The seamen are the only members of a crew of 30 to be rescued so far. They were aboard the tanker San Nicolas which sank.

SURPRISE! State Rests In Abilene Bribery Case

ABILENE (AP) — "Your honor, at this time the state rests," Dist Attorney Bob Smith of Austin said this morning as court opened in the bribery conspiracy trial of Speaker, Gus Mutscher and two others.

Dist. Court Judge J. Neil Daniel dismissed the jury until 1:30 p.m. to allow the defense time to mull over the case and decide if it wants to present any evidence.

Smith spent the weekend doing the same thing — studying the state's case — before deciding he needed no more testimony.

The defense was expected to ask for a directed verdict of innocence when court reconvenes, but the judge was considered unlikely to grant the motion, preferring to let the jury decide if there was a "positive agreement" between the defendants to accept a bribe.

The state put on 14 witnesses in seven days of testimony.

One of those witnesses was Houston promoter Frank Sharp, who allegedly offered bribes in the form of loans from his bank.

Attorneys for all three defendants deferred their cross examination of Sharp after the state completed its direct examination. They still have the right to cross examine Sharp without necessarily having to put on any witnesses for the defense.

Irving, Wife Plead Guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — Author Clifford Irving and his wife, Edith, pleaded guilty today to federal charges of conspiring to defraud a publisher with a fake autobiography of Howard Hughes.

When Judge John Cannella asked the 41-year-old writer to describe what he did, Irving replied: "It was that I conspired to convince McGraw-Hill that I was in communication with Howard Hughes, when, in fact, I was not."

The judge asked Mrs. Irving: "What did you do that was a criminal act?"

Mrs. Irving, 36, speaking rapidly and with a German accent, said she had signed certain checks from McGraw-Hill made out to H. R. Hughes, and that she had used false documents.

"I put the money in and out," she said.

"Did you realize that you were part of a hoax?" the judge asked.

"Yes," she replied.

Both Irving and his wife appeared pale and nervous. She crossed her arms in front of her. Irving held his hands clasped behind him and his eyes were downcast during the 25-minute proceeding.

Conviction on the federal conspiracy charge could mean penalties of up to five years in prison and $10,000 fines.

Also scheduled to appear in court with the Irvings today was researcher Richard Suskind.

Two Seamen Survive Six Days On Raft

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Coast Guard resumes a search today for possible additional survivors of the tanker San Nicolas, which sank in the Gulf of Mexico March 5 with only two rescued from the 30-member crew.

Twelve planes and two ships are assigned to an area about 350 miles southeast of where the Greek ship Simeon picked up Giorgio Gagliardo, 28, and Danilo Pizziga, 29, both of Trieste, Italy, from a small raft Saturday. Both had been without food and water since the ship went down.

The Coast Guard found a life jacket from the ship and container of life raft provisions in the same general area Sunday.

The 552-foot Liberian flag tanker, owned by Southern Shipping and Chartering of London, was bound for New Orleans from Recife, Brazil, with 16,000 tons of molasses. The vessel had a crew of 17 Italians, nine Spaniards and four Yugoslavians. Two of the Italians were women.

Gagliardo and Pizziga were flown here Sunday to the U.S. Public Health Service Hospital for examination and treatment.

Gagliardo said he and Pizziga had just about abandoned hope of being saved. He said the vessel broke up and sank so rapidly there was no time to cut loose the regular life rafts. He said he did not know why the ship went down. Gagliardo, Pizziga and three others grabbed a small raft used in painting the vessel.

Their companions were identified as Franco Grande of Spezia, Italy; Sergio Tagliapietra of Venice, Italy; and Jelco Vendramin of Yugoslavia. Gagliardo said one of the three disappeared one night, another died on the raft and the third jumped overboard and drowned.

Gagliardo, third engineer on the San Nicolas, said he and Pizziga bathed their heads with water from the Gulf and during the last two days of their ordeal took small sips of the salt water.

Dr. Sherman Brown, assistant officer on duty at the hospital, said the men showed relatively little dehydration for six days without drinking water.

Gagliardo said they saw several other ships which were too far away to see them on the raft.

NEWSPAPER CAREER BEGAN IN 1914

Houston Harte Dies; Co-Founder Of Chain

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — Houston Harte, a newspaperman of national stature and owner of the San Angelo Standard-Times for more than 50 years, died Monday at the age of 79.

He was the founder, with the late Bernard Hanks, of the Harte-Hanks newspaper group.

Harte died at 12:20 p.m. in a San Angelo hospital where he had been since Dec. 2, 1971.

Funeral services were pending at Robert Massie Funeral Home.

Harte guided a business organization that grew from one afternoon daily newspaper of 2,300 circulation to a group of 19 newspapers, and one television station, in six states, with a total circulation of more than 500,000.

Harte-Hanks had operated as a partnership until Hanks' death. It was then incorporated as Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc. with Harte as president. The operational base was moved to San Antonio in 1967. In 1971 in a move to go public, Harte became chairman of the executive committee of Harte-Hanks Newspapers, Inc., a member of its board of directors, and chairman of the board of the Standard-Times.

He was born Jan. 12, 1893, at Knobnoster, Mo. His mother was a Scotch-Irish immigrant girl, his father a Missourian descended from English and Dutch stock. He attended school in Knobnoster and graduated in 1915 from the University of Missouri School of Journalism, where he established friendship with several men who later became important in the newspaper world.

Harte's newspaper career began with the purchase of the Knobnoster Gem in 1914 when he still was a university student. The following January he bought the Central Missouri Republican, a county seat weekly in Boonville, in partnership with the late Donald Ferguson, who later became editor and president of the Milwaukee Journal.

In 1917, Harte joined the Army, from which he was discharged as a captain of infantry in 1918. He sold the Boonville paper that year and bought the San Angelo Standard-Times in May 1920.

Harte's first step toward a newspaper group in Texas came in 1922, when, on his 29th birthday, he bought the Sweetwater Daily Reporter, the Sweetwater Weekly Reporter and the Rocky Star Record, another weekly.

In 1930, Harte sold half interest in the Sweetwater papers to his partner, Bernard Hanks of Abilene, with whom he established Harte-Hanks Newspapers. Harte-Hanks sold the Sweetwater paper during World War II. The partnership was formed shortly after the two met in 1921 and the friendship endured until Hanks died in 1948.

Their first joint venture was the purchase of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, in which they were partners of Charles A. Guy, editor and publisher of the Avalanche-Journal today; Dorrance Roderick, publisher of the El Paso Times; and J. Lindsay Nunn of Lexington, Ky.

Harte and Hanks sold their interest in the Lubbock paper in 1928 and applied the money on the purchase of the Corpus Christi Call-Times. After a complicated sale-trade arrangement Harte-Hanks wound up in 1932 as sole owner of the Call-Times.

The Paris News was acquired in 1928, the Big Spring Herald in 1929, the Marshall News-Messenger in 1936, the Denison Herald in 1940. After the war, Harte-Hanks bought the Snyder Daily News in 1950 (later sold), the Greenville Herald Banner in 1954; the San Antonio Express and Evening News and Television Station KENS in 1962; the Huntsville Item, the Corsicana Sun and the Bryan Eagle, all in 1967.

In 1971, Harte-Hanks expanded its operations nationwide, purchasing the Lewisville (Tex.) Leader, the Hamilton (Ohio) Journal News, the Middlesex (Mass.) News and the Ypsilanti (Mich.) Press.

Harte's two sons now are among the top executives of Harte-Hanks, as well as being publishers of the group's two largest newspapers. Edward H. Harte is publisher of the Call-Times and Houston H. Harte is publisher of the San Antonio News, as well as serving as chairman of the board of Harte-Hanks. Both are members of the executive committee of Harte-Hanks and both have served as president of the Standard-Times.

Two honors which meant most to Harte came from his colleagues in the field of journalism. One was a medal of merit for distinguished service to journalism, which he received in 1931 from his alma mater, the University of Missouri. The second was his election to the board of directors of The Associated Press. He served on the AP board from 1935 until 1943, service which enabled him to know many of the major newspaper publishers of the country.

The oil industry added to Harte's honors in 1969, when he was included in the Petroleum Hall of Fame at Midland. Texas Tech University awarded him an honorary doctor of laws degree in 1958; Austin college at Sherman another doctorate in 1950. He served on the Tech governing board from 1926-33.

But as far as San Angelo was concerned, his part in getting four-year state-supported Angelo State University approved by the legislature was one of his top achievements. The new student center at ASU is named for him, as is the future east-west freeway in San Angelo.

He was president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the San Angelo Board of City Development, served on the commission which planned the 1936 Texas Centennial Exposition and in 1957 as a member of the Committee of 75 named to appraise the University of Texas and its role in the future.

He counted among his personal friends many politicians, including John Nance Garner, Jesse Jones and especially former President Lyndon B. Johnson. Harte also had access to the White House during the Eisenhower years, and probably was responsible for Ike's visit to San Angelo in the long drought of the '50s.

At times he also was active in land, oil and motor freight. He edited a volume of Old Testament stories, entitled "In Our Image." He encouraged, directly and indirectly, the publishing of many books about Texas' heritage.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, Edward H. Harte of Corpus Christi and Houston H. Harte of San Antonio; and seven grandchildren.

Wallace Predicts He Will Top Field

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey and Edmund S. Muskie, criss-crossing Florida in the last full day of campaigning, say they still have a chance of defeating Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace Tuesday in the nation's second 1972 presidential primary.

Wallace, however, predicts he'll top the 11-man Democratic field and says he has an excellent chance of capturing a majority of the state's 81 delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who is making Florida a major test of his presidential candidacy, says he has a good chance of pulling ahead of Muskie and Humphrey and finishing second.

NOT AS BIG
And New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, appearing with Sen. George S. McGovern on a television interview show from which all of the other candidates pulled out, predicted "the voters of Florida may surprise the country" with how they vote on Wallace.

"He may not get as big a vote as everybody seems to think he is," the New York mayor added.

All of the candidates had busy schedules today as they campaigned in the complicated contest in which victories will be judged both on the relative standing of the contenders in the statewide vote and on how many delegates each wins by finishing first in one of Florida's 12 congressional districts.

Wallace remains the heavy favorite. Most observers consider Humphrey and Muskie competing for second, although Jackson says his polls put him neck-and-neck with them. Lindsay and McGovern are believed contending for fifth.

FIGHTS FOR $170 MILLION

Amtrak Running Out Of Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Less than a year after taking over most of the nation's intercity passenger train service, Amtrak is running out of money faster than Congress expected.

Amtrak, the National Railroad Passenger Corp., is fighting for $170 million more in federal help to survive at least until mid-1973.

Critics are demanding an end to federal financial assistance as Amtrak's program comes up for congressional review this week. If cleared by the Rules Committee, an Amtrak reform and funding bill could reach the House floor Wednesday.

The service's backers on the House Commerce Committee urge approval of the money. But to Amtrak's distress and despite Transportation Department protests, the committee also wants several amendments to the 1970 Amtrak law.

TALE OF WOE
The committee hearing record on Amtrak's relatively brief life "is a tale of woe 764 pages long, describing the making of a potential debacle," says Rep. John G. Schmitz, R-Calif.

It amounts to "bad contracts, continuing bad service and poor on-time performance, bad equipment and small ridership," Schmitz adds in a report dissenting from the committee-approved legislation. Schmitz continued, "And all this despite paying Amtrak's president the stupendous salary of $125,000 a year, second only to that of the president of the United States—a salary which this bill protects by a grandfather clause so long as he is willing to receive it!"

WALT FINLEY

JO BRIGHT

Finley And Bright Share In Awards

A headline about HEW and the Big Spring schools, and a poignant story about Marjorie Guthrie, widow of the celebrated folk singer, won two Herald staff members places in the annual Associated Press Managing Editors news writing contests.

Walt Finley, wire editor, won second place for his headline and Jo Bright got honorable mention — equivalent to a third place — for her story on Mrs. Guthrie. Both competed in the class for papers under 75,000. Results were announced Sunday at the concluding session of the annual APME meeting.

Elected president of the state association of newsmen was Jack Douglas, managing editor of the Fort Worth Star Telegram. Douglas, a native of Albany, began his news career with the Herald as a reporter. He resigned to enter service in World War II.

On Aug. 12, 1971 the Herald's lead story said: "The department of Health, Education and Welfare today apparently backed off from forcing the Big Spring Independent School District to correct what HEW called a racial imbalance in the Lakeview and Bauer Schools."

Finley slugged it this way: "Looks Like Local Schools Won't Have to HEW Line."

Judges praised Mrs. Bright for her personality piece on Mrs. Guthrie, commenting on its depth of feeling and for avoiding memories of Woody Guthrie, the famous balladist and folk music writer.

Mrs. Bright started her story this way:

"A dancer is a realist. Either your foot is pointed or not."

"Mrs. Marjorie Guthrie entered the room lightly — like a dancer, and now she sat, slender hands lying open receptively as she recalled the words that were to influence her life."

These were the words that had come from her teacher, the legendary Martha Graham. Mrs. Guthrie granted the interview when she was here for a Huntington's Disease Telethon.

Future Homemakers Conclude Convention

"A total attendance of 1,493 made the Area II convention of Future Homemakers of America even more of a success than we anticipated," said Mrs. Ivah Lou Ashley, area consultant, regarding the Saturday event here at Big Spring High School. Mrs. John Arnen of Big Spring is the area sponsor, and Mrs. Jack Alexander, also of Big Spring, is an advisor.

"Color My World with FHA" was the theme of the meeting which was held at Big Spring High School. Delegates attending the area conference represented over 4,000 FHA members in 117 chapters.

Susan Smith of Big Spring, area president, presided, and the welcome was extended by S. M. Anderson, superintendent of schools. Delegates were also greeted by John Smith, high school principal, and Mrs. Jimmy Smith, Pecos, Area II president of Young Homemakers.

Highlight of the meeting was an address by the keynote speaker, Dr. John McFarland, dean, College of Education, Texas Woman's University, Denton.

Basing his talk on a Biblical chapter, Dr. McFarland discussed "love," calling it "the most important ingredient in our society."

"You are homemakers, now," he said. "If you love your families and friends, you will contribute to world peace. The home is the most important segment of our society, and love is the most important ingredient in order to color the world with joy, friendship and understanding."

New area officers elected were Sandy Gray, Midland, president; Rhnea Brown, Welsh, first vice president; Gayle Lipscomb, Odessa, second vice president; Brenda Gerhart, Big Spring, third vice president; Mary Anna Allen, Wall, fourth vice president; Caria Wilke, Wilson, fifth vice president; Elsa Dabbs, Ysleta, sixth vice president; Tissie Ann Elliott, Balmorhea, secretary; Frances Moran, Dell City, treasurer; Brenda Harris, Ysleta, historian; and Celise McVay, Van Horn, parliamentarian.

The FHA'ers selected from the area chorus to sing at the state FHA meeting in Fort Worth April 21-22 are Debbie Barrington, Brenda Pulley and Debbie Allen, all of Midland; Durhour, both of O'Donnell; Lisa Horwood, Sterling City;

Guinevere Bradley and Sharon Shifflett, both of Sweetwater; Linda Holman, Wall; and Elizabeth Sparks, San Angelo.

Deborah Lynette Smith of Lamesa was chosen as candidate for a state office.

The winner of the Area II pianist tryouts was Kay Herzog of Wilson, and winner for the state chorus was Beth Ashburn of Meadow. These two girls will compete at the state meeting with winners from nine other areas. Mary McFarland of El Paso was named a member of the state nominating committee, and it was announced that Mrs. Arnen will receive honorary membership in the Texas Association of Future Homemakers of America at the state convention.

During the opening ritual, FHA members repeated their purpose and goals in unison: "to promote the joys and satisfactions of homemaking, to strengthen the function of the family as a basic unit of society, to encourage democracy through cooperative action in the home and community, to become aware of the multiple roles of men and women in

Violet Club Advised On Arranging

"Let's Make An Arrangement" was the program presented by Mrs. John Knox, guest speaker for Texas Star African Violet Club, Monday in the home of Mrs. Herman Taylor.

"The pleasure of working with flowers increases when one learns to manipulate them to achieve a wider range of design," said Mrs. Knox, a national flower show judge. She said an arrangement must be balanced according to the container it is in, and many are not complete unless placed on a base which blends the container with the surface and adds a finishing touch to the composition.

Mrs. Knox created two arrangements. She said African violet blossoms can be used in almost any small design. She said clean containers are as vital to a healthy arrangement as fresh flowers, and she listed necessary materials for arranging.

Mrs. Phillip Bunch presided, and Mrs. Paul Guy announced work in the rose garden at Comanche Trail Park is complete. She reminded members that the garden club council is sponsoring a garage and bake sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

A St. Patrick's Day theme was used for decorations. Mrs. Guy was cohostess, and guests were Mrs. Harriett Cauble and Mrs. H. T. Moore. The next meeting is at 7 p.m., April 6 at First Federal Community Room, when a slide presentation, "Gateway to the West," will be shown.

The Age Of Debussy And Strauss Recalled In Music Club Program

The age of Debussy and Strauss, the late romantic period from 1886 to 1922, provided the basis for this month's program by members of the Big Spring Music Study Club.

The women met in the home of Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, 429 Edwards, with Mrs. Willis Rice and Mrs. Walter Osborne as cohostesses.

Mrs. Rene Brown was program leader, introducing the Hymn of the Month, "Spirit of God," featuring text by George Croly and tune by F. C. Atkinson.

Mrs. James Baum and Mrs. Charles Bell played a piano duet of "Petite Suite" by Debussy, after which a medley of Strauss waltzes was performed by Mrs. Ronald Mason, Mrs. C. L. Cartile and Mrs. Joseph Dawes, accompanied by

'Woman's Challenge Is Raising A Family'

"There is no recipe for patience," said Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins Thursday to the Child Study Club. "Each woman has her own thermostat; must set her own pace; and must recognize her own boiling point."

Mrs. Gaskins spoke to the group in the home of Mrs. Charles Warren, 905 Mountain Park, with Mrs. Caleb Hildebrand as cohostess. She said patience was defined as "calm endurance without losing self-control."

"A woman's greatest challenge in life is raising a family," said Mrs. Gaskins, "and to do it, she must keep her eyes on the stars and her feet on the ground."

Mrs. Gaskins said it is important to evaluate the needs of each child. Some need more attention than others, even within the same family. She said a constructive suggestion is always better than a "don't do that," and that mothers should weigh the eventual effect of every decision before a decision is made.

Mrs. Howard Stevens was introduced as a new member.

Members were invited to a forum about local elections, sponsored by the American Association of University Women, at 7:30 p.m. March 20 in the cafeteria of Big Spring High School.

A nominating committee was selected, composed of Mrs. Curt Strong, Mrs. Warren and Mrs. Francis Johns. Mrs. Jack Alexander will present a program entitled "The Birds, the Bees and the ABC's," at the next meeting, 1 p.m., April 12 in the home of Mrs. Leo Gee, 101 Washington Blvd. Mrs. D. O. Grantham will be cohostess.

Charter Undraped By Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary to the United Transportation Union, undraped its charter Friday, which was draped for a month in memory of Mrs. Joe Burnham.

Mrs. C. G. Barnett presided, and invocation was by Mrs. S. C. Ragsdale. The state convention is slated July 27-29 in Houston.

Hostesses for the covered-dish luncheon were Mrs. L. D. Jenkins and Mrs. Barnett. A St. Patrick's Day theme was used in table decorations, and a shamrock was given to each of the 16 attending.

Russian Navy Building New Class Of Cruiser?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Russian navy is reported building a major new class of cruiser, at least the ninth new type of long-range Soviet surface warship to appear in about a dozen years.

armed with advanced anti-aircraft and anti-ship missiles, U.S. sources say. The cruiser is under construction at the huge Nikolayev shipyard on the Black Sea where the Russians also are building a huge new vessel which could be an aircraft carrier.

Congress recently that the Russians have greatly expanded their naval shipbuilding capacity, and predicted that modernization of the Russian surface fleet will accelerate during the next five years.

Details are skimpy, but intelligence reports indicate the new cruiser will displace about 9,000 tons. It probably will be

NURSING INNS HAVE PLEASANT ATMOSPHERE

New Nursing Director Pleased With Operation Of Local Nursing Inns

Mrs. Virginia Howland, R.N., is the new Director of Nurses at the Big Spring Nursing Inns. Mrs. Howland has been with the Inns for approximately six months. From Manchester, New York, Mrs. Howland was previously employed by the Monterey Nursing Inns in Grove City, Ohio, as Charge Nurse and Nurse Coordinator. She also worked as Staff Nurse at Ohio State University Hospital in Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Howland received her R.N. from Binghamton State Hospital in Binghamton, New York. Mrs. Howland's husband is an Air Force Nurse Anesthetist at Webb Air Force Base Hospital. They have six children, ranging in age from 8 to 18.

Under her direct supervision at Big Spring Nursing Inns there are 12 female L.V.N.'s and one male L.V.N. Mrs. Howland says she is quite pleased with the nurse-patient relationship she has found. All of the patients are happy. In fact, Mrs. Howland relates that quite often when patients go home for two- to three-day holidays, they are very anxious to return. They adjust beautifully to the pleasant surroundings at Big Spring Nursing Inns, and to the love and care they are given.

The Big Spring Nursing Inns give only the very best of care to their patients. They do have a hospital wing for patients who require skilled medical attention. They have a continuous in-service program of training whereby the staff meets at regular intervals and receives instructions in all the latest medical procedures. The Big Spring Nursing Inns are well supervised by the state, with periodic inspection by several different state departments.

Joyce Phillips, Activities Director, would like to remind you that, although the answers to their requests for volunteers have been great, they still have a great need for male volunteers for such things as playing dominoes and other games with the men.

The Big Spring Nursing Inns still maintain their high quality of home-cooked meals, with refreshments and snacks served between meals. Three well-balanced hot meals are served each day.

Happiness is the word at the Big Spring Nursing Inns.

Week Of Concern For War Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has proclaimed a national week of concern for prisoners of war and soldiers missing in action and says their families "suffer in spirit hardly less than their men suffer in the flesh."

Nixon Friday designated March 26-April 1 for the observance with March 26 a 180 marked as a national day of prayer "for the lives and safety of these men."

The proclamation said 1,623 American servicemen are either missing in action or imprisoned by North Vietnam and its allies. The figure was four more than the number listed as of Jan. 1 and presumably includes fliers shot down in recent U.S. bombing attacks on Communist targets.

GOP Exec Committee Slated To Elect Anich

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Republican leaders adopted rules today that would prohibit binding a convention delegation to vote as a unit.

Later today, the State Republican Executive Committee is expected to elect State Rep. Fred Agnich of Dallas as Texas' new national GOP committeeman.

The committee also is expected to consider placing a bus referendum on the May 6 Republican primary ballot.

New party rules, adopted under a requirement imposed by recommendation, saying "if 49 per cent of the delegates in a precinct feel one way and 51 per cent another, I think the 51 per cent should be heard."

Barnhart's proposal was defeated on a voice vote.

Chisum Says It's No-No To 'Decorate' Vehicles

Police Chief Vance L. Chisum posted a warning to all merchants and public function groups today concerning the distribution of advertisement circulars, handbills, and the posting of them.

He said that recently the police department has been receiving complaints in reference to business establishments posting circulars and handbills on vehicles parked on public streets.

"We would like merchants to be advised that it is a violation of city ordinances to place circulars or handbills on vehicles in public parking places or on public roads," said Chisum.

The following two city ordinances apply:

Sec. 17-1 Advertisements — Scattering or distributing in streets, public buildings, vehicles, etc.

"It shall be unlawful for any person to scatter or distribute any advertisements, circulars, handbills, printed or written announcements or papers of like

Hansen Withdraws Name From Race

Dr. Halvard Hansen has written D. A. Brazel, chairman of the county Democratic executive committee, a letter withdrawing as a candidate for office of county chairman.

His withdrawal leaves two names on the ballot for this post in the first Democratic primary May 4.

They are Cecil Riordan and Lee Porter Brazel, who had accepted an appointment as interim chairman, did not get elected to the position.

SIGNS OF UNWELCOME VISITORS — Mack Gamble, general manager of Town & Country Shopping Center, U.S. 87 South, surveys the damage caused by thieves who broke into the center over the weekend, taking approximately $80 in cash. Entry was gained through a hole knocked in the south wall of the shopping center.

Estimated $80 Is Taken In Shopping Mart Theft

Thieves broke into Town & Country Shopping Center on U.S. 87 South during the weekend, and took approximately $80 in cash, according to County Sheriff A. N. Standard.

Mack Gamble, general manager of the center, discovered the theft Sunday, and reported to the city police department, which transferred the case to the sheriff's department at 11 a.m.

Deputy Sheriff Sam Roberts investigated the break-in, and reported that the thieves had gained entry by breaking through the south wall of the center. Taken in the robbery was over $50 in cash from the Town & Country Cook's Paint Store, and over $30 in change from the Western Wear Shop.

Sheriff Standard said that there may be some connection between the shopping center break-in and a break-in Friday

Grievance Panel Named To Hear County Employees

All county employees now have a committee to which they may present their grievances concerning salary, allowances and pay compensation matters. County commissioners today approved a 10-member salary grievance committee.

Appointment of the committee was in compliance with a state law requiring such a committee which went into effect in January for this year. According to County Judge A. G. Mitchell, the commission was in ignorance of the need for the committee until the statute calling for it was pointed out to him by 118th District Judge R. W. Caton.

COMMITTEE MAKEUP

The committee is composed of seven elected officials, as designated in the law, and of three residents of the county. The names of residents to serve are to be drawn at random each January from the list of those persons drawn as prospective grand jurors the previous year.

Citizens selected to serve are Monty R. Stokes, 607 W. 18th, Mrs. G. C. Broughton Jr., 1705 Harvard, and Francisco T. Concada, Gail Rt. These persons will be notified of their selection by Judge Mitchell. Should any of the persons selected be unable or unwilling to serve, more names will be selected at random from the 1971 list of grand jurors until the committee is completed. They must notify the county clerk, in writing, of inability to serve.

Judge Mitchell is to serve as chairman of the committee, but he has no vote, according to the statutes. Elected officials to serve on the committee are County Sheriff A. N. Standard, District Clerk Fern M. Cox, County Tax Assessor-Collector Zerah L. Bednar, County Treasurer Frances Glenn, County Clerk Pauline Petty and County Attorney Bill Eysen.

The statute designates these officeholders to serve on the committee. In the event that any one person should hold more than one of these offices, the name of another county resident is to be selected to bring the committee membership to 10.

Members of the volunteer fire departments are to be requested by the commissioners to align their staffs so that some volunteer personnel will be on hand during the daytime working hours. Sheriff Standard met with commissioners today, and said that although the "work of the volunteer departments is excellent," it is difficult to reach many of the volunteers during working hours to dispatch them to a fire.

Commissioners decided to write letters to each of the volunteer fire department chiefs requesting more adequate daytime coverage, and each commissioner is to meet with department chiefs in his precinct to discuss the problem.

COMMISSIONERS INSPECTED

Commissioners inspected the county show barn and jail facilities today and approved bill vouchers before adjourning.

Mrs. J. W. Moore, 501 Bell, was the victim of the stabbing, and was reported this morning to be in good condition at Cowper Clinic and Hospital.

Police received a report from L. A. Hillbrunner, owner of Alert Ambulance Service, Sunday at 3:55 p.m. that he was en route to the 500 block of Bell in reference to a reported stabbing. Police said the stabbing resulted from an argument between Mrs. Moore, a landlady, and a tenant.

Following an investigation, authorities arrested the suspect not far from the scene of the crime, charging her with being drunk in public.

According to police reports today, charges will be filed in either district or county court against the suspect.

IR Agents Do What They Can To Help Tax Payers

Business is greatest time of year for the Internal Revenue office in the Federal Building, and over a period of weeks the office was handicapped without one of its agents.

Joe Gordon, a veteran in the department, is back to work now, however, after an illness of 2 1/2 months, and once again the office is offering full services for citizens with questions about their returns and income tax in general.

There are only two men working in the local office, Gordon and A. A. Wadle, revenue collections officer. Therefore, the services they provide cannot involve full return services for the entire public.

"We do help those persons who are not physically able, or those who have a speech or mental barrier, in filling out their returns. And we will try to answer any specific questions from the general public, but we cannot work on everyone's returns," said Gordon.

Many aids in booklet form are available to the public at the office, however. There are manuals for the regular tax-paying customer and also for the large and small business tax returns.

Also any time the post office is open, one can pick up an income tax return form. They are located in a rack in the post office lobby or in the internal revenue office on the second floor of the Federal Building.

Other services are provided through the revenue office, according to Gordon. The office is also responsible, to some extent, for new changes and statements in the price-wage stabilization issue. "In a small way we can possibly help those with questions about price and wage stabilization also," said Gordon.

"We do encourage, however, that people with questions call our office by phone, rather than coming in person to the office," Gordon said. The revenue agent pointed out that many times the office is overcrowded with people wishing to know about one specific question on their tax returns. He said they could get quicker service by phoning.

Gordon also reminded the public that this year the deadline for tax returns will be April 17, instead of April 15. "This is due to the 15th falling on a non-workday, therefore, by law the next regular workday is the deadline, which will be a Monday," he said.

SDEC Urges Straw Vote, Anti-Busing Amendment

DALLAS (AP) — Texas Democratic party leaders met today to decide if voters in the May 6 Democratic primary will have a chance to say who they want for president and what they think about forced school busing.

In a surprise development early today a subcommittee of the State Democratic Executive Committee voted unanimously to recommend the anti-busing amendment for the primary ballot.

Another subcommittee recommended Sunday that the May 6 ballot carry a strong straw vote on Democratic presidential candidates that would be binding on delegates to the national convention.

PARTY PRIMARY

Both issues were scheduled for a final decision before the full 62-member state committee this afternoon.

"This is something that will really generate interest in our party primary," said Jess Young, state committee member from San Antonio, in presenting the anti-busing proposal to the subcommittee on resolutions.

It is one of the hottest issues in this county today. The legislature should know what voters think about this. And if voters are in favor, the legislature could frame a constitutional amendment for the state from the state level against forced busing to achieve racial balance.

WARM ISSUE

Mrs. Cathy Carter, a leader of the Greater Dallas Council of Citizens for Neighborhood Schools, said the proposed issue on the ballot would read "For or against an amendment to the United States Constitution as follows: No public school student shall, because of his race, creed or color, be assigned to or required to attend a particular school."

Subcommittee meetings began Sunday but the full and decisive session of the 62-member State Democratic Executive Committee was scheduled for later.

The decision on a presidential preference poll became necessary when an SDEC subcommittee that has been writing a new set of rules for the state party adopted Sunday, by a 12-10 vote, a proposal by committee member John S. Brunson of Houston.

Brunson's plan would let majority control at precinct, county and district conventions name the delegates to the state convention. Then 75 per cent of the delegates to the Miami Beach convention July 10 would be picked in senatorial caucuses at the state convention and would be bound to support the presidential candidate that was favored in the senatorial district by voters on May 6.

12-9 VOTE

The national delegates would support the candidate chosen by voters until the candidate released them or until two-thirds of the delegation voted to switch. The other 24 per cent of the national delegates would be selected along national party guidelines that call for adequate representation at Miami Beach of minorities, women and youth in Texas politics.

The subcommittee defeated Sunday, 12-9, a plan by William Anderson Jr., Corpus Christi, subcommittee chairman, that did not require a statewide straw vote but would have convention delegates picked at the precinct level in proportion to the political leanings of those attending the precinct meeting. Anderson promised to appeal his defeat to the full committee.

BEAN PLAN

A third plan, by committee member Woodrow Bean of El Paso, lost 21-2. The Bean plan called for straw votes at precinct, district and state conventions but no statewide poll.

Monday morning Bean said he would make one last attempt to get his plan incorporated in the selection of delegates but he was unable to submit a minority report because he only got two votes at the subcommittee meeting.

"I don't know exactly how I will do it, but I'll try to substitute some of my mine for something in someone else's," Bean said.

Bean also brought up the issue of a possible new state chairman at a meeting of the legal subcommittee Monday morning when he suddenly asked, "How do we go about getting rid of a state chairman?"

Bean's query was in obvious reference to recent reports that state chairman Roy Orr, recently named a Dallas County commissioner, would resign. However, Sunday Orr told newsmen he would not resign at this meeting but would not comment on any future action.

Bean said after the subcommittee meeting he was merely trying to find out the procedure involved "so we won't have to turn around and come 700 miles back here just to elect a new state chairman."

Jaycee Chapter Defends Admittance Of Women

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — The president of the Rochester, N.Y., chapter of the U.S. Jaycees says he will fight a recommendation that the chapter be stripped of its charter, an action which followed the admittance of four women as members.

The Jaycees' executive committee upheld on Sunday suspension of the chapter ordered by Jaycees president Richard Au and also recommended that the Jaycees' board of directors revoke the Rochester charter.

Au said admittance of the four women to the men-only organization was not at issue, but rather the Rochester chapter's action in changing its membership requirement wording from "a young men's organization" to a "young persons' organization."

This, the executive committee said, was a violation of national by-laws.

President James Bruen of the Rochester chapter said he will carry the fight to the board of directors meeting in Atlanta in June, and if the revocation recommendation is upheld the Rochester group would be reorganized under a different name.

He said it was unlikely his chapter would rescind the change in its membership requirement in order to retain its Jaycees charter.

Bruen contended that there are women in other chapters but they aren't officially noticed because they are registered under initials.

BRIDGE QUIZ ANSWERS

Q. 1—East-West vulnerable,

as South you hold:

♠J1073 ♥1062 ♦Q3 ♣AK64

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass

2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A—Two spades. Do not make the mistake of jumping to three spades which would be forcing to game. Your hand is not quite strong enough to insist upon game. You have already shown a good hand by bidding two clubs. If partner fails to bid again it will be because he has a minimum, and chance for game will not be bright.

Q. 2—As South vulnerable, you hold:

♠K96 ♥AKQ542 ♦KJ9 ♣2

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

3 ♥ Pass 4 ♦ Pass

4 ♠ Pass 5 ♦ Pass

What action do you take?

A—Six diamonds. Surely you wish to contract for slam and you like spades and diamonds equally well. Having already shown a preference for spades, it is your duty to show satisfaction with diamonds. Partner, who undoubtedly has two five card suits, should then select the trump suit which is solid, being prepared to obtain discards of the other on dummy's heart suit.

Q. 3—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQ6532 ♥107 ♦K9 ♣A103

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♦ Pass

2 ♠ Pass 3 ♥ Pass

4 ♠ Pass 4 ♠ Pass

What action do you take?

A—Six spades. This may seem like blowing hot after your previous signoff, but it is logical nevertheless. When you rebid two spades you had no knowledge of a fit. Now you have learned that partner has a powerful hand which fits and your hand is worth 18 points on rebid valuation.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AQJ95 ♥J2 ♦752 ♣963

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♥ Pass Pass Dbble.

2 ♥ 2 ♠ Pass 3 ♠ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A—Pass. You have already shown the full strength of your hand by your free bid of two spades. Partner presumably knows your approximate strength and when he raises to three he is in reality asking if you have something to spare.

Q. 5—As South vulnerable, you hold:

♠AQ6542 ♥3 ♦1063 ♣Q94

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A—Four spades. This hand is too good for two spades, not good enough for three spades. Your hand is worth 10 points counting distribution; partner has at least 16 in high cards. So you have sufficient material.

Q. 6—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠AK75 ♥K1073 ♦8 ♣10973

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 NT Pass ?

What action do you take?

A—You might have jumped to three hearts in the first place, but since the bidding above didn't, the South hand now finds that partner is able to jump on his own power. Therefore, a slam prospect is bright and a jump in hearts is now indicated. Jump to four hearts with an aggressive partner, to five hearts with one that needs prodding. You have 14 points in support of hearts and partner should have 19 in high cards.

Q. 7—As South vulnerable, you hold:

♠KJ8 ♥A106542 ♦K105 ♣Q

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ 2 ♠

3 ♥ 3 ♠ Pass 4 ♠

Pass Pass Pass

What is your opening lead?

A—Queen of clubs. Prospects of scoring two natural spade tricks are not very bright, for there is a good chance that dummy will have the queen of spades. An effort should therefore be made to obtain a ruff, intending to get partner in with his king of hearts.

Q. 8—As South vulnerable you hold:

♠KJ764 ♥104 ♦AJ9 ♣Q52

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♥ Pass 1 ♠ Pass

2 ♥ Pass 2 NT Pass

3 ♦ Pass ?

What action do you take?

A—Three hearts. Partner's bidding has indicated a holding of six hearts and four diamonds and very likely nothing in clubs to help you stop that suit in no trump. You have already shown a good hand and should return to the suit in which the partnership holds eight trumps.

MANY SPURNING MAJOR Young Voters Demo Streak Of Indep

By The Associated Press

The nation's 11 million 18-to-20-year-olds are demonstrating a streak of independence as they register to vote.

Though figures in many states are only estimates, election officials around the country report a large percentage of the new young voters—up to 69 per cent in Alaska—are spurning the major parties to enroll as independent or nonpartisan voters.

LOST FAITH

"Young people have simply lost faith in the traditional parties," said Leonard Slosky, a student who lobbies in the Colorado Legislature for his campus colleagues. "They are not interested in participating in politics at the party level."

The Associated Press sampling also found that on the average somewhere between 25 and 30 per cent of the eligible young people have already registered, with substantially higher registration in some urban areas.

Among young people opting to register in the major parties, the sampling among election officials found that on the average two were signing up as Democrats for each registering Republican.

PARTY LABELS

The tendency of young voters to register in significant numbers as independents was noted in the nationwide sampling of election officials by The Associated Press. The trend was backed up by reports that the new voters were more interested in candidates and issues than party labels.

In 1970, the last year for which national figures are available, slightly less than 10 per cent of those registered were on the rolls as independents.

Election officials in Connecticut estimated that half the new young voters have registered as independents. A survey at the University of Washington found that 52 per cent of the students said they had or would register as independents.

Denver and Boulder counties in Colorado reported 6,654 young voters registered as independents, compared with 3,373 as Democrats and 1,111 as Republicans. Registration figures in the three most populous counties of Wyoming showed 1,125 youths registered as independents, while 498 filed as Democrats and 435 as Republicans.

NO QUESTION

Opinion on the importance of the youth vote varies widely: "There is no question they will have a real impact on the elections," said James Neal, Republican state chairman of Indiana. "I see no reason they would not respond overwhelmingly."

mpared with 3,000,000 in 1960, the 1,111 as registered voters in the most populous states showed 1,111 as registered voters in 1968. The 498 filed as 435 as Republican.

To measure the present extent of young voter registration, Associated Press bureaus in 4 states gathered local and statewide figures on the registration of 18-to-20-year-olds.

Statewide figures, supplied by officials in 14 states, ranged from an estimated 10 per cent registration among potential young voters in Kansas to 48 per cent in Ohio.

The statewide figures indicated an average 27.6 per cent registration among young eligibles, approximately the same percentage indicated by county registration figures in areas where statewide totals were not available.

Bomb Threat Downs Plane At Abilene

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A Texas International airplane with 76 passengers and a crew of four was delayed more than two hours Sunday night while police searched for a bomb that a caller said had been placed aboard the DC9.

No bomb was found and the plane, flight 985 from Denver to San Antonio, departed shortly before midnight.

A Texas International spokesman said an anonymous man called the airlines in Albuquerque from Salt Lake City. The caller warned, said the spokesman, a bomb would explode on the plane in less than 10 minutes.

The pilot aboard the DC9, which was near Abilene, was told to land immediately. The plane landed at 9:50 p.m. and departed at 11:55 p.m.

Indira Gandhi's Forces Chalking Up Landslide

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — leader of the world's biggest democracy who a year ago won a similar landslide in the national parliamentary elections.

Of the states still undecided, there was particular interest in the outcome in West Bengal and its capital, Calcutta, because the Marxist Communists have been strong there. But the Congress should get a boost from Mrs. Gandhi's successful espousal of the cause of Bengali independence in East Pakistan, culminating in the Indian Army's establishment of Bangladesh last December.

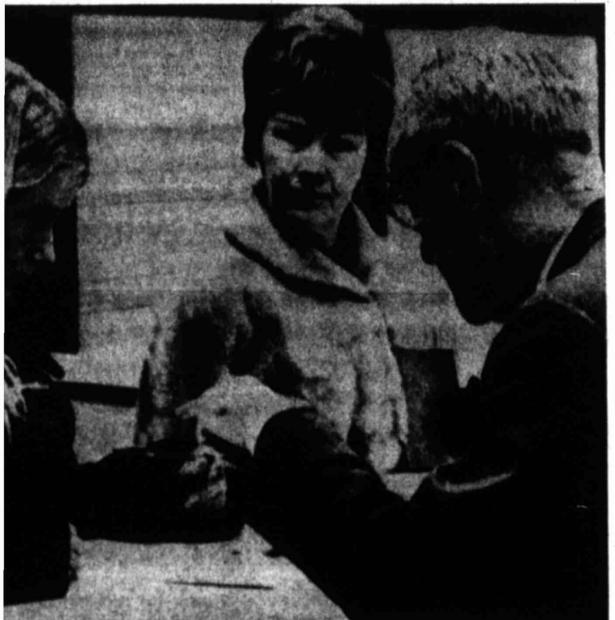

Meanwhile, the last Indian troops withdrew from Bangladesh Sunday after a retreat parade in Dosca Stadium at which Price Minister Mujibur Rahman took the salute.

The withdrawal was completed 13 days ahead of schedule.

ule and four days short of three months after the Pakistani surrender at the end of the two-week war. There were 150,000 Indian troops in the country then; last week between 5,000 and 8,000 were left.

Bangladesh now has an army of 12,000 to 15,000 men to back up the police and militia in keeping order among the 75 million people of the Florida-size nation. Many fear that the Indian withdrawal will result in a renewal of Bengali reprisals against the Biharis, the non-Bengali Moslem minority who generally supported the Pakistani army in its slaughter of the Bengalis last summer.

The Indian withdrawal also may open the way to diplomatic recognition of Bangladesh by the United States.

Lon Nol Consolidates His Grip On Cambodia

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Marshal Lon Nol proclaimed himself president of Cambodia today with absolute powers following a weekend of political upheaval to beat back the threat of parliamentary democracy to his rule.

"From this day forward the Khmer chief of state will have the title of president of the Khmer Republic," the semi-paralyzed leader said in a broadcast to the nation at noon.

Lon Nol, who had been premier, named himself chief of state on Friday.

He said he would also be president of the council of ministers—the cabinet—but would name a vice president and a premier to assist him. He did not announce his choices for these posts, which apparently are made necessary by the marshal's infirmities since he suffered a stroke last year. The government has been run since then by Deputy Premier Sisowath Sirik Matak, Lon Nol's associate in the coup that ousted Prince Norodom Sihanouk as chief of state in 1970.

Rumors had been circulating for weeks that a government shakeup was in the works, and on Friday Chief of State Cheng Heng announced that he was resigning his largely ceremonial post and transferring it to Lon Nol.

The premier accepted the office and at once suspended the Constituent Assembly, which was hours away from completing a new constitution. It would have transformed the Constituent Assembly into a National Assembly and made the president and premier responsible to it.

Lon Nol said "such a formula would have created 'disorder' throughout the country."

Sirik Matak and the cabinet resigned Sunday, but shortly afterward Lon Nol announced that he had dismissed them, effective Wednesday.

Diplomats speculated whether Sirik Matak would be left out of the new government. Matak's ouster would meet demands of student leaders.

The students blame Matak for the government's failure to push back the Vietnamese Communists, who, according to U.S. military estimates, control at least half of Cambodia's territory.

MD Drive Is Shy Of Goal

First count on donations collected during the Muscular Dystrophy Drive the weekend of March 4 indicate a successful campaign, with collections anticipated to go well over the intended goal.

Dystrophy Drive officials reported today that $1,965 was donated in the door-to-door campaign, and out of the 400 kits delivered by campaign volunteers, 150 are still outstanding.

Joyce White, Muscular Dystrophy district director from Lubbock, said she considered the local campaign a good one, although it was conducted at the same time other campaigns were being held in the city.

She said the next year better timing will be planned on the campaign.

The intended goal for this year's campaign was $2,000. Drive officials anticipate when the remainder of the outstanding kits come in, the drive total will far exceed the goal.

Teenagers get into the act this coming weekend, when they will be selling shamrocks around town in behalf of the campaign.

Better, Not Just Tougher

Former State Sen. Grady Hazelwood, who used to have strong influence in Austin, has said he will seek tougher rules for probation of Texas prisoners.

His focus is too narrow. Support for extensive overhaul of the standards for criminal justice should include probation, of course. Hazelwood said that "people everywhere are basking in ignorance of the fact that a life sentence does not mean a life sentence." But the State Board of Pardons and Paroles is not a rubber-stamp, automatic-release agency for prisoners. Parolees have to meet requirements that indicate they may safely and profitably return to society.

Sentencing procedures are more properly a timely issue for legislative review. Judicial sentencing (which some judges oppose for the personal responsibility it puts upon them) would insure more uniform penalties for similar crimes. Indeterminate sentences are enormously useful, given adequate evaluation of prisoners' post-sentencing attitudes and conduct. Indeterminate sentences mean a prisoner can get out when he convinces appropriate authority that he can be trusted to behave himself. That could mean a short time in prison; it could mean a very long time.

One of Hazelwood's points — that many people don't know that a prison term is actually about one-third of the assessed term, under normal conditions — is valid. Juries may not be informed of that fact under hazard of having a mistrial. Yet persons likely to serve on juries should be aware of that fact. The one flaw in the system is the one that makes the parole system just. If one function of the prison system is to rehabilitate (and it is), it is foolish to have a rule that prevents rehabilitation by removing hope.

The parole principle operates on the assumption that no jury can foresee 20 or 30 years ahead when it sends a person to prison. It assumes that the prisoner will be evaluated as he is when parole time comes, not as he was when he was convicted.

The parole system needs to be better, not just tougher. Sentencing — and parole — can be as tough as the facts at the time seem to warrant. Parole is the device that gives the state another chance to evaluate the efficacy of its system upon each individual for penalizing criminals.

Priority For This Job

First it was skyjacking to divert flights to Cuba; then it was hijacking planes in flight with a subsequent landing to exact ransom, with the bandits parachuting on the next hop.

And now the vogue seems to be to plant bombs, or claim that bombs have been planted, on grounded planes as a basis for extorting huge sums from airlines. This has the potential also for mass murder inasmuch as a plane with an undiscovered bomb might go off in flight.

Trying to find the culprits is like grabbing a hand full of fine sand or finding a needle in several haystacks. But whatever recourses are needed must be given freely to run down every lead and every rumor that might lead to the criminals.

It may take time, but the FBI has succeeded in making conventional kidnaping unattractive. Surely we can do as much for this new despicable wave of extortion. National honor simply will not countenance creeps getting away with this sort of thing.

ONE thing and another: IT'S ODD, AFTER all these years, that Madison Avenue has come to appreciate homely-looking people. There's always been more of them around than pretty ones but up until recently the model agencies haven't given them a tumble.

Mr. Hyde, it developed, lived in the wrong century. Today, we would be prone to point to him as a lovable uncle. The worst thing that can befall you, according to the theory now prevalent, is to have the character erased from your face through plastic surgery.

MEN WHO CAN wear their ugliness with pride and dignity are rising to the top of the heap. Invariably, interesting people have interesting faces. If life has inflicted a measure of damage on a man, he is likely to be better for having battled with adversity. The battle scars will show.

In the same line of thought, don't you find it distressing to see a companion from another time who has grown so old he doesn't recognize you? A mirror reflects for you what you want to see. It takes an occasional Homecoming to bring you back to reality.

SOME DAY, IF I'm lucky, I'll meet a person who has been polled by George Gallup, Lew Harris or the Nielson people. So far, no luck.

Have you heard about that absent-minded bandit who pulled a gun on the bank teller and said: "Take me to Cuba?"

And maybe you know about that new tranquilizer by now. It doesn't relax you but it does make you enjoy being tense.

ONE FELLOW I know says he never owned a set of encyclopedias. "My wife knows everything," he explained.

Why is it that children, at the age of five, can know all the questions and, after ten years, know all the answers?

I ask you to commiserate with that absent-minded farmer who stood perplexed in a pasture with a rope in his hand. He couldn't remember whether he had lost a cow or found a piece of rope.

My Answer

By BILLY GRAHAM

I do attend church but the sermons bore me and I find that the music has no appeal for me. Don't you think I should stay at home and not go to church? J.W. I believe that it was Bill Nye who said, "Classical music is better than it sounds." What he meant was: it takes a certain amount of knowledge of classical music to stimulate genuine interest. It also takes a right and proper attitude. If a man goes to a concert with the attitude that it is going to be boring and unenjoyable, his faith is usually rewarded. The same is true of church and sermons. Personally, I would rather hear a well thought-out sermon, delivered in the power of the spirit, than to see any show on Broadway, or attend the World Series, or the Master's Golf Tournament. Why? Because I have formed an appreciation of the Gospel, and I know what it can do to change the lives of men. But I also know that many people do not share my enthusiasm.

How to appreciate the church and its services? First, don't ask what your church can give you, but what you can give your church. Get involved. Teach a class, serve on the board, visit the sick and needy. Second be informed about what your church believes. Spiritual illiteracy does not make for enjoyment. Third, be sincere. Put your heart into the service! Then the service will get to your heart.

Unplain Talk

Omar Burselson

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Last week's hometown Lions Club bulletin ends up with this quip: "We know how it is, so tell us like it ought to be."

STARTING WITH THIS idea, we are reminded of a sign in the museum at the head office of the Union Pacific Railroad in Omaha, Neb. A faded photo of the sign stuck up along the right-of-way somewhere in Nebraska or Wyoming about a century ago reads: "NOTIS, trespassers will be persecuted to the full extent of two mungrel dogs which never was over scorable to strangers and one dubble brt shot gun which ain't loaded with sofa pillers. Damn if I ain't gettin tired of this hell raisin on my place. B. Griscum."

Of course, Mr. Griscum has long departed this life but he leaves a goodly legacy in our gobbley gookish language of today, found particularly in government.

GOOD ADVICE — State your position — make it plain; don't try to be elegant.

Some time ago, a certain city hired a consultant firm to make a survey on which to base an application for federal funds for urban renewal. The report cost $12,000 in municipal tax money, and it appears not to contain much more than could have been gathered by looking out the window of a ten-story building. The document contains all the bureaucratic references dearly loved by those to whom it is directed. Someone in Washington will nod over it approvingly, throw it on a stack where it will remain until the Congressman from the area calls up and wants to know what the heck happened to it.

WHAT IT ESSENTIALLY says is "the core area of the city is suffering from disinvestment and needs to be looked at in the broad picture. If prompt actions are implemented within the suggested parameters, meaningful and relevant objectives may be finalized." This for 12,000 bucks!

Until recently not many parents ever heard of "sibling rivalries" but they did know that healthy brothers and sisters squabbled and sometimes fought, tooth and toenail, and often got the seat of their pants warmed for doing so.

THE BIBLE HAS A way of making things pretty clear. "Go to the ant, thou sluggard" says Proverbs. Sluggards are now "underachievers." No one cheats any more. Rather he is "ethically disoriented."

Genesis says that the people of Sodom "were wicked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly." This is pretty tough talk, so modern sociologists prefer to describe the Sodomites as having a deviate life-style, a confused behavioral pattern and maybe an alcoholic subculture.

RESTRAINTS AND refinements are desirable but they were a little less observed in the 19th Century when Sen. Beveridge was told that a corrupt politician should at least be given credit for gracious manners and a brilliant mind. His response was, "Yes, and like a dead mackerel in the moonlight, he shines and stinks and stinks and shines."

Another good one we often hear now is an "unmet need" which means anything a public official wants to spend money for. People who demand things they are not willing to work for and gain for themselves are exhibiting "rising expectations."

The kid who hangs around a tough gang is now suffering from "an identity crisis and driven to seek the supportive approval of his peer group." This often excuses him from looting coin boxes, swiping cars and maybe right on up to robbing the First National Bank.

THERE USE TO BE hobos and bums. Hobos drew the distinction that they would work when they were hungry but bums would not. In modern references hobos are "itinerants" and bums are people suffering from "motivational deficiencies due to deprivations."

Load Or No-Load?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — As mutual fund owners know—or should know—there are "load" funds and "no-load" funds. The former charge a commission of 8.5 per cent. The latter have no sales charges.

In the first case, the funds are aggressively sold. In the second, the buyer must seek out the fund. In effect, he is his own salesman and so he pays no commission to anyone else.

Which is better? Load or no-load?

If you were to poll mutual fund investors you would receive a wide range of replies. Some are inclined to think that an organization that charges a commission has to be better. Others say it has to be at least as good.

Yale Hirsch, who runs a quarterly report on the fund industry called "Scoreboard" decided to settle the argument, at least to his own satisfaction, by going back over the performance history of the industry.

His conclusion: investors in no-loads have done significantly better.

"The results are amazing," says Hirsch. "No loads have a helluva head start," he says, mainly because it takes the holders of load funds a long time to catch up after that initial sales charge.

But Hirsch also cites figures that he contends show that no-loads appreciate in value faster than others even if the 8.5 per cent sales commission is not taken into account.

For example, Hirsch's figures indicate that in an average five-year period between 1965 and 1970 a $10,000 investment in a no-load grew to $17,935 compared with $16,059 for the load fund. That's a 31 per cent advantage.

Even if an 8.5 per cent sales charge were added to the no-load figures, simply for the sake of comparison, the no-load still maintained a 5.8 per cent advantage, he claims.

In order to demonstrate the impact of the sales charge, Hirsch tabulated the annual results of $10,000 in each type of fund. All dividends were reinvested. A 10 per cent annual growth was assumed.

At the very beginning, the no-load begins with $10,000 while the load fund starts with $9,150 after deduction of the $850 commission. After the first year the totals are $11,000 versus $10,065.

2nd year	$12,000	$11,072
3rd year	$13,310	$12,179
5th year	$16,105	$14,736
10th year	$25,937	$23,733
15th year	$41,772	$38,222
20th year	$67,274	$61,557

On the basis of these assumptions, a load fund would have to grow at a 10 per cent greater rate than a no-load to catch up in 10 years. For the load to catch the no-load in five years would require 20 per cent faster growth.

Quotable Notables

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: It isn't so easy to get away from it all. Only one out of nine suicide attempts in the United States is successful.

Nothing is more taxing than governments. Of the 21 states holding legislative sessions in 1972, some 21 are now considering proposals calling for a total increase of $7 billion in new taxes.

Members of the Asmat, a remote tribe in New Guinea, still practice the art of headhunting and keep the skulls of their enemies as trophies. The more skulls an Asmat has, the greater is his prestige. He also uses the skulls as pillows, a custom which is believed to ward off the spirits of the victims.

Scientists say that because of better nutrition and medical care the age at which the average American girl can reproduce has been lowered a full year in the last two decades. You are one man in a hundred if you can name the car and the driver who made the first automobile trip across the United States. Col. H. Nelson Jackson drove the vehicle—a two-cylinder, chain-drive Win-ton—from San Francisco to New York in 1903 in 63 days.

Thanks to an increasing public consciousness, litterbugs are being forced to pay for their sins. A recent survey showed that 76 per cent of people arrested for littering were subsequently convicted.

Quotable notables: "Perhaps it would be a good idea, fantastic as it sounds, to muffle every telephone, stop every motor and halt all activity for an hour some day, to give people a chance to ponder for a few minutes on what it is all about, why they are living and what they really want."—James Truslow Adams.

Pass the aqua: Who are the thirstiest drinkers on earth? Well, if you're speaking of water drinkers, the road workers in the French Sahara probably are. They are issued a ration of two gallons of water per man each day. Expensive: Air pollution isn't costly to cities alone. It also causes an estimated damage of $280 million a year to U.S. farm crops.

Body bends: The system of limbering up exercises which the Chinese call Tai Chi has some exotic names to describe the postures: "Left Hand Grasping Sparrow's Tail," "Twin Peaks Piercing Ears," "Golden Pheasant Standing on One Leg," and "As Closing Door."

Sick, sick: Some 20 million people in the United States—nearly one out of every 10—suffer some form of mental or emotional illness requiring psychiatric help. Half a million of these are children, some only two or three years old.

Worth remembering: "Have you ever noticed the way a neighbor will stand talking at the front door for 35 minutes, because she doesn't have enough time to come in?" It was Oscar Wilde who said, "Niagara Falls is simply a vast unnecessary amount of water going the wrong way and then falling over unnecessary rocks."

Poisonous Words

"Your father is a mean, nasty man. Stay away from him or he will whip you with a great big strap."

Laura, recently divorced, kept drumming this warning into her five-year-old son. She had been given custody of the child at the time of the divorce, and she meant to tighten her grip on him by any and all means.

Actually, her ex-husband was devoted to the boy. When he found out about Laura's tactics, he haled her into court. The judge took the matter so seriously that he changed the custody order, transferring the boy from his mother to his father.

AS A GENERAL rule, the law condemns efforts by one divorced parent to poison the mind of the child against the other. It condemns "implanting in his tender mind the seeds of hate and the cankerous beginnings of malice toward those whom he should cherish."

Likewise, the law frowns on the use of the child as a pawn in financial bargaining. For example:

A DIVORCEE constantly belittled her ex-husband to their small daughter. But she also let him know that she would stop as soon as he agreed to a large cash settlement.

Again, a court denounced her tactics and switched custody from mother to father. The court said she had no right to use the child as a kind of blackmail weapon for her own benefit.

OF COURSE, in these highly emotional situations, it may be difficult for a court to separate fact from fiction. As a result, judges sometimes fall back on solutions that are admittedly less than perfect.

In another case, at the time of the divorce, custody of a child had been divided between husband and wife. Later, in a court hearing, each accused the other of "poisoning the child's mind against me."

AFTER DUE deliberation, the court decided to leave custody just as it was — divided. Even though this meant exposing the child to parental crossfire, the court said at least it gave each parent "equal time" to defend his character.

A Devotion For Today...

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. — Hebrews 4:16

PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for our Savior who came and died on Calvary for our sins. Help us to grow in concern that everyone may know the personal presence of the living Christ. In His name we pray. Amen.

'Snow Job' Slows Texans In Alaska

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The twang, the pointed boot and the casual richness of Texas came to Alaska to see what could be done about the largest state's oil and the runner-up's pride.

Sauntering down the street with one eye on the icy sidewalk and the other on the mountain-lined sky, some 50 Texans filtered through Juneau to attend legislative hearings on Alaska's oil pipeline and its petroleum future.

SECOND PLACE

Two legislative committees were considering proposals for state ownership of the 800-mile long oil pipeline planned to bring oil to market from the North Slope.

Texas in 1959 became second state in size to Alaska. It's about to become second in proven oil reserves, a fact that brings wistful-yet-proud comments from the flatlanders who own a large chunk of Alaska's frontier-like future.

Yet, as five days of hearings wore on, the essential similarities of the people of Texas and Alaska broke through.

State Sen. Chancy Croft is a former Texan who graduated from the University of Texas in 1961, migrated to Alaska a year later and stayed.

Croft is chairman of the legislature's pipeline impact committee. He's seen oil—and oil men—in both states.

EVEN TEXANS
"I'm not distressed by all the Texans around," he says in a faint twang. "I've got nothing against Texas, there's just a lot more to Alaska."

"Alaskans are compatible with most people," Croft says. "Even Texans."

At the hearing, television lights and video tapes hummed simultaneously, unusual for Alaskan legislative hearings, which normally are low-key events.

One representative cigar-smoking and grinning, wore his best set of suspenders.

GIGGLING

In the background, the Texans chatted, sometimes giggling in appreciation of the proceedings.

"Why do you all know..." and the conversation continued, finally resolved after the girl revealed she was married to the brother of the Waco man's close friend.

"Alaska and Texas are a lot alike," a Beaumont, Tex., transfer to Anchorage says. "But I don't think a lot of them were prepared for the weather. The older settlers in Texas and Alaska have been there a long time, and they're proud of it."

"See, for a long time we were the biggest too, and we thought we were a little different. But all you have is the same thing we had for about 100 years."

Rep. Mike Rose, an Anchorage Democrat, says, "I'd say we've been taken over. I used to think Alaska was the suburb of Seattle, now we're a suburb of Houston."

DOMINATED

A check with the desk clerk shows that one-third of those at the hearing hail from Texas.

"Oh, it's healthy to get an influx of population," one senator says. "But I'll bet they look at the mountains over us, and the snow in March. And I bet they wonder what they're doing here when it's 70 above in Texas, 10 above here, and 50 below on the North Slope."

Alaskan oil men eventually may be dominated by Texans. But the twangs, pointed boots and casually rich lost to Alaska Friday. Tickets in hand, bags packed, they arrived at the airport to find all flights cancelled.

They were snowed in.

First To Walk On Moon Greeted

LANGHOLM, Scotland (AP) — Neil Armstrong, the first man to walk on the moon, was greeted by several thousand people when he arrived at this tartan town in the Scottish lowlands.

Langholm is the ancestral home of the Armstrongs. Armstrongs from all over Britain journeyed to the usually quiet town to cheer the moonwalker when he was made Langholm's first honorary freeman. That is the same as receiving a key to an American city.

After the freeman ceremony Saturday, as he was surrounded by smiling townspeople, Armstrong said: "Thank you. I feel like I've come home."

Armstrong, now on the faculty of the University of Cincinnati, was first invited to Langholm by the town council after he made the first walk on the moon July 21, 1969.

Smooth Way

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who took his wife and recently widowed sister-in-law to a baseball game. No sooner had the three of them sat down in their reserved seats when he came a gentleman and his young son, and sat right beside them. The man who had brought the ladies happened to know the late entry, so he introduced him to the women.

The gentleman, who happened to be a widower, had the seat right next to the widowed sister-in-law. The two of them hit it off very well. Six months later they were making wedding plans!

Not until then did the widow learn that her brother-in-law had bought ALL FIVE TICKETS, and seated her right next to his friend.

Wouldn't you say this was a lot better than trying to arrange a blind date?

IT HAPPENED IN HOUSTON DEAR HAPPENED: Much! Had the brother-in-law asked his friend if he wanted to meet a nice widow, the friend would probably have said, "No thanks, I know enough widows."

And if he had asked his sister-in-law if she wanted to go out with a nice gentleman, she probably would have asked, "How tall is he?"

DEAR ABBY: As a man who takes pride in his cooking ability, I think you blew it in your answer to "NEW IN TOWN," the hostess who served a delicious dessert and didn't want to give out the recipe. (You said, "Share!")

To an accomplished cook, a special recipe is very much like a "secret formula" for a masterpiece. By giving it to just anyone, this woman will cheapen her own worth as a cook because her formula may fall into the hands of someone who is totally lacking in the art of cooking."

HER ANSWER SHOULD HAVE BEEN A DECISIVE, "I NEVER GIVE OUT MY RECIPES!"

JAMIL S. IN N.Y.C.

DEAR JAMIL: I disagree. I say, give the recipe to whom ever wants it, and if the recipient is "totally lacking in the art of cooking," he will cook his own goose — in schmalzt!

DEAR ABBY: I just read an article in the newspaper about a woman who spoke up at a gathering of the nation's weathermen saying she didn't like the idea of naming hurricanes after women. She said she thought that was just another way of putting women down.

Well, I don't agree with her at all. I think it's rather exciting to have a hurricane named after you. And I think every woman secretly hopes that her name will be chosen for the next hurricane. What do you think?

'Best' Treatment

Your Good Health.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 22, has been under treatment for hyperthyroidism. He was taking propylthiouracil but at present is off medication, awaiting a T3 or T4 test.

In the event that his former condition would recur, it has been suggested that he go back on medication, or take some sort of radium treatment (what is this?) or have an operation.

Our son prefers either of the first two. How effective is radiation treatment? Is it harmful? What is the best treatment in case of recurrence? — F.T.W.

All three of the methods are used effectively in treating hyperthyroidism (overactive thyroid gland). Which one your son prefers isn't the important question. The real question is what will do the job for him.

If medication will slow the thyroid gland down sufficiently, fine. If not, sometimes radiation will do it. In this case, it is a matter of drinking a quantity of water containing radioactive iodine (I131).

The thyroid depends on having traces of iodine, so iodine is readily absorbed by the thyroid. If it is radioactive iodine, the radioactivity serves to slow the gland's activity. It's not a harmful treatment; it is a very useful one in the right cases.

If neither works, part of the gland can be removed surgically. Surgery used to be the only recourse before the other methods were developed.

If you ask which is "best," the only answer is the one that succeeds. Obviously the doctor feels that medication may succeed in your son's case. If it doesn't, the other two methods are available.

In some instances it is obvious from the beginning that surgery is going to be necessary; in others, signs indicate whether the other methods have a probability of success, so they are tried.

Individual situations can vary so widely I can give you no way of deciding what is necessary for your son to let the doctor do the deciding.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 50 years old. My doctor began giving me birth control pills about five years ago to regulate my period.

I am still taking them and still have periods, but only enough to realize I'm having them.

My doctor has passed on. Should I continue with them? — H.R.

Your letter raises an important issue that I would like to comment on.

Your physician prescribed the pills for you for a specific reason. Not being familiar with your case, I would not be able to guess how long he intended to keep you on the medication.

The point I'd like to make — as a help to other readers whose doctors have died while they have been under his care — is this:

It is never wise to continue a prescribed medicine indiscriminately or indefinitely.

Your records are probably available in your former doctor's office and would be available for use by your new doctor who then could make his own diagnosis and advise you as to your future.

Dear Doctor: Is it possible to check a man to see if he has had a vasectomy? — Mrs. L.B.

The operation leaves a tiny scar that is often difficult to identify. The surest method is a laboratory examination of the semen.

Arthritis sufferers can be helped. Dr. Thosteson's booklet discusses many types of arthritis and related joint disease as well as effective treatments and medications. For a copy of "How You Can Control Arthritis" write to him in care of The Herald enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope.

Marquette Is Thumbed Out Of Cage Playoffs

By The Associated Press
Marquette has been shut out for the first time this year. It took more than a basketball team to do it.

The Warriors, despite winning a first-round game Saturday, have been thumbed out of the NCAA tournament because of a player ineligibility ruling.

They were dropped from the playoffs Sunday after forward Bob Lackey wouldn't disclaim reports that he has an agreement with agents for a professional contract.

IN TEXAS WIN

Despite Injury, Robinson Stars

LAS CRUCES, N.M. (AP) — Larry Robinson of Hobbs helped carry Texas in a college basketball upset over Houston here Saturday night, limping with a broken bone in his right foot.

The 6-foot-6 sophomore who for the Longhorns hurt his foot in the Longhorns' March 7 victory over Southern Methodist. The victory enabled Texas to represent the Southwest Conference in the NCAA Midwest Regional first round playoff here Saturday night.

"My foot hurt all through the game," Robinson said after his Longhorns had stopped Houston 85-74.

"We came to play," Robinson said of his team's conquest. "They took us too lightly." Robinson scored 23 points in the game on nine of 16 field goal attempts and 5-6 free throws. He captured 14 rebounds—high for his team.

Gross Team Is Meet Winner

The team of Ted Gross, Jack Norman, James Tidwell and Don Hale won the Louisiana Draw held Sunday at the Muni Golf Course, an event which attracted 69 players. The quartet put together a score of 61. Each was rewarded with prizes valued at $10.50 each.

Two teams tied for second place with 62s and each member of the team won $7.25 in prizes.

One consisted of Richard Paschall, Omar Decker, Jack Currie and Mayberry Wilbanks. The other included Ronnie Broadrick, Dewey Byers, Mike Steward and James Stewart.

A real traffic jam occurred in the scramble for fourth place. Four teams shared that position, each with a 63. Each member of the team won awards valued at $1.60.

One consisted of Bobby Smith, Milton Jones, Dan McCrary and Jerry Kilgore. Another included Max Pitts, Russell Tidwell, Martin Staggs and Oscar Ovalle. The third was made up of B. A. Brunson, Abe Gonzales, Willie Graham and Boyce Hale. The fourth included Bob Waters, Bob Caffey, Milton Brown and Jack Powell.

Next round of competition for Big Spring Golf Association players takes place March 26 when a Selective Drive Tournament will be held. The association now has 102 members and is shooting for a record 200.

Citrus Winner Wanted Cash; Won $30,000

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The conversation took place on the 18th fairway during Sunday's final round of the $150,000 Florida Citrus Open Golf Tournament.

"When I won at Akron," loose and easy-going Jerry Heard said to Lee Trevino, "that's what I wanted to do—win. It was the first one. This time I want the money."

It was more than simple avarice on the part of the budding star from Visalia, Calif. He was in debt and pressing and admitted the financial problems had bothered his game.

He had a one-stroke lead at that stage, while he and Trevino waited to hit their second shots to the green on the final hole at Rio Pinar Country Club, and Heard used that picture swing to loft his shot to within about nine feet of the flag.

He rolled in the putt for a birdie three, a 69 and a two-stroke victory at 12-under-par 276. And he picked up $30,000 for first place—a check that solved the money worries.

"This will do it," the 24-year-old said. "I'm flat even. I can tell you it's a big load off my mind."

Bobby Mitchell, who bolted out of the pack with a string of five consecutive birdies on the back nine, closed with a 66 and second at 278.

Jim Jamieson, 70, and Leonard Thompson, 69, were next at 279 in the tightly bunched field. Chris Blocker, who shared the lead at the end of three rounds, slipped to 73 and 280. He was tied with George Archer, Rod Funtzeth, Bob Murphy and Australian Bruce Crampton.

Jack Nicklaus, 69, and South African Gary Player, 66, were next at 281. Trevino bogeyed the first hole and never really got it going. He had a 74-282. Arnold Palmer didn't make the cut for the final two rounds.

Heard, a casual, apparently unflappable character, emerged from the ranks last year when he won the prestigious American Golf Classic in Akron, Ohio—his first tour title—and had yearly earnings in excess of $100,000.

But he decided to buy out his backers, a group of 10 Californians, and go on his own. He had to get into debt to do it and didn't get out until this victory.

Isaac Claims Racing Prize

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — "He really needed this one. He has been so down in the dumps lately that he has been hard to get along with."

That was Patsy Isaac's comment Sunday after her husband, 37-year-old Bobby Isaac, had won the 500-mile Carolina stock car race.

"Now, maybe there will be a little more life around the house," said the pretty, dark-haired school teacher as she clutched twins Robin and Rhonda while Bobby clutched the third major trophy of his 20-year career.

Isaac, who dresses his hair in the Roman style, was in command of this seventh race of the Winston Cup Grand National series for the final 11 circuits around the scenic oval that measures slightly over a mile.

He got the lead after Bobby Allison was forced to park his speedier Chevrolet when the engine failed. Isaac's margin at the finish was just over a mile over stock car racing's No. 1 honcho, Richard Petty. Third place went to Jim Vandiver in a Dodge, fourth to LeeRoy Yarbrough in a Ford and fifth to Dave Marcis in a Dodge.

Isaac's payday, largest since he won the Firecracker 400 at Daytona Beach, Fla., last July, amounted to $125,250. That also should help to bring peace to the Isaac family.

Off Season Trades May Help Rangers

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Manager Ted Williams hopes off-season trades will strengthen the new Texas Rangers where the old Washington Senators were the weakest-hitting.

The Senators, who finished next-to-last in the American League East last year, were a constant frustration to Hall of Famer Williams, who compiled .344 lifetime batting average, but couldn't get the message to his team.

In the off-season, the Rangers picked up second baseman Ted Kubiak, outfielder Roy Foster and catcher Hal King to bolster the hitting.

"We blew so many games last season just because we couldn't get the key hit it was unbelievable," Williams said. "I looked it up over the winter and in something like eight of every 10 games we lost, we still were in contention up until the seventh inning."

Joe Burke, the executive vice president of the Rangers, said the trades should help.

"Kubiak can do the job with the glove at second and if he'll just hit .250 we are already over 50 percentage points better than last year at that position," Burke said.

Foster caught Williams' attention at Cleveland last year where he hit 23 home runs for the last-place Indians.

Outfielder Jeff Burroughs, up from Denver, also has caught Williams' eye. Burroughs clubbed a long homer in an early exhibition game and Williams said "He looks good. But he still may be a year away."

Don Mincher, an outfielder-infielder, also brought Williams smiles with his solid hitting in the spring.

"Mincher loves to hit," Williams said.

Williams is high on King, who has carried the reputation as a good hitter despite his career .226 average in the majors. King came to Texas in an off-season trade with Atlanta.

Also in that division, Lenny Walene, Alamo Heights, won over Kelly Green, Big Spring, 6-0, 6-0, after Green had advanced to the second round by a bye.

Ragged Celts Nudge Knicks To Up Lead

BOSTON (AP) — "We were ragged in spots, but we still managed to win and that's what counts," said Boston Celtic Coach Tom Heinsohn.

It counted, all right, in the National Basketball Association standings after the Celtics whipped the New York Knicks 112-109 Sunday.

The victory gave the Celtics a 5½-game Atlantic Division lead over the Knicks and reduced their magic number to three to clinch the division title.

In Sunday's other NBA games, it was: Baltimore 102, Detroit 97; Cincinnati 117, Golden State 106; Atlanta 135, Cleveland 114; Houston 121, Philadelphia 112; Los Angeles 141, Buffalo 102 and Milwaukee 109, Seattle 99.

PHOENIX WINS

In the NBA Saturday night Phoenix defeated New York 110-106 and Houston topped Buffalo 121-100.

Heinsohn had high praise for John Havlicek, who led all scorers with 41 points. The total gave him 16,984 NBA career points, putting him ahead of Bob Cousy as Boston's leading all-time scorer and 10th on the list of NBA scorers.

New York coach Red Holzman said the Knicks "over-all played well. We faltered in spots and we let them get too many offensive rebounds."

The Knicks were never out of the game and had a chance up to the final buzzer.

Boston had pulled in front 110-105 with 1:16 left, but Walt Frazier popped in two quick baskets to pull New York within one. Frazier failed to convert on a chance to put New York ahead with 45 seconds remaining, but New York was awarded the ball on an in-bounding play with three seconds left and the score 110-109.

Frazier lofted a pass toward the basket intended for Phil Jackson but the ball was overthrown and Boston took over.

Bill Russell's old No. 6, which he wore for 13 seasons as a Celtic, was retired before the game in a quiet, speedy ceremony at the Boston Garden.

Only a few players, writers and Garden employees were on hand for the ceremony which Russell requested be held an hour before fans were admitted for the game.

Abilene, Sunset Split 2 Games

ABILENE — Abilene High and Dallas Sunset split a doubleheader here Saturday.

Sunset came back to win the second game, 6-4, after losing the opener, 7-2.

The Eagles now have a 3-5 record. Clint Thomas got credit for the Abilene mound win.

Cooper Beaten In Twin Bill

ABILENE — The O. D. Wyatt Chaparrals defeated Abilene Cooper in both ends of a baseball doubleheader here Saturday, 5-0, 3-2.

The losses were the second and third of the year for Cooper, compared to four wins. The Cougars meet Wichita Falls Rider here Tuesday afternoon.

Two Men Return From Bass Meet

Ken Lancaster and Jerry Harry have returned from the National Bass Tournament, which was held on Lake Kissimmee, Fla., last week. High winds handicapped the fishermen and five boats sank the first day. In all, 319 fishermen took part.

Lancaster estimates he finished among the top 50 with his total catch weighing out at 10 pounds, 5 ounces.

Tom Mann, Eufala, Ala., won $1,500 in cash and a new Ranger boat for finishing first with catches totaling 47 pounds 9 ounces.

Roland Martin, Oklahoma, was second with 46 pounds 8 ounces of fish. Shorty Evans was third.

Bill Dance of Memphis, Tenn., who has won over $22,000 over a period of years, was back in competition and wound up fourth.

The biggest fish was snagged by Gerald Blanchard. His catch weighed 9 pounds 6 ounces.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

NO THANKS: (Q.) One weekend last month my friend and I met two guys and went riding around with them. The following Wednesday one of them was in a car accident. My friend and I decided to get him a card, and go to the hospital to see if he was O.K.

He had left the hospital, so we took the card to him at home. He didn't even say thank you, but I figured it was because he didn't feel too good.

Well, a couple of weeks later my friend and I were at a dance. He was there, and you have just never seen anyone so stuck up. He didn't say a word to us. The whole thing has led me to believe that people don't like for others to be nice to them. Do you think I'm wrong? — A Girl in Washington State Who Tries To Be Nice.

(A.) A lot of young people today think it is smart to not care. They try not to show enthusiasm about anything or anybody. They try to give the impression that the world is an awful place and there is nothing to smile about.

They are wrong. You are right. Keep being nice. Keep smiling.

WANDERING BOY: (Q.) When you finally get the guy you've wanted and you hear things like "He was out with a real cute girl last night," what can you do? It's hard to just tune them out, you know. — Unhappy in Illinois.

(A.) You can assure the person that you are not going steady and that both your friend and you are free to go with anyone.

If you had thought you WERE going steady, you can face facts and make a new arrangement. It may be a break up, but it would be better if you had an understanding that he dates whom he wishes and so do you.

In the latter case, look and act your best when you're with him. His dating another girl or girls doesn't necessarily mean you have lost him.

Brando Asks Sole Custody Of His Son

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A Superior Court hearing on a custody suit involving Christian Brando, 13, son of actor Marlon Brando, was to resume today. Meanwhile, there were reports the missing youth had re-entered the United States from Mexico. California authorities said Saturday that Christian, whose custody is now shared by Brando and his ex-wife, actress Anna Kashfi, crossed the border Friday, but an announcement was withheld because the record "was locked in the case." They gave no details. Miss Kashfi reported her son missing last week, telling California authorities that he failed to show up in the border city as scheduled after an excursion in Baja California. The hearing is on the 47-year-old actor's petition to be granted sole custody of his son. Brando and Miss Kashfi, 37, were divorced in 1959.

Weak Cool Front Noted

By The Associated Press
Scattered showers dampened portions of Northeast Texas and the Rio Grande Valley today while mostly clear skies extended over other sections of the state. A weak cool front stretched across Northwest Texas this morning. Temperatures near dawn varied from the 40s and 50s in the Panhandle to the 60s elsewhere. Near summery readings warmed several points in the state Sunday. Maximum temperatures ranged from 90 at Wink down to 71 degrees at Galveston and 73 at Corpus Christi and Dalhart. Late Sunday evening a few thundershowers roamed an area from 30 miles southwest of Wichita Falls to 50 miles north of Breckenridge and 50 miles north of Sweetwater. Forecasters said scattered showers and thundershowers would fall in eastern portions of the state through this evening.

QUICK RELOAD — Ground crewman loads rockets onto a Cobra helicopter gunship at the Cantho airfield in the Mekong Delta area of South Vietnam recently. The helicopter had just returned from a mission supporting South Vietnamese troops and took off after rearming and refueling.

First Significant Contact With Foe In Cambodia Drive

SAIGON (AP) — Communist forces during the weekend made their largest number of attacks across South Vietnam in three weeks, while in eastern Cambodia a new 5,000-man South Vietnamese drive made its first significant contact with the enemy.

The South Vietnamese command reported 33 enemy attacks in Vietnam, almost half of them by rockets and mortars, between 6 a.m. Sunday and 6 a.m. today. More than half a dozen ground engagements were reported.

Incomplete reports said 19 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 89 wounded. The Saigon command claimed 137 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops killed.

The South Vietnamese reported a four-hour fight in eastern Cambodia 75 miles northwest of Saigon, where government troops launched a new drive last Friday. Headquarters reported 11 enemy troops and two government soldiers killed and 16 South Vietnamese wounded.

The South Vietnamese force also captured five Cambodian Communist guerrillas hiding inside a bunker near a forward command post seven miles northwest of Kompung Trach. One of the prisoners said his mission was to guide North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops. He said about 200 of these had fled when they observed South Vietnamese helicopters ferrying in materials to a new fire base.

The U.S. Command announced that American troops strength in South Vietnam dropped 5,100 men last week to 114,500. It was the biggest weekly cut since Jan. 21-27, when 7,200 men were withdrawn.

In northern Laos, North Vietnamese forces captured Sam Thong base and tightened their siege on Long Cheng, six miles to the southeast, sources in Vietnam said.

Military sources said highly accurate enemy artillery had closed the airstrip at Long Cheng base again and had forced evacuation of Thai and Laotian forces over the weekend from positions east of Sam Thong, six miles northwest of Long Cheng.

In southern Laos, North Vietnamese troops were reported to have driven within 13 miles of Pakse, while Laotian units reoccupied the village of Keng Nhao, 20 miles northeast of Pakse, and captured three trucks containing ammunition.

In Galveston, Tex. (AP) — Willie McKenzie, 40, whom police said is an escapee from an Austin mental hospital, was in county jail today following the wounding late Saturday night of two Galveston policemen.

The officers were shot as they investigated a report of a man with a gun in the bar. Officer Larry Russell was shot three times in the back and head and Charlie Roe was shot once in the hand.

Russell was reported in stable condition late Sunday night at a local hospital while Roe was in satisfactory condition.

Roe told officers he approached a man standing at a juke box and asked him to come outside. The man whirled around and started firing. Russell returned the fire and wounded the man.

UNSCRUPULOUS REAL ESTATE DEVELOPERS
How To Raid U. S. Treasury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has just the thing for those aspiring to be slightly unscrupulous real estate developers. It's a report, as helpful as a how-to manual, on raiding the U.S. Treasury for millions through the subsidized housing program.

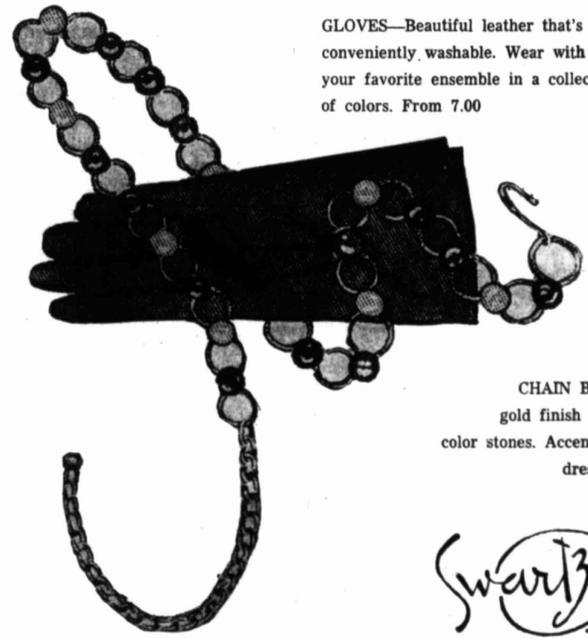

The report is a deadly earnest audit of abuses uncovered in the government program that provides subsidies on interest to private developers for construction of low-rent apartments for the poor. The government promises to try to end the abuses.

BUY LAND CHEAP
The audit described these ways of jacking up project costs and profits at government expense:
—Buy land cheap, preferably in rough terrain far from shopping and transportation, and persuade the government to assess its value at 25 per cent of what you paid. You get a 195-per-cent profit when the government arranges a mortgage including the inflated figure.

—Hire yourself on as a consultant to expedite construction and save money. Instead, save the project no money, but have your fee add $27,000 to its cost.
—Be the architect for the apartment building and charge twice what you usually do for nonsubsidy housing.
—Subcontract construction to your own subsidiaries and have them charge considerably more than for nongovernment projects.
EXTRA PROFITS
—Purposely overestimate the time needed for construction, then collect extra profits for finishing ahead of schedule.
That's all there is to it. But, the audit says, it helps to do your business with federal housing officials who have a "lack of training and unfamiliarity with manual requirements."
In its examination of 62 projects, the auditors for the Department of Housing and Urban Development found "eight cases where, within a year of acquisition, land was valued at amounts that resulted in profits ranging from 65 to 195 per cent."

Architects' fees "may have exceeded local customary allowances by about $2 million on our 62 test projects," the auditors said.
ACTUAL COSTS
The audit reported this outcome of contractors directing work to their own subsidiaries: "Actual costs were overstated, builder-sponsors received unwarranted funds, mortgage amounts were inflated, and unnecessary interest-subsidy payments were and continue to be made."
The auditors also found a "national pattern of overestimating construction time periods."
