GOVERNOR ADDRESSES JOINT SESSION

Senators Tackle Billboard Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith told legislators today he tried every way he knew to postpone a special session until after the May 6 primary elections but finally had no other choice but to call them

"We explored every alternative," the governor told a joint session. "There was no way to postpone action on the two subjects stated in the call: Passing a billboard control law (and) financing the party primaries for Senators already were at work on the billboard bill, interrupting a committee hearing to listen to the governor's speech. A committee hearing also was scheduled on financing the elections.

Smith's speech was delivered to the joint session in a serious, somber atmosphere without a single interruption for ap-

"I am delighted the governor's speech reflected what I feel is the attitude of the legislators gathered here-one of dedication and hard work," said Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes after-Barnes predicted the Senate would pass both the emergency bills this afternoon "or no later than tomorrow morning, and it will be up to the House then. I understand the House plans to act Thursday.

"I think it is possible for us to adjourn possibly late Thursday night.

"I think it will be a happy Easter for 11 million Texans because the legislature will be back home," Barnes said. Smith said unless Texas adopts a bill to comply with the 1965 federal highway beautification act, Texas will be penalized 10 per cent of the federal highway aid for this year-or $23.9 million—and the penalty would stay in effect each year until Texas comes into compliance.

The governor said the state highway department estimates it will cost $82.2 million to screen and remove junkyards and remove some 65,500 billboards which are within 660 feet of primary highways. But he said the federal government will reimburse $55.6 million.

He said it should not cost more than $32 million to pay the costs of the May 6 primaries and June 3 runoffs. The governor said he hoped the legislature would adopt a resolution ratifying the socalled women's rights amendment recently approved by Congress, and a Senate committee already had approved it for floor debate.

House members also appeared ready to work on legislation after electing Rep. Rayford Price of Palestine as speaker in a 77-65 runoff against Rep. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

Some senators thought they might even be able to complete floor action on the highway and election bills by Wednesday afternoon, which is all Smith asked them to do in his call for a special session. House action would wrap it up so numerous legislators who are statewide candidates, and others, could resume campaign-

BERLIN (AP) - The Berlin wall opened to tens of thousands of West Berliners today. It was the first time in six years they received Communist permission to visit East Berlin and the first time in 20 they were allowed into the East German East German borders guards lifted the barriers at nine crossing points at one minute before 6 a.m. and Westerners moved rapidly through the fortified strip. At one gate people literally ran past the guards.

There were smiles and hugs - but few tears - at the reunions of families and friends.

Missing Plane

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) - A twin-engine private plane was reported missing Tuesday night on a flight from Hobbs, N.M., to Midland with a Fort Worth businessman aboard. The pilot, only occupant of the plane, was identified by the Civil Air Patrol in Odessa as Doug Carter, an employe of the Kelley-Coppedge Co. of Fort Worth. Lt. Col. Joe Johnson, commander of Group

16 of the CAP, said Carter reportedly took off on the 32-minute flight from Hobbs to Midland

Four CAP planes participated in the search Tuesday night and 12 planes were ordered out

Calls FBI Informer 'Menace To Society'

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) -The Harrisburg Seven conspiracy trial, delayed 21 minutes today due to a demonstration on behalf of the defendants, saw the defense attack FBI informer Boyd Douglas Jr., as "a menace to society" and a "reckless liar."

Defense attorney Terry Lenzner said the testimony of Douglas, the key government witness in the antiwar case, 'cannot be believed at all."

The continuation of defense summation started the day's session after police arrested about 80 persons when some 200 men and women circled the federal courthouse and attempted to block entrances to the building by linking themselves with chains LARCENY AT HEART Lenzner's was the third defense closing argument for acquittal of antiwar priest Philip Berrigan and six others being tried on federal charges that centered on an alleged plot to kidnap White House aide Henry

The demonstrators made only symbolic efforts to block entrances to the 11-story courthouse and offered no resistance as they were led away by police. Those seized raised their arms and flashed the "V" sign.

The prosecution contended Tuesday that Berrigan abandoned his nonviolent antiwar stance as "the priest of peace" to plot the kidnap of White House aide Henry A. Kissinger. But the Harrisburg Seven defense denied this, insisting there was nothing but "loud thunder" and "fantasy" to the federal conspiracy case.

Defense lawyer Paul O'Dwyer took note of correspondence between Berrigan and Sister Elizabeth McAlister that proposed the Kissinger scheme as a major new way to protest the Vietnam war. O'Dwyer said, "The exchange of two letters was where it was born and there it died." O'Dwyer said of the kidnap plot, "There is not a single scintilla of evidence that it ever was promoted further. It fell of its own weight ... pure fantasy . . . ridiculous. But William Connelly, the assistant prosecutor, laid a different interpretation on the 1970 plan-purportedly abandoned after its disclosure by the FBI-claiming the defendants "wanted to do it before others did it." "Philip Berrigan is the priest of peace whose most famous letter is his kidnap letter," Connelly said. "But it is a disparagment of peace, of his own distinction between violence and nonviolence...

In Stevens Point, he proposed a $7.2-billion program of federal aid to improve schools and reduce the property-tax load.

Wallace drew an overflow crowd of 3,600 in La Crosse, called, as he does nightly, for property-tax relief, and said the other candidates are copying him on that issue.

Today, Wallace headed south to Nashville, Tenn., for an address to the Tennessee General Assembly, formally opening his campaign for that state's May 4 primary.

Teamwork On Highways

Texas has been a leader in the nation with good highways. A constitutionally-protected source of income and a scrupulously-clean administration of the program have produced the system, still a-building, that serves a mobile population ex-

In recent years, the state has been materially assisted in accelerating its construction work with federal funds, generated from a tax on fuels and earmarked for highways.

Texas' system is a part of the national system of interstate and defense highways. The interstatedefense highways are funded 90 per cent from the national highway trust fund.

The federal system, 86 per cent, is completed under terms of current authorizations

Highways are very costly. Need to keep them in good order is acute in order to make any headway on the safety record, which is a shocking one in terms of total casualties but fairly good in terms of deaths per miles driven. There were approximately 55,000 persons killed on the nation's highways in 1971 and approximately 2 million persons suffered disabling injuries. The death rate was 4.7 persons per 100 million vehicle miles. That estimate was figured from the total vehicles - 115,303,000 - registered in 1971.

Transportation Secretary Volpe has proposed the diversion of highway funds to research and for development of a balanced transportation system. We agree that research is a constant necessity for reasons of safety and convenience, but we are not yet ready to say that taxes paid for highways should be used to subsidize other forms of transportation.

loe Pickle

Will the earth run out of economical power in the face of expanding population and insatiable demand by modern civilization?

FROM THE TEXAS Atomic Research Foundation comes the word that this is not likely. It is true that the more familiar sources are reaching their limits - most of the hydroelectric generator sites have been developed; fossil fuels of coal, oil and gas are steadily being consumed to the point that consumption is exceeding discovery.

But there are other directions in which man may turn. Nature is a prolificate waster of energy. Enough force is dissapated in a hurricane, for instance, to run the nation for quite a spell. The tides of the oceans offer limitless possibilities.

There are the processes for chemically generating electricity, which may be expected to multiply and be refined. And finally, there is the energy from the sun itself.

YET, THE BULK of power for the next half century, at least, is apt to be the product of steam generating plants. The thing that will change is fuel. Instead of fire from combustion of coal or gas, rods of radioactive material will be used. At the moment, experiments and pilot projects utilize U235 and Plutonium 239. By inserting a critical number of these rods into a core area, vast amounts of heat can be generated.

IN ONE PROCESS - the one now most frequently used -water around the core area absorbs the heat, turns into steam, which expands to spin a turbine that revolves an electric generation. Another uses the same process except it has far greater pressures in the reactor area and circulates the superheated water into a heat exchanger which produces steam. Still another circulates through the core area, then to a heat exchanger to create the steam. A fourth type uses liquid metals as the agency to circulate through the atomic rods, then to the heat exchanger.

THE LATTER HAS the advantage of being 40 per cent efficient against less than 30 per cent for other means. It also will not slow down the neutron movement from the core, and thus will facilitate the recovery of a neutron surplus. This surplus is turned against (regular) U-238, producing Plutonium 239. Thus, in consuming fuel, this type reactor also breeds more fuel. All of these relate to fission - splitting of the Atom.

Scientists explained to high school students here this week the ultimate type - a reactor in which atoms are mashed together with such speed they become one, releasing great energy. This is done by accelerating plasma (charged particles) to fantastic speeds. Temperatures from 100 to 300 million degrees are generated. These speeds have to be attained because charged particles tend to repel each other (remember the little toy in which the Egyptian mummy wouldn't stay in his casket because the magnets in mummy and coffin had the same charge?)

THESE INTENSE heats are being circumvented by use of magnetic forces to "bottle" the plasma during the reacting process. To prevent the plasma from wiggling out each end of the "bottle," scientists now have designed a doughnut shaped reactor. In the center is the core producing those fantastic 100 million plus degrees of temperature. It is surrounded by a vacuum, which is encased by a metal shield of a new rare metal (and still more exotic ones may be required); then by a moderator which absorbs and passes on the heat; then the outer magnet (which must be cooled to minus 370 degrees); and shield or shell. This will run on deuterium, so plentiful that a pitcher of water has enough to supply your home with electricity

The POW Issue

David Lawrence

WASHINGTON - President Nixon has revealed that he himself was responsible for the indefinite suspension of the Paris peace conference last week. For several months the North Vietnamese have been carrying on propaganda and declining to negotiate earnestly with the United States so that the war in Vietnam could be ended. Now for the first time the United States, by order of the President, has deferred the talks in order to break what he calls a "filibuster." It was made clear, however, that whenever the Com-through "public or private channels." THE UNITED STATES has been patient in waiting for the North Vietnamese government really to discuss ways and means of bringing about a settlement of the war, but the Hanoi leaders have remained adamant in their position, despite various American proposals and efforts. This has left the American representatives without any method of attaining constructive results through further munists indicate they are ready to negotiate, sessions could be resumed

attempts at negotiation. The determination to stop talking and wait for some sign that the Communist side will recognize the importance of genuine negotiation has come somewhat as a surprise because for a long time nothing was done about the stalemate. It is just possible that the governments at Peking and Moscow have finally intervened in the situation and are endeavoring to bring about a kind of compromise soon.

ONE OF THE most disappointing aspects about the parleys is the unwillingness of North Vietnam to provide information about the Americans it holds prisoner. A list of the prisoners of war has been sought in vain, and there is no certainty just how many persons have been captured. The question of their release will not even be discussed by Hanoi, which declines to give detailed data about the prisoners or their condition.

This is something which involves human feelings of the many relatives of the missing men who do not know whether their sons or husbands are dead or alive. It has never been clear why North Vietnam has been unwilling to disclose information about the prisoners.

THE AMERICAN peace proposals have always included a provision for the return of all of its personnel held by the Communists in Indochina. There have been declarations that as soon as all American troops are withdrawn the prisoners will be released.

This has been taken to mean that once our armed forces have been pulled out of Vietnam, Hanoi would hand over whatever prisoners it chose.

The United States, however, has insisted that the prisoner-of-war question should be thoroughly examined in advance and that complete American withdrawal is contingent on definite arrangements for the transfer of all hostages.

THE AMERICAN PEACE plan has been based upon a mutual cease-fire which would take effect on a certain date. Afterwards, a list of all captives would be furnished and presumably an opportunity would be given to visit the prisoners and make arrangements for their transportation back home. Doubtless many of them will require medical care and perhaps rehabilitation before they can be moved. It might be that some of them would be taken to a nearby neutral country for this purpose before they are brought back to the United States. The government here is deeply concerned about the fate of the servicemen who are missing in action or have been captured.

PRESIDENT NIXON on his trip to Moscow in May undoubtedly will discuss the whole subject with the Soviet government's leaders, and it is possible that there will be no further negotiations in Paris until after his visit has been completed.

Aids The Blind

DENTON, Tex. (AP) - The buildings at North Texas State University will talk - but only for the blind - if the university makes use of a device invented by a student and a recent doctoral awardee.

Robert Hall, a graduate student in psychology, and Dr. John Pope, who received his Ph.D. last December, put their minds together to come up with an electronic device which sends out voice messages from buildings on campus to a receiver worn in a blind student's ear.

To Clean Cave

STANTON, Mo. (AP) - Even an old cave becomes involved in spring

Meramec Caverns on U.S. 66 here will have all the grime and dust washed off its formations and cement paths in the near future.

"Tourists like to see creations of Mother Nature glisten," says director Lester B. Dill. "They see enough pollution and dirt outside the cave."

He said unto them, Why are ye so fearful? How is it that ye have no faith? PRAYER: Our Father, we pray that we may ever be so mindful of Thy presence that our faith will be strong enough to meet our greatest need. In our Savior's name we pray. Amen.

with four others with the death of a man whose bullet-riddled body was found in a building that housed a Black Panther office. The private trial planned by Judge Dubin is another in a series of confrontations between the First Amendment's guarantee of a free press, and the Seventh Amendment's guarantee of a "speedy and public trial" for a defendant. There is a substantial question that goes beyond just the press or the individual

Why were a free press and a speedy and public because the framers of the Constitution had much sharper memories than we do of the days of the Star Chamber courts and of the legal concept of an earlier day that a defendant was presumed nocence. The feeling was strong that only two things could guaraantee a trial fair both to the accused and to the people. One was a free press. The other was a speedy and public trial. The two were believed to complement themselves. The possibility of antagonism between the two obviously did not even occur to the writers of the Con-and a fair, public trial.

We are concerned today that the glorious sound of church bells, sounding the call to worship, are no longer heard across the land. Why have these wonderful bells ceased? Do you not think that if the church bells started ringing again it would remind people who have slipped away from the church that God welcomes them

You pose an interesting question, and one I hadn't thought of. When I was a boy the church bell's could be heard on Sunday morning, but those sounds have been replaced by car horns, honked by people on their way to sports arenas, the lakes, or sea - and many other distracting sounds. Yes, I would welcome the sound of church bells again. Why they stopped, I cannot say. It could be that some nonchurch-goers objected to the sound of bells which could have awakened them from their Sunday morning sleep. Or, it could be that "sound ordinances" in some cities silenced them. Or, it could be that they just went out of vogue. I don't believe many modern churches have

This thought occurs to me: what really brings people to church? Is it bells, beautiful, airconditioned sanctuaries, trained choirs, and so, though all these are important. running over.

I believe the best kind of bell-ringing is for professing Christians to really commit their lives and their all to Jesus Christ. In churches where this

Inflation Crisis Brewing

John Cunniff

WASHINGTON — Democracy is the worst possible form of government except all the others, Winston Churchill once said. In Germany, where democracy is a new and rather tender plant, a test is just ahead so momentous that the consequences can hardly be exaggerated. THE TREATIES with the East, designed to ease tensions with Moscow and Warsaw, will be before the parliament for ratification next month. Long and painstaking negotiation by Chancellor Willy Brandt and the able younger men around him aws aimed at breaking the stalemate out of the cold war. It was a recognition that the prewar past and the territories lost when the Nazi armies were defeated could never be restored.

Today there is a real throat that the treaties will be rejected as the elender majority of the coalition of Social Democrats and Free Democrats is chipped away. Linked to ratification is the agreement between East and West Germany giving Berliners a status they have never had before. The whole structure put together with so much patient persistence could come crashing down.

ONE CASUALTY in the general ruin might be the strategic arms limitation agreement on which the Nixon Administration has put such a high stake. The present masters of the Kremlin, Leonid Brezhnev and Alexei Kosygin, are identified with the treaties and the thaw between East and West. It is a safe assumption that they have hard-line opponents who, if their policy should fail, would be ready to move in.

The reaction in the United States would be sharp. While the demand for cutting back the 250,000 American troops in Germany has subsided, with the hope of mutual agreed reduction by the two sides, it would be given a new force with proof that the Germans were bent on keeping alive the old hatreds and the old drive to restore the past. Americans simply will not underwrite a new cold war to gratify German ambitions. THIS IS something the Christian Democrats, bent on bringing down the Brandt government in a good old lustful power struggle apparently fail to realize. Cutting back American troop strength as one way to relieve the pressure on the dollar would look very attractive.

The process of ratification is complicated. In the first instance the lower house, the Bundestag, can ratify with a simple majority. But then if the upper house, the Bundesrat, voted in the negative, the treaties must receive in the Bundestag an uotright majority of 249. As the chipping process continues and something like panic seizes the Free Democrat partners in the coalition, this is teetering in the BRANDT'S POSITION is complicated by the rise in inflation and the threat of unemployment. Voters compalin that many of the promises he made in the election campaign in 1969 for internal reforms have not been carried out. This has been due to circumstances largely beyond the Chancellor's control.

Should the treaties be rejected, Brandt would dissolve the parliament on a vote of no confidence and elections would be held in 60 days. The Social-Democrats might get a majority, according to present indicators. The damage, however, would have been done, with all those hopeful of restoring the past happy to see the door slammed

For the whole world the signal would be loud and clear. The Germans were on the march again, as so often before with such terrible consequences for humanity (Copyright, 1972, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.) story about inflation when they ket?

Fate Of Three Radar Experts Still In Doubt

UNYE, Turkey (AP) - The kidnaping of three British radar technicians Sunday was planned and carried out under the leadership of Mahir Cayan, a top leader of the Turkish Peoples Liberation Army and the most-wanted fugitive in Turkey, an official said today.

There has been no word on the fate of the technicians and the search for them continues. Cayan, a former university student has been connected with dozens of acts of urban terrorism, including the kidnapmurder of Israeli Consul Ephraim Elrom in Istanbul last

In November he led five terrorists in an escape through a sewer pipe from a military prison in Istanbul.

The official said questioning of persons taken into custody in Fatsa and Unye has revealed that Cayan was in the two Black Sea towns a few days before the kidnaping of Charles Turner, 45, Jim Law, 21 and Gordon Banner, 35.

Cayan has been reported trapped by police and troops on several occasions in Istanbul and Ankara, but he escaped after shootouts.

On Saturday, police acting on a tip from Ankara, started searching Fatsa, but Cayan escaped to Unye.

The official said six persons in Unve and two in Fatsa have confessed to hiding Cayan and four other terrorists who seized the Britons. They included Cihan Alptekin who was accused with Cayan in the Elrom killing and escaped jail with Cayan. Alptekin reportedly led the kidnapers into the Britons' apartment wearing a military uni-

As Connally prepared for the meeting, the Cost of Living Council announced it is moving on four fronts to try to slow food prices, an area drawing more heat than any other part of President Nixon's price-control program.

PROFIT LOOK

The council said, for instance, that the Internal Revenue Service will begin immediately "intensive compliance surveys" on several large meat-packing organizations "to determine whether price violations are occurring in the total meat delivery chain from onthe-hoof to retail."

One administration source said several "prosecutions can be expected.

ANGELA DAVIS TRIAL RESUMES

Rescue Two Jail Hostages

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — The Angela Davis trial resumes today after a day's delay caused by a nearby jailbreak attempt that cost the ringleader his life as two hostages were rescued.

The escape attempt at the Santa Clara County jail Tuesday had no connection with the trial of the 28-year-old black militant, charged with murder, kidnaping and conspiracy in the 1971 Marin County Courthouse shootout. That also was an escape attempt with hostages.

INCLUDING JUDGE Four persons died, including a judge, in that violence. STATE OF SHOCK

As Zitzer turned to walk back to an elevator where his companions were holding the hostages, a deputy fired one blast from a shotgun, killing him. Rosa said the gun was fired by Sgt. Robert Lees.

Deputies rushed to the elevator and released the hostages, identified as Sue Kawamoto, 20, the secretary, and Alex Safonoff, 30, a public defender.

The other two prisoners, Norman Lucas, 22, and Ted Guerrero, 22, were not injured but were taken to a hospital where doctors said they were in "an emotional state of shock.

'GRAPES OF WRATH' IN REVERSE FOR 'SOONERS'

CANEY, Okla. (AP) - Frank Castleberry, 52, his wife and nine children made a 600-mile trek in their 1957 auto to this southeastern Oklahoma town from Illinois five months ago in hopes of getting on the state's "orchards for the poor" program and out of poverty.

Castleberry's eagerness, he learned disqualified him. The program run by the state office of Economic Opportunity, is designed to provide poor people 10-acre vine-yards on a long term, low interest loan basis. The poor are to repay the loan with profits from their farms. The idea has come to be known as "sweat equity."

News reports of the program have brought nationwide interest in the program. The OEO office has about 7.000 applications on file. Present plans call for only 160 farms near this Atoka County community. OEO officials said today that notifications should go out in two to six weeks. Castleberry moved here five weeks ago to await the opening of the farms. At last count there were about 20 other families that had joined in the wait. OEO officials, angry at the premature move to the orchards and at newspaper accounts revealing the farm sites,

More Voting

HOUSTON (AP) - Count Republican and Democratic leaders joined County Clerk R. E. Turrentine in a plea for more voting machines for the coming 1972 elections.

But the County Commissioners Court, which decided last week to use paper ballots in absentee and small precincts in place of buying more machines. took no action

Turrentine again asked the court to buy punch card voting machines to be used as a test in absentee balloting. The cards punched by the small, inexpensive machines, could be LANDSCAPING 'TEXAS-STYLE' - Campus grounds at Alpine's Sul Ross State University are undergoing an extensive beautification and landscaping program — minus the usual process of grass-seeding and the planting of green shrubbery, flowers and trees. Instead, the University has begun landscaping "Texas-style," using rocks, cacti, and yucca plants. The results, slated for completion by the end of the year, should give the grounds a "look" totally in keeping with the rest of the Big Bend country.

'UGLIEST MAN ON CAMPUS'

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Most students might not like being called the "ugliest man on campus" - especially at a school the size North Texas State University where there are 8,476 other guys. But Charles Marley doesn't mind. He fought hard for

The junior education major from Jacksboro won the title this year in a penny-a-vote competition with other campus "uglies." The irony of the competition is that the $1,140 in penny votes collected was turned over to President C.

C. "Jitter" Nolen to be used for campus beautification. Contest sponsor Alpha Phi Omega, men's service fraternity, also presented a $100 check to Alpha Phi sorority, whose "beauty" contestant - Mardy Dick of Killeen — collected the most votes. Kappa Sigma fraternity, which sponsored Marley in the contest, won a pool table for the fraternity house.

Plan Mickey Mouse Remap In Florida

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) - Mickey Mouse may be able to run for Congress and stand a good chance of winning under a 5-member congressional redistricting plan adopted by the State Senate

Disney World has played a rominent role in Florida politics and economics for the past five years, but the senators may have paid the giant amusement complex the high est accolade yet by effectively turning it into a congressiona' district.

The plan adopted, 25-18, transforms the district presently held by Rep. Lou Frey, a Winter Park Republican, into a new one encompassing Orange, Osceola and parts of Lake and Seminole Senators have been dubbing the "Disney district."

Basic sponsor of the over-all plan, Sen. Ken Byers, DMiami, said the counties placed in the district all had the same "community of interest," which is, he noted, Disney World. The what you need — not pills or collected candy, stockings and alcohol. Your family can give some highting after her peropened last fall spans Orange you love. and Osceola counties.
