

Senators Grilling Kleindienst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst swore today that at the time of a settlement of antitrust suits against the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. he had no knowledge that a subsidiary of the giant conglomerate had made any offer to help finance next August's Republican National Convention.

Kleindienst's nomination to succeed John N. Mitchell as attorney general is pending before the Senate.

He was the first witness as the Senate Judiciary Committee opened hearings into charges relating to the antitrust case against ITT that was settled out of court last July 31.

He also told the committee that he never talked to Mitchell, whose resignation became effective yesterday, about any aspect of the antitrust case.

Kleindienst, as he testified, was flanked on one side by Felix Rohatyn, a New York financier and an ITT director, and on the other side by federal Judge Richard W. McLaren of Chicago, former head of the Justice Department's antitrust division.

He testified to a series of meetings with Rohatyn beginning in April of last year and said that at Rohatyn's request he arranged for an economic presentation by ITT to McLaren of the consequences if the government required the company to divest itself of the Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

Kleindienst said that subsequently Rohatyn complained to him about what he called McLaren's "hard, stringent, inflexible attitude" toward reaching a settlement, but Kleindienst said he refused to relate these conversations to McLaren.

He said he told Rohatyn that any settlement was a matter to be worked out between the officials of ITT and the Justice Department's antitrust division.

Rohatyn and McLaren, both of whom also were placed under oath, testified as did Kleindienst that they never had any discussion of the case with Mitchell.

Rohatyn said he felt the settlement was a very punitive and harsh one and also said Kleindienst did not participate in the negotiations.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., noted that last December Kleindienst had written a letter to Democratic National Chairman Lawrence O'Brien saying that the settlement had been handled and negotiated exclusively by McLaren.

Hart said a reader of that letter might not understand that there had been "a degree of contact, discussion and presence by Mr. Kleindienst."

Rohatyn replied that the only meeting in which Kleindienst's presence could be felt was one large meeting in McLaren's office in which the economic consequences of the government suit were discussed.

He added that he considered that Kleindienst was as passive a participant as one could be in that meeting.

Hart, after listening to the testimony of the witnesses, commented that "the tragedy of this is that 90 per cent of the people who read about it in the papers or listen to this story will not believe it."

He added that it was "one more chapter in the story of why the people lack faith in government."

Kleindienst asked the committee to let him testify in reply to charges made by columnist Jack Anderson.

Mutscher Aide Is First Witness?

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The state opened its case today against Speaker Gus Mutscher with indications that F.C. "Sonny" Schulte, a Mutscher aide who made the same quick stock profits his boss did, would be the first witness.

Schulte, a shy-looking man with dark eyes and nut-brown skin, netted a reported $17,750 on a month and a half investment in National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock in 1969.

He bought the stock with a $22,500 loan from the Sharpstown State Bank at Houston.

Both the bank and the insurance company were controlled by Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

BIG PROFITS

Schulte testified before the same Travis (Austin) County Grand Jury that indicted Mutscher, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and another Mutscher aide, Rush McGinty, on charges they conspired to accept a bribe from Sharp. Schulte was not indicted.

All three defendants made big profits on NBL stock with loans from Sharp's bank.

They sold most of their stock two days after two banking bills supported by Sharp were rammed through the legislature. Travis County Dist. Atty. Bob Smith kept the identity of his first witness a closely-guarded secret to prevent the defense from working several hours in preparation for that witness.

LOGICAL CHOICE

A logical choice as an early, but not the first, witness was Sharp, who has been granted immunity from prosecution by a Houston federal judge in exchange for his testimony and for pleading guilty to minor banking law violations.

He was fined $5,000 and given a three-year probation sentence.

An eight-woman, four-man jury was selected moments before testimony began. Lawyers for each side struck 18 names from a jury panel of 48.

The huge panel was completed at 9:47 p.m. Wednesday after three days of interrogation of prospective jurors. Number 48 was Mildred Ates, a switchboard operator for the Abilene Reporter-News.

The defendants are accused of agreeing to accept quick profits on stock in a company controlled by Sharp in return for their influence in getting the Texas Legislature to approve two banking bills Sharp wanted passed in 1969.

SMITH SCORES

They all bought the stock on the same day, July 28, 1969, with money borrowed from Sharp's bank, and the loans were secured only by the stock they were used to purchase. They sold most of their stock on the same day a month and a half later, Sept. 11, 1969, two days after the banking bills won legislative approval.

Mutscher made a $52,500 profit. Shannon made $31,125 and McGinty profited $26,625. Mutscher says he later bought more of the stock just before its price fell and that he suffered a net loss.

The banking bills would have allowed state banks, including Sharp's, to insure deposits with a state corporation and thus avoid federal bank examiners.

Gov. Preston Smith, who also made a substantial—$62,500—profit on National Bankers Life stock bought with a loan from Sharp's bank, vetoed the bills after he sold the stock.

Harbour New Prexy Of Water District

P. C. (Codie) Harbour, Odessa, today was elected president of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, which he has served as a director since its creation.

He succeeds Charles B. Perry, Odessa, who held the office from 1958 until his death Feb. 12. Harbour's choice was unanimous.

The first board of CRM-WD was organized in 1949. Harbour was one of the four original directors from Odessa, and thus he has been a part of the entire development and expansion of the district.

He has been chairman of the recreation committee since the beginning and has served on the personnel as well as the land committee, which has been involved in acquisition of thousands of acres for two lake basins as well as several hundred miles of pipeline right of way.

YABLONSKI SLAYINGS Gilly Sentenced To Electric Chair

WASHINGTON Pa. (AP) — Paul E. Gilly was sentenced to the electric chair today by the same jury that convicted him Wednesday of first-degree murder in the Yablonski slayings.

The jury of seven men and five women began deliberations on the penalty, Wednesday but recessed at 10:45 p.m.

Judge Charles Sweet explained in announcing the recess: "We want the work of this jury to be the best product of its consideration."

The jurors, who remained isolated at a local hotel, deliberated about five hours Wednesday before returning a guilty verdict against Gilly at 8:30 p.m.

The 38-year-old Cleveland

housepainter, who the state claims received a $5,200 contract to arrange the killings, sat motionless as the verdict was announced.

He was convicted on three counts of killing United Mine Workers official Joseph Yablonski, his wife and 25-year-old daughter more than two years ago in nearby Clarksville.

Yablonski had made an unsuccessful bid in 1969 for the presidency of the UMW as leader of an insurgent group.

Prior to the sentencing phase, prosecutor Richard Sprague of Philadelphia and defense attorney Samuel Rodgers went before the jury with arguments for and against the death penalty.

Trial Of Bell Is Delayed

ODESSA (SC) — In the trial of Robert W. Bell of Big Spring, on trial in Odessa for the stabbing death of Mrs. Sophie Giovanni, the final four jurors were selected Wednesday.

They include J. W. Horton, 318 N. Graham, oil company employe, Caris W. Lewis, 2917 Santa Rosa, bookkeeper, Mrs. Marjorie R. Ross, 8324 N. Golder, housewife, and John Lessigne, 1608 Edison, oil field worker.

Due to the illness of District Attorney John Green, 161st District Judge R. L. McKimm has reset the start of the trial for 9 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Giovanni, 51, was slain last July 2 while on duty as a night clerk at an Odessa drive-in grocery.

'SHOCKED' Smith Pairs Barnes With Banking Bills

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith says Texas senators and representatives should shoulder the full blame for passing two banking insurance bills that played a part in the stock fraud scandal.

"These bills were rushed through the legislature with insufficient time and with very few dissenting votes," Smith said Wednesday night in a paid political telecast over 19 Texas stations.

"But when they came to the governor's office, they were subjected to a careful analysis ... And after careful consideration, it was my decision, and mine alone, not that of the legislature, but it was my decision that these bills should not become law. And so I vetoed these bills.

SEE IT? "And the only point that my signature appears in connection with this legislation is on this veto document."

Smith proudly displayed his veto message then flashed on the screen pictures of the controversial banking bills that were signed by Speaker Gus Mutscher, now on trial in Abilene on charges of bribery conspiracy in connection with the bills, and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

'SURPRISED' Barnes replied in Dallas that he was "surprised" and "shocked" that Smith claimed to have nothing to do with the banking bills that uncoiled the Texas stock fraud scandal.

Barnes, who is challenging Smith in the May 6 Democratic race for governor, noted that Smith, in a partnership deal, bought some 20,000 shares of National Bankers Life Insurance stock with an unsecured loan from Sharpstown State Bank six weeks before the special session in which the banking bills were considered. On Sept. 7, 1969, Smith urged the legislature to finish its work and go home because "the people are tired of the legislature being in session," Barnes said. But on Sept. 8 "Gov. Smith came back to the legislature with an emergency message which included those two bank bills.

'WON'T SELL' On Sept. 12 Smith sold his insurance company stock "not as you and I would sell our stock as public participants in a company. It was not sold through a broker. It was sold through a pre-arranged sale arranged by Mr. Frank Sharp for seven points more than it was selling for that day over the counter," Barnes said.

Psychiatrist Says Ballard Sane At Time Of Slaying

ALPINE (SC) — The court read its charge to the jury this morning in the Whitmer Jean Ballard murder trial, with indications the jury will begin its deliberations of the defendant's guilt or innocence sometime this afternoon.

The court recessed shortly before noon and the defense was expected to launch its final arguments after the lunch break.

After the defense has its ining, the state will complete its summations.

The state's charge listed Mrs. James H. Kreimeyer, clinical director and staff psychiatrist at Big Spring State Hospital, as the final rebuttal witness presented by the state in Ballard's murder trial here Wednesday night before a packed house.

The final session of testimony was the only night session of the long trial, and District Judge Charles E. Sherrill had to order those not seated to clear the courtroom.

Arguments were to begin at 10 a.m. today, and with each side allowed two hours summation, it appeared the case would reach the jury at mid-afternoon.

"There was no thinking defect" shown during the three hours that Dr. Kreimeyer talked with Ballard in Big Sp. ag last Friday he said. This was in response to an order signed the day before by Judge Sherrill. Ballard did say he had had recall difficulty, as a result of head injuries about Thanksgiving Day, 1970, until Dec. 10, 1970, Dr. Kreimeyer added.

Questioned by Guilford Jones, special prosecutor, Dr. Kreimeyer said that Ballard talked about incidents mentioned in the trial.

"CONFUSED" The doctor related that Ballard said a man named Floyd had been in his house Dec. 2, 1970, and that Ballard also spoke of wandering in the bush. But, Ballard was confused about why he was in the bush. Sometime out there he thought Davis (Orville Davis, another defendant who received life imprisonment in the case) was with him, but he knew he was not. Ballard also told the doctor that he had been "consistently" asked since 1968 to take part in a robbery but that he had always refused.

Ballard took the stand Wednesday afternoon in his own defense.

COPE To Hear Sen. Humphrey

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Texas AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education meets here Friday and Saturday to hear U.S. Sen. Hubert Humphrey, a Democratic presidential hopeful, and major candidates for top state offices.

COPE, the political arm of the state labor group, interviews political candidates and grants or withholds labor's endorsement.

However, top labor leaders recommended Wednesday at Austin that the state AFL-CIO steer clear of endorsing any candidate for governor.

"The race for governor is likely to be hotly contested and highly divisive," the labor leaders said in a statement.

"It is not to the advantage of organized labor to sponsor COPE participation in that race, but rather to encourage members to support the candidate they feel will best serve the interests of Texas, and the workers of this state," the statement added.

AFL-CIO President Roy Evans backs Gov. Preston Smith, while other labor leaders variously favor Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Dolph Briscoe and Rep. Francis Farenthold.

At the conclusion of the meeting here Saturday, the group, numbering around 800, will hand down endorsements.

Delegates will spend most of Friday listening to statewide office seekers.

Signs Of Protestant Backlash Developing

BELFAST (AP) — Speculation grew today that Northern Ireland's Protestant extremists may be getting ready to retaliate for the current murder campaign by Catholic guerrillas.

An opposition member of the provincial parliament said a "soft backlash" already is developing. He cited the wounding of two Roman Catholics in fusillades this week and the recent bombing of a hotel where Catholic politicians were meeting.

Other sources cited the assassination Feb. 8 of a Catholic in Belfast and the finding of a time bomb in a hotel just before the annual dinner-dance of the Catholic Gaelic Athletic Association.

"It could well be that a few people are just having a go," said a government official. "We are keeping a fairly close eye on these incidents, but so far there is no sign of organized activity."

Northern Ireland's Protestant majority for many months has left the task of fighting the guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army to British troops and the provincial police. Expectations from time to time that Protestant vigilantes would take to the streets have not materialized. But this week has seen a new upsurge of IRA attacks, with two militiamen murdered at their homes on Tuesday and Wednesday and another man wounded seriously Wednesday night.

Any developing Protestant backlash would probably get a powerful boost if a report in a London paper today turns out to be true.

School Enrollment Again Shows Gain

The Daily Mail, a Conservative paper, said Britain's Conservative Cabinet is about to approve a plan for Northern Ireland under which it would relax the internment without trial of suspected IRA members, take over responsibility for law and order, reorganize the provincial government with representation allotted between the Protestant majority and Catholic minority rather than by elections in the present gerry-mandered districts, and would hold a referendum every 10 years or so on whether the people want to join the Irish Republic.

Scout Program Shaping Up

Plans for the Boy Scout Exposition — an annual showpiece for Cubs and Scouts — are shaping rapidly. Approximately 30 booth spaces have been reserved by 25 units, said Jerry Armstrong, in charge of the booths which will be erected in Highland Mall. The Exposition will be held March 18, and Cubs and Scouts are now selling tickets for the event. All boys participating in the ticket effort will receive citations and there will be special awards for top salesmen.

Each of the booths will depict certain subject areas of Scout craft, activities, or allied movements such as conservation, etc. Many of them will be animated and will be staffed by boys during the Exposition.

Unit leaders can still reserve booth space by calling Jerry Armstrong at 263-3680 or at 267-2511 (ext. 2263).

Mistakes Noted In Crime Story

A story in Monday's edition of The Herald concerning a house robbery over the weekend contained errors in names of the victims involved due to a mistake in the police blotter.

The house was owned by a Viola Younger, 2602 Carol Drive, and the reference made to her sister was in error, in that the other woman was her daughter.

Two Announce In Sands Race

The only late addition to the slate of candidates for the April 1 school board elections in area communities was at Sands school.

Lloyd Robinson and Don Floyd filed for the board of the Sands schools, joining incumbent Bud Hughes in the race for two three-year terms. Incumbent Morris Barnes did not file for re-election.

In Big Spring the slate remains J. W. Little, Frank D. (Dan) Wilkins and Gus Ochotorena for two three-year terms, and Tom Fetters for a two-year term.

In Coahoma incumbent Wendell Shive filed as did Joe Sweeney, John Devers, R. A. Stone and David Barr. They are competing for two three-year terms.

In Forsan there are three three-year terms and one two-year term. Filing for the three-year terms are incumbent Thomas M. Yeats, incumbent Elbert Strickland, incumbent William R. Banks Jr. and Tom Evans. For the two-year term only incumbent Robert L. Rister has filed.

In Stanton two places are being contested. In Place I incumbent Dwan Henson and Tommy Newman have filed. In Place 2 incumbent George Glynn and Billy Mims have filed.

The elections will be held April 1 from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. March 13.

BE CRAZY

Regarding Mrs. Smith's testimony that he admitted having killed a man, Ballard laughed: "A man would have to be crazy to tell Doshie Lee Smith anything."

He went to Glasscock County after the robbery murder not to recover stolen goods but to "look at an oil flow line," Ballard testified.

Ballard said he did take a diamond ring (said stolen from the Currie home and introduced in evidence) to Thomas L. Dempsey, Odessa jeweler, as Dempsey testified, but it was one given to him the night before by Mrs. Montgomery.

Ballard claimed she said the ring was one she had pawned previously in Morgan City, La., and "I had no reason to doubt her."

As for other items reported stolen from the Currie home, Ballard professed no knowledge, said he had never seen a floor plan of the home, or heard of plans to rob the rancher.

He fled Odessa for California because he heard there was a warrant for his arrest and he didn't want to have to make bond, said Ballard.

REBUTTAL

In rebuttal, Mrs. Montgomery said her testimony in the case was true. There were three other witnesses, including Richard Bowers, Brewster County attorney, who said he was probating a will of W. N. Ballard, father of Whitmer Jean Ballard, and that Whitmer Jean was one of the heirs. District Attorney Wayne Burns was put on the stand by Jones and said that Mrs. Smith's testimony in the trial was consistent with two written statements she gave him in December 1970 and before a Glasscock County grand jury hearing the same months. Jones had never attempted to influence Mrs. Smith's testimony, said Burns; as a matter of fact Jones had not been engaged as a prosecution attorney at the time.

Mrs. Montgomery said she had planned a robbery, had left the evening of Dec. 2 presumably on the job, and had later had her driver him to Glasscock County where he picked up loot from a hiding place at a rural roadside. Items reported stolen from the Currie home and put in evidence here were recovered by Ballard, she said.

Judy Dunham, indicted in the case but granted immunity in exchange for her testimony, had put Ballard at the scene of the murder robbery the evening of Dec. 2. And Doshie Lee Smith, Midland barmaid, said Ballard had boasted to her of having killed a man near Garden City.

"PROTECT HER KIN" — All this was filled with lies, said Ballard. Why would Mrs. Montgomery say this? "To protect her kin — her thievish brothers," said Ballard. He added he didn't even know Judy Dunham.

Ballard claimed he had not been in the area until Dec. 5 when he went looking for pipe on an oilwell site, then on to

Reserve Police Force Faces Major Changes

Sweeping changes in the Reserve Force of the Big Spring Police Department are taking place, City Manager Harry Nagel reported Wednesday afternoon.

Nagel reported he was reconstructing the by-laws of the organization, which will be completely revamped within the next few weeks.

New state statutes have already affected the formation of similar organizations around the state, and Nagel said the new by-laws are necessary to make the organization more effective.

Included in the new standards are changes in meeting times and places, the election of officers, and general organizational aspects.

NAMED ANNUALLY — The city manager said under the new by-laws, a captain, lieutenant, and two sergeants will be elected annually, and their sole authority will be in organizational functions. The captain will be president, lieutenant, vice president; sergeant, secretary; and other sergeant, treasurer.

"While on duty, these men will have no rank over any other regular reserve officer," said Nagel.

Also meetings will be held once monthly at the police station. The new by-laws will require double signatures on all checks written on the reserve bank account also, he stated.

Nagel also said while on duty, all reserve officers will directly under the police department code of ethics, and will be the responsibility of the regular shift supervisors.

Police Chief Vance Chisum will set all other policy standards regulating the duties of the reserve police, according to the new by-laws.

21 NOW ACTIVE

Currently there are 21 active police reserve officers and seven on the inactive list. Last summer there were approximately 40 reserve officers in the department.

A new reserve police training school will begin in the city March 6 through 29 to meet state statute requirements.

Under the statute requirements, each reserve officer must be certified by attending a 70-hour training school. According to Chief Chisum, the local school will provide enough hours so that each reserve attending will be certified upon completion.

Chief Chisum anticipates approximately 20 to 25 reserve officers will attend the school to be held at Howard County Junior College. The training sessions will be taught by instructors from Texas A&M.

Cost of the school will be defrayed by reserve officers attending, and each will be refunded his money upon completion of the school.

Sellout Crowd Looming For Trio's Appearance

Ticket sales for the Saturday night performance of the New Kingston Trio at the city auditorium are increasing, as the Big Spring Jaycees anticipate a sell-out crowd this weekend.

The show is the first of a series of big name performers the Jaycees are going to bring into the city. It starts at 8 p.m. for the one performance.

Jaycee president R. K. Taylor and "A. J. Pirkle, program chairman, reported today that following the performance at the city auditorium, the group will appear at the Webb AFB's Officers Club.

That performance has already been sold out, and Jaycees suggested that all planning to attend the city performance get their tickets early. Price of the tickets will be $3 per ticket in

ON SALE

Tickets are on sale at the First National Bank, State National Bank, Security State Bank, Big Spring High School, The Record Shop, Sound City, KBST, KBLE-TV, and the Chamber of Commerce offices.

Odessa Firm Has Contract

MIDLAND — Construction of Midland's new federal center will begin about April 1, coinciding with demolition of old buildings now on the site.

Area Builders Inc., Odessa, was awarded the contract on a bid of $3,437,384. In all, seven bids were considered by the General Services Administration. Other bids ranged up to $3,517,000.

Of the 16 parcels of land needed for the site, seven remain unimproved.

The contract calls for completion of the project within 500 calendar days from the date of contract signing, which means the work is due to wind up sometime during August 1973.

Approximately 100 persons will be employed during the peak of construction.

To be constructed is a three-story United States Court House and federal building (plus basement) and a single-story post office.

Area Builders Inc. is also the general contractor for two other major projects under way in Midland — the $3.7 million Midland Memorial Hospital expansion and the $600,000 Forest Oil Corp. building.

Honor Students Are Recognized

The following students have made the Grady Elementary School's six-week Honor Roll: First grade — Sylvia Cazares, Armenia Chavera, Lydia Cruz, Sheila Holder, Lynn Gie, Benny Stone, Kara Welch; second grade — Lee Anna Dunn, Ken Welch.

Third grade — Denise Barnes, Randy Graham, Larry Key, Tammy Nelson, Debbie Parum; fourth grade — Glenda Douglas, Michelle Mitchell, Jeff Ragland, Tim Tate, Greg Kiser.

Fifth grade — Jimmy Mitchell, Shirilla Sawyer; sixth grade — Mark Tate, Leza Britt, eighth grade — Benny Butler, Tahita Blake.

Other big name performers scheduled to make appearance in the city will be the Ding-A-Lang Sisters, (four ladies, who are regulars on the television series of the Dean Martin Show), along with Jacky Vernon, Roger Miller and his band; and the New Christy Minstrels.

The Ding-A-Lang Sisters, recently known as the Gold Digger will follow the New Kingston Trio April 18. Roger Miller is booked in May, and the New Christy Minstrels in June. Each performance will be in the city auditorium.

"We are setting up the performances like the community concert series in the city, but we did not want to sell season tickets," said Taylor. "We feel these groups offer entertainment for every segment and age group of the community, therefore, the tickets will be sold separately for each performance."

VARIETY

Coming off a record breaking stint in San Antonio only last week, the New Kingston Trio features a wide range of popular and folk sounds. The group has recently come back to the States from a tour in England, and have recently finished recording sessions in Memphis.

Dave Guard and John Stewart are the new members of the group, and Bob Shane has been with the trio since its inception.

The trio has headlined at practically every large club in the United States, are gold record holders of countless hits, popular stars overseas and have been guests on every major television network.

Ashbrook's Recollections

Some pundits are saying that one of the prices that President Nixon will pay for his journey to Mainland China is support lost from the markedly conservative wing of the Republican party.

If this needed any nudging, then Rep. John Ashbrook of Ohio, an announced candidate for the GOP nomination, is adding fuel to the fire by recalling campaign claims of Mr. Nixon and the record.

Space does not permit reproducing them all, but a few will illustrate:

Welfare — Quoting from 1968: "One of the reasons that I do not accept . . . a guaranteed annual income or a negative income tax is because of my conviction that doing so, first, would not end poverty, and second . . . it would have a very detrimental effect on the productive capacity of the American people . . . I am against any system which would destroy or reduce that incentive, that determination, that self-respect and that pride . . ."

Of the record, Ashbrook says: "In August, 1969, the President introduced the Family Assistance Plan, a guaranteed annual income which would begin welfare payments to an additional 12-15 million Americans at a cost of at least $7 billion a year."

Defense — 1968 — "In recent years our country has followed policies which now threaten to make America second best both in numbers and quality of major weapons. That is why I charge the opposition with creating a security gap for America . . . I intend to restore our objective of clear-cut military superiority."

As to the record, Ashbrook says that "in his first press conference as President in January, 1969 — three months after the speech was delivered — Mr. Nixon repudiated the word and concept of 'superiority' as the aim of his policy. Later that year, he cut back the Johnson Administration's Sentinel anti-missile program to provide protection for the U.S. population against a missile attack, on the grounds that it was too 'provocative' to the Soviets. By 1972, the U.S. had dropped behind the Soviet Union in every phase of strategic power."

Federal spending — 1968 — "In every year since 1961, the federal government has spent more money than it has taken in. Through the end of the current fiscal year which has just begun, the cumulative deficits will total a staggering nearly $70 billion."

Ashbrook cites the record: "The first three budgets planned wholly by the Nixon administration are expected to show a cumulative deficit of $70 billion — more than the total deficit of the eight Kennedy-Johnson budgets."

There are at least two things which modify the effect of this. One is that there is not yet on the horizon a Democratic presidential hopeful who can apply the charges effectively. The other is, that in the absence of a real contest, the right wing of the GOP may have nowhere else to go but to go along with Mr. Nixon.

Age Discrimination

Sen. Lloyd Bentsen has introduced a bill which he feels will give older workers recourse for forced retirement ahead of specified age limits.

"Government employees are being pressured into early retirement," he said. "Whether it's done subtly or blatantly, this pressure is a form of discrimination against a worker simply because of age . . . As the nation's largest employer, the government also should be a model employer."

He cites means of harassments used to induce employees to retire, and of practices of arbitrarily drawing age limits for hiring. In an age of combating discrimination for virtually any reason, age should not be an exception. The senator is on the right track, and if he makes progress there, there are other arenas for his battle.

Be Sure To Register

Around The Rim

Steve Hultman

A FINE FIELD of candidates is shaping up for both the school board and the city commission elections to be held respectively April 1 and April 4.

These elections are of great importance to Big Spring. The school district has a budget of $5 1/2 million, the largest in the county, and the city budget is not much less.

The first method any citizen has of determining the course of local government is by voting.

To vote in the school board election April 1, you must register to vote at the court house by 5 p.m. today. To vote in the city commission election, you must register by 5 p.m. Friday.

If you mail in your application, it will count for the postmarked date.

It is not necessary to register to vote today, as voting registration is open throughout the year. But you must register 30 days prior to an election to be eligible to vote in it.

THE TERMS OF office in these two elections range from two to three years. If you do not vote in this election, and are dissatisfied with the men elected, it will be at least two years before any change can be made.

The candidates who have filed for the school board and for the city commission represent many divergent views on how to run our schools and how to run our city.

THERE ARE MORE than 12,000 registered voters in Howard County every year, and there should be more this year because the 18-year-olds are now eligible.

In the school board election last year, 1,020 citizens voted. In the city commission balloting 2,698 votes were cast.

One vote can change an election. Lyndon B. Johnson won his first term in the United States Senate by only 87 votes, less than one vote per county.

But if you do not register, you can not vote. And if you do not vote, you have no reason to complain about any of the shortcomings of local, state or federal government.

China's Slant

William F. Buckley Jr.

(This was filed while Mr. Buckley was in China — Ed)

PEKING (FRIDAY) — Tonight was President Nixon's dinner for Premier Chou, and the event was unexciting, primarily because Monday's was sensational; tonight's was the same cast, same banquet hall, same orchestra, same tunes, same speeches. The latter were the principal disappointment because after five days it was expected that there would be a glimmer of what is to come. Mr. Nixon conjugated the last conceivable metaphorical use out of the Great Wall, Chou was cagey as ever, and now we are off to Hangchow and Shanghai, and there we hope to hear whatever it is that we are going to hear as coming concretely out of the Peking summit.

WILL THERE BE something on Vietnam? No. On Taiwan? No. Beyond that, the imagination roams, gropingly. At the least, there can be talk about cultural exchanges. And/or trade missions. Possibly a hot line. Conceivably an ad hoc working-diplomatic arrangement developed out of, say Canada, or Hong Kong.

My guess is that although the language of neither party will of course say it concretely, there will be intimations there that we have put each other on probation. The Chinese will almost certainly talk about "the American people," in whom the dictators of the Chinese people repose confidence, exclusively. The United States will have something in there about the right to self-determination.

MR. NIXON has another session, perhaps two, with Chou. It would be good to feel that he will ask Chou, if he has not already, to take a public position of the famous statement of Lin Piao in 1965. Lin Piao will be remembered as the gentleman who, after Mao, was the principal official of the People's Republic of China, and indeed the designated successor to Mao. He was a general and a theoretician, and very much around until his mysterious disappearance last fall. Having led the whole country in a rabid idolatry of Mao during the Cultural Revolution, it is rumored that he plotted, finally, to dispose of Mao and take over China. Anyway, he is very much forgotten, but his words continue to ring in the ear.

IN 1965 HE SPOKE about the people's wars which would finally bring down the imperialistic states, principally the United States. The statement goes on at some length, with the usual turgidities of the Marxist evangelist, but when issued it was treated as holy writ, and the liquidation of Lin Piao is not assumed to have had any bearing on the sanctity of his remarks, which in any case he describes as nothing more than an exegesis on Chairman Mao's thought.

The statement, as I say, is richly informing, including such aperçus, particularly piquant at this juncture, as "Comrade Mao Tse-tung points out that we must despise the enemy strategically and take full account of him tactically."

CHINA FEARS TWO things: 1) Russia now, and 2) a re-armed Japan tomorrow. The trip would clearly have appeared, already, to have affected Japan's appetite for increasing her defenses.

Richard Nixon tactically has scored a great coup from his trip, such as overwhelmingly to commend him to the American people in an election year. The best guarantee the Chinese have that the United States will continue to exercise deterrent strength against the Soviet Union is: the re-election of Richard Nixon. 'HE WONDERS WHY PEOPLE DON'T TRUST HIM'

And What Then?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Just what is the meaning of the "central market system" for securities trading, as stated in a recent Securities and Exchange Commission report on restructuring the market place?

Does it mean that some of the best known institutions in America, such as the New York Stock Exchange, the Midwest Exchange and the Pacific Exchange should cease to exist?

Some people, including an SEC commissioner, think it does. If this is to be so, that report, "On the future structure of the securities markets," is a more striking document than is appreciated.

Or does it mean a loose federation of autonomous exchanges sharing a national market that will permit investors to benefit from broader, more open trading that will be clearly reported on one all-inclusive tape?

The latter seems to be closer to the interpretation of the institutions, including the NYSE. In fact, they already have been meeting in Washington toward that end, although a participant states that the meetings so far are "not very productive."

Nevertheless, James J. Needham, an SEC commissioner, sees the market restructuring as leading almost inevitably to a situation in which:

"All existing exchange organizations would be combined into a stock corporation. The shares of the new corporation would be issued to all members of exchanges prorata based on the respective values of their seats.

"Simultaneously, the existing exchange organizations would transfer their net assets and operational and self-regulatory responsibilities to the new corporation . . ."

And what then? " . . . and go out of existence."

Needham expressed these personal views a year ago before the American Management Association's conference on "financial imperatives for the '70s."

Asked if he still believes that way, the commissioner said he not only did but would repeat his views in another speech this week.

Cover Is Blown

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — One of the best-kept secrets of the Nixon Administration was blown during the President's trip to China last week. The American people discovered that there is a highly confidential organization advising the President on foreign affairs which is called the State Department. The head of this secret apparatus is a lawyer named William Rogers, an old friend of President Nixon.

THIS IS HOW the existence of this undercover agency was revealed. When President Nixon went to China, he was seen in the company of a sandy-haired man who rarely left the President's side. Most reporters on the trip assumed he was a Secret Service man and paid no attention to him.

But when the President went to visit Chairman Mao Tse-tung, and the newspapermen discovered that the sandy-haired man did not accompany Mr. Nixon. This knocked out the theory that the mysterious person was a Secret Service agent.

WHEN QUESTIONED about what the person was doing on the trip Ron Ziegler reluctantly admitted that the man's name was William Rogers and he held the title of secretary of state, and he had something to do with foreign affairs, though Ziegler refused to go into it any further.

Meanwhile, back in Washington, reporters were trying to find out more about the State Department and where it fitted into the diplomatic picture.

The White House seemed very disturbed about the leak, and J. Edgar Hoover has been ordered to find out who blew Mr. Rogers' cover.

A WHITE HOUSE spokesman told me, "It does no good for the security of the nation to talk about the role of the State Department in foreign affairs. The people who revealed the existence of Mr. Rogers and the agency he represents may believe they were reporting news, but in effect they are only giving aid and comfort to the enemy."

"Does the revelation of a State Department mean that Henry Kissinger is not running the entire foreign policy of the United States?"

"IT MEANS NO such thing. All policies on foreign affairs are still made by the Department of Kissinger" or, as we call it here, the DOK. The State Department, and I'm not confirming there is one, mind you, is sort of a backup organization which provides the President with information he might miss from his usual sources." Doctor's Wife

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that every doctor's wife gets tired of hearing:

"I hate to call you at home, but would you mind waking up your husband and ask him what to do about my husband's hiccupps? They're keeping me awake."

"Is that a new mink coat you're wearing?"

"Oh, you lucky woman. I certainly envy you. I think your husband is the most adorable man on earth."

"Does your husband tell you everything about his patients? I hope not in my case."

"What's Dr. Uptight's bedside manner like when it's his own bedside?"

"Helene, why are you so insanely jealous of my female patients? I don't even know the color of that woman's eyes. The only thing about her that interests me is her left kidney, and I'm getting pretty bored with that."

"I hate to bother you at home, but my son just swallowed his top."

"Would your husband be annoyed if I tried to reach him at the country club? He seems to spend more time there than at his office."

"With so much flu around I guess you and Vernon will be able to afford a winter as well as a summer vacation this year."

"So you're the little girl who married Dr. Vernon Uptight. I always wondered what he'd fall for."

"Dearie, your husband keeps telling me there's nothing wrong with my bladder, but I think he's just trying to bolster my ego or something. Could you ask him what's really wrong with my bladder, and let me know confidentially?"

"Your husband is only an internist. Mine's a surgeon. They're much harder to live with."

"Woman to woman, could you ask your husband whether my husband made any remarks about me when he talked to your husband this morning?"

"Don't you worry a little bit about the possibility of him bringing home some kind of strange disease sometime?"

"I hate to call you at home, but my husband and I had a small quarrel, and now his nose is bleeding and . . ."

Billy Graham

Against our wishes, our daughter eloped with her boy friend and got married. This has made a real "generation gap", and I feel now that I should have nothing to do with them. Since they ignored our wishes, do you not think I'm right?

It is always an emotional time when a child severs the umbilical cord and leaves the security of home. And, of course, when they run away and do it without advice or help from their parents, this makes the matter even more critical.

But, I think you are wrong in deciding to have nothing to do with your daughter and her husband. Your pride is hurt, and this is understandable. You suffered considerable social embarrassment, and this is clear. But, you will always love your daughter, and it would be wrong for you to deprive yourselves of her love and company. You would lose as much or more than she, and you have lost enough.

She is not the first daughter to elope. Couples have been doing this for centuries, and there is often no particular reason. I know, you feel that this reflects upon you, but people who know life, know that it really doesn't.

Give them time for their honeymoon and adjustment period, and they will probably be the first to say they are sorry. When a couple is in love their thinking is tainted by romantic love, and they are all wrapped up in themselves. You will all feel different in a few weeks. Don't stop loving and praying.

A Devotion For Today . . .

May God be gracious to us and bless us and make his face to shine upon us, that thy way may be known upon earth. — Psalm 67:1-2 (RSV)

PRAYER: God, as we claim Thy fatherhood, help us not to disclaim our brotherhood! Deliver us from the evil of being satisfied in our comfort when so many of Thy children suffer discomforts of many kinds. For the sake of Christ. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Myers Leads Tournament Scorers But Hawks Falter In First Round

By JOE HINDS

LUBBOCK — It was a good day for Cinderella teams in the first round of the Region V National Junior College tournament yesterday in Texas Tech's domed coliseum.

McLennon Community College, seeded fifth in the tournament, pricked an 11-point bulge of their opponents and then grabbed the lead to trip the fourth-seeded Howard County Jayhawks, 73-70 in the single-elimination tournament.

New Mexico Junior College, seeded eighth, destroyed number-one ranked Hill College, 88-78 in the fourth game of yesterday's first round. New Mexico finished fifth in the Western Junior College Conference standings with a 6-6 record. The Thunderbirds from Hobbs, N.M., blasted the slower Hill team out of the gymnasium. The Thunderbirds posted a 16-10 over all slate during the regular season.

FABULOUS ARCHIE
Howard County's fabulous Archie Myers, one of the most prized junior college basketball players in the nation with a 36.2 scoring average, led the first round pack in scoring with a 44-point bombshell yesterday afternoon; but the other Jayhawks could only muster a total of 26 points as Howard County dropped a heartbreaker to McLennon.

McLennon triple-teamed Myers, but he still amazed the fans and scouts with a total of 44 points to lead all scorers in the first round. His scoring spree moved him into the second slot in the single game tournament scoring record. Bill Barker from San Angelo in 1954 made 49 points for the top rung of the record. Myers' tied for eighth place in the tournament's single-game record last year with 35 points. This year's output nudged Larry Kenan of Amarillo who made 43 points last year for the number two position.

McLennon from Waco, Tex., has been invited to the Region V three times in the past five years. Coach James Burroughs has coached his teams to a 82-65 record over a period of five years.

The Jayhawks reeled out a fast-break offense comprised of long lead football-type passes to Myers as they forged into a strong lead in the first half. Herbert Lee, a freshman guard from San Antonio, hit Myers striding down the court so that the Cleveland, Miss., product could glide in for easy layups. With only 46 seconds left in the half, Harry Miller, a Jayhawk sophomore, stuffed in two from underneath to put the Hawks on top, 41-33; but the Waco quintet narrowed the gap in the last seconds on a three-point trip under the basket to send both teams into the intermission with Howard County resting on a 41-36 margin.

Myers paced the Jayhawks to an 11-point bulge early in the second half with his uncanny, long, fade-away jump shot. Ricky Coulter, who finished the game with 28 points, dueling Myers and assisted his teammates in whittling the Jayhawks edge. Coulter made two free-throws with 7:33 remaining in the game to tie the game 54-54.

McLennon used a triangle of men to guard Myers. The three taller opponents were too much for Myers as his scoring faltered to making only five free-throws. Myers hit Jim Kreiter in the open several times, but McLennon was busy building its own bulge.

Stephen F. Austin Sixth In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

Eau Claire retained its lead in the Associated Press college division basketball poll released today—but just barely. Eau Claire, 21-1, received six first-place votes and a total of 230 points to keep the top spot in rankings by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

But No. 2 Tennessee State, which was 47 points back of the leader last week, surged to within six points of the top spot with three first place votes and 224 points. The Tigers won both their games last week to boost their season mark to 17-1.

Far back in third place in this week's poll, the next-to-last of the season, was Louisiana

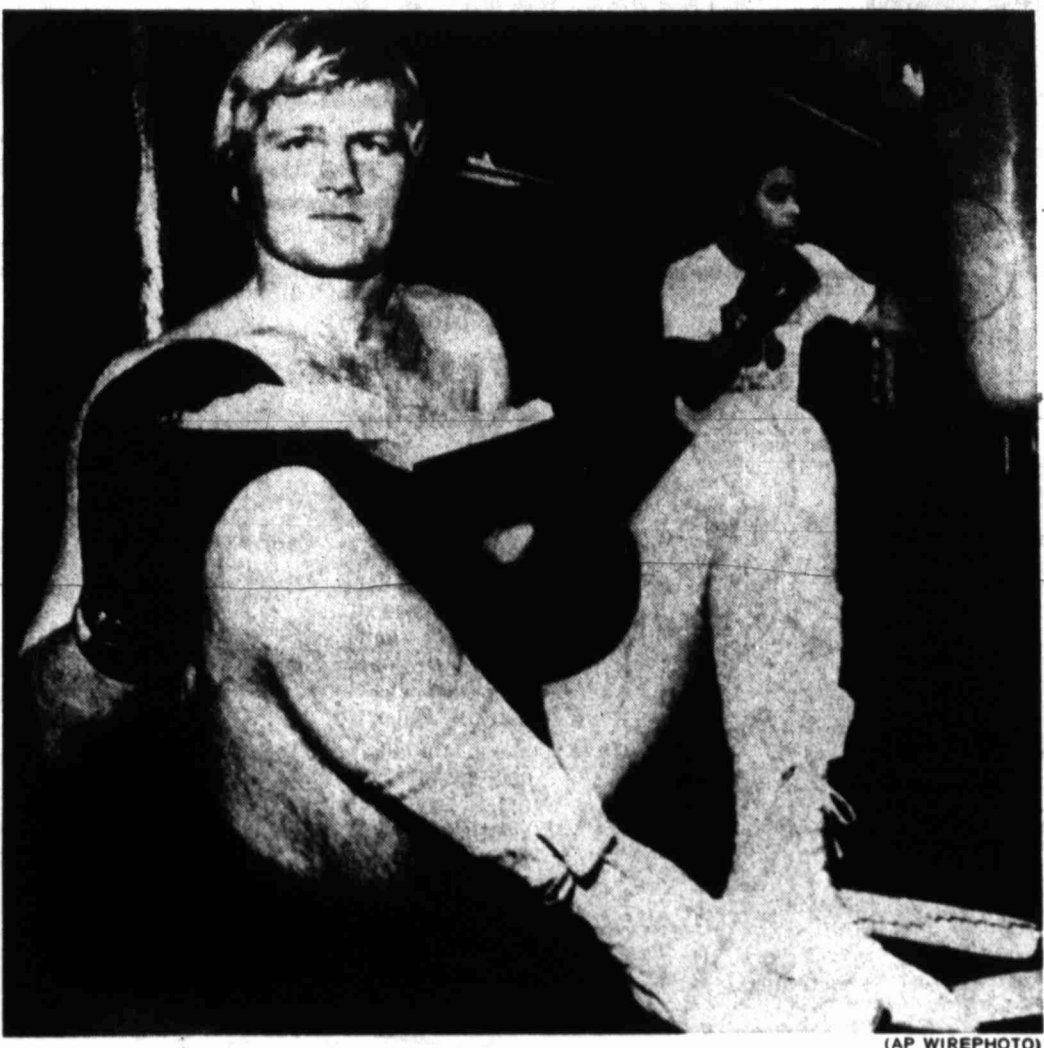

Tech with 142 points and one first place vote. The next three teams all climbed one notch from last week—Eastern Michigan to No. 4, Alabama State No. 5 and Stephen F. Austin No. 6.

Cheyney State, fourth in last week's rankings, lost one of its three games through Saturday and dropped down to the seventh spot. Akron, which had been No. 8, dropped one of two starts and slipped out of the Top Ten.

The No. 8 spot went to Western Washington and No. 9 to Evansville, each up one place from last week. Kentucky State climbed into the final spot in the Top Ten.

TWO FOR LACKEY — Forward Bob Lackey prepares to add two more points for fifth-ranked Marquette as Jeff Morris (43) of Tulane loses balance and starts to fall in Wednesday night's game. Marquette won 73-60.

FIGHTER AND TEACHER — Tommy Hicks is a fighter-scholar who loves both boxing and his teaching career. He meets second-ranked Mike Quarry in a light-heavyweight bout March 10. Hicks is still looking for that big payday but says if any conflict between his teaching and boxing ever arises, the kids come first.

Houston Accepts Bid To NCAA Tournament

HOUSTON (AP) — Tournament-wise University of Houston will go into the NCAA playoffs for the ninth time March 11 against the Southwest Conference champion but the opponent doesn't matter to UH Coach Guy Lewis.

"I don't care who we play," Lewis said after the 13th ranked Cougars accepted their invitation Wednesday. "I'm just happy to be going."

Lewis' attitude was understandable since the Cougars

IN ADDITION TO HOUSTON NCAA Invites 8 Other Teams

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Marquette, the team Coach Al McGuire says has "something extra to try to prove," heads the list of the nine at-large basketball teams that accepted invitations Wednesday to the National Collegiate Athletic Association's university division playoffs.

The fifth-ranked Warriors celebrated their selection Wednesday night by downing Tulane, 73-60. It was the 23rd victory in 24 starts for the Milwaukee-based team.

Rounding out the nine of 25 starting spots to be filled by at-large clubs are South Carolina, the nation's No. 8 team with a 20-4 record; No. 9 Marshall, 23-2; No. 10 Florida State, 23-4; No. 11 Southwest Louisiana, 22-

3; No. 13 Houston, 19-6; No. 15 Hawaii, 24-2; Providence, 17-5; and Villanova, 18-6.

Marquette had been rated second and was considered a strong title threat not long ago. But then the Warriors' star center, 6-11 junior Jim Chones, suddenly signed a professional contract with the New York Nets of the American Basketball Association.

McGuire, however, is not about to discount the Warriors' chances.

"I feel as good or better about this one than the last one," he said of his team. "There's something extra to try to prove here. I think the ball players will pick up the slack."

"It'll be interesting to be underdogs for a change."

In pairings announced Wednesday by the NCAA, only three of the at-large entries know their opponents for the first round beginning March 11. Regional championships follow March 16-18, and the finals unfold in Los Angeles March 23-25.

Southwestern Louisiana and Marshall square off in the Midwest regional at New Mexico State, Las Cruces. Hawaii meets Big Sky Conference champ Weber State in the West regional at Idaho State, Pocatello.

The scramble for first-round positions remains wide open, but the regionals now appear to shape up this way:

East—Middle Atlantic Conference champion vs. South Carolina, at William and Mary; Southern Conference champ vs. Villanova, at Princeton; Ivy League champ vs. Providence, at St. John's.

Midwest—Mid-America Conference winner vs. Marquette, at Tennessee; Ohio Valley Conference champ vs. Florida State, at Tennessee.

Midwest—Southwestern Louisiana vs. Marshall; Southwest Conference champion vs. Houston, at New Mexico.

West—Weber State vs. Hawaii; California State-Los Beach vs. Brigham Young, at Idaho State.

Sands Courts Region Crown Tilt Tomorrow

LEVELLAND — The Sands Mustangs, representing District 8-B, meet Sterling City, representing District 11-B in the Region 1-B tournament at 8:15 p.m. here Friday.

The Mustangs will carry a 30-3 record into the match while Sterling City supports a 22-6 slate.

Both teams advanced to the regional tournament after respective bi-district wins last week.

Old Glory, a 26-B powerhouse, meets District 17-B king Mozelle at 7 p.m. Friday at Stephenville. The Mustangs nipped the Old Glory team in two pre-tournament games. Old Glory is expected to do well in the Region 1-B, while Sands is expected to do well in the Region 1-B.

In other Region 1-B games: Channing (31-3), winner of District 1-B, meets Anthony (15-2), winner of District 16-B at 9 p.m.; McAdoo (30-6), winner of District 9-B, meets Anton (29-2), winner of District 5-B at 4:15 p.m.; and Hedley (29-6), winner of District 4-B, meets Buena Vista (17-14), winner of District 13-B at 7 p.m.

The semifinals begin Saturday with the top bracket winners meeting at 10 a.m. and the lower bracket meeting at 11:15 a.m. The championship will be that evening at 8 p.m. in the South Plains College Dome.

Steers Capture Season Opener

LUBBOCK—The Big Spring Steers nipped Lubbock Coronado in a nip-and-tuck game in weather that was a bit nippy.

The Steers came from behind to finally capture the baseball season opener for both teams, 13-9, on a cold and windy Wednesday afternoon.

David Carter who started the game at shortstop, was the winning pitcher. He relieved several of his teammates who faced not only a Lubbock team that gathered 12 hits but also a strong, chilly wind.

The Steers, down by 8-7 going into the top of the last inning, scored six runs off one hit in the last inning to climax the three-hour duel.

Lubbock pitcher John Ross walked Carter to load the bases in that inning. Third baseman Ricky Steen, who was three for three at that point, blasted a triple to deep right field. Carter Pete Shaffer then belted a hard grounder thus scoring Steen. Ross walked in the other two runs in that inning.

Carter was credited with two runs-batted-in. Carter and Steen coupled to clinch the opener for the Steers. Steen was given four RBIs.

Coronado jumped to a 3-0 lead in the first inning as Jerry Stein belted a home run for the Mustangs. But the Steers roared back in the second inning with a single by Steen and a double by Tom Brewer, first baseman, to drive in three runs. Big Spring finished with four runs in that inning.

The Steers jumped to a 7-3 margin in the fourth inning on singles by Steen, Earl Reynolds, and David Newman. The Mustangs powered to a 8-7 edge in the sixth inning, but the Steers overpowered them in the last inning.

Big Spring's baseball team will meet Lubbock High in Lubbock tomorrow.

Busceme Vies For Record Fifth Win In Golden Gloves

FORT WORTH (AP) — James "Bubba" Busceme, a rapid firing 20-year-old lightweight from Beaumont, will bid for a record-tying fifth title in the 36th annual State Golden Gloves Tournament tonight.

Busceme also has won two national championships plus a national AAU title and recently boxed in Europe and Russia on a tour with U.S. amateurs.

Only two other fighters have won five state titles—heavyweight Tom Adams of Abilene and lightweight Morris Corona, who represented Beaumont. Adams won his last title in 1951 and Corona campaigned here from 1939 to 1944.

Busceme will be one of four 1971 state winners defending their titles. Dallas flyweight James Martinez also went on to a national championship last year.

The other three are Fort Worth middleweight Paul Stephens, Temple light-welterweight Billy Miller and El Paso featherweight Junior Vincencio.

Another 1971 champion, Houston's Johnny Boudreaux, has moved up one division into the heavyweights, where he will bid for the vacated title of three-time winner Nick Wells of Fort Worth. Wells isn't competing because of Air Force duty.

Other top names in the 115-man field are welterweight Pat Ozuna of Wichita Falls, who won the 1969 lightweight title, and light-heavy Sam Hatton of Fort Worth, who won that division in 1970 and lost in the finals to Boudreaux last year.

Cities entering teams are Amarillo, Austin, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Odessa, Temple, Tyler and Wichita Falls. Houston and Fort Worth tied for the team title last year.

The tournament will continue Friday and Saturday nights and the finals will be held Monday night.

Fish Springing In Lake Spence

Spring has brought good reports from fishermen at Lake E. V. Spence.

Staff members from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Commission ran a one-night test at the lake this week on the striped bass population. They recovered 34 of the bass, apparently from the 1969 introduction, which averaged 4.94 pounds.

The largest specimen weighed 6 pounds 11 ounces.

Paul Burns, Robert Lee, hooked a 21-pound yellow cat on a trot line along with several channel cat. Hank Baker came in with a 25-pound yellow cat and several channel cat Sunday.

John Page, also of Robert Lee, reported a 10-pound and a 12-pound cat on his trot line, and a Mrs. Kilgore, Midland, hooked a 3-pound striped bass last Saturday, using a minnow as bait.

Border Olympics Previews SWC's New Cinder Season

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — The 40th annual Border Olympics, billed as the nation's first major outdoor track and field meet of the season, begins Friday, boasting its largest university field in history in what boils down to a preview of the Southwest Conference championship.

Rice captured the Border Olympics in 1971 and used the momentum through the rest of the season to wrest the SWC track title away from the Texas Aggies.

Every SWC club is on hand except Arkansas.

The Owls and fast-improving Texas, which claimed the Southwest Recreation Track and Field Meet last week, are the teams to reckon with in the University field which also includes North Texas State and Lamar University.

The Owls are paced by NCAA national champion Dave Roberts in the pole vault.

Roberts was named the outstanding performer last year when those voting in the press box were informed he had cleared 17-feet when actually he had topped 16.7. The ballots were quickly changed in favor of distance man Junior Lee of Howard Payne after the mistake was discovered but by that time Roberts was en route to Houston with the trophy.

Rice's Mike Cronholm seeks a repeat in the intermediate hurdles. In 1971, he set an all-time Border Olympic mark of 51.8.

Texas and Southern Methodist have two returning champions. The Longhorns' Alan Thomas returns in the discus and Carl Johnson is back in the 100. Thomas hurled the platter 175 feet last year while Johnson

Foul Mouthed Bandit Sought With 'Bait'

ELSA, Tex. (AP) — Officers searched in the Lower Rio Grande Valley today for a foul mouthed, pistol waving bandit who took $21,461 from the Elsa State Bank and Trust Co. Wednesday.

The robber, described as a Mexican-American with long hair and tattoos on his face and hands, took one hostage as he fled from the bank. He held 12 employees at gunpoint while a woman employee filled a canvas bag with money.

The hostage, former Harlingen policeman Lloyd Barlow, was released a short time later north of Weslaco. A car belonging to Paul Blair, a bank employee, was found a short distance from where Barlow was freed.

Witnesses told officers they saw two men near the abandoned car, leading officers to speculate the man had an accomplice waiting for him at the intersection with another car. The witnesses did not see another car.

The Texas Department of Public Safety later broadcast an alert for a 29-year-old Edouard man sought as a suspect in the robbery.

Blair said the robber used foul language during the robbery. He said he admonished the man not to curse in front of the women employees. Blair said the man stopped cursing and became polite.

Bank President Terry J. Morrow said the money taken by the robber and placed in Blair's car by Mrs. Mary Rivas, another employee, included some "bait" money that had been marked for robberies.

Lubbock Scene Of Conclave

The past, present and future of cotton will be scrutinized at the Sixth Annual Cotton Production Meeting of the South Plains Development Program in Lubbock, March 8.

The conference is slated for 1:20 p.m. in the Koko Palace. The program was started in 1967 to furnish South Plains agriscientists, producers and homemakers the latest information to increase income and family living standards.

The cotton meeting will open with Danney Wellford, who is an economist with the National Cotton Council. He will cover such questions as the qualities of cotton that will be in demand this year, as well as his views of cotton marketing and prices in the future.

Roy McClung, Cochran County agricultural agent, will discuss cotton irrigation and seed quality. He will be followed by Dr. Levon Ray of the Texas A&M University Research and Extension Center at Lubbock. Ray will report on some of the current cotton varieties, problems in reproducing them, and needs for the future. The researcher is noted for his pioneer work in the development of narrow row cotton varieties that are rapidly increasing in popularity over the nation.

John J. Siebert, Extension economist from College Station, will cover the aspects of forward contracting of cotton. Walter Wells of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will explain the new provisions of the Government farm program and also producer options in the feed grain program.

Marvin Sartin, Extension area economist at Lubbock, will conclude the program with a discussion on how South Plains cotton producers can fit the government farm program into their farming operations.

The meeting is sponsored by the area county agricultural agents and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and is open to anyone interested in the West Texas cotton industry.

Plan To Recruit Black Officers

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch has outlined a major statewide campaign to recruit black officers for the Houston police department. Welch said a major target of recruiting teams will be black colleges and armed forces separation centers. The teams will include policemen, civil service personnel, and a representative of the mayor's office. Welch said the current 2,019-man force has 63 black policemen and two black cadets.

Local Musicians Compete In Region VI Contest

More than 200 young musicians from Goliad Junior High, Runnels Junior High and Big Spring High School will match their skill against a standard Saturday in the annual University Interscholastic League Region VI band and solo contests. The three local bands will have 211 individuals in the brass, woodwind, and percussion solo contests to be held in Midland High School.

Bentsen, Tower, Vote On Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both Senators from Texas—Lloyd Bentsen, Democrat, and John Tower, Republican—voted with the minority Wednesday as the U.S. Senate defeated 48-47 an attempt to revive an amendment that would prohibit federal courts from ordering busing to desegregate schools. The amendment defeated by the one-vote margin was offered by Sen. Robert R. Griffin, R-Mich. Both Tower and Bentsen have voted consistently with the Senate's anti-busing group.

Texas Star Has Article On Legendary Harte

Houston Harte, the subject of an article in this Sunday's Texas Star, is today, at 79, a Texas newspaper legend whose dailies have the largest combined circulation in the state. When he first saw San Angelo, he thought it resembled a dilapidated fruit orchard. Harte was one of the founders of the Harte-Hanks group of newspapers, among which The Herald is one of the first members of the family established over 30 years ago.

In his own town he has been regarded as the individual most responsible for creation of Angelo State College, having given substantial sums of money to it.

In his own way, he has moved with some of the political greats of the state.

But his community honored him in 1970, on the 50th anniversary of his arrival. At a banquet, where he was presented a gold reproduction of his newspaper, a banner proclaimed: "San Angelo, a city with a Harte."

"Hot Hand at the Wheel" is the title of an article about A. J. Foyt, who will risk death to win a race — or to save another driver — and will be gunning this year for his fourth victory at Indianapolis. He would be the first driver to achieve it.

Tess Thomas quotes one of his competitors as saying, "You can race wheel to wheel with him all day and never worry. He goes by the rules. He will beat you, but he will beat you fair."

Easy yet elegant are the traits most people look for when preparing hors d'oeuvres. They come in every form — chips, dips, crackers, spreads, hot or cold.

As spring arrives, entertaining turns to an even more casual atmosphere than in winter months, with guests strolling about the house and patio. It's important to have a variety of appetizers placed at strategic points for people to snack on.

Place 1 rounded tablespoon cheese mixture in center of each biscuit; brush edges with remaining melted butter. Bake in 450 degree oven about 10 minutes, or until golden brown. Remove from oven. Combine corn syrup and water in saucepan; heat until mixture begins to boil. Remove from heat. Brush on each pastry.

Cancer Gives 'Caution' Signs

Danger signs of cancer were outlined by Dr. Henry Butler, dermatologist at Medical Center Memorial Hospital, for Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Monday at La Posada Restaurant.

Dr. Butler used the word "caution," to analyze the symptoms of cancer, with each letter signifying a danger sign. Possible signs are: a change in bladder or bowel habits, a sore that doesn't heal, unusual bleeding or discharge, thickening in the breast, in digestion or difficulty in swallowing, obvious change in a wart or mole and a nagging cough or hoarseness.

About 25 years ago the major type of cancer in women was cancer of the uterus, but Dr. Butler said the pap smear has virtually eliminated this as fatal. He said lung cancer is the biggest killer of man, and it is hard to detect early.

A side of beef will be awarded March 13 as a fund-raising project. Mrs. Malcolm Ryan will make the presentation at 6:45 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce office. Proceeds will be used for local and national BSP projects.

A program, "See and Know," was given by Mrs. Don McDonald and Mrs. Richard Biel. They displayed a "happiness box" which contained items to cheer people.

Mrs. Biel said travel is a source of happiness.

"People who cannot travel to foreign countries should see places in the United States, and those who can't travel much in this country should get to know their own city," she said. She distributed a list of things to see and do in Big Spring.

Carpet Padding Adds To Comfort

You can get away without using padding under carpeting, but you'll be much more comfortable with padding.

In addition, padding helps to cushion the shock of walking by absorbing crushing forces on the pile. Thus it can lengthen carpet life and protect your investment.

Pioneers Sew

Members of Pioneer Sewing Club continued work on individual handwork Tuesday in the home of Mrs. C. L. Gooch, Sterling City Route. Refreshments were served. The next meeting is at 2 p.m., March 7 in the home of Mrs. J. D. Leonard, 2310 Roberts.

Women Executives Can't Take Pressure?

"Even though there are laws prohibiting discrimination against women, only a small per cent of the work force in large industry is composed of women," said Mrs. J. W. Dickens, speaking Monday evening to Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

"Even a small percentage of executive positions are held by women," continued Mrs. Dickens. "Authorities in industry give reasons for this is the pressure of high level positions, long hours of work and travel which is often required. The same authorities feel that most women do not have the emotional makeup to hold these positions."

work do not neglect their children," said the speaker. "In fact, they try harder to do more things for their children and husband to make up for the time they have lost with them."

Women put their home and men have to put their jobs first in order to provide for their family.

Mrs. Dickens presided for the meeting, which was held in the home of Mrs. Tommy Mills, 2411 Alabama. Tentative plans were made for spring rush events. The next meeting will be a St. Patrick's Day party, 7:30 p.m., March 13 in the Dickens home, Silver Heels.

MARGARET DANA'S Consumer's Question-Box

Q. In a recent column you said a polyurethane foam mattress was more fire resistant than latex foam. But I saw a TV special which said urethane foam creates a deadly smoke that can kill people even if they are not burned by the fire. If this is so please explain your statement about urethane being fire retardant.

A. The two things are different hazards. Urethane foam, which today is usually treated for fire, or flame resistance when used in bedding, does not catch fire as easily as untreated latex foam. But once on fire, urethane foam does indeed give off toxic smoke, as do many other plastic materials. Moreover, urethane foam, as I mentioned recently, has the capacity to burn without a flame touching it, under excessive heat, such as in an automatic dryer. This again is not related to its flame resistance.

Q. Recently our local electric power company had to turn off the power in our area for six hours. I avoided opening my freezer and refrigerator as much as possible, but wondered how long food would be safe under these conditions. Can you supply any facts?

A. The first and most important thing to do is what you did — avoid opening your freezer and refrigerator. How long the food in the freezer will remain frozen depends on the amount of food in the freezer. A full freezer will stay cold many hours longer than one only a quarter full. A refrigerator will not remain cold as long.

If the food becomes warm, especially meat or poultry, discard it. If you can take it out while still cold, cook it immediately. This will give you a little more leeway in holding it, but not six hours in a warm room. Fresh vegetables in the refrigerator will of course keep that long. Cooked ones may turn however.

The real test of safety is actually the temperature of the foods — if still cold to the touch, they are probably safe. If warm, they are doubtful.

Q. Will you please answer two questions which have been bugging me for a long time. Is it true that aluminum cookware affects the food value of foods cooked in it and actually poisons people eating them? And do Teflon linings of pans have a harmful effect on foods cooked in such pans?

A. I have checked the research done on these two questions by various independent groups in colleges and universities, as well as by the Federal government. The conclusion is that no harmful effect on foods is caused by either. A lot of material has been published accusing these materials of toxic effects, but this research has been proven both out of late and unscientific, and actually primarily used to promote competing products.

Q. I would like to know what are the actual differences in the various kinds of cheddar cheese in stores. Why does "sharp" cheese usually cost more than "mild" when it's the same cheese?

A. The length of the "aging" period is what makes the difference in both flavor and cost. "Mild" cheese has been aged two to three months, and its flavor has developed only slightly. "Mellow-aged" cheddar has been cured four to seven months and has a much better developed flavor. "Sharp" cheese has been aged eight to 12 months, and so has the full

Streusel Takes Bake Off Prize

The following recipe for Streusel Spice Cake won $25,000 for Mrs. Carl DeDonicis of Verona, Pa., in the 23rd Pillsbury Bake Off in Houston Tuesday.

STREUSEL SPICE CAKE
 1 pkg. Pillsbury yellow cake mix
 3/4 cup milk or water
 1/2 cup butter or margarine, melted
 4 eggs
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 1 envelope pre-melted chocolate or 1 oz. square unsweetened chocolate, melted
 1/2 cup flaked coconut

FILLING
 1/2 cup flaked coconut
 1/2 cup chopped nuts
 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
 2 tbsps. flour
 2 tps. cinnamon

GLAZE
 1 cup powdered sugar
 1 tsp. butter or margarine, softened
 2 to 3 tbsps. milk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour 10-inch tube or Bundt pan. Blend in large bowl first four (4) ingredients until moistened; beat as directed on package. Stir in coconut and nuts. Marble chocolate throughout batter. Pour half of batter, about 2 cups, into pan. Combine in small bowl all filling ingredients. Sprinkle 1/2 over batter in pan. Cover with remaining batter; sprinkle with remaining filling. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 to 55 minutes until top springs back when touched lightly in center. Cool upright in pan 30 minutes; remove from pan. Cool. Blend glaze ingredients in small bowl until smooth. Glaze cake.

Two $5,000 winners in the Bake Off were Mrs. Donald Goldklang of Los Angeles, Cheesy Biscuit Rings; and Mrs. Bobby Wilson of Leesburg, Ga., Rocky Road Fudge Bars. Their recipes follow.

Potato Salad In A Hurry
 Want to prepare a small amount of potato salad in a hurry? Simply take a can (1 1/2-oz.) mayonnaise style potato salad and combine with two slices of all meat cooked salami, cut into squares; two hard cooked eggs, diced; one teaspoon prepared mustard and one tablespoon chopped dill pickle. Chill. Makes two hearty, tasty servings.

Apple Decoration Colorful, Quick
 For a colorful and quick centerpiece polish several apples until they shine. Arrange in a long, shallow bowl with dark green laurel or holly leaves. Tuck clusters of green and purple grapes, and gold-sprayed nuts in the arrangement.

Chill-Chasing Chili Is Wintertime Picnic Dish
 Don't come in from the cold; stay out and have a winter picnic. A "crowd" which loves cold weather action will surely warm to the thought of staying outdoors for lunch. Hot food, of course, is a must.

The secret is to do the basic cooking the night before, then put everything together before you head for the snow. As a main dish, you might cook up some spicy, chill-chasing chili to ladle over hot dogs. Or choose a zesty pork creole, hot chocolate, or coffee brewed right at the campsite, are guaranteed icebreakers.

On outing day, rise and shine early to prepare and pack the picnic portables. Head for the scene of action, stash the foods in a secluded spot and spend the morning on the ski slopes, a toboggan run, a skating pond.

Then gather to build a crackling fire and start cooking. 4 tbsps. butter or margarine
 3 cups chopped onion
 3 cloves garlic, finely minced
 2 lbs. ground beef chuck
 3 cans (8 oz. each) tomato sauce
 1 tsp. ground cumin seed
 1 to 3 tbsps. chili powder
 1 can (15 1/2 oz.) kidney beans
 1 can (1 lb.) pinto beans (if not available, use 2 cans kidney beans)
 1 tsp. salt

The night before: Heat butter in skillet. Sauté onion and garlic until golden and soft. Add meat and brown. Transfer to a covered saucepan or Dutch oven, draining off excess fat. Add tomato sauce, cumin, one tablespoon of chili powder, beans with their liquid, and salt. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer covered for an hour. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking to bottom of pan. After cooking for an hour, taste chili and add as much of the remaining chili powder as you like. Simmer for thirty minutes to an hour longer. Refrigerate overnight. Next morning: Reheat to boiling. Pour into vacuum container which has been preheated by rinsing with very hot water. At picnic site, reheat in heavy skillet. Serve alone in bowls or over grilled frankfurters and toasted buns for a heartier feast. Ample for eight hungry sports.

CAMPFIRE COFFEE
 You can make your coffee by any favorite home method, pour it into a preheated thermos and take it (along with a small thermos of cream and a jar of sugar) to your snow picnic. If you're in the mood for roughing it (it's more fun that way), make it right on the slopes. For eight cups, take along one cup of regular (percolator) grind coffee. At campsite you'll need a plain coffee pot and six cups of water or melted snow. Bring the water to a boil, remove it from the heat for just a few seconds and add coffee. Want to make more?

The proportions are two tablespoons or one coffee measure per six-ounce cup of water. Place the pot near enough to the heat so the coffee will steep for six to eight minutes. Don't let coffee boil. Just before you pour, add a little bit of cold water or snow so the grounds will settle. Then it's ready to serve. Makes eight steaming hot cups of delicious camp-brewed coffee.

COFFEE TIME — Always ready for a coffee break, Mrs. Dwayne Fraser welcomes friends who "just drop by for a chat" during the day. Most of her time, however, is spent working on a wide range of hobbies. The "memory book" shown on this hutch is an example of her work. She also does many other forms of arts and crafts.

Attractive Home Items Are Result Of Hobbies

In every room of the Dwayne Fraser's home, 2713 Central, there is evidence of Mrs. Fraser's artistic talents. "I'm not really talented," said Mrs. Fraser (Kay). "I just like to mess around with a lot of different hobbies." Her "messing around" includes decoupage, tole painting, crinkle art, making gessoed memory books and fake fur flowers. When she isn't working on something of her own, she is often demonstrating one of the hobbies for one of the local women's clubs.

The Frasers are both originally from Coahoma, and have lived in Big Spring for three years. He is an electrical engineer at Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. The couple has one son, Carey, 3.

Mrs. Fraser also enjoys refinishing furniture and has antiqued several items in their home, including all of her kitchen cabinets. The "memory books," however, are her favorite pastime. They are very time-consuming since every page must be individually glued together before the final antiquing is done. She has completed about 10 of them.

With a keen interest in wood working, Fraser has also added a lot to the family's home. He built several items for Carey's room, and is presently converting their two-car garage to a large den with fireplace.

In the kitchen, Mrs. Fraser continues to use her imagination when preparing meals. During the hot summer months she admits she seldom turns on her oven. Most of their meals are prepared on a gas grill on the couple's patio. One of their favorite indoor meals is beef fondue.

The couple loves to entertain, and hosts informal, small dinner parties at least every two weeks. That's when Mrs. Fraser usually tries a new recipe. She said the practice of experimenting on guests has gotten her into trouble a couple of times, but the menu usually comes out pretty well.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fraser eat a lot of desserts, and this is the part of the meal she most likes to prepare. She gathers recipes from newspapers, magazines and friends and eventually gets around to trying most of them.

Neither of the Frasers eat breakfast, and Mrs. Fraser said she and Carey just snack throughout the day, with a big meal at night when Fraser gets home.

Mrs. Fraser is from a small family and never learned to cook at home, but thoroughly enjoys the task now. Her only foreign food attempts have been Mexican, but the couple prefer standard American dishes most of the time.

When weekends come around, the family likes to get in the car and just drive to different towns. They are avid water skiers. He also plays handball at the YMCA.

The Frasers are members of College Baptist Church where they sing in the choir and teach church training classes. Fraser is a Civitan, and Mrs. Fraser is vice president of the Civinettes.

Fraser received his bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Texas Tech in Lubbock where she attended Draughon's Business School. She previously worked in the district clerk's office for one year.

Jack Rabbits Popular With Italian Hunters
 The following recipe was noticed by a local woman recently when it ran in the Los Angeles, Calif., Times. The story with the recipe stated that an Italian, Nereo Battistuzzi, purchased jack rabbits, from Idaho farmers for $1.85 each, to be shipped to game preserves in Italy.

Electric Pencils Thwart Burglars

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — A borrowed electric engraving system will not only allow quick return of stolen goods but also act as a deterrent to burglars, who generally sell their booty to fences or pawn shops.

The pencils are the only equipment needed for a new property identification program aimed at cutting burglaries which went into effect recently.

The computer identification system calls for valuable goods—from cars to tools, toasters and tricycles—to be engraved with the owner's driver's license number. The number would be recorded in the regional police computer along with the owner's address and phone number.

When police recover stolen items marked with a license number, they can simply "ask" the computer whose number it is. Recovered goods can then be returned to the owner.

Finding owners of stolen material is a difficult task, police say, because owners can't identify their possessions.

Only 63 area homeowners got any property back after 481 houses were burglarized in 1971. More property was recovered, but it couldn't be identified.

The Police Department has auctioned off bicycles, tape decks, hubcaps and many other stolen items because their owners couldn't be located.

Police feel the property identification system will not only allow quick return of stolen goods but also act as a deterrent to burglars, who generally sell their booty to fences or pawn shops.

By making valuables easily identifiable as stolen, such markets will dwindle, police think.

Decals advertising that possessions in a house are marked for easy identification could serve as an additional deterrent.

Since 1963 there have been only three burglaries in 4,300 Monterey, Park, Calif., homes participating in a similar program. In the remaining 7,000 non-participating houses, there were nearly 2,000 burglaries, officers here said.

The program is operated on a regional level, with Arlington, Dallas, Grand Prairie, Mesquite, Denton, Fort Worth, Tarrant County Sheriff's Office, Irving and University Park participating.

The Tarrant County Sheriff's Office will make the program available to about 30 smaller communities.

More than 100 electric pencils are available at the police station and all fire stations for checkout by residents. The pencils may be checked out for three days at no cost.

The bidding:

1 ♥ Pass 1 NT Pass
4 ♥ Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Nine of ♠
A substantial swing resulted in today's hand taken from a recent team-of-four contract when one declarer resorted to an unorthodox play in the trump suit to thwart an impending ruff.

The bidding was the same at both tables. When South's opening bid of one heart was kept open by North's one no trump response, the former wished to be in game inasmuch as he had 21 points in high cards and distribution, and responder had shown at least six. A jump to three hearts while highly invitational is not forcing.

A jump to three no trump would be considered acceptable, however, South was reluctant to commit himself to that contract with a slightly unbalanced hand and he chose instead to proceed directly to four hearts.

At one table West opened the nine of spades and East played the ace as declarer followed suit with the ten. A continuation did not appear inviting and since South's jump to four hearts apparently marked him with most of the missing high card strength, defensive prospects were not bright. East reasoned that the best chance was to find West with a high trump honor and, in the hope of obtaining a ruff, he shifted to his singleton deuce of diamonds.

South overtook the ten of diamonds with North's queen in order to lead a trump. East played the ten which was covered in turn by the queen and ace. A diamond was returned by West and East ruffed with the jack of hearts to complete the defensive book. South won the club return and cashed the king of hearts, however West's nine stood up to score the setting trick.

At the other table the play progressed in the same manner until the trump was led from dummy and East played the ten. Declarer reasoned that if he covered and West had the ace of hearts, a diamond return would be ruffed. He accordingly decided to permit East to hold the trick and he played the three of hearts from his hand. West could not gain by overtaking so East was in with the ten of trumps, but there was no way to put West in to obtain a ruff.

East shifted to a club and South played the king of clubs, followed by the king of hearts and East's jack fell under the ace. West returned a diamond, but East was out of trumps and South was in to draw the last heart with the queen. In all he lost two trump tricks and one spade to chalk up the game contract which had failed at the other table.

Speed Reading Course Set To Begin In Big Spring

Arrangements have been made to conduct a 21 hour course in speed reading. The course is open to anyone above the age of 13 and guarantees every graduate a reading speed over 1,000 words per minute with at least a 15 per cent increase in comprehension.

The course requires a person to attend one class per week on the evening of their choice. For those who would like more information without obligation to enroll, a series of FREE one hour orientation lectures have been scheduled.

These meetings are free to the public and the course will be explained in complete details including entrance requirements, classroom procedures, class schedule and location. You need to attend only one of the meetings whichever is the most convenient for you. These free one hour orientations will be held as follows.

French Agents Grab 937 Pounds Of Pure Heroin

PARIS (AP) — The French ship Caprice des Temps was seized Feb. 29 and a search of pure heroin aboard a found this morning. The drug was haul in history. The announcement said the of a ship known to have been engaged in cigarette smuggling, bought the Caprice des Temps, a 60-ton shrimp boat, although he had no experience in fishing. They set a watch on the Caprice. When she left Villefranche, on the French Riviera, Tuesday night, two customs speedboats overtook her and fired warning shots across her bow when she wouldn't stop. Agents boarded the ship and took it to Marseille for the search. The first search turned up nothing suspicious, but it was apparent the boat had undergone considerable repairs and changes. Examination was made of the empty spaces under the tanks for storing the fish catch and the concrete covers of the hold were given a close examination. The drug was found in watertight sacks embedded in the cement. Police from the drug brigade are trying now to locate the source of the heroin.

1.27 MILLION ON WELFARE

NEW YORK (AP) — The number of persons receiving welfare payments in New York City has risen to $1.27 million, "the highest point in years," Human Resources Administrator Jule Sugarman says. Sugarman said in a radio interview the welfare load is increasing by 3,000 to 10,000 persons a month.

Senate Okays $23 Billion Higher-Education Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a $23-billion higher-education bill and sent it to a conference committee to determine how firmly Congress should legislate against busing of pupils. The Senate version of the bill, which also authorizes $1.5 billion to help school districts desegregate, was approved on an 88-6 vote Wednesday. The Senate added comparatively mild restrictions on busing. But the House, acting on the legislation last November, tied to it three stringent antibusing amendments.

Finding a common ground on busing will be one of the major questions, but not the only one, in the conference which is expected to begin in about two weeks.

KEY DIFFERENCES
There also are important differences on the formulas for aid to college students, for federal assistance to colleges and universities, and for paying out federal funds to assist school districts faced with desegregation problems.

The Senate dealt Wednesday with a last-gasp effort to revive the tough antibusing rider sponsored by Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., defeating it 48 to 47. This proposal first was tentatively adopted 43 to 40 last Friday, then rejected 50 to 47 Tuesday.

Hopes of the busing foes had been centered on the Griffin proposal which would eliminate the right of federal courts to issue busing orders in school-desegregation cases.

FUNDS THREAT
The tough provisions of the House-passed bill would: —Prohibit use of any federal funds to support busing to achieve desegregation. —Bar federal agencies from persuading school districts to use their own funds for this purpose. —Stay, pending final appeals, all busing ordered by courts in desegregation cases.

The mid-busing restrictions voted by the Senate were written to tie into the House provisions and cut back their effect. In the higher-education part of the bill, which contains the bulk of the money authorized, the Senate version contains a brand new formula entitling all college students to $1,400 yearly grants, less family contributions, based on uniform federal standards.

The House measure would continue this type of aid in the usual way—loans, grants and work-study programs channeled through college financial-aid officers.

There also is a wide variation in the way the two versions would provide direct support for institutions of higher education. The Senate bill would provide allowances based on the number of federally aided students enrolled. The House measure would key the assistance to full-time enrollment of the colleges and universities.

Historic Fill
ASOTIN, Wash. (AP) — A county road crew buried Indian Petroglyphs along the Snake River, University of Idaho anthropologists say. But the anthropologists add that the drawings' primary value was esthetic and that most of the designs had been duplicated before the crew covered them with crushed boulders. The crew was providing fill for widening an area road.

It's Limited

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When people make expensive weddings or Bar Mitzvahs, I can understand why they might not want small children. But when they invite friends who have children in their late teens (or even older), living at home, I think it's an insult to the parents and their children to exclude them.

I am a widow with a 20-year-old daughter and a 21-year-old son at home, and I will never again accept an invitation which does not include them. Why should I have to come alone? Do you agree with me?

BURNED UP IN BROOKLYN
DEAR BURNED: No. When one invites a single adult (widow, widower, divorcee, etc.) to a large affair, a thoughtful gesture would be to indicate that an escort (or every adult conversation. Worse yet, this child is never left home! Even on New-Year's Eve his parents dragged him to an adult party! This kid was allowed to stay up until the party ended at 2:30 a.m.!

Our problem: A club to which we belong is planning a charter flight to Europe this summer, and these friends have signed up WITH the boy included. This is not a family type trip, Abby. Nobody else is taking a child. We all agree that this kid is a pain in the neck. But who should tell the parents?

ANONYMOUS PLEASE
DEAR ANONYMOUS: Why should anyone "tell" them? Now that it's become obvious that "the kid" goes everywhere with Mamma and Papa, those of you who do not care for the arrangement should absent yourselves from their company.

DEAR ABBY: Around October, we begin to receive personalized key chains, boxes of soap, assorted special occasion cards and a variety of other items we have not ordered. All of them are supposedly sold for the benefit of the handicapped or underprivileged, and it may be legitimate, but there is a limit to how far we can go in our giving. Just before Christmas, we get boxes of Christmas cards. Some of them are quite lovely, but we prefer to select our own cards.

Abby, what is one expected to do with these things? I know we are not legally obligated to pay for anything we did not order, and don't think I should have to spend my time and money to rewrap and mail back these things.

I just can't throw them into the fireplace. My Scotch instincts rebel against such waste. And I surely cannot use them. I would feel guilty.

So, what do you suggest?

MRS. J. P.
DEAR MRS. J. P.: Give them to needy people who can use them. Then send a postcard to the organizations that sent them to you, telling them how you have disposed of their merchandise, and requesting that your name be removed from their mailing list. (And if they send you more stuff, repeat the procedure.)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 67706, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

DEAR ABBY: We have friends who have an only child, eight years old. He was born long after his parents had given up all hope of ever having a child. (I mention this only so you will know why they dote on him.) This boy has never known discipline, so he is spoiled rotten. He is exceptionally bright, so his parents hang on to his every word and permit him to dominate

Your Good Health.
Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My wife had a stroke four years ago and underwent surgery two weeks later. We put her in a therapy clinic where they were very efficient. She was in a wheelchair when she started treatment. Now she is up and can get around with the aid of a cane and brace. She seems to be improving slowly. Should she discontinue therapy? — G.D.K.

Four years is a long time and, although your wife has probably reached a high percentage of her ultimate recovery, by all means continue any therapy you can reasonably give her at home. The last peaks of stroke recovery are as difficult to make as the last few feet of a mountain climb.

And there's another reason. The therapy will prevent slippage from progress already made, minimize weakness of any still immobilized limbs and keep her healthily occupied. You don't mention your wife's age. The younger the victim, the more fruitful extended therapy can be toward nearly full recovery. After age 60, progress is often painfully slow. For victims in their 40s, say, it can be speedily and remarkably — with therapy.

You also mention in your letter that there was a period after the stroke when therapy was not available, an unfortunate but probably necessary occurrence because of the surgery. As a general rule, the more immediate the therapy is after the stroke, the more hope for fuller recovery. Her physician should advise her when treatment can be discontinued.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send a copy of your booklet on "Leg Cramps," for which I enclose 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. What would cause one's hands to feel numb or as we say, "fall asleep"? — G.B.C.

Such numbness in the hands or arms would be an entirely different matter, unrelated to leg cramps. Most common cause is the pinching of nerve somewhere — very often in the neck, as a consequence of some degree of arthritis in the spine. The trouble may also be in the wrists — the carpal-tunnel syndrome. Some folks notice such a numbness when waking in the morning, but not during the day. The explanation often turns out to be that pressure on a nerve track in the neck is under pressure when you are lying down, but not when you are upright. In such cases, sleeping on one's side or trying a higher or lower pillow can change posture enough to relieve the pressure. It doesn't have to be much. When a nerve is "pinched" or put under pressure, the sensation (as in the hands) may be noted at a considerable distance from the point at which the nerve is being affected.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In regard to the "itchy bottom" problem, I would like to pass on my solution, as given by my doctor. He suggested that the soap or detergent was not all getting rinsed out of underclothing, and suggested an additional rinsing after machine laundering. I started doing this and it eliminated my "itchy bottom" problem. — J.E.M.

Just goes to prove that quite a lot of different factors can cause an itch. Thank you; thank your doctor.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a son who is constantly cracking his knuckles. He makes a fist and squeezes his knuckles together. Is this bad for his hands? Mrs. J.J.

Not that I'm aware of. But I do sympathize with you if, like myself, such cracking annoys you.

Chill Replaces Wild Weather

By The Associated Press
Wild weather which accompanied a cold front's southward sweep through Texas subsided today and a sharp new chill routed the sprinklike warmth of the past few days.

As much as 1.58 inches of rain fell at the Beaumont-Port Arthur airport, where a mixture of gusty showers and thunderstorms made its last stand before trundling into Louisiana. Tornado watches for 27 East Texas counties posted because of the turbulence expired without word of damage.

Temperatures which climbed into the 80s and 90s over much of the state Wednesday afternoon tumbled 40 degrees or more in many places by this morning as stiff north winds reinforced the new onslaught by winter.

By dawn skies were clear in the Texas Panhandle and clouds were disappearing everywhere else behind the frontal system, which had spread over all but the state's southern tip.

The mercury divered to 13 degrees above zero at Perryton in the Texas Panhandle, a section where scattered snow fell in some areas during the night.

Readings elsewhere included Amarillo 17, Dalhart 19, Childress 21, Wichita Falls 22, Lubbock 23, Abilene 28, Dallas and Midland 30, Marfa and Mineral Wells 31 and Alpine 32. In warmer areas the range was in the higher 30s and 40s, with Brownsville at the tip of the Lower Rio Grande Valley recording a 57.

Top marks Wednesday afternoon went as high as 91 degrees at Cotulla in Southwest Texas, and 94 at McAllen in extreme South Texas. Amarillo was the coolest spot with a high of 60.

Moisture amounts at other points included Longview 1.08 inches, Texarkana .90, Tyler 1.8, Houston and Lufkin .07, Pecos 1.05, College Station .04 and Galveston .03.

Another cold night was predicted with skies remaining clear to partly cloudy. Forecasts called for lows down to 20 in the Panhandle - Plains sector, 25 in North Central and Northeast Texas and the middle to low 30s elsewhere.

Jack Armstrong, Not All-American Boy, Forced Down

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Jack Armstrong of Houston, Tex., escaped injury Tuesday night when he was forced to land his single-engine airplane on U.S. 71 near Lockesburg.

State Police said Armstrong was approaching the Texarkana airport to make a refueling stop en route from Chicago to Shreveport, La., when his engine lost power and the plane began to lose altitude.

Armstrong said he landed the plane on the highway and taxied the craft onto a parking lot in front of a roadside cafe.

Armstrong said he did not know what caused the plane's engine to fail.

Indian Dance Highlights Cub Program

Indian dancers from the Order of the Arrow highlighted the Cub Scout Pack 179 Blue and Gold banquet at the Big Spring High School cafeteria. They performed authentic chants and dances for about 140 Cub Scouts, parents, and guests and honored Monty Stokes, scout executive, with one dance.

Austin Ferguson, Order of the Arrow advisor here, explained the purposes of OA to the group.

Team members, attired in personally handmade costumes, were Eddie Young, Lynn Ashley, Post 136, Paul Newton, Jan Baghall, Denny Tidwell, Troop 1, Robert Downing, Kent Brashears, Troop 179; and Gary Gillihan, Post 44.

Cubmaster C. G. Evans presented a plaque of appreciation to Larry Speck for five years' continuous service to Pack 179.

New Bobcats inducted were Alan Wheeler, Randy Kruse, David Shanks, and Johnny Hatch. Wolf badges went to Leslie Willard, Rodney Smith, Craig Chandler, Troy Tompkins, and Garrett Braun.

Arrow points were earned by Ted Bartley, Garret Braun, Ken Schadel (2), and Robert Floyd (3); and Webelos activity medal by showman, Jesse Cuggy. Tim and Jim Freeze received one-year pins.

Piano music during dinner was played by Webelos Jim Wilmes; invocation was by Webelos Billy Jim Davey; the Rev. Melvin Mathis, pastor of Kentwood United Methodist Church which sponsors the pack, was introduced as institutional representative.

Den 6 presented a patriotic closing ceremony in keeping with the banquet theme, "Scouting Around the World."

Suspected Paid Killer Hearing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Missouri man indicted in the alleged contract killing of a Dallas man was to be arraigned here today on a fugitive warrant. Dallas officials are here seeking to have John C. Jackson, 46, extradited to Texas.

Jackson, of Plattsburg, Mo., is charged with the last August slaying of Billy C. Barnes in Barnes' office at Farmers Branch, a Dallas suburb.

Barnes' body was later found crammed into the trunk of a car parked at Love Field in Dallas.

Plans To Walk Way Into U.S. Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Tom Cartledge said today he plans to walk his way into the U.S. Senate.

The 29-year-old Democratic candidate for the senate told newsmen he would take a five-weeks walk across the most populated area of Texas "to prove that you don't have to have a million dollars to run for office in the state."

Cartledge said he would announce his starting date and exact route later.

"I'm going to walk every inch of the way. I'm not going to ride between cities. It will be an honest walk," said Cartledge who is still a graduate student at Midwestern University. He is due to receive his master's degree in political science in May.

"I'm still making out my route and schedule but I imagine it will start about the middle of March or at least the last week in March. It will be a walk of over 300 miles...as an old Marine I will have no problem doing 10 and 15 miles a day...it will take a month and a half and cover one-half the population of the state."

"Cartledge said his decision to dramatize his protest of high campaign was brought about by the successful campaign march of Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., in 1970.

"He started at one end of Florida an unknown candidate and by the time he got to Miami he was well known...Chiles spent $20,000 and his Republican opponent spent $2.5 million."

Cartledge said Democratic party records show it cost $15,000 to run for Congress in Texas in 1962 and now it takes at least $125,000. "If you run in places like Austin or Houston it may take $200,000 or $300,000 or $400,000," Cartledge said. "There has been a 1,000 per cent increase in campaign costs during that time."

"A man runs on what money he can get, not on what he wants to do."

Cartledge said it was his opinion that one of his Democratic opponents, Ralph Yarborough, really wanted to run for governor but his supporters told him "We can get you enough money to run for the Senate but not for governor."

$9 BILLION Housing Measure Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed a $9-billion housing bill described as one of the most important put together in years.

Major provisions of the bill would control closing costs on home mortgages, subsidize mass transit deficits and consolidate federal housing programs.

The measure, sent to the House where action isn't likely until after the Easter recess, includes some of President Nixon's recommendations, but Democrats altered several of them.

The mass-transit feature of the legislation would furnish federal subsidies to pay deficits of subways, bus lines and commuter trains.

WIFE OF TEXAS SOLON DIES

WASHINGTON (AP) — The wife of Texas congressman Richard G. White is dead of apparent carbon-monoxide poisoning.

The body of Mrs. Katherine White, 42, was found Thursday by her son Raymond, 16, when he returned from school. Mrs. White was lying inside the garage in the family home in suburban Chevy Chase, Md.

Police said the boy dragged his mother outside and called police, but she was dead when they arrived. They have listed the death as accidental pending autopsy results.

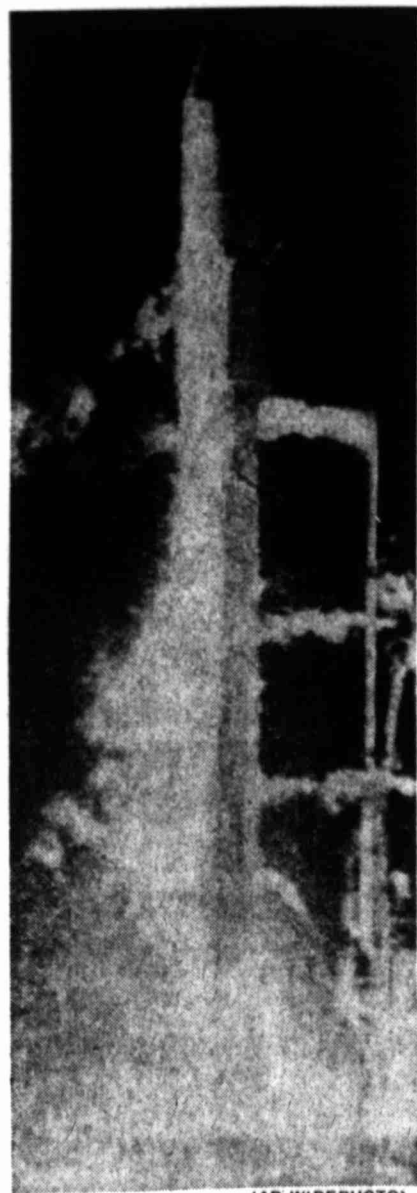

Another son, Richard, 18, was found unconscious in an upstairs bedroom, police said. He is in good condition in a hospital.

EX-MINISTER WIL PROUD PAPA

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Controversial ex-minister Wil Schaefer and the woman over whom he lost his pulpit became the parents of an infant son Thursday, it was reported here.

A close friend told the San Antonio Express that Schaefer's wife gave birth to the seven-pound, four ounce infant at the couple's farm near Luling.

"Both mother and son are doing fine," the friend said late Thursday after the infant was born by natural childbirth.

PIONEER BLASTS OFF — Pioneer 10 blasts off from Cape Kennedy, Fla., Thursday night at record speed on a 21-month trip to the planet Jupiter and eventual escape to distant galaxies. The spacecraft bears a message for alien civilizations.

Ballard Must Die In Electric Chair

ALPINE, Tex. (AP) — Convicted murderer Witmer Jean Ballard must die in the electric chair as punishment for the shotgun slaying of Glasscock County rancher Stephen Currie, a jury said Friday.

Appeal in such cases is automatic.

The jury conferred for nearly three hours before deciding on the punishment, twice the time they took to decide their verdict.

"It is now therefore the judgment of the court that you are guilty of murder with malice aforethought and your punishment is death," Dist. Court Judge Charles E. Sherrill told the accused.

Ballard was ordered removed from Brewster County jail here and transferred to the city jail in Midland.

The 46-year-old defendant received the punishment decree with little visible emotion and then rose and told the jury he wanted to thank them for the time and consideration they extended in his case.

"I am not guilty of this crime," he added.

The eight men and four women comprised the jury delivered their guilty verdict Wednesday night after an eight-day trial and testimony from 31 witnesses.

ALPINE — A jury comprised of four women and eight men Thursday evening convicted Witmer Jean Ballard of murder with malice in the shotgun slaying of Stephen Currie, Glasscock County rancher.

One hour and 35 minutes after receiving the case, the jury returned its verdict. Thursday evening, after retiring to deliberate his punishment, the panel retired for the night. The state had asked the death penalty.

CHARGE LEVELED

Ballard, who the state contended was the trigger man in the murder-robbery at the Currie home east of Garden City Dec. 2, 1970, was found guilty 14 months to the day after Currie was killed resisting an intruder into his home.

The defense, led by Bobby Bearden, Midland, contended that Ballard was the victim of a cruel frame to protest kin of state witnesses. This, countered Guilford Jones, special prosecutor, was the product of "Bobby Bearden's fertile imagination."

In his summation Thursday, Bearden contended that Ballard was ill and in bed on the day of the robbery murder, that he had no part in the planning or execution of the crime, and that Ballard was "too stupid at the time" to know what they were doing to him. He claimed that Mrs. Janie Montgomery, with whom he had lived, responding to a report from others that "we've killed a man, what are we going to do?" decided to put the blame on Ballard. Bearden, in his pleas to the jury, said that Ballard was being tried on the testimony of admitted thieves and prostitutes. He also alleged that Floyd Palmer (since deceased) was the trigger man.

Jones, acknowledging state witnesses were not the best type, said that they were nevertheless Ballard's closest friends and knew most about his plans and actions.

Ralph Burleson, another defense attorney, argued that Currie was not killed by a 12-gauge shotgun as indicated by introduction of a sawed-off shotgun in evidence, but rather by a 16-gauge gun. Jones said this was not likely because the 16-gauge gun was a double barrel and had the breech broken to eject a shell, both shells — the spent and the unspent — would have been tossed out. But there was only one shell found.

Moreover, he argued, a person firing one shot during the course of a robbery would not break the breech of a gun, but would rather eject the shell from an automatic (such as the 12-gauge gun).

District Attorney Wayne Burns led off the summation with a detailed review of the evidence, pausing to comment on what he considered the clear weight of the testimony against Ballard.

SAFE AFTER SEVEN-HOUR ORDEAL — Anthony Bernardino, 5, is taken on stretcher to a helicopter after he was rescued from the bottom of a 30-foot narrow hole he fell into while flying a kite at a construction site in El Monte, Calif., Thursday night. Anthony spent almost seven hours in the hole while rescue workers dug another shaft and tunneled over to him.

Boy Flying Kite Falls Into Deep Hole, 'Saved'

EL MONTE, Calif. (AP) — A rescue worker carried 6-year-old Anthony Bernardino to safety early today after the boy had spent almost seven hours tightly wedged 27 feet down a narrow hole.

The dirt-caked and pale youngster said, "Hi, Mommy, hi Daddy," to his parents before being taken by helicopter to a medical center for observation. He was reported in good condition.

'HOW'S JIMMY?'

"How's Jimmy?" the boy added in reference to his 8-year-old brother. The two were flying kites Thursday afternoon when Anthony tumbled into the hole on a road construction project in this Los Angeles suburb.

Rescue workers, newsmen and hundreds of onlookers cheered when the tiny boy was carried from a rescue shaft at 12:05 a.m.

"I never thought they wouldn't get him," his mother Sandra said. "I just wondered how long it was going to take."

At times rescue workers could hear the boy crying, then laughing hysterically.

Jim Bernardino, the boy's father, said, "I'm really happy. They (rescue workers) really did a good job."

Hospital attendants said the youngster apparently suffered no serious injuries.

BECAME IMPATIENT

As workers sank a 30-foot rescue shaft adjacent to the hole in which Anthony was trapped, Dr. William Baker of El Monte talked with him through a stethoscope extended on plastic tubing. Oxygen was pumped to within inches of Anthony's face.

At one point, authorities said, Anthony apparently became impatient and said he would dig himself out if workers didn't hurry.

Attempts to lower volunteers, including a 4-foot jockey, into the hole to Anthony proved unsuccessful. One volunteer was able to touch the boy but couldn't pry him loose because he was too tightly wedged.

The boy fell backwards into the opening, landing with one foot down and the other up. His head was jammed against the knee of the upright leg.

The boy was pulled to safety after workers drilled the rescue shaft about eight feet from the hole in which he was trapped. Then they dug under the hole. Anthony dropped into the arms of workman Frank Dill, who handed him up to a sheriff's deputy.

Anthony tumbled into the hole at about 5:20 p.m. A worker at the site said he saw the youth fall and rescue efforts began immediately.

Huge bits ripped into the sandy soil as other rescue workers rigged a crane over the hole. At nightfall the area was flooded with lights from several portable generating plants.

Kleindienst Testimony Challenged By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy today challenged testimony by acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst that he had no knowledge, until about six months after settlement of anti-trust suits against International Telephone & Telegraph Corp., of a charge that the settlement was related to a pledge to help underwrite next August's Republican National Convention.

Kennedy, a Massachusetts Democrat, raised the issue as the Senate Judiciary Committee went into a second day of hearings of its investigation into the handling of the anti-trust cases against the giant conglomerate and the out-of-court settlement made by the Justice Department last July.

NO KNOWLEDGE

Kleindienst, deputy attorney general for the last three years, has been nominated by President Nixon to succeed John N.

Mitchell as attorney general.

Kleindienst testified Thursday and reiterated today that he had no knowledge of a commitment by the Sheraton Hotel subsidiary of ITT to help defray costs of the GOP convention next August until the commitment became public through the press in late November or early December of last year.

Judge Richard W. McLaren of Chicago, former head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, also testified that he first learned of the reported commitment of up to $400,000 when the story broke in the newspapers.

LOBBYIST LINK

Kleindienst on Thursday denounced as completely false a memo—attributed to a missing woman lobbyist—linking the antitrust settlement to the convention commitment.

'UNDERSTANDING' Sharp Gave His 'Blessing' To Bank Loans

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — "I smiled and he smiled," Houston promoter Frank Sharp told a jury today in recounting a meeting in a Houston hotel at which he said House Speaker Gus Mutscher said he might buy stock in a company controlled by Sharp.

Sharp said Mutscher told him of reversals in the stock market and then asked about stock in the Sharp-controlled firm, National Bankers Life Insurance Co.

STRONG HANDS

Sharp said he told Mutscher he was "very enthusiastic" about it and that the management of the firm was trying to get the stock "into strong hands, people of wealth who would keep it."

Sharp said he gave his "blessing" to loans by his bank to Mutscher and others to buy the stock. He said Mutscher called him six weeks later, Sept. 12, 1969, and said he wanted to sell the stock.

Sharp testified that Mutscher said he was "pleased" to report that banking bills sought by Sharp had won a large majority of votes in the Texas legislature.

Sharp, 65, a tall, grandfatherly man with a slightly pained expression, strummed his fingers as he vainly sought to remember exact dates. He wears a copper bracelet on his left wrist and told a newsman, "I have not had rheumatism in that hand since I put it on a year ago."

Sharp testified before the House General Investigating Committee last year that he reached the "understanding" with Mutscher in early July of 1969.

According to Sharp's former testimony, Mutscher told him in the Rice Hotel that Mutscher had lost heavily on stock market investments that Sharp had tipped him on.

OLD SUBJECT

Sharp says he then brought up an old subject between the two: banking legislation that Sharp wanted. And he mentioned another stock — an insurance company he controlled — that Mutscher could invest in.

Mutscher, Rep. Rommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Mutscher's aide Rush McGinty all bought stock on July 28, 1969, with money borrowed from Sharp's bank. They sold most of the stock at huge profits on Sept. 11 that year, two days after the banking bills Sharp wanted won approval in the legislature.

The state says Mutscher, Shannon and McGinty conspired to accept a bribe from Sharp in exchange for their influence on the Texas Legislature.

BRILLIANT LAWYER

The state opened its case Thursday with testimony from another Mutscher aide, F. C. "Sonny" Schulte, who also bought and sold the stock on the same day the defendants did. Schulte said he made a profit of $17,362 on the month-and-a-half investment. "At any time was anything sought to be hidden or anything not open and aboveboard?" asked a defense lawyer.

"Absolutely not," Schulte said.

The defense frequently objected to the prosecution's questions of Sharp which the defense said assumed facts not yet in evidence.

"I know this man, and he's a brilliant lawyer," protested Frank Maloney, pointing to Travis Austin County District Attorney Bob Smith. "There's no sense in his being coy. He knows how to ask the questions."

Herald's Newsstand Price Is Advancing

The Big Spring Herald will raise the newsstand price of its weekday edition a nickel to 15 cents, starting Monday.

In making the announcement, Robert N. McDaniel, publisher, said that the spiraling cost of production necessitated the change.

"Newspapers are invariably the last to adjust to the cost of living," McDaniel stated, adding that this was only the second price increase in newsstand prices invoked by The Herald in over three decades.

The newsstand price of The Herald's Sunday edition will go to 25 cents, McDaniel stated. Previously, the Sunday Herald's newsstand cost has been 20 cents.

Regular carrier home delivery subscription rates will not be affected by the increase.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR FIRST GRADERS

WASHINGTON (AP) — All children entering the first grade after Jan. 1, 1974, must be assigned Social Security numbers according to a proposal by the Senate Finance Committee.

Immigrants and all persons applying for welfare also would have to obtain numbers.

Under the present law, a person is required to obtain a number when he begins work.

The provisions were added by the committee Thursday to the Social Security-welfare reform bill being readied for Senate action.

Sponsors said the provisions would give additional weapons to the effort to uncover welfare cheaters by keeping track of people since these would be the only three times numbers would be obtained.

Chill Replaces Wild Weather

By The Associated Press
Wild weather which accompanied a cold front's southward sweep through Texas subsided today and a sharp new chill routed the sprinklike warmth of the past few days.

As much as 1.58 inches of rain fell at the Beaumont-Port Arthur airport, where a mixture of gusty showers and thunderstorms made its last stand before trundling into Louisiana. Tornado watches for 27 East Texas counties posted because of the turbulence expired with-out word of damage.

Temperatures which climbed into the 80s and 90s over much of the state Wednesday after-noon tumbled 40 degrees or more in many places by this morning as stiff north winds reinforced the new onslaught by winter.

By dawn skies were clear in the Texas Panhandle and clouds were disappearing everywhere else behind the front system, which had spread over all but the state's southern tip.

The mercury dipped to 13 degrees above zero at Perryton in the Texas Panhandle, a section where scattered snow fell in some areas during the night.

Readings elsewhere included Amarillo 17, Dalhart 19, Childress 21, Wichita Falls 22, Lubbock 23, Abilene 28, Dallas and Midland 30, Marfa and Mineral Wells 31 and Alpine 32. In warmer areas the range was in the higher 30s and 40s, with Brownsville at the tip of the Lower Rio Grande Valley recording a 57.

Top marks Wednesday afternoon went as high as 91 degrees at Cotulla in Southwest Texas and 94 at McAllen in extreme South Texas. Amarillo was the coolest spot with a high of 60.

Moisture amounts at other points included Longview 1.08 inches, Texarkana .90, Tyler .18, Houston and Lufkin .07, Palacios .05, College Station .04 and Galveston .03.

Another cold night was predicted with skies remaining clear to partly cloudy. Forecasts called for lows down to 20 in the Panhandle - Plains sector, 25 in North Central and Northeast Texas and the middle to low 30s elsewhere.

Jack Armstrong, Not All-American Boy, Forced Down

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Jack Armstrong of Houston, Tex., escaped injury Tuesday night when he was forced to land his single-engine airplane on U.S. 71 near Lockesburg.

State Police said Armstrong was approaching the Texarkana airport to make a refueling stop en route from Chicago to Shreveport, La., when his engine lost power and the plane began to lose altitude.

Armstrong said he landed the plane on the highway and taxied the craft onto a parking lot in front of a roadside cafe.

Armstrong said he did not know what caused the plane's engine to fail.

Indian Dance Highlights Cub Program

Indian dancers from the Order of the Arrow highlighted the Cub Scout Pack 179 Blue and Gold banquet at the Big Spring High School cafeteria. They performed authentic chants and dances for about 140 Cub Scouts, parents, and guests and honored Monty Stokes, scout executive, with one dance.

Austin Ferguson, Order of the Arrow advisor here, explained the purposes of OA to the group. Team members, attired in personally handmade costumes, were Eddie Young, Lynn Ashley, Post 136, Paul Newton, Jan Baghall, Denny Tidwell, Troop 1: Robert Downing, Kent Brashears, Troop 179; and Gary Gillman, Post 444.

Cubmaster C. G. Evans presented a plaque of appreciation to Larry Speck for five years' continuous service to Pack 179.

New Bobcats inducted were Alan Wheeler, Randy Kruse, David Shanks, and Johnny Hatch. Wolf badges went to Leslie Willard, Rodney Smith, Craig Chandler, Terry Tompkins, and Garrett Braun.

Arrow points were earned by Ted Bartley, Garret Braun, Ken Schadel (2), and Robert Floyd (3); and Webelos activity medal for showman, Jesse Curry. Tim and Jim Freeze received one-year pins.

Piano music during dinner was played by Webelos Jim Wilmes; invocation was by Webelos Billy Jim Davey; the Rev. Melvin Mathis, pastor of Kentwood United Methodist Church which sponsors the pack, was introduced as institutional representative.

Den 6 presented a patriotic closing ceremony in keeping with the banquet theme, "Scouting Around the World."

Jackson, of Plattsburg, Mo., is charged with the last August slaying of Billy C. Barnes in Barnes' office at Farmers Branch, a Dallas suburb.

Plans To Walk Way Into U.S. Senate

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Tom Cartledge said today he plans to walk his way into the U.S. Senate.

The 29-year-old Democratic candidate for the senate told newsmen he would take a five-week walk across the most populated area of Texas "to prove that you don't have to have a million dollars to run for office in the state."

Cartledge said he would announce his starting date and exact route later.

"I'm going to walk every inch of the way. I'm not going to ride between cities. It will be an honest walk," said Cartledge who is still a graduate student at Midwestern University. He is due to receive his master's degree in political science in May.

"I'm still making out my route and schedule but I imagine it will start about the middle of March or at least the week in March. It will be a walk of over 300 miles...as an old Marine I will have no problem doing 10 and 15 miles a day...it will take a month and a half and cover one-half the population of the state."

Cartledge said his decision to dramatize his protest of high campaign was brought about by the successful campaign march of Sen. Lawton Chiles, D-Fla., in 1970.

He started at one end of Florida an unknown candidate and by the time he got to Miami he was well known. Chiles spent $20,000 and his Republican opponent spent $2.5 million.

Cartledge said Democratic party records show it cost $15,000 to run for Congress in Texas in 1962 and now it takes at least $125,000. "If you run in places like Austin or Houston it may take $200,000 or $300,000 or $400,000," Cartledge said. "There has been a 1,000 per cent increase in campaign costs during that time."

"A man runs on what money he can get, not on what he wants to do."

Cartledge said it was his opinion that one of his Democratic opponents, Ralph Yarborough, really wanted to run for governor but his supporters told him "We can get you enough money to run for the Senate but not for governor."

And Cartledge said he thought Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes really wanted to run for senate instead of governor "but they told him we can get you more money to run for governor than for the senate."

"We've got to stop awarding elections to the man who spends the most money," Cartledge said.
