Bell Gets Death Penalty

ODESSA (SC) - A 161st District Court jury ruled Wednesday afternoon that Robert Wilseth Bell, 22-year-old Big Spring man, must die in the electric chair for the stabbing death last July 2 of Mrs. Sophie Giovanni.

The panel thus became the first in the history of Ector County ever to access the death penalty. The verdict was returned at 2:30 p.m., after 4½ hours of deliberation.

Formal sentencing has been set for 9 a.m., March 20. The verdict was received by the defendant without a trace of emotion.

'I'M NOT SURPRISED' He later said:

"I'm not surprised. This case never should have been tried in Odessa."

Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bell, displayed no emotion at the jury's finding. Appeal in a death penalty case is automatic under Texas law.

Defense attorney John Berke Jr., said he had at least six points of reversible error in the case, including jury misconduct. He said he and cocounsel Joe Connally had gone immediately to the jury room following the verdict and rummaged through a waste basket, where he discovered seven pages of his own trial notes wadded up.

Berke said he had no idea how the jury could have gotten his notes but that it was a reversible error for a jury to take into deliberations with them any items or documents which had not been properly admitted as exhibits by the court.

The trial notes each page which he showed to newsmen bore the printed words at the top "memo from the desk of John A. Berke Jr." 11-1 FOR DEATH

Additionally, Berke and newsmen found the jurors' ballots discarded in the waste basket, which indicated that the first vote by the jurors was 9-3 for the death penalty, with three jurors voting for life imprisonment. Later, the ballots indicated, the votes shifted to 11-1 for death. A final vote of 12-0 was indicated on a notation by the jury foreman, who acted as Indications were five ballots were taken.

District Attorney John Green Wednesday night told newsmen that he personally had called on the telephone 10 of the 12 jurors and they all told him that they did not have in the jury room with them any of Berke's trial notes, nor had they seen any. Green added that he felt assured that either District Judge R. L. McKim nor his bailiff had allowed any such papers into the jury

Judge McKim Wednesday night told reporters that he knew that the defense attorneys had probed the trash receptacle following the verdict. He added that the defendant himself on occasions during the proceedings had been in the jury room prior to the deliberations.

AIRLINES TIGHTEN SECURITY MEASURES

Fear Bomb Extortionists

World Airlines officials were reported today to be negotiating with extortionists who planted bombs on two jetliners and demanded $2 million ransom. Police said one unsuccessful ransom delivery attempt had been made.

Extraordinary security precautions were in effect on TWA and other airlines after a sophisticated bomb exploded in the cockpit of an unoccupied TWA jet in Las Vegas Wednesday. A bomb was defused in the cockpit of a plane at Kennedy airport Tuesday.

A TWA spokesman would not comment on a report in the New York Daily News that negotiations were under way. Earlier the company refused to say "whether, or under what circumstances, it would agree to pay ransom."

Despite the company denials, New York police said a private jet that landed mysteriously at Atlanta Tuesday night carried the $2 million the plotters demanded but that 'no actual turnover was made."

TWA Chairman Charles C. Tillinghast Jr. refused to discuss the case with newsmen at a dinner Wednesday night. "It would only prejudice our position to say what we know or what we are doing," he said.

Investigators continued to work on the theory that the bombs were planted by one or more persons who were present or former airlines industry employes because of their obvious intimate knowledge of airline operations.

Commenting on the Las Vegas blast, a TWA spokesman said, "Whoever put it on the airplane had to know his way around the industry. He would have to know a considerable amount about the aircraft."

Charles Wyre, TWA general manager in Las Vegas, said the plane had been searched in New York after the bomb was found aboard the first plane

Tuesday, and searched again after it arrived in Las Vegas.

The still-unfolding story began Tuesday when TWA received an anonymous call warning that a bomb was planted on a 707 jet that had just taken off for Los Angeles. The plane turned back and a trained dog sniffed out the bomb in a brief case in the cockpit.

The caller also directed TWA officials to an airport locker where they found two duffelbags and a note warning that four jets would be bombed at six-hour intervals unless $2 million ransom was paid.

TRUTH TEST "There has been a concerted effort to conceal the truth about ITT's settlement of its antitrust battle with the Justice Department," Anderson said in a statement prepared for the committee. This effort began before we published our first column on the subject and has continued without interruption

"The public record on this episode is blotted with falsehood. The aura of scandal hangs over the whole matter. It will not be dispelled merely by the self-serving disclaimers of present and former members of the (Nixon) administration and officials of ITT," Anderson

Anderson's columns, based on a memorandum attributed to ITT lobbyist Dita D. Beard, suggested that the Justice Department agreement to settle the suits against ITT was linked to the conglomerate's purported $400,000 commitment to the Republican National Convention.

Kleindienst has denied the suggestion and says the memo is false.

"There can be no doubt that Mr. Kleindienst played a major role in the settlement of the ITT antitrust cases," Anderson said. "He helped bring about a settlement experts have denounced as a sham. Having done this, he issued an utterly disingenuous statement about the matter indicating he had no role whatever . .

"This country needs as its top law-enforcement officer a man who understands the law and respects the truth," the columnist said. "Richard Kleindienst is not such a man. He is unfit to be attorney general.

Gambling Bug Bites Britons

LONDON (AP) - Britons are year, and most of them are losing, says a church report issued today.

Gambling is probably less of a problem than alcoholism, said the study by the Interdenominational Churches' Council, "but almost certainly exceeds that of addiction to drugs." It could become a major social problem unless tighter control laws are put in force, the council said.

Probably a million Britons bet regularly, more than double the number before the government legalized off-track betting 12 years ago, said the author of the report, the Rev. Gordon E. Moody, the council's secretary.

Newspaper Editor To Appeal Reject Pact Contempt Of Court Sentence

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge John W. Goodson, holding that a right to a fair trial takes precedence over the rights of a free press, held a newspaper editor in contempt of court Wednesday for publishing a story in violation of a court order Goodson suspended a 60-day jail sentence and a $250 fine assessed as punishment of Harry Wood, executive editor of the Texarkana Gazette and News.

Wood said the ruling would be appealed. He maintained in his answer to the contempt citation that the newspaper had a right to publish the story, which was based on a rape trial jury verdict returned in open court Feb. 16.

Clearing The Air

The Texas Supreme Court has ruled that tax dollars cannot be spent on primary elections without the legislature's consent. Most believe that Gov. Preston Smith will be obliged to call a special session to face this issue, because federal courts have put a crimp on assessments on candidates if these are burdensome (which they are when it comes to financing the entire primary).

The court verdict, while not the most welcome news for members of the legislature and for the governor, nevertheless clears the air. Some of the sporting opinions also throw some timely light on the subject. For instance: the court noted that "a 1916 ruling by the state supreme court that tax money cannot be spent on primary elections, on the grounds they are private and not public affairs, no longer holds water.

... This cannot be said today ... The party primary is an important part of the political process, as is attested by the many provisions in the Texas election code regulating it. . . . We hold that it lies within the discretion and power of the state legislature to appropriate state funds for this purpose," the court said.

WASHINGTON — Now that the United States has sent emissaries to various governments in Asia to explain the meaning of the joint communique covering the conferences between the Peking government and the President of the United States, it is interesting to note that there has been no adverse result.

IN THEIR INFORMAL discussions, American officials have dealt with many points that have attracted attention in the Asian countries. Thus, for instance, it was observed that the mainland Chinese did not request that the defense treaty which the United States has with Taiwan be abrogated or that diplomatic relations with Nationalist China be terminated. The governments which have been interviewed by American envoys understand that there is no intention to change the Taiwan situation at present. The American forces on that island will, of course, be reduced as our troops in Vietnam are gradually

In the communique, the United States promised eventual withdrawal of its soldiers from Taiwan when tensions are related. Some day, when the leaders in Taiwan and Peking get together, the time will come for a recognition of the removal of those derstanding of the clarifications and assurances" of the United States and indicated that the Taiwan government is satisfied with these.

THE FOREGOING may be the beginning of a long-range effort to do away with alliances and military commitments that have hitherto resulted in international entanglements. It would not be surprising ultimately to find no American ground troops anywhere in Asia but perhaps a naval fleet present in Pacific waters.

Certainly arms-control agreements are often talked about, but few of them are made. If the Vietnam war is ended and all military forces of the United States are withdrawn from Asia, the expectation would be that the major powers would not maintain large standing armies in other areas, since the whole emphasis would be on a peaceful set-up. Hopefully a U.S. pullback would find others doing

THE PROBLEMS of such countries as Vietnam and Korea may come before tribunals designated to find a way to give each area the independence it seeks and to provide freedom, along with pledges that no nation will be subjected to interference as it tries to live its own

THE PRESIDENT has focused attention not on alliances for war but on commercial relations and economic achievements that can provide widespread benefits around the world

WASHINGTON - The ITT-Kleindienst $400,000 misunderstanding has many tragic consequences. One is that the motives of one of the great conglomerates of this country are being questioned. There are certain skeptics who believe that ITT would never have offered $400,000 to finance the Republican convention in San Diego if the Justice Department hadn't agreed to let the conglomerate hold on to one of its prize possessions, the Hartford Fire Insurance Co.

I CAN STATE without qualification that this is not the case. The decisionto donate $400,000 to the Republican National Convention was made in good faith by men who felt strongly about preserving the two-party system. This is what happened:

The Republican Party wanted a national convention very badly, but they had no money to hold it. So, they went to the ITT people and asked, "Is there any possibility of donating any cash to the Republican

THE ITT people replied, "We would love to contribute to the Republican National Convention, but we have an antitrust suit pending with the Justice Department, and if we gave, say, $100,000, it might look as though we were trying to influence the Administration to make a decision in our favor." "Don't worry about that," the Republicans said. "No one will know you gave the money except President Nixon, Atty. Gen. John Mitchell and H. R. Haldeman in the White House."

"BUT." SAID the ITT people, "suppose Jack Anderson finds out about it? He has such a suspicious mind that he could come to the wrong conclusion, about the $200,000."

"You have nothing to worry about. Jack Anderson will never find out that you have contributed a dime to our convention in order to hold on to the Hartford Fire Insurance Co. - how do you spell that?"

You have a very persuasive case. Why don't you lay it out to Kleindienst and ask him to help you? I'm sure he will because he won't know anything about your generous contribution to the Republican Party."

Regulations Confuse

Steve Hultman

Getting a new car is always an experience, but with the new federal safety regulations, that experience has changed from one of joy to one of confusion.

TAKE THE federal regulations concerning seat belts in a new car. The buzzer that used to tell you your key was in the ignition when you opened the door - no matter the reason now loudly announces your seat belt is not fastened.

This is not much of a problem for the driver who wears his seat belt, as I do, but if you have someone, or something, in the front seat, it can be a big problem.

Shortly after my new car was delivered, I stopped for some groceries. I put the bag of groceries on the seat and started to drive home but as soon as I put the car in gear, a clamoring buzzer warned me that a seat belt was not fastened.

IT SEEMS that any weight on the passenger seat will set the buzzer off — even a bag of groceries.

I have since disconnected the seat alarm, because as much as I believe

Et Tu, Barry?

William F. Buckley Jr

My friend Sen. Goldwater has issued what is in effect a letter to American Conservatives in which he counsels them not to be apprehensive about the Peking Summit, nor to heed the "terrible distortions" of the comminique made by "newspaper reporters and news commentators." He informed us that not only has he read the communique carefully, as he urges Conservatives everywhere to do, he has talked personally to President Nixon and to Mr. Kissinger and to Mr. Rogers, and they reassured him, or perhaps at this point we would more accurately say they re-reassured him, everything is just fine, that nothing has been lost, that we should all be enthusiastic about the Peking Summit. Concerning all of which, a few

1. IT ISN'T MERELY conservative water alludes by indirection, who concluded that Mr. Nixon had, in Peking, substantially altered the traditional U.S. position on Taiwan. Consider, for instance, the dispatch by Mr. Joseph Kraft, the distinguished liberal columnist, written from Shanghai and published in the Washington Post on Feb. 29. "The big American loss" — yes, 1-o-s-s: and Mr. Kraft read the communique very carefully.

ANOTHER GENTLEMAN who carefully read the communique, who is a liberal, who was in China, who is an old China hand, was Mr. Stan Karnow who wrote in the same issue of the Washington Post: "The President's major concession to the Communists was a public pledge for the first time by the United States to withdraw all American forces and military installations from Taiwan ... Mr. Nixon acknowledged as well that the United States 'does not challenge' Peking's claim that Taiwan is Chinese territory, and that there is only one China. He further reaffirmed that the Taiwan question should be resolved by the Chinese themselves,' thereby emphasizing that the United States no longer bears responsibility for the problem.

2. MR. GOLDWATER'S handling of the troop withdrawl point is utterly mystifying. What he says is that after all, "the United States is always anxious to bring back its forces overseas when conditions warrant. and this goes not only for men and installations stationed on Taiwan but for the men and installations located in Indochina, in Korea, in Europe and elsewhere throughout the world.

Quite so. But what would Sen. Goldwater have said if President Nixon had issued a communique promising to disband the United States army, navy, and air force, 'when conditions warrant?" What would Sen. Goldwater have saidindeed what will he say - if Mr. Nixon were to come back from Moscow and tell us that we will withdraw our military forces from West Europe "as tensions diminsh?" In the very same communique the Chinese government states: "Wherever there is oppression, there is resistance. Countries want independence, nations want liberation and the people want revolution — this has become the irresistible trend of history . . . The Chinese side expresse (s) its firm Laos, and Cambodia in their efforts for the attainment of these goals." It pledges, in other words, firm support for subversion everywhere of free governments.

3. IF SEN. GOLDWATER doesn't believe that we have made a major concession, of a hard psychological substance, he is living in his own world. At Yale University on the day Goldwater spoke, China expert stressed the Howard Chao psychological threat to Nationalist China's security: "Communist China (now) believes it can take Formosa without firing a shot."

It is bad enough to lose Taiwan. The prospect of losing Barry Goldwater is insupportable, and terribly, shatteringly sad.

Prenatal Study

HOUSTON (AP) - A Russian-born scientist has been awarded a $60,000 grant to study how unborn babies are affected by lack of oxygen.

Dr. Donald Rappoport, head of the Division of Molecular Biology at the University of Texas medical branch in Galveston, received the award from the United Cerebral Palsy Research and Education Foundation.

Oxygen deprivation in unborn and newborn infants is a leading cause of cerebral palsy, a disorder that now affects at least 750,000 persons in the United States.

doesn't matter what one believes. I was always taught that what a person believes determines what kind of a person he is. Is this right?

The same people who say that it doesn't matter what you believe in matters of religion, would be the first to say that it matters a great deal what one believes about communism, politics, civil rights and good manners. In other words to say that belief doesn't matter is to say that religion doesn't matter either.

Belief is so important that God has seen fit to make it a condition of

It can be said that we are what we believe. What we believe effects our personalities. What we believe effects our character. Few things are more important than what we believe. True believing is not necessarily accepting what is handed down to you, or accepting the views of people you happen to like socially. It is following the convictions you know are true. regardless of the consequences.

Highway Bond issue Rejected

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) - Gov. David Hall's $250 million highway bond issue took it on the chin Tuesday, losing by more than a 3-1 margin and carrying only six of the state's 77 counties. With 3,001 of the state's 3,003 precincts reporting, the vote was 114,652 for and 363,676 against.

Hall and his supporters had expected to lose in the two big counties, but they counted on rural voters to turn out en masse to support the bond issue. The rural voters did turn out en masse, but they, too, overwhelmingly rejected the plan.

Install GAS air conditioning now and beat the rush that always comes with the first hot days. While everyone else is waiting on installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other kinds.

A GAS air conditioning system is ruggedly built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the steady blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and no compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs, its long life with no loss of cooling capacity, and its easy

maintenance with few repair bills. Install Gas Air Conditioning

GAS air conditioning also filters the air to reduce dust and pollen.

If you have a forced air heating system, you may be able to use the same ductwork for GAS air conditioning.

So, be foxy. Call Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a free air conditioning survey of your home or business.

"Patio Tacos may cost a little more... skimp on the beef."

Beef...the taste of beef is what separates Patio from the others. They really load the beef in their tacos-almost twice as much as the government* requires. I got to tell you for SuperMex, Patio delivers the beef taste...like nobody else.

So I don't look for price in my tacos... I look for beef. I'm not saying that because I've got a few dollars now...remember I was poor longer than I've been rich. Man, I was eating up Patio when I was just making thirty-five a week.

So, like I said to start with...Patio may cost a little more but they don't skimp on the beef."

Gov. Smith Postpones Date For Special Session

Rival candidates for governor took varied stances on the effects of a Supreme Court of Texas ruling that the secretary of state cannot finance primary elections until the Legislature appropriates the money.

Gov. Preston Smith, who is badding for renomination by the Democrats, said in Austin he will be compelled to call a special legislative session before the May 6 primaries because of the court's decision.

NO DATE

The governor set no date but Secretary of State Bob Bullock had aides checking to see how much cash local Democratic and Republican chairmen will need for the elections.

Meanwhile Smith formally called on the leaders of the two major parties to provide for a presidential preference poll on the primary ballots. It would not commit either party to the

"At the present time," the governor wrote to the state party chairmen, "Florida is the presidential preference primary. I think it is time to give the people of Texas an opportunity to voice their preference in the selection of candidates for president .

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, one of Smith's opponents for 'the Democratic nomination, predicted legislators would appropriate money for the elections in short order.

'DELAYED SO LONG'

Pledging cooperation with the governor in a special session "to the fullest extent in security passage of a primary funding bill," Barnes said, "I feel certain that a workable bill can be passed without delay and we can save the taxpayers the cost of a prolonged session."

Rep. Frances Farenthold, another contender for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, said in Houston that she regretted that the governor has "delayed so long" in calling a special session.

"Texas has been brought to her knees," she told her authe Student Bar Association at the University of Houston. "Our state government is in disarray.

Mrs. Farenthold said she nevertheless was prepared "to readjust my personal plans and go about tending to the state's business. I feel my first obligation is to the office I hold now." South Texas rancher Dolph

Briscoe, a Democratic candidate for governor, said in Abilene he did not think a special session is needed to finance the primaries. FEES TOO HIGH

Candidates' donations and voluntary help of election workers would solve the situation, he said. Of the filing fee ruling, Briscoe said "this points up the

A Republican candidate for governor, Tom McElroy said that Barnes should "submit to a publicly-held lie detector test to clear the air of suspicions about him" following allegations about his connection with bank insurance legislation in 1969 involving Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

LETTER Capitulates On Price

Enclosed is my check for a year's subscription to the Big Spring Daily Herald. For years now I have relished my daily trips to the neighborhood newsstand to get the paper. I had consciously avoided subscribing, even knowing that I was probably paying more this way, because I enjoyed the outings — especially on Sunday mornings. With your latest price increase though, you finally forced me to sit down and figure out that 52 Sunday editions would cost me $13 and 260 daily editions (is that about right?) would cost me $39 (not counting) tax). My happy "paper outings" aren't worth the extra $27 or

Besides that, I can't find the paper on the newsstands any more anyway with your new masthead! "Daily Herald" means nothing without the name of the town prominently associated with it! Not to me at any rate. I think that when a paper is definitely associated with a town, the town's name should be prominent, especially if the paper aspires to regional coverage and must compete with other papers on newsstands outside its own city limits. Therefore, at the risk of sounding status quo-ish I'll say "I liked the old masthead

To close on a positive note though I will also say that it seems that I have seen more editorial comment that actually takes a definite position on issues of national and state concern and I approve of that. There seem to have been format changes that add visual interest to the paper also.

JOSEPH DAWES 2501 Broadway

P.S. Now that I am a dues paying subscriber, could I suggest that in the interest of ultimately reducing paper costs and also reducing paper pollution The Herald might establish on its property at 710 Scurry a collection bin to which people might be encouraged to return their old newspapers for recycling? Is The Herald printed on recycled paper? If not could it start prodding its newsprint supplier to start providing such?

(There is a container - the smaller one of two - at the rear of The Herald for old newspapers. No, The Herald is not printed on recycled paper. While some recycled paper goes into print media, most of it goes into other paper products. -Ed)

Big Spring and surrounding communities will be represented Friday in the San Angelo Stock Show parade by members of the Howard County Sheriff's Posse.

Starting time for the parade is 10 a.m. Friday. It is believed that members of the Howard County Youth Horseman's Club are also to participate in the festivities, but The Herald was unable to obtain confirmation of
