WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate Judiciary Committee today unanimously approved President Nixon's nomination of Richard G. Kleindienst to be attorney general.

The committee's action on a 13-0 vote finally cleared the way for Senate confirmation of the 48-year-old Arizonan by the Senate next week, possibly by the time Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell's resignation becomes effective March 1.

The committee also unanimously approved the nomination of L. Patrick Gray III of New London, Conn., to succeed Kleindienst as deputy attorney

Datamate Deal Is Looming

George A. McAlister Jr., president of Datamate Computer Systems, Inc., Big Spring, announced today that he and eight other Datamate stockholders have commenced negotiations which may lead to their sale of approximately 2,800,000 shares of presently outstanding shares of Datamate common stock in a private transaction with James E. McDaniel III, Homer E. Stalarow and other business associates of McDaniel.

McDaniel, Stalarow and associates are engaged primarily in real estate ventures principally in the Houston-Beaumont area.

McAlister said he had been advised by McDaniel that if the sale is completed, the purchaser contemplates Datamate diversion into some real estate ventures Negotiations are still progressing and there is no assurance that the transaction can be consummated.

Datamate was created by McAlister originally, then was sold to Siboney along with Gamco and other properties, but was subsequently repurchased by McAlister and associates. It is engaged in the manufacture of computer sys-

HIGH COURT RULES

Filing Fees Illegal Texas

WASHINGTON (AP) - The Supreme Court ruled today that a Texas state law requiring candidates in local primary elections to pay filing fees sometimes as high as $8,900 is unconstitutional.

Related Story, Page 12-B

Upholding a lower court ruling, the justices said the Texas filing fee scheme discriminates against candidates who would otherwise be qualified to run for county judges, county commissioner or other similar offices. They are barred, the court said, simply by their inability to pay.

The opinion written by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said, "many potential office-seekers lacking both personal wealth and affluent backers are in every practical sense precluded from seeking the nomination of their chosen party, no matter how qualified they might be and no matter how broad or enthusiastic their popular support."

By a 7 to 0 vote, with new Justices William H. Rehnquist and Lewis F. Powell Jr. not taking part, the court emphasized that it was not slapping down election filing fees in general, but rather finding the Texas rates dramatically excessive.

Stanton Chamber Will Hear Kim

STANTON - Dr. Thomas Kim, president of McMurry College in Abilene, will be the speaker for the annual Martin Chamber of Commerce banquet at 7 p.m. Monday in the Cap Rock

Bob Deavenport, who owns and operates a department store under his own name, will yield the presidency to Don Tollison, Chamber of Commerce manager, and will report on the activities of the past year.

Also to be installed at the meeting are Corky Blocker, vice president; and Edna Linder,

Those retiring from the board will be Ed Hall. Jack Ireton, and Deavenport, and going on as board members are Terry Franklin, Betty Gregg, Ed Lawson and Edna Linder.

The traditional award to the outstanding farmer of Martin County will be presented by Jake Hodges, while Mrs. Warren Hall will play the dinner music. Russell McMeans, superintendent of schools, will be master of ceremonies.

Dr. Kim, eighth president of McMurry College. is the second layman to head that institution. A native of Shanghai, China, where he was born Feb. 18, 1929, to Korean parents, Dr. Kim came to the United States to Berea (Ky.) College where he earned his BA degree in economics in 1952. Two years later he got his master of business administration at Indiana University, and then his

Odessa Jeweler Admits He Bought Diamonds

ALPINE (Spl) - Four witnesses today put Whittmer Jean Ballard, accused of the murder of Glasscock County rancher Steve Currie, near the scene four days after the slaying.

T. R. Pearce said he had picked up Ballard, who was badly scratched and with an arm wound, and carried him to St. Lawrence where he caught a ride to Midland.

Thomas Dempsey, Odessa eweler, who admitted he lied at first to Glasscock County Sheriff Royce Pruitt about buying a marquis diamond ring, with two bageete diamonds, which had belonged to Mrs. Currie, testified as to his purchase of the ring and selling it in Dallas subsequently.

The witnesses, who were on the stand in 53rd District Court here Thursday morning, followed on the heels of extensive cross examination of Mrs. Janie Montgomery during Wednesday afternoon sessions. Other witnesses then had told about the arrest of Ballard and Mrs. Montgomery in California. ARM WOUND

Pearce said he had picked up Ballard on a road near the Currie Ranch Dec. 6, 1970 (Currie had been slain the night of Dec. 2) and drove him to the lard had an arm wound, which appeared to be feverish, and told him that he had been hunting in the area, had his pickup catch fire, which caused the

Mrs. Wanda Timmons, who worked at the trading post, at about noon Dec. 6 and a short time later made a deal for $20 with Jesse O. Gray to go to Midland. Jackie Thomason said that Ballard first offered him $20 to drive him to Midland, but that he was having trouble with his car and got his stepfather, Gray, to take Ballard. Gray told the jury that he dropped Ballard off at a place he thought to be Palmer Pipe & Supply on the Garden City highway in Midland. Regarding the ring, said to have been stolen from Mrs. Currie, Dempsey testified he gave Ballard $400 in cash, plus a man's diamond ring worth $2,000. Later, he couldn't remember the date, he flew to Dallas where he exchanged the marquis diamond and two smaller stones for several smaller stones valued at $2,700. He said he kept no records of any of the transactions.

He was afraid he would get involved when Glasscock County Sheriff Royce Pruitt first questioned him, he said, but the second time Pruitt asked about the ring, he admitted that he had bought it off Ballard.

Judge Charles E. Sherrill had not indicated at the noon recess today if he would hold a night session. Court will be recessed Friday and Saturday, while the judge confers in chambers with attorneys.

Mrs. Janie Montgomery, who had lived with Ballard for about six months prior to the murder of Steve Currie at his Glasscock County home, went more into detail Wednesday afternoon concerning what she said Ballard told her of the events surrounding the robbery-murder two to 21/2 days following the robbery-murder, she said he told her. There was a windmill nearby, but he couldn't get to it for water for fear of being seen by a helicopter which apparently was searching the area. Finally, he started walking and eventually got a ride to Midland, where she met him Dec. 6 at a motel, three and a half days after Currie had been shot to death. GAVE HER $500 She also testified that Ballard had given her little more than $500, after she met him and they were on the way to Odessa, most of it in $50 bills. She also touched upon the reputation of Archie Glasgow, whom she stolen from the home, and added that Glasgow had a reputation as a "fence."

Pressed for her record, she admitted she had served two years in the Goree prison for forgery. As for her occupation, when Defense Attorney Bob Bearden insisted on it, she replied: "Prostitute." She added, however, that she had no convictions for this.

She also alluded to several near brushes with the California highway patrol after she and Ballard had fled from Odessa to California. A more detailed version of this came from J. Q. Miller, Indio, Calif., member the California highway

DANGEROUS

Indecent Exposure Decision

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Setting out what Presiding Judge John Onion called a "broad, new and dangerous rule," the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday upheld a San Antonio conviction for indecent exposure.

The court affirmed the five-year prison sentence assessed John Williams, who was accused of exposing himself to two teenage girls June

The girls gave police the license number of the car in which the man who exposed himself Williams' lawyers based their defense on alibi testimony of his wife and mother and the operator of a motel in Aransas Pass at the time of the Prosecutors, seeking to rebut the alibi testimony, called to the stand two other girls who reported a similar occurrence in San Antonio a few days later and also gave a license number. The number was the same, and a clerk from the Bexar County tax assessor-collector's office said the license plates were issued to Antoinette

Williams, the wife of the accused. "Evidence to show the location of the Buick automobile became relevant because of the alibi evidence offered by appellant Williams. The state had the right to attempt to rebut and attempt to disprove the appellant's evidence as to the whereabouts of the auto," Commissioner Carl Dally wrote for the court majority. Onion, joined by Judge Truman Roberts. dissented. He said testimony of the second pair of girls concerning an alleged exposure should not have been admitted.

He said the three-judge majority was adopting a "broad, new and dangerous rule - an exception which finds no support in the law or the particular facts of this case. The majority, he said, was permitting testimony about an offense for which Williams was not on trial and which had not been proven. It would have been permissible to admit evidence that a witness saw a car with the Williams license number in San Antonio at a time covered by his alibi, Onion said.

"But to permit the state to go further and show an extraneous offense and the details thereof without showing that the appellant was the offender was error in my opinion." he said

LETTER Why Kill The Predator?

Reading yesterday's paper, I came across a picture of two men holding a bobcat they had killed on a rabbit hunt south of Big Spring. This picture brought to mind another article that appeared in a Sunday magazine section of the Herald a few weeks ago. This article dealt with the problem of overpopulation of rabbits and the resulting dollar loss in crops felt by ranchers and farmers.

After reading yesterday's article, all I can say is "no wonder" there is an overpopulation of rabbits. If farmer supported rabbit hunts end up like the one in the article killing both rabbit and the predator - what other result could there be than an unchecked population of rabbits? When will people learn to let natural forces help them out instead of trying to do it all themselves?

While the action may cause apprehension in some quarters, notably those with heavy investments in mobile homes, it is not unexpected and will fit in what likely will become a general pat-

This is simply because the mobile home is here to stay; moreover, it probably will get to be more and more of a factor in urban living. Where a decade ago there were hardly more than a handful of these units here there were hundreds at the end of last year with value approaching a million dollars.

This presents something of a problem of local governmental agencies. For one thing, there is the matter of values. Each mobile home represents to some degree a conventional home or living quarter that was not built or perhaps which was retired. Yet, these units require basic services for security, such as police, fire, sanitation, etc.,

plus water and utility functions. The fee, presumably, would not relieve units of liability for ad valorem levies, but it would rather give the city more effective control and accounting of the units. The inspection, unlike a nickel in the parking meter, should serve a useful purpose, and in this respect it could be beneficial to city and owner alike.

It would be folly for the city to discourage a trend, and the pro ration of inspection fees, is a reasonable concession

WASHINGTON - The American people have been getting over television brief glimpses of the way President Nixon is being received on Mainland China, and the phrase to describe it all is "controlled caution."

FOR THE COMMUNIST government at Peking doesn't want the people to manifest enthusiasm in a delicate situation. It also prefers to handle such an event as a visit by the President of the United States with the utmost dignity. Back of this is a feeling that there must be no demonstrations of intense interest which could lead to incorrect ideas about the attitude of the populace generally. What will be happening in the next few days is really a private negotiation with many hours of conversation, and the whole thing could have taken place on a nearby island without any bands playing or social entertainment. The high of ficials of the Peking government would rather have had that kind of

For the fact is that neither Premier Chou En-lai nor Chairman Mao Tsetung are sure what a new relationship with the United States will mean. They are, therefore, reluctant to enthuse about it without learning more about the policy that President Nixon has in mind and the way he thinks it can be applied for the benefit of both parties.

AT PRESENT THE objective is stated only in general terms - to insure an era of peace. But it goes deeper. It assumes especially a realignment and better relationships between the nations of the world and particularly of Asia. The Peking government doesn't want to see Soviet strength increased or nuclear power continued as a threat that can cause uneasiness if it is not checked. The policy which the Red Chinese seek is not merely to thwart the chances of a nuclear war but to prohibit the use of nuclear weapons and give the people of Asia a feeling of safety. The purpose is to do away with rival multilateral agreements and bring into being a continent of peace. THE UNITED STATES is prepared to discuss problems dealing with the limitation of arms and other matters which will prevent coalitions of hostile countries that present threats of war. The very fact that the President of the United States is seeking an agreement with Peking to help maintain peace in Asia is a significant step in the policy designed to prevent aggression or invasion or other interferences with the independence of the nations of the continent.

PRESIDENT NIXON set the keynote of the new American approach in his toast at the dinner given in his honor on his first day in Peking. He said:

"As we discuss our differences, neither of us will compromise our principles. But while we cannot close the gulf between us, we can try to bridge it, so that we may be able to talk across it.

"And so let us, in these next five days, start a long march together, not in lock step, but on different roads leading to the same goal—the goal of building a world structure of peace and justice in which all may stand together with equal dignity, and in which each nation, large or small, has a right to determine its own form of government free of outside interference or domination."

THIS LONG-RANGE plan can hardly be accomplished if the Vietnam war goes on. Red China has been assisting North Vietnam, and the Soviet Union continues to send arms and military supplies to Hanoi. It might happen, of course, that if relations between Peking and Washington become closer, other nations in Asia will also be persuaded to exercise their influence with the North Vietnamese so as to bring about a peaceful settlement of the Indo-China conflict.

The President's trip to Peking is perhaps the most important venture he has undertaken to secure a "generation of pace." If it becomes apparent that the Peking government is willing to work with the United States on a program of peace, the impact will be reflected in the months ahead in the momentous events expected to follow. (Copyright, 1972 Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

Little Luck

HALIFAX (AP) - Archers bagged only four deer in the Chignecto game sanctuary in northern Nova Scotia in 1971. Largest specimen dropped during the two-week season was a 190pound, 15 point buck. The sanctuary is the only area in the province where bow-and-arrow hunters are permitted to hunt deer during a special season.

My Answer

Billy Graham

I have made a decision for Christ, but I have run into diffi-

I don't, but they made snide remarks about my new ideals. What can I do? Psychologists all agree that the drinking habit, the sex kick, and the drug addiction are all related in some way to the company one keeps. The man who frequents bars, and has become a compulsive drinker, is addicted not only to booze, but to the comaraderie of the tavern. Fellowship of any kind, good or bad,

Miss Efron's Case

William F. Buckley Jr.

It is time to look in on the dispute between Miss Edith Efron and the Columbia Broadcasting System, not because the dispute is only between the two of them, but because CBS apparently elected to defend not only itself but the broadcasting industry in general against the charges leveled by Miss Efron in her book, "The News Twisters," for which TNT is the explosive acronym.

INTENDING NO SLUR whatever on the book, which is a prodigious achievement, it is explosive only in the sense that it would be explosive to publish absolute documentation that the world is round. Everybody who has ears to hear or eyes to see knows that the television networks are biased, but because they are as powerful as they are they can look you in the eye and say "prove it" with more effect than the executive secretary of the Flat Earth Society could challenge you to prove that the world is round. What Edith Efron came up with is "the proof."

HER BOOK WAS published several months ago, and CBS quickly distributed a rejoinder. The purpose of the rejoinder was to dismiss Miss Efron's book as irretrievably tendentious: as so biased itself, that you shouldn't give it another thought. CBS was greatly successful, one might say successful, if you meditate on the big picture. The big picture, after all, involves questions having to do with the power of the great television networks. If one of them succeeds in discrediting a piece of work which does not in fact deserve discrediting, then the case against the power of the networks

MISS EFRON cites, for instance, NBC, who reported hippies cheering Wallace: "The protesters tried a reverse psychology. Several hundred of them, many dressed in hippie garb, cheered and hollered, and went wild at everything Wallace said . . . but they would not let him speak, and the tactic was devastating. Wallace himself got angry and flustered."

The real point of it is that, as James Jackson Kilpatrick has written, if you give all to the networks, you still have mountainous evidence of bias. On this point Miss Efron relies not merely on Republican friends, but on scholars of statistical analysis, e.g. Harvard's Paul Weaver who said on the PBS network. "I have examined Miss Efron's methodology and findings and satisfied myself that they are substantially competent." And Dr. John George Weinberg, author of "Statistics, and Intuitive Approach" who wrote, "I found that my judgments coincided with hers well over 90 per cent of the time."

Top state officers were present for a meeting of the composite squadrons of the Civil Air Patrol during the weekend at Moody cabin on the Lazy K

Ranch at Southland. The Lamesa composite squadron, commanded by Maj. Eldon Moody, was host for the event. Representing the Big Spring squadron were Maj. Trimm, administrative officer, and senior member, Mitch Hoover, information officer.

At the parley were Col. Joseph L. Cromer, Tyler, commander of the Texas Wing, who talked about the future of CAP in Texas; Lt. Col. John R. Roberts, Tyler, Texas wing communications officer; and CWP Lynn Cromer, Texas wing information officer.

F. G. Lindsey, Lubbock, of the FAA flight information service, outlined procedures when an aircraft is reported overdue. Following his talk, communication and information officers had sectional meetings before and after lungh. Eight squadrons were represented at the meeting which drew upward of 40 members. Two projects announced include a practice locater beam search March 5 at Town and Country Airport, Lubbock, whenthe FCC approves the locater beam. A second project will be a SAR-CAP activity March 18-19, but location for this has not been announced.

Alfred Nobel Sought Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) - The founder of the most renowned peace prize wanted to make war so horrible man would never take up arms again.

Alfred Nobel, whose annual prizes are financed by a fortune based on his invention of dynamite, once said:

"I wish I could produce a substance or invent a machine of such frightful efficacy for wholesale destruction that wars should thereby become altogether impossible. The Swedish inventor and semi-recluse put his brooding thoughts that way to an Austrian noblewoman, Bertha von Suttner, a life-long friend and champion of peace movements during the period of aggressive imperialism that led up to World War I.

ELEGANT AND CREAMY BAKED SOLE So you don't have to diet alone

Diet In Elegance With Good Taste, Nutrition

Spring is approaching, and with it the "not-so-new-years resolutions" by thousands of women to rid themselves of excess weight in order to debut in a new bathing suit with pride

Many men and women don't have the stick-to-it-iveness necessary for a strict diet plan, but there are many delectable dishes that don't look or taste like diet foods, and still offer nutrition with a minimum of calories. Try some of these to relieve the universal dilemma of diet boredom.

1 serving—128 calories

 $\frac{1}{2}$ pkg. ($\frac{2}{3}$ cup) flaky pie 1/3 cup plus 2 tbsps. no-calorie granulated sugar 2 to 3 tbsps. water 1 can (1 lb.) pitted tart red cherries, undrained

Water 41/2 tsps. cornstarch ½ tsp. vanilla 14 tsp. almond extract 4 drops red food coloring

Prepare pie crust using mix, 2 tbsps. no-calorie granulated sugar and water. Roll out 1-inch larger than 8-inch pie pan, and fit loosely in pan. Save extra crust. Drain cherries, reserving juice. Add water to juice to make 1 cup liquid. In medium saucepan, combine liquid with cornstarch; stir until smooth. Bring to boiling, stirring constantly, and cook until clear and thickened. Remove from heat. Stir in one-third cup no-calorie granulated sugar, vanilla, al-mond extract and food coloring until dissolved. Stir in cherries. Place filling in crust. Roll scraps of dough to 1/8-inch thickness and cut in desired shapes. Place over filling. Bake at 400 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. Serve cool. Store in refrigerator.

PERFECTION SALAD

1 serving-24 calories 1 envelope (1 tbsp.) unflavored gelatin

3/4 cup cold water 1 cup boiling water 2 to 3 tbsps. vinegar 1/4 cup no-calorie granulated

34 tsp. salt 1½ cups coarsely shredded cabbage

% cup grated carrot In large mixing bowl, soften gelatin in cold water. Add boiling water; stir to dissolve. Add remaining ingredients. Mix well. Spoon into six 5-oz. custard cups. Refrigerate until

RINGS 1 envelope unflavored gelatin 1¾ cups tomato juice

1/4 bay leaf 1 tbsp. lemon juice

1/4 tsp. onion salt 1 4-oz. can peeled and deveined shrimp

1 cup partially creamed cottage cheese

1/3 cup chopped celery Lettuce

Soften gelatin in 1/4 cup of the tomato juice. Heat remaining juice with bay leaf. Add gelatin, and stir until it dissolves. Stir in lemon juice and onion salt. Cool until mixture begins to thicken. Remove bay leaf. Spoon about 2 tablespoons of the gelatin into each of 4 (6-oz.) ring molds, and arrange a few shrimp in it. Chill a few minutes, until set. Meanwhile, mix cottage cheese, celery and remaining shrimp into the remaining gelatin. Spoon into molds over the clear layer. Chill for several hours or overnight. Unmold, and serve on crisp let

strawberry flavor gelatin (2 envelopes)

21/2 cups buttermilk 1 tsp. lemon juice 2 egg whites

tuce. Makes 4 servings.

Dash salt 12 vanilla wafers

Thaw strawberries and heat to simmering. Add gelatin, and stir until it dissolves. Cool slightly. Stir in buttermilk and lemon juice. Cool until mixture begins to thicken. Beat egg whites with salt to soft peaks. Fold into gelatin. Chill a few minutes longer, until mixture mounds on a spoon. Spoon part of gelatin into 8-inch pie pan. Stand vanilla wafers around edge of pan, pushing them down into the gelatin. Heap remaining gelatin into pan. Chill for several hours or overnight. Makes 8 servings. 113 calories per serving.

CURRIED CHICKEN SALAD 2 cups diced cooked chicken

1 cup diced celery 3 tbsps. French dressing

1 tsp. curry powder 11/2 tbsps. sour cream

4 tsp. salt

1/8 tsp. pepper 1/2 tsp. instant onion Lettuce leaves

Combine chicken, celery, French dressing, curry powder, sour cream, salt, pepper, instant onion in a mixing bowl. Blend. Chill for 15 minutes. Serve in lettuce cups. Makes 2 to 3 generous, very low calorie

SPICED MELON AND ORANGE DELIGHT

1 pkg. (12-oz.) melon balls, defrosted or 1 cup fresh melon balls

Juice drained from melon balls or ½ cup water 2 large California oranges

1 stick cinnamon, 1½ inches long

4 whole cloves 2 tbsps. corn syrup

Drain frozen melon balls or make your own. There will be about 1/2 cup drained juice from packaged melon balls. Pour this or 1/2 cup of water (if making your own melon balls) into a small sauce pan. Add cinnamon, cloves, corn syrup. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer over melon balls and orange

'SOLE' FOOD FOR DIETERS

This time you're determined. You've made up your mind to diet. The trick is to enjoy it, not merely endure it. These days it's possible to prepare dishes that are low in calories, yet tasty and satisfying enough to please non-dieters also. This Creamy Baked Sole is a gourmet filet with a rich-tasting sauce, but has only 145 calories per serving.

CREAMY BAKED SOLE 4 fillets of sole (4 oz. each)

134 tsp. seasoned salt 1/4 tsp. pepper 2 tbsps. chopped green onion 2 tbsps. chopped pimiento

11/2 cups low fat milk 1½ tbsps. cornstarch 2 tbsps. cold low fat milk

2 tsps. lemon juice 11/2 tsps. prepared mustard 1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce Sprinkle filets with 1 teaspoon seasoned salt, pepper, onion and pimiento. Roll up, and fasten with wooden picks. Place in baking dish. Stir remaining salt into milk, and pour over filets. Bake in 350 degree oven about 20 minutes, until fish flakes easily. Remove filets to serving dishes and keep awrm. Stir cornstarch into cold milk in small saucepan; stir in hot milk from fish. Cook over moderate heat, stirring, until sauce boils and thickens. Blend in lemon juice, mustard and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over fish, and serve at once. Makes 4 servings of 163 calories each.

The bidding: South West North East Pass 4 A Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Ten of ♡ South's opening bid of three spades on a six card suit is a shade unorthodox, however he did hold the required six winners with favorable vulnerability and possession of 150 honors was well calculated to remove some of the sting should he run into an adverse double.

It would have been better judgment on North's part to bid three no trump instead of carrying on to four spades. The taking of nine tricks would have been quite routine and North's tenaces are not subject to the opening assault. Playing the suit contract, South had to go all out to avert defeat.

Altho a club lead originally would have assured declarer's defeat since it attacks the dummy's side entry before the diamonds can be established, the natural opening of the ten of hearts is not subject to criticism. North played the jack of hearts and East the queenfollowed by the ace. The shift was to a trump and South was in.

Trumps were drawn with two pulls and declarer was ready to begin working on the diamonds. There was a shortage of entries to dummy inasmuch as the ace of clubs was the only sure access. He led the five of diamonds from his hand-intending to pass this trick around to East. This would leave him in a position to enter dummy on the next round by cashing the ace and king of diamonds and discarding one club. A fourth round is then ruffed out to set up a long card in the suit for the discard of another club and thereby restrict South's losses on the deal to two hearts and one

When the five of diamonds was led, however, West upset South's plans by putting up the ten of diamonds. If the former was allowed to hold the lead, he would surely shift to a club, so the king of diamonds was played from dummy followed by the ace and then a third round. East played the jack and South was about to ruff when he changed his mind and discarded the three of clubs. If West had the queen of diamonds and the suit divided three-three, he was welcome to the trick, for now North's suit would be established and declarer would have a parking place for his remaining club loser.

Altho East's jack of diamonds held the trick as West showed out, South was in a secure position nevertheless. East could not return a club without presenting dummy with a free finesse, so he led back the queen of diamonds. Declarer ruffed, crossed over to the ace of clubs and discarded the eight of clubs on the good seven of diamonds. In all, he lost two hearts and one diamond.

Eye Cancer In Cattle Treatment

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) - A Salt Lake City firm says it has found a successful treatment for cancer of the eye in cattle But researchers said today it would be "preliminary and presumptive" to say anything about what the experiments might offer for human sufferers from eye cancer.

Dr. Kent Van Kampen, director of research for Inter-mountain Laboratories Inc. said the treatment has been 75 per cent successful with over 90 animals

Eye cancer causes a loss of $80 million annually to the cattle industry. Van Kampen said. He said more than 450,000 animals are affected yearly with about 8,000 condemned outright last year. Joe L. Budd, president of the American Hereford Association, called the treatment "a major breakthrough."

He said the treatment should result in lower beef prices. Van Kampen said cattle which are cured by the method could sell at full value. The treatment consists of a single injection of an extract prepared from the tumorous tissue itself, he said. The firm has applied to the U.S. Department of Agriculture and says it could have the injection ready for marketing this fall. Van Kampen said the treatment has not been verified by any government or independent testing agency but agriculture officials would check the firm's data before it is accepted.

Development Award Given To Ortloff

AUSTIN - The Ortloff Corporation of Midland has been named winner of the Texas So c i et y of Professional Engineer's 1972 Industrial Award. Thus is presented annually to the Texas industry judged to have the most outstanding engineering employment program from among those nominated by each of the 31 chapters of TSPE. The award honors the industry for showing exceptional achievement in adopting and implementing forward-looking employment policies for its engineering personnel. W. F. Ortloff is the company president.

Bank Holdup, Two Charged

LULING, Tex. (AP) - A Houston man and another from Luling were held without bond today on charges in the robbery of the Citizens State Bank in this South Texas town.

Charged with the Wednesday holdup were Henry Jaurez, 23, of Houston, and George Rodriguez, 20, of Luling. They were arrested near Columbus, 60 miles east of here, about an hour after the robbery, officers

The amount taken was not at once disclosed.

A bank official said two armed men held up two tellers at mid-day in the first robbery of the bank in about 25 years. He said no one was hurt.
