trump finesse in the interests of safety. He cashed the king of hearts and when both opponents followed, the success of the contract became assured. A spade was led to the king and another club was trumped as East discarded a diamond.

Declarer led the jack of hearts, his remaining trump to give West his trick in that suit, as the four of diamonds was discarded from dummy. West got out with a diamond and North was in to cash the ace and king of clubs—dropping the queen—followed by the jack of clubs. South disposed of his three remaining diamonds and then took the final trick with the queen of spades.

Speaker Challenges Women To Utilize Hard-Won Rights

Two members of Texas Delta Delta Chapter, Phi Sigma Alpha, were honored at a meeting Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Adren Westbrook, 401 Hillside. Mrs. Herman Shifflett was named chapter "sweetheart," and Mrs. R. L. Nall was named "woman of the year."

Mrs. Shifflett is a charter member of the chapter which was organized in 1968. She has served two terms as vice president and is presently the extension officer in charge of contacting prospective members. She is also president of Permian Basin Area Assembly of PSA. She has been employed at the post office for four years and is secretary of the local Postal Workers Union, as well as secretary of the Equal Employment Opportunity committee. She and her family attend Midway Baptist Church.

Mrs. Nall is chapter secretary. Her award was presented by Mrs. Arthur Wadle, program moderator, who said she is "an inspiration to other members through her active participation in chapter projects and programs." Mrs. Nall's other activities include membership in American Business Women's Association, Big Spring Credit Women International, Breakfast Clubs of North America, National Health Federation, Federation of Homemakers, Organic Soil Makers and Natural Foods Association. She is owner of Big Spring Health Food Center.

MRS. HERMAN SHIFFLETT

Mrs. Westbrook presented a program, "You and Your Government," noting that while has no time for interest in public affairs.

"In some countries it took years of passionate argument, physical effort and suffering before women were allowed to vote," said Mrs. Westbrook, "yet some of us value this hard-won right so lightly that we do not even use it."

Mrs. Westbrook said lack of knowledge about what is being done by our government is a clear indication that we must take steps to inform ourselves and to see that others do the same.

"Many of us are not politically-minded, but that doesn't mean we aren't interested in better schools for our children, better care for the aged or better housing for those who need it," concluded Mrs. Westbrook. "All of these things are our responsibility as individuals and our privilege as citizens. We must use our influence on the side of what is right, just, good and spiritually progressive."

Mrs. Winham presided and announced the next area assembly meeting is March 11 in Lamesa. The next chapter meeting is at 7:30 p.m. March 7.

Alabamans Are Guests At Forsan

FORSAN (SC) — Guests of the J. B. Hoards recently were their daughter, Mrs. E. E. Woodson of Gadsden, Ala., and their granddaughter, Mrs. Bill Vernar, and son of Pleasanton, Calif.

The Mack Alexanders have returned to Midland after a visit with her parents, the L. T. Shoultz, Jackie Tillman Shoultz of Cooper also visited his parents recently.

Sunday guests of the J. P. Kubeckas were her son, Luther Moore, and the David Brosius, all of Midland, and the Phil Moores of Odessa.

Attending the funeral of Mrs. Dessie Everett of Granbury were her sisters and families, the M. A. Jones' and Mrs. I. D. Parker, all of Stanton; and the A. J. McCalls. Guests of the McCalls recently were his sister and family, the Ernest Martins of Muleshoe.

Two Films Seen By 4-H Clubbers

Two films, "Milk from Dairy to Home" and "You are What You Eat," were shown by Mrs. Delmer Hortin Thursday afternoon for members of the Elbow 4-H Club.

The group met at the Elbow School for the program, later going to the home of Kathy Harrell where Ladene Hortin and Shelly McMurray discussed milk in the diet. Using posters for illustration, they showed the uses of fresh, evaporated and dried milk. They concluded the program by making milk shakes, with ice cream and powdered milk, which were served by Karon Hobbs.

The next meeting will be Feb. 17 in the Harrell home where there will be a demonstration on breads and cereals.

Progress Report On Free Clinic

STANTON (SC) — A progress report on the free immunization clinic sponsored by the Martin County Hospital Auxiliary was given by Mrs. Al Smith, school nurse, during a Tuesday meeting of the auxiliary.

Mrs. Smith said that 1,559 immunizations have been administered to children since the program began in December, 1970. Completing the clinic report was Mrs. Forest Smith, auxiliary treasurer. Mrs. Owen Kelly presided and served as hostess, along with Mrs. Glenn L. Brown. Refreshments and decorations featured a valentine motif.

Mrs. Phil Berry was welcomed as a new member.

Tells Traits Of "Connoisseur"

The traits of a connoisseur were discussed by Mrs. Roe Fulgham for Alpha-Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Don Cunningham, Route 1.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever," said Mrs. Fulgham, quoting John Keats. "Its loveliness increases, and it will never pass into nothingness." Mrs. Fulgham said connoisseurs have found beauty in a vast variety of fields ranging from statues, china, glass, pewter, old dolls and all forms of art.

"A connoisseur does not happen overnight," said Mrs. Fulgham. "It takes a lot of work to become a connoisseur, because he is a person that is competent to judge critically, based on a thorough knowledge of the field." Pictures illustrating various forms of art were shown to members.

The chapter will award a $100 scholarship to a Coahoma High School senior planning to attend college. Anyone desiring more information concerning requirements may contact Mrs. Fulgham, 393-5287.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a red organdy cloth and trimmed with lace flowers. A bouquet of red carnations and a red, valentine-shaped cake centered the table.

The next meeting is at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 23 in the home of

B&PW Club Convenes For Dinner

The Business and Professional Women's Club held a dinner meeting Tuesday at the Spanish Inn where Mrs. J. B. Apple, president, was the presiding officer.

Hostesses were members of the public relations committee, headed by Mrs. A. G. Eitzen. Other committee members are Mrs. Robert A. Smart, Mrs. C. R. Rhoads, Miss Helen Willard, Mrs. Laura Erhardt and Mrs. Phillip Palmer.

During a brief business discussion, the club changed its meeting time from 7:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. Miss Movelda Rhine, District-8 director, reported that the local B&PW club has equalized its membership this year.

The next meeting will be held at 7 p.m., Feb. 22 at Cokers Restaurant. At that time, a program on public relations will be presented.

BALL SET SATURDAY

Tickets are still available for the Valentine Sweetheart Ball slated Saturday at Cosden Country Club. The Raiders will provide music for dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., and tickets ($5 per couple) may be obtained by calling Mrs. John Knoepfel, 263-7540. The dance is sponsored by Beta Sigma Phi.

"PRETTY BLINKER" SEMI-PERMANENT EYELASHES

Imagine! You can swim, shower, water ski, or participate in any water sport, and being completely waterproof, they won't come off, and they are just as beautiful, and natural looking as you were to begin with. Just think! You need no mascara, no eye liner, and when you get up in the morning, you are ready to go! "Pretty Blinker" semi-permanent eyelashes are lighter than human hair. They stay looking beautiful for weeks and weeks. If they are cared for properly will last from 3 to 6 months.

"Pretty Blinker" lashes come in two colors, black and brown, and they are in four sizes, long, medium, short and under lashes. FOR MORE INFORMATION, CONTACT:

MARGARET DANA'S Consumer's Question-Box

Q: Have you any figures showing how costs of living have gone up during the last 10 years or so, up to the Price Freeze last August. I know food has gone way up, but what about other things in relation to incomes?

A: According to government statistics, the price of food bought for use in our homes went up 33 per cent between 1959 and 1971. Services of all types averaged 65 per cent more in that period. Transportation cost 3 per cent more in 1971 than 1959 — the base period. Medical care rose 78 per cent, commodities other than food went up 28 per cent. But it may surprise you to learn that the average income per person, for that same period rose 82 per cent. That doesn't mean everyone, but the average.

Q: I would like to know the dangers, if any, of using electric bed blankets. I hear they are quite unsafe. Can you provide any facts?

A: For an electric blanket to be safe you must start with a reliable manufacturer who provides a guarantee, and the blanket should have a label showing that it has been tested for safety by UL, which is a nonprofit organization with just one job — testing for public safety.

Then the blanket must be used exactly as the manufacturer directs on the label. It must not be folded, or have heavy things placed on it. Children must not be allowed to play on it — wires and connections can be broken.

The unsafe blanket may be the one with no labeling, no responsibility of the maker, and no guarantee.

Q: I am buying a new pair of tires for my car and wonder if you have any information as to whether you get the best service from putting them on the front or the back wheels.

A: according to the Tire Industry Safety Council, newer tires should be placed on the rear wheels. A good deal of intensive research has been done to find out where the car owner gets the best deal in placing new tires, and the studies show that vehicles in accidents more often show they have their worn tires in the rear. So new tires with the best tread should be on the rear — not the front — to help hold the road.

Q: I keep hearing that fats in our diets cause heart disease. Has this been actually proved or is it just guesswork?

A: This debate still goes on. However, the most important reference used to prove the connection between fats in the diet and heart disease — the Framingham Diet Study Group — issued in 1970 another report which said, "With one exception there was no discernible association between reported diet intake and serum cholesterol levels, in the

Experience In France

STANTON (SC) — "Understanding Neighbors of Other Lands" was the topic discussed by Mrs. James Wheeler Tuesday for the Stanton Study Club in the Martin County Library.

The speaker, who was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. James Elland, told of her experiences while living in France for two years.

In conclusion, she told of "neighbors" she met while visiting other countries.

Mrs. Stanley Reid and Mrs. Bob Cox were hostesses, and Mrs. Cox conducted the business session, during which Mrs. Reid reported that the museum is again open to the public Sunday and Wednesday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m.

The valentine theme was carried out in decorations and refreshments. Mrs. Velma Zimmerman, librarian, was a guest.

DKG Meeting Set Tomorrow

CAN'T PREDICT OUTCOME Nixon's Value-Added Tax Idea

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said directly and unequivocally to me he had not made up his mind.

The plan described to the 24-member commission would involve a value-added tax of about 3 per cent, raising $18 billion. Of this, $5 billion would be used for income-tax rebates and credits to ease the effect of the new levy on low-income persons.

About $13 billion would be distributed to the states, on the condition that local residential property taxes for schools be dropped. These amount to about half the property taxes on homes.

The distribution could be on the basis of $1 for each $2 of state support. Richardson said the tax could be made much less regressive than is, easier on the lower incomes.

In addition, he said, states would have to raise other revenues. Wuthier won $4,873 in calf roping and steer wrestling, and was named all around cowboy at the rodeo, which ended Sunday and paid winners more than $87,000.

Leading the standings is Phil Lyne, reigning world champion all around cowboy from George West, Tex. Lyne won $4,178 in saddle bronc riding and calf roping at the rodeo, boosting his season total to $7,932.

Event leaders for the year thus far include Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho, whose $7,552 in calf roping money puts him far ahead of second-place Lyne with $2,834. Oliver has won the world title eight times, holding the title more than any other roper in RCA history.

Wuthier, Banner, Wyo., took the largest slice of prize money at the Southwestern Fat Stock Show rodeo in Fort Worth, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Two Opponents Trail Fisher

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Rep. O.C. Fisher hasn't even begun to campaign and he already is apparently far ahead of his two Democratic primary opponents.

The two office seekers, Lionel Wayne and Norman Schaefer, filed for a place on the Bexar County (San Antonio) ballot, but failed to do so in the 21 other counties of San Angelo congressman's district.

According to the Texas secretary of state's office, Wayne and Schaefer are entitled to have their names on the Bexar County ballot only.

Group Gave Money To Latin Activists Despite Protests

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — An Episcopal bishop says a national church committee made grants to two activist Mexican-American groups despite protests from himself and a Houston bishop.

The Rev. Harold Gosnell, bishop of the 60-county Episcopal Diocese of West Texas, said a New Mexico bishop also had objected to grants for groups in his diocese.

The national youth program committee, established by the Episcopal general convention at Houston in 1970, approved grants for the Brown Berets and the Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO) without consulting the bishops, the Rev. Gosnell said.

Delivering his opening address to the 68th annual council of the diocese here Thursday, Bishop Gosnell said the MAYO grant was for a WATS (wide area telephone service) line in Texas.

The San Antonio, Tex., bishop urged the council delegates to petition the church's 1973 general convention to state specifically the type of programs that the youth committee should support.

After approving the grants last fall, Bishop Gosnell said, the committee announced it would not pay them "until they had been explained to the bishops who, we were told, had no ability to stop them in any case."

Negro Air Hostesses

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Pan American World Airways announced today that it will include Negro air hostesses on flights to South Africa.

"They are likely to fly to Johannesburg in the near future," a spokesman for the airline said. He said the decision was made after visits to Pretoria by officials of Pan Am's flight service department late last year.

"We had discussions with Pretoria on the subject and black crew members will fly here."

INTERPRETATION OF RULING IS SOUGHT Mrs. Mary Thomas Must Wait On Dawson, Scurry Rulings

Mrs. Mary Thomas, who has filed her candidacy for state representative of the 63rd District, will have to wait until party chairmen receive results of a meeting of elections officials held Wednesday to find out whether her filings can be accepted by Dawson and Scurry County Democratic party chairmen.

Confusion exists, according to Mrs. Thomas, in that formerly candidates could submit an application by midnight on the deadline date and still get on the ballot. This year, Secretary of State Pat Bullock issued letters to party chairman stating that applications by mail had to be in by midnight the day before deadline. Both party chairmen contend that the law has always been as it is this year.

Mrs. Thomas filed in person in Howard County at 5:45 p.m. Monday, just before the 6 p.m. deadline.

According to Mrs. Thomas, she filed by mail with the Dawson and Scurry county party chairmen, and made sure that the envelopes were postmarked before 6 p.m. Monday. She added that she filed by mail with Coke, Borden and Sterling Counties, but was unable to be sure that her applications there were postmarked before 6 p.m.

She said that the meeting was being held in Austin of party chairmen and other election officials to discuss election procedures, including mail in regulations.

Frank A. Wilson, Scurry County Democratic chairman, said that he was waiting on word on the matter to come from the secretary of state's office as a result of Wednesday's meeting. According to Wilson, candidates have, if they applied by mail, had to have a registered or certified mailed application into the party chairman postmarked 24 hours before deadline to be acceptable if received after filings close.

Wilson said that neither of these requirements were met by Mrs. Thomas' filing because he did not receive it until after 6 p.m. although it did bear a 6 p.m. Monday postmark, but not the Feb. 6 postmark as required.

"I want Mrs. Thomas and everyone else to understand that I am not trying to keep her from filing. I just want it to be done as the law requires," said Wilson. Wilson said that he is holding Mrs. Thomas' application and postmarked envelope until he gets a ruling in the matter.

"I received Mrs. Thomas' application Wednesday, and it was postmarked Monday, Feb. 7. For her application to be legal, it would have to have been postmarked Feb. 6, according to the Texas Election laws," said Leon Cohorn, Dawson County Democratic party chairman.

"I have told Mrs. Thomas that as far as I can tell right now, I can not put her name on the ballot in Dawson County. I'm going to Austin this weekend for a meeting of party chairmen, but I don't expect this to be changed. This is how it's been done in the past and has not been challenged," added Cohorn.

Traffic on the IS 20 north and south service roads was blocked off at the FM 700 intersection for approximately 45 minutes Thursday to allow officers time to have an overturned gasoline truck righted, and the spilled fuel cleaned from the roadway.

A truck driven by Clifford Creighton, Big Spring, overturned at 1:40 p.m. Wednesday as the driver was attempting to exit from the west bound lane at the exit just west of Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. refinery.

Texas Highway Patrolmen John Ferguson and Don Bates investigated the accident while County Sheriff A. N. Standard and Deputy Sheriff's Bill Whitton and Walt Birdsong blocked traffic from the area.

Sands Youths Win In Show

Three Sands High School Future Farmers of America Club members placed with their steers Monday in the steer judging portion of the El Paso Livestock Show being held this week.

FFA members also showed lambs Tuesday in El Paso. A crossbred steer shown by Kent Robinson earned ninth place in the heavyweight crossbred category.

Dennis Armstrong also earned a ninth place position with his crossbred steer in the medium weight category, and Billy Reed showed 15th and 17th place steers in the heavyweight category.

Don Reed showed a crossbred steer, and Jackie McDonald showed a Hereford steer.

While they stuck to a popular fare, there was no doubt but what they could have handled the classics — with each one keeping a hand in his pocket.

They opened with "West Side" tunes, and the audience response was instantaneous. Their "Greensleeves" was a superb and the Foster series ranged from the melody of Old Folks at Home in toe-tapping tempo to banjo background.

The duo exhibited a great sense of change of pace, dashing from dreamy passages to allegro di molto, from fragile notes to roaring peaks.

Here's A Switch On Blood Donor

Frantic calls for help are often put out when blood donors are needed in an emergency, but for a donor to seek a recipient is just a little unusual.

Robert Boadle, 2505 Fisher, has found himself in the latter predicament. Boadle has recently been released from the hospital, and according to his doctor, has too high a blood count and must have it reduced before returning to the hospital in two weeks for a check-up.

If anyone knows of any hospital or individual in need of a pint of A-positive blood, Boadle has one to spare. Attempts to donate the blood to local hospitals have failed because none of the local hospitals have facilities for storing blood and keeping it fresh.

Federal Report Questions Beliefs About Marijuana

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new government report today questioned some widely held beliefs about marijuana and suggested that pot may hold medical value for glaucoma patients.

year, the NIMH said marijuana use appears to be widespread and on the increase, with no signs of tapering off.

The report estimates that between 15 and 20 million Americans, mostly in the 18-to-29 age group, have tried marijuana.

The second annual report to Congress by the National Institute of Mental Health emphasizes that more research is needed, however, on marijuana's effect on driving ability, chromosomes of women of childbearing age, and possible damage to the brain and kidneys.

Marijuana has the highest rate of use in the West and its popularity in high schools varies from a high of 90 per cent to as low as 5 per cent.

The use among college students rose from 31 per cent in 1970 to 44 per cent in 1971, according to available statistics.

Utility Rates 'Freeze' Mullied

Whether the Price Commission's temporary freeze on utility rate increase will affect Big Spring was not known today.

The city commission Tuesday evening approved an ordinance quoting a six per cent increase across the board. Don Womack, district manager for Texas Electric Service Company, said he did not have any details and could not comment until he had more information.

The freeze will remain in effect until the new guidelines are announced, Grayson said. At the same time, the commission has extended its deadline for a final decision on many newly instituted rate increases until March 25, or 15 days after new regulations are issued, whichever is sooner.

The ruling temporarily blocks about 900 requests for increases totaling billions of dollars, the commission said. It affects virtually all electric, gas, telephone, telegraph, railroad, airline, intercity bus and trucking, barge and pipeline rates.

This means that virtually all utility rate increases put into effect since the price freeze ended Nov. 14 remain subject to a possible rollback by the commission.

EAST OF COAHOMA Glaze Causes 2 Accidents On Overpass

Ice on the Texas and Pacific Railroad overpass east of Coahoma is believed to have caused two separate accidents shortly before 1 a.m. today which resulted in three persons, one listed in serious condition, being taken to two Big Spring hospitals.

Michael J. Rech, 21, Milwaukee, Wis., is in serious condition at Veterans Administration Hospital where he is being examined for spinal and possible internal injuries, which he received as a result of a fall from the bridge, not of the collision.

Rech was in the east bound lane of IS 20 when his car hit the icy bridge, and he lost control. His vehicle crossed the median and was involved in a head-on collision in the westbound lane with a car driven by Jim Wayne Putnam, 35, Fort Smith, Ark. Putnam and his wife, Mary, 29, are both listed in satisfactory condition at Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

Putnam's car spun three times after impact and came to rest in the median, partially blocking the inside east and west bound lanes.

Rech, Putnam, his wife, and their two children, Mike, 11, and Lethia, 7, had reportedly exited their vehicles and stood in the one east bound lane that had not been blocked by the wreck.

After impact, Rech's vehicle had continued west in the west bound lane, and had struck the guard rail approximately 150 feet away from point of impact.

At this point, a truck-tractor and trailer rig belonging to Gypsum Transport, Abilene, and driven by Robert Dean Sells, 25, Sweetwater, topped the bridge heading east.

Sells told officers that the people were standing in the only clear lane for east bound traffic, and he swerved into the Putnam vehicle in the median. Sells' truck came to a stop, entangled with the car, and his trailer came to rest against the east bound lane guardrail. Sells was not injured.

The Putnams and their children ran a short distance down the highway to get out of the way of the truck. Rech, on seeing the truck approach, leaped the guardrail and took a 25-foot fall to the ground below the bridge.

Must Ministers Experience Draft Before Advising Youths In Issue?

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some clergymen, contending that it is vital for them to confront the same tough decisions of life as their people, disapprove of ministers being exempt from the military draft.

It shields them from having to face realistically "one of the most agonizing problems" that others have to go through, says the Rev. Peter T. Riga, a Catholic theologian of St. Mary's College, Calif.

And this, he adds, casts a shadow over the clergy's guidance on that issue — since they don't actually have to experience it.

Nevertheless, exempting them from conscription is a long-time practice in this country, as well as in most Western cultures, and churches generally have accepted it unquestioningly.

Consequently, challenging it, as some clergymen do occasionally, touches a sensitive zone.

Ministers ought to get out of their "privileged position" of being immune from the draft, the Rev. Dr. David G. Colwell, a United Church pastor of Seattle, Wash., once told a church convention, stirring shocked reactions.

But when delegates could come up with no satisfying rebuttal, they finally voted to put the North American Council of the World Alliance of Reformed and Presbyterian Churches on record against clergy exemptions — a rare stand among church bodies. The ministerial exemption, aside from excluding clergy from having to experience a decision to which others are subjected, also is sometimes criticized as infringing on the American tradition of separation of church and state. It is "preferential treatment to a group because it is a religious group and it is therefore unconstitutional," Father Riga writes in the national Jesuit weekly, America. "If we must have a draft, it must be as equitable as humanly possible. There must be no privileged groups in a truly democratic society."

However, on less theoretical grounds, a main question focuses on whether clergymen, in being free of the draft, can deal authentically with that issue, and identify validly with others actually subject to it.

Under the nation's present draft law, pacifists with conscientious objections to all war are exempt. But clergymen, unlike others, are exempt whatever their views.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. — The Lutheran Hour, which is in its 39th season of broadcasting, will be given special recognition in the congregations of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod on Lutheran Hour Sunday, Feb. 27.

The Lutheran Hour, sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League, is heard in more than 125 lands in 41 languages. The speaker for the English broadcast is Dr. Oswald Hoffmann, who recently received national attention on his third Christmas visit with American military personnel stationed in South Vietnam, Okinawa, Thailand and South Korea.

Dr. J. A. O. Lutheran Hour Sunday has been observed by LCMS congregations regularly on the last Sunday in February since 1951. The observance this year is based on the theme "Filled With Joy" which is drawn from a passage of the Bible in Acts 16:34.

"This is the story of Paul and Silas in prison," explained Tommy P. Thompson, director of Lutheran Hour domestic operations. "It ends in the triumphant phrase, referring to the jailer and his family, 'He and his family were filled with joy because they now believed in God.' This is the joy which we share on The Lutheran Hour."

Thompson added that over the past year the staff members and people who work on The Lutheran Hour have had much "to be joyful about." "The Lutheran Hour has experienced a growth which has brought the number of radio stations in the United States and Canada carrying the broadcast to more than 1,100. ## Nazarenes Set Revival Featuring Lubbock Man

Special revival services will be conducted at the Church of the Nazarene, 1400 Lancaster Street, Monday through Sunday. Services will be each night beginning at 7:30 p.m., with the Sunday services at 10:45 a.m. and 7:00 p.m.

Evangelist Clifford Mayo will be the special speaker for the services. The Rev. Mayo, Lubbock, is a widely known evangelist, having conducted campaigns over most of the United States, Mexico, Guatemala, Africa, Jordan, and Israel.

The Rev. Mayo was the evangelist for the United Wesleyan Crusade in Dallas, Texas, in the summer of 1961, where capacity crowds packed the building night after night. He was the evangelist again in 1963 for this group.

In the summer of 1966, he conducted two united crusades. Various denominations that have participated in sponsoring him in the united crusades are Methodist, Free Methodist, Wesleyan Methodist, Congregational Methodist, Evangelical Methodist, Baptist, Nazarene, Pilgrim Holiness, Assemblies of God, Presbyterian, Salvation Army, and Evangelical United Brethren.

He is a graduate of Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky. He had completed one year as a home

Nixon Draws Line Against Further Viet Concessions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has drawn the line against further concessions to the North Vietnamese until they negotiate on his eight-point peace proposal.

"The next step is up to the enemy. Our proposal is on the table and it is going to stand there until we get a reply from them," Nixon told a news conference in his White House office Thursday.

At the same time, the President appeared to hit somewhat harder at Democratic White House hopefuls who spurned his earlier plea for caution in their criticism of his Vietnam policy.

Responsibility — "The responsibility for the enemy's failing to negotiate may have to be borne by those who encourage the enemy to wait until after the election," the President said.

Although Nixon said the other side has not yet responded to the joint U.S.-South Vietnamese proposal made public Jan. 25, North Vietnamese leaders and diplomats have been quoted as rejecting it.

Joint proposal — But Nixon said he wanted to reassure the South Vietnamese president that "there will be no new proposals made unless it is a joint proposal."

Unsuccessful experiments are the magnetometer, which measures the magnetic fields of the moon, and the particles experiment, which analyzes the solar wind.

Dr. Dave Strangway, a Space Agency scientist, said the magnetometer probably has provided enough data already to map the moon's magnetic field as planned.

TRW Inc. built three of the satellites for the Space Agency at a cost of $5 million.

The satellites are designed to gather information and radio to Mission Control here. Officials said the failure blocks two of the experiments from sending data to earth, but the experiments themselves seem to be working.

Engineers are conducting tests to better understand the failure, space officials said.

Satellite Data Lost By Gadget

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Data from two of three experiments aboard a satellite left in orbit of the moon by Apollo 15 have been lost through an apparent electronic component failure, the Space Agency announced Thursday.

The satellite—a 78-pound, mailbox-shaped package, was months of data, but was detected into lunar orbit on Aug. 4, 1971 by the Apollo 15 astronauts. It has provided six signs to operate for a full year.

Unsuccessful experiments are the magnetometer, which measures the magnetic fields of the moon, and the particles experiment, which analyzes the solar wind.

Dr. Dave Strangway, a Space Agency scientist, said the magnetometer probably has provided enough data already to map the moon's magnetic field as planned.

The satellites are designed to gather information and radio to Mission Control here. Officials said the failure blocks two of the experiments from sending data to earth, but the experiments themselves seem to be working.

Engineers are conducting tests to better understand the failure, space officials said.

Standing behind his desk, Nixon opened his news conference by giving a general rundown on plans for his trip to Communist China, which will start next Thursday.

The President said his visit and talks with Chinese elders "will mark a watershed in the relations between the two governments," which have been at odds for more than 20 years.

Once again, Nixon cautioned that his groundbreaking visit, first by an American president to China, "should not be one which would create very great optimism or very great pessimism."

On other matters, brought out in questioning, Nixon made these points:

Taxes—"There will be no increases in taxes this year. He denounced the property tax as regressive and said the only way the value-added tax could be considered as a source of school revenue is if its regressive features were removed.

In his State of the Union address, Nixon promised to try to find a way to relieve home owners of property taxes.

There have been reports he plans to propose a value-added tax, a form of national sales tax that opponents claim bears heaviest on the poor.

Racial balance — Busing—Nixon restated his opposition to busing "for the purpose of racial balance."

However, he noted that some courts have differed from his views, and said he will confer with congressmen on the feasibility of a constitutional amendment to prohibit forced busing.

India—Nixon denied that he and his administration were anti-India during the recent war between India and Pakistan. "I can only say I was anti-war," Nixon said. "We did everything we could to avoid the war . . . ."

Security leaks — "At this point, we are going to do everything we can to develop a new relationship with the countries on the subcontinent that will be pro-Indian, pro-Bangladesh, pro-Pakistan but mostly pro-peace."

Bangladesh—Nixon said the United States has not made a decision whether to recognize the new state of Bangladesh, formed from what was East Pakistan before the Indian army conquered it in December. He ruled out any decision before he returns from China in late February.

Security Leaks—The President said "we have a lot of circumstantial evidence" as to the source who leaked secret minutes on top-level U.S. discussions on U.S. policy during the Indian-Pakistani crisis to columnist Jack Anderson.

However, Nixon said "we do not have evidence that I consider adequate . . . to take to court."

Dowdy Trial Motions Date

BALTIMORE (AP) — New trial motions in the bribery-conspiracy conviction of Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., have been set for hearing on Feb. 23, the government announced Thursday.

A veteran of nearly two decades in the House, the 59-year-old Athens, Tex., resident was convicted in December of conspiring to accept a $25,000 bribe to help sidetrack a Justice Department probe of a Maryland home improvements firm.

U. S. District Court Judge Roszel C. Thomsen, who presided over the six-week trial, agreed earlier this week to a delay in the hearing, originally set for Wednesday.

If the motions are denied, sentencing would follow Feb. 23.

The Texas Democrat, who says he will retire from Congress at the end of this session, faces a maximum penalty of 40 years in jail for his conviction. He has been free awaiting final court action.

Dowdy's wife, J. D., announced last Saturday she would seek election to her husband's seat in Congress.

Three Accused Slayers Win Change Of Venue

HILLSBORO, Tex. (AP) — Three Dallas men charged with killing Town Marshal Milton Boertz won a change of venue Thursday.

District Court Judge Steve Latham said he would transfer the murder case elsewhere after the Dallas District Attorney, Bob Dohoney and defense lawyers agreed a jury could not be obtained in Hillsboro.

The jurist had rejected a motion by John Allison, counsel for the defense, earlier based on a contention that it was "improbable the three defendants could obtain a fair trial in Hill County" because of prejudice.

Latham reconsidered after a panel of 63 prospective jurors was exhausted.

The defendants are Willard Christopher, 32; Benny Walker 36; and James Hughes, 42.

Efforts to seat a jury began 10 days ago, and eight persons had been accepted to hear the case.

Official Review Promised Of Antipollution Proposal

BAYTOWN, Tex. (AP) — The executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board says the federal Environmental Protection Agency has agreed to review its new pollution control plan for the Houston Ship Channel.

Hugh C. Yantis Jr. said Thursday the EPA has agreed to meet with state water officials and review the controversial 35,000 pound limit on oxygen-destroying discharges into the channel.

Yantis told industry leaders at a water board hearing that the new discussion was agreed to by Arthur W. Busch, regional EPA director in Dallas.

Yantis said the federal and state engineers would discuss whether the 35,000 pound daily limit on biochemical oxygen demand (BOD) "ought to be altered or restated or eliminated."

He stressed there is no agreement except to meet. He said federal and state officials will be aiming for an "intelligent regulation" of ship channel pollution.

He said the meetings, which might begin next week, would be staff talks and not a reconvening of the federal enforcement conference which set the BOD limits last November.

More industries disputed the need for the new BOD limits at Thursday's session, saying the slight improvements in water quality would not be worth the heavy cost.

Dr. Walter Quebedeaux, Harris County pollution chief, attacked the hearing and called it "nauseating and disgusting."

Quebedeaux charged the hearing was called for no other purpose than "to muster support for the water board in its argument with the EPA. Yantis replied that Quebedeaux's comments will be entered in the record and "will get the consideration they deserve on their merits."

Dr. W. Wesley Eckenfelder Jr., an environmental engineering professor at Vanderbilt University and a consultant on the Galveston Bay Study, said there was "no concrete evidence" that a 35,000 pound BOD limit is necessary.

He said this low figure, in fact, might hurt the channel by triggering an upsurge of oxygen burning nitrates.

He predicted the 35,000 pound limit would require expensive third stage treatment by many plants.

He said a computer study predicts that a 45,000 pound loading would bring oxygen back to the entire channel.

Spy Will Share 'Topaz' Money

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A superior court judge has awarded a Miami man who once served as chief of French intelligence in the United States $352,350 in damages against author Leon Uris.

Phillippe de Vosjoli claimed Uris broke a contract under which the two men were to share the royalties from Uris' best-selling novel about international spying, "Topaz."

De Vosjoli testified the book was based on a manuscript he wrote after resigning as a French intelligence agent. Uris contended de Vosjoli broke the contract by selling the manuscript to Look and Life magazines and a London newspaper.

Superior Court Judge Howard H. Schmidt also ruled that de Vosjoli is entitled to one half of the royalties from the movie "Topaz," based on Uris' novel.

'Luther' To Be Offered Here

First United Methodist Church, through its Worship Committee, will present John Osborne's "Luther," a play performed by the nationally acclaimed Alpha-Omega Players at 10:30 a.m. Sunday in the church sanctuary.

Starring in "Luther" will be Cliff Samuelson, Bob Rez, Letah Samuelson, Ocie Robinson and others.

The Alpha-Omega Players, Repertory Theatre of America, has performed in 45 states, has travelled more than 600,000 miles in the last four years, which ranks them as one of the most active touring theatre groups in the country. Drexel H. Riley is the producer-director of the group.

Selected highlights from Osborne's "Luther" will portray this "Sixteenth Century" young man in a passionate struggle with his own conscience and his revolt against the authorities of the Catholic Church, which led to Protestantism.

Luther was searching for a faith to hold when he became beset with disbelief in The Establishment — a search with which many young people in today's world struggle can identify.

Persons can call Gayle Bledsoe at 267-6394 for ticket information and other details.

BRIBERY TRIAL FEB. 28

Abilene Judge Refuses To 'Kill' Indictments

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — District Court Judge Neil Daniel refused Thursday to quash indictments of Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher and two associates on charges of conspiring to accept a bribe.

Dist. Atty. Bob Smith of Travis County (Austin) then said he will prosecute the trio on that charge when their case is called for trial here Feb. 28.

These developments emerged at a pretrial conference in which prosecutors and defense counsel offered a flurry of motions in the case transferred from Austin on a change of venue.

The conspiracy indictment accuses Rush McGinty, chief aide of the House speaker, and State Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth along with Mutscher, 39. In addition, a separate indictment charges Mutscher with accepting a bribe.

All the charges stem from the Texas insurance stock fraud scandal.

After questioning of four newsmen behind closed doors, the judge granted a motion to quash subpoenas for them to appear as witnesses. This defeated a defense effort to learn the sources for information in two news stories published last September before the grand jury indicted the three men.

Mutscher sat silent and unsmiling with McGinty, Shannon and their lawyers in the courtroom.

'OVERLY BROAD'

Daniel first denied a motion to dismiss the indictments and then one contending the indictment was unconstitutional and should be quashed because it was "overly broad, overly vague."

The reporters who testified behind closed doors were Robert Heard of The Associated Press staff in Austin, Glen Castleberry and George Kuemper of the Austin American-Statesman and Don Fisher of the Dallas Times Herald.

They wrote stories last September linking Mutscher, McGinty and Shannon with the indictments before the indictments were handed down by the grand jury in Austin.

Daniel told newsmen that the reporters did not disclose the sources of their exclusive information. He said their answers were immaterial to the motions presented by the defense.

NOT THE ISSUE

The judge said newsmen had no special privilege to refuse divulging news sources but that was not the issue here.

Mutscher's lawyers won one battle without firing a shot as the judge directed that jury selection will be on an individual basis, which is unusual except in capital cases.

Group Dating

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SKIRTS OR JEANS? (Q.) This group of girls, of which I am one, is half hippie and half neat. For school we wear skirts, sweaters, culottes, wool shorts, nice pants. At home or shopping or fooling around we wear jeans, sweaters and boys' orange work boots.

Our boy friends go to another school and never see us except in jeans and boots. We just realized they may look at us and say, "Yuk, what a mob of tomboys!"

But they wear jeans too, and if we came out in nice pants or school type skirts they might think we were too dressed up, or expected them to take us somewhere.

Besides, with the goofing around we do with the boys, nice pants would get to looking like who did it and ran in no time. What would you do? — One of the Group in Connecticut

WEIRD DAD: (Q.) The kids at my church make fun of my dad. I know he does some weird things, but that is just the way he is. I have asked them to stop because it isn't funny. But they keep right on calling him names. It hurts me for my friends to do that. Please tell me what I can do to stop it. — Burdened in Oklahoma

(A.) Talk to both your friends and your father. Tell your friends that people who tease other people are often both ignorant and cruel and that your father is not ignorant or cruel and doesn't tease people. Tell them that in church we are taught to be kind and loving to each other, and that what they are doing is not kind and loving. Talk with your father. It may help change him to be less "weird!"

(A.) You have a right to expect more than you seem to be getting from these boys. I think clean, neat pants, and, yes, an occasional casual skirt, would add a needed dimension. It might start deemphasizing the group and bring on double

Ex-Alamo City Priest Weds

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) —

A Roman Catholic priest who helped found a national Mexican-American priests group has been married since November and is living in Washington, it was disclosed Thursday.

Officials confirmed that Ralph Ruiz married the former Janis Claire Ehrhart, 25, of St.

Louis, Mo., on Nov. 29 in a ceremony performed by a minister at St. Louis.

Ruiz, 36, who entered the priesthood in 1965, is the 14th priest from the San Antonio area known to have married in the past five years.

He was the first national chairman of PADRES, a group of Spanish-speaking Roman Catholic priests organized here two years ago. He also was active here in causes for the poor and needy.

Auxiliary Bishop Patrick Flores of San Antonio said he validated the marriage according to church law last month in Washington.

Bishop Flores, the present national PADRES chairman, said Ruiz received a dispensation from his vows as a priest before the marriage.

Compounding Ineptitude

The courts have compounded the Legislature's ineptitude and the odds are great in favor of the public's being the loser in pending negotiations to hold elections in Texas this year.

A special session of the Legislature to deal with the impasse, in case the courts decline to delay their orders, will cost the public some $750,000. Re-registration to get voters assigned to appropriate districts will add to that cost. Replacing election costs for primaries since filing fees were disallowed by court action will add further cost.

The goal of better representation is sound enough. That court action came at an awkward time is not the court's problem. That came about through reluctance of legislators to redistrict and through legal attacks that culminated in new rules for elections.

Appeals are being made. Clarification is being sought on the ambiguities resulting from the decisions.

But time is a critical factor in the Texas primary elections. The mechanics of adequate voter registration in view of the new district lines require time to manage.

The courts have ample precedent for easing the rush and avoiding needless cost to the people.

There is the "deliberate speed" doctrine for correcting custom of long-standing racial segregation. Voting custom, flouted as the courts say it is, is no more urgent than bringing under full protection of the law citizens who had been denied that protection for a century. The courts could complete the election puzzle by spelling out details of how to conduct the elections. It belatedly said the state may contribute funds in lieu of candidate filing fees. It can define legally-sufficient voter registration, including ordering re-registration. There are many problems involved in party primaries, for it has been observed that candidates, rather than parties, seem to have strongest support. One suggestion is that a party membership fee be required to participate in party primaries, but don't hold your breath waiting for that to occur. Party leaders abhor the thought of alienating voters with a latter day poll fee. Ultimately, the answer probably is recognition that primaries are part of the election process and therefore must be supported as such.

Kettle Vs. The Pot

The Soviet Union used an hour of prime-time television the other night to carry a documentary which depicted Communist China as a completely regimented state determined to stamp out the individuality of its citizens.

This is a classic case of the kettle calling the pot black.

The Soviet commentator ridiculed Chinese methods of mass indoctrination. The film showed an entire industry devoted to production of materials to glorify Mao Tse-tung. The Soviets apparently didn't think there might be a parallel in their glorification of Lenin.

One portion of the film emphasized the military training of young Chinese. In Russia there is a universal draft, plus military training in the last two grades of secondary schools.

The Russian documentary scored Chinese political re-education and said in China today "to think is harmful." It said individuality is stifled at an early age and "any emotional feeling" is attacked.

While these criticisms are true, Soviet government is hardly in a position to deliver them. Soviet dissenters are found insane and sent to institutions or into exile. Any form of dissent — written or spoken — is harshly punished.

And the Soviet government rigidly controls the press and all communication media. The documentary was shown on state-owned and state-run television, the only one available to the Russian people. Just what point, other than propaganda, was the documentary trying to make?

Nothing Like It

Around The Rim

Robert McDaniel

THERE IS NO newspaper in the United States that is available to all parts of the country at its time of publication. The New York Times comes closest to being a national newspaper, but it is printed only in New York and despite its considerable influence does not displace a significant portion of national newspaper reading.

The Wall Street Journal is published in six different locations and is readily available in more cities than any other daily, but specializes in business and finance. The Christian Science Monitor of Boston is distributed nationally but its countrywide circulation is small.

In the truest sense of the word there is no "National Newspaper" in the United States.

No other country approaches the degree of localized news as the United States. In Russia, for example, metropolitan Moscow has less than two per cent of the total U.S.S.R. population, but Moscow-based dailies have 87 per cent of all Russian daily circulation. Tokyo-based dailies have 70 per cent of national circulation. London dailies account for 70 per cent of the total newspaper readers.

IN CONTRAST New York and Washington, D.C., together have 6.6 per cent of the national population but between them supply only 9.6 per cent of the national population.

The underlying reason for the localism in American newspapers is the peculiarity of our political organization.

More government functions are left to the local level in the United States than in any other developed country. Property taxes, schools, land use, public health, large areas of business regulation, and many other political and social activities are controlled by locally elected bodies in the United States, while in other countries many of these are controlled by national governments or administered by national bureaucracies.

No national newspaper can tell the local citizen what he needs or wants to know about these local activities that affect him. Furthermore, what is relevant to one local jurisdiction is only minimally relevant for the next, since school systems and other similar matters follow strictly local lines and cease to apply across local boundaries.

WHEN NATIONAL media do attempt to report news events of local interest they invariably present a distorted picture. In their attempt to relate the news nationally they fail to retain the local "feel" that properly puts the events in focus. They speak out of context.

While the metropolitan dailies have much greater resources, manpower and more space to devote to national and world news, it is only through the local paper that the citizens can keep informed on the activities of the minor, we well as major officials. It is here he can learn of people who believe, like himself, that the community needs more frequent garbage collection, stricter adherence to zoning regulations, stringent economy in government and lower taxes.

IT IS ONLY in his local media that he can learn of situations in his community that deserve his attention. The local newspaper is the heart and eyes of its community.

No national newspaper could ever hope to fill its place.

Hopefully the day will never come in these United States when 70 or 80 per cent of its people would be restricted to one viewpoint . . . or ideology.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

Have you ever had a revelation? If so, what was it, and did it constitute a change within you? I am doing a project on revelation, and I would appreciate it if you could answer as soon as possible.

P.M.
As a young man I experienced the greatest revelation one can receive: the revelation that Jesus was indeed the "Christ," the Son of God and Savior of the world. I was brought up in a Christian home and my parents taught me many things about the Christian faith. But, one night as I sat with my friends in an evangelistic crusade in Charlotte, N.C., it was revealed to me that I was a sinner and that Christ died for my sins. Up to that time it was head knowledge, but that night I confessed my sins, and accepted Christ as my Savior; it became a knowledge of the heart.

Did it make a change in my life? It certainly did! The Bible which to me had been a dull, uninteresting book, became exciting and thrilling. Church, which had been boring, then became an experience I looked forward to. Sin became repugnant to me, and Christian people afforded me the greatest fellowship and friendship.

Some people search in vain for a "revelation" when the greatest revelation of all is within their reach:

the reality of Jesus Christ. It has been my privilege to share this "revelation" with millions around the world, and I wouldn't trade places with any king, premier, or president. My greatest joy is to tell others of His grace, power and love.

Troubled Times

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The importance of psychological attitudes in directing the course of economies has been discussed for more than a century but understanding and appreciating that importance is slow to develop.

Instead, some economists continue to study their statistics on the assumption that economic change can be detected and forecast in the numbers. It is as if everyone, like soldiers, responded by the numbers.

Some economists even continue to think consumer response, for example, is almost a mechanical thing dictated by factors such as the money supply and income. If the consumer has money, the theory says, he'll spend it.

Odd as it may seem to most human beings, responsible economists in high positions still view the human race as if it were a machine incapable of volition or thought or discretion.

To some degree this may once have been so. Back in the 1890s, for example, millions of families had no choice but to spend every cent they earned—for food, clothing and shelter. Spending was predictable.

Today, however, millions of people have discretionary income. After they pay the essentials they have plenty of money left to do with as they choose. They have more money and better education. They have choice.

If consumer and business spenders were ever economic automatons they are not so today.

Into this context now comes the statement by Arthur F. Burns, Federal Reserve Board chairman, that "troubled times have left a psychological mark on people," said that "something has happened to our system of responses."

Burns was referring to the seeming reluctance of business and consumers to spend the economy into a resurgence.

Perhaps, he said in testimony to the Joint Economic Committee of Congress, "too much emphasis is being placed nowadays on old-fashioned remedies." Such as easy credit and budget deficits as stimulants, he indicated.

sign wars and domestic conflicts, he suggested, have left consumers and businessmen unwilling to commit their resources for the long term. Enthusiasm for the future is lacking.

Single Polling Places Nixed

AUSTIN (AP) — Secretary of State Bob Bullock says he has decided against single polling places for Democratic and Republican primaries. He had considered it to save money.

In a notice to all election officials, Bullock said there will be separate Democratic and Republican polling places, as in the past.

The state assumed the cost of the May 2 elections after a three-judge federal court in Dallas outlawed the 1971 filing fees statute. Candidate filing fees have been the only source of financing primaries in the past.

Sad Valentine's Day

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — There is one time in the year when I feel like hiding in bed all day with the covers pulled over my head.

That is on St. Valentine's Day.

I am allergic to it. It is a red-headed day for all the earth's lovers, but Valentine's Day is just another nosebleed to me.

Nothing nice ever happened on Valentine's Day to me.

The only thing I ever got on Feb. 14 was trouble.

It all started on Feb. 14, 1916, the year the Battle of Jutland was fought and I entered kindergarten.

I bought an insulting penny valentine and started to leave it on the desk of the manliest little girl in the class, of whose muscles we were all in awe.

Someone in the class rattled on me, and the next thing I knew this 65-pound baby tigress was sitting astride my chest and pounding my head on the wooden floor. I still wake up every Valentine's morning with a ringing in my ears.

I guess I must have been 12 when I was a street newsboy and fell deeply in love with the blonde middle-aged wife of a man who ran a cleaning shop.

She was so tall I had to make echoes if I wanted her to look down and smile at me.

On Valentine's Day, while she was in the back of the shop, I put a newspaper on her desk as usual—plus my gift, a box of cheap face powder—and fled.

Later, she called me back to her shop and handed me a sealed envelope. Outside, I opened it with trembling hands—and out fell a dollar bill.

No life before or since has ever been so crushed in ignominy. No lacy valentine, no tender note—just a paltry buck. Did she think a love as fine as mine was for sale?

On Feb. 14, 1943 in Tunisia I bit down on an Army-rationed Tootsie Roll—and out fell one of my teeth. I still keep it among my Valentine's Day souvenirs.

But the worst of my blunders came on Feb. 14, 1938, when I had been married only a few months. I had failed to buy my new wife a gift and when she remarked about it, I said:

"Why should I give you a present? We're married now. Valentine's Day is a single girl's racket."

Well, that unfortunate husbandly remark has been haunting me for 34 years now.

A happy St. Valentine's Day? Impossible. It's a kind of Doomsday to me.

On The Skillet

Garth Jones

Even the strongest political candidates tremble when they appear at a Texas gridiron dinner or luncheon and face the puns and caustic wit of newsmen, and other politicians.

"I'd rather go to a lynching first," former Gov. John Connally reportedly told an aide once, despite the fact that Connally comes off warmer in most of the gridiron contests.

AT THE recent Headliners Club stag luncheon in Austin, Gov. Preston Smith presented Connally, now Secretary of Treasury, with an impressive document that Smith said "was a full pardon and restoration of citizenship" for Connally because of his current association with a Republican administration.

"You just want to set a precedent to be used by future governors," Connally told Smith in return.

According to a quick and incomplete survey of former aides of governors, big time politicians dread the thought of being ridiculed humorously or lampooned at any of the gridiron contests but "they can't afford not to show up. If they're not there there's no telling what will be said."

AUSTIN'S HEADLINERS stag luncheon each year the first Saturday in February has a reputation among politicians as being the "toughest," largely because the master of ceremonies is Cactus Pryor, Austin radio-TV personality who is nationally known for his satirical handling of celebrities. He was introduced as "the kid brother of Mack the Knife."

Politicians also can look forward to the Fort Worth gridiron show April 7, always a well presented spoof at Texas politicians, state and local, using jokes, verse and song.

Then there is the Houston gridiron dinner later in April, just before the May 6 primaries.

IF A CANDIDATE is lucky enough to get into the primary runoffs or the general election campaign, he may find himself lampooned at the Dallas gridiron dinner May 23 — just before the June 3 runoffs.

The satirical fun is not always saved for local and state candidates. At the Austin affair, Pryor read a telegram:

"I hear Monday is the deadline for filing in Texas. Let me know how much it is and I'll send it." Signed, "Spiro."

At the stag luncheon, Pryor introduced Connally as "JC Superstar" and "the man in charge of the depression."

Cactus said "we all know you want to come back to Texas and get a Democratic elected so we can live like capitalists again."

PRYOR SAID the Democratic primary senate race between Ralph Yarborough and Barefoot Sanders was mainly "a case of old age versus athlete's foot."

Cactus revealed that Howard Hughes is actually Dolph Briscoe. "The Briscoe Hilton (Briscoe's ranch at Catarina) sleeps more politicians than the House of Representatives."

Gov. Smith said he was "nervous about John Connally being back in Texas, just two days before the filing deadline."

Connally said that Smith really wanted to make a full financial statement of his belongings "but Dr. Baum won't let him."

PRYOR SUGGESTED that the upcoming special session of the Legislature be held in Abilene "since most of our state officials are going to be out there anyway" for the Speaker Gus Mutscher trial Feb. 28.

And he took one more crack at Connally: "The Secretary would like to spend more time with us but he's hard at work on the JBC Library at Floresville."

All U. S. Awards Claimed By Girls

SAPPORO, Japan (AP) — As the song says: "Thank Heavens For Little Girls . . ." Without 'em the United States wouldn't have a medal to show for its efforts in the 11th Winter Olympic Games.

But with 'em, America's got six tucked away, three of them golds, which makes this its most successful winter Olympics in two decades.

Friday in the personage of Barbara Cochran, a 20-year-old skiing whiz from Richmond, Va., who mad-dashed her way to victory in the women's special slalom.

It came only two hours after Anne Henning put the third American bronze medal on the board in the 1,000-meter speed skating. The 16-year-old miss from Northbrook, Ill., who had won the 500 meters on Thursday, finished less than a quarter of a second behind West German winner Monika Pfeiffer.

The American men, shut out thus far, tried Friday night to get their first medal in the figure skating — but chances were slim at best. Ken Shelley of Downey, Calif., was fifth, John Mischa Petkevitch sixth and Gordon McKellen 10th as the free skating finals began.

Miss Cochran, who managed to finish only 11th in the giant slalom, brought America its first gold in Alpine skiing — the men have never won that Olympic event — since the 1952 Games in Oslo, Norway, when the United States finished with four golds.

She did it with an all-or-nothing effort that resulted in a fastest first-run time of 46.05 seconds, when she was first down the slope, and a second-fastest time of 45.19 on the second run for a total time of 1:31.24, an incredibly scant two hundredths of a second less than silver medalist: Danielle Debernard of France.

Sands Winner Of 46 In Row

ACKERLY — The winning streak of the Sands Junior High School boys continues uninterrupted.

Over a period of two years, the Colts have ripped off 46 consecutive wins. The latest came Thursday night here, when Sands boxed in Klondike, 76-16, without working up a sweat.

Kevin Gandy's 28 points and 19 registered by Frosty Floyd both exceeded Klondike's aggregate.

Sands also won the girls' game, 37-27. In 21 starts this season, the Sands girls have lost only once.

Ann Nichols delivered great damage to Klondike by scoring 17 points.

The two schools split peewee action. The Sands boys prevailed, 41-12, Martin Nichols leading the way with 12 points.

Castillo paced the Cougars with four.

Boys' game: — Floyd 9-19; Robben SANDS 17-6; Kevin Gandy 12-28; Bodine 1-0-2; Keith Gandy 7-14; Andy Anderson 3-0-4; Foster 1-0-2. Totals 34-26.

Second Annual BSHS Golf Tournament Under Way

The Big Spring Country Club is the scene today and Saturday for the second annual Big Spring High School Invitational Golf Tournament.

Play got under way at 8:30 a.m. today and will be resumed at that hour Saturday.

Original plans called for the tournament to be held one day at the Munny course and the next day at the Country Club but the Munny did not extend an invitation to the schoolboys.

Awards will go to the championship and runner-up teams, first and second play two-man low ball winners and the first place five-man low ball team.

In addition to the 21 teams, Gary Travis of Levelland (a former resident of Big Spring) will compete for medalist honors.

Sonics Feast On Divisional Foes In NBA

Seattle is a problem. And Baltimore, Atlanta, Cincinnati and Cleveland haven't come up with an answer all season.

The four teams which comprise the NBA's Pacific Division were dropped 13 straight games to the SuperSonics this season.

No. 13 came Thursday night when Seattle slapped down the Royals 118-96.

The Sonics, third in the NBA's Pacific Division, were led by Spencer Haywood, who scored 28 points. The Royals, third in the Central, got 22 points from Tom Van Arsdale and were hampered by the absence of guard Nate Archibald, out with the flu.

Archibald has been averaging 35 points in the last 16 games.

In other NBA games Phoenix defeated Baltimore 131-98 and Golden State topped Philadelphia 121-112.

Kentucky beat the Floridians 119-101 and Virginia downed Pittsburgh 131-111 in American Basketball Association action.

Baltimore, playing without center Wes Unseld, out with an ankle injury, lost its sixth straight. Dick Van Arsdale led Phoenix with 27 points and Paul Silas 25. A strong Suns' defense held the Bulls to just 14 points in the second period.

Jack Marin had 24 and Archie Clark 18 for Baltimore.

Golden State, behind the 32-point performance of Nate Thurmond, rallied in the second half to overcome Philadelphia.

The Warriors trailed by as much as 14 points and 63-53 at the half. Jeff Mullins added 27 for Golden State, which recorded its 18th victory in the last 22 games.

The 76ers, playing without Billy Cunningham, who has a leg injury, were led by Fred Foster with 30 points and Bob Rule with 26.

Rookie Julius Erving scored seven points in 55 seconds to break an 82-82 third-quarter tie and pace Virginia to victory.

With Erving scoring 30 points and Charlie Scott 34, the Squires outshot Pittsburgh from the floor 57 per cent to 36 per cent.

It was the Squires' fifth straight victory, their longest win streak of the season. Dave Lattin led the Condors with 26 points while Mike Lewis had 20 and John Brisker 19.

The Floridians' loss was their 15th in the last 18 games, leaving them a half game from last place in the ABA East. Dan Isel scored 28 points and Mike Gale 21 for East-leading Kentucky.

The Floridians were never really in the game as Kentucky spurred to a 26-16 lead in the first 11 minutes and never trailed. Walt Simon finished with 20 points for the Colonels. Willie Long had 23 points for Floridians and Al Tucker scored 16.

Young, battling the boards successfully with NMJC's rugged Ben Garner, probably played his finest game ever in an HCJC uniform. He scored 14 points but made a far greater contribution to the Hawk cause by refusing to back off in the heat of conflict.

Miller zeroed in for 20 points, all of which came as the result of field goals. His ability to hit from outside forced the T-Birds to come out of their tightly knitted defense, thereby opening up the egress routes for Myers.

Archie had 19 points at half time. He also had three personal fouls. After the intermission, he didn't pick up another foul, a tribute to his ability to maintain his balance on a storm-tossed deck.

Kreier counted only nine points and Herbert Lee just six but both made contributions of great import by bringing the ball down court and feeding it to the HC hatchmen.

The Hawks are now 25-6 and 8-2 in conference. NMJC slumped to 14-8 on the year and is 4-5 within the tong.

The T-Birds were not without their Davey Crockett. Mike Dawson warmed to the challenge with 23 points while nimble Jack Toone, zeroing in from the port side, and Garner each collected 16.

It was a reasonably good effort for the Thunderbirds. It simply wasn't good enough.

Jayhawks Chop Down T-Birds, 108-83

By TOMMY HART

They came from the forks of the creek and the bends in the cattle trails in miserable, penetrating cold Thursday night to watch HCJC destroy New Mexico JC — did Archie's Thunderbirds from Hobbs, N.M., 108-83, with the result that HC enhanced its position in Western Conference standings.

In the capacity crowd were six senior college scouts and any number of high school mentors, all lured by the fantastic play of the man with the bewildering moves — Archie Myers.

For the sophomore from Cleveland, Miss., it was a so-so night. Frustrated early by an umbrella defense the T-Birds used, Myers beat the deployment by going around rather than over — and wound up with 44 points.

That gives him a record 1,105 for the season and a career high of 2,025. With four regular season games left, after which will come the Region V Tournament, the end is not yet in sight for the stoical magician from Mississippi.

Cochran Harold Wilder got masterful efforts from all his personnel, and especially from Lawrence Young, Harry Miller and Jim Kreier.

Young, battling the boards successfully with NMJC's rugged Ben Garner, probably played his finest game ever in an HCJC uniform. He scored 14 points but made a far greater contribution to the Hawk cause by refusing to back off in the heat of conflict.

Miller zeroed in for 20 points, all of which came as the result of field goals. His ability to hit from outside forced the T-Birds to come out of their tightly knitted defense, thereby opening up the egress routes for Myers.

Archie had 19 points at half time. He also had three personal fouls. After the intermission, he didn't pick up another foul, a tribute to his ability to maintain his balance on a storm-tossed deck.

Kreier counted only nine points and Herbert Lee just six but both made contributions of great import by bringing the ball down court and feeding it to the HC hatchmen.

The Hawks are now 25-6 and 8-2 in conference. NMJC slumped to 14-8 on the year and is 4-5 within the tong.

The T-Birds were not without their Davey Crockett. Mike Dawson warmed to the challenge with 23 points while nimble Jack Toone, zeroing in from the port side, and Garner each collected 16.

It was a reasonably good effort for the Thunderbirds. It simply wasn't good enough.

In a normal year, a 5-AAAA coach commented last night, the Steers might have won it all. The locals are that close to being outstanding. Regrettably, this isn't a normal year — Midland High has come along to dominate the race and put the championship in its hip pocket.

Likely starters for Big Spring this evening are Johnny Tonn, Robert Wallace, Mike Randle, Ted Smith and David Newman or David Carter.

JV units of the two schools square away at 6:15 p.m.

FOR PHARR-SAN JUAN Hagins Departing Post At Coahoma

COAHOMA — Coahoma High School is losing its football master of the helm.

Bernie Hagins, who has guided the Bulldogs to greatness over the past six years, submitted his resignation today to accept an offer to become head coach and athletic director at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, a District 28-AAAA school between Corpus Christi and Brownsville.

At Pharr, Hagins will succeed Charley Williams, who is departing to become head coach at Alice High School. Alice lost its head coach, Spike Dykes, recently to the University of Texas at Austin. Dykes, coincidentally, once coached at Coahoma.

Pharr, a consolidated school, tied for the district championship last year and perennially fields rugged teams.

Hagins, who will be allowed to choose his own staff, has been associated with the Coahoma school system the past eight years, the first two of which were as an assistant to Dykes. Coahoma reached the Class A playoffs both of those years.

Hagins has guided the Big Red to two district and as many bi-district championships during his tenure. In 1968, Coahoma lost in Regional play to the eventual Class A State champion, Sonora, in the mud and cold at San Angelo, 7-6.

Promoted to Class AA two years ago, Coahoma stormed back into the playoffs last fall, ultimately losing to Eastland in regional competition at Sweetwater, 56-30.

Bernie's over-all record as a head coach is 44-20. Born in Jayton, the diminutive Hagins won four varsity letters as a quarterback for Snyder High School. He played three years under Speedy Moffett and one under John Conley.

Hagins went to college first at San Angelo Junior College, where he performed on a winning bowl team at Gulfport, Miss., then to Stephen F. Austin in Nacogdoches.

While working on his degree at Stephen F. Austin, Bernie did some student coaching before going to Diboll as an assistant for two years.

In high school baseball, Bernie was an all-district outfielder. He will depart Coahoma as early as Tuesday for his new post. His family, which includes a boy and a girl, will join him later.

No successor at Coahoma has been named.

Longhorns, Cougars Vie In Abilene At 8 P.M.

Encouraged by their excellent showing against Midland Lee earlier this week, the Big Spring High School Steers venture to Abilene this evening for an 8 o'clock encounter with the Cooper Cougars.

The Longhorns are still intent on finishing the season with four consecutive wins. After Cooper comes Odessa High (on the road) and San Angelo (at home).

The Steers will be seeking their 17th win of the season tonight. They've lost 13 times. In second half conference play, they are 1-3.

In a normal year, a 5-AAAA coach commented last night, the Steers might have won it all. The locals are that close to being outstanding. Regrettably, this isn't a normal year — Midland High has come along to dominate the race and put the championship in its hip pocket.

Bob Rosburg In Catbird Seat In Hope Tourney

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Bolding Bob Rosburg, who hasn't won a major tournament in more than 10 years, scored another round for middle-aged America by taking sole possession of the lead after 36 holes of the $145,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic.

The 45-year-old ex-Stanford University baseball player shot a three-under-par 69 Thursday at Bermuda Dunes Country Club for a total of 136. He was one stroke ahead of his first-round coleader, Jerry Heard, who had a 70 at the longer La Quinta Country Club course.

Four-time Desert Classic winner and defending champion Arnold Palmer, with a 68 at Eldorado Country Club, and Deane Beman were another stroke back at 137. Beman turned in the day's best score, 65 at Indian Wells Country Club.

Thirty-six players were under par going into today's third round in this unique pro-am setup being played in sunshine and temperatures near 80. Pros play in foursomes with three amateurs for 72 holes through Saturday, then play by themselves in Sunday's 18-hole finale at Indian Wells.

"I can win again, Rosburg said. "I'm saying this for the first time in five years. I'm playing well enough to win, putting well enough to win, but winning is something that just happens . . ."

Rosburg, who won the 1959 PGA championship, last picked up the winner's check at the 1961 Bing Crosby National Pro-Am.

He sank birdie putts of 30 and 35 feet in his round at Bermuda Dunes.

"I drove in the rough six or seven times. I'm disappointed with my driving but I really did putt well today," he said.

George Knudson of Toronto, award read, "it is matched by his actions, behavior and manners off the field. No request is too big, no demands placed upon him are too great."

Brooks Robinson Receives Coveted Baseball Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Performance, says Brooks Robinson, is what counts. It separates the good players from the great players on the baseball field, and it leaves a special mark on a man who cares about other people.

Robinson, the All-Star third baseman for the Baltimore Orioles, was honored Thursday for performance when he received an award from Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn as "the player who best typifies the game of baseball on and off the field."

Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants received the first such award last year. Robinson received the most votes in the balloting by a special committee of sportswriters, sportscasters and baseball executives. Others in the final field included Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Al Kaline of Detroit and Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota.

The award noted Robinson's involvement in drug abuse education and prevention programs, visits to hospitals, and activities with underprivileged persons. "As flawless as his work is on the field," the former resident of Big Spring) will compete for medalist honors.

Play got under way at 8:30 a.m. today and will be resumed at that hour Saturday.

Original plans called for the tournament to be held one day at the Munny course and the next day at the Country Club but the Munny did not extend an invitation to the schoolboys.

Awards will go to the championship and runner-up teams, first and second play two-man low ball winners and the first place five-man low ball team.

In addition to the 21 teams, Gary Travis of Levelland (a former resident of Big Spring) will compete for medalist honors.

Worried Mother

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I wrote to you several months ago about a male relative molesting my 3-year-old girl. Your answer was to confront him with it, and get him to a doctor, fast. We had already confronted him, and of course, he denied everything. "She makes up stories," he said.

Abby, how can a 3-year-old make up stories of this kind? I talked with the police department, and was told you cannot accuse someone of molesting without proof. How do you get proof? When the child was younger, this relative would come over and take her out for "rides" in his car, and when he brought her home, her clothes were a mess, and her diaper pins were upside down!

(Abby, do you know any a heart attack and I am not very well. My problem is I am trying to keep from getting the flu, but I have two women friends who always want to kiss me when they greet me. And when I leave, they are in the habit of kissing me goodby.

I never minded until now. But there is so much flu around that a person can't be too careful. I would feel foolish asking them not to kiss me for this reason, yet I wish they wouldn't. How can I keep them from kissing me without losing their friendship?

Please print this. I am sure others have the same problem.

SALT LAKE CITY
DEAR SALT LAKE: When they approach you, gently give them the "straight arm" and say, "Please, no kisses. One of us may have a little bug." (True, one of you may have.)

DEAR ABBY: The idea of exchanging tapes with servicemen who find writing letters tedious was a good one. Your comment that it was a good idea for those who could "afford" it caught my attention.

I suggest that both servicemen and their families contact their local U.S.O. Many U.S.O.'s at home and abroad

No Price Support For Castor Beans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department has discontinued a price support program for castor beans because farmers are not producing many these days.

Castor oil, once in big demand from industry, no longer enjoys that high rating. Officials said the last oil processing plant has ceased operations and farmers no longer have a steady market.

Last year only 4,500 acres of castor beans were grown—mostly in Texas. As recently as 1968 farmers raised 70,000 acres, the Department said.

Cataracts

Your Good Health

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A few weeks ago I had a cataract operation on one eye. My doctor has cautioned me that for the rest of my life I will have to be careful not to bend over too far, "too far" being more than straight out from my waist, with the upper part of my body horizontal to the floor.

I know two other people who have had cataract operations and bending was never mentioned to them as hazardous in any way. What is your opinion? — Mrs. F.P.

My opinion? It's my observation that precautions against bending are customary for two months or so after the operation. It could be that your friends were warned but paid no attention or are past the restricted period.

A cataract operation (actually, the removal of the lens of the eye if it has become too cloudy to see through) doesn't involve extensive cutting. But it also is in a delicate part of the body and, like any other part of the body, it needs time to heal firmly.

Indeed, surgery in many other parts of the body often needs less caution afterward, because a firm row of stitches holds the cut tissues in place. (That's hardly practical for cataract surgery.)

So — for a couple of months avoid bending. The mere matter of position may not be as important as the fact that, when bending, you can hardly avoid having a sudden increase in internal pressure.

My advice to you, Mrs. F.P., is to follow your doctor's instructions. There may be something special about your case, and I cannot dispute the instructions of the doctor who is taking care of you.

Furthermore, you will be going back for some checkups, and after your eye has had adequate time to heal, you can ask how careful you need to be in the future about bending.

In summary: bending should be generally avoided for eight to 10 weeks after surgery. From then on, assuming that the tissues have healed firmly, and with no complications, no particular precautions are required. But before following that schedule, be sure you have your own doctor's approval. He's the one who knows whether there's any special need for caution in your case.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I recently had a sebaceous cyst removed from my ear. Can you explain what it is, why it has to be removed, what causes them, and what can be done to prevent them? — M.W.

The skin has innumerable tiny glands which release oils that keep the skin pliable. If one of these sebaceous glands becomes plugged, the oily material (sebum) continues to accumulate inside but can't get out. That's a cyst.

Such a cyst may cause no trouble. Then again, it may become painful, or unsightly, or it may become infected and need to be removed. Just puncturing it to let the contents escape usually is futile because the puncture will seal up and you have the same trouble all over again.

There's no way to prevent them from forming.

Headaches? You can beat them. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Proof Lacking In Price Fix Complaint Of Brewery Firm

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that Pearl Brewing Co. failed to provide enough proof for him to stop what Pearl called price fixing. However, U.S. District Court Judge Carl O. Bue Jr. said Thursday Pearl might win its case in a full trial on the merits.

Pearl had alleged in an October hearing that Anheuser-Busch Inc. and Jos. Schlitz Brewing Co. were price fixing, trying to win a monopoly on Texas beer sales and engaged in territorial price discrimination. The six-day hearing saw some 9,000 exhibits introduced. The suit asked for $18-million damages and an injunction.

Bue said that testimony and records introduced during the hearing indicates that Schlitz and Budweiser have engaged in illegal price fixing. However, he said other issues might have to be weighed in the case and that he would deny any injunctive relief pending a full hearing.

"It is apparent that the pricing independence of the Anheuser-Busch and Schlitz wholesale distributors has been tampered with and consequently restricted," Bue said. "It also is apparent that the price promotions are created and conducted for the purpose of securing an increasingly larger share of the Texas beer market."

Pearl claims Schlitz and Budweiser are robbing it of its market by pricing beer lower than Pearl, and by reimbursing distributors for the resulting loss.

Pearl sought to forbid Schlitz and Budweiser from continuing their alleged price practices because, Pearl said, two of its distributors face financial crisis as a consequence of these practices.

However, Bue disagreed, saying he believed Pearl will suffer no irreparable nor immediate injury if the practice continues pending a trial in the case.

Schlitz and Budweiser contend their price promotions are legal because dealers have the option of refusing them.

No date was set for the trial on its merits.

Lawrence Davis Named To Place On HCJC Board

Lawrence N. Davis, farmer-stockman in the Coahoma area, has accepted appointment as a member of the Howard County Junior College Board of Trustees.

He succeeds W. T. Barber, Coahoma, who resigned in December after 17 years on the board. Since Barber's term would have expired in April, Davis filed as a candidate for election to the board on April 1.

"We are gratified that Mr. Davis has agreed to accept this place of service," said K. H. McGibbon, president of the HCJC trustees. The board feels he is exceptionally well qualified to make a contribution to the educational program of our county, and can also maintain on the board a representation from an important area of the county.

Because of involvement in several other activities, Davis said he would have not agreed to come on the board except that he felt it offered a real opportunity for service.

"We've got a wonderful college, and it has meant a great deal to our area. I want to do what I can to maintain this record," he said.

Davis was reared in north-west Sterling County but has farmed and ranched southeast of Coahoma since 1947. In his ranching operations he has produced and fed steers. He is vice chairman of the county Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation committee; director of the Howard Soil Conservation District, a director in the Farm Bureau chapter, and a member of the Methodist church in Coahoma. Mrs. Davis is a teacher in the Coahoma schools. They have two children, Wayne Davis, Coahoma, and Mrs. Joan Daniels, Angleton.

Little Miss Event Saturday

Today was the last day for entering the Big Spring Little Miss Pageant sponsored by the Big Spring Choir Boosters. Preliminaries in the contest begin at 9 a.m. Saturday at the Big Spring High School Auditorium.

The public is invited to attend the preliminaries at no charge. Pageant finals will begin at 7 p.m. in the high school auditorium, and admission price is $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for children, with all proceeds to aid the boosters in enhancing the choir programs in all Big Spring schools.

Emcees for the pageant will be KBST radio personalities "Big" Ken Carter and "Beautiful" Jim Willett. Judges for the contest will be Miss Cotton of Texas 1971, fashion experts and newspaper columnists.

Rehearsal for all contestants in the pageant will be at 6 p.m. today in the auditorium.

Entrants are divided into three categories: Tiny Miss, ages 3 to 6; Little Miss, ages 7 to 12; and Junior Miss, ages 13 to 16.

Parks Chief Crash Victim

COLORADO CITY — William Larry Neill, 24, superintendent of Lake Colorado City, was killed about 4:27 p.m. Wednesday in an automobile accident near Fort McKavett, in Menard County.

Services are set for 10 a.m. Saturday at the Franklin Britton Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Caddo Mathews and Father Joseph Kennedy officiating. Graveside rites will be 4:30 p.m. Saturday at the cemetery in Llano.

Mr. Neill was born in Big Spring Aug. 5, 1947, the son of W. E. and Mary Morris Neill. As a young man he lived in Tornillo, and was a graduate of A&M College, participating in ROTC training while there. He married Emily Jo Pehl at Llano May 16, 1970. He first worked at Houston with the city parks and recreation commission and then he moved from Houston Aug. 1, 1970, to become associated with the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and to serve as superintendent of the new Lake Colorado City State Park. He was a member of the First Christian Church of Fabens.

Survivors include his wife; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Neill of Tornillo; one brother, James Thomas Neill, Tornillo; a maternal grandmother, Mrs. Flora Morris, Stanton; and one uncle, Jim Neill, Hereford.

What's wrong with a Chevy having a VW guarantee?

If a car's good enough to pass the VW 16-point safety and performance test it's good enough.

It gets our 100% guarantee that we'll repair or replace all major mechanical parts for 30 days or 1000 miles, whichever comes first.

We'd do the same for any make trade-in. Even an Ed. Provided nothing's wrong with it.

No Developments In Tanker Hunt

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The search for a missing tanker with 39 men aboard continued today in the Gulf of Mexico, but Coast Guard officials said there were no recent developments. The 572-foot V. A. Fogg disappeared 10 days ago while on a routine cruise from Freeport, Tex., to Galveston. Search planes and vessels have found debris and lifejackets floating in the general area where the ship disappeared.

Accuses Ramsey Clark Of Taking 'A Cheap Shot'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Hot words between government and defense lawyers marked the questioning of potential alternate jurors Thursday at the conspiracy trial of antiwar priest Philip Berrigan and six others.

Chief prosecutor William Lynch tangled with his former attorney general boss, Ramsey Clark. Lynch accused Clark of taking "a cheap shot" at the government while interrogating jury prospects.

Clark remained silent, but his associate, Loenard Boudin, objected sharply that such a remark was made in open court. "Let us go up to the bench like we have done before and trade insults there," said Boudin.

U.S. District Court Judge R. Dixon Herman, who has expressed annoyance at the slow and sometimes repetitious pace of the questioning, abruptly ended the exchange with, "I've heard enough from both of you."

At another point, while Boudin pressed a railroad electrician to explain why he believed President Nixon was winding down the war in Vietnam, Lynch broke in with, "It is because there once were 500,000 troops in Vietnam and now there less than 150,000."

William O'Dwyer, another defense lawyer, stood up to protest Lynch's remark. Herman ordered him to sit down. When court recessed, four more possible backup jurors had been accepted, bringing to six those qualified for a panel of 16.

When that is reached the defense will strike off seven and the government three, leaving the six alternates available to replace any of the 12 regular jurors who may become ill during a trial expected to last another two months.

SAIGON (Communist-led) for intensive bombing. In three days, 356 stragglers and 300 tons of supplies were destroyed. But the U.S. damage assessments are still being made. A communist plane was shot down, killing 12 crew members in the central region and 3 in the south. Asked about the plane, a U.S. official said it was not sent to the area just for the bombing. No results were reported by 852 bombers in South Vietnam, the highest number since January 1970. Propellers of the South Vietnamese aircraft were seen in the air.
