

JAIL THREE

Kidnaping, Wild Chase In Cowtown

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Two women were home safe, three men jailed and two other men being hunted early today in the wake of a bank robbery, kidnaping and cross-country auto chase.

A four-hour drama began at noon Thursday when four armed men held up University State Bank here and fled with two women bank employees as hostages.

After fleeing in a private car to a south side residence, the men held guns to the women's heads while they highjacked a Fort Worth police car that had pursued the robbers.

What followed was two and a half hours of terror for the hostages — Mrs. Della Green and Mrs. Joan McCullough — as the men drove the commandeered police car for about 40 miles around northern and eastern Fort Worth in an effort to escape.

The women and the robbers alternately talked to the Fort Worth central police dispatchers, the women begging for the police to be called away from the car and the robbers threatening to kill their hostages.

At about 1:45 p.m., one of the men left the car and about 45 minutes later the remaining three men released their hostages, giving them the police car.

An hour later police, Texas Rangers and Department of Public Safety officers found the three men hiding in a storm drain just off the Eastside Freeway where they'd fled the car.

The men were taken from the drain without resistance.

Arrested were Lovell Lewis, 21; O. C. Washington, 32 and Eddie Glenn Griffin, 25, all of Fort Worth.

An intense manhunt remained underway late Thursday for the fourth man and a fifth man police said was part of the robbery plot, but who fled the scene at the bank.

The robbers took an amount estimated at well over $15,000 from the bank. Most of the money was recovered with the captured men. Police said they believed the missing fourth man has the remaining money.

Railroad Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The United Transportation Union struck the Southern Pacific Railroad today in a dispute over elimination of switchmen's jobs, George Lechner, UTU vice president said.

The surprise strike at 6 a.m. left nearly 11,000 commuters stranded on the San Francisco Peninsula as picketing began throughout the Southern Pacific system from El Paso to Portland, Ore.

About 20,000 employees of Southern Pacific are represented by the UTU, Lechner said, including conductors, trainmen, engineers, brakemen and switchmen.

ARMORED TRUCK THEFT 'KEY'

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Police speculated today that two men who stole $836,300 from an unattended armored truck Thursday used a duplicate key to get into the vehicle.

They said an employe of a key shop told them he had made an unusual duplicate key for a customer two hours before the theft.

Detectives said the midday theft Thursday was accomplished in four minutes while the truck driver and guard were inside a nearby building.

When Les Parker and Harry Willis returned to the truck, they drove a block before realizing that six bags of cash were missing.

Officers said Parker and Willis were positive the doors of the Doyle Armored Service truck were locked when they left it to take four bags of money into Eastman Kodak Co.'s Hawkeye plant.

Police said witnesses reported seeing a blue or green auto marked "Doyle Courier" pull up to the truck after Parker and Willis left it, open a side door, transfer the money to the car and drive off.

"Someone had to have another key," Detective Capt. James J. Cavoti said. He said there was no evidence of a forced entry.

Wholesale Price Index Climbing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices of food and a wide range of industrial products climbed an over-all nine-tenths of one per cent last month for the sharpest rise in a year, the government reported today.

Prices of farm products and processed foods, some of which are exempt from federal price controls, rose 1.9 per cent and prices of industrial raw materials and manufactured products went up five-tenths of one per cent, said the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The over-all February wholesale price rise, generally a signal of rising consumer prices later, was a little less—seven-tenths of one per cent—on an adjusted basis for expected seasonal price changes. On the seasonal basis, the increase was the largest since December.

ADJUSTED RATE

The report also said that the unadjusted rise of nine-tenths of one per cent would have been seven-tenths if agricultural products not subject to federal controls were eliminated.

It said that of the 1.9 per cent climb for farm products and processed foods, one per cent of it was for uncontrolled agricultural products such as raw fruits and vegetables, eggs and livestock.

The report said that the average monthly rise in the Wholesale Price Index since President Nixon imposed the wage-price freeze last August was four-tenths of one per cent, compared with a monthly average hike of three-tenths in the six months before the federal control program.

NIXON'S FREEZE

For the three months since Nixon's freeze gave way to the more relaxed control program, the monthly average rise was six-tenths of one per cent, the bureau said.

The February increase lifted the Wholesale Price Index for all commodities to 117.3 per cent of its 1967 average, four per cent above a year earlier.

The index figure means it cost wholesalers $117.30 last month on the average for goods worth $100 five years ago.

Didn't Know Market Value Of Stock Bought From Gus

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A Jesuit priest testified today he did not know the market value of stock he bought from House Speaker Gus Mutscher and others in 1969.

The Rev. Michael Francis Kernelly, his clasped hands constantly in motion as he twisted his fingers, testified at Mutscher's bribery conspiracy trial.

He said Mutscher and one of the co-defendants, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth, were present in the Sharpstown State Bank on Sept. 11, 1969, when the Jesuit Fathers of Houston Inc. paid $20 a share for 33,800 shares of National Bankers Life Insurance Co. stock.

HIS ADVICE

This was two days after the legislature approved banking legislation sought by Houston promoter Frank Sharp.

Earlier testimony showed the average market price of the stock that day was $14.75 a share.

Father Kernelly said Sharp told him it was a good investment.

"I generally sought his advice on matters financial," Father Kernelly said.

The former president of Sharpstown State Bank, Joe Novotny, testified Thursday that Sharp personally ordered the bank to make $689,758 in unsecured loans to two of the state's top three officials and four other aides or associates.

"I was presented with a list of names by Mr. Sharp," Novotny said in a barely audible voice. "He told me to fund the loans in the amount shown by the names."

"I was presented with a list of names by Mr. Sharp," Joe Novotny testified Thursday in a barely audible voice at the bribery conspiracy trial of Speaker Gus Mutscher. "He told me to fund the loans in the amounts shown by the names."

"I was to have checking accounts opened for those names, and I was to be given instructions later on what to do with them."

Novotny, a modish young man with wide-set brown eyes, said the list Sharp gave him contained these names and amounts:

—Gov. Preston Smith and his financial confidant, then state Democratic chairman, Elmer Baum, $275,000.

—Mutscher $130,250.

—Mutscher's father, Gus F. Mutscher Sr., $62,250.

—Rep. Tommy Shannon, Fort Worth, Mutscher's chief House lieutenant, $49,929.

—Rush McGinty, Mutscher's top administrative aide, $49,929.

—F.C. "Sonny" Schulte, another Mutscher aide, $22,400.

Mutscher, Shannon and McGinty are being tried on a charge of conspiring to accept a bribe from Sharp in exchange for their help on banking legislation Sharp wanted passed by the Legislature.

Novotny said Sharp ordered him to make the loans "on an unsecured basis."

WHAT ARE THEY?

These were not even loans based on financial statements, so far as the bank was concerned, Novotny said. Financial statements for the defendants were filed with the bank, he said, but not until after the loans were made.

This contrasted with earlier testimony by Sharp that he told Mutscher he did not make loans, that Mutscher would have to see officials at his bank.

Airline Execs Discuss Extortionists, Security

By The Associated Press

Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe opened a meeting of top officials of the nation's 29 biggest airlines today to discuss how to deal with extortionists and said Congress may have to prohibit airlines from paying ransom to hijackers.

And retired Air Force Gen. Benjamin O. Davis, chief of the federal force of sky marshals, said to improve security on the ground he will recommend a buddy system under which airline employees would work in pairs.

"I would not let a single individual enter an aircraft alone," Davis said.

The meeting of the airline executives was closed to newsmen but Volpe and Davis gave their preliminary report shortly before the secretary left for a speaking engagement in Mexico City.

Volpe said he could not go into details of any plan to prohibit airlines from paying ransom, "since this is a matter of airline management and we cannot tell them what to do."

"It is possible, however, that legislation may have to be introduced to prohibit such payments," he said.

Volpe said so far as he knows, in the current rash of extortion threats, no payments have been made.

Volpe and Davis said a regulation requiring airport operators as well as airlines to meet certain security standards is being moved forward from an effective date proposed earlier and will be implemented as soon as airport operators can take care of the additional equipment and personnel needs involved.

Volpe recalled that President Nixon on Thursday asked him to convene this meeting with leaders of the aviation community as soon as possible to deal with what the President called "vicious extortion plots" against the carriers.

"I can assure you of this: We are not going to tolerate the abuse of the nation's airlines or the abridgement of the freedom to travel by anyone," Volpe said.

NO SING ALONG WITH LESTER — Lt. Gov. Lester Maddox (right), asked state Sen. Leroy Johnson, Atlanta, to come forward and join him in singing Dixie as the Georgia Senate was about to adjourn. Johnson came forward but broke into the civil rights song, "We Shall Overcome."

New Draft Rules Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service told local draft boards today they may resume hearing the appeals of thousands of young men seeking deferments or exemptions.

The action ended a three-month freeze on such hearings before 4,100 local boards.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr said the move completes a two-year overhaul of the draft system, moving it from a state-local focus to President Nixon's goal of a national system.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

With Tarr's order, action can be taken on the 22,486 men who at last count on Jan. 31, had pending requests for personal appearances before draft boards or appeals to state and national boards. Several thousand others have applied since then and are awaiting action.

Tarr suspended all deferment hearings on Dec. 10 to re-evaluate the original reclassification proposals that had been criticized as unfair. When revamped rules were issued Jan. 12 he kept the brakes on so those seeking deferments or exemptions could take advantage of the revised rules.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE AGAIN DEFEATED

STANTON (SC) — Stanton property owners, for the second time in a period of months, have beaten back an effort to authorize construction of a new high school through the issuance of bonds.

Voters rejected the $1.2 million bond issue Thursday, 420-273. This was an even more decisive margin than when the idea was projected late last year. At that time, the issue was defeated, 380-300.

The money, had it been approved, would have been used for the construction of a new high school building and gymnasium, the addition of several rooms to the present high school structure (which then would have been converted into a junior high), plus an addition to the elementary school.

In addition, the current high school gymnasium would have been converted for use as a junior high fieldhouse.

GARY CONVENTION To Chart Direction Of Black Politics

GARY, Ind. (AP) — All week long, position papers on every issue of interest to black Americans have been flowing into a working center set up in Washington.

Drafted by black experts, or by state and regional meetings of black activists, they're the raw material for a National Black Agenda to be adopted this weekend in Gary.

If the hopes of its planners come true, the National Black Political Convention that convenes today will bring together 2,000 delegates to set the direction of black politics for the next decade.

Subjects on the agenda include the possible endorsement of a presidential candidate and organization of a black political party.

POLICIES FAIL
Judging from the working documents, black grievances will get a full airing at the Friday-through-Sunday meeting.

Most seemed to follow the tone of one that read: "Our cities are crime-haunted dying grounds. Huge sectors of our youth—and others—face permanent unemployment... neither the courts nor the prisons contribute to anything resembling justice or reformation. The schools are unable—or unwilling—to educate our children... white leadership and its policies have failed."

The men who organized the convention want it to be much more than a platform for publicizing grievances.

"This meeting of broadly diverse Africans in America must be the beginning, the initiation, of a realistic national black political movement which should result in the creation of some structure..." wrote Imamu Amiri Baraka, the former poet LeRoi Jones, now a black nationalist leader in Newark, N.J.

EXPOSITION NEAR Boy Scouts Face Eventful Period

Busy times lie ahead for the Lone Star Boy Scout district, reports from operating committee chairmen indicated Thursday at the monthly meeting.

Coming up immediately is the annual Scout Exposition at Highland Mall on March 18. There are 21 units participating to this point with an aggregate of 30 booths, said Capt. Clyde McLeod, Exposition chief. There is still time for other units to sign up and get a booth. Several units have asked for an additional supply of tickets, he said.

The Buffalo Trail Council Explorer Olympics are slated at Webb AFB April 21-22, according to Capt. Steve Paige. More than 150 senior boys are due to take part in 22 events with the top three posts eligible to go to the National Olympic team to Munich, Germany, in August.

ONE OF BIGGEST
The district camporee May 6-7 is shaping as one of the biggest and best yet, said Ralph Beckham, chairman. This will take the place of the council camporee and will be on the Roundup grounds in the City Park area.

Plans are shaping for project Reach, said Weiland Brown, health and safety chairman. This is joint affair for parents and Scouts and Explorers to sit down and discuss problems and establish better lines of communication.

The sustaining membership campaign is ready to take off, said George Zacharian, finance chairman.

The Rev. Kenneth Patrick, district vice chairman, is heading the unit solicitation;

James Ray Smith the other sponsoring institutions; and Jack Powell, the out-of-town prospects.

Laren McDowell announced these sustaining chairmen: Bill Wilson, agriculture; James Duncan and Arnold Marshall, oil; Jim Bill Little and Roger Brown, business; Judge Ralph Caton, legal; Dr. Clyde Thomas and Dr. Henry Butler, medical; Dr. Harold Smith and Clyde Angel, other. The kickoff will be at a March 17 breakfast at 7 a.m.

URGS TURNOUT
Bill Brooks, training chairman, pleaded for better participation in the Cu'o leader training session set for 7:30 p.m. Monday in Room 216 at the VA Hospital. There are more than a dozen new Cub leaders who need training, he said. Bill Priebe announced the Scout leader training will begin March 28, at 7:30 p.m. also in Room 216. There are eight troops with untrained leadership, he added.

Scouting units will be competing for three ribbons for conservation awards in the Exposition, according to Dr. Paul T. Koshi, conservation chairman.

Two new units were announced, one an Explorer post and the other a troop sponsored by the First Christian Church. Already this has 23 boys signed. Jim Armstrong, Midland, Scout executive sat in for Monty Stokes, who is ill. Assisting Clayton Hicks, district chairman, in the parley were Col. Malcolm Ryan, Robert M. McDaniel and Jack Powell, vice chairmen.

Contains systemic insecticide, which is absorbed through the roots to give invisible protection—that can't be washed off and thwarts certain sucking and piercing insects. It's a breakthrough for rose growers, means an end to troublesome dusting and spraying. Contains proper plant food balance.

Shoddy Procedures

Tax-weary Texans should sit up and take notice of that report issued by a special Senate committee investigating administration of the sales tax. If the committee's information is anywhere near accurate, taxpaying Texans are carrying a heavy load dropped by others, with lax tax collection procedures the culprit.

According to the committee's report, at least $12 million a year is being lost to the state treasury because the comptroller's office is insufficiently energetic; other estimates range much, much higher. The committee says up to 8 per cent of the businesses in Texas failed to pass along sales taxes in the 1961-68 period. And the rate of delinquency is growing worse, committee staffers report.

The trouble seems to stem from the state comptroller's office approach to sales tax collections. The emphasis has been on voluntary compliance; a very low percentage of accounts is audited to insure proper amounts are being paid. The investigating committee staff describes the state's tax auditing system as "quite frankly, in defensible." For one thing, the state employs an auditing staff of only 121, clearly not nearly enough to do any more than token checking of the 250,000 or so firms in the state liable for sales tax payments.

And it is not only the state which is getting short-changed; since municipal sales taxes are collected by the state and cities reimbursed from Austin, city taxpayers are hit two ways.

The first responsibility of a taxing authority is to see that administration of that tax is fair, equal and all-encompassing. According to the committee's findings, that just isn't the case in regard to the Texas sales tax. Before the legislature considers any additional tax burdens on Texans, it should see to it that the taxes now due the state and cities are collected; efficient administration just might determine whether any new tax legislation is needed to make fiscal ends meet.

Disgraceful Record

So far, only 12,750 individuals in Howard County have registered as voters for elections in 1972.

A year ago, at the same time, there had been 14,000 who qualified to cast ballots.

What makes this gap all the more discouraging is that this year's figures include 18-21-year-olds who could not register last year. So we're at least 2,000 off the pace.

This is not only discouraging; it is ridiculous.

It is downright disgraceful. Any citizen worth his salt — and we say it without apology — will register to vote. It is the very least he should do; it is the very least he must do if people power is to have real meaning in a democracy.

How about you? How about those who work for you? How about those you see every day? Ask and — when you find an unregistered citizen — insist that they sign up at once.

No Easy Move

Around The Rim

Piles and piles of boxes are all I see no matter which direction I look in my new apartment. Everywhere I put away the contents of one, another springs up in its place.

I HAD TO BE out of town just before the move to the new apartment was to be made, and then fiance — now husband and a friend moved all my belongings to the new site, which let me out of a lot of backbreaking work — or so I thought at the time.

We arrived last weekend at our new abode to be confronted by the old apartment, which had transformed itself into a mountainous pile of boxes in the middle of the living room of the new place.

return to work, we eliminated all but one or two of the less cumbersome boxes from our crowded nest. Now all that remains are boxes of wedding gifts which have not found proper homes in shelves and drawers.

I THOUGHT I had the corner on unorganized moving, but our wandering former city editor, Jean Fannin, told me while in San Antonio for our wedding that she had furniture to move as well.

Jean said she is the proud possessor of one bedroom suite, a card table and several cardboard boxes which furnish her apartment while she gradually acquires the furnishings of her dreams.

TRYING TO IGNORE the obvious, I left the pile where it lay, and tackled the timely task of writing thank you notes to all those who had been so thoughtful as to send us wedding gifts. Unfortunately, the pile did not thoughtfully diminish while I did this.

Finally, the night before I was to

About Primaries

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Results in the New Hampshire and Florida primaries — and even in several more states — aren't going to indicate who will be elected President in November. The contests within each party will help determine the Presidential nominee, but the primaries will hardly reflect the size of the vote that will be cast on election day.

IT IS DOUBTFUL whether in some states the primaries will bring to the polls as much as 50 per cent of the eligible voters. This is partly due to the fact that the contest is principally on the Democratic side, and many Republicans will not be voting because they are taking it for granted that President Nixon will win the primaries in their states.

There is a feeling throughout the country that President Nixon will be renominated without any substantial opposition. The vote he receives in the primaries will not be as big a percentage of the vote he actually will get in November.

SURPRISES CAN be expected, however. Many citizens between the ages of 18 and 21 who now have the privilege of voting will not do so for a variety of reasons.

EVEN MANY of the people who are older than 21 do not always get to the voting booths, and it is only in a year when there may be a close battle that the voting total is likely to be large. This year an uncertainty about who will be the Democratic nominee makes it difficult to forecast the kind of contest which will be witnessed when the conventions are over. It seems sure at this time that the Democratic nominee will be either Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota or Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine. Both have a substantial following, and, of course, Mr. Humphrey served as vice president under President Johnson.

THERE IS talk of establishing a national primary to take the place of the present system, but it is doubtful whether this would be adopted because it would really mean two campaigns more or less the same. The current method should be improved, of course, especially in developing closer relationships between local organizations and the national leadership of the parties.

THE MAIN trouble in presidential years is financing. Because members of Congress need money for their own campaigns, some of them are not too anxious to be raising money for the candidates for the Presidency in the primaries, too. But the expenses are growing, and lots of money will be spent in the state primaries this year as well as in the general election.

All in all, it is a costly pre-convention contest that the aspirants for the Presidential nomination face.

Over Reaction

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON — In the sordid political scramble over busing one of the few leaders to come out with honor is Gov. Reubin Askew of Florida. Askew, who was here for the governors' conference, unlike most of the statehouse executives unswayed by the emotional uproar, talked common sense and the urgent need to prevent a stampede toward a constitutional amendment that could demolish the start made at breaking down the "separate but equal" wall between the races.

TALL, LEAN, with a quick sense of humor that relieves his seriousness, Askew worked his way up through 12 years in the legislature to be elected governor over the opposition of all the big-money boys of big-moneyed Florida. Together with Sen. Lawton Chiles he stood up against a Nixon-Agnew blitz in 1970.

The Florida legislature rushed through a proposal to go on the primary ballot on March 14 calling for an end of "forced busing." Straw ballots in several counties, including some of the most populous, showed a sweep of nine to one against busing.

LAST AUGUST, speaking at the University of Florida, Askew had said that he was not for busing. It was artificial and inadequate. But until there could be a wholesale attack on the whole structure of racial separation it had to be utilized. The governor was proud that Florida had one of the smoothest school openings on record.

As the legislature rushed through the busing proposal, Askew went to work with all his political sagacity and his shrewd understanding of the crosscurrents in the legislature and in the state. First he wanted to try to insure that the end result would not be simply an overwhelming vote against busing on one proposal. This could only have furthered the demagogic campaign of Alabama's George Wallace in the Democratic primary.

OUT OF THE dickering between the governor and the legislature came a second proposal. The voter is asked whether he favors equal opportunity for all children regardless of race, creed or religion and whether he is opposed to returning to the system of dual schools. Since Florida has carried integration perhaps further than any other state in proportion to the former state of separate schools, this is a critical question. As a concession to the hard-liners a third proposal covered the amendment to allow prayer in the public schools.

IN ASKEW'S view, an amendment outlawing busing would nullify the 14th Amendment of the Constitution, which gives equality of citizenship to all Americans. A direct affront to all blacks, it would swell the ranks of the militants and the separatists. Freezing an anti-busing amendment into the Constitution would be an undated promise for a return to the old "separate but equal" status outlawed by the historic decision of the Supreme Court in 1954.

FEAR AND fanaticism, demagogues exploiting the sincere concern of parents for their children's education — such can wipe out the gains so painfully achieved. It is time for a clear lead from the Administration.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

How can anyone believe in God when no one has ever seen Him? We don't actually know that He exists.

D.R. One of the most useful sources of energy we know today is electricity. If the power should be turned off, our lives would come almost to a standstill. There would be no lights, no television, no heat, no radio, no air-conditioning, and no refrigeration. Let me ask you a question. Have you ever seen electricity? You may have seen the wires, but they are only conductors of this energy. You may have seen the power plant, but these only store up this mysterious energy. You may have seen the lightning, but this is only an "effect" of electricity. You have never seen electricity, and no one else has. It is invisible. And yet could you deny its existence? You would be foolish to do so, for we see its effect everywhere we look.

True, no one has seen God. But, everywhere we look we see manifestations of Him. Wherever there is a doctor relieving human pain, wherever there is a person living selflessly for others, wherever there is forgiveness, love, unselfishness, kindness, understanding, and faithfulness to ideals — there is God. You can't see Him, but He's around.

Business Spending Quiz

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — At this time last year the question was why business spending wasn't picking up, even though consumers were giving tentative signs that they were willing to expand their spending plans.

If consumers were getting ready to spend more, shouldn't business also spend in order to expand and meet the demand? It would seem so, and that is why some economists couldn't make sense out of the pattern.

This year the paradox is reversed. Consumer spending, though fairly strong, isn't showing the increase that many government and industry forecasters had looked for. It still could develop.

Business spending, however, is almost certain to be much stronger than a year ago, if the surveys are to be believed. One after another survey shows the same thing: Plans are big and growing bigger.

It is for this reason that some economists are holding to their projections of a $100-billion advance this year in the Gross National Product, unswayed by the nervousness of those who are concerned about sluggish retail trade.

William Freund, vice president and chief economist of the New York Stock Exchange, expresses his view this way: "Durable goods orders are higher; contract awards are rising; and (business) spending intentions, whether measured by the Department of Commerce or private agencies, all point strongly in an upward direction."

"With corporate profits increasing some 15 per cent after taxes, with cash flows up even more, business outlays for new plant and equipment will rise at least 10 per cent in the year ahead."

"In the annals of our economic history, there have been few times when the ground seemed to be quite so ripe for a broad-based and vigorous cyclical expansion as now."

You can't be more specific than that.

Last year capital spending showed a 1.9 per cent increase over a year earlier, worst in a decade. This year, a Commerce Department survey indicates a gain of 10.5 per cent, or $8.6 billion, to a total of $89.7 billion.

An earlier Commerce Department survey issued in January indicated the gain would be only 9.1 per cent. And a projection by the President's Council of Economic Advisers, also issued in January, reached only 8 per cent.

In the view of many economists the anticipated increase largely offset the disappointing figures for consumer spending. Retail sales are described as unexciting, and consumers are somewhat reluctant to increase their use of installment credit.

Who's right? Consumers or industry?

Big Friendly Ear

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Hold still, mister. No, I won't let go of your lapels. All I want you to do is listen to my plan for getting rich.

Just listen—that's all. You see, that's the big trouble with the world today—nobody listens. Everybody wants to get into the act. Nobody wants to be the audience.

So, after noticing this for some years, I got my big idea. If nobody will lend anyone an ear, why not set up a corporation that will rent ears to people who need them to pour their tales of woe into?

So that's what I'm going to do. I have formed my own company called The Big Friendly Ear, Inc. Here is how it will work:

We'll rent thousands of small studios across the nation. In each studio will be a plain straight-backed chair facing a six-foot, mechanical, flesh-colored ear containing a four-foot mechanical human eye.

The idea couldn't be more simple. The customer simply puts a quarter in the slot, sits in the chair, looks the ear in the eye—and starts telling it his troubles.

The quarter will entitle the customer to 15 minutes of the Big Friendly Ear's full attention if he talks on any subject except sex. If he wants to talk about that, he will have to put in two quarters—for even a machine gets tired of listening to someone else's sex problems.

Basically, the Big Friendly Ear takes the place of a beloved friend, lover, spouse or bartender. Since it is padded, you can even get rid of your aggressive impulses by punching it.

You may think people won't pay to get a mechanical machine to listen to them. You are wrong. There are thousands of people walking America today who talk to anything—squirrels, elm trees, telephone poles, and the faces on billboards. They talk to themselves, too, but don't listen.

The quarter-a-ear fee charged by the machine is a real bargain. We deliberately are setting it low at the start because of the old saying that talk is cheap.

As the Big Friendly Ear becomes more complex through the manufacture of improved models, its fee will rise to $1 or more. It will be worth it. At appropriate intervals as the customer pushes its buttons, the machine will break into tears, pat him on the back, and mutter hollowly, "Never in history has a human being suffered so much. There must be a plot against you. How in the world can you bear it all so bravely?"

Well, I guess you are wondering why I don't have the Big Friendly Ear rolling off the production line right now. The reason is I can't get anyone to listen to me. Nobody listens to anybody or anything anyway.

Demos Argue Over Timing For Legislative Session

Barefoot Sanders Plans Visit Here

Barefoot Sanders, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States senator, will visit Big Spring during the morning of March 23.

Sanders, a former state legislator and federal official before entering private practice as a lawyer, will fly here from a breakfast meeting at Snyder. He will continue his campaign journey on to points west of here. Specific schedules will be announced later.

By The Associated Press
There was more talk about ethics Thursday among the candidates who would like to be governor of Texas. Dolph Briscoe, the Uvalde rancher who seeks the Democratic nomination for that office, took a verbal poke at two of his rivals as he declared at New Braunfels. "We have heard charges, countercharges and denials for 12 months and apparently we are no closer to the truth today than we were when the Sharpstown banking scandal first came to light. . . . The only thing we do know is that there has been a great cloud of controversy surrounding the governor and the lieutenant governor and the roles they may have played in this affair."

There was more argument between Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, who are among Democrats in the gubernatorial chase, over the timing for a special legislative session.

BACK TO WORK
Barnes said at San Angelo that the governor should call the lawmakers back to work at once to do something about financing the primary elections, for which the Supreme Court of Texas has held the legislature must appropriate money before the secretary of state can spend it for that purpose.

The lieutenant governor also said highway beautification and a new ethics bill need to be discussed, adding, "If we are to restore the faith of the people in the holders of public office, we have to pass a bill requiring state officeholders to disclose all their income, bank loans and other financial matters, as I already have done."

Gov. Smith said in Austin that he intended to defer his call for a legislative session so "the state will be in better shape for a new tax bill, if we have to have new taxes."

INCOME TAX
Noting that the bill in effect says states without an income tax, like Texas, must levy such a tax or lose their share of $1.8 billion to be distributed to state governments, the lieutenant governor told Mills. "I urge you to amend your bill of this highly discriminatory feature and uphold the right of the state to make their own determination on state taxation."

IT WOULD HURT
There were further echoes among the campaigners from the bribery conspiracy trial of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and associates at Abilene.

Barnes, noting that he had received a subpoena in the case, said he would be surprised "if they ever put me on the witness stand." He added, "For the first day or two after I got it, I probably hurt, primarily because many people don't know what a subpoena is and didn't realize it was the defense and not the prosecution which had issued the subpoena."

John Hill, opposing Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin for reelection, claimed in a statement that Martin "is letting tax dodgers get away scot free. . . . The report of the Committee on Sales Taxes clearly shows that enforcement of the state sales tax is being mishandled by the attorney general."

Hill said that the state comptroller last year turned over to the attorney general about 20,015 cases of businessmen who did not remit sales taxes they collected to the state. "He saw fit to make files on only 10,377 of these cases and . . . collected taxes in only about one-sixth of the cases," Hill said.

In Longview, Nolan Robnett, Democratic candidate for treasurer, claimed that State Treasurer Jesse James "has allowed what should be the most sacred office in the state—an office that handles millions in state tax dollars every day—to become tainted with scandal."

Psycho-Surgery Attacked At Symposium In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — An enraged critic of behavior-control brain operations confronts government-sponsored practitioners of the surgery in a medical showdown at a symposium today.

Dr. Peter R. Breggin, a Washington, D.C. psychiatrist, is scheduled to present a paper highly critical of the brain operations performed, he says, "for the avowed purpose of managing and controlling the difficult individual, both the aggressive . . . child and the violent adult."

He will speak before a symposium on the neural bases of violence and aggression. The audience will include a number of doctors who perform lobotomies and other behavior-control operations.

QUESTIONABLE VALUE
In an interview Thursday, Breggin said there has been increased numbers of such operations, called psycho-surgery, in recent years, despite the fact that they are of questionable value.

Doctors performing psycho-surgery use electrical heat or other agents to kill parts of the brain, he said.

AIR MEDAL RECIPIENT — Capt. Joe Coffman, a helicopter rescue pilot assigned to Detachment 18 of the 43rd Aero Rescue and Recovery Squadron, recently received the first oak leaf cluster to the Air Medal. The captain received the medal for service as a helicopter rescue pilot in Southeast Asia while stationed at Phu Cat AB, Vietnam, from Dec. 15, 1970 to Nov. 27, 1971. He was credited with eight non-combat saves as an aircraft commander and four non-combat saves as a co-pilot.

7,000 May Be Fed Saturday

Billed as one of the three largest pancake jamborees in the world, the 165th annual Downtown Lions all-day feed will be held in the Dellwood Plaza mall in Midland Saturday.

Harold P. Steck, former Big Springer and publicity chairman for the event, said that this is "Midland's big community event." Griddles will be ready to go at 7 a.m. and won't be turned off until 8 p.m. Meanwhile, upwards of 7,000 people are expected to take part.

To be ready, the Downtown Club, also one of the largest in Lions International with 314 members, has 1,200 pounds of pancake mix, 1,600 pounds lean mix sausage, 4,000 half pints of milk and orange juice, 300 gallons of coffee and 300 pounds of butter.

All during the day there will be entertainment, including three sessions of the club's 16-piece band which has been named Texas representative for Lions International convention in Mexico City. All proceeds from the tickets ($1 and 75 cents), an estimated $7,500, will go to the club's charity fund.

Local Presbyterian Youth Is Youngest Delegate To Meet

SHREVEPORT, La. (Spl) — Scott Knight, 18, of Big Spring, was the youngest commissioner to the Presbyterian U.S. Synod of Texas, meeting here Wednesday morning.

Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Knight, 1104 S. Monticello, is a member of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church in Big Spring, and was elected a ruling elder in his church in December. Teenaged elders are unusual in the U.S. Presbyterian Church, though there are several.

Knight attended the annual meeting of Synod, plus an organizational meeting of a new Synod, which will include

Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

He was one of eight Texas teenagers attending the Synod. The other seven were youth delegates, without votes.

Knight said he liked being an elder of his church, and was not expected to be just "a voice for the youth."

He was one of 261 ministers and 154 ruling elders present at the Synod.

According to Scott's family, the St. Paul Presbyterian Church revamped its directive body in December of last year. Previously there were both deacons and elders in directive positions in the church, but that was changed to only 12 ruling elders.

Scott was elected by the membership to the 12-man group, as a youth representative.

His mother and father are charter members of the church, and Scott has been a member all his life. He is also a senior at Big Spring High School.

Youngsters Plan Tea For Parents

The boys and girls of Kollege Kindergarten at College Baptist Church will hold a special St. Patrick's Day Tea for their parents, grandparents, and friends on Friday, March 17th, at 10:30 a.m.

According to the Kindergarten Director, Mrs. Sandra Wanner, the boys and girls (ages 4 through 6) will be making their own refreshments, cut-out shamrock cookies and punch, to serve their parents. The boys and girls will also present a program of creative dramatics and music for their parents' enjoyment.

Singer, Evangelist Are Holding Revival Meet

Famed Country and Western songstress, Wanda Jackson, will be guest soloist during Baptist Temple Church's revival Sunday through March 19 which will feature the evangelism of the Rev. John Tierney.

Services will be at 11 a.m. and 7:15 p.m. on both Sundays, March 12 and March 19, and will be at 7:30 p.m. on all other days. Nursery service will be provided.

Miss Jackson, a Capitol Recording performer, gave up her night club and recording career in June for the service of the Lord. She now tours the country with her husband, Wendell Goodman, singing in revivals in churches and auditoriums.

Born in Ayr, Scotland, the Rev. Tierney has conducted services in more than 516 churches in 46 states since giving his life up to Christ at the age of 29.

Future revival commitments will have the Rev. Tierney speaking to congregations in United States, Canada, Spain, Scotland, Portugal, British West Indies, Africa and Ecuador.

The Rev. James A. Puckett is pastor of Baptist Temple, and Dan McClinton, music director, will be in charge of music for the revival.

REV. JOHN TIERNEY

Which Way Does The ...

WIND BLOW?
WIND BLOW?
WIND BLOW?

The weathervane on the barn gleams in the sun this morning and points due south.

Earlier, before the wind steadied it in its southerly direction, the eagle twirled, turning first one way, then the other.

It reminded me of the way I sometimes feel. Caught in the persistent cry of changing values, confused by the onrush of progressive ideas, I twist and turn, trying to select the good and reject the bad.

I'm glad for the steady influence of my church. The principles it teaches never change. Honesty, integrity and a love of God are important whatever the mores of society. Knowing this keeps me happy in a world of change and upheaval.

Your church can do the same for you.

Local Presbyterian Youth Is Youngest Delegate To Meet

SHREVEPORT, La. (Sp) — Scott Knight, 18, of Big Spring, was the youngest commissioner to the Presbyterian U.S. Synod of Texas, meeting here Wednesday morning.

Knight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe S. Knight, 1104 S. Monticello, is a member of the St. Paul Presbyterian Church in Big Spring, and was elected a ruling elder in his church in December. Teenaged elders are unusual in the U.S. Presbyterian Church, though there are several.

Knight attended the annual meeting of Synod, plus an organizational meeting of a new Synod, which will include Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Oklahoma.

He was one of eight Texas teenagers attending the Synod. The other seven were youth delegates, without votes.

Knight said he liked being an elder of his church, and was not expected to be just "a voice for the youth."

He was one of 261 ministers and 154 ruling elders present at the Synod.

According to Scott's family, the St. Paul Presbyterian Church revamped its directive body in December of last year. Previously there were both deacons and elders in directive positions in the church, but that was changed to only 12 ruling elders.

Scott was elected by the membership to the 12-man group, as a youth representative.

His mother and father are charter members of the church, and Scott has been a member all his life. He is also a senior at Big Spring High School.

Youngsters Plan Tea For Parents

The boys and girls of Kollege Kindergarten at College Baptist Church will hold a special St. Patrick's Day Tea for their parents, grandparents, and friends on Friday, March 17th, at 10:30 a.m.

According to the Kindergarten Director, Mrs. Sandra Wanner, the boys and girls (ages 4 through 6) will be making their own refreshments, cut-out shamrock cookies and punch, to serve their parents. The boys and girls will also present a program of creative dramatics and music for their parent's enjoyment.

THE SINGING WILLS FAMILY — The Wills Family, Arlington, will present their musical ministry Sunday at 10 a.m. at Trinity Baptist Church. The group is regularly featured in its own syndicated television show, "Wills Family-Inspirational Time." The Rev. Claude Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist, cordially invites the public to attend.

Projects, Discussions Set By Chapel Society

Baker's Chapel Missionary Society members Monday designated their missionary fund raising projects, discussion topics and speakers for the remainder of the year.

Service projects will include a patch party, apron rally, "What Not Social," "Tote Bag Social," "Size 'Em Up Rally," "A Hip Rally," and a barbecue sale.

Discussion topics and discussion leaders will be "Church Drop-Outs," Mrs. Irene Moreland; "Sharing With Others," Mrs. Freddie White; "Footprints On The Wall (God As Creator)," Mrs. Dora Middleton; "Christian Living," Mrs. Bessie Lankford; 11th Stumbling Block, A Study of Alcohol And Christian Responsibilities," Mrs. Artice Berry; "Christian Missionaries Need To Care," Mrs. Naomi Graham; the Book of Romans, Mrs. Annie Mae Eldridge; and First Corinthians, Mrs. Venora Williams.

Mrs. Beatrice Dickinson, president of the 10th Episcopal District of Missionaries; and the Rev. L. E. Ausbie, rector of Greater St. Luke, Midland, will be special speakers for the society.

Members elected Mrs. Viola Merritt district reporter for the Methodist Quarterly.

Mrs. Graham is president of the group. Mrs. Berry, first vice president, presided Monday; and Mrs. White worked the invocation. Mrs. Merritt led the discussion on "The Task Of The Church Today."

WIND BLOW?
WIND BLOW?
WIND BLOW?

The weathervane on the barn gleams in the sun this morning and points due south.

Earlier, before the wind steadied it in its southerly direction, the eagle twirled, turning first one way, then the other.

It reminded me of the way I sometimes feel. Caught in the persistent cry of changing values, confused by the onrush of progressive ideas, I twist and turn, trying to select the good and reject the bad.

I'm glad for the steadying influence of my church. The principles it teaches never change. Honesty, integrity and a love of God are important whatever the mores of society. Knowing this keeps me happy in a world of change and upheaval.

Your church can do the same for you.

Foes Harass Indira Gandhi

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's opponents are trying to transform India's victory over Pakistan into political embarrassment for Mrs. Gandhi by claiming she called off the army too soon.

The issue is unlikely to sway enough votes in this week's state elections to damage her party. But controversy is potentially troublesome for the government and particularly to Mrs. Gandhi, hailed as a national heroine after the war.

Opposition politicians, primarily from the right-wing Hindu nationalist Jana Sangh party, have criticized the prime minister for declaring a unilateral cease-fire that ended the war the day after East Pakistan fell to the Indian Army and Bangladesh guerrilla forces.

The critics argue that Mrs.

Gandhi should have permitted the war to continue for several more days to give numerically superior Indian forces time to cripple the Pakistani armed forces in West Pakistan.

As it is, they say, the Pakistani military is still formidable, though deprived of 94,000 soldiers held prisoner by India since the war. Pakistan still fields about 230,000 men, compared to India's estimated 930,000.

Mrs. Gandhi herself has fueled the controversy by frequently warning that another war with Pakistan is possible. She has reiterated the warning several times since publication of the communique issued after President Nixon's China visit. In it, the Chinese urged self-determination for the long-disputed territory of Kashmir.

Kashmir is claimed by both India and Pakistan and they fought wars for it in 1948 and 1965.

Authoritative sources say some senior officials and officers in the Indian Defense Ministry had, from a strictly military view, hoped the Indian forces would get the opportunity to deal a severe blow to the Pakistani forces on the western front.

"We did not count on the unilateral cease-fire on the western front," one senior official said soon after the war. "Another 10 days would have insured there would be no future wars between India and Pakistan. But Mrs. Gandhi did what is considered an act of statesmanship in declaring the cease-fire. Only time will tell if she was right."

In some homes and apartments hot water comes gushing out of the faucet steaming hot — 175 degrees F. Too hot with children and older persons around especially, according to the National Safety Council. Does Beauty Depend On Mental Outlook?

"We have all read comforting paragraphs which tell us beauty is only skin deep and what really matters is beauty of the soul," said Mrs. Ernest Bauch to Texas Delta Delta Chapter, Phi Sigma Alpha, Tuesday in the home of Mrs. S. M. Winham, 308 Runnels.

Refreshments were served, and games were played. Rushees were Mrs. Brent Brooks, Mrs. Ira Poe, Mrs. Ron Anderson, Mrs. Dan McCrary, Mrs. James Kay, Mrs. James Buchanan, Mrs. Paul Mize, Mrs. Tommy Hogan, Mrs. Lloyd Underwood, Mrs. Fred Copeland, Mrs. David Walker, Mrs. Don Murphy, Mrs. Jack Woodley, Miss Debbie Luellen and Miss Donna Fleming.

A regular meeting will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Clarence Hays, Sand Springs.

"We have heard that even the plainest woman can be transformed by her beautiful thoughts," continued Mrs. Bauch, "but most of us know this is simply not true. We cannot change our muddy, uncared-for skin and lank hair, and we cannot carve off unwanted pounds or take the hardness out of our voices simply through nobility of character."

Mrs. Bauch said beauty is a combination of the inward thoughts and outward appearance. "Without gentleness, charity, patience and a love of all that is good, no amount of beauty care will make one beautiful," she said.

Mrs. Bauch said beauty must first be attained in a person's mental state. Lipstick will not help a mouth set in lines of sulkeness and physical exercises will not correct shoulders that sag in a perpetual droop of discouragement. She noted, "We must hold up our hearts to hold up our chins, and hold in our tempers to hold in our stomachs."

"If we look forward to tomorrow with eagerness, our shoulders will automatically go back and we'll see something other than the pavement before our feet," said Mrs. Bauch.

"Most of us could be a great deal lovelier than we are by working from the inside out."

Several members and their husbands plan to attend a Fernman Basin area assembly meeting Saturday at Forrest Park Community Center in Lamesa. The next local meeting is at 7:30 p.m., April 11, in the home of Mrs. J. H. Duke, 1500 Main.

Cardinals Invoke Seldom Used Law To Reorder Men

The St. Louis Cardinals dropped the other shoe in contract negotiations with their holdouts Tuesday but it missed two of the four problem players.

The Cards invoked the seldom used baseball law which allows clubs to order holdouts to report to training camp no later than March 10 under the renewal clause in their contracts. Hit with the ruling were pitcher Jerry Reuss and catcher Ted Simmons. But the Cards were not able to contact their other two dissatisfied players—first baseman Bob Burda and third baseman Joe Torre.

Torre, the National League's batting champion and Most Valuable Player, will be the toughest autograph for Cardinal owner Gusse Busch, in camp or out. He wants $150,000—several thousand more than Busch is ready to spend.

Two other holdouts ended Tuesday when pitcher Carl Morton signed with the Montreal Expos and outfielder Merv Rettenmund agreed to terms with the Baltimore Orioles. Morton received a token raise while Rettenmund got a bigger jump, probably into the $40,000 class.

In exhibition games, the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates bombed Boston 13-1, the New York Mets jolted Detroit 9-3, the New York Yankees outslugged the Texas Rangers 14-9 and Minnesota downed the Chicago White Sox 9-6.

The Pirates got four-hit pitching from Bob Moose, Bob Veale and Bruce Kison and bunched five runs in the fifth inning and six more in the ninth to rip the Red Sox.

The Yankees collected eight hits including doubles by Ron Swoboda and George Pena for an eight-run seventh inning to beat Texas. Pena had homered earlier and Don Mincher connected for the Rangers.

Doubles by Wayne Garrett and Ted Martinez and a triple by Tim Lincecum and a six-run sixth inning explosion that led the Mets over the Tigers. All three are candidates for third base for the Mets, replacing Jim Fregosi, who is sidelined for a month with a broken thumb.

'IT'S A KICK IN THE PANTS' Mean Billie Jean Ready To Clean Lean Florida Teen Out Of Scene

DALLAS (AP) — Billie Jean King, long the dominant personality in ladies' tennis, finds herself subordinated this week to a pair of glamorous kids, Evonne Goolagong and Chris Evert—and she's half-glad and half-mad.

"It's a kick in the pants," the outspoken, 28-year-old U.S. champion, said Thursday, in commenting on her No. 4 seeding in the international tournament named for the late Maureen Connolly Brinker.

"In one way, it offers an interesting challenge, and I like that. But I still have my pride. I can't live with myself when I lose."

Court personalities from throughout the country have poured into Dallas to witness the confrontation of 20-year-old Miss Goolagong, the curly-haired little girl from Australia's outback who won at Wimbledon last year, and the 17-year-old Chrissy, from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the sensation of the U.S. Open at Forest Hills last year when she stormed to the finals before bowing to Mrs. King.

The prim, highly disciplined Florida miss avenged that setback last month by crushing Billie Jean at Fort Lauderdale 6-1, 6-0.

"No one ever had beaten me that badly since I started playing big time tennis," Billie Jean said. "I wasn't really ready. I hadn't had three days of good practice since last October."

"It was my own fault. But I am determined that it won't be that way again. I have almost knocked myself out getting ready for this week. I am so keyed up I can't sleep. I've trained so hard I hurt all over."

"I spent a week working out at the 'Y'. I've been running every day and practicing hard. I'll just have to wait and see."

The ill-conceived draw placed Billie Jean and Chris in the same quarter of the draw, meaning that they must meet Friday if seedings follow course. The winner would take on Miss Goolagong in Saturday's semifinals, leaving the bottom half of the draw almost wide open. The favorite in that half, with elimination of Britain's Virginia Wade, is Nancy Richey Gunther of San Angelo, Tex., who beat Miss Evert in the finals at Washington, D.C. The final is Sunday.

Thus Billie Jean is tossed in the role of "spoiler"—the lady who can thwart the first head-to-head collision of the two young girls predicted to dominate the game for the next 10 years.

This has been a spotty, disappointing year for Mrs. King, winner of three Wimbledon hands at Fort Lauderdale, lost an last year to pass the $100,000 mark in tournament earnings. Hypochondriac

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My wife is a hypochondriac. She complains night and unfortunately, day. If one thing doesn't hurt her something else does. She either can't sleep or she can't stay awake. I have been sympathetic, but I am all worn out from listening to her. I can't get a good night's sleep, and the hours awake with her are a bore. Her doctor said there is nothing wrong with her, but he keeps her well supplied with "tranquilizers" which are really just pills with nothing in them. (She complains about the "reaction" she gets from them.) There is an Alcoholics Anonymous and a Gamblers Anonymous. Tell me, is there a Hypochondriacs Anonymous? THE REAL SUFFERER? DEAR SUFFERER: One who complains night and day about pains, imagined or real, can't sleep and can't stay awake, and has "reactions" from pills with nothing in them, is suffering in every sense of the word. Ask the doctor who said there was nothing wrong with her to recommend a doctor who treats "healthy" people with their wife's symptoms. And don't put it off, or you'll need treatment, too. DEAR ABBY: I am a well-adjusted male homosexual who occasionally needs a female companion to accompany me to business and social functions. Conversely, I have female homosexual acquaintances who also need a male escort for certain occasions, and therefore we "help each other out." The problem arises when I go out with the girl as a favor to her. Should I be expected to pick up the check for the entire evening? I have had evenings which have cost me $30 and more. I hate to be a cheapskate, but I can't afford many of these outings. How do you suggest this be handled?

PERPLEXED HOMOSEXUAL DEAR PERPLEXED: Since you obviously are perfectly candid about why you "help each other out," level with each other in the matter of the finances. The one who needs the favor should pick up the check. DEAR ABBY: We have a neighbor who is constantly painting his house. Although he has aluminum siding, he keeps painting the trim around the windows. He uses a very small brush and keeps going round and round the house, and when he finishes he scrapes off the paint and starts to paint it all over again. Another odd thing he does: When he paints the second story trim he leaves the can of paint on the ground, dips his little brush into the paint, climbs up the ladder, dips his brush into the paint and climbs the ladder and paints some more. I have watched him by the hour, completely fascinated. I wonder, is there something wrong with this man? PUZZLED DEAR PUZZLED: Possibly not. Maybe he just enjoys the fresh air and exercise. Or likes to paint!

Legalizing Pot Backed By Doc

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The president of the Alaska State Medical Association has endorsed a California campaign to remove most criminal penalties from the use of marijuana. "I'd like to see it become a controlled substance like alcohol, a recreational-type thing," Dr. J. Ray Langsdon, a 47-year-old Anchorage psychiatrist, told newsmen at the office of California Marijuana Initiative. The organization is trying to collect 326,000 signatures to place the question of legalizing marijuana before the state's voters in November.

You're Not Sure

Your Good Health.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it so that's why I simply do not recommend the attempt. I do most decidedly urge that you have your private water supply, whether at a summer home, on a farm, or in a locality that does not have city water, analyzed. Contact either your local or state health department. They will tell you how to collect a sample for analysis, and usually will provide a suitable container. Next step is up to them -- to test to see whether the water is safe, and if it is not, to tell you what needs to be done. Meantime as a temporary measure with drinking water, there are several methods of purification. One is to use eight drops of a household bleach containing sodium hypochlorite enough to make the water safe per gallon of water.

While the chlorine is released quickly and works rapidly, would suggest waiting an hour after the water has been treated before drinking it. It has been play safe. Some drug stores and sports stores have tablets that can be used for the same purpose. Still another method is to use ordinary 2 per cent tincture of iodine, which is chemically similar to chlorine, one of the so-called halogen elements. Use 12 drops per gallon. But I repeat: For wells, have the water tested!

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please do not laugh but I am thinking seriously of going to a tattoo artist and having my legs done from the tips of my toes to the very top of my thighs (in one shade, of course) to camouflage the many awful spider veins I have. Is there any reason I should not try this? -- Mrs. M.R.L.

I'm not laughing; I'm shuddering. I don't think you've thought it through. Some reasons for not trying it: the pain of such an extensive job; the risk of not getting uniform coloring; infection ranging through anything from skin infections to tuberculosis, syphilis or hepatitis; risk of being allergic to the dyes; regrets afterward.

Anyway, what color would you use? Red? Blue? Green? Don't do it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there an organization for people with a colostomy? If so, what is the address? -- Mrs. C.E.B.

Try United Ostomy Association, Inc., 1111 Wilshire Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif., 90017. It is a non-profit organization. Or the Colostomy-Ileostomy Rehabilitation Association, P. O. Box 121, Philadelphia, Pa.

Notes to Mrs. J.M.E.: Allergies are seldom helped much by epsom salts baths or anything you put on the skin. The important thing is to avoid contact with whatever is causing the allergy.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for, send for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "You And Your Gall Bladder."

STUDENTS TAKE OVER SCHOOL

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — A teacher slapped a student who insulted him at a high school in Bolzano this week and the students took over the school.
They called an assembly and voted to bar the principal and the teachers for a week. The assembly also called and the teachers for a week. The assembly also designated a group of students to hold classes for three hours a day instead of the usual six.
Teachers will be admitted to the school if the students running the classes need help with the lessons. But after straightening them out, the teachers will have to leave.
The Education Ministry is investigating.

New Motorcycle Center Slates Grand Opening

With motorcycles becoming more and more popular in Big Spring, Jackie Hopper has taken advantage of the craze to establish the House of Suzuki.
Saturday is the grand opening of the new motorcycle center, which is located at 1313 E. 4th. Hopper has stocked the center with over 100 Suzuki motorcycles, from the 50cc class to 750cc class.
"We have all types of racers, dirt bikes and street machines in the popular Suzuki brand, plus the center offers a complete line of parts and accessories for the Suzuki," Hopper said this week.
The House of Suzuki will also provide a complete service department, and some universal parts will be available at the new facility.
Gary (Barney) Hise will manage the new motorcycle facility. Hise is well known in the area for his racing ability and general mechanics know-how.
Hopper and Hise unloaded the bikes last week to start assembly, which, according to Hopper, was an ordeal in itself. The owner and manager assembled approximately 25 motorcycles a night this week in preparation for the opening day activities.
Hopper anticipates the motorcycles will be easy to sell, even though he is opening a shop in a competitive market. His center will be the third to open in the city.
"The bikes will sell good. We have already sold 10 motorcycles, and the shop isn't even open yet. We hope to sell 30 bikes the first week we are open," said Hopper.
The new cycle shop owner, who is also a well known car dealer in the city, said that between the three motorcycle shops there will be approximately 1,000 new motorcycles sold in the city per year.
Hopper's goal is to sell at least 450 new motorcycles this year, which is about the same business the other shops are doing presently. Hopper also added the only other types of bikes for sale at the new center will be used bikes traded in on new Suzuki motorcycles.

Poor Kangaroo

WASHINGTON (AP) — Kangaroos are big business in Australia.
About 1.5 million are killed yearly in a $23 million plus market, reports the National Geographic Society.
The roos are turned into cans of pet food, athletic shoes, and high-fashion boots. Their fur covers toy koala bears and hat bands. Kangaroo tail soup delights gourmets.
Sheepmen in Australia insist kangaroos compete with sheep for the sparse bush and grass.
Despite the killing, kangaroos are prolific breeders.

Named To SRSU Fall Dean's List

ALPINE, Tex. — More than 300 students enrolled at Sul Ross University for the fall semester have qualified for the Dean's List, the University has announced.
Included from Big Spring were Gustavo C. Hernandez and Medina Thurman, both having a 3.3 grade point average. Also included was Jose H. Hernandez, having a 3.1 GPA.
Dr. Delbert Dyke, vice president for academic affairs, explained only full-time students carrying at least 15 semester hour loads could qualify for the Dean's List. He said that 338 students, about 12.9 per cent of last semester's enrollment, earned grade point averages above 3.0 or 'B' on a 4.0 scale.

Waggoner Carr Quizzed By Panel
HOUSTON (AP) — A hold-over federal grand jury, probing the Texas stock scandal, continued its investigation today after hearing former Texas Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr and about a half dozen other witnesses.
Carr appeared briefly before the panel Wednesday as did Carr's former law partner, Eugene Palmer of Austin.
Carr told newsmen after his appearance that the government is "on a wild goose chase on this particular angle." He did not elaborate.
