

HOUSE SPEAKER, FORMER MISS AMERICA WEEP

Mutscher, Pals Guilty

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Texas House Speaker Gus Mutscher, 39-year-old farmers' son who rose to the third highest office in the state's government and married a former Miss America, was convicted today of conspiracy to accept a bribe.

Also convicted with Mutscher were his two chief lieutenants, state Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and administrative aide Rush McGinty.

this case shows that good men get greedy."

For an hour and 24 minutes, Smith held the soundless attention of a courtroom that had already heard nearly six hours of arguments. He prowled slowly in front of the jury to box like a big bear, softly but relentlessly pulling together the state's case in a powerful embrace.

SHAKE DOWN

The bribery conspiracy trial of Speaker Gus Mutscher, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Mutscher's aide Rush McGinty went to the jury at 8:18 p.m.

Dist. Court Judge J. Neil Daniel instructed the jury to begin deliberations at 8:30 a.m. today.

The defendants are accused of conspiring to accept bribes from Houston promoter Frank Sharp in exchange for their influence in winning legislative approval in 1969 of two banking bills Sharp wanted.

"What was really happening was they were shaking down Mr. Sharp, who needed these bills. They saw a big, fat pigeon sitting over there in the form of Mr. Sharp," Smith said.

CRAZY FOR GEORGE — An enthusiastic Wallace supporter whoops it up in Orlando, Fla., after the Alabama governor won the Florida Democratic presidential primary. Wallace won handily over a large field of candidates.

HELPING HAND

About 20 minutes after the verdict was read, Mutscher sat down on a front row bench in the spectators' section and cried openly. His wife, Donna, Miss America of 1964, stood beside him with her hand on his shoulder.

Mrs. Mutscher then sat down and sobbed. The speaker's father, Gus Mutscher Sr., and Mrs. Tommy Shannon also cried. McGinty left the courtroom. Tommy Shannon was dry-eyed.

The 8-woman, 4-man jury deliberated two hours and 20 minutes after a 13-day trial in which the defense put on no witnesses but used almost all its allotment of four hours in jury arguments in an effort to convince the jury that the state failed to meet its burden of proof.

Testimony will be taken Thursday at 9 a.m. on the sentence. Each of the defendants could get 2 to 5 years in the penitentiary.

The conviction unquestionably will have profound political repercussions in state government for years to come.

Foreman of the jury was Larry E. Yergler, 28, a McMurry College freshman and a Methodist.

NOTHING TO SAY

The defense asked that the jury be polled and each juror confirmed that conviction was his verdict for each defendant.

Joe Shannon, lawyer for Rep. Shannon but no relation, told newsmen, "I don't have a God-damn word to say. Nothing."

None of the other lawyers for the defendants nor the defendants themselves said anything to newsmen immediately after the verdict.

This was the first major criminal prosecution growing out of the Texas stock-bank loan scandals that came first in light in January 1971.

The jury apparently was persuaded by chief prosecutor Bob Smith that the defendants were good men that got greedy.

"When you're talking in terms of $100,000 or $200,000, I think men get greedy," Smith said late Tuesday. "I think sometimes good men get greedy. I think the evidence in MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Democratic presidential campaign has been scrambled by a Florida primary in which Gov. George C. Wallace won by a landslide. Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey claimed victory in second place and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie suffered a drubbing.

Humphrey said today that Wallace is now "a formidable opponent . . . no doubt about that" but predicted the governor would never win the Democratic presidential nomination.

"I'll get it," Humphrey said in an interview on NBC's "Today" show.

'A BLOW'

Wallace, who rode to victory on his opposition to school busing and his pledges to bear down on crime and tax the wealthy, also appeared on the show and said he felt the small showing of his Democratic rivals in the primary was "a blow" to all of them.

School busing was the top isue of the campaign. The Florida voters, in a straw ballot which has no legal effect, overwhelmingly registered opposition to court-ordered school busing to achieve integration. They also voted strongly in support of quality education for all.

42 PER CENT

Wallace's victory of 42 per cent of the Democratic vote gave him 75 of the state's 81 delegates to the party's national convention; Humphrey won 6 with his 18 per cent.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington finished third with 13 per cent, ahead of Muskie with his 9 per cent, and vowed to win the April 4 Wisconsin primary.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay won 7 per cent—barely edging Sen. George S. McGovern for fifth place after a heavy investment here in time and money. McGovern took 6 per cent.

In the Republican primary, President Nixon swept to victory with 87 per cent of the vote and easily won all 40 delegates to the GOP National Convention.

HEAVY VOTE

The Democratic primary left the party's top contenders with these prospects:

—Muskie: The preprimary frontrunner, he suffered a second successive blow after last week's lackluster victory in New Hampshire. The primaries in Illinois next Tuesday and later in Wisconsin now loom as crucial.

—Humphrey: Fighting to overcome a "loser" image, the former vice president got the boost he sought when he bypassed New Hampshire to concentrate here. He appears to be Muskie's main rival in Wisconsin.

—Wallace: The Alabama governor got the heavy vote he sought and will now enter many other primaries, both in the South and in Northern states such as Wisconsin, Indiana and Maryland.

"I believe I have as good a chance as anyone to win the party nomination," he said at his Orlando headquarters.

Humphrey won his six delegates in a district including heavily Jewish Miami Beach where half the population is over 65. "Among the progressive Democrats," the 1968 nominee said, "I am the leader."

PREFERENCE VOTE

The top six Democrats who ran in Florida, including Wallace, are entered in the Wisconsin primary. McGovern is challenging Muskie for many Illinois delegates, while former Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota opposes the Maine senator in that state's presidential preference vote.

IS JOB AN APPOINTMENT FOR LIFE?

Method For Evaluation Of Teachers Discussed

By STEVE HULTMAN

A request to the Big Spring school board for the approval of a list of teachers for employment in the 1972-73 school year was unanimously approved following a lively discussion of the method used to screen teachers for re-employment.

"Is there any teacher, anywhere in the school system not recommended for employment," asked Jerry Jenkins, board member.

"No," said Supt. S. M. Anderson. "We have resignations during the year, and teachers who through counseling resign, but to fire a teacher, you must use due process. And it is very difficult to show a teacher is incompetent."

"I have a feeling getting a job with the Big Spring school system is tantamount to getting a lifetime appointment," said Jenkins.

"It's easy for people to be on the outside and be critical," said Supt. Anderson. "We try to dismiss our problem and incompetent teachers quietly by asking them to submit their resignations."

"Sometimes we feel like we are a rubber stamp," said Jim Bill Little, board member. "We would like to know more about the evaluation process."

CANT PICK ONE

"I have been going through the list of teachers," said Jenkins, "and I can't pick one out that I think we should not re-hire, but with so many people, it seems like there should be a few trouble-makers or incompetent teachers on the list."

The board members again said that they had no teacher in mind that should not be re-hired, but they did want to discuss the evaluation procedure more thoroughly in the future.

The routine adoption of textbook selections by the board turned into controversy after Ralph McLaughlin was heard as the lone dissenting vote against the selections.

"This is a poor selection of books," he said. "The local textbook selection board was exemplary, but the list of books the state board provided them was poor."

NO REASON

"There is no reason for any of the books to have four-letter words in them," he said.

"The words have been removed from most books," said Supt. Anderson, "but some of the literature books do have a few four-letter words in them."

"I don't think it is necessary for any textbook to have four-letter words in it, the whole concept is wrong," said McLaughlin.

Also on the agenda was a meeting with representatives of Big Spring Youth Inc. Norman Picquet, Roger Brown and Rene Brown asked that a tentative lease agreement for a part of the South Ward campus be discussed by a committee of board members so that differences could be ironed out. Roy Watkins, board president, appointed Jim Bill Little, Jerry Jenkins and Delnor Foss to the committee, with Foss acting as chairman. The board is to hear a report on the progress of the meetings at the next board session March 28.

In other action the board approved the extension of 25 per cent of the school systems property insurance schedule with a $5,000 deductible clause. This represents a 16 per cent premium of about $100,000. The board also took a number of pieces of property off the insured list because the value was too low or the property would not be replaced if destroyed.

The board also increased the valuation of all school property by 15 per cent in order to keep in line with insurance regulations requiring that property be valued at at least 80 per cent of its real value.

ACCEPTED

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Debbie Lee due to her husband's transfer and approved the employment of Mrs. Linda J. Harp and Mrs. Mary E. Proctor.

The $650 annual local increment to teachers was also continued by the board.

The contract of J. O. Hagood, tax-assessor-collector, was extended for one year as were the contracts of William H. Gray, building and grounds supervisor, and Walter Alexander, building maintenance engineer.

Waivers of retirement were granted to 12 employees, including Mrs. Irene Wiley, Goliad Junior High, who received her eighth waiver.

The board approved an amendment to the Adult Basic Vocational Program to include funds received for a quantity cooking and food service program beginning today and ending June 9. The $732 program cost is fully reimbursible.

The April board meeting was rescheduled for April 13, following the Easter holidays that begin at 2:45 p.m. March 30 and end with the resumption of classes April 10.

4-1 DECISION Death Penalty Is Upheld In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' Court of Criminal Appeals today rejected arguments that convinced the California Supreme Court and upheld the constitutionality of the death penalty.

The court's 4-1 decision upheld the conviction of Ronnie Earl Tezeno, who was assessed death in the electric chair in the Dec. 8, 1969, slaying of Odie C. Wright in Houston.

Witnesses said Wright was shot in the chest by a man who robbed the automobile supply house where he worked.

Tezeno's lawyers sought reversal of his conviction on grounds the death penalty is cruel and unusual punishment, prohibited by the 8th amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

The California Supreme Court recently accepted that argument and outlawed capital punishment in that state, sparing the lives of such notorious death row inmates as Sirhan Sirhan and Charles Manson.

But the Texas Court, the highest to which a criminal case can go in the state, in an opinion by Judge Truman Roberts disagreed.

"An examination of the Constitution of the United States reveals through the amendments to the same that the death penalty for crime is recognized," Roberts wrote.

He said the 8th amendment provides safeguards for persons accused of capital crimes and the 14th amendment says no state "shall . . . deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law."

Hospital Authority Case Set Thursday

Arguments will be heard in 118th District Court Thursday in the case of J. T. Langley, et al vs. the Commissioners Court of Howard County, Texas, et al.

Plaintiffs had brought suit challenging the validity of action by the court in creating Howard County Hospital Authority No. 1. The order was attack on the grounds that the court had not conformed to the open meeting's law by allegedly failing to post notice of the meeting in which the authority was created; also that some court members were not clear about the purpose of the authority; and questioning constitutionality of the authority act.

Defendants have filed a motion contending that the plaintiffs are without legal standing to bring suit. The original action has so far blocked plans for a proposed expansion of the Medical Memorial Center Hospital with the authority as the vehicle to receive a million dollars federal Hill-Burton funds to help finance the program.

WALLACE BOOKS TEXAS SPEECH

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Employees of the House of Representatives said today that a local spokesman for George Wallace, a Democratic candidate for president, reserved the Texas House chamber for a Wallace appearance at 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Wallace's headquarters in Montgomery, Ala., said the candidate said on national television (the Today show) that he was going to Texas Friday and said he would be in Austin.

Wallace will probably use the House chamber for a news conference. The legislature is not in session.

Gunmen Kill Officer, Maim Father And Son

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Gunmen killed a policeman in an ambush of an army-police patrol early today and maimed a father and son. All the victims were Protestants.

Machine-gun fire hit the mobile patrol at a car park at Coalsland, County Tyrone, fatally wounding the driver in the head and chest. He was the sixth policeman killed this year and the 273rd fatality in 31 months of strife in Northern Ireland.

In County Down, three gunmen burst into the home of a volunteer militiaman and held the 39-year-old man at gunpoint in front of his wife and three children, and waited until the 19-year-old son came home.

Then, the police said, the terrorists shot the father through his right knee and shot his son through both legs and his right arm.

The gunmen escaped and their victims were taken to a hospital.

Resistance is growing among the province's Protestant majority to the British government's peace proposals expected soon.

The 66 Committee, representing the 14 members of the Protestant Unionist party who are in the provincial parliament but not in the government, issued a statement today opposing any movement toward a united Ireland, any element of direct London rule or reduction of powers of the present provincial government, or any proposals for "communist government" meaning proportional representation or government by commission to increase the Roman Catholic role.

The Ulster Unionist Council took large ads in major British newspapers charging that a united Ireland would mean for Northern Ireland lower standards of living and education, higher prices, loss of Britain's free national health service and increased church control over daily life.

VD Zips Out Of Control In America

HOUSTON (AP) — A public health official said here that venereal disease, especially gonorrhea, is raging out of control in America.

Dr. J. Donald Millar told public health officials that "no significant infectious disease is more common than gonorrhea at the present time."

Millar, director of the state and community services division of the Center for Disease Control in Atlanta, spoke at the opening day of a four-day national conference on communicable disease control, attended by more than 850 state and local public health officials from across the nation.

A new infection of venereal disease occurs in the United States every 12 to 15 seconds, Millar estimated, saying data reveals there were about 2.5 million cases of gonorrhea alone last year.

But Dr. Millar added, "in many ways we are at this moment in history looking into a sort of promised land in venereal disease control... What we do with that opportunity is our responsibility."

New federal money, including some $18 million for a nationwide gonorrhea control effort, and a growing public emphasis on the disease are partial factors for his optimism, Dr. Millar said.

Preliminary figures from the Center for Disease Control for fiscal year 1971 show that 94,000 cases of syphilis and 625,000 cases of gonorrhea were reported across the nation.

But Dr. Millar added that many more cases than those reported usually have occurred. "This is especially true in gonorrhea. For one reason most females infected with gonorrhea do not have any early symptoms," he said during an interview.

UNEMPLOYMENT BLUES—I Economy Recovering On Schedule?

Editor's Note: Whether the government's monthly unemployment report sheds light or light depends a great deal on how you read it, as shown in this first of a three-part series by the AP Special Assignment Team on what goes into compiling the key economic indicator.

By JEAN HELLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the Labor Department announced this month that unemployment dipped to 5.7 per cent in February, some officials hailed it as a sign of progress toward economic recovery. Others said the figure was meaningless.

In some respect, both opinions were correct. In February unemployment decreased in several key categories, yet the total number of unemployed didn't change at all.

NOT WORKING
The general impression that the basic monthly unemployment figure accurately reflects the nation's unemployment situation is just one of the popular misconceptions which have grown up around this key economic indicator.

There is, for example, the notion that if a person is not working he is unemployed. Not necessarily so, according to government criteria. Many who aren't working aren't even included in the statistics.

It also is erroneous to conclude that a 6 per cent unemployment rate means that 6 of every 100 principal family wage-earners are out of work. In fact, adult married men have the lowest unemployment rate of any group surveyed.

Nor is it accurate to equate the 6 per cent unemployment rate of 1971 with the last 6 per cent rate, in 1961. The nature of the American labor force and of unemployment has changed drastically in those 10 years.

FALSE IMPRESSION
And, finally, the unemployment rate is made up of dozens of components and subtleties that make it subject to misinterpretation.

"There are probably relatively few people who get past the headline and first few paragraphs of the monthly unemployment statistics," said economist John E. Bregger of the Bureau of Labor Statistics. "These people can get a completely false impression of what's going on."

Raw data for the report are gathered each month by the Census Bureau which visits 47,000 homes and interviews 100,000 people. Each household represents 1,300 households throughout the nation; each individual represents 1,300 in the nation's population.

While this might seem a small sampling, BLS defends it as scientifically representative and claims it is the largest monthly survey in the world. To offset errors likely to occur in any sampling, BLS says the monthly jobless rate must change by at least .2 per cent to be significant. That makes analysis of each month's figure a tricky proposition.

MARGIN FOR ERROR
Between December and January, for example, the jobless rate dropped from 6 to 5.9 per cent, a .1 per cent change that was well within the margin for error.

So while White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said that the report "gives us a sense of optimism," administration economists acknowledge-

Mahon Day Slated In Lamesa April 6

LAMESA (SPL) — A preliminary meeting was held Tuesday evening to organize an over-all steering committee for the coordination of a "Thank You, George" Day in tribute to Cong. George Mahon and his wife, Helen.

Last July, the Lamesa Rotary Club voted to initiate such a community-wide special day to honor Rep. Mahon for his long tenure of service representing the 19th Congressional District.

The committee is composed of R. B. Snell, Matt McCall, Bob Brown, Charles Bratcher, Bob Crawley, G. R. Crawley, J. D. Dyer and Ray Renner.

According to Snell, April 6 has tentatively been set as the date for the special event by the Lamesa Rotary Club. "This should give us an opportunity to strike a blow for the kind of integrity manifested by Cong. Mahon over such an extended period of time," he said.

Lamesa Lions To Pick Queen

LAMESA (SPL) — The Welch Lions Club will conduct a queen's contest and variety show at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Dawson (Welch) High School auditorium.

The winner will represent the Welch Lions in the District 2-T-2 Lions Convention to be held in Lamesa, April 14-15. Thirteen contestants have entered the Welch queen's contest.

Contestants include Terrie Bearden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Bearden; Sharon Bearden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bearden; Martha Weeks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Weeks; D'Lynn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Williams and Linda Jeffcoat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owell Jeffcoat.

Also entered in the event are Ann Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Miller; Rhnea Browne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otho Brown; Debbie Cathey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Cathey; Melanie Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gray and Elda Cornona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gasper Cornona.

Also, Sharon Floyd, daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Floyd; Retta Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts; and Elminda Sanchez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Sanchez.

James D. Hodgson declared that it "confirms what we have been saying," that the economy is recovering on schedule.

But there is cause to view the new jobless rate decline with prudence. Between December 1971 and February 1972, the rate has dropped 3 per cent, precisely the same rate of decrease in the corresponding months a year earlier. After those consecutive months of decline last year, the unemployment rate started up again.

If the rate continues down for another month or two this year, it may indeed signal an economic swing, but it will be that long before anyone knows for certain.

MORE COMPLEX
Determining the percentage of unemployed by federal government standards is more complex than simply finding out who is working and who isn't.

The Census Bureau survey is consistent every month, dealing with the one week in which the 12th day of the month falls.

A person is considered employed if he performed a minimum of one hour's work for pay during the week or if he is temporarily idle because of illness, strikes or vacations. A person also is considered employed if he worked more than 15 hours without pay in a family farm or business.

Classified as unemployed are those persons who did not work at all during the reference week, but were available for work and took some specific step to find a job. A person also is listed as unemployed if he has been laid off or is waiting to begin a new job within 30 days.

LIVING AT HOME
Critics of the bureau's sampling criteria claim there are holes in the process that result in distorting unemployment staistics and the state of the nation's economy.

Some people aren't covered at all. For example a college graduate who is living at home and is not trying to find a job is not considered to be unemployed. So far as BLS is concerned, he simply hasn't joined the labor force.

On the other hand, a schoolboy looking unsuccessfully for part-time work is given just as much weight in the over-all unemployment statistics as an aerospace engineer who has been laid off, when in fact, the two have substantially disproportionate effects on the national economy.

Next: Interpreting current employment.

Impersonator's Bosomy Figure Padded With Pot

NEW YORK (AP) — A Spanish-sneaking brunette was disclosed as a man by two woman customs inspectors at Kennedy Airport who found the impersonator's bosomy figure well padded with marijuana.

The man, 19, wearing a skirt and brown sweater, arrived from Colombia carrying a passport bearing the name of Lucia Buraglia.

Customs officials, suspicious of the passport, sent Lucia to a private room with two woman inspectors to disrobe for examination.

"Hombre!" the man said excitedly as the inspection began. "I'm a man!"

Customs officials said he then identified himself as William

Carcedo, of Bogota. He said he was a modeling student.

Agents said they found six pounds of marijuana, worth an estimated $9,000, hidden in his apparel. He was to be arraigned in Brooklyn federal court today.

Said one veteran customs agent afterward, "If you saw her sitting in a bar, you'd buy her a drink."

Gunners Along DMZ Fighting Major Duel

SAIGON (AP) — Heavy action was reported today on three Indochina fronts, and air strikes that reverberated throughout Saigon marked the start of a new operation within 10 miles of the capital.

In eastern Cambodia, U.S. B52 bombers wrecked the second major North Vietnamese base camp in two days, and South Vietnamese ground troops said they killed 30 North Vietnamese in a battle about a mile to the southwest.

In the central highlands, the Saigon government claimed 28 enemy killed five miles southeast of Fire Base 5, raising the total in three days of fighting to 133.

NAVY JOINS

Along the demilitarized zone, North and South Vietnamese gunners were waging the biggest artillery duel this year, with U.S. Navy guns joining in. There was no report of contact with the enemy in the new operation nine miles east of Saigon. Militia troops there were hunting for the ambush positions from which the North Vietnamese or Viet Cong sank three ammunition barges on March 5.

The government also reported that the Viet Cong exploded a bomb in a school for soldiers' children south of Da Nang and killed seven children. Four others and a teacher were wounded.

HUGE REDUCTION

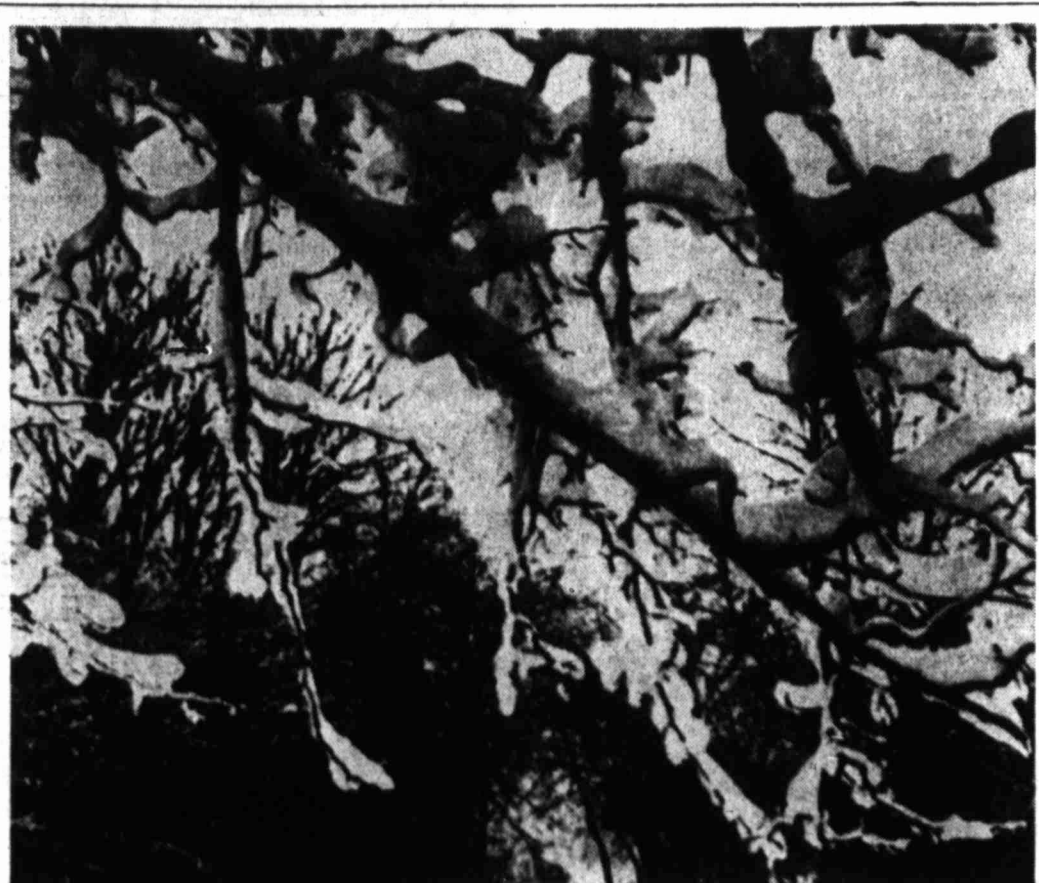

The U.S. Command meanwhile continued its withdrawal program and announced the phaseout of 41 Army and two Air Force units totaling 5,700 men. It was the second biggest one-day reduction of the war.

Aerial observers reported the B52s bombing in support of a 7,000-man South Vietnamese offensive in eastern Cambodia ripped up 500 small bunkers and destroyed two trucks.

This complex was adjacent to another camp where the B52s on Tuesday reportedly destroyed 100 bunkers, large quantities of supplies and three trucks.

Informants said North Vietnamese gunners hiding in caves slammed 300 rounds of mortars into a South Vietnamese patrol along the DMZ Monday and followed up with another 159 big rockets at Base Camp Alpha 4 Tuesday. Field reports said South Vietnamese 105 and 155 MM guns and ships of the U.S. 7th Fleet are returning the fire into the southern half of the DMZ.

WINTER'S HANDIWORK — Although a snowfall up to 12 inches fell in the Chicago area, making transportation difficult and causing many a sore back for shovellers, the snow presented this postcard setting Tuesday in a forest preserve in suburban Morton Grove.

Mrs. Towse will be trained, like her male counterparts, at the University of Illinois, in a 240-hour course.

'Rich Man' Hughes In Los Angeles?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — After a month in a hotel hideaway in Nicaragua and a purported surprise meeting with the Nicaraguan president and the U.S. ambassador there, Howard Hughes is reported to have flown to Los Angeles.

An unidentified spokesman for the Nicaraguan air force told newsmen that Hughes had flown in a private plane early Tuesday to Los Angeles, where he has lived as both a celebrity and a recluse.

A spokesman for the 66-year-old billionaire confirmed Tuesday night that Hughes had left Nicaragua and arrived at an undisclosed destination. However, the spokesman, Richard Hannah, refused to confirm that Hughes was in Los Angeles and said that his whereabouts may not be disclosed for a time.

Before leaving Managua, where he had lived on the seventh floor of the Intercontinental Hotel, Hughes met with President Anastasio Somoza and U.S. Ambassador Turner B. Shelton, the ambassador said.

This would be the first reported time Hughes has met with persons outside his staff since he went into seclusion more than a decade ago. Hannah refused comment on the report.

Shelton said Hughes "met with the president and I was there at the meeting before he left. Just the president, Mr. Hughes, and myself."

Somoza said Hughes told him he was "looking forward with keen anticipation to having the opportunity to return to Nicaragua soon."

Somoza said he had invited Hughes to "visit with me in the near future." But he declined, as did Shelton, to say what had been discussed.

Other sources said the three might have discussed a possible business deal involving Hughes' airline, Hughes Airwest, and

TB Still A Major Health, Economic, Health Problem

HOUSTON (AP) — Despite the fact tuberculosis is a totally curable disease, it killed 5,560 Americans in 1970, New York City's director of tuberculosis control told a public health conference Tuesday.

Dr. Lee B. Reichman said that TB is still "a grave health, economic and social problem" despite the fact it is the only one of the top 20 causes of death in the United States that is completely understood.

Reichman spoke at a national conference for state and local public health workers.

The paradox of deaths from TB is an illustration of what's wrong with so much of the nation's health care delivery, Reichman said.

It's not a question of what can be done to eliminate the disease, he said, but rather a problem of what is not done.

In New York City, where 386 persons died of TB in 1970, the heart of the problem lies in the poor socio-economic conditions found in heavily-populated and non-white areas, he said.

"The rate in Central Harlem is seven times the national rate and 11 times the upstate New York rate," he said.

Some TB control programs operated by city health departments will be cut back as a result of Congress' withdrawal of federal funds for such programs, Reichman said.

"Unfortunately, the members of Congress seem not to value good public health practice and don't accept the fact that a disease exemplifying the glaring deficiencies of health care delivery can be controlled and eradicated with continued support."

"Don't forget to wear your galoshes!"

Mothers always used to say things like that, and they still do. "Be careful when you cross the street," and, "Don't gulp your milk!" sound as familiar to kids today as they did a couple of generations ago.

And we think that's good. Because it's a demonstration of caring which is carried from generation to generation — and caring is what funeral service is all about.

Interest Lagging In School Voting

Interest in voting absentee in the Big Spring Independent, Howard County School District and Howard County Junior College trustees election is apparently lacking because no ballots have been cast since absentee voting began Monday.

County residents who will be out of the county on election day or are physically unable to go to the regular polling places may vote in person at the county clerk's office on the first floor of the courthouse between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays before the March 25 deadline.

Mailed-in ballots from residents who will be out-of-county must bear an out-of-county postmark and be received in the clerk's office by the March 25 deadline.

Wallace Backers Here Eye His Role As Party Chief

Despite George Wallace's attempts to secure the Democratic Presidential nomination in the Florida primary, members of the Howard County American Party plan to support the former Alabama governor as their third party candidate in November.

E. O. McNeese, 2409 E. 25th, 30th Senatorial District committee man for the American Party, said that Wallace's bid for the Democratic nomination is part of his over-all campaign strategy.

H. W. Matthews, Conroe, state third party chairman, has sent an article detailing to county party officials how Wallace will use the Democratic parties to gain national exposure and then take his position at the helm of the American Party as its sole presidential candidate in the November general elections. McNeese said that there is no opposition to Wallace's candidacy among the local third party members, who numbered 3,000 in 1968. McNeese said that more county residents are expected to join the third party than in previous years.

Issues which the local party members are supporting are Wallace's plans for stricter law enforcement and his fight against public school busing for integration and against the passage of a gun registration law. "One of the things that the people like best about Wallace is that he is a candidate of the people. He is not obligated to any backers, and will be freer to act than some of the other candidates," said McNeese.

Organization of the local party is nearly complete. According to McNeese, precinct chairmen have been named, and E. L. Meeks, 1005 Stadium, has been named county party chairman. Speakers for party rallies and meetings will include Matthews, state party chairman, and Dustin Fillmore, a Wichita Falls attorney and active party member, according to McNeese.

Eight Papers Endorse 'Scoop'

MIAMI (AP) — Sen. Henry Jackson edged out Sen. Hubert Humphrey as the favorite Democratic presidential candidate of Florida newspapers that announced endorsements for contenders in Tuesday's primary. Jackson received endorsements from eight papers. Humphrey got six.

On the Republican side, President Nixon was endorsed by seven Florida papers.

Sen. George McGovern, the only other candidate to receive endorsements in the poll, was backed by two papers.

MIDDLE EAST SCENE — King Hussein of Jordan, left, and Israel Defense Minister Moshe Dayan, right, are principals involved in a reported peace settlement between their two nations. Iraqi radio Tuesday made known the purported settlement which would turn the occupied west bank into an autonomous Palestinian state.

King's Arab Foes Join In Rejection

AMMAN (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan offered today to set up a semiautonomous state of Palestine on the occupied West Bank of the Jordan River once Israeli troops withdrew from the region. The King's Arab foes joined in rejection of the plan, communicated to the Arab governments Tuesday, before he announced it. Radio and press commentators in Egypt, Syria, Libya and Iraq charged it was the first step toward a separate peace agreement with Israel. Palestine guerrilla leaders agreed to set up their own government-in-exile in retaliation, guerrilla sources said. A guerrilla statement termed Hussein's proposal "a plot designed to kill the commando movement and liquidate the Palestine cause forever." First unofficial reaction in Israel was cautiously favorable. Hussein announced his plan to a meeting of some 500 prominent Jordanians from both sides of the river. He told them the new state would be joined with the rest of Jordan to form the United Arab Kingdom under his reign. A government spokesman denied a report by Baghdad Radio Tuesday that Israel had agreed to the plan as part of a peace agreement. The spokesman said there had been no discussions between leaders of Israel and Jordan. The Iraqi broadcast appeared to be an attempt to whip up Arab sentiment in advance against the king's plans by raising the specter of a separate Jordanian-Israeli peace. Hussein proposed that Jerusalem should be the capital of the "Region of Palestine" and Amman, the present Jordanian capital, would be the capital of both the "Region of Jordan" and the United Arab Kingdom. The part of the plan involving Jerusalem was certain of rejection by Israel, which captured the Arab Old City of Jerusalem from Jordan in the 1967 war and has said repeatedly it would never give it up. The king said the United Arab Kingdom would have a national assembly whose members would be elected by a direct and secret ballot, and membership would be divided equally between the two regions of the country. As outlined by Baghdad, the plan included the occupied Gaza Strip in the Palestinian state but made no mention of the other Egyptian and Syrian territory occupied by Israel.

GREETINGS — Alabama Gov. George Wallace reaches out to touch the hands of well wishers after his victory in the Florida Democratic presidential primary.

Wallace Gives Demos 'The St. Vitus Dance'

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Political Writer

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — George C. Wallace is a name and a force sure to confront Democratic White House campaigners in contests across the nation, and likely to pursue them back to Miami Beach when the party chooses its nominee next July.

Wallace is not going to be that nominee, despite all his claims that a landslide victory in the Florida presidential primary Tuesday established him as a national candidate with a chance to head the ticket.

But national campaigner is another matter, and the Alabama governor is certainly that, with at least 10 more states on his primary election target list.

In those contests, he is certain to add substantially to the 75 national convention votes he captured with his Florida sweep, a 42 per cent landslide in an 11-candidate field.

The Florida outcome, in which Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota was his closest challenger at 18 per cent, and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine managed only 9 per cent, guaranteed a crowded and divided Democratic field throughout most if not all the primaries.

When the vote is splintered among a big field, Wallace, with a hard core of supporters, looms as a potent contender.

As the Alabama governor tells his campaign rallies, that prospect gives national Democratic leaders "the shakes, it gives them the St. Vitus dance."

He delights in recalling his 1964 primary races, all three of them losses, but all with substantial showings.

His strongest showing then came in Maryland, where he captured 43 per cent.

And that was without the explosive issue of school busing for racial balance, which worked to Wallace's advantage in Florida, and will elsewhere.

One of the primaries on the Wallace target list, for example, is in Michigan, where busing has stirred major controversy.

Reading his real intent is an impossible task. "I have no master plan," is all he will say about the possibility he may decide after the primaries to go his own, third-party route again.

As a third party candidate, he tried, and failed, to deny an electoral college majority to either President Nixon, the Republican nominee, or Humphrey, the Democrat.

The goal then was to gain the balance of electoral power, and to barter support for concessions.

Wallace could seek to cast himself in the same role this time, with the Democratic National Convention the arena for his efforts to exert pressure and seek deals.

President Nixon said as the campaign year began that Wallace was a Democratic problem. He was right.

Lawyer Fees Increased, Local Take Dips In '71

By LINDA CROSS

A state law went into effect Aug. 30, 1971, raising some minimum fees for court-appointed defense attorneys representing indigent clients.

Cost of such fees has been less to Howard County taxpayers since the passage of the law than it was in 1970. The county is possibly one of the few Texas counties that can make this claim, and it is largely because no capital punishment cases involving court-appointed defense counsel have been tried within the county's jurisdiction since the legislation.

$250 PER DAY

According to Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, the last capital punishment cases tried at Howard County's expense were the 1970 murder trials of Rae Bourbon and Bobby Chrisco for the 1968 murder of A. D. Blount, local pet shop owner.

Principal effect of the legislative act was to raise the minimum fee for court-appointed lawyers defending clients in death penalty cases from $50 per-day-in-court to $250 per-day-in-court.

In 1970, the total cost for court-appointed defense counsel in 118th District, Howard County and juvenile courts was $4,391.78, in comparison with the 1971 total of $3,136.65. Through February of this year $175 has been paid.

BREAK DOWN

Break-down of the payments show that in 1970, $4,141.78 was paid to 118th District Court-appointed attorneys, $250 to juvenile court-appointed, and no lawyers were appointed by Howard County Court.

In 1971, the figures were $2,886.65 in district court costs, $50 in county court, and $200 in juvenile court.

Through February, 1972, attorney fees have totaled $125 in district court and $50 in juvenile court.

Court-appointed attorneys are to be paid a minimum fee of $50 per-day-in-court when representing indigent defendants in misdemeanor (county court) or felony (district court) cases, according to the 1971 law. Judges in any of the court has discretion to set the fee at a higher amount. The $50 per-day minimum must also be paid to court-appointed counsel employed in habeas corpus hearing.

$500 MINIMUM

The minimum fee jumps to $250-per-day-in-court for appointed attorneys in a capital punishment case.

Appointed attorneys are reimbursed up to, but not to exceed $500, for expenses incurred for the purpose of investigation or to obtain expert testimony.

When a case not involving capital punishment is appealed to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, the total fee for an appointed attorney is a minimum of $350. In appeals of capital punishment cases, the minimum fee is $500.

Barking Duck

CHICAGO (AP) — Mr. Duck is more than a duck around the Bob Brophy home. He has turned the tables on the family watch dog, Duffer, and guards the house from intruders.

The eight-pound web-footed bundle of white feathers has had no formal training in the art of home defending and thinks he is a dog.

A duck house was built in the backyard for Mr. Duck. When Mr. Duck took possession, Duffer moved in, too.

"I'm sure he thinks he is a dog," said Mrs. Brophy. "He quacks when strangers come into the yard and his quack is more like a bark than the sound other ducks make."

Musicians Hit Road Shortly

A pair of musical groups from the Big Spring High School band face a busy last week in March.

The Golden Horns, the stage band under direction of Kyle Ellison have been asked to play at the District 22 convention of Key Club International in Dallas March 25. The Honors Band, the top 60 musicians from the entire band, has been invited to present a concert at the Texas Association of Student Councils annual meeting in Austin March 30, on the final day of the convention.

This will involve some doing in both instances, for the stage band will leave here after school March 24 and head for Dallas to play the following day as an honor to band president Mike Bearden, who also is Key Club lieutenant governor of District 22. Then the group hurries home to get with the remaining members of the band who are in the CR '72 cast for the trip to Austin where the annual band extravaganza will be presented at the state student council parley March 29.

The Honors Band has its work cut out, for after participating in the CR '72 production and knocking down and packing the sets the evening before, the 60 honors members have to be up and ready for the 8 a.m. concert the following day.

The Golden Horns will play "MacArthur Park," "Somewhere Finale" from West Side Story, "Malgueña," and "Kisses." Under the baton of Bill Bradley, the Honors Band will play its UIL contest numbers: Rudolf Friml's "Song of the Vagabonds," Claude Smith's "Incidental Suite," and W. Francis MacBeth's "Seventh Seal."

Snare Illegal Aliens In Raids

HOUSTON (AP) — Eighty-four illegal aliens have been arrested by U.S. Immigration and Border Patrol agents in a search of the Houston area.

Federal agents called the search, which began Wednesday, "an accelerated program."

A number of agents from other cities were brought here to take part in what one official termed "an extensive sweep of the area."

All those arrested were arraigned before U.S. magistrates here and given a 90-day sentence suspended for five years on condition they not return to this country illegally.

Mobile Home Proposal Youths Still Tabled By Commission Being Accepted

By BRIAN PEAY

City fathers faced an irritable crowd of mobile home owners in regular session Tuesday night, and as a result of the confrontation the first reading of an amendment to the city's mobile home ordinance was tabled.

Due to what city administrators and commissioners consider a consistent lack of cooperation by the majority of mobile home owners in paying their respective city taxes, the amendment to the ordinance was proposed, calling for a yearly inspection fee on each mobile home in the city. The inspection fee would cost mobile home owners $24 annually and would be pro-rated and each mobile home would be required to be inspected each year and display a city inspection sticker.

PUBLIC HEARING

Harry Nagel, city manager, and other commissioners tried to explain to approximately 30 to 40 mobile home owners in the meeting, which was termed a public hearing later, that currently there are only 166 mobile homes on the city tax rolls, and of the 160 there are 60 delinquent in their taxes. Nagel said there are approximately 2,000 mobile homes in the city, and the inspection procedure would bring those mobile home owners not paying taxes into conformity with city regulations.

With that explanation, mobile home owners in the meeting went into a frenzy, claiming they were being discriminated against and being required to pay double taxes to the city.

Tony Taroni, a local mobile home owner, presented a petition with many names of mobile home owners opposing the proposed inspection fee. The city had only received one letter with six names of opposing citizens prior to the meeting.

License Tag Sale Is Up Slightly

Total receipts to date for the sale of 1972 vehicle license tags are slightly ahead of what the total was at this time in 1971, according to information from Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax assessor-collector. To date, sales total $257,287.36, while in 1971 at this date, the figure was $247,541.60.

Most of the vehicles to get new tags so far have been light vehicles such as passenger cars and pickup trucks. Mrs. Bednar said that there will probably be an upswing in the amount of money received for the licensing of trucks and other heavier vehicles as the April 1 deadline draws nearer.

Midnight, April 1 will be the deadline to display the new green-and-white tags on all vehicles.

Knox Hospitalized While At Meeting

Norman Knox, administrator for Medical Center Memorial Hospital, was continuing to rest well at Brackenridge Hospital in Austin Wednesday after having been hospitalized Sunday for what appeared to have been a heart attack. Attending physicians now believe his difficulty may have been pericarditis, an inflammation.

He had been in Austin for the annual meeting of the Texas Hospital Association and to attend to matters pertaining to the hospital's Hill-Burton grant for an expansion of facilities here.

Taroni opposed the issue and wanted assurance from the commission that should the inspection fee be initiated mobile home owners would not be required to pay both personal property taxes and the inspection fee. The commission could not assure Taroni of that.

Other owners in the meeting were given a chance to state their views. John Bagnall told the commission he did not think the inspection fee was fair.

CITY'S PROBLEM

One man pointed out that the problem of delinquent taxes was the city's problem, and the mobile home owners should not have to be penalized for the city's problems. Another man threatened the commission, saying if the fee was initiated, many mobile home owners would move their homes from the city.

"We as mobile home owners who pay our taxes, will not stand for the inspection fee. It is unconstitutional and discriminatory," said C. B. O'Neal.

Eddie Acric, city commissioner, may have been feeling the same pressure the rest of the city fathers were under. He said the issue had reached the city commission prematurely, and he was not able to secure enough information surrounding the issue. He suggested the amendment to the ordinance be tabled until the information could be obtained.

Temporarily overlooking Acric's suggestion, Jack Watkins, city commissioner, tried to explain the city's position to the crowd.

"There are many mobile home owners in the city getting all of the services other tax paying citizens are getting, but they are not paying for the services," Watkins said. He called the owners in the meeting "good guys," wearing white hats, but some owners disagreed.

Watkins explained five services to citizens, which are financed by ad valorem, taxes in an effort to clarify the city's position, but his efforts were in vain.

Bob Bowen, of B&B Electronics, told commissioners that they and some of the mobile home park owners should research the question more before a final decision is made. "The whole tax structure of Big Spring is out of proportion," said Bowen.

Acric concurred again with this idea. Finally, after all attending the meeting were given a chance to voice their opinion, the commission, on motion by Acric, tabled the amendment reading to a later commission meeting when more information from other cities could be obtained and studied.

Mayor J. Arnold Marshall and the city manager both qualified the meeting by saying it was a public hearing, and the administration and commissioner appreciated the views of the home owners present.

"There have been a lot of good suggestions given the commission tonight, and that is what a public hearing is for," said the mayor.

After the meeting, the city manager was asked if he thought the commission would have approved the amendment, should there not have been so many opposed to the inspection fee as a form of taxation.

Nagel said the amendment would have been passed under those circumstances, adding that is why there are three readings on any issue. However, "I think that any time there is a delegation before the commission, the city fathers are going to listen to them," Nagel said.

Nominees for the Zales-Herald Youth Achievement banquet will be accepted, if they are post-marked no later than midnight tonight.

The banquet, honoring outstanding young people in Big Spring and six surrounding communities, will be staged at the Big Spring Country Club the evening of April 26.

Roger Staubach, quarterback of the world champion Dallas Cowboys, will fly out to deliver the principal speech.

A total of 56 boys and girls had been nominated for the honors this morning, some of them several times.

Of that group, 26 reside in Big Spring, five in Stanton, two in Forsan, five in Coahoma, two in Sands, eight in Lamesa and eight in Colorado City.

Thirty-two finalists will be selected from the list of nominees. Each of those whose name has been projected will get a certificate.

One entry from each city will be given a wrist watch.

Judges will determine winners on the students' standing in the class room, their extra-curricular pursuits, their affiliation with church or religious groups and their interest in civic betterment.

Despite That Saying, Mail Doesn't Always Go Through

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A boxcar full of parcel post packages has been found on an obscure Maryland siding and sent to Birmingham—where the mail was supposed to arrive more than two years ago.

The U.S. Postal Service and the Penn Central Railroad are blaming each other for the mix-up.

When the boxcar left Philadelphia in 1970 it was headed for the postal distribution center here with packages and third-class mail for Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.

It was found on a seldom used siding in Perryville, Md., with 319 mail sacks, 207 of Tom Hoppin, a spokesman for the railroad in Philadelphia, said it was Penn Central inspectors who found the car and reported it to postal officials.

He said that happened after New Castle, Del., police arrested an individual transporting mail bags.

Furthermore, Hoppin said the postal service never told Penn Central the car was missing and the railroad thought it had reached its destination.

He said records show that the railroad delivered the car to the Washington Terminal Co. in February 1970 for connection to Southern Railway routes.

The Washington firm noted the boxcar had a wheel defect and, according to postal records, the contents were transferred to another boxcar.

In September 1970, Hoppin said, the Washington firm returned the first boxcar and 58 similar ones to Penn Central for storage since that type of car was being phased out for postal work.

Greene said that when the loaded boxcar was found on the siding, its contents were taken to Baltimore where many of the parcels were rewrapped due to their deteriorated condition.

Each was then stamped: "Delayed due to circumstances beyond the control of the U.S. Postal Service."

They arrived here Monday, which were filled with parcel post, including numerous shipping forms from three Philadelphia mail order houses.

And that's about all the Penn Central and the postal service agree on.

Le Roy Greene, director of communications for the Southern region of the postal service, said postal inspectors found the boxcar after a two-year car-by-car search in the Washington area.

He said Tuesday that Penn Central was unable to locate the car, although the railroad was notified within minutes of its disappearance.

Tube Programmers Play Mean Trick On Viewers

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The network programmers of NBC and ABC played a mean trick on the viewers Tuesday night. With most programs on reruns, two special shows of more than ordinary interest were competing.

ABC presented a 90-minute live report of the annual Grammy awards, the recording industry's equivalent of the Oscar and the Emmy, and had top musical talent performing the hits of the year. During most of that time, NBC was broadcasting for the first time on television the first half of the 1961 musical hit "West Side Story." There was no way to catch both.

The awards program stuffed with star-spangled names, rolled off smoothly and professionally. The 90 minutes even had more entertainment than statue-presenting. As far as production values went, it was tastefully done, but it is almost impossible to do much when the entertainment is a parade of performers.

The thank-you speeches were held to a merciful few seconds; the envelope-openers were rationed on those cue-card quips;

Andy Williams, as host, ran a tight ship with easy good humor.

Broadway's Tony Awards are still the most stimulating for the television watchers, but the Grammy shows are in second place. If the Oscar and Emmy programs would cut down the number of on-camera presentations and control the thank-you speeches, they would be vastly improved. Grammy statutes were passed out in only a dozen categories during the 90 minutes although a number of other performers were honored off camera.

ILA Clerks Talk Midnight Strike

HOUSTON (AP) — With a strike facing negotiators at midnight tonight, talks are scheduled to continue today between shippers and a small bargaining unit of longshoremen in West Gulf ports.

If the West Gulf Maritime Association and the clerks and checkers locals of the International Longshoremen's Association don't reach agreement by midnight, ports from Lake Charles, La., to Brownsville, Tex., could be shut down.

But the 450 member clerks and checkers locals could shut down the West Gulf ports if they set up picket lines. The clerks and checkers kept West Gulf ports shut in 1969 for four days after other ILA bargaining units had settled.

Federal Mediator Gayle Wierter said a number of issues remain to be settled and he was not very hopeful that they would be.

The hangup, both sides say, is over work rules including the number of men who will be assigned to check cargo off and on vessels.

Jealous Streak

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

JEALOUS: (Q.) I have a very bad jealous streak, and it is about to break up my girl friend and me.

We get into fights. I get mad when she talks to other boys. She claims they are just friends but I get mad just the same.

Another thing — all the time she talks about the boy she went with before me. I scream at her about it and she says I gripe too much.

I love her and don't want to lose her. Do you really think I gripe too much? — Really in Love in New Mexico.

(A.) You very likely do complain too much. If you keep it up you are very likely to lose your girl friend.

You do not own her. She is free to talk to whomever she wishes about whatever she wishes. Let her.

And let her talk about her former boy friend. Listen to her. She is trying to tell you how you could be if you didn't get so stirred up by your jealousy.

You can't be exactly the way she wants you, but you can be less argumentative, less domineering. You can quit picking fights at every opportunity.

You realize that. It is a good sign. Get busy and be more decent to her. It will help her. You too.

SWITCH: (Q.) One of my closest friends likes this boy a whole lot. They've met a few times at the drug store, but have had no planned, real dates.

Well, the other night he called me and asked me out. I said no. He asked me out for another night. Again, I refused.

But what should I do? I don't want to hurt her or lose her as a friend. — Surprised in Louisiana.

(A.) If he asks you again, which he may not do, and if you want to go, say yes.

But do not try to hide it from your girl friend, and do not make any excuses to her. If she takes exception, tell her the truth. He asked you and you said yes.

Decision To Carve Out School District Put Off

HOUSTON (AP) — A decision on carving 23 square miles out of the Houston School District to form a new district in a mostly white, affluent area of Houston was put off for a week Tuesday by the Harris County School Board.

The board, with one member absent, voted 3-3 on the proposal to form the Westheimer School District and then decided to hold another meeting next Tuesday when all seven members could be present.

The absent member, Guy W. Butler, was contacted later and he refused to say how he would have voted if present.

A majority of the qualified voters in the proposed new district signed a petition calling for the creation of the new district. Backers say the Houston district, the nation's sixth largest, is not providing quality education.

Select All-White Jury For Angela Davis Trial

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — With surprising speed, a jury has been selected and sworn to the trial of black militant Angela Davis. She is charged with murder, kidnaping and conspiracy in the 1970 San Rafael Courthouse shootout in which a judge and three others were killed.

Her attorneys say they accepted an all-white jury because there was no chance of getting a black juror on the panel.

Prosecutor Albert Harris Jr., noting that the panel of eight women and four men includes a Mexican-American, labeled totally untrue defense charges that the state would accept only an all-white jury.

SURPRISED SCRIBES
Both sides surprised newsmen and court spectators Tuesday by accepting a jury after only nine days of jury selection. The attorneys had predicted earlier that the job would take five or six weeks—and the defense had questioned whether it would ever find 12 people to determine Miss Davis' guilt or innocence.

Miss Davis, a Communist party member, faced the men and women who will judge her and announced the defense's acceptance of the panel. She said: "Although I cannot say that this is a jury of my peers, after jury selection we have reached the conclusion that the women and men sitting on this jury will put forth their best efforts to give me a fair trial."

Laredo Businessmen Label Editorial Untrue

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — A Laredo newspaper allegation that this city is attempting to stop a drive against U.S. contraband moving into Mexico has drawn fire from Laredo businessmen.

An editorial Tuesday in El Sol de Mexico, a Mexico City newspaper, alleged Laredo businessmen are threatening to fire 5,000 Mexican workers.

The editorial said businessmen in this border city are blaming retail losses on a government campaign against U.S. contraband flowing into Mexico.

"We consider the editorial completely untrue and regret that Laredo has been unjustly and unfairly singled out," James Garza, Laredo chamber of commerce president, said.

Garza, executive vice president of the Laredo National Bank, said retail merchants in Laredo and other border cities have cut some staffs or reduced the number of working hours because of a recent business slump.

WORKING FOLKS
Immediately after Arnason swore in the jurors, the attorneys started the process of selecting four alternates. This is expected to take the rest of the week.

Testimony and opening statements could begin as early as next Monday, but court sources indicated they may be delayed until March 27 to give attorneys additional preparation time. The trial is expected to last four months.

The jury is composed primarily of a middle-age working people. The youngest juror is a 22-year-old collection clerk, the oldest a retired librarian in her late 60s.

Santa Clara County had sent questionnaires to more than 5,000 prospective jurors for possible service at Miss Davis' trial. The 12 seated were chosen from the first panel of 150 called.

Ernie Taylor Progressing

DENVER, Colo. — Oklahoma Ernie Taylor gained on Phil Lyne in the world champion all-around cowboy standings with a win in calf roping at Phoenix, Ariz., the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Taylor, of Hugo, won $1,632 at the rodeo by roping and tying two calves in a total of 23.4 seconds, emerging first in the "average." The win moved him from fourth to second in the all-around category with $9,191. Lyne, George West, Tex., reigning world champion all-around cowboy, was wireless. The Phoenix rodeo, which ended Sunday, paid winners $50,259.

Event leaders are: Saddle bronc riding — J. C. Bonine, Hysam, Mont., $7,843; bareback Smith, Cody, Wyo.; bareback bronc riding — Gary Tucker, Carlsbad, N.M., $8,987, and Royce Smith, Challis, Idaho, $6,342; bull riding — John Quintana, Eugene, Ore., $8,914, and Larry Mahan, Brooks, Ore., $6,830; calf roping — Dean Oliver, Boise, Idaho, $12,350, and Lynne $9,847; steer wrestling — Bussy Kaul, Hereford, Tex., $6,069, and Tom Elliott, Peyton, Colo., $5,561; GRA barrel racing — Jeana Day, Woodward, Okla., $2,955, and Jo Russell, Shamrock, Tex., $2,778.

Campaign For Lieutenant Governor Triggering Barbs

Campaign activity increased Tuesday in the race for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor while gubernatorial hopefuls spoke of salary increases and public confidence.

State Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, campaigning for the lieutenant governor's spot, singled out opponent Bill Hobby of Houston for criticism.

Christie told a Houston news conference that Hobby had sent him a telegram favoring an immediate special legislative session.

"I think Texans want a calm, deliberate and sensible approach to government, not feverish shouts and telegrams in the night that the legislature should rush into session to deal piecemeal with the issues of state government," Christie said.

Hobby mailed out campaign brochures accompanied by a letter which said, in part, "I have nothing personally to gain from the office of lieutenant governor. My motive for seeking this office is service."

system to prepare students better for careers.

Sen. Wayne Connally of Floresville, another Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, scheduled a fish fry in Austin for today and said he would talk "informally" about his campaign.

Burglary Suspect Held In Odessa

A suspect in the weekend burglary of Town & Country Shopping Center on South U.S. 87 was taken to Odessa this morning by Howard County deputy sheriffs for polygraph tests in connection with the burglary. No charge has been filed in the case.

Entry into the shopping center was gained by knocking a hole in the south wall of the center. The thief or thieves took over $50 from the Cook's Paint Store in the center, and over $20 in change was taken from the Western Wear Shop in the center.

Maack Gamble, general manager of the center, discovered the break-in Sunday morning and notified the Big Spring Police Department, which in turn turned the investigation over to the sheriff's department.

Albert Fay of Houston, Republican candidate for governor, told party workers at McKinney that Democrats "have all but destroyed the public's confidence in state government."

State Rep. Frances Farenthold of Corpus Christi, a Democratic candidate for governor, told a news conference at Baylor University that legislators should get a high enough salary to live on.

Coupled with the salary proposal would be a requirement that legislators have no outside employment.

"They should be there strictly on public business," she said.

In the Democratic attorney general's race, challenger John Hill told Dallas precinct workers that Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin "has created a do-nothing dynasty which he hopes to perpetuate for an unprecedented fourth term."

Martin told the Garland Chamber of Commerce "the question is no longer one of whether we have organized crime. The question is how we move to stop it before it gets a firm foothold."

Genealogy Research Reviewed

Mrs. Bill Earley explained how she did research and filed records when tracing her family lineage at a Thursday meeting of the Genealogical Society of the Big Spring. During the program she displayed a 150-year-old rocker which had belonged to her grandfather.

Miss Bernice Cason presided, asking that members who are interested in a field trip to Odessa, for research, contact Mrs. John Damron, 263-1154. The society members will attend a workshop in Lubbock in April, and tentative plans were made for a field trip to Signal Mountain.

The meeting was held in Howard County Library where the society will meet again at 7:15 p.m., April 13.

Pre-Nuptial Event Held At Club Is Honor For Miss Ann Garrett

Mrs. Roy Townsend and Mrs. E. H. Boullion entertained Saturday at Big Spring Country Club where they were hostesses at a kitchen shower honoring Miss Ann Garrett, bride-elect of Gary Turner.

Receiving guests with the hostesses were Miss Garrett, her mother, Mrs. Horace Garrett, and her fiance's mother, Mrs. C. D. Turner.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Don Newsom, Mrs. H. G. Keaton, Mrs. Clyde Angel, Mrs. Marvin Miller, Mrs. R. H. Weaver and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper.

Corsages were miniature mums accented with small kitchen gadgets.

A bandana motif was carried out in decorations; the focal point being the refreshment table laid with a white linen cloth accented with red bandanas. Centering the table was a brass champagne cooler holding red tulips and white irises and daisies arranged with wooden spoons and other kitchen gadgets. Copper punch and coffee services were used.

Matching floral arrangements in red and white were at various places in the room, and the guest registry was covered with a red and white cloth. Presiding at the register was the honoree's sister, Miss Sue Garrett.

Mrs. Gail Bonner, pianist, provided music during the affair, and the piano was flanked by large ferns.

Ladies Auxiliary Hosts Dinner

The Ladies Auxiliary to Big Spring Barracks 1474, Veterans of World War I, hosted a dinner for the barracks Thursday evening in the IOOF Hall.

To carry out the St. Patrick's Day theme, the registry table was covered with a green and white cloth and centered with yellow joughis. Dining table decorations were also green and white.

Guests included Fritz Mogford of Colorado City, district commander; Sid Lowrey, Lubbock post commander, and Mrs. Lowrey; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Price, Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Crabtree, Plainview.

Mrs. Forrest invited the barracks and auxiliary members to attend the district convention April 15 in Lubbock. Approximately 75 attended. The next meeting will be April 13 at the IOOF Hall.

Debates Use Of 'Married' Name

Whether married women should be introduced with their given name or with their husband's name was discussed by members of International Women's Club Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Ronald Kinney, 244-B Langley.

The women agreed they would prefer to be referred to in both verbal and written media by their own names, because it recognizes them as individuals.

Mrs. W. B. Dickinson presided. Mrs. Jerry Gilbert of Germany was introduced as a new member and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lorelei Gilbert, was a guest.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated with yellow candles. Mrs. Dickinson will host the next meeting in her home at 2716 Cindy, at 8 p.m., April 12.

New Slate Named By Gay Hill PTA

The room count was won by the third-fourth grade.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Recently my daughter broke her vacuum bottle.

I gladly bought her a new one because I discovered three uses for the broken one.

I rinsed all the glass from the pretty outside part and now she uses this part for a pencil holder.

I put the cup in a drawer for my little one to use for drinks of water. Thus no more hazard of climbing on counters, or broken glasses.

I use the rim and stopper as an educational toy for our youngest. Tacking off the lid and putting it back on is good for coordination. . . . A Fan

Imagine putting a broken vacuum bottle into use in these clever ways. And how many we have thrown away over the years. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I've a solution to a common problem, and it really does work!

Have you ever lifted the lid of your top-loading washer and watched your sheets, captured in their own air bubbles, swirling around above the suds like so many balloons?

You should remember that your washer is designed to wash fabric, not air.

Let the washer fill and begin to agitate. Then "thread" in your sheets, starting from corners, and let the agitating action suck them down.

It's weird! The sheets sink into the washer all by themselves, and they agitate without air locks.

(Be sure to add pillow cases from their closed ends.)

This idea also works for beach towels, bedspreads, curtains, and heavy clothing items like men's trousers. . . . Betsy Coviello

Dear Heloise:
Does your vacuum cleaner have one of those electrical cords which automatically pops inside of the machine when you let go of it?

I had difficulty getting mine to catch so it would stay out. But I solved the problem by pulling out the cord as far as it would go, and putting a clamp-style clothespin on the end of it near the opening.

The clothespin held the cord firmly while I did my floors. . . . Dolores Augustin

Dear Heloise:
I've been intending to write to you for years, but have trouble even getting down to writing my own mother. But the time has come to tell you a neat little trick I discovered by happenstance.

By mistake, I got cream of potato soup the other day at the grocery store. (It was in the chicken noodle space.)

I know good and well that no matter how good I think potato soup is, my children think it's yukky.

So I added half the can to my cooked frozen peas to make creamed peas.

So easy, it was. . . all the good onion and cream sauce, and seasoning just right. Looks nice, too.

Must close. . . time to put dinner on the table.

Thanks for your cheer and beautiful ideas. . . . Beth Thoennes

Recognizes Leaders Of 'Rights' Crusade

Efforts of women who have worked to gain recognition and equal rights for all women were discussed by Mrs. Harlan Hui-bregtse for Beta Kappa Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, Saturday in the Sterling City Community Center.

Past Matrons Meet For Dinner

Past matrons of Big Spring Chapter 67, Order of Eastern Star, met for dinner at 7 p.m., Tuesday evening at the Downtown Tea Room. Mrs. Orbin Daily presided, and invocation was by Mrs. E. C. Boatler.

Tables were decorated with miniature treasure chests filled with arrangements of assorted spring flowers. Hostesses for the next club year were chosen. The 19 members present reported 60 visits to the sick.

Mrs. Hui-bregtse drew parallels between the struggles of women and of the black race to gain freedom and the rights they have been denied. She said until recent times, a woman merely went from "being the property of her father to being the property of her husband."

Miss Movelda Rhine concluded by describing outstanding women who are active today in American life, particularly politics.

Mrs. Cass Hill presided. Hostesses were Mrs. Dayton Barrett, Mrs. Jack Douthit, Mrs. E. Y. Buckner and Mrs. B. F. Yandell. The next meeting is April 15 at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, Big Spring.

Support That Counts

Dr. Michael DeBaKey gave Baylor College of Medicine a million dollars in order to help increase enrollment from 465 to 930 by 1975.

The gift is in character of the man they call "Black Mike," a controversial, aggressive folk hero in heart surgery. DeBaKey pioneered radical heart surgery that made Baylor world famous. He lent his prestige and talent to legislation, also, that pioneered holy-controversial federal programs in health care. He earned the enmity of many doctors who are conservative — politically and medically.

The 64-year-old surgeon has long since decided in his own view that petty quarrels over medical tradition get in the way of the kind of advance in quality service to the masses. By the force of his personality he has bowled over opponents so routinely that his position is no longer threatened, though it is often bitterly criticized.

He has won honors from all over the world, including the American Medical Association. He is or has been consultant or adviser to many important professional or public programs for medical advance in America for years. In 20 years at Baylor, he rose from professor to president on a reputation of meticulous training of doctors. His conviction that more doctors are needed with that kind of training is underscored by the million-dollar investment of his own funds.

So, even though his professional peers may not approve of his flair for personal color, Mike DeBaKey can't be faulted for failing to put his money where his mouth is. And this is a good example most of us could emulate for the benefit of our communities.

Enduring Ideals

When the moral remains of Houston Harte were laid to rest this afternoon in San Angelo, there were certain ideals that could not be buried with him. Those in his Standard-Times family said it best:

When Houston Harte came to San Angelo 52 years ago as the new editor and publisher of the Standard, he brought with him certain ideas about journalism — that a newspaper should lead, that it should report everything in its area of coverage without fear or favor, that it should relate all events to its own readers, that a newspaper must be truthful and fair to merit the public's support. He never lost sight of those ideals; he never allowed any Harte-Hanks staffer to lose sight of them, either. Houston Harte insisted his newspaper be used as an instrument for the public good, for the advancement of the community and for protection of the people's right to know. He never allowed it to become a vehicle for self-aggrandizement. Many were the embryo Standard-Times staffers who thought to please the boss by inserting his name or his picture into print, only to find out to their pain Houston Harte didn't play the game that way. His carpet was well-worn with the shufflings of those who at times had to attend a dressing-down — but never for reporting the truth, whoever it hurt, only for failing his own high standards of journalism.

Presidential Race

Around The Rim

Joe Pickle

Although two trial heats have been run in the presidential primaries, the results are conclusive only if you listen to those who are legging for a particular candidate. The bandwagon psychology which Sen. Edmund Muskie sought to nourish has been gravely tarnished by the New Hampshire and Florida primaries, but he still is regarded as the front runner by no less observer than Ray Stephens, assistant bureau chief for the Associated Press at Washington, D.C.

AN ASTUTE observer of the scene, Stephens said in an address to AP managing editors last weekend in Dallas that he still thinks that the cast for the November elections will be President Nixon and Sen. Muskie. The tenuity of opposition within the Republican ranks in contesting Mr. Nixon's renomination is reflected in Rep. Paul McCloskey's folding of his tent after the New Hampshire primary, and the dimly poor showing made by Rep. Ashbrook, who had been regarded as the bellwether of the hard conservatives who wanted to make the President prick his ears and pay more attention in that direction. About the only choice the far right wing has is to stay home. The GOP conventioners will dutifully nominate Mr. Nixon and Spiro Agnew, and go home.

IT PROMISES to be a vastly different affair for the Democrats. Where Sen. Muskie had hoped to have it sewed up before going to Miami, he likely will be fighting for his life down to the wire. Sen. McGovern can't win the nomination, barring something of a miracle in Stephen's view, but he has eliminated John Lindsey and established himself as the candidate on the left. Thus, he may be able to stand off a centerist on the order of Sen. Muskie, who must be sharing this role with Sen.

Hubert Humphrey, who, if he shows strength in the Midwest primaries, can be a real contender.

IS THERE a dark horse to turn to? Sen. Scoop Jackson, who may have dreamed of this role, will have been so badly scarred in the primaries he likely won't be considered. Would this mean a draft movement for Sen. Edward Kennedy? Stephens says Kennedy wants the nomination in 1976 — is avoiding it like a plague this year. He doesn't want to be a sacrificial lamb. So, in the end, he figures Muskie will finally prevail, but at the cost of a weary, and frustrated and possibly fractionated Democratic family.

THEN THE President's election is easily assured? Ironically, Stephens thinks that although he will win, Mr. Nixon will do so only after a good fight and a close shave. The President, he says, has never been able to generate any great degree of personal magnetism, and his popularity, now high, can ebb with any significant decline in the economic curve or with a rise in inflation. A sudden revival of the Southeast Asia war would deal him a severe blow. Nevertheless, the signs of economic recovery are such as to indicate his re-election, but not if Gov. George Wallace splinters into a third party race again. He could hurt the President worse than a Democratic contender.

STEPHENS' major conclusion is not concerning the outcome of the November balloting, but in what he sees as the shattering of the American two-party system into several groups. America then would have to depend on a coalition government, but, intimates Stephens, coalition is what you have in parties now anyhow. If he's right, this could be an historic election.

My Answer

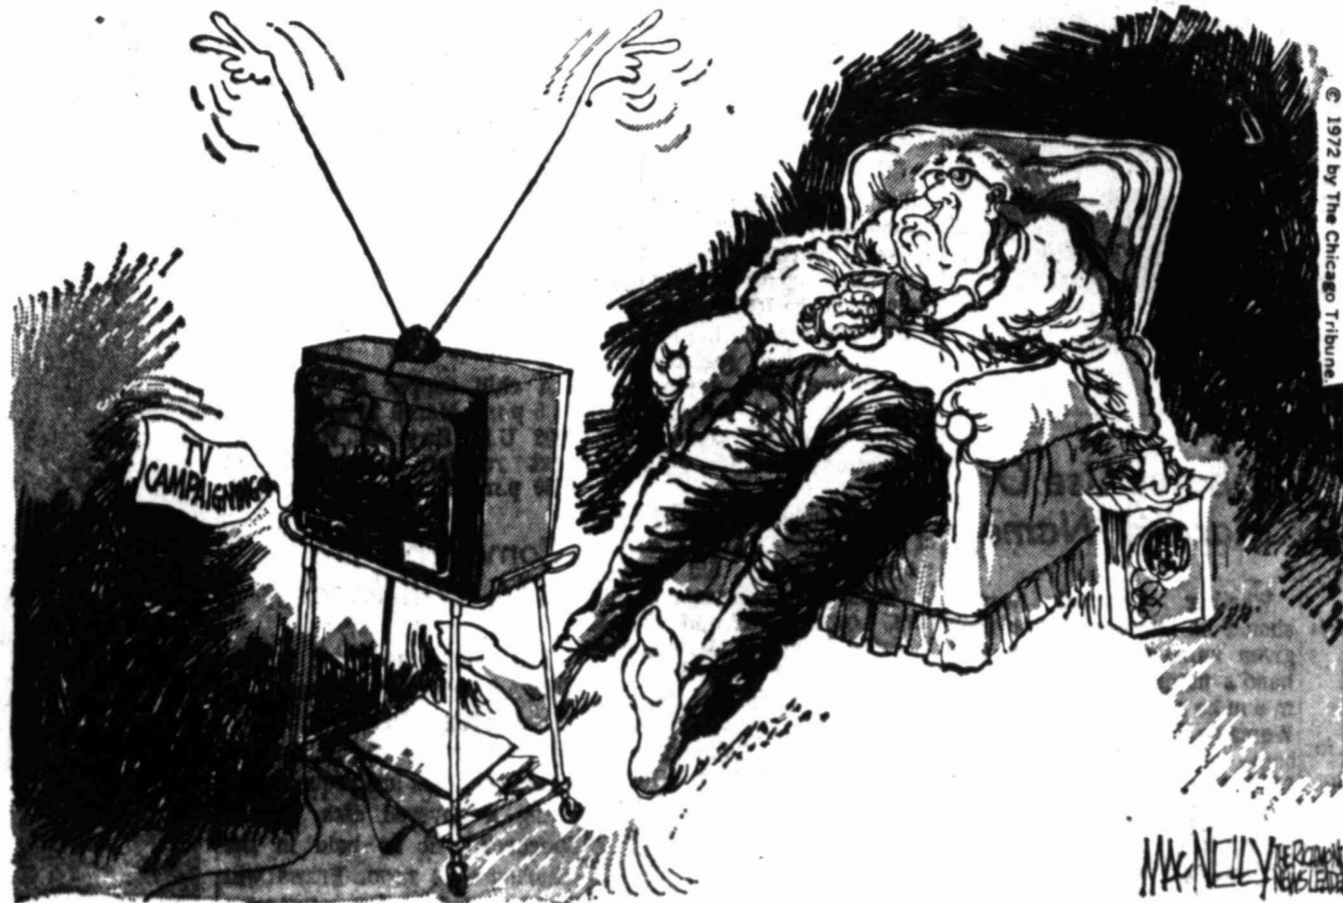

By BILLY GRAHAM

In today's world isn't Christianity irrelevant? It seems to me that the future will be so entirely different than the past that Christianity may not be practical. What is your opinion?

P.L. Moral law will never change no matter how hard men may try to alter it. There is a law written in our hearts that will forever make us uneasy when we go against the laws of God.

Christianity irrelevant? The brave new world that men are building with its tremendous speeds and tensions will need the stabilizing power of Christ more than ever. The Bible says, "By him all things consist." It would not be amiss to say, "Without Him all things are inconsistent."

Professor Brightman once wrote of Jesus: "A being, who 1900 years after His death, can cause a civilization to question its own foundations, is no mean Carpenter." The Soviets today are disturbed by the renewal of interest in this Carpenter of long ago. He will come again and again, and cause us, instinctively, to measure our lives by His life. Man has not changed in his basic moral and spiritual needs — he needs Christ even more than the men of the first century!

Not So Easy Money Policy

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — Some interest rates are beginning to move up again and speculation is spreading that the Federal Reserve may be subtly changing its aggressively easy money policy to one of more moderation.

The trend so far is not conclusive, but money is costlier in those esoteric areas in which big business deals and could be reflected at the consumer level in coming months.

If the tendency develops into a trend, it quite likely will reopen an old argument about which comes first: the American economy or the demands of the European central banks.

The American first group argues that low rates are needed to fuel the expansion that is now under way and has a long way to go before idle plant capacity and jobless workers are fully employed.

The Europeans say that low American rates threaten to disrupt world monetary order because the billions of American dollars abroad are not being drawn back home because of unattractive yields.

In this context, therefore, the assurance given to European central bankers this week by Arthur F. Burns, Fed chairman, is being viewed with some suspicion. He told the bankers that the low point in American rates has been reached.

In the view of some American businessmen and investors, the problem really isn't so much low American rates as it is the failure of European bankers to reduce their rates sufficiently to discourage the dollar flow.

Wet Thieves

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Two girls who stole a boat recently at Lake Worth wound up in hot and cold water.

The girls, 12 and 13, stole a 12-foot canoe and rowed away. They rammed a bridge support, ripping a hole in the boat. The vessel sank, forcing them to swim to shore.

The girls were taken to the Police Youth Division, where an officer described them as "soaking wet and extremely belligerent."

ing traditional 5 or 6 per cent levels.

American interest rates therefore are low only in relation to foreign rates.

Some interpreters of American history go so far as to say that the difference in rates between the two areas is precisely the reason the American economy has grown more swiftly and vigorously.

They argue that high rates are like a regressive tax, preventing the ascendancy of vigorous new competition to established enterprises and so encouraging stagnation.

Low rates, they say, promote competition by putting money into the hands of competent have-nots who then can challenge the older, established enterprises and add to competition.

Spoiled Perfect Voting Record

CHATFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Albert Olness, 77, a retired auto mechanic, has been clerk of the Pilot Mount township board since 1923.

It is an elective office and in those 49 years he has had only one ballot cast against him. Somebody wrote in another man's name once. "Spoiled another perfect record," Olness mused.

Invitations To Trouble

Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — One never begins to grow up until he learns how to say no—and stick to it.

Until then he merely is a chance-buffed chip riding the waves of mindless change in life. He matures only when he achieves a sense of self-direction.

You achieve that only by rejecting other directions that lead you the wrong way.

Here are a few invitations which, if accepted, lead usually to nothing but trouble: "Let's play hooky today. I'll write a note to the teacher to excuse you, and you write one for me."

"Why make a big debate out of it? Why don't we just go ahead and get married—and see for ourselves whether we can get along?"

"If you think there's a robber hiding under the bed, why don't you just look there and see."

"Yes, this is our old family album. Do you want me to tell you what each of my relatives was like?"

"Shall I tell you what I really think of you, Gerald?"

"So this is what a cocktail lounge looks like! You look like a man a girl can trust. Do you want to buy me just a teentysweatsy drink?"

"This joker must think he can bully you, Bob. Shall I hold your coat while you show him a thing or two?"

"Do you want me to help you do the dishes?"

show the whole regiment what kind of a man you are, private. Are you ready?"

"Let's just sit here in this grassy spot and look at the clouds sail by, Charlotte. We can rejoin the picnic later."

"Well, then, do you want me to pull all your teeth and get the whole business over with once and for all?"

"I don't see any rocks. Go ahead and dive in."

"I just put in a tiny smidgen of garlic, so eat all you want."

"Would you rather put your money where your mouth is?"

"They say it's good for people like us to talk over their marriage now and then, John. If I tell you why I married you, will you tell me why you married me—truthfully?"

Main Issues

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — While a relatively small number of voters will participate in the early primaries, the contestants will get a good deal of publicity, even though there is considerable confusion as to what the results mean both as to the various candidates and the issues which are most likely to win votes.

ACTUALLY, THE people generally will in large part be influenced in their voting next November by the economic condition of the country at that time and the prospects for 1973.

Optimism about the progress of recovery is growing steadily. It is expected that before long the unemployment figures will show a substantial decrease as business resumes some of the activities it has put aside in the past year or two and consumers begin to spend more, freely.

The full effect of the monetary agreements reached by the United States with other countries has not begun to be felt as yet. Only now is Congress about to pass the bill revaluing the price of gold. Trade expansion plans began getting headlines a few months ago. Since then an adjustment in the position of the dollar has been made and the import surcharges have been removed, but these have not yet penetrated the international trade mechanism sufficiently to show the consequences of the steps taken by the President to stimulate exports.

THERE ARE certain reasons for spending large sums on defense, though the expenses for the Vietnam War have been materially reduced and by election time very few American servicemen will be left in Indo-China. Debate over the Vietnam war will by November be less of a factor in securing votes in opposition to the administration.

It is believed that the forces remaining in Vietnam will consist almost entirely of air services, advisers, technical assistants and those who can help the big South Vietnamese army with some of its organizational problems. But this is not a spectacular participation in the area and will be comparable to the troops the United States has at some military bases in other countries abroad.

THE SIMPLE fact is that our involvement in the Vietnam War will be virtually over by the time the American people go to the polls in November. If the prisoners have been released, a cease-fire will be possible and the military aspects of the war can be ended. If not, the South Vietnamese will continue their fight and the United States will render assistance through advisers and air support as needed.

THE MAIN issues, therefore, in the election campaign here will be domestic. If the voters can see a definite trend toward recovery and they are inclined to credit the party in power with having helped to bring about the improvement in economic conditions. Much will depend also on whether inflation has been noticeably curbed as prices are no longer forced upward by demands for higher wages.

BEGINS TO look as if the administration is going to make a fight for a Republican majority in both the House and the Senate on the basis that this would assure more support for its legislative programs if President Nixon wins re-election.

Women Rebel

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP) — A number of women who usually take the Long Island Railroad to New York for Wednesday matinees in Broadway theaters have vowed to pass up such trips.

The round trip fare is now $5.00 one housewife said, "and there no longer are ladies' day fares. With shows at $9 things are getting to be a little too much."

Dear Abby
Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a 41-year-old man, and I feel like a jerk writing to you, but I have no one else to talk to, and I need some advice before I just drive my car off a cliff.

Over a year ago, my wife had an affair with a married man she works with. It was not her first, and I'm sure it won't be her last. I got fed up with her and her running around, and I finally got a divorce. (We have two kids who are living with me for good reasons.)

I really tried to work things out before divorcing her. That's how I met Lois. (She's the wife of the last guy my wife was fooling around with.) Well, to make a long story short, I dug Lois and Lois dug me. She has three kids, but she won't divorce her husband because she says it was his first offense, and he deserves another chance for the sake of their children. I'll be honest with you, Lois and I have been having an affair. She says she loves me, but she can't divorce her husband.

Abby, I am crazy about Lois, and can't make it without her. Please tell me what to do.

GOING CRAZY
DEAR ABBY: Quit seeing Lois unless you want to wind up with another wife who cheats on her husband.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married only two months. We were very happy until yesterday when his ex-wife called to tell him she was pregnant and is naming him as the baby's father! You couldn't have given her a better answer. I was in a psychiatric hospital for a short time recently, and at the time under a psychiatrist's care. He has put me on the right track, and I now see a completely different side of life. The right side! I don't know what would have happened to me and my family had I not found him.

If more people who had serious problems would seek the help of a psychiatrist instead of hanging onto that almighty dollar, this would be a better world. I could never pay my doctor enough for what he has done for me.

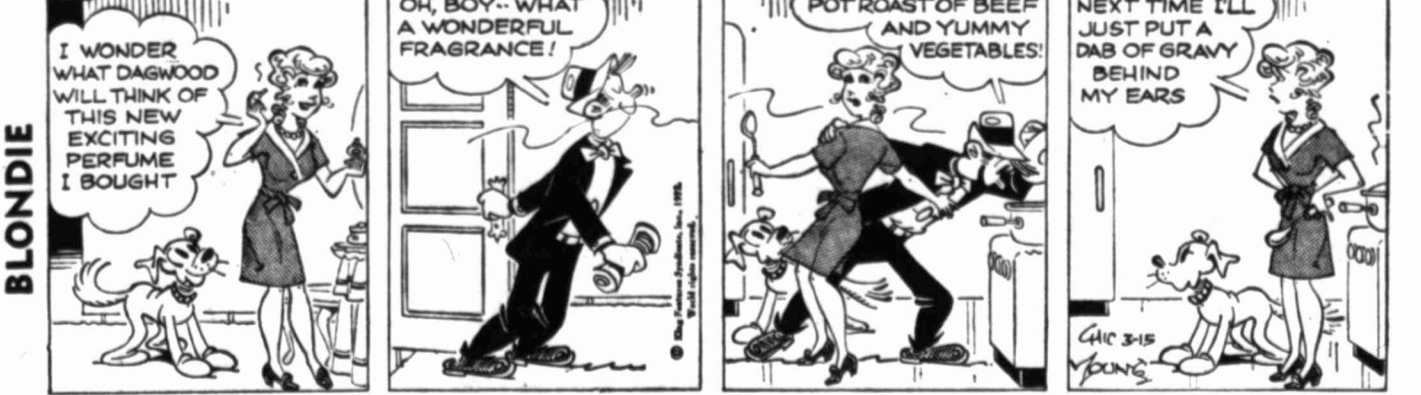

Please, Abby, print this. It may help someone who needs psychiatric help, but hesitates to go because it's too "expensive." A NEW PERSON
DEAR NEW: The person who admits he needs help is halfway cured. Thanks for writing.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

WEST COAST CASE
DEAR CASE: A blood test can only prove who the baby's father is not! If your husband is in fact not the baby's father, but the baby's father, his blood type, nothing is proved.

DEAR ABBY: A woman wrote to tell you what she thought was a "cute" saying: "The neurotic builds a dream castle. The psychotic lives in them, and the psychiatrist collects the rent."

Your reply was great! You said, "A competent psychiatrist doesn't collect the rent; instead he helps his patient find a dwelling he can live in. And his fee is more appropriately the cost of moving."

Different Types

Your Good Health.

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 60 and a year ago was informed that I have angina pectoris. With medication I was able to continue working (half physical, half paper work).

I got along fine for nine months when I had an attack of "auricular fibrillation." After almost two hours it was stopped through electric shock treatment.

Now I am released to continue work but for the time being not allowed to do any physical work.

I would like to know how serious this is, and the possibility of a recurrence. — J.T.G.

You heart has given you a couple of relatively low-cost warnings of something amiss. Angina pectoris (chest pain) is a sign that the blood vessels serving the heart muscle have narrowed, a not unusual situation at your age. The angina (pain) is a loud cry by the heart muscle for more blood — just as folks with impaired circulation in the legs will have some pain if they walk too fast or too far.

The specific cause of the attacks of angina could be anything from nervous tension to excessive physical exertion or the aftermath of eating a rather large meal.

Therefore, you'll have to be careful not to overexert. The pain is a warning that you are doing more than your heart is able to support. Your medication is an important aid, but do your part by avoiding excessive exertion.

The fibrillation is a different type of heart problem, a disturbance in the orderly sequence of the heart beat. The rate is rapid but the rhythm irregular. The trouble no doubt was triggered by the same factors that caused the angina.

Will it recur? It might but ordinarily recurrence can be avoided by appropriate medication to keep the heart rhythm steady. Digitalis and quinidine are used for this.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Why is it that nothing can be done for cancer of the cervix, but if here is cancer of the uterus, the doctor removes the uterus? Sometimes they use an implant to kill the cancer of the cervix — M.D.

I don't know where you got the idea that "nothing can be done" for cancer of the cervix, because you are dangerously mistaken.

Cancer of the cervix is one form of cancer which, today, is highly curable — granting that, as with any cancer, it is detected early.

With the Pap test, it can be detected so early that no other symptoms have become apparent — and that is why so much emphasis is being placed on the importance of having periodic Pap tests.

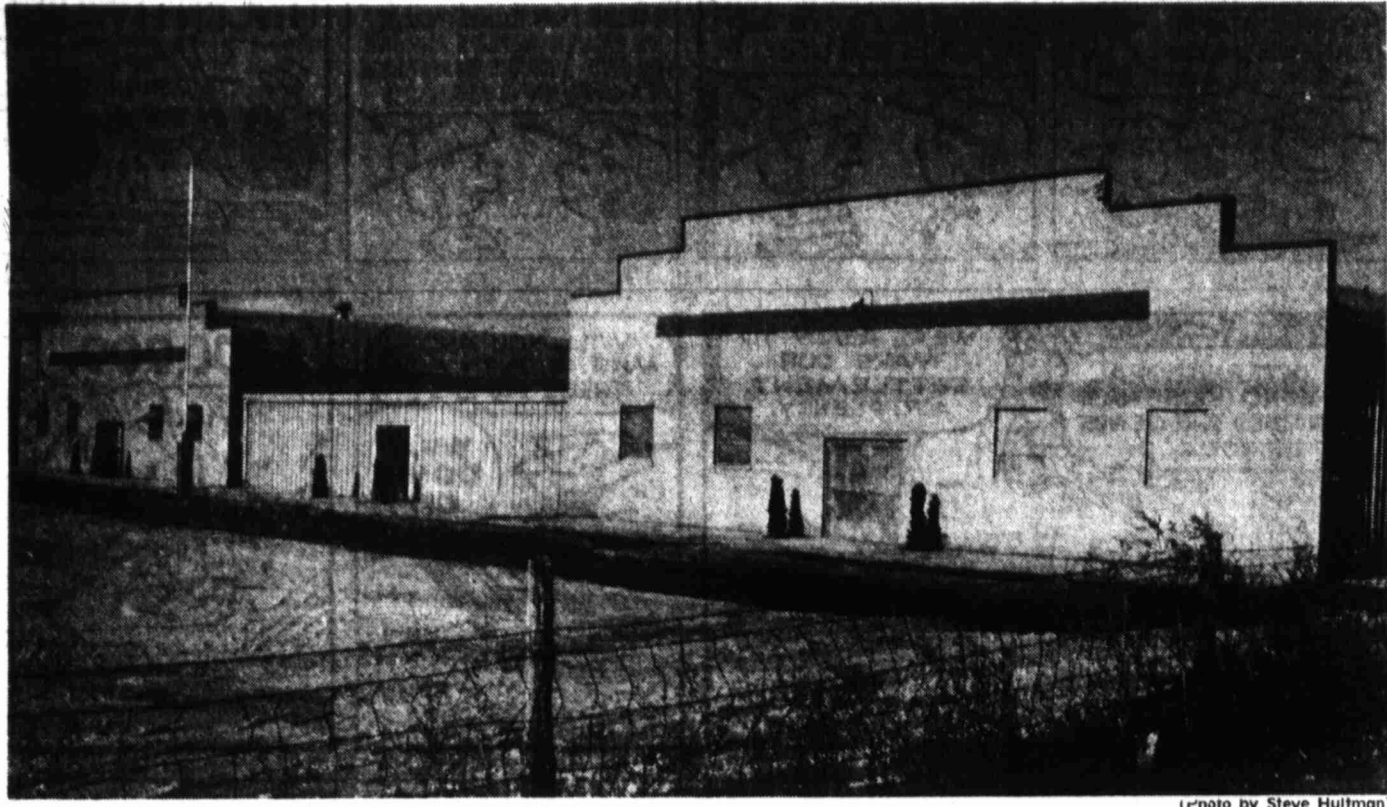

A radioactive implant frequently can be used to destroy the cancer before it has gained appreciable headway. If, when first found, it already has spread into the uterus, then uterus and cervix can be removed — the cervix, after all, is the neck or entrance to the uterus — but in a good many cases cancer of the cervix can be cured without surgery.

So please don't say, or let anyone else tell you, that "nothing can be done for cancer of the cervix."

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed (use zip code), stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

NEW FAIR BARN READY FOR SHOW — Pictured in the enlarged Howard County Fair Barn, located near the Rodeo Bowl in west Big Spring, which will be used for the annual Howard County 4-H and FFA Stock Show beginning Thursday and extending through Saturday morning. Steers and lambs from all over the county will be judged during the event.

Youngsters Plan All Year For Stock Show

A stock show like the one starting at the Howard County Fair buildings Thursday usually runs no more than three days. Planning for such an event is a year-around job, however. Preparations for this event began as soon as last year's show ended. Young people started all over again in raising their stock for exhibition. In 4-H and FFA, they are expected to do all the work themselves and to learn by doing.

A steer or a lamb raised for show must be cared for and fed in such a way to nurture all the qualities that will please an exacting judge when the animal is in the ring. Weight, bone structure, hide and wool appearance, and distribution of flesh are all considered by the judges when examining the animals. Neglect of the diet and health of the animal can negate the best chances for a champion in the ring. The months of hard work are culminated in the livestock show, but there is one last hard task before any animal and its owner can bask in glory — the animal must be groomed for show.

Lambs are clipped and groomed to perfection in the hopes of catching the judge's approving eye. Lambs are naturally the fleecy darlings of the Mother Goose tales, and must be carefully "blocked" before the show. Dirt, matting, and burrs stubbornly mar the appearance of a lamb, and hours of work are required to remove them.

Steers are bathed and groomed until they gleam, but the young owner is usually much the worse for wear after this is accomplished. No imperfection is missed by a judge, and the young people involved in the show work hard to show their animals to advantage.

The show begins at 3:30 p.m. Thursday, but as Bruce Griffith, county agricultural agent said, "If you go to the barn at any time today, you're bound to find somebody working."

X-Movies Preferred

LAYTON, Utah (AP) — The owner of a drive-in theater in Layton says his showing of X-Rated movies is preferred 7-1 by the viewing public over family-type films.

"Since Jan. 1, the first nine weeks, we've grossed $18,000 more over last year when we ran family stuff and GP," said Don Blasius, owner of the Davis Drive-In. "This is definitely what the public wants."

In four days of spot checking, the X-rated shows drew 1,173 customers while the family-type movies showing on the drive-in's second screen played to 292 viewers. A lack of customers closed the family half for three days.

"We built a twin drive-in so we can give them family movies, but they have to come out and prove they want them," said Blasius, 34. "We plan to go back to G and GP movies if we can get the support of the people."

"I don't like playing this sort of stuff," he continued. "I really don't. I'm not the one to set the style, but if you're in business you have to give them what they want."

"We get complaints from the city council, but everytime they put an article in the paper our business increases."

Larger Area Available For Annual Stock Show

Timed to end on a Thursday last year, the 35th annual Howard County 4-H and Future Farmers of America Livestock Show was timed to end on a Saturday this year so that more people would be in a position to attend the sale.

The extravaganza gets under way at the newly enlarged Howard County Fair buildings at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow. An estimated 50 steers and upwards to 100 lambs will be judged. Ordinarily, the annual pig show sponsored by the two organizations is held in October.

Because much more space has been made available to the show, the pig show may be held with the lamb and steer shows in future years.

Schedule of this year's show:
THURSDAY — Animals to be brought in and weighed, 3:30 to 5 p.m. Sifting and classifying, 5 p.m. to 7 p.m.

FRIDAY — Lamb judging starts at 5 p.m. Steer judging gets under way at 7:30 p.m.

SATURDAY — Sale of 24 top placing steers and 70 top placing lambs begins at 10 a.m.

GOOD PRICE

In last year's sale, the grand champion steer, Maxwell Barr's Charolais crossbred, fetched a price of $1,267. The animal weighed out at 1,195 pounds.

Buyers were Hall and Bennett Memorial Hospital, Medical Arts Clinic Hospital and Medical Center Memorial Hospital.

Winners to be determined in this year's show include the grand champion steer, reserve champion steer, champion fine-wool lamb and medium weight.

Howard County agent Bruce Griffith is working with 4-H Club members.

Vocational Agriculture teachers involved with the FFA programs include Ed Seay and Truett Vines, Big Spring High School; Jon Scott, Coahoma; and Lon McDonald, Sands.

Time was when a barbecue was held in conjunction with the stock show. That time may come again but only after the kitchen at the fair barns has been completed.

Tornado Rips Horse Stalls Near Quanah

By The Associated Press

Scattered light showers moistened portions of the state today in the wake of turbulent weather that sent tornadoes spinning in Northwest Texas.

A cold front cleared skies over western areas and parts of North Central Texas but low clouds overhung most eastern and southern sections.

Rain fell from Oklahoma into West Central Texas and other showers dotted central and lower coastal regions.

A tornado destroyed several horse stalls, small out building and part of a fence Tuesday night at a ranch east of Quanah. No injuries were reported.

Earlier in the evening, a barn on Quanah's southeast side was damaged by a twister that followed a thundershower.

The National Weather Service placed the northern areas of Hardeman and Wilbarger counties under a tornado warning after a funnel cloud was spotted aloft east of Quanah.

The warning was preceded by a severe thunderstorm watch for much of northwest and North Central Texas. Thunderstorms rumbled over an area from near Childress to near Midland.

Temperatures near dawn today varied from the 40s and 50s in the Panhandle to the 60s in most other sections. Low readings ranged from 44 degrees at Dalhart up to 68 at Corpus Christi.

Forecasters said thundershowers would develop along the front page of the cold air mass as it moved across the state.

Rejection Of Imported Meats Soared In 1971

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rejection of imported meat at U.S. ports of entry rose sharply last year, partly because of closer checks by federal inspectors, the Agriculture Department says.

In all, nearly 29.2 million pounds of imported meat, ranging from low grade beef used for hamburger to canned pork, were rejected by federal inspectors. That represented about 1.7 per cent of the more than 1.7 billion pounds shipped to the United States last year.

The rejections were described in a meat-import report sent to Congress by Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz.

In 1970, rejections amounted to 21.3 million pounds or about 1.2 per cent of more than 1.8

billion pounds shipped to U.S. markets by foreign countries. More than a billion pounds of the meat-import total comes in as frozen or chilled products, mostly beef. Those products are regulated under a 1964 quota law tailoring imports to U.S. meat production.

The Nixon administration, facing increasing complaints about high meat prices, announced last week that this year's quota will be 1.24 billion pounds, up 7 per cent from the 1971 level.

Canned or processed meat products are not subject to the quotas. The report sent to Congress covers all categories.

A spokesman for the Consumer and Marketing Service said part of the higher rejection rate in 1971 was because of "some upgrading" in inspection procedures at ports of entry.

The General Accounting Office recently submitted a report based on studies made in 1970 and early 1971 which showed inspection of overseas meat-packing houses and at U.S. ports was slipshod in many cases.

Agriculture Department officials say many of the GAO findings have been or are being corrected.

Beautification Work Planned

LAMESA (SPL) — Letters from the Lamesa-Dawson County Beautification Board, a six-person steering committee, soliciting bids for plant materials for a downtown beautification project have been mailed by the Chamber of Commerce.

The letter, mailed to nurserymen throughout the West Texas area, requested that all bids be submitted in writing, postmarked no later than midnight March 18. No single item bids will be considered.

Materials on which bids are being requested include 14 live oaks, three pecans, four red oaks, 18 redbuds, eight slash pines, 12 yaupon holly, five crepe myrtle, 10 wax ligustrum, 58 eleagnus, six nandina, two stone pine, 10 purple plums, 15 dwarf pyracantha and 150 honeysuckle ground-cover.

All materials on which bids are being requested will be planted on the courthouse lawn. Plant life will also be planted on the 12 island, (three each to each corner opposite the four courthouse corners) but the type of plants have not been chosen.

Turmoil Over Prostitute's Talk Simmers

CRANSTON, R.I. (AP) — Community turmoil over a young prostitute's "lecture" to a high school class simmered today as letters of reprimand were being drawn up for two teachers and their department head.

After a nearly five-hour public hearing that concluded early today, the Cranston School Committee decided the teachers and their supervisor had made an error in judgment but not enough to warrant a recommended three-day suspension.

The teachers, George O'Neill, 37, and James D'Ambr, 25, arranged to have a 23-year-old, unidentified prostitute speak to 40 members of an innovative social studies class, called "Economics and Politics in the Community," last Friday at Cranston High School West.

Walter T. Campbell, chairman of the history department which sponsors the class, sat in for part of the prostitute's visit, but claimed he and other officials had not approved it beforehand.

O'Neill said the prostitute was invited to speak in the area of "victimless crime," such as prostitution, homosexuality and bookmaking where, he said, the only victim is the law that is broken.

Committeeman Aram Garabedian called the incident "the most outrageous thing to happen in my six years on the school committee."

School Supt. Dr. Joseph J. Picano Jr., acknowledged that pupils in the class previously talked to drug addicts and alcoholics and had seen an X-rated movie, "Without a Stitch," but said the invitation to the prostitute "overstepped the bounds."

Bernard Kalb Will Deliver Speech

SAN ANGELO — CBS news correspondent Bernard Kalb who recently accompanied President Nixon on a tour of Red China, will speak at Angelo State University March 21. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the Houston Harte University Center ballroom, according to Don Burke, program consultant at ASU. Admission is free, but because of limited space, tickets are being issued to the public March 20.

Kalb is Washington anchor man of the CBS Morning News with John Hart and has been with CBS News since 1962. He came to Washington from the CBS news base in Hong Kong. Paris returned there in December to cover talks aimed at initiating Vietnamese peace negotiations. From 1962 to 1965 he was chief of CBS' Southeast Asia-India Bureau. During his Far East assignment, he covered the India-Pakistan conflict, developments in Indonesia, Singapore, Malaysia, Cambodia Laos and South Korea.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Charles H. "Chub" Smith Jr., publisher and president of the Knoxville Journal, died Sunday at 62. Smith served as an executive on the paper since 1937, with the exception of three years of Army Air Corps service during World War II.

South was confronted with an awkward bidding problem in today's hand. The first three calls were rather routine, but over North's rebid of one spade, South had several choices—none of which was entirely satisfactory.

He could have jumped to three spades, but the lack of a fourth trump argued against a direct raise of partner's second bid suit. If spades do not divide three-three, a seven-card trump suit might prove too awkward to manage.

South might have jumped to three hearts on the second round, but his six-card suit was headed by a mere nine spot. He compromised by jumping to two no trump and altho his hand was admittedly unbalanced, he did have two stoppers in the unbid suit. When North carried on to three no trump, South chose to battle it out on those grounds.

West opened the four of diamonds, the five was played from dummy and East put in the ten which won the trick. Inasmuch as he could not profitably continue the suit without establishing a second stopper for declarer, East shifted to a heart. West put up the ace and returned the three of diamonds. South played North's six and East's eight held as declarer discarded a heart. The queen of diamonds was returned to dislodge the ace.

The king of hearts was cashed, however when West showed out—discarding a spade—declarer had to give up on the establishment of that suit. He proceeded to run the spades and on the fourth round, East was obliged to part with the ten of hearts in order to retain his protection in clubs.

South had six tricks in—four spades, one heart, and one diamond. A club was led from the dummy and when East followed with the deuce, declarer successfully finessed the queen. He exited with a heart putting East on lead with the jack and the latter was left with only the king-ten of clubs.

North retained the jack-five of clubs while South was left with the ace-eight. East was endplayed and the forced club return permitted declarer to score the fulfilling tricks in the suit. The defense was restricted to two hearts and two diamonds on the deal.

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: There are sudden and dramatic changes likely today and tonight so be on the alert for them. Accept drastic conditions that occur naturally instead of trying to force matters to your will. Be so doing you turn potential problems into active opportunities.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Instead of going off on a foolish tangent, plan a better way to handle responsibilities quickly and well. Your public image can be much improved. Think sensibly.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) You have to show that you are dependable and conscientious if you want to clear up a situation that is difficult. You can be helpful now to a friend who is in difficulty.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Doing anything that could hurt a good friend would only bring animosity so be careful. Know what you want of a personal nature but await a better day to put in motion.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you do not obey rules and regulations that apply to you as a good citizen, you could get into trouble. Not a good day to invest in any new appliances.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You want to make some radical changes, but it is better to wait until you are less more studious. Then you can handle it emotionally. A particular situation needs wise handling.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) A day for convincing advisers and creditors that you are the most conscientious. Listening with care to what associates have to say brings fine results.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't be upset with an associate who is brilliant but lacks patience. This person has to benefit by a lesson learned the hard way. Stay sober and gain the respect of others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Wait for a more opportune time before taking any chances in business. Others are in an uncompromising mood right now. Cooperate more with co-workers.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can enjoy yourself now provided you steer clear of a person who is too superficial for you. Visit persons who think as you. Show that you are a kind person.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Being too demanding gets you nothing at home, but using intellect does. The opposite. Be sure to take care of any pending problems and the future will be happier for you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you are careless in motion, you get into unexpected trouble. Eliminate a feeling of belligerence. Make sure you use your words wisely when talking to others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Study your financial situation well and then pay your bills. Show others more leniency in the collection of bills owed to you. Make a good friend of an adviser. Be wise.

Bookmaking Raps Hit 11, Sportswriter

VICTORIA, Tex. (AP) — Twelve persons, including five Victoria residents and a Houston Chronicle sportswriter, were under federal grand jury indictments today in what government attorneys say was the climax to a bookmaking investigation.

Those named in the 15-count allegations were Edward W. Alkek, Earl M. Alkek, Richard Dick, Johnny Lewis and Victor Ganem, all of Victoria.

Named also were Bill McMurray, a sportswriter for the Houston Chronicle; John Joseph, Bryan "Sailor" Roberts, and James W. "Pony" Wingham, all of Dallas; Milton Kothmann of San Antonio, Jack Johnson of Corpus Christi and Johnny Cross of Ingleside.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Ed McDonough said the indictments were the aftermath of a two-weeks undercover investigation conducted last December. McDonough said three telephone taps, ordered by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Owen D. Cox of Corpus Christi, were used in the probe.

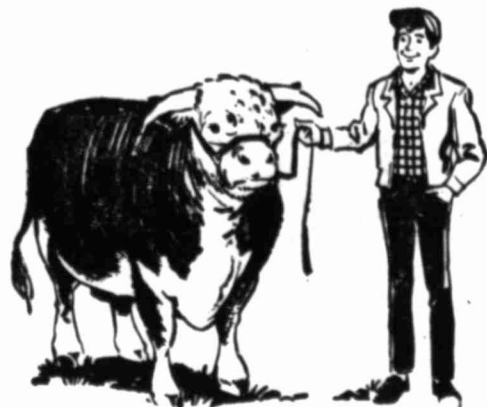

McDonough said he was unable to detail further the specific charges against the group except that all 15 counts of the indictment dealt with conspiracy to engage in bookmaking operations.

School Shooting

HOUSTON (AP) — A junior high school pupil, George T. Eaglin, 15, was shot in the arm Monday in a crowded classroom as he watched another 15-year-old youth display a pistol, police said.

Eaglin was treated and released at a local hospital.

Juvenile officers said the youth with the pistol was showing it to about 25 youths when it accidentally discharged, striking Eaglin. The youth with the pistol was taken into custody.

Archie Myers, HCJC Superstar, Signs Up With Stephen Austin

NACOGDOCHES — Archie Myers, the widely sought All-American from Howard County Junior College in Big Spring, signed Sunday with Stephen F. Austin State University before the nationally ranked Lumberjacks departed for the National NAIA Tournament in Kansas City, Mo.

Myers, who established a new national scoring record during his two years at Howard County JC, was sought by 93 schools from throughout the nation.

The 6-2 guard, who had announced last week that he had selected Stephen F. Austin, signed with SFA Coach Marshall Brown Sunday at Dallas Love Field.

Coach Brown described Myers as "the most outstanding junior college guard in the nation this year. He is a great player and we are delighted to have him joining the Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks."

Myers is from Cleveland, Miss., where he starred at Eastside High School before going to Howard County JC.

Myers finished this season as the second leading junior college scorer in the nation. He scored 1,279 points in 35 games for a 36.5 average.

He also broke the national record for career junior college scoring. Myers scored 920 points in 37 games last year as a freshman. His two-year total of 2,199 points broke the old junior college career mark of 2,191 set by Robert Burrow of Lon Morris JC in Jacksonville, Tex., in 1952-54. Burrow later starred at the University of Kentucky

During the season just finished, Myers scored over 30 points in 28 of the 35 games he played. He scored in the 50's four times and in the 40's in 10 games.

Myers' season high was 59 points in a game against South Plains Junior College. He also had 57 points against Odessa JC, 54 against New Mexico Military Institute and 50 against Amarillo JC.

During the season, the talented guard connected on 505 of 1,027 field goal attempts for a fine 49.1 per cent and hit 269 of 423 free throws. And he also picked off 284 rebounds for an 8.1 average.

"I like the brand of basketball they play at Stephen F. Austin," Myers said. "Most of all, Stephen F. Austin is a winner and I like this. I also like the idea of going to the national tournament and the Lumberjacks seem to do this virtually every year."

Myers is joining an already powerful SFA Lumberjack team which advanced to the national tournament this week with a sparkling 27-2 record. With the addition of Myers to the lineup, SFA figures to be even more powerful in 1972-73.

MYERS SIGNS — Archie Myers, the super-sophomore from Howard County Junior College who was courted by over 100 teams, signed a contract last weekend to play basketball for Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches, Tex. Marshall Brown (left), head basketball coach at Stephen F. Austin, holds the signed document.

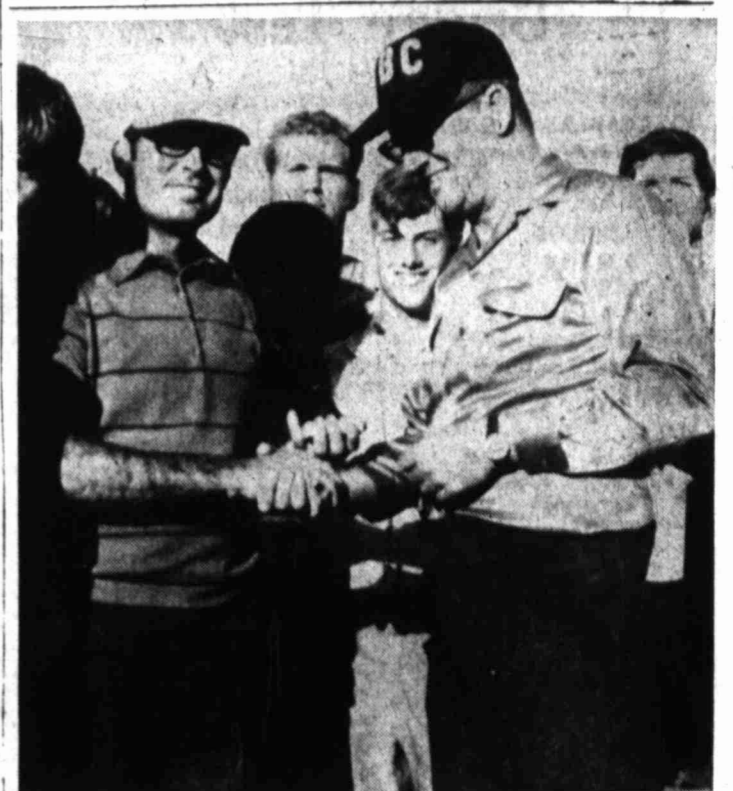

Howard Won't Sign Contract With Rangers

POMPANO BEACH, Fla., (AP) — The Texas Rangers and holdout slugger Frank Howard have apparently reached an impasse.

Howard returned his unsigned contract to the Rangers Tuesday. It called for one-year at $100,000. Howard made $125,000 in 1971 and wants a multi-year pact.

Ranger owner Bob Short said "That's it as far as the Rangers are concerned. If Howard shows up he will be welcome, but he will have to work himself into shape."

The Rangers are making plans at first base without Howard. Veteran Don Mincher is expected to hold down the job. If Howard shows up, he is expected to platoon the two players.

Runnels Finishes Season With Win

Diane Pipkin led Runnels with 14 points. Laura Bickford and Kathy Williams scored 10 points each. Kathy Williams scored 10 points. Kathy Williams scored 10 points. Kathy Williams scored 10 points.

Coach Jane Upton of Runnels was proud of her team as they game yesterday at Goliad. Runnels finished the season with a 7-7 record. Her team scored exactly with 10 points. Sylvia Olivas and as many points as her opponent Kathy Foreman aided with points had — 37 points.

Steers M-o-o-ve Into District Tie

The Big Spring High School girls' volleyball team surprised a strong Midland High squad here yesterday to move into a tie for first place in District 5-4A with an easy 15-3, 15-8 victory.

Suzie Lynch, Big Spring's coach, said, "We knew we had to win the game and our girls were ready. We are pleased to be sharing the district lead with only two games remaining."

Big Spring and Midland both have identical 5-1 district records. The winner of the district will meet the winner of the panhandle district in the bi-district contest in the first week of April.

Lynch continued, "This win has to go to the team. To beat them so soundly, we all had to play ball. And that's what they did."

Raylene Oliver poured in 12 points as the high-point server for the Steerettes. May Alice Terrazas and Janice Platt were setting up front. Terrazas and Kay Lou Caffey were strong spikers for Big Spring.

The Big Spring junior varsity team crushed Midland's team, 15-4, 15-8. Cynthia Dennis pumped in 13 points to lead the Steerettes. Phyllis Bank and Debra Woods backed her serving up with their net play.

Coach Lynch said, "The junior varsity team works well as a team, and they are always hustling to win."

The varsity girls are 18-4 over-all. The junior varsity girls are 16-2 over-all and 5-0 in district action.

Big Spring meets Midland Tuesday in Midland.

With Victory Golds Finish

The Big Spring Gold team completed its season by coming from behind to trip the Big Spring black girls' volleyball team, 4-15, 16-14, 15-9 yesterday at Goliad.

Cathy Meek and Debbie Nikoli pumped in 10 points to lead the Gold team to its fourth victory in nine starts. Nikoli was also the leading spiker.

Cristine Soldan led the Black team with 15 points. Fern Newton assisted with outstanding spiking.

The Black team meets Lamesa Thursday.

Cubs Corral Steers In Late Inning Bulge

The Big Spring Steers were leading the Brownfield Cubs, 3-2 going into the last inning with two outs against the Cubs. The Steers only needed one more out to sew up the game, but then it happened.

The Cubs pounded David Newman's pitches to push four runs across the plate to win the game, 6-3 here yesterday in the final inning. Bill Ryburn a Cub first baseman, belted a home run in that inning to drive in two of those runs.

The Cubs grabbed an early 1-0 lead, but they had to come from behind to win the game in the seventh inning. The Steers built a one-run lead in the third inning and were able to hold that lead until the last inning.

David Carter, a Big Spring shortstop, garnered two hits out of three times at bat. Carter blasted a double in the third inning to knock in a run.

The Cubs were able to make their hits count as they turned eight hits into six runs. The Steers made seven hits, but could only muster three runs.

Big Spring will tangle with El Paso Austin in a doubleheader Friday. The first game starts at 1 p.m. The Steers play the same team Saturday at 10 a.m.

Highland Parking Lot Will Become Racetrack Sunday

The Highland Shopping Center parking lot will be converted into a racetrack this Sunday.

The local chapter of the Sports Car Club of America is sponsoring the West Texas region of the Sports Car Club of America slalom race at 1:00 p.m. March 19th in the Highland Shopping Center parking lot.

Frank Smith, chairman of the event, said, "The course will be so tight that only one car at a time can run the track. Each entrant will have one run at the one-lap course."

He said that last year most cars averaged about two minutes to complete the lap. He added, "The cars averaged about 95 m.p.h. on the back side of the course."

He continued, "There are no straightaways on the course, but a good driver makes his own."

The winners of the regional races go to the divisional races in Houston.

Anyone is invited to enter. The only restriction is that your car must have under a 116 inch wheel base. This restriction excludes the big family car which would be hard to control on the sharp turns and will not be allowed in the race for reasons of safety.

Smith said that spectators could watch the races from the outside perimeters of the marked track. There will be no charge to watch the races.

Entry fees are $3.00 for members of any automobile club and $3.50 for non members.

Any drivers who are interested should go to the First Federal Savings and Loan at 8:00 a.m. this Saturday to register.

SLALOM RACE — The West Texas Sports car Club of America will have its annual sports car slalom race Sunday in the Highland Shopping Center parking lot. A slalom race is a race against time over a zigzag course.

Celtic Title In Drought

By The Associated Press
Quick! How many National Basketball Association divisional championships have the Boston Celtics won in the past six seasons?
None.
That's right. Incredible as it may seem, the Celtics, who have won three NBA titles in that same stretch, have had to do it in come-from-behind fashion, so to speak, after finishing less than best in the regular season.
But that drought, extending back to 1964-65, which ended a string of nine successive divisional titles, is about to end, thanks in part to John Havlicek.
The 6-foot-5 forward, who became Boston's all-time leading scorer just last Sunday, pumped in 38 points Tuesday night to power the Celtics to a 124-110 victory over the Golden State Warriors.

That kept them 5 1/2 games ahead of second-place New York in the Atlantic Division and within two victories—two Knicks defeats—of locking up the division crown.
In Tuesday night's other NBA games, the Knicks defeated Atlanta 115-107, Los Angeles beat Detroit 129-116, Buffalo held off Philadelphia 108-105, Cleveland whipped Baltimore 127-118 in overtime, Seattle edged Chicago 115-111 and Milwaukee downed Portland 109-98.
The Celtics trailed until Havlicek's basket gave them a 59-57 halftime lead, then they poured it on against the Warriors.
Dave Cowens added 24 points for Boston while Nate Thurmond led Golden State 35-26.
The Knicks put on a fourth-quarter tear, outscoring the Hawks 16-3 in a six-minute stretch, to win going away. Atlanta led 94-91 with seven minutes to play before falling apart.
Dick Barnett and Walt Frazier had 22 points apiece, Bill Bradley 21 and Dave DeBusschere 20 to lead New York's balanced attack. Walt Bellamy of the Hawks led everyone with 26.
The Lakers, winning their 29th road game of the season, broke Milwaukee's record set a year ago. And by winning their hoped to play with the Cowboys.

"If he said that, I think it is unfair—dishonest," Thomas said. "There is nothing wrong with my attitude. My attitude is a winning attitude."
"I never go around and complain about him (Landry) not talking."
One of Thomas' problems with the Dallas administration has concerned his contract, which is well below that of other super stars in the National Football League—and none in the Dallas football hierarchy denies super star status.
Yet, according to a source close to Thomas (he declines to elaborate on money matters), Duane signed a three-year contract with base pay of only $20,000 to be raised only to $22,000 next season, the third year of the agreement.
According to friends, Thomas not only was committed to an inferior contract but was persuaded to sign over power of attorney to his agent, who later was dismissed. Thomas, whose mother and father had died while he was in college and whose two brothers suffered acid and costly ailments, found himself entrenched in debt and with a restricted source of income.
Although he blames the agent rather than the Dallas front office for this financial plight, it was undoubtedly this pressure which provoked Duane's unusual press conference last July in which he called Jim Brandt, the Cowboys player personnel director, a "lair" and Coach Landry "a plastic man."
"When I signed with the Cowboys, Brandt put his arm around my shoulder and said 'Don't worry, we'll take care of you,'" Thomas related.
"It was the middle of last season that I found out I had a poor contract. I went to Brandt and asked him to renegotiate. I knew they had torn up contracts before. But he had lost to change his attitude if he 63rd game over-all, they kept alive hopes of breaking Philadelphia's 1966-67 single-season victory total of 68. Los Angeles has seven to play.

The Pistons trailed the Lakers by 19 points early in the third quarter, then trimmed the deficit to two within nine minutes to go before Los Angeles, led by Jim McMillian's 30 points and Wilt Chamberlain's 28, outscored Detroit 18-9. Bob Lanier had 35 for the Pistons.
Buffalo also had to fight off a second-half rally to turn back the 76ers, who trailed by as many as 23 points before chopping the gap to just 103-102 with about two minutes to go.
But Elmore Smith, who had 33 points and 24 rebounds, and Bob Kauffman, who added 20 points, each scored baskets to seal the victory. Fred Carter had 26 for Philadelphia.
Austin Carr's 33 points topped Cleveland's scoring but it was Walt Wesley, canning eight points in overtime, that shot down the Bullets, paced by Archie Lark's 31 points.
Lee Winfield, subbing for injured Dick Snyder, came up with a 38-point performance against Chicago, moving the SuperSonics within a game of Golden State in the battle for the Pacific Division's runner-up playoff berth. Chet Walker, scored 37 for the Bulls.
Milwaukee's victory over Portland clinched the Midwest Division title for the Bucks with their 59th triumph in 76 starts.
Kareem Abdul Jabbar topped Milwaukee with 36 points.
The Bucks broke the game open in the third period, outscoring the Trail Blazers 33-18 with Jabbar collecting 10 points in that quarter.

Facts Leak Out As Thomas Breaks Self-Imposed Seal

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
DALLAS (AP) — "I'm going to be my own man," Duane Thomas said. "I'm not going to beg for something I worked for. I am optimistic. But if they don't dig me, well, the hell with 'em."
The normally mysterious, tightlipped running star of the champion Dallas Cowboys took a long, hard look at his controversial role in professional football today—and talked about it.
He talked freely.
"I almost reached the point of putting an end to my career," he said.

The man who has been uncommunicative for months and became known as "The Sphinx" unburdened himself of the frustrations, misunderstandings and disillusionments that can beset a naive black athlete coming out of the ghetto into the wheeling and dealing world of big time sports.
It was an exclusive interview with The Associated Press—the first such interview since well before this 6-1, 220-pound powerhouse from Dallas' tough South Side had helped carry the Cowboys through a championship season and to a 24-3 victory over the Miami Dolphins in the Super Bowl.

"Football's not the only job in the world," he added. "If I have to go back from scratch and build over again and go into something else, okay, then it has to be that."
The interview took place in the neat, suburban home of Thomas' former coach at Dallas' Lincoln High School, Floyd Iglehart, one of the few people he trusts. Also on hand was Al Tabor, Iglehart's coach at Wiley College. Duane insisted that his two friends be present.
Thomas talked in a low, subdued voice. He proved not only articulate but even eloquent at times. Yet his words carried the ring of disillusionment. Obviously, he felt he was a man who had been discriminated against, lied to and cheated to the point that he had little trust left for anyone.

Thomas said his months of silence were self-imposed and not traceable to any outside source, such as former Cleveland great Jim Brown, as had been reported.
"It's not that I have anything against reporters," he explained. "I just don't like people because of their being narrow-minded on things."
The powerfully built half-back, still speaking in a low key, said he felt he received unfair criticism because of his long silence.

"You know, it takes different people to make up the world," he added. "There are some guys on the team who enjoy meeting the press, who get a kick out of being before a television camera. But not me. Because of my background, I don't particularly dig it."
"I didn't feel like talking. So I didn't talk. If I read the Constitution right, it gives me freedom to do as I please. There's no stipulation that says if you play football you have to talk. I don't get paid for talking. I get paid to play football."

For this reason, Thomas said he was disturbed by a statement attributed to Dallas coach Tom Landry after the Super Bowl that Thomas would have to change his attitude if he

Congress Due To Raise National Debt Ceiling

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is expected to raise the $430 billion national-debt ceiling today—just as the actual debt bumps against it—but not before Democrats get off another volley against President Nixon's economic policies.

Legislation for a temporary increase, through June 30, to $450 billion, was first on the House calendar today. An effort to pass the bill Monday under speedup procedures requiring unanimous consent was blocked by one of the Democrats trying to force action on what they call loophole-closing tax reforms.

The Senate is poised to act promptly after the House, so President Nixon could have a bill to sign by tonight.

But there was still a possibility that the Treasury might have to engage in some fast fiscal footwork, such as liquidating some of its exchange-stabilization fund for quick cash to tide it over until it can resume its regular borrowing.

Democrats took aim at the inevitable next request for a raise, by June, with a resolution offered at their party caucus.

The resolution declares that "passage of legislation further increasing the federal-debt ceiling will be jeopardized unless the President either publicly supports a meaningful, revenue-raising tax-reform proposal, or, at least, sets forth the tax preferences or loopholes which in his judgment Congress may attempt to rectify without confronting a presidential veto."

A group of Democratic liberals had threatened to block passage of the present ceiling-raising bill unless it were tied to tax reform. They desisted, however, when Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee agreed to write Nixon asking for reform suggestions to be submitted by today.

When none had been received by Monday and the administration indicated none would be forthcoming soon, Rep. Phillip Burton, D-Calif., made the objection that blocked quick passage.

Meanwhile, Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, lined up with those demanding tax reforms.

Antique Show Is Held In Ballinger

BALLINGER — The fourth annual Little League antique show has been set for March 25-26 here in the Community Center. There will be a heavy store of carnival, opalescent, cut and depression, and amethyst glass, along with coins, guns, bottles, date nails, barbed wire, insulators, artifacts, lapidaries, etc. The table charge of $8 (less on multiple tables) will go to benefit the Ballinger Little League, according to Buddy McQueen, chairman.

ITT ANTITRUST HEADACHE

Demos Turn Attention To White House Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell says he sees nothing wrong with White House aide Peter Flanigan's retaining an outside financial consultant to prepare a report for the Justice Department in the ITT anti-trust cases.

Democrats have said Flanigan's role indicates improper White House influence.

Mitchell, who testified Tuesday and will be a witness again today before the Senate Judiciary Committee, also said he met with Harold S. Geneen, president of International Telephone & Telegraph Corp. for more than a half hour in 1970 but did not discuss the government's antitrust suits against the conglomerate.

Democrats have said they want Flanigan, who hired Richard J. Ramsden to make the financial report on ITT, to come before the committee to explain his role. But the White House has indicated executive privilege would be invoked to keep him off Capitol Hill.

Mitchell said he met Geneen socially at the White House on May 27, 1970, at a dinner for business leaders and then in the attorney general's office for 35 minutes on Aug. 4, 1970.

HAS PRICE OPINIONS — Marina von Neuman Whitman, the first woman to serve on President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors, reflected these moods at a recent meeting with the media at the White House. Interviewed Tuesday, she said the post-freeze price bulge should subside by Easter. "If it doesn't," she said, "the administration will seek new remedies."

Half Million Is Given To School

LUBBOCK — The largest, single, foundation grant in the history of Lubbock Christian College has been given to the college by the Mabee Foundation of Tulsa, Okla.

Joe Mabee, Midland, chairman of the Mabee Foundation Board, notified Dr. C. L. Kay of the $500,000 gift and Dr. Kay announced it in a special chapel Wednesday, Feb. 16.

The funds will be used to build the 26,000 square foot Mabee Christian Development Center — a new teaching concept in Christian Education and the first of its kind on any Christian College campus.

Crackdown May Start Soon On Garage Sales Locally

A crackdown on garage sales in the city will be likely in the next few months. City officials were directed by the city commission in regular session Tuesday night to keep an eye out for the ever-growing form of business.

Harry Nagel, city manager, told city fathers, in his manager's report, about the growing numbers of garage sales in the city, and the length citizens are conducting the sales.

He said the city administration had been studying the frequency of garage sales for several months.

"By law a person may have only three garage sales per year, and they cannot last more than two days," James Gregg, city attorney, told the commission.

Nagel pointed out there are many citizens holding garage sales in their homes year-round, therefore, qualifying their homes as regular business establishments. He said the area in which these homes are located are zoned for residential purposes, and persons conducting the lengthy garage sales are not only breaking state regulations, but also city zoning regulations.

HAS TOOLS

The city attorney told the commission the city has the "tools" to regulate garage sales, and with the commission's direction, city zoning inspectors will begin to investigate reports of lengthy garage sales.

Other business on the mammoth agenda, of 30 items, included a request from the local Salvation Army for the cancellation of a lease with the city on property at Galveston and Sixth streets.

Nagel explained the issue involving the Jaycees' recent efforts to build a softball facility on the property, and the Salvation Army's refusal unless the city paid a lien against the property, which was owned by the Army.

The city manager said the Army had requested verbally the lease be broken. He said the city did not wish to have the responsibility of maintaining the property by lease agreement, because of the inability to facilitate the property.

City fathers directed that upon receipt of a written request from the Army, the lease should be broken.

FINAL READINGS

Other items of interest in the meeting included the third and final readings on two requests for zone changes to allow the expansion of Medical Center Memorial Hospital and Malone and Hogan Clinic. The ordinances were approved by the commission, with the exception of Jack Watkins' vote. Commissioner Watkins abstained from the vote because he owns land within 200 feet of the property under zone change request.

Also commissioners approved an ordinance on emergency reading for a zone change on all of Blocks 44 and 47, College Heights Addition, to change the zoning on the land to "O," of- fice.

Nagel said the company requesting the zone change had withdrawn their request, but the city still wanted the zone change, because the area was better suited to the new classification.

City commissioners also approved a zone change on all of Block 48 and lots 1 and 2, part of 3, 4, and 12, and all of 13 through 16, Block 49, College Heights Addition, for the purpose of establishing a funeral home facility.

The facility will be the new home of River-Welch Funeral Home, Inc.

No bids for lease agreements on police cars for the city police department were received after the city administration advertised for bids a few weeks ago, Nagel reported to the commission.

BIDS ARE OUT

The city manager told city fathers he had already advertised for bids for purchase agreements on new police cars, and the commission approved the move.

Bid opening will take place March 23 and commissioners will review the bids in the next council meeting.

In other business the city commission:

- Heard a Chamber of Commerce activities report presented by Ron Mercer, chamber manager.
- Approved the planning and zoning minutes for the meeting of March 7.
- Approved a public hearing and emergency reading of an ordinance for a zone change at the corner of IS 20 and North Bell for the purpose of providing a parking area for an established garage.
- Approved the minutes of the traffic commission meeting Feb. 25.
- Approved a certificate of occupancy requested by Wanda Whitaker for the A&W Drive-in Food Store, 1000 E. 4th.
- Okayed a certificate of occupancy requested by O. T. Mitchell, for Al's Fallout Lounge, 411 NW 7th.
- Okayed a certificate of occupancy requested by William P. Fox, for the Fox Tavern, 1609 E. 3rd, after Commissioner Acri was assured the establishment would not have topless hostesses.
- Approved the third and final reading of the amendment to the city's junk car ordinance.
- Approved on an emergency reading an ordinance for the Big Spring Community Center, (Cosden Country Club). Commissioners agreed to name the center Dora Roberts Community Center.
- Reviewed and okayed an improved personnel policy for city personnel.
- Appointed Father James Delaney to fill a vacant position on the city parks and recreation board.
- Denied a request by Big Spring State Hospital for sanitation service, because of the expense the city would have to bear to provide the service.
- Directed the city manager to advertise for bids for a bank depository for the city.
- Approved a request for a street light at Northwest Sixth and Aylford streets.
- Approved a request for a street light at 1312 Wright Street.
- Approved the appointment of David Baker and Victor Blackburn as reserve police officers.
- Approved vouchers paid by the city through March 14.

Record Forfeits

DALLAS (AP) — A record $472,126 in bond forfeitures was collected by Dallas district attorney Robert Stinson, according to Asst. Dist. Atty. Robert Stinson.

Stinson said Dallas County forfeited more bail bonds than did all the other 253 Texas counties put together.

Bonds were forfeited on an estimated 350 defendants charged with felony offenses and 750 charged with misdemeanor offenses in the criminal courts.

WHAT'S YOUR PROBLEM? A HERALD WANT AD WILL HELP.

LOBBYIST LINK

Mitchell answered questions quietly and with a lawyer's precision during the eighth day of hearings by the Senate Judiciary Committee into suggestions that Justice Department officials acted improperly in the out-of-court settlement of the ITT case last summer.

Acting Atty. Gen. Richard G. Kleindienst asked the committee for the hearings after the suggestions were published by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson. Kleindienst's nomination to replace Mitchell as attorney general is pending in the Senate.

Anderson published a memorandum in which Dita D. Beard, an ITT lobbyist, linked the antitrust settlement with ITT's purported $400,000 financial guarantee for the Republican National Convention.

Mrs. Beard is suffering from a heart ailment and is hospitalized in Denver. Committee members indicated some of them will travel to Colorado next week to take her testimony.

NEVER DISCUSSED

Mitchell, who resigned March 1 to head President Nixon's reelection campaign, said he has never discussed the ITT case with Flanigan, whom Anderson has described as Nixon's ambassador to big business.

"Surely if that case would have been discussed, I would have remembered because I disqualified myself from it," Mitchell said.

Mitchell has testified that he was not involved in the three antitrust suits against ITT because his old law firm had done some work for one of the conglomerate's subsidiaries. He said he turned the case over to Kleindienst, then deputy attorney general.

The former attorney general said Flanigan, a New York financial consultant before joining the administration, was not involved in the actual settlement of the ITT case.
